however willed otherwise. His untimely death made his option unworkable. In order to give him maximum benefits of the social security, which was the intention of the Government Order dated 24.12.1983, he could not be denied the D.C.R.G payable to him and calculated upto to his death, for the completed years of service rendered by him to the University. His life was cut short and thus his option became unworkable and futile, on his death at the age of 45 years. He could not be pinned down to his option by the University, to deprive his family of the gratuity earned by him and payable to his family.

13. The 'gratuity' is defined in Webster's New Collegiate Dictionary as something given voluntarily, or beyond obligation usually in return for, or in anticipation of some service. The Black's Law Dictionary defined gratuity as 'a recompense or reward of service or benefits given voluntarily without solicitation or promise. Late Amarnath Kakkar could have given up gratuity voluntarily on his option, if he had the occasion to avail the benefit of two years additional service, When he could not avail the benefit and was not in a position to change his option, he cannot be denied the reward by way of gratuity payable to him on completing 58 years of service. The event provided in his option i.e. the extended service upto the age of 60 years, became an impossibility to be performed by him and thus his option would be deemed to be revoked in law, on the principles of frustration of contract."

60. A Coordinate Bench of this Court in the case of Jagteshwari Maurya versus State of U.P. and others;Writ Petition No.2727(S/S) of 2014 has also taken a similar view considering the Government Order dated 17.11.1999 and also placing reliance on other Coordinate Bench judgment in the case of Renu Gupta versus State of U.P. and others, Writ A No.14397 of 2019 and Mala Tripathi versus State of U.P. and others,Writ Petition No.6173(S/S) of 2014.

61. Learned State counsel however has placed reliance in the case of Prabha Shukla versus State of U.P., Special Appeal Defective No.1168 of 2020 to submit that it has been held that once an option for extension of service beyond the normal age of retirement with denial of benefit of gratuity had been exercised by a teacher, the family members could not have claimed the benefit in conflict with option already exercised by the deceased.

62. However a perusal of aforesaid judgment makes it apparent that the facts and circumstances of the case were quite distinguishable since the employee therein had passed away after attaining the age more than 59 years and as such the Division Bench came to a conclusion that since he had died after attaining the age of 59 years and did not exercise his option for change, then the family members cannot claim the benefit of such change.

63. In the present facts and circumstances of the petitions, none of the predecessors-in-interest of the petitioners have passed away after attaining the age of 59 years and therefore the option of change was unavailable to them at the time of their demise. Clearly the aforesaid judgment as such is inapplicable.

64. Another aspect of the matter pertaining to change of option also is that the primary purpose of denying benefit of gratuity to an employee exercising his option to continue in service till the age of 60 years appears to be that in such circumstances the said teacher would be employed for a further period of two years and would also be getting salary for the post that he holds. Clearly the payment of gratuity as such was linked to the extra years of service rendered by the teacher.

65. In the present bunch of petition, the predecessors of petitioner have passed away without performing the extra years of service between the ages of 58 years to 60 years. Thus the very purpose of denying gratuity to such persons is inapplicable.

66. Viewed from this perspective, grant of benefit of gratuity in such circumstances is directly relatable to the Rules of 1981 itself and therefore there is no occasion for the respondents to hold that change in option is being sought by family members of the deceased who fail to exercise the option since the grant of benefit of gratuity is the natural corollary of extra years of service not being rendered by the predecessors of petitioner. The second aspect of the matter of course, is that predecessors have passed away prior to the time when they were required to submit their options in terms of the various Government Orders and therefore also since they did not have an opportunity to change their option, naturally the family member being successors to their interest would have a right to exercise that option in terms of the Government Order. As such answer to the question is that the grant of gratuity is a natural corollary to services not being rendered for the extra period of two years in terms of conditions of Rules of 1981 and as such, such an option once granted earlier can definitely be revised.

67. In view of aforesaid answers to the two questions, it is held that the denial of grant of gratuity to the petitioners in terms of conditions of Rules of 1981 is clearly contrary to provisions not only of the aforesaid Rules of 1981 but to the consequent Government Orders as well. Considering the aforesaid, the orders impugned rejecting grant of benefit of death-cum-retirement gratuity to the petitioners being bad in law are quashed by issuance of a writ in the nature of certiorari. A further writ in the nature of mandamus is issued commanding the concerned authority to make payment of death-cum-retirement gratuity to the petitioners in terms of Rules of 1981. Calculation for same and actual payment of benefits shall be accorded within a period of six months from the date of a copy of this is produced before the concerned authority.

68. Resultantly, the writ petitions succeed and are allowed. Parties shall bear their own costs.

(2022) 9 ILRA 618
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 01.08.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SARAL SRIVASTAVA, J.

Writ-A No. 23131 of 2018

Ved Prakash & Ors. ...Petitioners
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioners:
Sri Arpan Srivastava, Sri Neelabh Srivastava, Sri Amit Kumar Srivastava, Sri Anil Bhushan(Sr. Advocate)

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C., Sri Jitendra Kumar Pandey

A. Service Law – UP Intermediate Education Act, 1982 – Section 33-C – L.T.

Grade teacher – Ad hoc appointment – Grant of approval – Petitioner was regularized by the Regional Level Committee in 2015 – Subsequently the committee refused to grant approval in 2018 – Validity challenged – Earlier, petitioner had to file five writ petition for one cause of action – Held, the respondents are hell bent to scuttle the orders passed by this Court in various writ petitions on the same cause of action between the same party and have invited unnecessary litigation which resulted in harassment of petitioners – High Court imposed cost of Rs. five lacs upon the State. (Para 46 and 82)

B. Service Law – Civil Procedure Code – Section 11 – Res judicata – Applicability to writ proceeding – Earlier, several writ petition were decided between the same party, how far barred by principle of res judicata – Held, the doctrine of res judicata is based on the high public policy to bring about an end to litigation by giving finality to judgments interse parties – The said principle has not only been made applicable to suit but also in other proceedings like writ petitions under Article 226 of the Constitution of India. (Para 59 and 60)

C. Service Law – Power of review – Exercised by the authority, extent of – Held, the Regional Level Committee has no power to review its order as it is settled in Law that the review is the creation of statute and authority can exercise the power of review if it is conferred by the statute. (Para 76)

D. Service Law – Constitution of India – Article 14 – Principle of natural justice – Opportunity of hearing, how far significant before passing any order – Held, the impugned order is not sustainable in Law for want of principle of natural justice, inasmuch as the order impugned do not reflect that any notice or opportunity of hearing was afforded to the petitioners before passing the impugned orders. (Para 77)

Writ petition allowed. (E-1)

List of Cases cited:-

1. Ashika Prasad Shukla Vs District Inspector of Schools, Allahabad & anr.; 1998 (3) UPLBEC 1722

2. Gulabchand Chhotalal Parikh Vs St. of Bombay; AIR 1965 SC 1153

3. Workmen of Cochin Port Trust Vs Board of Trustees of the Cochin Port Trust & ors.; (1978) 3 SCC 119

4. Smt. Naseem Bano Vs St. of U.P. & ors.; AIR 1993 SC 2592

5. Neelima Srivastava Vs St. of U.P & ors.; AIR 2021 SC 3884

6. Suresh Chandra Vs District Inspector of Schools, Saharanpur & ors.; (1991) 2 UPLBEC 1097

7. Anilesh Pratap Singh Vs St. of U.P. & ors.; (2003) 3 UPLBEC 2519

8. Radha Raizada and other Vs Committee of Management, Vidhawati Darbari Girls Inter College & ors.; (1994) 3 UPLBEC 1551

9. Prabhat kumar Sharma & ors. Vs St. of U.P. & ors.; (1996) 10 SCC 62

10. Mahesh Kumar Gupta & ors. Vs St. of U.P. & ors.; (2015) 10 ADJ 403 DB

11. Raghunath Rai Bareja & anr. Vs Punjab National Bank & ors.; 2007 (2) SCC 230

12. Greater Mohali Area Developement Authority & ors. Vs Manju Jain & ors.; AIR 2010 SC 3817

13. Gulabchand Chhotalal Parikh Vs St. of Bombay; AIR 1965 SCC 1153

14. Daryao's's case; (1962) 1 SCR 574

15. Workmen Coachin Port Trust's case AIR 1978 SC 1283

16. Neelima Srivatava Vs St. of U.P & ors.; AIR 2021 SC 3884

17. Uttar Pradesh Vs Nawab Hussain; (1977) 3 SCR 428

18. Raghunath Rai Bareja & anr. Vs Punjab National Bank & ors.; (2007) 2 SCC 230

19. Greater Mohali Area Development Authority & ors. Vs Manju Jain Others; AIR 2010 SC 3817

20. Dr. Smt. Kuntesh Gupta Vs Management of Hindu Kanya Mahavidhyalaya, Sitapur (U.P.) & ors.; AIR 1987 SC 2186

21. Hari Krishna Mandir Trust Vs St. of Maharashtra & ors.; (2020) 9 SCC 356

(Delivered by Hon'ble Saral Srivastava, J.)

1. Heard Sri Anil Bhushan, learned Senior Counsel, assisted by Sri Amit Kumar Srivastava, learned counsel for the petitioners and Sri Neeraj Tripathi, learned Additional Advocate General, assisted by Sri Shashank Shekhar Singh, Additional Chief Standing Counsel for respondents no. 1 to 4.

2. The petitioners, who are four in numbers, have assailed the order dated 23.08.2018 passed by the Director of Education, (Secondary), Government of U.P., Lucknow and order dated 28.10.2021 passed during the pendency of the writ petition by the Regional Level Committee and have further prayed for a writ of mandamus directing the Joint Director of Education to pay arrears of salary.

3. The facts in brief are that D.A.V. Inter College, Aryapur Khera, Mainpuri (hereinafter referred to as "the College') is a recognized Institution under the provisions of U.P. Intermediate Education Act, 1921 and Uttar Pradesh High Schools and Intermediate Colleges (Payment of Salaries of Teachers and Other Employees) Act, 1971 is applicable in the present case.

4. According to the petitioners, two posts of L.T. Grade teacher were sanctioned by the Director of Education vide order dated 31.03.1991 and two posts became vacant on account of retirement of Kaptan Singh and Shyam Bihari Dubey (Assistant Teacher) on 30.06.1991. The Committee of Management of the College (respondent no.5) decided to make appointment on the said posts and passed a resolution to this effect on 07.07.1991. The respondent no.5 sent a requisition to the District Inspector of Schools, Mainpuri (respondent no.4) (hereinafter referred to as 'D.I.O.S. Mainpuri') on 20.08.1991 to forward the same to the U.P. Secondary Education Service Selection Board, Allahabad (hereinafter referred to as ''Commission') for filling the aforesaid four posts.

5. Further case of the petitioner's is that after sending the requisition by the respondent no.5 to the Commission, the respondent no.5 advertised the aforesaid posts in the daily newspaper on 03.10.1991 and the same was also pasted on the notice board of the College. Pursuant to the advertisement issued by the College, several candidates had applied, and on the basis of quality point marks, the petitioners were found to be the most suitable candidates, accordingly, they have been selected against the aforesaid four posts of L.T. Grade Teacher. Consequently, the petitioners have been issued appointment letters as L.T. Grade Teacher on 20.10.1991.

6. Pursuant to the appointment letters, the petitioners joined on 01.11.1991. The respondent no.5 forwarded the papers of the petitioners to the respondent no.4 for grant of financial approval, which was rejected by the respondent no.4 by order dated 13.04.1992 on the ground that a ban was imposed by the State Government on ad hoc appointments.

7. The petitioners challenged the order dated 13.04.1992 passed by respondent no.4 rejecting financial approval, by means of Writ Petition No.18381 of 1992, in which this Court on 22.05.1992 passed an interim order directing the respondent no.4 to release the salary of the petitioners. Thereafter, the salary of the petitioners have been paid from 01.11.1991 to July, 1995.

8. It is further stated that respondent no.4 stopped the salary of the petitioners which led the petitioners to file Writ Petition No.28887 of 1995 which was disposed of by this Court vide judgement and order dated 16.10.1995 with liberty to the petitioners to file appropriate amendment application in the pending writ petition.

9. By amendment, Section 33-C has been added in U.P. Act No.5 of 1982 relating to regularization of ad hoc Teachers. Section 33-C came into force on 20.04.1998. According to Section 33-C, teachers appointed between 14.05.1991 to 06.08.1993 are entitled to be regularized under this Section.

10. The petitioners claim that after the insertion of Section 33-C in Act 1982, they submitted an application to the respondent no.4 praying that their claim for regularization as well as for payment of salary be considered. On the said application, the Accounts Officer submitted report that the appointment of the petitioners is as per law and they come within the purview of Section 33-C of the Act, 1982 for regularization, therefore, they may be paid salary. Thereafter, the respondent no.4 by order dated 06.06.1998 directed the Accounts Officer to release the salary of the petitioners after verifying that they have been working in the College.

11. In the meantime, the Writ Petition No.18381 of 1992 was disposed of by this Court vide order dated 04.02.1999, whereby this Court directed the authorities to consider the claim of the petitioners for regularization under Section 33-C of the Act, 1982.

12. Thereafter, pursuant to the judgement and order of this Court dated 04.02.1999, the Joint Director of Education by order dated 28.02.2001 rejected the claim of the petitioners for regularization on the ground that the appointment of the petitioners was not in accordance with law as the advertisement was not published in two daily newspapers having wide circulation in the area.

13. The order dated 28.02.2001 was challenged by the petitioners by filing Writ Petition No.24305 of 2001, which was allowed by this Court vide judgement and order dated 24.02.2005 on the ground that the rejection of the petitioners' claim by the Regional Level Committee on the ground that the advertisement was not made in two daily newspapers does not sustain in view of Division Bench judgement of this Court in the case of Ashika Prasad Shukla Vs. District Inspector of Schools, Allahabad and another, 1998 (3) UPLBEC 1722, since the advertisement was made in the year 1991, i.e., prior to the date of the judgement of Full Bench in the case of Radha Raizada's case. Accordingly, this Court allowed the writ petition by judgement and order dated 24.02.2005, quashed the order dated 28.02.2001 and directed the Joint Director of Education to constitute a Committee for consideration of regularization of petitioners under Section 33-C of the Act, 1982.

14. Pursuant to the judgement of this Court dated 24.02.2005 passed in Writ Petition No.24305 of 2001, the Regional Level Committee again by order dated 17.08.2006 rejected the claim of the petitioners, which came to be challenged by the petitioners in Writ Petition No.53709 of 2006, which was allowed by this Court by judgement and order dated 02.07.2009 and the matter was again referred to the Regional Level Committee to consider the claim of the petitioners for regularization in the light of judgement and order dated 24.02.2005 passed in Writ Petition No.24305 of 2001.

15. Thereafter, in compliance of the judgement and order dated 02.07.2009 passed in Writ Petition No.53709 of 2006, the Regional Level Committee considered the claim of the petitioners and again rejected their claim by order dated 24.07.2010 on the ground that the advertisement in respect of selection of the petitioners was not published in two leading newspapers; secondly, under Section 18 of the Act, 1982, the selection process for appointment on ad hoc basis can be initiated only after expiry of 60 days from the date the posts have been notified to the Commission, whereas in the instant case the posts were not notified to the Commission, hence no appointment could be made by the Commission on the aforesaid posts in view of non-compliance of Section 18 of the Act, 1982, therefore, the appointment of the petitioners was per-se illegal and they are not eligible for regularization under Section 33-C of the Act,1982.

16. The order dated 24.07.2010 was again assailed by the petitioners by means of Writ Petition No.69975 of 2010 which was allowed by this Court vide judgement and order dated 09.04.2013 holding that the grounds on which the claim of the petitioners have been rejected by order dated 24.07.2010 are not sustainable in law. Accordingly, this Court remitted the matter to the Screening Committee/Selection Committee again to comply with the directions issued by this Court vide order dated 24.02.2005 in Writ Petition No. 24305 of 2001 and the order dated 02.07.2009 passed in Writ Petition No.53709 of 2006.

17. Again, the Regional Level Committee by order dated 04.10.2013 rejected the claim of the petitioners which came to be challenged by the petitioners in separate writ petitions. However, this Court decided the writ petition filed by the petitioners treating Writ-A No.62780 of 2013 (Surya Kant Mishra & Another Vs. State of U.P. and Others) as the leading writ petition on 12.08.2015 holding the grounds of rejection are untenable in law.

18. After five round of litigation, the claim of the petitioners' was considered by the Regional Level Committee pursuant to the judgement and order of this Court dated 12.08.2015 passed in Writ-A No.62728 of 2013; the Regional Level Committee by order dated 30.12.2015 regularized the services of the petitioners w.e.f. 01.11.1991.

19. After the regularization order was passed, the petitioners claimed their salary, but instead of granting salary to the petitioners, respondent no.2 by order dated 23.08.2018 rejected the claim of petitioners for arrears of salary, which is impugned in the present writ petition.

20. When the objection was taken by the petitioners that once the Regional Level Committee has passed order regularizing the services of the petitioners, therefore, respondent no.2, has no jurisdiction to sit in appeal over the order passed by the Regional Level Committee and deny the salary of the petitioners.

21. To overcome the aforesaid objection, the respondents constituted a Regional Level Committee who passed an order on 28.10.2021 rejecting the claim of the petitioners, which also came to be challenged by the petitioners in the writ petition by means of amendment application which was allowed by this Court.

22. The respondents have not chosen to file any counter affidavit, however, have filed various affidavits and personal affidavits which shall be dealt with at the appropriate place in the judgement.

23. Challenging the order dated 23.08.2018 passed by respondent no.2, Sri Anil Bhushan, learned Senior Counsel has contended that the order of respondent no.2 dated 23.08.2018, is illegal and without jurisdiction. It is contended that once the Regional Level Committee has passed an order on 30.12.2015 holding the appointment of the petitioners in accordance with law and regularizing the service of the petitioners, the respondent no.2 cannot sit in appeal over the order passed by the Regional Level Committee and deny the salary to the petitioners holding that the appointment of the petitioners is illegal, and not in accordance with law.

24. It is further submitted that the order dated 28.10.2021 passed by the Regional Level Committee during the pendency of writ petition also smacks of malafide, inasmuch as when this Court has taken serious note of the conduct of the respondents in rejecting the claim of the petitioners for salary in order dated 29.10.2018 in the present writ petition, the respondent no.2 in order to cure the lacuna in order dated 29.10.2018, referred the matter to the Regional Level Committee who passed the order dated 28.10.2021 denying the salary to petitioners, which cannot be permitted in law.

25. It is further contended that, even otherwise, the order dated 28.10.2021 passed by the Regional Level Committee is illegal and without jurisdiction inasmuch as it is settled in law that the power of review is the creation of statute, and in the instant case as there is no power of review vested with the Regional Level Committee, therefore, the order dated 28.10.2021 is not sustainable in law.

26. It is further contended that it is also settled in law that the power of review can be exercised only in cases where the order has been obtained by fraud or misrepresentation, whereas in the instant case the order dated 28.10.2021 does not state that the order dated 30.12.2015 regularizing the services of the petitioners was obtained by fraud or misrepresentation, therefore, the order dated 28.10.2021 passed by Regional Level Committee is illegal and without jurisdiction. It is submitted that the order dated 28.10.2021 has been passed without affording any opportunity of hearing and therefore is not sustainable in law.

27. It is further urged by learned counsel for the petitioners that the issue in respect to the validity of appointment of the petitioners has been decided by this Court in various writ petitions, i.e., Writ Petition No.24305 of 2001 decided on 24.02.2005; Writ Petition No.53709 of 2006 decided on 02.07.2009; Writ Petition No.69975 of 2010 decided on 09.04.2013 and leading Writ Writ Petition No.62780 of 2013 decided on 12.08.2015, accordingly, it is contended that that as the judgements passed by this Court in the aforesaid writ petitions have attained finality, the respondents cannot reject the claim of the petitioners on the ground that the appointment of the petitioners was not as per law.

28. It is submitted that principle of res-judicata applies in the present case as the issue with regard to validity of appointment of petitioners has been settled by this Court in aforesaid writ petitions which have attained finality. In this respect learned counsel for the petitioners has placed reliance upon the judgement of the Apex Court reported in AIR 1965 SC 1153, Gulabchand Chhotalal Parikh v. State of Bombay ; (1978) 3 SCC 119, Workmen of Cochin Port Trust v. Board of Trustees of the Cochin Port Trust & Ors; AIR 1993 SC 2592, Smt. Naseem Bano Vs. State of U.P. and Ors. & AIR 2021 SC 3884, Neelima Srivastava v. State of U.P & Ors..

29. Rebutting the aforesaid submissions, learned Additional Advocate General submits that Section 18 of Act 1982 provides that ad hoc appointment can only be made when the requisition has been sent to the Commission notifying the posts, and two months have lapsed from the date posts have been notified to the Commission and the Commission has failed to make appointment on the said post, accordingly, it is submitted that in the instant case the respondent no.5 has started the process of appointment before 60 days period expired from the date posts were notified to the Commission which amounts to non-adherence of mandatory requirement of Section 18 of Act, 1982, hence, all appointments being in contravention to Section 18 of Act, 1982 are perse illegal and no benefit can be claimed on the basis of such appointment. It is further contended that the procedure to make any appointment on substantive posts under Section 18 of the Act 1982 is contemplated under Para 5 (2) of U.P. First Removal of Difficulties Order 1981 (hereinafter referred to as 'Order, 1981'). Under the Order, 1981, respondent no.4 is vested with the power to initiate appointment and in case the appointment is made by the Committee of Management, the approval by D.I.O.S. is necessary, but in the instant case, no approval has been granted by the D.I.O.S. to the appointment of the petitioners, therefore, the petitioners' appointment is void and as such the order impunged has been passed in accordance with law.

30. In support of the said argument, he has placed reliance upon the judgements of this Court reported in (1991) 2 UPLBEC 1097, Suresh Chandra vs. District Inspector of Schools, Saharanpur and others; (2003) 3 UPLBEC 2519, Anilesh Pratap Singh vs. State of U.P. & Others; (1994) 3 UPLBEC 1551, Radha Raizada and other vs. Committee of Management, Vidhawati Darbari Girls Inter College and Others; (1996) 10 SCC 62, Prabhat kumar Sharma & others vs. State of U.P. & others & (2015) 10 ADJ 403 DB, Mahesh Kumar Gupta & Others Vs. State of U.P. & others.

31. He further contends that it is also settled in law that law will prevail over equity, and as in the instant case the appointment of the petitioners were dehors the procedure contemplated for making adhoc appointment, therefore, the petitioners are not entitled to any benefit on the principle of equity. In this respect he has placed reliance upon the judgement of the Apex Court of 2007 (2) SCC 230, Raghunath Rai Bareja & another Vs. Punjab National Bank & others.

32. Lastly, he contends that the pure legal question can be raised at any time and in this respect he has placed reliance upon the judgement of AIR 2010 SC 3817, Greater Mohali Area Developement Authority & others Vs. Manju Jain & Ors..

33. I have heard learned counsel for the parties and perused the material brought on record.

34. Before proceeding to deal with the respective contentions of the counsel, this Court expresses its anguish and pain about the resilient approach of the respondent authorities in scuttling the orders passed by this Court which led to filing of 5 writ petitions by the petitioners before this writ petition, this is the 6th round of litigation between the parties on the same cause of action.

35. Proceedings in the instant case are detailed below to demonstrate that due to stubborn and reckless approach of the respondent authorities, not only the valuable time of the Court has been wasted but also valuable time and resources of the State machinery has been wasted resulting in unnecessarily financial burden upon the State due to mulish and irresponsible behaviour of State Officers. When the writ petition was filed and heard on admission, this Court passed the following order on 29.10.2018:-

"Petitioners, who are four in number, have approached this Court challenging an order of the Director of Education (Secondary), U.P., Lucknow dated 23.08.2018; whereby, petitioners' representation, made in pursuance of the direction issued by this Court in Writ A No. 6001 of 2018 dated 27.02.2018, has been rejected.

It appears that petitioners had earlier approached this Court by filing Writ A No. 62780 of 2013, along with Writ A Nos. 62782 of 2013 and 70291 of 2013, which came to be disposed of with a direction upon the authority concerned to consider petitioners' claim for regularization in accordance with section 33-C of the U.P. Secondary Education Services Selection Board Act, 1982(hereinafter referred to as, 'the Act of 1982'). The observation made by this Court reads as under:-

"So far as the facts are concerned, almost they are all admitted by the respondent counsel. In the present matter for the selection of teachers on substantive vacancy in the institution, the same is required to be moved before the commission under Section 18 of the U.P. Secondary Education Services Selection Board Act, 1982 and when such eventuality happens in institution and regular Assistant Teacher is not made available by the board, the Committee of Management after due advertisement may appoint assistant teacher in L.T. Grade. In pursuance to the advertisement they have applied for the post and selected for the post of Assistant Teacher vide appointment letter dated 20.10.1991 and on the basis of interim order granted by this Court on 22.05.1992 they have been paid salary. After Section 33-C of the Act 1982 came into existence, the petitioners demanded for their regularisation of their services which was eventually rejected by the Regional Committee vide an order dated 28.02.2001 precisely on the ground that the procedure prescribed under Section 18 of the Act was not followed by the Committee namely advertisement had not taken place in two leading newspapers which have wide circulation in the region. Hon'ble Court while deciding the writ petition No. 24305 of 2001 had categorically came into conclusion that no such procedure has been provided under Section 18 of the Act but this direction for making an advertisement in two leading newspapers was given by the Full Bench of this Court in Radha Raizada's case reported in 1994 (3) UPLBEC 1551 and subsequently in Ashika Prasad Shukla Vs. District Inspector of Schools, Allahabad and another, 1998 (3) UPLBEC 1722, a Division Bench of this court held that the direction issued by the Raizada's case (supra) was with prospective in nature and would be applicable in case where the person is appointed subsequent to the decision of this Full Bench and as such the same would not be applicable in the case of the petitioners. Therefore, the first objection initially taken by the regularisation committee does not have any ground to stand and consequently the earlier impugned order dated 28.02.2001 was quashed by this Court with direction to the Joint Director of Education to constitute a committee for regularisation of the petitioners under Section 33-C. Therefore, it is apparent that whatever the objection taken by the respondents had been rejected by this Court while allowing the Writ Petition No. 24305 of 2001. But unfortunately again the respondents have taken a plea while rejecting their claim for regularisation on the ground that the petitioners were not paid salary since 1995, therefore, their claim do not fall under Section 33-C of the Act. The records clearly give an impression that the D.I.O.S. while forwarding the papers on 06th June, 2000 had clearly held that the the appointments of the petitioners were made in between 14.05.1991 to 06.08.1993 and they were working continuously in the institution and subsequently it had also brought on record that the salary of the petitioners were paid on the basis of interim order passed by this Court in the year 1991. Therefore, subsequently, the objection raised by the Regularisation Committee that the petitioners were not paid since 1995 is not sustainable in accordance with the provisions of Section 33-C.

It is suffice to say that it is not disputed that initial appointment of the petitioner in the institution was in accordance with law. The Accounts Officer submitted a detailed report dated 23.05.2001 stating therein that the petitioners were entitled for the salary as well as for regularisation but unfortunately the records would lead to the conclusion that the claims of the petitioners were rejected on the basis on non-existence grounds and at no point of time the department had taken any decision strictly in accordance with the law but time to time they have changed the ground for rejecting the claim of the petitioners. The statue clearly provides that working of a teacher is essential ingredients for consideration of regularisation and the petitioners' cases also fall under the cut off date but the aforesaid consideration had not been made by the regularisation committee. It is evident from the record that the petitioners were working in the institution and if it is admitted situation that the petitioners were working on the date when regularisation rules came into existence they are entitled to be considered for regularisation. Unfortunately the petitioners inspite of their best effort, their services had not been regularized till date, even though their rights accrued 1992. Inspite of various directions issued by this court their future is still at stake. In view of the aforesaid facts and circumstances, the order impugned dated 04.10.2013 passed by the Regularisation Committee headed by the Joint Director of Education cannot be sustained and is hereby set aside. The writ petitions are allowed. The matter is remitted to the Regularisation Committee headed by the Joint Director of Education to consider and decide it within two months, in view of the observations made hereinabove."

Pursuant to the directions of this Court dated 12.08.2015, the matter, relating to regularization of the petitioners' claim, was considered by the Committee constituted under the Act. The Committee proceeded to pass specific order on 30.12.2015 regularizing the services of the petitioners with effect from 01.11.1991. This order has been passed by a Committee chaired by the Joint Director of Education, Agra, which had the District Inspector of Schools as Member, apart from two other members. This order has attained finality. It appears that in respect of petitioners' claim for release of arrears of salary, claim has been forwarded to the authorities for release of payment, but no decision was taken upon it. It was in that context that a writ petition came to be filed before this Court being Writ A No. 6001 of 2018, which has been disposed of by the following orders on 27.02.2018:-

"The writ is disposed of directing the respondent No.2, Director of Education Secondary, Government of U.P., Lucknow to pass final orders on the recommendations of the DIOS dated 28.2.2017 annexed as Annexure No. 14 to the writ petition, within a period of six weeks from the date of production of certified copy of this order."

Even thereafter, the order was not complied with and consequently, a contempt petition had to be filed, in which notices were issued on 24.07.2018. It is thereafter that the impugned order has been passed by the Director of Education. After noticing the relevant facts, the authority has proceeded to observe, in his order, that petitioners' claim for regularization has not been examined by the appropriate regional Committee constituted in terms of section 33-C of the Act of 1982 and therefore, their services cannot be treated to have been regularized in law and they would not be entitled to benefit of such order.

Observation, contained in the order, clearly omits to consider the specific decision taken by the Committee on 30.12.2015. It is pursuant to this decision of the Committee regularizing the petitioners' service that petitioners' claim for release of salary has been forwarded. The order of the Director appears to be based upon complete non-application of mind; in as much as, relevant orders passed by the Committee have been completely ignored.

It is unfortunate that despite a specific direction as well as orders passed in contempt petition, the authority has not cared to look into the records and the order impugned has been passed in routine and mechanical manner.

In the facts and circumstances, the Director of Education (Secondary) is directed to file his personal affidavit, within a period of two weeks from today, justifying his order in light of the decision taken by the Committee on 30.12.2015. The personal affidavit of the Director shall be filed by the next date fixed.

List on 15.11.2018 at the top of the list. Liberty stands reserved to the petitioners to make a mention for the case to be taken upon on that date."

36. Perusal of the order dated 29.10.2018 discloses that the Court expressed displeasure about the manner in which the order impugned in the writ petition has been passed and directed the respondent no.2 to justify his order dated 23.08.2018 in the light of the decision taken by the Regional Level Committee on 30.12.2015 regularizing the services of the petitioners.

37. The respondent no.2 Sri Vinay Kumar Pandey filed a personal affidavit dated 11.12.2018 stating therein that he had joined as Director of Education on 27.08.2018 and impugned order was passed by the then Director of Education (Secondary). He further stated that he immediately after joining, had issued notice to the petitioners, therefore, six weeks' time was prayed for passing a detailed order after hearing the parties.

38. The matter was taken up subsequently on few dates but the case was adjourned. This Court on 29.07.2021 directed the Director of Education (Secondary), U.P. Lucknow to file a personal affidavit indicating further compliance of orders in furtherance of averments made by him in personal affidavit dated 11.12.2018 within a period of two weeks, failing which he was directed to appear in the Court personally.

39. The order dated 27.09.2021 was not complied with, which led the Court to issue bailable warrant on 18.10.2021 and directed the matter to be posted on 08.11.2021.

40. On the said date, a supplementary counter affidavit dated 08.11.2021 was filed by the respondents enclosing therewith an order dated 28.10.2021 passed by the Regional Level Committee cancelling the order dated 30.12.2015, by which the services of the petitioners have been regularized.The judgement and order dated 19.12.2017 passed in PIL No.35090 of 2015 referred to in paragraph no.24 of Supplementary Counter Affidavit was the basis of order dated 28.10.2021. It is further stated that on the basis of the said order, the authority before granting salary has to ensure four conditions referred as A, B, C & D in paragraph no.24 of the supplementary counter affidavit which has been provided in the judgement and order dated 19.12.2007 passed in PIL No.35090 of 2015. In para-25 of the affidavit it is stated that the Government Order dated 18.04.2019 was also issued in the light of the order dated 19.12.2017 passed in PIL No.35090 of 2015. Paras-24 & 25 of the supplementary counter affidavit dated 08.11.2021 are reproduced herein-below:-

"24.That the matter of the petitioners was examined and the regularization was not found in consonance with Section 33-C of the Act, 1982 and the mandatory conditions, which were to be considered by the Regional Level Committee, were not in fact duly considered in the regularization order. In this respect in Civil Misc. Writ Petition (PIL) No.35090 of 2015 (Rjesh Rai Vs. State of U.P. and others), this Hon'ble Court vide order dated 19.12.2017 issued certain directions, which were to be taken into account while considering the claim of salary by the employees. It has been directed to the Secretary that he shall examine as to whether the appointment of persons claiming salary is within the sanctioned strength of the institution or not, whether the appointment had been made after following the procedure under Law including (a) advertisement of vacancy in the newspaper (b) constitution of selection of committee (c) selection proceedings having been made in accordance with the procedure applicable and the approval of the competent authority (d) the persons, who appointed, were possessed of the required minimum qualification on the date of selection. It has also been directed that if any or all of the aforesaid conditions are found to be lacking, the Secretary shall not issue any order for payment of salary from the State Exchequer for such persons. After examining the matter of the present petitioners, it transpires that there were no specific finding recorded on these points while regularizing the services of the petitioners. Moreover, the advertisement in the newspapers and consitution of selection committee as per Section of 16-E and 16-F of the Act, 1921 was not done and therefore, the whole selection process was found doubtful.

25. That it is not out of place to mention here that om the basis of judgement and order dated 19.12.2017 passed in the PIL, a government order dated 18.04.2019 was also issued, which ratifies the decision taken by the answering respondents on 23.08.2018."

41. Denying the averments made in supplementary counter affidavit, it has been stated in the supplementary rejoinder affidavit that this Court in judgement dated 16.07.2009 in Writ Petition No.53709 of 2006 has held that the appointment of the petitioners are valid .

42. When the matter was taken up on 08.11.2021, the case was adjourned for 09.11.2021. Learned Additional Advocate General Sri Neeraj Tripathi on 09.11.2021 made a statement that as the objection raised by the respondents have already been rejected by this Court by the judgements passed in various writ petitions and they have attained finality, therefore, the arrears of salary of the petitioners shall be released, but as the sanction is to be obtained from the State Government, some time may be granted. He further placed on record an order dated 09.11.2021 passed by respondent no.2. The order dated 09.11.2021 passed by this Court reads as under:-

"Pursuant to the order of this Court dated 08.11.2021, Director of Education (Secondary), U.P. Lucknow is present before the Court. +

Sri Neeraj Tripathi, learned Additional Advocate General on instruction states that matter has been revisited by the Director pursuant to the order of this Court dated 29.10.2018. He submits that whatever objections, which are being raised by the State against the grant of arrears of salary to petitioners, have already been rejected by this Court by orders in various writ petitions, and those orders have become final as they have not been assailed by the respondent-state in special appeal. Accordingly, he submits that whatever arrears of salary is due to the petitioners, is to be sanctioned at the level of State Government for which some breathing time may be granted to the respondent-state to get the amount sanctioned for payment of the same. The decision in this respect has been taken by the Director on 09.11.2021, copy of which is taken on record.

In view of the aforesaid statement advanced by Sri Neeraj Tripathi, two weeks time is granted to do the needful in the matter.

Put up on 24.11.2021.

The presence of Director of Education (Secondary), U.P. Lucknow is exempted till further orders of this Court."

43. It is pertinent to state that the respondent no.2 in paragraph no.25 of order dated 09.11.2021 stated that the objections which have been raised with regard to the appointment of the petitioners have been rejected by this Court and has sought sanction from the State Government. When the matter was taken up on 24.11.2021, the learned Additional Advocate General informed the Court that the State Government has decided to prefer Special Appeal against the order of this Court dated 09.11.2021 which was passed on the statement of learned Additional Advocate General which he made on the basis of order dated 09.11.2021 passed by the respondent no.2.

44. In such circumstances, this Court on 24.11.2021 passed an order recording its displeasure in the manner aspersion has been cast upon the Court by making a false statement in the letter dated 18.11.2021 of respondent no.2 that this Court while passing the orders on 08.11.2021 and 09.11.2021 has not considered the order dated 28.10.2021 passed by the Regional Level Committee. The order dated 24.11.2021 runs into several pages, however, relevant paragraph of the order are being reproduced herein-below:-

"7. Alongwith instructions, a letter dated 18.11.2021 addressed to the Special Secretary, Secondary Education, State of U.P, Lucknow is enclosed whereby sanction is sought for payment of salary to the petitioners subject to decision of Special Appeal preferred by the department. Relevant extract of the letter dated 18.11.2021 of the Director of Education (Secondary) U.P. Lucknow is reproduced herein below.

"प्रश्नगत प्रकरण में दिनांक 08.11.2021 एवं 09.11.2021 को पारित मा० उच्च न्यायालय इलाहाबाद के आदेश जिसमें मण्डलीय समिति द्वारा पारित विनियमितीकरण निरस्तीकरण आदेश दिनांक 28.10.2021 को संज्ञान में नहीं लिया गया है, के अनुक्रम में याचीगणों के अवशेष देयक (श्री उमाशंकर मिश्र से०नि० स०अ० का दिनांक 01.08.1995 दिनांक से 30 जून 2013 तक का रू० 35,78511=00 शब्दों में (पैतीस लाख अठहत्तर हजार पाँच सौ ग्यारह मात्र) श्री वेदप्रकाश स०अ० का दिनांक 01.08.1995 से 31.12.2015 तक रू० 50,58,828 =00 (पचास लाख अट्ठावन हजार आठ सौ अट्ठाइस मात्र) श्री मुन्ना लाल तिवारी स०अ० का दिनांक 01.08.1995 से 31.03.2016 रू० 44,22,241=00 (चौवालिस लाख बाइस हजार दो सौ इक्तालिस मात्र) श्री सूर्यकान्त मिश्र, स०अ० का दिनांक 01.08.1995 से 31.03.2016 रू० 44,22,241=00 (चौवालिस लाख बाइस हजार दो सौ इक्तालिस मात्र) के भुगतान की विधिक बाध्यता हो रही है जिसके भुगतान की संस्तुति प्रकरण में विभाग द्वारा योजित हो रही विशेष अपील में पारित होने वाले निर्णय के अधीन की जा रही है।"

8. This Court expresses its distress and anguish about the conduct of Director of Education (Secondary) U.P. Lucknow inasmuch as false fact "प्रश्नगत प्रकरण में दिनांक 08.11.2021 एवं 09.11.2021 को पारित मा० उच्च न्यायालय इलाहाबाद के आदेश जिसमें मण्डलीय समिति द्वारा पारित विनियमितीकरण निरस्तीकरण आदेश दिनांक 28.10.2021 को संज्ञान में नहीं लिया गया है" has been stated in the letter dated 18.11.2021 of the Director of Education (Secondary), UP, Lucknow.

9. It is pertinent to mention that neither on 08.11.2021 nor 09.11.2021 any argument was advanced by learned Additional Advocate General inviting attention of the Court to consider the order dated 28.10.2021. A false statement has been made in the letter only with an intention to cast aspersion upon the Court in not considering the order dated 28.10.2021 cancelling the regularization of the petitioners. This conduct of the Director of Education (Secondary) U.P. Lucknow amounts to casting aspersion upon the Court which is not expected from an Officer of the rank of the Director of Education (Secondary) U.P. Lucknow and is contemptuous.

10. Perusal of the instructions extracted above shows that instructions are completely vague. However, Sri Neeraj Tripathi, Additional Advocate General states that what he could comprehend from the instructions and letter dated 18.11.2021 of the Director of Education (Secondary) U.P., Lucknow is that it seems that the department has decided to prefer special appeal against the order of this Court dated 09.11.2021, which order is already extracted above.

11. Perusal of instructions extracted above shows that instructions are completely vague.

12. The order of this Court dated 09.11.2021 reveals that same has been passed on the basis of statement made by Sri Neeraj Tripathi, Additional Advocate General based upon the order dated 09.11.2021 of the Director of Education (Secondary), UP, Lucknow which was placed on record. Paragraphs 25 to 27 of the order dated 09.11.2021 of the Director of Education (Secondary), UP, Lucknow are reproduced as under:-

"25- इस प्रकार विभाग द्वारा विनियमितिकरण एवं नियुक्ति के संबंध में जो आधार एवं साक्ष्य मा० न्यायालय के समक्ष प्रस्तुत किए गए उनको मा० उच्च न्यायालय द्वारा अमान्य कर दिया गया, जिस कारण याचीगणों के अवशेष देयक के भुगतान की विधिक बाध्यता उत्पन्न हो रही है। जिला विद्यालय निरीक्षक-मैनपुरी द्वारा याचीगणों के अवशेष अवधि में कार्यरत रहने की पुष्टि हेतु कोई साक्ष्य अद्यतन प्रस्तुत नहीं किया गया है।

26- अशासकीय सहायता प्राप्त माध्यमिक विद्यालय में कार्यरत शिक्षक एवं शिक्षणेत्तर कर्मचारियों के अवशेष देयक भुगतान के संबंध में शासनादेश दिनांक 20.2.2020 में यह उल्लिखित है कि "क्रमांक-13- माननीय न्यायालय द्वारा पारित आदेशों के प्रकरण-

(उपरोक्त क्रमांक 13 में उल्लिखित अवशेषों का भुगतान शासन की पूर्वानुमति से ही किया जाएगा।)

27- इस प्रकार तत्कालीन शिक्षा निदेशक(मा०) के निर्णय दिनांक 23.8.2018 एवं पूर्व में समय-समय पर मण्डलीय समिति द्वारा लिये गये निर्णय/निस्तारण आदेशों को मा० उच्च न्यायालय द्वारा अमान्य करने तथा जिला विद्यालय निरीक्षक-मैनपुरी द्वारा याचीगणों का उपलब्ध कराये गये अवशेष देयकों (श्री उमाशंकर मिश्र से०नि० का दिनांक 01.08.1995, दिनांक से 30 जून 2013 तक का रू०35,78,511=00 शब्दों में (पैतीस लाख अठहत्तर हजार पॉच सौ इग्यारह मात्र) श्री वेदप्रकाश स०अ० का दिनांक 01.8.1995 से 31.12.2015 तक रू०50,58,828=00 (पचास लाख अट्ठावन हजार आठ सौ अट्ठाइस मात्र) श्री मुन्नालाल तिवारी स०अ० का दिनांक 01.08.1995से 31.03.2016 रू०44,22,241=00 (चौवालिस लाख बाइस हजार दो सौ इक्तालिस मात्र) श्री सूर्यकान्त मिश्र, स०अ० का दिनांक 01.08.1995 से 31.03.2016 रू०44,22,241=00 (चौवालिस लाख बाइस हजार दो सौ इक्तालिस मात्र) को शासन को इस अनुरोध के साथ संदर्भित किया जाता है कि कृपया मा० उच्च न्यायालय के उक्त आदेशों के अनुपालन के दृष्टिगत निर्णय लेते हुए अग्रिम कार्यवाही हेतु यथोचित आदेश प्रदान करने का कष्ट करें।

संलग्नकः उक्तवत्।

भवदीय

(विनय कुमार पाण्डेय)
शिक्षा निदेशक(मा०)
उत्तर प्रदेश।

13. The aforesaid conduct clearly reflects how the State authorities are taking the Court so lightly and giving lame excuses at their will not to abide by even the order dated 09.11.2021 of the Director of Education (Secondary), UP, Lucknow and statement given by learned Additional Advocate General on the basis of order dated 09.11.2021 to release the salary due to the petitioners.

14. At this stage, it is pertinent to mention that the Director of Education (Secondary) U.P. Lucknow in its letter dated 18.11.2021 has noted a false statement which has been quoted in paragraph no.7 of this order so as to mislead the State Government to seek permission to prefer the special appeal against the order dated 09.11.2021.

15. In such view of the fact, this Court is compelled to take a very serious note of the situation inasmuch as the manner in which the State authorities are acting and misleading the Court as is evident from various orders extracted above. Accordingly, the Court summons the Additional Chief Secretary (Secondary), UP, Lucknow, the Director of Education (Secondary), UP, Lucknow to appear in person and explain as to how, once the order dated 09.11.2021 has been issued by the Director of Education (Secondary), UP, Lucknow acknowledging the fact that stand of the respondents in refusing to pay salary to petitioners is not sustainable as all objections which are being raised by the respondents has been adjudicated upon by this Court in previous writ petition and have attained finality, and based upon the order dated 09.11.2021 issued by the Director of Education (Secondary), UP, Lucknow; the learned Advocate General got the matter adjourned to complete formalities to process the payment of petitioners, then how the State Government can resile from its stand and decides to prefer special appeal against the order dated 09.11.2021 which was solely based upon the order dated 09.11.2021 of Director of Education (Secondary), UP, Lucknow and on the statement made by Sri Neeraj Tripathi, Additional Advocate General to release payment to petitioners on the basis of said order."

45. The orders passed by this Court, extracted above, reflects unwarranted and obstinate conduct of the respondents in not complying the orders passed by this Court in earlier writ petitions despite the fact the Director of Education in order dated 09.11.2021 admitted in para-25 that the objections with regard to appointment of petitioners being raised in the instant case have been rejected by this Court.

46. The aforesaid facts further reflects that the respondents are hell bent to scuttle the orders passed by this Court in various writ petitions on the same cause of action between the same party and have invited unnecessary litigation which resulted in harassment of petitioners as for one cause of action, the petitioners had to approach this Court by filing at least five writ petitions before the present writ petition, and despite the finding recorded in all those writ petitions by this Court that the appointment of the petitioners are valid, yet they continued to raise same objections again and again in each orders passed by them which have been assailed by the petitioners in various writ petitions, referred above, and they have succeeded in all the writ petitions

47. Now, coming to the merits of the case, the question as to whether the principle of res-judicata are attracted in the instant case in the light of the orders passed by this Court in Writ Petition No.24305 of 2001 decided on 24.02.2005, Writ Petition No.53709 of 2006 decided on 02.07.2009, Writ Petition No.69975 of 2010 decided on 09.04.2013 and the judgement of this Court dated 12.08.2015 deciding the bunch of writ petitions, leading of which was Writ-A No.62780 of 2013.

48. Now, to appreciate the aforesaid issue, it would be apt to reproduce the orders passed by this Court in the aforesaid writ petitions.

49. The Writ Petition No.24305 of 2001 was filed by the petitioners challenging the order dated 28.02.2001 rejecting the claim of regularization of the petitioners on the ground that the selection was not made as per procedure contemplated in law as the posts were not advertised in two leading newspapers. This Court by order dated 24.02.2005 quashed the order dated 28.02.2001 holding that the objection taken by the Regional Level Committee that advertisement was not made in two leading newspapers, is not sustainable. Relevant extract of the order dated 24.02.2005 is reproduced herein-below:-

"In view of the aforesaid Division Bench judgement, the rejection of petitioner's claim by the Regional Committee on the ground that advertisement was not made in two leading newspaper does not survive, as the advertisement was made in the year 1991, i.e., prior to the date of judgement of the Full Bench in Radha Raizada's case.

Consequently, the impugned order dated 28.02.2021 is not sustainable and is quashed. The writ petition is allowed and a mandamus is issued to the Joint Director of Education to constitute a Committee which will pass appropriate orders for the regularization of the petitioners under Section 33-C of the Act, 1982 within three months from the date a certified copy of this judgement is produced before the respondent no.1."

50. Thereafter, the claim of the petitioner was again considered by the Regional Level Committee who rejected the claim of the petitioners by order dated 17.08.2006 holding that the petitioners' appointment could not have been made as there was a ban imposed by the State Government in respect to the ad hoc appointment.

51. The order dated 17.08.2006 was challenged by the petitioners in Writ Petition No.53709 of 2006 wherein this Court relying upon the judgement of this Court dated 24.02.2005 in Writ Petition No.24305 of 2001 recorded a specific finding that the spirit of the order dated 24.02.2005 is that this Court has found direct recruitment process in the order. This Court further recorded that the appointment of the petitioners were in order. Relevant extract of the order dated 02.07.2009 passed by this Court is reproduced herein-below:-

".....The following conclusions were recorded by the court in its judgement dated 24.2.2005 in above writ petition No.24305 of 2001 (Surya Kant Mishra and others Vs. Joint Director of Education Agra Region Agra and others).

In view of the aforesaid Division Bench judgement, the rejection of petitioner's claim by the Regional Committee on the ground that the advertisement was not made in two leading newspaper does not survive, as the advertisement was made in the year 1991,i.e. prior to the date of judgement of the Full Bench in Radha Raizada's case.

Consequently, the impugned order dated 28.02.2001 is not sustainable and is quashed. The writ petition is allowed and a mandamus is issued to the joint director of Education to constitute. 1. Committee which pass appropriate orders for the regularization of the petitioners under section 33-C of the Act, 1982 within three months from the date a certified copy of this judgement is produced before respondent no.1 .

The spirit of the order passed by this court is that it has found the direct recruitment process in order. Thus, appointments of the petitioners were in order. The case was not applicable the judgement of the Full Bench in Radha Raizadha's case.

It appears that Regional Committee Agra in its impunged decision dated 17.08.2006 has excluded from consideration the above observations recorded by this Court.

In view of the above, the matter requires consideration by the Regional level Committee. The Regional Level Committee shall call for the record. The petitioner shall place on record the status of the writ petitions which have been mentiond in the order dated 17.8.2006. He shall also place on record the judgement rendered by this court on 24.2.2005 highlighting the observations made by this Court regarding status of initial appointment of the petitioner. The Regional Level Committee shall look into the matter and pass appropriate order within six weeks frim the date of production of a certified copy of this order passed by this court.

Accordingly the writ petition is allowed with above directions. The impugned order dated 17.8.2006 passed by Regional Committee a copy of which is contained as Annexure 1 to the writ petition, is quashed."

52. Again the order dated 24.07.2010 was passed by the Regional Level Committee pursuant to the judgement of this Court dated 02.07.2009 mainly on the ground that the posts in question were not notified to the Commission by the Management, whereas under Section 18 of the Act, 1982, the appointment can only be made if the Commission has failed to make appointment on the post within 60 days from the date posts have been notified to the Commission. Accordingly, it held that the appointment of the petitioners was not as per law, hence, they are not entitled to regularization, which order was again challenged by the petitioners in Writ-A No. 69975 of 2010, which was allowed by this Court on 09.04.2013. In the judgement dated 09.04.2013, the Court expressed its anguish by recording a finding that the official of the high rank i.e., Joint Director of Education, District Inspector of Schools and Principal of the College are unable to comprehend and appreciate the true import of the judgement. The relevant paras of the judgement is reproduced here-in-below:-

"From the aforesaid finding it is manifestly clear that this Court found that appointment of the petitioners was prior to the judgement of Radha Raizada's case (supra) and since the order of Radha Raizada's case (supra) was made prospective therefore, that ground was not in existence.

The Court is at loss to understand that inspite of clear finding recorded by this Court in Writ Petition No. 24305 of 2001 vide order dated 24.2.2005 when the matter was remitted to the Screening Committee/Selection Committee it rejected on the same ground and petitioners were forced to file another Writ Petition No. 53709 of 2006. Again this Court recorded a finding with reference to the finding of the earlier order of this Court that the spirit of the order passed by this Court is that it has found the direct recruitment process in order. The finding recorded in subsequent judgement of this Court reads as under :-

"The spirit of the order passed by this Court is that it has found the direct recruitment process in order. Thus, appointments of the petitioners were in order. The case was not applicable the judgement of the Full Bench in Radha Raizada's case. It appears that Regional Committee Agra in its impugned decision dated 17.8.2006 has excluded from consideration the above observations recorded by this Court."

The Screening Committee/Selection Committee was again asked to reconsider the matter. However, the Screening Committee/Selection Committee without looking the findings recorded by this Court again third time reiterated the same stand that the advertisement were not made in two newspapers.

As regards the submission of learned Standing Counsel that petitioners were not working at the time of the commencement of the amendment of Section 33-A of the Act, 1982 no such finding has been recorded by the Screening Committee/Selection Committee. The said averment has been made in the counter affidavit. The Supreme Court in a long line of decision has settled the law that the reasons cannot be supplemented by affidavits. Reference may be made to judgement of Supreme Court in M.S.Gill and Another v. The Chief Election Commissioner, New Delhi and others reported (1978) 1 SCC 405 and Laxmi Kant Bajpai v. Haji Yaqub and others reported (2010) 4 SCC 81. The said reason is not mentioned in the impugned order.

The Court is constrained to note that an official of high rank i.e. a Joint Director of Education; District Inspector of Schools and Principal of the College are unable to comprehend and appreciate the true import of the judgements of this Court. In all the earlier judgements specific direction was made to the Screening Committee/Selection Committee to consider the regularization of the petitioners in terms of Section 33-C of the Act, 1982 ignoring the specific directions the Screening Committee/Selection Committee is harping on the same issues which have already been decided by the Court in its earlier orders.

After careful consideration and perusal of the record as well as submission made by respective learned counsel for the parties, I am of the view that the impugned order dated 24.7.2010 (Annexure -1 to the writ petition) is vitiated for the aforesaid reasons. It needs to be set aside. Accordingly, it is set aside.

The matter is remitted to the Screening Committee/Selection Committee again to comply the directions of this Court issued in the order 24.2.2005 passed in Writ Petition No. 24305 of 2001 and order dated 2.7.2009 passed in Writ Petition No. 53709 of 2006 and pass appropriate order within three months from the date of communication of this order strictly in the light of observation made herein above.

Writ petition is allowed."

53. Thereafter, again the claim of the petitioners was rejected by the Regional Level Committee by order dated 04.10.2013, which came to be challenged by the petitioners in separate writ petitions which were clubbed together and decided by a common order dated 12.08.2015, treating Writ-A No.62730 of 2013 as leading petition. Relevant extract of the said order is reproduced herein below:-

".....Hon'ble Court while deciding the writ petition No. 24305 of 2001 had categorically came into conclusion that no such procedure has been provided under Section 18 of the Act but this direction for making an advertisement in two leading newspapers was given by the Full Bench of this Court in Radha Raizada's case reported in 1994 (3) UPLBEC 1551 and subsequently in Ashika Prasad Shukla Vs. District Inspector of Schools, Allahabad and another, 1998 (3) UPLBEC 1722*, a Division Bench of this court held that the direction issued by the Raizada's case (supra) was with prospective in nature and would be applicable in case where the person is appointed subsequent to the decision of this Full Bench and as such the same would not be applicable in the case of the petitioners.Therefore, the first objection initially taken by the regularisation committee does not have any ground to stand and consequently the earlier impugned order dated 28.02.2001 was quashed by this Court with direction to the Joint Director of Education to constitute a committee for regularisation of the petitioners under Section 33-C. Therefore, it is apparent that whatever the objection taken by the respondents had been rejected by this Court while allowing the Writ Petition No. 24305 of 2001. But unfortunately again the respondents have taken a plea while rejecting their claim for regularisation on the ground that the petitioners were not paid salary since 1995, therefore, their claim do not fall under Section 33-C of the Act. The records clearly give an impression that the D.I.O.S. while forwarding the papers on 06th June, 2000 had clearly held that the the appointments of the petitioners were made in between 14.05.1991 to 06.08.1993 and they were working continuously in the institution and subsequently it had also brought on record that the salary of the petitioners were paid on the basis of interim order passed by this Court in the year 1991. Therefore, subsequently, the objection raised by the Regularisation Committee that the petitioners were not paid since 1995 is not sustainable in accordance with the provisions of Section 33-C.*

It is suffice to say that it is not disputed that initial appointment of the petitioner in the institution was in accordance with law. The Accounts Officer submitted a detailed report dated 23.05.2001 stating therein that the petitioners were entitled for the salary as well as for regularisation but unfortunately the records would lead to the conclusion that the claims of the petitioners were rejected on the basis on non-existence grounds and at no point of time the department had taken any decision strictly in accordance with the law but time to time they have changed the ground for rejecting the claim of the petitioners. The statue clearly provides that working of a teacher is essential ingredients for consideration of regularisation and the petitioners' cases also fall under the cut off date but the aforesaid consideration had not been made by the regularisation committee. It is evident from the record that the petitioners were working in the institution and if it is admitted situation that the petitioners were working on the date when regularisation rules came into existence they are entitled to be considered for regularisation. Unfortunately the petitioners inspite of their best effort, their services had not been regularized till date, even though their rights accrued 1992. Inspite of various directions issued by this court their future is still at stake. In view of the aforesaid facts and circumstances, the order impugned dated 04.10.2013 passed by the Regularisation Committee headed by the Joint Director of Education cannot be sustained and is hereby set aside. The writ petitions are allowed. The matter is remitted to the Regularisation Committee headed by the Joint Director of Education to consider and decide it within two months, in view of the observations made hereinabove."

54. Now, after the order passed by this Court on 12.08.2015, the services of the petitioners were regularized by order dated 30.12.2015.

55. Now in the light of the orders passed in several writ petitions, referred above, whether it is open to the respondents to take objection in respect to legality of appointment of petitioners in the instant writ petition to deny the claim of salary of the petitioners, moreso, when this Court repeatedly in all the aforesaid judgements arising out of the same cause of action has recorded a finding that the appointment of the petitioners are as per law and those judgements have attained finality in the absence of any challenge to them by the respondents.

56. At this stage, it would be apt to refer to the judgement of the Apex Court elucidating the principle of res-judicata. The first judgement on the said point placed by Sri Anil Bhushan is AIR 1965 SCC 1153 (Gulabchand Chhotalal Parikh Vs. State of Bombay). In the said case, the question which came up for consideration before the Apex Court was whether the decision of the High Court on merits on certain matter after contest in a writ petition under Article 226 of the Constitution operates as res-judicata in regular suit with respect to the same matter between the parties. The Apex Court considered the principle of res-judicata enunciated by the Apex Court in the case of Daryao's's case, (1962) 1 SCR 574. Relevant paras - 53, 54, 60, 61 are reproduced herein below:

"53. In Daryao's Case 1962-1 SCR 574: (AIR 1961 SC 1457) this Court had again dealt with the question of the applicability of the principle of res judicata in writ proceedings. The matter was gone through very exhaustively and the final conclusions are to be found at p. 592. (of SCR): (at pp. 1465-1466 of AIR). We may summarise them thus :

1. If a petition underArt. 226 is considered on the merits as a contested matter and is dismissed, the decision would continue to bind the parties unless it is otherwise modified or reversed by appeal or other appropriate proceedings permissible under the Constitution.

2. It would not be open to a party to ignore the said judgment and move this Court under Art. 32by an original petition made on the same facts and for obtaining the same or similar orders or writs.

3. If the petition underArt. 226in a High Court is dismissed not on the merits but because of the laches of the party applying for the writ or because it is held that the party had an alternative remedy available to it, the dismissal of the writ petition would not constitute a bar to a subsequent petition underArt. 32.

4. Such a dismissal may, however, constitute a bar to a subsequent application under Art. 32 where and if the facts thus found by the High Court be themselves relevant even underArt. 32.

5. If a writ petition is dismissed in limine and an order is pronounced in that behalf, whether or not the dismissal would constitute a bar would depend on the nature of the order. If the order is on the merits, it would be a bar.

6. If the petition is dismissed in limine without a speaking order, such dismissal cannot be treated as creating a bar of res judicata.

7. If the petition is dismissed as withdrawn, it cannot be a bar to a subsequent petition underArt. 32because, in such a case, there had been no decision on the merits by the Court.

54. It can be said with equal force that a regular suit for the determination of the matter which had been decided on merits by the High Court or this Court on a writ petition cannot be given the status of a de facto appeal against the order of the High Court or of this Court. A solemn declaration and order by the Court in its extra-ordinary jurisdiction is not to be set at nought by a Court of ordinary jurisdiction whose decisions are subject to the appellate or revisional jurisdiction of that Court.

60. As a result of the above discussion, we are of opinion that the provisions of s. 11 C.P.C. are not exhaustive with respect to an earlier decision operating as res judicata between the same parties on the same matter in controversy in a subsequent regular suit and that on the general principle of res judicata, any previous decision on a matter in controversy, decided after full contest or after affording fair opportunity to the parties to prove their case by a Court competent to decide it, will operate as res judicata in a subsequent regular suit. It is not necessary that the Court deciding the matter formerly be competent to decide the subsequent suit or that the former proceeding and the subsequent suit have the same subject matter. The nature of the former proceeding is immaterial.

61. We do not see any good reason to preclude such decisions on matters in controversy in writ proceedings under Arts. 226 or 32 of the Constitution from operating as res judicata in subsequent regular suits on the same matters in controversy between the same parties and thus to give limited effect to the principle of the finality of decisions after full contest. We therefore, hold that, on the general principle of res judicata, the decision of the High Court on a writ petition under Article 226 on the merits on a matter after contest will operate as res judicata in a subsequent regular suit between the same parties with respect to the same matter."

57. In the case of Workmen Coachin Port Trust AIR 1978 SC 1283, the Apex Court in para-7 has detailed the principle of res-judicata, however, in the facts of that case res-judicata was not attracted, para-7 of the judgement is reproduced herein-below:

"7. It is well known that the doctrine of res judicata is codified in section 11 of the Code of Civil Procedure but it is not exhaustive.Section 11generally comes into play in relation to civil suits. But apart from the codified law the doctrine of res judicata or the principle of res judicata has been applied since long in various other kinds of proceedings and situations by Courts in England, India and other countries. The rule of constructive res judicata is engrafted in Explanation IV of section 11 of the Code of Civil Procedure and in many other situations also principles not only of direct res judicata but of constructive res judicata are also applied. If by any judgment or order any matter in issue has been directly and explicity decided the decision operates as res judicata and bars the trial of an identical issue in a subsequent proceeding between the same parties. The principle of res judicata also comes into play when by the judgment and order a decision of a particular issue is implicit in it, that is, it must be deemed to have been necessarily decided by implication; then also the principle of res judicata on that issue is directly applicable. When any matter which might and ought to have been made a ground of defence or attack in a former proceeding but was not so made, then such a matter in the eye of law, to avoid multiplicity of litigation and to bring about finality in it is deemed to have been constructively in issue and, therefore, is taken as decided."

58. In almost identical facts as in the instant case, the Apex Court in the case of Neelima Srivatava Vs. State of U.P & Ors., AIR 2021 SC 3884, has held that once an issue between the parties has been settled by a judgement and it has attained finality interse between the parties, the judgement which has attained finality crystallized the rights of the party, therefore, the decision rendered by the competent court cannot be challenged in co-lateral proceedings, inasmuch as if it is allowed to do so, that would lead to confusion and chaos, and finality of the proceedings would seize to have any meaning. Relevant Paras 32 to 38 are reproduced herein-below:-

"32. The Division Bench of the High Court proceeded as if it was hearing an appeal against the judgment dated 23.01.2006 of the learned Single Judge which had already attained finality. Appeal filed under the Rules of the Court was filed against the judgment dated 15.05.2014 rendered in Writ Petition No. 8597 of 2010. It is a well settled principle of law that a Letters Patent Appeal which is in continuation of a Writ Petition cannot be filed collaterally to set aside the judgment of the same High Court rendered in an earlier round of litigation ignoring the principles of res-judicata and doctrine of finality.

33. By a majority decision in Naresh Shridhar Mirajkar & Ors. Vs. State of Maharashtra & Anr. has laid down the law in this regard as under:-

"When a Judge deals with matters brought before him for his adjudication, he first decides questions, of fact on which the parties are at issue, and then applies the relevant law to the said facts. Whether the findings of fact recorded by the Judge are right or wrong, and whether the conclusion of law drawn by him suffers from any infirmity, can be considered and decided if the party aggrieved by the decision of the Judge takes the matter up before the appellate Court."

34. In Rupa Ashok Hurra Vs. Ashok Hurra & Anr., while dealing with an identical issue this Court held that reconsideration of the judgment of this Court which has attained finality is not normally permissible. The decision upon a question of law rendered by this Court was conclusive and would bind the Court in subsequent cases. The Court cannot sit in appeal against its own judgment.

35. In Union of India & Ors. Vs. Major S.P. Sharma & Ors., a three-judge bench of this Court has held as under:-

"A decision rendered by a competent court cannot be challenged in collateral proceedings for the reason that if it is permitted to do so there would be "confusion and chaos and the finality of proceedings would cease to have any meaning."

36. Thus, it is very well settled that it is not permissible for the parties to re-open the concluded judgments of the Court as the same may not only tantamount to an abuse of the process of the Court but would have far reaching adverse effect on the administration of justice.

37. It is undisputed that in compliance of the judgment of the learned Single Judge dated 15.05.2014 vide order dated 31.10.2015 respondents regularized the services of appellant subject to the outcome of the proceedings in the LPA and the appellant now stand superannuated having attained the age of superannuation after about 33 years of continuous service.

38. In the end, a feeble attempt was made by the learned counsel for the State-respondent to persuade us not to interfere in the matter on the ground that the services of the appellant were terminated vide letter dated 19.05.1986 which was never challenged as such her services stood terminated. We are not ready to accept the proposition canvased by learned counsel for the respondent at this stage for the simple reason that it was open for the State to have advanced this contention before the learned Single Judge in the two Writ Petitions decided vide judgment and order dated 23.01.2006. Once this argument was never made before the learned Single Judge in the proceedings which has attained finality, the respondent cannot be permitted to raise this argument in this appeal."

59. From the reading of the aforesaid judgements, it is clear that the doctrine of res-judicata as embodied in Section 11 of Code of Civil Procedure is based on the high public policy to bring about an end to litigation by giving finality to judgements interse parties and save the litigant from harassment second time. In other words, Rule of res-judicata gives finality to a decision arrived at after due contest and after hearing the parties interested in the controversy. The said principle has not only been made applicable to suit but also in other proceedings like writ petitions under Article 226 of the Constitution of India.

60. The Rule of res-judicata as engrafted in Section 11 of the Code of Civil Procedure is that if by any judgement and order any matter in issue has been directly and explicitly decided, the decision operates as res-judicata and bars the trial of identical issue in a subsequent proceedings between the same parties. The principle of res-judicata also come into play when by the judgement and order a decision of a particular issue is implicit in it, i.e., it must be deemed to have been necessarily decided by implication; on existence of such condition, the principle of res-judicata on that issue is directly applicable.

61. In view of the doctrine of res-judicata as has been elucidated by the Apex Court. Now, this Court proceeds to consider whether in the instant case the principle of res-judicata is attracted and bars the respondents from raising any objection with regard to the legality of the appointments of the petitioners.

62. In the instant case, it is not in dispute that four permanent substantive posts came into existence on which the Committee of Management resolved to make appointment, accordingly, the posts were advertised in two newspapers and the petitioners were selected on the basis of quality point marks. The petitioners preferred a writ petition No.18381 of 1992 praying for a writ of mandamus to pay salary of the petitioner in which an interim order was passed on 22.05.1992 and the petitioners were paid salary from 01.11.1991 to July, 1995, whereafter, salary of the petitioners were stopped by the D.I.O.S., which again was challenged by the petitioners in a writ petition which was dismissed by the Court granting liberty to the petitioners to assail the order of stopping salary in Writ Petition No.18318 of 1992. The petitioners challenged the said order stopping salary in Writ Petition 18381 of 1992 which was disposed of by this Court directing the respondents to consider the claim of the petitioners for salary as well as regularization by judgement and order dated 04.02.1999.

63. The respondents, thereafter, considered the claim of the petitioners for regularization, and rejected it by order dated 28.02.2001 on three grounds, namely, posts were not advertised in two newspapers having wide circulation in the area; requisition was not sent by the Committee of Management to the Commission for making appointment; and reservation criteria have not been followed by the Committee of Management in making appointment.

64. The petitioners preferred a Writ Petition No.24305 of 2001 challenging the order dated 28.02.2001. This Court did not find ground of rejection sustainable in law and quashed the order dated 28.02.2001 by judgement dated 24.02.2005. The judgement of this Court dated 24.02.2005 has attained finality as the same has not been assailed by the respondents in appeal.

65. The respondents in compliance of the order dated 24.02.2005 passed another order rejecting the regularization of the petitioners by order dated 17.08.2006 almost on the same ground on which the order dated 28.02.2001 was passed. This Court by order dated 02.07.2009 again quashed the order dated 17.08.2006 and recorded a finding by placing reliance upon the judgement dated 24.02.2005 that the spirit of the judgement dated 24.02.2005 clearly indicates that this Court finds that the appointment of the petitioners are legal, consequently, this Court recorded a finding that the appointment of the petitioners were in order which is evident from the extract of the judgement dated 02.07.2009 quoted above, which judgement has also attained finality as the same has not been challenged by the respondents in appeal.

66. Thereafter, again the respondents passed an order on 24.07.2010 rejecting the regularization of the petitioners almost on the same ground on which previous orders were passed. In para-5 of the said order, the Regional Level Committee deliberated one of the reason besides other reasons for rejecting the claim of the petitioners that the posts in question was not notified to the Commission. The said ground was found not sustainable by this Court. This Court by the order dated 09.04.2013 quashed the order dated 24.07.2010. The order dated 09.04.2013 extracted above, reveals that this Court expressed anguish about the manner in which the officers of the rank of Joint Director failed to comprehend and appreciate true import of the earlier judgements of this Court.

67. The respondents after the judgement and order dated 09.04.2013 passed a fresh order dated 04.10.2013 rejecting the claim of regularization of petitioners which came to be challenged by the petitioners by separate writ petitions and all the writ petitions were connected and decided by leading Writ-A No.62780 of 2013. The order dated 04.10.2013 was also passed on the same ground on which earlier orders have been passed. This Court quashed the order dated 04.10.2013 by the judgement and order dated 12.08.2015 extracted above.

68. The finding returned by this Court in judgement and order dated 12.08.2015 discloses that whatever objections were taken by the respondents in respect of appointment of petitioners, had been rejected by this Court while allowing the Writ Petition No.24305 of 2001, yet the respondents continued to take same objection and passed the order rejecting the claim of the petitioners on the same ground which have been rejected by this Court in all the writ petitions challenging the rejection of claim of the petitioners. This fact has also been admitted by the Director of Education in para-25 of the order dated 09.11.2021.

69. Thus, from the finding returned in various writ petitions, referred above, it is manifest that the objections which have been taken in the orders impugned in the instant writ petition in rejecting the claim of the petitioners that the appointment of the petitioners were perse illegal on account of the fact that the posts were not advertised in two newspapers having wide circulation; that the mandatory requirement of Section 18 of Act 1982 that ad hoc appointment could be made by Committee of Management after 60 days period has expired from the date the posts were notified to the Commission; that no financial approval has been granted to the appointment of the petitioners by D.I.O.S., have been rejected by this Court. Therefore, now it is not open to the respondents to raise the same objections in denying the claim of the petitioners which have already been rejected by this Court in previous judgements and orders. It is manifest from the records that all the objections or grounds which have been taken by the respondents in rejecting the claim of the petitioners are the issues directly and expressly involved in the previous writ petitions, therefore, principle of res-judicata bars the respondents in taking same grounds in rejecting the claim of the petitioners.

70. Learned Additional Advocate General has tried to demonstrate from the pleadings of the writ petition that even as per the case of the petitioners, the mandatory requirement of expiry of 60 days period from the date the posts had been notified to the Commission before making ad hoc appointment, had not been complied with by the Committee of Management. He submits that the requisition was sent to the Commission on 22.08.1991 and advertisement was issued on 03.10.1991 and petitioners joined on 20.10.1991. Thus, it is evident that the period of 60 days had not expired between the requisition notifying the posts to the Commission and posts were advertised for appointment.

71. In this regard, it would be apt to refer to the order dated 24.07.2010 passed by the Regional Level Committee, in which in para-5 specific objection was taken by the Regional Level Committee that the posts were not notified to the Commission, and mandatory condition as provided under Section 18 of the Act, 1982 that ad hoc appointment can be made by the Committee of Management after the expiry of 60 days period from the date the posts in question have been notified to the Commission and Commission has failed to make appointment has not been followed by the Committee of Management in making ad hoc appointment, therefore, the appointment of the petitioners were invalid and they cannot be regularized. The said objection was repelled by this Court in Writ Petition No.69975 of 2010 by the judgement and order dated 09.04.2013. The relevant extract of the order dated 09.04.2013 is already quoted above. The Apex Court in the case reported in (1977) 3 SCR 428, Uttar Pradesh Vs. Nawab Hussain has explained the principle of constructive res-judicata. Relevant extract of the judgement is reproduced herein below:-

"Shinghal J., delivering the judgment on behalf of the Court applied the principles of constructive res judicata and held that a suit to challenge the order of dismissal from service after dismissal of the writ petition on merits was not maintainable although a new ground of attack was made out in the suit which had not been taken in the writ petition. This was so on the application of the principle of constructive res judicata. It will be useful to quote a passage from page 431 (of SCR) : (at p. 1683 of AIR) which runs as follows :-

"Reference in this connection may be made to Ex Parte Thompson, (1985) 6 QB 720. There A. J. Stephens moved for a rule calling upon the authorities concerned to show cause why a mandamus should not issue. He obtained a rule nisi, but it was discharged as it did not appear that there had been a demand and a refusal. He applied again saying that there had been a demand and a refusal since then. Lord Denman C.J., observed that as Stephens was making an application which had already been refused, on fresh materials, he could not have "the same application repeated from time to time" as they had "often refused rules" on that ground. The same view has been taken in England in respect of renewed petition for certiorari, quo warranto and prohibition, and, as we shall show, that is also the position in this country."

72. In view of the judgement of the Apex Court in the case of Nawab Hussain (supra) and the principle of constructive res-judicata, this ground is not open to the respondents to raise it after five round of litigation which had been contested between the parties on the same cause of action. Therefore, this Court is not inclined to test the legality of the arguments raised by the learned Additional Advocate General. Accordingly, this Court finds that the objections which have been taken by the respondents in denying the claim of the petitioners are barred by principle of res-judicata and constructive resjudicata, hence, are not sustainable in law.

73. So far as the judgements relied upon by the learned counsel for the respondents are concerned on the point that the procedure contemplated under Section 18 of the Act 1982 has to be scrupulously followed while making ad-hoc appointment. It is no doubt true that the Courts have been consistent in holding that the conditions enumerated under Section 18 of the Act, 1982 has to be followed scrupulously in making ad-hoc appointment, and the procedure for making appointment under Section 18 of the Act, 1982 as contemplated under the First Removal of Difficulties Order 1981 has to be adhered to, but in the instant case these judgements have no application, inasmuch as objections which have been taken in respect to appointment of petitioners have already been rejected by this Court in five writ petitions prior to the present writ petition and this Court has already held the appointment of the petitioners as per law and finding recorded therein are binding upon the parties and have attained finality interse parties, therefore, it is not open to challenge the appointment of the petitioners, therefore, in such view of the fact this Court is not proceeding to discuss each case relied upon by the learned counsel for the respondents as it would unnecessarily burden the judgement.

74. In regard to the argument of learned Additional Advocate General based upon the judgement of the Apex Court in the case reported in (2007) 2 SCC 230 Raghunath Rai Bareja & another Vs. Punjab National Bank & others, law will prevail over equity, it would be apt to mention that the controversy interse party has been settled by five judgements of this Court prior to the present writ petition which have been detailed above, therefore, the question of equity is not involved in the instant case. Thus, for this reason, the arguments of learned Additional Advocate General is misconceived and is not sustainable.

75. Further submission that pure question of law can be raised by AIR 2010 SC 3817, Greater Mohali Area Development Authority & Others Vs. Manju Jain Others, it is pertinent to mention that the said principle has also no application in the instant case as this Court has held that the objections which have been taken by the respondents have already been decided by this Court in previous five writ petitions, therefore, the said principle has no application in the instant case.

76. The order dated 28.10.2021 passed by the respondents reviewing its earlier order dated 30.12.2015 passed by Regional Level Committee is not sustainable for one more reason that the Regional Level Committee has no power to review its order as it is settled in law that the review is the creation of statute and authority can exercise the power of review if it is conferred by the statute. In this respect it would be apt to refer to para 11 of the judgement of the Apex Court reported in AIR 1987 SC 2186, Dr. Smt. Kuntesh Gupta v. Management of Hindu Kanya Mahavidhyalaya, Sitapur (U.P.) and others. Relevant extract of the said judgement is reproduced here-in-below:-

"It is now well established that a quasi judicial authority cannot review its own order, unless the power of review is expressly conferred on it by the statute under which it derives its jurisdiction. The Vice-Chancellor in considering the question of approval of an order ofdismissal of the Principal, acts as a quasi judicial authority. It is not disputed that the provisions of the U.P. State Universities Act, 1973 or of the Statutes of the University do not confer any power of review on the Vice- Chancellor. In the circumstances, it must be held that the Vice-Chancellor acted wholly without jurisdiction in reviewing her order dated January 24, 1987 by her order dated March 7, 1987. The said order of the Vice-Chancellor dated March 7, 1987 was a nullity."

77. Further, the order dated 23.08.2018 is not sustainable in law for want of principle of natural justice, inasmuch as the order impugned do not reflect that any notice or opportunity of hearing was afforded to the petitioners before passing the impugned orders.

78. Now, the question arises as to whether this Court can issue a writ of mandamus to pay the entire arrears of salary to the petitioners since the date of regularization including consequential benefits, it would be appropriate to refer to the judgement of Apex Court in the case of Hari Krishna Mandir Trust Vs. State of Maharashtra & Ors., (2020) 9 SCC 356, wherein the Apex Court has held that in appropriate cases the Court may itself pass an order or give direction to the public authorities or Government which ought to have exercised by the authorities properly and lawfully. Relevant paragraph nos. 100 to 102 of the judgment are reproduced here-in-below:

"100. The High Courts exercising their jurisdiction under Article 226 of the Constitution of India, not only have the power to issue a Writ of Mandamus or in the nature of Mandamus, but are duty bound to exercise such power, where the Government or a public authority has failed to exercise or has wrongly exercised discretion conferred upon it by a Statute, or a rule, or a policy decision of the Government or has exercised such discretion malafide, or on irrelevant consideration.

101. In all such cases, the High Court must issue a Writ of Mandamus and give directions to compel performance in an appropriate and lawful manner of the discretion conferred upon the Government or a public authority.

102. In appropriate cases, in order to prevent injustice to the parties, the Court may itself pass an order or give directions which the government or the public authorities should have passed, had it properly and lawfully exercised its discretion. In Directors of Settlements, A.P. v. M.R. Apparao. Pattanaik J. observed: (SCC p.659, para 17)

"17.....One of the conditions for exercising power under Article 226 for issuance of a mandamus is that the court must come to the conclusion that the aggrieved person has a legal right, which entitles him to any of the rights and that such right has been infringed. In other words, existence of a legal right of a citizen and performance of any corresponding legal duty by the State or any public authority, could be enforced by issuance of a writ of mandamus, "Mandamus" means a command. It differs form the writs of prohibition or certiorari in its demand for some activity on the part of the body or person to whom it is addressed. Mandamus is a command issued to direct any person, corporation, inferior courts or government, requiring him or them to do some particular thing therein specified which appertains to his or their office and is in the nature of a public duty. A mandamus is available against any public authority including administrative and local bodies, and it would lie to any person who is under a duty imposed by a statute or by the common law to do a particular act. In order to obtain a writ or order in the nature of mandamus, the applicant has to satisfy that he has a legal right to the performance of a legal duty by the party against whom the mandamus is sought and such right must be subsisting on the date of the petition (See Kalyan Singh v. State of U.P.). The duty that may be enjoined by mandamus may be one imposed by the Constitution, a statute, common law or by rules or orders having the force of law."

(emphasis in original)"

79. In the instant case, six round of litigation have taken place and the claim of the petitioners have been rejected on frivolous grounds, therefore, this Court instead of relegating the matter to the authorities issues a writ of mandamus directing the respondents to release the salary of the petitioners.

80. Before parting with the judgement, this Court may record that the conduct of the State Officers are malicious, unconscionable, arrogant and lack sense of humanity. The said observation is recorded in the light of facts detailed above that in five writ petitions prior to the present writ petition the issues raised herein were directly and expressly involved and have been settled by this Court, yet the authorities without adopting a lawful approach were hellbent to scuttle the orders passed by this Court.

81. The approach of the respondent Officers are abnoxious and conceited which is fortified from the fact that the Director of Education in its order dated 09.10.2021 have admitted that the objections which have been raised by the Department in the orders impugned, have already been rejected by this Court in various writ petitions and on the basis of the said order, the learned Additional Advocate General made a statement that the Director of Education revisited the matter and found that the claim of the petitioners for salary is genuine and sought time to seek sanction from the State Government for releasing the salary, which has been recorded by this Court in its order dated 09.11.2021 and got the matter adjourned, but despite the statement given by the learned Additional Advocate General seeking time to get sanction from the State Government to release salary of petitioners, the State Government took a somersault and refused to pay the salary of the petitioners. The matter has not ended here only, a false aspersion had been cast upon the Court by the Director of Education in letter dated 18.11.2021, wherein he has made a false statement that the Court has not considered the order dated 28.10.2021 in passing the orders dated 08.11.2021 and 09.11.2021 which fact was a false statement, and this Court passed an order on 24.11.2021 reprimanding the conduct of the Officer in casting aspersion upon the Court. This approach of the State Officers is highly condemanble and has resulted not only wasting precious time of the Court but has resulted in wasting the time of State machinery and putting the heavy financial burden upon State machinery in making unnecessary expenditure in the litigation.

82. In view of the fact stated above, moreso, when the authorities have not even spared this Court in casting aspersion upon it, this Court finds it to be fit case to impose a cost of Rs.5,00,000 (Rs. Five Lacs) upon the State which shall be released to all the petitioners equally within two months. The cost so paid shall be recovered from the erring Officials after enquiry.

83. For the reasons given above, the impugned orders dated 23.08.2018 passed by the Director of Education (Secondary), State of U.P., Lucknow and order dated 28.10.2021 passed during the pendency of the writ petition by the Regional Level Committee are hereby quashed. The respondents are directed to pay the salary and arrears of salary including all the consequential benefits to the petitioners within a period of two months from the date of production of a certified copy of this order.

84. Accordingly, the writ petition is allowed with costs quantified above.

(2022) 9 ILRA 647
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 06.09.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE MRS. MANJU RANI CHAUHAN, J.

Application U/S 482 No. 12670 of 2022

Sanjeet Rathi @ Bhuvnesh Rathi ...Applicant

Versus

State of U.P. & Anr. ...Opposite Parties

Counsel for the Applicant:
Sri Vijai Kumar Tiwari, Sri Amit Kumar Srivastava

Counsel for the Respondents:
Govt. Advocate

A. Criminal Law - Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 - Sections 482 & 216 - Indian Penal Code, 1860 - Sections 498A, 304B & ¾ D.P. Act,1961 - alteration of charge-FIR was lodged and after completion of investigation, charge sheet was submitted u/s 498A, 304B & ¾ D.P. Act-Further investigation was conducted in the matter and the supplementary charge sheet was submitted-prior to submission of supplementary charge sheet discharge application was moved which was rejected-However, after submitting the supplementary charge sheet, an application for alteration of charge was moved which was rejected by court below without application of mind-While it is necessary for the Magistrate, to have due regard to both the reports while passing the cognizance order.(Para 1 to 16)

The application is allowed. (E-6)

List of Cases cited:

Luckose Zachariah @ Zak Nedumchira Luke & ors. Vs Joseph Joseph & ors. (2022) LiveLaw SC 230

(Delivered by Hon'ble Mrs. Manju Rani Chauhan, J.)

1. In compliance of the order of this Court dated 02.09.2022, Mr. Amit Kumar Srivastava, Advocate, Advocate Roll No.A/A 067/2019, Common Room No.3, Mobile No. 9415653155 is present before this Court along with Mr. Vijai Kumar Tiwari, Advocate, Advocate Roll No.A/V 0108/2012, Chamber/Seat No.1, Mobile No. 9415291367.

2. Mr. Amit Kumar Srivastava, Advocate, Advocate Roll No.0A/A 0578/2012 to be read as Amit Kumar Srivastava-1 and Mr. Amit Kumar Srivastava, Advocate, Advocate Roll No.A/A 067/2019 to be read as Amit Kumar Srivastava-2.

3. As informed by Mr. Amit Kumar Srivastava, Advocate AoR No.0A/A 0578/2012, Mobile No.9415217295 that counsel bearing the same name has misguided his client, using his name and has filed his Vakalatnama in the present case. Explanation was sought from the aforesaid counsels and they informed that the district Court counsel had asked Mr. Vijai Kumar Tiwari, Advocate to engage Mr. Amit Kumar Srivastava-1 as counsel, therefore, he approached him, however, due to the high engagement fees as asked by him, he engaged Mr. Amit Kumar Srivastava-2. When the client approached Mr. Amit Kumar Srivastava-1 then he came to know about engagement of Mr. Amit Kumar Srivastava-2 by Mr. Vijai Kumar Tiwari, Advocate.

4. Mr. Vijai Kumar Tiwari, Advocate has shifted the burden of such mistake upon the district Court counsel as well as the client and both the counsels Mr. Vijai Kumar Tiwari and Mr. Amit Kumar Srivastava-2 tender unconditional apology for the harassment faced by Mr. Amit Kumar Srivastava-1 in such situation. They also submit that they will be cautious in future while accepting the brief from district Court counsels.

5. This Court has come across the situation frequently where counsels bearing the same name, as in the present case, are being cheated by the clients in district Court as well as the counsels bearing the same name is giving brief to some other counsel of similar name.

6. In such situation, conscious effort should be made by Bar Council to do the needful so that the counsel having similar names do not face the difficulty as has been in the present case. For example, numbers may be given to the counsels like Amit Kumar Srivastava-1, 2 and 3 e.t.c. so that the Court and everyone may come to know as to who the counsel is. Thus, Mr. Amit Kumar Srivastava, Advocate AoR No.0A/A0578/2012 will move an application before the Bar Council of Uttar Pradesh to do the needful in this respect.

7. The Chairman of Bar Council of Uttar Pradesh is directed to take appropriate measures to help the counsels bearing the similar names so that such situation, as in the present case, may not be created.

8. The Registrar General of High Court Allahabad is also directed to ensure the compliance of the aforesaid order.

9. Heard Mr. Amit Kumar Srivastava, Advocate AoR No.A/A 0578/2012, learned counsel for the applicant and Mr. Pankaj Srivastava, learned A.G.A. for the State.

10. The application u/s 482 Cr.P.C. has been filed by the applicant with prayer to quash the order dated 28.09.2021 passed by Additional District Judge-5th, Bareilly on the application under Section 216 Cr.P.C. for alter of charge in S.T. No. 118 of 2019, arising out of Case Crime No.569 of 2018, under Sections 498A, 304B I.P.C. & Section 3/4 D.P. Act, P.S. Fatehganj West, District-Bareilly. It has been further prayed to direct the Court below to alter the charge under Section 306 I.P.C. on the ground of supplementary case diary no.35 dated 25.08.2020.

11. Learned counsel for the applicant submits that earlier an F.I.R. was lodged under Sections 498A, 304B and Section 3/4 D.P. Act. After completion of investigation, charge sheet was submitted under Sections 498A, 304B and Section 3/4 D.P. Act on 25.01.2019. However, by order of the S.S.P. concerned, further investigation was conducted in the matter and the supplementary charge sheet was submitted, as is evident from order dated 07.02.2020, placed at page 48 of the application by means of which, supplementary charge sheet regarding the offence under Section 306 I.P.C. has been placed on record.

12. Learned counsel for the applicant further submits that prior to submission of supplementary charge sheet, discharge application was moved which was rejected. However, after coming of the supplementary charge sheet, an application for alteration of charge was moved which has been rejected by the order impugned in an illegal manner and without application of judicial mind. Learned counsel for the applicant further submits that in view of several judgements passed by Hon'ble Apex Court as well as High Court, while passing the order impugned, the Court concerned should have considered the charge sheet as well as supplementary charge sheet. In support of his submission he has relied upon the judgement of Hon'ble Apex Court passed in Luckose Zachariah @ Zak Nedumchira Luke and Others Vs. Joseph Joseph and Others reported in 2022 LiveLaw (SC) 230, where in, it has been held that it is necessary for the Magistrate, to have due regard to both the reports, the initial report which was submitted under Section 173(2) as well as the supplementary report which was submitted after further investigation, in terms of Section 173(8) while passing the cognizance order.

13. Learned A.G.A. could not dispute the correctness of the submissions made by the learned counsel for the applicant and he has no objection if the order dated 28.09.2021 is set aside.

14. This Court feels that Court concerned while passing the order dated 28.09.2021 has not applied its mind and has not considered the aforesaid supplementary charge sheet.

15. In view of the facts and circumstances of the case, the order dated 28.09.2021 passed by Additional District Judge-5th, Bareilly cannot be legally sustained and is set aside and the same is remitted back to him for decision afresh. While deciding the matter afresh, the concerned Court shall pass a reasoned and speaking order, after taking into consideration the charge sheet as well as supplementary charge sheet, in accordance with law, preferably within a period of one month from the date of production of a certified copy of this order.

16. With the aforesaid directions/ observations, this application stands allowed.

17. Office is directed to communicate this order to the Court concerned forthwith.

(2022) 9 ILRA 649
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 29.08.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE RAJESH BINDAL, C.J.
THE HON'BLE J.J. MUNIR, J.

Special Appeal Defective No. 362 of 2022

State of U.P. & Ors. ...Appellants
Versus
Nitin Agnihotri & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellants:
Sri Ramanand Pandey (Addl. C.S.C.)

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri Arvind Srivastava

A. Service Law – Payment of Salary – Concealment of material facts – U.P. Secondary Education Services Selection Board Act, 1982: Section 21; Uttar Pradesh Recruitment of Dependents of Government Servants Dying in Harness Rules, 1974 - A litigant who conceals material facts from the Court, has to be dealt with, has been gone through by Hon'ble the Supreme Court time and again and the consistent opinion is that he is not entitled even to be heard on merits. (Para 6)

Appellants suppressed the material fact that the order dated 15.02.2021 passed by the management recommending termination of the petitioner's services has been stayed by this Court. As there is material concealment of facts in the present appeal, the same deserves to be dismissed. (Para 4 to 6)

B. A writ petition filed on a subsequent cause of action cannot be dubbed as a second petition. It is also noteworthy that Writ - A No. 12492 of 2021 is by no means a second petition filed by respondent No. 1, which the appellants say into criticism of the impugned judgment passed by the learned Single Judge. Writ - A No. 12492 of 2021 has been filed against a supervening order dated 15.02.2021, which was not in existence until time when the writ petition giving rise to the present appeal, challenging the order dated 31.12.2020 was filed. (Para 8)

Till date, no order determining the employment of respondent No. 1 has been passed by the respondents i.e., enforceable under the law. The respondents, therefore, cannot stop payment of the petitioner's salary and orally ask him not to work or permit him to work but not pay his salary. The impugned order is, therefore, flawless and must be upheld. (Para 9)

Since the appellants have suppressed material facts from this Court, they must be saddled with adequate costs, which we quantify as Rs. 50,000/-. (Para 10)

Special appeal dismissed. (E-4)

Precedent followed:

1. Virendra Kumar Vs U.O.I. & ors., 2022 (2) ADJ 1 (Para 7)

Present special appeal assails judgment and order dated 05.05.2022, passed by learned Single Judge.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rajesh Bindal, C.J.
&
Hon'ble J.J. Munir, J.)

1. The order dated May 5, 2022 passed by the learned Single Judge has been impugned by filing the present intra-court appeal.

2. Challenge before the learned Single Judge was to the communication dated December 21, 2022 from the Management of Shri Mardan Singh Inter College, Tal Behat, Lalitpur, vide which in view of letter dated November 5, 2020 from the District Inspector of Schools, payment of salary to respondent No. 1 was directed to be stopped with effect from November, 2020. Learned Single Judge allowed the writ petition, quashed the order dated December 31, 2020 passed by the Committee of Management and directed for payment of salary along with interest thereon to respondent No. 1.

3. The stand taken by the learned counsel for the appellants is that the appointment of Respondent No. 1 on compassionate basis was wrong as he had concealed material facts. However, it is not in dispute that no final decision has yet been taken about the appointment of respondent No. 1 as to whether the same is legal or illegal. The proceedings therefor are in process. The effect of passing of order stopping payment of salary to respondent No. 1 is either that he shall not be allowed to work and that too without passing any order or that he shall not be paid salary despite working in the college. Under both the eventualities, the order passed cannot be sustained as there is no direction that respondent No. 1 will not be allowed to work in the college and stoppage of payment of salary is not by way of punishment.

4. What makes matters worse for the appellants is that in the counter affidavit filed before the learned Single Judge, an order dated February 15, 2021 passed by the Manager/Secretary, Shri Mardan Singh Inter College was brought on record as Annexure No. 9 to show that the management had taken a decision to terminate the petitioner's services with information thereof to the Board in terms of Section 21 of the U.P. Secondary Education Services Selection Board Act, 1982 (for short "the Act of 1982") but the appellants have not disclosed in the counter affidavit the fact that the order passed by the management on February 15, 2021 resolving to terminate the services of respondent no. 1 is already under challenge before this Court in Writ - A No. 12492 of 2021, tiled as "Nitin Agnihotri v. State of U.P. and others' wherein this Court has issued notice and stayed the operation of the order dated February 15, 2021 passed by the College management. This fact has also not been disclosed in the affidavit filed in this appeal. In the affidavit filed in support of this appeal, there is an averment to be found in Paragraph No. 14 to the effect that the learned Single Judge, while allowing the writ petition, did not consider the fact that respondent no. 1 has filed a second writ petition, being Writ - A No. 12492 of 2021 against the order dated February 15, 2021 passed by the Committee of Management, where the appellants have filed a counter affidavit, and that petition is pending. It has also been averred in the paragraph under reference that the Appointing Authority has already recommended dismissal of the petitioner on account of illegal appointment under the Uttar Pradesh Recruitment of Dependents of Government Servants Dying in Harness Rules, 1974. In this affidavit also, it has not been stated that the operation of the order dated February 15, 2021 has been stayed by this Court. The averment in Paragraph No. 14 of the affidavit filed in support of the appeal hides more than it says. It suppresses the material fact that the order dated February 15, 2021 passed by the management recommending termination of the petitioner's services has been stayed by this Court.

5. At the hearing of this appeal, the interim stay order dated September 21, 2021 passed by this Court in Writ - A No. 12492 of 2021 was produced by learned Counsel for respondent No. 1. When the learned Standing Counsel appearing for the State was confronted by the said order, he could not deny the fact that the said order had been passed in the writ petition under reference, staying the operation of the order dated February 15, 2021. It is not expected of the State or their Authorities that such a vital fact would be suppressed.

6. As there is material concealment of facts in the present appeal, the same deserves to be dismissed. As to how a litigant who conceals material facts from the Court, has to be dealt with, has been gone through by Hon'ble the Supreme Court time and again and the consistent opinion is that he is not entitled even to be heard on merits.

7. This Court has considered this issue in Virendra Kumar v. Union of India and others, 2022 (2) ADJ 1 and after going through various judgments of Hon'ble Supreme Court, had dismissed the petition on the ground of concealment of material facts by the petitioner.

8. It is also noteworthy that Writ - A No. 12492 of 2021 is by no means a second petition filed by respondent No. 1, which the appellants say into criticism of the impugned judgment passed by the learned Single Judge. Writ - A No. 12492 of 2021 has been filed against a supervening order dated February 15, 2021, which was not in existence until time when the writ petition giving rise to the present appeal, challenging the order dated December 31, 2020, was filed. A writ petition filed on a subsequent cause of action cannot be dubbed as a second petition.

9. To sum up, in substance, till date, no order determining the employment of respondent No. 1 has been passed by the respondents that is enforceable under the law. The respondents, therefore, cannot stop payment of the petitioner's salary and orally ask him not to work or permit him to work but not pay his salary. The impugned order is, therefore, flawless and must be upheld.

10. Since the appellants have suppressed material facts from this Court, which are already indicated hereinabove, they must be saddled with adequate costs, which we quantify as ₹50,000/-.

11. As a result, the appeal fails and stands dismissed. The costs of ₹50,000/- shall be deposited by the appellants with the Allahabad High Court Mediation and Conciliation Center within one month from the date of receipt of copy of the order and receipt thereof shall be produced before the Registrar General, which shall be retained on record.

(2022) 9 ILRA 652
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 01.07.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE RAJIV JOSHI, J.

Writ A No. 427 of 2022

Noorul Huda ...Appellant
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri Yakub Ali, Ms. Chhaya Gupta, Ms. Sarita Mishra

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C., Sri Durga Singh, Sri Sanjay Chaturvedi

A. Service Law – Repatriation – Opportunity of hearing - A deputationist indisputably has no right to be absorbed in the post to which he is deputed. However, there is no bar thereto as well. It may be true that when deputation does not result in absorption in the service to which an officer is deputed, no recruitment in its true import and significance takes place as he is continued to be a member of the parent service. When the tenure of deputation is specified, despite a deputationist not having an indefeasible right to hold the said post, ordinarily the term of deputation should not be curtailed except on such just grounds as, for example, unsuitability or unsatisfactory performance. But, even where the tenure is not specified, an order of reversion can be questioned when the same is mala fide. An action taken in a post-haste manner also indicates malice. (Para 15)

Record reflects that the petitioner was appointed as District Co-ordinator (Community Mobilization) in the office of District Basic Education Officer, Ballia and joined the said post on deputation on 20.11.2019. The impugned order has been passed by respondent-2 repatriating him to parent department i.e. on the post of Assistant Teacher (Urdu) in Government Inter College, Ballia. Ordinarily a deputationist has no right to continue on the said post but the impugned action of the respondents by passing the impugned order casts stigma to him as the same was passed on the basis of some complaint lodged by the political worker and without affording any opportunity of hearing to the petitioner, even the copy of the complaint has not been served to the petitioner and the same order cannot be said to be a simplicitor order but punitive in nature. (Para 11, 12)

It is apparent that the petitioner has not been afforded any opportunity of hearing before passing the impugned order, which is totally mala fide. (Para 14, 16)

The impugned order dated 27.11.2021 passed by the respondent No. 2-State Project Director, Sarva Shiksha Abhiyan, State Project Office, Vidya Bhawan, Nishatganj, Lucknow, is quashed. The respondents are directed to pass fresh order in accordance with law after giving adequate opportunity of hearing to the petitioner and after serving a copy of the complaint lodged by the political worker. (Para 17)

Writ petition allowed. (E-4)

Precedent followed:

1. U.O.I. Through Govt. of Pondicherry & anr. Vs V. Ramakrishnan & ors., AIR 2005 SC 4295; (2005) 8 SCC 394

Present petition assails order dated 27.11.2021, passed by State Project Director, Sarva Shiksha Abhiyan, State Project Office, Vidya Bhawan, Nishatganj, Lucknow.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rajiv Joshi, J.)

1. Heard Ms. Chhaya Gupta, learned counsel for the petitioner, learned Standing Counsel for the respondents-1, 3 & 4 and Sri Durga Singh, learned counsel for the respondent-2.

2. Present writ petition under Article 226 of the Constitution has been filed for quashing the impugned order dated 27.11.2021 passed by the respondent no.2-State Project Director, Sarva Shiksha Abhiyan, State Project Office, Vidya Bhawan, Nishatganj, Lucknow, whereby the petitioner was repatriated to his parental department i.e. Secondary Education, U.P. with immediate effect.

3. The facts giving rise to the present writ petition are as under:

4. The petitioner was initially appointed on the post of Assistant Teacher (Urdu) in Government Inter College, Ballia after due selection and subsequently, on the basis of advertisement issued by respondent-2, he was appointed on the post of District Co-ordinator (Community Mobilization) vide order dated 02.11.2018 on deputation in the office of District Basic Education Officer, Ballia. In the appointment letter, it is mentioned that the said appointment was on deputation for a minimum period of three years and maximum five years.

5. Subsequently, pursuant to the said appointment on deputation, the petitioner joined as a District Co-ordinator (Community Mobilization) at Ballia on 20.11.2019 in the office of District Basic Education Officer, Ballia. Subsequently, on the basis of complaint lodged by one Sri Rajesh Kumar (unionist and B.J.P. worker, Sohaon Ballia) as well as on the basis of recommendation dated 17.11.2021 and 18.11.2021 of respondent no.4-Assistant Director of Education (Basic) Azamgarh Division, Azamgarh, the impugned order dated 27.11.2021 has been passed, whereby the petitioner repatriated to his parental department i.e. Secondary Education, U.P., which is impugned in the writ petition.

6. Learned counsel for the petitioner submits that the impugned order has been passed on the basis of some complaint lodged by the political worker as well as on the basis of recommendation made by the respondent-4, which is not only punitive in nature but stigmatic and even the impugned order has been passed without affording any opportunity of hearing to the petitioner and without serving any copy of the complaint lodged by the political worker against the petitioner and the same cannot be sustained in the eyes of law.

7. In support of her contention, learned counsel for the petitioner placed reliance upon the judgement of the Apex Court passed in Union of India Through Govt. of Pondicherry and Another Vs. V. Ramakrishnan and Others, (2005) 0 Supreme (SC) 1350.

8. Learned counsel for the petitioner further submits that no inquiry with regard to allegation made in the complaint lodged by the political worker has been conducted.

9. Per contra, learned counsel for the respondent-2 submits that the petitioner does not hold any lien on the post of District Co-ordinator (Community Mobilization), who was working on deputation on the said post and has rightly been repatriated to his original department on the post of Assistant Teacher (Urdu) in Government Inter College, Ballia. He further submits that due to confrontation between teachers association and the petitioner, for smooth functioning of the department work, the impugned order has been passed. There is no illegality or infirmity in the order impugned.

10. I have considered the rival submission so raised by counsel for the parties and perused the record.

11. Record reflects that the petitioner was appointed as District Co-ordinator (Community Mobilization) in the office of District Basic Education Officer, Ballia and joined the said post on deputation on 20.11.2019. The impugned order has been passed by respondent-2 repatriating him to parent department i.e. on the post of Assistant Teacher (Urdu) in Government Inter College, Ballia.

12. Ordinarily a deputationist has no right to continue on the said post but the impugned action of the respondents by passing the impugned order casts stigma to him as the same was passed on the basis of some complaint lodged by the political worker and without affording any opportunity of hearing to the petitioner, even the copy of the complaint has not been served to the petitioner and the same order cannot be said to be a simplicitor order but punitive in nature. Specific averment in this regard has been made by the petitioner in paragraph 28 of the writ petition, which is quoted as under:

"That the reversion of the petitioner is completely arbitrary and in violation of the principles of natural justice insofar as no notice or opportunity of hearing had been given to the petitioner whereas the alleged complaint on the basis of which the impugned order has been passed is a unilateral complaint which had not been enquired into till date."

13. The said paragraph was replied in paragraph 19 of the counter affidavit, in which averment with regard to affording any opportunity of hearing and serving any copy of the complaint to the petitioner has not specifically denied. The said paragraph is quoted as under:

"That the contents of paragraph Nos. 26, 27, 28, 29 and 30 of the writ petition are not admitted as stated, hence are denied.

In reply thereto it is submitted that the action has been taken against the petitioner. It is further submitted that due to confrontation between teachers association and the petitioner for smooth functioning of departmental works, the petitioner has been repatriated to his parent department of Madhyamik Shiksha, U.P. in accordance with law. It is further submitted that normally tenure of deputation is 03 years, however, under special facts and circumstances as well as keeping in view of work interest the tenure of deputation of an employee can be curtailed and the power of the repatriation of an employee on deputation before the prescribed tenure is vested in the answering respondent no.2."

14. From the said paragraphs, it is apparent that the petitioner has not been afforded any opportunity of hearing before passing the impugned order, which is totally malafide.

15. Paragraph 32 of the said judgement relied upon by counsel for the petitioner in Union of India Through Govt. of Pondicherry and Another (supra), is quoted as under:

"Ordinarily, a deputationist has no legal right to continue in the post. A deputationist indisputably has no right to be absorbed in the post to which he is deputed. However, there is no bar thereto as well. It may be true that when deputation does not result in absorption in the service to which an officer is deputed, no recruitment in its true import and significance takes place as he is continued to be a member of the parent service. When the tenure of deputation is specified, despite a deputationist not having an indefeasible right to hold the said post, ordinarily the term of deputation should not be curtailed except on such just grounds as, for example, unsuitability or unsatisfactory performance. But, even where the tenure is not specified, an order of reversion can be questioned when the same is mala fide. An action taken in a post haste manner also indicates malice."

16. In view of the above, it is clear that the impugned order has been passed against the petitioner without affording any opportunity of hearing and cannot be sustained being stigmatic and is malafide.

17. Accordingly, the impugned order dated 27.11.2021 passed by the respondent no.2-State Project Director, Sarva Shiksha Abhiyan, State Project Office, Vidya Bhawan, Nishatganj, Lucknow, is quashed. The respondents are directed to pass fresh order in accordance with law after giving adequate opportunity of hearing to the petitioner and after serving a copy of the complaint lodged by the political worker.

18. Till such order is passed, the petitioner would be permitted to work on the post of District Co-ordinator (Community Mobilization) in the office of District Basic Education Officer, Ballia and shall be paid arrears of salary, if any, and to pay salary month to month basis regularly.

19. The writ petition is, accordingly, allowed.

(2022) 9 ILRA 655
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 16.08.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE ASHUTOSH SRIVASTAVA, J.

Writ-A No. 11943 of 2022

C/M Harijan Primary Pathshala, Madhopur, Kasia, Tehsil Kasia, Dist. Kushinagar & Anr. ...Petitioners

Versus

State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioners:
Sri Adarsh Bhushan, Sri Awadh Narain Rai

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C.

A. Education Law – Grant-in-aid – Payment of salary of teachers – Constitution of India: Article 14 - State Government is adopting a pick and choose policy in taking the institutions under grant-in-aid and the action is clearly violative of Article 14 of the Constitution of India. Petitioners have invited attention of the Court to orders dated 21.11.2019 and 16.10.2020 by which the State Government has taken institution in grant-in-aid which are similarly circumstanced and governed by Social Welfare Department. (Para 4)

Rejection of the claim of the petitioners in the facts and circumstances is totally unwarranted. The case of the petitioners is not to be treated as a new case. The State Government has vide order dated 18.5.2017 already taken a decision to take the petitioners' Institution under grant-in-aid. The said order is very much in existence and has not been rescinded. Admittedly, vide orders dated 21.11.2019 and 16.10.2020, the State Government has taken institutions in grant-in-aid which are similarly circumstanced as the petitioners' institution and governed by the Social Welfare Department. There is no reason for the State Government to discriminate against the petitioners and refuse the financial approval having granted the administrative approval as far back as on 18.5.2017. (Para 3 to 6)

Writ petition allowed. (E-4)

Precedent followed:

1. St. of U.P. & ors. Vs Pawan Kumar Dwivedi & ors., 2014 (9) SCC 692 (Para 2)

2. Paripurna Nand Tripathi & anr. Vs St. of U.P. & ors., Special Appeal Defective No. 994 of 2014 (Para 2)

Present petition assails order dated 17.12.2020, passed by Principal Secretary, Social Welfare Department, Government of U.P.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Ashutosh Srivastava, J.)

1. The writ petition has been filed questioning the order dated 17.12.2020 (Annexure-26) to the writ petition passed by the Principal Secretary, Social Welfare Department, Government of U.P., whereby refusing to accord financial approval for the petitioners' school to be included in the recurrent grant-in-aid list in the absence of any policy/arrangement existing for taking new schools run by the private management in the recurrent grant list. However, the petitioners have been given liberty to apply as per prescribed procedure under scheme floated by the Ministry of Social Justice and Empowerment, Government of India under which grants are being made to residential/non-residential schools through voluntary organizations.

2. Shri Adarsh Bhushan, leaned counsel for the petitioner contends that the petitioner Committee of Management is running an Institution providing primary education from 1st to 5th classes. The permanent recognition to the petitioners' Institution was granted on 5.2.1990. The Institution is governed by Department of Social Welfare, Government of U.P. The Social Welfare Department has issued a Government Order dated 31.3.1994 regarding grant and release of grant-in-aid to basic institutions governed by the Social Welfare Department. The petitioner had earlier approached this Court by means of Writ Petition (C) No. 50838 of 2010. The said writ petition was disposed of by directing the authority concerned to take an appropriate decision regarding bringing the petitioners' Institution under the grant-in-aid. The claim came to be rejected by the State Government vide order dated 22.2.2011 on the ground that the scheme of the State itself had been discontinued w.e.f. 5.10.2006. The rejection order dated 22.12.2011 was challenged by means of Writ Petition (C) No. 31825 of 2015. This Court vide order dated 3.10.2016 allowed the writ petition, set aside the order rejecting the claim dated 22.12.2011 and directed the State Government to examine the petitioners' claim for being taken on the list of aid keeping in view the observations made by the Apex Court in State of U.P. and others versus Pawan Kumar Dwivedi and others reported in 2014 (9) SCC 692 as well as the Division Bench decision of this Court in Paripurna Nand Tripathi and another versus State of U.P. and 20 others, Special Appeal Defective No. 994 of 2014.

3. The State Government in compliance of the order of this Court dated 3.10.2016 passed an order dated 18.5.2017 taking the petitioners' Institution in grant-in-aid. However, in spite of the order dated 18.5.2017 passed in favour of the petitioners the grants were not released in favour of the petitioners in spite of the fact that the petitioners complied with all the formalities required from it. The petitioners were compelled to approach this Court yet again by means of Writ Petition (A) No. 14997 of 2019 which too was disposed of vide order dated 21.10.2019 requiring the authority concerned to pass final order for payment of salary of teachers taking into consideration the letters dated 3.5.2019 and 10.5.2019. It was further directed that in case there is any legal impediment, the authority concerned shall pass a reasoned order.

4. Learned counsel for the petitioner submits that against the order dated 3.10.2016 passed in Writ-C No. 31825 of 2015, the State Government had filed SLP (Civil) Diary No. 1252 of 2021 before the Apex Court, which was dismissed vide order dated 27.8.2021 and as such, the order dated 3.10.2016 setting aside the rejection of the claim of the petitioners to be brought under the grant-in-aid having been upheld, it was incumbent upon the State Government to accord financial approval. Learned counsel for the petitioners further contends that the State Government is adopting a pick and choose policy in taking the institutions under grant-in-aid and the action is clearly violative of Article 14 of the Constitution of India. The learned counsel has invited attention of the Court to orders dated 21.11.2019 and 16.10.2020 filed as Annexures 30 & 31 to the writ petition by which the State Government has taken institution in grant-in-aid which are similarly circumstanced and governed by Social Welfare Department.

5. Learned Standing Counsel appearing for the State-respondents has tried to justify the impugned order by submitting that in the absence of any existing policy of the State Government to take new schools run by private management and include them in the recurrent grant list, the impugned order is perfectly justified. However, he is unable to refute the argument that similarly circumstanced institutions have been taken under the grant-in-aid as is evident from the orders dated 21.11.2019 and 16.10.2020 which are on record.

6. Having considered the submissions of the learned counsel for the parties and having perused the materials on record, the Court finds that the rejection of the claim of the petitioners in the facts and circumstances is totally unwarranted. The case of the petitioners is not to be treated as a new case. The State Government has vide order dated 18.5.2017 (Annexure-15 to the writ petition) already taken a decision to take the petitioners' Institution under grant-in-aid. The said order is very much in existence and has not been rescinded. Admittedly, vide orders dated 21.11.2019 and 16.10.2020 (Annexures 30 & 31), the State Government has taken institutions in grant-in-aid which are similarly circumstanced as the petitioners' institution and governed by the Social Welfare Department. There is no reason for the State Government to discriminate against the petitioners and refuse the financial approval having granted the administrative approval as far back as on 18.5.2017.

7. In view of the above, the writ petition succeeds and is allowed. The order dated 17.12.2020 passed by the State Government (Annexure 26 to the writ petition) is set aside. A writ of mandamus is issued to the respondents to accord financial approval and release the grant for payment of salary to the teaching and non teaching staff of the petitioners' institution by passing appropriate orders in this regard within a period of 45 days from service of certified copy of the orders.

(2022) 9 ILRA 658
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 11.08.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE MRS. MANJU RANI CHAUHAN, J.

Application U/S 482 No. 24962 of 2021

Shivam Solanki ...Applicant
Versus
The State of U.P. & Anr. ...Opposite Parties

Counsel for the Applicant:
Sri Chandrachud Pandey, Sri Sunil Gupta, Sri Anil Kumar Srivastava, Sr. Adv.

Counsel for the Respondents:
Govt. Advocate, Sri Ishir Sripat

A. Criminal Law - Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973-Section 482 - Indian Penal Code, 1860-Sections 323, 504, 506, 427, 386, 376, & 511-Challenge to-charge sheet and summoning order- Non-Compliance of section 155(2) Cr.P.C.-No consistency in the version of informant starting from lodging of the NCR till the submission of chargesheet-Only in the statement u/s 164 Cr.P.C., victim, for the first time, raised her grievance regarding allegation of attempt of being sexually assaulted-The police officer investigated the matter without following the procedure as mandated u/s 155(2) of Cr.P.C.-Moreso, the testimony of the victim was not of sterling quality to believe allegations made against applicant-Though the NCR was lodged but the entire proceedings were initiated without taking prior permission of the concerned Magistrate u/s 155(2) Cr.P.C., the whole investigation against the applicant is illegal-It is settled proposition that if the initial action is not in consonance with law, all subsequent and consequential proceedings would be vitiated-Thus, the entire proceedings is liable to be quashed.(Para 1 to 26)

B. When a non-cognizable offence is reported to the police, they are not empowered to investigate the matter and register an FIR, without compliance of Section 155(2) of Cr.P.C. without obtaining prior permission of the Magistrate concerned. It is only after referring the complaint to the concerned Magistrate and taking permission, thereafter, they can investigate the matter. The statutory safeguards must be strictly followed, since they are conceived in public interest and as a guarantee against frivolous and vexatious investigation.(Para 9 to 14)

The application is allowed. (E-6)

List of Cases cited:

1. St. of M.P. Vs Mahendra @ Golu (2021) 0 Supreme SC 626

2. St. of Har. & ors. Vs Ch. Bhajan Lal & ors. (1992) Suppl. 1 SCC 335

3. Gangadhar Narayan Nayak @ Gangadhar Hiregutti Vs St. of Karn. & ors. (2022) 0 Supreme SC 232

4. Tilak Nagar Indus. Ltd & ors. Vs St. of A.P. & anr.. (2011) 15 SCC 571

5. Lokesh T.R. Vs St. of Karn. (2022) SCC Online Kar 973

6. St. of Punj. Vs Davinder Pal Singh Bhullar & ors. (2011) 14 SCC 770.

7. Mangal Prasad Tamoli Vs Narvadeshwar Mishra (2005) 3 SCC 422

8. Raju Vs St. of M.P. (2008) 15 SCC 133

9. Rai Sandeep @ Deepu Vs St. (NCT of Delhi) (2012) 8 SCC 21

(Delivered by Hon'ble Mrs. Manju Rani Chauhan, J.)

1. Heard Mr. Chandrachud Pandey, Advocate holding brief of Mr. Anil Kumar Srivastava, learned counsel for the applicant, Mr. Ishir Sripat, learned counsel for the opposite party no.2 and Mr. Amit Singh Chauhan, learned counsel appearing for the State as well as perused the entire material available on record.

2. The present 482 Cr.P.C. application has been filed to quash the charge sheet No.57 dated 20.02.2021 and cognizance/summoning order dated 31.03.2021 as well as the entire prosecution of Criminal Case No.13805 of 2021 (State vs. Shivam Solanki), arising out of Case Crime No.504 of 2020, under Sections 323, 504, 506, 427, 386, 376 and 511 IPC, Police Station-Hariparvat, District-Agra, pending before the court of Chief Judicial Magistrate, Agra.

3. Brief facts of the case are that for the incident dated 26.12.2020 at about 08:00 hrs, NCR was lodged on 27.12.2020 under Sections 323, 504 and 506 IPC alleging therein that daughter of opposite party no.2, namely, Riddhi was called by the applicant at the gate of Ram Nagar Colony, using unparliamentary language, when Riddhi objected the same, the applicant assaulted her. On alarm being raised by opposite party no.2, persons of the locality reached there, where upon the applicant ran away giving threat to kill. On the NCR, so lodged, the Investigating Officer investigated the matter, collecting evidence by means of recording statements, medical and taking note of broken mobile i-phone and converted, the aforesaid NCR into FIR as is evident from Parcha No.52 dated 31.12.2020. Thus, an FIR was registered as Case Crime No.504 of 2020, under Sections 323, 504, 506, 354, 427 of IPC against the applicant. After registration of the FIR dated 31.12.2020, the Investigating Officer has prepared the fard of broken mobile, which belongs to injured. For the first time, on 01.01.2021, the statements of the complainant and victim Riddhi under Section 161 Cr.P.C. was recorded by the Investigating Officer, the statement of the victim under Section 164 Cr.P.C. was recorded on 06.01.2021. During investigation, the Investigating Officer has found that no offence under Section 354 IPC was made out against the applicant and, therefore, he has deleted the aforesaid section and added sections 354B and 386 IPC on the basis of statement of the victim under Section 164 Cr.P.C. as is evident from C.D. No.48 dated 06.01.2021. Thereafter, the second statement of the complainant, namely, Vishal Wadhwa and injured, namely, Riddhi Wadhawa under Section 161 Cr.P.C. were recorded on 03.02.2021. Subsequently, the charge sheet was submitted on 20.02.2021 against the applicant under Sections 323, 504, 506, 427, 386, 376, 511 IPC, pursuant to which, the applicant has been summoned vide order dated 31.03.2021 in the aforesaid sections.

4. Learned counsel for the applicant, before addressing the Court on merit, has raised a legal submission that Section 155(2) of the Cr.P.C. mandates that no investigation can be conducted against the accused in an offence that is non-cognizable without the express permission of the learned Magistrate, therefore, as the procedure provided under Section 155(2) Cr.P.C. has not been followed in the present case prior to lodging of the FIR, which is mandatory requirement, hence, all consequential proceedings pursuant to the initiation of an illegal action would not be justified in the eyes of law.

5. So far as the merit of the case is concerned, learned counsel for the applicant submits that the applicant has been falsely implicated in the present case. Initially, when the NCR was lodged, there were only allegations of using unparliamentary language and beating the victim and threatening to kill her, whereas without obtaining permission from the Magistrate concerned as is mandatory in under Section 155(2) Cr.P.C., the police has conducted the investigation and lodged the FIR. He further submits that there are no allegation of sexually assaulting the victim in the version of FIR nor any of the statements under Section 161 Cr.P.C. It is for the first time in the statement of the victim under Section 164 Cr.P.C. that the allegation of rape has been alleged by the victim, which appears to be afterthought as the applicant and victim were students, who happened to be friends.

6. Learned counsel further submits that though the incident as alleged is of 26.12.2020 at about 08:00 hrs, the statement of the victim under Section 164 Cr.P.C. was recorded on 06.01.2021, i.e. nearly after one month of the incident, which appears to be tutored one as the allegation with respect to rape were not in any statements, which were recorded earlier. He further submits that prior to submission of charge sheet, from the statement of the victim initially recorded on 01.01.2021 till second statement, the story has been changed every time, therefore, the entire case appears to be a false one. In such circumstances, continuance of proceedings would be abuse of process of law. Therefore, the chargesheet, summoning order as well as the entire proceedings may liable to be quashed.

7. On the other hand, learned AGA as well as learned counsel for the opposite party no.2 could not dispute the facts with respect to mandatory requirement of taking permission from the Magistrate concerned prior to initiating investigation as required under Section 155(2) Cr.P.C. So far as the merit of the case, learned AGA as well as learned counsel for the opposite party no.2 submits that in every crime, there is first, Mens Rea, i.e. intention to commit, secondly, preparation to commit it, and thirdly, attempt to commit it and if third stage, i.e. attempt is successful, then crime is complete. From the statements as well as evidence collected by the Investigating Officer, offence of attempt to commit rape has been clearly alleged, therefore, the charge sheet has been rightly submitted under Sections 376 and 511 IPC including other sections also, because preparation to commit any offence and completion of the preparation would amount to actual commission of the crime. In support of their submission, they are relied upon the judgment of the Apex Court in the case of State of Madhya Pradesh vs. Mahendra alias Golu reported in 2021 0 Supreme(SC) 626, wherein the Apex Court has held as under:-

"11. It is a settled preposition of Criminal Jurisprudence that in every crime, there is first, Mens Rea (intention to commit), secondly, preparation to commit it, and thirdly, attempt to commit it. If the third stage, that is, "attempt' is successful, then the crime is complete. If the attempt fails, the crime is not complete, but law still punishes the person for attempting the said act. "Attempt' is punishable because even an unsuccessful commission of offence is preceded by mens rea, moral guilt, and its depraving impact on the societal values is no less than the actual commission."

8. On the cumulative strength of the aforesaid submissions, learned AGA as well as learned counsel for the opposite party no.2 submits that admittedly, though the offence under Sections 323, 504, 506 IPC wherein the NCR was lodged, is non-cognizable offence, therefore, the investigation without prior permission of the Magistrate, are liable to be quashed. However, seeing the case on merits, prima facie offence under the relevant sections is made out against the applicant.

9. I have considered the submissions made by the learned counsel for the parties and gone through the records of the present application.

10. Before touching the merit of the case, it would be appropriate to deal with legal objection as raised by learned counsel for the applicant regarding permission of Magistrate before proceedings with the investigation for lodging of the FIR in the offences, which are non-cognizable.

11. It is relevant at this juncture to go through provisions of Section 155 of Criminal Procedure Code which are reproduced below:-

"Section 155 Cr.P.C.- Information as to non-cognizable cases and investigation of such cases:-

(1) When information is given to an officer in charge of a police station of the commission within the limits of such station of a non-cognizable offence, he shall enter or cause to be entered the substance of the information in a book to be kept by such officer in such form as the State Government may prescribe in this behalf, and refer the informant to the Magistrate.

(2) No police officer shall investigate a non-cognizable case without the order of a Magistrate having power to try such case or commit the case for trial.

(3) Any police officer receiving such order may exercise the same powers in respect of the investigation (except the power to arrest without warrant) as an officer in charge of a police station may exercise in a cognizable case.

(4) Where a case relates to two or more offences of which at least one is cognizable, the case shall be deemed to be a cognizable case, notwithstanding that the other offences are non-cognizable."

11. It is abundantly clear from above provisions of Section 155(2) and 155(3) Cr.P.C. that police is competent to investigate non cognizable offence with order of Magistrate and in such investigation the police officer receiving order of investigation may exercise same powers in respect of the investigation (except the power to arrest without warrant) as an officer in charge of a police station may exercise in a cognizable case. Thus is clear that charge sheet submitted by police in non-cognizable offence after investigation made in pursuance of Magistrate order stands at par with charge sheet submitted by police in cognizable offence. Where the first information report and the accompanying materials do not disclose the commission of any cognizable offence justifying an investigation by the police officer under section 156(1) of the Code, no investigation of the case can be carried on without the order of the Magistrate in view of the mandate of Section 155(2) of the Code, as has been held by the Apex Court in the case of State of Haryana and Ors. vs. Ch. Bhajan Lal and Ors. reported in 1992 Suppl.(1) SCC 335. The relevant para no.108 of the aforesaid judgment reads as under:-

"108. In the backdrop of the interpretation of the various relevant provisions of the Code under Chapter XIV and of the principles of law enunciated by this Court in a series of decisions relating to the exercise of the extraordinary power under Article 226 or the inherent powers under Section 482 of the Code which we have extracted and reproduced above, we give the following categories of cases by way of illustration wherein such power could be exercised either to prevent abuse of the process of any Court or otherwise to secure the ends of justice, though it may not be possible to lay down any precise, clearly defined and sufficiently channelised and inflexible guidelines or rigid formulae and to give an exhaustive list of myriad kinds of cases wherein such power should be exercised.

1. Where the allegations made in the First Information Report or the complaint, even if they are taken at their face value and accepted in their entirety do not prima facie constitute any offence or make out a case against the accused.

2. Where the allegations in the First Information Report and other materials, if any, accompanying the F. I. R. do not disclose a cognizable offence, justifying an investigation by police officers under Section 156 (1) of the Code except under an order of a Magistrate within the purview of Section 155(2) of the Code.

3. Where the uncontroverted allegations made in the FIR or complaint and the evidence collected in support of the same do not disclose the commission of any offence and make out a case against the accused.

4. Where, the allegations in the F.I.R. do not constitute a cognizable offence but constitute only a non-cognizable offence, no investigation is permitted by a police officer without an order of a Magistrate as contemplated under Section 155(2) of the Code.

5. Where the allegations made in the F.I.R. or complaint are so absurd and inherently improbable on the basis of which no prudent person can ever reach a just conclusion that there is sufficient ground for proceeding against the accused.

6. Where there is an express legal bar engrafted in any of the provisions of the Code or the concerned Act (under which a criminal proceeding is instituted) to the institution and continuance of the proceedings and/ or where there is a specific provision in the Code or the oncerned Act, providing efficacious redress for the grievance of the aggrieved party.

7. Where a criminal proceeding is manifestly attended with mala fide and/ or where the proceeding is maliciously instituted with an ulterior motive for wreaking vengeance on the accused and with a view to spite him due to private and personal grudge."

12. When a non-cognizable offence is reported to the police, they are not empowered to investigate the matter and register an FIR, without compliance of Section 155(2) of Cr.P.C. without obtaining prior permission of the Magistrate concerned. It is only after referring the complaint to the concerned Magistrate and taking permission, thereafter, they can investigate the matter, as has been held by the Apex Court in the case of Gangadhar Narayan Nayak @ Gangadhar Hiregutti vs. State of Karnataka and Others reported in 2022 0 Supreme(SC) 232.

13. The Apex Court in the case of Tilak Nagar Industries Limited and Others vs. State of Andhra Pradesh and another reported in (2011) 15 SCC 571, has held that the statutory safeguards given under Section 155(2) of the Code must be strictly followed, since they are conceived in public interest and as a guarantee against frivolous and vexatious investigation.

14. The proceedings in non-cognizable offence, cannot be initiated by the police, by registering an FIR, without at the outset seeking the nod of the concerned Magistrate, as has been held in the case of Lokesh T.R. vs. State of Karnataka reported in 2022 SCC Online Kar 973. The relevant para nos.9 and 18 of the aforesaid judgment reads as under:-

"9. Therefore, when the SHO of the Police Station receives a report regarding commission of non-cognizable offence, it is his duty to enter the substance of the information in the prescribed book and refer the informant to the Magistrate as required under Section 155(1) of Cr. P.C. Thereafter, the jurisdictional Magistrate is required to pass an order permitting the Police Officer to investigate the case as mandated by the provisions of Section 155(2) of Cr. P.C., stated supra. Unless, the Police Officer is permitted by an order of the jurisdictional Magistrate to investigate the non-cognizable offence, the Police Officer does not get jurisdiction to investigate the matter and file a final report or the charge sheet.

18. ..... The provision of Section 155(1) and (2) of Cr. P.C., referred above make it very much clear that the SHO of the Police Station on receiving the information regarding the commission of non- cognizable offence, his first duty is to enter or cause to be entered the substance of such commission in a book maintained by such Officer and then refer the informant to the Magistrate. This is the requirement of Section 155(1) of Cr. P.C. Once the requisition is submitted to the Magistrate, it is for the Jurisdictional Magistrate to consider the requisition submitted by the SHO of Police Station and pass necessary order either permitting the Police Officer to take up the investigation or reject the requisition. Section 155(2) of Cr. P.C., specifically provides that no Police Officer shall investigate the non-cognizable case without the order of the Magistrate having power to try such case or commit such case for trial. Therefore, passing an "order" by the Magistrate permitting the Police Officer to investigate the non- cognizable offence is an important factor. The word without the order of the Magistrate appearing in sub- Section (2) of Section 155 of Cr. P.C., makes it clear that the Magistrate has to pass an 'order' which means supported by reasons. On the other hand, in number of cases, the Jurisdictional Magistrates are writing a word 'permitted' on the requisition submitted by the Police itself which does not satisfy the requirement of Section 155(2) of Cr. P.C., Such an endorsement cannot be equated with the word 'Order'."

15. Thus reading of sub-section (1) of Section 155 of Cr.P.C. makes it clear that the duty of the SHO, who receives information as to the commission of a non-cognizable offence is only to enter or cause to be entered the substance of the information in the prescribed book and refer the informant to the Magistrate. It is for the informant to approach the jurisdictional Magistrate and seek a direction to the police for investigation. If the Magistrate on being approached by the informant, directs investigation, the Police Officer concerned would get jurisdiction to investigate the matter.

16. In the instant case, undisputedly, there is no such permission having been obtained by the police from the concerned Magistrate as required under Section 155(2) Cr.P.C on receiving credible evidence with regard to applicant having committed a non-cognizable offence, therefore, such proceedings would suffer from illegality. Compliance of Section 155 (2) Cr.P.C. is mandatory and not directory and therefore, investigation and report filed by the police in such case would not be legally sustainable.

17. It is a settled legal proposition that if initial action is not in consonance with law, all subsequent and consequential proceedings would fall through for the reason that illegality strikes at the root of the order. The aforesaid has been held by the Apex Court in the case of State of Punjab vs. Davinder Pal Singh Bhullar and others reported in (2011) 14 SCC 770.

18. Similarly, the Apex Court in the case of Mangal Prasad Tamoli vs. Narvadeshwar Mishra reported in (2005) 3 SCC 422, has held that if an order at the initial stage is bad in law, then all further proceedings, consequent thereto, will be non est and have to be necessarily set aside.

19. Meaning thereby that foundation being removed, structure/work falls, comes into play and applies on all scores. In the present case also, wherein, the entire proceedings have been initiated, without following the mandatory requirement of Section 155(2) of Cr.P.C. to take prior permission of the concerned Magistrate before proceeding with the investigation in the matter. Thus, wherein the initial action of the investigation against the applicant is illegal, all subsequent actions would be vitiated.

20. Ignoring the aforesaid fact that the concerned police officer has investigated the matter without following the procedure as mandated under Section 155(2) of Cr.P.C., while touching the merits of the case, there is no consistency in the version of informant as well as the victim starting from lodging of the NCR till the submission of charge sheet. It is for the first time, in the statement under Section 164 Cr.P.C., the victim has made allegation of attempt of being sexually assaulted. Thus, in view of law laid down by the Apex Court in the case of Santosh Prasad @ Santosh Kumar vs. the State of Bihar reported in (2020) 3 SCC 443, the proceedings against the applicant are nothing but an abuse of process of the Court. The statement of the victim should be of sterling quality in order to believe the allegations made by her against the applicant. The Apex Court in the aforesaid case of Santosh Prasad @ Santosh Kumar (supra) has considered the case of Raju v. State of Madhya Pradesh, reported in (2008) 15 SCC 133 as well as Rai Sandeep alias Deepu v. State (NCT of Delhi) reported in (2012) 8 SCC 21, while coming to the conclusion that the solitary evidence of the prosecutrix is sufficient provided the same inspires confidence and appears to be absolutely trustworthy, unblemished and should be of sterling quality.

21. In the case of Raju (supra), it is observed and held by this Court in paragraphs 11 and 12 as under:-

"11. It cannot be lost sight of that rape causes the greatest distress and humiliation to the victim but at the same time a false allegation of rape can cause equal distress, humiliation and damage to the accused as well. The accused must also be protected against the possibility of false implication, particularly where a large number of accused are involved. It must, further, be borne in mind that the broad principle is that an injured witness was present at the time when the incident happened and that ordinarily such a witness would not tell a lie as to the actual assailants, but there is no presumption or any basis for assuming that the statement of such a witness is always correct or without any embellishment or exaggeration."

22. In the case of Rai Sandeep alias Deepu (supra), the Apex Court had an occasion to consider as to who can be said to be a "sterling witness". In paragraph 22, it is observed and held as under:-

"22 In our considered opinion, the "sterling witness" should be of a very high quality and calibre whose version should, therefore, be unassailable. The court considering the version of such witness should be in a position to accept it for its face value without any hesitation. To test the quality of such a witness, the status of the witness would be immaterial and what would be relevant is the truthfulness of the statement made by such a witness. What would be more relevant would be the consistency of the statement right from the starting point till the end, namely, at the time when the witness makes the initial statement and ultimately before the court. It should be natural and consistent with the case of the prosecution qua the accused. There should not be any prevarication in the version of such a witness. The witness should be in a position to withstand the cross-examination of any length and howsoever strenuous it may be and under no circumstance should give room for any doubt as to the factum of the occurrence, the persons involved, as well as the sequence of it. Such a version should have co-relation with each and every one of other supporting material such as the recoveries made, the weapons used, the manner of offence committed, the scientific evidence and the expert opinion. The said version should consistently match with the version of every other witness. It can even be stated that it should be akin to the test applied in the case of circumstantial evidence where there should not be any missing link in the chain of circumstances to hold the accused guilty of the offence alleged against him. Only if the version of such a witness qualifies the above test as well as all other such similar tests to be applied, can it be held that such a witness can be called as a "sterling witness" whose version can be accepted by the court without any corroboration and based on which the guilty can be punished. To be more precise, the version of the said witness on the core spectrum of the crime should remain intact while all other attendant materials, namely, oral, documentary and material objects should match the said version in material particulars in order to enable the court trying the offence to rely on the core version to sieve the other supporting materials for holding the offender guilty of the charge alleged."

23. Thus, from the aforesaid discussions, it is clear, that, before arriving at a conclusion that the offence is made out or not, it is to be seen that the statement of the victim as well as other evidences are of a high quality and unassailable without there being any contradictions, exaggerations and the same should be consistent. In the present case, from narration of the facts in the NCR till submission of charge sheet, there is no consistency and only in the statement under Section 164 Cr.P.C., the victim has, for the first time, raised her grievance regarding allegation of an attempt of being sexually assaulted. The case of the applicant is also to be seen keeping in mind his career as he is student and false allegations against him will cause equal distress, humiliation and damage. Therefore, the case of the informant does not stand on the test of law laid down by the Apex Court in the aforesaid judgments.

24. Considering the facts and circumstances of the case, as noted herein above, and also the submissions made by the counsel for the parties, the court is of the considered opinion that the statutory safeguards as provided under Section 155(2) of Cr.P.C. has not been followed and the testimony of the victim was not of sterling quality to believe the allegations made against the applicant, therefore, the entire proceedings is liable to be quashed.

25. Accordingly, the charge sheet No.57 dated 20.02.2021 and cognizance/summoning order dated 31.03.2021 as well as the entire prosecution of Criminal Case No.13805 of 2021 (State vs. Shivam Solanki), arising out of Case Crime No.504 of 2020, under Sections 323, 504, 506, 427, 386, 376 and 511 IPC, Police Station-Hariparvat, District-Agra, pending before the court of Chief Judicial Magistrate, Agra are hereby quashed.

26. The application is, accordingly, allowed. There shall be no order as to costs.

27. A copy of this order be certified to the lower court forthwith.

(2022) 9 ILRA 666
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 23.08.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SHAMIM AHMED, J.

Criminal Appeal Defective No. 11 of 2022
(U/S 372 Cr.P. C.)

Utkarsh Awasthi ...Appellant
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Opposite Parties

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri Nitin Kumar Mishra

Counsel for the Opposite Parties:
Govt. Advocate

(A) Criminal Law - appeal against conviction - Condonation of delay - Indian Penal Code, 1860 - Sections 147/148/34, 325/149/34, 427/149/34, 436/427/34, 323/149/34 – The Limitataion Act,1963 - Section 5 - "sufficient cause" - Interest reipublicae up sit finis litium (it is for the general welfare that a period be put to litigation) - If delay has occurred for reasons which does not smack of mala fide, Court should be reluctant to refuse condonation. (para - 18)

Appeal with delay of 2300 days – no explanation regarding delay.

HELD:-Complete careless and reckless long delay on part of appellant which remain virtually unexplained at all. No reason to exercise judicial discretion to justify condonation of delay. Barred by limitation. (Para -18)

Criminal appeal dismissed. (E-7)

List of Cases cited:-

1. Collector, Land Acquisition Vs Katiji, 1987(2) SCC 107

2. P.K. Ramachandran Vs St. of Kerala, AIR 1998 SC 2276

3. Shakuntala Devi Jain Vs Kuntal Kumari, AIR 1969 SC 575

4. Privy Council in Brij Indar Singh Vs Kanshi Ram, ILR (1918) 45 Cal 94

5. Vedabai @ Vaijayanatabai Baburao Vs Shantaram Baburao Patil & ors., JT 2001(5) SC 608

6. Pundlik Jalam Patil (dead) by LRS. Vs Executive Engineer, Jalgaon Medium Project & Anr., (2008) 17 SCC 448

7. Maniben Devraj Shah Vs Municipal Corporation of Brihan Mumbai, 2012 (5) SCC 157

(Delivered by Hon'ble Shamim Ahmed, J.)

(Criminal Misc. Delay Condonation Application No. 01 of 2022)

1. This criminal appeal has been filed with a delay of 2300 days, as per the report of the stamp reporter.

2. By means of present criminal appeal, the the appellant/ complainant has challenged the impugned judgment and order dated 15.02.2014 passed by learned Additional District and Session Judge, Court No.3, Sitapur, convicting and sentencing the respondents No. 2 to 6 under Sections 147/148/34, 325/149/34, 427/149/34, 436/427/34, 323/149/34 I.P.C. for a maximum punishment of five years with default stipulation in Session Trial No. 437 2007, arising out of Crime No. 134/2002 relating to Police Station Reusa, District Sitapur and acquitting them from the charges framed against them under Sections 307, 504, 506 I.P.C.

3. Heard Sri Nitin Kumar Mishra, learned counsel for the appellant and Sri Aniruddh Kumar Singh, learned A.G.A.-1 for the State and perused the record.

4. Learned counsel for the appellant/applicant submits that the respondent Nos. 2 to 6 are the criminal spirited persons in which Basant Lal, Arvind Pandey, Shobha Ram Pandey and Amrit Lal Pandey have criminal history and they are likely to create disturbance in the peaceful living of the appellant, due to which the family of the appellant is in fear. He further submits that the appellant is waiting for appeal preferred about the inadequacy of sentence but no such appeal has been filed by the State of Uttar Pradesh.

5. Learned A.G.A.-I submits that this appeal has been filed with delay of 2300 days without giving any proper explanation regarding delay.

6. On the query made by this court and the objection raised by the learned A.G.A.-I , learned counsel for the appellant/applicant could not be able to give any proper and satisfactory explanation regarding a long delay of 2300 days in filing this appeal nor any ground has been mentioned in the affidavit filed in support of the delay condonation application.

7. The explanation given in affidavit accompanying delay condonation application filed under Section 5 of Limitation Act, 1963 is neither acceptable nor trustworthy.

8. The expression "sufficient cause" in Section 5 of Act, 1963 has been held to receive a liberal construction so as to advance substantial justice and generally a delay in preferring appeal may be condoned in interest of justice where no gross negligence or deliberate inaction or lack of bona fide is imputable to parties, seeking condonation of delay. In Collector, Land Acquisition Vs. Katiji, 1987(2) SCC 107, the Court said, that, when substantial justice and technical considerations are taken against each other, cause of substantial justice deserves to be preferred, for, the other side cannot claim to have vested right in injustice being done because of a non deliberate delay. The Court further said that judiciary is respected not on account of its power to legalise injustice on technical grounds but because it is capable of removing injustice and is expected to do so.

9. In P.K. Ramachandran Vs. State of Kerala, AIR 1998 SC 2276 the Court said:

"Law of limitation may harshly affect a particular party but it has to be applied with all its rigour when the statute so prescribe and the Courts have no power to extend the period of limitation on equitable grounds."

10. The Rules of limitation are not meant to destroy rights of parties. They virtually take away the remedy. They are meant with the objective that parties should not resort to dilatory tactics and sleep over their rights. They must seek remedy promptly. The object of providing a legal remedy is to repair the damage caused by reason of legal injury. The statute relating to limitation determines a life span for such legal remedy for redress of the legal injury, one has suffered. Time is precious and the wasted time would never revisit. During efflux of time, newer causes would come up, necessitating newer persons to seek legal remedy by approaching the courts. So a life span must be fixed for each remedy. Unending period for launching the remedy may lead to unending uncertainty and consequential anarchy. The statute providing limitation is founded on public policy. It is enshrined in the maxim Interest reipublicae up sit finis litium (it is for the general welfare that a period be put to litigation). It is for this reason that when an action becomes barred by time, the Court should be slow to ignore delay for the reason that once limitation expires, other party matures his rights on the subject with attainment of finality. Though it cannot be doubted that refusal to condone delay would result in foreclosing the suiter from putting forth his cause but simultaneously the party on the other hand is also entitled to sit and feel carefree after a particular length of time, getting relieved from persistent and continued litigation.

11. There is no presumption that delay in approaching the court is always deliberate. No person gains from deliberate delaying a matter by not resorting to take appropriate legal remedy within time but then the words "sufficient cause" show that delay, if any, occurred, should not be deliberate, negligent and due to casual approach of concerned litigant, but, it should be bona fide, and, for the reasons beyond his control, and, in any case should not lack bona fide. If the explanation does not smack of lack of bona fide, the Court should show due consideration to the suiter, but, when there is apparent casual approach on the part of suiter, the approach of Court is also bound to change. Lapse on the part of litigant in approaching Court within time is understandable but a total inaction for long period of delay without any explanation whatsoever and that too in absence of showing any sincere attempt on the part of suiter, would add to his negligence, and would be relevant factor going against him.

12. I need not to burden this judgment with a catena of decisions explaining and laying down as to what should be the approach of Court on construing "sufficient cause" under Section 5 of Act, 1963 and it would be suffice to refer a very few of them besides those already referred.

13. In Shakuntala Devi Jain Vs. Kuntal Kumari, AIR 1969 SC 575 a three Judges Bench of the Court said, that, unless want of bona fide of such inaction or negligence as would deprive a party of the protection of Section 5 is proved, the application must not be thrown out or any delay cannot be refused to be condoned.

14. The Privy Council in Brij Indar Singh Vs. Kanshi Ram ILR (1918) 45 Cal 94 observed that true guide for a court to exercise the discretion under Section 5 is whether the appellant acted with reasonable diligence in prosecuting the appeal. This principle still holds good inasmuch as the aforesaid decision of Privy Council as repeatedly been referred to, and, recently in State of Nagaland Vs. Lipok AO and others, AIR 2005 SC 2191.

15. In Vedabai @ Vaijayanatabai Baburao Vs. Shantaram Baburao Patil and others, JT 2001(5) SC 608 the Court said that under Section 5 of Act, 1963 it should adopt a pragmatic approach. A distinction must be made between a case where the delay is inordinate and a case where the delay is of a few days. In the former case consideration of prejudice to the other side will be a relevant factor so the case calls for a more cautious approach but in the latter case no such consideration may arise and such a case deserves a liberal approach. No hard and fast rule can be laid down in this regard and the basic guiding factor is advancement of substantial justice.

16. In Pundlik Jalam Patil (dead) by LRS. Vs. Executive Engineer, Jalgaon Medium Project and Anr. (2008) 17 SCC 448, in para 17 of the judgment, the Court said :

"...The evidence on record suggests neglect of its own right for long time in preferring appeals. The court cannot enquire into belated and state claims on the ground of equity. Delay defeats equity. The court helps those who are vigilant and "do not slumber over their rights."

17. In Maniben Devraj Shah Vs. Municipal Corporation of Brihan Mumbai, 2012 (5) SCC 157, in para 18 of the judgment, the Court said as under:

"What needs to be emphasised is that even though a liberal and justice oriented approach is required to be adopted in the exercise of power under Section 5 of the Limitation Act and other similar statutes, the Courts can neither become oblivious of the fact that the successful litigant has acquired certain rights on the basis of the judgment under challenge and a lot of time is consumed at various stages of litigation apart from the cost. What colour the expression 'sufficient cause' would get in the factual matrix of a given case would largely depend on bona fide nature of the explanation. If the Court finds that there has been no negligence on the part of the applicant and the cause shown for the delay does not lack bona fides, then it may condone the delay. If, on the other hand, the explanation given by the applicant is found to be concocted or he is thoroughly negligent in prosecuting his cause, then it would be a legitimate exercise of discretion not to condone the delay. In cases involving the State and its agencies/instrumentalities, the Court can take note of the fact that sufficient time is taken in the decision making process but no premium can be given for total lethargy or utter negligence on the part of the officers of the State and / or its agencies/instrumentalities and the applications filed by them for condonation of delay cannot be allowed as a matter of course by accepting the plea that dismissal of the matter on the ground of bar of limitation will cause injury to the public interest."

18. In my view, the kind of explanation rendered herein does not satisfy the observations of Apex Court that if delay has occurred for reasons which does not smack of mala fide, the Court should be reluctant to refuse condonation. On the contrary, I find that here is a case which shows a complete careless and reckless long delay on the part of appellant which has remain virtually unexplained at all. Therefore, I do not find any reason to exercise my judicial discretion exercising judiciously so as to justify condonation of delay in the present case.

19. In the result, the application deserves to be dismissed.

20. Accordingly, the application for condonation of delay is hereby rejected.

Case :- CRIMINAL APPEAL DEFECTIVE U/S 372 CR.P.C. No. - 11 of 2022

Since delay condonation application No. 01 of 2022 has been rejected by this Court vide order of date, therefore, the present appeal is also dismissed as barred by limitation.

(2022) 9 ILRA 670
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 22.07.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE VIVEK KUMAR BIRLA, J.
THE HON'BLE VIKAS BUDHWAR, J.

Criminal Appeal No. 118 of 2019
(U/S 372 Cr.P. C.)

Ajay Gaud ...Appellant
Versus
State of U.P. & Anr. ...Opposite Parties

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri Deepak Singh

Counsel for the Opposite Parties:
Govt. Advocate, Ms. Aarushi Khare, Sri Vinay Khare (Sr. Adv.)

(A) Criminal Law - Maintainability of appeal - Indian Penal Code, 1860 - Sections 147, 148, 149, 302 - The Code of criminal procedure, 1973 - Section 372 - Section 2 (wa) - "victim" - means a person who has suffered any loss or injury caused by reason of the act or omission for which the accused person has been charged - expression "victim" includes his or her guardian or legal heir - proviso of Section 372 is an exception to the general law - same confers on a victim a right to appeal against acquittal, which is subject to the grant of leave by the Court.(Para -5,7)

Appeal filed by nephew of deceased - under proviso to Section 372 Cr.P.C. - not suffered any loss or injury - not guardian or legal heir either.(Para -3)

HELD:-Appellant is nephew of deceased, cannot be taken as a victim. Son of deceased, is alive, therefore, even the second part of the definition as provided in Sub-Section 2 (wa) CrPC would not come into play. (Para - 9)

Criminal appeal dismissed as not maintainable. (E-7)

List of Cases cited:-

Manoj Kumar Singh Vs St. of U..P & ors.,_2016 (97) ACC 861

(Delivered by Hon'ble Vivek Kumar Birla, J.
&
Hon'ble Vikas Budhwar, J.)

1. Heard Sri Deepak Singh, learned counsel for the appellant-Ajay Gaud and Ms. Aarushi Khare, learned counsel for the respondent no. 2-Smt. Daya Sharma and learned AGA for the State-respondent no. 1 and perused the record.

2. Present appeal has been filed challenging the judgement and order dated 18.5.2019 passed by the Additional Sessions Judge, Court No. 23, Kanpur Nagar in Sessions Trial No. 1027 of 1997 (State vs. Dayaram Sharma and others), arising out of Case Crime No. 112 of 1997, under Sections 147, 148, 149, 302 IPC, P.S. Nazirabad, District Kanpur Nagar.

3. At the very outset, a preliminary objection has been raised by Ms. Aarushi Khare, learned counsel for the accused respondent regarding maintainability of the present appeal on the ground that the present appeal has been filed by Ajay Gaud, who is admittedly nephew of the deceased and is, therefore, not a victim as per Section 2 (wa) of the Criminal Procedure Code (CrPC). Submission, therefore, is that he has no right to file appeal under proviso to Section 372 CrPC as he has not suffered any loss or injury caused to his own body, mind, reputation and property and that he is not the guardian or legal heir either.

4. Replying the same, learned counsel for the appellant sought to argue that the appellant-Ajay Gaud is nephew of the deceased and is one of the witnesses of the incident and therefore, he has a right to file present appeal. He tried to argue the matter on merits at this stage, which we refused to entertain before deciding a preliminary objection.

5. Before we proceed further, it would be appropriate to take note of the word "victim" as provided in Section 2(wa) of the CrPC, which is quoted as under:

"2. Definitions- In this Code, unless the contest otherwise requires-

(a)....

(b)...

(wa) "victim" means a person who has suffered any loss or injury caused by reason of the act or omission for which the accused person has been charged and the expression "victim" includes his or her guardian or legal heir:

6. The issue as to who would be the victim within the meaning of Section 2 (wa) CrPC need not detain us for long as this definition has been dealt with extensively by Hon'ble Full Bench in the case of Manoj Kumar Singh vs. State of UP and others, 2016 (97) ACC 861.

7. After considering the definition and the relevant law in detail, in paragraphs 70 and 71 it was held as under:

"70. From the discussions that have been made above, it is clear that the proviso of Section 372 is an exception to the general law and same confers on a victim a right to appeal against acquittal, which is subject to the grant of leave by the Court. The first part of the definition of 'victim' as given under Section 2 (wa) (i.e. "Victim" means a person who has suffered any loss or injury caused by reason of the act or omission for which the accused person has been charged), is required to be construed in its literal sense and no liberal interpretation is required, Accordingly, only such person would be treated as "victim', who is the subject-matter of trial being direct sufferer of crime in terms of loss or injury caused to his own body, mind, reputation and property and such loss or injury is one of the ingredient of the offence for which the accused person has been charged and, therefore, any other person cannot be accepted as victim within the first part of Section 2 (wa) for the purposes of maintaining appeal. The second part that is "includes his or her guardian and Legal Heir" would come into play when the actual sufferer is absent or suffers disability.

71. In other words, victim means the actual sufferer of offence (receiver of harm caused by the alleged offence) and no person other than actual receiver of harm can be treated as victim of offence, so as to provide him /her right to prefer appeal under the proviso of section 372, though, in his or her absence or disability, his "legal heir" or "guardian" would qualify as victim and have a right to appeal. A person who claims himself to be 'guardian' or 'legal heir' of actual victim (direct sufferer), would be able to maintain appeal provided he establishes his claim as such before the court in his application by disclosing his particulars; relationship with the direct sufferer; and the grounds on which such claim of being "legal heir" or "guardian" is based. In the light of the discussion made above, the ratio of Division Bench of this Court in the case of Edal Singh (supra) is in tune with the definition of 'victim' as provided under Section 2 (wa) of the Code of Criminal Procedure. The reference is answered accordingly."

8. Accordingly, it is, therefore, clear that a victim is a person who has suffered any loss or injury caused by reason of the act or omission for which the accused person has been charged and as such, only such person would be treated "victim" who is the subject-matter of trial being direct sufferer of crime in terms of loss or injury caused to his own body, mind, reputation and property and such loss or injury is one of the ingredients of the offence for which the accused person has been charged and, therefore, any other person cannot be accepted as victim within the first part of Section 2 (wa) for the purposes of maintaining appeal. It was further held that the second part "includes his or hear guardian and Legal Heir" would come into play when the actual sufferer is absent or suffers disability.

9. From perusal of record, we find that that the deceased has a son Rajesh Jha who was stated to be in Mumbai and was posted as Deputy Commissioner of Customs at the time of incident, therefore, the instant appellant-Ajay Gaud herein, who is nephew of the deceased, cannot be taken as a victim as held by Hon'ble Full Bench in Manoj Kumar Singh (supra). Since Rajesh Jha, son of the deceased, is alive, therefore, even the second part of the definition as provided in Sub-Section 2 (wa) CrPC would not come into play as held by Hon'ble Full Bench in Manoj Kumar Singh (supra).

10. Accordingly, present appeal stands dismissed as not maintainable.

11. However, it is made clear that dismissal of the present appeal as not maintainable would not effect the merits of the criminal appeal filed by the accused persons.

(2022) 9 ILRA 673
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 14.07.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE VIVEK KUMAR BIRLA, J.

THE HON'BLE VIKAS BUDHWAR, J.

Criminal Appeal No. 543 of 2022
(U/S 372 Cr.P. C.)

Munna ...Appellant
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Opposite Parties

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri Ramanuj Yadav

Counsel for the Opposite Parties:
Govt. Advocate, Sri Nand Kishor Mishra, Shilpa Ahuja

A. Criminal Law – Appeal against acquittal - Criminal Law Amendment Act - Section 7 - Indian Penal Code,1860 - Section 436 - Delay in lodging the FIR and its impact upon the prosecution theory – It is well settled that the delay in giving the FIR by itself cannot be a ground to doubt the prosecution case - Mere delay in lodging the first information report with the police is, not necessarily, as a matter of law, fatal to the prosecution. The effect of delay in doing so in the light of the plausibility of the explanation forthcoming for such delay accordingly must fall for consideration on all the facts and circumstances of a given case.

Delay in lodging the FIR quite often results in embellishment which is a creature of afterthought. On account of delay, the report not only gets bereft of the advantage of spontaneity, danger creeps in of the introduction of coloured version, exaggerated account or concocted story As a result of deliberation and consultation. It is, therefore, essential that the delay in the lodging of the first information report should be satisfactorily explained. (Para 22 to 27)

Normally, the Court may reject the case of the prosecution in case of inordinate delay in lodging the FIR because of the possibility of concoction of evidence by the prosecution. However, if the delay is satisfactorily explained, the Court will decide the matter on merits without giving much importance to such delay. The Court is duty-bound to determine whether the explanation afforded is plausible enough given the facts and circumstances of the case. The delay may be condoned if the complainant appears to be reliable and without any motive for implicating the accused falsely. (Para 27)

The incident of setting ablaze the house of the informant took place on 12.10.2008, however, the written complaint, which transformed into lodging of the FIR was dated 13.10.2008 at 18:05 hours, despite the fact that PW-2 Vivek son of Keshav and Pappu were present though did not lodge the FIR. There has been no explanation offered by the prosecution in lodging the FIR after huge delay, particularly when the police station itself was 100 steps from the house of the informant. (Para 28)

B. It is well settled principle of law that appellate courts hearing the appeal filed against the judgment and the order of the acquittal should not overrule or otherwise disturb the judgment acquittal, if the appellate court does not find substantiate and compelling reasons for doing so. Nonetheless if the trial courts conclusion w.r.t. the facts is palpably wrong if the trial court decision was based on erroneous view of law and the judgment is likely result in grave miscarriage of justice and the approach proceeded towards wrong direction or the trial court has ignored the evidence or misread the material evidence which should have determining the factor in the lis of the matter then obviously the appellate court is right in interfering with the order acquitting the accused. In case two views are possible and the view so taken by the trial court while acquitting the accused is a plausible view then in the backdrop of the fact that there is double presumption of innocence available to the accused then obviously the appellate court should not interfere with the order of acquittal. (Para 7, 8)

This Court finds that the prosecution proceeds on weak footing as not only there is delay in lodging of the FIR, but the other indices for linking the accused for commission of crime is also lacking, particularly of the fact that there are major contradictions in the St.ment of PW-1 and PW-2 as well as the fact that Pappu did not appear in the witness-box and the manner in which investigation has been done and lastly, but not the least, the fact that the four accused as discussed above were in judicial custody, when the said crime was said to have occasioned. (Para 29 to 31)

C. It is well settled that enmity emanating as a motive is two-sided dagger and thus in order to put the motion of motive for conviction, same is to be proved beyond doubt also. Motive cannot be ipso facto a ground to hold the accused guilty of commission of crime, particularly when though allegations regarding administering of beating upon the brothers and the family members of the informant has been made, but no document whatsoever has been produced before the Court either showing the nature of the injuries or the lodging of the complaint or FIR against them. (Para 33)

There is no perversity in the order of the Trial Court which is a possible view and the testimony of the prosecution witnesses and the evidences so adduced therein do not point towards in any manner whatsoever for conviction of the accused. In the absence of any perversity or misreading of the evidences so sought to be adduced by the prosecution, this Court has no option but to concur with the judgment of the Trial Court acquitting the accused herein. (Para 32, 34)

Appeal dismissed. (E-4)

Precedent followed:

1. Tota Singh & anr. Vs St. of Pun., (1987) 2 SCC 529 (Para 9)

2. Ramesh Babulal Doshi Vs St. of Guj., (1996) 9 SCC 225 (Para 9)

3. St. of Raj. Vs St. of Guj., (2003) 8 SCC 180 (Para 9)

4. St. of Goa Vs Sanjay Thakran, (2007) 3 SCC 755 (Para 9)

5. Chandrappa & ors. Vs St. of Karn, (2007) 4 SCC 415 (Para 9)

6. Ghurey Lal Vs St. of U.P., (2008) 10 SCC 450 (Para 9)

7. Siddharth Vashishtha @ Manu Sharma Vs St. (NCT of Delhi), (2010) 6 SCC 1 (Para 9)

8. Babu Vs St. of Kerala, (2010) 9 SCC 189 (Para 9)

9. Ganpat Vs St. of Har., (2010) 12 SCC 59 (Para 9)

10. Sunil Kumar Sambhudayal Gupta (Dr.) & ors. Vs St. of Mah., (2010) 13 SCC 657 (Para 9)

11. St. of U.P. Vs Naresh, (2011) 4 SCC 324 (Para 9)

12. St. of M.P. Vs Ramesh (2011) 4 SCC 786 (Para 9)

13. Jayaswamy Vs St. of Karn. (2018) 7 SCC 219 (Para 9)

14. Thulia Kali Vs The St. of T. N., (1972) 3 SCC 393 (Para 22)

15. Apren Joseph @ Current Kunjukunju & ors. Vs The St. of Kerala, (1973) 3 SCC 114 (Para 23)

16. Tara Singh & ors. Vs St. of Pun., 1991 Supp (1) SCC 536 (Para 24)

17. Meharaj Singh Vs St. of U.P., (1994) 5 SCC 188 (Para 25)

18. Thanedar Singh Vs St. of M.P. (2002) 1 SCC 487 (Para 26)

19. P. Rajagopal & ors. Vs St. of T. N. (2019) 5 SCC 403 (Para 27)

Present appeal assails judgment and order dated 03.11.2018, passed by IV Addl. Sessions Judge, District Hamirpur.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Vikas Budhwar, J.)

1. This appeal under Section 372 of Criminal Procedure Code, 1973 (in short 'Cr.P.C.'), has been instituted by the appellant against the judgment and order dated 3.11.2018 passed by IVth Addl. Sessions Judge, District Hamirpur, passed in S.T. No. 1 of 2009, arising out of Case Crime no. 672 of 2008, under Sections 436, 120-B IPC, Police Station- Khanna, District Hamirpur, whereby learned trial court has acquitted the accused persons, who are opposite parties nos. 2 to 8.

2. Briefly stated facts shorn off unnecessary details are that the first informant being the appellant Munna son of Late Bhagwan Deen is a resident of village Gyodi, P.S. Khanna, District Hamirpur. As per the prosecution case, on 10.10.2008, one Rajesh Dubey, accused respondent no.7, Ashok Dubey- accused respondent no.8, Chhuttan Singh, accused-respondent no.6, Udai Bhan Singh, accused -respondent no.5, Kishori Sahu, accused - respondent no.2, Rajju Mali- accused-respondent no.3 and Babu Mali- accused - respondent no.4 in connection with certain water dispute indulged in administering beating with the brother and family members of the informant, pursuant whereto the brothers of the informant sustained injuries and they were put to medication in the District Hospital, Hamirpur. Further it has been alleged that on 12.10.2008 at 9:30 hours in the night, the accused-respondent Kishori, Rajju Mali and Babu Mali assembled in front of his house and consigned the house to flames. Pursuant whereto enormous damage occasioned. As per the prosecution version, so contained in the FIR after a period of two days, the nephews of the informant being Vivek and Pappu gave the information regarding putting the house on flames by the aforesaid three accused as named hereinabove. Accordingly, the informant came back to his house, as he was out-stationed and straightway went to the site of occurrence and on the same day, he reported the matter to the police station Khanna, District Hamirpur and accordingly, the FIR purported to be under Section 436 IPC read with section 7 of the Criminal Law Amendment Act was sought to be lodged being Case Crime no. 672 of 2008. The FIR in question was lodged on 13.10.2008 at 18:50 hours. The FIR was lodged against Kishori Sahu (accused-opposite party no.2), Rajju Mali (accused-opposite party no.3) and Babu Mali (accused - opposite party no.4).

3. Consequent to the lodging of the FIR, investigation was put to motion and investigating officer was nominated who went to the site of occurrence prepared site plan and recorded under Section 161 CrPC. A charge sheet was submitted by the Investigating Officer against the accused-respondents herein purported to be under Sections 436, 120-B IPC read with Section 7 Criminal Law Amendment Act. The matter was committed to the Court of Sessions. The accused pleaded innocent and not guilty.

4. To bring home the charges, the prosecution produced following witnesses, namely:

1.	Munna	PW1
2.	Vivek	PW2
3.	Head Constable Ram Bharose	PW3
4.	S.I. Balbeer Singh (I.O.)	PW4

5. We have heard Sri Ramanuj Yadav, learned counsel for the appellant and Sri Ratan Singh, learned A.G.A. for the State.

6. Before we embark on testimony and the judgment of the Court below, the contours for interfering in Criminal Appeals where accused has been held to be non guilty would require to be discussed.

7. The Hon'ble Apex Court in the series of decisions have been consistently mandating that it is well settled principle of law that appellate courts hearing the appeal filed against the judgment and the order of the acquittal should not overrule or otherwise disturb the judgment acquittal, if the appellate court does not find substantiate and compelling reasons for doing so.

8. Nonetheless if the trial courts conclusion with regard to the facts is palpably wrong if the trial court decision was based on erroneous view of law and the judgment is likely result in grave miscarriage of justice and the approach proceeded towards wrong direction or the trial court has ignored the evidence or misread the material evidence which should have determining the factor in the lis of the matter then obviously the appellate court is right in interfering with the order acquitting the accused. However, Hon'ble Apex Court has further held that in case two views are possible and the view so taken by the trial court while acquitting the accused is a plausible view then in the backdrop of the fact that there is double presumption of innocence available to the accused then obviously the appellate court should not interfere with the order of acquittal.

9. The above noted proposition of law is clearly spelt out in umpty number of decisions, some of them are as under namely:-Tota Singh and another vs. State of Punjab, (1987) 2 SCC 529, Ramesh Babulal Doshi vs. State of Gujarat, (1996) 9 SCC 225, State of Rajesthan vs. State of Gujarat, (2003) 8 SCC 180, State of Goa vs. Sanjay Thakran, (2007) 3 SCC 755, Chandrappa and others vs. State of Karnataka, (2007) 4 S.C.C. 415, Ghurey Lal vs. State of U.P., (2008) 10 SCC 450, Siddharth Vashishtha Alias Manu Sharma vs. State (NCT of Delhi), (2010) 6 SCC 1, Babu vs. State of Kerala, (2010) 9 SCC 189, Ganpat vs. State of Haryana, (2010) 12 SCC 59, Sunil Kumar Sambhudayal Gupta (Dr.) and others vs. State of Maharashtra, (2010) 13 SCC 657, State of U.P. vs. Naresh, (2011) 4 SCC 324, State of M.P. vs. Ramesh, (2011) 4 SCC 786, and Jayaswamy vs. State of Karnataka, (2018) 7 SCC 219.

10. Bearing in mind the judicial pronouncement of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in dealing with the appeals at the instance of the complainant, the present case is to be decided.

11. To begin step by step, the ocular testimony of the prosecution witness is to be meticulously analyzed.

12. PW-1 Munna got himself present in the witness box and according to him, he could identify as he knows all the accused. In his testimony, PW-1 further deposed that on 12.10.2008, his brother Keshav, Ram Kripal, Ram Babu and Smt. Ram Kunwar had gone to fetch water and at that point of time, the accused herein being Rajesh, Ashok, Udai Bhan and Chhuttan indulged in fighting, pursuant whereto injuries were sustained by them and after two days, he received an information through his nephew Vivek, who happens to be PW-2 and another nephew Pappu that the accused Babu, Kishori and Rajju had consigned their house on flames and accordingly, he came back to his house on 13.10.2008 and thereafter got the FIR lodged. In the statement, the occurrence of consigning the house to flames was assigned 8-9 P.M, in the night on 12.10.2008. According to PW-1 Munna, he is a driver, who drives the vehicle of one Sri Aridam Singh. Thus the PW-1 is not an eye-witness to the said occurrence.

13. As PW-2, Vivek son of Keshav presented himself. According to him on the date of the incident, he was 11-12 years studying in Class-IX and he had also narrated the fact that on 10.10.2008, beating was also administered to his relatives by the accused and on 12.10.2008, the accused set the house in flames at 9:30 in the night and the said act was done by the Kishori Sahu, Babu Mali and Rajju Mali and he had given information to his uncle PW-1 after two days. In his cross, PW-2 Vivek has deposed that there is a police station Khanna situate over there, whereat one S.I. and five to six constables are there and when the alleged incident took place, and the police station was just 100 steps from his house and towards the western side. The house of PW-1 is situate just 20 steps.

14. PW-3 Constable being Ram Bharose Tripathi also presented himself as prosecution witness and he proved the prosecution case, as he was the person, who got registered the FIR.

15. S.I. Balbir Singh (I.O.) presented himself as PW-4, who took the statements of the prosecution and on the pointing out of the prosecution witnesses, he prepared the site plan and recorded the statements of prosecution witnesses.

16. As per the prosecution case, PW-1, who happens to be Munna Singh is the informant, however, he is not present when the alleged offence was said to have been committed, as he was on a different place driving the vehicle while working as a driver. However, according to him, he received information regarding the incident of fire on 13.10.2008 from PW-2 Vivek and Pappu through telephonic call, whereat the accused Babu, Kishori and Rajju were assigned the roles of consigning the house on flames. According to him, he after finishing his work came back to the village and straightway went to the site of occurrence and thereafter proceeded to P.S. Khanna and got the FIR registered on 13.10.2008 at 18:50 hours.

17. Now, a question arises as to why the FIR was not lodged on 12.10.2008 itself by the prosecution witnesses, who witnessed the said occurrence. As per the statement of PW-2 Vivek, he in his testimony has deposed that the fire took place on 12.10.2008 in the night at 9 to 01:30 hours. Further in the cross-examination, PW-2 Vivek has himself further deposed that a police chawki is already stationed wherein there is one S.I. and five to six police constables and on the date of the occurrence, it was 100 steps from his house. No plausible explanation has been offered by PW-2 Vivek as to why the FIR was lodged on 13.10.2008 at 18:50 hours, i.e, on the next day after enormous delay. It has also come on record that the Police Station is quite near and further the fact that there was no obstruction or hindrance so available or the approach towards the Police Station was not accessible.

18. Another factor, which needs to be considered at this stage is the fact that in the deposition of PW-1 Munna, information regarding the consigning of the house on flames was made available to the PW-1 Munna by Pappu also. However, Pappu was not presented as prosecution witness and thus neither his examination-in-chief nor cross-examination was conducted. The said factor also assumes significance, as at that relevant point of time, PW-2 Vivek was studying in Class-IX and he happened to be an interested witness, vis-a-vis commission of crime, so much so it is quite implorable or inconceivable that if somebody's house is put on fire, then the aggrieved party would wait for a day and not promptly lodge the FIR. It has further come on record that the Police Station/ chawki in question was just 100 steps from the house of the informant and thus in all possibilities in case fire occasioned, then the police would have come there as they cannot be a mute spectator in this regard.

19. Even otherwise, in the FIR the incident has been shown to have been committed at 9:30 P.M, on 12.10.2008 as whereas in the statement of PW-1, Munna, the occurrence has been shown to be at 8 to 9 in the night on 12.10.2008. No independent witness whatsoever appeared as a prosecution witnesses so as to prove that the accused had consigned the house of the informant on flames.

20. Moreover records further reveal that though the FIR had been lodged against the accused O.P. no.2 Kishori, accused O.P. no.3 Rajju Mali and accused O.P. no.4 Babu Mali. However, perusal of the statement of PW-1 Munna shows that accused opposite parties 2 to 8 have been shown to have committed crime. It has also come on record that the accused opposite party no.5 Udaibhan, accused O.P. no.6 Chhuttan, accused O.P. no.7 Rajesh and accused O.P. no.8 Ashok were already in judicial custody at the time when the alleged offence took place. No explanation whatsoever has been tendered by the prosecution, as to why their names surfaced and put to trial in that regard. The said aspect is of great significance as PW-2 Vivek was an eye-witness to the said incident and so far as Pappu is concerned, who is said to be an eye-witness did not enter into the witness box.

21. Looking into the said factors, the issue of delay in lodging of the FIR also assumes significance as normally, delay in lodging of the FIR does not ipso facto becomes a ground to demolish the prosecution case, however, it is one of the indices which itself is to be taken into consideration and assumes significance in the light of the other factors or ingredients in order to put the nail in the coffin for conviction.

22. The Hon'ble Apex Court on the question of delay in lodging the FIR and its impact upon the prosecution theory in the case of Thulia Kali Vs. The State of Tamil Nadu, (1972) 3 SCC 393, has observed as under:-

"The object of insisting upon prompt lodging of the report to the police in respect of commission of an offence is to obtain early information regarding the circumstances in which the crime was committed, the names of the actual culprits and the part played by them as well as names of eye witnesses present at the scene of occurrence. Delay in lodging the first information report quite often results in embellishment which is a creature of afterthought. On account of delay, the report not only gets bereft of the advantage of spontaneity, danger creeps in of the introduction of coloured version, exaggerated account or concocted story As a result of deliberation and consultation. It is, therefore, essential that the delay in the lodging of the first information report should be satisfactorily explained."

23. In the case of Apren Joseph Alias Current Kunjukunju and others Vs. The State of Kerala,* (1973) 3 SCC 114, the Hon'ble Apex Court has observed as under:

"11. Now first information report is a report relating to the commission of an offence given to the police and recorded by it under Section 154, Cr. P. C. As observed by the Privy Council in K. E. v. Khwaja, the receipt and recording of information report by the police is not a condition precedent to the setting in motion of a criminal investigation. Nor does the statute provide that such information report can only be made by an eye witness. First information report under Section 154 is not even considered a substantive piece of evidence. It can only be used to corroborate or contradict the informant's evidence in court. But this information when recorded is the basis of the case set up by the informant. It is very useful if recorded before there is time and opportunity to embellish or before the informant's memory fades. Undue unreasonable delay in lodging the F. I. R., therefore, inevitably gives rise to suspicion which puts the court on guard to look for the possible motive and the explanation for the delay and consider its effect on the trustworthiness or otherwise of the prosecution version. In our opinion, no duration of time in the abstract can be fixed as reasonable for giving information of a crime to the police, the question of reasonable time being a matter for determination by the court in each case. Mere delay in lodging the first information report with the police is, therefore, not necessarily, as a matter of law, fatal to the prosecution. The effect of delay in doing so in the light of the plausibility of the explanation forthcoming for such delay accordingly must fall for consideration on all the facts and circumstances of a given case."

24. In the case of Tara Singh and others Vs. State of Punjab*, 1991 Supp (1) SCC 536, the Hon'ble Apex Court in paragraph 4 has observed as under:-

"4. It is well settled that the delay in giving the FIR by itself cannot be a ground to doubt the prosecution case. Knowing the Indian conditions as they are we cannot expect these villagers to rush to the police station immediately after the occurrence. Human nature as it is, the kith and kin who have witnessed the occurrence cannot be expected to act mechanically with all the promptitude in giving the report to the police. At times being grief-stricken because of the calamity it may not immediately occur to them that they should give a report. After all it is but natural in these circumstances for them to take some time to go to the police station for giving the report. Of course the Supreme Court as well as the High Courts have pointed out that in cases arising out of acute factions there is a tendency to implicate persons belonging to the opposite faction falsely. In order to avert the danger of convicting such innocent persons the courts are cautioned to scrutinise the evidence of such interested witnesses with greater care and caution and separate grain from the chaff after subjecting the evidence to a closer scrutiny and in doing so the contents of the FIR also will have to be scrutinised carefully. However, unless there are indications of fabrication, the court cannot reject the prosecution version as given in the FIR and later substantiated by the evidence merely on the ground of delay. These are all matters for appreciation and much depends on the facts and circumstances of each case."

25. In the case of Meharaj Singh Vs. State of U.P., (1994) 5 SCC 188, the Hon'ble Apex Court has observed as under:-

"12. FIR in a criminal case and particularly in a murder case is a vital and valuable piece of evidence for the purpose of appreciating the evidence led at the trial. The object of insisting upon prompt lodging of the FIR is to obtain the earliest information regarding the circumstance in which the crime was committed, including the names of the actual culprits and the parts played by them, the weapons, if any, used, as also the names of the eyewitnesses, if any. Delay in lodging the FIR often results in embellishment, which is a creature of an afterthought. On account of delay, the FIR not only gets bereft of the advantage of spontaneity, danger also creeps in of the introduction of a coloured version or exaggerated story. With a view to determine whether the FIR was lodged at the time it is alleged to have been recorded, the courts generally look for certain external checks. One of the checks is the receipt of the copy of the FIR, called a special report in a murder case, by the local Magistrate. If this report is received by the Magistrate late it can give rise to an inference that the FIR was not lodged at the time it is alleged to have been recorded, unless, of course the prosecution can offer a satisfactory explanation for the delay in despatching or receipt of the copy of the FIR by the local Magistrate. Prosecution has led no evidence at all in this behalf. The second external check equally important is the sending of the copy of the FIR along with the dead body and its reference in the inquest report. Even though the inquest report, prepared under Section 174 CrPC, is aimed at serving a statutory function, to lend credence to the prosecution case, the details of the FIR and the gist of statements recorded during inquest proceedings get reflected in the report. The absence of those details is indicative of the fact that the prosecution story was still in an embryo state and had not been given any shape and that the FIR came to be recorded later on after due deliberations and consultations and was then ante-timed to give it the colour of a promptly lodged FIR. In our opinion, on account of the infirmities as noticed above, the FIR has lost its value and authenticity and it appears to us that the same has been 'ante-timed and had not been recorded till the inquest proceedings were over at the spot by PW 8."

26. In the case of Thanedar Singh Vs. State of M.P., (2002) 1 SCC 487, the Hon'ble Apex Court has observed as under:-

"6. The High Court was of the view that the judgment of the Trial Court was perverse and its approach was unreasonable. The first comment made by the High Court was that the Trial Court did not assign any reason for disbelieving the FIR. The High Court found no infirmity in the FIR having regard to the fact that the part played by the accused appellant was specifically mentioned in the FIR. But, the High Court missed to note the crucial facts adverted to in Para 5.2 (supra) which cast a serious doubt on the correctness of the FIR, especially the time and date of its recording. The learned Sessions Judge particularly adverted to the fact that the prosecution did not produce the original record of police station relating to the receipt and despatch of FIR inspite of an order passed to that effect. Though the Trial Judge was not careful enough in recording a specific finding that the prosecution failed to clear the doubt regarding the date and time of recording the FIR, in sum and substance, that is what the learned Trial Judge purported to say. The observations of the Trial court were not properly understood by the High Court when it proceeded on the basis at paragraph 12 that the Trial court found fault with the delay in lodging the complaint at 9 A.M. on the next morning. But, it is to be noted that nowhere in the judgment, the trial court observed that the complaint having been lodged and recorded at 9A.M. next morning, that itself would tantamount to delay."

27. Yet, in the case of P. Rajagopal and others Vs. State of Tamil Nadu (2019) 5 SCC 403, the Hon'ble Apex Court in paragraph 12 has held as under:-

12. Normally, the Court may reject the case of the prosecution in case of inordinate delay in lodging the first information report because of the possibility of concoction of evidence by the prosecution. However, if the delay is satisfactorily explained, the Court will decide the matter on merits without giving much importance to such delay. The Court is duty-bound to determine whether the explanation afforded is plausible enough given the facts and circumstances of the case. The delay may be condoned if the complainant appears to be reliable and without any motive for implicating the accused falsely.

28. Noticing the underlying principles of law as laid down in the above noted judgments, this Court finds that the incident of setting ablaze the house of the informant took place on 12.10.2008, however, the written complaint, which transformed into lodging of the FIR was dated 13.10.2008 at 18:05 hours, despite the fact that PW-2 Vivek son of Keshav and Pappu were present though did not lodge the FIR. There has been no explanation offered by the prosecution in lodging the FIR after huge delay, particularly when the police station itself was 100 steps from the house of the informant.

29. The Trial Court has also considered the provisions contained under Section 436 IPC, which refers to the penal provision with regard to mischief by fire or explosive substance, with intent to destroy house. The Trial Court has also referred to the FIR, according to which the informant's house was completely consigned to flames. As a matter of fact, the entire prosecution story also is under cloud as according to the statement of PW-2 Vivek, he had narrated the entire fact and a site-plan was also prepared by the Investigating Officer. However, as per the site-plan, the point "A', which has been crossed is being shown to have been consigned to flames. This is the back portion of the house of Keshav as only part of portion has been shown to be burnt.

30. The issue can also be seen from another point of angle also that there has been no statement made by any of the prosecution witness as to when any exercise whatsoever was taken to subdue the fire and what was the items which got burnt and at what time, the gate / door was opened and items recovered either burnt or not. Even there is no recovery memo or any inventory so as to suggest as to what type of damage was done. The same also put a big question mark over the investigation so sought to be conducted by the Investigating Officer. Notably, there were no other villagers, who could have been independent witness to have recorded his testimony regarding alleged commission of crime, which could have proved the fact as to whether the accused herein were a part in commission of offence.

31. Analyzing the present case from four-corners of law, this Court finds that the prosecution proceeds on weak footing as not only there is delay in lodging of the FIR, but the other indices for linking the accused for commission of crime is also lacking, particularly of the fact that there are major contradictions in the statement of PW-1 and PW-2 as well as the fact that Pappu did not appear in the witness-box and the manner in which investigation has been done and lastly, but not the least, the fact that the four accused as discussed above were in judicial custody, when the said crime was said to have occasioned.

32. Hence in any view of the matter, applying the principles of law so culled out by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the present case, we find that there is no perversity in the order of the Trial Court is a possible view and the testimony of the prosecution witnesses and the evidences so adduced therein do not point towards in any manner whatsoever for conviction of the accused.

33. So far as, the issue of motive is concerned, the learned Trial Court as discussed the same while holding that the same cannot be ipso facto a ground to hold the accused guilty of commission of crime, particularly when though allegations regarding administering of beating upon the brothers and the family members of the informant has been made, but no document whatsoever has been produced before the Court either showing the nature of the injuries or the lodging of the complaint or FIR against them. As it is well settled that enmity emanating as a motive is two-sided dagger and thus in order to put the motion of motive for conviction, same is to be proved beyond doubt also.

34. This Court while bestowing anxious consideration on the judgment passed by the Trial Court finds its inability to interfere in the present proceedings as according to this Court the view taken by the Trial Court does not seem to be suffering from any perversity, and this Court further finds that there is no other view ought to be taken, other than the view so taken by the court below. In the absence of any perversity or misreading of the evidences so sought to be adduced by the prosecution, this Court has no option but to concur with the judgment of the Trial Court acquitting the accused herein.

35. Resultantly, present criminal appeal is dismissed.

36. Records of the present case be sent back to the concerned court below.

(2022) 9 ILRA 683
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 03.08.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE CHANDRA KUMAR RAI, J.

Writ B No. 1767 of 2022

Hanuman & Ors. ...Petitioners
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioners:
Sri Sachida Nand Tiwari, Sri Murli Dhar Mishra

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C., Sri Arvind Kumar Srivastava, Sri Bhaju Ram Prasad Sharma

Civil Law - U.P. Consolidation of Holdings Act (5 of 1954) - Section 48 - during pendency of the revision u/s 48 of the U.P.C.H. Act, one of the opposite party, Bhagwan Das, died – however, his heirs were not substituted in the revision - the revision was allowed and the matter was remanded back to the Consolidation Officer to decide the objection afresh - Held - Explanation (3) of the Section 48 of the U.P.C.H. Act states that the Deputy Director of Consolidation has wide power to appreciate the evidence etc. & in place of remanding the matter back, he himself can decide the revision on merit after affording the opportunity of hearing to both the parties in accordance of law – Also, allowing the revision without substituting the legal heirs of deceased party in the revision makes the revisional order illegal - matter remanded back to the D.D.C. to decide the revision in accordance with law after substituting the legal heirs of deceased opposite party (Bhagwan Das) (Para 8, 9, 12)

Allowed. (E-5)

List of Cases cited:

1. Chandrama Vs Deputy Director of Consolidation Ballia & ors. (134) RD 555

2. Gajjoo Vs Deputy Director of Consolidation & ors. 1995 R.D. 231

3. Bansi Kanhai Vs Deputy Director of Consolidation U.P. Lucknow & ors. AIR 1967 Allahabad 592

(Delivered by Hon'ble Chandra Kumar Rai, J.)

1. Heard Sri Murli Dhar Mishra, learned counsel for the petitioners, Sri B.R.P. Sharma, learned counsel for respondent nos.3 and 4 and learned Standing Counsel for respondent nos.1 and 2.

2. With the consent of the parties, writ petition is being heard and decided finally at the admission stage.

3. Learned counsel for the petitioners submitted that in the revision under Section 48 of the U.P.C.H. Act filed at the instance of respondent nos.3 and 4 in which petitioners were opposite parties, was allowed without substitute the heir of deceased- Bhagwan Das and the revision was allowed and the matter was remanded back to the Consolidation Officer for fresh decision. He further submitted that in view of the provisions contained under Section 48 of the U.P.C.H. Act, the Deputy Director of Consolidation himself can decide the revision on merit in place of remanding the matter back to the Consolidation Officer.

4. On the other hand, Sri B.R.P. Sharma, learned counsel for respondent nos.3 and 4 submitted that by the impugned order, the matter has been remanded back to the Consolidation Officer, as such, there is no necessary to substitute the heir of deceased opposite party and entire parties will be heard by the Consolidation Officer while deciding the objection afresh in pursuance of the revisional order, as such, no interference is required.

5. I have considered the argument advanced by learned counsel for the parties and perused the record.

6. There is no dispute about the fact that during pendency of the revision under Section 48 of the U.P.C.H. Act, one of the opposite party- Bhagwan Das has died and his heirs were not substituted in the revision and the revision was allowed by the impugned order and the matter was remanded back to the Consolidation Officer to decide the objection afresh.

7. The provisions of Section 48 of the U.P.C.H. Act is as follows:

"48. Revision and reference. - (1) The Director of Consolidation may call for and examine the record of any case decided or proceedings taken by any subordinate authority for the purpose of satisfying himself as to the regularity of the proceedings; or as to the correctness, legality or propriety of any order other than an interlocutory order passed by such authority in the case or proceedings, may, after allowing the parties concerned an opportunity of being heard, make such order in the case or proceedings as he thinks fit.

(2) Powers under sub-section (1) may be exercised by the Director of Consolidation also on a reference under sub-section (3).

(3) Any authority subordinate to the Director of Consolidation may, after allowing the parties concerned an opportunity of being heard, refer the record of any case or proceedings to the Director of Consolidation for action under sub-section (1).

Explanation (1)- For the purposes of this section, Settlement Officers, Consolidation, Consolidation Officers, Assistant Consolidation Officers, Consolidator and Consolidation Lekhpals shall be subordinate to the Director of Consolidation.

Explanation(2)- For the purposes of this section the expression 'interlocutory order' in relation to a case or proceeding, means such order deciding any matter arising in such case or proceeding or collateral thereto as does not have the effect to finally disposing of such case or proceeding.

Explanation (3)- The power under this section to examine the correctness, legality or propriety of any order includes the power to examine any finding, whether of fact or law, recorded by any subordinate authority, and also includes the power to re-appreciate any oral or documentary evidence."

8. Explanation (3) of the Section 48 of the U.P.C.H. Act specifically states that the Deputy Director of Consolidation has wide power to appreciate the evidence etc., as such, in view of the provisions contained under Section 48 of the U.P.C.H. Act in place of remanding the matter back, he himself can decide the revision on merit after affording the opportunity of hearing to both the parties in accordance of law. This Court in a Case reported in 2017 (134) RD 555 Chandrama Vs. Deputy Director of Consolidation Ballia and Others has held that order of remand passed by Revisional Court under U.P.C.H. Act is not going to serve any useful purpose except prolonging the litigation.

9. The order passed by the Revisional Court without substituting the heirs of the contesting opposite party is also fatal. This Court in a case reported in 1995 R.D. 231 Gajjoo Vs. Deputy Director of Consolidation and Others has held that allowing the revision without substituting the legal heirs of deceased party in the revision will make the revisional order illegal.

10. In another decision of this Court reported in AIR 1967 Allahabad 592 Bansi Kanhai Vs. Deputy Director of Consolidation U.P. Lucknow and Others has held that Deputy Director of Consolidation in Revision cannot reject the application for bringing on record the legal heir of deceased respondent on the ground of delay.

11. Considering the provision of Section 48 Explanation (3) of the U.P.C.H. Act as well as the ratio of law laid down by this Court in Gajjoo (supra) and Bansi Kanhai (supra) impugned revisional order dated 24.6.2022 appears to be based on wrong assumptions and manifestly illegal.

12. In the result, the writ petition is allowed, impugned order dated 24.6.2022 passed by respondent no.2 i.e Deputy Director of Consolidation, Mahrajganj is set aside. The matter is remanded back to respondent no.2 i.e Deputy Director of Consolidation, Mahrajganj to restore the revision on its original number and decide the same in accordance with law after substituting the legal heirs of deceased opposite party (Bhagwan Das) on the application of the revisionist, expeditiously preferably within a period of four months from the date of production of certified copy of this order before him without granting unnecessary adjournment to the parties.

13. With the above observations, the writ petition is allowed. No order as to costs.

(2022) 9 ILRA 686
APPALLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 02.09.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DEVENDRA KUMAR UPADHYAYA, J.
THE HON'BLE SHREE PRAKASH SINGH, J.

Writ A No.182 of 2021

C/M Narpati Singh Inter College Hardoi ...Appellant

Versus

Vipin Kumar & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant:
SriSantosh Kr. Yadav Warsi

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C., Sri Amit Kumar Gupta,Sri Surendra Pratap Singh

A. Service Law – Appointment – Arrears of Salary - Regulations framed under U.P. Intermediate Education Act, 1921 - Regulation 101 of Chapter III - There is a prohibition for the appointing authority to fill up any vacancy on a non-teaching post without prior approval of the District Inspector of Schools. The appointing authority, in fact, has been injuncted by the said provisions not to fill up any vacancy on a non-teaching post except with the prior approval of the District Inspector of Schools. The said provision simply construed would mean that before issuing appointment order, approval of the District Inspector of Schools (DIOS) is needed. (Para 13)

Recruitment to a class IV post in a recognized aided institution in the State of U.P. is governed by Regulation 101 of Chapter III of the Regulations framed under U.P. Intermediate Education Act. The said Regulations having been framed under the aforesaid Act are statutory in nature and hence, binding. Any process of appointment in deviation of such statutory provisions cannot be justified and will in fact not confer any right on any such person, of either being appointed or continued or paid salary of the post concerned. (Para 11, 15)

In the entire writ petition, no document or any other material has been annexed whereby it can be inferred that before issuance of appointment order, any prior approval to the selection/appointment of the respondent Nos. 1 and 2 was accorded by the DIOS. (Para 10, 17)

B. No finding has been returned in the judgment under appeal, passed by learned Single Judge about non-compliance/compliance of the statutory provisions of Regulation 101. (Para 20)

At the time of filing of writ petition learned Single Judge had passed the interim order on 23.09.2002 directing therein the respondents in the writ petition shall pay the salary to respondent Nos. 1 and 2-petitioners and further that they shall be allowed to continue till the next date of listing. (Para 18)

C. There lies a difference between permission/approval required for initiating the process of recruitment/ appointment/selection and prior approval required for appointment. In the first case, approval shall precede the selection process whereas in the second case the approval has to follow the selection process, that is say, prior approval is needed before issuance of the appointment order or before actual appointment is made. (Para 21)

The DIOS passed the order on 19.07.2010 for ensuring compliance of the interim order passed by learned Single Judge on 14.09.2009 coupled with the earlier interim order dated 23.09.2002. In compliance of the said order, the DIOS accorded his approval to the appointment of respondent Nos. 1 and 2 against the vacancies which had occurred on account of superannuation of earlier regular class IV employees, namely, Sunder Lal and Sarwan Lal (on 31.08.2006 and 31.08.2009, respectively). Thus, respondent Nos. 1 and 2 will be entitled to salary and all other service related benefits with effect from the said date i.e. with effect from 19.07.2010 and not from any prior date. (Para 19, 24)

Therefore, the judgment and order passed by learned Single Judge dated 08.01.2020 passed in WP No. 5223 (S/S) of 2002 is modified by providing that respondent Nos. 1 and 2 shall be entitled to payment of salary with effect from 19.07.2010 i.e. w.e.f. date the DIOS accorded his approval to their appointment. They shall also be entitled to all service benefits only w.e.f. 19.07.2010 and not with effect from any retrospective date. (Para 25)

D. Words and Phrases – 'prior approval' – Prior approval for appointment as required by Regulation 101 as quoted above, connotes a different meaning and it covers a different exigency. Such prior approval is required to be obtained from the DIOS before the appointment order is issued, meaning thereby before selected person is actually appointed. Such prior approval follows completion of appointment/recruitment/selection process. (Para 16)

Special appeal disposed off. (E-4)

Precedent followed:

1. Dhruv Kumar Pandey & anr. Vs St. of U.P. & ors., 2020 (4) ADJ 599 (Para 21)

Precedent distinguished:

1. Preet Kumar Srivastava Vs St. of U.P. thru' Secondary Edu. & others, 2011 (9) ADJ 591 (Para 6)

2. Kunda Motiram Bodalkar Vs Swami Vivemanand Shikshan Sanstha & ors., (2010) 6 SCC 712 (Para 6)

Present special appeal assails judgment and order dated 08.01.2020, passed by learned Single Judge in Writ Petition No.5223 (S/S) of 2002.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Devendra Kumar Upadhyaya, J.

&

Hon'ble Shree Prakash Singh, J.)

(Order on application for Condonation of Delay)

1. Having heard learned counsel for respective parties and having gone through the contents of the affidavit filed in support of the application seeking condonation of delay, we are satisfied that delay has sufficiently been explained.

2. Accordingly, application is allowed and the delay in preferring the special appeal is hereby condoned.

(Order on memo of appeal)

3. Heard Sri Santosh Kumar Yadav "Warsi" learned counsel for appellant-Committee of Management of the Institution in question, Sri Surendra Pratap Singh, learned counsel for respondent nos.1 and 2, and learned Standing Counsel for the State-respondents.

4. Under challenge in this intra-court appeal filed under Chapter VIII Rule 5 of the Rules is the judgment and order dated 08.01.2020 passed by learned Single Judge in Writ Petition No.5223 (S/S) of 2002 whereby learned Single Judge has directed that appointment of respondent nos.1 and 2-petitioners shall be treated to have been approved and further that they shall be given arrears of their salary with effect from the date they were given appointment. Learned Single Judge has also observed that all consequential benefits of seniority and promotion shall also be extended to respondent nos.1 and 2 from the date of their appointment.

5. It has been argued by learned counsel for appellant-Committee of Management of the Institution that in absence of any material to arrive at a conclusion that the very initial appointment of respondent nos.1 and 2-petitioners was made in conformity with the statutory requirement of the then existing Regulation 101 of Chapter III of Regulations framed under U.P. Intermediate Education Act, 1921, the directions issued by learned Single Judge in the judgment and order under appeal are erroneous. He has further argued that non-fulfillment of statutory requirement in the matter of appointment where payment of salary of the incumbent is charged with the State Exchequer, has to be necessarily in conformity with the Rules regulating the conditions of service which will include the recruitment. In this view, submission is that since the very initial appointment of respondent nos.1 and 2 was not lawful, hence the directions issued by learned Single Judge cannot be permitted to be sustained.

6. On the other hand, learned counsel for respondent nos.1 and 2 has submitted that there is no error in the judgment rendered by learned Single Judge for the reason that the same is based on pronouncement of law made by this Court in the case of Preet Kumar Srivastava vs. State of U.P. thru' Secondary Edu. & others, reported in 2011 (9) ADJ 591. He has further stated that once this Court passed interim order on 14.09.2009 which was complied with by the District Inspector of Schools by passing the order dated 19.07.2010, prior approval of appointment of respondent nos.1 and 2-petitioners will be deemed to have been accorded. He has also relied in this regard upon a judgment rendered by Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Kunda Motiram Bodalkar vs. Swami Vivemanand Shikshan Sanstha and others, reported in (2010) 6 SCC 712 and has submitted that once the post is created after sanction by the competent authority, the permission to fill up the same is intrinsic in such sanction/creation of the post. It has, thus, been argued that there was no illegality so far as the appointment of respondent nos.1 and 2 is concerned and accordingly it has been submitted by learned counsel for respondents that the special appeal needs to be dismissed.

7. Learned Standing Counsel has also made his submission and has argued that requirement of Regulation 101 of Chapter III of the Regulations as referred to herein above is a mandatory requirement and in absence of fulfillment of said statutory requirement, the very initial appointment of respondent nos.1 and 2-petitioners cannot be said to be lawful. He has further stated that the order dated 19.07.2010 passed by the District Inspector of Schools was only to ensure the compliance of the order dated 14.09.2009 passed by this Court, however, such compliance, in fact, was subject to final decision of the writ petition and thus learned Single Judge has fell in error in not considering the issue as to whether the appointment of respondent nos.1 and 2 was in accordance with the provisions contained in Regulation 101 or not. His submission is that in fact, since the very initial appointment of respondent nos.1 and 2 was unlawful, the direction issued by the learned Single Judge to treat the said appointment to have been approved, is erroneous.

8. We have considered the submissions made by learned counsel representing the respective parties and have also perused the records available before us on this special appeal.

9. The case put up by learned counsel for respondent nos.1 and 2 before the learned Single Judge by filing Writ Petition

No. 5223 (S/S) of 2002 was that they were appointed on the posts of Orderly and Lab Assistant which are class IV posts, in the institution, namely, Narpati Singh Inter College, Madhoganj, Hardoi. It was also the case of respondent nos. 1 and 2 before the learned Single Judge that after following due process, they were appointed by means of an order dated 20.04.2002, however, since their appointment was not being approved and they were not being paid salary, they instituted writ petition which has been decided by the learned Single Judge by means of the judgment and order which is under appeal before us.

10. In the entire writ petition, no document or any other material has been annexed whereby it can be inferred that before issuance of appointment order, any prior approval to the selection/appointment of the respondent nos.1 and 2 was accorded by the District Inspector of Schools.

11. Recruitment to a class IV post in a recognized aided institution in the State of U.P. is governed by Regulation 101 of Chapter III of the Regulations framed under U.P. Intermediate Education Act. The said Regulations having been framed under the aforesaid Act are statutory in nature and hence, binding. Any process of appointment in deviation of such statutory provisions cannot be justified and will in fact not confer any right on any such person, of either being appointed or continued or paid salary of the post concerned.

12. Regulation 101 of Chapter III of the Regulations as it existed at the relevant point of time is quoted herein:-

101."The appointing authority shall not fill up any vacancy on a non-teaching staff of a recognized aided institution except with the prior approval of the Inspector".

13. From a perusal of the aforequoted provisions of Regulation 101, it is clear that there is a prohibition for the appointing authority to fill up any vacancy on a non-teaching post without prior approval of the District Inspector of Schools. The appointing authority, in fact, has been injuncted by the said provisions not to fill up any vacancy on a non-teaching post except with the prior approval of the District Inspector of Schools. The said provision simply construed would mean that before issuing appointment order, approval of the District Inspector of Schools is needed.

14. In case any vacancy against a non-teaching post in a recognized institution occurs, since the Principal is the appointing authority against a class IV posts, he needs to initiate the selection process in conformity with the Regulations. The said Regulations which existed at the relevant point of time in this case did not require the appointing authority to seek any permission or approval for initiating the process of recruitment/selection/appointment, meaning thereby on occurrence of vacancy against a class IV posts, the Principal could have initiated the process of recruitment by advertising the post, inviting applications etc. and could have proceeded with the selection. The only requirement under Regulation 101 is that before making appointment, approval of the District Inspector of Schools is required.

15. We may indicate at this juncture that there is a rationale for seeking prior approval of appointment from the District

Inspector of Schools. While the District Inspector of Schools accords his prior approval for appointment against any class IV post in a recognized institution, he is supposed to examine the relevant factors like existence of vacancy, application of rule of reservation, whether person proposed to be appointed possessed the requisite qualification, whether process of selection has been fair and all other relevant factors. It is also to be noticed that in the State of U.P. in a recognized government aided institution there is a provision for making appointment on compassionate grounds on the death of an employee working in the institution and as per the said provision in case no vacancy in the institution where the deceased employee used to work exists, it is the District Inspector of Schools who has to explore the possibility of making compassionate appointment of one member of the family of the deceased employee in any other institution. Thus, the provision for prior approval to be accorded by the District Inspector of Schools for appointment has the purpose and in case no prior approval from the District Inspector of Schools is obtained or accorded, the same in our considered opinion, will vitiate the appointment.

16. We have come across various cases where we have found that in the minds of the authorities, management of the institutions and all other concerned there exists a confusion regarding prior approval or permission for initiating the process of appointment and prior approval for appointment. There may be a situation where requirement as given in the Regulations/ Rules may be for seeking prior approval or permission of the authority concerned for initiating the very process of appointment/ selection/recruitment. This would mean that once a vacancy occurs, the appropriate authority concerned needs to be approached seeking its approval/permission to initiate the very process of recruitment/appointment/selection. This prior approval precedes the initiation of process of selection/appointment etc. However, prior approval for appointment as required by Regulation 101 as quoted above, connotes a different meaning and it covers a different exigency. Such prior approval is required to be obtained from the District Inspector of Schools before the appointment order is issued, meaning thereby before selected person is actually appointed. Such prior approval follows completion of appointment/recruitment/selection process.

17. In the instant case, as already noticed above, there is no material to show that prior approval as per requirement of Regulation 101 was accorded by the District Inspector of Schools to the alleged appointment of respondent nos.1 and 2.

18. Having observed as above, we may also notice that at the time of filing of writ petition learned Single Judge had passed the interim order on 23.09.2002 directing therein the respondents in the writ petition shall pay the salary to respondent nos.1 and 2-petitioners and further that they shall be allowed to continue till the next date of listing. However, pursuant to the said order dated 23.09.2002 they were not paid salary and subsequently learned Single Judge passed another interim order on 14.09.2009 expressing his expectation that the respondents in the writ petition shall ensure compliance of the earlier order dated 23.09.2002 as during last seven years some vacancies might have arisen on account of death/resignation/retirement/ promotion of the employee.

19. In compliance of the said order dated 14.09.2009, an order has been passed by the District Inspector of Schools on 19.07.2010 wherein he has accorded his approval to the appointment of respondent nos.1 and 2-petitioners against the vacancies which had occurred on account of retirement of the regular incumbents, namely, Sunder Lal and Sarwan Lal, who are said to have retired on 31.08.2006 and 31.08.2009, respectively.

20. When we peruse the judgment under appeal passed by learned Single Judge, what we find is that no finding has been returned in the said judgment about non-compliance/compliance of the statutory provisions of Regulation 101. Learned Single Judge has relied upon a judgment in the case of Preet Kumar Srivastava (supra). However, when we peruse the said judgment, we are of the considered opinion that the said judgment in the case of Preet Kumar Srivastava does not have any application to the facts of the present case and the same does not come to the rescue of respondent nos.1 and 2 for the reason that the said judgment deals with the approval/permission required for filling up the vacancies, as already clarified above.

21. The view taken by us is supported by a Division Bench judgment rendered by this Court in the case of Dhruv Kumar Pandey and another vs. State of U.P. and others, reported in 2020 (4) ADJ 599. There lies a difference between permission/approval required for initiating the process of recruitment/appointment/ selection and prior approval required for appointment. In the first case, approval shall precede the selection process whereas in the second case the approval has to follow the selection process, that is say, prior approval is needed before issuance of the appointment order or before actual appointment is made. Thus, we are of the opinion that reliance placed by learned Single Judge in the case of Preet Kumar Srivastava (supra) is misplaced.

22. So far as the judgment cited by Sri Surendra Pratap Singh, learned counsel for respondent nos.1 and 2-petitioners in the case of Kunda Motiram Bodalkar (supra) is concerned, we may observe that the same also does not have any application to the facts of the present case for two reasons; firstly the said judgment has been rendered in the facts of the case, and secondly, the said judgment does not discuss any such provision akin to the provisions contained in Regulation 101.

23. In view of the aforesaid discussion, in our opinion, the judgment and order dated 08.01.2020 passed by learned Single Judge cannot be permitted to be sustained as it is.

24. Having noticed the aforesaid facts and legal position, we may also note that the District Inspector of Schools passed the order on 19.07.2010 for ensuring compliance of the interim order passed by learned Single Judge on 14.09.2009 coupled with the earlier interim order dated 23.09.2002. In compliance of the said order, the District Inspector of Schools accorded his approval to the appointment of respondent nos.1 and 2 against the vacancies which had occurred on account of superannuation of earlier regular class IV employees, namely, Sunder Lal and Sarwan Lal. Thus, in our opinion respondent nos.1 and 2 will be entitled to salary and all other service related benefits with effect from the said date i.e. with effect from 19.07.2010 and not from any prior date.

25. Accordingly, in view of the aforesaid discussions made, we modify the judgment and order passed by learned Single Judge dated 08.01.2020 passed in Writ Petition No.5223 (S/S) of 2002 by providing that respondent nos.1 and 2 shall be entitled to payment of salary with effect from 19.07.2010 i.e. w.e.f. date the District Inspector of Schools accorded his approval to their appointment. They shall also be entitled to all service benefits only w.e.f. 19.07.2010 and not with effect from any retrospective date. The judgment and order dated 08.01.2020 passed by learned Single Judge is modified to the aforesaid extent.

26. The special appeal is disposed of in the aforesaid terms.

(2022) 9 ILRA 692
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 05.09.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DEVENDRA KUMAR UPADHYAYA, J.
THE HON'BLE SHREE PRAKASH SINGH, J.

Special Appeal No.387 of 2022

Dr. Ram Manohar Lohia Awadh University & Ors. ...Appellants

Versus

State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellants:
Sri Lalta Prasad Misra, Sri Atul Chander Dwivedi, Sri Prafulla Tiwari

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C., Pt. S. Chandra, Sri Sanjay Kumar Singh

A. Civil Law - U.P. State Universities Act, 1973 – Issue - Whether the University has the statutory power to debar a college from acting as an examination center - Held - Section 29 (2) of the Act empowers the Examination Committee to supervise generally all examinations of the University & perform various functions as given in its sub-clauses (a) to (d), however functions assigned to the Examination Committee in Sub-clauses (a) to (d) of Section 29 (2) of the Act are not exhaustive - the word 'generally' in S. 29 (2) empowers the Examination Committee to take all possible actions and steps which are necessary and required for supervising all examinations of the University - S. 29 madates the University to ensure fairness in the examinations at the examination centres – Further Sub-clause (xvii) of Section 21(1) gives ample and all encompassing powers to the Executive Council, the principal executive body of the University, to regulate and determine all matters concerning the Institutes including affiliated and associated colleges etc - If mass copying is reported at an examination center, it becomes the statutory duty of the Examination Committee under Section 29 to debar the college from acting as an examination center (Para 20, 21, 22)

B. Civil Law - Administrative Law - Government order - any Government Order issued by the State Government has to be read only in addition to the statutory authority or power vested in the authorities of the University and not in derogation of the said powers and authority available to the University under the U.P. State Universities Act, 1973 – Court declined to accept the argument that As per Government Order dated 03.01.2020, it is only the State Government, which possesses the authority to pass an order of debarring and not the University authorities including the Examination Committee (Para 30)

C. Civil Law - Natural Justice - Show Cause notice - show cause notice issued to the College to submit its reply in the matter relating to mass copying, however it did not make any mention of intended action of the University to cancel the College from being the Examination Centre - Held - Examination Controller intimated the College, to be present for personal hearing in the matter relating to mass copying - Although the specific intended action was not explicitly stated, the court concluded that, considering the importance of maintaining the integrity of university examinations, the proceedings following the show cause notice were valid (Para 26)

Allowed. (E-5)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Devendra Kumar Upadhyaya, J.
&
Hon'ble Shree Prakash Singh, J.)

1. Heard learned counsel for the appellants, learned counsel representing the State-respondents and Dr. Sanjay Kumar Singh, learned counsel representing the respondent Nos. 3 and 4.

2. This intra-court appeal challenges the judgment and order dated 28.07.2022, passed by the learned Single Judge in Writ-C No.122 of 2022, whereby the said writ petition filed by the respondent Nos. 3 and 4 has been allowed and the order challenged therein, dated 22.12.2021 whereby the College in question was debarred from becoming the examination center for the period of six years, has been quashed.

3. Submission of learned counsel for the appellants is that the learned Single Judge while allowing the writ petition filed by the College has not appropriately construed to the provisions contained in the Statute 10.04 of the First Statutes of Dr. Ram Manohar Lohia Avadh University, Faizabad and as such the judgment and order under appeal is not sustainable. It has further been argued that the matter relating to mass copying, as was alleged against the College, was considered firstly by a Sub-Committee and thereafter by the Examination Committee and finally by the Executive Council of the University and hence the finding recorded by the learned Single Judge that there is no specific provision either in the U.P. State Universities Act or in the First Statutes framed by the University to debar a college from acting as examination center, erroneous. It has further been stated on behalf of the appellants that the finding recorded by the learned Single Judge that the decision of the University debarring the College from acting as examination center is without any statutory backing is also erroneous in view of the provisions contained in Section 21 of the U.P. State Universities Act, read with Statute 10.04 of the First Statutes of the University concerned.

4. On the other hand, Dr. Sanjay Kumar Singh, learned counsel representing the College, while supporting the judgment and order passed by the learned Single Judge which is under appeal herein, has argued that as a matter of fact the University authorities did not have any jurisdiction or power to debar the College from acting as examination center in view of the provisions contained in Government Order dated 03.01.2020. It has further been argued by him that there has been no complaint, whatsoever, against the College and that it has all along been functioning as an examination center without any complaint from any corner. Dr. Singh has also argued that the entire action which ultimately resulted in debarring the College from functioning as an examination center has precipitated on account of malafide on behalf of the University authorities for the reason that in a certain matter the contempt proceedings were instituted by the College against the University authorities. Drawing our attention to Clause 11 of the Government Order dated 03.01.2020, it has been argued by Dr. Singh that only those colleges shall not be assigned to act as an examination center where some report by the officers regarding mass copying has been sent which has necessitated re-examination of the students and where the Examination Committee of the Government has taken a decision to debar. Thus, the submission is that it is the State Government which possesses the authority to pass an order of debarring in terms of the Government Order dated 03.01.2020 and not the University authorities including the Examination Committee. Submission is, thus, that the Special Appeal is liable to be dismissed at its threshold.

5. We have considered the rival submissions made by the learned counsel representing the respective parties and have also perused the record available before us on this Special Appeal.

6. The College, in question, namely, Maa Tilsera Devi P.G. College, Bhasra, Post Office Tanda, District Ambedkar Nagar is a College affiliated to Dr. Ram Manohar Lohia Avadh University and is imparting education upto the Post Graduation level. On 13.08.2021 examination of B.A. III students of Home Science Paper II was being held and the University authorities came to know certain irregularities relating to alleged mass copying indulged in by the students and accordingly a Press Release appears to have been issued by the University on 24.09.2021 whereby it was pronounced that the College has been debarred from functioning as an examination center. The said Press Note dated 24.09.2021 became the subject matter of challenge before this Court in Writ Petition No.26879(MS) of 2021 instituted by the College. The Writ Petition was allowed and the Press Release which was challenged in the said writ petition was quashed. The University authorities were directed to issued a show cause notice and after giving opportunity of hearing to the College, pass a fresh order in accordance with law.

7. Pursuant to the said order dated 23.11.2021 passed by this Court, the Examination Controller constituted a Sub-Committee on 30.11.2021 comprised of 5 members which was chaired by the Professor Rajiv Gaur, Head of the Department of Microbiology in the University. The said Sub-Committee was given instructions to give opportunity of hearing to the College and submit its report.

8. The meeting of the Sub-Committee was convened to be held on 06.12.2021 and a notice to the said effect was also issued by the Examination Controller on 31.11.2021. The College, in question, was also issued a show cause notice on 30.11.2021 whereby the College was required to appear before the Sub-Committee as constituted above and submit its reply in writing as well as orally in the matter relating to mass copying reported in the College concerned.

9. Pursuant to the said notice, the meeting of Sub-Committee was held on 06.12.2021 wherein apart from the members of the Sub-Committee constituted by the Examination Controller on 30.11.2021, the Principal of the College was also present who appended his signature on the attendance sheet after stating therein that apart from written submission made on behalf of the College, he does not have anything to state either in writing or orally. The written explanation submitted by the Principal of the College to the show cause notice, dated 06.12.2021 is also on record at page 59 of the Special Appeal whereby the Principal of the College apologized for the mistakes found and he further stated that College may be pardoned. In the reply, it was further stated that the allegation relating to use of unfair means on the students may also be cancelled and accordingly result of the students may be declared.

10. Thus, from a perusal of the reply given by the College through its Principal before the Sub-Committee in its meeting held on 06.12.2021, it is more than clear that the allegation relating to mass copying on the examination date, namely, on 13.08.2021 was rather admitted by the College and it is on the basis of such admission that the College requested the Sub-Committee members to pardon the College and after clearing the matter relating to use of unfair means by the students, to declare their result. The Sub-Committee accordingly made a recommendation by means of minutes of the meeting held on 06.12.2021 and clearly found that in the College in question there has been mass copying in the Home Science Paper II of B.A. Part III examination held in the main examination, 2021. The Committee also opined that such mass copying is against the academic environment of the University and that such situation may be remedial so that same may not have any adverse impact on the future of the meritorious students of the University.

11. When we peruse the minutes of the meeting of the Sub-Committee, dated 06.12.2021, what we find is that the Committee had not made the aforesaid recommendations only on the basis of admission of the irregularities which occurred on the date of examination i.e. on 13.08.2021 by the College but the Committee members also examined the answer books of the students and found that the seriatim of the answers written by the students is the same in all the answer books and the only difference is that the spellings of certain words used by the students appear to be at variance. The Committee, however, also found that the students by using wrongly spelt words have attempted to convey the same meaning in their respective answers.

12. Accordingly, it is clear that the Committee's finding about indulgence in mass copying is not based solely on the admission of the College; rather it is also based on the scrutiny of the material available before the Committee objectively.

13. The recommendations of the said Sub-Committee, dated 06.12.2021 were placed before the Examination Committee which a statutory body created under Section 29 of the U.P. State Universities Act. The said Examination Committee in its meeting held on 13.12.2021 considered the recommendations made by the Sub-Committee and accordingly took a decision to debar the College in the light of the report available before it, for a period of 6 years. The decision of the Examination Committee was placed before the Executive Council of the University which is the apex decision making body of the University in terms of the provisions contained in Section 21 of the U.P. State Universities Act. The Executive Council considered the entire matter in its meeting held on 19.12.2021 and approved the decision taken by the Examination Committee for debarring the College in question.

14. In the light of the aforesaid facts and the legal position, when we examine the judgment under appeal before us passed by the learned Single Judge, what we find is that primarily the learned Single Judge has given two reasons for quashing the decision of the University debarring the College in question. The first reason given by the learned Single Judge is that the impugned decision lacks statutory frame work conferring any authority or power upon the University authorities under the U.P. State Universities Act or the First Statutes made thereunder to debar a College from functioning as an Examination Center. The second reason indicated by the learned Single Judge is that the show cause notice which preceded the decision of the University which was challenged in the writ petition did not make clear as to for what purpose the show cause notice was given, that is to say it did not make any mention of intended action against the College.

15. So far as the first reason given by the learned Single Judge for allowing the writ petition is concerned, we may first refer to the provisions of Section 29 of the U.P. State Universities Act. Section 29 provides that there shall be an Examination Committee in the University, the constitution of which shall be as may be provided for in the Ordinances. Sub-section (2) of Section 29 provides that the Examination Committee shall supervise generally all examinations of the University and will have certain functions mentioned therein. Sub-section (3) of Section 29 empowers the Examination Committee to appoint sub-committees and further to delegate one or more persons or sub-committees the power to deal with and decide cases relating to use of unfair means by the examinee. Sub-section (4) of Section 29 empowers the Examination Committee or the Sub-committee to debar an examinee from future examinations of the College under certain conditions.

16. Quoting Sub-section (3) of Section 29, learned Single Judge has observed in the judgment and order under appeal that the said provision only empowers the Examination Committee to take decision relating to use of unfair means by the examinee. Learned Single Judge has also referred to Statute 10.04 of the First Statutes and has observed that under the said provision, the Examination Committee is empowered only to make any place a center of written examination and has thus observed that neither the Statute 10.04 nor Section 29 empowers the Examination Committee to take any decision in relation to debarment of College to function as examination center.

17. When we examine Section 29 of the Act, what we find is that the Examination Committee is a statutory Committee which is to be constituted in accordance with the Ordinances. Sub-section (2) of Section 29 is relevant to be referred at this juncture. It provides that Examination Committee shall supervise generally all examinations of the University. It further provides that it shall supervise all the examinations including moderation, tabulation and perform other functions :

18. Section 29 of the State Universities Act is quoted as under :

"29. Examinations Committee. - (1) There shall be an Examinations Committee in the University, the constitution of which shall be as may be provided for in the Ordinances.

(2) Except as provided in sub-section (2) of Section 42, the Committee shall supervise generally all examinations of the University, including moderation and tabulation, and perform the following other functions, namely :

(a) to appoint examiners and moderators and if necessary, to remove them;

(b) to review from time to time the results of University examinations and submission of reports thereon to the Academic Council;

c) to make recommendations to the Academic Council for the improvement of the examination system;

(d) to scrutinise the list of examiners proposed by the Board of Studies, finalise the same and declare the result of the University.

(3) The Examinations Committee may appoint such number of sub-committees as it thinks fit, and in particular may delegate to any one or more persons or sub-committees the power to deal with and decided cases relating to the use of unfair means by the examinees.

[(4) Notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, it shall be lawful for an Examinations Committee or, as the case may be, for a sub-committee or any person to whom the Examinations Committee has delegated its power in this behalf under subsection (3), to debar an examinee from future examinations of the University, if in its or his opinion, such examinee is guilty of using unfair means at any such examination.]

19. In our considered opinion, the occurrence of word "generally' in Sub-section (2) of Section 29 empowers the Examination Committee to take all possible actions and steps which are necessary and required for supervising all examinations of the University. The affiliated colleges impart education and they are affiliated to the privileges of the University which gives such Colleges a right to make their students appear in the examinations to be conducted by the University and it is only once the students are declared passed in the examinations conducted by the University that they are conferred with Degrees. Accordingly for conferment of the Degree since it is incumbent on the students studying in the affiliated Colleges to have passed the examination, it becomes solemn duty of the University to ensure that examinations are conducted in the most fair manner, otherwise, in case the University fails to conduct its examinations in a fair manner, degrees being conferred on the students will loose their sanctity academically and even otherwise.

20. The functions assigned to the Examination Committee in Sub-clauses (a) to (d) of Sub-section (2) of Section 29 of the Act cannot thus be held to be exhaustive. Similarly the functions such as moderation and tabulation occurring in Sub-section (2) are also not exhaustive for the reason of occurrence of word "generally' in the said provision.

21. In view of the aforesaid discussion, we are of the clear opinion that setting up of an examination center for ensuring that examinations are held properly and in the most fair manner and ensuring fairness in the examinations at the examination centers are not only the statutory duties cast upon the Examination Committee under Section 29; rather the said provision empowers the Examination Committee to take all such steps which shall ensure fair examinations. In a situation where mass copying by the students at the examination center is reported and it is even admitted by none other than the Principal of the College himself, debarring such College from functioning as an examination center for future examinations becomes the statutory duty cast on the Examination Committee under Section 29 of the U.P. State Universities Act.

22. For the reasons aforesaid, we are of the opinion that it not only that the Examination Committee is statutorily empowered to take such action as debarring the College from functioning as Examination Center under Section 29 but taking such action in such a situation becomes its statutory duty as well.

23. Apart from the above, we may also refer to the provisions contained in Section 21 of the U.P. State Universities Act. Section 21 defines the powers and duties of the Executive Council. The opening phrase in Section 21 says that the Executive Council shall be the principal executive body of the University. It further says that Executive Council shall have certain powers mentioned in the said provision subject to the provisions of the Act. One of the powers listed in Section 21(1) is "to regulate and determine all other matters concerning the University as well as Institutes, constituent, affiliated and associated colleges in accordance with this Act, the Statutes and the Ordinances". Thus, Sub-clause (xvii) of Section 21(1) gives ample and all en- compassing powers to the Executive Council not only to regulate but to determine as well all other matters concerning the Institutes including affiliated and associated colleges etc. Conduct of examination, as observed above, by the University is a solemn act and not only solemnity but also the fairness has to be maintained by all measures by the University for the purpose of saving the University's reputation as body imparting education and conferring degrees only to deserving students.

24. In the instant case, the decision taken by the Examination Committee was discussed and accordingly approved by the Executive Council in its meeting held on 19.12.2021 which, in our considered opinion, has the necessary statutory authority to take such decision in terms of the provisions contained in Section 21(1) (xvii) of the U.P. State Universities Act.

25. For the aforesaid reasons, we find ourselves unable to agree with the finding recorded by the learned Single Judge in the judgment and order under appeal herein that the decision of the University authorities to debar the College in question from functioning as an examination center is not backed by statutory authority.

26. So far as the other reason indicated by the learned Single Judge that the show cause notice did not indicate the intended action of the University against the College, is concerned, we may only observe that in the earlier round of the litigation, this Court has already noticed that the College was debarred and accordingly Press Release was quashed by means of judgment and order dated 23.11.2021 with the direction to the University authorities to issue a show cause notice and give opportunity to the College and then pass fresh order. Even otherwise, if we examine the show cause notice dated 30.11.2021, what we find is that the Examination Controller has intimated the College, of the constitution of the Committee and has also required the College to be present for personal hearing in the matter relating to mass copying. Merely because the intended action was not indicated in so many specific words, in our considered opinion, in this particular case where the sanctity of the university examinations was at stake, it will not vitiate the proceedings drawn consequent upon the show cause notice dated 30.11.2021. Thus, in this respect as well we are not able to find ourselves in agreement with the finding recorded by the learned Single Judge.

27. So far as the allegation of malafide etc. is concerned, once the principal of the College appeared before the Committee and clearly submitted that College has nothing to say orally except what has been stated in the written reply, we do not find any force in such a submission of learned counsel for the College. The reason for our not accepting the submission is that the Principal of the College has neither orally nor in the written reply, dated 06.12.2021 has anywhere taken the plea of malafide and malice against the University authorities and accordingly, in absence of any plea taken by the College in the said reply, such submission cannot be accepted.

28. At this juncture, learned counsel representing the College has stated that as a matter of fact, the endorsement said to have made by the Principal of the College on the attendance sheet, dated 06.12.2021 was made for the reason that the Committee members had applied undue influence and compelled the Principal of the College to give something in writing as they wanted to subside and resolve the matter.

29. We are afraid, we cannot agree with the said submission as well, for the simple reason that there is nothing on record which can even remotely indicate that the Principal of the College after allegedly being coerced or influenced in the meeting held on 06.12.2021 reported such coercion to any authority either in the State Government authority or in the University. For the said reason, the submission made by the learned counsel for the respondents is rejected.

30. Learned counsel representing the College has also relied upon Clause 11 of the Government Order dated 03.01.2020. In respect to the said submission, we are of the considered opinion that any Government Order issued by the State Government has to be read only in addition to the statutory authority or power vested in the authorities of the University and not in derogation of the said powers and authority available to the University under the U.P. State Universities Act, 1973.

31. For the reasons given and the discussions made above, we conclude that the judgment and order dated 28.07.2022 passed by the learned Single Judge is erroneous and hence is not sustainable.

32. Resultantly, the Special Appeal is allowed and judgment and order dated 28.07.2022, passed by the learned Single Judge is hereby set aside. The Writ Petition, namely, Writ-C No. 122 of 2022, thus, stands dismissed.

33. There will be no order as to costs.

(2022) 9 ILRA 700
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 24.06.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. KAUSHAL JAYENDRA THAKER, J.
THE HON'BLE GAUTAM CHOWDHARY, J.

Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No. 7878 of 2022

Iqbal & Ors. ...Petitioners
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioners:
Sri Sunil Kumar Upadhyay

Counsel for the Respondents:
G.A., Sri Ajay Kumar Maurya, Sri H.N. Shukla

Criminal Law- Constitution of India- Article 226- Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973- Section 154- First Information Report-Indian Penal Code, 1860- Sections 376, 354, 323, 504 & 506 I.P.C. and Dowry Prohibition Act- Section ¾- Quashing of F.I.R on basis of Compromise- Marital dispute has been culminated into lodgement of the impugned F.I.R. registered in aforesaid case crime. The petitioners are alleged to have committed the offence under Sections 376, 354, 323, 504, 506 I.P.C, out of those five Sections, Sections 323, 504, 506 I.P.C. are compoundable. Although, Sections 354 read with Section 376 I.P.C. and 3/4 of Dowry Prohibition Act are not compoundable but if the parties wants to live peacefully married life, the same does not make a bar- criminal proceedings of private nature can be quashed under Section 482 Cr.P.C. even if the trial has concluded in conviction, in case, if the parties wants to resolve their dispute, which is not of serious nature and the dispute is not one, which is opposed to public policy. The powers vested under Article 226 of the Constitution are much more than under Section 482 Cr.P.C and therefore by exercising the said powers, this Court can quashed the F.I.R- It is inherent powers of the High Court, in such matters that can be invoked where the Court is satisfied that the parties have willingly decided to bury their dispute- The offence stems out discordance, which is a reason for lodging of the impugned F.I.R, but it is shown that the respondent no.3/first informant decided to give up the case and therefore, as the offence under Section 323, 504, 506 I.P.C. are compoundable, the same are permitted as compounded. So far as the Sections 376, 354 I.P.C. is concerned, it cannot be said that any offence is committed as the victim has not been medically examined and also in view of the fact that once the parties have decided that they do not wish to contest the matter, the F.I.R. ought to have be quashed.

Settled law that where the criminal prosecution arises out of a private or personal dispute, including that arising out of marital discord, the offences are not serious or grave, are not opposed to public policy and the parties have amicably decided to compromise the matter, then under the exercise of it's powers under Article 226 or under Section 482 of the Cr.Pc , the High Court can quash the F.I.R / criminal proceedings even in non-compoundable offences. (Para 4, 6, 8)

Criminal Writ Petition allowed. (E-3)

Judgements/ Case law relied upon:-

1. Jitendra Raghuvanshi & ors. Vs Babita Raghuvanshi & anr.,(2013) 4 SCC 58

2. Rajendra Bhagat Vs St. of Jhar. @ Anr, 2022 Live Law (SC) 34

3. Bitan Sengupta Vs St. of W.B, (2018) 18 SCC 366

4. B.S.Joshi Vs St. of Har., (2003) 4 SCC 675

5. Rajeev Kourav Vs Baisahab MANU 0163 SC 2022

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Kaushal Jayendra Thaker, J.
&
Hon'ble Gautam Chowdhary, J.)

1. Heard learned counsel for the petitioners, learned A.G.A. and Sri Ajay Kumar Maurya, learned counsel, who has put in appearance on behalf of the respondent no.3.

2. By way of this petition, the accused-petitioners prays for quashment of the impugned first information report dated 21.04.2022 registered in Case Crime No. 93 of 2022 under Sections 376, 354, 323, 504, 506 I.P.C. and Section 3/4 of Dowry Prohibition Act, Police Station Mainather, District Moradabad and also for staying his arrest in respect of the aforesaid first information report.

3. Learned counsel for the petitioners as well as learned counsel for the respondent no.3 have jointly submitted that the matrimonial discord between the parties have been amicably settled and that the respondent no.3 does not to proceed with the matter. In this regard, short counter affidavit has also been filed by the respondent no.3 and thus the impugned F.I.R. may be quashed.

4. Marital dispute has been culminated into lodgement of the impugned F.I.R. dated 21.04.2022 registered in aforesaid case crime. The petitioners are alleged to have committed the offence under Sections 376, 354, 323, 504, 506 I.P.C, out of those five Sections, Sections 323, 504, 506 I.P.C. are compoundable. Although, Sections 354 read with Section 376 I.P.C. and 3/4 of Dowry Prohibition Act are not compoundable but if the parties wants to live peacefully married life, the same does not make a bar. The Investigation papers has been produced by Counsel for the State, which shows that no offence under Sections 376, 354 I.P.C. is made out against the petitioners.

5. Prima facie, looking to the F.I.R., investigation is continuing, although short counter affidavit filed by the counsel for the respondent no.3 contains the averments that the proceedings initiated by the wife in a very haste manner, which may not be permitted to be carried on, as the matter has been settled between the parties and thus the F.I.R. may be quashed.

6. The Gujarat High Court has recently held that criminal proceedings of private nature can be quashed under Section 482 Cr.P.C. even if the trial has concluded in conviction, in case, if the parties wants to resolve their dispute, which is not of serious nature and the dispute is not one, which is opposed to public policy. The powers vested under Article 226 of the Constitution are much more than under Section 482 Cr.P.C and therefore by exercising the said powers, this Court can quashed the F.I.R.

7. The Apex Court Judgements rendered in the matter of Jitendra Raghuvanshi and others Vs. Babita Raghuvanshi and another reported in (2013) 4 SCC 58, Rajendra Bhagat Vs. State of Jharkhand @ Anr, 2022 Live Law (SC) 34, Bitan Sengupta Vs. State of West Bengal (2018) 18 SCC 366, B.S.Joshi Vs.

State of Haryana (2003) 4 SCC 675 will also enure for the benefit of the present accused-petitioners. The Judgement of this Court, though of single Judge rendered in the matter of Pramod and another Vs. State of U.P. and another decided on 23.02.2021 will also enure for the benefit of the accused-petitioners. It is inherent powers of the High Court, in such matters that can be invoked where the Court is satisfied that the parties have willingly decided to bury their dispute.

8. It is very clear that the petitioners have prima facie committed the said offence. Perusal of the F.I.R. reveals that the same was registered on the basis that cognizable offence is disclosed and thus there is no force in the contention of learned counsel for the petitioners that no cognizable offence is made out against the petitioners. The fact that the first informant/respondent no.3 as well as the petitioners have compromised the matter before the village peoples, who have also given an affidavit, which are annexed collectively as Annexure-3 to the writ petition. As the first informant/respondent no.3 has not been medically examined by the police and therefore the provisions of Section 376 I.P.C. as alleged cannot be said to be made out. The offence stems out discordance, which is a reason for lodging of the impugned F.I.R, but it is shown that the respondent no.3/first informant decided to give up the case and therefore, as the offence under Section 323, 504, 506 I.P.C. are compoundable, the same are permitted as compounded. So far as the Sections 376, 354 I.P.C. is concerned, it cannot be said that any offence is committed as the victim has not been medically examined and also in view of the fact that once the parties have decided that they do not wish to contest the matter, the F.I.R. ought to have be quashed. The Judgement rendered by Hon'ble Apex Court in the matter of Rajeev Kourav Vs. Baisahab MANU 0163 SC 2022 will also enure for the benefit of the present petitioners.

9. In view of above, the first information report dated 21.04.2022 for the offence committed on 01.10.2021 i.e. before six months, registered in Case Crime No. 93 of 2022 under Sections 376, 354, 323, 504, 506 I.P.C. and Section 3/4 of Dowry Prohibition Act, Police Station Mainather, District Moradabad, is quashed.

10. The petition is allowed.

11. The Police officials shall not take any further steps in the matter.

12. We are thankful to Sri Sunil Kumar Yadav, learned counsel for the petitioners and Sri Ajay Kumar Maurya, learned counsel for the respondent no.4 for rendering their assistance to this Court.

(2022) 9 ILRA 702
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 07.09.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SUNEET KUMAR, J.
THE HON'BLE SYED WAIZ MIAN, J.

Crl. Misc. Writ Petition No. 7051 of 2022

Manoj Singh & Anr. ...Petitioners
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioners:
Sri Pramod Kumar Pandey, Sri Durgesh Kumar Singh, Sri Shyam Singh

Counsel for the Respondents:
G.A., Sri Rajendra Singh

Constitution of India- Article 226- Indian Penal Code, 1860- Sections 419, 420, 467, 468 & 471 - For quashing the impugned First Information Report- The allegations in the First Information Report taken on face value give rise to disputes of pure civil nature- No civil suit has been instituted- The will bequeathing the property upon the petitioner is a duly registered document. The validity of the will is yet to be challenged before the competent court. The mutation proceedings are summary proceedings and does not create any title upon any person, rather, acknowledges the possession of the property and for the purposes of revenue collection- Unless the will is challenged before the competent court, the criminal proceedings has been initiated maliciously to coerce the petitioner to enter into a compromise out side the court. It is a case of pure civil nature given criminal colour with ulterior motive.

Settled law that where the allegations made in the F.I.R disclose a purely civil dispute, and instead of availing the remedy before the competent civil court the criminal proceedings have been instituted maliciously as a tool of coercion and harassment, then such F.I.R deserves to be quashed.

Constitution of India- Article 226- Power to quashment of process and exercise of inherent jurisdiction under Section 482 Cr.P.C. and/ under Article 226 of the Constitution of India is for the purpose that Criminal proceeding ought not to be permitted to be used as weapon of harassment. Hence, the Court is satisfied that Criminal Proceedings amounting to an abuse of process of law or that it amounts to bring pressure upon the accused in exercise of inherent powers, such proceedings can be quashed.

Where apparently the criminal proceedings amount to an abuse of process of law or that it amounts to bringing pressure upon accused then the same ought not to be permitted to degenerate into weapon of harassment and should be quashed under the exercise of powers under Article 226 of the Constitution of India or Section 482 Cr.Pc. (Para 21, 23, 24, 28, 33)

Criminal Writ Petition allowed. (E-3)

Judgements/ Case law relied upon:-

1. Mitesh Kumar J. Sha Vs St. of Kar., 2021 SCC Online SC 976

2. Prof. RK Vijayasarathy Vs Sudha Seetharam 2019 (16) SCC 739

3. St. of Har. Vs Bhajanlal (1992 Supp (1) SCC 335

4. Indian Oil Corps. Vs NEPC India Ltd. & Ors (2006) 6 SCC 736

5. Kapil Agarwal Vs Sanjay Sharma (2021 5 SCC 524)

6. Neeharika Infrastructure Pvt. Ltd. Vs St. of Maha., 2021 SCC Online SC 315

7. A.P. Mahesh Coop. Urban Bank Shareholders Welfare Asc.Vs Ramesh Kumar Bung, (2021) 9 SCC 4 152

(Delivered by Hon'ble Syed Waiz Mian, J.)

1. At the very outset, learned counsel for the respondent no. 3 submits to decide the instant writ petition, at the admission stage itself, to which learned counsel for the petitioners also expresses his agreement, thus this writ petition is being taken up for its final disposal at the stage of admission.

2. Heard Shri Pramod Kumar Pandey, learned counsel for the petitioners, learned A.G.A. for the State and Shri Rajendra Singh, learned counsel for the respondent no. 3.

3. This Criminal Misc. Writ petition, under Article 226 of the Constitution of India, has been preferred by the petitioners, Manoj Singh and his wife Sunita Singh, for quashing the impugned First Information Report, stay their arrest, and for restraining the respondents from taking any coercive steps against them, in consequence of impugned First Information Report, having been scribed on 18.04.2022, by the respondent no. 3, Vinod Kumar Singh, at Case Crime No. 69 of 2022, under Sections 419, 420, 467, 468 and 471 I.P.C., Police Station-Chandauli, District-Chandauli.

4. This Criminal Misc. Writ Petition arising out of aforementioned First Information Report. It is alleged in the said First Information 2 that petitioner no. 1 is real brother of the informant and after death of their father in the year 2003 the petitioners, by hatching a conspiracy, executed a forged and fabricated, alleged will, in their name and in Suit No. 1197 of 2021, Rekha Singh vs. Harihar Singh, got mutated their names by the Court of Tehsildar concerned, vide order dated 29.07.2021 and when it came to the knowledge of the respondent no. 3 he lodged the impugned First Information Report. It is also averred in the First Information Report that the attesting witness Shiv Poojan Singh had died on 14.07.2021, whereas, his statement is said to have been recorded on 29.07.2021. The other attesting witness, Prem Prakash, having been shown to have filed his affidavit, affirming therein that he neither filed his affidavit nor has put his signature nor has any knowledge about the alleged will. In view of the objection and affidavits having been filed in the Court of concerned Tehsildar, the exparte mutation order dated 29.07.2021 has been set-aside. 5. Learned counsel for the petitioners mentioned that the alleged will, executed by Shri Harihar Singh, before his death, was in the consideration for their rendered services, care and out of love and affection and the same is valid, genuine and true. 6. Learned counsel for the petitioners states that the impugned First Information Report is being challenged chiefly on the ground that the allegations made therein are false, frivolous and arbitrary and also on the premise that a civil dispute being given a criminal colour by way of registration of First Information Report. It is argued that the validity and authenticity of the will is predominantly and overwhelmingly of a civil nature which needs 3 to be contested before an appropriate forum having jurisdiction.

7. On behalf of the petitioners, certified copy of the First Information Report, presented by the respondent no. 3, against the petitioners, under Section 156 (3) Cr.P.C. in the Court of Chief Judicial Magistrate, Chandauli, affidavits of deponent, Sandeep Kumar Singh, statement of Shiv Poojan Singh, recorded before the Court of Tehsildar, alleged will, judgment and order of Tehsildar, concerned, in connection with Suit No. RST/00799/2020, Rekha Singh vs. Harihar Singh, under Section 34 of Revenue Code, 2006, statement of Prem Prakash Singh, recorded in the said suit have been annexed with the writ petition.

8. Learned counsel for the petitioners in support of his arguments, refers to the judgment of Hon'ble Apex Court, passed in Mitesh Kumar J. Sha v. State of Karnataka, 2021 SCC Online SC 976, wherein which in para no. 47 reads as under;

" Moreover, this Court at innumerable instances expressed its disapproval for imparting criminal color to a civil dispute, made merely to take advantage of a relatively quick relief granted in a criminal case in contrast to a civil dispute. Such an exercise is nothing but an abuse of the process of law which must be discouraged in its entirety."

9. He further relies upon judgments of Hon'ble Apex Court, in Case of Prof. RK Vijayasarathy vs. Sudha Seetharam 2019 (16) SCC 739, Para 23, State of Haryana v. Bhajanlal (1992 Supp (1) SCC 335, para 102, Indian Oil Corps. V. NEPC India Ltd. & Ors (2006) 6 SCC 736, para 12, Kapil Agarwal vs. Sanjay Sharma (2021 5 SCC 524), Neeharika Infrastructure Pvt. Ltd. v. State of Maharashtra, 2021 SCC Online SC 315, and A.P. Mahesh Coop. Urban Bank Shareholders Welfare Assn. v. Ramesh Kumar Bung, (2021) 9 SCC 4 152.

10. Next it is contended that Harihar Singh (since deceased) had bequeathed all his property by way of a registered will dated 23.08.2017, in favour of the petitioners. Further, the will has not been challenged by anyone before any competent authority till date. It is also submitted that respondent no. 3, who is admittedly real brother of petitioner no. 1, was conformably settled as he was running a well established business, hence his father did not transfer any share of his property to him, due to which the petitioners have been falsely implicated in the present criminal proceedings.

11. Learned counsel for the petitioners claims that the will is valid, true and its genuineness, validity and its execution cannot be set aside in instant criminal proceedings because the nature of dispute, with regard to will, is of civil nature. Instead of launching civil proceedings, the respondent no. 3 has preferred to take recourse to criminal proceedings just to harass them or to obtain quick relief as compared to the relief provided in the civil suit.

12. Lastly, the learned counsel for the petitioners advances the argument that in view of the facts and circumstances narrated in the petition, the impugned First Information Report dated 18.04.2022 be quashed, along with further proceedings to ensure fair and proper delivery of justice.

13. Learned A.G.A., who has received notices on behalf of the respondent nos. 1 and 2 but he did not seek time to file his reply or counter affidavit etc. For respondent no. 3 learned counsel argued at length and but has filed written submissions. He denied 5 to file counter affidavit.

14. In the written arguments, on behalf of the respondent no. 3, it is averred that the petitioners are husband and wife and out of the duo, petitioner no. 1 is real brother of the respondent no. 3, whereas, the petitioner no. 2 is his sister in law (Bhabhi). One brother, out of three, had died in the year 2003 survived by his wife namely Rekha Singh, whereas, Harihar Singh, passed away on 11.12.2019. It is further averred that their father lived all his life in Chandauli. Petitioners got an antedated forged Will prepared on 23.08.2017 with the name of the deceased and got executed at Varanasi, introducing marginal witnesses from Mirzapur and thereafter got their names mutated. When this fact came to his knowledge, the mutation order in pursuance of his restoration application was set aside and in that proceeding marginal witnesses appeared but denied the execution of Will, hence, the need of lodging the FIR arose.

15. In the instant petition, the question that arises is as to whether the allegations in the First Information Report taken on face value give rise to disputes of pure civil nature ?

16. Learned counsel for the answering respondent no. 3 refers the said controversy has been settled by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in case of Jagmohan Singh vs. Vimlesh Kumar & Ors. .....Arising out of challenge judgment of this Court. In the written objection relevant para of the same has been quoted as under:

" In this case, it appears that the High Court fell in error in taking an adverse view only because the complainant had not challenged the genuineness of the will by bringing any action in a court of law and 6 further, the respondents had brought a suit for injunction against the complainant.

There can be no doubt that in the civil suit, the burden would be on the plaintiff relying on a will to establish the genuineness of the will on the basis of which relief/ permanent injunction is claimed. However, that does not prevent the accused, who can be defendants in such a civil suit from initiating criminal proceedings on the contention that the will is forged/ fabricated."

Thus the Hon'ble Apex Court was pleased to set aside the order passed by this Court.

17. Learned counsel for the respondent no. 3 has also cited the case of Neeharika Infrastructure Pvt. Ltd. v. State of Maharashtra, 2021 SCC online SC 315. The relevant part of the said judgment is as follows: "While examining an FIR/complaint, quashing of which is sought, the court cannot embark upon an enquiry as to the reliability or genuineness or otherwise of the allegations made in the FIR/complaint."

18. Learned counsel for the answering respondent concludes his submissions by stating that since the allegations in the First Information Report disclose prima facie commission of cognizable offences, therefore, present writ petition is not sustainable in law and consequently deserves to be dismissed.

19. We have heard the rival submission of learned for the parties and also perused the record.

20. In Prof. R.K. Vijayasarthy vs. Sudha Seetharam, 2019 (16) SCC 739 the appellants has instituted a civil suit for the recovery of Rs. 20 Lakhs from the respondents, thereafter the first respondent filed complaint against her ex son in law (son of 7 appellant). The first respondent filed the complaint against the appellants six years after the date of the alleged transaction and nearly three years after the filing of the suit, interim injunction was granted by the Court, without quashing the criminal proceedings till civil suit was decided. In the said case impugned judgement and order of High Court was set aside and the criminal complaint case was quashed.

21. In the instant petition no civil suit has been instituted.

22. In State of Haryana vs. Bhajan Lal (1992) Supp (1) SCC 335), in the political rivalry between the respondent no. 1 Bhajan Lal and Devi Lal, both belonged to two rival political parties and on account of political rivalry resulted initiation of number of criminal cases and counter cases. On the presentation of complaint, by the respondent no. 2, the then Station House Officer, registered a case on the basis of the allegations in the Complaint under Sections 161 and 165 I.P.C. and Section 5 (2) of Prevention of Corruption Act No. 21 of 1987. Against the said First Information Report, respondent no. 1 filed a writ petition under Articles 226 and 227 of the Constitution of India, seeking issuance of writ of certiorari for quashing the First Information Report and also a writ of prohibition restrain the authorities from further proceedings with the investigation. High Court concluded that the allegations did not constitute cognizable offence hence granted the relief as prayed for.

23. Hon'ble Apex Court held that the order of the High Court quashing the First Information Report in question viewed from any angle cannot be sustained both on the question of law and facts. Consequently, that part of the judgment of High Court quashing 8 the First Information Report was set aside.

24. Hon'ble Supreme Court has categorized the cases, wherein, the extraordinary powers under Article 226 can be exercised. The power under Section 482 Cr.P.C. can be exercised by the High Court either to prevent abuse of process of any Court or otherwise to secure the ends of justice. Out of seven categories of cases, second category is to the fact that where the allegations in the First Information Report and other material do not disclose the cognizable offence justifying the investigation by a police officer. The First Information Report could be quashed to secure the ends of justice.

25. In Indian Oil Corps vs. NEPC India Ltd. & Ors. (2006) 6 Scc 736, the petition on behalf of the appellant, Indian Oil Corporation was preferred under Section 482 Cr.P.C. for quashing the criminal complaint. In that petition disputes were pertaining to breach of contract besides criminal complaint. The respondent Indian Oil Corporation had already sought injunction reliefs and money degrees.

26. The High Court by a common judgment had allowed both the petitions and quashed two complaints. The said order of the High Court was challenged in the above stated citations before the Hon'ble Apex Court.

27. Present petition preferred along with the aforesaid judgments. Because the petition before the Hon'ble Apex Court was preferred under Section 482 Cr.P.C., whereas, the present petition, in this Court, has been preferred under Article 226 of the Constitution of India. 9

28. Hon'ble Supreme Court also held that power to quashment of process and exercise of inherent jurisdiction under Section 482 Cr.P.C. and/ under Article 226 of the Constitution of India is for the purpose that Criminal proceeding ought not to be permitted to be used as weapon of harassment. Hence, the Court is satisfied that Criminal Proceedings amounting to an abuse of process of law or that it amounts to bring pressure upon the accused in exercise of inherent powers, such proceedings can be quashed.

29. In A.P. Mahesh Coop. Urban Bank Shareholders Welfare Assn. v. Ramesh Kumar Bung (2021) 9 SCC 152, the Hon'ble Apex Court has held that High Court is permitted to pass an interim order under Section 482 Cr.P.C., in the nature impugned herein, in only exception of cases with caution and circumspection, giving atleast brief reasons and further held that the grant of such relief by High Court was granted in proper amendment with detail reasons therein. In the matter before the Hon'ble Apex Court, there was a dispute of civil which was sought to be converted into criminal case. The Hon'ble Supreme Court stayed the further proceeding including the arrest. It was observed that more than the allegations in dispute are different turfs, such as sometime persons, who raise such dispute manage to camouflage their real motive.

30. In Neeharika Infrastructure Pvt. Ltd. v. State of Maharashtra, 2021, SCC online SC 315, the Apex Court held that by giving brief reasons, the High Court would be justified in even staying the further investigation, by way of an interim order. It is also laid down that misuse of criminal proceedings is not unknown and the criminal law cannot be set into motion as a matter of 10 course and therefore to take away the inherent powers of the High Court would not be in the larger public interest also.

31. Hon'ble Apex Court in Kapil Agrawal and others vs. Sanjay Sharma (221) 5 SCC 524 and Indian Oil Corporation vs M/S Nepc India Ltd., & Ors. reported in (2006) 6 SCC 736, laid down that inherent jurisdiction under Section 482 Cr.P.C. and/or under Article 226 of the Constitution is designed to achieve solitary purpose that criminal proceedings ought not to be permitted to degenerate into weapon of harassment. It was also opined when the Court is satisfied that criminal proceedings amount to an abuse of process of law or that it amounts to bringing pressure upon accused, in exercise of inherent powers, such proceedings can be quashed.

32. In the given facts, it is pleaded by the petitioner the informant (Vinod Kumar Singh) alleged that his brother Manoj Singh accused/petitioner had fraudulently obtained a will from their father Harihar Singh on the basis of forged documents. It is further alleged in the FIR that the petitioner was driven by greed to inherit the property, consequently, mischievously got the entire property transferred in the name of his wife Sunita Singh and their Bhabhi Rekha Singh wife of their deceased brother. It is further alleged that pursuant to the registered sale-deed the court of Tehsildar Sadar Chandauli had directed mutation of the name of the petitioner and the other beneficiary under the will. It appears that on an application moved by the complainant the order mutating the name of the petitioner has been withdrawn and the matter is pending. It is under the afore-noted facts the present FIR came to be lodged through an application filed under Section 11 156(3) Cr.P.C. alleging fraud and misrepresentation in obtaining the will, as well as, the mutation order.

33. On specific query, learned counsel for the respondent/complainant submits that the will bequeathing the property upon the petitioner is a duly registered document. The validity of the will is yet to be challenged before the competent court. The mutation proceedings are summary proceedings and does not create any title upon any person, rather, acknowledges the possession of the property and for the purposes of revenue collection.

34. In the circumstances learned counsel for the petitioner is justified in submitting that unless the will is challenged before the competent court, the criminal proceedings has been initiated maliciously to coerce the petitioner to enter into a compromise out side the court. It is a case of pure civil nature given criminal colour with ulterior motive.

35. Having regard to the facts and circumstances of the case, the FIR dated 18 April 2022 lodged by the third respondent registered as Case Crime No. 69 of 2022 under Section 419, 420, 467, 468, 471 IPC, P.S. Chandauli, District Chandauli is hereby quashed with liberty to the aggrieved party to take recourse before the competent court with regard to the validity of the will.

36. The writ petition is, accordingly, allowed.

37. No order as to cost.

(2022) 9 ILRA 709
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 28.09.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE MRS. SANGEETA CHANDRA, J.

Matter Under Article 227 No. 34234 of 2019

Subhash Chandra Chaturvedi ...Petitioner
Versus
IVth Addl. Session Judge/Spl. Judge/E.C. Act Lko & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Ram Kumar Srivastava, Mohd. Aslam Khan, Rajeev Singh

Counsel for the Respondents:
Gaurav Tripathi, Manoj Kumar, Sridhar Awasthi

Civil Law - The Constitution of India, 1952- Article 227- It is well settled that the power under Article 227 is one of judicial superintendence which cannot be used to upset conclusions of facts, however erroneous those may be, unless such conclusions are so perverse or so unreasonable that no Court could have ever reached them- There is no justification for the High Court to substitute its view for the opinion of the Authorities /Courts below as the same is not permissible in proceedings under Article 226/227 of the Constitution. This Court cannot interfere with the findings of fact recorded by Courts below unless there is no evidence to support the findings or the findings are totally perverse. As long as they are based upon some material which is relevant for the purpose, no interference is called for. Even on the ground that there is yet another view which can reasonably and possibly be taken, the High Court cannot interfere- This Court having considered the facts as pleaded by the petitioner and the private respondents in this petition and the facts and Law as appreciated by the learned Trial Court and the Appellate Court, does not filed any perversity in the appreciation of facts by the two learned Court below or any infirmity in the law as appreciated in the orders impugned.

Where concurrent findings of facts have been recorded by the courts below, then the same cannot be interfered by the High Court under its supervisory jurisdiction unless the said findings of fact are either based on no evidence or are absolutely perverse. (Para 41, 73, 75)

Petition rejected. (E-3)

Case law/ Judgements relied upon/ discussed:-

1. Lawyers Cooperative Housing Society Ltd. Agra Vs Shri Krishna Grah Nirman Samiti Limited & ors.2002 (2) Allahabad Rent Cases 415

2. Raja Ram Gupta Vs Firm Jaiswal Iron and Steel Works & ors., 1980 AWC 110

3. Smt. Vinod Rani Lamba & anr. Vs Baburam Yadav ,2017 (135) RD 427

4. Smt. Sudesh & ors. Vs A.D.J. & ors. 2006 (1) ARC 387

5. G.P. Srivastava Vs R K Raizada & ors.2000 (3) SCC 54

6. Ashraf Vs Kailash Prasad & anr. 2016 (34) LCD 3096

7. Puwada Venkateswara Rao Vs Chidamna Venkata Ramana AIR 1976 Supreme Court 869

8. Auto Cars Vs Trimurti Cargo Movers (Pvt.) Ltd. 2018 (140) RD 411

9. Smt. Sahzavin Vs A.D.J. Alld, 2013 SCC online Allahabad 13500

10. D.N. Banerjee Vs PR Mukherjee, AIR 1953 SC 58

11. Waryam Singh Vs Amarnath AIR 1954 SC 215

12. Shalini Shyam Shetty Vs Rajendra Shankar Patil 2010 (8) SCC 329

13. Garment Craft Vs Prakash Chand Goel 2022 SCC Online SC 29

14. Gurcharan Singh Vs Sujit Singh 2014 (2) SCC 140

15. Sunil Poddar Vs U.B.I, 2008 (2) SCC 326

16. Parimal Vs Veena @ Bharti 2011 (3) SCC 545

17. St. of M.P Vs Heera Lal & ors. 1996 (7) SCC 523

18. Rahul S Shah Vs Jinendra Kumar Gandhi & ors. 2021 (6) SCC 418

19. St. of M.P Vs Hira Lal & Ors.(1996) 7 SCC Page 523

20. Sunil Poddar Vs U.B.I, 2008 (2) SCC 326

21. Sulaiman Vs IV A.D.J., Muzaffarnagar ,1998 (2) JCLR 1052

22. Deepak Banerjee Vs Smt. Lilavati Chakraborty AIR 1987 Supreme Court 2055

(Delivered by Hon'ble Mrs. Sangeeta Chandra, J.)

1. This petition under Article 227 has been filed challenging the order dated 22 May 2006 which is an ex-parte decree in Regular Suit No.294 of 2013: Smt. Shashi Mishra and others versus Subhash Chandra Chaturvedi, and also the Order passed on application under Order IX Rule 13 dated 27.05.2009 rejecting the same, and the order passed in Appeal thereafter dated 27.11.2019; with a further prayer directing the Trial Court not to proceed in Execution Case No. 15/2007.

2. It is the case of the petitioner in his petition that his father was residing in Khasra No. 2188/2/3 Village Kanausi by raising a hut over it. Later on the petitioner built a two room house in 1986 and when the land came under Nagar Nigam it was allotted House No. 561/234 New Sindhu Nagar, P.S. Krishnanagar, Lucknow and he has been paying house tax to the Nagar Nigam since August 1986. One Rajendra Malviya filed Regular Suit No.49/1994 against Om Prakash Mishra the predecessor in interest of the private respondents, for possession and demolition, alleging therein that land of Khasra No. 2188/2/3 Village Kanausi belonged to him, and that Om Prakash Mishra had forcibly built his house over it. During the pendency of the Suit Rajendra Malviya executed a sale deed of the land in dispute in favour of Om Prakash Mishra on 09.11.1995. Consequently, the Suit was dismissed on 06.02.2009.

3. Om Prakash Mishra constructed a house adjacent to the house of the petitioner and the Nagar Nigam allotted House No. 561/232 in New Sindhu Nagar, PS Krishna Nagar, Lucknow. Om Prakash Mishra and others started creating disturbance in the peaceful possession of the petitioner over his House No. 561/234 and therefore the petitioner filed Regular Suit No. 144/1999 in the Court of Civil Judge (Havali) Lucknow. When Om Prakash Mishra could not succeed in his design, Shashi Misra his daughter in law and his sons filed Regular Suit No. 294/2003 praying for a decree of eviction and damages to the tune of Rs.32,000/- with interest on 28.07.2003, in the Court of Civil Judge (Senior Division) Malihabad, Lucknow. In the said Suit the petitioner was arrayed as a defendant and a wrong house number was mentioned namely House No. 561/232 - A , New Sindhu Nagar. The opposite parties managed to get an ex-parte decree on 22.05.2006 on the ground that summons were served on the defendant through publication and he had not appeared nor filed his written statement.

4. On coming to know of the ex-parte decree the petitioner filed paper number 60 C Application under Order IX Rule 13 CPC along with affidavit for setting aside ex parte decree dated 22.05.2006. In the affidavit the petitioner stated that he was the owner of House No. 561/234 New Sindhu Nagar, Lucknow and that the Respondents with a view to usurp the house had mentioned the wrong address and no service of summons was affected upon him. The petitioner had never refused to take notice/summons and if there was any evidence of receiving such notice the same was forged. The newspaper in which allegedly the notice was published was also not circulated in the area he resided.

5. The Learned Trial Court rejected the application on the ground that knowledge of the Suit was derived by the petitioner through another Suit and on such presumption treated notice to be served on the petitioner.

6. It has been submitted that Rule 17, Rule 19 -A and Rule 20 of Order V CPC were violated.

7. Against the order 27.05.2009 the petitioner preferred Miscellaneous Civil Appeal No. 81 of 2009: Subhash Chandra Chaturvedi versus Shashi Misra and others, in the Court of District Judge which was also rejected on 7.11.2009 by the Appellate Court. The Appellate Court observed that under Proviso to Order IX Rule 13 C.P.C., since the petitioner had knowledge about the pendency of Regular Suit No. 294 of 2003 in the Court of Civil Judge (Senior Division), Malihabad, Lucknow, the ex-parte decree could not be set aside even on the ground of any irregularity in the service of summons. The petitioner could not show any title to the property in dispute. Moreover, the Petitioner was still residing in House No. 561/232A and not in House No.561/234.

8. In the Short Counter Affidavit filed by the Opposite Parties No. 2 to 7, it is the case of the private respondents that Om Prakash Misra the respondent no. 6, and the predecessor in interest of all the other private respondents, had constructed a house adjacent to the property of Malviyas and it was numbered 561/232, New Sindhu Nagar, and he entered into negotiations with Rajendra Malviya for transfer of 3200 ft.^{2} of Khasra Plot No.2188/ 2/3 of land towards the front of house constructed by Om Prakash Misra. Om Prakash Mishra had already been in possession of such part of land and had constructed two rooms, one tin shed covered kitchen, one small bathroom and one small latrine on the said land belonging to the Malviyas. Rajendra Malviya however filed a Suit for Declaration, Demolition and Injunction before the Court of Munsif Lucknow namely R.S. no. 81/1994 against Om Prakash Mishra in respect of such land. During pendency of the said suit the plaintiff, Rajendra Malviya, approached Om Prakash Mishra for settlement of the matter and obtained permission from the Court to transfer 3200 ft.² of land in favour of Om Prakash Mishra by executing a sale deed in his favour. The Court of X Addl District Judge allowed such Application on 20.05.1995, in MCA No. 81/1994. The Sale deed was executed on 04.11.1995 for 3200 ft.² of land, part of Khasra No. 2188/2/3 in Village Kanausi which was already in occupation of Om Prakash Mishra since 1984 and on which he had raised constructions. There were certain mistakes / inaccuracies in the Sale deed dated 04.11.1995 and a Supplementary Sale deed dated 19.09.1996 was executed by Shri Rajendra Malviya later on. The constructions made on such 3200 ft.² of land were assessed by the Nagar Nigam Lucknow on 10.06.1996 and given New No. 561/232-A. The answering respondents have been depositing House Tax and other taxes as required by the Nagar Nigam with regard to House No. 561/232 and House No. 561/232A.

9. It has been further stated that the petitioner is a distant relative of the private respondents and in the 1980s he had approached the Respondent No.6 for a place to live. Initially he was accommodated with the private respondents in their own House No. 561/232. Later on Om Prakash Mishra had constructed the two-room set on part of Khasra 2188/2/3 belonging to Malviyas and the petitioner was given license to live in the said premises. The petitioner in order to usurp the property of the answering Respondents had filed Regular Suit No. 144 of 1999 claiming to be the owner in possession of House No. 561/234, New Sindhu Nagar, Lucknow and praying for Permanent Injunction to restrain Om Prakash Mishra the defendant from dispossessing the petitioner.

10. A Written Statement was filed by Om Prakash Mishra to the effect that the plaintitff was living as a licensee in the house of Om Prakash Mishra and in paragraph 10 it was categorically mentioned that the petitioner had no title whereas the sons of Om Prakash Mishra had title and had filed the suit for possession against the plaintiff in the court of Civil Judge, Malihabad, Lucknow as a Regular Suit No. 294/2003 which was fixed for hearing on 08.08.2003. A Replication was filed by the plaintiff/ petitioner where in paragraph 5 he had admitted to having knowledge of such Suit for eviction being filed against him and pending in the Court of Civil Judge, Malihabad Lucknow. Later on the petitioner moved an application for withdrawal of Regular Suit No. 144 of 1999, and by an order dated 16.11.2017 the Court of Additional Civil Judge (Senior Division) Lucknow, allowed such application with special cost of Rs.10,000. Om Prakash Mishra had revoked the license of the plaintiff/ petitioner but the petitioner failed to vacate the house and Smt. Shashi Misra widow of Vimal Kishore Mishra along with other sons of late Om Prakash Mishra had filed the Suit for eviction and in the Plaint in Regular Suit No. 294 of 2003 in paragraph 16 a mention was made of Regular Suit No. 144 of 1999 being filed by the petitioner against them.

11. In Regular Suit No. 294 of 2003 the Trial Court passed an order on 28.07.2003 for registration of the suit and fixed the date of 24.09.2003 for filing of written statement and the date of 01.10.2003 for framing of issues. Summons were issued. On 01.10.2003 the plaintiffs were directed to take steps both ways within seven days. The Process Server had tried to serve summons upon the petitioner on 19.10.2003. He was not available in the house. His wife read the summons and returned the same to the Process Server saying that she cannot accept it as her husband was not in the house. She refused to let the Process Server affix the summons on the main door of the house. The Process Server recorded these developments in the presence of two witnesses of the locality SarvaShri Shiv Shankar Shukla and Radheshyam Shukla. Thus summons were duly served under Order V Rule 15 CPC. A Copy of the report of the Process Server is annexed as C.A. 11 to the Short Counter Affidavit.

12. Even Notice by Registered Post was offered by the Postman to the family member of the petitioner who refused to take the envelope and the Postman returned the same with the endorsement "Lene Se Inkar kiya Preshak Ko wapas ho". A copy of the endorsement on the envelope written by the Postman is annexed as annexed C.A. 12 to the Short Counter Affidavit.

13. On 18.12.2003 the plaintiffs filed application under Order V Rule 20 C.P.C. numbered as paper No.C-19. The Court allowed the said application and directed steps to be taken for publication within seven days. It is the case of the private respondents that there was no option with the plaintiffs to select a newspaper. The office of the concerned court gets the summons published in a newspaper in a routine manner at the cost of the plaintiffs. Cost was deposited by the plaintiffs and the summons were accordingly published in the daily newspaper "Aaj ki report" published from Lucknow on 11.01.2004. It is a newspaper circulating in the locality of the petitioner.

By an order dated 17.02.2004 in Regular Suit No. 294 of 2003, the Trial Court treated the summons to be duly served upon the defendant through publication under Order V Rule 20 CPC, and directed the matter to proceed ex parte.

14. Thereafter the matter was heard and evidence taken ex parte, and decreed on 22.05.2006, directing the petitioner to vacate the property in dispute within two months and to hand over possession to the plaintiffs and to pay cost / damages of Rs.32,000/- for illegal occupation thereof along with interest at the rate of 8% till actual handing over of possession.

15. Being aggrieved by the ex-parte judgement and order dated 22.05.2006, the petitioner filed an application under Order IX Rule 13 C.P.C. on 26.07.2006 by saying that the summons were not served upon him. The answering respondents filed their objections on 04.11.2006 wherein mention was made of paragraph 10 of the Written Statement filed in Regular Suit No. 144 of 1999 and paragraph 5 of the Replication where the petitioner had admitted that he had knowledge of Regular Suit No. 294 of 2003 having been filed and being fixed for hearing on 08.08.2003 in the court of Civil Judge (Senior Division) Lucknow. The objections of the private respondents also relied upon the report of the Process Server paper No. D - 17 /1 and publication of summons in the newspaper on 11 January 2004.

16. It has been submitted that the petitioner had made manipulation in the record of Regular Suit No. 144 of 1999 pertaining to the Court of Civil Judge (Havali) Lucknow by interpolating the word "not" in paragraph 5 of the Replication and he applied for certified copy of the Replication on 10.10.2007 and filed the certified copy of the interpolated Replication in the Court of Trial judge through covering application dated 24.10.2007. However, even before such interpolation could be made the private respondents had already obtained a certified copy of the Replication on 13.07.2006. The private respondents filed their Objections on 29.10.2007 specifically mentioning manipulation made by the petitioner in the Replication.

17. The Court of Civil Judge (Senior Division) Malihabad, Lucknow rejected the application under Order IX Rule 13 CPC on 27.05.2009, by observing that the petitioner had knowledge of the pendency of Regular Suit No. 294 of 2003, through Written Statement filed by the answering respondents in Regular Suit No. 144 of 1999 as was admitted by the petitioner in the Replication filed in Regular Suit No. 144 of 1999. The Trial Court also categorically recorded at internal page 3 of the order that the counsel for the petitioner had made submissions that in paragraph 5 of the Replication the word "not" had been mentioned so as to buttress the point that he did not have knowledge of the pendency of Regular Suit No. 294 of 2003, but the Trial Court rejected such argument by saying that the petitioner had full knowledge about the pendency of Regular Suit No. 294 of 2003, but he chose wilfully not to participate in the proceedings which indicated gross negligence on his part.

18. In the Rejoinder Affidavit filed by the petitioner is is stated that he is the owner of House No.561/234 New Sindhu Nagar since 1981 which is built upon Gram Sabha land Khasra No.2193/3(sa) and not upon Khasra No.2188/2/3 Village Kanausi. The house was assessed for the first time on 21.08.1986 and he has been paying House Tax ever since. The respondents had sent notice of Regular Suit No.294 of 2003 at the wrong address mentioning the same as House No.561/232 -A. In fact House No.561/232 and House No.561/232 - A are both one and the same where the private respondents reside and therefore they were able to manage the report of the Process Server and the Postman. Since incorrect address of his house was shown it cannot be said that the petitioner was ever served in accordance with Order V CPC. Also, the publication in "Aaj Ki Report' which is not a widely circulated newspaper in the area where the petitioner is residing did not comply with the provisions of Order V Rule 20 CPC.

19. It has also been stated that Rajendra Malviya had filed Suit for Declaration, Demarcation and Injunction against Daya Shankar Agnihotri and Om Prakash Mishra in respect of 3200 Sqft. of land of Khasra No.2188/2/3 Village Kanausi in collusion with the defendants, and the Regular Suit No.49 of 1994 has been dismissed by the Civil Judge (Junior Division), South, Lucknow on 06.02.2009 as Rajendra Malviya failed to prove his ownership over the land in dispute. In case Rajendra Malviya had no ownership over the land in dispute, then subsequent purchaser that is the private Respondent Nos.2 to 7 also have no right. The house of the petitioner exists over Gram Sabha Land No.2193/3-(sa) and the private respondents are trying to dispossess the petitioner in the garb of sale deed of land Khasra No.2188/2/3.

20. It has also been mentioned in Paragraph-10 of the Rejoinder that when the private respondents had filed Caveat Application to oppose the present petition they had shown House No. 561/234 New Sindhu Nagar, as the address of the petitioner which makes it evident that the private respondents know the correct address of the petitioner and had deliberately mentioned incorrect address in Regular Suit No.294 of 2003 so that notice could not be served upon the petitioner and the petitioner was unable to oppose the said suit which was decreed ex parte.

21. In the Supplementary Counter Affidavit filed by the private respondents it has been mentioned that the petitioner has failed to file any copy of any Sale Deed or Title Deed to indicate the ownership of House No.561/234. In the Khatauni of 1383-1388 Fasli of Khasra No.2193/3-(sa) there is no mention of the petitioners' name as the land belongs to the Gram Sabha/Nagar Nigam. Khasra No.2193/3 -(sa) has no concern with the dispute as the house in dispute is situated on Khasra No.2188/2/3. The petitioner had fraudulently shown an incorrect House Number in the self assessment of House tax and this fact has been found in the enquiry made by the Nagar Nigam Lucknow on the complaint made by the private respondents. It has come out in the proceedings initiated by Nagar Nigam Lucknow that there is no House No.561/234. In fact it is House No. 561/232 where the private respondents reside and House No.561/232-A, where the petitioner resides. House No.561/232 has been given a new number later on by the Nagar Nigam as House No.561/389, which is recorded in the name of sons of Om Prakash Mishra. The petitioner is still residing in House No. 561/232-A, belonging to the private respondents.

22. In the Supplementary Rejoinder Affidavit filed by the petitioner on 27.01.2020, the facts as mentioned in the Rejoinder Affidavit earlier have been reitereated and it has been stated that the house of the petitioner is situated on Gram Sabha Land 2193/3-(sa) in Village Kanausi and was assessed in the year 1986 while the so-called Sale Deed of land purchased from Malviya brothers by the private respondents is of the year 1995 for part of Plot No. 2188/2/3 at Kanausi . It is clear from the same that the property purchased by the Respondents is some other property and has no concern with the house of the petitioner which is numbered as 561/234. True copies of House Tax bills of various years of House No. 561/234 in the name of Subhash Chandra Chaturvedi have been filed as Annexures to the Supplementary Rejoinder Affidavit.

23. The parties have filed second supplementary counter affidvait and second supplementary rejoinder affidavit, but this Court finds it unnecessary to refer to the same as they merely reiterate whatever has been said in their pleadings earlier.

24. It has been argued by the learned Senior Counsel appearing for the petitioner that the notice that was published in newspaper "Aaj ki Report" cannot be said to be a proper notice as it relates to date of filing objections on the application for Interim Injunction in Regular Suit No. 294 of 2003 as 10.02.2004, and date of disposal of such objections as 17.02.2004, and only mentioned that in case of failure to appear and file Objections, the application for Interim Injunction shall be heard and decided ex parte.

25. It has been argued by Sri Mohammed Arif Khan that the newspaper Aaj ki Report is an evening newspaper which is not known to be circulated in the locality where the disputed house is situated, hence it cannot be said that due compliance had been made of Order V Rule 20. He has referred to C.A. 11 which is the Process Server's Report which states that he had gone to the House No. 561/232-A, New Sindhu Nagar, where he found Usha Chaturvedi wife of the defendant/petitioner and tried to serve a copy of the application for stay upon her on 19.10.2003, but after reading the same it was returned by her saying that her husband was not in the house and when the Process Server tried to affix it she did not allow him to do so and such refusal was in the presence of two witnesses.

26. The Learned counsel for the petitioner has also placed reliance upon a Coordinate Bench decision in Lawyers Cooperative Housing Society Limited Agra Vs. Shri Krishna Grah Nirman Samiti Limited and others reported in 2002 (2) Allahabad Rent Cases 415; where the Coordinate Bench considered the provisions of Order V Rule 20 and Order IX Rule 13 and the Second Proviso added by way of amendment in 1976. The Court considered the fact that the Second Proviso to Rule 13 of Order IX C.P.C. was added by U.P. Amendment in C.P.C. by a notification dated 24.07.1976, prior to the C.P.C. Amendment Act of 1976, and it provided that "no such decree shall be set aside merely on the ground of irregularity in service of summons, if the Court is satisfied that the defendant knew, or but for his wilful conduct would have known, of the date of hearing in sufficient time to enable him to appear and answer the plaintiffs claim." This Court observed that when the Second Proviso was added by the Allahabad notification prior to the C.P.C. Amendment Act 1976 and the Second Proviso added by the C.P.C. Amendment Act 1976 are compared, it would appear that the words "or but for his wilful conduct would have known the date of hearing", occurring in the Allahabad Amendment were purposely omitted by the C.P.C. Amendment Act of 1976. In the Proviso added by the C.P.C. Amendment Act of 1976, the satisfaction of the Court should be that the defendant had the notice of the date of hearing and had sufficient time to appear and answer the plaintiff's claim. The said words added in the newly added Second Proviso clearly indicates that the Court should satisfy itself that the defendant had notice of the date of hearing and sufficient time to appear and answer the plaintiff's claim. The Second Proviso added by the Allahabad Amendment prior to the 1976 Amendment Act only required satisfaction of the Court about the knowledge of the defendant regarding the pendency of the Suit and then the defendant had to satisfy that but for his wilful conduct, he could not have known the date of hearing in sufficient time to enable him to appear and answer the plaintiff's claim. It appeared that the absolute right conferred upon the defendant by the main Rule to have the ex-parte decree set aside in a case where the summons were not duly served, in the State of U.P., had been curtailed. According to the law prevailing in this State this right ceased to be available to the defendant where the defendant knew or but for his wilful conduct would have known, of the date of hearing in sufficient time to enable him to appear and answer the plaintiff's claim. Accordingly, this Court in the case of Raja Ram Gupta Vs. Firm Jaiswal Iron and Steel Works and Others, 1980 AWC 110; had observed that in a case where summons have not been duly served upon the defendant and the exact date of hearing is not known to the defendant but he comes to know of the proceeding well in time and he can easily find out the date and put in appearance and answer the plaintiff's claim, but without any justification fails to take steps to find out the date of hearing, the only conclusion which can be drawn would be that but for his wilful conduct he would have known the date of hearing in sufficient time so as to enable him to appear and answer the plaintiff's claim. However, with the amendment in the C.P.C. notified by Act No. 104 of 1976 the legislative intent is clear.

27. The plaintiff had argued that the objection of the Applicant in a proceeding before the Assistant Housing Commissioner simply indicated that Suit No. 103 of 1983 between the parties in respect of the land in Suit was pending in the Court of Civil Judge Agra. There was nothing in the other side's objection to indicate about the date of hearing of the Suit. This showed that by receiving the above objection the defendant had "no notice of the date of hearing of the Suit". Moreover irregularity in the service of summons is a condition precedent for the applicability of the above Second Proviso to Order IX Rule 13. It meant that for the applicability of the Proviso it must be proved that there was service of summons, but the summons were not duly served. The Coordinate Bench observed that Irregularity is something different from illegality. Irregularity contemplates defective procedure and non-compliance of the prescribed formalities which cannot be of substantial nature. Illegality on the other hand connotes contravention of the Statute which may in some cases result in the action becoming void. Illegality contemplates an action forbidden by law while irregularity is mere defect in the procedure. If this basic difference in the two expressions is kept in mind the expression "irregularity" in the service of summons occurring in the Proviso added to Order IX Rule 13 would mean the defect in following the procedure prescribed for service of summons, such as, non-fixation of the copy of the summons at the outer door of the defendants' house in case of his refusing to take the summons. However, if the Court finds that the defendant was not served at all then it would be another case altogether. The Court observed that the newspaper "Aaj ka Hungama" in which the summons were allegedly published was not a daily newspaper, and had no circulation in the locality in which the defendant was last known to have actually and voluntarily resided or carried on business or personally worked for gain. As such, for taking the benefit of Rule 20 Subrule 1-A Order V C.P.C., the plaintiff had to prove that service by advertisement was affected in a daily newspaper. If the newspaper was not "daily newspaper" it was against the provisions of the above Rule and amounted to illegality in the service of summons. Therefore service by advertisement in the newspaper was not in accordance with the law and therefore illegal.

28. The Coordinate Bench of this Court had held that there was no service of summons on the defendant at all and it was not the case of irregularity in service of summons. Consequently, the Second Proviso added by the C.P.C. Amendment Act 1976 was not applicable to the case. The trial Court having found that there was no service at all was justified in allowing the application under Order IX Rule 13 C.P.C. and setting aside the ex parte decree.

29. The learned counsel for the petitioner has also placed reliance upon Smt. Vinod Rani Lamba and Another Vs. Baburam Yadav by a Coordinate Bench of this Court reported in 2017 (135) RD 427; where in almost in similar circumstances, an application under Order IX Rule 13

C.P.C. was rejected by the Trial Court. The petitioner filed Appeal which was also rejected by the Additional District Judge and then writ petition was filed in this Court challenging the two orders. The Court observed that it was admitted that there was no personal service of summons and service of summons had been effected through publication, which is a substituted service. Within the meaning of Explanation to Article 123 of the Limitation Act, it is not a due service. On the basis of publication, the presumption regarding service was made.

30. The learned counsel for the petitioner has also placed reliance upon a Coordinate Bench decision is Smt. Sudesh and Others Vs. Additional District Judge and Others, 2006 (1) ARC 387, where this Court observed that merely because in some other case against the husband of one of the petitioners, some mention of the pendency of the present Suit was made in a written statement, the same would not amount to sufficient service of summons on the petitioners and that the Trial Court and the Appellate Court had taken a very technical view of the matter. The endeavour of the Court of law should be to decide the case on merits after giving sufficient opportunity to the parties and hearing them.

31. The Counsel for the petitioner has also placed reliance upon G.P. Srivastava Vs. R K Raizada and others reported in 2000 (3) SCC 54, where the Supreme Court observed that an ex-parte decree passed against the defendant can be set aside upon satisfaction of the Court that the summons were not duly served upon the defendant or he was prevented by any "sufficient cause" from appearing when the Suit was called on for hearing. In a case where the defendant approaches the Court immediately and within the statutory time specified, the discretion is normally exercised in his favour, provided the absence was not malafide or intentional. It was observed that for the absence of a party in the case the other side can be compensated by adequate costs and on such other terms and conditions as were deemed proper by the Trial Court and the lis decided on merit.

32. Learned counsel for the petitioner has also placed reliance upon Ashraf Vs. Kailash Prasad and Another, 2016 (34) LCD 3096, where a Coordinate Bench of this Court observed that the Trial Court had erred in law in drawing a presumption of service merely on the basis of address mentioned in the carbon copy of the notice. The plaintiff had stated that notice upon the defendant had being served by registered post, a copy whereof was placed on record. Such copy showed only the name of the addressee and there was no address mentioned in the said receipt. Service of notice was denied by the defendant but the Court below had drawn a presumption on the basis that the letter was sent by Registered Post with the correct address mentioned on the Registered letter by the plaintiff. This Court observed that no doubt once registered letter has been sent which mentioned the correct address of the addressee, the Court will be entitled to draw a presumption regarding due service of that notice vide Illustration (E) and (F) of Section 114 of the Indian Evidence Act 1872; but the presumption of service of a letter sent by Registered Post can be drawn only when it is shown that the Registered letter contains a complete and correct address of the addressee, and unless this much is shown the question of presumption even in respect to a letter sent by Registered Post would not arise. Once the addressee denies the receipt/service of Registered letter the plaintiff has the onus to show that it was sent mentioning the correct and complete address of the addressee and actually served upon or received by the addressee or he refused to receive the same though sought to be served upon him by the postal agent. The Court observed that if a notice has been sent by the landlord by Registered Post and it is received back with an endorsement made by an official of the Post Office namely Postman that it was refused by the addressee, presumption of service upon the addressee shall be drawn unless the tenant proves that the letter was never offered to him by the Postman and endorsement made thereon is not correct. The tenant's mere denial would not be sufficient in such a case and he will have to prove his case by adducing relevant evidence. Such denial can be done by making a statement on affidavit and in such a case onus would then shift on the landlord to prove that refusal was by the tenant which he can show by summoning the Postman and adducing his oral evidence. However the Court observed that sometimes from the conduct of the tenant or other circumstances his denial even if on oath, can justifiably be disproved by the Court without having the Postman examined as was observed by the Supreme Court in the case of Anil Kumar Vs. Nanak Chandra Verma AIR 1990 Supreme Court 1215.

33. A Bench of three judges of the Supreme Court in Puwada Venkateswara Rao Vs. Chidamna Venkata Ramana AIR 1976 Supreme Court 869, had held that the presumption stood rebutted on its denial. In this case the petitioner had denied the service of summons or knowledge of the Suit, thus on denial, the presumption stood rebutted and burden shifted upon the plaintiff/ respondent to prove that the summons were served upon them but the plaintiff/ respondent could not lead any evidence in this respect. This judgement has been followed subsequently in a Rama Rao Vs. Raghunath Patnaik 2007 (68) ALR 464, State of West Bengal Vs. EITA India Ltd AIR 2003 Supreme Court 4126, VS Krishnan and others Vs. Messers Westfort High-Tech Hospital Limited 2008 (3) SCC 363, and M.S. Madhusudhanan and Another Vs. Kerala Kaumudi Private Limited and Others 2004 (9) SCC 204.

34. The learned counsel for the petitioner has also relied upon judgement rendered by the Supreme Court in Auto Cars Vs. Trimurti Cargo Movers (Private) Limited reported in 2018 (140) RD 411; where the Supreme Court considered Section 27 of the CPC which deals with issuance of summons to defendants. It requires summons to be issued to the defendants in the manner prescribed. It referred to the Appendix-B Process No.1 issued by the Trial Court and the Supreme Court observed that:-

"there is a specific column in the summons where "day, date, year and time" for the defendant"s appearance is required to be mentioned. The legislature while prescribing the format for summons in the CPC wished to enable the defendant to answer the suit filed against him/her on specific information being given to him. Under Order V Rule 20 (3) when service is affected by way of publication by the orders of the Court, the Court has to fix "time for appearance of the defendant", as the case may require. In our opinion this does not dispense with the requirement of mentioning the actual day, date, year and time for the defendant's appearance in the court, because it is prescribed in format.....being a statutory requirement prescribed in law (Code) it cannot be said to be an empty formality. It is essentially meant for the benefit of the defendant because it enables the defendant to know the exact date, time and place to appear in the particular court, in answer to the suit filed by the plaintiff against him. If the specific day, date, year and time for the defendant's appearance in the court concerned is not mentioned in it the summons, though validly served on the defendant by any mode of service prescribed under Order V, it will not be possible for him/her to attend the court for want of any fixed date given for his/her appearance".

The Court observed in Paragraph 27 -

"27. The object behind sending the summons is essentially threefold - first, it is to apprise the defendant about the filing of case by the plaintiff against him; second, to serve the defendant with the copy of the plaint filed against him; and third, to inform the defendant about the actual day, date, year, time and the particular Court so that he is able to appear in the court on the date fixed for his/her appearance in the said case and answer the suit either personally or through his lawyer".

35. The Court observed that the service of summons on the defendant without mentioning there in a specific day, date, year and time cannot be held as "summons duly served" on the defendants within the meaning of Order IX Rule 13 of the Code. In other words, such summons and the service affected pursuant thereto cannot be held to be in conformity with Section 27 read with the statutory format prescribed in Appendix-B (Process 1 and 1A) and Order V, Rule 20 (3) of the Code.

The Supreme Court further observed in paragraph 34 and 35 :-

"34. It is for this reason we are of the considered opinion that the appellant (Defendant No.1) was able to make out a ground contemplated under Order IX Rule 13 of the Code for setting aside the ex parte decree.

35. Once the appellant (Defendant No.1) is able to show that "Summons were not duly served on him "as prescribed under Section 27 read with Appendix-B (Process 1A) and Order V, Rule 20 (3) of the Code then it is one of the grounds for setting aside the ex parte decree under Order IX Rule 13 of the Code. In our view, the appellant (Defendant No.1) is able to make out the ground."

36. On the basis of aforesaid judgements rendered by this Court and Supreme Court, the learned counsel for the petitioner has argued that as is evident from the plaint itself, the House number of the petitioner had been wrongly mentioned. Since the House number had been wrongly mentioned the Process Server could not have approached the correct House for delivery of summons. The Process Server in his report has mentioned the name of the wife of the petitioner and also of two witnesses i.e. the neighbours of the petitioner belonging to the same locality but but such report has been managed by the respondents through extraneous means. It has also been argued that the alleged registered letter tried to be served upon the petitioner by the Postman cannot be said to be duly served even though repeated endorsements have been made thereon by the Postman that he had gone to the House of the defendant but he could not meet the defendant who had gone out on duty and that on one occasion there was a clear refusal to accept notice/summon, have also been managed. Since incorrect address was shown on the Registered letter it cannot be said that the petitioner was duly served.

37. It has also been argued by Shri Mohammed Arif Khan that the publication in a newspaper which is published in the evening and which is not widely circulated in the locality in which he resides does not conform to Order V Rule 20 of the C.P.C. Moreover, such notice was published only indicating the date time and place for appearance of the defendant for filing objections against the application for temporary injunction. Such publication cannot be said to have given definite information to the defendant to enable him to appear and plead his case before the court concerned. There was not only an Irregularity in service of notice but also an illegality which cannot be condoned and the Learned Trial Court as well as the appellate court failed to appreciate the difference between irregularity and illegality when they relied upon the Second Proviso to Order IX Rule 13 of the Code (as amended in the State of UP.).

38. It has also been argued by the learned counsel for the petitioner that the averments made in the counter affidavit by the respondents regarding the correct House number and whether it was 561/234 or 561/232 - A , could only be decided after the application for Condonation of Delay in filing the Recall application was allowed and the matter was heard on merits by giving proper opportunity of hearing to the defendant by the Trial Court. The Trial Court prejudged the whole issue when it observed that the applicant had no right to be heard as he could not produce any documentary evidence regarding the title of the House in dispute.

39. It has also been argued on the basis of paragraph 5 of the Replication that it is evident from the language used that the word "not' was missed out and it was a typographical error which was corrected by hand and the sentence would not be complete or make sense at all without the addition of the word "not" and bare reading of Paragraph 5 of the replication would show that there was a denial of any notice having been received with regard to the pendency of Regular Suit No. 294 of 2013.

40. In response to the arguments made by Sri Mohd. Arif Khan, learned Senior Advocate, on merits of this case and on the law as stated hereinabove, the learned senior counsel for the respondent Sri Sudeep Seth has pointed out the limited jurisdiction that this Court exercises under Article 227 of the Constitution. He has referred to the Coordinate Bench decision in the case of Smt. Sahzavin Vs. Additional District Judge Allahabad, 2013 SCC online Allahabad 13500. This Court observed in a similar matter that when both the Courts below have recorded concurrent findings of fact, unless the findings are shown to be perverse or contrary to record resulting in grave injustice to the petitioner, the High Court exercising a restricted and narrow jurisdiction under Article 226/227 would not be justified in interfering with the same. Under Article 227 of the Constitution the scope of judicial review is limited only to remove manifest and patent errors of law and jurisdiction. The Court does not act as an Appellate Authority. It is the duty of the High Court to keep the inferior Courts and Tribunals within the bounds of their authority and to see that they do what their duty requires and that they do it in a legal manner, but this power does not vest the High Court with any unlimited prerogative to correct all species of hardship or wrong decisions made within the limits of the jurisdiction of the Court or Tribunal. It is restricted to cases of grave dereliction of duty and flagrant abuse of fundamental principles of law or justice where grave injustice would be done unless the High Court interferes.

41. The Supreme Court in the case of D.N. Banerjee Vs. PR Mukherjee, AIR 1953 SC 58; and in the case of Waryam Singh Vs. Amarnath AIR 1954 SC 215; and several other decisions rendered thereafter, were referred to by the Coordinate Bench to say that it is well settled that the power under Article 227 is one of judicial superintendence which cannot be used to upset conclusions of facts, however erroneous those may be, unless such conclusions are so perverse or so unreasonable that no Court could have ever reached them. The Supreme Court in the case of Ajaib versus Sirhind Cooperative Marketing cum Processing Service Society Limited, observed that there is no justification for the High Court to substitute its view for the opinion of the Authorities /Courts below as the same is not permissible in proceedings under Article 226/227 of the Constitution. This Court cannot interfere with the findings of fact recorded by Courts below unless there is no evidence to support the findings or the findings are totally perverse. As long as they are based upon some material which is relevant for the purpose, no interference is called for. Even on the ground that there is yet another view which can reasonably and possibly be taken, the High Court cannot interfere. In Union of India versus Rajendra Prabhu, the Supreme Court held that the High Court in exercise of its extraordinary powers under Article 227 of the Constitution cannot reappreciate the evidence nor it can substitute its subjective opinion in place of the findings of the authorities below.

42. In Shalini Shyam Shetty Vs. Rajendra Shankar Patil 2010 (8) SCC 329, the Supreme Court said that the power of interference under Article 227 is to be kept to the minimum to ensure that the wheels of justice do not come to a halt and the fountain of justice remains pure and unpolluted. In order to maintain public confidence in the functioning of the Tribunal/ Courts subordinate to the High Court, it should be exercised only in appropriate cases in order to keep the subordinate Courts within the bounds of their authority.

43. The learned counsel for the respondent has also placed reliance upon Garment Craft Vs. Prakash Chand Goel 2022 SCC Online Supreme Court 29 where the Supreme Court observed in paragraph 18 that the High Court while exercising supervisory jurisdiction does not act as a Court of First Appeal to re-appreciate, reweigh all the evidence or facts upon which the determination and the challenge is based. Supervisory jurisdiction is not to correct every error of fact or even a legal flaw when the final finding is justified or can be supported. The High Court is not to substitute its own decision on facts and conclusions, for that of the inferior Court or Tribunal. The jurisdiction exercised is in the nature of correctional jurisdiction to set aside grave dereliction of duty or flagrant abuse, violation of fundamental principles of law or justice. The relief under Article 227 should be given sparingly and only to ensure that there is no miscarriage of justice.

44. The learned counsel for the Respondents has also placed reliance upon judgement of the Supreme Court rendered in Gurcharan Singh Vs. Sujit Singh 2014 (2) SCC 140, where it observed that if both the Courts below have placed reliance upon cogent facts, there is no reason to set aside such concurrent findings.

45. Shri Sudeep Seth Learned Senior Advocate has emphasised that this Court while sitting in limited jurisdiction under Article 227 of the Constitution cannot overturn findings of fact recorded by two learned Court's below unless they are found to be perverse. He has also pointed out that the petitioner has alleged that the Process Server's report and that of the Postman were obtained by the private respondents through collusion but has not submitted any evidence along with his application under Order IX Rule 13 CPC to say that such reports were false and fabricated. Once notice is sent on the correct address of the defendant and it is received back with the endorsement of either "not met" or "refused to receive" it shall be taken that notice has been duly served upon the defendant. The defendant has to prove that such notice was actually not served by getting the Postman or the Process Server examined in the witness box which was not done by the petitioner. No request for cross-examination of the Postman or of the Process Server was made to the Trial Court. It has also been argued that the petitioner has resorted to repeated misrepresentation and has interpolated the Court's record the reply submitted by him in his Replication and this Court sitting in Extraordinary jurisdiction must be strict in dealing with such unscrupulous litigants.

46. Learned counsel for the respondents has placed reliance upon Sunil Poddar Vs. Union Bank of India 2008 (2) SCC 326, where the Supreme Court was considering the Appeal arising in a case related to Recovery of Debts Due to Banks and Financial Institutions Act 1993. It observed that there are limited grounds to set aside an ex-parte decree. It observed that non-service of summons cannot be a ground where the defendant had notice of the date of hearing and sufficient time to appear and answer the claim. The learned counsel for the Respondents has placed reliance upon paragraph 16 to 23 where the Supreme Court had observed that once the bank had got the summons published in the newspaper, whether the appellants were subscribers of the said newspaper or had read it became irrelevant. "It is immaterial whether the appellants were subscribers of the said newspaper and whether they were reading it. Once a summons is published in the newspaper having wide circulation in the locality, it does not lie in the mouth of the person sought to be served that he was not aware of such publication as he was not reading the said newspaper." The Supreme Court considered Order IX Rule 13 as it was originally enacted in the C.P.C. Of 1908, and observed that under original Rule 13 of Order IX of the Code, when the decree had been passed ex parte against the defendant who satisfied the Court that summon was not duly served upon him, the Court was bound to set aside the decree. It was immaterial whether the defendant had knowledge about the pendency of the Suit or whether he was aware as to the date of hearing and he failed to appear before the Court. The Law Commission considered that aspect and the expression (enacted in the Code of 1908) and observed that under original Rule 13 of Order IX of the Code, when the decree had been passed ex parte against the defendant who satisfied the Court that summon was not duly served upon him, the Court was bound to set aside the decree. It was immaterial whether the defendant had knowledge about the pendency of the suit or whether he was aware as to the date of hearing and yet did not appear before the Court. The Law commission considered that aspect and the expression "Duly served" in its 27th Report and observed that

"...under Order IX Rule 13 if the Court is satisfied either that the summons had not been served, or that the defendant was prevented by sufficient cause from appearing et cetera, the ex-parte decree should be set aside. The two branches of the Rule are distinctive and the defendant, whatever his position may be in respect of one branch, is entitled to the benefit of the other branch if he satisfies the Court that he has made good his contention in respect of the other branch. Now cases may arise where there has been a technical breach of the requirements of due service, though the defendant was aware of the institution of the Suit. It may well be, that the defendant had knowledge of the Suit in due time before the date fixed for hearing, and yet apparently he would succeed if there is a technical flaw. - - - at present the requirements of the Rules regarding service must be strictly complied with, and actual knowledge (of the defendant) is immaterial. There may not be many decisions which hold that even where there has not been due service, yet the decree can be maintained, if the defendant knew the date of hearing) - - - The matter was considered exhaustively by the Civil Justice Committee, which recommended a provision that a decree should not be set aside for mere irregularity. Local Amendments made by several High Courts (including Allahabad, Kerala, Madhya Pradesh, Madras and Orissa) have made a provision on the subject, though there are slight variations in the language adopted by each. Such a provision appears to be useful one, and has been adopted on the lines of the Madras amendment."

47. The Supreme Court in Sunil Poddar (supra) also referred to the Law Commissions 54th report which reiterated that the broad object in Amendment of Order IX Rule 13 is "to ensure that a decree shall not be set aside merely on the ground of irregularity in service, if the defendant had knowledge of the decree...".

48. The Supreme Court observed in Sunil Poddar (Supra) that accepting the recommendations of the Law commission Order IX Rule 13 was amended with effect from 01.02.1977, and the Proviso added now says that no Court shall set aside the decree passed ex parte merely on the ground that there has been an irregularity in the service of summons, if it is satisfied that the defendant had notice of the date of hearing and had sufficient time to appear and answer the plaintiff's claim. The Supreme Court observed in paragraph 23 thus-

"it is therefore, clear that the legal position under the amended Code is not whether the defendant was actually served with the summons in accordance with the procedure laid down and in the manner prescribed in Order V of the Code, but whether (i) he had notice of the date of hearing of the suit; and (ii) whether he had sufficient time to appear and answer the claim of the plaintive. Once these two conditions are satisfied, an ex-parte decree cannot be set aside even if it is established that there was irregularity in service of summons. If the Court is convinced that the defendant had otherwise knowledge of the proceedings and he could have appeared and answered the plaintiff's claim, he cannot put forward the ground of nonservice of summons for setting aside ex parte decree passed against him by invoking Rule 13 of Order IX of the Code".

- -

49. The learned Senior Counsel for the Respondents has placed reliance upon Parimal versus Veena @ Bharti 2011 (3) SCC 545; where the Supreme Court has referred to the Second Proviso added by way of amendment in Order IX Rule 13. It observed in paragraph 16 of its judgment that in order to determine the application under Order IX Rule 13 C.P.C. the test that has to be applied is "

50. It considered the question of presumption of service by Registered Post and burden of proof and observed in paragraph 17 of Parimal Vs. Veena @ Bharti (Supra) that:-

"17. This Court after considering a large number of its earlier judgements in Greater Mohali Area Development Authority versus Manju Jain 2010 (9) SCC page 157; held that in view of the provisions of Section 114 illustration (F) of the Evidence Act 1872, and Section 27 of the General Clauses Act 1897, there is a presumption that the addressee has received the letter sent by Registered Post. However, the presumption is rebuttable on a consideration of evidence of impeccable character. A similar view has been reiterated by this Court in Sunil Kumar Sambhu Dayal Gupta (Dr) Vs. State of Maharashtra 2010 (13) SCC 657."

It observed in paragraph 18 further:-

"In Gujarat Electricity Board Vs. Atmaram Sungamal Poshani 1989 (2) SCC 602; this Court has held as under:

"8. There is presumption of service of a letter sent under Registered cover, if the same is returned back with a postal endorsement that the addressee refused to accept the same. No doubt the presumption is rebuttable and it is open to the party concerned to place evidence before the Court to rebut the presumption by showing that the address mentioned on the cover was incorrect or that the postal authorities never tendered the Registered letter to him or that there was no occasion for him to refuse the same. The burden to rebut the presumption lies on the party, challenging the factum of service."

The provisions of section 101 of the Evidence Act provide that the burden of proof of the fact rests on the party who substantially asserts it, and not on the party who denies it. In fact, burden of proof means that a party has to prove an allegation before he is entitled to a judgement in its favour. Section 103 provides that the burden of proof as to any particular fact lies on the person who wishes the Court to believe in its existence, unless it is provided by any special law that the proof of that fact shall lie on any particular person. The provision of Section 103 amplifies the general rule of Section 101 that the burden of proof lies on the person who asserts the affirmative of the facts in issue."

51. The Supreme Court further observed that "...in case the matter does not fall within the four corners of Order IX Rule 13 C.P.C., The Court has no jurisdiction to set aside an ex parte decree. The manner in which the language of the Second Proviso to Order IX Rule 13 C.P.C. has been couched by the legislature makes it obligatory on the Appellate Court not to interfere with an ex-parte decree unless it meets the statutory requirement."

52. The learned counsel for the Respondents has also placed reliance upon State of Madhya Pradesh Vs. Heera Lal and Others 1996 (7) SCC 523, where the Supreme Court observed that if the notice is returned with the postal remarks "Not available in the house", "house locked" and "shop closed" it must be deemed that the notices have been served on the respondents.

53. The learned counsel for the respondents has placed reliance upon Rahul S Shah Vs. Jinendra Kumar Gandhi and others 2021 (6) SCC 418, where the Supreme Court observed that the remedies provided for preventing injustice are actually being misused to cause injustice, by preventing a timely implementation of the orders and execution of decrees. It has referred to several of its judgements where it recommended appropriate amendments in the Code of Civil Procedure to ensure that process of adjudication of a Suit be continuous from the stage of initiation to the stage of securing relief after execution proceedings. The Supreme Court in the aforementioned decision gave several directions in Para 42 and observed that the High Courts should amend and update all the Rules relating to execution of decrees made under the exercise of its power under Article 227, of the Constitution of India and Section 122 C.P.C. within one year of the date of its order, with an endeavour to expedite the process of execution with the use of information technology tools and until such time that the Rules are brought in existence the directions given by it in Para 42 would remain enforceable.

55. Having heard the learned counsel for the parties this court has gone through the ex- parte decree dated 22.05.2006 and the order passed on the application for Recall under Order IX Rule 13 dated 27.05.2009, and also the order dated 27.11.2019 passed in Appeal. All these orders have been challenged in this petition under Article 227 of the Constitution; a further prayer being made for directing the Trial Court not to proceed further in Execution Case No.15 of 2007 (Smt. Shashi Mishra versus Subhash Chandra), and for a direction to the Trial Court, the Civil Judge (Senior Division), Malihabad Lucknow to provide opportunity of filing written statement in Regular Suit No.294 of 2003 on deposit of cost as this Court finds appropriate by way of compensation to the plaintiff.

56. This Court finds it inappropriate to discuss the merits of The ex-parte decree as the petitioner has not yet challenged the same in First Appeal and any observations on the merits of the ex parte Decree by this court may prejudice the case of the petitioner in his challenge to the same as and when he files the Appeal. This Court shall only briefly discuss the facts as mentioned in the ex-parte decree in so far as they relate to service of notice of Regular Suit No.294 of 2003 upon the defendant.

57. In the decree dated 22.05.2006 the facts have been firstly narrated as mentioned in Short Counter Affidavit by the private respondents, thereafter the judgment refers to the defendant having been a distant relative of the Plaintiff No. 6 being given a license to live in House No.561/232-A in 1985. When the plaintiffs came to know of a suit being filed for Permanent Injunction by the defendant against them the license was revoked, the defendant had orally assured them that he had no intention to forcibly occupy the house in dispute but intended to vacate it in a matter of three years as by then he would certainly make arrangements for living somewhere else. However, even after a lapse of three years the defendant had not vacated the premises and the plaintiffs had orally requested him to vacate the House in question or else to pay Rs.2000 per month as damages. Since there was a temporary injunction in favour of the defendant in the Regular Suit No.144/99 filed by him against the plaintiffs he had no intention to vacate the premises in question and therefore the plaintiffs were compelled to file the Suit for Eviction and for Damages.

58. The Learned Trial Court at internal page 3 of its judgement refers to summons having been issued to the defendant through Registered Post which had returned with the endorsement of the defendant having refused to receive the same. Ultimately substituted service by way of publication was done, however the defendant did not appear nor filed written statement hence, on 17.02.2004 the court had decided to proceed ex parte. The Trial Court thereafter referred to documentary evidence filed along with the plaint including the permission granted by the Additional District Judge dated 20.05.1995 to the erstwhile owner to sell off a portion of Khasra No. 2188/2/3 admeasuring 3200 Sqft. and to the Plaintiff No.6 to raise construction thereon. The Trial Court thereafter referred to Registered Sale Deed dated 04.11.1995 and the Supplementary Sale Deed and extract of relevant Khatauni for the year 1409 to 1414 Fasli for village Kanausi, wherein the plaintiffs name had been recorded as Bhoomidhar with Transferable Rights and the assessment order for House tax for House No. 561/232-A, New Sindhu Nagar, Kanpur Road by Nagar Nigam Lucknow.

59. Having satisfied itself from documentary evidence that the plaintiffs were the owners of House No.561/232-A, as also on the basis of affidavit filed by Om Prakash Misra in support of the plaint, the Trial Court had decreed the suit as aforesaid.

60. In the order dated 27.05.2009 on the Recall application moved by the Petitioner the Learned Trial Court has referred to the contents of the application for Recall supported by affidavit. The application stated that the Applicant petitioner lived in House No.561/234 New Sindhu Nagar, Lucknow and the plaintiffs wished to usurp the house. The Applicant petitioner filed Regular Suit No.144/1994 before the Civil Judge (Junior Division), Havali, Lucknow, for permanent injunction against the plaintiffs. The Plaintiff No.6 was instrumental in getting his daughter-in-law to file Regular Suit No.294 of 2003 for Eviction and Damages fraudulently showing the wrong House Number namely House No.561/232-A, New Sindhu Nagar, as address of the applicant petitioner. No notice was ever served regarding Regular Suit No.294 of 2003 on the applicant petitioner either through Registered Post or through process server of the court as wrong House number was intentionally mentioned as address of the defendant in the said Suit.

61. Also, the newspaper in which publication was made of notice of said suit was not circulated in the locality in which the applicant petitioner lives and therefore he could not derive any knowledge in time to appear and answer the plaintiffs claim. The applicant petitioner came to know of the decree dated 23.05.2006 only on 03.7.2006 when a third person told him about some Suit having been filed in which a decree had been obtained by Sri Om Prakash Mishra and others against him.

62. The private respondents herein filed their objections the Recall Application and the Application for Condonation of Delay in which they stated that both notice through Registered Post and summons through Process Server were duly served. Also publication was made in a newspaper determined by the Trial Court itself. It was also stated that in Regular Suit No.144 of 1994 a written statement was filed in August, 2003 in which mention was made of pendency of Regular Suit No.294 of 2003. Replication was filed by the applicant petitioner in the said Suit No.144 of 1999 which showed that he had knowledge the pendency of Regular Suit No. 294 of 2003.

63. The applicant petitioner denied the objections and the Trial Court there after took into account documentary evidence filed along with application for Recall by the applicant petitioner and the objections filed to it by the private respondents. The Learned Trial Court referred to the Written Statement in Regular Suit No.144/999 filed as Paper number C 15-1, and also the certified copy of the Replication filed therein, Paper No.C 26/2-5; and after comparing the two came to the conclusion that without reading the contents of Paragraph 10 of the Written Statement which mentioned the pendency of Regular Suit No.294/2003, the answer given in the Replication in Paragraph-5 could not have been given. The Learned Trial Court referred to the two conditions mentioned in Order IX Rule 13 CPC wherein it was provided that the applicant must satisfy the Court that the Summons had not been served on the defendant, or that the defendant having been served could not appear to answer the plaintiffs claim for reasons beyond his control. Then it referred to the Proviso added by way of amendment in Order IX Rule 13 which clearly stated that in case the Court is satisfied that the defendant had knowledge of the date of hearing in the Suit and despite such knowledge failed to appear, the ex-parte decree would not be set aside only because there was irregularity in the service of summons. The Trial Court thereafter referred to the applicant petitioner's admission that a Written Statement was filed by the private respondents in Regular Suit No. 144 of 1999 and that it mentioned clearly in Paragraph-10 that the Suit No.294 of 2003 was pending in the court of Civil Judge (Senior Division), Malihabad, Lucknow. The Trial Court referred to Replication and also the fact that although the applicant petitioner may have stated therein that he had no knowledge of the Suit No.294 of 2003 because he had not been served notice; It was of little or no relevance because the very fact that mention had been made about its pendency in the Written Statement meant that he had sufficient knowledge of pendency of Regular Suit No.294 of 2003. The Learned Trial Court thereafter referred to judgement of the Supreme Court in the case of J. P. Srivastav Vs. R.K. Raizada reported in AIR 2000 Supreme Court 1221 where the Supreme Court had observed that ordinarily a liberal approach should be adopted while considering an application under Order IX Rule 13 but if the Court is convinced that the applicant had wilfully not attended the hearing of the case then such an application cannot be allowed. The Applicant has to prove before the court that his absence was not deliberate or malafide. The Trial Court had relied upon judgement rendered In 1981 AWC (Revenue) 45 Smt. Soora versus Mewalal rendered by the Allahabad High Court, and also 1977 AWC 528; wherein the very same observations had been made by the High Court that if the applicant had knowledge of pendency of suit and the date of hearing therein and wilfully did not appear in the same, then it should not recall the ex-parte decree. The Trial Court considered the record relating to Regular Suit No.294 of 2003 and the order passed therein on 17.02.2004, where service of notice on the defendant was found sufficient, and the court had directed to proceed ex parte. It therefore came to the conclusion that the applicant petitioner's reliance upon judgement rendered In Sudesh Versus Additional District Judge and Others reported in 2006 (1) ARC 387, and Lawyers Cooperative Housing Society Versus Krishna Grah Nirman Samiti reported in 2002 (2) ARC 415, was misconceived. The Trial Court therefore rejected the application in its order dated 27.05.2009.

64. In the Appeal filed against such order the applicant petitioner again reiterated his entire argument regarding wrong address of his house being mentioned in the notice and in the summons and that neither the Process Server nor the postman ever met the wife of the petitioner and there was no refusal to accept notice. The appellant also reiterated his argument regarding newspaper "Aaj ki Report" not being widely circulated in the locality in which he lived.

65. The Appellate Court referred to judgements cited on behalf of the petitioner namely Smt. Vinod Rani Lamba Vs. Baburam Yadav and Others reported in 2017 (135) RD 427, and Lawyers Cooperative Housing Society Limited Agra Vs. Shri Krishna Grah Nirman Samiti Limited reported in 2002 (2) ARC 415; that the burden lay upon the plaintiff to prove that summon was duly served upon the defendant, once the defendant denies its service upon him. The petitioner argued that service through registered post or substituted service through publication in newspaper cannot be deemed to be sufficient service as the application filed under Order V Rule 20 CPC by the plaintiff was not duly supported by affidavit. It also noted the argument raised by the counsel for the petitioner that the written statement mentioned the date fixed in Regular Suit No.294 of 2003 as 08.08.2003 whereas the written statement itself was filed only on 29.08.2003 therefore it could not be said that sufficient time was available to the defendant to appear and assist the Court in Regular Suit No.294 of 2003. The petitioner had placed reliance upon judgement rendered in Sudesh Vs. Additional District Judge and Others (supra). The Appellate Court also referred to the records which revealed that the Process Server had submitted a service report on 28.08.2003 referring to summons sent through Court, Document Nos.D-15/12D- 15/4 and also D/17; wherein the Process Server had noted that summon was served upon the wife of the defendant Smt. Usha Chaturvedi who had refused to take the same. Effort was made to affix the same on the house which was also not permitted by Smt. Usha Chaturvedi and local residents Radhe Shyam Shukla and Shiv Shankar Shukla had witnessed the whole incident. The Appellate Court also referred to the Registered Post Envelope available on the record as Paper No.D/18 which noted initially the addressee having not been met and thereafter of the refusal to accept. The Appellate Court also considered the argument regarding wrong address having been shown of the house of the defendant and also the newspaper "Aaj ki Report" having no circulation in the locality.

66. However, the Appellate Court referred to the judgement rendered by the Supreme Court in State of Madhya Pradesh Vs. Hira Lal and Others reported in (1996) 7 SCC Page 523, wherein the Supreme Court had observed that any endorsement by the Postman/Process Server of "not met' and "shop being found closed', should be treated to amounting to sufficient service. The Appellate Court also referred to the argument raised by the appellant petitioner that the word 'not' mentioned in Paragraph-5 of his Replication in Regular Suit No.144/1999, showed that he had no knowledge of pendency of Regular Suit No. 294 of 2003.

67. The Appellate Court referred to the judgement rendered in Sunil Poddar Vs. Union Bank of India reported in 2008 (2) SCC 326, and its para 23 as aforesaid.

68. The Appellate Court also referred to judgement rendered by this Court in Sulaiman Vs. IV Additional District Judge, Muzaffarnagar reported in 1998 (2) JCLR 1052, where it was observed - -

"Order IX Rule 13 in the Second Proviso provides that no court shall set aside the decree passed ex parte merely on the ground that there has been any irregularity in service of summons, if it is satisfied that the defendant had notice of the date of hearing and had sufficient time to appear and answer the plaintiffs claim. Therefore, the absence of service of summons would not be a ground to set aside ex parte decree if the Court is satisfied that the defendant had notice of the date of hearing of the case and had sufficient time to appear and answer the plaintiffs claim.."

69. The Appellate Court has framed two issues namely; (i) whether the Appellant/Defendant had notice of date of hearing in Regular Suit No. 294/2003? (ii) whether the appellant defendant had sufficient time available to appear and answer the plaintiff's claim in Regular Suit No. 294/2003?

70. The Appellate Court referred to the Process Server's report and mention of local residents Shivshankar Pandey and Radheshyam being present at the time when he had served a notice on Smt. Usha Chaturvedi, wife of Subhash Chandra Chaturvedi. The lady had read the notice and returned it saying that her husband was not at home and she could not accept it. She had also prevented the Process Server Mohammed Salim from affixing the notice on the door of the house in question. As against this report of Process Server, Smt. Usha Chaturvedi had not filed any affidavit denying its content.

71. Also the Appellate Court referred to the envelopes of Registered letter available on the record which showed endorsement by the Postman of "not met' and *"refusal to accep*t'. Again, the publication was also found to have been made in a daily newspaper and substituted service having been found sufficient by the Trial Court in its order dated 17.02.2004.

72. The Appellate Court also referred to documentary evidence filed with respect to Written Statement in Regular Suit No.144 of 1999 and Replication filed therein. It referred first to the certified copy of the Replication having been obtained by the private respondents on 14.07.2006 and the second certified copy of the Replication being obtained by the appellant petitioner on 10.10.2007 and the interpolation made therein. It referred to the contents of Paragraphs 22 and 23 of the Written Statement and the contents of Paragraph 13 of the Replication and came to the conclusion that it was apparent that the defendant had sufficient notice of pendency of Regular Suit No.294 of 2003. The argument that the defendant could not have sufficient time as the Written Statement was filed on 29.08.2003 and mentioned the date fixed in Regular Suit No.294 of 2003 being 08.08.2003 was noted by the Appellate Court but rejected on the ground that the defendant had notice of pendency of Regular Suit No.294 of 2003 at least on 29.08.2003 and had also filed his Replication on 16.10.2003.; the Trial Court had eventually proceeded ex-parte only on 17.02.2004, and had the defendant been careful enough he could have immediately approached the Trial Court after service of Written Statement upon him on 29.08.2003 , and made an honest effort to file a Written Statement therein. Also, publication in the newspaper was done on 11.01.2004 and the order to proceed ex-parte was only made on 17.2.2004 and the Suit decreed two years later on 22.5.2006. Having dealt with all the arguments of the Appellant petitioner on facts and law it rejected the Appeal.

73. In Deepak Banerjee Vs. Smt. Lilavati Chakraborty AIR 1987 Supreme Court 2055, the owner of the premises sought to evict the tenant on ground of subletting a part of the premises. The court observed that in order to prove tenancy or sub tenancy two ingredients had to be established, firstly, the tenant must have exclusive right of possession or interest in the premises or part of the premises in question, and secondly, that right must be in lieu of payment of some compensation or rent. The lower courts had given concurrent findings of fact that there was creation of subtenancy without considering essential ingredients necessary for such finding to be recorded against the tenant. The High Court refused to interfere with the findings of fact. The Supreme Court observed that it normally does not interfere with finding of fact but if a finding is manifestly unjust it cannot be allowed to perpetuate injustice.

74. The Supreme Court observed in Paragraph 13 of its judgement thus:-

"It is true that normally this Court is too reluctant to interfere with the concurrent findings of fact. But if the essential ingredients necessary for a finding of fact have not infact been found by the Court below, then this Court is bound to examine the question where in justice or wrong is done. In Variety Emporium Versus VRM Mohammed Ibrahim Naina reported in AIR 1985 Supreme Court 207 Chandrachud CJ, observed that concurrent findings of lower courts have relevance on the question whether Supreme Court should exercise its jurisdiction under Article 136 of the Constitution to review a particular decision. That jurisdiction has to be exercised sparingly. But, that cannot mean that injustice must be perpetuated because it has been done two or three times in a case. The burden of showing that a concurrent decision of two or more Courts or Tribunals is manifestly unjust lies on the appellant. But once that burden is discharged, it is not only the right but the duty of the Supreme Court to remedy the injustice. As there is no finding of exclusive possession nor of any payment of money in exchange of the user of the part of the premises the finding of subletting cannot in law be upheld."

75. This Court having considered the facts as pleaded by the petitioner and the private respondents in this petition and the facts and Law as appreciated by the learned Trial Court and the Appellate Court, does not filed any perversity in the appreciation of facts by the two learned Court below or any infirmity in the law as appreciated in the orders impugned. The petition being devoid of merit is dismissed. The interim order granted earlier by this Court is vacated.

(2022) 9 ILRA 732
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 21.06.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. KAUSHAL JAYENDRA THAKER, J.
THE HON'BLE GAUTAM CHOWDHARY, J.

Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No. 7685 of 2022

Mohar Pal & Anr. ...Petitioners
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioners:
Sri Harikesh Kumar Gupta

Counsel for the Respondents:
G.A.

Criminal Law- Constitution of India- Article 226- Indian Penal Code, 1860- Sections 420, 406 &120B- Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973- Section 4 & 5- Applicability of Sections 4 and 5 of the Cr.P.C.- Offence alleged to be committed under the Negotiable Instrument Act-It is not a matter which falls under the Negotiable Instrument Act- The provisions of Section 4 of Cr.P.C. read with Section 5 relate to procedure where commission of offence under the Special Act. In the present case, the informant has invoked the criminal jurisdiction and not the jurisdiction under Section 138 of the Negotiable Instrument Act and therefore, Section 5 cannot be made applicable. Proceedings under the Indian Penal Code would be governed by the Criminal Procedure Code only and therefore, the provisions of Section 5 of Cr.P.C. and 468 Cr.P.C. read with contours for invoking Article 226 of the Constitution will not permit us to interfere in the investigation as prima facie, facts go to show that the ingredients of Section 406, 420 and 120-B IPC are made out against the accused.

Where the offences under the Indian Penal Code are prima facie made out then the same would be proceeded under the CrPc and not under any Special Act hence, Sections 4 & 5 of the Cr.Pc will not be applicable.

The FIR cannot be said to be belated as Sections 420, 406, 120B India Penal Code permits lodgment of the FIR within a period as prescribed by Section 468 Cr.P.C- In that view of the matter, the registered case cannot be said to be such which is beyond the period of limitation and that there is a abuse of process of law.

As the imputed offences prescribe punishments that are not barred by Section 468 of the CrPc, hence it cannot be said that the F.I.R is belated or beyond the period of limitation. (Para 6, 8, 10, 11, 12)

Criminal Writ Petition Rejected with costs. (E-3)

Judgements/Case law relied upon:-

1. Noorulla Khan Vs Karnataka State Pollution Control Board, AIR 2021 SC 3438

2. St. of A.P. Vs Gourishetty Mahesh ,2101 (6) SC 588

3. St. of Telangana Vs Habib Abdullah Ilahi, 2017 2 SCC 779

4. Neeharika Infrastructure Pvt. Ltd. v. St. of Maha., AIR 2021 SC 1918

5. St. of Maha. Vs Pankaj JagshiGangar, AIR 2022 SC 114

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Kaushal Jayendra Thaker, J.
&
Hon'ble Gautam Chowdhary, J.)

1. Heard learned counsel for the petitioner and learned counsel for the State.

2. By way of this petition, the accused-petitioners pray for quashment of the impugned first information report dated 25.02.2022 in Case Crime No. 120 of 2022 under Sections 420, 406, 120B India Penal Code (I.P.C.), Police Station Sungarhi, District Pilibhit and also for staying their arrest in respect of the aforesaid first information report.

3. Both the petitioners have alleged to have committed what can be said to be offences under Sections 420, 406, 120B of IPC.

4. The allegations in the FIR are very categorical that the first informant is aged about 28 years and he is doing business. The petitioner no.1, namely, Mohar Pal and the petitioner no.2, namely, Suresh have also into business. The first informant moved to the Magisterial Court, who after verifying the facts, issued direction to the police officer to investigate and took cognizable case as the informant had get machines on concessional rates by the petitioner no.1. The bank transaction of Rs.2,03,280/- from the bank of the informant was made to the petitioner, Mohar Pal. Despite the money being given by way of bank account, no machine was supplied to the informant. This itself shows the culpable mind of the accused Mohar Pal and therefore, the complainant has alleged commission of offence under Section 420, 406, 120B IPC. Thereafter, Kamlesh Singh to whom the money was also sent, issued a cheque after deducting commission. The amounts could not be realized and therefore, the informant again requested both the accused along with his brother but they have locked the premises and are not available. On 22.06.2021, a first information was given to the Superintendent of Police, Pilibhit but no action was taken and therefore, the informant moved the Court which has directed investigation as it is prima facie found that cognizable offence has been committed by the accused.

5. It is submitted by learned counsel for the petitioners that the alleged incident occurred on 25.08.2020 but the FIR was lodged on 25.02.2022 without any proper explanation. It is further submitted by learned counsel for the petitioners that Sections 4 and 5 of the Cr.P.C. would be applicable as according to the petitioner's counsel, the offence alleged to be committed under the Negotiable Instrument Act

6. These facts go to show that it is not a matter which falls under the Negotiable Instrument Act as sought to be canvassed by learned counsel for the petitioners. The provisions of Section 4 of Cr.P.C. read with Section 5 relate to procedure where commission of offence under the Special Act. In the present case, the informant has invoked the criminal jurisdiction and not the jurisdiction under Section 138 of the Negotiable Instrument Act and therefore, Section 5 cannot be made applicable.

7. Sections 4 and 5 Cr.P.C. read as follows:-

"4 Cr.P.C. Trial of offences under the Indian Penal Code and other laws.-

(1) All offences under the Indian Penal Code (45 of 1860) shall be investigated, inquired into, tried, and otherwise dealt with according to the provisions hereinafter contained.

(2) All offences under any other law shall be investigated, inquired into, tried, and otherwise dealt with according to the same provisions, but subject to any enactment for the time being in force regulating the manner or place of investigating, inquiring into, trying or otherwise dealing with such offences.

"5 Cr.P.C. Saving.- Nothing contained in this Code shall, in the absence of a specific provision to the contrary, affect any special or local law for the time being in force, or any special jurisdiction or power conferred, or any special form of procedure prescribed, by any other law for the time being in force."

8. Recently the Apex Court in Noorulla Khan Vs. Karnataka State Pollution Control Board, AIR 2021 SC 3438, has held that Section 5 of Cr.P.C. applies to the proceedings under the Special Act. The Act specifies certain procedural justice and protection. Proceedings under the Indian Penal Code would be governed by the Criminal Procedure Code only and therefore, the provisions of Section 5 of Cr.P.C. and 468 Cr.P.C. read with contours for invoking Article 226 of the Constitution will not permit us to interfere in the investigation as prima facie, facts go to show that the ingredients of Section 406, 420 and 120-B IPC are made out against the accused. The actus reus is also prima facie proved to dupe the informant.

9. The decision of the Apex Court in State of Andhra Pradesh Vs. Gourishetty Mahesh [2101 (6) SC 588] read with the recent judgments in State of Telangana vs. Habib Abdullah Ilahi, 2017 2 SCC 779, Neeharika Infrastructure Pvt. Ltd. v. State of Maharashtra, AIR 2021 SC 1918 and State of Maharashtra v. Pankaj Jagshi Gangar, AIR 2022 SC 114, will not permit this Court to interfere in the Article 226 of the Constitution of India.

10. The FIR cannot be said to be belated as Sections 420, 406, 120B India Penal Code permits lodgment of the FIR within a period as prescribed by Section 468 Cr.P.C. which reads as follows.

468. Bar to taking cognizance after lapse of the period of limitation.

(1) Except as otherwise provided elsewhere in this Code, no Court shall take cognizance of an offence of the category specified in sub- section (2), after the expiry of the period of limitation.

(2) The period of limitation shall be-

(a) six months, if the offence is punishable with fine only

(b) one year, if the offence is punishable with imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year;

(c) three years, if the offence is punishable with imprisonment for term exceeding one year but not exceeding three years.

(3) For the purposes of this section, the period of limitation in relation to offences which may be tried together, shall be determined with reference to the offence which is punishable with the more severe punishment or, as the case may be, the most severe punishment.]

11. Therefore, it cannot be said that the offence lodged is belated.

12. In that view of the matter, the registered case cannot be said to be such which is beyond the period of limitation and that there is a abuse of process of law.

13. Accordingly, the petition is devoid of merit and is dismissed with the costs of Rs.5,000/- as Sections 4 and 5 of Cr.P.C. cannot be made applicable to the facts of this case as we have elaborately discussed that the complainant/informant has not invoked the provisions of the special Act (N.I. Act) but the alleged commission of offences punishable under the Indial Penal Code triable as per procedural law i.e. Criminal Procedure Code, the investigation cannot be quashed.

(2022) 9 ILRA 735
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 28.07.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE NEERAJ TIWARI, J.

Matters U/A 227 No. 115 of 2022

Braj Bhushan Lal Awasthi ...Petitioner
Versus
Smt. Urmila & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Sri Dharmendra Kumar Singh

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri Shobhit Saxena, Sri Kirti Kumar

Civil Law- Code of Civil Procedure, 1908- Order VI Rule 17 of CPC- Amendment application dismissed on the ground of delay- In compliance of order of High Court, Court below has proceeded to decide the suit and accordingly, evidences of both the parties were closed and matter was listed for final argument. At this stage, petitioner-plaintiff has preferred amendment application, which was rejected vide impugned order dated-Once the Court has granted liberty to file second amendment application, there is no occasion for the petitioner-plaintiff to wait for three years when the suit was listed for final hearing and also, in the mean time, he himself has filed Civil Misc. Writ-C No. 12630 of 2013 before this Court for early disposal of suit. In fact, it is nothing but an attempt to linger on the proceeding by filing such amendment application, therefore, Court below has taken right view that it is nothing but an attempt to raise the complexity in the matter and allowing the amendment application would change the nature of case based on those facts which were very well in the knowledge of petitioner-plaintiff since the date of filing of suit- Intention of petitioner-plaintiff is not fair in filing amendment application. On one hand, petitioner-plaintiff himself has filed writ petitions for early disposal of suit and on the other hand, he has taken chance to linger on the proceeding by filing amendment application at a very belated stage- While dealing such situation where amendment application is filed at a very belated stage, it is required to be seen as to whether it has been filed with clean hand, bonafide intention or only with intention to delay the proceedings and if the second one is found, no interference is required as the present case is.

Where the Court finds that the amendment application has been filed at a highly belated stage for merely lingering the suit, changing the nature of the suit and for oblique motives then the same is liable to be rejected on this ground. (Para 18, 19, 20)

Petition accordingly rejected. (E-3)

Case Law/ Judgements relied upon/ discussed:-

1. Smt. Anju Vs Satish Kumar 2018 (127) ALR 557 (cited)

2. St. Bank of Hyderabad Vs Town Municipal Council; 2007 (1) SCC 765 (cited)

3. B K Mittal Vs Sakya Centre Society & ors.; 2010 LawSuit(Utt) 1559 (cited)

4. Mount Mary Enterprises Vs M/s. Jivratna Medi Treat Pvt. Ltd.; 2015 0 Supreme(SC) 89 (cited)

5. Mahila Ramkali Devi & ors. Vs Nandram (D) Thr. Lrs. & ors.; 2015 0 Supreme(SC) 438(cited)

6. Rameshkumar Agarwal Vs Rajmala Exports Pvt. Ltd. & ors..; 2012 0 Supreme(SC) 270 (cited)

7. Prithi Pal Singh & anr Vs Amrik Singh & ors.; 2013 0 Supreme(SC) 158

(Delivered by Hon'ble Neeraj Tiwari, J.)

1. Heard learned counsel for petitioner and Sri Kirti Kumar Nirkhi, learned counsel for opposite party.

2. Present petition has been filed seeking following reliefs :-

"(I) Set aside the order dated 01.12.2021 passed by the 3rd Additional District Judge, Kanpur Dehat in Civil Revision No. 25/2013 (Braj Bhushan Vs. Smt. Urmila Devi and others) as well as order dated 11.07.2013 passed by Additional Civil Judge (Senior Division), Kanpur Dehat.

(II) Direct the court below to allow the amendment application (paper No. 289-Ka) dated 08.04.2013 filed by the petitioner before the Trial Court."

3. Learned counsel for petitioner submitted that plaintiff-petitioner has filed Original Suit No. 2 of 1993 along with interim injunction application in the year 1993 for cancellation of sale deed, which was rejected vide order dated 08.02.1994. Against the said rejection order, plaintiff-petitioner preferred Appeal No. 173/1994. During the pendency of appeal, plaintiff-petitioner has filed amendment application for amending the plaint. The said appeal as well as amendment application was rejected. Against both the orders, plaintiff-petitioner has preferred Writ Petition No. 28148 of 1998 before this Court, which was dismissed vide order dated 17.09.2010. However, liberty was given to the plaintiff-petitioner to file amendment application before the Court below. It is next submitted that in compliance of order dated 17.09.2010, plaintiff-petitioner has filed amendment application in Original Suit No. 2 of 1993 under Order VI Rule 17 read with Section 151 CPC on 08.04.2013. In amendment application, he has clarified the facts and also brings on record certain new facts, which was not in his knowledge at the time of filing of plaint. Opposite party has also filed objection and trial Court vide order dated 11.07.2013 has dismissed the amendment application on the ground of delay. Aggrieved by the order dated 11.07.2013, plaintiff-petitioner has preferred Civil Revision No. 25 of 2013 before the District Judge on 15.02.2014, which was also dismissed vide order dated 01.12.2021 without considering the facts of the case. Hence the present petition.

4. Learned counsel for petitioner submitted that plaintiff-petitioner has challenged the orders dated 01.12.2021 as well as 11.07.2013 basically on the ground that under Order VI Rule 17 of CPC, amendment application may be allowed at any stage of proceedings and the same cannot be rejected only on the ground of laches. Such dismissal order preclude the plaintiff-petitioner from justice. It is next submitted that while rejecting the amendment application, it is required on the part of Court below to see as to whether it is filed with ill intention or with clean hands. Court below was also required to see as to whether in case of rejection of amendment application, either of the parties would suffer from injustice or not, therefore, in the larger interest of justice, ignoring the delay, amendment application has to be allowed. In support of his contention, he has placed reliance upon the judgment of Apex Court passed in the matter of Prithi Pal Singh & another vs. Amrik Singh & others; 2013 0 Supreme(SC) 158 decided on 13.02.2013 and submitted that amendment application may be allowed even at the second appellate stage. Further, he has placed reliance upon the judgment of Rameshkumar Agarwal vs. Rajmala Exports Pvt. Ltd. & Ors.; 2012 0 Supreme(SC) 270 decided on 30.03.2012 and submitted that while considering the amendment application filed under Order VI Rule 17 of CPC, it is required on the part of Court below to take liberal view. In the matter of Mahila Ramkali Devi and others vs. Nandram (D) Thr. Lrs. and others; 2015 0 Supreme(SC) 438 and Mount Mary Enterprises vs. M/s. Jivratna Medi Treat Pvt. Ltd.; 2015 0 Supreme(SC) 89 decided on 30.01.2015, Apex Court has held that if amendment application has not been filed with malafide intention, it is required on the part of Court below to take liberal view. He further submitted that in the matter of B K Mittal vs. Sakya Centre Society and others; 2010 LawSuit(Utt) 1559 decided on 17.09.2010, High Court of Uttaranchal has also taken same view and held that amendment application cannot be rejected on the ground of delay, in case there is no injustice.

5. Learned counsel for petitioner further submitted that it is undisputed that original suit was filed in the year 1993 and provisions of CPC i.e. Order VI Rule 17 was amended vide Civil Procedure (Amendment) Act, 2002 (hereinafter referred to as "Act, 2002') which came into force w.e.f. 01.07.2002. Rule 16(1)(b) of Act, 2002 provides that provisions of rules, 5, 15, 17 & 18 of Order VI of the First Schedule as omitted or, as the case may be, inserted or substituted by Section 16 of the Code of Civil Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1999 and by Section 7 of this Act shall not apply to in respect of any pleading filed before the commencement of section 16 of the Code or Civil Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1999 and section 7 of this Act. In support of his contention, he has placed reliance upon the judgment of Apex Court in the matter of State Bank of Hyderabad vs. Town Municipal Council; 2007 (1) SCC 765.

6. Sri Kirti Kumar Nirkhi, learned counsel for opposite party has vehemently opposed the submissions of learned counsel for petitioner and submitted that first of all, amendment application was rejected on the ground that amendment application so filed was not in accordance with Order VI Rule 17 of CPC, which provides that amendment can only be allowed prior to commencement of trial and further, after due diligence, if plaintiff-petitioner could not produce relevant facts. He also submitted that while dismissing Writ-C No. 28148 of 1998, though this Court has given liberty to the plaintiff-petitioner to file amendment application, but also directed the Court below to decide the appeal expeditiously and dispose of the Suit No. 2/1993 at the earliest. It is next submitted that intention of this Court was very much clear that the suit has to be decided at the earliest, but without any reason, after delay of more than three years, petitioner-plaintiff has filed amendment application again. Court below has rejected the same with clear cut finding of fact that evidence in the said suit is closed and matter is listed for argument. Further, in the amendment application, nowhere it is mentioned that amendment so required in the plaint, relevant facts are not known to the plaintiff-petitioner earlier. Therefore, Court below has rightly rejected the amendment application alongwith finding of fact not denied by the plaintiff-petitioner.

7. It is next submitted that not only this, earlier this Court vide order dated 17.09.2010 passed in Writ-C No. 28148 of 1998 has directed the Court below to decide the suit within one year. The said order was never produced before the Court below. Lastly, it is submitted that undisputedly, suit is pending since, 1993. Rejection of first amendment application has attained finality in the year 2010 with liberty to the plaintiff-petitioner to file fresh amendment application and also there was direction of this Court to decide the suit at the earliest, but no amendment application has been filed for more than three years. Therefore, there is no illegality in the order dated 01.12.2021 passed by Court below. He next submitted that plaintiff-petitioner has also filed Civil Misc. Writ-C No. 12630 of 2013, which is not disclosed in the affidavit and in that petition too, direction was issued by this Court vide order dated 08.03.2013 to decide the suit within six months. In support of his contention, he has placed reliance upon the judgment of this Court passed in Smt. Anju vs. Satish Kumar 2018 (127) ALR 557 and submitted that ingredients of Order VI Rule 17 of CPC is required to be fulfilled, meaning thereby amendment application can only be allowed in case facts are not brought into the knowledge of plaintiff-petitioner even after due diligence at the time of filing of suit.

8. I have considered the rival submissions of learned counsels for parties and perused the provisions of CPC applicable in the present matter as well as judgments relied upon.

9. Issue before the Court is as to whether in light of Order VI Rule, 17 of CPC, up to what stage, amendment application may be allowed and what would be the consequences of delay in filing of amendment application. For ready reference, Order VI Rule 17 is quoted below:-

"17. Amendment of pleadings.- The Court may at any stage of the proceedings allow either party to alter or amend his pleading in such manner and on such terms as may be just, and all such amendments shall be made as may be necessary for the purpose of determining the real questions in controversy between the parties:

Provided that no application for amendment shall be allowed after the trial has commenced, unless the Court comes to the conclusion that in spite of due diligence, the party could not have raised the matter before the commencement of trial."

10. Learned counsel for the petitioner submitted that in case of amendment, Apex Court and this Court has taken consistent view that amendment application may be allowed even at second appellate stage and court below is required to take liberal view. He has placed reliance upon the judgment of Apex Court in the matter of Prithi Pal Singh (Supra). Relevant paragraphs of the said judgment is quoted below:-

"Shri P.S. Patwalia, learned senior counsel appearing for the Petitioners argued that even though this Court granted leave to Respondents No. 2 to amend the plaint, the learned Single Judge should have dismissed the second appeal as barred by time because the amendment was filed much after expiry of the limitation. He further argued that while dismissing the second appeal, the learned Single Judge did not consider the amendment made in Section 15 of the Act by Haryana Amendment Act No. 10 of 1995 and on this ground alone the impugned judgment is liable to be set aside.

12. In our opinion, there is no merit in the submissions of the learned Counsel. A reading of the order passed by this Court shows that the application for amendment filed by Respondent No. 2 was allowed without any rider/condition. Therefore, it is reasonable to presume that this Court was of the view that the amendment in the plaint would relate back to the date of filing the suit. That apart, the learned Single Judge has independently considered the issue of limitation and rightly concluded that the amended suit was not barred by time."

11. He has also placed reliance upon the judgment of Apex Court in the matter of Rameshkumar Agarwal (Supra). Relevant paragraphs of the said judgment is quoted below:-

"9. In Rajkumar Gurawara (Dead) through L.Rs v. S.K. Sarwagi and Co. Pvt. Ltd. and Anr.; (2008) 14 SCC 364, this Court considered the scope of amendment of pleadings before or after the commencement of the trial. In paragraph 18, this Court held as under:

"...It is settled law that the grant of application for amendment be subject to certain conditions, namely, (i) when the nature of it is changed by permitting amendment; (ii) when the amendment would result in introducing new cause of action and intends to prejudice the other party; (iii) when allowing amendment application defeats the law of limitation...."

10. In Revajeetu Builders and Developers v. Narayanaswamy and Sons and Ors. (2009) 10 SCC 84, this Court once again considered the scope of amendment of pleadings. In paragraph 63, it concluded as follows:

"Factors to be taken into consideration while dealing with applications for amendments

6 3 . On critically analysing both the English and Indian cases, some basic principles emerge which ought to be taken into consideration while allowing or rejecting the application for amendment:

(1) whether the amendment sought is imperative for proper and effective adjudication of the case;

(2) whether the application for amendment is bona fide or mala fide;

(3) the amendment should not cause such prejudice to the other side which cannot be compensated adequately in terms of money; (4) refusing amendment would in fact lead to injustice or lead to multiple litigation;

(5) whether the proposed amendment constitutionally or fundamentally changes the nature and character of the case; and

(6) as a general rule, the court should decline amendments if a fresh suit on the amended claims would be barred by limitation on the date of application.

These are some of the important factors which may be kept in mind while dealing with application filed under Order 6 Rule 17. These are only illustrative and not exhaustive."

11. It is clear that while deciding the application for amendment ordinarily the Court must not refuse bona fide, legitimate, honest and necessary amendments and should never permit mala fide and dishonest amendments. The purpose and object of Order 6 Rule 17 of the Code is to allow either party to alter or amend his pleadings in such manner and on such terms as may be just. Amendment cannot be claimed as a matter of right and under all circumstances, but the Courts while deciding such prayers should not adopt a hyper-technical approach. Liberal approach should be the general rule particularly, in cases where the other side can be compensated with costs. Normally, amendments are allowed in the pleadings to avoid multiplicity of litigations."

12. He further placed reliance upon the judgment of Apex Court in the matter of Mahila Ramkali Devi (Supra). Relevant paragraphs of the said judgment is quoted below:-

17. The application for amendment of plaint filed by Appellant No. 1 to make Appellant Nos. 2 to 5 fall under Class XVII of the Madhya Pradesh Land Revenue Code was rejected by learned Single Judge of the High Court on the ground that the same would change the nature of the suit which was filed 40 years ago, as the claim was made solely on the basis of Will and not on the basis of inheritance. The High Court allowed the appeal vide the impugned judgment as the Appellants had no locus standi to file the suit as Ajuddhibai could not have transferred her interest through a Will. Hence, present appeal by special leave by the Plaintiffs.

19. It appears thus while disposing of the appeal, the High Court has not gone into the amended plaint. By amendment, the Plaintiff-Appellant not only sought to add the names of Dinesh, Satish, Sanjay and Rajendra sons of Baijnath Prasad Saxena in the category of Plaintiffs, but also sought to make necessary amendment in paragraph 3 of the plaint. The averment sought to be incorporated in paragraph 3 of the plaint by amendment is reproduced hereunder:

"Vikalp me yadi vasiyatnama vaidya na mana jave to be Ajudhibai ke karibtar varies vadini ke ladke Rajendra, Dinesh, Satish aur Sanjay hi hai jo abhi nabalig hai aur yeha dava unke hito ko represent karte huai unki maliki ke adhar par bhi prastut hai. Vadini ke dekh-rekh me ladke rahte hai. Garj yahe hai ki har halat me prativadigan ki koi swatva v mukable vadini avam uske ladke nahi hai. Aur vadini vivadagrast aaraji ka kabja apne tatha ladkon ko aur se pane ki patra hai."

As translated in English "In alternative, if the will is not held valid, yet the Plaintiff's sons Rajendra, Dinesh, Satish, Sanjay, who at present are minors are near relations of Ajudhibai and this suit is submitted to represent their interests on basis of their ownership. The sons live in care of Plaintiff meaning thereby in every condition there is no right of Defendants competing Plaintiff. And the Plaintiff herself and on behalf of her sons is entitled to get possession of the suit land."

20. It is well settled that rules of procedure are intended to be a handmaid to the administration of justice. A party cannot be refused just relief merely because of some mistake, negligence, inadvertence or even infraction of rules of procedure. The Court always gives relief to amend the pleading of the party, unless it is satisfied that the party applying was acting malafide or that by his blunder he had caused injury to his opponent which cannot be compensated for by an order of cost.

21. In our view, since the Appellant sought amendment in paragraph 3 of the original plaint, the High Court ought not to have rejected the application."

13. He next submitted that Apex Court has taken the same view in the matter of Mount Mary Enterprises (Supra). Relevant paragraphs of the said judgment is quoted below:-

7 . In our opinion, as per the provisions of Order 6 Rule 17 of the Code of Civil Procedure, the amendment application should be normally granted unless by virtue of the amendment nature of the suit is changed or some prejudice is caused to the Defendant. In the instant case, the nature of the suit was not to be changed by virtue of granting the amendment application because the suit was for specific performance and initially the property had been valued at Rs. 13,50,000/- but as the market value of the property was actually Rs. 1,20,00,000/-, the Appellant-Plaintiff had submitted an application for amendment so as to give the correct value of the suit property in the plaint.

8. It is also pertinent to note that the Defendant had made an averment in para 30 of the written statement filed in Suit No. 1955 of 2010 that the Plaintiff had undervalued the subject matter of the suit. It had been further submitted in the written statement that the market value of the suit property was much higher than Rs. 14 lacs. The Defendant had paid Rs. 13.5 lacs for the said premises in the year 2002 when the said premises had been occupied by a tenant bank.

Even according to the Defendant value of the suit property had been undervalued by the Plaintiff in the plaint. If in pursuance of the averment made in the written statement the Plaintiff wanted to amend the plaint so as to incorporate correct market value of the suit property, the Defendant could not have objected to the amendment application whereby the Plaintiff wanted to incorporate correct value of the suit property in the plaint by way of an amendment. The other contention that the valuation had already been settled cannot also be appreciated since the High Court has held that the said issue was yet to be decided by the trial Court.

9. The main reason assigned by the trial court for rejection of the amendment application was that upon enhancement of the valuation of the suit property, the suit was to be transferred to the High Court on its original side. In our view, that is not a reason for which the amendment application should have been rejected. With regard to amendment of plaint, the following observation has been made by this Court in the case of North Eastern Railway Administration, Gorakhpur v. Bhagwan Das (D) by

L.Rs. ; (2008) 8 SCC 511:

"1 6 . Insofar as the principles which govern the question of granting or disallowing amendments Under Order 6 Rule 17 Code of Civil Procedure (as it stood at the relevant time) are concerned, these are also well settled. Order 6 Rule 17 Code of Civil Procedure postulates amendment of pleadings at any stage of the proceedings. In Pirgonda Hongonda Patil v. Kalgonda Shidgonda Patil and Ors.; (1957) 1 SCR 595 which still holds the field, it was held that all amendments ought to be allowed which satisfy the two conditions:

(a) of not working injustice to the other side, and

(b) of being necessary for the purpose of determining the real questions in controversy between the parties. Amendments should be refused only where the other party cannot be placed in the same position as if the pleading had been originally correct, but the amendment would cause him an injury which could not be compensated in costs.

10. In our opinion, on the basis of the aforestated legal position, the amendment application made by the Plaintiff should have been granted, especially in view of the fact that it was admitted by the Plaintiff that the suit property was initially undervalued in the plaint and by virtue of the amendment application, the Plaintiff wanted to correct the error and wanted to place correct market value of the suit property in the plaint."

14. He further placed reliance upon judgment of High Court of Uttaranchal passed in B K Mittal (Supra) in which Court has held that amendment application cannot be rejected on the ground of laches. Relevant paragraphs of the said judgment is quoted below:-

7. The purpose of Order VI, Rule 17 of the Code of Civil Procedure is to allow either party to amend their pleadings in such manner and on such terms as may be just. The power to allow the amendment is not only discretionary but is also wide and could be exercised at any stage of the proceedings in the interest of justice. The Supreme Court in a catena of decisions has consistently held that the Court should adopt a liberal approach and allow a party to take all kinds of stand which they may choose and that the Court should not adopt a hyper-technical approach. The Supreme Court held that a liberal approach should be adopted and, as far as possible, amendment should be allowed, especially, when the other side could be compensated with cost.

8. In the light of the aforesaid, the Court finds that the Plaintiff had taken a plea that the extract of the sale-deed was read by him which he noted and, subsequently, when he got hold of the copy of the sale-deed, he filed the amendment application seeking the relief for declaration that the said sale-deed should be declared void. Since the essential facts had already been stated in the plaint, the Court below should have allowed the amendment and should not have taken a view that the amendment sought was barred by limitation. The question whether the relief sought to be incorporated in the plaint was barred by limitation or not was a question of fact which was required to be adjudicated and, for that purposes, a necessary issue was required to be framed. At the stage of considering the amendment, such question could not have been adjudicated since this Court is of the opinion that it was a question of fact which required evidence."

15. So far as facts of the case are concerned, it is undisputed that after rejection of Original Suit No. 2 of 1993, petitioner-plaintiff has filed appeal and during the pendency of appeal, he has filed amendment application for amending the plaint, which was also rejected. Against both the orders, petitioner-plaintiff has preferred Writ Petition No. 28148 of 1998 before the this Court, which was dismissed vide order dated 17.09.2010 with liberty to the plaintiff-petitioner to file amendment application before the Court below. It is also undisputed that while dismissing the writ petition, this Court has also directed to decide the appeal expeditiously and dispose of Original Suit at the earliest. Instead of filing amendment application forthwith, petitioner-plaintiff has filed amendment application on 08.04.2013 i.e. almost about three years after closing of evidence and when the case was listed for final argument. Now the question is as to whether such amendment application may be entertained by the Court below or not.

16. There is no doubt on this point that Apex Court has taken consistent view that amendment application may be allowed at the second appellate stage, Court is required to take liberal view and further amendment application would not be rejected on the ground of delay, in case delay is bonafide without any ill intention.

17. There is also no dispute on this point that as per Act, 2002, amended provisions would not be applicable to the pending pleadings, but it is required to be seen as to whether purpose of filing of amendment application is bonafide or only to delay the proceedings.

18. Now, issue before the Court is to decide under which circumstances, amendment application may be allowed even if it has been filed at a very belated stage. In the present case, it is undisputed that liberty was given to petitioner-plaintiff to file fresh amendment application coupled with this fact that there was also direction of this Court to decide the appeal as well as suit at the earliest. Not only this, in Writ-C No. 28148 of 1998, this Court vide order dated 17.09.2010 had directed to decide the suit within one year, which is not disclosed. Apart that, petitioner-plaintiff himself has filed Civil Misc. Writ-C No. 12630 of 2013, which which was disposed of vide order dated 08.03.2013 with direction to the Court below to decide the suit within six months, which is also not disclosed in the present petition. In compliance of order of High Court, Court below has proceeded to decide the suit and accordingly, evidences of both the parties were closed and matter was listed for final argument. At this stage, petitioner-plaintiff has preferred amendment application, which was rejected vide impugned order dated 01.12.2021.

19. This Court is of the firm view that once the Court has granted liberty to file second amendment application, there is no occasion for the petitioner-plaintiff to wait for three years when the suit was listed for final hearing and also, in the mean time, he himself has filed Civil Misc. Writ-C No. 12630 of 2013 before this Court for early disposal of suit. In fact, it is nothing but an attempt to linger on the proceeding by filing such amendment application, therefore, Court below has taken right view that it is nothing but an attempt to raise the complexity in the matter and allowing the amendment application would change the nature of case based on those facts which were very well in the knowledge of petitioner-plaintiff since the date of filing of suit. Though, the judgments so cited by counsel for petitioner may favour petitioner-plaintiff in case it was filed with bonafide intention to meet the end of justice, but in the present case, those judgments would not come into the rescue of petitioner for the reasons that intention of petitioner-plaintiff is not fair in filing amendment application. On one hand, petitioner-plaintiff himself has filed writ petitions for early disposal of suit and on the other hand, he has taken chance to linger on the proceeding by filing amendment application at a very belated stage.

20. Therefore, while dealing such situation where amendment application is filed at a very belated stage, it is required to be seen as to whether it has been filed with clean hand, bonafide intention or only with intention to delay the proceedings and if the second one is found, no interference is required as the present case is.

21. Under such facts of the case, this Court is not impressed to interfere with the impugned orders dated 01.12.2021 and 11.07.2013.

22. Writ petition lacks merit and is, accordingly dismissed.

23. No order as to costs.

(2022) 9 ILRA 744
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 25.07.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SARAL SRIVASTAVA, J.

Matters Under Article 227 No. 636 of 2021 (CIVIL)

Sadare Alam & Ors. ...Petitioners
Versus
Ram Awadh & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioners:
Sri Prem Narayan Tiwari, Sri Anil Bhushan (Sr. Advocate)

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri Brajesh Kumar Dwivedi, Sri Vishnu Gupta, Sri Shiv Om Vikram Singh Chauhan (Sr. Advocate)

Civil Law- Transfer of Property Act, 1882 - Sections 105 & 106- Whether permission granted by the petitioners-plaintiffs to respondents-defendants (first set) on Rs.100/- on non-judicial stamp is a lease or not- Said permission lacks essential ingredients of lease since there is no recitation in the said permission as to what is the premium or rent to be paid by the respondents-defendants (first set) to the petitioners-plaintiffs and respondents-defendants (second set) in lieu of transfer of suit property.The permission dated 28.11.2019 being termed as 'lease' by the respondents-defendants (first set) is not a lease- The question of giving notice contemplated under Section 106 of the Act, 1882 arises only when a valid lease was executed between the parties- the appellate court has erred in holding that notice under Section 106 of the Act, 1882 was mandatory before the institution of the suit by the petitioners-plaintiffs.

In order to be termed as a lease, rent or premium is one of the essential ingredients and mere permission without any rent or premium cannot be termed as a lease. Hence, in absence of a lease no notice u/s 106 of the TPA was required.

Code of Civil Procedure, 1908- Section 94- Order XXXIX Rule 1- Where the nature of possession of the defendant is that of trespasser or unlawful, the plaintiff is not supposed to pray for the relief of possession, and suit for injunction is sufficient- The instant case is not one where respondents-defendants (first set) have been evicted forcefully by the petitioner-plaintiff and are claiming possession of the property in dispute-The possession of the respondent-defendant (first set) on the strength of said lease deed prima facie cannot be said to be lawful for the reason that the property being joint property, it has to be leased out by all co-sharer and the description of the property has to be given in the lease deed specifying which portion of the property has been leased out to respondents-defendants (first set).

Where the alleged lease does not mention any rent or premium and being a joint property is not leased out by all the co-sharers then a suit for injunction would be maintainable as the possession of the defendant would be unlawful. (Para 25, 27, 29, 30, 31, 36, 38, 44)

Petition Allowed. (E-3)

Judgement/ Case law cited :-

1. Rahul Dixit & anr. Vs Chandra Kumar Agarwal 2019(1) ADJ 593(cited)

2. Sant Lal Jain Vs Avtar Singh AIR 1985 SC 857 (relied)

3. Lalli Yeshwant Singh (Dead) Vs Rao Jagdish Singh 1968 AIR SC 620 (cited)

4. East India Hotels Ltd. Vs Syndicate Bank 1992 (Suppl. 2) SCC 29 (cited)

5. M/s. Anamallai Club Vs The Govt. of T.N & ors.1997 (3) SCC 159 (cited)

6. Biswabani (P.) Ltd. Vs Santosh Kumar Dutta & ors. 1980 AIR 226 (cited)

7. Leela Dhar Gera & anr. Vs Special Judge (SC/ST) Act/Additional District Judge, Bareilly & ors.,Writ Petition No.166 of 2010 (cited)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Saral Srivastava, J.)

1. Heard Sri Anil Bhushan, learned Senior Advocate assisted by Sri P.N. Tiwari, learned counsel for the petitioners, and Sri Shiv Om Vikram Singh Chauhan, learned Senior Advocate assisted by Sri Vishnu Gupta, learned counsel for the respondents.

2. The petitioners are plaintiffs in Original Suit No.2314 of 2020 and have assailed the order dated 20.01.2021 passed by the District Judge, Azamgarh, allowing the appeal of respondents-defendants (first set) by which appellate court has set aside the order dated 22.12.2020 passed by the trial court granting the temporary injunction to the petitioners-plaintiffs.

3. The petitioners-plaintiffs instituted Original Suit No.2314 of 2020 restraining respondents-defendants (first set) (respondent nos.1 & 2 in the writ petition) not to interfere in the possession of the petitioners-plaintiffs, and further respondents-defendants (first set) be restrained from raising any construction over the suit property and not to excavate mud from the suit property i.e. Arazi no.606 area 1.5440 hectare shown as "ABCDEFGH' in the map at the foot of the plaint.

4. The suit has been instituted on the ground that petitioners-plaintiffs and respondents-defendants (second set) are the joint owners of the suit property, and the suit property has not been partitioned between the petitioners-plaintiffs and respondents-defendants (second set) by metes and bounds. It is stated that on the north side of the suit property, a brick kiln (Bhatta) was being run by the respondents-defendants (first set). It is further pleaded that respondents-defendants (first set) have no concern with the suit property. The respondents-defendants (first set) are Bhu-mafias and have been threatening the petitioners-plaintiffs since 14.11.2020 to excavate mud from the suit property and dispossess them. The said action of the respondents-defendants (first set) gave the cause of action to the petitioners-plaintiffs to institute the aforesaid suit. In the said suit, petitioners-plaintiffs also filed 6C-2 application praying for a temporary injunction.

5. The respondents-defendants (first set) filed an objection to the temporary injunction application stating therein that they are in possession of the suit property. It is stated that on account of the Pandemic of COVID-19, the raw material of the respondents-defendants (first set) namely, coal, mud, sand, etc. were lying on the suit property. It is further stated that petitioners-plaintiffs have issued a licence in favour of the respondents-defendants (first set) to run a brick kiln which is still in existence. It is further stated that on account of closure of brick-kiln, respondents-defendants (first set) are suffering a loss of Rs.1 lakh per day. It is further pleaded that no prima facie case and balance of convenience are in favour of the petitioners-plaintiffs and it is respondents-defendants (first set) who shall suffer irreparable loss if they are not allowed to run brick-kiln.

6. The trial court vide order dated 20.11.2020 granted an ex-parte order of status quo restraining the respondents-defendants (first set) not to interfere in the possession of the petitioners-plaintiffs. The trial court in granting the temporary injunction considered three ingredients namely, prima facie case, the balance of convenience, and irreparable loss. In recording the finding, the trial court found that the suit property is jointly owned by the petitioners-plaintiffs and respondents-defendants (second set). It further found that petitioners-plaintiffs granted lease in favour of the respondents-defendants (first set) to run brick-kiln which has expired on 28.11.2020, and after the expiry of the lease, the possession of respondents-defendants (first set) is illegal because suit property has not yet been partitioned and fresh lease deed has been issued by the respondents-defendants (second set) on 20.11.2020, but no lease has been executed by the petitioners-plaintiffs, therefore, possession of the respondents-defendants (first set) over the suit property is illegal after the expiry of alleged lease dated 28.11.2019. Accordingly, the trial court found that petitioners-plaintiffs have been able to make out a prima facie case.

7. The trial court found that petitioners-plaintiffs are doing agriculture and cultivation over the suit property, therefore, the balance of convenience lay in favour of petitioners-plaintiff. It further held that if respondents-defendants (first set) are permitted to excavate mud from the suit property, that will cause irreparable injury to the petitioners-plaintiffs. Accordingly, it passed the order granting the temporary injunction in favour of petitioners-plaintiffs.

8. Against the order of the trial court, respondents-defendants (first set) preferred Misc. Appeal No.23 of 2020 which was allowed by the appellate court vide order dated 20.01.2021 holding that as admittedly, a lease was executed by petitioners-plaintiffs for a period from 28.11.2019 to 28.11.2020, and respondents-defendants (first set) was in possession on account of lease granted in their favour, therefore, a six-month notice under Section 106 of Transfer of Property Act, 1882 (hereinafter referred to as 'Act, 1882') is necessary to evict the respondents-defendants (first set), and since no notice has been given by the petitioners-plaintiffs as required under Section 106 of the Act, 1882, therefore, no cause of action arose to the petitioners-plaintiffs to institute the present suit.

9. The appellate court further found that the balance of convenience also lay in favour of the respondents-defendants (first set) and they shall suffer irreparable loss if the temporary injunction is allowed to be continued. Accordingly, it allowed the appeal and set aside the order passed by the trial court vide impugned order.

10. Challenging the aforesaid order, learned Senior Counsel for the petitioners-plaintiffs has contended that the order of the appellate court allowing the appeal is per se illegal since no notice under Section 106 of the Act, 1882 is required to be given before the institution of the suit. He submits that the finding returned by the appellate court is illegal and based upon the misinterpretation of the law. He further submits that the trial court has given elaborate reason in recording a finding that petitioners-plaintiffs have prima facie case and balance of convenience lay in favour of petitioners-plaintiffs, and if the temporary injunction is not granted, that shall cause irreparable injury to the petitioners-plaintiffs.

11. It is further contended that without upsetting the finding returned by the trial court, the appellate court has acted illegally in setting aside the order of the trial court.

12. Per contra, learned Senior Counsel for the respondents has contended that evidence on record establishes that respondents-defendants (first set) are in possession of the suit property, therefore, in the absence of any prayer for a decree of possession, suit for injunction is not maintainable. He further contends that an unregistered lease deed shall be treated as the lease from month to month and the status of the lessee is that of a tenant by holding over, in such view of the fact, the status of respondents-defendants (first set) is that of the tenant by holding over and they are entitled to protect their possession.

13. Lastly, it is urged that final relief cannot be granted by way of the temporary injunction, therefore, it is submitted that the order of the appellate court does not require any interference by this Court under its supervisory jurisdiction.

14. I have considered the rival submission of the parties and perused the record.

15. The facts emanating from the record are that admittedly, suit property belongs to petitioners-plaintiffs and respondents-defendants (second set). It is also not in dispute that suit property is jointly owned by petitioners-plaintiffs and respondents-defendants (second set), and partition of the suit property has not taken place by metes and bounds. The petitioners-plaintiffs to succeed in obtaining the temporary injunction have to establish that they have a prima facie case in their favour, the balance of convenience lay in their favour, and if the temporary injunction is not granted, that shall cause irreparable injury to the petitioners-plaintiffs.

16. In the instant case, respondents-defendants (first set) state that they are in possession of the suit property since 1996. The petitioners-plaintiffs and the respondents-defendants (second set) permitted the respondents-defendants (first set) to run the brick-kiln business on the suit property for one year from 28.11.2019. Each petitioners-plaintiffs, as well as respondents-defendants (second set), permitted respondents-defendants (first set) on Rs.100/- stamp separately on 28.11.2019. The language and contents of the document granting right to use property are written on Rs.100/- non-judicial stamp and the contents of the said document are identical. It is pertinent to note that the permissive right granted by petitioners-plaintiffs by document dated 28.11.2019 is termed by respondents-defendants (second set) as the lease.

17. To consider the nature of right over the property given by the petitioners-plaintiffs on Rs.100/- stamp appearing on page no.29 of the supplementary counter affidavit of the respondent nos.1 & 2, it would be relevant to reproduce the contents of document herein below:-

"हम की सदरे आलम पुत्र सुलेमान अंसारी ग्रा० पो० सिकरौर सहबरी जिला-आजमगढ़ के निवासी है। हम अपनी जमीन को जो सिकरौर बाजार से पूरब नहर माईनर के पास सड़क से उत्तर स्थित है। उस जमीन (606) को हम श्री सुनील यादव पुत्र श्री राम अवध यादव ग्राम सिकरौर सहबरी जिला-आजमगढ़ को भट्ठा चलाने के लिए आज दिनाँक-28.11.2019 से एक वर्ष के लिए जमीन भट्ठा चलाने हेतु दे दिए। आज जिस हालत में जमीन है, हम उस हालत मे जमीन वापिस देगें। इसी लिए यह एकरार नामा लिख दिया ताकी समय पर काम आवे।"

18. The recitation in the said document is clear that permission has been granted to the respondents-defendants (first set) for one year from 28.11.2019. It further recites that respondents-defendants (first set) shall return the land in the same condition in which the land was on the date of grant of rights to the respondents-defendants (first set).

19. According to the respondents-defendants (first set), after the expiry of the aforesaid period, the respondents-defendants (second set) have separately granted fresh permission on Rs.50/- non-judicial stamp on 28.10.2020 appearing on page 35 of the supplementary counter affidavit which is reproduced herein below:-

"हम कि गुफरान अहमद व इरफान अहमद व रिजवान अहमद सुल्तान अहमद पुत्र गण पुत्रगण शमतुदीन व अन्जुम आरा पत्नी सुफियान अहमद व वसीम अनवर व असद मो० अकरम पुत्रगण सुफियान उर्फ उजमा व साफिया पुत्रीगण सुफियान अहमद ग्राम व पो० सिकरौर सहबरी, परगना माहुल, तहसील मार्टीनगंज, जिला आजमगढ़ के निवासी है। प्रथम पक्ष

सुनील यादव पुत्र राम अवध यादव ग्राम सिकरौर सहबरी, पर० माहुल, तहसील मार्टीनगंज, जिला आजमगढ़-द्वितीय पक्ष

हम प्रथम पक्ष द्वितीय पक्ष को स्टार स्वास्तिक स्टार ईट भट्ठा उद्योग लगाने हेतु अपनी निम्नलिखित गाटा सं० 606 रकवा-1.544 हे० मैं अपने हिस्से से 1/3 भाग पर किराये पर दिया है जिस पर द्वितीय पक्ष अपनी चिमनी व आपिस लगाकर उद्योग चला रहे है जिसकी किरायेनामा की अवधि समाप्त हो रही है। इसलिए हम प्रथमपक्ष द्वितीयपक्ष को एक वर्ष के लिए एकरारनामा कर रहे है। द्वितीय पक्ष से एक लाख रूपया जरिया चेक सं०55943 बैक सलाना के तौर पर ले रहे है। द्वितीय पक्ष अपना ईट भट्ठा उद्योग करके एक वर्ष तक चलायेगे। इसमे हम प्रथम पक्ष की कोई आपत्ति न है न ही भविष्य में होगी। यह एकरार नामा सिर्फ माह 12 हेतु ही है। अतः यह खूब सोच समझ कर स्वेच्छा से यह एग्रीमेण्ट तहरीर कर दिया गया कि प्रमाण रहे और समय पर काम आवे।

दिनांक 28-10-2020"

20. The perusal of the alleged permission granted by the respondents-defendants (second set) dated 28.10.2020 reveals that respondents-defendants (second set) have granted the right to use the suit property to the extent of their 1/3rd share in the suit property.

21. In such a factual backdrop, it is to be seen as to what is the nature of possession of respondents-defendants (first set) after the expiry of permission granted by petitioners-plaintiffs on 28.11.2019 extracted above.

22. learned counsel for the respondents contends that conditional lease was granted by petitioners-plaintiffs and respondents-defendants (second set) in favour of the respondents-defendants (first set), and even if the document is unregistered, that shall be treated as lease month to month and status of respondents-defendants (first set) is that of the tenant by holding over and in such view of the fact, they are entitled to protect their possession.

23. To test the legality of the said argument of learned counsel for respondents-defendants (first set), Court has to be prima facie satisfy at this stage that said contention of respondents has substance in law.

24. To test the bona fides of the argument of learned counsel for the respondents, it would be useful to have a glance at Section 105 of the Act, 1882 which defines the lease which is being extracted herein below:-

"105. Lease defined.--A lease of immoveable property is a transfer of a right to enjoy such property, made for a certain time, express or implied, or in perpetuity, in consideration of a price paid or promised, or of money, a share of crops, service or any other thing of value, to be rendered periodically or on specified occasions to the transferor by the transferee, who accepts the transfer on such terms.

Lessor, lessee, premium and rent defined.--The transferor is called the lessor, the transferee is called the lessee, the price is called the premium, and the money, share, service, or other thing to be so rendered is called the rent."*

25. Perusal of Section 105 of the Act, 1882 clearly shows that one of the ingredients for a document to be termed as a lease is that transfer of right by lesser to the lessee to enjoy immovable property must be in consideration of a price paid or promised, or of money, a share of crops, service or any other thing of value, to be rendered periodically or on specified occasions to the lesser by the lessee to accept the transfer of such permission. Premium and rent are also defined in Section 105 of the Act, 1882 which provides that price is called 'premium' and money, share, service, or other thing to be so rendered is called 'rent'.

26. Now, in the light of the above, this Court proceeds to consider the question as to whether permission granted by the petitioners-plaintiffs to respondents-defendants (first set) on Rs.100/- on non-judicial stamp on 28.11.2019, extracted above, is a lease or not.

27. Perusal of the said permission dated 28.11.2019, extracted above, reveals that petitioners-plaintiffs have granted permission to respondents-defendants (first set) to run the brick-kiln business on the suit property for one year w.e.f 28.11.2019, but said permission lacks essential ingredients of lease since there is no recitation in the said permission as to what is the premium or rent to be paid by the respondents-defendants (first set) to the petitioners-plaintiffs and respondents-defendants (second set) in lieu of transfer of suit property.

28. At this stage, it is also pertinent to point out that in the objection filed by the respondents-defendants (first set) to the 6-C application, there is no pleading by the respondents-defendants (first set) that they were paying any premium or rent.

29. In such view of the fact, this Court prima facie find that the permission dated 28.11.2019 being termed as 'lease' by the respondents-defendants (first set) is not a lease, hence, the contention of learned counsel for the respondents that respondents became tenant by holding over lacks substance.

30. It is pertinent to note that the question of giving notice contemplated under Section 106 of the Act, 1882 arises only when a valid lease was executed between the parties.

31. In view of the aforesaid fact, this Court finds that the appellate court has erred in holding that notice under Section 106 of the Act, 1882 was mandatory before the institution of the suit by the petitioners-plaintiffs.

32. In such view of the fact, the judgement of this Court relied upon by the learned counsel for the respondents in the case of Rahul Dixit and Another Vs. Chandra Kumar Agarwal 2019(1) ADJ 593 is not applicable in the facts of the present case.

33. This Court finds that it has come on record that respondents-defendants (first set) are in possession of the suit property, therefore, in the absence of any prayer for the decree of possession by the petitioners-plaintiffs, the suit for temporary injunction is not maintainable.

34. To test the said argument, the court is to see what is the nature of possession of respondents-defendants (first set).

35. This Court has reproduced the permission which has been granted by the petitioner-plaintiff on 28.11.2019 which reveals that it lacks ingredients of a lease as the said permission does not disclose the premium or rent which was to be paid by the respondents-defendants (first set) in lieu of transfer of possession for the enjoyment of the suit property.

36. The Apex Court in various pronouncements has held that where the nature of possession of the defendant is that of trespasser or unlawful, the plaintiff is not supposed to pray for the relief of possession, and suit for injunction is sufficient.

37. In this regard, it would be apposite to reproduce paragraphs 7 & 8 of the judgement of the Apex Court in the case of Sant Lal Jain Vs. Avtar Singh AIR 1985 SC 857 which are being reproduced herein below:-

"7. In the present case it has not been shown to us that the appellant had come to the court with the suit for mandatory injunction after any considerable delay which will disentitle him to the discretionary relief. Even if there was some delay, we think that in a case of this kind attempt should be made to avoid multiplicity of suits and the licensor should not be driven to file another round of suit with all the attendant delay, trouble and expense. The suit is in effect one for possession though couched in the form of a suit for mandatory injunction as what would be given to the plaintiff in case he succeeds is possession of the property to which he may be found to be entitled. Therefore, we are of the opinion that the appellant should not be denied relief merely because he had couched the plaint in the form of a suit for mandatory injunction.

8. The respondent was a licensee, and he must be deemed to be always a licensee. It is not open to him, during the subsistence of the licence or in the suit for recovery of possession of the property instituted after the revocation of the licence to set up title to the property in himself or anyone else. It is his plain duty to surrender possession of the property as a licence and seek his remedy separately in case he has acquired title to property subsequently through some other person. He need not do so if he has acquired title to the property from the licensor or from some one else lawfully claiming under him, in which case there would be clear merger.

The respondent has not surrendered possession of property to the appellant even after the termination of the licence and the institution of the suit. The appellant is, therefore, entitled to recover possession of the property. We accordingly allow the appeal with costs throughout and direct the respondent to deliver possession of the property to the appellant forthwith failing which it will be open to the appellant to execute the decree and obtain possession."

38. Thus, in view of the discussion in the foregoing paragraphs, this Court prima facie believes that permission dated 28.11.2019 can not be termed as lease. Accordingly, the possession of respondents-defendants (first set) after the expiry of one year from 28.11.2020 prima facie does not appear to be lawful possession, therefore, in view of the judgement of the Apex Court in the case of Sant Lal Jain (supra), this Court prima facie believes that the suit for injunction is maintainable.

39. It is further pertinent to mention that judgement of the Apex Court in the case of Lalli Yeshwant Singh (Dead) Vs. Rao Jagdish Singh 1968 AIR SC 620 is not applicable in the facts of the present case as in that case, the tenant was forcefully evicted by the landlord without taking any recourse to law and in such view of the fact, the Apex Court held that tenant can maintain a suit under Section 6 of the Specific Relief Act.

40. The judgement of Apex Court in the case of East India Hotels Limited Vs. Syndicate Bank 1992 (Suppl. 2) SCC 29 is also not applicable in the facts of the present case for two reasons; firstly, there was a difference of opinion between the two Hon'ble Judges of the Apex Court as to whether the suit instituted by the bank under Section 6 of the Specific Relief Act was maintainable or not. Secondly, it was a case where the respondent bank was alleging that its eviction was forceful, therefore, the suit under Section 6 of the Specific Relief Act is maintainable for possession.

41. The instant case is not one where respondents-defendants (first set) have been evicted forcefully by the petitioner-plaintiff and are claiming possession of the property in dispute.

42. Similarly, the judgement of the Apex Court in the case of M/s. Anamallai Club Vs. The Government of Tamil Nadu and Others 1997 (3) SCC 159 is not applicable in the facts of the present case.

43. So far as the judgement of Apex Court in the case of Biswabani (P.) Ltd. Vs. Santosh Kumar Dutta and Others 1980 AIR 226 is concerned, the same is also not applicable in the facts of the present case in view of the finding returned above that the question as to whether the permission dated 28.11.2019 was a lease or not and respondents-defendants (first set) can be described as a lawful tenant can be determined at the final disposal of the suit.

44. It is pertinent to mention that it is not in dispute that property was the joint property of petitioners-plaintiffs and respondents-defendants (second set). The lease which is alleged to have been executed by the respondents-defendants (second set) in favour of respondents-defendants (first set) on 20.11.2020 also discloses that respondents-defendants (second set) have granted a lease to respondents-defendants (first set) to the extent of their share, but the description of the property which has been leased out to the respondents-defendants (first set) by respondents-defendants (second set) has not been given in the said lease deed. In the absence of any description of the property leased out to the respondent-defendant (first set) by the respondent-defendant (second set) and the property being a joint property of petitioners-plaintiffs and respondent-defendant (second set), the possession of the respondent-defendant (first set) on the strength of said lease deed prima facie cannot be said to be lawful for the reason that the property being joint property, it has to be leased out by all co-sharer and the description of the property has to be given in the lease deed specifying which portion of the property has been leased out to respondents-defendants (first set).

45. In such view of the fact, this Court finds that the petitioner-plaintiff has been able to establish a prima facie case in his favour, and in case, the respondents-defendants (first set) are allowed to run brick-kiln business and excavate mud from the suit property during the pendency of the suit, that will change the nature of the property and reduce the fertility of the land as well as it shall cause damage to agriculture which is done by the petitioners-plaintiffs over the suit property.

46. It is also pertinent to mention that excavation of mud and soil from the suit property and running of the brick-kiln business on suit property may also seriously damage the yield of the crop over the suit property and will make the land non-agricultural land which cannot be compensated in terms of money.

47. Thus, in such view of the fact, the contention of learned counsel for the respondents that no final relief at an interim stage by way of injunction can be granted based on the judgement of this Court in the case of Leela Dhar Gera and Another Vs. Special Judge (SC/ST) Act/Additional District Judge, Bareilly and Others passed in Writ Petition No.166 of 2010 is not sustainable. Accordingly, in the opinion of the Court, the aforesaid judgment is not applicable in the present case as the said judgement has been rendered in a different factual scenario.

48. The perusal of the judgement of the appellate court reveals that it has not upset the finding returned by the trial court while granting the injunction, and accordingly, for this reason also, the order of the appellate court is not sustainable.

49. Thus, for the reasons given above, this Court finds that the order of the appellate court is not sustainable in law, and accordingly, it is set aside. The writ petition is allowed and respondents-defendants (first set) are restrained from running the brick-kiln business over the suit property.

50. Considering the nature of the dispute in the present case, this Court finds that it would be appropriate to direct the court below in the interest of justice to decide the suit expeditiously without granting any unnecessary adjournment to either of the parties. In case any adjournment is inevitable, the authority concerned may grant the same by imposing a heavy cost which may not be less than Rs.1,000/-.

(2022) 9 ILRA 752
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 09.09.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE JASPREET SINGH, J.

Matters Under Article 227 No. 2841 of 2022

Avadhesh Kumar & Ors. ...Petitioners
Versus
District Magistrate, Lko. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioners:

Dinesh Kumar Singh

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C., Dilip Kumar Pandey

Civil Law- The Uttar Pradesh Revenue Code, 2006- Sections 24 & 25- The Uttar Pradesh Revenue Court Manual (Amendment) Regulations, 2016- Regulations 475 and 476- Application for demarcation of boundaries in terms of Section 24 of the Code of 2006 and had also deposited the requisite fee - Received in the office of the Sub-Divisional Magistrate concerned on 30.04.2022 and remained unattended and the case was registered on 06.09.2022 after the present petition was filed-Demarcation proceedings are summary in nature and more than four months have lapsed and the case of the petitioners has yet not been registered. There is no leverage provided to the Sub-Divisional Magistrate to defer or to avoid registering of a case on the date when an application is received. It is clear that immediately upon receiving of a petition or an application, the office concerned is required to scrutinize the same and unless any defect is pointed out, which cannot be cured at the said point of time then some time is given to cure the defect but if the said application or a petition is found to be in order then the same has to be registered on the same very day.

The provisions of Section 24 and Section 25 of the Code of 2006, as well as the regulations framed thereunder, mandate that unless any defect is found in the application the Sub-Divisional Magistrate is bound to register the application on the very date of filing and to ensure the decision of the case within a period of six months as far as possible.

The Constitution of India- Article 227- Articles 14 and 21- The State has failed to provide the access to justice to the petitioners. The fundamental right of the petitioners to seek redressal through the Court of law has been infringed. This requires introspection from all stakeholders especially the State who is the appointing authority of the Officer manning the Revenue Courts, who adjudicate and decide the valuable rights of the citizens relating to their individual rights and property while exercising judicial and quasi-judicial powers in accordance and within the framework of law- A serious issue arises which involves dereliction of duty of the person, who are required to act and perform ministerial work, judicial and quasi-judicial function.

Where the authorities entrusted with judicial and quasi-judicial powers fail to act in accordance with the mandate of law and statutory provisions by failing to register the case of the applicants and deciding the same, then the said act amounts to denial of access to justice thereby infringing the Fundamental Rights of the petitioners under Articles 14 & 21 of the Constitution of India. (Para 21, 27, 30, 36, 38, 40)

Petition disposed of with directions/ guidelines. (E-3)

Case Law /Judgements relied upon:-

Anita Kushwaha Vs Pushap Sudan, (2016) 8 SCC 509

(Delivered by Hon'ble Jaspreet Singh, J.)

1. As we are celebrating 75 Years of our Independence which has been celebrated with much fanfare across the country under the aegis of "75 Years of Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsov", but at the same time, this Court is pained to take note of the instant petition whereby the petitioners have approached this Court alleging violation of their fundamental right to access justice.

2. Rule of law is meaningless unless there is access to justice for the common people. Access to justice is one of the constitutionally recognized human and fundamental right. Access to justice means to reach justice easily by legal proceedings in appropriate time. Delivery of justice should be impartial and non-discriminatory. State to take all necessary steps to provide fair, transparent, effective, and accountable service that promotes access to justice for all.

3. It is in the backdrop of Constitutional vision that the facts of the present case requires to be evaluated.

4. The petitioners have invoked the supervisory jurisdiction of this Court under Article 227 of the Constitution of India seeking a direction to the Sub-Divisional Magistrate (Judicial), Mohanlalganj, District Lucknow to register their case instituted by them under Section 24 of the Uttar Pradesh Revenue Code, 2006 (for short, "the Code of 2006") pending since 21.04.2022.

5. It is the case of the petitioners that they are tenure-holder of land 391 with an area measuring 1.3338 hectares situate in Village Dehramau, Pargana and Tehsil Mohanlalganj, District Lucknow. The petitioners have further stated that in order to get their boundaries properly demarcated, they moved an application in terms of Section 24 of the Code of 2006 and had also deposited the requisite fee of Rs.1,000/- on 29.04.2022. It is also alleged in the petition that though after submitting the said application, it was forwarded to the Tehsildar, Mohanlalganj, who further is stated to have forwarded the application to the Revenue Inspector and Lekhpal, but till date, no proceedings have commenced.

6. It has also been pointed out that demarcation proceedings are summary in nature and more than four months have lapsed and the case of the petitioners has yet not been registered.

7. It has specifically been stated in Paragraphs 9 and 10 of the petition that the Revenue Inspector and the Lekhpal are harassing the petitioners and the application for demarcation is pending since 21.04.2022, but till date, no action has been taken. It is also stated that the petitioners moved another application to the District Magistrate, Lucknow on 23.07.2022 by post as the first application of the petitioners was not evoking any response.

8. It is further stated that the petitioners made a complaint on the public portal but still no action was taken and being disillusioned with the system, the petitioners knocked the doors of this Court bringing it to the notice regarding the injustice being suffered and the basic rights of the petitioners to have access to justice has been deprived.

9. The petitioners have prayed for the following reliefs, which read as under:-

"i. Direct opposite party No.2 i.e. Up-Ziladhikari, Mohanlalganj, District Lucknow to decide the Case under Section 24 of U.P. Revenue Code, 2006 pending before him since 21.04.2022; Avadhesh Kumar and others vs. State of U.P. and others, expeditiously preferably within stipulated period fixed by this Hon'ble Court.

ii. Issue any other order or direction in the nature and manner which this Hon'ble Court deems fit and proper in the circumstances of the case.

iii. Award the cost of the petition in favour of the petitioners."

10. This Court on 08.08.2022 had required the petitioners to indicate the case number of the proceedings which was filed by them.

11. In compliance of the said order, the petitioners had filed a supplementary affidavit dated 10.08.2022, wherein in Paragraphs 3 to 5, it was stated that the respondents have not even registered the case of the petitioners. In order to substantiate the same, the petitioners have filed the status report, which is available online, however, it has also stated that the case of the petitioners has been entered in the Register at S.No.138 dated 02.05.2022, but till date, neither any case has been registered nor any order-sheet has been drawn. No case number has been allotted and in this view of the matter, this Court on 31.08.2022 had passed the following order, which reads as under:-

"Heard learned counsel for the petitioner.

In compliance of the order dated 08.08.2022, the petitioner has filed a supplementary affidavit wherein in paragraph 3 it is stated that despite having moved an application under Section 24 of the U.P. Revenue Code, 2006 and a sum of Rs. 1,000/- also having been deposited on 29.04.2022 yet the case has not been registered nor any action has been taken thereon. The allegations as well as the averments made in the affidavit is of a serious nature.

Sri Dilip Kumar Pandey, learned counsel as well as the learned counsel for the respondent nos. 3 and 4 shall seek specific instructions and inform the Court as to why the aforesaid case as filed by the petitioner has yet not been registered.

List this matter again on 06th September, 2022, as fresh on which date an affidavit on behalf of opposite party no. 2 shall be filed indicating why the said case has not been registered."

12. To the surprise of the Court, despite a clear order dated 31.08.2022, learned standing counsel did not file the affidavit as he was required and had further sought a week's time. This request for time was rejected and the matter was directed to be listed on 09.09.2022 by means of the order dated 06.09.2022. The order dated 06.09.2022 for clear appraisal of the issue is being reproduced hereinafter:-

"Heard learned counsel for the petitioner as well as the learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel for the State-respondents.

The Court on 31.08.2022 had passed the following order which reads as under:-

"Heard learned counsel for the petitioner.

In compliance of the order dated 08.08.2022, the petitioner has filed a supplementary affidavit wherein in paragraph 3 it is stated that despite having moved an application under Section 24 of the U.P. Revenue Code, 2006 and a sum of Rs. 1,000/- also having been deposited on 29.04.2022 yet the case has not been registered nor any action has been taken thereon. The allegations as well as the averments made in the affidavit is of a serious nature.

Sri Dilip Kumar Pandey, learned counsel as well as the learned counsel for the respondent nos. 3 and 4 shall seek specific instructions and inform the Court as to why the aforesaid case as filed by the petitioner has yet not been registered."

List this matter again on 06th September, 2022, as fresh on which date an affidavit on behalf of opposite party no. 2

shall be filed indicating why the said case has not been registered.

Today, it has been informed by the learned Standing Counsel that the affidavit is not ready and therefore he sought a week's further time.

The prayer of the learned Standing Counsel is rejected.

List this matter on 09th September, 2022, as fresh on which date the respondent no. 2 shall appear in person before this Court."

13. On 09.09.2022, Shri Hanuman Prasad Mauriya, Sub-Divisional Magistrate, Tehsil Mohanlalganj, District Lucknow appeared before the Court along with the learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel, Shri Manish Mishra. The Sub-Divisional Magistrate concerned has filed his personal affidavit and has also brought the original records of the case filed by the petitioners as well as the original register wherein cases under Section 24 of the Code of 2006 are entered and recorded.

14. It has been stated by the learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel that though the case was received in the office on 30.04.2022 and on the same very day the then Sub-Divisional Magistrate, Mohanlalganj had passed an order on the application itself directing the Tehsildar, Mohanlalganj to submit a demarcation report after enquiry. It is also stated that the Tehsildar Mohanlalganj vide his order dated 02.05.2022 directed the Revenue Inspector, Khujauli to submit his report after demarcation.

15. It has also been stated that the present Sub-Divisional Magistrate, who has filed his personal affidavit namely Shri Hanuman Prasad Mauriya had taken charge as Sub-Divisional Magistrate on 02.07.2022 while the directions were issued by the erstwhile Sub-Divisional Magistrate on 02.05.2022. It has also been stated that the concerned Revenue Inspector had issued notices to the parties concerned fixing 01.09.2022 on which date the demarcation was carried out on the spot and the Revenue Inspector submitted his report on 01.09.2022 and the Sub-Divisional Magistrate, Lucknow registered the case on 06.09.2022 and a case No.228877/2022 has been generated fixing 13.09.2022 as the date fixed.

16. It has also been stated by the Sub-Divisional Magistrate in Paragraph 17 of his affidavit that the case could not be decided within three months as provided in the Act and the Rules since the report of the Revenue Inspector was awaited, however, it has been assured that the matter shall be taken up with expedition and insofar as the proceedings prior to 02.07.2022 is concerned, it has been stated that since the new incumbent Shri Mauriya had joined on 02.07.2022, he was not aware of the proceedings prior thereto. He undertakes that he shall be vigilant in future in deciding the judicial proceedings.

17. Despite, the aforesaid facts and explanation given by the respondent in his affidavit and a perusal of the register where the cases are recorded under Section 24 of the Code of 2006 which has been provided to the Court for its perusal indicating that there are 168 pages therein. It would indicate that the first case was entered in the said register on 25.01.2022 and the same goes on in seriatim till S.No.347, which is dated 05.08.2022.

18. However, what the Court finds at running page No.10 and 11 of the said register after the S.No.113, there is no mention of any case at S.No.114-115 rather it jumps to S.No.116. Thus, it would be seen that the cases have been shown in seriatim till 113. Thereafter, the serial number commences at 116 and goes on till 347. It is in the aforesaid seriatim, the case of the petitioners is shown to have been incorporated at S.No.138 at the bottom of the page of the register and the date of entey therein is 02.05.2022. Thereafter, there are two blank pages and then again it starts at Page-23 and Serial starts from 1 in seriatim under the heading "Computerized Application for Demarcation' and this also goes in seriatim till S.No.200.

19. Similarly, upon perusing the original case file, it would indicate that the petitioners had filed the case and submitted on 30.04.2022 on which date there is an endorsement of the Sub-Divisional Magistrate concerned. Thereafter, the S.No.138 dated 02.05.2022 has been mentioned. The order-sheet which has been brought on record is dated 06.09.2022 which states that the case be registered. Issue notice to the parties fixing 13.09.2022.

20. The record also indicates that notices have been issued under the signatures of the Sub-Divisional Magistrate concerned on 07.09.2022 on the file. Available on the record is the report of Revenue Inspector allegedly dated 01.09.2022 which indicates that in pursuance of the application for demarcation given by the petitioners, notices were issued on 17.08.2022. It is also stated that the petitioners themselves were present at the time of the survey and a spot memo was also prepared. While preparing the spot memo, it is indicated that any person who has any objection to the demarcation may file or submit his objection before the Court concerned. The parties were required to put their signatures but they refused. Accordingly, the signatures of three other persons have been appended. From a perusal thereof, it would indicate that there is no indication as to who are the said witnesses, as their father's name/parentage or address is not known. It is also not known whether they belong to the said village in question.

21. Be that as it may, the facts are clear and undeniable. The petitioners had filed an application seeking demarcation, which was received in the office of the Sub-Divisional Magistrate concerned on 30.04.2022 and remained unattended and the case was registered on 06.09.2022 after the present petition was filed.

22. The demarcation proceedings are covered under Section 24 of the Code of 2006 and Rule 22 framed thereunder. The Revenue Court Manual has also been framed to regulate the procedural aspect and to ensure the transparency, uniformity and to bring sanctity to the Institution and disposal of the cases.

23. Section 24 of the Code of 2006 reads as under:-

"24. Disputes regarding boundaries.-(1) The Sub-Divisional Officer may, on his own motion or on an application made in this behalf by a person interested, decide, by summary inquiry, any dispute regarding boundaries on the basis of existing survey maps or, where they have been revised in accordance with the provisions of the Uttar Pradesh Consolidation of Holdings Act, 1953, on the basis of such maps, but if this is not possible, the boundaries shall be fixed on the basis of actual possession.

(2) If in the course of an inquiry into a dispute under sub-section (1), the Sub-Divisional Officer is unable to satisfy himself as to which party is in possession or if it is shown that possession has been obtained by wrongful dispossession of the lawful occupant, the Sub-Divisional Officer shall-

(a) in the first case, ascertain by summary inquiry who is the person best entitled to the property, and shall put such person in possession;

(b) in the second case, put the person so dispossessed in possession, and for that purpose use or cause to be used such force as may be necessary and shall then fix the boundary accordingly.

(3) Every proceeding under this section shall, as far as possible, be concluded by the Sub-Divisional Officer within three months from the date of the application.

(4) Any person aggrieved by the order of the Sub-Divisional Officer may prefer an appeal before the Commissioner within thirty days of the date of such order. The order of the Commissioner shall be final."

24. The relevant Rule 22 farmed under the Code of 2006 which is related to demarcation reads as under:-

"22. Recovery of the cost for removal of obstacle (Section 25 and 26).(1) Every application for settlement of boundary dispute under section 24(1) of the Code shall be made to the Sub-Divisional-Officer and it shall contain the following particulars:

(a) The names, parentage and addresses of the parties;

(b) Plot number, area and boundaries of the land, along with its location;

(c) Precise nature of the dispute.

(2) No application for demarcation of boundaries under section 24(1) of the Code shall be entertained unless it is accompanied by certified extracts from the maps, Khasras and Record of Rights (Khatauni) on the basis of which demarcation is sought, and the required amount calculated at the rate of Rs. 1000/- per survey number of the applicant as fee for demarcation has been paid by the applicant.

(3) If the application is for demarcation of two or more than two adjoining plots, only one set of demarcation fee shall be payable but where the survey numbers sought to be demarcated are not adjoining, separate sets of demarcation fee shall be paid.

(4) On the receipt of the application the concerned official shall check the application as to whether the requirements have been fulfilled or not. If there is any defect of formal nature, the applicant or his counsel shall be permitted to remove the defect at once but where the requirements of the application have not been fulfilled, the applicant shall be afforded opportunity as sought for to fulfil the requirements.

(5) As soon as the requirements are fulfilled the official concerned shall register the application in the register concerned and put up the same before the Sub-Divisional-Officer for appropriate order.

(6) The Sub-Divisional-Officer shall pass order on the same day or on the next working day, directing the Revenue Inspector or other revenue officer to demarcate the plot or plots as the case may be after fixing a date and serving the notice in respect thereof to all the tenure holders concerned. This exercise shall be completed within a period of one month from the date of order passed by Sub-Divisional-Officer.

(7) The notice under sub-rule (6) of this rule shall be served on the concerned tenure holder or in his absence on his adult family member. The notice shall also be served on the Chairman of the Land Management Committee.

(8) At the time of demarcation of the plot the spot memo shall be prepared by the Revenue Inspector or other revenue officer and the same shall be signed by all the parties concerned and by the Chairman of the Land Management Committee or any two independent witnesses present at the time of the demarcation. If any party refuses to sign the spot memo, the endorsement to the effect shall be made by the Revenue Inspector.

(9) The Revenue Inspector or other revenue officer shall submit his report of demarcation with spot memo within a period of fifteen days from the date of demarcation. The name and address of the every affected party shall be disclosed in the report.

(10) On receipt of the report under sub-rule (9), the notices shall be issued within one week to all the affected parties inviting the objections on the report and the date shall be fixed which shall not be later than 15 days from the date of issuing the notice.

(11) On the date fixed or on any other date to which the hearing is adjourned, the Sub Divisional Officer shall decide the dispute regarding the boundaries in accordance with the provisions of the sub-section (2) of the section 24 of the Code and pass the appropriate order after considering the report and the objections, if any, filed against the report and affording opportunity of hearing to the parties concerned.

(12) If the report is confirmed by the Sub Divisional Officer, the boundary pillars shall be fixed accordingly within a period of one week and report in respect thereof shall be submitted which shall be part of the record.

(13) Where boundaries of plots/survey numbers are not identifiable or damaged, due to alluvion or diluvion or heavy rain or for any other reasons, the Sub-Divisional Officer may, on the application of the Chairman of the Village Revenue Committee of the village or on the report of Revenue Inspector or Lekhpal of the Circle or on the joint application signed by all the tenure holders concerned, direct, by general or special order in writing, the Revenue Inspector or Lekhpal concerned to demarcate the boundaries on the spot on the basis of the existing survey map or where it is not possible, on the basis of the possession and to redress the grievance, if any, on the basis of the conciliation in consultation with the Village Revenue Committee. The Revenue Inspector or the Lekhpal shall comply with the such order within two weeks from the date of the order and submit the report thereof to the Sub-Divisional Officer.

(14) If any party is aggrieved by the demarcation under sub-rule (13) of this rule, he may move application for demarcation of the boundaries under sub-section (1) of section 24 of the Code and the demarcation under sub-rule (13) will be subject to demarcation under sub-section (1) of section 24 of the Code.

(15) The Sub Divisional Officer, at the time of passing the order for the demarcation under section 24 of the Code or under sub-rule (13) of this rule, may direct the station officer of the police station concerned to make the police force available for maintaining the law and order on the spot at the time of demarcation.

(16) The Sub-Divisional Officer shall make an endeavour to conclude the proceeding within the period specified in section 24(3) and if the proceeding is not concluded within such period the reason for the same shall be recorded."

25. The relevant rules regarding notice as to how it is to be served also reads as under:-

"216. Service of notice.- Any notice or other document required or authorized to be served under this Code may be served either:-*

(a) by delivering it to the person on whom it is to be served; or

(b) by registered post addressed to that person at his usual or last known place of abode; or

(c) in case of an incorporated company or body, by delivering it or sending it by registered post addressed to the secretary or other principal functionary of the company or body at its principal office; or

(d) in any other manner laid down in this Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 for service of summons."

26. The relevant provisions contained in the Uttar Pradesh Revenue Court Manual which relates to institution of the suit and drawing of the order-sheets, the issuance of the notice and the duties of the Presiding Officer and their readers is also mentioned and the relevant Regulations in respect thereto are being reproduced hereinafter:-

"29. Particulars to be written on order-sheet-The order-sheet (paragraph 1202, Revenue Manual) shall contain a note of every order made in the suit or case, and shall show, the date of and the proceedings at every hearing. It shall show, amongst other matters the names of the parties present or of their counsel, if they are represented by counsel, or of their duly authorized agents and the dates on which the plaint and written statement were filed, issues were recorded, or amended, witnesses examined and the names of such witnesses, of the delivery of judgments, of the signing of the decree, and of any application for review of judgment or amendment of the decree. It shall also contain a note of every proceeding such as the reading of the deposition of a witness examined by commission; the reading of a commission's report and of the fact of any objection being made thereto and if witnesses are in attendance when a case is adjourned, the fact shall be noted.*

30. Order sheet to be written by the presiding officer or by an officer of the Court to be signed by presiding officer- Every order on the order-sheet shall be written by the presiding officer or by an officer of the Court under his superintendence, and shall be signed by the presiding officer.*

[Note An officer should be appointed in respect of each Court to sign the order fixing the adjourned date under Rule 32, in the absence of the presiding officer due to sudden illness or some other such cause].

* * * * * * * * * *

32 Order affixing dates or directing anything to be done by parties should be signed by parties or their pleaders-Order fixing dates of adjourned dates for hearing or directing anything to be done by the parties of their pleaders whether recorded in the order-sheet or elsewhere shall be signed then and there by the parties or their pleaders.*

* * * * * * * * * *

The Uttar Pradesh Revenue Court Manual (Amendment) Regulations, 2016

472. Procedure applicable to the summary proceedings-Procedure* prescribed in this chapter shall, subject to the provisions of the Code and the Rules, apply to the summary proceedings under the Code and the Rules.

* * * * * * * * * *

475- Presentation and scrutiny of application -(1) The official F authorised to receive the application shall endorse on the application the date on which it is presented and shall sign the endorsement.

(2) If, on scrutiny, the application is found to be in order, it shall be duly registered and given a serial number.

(3) If the application, on scrutiny, is found to be defective and the defect noticed is formal in nature, the official may allow the applicant or his counsel to remove the defect in his presence, and if the said defect is not formal in nature, the official may allow the applicant or his counsel to rectify the defect at such time as he may deem fit and the endorsement thereof shall be made a on the application which shall be signed by the party or counsel thereof.

(4) If the applicant fails to rectify the defect within the time allowed under the preceding sub- para, the official may decline to register the application and if so, he shall place the matter before the Presiding Officer for appropriate orders.

(5) All the registered applications shall be posted for admission/order before the appropriate Presiding Officer on the next working day. The notice of the posting shall be given by notifying in the Daily Cause List for the day.

(6) The Board shall, apart from the Offline system, endeavour to adopt the online system for the submitting the application processing and depositing the fee prescribed therefor."

27. From the above, it would be clear that there is no leverage provided to the Sub-Divisional Magistrate to defer or to avoid registering of a case on the date when an application is received. It is clear that immediately upon receiving of a petition or an application, the office concerned is required to scrutinize the same and unless any defect is pointed out, which cannot be cured at the said point of time then some time is given to cure the defect but if the said application or a petition is found to be in order then the same has to be registered on the same very day.

28. This being so, the record indicating that the case was recorded and entered in the register on 02.05.2022 and thereafter as per the Sub-Divisional Magistrate and as reflected from the order on the application, a report has been called for and notices have been issued to the parties to participate in the survey and demarcation proceedings yet there is not a single order-sheet on record reflecting the said exercise.

29. The first order-sheet which is available on record is dated 06.09.2022 which indicates that, the case be registered and parties be noticed. Apparently, the manner in which the proceedings have been taken is de-hors the provisions of law, the Rules and the Regulations framed and reproduced hereinabove first.

30. The very fact that demarcation proceedings are summary in nature and have to be decided within a period of three months as far as possible as mentioned in Section 24 of the Code of 2006 itself and here this Court is dealing with a case where the application of the petitioners for demarcation was not even registered for four months and they had to knock the doors of this Court for getting their case registered and it was done only after strict orders were passed by this Court.

31. Access to justice is often used as a term for access to the formal institution of the legal proceedings by those in search of a remedy either individually in a particular civil or criminal case or collectively in a group for a class action or for raising constitutional or legal challenges.

32. Viewed through the lens of human right, access to justice is the obligation of State to construct a legal and institutional framework which facilitates access to independent and effective judicial and adjudicatory mechanisms and ensure a fair outcome for those seeking redress without discrimination of any kind.

33. A Constitutional Bench of the Apex Court in the case of Anita Kushwaha v. Pushap Sudan, (2016) 8 SCC 509 categorically held that access to justice is a facet of right guaranteed under Articles 14 and 21 of the Constitution of India.

34. Justice is a concept of rightness, fairness based on ethics, moral and rationality. Laws made by sovereign body strive for achieving justice for various sections of the society; courts are established for eradicating injustice by reprimanding those who violate the laws and provide remedy to the aggrieved persons.

35. Justice is important, as it restores a sense of equal citizenship and humanity, forces acknowledgment of the suffering, and prevents recurrence. To work in order to secure justice to each and every section of the society is one of the most important goal of a successful State . In Indian context securing justice to the citizens has been kept on supreme priority, since constitution is drafted by the people which lays down the formation of state and direct it to do its function keeping in mind basic principles enshrined in the constitution. Preamble to the Indian constitution also talks about achieving social, economic and political justice as its goal.

36. Having noticed the aforesaid, with a heavy heart, the Court notices that the State has failed to provide the access to justice to the petitioners. The fundamental right of the petitioners to seek redressal through the Court of law has been infringed. This requires introspection from all stakeholders especially the State who is the appointing authority of the Officer manning the Revenue Courts, who adjudicate and decide the valuable rights of the citizens relating to their individual rights and property while exercising judicial and quasi-judicial powers in accordance and within the framework of law.

37. Though the case of the petitioners has now been registered and his prayer has become redundant, however, the Court concerned before whom the demarcation proceedings are now pending shall after issuing fresh and proper notice to all the parties concerned shall get the inspection done once again and thereafter inviting objection on the same decide the matter expeditiously in accordance with law, after affording full opportunity of hearing to the parties concerned. The earlier inspection which is said to have been carried out in absence of the parties shall not come in the way of the parties or the Court and shall be ignored while deciding the matter.

38. However, the facts which have been brought to the notice of the Court is an eye-opener and it cannot be left unaddressed. From the above, it is clear that the fundamental rights of the petitioners to seek access to justice has been infringed. The respondent No.2 could not give any explanation as to why the case of the petitioners filed on 30.04.2022 could not be registered till 06.09.2022. How the order for demarcation and inspection could have been passed without any order being on the order-sheet. How could the Revenue Inspector conduct the inspection without notice being issued to the parties concerned and without adhering to the Rules relevant and applicable in respect thereto. How could the Revenue Inspector act upon any alleged order when the case itself was not registered.

39. Another aspect needs to be investigated is that when the petitioner filed the writ petition before this Court after serving a copy of the same in the office of the Chief Standing Counsel, who accepts advance notice of all matters filed in the High Court where State is a party then despite having knowledge of the same, no instructions were made available and despite three dates were fixed in Court on 08.08.2022, 31.08.2022 and 06.09.2022 and after the request of the State Counsel was rejected on 06.09.2022 only thereafter the case of the petitioner was registered on 06.09.2022.

40. Apparently, a serious issue arises which involves dereliction of duty of the person, who are required to act and perform ministerial work, judicial and quasi-judicial function. The respondent No.2 even after having taken charge on 02.07.2022 did not address the issue and slept over the matter, reason being that no order-sheet was drawn nor any date fixed which is nothing but depriving a citizen of this right to access fair and speedy justice.

41. Thus, exercising powers under Article 227 of the Constitution of India, this Court issue directions to the Principal Secretary (Revenue), Government of Uttar Pradesh, Civil Secretariat, Lucknow as well as the Chairman, Board of Revenue, Lucknow to pass the necessary orders ensuring that the cases which are filed before the Revenue Courts are promptly registered. The order-sheets are properly drawn and signed by the Presiding Officer of the respective Courts promptly. To ensure its efficacy and implementation necessary checks and regular inspections be made in Tehsils in all districts of the State periodically and at intervals to oversee that the compliancies are being made.

42. The Principal Secretary (Revenue) shall also hold an enquiry into the matter relating to non-registration of the case of the petitioners which was filed on 30.04.2022 and the first order-sheet, which came to be written on 06.09.2022 registering the case in light of the observations made in Paragraphs 38 to 40 of this judgment and it be completed within three months. Upon the conclusion of the enquiry, the necessary action be taken against the person found responsible and guilty. A copy of the said enquiry report with the action taken be placed on the record of this case.

43. As the relief claimed by the petitioners has already been rendered otiose, hence, this petition shall stands disposed of, however, the matter shall be listed on on 9th January, 2023 only for compliance of Para-42 of this judgment.

44. List this matter on 9th January, 2023 for compliance.

45. The original register and the record, which have been provided to the Court for its perusal, the same are being returned to the learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel.

46. A copy of this order shall be served upon the Principal Secretary (Revenue), Lucknow and the Chairman, Board of Revenue, Lucknow through the Senior Registrar of this Court forthwith.

(2022) 9 ILRA 764
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 31.08.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE ABDUL MOIN, J.

Matters under Article 227 No. 2846 of 2022

Lucknow Development Authority
...Petitioner
Versus
Ganesh Shankar Tripathi & Anr.
...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Ratnesh Chandra

Counsel for the Respondents:
Ashok Kumar Singh

Civil Law- The Consumer Protection Act, 1986- Section 21, 2(c) & 2(e)- Section 2(e)- Section 21(b)- The learned National Commission has got jurisdiction under Section 21(b) of the Act 1986 to call for records and pass appropriate orders in any consumer dispute which is either pending or has been decided by the said Commission. The order impugned has been passed by the learned Commission in an execution case and not in a consumer dispute and consequently, considering the provisions of Section 21(b) of the Act read with definitions as given in Section 2(c) and 2(e) of the Act 1986, it is apparent that the petitioner does not have a remedy of filing of a revision before the learned National Commission.

There is no alternative remedy by way of a revision before The National Commission as the same is vested with the jurisdiction for matters involving consumer disputes and therefore a matter arising out of an execution case, which is not a consumer dispute, cannot be adjudicated by the National Commission.

The Consumer Protection Act, 1986- Section 17- Whether the learned Commission can be considered to be a ''Tribunal' for the purpose of exercise of power under Article 227 of the Constitution of India- Once the learned Commission has been given power to decide the controversy between two or more contesting parties with regard to any matter, then the same would satisfy the test of the learned Commission being vested with judicial powers and as such the learned Commission can clearly be regarded as a "Tribunal" and consequently the High Court has got jurisdiction under Article 227 of the Constitution of India to entertain petitions against learned State Commission.

Settled law that where any authority is vested with judicial powers and is having the trappings of a court of law then any orders passed by would be amenable to the jurisdiction of the High Court under Article 227 of the Constitution of India.

The Consumer Protection Act, 1986 - Section 25 - A perusal of the impugned order would indicate that it is not an attachment order rather it restrains the petitioner authority from carrying out the aforesaid acts of allotting, registering, transferring or auctioning any plot in Gomti Nagar Scheme and as such by no stretch of imagination, can the impugned order fall within the ambit of being an attachment order- Once the State Commission has passed an order which is patently beyond its jurisdiction and the petitioner does not have any alternative remedy of raising a challenge to the said order, accordingly this Court while exercising jurisdiction under Article 227 of the Constitution of India and exercising the power of superintendence over the learned Commission can very well see the validity of the impugned order. It is apparent that the order impugned dated 21.07.2022 has been passed by the learned State Commission without any jurisdiction.

Since the State Commission has no jurisdiction to pass a restraint order and the National Commission has no power to entertain a revision challenging the said order then the High Court has the jurisdiction to examine the legality and validity of such order passed by the State Commission. (Para 10, 11, 19, 24, 25, 26)

Petition allowed. (E-3)

Case Law/Judgements relied upon:-

1. A. Gurunathan Vs K. Natarajan ,2012-4-L.W.470 (cited, distinguished on facts)

2. R. Jaivel Vs St. of T.N, 2006(2) CTC 709 (cited, distinguished on facts)

3. Laxmikant Revchand Bhojwani & anr. Vs PratapsinghMohansingh Pardeshi, (1995) 6 SCC 576

4. Associate Cement Companies Ltd. Vs P. N. Sharma,AIR 1965 SC 1595

5. L. Chandra Kumar Vs U.O.I (1997) 3 SCC 261

(Delivered by Hon'ble Abdul Moin, J.)

1. Heard learned counsel for the petitioner and Shri Prashant Chandra, learned Senior Advocate assisted by Ms. Mahima Pahwa, learned counsel for the respondents no. 1.

2. At the very outset, Shri Prashant Chandra, learned Senior Advocate, contends that he does not intend to file any counter affidavit and the matter may finally be decided. Accordingly, the Court proceeds to hear and decide the matter.

3. The instant petition has been filed praying for following main reliefs:

"(i) Set aside/quash the judgment dated 21.07.2022 passed in Execution Application no. EA/43/2018 in complaint Case no. C/2011/136 (Ganesh Shankar Tripathi vs Lucknow Development Authority), a certified copy of which is contained as annexure no. 1 to this petition.

(ii) Direct the opposite party no.2 to consign the proceedings to records of Execution Application no. EA/43/2018 in complaint Case no. C/2011/136 (Ganesh Shankar Tripathi vs Lucknow Development Authority) pending before it after declaring that the judgment and decree dated 21.08.2015 has been fully complied and satisfied."

4. The facts of the case have already been set forth by this Court in order dated 23.08.2022, which for the sake of convenience is reproduced below:

"Heard.

Under challenge is the order dated 21.07.2022 passed by the learned State Consumer Disputes Redressal Commission in an execution case, a copy of which is Annexure-1 to the petition, whereby the learned Commission has directed that till the next date no plot in Gomti Nagar or Gomti Nagar Extension shall be allotted, registered, transferred or auctioned.

Learned counsel for the petitioner contends that respondent no.1, the complainant, had filed a complaint under Section 17 of the Consumer Protection Act, 1986 (hereinafter referred to as the 'Act, 1986'), which was decided vide order dated 21.08.2015, a copy of which is Annexure-5 to the writ petition, whereby the learned Commission directed the petitioner herein (Lucknow Development Authority) to deliver the possession of plot measuring 200 sq. meters in Gomti Nagar or in any other scheme in terms of the allotment letter dated 25.10.1993 along with cost. Subsequent thereto, the Lucknow Development Authority issued an allotment letter dated 18.04.2018, a copy of which is Annexure-8 to the petition, allotting the complainant a plot in Sharda Nagar Extension Scheme. Being aggrieved, the execution case was filed by the complainant before the learned Commission. Learned Commission had perused the allotment letter offered by the petitioner in Sharda Nagar scheme and being not satisfied with the same has passed the impugned order, as indicated above.

Learned counsel for the petitioner contends that the judgment passed by the learned Commission dated 21.08.2015 stood complied with the issuance of the allotment letter inasmuch the learned Commission had directed for delivering the possession of a plot in Gomti Nagar Lucknow or in any other scheme and as now through the allotment letter which has been issued to the complainant a plot has been offered in the Sharda Nagar Extension scheme, as such, the judgment passed by the learned Commission has been complied with. He also contends that even if for the sake of arguments it is accepted that the order has not been complied with then too the learned Commission could not have passed the order in the execution proceedings whereby restraining the Lucknow Development Authority from allotting or registering or transferring or auctioning any plot in Gomti Nagar Scheme inasmuch as the orders in execution cases under the provisions of the Act, 1986 can only be passed in terms of Sections 25 and 27 of the Act, 1986 which do not contemplate passing of the order impugned.

Ms. Mahima Pahwa, learned counsel for the respondent no.1, prays for some time to address the Court on the aforesaid issue.

As such, on her request, list this case in the next week as fresh indicating her name in the cause list from the side of the respondents."

5. Shri Prashant Chandra, learned Senior Advocate, assisted by Ms. Mahima Pahwa, learned counsel for the respondent no.1 has contended that the instant petition is not maintainable on the following grounds:

(a) the petitioner has an alternative remedy of filing of a revision under Section 21(b) of the Consumer Protection Act, 1986 (hereinafter referred to as the Act 1986) before the National Consumer Disputes Redressal Commission, New Delhi. In this regard Shri Prashant Chandra has placed reliance on the judgements of Madras High Court in the case of A. Gurunathan vs K. Natarajan reported in 2012-4-L.W.470 as well as in the case of R. Jaivel vs State of Tamil Nadu reported in 2006(2) CTC 709.

(b) the impugned order has correctly been passed by the U.P. State Consumer Disputes Redressal Commission (hereinafter referred to as learned Commission) under the provisions of Section 25(1) of the Act 1986 in as much as an attachment order can be passed and impugned order is sort of an attachment order,

(c) this Court while exercising jurisdiction under Article 227 of the Constitution of India cannot correct the error, if any, which may have been committed by the court below,

(d) the petition has been filed by making false averments, as stated in paragraphs 17 and 18 of the petition, that the judgement passed by the learned Commission had attained finality while the facts are otherwise in as much as, in the revision filed by the respondent no. 1 herein, the order of learned Commission had been modified as would be apparent from a perusal of the order dated 12.01.2016, a copy of which annexure 6 to the petition, which has been passed by the learned National Commission.

(e) Act, 1986 being a special enactment, as such, keeping in view the law laid down by Hon'ble the Apex Court in the case of Laxmikant Revchand Bhojwani and another vs Pratapsingh Mohansingh Pardeshi reported in (1995) 6 SCC 576, this Court under Article 227 of the Constitution of India cannot assume unlimited prerogative to correct the error that may have been committed by the State Commission.

6. Heard learned counsel for the parties and perused the record.

7. So far as the objection (a) is concerned i.e. the petitioner having an alternative remedy of filing of a revision under Section 21(b) of the Consumer Protection Act, 1986 before the National Consumer Disputes Redressal Commission, New Delhi against the order impugned under Section 21(b) of the Act 1986, the Court will have to consider the relevant provisions of the Act, 1986.

8. Section 21 of the Act, 1986 reads as under:

"21. Jurisdiction of the National Commission*.-Subject to the other provisions of this Act, the National Commission shall have jurisdiction-*

(a) to entertain-

(i) complaints where the value of the goods or services and compensation, if any, claimed exceeds [rupees one crore]; and

(ii) appeals against the orders of any State Commission; and

(b) to call for the records and pass appropriate orders in any consumer dispute which is pending before or has been decided by any State Commission where it appears to the National Commission that such State Commission has exercised a jurisdiction not vested in it by law, or has failed to exercise a jurisdiction so vested, or has acted in the exercise of its jurisdiction illegally or with material irregularity."

9. Sections 2(c) and 2(e) of the Act, 1986 read as under:

"2(c) "complaint" means any allegation in writing made by a complainant that[(i) an unfair trade practice or a restrictive trade practice has been adopted by (any trader or service provider ;]

(ii) [the goods bought by him or agreed to be bought by him] suffer from one or more defects;

(iii) [the services hired or availed of or agreed to be hired or availed of by him] suffer from deficiency in any respect;

(iv) a trader or the service provider, as the case may be, has charged for the goods or for the services mentioned in the complaint, a price in excess of the price-

(a) Fixed by or under any law for the time being in force;

(b) displayed on the goods or any package containing such goods;

(c) displayed on the price list exhibited by him by or under any law for the time being in force;

(d) agreed between the parties;)

[(V) goods which will be hazardous to life and safety when used, are being-offered for sale to the public-

(a) in contravention of any standard relating to safety of such goods as required to be complied with, by or under any law for the time being in force;

(b) if the trader could have known with due diligence that the goods so offered are unsafe to the public;)

(vi) services which are hazardous or likely to be hazardous to life and safety of the public when used, are being offered by the service provider which such person could have known with due diligence to be injurious to life and safety;) with a view to obtaining any relief provided by or under this Act;"

2(e) "consumer dispute" means a dispute where the person against whom a complaint has been made, denies or disputes the allegations contained in the complaint;

10. From the perusal of the aforesaid it is apparent that the learned National Commission has got jurisdiction under Section 21(b) of the Act 1986 to call for records and pass appropriate orders in any consumer dispute which is either pending or has been decided by the said Commission. "Consumer dispute" has been defined in Section 2(e) to mean a dispute where the person against whom a complaint has been made, denies or disputes the allegations contained in the complaint, while "complaint" has been defined under Section 2(c) of the Act 1986 to mean any allegation in writing made by a complainant alleging of an unfair trade practice, defect in the goods bought by him or where the service suffers from deficiency in any respect or a higher price has been charged.

11. In the instant case the order impugned has been passed by the learned Commission in an execution case and not in a consumer dispute and consequently, considering the provisions of Section 21(b) of the Act read with definitions as given in Section 2(c) and 2(e) of the Act 1986, it is apparent that the petitioner does not have a remedy of filing of a revision before the learned National Commission.

12. As regards the judgement of Madras High Court in the case of A. Gurunathan and R. Jaivel (Supra) suffice to say that in both the cases the words "consumer dispute" as used in Section 21(b) of the Act 1986 have not been considered and as such the said judgments will have no applicability in the instant case.

13. Before proceeding further with the case and considering the discussion on objection (a) as has been raised by learned Senior Advocate and this Court having held that the petitioner does not have a remedy of filing of a revision before the learned National Commission, another question, which though has not been argued by learned Senior Advocate, is also to be considered which is as to whether this Court, while exercising jurisdiction under Article 226/227 of the Constitution of India, has the power of superintendence over the learned Commission?

14. In this regard the jurisdiction of learned Commission, as provided under Section 17 of the Act 1986 has to be seen, which for the sake of convenience is reproduced below:

"17. Jurisdiction of the State Commission.-- [(1)] Subject to the other provisions of this Act, the State Commission shall have jurisdiction--

(a) to entertain--

(i) complaints where the value of the goods or services and compensation, if any, claimed [exceeds rupees twenty lakhs but does not exceed rupees one crore]; and

(ii) appeals against the orders of any District Forum within the State; and

(b) to call for the records and pass appropriate orders in any consumer dispute which is pending before or has been decided by any District Forum within the State, where it appears to the State Commission that such District Forum has exercised a jurisdiction not vested in it by law, or has failed to exercise a jurisdiction so vested or has acted in exercise of its jurisdiction illegally or with material irregularity.

(2) A complaint shall be instituted in a State Commission within the limits of whose jurisdiction,--

(a) the opposite party or each of the opposite parties, where there are more than one, at the time of the institution of the complaint, actually and voluntarily resides or carries on business or has a branch office or personally works for gain; or

(b) any of the opposite parties, where there are more than one, at the time of the institution of the complaint, actually and voluntarily resides, or carries on business or has a branch office or personally works for gain, provided that in such case either the permission of the State Commission is given or the opposite parties who do not reside or carry on business or have a branch office or personally works for gain, as the case may be, acquiesce in such institution; or

(c) the cause of action, wholly or in part, arises."

15. From perusal of Section 17 of the Act 1986, it emerges that learned Commission has got original jurisdiction to entertain complaints where the fault of goods or services and compensation, if any, claimed exceed Rs 20 lakhs but does not exceed Rs 1 crore and to hear appeals against the orders of any district forum within the State. It also has jurisdiction, as per Section 17(1)(b), to call for records and pass appropriate orders on any consumer dispute which is pending or has been decided by the district forum within the state.

16. Undisputedly in this case, the complaint had been filed by the respondent no. 1 before the learned Commission under Section 17 of the Act 1986 which resulted in the judgement dated 25.08.2015 which in turn has been affirmed in both the appeals that have been filed by the respondent no. 1 herein as well as by the petitioner (with some modification). When the judgement of learned Commission has not been complied, the execution case has been filed and during the pendency of the said case, the impugned order has been passed.

18. Whether the learned Commission can be considered to be a "Tribunal' for the purpose of exercise of power under Article 227 of the Constitution of India by this Court? This question as to when an authority is a "Tribunal' has been considered by a Constitution Bench of Hon'ble the Apex Court in the case of Associate Cement Companies Limited vs P. N. Sharma reported in AIR 1965 SC 1595 wherein the Apex Court has held as under:

"44. An authority other than a court may be vested by statute with judicial power in widely different circumstances, which it would be impossible and indeed inadvisable to attempt to define exhaustively. The proper thing is to examine each case as it arises, and to ascertain whether the powers vested in the authority can be truly described as judicial functions or judicial powers of the State. For the purpose of this case, it is sufficient to say that any outside authority empowered by the State to determine conclusively the rights of two or more contending parties with regard to any matter in controversy between them satisfies the test of an authority vested with the judicial powers of the State and may be regarded as a tribunal within the meaning of Article 136. Such a power of adjudication implies that the authority must act judicially and must determine the dispute by ascertainment of the relevant facts on the materials before it and by application of the relevant law to those facts. This test of a tribunal is not meant to be exhaustive, and it may be that other bodies not satisfying this test are also tribunals. In order to be a tribunal, it is essential that the power of adjudication must be derived from a statute or a statutory rule. An authority or body deriving its power of adjudication from an agreement of the parties, such as a private arbitrator or a tribunal acting under Section 10-A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, does not satisfy the test of a tribunal within Article 136. It matters little that such a body or authority is vested with the trappings of a court. The Arbitration Act, 1940 vests an arbitrator with some of the trappings of a court, so also the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 vests an authority acting under Section 10-A of the Act with many of such trappings, and yet, such bodies and authorities are not tribunals."

19. From the aforesaid judgement it emerges that in order to ascertain as to whether learned Commission is a tribunal and as to whether power being exercised by learned Commission can be described as judicial power, suffice to say that once the learned Commission has been given power to decide the controversy between two or more contesting parties with regard to any matter, then the same would satisfy the test of the learned Commission being vested with judicial powers and as such the learned Commission can clearly be regarded as a "Tribunal" and consequently this Court would have the power under Article 227 of the Constitution of India over the learned Commission.

20. Likewise reference may also be given of another Constitution Bench judgement of Hon'ble the Apex Court in the case of L. Chandra Kumar vs Union of India reported in (1997) 3 SCC 261 wherein, with regard to jurisdiction of the high courts under Article 226/227 of the Constitution of India in the respective powers of judicial review, it was held as under:

"90. We may first address the issue of exclusion of the power of judicial review of the High Courts. We have already held that in respect of the power of judicial review, the jurisdiction of the High Courts under Articles 226/227 cannot wholly be excluded. It has been contended before us that the Tribunals should not be allowed to adjudicate upon matters where the vires of legislations is questioned, and that they should restrict themselves to handling matters where constitutional issues are not raised. We cannot bring ourselves to agree to this proposition as that may result in splitting up proceedings and may cause avoidable delay. If such a view were to be adopted, it would be open for litigants to raise constitutional issues, many of which may be quite frivolous, to directly approach the High Courts and thus subvert the jurisdiction of the Tribunals. Moreover, even in these special branches of law, some areas do involve the consideration of constitutional questions on a regular basis; for instance, in service law matters, a large majority of cases involve an interpretation of Articles 14, 15 and 16 of the Constitution. To hold that the Tribunals have no power to handle matters involving constitutional issues would not serve the purpose for which they were constituted. On the other hand, to hold that all such decisions will be subject to the jurisdiction of the High Courts under Articles 226/227 of the Constitution before a Division Bench of the High Court within whose territorial jurisdiction the Tribunal concerned falls will serve two purposes. While saving the power of judicial review of legislative action vested in the High Courts under Articles 226/227 of the Constitution, it will ensure that frivolous claims are filtered out through the process of adjudication in the Tribunal. The High Court will also have the benefit of a reasoned decision on merits which will be of use to it in finally deciding the matter."

21. Keeping in view the aforesaid judgments of Hon'ble the Apex Court in the cases of Associate Cement Companies Limited (supra) and L. Chandra Kumar (supra) this Court holds that the High Court has got jurisdiction under Article 227 of the Constitution of India to entertain petitions against learned State Commission.

22. So far as the objection (b) is concerned i.e. the impugned order has correctly been passed by the State Commission under the provisions of Section 25(1) of the Act 1986 in as much as an attachment order can be passed and impugned order is sort of an attachment order this Court will have to consider the provisions of Section 25 of the Act 1986.

23. Section 25 of the Act 1986 reads as under:

"25. Enforcement of orders of the District Forum, the State Commission or the National Commission.--

(1) Where an interim order made under this Act is not complied with, the District Forum or the State Commission or the National Commission, as the case may be, may order the property of the person, not complying with such order to be attached.

(2) No attachment made under sub-section (1) shall remain in force for more than three months at the end of which, if the non-compliance continues, the property attached may be sold and out of the proceeds thereof, the District Forum or the State Commission or the National Commission may award such damages as it thinks fit to the complainant and shall pay the balance, if any, to the party entitled thereto.

(3) Where any amount is due from any person under an order made by a District Forum, State Commission or the National Commission, as the case may be, the person entitled to the amount may make an application to the District Forum, the State Commission or the National Commission, as the case may be, and such District Forum or the State Commission or the National Commission may issue a certificate for the said amount to the Collector of the district (by whatever name called) and the Collector shall proceed to recover the amount in the same manner as arrears of land revenue."

24. From perusal of the Section 25 it is apparent that when an interim order made under the Act 1986 is not complied with, the learned Commission may order the attachment of the property of the person not complying with the order.

25. A perusal of the impugned order would indicate that it is not an attachment order rather it restrains the petitioner authority from carrying out the aforesaid acts of allotting, registering, transferring or auctioning any plot in Gomti Nagar Scheme and as such by no stretch of imagination, can the impugned order fall within the ambit of being an attachment order. As such, the said objection is also rejected.

26. So far as the objections (c) and (e) are concerned i.e. this Court while exercising jurisdiction under Article 227 of the Constitution of India cannot correct the error which has been committed by the court below particularly when Act, 1986 is a special enactment, suffice to say that once the State Commission has passed an order which is patently beyond its jurisdiction and the petitioner does not have any alternative remedy of raising a challenge to the said order, accordingly this Court while exercising jurisdiction under Article 227 of the Constitution of India and exercising the power of superintendence over the learned Commission can very well see the validity of the impugned order. This would be amply clear from perusal of the judgement of Hon'ble the Apex Court in the case of Laxmikant Revchand Bhojwani (Supra) wherein the Apex Court has held as under:

"Before parting with this judgment we would like to say that the High Court was not justified in extending its jurisdiction under Article 227 of the Constitution of India in the present case. The Act is a special legislation governing landlord-tenant relationship and disputes. The legislature has, in its wisdom, not provided second appeal or revision to the High Court. The object is to give finality to the decision of the appellate authority. The High Court under Article 227 of the Constitution of India cannot assume unlimited prerogative to correct all species of hardship or wrong decisions. It must be restricted to cases of grave dereliction of duty and flagrant abuse of fundamental principles of law or justice, where grave injustice would be done unless the High Court interferes.

(emphasis by the Court)"

The said objection is also rejected.

27. So far as the objection (d) is concerned i.e. the petition has been filed by making false averments as contained in paragraphs 17 and 18 of the petition, suffice to say that the order dated 12.01.2016 has been annexed by the petitioner as annexure 6 to the petition. The National Commission has modified the order passed by the State Commission by enhancing the compensation and imposing penalty. Rest of the order has not been interfered with. Hence, it cannot be said that there has been material concealment of facts in as much as the execution case has been filed being aggrieved for non allotment of the plot in Gomti Nagar Scheme. The said objection is also rejected.

28. Keeping the view the aforesaid discussion, it is apparent that the order impugned dated 21.07.2022 has been passed by the learned State Commission without any jurisdiction. Accordingly the petition is allowed. The impugned order dated 21.07.2022, a copy of which is annexure 1 to the petition, is set aside.

29. It is provided that learned State Consumer Disputes Redressal Commission shall proceed with the execution proceedings pending before it in accordance with law considering all the objections as have been raised by the authority before it.

(2022) 9 ILRA 773
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 04.07.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SARAL SRIVASTAVA, J.

Matters Under Article 227 No. 3386 of 2022
(CIVIL)

Shobhit Shah & Ors. ...Petitioners
Versus
M/s Induratna Realtors L.L.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioners:
Ms. Shreya Gupta

Counsel for the Respondents:

Article 227 of the Constitution of India - Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996 – Section 8- Section 9 - Commercial Court Act, 2015- Section 2 (1) (C) (XV) - Quashing of plaint of Original Suit - To determine whether the dispute is to be referred to the arbitrator under clause 21 of the partnership deed, the first question which needs to be determined is whether the dispute among the partners arises out of the partnership deed. The said issue being an issue of fact can be adjudicated by the trial court only on the basis of evidence and material on record, and this Court cannot adjudicate the said issue under its supervisory jurisdiction under Article 227 of the Constitution of India.

Settled law that disputed questions of fact can only be adjudicated by the trial court by leading evidence and the said exercise cannot be conducted under the supervisory jurisdiction of the High Court under Article 227 of the Constitution of India.

Article 227 of the Constitution of India - Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996 – Section 9- Section 11-Though an application under Section 9 of the Act, 1996 has been filed by respondent no.1 stating that there is an arbitration clause in the partnership deed that does not amount to estoppel or acquiescence as against the respondent no.1 admitting that dispute falls within the ambit of the arbitration clause, more so, when no application under Section 11 of the Act, 1996 has been filed for appointment of the arbitrator-said application withdrawn and Original Suit instituted -The question as to whether the dispute falls within the ambit of the arbitration clause is yet to be adjudicated upon-As the aforesaid question has not been determined and no application under Section 11 of the Act, 1996 was filed by respondent no.1, whether pleading made in Section 9 application will amount to acquiescence on the part of respondent no.1 cannot be adjudicated upon at this stage in a proceeding under Article 227 of Constitution of India as it is an issue to be adjudicated in trial on the basis of evidence under which circumstances the respondent no.1 preferred Section 9 application.

Mere filing of an application u/s 9 of the Act 1996 where no application u/s 11 of the Act 1996 has been filed cannot lead to the inference of either estoppels or acquiescence against the respondent and neither can the said question be gone into by the High Court under its supervisory jurisdiction under Article 227 of the Constitution of India as it is an issue that can only be decided in trial.

Article 227 of the Constitution of India - Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996 - Section 9- Section 11the respondent no.1 did not file any application under Section 11 of the Act, 1996 for appointment of Arbitrator and got the application under Section 9 of the Act, 1996 withdrawn, and thereafter, instituted Original Suit in which he obtained a temporary injunction. The petitioners have a remedy of contesting the temporary injunction application and get the injunction vacated. At this stage, it is too early to conclude that suit is liable to be dismissed for the concealment of fact inasmuch as before dismissing the suit on the ground of concealment, the court has to ascertain as to whether such concealment of fact has any bearing on the outcome of the suit, which can be determined only on the basis of evidence and material on record and not by this Court in the exercise of its supervisory jurisdiction under Article 227 of the Constitution of India.

The issue of concealment of fact is a disputed question of fact, which can be decided only by the trial court and not under the supervisory jurisdiction of the High Court under Article 227 of the Constitution of India. (20, 21, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 34)

Petition accordingly rejected. (E-3)

Case Law/ Judgements relied upon:-

1. Mohd. Shahid & anr. Vs St. of U.P. & ors. 2003 AWC 65249

2. Shrawan Kumar @ Pappu Vs Nirmala ,Writ-C No.62174 of 2012

3. Prem Shanker Tripathi Vs 1st A.D.J., Alld.& ors. 1986 ALL. L.J. 1200

4. Gulab Chand Vs Munsif West Alld. & ors. ARC 1988 (1)

5. Smt. Tajwar Jahan & anr. Vs Munsif North, Lucknow, & anr. 1994 ALR 24 528

6. S.J.S. Business Enterprises (P) Ltd. Vs St. of Bih. & ors. 2004 (7) SCC 166

7. Arunima Baruah Vs U.O.I & ors. 2007 (6) SCC 120

8. Virudhunagar Hindu Nadargal Dharma Paribalana Sabai & Ors Vs Tuticorin Edu. Society & ors. 2019 (9) SCC 538

(Delivered by Hon'ble Saral Srivastava, J.)

1. Heard Ms. Shreya Gupta, learned counsel for petitioners.

2. The petitioners through the present petition under Article 227 of the Constitution of India have prayed for quashing of plaint of Original Suit No.557 of 2022.

3. The facts, in brief, are that plaintiff-respondent no.1 (for convenience referred to as 'respondent no.1') instituted a suit bearing Original Suit No.557 of 2022 against the petitioners, who are defendant nos.2, 3, 4 & 7 in suit (for convenience referred to as 'petitioners') stating therein that a registered partnership agreement was entered into between the respondent no.1, petitioners and respondent nos.2 to 4, who are defendant nos.1, 5 & 6 in the suit, (for convenience referred to as 'respondent nos.2 to 4). Under the partnership agreement, petitioners shall transfer the ownership of suit property to respondent no.1, and the respondent no.1 shall bear all expenses in developing the suit property. The details of the suit property have been stated at the foot of the plaint. Under the partnership agreement, multistory building, residential complex, commercial complex, multiplex complex, hotel/motel apartment club, etc. will be constructed and respondent no.1 was given possession of the suit property.

4. The further averments in the plaint is that respondent no.1 incurred a huge amount in developing the suit property and started construction on 21.04.2022. The petitioners with some unscrupulous persons came to the suit property and started threatening respondent no.1 and made an attempt to dispossess respondent no.1 from the suit property. It is further stated that the cause of action for the institution of suit arose on 21.04.2022 when respondent no.1 came to know that the petitioners want to sell the suit property to some other person at a higher price. In the aforesaid backdrop, the following relief has been prayed for in the suit:-

12- यह कि वादी निम्नलिखित दादरसी के लिये निवेदन करता है:-

क- यह कि बजरिये हुकुम इम्तनाई दवामी दवाम के लिये प्रतिवादीगण को मुमानियत किया जावे कि प्रतिवादीगण किसी दीगर सख्स को किसी प्रकार का कोई भी अन्तरण व हस्तान्तरण, सट्टा या बैनामा या किसी भी प्रकार का Assign Agreement प्रश्नगत जायदाद जिसका विवरण वादपत्र के अन्त में मय नक्शा नजरी व चौहद्दी के दिया गया है, का न करें तथा वादी के स्वामित्व की भी भूमि पर वादी के शान्ति पूर्ण अध्यासन में कोई अवरोध पैदा न करें तथा उसके उपयोग उपभोग व निर्माण कार्य जो चल रहा है उसको न रोके तथा किसी तरह की कोई मुजाहिमत पैदा न करे।

ख- यह कि कुल खर्चा मुकदमा बहक वादी खिलाफ प्रतिवादीगण आयद फरमाया जाय।

ग- यह कि अलावा ख्वाह बजाय मुतजिकरह सदर वदानिश्त राय अदालत वादी और भी जिस किसी दादरसी को पाने का मुश्तहक करार पावे उसकी भी डिग्री बहक वादी खिलाफ प्रतिवादीगण आयद फरमाया जावे।"

5. The description of the suit property as stated at the foot of the plaint is as follows:-

"मकान नम्बर एस० 8/106 जो आराजी नम्बर 140/1 रकबा 1.2790 हे० आराजी नं० 141 रकबा 0.3360 हे०, 113/2 रकबा 0.0260 हे०, 117 रकबा 0.3200 हे०, 118/1 रकबा 0.1250 हे०, 143 रकबा 0.3000 हे०, 144 रकबा 0.0120 हे०, 145 रकबा 0.0040 हे०, 146 रकबा 0.0280 हे०, 147 रकबा 0.0040 हे०, 148/1 रकबा 0.0040 हे०, 142 रकबा 0.3360 हे०, 148/2 रकबा 0.320 हे०, 149 रकबा 0.2020 हे०, 150 रकबा 0.4410 हे०, 151 रकबा 0.0200 हे० 153 रकबा 0.0530 हे० पर बना है वाका मुहल्ला खजुरी, वार्ड सिकरौल, शहर वाराणसी जिसको नक्शा मुन्सलिका दाव हाजा मे बकैद पैमाईश जाहिर किया गया है हसब चौहद्दी जैल-

पूरब- आराजी नम्बर-154 व अन्य

पश्चिम- जमीन राजकृष्ण दास आराजी नम्बर 116 व अन्य उत्तर-प्राइवेट रास्ता बादहूं मकबूल आलम रोड (मुख्य मार्ग)

दक्षिण:- आराजी नम्बर 120, 121, 122 व अन्य व मकान नं० एस 8/106 ए।"

6. Learned counsel for the petitioners has urged that under clause 21 of the partnership deed, any dispute between partners of the firm shall be referred to an arbitrator who has jurisdiction to decide the dispute. It is further contended that the suit filed by respondent no.1 is sham illusory and inspired by nefarious and vexatious design to harass the petitioners which are established from the record and in such view of the fact, this Court under Article 227 of the Constitution of India has jurisdiction to interfere in the matter and quash the plaint.

7. To buttress the said submission, learned counsel for the petitioners further urged that the fact that dispute between partners is to be referred to the arbitrator is admitted by respondent no.1 which is evident from the record of the case instituted by respondent no.1 under Section 9 of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996 and Section 2 (1) (C) (XV) of Commercial Court Act, 2015. Accordingly, it is contended that when it is admitted by respondent no.1 that the forum to resolve the dispute between the partners is the arbitration under clause 21 of the partnership deed, the suit is barred under Section 8 of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996 (hereinafter referred to as 'Act, 1996'). Accordingly, it is contended that it is a fit case where this Court should exercise its power under Article 227 of the Constitution of India to quash the plaint.

8. Now in view of the submission advanced by the learned counsel for the petitioners, the moot question which arises for consideration is as to whether the present case falls within the periphery of one of such cases where this Court should exercise its power under Article 227 of the Constitution of India to quash the plaint or as the alternative remedy is available to the petitioners in the form of application under Order 7 Rule 11 of C.P.C., they may be relegated to the same.

9. I have considered submissions of counsel for the petitioners and perused the record.

10. The submission advanced by learned counsel for the petitioners is solely based upon application under Section 9 of the Act, 1996 read with Section 2 (1) (C)(XV) of Commercial Court Act, 2015 filed by respondent no.1 registered as Misc. Civil Case No. 113 of 2022. The petitioners have placed reliance upon paragraphs 2, 9 to 11 and prayer made by respondent no.1 in para 15 of the application. Para 2, 9 to 11, and 15 of Section 9 application are reproduced herein below:

"2. यह है कि विपक्षीगण की जमीन मुहल्ला खजुरी, वार्ड सिकरौल, शहर वाराणसी जिस पर मकान नम्बर एस० 8/106 नगर निगम वाराणसी द्वारा पड़ा है जो प्रार्थनापत्र के साथ (संलग्नक-4) है, तथा जो आराजी नम्बर 141 रकबा 0.3360 हे०, 113/2 रकबा 0.026 हे०, 117 रकबा 0.320 हे०, 118/1 रकबा 0.125 हे०, 143 रकबा 0.300 हे०, 144 रकबा 0.012 हे०, 145 रकबा 0.004 हे०, 146 रकबा 0.028 हे०, 147 रकबा 0.004 है, 148/1 रकबा 0.004 हे०, 142 रकबा 0.336 हे०, 148/2 रकबा 0.032 हे०, 149 रकबा 0.202, 150 रकबा 0.441 हे०, 151 रकबा 0.020 हे०, 153 रकबा 0.053 हे० पर कायम है प्रार्थनापत्र के साथ खतौनी (संलग्नक-3) है। और विपक्षीगण ने जरिये पार्टनरशिप विलेख दिनांक 31.03.2015 को प्रार्थी के फर्म मेसर्स ईन्द्र रत्ना रियलटर्स एल.एल.पी. के साथ पार्टनशिप इकरारनामा तहरीर करके रुबरू गवाहान निष्पादित कर दिया। पार्टनरशिप इकरारनामा इस पार्थनापत्र के साथ (संलग्नक-2) है तथा बादहू फर्म निबंधक रजिस्ट्रार उ०प्र० के कार्यालय वाराणसी में संख्या 820/7-3-15105 को दिनांक 21.05.2015 को फर्म निबंधक उ०प्र० वाराणसी द्वारा पार्टनरशिप डीड को निबंधित कर दिया गया। रजिस्ट्रेशन इस प्रार्थनापत्र के साथ (संलग्नक-1) है। तथा मेसर्स ईन्द्र रत्ना रियलटर्स एल.एल.पी. (संलग्नक-5) व मुद्दालेहुम के मध्य पार्टनरशिप डीड निबंधित वाराणसी में हुआ उसके अनुसार प्रार्थी को विकसित करने का सम्पूर्ण खर्च वहन करना होगा तथा विपक्षीगण प्रश्नगत आराजियात व मकान नम्बर की जमीन को पार्टनर शिप डीड के अनुसार ईन्द्र रत्ना रेसिडेन्सियल्स को बतौर मालिकाना हक प्रदान कर दिये। यानी प्रश्नगत जायदाद के बावत ईन्द्ररत्ना रेसीडेन्सियल्स हर फेल मालिकाना हक अमल मे लाते रहेगे।

9. यह कि दिनांक 04.03.2022 को प्रार्थी ने विपक्षीगण से अनुरोध किया कि पार्टनरशिप डीड दिनांकित 31.03.2015 के पैरा 21 के अनुपालन में मध्यस्थ नियुक्त कर एक सप्ताह के भीतर अवगत करावे ताकि विवाद का निस्तारण मध्यस्थम द्वारा किया जा सके।

10. यह कि प्रार्थी, विपक्षीगण की सूचना का इन्तजार करता रहा परन्तु उक्त अवधि व्यतीत हो जाने के बाद तथा उसके बाद भी दस दिन बीत जाने के बाद विपक्षीगण आर्विट्रेशन क्लाज पैरा 21 के अनुपालन मे मध्यस्थम नियुक्त किये जाने मे कोई अभिरुचि नही दिखाई और न ही इस सम्बन्ध में कोई सूचना ही प्रेषित की गई।

11. यह कि प्रार्थी ने प्रश्नगत जायदाद जिसका विवरण नीचे दिया गया है, के संबंध मे कोई अन्य वाद किसी अन्य न्यायालय मे दाखिल नही किया है न ही वह मौजूदा समय मे विचाराधीन है। प्रार्थी का विवादित जायदाद के संबंध मे यह पहला वाद है।

15. यह कि प्रार्थी निम्नलिखित दादरसी के लिये निवेदन करता है:-

क- यह कि बजरिये हुकुम इम्तनाई दवामी दवाम के लिये विपक्षीगण को मुमानियत किया जावे कि दौरान मुकदमा विपक्षीगण किसी दीगर सख्स को किसी प्रकार का अन्तरण व हस्तान्तरण सट्टा या बैनामा प्रश्नगत जायदाद का जिसका विवरण प्रार्थनापत्र के अन्त में मय नक्शा नजरी व चौहद्दी के दिया गया है, का न करे तथा प्रार्थी के स्वामित्व की भूमि पर प्रार्थी के शान्ति पूर्ण अध्यासन मे कोई अवरोध पैदा न करें तथा उसके उपयोग उपभोग व निर्माण कार्य जो चल रहा है उसको न रोके तथा किसी तरह की कोई मुजाहिमत पैदा न करे।

ख- यह कि कुल खर्चा मुकदमा वहक प्रार्थी खिलाफ विपक्षीगण आयद फरमाया जाय।

ग- यह कि अलावा ख्वाह वजाय मुतजिकरह सदर वदानिश्त राय अदालत प्रार्थी और भी जिस किसी दादरसी को पाने का मुश्तहक करार पावे उसको भी वहक प्रार्थी खिलाफ विपक्षीगण आयद फरमाया जावे।"

11. Placing reliance upon para 9, 10 to 11 of Section 9 application, extracted above, it is contended that the averments contained in the aforesaid paragraphs of Section 9 application discloses that respondent no.1 has admitted that any dispute among the partners shall be referred to the arbitrator, and once admission has been made by respondent no.1 in Section 9 application, it is crystal clear that suit is barred by Section 8 of the Act, 1996 and jurisdiction of the civil court is ousted, hence, the suit is nothing but an abuse of the process of the court and deserves to be quashed by this Court under Article 227 of the Constitution of India.

12. Before proceeding to consider the contention of the petitioners' counsel, it would be fruitful to analyse the judgement relied upon by the learned counsel for the petitioners.

13. In the case of Mohd. Shahid and Another Vs. State of U.P. and Others 2003 AWC 65249, a landlord filed suit under Section 21(1)(b) of the U.P. Act No.13 of 1972 for eviction of the tenant. The application of the landlord was allowed and the matter travelled up to High Court where the order passed by the court below for eviction was affirmed and no special leave petition was preferred against the order passed by the High Court, yet the tenant, who was District Election Officer, instituted a suit against the landlord in which temporary injunction application was rejected, but in the appeal, the injunction was granted. In such view of the fact, the writ petition was filed praying for quashing of the order of the appellate court granting the temporary injunction and quashing the plaint.

14. This Court after analyzing the fact in the said case found that it is a fit case where the institution of the suit by the tenant is nothing but an abuse of the process of the court inasmuch as the decree of the eviction against the tenant-District Election Officer had attained finality till High Court and as the rights of the parties have already been determined, the tenant had no option but to vacate the premises in question and the institution of the suit by the tenant is nothing but an abuse of the process of the court which can very well be corrected by this Court in the exercise of power under Article 227 of Constitution of India by quashing the plaint and the technical objection raised by the Standing Counsel regarding alternative remedy available to the landlord under Order 7 Rule 11 of C.P.C. was overruled.

15. In the case of Shrawan Kumar @ Pappu Vs. Nirmala passed in Writ-C No.62174 of 2012, this Court quashed the plaint as the prayer in the suit was to restrain the respondent from marrying any other person except the petitioner. This Court found that the prayer in the suit was against public policy and as such, it is impliedly barred by Section 9 of C.P.C. In returning the said finding, this Court noticed Section 26 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872 which provides that an agreement to restrain a marriage of any person is void. It was in such peculiar facts, that this Court quashed the plaint suo moto.

16. In the case of Prem Shanker Tripathi Vs. 1st Additional District Judge, Allahabad and Others 1986 ALL. L.J. 1200 this Court quashed the plaint of Original Suit No.139 of 1977 pending in the court of Munsif (West) Allahabad on the ground that controversy in the suit has already been settled by this Court in Writ Petition No.852A of 1976 and Writ Petition No.302 of 1976. In such view of the fact, this Court found that the filing of the suit was a frivolous and vexatious act. The Court further noticed that by filing the suit an effort had been made to get over the order passed by this Court in the writ petition. Accordingly, this Court held that suit is impliedly barred within the meaning of Section 9 of C.P.C.

17. In the case of Gulab Chand Vs. Munsif West Allahabad and Others ARC 1988 (1) this Court quashed the plaint of Original Suit No.102 of 1987 instituted by one Meera Dutta. The facts in that case was that the petitioner-landlord instituted a suit for eviction in the court of Judge Small Causes Court, Allahabad being Suit No.50 of 1981 against O.P. No.3 to 5 for their ejectment from the disputed house. The said suit was decreed and O.P. Nos. 3 to 5 were directed to vacate the disputed house within a month. The decree of eviction was challenged by the tenants O.P. Nos.3 to 5 in revision before the District Judge, who dismissed the revision and affirmed the decree of eviction. Thereafter, O.P. Nos.3 to 5 preferred Writ Petition No.4419 of 1983 before this Court which was also dismissed. The O.P. Nos.3 to 5 when unable to save their eviction, adopted a device to institute a suit by their sister Smt. Meera Dutta (O.P. No.2 in the revision) on the ground that she was also one of the co-tenant of the disputed house and she was not put to notice before passing the eviction decree and thus, the eviction decree is collusive. This Court found that institution of the suit by O.P. No.2 Smt. Meera Dutta is nothing but an abuse of the process of the court inasmuch as it is impossible to believe in view of the averment made in the plaint that she had been residing at the disputed house throughout, yet she could not know about the eviction suit instituted against O.P. Nos.3 to 5. The Court found that it is established that the litigation is sham, illusory, collusive, and inspired by nefarious and vexatious design, therefore, this Court quashed the plaint.

18. Similarly, in the case of Smt. Tajwar Jahan and Another Vs. Munsif North, Lucknow, and Another 1994 ALR 24 528 this Court quashed the plaint in a case where rights of the parties have been adjudicated and have attained finality up to Apex Court.

19. In all five judgements relied upon by the learned counsel for the petitioners, it is pertinent to note that rights among the parties have been determined by a competent court, and to scuttle the execution of the decree, fresh suits have been instituted and in such view of the fact, this Court has held that when the rights among the parties have been determined, the propriety demands that the order or decree determining the rights of the parties which have attained finality must be complied with or adhered to. In such circumstances, this Court held that where it is established on record that the suit is sham, illusory, collusive, and inspired by nefarious and vexatious design, the Courts not only have jurisdiction but owe a duty to throttle such litigation at the threshold.

20. Now at this juncture, it is pertinent to note that though respondent no.1 has filed an application under Section 9 of the Act, 1996 and has stated in para 9, 10, and 11 of the application that clause 21 provides for settlement of dispute among the partners by the arbitrator. Such averment in Section 9 application, for the reasons stated hereinafter, does not amount to an admission by respondent no.1 that the dispute raised in the suit by the respondent no.1 falls within clause 21 of the partnership deed and such dispute can be resolved only through an arbitrator.

21. To determine whether the dispute is to be referred to the arbitrator under clause 21 of the partnership deed, the first question which needs to be determined is whether the dispute among the partners arises out of the partnership deed. The said issue being an issue of fact can be adjudicated by the trial court only on the basis of evidence and material on record, and this Court cannot adjudicate the said issue under its supervisory jurisdiction under Article 227 of the Constitution of India.

22. The matter can be viewed from another angle, that application under Section 9 of the Act, 1996 is an application only for grant of temporary injunction on the existence of any condition enumerated in Section 9 of the Act, 1996, but application filed under Section 11 of the Act, 1996 is the application for referring the matter to the arbitrator under the scheme of the Act, 1996, and power to appoint an arbitrator is conferred upon the High Court in case parties could not appoint the arbitrator under the mode provided in the agreement.

23. In the instant case, there is nothing on record to indicate that any application under Section 11 of the Act, 1996 was filed by respondent no.1 for the appointment of an arbitrator on the ground that the dispute among the partners falls within the ambit of the arbitration clause, and the arbitrator may be appointed to resolve the dispute.

24. In such view of the fact, this Court finds that though an application under Section 9 of the Act, 1996 has been filed by respondent no.1 stating that there is an arbitration clause in the partnership deed that does not amount to estoppel or acquiescence as against the respondent no.1 admitting that dispute falls within the ambit of the arbitration clause, more so, when no application under Section 11 of the Act, 1996 has been filed for appointment of the arbitrator.

25. Though respondent no.1 has filed an application under Section 9 of the Act, 1996 stating that clause 21 of the partnership deed provides for arbitration agreement among the parties, but he got the said application withdrawn and instituted Original Suit No.557 of 2022 for the relief, extracted above.

26. The question as to whether the dispute falls within the ambit of the arbitration clause is yet to be adjudicated upon. It is relevant to notice that respondent no.1 has not approached the proper forum under Section 11 of the Act, 1996 for the appointment of Arbitrator.

27. As the aforesaid question has not been determined and no application under Section 11 of the Act, 1996 was filed by respondent no.1, whether pleading made in Section 9 application will amount to acquiescence on the part of respondent no.1 cannot be adjudicated upon at this stage in a proceeding under Article 227 of Constitution of India as it is an issue to be adjudicated in trial on the basis of evidence under which circumstances the respondent no.1 preferred Section 9 application, therefore, in the opinion of the Court, the submission of learned counsel for the petitioners does not stand to merit.

28. It is also contended that the institution of suit is a nefarious and vexatious act on the part of respondent no.1 which is evident from the fact that when respondent no.1 failed to get an order under Section 9 of the Act, 1996, he instituted Original Suit No.557 of 2022 and obtained an interim injunction order. It may be that respondent no.1 could not succeed in obtaining an injunction order under Section 9 application, but that does not mean that suit instituted by respondent no.1 is frivolous and amounts to abuse of the process of the court as the institution of Section 9 application by the respondent no.1 may be on some wrong legal advice, but fact remains that the respondent no.1 did not file any application under Section 11 of the Act, 1996 for appointment of Arbitrator and got the application under Section 9 of the Act, 1996 withdrawn, and thereafter, instituted Original Suit No.557 of 2022 in which he obtained a temporary injunction. The petitioners have a remedy of contesting the temporary injunction application and get the injunction vacated.

29. It is also contended that the suit has been instituted by concealing the material fact that respondent no.1 has filed an application under Section 9 of the Act, 1996 before the Commercial Court Act wherein he admitted in para 21 that the dispute falls within the ambit of arbitration clause of the partnership agreement, that may be so, but at this stage, it is too early to conclude that suit is liable to be dismissed for the concealment of fact inasmuch as before dismissing the suit on the ground of concealment, the court has to ascertain as to whether such concealment of fact has any bearing on the outcome of the suit, which can be determined only on the basis of evidence and material on record and not by this Court in the exercise of its supervisory jurisdiction under Article 227 of the Constitution of India.

30. In the case of S.J.S. Business Enterprises (P) Ltd. Vs. State of Bihar and Others 2004 (7) SCC 166, the Apex has held that the suppression of the material fact disentitles the litigant to any relief, but suppression must be of a material fact which has bearing on the outcome of the decision of the case. Relevant paragraph 13 of the judgment is reproduced herein below:-

"13. As a general rule, suppression of a material fact by a litigant disqualifies such litigant from obtaining any relief. This rule has been evolved out of the need of the courts to deter a litigant from abusing the process of court by deceiving it. But the suppressed fact must be a material one in the sense that had it not been suppressed it would have had an effect on the merits of the case. It must be a matter which was material for the consideration of the court, whatever view the court may have taken. Thus when the liability to income tax was questioned by an applicant on the ground of her non-residence, the fact that she had purchased and was maintaining a house in the country was held to be a material fact, the suppression of which disentitled her from the relief claimed. Again when in earlier proceedings before this Court, the appellant had undertaken that it would not carry on the manufacture of liquor at its distillery and the proceedings before this Court were concluded on that basis, a subsequent writ petition for renewal of the licence to manufacture liquor at the same distillery before the High Court was held to have been initiated for oblique and ulterior purposes and the interim order passed by the High Court in such subsequent application was set aside by this Court. Similarly, a challenge to an order fixing the price was rejected because the petitioners had suppressed the fact that an agreement had been entered into between the petitioners and the Government relating to the fixation of price and that the impugned order had been replaced by another order."

31. Similar view has been reiterated by the Apex Court in the case of Arunima Baruah Vs. Union of India & Others 2007 (6) SCC 120. Relevant paragraphs 11 & 12 of the judgment are reproduced herein-below:-

11. The court's jurisdiction to determine the lis between the parties, therefore, may be viewed from the human rights concept of access to justice. The same, however, would not mean that the court will have no jurisdiction to deny equitable relief when the complainant does not approach the court with a pair of clean hands; but to what extent such relief should be denied is the question.

12. It is trite law that so as to enable the court to refuse to exercise its discretionary jurisdiction suppression must be of material fact. What would be a material fact, suppression whereof would disentitle the appellant to obtain a discretionary relief, would depend upon the facts and circumstances of each case. Material fact would mean material for the purpose of determination of the lis, the logical corollary whereof would be that whether the same was material for grant or denial of the relief. If the fact suppressed is not material for determination of the lis between the parties, the court may not refuse to exercise its discretionary jurisdiction. It is also trite that a person invoking the discretionary jurisdiction of the court cannot be allowed to approach it with a pair of dirty hands. But even if the said dirt is removed and the hands become clean, whether the relief would still be denied is the question."

32. Therefore, in the opinion of the Court, the said contention also does not stand to merit.

33. Indeed, the alternative remedy is not always a bar in entertaining a petition under Article 227 of the Constitution of India, but the Apex Court in paragraphs 11 to 13 of the judgement in the case of Virudhunagar Hindu Nadargal Dharma Paribalana Sabai and Others Vs. Tuticorin Educational Society and Others 2019 (9) SCC 538 has held that the Court should refrain from interfering under Article 227 of Constitution of India where there is an alternate remedy provided under the scheme of the act. Paragraphs 11 to 13 of the said judgement are being reproduced herein below:-

"11. Secondly, the High Court ought to have seen that when a remedy of appeal under Section 104 (1)(i) read with Order 43, Rule 1 (r) of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, was directly available, Respondents 1 and 2 ought to have taken recourse to the same. It is true that the availability of a remedy of appeal may not always be a bar for the exercise of supervisory jurisdiction of the High Court. In A. Venkatasubbiah Naidu Vs. S. Chellappan 2000 (7) SCC 695, this Court held that "though no hurdle can be put against the exercise of the constitutional powers of the High Court, it is a well-recognised principle which gained judicial recognition that the High Court should direct the party to avail himself of such remedies before he resorts to a Constitutional remedy"

12. But courts should always bear in mind a distinction between (i) cases where such alternative remedy is available before civil courts in terms of the provisions of Code of Civil Procedure, and (ii) cases where such alternative remedy is available under special enactments and/or statutory rules and the fora provided therein happen to be quasi-judicial authorities and tribunals. In respect of cases falling under the first category, which may involve suits and other proceedings before civil courts, the availability of an appellate remedy in terms of the provisions of CPC, may have to be construed as a near total bar. Otherwise, there is a danger that someone may challenge in a revision under Article 227, even a decree passed in a suit, on the same grounds on which the Respondents 1 and 2 invoked the jurisdiction of the High Court. This is why, a 3-member Bench of this Court, while overruling the decision in Surya Dev Rai vs. Ram Chander Rai 2003 (6) SCC 675, pointed out in Radhey Shyam Vs. Chhabi Nath 2015 (5) SCC 423 that "orders of civil court stand on different footing from the orders of authorities or tribunals or courts other than judicial/civil courts".

13. Therefore wherever the proceedings are under the Code of Civil Procedure and the forum is the civil court, the availability of a remedy under the CPC, will deter the High Court, not merely as a measure of self imposed restriction, but as a matter of discipline and prudence, from exercising its power of superintendence under the Constitution. Hence, the High Court ought not to have entertained the revision under Article 227 especially in a case where a specific remedy of appeal is provided under the Code of Civil Procedure itself."

34. In such view of the fact, as the petitioners have the remedy of filing application under Order 7 Rule 11 of C.P.C. for rejection of plaint if the suit is barred by any provision of law, this Court finds that this is not a fit case where this Court should exercise its power under Article 227 of Constitution of India to quash the plaint.

35. Thus, for the reasons given above, the writ petition under Article 227 of the Constitution of India lacks merit and is accordingly, dismissed with no order as to costs.

(2022) 9 ILRA 782
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 25.07.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SARAL SRIVASTAVA, J.

Matters Under Article 227 No. 5135 of 2016 (Civil)

Ghaziabad Development Authority ...Petitioner

Versus

District Judge/Appellate Authority, Civil Court, Ghaziabad & Anr. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Sri Mahendra Pratap, Sri Mahesh Narain Singh

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri Rajesh Srivastava, Sri Himanshu Tiwari, Sri Kashif Zaidi, Sri Shashi Nandan (Senior Adv.)

Civil Law - U.P. Urban Planning and Development Act, 1973 - Sections 18 (4-A) & 18(6) - Transfer of Property Act, 1882- Sections 111 (g),105 & 108- Indian Easements Act- Section 52- Appeal of the respondent no.2 - direction to reconsider the case of respondent no.2 -Notice under Section 111 (g) of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882- It is clear that there was a clear intention on the part of the G.D.A. to handover the exclusive possession of the plot, and perusal of the stipulation of the agreement and brochure and possession memo do not reflect or indicate in any manner that G.D.A. wanted to retain the possession of the plot and wished to grant only the permissive right to respondent no.2 to run the school-To ascertain as to whether a document is a lease deed or not, the title of the deed is not relevant and the only relevant point for consideration is the intention of the parties in executing the said deed. If the terms and conditions stipulated in the document principally satisfy the condition that exclusive possession of the plot has been delivered with the right to enjoy the property, it is a lease, and if only the right to use the property has been granted while the possession is retained by the owner, the document is not a lease deed- G.D.A. has treated the document to be a lease is also apparent from the fact that notice has been issued to respondent no.2 under Section 111(g) of the Act, 1882.

In order to ascertain as to whether the agreement is a lease or not, the terms and conditions of the agreement and the brochures have to be considered along with the intention of the parties executing the said deed. Where the said terms and conditions show that exclusive possession has been delivered to the other party, then the same is a lease but where only the right to use the property is granted then the document would not be a lease. (Para 35, 40, 41, 42, 47)

Petition rejected. (E-3)

Judgements/ Case law relied upon:-

1. New Okhla Industrial Development Authority Vs Ravindra Kumar Singhvi (Dead) thru L.Rs, Civil Appeal No.382 of 2012.(cited)

2. C.M. Beena & anr. Vs P.N. Ramachandra Rao 2004(3) SCC 595 (relied)

3. Khalil Ahmed Bashir Ahmed Vs Tufelhussein Samasbhai Sarangpurwala 1988 (1) SCC 155. (relied)

4. Associated Hotels of India Ltd. Vs R.N. Kapoor AIR 1959 SC 1262 (relied)

5. The New Bus Stand Shop Vs Corporation of Kozhikode & Ors. 2009 (10) 455.(relied)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Saral Srivastava, J.)

1. Heard Sri Mahesh Narain Singh, learned counsel for the petitioner, and Sri Shashi Nandan, learned Senior Advocate assisted by Sri Kashif Zaidi, learned counsel for the respondents.

2. This petition under Article 227 of the Constitution of India has been filed by the petitioner-Ghaziabad Development Authority (hereinafter referred to as 'G.D.A.') challenging the order dated 14.04.2016 passed by the Additional District Judge, Court No.1, Ghaziabad by which he has allowed the appeal of the respondent no.2 under Section 18(6) of U.P. Urban Planning and Development Act, 1973 (hereinafter referred to as 'Act, 1973') and directed the petitioner to reconsider the case of respondent no.2 under Section 18(4-A) of the Act, 1973.

3. The facts, in brief, are that G.D.A. floated a scheme for allotment of plots to Creche/Nursery/Primary/High School/Degree College, Educational Institutions and invited application for the same. The G.D.A. issued a brochure containing terms and conditions of registration and allotment of plots.

4. Under the scheme floated for allotment of plots, respondent no.2 applied for allotment of a plot alongwith the registration amount. The G.D.A. informed respondent no.2 vide letter dated 24.06.2008 that the plot situated at Indirapuram, Nyay Khand-1, Ghaziabad has been allotted to the society with the approval dated 20.06.2008 of State of U.P. The Vice Chairman of the G.D.A. issued a consequential order dated 24.06.2008.

5. The rate of the plot was Rs.3600/- per sq. meter and the area of the plot was 7363.96 per sq. meter. The total value of the plot was Rs.2,65,10,256/-. Respondent no.2 was also directed to pay a sum of Rs.53,02,052/- towards the location charge and Rs.31,81,231/- as lease rent.

6. On depositing the aforesaid amount as well as fulfillment of terms of allotment, the G.D.A. executed an agreement dated 31.08.2008 titled as 'आवासीय क्षेत्र में स्कूल के निर्माणार्थ गाज़ियाबाद विकास प्राधिकरण की भूमि का संविदा' (hereinafter referred to as 'agreement') in favour of the respondent no.2.

7. The agreement was registered in the office of Sub-Registrar, Ghaziabad on the payment of stamp duty of Rs.24,50,000/-. The G.D.A., thereafter, delivered the possession of the said plot to respondent no.2 on 30.09.2008. Thereafter, respondent no.2 submitted a plan for the construction of the building on the said plot, but the plan submitted by respondent no.2 was not approved by the G.D.A.

8. The record reflects that a notice under Section 111 (g) of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882 (hereinafter referred to as 'Act, 1882') was issued by G.D.A. calling upon respondent no.2 to show cause as to why the agreement be not cancelled for non-construction of building over the said plot within five years from the date of allotment which is a breach of the condition of the agreement. The reply was submitted by respondent no.2, but G.D.A. being dissatisfied with the reply of respondent no.2 cancelled the aforesaid agreement on 30.06.2014. Accordingly, a communication was sent to respondent no.2 vide letter dated 02.07.2014 informing about the cancellation of the agreement.

9. Feeling aggrieved by the order of cancellation of agreement and allotment of plot, respondent no.2 preferred an appeal bearing Appeal No.55 of 2014 under Section 18(6) of the Act, 1973 on the ground that respondent no.2 is entitled to benefit of Section 18 (4-A) of the Act, 1973 on payment of the surcharge.

10. The appeal was opposed by the petitioner contending inter-alia that respondent no.2 is not entitled to the benefit of Section 18(4-A) of the Act, 1973 as only an agreement has been entered into between the parties and the lease deed is yet to be executed between the parties. The said appeal was allowed by the Additional District Judge, Court No.1, Ghaziabad vide order dated 14.04.2016, which is impugned in the present writ petition.

11. The case of respondent no.2 is that the order of G.D.A. dated 02.07.2014 cancelling the allotment of plot for construction of schools was per se illegal and in the teeth of Section 18(4-A) of the Act, 1973. Further case of respondent no.2 is that stipulation contained in para 6.1 of the brochure, which is also part of the agreement, is binding upon the parties, therefore, respondent no.2 is entitled to the benefit of the said clause and Section 18(4-A) of the Act, 1973.

12. Respondent no.2 in the counter affidavit has averred that they are ready and willing to pay the additional surcharge as provided in Section 18(4-A) of the Act, 1973, and this aspect was not considered by the G.D.A. while cancelling the allotment of plot in favour of respondent no.2. The further case of the respondent no.2 was that though the agreement has been styled as 'आवासीय क्षेत्र में स्कूल के निर्माणार्थ गाज़ियाबाद विकास प्राधिकरण की भूमि का संविदा' but in fact, the agreement is lease deed as the terms and conditions stipulated in the agreement decipher that it has all the trappings of the lease.

13. The further case of respondent no.2 was that as per the stipulation contained in the agreement, the brochure is also part of the agreement, therefore, the stipulation contained in the brochure is binding upon the parties. Thus, respondent no.2 is entitled to the extension of time for a period of five years for raising construction over the said plot on payment of charges as prescribed under Section 18(4-A) of the Act, 1973.

14. Challenging the aforesaid order, learned counsel for the petitioner has contended that it is evident from the agreement that agreement has been styled as 'आवासीय क्षेत्र में स्कूल के निर्माणार्थ गाज़ियाबाद विकास प्राधिकरण की भूमि का संविदा' and cannot be termed as lease deed, therefore, Section 18(4-A) is not attracted and thus, appeal under Section 18(6) of the Act, 1973 filed by the respondent no.2 was not maintainable. Accordingly, it is contended that the order impugned is illegal and without jurisdiction.

15. The further contention advanced by the learned counsel for the petitioner is that in view of the clear stipulation in the agreement that the construction has to be raised within five years from the date of agreement failing which the G.D.A shall have the right to cancel the agreement and re-enter in the said plot, so, it is submitted that on non-fulfillment of the said condition, the agreement stands cancelled. He contends that the appellate court has failed to appreciate the law correctly while holding that the agreement reflects that it has all the trappings of a lease deed, therefore, Section 18(4-A) of the Act, 1973 are attracted in the instant case and the G.D.A. had ignored this aspect of the matter while cancelling the allotment. In support of the case, learned counsel for the petitioner has placed reliance upon the judgement of Apex Court in the case of New Okhla Industrial Development Authority Vs. Ravindra Kumar Singhvi (Dead) through L.Rs passed in Civil Appeal No.382 of 2012.

16. Rebutting the aforesaid contention, Sri Shashi Nandan, learned Senior Counsel for the respondents has placed various stipulations of the agreement to contend that though the agreement may be titled as 'आवासीय क्षेत्र में स्कूल के निर्माणार्थ गाज़ियाबाद विकास प्राधिकरण की भूमि का संविदा' but the stipulation contained therein reflects clear intention of the petitioner that exclusive possession of plot has been delivered to respondent no.2 for enjoyment, thus, the agreement is a lease deed, therefore, the finding of the appellate court is correct and based upon proper appreciation of the law. He further contends that admittedly a notice under Section 111(g) of the Act, 1882 has been issued by the petitioner for cancellation of agreement which reflects that the petitioner has also treated the said agreement as a lease deed. Thus, it is contended that had the G.D.A. not treated the agreement to be a lease deed, it would not have issued a notice under Section 111(g) of the Act, 1882. In support of his argument, he has placed reliance upon the judgements of the Apex Court in the cases of C.M. Beena and Another Vs. P.N. Ramachandra Rao 2004(3) SCC 595 & Khalil Ahmed Bashir Ahmed Vs. Tufelhussein Samasbhai Sarangpurwala 1988 (1) SCC 155.

17. I have considered the rival submissions of the parties and perused the record.

18. The controversy in the present case revolves around the question whether the agreement has trapping of the lease or not.

19. If the answer to this question is 'yes', obviously Section 18(4-A) of the Act, 1973 would be applicable and respondent no.2 is entitled to consideration of its claim for extension of a further period of five years for raising construction over the plot on payment of charge as provided in Section 18(4-A) of the Act, 1973.

20. To appreciate the aforesaid question, it would be apt to reproduce the relevant clause of the agreement in which petitioner has been referred to as 'संविदाकर्ता' and respondent no.2 has been referred to as 'संविदाग्राहिता':-

"चूंकि संविदाकर्ता द्वारा विकसित योजना के अन्तर्गत स्कूल के निर्माण हेतु नियोजित भूखण्ड नियमानुसार योजना घोषित कर दिनांक 24.06.2008 को स्कूल भूखण्ड न्याय खण्ड-1 स्थित इन्दिरापुरम् योजना में इस कार्यालय के पत्र संख्या-915/व्य०अनु/08, दिनांक 24.06.2008 द्वारा आवंटित किया गया था। साईट प्लान के अनुसार भूखण्ड क्षेत्रफल 7363.96 वर्गमीटर है । जिसकी सीमायें इस विलेख के अन्त में अंकित हैं तथा संलग्न स्थल चित्र में भी स्पष्ट है, को अंकन रू. 3,18,12,308.00 (रूपये तीन करोड़ अट्ठारह लाख बारह हजार तीन सौ आठ मात्र) आंशिक प्रीमियम रू. 67,50,000.00 व 20 प्रतिशत लोकेशन चार्ज रू. 53,02,052.00 कुल आंशिक प्रीमियम रू. 1,20,52,052.00 व लीज किराया रूपये 31,81,231.00 एवं कुल बकाया रू. 1,97,60,256.00 (रूपये एक करोड़ सत्तान्नबे लाख साठ हजार दो सौ छप्पन मात्र) का भुगतान निम्नानुसार 05 वर्ष वार्षिक किश्तों में 21 प्रतिशत ब्याज सहित किये जाने बाबत संविदाग्राहिता अदा करने हेतु सहमत हुए है। अतः किश्तों का विवरण निम्नानुसार है:-

क्रम	राशि	ब्याज 21%	कुल देय राशि	देय तिथि
1.	39,52,052.00	41,49,655.00	81,01,,707.00	24-06-2009
2.	39,52,052.00	33,19,724.00	72,71,776.00	24-06-2010
3.	39,52,052.00	24,89,793.00	64,41,845.00	24-06-2011
4.	39,52,052.00	16,59,862.00	56,11,914.00	24-06-2012
5.	39,52,052.00	8,29,931.00	47,81,983.00	24-06-2013

देय तिथि पर भुगतान करने पर 3.5 प्रतिशत ब्यान में छूट दी जायेगी। देय तिथि पर भुगतान न करने पर देय राशि पर 21 प्रतिशत अतिरिक्त ब्याज देय होगा। भूखण्ड का कब्जा एग्रीमेन्ट कराने के उपरान्त हस्तान्तरित किया जायेगा। देय तिथि पर कब्जा न लेने पर रू. 500/- प्रतिमाह चौकीदार शुल्क जमा कराना होगा। भूखण्ड पर

निर्माण एग्रीमेन्ट की तिथि से 05 वर्ष के अन्दर पूर्ण करना होगा। शेष नियम व शर्ते ब्रोशर के अनुसार होंगी।

अतः यह संविदा निम्न बातों का साक्षी है:-

1. यह कि उपर्युक्त भूखण्ड जिसकी सीमाओं को संलग्न रेखाचित्र में दिखाया गया है और प्रश्नगत स्कूल भूखण्ड हाई स्कूल के निर्माण हेतु आवंटित किया गया है तो सभी भार व देनदारियों से मुक्त है तथा विवाद रहित सम्पदा है जिसे इस विलेख में आगे स्कूल के निर्माण हेतु संविदा भूखण्ड कह कर सम्बोधित किया गया है, संविदाग्राहिता को 90 (नब्बे) वर्ष की अवधि हेतु संविदा पर हस्तान्तरित किया जा रहा है किन्तु प्राधिकरण के पक्ष में निम्नलिखित अधिकार सदैव आरक्षित होंगे:-

(क) यदि प्राधिकरण उक्त क्षेत्र का विकास किया जाना आवश्यक समझे तो संविदा भूखण्ड के नीचे तथा ऊपर जल सम्बाहक, नालियों, सीवरों या बिजली के तारों को डालने, बनाने या बिछाने का अधिकार।

(ख) संविदा भूखण्ड या उसके किसी भाग में होने वाले सभी खानों और खनिजों के सम्पूर्ण अधिकार।

(ग) ...

(घ) ...

4. संविदाग्राहिता अपने खर्च से संविदा भूखण्ड पर प्राधिकरण द्वारा लिखित रूप से अनुमोदित रेखाचित्र वाह्य अद्विक्षेप तथा डिजाईन व स्थिति के अनुसार एक स्कूल के लिए भवन का सारभूत एवं शिल्प कौशल में निर्माण करायेगा, जिसमें स्कूल भवन, नालियों शौचालयों तथा संयोजनों के संबंध में विहित प्राधिकरण तथा नगर पालिका नियमावली तथा उपविधियों के अनुसार सभी आवश्यक सीवरों, नालियों तथा अनुसंलग्नकों का प्राविधान होगा।

15. संविदाग्राहिता को संविदा भूखण्ड पर संविदा की दिनांक से 05 वर्ष तक स्कूल भवन को निर्माण करना और उसे पूरा करना आवश्यक होगा समय पर निर्माण पूर्ण नहीं किया गया तो भूमि वापिस ले ली जायेगी।

16. और इस संविदा के पक्षों द्वारा उनके बीच एतद्द्वारा निम्नलिखित सम्बन्ध में सहमति और घोषणा की जाती है:-

(क) इसके पूर्व किसी बात को अन्यथा होते हुए भी यदि प्राधिकरण के मतानुसार (जिसका अन्तिम तथा बाध्य होगा) संविदाग्राहिता अथवा उसके अधीन दावा करने वाले किसी भी व्यक्ति द्वारा पूर्व की शर्तों या प्रसंविदाओं में से किसी का उल्लंघन किया गया हो, जिनका पालन तथा सम्पादन किया जाना उनका कर्तव्य था तथा विशेषतया और इस उपखण्ड की व्यापकता पर प्रतिकूल प्रभाव डाले बिना, यदि संविदाग्राहिता पूर्ववत प्राविधानों के अनुसार सम्पूर्ण संविदा भूखण्ड पर स्कूल भवन निर्माण निर्धारित अवधि में पूर्ण करने में असफल रहता है या स्कूल भवन निर्माण करने से पूर्व संविदा भूखण्ड का अन्तरण परित्याग बंधक या अभ्यापर्ण करता है या अन्तरित भूखण्ड के सम्पूर्ण भाग से कम भाग का अन्तरण परित्याग बंधक का अभ्यापर्ण करता है या पूर्वकित खण्ड -2 में उल्लिखित अवधि के भीतर इस संविदा में उल्लिखित प्रीमियम को किसी किश्त का भुगतान नहीं करता है या यदि संविदाग्राहिता या कोई ऐसा व्यक्ति जिसमें इस संविदा के अधिकार एतद्द्वारा निहित किये गये हों, दिवालिया निर्णीत हो गया है या प्राधिकरण के लिए वह वैध होगा कि (अनुबन्ध के उल्लघंन के सम्बन्ध में प्राधिकरण द्वारा कार्यवाही करने के लिए किसी अधिकार पर प्रतिकूल प्रभाव डाले बिना) वह संविदा या उसके किसी भाग पर अन्तरित सम्पूर्ण भूखण्ड के नाम पर पुनः प्रवेश कर लें और उक्त दशा में यह संविदा समाप्त हो जायेगा और तत्पश्चातः-

यदि पुनः प्रवेश के समय, संविदाग्राहिता द्वारा संविदा भूखण्ड पर स्कूल भवन का निर्माण किया गया हो तो संविदाग्राहिता पुनः प्रवेश के दिनांक से तीन माह की अवधि के भीतर उस पर से सभी निर्माण कार्य या स्कूल भवन जुड़नार तथा वस्तुएं जो किसी समय या उक्त अवधि के दौरान उक्त अवधि में भूखण्ड पर या उसमें जुड़ी या लगायी गयी हों, हटा लेगा और उक्त स्थान को ऐसी अच्छी दशा में लायेगा, जैसी कि संविदा देने के समय थी, पर उपरोक्त के सम्बन्ध में चूक किये जाने पर वे उक्त भूखण्ड और उस पर होने वाले आवश्यक जुड़नार और वस्तुओं के सम्बन्ध में संविदाग्राहिता को किसी प्रतिकर का भुगतान किये बिना प्राधिकरण की सम्पत्ति हो जायेगी। यदि संविदाग्राहिता निर्दिष्ट अवधि के भीतर निर्माण कार्यों स्कूल भवन, जुड़नारों और वस्तुओं को नहीं हटा लेता है तो संविदा भूखण्ड का पुनः आवंटन कर लिया जायेगा।

(ख) ..."

21. It is evident that respondent no.2 was directed to pay location charges to the tune of Rs.53,02,052/- and lease rent of Rs.31,81,231/-. It is also apt to refer to the letter of Executive Engineer (Expenditure) of the G.D.A. dated 29.08.2008 addressed to respondent no.2 stating therein that respondent no.2 had deposited Rs.67,50,000/-, 20% of location charge to the tune of Rs.53,02,052/- and 10% of the lease rent to the tune of Rs.31,81,000/-.

22. On depositing of the said amount, the agreement was executed on 31.08.2008 and possession memo was prepared, thereafter, the plot was delivered to respondent no.2. The contents of the possession memo are being reproduced herein below:-

मैने उपरोक्त प्लाट का अधिकार आज दिनांक ..... को ..... बजे मध्यान्ह पूर्व/पश्चात प्राप्त कर लिया है। प्लाट की पूर्ण पट्टे में दर्शायी गई/ नाप मेरे सामने की गई है, जिससे मैं पूर्णतः सन्तुष्ट हूँ।"

23. Perusal of the letter dated 29.08.2008 reveals that respondent no.2 after depositing the amount in compliance with the letter dated 29.08.2008 got the agreement dated 31.08.2008 executed. Stipulation under the agreement, extracted above, shows that construction was to be raised by respondent no.2 within a period of five years from the date of execution of the agreement. Further, clause 1 of the agreement stipulates that the plot is free from all encumbrances and has been allotted for 90 years and possession thereof has been delivered to respondent no.2.

24. At this stage, it would also be apt to refer to the language used in the possession memo, extracted above, which recites that respondent no.2 has obtained exclusive possession of the plot. The stipulation contained in the agreement as well as the reading of the possession memo clearly reflects that exclusive possession of the plot has been delivered to respondent no.2. It does not indicate that there was any intention on the part of the petitioner not to deliver the exclusive possession of the plot to the respondent no.2.

25. The aforesaid fact is further fortified from the stipulation in the agreement that the plot has been given to respondent no.2 for 90 years. The agreement does not stipulate any condition from which it can be inferred that there was any intention on the part of the petitioner to retain the exclusive possession of the plot with it and grant only a permissive right to respondent no.2 to run the school.

26. The aforesaid contention is further supported by the conditions contained in the brochure which is a part of the agreement. The fact that the brochure is treated to be a part of the agreement is also evident from the allotment letter dated 24.06.2008 and letter dated 29.08.2008 of the petitioner which states that "नियम व शर्ते ब्रोशर के अनुसार होंगी'.

27. In this context, it would also be apposite to reproduce para 5, 6, 7, 10.10, and 10.11 of the brochure:-

5.0 भुगतान की प्रक्रिया तथा कब्जा हेतु शर्तें

विद्यालयों/शैक्षिक संस्थाओं की भूमि के मूल्य के भुगतान की प्रक्रिया निम्नवत होगी:-

5.1 आवंटित भूखण्ड के मूल्य की 25 प्रतिशत धनराशि संस्था को आवंटन पत्र जारी होने की तिथि के 30 दिन के अन्दर जमा करानी होगी, जिसमें पंजीकरण राशि समायोजित कर ली जायेगी।

5.2 25 प्रतिशत धनाराशि तथा लीज रेंन्ट एवं लोकेशन चार्जेज (यदि लागू हों) जमा होने के उपरान्त रजिस्टर्ड एग्रीमेंट कराकर ही कब्जा दिया जायेगा।

5.3 अवशेष 75 प्रतिशत धनाराशि पांच सालाना किश्तों में 21 प्रतिशत वार्षिक ब्याज सहित जमा करानी होगी। समय से किश्तों का भुगतान करने पर ब्याज में 3.5 प्रतिशत की छूट दी जायेगी। प्रथम किश्त आवंटन की तिथि से एक वर्ष के अन्दर देय होगी।

5.4 रजिस्टर्ड एग्रीमेंट से पूर्व भूखण्ड के कुल मूल्य का 10 प्रतिशत लीज रेन्ट जमा करना होगा।

5.5 समस्त भुगतान बैंक ड्राफ्ट/पे-आर्डर के माध्यम से गाजियाबाद विकास प्राधिकरण के कैस काउन्टर पर प्रत्येक कार्य दिवस में प्रातः 10.00 बजे से 2.00 बजे तक जमा किये जा सकते है। ड्राफ्ट/पे-आर्डर उपाध्यक्ष गाजियाबाद विकास प्राधिकरण के नाम एवं गाजियाबाद में भुगतान योग्य होने चाहिए।

5.6 निर्धारित तिथि तक कब्जा नहीं लेने पर नियमानुसार शुल्क देय होगा।

5.7 भूखण्डों का क्षेत्रफल अनुमानित है, जिसमें स्थल पर विचलन हो सकता है। क्षेत्रफल में कमी या बढ़ोत्तरी के लिए कोई आपत्ति मान्य नहीं होगी। वास्तविक

क्षेत्रफल के आधार पर ही देय धनराशि की गणना आवंटित मूल्य पर की जायेगी।

5.8 भूखण्ड के क्षेत्रफल में स्थल के अनुसार परिवर्तन होने की दशा में यदि आवंटी द्वारा इस आधार पर भूखण्ड निरस्त करने/ परित्याग का अनुरोध किया जाता है तो उसकी जमा धनराशि बिना किसी ब्याज के वापस कर दी जायेगी।

5.9 भुगतान की समय सीमा आदि के विषय में प्राधिकरण/ शासन के आदेश मान्य होंगे।

6.0 भवन निर्माण अवधिः

6.1 आवंटी भवन मानचित्र सक्षम प्राधिकारी से स्वीकृत कराकर ही अपने व्यय पर निर्माण करेगा। भवन निर्माण की अवधि संविदा पंजीकरण की तिथि से 5 वर्ष की दी जायेगी। परन्तु आवंटी को तीन वर्ष के अन्दर अध्यापन कार्य प्रारम्भ करना होगा। निर्धारित अवधि के अन्दर निर्माण पूर्ण नहीं किया जाता है तो नियमानुसार सरचार्ज देकर यह अवधि बढ़ाई जा सकेगी किन्तु 5 वर्ष से अधिक समय के लिए अभिवृद्धि नहीं की जायेगी और दस वर्ष तक भी निर्माण न करने की दशा में संविदा निरस्त कर भंग कर दी जायेगी तथा अधिनियम के प्राविधान के अनुसार पुनः प्रवेश कर लिया जायेगा।

6.2 आवंटी आवंटित भूखण्ड का उपविभाजन अथवा संयोजन नहीं करेगा।

6.3 आवंटित भूखण्ड पर किया गया किसी भी प्रकार का अनाधिकृत निर्माण नियमानुसार ध्वस्त कर दिया जायेगा।

7.0 पट्टा विलेख

7.1 संस्था को भूखण्ड 90 वर्ष की अवधि हेतु पट्टे पर दिया जायेगा। संस्था द्वारा समस्त देय धनराशि जमा कराकर अन्तिम किश्त की निर्धारित तिथि से तीन माह में निर्धारित प्रोफार्मा पर अपने खर्चे पर पट्टा विलेख कराना होगा अन्यथा आवंटन/ अनुबन्ध निरस्त कर दिया जायेगा।

7.2 आवंटित भूखण्ड के कुल प्रीमियम का 10 प्रतिशत लीज रेन्ट 90 वर्ष की लीज अवधि हेतु अग्रिम रूप से कब्जा प्राप्त करते समय देय होगा।

7.3 पट्टा विलेख तैयार करने में स्टाम्प, रजिस्ट्री, लीज डीड एवं उसकी प्रति तथा अन्य सभी खर्चे आवंटी को स्वयं करने होंगे।

10.10 संस्था को भूखण्ड या उस पर निर्मित किये गये भवन को प्राधिकरण की अनुमति के बिना किसी अन्य को स्थनान्तरित करने का अधिकार नहीं हैं। अगर आवंटी किसी अन्य समान कार्य करने वाले संस्था को उक्त सम्पत्ति स्थानान्तरित करने हेतु प्राधिकरण से अनुमति मांगता है तो प्राधिकरण के नियम एवं शर्तों के अधीन हस्तानान्तरण शुल्क के भुगतान पर आवंटी को सम्पत्ति स्थानान्तरण करने की अनुमति दी जा सकती है। इस संबंध में प्राधिकरण का निर्णय अन्तिम होगा, जो आवंटी को मान्य होगा।

10.11 संस्था को प्राधिकरण की पूर्ण सहमति से संस्था की स्थापना/ निर्माण कार्य हेतु वित्तीय आवश्यकताओं की पूर्ति हेतु किसी सरकारी संस्था या सरकार द्वारा मान्यता प्राप्त किसी वित्तीय संस्था से ऋण के लिए भूखण्ड को संस्था के पक्ष में बंधक रखने हेतु अनुमति प्राधिकरण द्वारा निर्धारित नियम एवं शर्तों पर दी जा सकती है।"

28. Conjoint reading of Para 5.1 and Para 5.2 of the brochure suggests that on deposit of 25% price of the land and lease rent and location charge, the possession can be delivered after the execution of the agreement between the parties.

29. Para 5.4 of the brochure stipulates that 10% of the lease rent has to be deposited before the execution of the registered agreement.

30. Para 5.6 of the brochure provides that charges as per rules have to be paid if the possession of the plot is not taken within the stipulated time.

31. Para 6.1 of the brochure provides that in case the construction could not be raised within the stipulated period of five years, a further extension of five years can be granted for construction on payment of the surcharge as per rules. Para 7 of the brochure relates to the execution of the lease deed.

32. Para 10.10 of the brochure provides that the plot cannot be transferred by respondent no.2 without permission of the G.D.A. However if respondent no.2 wants to transfer the plot to any other society engaged in the same work, the same can be transferred after permission from the G.D.A. however, the decision of the G.D.A. in this respect shall be final.

33. Para 10.11 permits respondent no.2 to mortgage the property to any Government institution or any institution recognised by the Government after permission from the G.D.A.

34. The conditions detailed above from the brochure, which is a part of the agreement, also reveal that the agreement was to be executed after the deposit of 10% lease rent and in case, the possession is not taken within the stipulated time, respondent no.2 shall be liable to pay charges as per rules.

35. Further condition stipulated in para 6.1 of the brochure provides that five years period can be extended on payment of surcharge if the construction is not raised within the time stipulated in the agreement. Respondent no.2 in view of clause 10.10 of the agreement can transfer the plot after permission from the G.D.A. Respondent no.2 can also mortgage the property for any financial assistance to any Government institution or institution recognised by the Government after permission from the G.D.A. Thus, it is clear that there was a clear intention on the part of the G.D.A. to handover the exclusive possession of the plot, and perusal of the stipulation of the agreement and brochure and possession memo do not reflect or indicate in any manner that G.D.A. wanted to retain the possession of the plot and wished to grant only the permissive right to respondent no.2 to run the school.

36. The Apex Court in the case of Associated Hotels of India Ltd. Vs. R.N. Kapoor AIR 1959 SC 1262 has held that it is the substance of the agreement that matters and not the form, for otherwise clever drafting can camouflage the real intention of the parties. While considering the question as to whether the document is a licence or lease, it expounded four conditions in the judgment, on the existence of which a document can be termed as 'lease'. In the context of the present case, paragraph 27 of the said judgement is being reproduced herein below:-

"27.There is a marked distinction between a lease and a licence. S. 105 of the Transfer of Property Act defines a lease of immoveable property as a transfer of a right to enjoy such property made for a certain time in consideration for a price paid or promised. Under S. 108 of the said Act, the lessee is entitled to be put in possession of the property. A lease is therefore a transfer of an interest in land. The interest transferred is called the leasehold interest. The lessor parts with his right to enjoy the property during the term of the lease, and it follows from it that the lessee gets that right to the exclusion of the lessor. Whereas S. 52 of the Indian Easements Act defines a licence thus:

"Where one person grants to another, or to a definite number of other persons, a right to do or continue to do, in or upon the immoveable property of the grantor, something which would, in the absence of such right, be unlawful, and such right does not amount to an easement or an interest in the property, the right is called a licence."

Under the aforesaid section, if a document gives only a right to use the property in a particular way or under certain terms while it remains in possession and control of the owner thereof, it will be a licence. The legal possession, therefore, continues to be with the owner of the property, but the licensee is permitted to make use of the premises for a particular purpose'. But for the permission, his occupation would be unlawful. It does not create in his favour any estate or interest in the property. There is, therefore, clear distinction between the two concepts. The dividing line is clear though sometimes it becomes very thin or even blurred. At one time it was thought that the test of exclusive possession was infalliable and if a person was given exclusive possession of a premises, it would conclusively establish that he was a lessee. But there was a change and the recent trend of judicial opinion is reflected in Errington v. Errington 1952-1 All. ER 149, wherein Lord Denning reviewing the case law on the subject summarizes the result of his discussion thus at p.155:

"The result of all these cases is that, although a person who is let into exclusive possession is, 'prima facie', to be considered to be tenant, nevertheless he will not be held to be so if the circumstances negative any intention to create a tenancy."

The Court of Appeal again in Cobb v. Lane, 1952-1 All ER 1199, considered the legal position and laid down that the intention of the parties was the real test for ascertaining the character of a document. At p. 1201, Somervell. L. J., stated:

"..... the solution that would seem to have been found is, as one would expect, that it must depend on the intention of the parties."

Denning, L. J., said much to the same effect at p. 1202:

"The question in all these cases is one of intention: Did the circumstances and the conduct of the parties show that all that was intended was that the occupier should have a personal privilege with no interest in the land ?"

The following propositions may, therefore, be taken as well-established: (1) To ascertain whether a document creates a licence or lease, the substance of the document must be preferred to the form; (2) the real test is the intention of the parties-whether they intended to create a lease or a licence; (3) if the document creates an interest in the property, it is a lease; but, if it only permits another to make use of the property, of which the legal possession continues with the owner, it is a licence; and (4) if under the document a party gets exclusive possession of the property, 'prima facie', he is considered to be a tenant; but circumstances may be established which negative the intention to create a lease. Judged by the said tests, it is not possible to hold that the document is one of licence. Certainly it does not confer only a bare personal privilege on the respondent to make use of the rooms. It puts him in exclusive possession of them, untrammelled by the control and free from the directions of the appellants. The covenants are those that are usually found or expected to be included in a lease deed. The right of the respondent to transfer his interest under the document, although with the consent of the appellants, is destructive of any theory of licence. The solitary circumstance that the rooms let out in the present case are situated in a building wherein a hotel is run cannot make any difference in the character of the holding. The intention of the parties is clearly manifest, and the clever phraseology used or the ingenuity of the document- writer hardly conceals the real intent. I, therefore, hold that under the document there was transfer of a right to enjoy the two rooms, and, therefore, it created a tenancy in favour of the respondent."

37. In the case of Khalil Ahmed Bashir Ahmed (supra), the Apex Court in paragraph 10 of the judgement held that if an interest in immovable property entitling the transferee to enjoyment was created, it was lease; if a permission to use land without exclusive possession alone was granted, a licence was the legal result. In the said case, the Apex Court was considering the effect of a document which according to the appellant was a lease while according to respondent/owner of the property, it was a licence. The Apex Court after considering the stipulations contained in the document and by applying the aforesaid principle of law found that document was a licence. Accordingly, it negated the contention of the appellant.

38. In the case of C.M. Beena and Another (supra), the Apex Court considered the effect of a document which according to the respondent was a licence whereas according to the appellant, it was a lease. The Apex Court held that in determining the question as to whether the document is lease or licence, an endeavour shall be made to find out as to whether the deed confers a right to possess exclusively coupled with the transfer of a right to enjoy the property or merely a right to use the property while possession is retained by the owner. It further held that in considering the said question, the conduct of the parties before and after the creation of the relationship is of relevance to find out the real intention of the parties. Paragraphs 9, 10, and 11 of the aforesaid judgement are being reproduced herein below:-

"9. A few principles are well settled. User of the terms like "lease" or "licence", "lessor", or "licensor", "rent" or "licence fee" is not by itself decisive of the nature of the right created by the document. An effort should be made to find out whether the deed confers a right to possess exclusively coupled with transfer of a right to enjoy the property or what has been parted with is merely a right to use the property while the possession is retained by the owner. The conduct of the parties before and after the creation of relationship is of relevance for finding out their intention.

10. Given the facts and circumstances of a case, particularly when there is a written document executed between the parties, question arises as to what are the tests which would enable pronouncing upon the nature of relationship between the parties. Evans & Smith state in The Law of Landlord and Tenant (Fourth Edition)-

"A lease, because it confers an estate in land, is much more than a mere personal or contractual agreement for the occupation of a freeholder's land by a tenant. A lease, whether fixed-term or periodic, confers a right in property, enabling the tenant to exclude all third parties, including the landlord, from possession, for the duration of the lease, in return for which a rent or periodical payment is reserved out of the land. A contractual licence confers no more than a permission on the occupier to do some act on the owner's land which would otherwise constitute a trespass. If exclusive possession is not conferred by an agreement, it is a licence.....[The fundamental difference between a tenant and a licensee is that a tenant, who has exclusive possession, has an estate in land, as opposed to a personal permission to occupy. If, however, the owner of land proves that he never intended to accept the occupier as tenant, then the fact that the occupier pays regular sums for his occupation does not make the occupier a tenant."

11. In Hill and Redman: Law of Landlord and Tenant (Seventeenth Edn., Vol.1) a more detailed discussion also laying down the determinative tests, is to be found stated as follows:

"It is essential to the creation of a tenancy of a corporeal hereditament that the tenant should be granted the right to the exclusive possession of the premises. A grant under which the grantee takes only the right to use the premises without being entitled to exclusive possession must operate as a licence and not as a lease. It was probably correct law at one time to say that the right of exclusive possession necessarily characterized the grant as that of a lease; but it is now possible for a licensee to have the right to exclusive possession. However, the fact that exclusive possession is granted, though by no means decisive against the view that there is a mere licence, as distinct from a tenancy, is at all events a consideration of the first importance. Further, a grant of exclusive possession may be only a licence and not a lease where the grantor has no power to grant a lease. In deciding whether a grant amounts to a lease, or is only a licence, regard must be had to the substance rather than the form of the agreement, for the relationship between the parties is determined by the law and not by the label which they choose to put on it. It has been said that the law will not impute an intention to enter into the legal relation of landlord and tenant where circumstances and conduct negative that intention; but the fact that the agreement contains a clause that no tenancy is to be created will not, of itself, preclude the instrument from being a lease. If the effect of the instrument is to give the holder the exclusive right of occupation of the land, though subject to certain reservations, or to a restriction of the purposes for which it may be used, it is prima facie a lease; if the contract is merely for the use of the property in a certain way and on certain terms, while it remains in the possession and under the control of the owner, it is a licence. To give exclusive possession there need not be express words to that effect; it is sufficient if the nature of the acts to be done by the grantee require that he should have exclusive possession. On the other hand, the employment of words appropriate to a lease such as 'rent' or 'rental' will not prevent the grant from being a mere licence if from the whole document it appears that the possession of the property is to be retained by the grantor."

39. The similar view has been reiterated by the Apex Court in the case of The New Bus Stand Shop Vs. Corporation of Kozhikode and Others 2009 (10) 455.

40. The principles propounded by the Apex Court in the aforesaid judgements leave no manner of doubt that to ascertain as to whether a document is a lease deed or not, the title of the deed is not relevant and the only relevant point for consideration is the intention of the parties in executing the said deed. If the terms and conditions stipulated in the document principally satisfy the condition that exclusive possession of the plot has been delivered with the right to enjoy the property, it is a lease, and if only the right to use the property has been granted while the possession is retained by the owner, the document is not a lease deed.

41. Stipulations in the agreement leave no manner of doubt that exclusive possession of the plot has been handed over to respondent no.2 with an intention to use and enjoy the property. Further, the terms and conditions stipulated in the agreement as well in the brochure and recitation in the possession memo do not reflect that only a right to use the property has been given to respondent no.2 while the possession is retained by the G.D.A. Therefore, applying the principles laid down by the Apex Court in aforesaid cases, the only irresistible conclusion which can be arrived at in the facts of the present case is that agreement is a lease.

42. In such view of the fact, this Court finds the submission of learned counsel for the petitioner that agreement is not lease is devoid of merit. Consequently, this Court does not find any illegality in the order passed by the court below.

43. So far as the judgement relied upon by the learned counsel for the petitioner in the case of New Okhla Industrial Development Authority (supra) is concerned, the same is not applicable in the facts of the present case as it was not a case dealing with the issue as to whether the document in question was a lease or not, the facts in the said case are different and law enunciated, in that case, is not applicable in the facts of the present case.

44. It is also pertinent to mention that clause 6.1 of the brochure, which is part of the agreement, stipulates that in case of construction is not raised within the stipulated time provided in the agreement, a further period of five years can be extended to the respondent no.2 on payment of the surcharge as per rules.

45. Clause 6.1 of the brochure being part of the agreement is binding upon the parties, therefore, G.D.A. cannot resile from that. Further, the petitioner in paragraph 30 of the writ petition has admitted that G.D.A. has the power to recover 2% surcharge on the prevailing market value of the land, but to avail of the said benefit, respondent no.2 has to make an application.

46. In this respect, it is pertinent to reproduce paragraphs 9 to 13 of the reply of respondent no.2 dated 07.10.2013 to the show cause notice wherein respondent no.2 has prayed for the benefit of clause 6.1 of the brochure and Section 18(4-A) of the Act, 1973 which fact is also admitted by the Vice Chairman in the order dated/letter dated 02.07.2014.:-

9. As evident from the letter of allotment (ANNEXURE I) the allotment of the plot is subject to terms and conditions specified in the brochure. Clause 6 of the brochure stipulates conditions in regard to period for construction of the school as under:-

भवन निर्माण अवधि

आवंटी भवन मानचित्र प्राधिकारी से स्वीकृत करा कर ही अपने व्यय पर निर्माण करेगा। भवन निर्माण की अवधि संविदा पंजीकरण की तिथि से 5 वर्ष की दी जायेगी परन्तु आवंटी को तीन वर्ष के अंदर अध्यापन कार्य शुरू करना होगा। निर्धारित अवधि के अंदर निर्माण पूर्ण नहीं किया जाता है तो नियमानुसार सरचार्ज दे कर यह अवधि बढ़ाई जा सकेगी किन्तु 5 वर्ष से अधिक समय के लिये अभिवृद्धि नहीं की जाएगी और दस वर्ष तक भी निर्माण न करने की दशा में संविदा निरस्त कर भंग कर दी जाएगी तथा अधिनियम के प्रावधान के अनुसार पुनः प्रवेश कर लिया जायेगा।

10. It is noted that the above stipulation is consistent with the following provisions of section 18(4A) of the Uttar Pradesh Urban Planning & Development Act 1973 as introduced in 1997:

18...

(4-A) Where a lessee fails to make construction within the stipulated time, and the extended time, if any, under Sub-section (4) so that the total period from the date of lease exceeds five years, a charge at the rate of two per cent of the prevailing market value of the concerned land shall be real be released every year from him by the lessor and if from the date of imposition of the said charge a further period of five years elapses the lease shall stand forfeited and the lessor shall re-enter upon the land.

11. The same stipulation exists in the lease deed.

.....भूखंड पर निर्माण एग्रीमेंट की तिथि से 05 वर्ष के अंदर पूर्ण करना होगा। शेष नियम व शर्ते ब्रोशर के अनुसार होगी।

12. The notice under reference seeks to cancel the allotment, without allowing the society to undertake construction of the school in the extended period, against payment of charge prescribed under section 18(4A) of the Act ibid. The proposed action is bad in law as it tends to curtail the statutory right of the Society vested under the Act under which the Authority is created.

13. A reference to clause 15 of the sale deed in, isolation, rendering other stipulations redundant and leading to an inference violative of section 18(4) of the Act ibid is not in conformity with the general principles of jurisprudence.

47. The fact that G.D.A. has treated the document to be a lease is also apparent from the fact that notice has been issued to respondent no.2 under Section 111(g) of the Act, 1882.

48. In such view of the fact, this Court does not find any illegality in the order impugned.

49. Thus, for the reason given above, the writ petition lacks merit and is accordingly, dismissed with no order as to costs.

(2022) 9 ILRA 795
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 24.08.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE MRS. SANGEETA CHANDRA, J.

Matters Under Article 227 No. 23908 of 2021

Trading Engineers International Ltd.
...Petitioner
Versus
U.P. Power Transmission Corp.
...Respondent

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Gantavya, Dhanesh Relan, Kumar Abishek, Mayur Narang, Meha Rashmi, Utkarsh Kumar

Counsel for the Respondent:
Puneet Chandra, Sunil Sharma

Civil Law-The Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code 2016 - Section 14 - The Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996 - Sections 16 & 34 - Petitioner filed an application before the Learned Tribunal for rejection of the counterclaim stating that it had no jurisdiction to adjudicate as the moratorium ordered by the NCLT was still in operation-The Arbitration Act is a Code in itself-The Arbitration Act provides for a mechanism of challenge under Section 34-Under Article 227 of the Constitution of India, the supervisory role assigned to this Court is extremely limited. The Supreme Court has repeatedly emphasised in its judgements the importance of keeping handsoff approach where arbitration matters are concerned. This Court finds that the learned Tribunal has decided an application made to it by the petitioner and the orders squarely falls under the provisions of Section 16 of the Act of 1966. Therefore, it cannot be said to be an order patently lacking in jurisdiction and therefore perverse and liable to be interfered with by this Court under Article 227 of the Constitution.

Settled law that once an order is passed under Section 16 of the Act, 1996 then the same is amenable to challenge under Section 34 of the Act, 1996 and requires no interference of the High Court under its supervisory jurisdiction as the Act, 1996 is a complete code in itself. (Para 77)

Petition rejected. (E-3)

Case Law/ judgements relied upon:-

1. Deep Industries Ltd. Vs O.N.G.C Ltd & anr. (2019) SCC online SC 1602

2. Bhaven Construction Vs Executive Engineer, Sardar Sarovar Narmada Nigam Ltd. (2021) SCC online SC

3. Surendra Kumar Singhal & ors. Vs Arun Kumar Bhalotia & ors., (2021) SCC online DEL 3708

4. St. of U.P. Vs G.V.K. Emry (U.P) Pvt. Ltd. Writ Petition No.16858 (MS) of 2021

5. Radheshyam Vs Chhabi Nath & ors. (2015) 5 SCC 423

6. UmmaJi Keshao Meshram Vs Radika Bai, (1986) Supp. SCC 401

7. Alchemist Asset Reconstruction Comp. Ltd. Vs M/s Hotel Godavari (Pvt.) Ltd., (2017) SCC Online SC 1669

8. SBP and Co Vs Patel Engineering Ltd. & anr.,(2005) 8 SCC 618

9. Fuerst Day Lawson Ltd. Vs Jindal Exports Ltd., (2011) 8 SCC 333

10. Ghanshyam Mishra & Sons Pvt. Ltd. (thru Authorised Signatory Versus Edelweiss Asset Reconstruction Comp. Ltd. (through the Director) & ors. (Civil Appeal No.8129 of 2019) SC.

11. Innoventive Industries Ltd. Vs ICICI Bank & Anr. (2018) 1 SCC 407

12. Ebix Singapore (Pvt) Ltd Vs Committee of Creditors of Educomp Solutions Ltd., Civil Appeal No.3224 of 2020

13. P Mohan Raj & ors. Vs Shah Brothers Ispat Pvt. Ltd, 2021 (6) SCC 258

14. Jharkhand Bijli Vitaran Nigam Ltd. Vs IVRCL Ltd & anr. (Company Appeal (Insolvency) 285/2018 decided on 3 August 2018).

15. Surendra Kumar Singhal & ors. Vs Arun Kumar Bhalotia & ors, Delhi High Court on 25.03.2021.

16. Punj. St. Power Corp. Ltd. Vs Emta Coal Ltd & anr, (SLP decided on 18.09.2020)

17. Power Grid Corp. of India Ltd. Vs Jyoti Structures 2017 SCC Online Del 12729

(Delivered by Hon'ble Mrs. Sangeeta Chandra, J.)

1. This petition has been filed by the petitioner a Private Limited company which is under liquidation through its Insolvency Resolution Professional (Hereinafter referred to as "IRP") praying for quashing of the order dated 19.09.2021 passed by the sole Arbitrator (hereinafter referred to as the "learned Tribunal") in arbitration proceedings Trading Engineers (International) Ltd versus U.P. Power Transmission Corporation Limited (UPPTCL).

The facts relevant for decision of this petition in brief are that the petitioner being under huge debt, several petitions under Sections 7 & 9 of the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code 2016 (hereinafter referred to as the I & B Code) were filed before the NCLT New Delhi. In one such proceeding, Smt. Vijay Purohit versus Trading Engineers, the NCLT initiated Corporate Insolvency Resolution proceedings by appointment of IRP by its order dated 04.07.2019. In the meantime the petitioner had issued a legal notice on 11.6.2019 to the respondent for initiation of arbitration proceedings for Rs.45,55,18,787/- (Rupees Forty Five Crores Fifty Five Lakhs Eighteen Thousand Seven Hundred Eighty Seven) in terms of the Contracts dated 15.4.2011 and 28.4.2011. On failure of the respondent to reply to such notice the petitioner approached this Court for appointment of a sole Arbitrator. This Court by its order dated 17.03.2020 appointed Justice (Retired) Anurag Kumar. The petitioner filed its Statement of Claim of more than Rs.45 crores on 14.09.2020. The respondent filed a Defence Statement and a Counter Claim of Rs.144,11,93,202/- (Rupees One hundred Forty Four Crores Eleven Lakhs Ninety Three Thousand Two Hundred Two only) before the Learned Tribunalon 16.11.2020. The petitioner also filed a reply.

2. In a connected arbitration proceedings pending before another sole Arbitrator, Justice (Retired) Anil Kumar, a preliminary objection was taken on 25.03.2021 by the respondent that the arbitration proceedings cannot proceed in view of the provisions of Section 14 of the I&B Code.

3. On 08.04.2021, taking a cue from the application of the Respondent in the other arbitration proceedings the petitioner filed an application before the Learned Tribunalfor rejection of the counterclaim stating that it had no jurisdiction to adjudicate as the moratorium ordered by the NCLT was still in operation. The NCLT's orders were open to challenge before the NCLAT or the Supreme Court of India. The respondent had not challenged the moratorium declared by the NCLT on 4 July 2019. The respondent filed its reply before the Learned Tribunalon 29.05.2021 stating that the determination of counterclaim is not barred under Section 14 of the I&B Code, and the question of violation of Section 14 would only arise when execution proceedings are initiated after determination of dispute and adjudication of claim as well as counterclaim. The petitioner filed another application on 15.06.2021 reiterating its prayer for rejection of counterclaim filed by the respondent. The petitioner's application was made mainly on the ground that the claim and counter claim had been filed during the period of moratorium under Section 14 of the I&B Code. The claimant had submitted that after initiation of Corporate Insolvency Resolution Process all creditors are required to file their claims before the Resolution Professional and the only option which was available with the respondent was to file a claim before the IRP. No counterclaim could be filed as under paragraph 238 of the I&B Code, the Code has been given overriding effect over all other laws and procedure under Arbitration Act would not, more specifically apply where a moratorium has been issued under the provisions of Section 14 of the said Code.

4. The Learned Tribunalrejected the application dated 08.04.2021 by its order dated 19.09.2021. Hence this petition. The grounds for challenge to the order dated 19.09.2021 by the petitioners being that it is perverse as the learned Tribunal has decided that it will adjudicate both the claim and the counterclaim together in terms of the mandate given to it under section 23 (2-A) of the Act of 1996.

5. Sri Sanjay Bhasin, learned Senior Advocate assisted by Shri Sunil Sharma and Sri Puneet Chandra, has raised a preliminary objection as to the maintainability of this writ petition under Article 227 of the Constitution and learned Senior Counsel has referred to the interim order passed by this court on 23.12.2021 in this Petition. The counsel for the respondent had placed reliance upon several judgments of the Supreme Court and has argued that this court had entertained the petition without going into the question of maintainability because it was of the opinion that it is related to disputed questions of fact that could be decided at the time of final hearing. It had nevertheless granted an interim order to the petitioner to the extent that the matter was directed to be listed on 17.01.2022 and till such date, arbitrator was directed not to proceed with the arbitration. The respondents were directed to file their counter affidavit in the matter. Against this order granting interim relief to the petitioner the petitioner had approached the Supreme Court for modification of the order of interim relief to the extent that the arbitrator may continue to hear the claim of the petitioner on its merits but ignore the counterclaim of the respondent as it amounted to an institution of a suit against the corporate debtor which is prohibited under Section 14 (1)(A) of the I&B Code. It has been argued that the Supreme Court did not think it appropriate to pass any order on such application being made to it. It had only clarified that not only the application of the petitioner should be considered but the maintainability of the petition should also be considered by this court on the next date of hearing.

6. The Learned Senior Advocate has pointed out the prayer clause in this petition under Article 227 which is for quashing of the order dated 19.09.2021 passed by the learned Tribunal in arbitration proceedings pending before him in the matter of Trading Engineers (International) Limited versus U.P. Power Transmission Corporation Limited. The interim relief application prays for stay of adjudication of the counterclaim raised by the respondent before the learned Tribunal.

7. The Learned Senior Advocate has pointed out that the respondent did not go to the Supreme Court challenging the interim order granted by this court on 23.12.2021. The petitioner had itself gone to the Supreme Court for modification of the interim order. The Supreme Court instead of modifying and directing the Learned tribunal to continue to adjudicate the claim of the petitioner against the respondent, had directed this court to consider the maintainability of the petition under Article 227 of the Constitution.

8. It has been argued that the High Court under Article 227 of the Constitution should no adjudicate upon an order passed by the Arbitral Tribunal deciding its jurisdiction to continue with the arbitration proceedings. The learned counsel for the respondent has placed reliance upon Section 5, Section 16, and Section 34 of the Act of 1996, and has also referred to the Statement of Objects and Reasons of the Act of 1996 as amended by the Act of 2015. It has been argued that the legislative intent has been made clear that arbitration proceedings should continue without unnecessary and undue interference at each and every stage by the courts including extraordinary jurisdiction as exercised by the High Court under Article 226 and supervisory jurisdiction under Article 227 of the Constitution.

9. The learned counsel appearing for the respondent has placed reliance upon the following -

(1) SBP and Co. versus Patel Engineering Ltd and Another (2005) 8 SCC 618 and paragraph 45, 46 and 47 as also paragraph 103 and 108.

(2) Deep Industries Ltd Versus Oil and Natural Gas Corp Ltd and another

(2019 SCC online SC 1608) and paragraphs 13, 16, 17, 22 and 24.

(3) Bhaven Construction through Authorised Signatory Premji Bhai K Shah versus Executive Engineer Sardar Sarovar Narmada Nigam Ltd and another (2021 SCC online SC 8) and paragraphs 11, 16, 18, 20 and 21

(4) Punjab State Power Corporation Limited versus Emta Coal Ltd and another (2020 SCC online SC 1165) paragraph 5;

(5) Navayuga Engineering Co versus Bangalore Metro Rail Corp Ltd (2021 SCC online SC 469);

(6) Essar Steel India Ltd Committee of Creditors versus Satish Kumar Gupta 2020 (8) SCC 531;

(7) P. Mohan Raj v Shah Bros.Ispat (Pvt) Ltd 2021 (6) SCC 258.

10. In response to the arguments made by the learned counsel for the respondent, the learned counsel for the petitioner had submitted that the company is under liquidation and a CIRP is pending before the National Company Law Tribunal, Adjudicating Authority, under the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code 2006 and and Insolvency Resolution Professional has been appointed on 04.07.2020 therefore no counterclaim by the respondent against the petitioner could be entertained by the Arbitrator. The learned counsel for the petitioner has referred to Section 14 of the I&B Code and sub-clause 1(a) thereof to say that both the institution of proceedings and the hearing in pending proceedings including execution is barred and this argument was raised before the Learned Tribunal that a moratorium had come into being as soon as the Adjudicating Authority entertained the insolvency proceedings. The Learned counsel for the petitioner has referred to the language of sub-clause (a) of Section 14 (1) of the I&B Code where it prohibits the institution of suits or continuation of pending suits or proceedings against the corporate debtor including execution of any judgement, decree or order in any Court of law, Tribunal, Arbitration panel or other Authority. Although arbitration proceedings are not specifically mentioned in the language of Section 14(1)(a), proceedings relating to "transactions" entered into by the corporate debtor before the imposition of the moratorium are also included. The definition of "transaction" in Section 3 (33) of the I&B Code being an inclusive one, it is extremely wide in nature and would include a transaction evidencing a debt or liability.

11. The learned counsel for the petitioner has also placed reliance upon:-

(i) Deep industries Ltd versus Oil and Natural Gas Corp Ltd and another (2019) SCC online SC 1602 Para 13;

2) Bhaven Construction versus Executive Engineer, Sardar Sarovar Narmada Nigam Limited (2021) SCC online SC 8, paras 17 to 20 & 25;

3) Surendra Kumar Singhal and others versus Arun Kumar Bhalotia and others, (2021) SCC online DEL 3708; paras 17 to 21 & 24;

4) State of U.P. versus G.V.K. Emry (U.P) Private Limited Writ Petition No.16858 (MS) of 2021;

5) Radheshyam versus Chhabi Nath and others (2015) 5 SCC 423; paras 24 & 25;

6) UmmaJi Keshao Meshram versus Radika Bai, (1986) Supplement SCC 401; paras 85, 91, 100 to 103; and

7) Alchemist Asset Reconstruction Company Limited Vs. M/s Hotel Godavari (Pvt.) Ltd., (2017) SCC Online SC 1669.

12. It has been argued that Article 227 gives the High Court the power of superintendence over all courts and tribunals in relation to which it exercises territorial jurisdiction. This includes Arbitration Tribunal. This supervisory jurisdiction is intended to ensure that the subordinate courts and tribunals act within the limits of their authority and in accordance with law. Since Article 227 is a constitutional provision therefore no fetters can be placed on the jurisdiction conferred on the High Court by any ordinary legislation like the Arbitration Act 1996, hence existence of a statutory remedy in an ordinary legislation cannot take away or limit the right to exercise constitutional power under Article 227. While it had been held by the Supreme Court that the High Court should be extremely circumspect in exercising its discretion under Article 227, it has been emphasised repeatedly that if there is an exceptional circumstance which would justify the exercise of these powers, the same ought to be exercised even if there is an alternate statutory remedy. The High Court ought to interfere under Article 227 where there is a patent lack of inherent jurisdiction, or where a party is left remedyless, or a Tribunal has acted in bad faith, or the tribunal has not acted within the limits of its authority resulting in grave injustice or failure of justice, where the Tribunal has assumed a jurisdiction it does not have, failed to exercise a jurisdiction it does have, or exercised jurisdiction in a manner which tantamounts to overstepping the limits of its jurisdiction.

13. The learned counsel for the petitioner has placed reliance upon Ummaji Keshao Meshram and others versus Radhika Bai and another (supra) and paragraph 85 thereof wherein the Supreme Court had observed that the insertion of Article 226, 227 and 228 in the Constitution without making them subject to any law to be made by the appropriate legislature put these Articles beyond the legislative reach of Parliament and the State legislatures with the result that the jurisdiction conferred by these Articles can only be curtailed or excluded with respect to any matter by a constitutional amendment and not by ordinary legislation. The power of superintendence conferred upon every High Court by Article 227 is a supervisory jurisdiction intended to ensure that subordinate courts and Tribunals act within the limits of their authority and according to law. The power under Article 227 of the Constitution is intended to be used sparingly and only in appropriate cases, for the purpose of keeping the subordinate courts and tribunals within the bounds of their authority and, not for correcting mere errors.

14. The learned counsel for the petitioner has also relied upon judgement rendered by the Supreme Court in the case of Radheshyam versus Chhabi Nath and others (supra) to say that proceedings under Article 226 are in exercise of the original jurisdiction of the High Court while proceedings under Article 227 of the Constitution are not original but only supervisory. Article 227 is intended to be used sparingly and the power may be exercised in cases occasioning grave injustice or failure of justice such as when (i) the court or Tribunal has assumed a jurisdiction which it does not have, (ii) has failed to exercise a jurisdiction which it does have, such failure occasioning a failure of justice, and (iii) The jurisdiction though available is being exercised in a manner which tantamount to overstepping the limits of its jurisdiction. In exercise of supervisory jurisdiction the High Court may not only quash or set aside the impugned proceedings, judgement or order but it may also make such directions as the facts and circumstances of the case may warrant, maybe, by way of guiding the inferior court or Tribunal as to the manner in which it should now proceed further or afresh as commended to it or guided by the High Court. In appropriate cases the High Court, while exercising supervisory jurisdiction, may substitute such impugned decision by a decision of its own, as the inferior court or Tribunal should have made. Lastly, the jurisdiction under Article 226 of the Constitution is capable of being exercised on a prayer made by or on behalf of the party aggrieved; the supervisory jurisdiction is capable of being exercised Suo Moto as well.

15. On the basis of such judgments, submissions have been made by the Counsel that the High Court under Article 227 can exercise jurisdiction over private Tribunals as well, such as arbitral Tribunals to ensure that such Tribunals act within the limits of their authority and according to law. Article 227 being a constitutional provision no fetters can be placed on the jurisdiction conferred by such Article by any ordinary legislation like the Arbitration Act. The High Court should exercise its jurisdiction under Section 227 where there is a patent lack of inherent restriction, or a party is left remedyless, or a party has acted in bad faith, or a Tribunalhas not acted within the limits of their authority, or there is a grave injustice or failure of justice such as when the Tribunal has assumed a jurisdiction it does not have or failed to exercise a jurisdiction that it does have or exercised a jurisdiction in a manner which tantamount to overstepping the limits of jurisdiction.

16. The learned counsel for the petitioner has argued that even though in paragraph 22 of its order, the learned Tribunal has observed that strictly speaking a counterclaim is in the nature of a suit against the corporate debtor under Section 14(1)(a) of the I&B Code 2016 and strictly speaking is a "proceeding" during the moratorium period, yet he concludes that he must still go on with such proceedings because of Section 23(2) A of Act of 1996. The learned Tribunal has failed to appreciate that an act done after prohibition that is statutorily imposed, is non-est in law. The counterclaim is a proceeding against the corporate debtor. It is filed after imposition of moratorium and is thus non-est. Adjudication of such a non-est counterclaim would be illegal and perverse and therefore needs to be set aside.

17. It has been argued that the learned Tribunal has observed in para 23 of the impugned order that after determination of the counterclaim when the amount is determined and the execution proceeding starts at that stage the provisions of Section 14 of the I&B Code is to be looked into. It has been argued on the basis of the language of Section 14 (1) that it not only prohibits execution but also prohibits the institution but also continuation of proceedings against the corporate debtor. It has been argued that the learned Tribunal has proceeded on conjectures and surmises and observed in paragraph 25 that it may be possible that by now the proceedings before the Adjudicating Authority may have come to an end which shows that the Tribunal recognised that a moratorium under Section 14 poses a hurdle in proceeding with the counterclaim against the corporate debtor, yet instead of ascerting the current status of the moratorium, the Tribunal has assumed that the moratorium must have ended after lapse of 330 days. It has been argued that the learned Tribunal ought to have reckoned that in the CIRP before the Adjudicating authority, either the Resolution Plan may have been allowed or it may have been rejected, in both these scenarios the alleged counterclaim of the respondent could not have been adjudicated and would have stood extinguished as they were not submitted before the Resolution Professional at the relevant time as per the mandate of the I&B Code. The learned Tribunal erroneously stated that the moratorium under Section 14 would apply only at the stage of execution and not at the stage of mere adjudication of claims and counterclaims. In the present case the arbitration clause was invoked on 11.06.2019. The moratorium was declared by the Adjudicating Authority on 04.07.2019. The counterclaim was filed on 16.11.2020 at a time when the moratorium was in force and such counterclaim being in the nature of a Suit could not have been instituted much less adjudicated.

18. In Deep Industries Ltd. Versus Oil and Natural Gas Corporation Ltd. and Another (supra), a three judges bench of the Supreme Court was considering the question as to whether High Court could have exercised its jurisdiction under Article 227 of the Constitution of India when it comes to matters that are decided under the Arbitration and Conciliation Act 1996. The respondent ONGC had awarded a contract to the Appellant for a period of five years. The contract was terminated much earlier. The Appellant invoked the arbitration clause contained in the contract on 02.11.2017 and a sole Arbitrator was appointed on 21.12.2017. On 02.02.2018 claim was filed by the Appellant. On 15.02.2018 Show Cause Notice was issued to the appellant and it was a blacklisted. The Appellant had earlier challenged the termination of its contract and the Show Cause Notice regarding blacklisting and had claimed damages. It filed an application for amendment in the pending petition challenging blacklisting order as well. Meanwhile a Section 16 application was filed before the Arbitrator on the ground that since arbitration notice was confined only to termination of agreement, blacklisting would be outside the Arbitrators' jurisdiction. This Section 16 application was dismissed by the Arbitrator. On the same day a Section 17 application was separately disposed of by the Arbitrator in which he stayed the operation of the order of blacklisting/two year ban which it said would operate only if the Appellant ultimately loses the final arbitration proceedings. The First Appeal was filed against this order passed under Section 17 which was dismissed. The ONGC then filed a petition under Article 227 of the Constitution before the High Court of Gujarat. The High Court entertained the petition ignoring the preliminary objection that such petition was not maintainable. It passed an order in favour of ONGC not only setting aside the Civil Court's order but also the order passed by the Arbitrator under Section 17 of the Act.

19. It was argued before the Supreme Court that once a preliminary objection had been raised before the High Court it should have dealt with it first. The language of Section 5 and Section 37 of the Act were also pointed out and it was argued that although a constitutional provision such as Article 227 cannot be fettered, yet the statutory scheme ought to be taken into account in order to deny relief in almost every case. The appellant placed reliance upon SBP and Co versus Patel Engineering Ltd. and Another reported in (2005) 8 SCC 618, and Fuerst Day Lawson Ltd. Versus Jindal Exports Limited reported in (2011) 8 SCC 333, to say that the Act is a self contained Code and since Second Appeals have been interdicted expressly under Section 37 (2) of the Act an Article 227 petition should also not be entertained. It was argued that even under Section 115 of the CPC as amended, Revision would lie only in cases where no Appeal lies but such orders should not be interlocutory orders which do not decide the matter in issue finally. It was held that the High Court should not have entertained the petition under Article 227 as any observations made by the Arbitrator while entertaining a Stay Application and granting interim relief would amount to a mere error of law and not amount to lack of jurisdiction.

20. On the other hand the counsel for the respondent had argued that SBP and Co (Supra) applied only at a stage where an order of Arbitral Tribunal was sought to be interfered with directly under Article 226/227. In the present case the Tribunal's orders was challenged in a First Appeal which was dismissed. Such order came to be challenged in a petition under Article 227 praying for exercise of supervisory jurisdiction which vested in the High Court. The Supreme Court considered the language of Section 5 of the Act of 1966 as also Section 37 and held that it was important to note that under Section 29A of the Act inserted by Amendment in 2016, a time limit was given within which Arbitral Awards must be made. Even in so far as Section 34 applications are concerned, Subsection (6) added by the same Amendment stated that these applications are to be disposed of expeditiously. The Supreme Court observed in paragraph 11 thus:-

"given the aforesaid statutory provision and given the fact that the 1996 Act repealed the three previous enactments in order that there be speedy disposal of all matters covered by it, it is clear that the statutory policy of the Act is that not only a time limit is set down for disposal of Arbitral proceedings themselves, but time limits have also been set down for Section 34 references to be decided. Equally in Union of India Versus Messers Varindera Construction Ltd. Reported in (2020) 2 SCC 111*, this Court had imposed self same limitation on First Appeals under Section 37 so that there be timely resolution of all matters which are covered by the arbitration Award.."*

21. The Supreme Court further observed in paragraph 12-

"most significant of all is a non-obstante clause contained in Section 5 which is that notwithstanding anything contained in any other law, in matters that arise under Part-I of the Arbitration Act, no judicial authority shall intervene except where so provided in this Part." Section 37 grants a constricted right of First Appeal against certain judgements and orders and no others. Further, the statutory mandate also provides for one bite at the cherry, and interdicts a Second Appeal being filed (see Section 37 (2) of the Act).

22. It observed in paragraph 13 thus:-

"this being the case, there is no doubt whatsoever that if petitions were to be filed under Article 226/227 of the Constitution against orders passed in Appeals under Section 37, the entire Arbitral process would be derailed and would not come to fruition for many years. At the same time, we cannot forget that Article 227 is a constitutional provision which remains untouched by the non-obstante clause of Section 5 of the Act. In these circumstances what is important to note is that petitions can be filed under Article 227 against judgements allowing or dismissing First Appeals under Section 37 of the Act, yet the High Court would be extremely circumspect in interfering with the same, taking into account the statutory policy as adumbrated by us hereinabove so that interference is restricted to orders that are passed which are patently lacking in inherent jurisdiction."

23. The Supreme Court in Paragraph-14 onwards referred to its judgement in Nivedita Sharma Versus Cellular Operators Association of India and Others reported in (2011) 14 SCC 337; wherein several judgements including L. Chandra Kumar Versus Union of India reported in 1997 (3) SCC 261, Thansingh Nath Mal Versus Superintendent of Taxes reported in AIR 1964 Supreme Court 1419, Titaghur Paper Mills Co. Ltd. Versus State of Orissa reported in (1983) 2 SCC 433; Mafatlal Industries Ltd. Versus Union of India reported (1997) 5 SCC 536, were cited and observed that "the High Court will not entertain a petition under Article 226 of the Constitution if an effective alternative remedy is available to the aggrieved person or the statute under which the action complained of has been taken, itself contains a mechanism for redressal of grievance still hold the field".

24. The Supreme Court referred to the judgement rendered by the larger bench of seven judges in SBP and Company (Supra), where the Court was considering interference with an order passed by an Arbitral Tribunal by the High Court under Article 226/227 and had observed in paragraph 45 and 46 as follows:"

"It is seen that some High Courts have proceeded on the basis that any order passed by an Arbitral Tribunal during arbitration, would be capable of being challenged under Article 226 or 227 of the Constitution. We see no warrant for such an approach. Section 37 makes certain orders of the Arbitrator appealable under Section 34, the aggrieved party has an avenue for ventilating his grievances against the Award including any in between orders that might have been passed by the Arbitral Tribunal acting under Section 16 of the Act. The party aggrieved by any order of the Arbitral Tribunal has a right of Appeal under Section 37 of the Act, has to wait until the Award is passed by the Tribunal. This appears to be the scheme of the Act. The Arbitral Tribunal is, after all, a creature of contract between the parties, the arbitration agreement, even though, if the occasion arises, the Chief Justice may constitute it based on the contract between the parties. But that would not alter the status of the Arbitral Tribunal. It will still be a forum chosen by the parties by agreement. We, therefore, disapprove of the stand adopted by some of the High Courts that any order passed by the Arbitral Tribunal is capable of being corrected by the High Court under Article 226 or 227 of the Constitution. Such an intervention by the High Court is not permissible.

"46. The object of minimising judicial intervention while the matter is in the process of being arbitrated upon, will certainly be defeated if the High Court could be approached under Article 227 or under Article 226 of the Constitution against every order made by the Arbitral Tribunal. Therefore, it is necessary to indicate that once the arbitration has commenced in the Arbitral Tribunal, parties have to wait until the Award is pronounced unless, of course, right of Appeal is available to them under Section 37 of the Act even at an earlier stage."

25. The Supreme Court in Deep Industries (Supra) further referred to the attempt made by the Learned Additional Solicitor General to distinguish the judgement in SBP and Co. to say that the same did not apply to the facts of the case, and the Supreme Court observed - "- - - yet, it is important to notice that the seven judge bench has referred to the object of the Act being that of minimising judicial intervention and that this important object should always be kept in the forefront when a 227 petition is being disposed of against proceedings that are decided under the Act."

26. The three judges bench in Deep Industries (Supra) also noticed that in Punjab Agro Industries Corporation Limited Versus Kewal Singh Dhillon reported in 2008 (10) SCC 128, the Supreme Court had distinguished SBP and Co (supra) but it held that the same was an exceptional case where the statutory provisions did not conceive of any appeal against an order passed under Section 11 refusing to appoint an Arbitrator. In the case of Deep Industries (supra) however, the Supreme Court observed that the High Court has entertained a 227 petition after the First Appeal was dismissed by the Civil Court whereas Section 37 of the Act did not permit any Second Appeal and only one bite at the cherry. It observed further- "...,The drill of Section 16 of the Act is that where a Section 16 application is dismissed, no appeal is provided and the challenge to the Section 16 application being dismissed must await the passing of a final Award at which stage it may be raised under Section 34... Further to state that serious disputes as to jurisdiction seem to have cropped up is not the same thing as saying that the Arbitral Tribunal lacked inherent jurisdiction in going into and deciding the Section 17 application. In point of fact, the Arbitral tribunal was well within its jurisdiction in referring to the contract - - - - - even if it be accepted that the principle laid down in Section 41 (e) of the Specific Relief Act was infracted... is a mere error of law and not an error of jurisdiction, much less an error of inherent jurisdiction going to the root of the matter. Therefore, even otherwise, the High Court judgement cannot be sustained and is set aside."

27. In paragraph 17 the Supreme Court further observed:-

"17. We reiterate that the policy of the Act is speedy disposal of arbitration Cases. The Arbitration Act is a Special Act and a self contained Code dealing with arbitration. This court in Fuerst Day Lawson Ltd. (supra) has specifically held as follows:

"89. It is thus to be seen that the Arbitration Act 1940 from its inception and right through to 2004 was held to be a self contained Code - - - - - - once it is held that Arbitration Act is a self contained Code and exhaustive, then it must also be held, using the lucid expression of Justice Tulzapurkar, that if carries with it a negative import that only "Such acts as are mentioned in the Act are permissible to be done and acts or things not mentioned therein are not permissible to be done". In other words- - - Where the special Act sets out a self contained code the applicability of the general law procedure would be impliedly excluded."

What becomes clear is that the - - - - Merely because - - First Appeal was disposed of by a Court subordinate to the High Court, an Article 227 petition ought not to have been entertained."

28. Another Three-judge bench of the Supreme Court in Bhaven Construction versus Executive Engineer Sardar Sarovar Narmada Nigam Limited, 2022 (1) SCC 75; was looking into the question - "whether the arbitral process could be interfered under Article 226/227 of the Constitution, and under what circumstances?" The facts before the court were that the respondent no.1 had entered into a contract with the appellant. Dispute arose regarding payment. The Appellant issued a notice seeking appointment of Arbitrator in terms of the agreement. The respondent refused to appoint such Arbitrator. The appellant instead appointed respondent no. 2 to act as sole Arbitrator for adjudication of the disputes. The respondent no.1 preferred an application under Section 16 of the Act disputing the jurisdiction of the sole Arbitrator. The Arbitrator rejected the application of the respondent no.1 and held that it had jurisdiction to adjudicate the dispute. Aggrieved by such orders of the Arbitrator the respondent no.1 preferred a petition under Article 226/227 of the Constitution. It was rejected by the Single Judge as not maintainable by holding that remedy under Section 34 of the Act was available and the respondent no.1 should wait till the Award is passed by the Learned Arbitrator. The respondent no.1 further challenged such order before the Division Bench in the Letters Patent Appeal. Such appeal was entertained and allowed. Aggrieved, the appellant filed the Civil Appeal before the Supreme Court saying that Section 16(2) of the Act mandates that the sole Arbitrator had the jurisdiction to adjudicate the preliminary issue of jurisdiction, which can only be challenged under Section 34 of the Act. On the other hand the respondent no.1 contended that under Article 226 and 227 of the Constitution it was always open for the respondent no.1 to invoke the jurisdiction of the High Court to set aside an arbitration proceeding which was a nullity.

29. The Supreme Court observed in paragraphs 11 and 12 as under:-

"11. We need to note that the Arbitration Act is a Code in itself. This phrase is not merely perfunctory, but has definite legal consequences. One such consequence is spelt out under Section 5 of the Arbitration Act, which reads as under.....The non-obstante clause is provided to uphold intention of the legislature as provided in the Preamble "to adopt UNCITRAL model law and Rules, to reduce excessive judicial interference which is not contemplated under the Arbitration Act".

12. The Arbitration Act itself gives various procedures and forms to challenge the appointment of an Arbitrator. The framework really portrays an intention to address most of the issues within the ambit of the Act itself, without there being any scope for any extra statutory mechanism to provide just and fair solutions."

30. The Supreme Court thereafter referred to the action of the respondent no.1 in choosing to impugn an order passed under Section 16(2) of the Act through a petition under Article 226/227. In the usual course, the Arbitration Act provides for a mechanism of challenge under Section 34. The opening phrase of Section 34 reads as, "Recourse to a court against an arbitral award may be made "only" by an application for setting aside such Award in accordance with subsection (2) and subsection (3)". The use of the term "only" as occurring under the provision serves two purposes of making the provision a complete Code and laying down the procedure."

31. The Supreme Court observed in paragraph 17 of Bhaven Constructions (supra) that even though the hierarchy in the legal framework mandates that a legislative enactment cannot curtail a constitutional right, "still it is one thing to say that in the exercise of the powers vested in it under Article 226 of the Constitution, the High Court can entertain a petition against any order passed by or any action taken by the State and/or its Agencies/Instrumentalities or any Public Authority or order passed by quasi judicial body/authority, and it is an altogether different thing to say that each and every petition filed under Article 226 of the Constitution must be entertained by the High Court as a matter of course ignoring the fact that the aggrieved person has an effective alternative remedy. Rather, it is settled law that when a statutory Forum is created by law for redressal of grievances, awrit petition should not be entertained ignoring the statutory dispensation. It is therefore, prudent for a judge to not exercise discretion to allow judicial interference beyond the procedure prescribed under the enactment. This power needs to be exercised in exceptional rarity, where in one party is left remedyless under the statute or a clear bad faith is shown by one of the parties. This high standard set by this Court is in terms of the legislative intention to make the arbitration fair and efficient."

32. The Supreme Court thereafter referred to the observations made by it in M/s Deep Industries Ltd (supra) that the "High Court would be extremely circumspect in interfering with the same, taking into account the statutory policy as adumberated by us hereinabove so that interference is restricted to orders that are passed which are patently lacking in inherent jurisdiction."

33. The Supreme Court observed further that the respondent no.1 had not been able to show exceptional circumstances or bad faith on the part of the appellant, to invoke the remedy under article 227 of the Constitution. "No doubt the ambit of Article 227 is broad and pervasive, however, the High Court should not have used its inherent power to interject the arbitral process at this stage. - -If the courts are allowed to interfere with the arbitral process beyond the ambit of the enactment , then the efficiency of the process will be diminished- - - the High Court did not appreciate the limitations under Article 226 and 227 of the Constitution and reasoned that the appellant had undertaken to appoint an Arbitrator unilaterally, thereby rendering the respondent no.1 remedyless. However, a plain reading of the arbitration agreement points to the fact that the Appellant herein had actually acted in accordance with the procedure laid down without any malafides. It is just that the respondent no.1 has not been able to show any exceptional circumstance which mandates the exercise of jurisdiction under Article 226 and 227 of the Constitution.

34. The Supreme Court observed in paragraph 25 of Bhaven Construction (Supra) thus :-

"25. It must be noted that Section 16 of the Arbitration Act, necessarily mandates that the issue of jurisdiction must be dealt first by the Tribunal, before the Court examines the same under Section 34. Respondent no.1 is therefore not left remedyless, and has statutorily been provided a chance of appeal.

35. The Supreme Court referred to paragraph 22 of the judgement in Deep Industries where Section 16 of the Act had been dealt with. The Supreme Court held that the High Court had erred in using its discretionary power available under Article 226 and 227 of the Constitution and allowed the Appeal.

36. The learned counsel for the petitioner has also cited Alchemist Asset Reconstruction company Ltd versus M/s Hotel Godavari Private Limited, 2017 SCC online SC 1669, where the Supreme Court was considering a case where an order was passed by the National Company Law Tribunal on 31.03.2017 and an Interim Resolution Professional was appointed. Despite such moratorium, a letter was issued by the respondent no.1 to the respondent no.2 invoking the arbitration clause between the parties and an Arbitrator was appointed. The National Company Law Tribunal in its order dated 31.05.2017 referred to Section 14 of the I&B Code and stated that given the moratorium no arbitration proceedings could go on. A First Appeal was filed before the District Judge under Section 37 of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act 1996 and by an order dated 06.07.2017 the appeal was asked to be registered and notice was issued awaiting reply. It was this order which was challenged before the Supreme Court. The Supreme Court observed that the mandate of the new I&B Code is that the moment an insolvency petition is admitted, the moratorium comes into effect under Section 14 expressly interdicts institution or continuation of pending suits or proceedings against the corporate debtors. The Court set aside the order of the District Judge dated 06.07.2017 entertaining the appeal under Section 37 of the Arbitration Act 1996 and observed that the effect of Section 14 is that the arbitration that has been instituted after the aforesaid moratorium is non-est in law.

37. The Learned counsel for the petitioner has placed reliance upon Committee of Creditors of Essar Steel (supra) to say that once the Resolution Plan is approved by the Committee of Creditors and submitted before the Adjudicating Authority no other claims that may exist apart from those decided on merit by the Resolution Professional and by the Adjudicating Authority/Appellate Tribunal could be decided by any other forum. He has referred to para 63 onwards of the judgement which deals with extinguishment of personal guarantees and undecided claims. He has referred to Paragraph-67 of the judgement where it was observed:-

"a successful Resolution Applicant cannot suddenly be faced with undecided claims after the Resolution Plan submitted by him has been accepted, as this would amount to a hydra head popping up which would throw into uncertainty the amounts payable by a prospective Resolution Applicant who successfully takes over the business of the corporate debtor. All claims must be submitted to and decided by the Resolution Professional so that a prospective Resolution Applicant knows exactly what has to be paid in order that it may then take over and run the business of the corporate debtor, this the successful Resolution Applicant does on a fresh slate. - - -"

38. Also, with regard to the constitutional validity of Sections 4 and 6 of the Amending Act of 2019, the Learned Counsel for the petitioner has referred to Paragraph-71 onwards wherein the amendment of Section-12 by addition of two Provisos in Subsection (3) was considered which provided that the Corporate Insolvency Resolution Process shall mandatorily be completed within a period of 330 days from the insolvency commencement date, including any extension of the period of Corporate Insolvency Resolution Process granted under that section, and the time taken in legal proceedings in relation to such resolution process of the corporate debtor'. Provided also, that where the insolvency resolution process of a corporate debtor is pending and has not been completed within the period referred to in the Second Proviso, such resolution process shall be completed within a period of 90 days from the date of commencement of the Amendment Act of 2019.

39. The Supreme Court referred to the reason for introducing this proviso by way of amendment. Experience with Sick Industrial Companies Act, Recovery of Debts Act 1993, and Securitisation and Reconstruction of Financial Assets and Enforcement of Security Interest Act 2002, all of which provided for expeditious determination and timely detection of sickness in industrial companies, yet, legal proceedings under the same dragged on for years as a result of which all the statutory measures proved to be abject failures in resolving the stressed assets. The Supreme Court considered the arguments raised against the validity of Section 4 and found that the only one argument against the amendment is that the time taken in legal proceedings should not be put against parties before the NCLT and NCLAT based upon a latin maxim which sub serves the cause of justice namely, "actus curiae neminem gravabit".

The Supreme Court observed thereafter in paragraph 79 thus : -

"given the fact that the time taken in legal proceedings cannot possibly harm a litigant if the Tribunal itself cannot take up the litigant's case within the requisite period for no fault of the litigant or the provision which mandatorily requires the CIRP to end by a certain date without any exception thereto, may well be an excessive interference with the litigants' fundamental right to non-arbitrary treatment under Article-14, and an excessive and arbitrary and therefore unreasonable restriction on the litigant's Fundamental Right to carry on business under Article 19 of the Constitution of India - - - while leaving the provision otherwise intact, we strike down the word "mandatorily "as being manifestly arbitrary under Article 14 of the Constitution of India - - - the effect of this declaration is that ordinarily the time taken in relation to corporate resolution process of the corporate debtor must be completed within the outer limit of 330 days from the insolvency commencement date, including extensions and the time taken in legal proceedings however, on facts of a given case, if it can be shown to the Adjudicating Authority and/or the Appellate Tribunal under the Code that only a short period is left for completion of the insolvency resolution process beyond 330 days, and that it would be in the interest of all stakeholders that the corporate debtor be put back on its feet instead of being sent into liquidation and that the time taken in legal proceedings is largely due to factors owing to which fault cannot be ascribed to the litigant before the Adjudicating Authority and/or the Appellate Tribunal, the delay or large part thereof being attributable to the tardy process of the Adjudicating Authority and/or the Appellate Tribunal itself, it may be open in such cases for the Adjudicating Authority and/or the Appellate Tribunal to extend time beyond 330 days - - - it is only in such exceptional cases that time can be extended, the general rule being that 330 days is the outer limit within which resolution of the stressed assets of the corporate debtor must take place beyond which the corporate debtor is to be driven into liquidation."

40. In Ghanshyam Mishra and Sons Private Limited (through Authorised Signatory Versus Edelweiss Asset Reconstruction Company Ltd. (through the Director) and others (Civil Appeal No.8129 of 2019) decided by the Supreme Court it was dealing with the questions- "whether any creditor including the Central Government, the State Government or any local authority is bound by the Resolution Plan once it is approved by Adjudicating Authority under Subsection (1) of Section 31 of the I&B Code 2016? "

And as to "whether after approval of Resolution Plan by the Adjudicating Authority a creditor including the Central Government, the State Government or any local authority is entitled to initiate any proceedings for recovery of any of the dues from the corporate debtor, which are not part of the Resolution Plan approved by the Adjudicating Authority?"

41. It referred to the facts of the case regarding NCLT admitting a petition under Section 7 of the I&B Code on 25.07.2017 and initiating the CIRP. On 28.07.2017 the Resolution Professional made a public announcement inviting claims from all the creditors of the corporate debtor as is required under Section 15 of the I&B Code. The last date for submission of claims was 8.8.2017. The Resolution Professional upon receipt of the claims maintained a list of creditors alongside the amount claimed by them and the security interest. The Resolution Professional thereafter also invited Expression of Interest. Resolution Plans were submitted thereafter. Pursuant to the approval by Committee of Creditors of one plan, NCLT also granted approval. Despite various communications addressed to the Tax Authorities informing them that after the Resolution Plan was approved by the NCLT all proceedings instituted against the corporate debtor, arising and pending before the transfer date shall stand withdrawn, and that all liabilities towards operational creditors shall be deemed to have been settled by discharge and payment of resolution amount by the corporate debtor, it was insisted by the Tax Authorities that since there was no specific stay, the proceedings could not be dropped for recovery of Commercial Tax against the corporate debtor. The appellant approached the Supreme Court and argued that though the respondent authorities were aware of the Resolution proceedings, they had failed to submit any claim in response to the public notices issued by the Resolution Professional. On the other hand, the counsel appearing for the State authorities defended the continuance of proceedings for recovery of tax by saying that any order passed by the NCLT would not come in the way of adjudicatory proceedings which were continued by the authorities under the provisions of the relevant statutes.He submitted that the assessment orders which were passed in accordance with law were duly approved in appeal by higher authority and the High Court had rightly dismissed the petition as not maintainable in view of the alternative remedy of filing a Second Appeal before the Commercial Tax Appellate Tribunal.

The learned Senior counsel appearing for the Tax Authorities also stated that adjudicatory authorities acting under the relevant statutes not being part of the Committee of Creditors were not bound by the decision of the Committee of Creditors which was approved by the NCLT. He further submitted that merely continuation of adjudicatory proceedings cannot be a part of coercive action.

The counsel for the appellant however submitted that various courts have held that statutory dues prior to the date of admission of Section-7 application, which are not part of the Resolution Plan, shall stand extinguished and the proceedings in respect thereof would no more survive. He submitted that the respondent authorities failed to file claims in response to statutory public notice issued by the Resolution Professional. The first demand by the authorities was raised only after the plan was approved by the Committee of Creditors. It was argued on behalf of the appellant that if such a view is accepted then it will frustrate the entire object of the I&B Code and the revival of the debtor companies would be impossible if the successful Resolution Applicants are sprung with the surprise dues which are not part of the Resolution Plan.

42. The Supreme Court in Paragraph-49 onwards of its decision in Ghanshyam Mishra and Sons (supra) referred to several judgements passed by it earlier considering various provisions of the I&B Code including judgement in Innoventive Industries Ltd. Versus ICICI Bank and Another (2018) 1 SCC 407, where it was held that one of the important objectives of the I&B Code is to bring the insolvency law in India under a single unified umbrella with the object of speeding up the insolvency process. The Scheme of the Code is to ensure that when a default takes place, in the sense that a debt becomes due and is not paid, the Insolvency Resolution Process begins. Such debt maybe financial debt or an operational debt. Application under Section-7 or Section-9 can be filed and the moment the Adjudicating Authority is satisfied that a default has occurred the application must be admitted. Such debt may be in the form of a payment which actually became due or in the form of a claim which becomes payable unless it is disputed. The entire process is to be completed within a specified period from the date of admission of the application and extension of time for completion of CIRP under Section 12 can only be for a limited time period on specific reasons to be indicated in the order so made. As soon as the application is admitted, a moratorium in respect of Section 14 of the Code is to be declared by the Adjudicating Authority and a public announcement is made stating inter alia the last date for submission of claims and the details of the Interim Resolution Professional who shall be vested with the management of the corporate debtor and be responsible for receiving the claims. This IRP must now manage the operations of the corporate debtor as a going concern. The decision of the Committee of Creditors appointed under Section 21 of the Act ought to be taken by a vote of not less than 75% of the voting share of the financial creditors. Under Section 28, the IRP is given wide powers to raise finances, create security interest, etc subject to prior approval of the Committee of Creditors. Under Section 30 any person who is interested in putting the corporate body back on its feet may submit a Resolution Plan to the Resolution Professional who may then place them before the Committee of Creditors. Once the Committee of Creditors approves such Resolution Plan, it becomes binding on the corporate debtor as well as its employees, members, creditors, guarantors and other stakeholders. The moment the Adjudicating Authority approves the Resolution Plan, the moratorium order passed by the Authority under Section 14 shall cease to have effect.

43. The Supreme Court went on to observe that the commercial wisdom of the Committee of Creditors has been given paramount status without any judicial intervention for ensuring the completion of the stated processes within the timelines prescribed by the I&B code. The legislature has consciously not provided any ground to challenge the commercial wisdom of individual financial creditors or their collective decision before the Adjudicating Authority which is made non-justiciable.

44. The Supreme Court in paragraph 58 thereafter observed thus: -" ...

".....A bare reading of Section 31 of the I&B Code would make also make it abundantly clear, that once the Resolution Plan is approved by the Adjudicating Authority, after it is satisfied that the Resolution Plan as approved by the COC meets requirements as referred to in Subsection (2) of Section 30, it shall be binding on the corporate debtor and its employees, members, creditors, guarantors and other stakeholders. Such a provision is necessitated since one of the dominant purposes of the I&B Code is revival of corporate debtor and to make it a running concern."

The Supreme Court in paragraph 64 of the said judgement observed thus: -

"As held by this Court in the case of Principal Commissioner of Income Tax Versus Monnet Ispat and Energy Ltd., in view of the provisions of Section 238 of the I&B Code, the provisions thereof will have an overriding effect, if there is any inconsistency with any of the provisions of the law for the time being in force or any instrument having effect by virtue of such law. As such , Vide Section 7 of Act No.26 of 2019, with effect from 16 August 2019 , the following words have been inserted in Section 31 of the I&B Code-" including the Central Government, any State Government or any local authority to whom a debt in respect of the payment of dues arising under any law for the time being in force, such as authorities to whom statutory dues are owed."

After the amendment any debt in respect of payment of dues arising under any law for the time being in force including the ones owed to the Central Government, any State Government or any local authority, which does not form a part of the approved Resolution Plan, shall stand extinguished - -"

45. The Supreme Court in Paragraph-95 thereafter answered the questions framed by it by saying that "once a Resolution Plan is duly approved by the Adjudicating Authority under Subsection (1) of Section 31, the claims as provided in the Resolution Plan shall stand frozen and will be binding on the corporate debtor and its employees, members, creditors, including the Central Government, any State Government or any local authority, guarantors and other stakeholders. On the date of approval of the Resolution Plan by the Adjudicating Authority, all such claims which are not part of the Resolution Plan, shall stand extinguished and no person will be entitled to initiate or continue any proceedings With respect to a claim which is not part of the Resolution Plan; that the 2019 Amendment to Section 31 of the I&B Code is clarificatory and declaratory in nature and therefore will be effective from the date on which the I&B Code has come into effect. Consequently, all dues including the statutory dues owed the Central Government, any State Government, or any local authority, if not part of the Resolution Plan, shall stand extinguished and no proceedings in respect of such dues for the period prior to the date on which the Adjudicating Authority grants its approval under section 31 could be continued."

46. In Committee of Creditors of Essar steel India Ltd. Versus Satish Kumar Gupta and others, learned counsel for the petitioners has placed reliance upon paragraph 107 and 127 of the said judgement. However no judgement can be read ignoring the context in which it was delivered. The facts as are necessary to determine the context in which observations in paragraph 107 and 127 of the judgement have been made in brief are; that several appeals and petitions were before the Supreme Court with respect to the role of Resolution Applicants, Resolution Professional, the Committee of Creditors which are constituted under the I&B Code. The Court also considered the question of jurisdiction of the Adjudicating Authority and the Appellate Authority i.e. the National Company Law Tribunal and National Company Law Appellate Tribunal qua Resolution Plans that have been approved by the Committee of Creditors. The constitutional validity of Section 4 and 6 of the I&B Code (Amendment Act of 2019) had also been challenged. Several petitions with respect to the Resolution Plans of various companies" Corporate Insolvency Resolution Process were dealt with individually. The Court first considered the role of Resolution Professional who had to verify and determine the claims by operational creditors, financial creditors, other creditors, workmen and employees and guarantors.

47. In paragraph 67 it set aside the impugned NCLAT judgement where it had left it open for claims that may have existed apart from those decided on merits by the Resolution Professional and by the Adjudicating Authority/Appellate Tribunal to be decided now by an appropriate forum in terms of Section 60 Subsection (6) of the I&B Code saying that such observation made by the NCLAT militates against the rationale of Section 31 of the I&B Code. It observed -

"a successful Resolution Applicant cannot suddenly be faced with "undecided" claims after the Resolution Plan submitted by him has been accepted as this would amount to a hydra head popping up which would throw into uncertainty amounts payable by a prospective Resolution Applicant who successfully takes over the business of the corporate debtor. All claims must be submitted to and decided by the Resolution Professional so that a prospective Resolution Applicant knows exactly what has to be paid in order that it may then take over and run the business of the corporate debtor. this the successful Resolution Applicant does on a fresh slate, as has been pointed out by us here in above...."

48. The learned counsel for the petitioner has placed reliance upon Ebix Singapore (Pvt) Ltd Vs. Committee of Creditors of Educomp Solutions Ltd., Civil Appeal No.3224 of 2020. The Supreme Court in Ebix Singapore (supra) has quoted with approval the observations made by it in Committee of Creditors of Essar Steel India Ltd (supra) where Section 12 of the IBC was considered and it was held that the Insolvency Resolution Process should be completed in 270 days with an outer limit of 330 days. It was held that "...it is only in such exceptional cases that the time can be extended, the general rule being that 330 days is the outer limit within which resolution of the stressed assets of the corporate debtor must take place beyond which the corporate debtor is to be driven into liquidation".

49. The Supreme Court in Ebix (supra) was considering the rejection by the NCLAT of the permission for withdrawal of Resolution Plan submitted by the Resolution Applicant in respect of Educomp, the corporate debtor, given by the NCLT. While considering the purpose of law on insolvency the Supreme Court referred to the earlier provisions which were used by defaulting companies to enjoy extended moratorium periods and failure to enforce timelines meant legal proceedings would drag on for years and not result in recovery of stressed assets. It observed that "....an analysis of the framework of the Statute and Regulations provides an insight into the dynamic and comprehensive nature of the Statute. Upholding the procedural design and sanctity of the process is critical to its functioning. The interpretative task of the Adjudicating Authority, the Appellate Authority, and even this Court, must be cognisant of, and allied with that objective..."

50. In paragraph 126 of its judgement the Supreme Court observed that the CIRP is a time bound process with the specific aim of maximising the value of assets. The IBC and the regulations made under it laid down strict timelines which need to be adhered to by all the parties, at all stages of the CIRP. The CIRP is expected to be completed within 180 days under Section 12 (1) of the IPC in terms of subsection (2) and (3) of Section 12 and extension can be sought from the Adjudicating Authority for extending this period up to 90 days. The First Proviso to Section 12 (3) clarifies that such an extension can only be granted once.

It observed thus:-

"....In Arcelor Mittal (India) (P) Limited versus Satish Kumar Gupta (2019) 2 SCC 1, this Court had held that the time taken in legal proceedings in relation to the CIRP must be excluded from the timeline mentioned in Section 12. Since this could extend the CIRP indefinitely, the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code (Amendment) Act 2019 inserted a Second Proviso to Section 12 (3) with effect from 16.08.2019 to state that the CIRP in its entirety must be mandatorily completed within 330 days from the insolvency commencement date, including the time taken in legal proceedings. A legislative amendment that takes away the basis of a judicial finding is indicative of the strong emphasis of the IBC on its timelines and its attempt to thwart the prospect of stakeholders engaging in multiple litigations, solely with the intent of causing undue delay. Delays are also a cause of concern because the liquidation value depletes rapidly, irrespective of the imposition of moratorium, and a delayed liquidation is harmful to the value of the corporate debtor, the recovery rate of the COC and consequently, the economy at large. In Essar steel (supra) a three-judge bench of this Court, emphasised the rationale of the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code (Amendment) Act 2019, which introduced the Second Proviso to Section 12 (3). The Court adverted to the BLRC report which underscored delays in legal proceedings as the cause of the failure of the previous insolvency regime under the SICA and the recovery mechanism in SARFAESI....".

51. The Supreme Court in Ebix (supra) also extracted the speech of the Union Minister in the Rajya Sabha to explain the proposal for Amendment in 2019, which was to avoid the same pitfalls in the IBC." The Supreme Court quoted paragraph 119 of the judgement in Essar Steel (supra) and then went on to observe that:- "the decision in Essar Steel (supra) while reiterating the rationale of the IBC for ensuring timely resolution of stressed assets as a key factor, had to defer to the principles of actus curiae neminem gravabit i.e. no person should suffer because of the fault of the court or the delay in the procedure. ".....In spite of this Court's precedents which otherwise strike down provisions which interfere with the litigants fundamental right to non-arbitrary treatment under Article 14 by mandatory conclusion of proceedings without providing for any exceptions, this Court refused to strike down the Second Proviso to Section 12 sub-clause (3) in its entirety. It noted that the previous statutory experiments for insolvency had failed because of the delay as a result of extended legal proceedings and chose to only strike down the word "mandatorily", keeping the rest of the provision intact. Therefore the law as it stands, mandates the conclusion of the CIRP - Including time taken in legal proceedings, within 330 days with a short extension to be granted only in exceptional cases.

52. However, the Court had warned that this discretion must be exercised sparingly and only in the following situations:

"However, on the facts of a given case, if it can be shown to the Adjudicating Authority and/or Appellate tribunal under the Code that only a short period is left for completion of the Insolvency Resolution Process beyond 330 days, and that it would be in the interest of all the stakeholders that the corporate debtor be put back on its feet instead of being sent into liquidation and that the time taken in legal proceedings is largely due to factors owing to which the delay cannot be ascribed to the litigants before the Adjudicating Authority and/or Appellate Tribunal the delay or a large part of being attributable to the tardy process of the Adjudicating Authority and/or the Appellate Tribunal, it may be open in such cases for the Adjudicating Authority and/or Appellate Tribunal to extend the time beyond 330 days. - - - - it is only in such exceptional cases that the time can be extended, within which resolution of the stressed assets of the corporate debtor must take place beyond which the corporate debtor is to be driven into liquidation."

53. The Supreme Court observed in paragraph 128 of Ebix (supra) that the evolution of the IBC framework through an interplay of legislative amendments, regulations and judicial interpretations, consistently emphasises the predictability and timelines of the IBC. It noted the amendment made in Regulation 40 with effect from 20.04.2020, which excluded the period of lock down during Covid 19 pandemic from the timeline that has been stipulated under the statutory framework to observe "...,we cannot afford to be swayed by abstract conceptions of equity and contractual freedom of the parties to freely negotiate terms of the Resolution Plan with unfettered discretion, that are not grounded in the intent of the IBC."

54. The Supreme Court in Ebix (supra) after considering the entire provisions of the Act and the Regulations framed under it observed in paragraph 143 thus: -

"143. The statutory framework governing the CIRP seeks to create a mechanism for resolving insolvency in an efficient, comprehensive and timely manner. The IBC provides a detailed linear process for undertaking CIRP of the corporate debtor to minimise any delays, uncertainty in procedure and disputes. The roles and responsibilities of the important actors in the CIRP are clearly defined under the IBC and its regulations. In Innoventive industries Ltd versus ICICI Bank (2018) 1 SCC 407, a three-judge Bench of this Court observed that "one of the important objectives of the Code is to bring the insolvency law in India under a single unified umbrella with the object of speeding up of the insolvency process". ...Recently, in Gujarat Urja Vikas Nigam Ltd 2020 (1) SCC online 194 a three-judge bench of this court observed that a "delay in completion of the insolvency proceedings would diminish the value of the debtor's assets and hamper the prospects of a successful reorganisation or liquidation. For the success of an insolvency regime, it is necessary that insolvency proceedings are dealt with in a timely, effective and efficient manner." The stipulation of timelines and a detailed procedure under the IBC ensures a timely completion of CIRP and introduces transparency, certainty and predictability in the Insolvency Resolution process.....".

55. The Supreme Court observed further after noticing the swift amendments made to the Act and the Regulations following the Covid 19 pandemic on 20 April 2020, 5 June 2020, and on 23 September 2020, excluding delays for the purpose of adherence to the otherwise strict timeline and the IBC amendment Ordinance of 2021 promulgated with effect from 04.04.2021,that

"despite the clamour on behalf of successful Resolution Applicants who no longer wish to abide by the terms of the submitted Resolution Plans that are pending approval under Section 31, on account of the economic slowdown that impacted every business in the country, no legislative relief for enabling withdrawals or renegotiation as has been provided, in the last 18 months. In the absence of any provision under the IBC allowing for return of the Resolution Plan while a successful Resolution Applicant, vesting the Resolution Applicant with such a relief through a process of judicial interpretation would be impermissible. Such a judicial exercise would bring in the evils which the IBC sort to obviate through the back door.."

56. Having heard the learned counsel for the parties this Court has carefully gone through the order impugned and finds that, the learned counsel for the respondent in support of his case for consideration of its counter claim simultaneously with the petitioner's claim had submitted that it had filed its defence and counterclaim before the Learned Tribunal under Section 23 (2-A) of the Act of 1996. The moratorium under Section 14 of the I&B Code would have affect only up to the time of completion of the Corporate Insolvency Resolution Process (hereinafter referred to as the "CIRP"), relying upon judgement rendered by the NCLAT in Jharkhand Bijli Vitaran Nigam Ltd versus IVRCL Ltd (corporate debtor) 2018 SCC online NCLAT 891; and by the Delhi High Court in Power Grid Corporation of India Limited versus Jyoti Structures Ltd (2017 SCC online Delhi 1289) and SSMP Industries Ltd versus Perkan Food Processors (Private) Limited (2019 SCC online Delhi 9339). It was submitted by the learned counsel for the respondent that the arbitration proceedings had not yet reached a stage which can be said to be in violation of Section 14 (1) a of the I&B Code. Such a stage would only arise only after the determination of dispute and adjudication of the claim as well as the counterclaim and on occasion of passing of an Award to the extent that would lead to execution proceedings and recovery action against the assets of the corporate debtor.

57. The learned counsel for the claimant had argued that since no counterclaim was filed during the period when the IRP had asked for such claims to be filed before it through public notice, no such claim could be filed before any other authority including the Tribunal. The IRP had issued a public notice that he had to collect all claims submitted by all creditors. If the respondent had any claim it should have submitted the same to the IRP. The IRP on collation of all claims was required to constitute a Committee of Creditors under Section 21 of the I&B Code. Such time having lapsed, it was not open for the respondent to file a counterclaim and for the Learned Tribunal to adjudicate upon it as the Resolution Plan has already been approved by the Committee of Creditors and submitted before the adjudicating authority for its orders.

58. The learned counsel for the respondent had argued that in reply to the claimant's demand of more than 45 crores of rupees not only the defence of the respondent but also its counterclaim of more than 144 crores rupees was permissible under the Scheme of Section 23 of the Act of 1996, it has to be taken on record and it has to be adjudicated upon and it cannot be rejected. The learned counsel for the respondent relied upon observations made by the National Company Law Appellate Tribunal in Jharkhand Bijli Vitaran Nigam Limited (supra) that the claim of the corporate debtor can be determined only after determination of counter claim made by the appellant in the very same arbitral proceedings and if the counterclaim or a part of it is set off with the claim made by the corporate debtor, both the claim and counterclaim of the parties should be heard together by the Arbitral Tribunal in the absence of any bar under the I&B Code. However, if on determination of such counterclaim it is found that corporate debtor is liable to pay certain amount, in such a case no recovery can be made during the period of moratorium.

59. The learned counsel for the petitioner had argued before the Tribunal that (i) connected arbitration proceeding pending before another sole Arbitrator a preliminary objection has been raised by the respondent itself that such arbitration cannot proceed in view of the provisions under Section 9 read with Section 14 of the I&B Code. Such a finding was also recorded by the sole Arbitrator on 25.03.2021 in such other proceedings. (ii)Section 238 of the I&B Code had an overriding effect over all laws that are inconsistent with its provisions. (iii) In Jharkhand Bijli Vitaran Nigam Limited the parties had consented for the adjudication of the counterclaim before the sole Arbitrator. In PGCIL (supra), a petition was filed under Section 34 of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act 1996 challenging the Award passed in favour of the corporate debtor who was under CIRP but PGCIL (supra) is no longer good law in the light of observations made by the Supreme Court in P Mohan Raj and others versus Shah Brothers Ispat Private Limited, 2021 (6) SCC 258, decided by a three-judge bench of the Supreme Court. Similarly, judgement rendered in SSMP Industries (supra) by the Delhi High Court had placed reliance upon PGCIL (supra) which has been held to be no longer good law by three-judge decision of the Supreme Court in P Mohan Raj (supra). (iv) the maximum period of 330 days as given in Section 12 of the I&B Code 2016 has been read down and treated as not mandatory by the Supreme Court in Committee of Creditors of Essar Steel Ltd versus Satish Kumar Gupta and others 2020 (8) SCC 531 where the Supreme Court observed that the provision would otherwise remain intact except the word "mandatorily" used under Section 12 as it would be manifestly arbitrary under Article 14 of the Constitution, being an excessive and unreasonable restriction on the litigants right to carry on business under Article 19 (1)g of the Constitution.

60. After considering the arguments raised by the counsel for the parties the Learned Tribunal considered whether a counterclaim can be rejected as prayed by the claimant in the circumstances of the case. It dealt with Section 23 of the Act of 1996 which provides for Statement of Claim and for Statement of defence by the respondents. It quoted Section 23 in its entirety and then found that under Section 23 (2-A), added by way of Amendment in the Act, the respondent in support of his case, may also submit a counterclaim or plead a setoff which shall be adjudicated upon by the Arbitral Tribunal. Such counterclaim or setoff falls within the scope of the arbitration agreement. The learned Tribunal came to the conclusion that the Section itself provides that first of all the claimant shall file a claim. Thereafter the respondent shall file his defence. After Section 23(2-A) being added with effect from 23.10.2015 the respondent in support of his case may also submit a counterclaim which has to be also adjudicated upon by the Tribunal. It held therefore that the language of Section 23 (2-A) of the Act made it clear that both claim and counterclaim should be decided together by the Arbitral Tribunal. It also observed that in a proceeding before the Arbitral Tribunal, if the respondent wants to file a counterclaim it can only file the same before the Arbitral Tribunal along with his defence of a claim. It held that the respondent had a right to move a counterclaim. It also held that the Arbitral Tribunal had a duty to adjudicate the same along with the claim.

61. The learned Tribunal thereafter looked into the I&B Code and the language of Section 14 which provides for a moratorium. It quoted the entire Section 14 and held that from the language of Section 14 (1) (a), it was clear that on the date of commencement of the CIRP, the NCLT could impose a moratorium prohibiting the institution of a suit or continuation of a pending suit or proceeding against the corporate debtor including execution of any judgement, decree or order in any court of law, Tribunal, Arbitral Panel or other Authority. It referred to the observations made by the High Court of Delhi in Power Grid Corporation of India Ltd (supra) and its interpretation of sub-clause (a) of sub-section (1) of Section 14 of the I&B Code which intended to prohibit debt recovery actions against the assets of the corporate debtor and that "Proceedings" did not mean all proceedings. Continuation of proceedings which do not result in adversely affecting the assets of the corporate debtor are not prohibited under Section 14(1)(a) of the I&B Code. The term "including" is clarificatory of the scope and ambit of the term "proceedings". The term "proceedings" would be restricted to the nature of action that follows it, i.e., recovery action against the assets of the corporate debtor. The use of the narrower phrase "against the corporate debtor" used in Section 33(5) of the I&B Code further makes it evident that Section 14 (1) (a) is intended to have restricted meaning and applicability. The Arbitration Act draws a distinction between proceedings under Section 34 (i.e. objections to the Award,) and under Section 36 (i.e. the enforceability and Execution of the Award). The "proceedings" refers to steps take under Section 34 are a step prior to the execution of an Award. Only after determination of objections under Section 34, the party may move a step forward to executing such Award and in case the objections are settled against the corporate debtor, then its enforceability against the corporate debtor certainly shall be covered by the moratorium of Section 14(1) (a). The Learned Tribunal thereafter observed that it is clear from a perusal of the observations made by the Delhi High Court that until and unless the effect of continuation of proceedings results in endangering, dissipating or adversely affecting the assets of the corporate debtor, it would not be prohibited under Section 14 (1) (a) of the I&B Code 2016. In the case of Jharkhand Bijli Vitaran Nigam Ltd (supra) the NCLAT had also observed that unless and until the counterclaim is itself determined, the claim could not be determined and, hence both deserved to be heard and disposed off together.

62. The learned Tribunal in the order impugned has gone on to observe that in the case of SSMP industries Ltd (supra) the Delhi High Court observed in paragraphs 8 and 9 that not only the plaint/claim but also the written statement/counterclaim have to be considered as a whole in order to determine as to whether the suit or the counterclaim would be liable to be decreed. A counterclaim would be in the nature of a suit against the plaintiff which was the corporate debtor. The Tribunal also observed that strictly speaking thus under Section 14 (1) (a) of the Code a counterclaim would be covered by the moratorium which prohibits the institution of suit or continuation of pending suits or proceedings against the corporate debtor, and counterclaim would be a proceeding against the corporate debtor, however, the counterclaim raised against the corporate debtor is integral to the recovery sought by the Corporate Debtor and is related to the same transaction. Section 14 has created a piquant situation i.e. the corporate debtor undergoing Insolvency proceedings can continue to pursue its claim but the counterclaim would be barred under Section 14 (1)(a). When such situations arise, the Court has to see whether the purpose and intent behind the imposition of the moratorium is being satisfied or defeated. A blinkered approach cannot be followed and the Court cannot blindly stay the counterclaim and refer the defendant to the NCLT/Resolution Professional for filing its claims. The nature of a counterclaim is such that it requires proper pleadings to be filed, defences and stands of both the parties to be considered, evidence to be recorded, then issues have to be adjudicated. The proceedings before the NCLT are summary in nature and the Resolution Professional does not conduct a trial. The Resolution Professional really determines what payment can be made towards the claims raised, subject to the availability of funds. The NCLT/RP cannot be burdened with the task of entertaining claims of the defendant which are completely uncertain, undetermined and unknown. Moreover, the question as to whether the defendant is in fact entitled to any amount if determined by the NCLT prior to the adjudication of the plaintiff's claim for recovery, would result in the possibility of conflicting views in respect of the same transaction. The Learned Tribunal thereafter observed that the petitioner's claim as well as the respondent's counterclaim should be adjudicated comprehensively by the same forum. At the point of such determination, i.e. , till such defence is adjudicated, there is no threat to the assets of the corporate debtor. When the counterclaim is adjudicated and the amount to be paid/recovered is determined, at that stage or in an execution proceeding, Section 14 could be triggered. Till such adjudication of claim and counterclaim is carried out by the appropriate forum i.e. the Arbitral Tribunal, Section 14 would not come into play.

63. The Learned Tribunal rejected the argument raised by the learned counsel for the claimant that after the judgement in PGCIL (supra) which was also relied upon in SSMP Industries Ltd (supra) was set aside by the Supreme Court in the case of P. Mohan Raj (supra), the Learned Tribunal cannot place reliance upon it. It was observed by the Learned Tribunal that the Delhi High Court in SSMP Industries had only referred to the PGCIL case and the High Court had not based its findings totally upon it. The High Court of Delhi decided the SSMP case on a totally different reasoning. Though it observed that strictly speaking from the language of Section 14 (1)(a) of the I&B Code it appears that the counterclaim which is in the nature of a suit, cannot be considered during the operation of the moratorium, but it also observed that the claim and counterclaim are interlinked with with each other and relate to the same transaction hence they need it to be decided together. It cannot be said that the claim alone should be continued to be determined but the counterclaim would be barred. Just as a claim required proper pleadings and evidence in support of its case, in the same way a counterclaim also required proper pleadings and evidence in support of the case. Points of determination have to be decided after all evidence is led. The NCLT in summary proceedings, or the Interim Resolution Professional, are not capable of conducting a trial.

64. The Learned Tribunal also observed that mere consideration of claim and counterclaim and adjudicating the facts as claimed there in, would not violate the moratorium. It is only after determination of counterclaim when the amount is determined or the execution proceedings are initiated, the provisions of Section 14 of the I&B Code 2016 would come into play.

65. It was also observed by the Tribunal that under sub-section (4) of Section 14 the order of moratorium does not continue indefinitely but has effect only from the date of order initiating CIRP till completion of the said process which in turn is time bound. It was quite clear that the Resolution and plan had been submitted by the IRP before the Adjudicating Authority on 11.06.2021 and the proceedings before the NCLT Delhi were in the final stages. It may be possible that by now the proceedings before the Adjudicating Authority must have come to an end.

66. The learned counsel for the petitioner has placed reliance upon judgement rendered in Surendra Kumar Singhal and others versus Arun Kumar Bhalotia and others, rendered by the Delhi High Court on 25.03.2021.

The Delhi High Court in paragraph 24 of its judgement in Surendra Kumar Singhal (supra) thereafter observed - -

"A perusal of the above mentioned decisions, shows that the following principles are well settled, in respect of the scope of interference under Article 226/227 in challenge to orders by an Arbitral Tribunal including orders passed under Section 16 of the Act.

i) An Arbitral Tribunal is a Tribunal against which a petition under Article 226/227 would be maintainable;

ii) the non-obstante clause in Section 5 of the Act does not apply in respect of exercise of powers under Article 227 which is a constitutional provision;

iii) for interference under Article 226/227, there have to be exceptional circumstances;

iv) though interference is permissible, unless and until the order is so perverse that it is patently lacking in inherent jurisdiction,the writ court would not interfere;

v) interference is permissible only if the order is completely perverse,that is, that the perversity must stare in the face;

vi) High Court ought to discourage litigation which necessarily interferes with the arbitral process;

vii) excessive judicial interference in arbitral process is not encouraged; viii) It is prudent not to exercise jurisdiction under Article 226/227;

ix) the power should be exercised in exceptional rarity or if there is bad faith which is shown;

x) efficiency of arbitral process ought not to be allowed to diminish and hence interdicting the arbitral process should be completely avoided."

67. The learned counsel for the petitioner on the basis of these observations of the Delhi High Court has tried to convince this Court that since the learned Tribunal's order is perverse as the Tribunal is patently lacking the jurisdiction in the light of Section 14 (i) (a) of the I& B Code, this Court should interfere in the order impugned the direct the Tribunal only to consider the claim of the petitioners during the pendency of the CIRP and the moratorium and ignore the counterclaim submitted by the respondent.

68. However, this Court finds that in Surendra Kumar Singhal (supra), the Delhi High Court relied upon Punjab State Power Corporation Limited versus Emta Coal Ltd and another, (SLP decided on 18.09.2020) where after referring to the observations made in the Deep Industries' case, the Supreme Court had observed - -

"we are of the view that a foray to the writ court from a Section 16 application being dismissed by the Arbitrator can only be if the order passed is so perverse that the only possible conclusion is that there is a patent lack of inherent jurisdiction. Here patent lack of inherent jurisdiction requires no argument whatsoever - it must be the perversity of an order that must stare one in the face. Unfortunately, parties are using this expression mentioned in our judgement in Deep Industries Ltd to go to the 227 Court in matters which do not suffer from a patent lack of inherent jurisdiction. This is one of them. Instead of dismissing the writ petition on the grounds stated, the High Court would have done well to have referred to our judgement in Deep Industries and dismissed the 227 petition on the ground that there is no such perversity in the order which leads to a patent lack of inherent jurisdiction. The High Court ought to have discouraged similar litigation by imposing heavy costs .....We dismiss this Special Leave Petition with costs of Rs.50,000/- to be paid to the Supreme Court Legal Services committee within two weeks".

69. The learned counsel for the petitioner has also argued that the learned Tribunal has relied upon Delhi High Court Judgments in PGCIL (supra) and SSMP Industries (supra) which have not been found to be good law by the Supreme Court in its judgment in P. Mohan Raj (supra).

This Court shall now consider the case of Power Grid Corporation of India Limited Versus Jyoti Structures 2017 SCC Online Del 12729. A coordinate bench of the Delhi High Court was considering the question regarding whether proceedings under Section 34 of the Act could be allowed to be continued by the corporate debtor. The Court considered the argument that if the proceedings are stayed the respondent would be unable to execute the Award given in its favour for an extended period till the moratorium exists and it shall be unable to recover its dues thereby further impeding its financial condition. It was in this context the Court interpreted the word "proceedings" used in Section 14 (1) a of the Code restrictively to mean only a particular type of legal proceedings for example Debt recovery action which may have an effect of dissipating or diminishing the debtors assets during the period of its insolvency resolution. It observed that the object of the Code is to provide relief to the corporate debtor through a standstill period during which its assets are protected from dissipation and during which it can strengthen its financial position. The meaning and purpose of subclause (a) of Section 14 (1) of the I&B Code has to be considered along with and in the context of subclause (b),and (c) and (d) of Section 14 (1) of the I&B Code also. All these are clauses related to encumbering, relating to recovery from any assets,security interest, or property of the corporate debtor. It held that Section 14 of the I&B Code would not apply to proceedings which are in the benefit of the corporate debtor as the conclusion of such proceedings would not endanger, diminish, dissipate or impact the assets of the corporate debtor in any manner whatsoever. The important question that the Court needs to consider is the nature of the proceedings i.e. whether it is in favour or against the corporate debtor. Proceedings against an Award in favour of the corporate debtor would be like stalling the Corporate debtor's efforts to recover its money and hence would not fall within the embargo of Section 14 (1) a of the I&B

Code. If a counterclaim is allowed then section 14 (1) (a) of the Code would immediately come into play and the decree would not be Executable against the corporate debtor.

70. The Delhi High Court considered the order of the National Company Law Appellate Tribunal in Jharkhand Bijli Vitaran Nigam Ltd. Versus IVRCL Ltd and Another (Company Appeal (Insolvency) 285/2018 decided on 3 August 2018). It also considered the judgement of the coordinate bench of the Delhi High Court in Power Grid Corporation of India Versus Jyoti Structures Ltd. Manu/DE/5162/2017. It thereafter observed that the claim of the plaintiff was much higher than that of the defendant but both the claim and counterclaim arose out of the same transaction between the parties, and would require to be adjudicated on the basis of evidence being placed on the Court's record. The Court would have to first determine the question as to whether any amount at all was due to the plaintiff. It observed that the plaintiff's claim being higher, even if the counterclaim is decreed fully and the claim of the plaintiff is also allowed, the plaintiff would in fact be entitled to recover and not the defendant. The possible outcome of the suit and a counterclaim was not something that could be predicted before actual adjudication. It was clear that the plaint and the counterclaim were interlinked with each other. It went on to observe that in Power Grid Corpn, a Coordinate Bench had held that not all proceedings are barred under Section 14 (1) a of the Code. Only such proceedings are barred which would result in endangering, diminishing, dissipating or adversely impacting the assets of the corporate debtor. As such, the adjudication of the claim and the counterclaim together was not barred till such time that an Award is made in favour of the defendant and debt recovery action against the assets of the corporate debtor is initiated. As such, proceeding under Section 34 which was meant for determination of objections against the Award could continue and in case the objections are settled against the corporate debtor the enforceability of the Award against the corporate debtor would then certainly be covered by the moratorium of Section 14 (1) a.

71. Similarly in Jharkhand Bijli Vitran Nigam Limited, the NCLAT had held that until and unless the counterclaim is itself determined, the claim and the counterclaim deserve to be heard together and there is no bar to the same being adjudicated in the Court.

The Delhi High Court referred with approval the observations made by the NCLAT that as the claim of the corporate debtor can be determined only after determination of counterclaim in the very same arbitral proceedings, and if the counterclaim or a part of it is set off with the claim made by the corporate debtor, then alone question would arise as to whether the corporate debtor was liable to pay certain amount. Indeed no recovery can be made during the period of moratorium. After considering the arguments made by the learned counsel for the plaintiff and the defendant the Court took a pragmatic view of the matter and observed that the plaint and the written statement/counterclaim had to be adjudicated together and to be considered as a whole in order to determine as to whether the suit or the counterclaim would be liable to be decreed. Strictly speaking, even though a counterclaim would be a "proceeding" against the corporate debtor, it had to be considered in view of the recovery sought by the plaintiff as it related to the same transaction. If the court holds that Section 14 only allowed institution of claim by the corporate debtor and did not allow institution of Suit/ Counterclaim by the defendant, it would result in a very iniquitous situation. The counterclaim had to be considered and a blinkered approach could not be followed by the Court and the Court could not blindly stay a counterclaim and refer the defendant to NCLT/RP for filing its claims. The Delhi High Court also observed in paragraph 9 that the nature of the counterclaim is such that it required proper pleading to be filed and the defences and stance of both the parties had to be considered, evidence had to be recorded and then issues had to be adjudicated. It observed that the proceedings before the NCLT are summary in nature and the Resolution Professional also does not conduct trial. The Resolution Professional merely determines what payment can be made towards the claims raised subject to availability of funds. The NCLT/Resolution Professional cannot be burdened with the task of entertaining claims of the defendant which are completely uncertain, undetermined and unknown. The Court was of the opinion that the plaintiff and the defendant"s claim ought to be adjudicated comprehensively by the same forum. Till such time that the defences are adjudicated there is no threat to the assets of the corporate debtor and the continuation of the counterclaim would not adversely impact the assets of the corporate debtor. Only when an Award is made execution proceedings, depending upon the situation prevalent, would be stayed during the pendency of the Section 14 moratorium.

72. In SSMP Industries Ltd. Versus Purple Food Processors Private Limited MANU/DE/ 2362/2019, The Delhi High Court was considering the question as to whether a counterclaim can be considered by it when a moratorium is in operation under Section 14 of the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code 2016. The plaintiff company had filed the suit for recovery of Rs.1,61,47,336. The defendant filed its written statement/counterclaim in which it averred that no amount was due and payable by it to the plaintiff and in fact it was entitled to recover Rs.59,51,548 from the plaintiff. The plaintiff company had since gone into insolvency and a Resolution Professional had been appointed. The question that arose was whether the adjudication of the counterclaim would be liable to be stayed in view of Section 14 of the I&B Code. The learned counsel had argued that the plaintiffs' claim and that of the defendant was intertwined and interlinked. It was not an independent claim by the defendant but had to be adjudicated in the light of the claims made by the plaintiff in the suit. Since the claim itself had not yet been adjudicated it was not even clear whether any amount would be recoverable by the plaintiff, hence the suit and the counterclaim ought to be adjudicated together instead of the defendant being forced to approach the Resolution Professional for recovery of its claims.

73. In P Mohan Raj and others versus Shah Brothers Ispat Private Limited, AIR 2021 Supreme Court 1308, a three judges bench of the Supreme Court was considering whether criminal complaints filed by the respondent against the Company and the appellants under Section 138 read with Section 141 of the Negotiable Instruments Act could be allowed to continue during the moratorium period. The NCLAT had held that Section 138, being a criminal law provision, cannot be held to be a "proceeding" within the meaning of Section 14 of the IBC. The Supreme Court observed that Section 138 proceedings although a criminal proceeding is in essence initiated only to recover an amount of the bounced cheque against the assets of the Company, and would therefore be included in the term "proceedings" against the corporate debtor. So long as there is a judgement by any court of law which results in coercive steps being taken against the assets of the corporate debtor, all such "proceedings" are necessarily subsumed within the meaning of Section 14(1)(a). It observed in paragraph 10 that the language of Section 14 (1) makes it clear that subject to the exceptions contained in Sub-section (2) and (3), on the insolvency commencement date, the Adjudicating Authority shall mandatorily, by order, declare a moratorium to prohibit what follows in clauses (a) to (d). Importantly, under 14(4) this order of moratorium does not continue indefinitely, but has effect only from the date of the order declaring moratorium till the completion of the Corporate Insolvency Resolution Process, which is time bound, either culminating in the order of the Adjudicating authority approving a Resolution Plan or in liquidation.

74. The Court observed in paragraph 53 of P. Mohan Raj (supra) that after going through all the judgements that were cited by both the sides it was evident that a proceeding under Section 138, though cast in language making "the act complained of an offence, is really in order to get back through a summary proceeding, the amount contained in the dishonoured cheque together with interest and costs, expeditiously and cheaply. It is the victim alone who can file the complaint which ordinarily culminates in the payment of fine as compensation which may extend to twice the amount of the cheque which would include the amount of the cheque and interest and costs there upon.'

It's thereafter observed -

"given our analysis of Chapter 17 of the Negotiable Instruments Act together with the amendments made thereto and the case laws cited hereinabove, it is clear that it was a criminal proceeding that is contained in Chapter 17 of the Negotiable Instruments Act would, given the object and context of Section 14 of the I&B Code, amount to a proceeding within the meaning of Section 14 (1)(a), the moratorium therefore attracting to such proceedings".

75. After referring to various sections of the I&B Code which were also in the nature of a moratorium on various actions being brought against corporate debtor and negating in the arguments made by the counsel appearing on behalf of the Respondent which had initiated action against the appellant for dishonouring of more than 50 cheques due to insufficient funds under Section 138 of the Negotiable Instruments Act, on most of the case laws cited by him, the Supreme Court also referred to the argument raised by Shri Mehta (ASGI) on the basis of PGCIL versus Jyoti Structures as aforesaid where the Delhi High Court had held that a Section 34 application to set aside an Award under the Act of 1996 would not be covered by Section 14 of the I&BC, the Supreme Court observed that the said-

"...judgement does not state the law correctly as it is clear that a Section 34 proceeding is certainly a proceeding against the corporate debtor which may result in an Arbitral Award against the corporate debtor being upheld, as a result of which, monies would then be payable by the corporate debtor. Section 34 proceeding is a proceeding against the corporate debtor in a court of law pertaining to a challenge to an Arbitral Award and would be covered just as an appellate proceeding in a decree from a suit would be covered. This judgement does not, therefore, state the law correctly..."

76. It is evident from the careful consideration of the entire judgement rendered in P Mohan Raj (supra) that the observations made by the Supreme Court were in the context of the facts of the case where it had been argued before it by the respondents that criminal proceedings as well as quasi-criminal proceedings can go on against the corporate debtor or its directors as they do not strictly fall within the definition of proceeding under Section 14 (1) of the Act. The court held that a Section 138/141 proceedings under the Negotiable Instruments Act is against the corporate debtor is covered by Section 14 (1)(a) of the I&B Code. It however clarified that in the case before it such proceedings under the Negotiable Instruments Act could continue against the company as well as the Appellants for the reason that the Insolvency Resolution Process did not involve a new management taking over and the moratorium period had come to an end.

77. This Court having considered all the judgements cited by learned counsel for the parties and also the impugned order of the Tribunal finds that Article 227 of the Constitution of India, the supervisory role assigned to this Court is extremely limited. The Supreme Court has repeatedly emphasised in its judgements the importance of keeping handsoff approach where arbitration matters are concerned. This Court finds that the learned Tribunal has decided an application made to it by the petitioner and the orders squarely falls under the provisions of Section 16 of the Act of 1966. Therefore, it cannot be said to be an order patently lacking in jurisdiction and therefore perverse and liable to be interfered with by this Court under Article 227 of the Constitution.

78. This petition is dismissed as not maintainable.

79. No order as to Costs.

(2022) 9 ILRA 826
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 01.09.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE MRS. SANGEETA CHANDRA, J.

Matters Under Article 227 No. 24693 of 2020

M/S Zapdor-Ubc-Abnjv Delhi ...Petitioner

Versus

U.O.I. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Anil Srivastava, Divyam Krishna, Utkarsh Srivastava

Counsel for the Respondents:
Mrs. Suniti Sachan, Brijesh Kumar Shukla, Pratyush Chaube

Civil Law- Constitution of India,1952- Article 227- The Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996- Section 34 - Petitioners Application for Return of Arbitration Application filed under Section 34 by the Railways against Award of the Arbitral Tribunal- Petition under Article 227 of the Constitution is maintainable against the order rejecting an application for return of Application under Section 34 of the Act of 1996-Conduct of the parties which is very relevant for a decision to be taken - Instead of any written agreement or conditions in the Contract or even in the correspondence between the parties, specifying the seat of arbitration, the Railways agreed to participate in the arbitration proceedings at New Delhi without any protest. The Railways hence can be said to have waived their right to object and by their conduct determined the venue of arbitration at New Delhi to be also the seat of the arbitration proceedings-Failure to specifically mention a Seat of Arbitration and participation in Arbitration proceedings at New Delhi by the Railways without any protest shall be considered as determination of the Venue of arbitration as also the Seat, giving exclusive jurisdiction to the Courts at New Delhi to supervise the Arbitral proceedings including any attack on the Award-The Commercial Court at Lucknow has entertained the Section 34 Application without jurisdiction. Such inherent lack of jurisdiction makes the proceedings before it also liable to be set aside.

It is the conduct of the parties to the arbitration that is relevant for determining the venue as well as the seat of arbitration and where one of the parties waives off its right to object and protest and participates in the arbitration proceedings then the place (New Delhi) where such arbitration takes place shall be determined as the venue and seat of arbitration hence, order passed by the Lucknow Commercial Court will be without jurisdiction , therefore petition under Article 227 shall be maintainable. (30, 95, 97, 98)

Petition Allowed. (E-3)

Case Law/Judgements relied upon:-

1. Bhartiya Alluminium Co. Ltd. Vs Kaiser Aluminium Technical Services 2012 (9) SCC 552

2. BGS SGS Soma JV Vs NHPC Ltd. 2004 (4) SCC 234

3. QUIPPO Construction Equipment Ltd. Vs Janardan Nirman Pvt. Ltd. (2020) SCC online SC 419

4. Om Prakash & ors. Vs Vijay Dwarka Dass Verma 2020 SCC online Bom. 796

5. L&T Finance Vs Manoj Pathak (2020) SCC online Bom. 177

6. TNGQ Projects Ltd. Vs Balaji Projects (2021) SCC Online Madras 409

7. Chief Postmaster General & ors. Vs Living Media India Ltd. 2012 (3) SCC 563

8. Mankastu Impex Pvt. Ltd. Vs Air Visual Ltd. 2020 (5) SCC 399

9. Hasmukh Prajapati Vs Jai Prakash Associates Ltd. Matter under Article 227 of the Constitution No. 6890 of 2021

10. Inox Renewables Ltd. Vs Jayesh Electricals Ltd 2021 SCC Online SC 448

11. United Bank of India Vs Naresh Kumar & ors. 1996 (6) SCC 660

12. Reliance Industries Ltd. Vs U.O.I 2014 (7) SCC 603

13. Indus Mobile Distribution (Pvt) Ltd. Vs DataWind Innovation (Pvt) Ltd. 2017 (7) SCC 678.

14. Fuerst Day Lawson Ltd. Vs Jindal Exports Ltd. 2011 (8) SCC 333

15. U.O.I Vs McDonnell Douglas Corp. 1993 (2) Lloyd's Report 48

16. U.O.I Vs Hardy Exploration and Production (India) Inc 2019 (13) SCC 472

17. ManKastu Impex Pvt. Ltd. Vs Air Visual Ltd 2020 (5) SCC 399

18. Quippo Construction Equipment Ltd. Vs Janardan Nirman Pvt. Ltd. 2020 SCC Online SC 419

19. Ravi Ranjan Developers Pvt. Ltd. versus Aditya Kumar Chatterji 2022 SCConline Supreme Court 568

20. Hindustan Construction Company Ltd. Vs NHPC 2020 (4) SCC 234

21. Civil Appeal No.4130 of 2022: BBR (India) Private Limited Vs SP Singla Constructions (Private) Ltd.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Mrs. Sangeeta Chandra, J.)

1. Heard Sri Divyam Krishna and Sri Utkarsh Srivastava for the Petitioners and Sri Brajesh Kumar Shukla along with Pratyush Chaubey for the Respondents. The Petitioners have challenged the order passed by the Learned District Judge/Commercial Court, Lucknow dated 12.12.2019 rejecting the Petitioners Application for Return of Arbitration Application filled under Section 34 by the Railways against Award of the Arbitral Tribunal dated 06.03.2019, and allowing the Application for Condonation of Delay moved by the Respondents.

2. The facts as mentioned in the petition briefly are that on 30.10.2015 the Respondents floated a Tender Notice entitled "Design, Supply, Erection, Testing and Commissioning of 25 KV, 50 Hz Single Phase, Electrification works including OHE And TSS composite Electrical Works (hereinafter referred to as the Tender Paper ELCORE) The Petitioner's bid was adjudged viable and a Letter of Acceptance awarding the contract for a total value of more than Rs.30 crores 27 lakhs was issued by the Chief Electrical Engineer/P&D Central Organisation for Railway Electrification (CORE) at Allahabad 19.04.2016. An Agreement was executed on 14.7.2016 between the Petitioner and Chief Project Director Railway Electrification Lucknow, as the contract was to be operated for the composite electrification works in Jafrabad - Akbar Pur - Tanda Section under the supervision and control of Divisional Headquarters at Lucknow.

3. The contract was terminated by the Respondents because of slow progress as only 8 % of the work was completed in seven and a half months as opposed to hundred percent target for fifteen months.

4. The Petitioner invoked the Arbitration clause and Arbitral Tribunal was constituted through letter dated 01.12.2017 comprising of Three senior officers of the Railways. The entire arbitral proceedings were conducted in New Delhi at the CORE office. The Arbitral Tribunal rendered an Award of more than three crore rupees along with interest at the rate of 10% in favour of the Petitioner which was signed and delivered at New Delhi on 6 March 2019. Arbitration Application No. 925 of 2019 was filed on 30 August 2019 under Section 34 of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act 1996 (hereinafter referred to as "the 1996 Act") by the Respondents against the Arbitral Award before the Commercial Court at Lucknow along with an Application for Condonation of Delay duly supported by an affidavit. Subsequently the Petitioner preferred an Execution petition/Enforcement Application under Section 36 of the 1996 Act before the High Court at Delhi on 17.09.2019. The Petitioner filed an Application for Return of Arbitration Application on 19.11.2019. It also moved an Application containing objections to the Application for Condonation of Delay in the Section 34 Application. A Reply to both the Applications was filed by the Respondents on 04.12.2019. The Learned Commercial Court by its order dated 12.12.2019 rejected the Petitioner's Application for Return of Arbitration Application, and allowed the Application for Condonation of Delay moved by the Respondents by a composite order.

5. It is the case of the Petitioners that such order has been passed by the Commercial Court at Lucknow exercising a jurisdiction not vested in it by law, causing grave injustice to the Petitioner and no Appeal under Section 37 of the Act of 1996 lies against the impugned order so far as return of plaint (Arbitation Application) under Section 34 of the Act read with Order VII Rule 10 CPC is concerned. Hence, a petition under Article 227 of the Constitution of India has been filed before this Court. It is the case of the Petitioners that Clause 4.0 of the Letter of Acceptance dated 19.04.2016 specifically mentioned "the contract shall be governed by the terms and conditions given in the Tender Paper Number ELCORE/OHE and TSS/group 199 with ANC slip number 1".

The agreement executed between the parties after Letter of Acceptance also referred to the said Tender Paper as governing the contract. The Tender Paper ELCORE contains the subclause 1.2 .54 which provides under subclause (k) the "Venue for Arbitration shall be the place from which the Letter of Acceptance of Tender is issued or such other place as the purchaser at his discretion may determine."

6. The learned counsel for the Petitioners argued that the arbitral proceedings were held exclusively at New Delhi and the Arbitral Award was signed and delivered at New Delhi hence the Commercial Court at Lucknow lacked territorial jurisdiction to entertain the Application under Section 34 of the Act of 1996. The supervisory territorial jurisdiction for the purposes of Section 34 cannot be determined on the basis of location of cause of action. As per clause 1.2 .54 (K) the place of Arbitration can be either at Prayagraj where the Letter of Acceptance was issued or at New Delhi where the Arbitration was actually held and Award delivered. In so far as Section 34 of the Act of 1996 is concerned no part of cause of action arose within the territorial jurisdiction of the Commercial Court at Lucknow. The Learned Commercial Court has relied upon General Conditions of Contract and Clause 64 (i) (iii) (d) which provides- "The place of Arbitration "would be within the geographical limits of the Division of the Railway where the cause of action arose, or the headquarters of the concerned, or any other place with the written consent of both the parties."

7. It has been argued that the Learned Commercial Court has erroneously interpreted paragraph 96 of the judgement rendered by the Constitution Bench in Bhartiya Alluminium Company Ltd. vs Kaiser Aluminium Technical Services 2012 (9) SCC 552; to say that supervisory territorial jurisdiction for the purpose of Section 34 accrues to Courts situated both at the place of Arbitration, as well as where the cause of action has occurred. In other words, the jurisdiction is concurrent and not exclusively restricted to those courts located in place of Arbitration agreed to by the parties. Such an interpretation of paragraph 96 of BALCO (supra) is against a long line of judgements rendered by the Supreme Court and by various High Courts interpreting paragraph 96 to hold that supervisory jurisdiction under Section 34 is not concurrent and must be restricted to Courts in the location selected by the parties as place of Arbitration exclusively, irrespective of where the cause of action arose.

8. The Learned counsel for the Petitioner has placed reliance upon paragraphs 20, 45, 54, 57, 58, 82, 97 and 98 of the judgement rendered by the Supreme Court in BGS SGS Soma JV versus NHPC Ltd, 2004 (4) SCC 234; and has also placed reliance upon paragraph 19, 22 and 31 of judgement rendered by the Supreme Court in QUIPPO Construction Equipment Ltd versus Janardan Nirman Private Limited (2020) SCC online SC 419; and Om Prakash and others versus Vijay Dwarka Dass Verma 2020 SCC online Bombay 796, L&T Finance Vs. Manoj Pathak (2020) SCC online Bombay 177 and TNGQ Projects Ltd. Vs. Balaji Projects (2021) SCC Online Madras 409.

9. It has been argued by the learned counsel for the Petitioner that the clauses of contract are determinative of the seat of Arbitration. The seat of Arbitration alone would be important for determination of the place where Section 34 Application would lie. He has also argued that where the clauses of contract leave it open for the parties to choose, and the contract did not specifically mention some place, even then the conduct of the parties would determine the seat of Arbitration. It has been argued that the parties when they entered into the contract had referred to two clauses, the first clause in the Tender Document itself i.e. clause 1.2 .54 (K) related to the Venue of Arbitration being either at Allahabad or at a place determined by the purchaser, and the second clause ie, clause number 64.1.(iii)(d) which refers to 3 possibilities, the last one being determined by a written agreement between the parties. Since there was no written agreement between the parties, then the conduct of the parties would be relevant for a determination of the seat of Arbitration.

10. It has been argued for the petitioners that the judgement rendered by the Constitution Bench in BALCO having been interpreted by subsequent Benches of the Supreme Court later on, it was not open to the Learned Commercial Court to give its own interpretation to paragraph 96 thereof. Also ,the Tender Paper ELCORE clearly mentioned the parties intention to exclude any clause which is similar or identical to clause 64 (i)(iii)(d) of the General Conditions of Contract which has been relied upon by the Learned Commercial Court in holding that cause of action arose both at New Delhi and at Lucknow. Even if a part of cause of action did arise in Lucknow due to the execution of the project at Lucknow, that in itself is legally insufficient to confer upon the Learned Commercial Court at Lucknow any supervisory jurisdiction under Section 34 of the Act of 1996.

11. The learned counsel for the Petitioner has also drawn attention of this Court to the affidavit filed along with the Application for Condonation of Delay by the Respondents wherein the delay in approaching the Learned Commercial Court under Section 34 of the Act of 1996 has been explained as time having been taken in "collecting documents and completing the formalities". It has been argued that government departments cannot take the defence of bureaucratic setup in their offices to get delay condoned. The Petitioner had relied upon judgement rendered by the Supreme Court in the case of Chief Postmaster General and others versus Living Media India Ltd 2012 (3) SCC 563, but such argument has been arbitrarily rejected by the Commercial Court on the ground that in the case relied on by the Petitioner the delay was more than 427 days but in the case of the Respondents they had approached the Commercial Court with the delay of 26 days only.

12. Sri Brajesh Kumar Shukla appearing for the Respondents has raised a preliminary objection as to the maintainability of the petition filed on behalf of a Joint Venture by the Director of only one of the companies constituting it. It has been argued that the Deponent of the affidavit filed in support of the petition is one Mr Amresh Anand, who is the Director of only one of the companies which forms part of the Joint Venture. He has not been authorised by other members of the Joint-Venture for filing any petition before the High Court. He was authorised only to deal with matters relating to the bid offer and the completion of proceedings of tender and correspondence related thereto. The learned counsel for the Respondent has argued that Amresh Anand may have had the competence to have entered into contract as per the Authority letter given to him by all the partners of the Joint Venture, but this Authority ended with the signing of the Contract and was limited to the same only. There is no separate Authority Letter issued to Amresh Anand by the other two partners of the Joint Venture to file this Petition on their behalf. Mr Amresh Anand may be authorised only to sign the Application and to negotiate with the Railways for the contract but he could not file the petition on behalf of the other two partners of the Joint-Venture.

13. The learned counsel for the Respondent has also argued that this petition is not maintainable under Article 227 of the Constitution as the learned Commercial Court has passed an order under the provisions of Section 34 of the Act of 1996 against which remedy of appeal under Section 37 of the Act is available in case the order of admission of Application under Section 34 of the Act is treated to be of such nature as to give finality to the the rights of the parties under litigation. The Act of 1996 is a special act and a complete code in itself and no petition under Article 227 of the Constitution is maintainable against interlocutory orders.

14. With regard to the delay in approaching the Commercial Court the learned counsel for the Respondent has placed reliance upon Sub-Section (3) of Section 34 and the proviso thereof, which is that an Application may be filed even after three months from the date of receipt of the Award but within 30 days thereafter, subject to satisfaction of the Court regarding the reason for delay. The Award was received by Speed Post on 03.05.2019 and the Application under the Section 34 should have been filed ideally within three months that is latest by 03.08.2019, however, due to delay in collecting of documents and completing necessary formalities it could only be filed on 28th of August, causing a delay of 26 days in approaching the Commercial Court. The learned Commercial Court has considered the delay and also the judgement rendered by the Supreme Court in the case of Chief Post Master General (supra) and found that it was not a case of huge delay but only a case of slight delay which could be condoned looking into the facts and circumstances of the case.

15. On the merits of the case, Sri Pratiyush Chaube for the Respondents has pointed out from various clauses of the Agreement (a complete copy of which has been filed along with the Supplementary Affidavit) that in this case the purchaser is the President of India and he alone has been empowered to determine the seat of Arbitration. He has determined the seat of Arbitration at the place where the Headquarter of the Division of Railways is situated which has to supervise the work. The Learned counsel for the Respondent has referred to Tender Paper ELCORE and Clause 17 of the Preamble which says that the "Indian Railways Standard General Conditions of Contract- July 2014" with addendum and corrigendum slips issued by the Railway Board" shall be applicable to the contract which may be obtained by the tenderer /contractor on payment from the Divisional Railway Manager's Office of the concerned Railway. In case of any difference between the provisions of General Conditions of Contract and any conditions contained in the tender documents, the provisions of General Conditions of Contract will prevail.

16. The learned counsel for the Respondent has also referred to Chapter 2 of the Tender Paper ELCORE Which contains the conditions of contract. It specifies that conditions of contract shall be governed not only by the Preamble to the Tender Paper, but also the instructions to tenderers and conditions of tendering as included in Part I of Chapter I and Conditions of Contract as included in Chapter II and also other specifications and conditions contained in following Chapters of the Tender Paper ELCORE.

The Learned counsel for the Respondent has referred to paragraph 1.2.54 (k) which provides that the Venue for Arbitration shall be the place from which the Letter of Acceptance of Tender is issued, or such other place as the purchaser at his discretion may determine; and has also referred to Clause 64 (i) (iii) (d) which refers to place of Arbitration as being within the geographical limits of the Division of the Railways where the cause of action arose, or the Headquarters of the concerned Railway, or any other place with the written consent of both the parties. It has been argued that since there was no written consent of both the parties to Arbitration being held at New Delhi and the Arbitral Tribunal held the proceedings at New Delhi only for convenience sake it cannot be said that New Delhi was agreed upon by the parties as being the place of Arbitration. Hence the preceding phrases relating to geographical limits of the Division of the Railway where the cause of action arose, or the Headquarters for the concerned Railway should be treated as determinative of the place of Arbitration. Both these phrases relate to Lucknow, and therefore the place of Arbitration should be treated as Lucknow, conferring supervisory jurisdiction under Section 34 of the Act of 1996 upon the Commercial Court at Lucknow.

17. The learned counsel for the Respondent has referred to Clause 7.0 of the Preamble of the Tender Paper ELCORE which directs performance Guarantee to be submitted by the contractor amounting to 5% of the contract value to the Chief Project Director, Railway Electrification Lucknow after the issuance of Letter of Acceptance but before signing of the Agreement in terms of Clause 19 of the Preamble. Reference has also been made to clause 11 of the Preamble which states that the contract will be operated by the Chief Project Director, Railway Electrification, Lucknow. The agreement had been signed and delivered at Lucknow for and behalf of the Respondents on 14.07.2016. The cause of action arose at Lucknow and since the contract was operated at Lucknow as the project of electrification had to be conducted under the Divisional Headquarters with supervision and Lucknow was the place of correspondence. After the Award of contract a major part of cause of action arose at Lucknow. Reference has been made to clause 15 of the Preamble where all correspondence has to be undertaken after award of contract with the Chief Project Director, Railway Electrification, Lucknow in respect to matters relating to particular design, working and drawing, matters relating to basic design and drawing for fitting, components equipment and prototype test, and matters relating to progressing of fieldwork, scheduling of quantities and submission of bills. Under clause 1.1.2 which relates to Interpretation of Contract Agreement, "Purchaser" has been defined as the President of India acting through his accredited officers or anyone of them including the General Manager in charge of Railways Electrification and also the Chief Project Director. It has been argued that Section 31 sub-clause (4) and Section 20 of the Act of 1996 would be in applicable as no written consent was ever given to change the place of Arbitration by any of the parties.

18. The learned counsel for the has also placed reliance upon judgement rendered by the Supreme Court in the case of Mankastu Impex Private Limited versus Air Visual Ltd 2020 (5) SCC 399; and has read out paragraphs 10 to 13, 17 to 20, and 24 to 26 of the judgement and has also read out the impugned order passed by the Commercial Court.

19. The learned counsel for the Respondent has also placed reliance upon judgement rendered by Coordinate Bench of this Court in Hasmukh Prajapati versus Jai Prakash Associates Limited in a Petition under Article 227 of the Constitution No. 6890 of 2021, decided on 17.02.2022, where a distinction has been drawn between seat of Arbitration and venue of Arbitration. It has been argued that the venue of Arbitration may have been in New Delhi, in the case of the Petitioner, however the seat of Arbitration would only be determined on the basis of Clause 64 (1)(iii)(d) of the General Conditions of Contract.

20. It has also been informed to this Court that subsequent to the filing of the Application under Section 34 of the Act of 1996 before the Commercial Court at Lucknow the Petitioner preferred an Execution petition/Enforcement Application under Section 36 of the Act on 17.09.2019 before the Delhi High Court. The Delhi High Court while issuing notice to the Respondents has directed them to deposit the entire awarded amount with up-to-date interest before the Registrar General of the High Court of Delhi by its order dated 18.09.2019, passed ex parte. Further, the High Court of Delhi was pleased to release 50% of the deposited amount under the Arbitral Award to the Petitioner by its order dated 24.12.2019 subject to the outcome of the Objections filed by the judgement debtor. The decree holder had to submit a personal bond executed by all its Directors and supported by a Board Resolution that in the event of the decree holder being directed to refund the amount by the Court in the Objections under Section 34 of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, the decree holder shall refund the amount along with interest at such rate as directed by the Court within eight weeks of the order, irrespective of the right to challenge the order passed in proceedings under Section 34 of the 1996 Act. The balance 50% of the amount had to be kept in fixed deposit till further orders. In compliance of the order passed by the Delhi High Court on 24.12.2019, 50% of the amount was released against the personal bond of the Directors only. The Petitioner has filed an Application stating that it is not in a position to furnish bank guarantee to secure the judgement debtor against the payment of any funds. Further, after hearing on several dates and entertaining the Application under Section 34 of the Act of 1996, the Learned Commercial Court at Lucknow has been pleased to stay the operation and implementation of the Award dated 6.03.2019 by its order dated 09.02.2021. Subsequently the Petitioner has filed a further Application for seeking release of the remaining 50% of the amount before the Delhi High Court on which the Delhi High Court has been pleased to issue notice to the Respondents by its order dated 05.11.2020. After having approached Delhi High Court in this manner, the Petitioner has approached this Court in this petition under Article 227 only on 08.12.2020, after a lapse of almost one year from the date of the impugned order, 12.12.2019.

21. In rejoinder the learned counsel for the Petitioner has reiterated his earlier arguments and said that it is no doubt true that General Conditions of Contract would prevail over Tender Document ordinarily, however, in this case there is the phrase "with the written consent of both the parties". The counsel for the Petitioner argued that in this case the Tender document is the written consent, and would override the General Conditions of Contract. The learned counsel for the Petitioner has placed reliance upon several judgements to say that even though the cause of action or part of cause of action may have arisen at Lucknow that would not determine the seat of Arbitration and has referred to the importance of the determination of the seat of Arbitration as discussed by the Supreme Court in the judgement rendered in BGSSGS Soma (supra). The Learned counsel for the Petitioner has argued that in this case the conduct of the parties would give rise to the presumption that it is a separate contract condition to hold Arbitration at Delhi, that was agreed upon between the parties, and the subsequent condition so created by implication would override the written consent given in the contract. It has also been argued that the judgement rendered in Mankastu Impex (supra) would not apply as it related to international Arbitration, whereas the controversy before this Court has been raised with respect to an Arbitration that has been held in India between the parties and is governed by Part I of the Act of 1996.

22. It has also been argued by the learned counsel for the Petitioner that where there is a conflict between written agreement among the parties and the conduct of the parties, the conduct of the parties would prevail. The learned counsel for the Petitioner has referred to judgement rendered by the Supreme Court in Inox Renewables Ltd versus Jayesh Electricals Ltd 2021 SCC Online SC 448, and has relied upon paragraphs 11, 16 and 17 of the judgement.

23. With regard to the argument of the Learned counsel for the Respondent that this petition under Article 227 is not maintainable having been filed through Director of one of the companies constituting the Joint Venture, it has been argued that the contract was awarded to a Joint-Venture partnership between three companies. The deponent of the affidavit in this petition is the Director of Zapdor / Under Order XXX Rule 2 C.P.C. and Order XXIX Rule 1 C.P.C., Amresh Anand is competent to file the Application/petition before this Court.

24. After hearing the parties at length, this Court finds that there are four issues which must be considered by this Court to decide this petition.

a) Whether this petition under Article 227 is maintainable ?

b) Whether Cause of Action or subject matter of the Suit would determine the Court which could exercise supervisory jurisdiction to decide the Section 34 petition?

c) Whether it would be the 'Venue' or the 'Seat' of Arbitral proceedings which would determine the Court which can exercise supervisory jurisdiction over the Arbitral proceedings ?

d) Whether in the absence of a specific mention in the contract agreement regarding 'Seat' of Arbitration, the conduct of parties would determine the 'Seat' and therefore act as an exclusionary clause for Courts at all other places to exercise supervisory control over the Arbitral proceedings ?

25. With regard to the first issue of maintainability of the petition on behalf of the J.V. Company filed only by one Director of one company, this Court finds that with regard to the question of maintainability of the petition on behalf of the Joint Venture company/ consortium; it has been argued by the learned counsel for the Petitioner that three Companies had come together to make a bid for the contract relating to electrification of Jafarabad-Akbarpur-Tanda Section. The Director of Zapdor Mr Amresh Anand had been authorised by the Directors of all three Companies to enter into correspondence for the Award of Contract and also to do all that was needful with regard to arbitration proceedings. Mr Amresh Anand had been authorised by all to place their case before the Arbitrator. No objection was raised by the Railways with regard to the appearance of Mr Amresh Anand before the Arbitrator for pursuing the case of the Joint Venture. Now a challenge is being raised for the first time regarding the capacity of Mr Amresh Anand to file the petition. The learned counsel for the Petitioner has placed reliance upon judgement rendered by the Supreme Court in the case of United Bank of India versus Naresh Kumar and others 1996 (6) SCC 660, where the appellant Bank had instituted a Suit for recovery of loan advanced to the Respondent together with interest thereon. The Suit having been filed in the name of the appellant bank, full amount of Court fees had been paid. The trial of the Suit also proceeded. Although the Trial Court found the Appellant Bank had indeed advanced money to the Respondent and its claim was justified, it rejected the claim of the bank only on the ground that the plaint was not duly signed and verified by a competent person. The First Appeal and Second Appeal were also dismissed. The Bank approached the Supreme Court.

26. The Supreme Court observed that procedural defects which do not go to the root of the matter should not be permitted to defeat a just cause. It also observed in paragraph 10 as follows -

"10. It cannot be disputed that a Company like the appellant can sue and be sued in its own name. Under Order VI Rule 14 of the Code of Civil Procedure, pleading is required to be signed by the party and its counsel if any. As a Company is a juristic entity it is obvious that some person has to sign the pleadings on behalf of the company.

Order XXIX Rule 1 of the Code of Civil Procedure, therefore, provides that in a Suit by or against a Corporation, the Secretary or any Director or other principal officer of the Corporation who is able to depose to the facts of the case might sign and verify on behalf of the Company. Reading Order VI Rule 14 together with Order XXIX Rule 1 of the Code of Civil Procedure it would appear that even in the absence of any formal letter of authority or power of attorney having been executed, a person referred to in Rule 1 of Order XXIX can, by virtue of the office which he holds, sign and verify the pleadings on behalf of the corporation. In addition there to under Order XXIX Rule (1) of the Code of Civil Procedure, as a Company is a juristic entity, it can duly authorise any person to sign the plaint or the written statement on its behalf , and this would be regarded as sufficient compliance with the provisions of Order VI Rule 14 of the Code of Civil Procedure. A person may be expressly authorised to sign the pleadings on behalf of the Company, for example by the Board of Directors passing a Resolution to that effect, or by the power of attorney executed in favour of any individual. In the absence thereof, and in cases where the pleadings have been signed by one of its officers, a corporation can ratify the said action of its officer in signing the pleadings. Such ratification can be express or implied. The Court can, on the basis of the evidence on record, and after taking all circumstances of the case, specially with regard to the conduct of the trial, come to the conclusion that the corporation had ratified the act of signing of the pleadings by its officer..."

This Court is of the opinion that considering the facts and circumstances of the case as pleaded and the substantial questions of law that arise, the petitioner cannot be nonsuited on technical grounds alone.

27. With regard to the issue of maintainability of this petition under Article 227 of the Constitution, this Court is bound by the observations of the Supreme Court in Soma JV (supra) where the project site was located in the States of Assam and Arunachal Pradesh and the agreement was signed at Faridabad. With regard to dispute resolution through Arbitration, the parties agreed that it shall be settled finally in accordance with the provisions of the 1996 Act and the Arbitration proceedings shall be held at New Delhi/Faridabad, India.

On 16.05.2011 the notice of Arbitration was issued to the Petitioner in regard to payment of compensation for losses suffered due to delays. The Arbitral Tribunal was constituted which held 71 sittings at New Delhi and then delivered a unanimous Award again at New Delhi, by which the claims of the Petitioner were allowed together with simple interest at the rate of 14% per annum till the date of actual payment. The Responden being aggrieved filed an Application under Section 34 before the Court of District and Sessions Judge, Faridabad Haryana. The Petitioner filed an Application under Section 151 read with Order VII Rule 10 of the C.P.C. and Section 2 (1) (e) (i) of the 1996 Act seeking a Return of the petition under Section 34 for presentation before the appropriate Court at New Delhi, and/or the District Judge at Dhemaji Assam. The Special Commercial Court Gurugram, allowed the Application of the Petitioner to return the Section 34 petition for presentation before the proper Court having jurisdiction in New Delhi. The Respondent filed an appeal under Section 37 of the 1996 Act before the Punjab and Haryana High Court which held the appeal to be maintainable and also that Delhi was only a convenient "venue" where arbitral proceedings were held and not the "seat" of arbitral proceedings at Faridabad would have jurisdiction on the basis of cause of action having arisen in part in Faridabad. The Petitioner challenged such order before the Supreme Court.

28. It was argued that an order which allowed an Application under order VII Rule 10 CPC cannot amount to an order refusing to set aside an arbitral Award under Section 34 of the 1996 Act. it was also argued that even if both New Delhi and Faridabad had jurisdiction on the basis of part of cause of action arising at New Delhi and at Faridabad, the ratio laid down in the Constitution Bench decision in the case of BALCO (supra) would apply as understood by two subsequent decisions of the Supreme Court in Reliance Industries Ltd versus Union of India 2014 (7) SCC 603; and in Indus Mobile Distribution (Private)Limited versus DataWind Innovation (Private)Limited 2017 (7) SCC 678. It was also argued by the learned counsel for the Petitioners that the place of Arbitration as determined in accordance with Section 20 of the 1996 Act was New Delhi therefore this being the seat as determined by the Tribunal in the case, challenge under Section 34 of the 1996 Act could only be made in the courts at New Delhi.

On the other hand the Additional Solicitor General supported the judgement under appeal saying that an order passed under Order VII Rule 10 C.P.C. would amount to refusal to set aside an Award and therefore appeal would be maintainable. Moreover the Arbitration clause only referred to the convenient venue and the fact that the sittings were held at New Delhi would not make New Delhi the seat of Arbitration under Section 20 (1) of the Act 1996. A part of cause of action clearly arose in Faridabad, as a result of which the Court in Faridabad would be clothed with jurisdiction to decide Section 34 Application.

29. The Supreme Court in Soma JV (supra) considered the question of maintainability of appeal under Section 37 of the Act and referred to Sub-clause (1) (a),(b) and (c), and held that the order passed by the Commercial Court at Gurugram was not referable to Section 8 or Section 9. It could also not amount to setting aside or refusing to set aside an Award under Section 34(1) (c). Therefore, Appeal under Section 37 would not be maintainable. It compared the provisions of Section 13 of the Commercial Courts Act and Section 37 of the Act of 1996. Section 13 of the Commercial Courts Act referred to grounds enumerated under Order 43 of the C.P.C. and Section 37 of the 1996 Act. Referring to judgement rendered in Fuerst Day Lawson Ltd versus Jindal Exports Ltd, 2011 (8) SCC 333; it held that Section 13 of the Commercial Courts Act was a general provision vis-a-vis Arbitration, relating to appeals arising out of commercial disputes and since Section 37 of the Act of 1996 was expressly included in the proviso to Section 13 (1), the Court held that the special statute that is the 1996 Act would be applicable vis-a-vis the more general statute namely the Commercial Courts Act. The general statute being left to operate in spheres other than Arbitration. Section 37(1) makes it clear that the appeals only lie from orders set out in sub clause (a), (b) and (c) and from no others. The refusal to set aside and arbitral Award must be under Section 34 , i.e., after the grounds set out in Section 34 have been applied to the Arbitral Award in question and after the Court has turned down such grounds. Admittedly on the facts of the case there was no adjudication under Section 34 of the 1996 Act - all that was done was that the Commercial Court at Gurugram had allowed an Application filed under Section 151 read with Order VII Rule 10 C.P.C., determining that Commercial Court at Gurugram had no jurisdiction to proceed further with the Section 34 Application, and therefore such Application would have to be returned to the competent Court situated at New Delhi. By virtue of the impugned order the Arbitral Award had not been set aside. The Supreme Court therefore held appeal under Section 37 before the Punjab and Haryana High Court was not maintainable.

30. This Court after the dictum as aforesaid of the Supreme Court in Soma JV (supra) is of the considered opinion that this petition under Article 227 of the Constitution is maintainable against the order rejecting an application for return of Application under Section 34 of the Act of 1996.

31. This Court shall now consider the issues c, d and e jointly by referring to various case laws relied upon by the counsel for the parties and recent developments of law, after case was heard and judgement was reserved by me. The first such judgment being that of the Constitution Bench in BALCO Vs. Kaiser Alluminium (supra). The Supreme Court in BALCO (supra) was considering an agreement between the Appellant and the Respondent which had a dispute resolution Clause in Article 17 which stated that the arbitration proceedings will be governed by English arbitration law and Arbitration shall be held wholly in London and use English language in the proceedings. Clause 22 of the Agreement stated that the agreement shall be governed by the prevailing law of India and in case of Arbitration, the English Law shall apply. Therefore the aforesaid clause indicated that by reason of the agreement between the parties, the governing law of the agreement was the prevailing law of India. However, the settlement procedure for adjudication of rights or obligation under the Agreement was by way of Arbitration in London and the English Arbitration law was made applicable to such proceedings. Disputes arose between the parties and arbitration proceedings were held in London. The Arbitral Tribunal made two awards in London.

32. The appellant thereafter filed applications under Section 34 of the 1996 Act for setting aside the aforesaid two Awards in the Court of District Judge Bilaspur. The District Judge Bilaspur, held such applications filed under Section 34 to be not maintainable and dismissed the same. Aggrieved by the two judgements, the appellant filed two miscellaneous Appeals before the High Court of Chhattisgarh. The Division Bench dismissed the appeals by a common order. Such decision was challenged before the Supreme Court. The Supreme Court considered the questions that arose in several Special Leaves to Appeal which were connected with the main Appeal after its reference to the Constitution Bench and referred to such questions as: -

"a) what is meant by the place of arbitration as found in Section 2 (2) and 20 of the Arbitration Act 1996?"

"b) What is the meaning of the words "under the law of which the Award is passed" under Section 48 of the 1996 Act ?

"c) Does Section 2 (2) bar the application of Part I of the Arbitration Act 1996 to arbitration where the place is outside India?"

"d) Does part I apply at all stages of arbitration that is pre, during and post stages of the arbitral proceedings in respect of all arbitration, except for areas specifically falling under Part II and III of the 1996 Act ?"

"e) Whether a Suit for preservation of assets pending an arbitration proceeding is maintainable?"

33. The Supreme Court clarified the use of the words "place", "seat", "situs", and "venue" in the context of arbitration and discussed the same in paragraphs 75, 76 and 95 to 100 of the judgement and Section 20 of the 1996 Act was referred to which recognised such distinction. The Supreme Court observed that the seat of arbitration or the situs of arbitration or the place of arbitration indicates the jurisdiction or legal seat of arbitration which determines the Curial law i.e. the law that shall govern the arbitration proceedings. The Supreme Court said further that if the legal or Juridical seat of arbitration is outside India, Part I of the 1996 Act shall be inapplicable to such operations; and even in case a clause in the arbitration agreement purports to apply Part I of the 1996 Act to an arbitration where juridical seat of arbitration is outside India, Part I shall be inapplicable to the extent inconsistent with the arbitration law of the seat of arbitration. "Venue of arbitration " as distinguished from the place or the seat or the situs, is the actual physical location where the Arbitrators/ Arbitral Tribunal for reasons of convenience et cetera, might actually conduct their proceedings, which may be a location physically outside the jurisdiction or legal seat of arbitration.

34. The Supreme Court answered the reference by observing that the 1996 Act had accepted the territoriality principle which had been adopted in the UNCITRAL Model Law. Section 2 sub-clause (2) of the 1996 Act makes a declaration that Part I of the Act shall apply to all arbitration which take place within India. Part I of the 1996 Act would have no application to international commercial arbitration held outside India. Therefore, such awards would only be subject to the jurisdiction of the Indian courts when the same are sought to be enforced in India in accordance with the provisions contained in part II of the 1996 Act. There can be no overlapping or intermingling of the provisions contained in part I with the provisions contained in part II of the 1996 Act . In a foreign seated international commercial arbitration, no application for interim relief would be maintainable under Section 9 of the 1996 Act or any other provision of Indian law, as applicability of part I of the Act is limited only to all arbitration which take place in India. Similarly, no suit for interim injunction simplicitor would be maintainable in India on the basis of an international commercial arbitration with its seat outside India. Hence Part I of the Act is applicable only to all the arbitrations which take place within the territory of India.

35. The Supreme Court also observed "the subject matter of Arbitration" in Section 2(1) (e) of the 1996 Act cannot be confused with "subject matter of the suit". The term "subject matter" in Section 2 (1) (e) is confined to Part I. It has a reference and connection with the process of dispute resolution. Its purpose is to identify Courts having supervisory control over the Arbitration proceedings. Hence, it refers to a Court which would essentially be at the seat of the Arbitration process. The provision in Section 2(1)(e) has to be construed keeping in view the provisions in Section 20 which gives recognition to party autonomy. The legislature has intentionally given jurisdiction to two courts ie the Court which would have jurisdiction where the cause of action is located ,and the courts where the Arbitration takes place. This was necessary as on many occasions the agreement may provide for a seat of Arbitration at a place which would be neutral to both the parties. Therefore, the courts where the Arbitration takes place would be required to exercise supervisory control over the arbitral process.For example, if the Arbitration is held in Delhi, when neither of the parties are from Delhi (Delhi having been chosen as a neutral place as between a parties from Mumbai and the other from Kolkata) and the Arbitral Tribunal sitting in Delhi passes an interim order under Section 17 of the 1996 Act, the appeal against such an interim order under Section 37 must lie to the Court at Delhi being the Court having supervisory jurisdiction over the Arbitration proceedings and the Tribunal. This would be irrespective of the fact that the obligations to be performed under the contract were to be performed either at Mumbai or at Kolkata, and only Arbitration is to take place in Delhi. In such circumstances, both the courts would have jurisdiction ie the Court within whose jurisdiction the subject matter of the suit is situated and the Courts within the jurisdiction of which the dispute resolution ie Arbitration is located.

36. The object of selection of a neutral seat or place of Arbitration within India by the parties would be frustrated partially at least, if not wholly, if courts having jurisdiction over the said neutral seat of Arbitration did not have supervisory jurisdiction over such Arbitration. After all, the whole point of agreeing to a neutral seat of Arbitration is to avoid mutual inconvenience. It is certain that the parties cannot by agreement confer jurisdiction on a Court which does not otherwise have jurisdiction over the matter concerned; the parties can only restrict jurisdiction over the matter concerned to only one of the courts that otherwise have jurisdiction. The supervisory jurisdiction of the Court is located at the legal seat of Arbitration which can be said to be created by the parties by choosing that as the seat in the Arbitration agreement. The Supreme Court having held that the Court which has jurisdiction over the seat of Arbitration would have supervisory jurisdiction of Arbitration in addition to courts where the cause of action might have arisen clarifies the law.

37. One of the questions that the Constitution Bench dealt with was "what is meant by the place of Arbitration as found in Section 2(2) and 20 of the Arbitration Act 1996?

In paragraph 75 of the judgement the Supreme Court observed that the seat of Arbitration decides the applicability of law for regulation of the Arbitration. This however does not mean that all proceedings of Arbitration to have to take place at the seat of Arbitration. The arbitrators at times hold meetings at more convenient locations. This is necessary as arbitrators may often come from different countries. It may therefore be convenient to hold some of the meetings in a location which may be convenient to all. The Supreme Court referred to English caselaw with approval where it was observed:-

"the preceding discussion has been on the basis that there is only one "place" of Arbitration. This will be the

place chosen by, or on behalf of the parties; and it will be designated in the Arbitration agreement or the terms of the reference, or the minutes of proceedings, or in some other way as the place or "seat" of the Arbitration. This does not mean however that the Arbitral Tribunal must hold all its meetings or hearings at the place of Arbitration. ....It may be more convenient for an Arbitral Tribunal sitting in one country to conduct a hearing in another country for instance for the purpose of taking evidence....In such circumstances each move of the Arbitral Tribunal does not of itself mean that the seat of Arbitration changes. The seat of Arbitration remains the place initially agreed by or on behalf of the parties."

These observations were subsequently followed by the Supreme Court in the case of Union of India versus McDonnell Douglas Corporation 1993 (2) Lloyd's Report 48, where the Supreme Court observed that the laws of the land of the country where the Arbitration took place usually govern the regulation of Arbitration. Part I of the Act of 1996 only applies when the seat of Arbitration is in India, irrespective of the kind of Arbitration.

38. While dealing with the arguments made by the learned counsel for the appellant regarding the Act being "subject matter centric" and not "seat centric" and therefore seat is not the centre of gravity as far as Arbitration Act 1996 is concerned, the Court observed in paragraph 96 while dealing with the definitions clause 2 (1) (e) that-

"subject matter of the Arbitration" cannot be confused with "subject matter of the suit." The term subject matter in Section 2(1)(e) is confined to Part I. It has a reference and connection with the process of dispute resolution. Its purpose is to identify the courts having supervisory control over the Arbitration proceedings. Hence, it refers to a Court which would essentially be a Court of the seat of Arbitration process.....where Arbitration is located. "

The Supreme Court observed in paragraph 97 -

"The definition of Section 2(1)(e)includes "subject matter of the Arbitration" to give jurisdiction to the courts where the Arbitration takes place, which otherwise would not exist. - - - This has a clear reference to a Court within whose jurisdiction the asset/ person is located, against which the enforcement of international arbitral Award is sought."'

39. The Supreme Court thereafter observed in paragraph 98 -

"We now come to Section 20, which is as under:

"20. Place of Arbitration - (1) The parties are free to agree on the place of Arbitration.

(2) failing any agreement referred to in Sub-Section (1) the place of Arbitration shall be determined by the Arbitral Tribunal having regard to the circumstances of the case, including the convenience of the parties.

(3) notwithstanding sub-Section (1) or sub-Section (2), The Arbitral Tribunal may, unless otherwise agreed by the parties, meet at any place it considers appropriate for consultation among its members, for hearing witnesses, experts or the parties, or for inspection of documents, goods or other property."

A Plain reading of Section 20 leaves no room room for doubt that where the place of Arbitration is in India, the parties are free to agree to any place or seat within India, New Delhi or Mumbai et cetera. In the absence of parties agreement thereto, Section 20 sub-clause (2) authorises the Tribunal to determine the place/seat of such Arbitration. Section 20(3) enables the Tribunal to meet at any place for conducting hearings at a place of convenience in matters such as consultations among its members for hearing witnesses, experts or the parties."

40. The Supreme Court thereafter considered the question of "venue " and observed in paragraph 99 -

"99. The fixation of most convenient venue is taken care of by Section 20(3). Section 20(3)has to be read in the context of Section 20(2)which places a threshold limitation on the applicability of Part 1 where the place of Arbitration is in India. ...."

The Court observed in paragraph 100-

"True, that in an international commercial Arbitration, having its seat in India, hearings may be necessitated outside India. In such circumstances, the hearing of the Arbitration will be conducted at the venue fixed by the parties, but it would not have the effect of changing the seat of Arbitration which would remain in India.

The Supreme Court thereafter referred to the commentary of Redfern and Hunter, "The Law and Practice of International Commercial Arbitration", and the following passage under the heading "the place of Arbitration":-

"the preceding discussion has been on the basis that there is only one place of Arbitration. This will be the place chosen by or on behalf of the parties; and it will be designated in the Arbitration agreement or the terms of the reference or the minutes of proceedings or in some other way as the place or seat of the Arbitration. This does not mean, however, that the Arbitral Tribunal must hold all its meetings or hearings at the place of Arbitration. International commercial Arbitration often involves people of many different nationalities, from many different countries. In the circumstances it is by no means unusual for a tribunal travelling to hold meetings - or even hearings, in a place other than the designated place of Arbitration, either for its own convenience or for the convenience of the parties or their witnesses - - - it may be more convenient for an Arbitral Tribunal sitting in one country to conduct a hearing in another country - for instance, for the purpose of taking evidence ...in such circumstances each move of the Arbitral Tribunal does not of itself mean that the seat of Arbitration changes. The seat of Arbitration remains the place initially agreed by or on behalf of the parties."

"This in our view, is the correct depiction of the practical considerations and the distinction between "seat" as given in Section 20 (1)and subsection 20 (2)and the Venue as given in Section 20 (3)."

41. Subsequently in 2018, the Supreme Court in the case of Union of India versus Hardy Exploration and Production (India) Inc 2019 (13) SCC 472; considered an agreement relating to a production sharing contract between the parties. The arbitration agreement provided that the venue of conciliation or arbitration proceedings, unless the parties otherwise agreed, would be Kuala Lumpur and the arbitration proceedings shall be conducted in accordance with UNCITRAL Model law on International Commercial Arbitration.

The arbitration proceedings were held in Kuala Lumpur and the Award was signed and delivered in Kuala Lumpur. The Union of India sought to challenge the Award under the Act of 1996 before the Delhi High Court. It contended that Kuala Lumpur was merely the venue and New Delhi was the seat of arbitration. The Supreme Court held that the parties had not chosen the seat of arbitration and the Arbitral Tribunal had also not determined the seat of arbitration. It held that :-

"Kuala Lumpur was the venue of arbitration but it did not imply that it had become the seat of arbitration by any express agreement between the parties. The venue could not by itself assume the status of the seat; instead a venue could become the seat only if something else is added to it as a concomitant."

42. The Five Judges Bench decision in BALCO (supra) has been interpreted and followed by Five Judges Bench in Soma JV (supra). The Supreme Court in BALCO Vs. Kaiser Alluminium (supra) referred to the observations made in Braes of Doune Wind Farm (Scotland) Ltd v Alfred MacAlpine Business Services Ltd 2008 EWHC 426 (TCC) by the Queen Bench Division that a detailed examination is required to be undertaken by the Court to determine from the agreement and the surrounding circumstances the intention of the parties as to whether a particular place mentioned refers to 'Venue' or 'Seat' of the Arbitration. In that case, the Court upon consideration of the entire material, concluded that Glasgow was a reference to the Venue and the Seat of the Arbitration was held to be in London,England. The Court reiterated the principle that the selection of a 'place or seat' for an Arbitration will determine what "curial law"or "lex Fori" or " Lex arbitri "will be. It was also further concluded that where in substance the parties agreed that the law of one country will govern and control a given Arbitration, the place where the Arbitration is to be heard will not dictate what the governing law or controlling law will be.

43. The Supreme Court further observed that the ratio in Alfred MacAlpine was followed is Shashoua v Sharma 2009 EWHC 957(Comm). In the Shashoua case the Court was concerned with the construction of the shareholders agreement between the parties which provided that "the venue of Arbitration shall be London, United Kingdom". Whilst providing that the Arbitration proceedings would should be conducted in English in accordance with the ICC Rules, and that the governing law of the shareholders agreement itself would be the law of India. The claimants made an Application to the High Court in New Delhi seeking interim measure of protection under Section 9 of the Arbitration Act 1996, prior to the institution of Arbitration proceedings. Following the commencement of the Arbitration, the defendant and the Joint-Venture Company raised the challenge to the jurisdiction of the Arbitral Tribunal, which the Tribunal heard as a preliminary issue. The Tribunal rejected the jurisdictional objection. The Tribunal then made an Award for the defendant to pay more than £300,000. The English Court gave leave to the claimant to enforce the Award as a judgement. The defendant applied to the High Court of Delhi under Section 34 (2)(a) of the Arbitration Act 1996 to set aside the Award. In the meantime, the claimant had obtained the charging order, which had been made final over the defendant's property in England. The defendant applied to the Delhi High Court for an order directing the claimants not to take any action to execute the charging order, pending the final disposal of Section 34 petition in Delhi seeking to set aside the Award. The defendant had sought unsuccessfully to challenge the Award in the Commercial Court under Section 68 and Section 69 of the UK Act and to set aside the order giving leave to enforce the Award.

44. The Supreme Court in Soma J.V. then referred to paragraph 110 of BALCO as follows: -

"110. Examining the fact situation in the said case, the Court observed as follows: (Shashua)

"The basis for the Court"s grant of an anti-suit injunction of the kind sought depended upon the seat of the Arbitration. An agreement as to the seat of an Arbitration brought in the law of that country as the curial law, and was analogous to an exclusive jurisdiction clause. Not only was there an agreement to the Curial law of the seat, but also to the courts of the seat having supervisory jurisdiction over the Arbitration, so that, by agreeing to the seat, the parties agreed that any challenge to an interim or final Award was to be made only in the courts of the place designated as the seat of Arbitration.

*Although, "venue" was not synonymous with "seat", in an Arbitration clause which provided for Arbitration to be conducted in accordance with the Rules of ICC in Paris (a supranational body of rules), a provision that "the venue of Arbitration shall be London, United Kingdom" did amount to the designation of the Juridical Seat...." The Queens Bench Division observed that "a choice of seat for the Arbitration must be a choice of forum for remedies seeking to attack the Award".

(emphasis supplied)

45. The Supreme Court in BALCO observed thereafter that this principle was followed in Union of India Vs. McDonnell Douglas Corporation. In Union of India versus McDonnell Douglas Corpn (1993) Lloyds Rep 48; the agreement provided that the "Arbitration shall be conducted in accordance with the procedure provided in the Indian Arbitration Act of 1940 or any re-enactment or modification thereof.... The seat of arbitral proceedings shall be London, United Kingdom.

Considering the aforesaid clause, the Supreme Court held that by agreement the parties have chosen English law as a law to govern their Arbitration proceedings, while contractually importing from the Indian Act those provisions of that Act which are concerned with internal conduct of their Arbitration and which are not inconsistent with the choice of English arbitral procedure in law. The Supreme Court followed the Queens Bench Decision which laid stress upon the location of the seat of Arbitration as an important factor in determining the proper law of the Arbitration agreement.

46. The Supreme Court thereafter in Soma J.V. (supra) referred to paragraph-116 of BALCO that "the legal position that emerges from a conspectus of all the decisions, seems to be, that the choice of another country as the seat of Arbitration inevitably imports an acceptance that the law of that country relating to the conduct and supervision of Arbitration will apply to the proceedings."

47. The Three Judges Bench of this Supreme Court in Soma JV (supra) was considering the question whether the seat of Arbitration proceedings was New Delhi or Faridabad, consequent upon which a petition under Section 34 of the Arbitration Act 1996 could be filed dependent on where the seat of Arbitration is located.

48. While considering the question of determination of the seat of the arbitral proceedings between the parties, it was observed that it is important to lay down the law on what constitutes "juridical seat" of the arbitral proceedings, and once the seat is delineated by Arbitration Agreement, the Courts at the place of the seat would alone thereafter have exclusive jurisdiction over the arbitral proceedings.

49. The Supreme Court considered the Arbitration Act 1940 which did not refer to Juridical seat of Arbitration proceedings at all. After the UNCITRAL Model law on International Commercial Arbitration was adopted by this country the concept of "place" or "seat" of arbitral proceedings was introduced. The 1996 Act adopted the Model Law and referred to the place of Arbitration and defined the Court and indicated which courts have jurisdiction in relation to arbitral proceedings in several sections in Part I.

50. The Supreme Court referred to the Definition clause under Section 2 (1) (e) and Sub-clause (i) and (ii) thereof, and then to Section 20, 31 (4) and 42 of the 1996 Act.

51. The Supreme Court in Soma JV (supra) referred to the Five Judges Bench in BALCO (supra) because in earlier decisions of the Court it had not properly distinguished between seat and venue of an arbitral proceeding. After referring to paragraphs 75, 76, 96, 110, 116, 123 and 194 of BALCO (supra), the Supreme Court observed in paragraph 38 as follows: -

"38. A Reading of paras 75, 76, 96, 110, 116, 123 and 194 of BALCO would show that where parties have selected the "seat" of Arbitration in their agreement, such selection would then amount to an exclusive jurisdiction clause, as the parties have now indicated that the courts at the "seat" would alone have jurisdiction to entertain challenges against the arbitral Award which have been made at the seat. - - - the BALCO judgement, when read as a whole, applies the concept of seat as laid down by the English judgements (and which is in Section 20 of the Arbitration Act 1996) by harmoniously construing Section 20 with Section 2 (1)(e), so as to broaden the definition of "Court "and bring within its ken Courts of the "seat" of the Arbitration."

52. The Supreme Court thereafter considered the import and purport of paragraph 96 of the BALCO (supra) in paragraph 39 to 43, and came to the conclusion that :-

"a judgement must be read as a whole, so that conflicting parts maybe harmonised to reveal the true ratio of the judgement. However, if this is not possible, and it is found that the internal conflicts within the judgement cannot be resolved, then the first endeavour that must be made is to see whether Ratio Decidendi can be culled out without the conflicting portion. If not, then as held by Lord Denning in Harper versus National Coal Board, the binding nature of the precedent on the point on which there is a conflict in a judgement, comes under a cloud "

It thereafter observed in paragraph-44 as follows:-

"44. If para 75, 76, 96, 110, 116, 123 and 194 of BALCO ought to be read together, what becomes clear is that Section 2 (1)(e)has to be construed keeping in view Section 20 of the Arbitration Act 1996, which gives recognition to party autonomy- the Arbitration Act 1996 having accepted the territoriality principle in Section 2 (2), following the UNCITRAL Model Law. The narrow construction of Section 2 (1) (e) was expressly rejected by the Five Judges Bench in BALCO (supra). This being so, what has then to be seen is what is the effect Section 20 would have on Section 2 (1) (e) of the Arbitration Act 1996."

53. The Supreme Court then considered the observations made by it in Union of India Vs. Reliance Industries Ltd 2015 (10) SCC 213 which relied upon Videocon Industries Ltd versus Union of India 2011 (6) SCC 161; and judgement rendered by the Court of Appeal in C v D, 2007 EWCA Civ 1282 (CA); which was subsequently followed by the High Court of Justice, Queens Bench Division. The English courts had held that the effect of choice of seat of Arbitration would mean conferring exclusive jurisdiction for the purpose of regulating arbitral proceedings arising out of the agreement between the parties on the courts situated in that "seat" alone.

54. The Supreme Court in Soma JV referred to the observations made by it in Indus Mobile Distribution Private Limited versus Datawind Innovations Private Limited (2017) 7 SCC 678; distinguishing between seat of an arbitral proceedings and venue of such proceeding. In Indus Mobile (supra), the Supreme Court referred to the 246th Report of the Law Commission of India and the recommendations made with regard to amendment to be carried out in Section 20 of the 1996 Act replacing the word "place" by the word "seat".

55. The Court in Indus Mobile (supra) observed that amendment as proposed by the Law Commission could not be made because "....the BALCO judgement in no uncertain terms had referred to the "place" as juridical seat for the purpose of Section 2 (2) of the Act. It had further made it clear that Section 20 (1) and Section 20 (2) where the word "place" is used refers to the juridical seat, whereas Section 20 (3) the word "place" is equivalent to venue. .."

56. The Supreme Court referred to paragraph 19 of Indus Mobile (supra) where it was observed that "the moment the seat is designated, it is akin to an exclusive jurisdiction clause. "Even if a part of cause of action had not arisen in such seat, nevertheless the courts situated in the seat will have "exclusive jurisdiction for the purpose of regulating arbitral proceedings arising out of the agreement between the parties."

57. The Supreme Court referred to judgement rendered in Brahmani River Pellets Limited versus Kamatchi Industries Ltd 2020 (5) SCC 462; where judgement rendered in Indus Mobiles (supra) was followed. The Supreme Court observed in paragraph 49 of judgement rendered in Soma JV (supra) that if any other interpretation is taken for example, the interpretation given by the Respondents that Courts where a part of cause of action action had arisen would also have jurisdiction would mean that -".....,if part of cause of action arose in five places, even though the parties have contemplated that a neutral seat be chosen as the seat so that the courts of that place alone would have jurisdiction, yet, any one of the five other Courts in which a part of cause of action arises, including courts in remote corners of the country, would also be clothed with jurisdiction. This obviously cannot be the case. If therefore, the conflicting portion of the judgement of BALCO in para 96 is kept aside for a moment, the very fact that the parties have chosen a place to be the seat would necessarily carry with it the decision of both parties that the courts at the seat would exclusively have jurisdiction over the entire arbitral process."

(emphasis supplied)

58. The Supreme Court further observed in paragraph 50:-

"50. In fact, subsequent Division Benches of this Court have understood the law to be that where the seat of Arbitration is chosen, it amounts to an exclusive jurisdiction clause, in so far as the Courts at the seat of Arbitration are concerned. In Enercon (India) Limited versus Enercon GMBH, 2014 (5) SCC 1; this Court approved the dictum in Shashoua as follows:-

"126. Examining the fact situation in the case, the Court in Shashoua observed as follows:

"The basis for the Court"s grant of an anti-suit injunction -- ...,depended upon the seat of the Arbitration. An agreement as to the seat of an Arbitration brought in the law of that country as the Curial law and was analogous to an exclusive jurisdiction clause. Not only was their agreement to the Curial law of the seat, but also to the courts of the seat having supervisory jurisdiction over the Arbitration, so that, by agreeing to the seat, the parties agreed that any challenge to an interim order or final Award was to be made only in the courts of the place designated as the seat of the Arbitration.

Although, "venue", was not synonymous with "seat", in an Arbitration clause which provided for Arbitration to be conducted in accordance with the Rules of the ICC in Paris (a supranational body of rules), a provision that the venue of the Arbitration shall be London, United Kingdom did amount to the designation of a juridical seat..."

(emphasis supplied)

59. After referring to several paragraphs of Enercon (supra), the Supreme Court in paragraph 51 observed as follows: -

"51. The Court in Enercon concluded:

"138. Once the seat of Arbitration has been fixed in India, it would be in the nature of exclusive jurisdiction to exercise the supervisory powers over the Arbitration ."

60. Referring to the test for determination of seat the Supreme Court observed that the English courts have examined the concept of juridical seat of the arbitral proceedings, and have laid down several important tests in order to determine whether the seat of the arbitral proceedings has in fact been indicated in the agreement between the parties. Referring to judgement in Shashoua v Sharma, the Court observed that wherever there is an express designation of Venue and no designation of any alternative place as the Seat combined with a supranational body of rules governing the Arbitration, and no other significant contrary indicia, the inexorable conclusion is that the stated venue is actually the juridical seat of the arbitral proceedings. The Supreme Court thereafter referred to the McDonnell Douglas judgement and Enercon judgement and judgement rendered in Dozco(India) Private Limited v Doosan Infracore Company Ltd 2011 (6) SCC 179; and the Commentary of Redfern and Hunter on International Arbitration, and Alfred MacAlpine (supra), and came to the conclusion that if the parties failed to mention any place as the juridical seat but only mentioned the venue or without mentioning the venue hold the entire sittings of the Arbitral Tribunal at any particular place, such place shall be treated as "seat for the Arbitration" and must also be the forum of choice for remedies seeking to attack the Award.

61. The Supreme Court observed in paragraph 82 as follows: - "

"82. On a conspectus of the aforesaid judgements, it may be concluded that whenever there is the designation of a place of Arbitration in an Arbitration clause as being the venue of the Arbitration proceedings, the expression Arbitration proceedings would make it clear that the venue is really the seat of the arbitral proceedings, as the aforesaid expression does not include just one or more individual or particular hearing, but the Arbitration proceedings as a whole, including the making of an Award at that place....This, coupled with there being no other significant contrary indicia that the stated venue is only a venue and not the seat of the arbitral proceedings, would then conclusively show that such a clause designates a seat of the arbitral proceedings...."

62. The Supreme Court in Soma JV (supra) also approved of the judgement rendered in Shashoua versus Sharma, which according to it was also approved by the Constitution Bench in BALCO.

63. The Supreme Court again in a Three Judges decision in ManKastu Impex Private Limited versus Air Visual Ltd 2020 (5) SCC 399; was considering an application by ManKastu an Indian company, for appointment of sole Arbitrator. The arbitration agreement provided that the arbitration shall be administered in Hong Kong and the place of arbitration shall be Hong Kong, but at the same time stated that the Memorandum of Understanding would be governed by laws of India and the courts at New Delhi should have jurisdiction. Learned counsel for the Petitioner had argued that since Indian law was governing law and the courts at Delhi had jurisdiction, the seat of arbitration was New Delhi. It relied on Hardy Exploration for this purpose. On the other hand Air Visual contended that since arbitration agreement provided the place of arbitration to be Hong Kong and the arbitration had to be administered in Hong Kong, the seat of arbitration was Hong Kong accordingly Indian courts had no jurisdiction to appoint an Arbitrator. The Respondent relied on Soma JV for this purpose. The Supreme Court instead of affirming Soma JV, decided to adopt another way to determine the issue. It observed that the use of the expression "place of arbitration" could not decide the intention of the parties to designate that particular place as a seat of arbitration and such intention had to be determined from other clauses in the agreement between the parties and their contract . But because the parties had also agreed that such arbitration was to be administered in Hong Kong, the Supreme Court ultimately held that the parties had chosen Hong Kong as the seat of arbitration. The Supreme Court observed in ManKastu that the Memorandum of Understanding is clearly silent on the proper and Curial law of arbitration. It observed in paragraph 19 and 20 as follows: -

"19. The seat of arbitration is a vital aspect of any arbitration proceedings. Significance of the seat of arbitration is that it determines the applicable law when deciding the arbitration proceedings and arbitration procedure as well as judicial review over the arbitration award. The situs is not just about where an institution is based or where hearings will be held. But it is all about which Court would have supervisory power over the arbitration proceedings. In Enercon (India)Ltd versus Enercon GMBH the Supreme Court had held that: (SCC pp 43 and 46 para 97 and 107)

"The location of the seat will determine the courts that will have exclusive jurisdiction to oversee the arbitration proceedings."

It was further held that the seat normally carries with it the choice of that country's arbitration/Curial law "

"20. It is well settled that the seat of arbitration and venue of arbitration cannot be used interchangeably. It has also been established that mere expression "place of arbitration "cannot be the basis to determine the intention of the parties that they have intended that place as the seat of arbitration. The intention of the parties as to seat should be determined from other clauses in the agreement and the conduct of the parties."

64. The Supreme Court declined to give a specific finding with regard to whether Hardy Exploration (supra) is no longer good law in view of the observation made by a Coordinate Bench in Soma JV or whether Soma JV could have declared Hardy Exploration to be per incuriam in view of the law of binding precedents and in paragraph 13 it observed

"...however, considering clause 17 of MOU in the present case and the definite clauses therein and in the facts and circumstances of the case, we are not inclined to go into the question on the correctness of BGS Soma or otherwise."

65. The Supreme Court observed that clause 17.2 in the Memorandum Of Understanding between the parties had provided that in case of a dispute it shall be referred to and finally resolved by arbitration administered in Hong Kong which clearly suggested that the parties had agreed that the arbitration be seated at Hong Kong, and that the laws of Hong Kong shall govern the arbitration proceedings as well as have power of judicial review over the arbitration award.

The Supreme Court placed reliance upon its earlier decisions in Eitzen Bulk A/S versus Ashapura Minechem Ltd 2016 (11) SCC 508, and Indus Mobile (supra), to say that when the parties have chosen a place of arbitration in a particular country, that choice brings with it submission to the laws of that country. Once the seat is determined only that jurisdictional Court would have exclusive jurisdiction.

66. In Inox Renewables Ltd versus Jayesh Electricals Ltd, 2021 SCCOnline Supreme Court 448, a Two Judges Bench was considering the appeal arising out of judgement rendered by the High Court of Gujarat at Ahmedabad wherein the application under Section 34 filed by the appellant was rejected on the ground that the courts at Jaipur, Rajasthan would have jurisdiction to decide such application. The facts of the case were that a purchase order was entered into between Messers Gujarat Fluorochemicals Ltd and the Respondent Jayesh Electricals Ltd for manufacture and supply of power transformers at windfarms. The arbitration clause contained in the purchase order mentioned the venue of arbitration to be Jaipur. A package sale of the entire business of Gujarat Fluorochemicals Ltd took place by way of business transfer agreement between the appellant and GFL to which the Respondent was not a party. In this business transfer agreement the arbitration clause designated Vadodara as the seat of arbitration and the Court at Vadodara to have exclusive jurisdiction qua disputes arising out of the agreement.

67. On an application filed by the Respondent under Section 11 of the Act the High Court of Gujarat at Ahmedabad appointed a retired High Court judge as Arbitrator. The Arbitrator passed an Award. A Section 34 petition was filed by the appellant in Ahmedabad which was resisted by the Respondent referring to the business transfer agreement and stating that the courts at Vadodara did not have jurisdiction. The Commercial Court at Ahmedabad accepted the respondents' plea and referring to the business transfer agreement returned the application saying that the courts at Vadodara alone would have exclusive jurisdiction. The appellant filed a Special Civil Application No.9536 of 2019 against the said order. The High Court referred to the arbitration clause contained in the purchase order and held that the courts in Rajasthan would have exclusive jurisdiction looking into the exclusive jurisdiction clause and observed that even assuming that Ahmedabad would have jurisdiction, exclusive jurisdiction being vested in the courts at Rajasthan, the appropriate Court would be the Court at Jaipur. The Special Civil Application being dismissed as not maintainable at Ahmedabad, the appellant approached the Supreme Court. It was argued that the business transfer agreement was between Gujarat Fluorochemicals and the appellant and the Respondent was not a party to the same . Hence the arbitration clause in the business transfer agreement was irrelevant however the impugned judgement had failed to consider that the Arbitrator had recorded in the arbitral award that the venue/place of arbitration was shifted by mutual consent to Ahmedabad as a result of which the place of arbitration or seat of arbitration became Ahmedabad resulting in the courts at Ahmedabad having exclusive jurisdiction in view of the laws set up by the Supreme Court in the case of Soma JV. On the other hand it was argued by the Respondent that even if the place of arbitration is shifted by mutual agreement, it cannot be done so without a written agreement between the parties. It was argued that the finding that the venue was shifted by mutual consent from Jaipur to Ahmedabad has reference only to Section 20(3) of 1996 Act as Ahmedabad was in reality a convenient place for the arbitration to take place, the seat of arbitration always remaining at Jaipur. The Court having heard both the parties referred to the Award of the Arbitrator wherein it was mentioned that -"as per the arbitration agreement, the venue of the arbitration was to be Jaipur. However, the parties have mutually agreed irrespective of a specific clause , as to the venue of the arbitration would be Ahmedabad and not at Jaipur. The proceedings, thus have been conducted at Ahmedabad on the constitution of the Tribunal by the learned nominee Judge of the Honourable High Court of Gujarat."

68. The Court observed in paragraph 11 that-

"it is clear from the arbitral award that by mutual agreement parties have specifically shifted the venue/place of arbitration from Jaipur to Ahmedabad. This being so, it is not possible to accede to the argument made by the learned counsel for the Respondent that this could only have been done by written agreement and that the Arbitrator is finding would really have reference to a convenient venue and not the seat of arbitration. "

69. The Supreme Court after referring extensively to Soma JV wherein Indus Mobile (Supra) and Videocon (supra) judgements were considered in detail; observed in para 16&17 that

"the moment the seat is chosen as Ahmedabad, it is akin to an exclusive jurisdiction clause, thereby vesting the Court at Ahmedabad with the exclusive jurisdiction to deal with Arbitration . Once the seat of arbitration is replaced by mutual agreement to be at Ahmedabad, the courts at Rajasthan are no longer vested with the jurisdiction as exclusive jurisdiction is now vested in the courts at Ahmedabad, given the change in the seat of arbitration."

70. In Quippo Construction Equipment Ltd versus Janardan Nirman Private Limited 2020 SCCOnline Supreme Court 419; the Supreme Court was considering an appeal from the judgement of the High Court at Calcutta. There were four agreements entered into from time to time between the appellant and the Respondent for taking on rent construction equipment. In the general terms and conditions appended to the aforesaid agreements, for resolution of disputes between the parties an arbitration clause was provided. The parties agreed to refer such dispute to arbitration under Construction Industry Arbitration Association Rules and Regulations and the venue for holding such arbitration proceedings would be New Delhi.

On the other hand the relevant arbitration clause in the agreement that followed recorded that only Courts and Tribunals at Kolkata shall have exclusive jurisdiction in dispute arising out of terms of the agreement or its interpretation. The sole Arbitrator was appointed in terms of the arbitration clause who conducted the proceedings at New Delhi. A notice was issued to the Respondent who denied the existence of any agreement between the parties and it did not take any steps to participate in the arbitration proceedings. The Respondent on the other hand filed a Title Suit at Sealdah, praying that the agreements be declared as null and void and for a Permanent Injunction restraining the appellant from relying upon the arbitration clauses contained in the agreements. Initially a restraint order was passed by the Trial Court as a result of which the proceedings before the Arbitrator were stayed. Later on the Trial Court accepted the application filed under Section 5 and 8 of the 1996 Act by the appellant. The Trial Court observed that the plaintiffs had signed a series of agreements and now they were claiming that they were non-existing. Therefore the dispute between the parties regarding of payments was within the scope of arbitration clause. The defendant was justified in referring the matter to arbitration. The Trial Court dismissed the suit as it had no jurisdiction to hear it. The plaint was directed to be returned.

71. The Respondent filed Miscellaneous Appeal before the Additional District Judge, Sealdah. During the pendency of the application for interim relief an ex parte Award was given by the Arbitrator accepting the claim preferred by the appellant. Soon after the Award a petition was filed by the appellant before the High Court of Delhi seeking relief under Section 9 of the Act. The Respondent being aggrieved by the Award filed a petition under Section 34 of the Act before the High Court at Calcutta. The said petition was then dismissed. The Respondent thereafter filed a Section 34 application in the Court of District Judge, Alipore. It was alleged that the venue of arbitration in terms of the agreement was at Kolkata. The Appellate Court dismissed the appeal as not maintainable. A petition was filed by the Respondent against the order of the Additional District Judge before the High Court at Calcutta. Such a petition was allowed by the High Court. An appeal was filed before the Supreme Court and the Supreme Court observed that though each of the four agreements provided for arbitration, in one of the agreements the venue was stated as Kolkata, yet the proceedings were conducted at New Delhi. At no stage objections were raised by the Respondent before the Arbitrator and the Respondent had let the arbitration proceedings to conclude and culminate in an ex parte award. The Court thereafter considered Sections 4, 16 and 20 of the 1996 Act. Section 4 related to waiver of right to object. Section 16 related to the competence of the Arbitral Tribunal to rule on its jurisdiction, and Section 20 related to place of arbitration. Having quoted the three sections the Supreme Court observed that it was open for the Respondent to raise an objection at initial stage of the arbitration regarding its maintainability at New Delhi however, it let the proceedings continue without raising any objections therefore it would be deemed that the Respondent had waived its right and it could not be allowed to object at a later stage. Moreover, the matter had not arisen from an arbitration petition preferred under Section 11 (6) of the Act. In the case before the Supreme Court however, the question was of a domestic and institutional arbitration where Construction Industry Arbitration Association was empowered to and did nominate the Arbitrator.

72. The Supreme Court observed in para 30 that-

"The specification of place of arbitration may have significance in an international commercial of arbitration, where the place of arbitration may determine which Curial law would apply. However, in the present case the applicable substantive as well as Curial law would be the same..."

The Supreme Court there after observed in paragraph 31 as follows: -

"31. It was possible for the Respondent to raise submissions that arbitration pertaining to each of the agreements be considered and dealt with separately. It was also possible for him to contend that in respect of the agreement where the venue was agreed to be at Kolkata, the arbitration proceedings be conducted accordingly. Considering the facts that the Respondent failed to participate in the proceedings before the Arbitrator and did not raise any submission that the Arbitrator did not have jurisdiction or that he was exceeding the scope of his authority, the Respondent must be deemed to have waived all such objections."

73. The learned counsel for the Petitioner has also placed reliance upon judgements of High Courts of Bombay and Madras and Delhi which have followed the judgement in Soma JV, ie ; L&T Finance Ltd versus Manoj Pathak and another; 2020 SCC online Bombay 177; Om Prakash and others versus Vijay Dwaraka Das Varma 2020 SCC online Bombay 796; Engineering Projects India versus Balaji Projects 2021 SCConline Madras 409; and S.P. Singla Constructions Pvt Ltd versus

Construction and Design Services UP Jal Nigam ARB.P450/2021 decided on 23.9.2021; where the High Courts had held that subsequent to the signing of the agreement where the seat has been designated, it is the conduct of the parties which is important. If the venue is shifted to some place else where the entire arbitration proceedings are held then the place at which such arbitration proceedings are held would be deemed to be the seat of arbitration raising an exclusive jurisdiction clause and the courts situated in that place alone would have jurisdiction to deal with any application under Section 34/37 of the Act of 1996.

Even where no place of arbitration is specified in the arbitration clause the parties could agree to a place of arbitration separately in writing and even in the absence of such place being specified in writing, it could be ascertained from the conduct of the parties. If the parties do not object before the Arbitrator appointed by a High Court and participate in the proceedings then such particular place by their conduct , would become the seat of arbitration creating an exclusionary jurisdiction clause for the courts situated in that place to have supervisory jurisdiction.

74. A Two judges bench of the Supreme Court in Ravi Ranjan Developers Private Limited versus Aditya Kumar Chatterji 2022 SCConline Supreme Court 568; decided on 24.03.2022, was considering an order of the Calcutta High Court appointing a sole Arbitrator under Section 11 (6) of the 1996 Act. The appellant and the Respondent had entered into a development agreement for a property situated at Muzaffarpur in Bihar. Dispute arose in relation to such development agreement. The Respondent sent a notice to the appellant invoking arbitration clause under the development agreement. Notice was sent to the registered office of the appellant at Patna in Bihar outside the jurisdiction of the Calcutta High Court. Thereafter, the Respondent moved a petition under Section 11 sub-Section (6). The appellant denied that the Calcutta High Court had territorial jurisdiction to entertain such application. It submitted that the development agreement was executed and registered in the State of Bihar. The registered office of the appellant was also situated outside the jurisdiction of the Calcutta High Court. However, the Respondent submitted that the parties had agreed to submit to the jurisdiction of the Calcutta High Court by fixing Kolkata as the place for arbitration proceedings to be held.

The Respondent had relied upon Soma JV and Indus Mobile and Hindustan Construction Company Limited versus NHPC 2020 (4) SCC 234, to argue that whenever there is designation of a place of arbitration in an agreement as being the venue of the arbitration proceedings, the expression arbitration proceedings would make it clear that the venue is really the seat of arbitral proceedings, and it would create an exclusionary clause with respect to the courts situated at such seat having exclusive supervisory jurisdiction over disputes arising out of five attrition agreement.

75. The Supreme Court observed in paragraph 37, 38, 39, 40, 41 as follows: -

"37.The Question before the Constitution Bench was whether Part I of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act applied to the arbitration, where the place of arbitration was outside India.

"38. As observed by the Constitution Bench, Section 2 (2) of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act places a threshold limitation on the applicability of Part I, where the place of arbitration is not in India. The Constitution Bench in effect and substance drew a distinction between venue and place of arbitration, as contemplated in Section 20 and held that only if the agreement of the parties was construed to provide for seat/place of arbitration in India, hen Part I of 1996 Act be applicable. If the seat/place was outside India, Part I would not apply, even though the venue of a few sittings may have been in India, or the cause of action may have arisen in India.

"39. The judgement of this Court in Soma JV (supra) .....was also rendered in the context of Section 2 (2) of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act and the applicability of Part I of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act to an international commercial arbitration,where the seat of arbitration was not in India.

"40. In Hindustan Construction Company Ltd (supra), this Court held that where the seat of arbitration is designated, the same operates as an exclusive jurisdiction clause and only courts within whose restriction the seat was located, would have jurisdiction to the exclusion of all other courts. In the facts and circumstances of that case this Court found that courts at New Delhi alone would have jurisdiction for the purpose of challenge to the award.

"41. It is well settled that a judgement is a precedent for the issue of law that is reached and declared decided. The judgement has to be construed in the backdrop of the facts and circumstances in which the judgement has been rendered. Words, phrases and sentences in a judgement, cannot be read out of context. Nor is a judgement to be read and interpreted in the manner of a statute. It is only the law as interpreted in an earlier judgement, which constitutes a binding precedent and not every thing that the judges say".

76. The Supreme Court in Ravi Ranjan Developers (supra) thereafter observed that on careful perusal of the development agreement it was evident that the parties to the arbitration agreement had agreed to hold the sittings of the Arbitral Tribunal in Kolkata.

Referring to Union of India versus Hardy Exploration and ManKastu Impex that mere expression "place of arbitration "cannot be the basis to determine the intention of the parties that they have intended that place as a "seat of arbitration", the Supreme Court held that Kolkata was only the venue for the sittings of the Arbitral Tribunal . In this case the parties had not agreed to refer their disputes to the jurisdiction of the courts in Kolkata. Referring to the Code of Civil Procedure and Sub-Section (2) of Section 2 of the 1996 Act, the Supreme Court observed that the Court having jurisdiction to decide the questions forming the subject matter of the arbitration subject to pecuniary and other limitations would be either where the immovable property was situated or where the defendant voluntarily resides or carries on business. A suit may also be instituted in a Court within whose jurisdiction the cause of action arises either wholly or in part. Admittedly the immovable property was situated at Muzaffarpur in Bihar and admittedly no part of cause of action had arisen within the territorial jurisdiction of the Calcutta High Court.

77. It observed in paragraph 28 as follows--

"28. It could never have been the intention of Section 11(6)of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act that arbitration proceedings should be initiated in any Court in India, irrespective of whether the Respondent resided or carried on business within the jurisdiction of that High Court, and irrespective of whether any part of cause of action arose within the jurisdiction of that Court, to put an opponent at a disadvantage and steal a march over the opponent. "

78. The Supreme Court also observed that under Section 42 of the 1996 Act which was mandatory, any application under Part I of the Act if made to a Court, that Court alone would have jurisdiction over the arbitration proceedings and all subsequent applications arising out of that agreement, and the arbitral proceedings, would have to be made in that Court and in no other Court, unless of course, the Court in which the first application had been instituted, inherently lacked jurisdiction to entertain that application.

79. In a recent decision dated 18.5.2022 rendered by Two Judges Bench in Civil Appeal No.4130 of 2022: BBR (India) Private Limited versus SP Singla Constructions (Private) Limited; the Supreme Court was considering a case where under the arbitration agreement a retired Justice of the High Court was appointed as sole Arbitrator who heard the proceedings at Panchkula, Haryana. Later on he recused for personal reasons. Another retired High Court Judge was appointed who held the arbitration proceedings at New Delhi. The Award was signed and delivered at New Delhi. The Respondent was awarded more than 3crores 35 lakhs with interest at the rate of 15% per annum. The arbitration clause was silent and did not state the seat or venue of arbitration. The contract and the Letter of Intent had been executed at Panchkula, Haryana. The Respondent filed an application for interim order under Section 9 of the 1996 Act before the Additional District Judge Panchkula, Haryana in terms of the Award. The said application was dismissed by the Additional District Judge, Panchkula, on the ground of lack of territorial jurisdiction by observing that jurisdiction to entertain the application rests solely with Delhi High Court where a prior petition under Section 34 had been filed by the appellant and was pending. The petition under Section 9 being a subsequent petition would be barred under Section 42 of the Act. Such order was set aside by the High Court of Punjab and Haryana with finding that the Courts of Delhi did not have jurisdiction to entertain the objection under Section 34 of the Act and the Court at Panchkula, Haryana had the jurisdiction to deal with the case.

80. Such order was challenged before the Supreme Court. The Supreme Court observed after quoting Section 2(1)(e) and Section 20 and Section 42 of the 1996 Act and judgement rendered by the five judges in BALCO, that there was a distinction between jurisdictional seat and venue in the context of International arbitration. The arbitrators at times hold meetings at more convenient locations. The Court also noticed the three judges decision in Soma JV versus NHPC Ltd, where paragraph 96 of BALCO judgement had been interpreted and clarified by the Supreme Court. In Soma JV, the Supreme Court had observed that the term "subject matter of the suit" used in clause (1) is for the purpose of identifying the Court having supervisory control over the judicial proceedings . Hence, the clause refers to a Court which would be essentially a Court of the seat of the arbitration process. The seat of arbitration process has to be determined in terms of Section 20 of the Act as such that the term Court as defined in Sub-Section (1) of Section 2 which refers to the subject matter of arbitration is not necessarily used as finally determinative of the Court"s territorial jurisdiction to entertain proceedings under the Act. In Soma JV the Supreme Court had observed that any other construction of the provisions would render Section 20 of the Act nugatory. The Court had held that the legislature had given jurisdiction to two courts: the Court which should have jurisdiction where the cause of action is located; and a Court where the arbitration takes place. The seat of arbitration need not be the place where any cause of action has arisen as the parties may choose a neutral place for holding arbitration proceedings. However under Section 20 subsection (1), party autonomy to fix such seat of arbitration by agreement is recognised. It was therefore held that an agreement as to the seat of arbitration draws in the law of that country as the Curial law and is analogous to an exclusive jurisdiction clause.

81. The Supreme Court in Singla Construction (supra) observed that the principles relating to the seat of arbitration and the exclusive jurisdiction clause as in international arbitration was applied to domestic arbitration in the case of Soma JV (supra) and quoted paragraph 38 and 40 of the said judgement. It referred to judgement rendered in Indus Mobile versus Datawind Innovations and Brahmani River Pellets Ltd versus Kamatchi Industries Ltd and observed in para 20 thus:-

".....in the context of domestic arbitrations it must be held that once the seat of arbitration has been fixed, then the courts at the said location alone will have exclusive jurisdiction to exercise the supervisory powers over the arbitration. The courts at other locations would not have jurisdiction, including the courts where cause of action has arisen. As observed and held in Soma JV (supra), and Indus mobile (supra), the moment the parties by agreement designate the seat, it becomes akin to an exclusive jurisdiction clause. It would then vest the Court at that seat with the exclusive jurisdiction to regulate arbitration proceedings arising out of the agreement between the parties."

82. Referring to the judgement in Soma JV (supra), the Supreme Court in Singla Constructions observed that the said judgement also dealt with a situation where the parties have not agreed on or have not fixed the jurisdictional seat of arbitration. In Soma JV, the test to determine the seat of arbitration which would determine the location of the Court that would exercise supervisory jurisdiction was given in paragraph 61 Where it was observed*:-"*.. It will thus be seen that wherever there is an express designation of a venue, and no designation of any alternative place as the seat, combined with a supra national body of rules governing the arbitration, and no other significant contrary indicia, the inexorable conclusion is that the stated venue is actually the juridical seat of the arbitral proceedings"

83. The Supreme Court in S.P. Singla (supra) observed

"- - accordingly, In Soma JV (supra), the law as applicable, where the parties by agreement have not fixed jurisdictional seat, is crystallised as under:

"82. On a conspectus of the aforesaid judgements it may be concluded that whenever there is the designation of a place of arbitration in an arbitration clause as being the venue of the arbitration proceedings, the expression arbitration proceedings would make it clear that the venue is really the seat of the arbitral proceedings, as the aforesaid expression does not include just one or more individual or particular hearing, but the arbitration proceedings as a whole, including the making of an award at that place. - - - - further the fact that arbitral proceedings shall be held at a particular venue would also indicate that the parties intended to anchor arbitral proceedings to a particular place, signifying thereby, that that place is the seat of the arbitral proceedings. This, coupled with there being no other significant contrary Indicia, that the stated venue is merely a venue and not the seat of the arbitral proceedings, would then conclusively show that such a clause designates a seat of the arbitral proceedings. - - - in a national context, this would be replaced by the Arbitration Act 1996 as applying to the stated venue which then becomes the seat for the purpose of arbitration.."

84. In paragraph 22 of S.P. Singla (supra), the Supreme Court referred to the observations made in Soma JV that the reasoning given in Hardy Exploration and Production (supra) is per incuriam as it contradicts the ratio as laid down in BALCO (supra). The Supreme Court thereafter considered the facts of the case before it where the earlier appointed sole Arbitrator had held hearing at Panchkula in Haryana and on his recusal, another sole Arbitrator was appointed who held the arbitration proceedings at Delhi, and delivered the award at Delhi. It referred to the arguments raised by the learned counsel for the appellant that on the appointment of the new Arbitrator the venue being fixed at Delhi, the juridical seat of arbitration had changed from Panchkula in Haryana to Delhi. The Supreme Court observed that in so far as sub-Section (1) of Section 20 of the 1996 Act is concerned, the observations made by the Supreme Court in Inox Renewable (supra) is correct, but they cannot be read as a precept in cases governed by sub-Section (2) of Section 20 of the Act. Inox Renewable would apply in cases where the parties by consent agree mutually that the seat of arbitration would be located at a particular place. It would not apply when the Arbitrator fixes the seat in terms of sub-Section (2) of Section 20 of the Act. Once the Arbitrator fixes the seat in terms of sub-Section (2) of Section 20 of the Act, the Arbitrator cannot change the seat of arbitration, except when and if the parties mutually agree and state that the seat of arbitration should be changed to another location, which is not so in the present case.

85. The Supreme Court observed in paragraph 25 and 26 of its judgement in S.P. Singla that any other interpretation would lead to "uncertainty and confusion resulting in avoidable esoteric and hermetic litigation as to the jurisdictional seat of arbitration." It observed that ".., it would create a recipe for litigation and what is worse confusion which was not intended by the Act. The place of jurisdiction over the seat must be certain and static and not vague or changeable, as the parties should not be in doubt as to the jurisdiction of the courts for availing of judicial remedies. Further, there would be a risk of parties rushing to the courts to get first hearing or conflicting decisions that the law does not contemplate and is to be avoided."

86. The Supreme Court further observed in S.P. Singla in para 28 thus:-

"....the legal question raised in the case must be answered objectively or not subjectively with reference to the facts of a particular case. Otherwise, there would be lack of clarity and consequent mixup about the courts that would exercise jurisdiction. There could be cases where the arbitration proceedings were held at different locations but the seat of arbitration, as agreed by the parties or as determined by the Arbitrator, may be different, and at that place ,"the seat",only a few hearings or initial proceedings may have been held. This would not matter, and would not result in shifting of the jurisdictional seat. Arbitrators can fix the place of residence, place of work, or in case of recusal , arbitration proceedings may be held at two different places, as in the present case. For clarity and certainty, which is required when the question of territorial jurisdiction arises, we would hold that the place or the venue fixed for arbitration proceedings, When subsection (2) of Section 20 applies, will be the jurisdictional seat and the Court having jurisdiction over the jurisdictional seat would have exclusive jurisdiction. This principle would have exception that would apply when by mutual consent the parties agree that the jurisdictional seat should be changed, and such consent must be express and clearly understood and agreed by the parties."

(emphasis supplied)

87. It further observed that paragraph 42 of the judgement in Soma JV supports the "..reasoning that once the jurisdictional seat of arbitration is fixed in terms of subsection (2) of Section 20 of the Act, then, without the express mutual consent of the parties to the arbitration, the seat cannot be changed...."

88. The learned counsel for the Respondent Railways has placed before this Court a judgement of a coordinate Bench of this Court in a petition under Article 227 No.6890 of 2021:Hasmukh Prajapati versus Jaiprakash Associates Ltd; decided on 17.2.2022.

89. The Petitioner before the Coordinate Bench had challenged the order passed by the Presiding Officer Commercial Court Gautam Budh Nagar, in an application preferred under Section 34 of the 1996 Act arising out of Award dated 16.02.2019 passed by the Arbitral Tribunal at New Delhi. The Petitioner had booked a flat with the respondents and had made full payment by taking a housing loan from a Non Banking Finance Company with interest at the rate of 13% per annum. The possession had to be delivered in three years. Jaypee Associates however did not deliver possession for more than nine years. The Petitioner preferred an arbitration application before this Court and this Court appointed a Retired Judge having his office at New Delhi, under Section 11(6) of the 1996 Act as there was no dispute between the parties that the place of arbitration will be New Delhi. The Arbitral Award was passed in favour of the Petitioner against which the Respondent preferred an arbitration application under Section 34 before the District Judge Gautam Budh Nagar. An application was filed by the Petitioner praying for Return of Plaint on the ground that it was not maintainable. Such application was rejected by the Commercial Court Gautam Budh Nagar. The Petitioner thereafter approached this Court in the aforesaid Article 227 petition.

90. This Court while considering the issue whether the Commercial Court at Gautam Budh Nagar had jurisdiction to hear the case under Section 34 of the 1996 Act recorded that the arbitral award having been passed at New Delhi after completion of entire arbitration proceedings at Delhi. The counsel for the Petitioner argued that in the arbitration agreement the seat of arbitration had not been specified. The venue of arbitration had been chosen to be New Delhi by both the parties out of convenience. In the absence of specified seat of arbitration in the agreement, the venue of arbitration will be the juridical seat of arbitration proceedings. The learned counsel for the Petitioner had placed reliance upon judgement rendered by three judges bench in Soma JV where the Court had interpreted the Constitution Bench judgement in BALCO and paragraph 96, to say that if both parties had chosen a seat of arbitration the courts situated in such seat will have exclusive jurisdiction to entertain and decide dispute under Section 34 of the Act. Since no seat of arbitration was specified in the agreement and the parties agreed upon the venue of arbitration to be New Delhi, the stated venue will be the Juridical seat of arbitration as held also in the case of Roger Shashoua versus Mukesh Sharma and others 2017 (14) SCC 722.

91. The Coordinate Bench went on to observe that the judgement in Hardy Exploration (supra) was rendered by Three Judges Bench. However in Soma JV which came in later, another Three-Judges Bench observed that the decision in Hardy Exploration is per incuriam. The Coordinate Bench thereafter observed that "....there is uncertainty whether decision in Hardy Exploration or Soma JV holds the field as a concurrent bench could not have overruled the judgement in Hardy Exploration.."

92. The Coordinate bench of this Court observed in paragraph 31 as follows:-

"31. From the above consideration of the judgement of the honourable Supreme Court regarding the seat and venue controversy, this Court finds that the judgement of the honourable Supreme Court in the case of BALCO (supra) still holds good. The judgement in the case of Hardy Exploration (supra) or Soma JV (supra) are of two Coordinate Benches of three Honble judges and their ratios are contrary to each other. While Hardy Exploration stipulated that a chosen venue could not by itself assume the status of seat of arbitration in the absence of additional Indicia, Soma JV (supra) prescribed that the chosen seat of arbitration proceedings would become the seat of arbitration in the absence of any significant contrary indicia. The recent judgement in the case of Messers Inox Renewables Ltd (supra) follows Soma JV (supra)."

93. The Coordinate Bench there after observed that in BALCO it was held that there was concurrent jurisdiction conferred on the courts seized with the subject matter in dispute and the courts where the arbitration was carried out. However, such concurrent jurisdiction will not replace "significant contrary indicia test" as per Shashoua principle.

94. It thereafter interpreted the clauses in the contract where under Clause 10.6 the governing law and jurisdiction of the Courts would be the Courts of Gautam Budh Nagar in UP; whereas such clause was made subject to Clause 10.9 of the Standard Terms and Conditions. The exception regarding Clause 10.9 constituted "significant contrary indicia" as per Shashoua principle in agreement regarding treating the venue of arbitration (New Delhi) as seat of arbitration proceedings and not Gautam Budh Nagar where the cause of action arose. The Arbitrator conducted the arbitration proceedings at the agreed venue of New Delhi and passed the Award. The parties never clearly stated about the seat of arbitration but from Clause 10.6 of the agreement, the courts at Gautam Budh Nagar, UP India were agreed to have jurisdiction over all matters arising out of or relating to allotment/provisional allotment. This clause proved that the parties had chosen the seat of arbitration as Gautam Budh Nagar and venue of arbitration as New Delhi India. Moreover, the Petitioner had approached this Court for appointment of Arbitrator under Section 11 of the Act. It had also moved execution proceedings under Section 36 of the Act before the Court at Gautam Budh Nagar. If it was held by the Court now that the seat of arbitration was at New Delhi, it would create an exclusionary clause, and the appointment of the Arbitrator itself by this Court at Allahabad would become non est. The Coordinate Bench thereafter held that New Delhi was only the Venue of Arbitration and Gautam Buddh Nagar was the Seat of Arbitration and the Courts at Gautam Buddh Nagar had exclusive jurisdiction to deal with the challenge to the Award.

95. This court is of the considered opinion that the judgement rendered in Soma J V (supra) has been reiterated by the Supreme Court in Quippo constructions (supra) and Singla Constructions (supra) and the reason for following Soma JV as against Hardy Exploration (supra) have also been stated with quite clarity and definiteness in Singla Constructions. Soma JV (supra) was sought to be questioned by the Respondents in ManKastu Impex but the three judges Coordinate Bench refused to make any observations with regard to the failure to follow the law of binding precedents in Soma J V. The Court observed in ManKastu while looking at the clauses of the contract, and the judgement rendered in Shashoua case held that the language of the contract gave sufficient indication of the intent of the parties to hold arbitration proceedings at Hong Kong which would therefore be also the juridical seat.

96. This Court has also considered observations made in Ravi Ranjan Developers (supra) but finds that the judgement in Ravi Ranjan Developers turned on its on facts where the respondents had themselves approached the courts in Bihar first, and hence were bound by Non Obstante clause in Section 42 of the 1996 Act . In any case, a Two Judges decision in Ravi Ranjan Developers could not be said to have decided the law against what has already been settled by three Judges Bench in Soma J V while following to 5 Judges Bench in BALCO.

97. This court has also considered the conduct of the parties which is very relevant for a decision to be taken,in view of what has been stated hereinabove with regard to Section 4 and Section 20 of the 1996 Act. The contract being governed by the Tender Paper ELCORe, It was open for the parties, more specifically the Railways, to determine the place of arbitration by way of written agreement. Instead of any written agreement or conditions in the Contract or even in the correspondence between the parties, specifying the seat of arbitration, the Railways agreed to participate in the arbitration proceedings at New Delhi without any protest. The Railways Hence can be said to have waived their right to object and by their conduct determined the venue of arbitration at New Delhi to be also the seat of the arbitration proceedings. Issues b, c, and d consequently are also decided in favour of the petitioner and it is held that failure to specifically mention a Seat of Arbitration and participation in Arbitration proceedings at New Delhi by the Railways without any protest shall be considered as determination of the Venue of arbitration as also the Seat, giving exclusive jurisdiction to the Courts at New Delhi to supervise the Arbitral proceedings including any attack on the Award.

98. The order impugned dated 12.12.2019 is held to be vitiated and liable to be set aside. The Commercial Court at Lucknow has entertained the Section 34 Application without jurisdiction. Such inherent lack of jurisdiction makes the proceedings before it also liable to be set aside.

99. This petition stands allowed.

100. The order impugned dated 12.12.2019 is set aside. Consequences to follow.

(2022) 9 ILRA 861
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 05.05.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE MRS. MANJU RANI CHAUHAN, J.

Writ A No.652 of 2019

Balavant Singh Yadav ...Appellant
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri Siddhartha Srivastava, Mrs. Kamla Singh, Sri Satyendra Kumar Singh

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C.

Civil Law - Service Law - Discharge from service - suppression of information regarding criminal case / false declaration in verification affidavit - mere suppression of material/false information in a given case does not mean that the employer can arbitrarily discharge/terminate the employee from service (Para 11)

Petitioner applied for the post of Constable (Civil Police) & submitted an affidavit stating that no criminal case was registered against him & no police investigation was pending - on enquiry it was found that two criminal cases were indeed against the petitioner, as a result, petitioner was not sent for training - petitioner learnt about the criminal cases only when he inquired from the authorities about the reason for not being sent for training after being selected - Held - Petitioner's selection was rejected without proper inquiry as to whether the petitioner had knowledge about the criminal cases pending against him and he deliberately concealed the same - also no notice and opportunity of hearing was given to him - Additionally, both criminal cases against the petitioner had already been quashed - matter sent back for reconsideration based on the law established in the Avtar Singh and Pawan Kumar cases by the Supreme Court (Para 13, 14)

Allowed. (E-5)

List of Cases cited:

1. Avtar Singh Vs U.O.I. & ors. 2016 (8) SCC 471

2. Pawan Kumar Vs U.O.I. & anr., 2022 0 Supreme (SC) 391

3. St. of U.P. & ors. Vs Vijay Kumar & ors. Special Appeal (Def.) No. 734 of 2016

(Delivered by Hon'ble Mrs. Manju Rani Chauhan, J.)

1. Heard Mrs. Kamla Singh, learned counsel for the petitioner and Mr. Pranav Ojha, learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel for the State-respondents.

2. By means of the present writ petition, the petitioner has questioned the order dated 13th December, 2018 (Annexure No. 19 to the writ petition) passed by the Superintendent of Police, Chandauli i.e. respondent no.4. Further, the petitioner has prayed for a direction upon respondent no.4 to send the petitioner on training immediately for the post of Police Constable pursuant to his final selection.

3. It is the case of the petitioner that pursuant to the advertisement No. PRPB-8(82) dated 29th December, 2015, which was issued by the Uttar Pradesh Police Recruitment and Promotion Board, Lucknow for "Direct Recruitment Constable (Civil Police) & Constable (PAC) (Male)-2015, petitioner applied for the post of Constable (Civil Police) under Other Backward Class Category i.e. non-creamy layer category, after completing requisite formalities, through online. After evaluation of the high school and intermediate results of the petitioner, he was called for physical efficiency test, which was held on 3rd May, 2016. In the said physical efficiency test, the petitioner was declared successful and he was called for verification of his documents. The petitioner appeared before the authority concerned for the said verification. A select list was declared by the Uttar Pradesh Police Recruitment and Promotion Board, Lucknow on 15th May, 2019. Thereafter the petitioner was called by respondent no.4 on 9th June, 2018 to appear in the medical examination at Chandauli, which was held on 14th June, 2018. The petitioner appeared in the said medical examination and was declared successful. On 9th July, 2018, a final select list was uploaded on the official website of the Uttar Pradesh Police Recruitment and Promotion Board, Lucknow in which the name of the petitioner has been placed at serial no. 14753. For the purposes of character verification, the petitioner was required to furnish an affidavit on the prescribed form, which was duly submitted by him before respondent no.4 on 11th June, 2018.

4. Learned counsel for the petitioner submits that as the petitioner was not offered appointment letter for sending him on training at Azamgarh, which was allotted, pursuant to the final select list dated 9th July, 2018, he made a representation before respondent no.4 on 27th July, 2018. Thereafter the petitioner was informed that as two criminal cases i.e. Crime No. 111 of 2017 and Crime No. 44 of 2018, were pending against him, therefore, his claim for issuing him appointment letter on the said post cannot be considered. In the applications filed by the petitioner under Section 482 Cr.P.C., two different Coordinate Benches of this Court, on the basis of compromise, have quashed the entire proceedings of aforesaid two criminal cases vide orders dated 13th and 18th September, 2018, copies of which have been enclosed as Annexure No. 13 and 14 to the present writ petition. As entire proceedings of both the aforesaid criminal cases have been quashed, the petitioner made another representation dated 26th September, 2018 before respondent no.4 along with copies of both the aforesaid orders. On the said representation, respondent no.4 wrote a letter to the Superintendent of Police, Azamgarh i.e. respondent no. 5 to take further action in the matter. However, neither respondent no.4 nor respondent no.5 had taken any decision on the representation of the petitioner dated 26th September, 2018, due to which the petitioner filed Writ-A No. 24703 of 2018 (Balwant Singh Yadav Vs. Sate of U.P. & Others). The said writ petition was finally disposed of by a Writ Court vide order dated 22nd November, 2018 requiring the petitioner to make a fresh representation before respondent no.4, who inturn was also required to decide the same in accordance with law. Pursuant to the order of the Writ Court dated 22nd November, 2018, the petitioner made his representation on 30th November, 2018 before respondent no.4, which has been rejected by him vide order dated 13th December, 2018. It is against this order that the present writ petition has been filed.

5. Learned counsel for the petitioner submits that respondent no.4, without application of mind and in a mechanical manner, has passed the order impugned while rejecting the claim of the petitioner merely on the basis of declaration as made by the petitioner in paragraph nos. 2 and 9 of the affidavit, which was furnished by him at the time of verification of his documents, where in paragraph no.2 the petitioner made declaration "that to my knowledge, no criminal case/matter was ever registered against him neither any police investigation is pending".

6. Learned counsel for the petitioner further submits that though, while passing the order impugned, respondent no.4 has recorded the fact of concealment of criminal cases but has not recorded any finding qua prior knowledge of the same to the petitioner while he filed affidavit dated 11th June, 2018. It was categorical case of the petitioner that when he was not sent for training, on enquiry being made by him, he came to know about the aforesaid criminal cases, entire proceedings of which have already been been quashed by this Court referred to above, as such there is no question of concealment of fact on the part of the petitioner.

7. On the cumulative strength of the aforesaid, learned counsel for the petitioner submits that in view of the law laid down by the Apex Court in Avtar Singh Vs. Union of Indian and others, reported in 2016 (8) SCC 471, which has been followed by the Division Bench of this Court in Special Appeal (Def.) No. 734 of 2016 (State of U.P. and others Vs. Vijay Kumar and others), his claim for appointment on the post of Constable (Civil Police) pursuant to the selection referred to above, is liable to be allowed after quashing the order impugned, which cannot be legally sustained in the eyes of law.

8. On the other-hand, learned Standing Counsel for the State-respondents submits that as the petitioner has concealed the pendency of aforesaid two criminal cases against him in his affidavit, which was submitted by him at the time of verification, there is no illegality or infirmity in the impugned order passed by respondent no.2. However, the learned counsel for the petitioner could not controvert the submissions made by the learned counsel for the petitioner and the case laws referred by him.

9. I have considered the submissions made by the learned counsel for the parties and have gone through the records of the present writ petition.

10. The Apex Court in the case of Avtar Singh (Supra) has opined that non-disclosure of conviction in a case of trivial nature, such as shouting slogans at young age or for a petty offence which if disclosed would not have rendered an incumbent unfit for post in question, the employer may, in its discretion, ignore such suppression of fact or false information by condoning the lapse. While summarizing the conclusion, the Apex Court has laid down broad guidelines, which has to be taken note of by the appointing/competent authority in dealing with the matters where there is a suppression of material information or disclosure of false information. The guidelines which have been laid down by the Apex Court Avtar Singh (supra), read as follows:

"38. We have noticed various decisions and tried to explain and reconcile them as far as possible. In view of aforesaid discussion, we summarize our conclusion thus:

38.1 Information given to the employer by a candidate as to conviction, acquittal or arrest, or pendency of a criminal case, whether before or after entering into service must be true and there should be no suppression or false mention of required information.

38.2 While passing order of termination of services or cancellation of candidature for giving false information, the employer may take notice of special circumstances of the case, if any, while giving such information.

38.3 The employer shall take into consideration the Government orders/instructions/rules, applicable to the employee, at the time of taking the decision.

38.4 In case there is suppression or false information of involvement in a criminal case where conviction or acquittal had already been recorded before filling of the application/verification form and such fact later comes to knowledge of employer, any of the following recourse appropriate to the case may be adopted : -

38.4.1 In a case trivial in nature in which conviction had been recorded, such as shouting slogans at young age or for a petty offence which if disclosed would not have rendered an incumbent unfit for post in question, the employer may, in its discretion, ignore such suppression of fact or false information by condoning the lapse.

38.4.2 Where conviction has been recorded in case which is not trivial in nature, employer may cancel candidature or terminate services of the employee.

38.4.3 If acquittal had already been recorded in a case involving moral turpitude or offence of heinous/serious nature, on technical ground and it is not a case of clean acquittal, or benefit of reasonable doubt has been given, the employer may consider all relevant facts available as to antecedents, and may take appropriate decision as to the continuance of the employee.

38.5 In a case where the employee has made declaration truthfully of a concluded criminal case, the employer still has the right to consider antecedents, and cannot be compelled to appoint the candidate.

38.6 In case when fact has been truthfully declared in character verification form regarding pendency of a criminal case of trivial nature, employer, in facts and circumstances of the case, in its discretion may appoint the candidate subject to decision of such case.

38.7 In a case of deliberate suppression of fact with respect to multiple pending cases such false information by itself will assume significance and an employer may pass appropriate order cancelling candidature or terminating services as appointment of a person against whom multiple criminal cases were pending may not be proper.

38.8 If criminal case was pending but not known to the candidate at the time of filling the form, still it may have adverse impact and the appointing authority would take decision after considering the seriousness of the crime.

38.9 In case the employee is confirmed in service, holding Departmental enquiry would be necessary before passing order of termination/removal or dismissal on the ground of suppression or submitting false information in verification form.

38.10 For determining suppression or false information attestation/verification form has to be specific, not vague. Only such information which was required to be specifically mentioned has to be disclosed. If information not asked for but is relevant comes to knowledge of the employer the same can be considered in an objective manner while addressing the question of fitness. However, in such cases action cannot be taken on basis of suppression or submitting false information as to a fact which was not even asked for.

38.11 Before a person is held guilty of suppressio veri or suggestio falsi, knowledge of the fact must be attributable to him."

11. Following the judgment in the case of Avtar Singh (Supra), the Apex Court in its latest judgment in the case of Pawan Kumar Vs. Union of India & Another, reported in 2022 0 Supreme (SC) 391, has opined that mere suppression of material/false information in a given case does not mean that employer can arbitrarily discharge/terminate an employee from service. All matters cannot be put in a straitjacket and a degree of flexibility and discretion which vests with the authorities, must be exercised with care and caution taking all facts and circumstances into consideration including the nature and type of lapse. Relevant paragraphs of the judgment in the case of Pawan Kumar (Supra), reads as follows:

"13. What emerges from the exposition as laid down by this Court is that by mere suppression of material/false information regardless of the fact whether there is a conviction or acquittal has been recorded, the employee/recruit is not to be discharged/terminated axiomatically from service just by a stroke of pen. At the same time, the effect of suppression of material/false information involving in a criminal case, if any, is left for the employer to consider all the relevant facts and circumstances available as to antecedents and keeping in view the objective criteria and the relevant service rules into consideration, while taking appropriate decision regarding continuance/suitability of the employee into service. What being noticed by this Court is that mere suppression of material/false information in a given case does not mean that the employer can arbitrarily discharge/terminate the employee from service.

???.

18. The criminal case indeed was of trivial nature and the nature of post and nature of duties to be discharged by the recruit has never been looked into by the competent authority while examining the overall suitability of the incumbent keeping in view Rule 52 of the Rules 1987 to become a member of the force. Taking into consideration the exposition expressed by this Court in Avtar Singh (supra), in our considered view the order of discharge passed by the competent authority dated 24th April, 2015 is not sustainable and in sequel thereto the judgment passed by the Division Bench of High Court of Delhi does not hold good and deserves to be set aside."

(Emphasis supplied)

12. In the order impugned dated 13th December, 2018 passed by respondent no.4 rejecting the selection/appointment of the petitioner on the post of Constable, it has been noticed that it has specifically been mentioned, in the instructions issued by the Board qua the verification of character of candidates, that if the facts mentioned in the affidavit, which has to be submitted by all the candidates, are found to be false, then the candidature of the candidate concerned for selection/appointment shall be cancelled and if any wrong fact is found in future even after selection/appointment/recruitment of the candidate concerned, then his/her services from the post of Police Constable in U.P. Police shall stand automatically terminated without any reason and notice and legal action will also be taken against him/her. On the basis of the aforesaid, respondent no.4 has recorded that since in paragraph no.2 of the affidavit, the petitioner made declaration "that to my knowledge, no criminal case/matter was ever registered against him neither any police investigation is pending", whereas on enquiry it has been found that two criminal cases were pending against him, therefore, it has been found that the petitioner has suppressed the aforesaid fact. As such the selection/appointment of the petitioner on the said post stands cancelled. When as a matter of fact, it is the categorical case of the petitioner that when the petitioner enquired as to why he is not being sent for training after selection on the said post, he has come to know from the respondent authorities that two criminal cases were pending against him. As such, the allegation against the petitioner for concealment/suppression of material fact, has no leg to stand.

13. From bare combined reading of the order impugned as well as the law laid down by the Apex Court in the cases of Avtar Singh and Pawan Kumar (Supras), this Court is of the opinion that without any enquiry as to whether the petitioner has knowledge about the criminal cases pending against him and he has deliberately concealed the same in his affidavit submitted at the time of verification as also without any notice and opportunity of hearing to him, respondent no.4 has rejected the selection/appointment of the petitioner for sending him training on the post of Constable (Civil Police) while passing the impugned order in a mechanical and harsh manner. Respondent no.4 has also not recorded any finding as to on what basis he came to the conclusion that the petitioner has concealed the material fact of pendency of criminal cases against him. Respondent no.4 has also not examined the guidelines framed by the Apex Court in the case of Avtar Singh (Supra), while rejecting the selection/appointment of the petitioner under the order impugned. Even otherwise, proceedings of both the criminal cases pending against the petitioner have already been quashed by this Court on the basis of compromise, as has already been noticed herein above.

14. In view of the aforesaid, this finds that the order impugned passed by respondent no.4 cannot be legally sustained and is hereby quashed. Matter is remitted back to respondent no.4 for decision afresh in light of the law laid down by the Apex Court in the cases of Avtar Singh and Pawan Kumar (Supras). While deciding the matter afresh, respondent no.4 shall pass a reasoned and speaking order, after affording opportunity of hearing to the petitioner, preferably within three months from the date a certified copy of this order is filed before him.

15. The present writ petition is allowed subject to the observations made above.

(2022) 9 ILRA 867
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 04.08.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE NEERAJ TIWARI, J.

Writ A No.3475 of 2022

Hari Ram Singh ...Appellant
Versus
The State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri Shivendu Ojha, Sri Shatrughan Sonwal, Sri R.K. Ojha (Sr. Adv.)

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C., Sri Abhishek Srivastava, Sri Ramesh Chandra Pandey

Advertisement for appointment of Technician Grade -II -qualification-High School along with two years diploma certificate issued by NCVT/SCVT-Petitioner had trade proficiency Certificate issued by Indian Armed force-which is equivalent-candidature rejected-mandatory NCVT/SCVT Certificate lacking.

W.P. dismissed. (E-9)

List of Cases cited:

1. Munesh Kumar & ors. Vs St. of U.P. & ors. (Writ A No. 52658 of 2012)

2. Sanjay Batra Vs St. of U.P. Throu. Prin. Secy. Energy Deptt. Lko & ors. (Service Single No. 460 of 2014)

3. Dinesh Kumar Shukla Vs Electricity Service Commission, Lucknow Thru. Chairman & ors. (Special Appeal Defective No. 392 of 2017)

4. Sudhir Singh Vs St. of U.P. & anr. (Special Appeal Defective No. 147 of 2021) dated 19.02.2021

(Delivered by Hon'ble Neeraj Tiwari, J.)

1. Heard learned counsel for the petitioner, learned standing counsel for respondent no. 1, Sri Abhishek Srivastava, learned counsel for respondent nos. 2 and 3 and Sri Ramesh Chandra Pandey, learned counsel for respondent no. 4.

2. Learned counsel for the petitioner submitted that an advertisement dated 17.06.2020 was issued by respondent no. 3 for appointment of Technician Grade-II and as per advertisement, qualification for appointment was High School or equivalent with Science and Math alongwith two years diploma certificate issued by National Council of Vocational Training (in short "NCVT") / State Council of Vocational Training (in short "SCVT"). Petitioner being Ex-serviceman, has applied for the same having certificate issued by Indian Armed Forces (Army) Trade Proficiency Certificate For Ex-Servicemen dated 29.02.2020, which is equivalent to the certificate issued by NCVT/SCVT, but his candidature has been rejected on the ground that certificate, so issued, is neither equivalent to certificate issued by NCVT/SCVT nor as per requirement of advertisement. He next submitted that Government of India, Ministry of Labour & Employment Directorate General of Employment & Training vide letter dated 4/13.03.2013 has directed all the Directors of State Government/ UT Administration dealing with Craftsman Training Scheme to treat the certificate issued by respective departments of Army, Air Force and Navy equivalent to the certificate issued by NCVT/ NCTVT. He next submitted that under such facts and circumstances, impugned order is bad and liable to be set aside.

3. Sri Ramesh Chandra Pandey, learned counsel appearing on behalf of newly impleaded respondent no. 4 has filed short counter affidavit, which is taken on record. He also relied upon the very same letter dated 4/13.03.2013 issued by Government of India, Ministry of Labour & Employment Directorate General of Employment & Training and submitted that this certificate is equivalent to the certificate issued by NCVT/ SCVT.

4. Sri Abhishek Srivastava, learned counsel for respondent nos. 2 and 3 vehemently opposed the submissions raised by learned counsel for the petitioner and submitted that it is required on the part of petitioner to fulfill the qualification whatsoever is mentioned in the advertisement and undisputedly, the requirement is to have two years training certificate issued by NCVT/ SCVT in Trade of Electrician, Electrical and Electrical (power distribution under skill development). He next submitted that undisputedly, petitioner is not having the certificate issued by NCVT/ SCVT as desired in the advertisement. Similar controversy came up before this Court on so many occasions and Court has taken the constant view that requirement of advertisement has to be completed.

5. He placed reliance upon the judgment of this Court in the matter of Munesh Kumar and others Vs. State of U.P. and others (Writ A No. 52658 of 2012) dated 28.09.2012 in which Court has held that under such circumstances, Court cannot proceed to exercise its authority to accord any relief.

6. He next placed reliance upon the judgment of this Court in the matter of Sanjay Batra Vs. State of U.P. Throu. Prin. Secy. Energy Deptt. Lko and others (Service Single No. 460 of 2014) dated 10.03.2015 and submitted that point no. 2 decided in the said judgment is the controversy of this petition. In that case too, three years diploma certificate was required whereas petitioner was having certificate issued by Indian Armed Forces (Army) and Court has again taken the very same view that if the petitioner is not holding any diploma of three years issued by authority mentioned in the advertisement, no relief can be granted.

7. Next, he placed reliance upon the judgment of Division Bench of this Court in the matter of Dinesh Kumar Shukla Vs.

Electricity Service Commission, Lucknow Thru. Chairman and others (Special Appeal Defective No. 392 of 2017) dated 15.09.2017 in which issue was the same. In that case, petitioner is having certificate issued by the Indian Air Force on account of his serving with the Air Force from 20th September, 1991 to 20th September, 2011, but his candidature was not considered as it was not issued by authority mentioned in the advertisement. Petitioner has challenged the same by filing writ petition before this Court, which was rejected. Against that, he has preferred Special Appeal. Division Bench has affirmed the judgment of Single Bench by dismissing the appeal of the appellant. In the present case too, certificate of the very same nature as it was also issued to the petitioner on the basis of his proficiency acquired during his 6 years, 2 months and 27 days of service.

8. Lastly, he placed reliance upon another judgment of Division Bench of this Court in the matter of Sudhir Singh Vs. State of U.P. and another (Special Appeal Defective No. 147 of 2021) dated 19.02.2021, which also shows that condition so mentioned in the advertisement has to be complied. In that case, appellant was having Diploma in Electrical Engineering issued by Indian Air Force. Court after considering the arguments so advanced, came to the conclusion that equivalence to any other course can be given by the council namely AICTE or the State Government for their service and not by any other body having no authority of it for general application. He next submitted that in present case, certificate so required is from NCVT/ SCVT of two years training course, but it has never declared by NCVT/ SCVT that certificate issued by the Indian Armed Forces (Army) is equivalent to certificate issued by the Institution, therefore, same cannot be treated equivalent and the petition may be dismissed.

9. I have considered the rival submissions made by learned counsel for the parties and perused the record. The only issue before this Court is as to whether certificate so submitted by the petitioner is fulfilling the terms of the advertisement or not, therefore, advertisement dated 17.06.2020 is being quoted herein below;

"

10. In paragraph 2 of the advertisement under Heading "Essential Educational Qualification", it is clearly mentioned that petitioner must have passed High School or equivalent examination with Science and Math subjects alongwith two years training diploma as regular student from NCVT/ SCVT. In the present case, there is no dispute on the point that petitioner was never a regular student of NCVT/ SCVT and obtained certificate as required by the respondent nos. 2 and 3. This Court in the matter of Munesh Kumar (supra) has dealt with very same issue in which petitioners have completed the training in Electric in service and possess the certificate Proficiency Certificate and in N.A.C. Electrical which is equivalent to qualification as advertised. Lastly, Court has opined that once certificate issued in favour of petitioner is not accepted by the respondents, Court cannot proceed to exercise its authority of judicial review to accord any relief. In present case too, petitioner was issued Trade Proficiency Certificate For Ex-Servicemen issued by Indian Armed Forces (Army) based upon proficiency acquired during 16 years 2 months 27 days of service in the Army. Relevant paragraph of Munesh Kumar (supra) is being quoted below;

"This Court has occasion to consider the advertisement in question at page 17 of the paper book and as per the advertisement in question candidate desirous of being appointed has to have to his credit High School or equivalent examination certificate with Science and Math from U.P. High School Board or from any other equivalent Board with two years certificate in Electrician trade obtained from All India/State Vocational certificate. Accepted position is that petitioners are not at all having the aforementioned certificate and to the contrary petitioners are contending that they have completed the training in Electric in service and possess the certificate Proficiency Certificate and in N.A.C. Electrician which is equivalent to qualification as advertised. The advertisement in question at no point of time permits to furnish any equivalent certificate to be furnished as has been specifically provided for i.e. certificates issues in electrical trade obtained from All India and State vocational certificate. Once such is the factual situation that certificates issued in favour of the petitioner are not accepted to be certificate as is required in the advertisement then this Court cannot proceed to exercise its authority of judicial review to accord any relief, as equivalence is to be determined by the authorities, and that too when there is any room for the said purpose."

11. Again in the matter of Sanjay Batra (supra) issue was same and Court has framed point no. 2, whether Diploma held by the petitioner satisfies the requirement of advertisement. Lastly, Court has taken the very same view that petitioner is not holding a requisite Diploma as required under the advertisement and Diploma, which he is having is not recognized by the State of U.P. to be equivalent to the three years Diploma awarded by Pravidhik Shiksha Parishad, U.P. Relevant paragraphs are quoted below;

"Point-2:- Whether the Diploma held by the petitioner satisfies the requirement of advertisement?

The advertisement lays down the essential qualification for the candidates applying to the aforesaid post as under:-

(i) Three years Diploma examination in Electrical Engineering/ Electronics Engineering/ Telecommunication Engineering/ Civil Engineering awarded by Pravidhik Shiksha Parishad, Uttar Pradesh or a Diploma, equivalent thereto, recognized by the State Government, or

(ii) Three years All India Diploma Examination in Electrical Engineering/ Electronics Engineering/ Telecommunication Engineering/ Civil Engineering conducted by the All India Council for Technical Education (AICTE), or

(iii) Diploma Examination in Electrical Engineering/ Electronics Engineering/ Telecommunication Engineering/ Civil Engineering conducted by any of the Universities in India incorporated by an Act of the Central/ State legislature.

It may be noted that the petitioner is holding a Diploma in Electronics Radio Communication Engineering which he did from Communication Training Institute

(C.T.I.) Banglore. The said Diploma certificate has been issued to him by the Indian Air Force. The duration of the said Diploma course as stated in the certificate is two years i.e.1994-96.

In view of the aforesaid certificate it is clear that petitioner is not holding any Diploma of three years which has been issued either by the Pravidhik Shiksha Parishad, or All India Council for Technical Education or any Central or State University. Therefore, the petitioner is not holding a Diploma as envisaged in the advertisement as the minimum qualification for eligibility.

In the above circumstances, the only thing which is required to be seen is whether the Diploma which the petitioner is holding is equivalent to the Three Years Diploma awarded by the Pravidhik Shiksha Parishad,Uttar Pradesh.

In this connection, it is important to note that the Diploma which the petitioner is holding is of only two years duration and is not of three years. Secondly, there is nothing on record to establish that it has been recognized by the State of U.P. or any other authority equivalent to Three years Diploma examination in Electrical Engineering/ Electronics Engineering/ Telecommunication Engineering/ Civil Engineering awarded by Pravidhik Shiksha Parishad, Uttar Pradesh rather annexure-3 to the counter affidavit which is letter dated 14.10.2011 addressed by the Secretary Pravidhik Shiksha Parishad, Lucknow to the Secretary U.P. Power Corporation on the query made with regard to the similar certificates states that course in respect whereof certificates have been issued are not of three years, the same cannot be regarded as equivalent to the Three year Diploma certificate prescribed as the essential qualification under the advertisement.

The recognition to any Diploma as equivalent to Three Years Diploma in the desired subject awarded by Pravidhik Shiksha Parishad has to be by the State of U.P. There is no material to show that the State of U.P. has recognized the Diploma held by the petitioner as equivalent to the Three Years Diploma in the concern subject of the Pravidhik Shiksha Parishad.

Learned counsel for the petitioner has placed strong reliance upon the letter of the Secretary to the Government of India dated 31.12.1999 addressed to the Joint Director Directorate Ex-Service Welfare, Chennai which states that the Government of India have recognized the certificate in the Trade of Radio Fitter which is made equivalent to Diploma in Radio/ Electronics and Communication Engineering for the purposes of employment and as such a requesting to recognize it as equivalent to Diploma in Electronics/ Radio Communication Engineering. The said letter do recognize the Diploma certificate in Radio Fitter as equivalent to Diploma in Radio/ Electronics and Communication Engineering but this recognition is only by the Government of India and not by the Government of U.P. The requirement of equivalency has to be by the State Government.

In view of the aforesaid facts and circumstances, I am of the opinion that the petitioner is neither an Ex-Serviceman nor is holding a requisite Diploma as required under the advertisement and that the Diploma which he is holding is not recognized by the State of U.P. to be equivalent to the Three Years Diploma awarded by Pravidhik Shiksha Parishad, U.P.

Accordingly, petitioner is neither entitle to the benefit of an ex-serviceman nor is qualified for the post in question as advertised. Thus, the respondents have rightly declined to accept him for interview.

The writ petition is devoid of merit and is accordingly dismissed with no orders as to costs."

12. This issue was also came before Division Bench of this Court in the matter of Dinesh Kumar Shukla (supra) and Division Bench repeated the same view. Relevant paragraphs of the said judgment are quoted below;

"Learned Single Judge dismissed the writ petition of the petitioner-appellant on the finding that he did not possess the requisite diploma qualification as was mentioned in the advertisement. Learned counsel for the appellant submitted that the appellant did possess the diploma in Electrical Engineering relying upon a certificate issued by the Indian Air force on account of his serving with the Air force from 20th September, 1991 to 20th September, 2011 and having undergone the prescribed training in the Trade of MS FIT (E). He further submits that in the certificate it is mentioned that if the candidate acquires 10 years technical experience in appropriate field alongwith the diploma it would become equivalent to the degree in engineering and that he would be eligible for applying to gazetted posts under Central or State Government. He submits that appellant worked for 20 years with the Indian Air force alongwith his technical training as such he was fully eligible for applying to the post of Junior Engineer (Electrical) with the U.P. Power Corporation. This aspect has been dealt with by the learned Single Judge and it did not find favour. The same was rejected on two grounds that the training period of Diploma was very short and not of 3 years as required and secondly the same was not recognised by the Competent Authority. We do not find any fault with the reasoning recorded by the learned Single Judge by rejecting the said argument and dismissing the writ petition.

13. Once again this Court has considered the very same issue in the matter of Sudhir Singh (supra) and reiterated its earlier view. Relevant paragraphs are quoted below;

"We otherwise find that the qualification prescribed under the rules and mentioned in para 5 of the advertisement was required to be possessed by the candidates. Equivalence to any other course can be given by the council namely AICTE or the State Government for their service and not by any other body having no authority of it for general application. The petitioner-appellant is not in possession of the qualification conferred either by an university incorporated by the Central or State Legislature or three years diploma course conducted by AICTE or for that State of U.P. There is nothing on record to show that the State of U.P. has given equivalence to the course/certificate obtained by the petitioner-appellant.

In absence of it, we do not find any error in the judgment to hold the petitioner-appellant to be ineligible. It otherwise goes without saying that the recognition of the institution and the course remains under the domain of AICTE and not with anyone else. The equivalence of the course is also to be given by AICTE being the council competent to issue notification for technical education. It is pursuant to the provisions of All India Council for Technical Education Act, 1987. If the recognition or equivalence of a technical course is to be given, it has to be as per the provisions of All India Council for Technical Education Act, 1987 and not in violation of it."

14. Now coming to the present case. In this case also, advertisement is very clear which shows that certificate has to be issued by NCVT/ SCVT for a regular student who has attended two years training course, which is undisputedly lacking and certificate of petitioner is issued by Indian Armed Forces (Army) based upon 16 years experience of service. This issue have also been considered in the judgments cited before this Court and it is consistently held that Court cannot proceed to exercise its authority of judicial review to compel the respondents to accept the equivalence as claimed by the petitioner based upon the notification issued by the Central Government coupled with the fact that essential requirement is of two years regular training course for obtaining Diploma of NCVT/ SCVT. Therefore, in light of discussion made hereinabove as well as law laid down by the Courts, no interference is required.

15. Petition lacks merit and is accordingly dismissed. No order as to costs.

(2022) 9 ILRA 873
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 15.07.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE NEERAJ TIWARI, J.

Writ A No.6237 of 2022

Brahamnad Tyagi ...Appellant
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri Kunal Shah, Sri Suvansit Kumar Jaiswal

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C., Sri Rajesh Kumar Yadav, Sri Suresh C. Dwivedi

Civil Law - U.P. Agricultural Produce Market committees (Centralized) Services Regulations, 1984-Petitioner retired in 2018-chargesheet served on 2022-against this the present Petition- no provision under Rules, 1984 which empower to initiate disciplinary proceeding against a retired employee-impugned order set aside.

Held, Even in case of adoption of rules applicable to the St. Government employees under Regulation 43 of Regulations 1984, once the service is not pensionable under Regulation 47 of Regulations 1984, no action can be taken against him under Article 351-A of CSR or any other rule adopted by respondents under Regulation 43 of Regulations 1984. (para 13)

W.P. allowed. (E-9)

List of Cases cited:

1. Rajya Krishi Utpadan Mandi Parishad & anr. Vs Public Services Tribunal U.P. & ors., 2008 (2) ADJ 11 (DB)

2. S.P.S. Raghav Vs St. of U.P. & ors., 2018(6) ADJ 193 (DB)

3. Rajendra Prasad Singh Vs St. of U.P. & ors. passed in Writ-A No. 7517 of 2016 decided on 29.02.2016

(Delivered by Hon'ble Neeaj Tiwari, J.)

1. Heard Sri Kunal Shah, learned counsel for the petitioner, learned Standing Counsel for the respondent no. 1 and Sri S.C. Dwivedi, learned counsel for the respondent nos. 2, 3 and 4.

2. Present petition has been filed for following reliefs:-

"I. Issue a Writ, order or direction in the nature of Certiorari quashing the impugned order dated 07.07.2021, issued by Respondent No. 3, being wholly without jurisdiction.

II. Issue a Writ, order or direction in the nature of Certiorari quashing the impugned charge sheet dated 07.07.2022, issued by enquiry officer."

3. Learned counsel for the petitioner submitted that petitioner was employed in the establishment of respondent no. 3 on 01.04.1999 on the post of Head Clerk and he was retired on 30.04.2018. He further submitted that a charge sheet has been served upon petitioner on 07.04.2022, against which, petitioner filed present petition. He next submitted that service of the petitioner is governed by U. P. Agricultural Produce Market Committees (Centralized) Services Regulations, 1984 (hereinafter referred to as the Regulations, 1984) and Regulations, 1984 is having no provision to empower the respondent nos. 2 and 3 to initiate disciplinary proceeding against a retired employee. Therefore, disciplinary proceeding so initiated as well as impugned charge sheet dated 07.04.2022 is bad in law, without jurisdiction and liable to be quashed.

4. He further submitted that under Regulation 43 of Regulations, 1984 rules relating to disciplinary proceedings, appeals and representations against punishment, applicable to the employees of the State Government shall apply to the members of the Centralized Service. It is undisputed that as per Regulation 47 of the Regulations, 1984, service of the petitioner is not pensionable. Once the service of the petitioner is not pensionable, Article 351-A of U.P. Civil Service Regulations (hereinafter referred to as CSR) shall not be applicable in the case of petitioner and disciplinary proceeding cannot be initiated against him after retirement. He next submitted that assuming it to be correct that Article 351-A of CSR is applicable, even though no disciplinary proceeding can be initiated against the petitioner for the reason that charge sheet was issued after four years from the date of his retirement. He lastly submitted that the very same issue was challenged before this Court in the case of Rajya Krishi Utpadan Mandi Parishad and another Vs. Public Services Tribunal U.P. and others, 2008 (2) ADJ 11 (DB), in which this Court has framed four questions, which were answered. Relevant question was as to whether in absence of any rule or regulation, disciplinary proceeding can continue, after a charged employee attains the age of superannuation. The Court answered and held that under Regulations, 1984 there is no provision for disciplinary proceeding against a retired employee, therefore, no such proceeding can be initiated against a retired employee. Even if proceeding so initiated before retirement shall not continue and be dropped. In the matter of S.P.S. Raghav Vs. State of U.P. and others, 2018(6) ADJ 193 (DB), the Court has taken the same view and held that in absence of any rule, no disciplinary proceeding can be initiated against the retired employee. Similar issue was again came up before this Court in the case of Rajendra Prasad Singh Vs. State of U.P. and 4 others passed in Writ-A No. 7517 of 2016 decided on 29.02.2016 in which this Court has taken the same view.

5. Lastly, he submitted that under such facts and circumstances of the case as well as law laid down by this Court, the impugned order dated 07.07.2021 for initiating inquiry and subsequent charge sheet dated 07.04.2022 may be set aside.

6. Sri S.C. Dwivedi, learned counsel for the respondent nos. 2, 3 and 4 relying upon paragraph 14 of the counter affidavit submitted that as misconduct was traced out first time in the year 2016, therefore, disciplinary proceeding has been initiated against the petitioner, but could not dispute the legal submission made by learned counsel for the petitioner based upon Regulations 1984 as well as judgments of this Court.

7. I have considered the submissions made by learned counsels for the parties and perused the Regulations 1984 as well as judgment relied upon by learned counsel for the petitioner. The facts of the case are undisputed and only question before the Court is as to whether any disciplinary proceeding may be initiated against a retired employee under Regulations 1984 or not.

8. This legal issue first time came up before this Court in the matter of Rajya Krishi Utpadan Mandi Parishad (supra) in which Court has framed five questions to answer. Question No. 4 is relevant for deciding the present controversy, which is quoted below:-

"(iv) The contesting respondent reached the age of superannuation on 31.1.1994. In these circumstances, where at this stage any disciplinary inquiry can continue against the contesting respondent."

9. This Court after detailed discussions replied the same in paragraphs 24 to 36, which are being quoted below:-

"24. The Board, with prior approval of the State Government, has framed the Service Regulations. Regulation 43 relates to disciplinary proceeding. It is as follows:

"43. The rules relating to disciplinary proceeding, appeals and representations against punishment, applicable to the employees of the State Government shall mutatis mutandis apply to the members of the centralized service."

25. This regulation applies the rules relating to disciplinary proceeding, appeal and representations against punishment, applicable to the employees of the State Government, to the employees of the Board with appropriate changes that should be made in respect to the employees of the Board.

26. The following rules were applicable to the government servant at the time of disciplinary inquiry:

The Civil Services (Classification, Control, and Appeal) Rules, 1930 (as notified in the State of UP) (the 1930 Rules);

The Punishment and Appeal Rules for Subordinate Services Uttar Pradesh, 1932 (the 1932 Rules); and Civil Services Regulation 351-A.

27. At present, UP Government Servant (Discipline and Appeal) Rules, 1999 (the 1999 Rules) are in force and the 1930 Rules and the 1932 Rules have been rescinded. The inquiry, if it is to be conducted then, has to be done in the light of the 1999 Rules {see Rule 17(2) of the 1999 Rules} and Civil Services Regulation 351-A. However, it is not material whether the 1930 and 1932 Rules or the 1999 Rules are applicable because there is no difference in them on the question whether disciplinary proceeding can continue after age of superannuation.

28. The counsel for the contesting respondent submitted that:

The contesting respondent reached the age of superannuation during pendency of the case before the Tribunal on 31.1.1994;

The disciplinary proceeding after date of superannuation can continue only if article 351-A of the Civil Services Regulations is applicable;

Article 351-A is applicable only to pensionable posts;

The post of the petitioner is not pensionable and as such article 351-A is not applicable;

There is no other provision under which disciplinary proceeding can continue after superannuation.

The entire disciplinary proceeding has become infructuous after superannuation and are to be dropped.

Article 351-A of Civil Services Regulations--Not Applicable

29. Article 351-A of the Civil Services Regulation empowers the Governor to, Withhold or withdraw pension or any part of it permanently or for the specified period; or Order for recovery from the pension for any pecuniary loss caused to the government.

30. In case any post is not pensionable then Article 351-A is not be applicable as there is no question of any recovery from the pension of that person. The post of the petitioner is not pensionable and as such it is not applicable.

No Other Provision

31. No other rule or regulation has been pointed out to show that any deduction can be made from the post retirement benefits or disciplinary proceeding can continue after superannuation. The question is--in absence of any such provision--can disciplinary proceeding go on?

32. In this regard, the following cases were cited before us. In our opinion, they do not help in deciding the controversy: the reasons are as follows:

(a) Subhash Chandra Sharma v. Managing Director and another. 2000(1) UPLBEC 541 (paragraph 9); Babu Lal v. State of UP and Others. 2002 LabIC 3595 (paragraph 15); UP Cooperative Federation Ltd. v. LP Rai (2007) (7) SCC 81 (paragraph 5). These are the cases, where departmental inquiry was quashed and the court also held that the fresh inquiry can be done. There is no discussion on the question whether the disciplinary proceeding can continue after superannuation or not.

(b) Union of India and Ors. v. Shri B. Dev JT 1998 (5) SC 480 and Krishna Kumar (dead.) through L.Rs. v. State of UP and Ors. 1998 (4) AWC 595. In these cases, the disciplinary proceeding was permitted to continue after superannuation. However, there was provision to continue the proceeding and deduction from pension could be made. It appears that posts were pensionable.

(c) Radhey Kant Khare v. UP Cooperative Sugar Factories Federation Ltd. 2003 (1) ESC 427 Town Area Committee, Jalalabad, v. Jagdish Prasad and Ors. AIR 1978 SC 1407. In these cases, the punishment order was quashed and further disciplinary proceedings were not held. However, no argument was advanced before the court whether disciplinary proceeding should be permitted to continue. There is no discussion on the question whether the disciplinary proceeding can proceed after age of superannuation or not.

(d) CL Verma v. State of MP and Ors. 1989 (59) FLR 786. This was the case, where disciplinary proceeding was started after retirement. The court held that as there is no provision for starting disciplinary proceeding after retirement, the charged employee can not be proceeded with. This case is not applicable here as in the present case not only the disciplinary proceedings were started at the time when the contesting respondent was in service but they were completed and the removal as well as appellate orders were passed when the contesting respondent was in service.

(e) BJ Shelat v. State of Gujrat and Ors. AIR 1978 SC 1109 (10) Union of India and Ors. v. Sayed Muzaffar Mir (1995) AIR 1995 SC 176 (4). In these cases, the employee had sought voluntary retirement. The government has option to refuse it on specific grounds and the fact that disciplinary proceedings are contemplated is one such ground. The government did not exercise the option to withhold the voluntary retirement within time. It is in this light that the court held that once an employee has voluntarily retired the disciplinary proceeding can not be started.

33. The counsel for the contesting responded has cited Bhagirathi Jena v. Board of Directors OSFC and Ors. (1999) AIR 1999 SC 1841 (the BhagirathiJena case); and the two other decisions of our court reported in Dr. RB Agnihotri v. State of UP and other 2000(2) ESC 915 and Ravindra Singh Rathor v. District Inspector of Schools Etawah and Ors. 2004 (1) AWC 310. The decisions of our court rely upon the BhagirathiJena case. These cases are relevant for deciding the issue involved in the present case.

34. In the BhagirathiJena case, the charged employee was suspended and disciplinary inquiry was started before his superannuation. However the inquiry could not finish before his superannuation. The charged employee was relieved after superannuation without prejudice to the claim of the employer. The disciplinary proceeding were continued after his superannuation. The charged employee filed a writ petition, which was dismissed by the High Court. The charged employee took the matter to the Supreme Court.

35. The Supreme Court, after noticing that there was neither any specific provision to deduct the amount from the provident fund nor any provision to continue disciplinary proceeding, held:

"In view of the absence of such provision in the above said regulations, it must be held that the Corporation had no legal authority to make any reduction in the retiral benefits of the appellant. There is also no provision for conducting a disciplinary enquiry after retirement of the appellant nor any provision stating that in case misconduct is established, a deduction could be made from retiral benefits. Once the appellant had retired from service on 30.6.95, there was no authority vested in the Corporation for continuing the departmental enquiry even for the purpose of imposing any reduction in the retiral benefits payable to the appellant. In the absence of such authority, it must be held that the enquiry had lapsed and the appellant was entitled to full retiral benefits on retirement."

36. The position in this case is similar. The effect of quashing of punishment order is that the disciplinary proceedings revive and are pending. No provision has been pointed out for continuing the departmental enquiry or making deduction from post retiral benefits (apart from Article 351-A, which we have held is not applicable). In view of the same, the disciplinary proceeding cannot go on: the petitioner is entitled to the salary and post retiral benefits (minus the subsistence allowance that he has already received)."

10. This issue was again came up before this Court in the case of S.P.S. Raghav (Supra). Paragraphs 9 to 14 of the said judgment are quoted below:-

"9. Here in this case, it is not clear that as to when Hon'ble Governor has accorded sanction for initiating the disciplinary proceeding but it is apparent that the date, on which sanction was accorded, is prior to commencement of Rules of 2011 for the reasons that the charge-sheet was served upon the petitioner through letter dated 3.3.2011 whereas Rule 2011 came into force in November 2011 i.e. on 11.11.2011. Therefore, it is clear that whenever sanction was accorded by Hon'ble Governor, the post of Chief Engineer was not pensionable.

10. Here the question would be as to whether the Rules of 2011 can be applied with retrospective effect for grant of sanction for initiating the disciplinary proceedings against a retired employee.

11. We have gone through the Rules of 2011 covering the field, in our view, the competence of an authority for exercising the power vested in, him is to be seen on the date when the power has been exercised and not on a subsequent date. Here, in this case, on factual matrix, it is not in dispute that the sanction was accorded, for initiating the disciplinary proceeding by Hon'ble the Governor, prior to the commencement of the Rules of 2011 and at that time, the post, which was held by the petitioner, was not pensionable whereas under Regulation 351-A, the Hon'ble Governor can withhold or withdraw a pension or any part of it, whether permanently or for a specified period and the right of ordering the recovery from a pension of the whole or part of any pecuniary loss caused to Government, if the pensioner is found in departmental or judicial proceedings to have been guilty of grave mis-conduct, or to have caused pecuniary loss to Government by misconduct or Negligence, during his service, including service rendered on re-employment after retirement.

12. Learned counsel for the other side submitted that since the Rules of 2011 has been made applicable with retrospective effect, therefore there was no illegality in granting sanction, in our considered view, the argument advanced by learned counsel for the respondents is superfluous and does not carry any weight as relevant date for exercising the power will be the date on which it was exercised as discussed, herein, above and the same cannot be validated taking advantage of subsequent enactment. In our view, since on the date when Hon'ble Governor has accorded the sanction for initiating disciplinary proceeding was not having power as the post in question was not pensionable, therefore he could not accord the sanction.

13. The view taken by us, find support from paragraphs 28 and 30 of the judgement rendered by Division Bench of this Court in case of Rajya Krishi Utpadan Mandi Parishad (supra), in which one of us (Justice Ran Vijai Singh) was a member. For ready reference, para 28 and 30 of the judgement are being quoted herein below;

"28. The counsel for the contesting respondent submitted that:

The contesting respondent reached the age of superannuation during pendency of the case before the Tribunal on 31.1.1994;

The disciplinary proceeding after date of superannuation can continue only if article 351-A of the Civil Services Regulations is applicable;

Article 351-A is applicable only to pensionable posts;

The post of the petitioner is not pensionable and as such article 351-A is not applicable;

There is no other provision under which disciplinary proceeding can continue after superannuation.

The entire disciplinary proceeding has become infructuous after superannuation and are to be dropped.

30. In case any post is not pensionable then Article 351-A is not be applicable as there is no question of any recovery from the pension of that person. The post of the petitioner is not pensionable and as such it is not applicable."

14. It is well-settled law that any order without jurisdiction is a nullity and no legal consequence can flow from such order. Reference may be made to the decisions of the Apex Court in Managing Director, Army Welfare Housing Organization v. Sumangal Services Pvt. Ltd., (2004) 9 SCC 619, Sarup Singh and another v. Union of India and another, (2011) 11 SCC 198, Division Bench decision of this Court in the case of Committee of Management Shri Jawahar Inter College and another v. State of U.P. and others in Special Appeal No. 164 of 2012 decided on 25.1.2012, Rajesh Kumar Shukla v. State of U.P. and others, 2017(7) ADJ 601 and Mithai Lal v. State of U.P. and others (Writ-A No. 24586 of 2014, decided on 12.10.2017).

11. Similar issue was again came up before this Court for consideration in the case of Rajendra Prasad Singh (supra).

After considering the judgments of Apex Court as well of this High Court, this Court has taken the same view. Relevant portion of the said judgment is quoted below:-

"Counter affidavit has been filed by the respondent nos. 2 to 5, in which it is contended that since departmental enquiry has been initiated prior to the petitioner's superannuation, as such, it is legal for the respondents to conclude such proceedings, and order under challenge does not suffer from any illegality. Learned counsel for the respondents however, fairly states that on the legal position, there exists no provision in Service Rules, 1981 whereunder enquiry initiated against an employee could be continued or concluded even after an employee has attained the age of superannuation. Continuance of departmental enquiry, after superannuation, in the absence of enabling provision, has been considered in the case of Dev Prakash Tiwari Vs. Uttar Pradesh Cooperative Institutional Service Board, Lucknow and others, (2014), 7 SCC 260. Hon'ble Supreme Court has been pleased to observe that in the absence of provision existing in the Service Rules, disciplinary proceedings cannot be allowed after attaining superannuation and action of respondents in continuing with such enquiry would be without jurisdiction. Following the aforesaid view, this Court in Special Appeal Defective no. 31 of 2016, Banda District Cooperative Bank Limited and 2 others Vs. State of U.P. and 2 others, decided on 3.2.2016, has been pleased to hold as under :-

"On a pointed query of the Court, the learned counsel for the appellant candidly admitted that there was no provision under the U.P. Cooperative Service Regulation 1975, which may authorize continuance of the proceedings from the stage at which the defect has been noticed nor is there any provision in terms of which the proceedings may be continued and taken to their logical conclusion even after the retirement of the petitioner. We may in this connection refer to the law as laid down by the Supreme Court in Bhagirathi Jena Vs. Board of Directors, O.S.F.C. & others as reiterated by the Supreme Court in Deo Prakash Tewari Vs. U.P. Cooperative Institutional Service Board which clearly hold that once an employee has retired from service, in the absence of any authority vesting in the employer the right to continue disciplinary proceedings thereafter, the enquiry proceedings would be deemed to have lapsed and the employee would be entitled to all retiral benefits. In light of the above law laid down by the Supreme Court, we are unable to accede to the submission of the learned counsel for the appellant for a remit of the proceedings.

For the aforesaid reasons, we find no ground warranting interference with the judgement of the learned Single Judge. The special appeal is consequently dismissed."

In view of the law settled, it is not open for the respondents to proceed pursuant to show cause notice dated 21.1.2016 for the purpose of passing any order against the petitioner."

12. From perusal of the judgments of the Apex Court as well as this Court, it is very much clear that once there is no rule occupying the field for disciplinary proceeding against an employee after retirement, proceeding so initiated or continued after retirement, is not sustainable as it de-hors the rules and liable to be set aside.

13. In the present case too, petitioner was retired on 30.04.2018 thereafter disciplinary proceeding was initiated vide order dated 07.07.2021 and charge sheet was served upon him on 07.04.2022 i.e. undisputedly disciplinary proceeding was initiated after retirement of the petitioner whereas Regulations 1984 does not provide any disciplinary proceeding against a retired employee. Even in case of adoption of rules applicable to the State Government employees under Regulation 43 of Regulations 1984, once the service is not pensionable under Regulation 47 of Regulations 1984, no action can be taken against him under Article 351-A of CSR or any other rule adopted by respondents under Regulation 43 of Regulations 1984. Therefore, impugned order dated 07.07.2021 and subsequent charge sheet dated 07.07.2022 are bad in law and liable to be set aside.

14. Accordingly, the writ petition is allowed. The impugned order dated 07.07.2021 passed by respondent no. 3 and charge sheet dated 07.04.2022 are hereby quashed.

15. No order as to costs.

(2022) 9 ILRA 881
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 29.08.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE MRS. SUNITA AGARWAL, J.
THE HON'BLE MRS. JYOTSNA SHARMA, J.

Writ A No.7994 of 2022

Mahesh Kumar Singh & Anr. ...Appellants
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellants:
Sri Alok Kumar Yadav, Ms. Jigyasa Singh

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C., Sri Ashish Mishra

Civil Law - U.P. Higher Judicial Service Rules, 1975- prescription of minimum passing marks in the interview-upheld-Petitioners participated in interview-had knowledge of prescribed minimum pass marks-cannot turn around and contest the minimum prescribed marks.

W.P. dismissed. (E-9)

List of Cases cited:

1. All India Judges' Assc. & ors. Vs U.O.I. & ors., (2002) 4 SCC 247

2. Ramesh Kumar Vs High Court of Delhi & anr., (2010) 3 SCC 104

3. Hemani Malhotra Vs High Court of Delhi, (2008) 7 SCC 11

4. Salam Samarjeet Singh Vs High Court of Manipur at Imphal & anr., (2016) 10 SCC 484

5. Taniya Malik Vs Registrar General of the High Court of Delhi, (2018) 14 SCC 129

6. K.H. Siraj Vs High Court of Kerala & ors., (2006) 6 SCC 395

7. St. of U.P. Vs Rafiquddin & ors., 1987 (Supp) SCC 401

8. Dr. Krushna Chandra Sahu & ors. Vs St. of Orissa & ors., (1995) 6 SCC 1

9. Manjeet Singh, UDC & ors. Vs Employees St. Insurance Corp. & anr., (1990) 2 SCC 367

10. Lila Dhar Vs St. of Raj. & ors., (1981) 4 SCC 159

11. Ashok Kumar Yadav & ors. Vs St. of Har. & ors., (1985) 4 SCC 417

12. Madan Lal Vs St. of J& K (1995) 3 SCC 486

(Delivered by Hon'ble Mrs. Sunita Agarwal, J.
&
Hon'ble Mrs. Jyotsna Sharma, J.)

1. Heard Sri Alok Kumar Yadav learned counsel for the petitioners and Sri Ashish Mishra learned counsel for the respondent-High Court.

2. The present writ petition has been filed seeking declaration of Note (ii) Paper No. 6 (Interview) to Appendix-G framed under Rule 18 of the U.P. Higher Judicial Service Rules, 1975 (In short as "the U.P.H.J.S. Rules, 1975) as ultra vires to Articles 14 and 16 of the Constitution of India, in view of the decision of the Apex Court in the cases of All India Judges' Association and others vs. Union of India and others1 and Ramesh Kumar vs. High Court of Delhi and another2.

3. The petitioners herein being practicing Advocates at the District Judgeship at Meerut and Delhi had participated for appointment in the Higher Judicial Services of the State of U.P. in the Direct Recruitment Examination-2018 (Part-III), against the advertisement dated 9.8.2019.

4. It is stated that the petitioners being eligible for appointment to the Higher Judicial Services, had qualified the preliminary as well as main written examinations held on 15th September, 2019 and 18th-20th October, 2019; respectively. They were called for the interview held on 14.12.2019. The final result of the selection was declared on 20.12.2019.

5. The brief facts of the case as stated in the writ petition are that both the petitioners herein belonging to Scheduled Caste category remained unsuccessful in the final result. Being aggrieved by their non-selection in U.P. Higher Judicial Services Recruitment-2018 (Part-III), they filed a Writ-A No. 12441 of 2020 (Kameshwar Pratap Singh and another vs. Hon'ble High Court of Judicature of Allahabad and another) which was dismissed vide judgment and order dated 15.12.2020. Aggrieved by the said decision, the petitioners herein filed the Special Leave to Appeal (C) No. 2836 of 2021 (Kameshwar Pratap Singh and another vs. Hon'ble High Court of Judicature at Allahabad and another) which was dismissed as withdrawn by the judgment and order dated 5.4.2021.

It may be noted that the said decision has not been brought on record of the present writ petition.

It is further stated in the writ petition that when the aforesaid writ petition was filed by the petitioners herein, their marks were not disclosed and they were praying persistently for release of their marks. Final marks, which included marks of the main examination and interview were ultimately declared/released at the official website of the High Court on 15.12.2020. The petitioners again filed a Writ-A No. 11763 of 2021 which was disposed of vide judgment and order dated 9.9.2021.

This is the third round of litigation by the petitioners herein after having remained unsuccessful in the Recruitment Examination-2018 (Part-III) held in the year 2019, final result of which was declared on 20.12.2019.

6. Before proceeding to deal with the submission of the learned counsel for the petitioners, on the merits of the prayer made herein, we may record that the first Writ Petition No. 12441 of 2020 was filed by the petitioners after declaration of the final result on the plea that the petitioners did well in the interview but due to requirement of minimum passing marks in the interview, their names did not figure in the select list. It was noted by this Court while dismissing the writ petition vide judgment and order dated 15.12.2020 that minimum qualifying marks in the interview have been prescribed for selection in U.P.H.J.S. Rules, 1975 and the petitioners having failed to obtain minimum passing marks, their names did not appear in the select list. The challenge to the selection cannot be sustained based on the assumption of the petitioners therein about their performance as it was judged by the interview Board and no allegations of malafide against the interview Board had been made. It was further noted that the petitioners cannot be granted relief only because they belonged to Scheduled Caste as the rule does not permit lower marks for any particular caste to qualify the interview. It was lastly noted that in absence of challenge to the U.P.H.J.S. Rules, 1975, the prayer made in the writ petition cannot be granted.

7. In the second round of litigation, it was noted by this Court that the writ petition was highly belated but on the prayer made by the learned counsel for the petitioners that the petitioners made a representation before the State Government, which is the Selection and Appointing Authority and the High Court which is the recommending Authority, the writ petition was disposed of with the direction to the petitioners to file a copy of the writ petition as representation before the Authority concerned who shall consider and decide the same. The petitioners then submitted a representation dated 17.2.2022 before the High Court, which was rejected in the meeting of the Selection and Appointment Committee of the High Court dated 22.2.2022 on the ground that the petitioners have failed to secure 40% qualifying marks in the interview of the direct recruitment of the U.P.H.J.S.-2018 (Part-III).

Though it is stated in the present writ petition that at the time of filing of the first writ petition, the petitioners were not aware of their marks of the main examination and the interview but it has not been explained as to why the petitioners did not challenge the validity of the rules, as prayed in the present writ petition when the main ground of challenge therein was to the requirement of minimum passing marks in the interview under the U.P.H.J.S. Rules, 1975 for a candidate to qualify for selection.

8. In our considered opinion, the present writ petition is the third writ petition virtually for the same relief and as such cannot be entertained. We may further note that the reliefs sought in the Second Writ-A No. 11763 of 2021 filed by the petitioners herein have not been disclosed in the present petition.

9. Be that as it may, the petitioners being practicing Advocates should desist from filing repeated writ petitions for the same cause of action thereby wasting precious judicial time of this Court as the Court was required to deliberate on the same issue again and again from different angles. In our considered opinion, the present writ petition is liable to be dismissed for this reason alone.

10. However, in order to put the controversy to its logical end, the prayer made in the writ petition about the validity of the Rule 18 Appendix-G as contained in U.P.H.J.S. Rules, 1975 prescribing for minimum qualifying marks in the interview is being considered by us in light of the arguments made by the learned counsel for the petitioners.

11. We may first note the language of Appendix-G framed under Rule 18 of the U.P.H.J.S. Rules, 1975 which prescribes the syllabus for the recruitment of the officers in U.P. Higher Judicial Service. The examination for U.P. Higher Judicial Services as per Appendix-G includes six papers. Paper no. 6-Interview is relevant for our purpose and is noted as under:-

"The interview will be of 200 marks - The suitability of the candidate for employment in the U.P. Higher Judicial Service will be tested with reference to his merit giving due regard to his ability, character, personality, and physique.

Notes -

(i) The candidates securing minimum aggregate 45% marks in the written examination shall be called to appear in the interview subject to maximum thrice the number of vacancies category-wise.

The interview shall be in a thorough and scientific manner and shall take any thing between 25 and 30 minutes for each candidates.

(ii) The candidate securing minimum 40% marks in the interview shall only be eligible to be included in the select list. The marks obtained in the interview will be added to the marks obtained in the written papers and the candidate's place in the select list will depend on the aggregate of both."

A perusal thereof indicates that the candidates securing minimum aggregate 45% marks in the written examination are called in the interview subject to maximum thrice the number of vacancies category-wise. The time period of interview has been prescribed as 25 to 30 minutes for each candidate to be taken in a thorough and scientific manner. The candidate securing minimum 40% marks in the interview are eligible to be included in the select list which is to be prepared by adding the marks obtained in the written papers and the interview. The candidate's place in the select list depends upon the aggregate of both.

12. It is argued by the learned counsel for the petitioners that in view of the above provision, the preparation of the final result was actually not based on the cumulative award of marks to the petitioners herein in the written examination as well as interview, rather the petitioners were excluded from the select list because of the fact that they could not obtain minimum 40% marks in the interview. The exclusion of meritorious candidates like the petitioners by prescribing minimum qualifying marks in the interview is in teeth of the decision of the Apex Court in All India Judges' Association (supra) and Ramesh Kumar (supra). The resolution of the Selection and Appointment Committee dated 22.2.2022 rejecting the representation of the petitioners dated 17.2.2022 based on the aforesaid rule is, thus, liable to be set aside.

It is argued that the Shetty Commission's Report was accepted by the Apex Court in All India Judges' Association (supra) and it was categorically noted in Ramesh Kumar (supra) that the Shetty Commission did not prescribe for having minimum marks for interview. It was further noted therein that in Hemani Malhotra vs. High Court of Delhi3, it was held by the Apex Court that it was not permissible for the High Court to prescribe the requirement of securing minimum marks in the interview as against the recommendation of the Shetty Commission.

The extract of the Shetty Commission's report, Appendix-1 titled as "Model Rules for Recruitment to District Court Service", appended as Annexure '21' to the writ petition, has been placed before us to argue that Rules 10 and 11 of the Model Rules prescribing for eligibility for candidates for the interview and the criteria of interview; respectively, do not prescribe minimum marks for interview. It was pointed out that Rule 12 of the Model Rules prescribing procedure to prepare the list of selected candidates, i.e. final select list provides that the select list shall be drawn on the basis of the aggregate of the percentage of the total marks secured in the qualifying examination as determined under Rule 10 and of the marks secured at the interview under Rule 11. The Rules framed by the High Court prescribing minimum qualifying marks of 40% for the interview for inclusion of a candidate in the final select list prepared on the aggregate of marks obtained in the written examination and the interview is, thus, contrary to the recommendations of the Shetty Commission accepted by the Apex Court in All India Judges' Association's case (supra).

The contention, thus, is that the Note (ii) to Paper No. 6 of Appendix-G framed under Rule 18 of the U.P.H.J.S. Rules, 1975 is liable to be declared ultra vires and the rejection of the candidature of the petitioners pursuant to the said rule is to be held illegal.

13. Apart from the above, no other contention has been made by the learned counsel for the petitioners to challenge the vires of the aforesaid rule. No argument has been made as to how the said rule can be said to be ultra vires to Articles 14 and 16 of the Constitution of India, being antithesis to the doctrine of equality.

14. We may record that the contentions made by the learned counsel for the petitioners can be met with the aid of the observations of the Apex Court in Salam Samarjeet Singh vs. High Court of Manipur at Imphal and another4 wherein the candidates who remained unsuccessful in the viva-voce conducted by the High Court of Manipur for appointment to the post of District Judge (entry level) in Manipur Judicial Service Grade-I, had challenged the Schedule-B of Manipur Judicial Services Rules which stipulated minimum qualifying marks, both for the written examination and viva-voce. It may be noted that in the said case Schedule-B of Manipur Judicial Services Rules stipulated minimum qualifying marks cumulatively for both written examination and viva-voce. The Full Court later passed a resolution fixing cut-off marks-minimum 40% marks in the interview which was challenged as being erroneous interpretation of "evaluation of performance" given in Schedule-B of the said Rules. Amongst various arguments to challenge the correctness of the decision of the Full Court prescribing minimum qualifying marks for viva-voce, one of the challenge was that the decision of the High Court to prescribe minimum qualifying marks was against the recommendation of the Shetty Commission and was violative of the judgment of the Apex Court in All India Judges' Association (supra). While dealing with the said argument, it was observed by the Apex Court in paragraphs '26', '27' and '28' as under:-

"26. The petitioner contends that the decision of the High Court to prescribe minimum qualification marks is against the recommendations of the Shetty Commission and is violative of the judgment of this Court in All India Judges' Association and Ors. v. Union of India and Ors. (2002) 4 SCC 247. It is further argued that in the said case, the Court accepted Shetty Commission's Report which has recommended not having cut-off marks in interview for the recruitment of the judicial officers.

27. No doubt, Shetty Commission has recommended in its Report that there should be no cut-off marks in the viva-voce test. Relevant recommendation of Shetty Commission reads as under:-

"The viva-voce test should be in a thorough and scientific manner and it should take anything between 25 to 30 minutes for each candidate. What is recommended by the Commission is that the viva-voce test shall carry 50 marks and there shall be no cut-off marks in viva-voce test."

28. Admittedly, the Shetty Commission has recommended that the viva-voce test shall carry fifty marks and there shall be no cut-off marks in the viva-voce test. In All India Judges' Association case para (37), this Court subject to various modifications in the judgment, accepted all other recommendations of the Shetty Commission. While there was a detailed discussion on the perks, mode of recruitment to the Higher Judicial Service and the proportionate percentage for promotion as District Judges for judicial officers, limited competitive examination for Civil Judges (Junior Division) and percentage of direct recruitment, there was no detailed discussion regarding the other recommendations of Shetty Commission. As rightly contended by the learned Senior Counsel for the respondent, All India Judges' Association case is sub silentio on the recommendation of Shetty Commission as to "no cut-off marks for the viva-voce". Contention of the petitioner that fixing cut-off marks for the viva-voce is in violation of the decision of this Court is not tenable."

It may further be noted that the decision of the Apex Court in Hemani Malhotra (supra) and Ramesh Kumar (supra) as relied by the learned counsel for the petitioners have been considered by the Apex court therein and it was noted that the said decisions proceeded on the issue that prescription of minimum marks in the interview was not permissible after the written test was held.

Further on the view taken by the Hon'ble Justice R. Banumathi, (as she then was) about correctness of the decision of the Full Court in prescribing minimum qualifying marks for the viva-voce, a contrary opinion was noted by the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Shiva Kirti Singh, (as he then was) and the matter was referred for final adjudication before the appropriate Bench in view of difference of opinion. The dissenting view of the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Shiva Kirti Singh, however, was on the ground that change in the selection procedure by providing minimum marks for interview or viva-voce test in the midst of the selection process which has already been initiated amounted to changing the Rules of the game and hence impermissible. It is noted in the dissenting judgment that the rules and the instructions clearly demonstrate that there was no cut-off mark or pass mark for the viva-voce examination in the past and the Full Court by resolution provided for minimum 40% marks in the interview after the advertisement notification was issued and written examinations were held but before holding the interview. It was, thus, observed that the minimum marks for interview was introduced in the midst of the selection process.

In another decision in Taniya Malik vs. Registrar General of the High Court of Delhi5, the petitioners therein who remained unsuccessful in the Delhi Judicial Service recruitment examination 2015 had challenged the prescription of minimum pass marks in the viva-voce examination under the recruitment rules and sought for a direction to relax the marks for interview for the Scheduled Caste category candidates for selection. The petitioner therein had been declared failed in the viva-voce examination (interview) and urged that fixation of minimum passing marks of 45% in viva-voce examination (interview) was unreasonable. It was observed by the Apex Court relying upon its earlier judgment in K.H. Siraj vs. High Court of Kerala and others6 that the interview is the best mode to assess the suitability of a candidate and to judge the capacity of the candidate to perform well in the service, minimum marks is necessary to prescribe. It was observed that the interview is the best method of judging the performance, overall personality, the actual working knowledge and capacity to perform. It is desirable to have the interview and it is necessary to prescribe minimum passing marks for the same when the appointment in the higher judiciary to the post of District Judge (entry level) is involved. It was observed that a written examination only tests academic knowledge, which is sometimes, gained without possessing overall qualities, practical experience of practice and law. The observations in Taniya Malik (supra) in paragraphs '18' and '19' are relevant to be extracted hereunder:-

"18. Coming to the question of prescribing the minimum pass marks in the viva voce examination, in our opinion it is rightly observed by this Court in K.H. Siraj v. High Court of Kerala & rs. (2006) 6 SCC 395, that interview is the best method to assess the ability of the candidate and to judge the capacity and minimum marks can also be prescribed. In case a candidate fails in an interview it cannot be said that he is suitable for the job of a Munsif Magistrate. This Court observed:

"54. In our opinion, the interview is the best mode of assessing the suitability of a candidate for a particular position. While the written examination will testify the candidates' academic knowledge, the oral test alone can bring out or disclose his overall intellectual and personal qualities like alertness, resourcefulness, dependability, capacity for discussion, ability to take decisions, qualities of leadership etc. which are also essential for a judicial officer.

55. We may usefully refer to a decision of this Court in Lila Dhar v. State of Rajasthan (1981) 4 SCC 159 in which this Court observed as under:

4. The object of any process of selection for entry into a public service is to secure the best and the most suitable person for the job, avoiding patronage and favouritism. Selection based on merit tested impartially and objectively, is the essential foundation of any useful and efficient public service. So, open competitive examination has come to be accepted almost universally as the gateway to public services.

'The ideal in recruitment is to do away with unfairness.'

***

5...."A system of recruitment almost totally dependent on assessment of a person's academic knowledge and skills, as distinct from ability to deal with pressing problems of economic and social development, with people, and with novel situations cannot serve the needs of today, much less of tomorrow...We venture to suggest that out recruitment procedures should be such that we can select candidates who cannot only assimilate knowledge and sift material to understand the ramifications of a situation or a problem but have the potential to develop an original or innovative approach to the solution of problems."

It is now well recognised that while a written examination assesses a candidate's knowledge and intellectual ability, an interview test is valuable to assess a candidate's overall intellectual and personal qualities. While a written examination has certain distinct advantage over the interview-test there are yet no written tests which can evaluate a candidate's initiative, alertness, resourcefulness, dependableness, cooperativeness, capacity for clear and logical presentation, effectiveness in discussion, effectiveness in meeting and dealing with others, adaptability, judgment, ability to make decision, ability to lead, intellectual and moral integrity.

9. ... "15. While we do feel that the marks allotted for interview are on the high side and it may be appropriate for the Government to re-examine the question, we are unable to uphold the contention that it was not within the power of the Government to provide such high marks for interview or that there was any arbitrary exercise of power. (SCC p.166, para 9)"

56. In Mohan Kumar Singhania and Ors. v. Union of India and Ors. : AIR 1992 SC 1, S. Ratnavel Pandian, J. speaking for the Bench, observed as under: (SCC p.608, paras 18-21)

'18. Hermar Finer in his textbook under the caption The Theory and Practice of Modern government states:

"The problem of selection for character is still the pons asinorum of recruitment to the public services everywhere. The British Civil Service experiments with the interview.'

19. The purpose of viva voce test for the ICS Examination in 1935 could be best understood from the following extract of the Civil Service Commission's pamphlet:

'Viva Voce - the examination will be in matters of general interest: it is intended to test the candidate's alertness, intelligence, and intellectual outlook. The candidate will be accorded an opportunity of furnishing the record of his life and education.'

20. It is apposite, in this connection, to have reference to an excerpt from the United Nations Handbook on Civil Service Laws and Practice, which reads thus:

"...the written papers permit an assessment of culture and intellectual competence. This interview permits an assessment of qualities of character which written papers ignore; it attempts to assess the man himself and not his intellectual abilities."

21. This Court in Lila Dhar v. State of Rajasthan (1981) 4 SCC 159 while expressing the view about the importance and significance of the two tests, namely, the written and interview has observed thus: (SCC p.164, para 6) '...the written examination assess the man's intellect and the interview test the man himself and 'the twain shall meet' for a proper selection.' "

57. The qualities which a Judicial Officer would possess are delineated by this Court in Delhi Bar Association v. Union of India (2002) 10 SCC 159. A Judicial Officer must, apart from academic knowledge, have the capacity to communicate his thoughts, he must be tactful, he must be diplomatic, he must have a sense of humour, he must have the ability to defuse situations, to control the examination of witnesses and also lengthy irrelevant arguments and the like. Existence of such capacities can be brought out only in an oral interview. It is imperative that only persons with a minimum of such capacities should be selected for the judiciary as otherwise, the standards would get diluted and substandard stuff may be getting into the judiciary. Acceptance of the contention of the appellants/petitioners can even lead to a postulate that a candidate who scores high in the written examination but is totally inadequate for the job as evident from the oral interview and gets 0 marks may still find it a place in the judiciary. It will spell disaster to the standards to be maintained by the subordinate judiciary. It is, therefore, the High Court has set a benchmark for the oral interview, a benchmark which is actually low as it requires 30% for a pass. The total marks for the interview are only 50 out of a total of 450. The prescription is, therefore, kept to the bare minimum and if a candidate fails to secure even this bare minimum, it cannot be postulated that he is suitable for the job of Munsif Magistrate, as assessed by five experienced Judges of the High Court."

19. In our considered opinion, it is desirable to have the interview and it is necessary to prescribe minimum passing marks for the same when the appointment in the higher judiciary to the post of District Judge is involved. The interview is the best method of judging the performance, overall personality and the actual working knowledge and capacity to perform otherwise the standard of judiciary is likely to be compromised. A written examination only tests academic knowledge, which is some time, gained without possessing overall qualities, practical experience of practice and law. In written exam, even the person with no caliber who takes decision by cramming may obtain better marks. When the Judges of the High Court too are appointed by adjudging the performance and intellect, an interview would be indispensable for judicial post. As ultimately, they also come to adorn the chair of a Judge and Judges of subordinate and higher judiciary to deliver justice to masses, the criteria of experience of practice for direct recruitment of 7 years whether actually gained can be adjudged only by interview, communicating skills and by elucidation of certain aspects which would not be possible by written exam alone. In Siraj (supra), it was emphasized that interview is the main fulcrum for judging the suitability of the candidate for appointment as District Judge in the higher judiciary. In our opinion that is absolutely necessary. When we consider past practice earlier when the written examination was not prescribed, the High Court used to select the candidates for higher judiciary only by the method of interview. Now additional safeguards of written examination have been added. The importance of interview for the post of the higher judiciary has increased than ever before it is absolutely necessary to weed out unworthy elements/crammers and in our considered opinion it is not only appropriate but also absolutely necessary to prescribe the minimum pass marks soas to weed out unworthy element so as to segregate grain from the chaff. There is a vast difference between having the experience that is required for a Judge that cannot solely be adjudged on the basis of written performance, and for which overall personality, intelligence test is absolutely necessary. Without that it would not be appropriate to make appointments in judiciary. Thus in our opinion the prescription of minimum 45% marks for reserved category candidates could not be said to be uncalled for. Merely by the fact that some more posts were advertised and they are lying vacant, it could not have been a ground to relax the minimum marks for interview after the interview has already been held. It would not have been appropriate to do so and the High Court has objected to relaxation of minimum passing marks in viva voce examination in its reply and as the power to relax is to be exercised by the High Court and since it has opposed such a prayer on reasonable ground and the institutional objective behind such prescription, we are not inclined to direct the High Court to relax the minimum marks."

In a catena of decisions, the Courts have laid much emphasis on the interview/viva-voce. In the recruitment for higher judicial services, the importance of interview/viva-voce cannot be underestimated. Viva-voce is the best mode of assessing the suitability of a candidate as it brings out the overall intellectual qualities of the candidates. [Reference Salam samarjeet Singh (supra)]

15. As noted in Ramesh Kumar (supra), the decision relied upon by the learned counsel for the petitioners itself, the selecting body has to satisfy itself that a candidate had obtained such aggregate marks in the written test as to qualify for interview and obtained (sufficient marks in viva-voce) which would show his suitability for service. Such a course is permissible for adjudging the qualities/capacities of the candidates. It was observed by the Apex Court that it may be necessary in view of the fact that it is imperative that only persons with the prescribed minimum of said qualities/capacities should be selected as otherwise the standard of judiciary would get diluted and substandard stuff may get selected. Interview may also be the best mode of assessing the suitability of a candidate for a particular position as it brings out the overall intellectual qualities of the candidates. While the written test will testify the candidate's academic knowledge, the oral test can bring out or disclose overall intellectual and personal qualities like alertness, resourcefulness, dependability, capacity for discussion, ability to take decisions, qualities of leadership etc., which are also essential for a Judicial Officer, [(Reference Para "11'). The decisions in State of U.P. vs. Rafiquddin and others7; Dr. Krushna Chandra Sahu and others vs. State of Orissa and others8; Manjeet Singh, UDC and others vs. Employees State Insurance Corporation and another9 and K.H. Siraj (supra) were relied therein].

16. The decisions of the Apex Court in Lila Dhar vs. State of Rajasthan and others10 and Ashok Kumar Yadav and others vs. State of Haryana and others11 were also considered by the Apex Court in Ramesh Kumar (supra), Salam Samarjeet Singh (supra) and Taniya Malik (supra) to notice that the interview can evaluate a candidate's initiative, alertness, resourcefulness, dependableness, cooperativeness, capacity for clear and logical presentation, effectiveness in discussion, effectiveness in meeting and dealing with others, adaptability, judgment, ability to make decision, ability to lead, intellectual and moral integrity with some degree of error.

In Taniya Malik (supra), however, prescription of minimum marks for interview in the Delhi Judicial Services Rules-2015 has been upheld with the observation that interview is the main fulcrum for judging the suitability of the candidates for appointment as District Judge (entry level) in the Higher Judiciary.

In Ramesh Kumar (supra), it was noted that the selection rules namely the Delhi High Court Judicial Services Rules, 1970 (as it then was) did not provide for minimum marks for interview. The Shetty Commission's report and the decision of the Apex Court in All India Judges' Association (supra) was then noted and it was observed that where statutory rules do not deal with the particular subject/issue, so far as appointment of the Judicial Officers is concerned, directions issued by the Apex Court would have binding effect.

17. From the above discussion, it can be discerned that the Courts have upheld the prescription of minimum passing marks in the interview/viva-voce examination in the recruitment for judicial services prescribed in the Recruitment Rules framed by the different High Courts. Much emphasis has been given to the interview as the best method of judging the overall personality, actual working knowledge, intelligence, communicating skills etc., which are essential for a Judicial Officer.

As regards the observations in Ramesh Kumar (supra) that the Shetty Commission's report had not prescribed for not having minimum marks for interview, the same was made in the facts of that case as the statutory rules namely Delhi Higher Judicial Services Rules, 1970 (as it then was) did not provide for the requirement of securing minimum marks in interview.

18. Coming to the Shetty Commission's report, the Model Rules framed therein were a recommendation for framing appropriate rules by the High Court for recruitment to the District Court Service. The recommendation of the Shetty Commission as accepted by the Apex Court in All India Judges' Association (supra), no where prohibits the High Court from the prescribing minimum qualifying marks by framing its own statutory rules to prescribe the recruitment criteria for the higher judicial services, nor the said recommendation in any way makes the recruitment rules violative of Articles 14 and 16 of the Constitution of India.

As noted by Hon'ble R. Banumathi, J. in Salam Samarjeet Singh (supra), All India Judges' Association (supra) is "sub silentio' on the recommendation of Shetty Commission as to "no cut-off marks for the viva voce".

19. The contention of the learned counsel for the petitioners that fixing cut-off marks for the interview in the rules is in violation of the decision of the Apex Court in All India Judges' Association (supra) and Ramesh Kumar (supra) or against the Shetty Commission recommendation is not tenable.

20. For the above discussion, the challenge to the vires of Note (ii) to Paper No. 6 (Interview) of Appendix-G framed under Rule 18 of the U.P.H.J.S. Rules, 1975, being in teeth of the decisions of the Apex Court in All India Judges' Association (supra) and Ramesh Kumar (supra) is hereby turned down.

21. Yet another aspect of the matter is that the petitioners herein participated in the interview with the knowledge that for the selection, they have to clear the criteria of prescribed minimum pass marks. On being unsuccessful in the interview, they cannot turn around and contend that the criteria for selection, i.e. the prescription of minimum marks for interview was improper. They are estopped to contend it as observed in K.H. Siraj (supra) as under:-

"72. The appellants-petitioners, in any event, are not entitled to any relief under Art. 226 of the Constitution of India for more reasons than one. They had participated in the written test and in the oral test without raising any objection. They knew well from the High Court's Notification that a minimum marks had to be secured both at the written test and in the oral test. .....xxxxxxx....."

In Madan Lal vs. State of Jammu & Kashmir12, the Apex Court has observed that:-

"9. ... It is now well settled that if a candidate takes a calculated chance and appears at the interview, then, only because the result of the interview is not palatable to him, he cannot turn round and subsequently contend that the process of interview was unfair.....

10. Therefore, the result of the interview test on merits cannot be successfully challenged by a candidate who takes a chance to get selected at the said interview and who ultimately finds himself to be unsuccessful."

22. Before parting with this judgment, as we have found that this is the third round of litigation at the instance of the petitioners challenging the rejection of their candidature in the Higher Judicial Services Examination-2018 (III) held in the year 2019, we deem it fit and proper to impose cost upon the petitioners, who being Advocates are supposed to be well versed in law that in a challenge before the Court of law, all points/grounds of challenge have to be raised in the first attempt itself. Repeated attempts raising different grounds of challenge at different points of time by the petitioners are nothing but sheer abuse of the process of the Court more so when they are officers of the Court being practicing Advocates.

We quantify the cost to Rs. 20,000/- for each of the petitioners herein, which shall be deposited by them in the Registry of the High Court within a period of one month from today.

The cost so deposited by the petitioners shall be transmitted in the accounts of the High Court Legal Services Committee.

With the above directions, the writ petition is dismissed being devoid of merits.

(2022) 9 ILRA 893
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 04.05.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE MRS. MANJU RANI CHAUHAN, J.

Writ A No.13670 of 2021

Rohit Sharma & Anr. ...Appellants
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellants:
Sri Rishi Kant Singh Chauhan, Sri Ashok Khare (Sr. Adv.)

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C.

Civil Law - U.P. Police Computer Operator (Non- Gazetted) Staff Service Rules 2011-Rule 15 (4)-Petitioners applied for Computer Operator-secured a little lower than the cut off marks-out of advertised posts-130 seats were still vacant-claim to fill the remaining vacant post-no provision for preparation of waiting list in Rules, 2011.

Held, It is settled position of law that in absence of any specific provision for waiting list and on the contrary, there being specific provision that there shall not be any waiting list and that the posts remaining unfilled on any ground shall have to be carried forward for the next recruitment. The candidates lower in merit than that last selected candidate have no right to claim for appointment on vacancies left unfilled due to non joining of the selected candidates. (para 33)

W.P. dismissed. (E-9)

List of Cases cited:

1. Munja Praveen Vs St. of Telangana, passed in Civil Appeal No. 10583 of 2017

2. Vatsyayan Shukla & anr. Vs St. of U.P. & ors., passed in Writ A No.7494 of 2019, vide order dated 30.07.2019

3. Vallampati Sathish Babu Vs St. of Andhra Pradesh & ors., reported in 2022 SCC Online SC 470

(Delivered by Hon'ble Mrs. Manju Rani Chauhan, J)

1. Heard Mr. Ashok Khare, learned Senior Counsel assisted by Mr. Rishi Kant Singh Chauhan, learned counsel for the petitioners and Mr. Pranav Ojha, learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel for the State-respondents.

2. Initially the writ petition has been filed with the following prayer:-

"(i) Issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of mandamus directing respondents to fill up all the 81 posts of Computer Operator available due to non joining of the selected candidates of general category in pursuant to the advertisement dated 23.02.2016.

(ii) Issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of mandamus directing respondents to consider the vested, legitimate right of the petitioners against posts fallen vacant due to non joining of candidates."

3. The amendment application was moved which was allowed by order dated 07.12.2021 and the amended prayer is as follows:-

"(i) Issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of certiorari quashing the impugned order dated 05.08.2021 passed by Respondent no.3 (Annexure No.8) to the writ petition to the extent of not considering petitioners for appointment against the available left out 60 posts."

4. Brief of the facts are that, the U.P. Police Recruitment and Promotion Board, Lucknow issued an advertisement dated 23.02.2016 notifying the recruitment of 1865 posts of U.P. Police Computer Operator. The petitioners belonging to general category, being fully qualified and eligible, applied for consideration, pursuant to the aforesaid advertisement. The petitioners were issued admits cards and after appearing in the written examination, they have declared successful and thereafter, they have also appeared in computer typing test. The final result/select list of the selection was published and after declaration of result the cut-off merit with regard to the individual categories of finally selected candidates were also notified on 21.12.2016.

5. From the perusal of the aforesaid cut-off merit, it is apparent that the last selected candidate in General category has secured an aggregate of 113.75 marks, the candidate selected under the O.B.C. category has secured 90 marks and the candidate belonging to Schedule Caste category has secured 80 marks whereas the candidate under dependent of Freedom Fighter category has secured 95 marks and for females the cut-off marks is 81.25.

6. It is very much clear from the aforesaid cut-off marks that the petitioners have secured marks a little bit lower than the last selected candidate in the General category.

7. The selection in question is being done as per provisions of U.P. Police Computer Operator (Non-Gazetted) Staff Service Rules 2011 which was amended by first amendment of Rule 2015 (in short 2011). The petitioners being a little lower than in marks could not be selected as the respondents have taken stand that there is no provision for preparation of waiting list in U.P. Police Computer Operator (Non-Gazetted) Staff Service Rules 2011.

8. Learned counsel for the petitioners submits that out of total 1592 advertised posts only 1462 candidates have turned up for document verification meaning thereby 130 seats were still vacant which is also apparent from the letter dated 31.01.2019 as 130 vacant seats were available due to non turning up of candidates for documents verification. The aforesaid seats should have been filled by the number of petitioners being next in merit.

9. Due to non consideration of claim of the petitioners, Writ Petition No.23016 of 2017 was filed and the Hon'ble Court, vide order dated 03.12.2019 was pleased to allow the writ petition and direct the respondents to consider the claim of the petitioners against unfilled vacancies.

10. The operative portion of the order dated 03.12.2019 is as follows:-

"Accordingly, with the consent of parties of present writ petition as well as other connected, all the writ petitions are disposed of asking the Competent Authority to look into the grievance of the petitioner and in case vacancies are still available and the petitioners fall in the zone of consideration, their claim be decided in the light of the observations so made in Vatsyayan Shukla (supra), expeditiously, preferably within a period of two months from the date of production of certified copy of this order."

11. The aforesaid order dated 03.12.2019 was challenged by the State by means of filing Special Appeal No.1181 of 2021 and the Hon'ble Court has been pleased not to interfere in the order passed by the learned Single Judge.

12. The operative portion of the order dated 08.02.2021 passed in Special Appeal is as follows:-

"It is in view of the fact that on the cut off marks of open category, there were 73 candidates out of which 21 were given appointments based on the age as none of them were having preferential qualification. It is a fact that out of the total candidates offered appointment, 81 open category candidates did not join the post. The list of the candidates scored same marks could have been used for giving appointment as the list of those candidates was available thus list of candidates next in the merit was not required to be called. There would be no purpose to keep post vacant in a case where there are number of candidates scored same marks. It is not a case where the department was not having the list of the candidates who can be offered appointment which otherwise remain in the shape of waiting list and to be called.

The case has peculiarity and thereby we find no reason to cause interference in the judgment passed by learned Single Judge but it need to clarify that the judgment of learned Single Judge would not be treated as precedent. It is not only for the reason that the case has peculiarity as more than 73 candidates scored same marks in the selection and list of those was available. The direction in this case cannot be made applicable in general and therefore while not causing interference in the judgment and order of learned Single Judge, it is made clear that this judgment would not be treated as precedent."

13. Against the order dated 08.02.2021, passed in Special Appeal, State Government filed S.L.P. before the Hon'ble Apex Court, which has been dismissed by order dated 19.07.2021.

14. In compliance of the aforesaid orders of this Court, the respondents published the names of only 21 candidates against the 81 vacant posts of General category on 05.08.2021, leaving 60 candidates of General category during training period. The petitioners approached the respondents by means of filing the representation which has been rejected by the impugned order dated 05.08.2021, hence, the present petition has been filed.

15. Learned counsel for the petitioners submits that the respondents have rejected the claim of the petitioners, ignoring the relevant fact that posts are still lying vacant due to non joining of some candidates. While passing the order impugned, the respondents have ignored the settled legal position that posts covered by particular advertisement are required to be filled up on the basis of remaining merit list so prepared and any such vacant posts are covered by same advertisement.

16. Learned counsel for the petitioners submits that it is settled principle of law that selections starts with the advertisement and ends with issuance of appointment letters, hence, any posts which has following vacancy prior to issuance of appointment letter shall not be notified for next recruitment so far. In support of his submission, learned counsel for the petitioners relied upon the judgement of Munja Praveen Vs. State of Telangana, passed in Civil Appeal No. 10583 of 2017.

17. There is no prohibition in Rules for preparation of the waiting list, hence, the petitioners who are next in merit list were to be considered for being appointed.

18. Learned counsel for the petitioners further submits that the posts as advertised cannot be left vacant without any rhyme or reason and there should be plausible reason for not filling up such posts. It is also settled legal position that posts covered by particular advertisement are required to be filled up on the basis of remaining merit list prepared in pursuance thereto.

19. Learned counsel for the petitioners submits that in the present case 60 candidates did not turn up against 81 posts having the same cut-off marks, hence, the petitioners being next in merit of legal right to be appointed in all such vacant posts. The case of the petitioners was to be decided in the light of Vatsyayan Shukla And Another Vs State of U.P. And 5 Others, passed in Writ A No.7494 of 2019, vide order dated 30.07.2019, wherein it has been held that in case vacancies remain available due to non joining of selected candidates, the authorities are expected to fill up the posts from the candidates next in the order of merit and their claim cannot be rejected only on the ground that the waiting list has not been prepared. He further submits that petitioners have acquired knowledge to be appointed against the advertised posts which remains unfilled due to non joining of the candidates who were more meritorious than him. The concept of waiting list cannot brought in picture for defeating the legitimate right of such candidates against unfilled posts.

20. He further submits that while passing the impugned order the authorities concerned have not considered the observations as made in the case of Vatsyayan Shukla and another wherein the respondents were directed to consider the claim of the appointment of the petitioners without taking a plea that waiting list was not prepared.

21. There is no justifiable reason for not considering the candidature of the candidates figuring in the comparative merit list who was just below the selected candidates who had not joined the posts. Therefore, the impugned order is arbitrary, discriminating and cannot be sustained in the eyes of law, hence, the same may be set aside.

22. Learned Standing Counsel on the other hand submits that petitioner have secured 112.50 marks in the said examination and the cut-off marks of selected candidates was 113.75, therefore, there is no question of considering the claim of the petitioners who are less than the cut-off marks as secured by the selected candidates. He further submits that learned Single Judge had directed the respondents to consider the claim of the petitioners in the light of observations made in Vatsyayan Shukla (supra) case wherein it was held that in case vacancies remain available due to non joining of selected candidates the authorities were expected to fill up the posts from the candidates next in order of merit, whereas in the special appeal filed against the aforesaid order, it was clarified that on the cut-of marks of open category there were 73 candidates out of which 21 were given appointment based on age as none of them were having preferential qualification. It was also mentioned that in case 81 open category candidates did not join the posts, the list of candidates who had secured same marks was already prepared, therefore, the candidates scoring the same marks would have been used for giving appointment as such a list of those candidates were available, hence, the list of next in merit was not required to be called.

23. Learned Standing counsel submits that the appointment was to be offered to those candidates who had secured same marks, as secured by the selected candidates who had not joined and such a list was already prepared, therefore, there is no illegality in the order impugned wherein claim of the petitioners has been rejected on the ground that they had not secured same marks as the selected candidates who had not joined on the said post and there was no need to prepare merit list or depend on any waiting list for the same.

24. Learned Standing Counsel has further clarified that as per the provisions contained in the relevant Government Service Rules, the selection process comes to an end after issuance of the select list and the appointments have to be made from the said list only, there being no provisions of preparation of any other list for the purpose of considering the claim of appointment of persons on unfilled posts due to non joining of selected candidates.

25. Learned Standing Counsel further submits that in the present case, the marks obtained by the last selected candidate was 113.75 whereas the petitioners have secured only 112.50 which is less than the tie break marks, hence, they cannot be selected, considering the directions as issued by Hon'ble Court in the writ petition as well as in the Special Appeal relating to the petitioners .

26. As per the directions of the writ Court, the claim of the petitioners was to be decided in the light of Vatsyayan Shukla (supra) case wherein it has been held that in case, vacancies remain unfilled due to non joining of selected candidates, the authorities are expected to fill up the posts from the candidates next in order and their claim cannot be rejected only on the ground that waiting list has not been prepared whereas in the Special Appeal, the court has clarified the position that the select list of the candidates scoring same marks which was already available, could have been used for giving appointment in order to fill the vacancies, arisen due to non joining of the selected candidates. It is clear that the petitioners had obtained less marks than that of the last selected candidate and as per direction, only those candidates were to be considered who had obtained 113.75 marks, hence, the petitioners cannot claim parity of 113.75 tie break marks. The petitioners have also not been discriminated as the claim of similarly situated candidates has already been rejected by the respondents-authorities, therefore, there is no illegality in the order impugned and no interference is required by this Court.

27. Learned Standing Counsel submits that, as per the procedure for direct recruitment to the post of Computer Operator in Rule 15 of U.P. Police Computer (Non-Gazetted) Staff Service Rules 2011 as applicable, in the case of the petitioners, the successful candidates shall be placed higher and such candidates who obtained equal marks the candidates having preferential qualification shall be placed higher, and such candidates as have obtained equal marks having no preferential qualification the candidates senior in age shall be placed higher in the list. Accordingly, as list was prepared and appointments were given, based on age as none of the candidates were having preferential qualification, therefore, those having equal marks were to be considered for appointment on the vacancies left unfilled due to non joining of the selected candidates, as per the direction of the writ court as well as special appeal court. Since, the petitioners did not have equal marks as obtained by the last selected candidates, therefore, their claim has been rightly rejected.

28. Heard learned counsel for the parties and perused the material available on record.

29. Before discussing the merit of the case, it would be appropriate to quote the procedure for direct recruitment as provided in Rule 15 of U.P. Police Computer (Non-Gazetted) Staff Service Rules 2011. Rule 15 is as follows:-

15. Procedure for Direct Recruitment-- Procedure for recruitment of Computer Operator Grade-A-

"(1) Direct recruitment to the post of Computer Operator Grade-A in the service shall be made through Uttar Pradesh Police Recruitment and Promotion Board, Lucknow.

The Board shall scrutinize the applications and require the eligible candidates to appear in a written examination and a Computer Typing examination. Written examination will be as under:

(2) Written Examination (200 marks) : written examination shall be of objective type. Examination shall be of total 200 marks. The written examination paper shall consist of questions related to General Knowledge, Mental Ability, Reasoning and Computer Science. The level of question paper shall be according to the level of minimum required educations qualification for the post.

Minimum 40 per cent marks are must in the written examination. The Selection Committee shall call successful candidates for the Computer Typing Examination on the basis of merit in the written examination, in such numbers as required.

(3) Computer Typing Examination (Qualifying)-- The Computer Typing Examination shall be qualifying examination. Candidates who type minimum 25 words per minute in Hindi and 40 words per minute in English, shall be declared successful in the Computer Typing Examination.

(4) The Board after due consideration of proper representation of candidates according to the norms specified for reservation, shall prepare a list from the list of successful candidates in Computer Typing Examination, in order of their marks obtained in written examination by considering preferential qualification, and recommend such number of candidates as it considers necessary for appointment. Such candidates who obtained equal marks the candidates having preferential qualification shall be placed higher and such candidates as have obtained equal marks having no preferential qulification, the candidate senior in age shall be placed higher in the list. The Board shall forward the list of successful candidates to the Appointing Authority."

30. Accordingly, the select list was to be prepared from successful candidates in Computer Typing Examination, in order of their marks obtained in the written examination by considering the preferential qualification and in case of candidates who obtained equal marks, the candidates having preferential qualification were to be placed higher whereas those candidates who obtained equal marks having no preferential qualification, the candidates senior in age was to be placed higher in the list.

31. Considering the aforesaid provision in the present case, the list was prepared based on age as none of the candidates were having preferential qualification from such a list, those candidates having marks 113.75 were declared successful and names were recommended. When the selected candidates from the said list did not join, the posts left vacant due to the aforesaid, was to be filled from the list as prepared according to Rule 15(4) of the aforesaid Act, which was already available with the respondents authorities, considering which, the petitioners having less than 113.75 marks as per the tie break marks were not eligible for being considered.

32. There is no provision for preparation of any waiting list as per the aforesaid rules, therefore, such a list of those candidates who was not figuring in the comparative merit list as already available, could not be considered for appointment on the posts by preparing another list of the persons next in the merit.

33. It is settled position of law that in absence of any specific provision for waiting list and on the contrary, there being specific provision that there shall not be any waiting list and that the posts remaining unfilled on any ground shall have to be carried forward for the next recruitment. The candidates lower in merit than that last selected candidate have no right to claim for appointment on vacancies left unfilled due to non joining of the selected candidates. The issue with respect to claim of candidates for consideration of their appointment on unfilled posts due to non joining of the selected candidates came to be considered in the case of Vallampati Sathish Babu Vs. State of Andhra Pradesh and Others, reported in 2022 SCC Online SC 470, wherein the Apex Court observed that even in case selected candidates have not joined in the absence of statutory rules, to the contrary, the employer is not bound to offer the unfilled vacancy to the candidates next below the said candidates in the merit list. It has been held that in absence of any provision the employer is not bound to prepare waiting list in addition to the panel of candidates to appoint candidates from the waiting list, in case the candidates from the panel could not join.

34. Erstwhile rightly interpreting the directions as given by the writ Court and special appeal court in case of the petitioner, the claim of the petitioners has been rejected on the ground that they did not have the tie break marks as obtained by the last selected candidates as the posts which were vacant due to non joining of the selected candidates was to be filled from the list already available with the respondents, wherein the petitioners have obtained less than the tie break marks of 113.75.

35. In view of the aforesaid discussion, this Court finds no good ground to interfere in this matter.

36. Accordingly, the writ petition is dismissed.

(2022) 9 ILRA 900
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 20.09.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE RAJNISH KUMAR, J.

Writ A No.18864 of 2016

Vanshraj Sharma ...Appellant
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri Amar Nath Dubey, Sri Anurag Srivastava

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C.

Petitioner seeks seniority from date of getting salary-appointed on regular basis in 1995-interim order for salary in 1994-the said Writ dismissed for non prosecution-Petitioner not entitled for any benefit except the salary as directed.

W.P. dismissed. (E-9)

List of Cases cited:

1. Kunhayammed & ors. Vs St. of Kerala & anr.; (2000) 6 SCC 359

2. Civil Appeal No. 2417 of 2022; St. of U.P. & ors. Vs Prem Chopra

3. Sanjay K. Sinha-II & ors. Vs St. of Bihar & ors.; (2004) 10 SCC 734,

4. Rashi Mani Mishra & ors. Vs St. of U.P. & ors.; 2021 SCC Online SC 509

5. Malook Singh & ors. Vs St. of Punj. & ors.; Civil Appeal No.6026-6028 of 2021

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rajnish Kumar, J.)

1. Heard Sri Anurag Singh, learned counsel for the petitioner and Sri Pratyush Tripathi, learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel.

2. By means of the present writ petition, the petitioner has assailed the order dated 13.07.2016 passed by the Chief Conservator of Forest, Southern Region, U.P., Allahabad, by which the representation of the petitioner dated 23.04.2016 has been rejected. The petitioner has further prayed for a direction to the opposite party nos. 1 to 5 to provide seniority to the petitioner from February 1994.

3. It would be apt to refer the brief facts of the case for adjudication of the case in hand. Initially, the petitioner was engaged on daily wage basis on the post of Driver in the Forest Department. He approached this Court by means of Writ Petition No.307(S/S) of 1994 claiming his regularization. The interim order was passed in the writ petition on 21.01.1994, by means of which it was provided that the opposite parties shall consider the matter of regularization of the petitioner and the petitioner shall be paid salary in the regular scale of pay as admissible to the driver until further orders. In pursuance thereof, a Selection Committee was constituted and in pursuance of the report of the Selection Committee, the petitioner was appointed on the post of driver by means of the order dated 25.01.1995 in the pay scale of 950-1500 and he was paid the regular salary by the Divisional Director, Social Forestry Division Pratapgarh. The said order was passed subject to final outcome of the pending writ petition. The services of the petitioner were confirmed vide order dated 06.02.2009. The aforesaid writ petition was dismissed for want of prosecution on 18.01.2013.

4. The petitioner again approached this Court by means of Writ Petition No.7632(S/S) of 2009 for payment of regular salary w.e.f February 1994 to 25.01.1995 in compliance of the interim order dated 29.01.1994 passed in Writ Petition No.307(S/S) of 1994. In the said writ petition, learned counsel for the petitioner after arguing at some length restricted his prayer for a direction to the extent that for redressal of his grievance, the petitioner may be permitted to make a fresh representation to the opposite party no.5 therein and he may be directed to consider and decide the same within some stipulated period. Accordingly, the writ petition was disposed of by means of the order dated 19.11.2019, without entering into the merits of the case, with liberty to the petitioner to make a fresh representation to the opposite party no.5 and the opposite party no.5 was directed to consider and decide the representation, in case the petitioner moves representation within 10 days, by a reasoned and speaking order as per law. In pursuance thereof, representation was decided and the petitioner was paid remaining salary w.e.f. 01.02.1994 to 25.01.1995.

5. The petitioner preferred a representation on 10.01.2014 for correction of his seniority and claiming seniority from 01.02.1994 on the ground that the petitioner has been given regular pay scale since February 1994 in compliance of order passed by this Court on 29.01.1994 in Writ Petition No.307(S/S) of 1994 and the regular appointment has been given to the petitioner on 25.01.1995, therefore he is entitled for seniority w.e.f. 01.02.1994. The petitioner again preferred a representation on 17.11.2015. However, though some recommendations were made but the petitioner was not given the seniority and the tentative seniority list was issued on 22.03.2016, in which the petitioner was placed at serial No.19 on the basis of the date of appointment i.e. 25.01.1995. The objections were called from the employees. The petitioner also filed objection. Thereafter he again approached this Court by means of Writ Petition No.7976(S/S) of 2016, which was disposed of by means of order dated 13.04.2016. The order dated 13.04.2016 is extracted here-in-below:

"Heard learned counsel for the parties.

Let the petitioner implead the Chief Conservation Officers, Forest Division, U.P. Allahabad as opposite party in the writ petition during the course of the day.

Let the newly impleaded opposite party no. 6 consider and take a decision on the recommendation of the opposite party no. 5 in accordance with rules, if there is no other legal impediment. If in the process of considering the same it is found that the seniority of other persons would be affected then the benefit of seniority placement as claimed shall not be given to the petitioner unless an opportunity to submit objection is provided to the affected persons and then objections are considered as per law. The officer shall also verify the relevant facts as regards the validity of the petitioner's appointment/ regularization and the result of Writ Petition No. 307(SS) of 1994. All pleas are open for being considered by him. This exercise shall be completed within a period of three months from the date a certified copy of this order is submitted.

With the aforesaid observations, the writ petition is disposed of. There shall be no orders as costs."

6. In pursuance of the aforesaid order passed by this Court on 13.04.2016, the case of the petitioner has been considered and the representation, filed in pursuance to the aforesaid order, on 23.04.2016 has been rejected by means of the impugned order dated 13.07.2016, contained in Annexure No. 1 to the writ petition, providing therein that the petitioner shall remain at serial No.19 of the Zonal Seniority List. Being aggrieved by the said order, the petitioner has approached this Court by means of the present writ petition assailing the said order.

7. Submission of learned counsel for the petitioner is that the petitioner was treated as a regular employee in compliance of the order dated 21.09.1994 passed in Writ Petition No.307 (S/S) of 1994 and paid salary in regular Pay-Scale w.e.f. 01.02.1994 but the petitioner has not been given seniority from that date, whereas the petitioner was appointed on regular basis on the basis of said interim order on 25.01.1995, therefore he is entitled for seniority from February 1994. Thus the impugned order is not sustainable and liable to be quashed.

8. Learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel, while opposing the submission of learned counsel for the petitioner, submitted that the salary in regular pay-scale was paid to the petitioner only in compliance of the interim order passed by this Court as he was working on daily wage basis, however he was appointed on regular basis on 25.01.1995, therefore he is entitled for seniority only from that date. He further submitted that the said writ petition was dismissed for non-prosecution, therefore the claim made in the said writ petition was not adjudicated, therefore the petitioner is not entitled for any benefit of the interim order except the salary which has already been paid. He further submitted that the petitioner was appointed on 25.01.1995 and he is entitled for all service benefits including seniority and has been given from the said date. The impugned order has rightly been passed in accordance with law. The writ petition is mis-conceived and liable to be dismissed.

9. I have considered the submissions of learned counsel for the parties and perused the records.

10. The issue involved in this case is as to whether the petitioner is entitled for seniority w.e.f. 25.01.1995, the date of appointment of the petitioner or from February 1994, from when the petitioner has been paid salary in regular pay scale in compliance of interim order passed by this Court in Writ Petition No.307 (S/S) of 1994, while the petitioner was working on daily wage basis.

11. The petitioner was initially appointed, on the post of driver in the Forest Department, on daily wage basis. It appears that the petitioner was not being regularized, therefore he approached this Court by means of Writ Petition No.307(S/S) of 1994. An interim order was passed in the said writ petition on 29.01.1994 and the opposite parties were directed to consider the matter of regularization of the petitioner. Further direction was issued that the petitioner shall be paid salary in the regular scale of pay as admissible to the driver until further orders. In pursuance thereof, a Selection Committee was constituted and the petitioner was considered by the Selection Committee for appointment and on the basis of the report of the Selection Committee, the petitioner was appointed on the post of driver under the Drivers Service Rules by means of the order dated 25.01.1995 and paid salary in the regular scale of pay. The writ Petition No.307 (S/S) of 1994 was dismissed for non-prosecution on 18.01.2013. Therefore the issue as to whether the petitioner was regularly appointed or not and he is entitled for regularization from a date prior to 25.01.1995 or not, has not been adjudicated by this Court, whereas the petitioner has been appointed after due selection by means of the order dated 25.01.1995.

12. The petitioner approached this Court by means of Writ Petition No.7632 (S/S) of 2009 for a direction to the opposite parties to pay regular pay scale w.e.f. February 1994 to 25.01.1995, in compliance of the interim order dated 21.01.1994 passed in Writ Petition No.307 (S/S) of 1994. The said writ petition was disposed of vide order dated 19.11.2009 on a request made by learned counsel for the petitioner, without entering into the merits of the case, with liberty to the petitioner to move fresh representation and direction was issued to consider and dispose of the representation of the petitioner. Therefore the order passed by this Court in the said writ petition was only to the extent of payment of salary w.e.f. February 1994 to 25.01.1995 in the regular pay scale of driver in compliance of interim order dated 21.01.1994. The respondents, in compliance of the aforesaid order dated 19.11.2009, passed the order dated 27.05.2010 and paid the difference of salary in the regular pay scale paid between February 1994 to 25.01.1995 in compliance of the order dated 21.01.1994, which was received by the petitioner.

13. The seniority of the petitioner was fixed at serial No.19 in the seniority list of Southern Zone, U.P., Allahabad. Though some recommendations were made for giving seniority to the petitioner w.e.f. February 1994 but no decision was taken, therefore the petitioner approached this Court by means of Writ petition No.7976(S/S) of 2016 (Vanshraj Sharma versus State of U.P. and others). The said writ petition was disposed of by means of order dated 13.04.2016, which has been reproduced above in paragraph 5 with direction to the newly impleaded opposite party no.6 i.e. Chief Conservation Officer, Forest Division, U.P. Allahabad to consider and take decision on the recommendation of the opposite party no.5 therein, in accordance with the Rules, if there is no other legal impediment. It was also provided that if in the process of considering the same, it is found that the seniority of other persons would be affected, then the benefit of seniority and placement as claimed shall not be given to the petitioner unless an opportunity to submit objection is provided to the affected persons and then objections are considered as per law. It was also specifically provided in the order dated 13.04.2016 passed by this Court in the aforesaid writ petition that the officer shall also verify the relevant facts as regards the validity of the petitioner's appointment/ reguarlization and the result of writ petition No.307 (S/S) of 1994. Therefore it is apparent that the case of the petitioner for seniority w.e.f. February 1994 was to be considered in the light of the result of the writ petition No.307 (S/S) of 1994, which was dismissed for non-prosecution on 18.01.2013. In pursuance of the aforesaid order, the petitioner preferred a representation on 23.04.2016.

14. The representation of the petitioner has been considered by the respondent No.4 and rejected by means of the order dated 13.07.2016, impugned in this writ petition. The respondent no.4 has recorded that the Writ Petition No.307(S/S) of 1994 was dismissed for non-prosecution on 18.01.2013.

15. Admittedly, the petitioner has been appointed on regular basis by means of the order dated 25.01.1995, therefore merely on the ground that an interim order was passed by this Court on 01.02.1994 in the writ petition filed by the petitioner for payment of salary in the regular pay scale does not entitle him seniority from the date, the same was paid by the respondents under the interim order passed by this Court. The writ petition was dismissed for non-prosecution, therefore as to whether the petitioner has been appointed regularly or not or as to whether he is entitled for regularization prior to 25.01.1995 has not been adjudicated upon by this Court, therefore once the writ petition was dismissed, any interim order passed therein would have no effect except for the direction issued by the order because there cannot be two orders governing the field at a time and the interim order merges into final order.

16. The Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Kunhayammed and others versus State of Kerala and another; (2000) 6 SCC 359, while considering the doctrine of merger has held that there cannot be more than one operative orders governing the same subject matter at a given point of time.

17. The Hon'ble Supreme Court, in a recent judgment and order dated 25.03.2022 passed in Civil Appeal No. 2417 of 2022; State of U.P. and others versus Prem Chopra, has held that once the proceedings, wherein a stay was granted, are dismissed, any interim order granted earlier in the said proceedings merges with the final order, therefore the interim order comes to an end with the dismissal of the proceedings. The relevant paragraph 24 is extracted here-in-below:-

"24. From the above discussion, it is clear that imposition of a stay on the operation of an order means that the order which has been stayed would not be operative from the date of passing of the stay order. However, it does not mean that the stayed order is wiped out from the existence, unless it is quashed. Once the proceedings, wherein a stay was 7 granted, are dismissed, any interim order granted earlier merges with the final order. In other words, the interim order comes to an end with the dismissal of the proceedings. In such a situation, it is the duty of the Court to put the parties in the same position they would have been but for the interim order of the court, unless the order granting interim stay or final order dismissing the proceedings specifies otherwise. On the dismissal of the proceedings or vacation of the interim order, the beneficiary of the interim order shall have to pay interest on the amount withheld or not paid by virtue of the interim order."

18. Thus the petitioner is not entitled for any benefit on account of the interim order except the salary as directed, which has been paid to the petitioner.

19. The definition of substantive appointment given under the Rules of 1991 is, "substantive appointment" means an appointment, not being an ad hoc appointment, on a post in the cadre of the service, made after selection in accordance with the service rules relating to that service. Therefore the seniority can be reckoned only from the date of substantive appointment and the period of service, on the basis of appointment made dehors the Rules, cannot be counted for the purpose of seniority. In the present case, initially the petitioner was appointed on daily wage basis, which is made only in exigencies of service.

20. It is also noticed by this Court that while considering the case of the petitioner in compliance of order passed by this Court, an explanation was also called from Sri Inder Prasad, who is at serial No.18 of the seniority list. He, in his objection, has stated that he was appointed on regular basis on 28.02.1994 and the petitioner is junior to him. Therefore the petitioner, who was appointed on regular basis on 25.01.1995 cannot be given seniority over and above him.

21. The Hon'ble Supreme Court, in the case of Sanjay K. Sinha-II and others versus State of Bihar and others; (2004) 10 SCC 734, has held that it is settled law that appointments made contrary to the rules are merely fortuitous and do not confer benefit of seniority on the appointees over and above the regular/substantive appointees to the service.

22. The Hon'ble Supreme Court, in the case of Rashi Mani Mishra and others versus State of U.P. and others; 2021 SCC Online SC 509, considering the Rules of 1991 has held that as per Seniority Rules 1991, applicable in the present case, seniority is to be counted from the date of "substantive appointment" and "substantive appointment" means, an appointment, not being an ad hoc appointment.

23. Relying on the aforesaid judgment, recently the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Malook Singh and others versus State of Punjab and others; Civil Appeal No.6026-6028 of 2021, by means of the judgment and order dated 28.09.2021, has held that seniority which has to be counted from "substantive appointment" would not include ad hoc service. Relevant paragraph 20 of the judgment is extracted here-in-below:-

"20. The law on the issue of whether the period of ad hoc service can be counted for the purpose of determining seniority has been settled by this Court in multiple cases. In Direct Recruits (supra), a Constitution Bench of this Court has observed:

"13. When the cases were taken up for hearing before us, it was faintly suggested that the principle laid down in Patwardhan case [(1977) 3 SCC 399: 1977 SCC (L&S) 391: (1977) 3 SCR 775] was unsound and fit to be overruled, but no attempt was made to substantiate the plea. We were taken through the judgment by the learned counsel for the parties more than once and we are in complete agreement with the ratio decidendi, that the period of continuous officiation by a government servant, after his appointment by following the rules applicable for substantive appointments, has to be taken into account for determining his seniority; and seniority cannot be determined on the sole test of confirmation, for, as was pointed out, confirmation is one of the inglorious uncertainties of government service depending neither on efficiency of the incumbent nor on the availability of substantive vacancies. The principle for deciding inter se seniority has to conform to the principles of equality spelt out by Articles 14 and 16. If an CA 6026-28/2021 appointment is made by way of stop-gap arrangement, without considering the claims of all the eligible available persons and without following the rules of appointment, the experience on such appointment cannot be equated with the experience of a regular appointee, because of the qualitative difference in the appointment. To equate the two would be to treat two unequals as equal which would violate the equality clause. But if the appointment is made after considering the claims of all eligible candidates and the appointee continues in the post uninterruptedly till the regularization of his service in accordance with the rules made for regular substantive appointments, there is no reason to exclude the officiating service for purpose of seniority. Same will be the position if the initial appointment itself is made in accordance with the rules applicable to substantive appointments as in the present case. To hold otherwise will be discriminatory and arbitrary.....

47. To sum up, we hold that

(A) Once an incumbent is appointed to a post according to a rule, his seniority has to counted from the date of appointment and not according to date of his confirmation. The corollary to the above rule is that where the initial appointment is only ad hoc and not according to rules and made as a stop-gap arrangement, the officiation in such post cannot be taken into account considering the seniority." (emphasis supplied)

The decision in Direct Recruits (supra) stands for the principle that ad hoc service cannot be counted for determining the seniority if the initial appointment has been made as a stop gap arrangement and not according to rules. The reliance placed by the Single Judge in the judgement dated 6 December 1991 on Direct Recruits (supra) to hold that the ad hoc service should be counted for conferring the benefit of seniority in the present case is clearly misplaced. This principle laid down in Direct Recruits (supra) was subsequently followed by this Court in Keshav Chandra Joshi v. Union of India15. Recently a two judge Bench of this Court inRashi Mani Mishra v. State of Uttar Pradesh16, of which one of us (Justice DY Chandrachud) was a part, observed that the services rendered by ad hoc employees prior to their regularization cannot be counted for the purpose of seniority while interpreting the Uttar Pradesh Regularization of Ad Hoc Appointment Rules. This Court noted that under the applicable Rules, "substantive appointment" does not include ad hoc appointment and thus seniority which has to be counted from "substantive appointment" would not include ad hoc service. This Court also clarified that the judgement in Direct Recruits (supra) cannot be relied upon to confer the benefit of seniority based on ad hoc service since it clearly states that ad hoc appointments made as stop gap arrangements do not render the ad hoc service eligible for determining seniority. This Court speaking through Justice MR Shah made the following observations:

"36. The sum and substance of the above discussion would be that on a fair reading of the 1979 Rules, extended from time to time; initial appointment orders in the year 1985 and the subsequent order of regularization in the year 1989 of the ad hoc appointees and on a fair reading of the relevant Service Rules, namely Service Rules, 1993 and the Seniority Rules, 1991, our conclusion would be that the services rendered by the ad hoc appointees prior to their regularization as per the 1979 Rules shall not be counted for the purpose of seniority, vis-à-vis, the direct recruits who were appointed prior to 1989 and they are not entitled to seniority from the date of their initial appointment in the year 1985. The resultant effect would be that the subsequent re- determination of the seniority in the year 2016 cannot be sustained which was considering the services rendered by ad hoc appointees prior to 1989, i.e., from the date of their initial appointment in 1985. This cannot be sustained and the same deserves to be quashed and set aside and the seniority list of 2001 counting the services rendered by ad hoc appointees from the date of their regularization in the year 1989 is to be restored.

37. Now so far as the reliance placed upon the decision of this Court in the case of Direct Recruit Class II Engg.Officers' Assn. (supra), relied upon by the learned Senior Advocate appearing on behalf of the ad hoc appointees is concerned, it is required to be noted that even in the said decision also, it is observed and held that where initial appointment was made only ad hoc as a stop gap arrangement and not according to the rules, the officiation in such post cannot be taken into account for considering the seniority. In the case before this Court, the appointments were made to a post according to rule but as ad hoc and subsequently they were confirmed and to that this Court observed and held that where appointments made in accordance with the rules, seniority is to be counted from the date of such appointment and not from the date of confirmation. In the present case, it is not the case of confirmation of the service of ad hoc appointees in the year 1989. In the year 1989, their services are regularized after following due procedure as required under the 1979 Rules and after their names were recommended by the Selection Committee constituted under the 1979 Rules. As observed hereinabove, the appointments in the year 1989 after their names were recommended by the Selection Committee constituted as per the 1979 Rules can be said to be the "substantive appointments". Therefore, even on CA 6026-28/2021 facts also, the decision in the case of Direct Recruit Class II Engg. Officers' Assn. (supra) shall not be applicable to the facts of the case on hand. At the cost of repetition, it is observed that the decision of this Court in the case of Direct Recruit Class II Engg. Officers' Assn. (supra) was considered by this Court in the case of Santosh Kumar (supra) when this Court interpreted the very 1979 Rules."

The notification dated 3 May 1977 stated that the ad hoc appointments were made in administrative interest in anticipation of regular appointments and on account of delay that takes place in making regular appointment through the concerned agencies. In this regard, the vacancies were notified to the Employment Exchange or advertisements were issued, as the case maybe, by appointing authorities. The appointments were not made on the recommendation of the Punjab Subordinate Service Selection Board. However, subsequently a policy decision was made to regularize the ad hoc appointees since their ouster after a considerable period of service would have entailed hardship. Thus, the initial appointment was supposed to be a stop gap arrangement, besides being not in accordance with the rules, and the ad hoc service cannot be counted for the purpose of seniority."

24. In view of above, this Court is of the view that the petitioner is entitled for seniority only from the date of his substantive appointment on 25.01.1995, which has been made after considering his case by the Selection Committee in accordance with law. Therefore this Court is of the view that there is no illegality or error in the impugned order challenged in the present writ petition. The writ petition has been filed on mis-conceived grounds and it lacks merit.

25. The writ petition is, accordingly,dismissed. No order as to costs.

(2022) 9 ILRA 908
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 13.07.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE MANISH MATHUR, J.

Writ A No.9842 of 2022

Seema Gupta ...Appellant
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri Awadh Behari Singh

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C.

Civil Law - Intermediate Act, 1921-Regulation no. 103-Compassionate Appointment-Petitioner's claim for Compassionate Appointment rejected-on the ground that she is divorced daughter of the deceased employee-does not come within definition of 'Family' under rule no.103 of Act,1921-exclusion of a daughter on the basis of her marital status is against the specific provision of the Constitution-Regulation no. 103 against Article 14 and 15.

W.P. allowed. (E-9)

List of Cases cited:

Smt. Vimla Srivastava Vs St. of U.P. & anr. reported in 2015(4) UPLBEC 3388

(Delivered by Hon'ble Manish Mathur, J.)

1. Heard learned counsel for petitioner and learned State Counsel appearing on behalf of respondents no. 1 and 2.

2. In view of order being proposed to be passed, notices to respondents no.3 and 4 stand dispensed with.

3. Petition has been filed assailing the order dated 06.06.2022 passed by the District Inspector of Schools concerned whereby petitioner's representation for compassionate appointment has been rejected on the ground that she is divorced daughter of the deceased employee and therefore does not come within the definition of 'Family' as envisaged under Regulation No.103 of the Regulations framed under the Intermediate Education Act, 1921.

4. Learned counsel for petitioner submits that the petitioner's father Late Shiv Tahal Gupta was appointed Assistant Teacher in the Intermediate College concerned on 08.09.1980, which was duly approved. While in service, he passed away on 26.09.2016 leaving behind his widow and the petitioner along with another daughter and son. It is submitted that at the time of passing away of her father, the petitioner was married but was subsequently divorced on 22.05.2019. It is submitted that the petitioner filed the application for compassionate appointment on 07.01.2021.

5. It is further submitted that the grounds for rejection of petitioner's representation is clearly against the Division Bench judgment of this Court rendered in the case of Smt. Vimla Srivastava versus State of U.P. and another reported in 2015(4) UPLBEC 3388 wherein it has been held that a daughter cannot be excluded from consideration only on the ground of her marital status. It is submitted that subsequently vide notification dated 12.11.2021, the U.P. Recruitment of Dependents of Government Servants Dying in Harness Rules, 1974 which are pari materia were also amended by the State Government to include daughters (including adopted daughters) and widow daughters-in-law in the definition of the term 'family'. It is submitted that although there is no such corresponding amendment in Regulation 103 which is applicable in the present case but the proposition of law striking down the exclusion of married daughters would have the same applicability.

6. Learned State counsel refuting submissions advance by learned counsel for petitioner as submitted that under Regulation 103 of the aforesaid Regulations, there is no inclusion of a divorced daughter under the definition of term 'family'. It is submitted that the judgment rendered in the case of Smt. Vimla Srivastava (supra) as well as the amendment incorporated in the dying in harness Rules of 1974 are inapplicable in the present facts and circumstances since they apply only to Government Servants and not to teachers of Private Intermediate Colleges even though under grant-in-aid.

7. Upon consideration of submissions advanced by learned counsel for parties and perusal of material available on record, it is apparent that Regulation 103 of the Regulations aforesaid does not contemplate inclusion of a divorced daughter within the definition of the terms 'family'. It is however relevant notice that judgment rendered by Division Bench of this Court in the case of Smt. Vimla Srivastava (supra) had considered a similar rule under the Rules of 1974. The aforesaid judgment in paragraph 11 has considered the aspect and has held that the test in matter of compassionate appointment is a test of dependency within defined relation-ship. It has been held that the assumption that after marriage a daughter cannot be said to be a member of family of her father or that she ceases to be dependent on her father irrespective of social circumstances cannot be countenanced. Excluding daughters purely on the ground of marriage has been held to constitute an impermissible discrimination which would be violative of Articles 14 and 15 of the Constitution of India. The relevant paragraphs of the aforesaid judgment are as follows:-

"11. The stand which has been taken by the state in the counter-affidavit proceeds on a paternalistic notion of the position of a woman in our society and particularly of the position of a daughter after marriage. The affidavit postulates that after marriage, a daughter becomes a member of the family of her husband and the responsibility for her maintenance solely lies upon her husband. The second basis which has been indicated in the affidavit is that in Hindu Law, a married daughter cannot be considered as dependant of her father or a dependent of a joint Hindu family. The assumption that after marriage, a daughter cannot be said to be a member of the family of her father or that she ceases to be dependent on her father irrespective of social circumstances cannot be countenanced. Our society is governed by constitutional principles. Marriage cannot be regarded as a justifiable ground to define and exclude from who constitutes a member of the family when the state has adopted a social welfare policy which is grounded on dependency. The test in matters of compassionate appointment is a test of dependency within defined relationships. There are situations where a son of the deceased Government servant may not be in need of compassionate appointment because the economic and financial position of the family of the deceased are not such as to require the grant of compassionate appointment on a preferential basis. But the dependency or a lack of dependency is a matter which is not determined a priori on the basis of whether or not the son is married. Similarly, whether or not a daughter of a deceased should be granted compassionate appointment has to be defined with reference to whether, on a consideration of all relevant facts and circumstances, she was dependent on the deceased Government servant. Excluding daughters purely on the ground of marriage would constitute an impermissible discrimination and be violative of Articles 14 and 15 of the Constitution."

8. It is also relevant to notice that a similar provision under the Rules of 1974 excluding a married daughter has been amended by the State Government vide notification dated 12.11.2021 to the effect that daughters (including adopted daughter) have now been included under the definition of 'family' of a deceased Government Servant. It is evident that the inclusion of the term daughters which includes adopted daughters has a very-wide import and is in the nature of an inclusive provision instead of an exclusive one. As such all the daughters of deceased Government Employee irrespective of her marital status is now included under the definition of term 'family' under the aforesaid Rules of 1974.

9. In the present facts, although the Rules of 1974 would not be applicable but it is seen that Regulation 103 of the Regulations under the Intermediate Education 1921 is pari materia to Rule 2(c) of the Rules of 1974, which are as follows:-

"[103. इस विनियमावली में दी गई किसी बात के होते हुए भी जहाँ किसी मान्यता प्राप्त सहायता प्राप्त संस्था का अध्यापक या शिक्षणेत्तर कर्मचारी वर्ग के किसी कर्मचारी की जो विहित प्रक्रिया के अनुसार नियुक्त किया गया हो, सेवा काल में मृत्यु हो जाये, तो उसके कुटुम्ब के एक सदस्य को, जो 18 वर्ष से कम आयु का ना हो, प्रशिक्षित स्नातक की श्रेणी में अध्यापक के पद रूप में या किसी शिक्षणेत्तर पद पर, यदि वह पद के लिये विहित अपेक्षित शैक्षिक प्रशिक्षण अर्हताये, यदि कोई हो, रखता हो और नियुक्ति के लिये अन्यथा उपयुक्त हो, नियुक्त किया जा सकता है:

स्पष्टीकरण- इस विनियम के प्रयोजनार्थ 'कुटुम्ब का सदस्य' का तात्पर्य मृत कर्मचारी:

विधया/विधुर, पुत्र, अविवाहित या विधवा पुत्री से होगा।

टिप्पणी- यह विनियम और विनियम 104 से 107 तक उन मृत कर्मचारियों के संबंध में लागू होंगे जिनकी मृत्यु 1 जनवरी, 1981 को या उसके पश्चात् हुई हो।]"

Rules of 1974:

2."(c) "family" shall include the following relations of the deceased Government servant:-

(i) wife or husband;

(ii) sons/adopted sons;

(iii) unmarried daughters, unmarried adopted daughters, widowed daughters and widowed daughters-in-law;

(iv) unmarried brother, unmarried sisters and widowed mother dependent on the deceased Government servant, if the deceased Government servant was unmarried;

(v) aforementioned relations of such missing Government servant who has been declared as "dead" by the competent court:

Provided that if a person belonging to any of the above mentioned relations of the deceased Government servant is not available or is found to be physically and mentally unfit and thus ineligible for employment in Government service, then only in such situation the word "family" shall also include the grandsons and the unmarried granddaughters of the deceased Government servant dependent on him."

10. The concept for exclusion of a married daughter as indicated in the judgement rendered in the case of Smt. Vimla Srivastava (supra) thus would have complete applicability particularly since the exclusion of a daughter of a deceased Government Employee only on the basis of her marital status has been held to be against the specific provisions of the Constitution of India. The Constitution of India being the fountain head of all laws within the State thus would have primacy over all legislation or subordinate legislation including Regulations framed under the Intermediate Education Act, 1921. As such, the proposition of law enunciated in the case of Smt. Vimla Srivastava (supra) would have complete applicability on the regulations framed under the Intermediate Education Act, 1921 also.

11. In view of aforesaid, the exclusion of a daughter from the definition of 'family' under Regulation 103 of the Regulations framed under the Intermediate Education Act, 1921 is clearly against the provisions of Articles 14 and 15 of the Constitution of India as envisaged in Smt.Vimla Srivastava (supra)

12. Considering the fact that the impugned order has rejected petitioner's representation only on the ground of marital status of petitioner although admitting her to be the daughter of a deceased teacher, clearly the said impugned order is violative of Articles 14 and 15 of the Constitution of India as also against the dictum of this Court in the case of Smt. Vimla Srivastava (supra) is therefore quashed by issuance of a writ in the nature of certiorari at the admission stage itself.

13. A further writ in the nature of mandamus is issued directing Respondent No.2 i.e. District Inspector of Schools, Gorakhpur to revisit the petitioner's application irrespective of her marital status. The order pertaining to same shall be passed within a period of six weeks from the date a copy of this order is produced before the concerned authority.

14. Consequently, the writ petition succeed and is allowed. Parties shall bear their own costs.

(2022) 9 ILRA 912
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 09.09.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SUNEET KUMAR, J.

Criminal Appeal No. 212 of 2014

Satendra Kumar & Anr. ...Petitioners
Versus
State of U.P. ...Respondent

Counsel for the Petitioners:
Sri Mangala Prasad Rai, Sri Indra Kumar Chaturvedi, Sri S.K. Rao, Sri Saurabh Chaturvedi, Sri O.P. Singh (Sr. Advocate)

Counsel for the Respondent:
Govt. Advocate, Sri Ashok Kumar Pandey

Criminal Law - Indian Penal Code, 1860 - Section 302- Arms Act, 1959 - Section 25 -Land dispute-accused fired upon the deceased-defective, biased and prejudiced investigation-violation of all norms-implanted two persons as eye witness-planted cartridges and country-made revolver-and showed it as recovered on the pointing of accused-person cannot be judge in his own cause being informant/plaintiff of the Arms Act case-without interrogating the probable persons-not taking blood stained clothes-submitted chargesheet testimony of eye-witnesses - place of occurrence-doubtful-no dying declaration- deceased had inimical relations with several persons.

Appeal allowed. (E-9)

List of Cases cited:

1. Padam Singh Vs St. of U. P. (2000) 1 SCC 621

2. Rama Vs St. of Raj., reported in (2002) 4 SCC 571

3. Majjal Vs St. of Har. (2013) 6 SCC 798

4. Varkey Joseph Vs St. of Kerala, 1993 Supp (3) SCC 745

5. Munsi Prasad Vs St. of Bihar, AIR 2001 SC 3031, 3033

6. Raj Kishor Vs St. of Bihar, 2003 (47) ACC 1068 SC

7. Bhagwan Singh Vs St. of M.P., 2002 (44) ACC 1112 SC

8. Satnam Singh Vs St. of Raj., (2000) 1 SCC 662.

9. Bhagwan Jagannath Marked Vs St. of Mah., (2016) 10 SCC 537

10. Shyamal Ghosh Vs St. of W. B.l, AIR 2012 SC 3539

11. Sone Lal Vs St. of M.P., AIR 2009 SC 760

12. Sucha Singh Vs St. of Punj., (2003) 7 SCC 639

13. Dilawar Singh Vs St. of Hary., (2015) 1 SCC 737

14. Dhari Vs St. of U.P., AIR 2013 SC 308

15. Anil Rai Vs St. of Bihar, (2001) 7 SCC 318

16. St. of Bihar Vs Ram Padarath Singh, AIR 1998 SC 2606

17. Mehraj Singh Vs St. of U.P., (1994) 5 SCC 188

18. St. of M.P. Vs Dharkole, AIR 2005 SC 44

19. Paramjeet Singh Vs St. of Uttrakhand, AIR 2011 SC 200

20. Nagraj Vs St., (2015) 4 SCC 739

21. Wakkar Vs St. of U.P., 2011 (2) ALJ 452 SC, Nathuni Yadav Vs St. of Bihar, (1998) 9 SCC 238

22. Arun Bhanudas Pawar Vs St. of Mah., MANU/SC/7056/2008, (2008) 11 SCC 232

23. Sumer Singh Umed Shinh Rajput @ Sumer Shinh Vs St. of Guj., AIR 2008 SC 904

24. Maqbool Vs St. of Andhra Pradesh, AIR 2011 SC 184

25. Khem Ram Vs St. of H. P. , (2018) 1 SCC 202

26. Leela Ram Vs St. of Har., (1999) 9 SCC 525

27. Navinchndra N. Majithia Vs St. of Megh. & ors., (2000) 8 SCC 323

(Delivered by Hon'ble Suneet Kumar, J.)

1. Heard Shri I.K. Chaturvedi, learned Senior Advocate assisted by Shri Saurabh Chaturvedi, learned counsel for the appellants, Shri Ashok Kumar Pandey, learned counsel for the informant and Shri Vikas Goswami, learned A.G.A. for the the State and perused the record.

2. This appeal has been preferred against the judgment and order dated 2.1.2014, passed by Additional Sessions Judge/Special Judge S.C./S.T. (Prevention of Atrocities) Act, Meerut, whereby the learned Trial Court convicted the appellants/accused persons under Section 302/34 I.P.C. and Section 3 (2) (5) of The S.C. and S.T. (Prevention of Atrocities) Act, 1989, and awarded life imprisonment and fine of Rs. 5,000/- each under Section 302/34 I.P.C., 10 years rigorous imprisonment and fine of Rs. 30,000/- each under Section 3 (2) (5) of The S.C. and S.T. (Prevention of Atrocities) Act, 1989, and in default of payment of fine they have to undergo three months simple imprisonment each under Section 302/34 I.P.C. & Section 3 (2) (5) of The S.C. and S.T. (Prevention of Atrocities) Act, 1989, out of Rs. 30,000/- Rs. 25,000/- had to go to Smt. Sushma, widow of the deceased. Accused Subhash was acquitted under Section 25 of the Arms Act in S.T. No. 614 of 2007 (State Vs. Subhash), Police Station- Lalkurti, District- Meerut, against which no appeal has been preferred by the State.

3. In brief the facts of the case are that on 8.3.2007, informant Narendra Bhan, moved a Tehrir before S.H.O. Lalkurti, Meerut at 11:30 A.M., that due to land dispute, Satendra Kumar and Subhash, sons of Babu Ram Sharma, with an intention to kill his brother fired upon him when he was coming to office at about 10.00 A.M. Both the miscreants were riding a motorcycle and his brother was on a scooter bearing No. UP 15 K-0927. He was admitted in Jaswant Rai Hospital; it was requested to take appropriate action.

4. On the basis of the Tehrir, a case under Section 307 I.P.C, & Section 3 (2) (5) of The S.C. and S.T. (Prevention of Atrocities) Act, 1989, bearing Case Crime No. 64 of 2007, was registered. Thereafter, the scooter of the deceased and a bullet was taken into possession from the spot. A map/site plan of the occurrence was prepared and medical report was obtained from Jaswant Rai Hospital. After death of the injured inquest report was prepared and Senior Sub Inspector (S.S.I) Umesh Chandra Yadav sent the dead body of the deceased for post-mortem and letters to Chief Medical Officer (C.M.O.) and Reserve Inspector (R.I.) Police Line, Meerut, were also sent. Photo Nash and Challan Lash were also prepared and accused were arrested and sent to Jail. After taking them on police custody remand they were taken for recovery of the crime weapon. An illegal revolver of 38 bore, an empty cartridge form its barrel and two live cartridges of the said bore were recovered on the pointing out of accused Subhash from near the broken boundary of R.V.C. Farm, kept in white polythene. Accused Subhash admitted before the police that this was the revolver from which he fired at Bijendra Bhan and thereafter hid it there. An attempt was also made to recover weapon from the accused Satendra but in vain.

5. As per the prosecution version the recovery memo was prepared and copy thereof was provided to the accused Subhash and a map of the place of recovery was also prepared and after obtaining prosecution sanction charge-sheet was prepared and filed under Section 25 of the Arms Act, along with, charge-sheet under Section 307, 302 I.P.C. and Section 3 (2) (5) of The S.C. and S.T. (Prevention of Atrocities) Act, 1989, and a report from Forensic Science Laboratory, Agra, U.P. was also obtained and the same was kept on record.

6. Cognizance was taken by the concerned Magistrate on both the charge-sheets and both the cases were committed to the Court of Sessions on 19.6.2007. On 28.9.2007 charge was framed in both the sessions trials. The file of S.T. No. 613 of 2007 (Satendra Kumar and Another Vs. State of U.P.) was made leading file. Both the sessions trial was decided together by a common judgment.

7. Following witnesses were produced to prove the prosecution version:-

P.W.-1	Dr. Joseph Jamal Jaidi, Dr. Jaswant Rai Hospital, Meerut.
P.W.-2	Narendra Bhan, brother of the deceased and informant.
P.W.-3	Ajay Bhan, alleged eye-witness, son of the informant and nephew of the deceased.
P.W.-4	Dr. Sompal Singh, Dr. who conducted post-mortem.
P.W.-5	Shradhhanand Sharma, Constable Clerk.
P.W.-6	Achhendra Kumar Bhanu, alleged eye-witness, nephew of the deceased and the informant.
P.W.-7	S.I. Umesh Chandra Singh, first I.O.
P.W.-8	S.I. Harpal Singh, I.O. of case under Section 25 of Arms Act.
P.W.-9	Mukesh Kumar Meshram, the then D.M. Meerut.
P.W.-10	Dr. Brijesh Kumar Singh, C.O., second I.O.

Documentary evidence relied upon by the prosecution:-

Ex. Ka-1	Medical Report of the deceased
Ex. Ka-2	Tehrir
Ex. Ka-3	Post-Mortem
Ex. Ka-4	F.I.R. of Case Crime No. 64 of 2007
Ex. Ka-5	Kayami Case G.D. dated 8.3.2007
Ex. Ka-6	Entry of Tehrir in G.D.
Ex. Ka-7	Chick F.I.R. of Case Crime No. 73 of 2007
Ex. Ka-8	G.D. Entry dated 15.3.2007
Ex. Ka-9	Recovery Memo of Scooter
Ex. Ka-10	Recovery Memo of Bullet
Ex. Ka-11	Site-plan of Case Crime N. 64 of 2007
Ex. Ka-12	Inquest
Ex. Ka-13	Letter to C.M.O.
Ex. Ka-14	Letter to R.I.
Ex. Ka-15	Photolash
Ex. Ka-16	Challan Lash
Ex. Ka-17	Specimen Seal
Ex. Ka-18	Arrest Memo of the accused Satendra Kumar and Subhash Chand
Ex. Ka-19	Recovery Memo of illegal revolver of .38 bore and empty and live cartridges regarding case crime no. 64 of 2007

Ex. Ka-19A	Search Memo of weapon regarding Case Crime No.64 of 2007
Ex. Ka-20	Site plan regarding Case Crime No. 73 of 2007 under Section 25 of Arms Act
Ex. Ka-20A	Recovery Memo of illegal revolver alongwith empty and live cartridges of .38 bore regarding Case Crime No. 64 of 2007
Ex. Ka-21	Charge-sheet under Section 25 of Arms Act against accused Subhash
Ex. Ka-21A	Site plan regarding search of weapon as alleged by the accused Satendra regarding Case Crime No. 64 of 2007
Ex. Ka-22	Prosecution Sanction
Ex. Ka-22A	Charge-sheet against accused regarding Case Crime No. 64 of 2007
Ex. Ka-23A	Report of Forensic Science Laboratory Agra, U.P.

Material Exhibits produced and proved by the prosecution:-

Material Ex. 1	Alleged recovered country made revolver
Material Ex. 2	Empty cartridge
Material Ex. 3 & 4	Live cartridges
Material Ex. 5	Clothes
Material Ex. 6	Bullet recovered from the place of occurrence

It may be noted that the bullet recovered from the dead body was neither produced, nor, proved in the Court.

8. After closure of prosecution evidence statements of accused persons were recorded under Section 313 Cr.P.C. wherein, both the accused persons denied the allegations, documentary and oral evidences produced by the prosecution. They stated that false recovery was made by the I.O. According to them, witnesses have given false evidence on account of enmity and both the alleged eye witnesses, P.W.3 and P.W. 6, are real nephew of the deceased and son and nephew of informant P.W.2 Narendra Bhan. Accused Subhash stated that there is property dispute between his uncle, deceased- Bijendra Bhan, Satendra Som and Yogendra Som, who were tenants of his uncle. His uncle had sold their property to them and when they came to take possession then dispute arose, therefore, his uncle in connivance of the tenants falsely implicated both the brothers in the murder of Bijendra Bhan. When they were sent to jail, Satendra and Yogendra, again reoccupied their plot. There was no enmity between the deceased and the accused persons. All the witnesses of fact are the family members of the deceased who have falsely deposed against them due to enmity. Accused Satendra in addition to that has clarified that being brother of Subhash his uncle has falsely implicated him in connivance with Satendra and Yougendra.

9. Oral evidence from the side of accused persons:-

D.W.-1	Vinod, owner of close tea stall.
D.W.-2	Pankaj Kumar Sharma, Yoga Teacher.
D.W.-3	Mohd. Ayub, a prisoner in lockup of P.S. Nauchandi.
D.W.-4	Chandra Shekhar, property dealer.
D.W.-5	Vineet Kumar, employee of Sushila Jaswant Rai Hospital.
D.W.-6	Sanjay Khare, Scientist/Arms specialist, F.S.L. Agra.

Documentary evidence from the side of defence:-

Ex. Kha-1	Certified copy of the admission register of the deceased in Sushila Jaswant Rai Hospital.

10. Submissions:

In brief, the learned counsel for the appellants has made the following submissions :-

(a) That the conviction and sentence passed by the trial Court is against the weight of evidence. The trial Court has not considered the material facts available on record and on the basis of conjectures and surmises passed the impugned order which is against the law and facts and is liable to be set-aside.

(b) That P.W.-1, the doctor who examined the injured has categorically stated that condition of the deceased was too critical and was immediately kept on ventilator and while on the ventilator he succumbed to the injuries. Thus, there was no occasion for the deceased to communicate anything to any of the witnesses.

(c) That it is admitted by the prosecution that informant of the case Narendra Bhan (P.W.2) was not present at the time of the incident and he has admitted in his testimony that he came to know about the incident and the deceased being admitted to the hospital in an injured condition later. P.W. 2 was on duty in the court and after getting the information from another employee regarding the incident and the admission of his brother in the hospital, firstly, he moved an application before the Presiding Officer for granting leave, thereafter, he proceeded to the hospital where the injured was kept on the ventilator, thus, he is not the eye witness of the incident and no pre- death statement had been given by the deceased to the informant.

(d) That other alleged eye witnesses of the incident are Ajay Bhan (P.W.3) and Akshendra Kumar Bhan (P.W.6) who are the son and nephew of the informant, but their names were also not mentioned in the F.I.R. Further, no other evidence corroborates the fact that they were present at the time of the incident. They being the close relatives of the deceased and after lodging of the F.I.R. they were setup as eye witnesses.

(e) That it is admitted by the prosecution and established from the evidence of defence that there was property dispute (sale deed paper no. 114 Kha) and a copy of F.I.R. being case crime no. 124 of 2003, wherein charge-sheet, has been submitted against the informant and the deceased which indicates admitted enmity with appellants.

(f) That, further, it appears that deceased dealing in property was shot by some other persons in order to take revenge, the appellants have been falsely implicated in the present case due to admitted enmity. It is also evident from the prosecution case that the place of occurrence is not the actual place of occurrence as no blood was found on the spot, though deceased had received six gun shot injuries, three entry wounds and three exit wounds, meaning thereby, there should have been a pool of blood on the spot, but nothing was recovered by the I.O. in this regard no recovery memo was prepared.

(g) That it appears that the deceased was shot somewhere else and his body was thrown at the place which the prosecution claims to be the place of incident. The appellants have been convicted on the oral testimony of the alleged eye witnesses P.W.-3 and P.W.-6 who are close relatives of the deceased and the confessional statement of the accused. The testimony of the eye witnesses is false and untruthful. It is a case of no evidence. .

11. Scope of Appeal under Section 378 Cr.P.C.:

This is an appeal against the judgment and order of conviction. The duty of Appellate Court has been highlighted by the Supreme Court in several cases, some are noted herein below :

In Padam Singh vs. State of U. P. (2000) 1 SCC 621, while dealing with the duty of the Appellate Court, Supreme Court expressed as follows :

"2.... It is the duty of an appellant court to look into the evidence adduced in the case and arrive at an independent conclusion as to whether the said evidence can be relied upon or not and even if it can be relied upon, then whether the prosecution can be said to have been proved beyond reasonable doubt on the said evidence. The credibility of a witness has to be adjudged by the appellate court in drawing inference from proved and admitted facts. It must be remembered that the appellate court, like the trial court, has to be satisfied affirmatively that the prosecution case is substantially true and the guilt of the accused has been proved beyond all reasonable doubt as the presumption of innocence with which the accused starts, continues right through until he is held guilty by the final Court of Appeal and that presumption is neither strengthened by an acquittal nor weakened by a conviction in the trial court."

Similarly, in Rama Vs. State of Rajasthan, reported in (2002) 4 SCC 571, the Hon'ble Apex Court has also cast duty upon the appellate court in the following terms:-

"4.....It is well settled that in a criminal appeal, a duty is enjoined upon the appellate court to reappraise the evidence itself and it cannot proceed to dispose of the appeal upon appraisal of evidence by the trial court alone especially when the appeal has been already admitted and placed for final hearing. Upholding such a procedure would amount to negation of valuable right of appeal of an accused, which cannot be permitted under law."

Furthermore, in Majjal Vs. State of Haryana (2013) 6 SCC 798, a three Judge Bench of the Apex Court has ruled thus: -

"7. It was necessary for the High Court to consider whether the trial court's assessment of the evidence and its opinion that the appellant must be convicted deserve to be confirmed. This exercise is necessary because the personal liberty of an accused is curtailed because of the conviction. The High Court must state its reasons why it is accepting the evidence on record. The High Court's concurrence with the trial court's view would be acceptable only if it is supported by reasons. In such appeals it is a court of first appeal. Reasons cannot be cryptic. By this, we do not mean that the High Court is expected to write an unduly long treatise. The judgment may be short but must reflect proper application of mind to vital evidence and important submissions which go to the root of the matter."

Accordingly, this Court proceeds to consider and decide the Appeal in accordance with the principles laid down by the Supreme Court.

12. Statements of prosecution witnesses and its analysis/scrutiny :

(a) P.W.-1 Dr. Joseph Jamal Zaidi, attended the deceased in injured state at 10:40 A.M. on 8.3.2007, in Sushila Jaswant Rai Hospital, Meerut, has proved the injury report Ex. Ka-1 and stated that when he saw the injured, the injured had not fallen unconscious, but was in a drowsy state. Diastolic B.P. was not showing while systolic B.P. was 60. Pulse was very feeble and hardly palpable. This witness has found that patient sustained multiple fire-arm entry and exit wounds over lower chest and upper abdomen. Blood was arranged but the patient could not be revived. Pupils became fixed and not responding to light.

Normally name of the person/hospitalizer of the injured is written in the beginning, but in this case first four lines and last few lines of the report appear to have been written later after preparation of the injury report. The sentences are in different handwriting and ink, it is noted, further, that the deceased was brought by P.W.-2 Narendra Bhan, brother of the deceased. It also establishes that the patient was not brought by P.W.3 and P.W.6, who claim to be eye-witnesses, otherwise their names would have found place in the injury report. Even the name of the patient Bijendra Bhan has been written, above the drawn lines, in another handwriting. This witness admits that he has not written the particulars of the patient and below the injury report Left Thumb Impression (LTI) of Narendra Bhan, son of Harikishan, was also not in his handwriting.

(b) P.W.-2, Narendra Bhan- informant, Reader of the then Additonal Sessions Judge (A.D.J.) Court No. 16, in Civil Court, Meerut, has deposed that there was property dispute between him and accused persons. He proved the Tehrir (Ex. Ka-2) wherein, he has written that on 8.3.2007, at about 10:00 A.M. when his brother was coming to the Court, near Hanuman Temple, Sophipur, accused Satendra and Subhash, shot his brother Bijendra Bhan, who was on a scooter, with an intention to kill him. Accused persons were on motorcycle. After receiving information at the Court he reached Sushila Jaswant Rai Hospital, thereafter, lodged the F.I.R. Bijendra Bhan died on the same day in the hospital. He, further, deposed that the incident was seen by witnesses Ajay Bhan(P.W.3), Satendra and Achhendra Bhan (P.W.6). His brother Bijenndra Bhan had also informed him during treatment that due to property dispute accused persons caused fire-arm injuries.

(i) It is noteworthy that only Ajay Bhan (P.W.3) and Achhendra Bhan (P.W.6), who are real nephew of the deceased and son of the informant have come forward in support of prosecution, but independent witness Satendra has not been examined. According to this witness, P.W.6 does his own business, whereas, Achhendra Bhan, (P.W.6), in contradiction has stated that he was working with Marshal Security, Abu Lane, Meerut. P.W.2 does not claim to be eye-witness, but stated that deceased before death had informed him about the incident and the accused persons. This fact shall be dealt later in the light of statements of other witnesses. This witness admittedly received information of the incident at 10:40 A.M. from one Arvind Kumar Gupta, Munsarim Munsif Hawali. Thereafter, he prepared casual leave application and got it sanctioned from the presiding officer, thereafter, proceeded to the hospital. As per F.I.R, deceased was admitted in hospital at 10:40 A.M. Thus, this witness would have reached the hospital after 11:00 A.M. During cross-examination this witness has admitted and expressed ignorance about several facts, including, enmity of the deceased within the family, and other persons, other than the named accused persons.

(ii) P.W.2 has further deposed that after inquest, body of the deceased was carried by the police for post-mortem. He expressed ignorance about the vehicle on which the dead body was brought to post mortem house and also admits that no family member had accompanied the dead body to the post-mortem house. He also expressed ignorance as to who donated blood; he admits that at the time of the incident, deceased was having Mobile Phone bearing No. 9412707982, but its C.D.R. has not been obtained by the I.O. to fix the place of occurrence. It is also noteworthy that no blood stained and plain earth/soil/part of tar-coal road was taken from the spot which is essential to establish the place of occurrence. In this regard no laboratory report was obtained by the I.O. In this backdrop it is argued, from the appellants' side, that place of occurrence is somewhere else and the body was thrown at the alleged place of occurrence.

(c) P.W.-3, Ajay Bhan, claims to be eye-witness, in brief, he claims himself to be L.I.C. agent in L.I.C. branch Saket Meerut and eye-witness of the incident, deposed that at about 9:35 A.M., he on scooter and his cousin Achhendra Bhan on motorcycle were going to Meerut. When they reached on Roorki Road, his uncle, Bijenrdra Bhan, overtook them by scooter. On his uncle reaching near Sophipur Temple, Satyendra and Subhash, both real brothers, shot at Bijendra Bhan, who fell down and thereafter both the assailants fired at him with intention to kill him. This incident was seen by his cousin Achhendra Bhan and Satendra Som. He deposed that Subhash had fired 3-4 bullets at waist and side of the deceased, thereafter, the deceased parked the scooter and fell down. They parked their vehicles and transported Bijendra Bhan at Sushila Jaswant Rai Hospital. Relevant part of his statement has been recorded at paragraph no. 16 to 21.

(d) P.W.-4, Dr. Sompal Singh, conducted autopsy/post-mortem and found the following injuries on the body of the deceased:-

He found that rigor-mortis was head downwards. There was dried blood smeared over the body. There was fracture of L3 vertebrae. 11th rib of right side was under injury. Right side pleura was lacerated, right lung was lacerated, vessels were lacerated, there were clotted blood and fluid in the right side pleural cavity. Peritoneum was lacerated and in its cavity 2.5 kg clotted blood and fluid was present. In stomach only 50 ml. watery fluid was present. Small and big intestine were lacerated. Liver was also lacerated. Spleen was pale. Both kidneys and gall bladder was lacerated .

(i) Following ante mortem injuries were found on the person of the deceased:-

i. Gun shot wound (GSW) entry 1 - 1x1 c. m. X bone deep on back mid line lumber vertebral column at the level of L3. Margins inverted blackening present. Bone fracture under injury.

ii. GSW exit 2 --1 x 1 c.m. correspond injury no. 1, wound of entry on abdomen 5 c.m. below from umbilicus at 6 'O' Clock position. Margin everted.

iii. GSW 3 Entry- 1x 1 c.m. right lateral side of abdomen involving lower part of chest. 11 c.m. above. ASIS margin irregular, blackening present, 11th rib fracture under injury, no penetration wound found.

iv. GSW Entry - 1 x 1 c.m. x chest cavity deep - right lateral side chest 16 cm. above injury no. 3. 6th and 7th ribs fractured under injury. Margins inverted with blackening.

v. GSW exit- 1 x 1.5 c.m. correspond to injury no. 4 wound of entry on left lateral side of abdomen 8 cm. above left ASIS. Margin everted.

vi. GSW entry - 1 x 1 c.m. X abdominal cavity deep on right lateral side of abdomen 13 c.m. above (right ASIS).

(ii) One metallic bullet was recovered from soft tissue of left side abdomen near costal margin. Body was sent for X-ray for any foreign body. X-ray film number 1675 to 1680 dated 8.3.2007, copy of X-ray slip was also attached with post-mortem report.

(iii) In cross-examination this witness has admitted that considering the nature of the injuries there was possibility of immediate death of the deceased, though, as per the death certificate issued by Jastwant Rai Hospital, the deceased died at 1:00 P.M. He admits that he has not written the time of death. He further admits that having regard to the injuries there is possibility of death of the deceased on the spot. On being inflicted serious injuries deceased would not be in a position to speak.

(iv) In the backdrop of the evidence of P.W.-4, the deposition of P.W.2 that the deceased had informed the name of accused persons while in ICU is improbable or falsified. P.W.4 further opined that deceased must have taken meal 6 to 8 hours before receiving the fire arm injuries, as 50 ml. watery fluid was found in stomach of the deceased. Therefore, deposition of P.W.2 that deceased left the house, for the Court, after taking meal in the morning is falsified. P.W. 4 further deposed that most of the organs of the deceased had been torn/lacerated. Having regard to the nature of the injuries, moving-walking or the possibility of the deceased driving scooter is not possible. The testimony of this witness also casts doubt in the manner of attack explained by the prosecution. According to this witness the I.O. had not recorded his statement.

(e) P.W.-5, Shradhha Nand Sharma, constable/clerk, who on the basis of Tehrir prepared chick FIR and after death of the deceased added Section 302 I.P.C. and entered it in GD No. 21 at 11:30 A.M. This witness further states that GD No. 25 regarding addition of Section 302 I.P.C. was prepared by him at 2:10 PM. After alleged recovery of fire arm and bullet on the pointing out of accused Subhash a case under Section 25 of Arms Act bearing Case Crime No. 73 of 2007 was lodged at 11:45 AM on 15.3.2007. This witness has prepared chick F.I.R. Ex. Ka-7. In this regard G.D. was prepared by him at 1:30 P.M. and has proved it as Ex. Ka-8.

According to this witness he did not receive the clothes of the deceased, nor, pathological or scientific report was obtained with regard to presence of blood on the clothes of the deceased. He stated that after recovery, accused were brought to the lockup. He admits that clothes received from post-mortem house was neither sealed by the I.O., nor, sent for examination.

According to the learned counsel for the appellants forged and fictitious recovery memo was prepared on the pointing out of accused Subhash. As per the F.S.L. Report, bullets and cartridges recovered from the place of occurrence and from the body of the deceased do not match with the so called recovered country made pistol.

(f) P.W.-6- Achhendra Kumar Bhan, is the real nephew of the deceased. According to him on the date of incident he was serving in Abu Lane Marshal Security, Meerut. On 8.3.2007 he started his journey from his house at 9:45 A.M. for Meerut. According to him when he and P.W.3 Ajay Bhan, reached near Roorkee Road, his uncle overtook them by scooter. When he reached in front of Sophipur then a motorcycle driven by accused Satendra overtook them on which accused Subhash was a pillion rider. When they (accused) reached near the deceased, first Subhash shot the deceased and accused fell down. Thereafter, Satendra and Subhash both fired with an intention to kill the deceased, thereafter, ran away towards Modipuram. According to P.W.5 this incident was witnessed by him, Ajay Bhan and Satyendra Som of his village. The incident took place at 10:00 A.M. on 8.3.2007. Thereafter, it is stated that they carried their uncle in injured state to the hospital and handed him to the officials of the hospital, who carried the injured to I.C.U. After sometime his uncle (P.W.2) reached and completed the admission formalities. On the same day injured Bijendra Bhan died during treatment. P.W.5 and Ajay Bhan narrated the story of the incident to his uncle Narendra Bhan(informant).

According to P.W.5 the informant Narendra Bhan reached the hospital after admission of the injured in I.C.U. It has come in evidence that the deceased immediately was intubated and put on ventilator. The doctor did not find the injured in position to give dying declaration, therefore, no information was sent to police/Magistrate. In case of intubation and patient being put on ventilator, there was no possibility that the injured could speak or had told anything to anyone. This witness does not say that prior to death of the deceased there was any talk between the informant and the deceased.

(g) P.W.-7, Umesh Chandra Singh Yadav:- This witness has proved the alleged recovered revolver (M Ex. 1), empty cartridge (M Ex. -2), live cartridges (M Exs. 3 and 4), clothes (M Ex. 5). Bullet alleged to be recovered from the place of occurrence was produced unsealed in the Court. It is proved (M Ex. 6). He admits that C.O. Brijesh Kumar Singh is the informant/plaintiff of the case under Section 25 Arms Act, but it was investigated by S.I. Mithun Dixit (it is against the procedure and principle of natural justice, though the accused has been acquitted on the basis of F.S.L. report for the charge of Section 25 Arms Act, finding him to have been falsely implicated and no appeal has been preferred by the State). This witness admits that since beginning. Section 3 (2) (5) of The S.C and S.T (Prevention of Atrocities) Act, 1989, was mentioned in the Chick F.I.R. But Circle Officer (C.O.) was out of station therefore on the oral direction of the Inspector he started the investigation but he did not mention this fact in G.D. Further, he deposed that after one hour when he received death memo of the injured, he added Section 302 IPC. (i) He reached the hospital and completed inquest proceeding there. He admits that he started inquest at 14:30 hours and finished at 14:45 hours but by mistake he has written A.M. He also admits that he faulted in writing 15:45 instead of 14:45 (time of closure of inquest proceeding). He admitted that he did not receive the signature of the constables by whom the dead body was sent for post-mortem. He admits that being I.O. he had not taken clothes of the deceased. He further stated that he had visited the place of occurrence with the informant, no one else accompanied them.

(ii) It is material to note that if informant is not the eye-witness, whereas, P.W.3 and P.W. 6 have seen the occurrence, but the I.O. prepared site plan in absence of both or anyone of them. Meaning thereby, till then prosecution had not decided that Ajay Bhan P.W.3 and Achhendra Bhan P.W.6 were to be produced as eye-witnesses. Further, he admits that where the incident took place is in midst of military area. There is Gol Bhatta, Military Check Post and Military Farm, where armed military guards always remain present. According to P.W.7 at the time of his visit, no guards were there so he did not record the statement of anyone. According to him priest of the temple was also not present. He admits that he visited the spot only once. He admits that he did not enquire about the scooter because according to him there was no abnormality in it as it was in running condition, so he did not send the scooter for technical examination. He found no damage to the scooter but he was unable to say whether there was blood on the scooter or not.

(iii) Further P.W.7 deposed that he found 315 bore empty cartridge on the spot but the recovered revolver relates to 32 bore from which recovered cartridge can not be operated (as per FSL report the .38 revolver and the 315 cartridge was not sent for examination to FSL and in this regard no investigation has been done by any of the I.O.). According to him they had not operated the revolver recovered from Subhash. Further, he deposed that soiled bullet was found on the spot. He admits his mistake that he had not sent the soil for examination. He admits that no empty cartridges or bullet of 9 m.m. was recovered from the spot. But in view of Ex. Ka- 23 FSL report bullet recovered from the dead body EB1 and bullet EB2 found from the place of occurrence are 9 mm bullets.

(iv) According to P.W.7 revolver relates to 32 bore while it is a country made pistol of .38 bore. The witness admits that the bullet can not be operated from the recovered revolver. P.W.7 arrested the accused persons next day at 7:00 A.M. and produced them at 12 hours in Court. He admits that accused persons had not resisted, nor, received any injury during the course of their arrest and they had not escaped after the incident, (this proves that they had no apprehension of being named for the murder of deceased and that they would be arrested for the crime, otherwise, they would have in normal circumstances left the house and absconded). No cash was recovered from their possession. P.W.7 admits that he had not sent the revolver to the finger print expert. He further states surprisingly that the case diary dated 8.3.2007 and 9.3.2007 was not written by him but might have been written by the driver. He admits that he had not taken clothes of the deceased in his possession.

(j) P.W.-8 - S.I. Harpal Singh is the second I.O. of the case under Section 25 Arms Act, he received the investigation from S.I. Mithun Dixit. According to this witness first of all he read over the CD recorded by the first I.O., thereafter, recorded the statement of informant C.O., B.K. Singh and witnesses of recovery HCP Keshav Dutt Sharma, constable Ratan Singh and driver Ashok Singh. On the pointing of HCP K.D. Sharma, visited the place of recovery and prepared site plan and proved it (Ex. Ka-20). He also recorded the statement of S.S.I. Umesh Chandra Yadav, HC Devendra Singh, constable Shyoraj Singh and constable Bijendra Singh. On 7.5.2007 he received sanction order from the then D.M. (while as per sanction order Ex. Ka-22 and statement of P.W.9, Mukesh Kumar Meshram, the then D.M., sanction was given on 9.4.2007) and finding accused Subahsh guilty under Section 25 Arms Act submitted the charge-sheet and has proved it (Ex. Ka-21). In cross-examination he admits that he had not moved any application to receive the case property from Malkhana. It proves that from the Malkhana of P.S. Lalkurti Meerut, any case property could be easily taken out any time and could be deposited any time in any manner. According to him the sealed arm and ammunition was opened before the City Magistrate (not before District Magistrate). According to him clerk of City Magistrate has taken the case property. He admits that he has not disclosed in CD that the case property was produced before the D.M. He admits that CD paper was seen by DM and in this case the same C.O. was the informant (of the case under Section 25 Arms Act). He admits that any person is accessible to the farm where from case property was recovered. He could not say which crop was sown there. He could not remember that marks of police visit were present on spot or not. (These shortcomings show that this witness did investigation in casual manner and under the undue influence of the informant CO who approved the charge-sheet in violation of natural law as impliedly he was capable of making unwarranted interference and controlling the investigation). He could not remember the kind of truss on the case property. He admits that City Magistrate had seen the revolver by operating it. (City Magistrate can not do so, it was to be sent to the FSL only in the condition that it was found). He admits that he went to D.M. with the case property but he was not there (meaning thereby it is not established that he produced the case property before D.M. and after satisfying himself the DM had given prosecution sanction under Section 39 of the Arms Act).

(j) P.W.-9 Shri Mukesh Meshram, District Magistrate, Meerut, deposed that on 9.4.2007 he, after reading the whole case diary and after opening the truss of the case property observed the case property and after that he had granted the prosecution sanction. After sealing the case property it was returned with the case diary. He has proved the prosecution sanction as Ex. Ka-22. He has denied the suggestions given by the defence counsel that the sanction was granted without looking the case diary and the case property or it was not again sealed before him.

(k) P.W. 10- Circle Officer (C.O.)- Brijesh Kumar Singh, I.O. of the case deposed that on 10.3.2007, he was posted as C.O. Sadar Meerut. He recorded the additional statement of informant Narendra Bhan, Ajay Bhan and Achhendra Bhan the eye witnesses (meaning thereby till 10.3.2007 they were not found, nor, considered by the previous I.O. as eye witnesses, and this I.O. finding no evidence case has shown them as eye witnesses to make up for the shortfall).

(i) On 12.3.2007 he recorded the statements of Vinod and Sukhpal. He moved application on 14.3.2007 for getting police custody remand of the accused persons which was allowed and on 15.3.2007, the alleged arm and ammunition was recovered from inside the RVC Farm. No arm could be recovered from accused Satyendra. According to this witness the recovered revolver was sealed on the spot. Recovery memo was written by S.S.I. Umesh Yadav on his dictation. He with police personnel and accused had signed the recovery memo (Ex, Ka 19 A). According to him site map was prepared by him on 16.3.2007 (Ex. Ka 20A). On 16.3.2007, he prepared another map regarding failed attempt to make recovery from accused Satynedra (Ex. Ka 21A).

(ii) It is to be noted that the informant is reaching on the spot of recovery next day and the map is prepared by the S.I., whereas, it is the duty of the I.O. Harpal Singh (I.O.) visited the place of occurrence on 29.3.2007 and prepared the map regarding recovery from accused Subhash. He has copied the map prepared by his boss, C.O., B. K. Singh. This witness has earlier not deposed that two live cartridges and one empty cartridges was recovered from the place of recovery, but after opening the truss, the articles that appeared before him, he proved it. Revolver was exhibited as material Ex. 1, empty cartridge as material Ex. 2, two live cartridges as material Ex. 3 & 4 and clothes as material Ex. 5. On 12.4.2007, he copied the inquest report and post mortem in C.D.

On 16.4.2007 he recorded the statement of Smt. Sushma, widow of the deceased. On 2.5.2007 he recorded the statement of the witnesses Satendra Kumar, Dev Pal Singh and Shri Kishan. On 26.5.2007 he recorded the statement of Sunil Kumar, Priya Bhan, Gajendra Bhan and Narendra Bhan. On 27.5.2007 he recorded the statements of witnesses Rajiv and Mahkar Singh. On 28.5.2007 he recorded the statement of Dr. S.P. Singh (it is denied by doctor P.W.4) and submitted the charge-sheet (Ex. Ka 22A).

(iii) The relevant points that come across from cross-examination of P.W.10 is that he does not know which officer had visited the spot. He admits that he neither visited Jaswant Rai Hospital, nor, recorded the statement of any doctor or workman of the hospital. He also did not verify the papers received from the hospital. According to him he did not pay attention on the report of Dr. Zaidi who first attended the injured and noted the injuries. According to him he acted, in accordance with the post mortem report. On 11.3.2007 he visited the place of occurrence with the informant and the witnesses but not the eye witnesses. He admits that he inspected the spot on the pointing of the informant (not on the pointing of the alleged eye witnesses) and the map was in conformity with the map prepared by S.S.I. Umesh Chandra Yadav. He did not find any evidence that day on the spot. According to him there are Army Farms on both sides of the place of occurrence; there is a temple and 18 to 19 shops, wooden shops and bus stop. He admits that military personnel always remain at the military post, but he did not record the statement of any one of them, but considered the spot and the scene of the incident on the statement of the ex I.O. and the informant. According to him, Ajay Bhan (P.W.3) had stated to him that Subhash had fired at the back of the deceased and deceased had fallen down on the spot. Satendra of his village was there. Similar statement was given by Achhendra Bhan (P.W.6) to him. He admits that C.D. was not written by him but was written by Head Constable. He further states that neither first I.O., nor, did he find blood on the spot. He recorded additional statements of both the eye witnesses on 26.5.2007. He did not search for the three wheeler whereon the deceased was taken to hospital. He did not verify that whether the witnesses actually do the job which they claim are doing or not.

(iv) Whereas, according to Achhendra Bhan he works in Marhsal Security Abu Lane Meerut and Ajay Bhan does L.I.C. work in Saket. As per P.W.2, informant, Narendra Bhan, P.W.6 Achchendra Bhan does bottle related work in Kankar Khera. Therefore, there was no occasion for Achhendra Bhan to come to Meerut and remain present on the spot at the time of occurrence. In these circumstances it was necessary for the I.O. to verify the place of work and job of the witness Achhendra Bhan. It appears that only for the purpose of being eye witness, this witness stated to be working with Marshal Security Abu Lane, Meerut, which has not been verified by the I.O. In this situation even P.W.6 can not be said to be chance witness, far from being eye witness. P.W.10 admits that there are different routes to reach Abu Lane and Kankar Khera from village Dorli Roshanpur. This evidence also undermines the presence of P.W.6 at the scene.

(v) P.W.10 admits that the case property was sent very late for FSL report on 27.5.2007. He also admits that case property was returned by FSL Agra, for proper stamping by City Magistrate and Doctor. (It shows casual approach on the part of the I.O.) He admits that the place of first fire arm shot has not been shown in the map. He did not enquire about the enmity between the witness Satendra Som (not examined) and the accused persons. He could not explain the reason of delayed recording of statement of Satendra Som on 2.5.2007.

(vi) According to this witness accused persons had confessed the commission of crime on the day of their arrest but was unable to explain as to why recovery was not made by the first I.O. He admits that no motorcycle alleged to have been employed in commission of the crime was ever traced. According to this witness, witnesses had not informed that in Panchayat, deceased and witnesses Ajay Bhan and Acchendra Bhan had fired at Vinod Kumar a villager. He states that he can not say anything about dying declaration, thus, the alleged dying declaration by the deceased to P.W.2 is not being supported by the I.O. Further, he deposed that only previous I.O. can say in this regard. First I.O. has also not deposed that any dying declaration was made by the deceased. This witness could not tell about the way/path of visiting the place of recovery. He admits that he can not tell how the interior of the Farm looks from the street. He does not remember the length of the wall. He could not tell the extent of the wall and whether the level of road and place of recovery was even or not. He could not say about the crop sown in the Farm. He could not say about the enmity between the deceased and the other persons, though, he admits that the deceased had enmity regarding land with other persons also. He admits that he has not seen the clothes of the deceased. According to him witnesses had not informed him that the son-in-law had attacked the deceased twice earlier. (It shows that this officer has done the investigation in very casual manner, the clothes of the deceased were not sent for examination by the first I.O., it was his bounden duty to send the same for FSL report, wherein, the holes could establish characteristic of fire arm injury or the clothes would have been found scorched. This could also have established the distance wherefrom the deceased was shot.)

13. Truthfulness of the contents of the F.I.R. :

(a) P.W.-2 Narendra Bhan, brother of the deceased, a Civil Court employee, lodged F.I.R. at 11:30 A.M. on 8.3.2007, alleging that due to property dispute his younger brother Bijendra Bhan was shot by the accused persons, residents of the same village Roshanpur Daurali Meerut, near Sofipur Mandir, at about 10:00 A.M. while his brother was coming to the office on his scooter. The accused persons were riding a motorcycle. His brother was admitted in Jaswant Rai Hospital.

(b) The chick F.I.R. (Ex. Ka-1) was prepared at about 11:30 A.M. and it was entered into G.D. at serial no. 21. In the F.I.R. informant has not mentioned the name(s) of the witnesses, nor, he has claimed himself to be an eye witness. The alleged eye witnesses P.W.3, Ajay Bhan, son of the informant and P.W.-6, Achhendra Kumar Bhan, nephew of the informant and the deceased are also not mentioned as eye witnesses of the incident. Though as per the informant P.W.3 and P.W.6 informed him of the incident at the hospital. The motive set up was land dispute. As per the F.I.R. there is no eyewitness of the incident.

(c) From the perusal of the deposition of informant, P.W.-2, Narendra Bhan, it is established fact that P.W.-2 was not present on the spot and was not accompanying the deceased at the time of incident. According to P.W.-2 on 8.3.2007, he proceeded for his office (Civil Court) from his house at 9:30 A.M. and reached the office at 9:45 A.M., he received information of the incident at 10:40 A.M. from one Arvind Kumar Gupta, when he was in the court. From his evidence it is evident that the alleged eyewitness P.W.-3 and P.W.6 who are his son and nephew had not informed him of the incident until then, nor, were they present in the hospital. As per the medical papers injured was not brought by them. After receiving information of the incident P.W.2 moved an application for casual leave before the presiding officer and informed him about the incident. The application was accepted, thereafter, he reached Jaswant Rai Hospital. He admits that he alone went to the hospital which is about 700 to 800 meters from the Civil Court. According to him at the time of incident deceased Bijendra Bhan was posted as suit clerk in the vacant court of Sixth Additional Civil Judge. P.W.2 informed the Senior Administrative Officer of the Civil Court. He has also admitted that deceased was ex-secretary of Civil Court Employees Association, Meerut Branch. According to him in Jaswant Rai Hospital several persons, viz. Girish Chandra Tyagi, Omveer Sharma, Jitendra etc. had reached. Some advocates had also reached but he could not tell their names. He admits that he did not ask Arvind Kumar as to who had given the information to him.

(d) From the aforesaid evidence of the informant it is obvious that even alleged eyewitnesses P.W.3 and P.W.6 had not reached the hospital, neither, with the informant, nor, later on with other persons who reached the hospital after hearing about the incident. This witness has said that when he reached the hospital he found his brother intubated and was on ventilator in I.C.U., he further states, he asked the injured about the assailants and the deceased replied. He further deposed that when he saw the dead body and at the time the dead body was sealed it was in an underwear.

14. On the basis of the evidence of the informant, it is established that the informant had not met the deceased after the incident, but he could reach the hospital when the injured had been intubated and was on ventilator. It is also noteworthy that no dying declaration was recorded, either by any private person, by the police, doctor or by the Magistrate. Doctor does not depose that the injured was in a position to speak or to say something, if it had been so, doctor himself would have asked the police to call the Magistrate to write the dying declaration. Considering the serious condition of the deceased it is probable that deceased did not tell anything to the informant about the assailants and the incident, or was in a position to speak. It is not the case of prosecution that deceased pointed out about the assailants by gesture or he was in position to do so.

15. This witness also admits that when he reached the hospital he found that his brother's wounds were bandaged. He further admits that when he reached I.C.U. Dr. Zaidi was attending his brother; at the moment his brother told the names of accused persons the doctor was not there. He could not say that whether the doctor heard their conversation or not. The evidence of P.W.2 appears to be unreliable and doubtful for the reason that generally relatives of the patient are not allowed to enter the I.C.U. more so, when the patient has been intubated and is on ventilator. He admits that he had not told to the doctor that he had heard the name of the assailants from the deceased. He admits that he has not mentioned the names of the eyewitnesses in the F.I.R. or, that his brother had disclosed the names of the assailants. He admits that timing is strictly followed in the Court where his brother was posted. Every employee has to report by 10:00 A.M. and leave the Court by 5:00 P.M. He further stated that his brother used to come to office after taking meals and also with tiffin/lunch. On the day of the incident the deceased had come after taking meals. But this fact is not corroborated by the evidence of P.W.4, Dr. Som Pal Singh, doctor of post-mortem who found that the deceased had taken meals six to eight hours before the death. It means in the morning he had not taken meal. As per the post mortem report there was only 50 Ml. watery fluid in his stomach.

16. P.W.3, Ajay Bhan, L.I.C. Agent, is the nephew of the deceased. According to him at about 9:45 P.M. he was going to L.I.C. Branch Saket, Meerut, by motorcycle, his cousin Achhendra Bhanu was going by scooter ahead of him. When he reached Roorkee Road, his uncle-deceased Bijendra Bhan who was driving scooter overtook them. They also started following the scooter, when he reached Sofipur Temple, one motorcycle driven by Satendra overtook them. Subhash, younger brother of Satendra was pillion rider on the motorcycle. They shot at the deceased who fell down after being hit by the bullet. Thereafter, both the assailants fired at the deceased with an intention to kill him. This incident was also seen by his cousin Achhendra Bhanu and Satendra Som.

17. It is noteworthy that Satendra Som, an independent witness, has not been examined by the prosecution. In cross-examination this witness has deposed that the deceased overtook him at sewage drain. He further deposed that deceased crossed him, as soon as, he reached Roorkee Road. According to P.W.3, the moment deceased crossed them pleasantries were exchanged amongst them. However, in examination in chief, pleasantry taking place amongst them is not stated. He has deposed that Subhash had fired 3 - 4 bullets on the waist of the deceased even then the deceased kept plying the scooter. Thereafter, Satendra stopped the motorcycle and fired 4-5 bullets at the deceased which hit at the waist and side of the body of the deceased. Thereafter, deceased parked the scooter and fell down. It is noteworthy that neither P.W.-3 Ajay Bhan, nor, P.W.6 Achhendra Bhan have lodged the F.I.R. and they are not mentioned as eyewitness in the F.I.R., and even in medical papers of Jaswant Rai Hospital, their names are not mentioned of having brought the deceased. In this backdrop learned counsel for the appellant argued that their presence on the spot is doubtful, otherwise, they would have informed the informant or they would have transported the deceased to Jaswant Rai Hospital and their names would certainly have been mentioned in hospital record, (Ex. Ka-1) being brought by them. But later in the admission register of Jaswant Rai Hospital, it is written that the deceased was brought and admitted by P.W.2 Narendra Bhan in different ink and in different handwriting which has been stated by D.W.5 Vineet Kumar. It reflects that the entry has been made at different point of time and by different persons.

18. As per post mortem report only 2.5 litre blood was found in abdomen cavity, taking that half litre blood present in other parts of the body of the deceased. It follows that about two litres of blood had been thrown out of the body, which should either have been found on scooter, place of occurrence, tempo, on the clothes of P.W. 3 & P.W. 6, if actually they had carried the injured from the place of occurrence to the hospital. No blood stained clothes of P.W.3 & P.W.6 were found, nor, taken in possession by the I.O. Further, I.O. did not find blood on the scooter and no technical examination of the scooter was done. I.O. did not find blood on spot of the incident. Alleged bullet claimed to be recovered from the place of occurrence (Ex. Ka-10) did not match with the recovered weapon, as per FSL report. In the map of the place of occurrence (Ex. Ka-11), motorcycles of P.W.3 and P.W.6 are not shown or parked. These facts and circumstances go against the prosecution and it is doubtful whether at the alleged time of occurrence P.W.3 & P.W. 6 were present on the spot and they had seen the incident.

19. From the defence side witnesses D.W.1 to D.W. 6 have been examined who have proved that the deceased was lying on the road as unknown person and Dr. Pankaj Kumar Sharma, D.W.-1- Vinod, Chandra Shekhar, put him in a tempo and transported the injured to Jaswant Rai Hospital; P.W.3 and P.W.6 were not seen there. From the evidence of defence witnesses it is not proved that eye witnesses P.W.-3 and P.W.-6 were present on the spot and they assisted the injured in putting him on the tempo and in transporting him to the hospital. P.W.3 and P.W. 6 are close relatives of the deceased. It is probably for this reason that in medical papers of the hospital their names are not indicated of having brought the injured. P.W.2 was not informed of the incident by P.W.3 and P.W.6.; P.W.2 came to be informed of the incident by Arvind Gupta, a stranger.

20. It is admitted that P.W.2- Narendra Bhan, was not present on the spot and he is not the eyewitness. Generally spot map are prepared on the pointing out of the person who has seen the occurrence and was present on the spot. In the absence of eye witness, on the pointing out of informant, spot map is prepared. In this case, P.W.-3 and P.W.6 claim to be present on the spot, then in that event the site map would have been prepared on the pointing out of these witnesses. Had they seen the incident they would have been capable to communicate the relevant facts to the I.O. of actually what happened, the manner of the occurrence and also about the position, situation and condition of the deceased and accused. But the I.O. prepared the spot map on the pointing of the informant, who, admittedly is not the eye witness. This is not a shortcoming of the prosecution, but proves that the eye witness setup by the prosecution were not present on the spot of the incident.

21. According to P.W.3- Ajay Bhan, he and Achhendra Bhan parked their motorcycle and scooter, but it was neither noted by the I.O., nor, there is evidence that they had parked their vehicles there and later on they fetched their motorcycle and scooter from there. It is also strange that this witness had accepted that he had not informed the informant that his uncle/deceased Bijendra Bhan had been attacked by the accused persons. He admits that someone else had informed his father/informant about the incident. It is also noteworthy that according to this witness he, his cousin Achhendra Bhan and Satendra Som transported the deceased in three wheeler, but there was no blood on their body. From the injury report and post-mortem report it transpires that ribs, arteries, stomach, lungs and kidney were torn. P.W.-4, doctor, found that the cause of death was shock and hemorrhage due to sustained anti-mortem injuries. In such a condition it can't be said that blood would not have fallen on the actual place of occurrence, scooter, clothes of the persons carrying the injured and on the three wheeler. In absence of prosecution evidence it creates doubt whether P.W. 3 and P.W. 6, who claim their presence on the spot at the time of occurrence and of transporting the deceased were present. This witness admits that he went to arrange blood after half an hour. This aspect also establishes that he was not in the hospital when the deceased was brought there. Considering the critical condition and loss of blood the doctor would have directed the attendants at once to arrange blood. As per doctor (P.W.1) and injury report (Ex. Ka-1) blood was arranged and transfused to the injured then and there. Upon scrutiny of the evidence it can be fairly concluded that this witness could have reached only after half an hour from the time of admission of the deceased in the hospital after hearing the news of the incident from someone. Therefore, he has deposed in such a manner.

22. According to this witness his uncle was moaning in pain but again he says that no conversation took place between them. Meaning thereby, the deceased was in critical condition and in such a condition he was unable to communicate with the witness. If it was so and this witness was along with the injured then the injured would have informed about the incident and assailants and he would not wait for the informant, who admittedly came after 45 minutes from the time of the incident. Since then the injured had been intubated and was shifted on ventilator, in such a condition the injured would not be able to speak.

23. P.W.-6, Achhendra Kumar Bhanu, nephew of the deceased, has also claimed himself to be eyewitness. According to him at the time of occurrence he was working with Marshal Security, Abu Lane, Meerut. Further, he deposed that he left the house for his office at 9:45 A.M. by scooter. Similar story has been repeated by this witness in examination in chief that firstly his uncle/deceased, thereafter, the accused persons crossed; accused Subhash fired at the deceased who fell down, thereafter, both the accused persons fired at the deceased causing fire arm injuries. According to him occurrence was seen by him, his cousin Ajay Bhan, and Satendra Som, resident of his village. He claims that they admitted the injured in Jaswant Rai Hospital, where injured was kept in I.C.U. and later his uncle/informant Narendra Bhan reached and completed the procedure of admission. According to P.W.3, Ajay Bhan, accused Subhash shot 3-4 times at the deceased which hit the waist of the deceased even then he was plying his scooter. Thereafter, accused Satendra stopping his motorcycle fired 4 times which hit waist and side of the body of the deceased. Thereafter, his uncle parked the scooter and fell down. But this witness P.W.6 deposed that accused Subhash fired at the back of the deceased due to which he fell down and thereafter both the accused persons fired at him with an intention to kill the deceased. Therefore, there is vast difference in the statements of both the alleged eyewitness so far as the manner of attack is concerned. According to this witness P.W.2 informant reached hospital after admission of the deceased in I.C.U., meaning thereby, informant P.W.2 reached hospital, after intubation and deceased was on ventilator. In view of the statement of P.W.1 & P.W.4 deceased was not in position to convey anything to the informant P.W.2.

This witness further stated that he narrated the whole incident to the informant. P.W.3 does not say so but if this witness had informed about the incident to the informant claiming himself and P.W.3 Ajay Bhan to be eyewitness, but they were not shown as eyewitness in F.I.R. This relevant fact was not disclosed in the F.I.R. Therefore, it can be reasonably concluded that till then name of the witnesses was not determined by the prosecution. On afterthought, later two eye witnesses of the family and one Satendra Som, having inimical terms with the accused persons were setup as eyewitnesses to strengthen the prosecution case.

24. Whether P.W.3 and P.W.6 are the eye-witnesses :

The question that follows is as to whether P.W.3 & P.W. 6 are eye-witnesses of the incident or not. They are not named as witnesses in the F.I.R., it is also apparent from the record of the hospital that they had not admitted the deceased to the hospital. It is also apparent that they had not informed about the incident to the informant P.W.2, Narendra Bhan. It is also established that I.O. did not visit the spot and make site plan on their pointing. It is also apparent from the record that their scooter and motorcycle were not shown and found on the spot or nearby. It is also apparent from the record that their clothes was not taken into possession by the I.O., nor, presence of blood on their clothes was recorded in C.D.

25. It is also proved that at the time of incident Achhendra Bhan was working in Kankar Khera and there was no occasion for him to come to Meerut. It is also surprising and noteworthy that no mobile number of these witnesses and the deceased have been taken into possession and no C.D.R. has been obtained by the I.O. to establish, as to whether at the time of incident, they were present on the spot. It is a mere co-incidence that they claim to be eye-witness. They neither resisted, nor, tried to prevent the incident, but remained silent spectator, both being young men of the family. From the evidence of D.W.1 to D.W.5 it is established that P.W.3 and P.W. 6 were not present on the spot and the deceased was taken to hospital by private persons and the deceased was lying injured on the spot as unidentified person. In this regard statements of D.W.1 to D.W. 5 are relevant :

(a) D.W.1 Vinod Kumar, confectioner, at the place of occurrence, deposed that at about 10:00 A.M. a tourist bus stopped at his shop, some persons were taking tea and breakfast and some others were easing themselves, here and there. Dr. Pankaj and some other person ran and saw that injured Bijendra Bhan was hit by bullets. The injured was not in position to speak and was about to die. A tempo came from Modi Puram side, he requested the tempo to stop and Dr. Pankaj and Chandra Shekhar @ Bittan carried the injured to the hospital for treatment in the tempo. No gunshot was fired, the injured was thrown/lying there. Had there been any shot fired, there is Army check post, it would not have been possible that the assailant could escape from the market, church, shop and wooden shops and busy road. At least some person would have heard the noise of the gun shot.

(i) D.W.1 further stated that the scooter of the injured was lying on the spot. There was no blood on it. There was no one who else could identify the injured. Ajay, Achhendra were well known to him, they were not there. He knew the accused persons, they were not present there. He deposed that his shop is 50 steps away from the place of occurrence. There were 20-25 men already present. It was found and noticed that deceased was shot by some persons, but name of the persons was not known. There was no empty cartridge found on the scene. According to him he knew the injured who used to drink tea at his shop while going to the Court. He was a Court employee and also their leader. He denied that accused persons killed the deceased.

(b) D.W.-2- Pankaj Kumar Sharma, resident of same village, a Yoga doctor, deposed that on 8.3.2007, at about 10:00 A.M. he was going to Meerut from his village, on reaching the Hanuman Temple at Sofipur Gate, he found that some persons were putting injured Bijendra Bhan in a tempo. He also accompanied them on his Motorcycle. He did not depose that P.W.3 and P.W.6 were present on the spot or inside the tempo, nor, any question was asked in that regard by the prosecution. He went till the hospital gate, then left for his work so he had no idea whether the family members of the injured were present in the hospital or not. There is no suggestion by the prosecution that he was telling a lie.

(c) D.W.3- Mohd. Ayyub, deposed on oath that on 8.3.2007, at about 2 to 2:30 P.M., police had confined him with Salim in the lockup of P.S. Nauchandi, in connection of theft. Two boys were already in lockup. At about 4 - 5 P.M. accused Subhash and Satendra were brought and locked up, they said that they were falsely implicated in a murder case. Next day at about 3 - 4 P.M. they were sent to jail. From this evidence, defence wants to establish that the accused persons were not arrested in the manner shown in the arrest memo and C.D. They were taken into police custody without completing the proper formalities.

(d) D.W.4- Chandra Shekhar, deposed that on 8.3.2007, for some property work, he was going to Meerut from his house and on reaching the temple, he saw Bijendra Bhan, of village Dorely, lying on the side of the road. First he thought it was an accident, but on close look, found that he had suffered bullet injuries, but no blood was oozing. Some other persons had also gathered and were saying that some one has thrown the injured here, take him to the hospital. The injured was not able to speak, he was dying. At that moment no member of his family was present. A tempo came from Modipuram side, wherein, he sat with Bijendra Bhan, two passengers were already seated in the tempo, they deboarded on the way. Bijendra Bhan was taken to Sushila Jaswant Rai Hospital. Dr. Pankaj also came to the hospital behind them and left thereafter. At 10:40 A.M. the witness had taken Bijendra Bhan inside for treatment. At about 11:15 A.M. Narendra Bhan (P.W.-3) reached the hospital, thereafter, formalities (regarding admission) was completed. He thereafter, returned to his home.

(i) Relevant questions were not put to this witness. In cross-examination this witness said that he had taken Bijendra Bhan to hospital and his brother Narendra Bhan had later admitted him to the hospital. He deposed that when he had taken the deceased to the hospital, doctor had declared him dead. He had not seen the assailants. No question was asked and no suggestion was made to the witness that P.W.3 Ajay Bhan and P.W.6 Achhendra Kumar Bhan were also present on the spot and had also taken the injured to the hospital. No question was asked and no suggestion given that when did P.W.2, Narendra Bhan, reached the hospital, whether the patient was alive and had talked to each other. The relevant omissions make the evidence of examination in chief conclusive, absolute and unrebutted. It is also not asked as to whether the witness was not at the place of occurrence, otherwise, he would have probably seen the accused persons. Lack of proper cross-examination of the witness, about the facts narrated in examination in chief creates, doubt of the prosecution case and undermines it.

(e) D.W.-5, Vineet Kumar, is an employee of Sushila Jaswant Rai Hospital, who was present in the hospital on that day from 9:00 A.M. to 6:00 P.M. before whom entry was made in the relevant register at serial no. 1327 /2007, page no. 68, by his colleague Babita. He deposed that the deceased was brought by some unknown persons at about 10:40 A.M. and upon enquiry they stated that they had brought the injured on humanitarian consideration. Seeing the serious condition, doctor started the treatment at once. At about 11:15 - 11:30 A.M. brother of the injured i.e. Narendra Bhan (P.W.2) came and signed the register (That is why the writing and ink on injury report is not only different but written at an interval by different persons, which has already been discussed). He further deposed that the patient was on ventilator in I.C.U., Narendra Bhan remained outside, as no one is allowed to enter I.C.U., and the patient is unable to speak while on ventilator. This witness had come to the Court with the patient admission register. He filed and proved the relevant part (Ex. Kha-1). According to this witness, if any serious patient is brought to the hospital without attendant, the treatment is immediately started by making entry of time and after that when their family members reach, their signatures/thumb impressions are taken.

(i) The prosecution did not put relevant questions to the witness in cross-examination. No questions were asked and no suggestions given regarding the alleged conversation between the injured and P.W.2 Narendra Bhan and with regard to bringing of the patient by P.W.3 Ajay Bhan and P.W.6 Achhendra Kumar Bhan, and also about their presence in the hospital. No questions were asked or suggestions given as to whether injured was brought by P.W.3 & P.W. 6 and not by unknown persons. It makes the evidence of the witness in examination in chief absolute and conclusive, rather, diminishes and weakens the prosecution story. Instead a wrong suggestion was put to the witness asserting that P.W.2 Narendra Bhan had admitted the patient at 10:40 A.M. While it is not the case of the prosecution that Narendra Bhan had admitted the patient. He already admitted that at 10:40 A.M. he came to know about the incident from Munsarim Gupta. After sanction of a day's casual leave he proceeded to the hospital. He probably reached the hospital after 11:00 A.M. Thus, this suggestion is of no avail being irrelevant and contrary to the prosecution story which does not diminish or impeach the worthiness and truth of the witness.

26. On cumulative scrutiny of the evidences it is established that P.W.3 and P.W. 6 were not present on the spot, deceased was not admitted by them in hospital in the injured condition. The deceased had not informed anything about the assailants and the cause of injury.

In Varkey Joseph Vs. State of Kerala, 1993 Supp (3) SCC 745; Supreme Court has held that "witnesses were inimical and had motive to prejure the evidence and a chance witness at best and their presence on the spot was not spoken by P.W.4, a coffee house owner."

Similarly, in this case D.W.1, a tea stall owner, D.W.2, Dr. Pankaj and D.W.4, Chandra Shekhar, who transported the injured/deceased to the hospital had not seen these witnesses (P.W.3 and P.W.6) on the alleged place of occurrence. In such circumstances, the "testimony of chance witness who also had motive to prejure is unreliable."

27. In Munsi Prasad Vs. State of Bihar, AIR 2001 SC 3031, 3033, Supreme Court has held that principles relating to credibility and trustworthiness of a defence witness have to be the same as are applicable to prosecution witness.

28. Thus the admissibility, credibility, reliability, relevancy and acceptability of the defence witnesses is not lower to the prosecution witnesses for the reason that they were examined from the side of the defence. Proper opportunity of cross-examination was provided to the prosecution but prosecution failed to impeach in any manner the merit of the evidence of these witnesses.

29. From the discussions herein above, it is established beyond doubt that at the place of occurrence P.W.3 Ajay Bhan and P.W. 6 Achhendra Kumar Bhan were not present at the time of commission of crime. They had not seen the occurrence and they are not the eye-witness. They had not taken the deceased to the hospital and they had not even admitted the injured to the hospital. They had not reached the hospital before P.W.2 Narendra Bhan reached there. After three days, C.O. Brijesh Kumar Singh took charge of the case as I.O. he then wrongly proceeded to establish the theory of F.I.R. version, by making a false recovery, planting a country made revolver and two live and one empty cartridges of .38 bore without going through the post mortem report that the deceased was hit by 9 m.m. bullet and pistol. A 9 mm bullet was recovered from the spot X marked in the site map. Thus, it is concluded that P.W.3 Ajay Bhan and P.W. 6, Achhendra Kumar Bhan, are neither chance witnesses, nor eye-witnesses, nor are they the persons who brought and admitted Bijendra Bhan to the hospital. It is for this reason they were not shown to be eye-witnesses in the F.I.R. and in the records of the hospital. Later on when second I.O. found no evidence in the case, then after three days the I.O. set up eye-witnesses and after planting revolver and cartridges tried his best to strengthen the prosecution case which is solely based on mere suspicion. The Court is aware that not naming the witnesses in F.I.R. or even not recording their statements under Section 161 Cr.P.C. does not bar a person to be witness in Court and in absence thereof the evidence of such witnesses can not be rejected if otherwise found credible, as held in Raj Kishor Vs. State of Bihar, 2003 (47) ACC 1068 SC, Bhagwan Singh Vs. State of M.P., 2002 (44) ACC 1112 SC and in Satnam Singh Vs. State of Rajsthan, (2000) 1 SCC 662.

30. In Bhagwan Jagannath Marked Vs. State of Maharastra, (2016) 10 SCC 537, Shyamal Ghosh Vs. State of West Bengal, AIR 2012 SC 3539 Sone Lal Vs. State of M.P., AIR 2009 SC 760, Sucha Singh Vs. State of Punjab, (2003) 7 SCC 639, Supreme Court held that "though the testimony of related witnesses cannot be discarded merely because they are relative or family members of the victim but in such a case Court has to adopt a careful approach in analyzing the evidence of such witness and if the testimony of the related witness is otherwise found credible accused can be convicted."

31. Similarly, enmity of the witnesses with the accused is not a ground to reject their testimony and if on proper scrutiny the testimony of such witness is found reliable, the accused can be convicted. However, the possibility of falsely involving some persons in the crime or exaggerating the role of some of the accused by such witnesses should be kept in mind and ascertained on the facts of each case. The above principles have been laid down by the Supreme Court in Dilawar Singh Vs. State of Haryana, (2015) 1 SCC 737; Dhari Vs. State of U.P., AIR 2013 SC 308; Anil Rai Vs. State of Bihar, (2001) 7 SCC 318.

In State of Bihar Vs. Ram Padarath Singh, AIR 1998 SC 2606, the Supreme Court held that no implicit faith can be put upon the evidence of witnesses whose relations with the accused persons are inimical. But their evidence can not be rejected on the ground that their names did not figure in the F.I.R. Nor on the ground that no independent witness from the nearby place were examined by the prosecution, but their testimony is to be considered with caution.

In the facts of the present case though independent witnesses were available but they were neither contacted, nor, examined by the prosecution. Satendra Som who according to the prosecution was present on the spot has not been examined by the prosecution without assigning any reason, on the plea that it is prerogative of the prosecution either to examine any witness or not. Section 114 (g) of the Indian Evidence Act 1872, provides that the evidence which could be and is not produced would, if produced, be unfavorable to person who withholds it. In Mehraj Singh Vs. State of U.P., (1994) 5 SCC 188, it is held that failure by prosecution to produce eye-witnesses creates a presumption that the witnesses were not prepared to support a false case, such presumption casts no reflection.

32. Certainly the witnesses of fact are close family members of the deceased and the informant. They are also interested and inimical to the accused persons. There is no law that related and inimical persons can not be witness, but it has been proved beyond doubt that P.W.3 and P.W.6 though shown to be chance witnesses, but there is no evidence to show that they generally went together to their workplace, and/or, they generally pass or bypass each other on their way to Meerut. It has also been proved that they are not the eye-witnesses, they have not transported the deceased to the hospital; they had not informed the informant; they had not lodged the F.I.R. and their names are not mentioned in the F.I.R. and/or, in hospital records. P.W.6 Achhendra Kumar Bhan is also not the witness of inquest.

33. The I.O. failing to solve the riddle of the crime setup a case that all the three i.e. the deceased, P.W.3 and P.W.6, coincidentally came together on their way to Meerut. They were at inimical terms with the accused persons, therefore, the I.O. introduced two eye-witnesses of the family i.e. P.W.3 and P.W.6. Thus, the Court is of the considered opinion that P.W.3 and P.W.6 are not the actual eye-witnesses and it is not a case of direct evidence, but the accused persons have been falsely implicated on account of remote rivalry.

Learned counsel for the appellant has relied on Mehraj Singh Vs. State of U.P., 1994 SCC (5) 188, wherein the Supreme Court found that the so called eye-witnesses were not actually present at the scene. It appears that it was a blind case and none of the witnesses had actually seen the occurrence. Alleged eye-witnesses were undoubtedly deeply interested in the prosecution so they were introduced as eye-witnesses after thoughtful deliberations and consultations. It was found that since it was a blind murder, the appellants were roped in on account of misguided suspicion due to the previous enmity. On careful scrutiny and analysis of the evidence on the record, coupled with the infirmities, has created an impression with the Court that prosecution has not been able to bring home the guilt of the appellants beyond reasonable doubt. In the cited case learned trial Court had acquitted the accused persons but the High Court had convicted them. The reasons given by the High Court were set aside and the appeal was allowed and it was held that the case against both the appellants has not been proved beyond a reasonable doubt. The principles laid down in Mehraj (Supra) supports the finding reached by the Court.

34. Burden of proof always lies on the prosecution:

The concept of proof beyond the shadow of doubt is to be applied in criminal trials. Doubts would be called reasonable if they are free from zest for abstract speculation or free from an over-emotional response. Doubts must be actual and substantial as to the guilt of the accused persons arsing from the evidence from the lack of it as opposed to mere vague apprehension. A reasonable doubt is not an imaginary, trivial or a mere possible doubt, but a fair doubt based on reason and common sense. It must grow out of the evidence (vide State of M.P. Vs. Dharkole, AIR 2005 SC 44.)

In criminal cases burden of proof lies on the prosecution to prove that the accused is guilty of the crime with which he is charged. The prosecution asserts the affirmative of the issue and, therefore, has to prove its case. The Court starts with the presumption that the accused is innocent. The innocence of the accused means nothing more than this that burden lies on the prosecution to prove the case beyond reasonable doubt, it is not the accused who has to satisfy the Court that he is innocent. If there is reasonable doubt as to whether the accused killed the deceased the prosecution has not made out the case, the accused is entitled to an acquittal. More serious the crime more strict proof is required. (Refer: Paramjeet Singh Vs. State of Uttrakhand, AIR 2011 SC 200.)

35. Motive:

In the F.I.R. the informant has setup land dispute as motive behind the commission of the crime. As per prosecution it is a case based on direct evidence of eye witnesses P.W.3 & P.W. 6, close relatives of the deceased, and the informant (P.W.2). In cases based on direct evidence motive does not have much significance, but in the cases based on circumstantial evidence motive becomes significant and of much consequence. The legal propositions was stated in Nagraj vs. State, (2015) 4 SCC 739, Wakkar Vs. State of U.P., 2011 (2) ALJ 452 SC, Nathuni Yadav Vs. State of Bihar, (1998) 9 SCC 238 etc.

36. With regard to motive informant P.W. 2 deposed in examination in chief that there was land dispute between him and the accused persons (not with the deceased). From the evidence of P.W. 2, P.W. 3 & P.W. 6 it is established that the deceased was having inimical terms with several other persons and they might have had motive to kill the deceased which are as under :

Evidence of P.W.2, Narendra Bhan:

(i) According to him his grandfather had transferred 20 Bigha land being Khasra Plot No. 547, 548 and 561 to Sant Neki Ram but they had not handed over its possession. He admits that there is stay order in favour of the defendant/appellant Ram Niwas.

(ii) Another being case no. 141/66 (Harikishan Vs. Ram Niwas etc.) instituted by his father, wherein, according to defence counsel only informant and deceased were arrayed party, therefore, rest of the brothers and their family members were annoyed. He admits that during pendency of the first appeal no. 173/1976, some other person had executed sale-deed in favour of one Vikram Singh about which there was tussle. According to him deceased had not prevented anyone from executing the sale-deed. In cross examination, contrary to the statement of examination in chief, he deposed that the land dispute was between the deceased and the accused persons. According to statement under Section 313 Cr.P.C. uncle of accused persons had sold their plots to Satendra Som, the proposed eye witness and Yogendra, but re-occupied the plot after their arrest. Thus, there was no direct enmity between the accused persons and the deceased.

(iii) He has also expressed ignorance that wife of the deceased had sold 151 square yard of Khasara No. 410/02 to Malkhan who later on sold the purchased land to Smt. Geeta Som, wife of Yogendra Som, brother of the proposed witness Satendra Som. According to the defence this transaction was done, so that Satendra Som testifies in favour of the prosecution. P.W.2 expressed ignorance that accused persons filed suit in respect of land against their uncle Rajaram and also expressed ignorance that accused Satendra had moved an application under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. for lodging F.I.R. under Section 420, 467 I.P.C. against Raja Ram, Bijendra Bhan (deceased) and Smt. Sushma widow of the deceased.

(iv) P.W. 2 also expressed ignorance that the deceased got the deed of Ratan Pal's land executed in the name of his wife Sushma.

(v) He also expressed ignorance that the deceased had executed sale-deed on 17.3.2002, in favour of Sundar Lal etc. being power of attorney holder of Budhha Prakash Sharma.

(vi) The witness expressed ignorance that by becoming general power of attorney holder of Smt. Phullee, deceased on 3.7.2002 sold, the land in favour of his wife Sushma, wherein, Ajay Bhan, son of this witness was the marginal witness.

(vii) The witness again expressed ignorance, that deceased becoming general power of attorney holder of Nain Singh and Shanti Devi etc. had executed sale-deed in favour of Umesh.

(viii) He also expressed ignorance that deceased becoming general power of attorney holder of Raja Ram, son of Basanta, executed sale-deed on 14.5.2002, in favour of his wife Sushma or not, wherein, his nephew Vishwendra Bhan is marginal witness or not.

(ix) He also expressed ignorance that his deceased brother becoming general power of attorney holder of Budhha Prakash Sharma had executed sale-deed in favour of Deepak Kumar or not.

(x) He also expressed ignorance that deceased becoming general power of attorney holder of Bodal etc. had executed sale-deed on 25.7.2002, in favour of Sarvesh and others or not.

(xi) He also expressed ignorance that the deceased had sold the uneven and rough land (Beehad) or not.

(xii) He also expressed ignorance that the deceased and P.W.3 Ajay Bhan (son of this witness) and P.W.6 Achhendra Bhan, (nephew) had shot Vinod Kumar of their village or not. He also expressed ignorance that this matter was settled in the village (at Panchayat level) and deceased had accepted his fault or not.

(xiii) The witness admits that the deceased was sent to jail in 1992 during his service in Sher Gadhi Kand. He admits that if any government servant purchases land in his or his family member's name, permission is necessary from the concerned department. According to this witness, if ancestral property is sold and from the consideration money another property is purchased, their is no need of permission. (As per Rule 25 of the U.P. Government Servant Conduct Rule 1956, prior permission is necessary for sale and purchase of the property from any private person except that the dealer is regular and reputed but in that case also giving information after sale or purchase to the department is necessary). The witness admits that the Government servant can not engage himself in any other work during service. He expressed ignorance whether the deceased had given information of these transactions to the department or not. He denies rivalry of the deceased with several persons due to the sale and purchase of the land.

(xiv) According to P.W.2, Jitendra (nephew) was not seen in hospital and he had not talked to Jitendra, he denies that he had not beaten Jitendra and had not forced him to leave the hospital doubting him to be the culprit of murder of the deceased. But he admits that in the same night his nephew Jitendra had left the house and he did not know where he had gone. According to the witness the ashes of the deceased was submerged at Haridwar, but in the ceremony, neither Jitendra, nor, his father had participated. According to the learned counsel for the appellant that the offence was committed by some other person and was falsely imposed upon the accused persons. The witness also expressed ignorance that Jitendra had not moved an application against the deceased before the commissioner regarding land dispute. He denied that deceased ever threatened Jitendra with his pistol.

(xv) The witness (P.W.2) admits that his brother (deceased) had a fight with Raja Ram, son in law of his sister, but further deposed that it is wrong to say that on the day of the incident Rajendra was caught, and stated in front of the villager, that do whatever you want with me today, but will certainly kill Bijendra Bhan by shooting him.

(xvi) P.W.2 is not admitting that on 9.2.2005, Smt. Har Pyari, wife of Jagbhan, had moved a complaint against P.W.2 and the deceased to the Senior Superintendent of Police (S.S.P.) for threatening her with revolver, but he expressed ignorance that in the application Smt. Har Pyari had alleged that P.W.2 and the deceased were threatening her to leave the village along with the family at gun point.

37. That apart other than the accused persons, several other persons were also having motive to commit the murder of the deceased as is reflected from the statement of P.W.2. The evidence of P.W.3 is also relevant :

(i) P.W.3 is the real nephew of the deceased, he deposed that he did not render help in the work of his uncle. He expressed ignorance of being witness in the sale deed executed by Smt. Phulli on 3.7.2002, in favour of wife of the deceased Smt. Suhsma. Further, he deposed that he was not aware whether there was any dispute over the transaction of money in the said matter or not. It is wrong to say that he, along with Achhendra Bhan and the deceased had beaten Vinod Kumar, resident of the village or not, in the incident deceased fired a bullet shot and later on 26.3.2005, they had apologized in panchayat.

(ii) The witness also expressed ignorance regarding dispute between the deceased and Narendra at the dias on the occasion of Ambedakar Jayanti. This witness denied that Haripyari had moved an application to S.S.P. on 5.2.2005 charging him, his brother Priyabhan, and his father for attacking her house with an intention of beating, threatening and intimidating her with a revolver, whereas, P.W.2 had expressed ignorance. This witness expressed ignorance that Harpyari and Jitendra Kumar had also complained about the deceased alleging that he was a land mafia and he along with goons came to their house and threatened to kill them pointing revolver on their head. Jitendra had complained to Sub Divisional Magistrate (S.D.M.). He also expressed ignorance that Jitendra had complained to the Chief Justice describing the deceased as land mafia and being a criminal vide letter posted on 29.11.2005. He does not know whether Jitendra had left the village in the evening of the fateful day.

(iii) He denies that his father and the deceased had grabbed property of his uncle Gajendra Singh (an ex CISF personnel). He also denies that the deceased and his father made false complaint to the department and extended threats to Gajendra Singh and his children to leave the village, and were not handing over possession of their land for which he had filed complaint with the Commandant CISF, Aligarh.

(iv) The witness also expressed ignorance that on 31.3.2003, Rajendra, son in law of the deceased's sister, had come to his village to settle scores with the deceased, and whether any person was injured or not. He also expressed ignorance that on the complaint of the deceased, Rajendra (ex. Navy personnal) woking in BHEL Haridwar, was expelled from service or not.

(v) He admits that when the deceased was hospitalized, Rajendra had not come to see him. The witness expressed ignorance regarding enmity between the accused persons and the deceased. The witness also expressed ignorance as to whether there was any dispute between the accused persons and Yogendra Som and Satyendra Som (both real brothers) or not.

38. Evidence of P.W.6- Achhendra Kumar Bhan, also establishes that deceased was having several other enemies in the family, with relatives and outside the family. Deceased was one of the six brothers, all were living separately with their small coparcenary. In this regard statement of the witness is relevant :

(i) The witness expressed ignorance whether Jitendra had come to the hospital or not. He also expressed ignorance that any Mar-peet took place there or not. According to him, he was present in the hospital, therefore, should have known as to what happened with Jitendra there. He admits that family of Jitendra had left the village same day (it is surprising that his uncle was murdered on the same day, post-mortem and funeral was pending and when he visits hospital then rest of the family members knowing him to be responsible for murder beat him and oust him and he along with the family leaves the village same day). P.W.6 did not try to enquire the reasons of their abscondance. Similarly, the witness also expressed ignorance that Rajendra, son-in-law of deceased's sister, tried to kill the deceased or not.

(ii) The witness also expressed ignorance that his aunt Harpyari had made complaint against the deceased or not. The witness admits that on the fateful day his uncle Gajendra Bhan had not visited the hospital untill he remained there. He also expressed ignorance that his uncle Gajendra Bhan had met deceased and P.W.2 Narendra Bhan or not. He admits that Jitendra had not participated in post funeral rituals in Haridwar.

39. In so far as motive is concerned the investigating officer, P.W.10, Brijesh Kumar Singh, did not care to enquire about the enmity between the deceased and other persons and only on the basis of F.I.R. version proceeded with the investigation without ascertaining whether some other persons might have committed the murder or not. The witness (P.W.10) in cross-examination deposed that he can not say with whom the deceased was having land enmity. According to him Rajendra, son-in-law of the deceased's sister, had tried to kill the deceased was not communicated to him by the witnesses.

40. In view of the discussions herein above it is crystal clear and established that deceased was not an ordinary person. Being an employee of Civil Court he also was involved in large scale property dealing. He got executed several power of attorney in his favour from several persons and on the basis thereof sold property of others to his wife and other persons, and he was also politically and socially very active person. He was also having a licensed revolver. He was having serious disputes within the family and with the relatives. He had also employed his revolver on several occasions to threaten his family members and others, as well as, Civil Court employees. He was also active in organizational activities in Civil Court. He had been ex-Secretary of Civil Court Class III employees. His family had serious suspicion on Jitendra about his murder, his nephew and cousin son-in-law, Rajendra. Therefore, it is probable that not only accused persons but several other persons had motive and mens-rea to commit the murder of the deceased.

41. Place of occurrence:

It is argued from the side of appellants that place of occurrence shown in Ex. Ka-11 is not the actual place of occurrence and the deceased was probably thrown there. In this regard following points are relevant which establish that virtually the deceased was not fired at the alleged place of occurrence:-

(i) No blood was found at the place of occurrence while there was only two and half litre blood in cavity, and the body of the deceased had been whitened. There is no proper explanation of the two litres of blood; blood stained clothes were not taken into custody and neither sent for chemical examination. It is not stated by the prosecution that blood was found on the scooter. The I.O. therefore did not take it into custody, nor, send the scooter for technical examination; neither the seat cover was sent for chemical examination.

(ii) Both the I.Os. have not asked questions or interrogated the priest of Hanuman Temple, persons at the Church and nearby shopkeepers. None came forward to say that firing took place and they heard the noise of firing. Only D.W.-1 Vinod, having tea stall 50 feet away, was examined by the defence who said that he did not see nor hear any firing. According to him the deceased was seen laying as if thrown there. D.W. 2 and D.W. 4 also did not accept that the incident had taken at the place of occurrence.

(iii) The tempo driver was not searched by both the I.Os.

(iv) Army Check Posts was near the place of incident, but killing went unnoticed, firing is not possible and if such an event happens, probably the assailants would not be successful in escaping having regard to the presence of army personnel at the Check Post. Not recording statements of army personnel posted at the Posts also creates doubt upon the I.O. For the sake of argument even if it is accepted that the attack took place on the alleged place of occurrence and the assailants might have escaped after making several gun shot firing, then being an army area, army personnel would have reached the spot and taken notice of the injured and the incident. It is generally seen that when an accident or criminal act happens within Military area or nearby, Military Police comes into action and contacts the Civil Police. It is surprising that if such an incident had taken place at 10:00 A.M.,but the Military Police did not take action.

(v) It has already been discussed that no site map was prepared on the pointing of so called eye witnesses P.W. 3 and P.W. 6 if the occurrence happened before them. It is not the prosecution case that P.W.3 and P.W.6 had narrated the whole story to the informant Narendra Bhan before preparation of the map and distance from where assailants fired and where the injured has fallen down. Even they were not present when the site map was being prepared by the I.O. in presence and pointing out of P.W.2 Narendra Bhan. It transpires that an imaginary drawing was prepared by the I.O. regarding the scene of the incident and a vague and imaginary map was prepared trying to create the real scene.

(vi) Thus, it can in all probability be concluded that where the injured was found, is not the actual place of occurrence. Empty stomach of the deceased also strengthens the inference that deceased had not come from his house after taking meal, but had left home early morning without taking breakfast. It appears that the deceased was shot somewhere else, thereafter, he either reached there or would have been thrown there. No blood was found at the place of occurrence. No blood was oozing from his body when P.W.1 Dr. Zaidi attended him in hospital.

On the basis of above discussion we are of the considered opinion that the place of occurrence shown in the site map (Ex. Ka-11) is not the actual place of occurrence where the deceased was actually fired upon and where he is said to have fallen due to fire arm injury.

42. Who admitted the deceased in hospital :

From the aforesaid discussion it is established that P.W.3 and P.W.6 had neither transported the deceased to the hospital, nor, admitted him there. Their names are not available in the hospital record. Had they remained there and admitted the deceased, in normal circumstances, being close relatives, they would have completed the admission formalities and informed the informant. Their absence is reflected from the fact that employees of the hospital waited for the informant, P.W.2, to complete the admission process later on, (as per the evidence P.W. 1 and D.W.5).

43. Whether the deceased was capable of making any dying declaration :

P.W.3 and P.W.6 do not claim that the deceased made any dying declaration to them. Doctor P.W.1 does not say that deceased was able to speak or made any dying declaration. The injured was in a very critical condition, blood was arranged immediately and transfused; he was intubated at once and put on ventilator in I.C.U., but patient could not be revived. By that time P.W.2 reached the hospital, injured had been intubated and was on ventilator in I.C.U. In the circumstance neither P.W.2, P.W. 3 and P.W.6 could enter the I.C.U. According to D.W.5, Vineet Kumar, an employee of the hospital, except staff no other person is permitted to enter the I.C.U. and in that situation patient can neither speak, nor is able to make any gesture (the prosecution case that patient made the alleged dying declaration to P.W.2 is improbable). Even as per the statements of D.W.1 to D.W.5, the patient was not in a position to talk and reply. Therefore, it is probable that deceased had not made any dying declaration to P.W.2 Narendra Bhan or any other person regarding the incident.

In Arun Bhanudas Pawar Versus State of Maharashtra, MANU/SC/7056/2008, (2008) 11 SCC 232, Supreme Court declined to accept the testimony of the mother of the deceased that deceased upon regaining consciousness disclosed the name of the accused to her. The mother of the deceased categorically deposed that when she went to civil hospital she found her son in unconsciousness condition, however, later on, deceased regaining consciousness informed her the names of accused who assaulted him with knife. She further stated that doctor was present when the deceased made oral dying declaration to her. The Court declined to accept her testimony being an interested witness and her testimony was not without corroboration from independent witness, including, medical officer. The court observed as follows:

"21....It is well-settled law that the oral dying declaration made by the deceased ought to be treated with care and caution since the maker of the statement cannot be subjected to any cross-examination. In the present case, admittedly, the alleged dying declaration had not been made to any doctor or to any independent witness, but only to the mother...The prosecution has not brought on record any medical certification to prove that after operation the deceased was in a fit condition to make the declaration before his mother."

44. Recovery of fire arm of .38 bore, live and empty cartridges and bullets from the person of the deceased, from the place of occurrence, F.S.L. report and acquittal in S.T. No. 614 of 2007 (State Vs. Subhash) Under Section 3/25 Arms Act :

Earlier it has been discussed that on 14.3.2007, second I.O. B.K. Singh, C.O., got the police custody remand and on 15.3.2007, a country-made revolver, two live and one empty cartridges were alleged to have been recovered on the pointing of the accused Subhash. In this regard, recovery memo (Ex. Ka-19), search memo (Ex. Ka-19 A), site plan (Ex.Ka-20, Ex. Ka- 20A), charge-sheet under Section 25 Arms Act (Ex. Ka-21), site plan (Ex. Ka-21A), prosecution sanction (Ex. Ka-22), F.S.L. report (Ex. Ka-23 A), statement of P.W.-8, S.I. Harpal Singh I.O. and P.W.9, Mukesh Kumar Meshram, the then D. M. Meerut and statement of D.W. 6, the then expert F.S.L. Agra, has been discussed and it was found that the bullet received from the body of the deceased and from the spot are of 9 m.m. bore, whereas, the recovered revolver and live cartridges are of .38 bore and on the back of empty cartridge received from the barrel, .38 bore was not written and both the bullets were not executed from the alleged recovered revolver. According to P.W.7 S.I. Umesh Chandra Singh Yadav, first I.O., an empty hole/cartridges of 315 bore was also recovered from the place of occurrence but that empty hole/cartridge of 315 bore was concealed and neither sent for F.S.L. Examination, nor, produced before the Court. In this regard statement of expert Sanjay Khare who examined the materials at F.S.L. Agra, is relevant, therefore, the same is discussed herein below: -

D.W.-6 Sanjay Khare, fire-arm expert F.S.L. Lucknow, deposed that on 25.5.2007, constable Shyoraj Singh had brought the case property of crime no. 64/2007 and 73/2007 from Meerut to Agra F.S.L. But the same was returned with an objection that there was no stamp of the City Magistrate and no stamp of the doctor/hospital on the envelop of post-mortem. Also there was no clear seal on the bundle. After removing the objections, the case property was again deposited with the F.S.L. on 31.5.2007. Both the bullets sent for examination were of 9 m.m. Empty cartridge recovered from the barrel was country made. Bullet received from the body, in post mortem was not fired from the recovered revolver, .38 etc. was not written on the empty cartridge but it was written on the live cartridges only. Injuries No. 1, 3 & 4 were fire arm entry wound with blackening which occurs in case of firing within 6 inches. If person riding on a motorcycle, fires on a person who is on a moving scooter, such an injury would probably not occur because these injuries have been caused from a close distance. Further, he deposed that after firing the empty cartridges of 9 m.m. fall out of the pistol. No relevant questions and suggestions were put by the prosecution to this witness during the cross-examination.

Learned Trial Court after coming to the conclusion that the bullet received from the body of the deceased and from the alleged spot could not be fired from the alleged recovered revolver and there was no injury of empty cartridge's bullet caused to the deceased, acquitted the accused Subhash under Section 3/25 Arms Act. No appeal has been preferred by the State against the acquittal.

I.O. did not take notice of the hole on 315 bore cartridge. P.W. 1 and P.W.4 both the doctors do not depose that such fire arm entry wound may occur from weapon of 315 bore, in this regard no ballistic expert opinion was obtained, whereas, it is the case of prosecution that both the accused persons fired from two different weapons. The prosecution concealing the hole/cartridge of 315 bore and keeping it away from the investigation and the Court, is either due to negligence or it was done with an ulterior motive. Thus, it is probable that the alleged recovery is totally false in the light of injuries, F.S.L. report and oral evidence of the witnesses. The Trial Court rightly acquitted accused Subhash for the charge under Section 25 Arms Act.

In Sumer Singh Umed Shinh Rajput alias Sumer Shinh Vs. State of Gujrat, AIR 2008 SC 904, the accused was convicted for the offences under Section 307 I.P.C. and also under Section 25 (1) (a) of the Arms Act, 1959. Supreme Court setting aside his conviction and sentence, found that pant and vest of complainant were having one bullet hole which were incompatible with case of single shot; nature of injury suffered by complainant was also incompatible with gun shot injury. In the cited case witnesses had turned hostile. It was held that prosecution case suffers from discrepancies, therefore, conviction of the accused was set aside.

45. Defective, biased and prejudiced investigation :

It is duty of the I.O. to collect evidence and not to create/introduce evidence in favour of the prosecution and against the accused or vise-versa. But in this case I.O. Brijesh Kumar Singh, the then C.O., has not acted in the right direction and violating all the norms, implanted two persons as eye witness, planted cartridges and country-made revolver and showed it as recovered on the pointing of accused Subhash and employed in commission of crime. Thereafter, he made S.I. Mithun Dixit, followed by, S.I. Harpal Singh, his subordinates as I.Os. of the case under Section 25 Arms Act who forwarded the case-diary to their boss (Brijesh Kumar Singh, C.O.) in violation of principles of natural justice. A person can not be judge in his own cause being informant/plaintiff of the Arms Act case and without contacting or interrogating the probable persons; not taking the blood stained clothes in his possession and without obtaining any report from F.S.L. and without ascertaining the actual place of occurrence and without searching for the tempo employed in transportation of the deceased to the hospital submitted the charge-sheet.

Though in Maqbool Vs. State of Andhra Pradesh, AIR 2011 SC 184, Supreme Court has held that not sending blood stained soil and clothes for chemical examination, weapon of assault, cartridges, empty and pellets for ballistic examination is not fatal, if ocular evidence is found credible, cogent and trustworthy. Similarly, the Supreme Court has also ruled in several cases that faulty investigation can not be made the sole ground to reject the prosecution case, but it is duty of the I.O. to investigate the case honestly, sincerely, in accordance with police regulation, police manual and with devotion. In Khem Ram Vs. State of Himanchal Pradesh, (2018) 1 SCC 202 and in Leela Ram Vs. State of Haryana, (1999) 9 SCC 525; the Supreme Court has held that any irregularity or deficiency in investigation by I.O. need not necessarily lead to rejection of prosecution case when it is otherwise proved. The only requirement is use of extra caution in evaluation of evidence. A defective investigation can not be fatal to prosecution where ocular testimony is found credible and trustworthy.

But in the present case alleged eye-witnesses, their testimony and presence has been found doubtful.

In Navinchndra N. Majithia Vs. State of Meghalaya and Others, (2000) 8 SCC 323; the Supreme Court has pointed out the duties of the investigating officer. After lodging of the F.I.R investigation thereafter would commence and the investigating officer has to go step by step. The Code contemplates the following steps to be carried out during such investigation:

"(1) Proceeding to the spot; (2) ascertainment of the facts and circumstances of the case; (3) discovery and arrest of the suspected offender; (4) collection of evidence relating to the commission of the offence which may consist of (a) the examination of various persons (including the accused) and the reduction of their statements into writing, if the officer thinks fit, (b) the search of places of seizure of things considered necessary for the investigation and to be produced at the trial; and (5) formation of the opinion as to whether on the material collected there is a case to place the accused before a magistrate for trial and, if so, taking the necessary steps for the same by the filing of a charge-sheet under Sec.173.

(vide HN Rishbud vs. State of Delhi [AIR 1955 SC 196} and State of Madhya Pradesh vs. Mubarak Ali [AIR 1959 SC 707]).

All the above duties are conferred by the statute on the police and they shall be carried out as they are statutory duties. The sublime idea behind formulating such steps for conducting investigation is to enable the statutory authority to independently carry out the investigation without being influenced by any of the interested parties. Investigation must not only be fair but impartial and the conclusion reached by them should be unbiased.

A Division Bench of the Madras High Court had pointed to that object of the statutory investigation in re Muddamma Malla Reddy [1954 Crl.L.J.167] through the following observations:

The investigating police are primarily the guardians of the liberty of innocent persons. A heavy responsibility devolves on them of seeing that innocent persons are not charged on irresponsible and false implication. There is a duty cast on the investigating police to scrutinize a first complaint in which number of persons are implicated with rigorous care and to refrain from building up a case on its basis unless satisfied of its truth.

In Sirajjuddin vs. State of Madras [1970 (3) SCR 931] this Court said thus, after referring to various provisions in the Code dealing with investigation:

All the above provisions of the Code are aimed at securing a fair investigation into the facts and circumstances of the criminal case; however serious the crime and howsoever incriminating the circumstances may be against a person supposed to be guilty of a crime the Code of Criminal Procedure aims at securing a conviction if it can be had by the use of utmost fairness on the part of the officers investigating the crime before the lodging of a charge- sheet. Clearly the idea is that no one should be put to the harassment of a criminal trial unless there are good and substantial reasons for holding it.

The said observations were followed by this Court in State of Rajasthan vs. Gurcharandas Chadha [1980 (1) SCC 250]."

The principles laid down by Supreme Court and High Court have not been followed by the I.O. in this case.

46. On scrutiny and evaluation of the evidence and discussions the following points emerge:

a. That the place of occurrence is doubtful as shown in Ex. Ka-11. The absence of human blood on the spot, coupled with the falsity of the eye witness account and not supported by defence witness raises doubt.

b. That P.W.3 Ajay Bhan and P.W.6 Achhendra Kumar Bhan, are neither chance witness, nor, eye witnesses, thus, it is not a case of direct evidence. They are the creation of the IO. P.W.10, Brijesh Kumar Singh, the then C.O. Sadar, Meerut.

c. That P.W.3 and P.W.6 had neither transported, nor, admitted the deceased in Sushila Jaswant Rai Multi Specialty Hospital, Meerut. (per the evidence of D.W.5 Vineet Kumar).

d. That deceased was was not in a position, nor, had made any dying declaration either to P.W.3 or P.W.6 or doctor or any employee to the hospital or P.W.2, informant, Narendra Bhan, or defence witnesses.

e. That the the deceased had inimical relations with several persons within and outside of the family. Thus, several other persons had motive to kill the deceased. The deceased was in property dealing.

f. That I.O. Brijesh Kumar Singh, had planted the countrymade revolver, empty and live cartridges and shown the recovery from accused Subhash only to strengthen the prosecution case, but it could not match with the injuries and bullets recovered from the body of the deceased and the alleged place of occurrence.

g. That deceased was transported to the hospital by P.W.2 Dr. Pankaj and D.W4 Chandra Shekhar and the deceased was not in position to speak.

h. That the accused persons were named in F.I.R. on account of enmity, while the deceased and informant had enmity with several other persons also.

i. That I.O. Brijesh Kumar conducted a sketchy, unlawful, faulty and unfair investigation, falsely implicating the accused persons, especially, accused Subhash in the case under Section 25 Arms Act and did not attempt to extract the grain from the chaff; treating the F.I.R. as gospel truth, submitted the charge-sheet.

j. That P.W.3 and P.W.6 are not the eye witnesses, it is not a case of direct evidence. The chain of events based on circumstantial evidence does not link the accused with commission of the crime. Except alleged motive which, was also available to others. There is neither last seen, nor any recovery, or any extra judicial confession. The necessary elements of a case based on circumstantial evidence is not available in the present case. Recovery of 9 mm Bullet from the spot of the incident and body of the deceased is one of the circumstances, but that does not link or connect the accused of committing the offence.

k. That the learned lower Court has erred in accepting the evidence of P.W.2 P.W.3 and P.W.6 and accepting the contents of the F.I.R. and charge-sheet as gospel truth. Though, the learned lower Court has acquitted the accused Subhash under Section 25 Arms Act.

l. Suspicion is not the substitute for proof. There is a long distance between 'may be true' and 'must be true' and the prosecution has to travel all the way to prove its case beyond all reasonable doubt. We have already seen that the prosecution not only has not proved its case but palpably produced false evidence and the prosecution has miserably failed to proved its case against the appellant let alone beyond all reasonable doubt that the appellant and he alone committed the offence. (Vide Varkey Joseph Vs. State of Kerala).

47. On the basis of the discussions herein above, the Court is of the considered opinion that the prosecution miserable failed to prove the charge against the accused beyond reasonable doubt. They were falsely implicated on the pretext of enmity which is double edged weapon due to which a person can cause and commit the offence and a person can also falsely be implicated. In the case at hand we find that the accused are innocent and they have been falsely implicated for the murder of the deceased Bijendra Bhan.

Accordingly, the Court is of the considered opinion that the impugned judgment and order of conviction and sentence is not sustainable and is liable to be quashed and the appeal is to be allowed.

Order

The appeal is allowed, the judgment and order dated 2.1.2014, convicting and sentencing of the appellants Satendra Kumar and Subhash, passed by Additional Sessions Judge/Special Judge S.C. and the S.T. (Prevention of Atrocities) Act, Meerut, is hereby quashed. The appellants are set free if not wanted in any other case.

Copy of this judgment be sent to the concerned Court and Jail Superintendent for necessary compliance.

The appellants on being released the mandate of Section 437-A Cr.P.C. to be complied.

Registry is directed to return the original records to the lower Court along with a copy of this judgment and order.

(2022) 9 ILRA 946
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 29.08.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. KAUSHAL JAYENDRA THAKER, J.
THE HON'BLE NALIN KUMAR SRIVASTAVA, J.

Criminal Appeal No. 4810 of 2012

Sita Ram ...Appellant
Versus
State of U.P. ...Respondent

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri Rakesh Chandra Tiwari, Sri Ashok Kumar Mishra, Sri Satya Prakash Srivastava, Shri Prakash Dwivedi, Sri Suresh Srivastava

Counsel for the Respondent:
Govt. Advocate

Criminal Law - Indian Penal Code,1860 - Section 302 -Dowry death-death due to strangulation-post mortem-homicide death-criminal jurisprudence is reformative and corrective-opportunity of reformation -12 years already spent-enough punishment.

Appeal partly allowed. (E-9)

List of Cases cited:

1. Sanjay Maurya Vs St. of U.P., 2021 0 Supreme(All) 132

2. Tukaram & ors. Vs St. of Mah. (2011) 4 SCC 250

3. B.N. Kavatakar & anr. Vs St. of Karn. 1994 SUPP (1) SCC 304

4. Raj Kumar Prasad Tamarkar Vs St. of Bihar & anr., 10 (2007)10 SCC 433 (distinguished)

5. Mohd. Giasuddin Vs St. of A.P., [AIR 1977 SC 1926]

6. Deo Narain Mandal Vs St. of U.P. [(2004) 7 SCC 257]

7. Ravada Sasikala Vs St. of A.P. AIR 2017 SC 1166

8. Jameel Vs St. of U.P. [(2010) 12 SCC 532]

9. Guru Basavraj vs St. of Karn., [(2012) 8 SCC 734]

10. Sumer Singh Vs Surajbhan Singh, [(2014) 7 SCC 323]

11. St. of Punj. Vs Bawa Singh, [(2015) 3 SCC 441]

12. Raj Bala Vs St. of Har., [(2016) 1 SCC 463]

13. St. of M.P. Vs Jogendra, (2022) 5 SCC 401

(Delivered by Hon'ble Nalin Kumar Srivastava, J.)

1. Heard Sri Suresh Srivastava, learned counsel for the appellant and Sri Nagendra Kumar Srivastava, learned A.G.A. for the state.

2. This appeal challenges the judgment and order dated 16.10.2012 passed by Additional Sessions Judge, Court No.4, Mirzapur in Sessions Trial No.171 of 2010 (State vs. Sita Ram) arising out of Case Crime No.473 of 2010 convicting accused-appellant under Section 302 of Indian Penal Code, 1860 (hereinafter referred to as 'IPC') and sentenced the accused-appellant to undergo imprisonment for life with fine of Rs.5,000/- and in case of default of payment of fine, further to undergo imprisonment for a period of one year.

3. The genesis of the litigation are that the deceased was married to the accused appellant Sita Ram in the month of May, 2006. It is alleged in the F.I.R that the accused demanded money and a motor-cycle, when the deceased showed her inability to get the same from her parents the sad news of her death came on 26.05.2010. The F.I.R was lodged on the very same day by the father of the deceased. The police moved to scene of offence and prepared panchnama. The dead body was sent for postmortem and the post-mortem report revealed that the death was due to strangulation.

4. The police after recording the statements of several witnesses filed charge-sheet against the accused. Being summoned the accused was committed to the court of Sessions as the offence for which the accused was charged was exclusively triable by the court of Sessions.

5. On the accused pleading not guilty on 14.10.202010 charges were framed for commission of offence under Section 498A, 304-B I.P.C read with 3/4 of D.P. Act.

6. The witnesses were examined and after two witnesses namely P.W.-1 and P.W.-2 were examined and when they did not support the prosecution, a new charge was framed by the transferred new incumbent Sessions Judge charging the accused for commission of offence under Section 302 of I.P.C.

7. The Trial started and the prosecution examined 4 witnesses who are as follows:

1	Sobhnath	PW1
2	Smt. Brijwanti	PW2
3	Hira Prasad Maurya	PW3
4	Dr. Srikant Pandey	PW4

8. In support of ocular version following documents were filed:

1	F.I.R.	Ex.Ka.2
2	Written Report	Ex.Ka.1
3	Postmortem Report	Ex.Ka.12
4	Charge-sheet	Ex.Ka.13
5	Site Plan	Ex.Ka.4
6	Recovery memo of Broken Bangle	Ex.Ka.6
7	Recovery Memo of Dupatta	Ex.Ka.11

9. At the end of the trial and after recording the statement of the accused under section 313 of Cr.P.C., and hearing arguments on behalf of prosecution and the defence, the learned Sessions Judge convicted the appellant as mentioned above.

10. Learned counsel for the appellant has relied on the decision in Sanjay

Maurya Vs. State of U.P., 2021 0 Supreme(All) 132 and has contended that it is not proved that the offence under Section 302 is committed nor any offence under Section 304B is proved against the accused, the case cannot be said to be proved under Section 302 of Indian Penal Code as the conviction by Trial Court with the aid of Section 106 of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872 is bad. It is further submitted that the decisions on which the trial court has placed reliance have been misread by the learned trial Judge so as to hold that accused is guilty of commission of offence under Section 302 IPC. It is further submitted that the incident even if it is believed to have occurred and culpability of accused is proved it occurred on the spur of the moment, therefore, the accused if has to be held guilty, the accused be convicted under Section 304(1) of the I.P.C.

11. As against this Sri N.K. Srivastava, learned counsel for the State has contended that

(i) the death occurred in the matrimonial home of the deceased;

(ii) the incident occurred within 7 years of married life. The proof of death being homicidal is proved. Despite the fact that in the statement under Section 313 Cr.P.C the accused has pleaded that he is not guilty but he has not discharged the burden cast on him to rebut the proved facts against accused on facts which are required to be proved are answered so as to cause a dent in prosecution evidence.

12. While considering the facts we have to consider the provisions of Section 304B IPC read with Section 302 of the Indian Penal Code. Trial Court has based the conviction with aid of Section 106 of Indian Evidence Act, 1872. The provisions of Section 106 of Indian Evidence Act, 1872 lay as follows :-

"106. Burden of proving fact especially within knowledge.--When any fact is especially within the knowledge of any person, the burden of proving that fact is upon him. Illustrations

(a) When a person does an act with some intention other than that which the character and circumstances of the act suggest, the burden of proving that intention is upon him.

(b) A is charged with travelling on a railway without a ticket. The burden of proving that he had a ticket is on him."

13. We are of the considered opinion that Section 106 of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872 would come into play once the prosecution has discharged its duty of proving facts as per the charge and evidence act. In this case ingredient of Section 300 of I.P.C which read as follows:-

"300. Murder.--Except in the cases hereinafter excepted, culpable homicide is murder, if the act by which the death is caused is done with the intention of causing death, or--

(Secondly) --If it is done with the intention of causing such bodily injury as the offender knows to be likely to cause the death of the person to whom the harm is caused, or--

(Thirdly) --If it is done with the intention of causing bodily injury to any person and the bodily injury intended to be inflicted is sufficient in the ordinary course of nature to cause death, or--

(Fourthly) --If the person committing the act knows that it is so imminently dangerous that it must, in all probability, cause death or such bodily injury as is likely to cause death, and commits such act without any excuse for incurring the risk of causing death or such injury as aforesaid. Illustrations

(a) A shoots Z with the intention of killing him. Z dies in consequence. A commits

(b) A, knowing that Z is labouring under such a disease that a blow is likely to cause his death, strikes him with the intention of causing bodily injury. Z dies in consequence of the blow. A is guilty of murder, although the blow might not have been sufficient in the ordinary course of nature to cause the death of a person in a sound state of health. But if A, not knowing that Z is labouring under any disease, gives him such a blow as would not in the ordinary course of nature kill a person in a sound state of health, here A, although he may intend to cause bodily injury, is not guilty of murder, if he did not intend to cause death, or such bodily injury as in the ordinary course of nature would cause death.

(c) A intentionally gives Z a sword-cut or club-wound sufficient to cause the death of a man in the ordinary course of nature. Z dies in consequence. Here, A is guilty of murder, although he may not have intended to cause Z's death.

(d) A without any excuse fires a loaded cannon into a crowd of persons and kills one of them. A is guilty of murder, although he may not have had a premeditated design to kill any particular individual. Exception 1.--When culpable homicide is not murder.--Culpable homicide is not murder if the offender, whilst deprived of the power of self-control by grave and sudden provocation, causes the death of the person who gave the provocation or causes the death of any other person by mistake or accident. The above exception is subject to the following provisos:--

(First) --That the provocation is not sought or voluntarily provoked by the offender as an excuse for killing or doing harm to any person.

(Secondly) --That the provocation is not given by anything done in obedience to the law,

(Thirdly) --That the provocation is not given by anything done in the lawful exercise of the right of private defence. Explanation.--Whether the provocation was grave and sudden enough to prevent the offence from amounting to murder is a question of fact. Illustrations

(a) A, under the influence of passion excited by a provocation given by Z, intentionally kills. Y, Z's child. This is murder, in as much as the provocation was not given by the child, and the death of the child was not caused by accident or misfortune in doing an act caused by the provocation.

(b) Y gives grave and sudden provocation to A. A, on this provocation, fires a pistol at Y, neither intending nor knowing himself to be likely to kill Z, who is near him, but out of sight. A kills Z. Here A has not committed murder, but merely culpable homicide.

(c) A is lawfully arrested by Z, a bailiff. A is excited to sudden and violent passion by the arrest, and kills Z. This is murder, in as much as the provocation was given by a thing done by a public servant in the exercise of his powers.

(d) A appears as witness before Z, a Magistrate, Z says that he does not believe a word of A's deposition, and that A has perjured himself. A is moved to sudden passion by these words, and kills Z. This is murder.

(e) A attempts to pull Z's nose, Z, in the exercise of the right of private defence, lays hold of A to prevent him from doing so. A is moved to sudden and violent passion in consequence, and kills Z. This is murder, in as much as the provocation was given by a thing done in the exercise of the right of private defence.

(f) Z strikes B. B is by this provocation excited to violent rage. A, a bystander, intending to take advantage of B's rage, and to cause him to kill Z, puts a knife into B's hand for that purpose. B kills Z with the knife. Here B may have committed only culpable homicide, but A is guilty of murder. Exception 2.--Culpable homicide is not murder if the offender, in the exercise in good faith of the right of private defence of person or property, exceeds the power given to him by law and causes the death of the person against whom he is exercising such right of defence without premeditation, and without any intention of doing more harm than is necessary for the purpose of such defence. Illustration Z attempts to horsewhip A, not in such a manner as to cause grievous hurt to A. A draws out a pistol. Z persists in the assault. A believing in good faith that he can by no other means prevent himself from being horsewhipped, shoots Z dead. A has not committed murder, but only culpable homicide. Exception 3.--Culpable homicide is not murder if the offender, being a public servant or aiding a public servant acting for the advancement of public justice, exceeds the powers given to him by law, and causes death by doing an act which he, in good faith, believes to be lawful and necessary for the due discharge of his duty as such public servant and without ill-will towards the person whose death is caused. Exception 4.--Culpable homicide is not murder if it is committed without premeditation in a sudden fight in the heat of passion upon a sudden quarrel and without the offender having taken undue advantage or acted in a cruel or unusual manner. Explanation.--It is immaterial in such cases which party offers the provocation or commits the first assault. Exception 5.--Culpable homicide is not murder when the person whose death is caused, being above the age of eighteen years, suffers death or takes the risk of death with his own consent. Illustration A, by instigation, voluntarily causes, Z, a person under eighteen years of age to commit suicide. Here, on account of Z's youth, he was incapable of giving consent to his own death; A has therefore abetted murder."

14. Section 304B of IPC reads as under :

[304B. Dowry death. -- (1) Where the death of a woman is caused by any burns or bodily injury or occurs otherwise than under normal circumstances within seven years of her marriage and it is shown that soon before her death she was subjected to cruelty or harassment by her husband or any relative of her husband for, or in connection with, any demand for dowry, such death shall be called "dowry death", and such husband or relative shall be deemed to have caused her death.*

Explanation. For the purposes of this sub-section, "dowry" shall have the same meaning as in section 2 of the Dowry Prohibition Act, 1961 (28 of 1961).

(2) Whoever commits dowry death shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which shall not be less than seven years but which may extend to imprisonment for life.]"

15. The evidence on record shows that nobody has seen the accused committing the offence of strangulating the deceased. This is the first dent in the prosecution evidence. The submission of the learned counsel for the State that the accused was nabbed after 6 days would not make any difference. The facts and circumstances of the case would show that the deceased was subjected to harassment, the words used by the legislation are very clear that it may be the word use as not 'and' but 'or', therefore there is thin line of distinction.

16. Considering the evidence of the witnesses and also considering the medical evidence including post mortem report, there is no doubt left in our mind that it is homicide death.

17. The question which falls for our consideration is whether, on reappraisal of the peculiar facts and circumstances of the case, the conviction of the appellant under Section 302 of I.P.C. of the Indian Penal Code should be upheld or the conviction deserves to be converted under Section 304 Part-I or Part-II of the Indian Penal Code or under Section 304B of IPC. It would be relevant to refer to Section 299 of the Indian Penal Code, which reads as under:

"299. Culpable homicide: Whoever causes death by doing an act with the intention of causing death, or with the intention of causing such bodily injury as is likely to cause death, or with the knowledge that he is likely by such act to cause death, commits the offence of culpable homicide."

18. The academic distinction between "murder' and "culpable homicide not amounting to murder' has always vexed the Courts. The confusion is caused, if Courts losing sight of the true scope and meaning of the terms used by the legislature in these sections, allow themselves to be drawn into minute abstractions. The safest way of approach to the interpretation and application of these provisions seems to be to keep in focus the keywords used in the various clauses of Section 299 and 300 of I.P.Code. The following comparative table will be helpful in appreciating the points of distinction between the two offences.

Section 299	Section 300
A person commits culpable homicide if the act by which the death is caused is done-	Subject to certain exceptions culpable homicide is murder is the act by which the death is caused is done.
INTENTION
(a) with the intention of causing death; or	(1) with the intention of causing death; or
(b) with the intention of causing such bodily injury as is likely to cause death; or	(2) with the intention of causing such bodily injury as the offender knows to be likely to cause the death of the person to whom the harm is caused;
KNOWLEDGE	KNOWLEDGE
(c) with the knowledge that the act is likely to cause death.	(4) with the knowledge that the act is so immediately dangerous that it must in all probability cause death or such bodily injury as is likely to cause death, and without any excuse for incurring the risk of causing death or such injury as is mentioned above.

19. On overall scrutiny of the facts and circumstances of the present case coupled with the opinion of the Medical Officer and considering the principle laid down by the Apex Court in the Case of Tukaram and Ors Vs. State of Maharashtra, reported in (2011) 4 SCC 250 and in the case of B.N. Kavatakar and Another Vs. State of Karnataka, reported in 1994 SUPP (1) SCC 304, we are of the considered opinion that the offence would not be one punishable under Section 304 of the IPC.

20. It would be relevant for us to discuss the evidence of PW-1, PW-2, PW-3 and PW-4 coupled with the facts that PW-1 and PW-2 did not suport the prosecution and were declared hostile. However, in their examination-in-chief, they have categorically mentioned that they got her married to Sita Ram four years before she died and in the marriage they gave as per their financial condition. However denied the fact that the appellant and his family members were demanding any kind of dowry.

21. In cross examination, witnesses, PW-1 & PW-2 have feigned ignorance as to how the police authority had mentioned the fact of demand of motorcycle and chain in the FIR or their statement under Section 161 of Code of Criminal Procedure. They have even categorically opined that the appellant here in was not present at the time of death. Similar version of PW-3 also. It is only after the witnesses did not support the prosecution that the learned Judge framed new charge on 28.1.2011 to prove that the offence under Section 300 of IPC amounting to murder, there must of clinching evidence that it was the appellant alone who was last seen with the deceased. Just because he has not stated where he was the Court cannot return to a finding against him. There were no anti mortem injuries also as per the occuller version of PW-4 (Doctor). The decision of which the learned Judge has placed reliance for coming to the conclusion that offence under Section 302 IPC is made out, can be made applicable to the facts of this case. However, a rebuttal evidence under Section 106 of the Indian Evidence Act would clear the facts and Section 304B IPC could be presumed to have been made out but not for Section 302 IPC. The death has occurred in the matrimonial home. The accused was not found and was absconding. He was arrested after six days by the police authority. The judgment of Raj Kumar Prasad Tamarkar Vs. State of Bihar and another, (2007)10 SCC 433 will not apply to the facts of this case.

22. We come to the definite conclusion that the death was homicidal death. The judgments cited by the learned counsel for the appellant namely Sanjay Maurya (supra) would permit us to uphold our finding which we conclusively hold that the offence is not under Section 302 of I.P.C. but it is culpable homicide and was dowry death.

23. This takes us to the question of applicability of Section 304B of I.P.C to the facts of this case.

24. While coming to the conclusion that the accused is the perpetrator of the offence, whether sentence of life imprisonment and fine is adequate or the sentence requires to be modified in the facts and circumstances of this case and in the light of certain judicial pronouncements and precedents applicable in such matters. This Court would refer to the following precedents, namely, Mohd. Giasuddin Vs. State of AP, [AIR 1977 SC 1926], explaining rehabilitary & reformative aspects in sentencing it has been observed by the

"Crime is a pathological aberration. The criminal can ordinarily be redeemed and the state has to rehabilitate rather than avenge. The sub-culture that leads to ante-social behaviour has to be countered not by undue cruelty but by reculturization. Therefore, the focus of interest in penology in the individual and the goal is salvaging him for the society. The infliction of harsh and savage punishment is thus a relic of past and regressive times. The human today vies sentencing as a process of reshaping a person who has deteriorated into criminality and the modern community has a primary stake in the rehabilitation of the offender as a means of a social defence. Hence a therapeutic, rather than an 'in terrorem' outlook should prevail in our criminal courts, since brutal incarceration of the person merely produces laceration of his mind. If you are to punish a man retributively, you must injure him. If you are to reform him, you must improve him and, men are not improved by injuries."

25. 'Proper Sentence' was explained in Deo Narain Mandal Vs. State of UP [(2004) 7 SCC 257] by observing that Sentence should not be either excessively harsh or ridiculously low. While determining the quantum of sentence, the court should bear in mind the 'principle of proportionality'. Sentence should be based on facts of a given case. Gravity of offence, manner of commission of crime, age and sex of accused should be taken into account. Discretion of Court in awarding sentence cannot be exercised arbitrarily or whimsically.

26. In Ravada Sasikala vs. State of A.P. AIR 2017 SC 1166, the Supreme Court referred the judgments in Jameel vs State of UP [(2010) 12 SCC 532], Guru Basavraj vs State of Karnatak, [(2012) 8 SCC 734], Sumer Singh vs Surajbhan Singh, [(2014) 7 SCC 323], State of Punjab vs Bawa Singh, [(2015) 3 SCC 441], and Raj Bala vs State of Haryana, [(2016) 1 SCC 463] and has reiterated that, in operating the sentencing system, law should adopt corrective machinery or deterrence based on factual matrix. Facts and given circumstances in each case, nature of crime, manner in which it was planned and committed, motive for commission of crime, conduct of accused, nature of weapons used and all other attending circumstances are relevant facts which would enter into area of consideration. Further, undue sympathy in sentencing would do more harm to justice dispensations and would undermine the public confidence in the efficacy of law. It is the duty of every court to award proper sentence having regard to nature of offence and manner of its commission. The supreme court further said that courts must not only keep in view the right of victim of crime but also society at large. While considering imposition of appropriate punishment, the impact of crime on the society as a whole and rule of law needs to be balanced. The judicial trend in the country has been towards striking a balance between reform and punishment. The protection of society and stamping out criminal proclivity must be the object of law which can be achieved by imposing appropriate sentence on criminals and wrongdoers. Law, as a tool to maintain order and peace, should effectively meet challenges confronting the society, as society could not long endure and develop under serious threats of crime and disharmony. It is therefore, necessary to avoid undue leniency in imposition of sentence. Thus, the criminal justice jurisprudence adopted in the country is not retributive but reformative and corrective. At the same time, undue harshness should also be avoided keeping in view the reformative approach underlying in our criminal justice system.

27. Keeping in view the facts and circumstances of the case and also keeping in view criminal jurisprudence in our country which is reformative and corrective and not retributive, this Court considers that no accused person is incapable of being reformed and therefore, all measures should be applied to give them an opportunity of reformation in order to bring them in the social stream.

28. Recent judgment of State of M.P Vs. Jogendra, (2022) 5 SCC 401 and ratio laid in the said judgment can be followed, however, instead of seven years period undergone would be more than relevant in the facts and circumstances of this case.

29. Having discussed the judgment threadbare and have been considered the factual data, we have come to the conclusion that the offence committed by the accused with an aid of Section 106 of Indian Evidence Act, can be said to have been under Section 304B for the finding mentioned herein above.

30. By going through the evidence on record it is very clear that the act of the accused-appellant was not such which cannot be substituted by giving a lessor sentence than life imprisonment. The period of 12 years which he spent is enough punishment in the facts of this case. The minor contradictions will have to be ignored and they cannot for the dent in the prosecution of the husband. Medical evidence is quite clear and corroborates the facts and circumstances. Punishment would be 10 years incarceration, the fine and default sentence are also maintained.

31. Accordingly, the appeal is partly allowed with the modification of the sentence and punishing section as above. Record and proceedings be sent back to the Court below forthwith.

32. A copy of this order be sent to the jail authorities for following this order and doing the needful.

33. This Court is thankful to learned Advocates for ably assisting the Court.

(2022) 9 ILRA 954
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 20.09.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE ASHWANI KUMAR MISHRA, J.
THE HON'BLE SHIV SHANKER PRASAD, J.

Criminal Appeal No. 6666 of 2008
connected with
Criminal Appeal No. 6372 of 2008

Salim @ Pappu ...Appellant
Versus
State of U.P. ...Respondent

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri Pankaj Govil, Sri Siddharth Nandan

Counsel for the Respondent:
Govt. Advocate, Sri V.M. Zaidi

Criminal Law - Indian Penal Code,1860 - Section 302/34 IPC- Accused are two brothers-one accused of stabbing and other accused of grabbing/catching hold the deceased-one victim died another sustained stab injury-manner of offence occurred indicates- at spur of the moment -common intention was formed between three brothers-no premediation-sudden fight-falls under fourth exception to section 300 IPC.

Appeal partly allowed. (E-9)

List of Cases cited:

1. Ramashish Yadav & ors. Vs St. of Bihar, (1998) 8 SCC 555

2. Gulab Vs St. of U.P. & ors. being Criminal Appeal No.81 of 2021

(Delivered by Hon'ble Ashwani Kumar Mishra, J.)

1. These two appeals are by the brothers of Dilshad, namely Saleem and Firoz, challenging the judgment and order of conviction and sentence, dated 28/29.8.2008, passed by the Additional Session Judge, Court No.11, Ghaziabad in Session Trial Nos. 383 of 1998 (State vs. Saleem @ Pappu and Firoz) and 309 of 1999 (State vs. Firoz), whereby the accused appellant Saleem @ Pappu has been convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment under Section 302/34 IPC with fine of Rs.10,000/- and has also been convicted and sentenced to ten years rigorous imprisonment under section 307/34 IPC with fine of Rs.5,000/- and accused appellant Firoz has been convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment under Section 302/34 IPC with fine of Rs.10,000/- and has also been convicted and sentenced to ten years rigorous imprisonment under Section 307 IPC with fine of Rs.5,000/- and he has also been convicted and sentenced to one year rigorous imprisonment under Section 25/4 Arms Act with fine of Rs.1,000/-. In default of fine accused appellants are to undergo two years rigorous imprisonment under section 302/34 IPC and one year rigorous imprisonment under Sections 307/34 IPC and 307 IPC and three months rigorous imprisonment under Section 25/4 Arms Act. All the sentences shall run concurrently.

2. Prosecution case, in brief, is that the first informant Tahzeeb alongwith Suhail had gone to meet Mazid Ali (injured witness, PW-2) and his brother-in-law Fasiuddin (deceased) at their workshop and their helper Moinuddin was also present at 09.30 AM, when their neighbour Saleem @ Pappu, Firoz and Dilshad sons of Imamuddin started sweeping areas in front of their workshop such that dust started coming to the workshop of Mazid. Mazid and Fasiuddin accordingly asked the three accused to sprinkle water before sweeping the area so that dust does not come to their workshop and on this Saleem, Firoz and Dilshad started abusing them. Mazid and Fasiudding asked them not to do so on which the accused persons attacked them with knife. Saleem grabbed Fasiuddin and Dilshad stabbed him and Firoz stabbed Mazid. Seeing the occurrence neighbours and adjoining workshop owners rushed to the spot and tried to apprehend the accused persons but they fled. Mazid and Fasiuddin were taken to government hospital where Fasiuddin was declared dead and his dead body was kept in mortuary. Mazid after first aid was taken to Yashoda Hospital and was admitted there. It is with these contents that written report (Ext. Ka-1) was entered in the General Diary and registered as Case Crime No.594 of 1997 on 27.09.1997 at 12.20 PM, under Sections 302/307 IPC, Police Station Sihanigate, District Ghaziabad. Individual role of accused appellant Saleem @ Pappu is of grabbing/catching hold the deceased Fasiuddin while accused appellant Firoz is accused of causing stab injury to Mazid. Section 34 IPC has also been invoked since the prosecution asserted that with a common intent the three accused persons have committed the offence in which one person, namely Fasiuddin, died and another Mazid sustained stab injury.

3. After registration of FIR the investigation proceeded. The Investigating Officer reached the spot and collected the bloodstained and plain earth. The inquest also followed. The inquest witnesses were of the view that the deceased died due to stabbed injury caused on his chest. The postmortem of the deceased Fasiuddin was conducted on 28.09.1997 and the autopsy doctor opined the cause of death to be shock and haemorrhage due to following ante-mortem injury:-

"1. Incised wound 2cm x 1(1/2)cm x chest cavity deep on left side chest 7 cm away from left nipple at 10 "o' clock position."

4. A subsequent FIR came to be lodged on 12.10.1997 at 02.00 AM when accused appellant Firoz and Dilshad were arrested on 11.10.1997 at 11.15 PM and two similar knives were recovered from them. The accused persons had no licence to keep such weapons. These two accused persons informed the police that they had killed Fasiuddin and had also injured Mazid with these knives. The recovered knives were sealed separately and recovery memo of two knives and arrest was accordingly prepared.

5. Upon conclusion of investigation charge sheet was submitted against the accused appellants, on which the Magistrate took cognizance and committed the case to the court of sessions, and was registered as Session Trial Nos. 383 of 1998. Charges accordingly were framed against the accused appellants on 26.03.1998 under Sections 302/34 IPC and 307/34 IPC. Accused appellant Firoz was also charged under Section 25/4 Arms Act in respect of which Session Trial No.309 of 1999 was registered. The accused appellants denied the charges and consequently trial commenced. Both the sessions trial have been tried together.

6. The prosecution in order to establish the charges against accused appellants produced oral testimonies of following witnesses:-

1. Tahzeeb Ahmad PW-1
2. Majid Ali PW-2 PW-2
3. V. N. Singh PW-3 PW-3
4. Dr. Chiranji Lal PW-4 PW-4
5. Panna Lal Sharma PW-5 PW-5
6. R.A.S. Yadav PW-6 PW-6
7. Braj Kumar PW-7 PW-7
8. M.C. Gautam PW-8 PW-8
9. Virendra Singh PW-9 PW-9
10. Charan Singh Yadav PW-10 PW-10
11. Dharam Pal Singh PW-11 PW-11
12. Wasif Ali PW-12 PW-12
13. Dr. Sangeeta Garg PW-13 PW-13
14. Dr. Vinesh Kumar PW-14 PW-14

7. Documentary evidences have also been adduced by the prosecution consisting of two FIRs as Ex.Ka. 4 & 14; written report as Ex.Ka.1; recovery memo of bloodstained and plain earth as Ex.Ka. 17; recovery memo of knife and arrest as Ex. Ka.11; postmortem report Ex.Ka. 3; two site plan with index as Ex.Ka.12 & 16.

8. On the basis of oral and documentary evidence, thus adduced, the trial court has found the accused appellants guilty of offence and has consequently convicted them. Aggrieved by the judgement of conviction and sentence the accused appellants have preferred these appeals before this Court.

9. On behalf of the accused appellants three submissions have been made. First and foremost it is urged that the accused appellants have been falsely implicated in the present case and the weight of evidence on record does not support their conviction and sentence. It is then urged that the incident, as alleged by the prosecution, occurred at spur of the moment and there was neither any pre-meditation nor any common intent to commit the offence. It is, therefore, argued that section 34 IPC cannot be invoked in the facts of the case since common intention on part of the two accused appellants was clearly lacking. It is submitted that the accused appellants can at best be punished for their individual act and not under section 302 read with Section 34 IPC. It is lastly urged stated that only a single stab wound has been inflicted in the heat of the moment and, therefore, intent to murder the deceased was not established. It is submitted that there was no intention on part of the accused appellants to murder the deceased Fasiuddin and the incident occurred over a trivial issue, at the spur of the moment without any pre-meditation and, therefore, even if section 34 IPC is applied, yet, none of the accused appellants are liable to be punished under section 302 IPC and can at best be punished under section 304 part II IPC. It is also submitted that though the accused appellant Saleem has been granted bail vide order dated 22.01.2009 but the accused appellant Firoz is in jail since 28.08.2008.

10. Learned A.G.A. for the State, per contra, states that the weight of evidence clearly supports the conclusion drawn by the trial court inasmuch three accused persons committed the offence with a common intent and, therefore, section 34 IPC rightly invoked. It is urged that the intent on record shows that all three accused went inside the workshop to fetch knife whereafter the incident occurred and, therefore, there is clear evidence that common intention was formed at the spur of the moment and the argument that the accused appellants can be punished for their individual role cannot be accepted. Learned A.G.A. also states that this is a case of broad daylight incident in which one person is killed while other sustained grievous stab wound, as such the conviction and sentence awarded to accused appellants suffers from no infirmity.

11. We have heard Sri Kamlesh Kumar, learned counsel, assisted by Sri Kandarp Srivastava and Sri Pankaj Govil for the accused appellants and Km. Meena, learned A.G.A. for the State and have perused the records brought on record.

12. We may note that accused Dilshad who was assigned the role of stabbing the deceased Fasiuddin was found juvenile at the time of occurrence of crime and was dealt with as per the law applicable.

13. Prosecution case in addition to documentary evidence, referred to above, has adduced oral testimonies of Tahzeeb Ahmad PW-1, Injured Witness Mazid Ali PW-2 and Wasif Ali PW-12 to prove the incident. PW-1 has supported the FIR version that he had come to workshop of Mazid Ali at 09.30 in the morning and in his presence Mazid, Fasiuddin and Moinuddin asked the accused persons to sprinkle water before sweeping the area so that dust does not come to their workshop on which the accused persons started abusing and when they were objected then the three accused with a common intent came forwarded and Saleem caught hold of deceased Fasiuddin while Dilshad stabbed him. Firoz is stated to have stabbed Mazid. In his cross-examination PW-1 has claimed that his workshop is at a distance of nearly 750 meters from the place of occurrence and he used to get his machine repaired at the workshop of Firoz. He has explained that in FIR he has narrated that he had gone to meet Mazid and that his visit was due to any work was not disclosed. Sohail has a shop about 3-4 kilometres from the place of occurrence. PW-1 has also stated that alongwith him Sohail and Mazid are from the same place and that the incident occurred when they reached the workshop of Mazid. The witness also stated that alongwith him Ahteshyam and one other worker went to police station but Ahteshyam, who happens to be brother-in-law of Mazid, has not been produced. Ahteshyam was called on phone who arrived 35-40 minutes later by his Maruti Car. However, they had gone to police station by rickshaw. It is also stated that when they took Mazid to police station for lodging the report he was conscious and in his senses. PW-1 has stated that the entire incident occurred within 5-7 minutes. He has emphasised that the incident occurred at spur of the moment and they could not apprehend the accused.

14. PW-2 Mazid Ali (injured witness) has stated that alongwith him deceased Fasiuddin and helper Moinuddin were present at the workshop and Tahzeeb and Sohail had come to meet them. He has stated that his workshop adjoins the workshop of accused appellants. He has also supported the FIR version and has stated that with intent to kill him and Fasiuddin the accused persons stabbed him. He was admitted to Yasodha Hospital and that he was operated upon on account of stab wound.

In the cross-examination the injured witness Mazid has admitted that the accused persons used to sweep the area in front of their workshop in the same way everyday but no incident in respect of it had occurred earlier and that it was only on the date of occurrence that such a dispute had arisen. He has specifically stated that Dilshad was not carrying knife when he was sweeping the area in front of their workshop and that these persons must have gone inside the workshop to get the knife and thereafter stabbed him. He has however feigned ignorance whether the accused had gone inside the workshop to fetch the knife after the altercation and it is not known as to how much time they took to come out. He also denied that he sustained injury elsewhere and they have falsely implicated the accused appellants.

15. PW-12 Wasif Ali was not shown to be the person present at the place of occurrence in the FIR. He has disclosed that he was standing near the workshop of Mazid. In his cross-examination he claims to be running a STD Booth at Kavi Nagar and used to cross the workshop of Mazid every morning. He has denied the suggestion that there existed open space between the workshop of Mazid and the accused persons.

16. Upon careful examination of the statement of witnesses PW-1, PW-2 and PW-12, we find that their presence on the spot has been explained. PW-1 was otherwise known to PW-2 as they hail from same area and his presence at the workshop cannot be doubted. Similarly, PW-12 alleged that he crossed the workshop of Mazid everyday in the morning for going to his STD Booth, therefore, his presence on the spot also cannot be doubted. PW-2 is an injured witness and place of occurrence is his workshop. All three witnesses have supported the FIR version and have clearly stated the manner in which fight erupted. They have been consistent in assigning the role of catching hold to Saleem; stabbing by Dilshad to Fasiuddin; and stabbing by Firoz to Mazid. The statement of PW-1, PW-2 and PW-12 is clearly corroborated by the medical evidence, which refers to stab wound caused to deceased Fasiuddin as also injured PW-2.

17. From the evidence placed before us we have no doubt that the incident had actually occurred in front of workshop of Mazid wherein the accused persons stabbed Fasiuddin and Mazid, resulting in death of Fasiuddin and stab wound caused to Mazid. The finding of the trial court in that regard, accordingly, is confirmed.

18. It is next to be seen in the facts of the case as to whether the offence attributed to accused appellants was committed on account of common intention between three accused persons or they are to be held liable only for their own act.

19. Section 34 IPC is relevant and is reproduced hereinafter:-

"34. Acts done by several persons in furtherance of common intention.--When a criminal act is done by several persons in furtherance of the common intention of all, each of such persons is liable for that act in the same manner as if it were done by him alone."

20. It is by now well settled that principles of joint liability in committing an offence is contemplated under section 34 IPC. The factum of joint liability in committing the offence is dependent upon existence of common intention pursuant to which three accused acted in furtherance of their common intention.

21. In Ramashish Yadav and others vs. State of Bihar, (1998) 8 SCC 555 the Court has observed as in following words:-

"Coming to the question of applicability of section 34 for the murder of Tapeshwar, we find from the evidence of the three eye witnesses that while Ram Pravesh Yadav and Ramanand Yadav caught hold of Tapeshwar, accused Samundar Yadav and Sheo Layak Yadav came with gandasa and gave blows on the head of Tapeshwar, as a result of which Tapeshwar died, section 34 lays down a principle of joint liability in the doing of a criminal act. The absence of that liability is to be found in the existence of common intention animating the accused leading to the doing of a criminal act in furtherance of such intention. The distinct feature of section 34 is the element of participation in action. The common intention implies acting in concert, existence of a pre-arranged plan which is to be proved either from conduct or from circumstances or from any incriminating facts. It requires a prearranged plan and it presupposes prior concert. Therefore, there must be prior meeting of minds. The prior concert or meeting of mind may be determined from the conduct of the offenders unfolding itself during the course of action and the declaration made by them just before mounting the attack."

22. In a recent decision in Gulab vs. State of U.P. and others being Criminal Appeal No.81 of 2021 the ingredients of section 34 IPC has been summed up in para

24 to 27, which are reproduced hereinafter:-

"24. Emphasizing the fundamental principles underlying Section 34, this Court held that:

(i) Section 34 does not create a distinct offence, but is a principle of constructive liability;

(ii) In order to incur a joint liability for an offence there must be a pre-arranged and pre-mediated concert between the accused persons for doing the act actually done;

(iii) There may not be a long interval between the act and the pre-meditation and the plan may be formed suddenly. In order for Section 34 to apply, it is not necessary that the prosecution must prove an act was done by a particular person; and

(iv) The provision is intended to cover cases where a number of persons act together and on the facts of the case, it is not possible for the prosecution to prove who actually committed the crime.

25. These principles have been adopted and applied in another two judge Bench decision of this Court in Chhota Ahirwar v. State of Madhya Pradesh, 2020 (213) AIC 66. Justice Indira Banerjee speaking for the two-judge Bench observed:

"26. To attract Section 34 of the Penal Code, no overt act is needed on the part of the accused if they share common intention with others in respect of the ultimate criminal act, which may be done by any one of the accused sharing such intention [see Asoke Basak [Asoke Basak v. State of Maharashtra, (2010) 10 SCC 660 : (2011) 1 SCC (Cri) 85], SCC p. 669]. To quote from the judgment of the Privy Council in the famous case of Barendra Kumar Ghosh [Barendra Kumar Ghosh v. King Emperor, 1924 SCC OnLine PC 49 : (1924-25) 52 IA 40 : AIR 1925 PC 1], "they also serve who stand and wait".

27. Common intention implies acting in concert. Existence of a prearranged plan has to be proved either from the conduct of the accused, or from circumstances or from any incriminating facts. It is not enough to have the same intention independently of each other."

26. In Dhanpal v. State (NCT of Delhi), 2020 (112) acc 813 (SC) the appellant had exhorted a co-accused to kill the deceased. The exhortation was not repeated by the eyewitnesses in identical terms. Further, it was also alleged that there was no neutral witness since all the eyewitnesses were related to the deceased and there was a delay in lodging the FIR. Justice Aniruddha Bose speaking for the two judge Bench of this Court observed:

"8. There are sufficient materials, however, to establish that the three appellants had returned together to the place of occurrence and attacked the deceased victim with Dhanpal exhorting to kill Ajay. They had grappled the victim and said Kamal inflicted multiple injuries on him with the knife. On the basis of evidence disclosed, the trial court and the High Court found that there was prior meeting of minds of all the four convicts and all the three appellants had intention common with that of Kamal. On this point, the ratio of the judgment of this Court in Asif Khan v. State of Maharashtra [Asif Khan v. State of Maharashtra, (2019) 5 SCC 210 : (2019) 2 SCC (Cri) 484] is relevant. In an earlier case, Rajkishore Purohit v. State of M.P. [Rajkishore Purohit v. State of M.P., (2017) 9 SCC 483 : (2017) 3 SCC (Cri) 749], it has been held that to establish common intention to cause murder, overt act or possession of weapons by all the accused persons is not necessary.

In Richhpal Singh Meena v. Ghasi [Richhpal Singh Meena v. Ghasi, (2014) 8 SCC 918 : (2014) 6 SCC (Cri) 424], the ratio is that in the event the nature of the assault is such that the target person is likely to die from the injuries resulting therefrom, the accused must be deemed to have known the consequences of his act.

.....

11. We find the approach of the trial court and the High Court in appeal was proper in dealing with the discrepancies pointed out on behalf of the appellants. The delay in registering the FIR has been explained properly and judgment of conviction cannot fail for that reason. It is a fact that the eyewitnesses were known to the deceased and there was no neutral witness. But for that factor alone we cannot exonerate the appellants, particularly since the court of first instance and the first appellate court have already examined the evidence and given their findings in favour of prosecution. We do not find any error in the judgment of conviction and order of sentence so far as the appellants are concerned. All the three appeals are dismissed."

Recently in Sandeep v. State of Haryana, 2021 (225) AIC 108 (SC) a two-judge Bench of this Court held that an exhortation given by an accused immediately before a co-accused fired a shot killing the deceased would prove his involvement in the crime beyond reasonable doubt. Accordingly, this Court upheld the conviction of the accused under Sections 302 and 34 of the IPC.

27. The evidence on the record clearly establishes a common intention in pursuance of which the appellant exhorted Idrish to kill the deceased. The prosecution is not required to prove that there was an elaborate plan between the accused to kill the deceased or a plan was in existence for a long time. A common intention to commit the crime is proved if the accused by their words or action indicate their assent to join in the commission of the crime. The appellant reached the spot with a lathi, along with Idrish who had a pistol. The appellant's exhortation was crucial to the commission of the crime since it was only after he made the statement that the enemy has been found, that Idrish fired the fatal shot. The role of the appellant, his presence at the spot and the nature of the exhortation have all emerged from the consistent account of the three eye-witnesses."

23. In light of the settled position in law we are required to examine as to whether there existed common intention on part of the accused appellants in committing the offence.

24. It may be noticed that all the three accused are real brothers. They were present when the incident occurred in which they were objected to by the deceased and injured from sweeping before sprinkling water, so as to avoid dust coming to their workshop. The sudden fight which erupted thereafter was between the three brothers on one side and the deceased as well as injured on the other side. PW-2 in his statement has stated that Dilshad was not carrying knife when he was sweeping the area in front of their workshop. It appears otherwise logical that a person sweeping the floor outside his workshop would not be carrying arms (knife here). This witness appears to be a natural witness who has asserted that he had not seen the accused persons going inside the workshop to fetch knife but it remains undisputed that the injury was caused by the accused persons to Fasiuddin and Mazid. These persons must have got the knife after the fight, though in the heat of moment at that spur. Specific role has been assigned to all three accused inasmuch as one of the brothers caught hold of the deceased Fasiuddin while Dilshad stabbed him and Firoz stabbed Mazid. The manner in which offence occurred clearly indicates that at spur of the moment common intention was formed between the three brothers which resulted in stab injury caused to deceased Fasiuddin and injured witness Mazid.

25. Law is otherwise settled that in order to incur joint liability for an offence there need not be a long interval between the act or pre-meditation and the plan may be formed suddenly. We, therefore, are in agreement with the conclusion drawn by the trial court that section 34 IPC would be attracted in the facts of the case and each of the accused would be held liable for offence under section 302 IPC.

26. This takes us to the last question urged on behalf of the accused appellant in the present two appeals whether trial court was justified in sentencing the accused appellants under section 302 IPC. According to the accused appellants the maximum punishment which could be imposed upon them is under section 304 part II IPC.

27. The prosecution case clearly is that it was at the spur of moment that a fight erupted when the deceased and injured objected to sweeping the area in front of workshop of accused appellants without sprinkling water. The witnesses present on spot i.e. PW-1, PW-2 and PW-12 have stated that it was at spur of the moment that incident occurred in which one of the persons has died while other sustained stab injury. It is also admitted to the prosecution witnesses that no such incident occurred earlier although accused appellants used to clean the area in similar fashion. In such circumstances, it is apparent that there was no pre-meditation on part of the accused appellants in committing the offence which occurred at the spur of moment.

28. Learned counsel for the accused appellants has urged that the incident in question would be covered under the fourth exception to section 300 IPC, which reads as under:-

"Exception 4. --Culpable homicide is not murder if it is committed without premeditation in a sudden fight in the heat of passion upon a sudden quarrel and without the offender having taken undue advantage or acted in a cruel or unusual manner."

29. We may at this stage refer to the judgment of the Supreme Court in State of Uttarakhand v. Sachendra Singh Rawat, (2022) 4 SCC 227 wherein the Court examined Exception 4 to Section 300 IPC and observed as under:

"8. In Virsa Singh [Virsa Singh v. State of Punjab, AIR 1958 SC 465 : 1958 Cri LJ 818] , in paras 16 and 17, it was observed and held as under : (AIR p. 468)

"16. ... The question is not whether the prisoner intended to inflict a serious injury or a trivial one but whether he intended to inflict the injury that is proved to be present. If he can show that he did not, or if the totality of the circumstances justify such an inference, then, of course, the intent that the section requires is not proved. But if there is nothing beyond the injury and the fact that the appellant inflicted it, the only possible inference is that he intended to inflict it. Whether he knew of its seriousness, or intended serious consequences, is neither here nor there. The question, so far as the intention is concerned, is not whether he intended to kill, or to inflict an injury of a particular degree of seriousness, but whether he intended to inflict the injury in question; and once the existence of the injury is proved the intention to cause it will be presumed unless the evidence or the circumstances warrant an opposite conclusion. But whether the intention is there or not is one of fact and not one of law. Whether the wound is serious or otherwise, and if serious, how serious, is a totally separate and distinct question and has nothing to do with the question whether the prisoner intended to inflict the injury in question.

17. It is true that in a given case the enquiry may be linked up with the seriousness of the injury. For example, if it can be proved, or if the totality of the circumstances justify an inference, that the prisoner only intended a superficial scratch and that by accident his victim stumbled and fell on the sword or spear that was used, then of course the offence is not murder. But that is not because the prisoner did not intend the injury that he intended to inflict to be as serious as it turned out to be but because he did not intend to inflict the injury in question at all. His intention in such a case would be to inflict a totally different injury. The difference is not one of law but one of fact;...."(emphasis supplied)

9. In Dhirajbhai Gorakhbhai Nayak [Dhirajbhai Gorakhbhai Nayak v. State of Gujarat, (2003) 9 SCC 322 : 2003 SCC (Cri) 1809] , on applicability of Exception 4 to Section 300 IPC, it was observed and held in para 11 as under : (SCC pp. 327-28)

"11. The Fourth Exception of Section 300 IPC covers acts done in a sudden fight. The said Exception deals with a case of prosecution (sic provocation) not covered by the first exception, after which its place would have been more appropriate. The Exception is founded upon the same principle, for in both there is absence of premeditation. But, while in the case of Exception 1 there is total deprivation of self-control, in case of Exception 4, there is only that heat of passion which clouds men's sober reason and urges them to deeds which they would not otherwise do. There is provocation in Exception 4 as in Exception 1, but the injury done is not the direct consequence of that provocation. In fact, Exception 4 deals with cases in which notwithstanding that a blow may have been struck, or some provocation given in the origin of the dispute or in whatever way the quarrel may have originated, yet the subsequent conduct of both parties puts them in respect of guilt upon an equal footing. A "sudden fight" implies mutual provocation and blows on each side. The homicide committed is then clearly not traceable to unilateral provocation, nor could in such cases the whole blame be placed on one side. For if it were so, the Exception more appropriately applicable would be Exception 1. There is no previous deliberation or determination to fight. A fight suddenly takes place, for which both parties are more or less to be blamed. It may be that one of them starts it, but if the other had not aggravated it by his own conduct it would not have taken the serious turn it did. There is then mutual provocation and aggravation, and it is difficult to apportion the share of blame which attaches to each fighter. The help of Exception 4 can be invoked if death is caused : (a) without premeditation, (b) in a sudden fight, (c) without the offenders having taken undue advantage or acted in a cruel or unusual manner, and (d) the fight must have been with the person killed. To bring a case within Exception 4 all the ingredients mentioned in it must be found. It is to be noted that the "fight" occurring in Exception 4 to Section 300 IPC is not defined in IPC. It takes two to make a fight. Heat of passion requires that there must be no time for the passions to cool down and in this case, the parties had worked themselves into a fury on account of the verbal altercation in the beginning. A fight is a combat between two and more persons whether with or without weapons. It is not possible to enunciate any general rule as to what shall be deemed to be a sudden quarrel. It is a question of fact and whether a quarrel is sudden or not must necessarily depend upon the proved facts of each case. For the application of Exception 4, it is not sufficient to show that there was a sudden quarrel and there was no premeditation. It must further be shown that the offender has not taken undue advantage or acted in a cruel or unusual manner. The expression "undue advantage" as used in the provision means "unfair advantage"."

10. In Pulicherla Nagaraju [Pulicherla Nagaraju v. State of A.P., (2006) 11 SCC 444 : (2007) 1 SCC (Cri) 500] , this Court had an occasion to consider the case of culpable homicide not amounting to murder and the intention to cause death. It was observed and held by this Court that the intention to cause death can be gathered generally from a combination of a few or several of the following, among other, circumstances:

(i) nature of the weapon used;

(ii) whether the weapon was carried by the accused or was picked up from the spot;

(iii) whether the blow is aimed at a vital part of the body;

(iv) the amount of force employed in causing injury;

(v) whether the act was in the course of sudden quarrel or sudden fight or free-for-all fight;

(vi) whether the incident occurs by chance or whether there was any premeditation;

(vii) whether there was any prior enmity or whether the deceased was a stranger;

(viii) whether there was any grave and sudden provocation, and if so, the cause for such provocation;

(ix) whether it was in the heat of passion;

(x) whether the person inflicting the injury has taken undue advantage or has acted in a cruel and unusual manner;

(xi) whether the accused dealt a single blow or several blows."

30. Necessary ingredients to attract 4th Exception to section 300 IPC are clearly present in the facts of the present case inasmuch as death is caused; there existed no pre-meditation; it was a sudden fight; the offender has not taken undue advantage or acted in a cruel or unusual manner, therefore, the case in hand clearly falls under fourth exception to section 300 IPC. The accused appellants are accordingly sentenced to ten years imprisonment under Section 304 Part I IPC, by substituting the sentence of life imprisonment awarded to them under Section 302 IPC.

31. It is on record that the accused appellant Saleem @ Pappu was arrested and was on bail during trial and has also been granted bail by this Court on 12.10.1997, during pendency of appeal. Accused appellant Firoz was arrested on 12.10.1997 and he is in jail since then and by now he has already undergone incarceration of nearly 25 years.

Since the appellant Saleem @ Pappu is on bail, his sureties and bonds stand cancelled and he be taken into custody for serving his remaining sentence, and the appellant Firoz shall be released from Jail, forthwith, unless he is wanted in any other case, subject to compliance of Section 437A Cr.P.C. Fine imposed upon the accused appellants is maintained.

32. Both the appeals are thus partly allowed on above terms.

(2022) 9 ILRA 965
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 06.08.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE VIVEK KUMAR BIRLA, J.
HON'BLE VIKAS BUDHWAR, J.

Government Appeal No. 23 of 2019

State of U.P. ...Appellant
Versus
Balram Singh & Anr. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant:
G.A.

Counsel for the Respondents:

Criminal Law – Criminal Procedure Code, 1973 - Sections 154, 378 & 378(3) - Indian Penal Code,1860 - Sections 302, 323, 504 & 506 - Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes Prevention of Atrocities Act,1989 - Sections 3(2) & 5 - Arms Act, 1959- Section - 25 - Constitution of India, 1950 - Article 136 - Government Appeal – against order of Acquittal - offence of murder with fire arm injuries - FIR - recovery of rifle & cartridges - Post-mortem - site plane all are against accused - trial court acquitted all the accused - appeal - while analysing the case from four concerns it reflect that, not only unexplained delay in lodging FIR but also non presence of signature of first informant (PW1) in Punchnama, coupled with material contradiction in St.ments of PW1 & PW4, with the facts that ballistic report does not supports the story of persecution and why first informant (PW1) leaving the injured deceased from the place of incident at mercy of nature - shows that entire prosecution case is concocted and encompasses with weak evidence - acquittal by trial court is well reasoned which needs no interference - Leave to appeal rejected - consequently, Government.(Para - 39, 40, 43) Appeal stands dismissed.

Appeal dismissed. (E-11)

List of Cases cited:

1. Rajesh Prasad Vs St. of Bihar& anr., 2022 (3) SCC 471,

2. Apren Joseph @ Current Kunjukunju & ors. Vs The St. of Kerala, (1973) 3 SCC 114,

3. Tara Singh & ors. Vs St. of Pun. 1991 Supp (1) SCC 536

4. P. Rajagopal & ors. Vs St. of T. N. , (2019) 5 SCC 403

(Delivered by Hon'ble Vikas Budhwar, J.)

1. Challenge in this appeal u/s 378 of code of Criminal Procedure 1973 (hereinafter referred to as Cr.P.C.) is made to the judgment and order dated 29.08.2018 passed by Second Special Judge/Additional District and Sessions Judge, Hamirpur in Session Trial No. 128/1997 (State of U.P. Vs. Balram Singh and 2 others) u/s 302, 323, 504, 506 IPC read with section 3(2)5 SC/ST Act, P.S. Khanna, District Hamirpur in Case Crime No. 141/1997 as well as Session Trial No. 143/1997 (State of U.P. Vs. Khalbhaliya) in Case Crime No. 148/1997, u/s 25 Arms Act, P.S. Khanna, District Hamirpur acquitting the accused herein.

2. Brief facts of the case so unfolded by the prosecution are to the effect that the informant Dully Chand S/o Kamtu R/o

Village Akbai,Police Station Khanna, District Hamirpur claimed to be of Dhobi caste and according to the prosecution theory he along with his brother Moolchand, Shiv Narain, Chunna has proceeded towards the southern portion of the village near a pond for answering nature's call on fateful day i.e. 27.04.1997 at 5-6 in the evening and when they were crossing towards the outer portion of the pond then the accused who were three in number one of them being village Pradhan Balram Singh jointly obstructed movement of the aforesaid persons and directed the complainant fraction to do fishing work for them and when the complainant fraction exhibited their resistance then the accused fraction hurled abuses and threatened them that the complainant fraction will not be tolerated in the village and they will be ousted. Suddenly, when Mool Chand (since deceased) protested then the accused Balram Singh took out his rifle and the accused Khalbalia also took out single bore rifle and deceased Chuttan took out his double bore rifle and fired upon Mool Chand who fell down. It is further alleged that Shiv Charan tried to safe then with the rifle butt he was given a blow and he sustained injuries and thereafter the complainant fraction being Dully Chand, Shiv Narain and Chunna ran away from the site and went to their respective houses and after taking all necessary precautions regarding their life they stayed in their house in the night and they submitted a written report before the police station in the next morning.

3. Consequent to the submission of the written report, FIR was lodged in Police Station Khanna, Hamirpur on the next day i.e. 28.04.1997 at 08:30 am u/s 302, 323, 504, 506 IPC read with section 3(2)5 SC/ST Act. As per the prosecution, recovery was also sought to be made of the rifle which was made the basis of commission of crime and three numbers of cartridges were also found so a FIR u/s 25 Arms Act was also lodged.

4. After lodging of the FIR Investigating Officer was nominated and consequent to the death of Mool Chand Panchayatnama was prepared, body was sent for postmortem and the deposition of the prosecution witnesses were recorded and all the formalities which were required for conduction of the investigation was pressed into service.

5. As Mool Chand (since deceased) is stated to have subjected to fatal fire arm injuries so charge sheet was submitted in Case Crime No. 141/1997 u/s 302, 323, 504, 506 IPC read with section 3(2)5 SC/ST Act, P.S. Khana, Hamirpur and section 25 of the Arms Act in the subject Police Station in Case Crime No. 148/1997 (State of U.P. Vs. Khalbalia). During the pendency of the trial the accused Chuttan Singh expired and thus the present accused respondents were proceeded in the criminal case.

6. Case was committed to Sessions.

7. Charges were read over to the accused who are two in number they claimed to be tried while pleading innocence.

8. The prosecution in order to bring home the charges produced the following prosecution witnesses namely, (i) P.W. 1 Dully Chand, (ii) P.W. 2 Shiv Charan, (iii) P.W. 3 S. I. Atul Pradhan, (iv) P.W. 4 Chunna, (v) P.W. 5 Chakkan, (vi) P.W. 6 Dr. R.K. Khattar, (vii) P.W. 7 C. O. Ashok Kumar Verma, (viii) P.W. 8 S.H.O. Madhu

Sudan Singh, (ix) P.W. 9 H.C. Lala Ram, (x) P.W. 10 Pharmacist Pusawa Prajapati, (xi) P.W. 11 C.O. Ramyagya.

9. The defence also produced the following witnesses namely, (i) D.W. 1 Pharmacist Virendra Singh, (ii) D.W. 2 Lekhpal Bjagwat Prasad.

10. The learned trial court by virtue of the judgement and the order under challenge has acquitted the accused who are two in number. Challenging the said judgment and the order of acquittal now the State is before this Court in the present proceedings.

11. Before delving into the exercise so sought to be undertaken for determining as to whether the judgment and the order of acquittal has been proceeded in correct perspective or not this Court is to bear in mind that that the present proceedings emanates against the judgment and the order of acquittal so bestowing double presumption of innocence upon the accused. To put it otherwise this Court cannot venture into the judgment in a routine and cursory manner until and unless the circumstances are such which explicitly show that there has been palpable illegality committed by the learned trial court while recording perverse finding and misread the evidences on record. Without burdening the present judgment while reciting the mandate of the Hon'ble Apex Court as reduced in plethora of judgments this Court finds appropriate to refer to the recent judgments which itself is pregnant with the judgment which are on the same line right from inception.

12. Nevertheless in the Case of Rajesh Prasad Vs. State of Bihar And Another reported in 2022 (3) SCC 471 the Hon'ble Apex Court in following paragraphs have observed as under:-

"21. Before proceeding further, it would be useful to review the approach to be adopted while deciding an appeal against acquittal by the trial court as well as by the High Court. Section 378 of the Cr.P.C deals with appeals in case of acquittal. In one of the earliest cases on the powers of the High Court in dealing with an appeal against an order of acquittal the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in Sheo Swarup vs. R. Emperor, AIR 1934 PC 227(2) considered the provisions relating to the power of an appellate court in dealing with an appeal against an order of acquittal and observed as under:

"16. It cannot, however, be forgotten that in case of acquittal, there is a double presumption in favour of the accused. Firstly, the presumption of innocence is available to him under the fundamental principle of criminal jurisprudence that every person should be presumed to be innocent unless he is proved to be guilty by a competent court of law. Secondly, the accused having secured an acquittal, the presumption of his innocence is certainly not weakened but reinforced, reaffirmed and strengthened by the trial court.

But in exercising the power conferred by the Code and before reaching its conclusions upon fact, the High Court should and will always give proper weight and consideration to such matters as (1) the views of the trial Judge as to the credibility of the witnesses; (2) the presumption of innocence in favour of the accused, a presumption certainly not weakened by the fact that he has been acquitted at his trial; (3) the right of the accused to the benefit of any doubt; and (4) the slowness of an appellate court in disturbing a finding of fact arrived at by a judge who had the advantage of seeing the witnesses. To state this, however, is only to say that the High Court in its conduct of the appeal should and will act in accordance with rules and principles well known and recognised in the administration of justice."

It was stated that the appellate court has full powers to review and to reverse the acquittal.

22. In Atley vs. State of U.P., AIR 1955 SC 807, the approach of the appellate court while considering a judgment of acquittal was discussed and it was observed that unless the appellate court comes to the conclusion that the judgment of the acquittal was perverse, it could not set aside the same. To a similar effect are the following observations of this Court speaking through Subba Rao J., (as His Lordship then was) in Sanwat Singh vs. State of Rajasthan, AIR 1961 SC 715:

"9. The foregoing discussion yields the following results: (1) an appellate court has full power to review the evidence upon which the order of acquittal is founded; (2) the principles laid down in Sheo Swarup case afford a correct guide for the appellate court's approach to a case disposing of such an appeal; and (3) the different phraseology used in the judgments of this Court, such as, (i) "substantial and compelling reasons', (ii) "good and sufficiently cogent reasons', and (iii) "strong reasons' are not intended to curtail the undoubted power of an appellate court in an appeal against acquittal to review the entire evidence and to come to its own conclusion; but in doing so it should not only consider every matter on record having a bearing on the questions of fact and the reasons given by the court below in support of its order of acquittal in its arriving at a conclusion on those facts, but should also express those reasons in its judgment, which lead it to hold that the acquittal was not justified."

The need for the aforesaid observations arose on account of observations of the majority in Aher Raja Khimavs. State of Saurashtra, AIR 1956 SC 217 which stated that for the High Court to take a different view on the evidence "there must also be substantial and compelling reasons for holding that the trial court was wrong."

23. M.G. Agarwal vs. State of Maharashtra, AIR 1963 SC 200 is the judgment of the Constitution Bench of this Court, speaking through Gajendragadkar, J. (as His Lordship then was). This Court observed that the approach of the High Court (appellate court) in dealing with an appeal against acquittal ought to be cautious because the presumption of innocence in favour of the accused "is not certainly weakened by the fact that he has been acquitted at his trial."

24. In Shivaji Sahabrao Bobade vs. State of Maharashtra, (1973) 2 SCC 793, Krishna Iyer, J., observed as follows:

"In short, our jurisprudential enthusiasm for presumed innocence must be moderated by the pragmatic need to make criminal justice potent and realistic. A balance has to be struck between chasing chance possibilities as good enough to set the delinquent free and chopping the logic of preponderant probability to punish marginal innocents."

25. This Court in Ramesh Babulal Doshi vs. State of Gujarat, (1996) 9 SCC 225, spoke about the approach of the appellate court while considering an appeal against an order acquitting the accused and stated as follows:

"While sitting in judgment over an acquittal the appellate court is first required to seek an answer to the question whether the findings of the trial court are palpably wrong, manifestly erroneous or demonstrably unsustainable. If the appellate court answers the above question in the negative the order of acquittal is not to be disturbed. Conversely, if the appellate court holds, for reasons to be recorded, that the order of acquittal cannot at all be sustained in view of any of the above infirmities it can thenand then only reappraise the evidence to arrive at its own conclusions."

The object and the purpose of the aforesaid approach is to ensure that there is no miscarriage of justice. In another words, there should not be an acquittal of the guilty or a conviction of an innocent person.

26. In Ajit Savant Majagvai vs. State of Karnataka, (1997) 7 SCC 110, this Court set out the following principles that would regulate and govern the hearing of an appeal by the High Court against an order of acquittal passed by the Trial Court:

"16. This Court has thus explicitly and clearly laid down the principles which would govern and regulate the hearing of appeal by the High Court against an order of acquittal passed by the trial court. These principles have been set out in innumerable cases and may be reiterated as under:

(1) In an appeal against an order of acquittal, the High Court possesses all the powers, and nothing less than the powers it possesses while hearing an appeal against an order of conviction.

(2) The High Court has the power to reconsider the whole issue, reappraise the evidence and come to its own conclusion and findings in place of the findings recorded by the trial court, if the said findings are against the weight of the evidence on record, or in other words, perverse.

(3) Before reversing the finding of acquittal, the High Court has to consider each ground on which the order of acquittal was based and to record its own reasons for not accepting those grounds and not subscribing to the view expressed by the trial court that the accused is entitled to acquittal.

(4) In reversing the finding of acquittal, the High Court has to keep in view the fact that the presumption of innocence is still available in favour of the accused and the same stands fortified and strengthened by the order of acquittal passed in his favour by the trial court.

(5) If the High Court, on a fresh scrutiny and reappraisal of the evidence and other material on record, is of the opinion that there is another view which can be reasonably taken, then the view which favours the accused should be adopted.

(6) The High Court has also to keep in mind that the trial court had the advantage of looking at the demeanour of witnesses and observing their conduct in the Court especially in the witness box.

(7) The High Court has also to keep in mind that even at that stage, the accused was entitled to benefit of doubt. The doubt should be such as a reasonable person would honestly and conscientiously entertain as to the guilt of the accused."

27. This Court in Ramesh Babulal Doshi vs. State of Gujarat, (1996) 9 SCC 225 observed visàvis the powers of an appellate court while dealing with a judgment of acquittal, as under:

"7. ... While sitting in judgment over an acquittal the appellate court is first required to seek an answer to the question whether the findings of the trial court are palpably wrong, manifestly erroneous or demonstrably unsustainable. If the appellate court answers the above question in the negative the order of acquittal is not to be disturbed. Conversely, if the appellate court holds, for reasons to be recorded, that the order of acquittal cannot at all be sustained in view of any of the above infirmities it can then--and then only--reappraise the evidence to arrive at its own conclusions."

28. This Court in Chandrappa & Ors. vs. State of Karnataka, (2007) 4 SCC 415, highlighted that there is one significant difference in exercising power while hearing an appeal against acquittal by the appellate court. The appellate court would not interfere where the judgment impugned is based on evidence and the view taken was reasonable and plausible. This is because the appellate court will determine the fact that there is presumption in favour of the accused and the accused is entitled to get the benefit of doubt but if it decides to interfere it should assign reasons for differing with the decision of acquittal.

29. After referring to a catena of judgments, this Court culled out the following general principles regarding the powers of the appellate court while dealing with an appeal against an order of acquittal in the following words:

"42. From the above decisions, in our considered view, the following general principles regarding powers of the appellate court while dealing with an appeal against an order of acquittal emerge:

(1) An appellate court has full power to review, reappreciate and reconsider the evidence upon which the order of acquittal is founded.

(2) The Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 puts no limitation, restriction or condition on exercise of such power and an appellate court on the evidence before it may reach its own conclusion, both on questions of fact and of law.

(3) Various expressions, such as, "substantial and compelling reasons", "good and sufficient grounds", "very strong circumstances", "distorted conclusions", "glaring mistakes", etc. are not intended to curtail extensive powers of an appellate court in an appeal against acquittal. Such phraseologies are more in the nature of "flourishes of language" to emphasise the reluctance of an appellate court to interfere with acquittal than to curtail the power of the court to review the evidence and to come to its own conclusion.

(4) An appellate court, however, must bear in mind that in case of acquittal, there is double presumption in favour of the accused. Firstly, the presumption of innocence is available to him under the fundamental principle of criminal jurisprudence that every person shall be presumed to be innocent unless he is proved guilty by a competent court of law. Secondly, the accused having secured his acquittal, the presumption of his innocence is further reinforced, reaffirmed and strengthened by the trial court.

(5) If two reasonable conclusions are possible on the basis of the evidence on record, the appellate court should not disturb the finding of acquittal recorded by the trial court."

30. In Nepal Singh vs. State of Haryana- (2009) 12 SCC 351, this Court reversed the judgment of the High Court which had set aside the judgment of acquittal pronounced by the trial court and restored the judgment of the trial court acquitting the accused on reappreciation of the evidence.

31. The circumstances under which an appeal would be entertained by this Court from an order of acquittal passed by a High Court may be summarized as follows:

31.1. Ordinarily, this Court is cautious in interfering with an order of acquittal, especially when the order of acquittal has been confirmed upto the High Court. It is only in rarest of rare cases, where the High Court, on an absolutely wrong process of reasoning and a legally erroneous and perverse approach to the facts of the case, ignoring some of the most vital facts, has acquitted the accused, that the same may be reversed by this Court, exercising jurisdiction under Article 136 of the Constitution. [State of U.P. v. Sahai, AIR 1981 SC 1442] Such fetters on the right to entertain an appeal are prompted by the reluctance to expose a person, who has been acquitted by a competent court of a criminal charge, to the anxiety and tension of a further examination of the case, even though it is held by a superior court. [Arunachalam v. Sadhananthan, AIR 1979 (SC) 1284] An appeal cannot be entertained against an order of acquittal which has, after recording valid and weighty reasons, has arrived at an unassailable, logical conclusion which justifies acquittal. [State of Haryana v. Lakhbir Singh, (1990) CrLJ 2274 (SC)] B)

31.2. However, this Court has on certain occasions, set aside the order of acquittal passed by a High Court. The circumstances under which this Court may entertain an appeal against an order of acquittal and pass an order of conviction, may be summarised as follows:

31.2.1. Where the approach or reasoning of the High Court is perverse:

a) Where incontrovertible evidence has been rejected by the High Court based on suspicion and surmises, which are rather unrealistic. [State of Rajasthan v. Sukhpal Singh, AIR 1984 SC 207] For example, where direct, unanimous accounts of the eyewitnesses, were discounted without cogent reasoning; [State of UP v. Shanker, AIR 1981 SC 879]

b) Where the intrinsic merits of the testimony of relatives, living in the same house as the victim, were discounted on the ground that they were "interested' witnesses; [State of UP v. Hakim Singh, AIR 1980 SC 184]

c) Where testimony of witnesses had been disbelieved by the High Court, on an unrealistic conjecture of personal motive on the part of witnesses to implicate the accused, when in fact, the witnesses had no axe to grind in the said matter. [State of Rajasthan v. Sukhpal Singh, AIR 1984 SC 207]

d) Where dying declaration of the deceased victim was rejected by the High Court on an irrelevant ground that they did not explain the injury found on one of the persons present at the site of occurrence of the crime. [Arunachalam v. Sadhanantham, AIR 1979 SC 1284]

e) Where the High Court applied an unrealistic standard of "implicit proof' rather than that of "proof beyond reasonable doubt' and therefore evaluated the evidence in a flawed manner. [State of UP v. Ranjha Ram, AIR 1986 SC 1959]

f) Where the High Court rejected circumstantial evidence, based on an exaggerated and capricious theory, which were beyond the plea of the accused; [State of Maharashtra v. ChampalalPunjaji Shah, AIR 1981 SC 1675] or where acquittal rests merely in exaggerated devotion to the rule of benefit of doubt in favour of the accused. [Gurbachan v. Satpal Singh, AIR 1990 SC 209].

g) Where the High Court acquitted the accused on the ground that he had no adequate motive to commit the offence, although, in the said case, there was strong direct evidence establishing the guilt of the accused, thereby making it unnecessary on the part of the prosecution to establish "motive.' [State of AP v. Bogam Chandraiah, AIR 1986 SC 1899]

31.2.2. Where acquittal would result is gross miscarriage of justice:

a) Where the findings of the High Court, disconnecting the accused persons with the crime, were based on a perfunctory consideration of evidence, [State of UP v. Pheru Singh, AIR 1989 SC 1205] or based on extenuating circumstances which were purely based in imagination and fantasy. [State of Uttar Pradesh v. Pussu 1983 AIR 867 (SC)]

b) Where the accused had been acquitted on ground of delay in conducting trial, which delay was attributable not to the tardiness or indifference of the prosecuting agencies, but to the conduct of the accused himself; or where accused had been acquitted on ground of delay in conducting trial relating to an offence which is not of a trivial nature. [State of Maharashtra v. ChampalalPunjaji Shah, AIR 1981 SC 1675] [Source : Durga Das Basu - "The Criminal Procedure Code, 1973" Sixth Edition Vol.II Chapter XXIX]"

13. Keeping in mind the aforesaid aspects that the note of caution has been mandating now the present judgment is to analysed.

14. To start with the ocular testimony of the prosecution witness is to be taken not of.

15. P.W. 1 being the first informant Dully Chand entered as a prosecution witness and according to him he knows all the three accused, according to him on 27.04.1997 at 5-6 in the evening he along with the deceased Mool Chand, Chunna and Shiv Narain had gone to answer the nature's call and near the pond the accused were armed with rifles as discussed above and on controversy as regarding fishing coupled with the resistance, the accused were three in number with their respective rifles fired upon Mool Chand he fell down and when Shiv Narain tried to help Mool Chand then the accused with the aid of rifle butt hit him and Mool Chand died on the spot and the accused ran away. Though the incident of 5-6 in the evening on 27.04.1997 however, they were subjected to fear and their life was in peril so they came back to their house and stayed in the night and while concealing their identity they went to Echauli Station to catch the train and went to Mahodaya got the written report typed and after seeing the same they went to the police station and got the FIR lodged at 08:30 in the next i.e. 28.04.1997.

16. P.W. 2 Shiv Charan has appeared as prosecution witness he turned hostile, according to him though he knows accused Khalbalia but he never met the S.I. Atul Pradhan on 10.05.1997 in his presence no arrest was made and no recovery was also made.

17. P.W. 3 S.I. Atul Pradhan appeared as prosecution witness he claims himself to have conducted investigation consequent to the lodging of the FIR and according to him he prepared the site plan, sent the body for postmortem and also got prepared punchanama and recovery is being also sought to be shown which he states to have proved.

18. P.W. 4 Chunna deposed that he knows the accused and he has also narrated the incident which occurred on 5-6 in the evening of the fateful day when he had gone to answer the nature's call. Thus he supported the prosecution story.

19. P.W. 5 Chakkan in his statement has deposed that he knows the Khalbalia according to him, police has gone to the house of Khalbalia and recovery of one single bore and one double bore rifle was made from his house and according to Khalbalia single bore rifle belongs to accused Balrams's father. Thus he seeks to prove recovery.

20. P.W. 6 Dr. R.K. Khattar has proved postmortem according to him there were as many as six injuries and being one and two referable to temporal region three and four being injuries of the lungs, five and six are the injuries of the intestines.

21. P.W. 7 C.O. Ashok Kumar Verma, claims himself to be the Investigating Officer who had been entrusted with the investigation on 03.05.1997.

22. P.W. 8 S.H.O. Madhisudan Singh claims to be in the police station Khanna and he has tried to prove the FIR and all other aspects relating to recovery etc.

23. P.W. 9 H.C. Lala Ram has sought to prove the aspects relating to recovery of rifles as well as cartridges. As he claims to be the Moharrir in the police station.

24. P.W. 10 being Pharmacist Puswa Prajapati claims to be posted in the Community Health Center as Pharmacist from the period from 1990-2013 and claims that Dr. Virendra was posted in the Community Health Center.

25. P.W. 11 C.O. Ramyagya is seeking to prove the fact the he also conducted investigation in case crime no. 141/1997 and regarding preparation of site plan and other formalities etc.

26. So far as defence is concerned, they produced D.W. 1 Pharmacist Virendra Singh who tried to prove facts relating to medical aspects and D.W. 2 Lekhpal Bhagwat Prasad had sought to prove the issue relating to the fisheries auction of the pond in question.

27. Undisputedly, the incident occurred on 27.04.1997 at 5-6 pm wherein the first informant being Dully Chand along with Shiv Narian and Chunna had gone with the deceased for answering the nature's call wherein the accused who are three in number resorted to gun shot firing pursuant where to the deceased Mool Chand died and Shiv Narain sustained injuries by rifle butt. It has also come on record that the deceased died on the spot and the complainant fraction run away from the place of occurrence leaving the dead body over there which in fact was near/adjacent to the pond and the first informant and his associates went to their respective house and stayed over their the entire night and in the morning they claimed to have proceeded to Echaula Railway Station and they catch the train boarded at Mahoda Railway Station while coming up with stand that they caught the train at 6 in the morning of the next day reached Mahoda Railway Station at 07:15 am and from Mahoda they went to police station Khanna in a truck which they could able to board at 07:45 am and reach the police station at 08:30 am. According to the prosecution, the FIR was lodged at 08:30 am on 28.04.1997.

28. Though there has been a delay of more than 14 hours in lodging of FIR and a justification has been sought to be given by the prosecution that their life and liberty was under constant threat and that is why they were hiding their identity went to the police station next day for lodging of the FIR but the fact remains that explanation for delay in lodging of the FIR remains unexplained particularly in view of the fact that according to the prosecution the first informant and their associates went to their houses stayed in the night and left the body all alone near the pond the entire night without taking support of the resident villagers so as to even take any prompt action while lodging FIR and also doing any activity relatable to the fact that at least some body ought to have stayed in the place of occurrence to save the dead body from being exposed to wild animal and the onslaught of climate or to take body to their house. It is not a case wherein the deceased is a stranger, however, the deceased happens to be the real brother of the first informant who has witnessed the said incident.

29. Hon'ble Apex Court on the question of delay in lodging the FIR and its impact upon the prosecution theory has observed in the case of (1973) 3 SCC 114 Apren Joseph Alias Current Kunjukunju and others Vs. The State of Kerala wherein para 11 following was mandated:

"11. Now first information report is a report relating to the commission of an offence given to the police and recorded by it under Section 154, Cr. P. C. As observed by the Privy Council in K. E. v. Khwaja, the receipt and recording of information report by the police is not a condition precedent to the setting in motion of a criminal investigation. Nor does the statute provide that such information report can only be made by an eye witness. First information report under Section 154 is not even considered a substantive piece of evidence. It can only be used to corroborate or contradict the informant's evidence in court. But this information when recorded is the basis of the case set up by the informant. It is very useful if recorded before there is time and opportunity to embellish or before the informant's memory fades. Undue unreasonable delay in lodging the F. I. R., therefore, inevitably gives rise to suspicion which puts the court on guard to look for the possible motive and the explanation for the delay and consider its effect on the trustworthiness or otherwise of the prosecution version. In our opinion, no duration of time in the abstract can be fixed as reasonable for giving information of a crime to the police, the question of reasonable time being a matter for determination by the court in each case. Mere delay in lodging the first information report with the police is, therefore, not necessarily, as a matter of law, fatal to the prosecution. The effect of delay in doing so in the light of the plausibility of the explanation forthcoming for such delay accordingly must fall for consideration on all the facts and circumstances of a given case."

30. In the case of Tara Singh and others Vs. State of Punjab 1991 Supp (1) SCC 536, the Hon'ble Apex Court in paragraph 4 has observed as under:-

"4. It is well settled that the delay in giving the FIR by itself cannot be a ground to doubt the prosecution case. Knowing the Indian conditions as they are we cannot expect these villagers to rush to the police station immediately after the occurrence. Human nature as it is, the kith and kin who have witnessed the occurrence cannot be expected to act mechanically with all the promptitude in giving the report to the police. At times being grief-stricken because of the calamity it may not immediately occur to them that they should give a report. After all it is but natural in these circumstances for them to take some time to go to the police station for giving the report. Of course the Supreme Court as well as the High Courts have pointed out that in cases arising out of acute factions there is a tendency to implicate persons belonging to the opposite faction falsely. In order to avert the danger of convicting such innocent persons the courts are cautioned to scrutinise the evidence of such interested witnesses with greater care and caution and separate grain from the chaff after subjecting the evidence to a closer scrutiny and in doing so the contents of the FIR also will have to be scrutinised carefully. However, unless there are indications of fabrication, the court cannot reject the prosecution version as given in the FIR and later substantiated by the evidence merely on the ground of delay. These are all matters for appreciation and much depends on the facts and circumstances of each case."

31. Yet, in the case of P. Rajagopal and others Vs. State of Tamil Nadu (2019) 5 SCC 403, the Hon'ble Apex Court in paragraph 12 has held as under:-

"12. Normally, the Court may reject the case of the prosecution in case of inordinate delay in lodging the first information report because of the possibility of concoction of evidence by the prosecution. However, if the delay is satisfactorily explained, the Court will decide the matter on merits without giving much importance to such delay. The Court is duty-bound to determine whether the explanation afforded is plausible enough given the facts and circumstances of the case. The delay may be condoned if the complainant appears to be reliable and without any motive for implicating the accused falsely."

32. Keeping the issue of delay and its impact upon the prosecution case aside this Court has to also examine the fact as to why during the cross-examination the accused could not specify the name of the person who had typed his written complaint. According to the prosecution, first informant had gone to the police station with Shir Chand, Ram Swaroop, Shiv Narain and he got the FIR typed near a shop adjacent to Tehsil. The entire story so built up by the prosecution does not inspire any confidence as normally whenever deaths takes place in a close vicinity where at it becomes a normal routine for easing, a human being while answering the nature's call and that to in the presence of first informant along with two other persons then the said incident catches fire and everybody in a village comes to know about the same then obviously there cannot be a risk in not taking away the body to their respective house particularly when according to the prosecution the accused after committing crime ran away from the place of occurrence.

33. Another additional aspect of the matter needs to be further examined is the fact that P.W. 1 being Dully Chand had deposed that he was not present when the punchanama was being sought to be conducted. On the other hand P.W. 1 has further stated that he came with the police officials from police station Khanna then punchanama was done though he denies that when the punchanama was being reduced in writing he was not there. He has also shown his ignorance about the date of punchanama. The story was build up by the prosecution is also thoroughly unbelievable that in case the first informant was present when the incident of firing took place and his brother Mool Chand fell down after receiving gun shot injuries then it is quite implorable that the real brother will not leave the injured and run away without even taking him for medication particularly when the accused fraction is stated to have ran away. The non effecting of the signature of P.W. 1 in the punchanama itself shows that the entire prosecution case is under cloud.

34. Notably, as per the prosecution the firing was administered from the front and not from any side consequent there to the deceased fell down and Shiv Narain also sustained injuries through rifle butt however, so far as the first informant is concerned, he through was there for three to four minutes but he was not subjected to any injury. Even otherwise, once as per the prosecution the firing was made by the accused who are three in number then it is quite implorable that the first informant would not have sustained even a hair line injury also.

35. Nonetheless, one of the prime witness would have been Shiv Charan however, Shiv Charan who stated to have sustained injuries was not put to examination in witness box to which there is no explanation at all. So far as P.W. 4 Chunna is concerned he happens to be present when the alleged incident took place and he in his cross examination had seen the accused committing crime but in his cross examination he has come up with stand that when the deceased Mool Chand was administered gun shot injury he was in the southern part of the pond and according to him he had not seen where the deceased sustained gun shot injury. According to P.W. 4 Chunna after the said incident he had gone to his house and he remained there at till 4 O' clock after that he went to Bibawar. P.W. 4 in his cross examination has also stated that he does not go for easing himself in the night.

36. As a matter of fact P.W. 1 who happens to be the real brother of the deceased and P.W. 4 happens to be the cousin brother, however, there are vast contradictions and inconsistency in the statement of both the prosecution witnesses which itself shows that some what a story is being sought to be erected just in order to implicate the accused herein.

37. Nonetheless, so far as the recovery of the rifles and cartridges are concerned, P.W. 2 Shiv Charan has deposed that in his presence Khalbalia was not arrested nor he had given any statement in this regard and recovery of double bore and single bore rifles from Khalbalia is concerned the same has not been witnessed by him.

38. Even the ballistic report was also obtained according to which the cartridges which were sought to be shown to be used for commission of the crime was opined to not have have been loaded in the rifle in question, meaning thereby that from the rifle itself which is stated to be possessed by the accused and used by the accused for resorting to gun shot injury is not proved and rather the accused cannot be said to have committed the said offence.

39. Cumulatively, analysing the present case from four corners of law and irresistible conclusions stands drawn that not only there has been delay in lodging of FIR which remains thoroughly unsatisfactory and unexplained, non-presence of the signature of P.W. 1 Dully Chand first informant in the punchanama coupled with the material contradictions in the statement of the P.W. 1 and P.W. 4 coupled with the fact that the ballistic report does not support the prosecution and last but not the least the most important the conduct of the first informant in leaving the dead body of the deceased even after quiting of the accused from the place of occurrence without even taking any step for providing medication to the injured deceased and isolating the body of the deceased at the mercy of nature and staying in the house and non sustaining of a hairline injury shows that the entire prosecution case is a concocted one and encompasses with weak evidence so as to link the accused with respect to commission of crime.

40. Thus, we are of the considered opinion that the judgment of the learned trial court acquitting the accused is a well reasoned judgment considering each and every aspect of the matter lacking any perversity or miscarriage of any justice and also coupled with the fact that the view taken by the learned trial court is a possible and a plausible view which needs no interference while converting acquittal into conviction particularly in absence of any illegality shown to have committed by the court below.

41. We therefore, have no option but to concur the judgment of the learned trial court by affirming it.

42. Resultantly, no ground is made as to accord leave to appeal and accordingly, the same is rejected.

43. As the leave to file the present appeal stands rejected thus, the present appeal so instituted at the behest of the State-appellant u/s 378 (3) of the Cr.P.C. stands dismissed.

(2022) 9 ILRA 977
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE

DATED: ALLAHABAD 04.08.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE VIVEK KUMAR BIRLA, J.
THE HON'BLE VIKAS BUDHWAR, J.

Government Appeal No. 200 of 2020

State of U.P. ...Appellant
Versus
Gaya Singh & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant:
Govt. Advocate

Counsel for the Respondents:

Criminal Law – Criminal Procedure Code, 1973 - Sections – 161, 378 & 378(3) - Indian Penal Code,1860 - Sections - 34, 201 & 302 - Indian Evidence Act,1872 - Section 65-B (iv) - Government Appeal – against order of Acquittal – unnamed FIR - offence of murder - allegation that when accused was going to bed in the night, while receiving 2-3 mobile phone calls he stepped out from the house but did not returned, his dead body was found near a pond in next morning outside the village - accused were charged - no eye witness - entire prosecution theory hinges upon the receiving phone calls - call details was not supported by a certificate under section 65-B(iv) as it is mandatory - prosecution could not link the accused for committing crime - there is nothing on the record which complete the chain - investigation so conducted is not only defective but in a causal manner - trial court acquitted all the accused - Appeal - prosecution has completely failed to prove beyond doubt that accused were committed offence - held - leave to appeal rejected even though same is not a case worth granting leave to appeal - accordingly, application for granting leave to appeal rejected - the Appeal stands dismissed.(Para –33, 35, 39, 48, 51, 54, 56)

Appeal dismissed. (E-11)

List of Cases cited:

1. Rajesh Prasad Vs St. of Bihar & anr. (2022 (3) SCC 471),

2. Arjun Panditrao Khotkar Vs Kailash Kushanrao Gorantayal & ors. (2020 (7) SCC 1),

3. Ravinder Singh @ Kaku Vs St. of Punj. (Criminal Appeal No. 1307/2019),

4. Sharad Birdhichand Sarda Vs St. of Mah. (1984 (4) SCC 16),

5. Padala Veera Reddy Vs St. of A.P. (1989 (Suppl. 2) SCC 706),

6. C. Chenga Reddy & ors. Vs St. of A.P. (1996 (10) SCC 193),

7. St. of Raj. Vs Raja Ram (2003 (8) SCC 180),

8. Shailendra Rajdev Rasvan& ors. Vs St. of Guj. etc. (Criminal Appeal No. 333-334 of 2017),

9. Raj Kumar Singh @ Raju @ Batya Vs St. of Raj. (2013 (5) SCC 722).

(Delivered by Hon'ble Vikas Budhwar, J.)

1. Present government appeal, under Section 378(3) Code of Criminal Procedure (hereinafter referred to as "Cr.P.C.) has been preferred against the judgement and order dated 10.06.2020, passed by the Additional District and Sessions Judge, Court No.1, Gorakhpur in Session Trial No. 158 of 2012 (State of U.P. vs. Gaya Singh and others), arising out of Case Crime No. 163 of 2011, under Section 302/34,201 I.P.C, P.S. Sahjanwa, District Gorakhpur, whereby the accused, who are four in number, have been acquitted from the charges under Sections 302/34, 201 IPC.

2. Factual matrix of the case as worded in the present appeal are that the first informant Gulab S/o Suryabali-PW1 had submitted a written report before the Station House Officer, Police Station Sahjanwa, district Gorakhpur on 24.04.2011 with allegation that on 23.4.2011 his younger son Om Narayan after eating his meals and taking the bed cover and mattress had proceeded towards the roof of the house and thereafter, he received 2-3 calls on his mobile phone and he after receiving the mobile phone call came down from the roof and stepped out of the house. At that point of time, the family members who witnessed him going out asked him why he was proceeding from the house in question during the night then he assured that though he was going out from the house but he would returned back soon and despite the assurance so given to return back, he did not return back and at 5.30 a.m. on 24.04.2011, the dead body of deceased Om Narain was found in the eastern part of the pond in the village. After receiving the aforesaid information, the family members including the first informant proceeded towards the place whereat the dead body of Om Narain was found and they saw injuries being inflicted upon the body of the deceased and thus the family members took out the dead body from the pond. Prosecution further alleges that they proceeded to lodge an FIR against unknown persons, which was registered as case Crime No.163 of 2011, purported to be under section 302, 201 IPC.

3. One Pradeep Kumar Singh was nominated as Investigating Officer, he claims to have reached the place of occurrence and conducted the proceedings, which were to be adhered to, post lodging of first information report while preparing panchnama, sending the dead body for postmortem, preparation of site plan and recording of the statement, under sections 161 Cr.P.C.

4. It is come on record that the postmortem of the deceased was conducted on 24.04.2011 by Dr. J.K.Sinha who was posted in Community Health Centre, Sahjanwa, district Gorakhpur.

5. The Investigating Officer after conducting investigation, submitted the charge sheet against the accused herein under section 302/34, 201 IPC.

6. Case was committed to Session.

7. Charges were readover to the accused who are four in numbers, they pleaded innocence and claimed to be tried.

8. The trial court by virtue of judgment and order under challenge acquitted the accused.

9. Challenging the judgment and order of the acquittal now the State of U.P. is before this Court in the proceedings under section 378(3) of the Cr.P.C.

10. In support of prosecution case, PW-1- Gulab Kahar, PW-2-Shiv Narayan, PW-3 Meera Devi, PW-4-Jang Narayan, PW-5 Head Constable Rameshwar Prasad, PW-6 Sub Inspector Pradeep Kumar Singh, PW-7 Dr. J.K.Sinha, PW-8-Vindhyachal, PW-9, Ram Milan Singh and PW-10, Suraj Singh were produced got themselves examined before the Court below.

11. Besides occular testimony the prosecution also produced documentary evidence in order to bring home the charges which is being discussed little later.

12. This Court indeed is oblivious of the fact that the present proceedings is at the behest of the State against the judgment and order of acquittal thus it is confronted that certain limitations which have to be not only noticed but kept in mind while deciding the present case.

13. The Hon'ble Apex Court right from very inception has cautioned the Appellate Court while entertaining and adjudicating the appeal against conviction that it should not substitute its own views viz.-a-viz. the view taken by the learned Trial Court acquitting the accused in a routine and cursory manner until and unless the judgment of the acquittal proceeds in a wrong direction while being palpably perverse and there has been complete misreading of the evidence so as to occasion mis-carriage of justice to the partin.

14. Recently, the Hon'ble Apex Court has occasion to consider the limit in extending of power of the Appellate Court in dealing with the judgment of the acquittal in exercise of the jurisdiction, under section 378 of Cr.P.C. In the case of Rajesh Prasad Vs. State of Bihar and another, 2022 (3) SCC 471, the Hon'ble Apex Court in paragraph nos. 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29 to 31.2.2 are quoted as under:

"19. In the appeals filed by the accused and in the Death Reference No.13/2008, the High Court, on considering the submissions made on behalf of the accused as well as the State, noted at the outset as under:

"It is trite law that acquittal of a coaccused cannot simpliciter be a ground for acquittal of other accused. There may be factors distinguishing the two cases.

Alternately, an erroneous acquittal and absence of any challenge to the same cannot be a ground to demand similar treatment by others. Likewise, the testimony of an interested witness cannot be discarded on that ground alone. It would only require the Court to be more cautious and scrutinize the evidence carefully. Evidence, otherwise cogent and convincing cannot be rejected on the ground that there was no independent witness, though the occurrence had taken place on a busy road. But, there may be circumstances where the witnesses are interested and the manner of occurrence as described requires corroboration by independent witness also. Ultimately, therefore, it shall all depend on the facts and circumstances of the case. It has also to be kept in mind that it shall be those close to the deceased, who shall be most keen that the real culprits be booked."

20. With the aforesaid observations, the High Court set aside the judgment of conviction of the accused who were convicted by the FastTrack Court as well as sentence imposed upon them and accordingly, allowed the appeals by acquitting all the accused.

21. Before proceeding further, it would be useful to review the approach to be adopted while deciding an appeal against acquittal by the trial court as well as by the High Court. Section 378 of the Cr.P.C deals with appeals in case of acquittal. In one of the earliest cases on the powers of the High Court in dealing with an appeal against an order of acquittal the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in Sheo Swarup vs. R. Emperor, AIR 1934 PC 227(2) considered the provisions relating to the power of an appellate court in dealing with an appeal against an order of acquittal and observed as under:

"16. It cannot, however, be forgotten that in case of acquittal, there is a double presumption in favour of the accused. Firstly, the presumption of innocence is available to him under the fundamental principle of criminal jurisprudence that every person should be presumed to be innocent unless he is proved to be guilty by a competent court of law. Secondly, the accused having secured an acquittal, the presumption of his innocence is certainly not weakened but reinforced, reaffirmed and strengthened by the trial court.

"....But in exercising the power conferred by the Code and before reaching its conclusions upon fact, the High Court should and will always give proper weight and consideration to such matters as (1) the views of the trial Judge as to the credibility of the witnesses; (2) the presumption of innocence in favour of the accused, a presumption certainly not weakened by the fact that he has been acquitted at his trial; (3) the right of the accused to the benefit of any doubt; and (4) the slowness of an appellate court in disturbing a finding of fact arrived at by a judge who had the advantage of seeing the witnesses. To state this,however, is only to say that the High Court in its conduct of the appeal should and will act in accordance with rules and principles well known and recognised in the administration of justice."

It was stated that the appellate court has full powers to review and to reverse the acquittal.

22. In Atley vs. State of U.P., AIR 1955 SC 807, the approach of the appellate court while considering a judgment of acquittal was discussed and it was observed that unless the appellate court comes to the conclusion that the judgment of the acquittal was perverse, it could not set aside the same. To a similar effect are the following observations of this Court speaking through Subba Rao J., (as His Lordship then was) in Sanwat Singh vs. State of Rajasthan, AIR 1961 SC 715:

"9. The foregoing discussion yields the following results: (1) an appellate court has full power to review the evidence upon which the order of acquittal is founded; (2) the principles laid down in Sheo Swarup case afford a correct guide for the appellate court's approach to a case disposing of such an appeal; and (3) the different phraseology used in the judgments of this Court, such as, (i) "substantial and compelling reasons', (ii) "good and sufficiently cogent reasons', and (iii) "strong reasons' are not intended to curtail the undoubted power of an appellate court in an appeal against acquittal to review the entire evidence and to come to its own conclusion; but in doing so it should not only consider every matter on record having a bearing on the questions of fact and the reasons given by the court below in support of its order of acquittal in its arriving at a conclusion on those facts, but should also express those reasons in its judgment, which lead it to hold that the acquittal was not justified."

The need for the aforesaid observations arose on account of observations of the majority in Aher Raja Khimavs. State of Saurashtra, AIR 1956 SC 217 which stated that for the High Court to take a different view on the evidence "there must also be substantial and compelling reasons for holding that the trial court was wrong."

23. M.G. Agarwal vs. State of Maharashtra, AIR 1963 SC

200 is the judgment of the Constitution Bench of this Court, speaking through Gajendragadkar, J. (as His Lordship then was). This Court observed that the approach of the High Court (appellate court) in dealing with an appeal against acquittal ought to be cautious because the presumption of innocence in favour of the accused "is not certainly weakened by the fact that he has been acquitted at his trial."

24. In Shivaji Sahabrao Bobade vs. State of Maharashtra,

Krishna Iyer, J., observed as follows: (SCC p.799, para 6)

"6. .....In short, our jurisprudential enthusiasm for presumed innocence must be moderated by the pragmatic need to make criminal justice potent and realistic. A balance has to be struck between chasing chance possibilities as good enough to set the delinquent free and chopping the logic of preponderant probability to punish marginal innocents."

25. This Court in Ramesh Babulal Doshi vs. State of Gujarat, (1996) 9 SCC 225, spoke about the approach of the appellate court while considering an appeal against an order acquitting the accused and stated as follows: (SCC p.229, para 7)

"7....While sitting in judgment over an acquittal the appellate court is first required to seek an answer to the question whether the findings of the trial court are palpably wrong, manifestly erroneous or demonstrably unsustainable. If the appellate court answers the above question in the negative the order of acquittal is not to be disturbed. Conversely, if the appellate court holds, for reasons to be recorded, that the order of acquittal cannot at all be sustained in view of any of the above infirmities it can thenand then only reappraise the evidence to arrive at its own conclusions."

The object and the purpose of the aforesaid approach is to ensure that there is no miscarriage of justice. In another words, there should not be an acquittal of the guilty or a conviction of an innocent person.

26. In Ajit Savant Majagvai vs. State of Karnataka, (1997) 7 SCC 110, this Court set out the following principles that would regulate and govern the hearing of an appeal by the High Court against an order of acquittal passed by the Trial Court:(SCC pp.116017, para 16)

"16. This Court has thus explicitly and clearly laid down the principles which would govern and regulate the hearing of appeal by the High Court against an order of acquittal passed by the trial court. These principles have been set out in innumerable cases and may be reiterated as under:

(1) In an appeal against an order of acquittal, the High Court possesses all the powers, and nothing less than the powers it possesses while hearing an appeal against an order of conviction.

(2) The High Court has the power to reconsider the whole issue, reappraise the evidence and come to its own conclusion and findings in place of the findings recorded by the trial court, if the said findings are against the weight of the evidence on record, or in other words, perverse.

(3) Before reversing the finding of acquittal, the High Court has to consider each ground on which the order of acquittal was based and to record its own reasons for not accepting those grounds and not subscribing to the view expressed by the trial court that the accused is entitled to acquittal.

(4) In reversing the finding of acquittal, the High Court has to keep in view the fact that the presumption of innocence is still available in favour of the accused and the same stands fortified and strengthened by the order of acquittal passed in his favour by the trial court.

(5) If the High Court, on a fresh scrutiny and reappraisal of the evidence and other material on record, is of the opinion that there is another view which can be reasonably taken, then the view which favours the accused should be adopted.

(6) The High Court has also to keep in mind that the trial court had the advantage of looking at the demeanour of witnesses and observing their conduct in the Court especially in the witness-box.

(7) The High Court has also to keep in mind that even at that stage, the accused was entitled to benefit of doubt. The doubt should be such as a reasonable person would honestly and conscientiously entertain as to the guilt of the accused."

27. This Court in Ramesh Babulal Doshi vs. State of Gujarat, (1996) 9 SCC 225 observed visàvis the powers of an appellate court while dealing with a judgment of acquittal, as under:

"7. ... While sitting in judgment over an acquittal the appellate court is first required to seek an answer to the question whether the findings of the trial court are palpably wrong, manifestly erroneous or demonstrably unsustainable. If the appellate court answers the above question in the negative the order of acquittal is not to be disturbed. Conversely, if the appellate court holds, for reasons to be recorded, that the order of acquittal cannot at all be sustained in view of any of the above infirmities it can then--and then only--reappraise the evidence to arrive at its own conclusions."

28. This Court in Chandrappa & Ors. vs. State of Karnataka, (2007) 4 SCC 415, highlighted that there is one significant difference in exercising power while hearing an appeal against acquittal by the appellate court. The appellate court would not interfere where the judgment impugned is based on evidence and the view taken was reasonable and plausible.

This is because the appellate court will determine the fact that there is presumption in favour of the accused and the accused is entitled to get the benefit of doubt but if it decides to interfere it should assign reasons for differing with the decision of acquittal.

29. After referring to a catena of judgments, this Court culled out the following general principles regarding the powers of the appellate court while dealing with an appeal against an order of acquittal in the following words:

"42. From the above decisions, in our considered view, the following general principles regarding powers of the appellate court while dealing with an appeal against an order of acquittal emerge:

(1) An appellate court has full power to review, reappreciate and reconsider the evidence upon which the order of acquittal is founded.

(2) The Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 puts no limitation, restriction or condition on exercise of such power and an appellate court on the evidence before it may reach its own conclusion, both on questions of fact and of law.

(3) Various expressions, such as, "substantial and compelling reasons", "good and sufficient grounds", "very strong circumstances", "distorted conclusions", "glaring mistakes", etc. are not intended to curtail extensive powers of an appellate court in an appeal against acquittal. Such phraseologies are more in the nature of "flourishes of language" to emphasise the reluctance of an appellate court to interfere with acquittal than to curtail the power of the court to review the evidence and to come to its own conclusion.

(4) An appellate court, however, must bear in mind that in case of acquittal, there is double presumption in favour of the accused. Firstly, the presumption of innocence is available to him under the fundamental principle of criminal jurisprudence that every person shall be presumed to be innocent unless he is proved guilty by a competent court of law. Secondly, the accused having secured his acquittal, the presumption of his innocence is further reinforced, reaffirmed and strengthened by the trial court.

(5) If two reasonable conclusions are possible on the basis of the evidence on record, the appellate court should not disturb the finding of acquittal recorded by the trial court."

30. In Nepal Singh vs. State of Haryana- (2009) 12 SCC

351, this Court reversed the judgment of the High Court which had set aside the judgment of acquittal pronounced by the trial court and restored the judgment of the trial court acquitting the accused on reappreciation of the evidence.

31. The circumstances under which an appeal would be entertained by this Court from an order of acquittal passed by a High Court may be summarized as follows:

31.1. Ordinarily, this Court is cautious in interfering with an order of acquittal, especially when the order of acquittal has been confirmed upto the High Court. It is only in rarest of rare cases, where the High Court, on an absolutely wrong process of reasoning and a legally erroneous and perverse approach to the facts of the case, ignoring some of the most vital facts, has acquitted the accused, that the same may be reversed by this Court, exercising jurisdiction under Article 136 of the Constitution. [State of U.P. v. Sahai, AIR 1981 SC 1442] Such fetters on the right to entertain an appeal are prompted by the reluctance to expose a person, who has been acquitted by a competent court of a criminal charge, to the anxiety and tension of a further examination of the case, even though it is held by a superior court. [Arunachalam v. Sadhananthan, AIR 1979 (SC) 1284] An appeal cannot be entertained against an order of acquittal which has, after recording valid and weighty reasons, has arrived at an unassailable, logical conclusion which justifies acquittal. [State of Haryana v. Lakhbir Singh, (1990) CrLJ 2274 (SC)]

31.2. However, this Court has on certain occasions, set aside the order of acquittal passed by a High Court. The circumstances under which this Court may entertain an appeal against an order of acquittal and pass an order of conviction, may be summarised as follows:

31.2.1. Where the approach or reasoning of the High Court is perverse:

a) Where incontrovertible evidence has beenrejected by the High Court based on suspicion and surmises, which are rather unrealistic. [State of Rajasthan v. Sukhpal Singh, AIR 1984 SC 207] For example, where direct, unanimous accounts of the eyewitnesses, were discounted without cogent reasoning; [State of UP v. Shanker, AIR

1981 SC 879]

b) Where the intrinsic merits of the testimony of relatives, living in the same house as the victim, were discounted on the ground that they were "interested' witnesses; [State of UP v. Hakim Singh, AIR 1980 SC 184]

c) Where testimony of witnesses had been disbelieved by the High Court, on an unrealistic conjecture of personal motive on the part of witnesses to implicate the accused, when in fact, the witnesses had no axe to grind in the said

matter. [State of Rajasthan v. Sukhpal Singh, AIR 1984 SC 207]

d) Where dying declaration of the deceased victim was rejected by the High Court on an irrelevant ground that they did not explain the injury found on one of the persons present at the site of occurrence of the crime. [Arunachalam v.Sadhanantham, AIR 1979 SC 1284]

e) Where the High Court applied an unrealistic standard of "implicit proof' rather than that of "proof beyond reasonable doubt' and therefore evaluated the evidence in a flawed manner.[State of UP v. Ranjha Ram, AIR 1986 SC 1959]

f) Where the High Court rejected circumstantial evidence, based on an exaggerated and capricious theory, which were beyond the plea of the accused; [State of Maharashtra v. ChampalalPunjaji Shah, AIR 1981 SC 1675] or where acquittal rests merely in exaggerated devotion to the rule of benefit of doubt in favour of the accused. [Gurbachan v. Satpal Singh, AIR 1990 SC 209].

g) Where the High Court acquitted the accused on the ground that he had no adequate motive to commit the offence, although, in the said case,there was strong direct evidence establishing the guilt of the accused, thereby making it unnecessary on the part of the prosecution to establish "motive.' [State of AP v. Bogam Chandraiah, AIR 1986 SC 1899]

31.2.2. Where acquittal would result is gross miscarriage of justice:

a) Where the findings of the High Court, disconnecting the accused persons with the crime, were based on a perfunctory consideration of evidence, [State of UP v. Pheru Singh, AIR 1989 SC 1205] or based on extenuating circumstances which were purely based in imagination and fantasy. [State of Uttar Pradesh v. Pussu 1983 AIR 867 (SC)]

b) Where the accused had been acquitted on ground of delay in conducting trial, which delay was attributable not to the tardiness or indifference of the prosecuting agencies, but to the conduct of the accused himself; or where accused had been acquitted on ground of delay in conducting trial relating to an offence which is not of a trivial nature. [State of Maharashtra v. ChampalalPunjaji Shah, AIR 1981 SC 1675]"

15. Bearing in mind the principle of law so culled out by the Hon'ble Apex Court now the present case is to be addressed.

16. To begun with ocular testimony of the prosecution witness is to be first scanned.

17. One Gulab Kahar son of Surya Bali (PW-1) got his statement recorded as prosecution witness being the father of the deceased though according to him he has not witnessed the commission of offence, however, according to him, he is the first informant who was present in his house when on 23.4.2021, the deceased after eating his meal had proceeded to the roof of the house in question with bed sheet so as to relax for the next day. According to him the deceased is stated to have received two phone calls and he came down from the roof and when he was proceeding to some place while stepping out from the house and when he was asked as to why in the late hours he was moving from the house then he assured that he was going for some work and he will return back soon but he did not return and the dead body was found on the next day in the morning at 5.30 A.M.on 24.4.2011 and then he along with his family members proceeded to the place of incident near a pond towards eastern section and witnessed the dead body of the deceased.

18. One Shiv Narayan came to the witness box as PW-2, and according to him, the incident occurred in the intervening night of 23/24.04.2011 when his brother (since deceased) after eating meal had gone to roof to sleep and in the meantime, a phone call came on the mobile of the deceased which was received by PW-3 Meera Devi and the caller itself apprised that he wanted to talk with the deceased, however, in the meantime the call dropped and after some time another call came which was received by the deceased and talking on mobile he proceeded from the house and the PW-1 being the father of the deceased when enquired as to where the deceased were going then he did not disclose the place where he was going but assured that he will come back soon and when he did not come back and on the next day, the body of the deceased was found in the pond, half of the body was submerged in the water and according to him his brother's blood was found near the elevated portion of the pond and according to him, his brother's body had been thrown away in the pond and the body of the deceased marked presence of injury. In his deposition, he further stated that at 12 noon on 24.4.2011 he came to know that his brother was disposed of due to election rivalry by the accused herein and they had thrown away the body in the pond and according to him he had given the said statement to the police.

19. PW-3 Meera Devi who happens to be the wife of the elder brother of the deceased being PW-2 Shiv Narayan has also got recorded her statement and according to her statement, the deceased Tilak ceremony was to be conducted on 28.04.2011 and the date of the marriage was 11.05.2011, however, in the intervening night of 23/24.4.2011, the deceased after eating the meals had proceeded to the roof in order to sleep and the mobile of the deceased was in charging mode and at 8 P.M. in the night, a call came which was picked up by PW-3 and the caller apprised the receiver it that it was in urgent, as he wanted to talk to the deceased and she recognized the voice to be of the accused respondent no.1 Gaya Singh who happens to be of the same village. She thereafter apprised him and advised the caller to again call and thereafter, the deceased came to her room from the roof and the deceased took the mobile and went to the roof by the time the second call came and the deceased while talking with the caller came down from the roof and when he was about to proceed while stepping out from the house then PW-1 asked where he were going then the deceased apprised that he will come back soon as he was going for some work. According to PW- 3 on the next date i.e. 24.04.2011 at 6 a.m. in the morning they received information that the dead body of the deceased was found near a pond.

20. PW-3 Meera Devi has further made a deposition that the deceased has been done away on account of the election rivalry emanating from the election of the Gram Pradhan as he had canvassed and supported the other party being of Satya Prakash Singh which become the basis of murder. However, according to her statement, she had not seen the commission of the crime, however, when she had proceeded in the morning towards the place whereat the dead body of the deceased was found then accused was present therein and the accused had admitted the fact that they had murdered the deceased. She has further deposed that she had given the said statement under section 161 Cr.P.C. regarding the admission and presence of accused on the place of occurrence.

21. One PW-4, Jai Narayan had also got recorded his statement and he claims to be the younger brother of the deceased and he has supported the prosecution story alleging that the deceased after eating the meal had gone on the roof for sleeping and his room is just near the room of Shiv Narayan and Shiv Narayan's wife had received the calls, which were put in charging mode. According to him PW-3 picked up the call at 8 p.m. and the basis for commission of crime is the election rivalry.

22. PW-5 claims to be Head Constable Rameshwar Prasad who has proved lodging the first information report on 24.4.2011 at 7.30.

23. PW-6 is the Investigating Officer, who claims to have prepared Panchnama, site plan and also took samples of blood stained, earth and plain earth and preparation of site plan referable to recovery etc.

24. PW-7 is Dr. J.K. Singh who has proved the postmortem as according to him, he had prepared the post mortem report.

25. PW-8 Vindhyachal has proved the recovery of blood stained plain earth and preparation of Fard.

26. PW- 9 Ram Milan Singh claims to be present and witness the process of taking the blood stained and plain earth.

27. PW-10 Suraj Singh claims to be the resident of the same village and proved Panchnama.

28. We have heard Shri Yogesh Rai, State Law Officer in support of the appeal and perused the record.

29. Shri Yogesh Rai had submitted that the judgment and order of the acquittal is perverse and a classic example of misreading of the evidence as the accused have committed the offence particularly in view of the fact that PW-3 Meera Devi had recognized the voice of the accused Gaya Singh and further last call on the mobile of the deceased was of accused Gaya Singh, which proved beyond doubt that on the insistence of the accused, deceased proceeded from the house and did not return, however dead body was found on the next day. According to Shri Yogesh Rai, State Law Officer, accused was present when the body was recovered and he admitted that he had murdered the deceased. Further submission has been made to the extent that not only motive was present but all the factors pointed out towards the accused with respect to commission of crime.

30. Undisputedly the present case is not of an eye witness testimony as no body has seen the commission of crime, rather to the contrary the same is of circumstantial evidence.

31. As per the prosecution version the deceased in the intervening night of 23/24.04.2011 had gone from his house after receiving a call in his mobile phone and at that point of time, PW-1, PW-2, PW-3 and PW-4 are stated to be present in the house. First call is said to have been received by the wife of PW-2 being PW-3 and the second call itself by the deceased at 8 p.m. on 23.11.2011, whereat in the first call it was uttered by the caller to the PW-3 Meera Devi that the accused Gaya Singh had something urgent to talk, however, PW-3 apprised him to call again as the deceased was not in front of her, and thereafter, the deceased is stated to have come and he took the mobile phone and also received the call and after talking on mobile phone, he proceeded out of his house assuring that he will come back and he did not come back but on the next day his dead body was found.

32. The entire prosecution theory thus hinges upon the receiving of the call firstly by the PW-3 and secondly by the deceased and proceeding of the deceased from the house. Hence the entire basis for commission of crime and linking the accused is the phone call.

33. In the present case, PW-1, PW-2 and PW-4 have not named accused Gaya Singh as an accused for commission of crime while calling the deceased on mobile phone. However, it is PW-3 Meera Devi who in her cross-examination has stated that she could recognize and identify the voice of Gaya Singh when she received the first call while showing urgency in talking with the deceased. PW-3 Meera Devi in her cross-examination has come up with stand that she had never seen the accused Gaya Singh and as he has no point of time come to her place and he never talked with her. The said contradiction and inconsistency of PW-3, Meera Devi assumes significance as once a person who has not meet or interacted with a person that to being a stranger then by all probabilities it is not humanly possible to identify the voice of the caller by the receiver as such the testimony of PW-3 Meera Devi linking the accused Gaya Singh is highly unreliable. More over PW-3, Meera Devi made a deposition that she had narrated the entire fact including recognizing the voice of accused Gaya Singh to PW-6, Inspector Pradeep Kumar being the Investigating Officer, however, he had denied the same. Truthfulness of the testimony of the PW-3, Meera Devi also stands belied from the fact that she had not apprised the fact of recognizing the voice of the accused Gaya Singh either to her husband's or to husband younger brother or to informant who happens to be father-in-law. This Court further finds that the testimony of PW-3, Meera Devi cannot be referred to or relied upon to support the prosecution case as her testimony does not even remotely inspire confidence.

34. Apart from the same another question arises with regard to the fact that first informant report in question was lodged against unknown person particularly when the date and time of lodging of the first information report is 24.04.2011 at 7.30 p.m. Prosecution has further alleged that the dead body of the deceased was recovered on 24.04.2011 at 5.30 in the evening. PW-3, Meera Devi as discussed above, is stated to have recognized the voice of the accused Gaya Singh and once she is possessing the knowledge about receiving of the call by Gaya Singh and it is on his request/direction the accused Gaya Singh, the deceased proceeded from the house and did not return then in these circumstances by all eventualities, the name of the accused Gaya Singh ought to have been marked as accused in the F.I.R. So much so, it is the PW-3, Meera Devi who in her statement has further come up with the stand that the accused were present in the place of occurrence where the dead body was recovered and the accused have made the statement, being a confession that they had committed the crime then obviously the name of the accused ought to have been mentioned in the first information report as the twin factors stood available with PW-3 firstly she recognized the voice of the accused Gaya Singh and secondly the presence of the accused in the place of occurrence which is a big factor for marking the accused in the FIR.

35. Another facet of the matter which needs to be considered at the stage is the fact as to whether the deceased actually received the phone call from accused Gaya Singh as receiving of the calls which are two in number firstly by PW-3 Meera Devi and secondly by the deceased had been made the basis of crime. Thus the call details (CDR) is the important device in order to determine and link the accused in respect of commission of crime. It has come on record that Mobile No.9792548711 is of the deceased as whereas Mobile No.9919050074 is of the accused Gaya Singh. The learned trial court has taken pains to go into the said aspect of the matter and as amongst other factors held that the certificate so required under section 65-B (iv) of Evidence Act, 1872, which is mandatory has not been either obtained or produced.

36. Even in fact PW-1 being the first informant and the father of the deceased deposed has stated in his deposition that he does not know the mobile number of his deceased son and PW-2 being elder brother of the deceased has deposed that he is not aware as to whether deceased possessed any mobile phone or not. PW-6, Pradeep Kumar Singh, the Investigating Officer has made statement that on 9.5.2011 as per Parcha No.9 he has put the mobile phone on the deceased on surveillance and on 18.05.2011 he was in receipt of the CDR and according to him on 23.4.2011 at 20.47 hours, 21.02 hours phone cell was made on the mobile phone of the deceased from mobile no.9919050074 and thereafter the said phone got switched off. According to PW-6, the mobile no.9919050074 is owned by Gaya Singh S/o Raja Ram, resident of village Kodri, Police Station Sahjanwa, District Gorakhpur.

37. PW-6 Pradeep Kumar Singh, the Investigating Officer in his cross-examination deposed that he had not gathered any information while conducting investigation in coming to the conclusion as to whether the accused Gaya Singh was the owner or possessed the mobile phone or not and he did not make any enquiry with the accused. Even according to PW-6, he has not got recovered the handset and the SIM from which telephonic conversation was made to the deceased so as to link the accused herein. PW-6 has also deposed that he has not conducted any investigation to find out the ownership of IMIE and so much so he had not taken steps to recover the handset.

38. Notably the trial court has analysed the said issue and after perusing the evidences so adduced has recorded categorical finding that there exists no evidence so as to link the accused with the mobile phone and the SIM Card in this regard. So much so no interrogation was made with the accused regard to determination of the fact as to whether the phone belongs to accused Gaya Singh.

39. No doubt defective investigation cannot be the sole basis for demolition of the prosecution theory but the same is also one of the ground amongst others for determining the fact as to whether the prosecution had proved the case beyond doubt. As observed earlier PW-3, Meera Devi claims to have recognized the accused Gaya Singh while listening to her voice despite the fact that she had never met him and he is not her relative meaning thereby that the entire prosecution case hinges upon recovery of mobile call which is stated to be made the accused Gaya Singh. More so, this Court finds that the call details (CDR) cannot be pressed into service without certification so required under section 65-B (iv) of the Evidence Act.

40. Even in fact, the law in this regard is well settled that a certificate under Section 65-B (4) of the Evidence Act is necessary as in absence of the same, the call details cannot be said to be proved. The said aspect of the matter has already been taken note by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Arjun Panditrao Khotkar Vs. Kailash Kushanrao Gorantyal and others, (2020) 7 SCC 1, which is observed in paragraphs no. 47, 51, 52 and 61 as under:-

"47. However, caveat must be entered here. The facts of the present case show that despite all efforts made by the respondents, both through the High Court and otherwise, to get the requisite certificate under Section 65-B(4) of the Evidence Act from the authorities concerned, yet the authorities concerned wilfully refused, on some pretext or the other, to give such certificate. In a fact-circumstance where the requisite certificate has been applied for from the person or the authority concerned, and the person or authority either refuses to give such certificate, or does not reply to such demand, the party asking for such certificate can apply to the court for its production under the provisions aforementioned of the Evidence Act, CPC or CrPC. Once such application is made to the court, and the court then orders or directs that the requisite certificate be produced by a person to whom it sends a summons to produce such certificate, the party asking for the certificate has done all that he can possibly do to obtain the requisite certificate. Two Latin maxims become important at this stage. The first is lex non cogit ad impossibilia i.e. the law does not demand the impossible, and impotentia excusat legem i.e. when there is a disability that makes it impossible to obey the law, the alleged disobedience of the law is excused. This was well put by this Court in Presidential Poll, In re, (1974) 2 SCC 33, as follows: (SCC pp. 49-50, paras 14-15)

"14. If the completion of election before the expiration of the term is not possible because of the death of the prospective candidate it is apparent that the election has commenced before the expiration of the term but completion before the expiration of the term is rendered impossible by an act beyond the control of human agency. The necessity for completing the election before the expiration of the term is enjoined by the Constitution in public and State interest to see that the governance of the country is not paralysed by non-compliance with the provision that there shall be a President of India.

15. The impossibility of the completion of the election to fill the vacancy in the office of the President before the expiration of the term of office in the case of death of a candidate as may appear from Section 7 of the 1952 Act does not rob Article 62(1) of its mandatory character. The maxim of law impotentia excusat legem is intimately connected with another maxim of law lex non cogit ad impossibilia. Impotentia excusat legem is that when there is a necessary or invincible disability to perform the mandatory part of the law that impotentia excuses. The law does not compel one to do that which one cannot possibly perform. 'Where the law creates a duty or charge, and the party is disabled to perform it, without any default in him, and has no remedy over it, there the law will in general excuse him.' Therefore, when it appears that the performance of the formalities prescribed by a statute has been rendered impossible by circumstances over which the persons interested had no control, like the act of God, the circumstances will be taken as a valid excuse. Where the act of God prevents the compliance with the words of a statute, the statutory provision is not denuded of its mandatory character because of supervening impossibility caused by the act of God. (See Broom's Legal Maxims, 10th Edn. at pp. 162-63 and Craies on Statute Law, 6th Edn. at p. 268.)"

It is important to note that the provision in question in Presidential Poll, In re24 was also mandatory, which could not be satisfied owing to an act of God, in the facts of that case.

.....

51. On an application of the aforesaid maxims to the present case, it a is clear that though Section 65-B(4) is mandatory, yet, on the facts of this case, the respondents, having done everything possible to obtain the necessary certificate, which was to be given by a third party over whom the respondents had no control, must be relieved of the mandatory obligation contained in the said sub-section.

52. We may hasten to add that Section 65-B does not speak of the stage at which such certificate must be furnished to the Court. In Anvar P.V.2, this Court did observe that such certificate must accompany the electronic record when the same is produced in evidence. We may only add that this is so in cases where such certificate could be procured by the person seeking to rely upon an electronic record.

However, in cases where either a defective certificate is given, or in cases where such certificate has been demanded and is not given by the person concerned, the Judge conducting the trial must summon the person/ persons referred to in Section 65-B(4) of the Evidence Act, and require that such certificate be given by such person/persons. This, the trial Judge ought to do when the electronic record is produced in evidence before him without the requisite certificate in the circumstances aforementioned. This is, of course, subject to discretion being exercised in civil cases in accordance with law, and in accordance with the requirements of justice on the facts of each case. When it comes to criminal trials, it is important to keep in mind the general principle that the accused must be supplied all documents that the prosecution seeks to rely upon before commencement of the trial, under the relevant sections of the CrPC.

.....

61. We may reiterate, therefore, that the certificate required under Section 65-B(4) is a condition precedent to the admissibility of evidence by way of electronic record, as correctly held in Anvar P.V.2, and incorrectly "clarified" a in Shafhi Mohammad³. Oral evidence in the place of such certificate cannot possibly suffice as Section 65-B(4) is a mandatory requirement of the law. Indeed, the hallowed principle in Taylor v. Taylor40, which has been followed in a number of the judgments of this Court, can also be applied. Section 65-B(4) of the Evidence Act clearly states that secondary evidence is admissible only if led in the manner stated and not otherwise. To hold otherwise would render Section 65-B(4) otiose."

41. Recently Hon'ble Apex Court in Criminal Appeal No.1307 of 2019 Ravinder Singh @ Kaku Vs. State of Punjab decided on 4.5.2022 had followed the judgement in the case of Arjun Panditrao Khotkar (Supra) and paragraph 21 has held as under:-

"21. In light of the above, the electronic evidence produced before the High Court should have been in accordance with the statute and should have complied with the certification requirement, for it to be admissible in the court of law. As rightly stated above, Oral evidence in the place of such certificate, as is the case in the present matter, cannot possibly suffice as Section 65B(4) is a mandatory requirement of the law".

42. Even taking the prosecution case on face value, the same is of circumstantial evidence. Notably no body has seen the commission of crime and its only PW-3 Meera Devi who on the basis of the phone call so received by her as discussed herein above has linked the accused with respect to commission of crime. It is well settled that in the case of circumstantial evidence there should be a complete chain so as to link the accused with respect of commission of crime and it should be prove beyond doubt that it is accused and nobody else who has committed crime.

43. The Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Sharad Birdhichand Sarda Vs. State of Maharashtra, 1984(4) SCC 116. In paragraph no.153 has observed as under:

"153. A close analysis of this decision would show that the following conditions must be fulfilled before a case against an accused can be said to be fully established:

(1) the circumstances from which the conclusion of guilt is to be drawn should be fully established.

It may be noted here that this Court indicated that the circumstances concerned 'must or should' and not 'may be' established. There is not only a grammatical but a legal distinction between 'may be proved' and 'must be or should be proved' as was held by this Court in Shivaji Sahabrao Bobade & Anr. v. State of Maharashtra*(') where the following observations were made:*

"Certainly, it is a primary principle that the accused must be and not merely may be guilty before a court can convict and the mental distance between 'may be' and 'must be' is long and divides vague conjectures from sure conclusions."

(2) The facts so established should be consistent only with the hypothesis of the guilt of the accused, that is to say. they should not be explainable on any other hypothesis except that the accused is guilty,

(3) the circumstances should be of a conclusive nature and tendency.

(4) they should exclude every possible hypothesis except the one to be proved, and

(5) there must be a chain of evidence so complete as not to leave any reasonable ground for the conclusion consistent with the innocence of the accused and must show that in all human probability the act must have been done by the accused."

44. In Padala Veera Reddy Vs. State of A.P. (1989) Supp 2 SCC 706, the Hon'ble Apex Court in paragraph nos. 10 and 11 held as under:-

"10. Before adverting to the arguments advanced by the learned Counsel we shall at the threshold point out that in the present case here is no direct evidence to connect the accused with the offence in question and the prosecution rests its case solely on circumstantial evidence. this Court in a series of decisions has consistently held that when a case rests upon circumstantial evidence such evidence must satisfy the following tests :

(1) the circumstances from which an inference of guilt is sought to be drawn, must be cogently and firmly established;

(2) those circumstances should be of a definite tendency unerringly pointing towards guilt of the accused;

(3) the circumstances, taken cumulatively, should form a chain so complete that there is no escape from the conclusion that within all human probability the crime was committed by the accused and none else; and (4) the circumstantial evidence in order to sustain conviction must be complete and incapable of explanation of any other hypothesis than that of the guilt of the accused and such evidence should not only be consistent with the guilt of the accused but should be inconsistent with his innocence. (See Gambhir v. State of Maharashtra).

11. See also Rama Nand and Ors. v. State of Himachal Pradesh , Prem Thakur v. State of Punjab , Earabhadrapa alias Krishappa v. State of Karnataka Gian Singh v. State of Punjab 1986 Suppl. SCC 676, Balvinder Singh v. State of Punjab."

45. More so in the case of C.CHENGA REDDY AND OTHERS VS. STATE OF A.P., 1996 (10) SCC 193. In paragraph no.21, the Hon'ble Apex Court observed as under:-

"21. In a case based on circumstantial evidence, the settled law is that the circumstances from which the conclusion of guilt is drawn should be fully proved and such circumstances must be conclusive in nature. Moreover, all the circumstances should be complete and there should be no gap left in the chain of evidence. Further, the proved circumstances must be consistent only with the hypothesis of the guilt of the accused and totally inconsistent with his innocence. In the present case the courts below have overlooked these settled principles and allowed suspicion to take the place of proof besides relying upon some inadmissible evidence."

46. In STATE OF RAJASTHAN VS. RAJA RAM, 2003(8) SCC 180. In paragraph no.9, the Hon'ble Apex Court observed as under:-

"9. It has been consistently laid down by this Court that where a case rests squarely on circumstantial evidence, the inference of guilt can be justified only when all the incriminating facts and circumstances are found to be incompatible with the innocence of the accused or the guilt of any other person. (See Hukam Singh v. State of Rajasthan AIR (1977 SC 1063); Eradu and Ors. v. State of Hyderabad (AIR 1956 SC 316); Earabhadrappa v. State of Karnataka (AIR 1983 SC 446); State of U.P. v. Sukhbasi and Ors. (AIR 1985 SC 1224); Balwinder Singh v. State of Punjab (AIR 1987 SC 350); Ashok Kumar Chatterjee v. State of M.P. (AIR 1989 SC 1890). The circumstances from which an inference as to the guilt of the accused is drawn have to be proved beyond reasonable doubt and have to be shown to be closely connected with the principal fact sought to be inferred from those circumstances. In Bhagat Ram v. State of Punjab (AIR 1954 SC 621), it was laid down that where the case depends upon the conclusion drawn from circumstances the cumulative effect of the circumstances must be such as to negative the innocence of the accused and bring the offences home beyond any reasonable doubt."

47. Recently the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Criminal Appeal Nos.333-334 of 2017, Shailendra Rajdev Pasvan and others Vs. State of Gujarat etc. decided on 13.12.2019. In paragraph no.12, the Hon'ble Supreme Court has observed as under:-

" 12. Thus the entire case of the prosecution is based on circumstantial evidence. It is well settled that in a case which rests on circumstantial evidence, law postulates two fold requirements:-

(i) Every link in the chain of the circumstances necessary to establish the guilt of the accused must be established by the prosecution beyond reasonable doubt. "

(ii) All the circumstances must be consistent pointing only towards the guilt of the accused."

48. Applying the principle of law as referred to in above noted judgment an enescapable conclusion stand drawn that the prosecution could not link the accused for committing the said crime as obviously barring the receiving of phone call which even in fact also does not stands proved by any prosecution there is nothing so as to complete the chain itself.

49. So much so the prosecution case does not stand on its own leg even while applying the theory of last seen of the deceased with accused as though prosecution has come up with the case that the deceased was lastly seen with the accused however, Satya Prakash and Shyamjeet did not enter into the witness box as a prosecution witness to prove and support the prosecution theory. Though a stand had been taken by PW-1, Guab Kahar that the accused was lastly seen with the deceased in the intervening night of 23/24.04.2011 by the above two noted persons but the said fact was not apprised to the Investigating Officer.

50. In so far as the recovery of the dead body along with wood and iron rod is concerned, the same is also under cloud as though allegations have been made that on the pointing out the accused Gaya Singh and Vinod Yadav that incriminating articles alleged to be used committing crime was recovered but there had been no independent witness so as to substantiate the same. Even in fact the first informant being PW-1, Gulab Gahar in his cross examination has stated that though the proceedings of Panchnama were though done, however, the Investigating Officer got the signatures of the PW-1 Gulab Kahar effected on a plain paper and he signed the same near the house of Hari Ram that to on blank paper. The aforesaid fact itself shows that the recovery is a planted and the same does not inspire any confidence or can be made a basis to link the accused with respect to commission of crime.

51. The aforesaid facts itself reveals that the entire proceeding so lodged by the prosecution has been tailored in such of a manner so as to implicate the accused herein right from inception post lodging of the first information report as in the F.I.R, the accused was not marked. More so no independent witness was brought in the witness box on behalf of prosecution so as to surface the true picture. The Investigation so conducted is not only defective but in a casual manner.

52. This Court has to also bear in mind that suspicion however may be grave cannot partake the character of proof in the case of circumstantial evidence.

53. The Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Raj Kumar Singh alias Raju alias Batya Vs. State of Rajasthan, 2013 (5) SCC 722. In paragraph no.21, the Hon'ble Apex Court observed as under:

"21. Suspicion, however grave it may be, cannot take the place of proof, and there is a large difference between something that `may be' proved and `will be proved'. In a criminal trial, suspicion no matter how strong, cannot and must not be permitted to take place of proof. This is for the reason, that the mental distance between `may be' and `must be' is quite large and divides vague conjectures from sure conclusions. In a criminal case, the court has a duty to ensure that mere conjectures or suspicion do not take the place of legal proof. The large distance between `may be' true and `must be' true, must be covered by way of clear, cogent and unimpeachable evidence produced by the prosecution, before an accused is condemned as a convict, and the basic and golden rule must be applied. In such cases, while keeping in mind the distance between `may be' true and `must be' true, the court must maintain the vital distance between conjectures and sure conclusions to be arrived at, on the touchstone of dispassionate judicial scrutiny based upon a complete and comprehensive appreciation of all features of the case, as well as the quality and credibility of the evidence brought on record. The court must ensure, that miscarriage of justice is avoided and if the facts and circumstances of a case so demand, then the benefit of doubt must be given to the accused, keeping in mind that a reasonable doubt is not an imaginary, trivial or a merely probable doubt, but a fair doubt that is based upon reason and common sense. (Vide: Hanumant Govind Nargundkar & Anr. v. State of M.P., AIR 1952 SC 343; Shivaji Sahabrao Bobade & Anr. v. State of Mahrashtra, AIR 1973 SC 2622; Sharad Birdhichand Sarda v. State of Maharashtra, AIR 1984 SC 1622; Subhash Chand v. State of Rajasthan, (2002) 1 SCC 702; Ashish Batham v. State of M.P., AIR 2002 SC 3206; Narendra Singh & Anr. v. State of M.P., AIR 2004 SC 3249; State through CBI v. Mahender Singh Dahiya, AIR 2011 SC 1017; and Ramesh Harijan v. State of U.P., AIR 2012 SC 1979).:

54. Marshalling the testimony of the prosecution witness and the documents so adduced by them, this Court has no hesitation but to form a firm opinion that the prosecution has completely failed to prove beyond doubt that the accused has committed the offence. More so, the learned trial court has meticulously analysed the case from four corners of law and after considering the evidence as well as occular testimony has acquitted the accused. The view taken by the trial court is not only plausible but a possible view and there is no occasion for this Court to take another view while substituting judgment of acquittal into conviction. This Court further finds that the judgment of acquittal is neither preserve nor is a case of misreading of evidence or it proceeds towards wrong direction. Obviously double presumption of innocence is available with the accused and it is not a case where any interference is warranted.

55. Accordingly, it is not a case worth granting leave to appeal. The application for granting leave to appeal is rejected.

56. Consequently, since the Criminal Misc. Application (Leave to Appeal) is rejected by order of this date, the present government appeal is also dismissed.

57. Record of the present case be sent back to the learned trial court.

(2022) 9 ILRA 995
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 12.09.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE VIVEK KUMAR BIRLA, J.
THE HON'BLE VIKAS BUDHWAR, J.

Government Appeal No. 316 of 2019

State of U.P. ...Appellant
Versus
Mahfooz & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant:
G.A.

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri Sadaful Islam Jafri, Sri Sadaful Islam Jafri, Nasira Adil, Ms. Ambreen Masroor, Sri N.I. Jafri (Sr. Advocate)

(A) Criminal Law - Criminal Procedure Code, 1973 - Sections 378 & 378(3) - Indian Penal Code,1860 - Sections 148, 149, 201, 302, 342 & 364, - Indian Evidence Act,1872 - Section- 65(b)(4) - Government Appeal – against order of Acquittal – offence of Kidnapping, wrongful restraint & murder - until and unless the judgment under challenge is perverse and there are substantial and compelling reasons followed by miscarriage of justice to be meted by the parties, the court in appeal should not in routine manner interfere with. (Para 15)

(B) Criminal Law - Criminal Procedure Code, 1973 - Sections 378 & 378(3), - Indian Penal Code,1860 - Sections 148, 149, 201, 302, 342 & 364 - Indian Evidence Act, 1860 – Section 65(b)(4) - Government Appeal – against order of Acquittal

- screening of evidence – on merits, inconsistency in St.ment of eye-witness of incident assumes significance particularly when entire prosecution theory has been laid down on foundation of his deposition – There is an unexplained delay of more than 24 days in lodging the FIR - there is enormous time gap between point of time when accused and deceased were last seen alive and when deceased is found death – Mandatory procedure so envisaged under Section 65-B (4) of Evidence Act has also not been followed – though merely because prosecution witnesses turned hostile may not ipso facto be a abstract principle of law that prosecution theory stands disbelieved but such situation is to be seen along with other factors – giving anxious consideration from four corners of law to the impugned judgment and order, the trial court has not committed any palpable illegality or perversity - acquittal upheld - Leave to appeal rejected - so St. appeal stands dismissed.(Para 67, 72, 77, 89, 90, 102, 105)

(D) Criminal Law - Criminal Procedure Code, 1973 - Sections 378 & 378(3), - Indian Penal Code, 1860 - Sections 148, 149, 201, 302, 342 & 364 - Indian Evidence Act,1872 - Section 65(b)(4) - Government Appeal – against order of Acquittal – Admissibility of electronic evidence – CDR - is also one of important factors along with other factors - if pressed into service can surface position of accused into order to determine as to whether he had committed crime or not – However, there is a complete procedure envisaged under Section 65-B(4) of Evidence Act wherein production of certificate has been held to be mandatory with certain exceptions.(Para – 86)

Appeal dismissed. (E-11)

List of Cases cited:

1. Rajesh Prasad Vs St. of Bihar, (2022) 3 SCC (471),

2. Padam Singh Vs St. of U.P., (2000) 1 SCC 621,

3. Apren Joseph @ Current Kunjukunju& ors. Vs The St. of Kerala (1973) 3 SCC 114,

4. Tara Singh& ors. Vs St. of Pun. 1991 Suppl. (1) SCC 536,

5. P. Rajagopal & ors. Vs St. of T. N., (2019) 5 SCC 403,

6. Dharam Deo Yadav Vs St. of U. P., (2014) 5 SCC 509,

7. Dhan Raj @ Dhand Vs St. of Har., (2014) 6 SCC 745,

8. Ashok Vs St. of Har., (2015) 4 SCC 393,

9. Chandrapal Vs St. of Chhattisgarh, AIR 2022 S.C. 2542,

10. Arjun Panditrao Khotkar Vs Kailash Kushanrao Gorantyal & ors., (2020) 7 SCC,

11. Ravindra Singh @ Kaku Vs St. of Punj. (Criminal Appeal No. 1307/2019 decided on Dt. 04.05.2022),

12. Nathiya Vs St. represented by Inspector of Police, Bagayam Police Station Vellore, (2016) 10 SCC 298, 13. Khekh Ram Vs St. of H. P. (2018 (1) SCC 202).

(Delivered by Hon'ble Vikas Budhwar, J.)

1. The present appeal purports to be under Section 378(3) of Criminal Procedure Code, 1973 (in short 'Cr.P.C.'), seeking to challenge the judgment and order dated 2.4.2019 passed by IVth Additional District & Sessions Judge/Special Judge, E.C. Act, Pilibhit in S.T. No.297 of 2014, (State of U.P. Vs. Mahfooz Ansari and 4 others), S.T. No.16 of 2015 (State of U.P. Vs. Irshad) and S.T. No.96 of 2015, (State of U.P. Vs. Kalloo Mewati), in Case Crime No.801 of 2014, P.S. Sungarhi, District Pilibhit under Sections 148, 364, 342, 302 read with Sections 149, 201 IPC acquitting the accused respondents, who are 7 in number.

INTRODUCTORY FACTS

2. Essence of the fact which lies in narrow compass as wrapped in prosecution story are that one Jai Prakash s/o Shri Ram Charan Lal r/o Village Gauneri Dan, P.S. Jahanabad, District Pilibhit submitted a written report before Deputy Inspector General of Police Bareilly on 19.5.2004 at 16.30 a.m. with an allegation that he solemnized marriage with Smt. Tabbasum @ Munni d/o Mahmood, r/o Chiriyadeh, P.S. Sungarhi, District Pilibhit on 18.12.2013, as the same was interfaith marriage thus, the accused fraction got furrated as their daughter married the informant, who happens to be of different religion.

3. Occasioning threats to the life, the first informant/complainant claims that he had no option but to prefer proceedings before this Court on writ side being W.P. No.20156 of 2004, Smt. Tabbasum @ Munni and others Vs. State of U.P. seeking police protection.

4. As per the first informant on 16.4.2014 a positive order was passed in their favour granting civil protection. Prosecution further asserts that Jaiprakash being the informant and the deceased being Smt. Tabbasum @ Munni were living together, however, on the fateful day i.e. 25.4.2014 when the informant was travelling from Bareilly to Pilibhit then at 5.00 in the evening at a place being Laveda, Police Station Hafizganj Bareilly, the accused respondents Mahfooz, Abdul Mazid, Mustkeem, Ayub and Irshad who happened to be the relatives of Smt. Tabbasum @ Munni while exerting pressure forcibly abducted his wife being Smt. Tabbasum @ Munni.

5. According to first informant, he proceeded to police station Hafizganj in order to submit written report but neither the same was taken note of nor any proceedings were conducted in that regard. In fact he tried his level best to search the whereabouts of his missing wife Smt. Tabbasum @ Munni but she could not be traced. Thus, he apprehends that the life of his wife is in danger.

6. It was further alleged that on 17.5.2014, he received a phone call from his wife Smt. Tabbasum @ Munni apprising him that she has been illegally confined in the house of his maternal uncle Irshad Master and he along with others had committed bad act with her and they are planning to murder her. The said call is stated to have been made from the mobile phone no.8273025296.

7. On the basis of the written complaint so lodged by the first informant before the Deputy Inspector General of Police, Agra region Agra on 19.5.2014 at 4.30 in the morning, a first information report was lodged. Accordingly, the Circle Officer city by virtue of the order dated 19.5.2014 directed for conduction of investigation in the said matter against the accused herein. The FIR was registered as Case Crime No.801 of 2014 under Sections 364, 342 IPC.

8. Records further reveal that on 20.5.2014 one Tilakram s/o Sunder Lal, r/o Gram Gauhania, P.S. Sungarhi, District Pilibhit lodged a written complaint before the Station House Officer, Sungarhi, District Pilibhit reporting that near the drain in Village Gauhania a dead-body of woman was found and adjacent to her the accessories being slipper, dupatta etc. was also noticed and the resident of village in question identified the girl to be the sister of Mahfooz Ansari being Smt. Tabbasum @ Munni.

9. Accordingly, Sections 302 and 201 IPC were also added in the Case Crime No.801 of 2014 which was proceeded to be investigated pursuant to the nomination of the Investigating Officer.

10. As per the prosecution Investigating Officer conducted the investigation prepared site plan, Panchnama sent the body for postmortem followed by recording the statement of the prosecution witnesses. Eventually, a charge-sheet was submitted under Sections 342, 364, 302, 148, 149, 201 IPC against the accused herein being Mahfooz Ansari, Mustakeem, Ayub, Abdul Mazid and Riyasat @ Mama Irshad and Kallu Mewati @ Daroga Khan.

11. Case was committed to trial to sessions by virtue of order dated 17.3.2005, 23.8.2014, 9.10.2014, 12.2.2015, 1.7.2015 and 12.11.2018. Charges were read over to the accused herein. Accused claimed to be tried and they pleaded innocence.

12. Learned Trial Court by virtue of the judgment and order under challenge has acquitted the accused herein.

13. Challenging the judgment and order of acquittal now the present appeal has been instituted at the behest of the State.

LEGAL POSITION

14. Before pondering into the niceties of the judgment of acquittal under challenge in the proceedings under Section 378(3) Cr.P.C. at the instance of the State, this Court has to re-memoirse itself the fact that the present proceedings are in a form of appellate jurisdiction occasioning scrutiny of a judgment of acquittal wherein there are certain limitations so provided therein which needs to be recognised before the delving in the issue.

15. Broadly speaking until and unless the judgment under challenge is perverse and there are substantial and compelling reasons followed by miscarriage of justice to be meted by the parties, this Court should not in routine manner interfere with the judgment of acquittal as the accused is possessed with double presumption of innocence.

16. To put it otherwise as a matter of right, this Court cannot at the instance of the appellant, who happens to be State exercise the jurisdiction while converting the judgment of acquittal into conviction.

17. The aforesaid principle of law has already been crystallized by Hon'ble Apex Court in plethora of decisions and just for the sake of illustration reference may be made to the judgment of Rajesh Prasad Vs. State of Bihar (2022) 3 SCC (471) wherein the Hon'ble Apex Court in paragraphs no.21, 22, 23, 24, 25 and 31.1.

21. Before proceeding further, it would be useful to review the approach to be adopted while deciding an appeal against acquittal by the trial court as well as by the High Court. Section 378 CrPC deals with appeals in case of acquittal. In one of the earliest cases on the powers of the High Court in dealing with an appeal against an order of acquittal the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in Sheo Swarup v. King Emperor[2] considered the provisions relating to the power of an appellate court in dealing with an appeal against an order of a acquittal and observed as under: (SCC OnLine PC)

"16. It cannot, however, be forgotten that in case of acquittal, there is a double presumption in favour of the accused. Firstly, the presumption of innocence is available to him under the fundamental principle of criminal jurisprudence that every person should be presumed to be innocent unless he is proved to be guilty by a competent court of law. Secondly, the accused having secured an acquittal, the presumption of his innocence is certainly not weakened but reinforced, reaffirmed and strengthened by the trial court.

"..... But in exercising the power conferred by the Code and before reaching its conclusions upon fact, the High Court should and will always give proper weight and consideration to such matters as: (1) the views of the trial Judge as to the credibility of the witnesses; (2) the presumption of innocence in favour of the accused, a presumption certainly not weakened by the fact that he has been acquitted at his trial; (3) the right of the accused to the benefit of any doubt; and (4) the slowness of an appellate court in disturbing a finding of fact arrived at by a Judge who had the advantage of seeing the witnesses. To state this, however, is only to say that the High Court in its conduct of the appeal should and will act in accordance with rules and principles well known and recognised in the administration of justice."

It was stated that the appellate court has full powers to review and to reverse the acquittal.

22. In Atley v. State of U.P.3, the approach of the appellate court while considering a judgment of acquittal was discussed and it was observed that unless the appellate court comes to the conclusion that the judgment of the acquittal was perverse, it could not set aside the same. To a similar effect are the following observations of this Court speaking through Subba Rao, J. (as his Lordship then was) in Sanwat Singh v. State of Rajasthant: (Sanwat Singh case4, AIR pp. 719-20, para 9)

"9. The foregoing discussion yields the following results: (1) an appellate court has full power to review the evidence upon which the order of acquittal is founded; (2) the principles laid down in Sheo Swarup² afford a correct guide for the appellate court's approach to a case in disposing of such an appeal; and (3) the different phraseology used in the judgments of this Court, such as, (i) "substantial and compelling reasons", (ii) "good and sufficiently cogent reasons", and (iii) "strong reasons" are not intended to curtail the undoubted power of an appellate court in an appeal against acquittal to review the entire evidence and to come to its own conclusion; but in doing so it should not only consider every matter on record having a bearing on the questions of fact and the reasons given by the court below in support of its order of acquittal in its arriving at a conclusion on those facts, but should also express those reasons in its judgment, which lead it to hold that the acquittal was not justified."

The need for the aforesaid observations arose on account of observations of the majority in Aher Raja Khima v. State of Saurashtra5 which stated that for the High Court to take a different view on the evidence "there must also be substantial and compelling reasons for holding that the trial court was wrong".

23. M.G. Agarwal v. State of Maharashtra is the judgment of the Constitution Bench of this Court, speaking through Gajendragadkar, J. (as his Lordship then was). This Court observed that the approach of the High Court (appellate court) in dealing with an appeal against acquittal ought to be cautious because the presumption of innocence in favour of the accused "is not certainly weakened by the fact that he has been acquitted at his trial".

24. In Shivaji Sahabrao Bobade v. State of Maharashtra, Krishna Iyer, J., observed as follows: (SCC p. 799, para 6).

"6. ... In short, our jurisprudential enthusiasm for presumed innocence must be moderated by the pragmatic need to make criminal justice potent and realistic. A balance has to be struck between chasing chance possibilities as good enough to set the delinquent free and chopping the logic of preponderant probability to punish marginal innocents."

25. This Court in Ramesh Babulal Doshi v. State of Gujarats, spoke about the approach of the appellate court while considering an appeal against an order acquitting the accused and stated as follows: (SCC p. 229, para 7)

"7. ... While sitting in judgment over an acquittal the appellate court is first required to seek an answer to the question whether the findings of the trial court are palpably wrong, manifestly erroneous or demonstrably unsustainable. If the appellate court answers the above question in the negative the order of acquittal is not to be disturbed. Conversely, if the appellate court holds, for reasons to be recorded, that the order of acquittal cannot at all be sustained in view of any of the above infirmities it can and then only reappraise the evidence to arrive at its own conclusions."

The object and the purpose of the aforesaid approach is to ensure that there is no miscarriage of justice. In another words, there should not be an acquittal of the guilty or a conviction of an innocent person.

31.1. Ordinarily, this Court is cautious in interfering with an order of acquittal, especially when the order of acquittal has been confirmed up to the High Court. It is only in rarest of rare cases, where the High Court, on an absolutely wrong process of reasoning and a legally erroneous and perverse approach to the facts of the case, ignoring some of the most vital facts, has acquitted the accused, that the same may be reversed by this Court, exercising jurisdiction under Article 136 of the Constitution. [State of U.P. v. Sahai[13]] d Such fetters on the right to entertain an appeal are prompted by the reluctance to expose a person, who has been acquitted by a competent court of a criminal charge, to the anxiety and tension of a further examination of the case, even though it is held by a superior court. [Arunachalam v. P.S.R. Sadhanantham[14]] An appeal cannot be entertained against an order of acquittal which has, after recording valid and weighty reasons, has arrived at an unassailable, logical conclusion which justifies acquittal."

18. Bearing in mind the principles of law so laid down by the Hon'ble Apex Court as referred to above the present case is to be proceeded with while giving it a logical end.

19. Heard Ms. Nand Prabha Shukla learned AGA and Sri N.I. Jafri, learned Senior Counsel assisted by Ms. Ambreen Masroor, learned counsel for the accused-respondents.

CONTENTIONS OF STATE/ APPELLANT

20. Ms. Nand Prabha Shukla learned AGA has made the manifold submissions namely:-

(a) The accused herein have committed offence which stood proved beyond doubt as the chain and sequence of events consistently points towards the commission of the offence beyond reasonable doubt.

(b) The accused was seen with the deceased lastly wherefrom she disappeared thus the last seen theory comes into play.

(c) The call details (CDR) itself points out that the deceased was with the accused which stood proved beyond doubt.

(d) There was a strong motive for commission of crime by the accused as the present case occasioned interfaith marriage.

(e) Mere contradictions in the statement of the PW4 Jai Prakash (first informant husband) coupled with other prosecution witnesses turning hostile will not be a factor to hold the accused non-guilty of commission of crime particularly when there was not only a strong motive but also the fact that circumstantial evidences consistently form the link of commission of crime by accused.

CONTENTIONS OF ACCUSED/RESPONDENTS

21. Sri N.I. Jafri, learned Senior Counsel assisted by Amreen Masroor, learned counsel for the accused respondents have made following submissions:-

A. The judgment of the learned trial court is well reasoned taking into account each and every aspect of the matter and does not warrant any interference by this Court while exercising appellate jurisdiction.

B. Once there the major contradictions and inconsistency and improvement have been made in the testimony of the PW4 (first informant) coupled with other prosecution witnesses turning hostile then this Court should not interfere in the present proceedings as view taken by the learned trial court is possible view.

C. The circumstantial evidence do not support the prosecution theory as the complete chain itself is missing while linking the accused to have committed crime.

D. In view of huge time gap of 24 days between the accused alleged to be lastly seen with the deceased and the date of death the last seen theory does not stand applied.

E. The entire prosecution case stands on suspicion which cannot be a ground to hold the accused guilty of commission of crime.

DETAILS & DESCRIPTION OF OCULAR TESTIMONY AND DOCUMENTS ADDUCED

22. At this stage, the court finds proper to give brief description and details of the prosecution witnesses namely:

1.	Qadir Khan	PW1
2.	Rafee Ahmad	PW2
3.	Tilakram	PW3
4.	Jai Prakash	PW4
5.	Omkar	PW5
6.	Ravi Sharma	PW6
7.	Dr. Mahabeer Singh	PW7
8.	Roshal Lal Retd. HCP	PW8
9.	Bhuvnesh Kumar Gautam PRO S.P. Pilibhit	PW9
10.	Atul Pradhan Inspector Crime Branch, Badaun	PW10
11.	Mohd. Rijwan	PW11
12.	Zakir Hussain	PW12
13.	Retd. S.I. Phool Singh	PW13
14.	Sumer Singh Siddhu	PW14

15.	Ramesh Saxena	PW15
16.	Brijesh Singh Inspector	PW16
17.	Uday Shankar	PW17
18.	Dalbir Singh Inspector	PW18
19.	Siyaram	PW19
20.	Babu Baksh	PW20
21.	Nasir Ahmad	PW21
22.	Nanhe Baksh	PW22
23.	Gopal Chandra Gupta	PW23
24.	Mohd. Fahim	PW24
25.	Sanjiv Kumar Saxena	PW25
26.	Triloki Nath Mishra	PW26
27.	Manoj Kumar	PW27
28.	Smt. Babli	PW28
29.	Surendra Pratap Singhs PRO Badaun	PW29

23. Besides ocular testimony following documents were adduced to support the prosecution:-

1	Panchayatnama	Ex.ka1
2	Written Complaint	Ex.ka2
3	Fard	Ex.ka3
	Letter No.4/2, 4/3 A-1/A	Ex.ka1/A
	Postmortem report	Ex.ka-3
4	Chik FIR	Ex.A4
5	G.D. Carbon copy	Ex.ka4
6	Samples Stamp	Ex.ka6
7	Challan Naash	Ex.ka7
8	Letter D.M.	Ex.ka8
9	Letter CMO	Ex.ka9
10	Letter RI	Ex.ka10
11	Site plan of recovery of dead body	Ex.ka11
12	GD Carbon	Ex.ka12
13	CDR	Ex.ka13
63	Lagayat	Ex.ka63
64	Site plan of the place	Ex.ka64
65	Copy of Register	Ex.ka65
66	Photograph of Tabbasum	Ex.ka66
67	Photograph of Jai Prakash	Ex.ka67
71	Charge sheet against Kallu Mewati @ Daroga Khan	Ex.ka71

24. So far as the prosecution witnesses are concerned as PW1 Qadir Ahmad appeared in the witness box and deposed that he knows accused Irshad son of Nisar, however he does not know the deceased Smt. Tabbasum @ Munni and he is not aware as to whether the deceased visited the house of accused Irshad. He has further deposed that he is not conversant with the fact as to whether before 25.4.2014 the deceased has visited the house of Irshad. In fact according to him he does not know the relatives of the deceased.

25. Rafi Ahmad appeared as PW2 and in his cross-examination, deposed that he knows Irshad but he showed his ignorance regarding deceased and he is not aware of the fact as to whether the deceased had visited the house of Irshad or not and he is not knowing the relatives of the deceased.

26. As PW3 Tilak Ram entered into the witness box and in his examination-in-chief, he came up with a stand that he neither knows deceased nor Jaiprakash the first informant. He also showed his ignorance regarding the fact that the deceased was with Jai Prakash, however according to him he found the dead-body of woman and when he went near then he could not recognise or identify the dead-body and he specifically stated that he had not submitted application in police station and the dead-body of the deceased was not sealed in his presence and no photograph of the same was clicked.

27. As PW4 Jai Prakash entered into the witness box claiming himself to be the first informant and the husband of the deceased wife casting allegations upon the accused that on the date of the occurrence, the accused who are 7 in number were present. He has stated that he got married with the deceased and due to the marriage being interfaith marriage the accused bore-grudge against him. According to PW4, Kallu and Riyasat are not related to the deceased but other five accused are related and he further deposed that in connection with their safety of life and they preferred appropriate proceedings before the High Court seeking interim protection and he on 25.4.2014 had gone from Bareilly to Pilibhit and at about 5.00 in the evening in Gram Labeda the accused Mahfooz, Abdul Mazid, Mustkeem, Ayub, Irshad and others while loaded with unauthorised weapons forcibly abducted his wife and he had proceeded to police station Hafizganj for lodging written complaint but no action was taken and after searching the whereabouts of the deceased, he could not locate her and he received a phone call on 17.5.2014 from his wife and she apprised that she was under death threat and she was forcibly detained in a maternal uncle Irshad master place in Barkheda and she was also subjected to bad act and threatened to be murdered. According to PW4 the said information was received through mobile no.8273025296. He accordingly contacted the D.I.G. of Police while submitting written complaint on 17.5.2014 under a signature and then on 19.5.2014, first information report had been lodged. According to him his statements had been received by the Investigating Officer and on 20.5.2014 he received information that his wife has been murdered and he also received a phone call from the accused Mahfooz from mobile no.9720493938 wherein he was apprised that they have killed his wife. PW4 has further stated that he was running coaching in the house of Mahfooz wherein there are about 70 students whereat the deceased was also student and after being in close relationship they solemnized marriage on 18.12.2013.

28. PW5 Omkar also appeared as a prosecution witness. He claims to have witness the body of the deceased but he is ignorant about the name of the deceased. He further stated that he signed the Panchayatnama.

29. PW6 Ravi Sharma has stated on 20.5.2014 near the drain the body of the deceased was found along with slipper and Dupatta and the villagers identified her to be Smt. Tabbasum @ Munni.

30. Dr. Mahavir Singh appeared as PW7 and according to him he is Senior Consultant District Hospital, Pilibhit and he conducted postmortem of the deceased on 20.5.2014. According to him the deceased was possessed with certain marks with suggested that she had died on account of strangulation. According to PW7 the death occurred two days prior to conducting postmortem i.e. on18.5.2014.

31. As PW8 Roshan Lal retired HCP appeared as prosecution witness and he claims to have been posted in the police station concerned and he on the directions of SHO Sungarhi registered the FIR.

32. PW9 Bhuvenesh Kumar Gautam appeared as a witness and proved the Panchayatnama etc.

33. Atul Pradhan Inspector Crime Branch, Budaun appeared as PW10 according to him he was posted as Incharge Inspector and he conducted investigation prepared site plan and executed necessary proceedings.

34. Mohd. Rizwan appeared as PW11, he in his examination-in-chief has stated that he knows Irshad Ahmad son of Nisar Ahmad and the deceased also and she used to the come to the house of Irshad. He pleaded ignorance regarding the marriage of the first informant with the deceased.

35. PW12 Zakir Hussain has stated that he does not know the deceased and he is not aware as to whether the deceased had visited the house of Irshad between 25.4.2014 and 20.5.2014.

36. PW13 retired S.I. Phool Singh stated that he was present when the deceased was found in a drain in village Gauhania and he had witnessed the Panchyatnama.

37. PW14 Subeg Singh Siddhu stated that he was at that point of time Circle Officer, police station Pilibhit on the written report dated 17.5.2014 so received on 19.5.2014 for lodging FIR and directed for conducting investigation.

38. PW15 Ramesh Saxena claimed himself to be the Clerk in the police station, he proved the lodging of the first information report.

39. PW16 Inspector Brijesh Singh appeared as prosecution witness, he claims himself to prove call details (CDR).

40. PW17 Udai Shankar Singh claims to have being the successor to conduct investigation as according to him he took the investigation from the stage which was left by his predecessor.

41. PW18 S.I. Dalbir Singh in his statement claimed that he had gone to the house of Irshad to trace the deceased.

42. PW19 Siyaram in his cross-examination has stated that he is not aware about the parentage of deceased and in his presence no recovery was made and no statement has been taken by the police.

43. PW20 Babu Baksh claim to be doing masonry work and in his examination has stated that he is not remembering as to whether he had visited the place of Riyasat @ Mama for laying down linter. He does not know the deceased and he is not aware about the same. He also denied giving any statement under Section 161 Cr.P.C.

44. PW21 Nasir Ahmad in his cross-examination has stated that he does not know Riyasat and he is not aware whether plastering was done in his house. He does not know the description of the girl and he denies giving any statement under Section 161 Cr.P.C.

45. PW22 Nanhe Baksh appeared in the prosecution box and according to him he did not lay down linter with Babu Baksh in the house of Riyasat @ Mama.

46. One Gopal Chandra Gupta PW23 appeared as a prosecution witness and he stated that on 18.12.2013 the deceased got married with the first informant, thus he proved the marriage.

47. Mohd. Fahim PW24 also deposed as a prosecution witness that he does not know the deceased and he is not aware whether she had eloped or not. He pleaded ignorance regarding the recovery of the dead-body of the deceased as he was in his house at that point of time and further he stated that he has not given any statement as stated by the prosecution.

48. Sanjiv Kumar Saxena PW25 appeared as a prosecution witness and he also proved the marriage of the deceased with the PW4 Jai Prakash.

49. PW26 Triloki Nath Mishra appeared as prosecution witness and according to him he is the Manager of the Arya Samaz situate at Subhash Nagar and he proved the marriage of the PW4 Jai Prakash with the deceased.

50. PW27 Manoj Kumar appeared as a prosecution witness and according to him he is brother-in-law of the first informant and he has deposed that on 25.4.2014 Jai Prakash received call from Nand Gopal wherein the person who called Jai Prakash had uttered that Jai Prakash had taken a wrong decision to marry with Tabbasum @ Munni. Thus, he has supported the prosecution case.

51. Smt. Babli PW28 appeared as prosecution witness and she stated that four years ago i.e. the date of the incident Rajpal and Meena Devi who happens to be their relative had come at 6-7 in the evening along with the first informant and she had cooked food but they did not eat and as they were in tension. However, she was not told about Tabbasum @ Munni.

52. As PW29 Surendra Pratap Singh appeared as a prosecution witness claiming to be the Investigating Officer and according to him he after conducting the investigation submitted the charge sheet.

DISCUSSION AND FINDING

53. Undisputedly, the entire genesis of the present case revolves around the fact that the deceased, who happens to the wife of the first informant, had gone with the first informant on 25.4.2014 from Bareilly to Pilibhit and about 5 p.m. in village Laboda, Police Station Hafizganj, the accused who were armed with unauthorised weapons while exerting pressure abducted his wife. According to the first informant he had reported the said matter before the police station Hafizganj, however no action whatsoever have been taken and he continuously kept on searching his wife and when his wife was not traceable, he approached the D.I.G. Police Bareilly region, Bareilly while lodging its complaint and then first information report has been lodged on 19.5.2014 at 16.30 hours. The said events find place in the first information report which had been lodged by the first informant who claims to be eye-witness of the said incident.

54. Notably, in the first information report it has been further narrated that PW4 Jai Prakash received a phone call on 17.5.2014 from his wife that she was suspecting danger to her life and she was further subjected to bad act and the deceased maternal uncle Irshad Master had kept her in illegal confinement and the other accused Mahfooz, Mustkeem, Abdul Mazid, Ayub Mohammad and Irshad committed bad act and specifically details of mobile number being 8273025296 was mentioned. So much so on 20.5.2014 the dead-body of the deceased was found and accordingly a written complaint was lodged by one Sri Tilak Ram as alleged by the prosecution wherein the nearby villagers identified the deceased to be Tabbasum @ Munni.

55. Record reveals that on 22.5.2014 the Investigating Officer recorded the statement of the first informant wherein the first informant deposed that on 25.4.2014, the first informant received a phone call from Nand Lal Gautam, District President of a political party in his mobile phone at about 11.00 in the morning saying that the phone caller belongs to the same community and he wants to extend help to the first informant. According to the statement of the PW4 Jai Prakash the girl fraction and the community to which she belonged were quiet angry and lots of pressure was being mounted upon and the Ex. M.L.A. Arshad Khan, wanted to get the matter pacified so as to eliminate the chances of bloodshed in village Gauneri Dan.

56. According to PW4 he on the proposal of Nand Gopal Gautam agreed however he is not aware mobile phone number of Nand Gopal Gautam as the sim card is not with him and he does not remember the number. As per PW4 the day was a Friday and after (the religious prayer of the other community) he went to the Satelite Bus Stand at 3.00 p.m. and at that point of time Nand Gopal Gautam came in white Marshal (four wheeler) in which both Nand Gopal Gautam and Ex. M.L.A. was sitting.

57. Further as per PW4 behind the said four-wheeler, there was another four-wheeler being a white Maruti Car in which the accused Kallu Mewati and the brother of the deceased being Mahfooz, Kallu and 2-3 persons was sitting. Even according to PW4 behind the said four-wheeler, there was another four-wheeler of green colour (Scorpio) in which the brother of the deceased Mustakim, Ayub and Abdul Mazid was sitting along with Irshad and Riyasat @ Mama.

58. PW4 has also deposed that on the Bareilly road while coming from Pilibhit after crossing village Labeda in the four wheeler of Nand Gopal Gupta, wherein the first informant and the deceased were sitting the accused Mahfooz and Kallu had overtaken the four-wheeler and stationed it in front of the four-wheeler in which the first informant was sitting and then they came out and forcibly took away the deceased and put her in the their vehcile. Thereafter Nand Gopal Gautam along with the first informant came to Satelite crossing. According to PW4 in the night of the fateful day at 8-9 p.m. he proceeded to police station Hafizganj for lodging FIR, some constables were standing for over there however no heed was made for lodging FIR. PW4 Jai Prakash has further stated that the accused did possess any weapon with them but normally they keep it in a concealed manner.

59. The Investigating Officer on 5.6.2014 again took the statement of the PW4 Jai Prakash wherein PW4 deposed that though he came to Satellite but before that he went along with Nand Gopal Gautam near Fun-city near one hospital where his brother-in-law Manoj Kumar s/o Ram Das r/o Nakatia, Police Station Cantt. Bareilly was present.

60. As per PW4 he did not meet his brother-in-law Manoj Kumar at an earlier point of time while coming to Pilibhit as he was accompanied with Nand Gopal Gautam and his wife. PW4 further stated that he had conversation with his brother-in-law for an half an hour and thereafter his brother Rajpal also came and subsequently he again went to Labeda along with his brother Rajpal who was riding motorcycle and in Labeda he left his brother-in-law and along with his brother Rajpal in a motorcycle proceeded to his in-laws place being Sri Baburam and stayed there for 3-4 days. However in his inner heart, he was missing his wife and that is why he did not give any statement earlier.

61. The aforesaid statement so made by the first informant if put to conjoint reading will show that the narration of facts so made in the deposition so sought to be made by the first informant on 22.5.2014 and 5.6.2014 does not find place in the first information report which was lodged on 19.5.2004. It is not a case wherein the first informant is not an eye-witness as according to the first informant PW4 he claims to be the eye-witness and thus the things which had happened on 25.4.2014 ought to have been not only immediately reported before police station but also narrated in the first information report.

62. So much so the inconsistency and major contradictions so sought to be made in the deposition by the PW4 being star witness itself gets further highlighted from the fact that a different story had been narrated in the first information report so lodged on 19.5.2014 wherein there was no recital about the fact regarding receiving of telephonic call by Nand Gopal Gautam and with respect to role of Ex. MLA.

63. Even in a subsequent statement dated 5.6.2014 another story is being sought to be build up while coming up with a stand that he met his brother-in-law Manoj Kumar and Rajpal and further proceeded to the in-laws place of his brother whereat he stayed for 3-4 days.

64. The story so build up by the prosecution upon the base so erected by PW4 itself demolishes the entire prosecution case particularly when there are major contradictions and improvement sought to be made in this regard.

65. The inconsistency in the statement of PW4 Jai Prakash also marks its presence every where as on one hand, he in his statement so recorded under Section 161 of the Cr.P.C. as well as in the first information report in question had come up with a stand that he had received only once a call from the deceased in his phone number on 17.5.2014 regarding the atrocities which she was occasioning as she was put in illegal confinement by his maternal uncle Ishan Master and the accused had committed rape with her and the said fact is stated to be communicated and apprised to the first informant PW4 Jai Prakash through mobile number 8273025296. However, PW4 Jai Prakash in his statement under Section 161 of the Cr.P.C. had deposed that he had spoken with the deceased for 4-5 times and the deceased used to call her often after getting an opportunity behind the back of the accused when she was in-confinement and further uttered that PW4 Jai Prakash if he truly loved the deceased then he should change his religion and return the jewellery.

66. It is also come on record that in the statement so recorded of PW4 Jai Prakash, he has deposed that he on 1.5.2014 and 15.5.2014 had returned belongings of the deceased and Rs.60,000/- to the accused Kallu Mewati and Mustakeem in a market place being Buttler Plaza and near the Mosque at Aala Hazrat in Bareilly. He had further deposed that he even wanted to convert himself while changing the religion so as to live with the deceased.

67. The aforesaid inconsistency in the statement of the PW4 Jai Prakash, who claims to be the eye-witness of the incident also assumes significance particularly when the entire prosecution theory has been laid down on the foundation of the deposition of PW4.

68. In the case of Padam Singh Vs. State of U.P. (2000) 1 SCC 621 the Hon'ble Apex Court in paragraph 6 had occasioned to deal with the aspect relating to omissions and contradictions in the statements made under Section 161 of the Cr.P.C. and before the Court under Sections 164 of the Cr.P.C.

6. Even, if we examine the intrinsic oath of the prosecution witnesses, who are admittedly inimical, the omissions and contradictions between the statement made under Section 161 and the statement made in Court, as brought out in the cross-examination, makes the witnesses unreliable and the two learned Judges, without noticing the same have just brushed aside on the ground that the omissions and contradictions are not material. The said conclusion in our opinion cannot be sustained. After going through the cross-examination of the aforesaid witnesses, in our opinion, the witnesses do not stand the test of stricter scrutiny, they being admittedly inimical towards the d accused persons. In this view of the matter, no reliance could have been placed on their testimony and as such the conviction of the appellant cannot be sustained.

69. Another additional aspect of the matter needs to be considered at this stage is with regard to delay in lodging of the FIR. It has come on record that on 25.4.2014 the incident of abducting the deceased by the accused has been alleged that too in the back ground of the fact that the first informant being the husband of the deceased was the eye-witness of the same. However, the first information report in question has been lodged on 19.5.2014 before the concerned police station at 16.30 hours. An explanation has been sought to be offered by the first informant that prior to it he had approached the police station Hafizganj reporting the occurrence of the incident on 25.4.2014 at 5.00 in the evening. Meaning thereby that the first informant was possessed with the information of forcefully taking away of his wife by the accused as he claimed to be eye-witness of the occurence dated 25.4.2014. The first informant at that stage did not lodge the first information report, however, according to him on 17.5.2014, he received phone call from his wife that she was kept in illegal confinement by the accused and she was subjected to outrage of modesty by the accused. Thereafter, the first informant claims to have possessed alertness and he on 19.5.2004 wrote a written complaint before the D.I.G. of Police, Bareilly region Bareilly and thereafter first information report was lodged on 19.5.2014 at 16.30 hours.

70. As per PW4 Jai Prakash he in his statement under Section 161 of the Cr.P.C. on 22.5.2014 came up with a story that he was contacted by one Nand Lal Gautam at 11.00 on 25.4.2014 and he on his assurance came in contact with Ex.MLA and proceeded to Pilibhit.

71. PW4 Jai Prakash in his subsequent statement dated 5.6.2014 further narrated the tale that he met his brother-in-law Manoj Kumar just before Fun-city at Satellite Bareilly near a hospital and at that point of time incidentally his brother Rajpal also came and he as a pillion rider sat in the motorcycle of his brother Rajpal and thereafter he went to the in-laws of his younger brother. Essentially the incident according to the PW4 Jai Prakash took place on 25.4.2014 however addition and subtraction were made in the deposition regarding the development in the incidents and it was not disputed and rather accepted by PW4 Jai Prakash that his wife was abducted on 25.4.2014.

72. Obviously, there is a delay of more than 24 days in lodging of the FIR that too in a case wherein the first informant is an eye-witness and husband, who even in fact had done interfaith marriage. The reasons of the delay have been thoroughly unexplained being unbelievable and inconceivable in the light of the fact that normally where a loving husband is witnessed with the situation whereat the wife gets abducted coupled with the fact that in-laws of the husband are not happy with the marriage then no prudent person would wait for 24 days in lodging the first information report. So much so in the statement of the PW4 Jai Prakash (Husband) it has also come on record that he on 25.4.2014 proceeded to his younger brother's in-laws place and stayed thereat for 3-4 days and did not discuss the said fact with the wife of the younger brother. The explanation so offered by PW4 Jai Prakash that he inner heart wanted his wife to be safe is not an explanation worth consideration particularly when it is not a case where Jai Prakash PW4 is not conversant with law and law enforcing authorities as it is an admitted case that PW4 Jai Prakash himself had approached the Hon'ble High Court while seeking civil protection in connection with this marriage with the deceased anticipating threat of his life.

73. Hon'ble Apex Court on the question of delay in lodging the FIR and its impact upon the prosecution theory has observed in the case of Apren Joseph Alias Current Kunjukunju and others Vs. The State of Kerala (1973) 3 SCC 114 wherein para 11 following was mandated:

11. Now first information report is a report relating to the commission of an offence given to the police and recorded by it under Section 154, Cr. P. C. As observed by the Privy Council in K. E. v. Khwaja, the receipt and recording of information report by the police is not a condition precedent to the setting in motion of a criminal investigation. Nor does the statute provide that such information report can only be made by an eye witness. First information report under Section 154 is not even considered a substantive piece of evidence. It can only be used to corroborate or contradict the informant's evidence in court. But this information when recorded is the basis of the case set up by the informant. It is very useful if recorded before there is time and opportunity to embellish or before the informant's memory fades. Undue unreasonable delay in lodging the F. I. R., therefore, inevitably gives rise to suspicion which puts the court on guard to look for the possible motive and the explanation for the delay and consider its effect on the trustworthiness or otherwise of the prosecution version. In our opinion, no duration of time in the abstract can be fixed as reasonable for giving information of a crime to the police, the question of reasonable time being a matter for determination by the court in each case. Mere delay in lodging the first information report with the police is, therefore, not necessarily, as a matter of law, fatal to the prosecution. The effect of delay in doing so in the light of the plausibility of the explanation forthcoming for such delay accordingly must fall for consideration on all the facts and circumstances of a given case.

74. In the case of Tara Singh and others Vs. State of Punjab 1991 Supp (1) SCC 536, the Hon'ble Apex Court in paragraph 4 has observed as under:-

4. It is well settled that the delay in giving the FIR by itself cannot be a ground to doubt the prosecution case. Knowing the Indian conditions as they are we cannot expect these villagers to rush to the police station immediately after the occurrence. Human nature as it is, the kith and kin who have witnessed the occurrence cannot be expected to act mechanically with all the promptitude in giving the report to the police. At times being grief-stricken because of the calamity it may not immediately occur to them that they should give a report. After all it is but natural in these circumstances for them to take some time to go to the police station for giving the report. Of course the Supreme Court as well as the High Courts have pointed out that in cases arising out of acute factions there is a tendency to implicate persons belonging to the opposite faction falsely. In order to avert the danger of convicting such innocent persons the courts are cautioned to scrutinise the evidence of such interested witnesses with greater care and caution and separate grain from the chaff after subjecting the evidence to a closer scrutiny and in doing so the contents of the FIR also will have to be scrutinised carefully. However, unless there are indications of fabrication, the court cannot reject the prosecution version as given in the FIR and later substantiated by the evidence merely on the ground of delay. These are all matters for appreciation and much depends on the facts and circumstances of each case.

75. Yet, in the case of P. Rajagopal and others Vs. State of Tamil Nadu (2019) 5 SCC 403, the Hon'ble Apex Court in paragraph 12 has held as under:-

12. Normally, the Court may reject the case of the prosecution in case of inordinate delay in lodging the first information report because of the possibility of concoction of evidence by the prosecution. However, if the delay is satisfactorily explained, the Court will decide the matter on merits without giving much importance to such delay. The Court is duty-bound to determine whether the explanation afforded is plausible enough given the facts and circumstances of the case. The delay may be condoned if the complainant appears to be reliable and without any motive for implicating the accused falsely.

76. Now another question arises as to whether the theory of last seen is to be applied and pressed into service against the accused. Notably the prosecution has sticked to its case that the deceased was abducted and abducted by the accused herein on 25.4.2014. More so the dead-body of the deceased was found on 20.5.2014 that means after a period of about 24 days.

77. The postmortem of the deceased was conducted by PW7 20.5.2014 at about 1.45 p.m. from 20.5.2014 at 11.45 p.m. to 21.5.2014 at 12.45 a.m. As per PW7 Dr. Mahavir Singh the deceased died two days prior to the conduction of postmortem while strangulating her and in cross-examination he deposed that there might be difference of 6 to 8 hours. Meaning thereby that the death of the deceased occurred around 11.45 p.m. on 18.5.2014 and if the difference of 6 to 8 hours is accounted for then time of the death would be 5.00 p.m. on 18.5.2014 to 7.00 a.m. on 19.5.2014.

Co-relating the date of abduction being 25.4.2014 it has been stated by the prosecution that the accused had forcibly taken her away and the date of the recovery of the dead-body of the deceased on 20.5.2014 coupled with the opinion so tendered by PW7, who conducted the postmortem itself shows that there is enormous time gap between the point of time when the accused and the deceased were last seen alive and when the deceased is found death.

78. In Dharam Deo Yadav Vs. State of Uttar Pradesh (2014) 5 SCC 509, the Hon'ble Apex Court in paragraph 19 has observed as under:-

19. It is trite law that a conviction cannot be recorded against the accused merely on the ground that the accused was last seen with the deceased. In other words, a conviction cannot be based on the only circumstance of last seen together. The conduct of the accused and the fact of last seen together plus other circumstances have to be looked into. Normally, last seen theory comes into play when the time gap, between the point of time when the accused and the deceased were seen last alive and when the deceased is found dead, is so small that the possibility of any person other than the accused being the perpetrator of the crime becomes impossible. It will be difficult in some cases to positively establish that the deceased was last seen with the accused when there is a long gap and possibility of other persons coming in between exists. However, if the prosecution, on the basis of reliable evidence, establishes that the missing person was seen in the company of the accused and was never seen thereafter, it is obligatory on the part of the accused to explain the circumstances in which the missing person and the accused parted company. In such a situation, the proximity of time between the event of last seen together and the recovery of the dead body or the skeleton, as the case may be, may not be of much consequence. PWs 1, 2, 3, 5, 9 and 10 have all deposed that the accused was last seen with Diana. But, as already indicated, to record a conviction, that itself would not be sufficient and the prosecution has to complete the chain of circumstances to h bring home the guilt of the accused.

79. In Dhan Raj @ Dhand Vs. State of Haryana (2014) 6 SCC 745, the Hon'ble Apex Court in paragraphs 15, 16 & 17 have observed as under:-

15. The above mentioned circumstantial evidence was supported with the statement of Raj Singh (PW 15), that when he was visiting his brother the deceased on 24-1-1997 after the deceased had left, the three accused came to the deceased's house and enquired about him after disclosing their names. Before discussing the admissibility of the said statement, we would refer to the landmark decision of this Court in Sharad Birdhichand Sarda v. State of Maharashtra regarding circumstantial evidence, where this Court held regarding the question of the accused last seen with the deceased, that where it is natural for the deceased to be with the accused at the material time, other possibilities must be excluded before an adverse inference can be drawn. It is evident from the above that this Court refrains from drawing adverse inferences in a factual matrix which points towards the guilt of the accused. Thus, we will consider the statement of Raj Singh also in the same light.

16. As per the statement of Raj Singh, the three accused had come asking for the deceased but in the absence of other corroborating evidence and independent evidence, it is not established that the appellant-accused had abetted the co-accused Sanjay in the commission of the crime. Also it can be the defence case that the said statement has been added as an afterthought to strengthen the case of the prosecution. We have found no material on record which corroborated the statement of Raj Singh who is an interested witness. Furthermore, there is no other evidence which indicates or establishes the presence of the appellant-accused near the place of commission of crime. Also, as noted by the trial court in the trial of Badal, no footprints were found in the surrounding kutcha area where the body of the deceased was found.

17. We have noticed in Madhu v. State of Kerala, facts of which were discussed earlier, that this Court in spite of the factum that the accused were sighted close to the place of occurrence at around the time of occurrence reversed the conviction as guilt was not established. In the present factual matrix, it is only an interested witness stating that the accused had come asking for the deceased. This factum alone does not establish guilt as no other evidence is found that they were near the Bizdipur area where the crime was committed or had visited the house of the deceased.

80. In Ashok Vs. State of Haryana (2015) 4 SCC 393, the Hon'ble Apex Court in paragraphs 8, 9, 10 & 11 have observed as under:-

"8. The "last seen together" theory has been elucidated by this Court in 9 Trimukh Maroti Kirkan v. State of Maharashtra², in the following words:

"22. Where an accused is alleged to have committed the murder of his wife and the prosecution succeeds in leading evidence to show that shortly before the commission of crime they were seen together or the offence takes place in the dwelling home where the husband also normally resided, it has been consistently held that if the accused does not offer any explanation how the wife received injuries or offers an explanation which is found to be false, it is a strong circumstance which indicates that he is responsible for commission of the crime. Thus, the doctrine of last seen together shifts the burden of proof onto the accused, requiring him to explain how the incident had occurred. Failure on the part of the accused to furnish any explanation in this regard, would give rise to a very strong presumption against him.

9. In Ram Gulam Chaudhary v. State of Bihar³, the accused after brutally assaulting a boy carried him away and thereafter the boy was not seen alive nor was his body found. The accused, however, offered no explanation as to what they did after they took away the boy. It was held that for absence of any explanation from the side of the accused about the boy, there was every c justification for drawing an inference that they had murdered the boy.

10. In Nika Ram v. State of H.P.4, it was observed that the fact that the accused alone was with his wife in the house when she was murdered with a "khukhri" and the fact that the relations of the accused with her were strained would, in the absence of any cogent explanation by him, point to his guilt.

11. The latest judgment on the point is Kanhaiya Lal v. State of d Rajasthan5. In this case this Court has held that the circumstance of last seen together does not by itself and necessarily lead to the inference that it was the accused who committed the crime. There must be something more establishing the connectivity between the accused and the crime. Mere non-explanation on the part of the accused by itself cannot lead to the proof of guilt against the accused.

81. In Chandrapal Vs. State of Chhattisgarh AIR 2022 S.C. 2542, the Hon'ble Apex Court in paragraphs 14, 15, 16 & 17 have observed as under:-

"14. In this regard it would be also relevant to regurgitate the law laid down by this court with regard to the theory of "Last seen together".

15. In case of Bodhraj and Ors. v. State of Jammu and Kashmir', this court held in para 31 that:

"31. The last-seen theory comes into play where the time-gap between the point of time when the accused and the deceased were last seen alive and when the deceased is found dead is so small that possibility of any person other than the accused being the author of the crime becomes impossible...."

16. In Jaswant Gir v. State of Punjab', this court held that in absence of any other links in the chain of circumstantial evidence, the accused cannot be convicted solely on the basis of "Last seen together", even if version of the prosecution witness in this regard is believed.

17. In Arjun Marik and Ors. v. State of Bihar ¹0, It was observed that the only circumstance of last seen will not complete the chain of circumstances to record the finding that it is consistent only with the hypothesis of the guilt of the accused, and therefore no conviction on that basis alone can be founded."

82. There is also a big question mark regarding the presence of the deceased along with the accused herein from the point of angle that the deceased called the first informant through the mobile phone bearing number 8273025296.

83. PW16, who claims to be Brijesh Singh L.O. Cell incharge District Lucknow came forward as a prosecution witness to prove the call details (CDR). According to him the mobile number of the accused Mahfooz being 93963971920 is stated to be owned by the accused, he is being shown to be with the deceased for the period from 16.5.2014 to 20.5.2014. PW16 produced Ex.ka13 and Ex.ka63 being the call details. The prosecution has further come up with a stand that the call detail list was submitted by PW16 to the Investigating Officer being Udai Shankar Singh.

84. On cross-examination the Investigating Officer Sri Udai Shankar Singh PW17 when asked about the call details, he deposed that the same may be available in is office but it has not been annexed. A specific statement has been made by PW17 that the mobile phone so sought to be recovered of the accused was not sealed and he had only taken the EMI number. He further deposed that he had not taken the EMI number of the other also.

85. The learned Trial Court has further gone into details and has recorded a finding that the call details with respect to the accused herein at the place of the occurrence was not proved.

86. CDR is also one of the important factors which along with the other factors if pressed into service can surface the position of the accused into order to determine as to whether he had committed crime or not. However, there is a complete procedure envisaged under Section 65-B(4) of the Indian Evidence Act wherein the production of the certificate has been held to be mandatory with certain exceptions.

87. Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Arjun Panditrao Khotkar Vs. Kailash Kushanrao Gorantyal and others (2020) 7 SCC 1 paragraphs no. 47, 51, 52 & 61 have observed as under:-

47. However, caveat must be entered here. The facts of the present case show that despite all efforts made by the respondents, both through the High Court and otherwise, to get the requisite certificate under Section 65-B(4) of the Evidence Act from the authorities concerned, yet the authorities concerned wilfully refused, on some pretext or the other, to give such certificate. In a fact-circumstance where the requisite certificate has been applied for from the person or the authority concerned, and the person or authority either refuses to give such certificate, or does not reply to such demand, the party asking for such certificate can apply to the court for its production under the provisions aforementioned of the Evidence Act, CPC or CrPC. Once such application is made to the court, and the court then orders or directs that the requisite certificate be produced by a person to whom it sends a summons to produce such certificate, the party asking for the certificate has done all that he can possibly do to obtain the requisite certificate. Two Latin maxims become important at this stage. The first is lex non cogit ad impossibilia i.e. the law does not demand the impossible, and impotentia excusat legem i.e. when there is a disability that makes it impossible to obey the law, the alleged disobedience of the law is excused.This was well put by this Court in Presidential Poll, In re, (1974) 2 SCC 33, as follows: (SCC pp. 49-50, paras 14-15).

"14. If the completion of election before the expiration of the term is not possible because of the death of the prospective candidate it is apparent that the election has commenced before the expiration of the term but completion before the expiration of the term is rendered impossible by an act beyond the control of human agency. The necessity for completing the election before the expiration of the term is enjoined by the Constitution in public and State interest to see that the governance of the country is not paralysed by non-compliance with the provision that there shall be a President of India.

15. The impossibility of the completion of the election to fill the vacancy in the office of the President before the expiration of the term of office in the case of death of a candidate as may appear from Section 7 of the 1952 Act does not rob Article 62(1) of its mandatory character. The maxim of law impotentia excusat legem is intimately connected with another maxim of law lex non cogit ad impossibilia. Impotentia excusat legem is that when there is a necessary or invincible disability to perform the mandatory part of the law that impotentia excuses. The law does not compel one to do that which one cannot possibly perform. 'Where the law creates a duty or charge, and the party is disabled to perform it, without any default in him, and has no remedy over it, there the law will in general excuse him.' Therefore, when it appears that the performance of the formalities prescribed by a statute has been rendered impossible by circumstances over which the persons interested had no control, like the act of God, the circumstances will be taken as a valid excuse. Where the act of God prevents the compliance with the words of a statute, the statutory provision is not denuded of its mandatory character because of supervening impossibility caused by the act of God. (See Broom's Legal Maxims, 10th Edn. at pp. 162-63 and Craies on Statute Law, 6th Edn. at p. 268.)"

It is important to note that the provision in question in Presidential Poll, In re24 was also mandatory, which could not be satisfied owing to an act of God, in the facts of that case.

51. On an application of the aforesaid maxims to the present case, it a is clear that though Section 65-B(4) is mandatory, yet, on the facts of this case, the respondents, having done everything possible to obtain the necessary certificate, which was to be given by a third party over whom the respondents had no control, must be relieved of the mandatory obligation contained in the said sub-section.

52. We may hasten to add that Section 65-B does not speak of the stage at which such certificate must be furnished to the Court. In Anvar P.V.2, this Court did observe that such certificate must accompany the electronic record when the same is produced in evidence. We may only add that this is so in cases where such certificate could be procured by the person seeking to rely upon an electronic record. However, in cases where either a defective certificate is given, or in cases where such certificate has been demanded and is not given by the person concerned, the Judge conducting the trial must summon the person/ persons referred to in Section 65-B(4) of the Evidence Act, and require that such certificate be given by such person/persons. This, the trial Judge ought to do when the electronic record is produced in evidence before him without the requisite certificate in the circumstances aforementioned. This is, of course, subject to discretion being exercised in civil cases in accordance with law, and in accordance with the requirements of justice on the facts of each case. When it comes to criminal trials, it is important to keep in mind the general principle that the accused must be supplied all documents that the prosecution seeks to rely upon before commencement of the trial, under the relevant sections of the CrPC.

61. We may reiterate, therefore, that the certificate required under Section 65-B(4) is a condition precedent to the admissibility of evidence by way of electronic record, as correctly held in Anvar P.V.2, and incorrectly "clarified" a in Shafhi Mohammad³. Oral evidence in the place of such certificate cannot possibly suffice as Section 65-B(4) is a mandatory requirement of the law. Indeed, the hallowed principle in Taylor v. Taylor40, which has been followed in a number of the judgments of this Court, can also be applied. Section 65-B(4) of the Evidence Act clearly states that secondary evidence is admissible only if led in the manner stated and not otherwise. To hold otherwise would render Section 65-B(4) otiose.

88. Recently Hon'ble Apex Court in Criminal Appeal No.1307 of 2019 Ravinder Singh @ Kaku Vs. State of Punjab decided on 4.5.2022 had followed the judgement in the case of Arjun Panditrao Khotkar (Supra) and paragraph 21 has held as under:-

"21. In light of the above, the electronic evidence produced before the High Court should have been in accordance with the statute and should have complied with the certification requirement, for it to be admissible in the court of law. As rightly stated above, Oral evidence in the place of such certificate, as is the case in the present matter, cannot possibly suffice as Section 65B(4) is a mandatory requirement of the law".

89. The learned Trial Court has further observed that the mandatory procedure so envisaged under Section 65-B (4) of the Evidence Act has not been followed and even in fact nobody appeared on behalf of the telecom company so as to prove the CDR.

90. The prosecution in order to prove its case beyond doubt had relied upon and refered to the statement of PW1 Qadir Khan, PW2 Rafi Ahmad, PW11 Mohd. Rizwan, PW12 Zakir Hussain, PW20 Babu Baksh, PW21 Nasir Ahmad and PW22 Nanhe Baksh.

91. The aforesaid prosecution witnesses claimed to be the resident of Village Badkheda. However, PW1 Qadir Khan, PW2 Rafi Ahmad, PW11 Mohd. Rizwan, PW12 Zakir Hussain have though deposed that they are resident of Badkheda but showed their ignorance that they had seen deceased in the house of Irshad and accordingly, they were declared to be hostile. Similarly, so far as PW20 Babu Baksh, PW21 Nasir Ahmad and PW22 Nanhe Baksh are stated to be the prosecution witnesses who while doing masonry work in the maternal uncle's place of the deceased saw the deceased. However, the aforesaid witnesses have denied witnessing the deceased in her maternal uncle's house and they were also turned hostile.

92. Though merely because prosecution witnesses turned hostile may not ipso facto be a abstract principle of law that the prosecution theory stands disbelieved but the such situation is to be seen along with other factors.

93. Notably in the present case this Court finds that there are material contradictions and inconsistency in the statement of PW Jai Prakash, who happens to be an eye-witness, delay in lodging of the FIR, huge time gap between the deceased being last seen with the accused and with the deceased, followed by the fact that CDR details do not match or mark the presence of accused with the deceased and also the fact that the postmortem report though stands proved by PW7 discloses the fact that the death occurred between the intervening night of 18/19. 5. 2014.

94. Though it might be a strong case as per the prosecution that motive was behind the commission of the crime due to the interfaith marriage so solemnized herein but the same is not a necessary element in deciding culpability. Baring PW4 Jai Prakash none of the prosecution witnesses have supported the version of the prosecution though might be that the statements so recorded in a gap of one to two years. This Court might have ignored or kept aside the statement of the prosecution witnesses who had turned hostile due to lapse of time relating to recording of statement of prosecution witnesses but neither the medical evidence in the form of postmortem report supports the case of the prosecution nor the statement of PW4 Jai Prakash the star eye-witness inspire confidence as there are not only material contradictions which go into the root of the matter but the statements itself shown that they have been tailored so as to put the prosecution case in such position for holding the accused guilty of commission of crime.

95. No doubt suspicion as it becomes pointing towards the commission of offence by the accused but it cannot be partake the character of the accused committing the crime until and unless there is chain or link between the accused and the commission of crime specifically pointing the accused nobody else. The said fact also is quiet relevant as the PW4 first informant in his cross-examination so conducted on 18.8.2017 has come up with a stand that he did not recognise the accused as they were wearing cloth on their face and he suspects that the same be accused Mahfooz and their brother.

96. In Nathiya Vs. State represented by Inspector of Police, Bagayam Police Station Vellore (2016) 10 SCC 298, the Hon'ble Apex Court in paragraph 25 has observed as under:-

"25. On an analysis of the overall fact situation, we are of the considered opinion that the chain of circumstantial evidence relied upon by the prosecution to prove the charge is visibly incomplete and incoherent to permit conviction of the appellants on the basis thereof without any trace of doubt. Though the materials on record do raise a needle of suspicion towards them, the prosecution has failed to elevate its case from the realm of "may be true" to the plane of "must be true" as is indispensably required in law for conviction on a criminal charge. It is trite to state that in a criminal trial, suspicion, howsoever grave, cannot substitute proof."

97. In Khekh Ram Vs. State of Himachal Pradesh (2018) 1 SCC 202, the Hon'ble Apex Court in paragraph 33 has observed as under:

33. It is a common place proposition that in a criminal trial, suspicion however grave, cannot take the place of proof and the prosecution to succeed has to prove its case and establish the charge by adducing convincing evidence to ward off any reasonable doubt about the complicity of the accused. For this. the prosecution case has to be in the category of "must be true" and not "may be true". This Court while dwelling on this postulation, in Rajiv Singh v. State of Bihar dilated thereon as hereunder: (Rajiv Singh case, SCC pp. 392-93. paras 66-69)

"66. It is well-entrenched principle of criminal jurisprudence that a charge can be said to be proved only when there is certain and explicit evidence to warrant legal conviction and that no person can be held guilty on pure moral conviction. Howsoever grave the alleged offence may be. otherwise stirring the conscience of any court, suspicion alone cannot take the place of legal proof. The well-established cannon of criminal justice is "fouler the crime higher the proof". In unmistakable terms, it is the mandate of law that the prosecution in order to succeed in a criminal trial, has to prove the charge(s) beyond all reasonable doubt.

67. The above enunciations resonated umpteen times to be reiterated in Raj Kumar Singh v. State of Rajasthan [10] as succinctly summarised in para 21 as hereunder: (SCC pp. 731-32)

21. Suspicion, however grave it may be, cannot take the place of proof, and there is a large difference between something that "may be" proved and "will be proved". In a criminal trial, suspicion no matter how strong, cannot and must not be permitted to take place of proof. This is for the reason that the mental distance between "may be` and "must be" is quite large and divides vague conjectures from sure conclusions. In a criminal case, the court has a duty to ensure that mere conjectures or suspicion do not take the place of legal proof. The large distance between "may be" true and "must be" true, must be covered by way of clear, cogent and unimpeachable evidence produced by the prosecution, before an accused is condemned as a convict, and the basic and golden rule must be applied. In such cases, while keeping in mind the distance between "may be" true and "must be" true, the court must maintain the vital distance between conjectures and sure conclusions to be arrived at, on the touchstone of dispassionate judicial scrutiny based upon a complete and comprehensive appreciation of all features of the case, as well as the quality and credibility of the evidence brought on record. The court must ensure that miscarriage of justice is avoided and if the facts and circumstances of a case so demand, then the benefit of doubt must be given to the accused, keeping in mind that a reasonable doubt is not an imaginary, trivial or a merely probable doubt, but a fair doubt that is based upon reason and common sense.'

68. In supplementation, it was held in affirmation of the view taken in Kali Ram v. State of H.P.11 that if two views are possible on the evidence adduced in the case, one pointing to the guilt of the accused and the other to his innocence, the view which is favourable to the accused should be adopted.

69. In terms of this judgment, suspicion, howsoever grave cannot take the place of proof and the prosecution case to succeed has to be in the category of "must be" and not "may be": a distance to be covered by way of clear, cogent and unimpeachable evidence to rule out any possibility of wrongful conviction of the accused and resultant miscarriage of justice. For this, the Court has to essentially undertake an exhaustive and analytical appraisal of the evidence on record and register findings as warranted by the same. The above proposition is so well established that it does not call for multiple citations to further consolidate the same."

98. So far as the recovery of the dead-body of the deceased is concerned it has come on record that a written complaint was lodged by one Tilak Ram PW3 on 20.5.2014 as though he did not identify the deceased but the resident villagers identified the same being the sister of Mahfooz Ansari. PW3 in his statement has come up with a stand that he does not recognise the deceased. However, according to him he has stated that the FIR was written in the writing of one Ravi Sharma and he signed the same. He denied to have given any statement under Section 161 Cr.P.C. Eventually PW4 Tilak Ram got hostile. As PW6 Ravi Sharma deposed, that he wrote the complaint on the directions of his father Tilak Ram Sharma, who narrated the facts but he does not recognise the deceased. PW5 happens to be one Onkar, who is stated to have witnessed the Panchayatnama, he though deposed that he signed the Panchayatnama but he did not recognise the dead-body itself. PW19 Siyaram also deposed that he did not recognise the body of the deceased and he also turned hostile. PW24 Mohd. Fahim completely denied in his deposition that any dead-body was found on 20.5.2014, thus he also became hostile.

99. Though it has been alleged by the prosecution that the deceased was subjected to an occasion whereby her modesty was to be outraged by the accused while committing bad act but neither the same could be surfaced in the postmortem nor there has been any evidence led by the prosecution so as to corroborate the same. The said aspect is also important as the same along with the other factors shows that the ocular testimony of PW4 also does not inspire confidence of the Court so as to support the prosecution case.

100. Net analysis of the background so painted by the prosecution goes to show that barring PW4 Jai Prakash nobody has supported the prosecution case entailing demolition of the entire prosecution theory.

101. Though learned AGA has sought to argue that the prosecution theory is erected upon solid foundation but we find that the case of the prosecution proceeds on weak foundation.

102. Cumulatively giving anxious consideration to the judgment and the order passed by the learned trial court acquitting the accused, this Court finds that the learned trial court has not committed any palpable illegality or perversity as the learned trial court has appreciated each and every aspect of the matter from the four-corners of law while acquitting the accused. The view taken by the learned trial court is a possible and plausible view based upon not only the appreciation of the testimony of the prosecution witnesses and the documents so adduced therein but also upon the cardial principles of law which govern the subject in question.

103. Thus, this Court has no option but to concur that the judgement of the learned trial court whereby the accused herein has been acquitted.

104. Resultantly no ground is made so as to accord leave to appeal and accordingly the same is rejected.

105. As the leave to appeal stands rejected thus the present Government Appeal so instituted by the State-appellant under Section 378(3) of the Cr.P.C. stands dismissed.

106. The record and proceedings be sent back to the court-below.

(2022) 9 ILRA 1019
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 31.08.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DINESH KUMAR SINGH, J.

Government Appeal No. 778 of 2021

State of U.P. ...Appellant
Versus
Mukhtar Ansari & Anr. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant:
G.A.

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sushil Kumar Singh, Abhishek Misra, Karunesh Singh, Satendra Kumar (Singh)

Criminal Law - Criminal Procedure Code, 1973 - Section 378, - Indian Penal Code, 1860 -Section 506 - Government Appeal – against order of Acquittal – written complainant - FIR - Complainant in his cross-examination admit that merely on the basis of suspicion, he gave the complaint, however those accused person did not commit any offence - court finds that, prosecution case was only based on suspicion and without there being any cogent and credible evidence to connect the accused person - A person cannot be convicted merely on the basis of suspicion if the suspicion is not otherwise proved - impugned judgment and order requires no interference - thus, appeal dismissed. (Para 18, 19, 20)

Appeal dismissed. (E-11)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dinesh Kumar Singh, J.)

1. The present appeal under Section 378 Cr.P.C. has been filed against the judgement and order dated 23.12.2020 passed by the Special Judge, MP/MLA/Additional Sessions Judge, Court No.19, Lucknow in Criminal Case No.970 of 2018, arising out of Case Crime No.126 of 1999, under Section 506 IPC, Police Station Krishna Nagar, District Lucknow, whereby the learned trial court had acquitted the respondents for the offence under Section 506 IPC.

2. The facts of the case, in brief, are that respondents, Mukhtar Ansari and Abhay Singh were imprisoned in Lucknow Jail as under trial. The complainant, S.P. Singh Pundir was serving in Uttar Pradesh Police as Additional Inspector General of Police (Prison). On 26.2.1999, a search operation was conducted in the Lucknow Prison and barracks were searched. It was alleged that respondent, Mukhtar Ansari, who was sitting Member of Legislative Assembly at that time and Abhay Singh, who are the Mafias, were unhappy with the search conducted by the police in the prison. Search was conducted on the order passed by Sri S.P. Singh Pundir, Additional Inspector General of Police (Prison). It was alleged that Mukhtar Ansari, respondent no.1 gave threat to kill Sri Sri S.P. Singh Pundir, Additional Inspector General of Police (Prison).

3. It was further said that on 27.2.1999 at around 10.30 P.M., Sri Manish Pundir, son of Sri S.P. Singh Pundir told the complainant that two persons were sitting on a motorcycle under the Eucalyptus tree near the house of the complainant and they were smoking cigarettes. They were staring towards the house of the complainant. When the complainant along with others came out of the house, two persons siting under the Eucalyptus tree had vanished from there. It was further alleged that out of two, one was well built of six feet height and the second one was of short height and fatty.

4. On 28.2.1999, again at 9.15 P.M. when the son of the complainant came out of the house with his dog for a walk, he noticed that a person jumping out from the vacant plot near the house of the complainant. One person of short height and well built wearing shirt and pant having stole was seen running towards eucalyptus tree. It was further said that two persons, who were seen under the eucalyptus tree on previous day, were also present near the eucalyptus tree. Two persons present near the eucalyptus tree were giving signals to a third person. Thereafter, these persons sat on rickshaw and went from there. Son of the complainant told the complainant about this incident and they could see three persons going on rickshaw at a little distance.

5. On 1.3.1999 at around 12.15 A.M., two persons on a motorcycle were seen near the house of the complainant in suspicious condition, and when the complainant could see them, they went inside the Hydel Colony, which was situated near the house of the complainant. It was further said that Hydel Colony was not a thoroughfare. The complainant informed about these incidents through telephone to police control room and also to other officers. The complainant could gather information that on 27.2.1999 and 28.2.1999, the persons who were seen near the house of the complainant, were also seen near the house of his official driver.

These persons were also seen on motorcycle near the office of the complainant. Two persons were on Yamaha Motorcycle having numbers UP32 W 5721 or UP32 K 5721. The complainant suspected that these persons were the men of Mafia, Mukhtar Ansari and they were being sent to kill the complainant, his family members, abduction or causing other damages to his family. It was further said that Mukhtar Ansari was trying to terrorise the complainant, so that he could flout the jail rules. Mukhtar Ansari by creating terror was interfering in the official work for the purpose of carrying out his illegal activities from the prison.

6. A written complaint was given on 1.3.1999 by Sri Sri S.P. Singh Pundir, Additional Inspector General of Police (Prison) and on the basis of written complaint, an FIR got registered at Case Crime No.126 of 1999, under Section 506 IPC. The Investigating Officer after conducting the investigation, filed the charge sheet against the Mukhtar Ansari and Abhay Singh under Section 506 IPC. Vide order dated 8.12.2003, the charge under Section 506 IPC was framed against the two respondents. The prosecution to prove its case examined as many as six witnesses.

7. P.W.-1, S.P. Singh Pundir, in his examination-in-chief had reiterated the allegations in the FIR. He proved the complaint, which was marked as Ext.Ka-1. In his cross-examination, he said that as per the direction given by the Government, a search was carried out in the prison, in which District Magistrate, Senior Superintendent of Police, Lucknow and the Sub-Divisional Magistrate were present. This search was conducted under his supervision. On 26.2.1999, Abhay Singh was brought to the court to attend a case. He further said that neither Mukhtar Ansari nor Abhay Singh gave any threat to him during search operation. The persons, who were seen loitering around the house of the complainant on 27.2.1999 and 28.2.1999 ,were not seen by the complainant himself. On 1.3.1999 at around 12.15 A.M., he saw the suspicious persons. He said that on the basis of the suspicion, he gave the complainant, on which the FIR got registered. He said that the suspicious persons, who were seen near the house of the complainant, were never spotted with Mukhtar Ansari or Abhay Singh.

8. P.W.-2, Manish Pundir, in his extermination-in-chief supported the prosecution case. However, in his cross-examination, he said that his father did not tell him and other family members who were the persons unhappy by the search operation. He deposed that during discussion in the house, he and other family members got suspicious about the persons coming or going near their house. He further said that road in front of their house was a thoroughfare and people would come and go on that road. On the basis of suspicion, he noticed the suspects and their built etc. On 27th and 28th February, 1999, the suspects who were noticed by him, did not say anything to him or any other family member. It was further said that he did not tell any number of the motorcycle in his statement recorded under Section 161 Cr.P.C., and if such a number had been mentioned in the case diary, he was not in a position to tell how the said number of motorcycle was mentioned in the case diary. He further said that no one had given any threat to him or any other family member in his presence.

9. P.W.-3, Saurabh Bhatnagar, in his statement said that motorcycle no.UP32 5721 mentioned in the statement of P.W.-1 under Section 161 Cr.P.C. was his motorcycle and at the time of incident, he was in Moradabad and on 1.3.1999 at around 12 hours, this motorcycle was standing in his house. He further said that he would only ride the said motorcycle.

10. P.W.-4, Prem Shanker Dixit, in his extermination-in-chief said that on 26.2.1999, he was posted as warden in the District Jail, Lucknow, and he was on duty from 12 hours to 4 P.M. On 14.2.1999, some persons had come to meet the prisoner, Mukhtar Ansari. There was no stamp on their hands and he asked these persons to show permission as seal was not stamped on their hands, which would be stamped on the hands of the persons coming to meet a prisoner. He further said that nobody gave direct threat to him. On 26.2.1999, the search operation was conducted under the supervision of Sri S.P. Singh Pundir, Additional Inspector General of Police (Prison) and he was on duty at the gate. He could not hear any threat given by anyone as he was around 200 meters away from where the search operation was being conducted. He himself was not threatened by anyone when he asked the persons coming to meet Mukhtar Ansari to show permission to meet him. This witness was declared hostile. He said that respondent, Mukhtar Ansari and Abhay Singh did not threaten the complainant to kill him or his family members in front of him. He did not give any such statement to the Investigating Officer. This witness was cross-examined by the prosecution. However, in his cross-examination also, he said that the Investigating Officer did not take any statement of him.

11. P.W.-5, Constable, Daya Shanker in his examination-in-chief proved the FIR, which was marked as Ext.Ka-2.

12. P.W.-6. Javed Khan, Investigating Officer who conducted partial investigation and prepared the site plan, which was proved by him and marked as Ext.Ka-3. In his cross-examination, he said that he recorded the statement of the complainant, however, the complainant did not tell him about the persons, who were found loitering around his house on 26th and 27th February, 1999 and on 1.3.1999. He did not recover any motorcycle.

13. Learned trial court after analysing the evidence brought on record by the prosecution, was of the opinion that the prosecution had failed to bring on record any cogent and credible evidence against the respondents and the case was of no evidence. In view thereof, the respondents were acquitted for the offence under Section 506 IPC.

14. Sri Umesh Chandra Verma, learned AGA along with Sri Rao Narendra Singh, learned AGA for the appellant-State submits that the respondents were in prison in respect of the murder of Jail Superintendent, R.K. Tewari, who was brutally murdered near the Governor?s House on a busy road in broad day light. He further submits that the respondents are Mafia Dons having several cases of committing heinous offences to their credit. Allegedly, murder of Jail Superintendent, R.K. Tewari was planned by the accused-respondents, who command rein of terror in the minds and hearts of the people including the officials. He also submits that the accused-respondents did not appreciate that any jail staff or any official would stop and search a person coming to meet them. They would like free entry of people coming to meet them in violation of Jail Manual and relevant Rules. The accused-respondents had guts and confidence to terrorise the jail staff and gave threats of killing the senior officer like the Additional Inspector General of Police (Prison) as search operation was conducted under his supervision in the prison on Government order.

15. Sri Umesh Chandra Verma, learned AGA further submits that threats were given in the prison, which was heard by P.W.-4. However, P.W. 4, out of fear and terror, turned hostile during his examination in the court. He also submits that P.W.-2, son of the complainant, soon after the search operation, on 26.2.1999 noticed suspicious persons loitering around the house of the complainant in the night to execute the threat. Testimony of the son of the complainant was not shaken during his cross-examination. Even P.W.-1 has supported the prosecution case in all respects. He, therefore, submits that considering the fact that the accused-respondents command, fear and threat in the minds and hearts of the general public as well as the officials, the trial court finding that the offence under Section 506 IPC was not proved against the respondents, is wholly erroneous. Soon after the complainant could come to know about the threats given by Mukhtar Ansari for his killing and abduction etc., suspicious persons loitered around his house were noticed by his son. If the testimony of P.W.-1 and P.W.-2 is considered together, offence under Section 506 IPC is clearly made out and, therefore, the impugned judgement and order passed by the trial court acquitting the accused-respondents for the offence under Section 506 IPC, is unsustainable and is liable to be set aside, and the accused-respondents should be convicted for offence under Section 506 IPC.

16. On the other hand, Sri Jyotindra Misra, learned Senior Advocate, assisted by Sri Sushil Kumar Singh, learned counsel for the accused-respondents has submitted that P.W.-1 in his evidence before the court, had said that he lodged the FIR on the basis of suspicion. He did not hear any threat given by the accused-respondents. He also submits that accused-respondents did not misbehave or utter anything when the search operation was conducted. However, he came to know that threats were given by the accused-respondents for his elimination. He. Further submits that P.W.-2 in his evidence before the court, has said that road in front of their house is thoroughfare and people would use that road for commuting. After his father discussed about the perceived threat, he started suspecting people, who would come and go from the road in front of their house, and he himself said that it was a mere suspicion as those persons, who were suspected, did not commit any wrong or harm P.W.-2 or any of the family members. Even the motorcycle, which was said to be present on 1.3.1999 near the house of the complainant, was of P.W.-5. He has, therefore, submitted that on the basis of mere suspicion without there being any cogent and credible evidence, the respondents could not have been convicted and there is no evidence on record, which can be said to be cogent and credible to prove the offence under Section 506 IPC against the respondents. Merely on the basis of suspicion and general and perception image of the respondents, the conviction cannot be recorded for an offence, which on the basis of the facts and circumstances and the evidence, is not made out against the respondents.

17. I have considered the submissions advanced by the learned counsel for the parties and perused the record.

18. P.W.-1, the complainant in his cross-examination, had clearly said that merely on the basis of suspicion, he gave the compliant, on which the FIR in question came to be registered. From perusal of the evidence of P.W.-1 and P.W.-2, it would be evident that the complainant and his son had only suspicion about the perceived threat given by the accused-respondents and they believed that persons, who were noticed loitering around their house on 26.2.1999, 27.2.1999 and 1.3.1999, had come to execute that threat. It is further admitted that these persons did not commit any offence nor did they say anything to the complainant or his family members.

19. In view of the aforesaid facts and the evidence on record, this court is of the view that the prosecution case was based on suspicion without there being any cogent and credible evidence to connect the accused-respondents for commission of offence under Section 506 IPC. The prosecution is required to prove the charge by leading cogent and credible evidence. A person cannot be convicted merely on the basis of suspicion if the suspicion is not otherwise proved by leading cogent and credible evidence.

20. Considering the aforesaid facts and circumstances and the evidence, I am of the view that the impugned judgement and order passed by the learned trial court does not require any interference by this Court and thus, the appeal gets dismissed.

21. Consigned to record.

(2022) 9 ILRA 1024
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 06.08.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. KAUSHAL JAYENDRA THAKER, J.
HON'BLE AJAI TYAGI, J.

Government Appeal No. 1919 of 1985

The State of U.P. ...Appellant
Versus
Vijai Kumar & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant:
G.A., Sri D.S. Mishra

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri S.K. Agarwal, Sri Indra Bhan Yadav, Sri Onkar Singh

Criminal Law – Criminal Procedure Code, 1973 - Sections 313 & 378 - Indian Penal Code,1860 - Sections 34, 201 & 302 - Government Appeal – Acquittal – offence of murder - FIR - accused husband murder his wife for bring more and more money from her father - acquitted all the four accused - Govt. Appeal - held - in view of settled law lay down by Hon'ble Apex Court - when chain has been found to be incomplete and when evidence is so scanty than accused cannot punished or convicted for offences - interference with acquittal can only be justified when it is based on a perverse view - consequently Government Appeal stands dismissed.(Para –24, 25, 26)

Appeal dismissed. (E-11)

List of Cases cited:

1. M.S. Narayana Menon @ Mani Vs St. of Kerala & Anr., (2006) 6 S.C.C. 39,

2. Chandrappa Vs St. of Karna., (2007) 4 S.C.C. 415,

3. St. of Goa Vs Sanjay Thakran & Anr., (2007) 3 S.C.C. 75,

4. St. of U. P. Vs Ram Veer Singh & ors., 2007 A.I.R. S.C.W. 5553,

5. Girja Prasad (Dead) by L.R.s Vs St. of M.P., 2007 A.I.R. S.C.W. 5589,

6. Luna Ram Vs Bhupat Singh & ors., (2009) SCC 749,

7. Mookkiah & anr. Vs St., rep. by the Inspector of Police, Tamil Nadu, AIR 2013 SC 321,

8. St. of Raj. Vs Sohan Lal & ors., (2004) 5 SCC 573,

9. St. of Karn. Vs Hemareddy, AIR 1981 SC 1417,

10. Shivasharanappa & ors. Vs St. of Karn., JT 2013 (7) SC 66,

11. St. of Pun. Vs Madan Mohan Lal Verma, (2013) 14 SCC 153,

12. Jayaswamy Vs St. of Karn., (2018) 7 SCC 219,

13. Shailendra Rajdev Pasvan v. St. of Guj., (2020) 14 SC 750,

14. Samsul Haque v. St. of Assam, (2019) 18 SCC 161.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Kaushal Jayendra Thaker, J.)

1. Heard Sri D.S.Mishra, learned counsel for the appellant. None present for the accused-respondents. This is a Government Appeal of the year 1985 listed time and again. We are ably assisted by Sri D.S. Mishra, learned counsel.

2. This appeal under Section 378 of Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 (hereinafter referred to as 'Cr.P.C.'), is preferred at the behest of the State of Uttar Pradesh, preferred against the judgment and order dated 19.04.1985 passed by learned Additional Sessions Judge, Court No.3, Saharanpur in Sessions Trial No. 69 of 1983 acquitting accused-respondents were tried for commission of offence under Sections 302/34 & 201 of Indian Penal Code, 1860 (hereinafter referred to as 'IPC').

3. Brief facts as culled out from the record are that accused-respondents were alleged to have committed the murder of Savita Devi wife of Vijai Kumar on 26.11.1978, sometime in the morning in their own house. Smt. Savita Devi was married to Vijai Kumar in March 1976 and her father gave dowry best to his capacity but Vijai Kumar and his family members were not satisfied and exercised undue pressure on Savita Devi even to the extent of assaulting her to bring more and more money from her father. Several letters were also written by Vijai Kumar to Jaipal Singh, father of Savita Devi. On 15.11.1978 Savita Devi came to her father's home and requested him to pay a sum of Rs. 5000/- for buying motorcycle for her husband and informed that in case of failure to comply with the demand her life would be in danger. Jaipal could not understand the gravity of the situation and sent her back to her matrimonial home, however, the incident occurred immediately thereafter. The accused were arrested and were sent for trial to the Sessions Court as the cases were exclusively triable by the Court of Sessions.

4. As per the office report and C.J.M's report, Vijay Kumar and Smt. Heera Devi have passed away on 07.03.2012 and 30.10.2008 respectively. Dayaram and Sitaram are alive as per the office report.

5. It is submitted by learned counsel for the State that this appeal by the State is challenging mainly acquittal of Vijai Kumar and accused Heera Devi which have been proved by the letters produced at Exhibit 1 to 5 before the trial court. The circumstantial evidence is clear and that the chain is complete. The guilt of the accused persons is proved, just because there is delay in lodging the F.I.R, the benefit of doubt was granted. It is further submitted that it cannot be said that the prosecution case should be discarded on this ground. It is further submitted that since 17.11.1978, when the deceased met her father there was demand of dowry and therefore there was a motive of committing the murder of Savita Devi. It is further submitted that father of deceased never received any message regarding she being ill.

6. The F.I.R culminated into charge-sheet and accused were committed to Sessions.

7. On being summoned, the accused-person pleaded not guilty and wanted to be tried. The offence for which accused was charged was triable by the Court of Sessions, hence, the accused-respondents were committed to the Court of Sessions. The learned Sessions Judge framed charge for commission of offence of murder punishable under Section 302 of the Indian Penal Code (IPC).

8. The Trial started and the prosecution examined 9 witnesses enumerated as below:

1	Kalu Ram	PW1
2	Nem Chand	PW 2
3	Baljeet	PW3
4	Ashok Kumar	PW4
5	Smt. Simla	PW5
6	Smt. Jogendra	PW6
7	Jaipal Singh	PW7
8	Dr. S.C. Singhal	PW8
9	Braham Singh	PW9
10	Inspector Satpal Singh Tyagi	PW 10

9. In support of ocular version following documents were filed:

1	Five Letters	Ex.Ka.1 to Ex.Ka.5
2	Typed report	Ex.Ka.6
3	Private complaint	Ex.Ka.7
4	Postmortem report	Ex.Ka.8
5	Inquest report	Ex.Ka.9
6	Photo Nash	Ex.Ka.10
7	Challan Nash	Ex.Ka.11
8	Letter to C.M.O	Ex.Ka.12
9	Site Plan	Ex.Ka.13
10	Written application to police record keeper	Ex.Ka.14
11	Report of police record keeper	Ex.Ka.15

10. At the end of the trial and after recording the statement of the accused persons under section 313 Cr.P.C., and hearing arguments on behalf of prosecution and the defence, the learned Sessions Judge convicted the appellant as mentioned above.

11. In order the challenge the judgment of acquittal, learned A.G.A for the state has submitted that the learned Sessions Judge has illegally disbelieved statements of the prosecution witnesses and without assigning any cogent reasons has disbelieved prosecution story. It is further submitted that the evidence on record and surrounding circumstances have not been properly appreciated by the Trial Court. It is further submitted that the learned Additional Sessions Judge after going through the evidence given by the P.W.-1 to P.W.-6 mentioned above acquitted all the 4 accused on the following grounds:

(i) Because the chain of evidence was not complete;

(ii) Because there was no motive for the accused persons to commit the murder of Savita Devi;

(iii) Because the prosecution evidence has failed due to infirmities;

(iv) Because there is delay in lodging first information report.

12. Before we embark on testimony and appreciate the reasonings in the judgment of the Court below, the contours for interfering in Criminal Appeals where accused have been held to be not guilty would require to be discussed.

13. The principles which would govern and regulate the hearing of an appeal by this Court, against an order of acquittal passed by the trial Court, have been very succinctly explained by the Apex Court in catena of decisions.

In the case of "M.S. NARAYANA MENON @ MANI VS. STATE OF KERALA & ANR", (2006) 6 S.C.C. 39, the Apex Court has narrated the powers of the High Court in appeal against the order of acquittal. In para 54 of the decision, the Apex Court has observed as under:

"54. In any event the High Court entertained an appeal treating to be an appeal against acquittal, it was in fact exercising the revisional jurisdiction. Even while exercising an appellate power against a judgment of acquittal, the High Court should have borne in mind the well settled principles of law that where two view are possible, the appellate Court should not interfere with the finding of acquittal recorded by the Court below."

14. Further, in the case of "CHANDRAPPA Vs. STATE OF KARNATAKA", reported in (2007) 4 S.C.C. 415, the Apex Court laid down the following principles;

"42. From the above decisions, in our considered view, the following general principles regarding powers of the appellate Court while dealing with an appeal against an order of acquittal emerge:

[1] An appellate Court has full power to review, re-appreciate and reconsider the evidence upon which the order of acquittal is founded.

[2] The Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 puts no limitation, restriction or condition on exercise of such power and an appellate Court on the evidence before it may reach its own conclusion, both on questions of fact and of law.

[3] Various expressions, such as,"substantial and compelling reasons", "good and sufficient grounds", "very strong circumstances", "distorted conclusions", "glaring mistakes", etc. are not intended to curtain extensive powers of an appellate Court in an appeal against acquittal. Such phraseologies are more in the nature of "flourishes of language" to emphasis the reluctance of an appellate Court to interfere with acquittal than to curtail the power of the Court to review the evidence and to come to its own conclusion.

[4] An appellate Court, however, must bear in mind that in case of acquittal there is double presumption in favour of the accused. Firstly, the presumption of innocence is available to him under the fundamental principle of criminal jurisprudence that every person shall be presumed to be innocent unless he is proved guilty by a competent Court of law. Secondly, the accused having secured his acquittal, the presumption of his innocence is further reinforced, reaffirmed and strengthened by the trial Court.

[5] If two reasonable conclusions are possible on the basis of the evidence on record, the appellate Court should not disturb the finding of acquittal recorded by the trial Court."

15. Thus, it is a settled principle that while exercising appellate powers, even if two reasonable views/conclusions are possible on the basis of the evidence on record, the appellate Court should not disturb the finding of acquittal recorded by the trial Court.

16. In the case titled "STATE OF GOA Vs. SANJAY THAKRAN & ANR.", reported in (2007) 3 S.C.C. 75, the Apex Court has reiterated the powers of the High Court in appeals against acquital. In para 16 of the said decision, the Court has observed as under:

"16. From the aforesaid decisions, it is apparent that while exercising the powers in appeal against the order of acquittal the Court of appeal would not ordinarily interfere with the order of acquittal unless the approach of the lower Court is vitiated by some manifest illegality and the conclusion arrived at would not be arrived at by any reasonable person and, therefore, the decision is to be characterized as perverse. Merely because two views are possible, the Court of appeal would not take the view which would upset the judgment delivered by the Court below. However, the appellate Court has a power to review the evidence if it is of the view that the conclusion arrived at by the Court below is perverse and the Court has committed a manifest error of law and ignored the material evidence on record. A duty is cast upon the appellate Court, in such circumstances, to re-appreciate the evidence to arrive to a just decision on the basis of material placed on record to find out whether any of the accused is connected with the commission of the crime he is charged with."

17. Similar principle has been laid down by the Apex Court in cases titled "STATE OF UTTAR PRADESH VS. RAM VEER SINGH & ORS.", 2007 A.I.R. S.C.W. 5553 and in "GIRJA PRASAD (DEAD) BY L.R.s VS. STATE OF MP", 2007 A.I.R. S.C.W. 5589. Thus, the powers, which this Court may exercise against an order of acquittal, are well settled.

18. In the case of "LUNA RAM VS. BHUPAT SINGH AND ORS.", reported in (2009) SCC 749, the Apex Court in para 10 and 11 has held as under:

"10. The High Court has noted that the prosecution version was not clearly believable. Some of the so called eye witnesses stated that the deceased died because his ankle was twisted by an accused. Others said that he was strangulated. It was the case of the prosecution that the injured witnesses were thrown out of the bus. The doctor who conducted the postmortem and examined the witnesses had categorically stated that it was not possible that somebody would throw a person out of the bus when it was in running condition.

11. Considering the parameters of appeal against the judgment of acquittal, we are not inclined to interfere in this appeal. The view of the High Court cannot be termed to be perverse and is a possible view on the evidence."

19. In a recent decision of the Apex Court in the case titled "MOOKKIAH AND ANR. VS. STATE, REP. BY THE INSPECTOR OF POLICE, TAMIL NADU", reported in AIR 2013 SC 321, the Apex Court in para 4 has held as under:

"4. It is not in dispute that the trial Court, on appreciation of oral and documentary evidence led in by the prosecution and defence, acquitted the accused in respect of the charges leveled against them. On appeal by the State, the High Court, by impugned order, reversed the said decision and convicted the accused under Section 302 read with Section 34 of IPC and awarded RI for life. Since counsel for the appellants very much emphasized that the High Court has exceeded its jurisdiction in upsetting the order of acquittal into conviction, let us analyze the scope and power of the High Court in an appeal filed against the order of acquittal. This Court in a series of decisions has repeatedly laid down that as the first appellate court the High Court, even while dealing with an appeal against acquittal, was also entitled, and obliged as well, to scan through and if need be reappreciate the entire evidence, though while hoosing to interfere only the court should find an absolute assurance of the guilt on the basis of the evidence on record and not merely because the High Court could take one more possible or a different view only. Except the above, where the matter of the extent and depth of consideration of the appeal is concerned, no distinctions or differences in approach are envisaged in dealing with an appeal as such merely because one was against conviction or the other against an acquittal. [Vide State of Rajasthan vs. Sohan Lal and Others, (2004) 5 SCC 573]"

20. It is also a settled legal position that in acquittal appeals, the appellate Court is not required to rewrite the judgment or to give fresh reasonings, when the reasons assigned by the Court below are found to be just and proper. Such principle is laid down by the Apex Court in the case of "STATE OF KARNATAKA VS. HEMAREDDY", AIR 1981, SC 1417, wherein it is held as under:

"...This Court has observed in Girija Nandini Devi V. Bigendra Nandini Choudhary (1967) 1 SCR 93:(AIR 1967 SC 1124) that it is not the duty of the Appellate Court on the evidence to repeat the narration of the evidence or to reiterate the reasons given by the trial Court expression of general agreement with the reasons given by the Court the decision of which is under appeal, will ordinarily suffice."

21. The Apex Court in "SHIVASHARANAPPA & ORS. VS. STATE OF KARNATAKA", JT 2013 (7) SC 66 has held as under:

"That appellate Court is empowered to reappreciate the entire evidence, though, certain other principles are also to be adhered to and it has to be kept in mind that acquittal results into double presumption of innocence."

22. Further, in the case of "STATE OF PUNJAB VS. MADAN MOHAN LAL VERMA", (2013) 14 SCC 153, the Apex Court has held as under:

"The law on the issue is well settled that demand of illegal gratification is sine qua non for constituting an offence under the 1988 Act. Mere recovery of tainted money is not sufficient to convict the accused when substantive evidence in the case is not reliable, unless there is evidence to prove payment of bribe or to show that the money was taken voluntarily as a bribe. Mere receipt of the amount by the accused is not sufficient to fasten guilt, in the absence of any evidence with regard to demand and acceptance of the amount as illegal gratification. Hence, the burden rests on the accused to displace the statutory presumption raised under Section 20 of the 1988 Act, by bringing on record evidence, either direct or circumstantial, to establish with reasonable probability, that the money was accepted by him, other than as a motive or reward as referred to in Section 7 of the 1988 Act. While invoking the provisions of Section 20 of the Act, the court is required to consider the explanation offered by the accused, if any, only on the touchstone of preponderance of probability and not on the touchstone of proof beyond all reasonable doubt. However, before the accused is called upon to explain how the amount in question was found in his possession, the foundational facts must be established by the prosecution. The complainant is an interested and partisan witness concerned with the success of the trap and his evidence must be tested in the same way as that of any other interested witness. In a proper case, the court may look for independent corroboration before convincing the accused person."

23. The Apex Court recently in Jayaswamy vs. State of Karnataka, (2018) 7 SCC 219, has laid down the powers of appellate court in re-appreciating the evidence in a case where the State has preferred an appeal against acquittal, which read as follows:

"10.It is by now well settled that the Appellate Court hearing the appeal filed against the judgment and order of acquittal will not overrule or otherwise disturb the Trial Court's acquittal if the Appellate Court does not find substantial and compelling reasons for doing so. If the Trial Court's conclusion with regard to the facts is palpably wrong; if the Trial Court's decision was based on erroneous view of law; if the Trial Court's judgment is likely to result in grave miscarriage of justice; if the entire approach of the Trial Court in dealing with the evidence was patently illegal; if the Trial Court judgment was manifestly unjust and unreasonable; and if the Trial Court has ignored the evidence or misread the material evidence or has ignored material documents like dying declaration/report of the ballistic expert etc. the same may be construed as substantial and compelling reasons and the first appellate court may interfere in the order of acquittl. However, if the view taken by the Trial Court while acquitting the accused is one of the possible views under the facts and circumstances of the case, the Appellate Court generally will not interfere with the order of acquittal particularly in the absence of the aforementioned factors.

.....It is relevant to note the observations of this Court in the case of Ramanand Yadav vs. Prabhu Nath Jha & Ors., (2003) 12 SCC 606, which reads thus:

"21.There is no embargo on the appellate court reviewing the evidence upon which an order of acquittal is based. Generally, the order of acquittal shall not be interfered with because the presumption of innocence of the accused is further strengthened by acquittal. The golden thread which runs through the web of administration of justice in criminal cases is that if two views are possible on the evidence adduced in the case, one pointing to the guilt of the accused and the other to his innocence, the view which is favourable to the accused should be adopted. The paramount consideration of the court is to ensure that miscarriage of justice is prevented. A miscarriage of justice which may arise from acquittal of the guilty is no less than from the conviction of an innocent. In a case where admissible evidence is ignored, a duty is cast upon the appellate court to re-appreciate the evidence in a case where the accused has been acquitted, for the purpose of ascertaining as to whether any of the accused committed any offence or not."

24. The Apex Court recently in Shailendra Rajdev Pasvan v. State of Gujarat, (2020) 14 SC 750, has held that the appellate court is reversing the trial court's order of acquittal, it should give proper weight and consideration to the presumption of innocence in favour of accused, and to the principle that such a presumption sands reinforced, reaffirmed and strengthened by the trial court and in Samsul Haque v. State of Assam, (2019) 18 SCC 161 held that judgment of acquittal, where two views are possible, should not be set aside, even if view formed by appellate court may be a more probable one, interference with acquittal can only be justified when it is based on a perverse view.

25. We have perused the depositions of prosecution witnesses, documentary evidence supporting ocular versions, arguments advanced by learned counsel for the parties. We have been taken through the record. We are unable to accept the submissions of the State counsel for the following reasons and the judgments of the Apex Court which lay down the criteria for consideration of appeals against acquittal. The chain has been found to be incomplete. While going through the judgment it is very clear that the court below has given a categorical finding that the evidence is so scanty that the accused cannot punished and or convicted for the offences for which they are charged. The factual scenario in the present case will not permit us to take a different view than that taken by the court below. In that view of the matter we are unable to satisfy ourselves. Thus we concur the findings of the court below.

26. After considering the facts and circumstances of the present case and appraisal of the evidence available on record and on the contours laid down by the judgment of the Apex Court, we have no other option but to concur with the reasoning of acquittal recorded by the learned Sessions Judge for the aforesaid reasons.

27. The appeal sans merits and is dismissed. The record and proceedings be sent back to the Court below. The bail and bail bonds are cancelled.

28. We are thankful to Sri D.S. Mishra, learned counsel for the appellant for ably assisting the Court.

(2022) 9 ILRA 1031
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 12.09.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE VIVEK KUMAR BIRLA, J.
THE HON'BLE VIKAS BUDHWAR, J.

Government Appeal No. 2683 of 1983

State of U.P. ...Appellant
Versus
Ram Autar ...Respondent

Counsel for the Appellant:
A.G.A.

Counsel for the Respondent:

Sri S.B. Sahai, Sri Mohd. Ishraque Farooqui, Sri Pradeep Kumar

(A) Criminal Law – Criminal Procedure Code, 1973 - Sections 82, 83, 161, 313, 378 & 384 - Indian Penal Code, 1860 - Section – 302 - Government Appeal – against order of Acquittal – offence of Murder - FIR - accused shoot brother of the complainant with a country made pistol whom has slapped his sister as well as abuse his mother when they were plucking Gram leaves in their filed -Trial court acquitted accused person - by adopting hyper technical approach giving importance of some minor lapses committed by the investigating officer rejected the evidences as a whole - appeal - prompt FIR - post-mortem report - recovery of empty cartridge - report of blood stain - site plan - testimony of eyewitness - all these proofs that incident taken place - while being conscious that no innocent person is punished we are also duty bound to see that a guilty person does not go unpunished - Court find that - impugned judgment passed purely on the basis of presumptions and by not reading the evidence as a whole and only picking up sentences in isolation from here and there from the St.ment of eyewitnesses - whereas direct evidence on record beyond any shadow of doubt is proves the manner, time and place in which incident had taken place and committed by accused person - hence, impugned judgment is set aside, accused is liable to be convicted under section 302 IPC - appeal stand allowed. (Para – 24, 25, 26, 41, 45)

(B) Criminal Law – Criminal Procedure Code, 1973 - Sections - 82, 83, 161, 313, 378 & 384 - Indian Penal Code, 1860 - Section – 302 - Government Appeal – against order of Acquittal – offence of Murder - applying principle of law as laid down in case of 'Karan Sigh' & 'Banwari Lal' - lapse of sufficient time coupled with other factors like age of accused cannot be a ground to bestow any benefit so as to wipe away the aftermath of commission of crime - accused is sentenced to undergo simple imprisonment for life with a fine - accused is directed to surrender before Learned CJM within 15 days failing which Ld. CJM shall take him in custody as per law. (Para – 44, 46, 47)

Appeal dismissed. (E-11)

List of Cases cited:

1. Virendra Singh Vs St. of U.P. & ors., 2022 (3) ADJ 354 DB,

2. St. of U.P. Vs Phool Singh & ors., 2022 (4) ADJ 397 (DB),

3. St. of U.P. Vs Krishna Master, (2010) 12 SCC 324,

4. St. of U.P. Vs Laxmi & ors., Government Appeal No.2995 of 1985, decided on 13.07.2022,

5. Mohabbat Vs St. of M.P., (2009) 13 SCC 630,

6. Nirmal Singh& anr. Vs St. of Bihar, AIR 2005 SC 1265,

7. Narendra Nath Khaware Vs Parasnath Khaware & ors., (2003) 5 SCC 488,

8. Ram Swaroop & ors. Vs St. of U.P., (2000) 2 SCC 461,

9. St. of Raj. Vs Satyanarayan, (1998) 8 SCC 404,

10. Karan Singh Vs The St. of U. P.& ors., Criminal Appeal No.327 of 2022, decided on 02.03.2022, 11. St. of Raj. Vs Banwari Lal& anr., Criminal Appeal No.-- of 2022 (Arising out of Special Leave Petition (Criminal) No.-- of 2022), arising out of Diary No.21596 of 2020, decided on 08.04.2022.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Vivek Kumar Birla, J.
&
Hon'ble Vikas Budhwar, J.)

1. Heard Sri Ratan Singh, learned AGA appearing for the appellant-State of UP, Sri Pradeep Kumar, learned counsel appearing for the accused-respondent and perused the record.

2. Present government appeal has been preferred against the judgment and order dated 26.07.1983 passed by the Learned Special Judge, Fatehpur in Session Trial No. 104 of 1983 (State vs. Ram Autar Kori), arising out of Case Crimes No. 172/1982, under Section 302 IPC, Police Station Khakhreru, District Fatehpur.

3. Prosecution story, in brief, is that on 07.12.1982 the complainant- Shiv Saran Singh along with his brother Babu Singh went to their Gram field situated the western side of the village and at about 1:00 pm (noon), they saw the mother and sister of the accused Ram Autar were plucking Gram leaves in their field. Babu Singh asked them not to pluck the same as the plants were too small but they did not listen and continued to plucking out the gram leaves. On this, Babu Singh inflicted two slaps to the sister of accused-Ram Autar and banished her from his field. On this the mother and sister of the accused returned to their house abusing him. After taking round of the field while Shiv Saran Singh and Babu Singh were coming back to their house for taking bath and meals, when they reached near the house of Ram Autar, accused Ram Autar surrounded them and asked Babu Singh as to why he slapped his sister and took out country made pistol from his waist and fired on the chest of Babu Singh. The alleged incident was witnessed by neighbours Dasrath, Shiv Mohan, Govardhan and others. Ram Raj and Ram Ballaiya also saw the occurrence. When they tried to catch hold the accused, he reloaded the country made pistol, threatened the witnesses and ran away towards west. On receiving gun shot injury, complainant brother Babu Singh fell on the ground and thereafter the injured was placed on the Chabutara of Goverdhan where he died. The accused shot complainant's brother at 2.00 pm. Thereafter, a first information report of the incident was lodged at police station - Khakreu on the same day at 3.00 pm. in the presence of Investigating Officer, who recorded the statement of the complainant under Section 161 Cr.P.C. The investigating Officer proceeded to place of occurrence and inspected the dead body and sealed the same. Site plan was prepared and after completing investigation a charge-sheet under section 302 IPC was submitted against the accused Ram Autar.

4. In support of prosecution case, PW-1-Shiv Saran Singh, PW-2-Dashrath, PW-3-Station House Officer-Madan Singh and PW-4 Dr. Satish Chandra Srivastava were produced and examined before the Court below.

5. Apart from other formal documents, site plan is Ext. Ka-9, recovery memo of bloodstained and plain earth is Ext. Ka-10, recovery memo recovering one empty cartridge recovered from the place of occurrence is Ex. Ka-11, charge-sheet is Ext. Ka-13 and Post mortem report is Ex. Ka-14.

6. PW-1-Shiv Sharan Singh, who was the eye witness of the incident, in his statement had stated that he works in Maya Press, Allahabad and used to do the same job during the days of the incident and he had come home on leave. He further stated that deceased Babu Singh was his younger brother and at the time of incident he was working as Constable in the Police Department and was posted in Allahabad and was also on leave during those days. He further deposed that his house and the accused's house is on the same road and when we come from our field, the accused house comes first and thereafter we would reach to his own house. He further stated that the residence of Ram Autar was in front of the house of Dashrath Dhobi and thereafter there is residence of Goverdhan. While narrating the incident he stated that on 07.12.1982 at about 11.30 am when he and his younger brother Babu Singh had gone to their field they found that the mother and sister of the accused Ram Autar were plucking gram leaves, which was objected to by his brother and when they did not stop, his brother Babu Singh twice slapped the sister of Ram Autar and banished her from his field. On this the mother and sister of the accused returned to their house abusing him. After some time when they were returning home at about 1.45-2.00 pm and when they reached near the house of Ram Autar, Ram Autar came out and stood in front of his brother and said that since you have slapped my sister, I will teach you a lesson and took out a country made pistol from his waist and fired on the chest of Babu Singh. Babu Singh fell on the ground. He further stated that when he tried to move forward and started shouting then villagers Goverdhan, Dasrath, Shiv Mohan, Layak Singh and Ram Raj came to the spot, who have seen the incident and when they tried to catch hold the accused, he reloaded the country made pistol, threatened the witnesses and ran away towards west. He further deposed that after the incident the injured lay down on the Chabutara of Goverdhan, where he died.

7. PW.2-Dashrath in his statement had stated that it is six months from today that Babu Singh was killed. On that date he was sitting at his door. It was the day time around 1.30 am. He saw Babu Singh alongwith his brother Shiv Sharan coming from West. When Babu Singh reached near the house of Ram Autar, the accused Ram Autar came out of his house and told Babu Singh that why did you slap my sister and took out a country made pistol from his waist and fired at Babu Singh. Thereafter Babu Singh fell on the ground. Seeing this incident Goverdhan and he, sitting on the Chabutara in front of his house, ran towards the spot. The other villagers Ram Raj, Layak Singh also came to spot and they have also witnessed the incident. We all tried to catch hold the accused but he reloaded the country made pistol, threatened us and ran away towards west first and thereafter ran towards south. When the Investigating Officer came to the spot then he recovered the empty cartridge lying on the ground. He also told the Investigating Officer about the incident. After the incident Shiv Sharan Singh, brother of deceased- Babu Singh lifted the deceased from the way and laid down him in the Chabutara of Goverdhan, where he died. Then Shiv Sharan Singh went to lodge the report. He further deposed that on the date of occurrence, he was at home as he could not go to work on account of illness. He stated that he heard that Ram Autar was saying why do you slap my sister and that I do not know other things. The mother and sister of accused were present at home but they did not come outside the door. He further deposed that the deceased Babu Singh was empty hand and he wore an underwear only. Ram Autar was sitting on his Chabutara but when his mother and sister came then he went inside the house and after 10 to 15 minutes he again came outside and sat on Chabutara. He further deposed that the accused was sitting on his Chabutara earlier and when he saw Babu Singh coming he rushed towards him. Accused asked Babu Singh repeatedly why did you slap my sister but Babu Singh did not reply. After murder he did not ask anyone why did this murder took place. When Ram Autar stopped Babu Singh then he was towards east of Ram Autar. He further deposed that Babu Singh was aged about 25 years and not married but his conduct was not bad and it would be wrong to say that his murder took place on account of illicit relationship.

8. PW-3-Station House Officer-Madan Singh has stated on oath that he was posted as Station House Officer in Police Station Khakrau from 07.12.1982 to 17.12.1982 and this incident was reported in front of him. Head Constable Bindravan Sharma has also worked with him. he recognize his writing and signature. He further stated that on the basis of the written complaint, he prepared Chick FIR and G.D, on which Ex.A-2 was inserted. He further stated on oath that he started the investigation of this case and recorded the statement of appellant at the police station and then went to the place of occurrence where he found the dead body of Babu Singh lying on Chabutara of Goverdhan Kori. Panchayatnama was prepared. He further stated on oath that he inspected the place of occurrence and site plan was also prepared. He also recovered plain earth and bloodstained earth from the spot and prepared the fard report by filling it in different boxes, on which Ex.A-10 was inserted. He further stated that he recovered an empty cartridge from the spot and sealed the same, on which Ex.A-11 was inserted. Thereafter PW-3 searched the accused house. Accused was not found there. Illegal cartridges were recovered from the accused house and he had prepared the fard report and sealed the same. Thereafter PW-3 took the statements of Goverdhan and Dashrath Kori and a police team was sent to search for the accused. On 08.12.1982 he took the statements of other witnesses. The accused kept on running and could not be arrested. On the same day PW-3 gave the report of Section 82-83 Cr.P.C. and after receiving the warrant from the court he attached the goods of accused and on 14.12.1982 he has prepared a fard report. PW-3 further stated on oath that latter the accused appeared before the Court and Investigating Officer gave the chargesheet before the Court, which is Ex.A-13. He further stated that during the investigation he could not find the sister and mother of the accused nor did he try to find them. He found the dead body at the same place where the deceased was shot and he took the blood from the Chabutara of Goverdhan where the dead body was lying. In the site map he has shown the place of occurrence as "A". No blood was found on that place. It is wrong to say that investigation was not done properly.

9. PW-4 Dr. Satish Chandra Srivastava has stated on oath that on 08.12.1982 he was posted as Medical Officer in Sadar Hospital, Fatehpur and on this day he did the post mortem of the deceased Babu Singh. He stated that the deceased died a day before; he was about 26 years old; rigor mortis was present; the legs were swollen and the eyes were half open. PW.4 found two scratches measuring ¾ x ¾ cm on the left side in front of the chest and both were present at the distance of ¼ cm. He also found gun shot wound ¾ x ¾ x to the depth of the chest on the left side and blackening was present; the direction of pallet was from left to right. PW.4 has further stated that he conducted the internal examination of the dead body and found first and second ribs on the left side were fractured and torn; Pluria was also torn; right and left lungs and heart were also punctured and torn; collected blood was found on the chest; half digested food was found in the stomach; small intestine was empty and large intestine was full; no injury was found on the stomach; a big pallet was found inside the chest, which was sealed in an envelop and sent to S.P. Fatehpur. He further stated on oath that the deceased died of shock and bleeding due to above mentioned injuries. He further stated that the death of the deceased was possible on 07.12.1982 at 2.00 pm due to fire arm injury; scratches can also come from falling on the ground. He next stated that looking at the direction of the bullet injury, it appears that the deceased was fired from the left side; there should be a difference of 4-6 hours in the time of death.

10. The judgment of acquittal was passed on the ground that it is alleged that PW-1-Shiv Sharan Singh, real brother of the deceased Babu Singh was accompanying the deceased while coming back from his field and when the deceased fired upon by accused Ram Autar several persons have also gathered on the spot but no one including the PW-1-Shiv Sharan Singh tried to stop the accused from running away, therefore, he had acted contrary to the natural reaction which makes his presence doubtful as had he being there he would have chased the accused and would have gone to the house of the accused and would have caught hold of him. Presumption was raised that since the informant side and his brother are the owner of the agricultural field whereas the accused belonging to labour class therefore, it is not understandable that the deceased Babu Singh slapped only the sister of the accused, who was aged about 9-10 years and why he has not slapped the mother of the accused, therefore, on these very ground the Trial Court has drawn the presumption that it appear that the informant was not present on the spot. It was further recorded that the gram plants were too small to be plucked and therefore, the allegation of plucking gram plants does not appear to be correct. By drawing inference from the statement of PW-2-Dashrath, who is also an eye witness that when the accused Ram Autar was scolding and was repeatedly asking the deceased why he slapped his sister but he did not reply and that he did not try to snatch countrymade pistol from the accused hands and at that point of time some other witnesses, namely, Ram Raj, Layak Singh and Goverdhan including some other persons have gathered on the spot, therefore, as he has not mentioned the name of informant-PW-1- Shiv Sharan Singh alongwith names of other persons, who have seen the incident establishes that PW-2-Dashrath has admitted that the informant was not present on the spot. Further inference from the statement of PW-2 Dashrath was drawn that as the deceased was wearing only underwear and was not wearing any other cloth on his body, therefore, there is a presumption of his bad character as alleged, which could be the motive of being fired upon, otherwise he would have wearing shirt, banyan or paijama etc. while he was going to or coming from his field, moreso, when he was in police and was a reputed person of the village. As such a conclusion was drawn by the trial court that the incident has not taken place in the manner as alleged. The place of incident was also found to be doubtful on the ground that the Investigating Officer did not collect any blood from the spot and that blood was found only on the Chabutara of Goverdhan where the dead body was lying and it is from there only the blood stained and plain soil was collected. The Trial Court further observed that the Investigating Officer has not visited the gram field and has not shown the same in the site plan and nothing has been written about the aforesaid field in the case diary. The Trial Court further recorded that the Investigating Officer did not meet the mother and sister of the accused or any other family members of the accused during investigation and made no enquiry from them and that he did not find any blood on the spot and has also not recovered any empty cartridge on the spot. It was further found that although allegation is that the deceased was fired from the front side, however, he had suffered firearm injuries on the left side and the post mortem report reflected that semi digested food was present in the stomach which proves that he must have eaten something about two hours before he was fired upon. Therefore, the Trial Court found that the informant and deceased has gone out to visit their agricultural field is not convincing, as they usually visit their field only in the morning hours and usually villagers take their lunch by 10-11 am and relax thereafter, therefore, prosecution story of informant and deceased visiting agricultural field at about 12.00-1.00 in the noon, is not correct. The Trial Court has further observed that there were no special circumstances for which accused could have murdered the deceased and the reason of plucking gram plants is false. The deceased could have treated the sister of the accused softly and send her back to her home. It was further observed that it appears that when the informant and his family members started suspecting about the murder of the deceased, therefore, for this reason the entire family of the accused including the accused-Ram Autar escaped from their house and for this reason the Investigating Officer did not find them at their home which indicates that the accused was not present on the spot or he had left the place and nobody has seen the incident. On these grounds the trial court has passed the judgment of acquittal.

11. Challenging the impugned judgment, Sri Ratan Singh, learned AGA submits that there was cogent evidence to convict the accused herein. He next submits that PW-1-Shiv Sharan Singh who is the informant and real brother of the deceased and is eye witness of the incident, narrated the entire incident with all clarity and details. He further submitted that PW-2-Dashrath is the independent witness near whose house murder had taken place and he has clearly spelled tout the reasons as to how he was present on the spot. It is next submitted that both the eye witnesses have withstood their cross examination and nothing adverse came out from their testimonies creating any doubt about the manner, time, place and spot of the murder and that the accused Ram Autar had committed cold blooded murder. By drawing attention to the site plan, learned A.G.A. has submitted that there is no dispute about the spot where the murder had taken place and in the site plan all directions have been shown including the directions from where the informant deceased were coming, from where the eye witnesses have seen the incident, the spot where the dead body was lying. He has further pointed out that in the site plan spot "H' has been shown where the empty cartridge was recovered. He further submitted that merely because blood was not found on the spot where the deceased was fired upon would not be sufficient to grant any benefit of doubt to the accused herein. He further submitted that even the Trial Court has recorded a finding that oral as well as documentary evidence available on records clearly establishes that the incident had taken place at the spot, time and date as alleged. He further argued that PW-1-Shiv Sharan Singh is the real brother of the deceased and his presence on the spot is quite natural as they both were returning from the field. He further submitted that PW-2-Dashrath is the independent eye witness and in his statement he has clearly stated that PW-1-Shiv Sharan Singh and his brother-deceased-Babu Singh were coming together from their field. He submitted that the post mortem report clearly support the prosecution version. He next submitted that the empty cartridge was recovered from the spot and recovery memo of empty cartridge is Ex.Ka.11, therefore, finding of the Trial Court that no cartridge was found from the record is contrary to record. He further submitted that the bloodstained soil and plain soil was collected from the spot which was made Ex.Ka.10. He further submitted that PW-4- Dr. Satish Chandra Srivastava, who has conducted the post mortem has proved the post mortem report, had clearly stated and proved that a big size pallet was found inside the body of the deceased. He submitted that there was only one entry wound and further the deceased was immediately put on the Chabutara of Goverdhan from where the blood stained soil was collected, therefore, his blood was not found in the passage (Rasta). It is further submitted that no benefit of defective investigation can be extended to the accused in a case of direct evidence, therefore, in such a case of direct evidence absence of blood on the passage would not go in favour of the accused person. Learned AGA further submitted that the findings given by the Trial Court to the effect that why the informant and PW.2 did not chase the accused is absolutely perverse inasmuch as eye witnesses have categorically stated that the accused Ram Autar has re-loaded the country made pistol and threatened the persons present on the spot that he would kill them also. Learned AGA further submitted that allegation of bad character of the deceased is neither here nor there as nothing was placed on record to prove the same and this presumption is wholly perverse. He further submitted that the presumption that on such a small thing the murder could not have taken place is neither here nor there as in the case of direct evidence motive is irrelevant. He further pointed out that the accused in his statement under Section 313 Cr.P.C. has mentioned at one place that he was falsely implicated in the present case due to "enmity' and at an other place he has stated that he was falsely implicated due to "old enmity', however, he has not disclosed on what was the "enmity' or "old enmity'. Further submission of the learned AGA is that there was a prompt FIR as the incident had taken place at 2.00 pm and the FIR was lodged at 3.00 pm. Submission, therefore, is that the prosecution has proved his case beyond any shadow of doubt and the impugned judgment based purely on presumption is highly perverse and therefore, the same is liable to be reversed and accused is liable to be convicted for the offence under Section 302 IPC.

12. Per contra, Sri Pradeep Kumar, learned counsel for the accused respondents submitted that no blood was found at the spot "A' where the deceased was allegedly fired upon by the accused. He further submitted that PW-1 himself has stated that the deceased was fired upon in the passage but no blood was found therefrom and the Investigating Officer has collected the bloodstained and plain soil from the Chabutara of Goverdhan from spot "X' , therefore, the Trial Court has rightly disbelieved the manner and the spot where the crime was committed and rightly found that the same was not committed by the accused respondent-Ram Autar. He submits that therefrom, it is clear that the memo of recovery is false and place of occurrence is highly doubtful. It is further submitted that PW-3, Station House Officer had stated in his statement that he had recovered one empty cartridge from the spot and he has also stated that thereafter he had recovered illegal cartridges and empty cartridges from the house of the accused, this clearly shows that the recovery memo of empty cartridges from the spot is not worth believed. He further submitted that as per alleged eye witness account the shot was fired from the front side but as per the post mortem report the fire has hit the deceased on the left side, therefore, post mortem report does not support the prosecution version and therefore, eye witness account is false. He further submitted that in the statement under Section 313 Cr.P.C. the accused has clearly stated that he was falsely implicated due to enmity. He submitted that as the deceased was wearing underwear only, therefore, presumption of his bad character has been correctly raised by the Trial Court to hold that murder may have been committed by someone and not the accused.

13. We have considered the submissions and have perused the record.

14. Before proceeding further, it would be appropriate to take note of law on the appeal against acquittal.

15. In a recent judgement of this Court in Virendra Singh vs. State of UP and others, 2022 (3) ADJ 354 DB, the law on the issue involved has been considered. For ready reference, paragraphs 10, 11 and 12 are quoted as under:

"10. In the case of Babu vs. State of Kerala (2010) 9 SCC 189 : (2010) 3 SCC (Cri) 1179, the Hon'ble Apex Court has observed that while dealing with a judgment of acquittal, the appellate court has to consider the entire evidence on record, so as to arrive at a finding as to whether the views of the trial Court were perverse or otherwise unsustainable. The appellate court is entitled to consider whether in arriving at a finding of fact, the trial Court had failed to take into consideration admissible evidence and/or had taken into consideration the evidence brought on record contrary to law. Paragraphs 12 to 19 of the aforesaid judgment are quoted as under:-

"12. This court time and again has laid down the guidelines for the High Court to interfere with the judgment and order of acquittal passed by the Trial Court. The appellate court should not ordinarily set aside a judgment of acquittal in a case where two views are possible, though the view of the appellate court may be more, the probable one. While dealing with a judgment of acquittal, the appellate court has to consider the entire evidence on record, so as to arrive at a finding as to whether the views of the trial Court were perverse or otherwise unsustainable. The appellate court is entitled to consider whether in arriving at a finding of fact, the trial Court had failed to take into consideration admissible evidence and/or had taken into consideration the evidence brought on record contrary to law. Similarly, wrong placing of burden of proof may also be a subject matter of scrutiny by the appellate court. (Vide Balak Ram v. State of U.P. AIR 1974 SC 2165; Shambhoo Missir & Anr. v. State of Bihar AIR 1991 SC 315; Shailendra Pratap & Anr. v. State of U.P. AIR 2003 SC 1104; Narendra Singh v. State of M.P. (2004) 10 SCC 699; Budh Singh & Ors. v. State of U.P. AIR 2006 SC 2500; State of U.P. v. Ramveer Singh AIR 2007 SC 3075; S. Rama Krishna v. S. Rami Reddy (D) by his LRs. & Ors. AIR 2008 SC 2066; Arulvelu & Anr. Vs. State (2009) 10 SCC 206; Perla Somasekhara Reddy & Ors. v. State of A.P. (2009) 16 SCC 98; and Ram Singh alias Chhaju v. State of Himachal Pradesh (2010) 2 SCC 445).

13. In Sheo Swarup and Ors. King Emperor AIR 1934 PC 227, the Privy Council observed as under:

"...the High Court should and will always give proper weight and consideration to such matters as (1) the views of the trial Judge as to the credibility of the witnesses, (2) the presumption of innocence in favour of the accused, a presumption certainly not weakened by the fact that he has been acquitted at his trial, (3) the right of the accused to the benefit of any doubt, and (4) the slowness of an appellate court in disturbing a finding of fact arrived at by a Judge who had the advantage of seeing the witnesses...."

14. The aforesaid principle of law has consistently been followed by this Court. (See: Tulsiram Kanu v. The State AIR 1954 SC 1; Balbir Singh v. State of Punjab AIR 1957 SC 216; M.G. Agarwal v. State of Maharashtra AIR 1963 SC 200; Khedu Mohton & Ors. v. State of Bihar AIR 1970 SC 66; Sambasivan and Ors. State of Kerala (1998) 5 SCC 412; Bhagwan Singh and Ors. v. State of M.P. (2002) 4 SCC 85; and State of Goa v. Sanjay Thakran and Anr. (2007) 3 SCC 755).

15. In Chandrappa and Ors. v. State of Karnataka (2007) 4 SCC 415, this Court reiterated the legal position as under:

"(1) An appellate court has full power to review, re-appreciate and reconsider the evidence upon which the order of acquittal is founded.

(2) The Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 puts no limitation, restriction or condition on exercise of such power and an appellate court on the evidence before it may reach its own conclusion, both on questions of fact and of law.

(3) Various expressions, such as, "substantial and compelling reasons", "good and sufficient grounds", "very strong circumstances", "distorted conclusions", "glaring mistakes", etc. are not intended to curtail extensive powers of an appellate court in an appeal against acquittal. Such phraseologies are more in the nature of "flourishes of language" to emphasise the reluctance of an appellate court to interfere with acquittal than to curtail the power of the court to review the evidence and to come to its own conclusion.

(4) An appellate court, however, must bear in mind that in case of acquittal, there is double presumption in favour of the accused. Firstly, the presumption of innocence is available to him under the fundamental principle of criminal jurisprudence that every person shall be presumed to be innocent unless he is proved guilty by a competent court of law. Secondly, the accused having secured his acquittal, the presumption of his innocence is further reinforced, reaffirmed and strengthened by the trial court.

(5) If two reasonable conclusions are possible on the basis of the evidence on record, the appellate court should not disturb the finding of acquittal recorded by the trial court."

16. In Ghurey Lal v. State of Uttar Pradesh (2008) 10 SCC 450, this Court re-iterated the said view, observing that the appellate court in dealing with the cases in which the trial courts have acquitted the accused, should bear in mind that the trial court's acquittal bolsters the presumption that he is innocent. The appellate court must give due weight and consideration to the decision of the trial court as the trial court had the distinct advantage of watching the demeanour of the witnesses, and was in a better position to evaluate the credibility of the witnesses.

17. In State of Rajasthan v. Naresh @ Ram Naresh (2009) 9 SCC 368, the Court again examined the earlier judgments of this Court and laid down that an "order of acquittal should not be lightly interfered with even if the court believes that there is some evidence pointing out the finger towards the accused."

18. In State of Uttar Pradesh v. Banne alias Baijnath & Ors. (2009) 4 SCC 271, this Court gave certain illustrative circumstances in which the Court would be justified in interfering with a judgment of acquittal by the High Court. The circumstances includes:

i) The High Court's decision is based on totally erroneous view of law by ignoring the settled legal position;

ii) The High Court's conclusions are contrary to evidence and documents on record;

iii) The entire approach of the High Court in dealing with the evidence was patently illegal leading to grave miscarriage of justice;

iv) The High Court's judgment is manifestly unjust and unreasonable based on erroneous law and facts on the record of the case;

v) This Court must always give proper weight and consideration to the findings of the High Court;

vi) This Court would be extremely reluctant in interfering with a case when both the Sessions Court and the High Court have recorded an order of acquittal.

A similar view has been reiterated by this Court in Dhanapal v. State by Public Prosecutor, Madras (2009) 10 SCC 401.

19. Thus, the law on the issue can be summarised to the effect that in exceptional cases where there are compelling circumstances, and the judgment under appeal is found to be perverse, the appellate court can interfere with the order of acquittal. The appellate court should bear in mind the presumption of innocence of the accused and further that the trial Court's acquittal bolsters the presumption of his innocence. Interference in a routine manner where the other view is possible should be avoided, unless there are good reasons for interference."

11. Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Ramesh Babulal Doshi vs. State of Gujarat (1996) 9 SCC 225 : 1996 SCC (Cri) 972 has observed that while deciding appeal against acquittal, the High Court has to first record its conclusion on the question whether the approach of the trial court dealing with the evidence was patently illegal or conclusion arrived by it is wholly untenable which alone will justify interference in an order of acquittal.

12. The aforesaid judgments were taken note of with approval by Supreme Court in the case of Anwar Ali and another vs. State of Himachal Pradesh (2020) 10 SCC 166, Nagabhushan vs. State of Karnataka (2021) 5 SCC 222, and Babu (supra) in Achhar Singh vs. State of Himachal Pradesh (2021) 5 SCC 543."

(Emphasis supplied)

16. In State of U.P. Vs. Phool Singh and Others, 2022 (4) ADJ 397 (DB) also this Court has considered the law on appeal against acquittal, para 43, 44, 45, 46, 47 and 48 whereof are quoted as under:

"43. In State of U.P. v. M.K. Anthony, (1985) 1 SCC 505, the Hon'ble Supreme Court has held that: -

"10. While appreciating the evidence of a witness, the approach must be whether the evidence of the witness read as a whole appears to have a ring of truth. Once that impression is formed, it is undoubtedly necessary for the court to scrutinise the evidence more particularly keeping in view the deficiencies, drawbacks and infirmities pointed out in the evidence as a whole and evaluate them to find out whether it is against the general tenor of the evidence given by the witness and whether the earlier evaluation of the evidence is shaken as to render it unworthy of belief. Minor discrepancies on trivial matters not touching the core of the case, hyper-technical approach by taking sentences torn out of context here or there from the evidence, attaching importance to some technical error committed by the investigating officer not going to the root of the matter would not ordinarily permit rejection of the evidence as a whole. If the court before whom the witness gives evidence had the opportunity to form the opinion about the general tenor of evidence given by the witness, the appellate court which had not this benefit will have to attach due weight to the appreciation of evidence by the trial court and unless there are reasons weighty and formidable it would not be proper to reject the evidence on the ground of minor variations or infirmities in the matter of trivial details. Even honest and truthful witnesses may differ in some details unrelated to the main incident because power of observation, retention and reproduction differ with individuals. Cross-examination is an unequal duel between a rustic and refined lawyer....."

44. In State of U.P. v. Krishna Master, (2010) 12 SCC 324 the Hon'ble Supreme Court explained the manner in which the Court should examine the statement of witnesses in the following words:-

"15. Before appreciating evidence of the witnesses examined in the case, it would be instructive to refer to the criteria for appreciation of oral evidence. While appreciating the evidence of a witness, the approach must be whether the evidence of the witness read as a whole appears to have a ring of truth. Once that impression is found, it is undoubtedly necessary for the court to scrutinise the evidence more particularly keeping in view the deficiencies, drawbacks and infirmities pointed out in the evidence as a whole and evaluate them to find out whether it is against the general tenor of the evidence and whether the earlier evaluation of the evidence is shaken as to render it unworthy of belief. Minor discrepancies on trivial matters not touching the core of the case, hypertechnical approach by taking sentences torn out of context here or there from the evidence, attaching importance to some technical error committed by the investigating officer not going to the root of the matter would not ordinarily permit rejection of the evidence as a whole.

16. If the court before whom the witness gives evidence had the opportunity to form the opinion about the general tenor of the evidence given by the witness, the appellate court which had not this benefit will have to attach due weight to the appreciation of evidence by the trial court and unless the reasons are weighty and formidable, it would not be proper for the appellate court to reject the evidence on the ground of variations or infirmities in the matter of trivial details. Minor omissions in the police statements are never considered to be fatal. The statements given by the witnesses before the police are meant to be brief statements and could not take place of evidence in the court. Small/Trivial omissions would not justify a finding by court that the witnesses concerned are liars. The prosecution evidence may suffer from inconsistencies here and discrepancies there, but that is a shortcoming from which no criminal case is free. The main thing to be seen is whether those inconsistencies go to the root of the matter or pertain to insignificant aspects thereof. In the former case, the defence may be justified in seeking advantage of incongruities obtaining in the evidence. In the latter, however, no such benefit may be available to it.

17. In the deposition of witnesses, there are always normal discrepancies, howsoever honest and truthful they may be. These discrepancies are due to normal errors of observation, normal errors of memory due to lapse of time, due to mental disposition, shock and horror at the time of occurrence and threat to the life. It is not unoften that improvements in earlier version are made at the trial in order to give a boost to the prosecution case, albeit foolishly. Therefore, it is the duty of the court to separate falsehood from the truth. In sifting the evidence, the court has to attempt to separate the chaff from the grains in every case and this attempt cannot be abandoned on the ground that the case is baffling unless the evidence is really so confusing or conflicting that the process cannot reasonably be carried out. In the light of these principles, this Court will have to determine whether the evidence of eyewitnesses examined in this case proves the prosecution case."

45. In Manu Sharma v. State (NCT of Delhi), (2010) 6 SCC 1 the Hon'ble Supreme Court formulated the principles to be kept in mind by the appellate Court while dealing with appeals against acquittal:-

"27.The following principles have to be kept in mind by the appellate court while dealing with appeals, particularly against an order of acquittal:

(i) There is no limitation on the part of the appellate court to review the evidence upon which the order of acquittal is founded.

(ii) The appellate court in an appeal against acquittal can review the entire evidence and come to its own conclusions.

(iii) The appellate court can also review the trial court's conclusion with respect to both facts and law.

(iv) While dealing with the appeal preferred by the State, it is the duty of the appellate court to marshal the entire evidence on record and by giving cogent and adequate reasons set aside the judgment of acquittal.

(v) An order of acquittal is to be interfered with only when there are "compelling and substantial reasons" for doing so. If the order is "clearly unreasonable", it is a compelling reason for interference.

(vi) While sitting in judgment over an acquittal the appellate court is first required to seek an answer to the question whether findings of the trial court are palpably wrong, manifestly erroneous or demonstrably unsustainable. If the appellate court answers the above question in the negative the order of acquittal is not to be disturbed. Conversely, if the appellate court holds, for reasons to be recorded, that the order of acquittal cannot at all be sustained in view of any of the above infirmities, it can reappraise the evidence to arrive at its own conclusion.

(vii) When the trial court has ignored the evidence or misread the material evidence or has ignored material documents like dying declaration/report of ballistic experts, etc. the appellate court is competent to reverse the decision of the trial court depending on the materials placed."

46. In Achhar Singh v. State of H.P., (2021) 5 SCC 543*, the Hon'ble*

Supreme Court explained the scope of powers of the High Court in appeals against acquittal in the following manner: -

"16. It is thus a well-crystalized principle that if two views are possible, the High Court ought not to interfere with the trial court's judgment. However, such a precautionary principle cannot be overstretched to portray that the "contours of appeal" against acquittal under Section 378 Cr.P.C. are limited to seeing whether or not the trial court's view was impossible. It is equally well settled that there is no bar on the High Court's power to re-appreciate evidence in an appeal against acquittal. This Court has held in a catena of decisions (including Chandrappa v. State of Karnataka, State of A.P. v. M. Madhusudhan Rao and Raveen Kumar v. State of H.P.) that the Cr.P.C. does not differentiate in the power, scope, jurisdiction or limitation between appeals against judgments of conviction or acquittal and that the appellate court is free to consider on both fact and law, despite the self-restraint that has been ingrained into practice while dealing with orders of acquittal where there is a double presumption of innocence of the accused."

The Hon'ble Supreme Court further held that "homicidal deaths cannot be left to judicium dei. The court in its quest to reach the truth ought to make earnest efforts to extract gold out of the heap of black sand. The solemn duty is to dig out the authenticity. It is only when the court, despite its best efforts, fails to reach a firm conclusion that the benefit of doubt is extended."

47. The principles which emerge from the aforesaid decisions, are that the "contours of appeal" against acquittal under Section 378 CrPC are not limited to seeing whether or not the trial court's view was impossible. There is no bar on the High Court's power to reappreciate evidence in an appeal against acquittal. Cr.P.C. does not differentiate in the power, scope, jurisdiction or limitation between appeals against judgments of conviction or acquittal. The appellate court is free to consider on both fact and law, despite the self-restraint that has been ingrained into practice while dealing with orders of acquittal where there is a double presumption of innocence of the accused.

48. While appreciating the evidence of a witness, the approach must be whether the evidence of the witness read as a whole appears to have a ring of truth. In the deposition of witnesses, there are always normal discrepancies, howsoever honest and truthful they may be, but that is a shortcoming from which no criminal case is free. These discrepancies are due to normal errors of observation, normal errors of memory due to lapse of time, due to mental disposition, shock and horror at the time of occurrence and threat to the life. It is the duty of the court to separate falsehood from the truth. In sifting the evidence, the court has to attempt to separate the chaff from the grains in every case. The main thing to be seen is whether those inconsistencies go to the root of the matter or pertain to insignificant aspects thereof. In the former case, the defence may be justified in seeking advantage of the incongruities occurring in the evidence. In the latter, however, no such benefit may be available to it. In the light of these principles, this Court will have to determine whether the evidence of the eyewitnesses examined in this case proves the prosecution case. When the trial court has ignored the evidence or misread the material evidence or has ignored material documents like the dying declaration, the appellate court is competent to reverse the decision of the trial court depending on the materials placed."

(emphasis supplied)

17. In a latest judgment in Government Appeal No.2995 of 1985 (State of U.P. vs. Laxmi and Others), decided on 13.07.2022, this Court once again had the opportunity to consider the law on appeal against acquittal, para 18 and 19 whereof are quoted as under:

"18. While dealing with an appeal against acquittal by invoking Section 378 Cr.P.C. the appellate court has to consider whether the trial court's view be deemed as possible one, particularly when evidence on record has been analyzed. The Hon'ble Supreme Court in Jafruddin and others vs. State of Kerala 2022 SCC Online SC 495 in para 25 has held that "while dealing with an appeal against acquittal by invoking Section 378 of the Cr.P.C, the Appellate Court has to consider whether the Trial Court's view can be termed as a possible one, particularly when evidence on record has been analyzed. The reason is that an order of acquittal adds up to the presumption of innocence in favour of the accused. Thus, the Appellate Court has to be relatively slow in reversing the order of the Trial Court rendering acquittal. Therefore, the presumption in favour of the accused does not get weakened but only strengthened. Such a double presumption that enures in favour of the accused has to be disturbed only by thorough scrutiny on the accepted legal parameters."

19. Hon'ble Supreme Court in Mohan @ Srinivas @ Seena @ Tailor Seena vs. State of Karnataka, [2021 SCC OnLine SC 1233] has observed as herein-under:-

"20. Section 378 Cr.P.C. enables the State to prefer an appeal against an order of acquittal. Section 384 Cr.P.C. speaks of the powers that can be exercised by the Appellate Court. When the trial court renders its decision by acquitting the accused, presumption of innocence gathers strength before the Appellate Court. As a consequence, the onus on the prosecution becomes more burdensome as there is a double presumption of innocence. Certainly, the Court of first instance has its own advantages in delivering its verdict, which is to see the witnesses in person while they depose. The Appellate Court is expected to involve itself in a deeper, studied scrutiny of not only the evidence before it, but is duty bound to satisfy itself whether the decision of the trial court is both possible and plausible view. When two views are possible, the one taken by the trial court in a case of acquittal is to be followed on the touchstone of liberty along with the advantage of having seen the witnesses. Article 21 of the Constitution of India also aids the accused after acquittal in a certain way, though not absolute. Suffice it is to state that the Appellate Court shall remind itself of the role required to play, while dealing with a case of an acquittal.

21. Every case has its own journey towards the truth and it is the Court's role undertake. Truth has to be found on the basis of evidence available before it. There is no room for subjectivity nor the nature of offence affects its performance. We have a hierarchy of courts in dealing with cases. An Appellate Court shall not expect the trial court to act in a particular way depending upon the sensitivity of the case. Rather it should be appreciated if a trial court decides a case on its own merit despite its sensitivity.

22. At times, courts do have their constraints. We find, different decisions being made by different courts, namely, trial court on the one hand and the Appellate Courts on the other. If such decisions are made due to institutional constraints, they do not augur well. The district judiciary is expected to be the foundational court, and therefore, should have the freedom of mind to decide a case on its own merit or else it might become a stereotyped one rendering conviction on a moral platform. Indictment and condemnation over a decision rendered, on considering all the materials placed before it, should be avoided. The Appellate Court is expected to maintain a degree of caution before making any remark.

23. This court, time and again has laid down the law on the scope of inquiry by an Appellate court while dealing with an appeal against acquittal under Section 378 Cr.P.C. We do not wish to multiply the aforesaid principle except placing reliance on a recent decision of this court in Anwar Ali vs. State of Himanchal Pradesh, (2020) 10 SCC 166:

14.2. When can the findings of fact recorded by a court be held to be perverse has been dealt with and considered in paragraph 20 of the aforesaid decision, which reads as under : (Babu case [Babu v. State of Kerala, (2010) 9 SCC 189 : (2010) 3 SCC (Cri) 1179]) "20. The findings of fact recorded by a court can be held to be perverse if the findings have been arrived at by ignoring or excluding relevant material or by taking into consideration irrelevant/inadmissible material. The finding may also be said to be perverse if it is "against the weight of evidence", or if the finding so outrageously defies logic as to suffer from the vice of irrationality. (Vide Rajinder Kumar Kindra v. Delhi Admn. [Rajinder Kumar Kindra v. Delhi Admn., (1984) 4 SCC 635 : 1985 SCC (L&S) 131], Excise & Taxation Officer-cum-Assessing Authority v. Gopi Nath & Sons [Excise & Taxation Officer-cum-Assessing Authority v. Gopi Nath & Sons, 1992 Supp (2) SCC 312], Triveni Rubber & Plastics v. CCE [Triveni Rubber & Plastics v. CCE, 1994 Supp (3) SCC 665], Gaya Din v. Hanuman Prasad [Gaya Din v. Hanuman Prasad, (2001) 1 SCC 501], Aruvelu [Arulvelu v. State, (2009) 10 SCC 206 : (2010) 1 SCC (Cri) 288] and Gamini Bala Koteswara Rao v. State of A.P. [Gamini Bala Koteswara Rao v. State of A.P., (2009) 10 SCC 636 : (2010) 1 SCC (Cri) 372]

It has been further observed, after following the decision of this Court in Kuldeep Singh v. Commr. of Police [Kuldeep Singh v. Commr. of Police, (1999) 2 SCC 10 : 1999 SCC (L&S) 429], that if a decision is arrived at on the basis of no evidence or thoroughly unreliable evidence and no reasonable person would act upon it, the order would be perverse. But if there is some evidence on record which is acceptable and which could be relied upon, the conclusions would not be treated as perverse and the findings would not be interfered with."

18. In Phool Singh (Supra) law relating to the effect of defect in investigation has been discussed, para 56 and 57 whereof are quoted as under:

56. The law relating to the effect of a defect in investigation has been discussed and summarized by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Gajoo v. State of Uttarakhand, (2012) 9 SCC 532, in the following words: -

"20. In regard to defective investigation, this Court in Dayal Singh v. State of Uttaranchal, (2012) 8 SCC 263 while dealing with the cases of omissions and commissions by the investigating officer, and duty of the court in such cases, held as under: (SCC pp. 280-83, paras 27-36) "27. Now, we may advert to the duty of the court in such cases. In Sathi Prasad v. State of U.P. (1972) 3 SCC 613 this Court stated that it is well settled that if the police records become suspect and investigation perfunctory, it becomes the duty of the court to see if the evidence given in court should be relied upon and such lapses ignored. Noticing the possibility of investigation being designedly defective, this Court in Dhanaj Singh v. State of Punjab, (2004) 3 SCC 654, held: (SCC p. 657, para 5) "5. In the case of a defective investigation the court has to be circumspect in evaluating the evidence. But it would not be right in acquitting an accused person solely on account of the defect; to do so would tantamount to playing into the hands of the investigating officer if the investigation is designedly defective.'

28. Dealing with the cases of omission and commission, the Court in Paras Yadav v. State of Bihar (1999) 2 SCC 126, enunciated the principle, in conformity with the previous judgments, that if the lapse or omission is committed by the investigating agency, negligently or otherwise, the prosecution evidence is required to be examined dehors such omissions to find out whether the said evidence is reliable or not. The contaminated conduct of officials should not stand in the way of evaluating the evidence by the courts, otherwise the designed mischief would be perpetuated and justice would be denied to the complainant party.

29. In Zahira Habibullah Sheikh (5) v. State of Gujarat (2006) 3 SCC 374, the Court noticed the importance of the role of witnesses in a criminal trial. The importance and primacy of the quality of trial process can be observed from the words of Bentham, who states that witnesses are the eyes and ears of justice. The court issued a caution that in such situations, there is a greater responsibility of the court on the one hand and on the other the courts must seriously deal with persons who are involved in creating designed investigation. The Court held that: (SCC p. 398, para 42) "42. Legislative measures to emphasise prohibition against tampering with witness, victim or informant have become the imminent and inevitable need of the day. Conducts which illegitimately affect the presentation of evidence in proceedings before the courts have to be seriously and sternly dealt with. There should not be any undue anxiety to only protect the interest of the accused. That would be unfair, as noted above, to the needs of the society. On the contrary, efforts should be to ensure a fair trial where the accused and the prosecution both get a fair deal. Public interest in the proper administration of justice must be given as much importance, if not more, as the interest of the individual accused. In this courts have a vital role to play.' (emphasis in original)

30. With the passage of time, the law also developed and the dictum of the court emphasised that in a criminal case, the fate of proceedings cannot always be left entirely in the hands of the parties. Crime is a public wrong, in breach and violation of public rights and duties, which affects the community as a whole and is harmful to the society in general.

31. Reiterating the above principle, this Court in NHRC v. State of Gujarat (2009) 6 SCC 767, held as under: (SCC pp. 777-78, para 6) "6. ... "35. ... The concept of fair trial entails familiar triangulation of interests of the accused, the victim and the society and it is the community that acts through the State and prosecuting agencies. Interest of society is not to be treated completely with disdain and as persona non grata. The courts have always been considered to have an overriding duty to maintain public confidence in the administration of justice--often referred to as the duty to vindicate and uphold the "majesty of the law'. Due administration of justice has always been viewed as a continuous process, not confined to determination of the particular case, protecting its ability to function as a court of law in the future as in the case before it. If a criminal court is to be an effective instrument in dispensing justice, the Presiding Judge must cease to be a spectator and a mere recording machine by becoming a participant in the trial evincing intelligence, active interest and elicit all relevant materials necessary for reaching the correct conclusion, to find out the truth, and administer justice with fairness and impartiality both to the parties and to the community it serves. The courts administering criminal justice cannot turn a blind eye to vexatious or oppressive conduct that has occurred in relation to proceedings, even if a fair trial is still possible, except at the risk of undermining the fair name and standing of the Judges as impartial and independent adjudicators." (Zahira Habibullah case, SCC p. 395, para 35)'

32. In State of Karnataka v. K. Yarappa Reddy (1999) 8 SCC 715, this Court occasioned to consider the similar question of defective investigation as to whether any manipulation in the station house diary by the investigating officer could be put against the prosecution case. This Court, in para 19, held as follows: (SCC p. 720) "19. But can the above finding (that the station house diary is not genuine) have any inevitable bearing on the other evidence in this case? If the other evidence, on scrutiny, is found credible and acceptable, should the court be influenced by the machinations demonstrated by the investigating officer in conducting investigation or in preparing the records so unscrupulously? It can be a guiding principle that as investigation is not the solitary area for judicial scrutiny in a criminal trial, the conclusion of the court in the case cannot be allowed to depend solely on the probity of investigation. It is well-nigh settled that even if the investigation is illegal or even suspicious the rest of the evidence must be scrutinised independently of the impact of it. Otherwise the criminal trial will plummet to the level of the investigating officers ruling the roost. The court must have predominance and pre-eminence in criminal trials over the action taken by the investigating officers. The criminal justice should not be made a casualty for the wrongs committed by the investigating officers in the case. In other words, if the court is convinced that the testimony of a witness to the occurrence is true the court is free to act on it albeit the investigating officer's suspicious role in the case.'

33. In Ram Bali v. State of U.P. (2004) 10 SCC 598, the judgment in Karnel Singh v. State of M.P. (1995) 5 SCC 518 was reiterated and this Court had observed that: (Ram Bali case, SCC p. 604, para 12) "12. ... In case of defective investigation the court has to be circumspect [while] evaluating the evidence. But it would not be right in acquitting an accused person solely on account of the defect; to do so would tantamount to playing into the hands of the investigation officer if the investigation is designedly defective.'

34. Where our criminal justice system provides safeguards of fair trial and innocent till proven guilty to an accused, there it also contemplates that a criminal trial is meant for doing justice to all, the accused, the society and a fair chance to prove to the prosecution. Then alone can law and order be maintained. The courts do not merely discharge the function to ensure that no innocent man is punished, but also that a guilty man does not escape. Both are public duties of the Judge. During the course of the trial, the learned Presiding Judge is expected to work objectively and in a correct perspective. Where the prosecution attempts to misdirect the trial on the basis of a perfunctory or designedly defective investigation, there the court is to be deeply cautious and ensure that despite such an attempt, the determinative process is not subverted. For truly attaining this object of a "fair trial', the court should leave no stone unturned to do justice and protect the interest of the society as well.

(Emphasis supplied)

57. In State of Karnataka v. Suvarnamma, (2015) 1 SCC 323, the Hon'ble Supreme Court held that "It is also well settled that though the investigating agency is expected to be fair and efficient, any lapse on its part cannot per se be a ground to throw out the prosecution case when there is overwhelming evidence to prove the offence."

(emphasis supplied)

19. In Mohabbat vs. State of M.P., (2009) 13 SCC 630, Hon'ble Supreme Court has held that it is well settled that relationship is not a ground affecting the credibility of a witness, relevant extract of paragraph 11, 12 and 13.5 are quoted as under:

"11. Learned counsel for the respondent State on the other hand supported the judgment of the High Court.

"12. Merely because the eyewitnesses are family members their evidence cannot per se be discarded. When there is allegation of interestedness, the same has to be established. Mere statement that being relatives of the deceased they are likely to falsely implicate the accused cannot be a ground to discard the evidence which is otherwise cogent and credible. We shall also deal with the contention regarding interestedness of the witnesses for furthering the prosecution version.

13. "5. ... Relationship is not a factor to affect credibility of a witness. It is more often than not that a relation would not conceal actual culprit and make allegations against an innocent person. Foundation has to be laid if plea of false implication is made. In such cases, the court has to adopt a careful approach and analyse evidence to find out whether it is cogent and credible.

(emphasis supplied)

20. In Nirmal Singh and Another vs. State of Bihar, AIR 2005 SC 1265, the Hon'ble Supreme Court has held that if eye witness account is convincing on firing by accused or deceased, some infirmity in investigation like nonsending of blood stained cloth wrapped around the wound for chemical examination were not fatal to prosecution, para 16, 17 and 18 whereof are quoted as under:

"16. Counsel then submitted that the prosecution has failed to prove that the dalan of the deceased was the real place of occurrence. This submission is based on the fact that no blood stained earth was seized from the place of occurrence. It is true that no blood stained earth was seized from the place of occurrence but there is also evidence of several witnesses including the investigating officer that no blood had fallen on the earth. Eye witnesses explained that on receiving the injury the deceased pressed his wound with his hands whereafter a piece of cloth was tied around the wound which soaked the blood which may have come out. There was, therefore, no likelihood of the earth getting blood stained. Counsel for the appellants submitted that the intestines were protruding as described in the inquest report, and in such a situation there must have been some bleeding,. That may be so, but in view of the explanation offered by the prosecution witnesses it appears probable that no blood had fallen on the ground at the place of occurrence. In any event, if some blood had fallen at the place of occurrence which the investigating officer failed to notice, that by itself will not be fatal to the case of the prosecution. We must observe that the investigation in this case has been most unsatisfactory and the investigating officer was not conscious of his responsibilities. The blood stained piece of cloth which was wrapped around the wound of the deceased appears to have been seized by the investigating officer, but when questioned as to why it was not sent for chemical examination, he answered that he had hung that piece of cloth on a guava tree in the police station. The statement is comical but discloses the utter non-seriousness with which the investigation was conducted. We had expected better from the investigating officer who was investigating a serious case of murder. However, for this reason we will not reject the case of the prosecution entirely.

17. With these facts in the background, we have to consider whether the ocular testimony of Pws. 1, 3, 4, 5, 6, 8 & 11 should be discarded. It is no doubt true that the eye witnesses are related to each other but that is to be expected since the occurrence took place in the dalan of the house of the deceased. The evidence of the eye witnesses does not suffer from any infirmity, and appears to be convicting. No significant contradiction or infirmity has been brought to our notice.

18. In these circumstances, we do not feel persuaded to discard the case of the prosecution only on account of some infirmities which we have noticed earlier. There appears to be no reason why so many eye witnesses should falsely implicate the appellants, and there is in fact, nothing on record to suggest that the witnesses had any

21. In Narendra Nath Khaware vs. Parasnath Khaware and Others, (2003) 5 SCC 488, it was held by the Hon'ble Supreme Court that absence of bloodstains on the spot is of no consequence where there was no doubt about the actual occurrence having taken place and about the spot where it took place; relevant extract of para 7 whereof is quoted as under:-

"7. .....Another factor which had weighed with the courts below is the absence of blood on the spot. This was explained as wholly of no consequence in the facts of the present case where there is no doubt about the actual occurrence having taken place and about the spot where it took place. It is also emerging from the record that the courtyard where the incident took place was open to sky and it was a rainy day. Therefore, as argued by the learned counsel for the appellant, the bloodstains might have been washed away."

22. A reference may also be made in this regard to Ram Swaroop and Others vs. State of U.P., (2000) 2 SCC 461, para 12 whereof is quoted as under:-

"12. According to the learned counsel for the appellants, as no blood had collected or found on the platform, it is a serious infirmity in the case for the prosecution. This point was also urged before the High Court and the High Court rightly rejected this point on the ground that the victim were immediately taken to the police station and people were also moving here and there at the place of the occurrence. Therefore, by the time the investigating officer went to the place, even if blood had fallen on the ground, the officer could not have collected the blood."

23. Same view was taken in State of Rajasthan vs. Satyanarayan, (1998) 8 SCC 404, para 7 whereof is quoted as under:-

"7. Merely because no blood was found near the house of the respondent, it cannot be said that no incident took place there. The fact that kesar Lal had received a knife blow near his house was admitted by the accused though according to him the knife was with PW 2- Satyanarayan and not with him As the trial court has pointed out, the place was a public road and there was lot of traffic on that road. That could have been the reason why no blood was found when the spot panchnama was made after few hours. Moreover, the evidence discloses that intestines of Kesar Lal had come out and that could have blocked the flow of much blood. Some blood was absorbed by the clothes. Therefore, the circumstance that not sufficient blood was noticed when the spot panchnama was made should not have been utilised by the High court for holding that the prosecution version was not correct and that the defence version was more probable."

24. As per the law discussed above, it is the duty of this Court not only merely discharge the function to ensure that innocent person is not punished but also that guilty person does not escape. Settled law is that both are public duties of the Court then alone law and order can be maintained. As held, for truly attaining this object of a "fair trial' the Court should leave no stone unturned to do justice and protect the society as well. We are conscious of the fact that this appeal is of the year 1983, however, bound by the aforesaid duty, we proceed to record our findings.

25. As per the law discussed above, we find that the judgment of the trial court is wholly perverse and is not sustainable in the eye of law. We find that the approach of the trial court dealing with the evidence was patently illegal as the conclusion arrived at is wholly unsustainable and requires interference. We also find that the evidence of the witnesses read as a whole has a ring of truth and the trial court has adopted a hyper technical approach by giving importance to some minor lapses committed by the Investigating Officer and on that basis rejected the evidence as a whole. The trial court has picked up sentences from here and there from the statements of the eye witnesses and has raised presumption regarding innocence of the accused. We are of the firm opinion that the entire judgment is based on complete misreading of the evidence and the same is purely based on conjectures and surmises and is perverse in nature. Therefore, as per the settled law, we are incline to reconsider the entire evidences on record.

26. We find that the first information report was lodged promptly without any delay. The incident had taken place at 1.00 pm and the first information report was lodged on the same day at 3.00 pm. The Investigating Officer promptly recorded the statement of the informant under Section 161 Cr.P.C. and proceeded to the place of occurrence and inspected the dead body and sealed the same. The bloodstained soil and plain soil were collected and recovery memo was prepared. One empty cartridge was recovered from the spot, recovery memo whereof was prepared as Exhibit-11. PW.1-Shiv Sharan Singh, who is the eyewitness of the incident and the real brother of the deceased had clearly stated that if they return from their field, house of the accused comes first and thereafter, would reach to his own house and by explaining the site plan he had clearly specified the spot where the incident had taken place. It is clearly stated that the residence of Ram Autar is in front of the house of Dashrath Dhobi and that of Goverdhan. He had also stated that his brother Babu Singh had slapped the sister of the accused while she was plucking gram leaves alonwith her mother. On this the mother and sister of the accused returned to their house abusing them and after some time when they reached near the house of Ram Autar, Ram Autar came out and stood in front of his brother-deceased Babu Singh and said that since you have slapped my sister, he will teach him a lesson and took out a country made pistol from his waist and fired on the chest of Babu Singh. He had also stated that when he tried to move forward and started shouting then other villagers Goverdhan, Dasrath, Shiv Mohan, Layak Singh and Ram Raj came to the spot, who have seen the incident and when they tried to catch the accused, he reloaded the country made pistol, threatened the witnesses and ran away towards west. This clearly show that a categorical description of the spot, time and the manner in which the offence has been committed by the accused Ram Autar has been given by the PW-1, which also finds categorical support from the statement of PW-2-Dashrath. The aforesaid statement further reflects that the accused Ram Autar was prepared with his country made pistol to commit the crime and has actually committed the same. He further stated that after incident he removed his brother and placed him on the Chabutara of Goverdhan where he died. He had withstood the cross examination and had also stated the distance that Ram Autar fired from a distance of about four feets (Chaar Hath Ki Duri) away.

27. Similarly, PW-2 Dashrath, whose house is in front of the house of the accused- Ram Autar and spot where the murder was committed, had categorically proved his presence on the spot and has also given exact description of the place and the manner in which the offence was committed, which could not be dislodged by the defence witnesses. The informant as well as the prosecution witnesses after investigation was not shy in stating that when the deceased Babu Singh was fired upon he was standing on the Kaccha Rasta and immediately after being shot was shifted to Chabutara of Goverdhan where he died and where the dead body was found lying when the Investigating Officer had reached the spot. PW-2 having proved his presence on the spot from the time much earlier to the time of incident had clearly stated that when the mother and sister of the accused Ram Autar came to the spot abusing the deceased they all went inside the house and accused Ram Autar came out after about 10-15 minutes and sat on Chabutara and when he saw Babu Singh coming, he rushed towards him blocked his way and repeatedly asking him why did he slap his sister, who did not answer the said question, thereafter Ram Autar took the country made pistol from his waist and fired on the chest of the deceased.

28. At this stage, we would like to refer to the post mortem report and the defence argument that the evidence has come that the deceased was fired upon from the front side but as per post mortem report deceased suffered injury on the left side, therefore, ocular account of prosecution version is not correct. We find that the incident has been clearly narrated that accused Ram Autar came in front of Babu Ram and stopped him from the front side and was repeatedly asking him why he had slapped his sister. It is quite possible that until the accused Ram Autar was asking him this question, he might have been standing straight, however, as a natural human reaction, when he had seen the accused taking out his countrymade pistol, he might have naturally turned side way and therefore, he suffered injury on the left side. This appears to be quite natural coupled with the fact that injury is on the chest and which by itself clearly proves that the accused Ram Autar has fired upon him with a clear intention to kill him, therefore, we find that this fact that the deceased suffered fire arm injury on the left side of his chest does not help the accused.

29. PW.3-Station House Officer-Madan Singh had clearly stated that he prepared Chick FIR and G.D. and had recorded the statement of the appellant in the police station and inspected the place of occurrence where he found that the dead body of the deceased Babu Singh lying on the Chabutara of Goverdhan. He had prepared the panchnama and site plan was also prepared. He had proved that he has collected the bloodstained soil and plain soil from the spot. He had proved the recovery of empty cartridge from the spot. Thereafter, he searched the house of the accused where nobody was found but he recovered illegal cartridges from the house of the accused. On the next day, he had recorded statements of other witnesses. He had also proved that accused was absconding and proceedings under Section 82-83 Cr.P.C. were initiated against him and after receiving the warrants from the Court, he attached the goods of the accused and had prepared a "fard' report dated 14.12.1982. He had also stated that during investigation he could not find sister and mother of the accused and had shown the place of occurrence as place "A" and no blood was found on that place and the dead body was lying on the Chabutara of Goverdhan. The distance between spot on Kaccha Rasta and Chabutara is extremely short, may be 3-4 paces. Therefore, place of occurrence of crime is very much ascertainable, more so, coupled with specific eye witness account.

30. Much emphasis has been placed by the learned counsel appearing for the accused respondents that blood was not found on the place of occurrence, i.e. Kaccha Rasta and therefore, the incident as alleged has not taken place and Ram Autar is not guilty of committing such murder. From perusal of the post mortem report, we find that there is a entry wound and margins were inverted and blackening was present. One big pallet (Chharra) was also found inside the chest. Normally, this kind of wound, if any fatal injury suffered without any exist firearm wound, blood would not immediately started oozing out as the big pallet might have blocked the blood from immediately oozing out from the injury and it has come in the evidence that after committing murder the accused immediately reloaded his country made pistol, threatened the witnesses and ran away towards west side and immediately thereafter the body of Babu Singh was lifted from the place of occurrence to the Chabutara of Goverdhan. It is nobody's case that the murder had taken place at any other place except the place shown in the site plan, therefore, it is clear that if the defence version is taken to be true that the murder had taken place at some other place, it could not have been possible to bring the body of the deceased to the Chabutara of Goverdhan without there being any blood trail on the floor/passage/rasta etc. There is absolutely no evidence on record to prove or even to suggest that place of occurrence could have been different. The blackening present on the wound further supported the eye witness account of PW-1 that the deceased was fired upon in close range (Chaar Hath Ki Doori).

31. In the case of Nirmal Singh (supra) the Hon'ble Apex Court has held that in case if some blood had fallen on the place of occurrence, which the Investigating Officer has failed to notice that by itself will not be fatal to the case of the prosecution. Similar view has been expressed in Narendra Nath Khaware (supra), Ram Swaroop and Others (supra) and Satya Narayan (supra). Therefore, in our opinion, even if the Investigating Officer has stated that no blood was found on the spot marked as spot "A" it would not help the defence. At the worst this could have been a case of defective investigation of which no benefit can be granted to the accused person when there is a direct evidence available on record. Therefore, the benefit granted to the accused that as no blood was found at place "A" the murder has not taken place in the manner as alleged is wholly perverse and in the totality of evidence available on record is not sustainable in the eye of law.

32. PW-4-Dr. Satish Chandara Srivastava has clearly stated that the death of the deceased was possible on 07.12.1982 at 2.00 pm due to firearm injury. He has also stated that collected blood was found in the chest of the deceased and a big pallet was also found inside the chest.

33. In this background, this Court is of the opinion that the presumption raised by the trial court in granting benefit of doubt that since the informant and the deceased are the owner of agricultural field whereas the accused belonging to labour class, therefore, it is not understandable as to why the deceased Babu Singh slapped only sister of the accused, who was aged about 8-10 years and why he did not slap mother of the accused, is neither here nor there and it is only on this ground that the trial court has perversely drawn the presumption that the informant was not present on the spot by taking the sentence from the statement of PW-2, Dashrath, who is also an eyewitness that the deceased was coming alongwith his brother-PW-1-Shiv Sharan Singh when the incident had taken place and although he named the other witnesses namely Ram Raj, Layak Singh and that some other persons were gathered on the spot but as he has not mentioned the name of PW.1 alongwith the names of persons who have seen the incident. Therefore, presumption raised by the trial court that presence and hence, the testimony of PW-2-Dashrath was not worth belief is also highly perverse.

34. Another presumption was raised by the trial court that as the deceased Babu Singh was wearing only Kaccha (underwear) at the time of incident, therefore, it reflects his bad character due to which he was murdered, is also not reflected from the entire evidence on record. The incident is dated 07.12.1982 and it is of common knowledge that at times villagers usually used to roam around wearing only underwear particularly when they visit their field, hence that alone, without any evidence, is not sufficient to raise such presumption. Even otherwise, even such presumption of bad character of deceased, by no standard proves the innocence of the accused.

35. In the statement of accused recorded under Section 313 Cr.P.C. he has talked about "enmity' and at other place "old enmity'. However, he had given no description of the enmity or old enmity as alleged by him, therefore, presumption raised by the trial court about enmity is also not sustainable in the eye of law.

36. The trial court observed that once the allegation was that the deceased Babu Singh has slapped sister of the accused while she was plucking gram leaves but still the Investigating Officer is not included the same in the site plan and has not recorded the same in his case diary is also per se illegal inasmuch this ground i.e. non-highlighting the aforesaid spot in the site plan would not have effected the prosecution case. Therefore, wholly irrelevant factor has been taken into account to grant benefit of acquittal to the accused. Admittedly, mother and sister of the accused Ram Autar were missing from the spot and since no allegation were levelled against them, therefore, this does not effect the merit of the investigation conducted by the Investigating Officer.

37. A presumption again raised by the trial court that villagers usually visit their field in the morning hours and thereafter usually take their lunch by 10-11 am and relax thereafter is neither here nor there when the time, spot and manner of the incident was clearly proved beyond doubt. In the post mortem report it is further reflected that semi digested food was present in the stomach of the deceased. The time of incident was at 1.00 o'clock and therefore, presence of semi digested food in the stomach was natural as the deceased must have taken something in the morning, which was present in his stomach in the shape of semi digested food.

38. We, therefore, find that the present judgment is purely based on presumption whereas direct evidence on record beyond any shadow of doubt proves the manner time and place in which the incident had taken place committed by the accused Ram Autar.

39. The defence argument is also to the effect that PW-1-Shiv Sharan Singh is the real brother of the deceased and highly interested witness. Suffice to say that merely because the eyewitnesses are the family members there evidence cannot per se be discarded as held by the Hon'ble Apex Court in Mohabbat (supra).

40. We, therefore, find that the judgment of acquittal is patently illegal and the conclusion arrived at by the trial court is wholly untenable and requires interference and reversal. The evidence of PW-1-Shiv Shankar Singh and PW-2-Dashrath, who are the eyewitnesses clearly reflects ring of truth and proves beyond shadow of doubt that the accused Ram Autar has committed murder of Babu Singh and is liable to be convicted under Section 302 IPC.

41. We are also of the view that a crime has been committed in breach and violation of the public rights and duty and it is harmful to the society. We are, therefore, duty bound to maintain public confidence and administration of justice and to uphold the Majesty of law. We cannot turn a blind eye to the highly perverse judgment passed purely on the basis of presumptions and by not reading the evidence as a whole and only picking up sentences in isolation from here and there from the statements of eyewitnesses, we are, therefore, of the opinion that while being conscious that no innocent person is punished, we are also duty bound to see that a guilty person does not go unpunished.

42. Hon'ble Apex Court in Criminal Appeal No.327 of 2022 (Karan Singh vs. The State of Uttar Pradesh and Others), decided on 02.03.2022, had the occasion to consider the contingencies whereat a ground was taken by the accused that since a long span of time has elapsed and thus, it would not be proper to convict him, however, the Hon'ble Apex Court in paragraph 47 has observed as under:-

"47. We find no grounds to interfere with the concurrent findings of the Trial Court and the High Court. The fact that the trial/appeal should have taken years and that other accused should have died during the appeal cannot be a ground for acquittal of the Appellant. The appeal is thus dismissed."

43. Recently, yet in Criminal Appeal No.-- of 2022 (Arising out of Special Leave Petition (Criminal) No.-- of 2022, further arising out of Diary No.21596 of 2020, State of Rajasthan vs. Banwari Lal and Another, decided on 08.04.2022, the Hon'ble Apex Court in paragraphs 7 & 8 has held as under.

"7. At this stage, few decisions of this Court on principles for sentencing and tests for awarding an appropriate sentence in a given case are required to be referred to and considered.

i) In the case of Mohan Lal (supra), the High Court modified the judgment and order passed by the learned trial Court and sentenced the accused to the period already undergone by him, which was only six days and absolutely no reasons, much less valid reasons, were assigned by the High Court. While setting aside the order passed by the High Court, this Court has observed in paragraphs 9 to 13 as under:

"9. The High Court simply brushed aside the aforementioned material facts and sentenced the accused to the period already undergone by him, which is only 6 days in this case. In our view, the trial court and the High Court have taken a lenient view by convicting the accused for offences under Sections 325 and 323 IPC. Absolutely no reasons, much less valid reasons, are assigned by the High Court to impose the meagre sentence of 6 days. Such imposition of sentence by the High Court shocks the judicial conscience of this Court.

10. Currently, India does not have structured sentencing guidelines that have been issued either by the legislature or the judiciary. However, the courts have framed certain guidelines in the matter of imposition of sentence. A Judge has wide discretion in awarding the sentence within the statutory limits. Since in many offences only the maximum punishment is prescribed and for some offences the minimum punishment is prescribed, each Judge exercises his discretion accordingly. There cannot, therefore, be any uniformity. However, this Court has repeatedly held that the courts will have to take into account certain principles while exercising their discretion in sentencing, such as proportionality, deterrence and rehabilitation. In a proportionality analysis, it is necessary to assess the seriousness of an offence in order to determine the commensurate punishment for the offender. The seriousness of an offence depends, apart from other things, also upon its harmfulness.

11. This Court in Soman v. State of Kerala [Soman v. State of Kerala, (2013) 11 SCC 382 : (2012) 4 SCC (Cri) 1] observed thus: (SCC p. 393, para 27)

"27.1. Courts ought to base sentencing decisions on various different rationales -- most prominent amongst which would be proportionality and deterrence.

27.2. The question of consequences of criminal action can be relevant from both a proportionality and deterrence standpoint. 27.3. Insofar as proportionality is concerned, the sentence must be commensurate with the seriousness or gravity of the offence. 27.4. One of the factors relevant for judging seriousness of the offence is the consequences resulting from it.

27.5. Unintended consequences/ harm may still be properly attributed to the offender if they were reasonably foreseeable. In case of illicit and underground manufacture of liquor, the chances of toxicity are so high that not only its manufacturer but the distributor and the retail vendor would know its likely risks to the consumer. Hence, even though any harm to the consumer might not be directly intended, some aggravated culpability must attach if the consumer suffers some grievous hurt or dies as result of consuming the spurious liquor."

12. The same is the verdict of this Court in Alister Anthony Pareira v. State of Maharashtra [Alister Anthony Pareira v. State of Maharashtra, (2012) 2 SCC 648 : (2012) 1 SCC (Civ) 848 : (2012) 1 SCC (Cri) 953] wherein it is observed thus: (SCC p. 674, para 84) "84. Sentencing is an important task in the matters of crime. One of the prime objectives of the criminal law is imposition of appropriate, adequate, just and proportionate sentence commensurate with the nature and gravity of crime and the manner in which the crime is done. There is no straitjacket formula for sentencing an accused on proof of crime. The courts have evolved certain principles: the twin objective of the sentencing policy is deterrence and correction. What sentence would meet the ends of justice depends on the facts and circumstances of each case and the court must keep in mind the gravity of the crime, motive for the crime, nature of the offence and all other attendant circumstances."

13. From the aforementioned observations, it is clear that the principle governing the imposition of punishment will depend upon the facts and circumstances of each case. However, the sentence should be appropriate, adequate, just, proportionate and commensurate with the nature and gravity of the crime and the manner in which the crime is committed. The gravity of the crime, motive for the crime, nature of the crime and all other attending circumstances have to be borne in mind while imposing the sentence. The court cannot afford to be casual while imposing the sentence, inasmuch as both the crime and the criminal are equally important in the sentencing process. The courts must see that the public does not lose confidence in the judicial system. Imposing inadequate sentences will do more harm to the justice system and may lead to a state where the victim loses confidence in the judicial system and resorts to private vengeance."

ii) In the case of Udham (supra), in paragraphs 11 to 13, it is observed and held as under:

"11. We are of the opinion that a large number of cases are being filed before this Court, due to insufficient or wrong sentencing undertaken by the courts below. We have time and again cautioned against the cavalier manner in which sentencing is dealt in certain cases. There is no gainsaying that the aspect of sentencing should not be taken for granted, as this part of Criminal Justice System has determinative impact on the society. In light of the same, we are of the opinion that we need to provide further clarity on the same.

12. Sentencing for crimes has to be analysed on the touchstone of three tests viz. crime test, criminal test and comparative proportionality test. Crime test involves factors like extent of planning, choice of weapon, modus of crime, disposal modus (if any), role of the accused, anti-social or abhorrent character of the crime, state of victim. Criminal test involves assessment of factors such as age of the criminal, gender of the criminal, economic conditions or social background of the criminal, motivation for crime, availability of defence, state of mind, instigation by the deceased or any one from the deceased group, adequately represented in the trial, disagreement by a Judge in the appeal process, repentance, possibility of reformation, prior criminal record (not to take pending cases) and any other relevant factor (not an exhaustive list).

13. Additionally, we may note that under the crime test, seriousness needs to be ascertained. The seriousness of the crime may be ascertained by (i) bodily integrity of the victim; (ii) loss of material support or amenity; (iii) extent of humiliation; and (iv) privacy breach."

In the said decision, this Court again cautioned against the cavalier manner in which sentencing is dealt with in certain cases.

iii) In the case of Satish Kumar Jayanti Lal Dabgar (supra), this Court has observed and held that the purpose and justification behind sentencing is not only retribution, incapacitation, rehabilitation but deterrence as well.

8. Applying the law laid down by this Court on principles for sentencing, to the facts of the case on hand, we are of the opinion that the approach of the High Court is most cavalier. Therefore, the order of the High Court merits interference by this Court. Merely on the technical ground of delay and merely on the ground that after the impugned judgment and order, which is unsustainable, the accused have resettled in their lives and their conduct has since been satisfactory and they have not indulged in any criminal activity, is no ground not to condone the delay and not to consider the appeal on merits. Hence, the delay of 1880 days in preferring the appeal is condoned."

44. Applying the principles of law so laid down in the case of Karan Singh (supra) and Banwari Lal (supra) an inescapable principle of law stands culled out that merely after lapse of sufficient time coupled with other factors, namely, the age of the accused and his resettlement, if any post acquittal by the trial court, cannot be a ground to bestow any benefit so as to wipe away the aftermath of commission of crime.

45. In view of the aforesaid discussion, the instant appeal stands allowed. The judgment and order dated 26.07.1983 passed by the Learned Special Judge, Fatehpur in Session Trial No. 104 of 1983 (State vs. Ram Autar Kori), arising out of Case Crimes No. 172/1982, under Section 302 IPC, Police Station Khakhreru, District Fatehpur, acquitting the accused-respondent-Ram Autar s/o Ram Swarup Kori is set aside and reversed. The accused-respondent-Ram Autar s/o Ram Swarup Kori is held guilty of committing offence punishable under Section 302 IPC.

46. For the offence under Section 302 I.P.C., the accused-respondent Ram Autar s/o Ram Swarup Kori is sentenced to undergo simple imprisonment for life and to pay a fine of Rupees Twenty Thousand Only (Rs. 20,000/-) and if he fail to pay the amount of fine, he shall have to undergo imprisonment for a period of six months in lieu thereof.

47. The accused-respondent -Ram Autar s/o Ram Swarup Kori is directed to surrender before the learned Chief Judicial Magistrate, Fatehpur within a period of 15 days from the date of this order to serve out the sentence awarded to him. In case he does not surrender within the stipulated time, learned Chief Judicial Magistrate, Fatehpur shall commit him to custody as per law.

48. Let a certified copy of this judgment and order be sent to the Court concerned immediately for ensuring its compliance.

(2022) 9 ILRA 1059
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 02.08.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE OM PRAKASH TRIPATHI, J.

Habeas Corpus Writ Petition No. 486 of 2022

Master Riyansh Singh (Minor) ...Petitioner
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Sri Avnish Kumar Srivastava, Sri Mohammad Anas Raza

Counsel for the Respondents:
G.A., Sri Syed Riyaz Askari

Civil Law - Constitution of India,1950 - Article 226, - Indian Penal Code, 1860 - Sections 323, 363, 504 & 498-A, - The Dowry Prohibition Act, 1961 - Sections 3 & 4 - Domestic Violence Act, 2005 - Sections - 12 & 323 - Writ of Habeas Corpus - object and scope - to maintainability of a writ of Habeas Corpus detention by parents or others is found to be illegal and without any authority of law - in the instant case claim of petitioner relating to custody of a minor child from her husband - there is a matrimonial dispute between husband and wife - mother lodged an FIR with allegation that her husband along with his family member had forcibly snatched her son - alleged child is not under unlawful or illegal detention, and applicant can avail an equally and efficacious alternative remedy under the Hindu Marriage and Guardianship Act, or under the Guardians and Wards Act, as the case may be - hence, court is not inclined to exercise its extraordinary jurisdiction to entertain the present petition - the prerogative writ of Habeas Corpus is in the nature of extraordinary remedy when there is no any ordinary remedy provided under the law is available - petition lacks merit and is hereby dismissed.(Para 8, 9, 10)

Appeal allowed. (E-11)

List of Cases cited:

1. Sayed Saleemuddin Vs Dr. Rukhsana & ors. (2001) 5 SCC 247,

2. Nithya Anand Raghvan Vs St. (NCT of Delhi)& anr. (2017) 8 SCC 454,

3. Tejaswini Gaud & ors. Vs Shekhar Jagdish Prasad Tewari & ors. (2019) 7 SCC 42.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Om Prakash Tripathi, J.)

1. Counter affidavit filed Shri Syed Riyaz Askari on behalf of opposite party nos. 4 & 5 today in the Court, is taken on record.

2. Heard leaned counsel for petitioner, learned counsel for opposite party nos. 4 and 5 and learned A.G.A. for State.

3. This habeas corpus writ petition has been filed by seeking following reliefs:-

(i) Issue a writ order or direction in the nature of Habeas Corpus directing the respondent nos. 4, 5 and 6 to produce the detenue petitioner, namely Master Riyansh Singh (Minor Detenue) before this Court.

(ii) Issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of mandamus commanding the respondents to set free the petitioner from the illegal detention and to allow him to go and live with his natural guardian i.e. mother and not to interference/create any kind of hindrance in the peaceful living of the petitioner- detenue with his mother.

4. Learned counsel for petitioner submitted that marriage between deponent (Smt. Komal)and the opposite party no. 4 (Satendra) was solemnized on 13.07.2016 under Hindu Rites and Rituals. Due to their wedlock, a male child namely Riyansh Singh was born who is presently four years old. When deponent came to know that opposite party no. 4 was earlier married with one Alka and the said fact was concealed thereafter deponent protested the said concealment then opposite party no. 4 started she was being subjected with cruelty and torture. It is further submitted that opposite party no. 4 is not treating the petitioner o. 1 well and that he has been illegally detained by the respondent nos. 4 to 6. In this connection the mother of the corpus has approached police authorities but of no avail. No information is being given in regard to the petitioner no. 1. It was submitted that custody of petitioner no. 1 be handed over to his mother.

5. It is well settled that writ of habeas corpus is a prerogative writ and an extraordinary remedy. The object and scope of a writ of habeas corpus in the context of a claim relating to custody of a minor child fell for consideration in case of Sayed Saleemuddin vs. Dr. Rukhsana and others (2001) 5 SCC 247 and it was held that in a habeas corpus petition seeking transfer of custody of a child from one parent to the other, the principal consideration for the court would be to ascertain whether the custody of the child can be said to be unlawful or illegal and whether the welfare of the child requires that the present custody should be changed. In said case it was held as under:-

"11. ...it is clear that in an application seeking a writ of Habeas Corpus for custody of minor children the principal consideration for the Court is to ascertain whether the custody of the children can be said to be unlawful or illegal and whether the welfare of the children requires that present custody should be changed and the children should be left in care and custody of somebody else. The principle is well settled that in a matter of custody of a child the welfare of the child is of paramount consideration of the Court..."

6. Similarly, in the case of Nithya Anand Raghvan v State (NCT of Delhi) and another 2017 8 SCC 454, it was held that the principal duty of the court in such matters is to ascertain whether the custody of the child is unlawful and illegal and whether the welfare of the child requires that his present custody should be changed and the child be handed over to the care and custody of any other person. The relevant observations made in the judgement are as follows:-

"44. The present appeal emanates from a petition seeking a writ of habeas corpus for the production and custody of a minor child. This Court in Kanu Sanyal v. District Magistrate, Darjeeling, (1973) 2 SCC 674, has held that habeas corpus was essentially a procedural writ dealing with machinery of justice. The object underlying the writ was to secure the release of a person who is illegally deprived of his liberty. The writ of habeas corpus is a command addressed to the person who is alleged to have another in unlawful custody, requiring him to produce the body of such person before the court. On production of the person before the court, the circumstances in which the custody of the person concerned has been detained can be inquired into by the court and upon due inquiry into the alleged unlawful restraint pass appropriate direction as may be deemed just and proper. The High Court in such proceedings conducts an inquiry for immediate determination of the right of the person's freedom and his release when the detention is found to be unlawful.

45. In a petition for issuance of a writ of habeas corpus in relation to the custody of a minor child, this Court in Sayed Saleemuddin v. Rukhsana, (2001) 5 SCC 247, has held that the principal duty of the court is to ascertain whether the custody of child is unlawful or illegal and whether the welfare of the child requires that his present custody should be changed and the child be handed over to the care and custody of any other person. While doing so, the paramount consideration must be about the welfare of the child. In Elizabeth Dinshaw v. Arvand M. Dinshaw, (1987) 1 SCC 42, it is held that in such cases the matter must be decided not by reference to the legal rights of the parties but on the sole and predominant criterion of what would best serve the interests and welfare of the minor. The role of the High Court in examining the cases of custody of a minor is on the touchstone of principle of parens patriae jurisdiction, as the minor is within the jurisdiction of the Court [see Paul Mohinder Gahun Vs. State (NCT of Delhi), 2004 SCC OnLine Del 699, relied upon by the appellant]. It is not necessary to multiply the authorities on this proposition.

46. The High Court while dealing with the petition for issuance of a writ of habeas corpus concerning a minor child, in a given case, may direct return of the child or decline to change the custody of the child keeping in mind all the attending facts and circumstances including the settled legal position referred to above. Once again, we may hasten to add that the decision of the court, in each case, must depend on the totality of the facts and circumstances of the case brought before it whilst considering the welfare of the child which is of paramount consideration. The order of the foreign court must yield to the welfare of the child. Further, the remedy of writ of habeas corpus cannot be used for mere enforcement of the directions given by the foreign court against a person within its jurisdiction and convert that jurisdiction into that of an executing court. Indubitably, the writ petitioner can take recourse to such other remedy as may be permissible in law for enforcement of the order passed by the foreign court or to resort to any other proceedings as may be permissible in law before the Indian Court for the custody of the child, if so advised.

47. In a habeas corpus petition as aforesaid, the High Court must examine at the threshold whether the minor is in lawful or unlawful custody of another person (private respondent named in the writ petition). For considering that issue, in a case such as the present one, it is enough to note that the private respondent was none other than the natural guardian of the minor being her biological mother. Once that fact is ascertained, it can be presumed that the custody of the minor with his/her mother is lawful. In such a case, only in exceptionable situation, the custody of the minor (girl child) may be ordered to be taken away from her mother for being given to any other person including the husband (father of the child), in exercise of writ jurisdiction. Instead, the other parent can be asked to resort to a substantive prescribed remedy for getting custody of the child."

7. The issue of maintainability of a habeas corpus petition under Article 226 of the Constitution of India in matters of custody of minor was also considered in case of Tejaswini Gaud and others vs. Shekhar Jagdish Prasad Tewari and others (2019) 7 SCC 42, and it was held that the petition would be maintainable where detention by parents or others is found to be illegal and without any authority of law and the extraordinary remedy of a prerogative writ of habeas corpus can be availed in exceptional cases where ordinary remedy provided by the law is either unavailable or ineffective. The observations made in the judgment in this regard are as follows:-

"14. Writ of habeas corpus is a prerogative process for securing the liberty of the subject by affording an effective means of immediate release from an illegal or improper detention. The writ also extends its influence to restore the custody of a minor to his guardian when wrongfully deprived of it. The detention of a minor by a person who is not entitled to his legal custody is treated as equivalent to illegal detention for the purpose of granting writ, directing custody of the minor child. For restoration of the custody of a minor from a person who according to the personal law, is not his legal or natural guardian, in appropriate cases, the writ court has jurisdiction.

x x x

19. Habeas corpus proceedings is not to justify or examine the legality of the custody. Habeas corpus proceedings is a medium through which the custody of the child is addressed to the discretion of the court. Habeas corpus is a prerogative writ which is an extraordinary remedy and the writ is issued where in the circumstances of the particular case, ordinary remedy provided by the law is either not available or is ineffective; otherwise a writ will not be issued. In child custody matters, the power of the High Court in granting the writ is qualified only in cases where the detention of a minor by a person who is not entitled to his legal custody. In view of the pronouncement on the issue in question by the Supreme Court and the High Courts, in our view, in child custody matters, the writ of habeas corpus is maintainable where it is proved that the detention of a minor child by a parent or others was illegal and without any authority of law.

20. In child custody matters, the ordinary remedy lies only under the Hindu Minority and Guardianship Act or the Guardians and Wards Act as the case may be. In cases arising out of the proceedings under the Guardians and Wards Act, the jurisdiction of the court is determined by whether the minor ordinarily resides within the area on which the court exercises such jurisdiction. There are significant differences between the enquiry under the Guardians and Wards Act and the exercise of powers by a writ court which is of summary in nature. What is important is the welfare of the child. In the writ court, rights are determined only on the basis of affidavits. Where the court is of the view that a detailed enquiry is required, the court may decline to exercise the extraordinary jurisdiction and direct the parties to approach the civil court. It is only in exceptional cases, the rights of the parties to the custody of the minor will be determined in exercise of extraordinary jurisdiction on a petition for habeas corpus."

8. What emerges from above stated authorities is that the exercise of the extraordinary jurisdiction for issuance of a writ of habeas corpus would, therefore, be considered to be dependent on the jurisdictional fact, where the applicant establishes a prima facie case that the detention is unlawful. It is only where the aforementioned jurisdictional fact is established that the applicant would become entitled to the writ. In an application seeking a writ of habeas corpus for custody of minor child, as is the case herein, the principal consideration for the court would be to ascertain whether the custody of the child can be said to be unlawful and illegal and whether his/her welfare requires that the present custody should be changed and the child should be handed over in the care and custody of someone else. Proceedings in the of habeas corpus may not be used to examine the question of the custody of a child. The prerogative writ of habeas corpus, is in the nature of extraordinary remedy and the writ is issued, where in the circumstances of a particular case, the ordinary remedy provided under law is either not available or is ineffective. The power of the High Court, in granting a writ, in child custody matters, may be invoked only in cases where the detention of a minor is by a person, who is not entitled to his/her legal custody.

9. From the perusal of record it appears that Smt. Komal had lodged F.I.R under Sections 498-A, 323, 363, 504 I.P.C. and Section 3/4 D.P. Act, P.S.- Babugadh, District- Hapur in Case Crime No. 157/2022 in which it has been stated that on 29.04.2022 when she was coming from the school with her son Riyansh, her mother-in-law and husband forcibly snatched her son in which accused Alka Chaudhary and Satendra have been granted anticipatory bail. Komal has also filed a case under Section 12 of Domestic Violence Act against Satendra and others, pending before the competent court. The minor son Riyansh is living in the custody of his father who is natural guardian and Smt. Komal had also lodged F.IR. against the husband and family members of the husband. It shows that custody of the alleged child is not unlawful or illegal and applicant has equally efficacious relief which can be availed by her for the custody of child.

10. Considering the facts of the matter as well as the aforesaid position of law, it is apparent that the remedy in such matters would lie under the Hindu Minority and Guardianship Act, 1956 or Guardians and Wards Act, 1890 GWA, as the case may be. In view of aforesaid, this Court is not inclined to exercise its extraordinary jurisdiction to entertain the present petition seeking a writ of habeas corpus.

11. The instant habeas corpus petition lacks merit and it is hereby dismissed.

(2022) 9 ILRA 1064
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 12.09.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DEVENDRA KUMAR UPADHYAYA, J.
THE HON'BLE SUBHASH VIDYARTHI, J.

Writ C No. 19316 of 2020

Mtv Buddhist Religious And Charitable Trust & Anr. ...Petitioner
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Anuj Dayal, Amit Jaiswal Ojus Law, Nipun Singh, Raghav D. Garg

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C., Gyanendra Kumar Srivastav, Kshitij Mishra, Rishabh Kapoor

Civil Law - The Constitution of India, 1950- Allahabad High Court Rules- Chapter XXII Rule 7 - Filing the earlier writ petition wherein liberty was granted to the petitioners to approach the authorities for redressal of their grievances, cannot amount to abandonment of the claim of the petitioners to seek a direction that the petitioner-institution be treated as Minority Institution and other ancillary reliefs.

Withdrawal of writ petition with liberty to approach the authorities would not amount to abandonment of claim and a subsequent writ petition will be maintainable against the order so passed by the authority.

Civil Law - The National Commission for Minority Educational Institutions Act, 2004- Section 2(g)- Section 11- Uttar Pradesh Private Professional Educational Institutions (Regulation of Admission and Fixation of Free) Act, 2006- Sections 2 & 3 (a)- Section 3(h)- Minority Institution as defined in U.P. Act No.24 of 2006 in an institution which is not only established and is being administered by a minority but it should be notified as such by the State Government- Thus, mere administration of an educational institution by minority or minorities is not sufficient or enough to declare such an Educational Institution to be a Minority Educational Institution even within the meaning of section 2(g) of the Act, 2004 - When the petitioner no.2 was established, the petitioner no.1, on its own showing was not a minority. Merely because after the members of the Trust-petitioner no.1 adopted Bhuddhism and thus the petitioner no.1 became minority and it has since been administering the petitioner no.2, petitioner no.2 will not become a Minority Educational Institution for the reason that it was established at a time when admittedly the petitioner no.1 was not a minority which is said to have become minority only in the year 2015- If a society or a Trust did not comprise of members of any Minority Community (either linguistic or religious) at the time when it established an educational institution and subsequently attains the status of a minority and starts administering such an institution, in our considered opinion, in such a situation the educational institution concerned will neither be a Minority Institution within U.P. Act No.24 of 2006, nor shall it be Minority Educational Institution within Act, 2004.

Merely administering the educational institution is not sufficient to grant it minority status but it is incumbent that the society or trust has to comprise of minority members at the time of establishing the Institution and any conferment of minority status subsequently will not grant minority status to the educational institution. (Para 11, 12, 18, 33, 36)

Writ Petition rejected. (E-3)

Case law/Judgements relied upon:-

1. V. D. Barot Vs St. of Guj. & ors.,(2002) 10 SCC 668

2. H.P Fin. Corp. Vs Anil Garg & ors.,(2017) 14 SCC 634

(Delivered by Hon'ble Devendra Kumar Upadhyaya, J.
&
Hon'ble Subhash Vidyarthi, J.)

1. Heard Shri Sudeep Seth, learned Senior Advocate, assisted by Shri Amit Jaiswal and Shri Anuj Dayal for the petitioners, Shri Sanjay Bhasin, learned Senior Advocate, assisted by Shri Rishabh Kapoor, learned counsel representing the Director General Medical Education and Training, Uttar Pradesh, learned State Counsel for other State-respondents and Shri Gyanendra Kumar Srivastava, learned counsel representing the National Medical Commission.

2. By instituting these proceedings under Article 226 of the Constitution of India initially a challenge was made to the orders dated 05.10.2020 and 07.10.2020, both issued by the Director General Medical Education and Training, U.P. requiring the Management/Principals of all Dental College and Medical Colleges in the State of U.P. running in private sector to submit their proposals so that the fee to be charged by these institutions from the students may be determined. Another prayer made in the writ petition is to quash the order dated 26.07.2018 passed by the State Government in the Department of Medical Education and Training, whereby the representation dated 12.06.2018 preferred by the petitioner was rejected. The said order dated 26.07.2018 was passed by the State Government in compliance of an order dated 22.06.2018 passed by this Court in Writ Petition No.21980 of 2018 instituted by the petitioners whereby the State Government was directed to look into the grievance of the petitioners and pass appropriate orders on their representation. By the said order dated 26.07.2018 the State Government has refused to treat the petitioners-institution as Minority Institution.

3. The petitioners have also prayed to issue a direction to the Director General Medical Education and Training to treat the petitioner no.2-College as a Minority Institution in view of the minority status granted to the said College by National Commission for Minority Educational Institutions (herein after referred to as "National Commission"). It has also been prayed that the respondents-State of U.P. in the Department of Minority Welfare as also in the Department of Medical Education and Training be directed to allow the privileges of a Minority Institution to the petitioner-college. Subsequently by amending the writ petition, the petitioners have also prayed for quashing of a Government Order dated 06.11.2020, issued by the State Government, in the Department of Medical Education and Training, whereby the fee to be charged by the petitioner no.2-College from its students for pursuing MBBS and MDS courses has been determined. By amending the writ petition, another prayer has been made to quash the Government Order dated 28.08.1999, whereby the State Government in the Department of Medical Education and Training has determined certain criteria for declaration of a non-Government Medical/Dental/Para Medical College to be a Minority Institution on the basis of language and religion, that is to say, Linguistic Minority Institution and Religious Minority Institution.

4. Shri Sanjay Bhasin, learned Senior Advocate, representing the Director General Medical Education and Training at the outset has submitted that this petition is not maintainable for the reason that prior to filing of the instant writ petition the petitioners had instituted Writ-C No.31941 of 2018 whereby a challenge was made to quash the order dated 26.07.2018 which is under challenge in this petition as well. He has also stated that another prayer made in the Writ-C No.31941 of 2018 was for issuing a direction to the State authorities to acknowledge and treat the petitioner-College as Minority Institution and to confer all benefits available to Minority Institutions. He has further stated that during the pendency of the Writ C No.31941 of 2018 the Director General Medical Education and Training had issued two letters/orders dated 29.01.2019 and 04.02.2019 directing the petitioner-College to submit its proposal for fixation of fee for its Post Graduate Courses and these two letters/orders dated 29.01.2019 and 04.02.2019 were challenged by the petitioners by filing Civil Misc. Writ Petition No.5612 of 2019. He has further stated that the aforesaid writ petitions, namely,Writ-C No.31941 of 2018 and Civil Misc. Writ Petition No.5612 of 2019 were withdrawn by the petitioners with the liberty to approach the respondent-authorities for redressal of their grievances. In view of these facts, it has been submitted that in terms of the provisions contained in Chapter XXII Rule 7 of the Rules of the Court this petition is a successive writ petition on the same cause of action, which cannot be entertained.

5. It has, thus, been argued by Shri Sanjay Bhasin, learned Senior Advocate representing the Director General Medical Education and Training that the instant writ petition seeks a prayer to quash the orders dated 05.10.2020 and 07.10.2020 which are akin to the orders dated 29.01.2019 and 04.02.2019 which were challenged in the earlier writ petition which was withdrawn without seeking liberty to file a fresh petition. Further submission of Shri Bhasin is that the order dated 26.07.2018 which has been challenged in this writ petition was challenged in Writ C No.31941 of 2018 which was also withdrawn without seeking liberty to challenge the same. Accordingly, he submits that the instant writ petition being second writ petition for the same relief is not maintainable which is liable to be dismissed.

6. In reply to the objection raised by Shri Bhasin regarding maintainability of the writ petition, it has been argued on behalf of the petitioners by Shri Sudeep Seth that the instant writ petition has been preferred after disclosing filing of the earlier writ petitions and the order dated 05.08.2019 granting liberty to the petitioners to withdraw the said writ petitions so as to approach the authorities for redressal of the grievances. It has further been argued by Shri Sudeep Seth that through letters/orders dated 29.01.2019 and 04.02.2019 which were challenged in Writ-C No.5612 of 2019 proposal for fee fixation for the academic session 2019-20 was required to be submitted whereas by means of the orders dated 05.10.2020 and 07.10.2020, which are under challenge in the instant writ petition, proposal has been sought from the petitioner-College for fee fixation for the academic session 2020-21 and hence these orders dated 05.10.2020 and 07.10.2020 give fresh cause of action and hence the instant writ petition is maintainable. It has also been urged that the order dated 06.11.2020, whereby fee to be charged by the petitioner-College has been fixed by the State Government, also gives a fresh cause of action for which the instant writ petition is maintainable.

7. In respect of the order dated 26.07.2018 whereby the representation for treating the petitioner-College as Minority Institution was rejected by the State, it has been submitted that the said order was challenged by filing Writ-C No.31941 of 2018, however, the same was permitted to be withdrawn by this Court by means of the order dated 05.08.2019 with liberty to approach the authorities for redressal of the grievances. Further contention is that despite representations/letters made by the petitioners on 18.07.2020 and 27.09.2020 to the State Government in respect of the decision dated 26.07.2018 with the prayer to reconsider the same, since no decision was taken by the authorities as such the said order dated 26.07.2018 has been challenged in this writ petition which accordingly is maintainable in respect of the prayer for quashing the order dated 26.07.2018 as well.

8. When we consider the rival submissions made by the parties in respect of the maintainability of the writ petition, what we notice is that so far as the challenge to the orders/letters dated 05.10.2020 and 07.10.2020 is concerned, the same pertain to proposal for fee fixation for the academic year 2020-21 which were never challenged in earlier writ petitions filed by the petitioners. As regards the prayer relating to quashing of the order dated 06.11.2020, we may record that the said order was also never challenged in the earlier writ petitions and as a matter of fact, the said order gives fresh cause of action to the petitioners to challenge the same. In respect of the decision dated 26.07.2018, which though was challenged in the earlier writ petition, we may observe that the representation made by the petitioners dated 12.06.2018 was considered in compliance of the order dated 26.06.2018 passed by this Court in Writ Petition No.21980 of 2018. By the said order, the prayer of the petitioners for treating the petitioner-College as Minority Institution was rejected. This order was challenged in Writ C No.31941 of 2018, however, the same was permitted to be withdrawn by this Court by means of the order dated 05.08.2019 with liberty to the petitioners to approach the authorities for redressal of their grievaces. The petitioners are said to have made representations on 15.07.2020 and 27.09.2020 in regard to the order dated 26.07.2018 to reconsider the same and when no decision was taken by the authorities, in the present writ petition amongst other prayers, a prayer has been made to quash the said order dated 26.07.2018 as well.

9. Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of V. D. Barot vs. State of Gujarat and others, reported in (2002) 10 SCC 668 has held that in case earlier writ petition is permitted to be withdrawn by the Court without liberty to file a fresh petition to enable a person to approach departmental authorities to make representation in the matter, the same will not amount to abandonment of the claim. Hon'ble Supreme Court has held that such matter should not be dealt with in a hypertechnical manner but the totality of the circumstances arising in a particular case has to be taken into consideration.

10. Dealing with the law relating to withdrawal of suit or abandonment of claim under the Code of Civil Procedure, Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Himachal Pradesh Financial Corporation vs. Anil Garg and others, reported in (2017) 14 SCC 634, has held that the language of the order for withdrawal will not always be determinative and that the backgrounds facts are to be necessarily examined for a proper and just decision. In the case of Himachal Pradesh Financial Corporation (supra) the appellant therein made an application for withdrawal of the suit stating therein that such application for withdrawal was made to pursue the remedies under H. P. Public Moneys (Recovery of Dues) Act, 1973. Hon'ble Supreme Court has held that since withdrawal of the suit was sought with the intention to pursue the remedy available under H. P. Public Moneys (Recovery of Dues) Act, 1973, hence the appellant in the said case never intended to abandon its claim by withdrawing the same. In this background Hon'ble Supreme Court has observed in the case of Himachal Pradesh Financial Corporation (supra) that the language of the withdrawal order cannot be determinative without considering the background facts.

11. If we consider the submissions made by Shri Bhasin raising the issue of maintainability of the writ petition in the background facts of the case and law laid down by Hon'ble Supreme Court in the cases of V. D. Barot (supra) and Himachal Pradesh Financial Corporation (supra), we are of the opinion that filing the earlier writ petition wherein liberty was granted to the petitioners to approach the authorities for redressal of their grievances, cannot amount to abandonment of the claim of the petitioners to seek a direction that the petitioner-institution be treated as Minority Institution and other ancillary reliefs.

12. For the reasons as aforesaid, the preliminary objection raised by Shri Sanjay Bhasin, learned Senior Advocate representing the Director General Medical Education and Training, merits rejection, which is hereby rejected. Thus, we hold that the writ petition is maintainable.

13. Before considering the submissions of the learned counsel for the parties on merit of their respective claims, we may note certain facts which are essential for appropriate adjudication of the issues involved in this case.

14. By means of the Government Order dated 28.08.1999 determination of certain standard/criteria for the purposes of declaring non-Government Medical/Dental/Par Medical Colleges to be religious or linguistic Minority Institutions has been provided. The National Commission for Minority Educational Institutions Act, 2004 (herein after referred to as "Act, 2004") was enacted by the Parliament to constitute a National Commission for Minority Educational Institutions and to provide for matters connected or incidental thereto. Section 2(g) defines "Minority Educational Institution" to mean a college or an educational institution established and administered by a minority or minorities. Section 2(g) of the Act, 2004 is extracted herein below:

"2(g). "Minority Educational Institution" means a college or an educational institution established and administered by a minority or minorities;"

15. Section 11 of the Act, 2004 defines functions and powers of the Commission which empowers the Commission created under the said Act, inter alia, to decide all questions relating to the status of any institution as a Minority Educational Institution and declare its status as such. In pursuance of a judgment and order rendered by a Division Bench of this Court, dated 26.11.2015 in Special Appeal (Defective) No.552 of 2015 which was filed by the National Commission for Minority Educational Institutions challenging the judgment of learned Single Judge, the State Government in the Department of Minority of Welfare and Waqf issued a Government Order 18.05.2016 providing therein that if an institution is declared to be Minority Institution by the National Commission, the concerned department shall treat such institution as Minority Institution and accordingly give a certificate to the said effect to such an institution. The State Government in the Department of Higher Education also issued a Government Order dated 24.07.2017 which provided that the institutions which have been declared as Minority Institutions by the National Commission may make appropriate application for being treated as a Minority Institution, to the State Government annexing therewith certain documents as mentioned in the said Government Order.

16. The State Legislature enacted Uttar Pradesh Private Professional Educational Institutions (Regulation of Admission and Fixation of Free) Act, 2006 (U.P. Act No.24 of 2006). The said enactment was passed by the State Legislature with the object to provide for regulating admission and fixation of fee in private professional educational institutions and the matters connected therewith or incidental thereto. Section 2 of U.P. Act No.24 of 2006 provides that this act shall be applicable to the private aided or unaided professional educational institutions, excluding minority institutions. Thus the said Act excludes Minority Institution from its operation. Section 2 of U.P. Act No.24 of 2006 is quoted herein below:

"2. This Act shall be applicable to the private aided or unaided professional educational institutions, excluding minority institutions."

17. Section 3 (a) of U.P. Act No.24 of 2006 defines "aided institution" to mean a private professional educational institution, other than a minority institution. Sub section (h) of section 3 of the said Act defines "minority institution" to mean an institution established and administered by a minority and notified as such by the State Government. Section 3(o) defines "unaided institution" to mean a private professional educational institution, not being an aided institution. Section 3(h) of U.P. Act No.24 of 2006 is extracted herein below:

"3(h). Minority Institution means an institution, established and administered by a minority and notified as such by the State Government."

18. Thus, Minority Institution as defined in U.P. Act No.24 of 2006 in an institution which is not only established and is being administered by a minority but it should be notified as such by the State Government. Accordingly, an institution to acquire the status of Minority Institution, within the meaning of U.P. Act No.24 of 2006, should be established and administered by a minority and it should also be notified as such by the State Government. In other words, unless and until an institution established and administered by a minority is not notified as such by the State Government, it will not be treated to be Minority Institution so far as the application of U.P. Act No.24 of 2006 is concerned.

19. Petitioner no.1 was accorded permission on 23.01.2001 by the Central Government to establish a new Medical College at Meerut. Pursuant to the said permission accorded to petitioner no.1 by the Central Government on 23.01.2001 the petitioner no.1 established Subharti Medical College, Meerut which is the petitioner no.2 in this writ petition. An application was made in the month of September, 2015 by the President of petitioner no.1-Trust to the National Commission for declaring the petitioner no.2 as Minority Institution. The National Commission took a decision on 20.03.2017 and decided to issue Minority Institution status certificate to the petitioner no.2. The said decision dated 20.03.2017 was communicated to the President of the petitioner no.1-Trust vide letter dated 26.04.2018 by the Secretary of the National Commission.

20. Accordingly, a certificate declaring the petitioner no.2 as Minority Educational Education covered under section 2(g) of the Act, 2004 was issued by the Secretary of the National Commission on 26.04.2018. After the said certificate was issued by the National Commission to the petitioner, an application was made to the State Government for issuance of a certificate for treating the petitioner no.2 as a Minority Institution as per the Government Order dated 24.04.2017. The petitioner thereafter instituted a writ petition before this Court bearing No. 21980 of 2018 with the prayer to issue a direction to the State Government to treat the petitioner no.2 as Minority Institution and not to interfere in its working. The said writ petition was disposed of finally by a Division Bench of this Court by means of the order dated 22.06.2018 whereby the State Government in the Department of Medical Education and Training was directed to look into the grievance of the petitioners and pass appropriate order on the representation dated 12.06.2018.

21. In compliance of the said order dated 22.06.2018 passed by this Court, the matter was considered by the State Government in the Department of Medical Education and Training and the representation dated 12.06.2018 of the petitioners was rejected by means of the order dated 26.07.2018 which is one of the orders of the State Government which is under challenge in this writ petition.

22. While the matter was being considered by the State Government in the Department of Medical Education and Training which culminated in the order dated 26.07.2018, reports were called for by the State Government from the Director General Medical Education and Training which informed the State Government that before issuing the certificate declaring the petitioner no.2 as Minority Educational Institution under the Act, 2004, though opportunity was granted to the State Government, however, none of the representatives of the State Government could appear in the proceedings before the National Commission and accordingly the certificate issued by the National Commission is a result of ex-parte proceedings. The State Government while passing the order dated 26.07.2018 has also stated that in the proceedings before the National Commission, the Minority Welfare Department was impleaded as a party-respondent which was a mischief played by the petitioners for the reason that the Medical Education Department was not impleaded as a party-respondent in the said proceedings though the institution in question, namely, petitioner no.2 comes under the supervision of Medical Educational Department of the State Government and not that of Minority Welfare Department. The order dated 26.07.2018 thus also observes that so far as the Department of Medical Education of the State Government is concerned, it did not have any information regarding the proceedings in which the petitioner no.2 was declared as Minority Educational Institution under the Act, 2004.

23. Regarding the applicability of the Government Order dated 18.05.2016 issued by the Minority Welfare Department of the State Government, it has been stated in the order dated 26.07.2018 that by the said order no direction was issued to the Medical Education Department. The State Government, thus, rejected the representation made by the petitioners whereby the prayer was made to treat the petitioner no.2 as Minority Institution. The order dated 26.07.2018, as noticed above, was challenged by the petitioners by filing Writ C No.31941 of 2018 which was withdrawn with liberty to approach the authorities for redressal of the grievances. The said order permitting withdrawal of Writ-C No.31941 of 2018 was passed by this Court on 05.08.2019.

24. As already noticed above, by means of the letters/orders dated 29.01.2019 and 04.02.2019 the Director General Medical Education and Training required the petitioner no.1 to submit its proposal for fixing the fee to be charged by the College for the academic session 2019-20. These orders dated 29.01.2019 and 04.02.2019 were challenged in Writ C No.5612 of 2019 which was dismissed on 05.08.2018 with liberty to approach the authorities for redressal of the grievances. It is the case of the petitioners, as noticed above, that after withdrawal of Writ-C No.31941 of 2018 the petitioners made representation/application to the authorities concerned for redressal of their grievances in terms of the order dated 05.08.2019 passed by this Court, however, no decision was taken and accordingly the order dated 26.07.2018 has been challenged in this writ petition. On 11.05.2020 and 05.10.2020 the Director General Medical Education and Training again required the petitioners to submit the proposal for fixation of fee to be paid by the students pursuing MBBS and BDS courses for the academic session 2020-21. The State Government by means of the order dated 06.11.2020 again determined the fee to be charged by the petitioner-College for the Academic Session 2020-21 from its students pursuing MBBS and BDS courses. These three orders, namely, orders dated 05.10.2020, 07.10.2020 and 06.11.2020 have been challenged in this writ petition.

25. It has been argued by Shri Sudeep Seth, learned Senior Advocate appearing for the petitioners that it is only the National Commission which is empowered to declare status of an institution as Minority Institution for the reason that sections 2 and 3 of U.P. Act no.24 of 2006 clearly exclude the applicability of the said Act so far as the Minority Institutions are concerned. It has further been argued by Shri Seth that so far as the occurrence of the phrase "notified as such by the State Government" in section 3 (h) of U.P. Act No.24 of 2006 is concerned, once an institution has been declared as Minority Institutionby the National Commission under the Act, 2004 the question of declaration as Minority Institution by the State Government does not arise. He has further argued that U.P. Act No.24 of 2006 not being applicable to Minority Institutions declared under the Act, 2004, which is a central enactment, its status so declared under the Act, 2004 cannot be altered.

26. Shri Sudeep Seth has further argued that so far as the instructions contained in the Government Order dated 28.08.1999 are concerned, after enactment of 2004 Act the same have lost significance for the reason that the Act, 2004 vests power only with the National Commission to declare and decide status of an institution as Minority Institution. He has thus, argued that the Government Orders dated 18.05.2016 and 24.07.2017 were issued not only in compliance of the judgment dated 26.11.2015 passed by a Division Bench of this Court in Special Appeal (Defective) No.522 of 2015 but also in view of the acceptance by the State Government of the authority/power of the National Commission under the Act, 2004 to declare an institution a Minority Institution.

27. Vehemently making the aforesaid submissions, Shri Seth has argued that refusal of the State Government to recognize the petitioner no.2 as Minority Institution and to issue a certificate to the said effect even after declaration having been made by the Central Commission under the Act, 2004, cannot be sustained as the same is in derogation of the statutory authority vested in and available to the National Commission under the Act, 2004.

28. Opposing the writ petition, Shri Sanjay Bhasin, learned counsel representing the Director General Medical Education and Training has vehemently submitted that section 10 of the Act, 2004 though refers to right to establish a Minority Educational Institution and provides that anyone who desires to establish a Minority Educational Institution may apply to the competent authority for the grant of no objection certificate for the said purpose, however, the said provisions of section 10 of the Act, 2004 is subject to the provisions contained in any other law for the time being in force.

29. Shri Bhasin has further argued that section 3(h) of the U.P. Act No.24 of 2006 defines Minority Institution to mean an institution "established" and "administered" by a minority and notified as such by the State Government. He has, thus, submitted that an institution to quality as Minority Institution should not only be administered by a minority but should also have been established by a minority. He has stated that so far as the petitioner no.2 is concerned, the said medical college was established on permission accorded for the said purpose to the petitioner no.1 by the Central Government in the year 2001 and since then petitioner no.2 has been running the petitioner no.2-Medical College whereas for the first time the petitioner no.1 moved the National Commission for declaring the petitioner no.2 as Minority Institution only in the month of September, 2015 whereupon the Commission by means of the certificate dated 26.04.2018 granted the petitioner no.2, run by the petitioner no.1, the status of Minority Educational Institution. In his submission, Shri Bhasin has urged that Subharti Medical College-petitioner no.2 was established by the Trust as a secular Trust in the year 2001 and the Trust deed of petitioner no.1 was amended only in the year 2015 and thus the members of petitioner no.1 adopted the minority religion much after establishment of Subharti Medical College-petitioner no.2. It has, thus, been argued that mere adoption of minority religion by the members of petitioner no.1 several years after establishment of the Medical College will not permit the petitioner no.2-Subharit Medical College to be treated as a Minority Institution for the reason that at the time when the petitioner no.2-Medical College was established by the petitioner no.1, the petitioner no.1 was not a Trust comprising of members of any minority community.

30. It has also been argued by Shri Bhasin that though Article 30 of the Constitution of India provides for right of minorities to establish and administer the educational institutions, however, such rights are not available to the petitioner-College for the reason that the institution should not only be administered but should have been established also and in the instant case, admittedly, at the time when the petitioner no.2-Medical College was established, the petitioner no.1 did not comprise of members of Minority Community for the reason that for the first time an alteration in the Trust deed was made in the year 2015 when the board of the trust adopted a minority religion, namely, Bhuddhism.

31. On careful analysis and examination of the submissions made by the learned for the parties, what we find is that right to establish minority education institution as given in section 10 of the Act, 2004 is subject to the provisions contained in any other law in force. Section 10 provides that any person desirous of establishing of a Minority Educational Institution may apply to the competent authority for the grant of no objection certificate for the said purpose. The facts of the instant case, admittedly, are that at the time when petitioner no.2-Medical College was established by the petitioner no.1, members of the petitioner no.1-Trust did not belong to Bhuddhism, a minority; rather the members are said to have adopted Bhuddhism only in the year 2015 and it is only thereafter that in September, 2015 the petitioner no.1 sought and prayed for a declaration from the National Commission under the Act, 2004 to the effect that the petitioner no.2 is a Minority Educational Institution.

32. The Act, 2004 has been in force from 11.11.2004. The petitioner no.2 has been in existence atleast from the year 2001 when the permission was accorded by the Central Government to the petitioner no.1 to establish the Medical College. From 11.11.2004 i.e. from the date 2004 Act was brought in force, till September, 2015 the petitioner no.1 did not seek any declaration from the National Commission that the petitioner no.2 is a Minority Educational Institution.

33. The definition of the word "Minority Educational Institution" as given in section 2(g) provides that an institution shall be Minority Educational Institution if it is established and administered by a minority or minorities. Thus, mere administration of an educational institution by minority or minorities is not sufficient or enough to declare such an Educational Institution to be a Minority Educational Institution even within the meaning of section 2(g) of the Act, 2004. In the instant case at the time when the petitioner no.2 was established, the petitioner no.1, on its own showing was not a minority. Merely because after the members of the Trust-petitioner no.1 adopted Bhuddhism and thus the petitioner no.1 became minority and it has since been administering the petitioner no.2, petitioner no.2 will not become a Minority Educational Institution for the reason that it was established at a time when admittedly the petitioner no.1 was not a minority which is said to have become minority only in the year 2015.

34. As already observed above, mere administration of an Educational Institution by a minority will not confer on such educational institution status of a Minority Educational Institution in terms of section 2 (g) of the Act, 2004. Further, section 10 of the said Act, 2004 provides that a person who desires to establish a Minority Educational Institution may apply for grant of no objection certificate for the said purpose. Section 10, thus, does not permit any application to be moved by a person who did not establish a Minority Educational Institution; rather is only administering a Minority Institution, to seek grant of no objection certificate.

35. We may also note that the Act, 2004 was enacted by the Parliament for a purpose different than the purpose for which U.P. Act No.24 of 2006 has been enacted by the State Legislature. The purpose of enactment 2004 Act was to constitute a National Commission for Minority Educational Institutions and to provide for matters connected therewith or incidental thereto, whereas the purpose of enacting U.P. Act No.24 of 2006 was to provide for regulation of admission and fixation of fee in private professional educational institutions and the matters connected therewith or incidental thereto. U.P. Act No.24 of 2006 excludes a Minority Institution from purview of its operation which, as observed above, operates to regulate admission and fixation of fee in private educational institutions.

36. What will be a Minority Institution for the purposes of U.P. Act No.24 of 2006 can be found in section 2(h) where Minority Institution has been defined to mean an institution established and administered by a minority and notified as such by the State Government. Thus for an institution to qualify a Minority Institution within the meaning of U.P. Act No.24 of 2006, it should be an institution not only being administered by a minority but it also ought to have been established by the minority and it should also be notified by the State as such. Thus, in terms of the provisions contained in section 2(h) of U.P. Act No.24 of 2006 there are three conditions for an institution to qualify as minority institution. The conditions are (i) that the institution should have been established by a minority, (ii) the institution should be administered by a minority and (iii) the institution should be notified as such by the State Government.

37. As already noticed above, the respondent no.2 was established at a time when the petitioner no.1 was not a minority as it became minority only in the year 2015. The petitioner no.1 currently said to be a minority since the year 2015 though at the time of establishment of petitioner no. 2, it was not a minority and hence the petitioner 2 will, in our considered opinion, not qualify to be a Minority Institution within U.P. Act No.24 of 2006. Once an institution does not qualify to be a Minority Institution under U.P. Act no.24 of 2006, it is difficult for us to hold that such an institution, despite being administered currently but was not established by a minority, will be excluded from operation of U.P. Act No.24 of 2006. Establishing an institution and administering it are two different happenings. If a society or a Trust did not comprise of members of any Minority Community (either linguistic or religious) at the time when it established an educational institution and subsequently attains the status of a minority and starts administering such an institution, in our considered opinion, in such a situation the educational institution concerned will neither be a Minority Institution within U.P. Act No.24 of 2006, nor shall it be Minority Educational Institution within Act, 2004.

38. For the reasons given and discussion made above, we do not find any illegality in the decision of the State Government not to treat the petitioner no.2 as Minority Institution so as to exclude it from the purview of U.P. Act No.24 of 2006 and accordingly we also do not see any illegality in the orders dated 05.10.2010 and 07.10.2010 whereby the Director General Medical Education and Training had sought the proposal from the petitioner no.2 for the purposes of fixation of fee to be charged from the students pursuing their MBBS and BDS Courses for the academic year 2020-21. For these reasons, we also do not find any illegality in the impugned order dated 06.11.2020 passed by the State Government in the Department of Medical Education whereby fee to be charged from its students was fixed.

39. For all the reasons given above, we are unable to agree with the submissions made by the learned counsel for the petitioners. Accordingly, we find that the instant writ petition lacks merit.

40. Resultantly, the writ petition is hereby dismissed.

41. There will be no order as to costs.

(2022) 9 ILRA 1075
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 06.09.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE RAMESH SINHA, J.
THE HON'BLE MRS. SAROJ YADAV, J.

Capital Case No. 3 of 2017
Along with Criminal Appeal No. 1540 of 2017 with 1552 of 2017

State of U.P. ...Appellant
Versus
Sarvan ...Respondent

Counsel for the Appellant:
Govt. Advocate

Counsel for the Respondent:
Manjusha Kapil

(A) Criminal Law – Criminal Procedure Code,1973 - Sections 313, 354(3), 366(1), 374(2) & 415 - Indian Penal Code, 1860 -Sections 201, 302, 304 & 323 – Evidence Act, 1872 - Section – 134, - Allahabad High Court Rules, 1952 - Rule 45 of Chapter XVIII - Conviction and Sentenced - Capital sentence - reference and criminal appeals - offence of Murdered of six persons inflicting injuries using an axe - Defence of plea of retaliation - Appreciation of evidence - allegation that convicted appellant on the account of illicit relationship with his Bhabhi, accused murdered his wife and three minor children as well as informant's wife and one minor child and also assaulted informant's daughter - contradictory stand was taken by the Defence witnesses - as well as convict/appellant admitted/supported the testimonies of PW2 under section 313 - testimony of defence witness not reliable - plea not acceptable. (Para 46, 53, 55)

(B) Criminal Law – Criminal Procedure Code, 1973 - Sections 313, 354(3), 366(1), 374(2) & 415 - Indian Penal Code, 1860 -Sections 201, 302, 304 & 323 – Evidence Act,1872 - Section – 134, - Allahabad High Court Rules, 1952 - Rule 45 of Chapter XVIII - Conviction and Sentenced - Capital sentence - reference and two criminal appeals from accused & co-accused - offence of Murdered of six persons by using an axe - Appreciation of evidence - Examination of prosecution witnesses - FIR lodges promptly, - illicit relationship with his Bhabhi (co-accused) & quarrels with his wife proves motive - recovery of weapon 'axe' was recovered on the pointing out of accused & co-accused, at that time blood was found on axe, - inquest report, site plan and arrest on same day was also proved - medical evidence showed that all the deceased were done to death on same day & time and injuries found on the body of deceased persons could be caused with recovered weapon 'axe' - further, no contradiction in testimonies of Eye-witnesses - merely because injured witness & eye-witnesses are related witnesses their testimonies could not be rejected unless any material, - prosecution proved that the accused in a pre-meditated manner armed with 'axe' caused death of six person and assault to one person by inflicting fatal injuries - conviction proper. (Para 63, 67, 74, 75, 76)

(C) Criminal Law – Criminal Procedure Code, Section - 313, 354(3), 366(1), 374(2), 415 - Indian Penal Code, Section – 201, 302, 304, 323 – Evidence Act, Section – 134, - Allahabad High Court Rules, 1952 - Rule 45 of Chapter XVIII - Conviction and Sentenced - Death Penalty - reference for confirmation - offence of murdered was committed when convict has illicit relationship with his Bhabhi - for quench his thirst he murdered his wife & three minor children including his neighbour/informant's wife & minor child in most brutal, grotesque, diabolical and dastardly manner - the magnitude of crime places the present incident in the category of anti-social or socially abhorrent nature of crime which calls for an exemplary punishment - balancing mitigating and aggravating circumstances high court finds that instant case can be said to in the category of 'rarest of rare' case and hence death penalty is liable to be confirmed. (Para 95, 96, 97)

(D) Criminal Law – Criminal Procedure Code, Section - 313, 354(3), 366(1), 374(2), 415 - Indian Penal Code, Section – 201, 302, 304, 323 – Evidence Act, Section – 134, - Allahabad High Court Rules, 1952 - Rule 45 of Chapter XVIII - Conviction and Sentenced - Death Penalty - reference for confirmation - execution of sentence - until the disposal of the appeal as provided under section 415 Cr.P.C. the execution of sentence is postponed - punishment shall be executed in accordance with law laid down by the Hon'ble Apex Court time and again.

Capital Case is allowed & both the Criminal Appeals are dismissed. (E-11)

List of Cases cited:

1. Bachan Singh Vs St. of Punj., AIR 1980 SC 898,

2. Bipin Kumar Mondal Vs St. of W.B., (2010) 12 SCC 91,

3. Abdul Sayeed Vs St. of M.P., (2010) 10 SCC 259,

4. Namdeo Vs St. of Mah. : (2007) 14 SCC 150 : (2009) 1 SCC (Cri) 773,

5. Gulam Sarbar Vs St. of Bihar : (2014) 3 SCC 401,

6. Furman Vs Georgia, (1972) SCC On-Line US SC 171,

7. Machhi Singh Vs St. of Punj., (1983) 3 SCC 470,

8. Haresh Mohandas Rajput Vs St. of Mah. : (2011) 12 SCC 56,

9. Ramnaresh& ors. Vs St. of Chhattisgarh, (2012) 4 SCC 257,

10. Dharam Deo Yadav Vs St. of UP, (2014) 5 SCC 509,

11. Kalu Khan Vs St. of Raj., (2015) 16 SCC 492,

(Delivered by Hon'ble Ramesh Sinha, J.)

(A) INTRODUCTION

1. Two accused, namely, Sarvan and Smt. Suman, were tried by the Special Judge, C.B.I. Court No.2/Additional Sessions Judge, Lucknow in Sessions Trial No 754 of 2009 : State Vs. Sarvan and another, arising out of Case Crime No. 265 of 2009, under Sections 302, 201 of the Indian Penal Code, 1860 (in short, referred hereinafter as ''I.P.C.'), Police Station Mohanlalganj, District Lucknow.

2. Vide judgment and order dated 29.08.2017, the Special Judge, C.B.I. Court No.2/Additional Sessions Judge, Lucknow, convicted and sentenced accused, Sarvan and Smt. Suman, in the manner as stated hereinbelow :-

"Accused Sarvan

I. Under Section 323 I.P.C. to undergo one year's rigorous imprisonment;

II. Under Section 201 I.P.C. to undergo four years' R.I. and a fine of Rs.2000/-. In default of payment of fine to undergo additional one month's imprisonment; and

III. Under section 302 I.P.C. to be hanged to death till he is dead and fine of Rs.5000/-. In default of payment of fine to undergo additional five months' imprisonment.

Accused Smt. Suman

I. Under section 201 I.P.C. to undergo four years' rigorous imprisonment and a fine of Rs.2000/-. In default of payment of fine to undergo additional one month's imprisonment.

All the sentences were directed to run concurrently and the period of incarceration was directed to be set off against the sentence of imprisonment.

3 . Aggrieved with their aforesaid conviction and sentences, accused Smt. Suman has preferred Criminal Appeal No. 1540 of 2017 : Smt. Suman vs. State, whereas accused Sarvan preferred Criminal Appeal No. 1552 of 2017 : Sarvan Vs. State.

4. Capital Case No. 3 of 2017 arises out of the Reference made by the learned trial Court under Section 366 (1) of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 to this Court for confirmation of the death sentence of convict/appellant Sarvan.

5. Since the above-captioned capital sentence reference and criminal appeals arise out of a common factual matrix and impugned judgment dated 29.08.2017, this Court proceeds to decide the same by the common judgment.

(B) CASE OF THE PROSECUTION

6. The informant Kolai (P.W.1) was resident of Village Gaura, Police Station Mohanlalganj, District Lucknow. In front of his house, the house of Sarvan (convict/appellant) was situated. It has been alleged by the informant Kolai (P.W.1) that a gossip/talk spread throughout the village that Sarvan (convict/appellant) had an illicit relationship with his bhabhi (sister-in-law) Suman, on account of which, there was a lot of quarrel between Sarvan (convict/appellant) and his wife Smt. Santoshi (deceased). Often this quarrel escalated and Sarvan (convict/ appellant) would beat his wife (deceased Santoshi). Smt. Madhuri (informant's wife) would usually intervene in such situation to protect Santoshi (deceased), because of which, Sarvan (convict/appellant) remained angry with Smt. Madhuri (informant's wife).

In the morning of 25.04.2009, at 06:30 a.m., altercation took place between Sarvan (convict/appellant) and his wife (deceased Santoshi). After that a sound of shouting came from Sarvan's (convict/appellant) house. Sarvan (convict/ appellant), while yelling inside his house, told his wife Santoshi (deceased) that "मै आज तुझे व तेरे बच्चो को जिन्दा नही छोडुगाा" (today he would not leave her and her children alive) and the wife of Sarvan (deceased Santoshi) was screaming to save her. On hearing the screams, Smt. Madhuri (informant's wife) ran to save her (deceased-Santoshi). At that moment, Sarvan (convict/appellant) armed with blood stained "axe' came out of his house saying to Smt. Madhuri (wife of the informant) that "सन्तोषी व तीनो बच्चो को आज ठिकाने लगा दिया है तु बहुत बीच बचाव करती है" (he had put Santoshi and three children in their place and you intervene a lot). Saying this, Sarvan (convict/appellant) assaulted Madhuri (informant's wife) with the same "axe' many times, as a consequence of which, Madhuri (informant's wife), while sustaining injuries, fell down on the khadanja (dirt road) and succumbed to her injuries on the spot. When Rajendra (informant's son) and Sangeeta (informant's daughter) ran to save their mother Madhuri (deceased), Sarvan (convict/ appellant) also assaulted and injured them.

7. Thereafter, informant Kolai (P.W.1) got the FIR scribed by one person, namely, Sewak, who after scribing read it over to him. He, thereafter, affixed his thumb impression on it and then proceeded to Police Station Mohanlalganj, where he lodged it.

8. The evidence of S.I. Anand Kumar Pandey (P.W. 8) shows that on the date of the incident i.e. on 25.04.2009, he was posted as Head Moharrir at Police Station Mohanlalganj. On the said date, at 07:30 a.m., informant Kolai (P.W.1) came to the police station Mohanlalganj and filed written report (Ext. Ka.1), on the basis of which, he prepared the chik FIR (Ext. Ka.9) and on the basis of which F.I.R. was registered against the accused.

In cross-examination, P.W.8 S.I. Anand Kumar Pandey had deposed before the trial Court that informant Kolai (P.W.1) and injured Sangeeta came to the police station Mohanlalganj with a written report. The informant Kolai (P.W.1) had handed over the written report to him on 25.04.2009 at 07:30 a.m. and at that time, S.H.O. Ashok Kumar Shukla was present at the police station. On the basis of the written report, the F.I.R. was registered by him. He further deposed that he prepared Chithi Mazroobi (letter for medical examination) for medical examination of injured Sangeeta. Except injured Sangeeta, no other injured or villager came along with informant Kolai (P.W.1) at the police station nor were brought for medical examination. At that time, Sangeeta (injured) was aged about 18 years. He further deposed that immediately after lodging the F.I.R., S.H.O. along with police personnel went to the place of occurrence at about 07:30 a.m. He denied that he gave false evidence under pressure. He also denied that informant (P.W.1) did not come along with scribed written report but it was written at police station.

9. A perusal of the chik FIR (Ext. Ka.9) shows that the distance between the place of incident and Police Station Mohanlalganj was three kilometers. It is significant to mention that a perusal of the chik FIR also shows that on its basis, a case under Section 302 I.P.C. was registered against Sarvan (convict/ appellant).

10. It is pertinent to mention here that the investigation of the instant case was conducted by In-charge Inspector Shri Ashok Kumar Shukla but he was not examined by the prosecution as he died on 29.05.2014 during pendency of the trial. In order to prove the death of the Investigating Officer Shri Ashok Kumar Shukla, C.W.1-Constable CP 840 Sri Satish Kumar Kushwaha was examined, whose evidence shows that since 2013, he was posted as Constable at police station Mohanlalganj. He stated that S.I. Shri Ashok Kumar Shukla had conducted the investigation of the instant case and he (C.W.1) himself went as special messenger to serve summon notice to S.I. Shri Ashok Kumar Shukla. He had also filed the report in the Court wherein it was mentioned that S.I. Ashok Kumar Shukla died on 29.05.2014. He proved the said report (Ext. Ka. 16)

11. The evidence of P.W.12-S.I. Ram Vishal Suman shows that on 25.04.2009, he was posted as Sub-Inspector at Police Station Mohanlalganj. On the said date, he was accompanied with In-Charge Inspector Shri Ashok Kumar Shukla and on his direction, he went to village Gaura and prepared the "panchayatnama' of the dead bodies of Smt. Santoshi, w/o Sarvan aged 35 years (Ext. Ka.17), Ramroop s/o Sarvan aged 6 years (Ext. Ka. 18), Sumiran d/o Sarvan aged 4 years (Ext. Ka.19), Ravi son of Sarvan aged 1½ years (Ext. Ka.20) under his handwriting, upon which there was signature of the Investigating Officer Ashok Kumar Shukla. On the said date also, on the direction of Investigating Officer, "panchayatnama' of the dead body of deceased Madhuri (informant's wife) (Ext. Ka.20) was prepared by S.I. Dhrampal Singh (P.W.13), upon which there was signature of the Investigating Officer Shri Ashok Kumar Shukla. He further deposed that Dharmpal Singh (P.W.13) was posted along with him at police station Mohanlalganj, therefore, he knew his signature and handwriting.

P.W.12 had further deposed that in his presence, dead-bodies of the deceased were sealed and sent for post-mortem. He proved the signature of the Investigating Officer Ashok Kumar Shukla on Police Form No.13 (deceased Ravi, Ramroop, Madhuri, Sumiran, Santoshi) as Ext. Ka. 22 to Ext. Ka. 26. He also proved the photo lash (Paper nos. A14/1 to A14/5) prepared by the Investigating Officer Shri Ashok Kumar Shukla. He also proved the specimen seal of the dead bodies of the deceased (Paper Nos. A15/1, A15/2, A15/3, A15/5 and A15/6) prepared by the Investigating Officer Shri Ashok Kumar Shukla as Ext. Ka. 27 to Ext. Ka.31. He also proved the recovery memos (Ext. Ka. 32 to Ext. Ka.36) of blood stained soil and plain soil collected from the different places by S.I. Shri Dharmpal Singh (P.W.13), upon which there was signature of Shri Ashok Kumar Shukla.

In cross-examination, P.W.12 had deposed that proceedings of "panchayatnama' were conducted in his presence and at that time, he, Investigating Officer Shri Ashok Kumar Shukla, Shri Dharm Pal Singh, S.S.I. Shri P.K. Khare, other police personnel and villagers were present. He deposed that he prepared the "panchayatnama' in his own handwriting on the direction and dictation of the Investigating Officer. He denied that he gave false evidence.

12. The evidence of P.W.13-S.I. Shri Dharam Pal Singh shows that on 24.04.2009, he was posted as Sub-Inspector at police station Mohanlalganj. On the said date, he was accompanied with Investigating Officer Shri Ashok Kumar Shukla. On 26.04.2009, the "axe' used in commission of crime was recovered in his presence on the pointing out of accused Sarvan and the recovery memo of it was prepared by him on the dictation of the Investigating Officer Shri Ashok Kumar Shukla. On the same date, Suman (convict/appellant no.1) was arrested from her house. He proved the recovery memo of "axe' as well as arrest of Suman (convict/appellant no.1) as Ext. Ka. 39. The site plan of the recovery of "axe' (Ext. Ka.40) was prepared by the Investigating Officer under his handwriting and signature. He also proved the site plan of the place of the occurrence (Ext. Ka.41) prepared by the Investigating Officer. He prepared the charge-sheet (Ext. Ka.42) on the dictation of the Investigating Officer under his handwriting and signature.

13. The evidence of P.W.10-Sri Balkrishna Singh shows that he was doing the work of agriculture. He was living in the village where the incident occurred. The "panchayatnama' of the dead-bodies of children of Sarvan, namely, Ravi, aged about 1½ years, Sumiran aged 4 years, Ramroop aged 5 years and his wife Santoshi aged 35 years were conducted at the house of Sarvan in his presence, whereas "panchayatnama' of the dead-body of Madhuri wife of Kolai aged 50 years was conducted on khadanja (dirt road) outside the house of Sarvan. The injuries of "axe' were on the bodies of the deceased. He proved his signature on "panchayatnama'. The dead-bodies were sent for post-mortem. The proceeding for "panchayatnama' started at 09:00 a.m. on 25.04.2009 and it continued for about 1-1½ hours. On the said date also, the Inspector had collected blood stained soil and plain soil in containers from both the places i.e. from the place where the dead-body of Madhuri was lying and from the courtyard of the house of Sarvan where the dead-bodies were lying, under recovery memo. On seeing the recovery memos, he proved his signature thereon.

In cross-examination, P.W.10 had deposed that his house was at a distance of 300-400 meters from the house of Sarvan. On the date of the incident, he was present in his house. He knew Sarvan from childhood, who was doing the work of Labour. He did not know whether on the date of the incident, Sarvan had gone for work or not nor he knew whether psychiatric treatment of Sarvan was going on somewhere or not. He did not know whether any quarrel of Sarvan took place with his neighbour Kolai. He stated that on the date of "panchayatnama' , he was present at the place of the incident. Apart from him, the signature of Pramod, Sambhoo, Banwari Ghasitey etc. were also taken in the "panchayatnama'. He could not say whose "panchayatnama' was done at hospital nor he could tell the reason for the incident. The signature of none of the family members of Kolai (P.W.1) was taken on the "panchayatnama' in his presence nor Kolai (P.W.1) and his family members were interrogated in his presence. The sons and daughters of Kolai were present at the place of occurrence. He denied the suggestion that incident occurred in his presence and also after preparation of "panchayatnama', it was not read over to him and only his signature was taken thereon.

14. The injury of injured Sangeeta was examined on 25.04.2009 at 02:20 p.m. in Community Health Centre, Mohanlalganj, Lucknow by Dr. Shailendra

Kumar Dwivedi (P.W.4), who found on her person the following injuries :-

"Injury of injured Sangeeta, daughter of Kolai, aged about 16 years

L.W. 1.5 cm x 0.25 cm x skin deep. Left side of Arm, ant. aspect, 1.5 cm above left elbow joint. Clotted blood seen."

15. P.W.4-Dr. Shailendra Kumar Dwivedi, in his examination-in-chief, had reiterated the aforesaid injury and had deposed that on 25.04.2009, he was posted as Medical Officer at Community Health Centre, Mohanalalganj, Lucknow. On the said date, at 02.20 p.m., he examined the injury of injured Km. Sangeeta aged 16 years, who was brought by Woman Constable No. 2997 Anita Kashyap and Constable 2926 Rajesh Kumar Shukla of police station Mohanlalganj, Lucknow. He further deposed that after examining the injured Km. Sangeeta, he found that the injury was simple in nature; it could be caused by blunt and hard object; and it was half day's old. He stated that the injury on her person could be attributable from the back of the "axe' on 25.04.2009 at 06:30 a.m.

In cross-examination, P.W.4 had deposed that the medical examination of injured Km. Sangeeta was conducted on 25.04.2009 at 02:20 p.m. The injury occurred on her person could be 12-14 hours old and it could be attributable to falling on hard object but it was not from a sharp edged weapon. He further deposed that injury could be caused by falling upon kharanja (dirt road) and it could also be caused by lathi, danda but it could not be a self-inflicted injury.

16. The post-mortem examination of the dead-bodies of the deceased Ramroop, Smt. Santoshi and Ravi were conducted on 25.04.2009 at 08:30 p.m., 08:00 p.m and 09:30 p.m., respectively, at T.B. Hospital, Thakurganj, Lucknow by Dr. G.P. Tiwari (P.W.6), who found the ante-mortem injuries on their persons as enumerated hereinafter :-

"(I) Ante-mortem injuries of Ramroop, son of Sarvan, aged about 6 years

1. Abraded contusion 6 x 5 cm on Rt. side of face just below Rt. eye.;

2. Abrasion 3 x 1 cm on Rt. side of forehead 1 cm above Rt. eyebrow;

3. Incised wound 5 x 3 cm muscle deep on the side of neck 3 cm below Rt. ear, margins clear cut, sharp, well defined on opening echymosis present under neath all above injuries, soft tissues & large blood vessels, carotid Rt. cut.

(II) Ante-mortem injuries of Santoshi, wife of Sarvan, aged about 35 years

1. Abraded contusion 8 x 6 cm on Rt. side of face 1 cm below Rt. eye;

2. Incised wound 8 x 3 cm muscle deep on top of Rt. shoulder;

3. Incised wound 3 x 1 cm, muscle deep present on front of neck 2 cm above top of sternum;

4. Incised wound 4 x 2 cm, muscle deep present on front of neck 2 cm above injury no.3;

5. Incised wound 7 x 3 cm, muscle deep on front of neck 2 cm above injury no.4.

6. Incised wound 3 x 2 cm on top of Lt. shoulder.

All above injuries contain clear cut & well defined margin on opening echymosis present underneath above injuries. Soft tissues & large blood vessels larynx, trachea are cut.

(III) Ante-mortem injuries of Ravi son of Sarvan aged about 1½ years

1. Incised wound 3 x 1 cm muscle deep on back of neck 2 cm below occipital;

2. I.W. 1 x 1 cm on mid of chest;

3. Abraded contusions 6 x 4 cm on forehead 2 cm above root of nose. Margins are clean, sharp, well defined. On opening echymosis present underneath soft tissues & blood vessels clear cut.

The cause of death spelt out in the autopsy report of the deceased Ramroop, Santoshi and Ravi was due to shock and haemorrhage as a result of ante-mortem injuries.

17. It is significant to mention that P.W.6-Dr. G.P. Tiwari, in his examination-in-chief, had reiterated the aforesaid cause of death of deceased Ramroop, Santoshi and Ravi and had deposed that on 25.04.2009, he was posted as Medical Officer in T.B. Hospital, Thakurganj, Lucknow. On the said date, he was nominated by the District Magistrate to conduct post-mortem examination in artificial light, of the dead-bodies of deceased Ramroop, Santoshi and Ravi, which were brought in a sealed condition by Constable 130 Mohd. Shamim and Constable 129 Brij Kishore Patel of police station Mohanlalganj, Lucknow. He further deposed that on external examination of the dead-body of deceased Ramroop son of Sarvan, he found that deceased Ramroop was aged about six years; his physique was normal; rigor mortis on his both the hands and legs were present; his both eyes were closed; and his mouth was half opened. On internal examination of deceased Ramroop, he found that his brain and membranes were pale; his spinal cord, ribs, lungs, larynx, trachea, bronchi etc. were normal; his both chambers of heart were empty; his peritoneum was pale; his teeth was 8/9; in his stomach, 100 ml. semi digested food was present; in his small intestine, digested food and gas were present; in his large intestine, faecal matter and gases were present; his liver was 450 gm and was pale; his gall bladder was half full; his pancreas and spleen was pale; his both the kidneys were also pale; and his urinary bladder was empty. He further deposed that the ante-mortem injuries of the deceased Ramroop could be attributable on 25.04.2009 at 06:30 a.m. by a sharp edged weapon.

P.W.6-Dr. G.P. Tiwari had also stated that on internal examination of the deceased Smt. Santoshi, he found that her physique was normal; rigor mortis was present on her whole body; her eyes were closed; and her mouth was half opened. On internal examination of the deceased Smt. Santoshi, he found that her scalp and skull were normal; her membranes and brain were pale; her base and vertebrae were normal; ribs, cartilages, pleura were normal; her both the lungs and pericardium were pale; her both portion of heart were empty; her peritoneum was pale; her teeth was 16/16; in her stomach, 200 ml. semi digested food was present; in her small intestine, digested food and gas was present; in her large intestine, faecal matter and gases were present; her liver was pale and was 1100 gm; her gall bladder was half full; her pancreas, spleen and both the kidneys were pale; and her urinary bladder was empty. He further deposed that injuries of deceased Smt. Santoshi could be attributable on 24.04.2009 at 06:30 a.m. by sharp edged weapon. He proved ante-mortem injuries of Smt. Santoshi as Ext. Ka. 6.

P.W.6 had further deposed that on external examination of the deceased Ravi, he found that his physique was average; rigor mortis was present over his whole body; his eyes were closed; and his mouth was half opened. On internal examination of the deceased Ravi, he found that his brain membrane was pale; his outer membrane of lungs was pale; his both the lungs were also pale; his pericardium was also pale; his both the chambers of heart were empty; his teeth was 6/6; in his stomach, 50 ml. fluid was present; his liver and both the kidneys were pale; and his urinary bladder was empty. He proved the post-mortem report of Ravi as Ext. Ka. 7.

In cross-examination, P.W.6 had deposed that he conducted the post-mortem examination of deceased in the light of Petromax Gas. All the injuries of the deceased have been sustained about the same time. He further deposed that it was not possible to ascertain that the injuries inflicted by sharp edged weapon was attributable by same weapon or by different weapons. He further deposed that he conducted the post-mortem examination of the deceased Ramroop, Ravi and Smt. Santoshi. At the time of post-mortem, Dr. Ravi Awasthi was also along with him. He found three ante-mortem injuries on the dead body of the deceased Ravi. He deposed that injury no.1 caused to the deceased Ravi was attributable by sharp edged weapon; and injury no.1 of the deceased Ravi could be caused by banka or hasiya or from falling upon sharp edged iron. He reiterated the same opinion in respect of injury no.2 caused to the deceased Ravi. However, injury no.3 caused to the deceased Ravi could be attributable by blunt object like danda. All three injuries caused to the deceased Ravi were lethal.

P.W.6, in his cross-examination, had further deposed that he found six ante-mortem injuries on the dead body of the deceased Santoshi. He deposed that injury no.1 caused to the deceased Santoshi could be attributable by a blunt object like lathi, danda and her injury no.2 could be attributable by a sharp edged weapon like hasiya, banka etc. He reiterated the same opinion in respect of other injuries caused to the deceased Santoshi. He further deposed that he found three injuries on the body of the deceased Ramroop. He deposed that injury no.1 caused to the deceased Ramroop could be attributable due to friction against any hard surface, whereas injuries no. 2 and 3 could be attributable by sharp edged weapon like hasiya and banka etc. The Investigating Officer did not record his statement with regard to post-mortem examination of the deceased.

18. The post-mortem examination of the dead-bodies of the deceased Sumiran and Smt. Madhuri was conducted on 25.04.2009 at 08:30 p.m. and 09:00 p.m., respectively, in T.B. Hospital, Thakurganj, Luckow by Dr. Rajesh Awasthi (P.W.9), who found the ante-mortem injuries on their person enumerated hereinafter :-

"(I) Ante-mortem injury of Sumiran daughter of Sarvan aged about 4 years

Lacerated wound in the back of neck trachea, larynx, vessels, oesophagus lacerated.

The cause of death spelt out in the autopsy report of the deceased Sumiran was due to shock and haemorrhage as a result of ante-mortem injuries.

(II) Ante-mortem injury of Smt. Madhuri, wife of Kolai aged about 50 years

1. Lacerated wound 6 x 3 cm on the frontal and occipital region on exploration underneath bone fracture. haematoma in brain, margins lacerated and haematoma present.

2. Lacerated Rt. eye 6 x 2 cm into bone deep underneath orbit bone fracture. Brain membranes lacerated;

3. Lacerated wound 7 x 3 Rt. cheek bone underneath bone fracture;

4. Lt. ear lacerated;

5. Lacerated wound Rt. wrist joint."

The cause of death spelt out in the autopsy report of the deceased Smt. Madhuri was due to shock and hemorrhage as a result of ante-mortem injury no. 4.

19. It is significant to mention here that P.W.9-Dr. Rajesh Awasthi had reiterated the aforesaid cause of death of the deceased Sumiran and Smt. Madhuri before the trial Court and had further deposed, in his examination-in-chief, before the trial Court that on 25.04.2009, he was posted as Medical Officer in T.B. Hospital. On that date, on the direction of the District Magistrate, he conducted the post-mortem examination of the dead bodies of deceased Sumiran d/o Sarvan aged about 04 years and deceased Smt. Madhuri, w/o Kolai, which were brought by C.P. 1301 Mohd. Shamim and C.P. 129 Braj Kishore Patel of police station Mohanlalganj. He deposed that on external examination of deceased Sumiran, he found that rigor mortis was present over her upper and lower parts of the body; and the deceased Sumiran died on account of ante-mortem injuries caused to her. He deposed that the deceased Sumiran could have died before 6-12 hours of the post-mortem. He proved the post-mortem report of the deceased Sumiran and Smt. Madhuri as Ext. Ka. 11 and Ext. Ka. 12, respectively.

In cross-examination, P.W.9 had deposed that ante-mortem injury caused to deceased Sumiran could be attributable by sharp edged weapon and she could have died before six hours of the post-mortem. He further deposed that injury no.1 caused to the deceased Madhuri could be attributable by sharp edged weapon; injury no.1 could also be attributable by blunt object; injury no.2 could be attributable by any weapon, however, injury was lacerated; injuries no. 3, 4 and 5 could be attributable by blunt object. The injuries caused to the deceased Madhuri could be attributable before 12 hours of the post-mortem.

20. It is pertinent to mention that during the incident, son of the informant (P.W.1), namely, Rajendra, also sustained injuries in the incident. On the date of the incident, Rajendra was admitted in Trauma Centre, Lucknow by the police. During his treatment, Rajendra aged about 10 years died on 03.05.2009 in the night. After the death of Rajendra, informant (P.W.1) gave information about the death of his son Rajendra to the police on 06.05.2009 (Ext. Ka.2).

21 . The evidence of P.W.11-Sri Pramhans Prasad shows that on 04.05.2009, he was posted as Sub-Inspector at Medical College Chowki of police station Chowk. On the information of S/A Monu Kumar, he and Constable Chandrika Prasad reached Medical College Mortuary along with requisite papers at 09:40 O'clock. The dead-body of the deceased Rajendra aged about 10 years was in mortuary, wherein the family members of the deceased Rajendra were also present. The "panchayatnama' of the dead body of the deceased Rajendra was prepared by him.

In cross-examination, P.W.11 had deposed that he only conducted the "panchayatnama' of the dead body of the deceased Rajendra, which started at 09:40 a.m. and ended it at 10:10 a.m.. The family members of the deceased Rajendra, who were present there, had put their signature in the "panchayatnama', which was written on spot.

22. P.W.7-Guddu, who is the real brother of the deceased Rajendra, in his examination-in-chief, had deposed that deceased Rajendra was aged about 10 years. The "panchayatnama' of the dead body of the deceased Rajendra was conducted by the Inspector at Medical College Mortuary in his presence on 04.05.2009 at 10:00 a.m. The panchayatnama was written in his presence and it was read over to him by the Inspector and after that he put his signature thereon.

In cross-examination, P.W.7-Guddu had deposed that on 04.05.2009, "panchayatnama' was made and at that time, he (Guddu), Inspector, Sangeeta (injured), Ram Naresh and Adesh were present. In the panchayatnama, he put his signature and four persons also affixed their thumb impression. He further deposed that there were about 6-7 injuries on the head of the deceased Rajendra.

23. The post-mortem examination of the dead body of the deceased Rajendra was conducted on 04.05.2009 at 01:00 p.m. in Balrampur Hospital, Lucknow by Dr. U.K. Prasad (P.W.5), who found the ante-mortem injuries on his person enumerated hereinafter :-

"Ante-mortem injuries of deceased Rajendra, son of Kolai

1. Contusion 8.0 cm x 5.0 cm present on forehead 2.0 cm above root of nose.

2. Contusion 10.0 cm x 8.0 cm present on back of head over occipital region.

3. Contusion 5.0 cm x 4.0 cm present on Rt. temporal region 2.0 cm above Rt. ear. On opening echchymosis present underneath above mentioned injuries. Fracture of Rt. temporal, Rt. parietal bones present and subdural haematoma present all over the brain underneath the fracture brain meninges lacerated & extra dural haematoma present.

The cause of death spelt out in the autopsy report of the deceased Rajendra was coma as a result of ante-mortem head injuries.

24. It is significant to mention here that P.W.5-Dr. U.K. Prasad, in his examination-in-chief, had reiterated the aforesaid cause of death of the deceased Rajendra before the trial Court and had further deposed that on 04.05.2009, he was posted as Senior Surgeon at Balrampur Hospital, Lucknow. On the same date, at about 01:00 p.m., he conducted the post-mortem of the unsealed body of the deceased Rajendra aged about 10 years, which was brought and identified by C.P. 2666 Chandrika Prasad of Police Station Chowk, Lucknow. The deceased Rajendra died at Gandhi Memorial & Associated Hospital on 03.05.2009 at 08:40 p.m. He further deposed that on external examination of the dead body of the deceased Rajendra, he found that his physique was average; rigor mortis was present all over his body; P.M. staining was present on his back; tracheotomy tube was present in his neck; I.V. cannula was present on his right wrist joint; ryles tube was present on his right nostril; eyes were closed; and mouth was half open. On internal examination, he found that brain membrane was torn; pleura, both lungs and pericardium were congested; left chamber of heart was empty; right chamber of heart was empty; in the stomach, 60 ml fluid was present; in the small intestine, digested food and gas were present; in the large intestine, faecal matter and gases were present; liver was 850 gms and was congested; his gall bladder was half full; his pancreas was congested; his spleen was 90 gms and was congested; both the kidneys were 125 gms and was congested; urinary bladder was empty; and the organ of generation was normal. He further deposed that it was difficult to say how old are the injuries but injuries could be attributable from back of the "axe'. He proved the post-mortem report (Ext. Ka. 4).

In cross-examination, P.W.5 had deposed that injuries could be attributable from back of the "axe'.

25. The case was committed to the Court of Sessions in usual manner where the convicts/appellants were charged for the offence punishable under Sections 302, 323, 201 I.P.C.. They pleaded not guilty to the charges and claimed to be tried. Their defence was of denial.

26. During trial, the prosecution, in order to prove its case, had examined thirteen witnesses viz. P.W.1-Kolai (informant); P.W.2-Sangeeta (injured), daughter of the informant and deceased Madhuri; P.W.3-Ram Naresh, son-in-law of the informant (P.W.1); P.W.4-Dr. Shailendra Kumar Dwivedi, who conducted the medical examination of injured Sangeeta (P.W.2); P.W.5-Dr. U.K. Prasad, who conducted the post-mortem of the deceased Rajendra; P.W.6-Dr. G.P. Tiwari, who conducted the post-mortem of the deceased Ramroop, Smt. Santoshi, Ravi; P.W.7-Guddu, who is the witness of conducting panchayatnama of the dead body of the deceased Rajendra; P.W.8-S.I. Anand Kumar Pandey, who registered the chik F.I.R. on the basis of the written report of informant (P.W.1); P.W.9-Dr. Rajesh Awasthi, who conducted the post-mortem of the dead body of the deceased Sumiran and Smt. Madhuri; P.W.10-Bal Krishna Singh, who is witness of "panchayatnama' of the dead bodies of the deceased Ramroop, Smt. Santoshi, Ravi, Sumiran and Smt. Madhuri; P.W.11-S.I. Pramhans Prasad, who conducted the "panchayatnama' of the dead body of the deceased Rajendra; P.W.12-S.I. Ram Vishal "Suman', who accompanied the Investigating Officer Ashok Kumar Shukla while conducting the investigation of the case and prepared the panchayatnama of the deadbodies of the deceased Ramroop, Santoshi, Ravi, Sumiran and Madhuri; and P.W.13-Dharam Pal Singh, who also accompanied the Investigating Officer Ashok Kumar Shukla while conducting the investigation of the case. The trial Court had also examined Constable C.P. 840 Sri Satish Kumar Kushwaha as C.W.1 in order to prove the fact that the Investigating Officer of the case, namely, Ashok Kumar Shukla died on 29.05.2014.

27. P.W.1-Kolai, informant, in his examination-in-chief, had deposed before the trial Court that Sarvan (convict/appellant) was residing in front of his house in the village. A gossip/talk spread in the village that Sarvan (convict/appellant) had an illicit relationship with his bhabhi (sister-in-law), which was objected by the wife of Sarvan and on this issue, sometimes altercation took place between them and sometimes scuffle took place between them. When scuffle took place between them, his wife Madhuri used to go for pacifying the issue, upon which Sarvan (convict/ appellant) used to remain angry with (informant's wife) Madhuri.

P.W.1 had deposed that he did not know the date of the incident, however, it was the incident of six months ago and it was the fourth month of the year and the time was about 06:30 a.m. When he was standing in front of the house of Rajaram which was adjoining the house of Sarvan, a noise ''बचाओ बचाओ' (help-help) came from the house of Sarvan. Thereafter, his wife (deceased Madhuri) came out of the house for rescue at kharanja (dirt road). After some time, Sarvan armed with "axe' came out of his house and told his wife (deceased Madhuri) that ''अपनी बीबी और बच्चो को काट कर लाइन से लगा दिया है तुम बचाने दौडती है तुम्हे भी लाइन से लगा दूंगा।' (after cutting his wife and children, he has put them on the line, you often run to save, you will also be put in the line). After saying this, Sarvan started assaulting his wife (deceased Madhuri) with "axe'. In the said "axe', bamboo stick of about the length of two-hand was attached. He further deposed that when Sarvan came out from his house with "axe', blood was dripping from the "axe'. He saw Sarvan swing 3-4 blows of "axe' upon his wife (deceased Madhuri) and immediately thereafter, his wife (deceased Madhuri) fell down on kharanja (dirt road) and after that she did not get up again and died.

P.W.1 had further deposed that when Sarvan assaulted his wife (deceased Madhuri), then, his son Rajendra (deceased) and his daughter Sangeeta (injured P.W.2), who were standing at the door, ran to save their mother (deceased Madhuri). After that Sarvan also assaulted them with the same "axe'. Sarvan hit with "axe' on the head of Rajendra and thereafter he assaulted Sangeeta (injured) inside the house with the "axe'. After that both his children became unconscious and fell down. When he screamed, 2-4 villagers came and on seeing them, Sarvan fled away with the "axe'. He deposed that at the time of the incident, fear had arisen in the village; none of the children went to school; the doors of the people got locked; the road traffic was closed; villagers even did not go to their barn due to fear. At that time, the age of the wife of Sarvan was 35 years and their children were 6, 5 and 1½ years, whereas age of his wife (deceased Madhuri) was 50 years and his son (Rajendra) was 6 years. He saw the incident from a distance of 10 steps.

P.W.1 had also deposed that when Sarvan assaulted his wife (deceased Madhuri), his bhabhi (sister-in-law) was standing at the door of Sarvan and told that "वह बार बार बचाव बचाव कहती है इसलिए इसे मरा दिया तो ठीक किया' (she always asked to save-save, therefore, he killed her, he did right). He got scribed written report from one person, namely, Sewak, who after scribing read it over to him and then he affixed his thumb impression on it and lodged it in the police station. He proved the written report (Ext. Ka. 1). He further deposed that he brought his son along with police to the Medical College; his son died during treatment; and after the death of his son, he got scribed the information regarding the death of his son and after affixing thumb impression on it, he lodged it (Ext. Ka. 2) in the police station on 9th day of the incident. The Inspector took his statement regarding the incident at his house. He had shown the place of occurrence to the Inspector. At the time of the incident, his relative Ram Naresh (P.W.3) was also present and saw the incident.

In cross-examination, P.W.1-Kolai had deposed that people used to say that Sarvan and his bhabhi (sister-in-law) Suman had illicit relationship. He did not ever intervene in the altercations that occurred between Sarvan and his wife. His wife intervened between them in his presence. No quarrel had happened between accused Suman and his family members. Before the incident, his family members were at talking terms with the accused Suman. His house was at a distance of 50 steps from the house of Suman and in between their houses, there was one house. The house of Suman was situated in western direction from his house and the house of Sarvan was at a distance of ten steps from his house. There was a gap of two houses between the house of Suman and the house of Sarvan. Out of the said two houses, one house was of Baijnath and the other was of Kandha. A handpump, which was installed near the house of Suman two years ago, was in running condition and also visible from his house. He and his wife never went to fetch water in front of Suman's door. He and his wife filled water from the handpump installed in front of the door of Sitaram. The house of Sarvan was at a distance of 5-6 houses from the house of Sitaram. In the middle of his house and the house of Suman, there was house of Changa. The houses were in seriatum, therefore, could be seen clearly. Accused Sarvan ran with blood stained "axe' passing through his house towards the house of Pawan. After that he did not know where Sarvan had gone. He further deposed that they did not go to search for Sarvan instead they went to police station. A bamboo stick was attached with the "axe'. He further deposed that on 09.02.2008, an altercation took place between Suman and his daughter-in-law, for which both sides have lodged report, however, either of the side did not sustain any injury.

P.W.1 had further deposed that the name of the elder brother of Sarvan was Pawan Kumar. There was dispute between Sarvan and Pawan Kumar. Earlier he was at talking terms with Pawan but after lodging the report of the instant case, he was not at talking term with Pawan as he supported his brother. Sarvan and Pawan were residing in different houses. The house of Sarvan was at a distance of 50 steps from the house of Pawan. The house of Sarvan was at a distance of 8-10 steps from his house.

P.W.1 had further deposed that on the date of the incident, he was at the door of Rajaram along with Rajaram, Bablu and sister-in-law of Sukhlal. All of them tried to catch Sarvan but he fled away. He did not sustain any injury.

28. P.W.2-Sangeeta, who is the daughter of informant Kolai (P.W.1), in her examination-in-chief, had deposed that the said incident was of 25.04.2009 at about 06:00 a.m. The quarrel between Sarvan and his wife took place in the house of Sarvan. When Sarvan was assaulting his wife, then, voice "बचाओ–बचाओ' came from inside the house. At that moment, her mother (deceased Madhuri), on listening the voice, came out from the house at Kharanja (dirt road), whereas she and his brother Rajendra (deceased) were standing at the door. Sarvan armed with blood stained "axe' came out from his house and told that "तुम श्रीमती बहुत बचाती थी अब तुमको भी मार डालेगे' (you Srimati used to protect a lot, now you will also be killed'). After that Sarvan swung 5-6 blows of "axe' on her mother, as a consequence of which, her mother fell down. Thereafter she and Rajendra (deceased) ran to save their mother, then, Sarvan had assaulted Rajendra (deceased) with "axe'. After that Rajendra (deceased) fell down and thereafter Sarvan had also hit on her head with the "axe'. She deposed that at the time of the incident, first of all, Sarvan came out from his house with the "axe' and behind him, his sister-in-law came out and stood at the door. She further deposed that when her mother was being assaulted by Sarvan, then, Suman instigated Sarvan that "kill her as she used to intervene a lot'. She deposed that this incident was witnessed by Rajaram, Bablu, Nanhku, Baijnath apart from her. Rajaram, Bablu, Baijnath and her husband ran to save and no one else was there. After the incident, her father (P.W.1) went to lodge the report. The inspector took her statement. After the incident, fear was spread in the village; on account of fear, people entered into their respective houses; some of the villagers left the village; she had also sustained injuries in the incident; she sustained injuries on two places of her hands; these injuries were caused by the assault of Sarvan; a woman and a woman Constable took her for treatment. In the said incident, four persons got injured from the side of Sarvan and three persons got injured from her side. All these persons got injured on account of assault of Sarvan.

In cross-examination, P.W.2-Sangeeta had deposed that the incident was of Saturday. On that day, she woke up at 06:00 a.m. The house of Sarvan and her house was opposite to each other. There was no drain flowing in front of her house. A drain was beside the house of Sarvan. The water of her house was flowing in the drain constructed with kharanja and the said kharanja was in the mid of her house and the house of Sarvan. She denied the suggestion that there was quarrel between her family and Sarvan with regard to flow of drainage water. Her father had not lodged any report with regard to quarrel of drain. She also denied the suggestion that Sarvan or his family members had lodged any report upon her father Kolai or her family members. She also denied the suggestion that she had knowledge that F.I.R. was lodged against her father. She also denied that any complaint was ever submitted against her family. She also denied the suggestions that Nanha (brother of P.W.2) went to meet Santoshi to the house of Sarvan on the date of the incident; Nanha frequently went to the house of Sarvan to meet Santoshi; her father Kolai, her mother, her brother Rajendra had entered inside the house of Sarvan on the date of the incident; before two days of the incident, scuffle took place between her father and Sarvan regarding the drain water and in this scuffle, her father threatened Sarvan that he would kill his family. She further deposed that there was no "axe' in her house nor ever had "axe' in her house. She denied the suggestion that when Sarvan was not in the house, then, his father Kolai, Nanha, Rajendra, his mother and she herself, on getting a chance, entered into the house of Sarvan with "axe' and killed the wife and children of Sarvan and in the meanwhile Sarvan came and scuffle took place. She also denied the suggestion that there was no scuffle between Sarvan and her mother and her brothers. She also denied the suggestion that her father raised an "axe' to kill Sarvan but it hit her mother. She deposed that on that date, her father was at the door of Rajaram. On hearing screaming, her father came outside the house and at that time Sarvan was assaulting her mother. Upon reaching the spot, her father tried to save her mother. However, no injury was caused to him. She further denied the suggestion that her father was assaulting Sarvan, therefore, no injury was caused to him. She also denied the suggestion that the "axe' used in the incident was of her house. She further submitted that after the incident, Sarvan ran from the village.

P.W.2-Sangeeta had further deposed that no quarrel took place between accused Suman and her family members. Before the incident, they were on talking terms with the family of Suman, however, she had no good talking terms with Sarvan and before the incident, she did not visit to the house of Sarvan. Sarvan had not come to her house. They also did not visit the house of Pawan before the incident. Before the incident, her mother did not go to the house of Sarvan and there was no enmity between them. At the time of scuffle, she was cooking in her house. At the time of the scuffle, firstly Sarvan came out from the house and after that Suman came out from the house. She has seen Suman going to the house of Sarvan in the night sometimes. When Suman came out from the house of Sarvan, her mother and her brother were standing at their door in front of kharanja. After the incident, Suman went towards her house and at that time, Suman did not carry anything in her arm. At the time of the incident, her brother-in-law was returning from call of nature. She denied the suggestion that on account of enmity with Suman, report was lodged against Suman. She further deposed that she had no enmity with the family of Suman and Pawan. She denied the suggestion that Suman had no relation with the present incident.

29. P.W.3-Ram Naresh, who is son-in-law of the informant, had deposed in his examination-in-chief before the trial Court that a day before the incident, he went to his in-law's house. The incident was of 25th at 06:30 a.m. When he and Sangeeta, while standing at the door of his in-law's house, were talking, a noise "बचाओ बचाओ' came out from the house of Sarvan. After that his mother-in-law (deceased Madhuri) and Rajendra (deceased) ran. Then, Sarvan armed with "axe' came out from other side and told them that he had put aside his wife and children, he would also put aside three of them (brother-in-law, sister-in-law and mother-in-law). He deposed that "axe' was stained with blood. Sarvan, by assaulting his mother-in-law (deceased Madhuri), put her down on kharanja. When his brother-in-law Rajendra and Sangeeta ran, then, he also assaulted them. All of them were assaulted with "axe'. They were assaulted by back of "axe' as well as front of the "axe'. At that time, accused Suman, while standing at her door, was instigating Sarvan. On the information of the incident, the police had reached the spot. The police brought Sangeeta and Rajendra to Trauma Centre Hospital, where the treatment of Sangeeta and Rajendra was conducted. During treatment, Rajendra died after eight days of the incident on account of injuries caused to him in the incident. The police had recorded his statement.

In cross-examination, P.W.3-Ram Naresh had deposed that Suman was living along with her husband Pawan in a separate house. On listening the noise, he did not go inside the house of Sarvan nor went to intervene in the scuffle on account of fear neither did he go to call any one for intervention, but he only made hue and cry. Accused ran in front of him but he did not try to catch him due to fear. At the time of the incident, his wife was at her parents' home. He was standing at a distance of 25 steps from Suman. After the incident, Sarvan fled with the axe. Suman also ran behind Sarvan. On account of fear, he did not go to save his sister-in-law, mother-in-law and brother-in-law. The police had recorded his statement on the date of the incident at the place of occurrence. When his father-in-law went to lodge the report, then, the police came there.

30. The statements of the convicts/appellants, Sarvan and Suman, were recorded under Section 313 Cr.P.C. The convict/appellant Sarvan, in his statement recorded under Section 313 Cr.P.C., has accepted the statements of the prosecution witnesses that he and his bhabhi (sister-in-law) Smt. Suman had an illicit relationship, which was objected by his wife Smt. Santoshi and on this issue, quarrel and fight used to take place between him and his wife (Smt. Santoshi) and the wife of the informant (P.W.1-Kolai), Madhuri, came to intervene between them, upon which he used to be angry with her. The convict/appellant Sarvan had also admitted the statements of the prosecution witnesses that on the date, time and place of the incident, informant P.W.1-Kolai was standing in front of the house of Raja Ram adjacent to his house and a sound of "save-save' was coming from his house; he came out with an "axe' from his house and told the informant's wife, Smt. Madhuri that "he has put his wife and children on line, you run to save, then you will also be put in the line' and by saying this, he assaulted the informant's wife, Smt. Madhuri, with "axe', as a consequence of which, informant's wife Smt. Madhuri fell down on khadanja and died. Convict/appellant Sarvan had also admitted the statements of the prosecution witnesses that on the date, time and place, when he came out from his house with "axe', blood was dripping from his "axe'. Convict/appellant, however, had stated that first of all, informant and his family members had killed his (Sarvan's) family members and thereafter, he had also killed the family members of the informant. Convict/appellant had also admitted that on the date, time and place of the incident, on the hue and cry of P.W.1-Kolai, 2-4 persons came and thereafter he fled away with the "axe'. Convict/appellant had also admitted the statement of P.W.1-Kolai that on 25.04.2009 informant Kolai (P.W.1) got the FIR scribed by Ram Sewak son of Hari Prasad, who after scribing read it over to him and thereafter, he affixed his thumb impression on it and then proceeded to Police Station Mohanlalganj and lodged it. Convict/appellant Sarvan had also admitted the statements of injured Sangeeta (P.W.2) that on 05.07.2009, at about 06:00 a.m., a scuffle was going on between Sarvan and his wife Santoshi and when Sarvan was beating his wife Santoshi, then, a noise "save-save' came out from his house. On listening this noise, her mother (Smt. Madhuri) came out near the khadanja and at that time, she and Rajendra were standing at the door. Sarvan came outside his house with blood stained "axe' and told her mother Smt. Madhuri that she protected his wife Smt. Santoshi a lot and now he would also kill her and thereafter, Sarvan started to assault her mother Smt. Madhuri with "axe'. 4-5 blows of "axe' were made upon her mother, as a consequence of which, her mother fell down. Thereafter, when she and Rajendra ran to save her mother Madhuri, then, Sarvan had assaulted Rajendra with "axe', as a consequence of which, Rajendra fell down. Sarvan had also assaulted on her head with "axe'. Convict/appellant had also stated that informant and his family members had killed his wife and children and, therefore, he had also killed their family members because of which case was lodged.

31. Convict/appellant Suman, in her statement recorded under Section 313 Cr.P.C., had denied the allegations levelled against her and claimed to be innocent and further stated that she has been falsely implicated in the case on account of enmity because she belongs to the family of Sarvan. She further stated that on 25.04.2002, at 06:30 a.m., she did not see Sarvan assaulting but she, on hue and cry, went at the place of the incident along with family. She denied the allegation of the prosecution that she had an illicit relationship with Sarvan. She also denied that she saw Sarvan killing his wife, his children and informant's wife by assaulting them with "axe'. She also denied the fact that she saw Sarvan assault the informant's son Rajendra and his daughter Sangeeta with "axe'. However, she admitted the fact that informant Kolai (P.W.1) got scribed the report from Ram Sevak son of Hari Prasad and after scribing it Ram Sevak read it over to him and thereafter Kolai (P.W.1) affixed his thumb impression on it and lodged it at Police Station Mohanlalganj, Lucknow.

32. In defense, three witnesses, namely, D.W.1, Pawan Kumar, real brother of convict/appellant Sarvan, D.W.2-Banshi Lal and D.W.3-Kanhaiya Lal were produced.

33. D.W.1-Pawan Kumar, real brother of convict/appellant Sarvan, had deposed in his examination-in-chief before the trial Court that incident was of 25.04.2009 between 6-7 a.m. One day before the incident, he went to attend Tilak ceremony of Dinesh at Ahimakheda. On account of work of rajmistri (masonry), he returned to his house at village Gaura by bicycle on the next day at about 06:45 a.m. His wife was cleaning utensils. He put his bicycle on stand. At that moment, on hue and cry coming from the village, he ran and reached there and behind him, his wife also reached there and saw that his brother Sarvan was shouting that Kolai after cutting his wife and children fled away. After that, he asked his brother (Sarvan) that "where were you', then, Sarvan told him that he went to get salt and on returning home, he saw his wife and children were lying cut off. He further deposed that when he went inside the house of Sarvan, he saw that the vegetable pot was overturned inside the house and deadbodies of three children and his brother's wife were lying. He, thereafter, came out from the house and called the police. After some time, the police came on a Jeep and after loading four dead-bodies on a Jeep, took away him and his brother (Sarvan) to the police station. Thereafter, the police again brought them to home. After that the police brought "axe' from the house of Kolai (P.W.1) and a stick from his house and fixed it on the "axe' in front of them. Thereafter, the police dripped the "axe' in blood, which was lying on soil and took them away to police station again along with blood stained "axe' through a Jeep. He asked the police to lodge the report but no report was written by the police. He further deposed that he had old enmity with Kolai as Kolai had usurped his one bigha of land. The whole village was afraid of Kolai. After the incident, Kolai had attacked upon him and his father, on account of which, his father had lost his life, whose case was going on. He also deposed that Kolai did not allow him to do pairvi of the case and threatened to kill him. After the incident, rumour was in the village that Kolai had killed Sarvan's children.

In cross-examination, D.W.1-Pawan Kumar had deposed that he was doing the work of rajmistri (masonry). The distance between Mohanlalganj to his village Gaura was 3 Kms. After getting off work at 05:00 p.m., 30-45 minutes were taken to wash hands, feet and his articles and after that, he went to home. It took fifteen minutes by bicycle to cover the distance of 3 Kms. He reached home at 06:00 p.m. On 24.04.2009, he went along with 4-5 persons to attend tilak ceremony of Dinesh at Ahimakheda by bicycle at about 07:30 p.m. and on 25.04.2009, he returned to his house from tilak at 06:45 a.m. The distance of Ahimakheda from his village was 6 Kms. He reached near the deadbodies of his brother's son and wife at the place of occurrence in the morning at about 06:45 a.m. He further deposed that he did not come to give evidence from the side of the deceased because no one had asked him to give evidence but on the instance of Sri Kamlesh, Advocate, he came to give evidence. He knew Kolai as well as his wife Madhuri. He denied that he had falsely deposed in order to save Suman. He also deposed that summon had not gone from the Court to him.

34. D.W.2-Banshi Lal, in his examination-in-chief, had deposed before the trial Court that the incident was of 25.04.2009 at about 06:10 a.m. On the date of the incident, he was in his village. The house of Sarvan and Kolai were opposite to each other. His house was at a distance of 1 kms. from the house of both Sarvan and Kolai. On the date of the incident, he had gone for his work. After 2-2½ hours of the incident, he got information about the big incident. On getting the information, he left his work and reached to the place of the incident and saw that villagers and police personnel were present at the place of the incident. The police took away all the deadbodies and no panchayatnama was made. He knew the informant Kolai. No one was present at the house of Kolai and his wife locked the door and was trying to flee from there. When Sarvan came back after buying groceries, then, he saw such a big incident occurred at his house and the wife of Kolai was running away. On the dictate of police personnel, all the deadbodies were carried out and loaded in a police Jeep by Sarvan himself. Thereafter, Sarvan and his sister-in-law were brought by the police. When the police personnel reached at the place of the incident, none of the family members of Kolai were present there. The information about the incident spread in the village that families of both sides had killed each other. The police did not recover any weapon in his presence. After the incident, Sarvan was present. The police was informed by Chowkidar and villagers. Sarvan was living in his old house, whereas the house of his sister-in-law was away from Sarvan's house.

In cross-examination, D.W.2 had stated that he did work of construction, labour and farming. He further deposed that it is correct to say that on the date of the incident, he was not present at the place of the incident as he was 2-2½ kms. away from his house in relation of work. He did not see anyone killing. He did not even see who challenged whom. It is true that he only knew the factum of the incident from the villagers. It is also true that when he got information after 2-2½ hours of the incident, then, he reached there but the police did not make him witness in respect of the incident. The police collected the blood from the place where it was present. He denied that he falsely deposed in order to save the accused.

35. D.W.3-Kanhaiya Lal, in his examination, had deposed that the incident was of 25.04.2009 between 06:00-07:00 a.m. His house was far from the house of Kolai on eastern side. The house of Sarvan and Kolai were opposite and in between their house, there was khadanja. On the date of the incident, he was in his house and there was katha at his house. He had gone to call the gardner. The house of gardener was at a short distance from the house of Sarvan. He went to call the gardener at 06:00-07:00 a.m. It was the month of chait. Two sons of Kolai armed with "axe' jumped from the ruined house and ran away and blood was on their clothes. He could not tell their names but he recognized them. When he reached near to the house of Sarvan, then, he saw that Kolai and his sons were armed with Banka and his daughter was armed with hasiya, that were blood stained. Sarvan was not there nor any member of his family was there.

In cross-examination, D.W.3 had stated that he did not know that when he went to call gardener, it was 6 O'clock or 7 O'clock. However, the gardener met with him. He reached to the house of gardener and he talked to him for about one minute. He further deposed that incident occurred earlier and thereafter he met with gardener. Even after seeing the incident, he went to the house of gardener. After that he went to the house through other pathway due to fear. He further deposed that even after the occurrence of the incident, katha happened in his house. He further deposed that it is correct to say that he went to call gardener from his house at 07:00 a.m. and before that incident had happened.

36. The learned trial Court, upon appreciation of oral and documentary evidence, by its impugned judgment dated 29.08.2017, convicted and sentenced the appellants, Sarvan and Suman, in the manner stated hereinabove in paragraph-2.

37. Feeling dissatisfied and aggrieved by the judgment of conviction recorded and sentence awarded, appellants, Smt. Suman and Sarvan have preferred Criminal Appeal Nos. 1540 of 2017 and 1552 of 2017, respectively, under Section 374 (2) of the Cr.P.C. before this Court. However, the learned trial Court in accordance with the provisions contained in Section 366 (1) of the Cr.P.C. made reference to this Court for confirmation of sentence of death of convict/appellant Sarvan.

38. Heard Ms. Manjusha Kapil, learned Counsel for the convicts/appellants, Mr. Vimal Srivastava, learned Government Advocate assisted by Mr. Pankaj Tewari, learned Additional Government Advocate for the State and perused the material brought on record.

(C) ARGUMENTS ON BEHALF OF APPELLANTS

39. Challenging the impugned judgment dated 29.08.2017 passed by the trial Court, Ms. Manjusha Kapil, learned Counsel for the convicts/appellants has argued that :-

I. the entire case against the convicts/appellants is fabricated one and has been framed at the instance of Kolai (PW-1).

II. the convict/appellant Sarvan, in his statement recorded under Section 313 Cr.P.C., in clear terms has stated that informant Kolai (P.W.1) and his family members had killed his wife and children, because of which in retaliation, he got angry and killed the wife of the informant (P.W.1) and his son.

III. She stated that it is settled law that if the prosecution admits the statement under Section 313 Cr.P.C. then it has to be considered as a whole and it is not permissible under law to accept only one part of this statement, which supports the prosecution and to exclude the remaining part. In the instant case, the trial Court has only considered one part of this statement but erred in not considering the whole statement of convict/appellant Sarvan recorded under Section 313 Cr.P.C.

IV. the dispute amongst the informant Kolai (P.W.1) and the convict/appellant Sarvan was due to flow of drainage from the house of informant (P.W.1) to the house of the convict/appellant Sarvan. She argued that the entire case as presented by the prosecution is concocted and false as actual facts are that on the date of the incident, convict/appellant Sarvan went to purchase salt and upon returning therefrom, he saw that informant Kolai (P.W.1), his sons Guddu, Nanha as well as his wife and his daughter were running from his (Sarvan's) house with hasiya, axe etc. Immediately thereafter, Sarvan entered into his house and saw that his wife and children were lying dead on the floor, upon which he got angry and in retaliation, convict/appellant Sarvan came out from his house and killed the informant's wife and son. Therefore, the offence committed by the convict/ appellant will not fall within the penal provision of Section 302 I.P.C. but at the most, it would fall within First Part of Section 304 I.P.C. as the convict/appellant had killed the informant's wife and informant's son in revenge as the informant and his family members had killed the wife and children of convict/appellant Sarvan. Thus, the trial Court erred in convicting and sentencing the convict/appellant under Section 302 I.P.C.

V. the convict/appellant Sarvan has no motive to commit the murder of his wife and children. She argued that even if for the sake of argument it is presumed that on account of illicit relationship with his sister-in-law, the convict/ appellant Sarvan had killed his wife, even then, there is no motive for him to commit the murder of his own minor children as the convict/appellant Sarvan was not mental nor did the trial Court find the same. Thus, the findings of the trial Court in this regard is perverse and is liable to be rejected.

VI. the prosecution, in order to prove its case, has failed to produce any independent witness. P.W.1, P.W.2 and P.W.3 are interested and partisan witnesses. Therefore, their testimonies cannot be said to be trustworthy. The trial Court erred in believing the testimonies of interested and partisan witnesses.

VII. as per the prosecution, "axe' was used as a weapon for committing the murder of five persons, namely, Rajendra, Ramroop, Smt. Santoshi, Ravi, Sumiran, Smt. Madhuri and causing injury to Sangeeta by convict/appellant Sarvan but perusal of the ante-mortem injuries caused on their persons reveals that size of all the injuries are different, which itself clarifies that these injuries could be caused from different weapons. Thus, the case of prosecution that "axe' was used in commission of murder of the aforesaid persons, is doubtful and it cannot be said that the deceased was murdered by the assault of "axe'.

VIII. the "axe' in question was handed over by Kolai (P.W.1) himself to the police and thereafter police went on the spot; dripped the "axe' in blood at the place of occurrence; sealed it; and prepared the forged recovery memo. This fact has been proved from the testimonies of D.W.1-Pawan Kumar and D.W.2-Banshi Lal. But the trial Court erred in disbelieving the testimonies of D.W.1 and D.W.2.

IX. the "axe' was allegedly stated to be found from the heap of straw on the pointing out of convict/appellant Suman. If that being so, some straw ought to have strick on it, but nowhere in the police report, description of straw has been mentioned by the police. This itself shows the prosecution case with regard to recovery of "axe' on the pointing out of convict/appellant Suman, is doubtful and not believable.

X. D.W.3-Kanahaiya Lal, in his examination-in-chief, had deposed before the trial Court that two sons of Kolai (P.W.1) armed with "axe' jumped over the boundary wall of the convict/appellant Sarvan and blood was present on their clothes and when he reached to the house of convict/appellant Sarvan, he saw that Kolai (P.W.1) was there armed with blood stained banka; his sons were there armed with blood stained "banka' and his daughter was also there armed with blood stained "hasiya' and none of the family members of Sarvan (convict/appellant) and Sarvan himself were present there. But the trial Court has erroneously not believed the testimonies of defense witnesses while passing the impugned order.

XI. learned trial Court has committed grave legal error in holding that the present case falls within the category of ''rarest of rare' case as the learned trail Court has failed to record special reasons for sentencing the convict/ appellant Sarvan to death as required under Section 354 (3) of the Cr.P.C.

XII. the prosecution has miserably failed to connect the convicts/appellants with the crime in question either by direct, medical or circumstantial evidence and therefore the convicts/appellants be acquitted from the charge and the criminal appeals be allowed and the reference be rejected.

XIII. the extreme penalty of death awarded to the convict/appellant Sarvan by the trial Court is too harsh and excessive in nature and alternate penalty of the punishment of imprisonment for life would meet the ends of justice.

(D) ARGUMENTS ON BEHALF OF THE STATE

40. Shri Vimal Srivastava, learned Government Advocate, ably assisted by Shri Pankaj Tiwari, learned Additional Government Advocate for the State has opposed the submissions advanced by the learned Counsel for the convicts/appellants and argued that :-

I. the prosecution has brought sufficient material in shape of ocular, medical and documentary evidence to justify conviction of the convicts/appellants for the above-stated offence.

II. the convict/appellant Sarvan had illicit relationship with his sister-in-law, which was objected by the wife of Sarvan, upon which some quarrel took place between Sarvan (convict/appellant) and his wife (deceased Smt. Santoshi) and sometimes Sarvan (convict/appellant) had also assaulted his wife (deceased Smt. Santoshi). The wife of informant Kolai (P.W.1), Madhuri, used to intervene and settle the issue but Sarvan disliked it. These facts have been proved by the prosecution. Therefore, the defense taken by the convict/appellant Sarvan that he had killed the wife and son of the informant in retaliation as the informant and his sons had killed his wife and children while he had gone to purchase salt, has rightly been discarded by the trial Court.

III. P.W.1, P.W.2 and P.W.3 have fully supported the version of the prosecution.

IV. Thus, the trial Court, after appreciating the evidence on record, rightly came to the conclusion that the convicts/appellants were responsible for committing the murder of all six persons and had also rightly convicted them for the offences under Sections 302, 323, 201 I.P.C.

V. the seizure of blood stained "axe' at the instance of the convicts/appellants Sarvan and Suman itself is a substantial piece of evidence and also itself proves the guilt of the convicts/appellants in committing the murder of six persons.

VI. the prosecution has established the motive of the convicts/appellants to commit the murder of the six deceased persons.

VII. the medical evidence has fully supported the prosecution case.

VIII. in view of the aforesaid evidence available on record, the criminal appeals preferred by the convicts/appellants deserves to be dismissed and the death sentence awarded to convict/appellant (Sarvan) deserves to be confirmed.

IX. this is a case of "rarest of rare' case where the convict/ appellant Sarvan has murdered his own wife and his own three growing/minor children aged about 1½ years, 4 years and 6 years as well as wife of informant Madhuri and son of informant Rajendra and also injured Sangeeta, daughter of informant, by assaulting them with "axe' and absconded from the scene of occurrence which will fall within the meaning of rarest of rare case as indicated by their Lordships of the Supreme Court in Bachan Singh Vs. State of Punjab : AIR 1980 SC 898. He argued that the manner in which murder of his own wife and three growing/minor children as well as wife and son of the informant has been committed by the convict/appellant Sarvan brutally by assaulting them with "axe', it can be said to be a "rarest of rare' case and there is no chance of reformation of the convict/appellant Sarvan and he is a burden to the society, therefore, imprisonment for life or other sentence is completely inadequate, only the sentence of death would be appropriate and adequate punishment which has rightly been awarded to him by the trial Court.

(E) ANALYSIS

41. This Court has examined the submissions advanced by the learned Counsel for the parties and perused the statements of the prosecution witnesses and defense witnesses, the material exhibits tendered and proved by the prosecution, the statements of the appellants recorded under Section 313 I.P.C. and the impugned judgment.

E.1. F.I.R.

42. The prosecution case commenced with the First Information Report lodged by PW-1-Kolai on a written report (Ext.Ka.1) given by him after approximately one hour of the incident at police station Mohanlalganj, district Lucknow, wherein it was stated that five deceased persons, namely, Ramroop, Smt. Santoshi, Ravi, Sumiran and Smt. Madhuri, were brutally murdered and two persons, namely, Rajendra and Sangeeta, got injured by the convict/appellant Sarvan. The convict/appellant Sarvan was named in the First Information Report with the details of the weapon i.e. "axe' which he was carrying. The murder weapon i.e. "axe', which the convict/ appellant Sarvan was carrying, as per the description in the First Information Report and the depositions of the eye-witnesses PW-1, PW-2 and PW-3, are tallying with the injuries sustained by the six deceased persons and injured Sangeeta (P.W.2) as is clear from the Medico-legal reports. S.I. Anand Kumar Pandey (P.W.8) has proved the factum of lodging the F.I.R. on the basis of the written report (Ext. Ka.1) submitted by the informant Kolai (P.W.1).

E.2. MOTIVE

43. Learned Counsel for the convicts/appellants had contended that there was no motive on the part of the convict/appellant Sarvan to commit the murder of his own wife and children but on account of enmity between the convict/appellant Sarvan and informant Kolai regarding flow of drain water, the informant and his family members had killed his wife and three children when he went to buy salt outside his house and in retaliation, the convict/appellant Sarvan had inflicted injuries to the informant's wife and son.

44. Refuting the aforesaid submissions, learned Government Advocate has stated that as the informant's wife Madhuri being the neighbour always used to intervene in the altercations which took place between convict/appellant Sarvan and his wife Santoshi (deceased) on account of illicit relationship of convict/appellant Sarvan with his bhabhi (sister-in-law), convict/ appellant Sarvan remained annoyed with the informant's wife. Further, the wife of convict/appellant, Santoshi, always had quarrel with convict/ appellant Sarvan on the issue of his illicit relationship with his bhabhi (sister-in-law), hence convict/appellant Sarvan had committed the murder of his wife and children on account of illicit relationship with his bhabhi (sister-in-law).

45. In Bipin Kumar Mondal Vs. State of West Bengal : (2010) 12 SCC 91], the Apex Court has held that :-

"18. In fact, motive is a thing which is primarily known to the accused himself and it may not be possible for the prosecution to explain what actually prompted or excited him to commit a particular crime. In Shivji Genu Mohite Vs. State of Maharashtra, AIR 1973 SC 55, this Court held that in case the prosecution is not able to discover an impelling motive, that could not reflect upon the credibility of a witness proved to be a reliable eye-witness. Evidence as to motive would, no doubt, go a long way in cases wholly dependent on circumstantial evidence. Such evidence would form one of the links in the chain of circumstantial evidence in such a case. But that would not be so in cases where there are eye-witnesses of credibility, though even in such cases if a motive is properly proved, such proof would strengthen the prosecution case and fortify the court in its ultimate conclusion. But that does not mean that if motive is not established, the evidence of an eye-witness is rendered untrustworthy.

19. It is settled legal proposition that even if the absence of motive as alleged is accepted that is of no consequence and pales into insignificance when direct evidence establishes the crime. Therefore, in case there is direct trustworthy evidence of witnesses as to commission of an offence, the motive part loses its significance. Therefore, if the genesis of the motive of the occurrence is not proved, the ocular testimony of the witnesses as to the occurrence could not be discarded only by the reason of the absence of motive, if otherwise the evidence is worthy of reliance. (Vide Hari Shankar Vs. State of U.P., (1996) 9 SCC 40; Bikau Pandey & Ors. Vs. State of Bihar, (2003) 12 SCC 616; and Abu Thakir & Ors. Vs. State of Tamil Nadu, (2010) 5 SCC 91)."

46. In the present case, P.W.1, P.W.2 and P.W.3, in their statements recorded before the trial Court, establish the facts that on account of illicit relationship of convict/appellant Sarvan with his bhabhi (sister-in-law), the convict/appellant Sarvan had murdered his wife and three minor children and when Madhuri (informant's wife) being the neighbour tried to intervene, convict/appellant Sarvan became annoyed with informant's wife Madhuri and also murdered her and when Rajendra tried to save his mother (Madhuri), convict/appellant Sarvan had also assaulted Rajendra with "axe' and during treatment, Rajendra (informant's son) also died. From the side of the convicts/appellants, three witnesses, D.W.1, D.W.2 and D.W.3 have been produced and all the defense witnesses have stated different motive on different occasions in order to substantiate their claim that informant Kolai and his family members had committed the murder of wife of convict/ appellant Sarvan and his three children and convict/appellant Sarvan, in retaliation, had murdered informant's wife and his son. The convict/appellant Sarvan, in his statement recorded under Section 313 Cr.P.C., had admitted the fact that he had illicit relationship with his bhabhi (sister-in-law) and his wife Santoshi (deceased) always confronted with him regarding his illicit relationship with his bhabhi and informant's wife Madhuri always used to intervene in their confrontation, upon which convict/appellant remained annoyed with informant's wife. Thus, the Trial Court has rightly come to the conclusion that the convict/appellant Sarvan had a strong motive and had the opportunity of committing the act. If the convict/appellant Sarvan is to be excluded, there should have been a reasonable possibility of anyone else being the real culprit under the facts and circumstances of the case, as such the chain of evidence can be considered to be complete as to show that in all probabilities the crime has been committed by the convict/appellant Sarvan.

E.3. PROSECUTION WITNESSES

47. It appears from the evidence on record, more particularly the evidence of the informant P.W.1-Kolai that the house of convict/appellant Sarvan was opposite to his house. P.W.1, in his deposition, had deposed that a rumour was spread in the village that convict/appellant Sarvan had an illicit relationship with his bhabhi (sister-in-law), which was objected by Smt. Santoshi (deceased-the wife of convict/appellant). On this issue, sometimes scuffle and verbal fight took place between them and Smt. Madhuri (deceased, wife of the informant P.W.1) being the neighbour always used to intervene, upon which convict/appellant used to remain annoyed with Smt. Madhuri (deceased). P.W.1, in his deposition, thereafter, has talked about the fight that ensued at 06:30 a.m. on 25.04.2009 between convict/appellant Sarvan and his wife Smt. Santoshi (deceased) on the issue of illicit relationship between convict/appellant Sarvan and his bhabhi (sister-in-law). After that, an alarm "save-save' came out from the house of convict/appellant Sarvan, when he (P.W.1-Kolai) was standing in front of the house of Rajaram which was adjacent to the house of convict/appellant Sarvan. At the same time, wife of P.W.1, Smt. Madhuri (deceased), on hearing the alarm "save-save', also came out from her house for rescue, the convict/appellant Sarvan armed with blood stained "axe' came out from his house and told the wife of the informant (P.W.1), Madhuri that "after cutting his wife and children, he has put them on the line, you often run to save, you will also be put in the line'. After saying this, convict/appellant Sarvan assaulted the wife of P.W.1 (Smt. Madhuri) with "axe', as a consequence of which, the wife of P.W.1 (Smt. Madhuri) fell down on kharanja and succumbed to her injuries. P.W.1 had also deposed that Rajendra (son of the informant and deceased Madhuri) and

P.W.2-Sangeeta (daughter of the informant and deceased Madhuri), who were standing at their door, ran to save their mother Madhuri (deceased) but they were also assaulted by the convict/appellant Sarvan with "axe'. P.W.1 had also deposed that when Sarvan was assaulting his wife Madhuri, Suman, sister-in-law of the convict/appellant Sarvan, was standing at his door and instigated the convict/appellant Sarvan to kill Madhuri as she always intervened. After the assault was over, P.W.1 and other villagers tried to catch convict/appellant Sarvan but he fled away with blood stained "axe' and behind him, Suman also fled away. Thereafter, P.W.1 along with his daughter Sangeeta (injured) went to the police station and lodged the report.

48. P.W.2-Sangeeta, injured eye-witness, had supported the deposition of the informant P.W.1 and had deposed that on the date of the incident i.e. on 25.04.2009 at about 06:00 a.m., a quarrel took place between Sarvan (convict/appellant) and his wife (deceased-Santoshi) and after that a noise "save-save' came out from their house. At that time, her father, informant P.W.1-Kolai, was standing at the door of Rajaram. On listening the noise "save-save', her mother, Madhuri (deceased) came out from her house. At that moment, she (P.W.2) and her brother Rajendra (deceased) were standing at the door. After sometime, Sarvan (convict/appellant) armed with blood stained "axe' came out from his house and told her mother Madhuri that ''you Srimati protected a lot, now you will also be killed'. On saying this, Sarvan (convict/appellant) had assaulted her mother with "axe', as a consequence of which, her mother Madhuri fell down and succumbed to her injuries. P.W.2 had also stated that she and her brother Rajendra (deceased) also tried to save their mother but Sarvan (convict/appellant) had firstly assaulted her brother Rajendra with "axe', as a consequence of which, he fell down and after that Sarvan had also assaulted on her head with "axe'. She also deposed that when the convict/appellant Sarvan came out from his house with blood stained "axe', his sister-in-law Suman also came out behind him and stood at the door of convict/appellant Sarvan and instigated convict/ appellant Sarvan to kill Smt. Madhuri as she always used to intervene. She further deposed that her father Kolai (P.W.1) tried to save her mother Madhuri (deceased) and also tried to catch convict/appellant Sarvan but convict/appellant fled away with blood stained "axe' and behind him, his sister-in-law Suman also fled away. Thereafter, she along with his father P.W.1 went to the police station, where her father after getting the scribed report, lodged it at police station Mohanlalganj, district Lucknow.

49. P.W.3-Ram Naresh, who is the son-in-law of the deceased Madhuri and informant Kolai (P.W.1), had also supported the testimonies of the informant P.W.1-Kolai and injured P.W.2-Sangeeta and had deposed that before one day of the incident, he came to his in-law's house (the house of informant Kolai). On the date of the incident i.e. on 25.04.2009 at about 06:30 a.m., when he was talking with Sangeeta (injured) while standing at the door of his in-law's house, a noise "save-save' came out from the house of convict/appellant Sarvan and on listening this noise, his mother-in-law Madhuri (deceased) came out from her house. At that moment, Sarvan (convict/appellant) armed with blood stained "axe' came out from his house and told her mother-in-law (deceased Madhuri) that ''he had put aside his wife and children, he would also put aside three of them'. On saying this, Sarvan (convict/appellant) assaulted her mother-in-law with "axe', as a consequence of which, her mother-in-law fell down on kharanja and died. He further stated that his brother-in-law Rajendra and Sangeeta (P.W.2) tried to save his mother-in-law but they were also assaulted by the convict/appellant Sarvan with "axe'. At that time, sister-in-law of the convict/appellant Sarvan (Suman), while standing at the door of convict/appellant, was instigating him to kill them. He further stated that on account of fear, he did not try to save his mother-in-law (Madhuri), brother-in-law (Rajendra) and Sangeeta but he only raised hue and cry.

50. From the aforesaid evidences of P.W.1, P.W.2 and P.W.3, it transpires that nothing improbable in their examination-in-chief is found more particularly considering a very scant and deficient cross-examination. This Court takes notice of the fact that except a minor contradiction in the form of an omission, nothing substantial could be elicited from the cross-examination of P.W.1, P.W.2 and P.W.3 so as to render their entire evidence doubtful.

E.4. DEFENSE WITNESSES

51. The presence of the convicts/appellants at the scene of occurrence has not been disputed by the learned Counsel for the appellants nor can it be doubted in any manner. Her argument, however, is that convict/appellant Sarvan can be pinpointed during the commission of murder of his wife Smt. Santoshi and their three children, Ramroop, Ravi and Sumiran, in as much as, at that time, convict/appellant Sarvan went to purchase salt and after returning back from there, he saw his wife and three children lying dead and in counterblast, convict/appellant Sarvan came out from his house and assaulted the wife of the informant Kolai (Madhuri), his son Rajendra and his daughter Sangeeta. Her contention is that any action on the part of the convict/appellant Sarvan, therefore, was only in reaction and he cannot be convicted of the offence of committing homicidal death of his wife Santoshi and three children, Ramroop, Ravi and Sumiran.

52. To appreciate the said argument, this Court has to assess the probabilities of the defence version sought to be established by production of three defence witnesses (DW-1, DW-2 and DW-3). Therefore, this Court would also be required to examine the prosecution evidence to ascertain as to whether the probabilities of the defence version would make the prosecution story doubtful.

53. It transpires from the evidence of P.W.2-Sangeeta that a suggestion was put to her from the side of the convicts/appellants that informant Kolai (P.W.1) had also entered into the house of the convict/appellant Sarvan, whereas at the same time it transpires from the cross-examination of P.W.1-Kolai that a suggestion was put to him from the side of the convicts/appellants that Kolai (P.W.1) and Rajaram were not present at the place of the occurrence. This shows that from the side of the convicts/appellants, contradictory stand was taken with regard to the presence of the informant Kolai (P.W.1) at the place of the occurrence as on one hand convicts/appellants took stand that informant and his family members entered into the house of convict/appellant and killed the wife of convict/ appellant and his children and on the other hand, stand was taken from the side of the convicts/appellants that informant Kolai and Rajaram were not present at the place of the occurrence. Therefore, it is not established from the aforesaid stand of the convicts/appellants that informant and his family members entered into the house of convict/appellant Sarvan and killed the wife of convict/appellant Sarvan and his children.

54. Learned Counsel for the convicts/appellants has also contended that there was dispute between convict/appellant Sarvan and informant Kolai with regard to flow of drainage water and on account of this, the informant Kolai (P.W.1) and his family members entered the house of the convict/appellant Sarvan and killed his wife and children when convict/appellant Sarvan had gone to buy salt. In our view, this contention of the learned Counsel for the convict/appellant has no substance looking to the facts that at the time of the incident, deceased Rajendra, who was the son of informant Kolai (P.W.1), was aged about 10 years; injured Sangeeta was aged about 16 years; the presence of Nanha was also shown at the place of the occurrence, therefore, it is quite probable that if there was any dispute of flow of drainage water, then, elder members of the informant's family would involve to pacify the issue or do anything in this regard, but under the given facts and circumstances, it is quite unnatural and unbelievable that all the family members including Rajendra aged about 10 years and Sangeeta aged about 16 years went into the house of the convict/appellant Sarvan on the date of the incident when convict/appellant had allegedly went to buy salt. Moreso, there is no evidence produced from the side of convict/appellant that on the date and time of the incident, convict/appellant Sarvan went to buy salt.

55. In the statement of the convict/appellant Sarvan recorded under Section 313 Cr.P.C., convict/appellant Sarvan had admitted the facts that on the date, time and place, informant Kolai (P.W.1) was standing at the door of Rajaram; a noise of "save-save' was coming from his house; at that time, he came out from his house with "axe' and told Madhuri (informant's wife) that "he had put his wife and children on the line and you (Madhuri) often run to save, you (Madhuri) will also be put in the line'; on saying this, he had assaulted informant's wife with "axe'; and immediately thereafter informant's wife Madhuri fell down on kharanja and died. Convict/appellant Sarvan had also admitted the testimonies of P.W.2-Injured Sangeeta. Therefore, it transpires from the whole statement of convict/appellant Sarvan recorded under Section 313 Cr.P.C. that he had supported the case of the prosecution.

56. From the side of convicts/appellants, three witnesses, namely, D.W.1-Pawan Kumar, D.W.2-Banshi Lal and D.W.3-Kanhaiya Lal were examined. D.W.1-Pawan Kumar is the real brother of the convict/appellant Sarvan. His evidence shows that on hue and cry of his brother Sarvan that informant Kolai, after killing his wife and children, fled away, he went to the house of convict/appellant Sarvan. This itself shows that D.W.1-Pawan Kumar is not an eye-witness as he reached at the place of occurrence after the incident. D.W.1-Pawan Kumar, in his examination-in-chief, did not depose anything regarding the dispute of flow of drainage water between his brother Sarvan (convict/appellant) and informant Kolai (P.W.1) but he had stated a new story that informant Kolai had captured one bigha of land and the informant Kolai had attacked upon his father, upon which his father died and a case in this regard is going on. It transpires that there is no evidence on record, which establishes the aforesaid facts of D.W.1. Later on, D.W.1 in his deposition had stated that rumour was spread in the village that informant Kolai had killed the wife of Sarvan and his children, which establishes the fact that D.W.1 has stated before the Court on the basis of the rumour, therefore, his statement cannot be reliable and it appears that the facts of capturing one bigha land and the killing of his father by the informant Kolai, is imaginary and cannot be believed.

57. D.W.2-Banshi Lal was produced from the side of convict/appellant Sarvan, claiming to be an eye-witness of the incident but it transpires from his evidence that D.W.2 is not an eye-witness as D.W.2 in his deposition has stated in clear terms that on the date of the incident, he had gone for work and after 2-2½ hours of the incident, when he reached at the place of the incident, he saw that the police took out the deadbodies of the deceased and informant's wife died. D.W.2 had also stated that the police was informed by Chaukidar and villagers about the incident through phone, whereas it transpires from the statement D.W.1-Pawan Kumar, who is the real brother of the convict/appellant Sarvan that on his telephonic call, the police reached at the place of occurrence. This contradictory statement itself shows that D.W.2 had no actual knowledge about the incident. Moreso, D.W.2 had not stated about the fact that there was any dispute between Sarvan (convict/appellant) and informant Kolai regarding the flow of drain water. Thus, the statement of D.W.2 is also not trustworthy.

58. D.W.3-Kanhaiya Lal was produced from the side of convicts/appellants as eye-witness. His evidence shows that on the date of the incident, there was a "katha' in his house and he went to call the gardner, whose house was situated at a short distance from his house. D.W.3 had further deposed that he saw that two sons of Kolai (P.W.1-Informant) armed with "axe' jumped from the ruined house and ran away and blood was on their clothes. This version of D.W.3 is belied from his own cross-examination made before the trial Court where he himself had stated that he went from his house to call the gardner at 07:00 p.m. and when he came out of his house, incident had already occurred. Thus, it is clear that D.W.3 is not an eye-witness. Furthermore, D.W.3 had stated that even after the incident, "katha' had happened in his house. Hence, the evidence of D.W.3 is also not believable.

E.5. INJURED WITNESS

59. Normally, an injured witness would enjoy greater credibility because he is the sufferer himself and thus, there will be no occasion for such a person to state an incorrect version of the occurrence, or to involve anybody falsely and in the bargain, protect the real culprit. We need not discuss more elaborately the weightage that should be attached by the Court to the testimony of an injured witness. In fact, this aspect of criminal jurisprudence is no more res integra, as has been consistently stated by the Apex Court in uniform language.

60. In Abdul Sayeed v. State of Madhya Pradesh :(2010) 10 SCC 259, the Apex Court has held as under :-

"28. The question of the weight to be attached to the evidence of a witness that was himself injured in the course of the occurrence has been extensively discussed by this Court. Where a witness to the occurrence has himself been injured in the incident, the testimony of such a witness is generally considered to be very reliable, as he is a witness that comes with a built-in guarantee of his presence at the scene of the crime and is unlikely to spare his actual assailant(s) in order to falsely implicate someone.

"Convincing evidence is required to discredit an injured witness." [Vide Ramlagan Singh v. State of Bihar, Malkhan Singh v. State of U.P., Machhi Singh v. State of Punjab, Appabhai v. State of Gujarat, Bonkya v. State of Maharashtra, Bhag Singh, Mohar v. State of U.P. (SCC p. 606b-c), Dinesh Kumar v. State of Rajasthan, Vishnu v. State of Rajasthan, Annareddy Sambasiva Reddy v. State of A.P. and Balraje v. State of Maharashtra.]

29. While deciding this issue, a similar view was taken in Jarnail Singh v. State of Punjab, where this Court reiterated the special evidentiary status accorded to the testimony of an injured accused and relying on its earlier judgments held as under: (SCC pp. 726-27, paras 28-29)

"28. Darshan Singh (PW 4) was an injured witness.

He had been examined by the doctor. His testimony could not be brushed aside lightly. He had given full details of the incident as he was present at the time when the assailants reached the tubewell. In Shivalingappa Kallayanappa v. State of Karnataka this Court has held that the deposition of the injured witness should be relied upon unless there are strong grounds for rejection of his evidence on the basis of major contradictions and discrepancies, for the reason that his presence on the scene stands established in case it is proved that he suffered the injury during the said incident.

29. In State of U.P. v. Kishan Chand a similar view has been reiterated observing that the testimony of a stamped witness has its own relevance and efficacy.

The fact that the witness sustained injuries at the time and place of occurrence, lends support to his testimony that he was present during the occurrence. In case the injured witness is subjected to lengthy cross-examination and nothing can be elicited to discard his testimony, it should be relied upon (vide Krishan v. State of Haryana). Thus, we are of the considered opinion that evidence of Darshan Singh (PW 4) has rightly been relied upon by the courts below."

The law on the point can be summarised to the effect that the testimony of the injured witness is accorded a special status in law. This is as a consequence of the fact that the injury to the witness is an inbuilt guarantee of his presence at the scene of the crime and because the witness will not want to let his actual assailant go unpunished merely to falsely implicate a third party for the commission of the offence. Thus, the deposition of the injured witness should be relied upon unless there are strong grounds for rejection of his evidence on the basis of major contradictions and discrepancies therein."

61. In the instant case, P.W.2-Sangeeta is an injured witness. She had fully supported the prosecution case and stood firm as a rock of Gibraltar. She had stated that on the date and time of the incident, a noise "save-save' came from inside the house of convict/appellant Sarvan. On listening this noise, her mother Madhuri came out from her house and behind her, she and her brother Rajendra came and were standing at their door. After sometime, Sarvan (convict/appellant) armed with blood stained "axe' came out from his house and told her mother that "you Srimati protected a lot, now you (Madhuri) will also be killed' and by saying this, Sarvan swung 4-5 blows of "axe' upon her mother, as a consequence of which, her mother fell down on ''kharanja'. Thereafter, she and Rajendra (deceased) ran to save their mother Madhuri but Sarvan (convict/appellant) had also assaulted her brother Rajendra and thereafter her with "axe', as a consequence of which, she sustained injuries. After that convict/appellant Sarvan fled away and behind him Suman also fled away from there. Immediately thereafter, she along with her father (P.W.1) went to the police station Mohanlalganj, where her father (P.W.1) lodged the report. After lodging the report, she was sent for medical examination along with the Constable.

62. From the evidence of P.W.2-Sangeeta, it is established that the presence of P.W.2-Sangeeta at the place of occurrence is natural and also injuries on her person were caused by the convict/appellant Saravan.

E.6. RECOVERY OF WEAPON OF ASSAULT ''AXE'

63. It transpires from the recovery memo Ext. Ka. 39 that the weapon of assault "axe' was recovered on the next day of the incident i.e. on 26.04.2009 on the pointing out of convicts/appellants Sarvan and Suman. At the time of recovery of weapon of assault, blood was found on it. In order to prove the recovery of weapon of assault, S.I. Shri Dharam Pal was examined as P.W.13, who, in his deposition, had proved the recovery of weapon of assault on the pointing out of convicts/appellants Sarvan and Suman from the straw and also proved the arrest of convict/appellant Suman on the same day i.e. 26.04.2009 from her house. P.W.13 had also proved the site-plan of the recovery of weapon of assault as Ext. Ka. 40. Thus, the prosecution has fully established the recovery of weapon "axe' on the pointing out of convicts/appellants Sarvan and Suman.

E.7. INTERESTED AND PARTISAN WITNESSES

64. The contention of the learned Counsel for the convicts/ appellants is that P.W.1, P.W.2 and P.W.3 are interested and partisan witnesses as P.W.2 and P.W.3 are the daughter and son-in-law of the informant P.W.1, therefore, their testimonies cannot be believed.

65. In Namdeo v. State of Maharashtra : (2007) 14 SCC 150 : (2009) 1 SCC (Cri) 773] , the Apex Court after observing previous precedents has summarized the law in the following manner :-

"38. it is clear that a close relative cannot be characterised as an "interested" witness. He is a "natural" witness. His evidence, however, must be scrutinised carefully. If on such scrutiny, his evidence is found to be intrinsically reliable, inherently probable and wholly trustworthy, conviction can be based on the "sole" testimony of such witness. Close relationship of witness with the deceased or victim is no ground to reject his evidence. On the contrary, close relative of the deceased would normally be most reluctant to spare the real culprit and falsely implicate an innocent one."

66. The Apex Court has reiterated the aforesaid principle in Gulam Sarbar v. State of Bihar : (2014) 3 SCC 401 as under :-

"19. In the matter of appreciation of evidence of witnesses, it is not the number of witnesses but quality of their evidence which is important, as there is no requirement under the Law of Evidence that any particular number of witnesses is to be examined to prove/disprove a fact. It is a time-honoured principle that evidence must be weighed and not counted. The test is whether the evidence has a ring of truth, is cogent, credible and trustworthy or otherwise.

The legal system has laid emphasis on value provided by each witness, rather than the multiplicity or plurality of witnesses. It is quality and not quantity, which determines the adequacy of evidence as has been provided by Section 134 of the Evidence Act. Even in probate cases, where the law requires the examination of at least one attesting witness, it has been held that production of more witnesses does not carry any weight.

Thus, conviction can even be based on the testimony of a sole eyewitness, if the same inspires confidence. (Vide Vadivelu Thevar v. State of Madras [AIR 1957 SC 614: 1957 Cri LJ 1000] , Kunju v. State of T.N. [(2008) 2 SCC 151: (2008) 1 SCC (Cri) 331] , Bipin Kumar Mondal v. State of W.B. [(2010) 12 SCC 91: (2011) 2 SCC (Cri) 150 : AIR 2010 SC 3638] , Mahesh v. State of M.P. [(2011) 9 SCC 626 : (2011) 3 SCC (Cri) 783], Prithipal Singh v. State of Punjab [(2012) 1 SCC 10 : (2012) 1 SCC (Cri) 1] and Kishan Chand v. State of Haryana [(2013) 2 SCC 502 : (2013) 2 SCC (Cri) 807: JT (2013) 1 SC 222].)"

67. Keeping in mind the aforesaid propositions of law, it transpires from the record that there are three eye-witnesses examined by the prosecution i.e. P.W.1, P.W.2 and P.W.3 and they have not contradicted amongst themselves being the eye-witnesses. Merely because they are related witnesses, in the absence of any material to hold that they are interested, their testimonies cannot be rejected.

E.8. MEDICAL EVIDENCE

68. So far as medical evidence adduced by prosecution in this case is concerned, four persons, namely, Ramroop, Smt. Santoshi, Ravi and Sumiran were done to death on 25.04.2009 in the house of convict/appellant Sarvan; one person, Smt. Madhuri was done to death on 25.04.2009 outside the house of convict/appellant Sarvan; two persons, namely, Rajendra and Sangeeta got injured on 25.04.2009; and Rajendra died during treatment at Trauma Centre, King George's Medical College, Lucknow on 03.05.2009 at 08:40 p.m.

69. The post-mortems of deceased Ramroop, Smt. Santoshi and Ravi were conducted on 25.04.2009 at 08:30 p.m., 08:00 p.m. and 09:30 p.m., respectively, at T.B. Hospital, Thakurganj, Lucknow by P.W.6-Dr. G.P. Tiwari. In all postmortem reports, time of death of deceased persons were shown as 25.04.2009 at 06:30 a.m. Injuries found on deadbodies of deceased persons Ramroop, Smt. Santoshi and Ravi are incised and abraded wounds and P.W.6-Dr. G.P. Tiwari opined that deceased Ramroop, Smt. Santoshi and Ravi died due to shock and haemorrhage as a result of ante-mortem injuries. P.W.6 had also stated that all the ante-mortem injuries could be attributable by a sharp edged weapon.

70. The postmortem report of deceased Ramroop aged about 6 years reveals that first injury is abraded contusion 6 x 5 cm on right side of face just below right eye; second injury is abrasion 3 x 1 cm on right side of forehead 1 cm above right eyebrow; and third injury was incised wound 5 x 3 cm muscle deep on the side of neck 3 cm below right ear. A perusal of post-mortem report of deceased Santoshi aged about 35 years, it reveals that abraded contusion 8 x 6 cm was found on her right side of face 1 cm below right eye; incised wound 8 x 3 cm muscle deep was found on her top of right shoulder; incised wound 3 x 1 cm muscle deep was found on front of neck 2 cm above top of sternum; incised wound 4 x 2 cm muscle deep was found on her front of neck 2 cm above injury no. 3; incised wound 7 x 3 cm muscle deep was found on her front of neck 2 cm above injury no.4; and incised wound 3 x 2 cm was found on top of left shoulder. The post-mortem report of Ravi aged about 1½ years shows that incised wound 3 x 1 cm muscle deep was found on back of neck 2 cm below occipital; incised wound 1 x 1 cm was found on mid of chest; and abraded contusion 6 x 4 cm was found on forehead 2 cm above root of nose. P.W.6-Dr. G.P. Tiwari found on the persons of deceased Ramroop, Smt. Santoshi and Ravi that margins were clear cut, sharp, well defined and on opening, echymosis was present underneath all the injuries; and soft tissues and large blood vessels laryns tracea were found cut.

71. The post-mortem examination of deceased Sarvan aged about 4 years and Smt. Madhuri aged about 50 years were conducted on 25.04.2009 at 08:30 p.m. and 09:00 p.m., respectively, in T.B. Hospital, Thakurganj, Lucknow by P.W.9-Dr. Rajesh Awasthi, who found one injury i.e. lacertated wound in the back of neck and trachea, laryns, vessels, oesophagus were lacerated, on the dead body of Sumiran, whereas on the dead-body of the deceased Madhuri, P.W.9 found five injuries i.e. (i) lacerated wound 6 x 3 cm on the frontal and occipital region on exploration underneath bone fracture, haematoma in brain, margins lacerated and haematoma present; (ii) lacerated right eye 6 x 2 cm into bone deep underneath orbit bone fracture and brain membranes lacerated; (iii) lacerated wound 7 x 3 cm right cheek bone underneath bone fracture; (iv) left ear lacerated; and (v) lacerated wound right wrist joint. P.W.9 had stated before the trial Court that injury no.1 caused to the deceased could be attributable by sharp edged weapon; injury no.1 could also be attributable by blunt object; injury no.2 could be attributable by any weapon, however, injury was lacerated; injuries no. 3, 4 and 5 could be attributable by blunt object. He further stated that injury caused to the deceased Sumiran could be attributable by sharp edged weapon.

72. It is pertinent to mention that after the incident, deceased Rajendra was admitted to Trauma Centre, Lucknow, where he succumbed to injuries on 03.05.2009. The post-mortem of Rajendra was conducted on 04.05.2009 at 01:00 p.m. by Dr. U.K. Prasad (P.W.5), who found three ante-mortem injuries on his person. The first injury was contusion 8.0 cm x 5.0 cm on forehead 2.0 cm above root of nose; second injury was contusion 10.0 cm x 8.0 cm on back of head over occipital region; and third injury was contusion 5.0 cm x 4.0 cm on right temporal region 2.0 cm above right ear. P.W.5 had also found that on opening, echymosis was present underneath the injuries; fracture of right temporal and right parietal bones were found; subdural haematoma was present all over the brain underneath the fracture brain meninges lacerated and extra dural haematoma present. As per the opinion of P.W.5, the deceased Rajendra died due to coma as a result of ante-mortem injuries.

73. The injury of injured Sangeeta (P.W.2) was examined by P.W.4- Dr. S.K. Trivedi on 25.04.2009 at 2:20 p.m. at Community Health Centre, Mohanlalganj, Lucknow, who found incised wound 1.5 cm x 0.25 cm x skin deep left side of arm anterior aspect, 1.5 cm. above left elbow joint and clotted blood seen, on her person. P.W.4-Dr. S.K. Trivedi opined that injury is simple in nature and could be caused by hard and blunt object and it was 1/2 day old.

74. If statements of P.W.4, P.W.5, P.W.6 and P.W.9 is compared in light of statement of other prosecution witnesses examined in the matter, it is clear that all deceased persons were done to death on 25.04.2009 at 06:30 a.m. The convict/appellant Sarvan used same weapon in committing murder of all deceased persons. It is also evident from record that injuries found on body of deceased persons can be caused with the weapon "axe" said to have been recovered on the pointing out of convicts/appellants. Thus, the prosecution was able to prove the manner in which deceased were done to death and has connected the weapon "axe" used by convict/appellant Sarvan in committing the offence. Thus, finding recorded by Trial Court in the impugned judgment and order on point of medical evidence, in our considered opinion, is also in accordance with facts and evidence which needs no interference by this Court. It may also safely be held in this matter that medical evidence is not contrary to oral version of prosecution.

E.9. CONVICTION

75. From the discussion of the prosecution evidence as above, this Court finds that :-

(i) The first information report is prompt having been lodged within one hour of the incident-in-question;

(ii) PW-1 lodged the First Information Report by giving a written report, which was proved by him as 'Exhibit Ka- 1'. The said report contains a graphic description of the convict/ appellant Sarvan with weapon in his hand and the manner in which the six deceased were murdered and one got injured as also the place of occurrence.

(iii) PW-1, P.W.2 and P.W.3 stood firm as a rock of Gibraltar by supporting the case of the prosecution.

(iv) There is no inconsistency in the oral testimony of PW-1 P.W.2 and P.W.3, the medical evidence and the testimony of the P.W.7, P.W.8, P.W.10, P.W.11, P.W.12, P.W.13 and C.W.1 and the reports such as inquest, site plan with regard to the injuries of the deceased and the place of occurrence.

(v) The medical evidence fully corroborates with the evidence of eye witnesses P.W.1, P.W.2 and P.W.3 with regard to the ante-mortem injuries sustained by six deceased persons.

(vi) The defence evidences i.e. D.W.1, D.W.2 and D.W.3 are not reliable."

76. Having carefully appreciated all the arguments made by the learned Counsel for the convicts/appellants, learned Government Advocate, the prosecution evidence, defense evidence, medical evidence and other materials on record, this Court finds that the prosecution has proved its version beyond all reasonable doubts. The convicts/appellants, on the other hand, though took a plea that their act to assault informant's wife and his son was in retaliation but has utterly failed to discharge the initial burden laid on it to probalise its story or create dent or doubt on the prosecution story. The presence of convicts/appellants at the scene of occurrence is neither disputed nor can be doubted from any of the circumstances brought before the Court. It is proved by the prosecution that convict/appellant Sarvan in a pre-meditated manner armed with "axe' caused death of six persons and got injured one person by inflicting fatal injuries in a manner that the deceased could not escape the attack. The prosecution has also proved the fact that it was convict/appellant Suman who, with an intention of saving the convict/appellant Sarvan from legal punishment, concealed the weapon of assault "axe' and on the pointing out of both the convicts/appellants, Sarvan and Suman, weapon of assault "axe' was recovered. Thus, their conviction for the offences as mentioned in paragraph-2 hereinabove are fully justified and the convicts/appellants Sarvan and Suman have been rightly convicted by the trial Court by means of the impugned order for the offences as indicated in paragraph-2 hereinabove. In this regard, no infirmity is, therefore, found in the decision of the trial court. The conviction of each of the convicts/appellants is hereby upheld.

E.10. SENTENCE

77. As far as sentence awarded to convicts/appellants is concerned, the Trial Court in its wisdom has imposed death punishment finding the present case in the category of "rarest of rare" cases. Six persons were done to death and one got injured. Convict/appellant Sarvan is the husband of deceased Smt. Santoshi aged about 35 years and father of Ramroop aged about 6 years, Ravi aged about 1½ years, Sumiran aged about 4 years and also neighbour of deceased Smt. Madhuri aged about 50 years, deceased Rajendra aged about 10 years and injured Sangeeta aged about 16 years.

78. Aggravating and mitigating circumstances in the present matter can be summarized as under :-

"Aggravating Circumstances :-

(a) Offence in the present case was committed by the convict/appellant Sarvan in an extremely brutal, grotesque, diabolical, revolting and dastardly manner so as to arouse intense and extreme indignation of society as has been evident from the F.I.R. as well as the evidences of P.W.1, P.W.2 and P.W.3;

(b) Offence was also committed by the convict/ appellant Sarvan in preordained manner demonstrating exceptional depravity and extreme brutality;

(c) Extreme misery inflicted by convict/appellant Sarvan upon his own wife, three minor children and his one neighbour, who came to save his wife and children;

(d) Helpless children were done to death;

(e) Brutality and premeditated plan of convict/ appellant Sarvan also finds support from his act as he ensured the death of all deceased by assaulting them on the vital part of deceased persons;

(f) The act of convict/appellant Sarvan is shocking not only to the judicial conscience but also to the Society as he has eliminated his wife and three children only on account of illicit relationship with his bhabhi (sister-in-law) which had always been objected by his wife and also eliminated his neighbour Madhuri (informant's wife) on account of the fact that she always used to intervene between them;

(g) Act and conduct of convict/appellant Sarvan itself shows that there is no chance of reformation and he is menace to the Society; and

(h) It is a cold-blooded murder of six persons without provocation.

79. On the other hand, Mitigating Circumstances, as emerged, are (a) age of the convict/appellant Sarvan was 48 years at the time of filing Criminal Appeal No. 1552 of 2017 and now he appears to be aged about approximately 52 years; (b) he belongs to village background and offence was committed because the convict/appellant Sarvan had illicit relationship with his bhabhi; and (c) chance for reformation and rehabilitation.

80. Now, the question before this Court is whether death penalty in the present case is justified. Before looking to the facts of present case on the question of sentence, it would be appropriate to advert to judicial authorities on the matter throwing light and laying down principles for imposing penalty, in a case, particularly death penalty.

81. In the case of Bachan Singh v. State of Punjab : (1980) 2 SCC 684, the Apex Court, in para-164, observed that normal rule is that for the offence of murder, accused shall be punished with the sentence of life imprisonment. Court can depart from that rule and impose sentence of death only if there are special reasons for doing so. Such reasons must be recorded in writing before imposing death sentence. While considering question of sentence to be imposed for the offence of murder under Section 302 IPC, Court must have regard to every relevant circumstance relating to crime as well as criminal. If Court finds that the offence is of an exceptionally depraved and heinous character and constitutes, on account of its design and the manner of its execution, a source of grave danger to the society at large, Court may impose death sentence.

82. Relying on the authority in Furman v. Georgia, (1972) SCC On-Line US SC 171, the Apex Court noted the suggestion given by learned counsel about aggravating and mitigating circumstances in para 202 of the judgement in Bachan Singh (supra) which reads as under :-

"202. ... 'Aggravating circumstances: A court may, however, in the following cases impose the penalty of death in its discretion:

(a) if the murder has been committed after previous planning and involves extreme brutality; or

(b) if the murder involves exceptional depravity; or

(c) if the murder is of a member of any of the armed forces of the Union or of a member of any police force or of any public servant and was committed -

(i) while such member or public servant was on duty; or

(ii) in consequence of anything done or attempted to be done by such member or public servant in the lawful discharge of his duty as such member or public servant whether at the time of murder he was such member or public servant, as the case may be, or had ceased to be such member or public servant; or

(d) if the murder is of a person who had acted in the lawful discharge of his duty under Section 43 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973, or who had rendered assistance to a Magistrate or a police officer demanding his aid or requiring his assistance under Section 37 and Section 129 of the said Code."

83. Thereafter in para 203, the Apex Court observed that broadly there can be no objection to the acceptance of these indicators noted above but Court would not fetter judicial discretion by attempting to make an exhaustive enumeration one way or the other. Thereafter in para 206 of judgment in Bachan Singh (supra), the Apex Court also suggested certain mitigating circumstances as under :-

"206. ... 'Mitigating circumstances.--In the exercise of its discretion in the above cases, the court shall take into account the following circumstances:

(1) That the offence was committed under the influence of extreme mental or emotional disturbance.

(2) The age of the accused. If the accused is young or old, he shall not be sentenced to death.

(3) The probability that the accused would not commit criminal acts of violence as would constitute a continuing threat to society.

(4) The probability that the accused can be reformed and rehabilitated. The State shall by evidence prove that the accused does not satisfy conditions (3) and (4) above.

(5) That in the facts and circumstances of the case the accused believed that he was morally justified in committing the offence.

(6) That the accused acted under the duress or domination of another person.

(7) That the condition of the accused showed that he was mentally defective and that the said defect impaired his capacity to appreciate the criminality of his conduct."

84. Again in para 207 in Bachan Singh (supra), the Apex Court further said that mitigating circumstances referred in para 206 are relevant and must be given great weight in determination of sentence. Thereafter referring to the words caution and care, in Bachan Singh (supra), the Apex Court observed that it is imperative to voice the concern that Courts, aided by the broad illustrative guidelines, will discharge onerous function with evermore scrupulous care and humane concern, directed along the highroad of legislative policy outlined in Section 354(3), viz., that for persons convicted of murder, life imprisonment is the rule and death sentence an exception. A real and abiding concern for the dignity of human life postulates resistance to taking a life through law's instrumentality. That ought not to be done save in the rarest of rare cases when the alternative option is unquestionably foreclosed.

85. In Machhi Singh v. State of Punjab, (1983) 3 SCC 470, stress was laid on certain aspects namely, manner of commission of murder, motive thereof, antisocial or socially abhorrent nature of the crime, magnitude of crime and personality of victim of murder. Court culled out certain propositions emerging from Bachan Singh (supra), in para 38 and said as under :-

"The following propositions emerge from Bachan Singh case:(i) The extreme penalty of death need not be inflicted except in gravest cases of extreme culpability.

(ii) Before opting for the death penalty the circumstances of the 'offender' also require to be taken into consideration along with the circumstances of the 'crime'.

(iii) Life imprisonment is the rule and death sentence is an exception. In other words death sentence must be imposed only when life imprisonment appears to be an altogether inadequate punishment having regard to the relevant circumstances of the crime, and provided, and only provided, the option to impose sentence of imprisonment for life cannot be conscientiously exercised having regard to the nature and circumstances of the crime and all the relevant circumstances.

(iv) A balance sheet of aggravating and mitigating circumstances has to be drawn up and in doing so the mitigating circumstances have to be accorded full weightage and a just balance has to be struck between the aggravating and the mitigating circumstances before the option is exercised."

86. The Apex Court in Machhi Singh (supra) further observed that following questions must be answered in order to apply the guidelines :-

"(a) Is there something uncommon about the crime which renders sentence of imprisonment for life inadequate and calls for a death sentence"

(b) Are the circumstances of the crime such that there is no alternative but to impose death sentence even after according maximum weightage to the mitigating circumstances which speak in favour of the offender?" (Emphasis added)

87. In Haresh Mohandas Rajput v. State of Maharashtra : (2011) 12 SCC 56, after referring to Bachan Singh (supra) and Machhi Singh (supra), the Apex Court expanded the "rarest of rare" formulation beyond the aggravating factors listed in Bachan Singh (supra) to cases where the "collective conscience" of community is so shocked that it will expect the holders of judicial power centre to inflict death penalty irrespective of their personal opinion as regards desirability or otherwise of retaining the death penalty, such a penalty can be inflicted. Court, however, underlined that full weightage must be accorded to the mitigating circumstances of the case and a just balance had to be struck between the aggravating and the mitigating circumstances.

88. In para 20 of the judgment in Haresh Mohandas Rajput (supra), the Apex Court observed that the rarest of the rare case comes when a convict would be a menace and threat to the harmonious and peaceful coexistence of society. The crime may be heinous or brutal but may not be in the category of "the rarest of the rare case". There must be no reason to believe that the accused cannot be reformed or rehabilitated and that he is likely to continue criminal acts of violence as would constitute a continuing threat to the society. The accused may be a menace to the society and would continue to be so, threatening its peaceful and harmonious coexistence. The manner in which the crime is committed must be such that it may result in intense and extreme indignation of the community and shock the collective conscience of the society. Where an accused does not act on any spur of the momentary provocation and indulges himself in a deliberately planned crime and meticulously executes it, the death sentence may be the most appropriate punishment for such a ghastly crime. The death sentence may be warranted where victims are innocent children and helpless women. Thus, in case the crime is committed in a most cruel and inhuman manner which is an extremely brutal, grotesque, diabolical, revolting and dastardly manner, where his act affects the entire moral fibre of the society, death sentence should be awarded.

89. The issue again came up before Hon'ble Apex Court in Ramnaresh & others v. State of Chhattisgarh reported in (2012) 4 SCC 257, wherein the Hon'ble Supreme Court reiterated 13 aggravating and 7 mitigating circumstances as laid down in the case of Bachan Singh (supra) required to be taken into consideration while applying the doctrine of "rarest of rare" case. Relevant para of the same reads thus:-

"76. The law enunciated by this Court in its recent judgements, as already noticed, adds and elaborates the principles that were stated in the case of Bachan Singh (supra) and thereafter, in the case of Machhi Singh (supra). The aforesaid judgments, primarily dissect these principles into two different compartments - one being the "aggravating circumstances" while the other being the "mitigating circumstances". The Court would consider the cumulative effect of both these aspects and normally, it may not be very appropriate for the Court to decide the most significant aspect of sentencing policy with reference to one of the classes under any of the following heads while completely ignoring other classes under other heads. To balance the two is the primary duty of the Court. It will be appropriate for the Court to come to a final conclusion upon balancing the exercise that would help to administer the criminal justice system better and provide an effective and meaningful reasoning by the Court as contemplated under Section 354 (3) of Cr.P.C.

Aggravating Circumstances:

(1) The offences relating to the commission of heinous crimes like murder, rape, armed dacoity, kidnapping etc. by the accused with a prior record of conviction for capital felony or offences committed by the person having a substantial history of serious assaults and criminal convictions.

(2) The offence was committed while the offender was engaged in the commission of another serious offence.

(3) The offence was committed with the intention to create a fear psychosis in the public at large and was committed in a public place by a weapon or device which clearly could be hazardous to the life of more than one person.

(4) The offence of murder was committed for ransom or like offences to receive money or monetary benefits.

(5) Hired killings.

(6) The offence was committed outrageously for want only while involving inhumane treatment and torture to the victim.

(7) The offence was committed by a person while in lawful custody.

(8) The murder or the offence was committed to prevent a person lawfully carrying out his duty like arrest or custody in a place of lawful confinement of himself or another. For instance, murder is of a person who had acted in lawful discharge of his duty under Section 43 Cr.P.C.

(9) When the crime is enormous in proportion like making an attempt of murder of the entire family or members of a particular community.

(10) When the victim is innocent, helpless or a person relies upon the trust of relationship and social norms, like a child, helpless woman, a daughter or a niece staying with a father/uncle and is inflicted with the crime by such a trusted person.

(11) When murder is committed for a motive which evidences total depravity and meanness.

(12) When there is a cold blooded murder without provocation.

(13) The crime is committed so brutally that it pricks or shocks not only the judicial conscience but even the conscience of the society.

Mitigating Circumstances:

(1) The manner and circumstances in and under which the offence was committed, for example, extreme mental or emotional disturbance or extreme provocation in contradistinction to all these situations in normal course.

(2) The age of the accused is a relevant consideration but not a determinative factor by itself.

(3) The chances of the accused of not indulging in commission of the crime again and the probability of the accused being reformed and rehabilitated.

(4) The condition of the accused shows that he was mentally defective and the defect impaired his capacity to appreciate the circumstances of his criminal conduct.

(5) The circumstances which, in normal course of life, would render such a behavior possible and could have the effect of giving rise to mental imbalance in that given situation like persistent harassment or, in fact, leading to such a peak of human behavior that, in the facts and circumstances of the case, the accused believed that he was morally justified in committing the offence.

(6) Where the Court upon proper appreciation of evidence is of the view that the crime was not committed in a pre-ordained manner and that the death resulted in the course of commission of another crime and that there was a possibility of it being construed as consequences to the commission of the primary crime.

(7) Where it is absolutely unsafe to rely upon the testimony of a sole eye-witness though prosecution has brought home the guilt of the accused."

90. In the case of Dharam Deo Yadav vs. State of UP reported in (2014) 5 SCC 509, the Hon'ble Supreme Court has held thus:-

"36. We may now consider whether the case falls under the category of rarest of the rare case so as to award death sentence for which, as already held, in Shankar Kisanrao Khade v. State of Maharashtra (2013) 5 SCC 546 this Court laid down three tests, namely, Crime Test, Criminal Test and RR Test. So far as the present case is concerned, both the Crime Test and Criminal Test have been satisfied as against the accused. Learned counsel appearing for the accused, however, submitted that he had no previous criminal records and that apart from the circumstantial evidence, there is no eye-witness in the above case, and hence, the manner in which the crime was committed is not in evidence. Consequently, it was pointed out that it would not be possible for this Court to come to the conclusion that the crime was committed in a barbaric manner and, hence the instant case would not fall under the category of rarest of rare. We find some force in that contention.

Taking in consideration all aspects of the matter, we are of the view that, due to lack of any evidence with regard to the manner in which the crime was committed, the case will not fall under the category of rarest of rare case.

Consequently, we are inclined to commute the death sentence to life and award 20 years of rigorous imprisonment, over and above the period already undergone by the accused, without any remission, which, in our view, would meet the ends of justice."

91. In Kalu Khan v. State of Rajasthan reported in (2015) 16 SCC 492, the Hon'ble Supreme Court has held that:-

"30. In Mahesh Dhanaji Shinde v. State of Maharashtra, the conviction of the appellant-accused was upheld keeping in view that the circumstantial evidence pointed only in the direction of their guilt given that the modus operandi of the crime, homicidal death, identity of 9 of 10 victims, last seen theory and other incriminating circumstances were proved.

However, the Court has thought it fit to commute the sentence of death to imprisonment for life considering the age, socio-economic conditions, custodial behaviour of the appellant-accused persons and that the case was entirely based on circumstantial evidence. This Court has placed reliance on the observations in Sunil Dutt Sharma v. State (Govt. of NCT of Delhi) as follows: (Mahesh Dhanaji case, SCC p. 314, para 35)

"35. In a recent pronouncement in Sunil Dutt Sharma v. State (Govt. of NCT of Delhi), it has been observed by this Court that the principles of sentencing in our country are fairly well settled -- the difficulty is not in identifying such principles but lies in the application thereof. Such application, we may respectfully add, is a matter of judicial expertise and experience where judicial wisdom must search for an answer to the vexed question -- Whether the option of life sentence is unquestionably foreclosed? The unbiased and trained judicial mind free from all prejudices and notions is the only asset which would guide the Judge to reach the "truth'."

92. Applying the exposition of law as discussed above, in the facts of the present case, we have examined the available "aggravating' and "mitigating' circumstances in the case in hand.

93. The convict/appellant was 48 years of age at the time of filing Criminal Appeal No. 1552 of 2017 and now he is aged about 52 years.

94. Coming to the aggravating circumstances, we also find that convict/appellant Sarvan had committed murder of not only his wife but also his three minor children and two of his neighours. Postmortem reports disclose brutal, grotesque, diabolical murder, which clearly reflects the mindset of convict/appellant Sarvan.

95. The present incident was committed when convict/appellant Sarvan had illicit relationship with his bhabhi (sister-in-law). The manner in which offence was committed and also the magnitude of crime, in our view, places the present matter in the category of anti-social or socially abhorrent nature of crime. We concur with the finding of Trial Court that six persons were murdered by convict/appellant Sarvan in most brutal, grotesque, diabolical and dastardly manner arousing indignation and abhorrence of society which calls for an exemplary punishment. Three minor children including their mother and two of his neighbours have been murdered by convict/appellant Sarvan when they were helpless and nothing is on record to show that they aggravated the situation so as to arise sudden and grave passion on the part of convict/appellant Sarvan to commit such dastardly crime. Convict/ appellant Sarvan has also not shown any remorse or repentance at any point of time, inasmuch as, he attempted to hide the weapon in the house of his bhabhi (co-appellant Suman). In the statement recorded under Section 313 Cr.P.C. also, we find no remorse on the part of convict/appellant Sarvan rather he admitted his guilt that he had an illicit relationship with his bhabhi (sister-in-law) and his wife objected to this, on account of which, scuffle often took place between them and his neighbour Madhuri used to intervene between them, upon which he remained unhappy with her. The above conduct, attitude and manner in which murder of four persons of his family and two persons of his neighbours was committed by convict/appellant Sarvan shows that convict/appellant Sarvan is a menace to the Society and if he is not awarded death penalty, others members of the Society may not be safe. He slayed six lives to quench his thirst. The entire incident is extremely revolting and shocks the collective conscience of the community. Murders were committed in gruesome, merciless and brutal manner.

96. Balancing mitigating and aggravating factors and looking to the fact that convict/appellant Sarvan had committed crime in a really shocking manner showing depravity of mind and learned Government Advocate has also stated that there is no report regarding any chance of rehabilitation received from the Jail Authorities, in our view, the aggravating circumstances outweigh the mitigating circumstances by all canons of logic and punishment of life imprisonment would neither serve the ends of justice nor will be an appropriate punishment. Here is a case which can be said to be in the category of "rarest of rare" case and justify award of death punishment to convict/appellant Sarvan. We are also clearly of the view that convict/appellant Sarvan is a menace to the society and there is no chance of his rehabilitation or reformation and no leniency in imposing punishment is called for.

97. In the circumstances, we are of the view that death punishment imposed upon convict/appellant Sarvan for the offence under Sections 302, 323 and 201 IPC is liable to be confirmed. Capital Case No. 03 of 2017 is liable to be allowed and accepted to the extent of confirmation of death penalty.

E. 11. CONCLUSION

98. In the result :-

(A) Capital Case No. 3 of 2017

The reference made by the trial Court under Section 366 (1) Cr.P.C. for confirmation of death punishment awarded to convict/appellant, Sarvan, for the offence under Section 302 I.P.C. is hereby accepted and death punishment awarded to convict/appellant Sarvan in the present case is hereby confirmed.

(B) Criminal Appeal No. 1540 of 2017

This criminal appeal filed by convict/appellant Suman is dismissed.

It transpires that the convict/appellant Suman was on bail granted by a Co-ordinate Bench of this Court vide order dated dated 20.12.2017.

The convict/appellant Suman shall be taken into custody forthwith and sent to jail. She shall serve out the sentence as ordered by the trial Court vide impugned order dated 29.08.2017.

(C) Criminal Appeal No. 1552 of 2017

This Criminal Appeal preferred by convict/appellant Sarvan is dismissed.

Convict/appellant Sarvan is in jail. He shall serve out the sentence as ordered by the trial Court vide impugned order dated 29.08.2017.

99. However, as provided under Section 415 Cr.P.C. execution of sentence of death shall stand postponed until the period allowed for preferring such appeal has expired and if an appeal is preferred within that period, until such appeal is disposed of. It is also clarified that death punishment shall only be executed in accordance with law complying with all guidelines laid down by Hon'ble Supreme Court time and again.

100. Let a copy of this judgment along with Trial Court record be sent to Court concerned for compliance and two copies of judgment as well as printed paper book be sent to State Government, as required under Chapter XVIII Rule 45 of Allahabad High Court Rules, 1952, forthwith.

101. A copy of the judgment be also sent to convicts/appellants Sarvan and Suman through Jail Superintendent concerned for intimation forthwith. Compliance report be also sent to this Court.

(2022) 9 ILRA 1117
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 16.09.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE RAMESH SINHA, J.
THE HON'BLE MRS. RENU AGARWAL, J.

Criminal Appeal No. 583 of 1987

Rudra Pal Singh & Ors. ...Appellants
Versus
State of U.P. ...Respondent

Counsel for the Appellants:
Pankaj Nath, Amar Nath Dubey, G.C. Verma

Counsel for the Respondent:
Government Advocate, Shiv Shanker Singh

Criminal Law - Indian Penal Code 1860 - Sections 302 & 34 - Evidence Act,1872 - Section 3 - Murder - Proof - Minor Contradictions - Evidence of the witnesses can not be discarded only for the reason that there are minor contradictions in the statements of witnesses - It is natural for minor contradictions to arise when witness testimonies are recorded after a considerable period of time - Human memory fades over time - Minor variations should not be given undue significance when evaluating the credibility of witness testimony (Para 35, 37)

The convict-appellants attacked Bajrang Bahadur Singh with a lathi and ballam, with the intention to cause his death, resulting in his demise due to the injuries inflicted - no material contradictions pointed out - convict-appellant had no specific defence as to why they have falsely been implicated in the case - prosecution proved its case beyond reasonable doubt against the appellant - all the convicts-appellants convicted u/s 302 readwith section 34 I.P.C. - conviction and sentence fully justified - Appeal dismissed. (43, 44, 45)

Dismissed. (E-5)

List of Cases cited:

1. Suresh Yadav @ Guddu Vs St. of Chhattisgargh 2022 SCC Online SC 236

2. Sachin Kumar Singhraha Vs St. of M.P. (2019) 8 Supreme Court Cases,371

3. Takhaji Hiraji Vs Thakore Kubersingh Chamansing, 2001(6) SCC,145

(Delivered by Hon'ble Mrs. Renu Agarwal, J.)

1. Present Criminal Appeal under section 374(2) Cr.P.C. has been filed against the judgment and order dated 02-09-1987 passed by Sri Mukteshwar Prasad, the then Ist Additional Sessions Judge, Sultanpur in Sessions Trial No. 113 of 1986, convicting all the appellants under sections 302/34 I.P.C. and sentencing them to undergo to life imprisonment to each convict-appellants under sections 302/34 I.P.C. The convict-appellants, Rudra Pal Singh, Sita Ram Singh and Sri Ram Singh had died during pendency of the present appeal and case against them has been abated vide order dated 05-12-2016. Thus, the present appeal survives on behalf of the appellant, Rajendra Pratap Singh.

2. Wrapping the facts of the case in brief that the complainant, Vijay Bahadur Singh, son of late Vishwanath Singh stated in the F.I.R. that his brother, Bajrang Bahadur and Ram Sahay Tewari, S/o Sri Ram Hit and Salikram Murai, S/o Ramjeevan, R/o of Kharagpur Ayodhya Nagar, were returning to their home on 03-09-1984 at about 1.30 P.M. When they reached Bibi Tali Talab, the convict-appellants, Rudra Pal Singh, Sita Ram Singh and Sri Ram Singh, sons of Fateh Bahadur Singh and Rajendra Pratap Singh @ Mithu, son of Rudra Pal Singh attacked his brother, Bajrang Bahadur Singh with Lathi and Ballam. When his brother, Bajrang Bahadur Singh raised alarm, Ram Sewak Tewari and Salikram Murai rushed towards the place of the incident and tried to save the brother of the complainant, Bajrang Bahadur Singh. The convict-appellants threatened them not to come forward to save Bajrang Bahadur Singh else they will bear the consequences.

3. Hearing noise at the place of occurrence, the complainant and Surya Narain Tewari, S/o Gayadin Tewari and Ram Lakhan Upadhyay, S/o Ram Dular and other villagers arrived at the place of incident and challenged the assailants. Then, the convict-accused ran away treating his brother half dead towards the south. The brother of the informant was badly injured and unconscious. He brought his brother on a cot to the police station with the help of Somai, Hari Ram Lal, Krishan Surya Narayan. When they reached near a temple at Peeparpur Road, his brother died on the way. The complainant went to the police station with dead body of his brother and lodged an F.I.R. in writing.

4. The contents of the aforesaid information were taken down in the concerned Chik F.I.R. as Case Crime No. 161 of 1984, under sections 302/34 I.P.C., Police Station-Peeparpur, Sub. District-Amethi, district-Sultanpur on 03-09-1984 at about 3.15 P.M.

5. On the basis of the entries so made in the Chik F.I.R., a case was registered against the convict-appellants. The investigation of the case was entrusted upon to the Station Officer, Satish Chandra Tripathi, P.W.-7 and the autopsy of the dead body of the deceased was conducted on the very same day i.e. 03-09-1984 at 17.30 hours in the presence of Surya Narain Singh, Dwarika Singh, Girija Shanker Singh, Ram Narain Shukla and Ganga Prasad Singh. The Investigating Officer prepared the inquest report of the dead body of the deceased, which is on record.

6. The witnesses of the inquest concurred with the Investigating Officer that the dead body of the deceased be sent for post-mortem in order to ascertain the real cause of death. The dead body of the deceased was sent for post-mortem with all necessary papers i.e. Chik Report, Challan Lash, Photo Lash, Report of the Chief Medical Officer and the Report of the R.I. etc. in the form of Challan with letters to the Chief Medical Officer and R.I.

7. The post-mortem of the deceased, Bajrang Bahadur was conducted. The post-mortem report is Exhibit Ka-2, which is annexed with the file. The following ante-mortem injuries were found on the body of the deceased:-

Ante-mortem Injuries .

(1) Punctured wound 2 cm. x 1 cm. x bone deep over front of left leg. 9 cm. below paletts.

(2) Punctured wound 2.5 c.m. x 1 cm. x bone deep 7 c.m. below injury No. one.

(3) Punctured wound 1 cm. x .5 cm. x bone deep over medial malleolus.

(4) Traumatic swelling over medial part of right ankle joint in an area of 6 cm. x 4 cm. x diffused swelling around the joint also.

(5) Incised wounds over the back of proximal inter phalangeal joints of index, ring and middle finger. All linear and skin deep.

(6) Traumatic swelling over whole of the upper 1/2 of the right forearm 15 cm. x entire girth with deformity with fracture of both underlying bones(Radius & ulna).

(7) Multiple abrasion over back & top of right shoulder over bony prominence in area of 9 cm. x 5 cm.

(8) Contusion over right side back in scapular & infra scapular region measuring 12 cm. X 3 cm. oblique & vertical in direction.

(9) Contusion over left side back 13 cm. x 3 cm. vertical & oblique in direction below inferior angle of Scapula.

(10) Incised wd. 4 cm. x 1 cm. x bone deep over left side top of scalp 9 cm. above left ear.

Cause of death is disclosed as Shock & Hemorrhage due to ante-mortem injuries.

8. The Investigating Officer visited place of occurrence and prepared site plan (Exhibit Ka-12). The Investigating Officer collected blood stained cot from the possession of the complainant and released in his favour with the condition to produce the same at the time of the evidence. He also collected the blood stained and plain earth from the place of occurrence and prepared sample and sent it to Forensic Laboratory. The report of the Forensic Laboratory is on record.

9. After conducting investigation, the Investigating Officer filed the chargesheet against all the four convict-appellants, Rudra Pal Singh, Sita Ram Singh, Sri Ram Singh and Rajendra Pratap Singh under sections 302/34 I.P.C. The Magistrate concerned took the cognizance and committed the case for trial to the court of sessions.

10. The trial court framed charges against all the four convict-appellants under sections 302/34 I.P.C., which were read over and explained to them in Hindi. The convict-appellants abjured with a charge and claimed to be tried. In furtherance to prove their case, the prosecution examined the following witnesses :-

(1) Sri Vijay Bahadur Singh, P.W.-1, Complainant of the case. He claimed himself to be an eye witness.

(2) Sri Surya Narayan Tewari, P.W.-2, who also claims himself to be an eye witness of the case.

(3) Sri Ram Sewak, P.W.-3 also claims to be an eye witness of the case.

(4) Dr. V.K.Verma, P.W.-4, Medical Officer, who conducted the autopsy of the dead body of the deceased, Bajrang Bahadur S/o Vishwanath Singh and found ten injuries on the dead body of the deceased.

(5) CP Vijay Bahadur Mishra, P.W.-5, who registered the F.I.R. of the incident and made entry of the same in the Chik Report and General Diary.

(6) CP Ram Achal Singh, P.W.-6, who carried papers at the time of the inquest report for the purpose of autopsy coupled with dead body of the deceased for autopsy.

(7) Satish Chandra Tripathi, P.W.-7, Station Officer, who conducted the investigation of the case.

11. Apart from above oral evidences, necessary relevant documents were also proved by the prosecution which are as under :-

1. Written Report(Exhibit Ka-1)
2. Post Mortem Report(Exhibit Ka-2)
3. First Information Report(Exhibit Ka-3)
4. Inquest Report(Exhibit Ka-5)
5. Recovery Memo(Exhibit Ka-11)
6. Sita Plan (Exhibit Ka-12)
7. Recovery Memo(Exhibit Ka-13)

12. After completion of the evidence of the prosecution, the statements of the convict-appellants were recorded under section 313 Cr.P.C.

13. The convict-appellant, Rajendra Pratap Singh, S/o Sri Rudra Pal Singh denied the allegations levelled against him and merely stated that he has falsely been implicated in the present case due to enmity in village. He has also refused to adduce any defence evidence in his favour. No witness was produced by him though the opportunity of the same was given to him by the trial court. No documentary evidence was ever produced in the trial court regarding enmity.

14. Learned trial court heard arguments from both the sides and after analysing the evidence available on record, concluded that there is no reason to disbelieve the prosecution version. The presence of P.W.-2,Surya Narayan Tewari is doubted on the spot by the convict-appellants, but, P.W.-2, Surya Narayan Tewari, denied the suggestions of the defence and affirmed that he saw the incident. The trial court found nothing in the cross-examination to conclude that P.W.-2 is not an eye witness and minor contradictions were discarded. The trial court concluded that prosecution has proved by reliable evidence that deceased, Bajrang Bahadur died on account of injuries caused to him by all the four convicts-appellants in furtherance of their common intention in the manner and at the place as identified. The trial court convicted all the convicts-appellants under section 302 readwith section 34 I.P.C. and sentenced them to suffer imprisonment for life.

15. Feeling aggrieved by the order of conviction and sentence, the convicts-appellants have filed the present criminal appeal.

16. Sri Amar Nath Dubey, learned counsel for the convict-appellants argued that the learned trial court erred in convicting and sentencing the convict-appellant as there was no evidence found against him. The First Information Report is ante-time document. The statements of the prosecution witnesses were highly contradictory. The trial court arrived at the conclusion from those contradictory statements. The investigation suffers from infirmities because there is inconsistency between the medical evidence and ocular evidence. The trial court did not look into the infirmities and contradictions in the case.

17. Learned counsel for the convict-appellants pleaded that present convict-appellant, Rajendra Pratap Singh, is shown to have Lathi in his hands and the infliction of injuries by Lathi is not corroborated with the post-mortem report. Three injures of punctured wounds were found on the body of the deceased. However, the deceased is not said to have any punctured wounds on the palms of his hands. He further submits that all the witnesses are the relatives of the deceased, therefore, this appeal should be allowed and the impugned judgment and order should be set aside.

18. In support of his contentions, leaned counsel for the convict-appellants has relied upon the Judgment of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Takhaji Hiraji Vs. Thakore Kubersingh Chamansing, reported in 2001(6) SCC,145.

19. On the contrary, Sri Prabhat Adhaulia, learned Additional Government Advocate appearing on behalf of the State-respondent argued that P.W.- 1 to P.W.-3, are the eye witnesses and they have proved the prosecution case and submitted to uphold the order of trial court.

20. When accused were beating deceased, Bajrang Bahadur Singh, then complainant, Vijay Bahadur Singh, P.W.-1 and the witnesses, Surya Narayan Tiwari, P.W.-2 and Ram Sewak, P.W.-3, reached at the spot, where the convict-appellants, Rudra Pal Singh, Sri Ram Singh and Rejendra Pratap Singh were beating the deceased by Lathi and Sitaram by Ballam. When the deceased in order to save his life ran towards south of the Chak Road and reached the field of Beni Madho, the accused followed him and started beating the deceased. Due to injuries caused to him, the deceased fell down on the ground and became unconscious.

21. P.W.-1, Vijay Bahadur Singh, has testified in unequivocal words that on the fateful day of incident i.e. 03-09-1984 at about 01.30 P.M., when he was going to Ayodhya Nagar through Chak Road, P.W.-2,Surya Narayan Tiwari and Ram Lakhan Upahdyaya met him on the way. They were at the distance of about fifty steps from the scene of incident. When they heard alarm raised by the the deceased Bajrang Bahadur Singh and Ram Sewak, they rushed towards the place of occurrence and saw that the accused Rudra Pal Singh, Sita Ram Singh and Sri Ram Singh were assaulting the deceased Bajrang Singh by Lathi. Convict-appellant, Rajendra Pratap Singh was assaulting the deceased Bajrang Bahadur Singh by Ballam. In order to save his life, the deceased Bajrang Bahadur Singh ran towards Chak Road in the field of Beni Madho, but, after sustaining injuries, he could not run very far and fell down in the field of Beni Madho and became unconscious .

22. P.W.-2, Surya Narayan Tewari, who is an eye witness, stated on oath that he had accompanied Vijay Bahadur and Ram Lakhan also. When he heard the alarm raised by Salik Murai, Ram Sewak Tiwari and Bajrang Singh, he reached the field of Beni Madaho and saw that accused,Rudra Pal, Rajendra and Sri Ram were assaulting deceased by Lathi and Sita Ram was assaulting the deceased by Ballam. The deceased Bajrang Bahadur Singh sustained injuries and he fell down in the field of Beni Madho. When they challenged the accused, the accused ran away. They carried the deceased Bajrang Bahadur Singh on a cot to Peeparpur. P.W.-2 reduced in writing the written F.I.R. on the dictation of Vijay Bahadur Singh. The written F.I.R.(Exhibit Ka-1) is proved by this witness.

23. P.W.-3, Ram Sewak, who is also an eye witness, stated on oath that on the fateful day of the incident at about 01.30 P.M., he was coming from Ayodhya Nagar through his village by Chak Road. He met with Bajrang Bahadur and Salik Murai on the way. He was 7-8 steps behind Bajrang Bahadur. When they reached near the field of Beni Madho, accused, Rudra Pal, Sri Ram and Rajendra Pratap Singh suddenly assaulted Bajrang Bahadur by Lathi and Sita Ram by Ballam. Bajrang Bahadur ran towards the south in order to save his life, but, accused followed him. Bajrang Bahadur fell down in the field of Beni Madho due to the injuries sustained by him during the assault caused by the accused. When, they raised alarm, Vijay Bahadur and Surya Narayan Tewari also arrived at the spot. Bajrang Bahadur was in an unconscious state due to Hemorrhage. It is stated that he did not accompany Vijay Bahadur and returned to his home. Later on, he came to know that Bajrang Bahadur had expired due to injuries sustained by him.

24. P.W.-4, Dr. V.K. Verma, Medical Officer, District Hospital, Sultanpur, appeared before the court and stated on oath that he attended the deceased Bajrang Bahadur Singh, S/o Vishwanath Singh, who was identified by Constable, Ram Achal Singh. P.W.-4, prepared the post-mortem report of the deceased Bajrang Bahadur. The deceased died due to Shock and Hemorrhage due to the ante-mortem injuries sustained to him. The post-mortem report of the deceased is Exhibit Ka-2. In the Chief Examination itself, P.W.-4, stated that six injuries were caused to the deceased by pointed weapons as Spear & Ballam and rest of the injuries were caused by hard and blunt objects i.e. Lathi.

25. P.W.-5, Vijay Bahadur Mishra, appeared in the court and proved the Chik F.I.R. on the basis of written report and G.D. No. 17 time 15.15 P.M. as Exhibit Nos. Ka-3 & Ka-4 respectively.

26. P.W.-6, Ram Achal Singh, Constable 343. C.P., Police Station-Kadipur, district-Sultanpur proved all the papers regarding post-mortem and C-Map, which were handed over to him by the Chief Medical Officer.

27. P.W.-7, Satish Chandra Tripathi, Station House Officer, Police Station-Jami, district-Sultanpur investigated the case and prepared Challan Lash, Photo Lash, Namoona Mohar and letters to C.M.O. and R.I.(Exhibit Ka-06 to Exhibit Ka-10) and recovery memo of cot (Exhibit Ka-11). This witness prepared the site plan(Exhibit Ka-12), recovery memo of the plain and blood stained earth in the separate containers. Recovery Memo is Exhibit Ka-14.

28. Learned counsel for the convict-appellants vehemently argued that death of the deceased is caused by Shock and Hemorrhage due to ante-mortem injuries. Hemorrhage is possible only by Ballam and the convict-appellant is not assigned any role to assault the deceased Bajrang Bahadur Singh by Ballam. The convict-appellant is said to have assaulted the deceased Bajrang Bahadur by Lathi, by which no such injuries may result in death of the deceased, can be caused.

29. Perusal of the post-mortem report of the deceased transpires that three punctured wounds were found on the dead body of the deceased. Two incised wounds at serial nos. 5 & 10 are indicated by the Doctors in the post-mortem report of the deceased. Rest of the injuries are found to be caused to the deceased by hard and blunt objects. Injury no. 4 is Traumatic swelling over medial part of Rt. Ankle joint in an area of 6 cm x 4 cm. X diffused swelling around the joint also. Injury no. 6 is Traumatic swelling over whole of the upper 1/2 of the Rt. Forearm 15 cm x entire girth with deformity with fracture of both underlying bones (Radius & Ulna). Injury no. 7 is Multiple abrasion over back & top of Rt. Shoulder over bony prominence in an area of 9 cm x 5 cm. Injury No. 8 is Contusion over Rt. Side back in scapular & intra scapular region measuring 12 cm x 3 cm oblique & vertical in direction. Injury No. 9 is Contusion over Lt. Side back 13 cm x 3 cm., vertical & oblique in direction inferior angle of Scapula.

30. Doctor, V.K.Verma, P.W.-4, in his statement before the court stated that all these injuries are possible to be caused by hard and blunt objects i.e. Lathi. Dr. V.K. Verma proved all these injuries to be caused by hard and blunt objects.

31. During external examination, it is found that Abdomen of the deceased was distended, greenish discoloration over both Iliac fossa present.

32. Learned counsel for the convict-appellants submitted that the convict-appellant did not choose to any dangerous weapon during assault, which may result in the death of the deceased.

33. From perusal of the record, it is clear that all the four accused assaulted the deceased in furtherance of common intention to kill him and due to injuries sustained during this assault, the deceased, Bajrang Bahadur died when he was being carried to the police station concerned, therefore, it cannot be said that convict-appellant, Rajendra Pratap Singh can be given any benefit to the effect that he did not use any dangerous weapon.

34. Learned counsel for the convict-appellant submitted that there are many contradictions in the statements of the witnesses. However, no such material contradictions have been pointed out from the evidence of three eye witnesses. P.W-1 to P.W.-3 are the ocular witnesses, who were present on the spot and the occurrence happened in their presence and they witnessed the incident.

35. Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Suresh Yadav alias Guddu Vs. State of Chhattisgargh, reported in 2022 SCC Online SC 236, held that evidence of the witnesses can not be discarded only for the reason that there are minor contradictions in the statements of witnesses. For convenience, para no. 9 of the said Judgment is reproduced as under :-

9. "Even otherwise, we do not find the present one to be a case of manifest illegality so as to call for interference. The evidence of PW-1, being the eye-witness to the incident, remains unimpeachable and has been believed by the two Courts. His 3 evidence cannot be discarded only for the reason that he allegedly did not raise any alarm or did not try to intervene when the deceased was being ferociously assaulted and stabbed. Excessive number of injuries do not ipso facto lead to an inference about involvement of more than one person; rather the nature of injuries and similarity of their size/dimension would only lead to the inference that she was mercilessly and repeatedly stabbed by the same weapon and by the same person."

36. It is submitted by learned A.G.A. that all the witnesses are rustic witnesses of the village. Therefore, minor contradictions are bound to take place and the evidence of witnesses is recorded after two and half years of the incident. The human memory faints day by day. Therefore, minor contradictions, if any, may be found in the statements witnesses and they are negligible and they do not wash away the entire evidence of prosecution case.

37. Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Sachin Kumar Singhraha Vs. State of Madhya Pradesh, reported in (2019) 8 Supreme Court Cases,371, held that minor variation should not be taken into consideration while assessing reliability of witness testimony and consistency of prosecution version as a whole regarding deposition of villagers. For convenience, para no. 12 of the said Judgment is reproduced as under :-

"12. The court will have to evaluate the evidence before it keeping in mind that rustic nature of the depositions of the villagers, who may not depose about exact geographical locations with mathematical precision. Discrepancies of this nature which do not go to root of the matter do not obliterate otherwise acceptable evidence. It need not be stated that it is by now well settled that minor variations should not be taken into consideration while assessing the reliability of witness testimony and the consistency of the prosecution version as a whole. In this view of the matter, in our considered opinion, the evidence of PW 5 fully supports the evidence of PW 4 and the case of the prosecution."

38. So far as the place of occurrence is concerned, there is no dispute regarding the same. The occurrence happened in the field of Beni Madho, which is adjacent to the Chak Road and the witnesses reiterated in so many words that the deceased fell down in the field of Beni Madho due to the ante-mortem injuries.

39. The Investigating Officer sent the blood stained and plain earth to the Laboratory for examination. The analysis report is annexed as Exhibit Ka-15 with the file. Items no. 1 to 6 are found to be blood stained and disintegrated. During trial, papers are admitted by the learned counsel for the convict-appellant, therefore, there is no possibility that the blood stained and plain earth collected from the place of occurrence were not stained by the blood of the deceased. Therefore, in view of the overwhelming evidence on record, learned trial court reached to the conclusion that the deceased expired due to the anti-mortem injuries caused by the convict-appellant.

40. Learned counsel for the convict-appellant submitted that the post-mortem report is anti-time and when the inquest report was prepared, no crime number was allotted to the incident, therefore, it can be said that after preparation of the inquest report, the F.I.R. in question was lodged. But, we are not convinced with the argument advanced by learned counsel for the convict-appellants.

41. We have perused the inquest report and found that Crime No. 161 of 1984 under section 302 I.P.C. on a paper book, Sultanpur is indicated to have been lodged on 03-09-1984 at 15.15 P.M. Therefore, the said submission advanced by the learned counsel for the convict-appellants is rejected. It is found that the inquest report was prepared only after F.I.R. is lodged at the police station.

42. During the statement recorded under section 313 Cr.P.C., the convict-appellant, Rajendra Pratap Singh denied the evidence of prosecution witnesses but he did not disclose the genesis of dispute that what was reason of his false implication in the case. By answering question no. 9, the convict-appellant, Rajendra Pratap Singh stated that there was no animosity, however, the complainant had an enmity due to civil cases pending between the parties. The convict-appellant had no specific defence as to why they have falsely been implicated in the case. They did not adduce any defence evidence. However, the convict-appellant was given opportunity for the same.

43. No other material or circumstance has been alleged by the learned counsel for the convict-appellant and no major contradiction is mentioned in the statements of the witnesses.

44. In view of the aforesaid, we reach to the conclusion that the convict-appellant has failed to show that there was any major contradictions in the statements of the witnesses by which the convict-appellants can be benefited.

45. In view of the foregoing discussions, this court is of the opinion that the prosecution has proved its case beyond reasonable doubt against the appellant. The conviction and sentence of the appellant by the trial court for the offence in question is fully justified. Therefore, the impugned judgment and order passed by the trial court convicting and sentencing the appellant under section 302/34 I.P.C. for imprisonment for life is hereby upheld.

46. This appeal is liable to be dismissed and is dismissed accordingly.

47. The appellant, Rajendra Pratap Singh is in jail. He shall serve out the sentence awarded by the trial court.

48. Let the certified copy of the judgment be sent to the trial court concerned for necessary action and forwarding it to the concerned Jail Superintendent where the accused appellant, Rajendra Pratap Singh is detained.

49. Let the Lower Court Record be sent back to the Trial Court concerned forthwith.

(2022) 9 ILRA 1125
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 26.08.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SUNEET KUMAR, J.
THE HON'BLE VIKRAM D. CHAUHAN, J.

Criminal Appeal No. 1751 of 2015

Baddan Singh ...Appellant (In Jail)
Versus
State of U.P. ...Opposite Party

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri Kameshwar Singh, Ms. Mary Puncha (Sheeb Jose), Sri Mohd. Kalim

Counsel for the Respondent:
Govt. Advocate

Criminal Law - Indian Penal Code,1860 - Sections 300 & 201 - Evidence Act, 1872 - Section 3 - Murder - Circumstantial Evidence - Motive - Normally, there is a motive behind every criminal act and that is why investigating agency as well as the Court while examining the complicity of an accused try to ascertain as to what was the motive on the part of the accused to commit the crime in question - In a case which is based on circumstantial evidence, motive for committing the crime on the part of the accused assumes greater importance - the investigating agency as well as the court should ascertain as far as possible as to what was the immediate impelling motive on the part of the accused which led him to commit the crime in question - Benefit of reasonable doubt - in the case of circumstantial evidence, if two views are possible on the face of record, one pointing to the guilt of the accused and the other his innocence - the accused is indeed entitled to have the benefit of one which is favourable to him - Suspicion - an accused ''must be' and not merely ''may be' guilty before a court can convict - no one can be convicted on the basis of mere suspicion, however, strong it may be - Suspicion alone is not sufficient to bring home the charge (Para 24, 37, 38)

Criminal Law - Evidence Act 1872 -Section 27 - what is important is discovery of the material object at the disclosure of the accused, but such disclosure alone would not automatically lead to the conclusion that the offence was also committed by the accused - thereafter, burden lies on the prosecution to establish a close link between discovery of the material objects and its use in the commission of the offence - what is admissible under Section 27 is the information leading to discovery and not any opinion formed on it by the prosecution - Under Section 27 of the Evidence Act, mere recovery of the assault weapon cannot be construed as providing acceptable proof for the murder without there being any substantive evidence. (Para 25, 30)

Prosecution case that the Baddan Singh took Hiran Singh along with him and while hunting pigeons, Hiran fell down in the well, thereafter, Baddan Singh slit the throat of Hiran Singh and killed him - Held - PW-1 & PW-2 St.d that the accused appellant had a cordial relationship with the deceased, indicating no motive for committing the offense - no evidence to prove that the accused remained in the company of the deceased until his murder - no person witnessed them together near the well, or saw them fetching the rope/cot or carrying the body of the deceased wrapped in hay on the motorcycle - multiple contradictory probabilities in the prosecution's case, which have not been explained - conviction solely relies on the confessional St.ment of the appellant recorded after his arrest, which cannot be used against him - alleged assault weapon is not connected to the offense, and no human blood was found on the gandasa - proved incriminating circumstances, such as the appellant taking the deceased with him, are merely based on suspicion - however strong the suspicion may be, it is not sufficient to prove the offense - prosecution failed to prove the incriminating circumstances beyond reasonable doubt - chain of evidence connecting the appellant to the crime is incomplete - conviction and sentence set aside.

Allowed. (E-5)

List of Cases cited:

1. Sharad Birdhichand Sarda Vs St. of Mah. (1984) 4 SCC 116

2. Shivaji Sahabrao Bobade Vs St. of Mah.

3. Shahjaha @ Shahjahan Ismail Mohd. Shaikh Vs St. of Mah. 2022 Live Law (SC) 596

4. Pulukuri Kotayya Vs Emperor AIR 1947 PC 67

5. K. Chinnaswamy Reddy Vs St. of Andhra Pradesh & anr. AIR 1962 SC 1788

6. Mustkeem @ Sirajudin Vs St. of Raj. AIR 2011 SC 2769

7. Jeeva Vs St. of Raj. D.B. Criminal Appeal No. 296 of 2019

8. Chandrakant Ganpat Sovitkar Vs St. Of Mah. (1975) 3 SCC 16

9. Tarseem Kumar Vs Delhi Administration (1994) Supp 3 SCC 367

10. Miller Vs Minister of Pensions (1947) 2 AII ER 373

(Delivered by Hon'ble Suneet Kumar, J.)

1. Heard Ms. Mary Puncha (Sheeb Jose), learned counsel assisted by Mohd. Kalim, learned counsel for the appellant, Shri Om Prakash Mishra, learned Additional Government Advocate and perused the lower court record with the assistance of the learned counsel for the parties.

2. The instant appeal has been filed against the judgment and order dated 21.04.2015 and conviction order dated 24.04.2015, passed by the learned Sessions Judge, Banda in Session Trial No. 84 of 2011, whereby, appellant has been convicted under Section 302 IPC and sentenced to life imprisonment with a fine of Rs. 10,000/-. In case of the default of payment, the appellant will have to undergo further 2 years simple imprisonment; appellant has been further convicted under Section 201 IPC and sentenced to 3 years rigorous imprisonment with a fine of Rs. 3000/-. In case of the default of payment, the appellant will have to undergo further 1 month simple imprisonment.

3. As per the prosecution version, around 12.00 noon on 15.06.2011, appellant came to the house of complainant, Shatrughan Singh (PW-2), and took his son Hiran Singh (deceased), to the house of his sister on a motorcycle. On 17.06.2011, at about 6.00 morning, appellant went to the house of the complainant with his bahnoi (brother-in-law). Complainant asked about his son Hiran, he stated that he does not know where has he gone. He suspected that appellant had abducted his son. On 16.06.2011, Braj Mohan Singh, Gram Pradhan, Mau, Police Station Marka (Banda), (PW-1), saw a beheaded corpse in the field of Ram Pratap Kushwaha, thereafter, he gave a written information to the police station. On the information, Thana Incharge reached the spot, collected blood-stained earth and plain-earth, thereafter, sealed and stamped it. One amulet (tabeez) and black thread was found near the dead body. The police official prepared the recovery memo in presence of the witnesses. The inquest report of the unknown beheaded corpse was prepared and sent for postmortem. Again on 18.06.2011, Braj Mohan Singh, (PW-1), was informed of a human head lying in the field of Buchh Raj Yadav, he gave a written information to the police station. Thana Incharge reached the spot, prepared the inquest report of the human head and sent it for postmortem. At the time of preparing the inquest report, on the basis of the structure of teeth, underwear and amulet recovered near the beheaded corpse, complainant, father of the deceased, identified the dead body that it was of his son Hiran. During investigation, name of co-accused, Karan Singh, surfaced.

4. After arrest, appellant confessed commission of the crime and on his pointing out, assault weapon (gandasa) for cutting grass was recovered from his house.

The appellant and co-accused Karan Singh together slit the throat of the deceased and murdered him. The recovery memo of the assault weapon was prepared. Co-accused Karan Singh and appellant in their confession/disclosure statement stated that while hunting pigeons, deceased Hiran Singh fell down in the well. On being pulled out, he was slightly breathing and the bone of his thigh had fractured. On apprehension of being caught for the death of Hiran, appellant in collaboration with co-accused Karan Singh slit the throat of deceased with a gandasa (battle-axe). He wrapped the head of the deceased in the shirt of the deceased and threw it at some place and the torso of the deceased was disposed of at a separate place so that evidence could be destroyed. On the basis of oral evidence and the evidences on record, the Investigating Officer filed the charge sheet against the appellant, Baddan Singh, and co-accused Karan Singh under Sections 302, 201 IPC.

5. The Chief Judicial Magistrate committed the case to the Sessions court on 15.9.2011. The appellant and co-accused Karan Singh were charged and examined for offence under Section 302 read with 34 IPC and Section 201 IPC. Appellant pleaded not guilty and claimed to be tried.

6. Braj Mohan Singh (PW-1), complainant Shatrughan (PW-2), Mrs. Mamta (PW-3), Dr. Ramesh Chandra Arun (PW-4), Dr. Rakesh Babu (PW-5), constable muharrir Prem Chandra (PW-6) and Rakesh Kumar Mishra (PW-7) were produced and examined on behalf of the prosecution.

7. The following documents were exhibited:

1.	F.I.R.	16.06.2011	Ex. Ka. 6
2.	Written Report	16.06.2011	Ex. Ka. 1
3.	Application	18.06.2011	Ex. Ka. 2
4.	Application	19.06.2011	Ex. Ka. 3
5.	Recovery Memo of Blood Stained & Plain Earth	16.06.2011	Ex. Ka. 7
6.	Recovery memo of tabeej, nearby dead body	16.06.2011	Ex. Ka. 17
7.	Arrest memo of accused & Recovery of assault weapon "gandasa'	23.06.2011	Ex. Ka. 24
8.	P.M. Report	17.06.2011	Ex. Ka. 5
9.	P.M. Report	19.06.2011	Ex. Ka. 4
10.	Panchayatnama	16.06.2011	Ex. Ka.10
11.	Panchayatnama	18.06.2011	Ex. Ka.19
12.	Chargesheet	31.07.2011	Ex. Ka. 25
13.	Site Plan with Index	23.06.2011	Ex. Ka. 26
14.	Site Plan with Index	16.06.2011	Ex. Ka. 18

8. In the statement recorded under Section 313 CrPC, appellant claimed that the prosecution version to be false and stated that the deceased has falsely been identified, forged recovery of the assault weapon was shown and they have been implicated falsely out of enmity. As per accused Baddan Singh he did not take Hiran on his motorcycle from the house of Shatrughan. On 17.06.2011, he and his brother-in-law did not visit the house of Shatrughan, nor, did any communication had taken place. He alleged that the police conspired to show recovery of the battle-axe and appellant did not confess the commission of the crime. He further stated that police under the influence of his opponents implicated him falsely.

9. The trial court found sufficient evidence against appellant and convicted him, whereas, co-accused Karan Singh was held not guilty, accordingly, acquitted. Hence, the present appeal. The State has not filed appeal against co-accused Karan Singh.

10. Learned counsel for the appellant submits that the prosecution case rests on circumstantial evidence; the chain of events is grossly incomplete; prosecution failed to prove the incriminating circumstances beyond reasonable doubt; conviction of the appellant rests on the confessional statement of the appellant; co-accused Karan Singh on the same evidence was acquitted; the impugned judgment and order of the trial court is per se perverse and liable to be set aside.

11. As per prosecution case PW-1, Braj Mohan, Gaon Pradhan, of the village, on 16.06.2011, submitted a written report to the police station that beheaded corpse of a person aged about 25 years was found wearing an underwear; there is injury on the left thigh; body cannot be identified. On the report, F.I.R. came to be lodged at 12:45 pm.

12. On the information of PW-1, Station Officer visited the place of occurrence and collected blood smeared soil and plain soil which was sealed in presence of an independent witnesses, including, PW-1. From the spot, a black amulet (tabeez) and black thread was found which was duly sealed. Recovery memo (Ex.-ka 16 & 17) was drawn in presence of independent witnesses. PW-1 again on 18.06.2011, submitted another report with the police station that at about 2:00 pm he received information from the grazers that a human head (human skull) is lying in the field of Bachhraj Yadav. While preparing the inquest of the head, complainant (PW-2), father of the deceased, identified the skull by looking at the structure of the teeth; claiming that the skull recovered is of his missing son, Hiran.

13. PW-2, complainant, submitted a written report (tehrir) on 19.06.2011, at police station-Marka, District-Banda, wherein, it is alleged that on 15.06.2011, at about 12:00 noon, appellant who is resident of his village had visited his house and in presence of his wife (PW-3), appellant had taken his son, Hiran, on a motorcycle to the house of his sister at village Atarhat; on 17.06.2011, appellant along with his brother-in-law had again come to his house, but on inquiry by PW-2, about his son, appellant replied that he is not aware; PW-2 further alleged that he identified the beheaded corpse being that of his son and the amulet (tabeez) found near the corpse was that of his son.

14. Appellant came to be arrested on 23.06.2011, and on confessional/disclosure statement co-accused Karan Singh was arrested on 26.06.2011. After arrest, on the disclosure statement of the appellant, assault weapon (gandasa) was recovered on the pointing out of the appellant from his house. Appellant confessed commission of the offence; in the confessional statement, appellant stated that on 15.06.2011, at about 12:00 noon he had taken the deceased along with him on the consent and approval of the parents of the deceased to visit a relative, thereafter, on the way they decided to hunt pigeons from the well. Appellant along with the deceased and co-accused Karan Singh reached the well at about 7:30 pm. The deceased, however, fell down inside the well while hunting in torch light for the pigeons sitting in the wall holes. Co-accused Karan Singh went to the village to fetch a rope, appellant with the assistance of the rope climbed down the well and saw that deceased has suffered injury on the left thigh. Consequently, deceased was lifted out from the well with the help of a rope; deceased, thereafter, was carried on a cot to the house of co-accused Karan Singh; apprehending that the deceased was unconscious and might have died; out of fear of the aftermath of the incident, accused agreed to dispose off the body of the deceased. The body was wrapped in bundle of hay and carried by the appellant on a motor cycle alongwith co-accused, Karan Singh, and on the way laying the deceased on the ground; appellant removed the head of the deceased by gandasa blow; head and torso of the deceased was thrown at different places; assault weapon was recovered on the pointing out of the appellant from his house on the day of arrest.

15. PW-5, Dr. Rakesh Babu, Deputy Chief Medical Officer (Dy. CMO), Jhansi, deposed that on 17.6.2011 at 3.15 p.m. conducted postmortem of the body (torso) of an unknown person aged 25 years. Head and neck of the body was not present.

16. Following ante mortem injuries were found on his body.

1- Incised wound all around the neck, measuring around 18 x 12 cm. Veins of the neck oseohegus, trachea and hyde bone were completely slit.

2- A clearly visible insized wound was present on the left of the shoulder measuring around 8 cm x 3 cm, the margins were clearly slit.

3- Abraded contusion 10 cm x 6 cm on the right joint was present.

4- Abraded contusion 4 cm x 3 cm on the left side of the chest 12 cm below the left nipple was present.

5- Abraded contusion 10 cm x 8 cm on the back side of the right elbow was present.

6- Abraded contusion 10 cm x 2 cm on the right side of the waist just above the bone of hip was present.

7- Abraded contusion 14 cm x 5 cm on the left side of waist 3 cm below the bone hip was present.

17. In the internal examination, it was found that the brain was not present. Base was not present, fifth bone of the neck was completely slit. Swelling in the lungs and trachea was present. Heart was empty. Esophagus was slit.

18. In the opinion of the doctor, cause of the death was hemorrhage and shock due to excessive bleeding. This witness has verified the postmortem report ExtKa5.

19. Trial Court noted in the impugned judgment that the prosecution case is based on circumstantial evidence and on scrutiny of the testimony of PW-2 (complainant/father of the deceased) and PW-3 (Mamta, mother of the deceased), it is proved that deceased was taken by the appellant before them from their house on 15.06.2011 at 12:00 noon on his motorcycle. PW-1 and PW-2 asked about the whereabouts of their son Hiran, when appellant along with his brother-in-law returned on 17.06.2011, but appellant expressed ignorance. The trail court, further, relied on the confessional statement of the appellant that the accused persons along with the deceased had gone for hunting pigeons form an old well, deceased incurred injury by falling into the well and left thigh bone got fractured. The accused fearing that in the event of deceased succumbing to the injuries, accused could be trapped; under such an apprehension, accused/appellant slit the throat and separated the head from the body in order to conceal the evidence, in furtherance thereof, disposed of the body (torso) and the head at different places.

20. The finding reached by the trial court is extracted:

"In view of the contentions of both the parties, and in view of the perusal of the evidences on record, it appears that Baddan Singh on 15.06.2011 at 2.00 noon, took Hiran Singh with him on a motorcycle to his relative's house. It is evident from the statement of PW2 Shatrughan Singh and PW3 Mrs. Mamta, from the inquest report, the testimony of the witnesses, and the recovery of the weapon of murder, accused Baddan Singh taking Hiran Singh along with him and while hunting pigeons, Hiran falling down in the well, thereafter, Baddan Singh slit the throat of Hiran Singh with a battle-axe and killed him, and to destroy the evidence, he threw his head and the trunk at different places, so that nobody could doubt that the accused Baddan has murdered Hiran Singh. The weapon of murder i.e. the battle-axe was recovered from the accused Baddan Singh in presence of the witnesses, which is evident from the recovery memo ExtKa24. In this way, from perusal of all the evidences, it transpires that the accused Baddan Singh took Hiran Singh to his relative's house and he murdered Hiran Singh and then he hid the weapon of murder with which he murdered Hiran, which was later recovered from Baddan Singh on being pointed out by him."

xxx xxx xxx

"In the instant case, the prosecution, on the basis of the principle laid down by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Devendra Singh Vs State of UP1 and in Narendra Singh and others Vs State of M.P., has to necessarily prove all the circumstances beyond reasonable any doubt. In the instant case, from perusal of all the evidences, it transpires that the accused Baddan Singh took the deceased Hiran from his house and lastly, after killing him, tried to hide his dead body. Role of the co-accused appears to be of such extent that though at the time of committing the crime, he was present with Baddan Singh, however, he was neither seen going with accused Baddan Singh, nor, has any recovery been made from him. In such circumstances, in view of the evidences, it is justified to hold Baddan Singh guilty u/s 302, 201 IPC, however giving the benefit of doubt to accused Karan Singh, it will be justified to acquit him from the charge u/s 302, 201 IPC."

(English translation provided by the Court)

21. The question that arises for consideration is as to whether the prosecution was able to prove the incriminating circumstances connecting the appellant in commission of the crime beyond reasonable doubt.

22. The prosecution case rests on circumstantial evidence. PW-1 and PW-2, witnesses of fact, proved the circumstance that their deceased son was taken by the appellant on 15.06.2011 at 12:00 noon on his motorcycle, thereafter, the appellant again visited PW-1 and PW-2 on 17.06.2011. On enquiring the whereabouts of their son, appellant expressed his ignorance. The conduct of the appellant created suspicion in the mind of PW-1 and PW-2.

23. The other circumstance proved by the prosecution that the torso and the head was identified by PW-1 from the structure of the teeth; the amulet and underwear on the beheaded corpse. The prosecution case, thereafter, rests on disclosure statement of the appellant purportly made under Section 27 of Evidence Act. The trial court taking into consideration the confessional statement of the appellant and the consequent recovery of the assault weapon on the pointing out of the appellant from his house, has recorded guilt and conviction.

24. We are constrained to record that the trial court has miserably failed to correctly apply the conditions, laid down by the Supreme Court, that must be fulfilled before a case against an accused based on circumstantial evidence can be said to be fully established. Supreme Court in an early decision rendered in Sharad Birdhichand Sarda Vs. State of Maharashtra, indicated the primary principle that an accused "must be' and not merely "may be' guilty before a court can convict. The relevant paragraphs reads thus:

"153. A close analysis of this decision would show that the following conditions must be fulfilled before a case against an accused can be said to be fully established:

(1) the circumstances from which the conclusion of guilt is to be drawn should be fully established.

It may be noted here that this Court indicated that the circumstances concerned "must or should" and not "may be" established. There is not only a grammatical but a legal distinction between "may be proved" and "must be or should be proved" as was held by this Court in Shivaji Sahabrao Bobadev. State of Maharashtra where the observations were made: [SCC para 19, p. 807: SCC (Cri) p. 1047]

Certainly, it is a primary principle that the accused must be and not merely may be guilty before a court can convict and the mental distance between "may be' and "must be' is long and divides vague conjectures from sure conclusions."

(2) the facts so established should be consistent only with the hypothesis of the guilt of the accused, that is to say, they should not be explainable on any other hypothesis except that the accused is guilty,

(3) the circumstances should be of a conclusive nature and tendency,

(4) they should exclude every possible hypothesis except the one to be proved, and

(5) there must be a chain of evidence so complete as not to leave any reasonable ground for the conclusion consistent with the innocence of the accused and must show that in all human probability the act must have been done by the accused.

154. These five golden principles, if we may say so, constitute the panchsheel of the proof of a case based on circumstantial evidence."

25. With regard to Section 27 of the Evidence Act, what is important is discovery of the material object at the disclosure of the accused, but such disclosure alone would not automatically lead to the conclusion that the offence was also committed by the accused. In fact, thereafter, burden lies on the prosecution to establish a close link between discovery of the material objects and its use in the commission of the offence. What is admissible under Section 27 is the information leading to discovery and not any opinion formed on it by the prosecution.

26. The various requirements of Section 27, can be summed up as follows:

"(1) The fact of which evidence is sought to be given must be relevant to the issue. It must be borne in mind that the provision has nothing to do with question of relevancy. The relevancy of the fact discovered must be established according to the prescriptions relating to relevancy of other evidence connecting it with the crime in order to make the fact discovered admissible.

(2) The fact must have been discovered.

(3) The discovery must have been in consequence of some information received from the accused and not by accused's own act.

(4) The persons giving the information must be accused of any offence.

(5) He must be in the custody of a police officer.

(6) The discovery of a fact in consequence of information received from an accused in custody must be deposed to.

(7) Thereupon only that portion of the information which relates distinctly or strictly to the fact discovered can be proved. The rest is inadmissible."

(vide: Shahjaha @ Shahjahan Ismail Mohd. Shaikh Vs. State of Maharashtra.)

27. As observed in Pulukuri Kotayya vs. Emperor, it can seldom happen that information leading to the discovery of a fact forms the foundation of the prosecution case. It is one link in the chain of proof and the other links must be forged in manner allowed by law. To similar effect was the view expressed in K. Chinnaswamy Reddy versus State of Andhra Pradesh and another.

28. In the given facts, the confessional statement of the appellant alone spells out the entire episode leading to the offence. The appellant after picking up the deceased from his house on motorcycle, desired to hunt pigeons from an old well after sunset. While hunting pigeons, deceased accidentally fell into the well, rope and a cot was fetched by the accused persons from the village. The accused apprehending that the unconscious deceased might have died, the accused persons to escape the accusation of having murdered the deceased, decided to do away with the deceased, accordingly, in furtherance of their common intention, deceased was beheaded; torso and head was subsequently disposed off at different places. On the accused-appellant being arrested, he confessed of committing the crime and on his pointing out, the assault weapon was discovered. As noted earlier that taking of the deceased by the accused has been proved by the prosecution. The other incriminating circumstance proved by the prosecution is the discovery of alleged assault weapon. In between the two circumstance, the long gap remains a mystery, unexplained by the prosecution. The story setup in the confessional/disclosure statement of the appellant cannot be read against the accused as it precedes the commission of the offence. The statement of the accused that he employed the gandasa in committing the offence also cannot be read against him. The only incriminating circumstance that may be held against the accused is the discovery of gandasa and the place where it was hidden, but, that is not sufficient to record the guilt against the accused. The prosecution has to link the assault weapon with the commission of the offence.

29. The recovery of the crime weapon in the facts of the case in hand was made after eight days from the date of the incident (15.06.2011) and on the date of arrest (23.06.2011), but, the crime weapon has not been linked with the commission of the offence. The recovery of the weapon is one link in the chain of proof and other links must be forged in the manner allowed by law. Blood stains was not found on the gandasa.

30. Under Section 27 of the Evidence Act, mere recovery of the assault weapon (gandasa) cannot be construed as providing acceptable proof for the murder without there being any substantive evidence. Supreme Court considered this aspect in the case of Mustkeem @ Sirajudin Versus State of Rajasthan, as under:

"23. The AB blood group which was found on the clothes of the deceased does not by itself establish the guilt of the Appellant unless the same was connected with the murder of deceased by the Appellants. None of the witnesses examined by the prosecution could establish that fact. The blood found on the sword recovered at the instance of the Mustkeem was not sufficient for test as the same had already disintegrated. At any rate, due to the reasons elaborated in the following paragraphs, the fact that the traces of blood found on the deceased matched those found on the recovered weapons cannot ipso facto enable us to arrive at the conclusion that the latter were used for the murder." (Refer: Jeeva Versus State of Rajasthan)"

31. The prosecution has failed to prove the incriminating circumstances after the deceased was taken by him. PW-1 and PW-2 have clearly stated that accused appellant was having cordial relation with the deceased i.e. there is no motive of committing the offence. Further, no evidence has been led to prove that accused continued in the company of the deceased until his murder. No person has seen them together near the well, or fetching the rope/cot, and/or, carrying the body of the deceased wrapped in hay on the motorcycle. It is also not proved by the prosecution as to whether the deceased was alive at the time he was beheaded by the accused or was dead and thereafter, beheaded. There are multiple contradictory probabilities in the prosecution case which has not been explained. In other words, there are several possible hypothesis which the prosecution has failed to exclude. The conviction rests solely on the confessional statement of the appellant recorded after arrest, which cannot be read against him. Further, the alleged assault weapon has also not been connected with the offence. No human blood was found on the gandasa. In the given proved incriminating circumstances i.e. appellant taking the deceased along with him, is a case of mere suspicion, however strong the suspicion may be it is not sufficient to prove the offence. The prosecution has failed to prove the incriminating circumstances beyond reasonable doubt. The chain of evidence connecting the appellant with the crime is incomplete. The trial court committed serious error in convicting the appellant. It is a case of no evidence. Suspicion alone is not sufficient to bring home the charge.

32. In Chandrakant Ganpat Sovitkar Vs. State Of Maharashtra helds as follows:

"It is well settled that no one can be convicted on the basis of mere suspicion, however, strong it may be. It also cannot be disputed that when we take into account the conduct of an accused, his conduct must be looked at in its entirety....."

33. Section 3 of the Evidence Act, while explaining the meaning of the words "proved", "disproved" and "not proved" lays down the standard of proof, namely, about the existence or non-existence of the circumstances form the point of view of a prudent man. The Section is so worded as to provide for two conditions of mind, first, that in which a man feels absolutely certain of a fact, in other words, "believe it to exist" and secondly in which though he may not feel absolutely certain of a fact, he thinks it so extremely probable that a prudent man would under the circumstances act on the assumption of its existence. The Act while adopting the requirement of the prudent man as an appropriate concrete standard by which to measure proof at the same time contemplates of giving full effect to be given to circumstances or condition of probability or improbability. It is this degree of certainty to be arrived where the circumstances before a fact can be said to be proved. A fact is said to be disproved when the Court believes that it does not exist or consider its non-existence so probable in the view of a prudent man, and now coming to third stage where in the view of a prudent man the fact is not proved i.e. neither proved nor disproved. It is this doubt which occurs to a reasonable man, has legal recognition in the field of criminal disputes. It is something different from moral conviction and it is also different from a suspicion. It is the result of a process of keen examination of the entire material on record by "a prudent man'.

34. Lord Denning, J. in Miller V. Minister of Pensions, while examining the degree of proof required in criminal cases stated:

"that degree is well settled. It need not reach certainty but it must reach a high degree of probability. Proof beyond reasonable doubt does not mean proof beyond the shadow of doubt. The law would fail to protect the community if it admitted fanciful probabilities to deflect the course of justice. If the evidence is so strong against a man as to leave only a remote possibility in his favour which can be dismissed with the sentence "of course, it is possible but not in the least probable", the case is proved beyond reasonable doubt....."

35. Regarding the concept of benefit of reasonable doubt Lord Du Paraq, in another context observed thus:

"All that the principle enjoins is a reasonable scepticism, not an obdurate persistence in disbelief. It does not demand from the Judge a resolute and impenetrable incredulity. He is never required to close his mind to the truth."

36. In the given facts, applying the test of a prudent man as a standard to measure proof, we are unable to persuade ourselves, that the existence of the circumstances relied upon by the prosecution are so probable in view of a prudent man. Further, as per the statement of PW-1 and PW-2, there is no motive attached to the crime. The witnesses stated that appellant is of their village and they have cordial relation with him. In a case based on circumstantial evidence, motive for committing the crime assumes greater importance. The accused can be convicted, in absence of motive, only if each of the circumstances has been proved by the prosecution. As we have, upon scrutiny of the evidence, noted that prosecution has not been able to prove the circumstances connecting the appellant with the commission of the crime, motive becomes a relevant consideration.

37. The Supreme Court in Tarseem Kumar v. Delhi Administration held as follows:

"Normally, there is a motive behind every criminal act and that is why investigating agency as well as the Court while examining the complicity of an accused try to ascertain as to what was the motive on the part of the accused to commit the crime in question. It has been repeatedly pointed out by this Court that where the case of the prosecution has been proved beyond all reasonable doubts on basis of the materials produced before the Court, the motive loses its importance. But in a case which is based on circumstantial evidence, motive for committing the crime on the part of the accused assumes greater importance. Of course, if each of the circumstances proved on behalf of the prosecution is accepted by the Court for purpose of recording a finding that it was the accused who committed the crime in question, even in absence of proof of a motive for commission of such a crime, the accused can be convicted. But the investigating agency as well as the court should ascertain as far as possible as to what was the immediate impelling motive on the part of the accused which led him to commit the crime in question....."

38. That apart, in the case of circumstantial evidence, two views are possible on the face of record, one pointing to the guilt of the accused and the other his innocence. The accused is indeed entitled to have the benefit of one which is favourable to him. All the judicially laid parameters, defining the quality and content of the circumstantial evidence, to bring home the guilt of the accused on a criminal charge, we find no difficulty to hold that the prosecution, in the case in hand, has failed to meet the same.

39. Having regard to the facts and circumstances of the case and upon scrutiny of the prosecution evidence, the conviction and life sentence imposed on the accused is totally unsustainable in law, therefore, appeal is liable to be allowed and the impugned judgment and order of conviction and sentence is liable to be set aside.

40. The criminal appeal is allowed. The impugned judgment and order of conviction and sentence is set aside. The appellant is directed to be released forthwith, if not required in any other offence.

41. The appellant on being released the mandate of Section 437-A Cr.P.C. to be complied.

42. Let the lower court record be sent back to court below along with a copy of this judgment, for ascertaining necessary compliance.

(2022) 9 ILRA 1137
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 06.08.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. KAUSHAL JAYENDRA THAKER, J.
THE HON'BLE AJAI TYAGI, J.

Criminal Appeal No. 3603 of 2018

Anurag Sharma ...Appellant (In Jail)
Versus
State of U.P. ...Opposite Party

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri Anil Mullick, Sri Dinesh Kumar Shukla, Sri Narendra Mohan, Rekha Pundir, Sri Sunil Vashisth

Counsel for the Respondent:
Govt. Advocate

A. Criminal Law - Indian Penal Code 1860 - Section 302 - Evidence Act,1872 - Section 154 - testimony of hostile witness - maxim 'falsus in uno falsus in omnibus' is not applied in criminal law in India - the evidence of hostile witness can still be relied upon to the extent to which it supports the prosecution version - evidence of a hostile witness cannot be discarded as a whole, and relevant part thereof, which are admissible in law, can be used by prosecution or the defence - Such evidence remains admissible in the trial and there is no legal prohibition against basing a conviction on the testimony of a hostile witness if it is corroborated by other reliable evidence - However, the testimony of hostile witnesses should be scrutinized meticulously and and approached with great caution (Para 17, 18, 21)

B. Criminal Law - Evidence Act, 1872 - Section 106 - Burden of proving fact especially within knowledge - burden of proving things which are within the special knowledge of an individual is on that individual - Section 106 does not absolve the prosecution from its burden to establish the guilt of an accused but it applies to cases where chain of events has been successfully established by the prosecution, from which a reasonable inference is made out against the accused - when an individual has done an act, with an intention other than that which the circumstances indicate, the onus of proving that specific intention falls onto the individual and not on the prosecution (Para 25)

In the instant case only the accused & his father were left at home when the complainant went outside to deposit tax - there was none at the house - Accused took a stand that his father was murdered during the robbery or dacoity in his house - but there was no evidence on record regarding any robbery and dacoity in the house - appellant failed to discharge his burden u/s 106 of the Indian Evidence Act.

C. Criminal Law - Evidence Act, 1872 - Section 27 - How much of information received from accused may be proved - if an accused person gives a St.ment that relates to the discovery of a fact in consequence of information received from him is admissible - rest part of the St.ment has to be treated as inadmissible - Recovery - If the place of hiding the weapon is exclusively within the knowledge of accused and that place cannot be or is not in the knowledge of any other person and the weapon is recovered from the same place, such type of recovery is absolutely reliable and it cannot be doubted or it cannot be presumed that weapon is planted (Para 28, 29)

The Investigating Officer made recovery of hammer used for commission of the crime on the pointing out of the accused-appellant from a very specific i.e. from inside the box, kept in the adjacent room of kitchen of the house of the accused and such place was only in his knowledge - the place of hiding the hammer was only, within the exclusive knowledge of the accused & it was not known to any other person - the recovery made at the instance of the accused-appellant rightly accepted by the trial Court (Para 29)

Dismissed. (E-5)

List of Cases cited:

1. Koli Lakhmanbhai Chandabhai Vs St. of Guj. 1999 (8) SCC 624

2. Ramesh Harijan Vs St. of U.P. 2012 (5) SCC 777

3.St. of U.P. Vs Ramesh Prasad Misra and another 1996 AIR (Supreme Court) 2766

4. Sabitri Samantaray Vs St. of Odisha, AIR 2022 SC 2591

5. Criminal Appeal No.2135 of 2013

6. Anwar Ali & anr. Vs St. of H.P., (2020) 10 SCC 166

(Delivered by Hon'ble Ajai Tyagi, J.)

1. This appeal is preferred against the judgment and order dated 27.6.2018, passed by Additional Sessions Judge, Court NO.11, Meerut, in Sessions Trial No.553 of 2015 (State vs. Anurag Sharma) arising out of Case Crime No.64 of 2015 under Section 302 IPC, Police Station-Kotwali, Meerut by which the accused appellant was convicted under Section 302 IPC and sentenced with life imprisonment and fine of Rs.25,000/- with one year additional imprisonment in case of default of fine.

2. The brief facts of the case as culled out from the record are that a Written-report (Ex.ka1) was submitted by the complainant, namely, Shail Kumari Sharma (mother of the accused and wife of the deceased) to the Police Station-Kotwali, Meerut on 12.3.2015 with the averments that on that date at about 12:30 p.m., she had gone to the house of her brother at Devpuri and from there she went to Nagar Palika with her nephew, namely, Shivanshu Sharma s/o Promod Kumar Sharma to deposit the house-tax. She had left her husband Prem Kishan Sharma aged about 70 years and her son Anurag Sharma at home. After depositing the house-tax in Nagar Palika at about 2:30 p.m., she returned to her house with her nephew and saw there that her husband was lying in dead condition in the corridor of first-floor of the house and there was pool of blood in corridor and inside the room and her son Anurag, who was drug addict and used to demand the money for it from his father, was absent from the house. It is also averred that her husband was retired from the post of clerk in Electricity department in the year 2005. His dead-body is lying. He has murdered by inflicting injuries on the head.

3. On the basis of aforesaid written report, a first information report (Ex.ka3) was registered at Police Station-Kotwali under Section 302 IPC and investigation was taken up by S.I. Mukesh Kumar. During the course of investigation, Investigating Officer visited the spot and collected the plain and blood-stained earth from the place of occurrence and prepared the recovery memo with bed-sheet and towel.

4. The accused-appellant was arrested on the same day of the occurrence and I.O. Recovered the hammer on the pointing out of the accused from inside the box, which was in the room, adjacent to the kitchen of the house. The hammer was having blood on it, which was used for the commission of the crime. Investigating Officer also took the clothes of the accused in his possession, which were having blood-stains and inquest report was prepared. The postmortem of the body of the deceased was conducted and postmortem report was prepared. Recovered articles from the place of occurrence, clothes of deceased including the recovered hammer were sent to Forensic Science Laboratory, Agra for Chemical examination. On all above articles, blood-stains were found and on pant and shirt of the accused and on bed-sheet and towel, human blood was found. After completion of the investigation, charge-sheet was submitted against accused-appellant Anurag Sharma.

5. The case being triable exclusively by the court of session, it was committed to the Sessions Judge for trial. Trial court framed charge against the accused under Section 302 IPC. The accused denied the charge and claimed to be tried. The prosecution so as to bring home the charges, examined 8 witnesses, namely:-

1.	Shail Kumari Sharma	PW1
2.	Rakesh Kumar Sharma	PW2
3.	Shivanshu	PW3
4.	Sanjeev Kumar	PW4
5.	Aman Pal Singh	PW5
6.	Vijay Kumar	PW6
7.	Ravi Prakash	PW7
8.	Mukes Prakash	PW8

6. The accused was examined under Section 313 of Cr.P.C. by putting evidence against him. Accused denied the evidence against him and stated that his father was murdered in order to rob his house or committing dacoity and police had falsely implicated him to suppress the said heinous offence. It is also stated by the accused that he was handicapped to the tune of 60%, he was never drug addict. He was under depression due to disability, hence the doctors used to administer him sleeping medicines. In his defence the accused examined three witnesses, namely, Rajhans Singh (DW1), Aruna Bhargava (DW2) and R.M. Gupta (DW3).

7. In support of the ocular version of the witnesses, following documents were produced and contents were proved by leading evidence:-

1.	FIR	Ext. Ka-3
2.	Written-report	Ext. Ka-1
3.	Recovery Memo of 'Ala-katl' 'hathoda'	Ext. Ka-9
4.	Recovery Memo of accused's clothes	Ext. Ka-13
5.	Recovery Memo of plain & blood-stained concrete, bedsheet and towel	Ext. Ka-12
6.	Postmortem Report	Ext. Ka-10
7.	Report of FSL	Ext. Ka-17
8.	Report of FSL	Ext. Ka-16
9.	Panchayatnama	Ext. Ka-2
10.	Charge sheet	Ext. Ka-15

8. Heard Shri Sunil Vashishta, learned counsel for the appellant and Shri N.K. Srivastava, learned AGA for the State as well as perused the record.

9. Learned counsel for the appellant submitted that first information report of the occurrence is based on suspicion. There is no eye witness of the occurrence. Learned counsel submitted that the complainant is mother of the appellant, but she had to name the appellant in FIR under the pressure of police because she and her nephew were picked up by the police and kept in the lock-up and she was pressurized to sign the written-report (Ex.ka1), which was written by some unknown person. Learned counsel invited our attention towards the statement of complainant (PW1) in which she has stated that Ex.ka1 has her signature, but she does not know who has written it. She was pressurized to put her signature on Ex.ka1 under the threat of putting her and her nephew in the lock up. Learned counsel preferred the statement of PW1 that police had kept her at police station whole night and released thereafter. Learned counsel also submitted that PW3 is nephew of the complainant, who has also supported the aforesaid facts in his evidence and deposed in his testimony that they had told the police that dacoity is committed in the house of complainat and her house is robbed, but police did not lodge the FIR. Police kept complainant and accused in the lock up and released me. On the basis of aforesaid statement of PW1 and PW3, the learned counsel for the appellant submitted that FIR of the case was lodged by the complainant in which her son accused was named under the pressure of the police.

10. Learned counsel for the appellant further submitted that as per prosecution case, the clothes of the accused were blood-stained, but the blood came on the clothes of the accused when he lifted the body of the deceased-father.

11. Learned counsel for the appellant next submitted that recovery of hammer, which is said to be used in the commission of the crime, is said to be on the pointing out of the accused, but in fact, the recovery is planted. A fake recovery memo is prepared by the police. Learned counsel made submission that no reliance can be placed on such type of recovery because there is no independent witness of the recovery. Section 27 of Arms Act cannot be made applicable because as per the statement of Investigating Officer, the accused had told him that he had hide out the hammer in the box, which is lying in the room adjacent to the kitchen of the house. Learned counsel argued when a particular place is disclosed by the accused then in that case weapon could be recovered by I.O. himself. There was no need to take the accused to that box and make the recovery on his pointing out. It is further submitted that no finger-prints were taken from the hammer.

12. Learned counsel for the appellant next submitted that as per prosecution story, the arrest of the case was made at the platform of the railway station by chauki in-charge of Government Railway Police and its entry was made in G.D. But neither the chauki in-charge was examined by the prosecution nor aforesaid GD was proved. Hence, prosecution has failed to prove the factum of place of arrest of the accused. Learned counsel submitted that in fact the accused was not in his house at the time of occurrence and had gone out, he came to his house after returning her mother.

13. Learned counsel for the appellant also submitted that learned trial court has wrongly invoked the provision of Section 106 of Indian Evidence Act,1872 because the burden to prove the case lies on the shoulders of prosecution, this burden cannot be shifted on the accused.

14. Lastly, learned counsel for the appellant submitted that there is no eyewitness of the occurrence of this case and it is a case of circumstantial evidence and chain of circumstances is not complete by the evidence led by the prosecution. There was no motive with the accused-appellant to commit the murder of his father. Recovery, as alleged, is also not proved and there was no recovery of any hammer on the pointing out of the accused rather PW3 has categorically stated in his evidence that he had seen the hammer near the dead-body. Place of arrest of the accused is also not proved. Hence, entire case rests upon suspicion and trial court has wrongly convicted and sentenced the accused.

15. Learned AGA submitted that the first information report was voluntarily lodged by the mother of the accused-appellant naming him. There was no pressure on complainant because FIR is very prompt. It was lodged on the same day just after one and half hour when the murder of her husband came into her knowledge. Hence, in such a prompt FIR, there was no occasion or reason with the complainant to falsely implicate her own son. Learned AGA further submitted that only the accused and his father were left at home when the complainant went to Nagar Palika for depositing the house tax. There was none other at the house, hence the burden shifts on the appellant to prove his innocence, but he could not discharge the burden under Section 106 of Indian Evidence Act,1872. Learned AGA also submitted that there is no cross-examination from the hostile witnesses that accused was not at home when his mother went out. Learned AGA next submitted that the recovery of hammer, which is used for commission of the crime was made on the pointing out of the accused-appellant because it was recovered from inside the house of the appellant and no other could know where the hammer lies. It is next submitted that the report of FSL also substantiates the fact that offence is committed by the appellant because human blood was found on the clothes of the appellant and on the recovered bed-sheet of the bed on which the body of the deceased was found.

16. Per contra, learned counsel for the appellant submitted that there was no such fact, which was in the special knowledge of the appellant, hence there is no applicability of Section 106 of the Indian Evidence Act and learned trial court had wrongly taken the recourse of said provision of law of evidence.

17. Accused-appellant is named in FIR. Although, the complainant, mother of the accused, has turned hostile, but the testimony of hostile witness cannot be appreciated only on the ground of hostility. That part of testimony of a hostile witness can be accepted, which supports the prosecution and that part can be relied upon. The maxim 'falsus in uno falsus in omnibus' is not applied in criminal law in India. The grain has be separated from the chaff. Needless to say that the testimony of hostile witnesses should be scrutinized meticulously and very cautiously.

18. Hon'ble Apex Court in Koli Lakhmanbhai Chandabhai vs. State of Gujarat [1999 (8) SCC 624], as held that evidence of hostile witness can be relied upon to the extent it supports the version of prosecution and it is not necessary that it should be relied upon or rejected as a whole. It is settled law that evidence of hostile witness also can be relied upon to the extent to which it supports the prosecution version. Evidence of such witness cannot be treated as washed off the record. It remains admissible in the trial and there is no legal bar to base his conviction upon his testimony if corroborated by other reliable evidence.

19. In Ramesh Harijan vs. State of U.P. [2012 (5) SCC 777], the Hon'ble Apex Court has also held that it is settled legal position that the evidence of a prosecution witness cannot be rejected in toto merely because the prosecution chose to treat him as hostile and cross-examined him. The evidence of such witness cannot be treated as effaced or washed off the record altogether.

20. In State of U.P. vs. Ramesh Prasad Misra and another [1996 AIR (Supreme Court) 2766], the Hon'ble Apex Court held that evidence of a hostile witnesses would not be totally rejected if spoken in favour of the prosecution or the accused but required to be subjected to close scrutiny and that portion of the evidence which is consistent with the case of the prosecution or defence can be relied upon. Thus, the law can be summarized to the effect that evidence of a hostile witness cannot be discarded as a whole, and relevant part thereof, which are admissible in law, can be used by prosecution or the defence.

21. It is stated by PW1, mother of the accused, that she was kept by police in police station through out the night and forcibly took her signature on written-report on the basis of which FIR was lodged. We are unable to rely on the aforesaid statement of the complainant because there is no evidence on record that she had ever made any complaint to higher authorities of police if her signature was taken forcibly on written-report. Moreover, there is also no evidence on record that her house was burgled and it cannot also be believed that to hide the offence of dacoity, police falsely implicated the accused through his mother. It is also pertinent to mention that the first information report was lodged very promptly as it was lodged just after one and half hour when the complainant first saw the dead-body of her husband. Hence, there was no opportunity or any reason with her to falsely implicate her son.

22. The complainant (PW1) although turned hostile, but in her examination-in-chief, she has corroborated the version of FIR to the extent that on the day of occurrence, she had gone to deposit the house-tax in Municipal Corporation and when she returned at about 2:50 p.m., the occurrence had already taken place. It is also admitted by her in cross-examination when she returned home, the accused was not at home. He came later on. It also indicates that after committing the offence, accused fled away. Hence, the version of FIR cannot be doubted even though the author has turned hostile.

23. It is admitted case that when the mother of the accused left home for Municipal Corporation, she left her husband and accused son at home. In examination-in-chief, the complainant (PW1) has specifically deposed as under:

"..... जब मैं हाऊस टैक्स भरने नगर निगम गई थी तो मैं अपने पति प्रेम किशन शर्मा व हाजिर अदालत मुल्जिम अनुराग को घर छोड़ कर गई थी।"

In her cross-examination also, she has accepted the suggestion of the public prosecutor when she was examined by him after being hostile. The relevant portion of it is quoted as under:

"..... यह कहना सही है कि मैं प्रेम किशन शर्मा व अनुराग शर्मा को घर पर घटना वाले दिन छोड़कर गयी थी क्योंकि अनुराग शर्मा का ईलाज चल रहा था।"

Hence, the mother of the deceased PW1 confirms the version of FIR that she had left deceased and accused at home and no one else was present there. It means that when the deceased was murdered, it was accused only, who was in the house with the deceased. Hence, Section 106 of the Indian Evidence Act comes into application.

24. Section 106 of the Indian Evidence Act,1872 reads as follows:

106. Burden of proving fact especially within knowledge.--When any fact is especially within the knowledge of any person, the burden of proving that fact is upon him. Illustrations*

(a) When a person does an act with some intention other than that which the character and circumstances of the act suggest, the burden of proving that intention is upon him.

(b) A is charged with travelling on a railway without a ticket. The burden of proving that he had a ticket is on him.

25. The Apex Court in Sabitri Samantaray vs. State of Odisha, AIR 2022 SC 2591 has also observed as under:

"18. Section 106 of the Evidence Act postulates that the burden of proving things which are within the special knowledge of an individual is on that individual. Although the Section in no way exonerates the prosecution from discharging its burden of proof beyond reasonable doubt, it merely prescribes that when an individual has done an act, with an intention other than that which the circumstances indicate, the onus of proving that specific intention falls onto the individual and not on the prosecution. If the accused had a different intention than the facts are specially within his knowledge which he must prove.

19. Thus, although Section 106 is in no way aimed at relieving the prosecution from its burden to establish the guilt of an accused, it applies to cases where chain of events has been successfully established by the prosecution, from which a reasonable inference is made out against the accused. Moreover, in a case based on circumstantial evidence, whenever an incriminating question is posed to the accused and he or she either evades response, or offers a response which is not true, then such a response in itself becomes an additional link in the chain of events. [See Trimukh Maroti Kirkan Vs. State of Maharashtra, (2006) 10 SCC 681]"

26. The accused has not discharged his burden under Section 106 of the Indian Evidence Act. In his statement under Section 313 Cr.P.C., he has taken a stand that his father was murdered during the robbery or dacoity in his house and police falsely implicated him to suppress this heinous crime, but no iota of evidence is on record regarding any robbery and dacoity in the house hence the appellant has failed to discharge his burden.

27. The recovery of hammer used for commission of the crime is made on the pointing out of the accused-appellant from a very specific and such place which was only in his knowledge. Recovery of hammer was made by Investigating Officer from the box, kept in the adjacent room of kitchen of the house of the accused. He had told to I.O. that he had hide out the hammer inside the box, which is kept in the adjacent room of the kitchen. Learned counsel for the appellant has submitted that as per prosecution version, the appellant had already told to the I.O., the specific place where he had hid the hammer, therefore, in such a situation this discovery cannot be turned as discovery under Section 27 of Indian Evidence Act.

28. Recently, while upholding the conviction, the Division Bench of this Court in Criminal Appeal No.2135 of 2013 has held in paragraph Nos.16, 17 & 27 as follows:

16. In the present case, the events complete the chain and, therefore, we are satisfied that the conviction of the accused-appellant requires to be upheld. Reference to the decision penned by His Lordship Justice M.R. Shah (as he then was) in the case of Nayan alias Yogesh Sevantibhai Soni Vs. State of Gujarat in Criminal Appeal No.37 of 2010 decided on 1.9.2015 where similar situation had arisen, reliance can be easily placed.

17. Reliance can be placed on the decision of the Apex Court in Raja @ Rajinder Vs. State of Haryana, JT 2015 (4) SC 57*. Relevant paragraph of the aforesaid judgment is as under :*

"14. Thus, if an accused person gives a statement that relates to the discovery of a fact in consequence of information received from him is admissible. The rest part of the statement has to be treated as inadmissible. In view of the same, the recovery made at the instance of the accused-appellant has been rightly accepted by the trial Court as well as by the High Court, and we perceive no flaw in it.

15. Another circumstance which has been taken note of by the High Court is that the blood-stained clothes and the weapon, the knife, were sent to the Forensic Science Laboratory. The report obtained from the Laboratory clearly shows that blood stains were found on the clothes and the knife. True it is, there has been no matching of the blood group. However, that would not make a difference in the facts of the present case. The accused has not offered any explanation how the human blood was found on the clothes and the knife. In this regard, a passage from John Pandian v. State [7] is worth reproducing:

"The discovery appears to be credible. It has been accepted by both the courts below and we find no reason to discard it. This is apart [pic]from the fact that this weapon was sent to the forensic science laboratory (FSL) and it has been found stained with human blood. Though the blood group could not be ascertained, as the results were inconclusive, the accused had to give some explanation as to how the human blood came on this weapon. He gave none. This discovery would very positively further the prosecution case."

In view of the aforesaid, there is no substantial reason not to accept the recovery of the weapon used in the crime. It is also apt to note here that Dr. N.K. Mittal, PW-1, has clearly opined that the injuries on the person of the deceased could be caused by the knife and the said opinion has gone unrebutted."

27. From the depositions of P.W.1, the prosecution is successful in establishing and proving that it was the accused who had moved with the deceased and that the dead body was that of the deceased whose missing report was filed.

29. We are unable to accept the submission of appellant because the place of hiding the hammer was only, only and only within the knowledge of the accused. It was not known to any other person. We are giving emphasis on the word 'only' as we interpret that place is only in the exclusive knowledge of the accused ruling out the possibility of anyone else knowledge. If the place of hiding the weapon is exclusively within the knowledge of accused and that place cannot be or is not in the knowledge of any other person and the weapon is recovered from the same place, such type of recovery is absolutely reliable and it cannot be doubted or it cannot be presumed that weapon is planted. In this case at hand, the hammer was recovered by IO after getting the knowledge from the appellant and at the time of the recovery IO took the appellant with him and appellant entrusted the hammer to the IO after taking out it from the box himself. The Investigating Officer (PW6) has also proved the factum of recovery in his testimony before the learned trial court. It is also pertinent to mention that the hammer was blood-stained. It was sent to FSL for chemical examination and the report of laboratory (Ex.ka11) also goes against the appellant because as per aforesaid report, the blood was found on the hammer.

30. Accused-appellant has tried to establish the fact that he was disabled to the tune of 60%. His disability is in one hand and one leg. This statement is made by appellant in his statement under Section 313 Cr.P.C. and to substantiate this fact a defence witness, namely, Dr.R.M. Gupta (DW3) is examined by accused. This witness was one of the signatories of disability certificate of the accused, but in his cross-examination by public prosecutor his testimony also goes against the accused-appellant, which is quoted as under:

"..... दायें हाथ से अभियुक्त लगभग 10 से 15 किलो वजन उठा सकता है। बायां हाथ ठीक है। दोनो हाथो को मिलाकर अभि० अनुराग 20 से 25 किलो वजन उठा सकता है। बांये हाथ से अभियुक्त सामान्य व्यक्ति की तरह वजन उठा सकता है तथा सामान्य व्यक्ति की तरह काम कर सकता है। अभियुक्त अपनी पे आ जाये, भारी तनाव व गुस्से में हठ इच्छा शक्ति के साथ हथौड़े से शरीर पर वार करके गम्भीर चोटें पहुँचा सकता है। अभियुक्त हथौड़ा उठाकर उसका इस्तेमाल करने में सक्षम है।"

31. Hence, learned trial court has rightly concluded that the accused was in a position to use the hammer so forcibly that the ante-mortem injuries mentioned in postmortem report could be inflicted.

32. Perusal of postmortem report shows that following ante-mortem injuries were found on the body of the deceased:

(i) A lacerated wound 6.0 cm x 5.0 cm on front of forehead, bone deep x muscle deep.

(ii) A lacerated would size 8.0 cm x 3.0 cm on right side of head 5.0 cm above on right ear

(iii) A lacerated wound size 4.0 cm x 1.0 cm right side of head just 9.0 cm above right ear.

(iv) A lacerated wound 4.0 cm x 1.0 cm on right side of head back to right ear.

33. Aforesaid ante-mortem injuries were such, which could be the result of use of hammer recovered on the pointing out of the accused. The doctor conducting the postmortem of the body has examined as PW7 and corroborated the fact that such kind of injuries could be inflicted with the help of a object like hammer. Hence, the medical evidence also corroborates the prosecution case.

34. The appellant had motive also to commit the crime as it is on record that the appellant was drug addict. In first information report, his mother has stated that he was drug addict and used to quarrel with his father to extract the money for the purpose. In her testimony, although she has retracted this statement, but she has admitted the suggestion of prosecution that for some time he had remained admitted in de-addiction centre.

35. Although the witnesses of fact PW1 and PW3 had turned hostile, their testimony supporting the prosecution case is there, which is rightly accepted by learned trial court. Moreover, nature of circumstantial evidence in this case is also before us.

36. In Anwar Ali and another vs. State of Himanchal Pradesh, (2020) 10 SCC 166, it was held by the Supreme Court that in case of circumstantial evidence, circumstances taken cumulatively, should form a chain so complete that there is no escape from the conclusion that within all human probability the cirme was committed by the accused and by none else and the circumstantial evidence in order to sustain the conviction must be complete and incapable of explanation to any other hypothesis than that of a guilt of the accused and such evidence should not only be consistent with the guilt of the accused, but should be inconsistent with his innocence.

37. Keeping in view the aforesaid position of law in the case at hand, the appellant had motive to commit the crime. PW1 and PW3 even after turning hostile has supported the prosecution version. Accused-appellant has failed to discharge his burden of proof under Section 106 of Indian Evidence Act, the weapon, namely, hammer used in the crime is also recovered on the pointing out of the appellant. Blood-stains on the hammer are confirmed by the FSL report. Medical evidence also supports the prosecution version as the ante-mortem injuries could be inflicted by the hammer recovered on the pointing out of the accused. No evidence is found with regard to robbery or dacoity in the house of the appellant. Appellant was not found in his house when the complainant returned and firstly saw the dead-body of her husband. Although the GD of arrest of the accused from the platform of railway station is not proved by the prosecution, but it may be laps on the part of the public prosecutor, which cannot shatter the prosecution case and we have to see the cumulative effect of entire evidence available on record. The Investigating Officer has deposed in his testimony that he had taken the appellant into the custody from the chauki of Government Railway Police for which entry was made in the GD. GD number and dates are also deposed by the Investigating Officer. Accused had also failed to substantiate his version under Section 313 Cr.P.C. that he was handicapped to the extent that he could not use the hammer, but his supporting witness, namely DW3 had also not supported the version rather deposed affirmatively in cross-examination that the accused could lift the weight measuring 15-20 kg. while it is in the evidence that the hammer in question was not more than 1 kg.

38. Hence, keeping in view the aforesaid circumstances of this case, the chain of circumstances is so complete and linked with each other that no doubt is left with regard to the guilt of the accused-appellant and the completion of chain of circumstances goes to prove beyond reasonable doubt that the offence is committed only by the appellant and by none else. Hence, the learned trial court has rightly convicted and sentenced the accused and appeal is liable to be dismissed.

39. Appeal sans merit and is, accordingly, dismissed.

(2022) 9 ILRA 1147
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 07.09.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE MANOJ MISRA, J.
THE HON'BLE SYED AFTAB HUSAIN RIZVI, J.

Criminal Appeal No. 8168 of 2008

Rakesh ...Appellant (In Jail)
Versus
State of U.P. ...Opposite Party

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri D.S. Parmar, Sri Asharfi Lal, Sri Ashok Pandey, Sri Brijesh Sahai, Sri Gopal Singh, Sri Sushil Kumar Dwivedi, Smt. Usha Srivastava, Sri Lal Chandra Misra

Counsel for the Opposite Party:
Govt. Advocate

(A) Criminal Law – Criminal Procedure Code, 1973 – Sections 161, 313 & 437(a) - Indian Penal Code, 1860 - Section – 326, 364-A - Arms Act, 1959 - Section 25 - Appeal against conviction and Sentence - offence of abduction of three person i.e. PW2 & PW3 and one minor child - unnamed FIR - Appreciation of evidence - abductees were abducted by one Balram Khangar and two members of his gang to whom he used to call by name of 'Raka' & 'Saka' - Eye-witnesses PW2 & PW3 were not examined during trial - complete guess work on the part of police by putting the name of appellant Rakesh for 'Raka' & Sattideen for 'Saka' - there is no material on record to showed how the police submitted charge sheet against Rakes (Appellant) when even his parentage & place of residence were not disclosed in any testimonies - further, police has not adopted neither test of identification pared nor dock identification for appellant as they have carried out in case of co-accused - no any recovery of cash - no any recovery of weapon used in crime - charges were framed against the appellant much before taking St.ments of eyewitnesses - prosecution appears to be hiding some relevant facts - all these things creates a serious doubt on the prosecution story - held - 'benefit of doubt' would goes in favour of accused appellant - impugned order of conviction is set aside - appellant shall be release forthwith subject to compliance of section 437-A of Cr.P.C.(Para 29, 30, 31)

Criminal Appeal is allowed. (E-11)

List of Cases cited:

1. Mulla& anr. Vs St. of U.P., (2010) 3 SCC 508,

2. Brij Mohan Vs St. of Raj., (!994) 1 SCC 413,

3. Mohd. Abdul Hafeez Vs St. Of Andhra Pradesh, 1983 (1) SCC 143.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Manoj Misra, J.)

1. This appeal is against the judgment and order dated 19.11.2008 passed by the Special Judge (Dacoity Affected Area), Hamirpur in Special Sessions Trial No. 70 of 1997 connected with Special Sessions Trial No. 29 of 1998, arising out case crime no.64 of 1997, P.S. Kurara, district Hamirpur, convicting and sentencing the appellant-Rakesh under Section 364-A IPC to imprisonment for life coupled with fine of Rs. 5,000/- and a default sentence of three months additional R.I. It be noted that the appellant was also tried for offence punishable under Section 326 I.P.C. but he was acquitted thereunder.

INTRODUCTORY FACTS

2. Dev Singh (PW-1) submitted a written report (Exb. Ka-1), dated 27.03.1997, scribed by Rihal Singh (not examined), at PS Kurara, district Hamirpur, on 27.03.1997, at 11 am, against unknown persons, giving rise to case crime No. 64 of 1997, under Section 364-A I.P.C. The GD entry of that report was made vide report no. 16 (Exb. Ka-4) and a Chik FIR (Exb. Ka-3) was also prepared. According to the FIR, in the evening of 26.03.1997 while informant's son Virendra Singh (PW-3) and informant's younger brother Guman Singh (PW-2) were returning from their field on their tractor, near Jalla canal culvert, the tractor developed a snag, as a result, PW-3, left PW-2 near the tractor, came to his house for help; thereafter, PW-3 and his uncle (Tau-Man Singh) (not examined) took another tractor, at about 10 pm, to tow-chain the other tractor. It is alleged that when they did not return, the informant went to look for them in the morning. At about 7 am, on 27.03.1997, informant found the two tractors parked near the culvert. He also noticed that there was no tow-chain lock put on the tractor that had developed a snag whereas the other tractor was standing with tow-chain on it. By narrating the above story and by alleging that despite hectic search the three persons could not be found, the FIR was lodged suspecting that informant's two brothers and his son have been abducted by unknown criminals for ransom.

3. After the FIR was lodged combing operation was conducted by the police but none could be found. On 29.03.1997, at Kasba Kurara in the Clinic of doctor Prajapati (not examined), two of the abductees, namely, Man Singh (not examined) and Guman Singh (PW-2) were noticed by the first investigating officer (I.O. - Sri Vijay Varma-PW-8). According to the first I.O. (PW-8), from the statement of Man Singh and Guman Singh, he could gather that Man Singh was released by the abductors in the night of 27.03.1997 to fetch Rs. 1.5 lacs for release of the other two abductees. Man Singh informed the first I.O. that Balram Khangar, who was known to him from before, with a rifle; a short-statured person, with rudimentary moustache, having a country made pistol, called once by Balram Khangar as Rakesh; and one dark complexion person with good height, having a country made rifle, called by the name Saka, were responsible for his abduction. Man Singh also informed the first I.O. that Balram Khangar, addressed the other two persons by the name of Raka and Saka; and that as the money could not be paid, Guman Singh's (PW-2's) left hand fingers, except thumb, were chopped off and he was released in the evening of 28.03.1997 on a condition that he would get Rs. 1.5 lacs or else his nephew (Virendra Singh - PW-3) would be cut into pieces. PW-8 disclosed that all the above facts were confirmed by Guman Singh (PW-2) whose statement he recorded. PW-8 also disclosed that Guman Singh had informed him that the ransom money had to be paid on 29.03.1997 between 9 and 11. On 29.03.1997, the first I.O. inspected the spot from where the abductees were abducted and prepared a site plan (Exb. Ka-8). On 30.03.1997 Virendra Singh (PW-3) earned his freedom. According to the first I.O., on 01.04.1997 the statement of the third abductee, namely, Virendra Singh was recorded.

4. In the meantime, medical examination of the two abductees, namely, Guman Singh (PW-2) and Virendra Singh (PW-3), was carried out. PW-2 was medically examined on 30.03.1997 by doctor R.S. Gupta (PW-6) at 3 pm. As per the injury report (Exb. Ka-5), PW-2 - Guman Singh was brought for medical examination by CP No. 195 Ravindra Singh of PS. Kurara. Injuries noticed were as follows:-

"Chopped wound in area of 10 cm x 10 cm x bone deep on the back of left hand with traumatic amputation of fingers of hand except thumb. All through metacarpal bones and tendons exposed. Wound infected with puss. Clotted blood present. Advise X-ray left hand.

OPINION

Above injury is caused by sharp edged weapon. Grevious in nature. Duration about two days old. Advise X-ray left hand."

5. Injury report of Virendra Singh (PW-3), which has been exhibited as Exb. Ka-6, was prepared by doctor R.S. Gupta (PW-6). It reveals that PW-3 was brought by CP No.195 Ravindra Singh and was medically examined on 30.03.1997 at 2.45 pm. Injuries noticed were as follows:-

"Complain of pain on the right arm. Complain of pain on the left side of chest. No external injury mark seen during examination time."

6. A supplementary injury report (Exb. Ka-2) of Guman Singh dated 31.03.1997 was obtained, which suggested that a radiological examination of the left hand was carried out. As per the report, 2, 3, 4th metacarpal bones were found cut/fractured. Fifth metacarpal bone was found missing. All the fingers except thumb were found missing.

7. The first I.O. (PW-8) conducted investigation and recorded statement of the witnesses including the abductee till he was transferred. Interestingly, during the course of his cross-examination, PW-8 stated as follows:-

"गवाहान देव सिंह, ओकार सिंह, शिव सिंह, हनूमान शरन मान सिंह गुमान सिंह वीरेन्द्र सिंह जिनके मैने बयान लिये है ने मुझे बलराम खंगरा के अलावा किसी अभियुक्त का नाम पता नही बताया था बल्कि यह बताया था कि सामने आने पर पहचान सकता हूं। किसी अपहृत व्यक्तियों ने मुझे बलराम के अलावा किसी बदमाश की वल्दियत व शकूनत नही बताई थी।"

8. On 30.09.1997, the investigation was taken over by PW-7. According to his testimony, the appellant Rakesh was arrested on 15.01.1998 by police of P.S. Khanna. Upon information, PW-7 went there to record his confessional statement. It is interesting to note that charge sheet against the appellant was submitted on 20.10.1997 by PW-7 vide Ex. Ka-7. What is also interesting is that PW-7 confirmed that neither Dev Singh (informant) nor the witnesses Man Singh, Guman Singh and Virendra Singh had disclosed the parentage of Rakesh or that Rakesh was known to them. PW-7 also stated that the witnesses had only told that Balram Khangar was calling one person by the name of Rakesh. After transfer of PW-7, the investigation of the case was taken over by Satish Chand Sagaun (PW-9). According to his testimony, he took over investigation of Case Crime No. 64 of 1997 on 30.03.1998. He took police custody remand of co-accused Sattideen and arranged for identification parade of Sattideen on 02.04.1998. He took the statement of Sattideen on 03.04.1998 and submitted charge-sheet No. 71-A/98 against Sattideen under Sections 364-A and 326 I.P.C which was marked Exhibit Ka-10. During cross-examination, PW-9 stated that when he took over investigation of the case, Sattideen was already in jail since 21.08.1998 and if he had been in jail since before, he was not aware of it. He stated that he had taken the witnesses to identify Sattideen in jail. He also admitted that the name of Sattideen had surfaced during the course of investigation conducted by the previous I.O. He stated that he had not recorded the statement of the Magistrate in whose presence the identification was carried out.

9. At this stage, it would be relevant to observe that the third accused, namely,

Balram Khangar was killed in an encounter and, therefore, he was not put to trial. Whereas, the appellant Rakesh and Sattideen were separately charge-sheeted giving rise to two special sessions trials, namely, 70 of 1997 and 29 of 1998, against Rakesh and Sattideen, respectively, which were consolidated. Charges were framed against the appellant accused on 15.06.1998. On denial of the charges, trial commenced. In these two trials, a common set of evidence was led by the prosecution.

PROSECUTION EVIDENCE

10. The prosecution examined as many as nine witnesses, namely, Dev Singh (PW-1 - informant); Guman Singh (PW-2, one of the abductees); Virendra Singh (PW-3, another abductee); Doctor Sita Ram Gupta (PW-4, radiologist who proved the supplementary report - Exb. Ka-2, already noticed above); Kishan Lal (PW-5 - constable who made GD entry of the written report and prepared Chik FIR thereof); Doctor R.S. Gupta (PW-6 who conducted medical examination of PW-2 and PW-3 and proved injury reports - Exb. Ka-5 and Exb. Ka-6, already noticed above); Harish Chand - PW-7 (the second investigating officer who submitted charge-sheet against the present appellant; relevant part of his testimony has already been noticed above); Vijay Verma (PW-8, the first investigating officer- relevant part of his testimony has already been noticed above); and Satish Chand Sagaun - PW-9, who submitted charge-sheet against co-accused Sattideen after carrying test identification parade, as already noticed above.

11. At this stage, it would be useful to notice the testimony of PW-1, PW-2 and PW-3 i.e. the witnesses of fact.

12. PW-1 - Dev Singh. (His statement in chief was recorded on 14.10.1998). He is the informant. He reiterated the allegations made in the first information report and proved the written report, which was marked Exhibit Ka-1. Apart from above, he stated that on the date of the incident, his son Virendra Singh had taken the tractor at 2 pm and had returned at 8.30 p.m. to inform PW-1 that he is going back with the other tractor to tow-chain the faulty tractor.

During cross-examination, PW-1 stated that after his son and brothers were abducted, he had searched for them but could get no information about them. When he did not get any information about them, he came to believe that they have been abducted. Interestingly, in his entire deposition, PW-1 made no statement with regard to the demand of ransom for release of the abductees.

13. PW-2 - Guman Singh. (His statement in chief was recorded on 31.08.1999). He stated that in the night of 26.03.1997, he and his brother Man Singh and his nephew Virendra Singh were abducted. Prior to that, on 26.03.1997, at about 5 pm, Virendra Singh had loaded his tractor with "Laakh" (a kind of crop). On way, the tractor developed a fault. Virendra (PW-3) went home to fetch another tractor. PW-2 stayed with the tractor. At quarter to 10 in the night, Virendra came with the other tractor. Along with him, Man Singh (not examined) was also there. With the help of the other tractor, an effort was made to tow-chain the tractor which had developed fault. At that moment, three criminals came. They were Balram Khangar, Raka and Saka. They abducted PW-2, PW-3 and Man Singh. They took the abductees to the jungle and kept them in the jungle through out the day. In the night, at about 9 pm, near the Naala adjoining the Betwa river, Man Singh (not examined) was released on a condition that he would get Rs. 1.5 lacs for release of the remaining two abductees. Then Balram left. The remaining two abductees were taken to another place by Raka and Saka awaiting return of Balram. When Balram returned, he gave strict instructions that only when money is received, the abductees should be released. After giving such instructions, Balram left again. Raka and Saka took the two abductees to Bajeraha jungle, near Sher Mata temple. At this stage, it would be appropriate to extract relevant portion of the statement of PW-2 made during the course of trial:-

''इतना कहने के बाद बलराम चला गया था। तथा राका व उसका साथी साका हम लोगो को लेकर आधी रात के समय बजेहरा के जंगल मे शेर माता के मंदिर के पश्चिम पहुॅचे थे और ऑखो में पट्टी बांध कर व पैरो को बांध कर हम लोगो को डाल दिया था। रात को कुछ भी खाना नही दिया था। दिनांक 28.3.97 को बलराम नही लौटा था। दोनो बदमाशो ने हमारी पट्टी खोली थी तथा निगरानी करते रहे थे। फिर शाम को 5 बजे के करीब जंगल मे हम लोगो के पास लौटा था और आते ही कहा था कि इन सालो को बांध दो और अभी गोली मारता हूं। और कहा कि इसके भाई ने धोखा दिया है और पैसा नहीं दिया है और पुलिस से मिल गया है मै किसी तरह पुलिस के पकड़ने से बच गया हूं। फिर बलराम को मारने वीरेन्द्र का दाहिना हाथ कन्धे से काटने के लिये कहा तब मैने कहा था कि मेरा हाथ काट लो पर मेरे भतीजा का हाथ मत काटो। इस पर ट्रैक्टर पर रखा हमारा फर्सा को बदमाश उठा कर ले आये थे उसको बलराम ने लेकर मेरे बांये हाथ की ऊंगली टुकड़ो मे काटना शुरु कर दिया था। और लम्बा वाला बदमाश मेरे पीठ के पीछे रायफल सटाये कहता था कि शोर किया तो गोली मार दूंगा। तथा बलराम कह रहा था कि यह मेरी तीसरी अदालत है एक अदालत उपर है दूसरी नीचे है और तीसरी मेरी अदालत है मै जो कहता हूं वही होता है और मेरे दांये हाथ के अंगूठे को छोड़कर ऊंगलियो समेत पंजे को काट डाला था। और उस काटने के बाद बलराम ने कहा कि कल तेरे भतीजे की बोटी बोटी काटकर बेतवा नदी मे फिंकवा दूंगा तो मैने बलराम से कहा था कि उसको मारना पीटना नहीं मै पैसा लाकर दूंगा, मुझे छोड़ दो तब बलराम ने कहा था एक दिन मे अपनी पट्टी करा लेना व दूसरे दिन यानि 29 तारीख की रात को 9 बजे डेढ़ लाख रुपया लेकर तुम बैलगाड़ी मे बैठकर और उसकी बांस बल्ली निकला कर बांये तरफ पहिये के पास पटीले पर जलती हुई टार्च को नीचे की तरफ करके अकेले आना किसी को साथ लेकर नहीं आना। फिर मुझे जाने के लिये कहा। मै किसी तरह आधी रात को 12 बजे अपने घर पहुंचा।''

After stating as above, PW-2 stated that after reaching home at midnight, he went with his son Bhupa Singh (not examined) to have his hand bandaged. Thereafter, PW-2 stated as follows:-

''फिर मेरा भतीजा दिनांक 30.3.97 को बदमाशो के चंगुल को किसी तरह छूट कर आया था। जब बदमाश पकड़कर ले गये थे उन बदमाशो मे से मै बलराम खंगार व राकेश को पहले से जानता था। बलराम गैंग ग्राम जल्ला के पास आता जाता था। व जल्ला मे मेरी खेती है। तभी मैने राकेश व बलराम को कई बार देखा व पहचाना है। तीसरे बदमाश की शिनाख्त करने मै जिला कारागार हमीरपुर गया था। और वहां उसकी सही शिनाख्त की थी। वह आज हाजिर अदालत मे है। गवाह ने अभियुक्त सत्तीदीन को देखकर न्यायालय मे शिनाख्त की और कहा कि यह वही अभियुक्त है जिसकी मैने जिला कारागार मे शिनाख्त की थी। एवं दूसरे हाजिर अदालत अभियुक्त को देखकर कि यह राकेश है जिसकी सही शिनाख्त की।

During cross-examination at the instance of Sattidin, PW-2 stated that accused Balram Khangar called the other two accused by the name of Raka and Saka. PW-2 clarified that he was released on 28.03.1997 whereas his nephew was released on 30.08.1997; he met the I.O. on 29.03.1997; that day, his statement was recorded. On that day, statement of his brother Man Singh was also recorded. On 30.03.1997, he again went to Balram and delivered ransom. He went there alone. He stated that he, Man Singh and Virendra Singh were all abducted on 26.03.1997. When they were abducted, the abductors had only tied their hands. He stated that when the accused had taken them to the jungle, they had not blind folded them. Immediately thereafter, he stated as follows:-

"रात को चेहरा नहीं दिखता था दिन के पट्टी बाधी थी। मै शिनाख्त के हमीरपुर एक बार आया था। यह कहना गलत है कि मै शिनाख्त के लिये दो बार आया था। दिनांक 25.3.98 को हम लोग शिनाख्त के लिये हमीरपुर नही आये थे। यह कहना गलत है कि मै उक्त तारीख को अदालत हाजिर आया हूं व उक्त तारीख को मैने अदालत मे मुल्जिमानो को देखा है। घटना के तीन महीना बाद हमे पता चल गया था कि मुल्जिम पकड़ गया है जिसकी हमे शिनाख्त करना है। शिनाख्त करने के लिये जाने वाली बात मुझे दरोगा जी ने बतलाई थी। दरोगा जी ने यह बताया था कि सत्तीदीन की शिनाख्त करने जाना है। दरोगा जी के बताने के बाद मैने शिनाख्त की थी।"

On further cross-examination at the instance of the counsel representing Sattideen, PW-2 stated as follows:-

"यह कहना गलत है कि अभियुक्त सत्तीदीन को पहले से जानता था। यह भी कहना गलत है कि दरोगा जी ने मुझे अभियुक्त सत्तीदीन को पहले से पहचनवा दिया हो। अज खुद कहा कि मेरा भाई मान सिंह व दरोगा जी फिरोती लेकर डेढ़ लाख रुपया लेकर आ रहे थे वह पैसा नहीं आ पाया था तब दुबारा मै पैसा लेकर गया था। अगर दरोगा जी ने मेरे ब्यान मे फिरौती देने वाली बात न लिखी हो तो मै उसकी वजह नही बतला सकता।"

During cross-examination, at the instance of accused Rakesh (the appellant), PW-2 specifically stated that after March 29, 1997, the I.O. did not record any further statement of PW-2 though he had met the I.O. thereafter. At this stage, the witness was confronted with an omission in his earlier statement, made during the course of investigation, wherein he had not stated that he knew Rakesh from before. Upon this, PW-2 stated as follows:-

" राकेश को पहले से पहचानने वाला ब्यान मैने दरोगा जी को दिया था यदि उन्होने न लिखी हो तो उसकी कोई वजह मै नही बतला सकता।"

The witness denied the suggestion that what he has stated in Court is for the first time, on being tutored.

At this stage, the witness was confronted with another piece of his previous statement, under Section 161 Cr.P.C. The extracted portion of the previous statement and PW-2's response is reproduced below:-

" मैने दरोगा जी को यह बयान कि "एक बदमाश जो काले रंग का था, मूंछ निकल रही थी जो कट्टा 315 बोर लिये था जिसका नाम राकेश मालूम हुआ। बलराम उसको राका के नाम से पुकारता था।" मैने दरोगा जी को नहीं दिया था, दरोगा जी ने पता नहीं कैसे लिख दिया।"

After stating as above, PW-2 stated that he knew Balram from before. Balram used to visit his village though he did not know the name of Balram's father. He stated that sometimes there were four and sometimes six persons accompanying Balram. Amongst them, he knew Rakesh but he did not know anybody else. He stated that he has seen Rakesh at Hamirpur and he had informed the I.O. about having seen Rakesh at Hamirpur but if that had not been mentioned by the I.O., he cannot give reason for the same. He stated that Rakesh is a resident of Mohar Purwa. He does not know whether Mohar Purwa is 15 km east of Sumerpur. He stated that Shivpal Singh is his relative in Chandpurwa. But he is not aware whether Rakesh has relations at Chandpurwa. At this stage, the witness stated that 2-3 months after the incident, Balram was killed in an encounter in village Khaderi Lodhan and with him six persons of his gang, namely, Kariya, Chote Lal, Smt. Guddi, Smt. Rekha and Bhura were killed. After stating as above, the witness stated that now the entire gang of Balram has been killed. The witness also stated that few months after the encounter of Balram, he got information that Rakesh has been chalaned under Section 25 Arms Act. He, however, denied the suggestion that after challan of Rakesh under Section 25 Arms Act, he came to know that there is an associate of Balram by the name of Rakesh. He denied the suggestions that accused Rakesh and Sattideen were not involved in the abduction; that Balram and his associates had not assaulted them; that he falsely implicated Rakesh at the instance of his relations in village Chandpurwa.

14. PW-3 - Virendra Singh - another abductee. (His statement in chief was recorded on 31.08.1999). After narrating the FIR story, he stated that he arrived at the spot, at about 10 pm, with Man Singh. When he was tow-chaining the faulty tractor, his uncle Guman Singh and Man Singh were present. Then criminals came from village Jalla and started abusing and threatening the abductees by saying that if they run, they will be killed. One criminal was wearing black Pathani suit with red bandana on head. He was Balram Khangar, whom PW-3 knew from before. The other was a short height man, wearing pant shirt, his name was Raka; and the third was a tall person, whose name he did not know. He stated that he knew Raka from before. He identified the accused Rakesh in court and stated that he is Raka, who was involved in his abduction. He stated Raka is the alias name of Rakesh. He stated that initially he saw the accused in the back light of the tractor and, thereafter, he saw them again while they were in the jungle and the temple. PW-3 stated that criminal Balram had a rifle. In so far as the other two criminals were concerned, one was having a country made pistol whereas the other was having a country made rifle. He stated that he visited district jail Hamirpur to identify one of the two accused and could identify him. He stated that the accused whom he had identified, is not currently present in Court. His name is Sattideen. He stated that Balram used to call Sattideen as Saka and Rakesh as Raka. He stated that the accused had snatched lathi of his uncle and had assaulted him. Thereafter, the accused took them to the jungle. The entire night they roamed in the jungle. Next day morning, at about 4-5 am, they brought them (abductees) near a temple. The abductees were dumped in a Naala (ditch). At that time, their hands were tied and they were blind folded. PW-3 stated that the accused had kept them there till night and in the night of 27.03.1997, took them to the banks of a river. There, the accused, released Man Singh and asked him to fetch Rs. 1.5 lacs for release of the other two. The accused had warned that if the money is not brought, they will kill the other two. He stated that, at that time, it must have been 9-11 pm in the night. Thereafter, the accused took the remaining two abductees including PW-3 to Barauli Ghat and after crossing it, they took them to Baraitha Jungle. At Baraitha jungle, the abductors waited for Man Singh to arrive; at that time, there were just two abductors. The third abductor, namely, Balram, after instructing Man Singh to fetch ransom money, had left the spot and had instructed the other two abductors to keep the other two abductees in the jungle till he returns. When Balram returned, he told his other two associates that Man Singh has not kept his promise and appears to have informed the police, as a result, the abductors assaulted the two abductees and threatened to cut their hand. When the abductees were being assaulted, PW-2 pleaded that they should leave his nephew (PW-3) unscathed though they may chop off his hand. On this suggestion, the abductors, cut four fingers of the left hand of PW-2 with the aid of a farsa. At this stage, PW-3 informed the Court that at the time when his uncle's fingers were chopped, accused Rakesh had caught hold PW-3 and was having a country made pistol to threaten him. PW-3 stated that when his uncle (PW-2) was released by the abductors, Balram had instructed that if he does not get the money, then his nephew would be cut to pieces, which would be thrown in the village. Abductor Balram had also instructed PW-2 as to how he should the get money. PW-3 further stated that after his uncle (PW-2) was released, the accused, at about 8 pm, had taken him to Sahurapur village jungle where they kept him in a vacant field. The statement made by PW-3 in this regard, as stated in Court, is being extracted below:-

''चाचा को छोड़ने के बाद बदमाश मुझे रात मे आठ बजे के करीब उक्त जंगल से सुतामापुर के जंगल मे लेकर आये थे। जहां खाली खेत मे बदमाश मुझे काफी समय तब बिठाले रख्खे। बाद में खाली खेत मे मुझे दौड़ाते रहे और मुझसे दिशाये पूछते रहे। बाद मे मुझे सहुरापुर गांव के जंगल मे ले गये। और बाद मे मुझे वापस मोरा काडर गांव के जंगल मे ले आये।''

After stating as above, PW-3 stated as follows:-

'थोड़ी देर बाद बदमाशो ने आपस मे बातचीत करते हुए कहा कि लगता है कि पुलिस आ रही है। और मुझे छोड़कर भाग गये। थोड़ी देर बाद मेरे चाचा ने आकर मेरे हाथ व पैर खोले और अपने साथ घर लिवा लाये। बदमाश मुझे छोड़कर करीब आधी रात के बाद भागे थे। सही समय मै नहीं जान पाया था।''

During cross-examination, PW-3 stated that at the time of abduction, the night was dark; it must have been 9-10 pm; in the darkness one could not recognise a person from a distance; when the accused had arrived, the light of both the tractors were on; crop was loaded on the tractor of PW-3; the other tractor was brought by Man Singh; the accused wore turbans but had not covered their faces.

PW-3 also stated that the accused had not blind folded him though had tied him. He stated that he knew Balram from before; he used to sell Chana (grams); that the entire gang of Balram has been finished off; that accused Sattideen was arrested by the police but he does not remember as to how many days after the incident he was arrested. In respect of identification exercise, PW-3 stated that persons to be identified were standing in one line; there were 7-8 persons; and none had covered their faces; that S.O. Kurara had brought him to the jail to identify the accused; and at the place of identification, S.O. Kurara was also sitting.

On further cross-examination, he stated that his sister is married to Gulzar Singh in village Pipreda; that he used to visit that village and had learnt that Sattideen was a resident of that village. He denied the suggestion that Sattideen was not involved in the abduction. He also denied the suggestion that he identified Sattideen at the instance of the police.

During cross-examination at the instance of accused-appellant Rakesh, PW-3 stated as follows:-

''मेरा बयान दरोगा जी ने घटना के दूसरे दिन लिया था। इस वक्त मुझे दरोगा जी का नाम याद नही है। बयान एक दरोगा जी ने लिया था। दोबारा किसी दारोगा ने घटना के बारे मे मेरा बयान नहीं लिया। मुल्जिम राकेश का नाम बलराम के बताने पर लिया था राकेश के बाप का नाम व गांव का नाम नही मालूम। राकेश का नाम यदि बलराम न बताता तो मुझे उसका नाम पता न चलता। इस घटना के पहले मेरी राकेश से कभी मुलाकात नही हुयी न मैने उसे कही कभी देखा सुना। मैने अपने बयान मे मुल्जिम राकेश का नाम नहीं बताया था।''

At the fag end of his cross-examination, the witness stated as follows:-

''यह बात सही है कि मैने न्या0 मे राकेश का नाम घटना मे शामिल होने के बाबत पहली बार कही है। मै बलराम व सत्तीदीन को पहले से जानता था।''

STATEMENT U/s 313 CrPC

15. The incriminating circumstances appearing in the prosecution evidence against the appellant were put to the appellant for recording his statement under Section 313 Cr.P.C. The appellant denied the incriminating circumstances and claimed that he has been falsely implicated by the police to show their good work.

TRIAL COURT FINDING

16. The trial court convicted the appellant-Rakesh on the basis of the testimony of PW-2 and PW-3 as well as dock identification. However, co-accused Sattideen was acquitted upon finding that the test identification parade was not in accordance with law.

17. We have heard Sri Ashok Pandey for the appellant and Ms. Kumari Meena, learned A.G.A. for the State and have perused the record.

SUBMISSIONS ON BEHALF OF THE APPELLANT

18. The learned counsel for the appellant submitted that admittedly the FIR was against unnamed accused; during the course of investigation, on 29.03.1997 the statement of eye-witnesses PW-2 and PW-3 as well as Man Singh (who has not been examined during trial), were recorded; in their statement they had not disclosed the name with parentage and place of residence of any of the accused except Balram; they had only stated that if those accused are produced before them, they can identify them therefore, on what basis, the charge-sheet was submitted against the accused-appellant, even before his arrest, is a mystery. None of the investigating officers, who were examined by the prosecution, has stated as to when he could fix the identity of the accused Raka, as called by the main accused Balram, as Rakesh (the present appellant). It was submitted that if the other co-accused Saka @ Sattideen was charge-sheeted only after identification, what was the reason to charge-sheet Rakesh without putting him for identification. This by itself casts a serious doubt on the truthfulness of the prosecution case as against the appellant.

19. Learned counsel for the appellant submitted that as per prosecution story coming through eyewitnesses PW-2 and PW-3, the abductees were abducted on 26.03.1997 in the night, which was dark, and, thereafter, were taken to a jungle in the night; next day, they were dumped in a Naala; whereafter, one abductee, namely, Man Singh (not examined) was released in the evening of 27.03.1997 with instructions to get ransom money; when Man Singh did not get money, other abductee, namely, PW-2, was released, after chopping fingers of his left hand. PW-2 too, was released in the night. At one stage in the testimony of PW-3, it has come that the abductees were blind folded and at another stage it has come that they were not blind folded but their hands and feet were tied. It was submitted that from the statement of PW-3 it appears that when the second abductee was released, PW-3 was taken to a field where he was asked to run and tell the directions. This statement of PW-3 would suggest that PW-3 was kept blind folded otherwise, there was no occasion for the abductors to ask him to tell the direction in which he was running. The circumstances of the case suggest that the abductors abducted the abductees in the night, which was dark; the abductors thereafter traveled across the jungle with the abductees who were kept blind folded; thereafter, one of the abductee, namely, Man Singh was released in the night of 27.03.1997; the second abductee was released in the night of 28.03.1997, after his fingers were chopped; and the third abductee was not released by the abductors but could manage to escape, either on his own, or with the effort of the police, or otherwise. The sequence of events and the manner in which the abductees were kept clearly suggest that the abductors had taken due precaution to hide their identity.

20. It was submitted that from the statement of PW-3 it appears he could somehow escape from the clutches of the abductors. It also appears from his statement that the accused had left him by saying that the police has arrived and only when he was abandoned by the abductors, his uncle had arrived to untie his hands and feet. According to PW-3, he was abandoned by the abductors at about midnight. It was submitted that from the statement of PW-3 it does not appear that ransom was paid. Moreover, the date of PW-3's release is not specifically there in his statement but as PW-3 was examined for his injuries at 2.45 pm on 30.03.1997, it appears he must have been released on or about midnight of 29/30.03.1997. All these circumstances would suggest that all relevant events took place in the darkness of night, which is indicative of the fact that the abductors took precaution to hide their identity.

21. Learned counsel for the appellant also submitted that from the statement of PW-8, it appears, the statement of PW-3 was recorded on 01.04.1997 and, thereafter, no statement of PW-3 was recorded. Interestingly, PW-8 stated that except for the name of Balram Khangar, none of the abductors' name was disclosed by PW-3 or any of the eye-witnesses. They had only disclosed that they could recognise the accused if produced before them. Thus, in absence of test identification parade, there appears no basis for the investigating officer to make the appellant an accused. It has been submitted that this is a case where the appellant was made accused to show good work and, thereafter, he was shown to the eye witnesses, and by tutoring the witnesses, a dock identification was effected, which resulted in conviction. It has been submitted that such belated dock identification, particularly, when the abduction took place in the night and the abductees were kept tied and one of the abductees stated that they were blind folded, dock identification for the first time in court after more than 2 years of the incident is unreliable and cannot form the basis of conviction. It has been submitted that the trial court committed manifest error in convicting the accused-appellant. It was thus prayed that the judgment and order of conviction be set aside and the appellant be acquitted of the charges for which he has been tried.

SUBMISSIONS ON BEHALF OF THE STATE

22. Per contra, the learned A.G.A. submitted that it is a case where one of the abductees had lost his fingers; the medical examination report proved that the fingers of PW-2's left hand were chopped; the evidence led before the Court clearly disclose that the abductees were kept by the abductors for as long as two days and therefore, they had every opportunity to carefully memorise the face of the accused and recognise the accused, whenever required; hence, even if there had been no test identification parade for the appellant, as the appellant has been identified during the course of trial by an injured witness who has also proved that there had been a demand of ransom under threat of extermination, the trial court rightly convicted the appellant. Learned A.G.A. further submitted that although it may not have come in the deposition of the investigating officer as to on what basis the appellant was charge-sheeted but from the material brought on case diary it appears that the parentage of the accused was fixed on the basis of information received. Therefore, merely because there was no disclosure of the parentage by the eyewitnesses, it cannot be a ground to disbelieve the prosecution case against the appellant or extend the benefit of doubt to him. Learned A.G.A., accordingly, pleaded that the appeal be dismissed and the judgment and order of conviction recorded by the trial court be affirmed.

ANALYSIS

23. On a careful consideration of the rival submissions and the entire prosecution evidence, there are certain features of the case which stand out and have a material bearing on the evaluation of the evidence. We, therefore, enumerate them herein below:-

(i) Abduction took place in the night of 26/27.03.1997 any time after 10 pm and before 7 am;

(ii) The first information report was lodged on 27.03.1997 at 11.00 am by PW-1, father of PW-3 and brother of the other two abductees, against unknown persons in respect of abduction of three persons;

(iii) The first abductee, namely, Man Singh, who has not been examined, was released in the night of the day following the day of abduction i.e. in the night of 27.03.1997. This abductee was released to fetch ransom money of Rs. 1.5 lacs for release of the remaining two;

(iv) When Man Singh could not get ransom, one of the other two remaining abductees, namely, Guman Singh (PW-2), was released in the night of 28.03.1997, after chopping his left hand fingers. The left hand fingers were chopped by Balram Khangar (non-appellant) with a warning that if he does not bring the ransom money then the other abductee, namely, Virendra Singh (P.W.-3), nephew of PW-2, would be cut into pieces;

(v) Guman Singh (PW-2) reached home at about midnight of 28/29.03.1997;

(vi) On 29.03.1997, according to the testimony of PW-8 (the first I.O.), at Kasba Kurara, in the clinic of doctor Prajapati (not examined), PW-8 met Man Singh (not examined) and Guman Singh (PW3) and recorded their statement;

(vii) According to PW-2, in his statement made during cross-examination, the ransom was arranged and paid on 30.03.1997 whereafter, PW-3 managed to escape. But how the ransom money was arranged and when, and to whom, it was handed over is not disclosed by PW-2 in his testimony. Interestingly, PW-3, in his testimony, states that just before he was released he could hear the abductors conversing inter se that the police is coming therefore, sensing danger from the police, the abductors escaped and soon thereafter PW-3's uncle, namely, PW-2, arrived and untied his hands and feet to take him home and he reached home by about midnight. The discrepancy in the statement of PW-2 and PW-3 in respect of how the release of PW-3 was secured, in absence of details in the testimony of PW-2 as to how the ransom money was arranged and paid, bearing in mind that there is no disclosure about it by PW-1, lead us to infer that release of PW-3 was secured without payment of ransom money, may be, because, the abductors sensing danger of a police intervention left the spot, leaving PW-3 behind; and

(viii) The statement of PW-2 and Man Singh was recorded, under section 161 CrPC, on 29.03.1997 and not any time thereafter, as is confirmed by the statement of the I.O. Notably, in his previous statement, with which PW-2 was confronted, PW-2 had not stated that he knew Rakesh (the appellant) from before; PW-2 had also not disclosed the parentage and the address of the accused-appellant Rakesh. Likewise, in the previous statement of PW-3, as it appears from the statement of the I.O. (PW-8), it was not disclosed that he knew Rakesh (the appellant) from before. PW-3, in his previous statement, had only stated that if that person is produced before him he would recognise that person.

24. Having noticed the key features in the prosecution evidence, we find that neither PW-2 nor PW-3 had disclosed the name of Rakesh with parentage and place of residence to the I.O. during the course of investigation. The names disclosed were of Balram Khangar, a dreaded criminal, who was later killed in an encounter with all his gang members, and of Raka and Saka, as Balram used to address them. Even assuming for the time being that Raka was abbreviated version of Rakesh, the name Rakesh is a common name. More than one Rakesh would be found present in a given locality. Notably, Rakesh was charge-sheeted in the case even before he was arrested. Thus, on what basis Rakesh (the appellant) was made an accused and charge-sheeted is a mystery to us. The obvious question therefore that arises for our consideration is whether to solve out the case, the I.O., on his own, picked up Rakesh, the appellant, and, thereafter, evidence was created. Importantly, even after his arrest, no effort was made to put Rakesh, the appellant, for test identification parade. In these circumstances, the crux of the matter is whether the dock identification for the first time in court after more than two years of the incident could be considered reliable so as to sustain conviction.

25. A test identification parade is an investigative step. Failure to hold test identification parade does not make the evidence of identification in court inadmissible. Where an unknown accused is put to a test identification parade, the result thereof serves as a material to corroborate or discredit the dock identification during the course of trial. To ensure that the result of test identification is not an outcome of tutoring, it is desirable to hold it as soon as possible after arrest of the accused. In Mulla and Another v. State of U.P., (2010) 3 SCC 508, in paragraph 45, it was observed by the Supreme Court that "it is desirable that a test identification parade should be conducted as soon possible after the arrest of the accused. This becomes necessary to eliminate the possibility of the accused being shown to the witnesses prior to the test identification parade. This a very common plea of the accused and, therefore, the prosecution has to be cautious to ensure that there is no scope for making such allegation. If, however, circumstances are beyond control and there is some delay, it cannot be said to be fatal to the prosecution." In Brij Mohan v. State of Rajasthan, (!994) 1 SCC 413, the Supreme Court held that sometimes the crime itself is such that it creates a deep impression on the mind of the witness who had an occasion to see the culprits, such a deep impression is not erased within a short period of few months. In Mohd. Abdul Hafeez vs State Of Andhra Pradesh, 1983 (1) SCC 143, in a case related to robbery, a dock identification of the accused for the first time during trial after a lapse of four months was not considered reliable.

26. In our view, where an unknown accused has not been put to test identification parade before a witness, the delay in dock identification by that witness would have a material bearing on the trustworthiness of the testimony of that witness, particularly, where that witness got opportunity only to have a fleeting glance of the accused. In a case where the witness as a victim of the crime had been in the company of the accused for a prolonged period, the features of the accused may get imprinted in the memory of that witness. In such a case, therefore, merely on the ground of delay in dock identification, the testimony of the witness cannot be discarded if it appears truthful and trustworthy.

27. In the instant case, PW-2 and PW-3 had been with their abductors for a reasonably prolonged period. PW-2 remained with the abductors from the night of 26.03 1997 till the night of 28.03.1997 whereas PW-3 remained with them till the night of 29.03.1997. In the circumstances, we cannot discard the dock identification made by them only on the ground of delay. But what troubles us is that if neither PW-2, nor PW-3 or Man Singh (who has not been examined), had stated before the I.O. that they knew Rakesh (the appellant) from before, and they had also not disclosed to the I.O. the parentage and the address of the appellant-Rakesh, what was the basis to submit a charge-sheet against the appellant even before his arrest and not to put him to test identification parade after his arrest. Another aspect that troubles us is, that, if the I.O. had thought it appropriate to conduct test identification parade for co-accused Sattideen, what was the reason for him not to follow the same procedure in respect of Rakesh (appellant). All of this casts a serious doubt with regard to the fairness of the investigation .

28. Ordinarily, lapses on the part of the investigating agency is not fatal to the prosecution case where the prosecution case is based on eye-witness account. But, here, the eye-witnesses have not even given the details of the accused so as to enable the investigating agency to put him on the dock. In such circumstances, we would have to carefully scrutinise and evaluate the testimony of these eye-witnesses to rule out possibility of false implication at the instance of the investigating agency to give closure to the case. On a careful scrutiny of the testimony of PW-2 and PW-3 what is clear is that the abductees were abducted in the night; they were released, one by one in the night hours, and they were being shifted from one isolated place to another. Witnesses have also deposed that the abductors were wearing bandanas and at one place use of turbans by them has also been indicated. These circumstances would indicate that there was an effort on the part of the abductors to avoid public contact. In the testimony of PW-3 it has come that he was asked by the abductors to run in a field and tell the directions. This circumstance would suggest that at some stage PW-3 was blind-folded. There are certain aspects, such as, whether the abductees were kept blind-folded; whether ransom was paid; and as to how abductees could gather that Raka stood for Rakesh, where the testimony of PW-2 and PW-3 is not consistent qua each other. Notably, PW-2 and PW-3 are inconsistent in respect of the mode and manner in which PW-3 was released. PW-2 speaks of release of PW-3 after payment of ransom money, the arrangement of which is not proved by any cogent evidence; whereas, PW-3 states that the accused left him sensing danger that the police had arrived. If it had been the case of PW-2 that after payment of ransom, the accused left PW-3 and thereafter PW-2 went to PW-3 to untie and free him, we might have believed the testimony of PW-2, in that regard. But, here, PW-2 states that PW-3 somehow managed to escape whereas PW-3 states that he was untied by PW-2 when the accused had left him sensing danger from the police. Further, PW-2 and PW-3 are inconsistent in respect of their statement that they knew the accused-appellant (Rakesh) from before. These two witnesses, during the course of investigation, had stated only this much that they could recognise the accused if they were brought before them. In these circumstances, the testimony of PW-2 and PW-3 is not wholly reliable with regard to the involvement of the appellant in the crime therefore, to act upon their testimony some corroboratory material was required.

29. In the instant case, the prosecution set up a story that cash of Rs. 1.5 lac was to be paid by way of ransom but there is no recovery of any such cash. Further, the police witnesses examined during the course of trial, have not disclosed about the criminal antecedents of the current appellant except that the appellant was also involved in a case under Section 25 Arms Act. Interestingly, from the statement of PW-7 it appears that the appellant was arrested in connection with a case under Arms Act on 15.01.1998 at police station Khanna and when he came to know about it, he went there to record his statement. Importantly, charge-sheet was submitted against the appellant before that date. Further, though the accused-appellant is stated to be member of a gang of one Balram Khangar but there is no evidence brought by the prosecution that Balram and the appellant were residents of the same village; and that they jointly participated in various other criminal activities of which there were reports. There is thus no evidence to lay a foundation that the appellant was part of the gang of Balram Khangar. Interestingly, the prosecution witnesses have admitted that the entire gang of Balram has been exterminated in an encounter 2-3 months after the incident. If the entire gang of Balram Khangar had been killed, how the appellant was left to survive. In such circumstances, we have to carefully scrutinise the evidence to rule out the possibility of implication of the current appellant to solve out the case. At this stage, we observe that the material available during the course of investigation was that the abductees were abducted by Balram Khangar and two members of his gang whom he use to call by the name of Raka and Saka; and that Raka stood for Rakesh. No doubt, these names were disclosed by the eye witnesses to the police during the course of investigation but there was no disclosure that Raka @ Rakesh was known to the witnesses from before, or that prior to that incident they had seen him. There was also no disclosure about Raka's or Rakesh's parentage or place of residence. The disclosure was only to the extent that if those accused are produced, the witnesses would be able to recognise them. In such circumstances, there appears complete guess work on the part of the police to put the name of the appellant Rakesh for Raka and Sattideen for Saka. There appears no material on record as to how the police submitted charge-sheet against Rakesh (the appellant) when even his parentage and place of residence was not even known or disclosed by the eye-witnesses. Further, if Sattideen was put to test identification parade why similar process was not adopted for Rakesh. All of this creates a serious doubt on the prosecution story as regards the involvement of the appellant in the crime and seriously dents the value of dock identification as to form the basis of conviction, particularly, when there is no corroboratory material such as recovery of cash or any weapon used in the crime. Moreover, this is a case where the charges were framed against the appellant on 15.06.1998 and the statement of PW-2 and PW-3 was first recorded on 31.08.1999, leaving sufficient opportunity for the prosecution to show the accused-appellant to the witnesses. This delayed dock identification, in the facts of the case, in our view, is not a wholly reliable evidence to warrant conviction of the appellant.

30. Further, the prosecution also appears to be hiding some facts, such as, whether the abductee was released in a police action or after payment of ransom. In this regard it be noted that the first information report was with regard to abduction in the night of 26.03.1997/27.03.1997. The first abductee was released in the night of 27.03.1997/28.03.1997. This abductee was released to fetch ransom amount for releasing the remaining two. In the testimony of PW-8, it has come that on 28.03.1997, the police team did a combing operation in the jungle to trace out the abductees. Interestingly, the I.O. makes a statement that he met both Man Singh and Guman Singh (PW-2) on 29.03.1997 in the clinic of Dr. Prajapati. This would suggest that in between 27.03.1997 and 29.03.1997 some information regarding the abductors was received by the I.O. What was that information, has not been brought before the Court. In addition to above, though the I.O. is silent as to how the remaining abductee (PW-3) earned his freedom but the testimony of PW-3 that the abductors left him after sensing danger from the police, and the statement of one of the witnesses that the abductors had complained that Man Singh had cheated them by informing the police, would suggest that information to the police about abduction had come from Man Singh, which could be on 28.03.1997 and thereafter, the police did a combing operation. The police witness i.e. PW-8 though stated that on 28.03.1997 a combing operation was carried out in the jungle to trace out the abductees but disclose nothing further. In these circumstances Man Singh was an important witness to throw light on what were those informations. But he has not been examined. Suppression of all these informations, in ordinary course, would not be fatal to the prosecution but here is a case where the identity of the accused-appellant could not be fixed from the statement of the eye-witnesses made during the course of investigation, yet, the police has made him the accused. In such circumstances, in absence of test identification parade, particularly, when it was conducted for the other accused, the dock identification for the first time in court, after a gap of over one year from the date of framing of charge, does not inspire our confidence so as to warrant conviction of the appellant particularly when there is no corroboratory material.

31. In view of the discussion above, we are of the considered view that this is a fit case where the benefit of doubt would have to be extended to the accused-appellant. We therefore allow this appeal. The judgment and order of conviction recorded by the trial court is set aside. The accused-appellant is acquitted of the charge for which he has been tried and convicted. He is reported to be in jail. He shall be released forthwith, unless wanted in any other case, subject to compliance of section 437 A Cr.P.C.

32. Let the record as well as copy of the judgment be transmitted to the trial court for information and compliance.

(2022) 9 ILRA 1162
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 12.07.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE VIVEK KUMAR BIRLA, J.
THE HON'BLE VIKAS BUDHWAR, J.

Criminal Appeal U/S 372 Cr.P.C. No. 253 of 2022

Pramod Kumar Parasar ...Appellant
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Opposite Parties

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri Sunil Kumar Misra

Counsel for the Opposite Parties:
Govt. Advocate

A. Criminal law - Indian Penal Code 1860 - Section 302 - Evidence Act, 1872 Section 3 - Murder - Circumstantial Evidence - cases of circumstantial evidence postulate two-fold requirement; (i) link in the chain of circumstances necessary to establish the guilt of the accused must be proved beyond reasonable doubt, (ii) the circumstances must be consistently pointed towards guilt of accused and nobody else. (Para 31)

B. Criminal law - Indian Penal Code 1860 - Section 302 - Evidence Act, 1872 - Section 3 - Murder - Circumstantial Evidence - 'Last seen theory' - It is trite law that a conviction cannot be recorded against the accused merely on the ground that the accused was last seen with the deceased - last seen theory comes into play where the time gap, between the point of time when the accused and the deceased were seen last alive and when the deceased is found dead, is so small that possibility of any person other than the accused being the perpetrator of the crime becomes impossible - last seen theory is just one piece of evidence - even if the accused was last seen with the victim, this is not enough to convict him - the prosecution has to complete the chain of circumstances to bring home the guilt of the accused (Para 35) on 12.09.2010 informant's brother dead body was found - Informant was informed by Anil Kumar, on 12.09.2010 the that he had seen his brother at 1:00 AM in the intervening night of 11.9.2010/12.9.2010 along with accused - FIR was lodged at 10:00 AM on 12.09.2010 - court found it highly improbable that the FIR could have been lodged at 10:00 AM, given that the panchayatnama proceedings had commenced at 10:00 AM and concluded at 11:00 AM - Court concluded that the FIR was ante-timed - Postmortem report showed that the death might have occurred between 5:00 to 6:00 PM on 11.9.2010 - In that case, also it was highly improbable that Anil Kumar (PW-3) could have seen the deceased at 1:00 AM in the intervening night of 11.9.2010/12.9.2010 - In the absence of any glowing light, it was not humanly possible to identify a person who was sitting in a motorcycle - only a sealed bundle of ropes was found, with accused which is easily available in most households - rope was not even remotely connected to the commission of the crime, as it was only a nylon rope without any marks on it that could prove that it was used for strangulation - trial court had meticulously analyzed the entire case under the four corners of the law - Court concurred with the view taken by the learned Sessions Judge and acquitted the accused.

Dismissed. (E-5)

List of Cases cited:

1. Mehraj Singh (L/Nk) Vs St. of U.P. (1994) 5 SCC 18

2. Sudarshan & anr. Vs St. of Mah.; (2014) 12 SCC 312

3. Shard Birdhichand Sarda Vs St. of Mah., (1984) 4 SCC 116

4. Bodhraj Vs St. of J.& K. (2002) 8 SCC 45

5. St. of Har. Vs Jagbir & anr., (2003) 11 SCC 261

6. Rambraksh Vs St. of Chhatishgarh, (2016) 12 SCC 251

(Delivered by Hon'ble Vikas Budhwar, J.)

1. This appeal under section 372 Cr.P.C. has been instituted by the appellant namely Pramod Kumar Parasar, father of the informant Rahul Kumar and of deceased challenging the judgment and order dated 10.01.2019 passed by Addl. Sessions Judge, Firozabad, Court No. 4 in S.T. No. 161 of 2011 (State Vs. Sri Bhagwan and others) under Sections 302, 201 IPC in Case Crime No. 453 of 2010, Police Station - Uttar, District - Firozabad.

2. The appeal was presented before this Court on 4.4.2019 and on 8.4.2019, lower court records were summoned. Thereafter on 9.7.2019, 16.7.2019, 23.7.2019, 30.7.2019, 4.9.2019, 13.9.2019, 20.9.2019, 27.9.2019, 15.10.2019, 23.10.2019 and 13.11.2019, this appeal was taken up but it was adjourned on every dates either on the illness slip of the learned counsel for the appellant or on adjournment which reveals that learned counsel for the appellant is avoiding hearing of the appeal and thus this Court was constrained to pass an order on 11.2.2022 observing that in case learned counsel for the appellant is not present on the next date so fixed, this Court may proceed to decide the appeal with the help of learned AGA.

3. Yet today when this case was taken up, nobody appeared to press this appeal, and thus this Court is proceeding to decide the appeal with the assistance of learned AGA.

4. The factual matrix of the case as worded in the present appeal are as follows:-

(i) One Rahul (PW-1), S/o- Pramod Kumar, R/0 mohalla - Dayal Nagar, Kotla Road, Police Station - Uttar, District - Firozabad had submitted a written complaint on 12.9.2010 before Police Station - Uttar. District - Firozabad with the allegation that his brother Gaurav has certain relationship with Puja, the daughter of Bangali Babu Badhai. In this connection, the informant had even beaten his brother and restricted him not to maintain any relationship with Puja and has also made a complaint and lodged his protest before Bangali Babu Badhai advising him to restrict his daughter Puja for continuing any relationship with his brother Gaurav.

(ii) According to the first informant, on 12.9.2010 in the night, he was sleeping on the terrace of his house and his brother was sleeping inside the house. As per prosecution version when in the morning he woke up then one of his neighbour namely Anil Kumar, S/o Rameshwar Dayal apprised him that in the previous night at about 1:00 a.m. he saw his brother Gaurav standing just in front of the house of Bangali Babu Badhai and further informed that Rajesh Kumar, S/o Radha Krishna and Satendra Babu, S/o Ram Sanehi was also standing near bye-pass road and also witnessed that Sri Bhagwan was driving motorcycle and in between deceased Gaurav was sitting and in his back Satyadeo was sitting and deceased Gaurav was sitting in such a manner which reflected that his neck was hanging and according to prosecution case, the persons who had witnessed such event thought that Gaurav (since deceased) was ill and he was being taken to hospital.

(iii) As per prosecution case, on the next date, dead body of Gaurav, who happens to be brother of the informant, was found near a small bridge. Accordingly, the first informant, who happens to be the brother of the deceased, submitted a written complaint against Sri Bhagwan, Satyadeo, Km. Puja and Bangali Babu.

(iv) On the basis of the written complaint, an FIR was lodged at Police Station - Uttar, District - Firozabad on 12.9.2010 at 10:00 a.m. registering Case Crime No. 453 of 2010, under Sections 302, 201 IPC.

(v) Investigation was put to motion consequent to the lodging of the FIR, while getting Panchayatnama prepared and sending the dead body for postmortem site plan was also prepared.

(vi) The Investigating Officer conducted the investigation and submitted charge sheet purported under Section 302, 201 IPC against Sri Bhagwan, Satyadeo and Km. Puja. However, so far as Bangali Babu is concerned, final report was submitted against him as no criminality was found against him.

(vii). The case was committed for trial. Charges were readover to the accused, who are two in numbers. They pleaded not guilt and innocent.

(viii) The prosecution produced following witnesses, namely:

1.	Rahul	PW-1
2.	Satendra Babu	PW-2
3.	Anil Kumar	PW-3
4.	Dr. Manoj Kumar	PW-4
5.	Sanjeev Kumar Dubey	PW-5
6.	Surendra Singh (I.O.)	PW-6
7.	Rajesh Kumar	PW-8

(ix) In order to prove the charges, the following documentary evidence have been produced.

1.	Written Complaint	Ex-A-1
2.	Postmortem report	Ex-A-2
3.	Chick FIR	Ex-A-3
4.	GD	Ex-A-4
5.	Panchayatnama	Ex-A-5
6.	Challan	Ex-A-6
7.	Photograph	Ex-A-7
8.	Letter of CMO	Ex- A-8
9.	Letter of Inspector	Ex-A-9
10.	Samples	Ex-A-10
11.	Site Plan	Ex-A-11
12.	Site Plan	Ex-A-12
13.	Recovery memo	Ex-A-13
14.	Site Plan of recovery memo.	Ex-A-14
15.	Chargee sheet	Ex-A-15.

5. We have Sri Ratan Singh, learned AGA and with his assistance the present appeal is being decided.

6. To began with the deposition of the prosecution, witness is to be first analysed.

7. The first informant Rahul appeared as PW-1. According to his deposition his brother Gaurav had relationship with one Puja, who happens to be the daughter of Bangali Badu Badhai. He had not only beaten his brother (deceased) but had also restricted him not to keep any relationship with Puja. He also made a complaint and lodged his protest before Bangali Babu Badhai advising him to restrict his daughter Puja for continuing any relationship with his brother Gaurav. According to the first informant, on 12.9.2010 in the night, he was sleeping on the terrace of his house and his brother was sleeping inside the house. As per prosecution version when in the morning he was awake then one of his neighbour namely Anil Kumar, S/o Rameshwar Dayal apprised him that in the previous night at about 1:00 a.m, he saw his brother Gaurav just in front of the house of Bangali Babu Badhai and also informed that Rajesh Kumar, S/o Radha Krishna and Satendra Babu, S/o Ram Sanehi was also standing near bye-pass road and also witnessed that Sri Bhagwan was driving motorcycle and in between deceased Gaurav was sitting and in his back Satyadeo was sitting and deceased Gaurav was sitting in such a manner which reflected that his neck was hanging and according to prosecution case, the persons who had witnessed such event, thought that Gaurav (since deceased) was ill and he was being taken to hospital.

8. Satendra Babu appeared as PW-2 in the witness box. He turned hostile. According to him, he has not seen the deceased on a motorcycle which was ridden by Sri Bhagwean and he was not aware about the said fact.

9. Anil Kumar appeared as PW-3 in the witness box. According to him, on the date of occurrence, he was in mohalla - Dayal Nagar, District - Firozabad and he is a driver and on 11.9.2010 in the night he has seen Sri Bhagwan, Satyedeo and Gaurav near the house of Bangali Babu and on the next date, search of the deceased was made and when he was standing near a one of the crossing road then Rahul came and asked him about whereabouts of the deceased Gaurav, then he told about the fact that he saw the deceased near the house of Bangali Babu.

10. Dr. Manoj Kumar appeared as PW-4 and in his examination-in-chief has stated that on 12.9.2010 he was on his medical duty, and at about 4:55 O'Clock the deceased who was 17 years of age was brought for postmortem, and the dead body was sent by the SHO of Police Station - Uttar, District - Firozabad in sealed condition. He had done medical examination of the deceased and found that both the eyes of the deceased were closed and from the nostril blood was oosing out and the body itself was in stiff situation. According to him, there were as many as six injuries sustained by the deceased.

11. Sanjeev Kumar Dubey appeared as PW-5 being a formal witness, is the scriber of the FIR. According to him on 12.9.2010, he was posted as Constable/ Clerk in the Police Station - Uttar, District - Firozabad and he has registered the FIR in question.

12. Surendra Singh, the Investigating Officer and PW-6 is also a formal witness. According to him on 12.9.2010, he was posted as Incharge Inspector at Police Station - Uttar, District - Firozabad and on that date, a Case Crime No. 453 of 2010, under Sections 302, 201 IPC was registered against Sri Bhagwan and others and he after investigation submitted the charge sheet.

13. Rajesh Kumar appeared as PW-7 and in his statement he has deposed that the incident happened on 11.9.2010 in the night at 1:30 hours. He and Satendra both were standing in a tri-bye-pass road where there is a Ganga Resort and lights were glowing and there were movements of vehicles and he had returned after dropping one of his relatives then he at that time saw Sri Bhagwan riding motorcycle and in between Gaurav was sitting and his neck was hanging and Satyedeo who was sitting back on the motorcycle and he had held the deceased, but perceived that Gaurav was ill and he was being taken to hospital. According to PW-7, he had told the entire facts to the first informant itself at the time when the dead body of the deceased was found near a small bridge over the lake.

14. Anar Singh Diwakar (DW-1) has stated that he is the owner of the Ganga Resort which is situated at Bamba bye-pass road, Satya Nagar Tappa, near Baghel Colony, Firozabad. According to him on 11/12.9.2010 there was no marriage ceremony or any function organized in his Resort, and the functions which are orgnazied in his Resort are noted in diary.

15. Undisputedly as per prosecution version there is no eye witness, who had seen the commission of crime by the accused. According to the prosecution it is a case of circumstantial evidence. In the matter of circumstantial evidence, this Court has to bear in mind every link in the chain of circumstances necessarily to establish the guilt of accused which must be proved by the prosecution beyond reasonable doubt and the circumstances must be consistently pointing out towards guilt of the accused.

16. Before marshalling the deposition of the prosecution witness, this Court is to first analyse the fact as to whether the present FIR is anti-timed or not.

17. Admittedly, as per records, it reveals that the FIR has been lodged by the first informant on 12/9/2010 before the concerned police station at 10:00 hours in the morning.

18. Further as per prosecution case, the FIR was lodged on 12.9.2010, proceedings of panchayatnama (Exhibit-A-5) commenced at 11:10 hours and concluded at 12:40 hours. According to the first informant, he had reached at the place of occurrence at 9:00 and he met the police official there and at that point of time the police took out the dead body of the deceased from a drain (Nala) and police thereafter proceeded from the place. According to prosecution, after identifying the dead body of his brother, the first informant proceeded to police station for lodging the FIR. The entire sequence of the events made it highly improbable that the FIR could have been lodged at 10:00 am when he received information at 9:00 am and the proceedings of panchayatnama has commenced at 10:00 O'clock and concluded at 11:00 hours and thereafter the first informant identified the body of his brother.

19. Another aspect which needed to be considered is that Anil Kumar (PW-3) in his statement has stated that at 10:00 - 11:00 hours in the morning of 12.9.2010, he found the dead body of the brother of the informant and thereafter he went to the hospital at 11:00 - 11:30. He was there for 1-2 hours where he met police. He thereafter took the family members of the deceased inclusive of Rahul and others to the concerned police station and thereafter, he remained there at the time of lodging of the FIR from 1:00 - 1:30 noon on the said date and he also stayed there till 2:00 - 3:00 hours.

20. Besides this Rajesh Kumar (PW-7) in his deposition has made statement that he had gone to the police station alongwith the first informant at 11:00 am and was accompanied with his father and he met Rahul at 11:00 a.m. and stayed there for 2-3 hours and he had informed the police that he had not seen the incident.

21. So much so, Surendra Singh (PW-6) the Investigating Officer, in his statement has deposed that when he reached the place of occurrence, the body was found in a drain and he prepared panchayatnama and the body was taken out at about 11:00 hours.

22. The court below has analysed the entire aspect of the matter and recorded finding that the FIR in question is ante-timed FIR as it is highly improbable and not possible at all that the FIR has been lodged at 10:00 hours, particularly when the prosecution witness being Anil Kumar (PW-3), Surendra Singh (PW-6) and Rajesh Kumar (PW-7) have themselves given different time, from which it is evident that the FIR is anti-timed.

23. Hon'ble the Supreme Court in the case of Mehraj Singh (L/Nk) Vs. State of UP reported in (1994) 5 SCC 188 in para-12 has observed as under:

"12. FIR in a criminal case and particularly in a murder case is a vital and valuable piece of evidence for the purpose of appreciating the evidence led at the trial. The object of insisting upon prompt lodging of the FIR is to obtain the earliest information regarding the circumstance in which the crime wascommitted, including the names of the actual culprits and the parts played by them, the weapons, if any, used, as also the names of the eyewitnesses, if any. Delay in lodging the FIR often results in embellishment, which is a creature of an afterthought. On account of delay, the FIR not only gets bereft of the advantage of spontaneity, danger also creeps in of the introduction of a coloured version or exaggerated story. With a view to determine whether the FIR was lodged at the time it is alleged to have been recorded, the courts generally look for certain external checks. One of the checks is the receipt of the copy of the FIR, called a special report in a murder case, by the local Magistrate. If this report is received by the Magistrate late it can give rise to an inference that the FIR was not lodged at the time it is alleged to have been recorded, unless, of course the prosecution can offer a satisfactory explanation for the delay in despatching or receipt of the copy of the FIR by the local Magistrate. Prosecution has led no evidence at all in this behalf. The second external check equally important is the sending of the copy of the FIR along with the dead body and its reference in the inquest report. Even though the inquest report, prepared under Section 174 CrPC, is aimed at serving a statutory function, to lend credence to the prosecution case, the details of the FIR and the gist of statements recorded during inquest proceedings get reflected in the report. The absence of those details is indicative of the fact that the prosecution story was still in an embryo state and had not been given any shape and that the FIR came to be recorded later on after due deliberations and consultations and was then ante-timed to give it the colour of a promptly lodged FIR. In our opinion, on account of the infirmities as noticed above, the FIR has lost its value and authenticity and it appears to us that the same has been 'ante-timed and had not been recorded till the inquest proceedings were over at the spot by PW 8."

24. Further in the case of Sudarshan and another Vs. State of Maharashtra; (2014) 12 SCC 312, Hon'ble the Supreme Court had the occasion to consider the issue relatable to ante-timed FIR. In paragraphs - 14, 15 and 16, the Supreme Court has held as under :

"14. No doubt, different persons may react differently to the same situation. However, at the same time, as mentioned above, it appears very improbable that when there were as many as 15 to 20 persons, namely, the complainant and his friends, none of them even thought of going to the Police Station to report the matter, which is odd and out of ordinary behaviour in such cases. Instead, they chose to go to an Advocate, who was staying at a distance of 15 kms. The persons who were allegedly very scared would not take the risk of going a distance of 15 kms. rather than approaching the nearby Police Station within the jurisdiction of the area where the incident had taken place.Strangely, in the process of defending the said conduct of the complainant and his friends, the High Court became presumptuous as it itself gave an imaginary story that there was a possibility that these persons had consumed liquor and the material thrown by them included liquor as well. It was not even the case of the prosecution, probable or otherwise. We may have agreed with the High Court that not reporting to the Police and going straightaway to an Advocate could have been because of the reason that all these persons were very scared, had it been a standalone fact. However, when this fact is examined in conjunction with other circumstances, which we narrate hereinafter, we find that approaching an Advocate instead of going to the Police Station to report the matter, was not that innocent a step as the prosecution has made us to believe.

15. Even after meeting their Advocate and his advise that the matter be reported to the police, these persons didn't come back to Ballarshah Police Station, which was the proper Police Station for this purpose. Instead, the FIR was lodged in Chandrapur Police Station. Things do not end here. Mr. Umesh, Sub-Inspector, was at Chandrapur Police Station, who had recorded the FIR. He has appeared as PW-12 during trial. The FIR which was lodged with him is proved as Exhibit-213. Column 15 of the FIR pertains to "date and time of dispatch to the Court'. This column is left blank, which means that no date and time of the dispatch/delivery of this FIR to the concerned Court is mentioned. In the cross-examination, PW-12 was specifically asked about the requirement of submitting a copy of the FIR to the concerned Magistrate within 24 hours. He replied in the affirmative insofar as this need is concerned. However, at the same time, he was candid in admitting that he was unable to say as to by whom and when the copy of Exhibit-213 was sent to the Magistrate. A specific suggestion was put to him that the copy of the FIR was not sent to the concerned Magistrate. Though he denied, but thereafter no attempt was made to prove as to when and how the copy was sent. The necessity of sending the copy of the FIR to the concerned Magistrate hardly needs to be emphasized. The primary purpose is to ensure that truthful version is recorded in the FIR and there is no manipulation or interpolation therein afterwards. For this reason, this statutory requirement is provided under Section 157 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973.

16. We, thus, feel that it was a glaring omission on the part of the prosecution which lends credence to the plea of the defence about ante- timing the FIR. It gets strengthened on finding more glaring and intriguing events taking place thereafter, which are described hereinafter."

25. Applying the above noted judgment, in the facts of the present case, it becomes apparently clear that the FIR could not have been lodged at 10:00 A.M, and thus the FIR in question is an ante-timed FIR, which had been lodged just in order to falsely implicate the accused herein.

26. Now another facet which needs to be considered which is as to what time, the death took place while considering the medical report in question. According to informant at 1:00 am of the intervening night/morning of 11.9.2010/12.9.2010, Anil Kumar (PW-3) apprised him that he saw deceased in the house of Sri Bhagwan alongwith Satyadeo. According to testimony of Dr. Manoj Kumar (PW-4), who had done the postmortem at 4:55 hours the death occurred on 11.9.2010 between 9:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. wherein difference can be of 3 hours. According to him after 3 hours of the death, there is stiffness in the dead body and fully get stiffed after 12 hours and it remains steady for 12 hours and in next 12 hours, the stiffness of the body gets removed. As per the postmortem report, death occurred 24 hours prior to the post mortem that means the death might have occurred between 9:00 p.m. - 10 p.m. on 11.9.2010 and in case difference of three hours is being calculated, then probably at 5:00 p.m. or 6:00 p.m. of 11.9.2010. Thereafter, it is highly improbable that Anil Kumar (PW-3) could have seen the deceased to be standing near the gate of Sri Bhagwan at 1:00 a.m. in the intervening night of of 11.9.2010/12.9.2010.

27. As per prosecution witness there is nobody who has seen commission of the crime. So far as Rahul (PW-1) is concerned, he was totally unaware about the whereabouts of his brother. So far as Satendra Babu (PW-2) is concerned, he turned hostile and said that he has not seen the deceased on a motorcycle which Sri Bhagwan was riding.

28. According to Anil Kumar (PW-3), he was apprised by Satendra Babu also that the deceased was in the motorcycle of Sri Bhagwan. However, Satendra Babu (PW-2) turned hostile and thus now the testimony of Rajesh Kumar (PW-7) is to be seen.

29. Rajesh Kumar (PW-7) in his statement has deposed that he had seen the deceased on 11.9.2010 at 1:30 hours in the night with the aid of light which was glowing in Gamga Resort. According to PW-7, he was accompanied with one Satendra near the bye-pass road. The reason of the presence of PW-7 as stated by him was that on 11.9.2010 his sister and his brother-in-law had come and they had stayed in his house for 7-8 hours as they come to his house at 2:00-2:30 noon and they had to go back to Delhi by train and he had taken them by Auto. On being specifically asked as to what is the detail of the train by which his sister and brother-in-law were to proceed to Delhi, he had expressed his ignorance. Further in the deposition PW-7 has stated that in the night of 11.9.2010 he has taken his sister and brother-in-law at 10:00 - 11:00 p.m. to railway station and thereafter he proceeded from railway station to his house walking. According to him, he stayed at the railway station for 1-1/2 hours till 12:30 hours and the distance of railway station to his house is about 45 minutes.

30. The Trial Court has noticed the inconsistency and material contradiction in the statements while recording a finding that it was humanly impossible for PW-7, Rajesh Kumar to have witnessed the accused along with deceased in a motorcycle, particularly when the resort in question was closed and there was no function or ceremony organized thereat, which stood proved from the statement of the owner of the Ganga Resort, who got himself examined as DW-1 and produced diary containing the details. In the night itself in the absence of any glowing light, it is not humanly possible to identify a person, who is sitting in a motorcycle. Additionally, as per PW-7, Rajesh Kumar, Satyendra was also present at that point of time, who along with him saw the accused with the deceased, but he turned hostile.

Thus the statement of PW-7, Rajesh Kumar does not inspire confidence so as to pointedly mark that the accused had committed the crime. The Trial Court has also analyzed the issue relatable to the recovery of incriminating articles from the accused. According to the Trial Court, only a sealed bundle of ropes were found, which is easily available in most of the house holds. However, the said rope was found not even remotely connected with commission of crime, as the same is only a nylon rope without having any marks in it so as to prove that the same was used for strangulation or commission of the crime.

31. Even otherwise, analyzing the present case, from the four-corners of law, if it stretched too far, then the same can be said to be of circumstantial evidence, as there is no eye-witness testimony. It is well settled that in the cases of circumstantial evidence postulate two-fold requirement; (i) link in the chain of circumstances necessary to establish the guilt of the accused must be proved beyond reasonable doubt, (ii) the circumstances must be consistently pointed towards guilt of accused and nobody else.

32. In the case of Shard Birdhichand Sarda Vs. State of Maharastra, (1984) 4 SCC 116, the Hon'ble Supreme Court in para-153 has observed as under.

"A close analysis of this decision would show that the following conditions must be fulfilled before a case against an accused can be said to be fully established:

(1) the circumstances from which the conclusion of guilt is to be drawn should be fully established.

It may be noted here that this Court indicated that the circumstances concerned 'must or should' and not 'may be' established. There is not only a grammatical but a legal distinction between 'may be proved' and 'must be or should be proved' as was held by this Court in Shivaji Sahabrao Bobade & Anr. v. State of Maharashtra(') where the following observations were made:

"Certainly, it is a primary principle that the accused must be and not merely may be guilty before a court can convict and the mental distance between 'may be' and 'must be' is long and divides vague conjectures from sure conclusions."

(2) The facts so established should be consistent only with the hypothesis of the guilt of the accused, that is to say. they should not be explainable on any other hypothesis except that the accused is guilty, (3) the circumstances should be of a conclusive nature and tendency.

(4) they should exclude every possible hypothesis except the one to be proved, and (5) there must be a chain of evidence so complete as not to leave any reasonable ground for the conclusion consistent with the innocence of the accused and must show that in all human probability the act must have been done by the accused."

33. The Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Bodhraj Vs. State of Jammu and Kashmir reported in (2002) 8 SCC 45, in paras 9 and 10 has observed as under :

"9. Before analyzing factual aspects it may be stated that for a crime to be proved it is not necessary that the crime must be seen to have been committed and must, in all circumstances be proved by direct ocular evidence by examining before the Court those persons who had seen its commission. The offence can be proved by circumstantial evidence also. The principal fact or factum probandum may be proved indirectly by means of certain inferences drawn from factum probans, that is, the evidentiary facts. To put it differently circumstantial evidence is not direct to the point in issue but consists of evidence of various other facts which are so closely associated with the fact in issue that taken together they form a chain of circumstances from which the existence of the principal fact can be legally inferred or presumed.

10. It has been consistently laid down by this Court that where a case rests squarely on circumstantial evidence. the inference of guilt can be justified only when all the incriminating facts and circumstances are found to be incompatible with the innocence of the accused or the guilt of any other persons. (See Hukam Singh v. State of Rajasthan, AIR (1977) SC 1063), Eradu and Ors. v. State of Hyderabad, AIR (1956) SC 316, Earabhadrappa v. State of Karnataka, AIR (1983) SC 446, State of U.P. v. Sukhbasi and Ors., AIR (1985) SC 1224, Balwinder Singh v. State of Punjab, AIR (1987) SC 350, Ashok Kumar Chatterjee v. State of MP AIR (1989) SC 1890. The circumstances from which an inference as to the guilt of the accused is drawn have to be proved beyond reasonable doubt and have to be shown to be closely connected with the principal fact sought to be inferred from those circumstances. In Bhagat Ram v. State of Punjab, AIR (1954) SC 621), it was laid down that where the case depends upon the conclusion drawn from circumstances the cumulative effect of the circumstances must be such as to negative the innocence of the accused and bring the offences home beyond any reasonable doubt."

34. Further in the case of State of Haryana Vs. Jagbir and another, reported in (2003) 11 SCC 261, the Hon'ble Court in para-8 has observed as under :

"8. It has been consistently laid down by this Court that where a case rests squarely on circumstantial evidence, the inference of guilt can be justified only when all the incriminating facts and circumstances are found to be incompatible with the innocence of the accused or the guilt of any other person. (See Hukam Singh v. State of Rajasthan AIR (1977 SC 1063); Eradu and Ors. v. State of Hyderabad (AIR 1956 SC 316); Earabhadrappa v. State of Karnataka (AIR 1983 SC 446); State of U.P. v. Sukhbasi and Ors. (AIR 1985 SC 1224); Balwinder Singh v. State of Punjab (AIR 1987 SC 350); Ashok Kumar Chatterjee v. State of M.P. (AIR 1989 SC 1890). The circumstances from which an inference as to the guilt of the accused is drawn have to be proved beyond reasonable doubt and have to be shown to be closely connected with the principal fact sought to be inferred from those circumstances. In Bhagat Ram v. State of Punjab (AIR 1954 SC 621), it was laid down that where the case depends upon the conclusion drawn from circumstances the cumulative effect of the circumstances must be such as to negative the innocence of the accused and bring the offences home beyond any reasonable doubt."

35. More so, the last seen theory also does not stand attracted in the present case as it has come on record and proved by medical evidence that the death took place on 11.9.2010 approximately between 5:00 pm - 6:00 pm. However, Anil Kumar (PW-3) has deposed in his statement that he saw the deceased standing in the gate of Sri Bhagwan with the accused at 1:00 in the night. The time gap of presence of the accused with the deceased as stated by the prosecution and the time of death itself does not corroborate with each other. The Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Rambraksh Vs. State of Chhatishgarh, (2016) 12 SCC 251 in para-12 has observed as under :

"12. It is trite law that a conviction cannot be recorded against the accused merely on the ground that the accused was last seen with the deceased. In other words, a conviction cannot be based on the only circumstance of last seen together. Normally, last seen theory comes into play where the time gap, between the point of time when the accused and the deceased were seen last alive and when the deceased is found dead, is so small that possibility of any person other than the accused being the perpetrator of the crime becomes impossible. To record a conviction, the last seen together itself would not be sufficient and the prosecution has to complete the chain of circumstances to bring home the guilt of the accused."

36. None the less the postmortem report is fully proved by the medical evidence so produced by the prosecution, according to which while taking further clue from the same, it is highly improbable and inconceivable that the accused was found to be with the deceased on 11.9.2010 at 1:30 hours in the night.

37. As already discussed, the learned trial court has meticulously analyzed the entire case under four-corners of law while appreciating the evidences so adduced in the background of the ocular testimony.

38. Hence, in any view of the matter applying the principles of law so culled out by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the facts of the present case, we have no option but to concur with the view taken by the learned Sessions Judge.

39. The appeal is devoid of merits and is dismissed at the stage of admission stage itself.

40. Records of the present case be sent back to the concerned court below.

(2022) 9 ILRA 1172
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 11.07.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE VIVEK KUMAR BIRLA, J.
THE HON'BLE VIKAS BUDHWAR, J.

Criminal Appeal U/S 372 Cr.P.C. No. 6038 of 2010

Molai Prasad ...Appellant/Informant
Versus
State of U.P. & Anr. ...Respondents/Accused

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri B.L. Yadav, Sri K.K. Kanojiya

Counsel for the Respondents:
Govt. Advocate, Sri Ravindra Prasad, Sri Shailendra Pratap Singh

A. Criminal law - Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 - Section 372 - Appeal against acquittal - An appellate court hearing an appeal against a judgment of acquittal should not overrule or disturb the trial court's judgment - unless the trial court's judgment of acquittal proceeds on a wrong footing or direction of law, or if the judgment skips material evidence that would have been a game-changer in deciding whether the accused is entitled to acquittal or conviction - in case of acquittal presumption of double innocence is available with the accused (Para 11)

B. Criminal law - Evidence Act - Circumstantial Evidence – when a case rests upon circumstantial evidence following tests must be satisfied - the circumstances from which an inference of guilt is sought to be drawn, must be cogently & firmly established i.e. the circumstances must be fully proved and must be of a conclusive nature - Every link in the chain of circumstances, necessary to establish the guilt of the accused, must be established beyond reasonable doubt i.e. there must be no gaps in the chain of evidence - each circumstance must point unerringly to the guilt of the accused - All of the circumstances must be consistent with the guilt of the accused and inconsistent with his innocence i.e. the circumstances must form a complete chain of events that leaves no other reasonable explanation for the crime - circumstantial evidence must be complete and incapable of explanation by any other hypothesis than that of the guilt of the accused i.e. the evidence must be such that it is impossible to believe that the accused is innocent - entire chain of events is to be linked in such a manner that there is no other probability than the fact that the accused had committed the offence - complete chain of events and the sequence had to be linked so as to up hold the conviction (Para 24, 30, 31, 32)

Informant alleged that his mother had gone out for work, when he was not home - when he returned, he was informed that her dead body had been found - He went to the scene and saw that she had injuries, which led him to suspect that she had been physically assaulted and molested - FIR was registered u/s 394, 302 IPC - P.W. 3 stated she overheard the accused saying that the accused has killed the deceased - Held - Prosecution's case based on circumstantial evidence, as there are no eyewitnesses to the crime - however, the circumstantial evidence do not link the accused to the crime - Investigation was also defective, as the site plan was not prepared - testimony of the prosecution witnesses not strong enough to convict the accused - motive for the crime not proved, as the informant did not protest against the construction of the boundary and madhai by the accused & when they allegedly abused & threatened - No incriminating articles were recovered from the accused or the crime scene - deposition of P.W. 3 does not inspire the confidence particularly in view of the fact that without seeing how can she gauge the identity of somebody across the wall in his house making conversation regarding the deceased being disposed of by the accused - prosecution failed to prove the commission of offence by the accused beyond doubt - judgment of acquittal does not suffer from any errors of law or fact - trial court has carefully analyzed the evidence - double presumption of innocence is available with the accused (29, 33)

Dismissed. (E-5)

List of Cases cited:

1. Ashok Kumar Chatterjee Vs St. of M.P. 1989 Supp (1) SCC 560

2. C. Chenga Reddy & ors. Vs. St. of A. P. (1996) 10 SCC 193

3. Shailendra Rajdev Pasvan & ors. Vs St. of Guj. etc. Criminal Appeal Nos. 333-334 of 2017 dt 13.12.2019

(Delivered by Hon'ble Vikas Budhwar, J.)

1. This is an appeal u/s 372 Cr.P.C. preferred by the appellant/informant challenging the judgment and order dated 03.08.2010 passed by Special Judge (SC/ST) Act, Court No. 03, Deoria inSpecial Sessions Trial No. 14 of 2007 (State Vs. Shailendra Pandey @ Babloo S/o Shrikant Pandey) u/s 394, 302 IPC read with section 3(2)5 SC/ST Act, P.S. Ekauna, District Deoria, acquitting the accused respondent no. 2.

2. The present appeal was presented before this Court on 08.09.2010 and thereafter the following orders were passed:-

Order dated:- 13.09.2010

"Admit.

Summon the L.C.R.

Issue bailable warrant to C.J.M.

List on 08.11.2010."

Order dated:-19.07.2012

"Heard learned counsel for the appellant, learned A.G.A. for the State of U.P. and Sri Ravindra Prasad appearing on behalf of accused respondent No. 2.

It is submitted by Sri Ravindra Prasad that accused respondent No. 2 Shailendra Pandey @ Babloo has furnished the bail bonds before the court of learned C.J.M. Deoria, but learned C.J.M. Deoria has not sent such report.

Office is directed to summon such report from learned C.J.M. Deoria.

List on September 17, 2012."

Order dated:- 17.09.2012

"Heard learned counsel for the appellant, learned AGA and Sri Ravindra Prasad appearing on behalf of accused respondent..

Report submitted by C.J.M. Deoria, shows that the accused respondent no. 2 Shailendra Pandey @ Babloo has appeared before him and he has furnished his bail bonds. The order sheet shows that the lower court record has been received. On behalf of accused respondent appearance has been made by his counsel.

Office is directed to proceed further for hearing of the appeal."

Order dated:- 29.08.2018

On the request of K.K. Kanojiya, counsel for the appellant, the case is passed over as he wants to prepare the case.

List in the week commencing 22.10.2018.

Order dated:- 22.10.2018

"Passed over on the illness slip of Sri B.L. Yadav, learned counsel for the appellant."

Order dated:- 23.10.2021

"Case called out.

None appears to press this appeal.

List on 3.12.2021.

It is clarified that no further adjournment will be granted."

Order dated:- 19.04.2022

"When the matter was taken up, none present for the appellant. However, Shri Shailendra Pratap Singh, learned counsel for the accused-respondent no. 2 as well as learned AGA for the State are present.

Considering the absence of counsel for the appellant, in the interest of justice, an opportunity is being given.

List the matter in the week commencing 11.07.2022 alongwith fresh office report.

It is made clear that if learned counsel appearing for the appellant will not appear on the next date fixed in the matter, the Court will proceed to appoint Amicus Curiae on behalf of appellant or decide the issue involved in the matter at this stage with the help of learned A.G.A."

3. Perusal of the order dated 29.08.2018, 22.10.2018, 23.10.2021 and 19.04.2022 it will reveal that the appellant is avoiding disposal of the appeal despite the fact that as per the order sheet dated 03.07.2017, paper book was ready. Ultimately, on 19.04.2022 this Court precoded to pass an order noticing the absence on the appellant/informant side while not getting the appeal heard and disposed of while observing that in case, the counsel appearing for the appellant does not appear on the date so fixed, the Court will proceeded to appoint amicus curiae on behalf of the appellant or to decide the issue involved in the matter with the help of the learned A.G.A.

4. Even after passing of the order dated 19.04.2022 today when the matter has been taken up in the revised list also nobody appears to press the present appeal on behalf of the appellant thus, this appeal is being decided with the assistance of learned A.G.A.

5. Briefly stated facts as apparent from record are that the appellant/informant, Molai Prasad S/o Khedan Prasad, R/o Village- Lilapur, Police Station Ekauna, Deoria and he had sent a written complaint on 14.05.2007 before the Station House Oficer, P.S. Ekauna with a allegation that his mother Pyari Devi (since deceased) at that relevant point of time was 75 years of age and on 13.05.2007 at 7 in the evening she had gone for certain work and so far as the appellant/informant is concerned he was not in his house as he was occupied while being physically present in a marriage occasion. It has been alleged that when the appellant/informant came back to his house then he was apprised about the fact that the dead body of his mother was found from a place Lilapur Siwan towards Anusa Marg. Accordingly, when the appellant/informant went at the place of occurrence of the alleged commission of offence then he discovered that there was certain injuries near the left eye and scratch over the navel portion and he suspected that she was physically assaulted and molested as even otherwise injury was found on the nose and the nose pin which she was wearing on her nostril was missing. It was thus apprehended by the appellant/informant that his mother had been disposed of and the same was an unnatural death. On the basis of the information so reported by the appellant/informant an FIR No. 18 of 2007 being Case Crime No. 139/2007 u/s 394, 302 IPC was lodged against unknown persons and the said FIR got itself found its presence in G.D. report no. 11 at 08:45 pm.

6. Pursuant to the lodging of the above mentioned FIR investigation was put to motion and then the S.H.O. Sri Basant Lal was nominated to conduct the investigation which according to the appellant/informant was proceeded while taking the dead body of the deceased in their custody, preparation of Panchnama. It has been further referred that the saari which the deceased was wearing showed the presence of blood and thereafter the deady body of the deceased was put in the custody of the Constable Harish Chand Singh and Udai Bhan Singh who were assigned the duty for the purposes of postmortem. Site plan was also prepared and on the basis of statement of witnesses were taken which concluded in submission of a charge sheet against the accused-respondent no. 2 u/s 394, 302 IPC read with section 3(2)5 SC/ST Act.

7. The case was committed for trial before the Sessions on 05.09.2007. Charges were read over to the accused-respondent, he denied the charge and claimed to the trial while pleading innocence.

8. In order to bring home the charges the following witness were produced:-

1.	Molai Prasad	P.W.-1
2.	Constable Harish Chand Singh	P.W.-2
3.	Badami Devi	P.W.-3
4.	Bhrighunath	P.W.-4
5.	Asha Devi	P.W.-5
6.	Bechai Prasad Nayak	P.W.-6
7.	S.I. Basant Lal	P.W.-7
8.	S.H.O. Baijnath Singh	P.W.-8
9.	Sri Ram Gupta, Senior Clerk C.M.O., Deoria	P.W.-9

9. The following documents were also produced by the prosecution in order to give support to their stand:-

1.	Written Report	Ex.A-1
2.	Panchayatnama	Ex.A-2
3.	Chik FIR	Ex.A-3
4.	G.D.	Ex.A-4
5.	Blood Stained Saari	Ex.A-5
6.	Police Letter	Ex.A-6
7.	Photo	Ex.A-7
8.	Letter addressed to C.M.O.	Ex.A-8
9.	Letter addressed to C.M.O.	Ex.A-9
10.	Letter addressed to Inspector	Ex.A-10
11.	Samples	Ex.A-11
12.	Site Plan	Ex.A-12
13.	Certificate	Ex.A-13
14.	G.D.	Ex.A-14
15.	G.D.	Ex.A-15
16.	G.D.	Ex.A-16
17.	F.I.R.	Ex.A-17
18.	Postmortem Report	Ex.A-18

10. We have heard Sri Ratan Singh, learned A.G.A. who appears for the State and with his assistance the present appeal is being decided.

11. Being mindful of the proposition of law so culled out by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the catena of decisions that the appellate court hearing an appeal filed against the judgment of acquittal, should not overrule or otherwise disturb the trial court judgment of acquittal if the appellate court does not finds any substantial and compelling reasons for doing so. The appellate court must also keep in mind the fact that presumption of double innocence is already available with the accused and in case, the judgment of acquittal proceeds on a wrong footing and direction of law and skips material evidences which would act as a game changer in deciding whether the accused is entitled for the benefit of acquittal or conviction and the view taken by the trial court is palpably erroneous and wrong then in those eventualities the appellate court should exercise its jurisdiction in overturning the judgment of acquittal.

12. In the light of the law so laid down by the Hon'ble Apex court in the above noted decisions, the present controversy is to be decided.

13. As per the prosecution the fateful incident took place on 13.05.2007 when the mother of the informant being Pyari Devi aged about 75 years had proceeded from her house at 7 in the evening for discharging social obligation. It has come on record that the informant was not present in his house at the relevant point of time, however, he was made aware about the demise of his mother and she sustained injuries coupled with the suspicion towards molestation. Record further reveals that the FIR was also lodged by the appellant/informant against unknown persons and thereafter, pursuant to the investigation so sought to be conducted by the I.O., charge sheet was submitted against the accused-respondent herein u/s 394, 302 IPC read with section 3(2)5 SC/ST Act.

14. While proceeding to unfold the prosecution theory so propagated by them the deposition of the prosecution witness is to be first analysed.

15. P.W.1 himself is the son of the deceased and informant also. According to him on 14.05.2007 the dead body of his mother was found near a small bridge (pulia) on the road going to Asana. As per P.W.1 Molai Prasad, the dead body of the deceased was discovered by one Babloo @ Harendra who is the resident of the same village and the dead body of the deceased was covered with the saari. After removing the sari, the injuries were discovered on several parts of the body and there were swelling on the face of the deceased. P.W.1 has further deposed that he belongs to Dhobi Caste and on 13.05.2007 his mother had gone to attend a marriage and he was made aware about the death of his mother on 14.05.2007 at 7 in the morning and accordingly, he had given a written complaint also. So far as the issue of motive is concerned, P.W.1 in his statement had deposed that the accused herein had about 3 times quarrelled with the informant and the accused herein belongs to Brahmin Community and during the course of the quarrel the accused had threatened to kill him and thereafter, the threatening so administered by the accused herein took the shape of the death of his mother. P.W. 1 has also stated that the accused herein had erected a wall near the madhai and the boundary wall of the accused is just adjacent to the house of the informant. P.W. 1 has further deposed that one Badami Devi W/o Keshav Prasad who is P.W.3 had overheard the conversation which was entered into between the accused herein with his family members wherein the accused had stated that he has disposed of the mother of the informant. It has been further deposed that Bhrigunath who happens to be the P.W. 4 who is the uncle of P.W. 1 and is an old age person. P.W. 1 has also stated that when the dead body of the deceased was recovered and when the informant went to see the body then P.W. 3 Badami Devi and P.W. 4 Bhrigunath were also present. In the statement of P.W.1 it has come on record that he has not got narrated in the FIR regarding the fact that the accused herein at one point of time put flames in the hut of the informant and abused him, however, P.W.1 has further stated that the aforesaid allegations had been put on surface only after one month of lodging of the FIR while pointing the fact the accused herein had committed crime.

16. So far as P.W.3 Badami Devi is concerned, she has presented herself as a prosecution witness wherein she has come up with a stand that on 13.05.2007 she had gone to the informant's house in connection with recovering certain amount which she had given as a financial assistance to the informant and at that point of time the informant was not present, however, his wife Smt. Asha Devi P.W. 5 was in the house and she had apprised the P.W. 3 Badami Devi that the informant had gone to attend the marriage and when he will come back, he would tender the said amount. P.W. 3 Badami Devi has also stated that she sat in the house of the informant and made certain conversations with P.W. 5 Asha Devi and when P..W. 3 was returning back to her house, P.W. 3 being Badami Devi while crossing the house of the accused herein, she overheard the accused saying that the accused had finished the day today altercation and he has killed the deceased. P.W.3 Badami Devi had further deposed that she had heard the voice of the accused herein but she did not see the accused.

17. P.W. 4 Bhrigunath in his statement has deposed that at 08:00 pm on 13.05.2007 he had gone to the field and at that point of time he saw that the accused was coming from the road going from Panchrukha to Anusa and the accused was walking speedly and when he switched on the torch then he found the accused herein and thereafter, P.W. 4 went to his house and after taking his meals, he went to sleep.

18. P.W. 5 Smt. Asha Devi also got herself examined as a prosecution witness and according to her statement, her mother-in-law had gone to attend the marriage, however, she did not return back.

19. P.W. 6 Bechai Prasad Nayak is a witness to the Pancnama.

20. P.W. 2 Constable Harish Chand Singh who got the Panchnama done and had drawn the blood stained articles.

21. P.W. 7 Basant Lal claims to be an S.H.O. of Police Station Ekauna and he had witnessed the issue relating to Chik FIR.

22. P.W. 8 being Baijnath Singh has also deposed regarding the manner in which the investigation was done.

23. P.W. 9 being Sri Ram Gupta is Senior Clerk, C.M.O., Deoria proved the postmortem.

24. Records reveals that there is no eye witness who could see the commission of the crime and the entire case (if any) stands on circumstantial evidence. In order to hold the accused herein guilty of crime while putting the last nail on coffin for conviction the entire chain of events is to be linked in such a manner that there is no other probability than the fact that the accused herein had committed the said offence. To put it otherwise, the complete chain of events and the sequence had to be linked so as to up hold the conviction.

25. Admittedly, as per the statement of P.W. 1 Molai Prasad he was not an eye witness and rather not present in the house when the said occurrence occasioned. This much has been stated in the statement of P.W. 1 that the accused herein bore enmity and rivalry with the informant fraction and that become the basis for commission of the crime as the informant belongs to Dhobi Community as well as the accused belongs to Brahmin Community. As per the prosecution, the boundary wall and the madhai were also demolished by the accused and abuses were also hurled. Even otherwise P.W. 5 Asha Devi who happens to be the wife of the informant had stated in the deposition that the accused herein used to hurl abuses in Hindi vernacular and also threatened to stripped off her clothes. Record further reveals that the said issues relating to commission of crime in the back drop of motive, was never made part and the parcel of the FIR nor there was any complaint so lodged by the informant and his fraction before any authority. Further P.W.7 being the Investigating Officer has deposed that P.W. 1 and P.W. 5 did not give any statement regarding adminsitering beating and hurling of abuses and further regarding the demollition of medhai. Had the said act and omission of the accused herein being there then obviously proceedings either civil or criminal ought to have instituted by the informant's fraction but the same was at no point of time done. The learned trial court has analysed the said aspect of the matter and has recorded categorical finding that conduct and the manner in which the allegations have been put forward does not constitute motive as a basis for commission of crime.

26. Additional aspects also need to be noticed at the stage is with regard to the fact that P.W. 3 Badami Devi had deposed in her statement that she overheard the accused herein while making conversation with his family members that the accused had disposed of the deceased herein. It has also come on record that as per the statement of P.W. 3 Badami Devi that she had just overheard the said utterance but did not see the accused making the said statement as she was passing by the house of the accused wherein she heard the same. P.W. 3 in her statement has further deposed that on 13.05.2007 in the night she had gone to P.W. 1 Molai's house for receiving an amount of Rs. 1000/- which she had given to P.W. 1 and at that point of time P.W. 1 was not present in his house and his wife P.W. 5 being Asha Devi has apprised that P.W. 1 was not in his house and when he will return, he will give back the money and P.W. 3 Badami Devi had proceeded and then she overheard the accused narrating the fact that he had disposed the deceased. In the cross-examination P.W. 3 has further deposed that she has commenced her journey from her new house to the house of P.W. 1 Molai Prasad. According to her statement she had deposed that in case she commences her journey from a new house to P.W. 1 Molai's house then the house of the accused does not find its presence in the said way. She further deposed that after having conversation with the wife of P.W. 1 at 9 in the night she proceeded from P.W. 1 Molai's house towards her old house to see the appertinent land which she possess and in the said way the house of P.W. 1 came in between. The entire deposition of P.W. 3 Badami Devi does not inspire the confidence particularly in view of the fact that without seeing how can she gauge the identity of with somebody across the wall in his house was making conversation regarding the deceased being disposed of by the accused. On being specifically asked in the deposition P.W. 3 was not sure as to whether the deceased was uttering the said words loudly or murmuring. Thus the trial court has rightly held that deposition of P.W. 3 Badami Devi does not inspire the confidence.

27. So far as P.W. 4 being Bhrigunath is concerned he has this much deposed that he had witnessed the accused running speedly when he was going from Panchrukha to Anusa village and when he switched on the torch he could see the accused and thereafter, he took his meals and went to sleep. P.W. 4 in his deposition has further stated that the I.O. had come to the house of P.W. 1 Molai Prasad 3 or 4 times and he was also called, he got recorded his statement. Apart from the same as per the deposition of P.W. 4 when the body of the deceased was discovered then he was also present over there but his statement was not recorded and after 20-25 days the Investigating Office took his statement, however, he had not shown the place of occurrence to the Investigating Officer. According to P.W. 4 even the site plan was not prepared and no proceeding in that regard was also initiated.

28. Nonetheless, no recovery of any offending article or weapon which could have been used for the purpose of commission of crime and marking the presence of the accused, was recovered.

29. Analysing the deposition of the prosecution witness and the material exhibits which are shown to the basis for supporting the prosecution theory while putting the wheels of conviction upon the accused, this Court finds that firstly there is no eye witness testimony. Secondly, even circumstantial evidence itself does not link the accused with respect to commission of the crime. Thirdly, investigation appears to be highly defective as from the perusal of the statement of P.W. 4 Bhrigunath, site plan was also not prepared and necessary requirement for conduction of investigation was not properly adhered to. Fourthly, the testimony of P.W. 3 Badami Devi also does not hold the accused guilty though suspicion can be said to find its presence particularly when P.W. 3 Badami Devi did not see the accused uttering the commission of the crime. Fifthly, the theory of the motive so engineered by the prosecution is not proved particularly in view of the fact that though it has been stated that abuses were also hurled upon P.W. 5 Asha Devi and she was threatened to have stripped off her clothes and act of constructing boundary and medhai were illegally proceeded with but no protest either before any authority or civil or criminal proceedings was undertaken. Sixthly, no recovery of any offending articles were made from the place of occurrence or the accused so as to link the accused for commission of crime even there are material contradictions in the statements of the prosecution witness which can be pressed in service (if according to the prosecution) could be a matter of suspicion but the prosecution has failed to prove the commission of offence by the accused beyond doubt.

30. The Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Ashok Kumar Chatterjee Vs. State of M.P. reported in 1989 Supp (1) SCC 560 in paragraph no. 30 has observed as under:-

"30. This appeal arises against the concurrent findings of facts except for the modification of the sentence made by the High Court. There is no direct evidence to prove this case and the conviction is founded solely on circumstantial evidence. This Court in a line of decisions has consistently held that when a case rests upon circumstantial evidence such evidence must satisfy the following tests :

(1) the circumstances from which an inference of guilt is sought to be drawn, must be cogently and firmly established;

(2) those circumstances should be of a definite tendency unerringly pointing towards guilt of the accused;

(3) the circumstances, taken cumulatively; should from o chain so complete that there is no escape from the conclusion that within all human probability the crime was committed by the accused and none else, and (4) the circumstantial evidence in order to sustain conviction must be complete and incapable of explanation of any other hypothesis than that of the guilt of the accused and such evidence should not only be consistent with the guilt of the accused but should be inconsistent with his innocence. (See Gambhir v. State of Maharashtra)."

31. The Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of C. Chenga Reddy and Others Vs. State of Andhra Pradesh reported in (1996) 10 SCC 193 in paragraph no. 21 has observed as under:-

"20. in a case based on circumstantial evidence, the settled law is that the circumstances from which the conclusion of guilt is drawn should be fully proved and such circumstances must be conclusive in nature. Moreover, all the circumstances should be complete and there should be no gap left in the chain of evidence. Further, the proved circumstances must be consistent only with the hypothesis of the guilt of the accused and totally inconsistent with his innocence. In the present case the courts below have overlooked these settled principles and allowed suspicion to take the place of proof besides relying upon some inadmissible evidence."

32. The Hon'ble Apex Court in the recent judgment in the case of Shailendra Rajdev Pasvan and Others Vs. State of Gujarat Etc. Criminal Appeal Nos. 333-334 of 2017 decided on 13.12.2019 in paragraph no. 12 has observed as under:-

"12. Thus the entire case of the prosecution is based on circumstantial evidence. It is well settled that in a case which rests on circumstantial evidence, law postulates two fold requirements:-

(i) Every link in the chain of the circumstances necessary to establish the guilt of the accused must be established by the prosecution beyond reasonable doubt.

(ii) All the circumstances must be consistent pointing only towards the guilt of the accused."

33. This Court after giving anxious consideration to the fact of the case in the factual back ground of law existing on land comes to the irresistible conclusion with the judgment of acquittal passed by learned trial court does not warrant any interference as the view taken by the learned trial court is possible view and according to this Court it is not a case wherein in other view is liable to be taken other than the view so arrived by the learned trial court. The learned trial court has meticulously analysed the fact of the case and has formed an opinion that the accused is liable to be acquitted. Notably, double presumption of innocence is available with the accused. Absence of any perversity accompanied with the fact that the judgment of acquittal does not suffer from any misreading of the evidence, we find no option but to concur with the judgment of acquittal.

34. Resultantly, the present criminal appeal is dismissed.

35. Record of the present case be sent back to the concerned court below.

(2022) 9 ILRA 1181
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 06.09.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE PRITINKER DIWAKER, J.
THE HON'BLE ASHUTOSH SRIVASTAVA, J.

Special Appeal No. 276 of 2022 with 291 of 2022
And other connected cases

High Court of Judicature at Allahabad
...Respondent/Appellant
Versus
Robin Singh & Ors.
...Petitioner/Respondents

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri Ashish Mishra, Sri Avanish Kumar Pandey, Sri Hriday Raj Tripathi, Sri Rahul Agarwal, Sri Chandan Sharma, Sri Manish Goyal (Senior Adv.)

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C., Sri Fuzail Ahmad Ansari, Sri Ksitij Shailendra, Sri Siddharth Khare, Sri Kauntey Singh, Sri Ashok Khare (Senior Adv.), Sri Shashi Nandan (Senior Adv.)

Examination- Petitioners are unsuccessful aspirants of Review Officers/Assistant Review Officers-criteria of evaluation of typing speed based on net typing speed and not gross typing speed is brought out in clause 6.2-advertisement was clear-no fault in procedure adopted-interference by single judge is unwarranted-Petitioners appeared in the exam well versed with the norms exam-whole recruitment process was transparent-Intra court.

Appeals allowed. (E-9)

List of Cases cited:

1. Ramjit Singh Kardam& ors. Vs Sanjeev Kumar & ors. reported in 2020 (0) Supreme (SC) 297

2. Ashutosh Shrotriya & ors. Vs Vice Chancellor, Dr. B.R. Ambedkar University & ors., reported in 2016 (116) ALR 310 (FB)

3. Ramjit Singh Kardam & ors. Vs Sanjiv Kumar & ors., 2020 (0) Supreme (SC) 297

4. Ramjit Singh Kardam & ors. Vs Sanjiv Kumar & ors., 2020(0) Supreme (SC) 297 [2020(20) SCC 209]

5. Union of India & ors. Vs S. Vinod Kumar & ors. 2007 (8) SCC 100

6. Om Prakash Shukla Vs Akhilesh Kumar Shukla & ors. (1986 Supp SCC 285)

7. Vijendra Kumar Verma Vs Public Service Commission, Uttarakhand & ors., (2011) 1 SCC 150

8. Madan Lal & ors. Vs St. of J & K, 1995(3) SCC 486

9. Sadananda Halo& ors. Vs Momtaz Ali Sheikh& ors., 2008(4) SCC 619

10. Ramesh Chandra Shah& ors. Vs Anil Joshi & ors., 2013 (11) SCC 309

11. Chandigarh Administration & anr. Vs Jasmine Kaur 2014(10) SCC 521

12. Pradeep Kumar Rai Vs Dinesh Kumar Pandey, 2015 (11) SCC 493

13. Ashok Kumar Vs St. of Bihar, 2017 (4) SCC 357

14. Bihar Staff Selection Commission & ors. Vs Arun Kumar & ors. reported in 2020 (6) SCC 362

(Delivered by Hon'ble Pritinker Diwaker, J.
&
Hon'ble Ashutosh Srivastava, J.)

1. Heard Sri Manish Goyal, learned Senior Counsel assisted by Sri Ashish Mishra, Sri Rahul Agarwal and Sri Chandan Sharma, learned counsels for the appellant-High Court of Judicature at Allahabad in Special Appeal No.276 of 2022, Sri Shashi Nandan, learned Senior Counsel assisted by Sri Kshitij Shailendra and Sri Fuzail Ahmad Ansari, learned counsel for the Appellant-National Testing Agency in Special Appeal No.291 of 2022, Sri Anoop Trivedi, learned Senior Advocate assisted by Sri Vibhu Rai, learned counsel in Special Appeal Defective No. 136 of 2022, Sri Ashok Khare, learned Senior Counsel assisted by Sri Siddharth Khare and Sri Kauntey Singh, learned counsel for the respondents-writ petitioners.

2. An Intervention Application dated 19.04.2022 has been filed through Sri Hriday Raj Tripathi, Advocate, on behalf of 03 selected candidates for the post of Assistant Review Officers stating that they have been selected and their names are reflected in the select list and that the Special Appeal No.276 of 2022 deserves to be allowed on the ground that the impugned order of the learned Single Judge has been passed without impleading them. An Intervention Application dated 19.04.2022 has also been filed on behalf of the 14 other selected candidates for the post of Assistant Review Officers through Sri Avanish Kumar Pandey, Advocate. Sri R. K. Ojha, learned Senior Counsel has advanced arguments on behalf of the interveners.

3. Sri C. L. Pandey, learned Senior Counsel assisted by Sri Durvesh Kumar, Advocate, has also been heard in opposition to the Special Appeals.

4. The instant Intra Court Appeals have been filed questioning the legality, propriety and correctness of the order dated 6.4.2022 passed by the learned Single Judge in Writ-A No.4253 of 2022 (Robin Singh and 38 others versus State of U.P. and 6 others) clubbed together with 10 other writ petitions whereby and whereunder the learned Single Judge while inviting counter and rejoinder affidavits has directed by way of an interim order that no appointment letters shall be issued to the selected candidates pursuant to selections held as per the Advertisement No.01/RO& ARO/ 2021 dated 17th August, 2021, Review Officer Recruitment Examination-2021 and Assistant Review Officer Recruitment Examination-2021 as also Advertisement No.01/CA/2021 dated 17.08.2021 for Computer Assistant Recruitment Examination-2021 published under the signatures of Registrar General, Allahabad High Court, Allahabad and Senior Director (Examination), National Testing Agency. At the same time, directions have been issued to the Registrar General to communicate the order to all the selected candidates by 8th April, 2022 so that they may file their respective intervention/impleadment applications to have their say in the matter on the next date.

5. During the course of hearing of the above appeals, it was informed at the Bar that the subject matter of the Appeals is also under challenge in several writ petitions filed by the unsuccessful candidates and their rights would be affected by the outcome of the orders passed in these appeals and the writ petitions be also heard along with the appeals so that the issues raised therein may also be addressed. The Registry of the Court was accordingly vide order dated 27.04.2022 directed to place all the writ petitions arising out of the selection of Review Officers/Assistant Review Officers/Computer Assistants before the Hon'ble the Chief Justice on the administrative side for obtaining nomination. Hon'ble the Chief Justice, vide order dated 04.05.2022, has directed all the Appeals and writ petitions involving same issue to be listed together and have been nominated to this Court. The orders passed in the Appeals shall also govern the connected writ petitions.

6. The writ petitions tagged along with these Intra Court Appeals are being categorized in terms of the relief claimed into four categories i.e. writ petitions challenging Review Officers/Assistant Review Officer, Part-I & II examinations (only two writ petitions); writ petitions challenging Review Officers, Part-II examinations (eight writ petitions); writ petitions challenging Assistant Review Officers, Part-II examinations (48 writ petitions) and writ petitions challenging Computer Assistants examinations (only two writ petitions).

7. The writ petitioners/respondents in the writ petitions giving rise to the Special Appeals are unsuccessful aspirants for the post of Assistant Review Officers and were all aggrieved by Part-II of the Examination. They approached the learned Single Judge with the allegations that:-

i. The evaluation of the respective candidatures has been conducted in a most arbitrary manner leading to erroneous results.

ii. The normalized total aggregate marks of the petitioners has not been specified in the score cards issued to them and it has been concluded that the petitioners are ineligible, whereas the position is otherwise. The normalization procedure was liable to be applied also in determining as to whether a candidate qualified or failed to qualify. Such determination could not have been done on the basis of raw marks.

iii. Each of the petitioners fulfilled the eligibility criteria of obtaining 25 marks out of 50 marks in typing test and have correctly typed 500 words and have also obtained typing speed of 25 words per minute and on the conjoint reading of Clause 8.7.2 and 8.8.2, their candidatures were liable to be considered.

iv. As per the terms of the instructions contained in the Advertisement, the respondent authorities have proceeded to treat the petitioners as not having qualified the Part-II examination on account of not having secured minimum typing speed of 25 words per minute.

v. The respondent authorities adopted a criteria not advertised for the purposes of computing the typing speed or for determining of qualified/non qualified candidates inasmuch as Clause 14.7 of Chapter-14 of the guidelines which stipulates a provision with regard to the time limit and submission of the answer typed on the computer screen, provides that when timer reaches zero, the examination will end by itself and the candidate will not be required to end or submit the examination and the time duration provided for the CBT was 20 minutes. Meaning thereby that the examination was to end after 20 minutes by itself.

vi. There existed no instructions to the effect that in case, a candidate completed the typing work prior to expiry of 20 minutes, the candidate was required to end the examination by any method. In the absence of any instruction requiring a candidate to end the examination immediately on conclusion of the typing test has vitiated the entire selection.

vii. The adoption of criteria not advertised for the purposes of computing the typing speed or for determination of qualified / non qualified candidates tantamount to change of the rules of the game after the game is over, cannot be permitted.

viii. The respondent authorities did not specify in the instructions whether it would be the net typing speed or gross typing speed which was to be taken into consideration for determining the essential qualification of 25 words per minutes. The respondents have illegally taken into consideration the net typing speed.

ix. The National Testing Agency (hereinafter referred to as the "NTA') was authorized by the High Court to conduct examination, but NTA took help from M/s Aptech Ltd., which had been blacklisted and the writ petition challenging the blacklisting had been upheld by this Court. Since, NTA had taken the assistance of a blacklisted company in conducting the selection, the entire selection is vitiated.

8. It was, accordingly, prayed that the entire selection was liable to be quashed.

9. The writ petitioners in the connected writ petitions are unsuccessful aspirants to the post of Review Officers/Assistant Review Officers/ Computer Assistants. Besides the above allegations they have raised the following additional allegations of challenge to the selection process which are enumerated as under:-

The respondents have not followed the reservation guidelines as provided in the advertisement dated 17.08.2021 while declaring the results of the post of Assistant Review Officer/Review Officer.

Sports quota benefit of 1% has not been extended to the candidates who applied for the post of Assistant Review Officer.

Physically handicapped quota of 3% has not been extended to the candidates who applied for the post of Assistant Review Officer.

Ex-Servicemen quota of 5% has not been extended to the candidates who applied for the post of Assistant Review Officer.

Dependent of Freedom Fighter reservation of 2% has also not been extended to the candidates who applied for the post of Assistant Review Officer.

The respondents ought to have applied the horizontal reservation by rounding off the fraction 1.75 as 2 under the unreserved category for the post of Assistant Review Officer and thereafter proceeded to declare the result (sports quota).

10. The writ petitions giving rise to these bunch of appeals were resisted by the High Court (Appellants of Special Appeal No.276 of 2022) mainly on the ground that as per the guidelines issued qua the Part-II examination, the minimum duration prescribed for typing approximate 500 words was 20 minutes and the minimum typing speed fixed was 25 words per minute. Thus, the duration could be less than 20 minutes and the minimum speed can be more than 25 words per minute. In Clause 6.2, Chapter-6, it was clearly provided that the net typing speed was to be taken into consideration and not the gross typing speed. It was also urged that Clause 14.7 of the guidelines is not applicable to Part-II of the examination and applied only to Part-I. The Part-II of the examination was for testing the computer knowledge of the candidates and they were expected to respond to the pop ups being displayed on their screens requiring them to submit their examination prior to 20 minutes.

11. The National Testing Agency (Appellant of Special Appeal No.291 of 2022) also resisted the writ petitions on the ground that the same was not maintainable as the petitioners had voluntarily participated in the examination and now could not be permitted to challenge the selection having not succeeded in the examination.

12. The learned Single Judge after considering the rival contentions of the respective parties prima-facie found that the entire exercise of selection/non selection of the candidates was based upon the parameters which were never specified in the Advertisement. The criteria or method of evaluation of the typing speed of the candidates has also not been mentioned in the Advertisement as to whether it was to be calculated according to net typing speed or gross typing speed. The learned Single Judge also found that the loss of candidate, who could not submit their typing test prior to expiry of 20 minutes in the absence of any instructions to that effect. The learned Single Judge also noted the fact that a candidate was required to have basic computer knowledge before taking the Part-II test was not specified in the instructions and the instructions go to show that it was a computer based typing test and not a computer knowledge test. The learned Single Judge further noted that the National Testing Agency/Union of India could not explain as to why the NTA had taken the help of M/s Aptech Ltd., which had been blacklisted. The learned Single Judge repelled the argument of counsel for the High Court that Clause 14.7 of the guidelines was not applicable to Part-II examination and held that in fact the said Clause 14.7 applied to the petitioners. The learned Single Judge also repelled the objection of the NTA that the writ petition at the instance of unsuccessful writ petitioners was not maintainable relying upon the decision of Apex Court in the case of Ramjit Singh Kardam & others versus Sanjeev Kumar and others reported in 2020 (0) Supreme (SC) 297 and accordingly proceeded to issue the impugned directions.

13. The appellants have assailed the order of the learned Single Judge principally inter-alia on the following grounds:-

i. The impugned order passed by the learned Single Judge though is an interlocutory order has the trappings of a judgment inasmuch as the findings recorded are of a final nature without considering the arguments of the appellant herein.

ii. The interim order/impugned order has been passed without hearing the selected candidates even though the same is prejudicial to their interests.

iii. The Part-II of the examination which was the Computer Knowledge Test in English only was designed to test the qualities of speed, knowledge, efficiency, accuracy and endurance of a candidate. The Computer Knowledge Test of 500 words for the duration of 20 minutes was approved by the Recruitment Committee and implemented by the National Testing Agency.

iv. The Advertisement and the instructions attached to the Advertisement clearly provides that a candidate has to be successful in two qualifiers i.e. secure minimum speed of 25 words per minutes in English typing of approx 500 words on computer and also secure minimum qualifying marks of 25 out of 50 marks. In case, a candidate does not qualify either of the aforesaid two conditions, he would be deemed to be not qualified and would not be considered for final selection, even if his overall marks (i.e. Part-1 + Part-II) are higher than a selected candidate.

v. The learned Single Judge erred in going only by the heading of Chapter XIV of the General Procedures/Guidelines/information appended to the Advertisement to prima-facie hold that the Para 14.7 applied to the typing test (Part-II of the Computer Knowledge Test) as also to the Multiple Choice Objective Questions (Part-I of the Computer Knowledge Test).

vi. The learned Single Judge completely overlooked the fact that for Part-II (Computer Knowledge Test) all candidates were given an option to end the examination themselves through a button carrying the necessary caption highlighted in red at the bottom of the typing window. The end typing button was enabled for all candidates right from the beginning of the test itself which was indicative of the fact that candidates could submit their response at any time during the test.

vii. Most of the writ petitioners had submitted their Part-II Computer Based Knowledge Test much prior to the allotted 20 minutes and as such, could not have raised any grievance with respect to the premature submission or any alleged wrongful evaluation on that basis.

viii. The learned Single Judge erred in observing that prima-facie the Advertisement has not mentioned as to whether the typing speed has to be calculated according to the net typing speed or gross typing speed in as much as the very fact that the candidates were required to reproduce on the computer in the same format the content of the passage of approx. 500 words was indicative of the fact that any error committed by the candidates would be disregarded while computing the speed as also the number of words typed particularly in view of the specifications in Para- 6.2 of the Chapter XIV of the General Procedures/Guidelines/ Information.

ix. The learned Single Judge got unnecessarily swayed away by the oral submissions of the petitioners that the National Testing Agency which had been entrusted the task of conducting the examination had in fact taken help from M/s Aptech Ltd. which had been blacklisted.

x. Lastly, it has been submitted by the appellants that the impugned order of the learned Single Judge has adversely impacted the effective functioning of the High Court inasmuch as 80% of the posts of Assistant Review Officer, 20% of the posts of Review Officer and 50% posts of the Computer Assistant are lying vacant. The said posts were sought to be filled up by the selection undertaken but the learned Single Judge has by the impugned order stayed the issuance of the appointment letters to the selected candidates.

14. It is thus prayed that the Special Appeals be allowed and the order dated 6.4.2022 be set aside and the stay application preferred by the petitioners be rejected.

15. We have heard the respective counsels for the parties and have also perused the record. Although the writ petitions were listed as per directions of Hon'ble the Chief Justice along with the Special Appeals majority of the Counsels have not come forward to address the Court in respect of their writ petitions.

16. In order to appreciate the rival submissions of the respective counsels it would be appropriate to understand the background of the case.

17. The Recruitment Committee of the High Court considering the large number of vacancies existing for the posts of Review Officers, Assistant Review Officers and Computer Assistants after detailed deliberations, resolved to fill up 55 posts of Review Officers, 344 posts of Assistant Review Officers and 15 posts of Computer Assistants. The Committee resolved for the selection procedure to be adopted for filling up of the three posts. It was decided that the difficulty level of question paper of Assistant Review Officer shall be higher than that of Computer Assistant and the difficulty level of question paper of Review Officer shall be higher than that of Assistant Review Officer. The exam was resolved to be held in two parts simultaneously, namely the objective type test of General Studies for maximum 200 marks (Part-I) and the Computer Knowledge Test for maximum 50 marks (Part-II). It was further resolved that a speed of 25 words per minute in English Typing on computer will also be the qualification for recruitment for all the three posts. The minimum marks to be obtained in Part-II to be eligible for final selection was resolved to be 25 marks out of 50 marks. The Part-I and II Examination would be conducted simultaneously in a single shift with the gap of 15 minutes. No interviews were to be held for the selection.

18. The Committee further resolved that the National Testing Agency which is an autonomous body of the Ministry of Education, Department of Higher Education, Government of India be approached for its services and was to evolve a suitable software for computer-based evaluation of computer type sheets keeping in view both speed and accuracy. Upon consideration of various procedural aspects including the evaluation criteria for Part-II submitted by NTA, the proposal submitted by NTA regarding the marking scheme/evaluation criteria for Part-II Examination i.e. Computer Knowledge Test for Review Officer, Assistant Review Officer Examination-2021 and Computer Assistant Recruitment Examination - 2021 were duly approved by the Hon'ble the Chief Justice. The draft advertisement was also approved by the Recruitment Committee. The advertisement itself provided for National Test Abhyas to enable the candidates to take mock test for various competitive examinations such as JEE Mains, NEET-UG including the Allahabad High Court Recruitment Examination. The App was launched to facilitate the candidates to access high quality mock test as the NTA's test practice centres were closed due to COVID-19 pandemic. The advertisement further provided for web based query redressal system for purposes of any kind of ambiguity in the mind of the candidates.

19. The examination was ultimately held in accordance with the guidelines and directions duly considered and approved by the High Court.

20. A preliminary objection as to the maintainability of the Intra Court Appeals has been raised by the petitioners/respondents No.1 to 39 on the ground that the appeals are directed against an interlocutory order. The writ petitions giving rise to the appeals have been kept pending and counter and rejoinder affidavits have been invited and the writ petitions have been directed to be listed as fresh. The appellants ought to have filed counter affidavit and prayed for vacation of the interim order and there was no occasion for preferring the present appeals.

21. Per contra, learned counsel for the appellants submit that the Intra- Court Appeal are very much maintainable as the learned Single Judge has recorded finding in favour of the writ petitioners/respondents which are final in nature and has proceeded to restrain the appellants herein not to issue the appointment letters to the successful candidates even without hearing them. In our opinion, the order of the learned Single Judge certainly has the trappings of a judgment and cannot be regarded purely of a procedural nature in aid of the progression of the case. Rather it affects the vital and valuable rights of the appellants as also the selected candidates causing serious injustice to them. Consequently applying the ratio of the full Bench decision of this Court in the case of Ashutosh Shrotriya and others Vs. Vice Chancellor, Dr. B.R. Ambedkar University and others, reported in 2016 (116) ALR 310 (FB) we hold the Intra Court Appeals to be maintainable and preliminary objection of the petitioners/ respondents stands overruled.

22. Learned counsel for the appellants vehemently submit that the learned Single Judge erred in law in entertaining the writ petitions at the instance of the writ petitioners who have participated in the selection process without any demur and declared unsuccessful and challenged the selection process by placing reliance upon the decision of the Apex Court in the case of Ramjit Singh Kardam and others Vs.

Sanjiv Kumar and others reported in 2020 (0) Supreme (SC) 297 is completely misplaced inasmuch as in the said case the criteria of selection applied by the Commission was declared by the Commission only at the time of declaration of the final result which is not the case in the case at hand. The learned Single Judge erroneously found that the entire exercise of selection/non selection is upon the parameters which were never specified in the advertisement. It was also held that the criteria or method of evaluation of the typing speed of the candidates was not mentioned in the advertisement as to whether it was to be calculated by taking into consideration the net typing speed or the gross typing speed.

23. We have perused the advertisement dated 17.08.2021 as also the general procedures/guidelines/information attached to the advertisement for the Review Officer Recruitment Examination, 2021 and Assistant Review Officer Recruitment Examination, 2021 filed as Annexure No.1 to the writ petition. Since the controversy involved in the writ petition and consequently in the present Special Appeals relates to the selection to the post of Assistant Review Officer, we shall confine ourselves to the provisions relating to the said post.

24. In order to appreciate the arguments advanced by the parties and adjudicate the controversy involved it is apt to reproduce certain clauses from the general procedure/guidelines/information attached to the advertisement dated 17.08.2021.

25. Chapter 4 of the General Procedures/Guidelines/Information relates to the eligibility criteria and Clause 4.1 relates to the essential qualification which a candidate must possess for the post in question on the closing date of submission of the online application form. According to the said clause a candidate must possess a minimum typing speed of 25 words per minute in English Typing on Computer. Clause 4.1 of Chapter 4 of the General Procedures/Guidelines/Information is quoted here-under:-

Chapter-4
ELIGIBILITY CRITERIA

4.1 Essential Qualifications

The applicant must possess following essential educational qualification/Computer Qualifications for the post of Review Officer and Assistant Review Officer on the closing date of submission of the On-line Application Form :

Name of Post	Essential Qualifications
Review Officer	1. Bachelor's Degree of a University established by law in India, Or A Qualification recognized as equivalent thereto. And 2. Diploma/Degree in Computer Science from a recognized Institution / University established by Law in India, Or 'O' Level Certificate awarded by NIELET/DOEACC Society, Or "CCC' Certificate in Computer Science from recognized institute established by law in India. And 3. Minimum Typing Speed of 25 Words per minute in English Typing on Computer.
Assistant Review Officer	1. Bachelor's Degree of a University established by law in India, Or

	A Qualification recognized as equivalent thereto. And 2. Diploma/Degree in Computer Science from a recognized Institution / University established by Law in India, Or 'O' Level Certificate awarded by NIELET/DOEACC Society, Or "CCC' Certificate in Computer Science from recognized institute established by law in India. And 3. Minimum Typing Speed of 25 Words per minute in English Typing on Computer.

26. Chapter 5 deals with the selection procedure and Clause 5.1 provides the syllabus and modalpities of the selection procedure. We are concerned with Part-II of the examination as the same has been challenged. Part-II of the selection procedure so far as the post of Assistant Review Officers are concerned provides that the computer knowledge test in English only is a Computer Based Test Exam of 20 minutes duration and of 50 marks. The prescribed minimum qualifying marks is 25 out of 50 and minimum typing speed is 25 words per minute in English typing. The syllabus for Part-II is that a candidate shall be provided a test in English of approximate 500 words on computer which he/she shall be required to reproduce on the computer in the same format. Chapter 6 deals with the marking scheme. Clause 5.1 of Chapter 5 of the General Procedures/Guidelines/Information is quoted here-under:-

Chapter-5

SELECTION PROCEDURE

5.1 Syllabus & Modalities

There shall be "SINGLE STAGE' Examination for the following Posts, consisting of "TWO PARTS", as mentioned below:

Name of Post	Part-I	Part-II	Syllabus
REVIEW OFFICER	Type : Multiple Choice Objective Questions Mode of : Computer Based Test Exam Total number : 200 of MCQ Maximum Marks : 200 Duration: 03 Hrs (180 Minutes) NO NEGATIVE MARKING. NO MINIMUM QUALIFYING MARKS.	Type: Computer Knowledge Test in English Only Mode of : Computer Based Test Exam Maximum Marks : 50 Duration: 20 Minutes NO NEGATIVE MARKING. MINIMUM QUALIFYING MARKS : 25 MARKS OUT OF 50 MARKS MINIMUM SPEED: 25 WORDS PER MINUTE IN ENGLISH TYPING ON COMPUTER.	Part-I : Multiple Choice Objective Questions from: (A) General Science (B) History of India (C) Indian National Movement (D) Indian Polity, Economy and Culture (E) Indian Agriculture, Commerce and Trade (F) Population, Ecology and Urbanisation (in Indian Context) (G) World Geography and Geography and Resources of India (H) Current National and International Important Events

			(I) General Aptitude (J) Special Knowledge regarding Education, Culture, Agriculture, Industry, Trade, Living and Social Traditions of Uttar Pradesh (K) Knowledge of General English and General Hindi of Graduation Level (L) Elementary Knowledge of Computers. Part-II : Computer Knowledge Test A candidate shall be provided a text in English of approximately 500 words on computer which shall be required to reproduce on the computer in same format.	ASSISTANT REVIEW OFFICER	Type : Multiple Choice Objective Questions Mode of : Computer Based Test Exam Total number : 200 of MCQ Maximum Marks : 200 Duration: 03 Hrs (180 Minutes) NO NEGATIVE MARKING. NO MINIMUM QUALIFYING MARKS.	Type : Computer Knowledge Test in English Only Mode of : Computer Based Test Exam Maximum Marks : 50 Duration: 20 Minutes NO NEGATIVE MARKING. MINIMUM QUALIFYING MARKS : 25 MARKS OUT OF 50 MARKS MINIMUM SPEED: 25 WORDS PER MINUTE IN ENGLISH TYPING ON COMPUTER.	Part-I : Multiple Choice Objective Questions from: (A) General Science (B) History of India (C) Indian National Movement (D) Indian Polity, Economy and Culture (E) Indian Agriculture, Commerce and Trade (F) Population, Ecology and Urbanisation (in Indian Context) (G) World Geography and Geography and Resources of India (H) Current National and International Important Events (I)

			General Intelligentsia (J) Special Knowledge regarding Education, Culture, Agriculture, Industry, Trade, Living and Social Traditions of Uttar Pradesh (K) Knowledge of General English and General Hindi of Graduation Level (L) Elementary Knowledge of Computers. Part-II : Computer Knowledge Test A candidate shall be provided a text in English of approximately 500 words on computer which shall be required to reproduce on the computer in same format.

27. Clause 6.2 relates to the Part-II Computer Knowledge Test and provides that 0.1 marks shall be deducted on each mistake, left out words and spelling mistakes (error) will be treated as full mistake (error); typing of letters, words, characters, symbols or anything other than the contents of passage as asked in the question paper shall be treated as full mistake (error); words typed beyond the prescribed words limit shall be deleted/ ignored. Clause 6.1 & 6.2 of Chapter 6 of the General Procedures/ Guidelines/Information is quoted here-under:-

Chapter-6
MARKING SCHEME

6.1 Part I - Multiple Choice Objective Type Test

(i) To answer a Multiple Choice Question, the candidate needs to choose one option corresponding to the correct answer or the "most appropriate answer'.

(ii) Each correct answer shall carry One (01) Mark.

(iii) There is no negative marking for incorrect answers.

(iv) No marks will be given for questions un-answered/un-attempted/marked for review.

(v) If a question is found to be incorrect or ambiguous or having more than one answer during the Key Challenge, only those candidates who have attempted the question and chosen one of the correct answers shall be given the mark.

(vi) In case a Question is dropped due to some technical mistake (error) or any other reason, full mark shall be given to all the candidates.

6.2 Part II - Computer Knowledge Test

(i) Marks to be deducted on each mistake (error)

[Value of mistake (error): 01 Mistake (Error) = 0.1 marks]

(ii) Left-out words and spelling mistakes (errors) will be treated as full mistake (error).

(iii) Typing of Letters, Words, Characters, Symbols or anything other than the contents of passage as asked in question paper shall be treated as full mistake (error).

(iv) Words typed beyond the prescribed words limit shall be deleted / ignored.

(v) The evaluated copy must indicate o No. of mistakes (errors) made by the candidate

o Total Marks awarded

(vi) Marks to be deducted on each mistake (error)

(Value of mistake (error): 01 Mistake (error)=0.1 mark).

(vii) The Formula would be as under :-

Column-I	Column-II
Number of words with mistake (error)	Marks to be deducted Value of mistake (error) 01 Mistake (error) = 0.1 mark
1	0.100
2	0.200
3	0.300
4	0.400
5	0.500
..	..
10	1.000
..	..

28. Chapter 8 deals with the evaluation criteria and Clause 8.1 clearly lays down that the performance of the candidates in Part-I and Part-II shall be evaluated as per the marking scheme mentioned in Clause 6.1 and 6.2. Clause 8.1 and 8.7.2 of Chapter 8 of the General Procedures/Guidelines/ Information is quoted here-under:-

Chapter-8

EVALUATION CRITERIA

8.1 The performance of the Candidates in Part-I: Multiple Choice Objective Type Test and Part-II: Computer Knowledge Test shall be evaluated as per the marking scheme mentioned in Clause 6.1 & 6.2.

8.7.2 Step-2: Compilation of Percentile Score (NTA Score) for each shift/ Session for each Candidate only for those who qualify:

(i) Those obtaining less than 25 raw marks or having typing speed less than 25 words per minute in Part-II will be declared as ''Not-Qualified' and remaining others as ''Qualified'

(ii) Raw Marks obtained by each candidate in the shift/session who qualify will be converted into Percentile Score (NTA Score) as follows:

Raw Marks obtained in Part-I into Percentile Score (NTA Score) TP1)

Raw Marks obtained in Part-I + Part-II into Percentile Score (NTA Score) (TP)

(iii) The Percentile Score (NTA Score) would be calculated for each candidate who qualifies in the shift/Session as follows:

Let TP1 be the Percentile Score (NTA Score) of Raw Score of Part-I and TP Percentile Score (NTA Score) of Total Raw Score for Part-I & Part-II of that candidate.

Percentile (TP) : 100.0X	No. of candidates appeared from the shift/session with raw score EQUAL TO OR LESS than the Candidate Total ---------- ---------- ------ Total No. of candidates appeared in the shift/session

Similarly, TP1 for Part-I shall be calculated.

Note: Percentile Score (NTA Score) will be calculated up to 7 decimal places to avoid bunching effect and reduce ties.

(iv) The following will be available for each candidate:

Candidate Result	Raw Marks			Percentile Score (NTA Score)*
	Part-I	Part-II	Total (Part-I + Part-II)	Part-I	Total (Part-I + Part-II)
Not-Qualified	XXX	YYY	ZZZ	----------	----------
Qualified	XXX	YYY	ZZZ	AAA.AAAAAAA	BBB.BBBBBBB

''*' ''---------''- Not Computed'. Percentile Score (NTA Score) is calculated only for qualified Candidates.

29. Chapter 14 deals with the procedure/instructions for appearing in Computer Based Test. Clause 14.4 and 14.7 of the Chapter 14 of the General Procedures/Guidelines/Information is quoted here-under:-

Chapter-14
FOR APPEARING IN COMPUTER BASED TEST (CBT)

14.4 The keyboard attached to the computer, if any, will be disabled during the entire duration of the examination. Depending on the type of question, the answers to questions can either be entered by clicking on the virtual on-screen keyboard (numeric or otherwise) using the computer mouse or by clicking the chosen option(s) using the computer mouse.

14.7 The on-screen computer clock counter of every candidate will be set at the server. The count-down timer in the top right side of computer screen will display the time remaining (in minutes) available for the candidate to complete the examination. When the timer reaches zero, the examination will end by itself. Candidate will not be required to end or submit the examination.

30. Further, in case the Part-I and Part-II examination is conducted in more than one shift the normalization procedure shall be adopted for exercising equivalency in the question papers administered to the candidates in different shifts.

31. Thus having perused the advertisement dated 17.08.2021 and the general procedure/guidelines/information attached in respect of the selection undertaken, we find that each and every parameter for effecting the selection/non-selection of a candidate has been specifically laid down and we do not approve the conclusion drawn by the learned Single Judge that the parameters had not been specified. We also find that the reliance placed by the learned Single Judge upon the decision of the Apex Court in the case of Ramjit Singh Kardam and others Vs. Sanjiv Kumar and others, reported in 2020(0) Supreme (SC) 297 [2020(20) SCC 209] is completely misplaced in view of our conclusion that each and every parameters for effecting the selection/non selection had been specifically laid down. The ratio of Ramjit Singh Kardam (Supra) is clearly not applicable to the case at hand. The decisions relied upon by the Counsel for the Appellants in the case of Union of India and others Vs. S. Vinod Kumar and others 2007 (8) SCC 100, Om Prakash Shukla Vs. Akhilesh Kumar Shukla and others (1986 Supp SCC 285) and Vijendra Kumar Verma Vs. Public Service Commission, Uttarakhand and others, reported in (2011) 1 SCC 150 are clearly attracted and the writ petitions at the instance of unsuccessful candidates challenging the examination/selection process are clearly not maintainable. The Special Appeal are liable to be allowed on this score alone. Paragraph Nos.25 to 28 of the judgment passed in Vijendra Kumar Verma (Supra) are quoted here-under:-

"25. In this connection, we may refer to the decision of the Supreme Court in Dr. G. Sarana Vs. University of Lucknow & Others. reported in (1976) 3 SCC 585 wherein also a similar stand was taken by a candidate and in that context the Supreme Court had declared that the candidate who participated in the selection process cannot challenge the validity of the said selection process after appearing in the said selection process and taking opportunity of being selected. Para 15 inter alia reads thus:-

"15..... He seems to have voluntarily appeared before the Committee and taken a chance of having a favourable recommendation from it. Having done so, it is not now open to him to turn round and question the constitution of the Committee."

26. In P.S. Gopinathan Vs. State of Kerala and Others reported in (2008) 7 SCC 70*, this Court relying on the above principle held thus;*

"44. ..... Apart from the fact that the appellant accepted his posting orders without any demur in that capacity, his subsequent order of appointment dated 15-7-1992 issued by the Governor had not been challenged by the appellant. Once he chose to join the mainstream on the basis of option given to him, he cannot turn back and challenge the conditions. He could have opted not to join at all but he did not do so. Now it does not lie in his mouth to clamour regarding the cut-off date or for that matter any other condition. The High Court, therefore, in our opinion, rightly held that the appellant is estopped and precluded from questioning the said order dated 14-1-1992. The application of principles of estoppel, waiver and acquiescence has been considered by us in many cases, one of them being G. Sarana (Dr.) v. University of Lucknow....."

27. In Union of India and Others Vs. S. Vinodh Kumar and Others reported in (2007) 8 SCC 100 at paragraph 18 it was held that

"18. ..... it is also well settled that those candidates who had taken part in the selection process knowing fully well the procedure laid down therein were not entitled to question the same.

28. Besides, in K.H. Siraj Vs. High Court of Kerala and Others reported in (2006) 6 SCC 395 in paragraph 72 and 74 it was held that candidates who participated in the interview with knowledge that for selection they had to secure prescribed minimum marks on being unsuccessful in interview could not turn around and challenge that the said provision of minimum marks was improper, said challenge is liable to be dismissed on the ground of estoppel."

32. Likewise, we find that the criteria of evaluation of the typing speed of the candidates based on net typing speed and not gross typing speed is clearly brought out from Clause 6.2. Accordingly, we do not approve the conclusion of the learned Single Judge that the advertisement was not clear that the candidates were not to be judged according to the net typing speed.

33. So far as the view of the learned Single Judge as regards the aspect that the candidates could not submit their typing test prior to the expiry of 20 minutes in absence of any instructions to that effect is concerned, we find that all candidates were given an option to end the examination themselves through a button carrying the necessary caption highlighted in Red at the bottom of the typing window. The said "End Typing Test" button was enabled for all candidates right from the beginning of the test. A perusal of the eligibility criteria discloses that the candidate applying for the post of Review Officer or Assistant Review Officer must possess either; (i) Bachelor's Degree of a University established by law in India or a qualification recognized as equivalent thereto; and (ii) Diploma/Degree in Computer Science from a recognized Institution / University established by Law in India, or 'O' Level Certificate awarded by NIELET/DOEACC Society, Or "CCC' Certificate in Computer Science from recognized institute established by law in India; and (iii) Minimum Typing Speed of 25 Words per minute in English Typing in computer. This comprises that the candidate who is sitting for the examination has a proficiency to understand the meaning of the option (a typing test). Hence, the view of the learned Single Judge to the effect that there were no instructions contained in the Advertisement providing an option to end examination before 20 minutes, is a finding without taking into consideration the eligibility criteria prescribed in Chapter-4 of the Advertisement. No fault can be found in the procedure adopted by the appellants and the interference of the learned Single Judge in the recruitment process on that score is unwarranted and not liable to be sustained.

34. Further, the view of the learned Single Judge that the candidates were required to have basic computer knowledge before taking the test was not specified in the instructions and the instructions reveal that it was a computer based typing test and not a computer knowledge test is completely misplaced and could not form the basis to issue the impugned directions. Admittedly, the candidates were not tested in the knowledge of hardware, used in the computers or software used for operating the system nor their knowledge of the English Language, Grammer or Spelling of Words was to be tested. Candidates were tested on the proficiency in working on the computer namely in typing and formatting the given text. They were tested on the words actually typed and not which they missed out or could not type. The evaluation was done strictly according to Clause 6.2 of Chapter 6 of the Guidelines. The method adopted is a well recognized method considered and adopted by all IIMs, IITs and International Examination bodes in which marks were awarded on the performance. The purpose was to test the candidates in the use of the computer for typing and formatting.

35. The Writ Court appears to have been impressed by the oral submissions advanced on behalf of the writ petitioners to the effect that the National Testing Agency had been authorised to conduct the examination but the Agency took the assistance of M/s Aptech Ltd. which had been blacklisted and as such the entire selection becomes doubtful. We are of the opinion that the Writ Court was not justified to rush to the conclusion that the selection stood vitiated on account of the involvement of M/s Aptech Ltd. and issue the impugned directions. We find substance in the submissions of the learned Counsel for the appellants that the High Court had contracted with the National Testing Agency to carry out the examination and had no direct relationship with M/s Aptech Ltd. As per the information provided by NTA, the assistance of M/s Aptech Ltd. was taken for the purpose of providing hardware/computer terminals on which the test was conducted as more than 1.5 Lacs candidates took the examination. Besides, we find that no allegations of improper conduct of the examination on account of the involvement of M/s Aptech Ltd. or any candidate having been adversely affected by engaging the services of M/s Aptech Ltd. by NTA. In such view of the matter, the view of the learned Single Judge is unsustainable.

36. In the connected writ petitions which are also being decided by this common order almost similar points have been raised which have been discussed herein above, however, no separate arguments have been advanced. So far as the challenge made to the selection process is concerned, we have examined the writ petitions individually and grounds raised therein as well as we have also perused the original record pertaining to selection. The pith and substance of the counter affidavit filed by the appellants in the writ petitions is that the advertisement dated 17.08.2021 provides the benefit of reservation whether it falls under the vertical reservation or horizontal reservation, would be given to the candidates who are domicile of U.P. subject to production of domicile certificate issued by the Competent Authority as recognized by law or relevant rules of State of U.P. The candidates who failed to produce the domicile certificate would not be entitled to the benefit of reservation and such candidates would be treated as general (unreserved) category candidates. It is the specific case of the appellants that those candidates who claimed reservation (vertical or horizontal) did not produce the Domicile Certificate and thus were treated as general (unreserved) category candidates. So far as the contention of the petitioners that the horizontal reservation available to the sports person was not extended to the candidates. It is submitted that Clause 3.4 of the advertisement laid down that the horizontal reservation for sports person would be provided in terms of Rule 23-A of the Allahabad High Court Officers and Staff (Condition of Service and Conduct) Rules, 1976.

"23-A. Recruitment for sportsperson-One percent of vacancies in all class II (Deleted) & class III posts of the establishment of the Court shall be reserved at the stage of direct recruitment for such skilled players and sports persons as may have represented on behalf of any State in India or the Country as a whole in National or International games at least for two years and in International competitions for one year or who have represented their Universities at least for three years in Inter Universities Tournaments organized by the Inter Universities Sports Board or who have represented their Schools in International Sports Meets organized by the All India Schools Sports Board in Badminton, Basket Ball, Cricket, Football, Hockey, Table Tennis, Volley Ball, Tennis, Weight Lifting, Wrestling, Boxing, Judo, Gymnastics and Rifle Shooting."

37. As per the information provided, the total vacancies advertised for the post of Review Officers was 55, for Assistant Review Officers was 344 and for Computer Assistants was 15. The compartmentalized horizontal reservation was applied as per the Government Order dated 28.08.2015 which provided that "rounding off" shall not apply for computation of vacancies in reserved categories and only the main number shall be considered as final and decimal shall be ignored. Therefore, the number of vacant post (1.75) under the sportsperson sub category in General Category for the post of Assistant Review Officer has been taken as 1 and not as 2. The appellants/respondents in the writ petitions have filed a chart depicting the compartmentalized horizontal reservation without rounding off as per the Government Order dated 28.08.2015 and High Court Rules, applied against the posts of Assistant Review Officer/Review Officer and Computer Assistant which is reproduced below which clarifies the position.

Compartmentalised Horizontal Reservation
Without rounding off as per G.O. Dated 28.08.2015 & High Court Rules
(C) Horizontal Reservation of 55 vacancies of Review Officer

Category/ sub Category	Vacancy	Women (20%)	Dependent of Freedom Fighters (02%)	Ex-servicemen (05%)	Physically handicapped (03%)	Sportsperson (01%)
Unreserved	29	05	00	01	00	00
OBC	14	02	00	00	00	00
SC	11	02	00	00	00	00
ST	01	00	00	00	00	00
Total	55	09	00	01	00	00

(D) Horizontal Reservation of 344 vacancies of Assistant Review Officer

Category/ sub Category	Vacancy	Women (20%)	Dependent of Freedom Fighters (02%)	Ex-servicemen (05%)	Physically handicapped (03%)	Sportsperson (01%)
Unreserved	174	34	03	08	05	01
OBC	92	18	01	04	02	00
SC	72	14	01	03	02	00
ST	06	01	00	00	00	00
Total	344	67	05	15	09	01

(E) Horizontal Reservation of 15 vacancies of Computer Assistant

Category/ sub Category	Vacancy	Women (20%)	Dependent of Freedom Fighters (02%)	Ex-servicemen (05%)	Physically handicapped (03%)	Sportsperson (01%)
Unreserved	08	01	00	00	00	00
OBC	04	00	00	00	00	00
SC	03	00	00	00	00	00
ST	00	00	00	00	00	00
Total	15	01	00	00	00	00

38. The chart clearly demolishes the case of the writ petitioners. We also find that none of the petitioners satisfy the minimum eligibility in terms of not obtaining the minimum qualifying marks and the minimum qualifying speed so as to be considered for preparation of the final merit list.

39. We also take note of the fact that the writ petitioners of the subsequent writ petitions which admittedly were filed subsequent to the Writ (A) No.4253 of 2022 (Robin Singh & 38 others Vs. State of U.P. & 6 other) and 10 other connected writ petitions and only after the learned Single Judge had granted indulgence by the order dated 06.04.2022. The petitioners of the subsequent writ petitions appear to have been standing on the fence awaiting the outcome of Writ (A) No.4253 of 2022 and connected writ petitions and once indulgence was granted vide order dated 06.04.2022 jumped into the fray opening a floodgate of writ petitions. We do not approve of such conduct, however, since we otherwise find no merit in the writ petitions and hold them not maintainable in view of the law laid down by the Apex Court in the case of Madan Lal and others Vs. State of Jammu and Kashmir, reported in 1995(3) SCC 486, Sadananda Halo & Others Vs. Momtaz Ali Sheikh & Others, reported in 2008(4) SCC 619, Ramesh Chandra Shah & Others Vs. Anil Joshi & Others, reported in 2013 (11) SCC 309, wherein the Apex Court has observed that unsuccessful candidates, after having taken part in the examination process, could not turn back and assail the selection process only because the result of the examination is not palatable to them.

40. In Ramesh Chandra Shah (Supra), wherein candidates who were competing for the post of Physiotherapists in the State of Uttarakhand participated in a written examination, the Apex Court in pursuance of the advertisement, observed that if they had cleared the test, the respondents would not have raised any objection to the selection process as to the methodology adopted. Having taken a chance of selection, it was held that the respondents were disentitled to seek relief under Article 226 of the Constitution of India and would be deemed to have waived their right to challenge the advertisement or the procedure of selection. The Apex Court observed as under:-

"18. It is settled law that a person who consciously takes part in the process of selection cannot, thereafter turn around and question the method of selection and its outcome."

41. Further, in Chandigarh Administration and another Vs. Jasmine Kaur reported in 2014(10) SCC 521 the Apex Court held that a candidate who takes a calculated risk or chance by subjecting himself or herself to the selection process cannot turn around and complain that the process of selection was unfair after knowing of his or her non-selection. Similar view has been reiterated in Pradeep Kumar Rai Vs. Dinesh Kumar Pandey, 2015 (11) SCC 493 and Ashok Kumar Vs. State of Bihar, 2017 (4) SCC 357.

42. It is, thus, clear that each of the writ petitioners filled the online application form after carefully reading, understanding and agreeing to the norms and selection criteria of the examination, which were provided in the advertisement and material attached to it. The petitioners appeared in the examination well versed with the norms of the examination taking a calculated risk or chance and have now been declared unsuccessful, they cannot be allowed to turn around and question the same selection process in which they have voluntarily participated. The writ petitioners have raised baseless allegations against the selection criteria attempting to twart the whole examination process and hinder the selection process as futile only because they have not been declared successful.

43. We, accordingly, hold that the writ petitions are not maintainable as in all the writ petitions the challenge to the selection has been made by candidates who participated in the exams with open eyes and are now challenging the same after having been declared unsuccessful.

44. In totality of the circumstances, we find that the whole recruitment process was carried out in a transparent manner, besides being just and proper which requires no interference, whatsoever, in exercise of powers under Article 226 of the Constitution of India.

45. The Apex Court in the case of (Bihar Staff Selection Commission and others Vs. Arun Kumar & others) reported in 2020 (6) SCC 362 in para 25 observed as follows:-

"25. The decision in Ran Vijay Singh, after a review of all previous decisions, held as follows:

.....

32. It is rather unfortunate that despite several decisions of this Court, some of which have been discussed above, there is interference by the Courts in the result of examinations. This places the examination authorities in an unenviable position where they are under scrutiny and not the candidates. Additionally, a massive and sometimes prolonged examination exercise concludes with an air of uncertainty. While there is no doubt that candidates put in a tremendous effort in preparing for an examination, it must not be forgotten that even the examination authorities put in equally great efforts to successfully conduct an examination. The enormity of the task might reveal some lapse at a later stage, but the Court must consider the internal checks and balances put in place by the examination authorities before interfering with the efforts put in by the candidates who have successfully participated in the examination and the examination authorities. The present appeals are a classic example of the consequence of such interference where there is no finality to the result of the examinations even after a lapse of eight years. Apart from the examination authorities even the candidates are left wondering about the certainty or otherwise of the result of the examination-whether they have passed or not; whether their result will be approved or disapproved by the Court; whether they will get admission in a college or University or not; and whether they will get recruited or not. This unsatisfactory situation does not work to anybody's advantage and such a state of uncertainty results in confusion being worse confounded. The overall and larger impact of all this is that public interest suffers."

46. In view of the above discussion and the foregoing reasons the impugned judgment and order of the learned Single Judge dated 06.04.2022 passed in Writ (A) No.4253 of 2022 (Robin Singh and 38 others Vs. State of U.P. & 6 others) clubbed together with 10 other writ petitions) is set aside. The Intra Court Appeals are allowed. Consequently, the writ petitions giving rise to the Intra Court Appeals stand dismissed.

47. Since we have already held that all information about the conduct of the test had been disclosed to the candidates in the advertisement and the materials attached therewith the writ petitions at the instance of the unsuccessful candidates are not maintainable in view of the law laid down by the Apex Court. Consequently, all the writ petitions tagged along with these bunch of Appeals under order of the Hon'ble the Chief Justice are dismissed.

(2022) 9 ILRA 1201
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 03.08.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE PRITINKER DIWAKER, J.
THE HON'BLE ASHUTOSH SRIVASTAVA, J.

Writ-A No. 1247 of 2020

Smt. Paudhari Devi ...Petitioner
Versus
Union of India & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Sri Subhasis Halder

Counsel for the Respondents:
Sri Vikash Chandra Tripathi, Sri Devendra Tripathi, Sri Vivek Kumar Rai

Criminal Law - Code Of Criminal Procedure, 1973 (2 of 1974) - Section 439 (2) - Bail Cancellation - High Court power to entertain an application for cancellation of bail is not taken away merely because of pendency of an application u/s 482 Cr.P.C. challenging an order passed by the Sessions Judge holding that the bail cancellation application ought to be filed before the Magistrate (Para 9)

Bail order was passed keeping in view the fact that the accused persons and the informant had entered into a settlement as per which the accused persons paid Rs. 40 lacs to the informant, in part performance of the settlement and they issued post dated cheques of the balance amount to the informant - accused persons categorically stated before court that they would follow the terms of settlement - bail cancellation application filed as the cheques which had been given by the accused persons were dishonored for the reason that payment had been stopped by the drawer Held - accused persons' subsequent conduct in issuing instructions to their bank for stopping payment of the cheques amounts to the accused persons resiling from the conditions which formed the basis of the bail order - subsequent conduct of the opposite party in trying to go to Bahrain and threatening the informant, is a clear violation of the conditions incorporated in the bail order that the accused persons will not go outside the boundaries of the country and they will not influence the witnesses - Accused respondents, bail cancelled they were directed to surrender before the Court concerned (para 15, 16, 18)

Allowed. (E-5)

List of Cases cited:

1. Sanjay Chandra Vs CBI, (2012) 1 SCC 40

2. Satender Kumar Antil Vs Central Bureau of Investigation 2022 Scc OnLine SC 825

3. Emperor Vs H. L. Hutchinson AIR 1931 All 356

(Delivered by Hon'ble Pritinker Diwaker, J.
&
Hon'ble Ashutosh Srivastava, J.)

1. The instant writ petition has been filed questioning the judgment and order dated 22.10.2019 as also the order dated 31.7.2019 passed by the Central Administrative Tribunal, Allahabad Bench, Allahabad in Original Application No. 870 of 2011. A prayer to quash the order dated

3.6.2005 passed by the Divisional Electrical Engineer (DEE), Operation, Tundla, Allahabad Division and order dated 2.4.2011 passed by the Divisional Railway Manager, North Central Railway, Allahabad has also been prayed for.

2. Apart from above prayers, the petitioner has sought a direction to the respondent No. 2 for grant of post retiral benefits to the petitioner such as family pension, LIC, gratuity, leave encashment etc., as also compassionate appointment of her son in a Group D post.

3. By the order dated 31.7.2019, the Original Application No. 870 of 2011 was dismissed by the Tribunal being of the view that the relief sought by the applicant cannot be granted.

4. By the order dated 22.10.2019, the review application seeking review of the order dated 31.7.2019, dismissing the original application, was also dismissed.

5. It is the case of the petitioner that her husband Chandrama Ram working on the post of Assistant Electrical Driver at Railway Station, Tundla under the respondents-Department was found missing from the place of his duty on 18.2.2003 and has been untraceable since then. The petitioner filed a report dated 11.10.2005 in the Police Station Tundla reporting her husband to be missing, whereupon, an FIR was registered in the police station. Since, the petitioner was finding it difficult to sustain herself as also her four children who were entirely dependent upon the husband of the petitioner, she preferred an application dated 17.1.2006 before the competent authority to provide appointment on compassionate ground. The petitioner was informed by the competent authority of the respondents that her case for compassionate appointment as well as for grant of post retiral benefits would be considered after getting final police report. The police vide letter dated 10.4.2008 informed the petitioner that no information has been received about the whereabouts of the husband of the petitioner and that the investigations were going on.

6. Subsequently, the case of the petitioner was rejected vide impugned order dated 2.4.2011 on the ground that she is not entitled to compassionate appointment as services of her husband had already been terminated on 3.6.2005. The order dated 2.4.2011 proceeded on the assumption that the husband of the petitioner absented himself without notice and had remained unauthorizedly absent from his post since 18.3.2003. Ultimately, vide order dated 3.6.2005, the husband of the petitioner was removed from service. The original application was resisted by the respondent on the ground that the husband of the petitioner had been absconding since 18.3.2003 and on 3.6.2005 his services were dispensed with on account of being unauthorizedly absent. It was also stated that the husband of the petitioner was served notice dated 18.5.2004 requiring him to join his duty and charge-sheet was served on 22.5.2004 which was never replied.

7. The Tribunal proceeded to dismiss the original application on the ground that the order dated 3.6.2005 for dismissal from service of Chandrama Ram had not been challenged and so long as the order of dismissal from service was existing, no relief for compassionate appointment could be granted. The Tribunal proceeded on the presumption that the respondents could not be directed to do something which is an impossibility. The Tribunal, accordingly, dismissed the original application by order dated 31.7.2019.

8. A review application under Rule 17 of the Central Administrative Tribunal (Procedure) Rules, 1987 was filed seeking review of the order dated 31.7.2019 passed in Original Application No. 870 of 2011 on the ground that:-

the claim of the applicant was rejected vide order dated 2.4.2011 indicating therein that she was not entitled for any relief as service of her husband had already been terminated on 3.6.2005 although no such ground was taken either in the counter affidavit filed or at any stage while making correspondence about considering the case of the applicant and asking to submit final report of the Police.

the husband of the applicant was found missing from his place of duty w.e.f. 18.2.2003. There was no information about the whereabouts of the husband even despite making herculean efforts to trace out the whereabouts of the applicant and he remained untraced. In such circumstances, the authority were required to proceed accordingly.

the respondents/Railways did not provide any information about the whereabouts of the husband of the applicant.

in service jurisprudence printed format to show cause notice, charge-sheet is not permissible and should not be entertained.

as per circulars, no charge-sheet could be issued to dead person and it is surprising, how a dead person could be served with a show cause or a charge-sheet or for that matter an order of dismissal.

9. The review application was dismissed holding that a review cannot be an appeal in-disguise and under the grab of review the matter could not be re-agitated. In a review, it is not open to re-appreciate the evidence/materials and such a different conclusion even if that was possible. The scope of review is very limited.

10. Learned counsel for the petitioner submits that the Tribunal manifestly erred in rejecting the claim of the petitioner both for compassionate appointment and for grant of retiral benefits proceeding on the assumption that the services of the husband of the petitioner had been terminated on account of absconding since 18.3.2003 and not replying to show cause notice and charge-sheet dated 18.5.2004 and 22.5.2004, respectively. The case of the husband of the petitioner was not one of absconding, but one of missing person and in the wake of the own circular of the respondents No. 720-E/XXXV/Pension dated 12.91 and 30.9.1986, the petitioner was entitled to at least the pensionary benefits.

11. We have heard learned counsel for the petitioner and perused the record, particularly, the circulars referred to above, which are being reproduced hereunder:-

*"No. 720-E/XXXV/Pension

Dated: 12.91

Subject: Cancellation of penalty of removal from service imposed on charge of unauthorized absence where it later transpires that the case is one of genuine missing and grant of consequent benefits to the missing person's family.

A copy of Railway Board's letter No. E (D&A) 91 RG 6.41 dated 22.8.91 is sent herewith for directions and necessary action. Railway Board's letter No. F(E) III/86/PNI/17 dated 19.9.86 mentioned in this letter has already been issued and sent to you vide (P) Br. P.S. No. 9064.

Copy of letter No. E (D&A) 91 RG 6.41 dated 22.8.91

Sub:- Cancellation of penalty of removal from service imposed on charge of unauthorized absence where it later transpires that the case is one of 'Genuine missing' and grant of consequent benefits to the missing person's family.*

Some cases have come to notice where Railway servants who were missing and whose whereabouts were not known to their family were removed from service for unauthorized absence. It has been represented by the NFIR in PNM Meeting with Railways Board that initiation of disciplinary action in such cases where even the police after all out efforts have not been able to trace the employee is not justified since they are to be presumed as dead under Section 108 of the Indian Evidence Act. The NFIR also represented that in such cases, the disciplinary action punishment should be annulled and the families be granted family pension and their request for compassionate appointment to wards etc., to which they would have been entitled but for the disciplinary action be also considered.

2. The Board have considered the matter and it is clarified that in case of the type mentioned above where it is established that the railway employee was really missing and not unauthorizedly absent the disciplinary action should be treated as initiated on valid premises and the on going disciplinary proceedings in such cases may be made by the disciplinary authority, in the case of punishment orders already issued, the annulment may be made by the appellate/revisionary authority, as the case may be. For this purpose, it is not necessary to follow any 'Revision' or 'Review' procedure since the charges/punishment are obviously based on valid premises. After the dropping of the disciplinary action and annulment of the punishment of removal, as the case may be, the relevant benefits like grant of leave encashment, salary dues, retirement benefits, etc., may be extended as outlined in Board's letter No. F (E) III/86/PNI/17 dated 19.9.1986.

3. In cases of the aforesaid type, the question of giving compassionate appointments to wards may also be considered after a period of 7 years / 3 years as provided in item (iii) of para 1 of Board's letter No. E (NG) iii/RCI/I dated 7.4.1983."

****

*" क्र. सं.9064 संख्या–720ई/0/XXX ;पेंशनद्ध, दिनांक 30.9.1986

विषय– लापता रेलवे कर्मचारियों के समापन देय का भुगतान।*

उपरोक्त विषय पर रेलवे बोर्ड के पत्र संख्या नं0 एफ (ई) III/86/पी एन–1/17 दिनांक 19–9–86 की प्रतिलिपि सूचना एवं आवश्यक कार्यवाही हेतु प्रेषित की जा रही है।

Copy of Rly Bd's letter No.F(E)III/86/PN-1117 dated 19.9.1986.

Sub:- Grant of Settlement dues to eligible family members of railway employees who have suddenly disappeared and whose whereabouts are not known.*

A number of cases are referred to this Department for grant of family pension to the eligible family members of the employees who have suddenly disappeared and whose whereabouts are not known. At present all such cases are considered on merits in this department. In this normal course unless a period of 7 years has elapsed since the date of disappearance of the employee, he cannot be deemed to be dead and the retirement/benefits cannot be paid to the family. This principal is based on Section 108 of the Indian Evidence Act which provides that when the question is whether the man is alive or dead and it is proved that he has not been heard of for 7 years by those who would naturally have heard of him if he had been alive, the burden of proving that he is alive is shifted to the person who affirms it.

2. The matter has been under consideration of the Government for sometime as withholding of the benefits due to the family has been causing a great deal of hardship. The President is now pleased to decide that (I) When an employee disappears leaving his family, the family can be paid in the first instance the amount of salary due, leave, encashment due and the amount of Provident Fund pertaining to his own subscription in the State Railway Provident Fund having regard to the nomination made by the employee. (ii) After the elapse of a period of one year other benefits like CRG/Family pension in respect of pensionary staff and the Government Contribution/Special Contribution towards Provident Fund in respect of staff governed by SRPF (Contributory) Rules may also be granted to the family subject to the fulfillment of conditions prescribed in the succeeding paragraphs.

3. The above benefits may be sanctioned after observing the following formalities:-

(i) The family must lodge a report with the concerned Police Station & obtain a report that the employee has not been traced after all efforts had been made by the police.

(ii) An Indemnity Bond should be taken from the nominated dependents of the employee that all payments will be adjusted against the payment due to the employee in case he appears on the scene and makes any claim.

4. The Head of Office will assess all Government dues outstanding against the Government servant and effect their recovery in accordance with extent rules/instructions in force for effecting recovery of Government dues.

5. The family can apply to the Head of the Office of the Government servant for grant of family pension and DCR Gratuity, Government contribution/SC to PF, as the case may be, after one year from the date of disappearance of the Government servant in accordance with the prescribed procedure. In case the disbursement of DCR Gratuity or SC to PF, as the case may be, is not effected within three months of the date of the application, the interest shall be paid at the rates applicable and responsibility for the delay fixed in accordance with extant orders."

12. In the wake of the above, we find that the case of the petitioner's husband was a case of genuine missing and as such, his services ought not to have been dispensed with, as has been done in the case at hand. The disciplinary action/punishment is liable to be annulled and is accordingly annulled. The orders dated 31.7.2019 and 22.10.2019 passed by the Central Administrative Tribunal dismissing the original application No. 870 of 2011 and the review application respectively are set aside. The order dated 3.6.2005 and order dated 2.4.2011 passed by the Divisional Electrical Engineer (DEE) Operation, Tundla, Allahabad Division are quashed. The respondent No. 2 is commanded to release the post retiral benefits in respect of the husband of the petitioner who is stated to have been working as Assistant Electrical Driver at Railway Station, Tundla, within 45 days from service of certified copy of this order.

13. We also find that the claim of the petitioner for grant of compassionate appointment for herself or her son was wrongly rejected. It shall be open for the respondent No. 2 to consider the claim of the petitioner for grant of compassionate appointment to any of her family members strictly in accordance with law.

14. The writ petition is allowed to the extent above.

(2022) 9 ILRA 1206
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 04.07.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SARAL SRIVASTAVA, J.

Writ-A No. 3254 of 2021

Himanshi Yadav ...Petitioner
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Sri Shantanu Khare, Sri Siddharth Khare, Sri Ashok Khare (Sr. Advocate)

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C., Sri Bhupendra Kumar Yadav

A. Constitution of India, Art. 226 - Writ Petition against show cause notice - Maintainability - although it is well settled that High Court should refrain from interfering at the stage of show cause notice - but when the show cause notice has been issued on irrelevant considerations, in such cases, the High Court may under Art. 226 intervene and entertain a writ petition (Para 27)

In the instant case, the only allegation in the notice is that the petitioner is not eligible to be appointed on account of obtaining two degrees simultaneously - Held - the allegation made in the notice is based upon irrelevant considerations and is not supported by any material on record which requires any factual investigation - High Court quashed the notice (Para 28, 29)

B. Civil Law - Service law - Appointment - Pursuing two courses simultaneously - Director General of School Education issued a letter dated 18.01.2021 stating that a candidate would be ineligible for appointment if he had pursued two-degree courses simultaneously as a regular student - legality of the condition challenged - Held - there is no provision in the law that explicitly prohibits a candidate from pursuing two-degree courses simultaneously, such as a B.Ed. and B.T.C. course - imposing such a condition through a letter issued by the Director General of School Education is illegal. (Para 20)

Petitioner did B.T.C. training certificate course in the session 2015-17 & completed her B.Ed. course in the session 2016-18 - Notice issued to her on ground that she had obtained two regular degrees namely B.Ed. and B.T.C. course certificates in the same session - Held - sessions of the petitioner for the B.T.C. training course and B.Ed are different as the session for the B.Ed course was 2016-18 whereas the session of B.T.C. was 2015-17 - No objection raised by the authority that the petitioner did not attend 75% of lectures, tutorials, seminars, and practicals in the B.T.C. course to become eligible to appear in the examination - petitioner's B.T.C. course certificate is valid -Even if the petitioner's B.Ed. degree is ignored, the petitioner is still eligible to be appointed as an Assistant Teacher (Para 20, 25)

Allowed. (E-5)

List of Cases cited:

1. Kuldeep Kumar Pathak Vs St. of U.P. & ors., (2016) 3 SCC 521

2. A. Dharmraj Vs The Chief Educational Officer, Pudukkottai & ors. Civil Appeal No.1301 of 2022

3. Board of Basic Education & anr. Vs Arvind Prakash Dwivedi & ors. Special Appeal Defective No.898 of 2020,

(Delivered by Hon'ble Saral Srivastava, J.)

Order on Amendment Application No.4/2021

Learned counsel for the petitioner through the present amendment application is seeking permission to incorporate the following prayer and the same may be treated as part of the writ petition.

"(f) issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of certiorari quashing the clause 16 of the circular dated 18.01.2021 issued by the Director General - School Education - UP, Lucknow."

Because the amendment sought is formal, therefore, the amendment application is allowed.

learned counsel for the petitioner/applicant is permitted to carry out the necessary amendment within one week from today.

Order on Writ Petition

1. Heard Sri Ashok Khare, learned Senior Advocate, assisted by Sri Siddharth Khare, learned counsel for the petitioner, Sri Vikram Bahadur Yadav, learned Standing Counsel for the State respondent nos. 1 & 2 and Sri B.K.Yadav learned counsel for respondents nos.3 & 4.

2. The petitioner through the present writ petition, has prayed for quashing of notice dated 02.01.2021 issued by the Basic Shiksha Adhikari, Firozabad, and a writ of mandamus directing the opposite party to grant appointment to the petitioner as an Assistant Teacher in a Junior Basic School of District Firozabad and permit the petitioner to join in pursuance thereto and to discharge all duties as Assistant Teacher and to pay regular monthly salary on the said post.

3. The facts, in brief, are that under an advertisement notified as Assistant Teacher Recruitment Examination, 2019 for recruitment of 69000 Assistant Teachers in Junior Basic Schools of the State, the petitioner who belongs to the OBC category and is qualified for appearing in the said selection, submitted an application for selection in the said recruitment. She appeared in the examination and was declared successful.

4. On 13.5.2020 those candidates who succeeded in the Assistant Teacher Recruitment Examination, 2019 were required to apply for consideration for an appointment as Assistant Teacher. In response thereto, the petitioner also submitted her application online for the appointment of Assistant Teacher. It is stated that the petitioner specified all details of her educational qualification including teacher training qualification in the application. The teacher training qualification specified by the petitioner in the said application was B.T.C. training course passed in the year 2018 in an examination conducted by Examination Regulatory Authority, Prayagraj. It is stated that the petitioner was selected for appointment and was allotted District Ghaziabad. The petitioner was required to participate in counseling scheduled before the Basic Shiksha Adhikari, Firozabad on 02/03, September 2020. The petitioner participated in the counseling.

5. According to the petitioner, the appointment orders were scheduled to be issued in District Firozabad on 05.12.2020, but no appointment order was issued to the petitioner. The petitioner was informed that a complaint had been received against her that she had obtained two regular degrees namely B.Ed. and B.T.C. course certificates in the same session. Later on, a notice dated 02.01.2021 was issued by the Basic Shiksha Adhikari, Firozabad requiring the petitioner to submit documents within one week, failing which, action would be taken against her. It is further stated that the petitioner being a duly selected candidate for the post of Assistant Teacher, has availed no benefit of her B.Ed degree, therefore, the action of the respondents in not issuing an appointment letter to the petitioner is arbitrary. It is also stated that the petitioner has no objection if her B.Ed degree may be invalidated. In the aforesaid backdrop, the petitioner has prayed for the aforesaid relief.

6. A counter affidavit has been filed by respondent no.4 stating therein that paragraph 16 of the letter dated 18.01.2021 of the Director General, School Education and Director of State Project addressed to all Collectors and District Basic Education Officers of the State provides that such candidates who have completed two regular courses in same academic session as a regular student, their selection is not legal because of Paragraph 16 of the letter dated 18.01.2021, therefore, the District Selection Committee decided to cancel the appointment of the petitioner. The further case of the respondent is that the minutes of the meeting of the Expert Committee constituted by the University Grants Commission (U.G.C.) reveal that it had considered the issue of pursuing more than one degree simultaneously, and U.G.C. issued a notification dated 15.01.2016 by which it did not endorse the idea of pursuing two-degree courses simultaneously. Accordingly, it is stated that as the petitioner could not pursue two regular courses simultaneously, therefore, she cannot be appointed. Consequently, her appointment has been cancelled.

7. In the rejoinder affidavit filed by the petitioner, it is clarified that the petitioner was admitted to B.T.C. Batch 2015 and passed the same in the year 2019. The admission of the petitioner to Bachelor of Education was in the year 2016. The petitioner also gave details of the examination of B.T.C., in which the petitioner participated which are specified below:

(i)	1st Semester Examination	18.04.2017 to 20.04.2017
(ii)	2nd Semester Examination	07.12.2017 to 09.12.2017
(iii)	3rd Semester Examination	08.05.2018 to 10.05.2018
(iv)	4th Semester Examination	01.11.2018 to 03.11.2018

8. Petitioner also stated the details of Bachelor of Education Examination which is detailed below.

(i)	1st Year Examination	Commencing from 08.12.2017
(ii)	2nd Year Examination	22.09.2018 - 04.10.2018

9. The further averment made in the rejoinder affidavit is that the petitioner had left the Bachelor of Education paper commencing from 08.12.2017 and appeared in re-examination. The petitioner along with the rejoinder affidavit also enclosed UGC (minimum standards of instructions for the grant of the first degree through formal education) Regulation 2003.

10. Learned Senior Counsel has contended that there is no rule which prohibits pursuing two courses simultaneously, therefore, the objection of the respondents that the petitioner is disqualified for appointment due to pursuing two courses simultaneously in the same session is arbitrary. It is contended that the petitioner was first admitted in B.T.C. course for the session 2015-16 whereas the petitioner did B.Ed course in the session 2016-18, therefore, non-issuance of appointment letter to the petitioner on the ground that she has pursued two courses simultaneously in the same session is based upon misappreciation of facts on record and is not sustainable In law.

11. It is further contended that there is no objection raised by the respondents or by any authority that the attendance of the petitioner in the B.T.C. course was not complete. Consequently, it is submitted that if any invalidity to the degree is attached, that would be to the B.Ed course which was after the B.T.C. course.

12. It is submitted that the qualification for recruitment in Assistant Teacher is B.T.C. and as the petitioner has not taken any benefit of B.Ed degree, therefore, she is eligible for the appointment even if her B.Ed. Degree is invalidated to which the petitioner has no objection.

13. Lastly, it is contended that the U.G.C. permits the petitioner to pursue one degree course and one certificate course simultaneously, and therefore, the objection raised by the respondents about the appointment of the petitioner is misconceived and does not stand to merit. Learned Senior Counsel has placed reliance upon the judgments of the Apex Court in the case of Kuldeep Kumar Pathak Vs. State of U.P. & Ors., (2016) 3 SCC 521 and Civil Appeal No.1301 of 2022 A.Dharmraj Vs. The Chief Educational Officer, Pudukkottai & Ors. and judgment of this Court passed in Special Appeal Defective No.898 of 2020, Board of Basic Education & Anr. Vs. Arvind Prakash Dwivedi & Ors.

14. Per contra, learned Standing Counsel would contend that the petitioner has preferred the writ petition against the show cause notice, therefore, the writ petition at this stage is premature and is liable to be dismissed on this ground alone. It is further contended that because of paragraph 16 of the letter dated 18.01.2021 of Director General, School Education and Director of State Project that in case a candidate has pursued two courses simultaneously, he/she is disqualified for being appointed as Assistant Teacher. Hence, the petitioner is not entitled to the appointment as Assistant Teacher. Accordingly, it is submitted that the writ petition is devoid of merit and deserves to be dismissed.

15. I have heard learned counsel for the petitioner and learned counsel for the respondents.

16. In the instant case, the record reflects that the petitioner has done B.T.C. training certificate course in the session 2015-17. The session was late due to which her B.T.C. certificate course had been completed in the year 2019 as it is evident from the mark sheet of the 4th semester of the petitioner of B.T.C. Batch 2015, appended on Page 20 of the writ petition, that second-year examination was held in 2018. The petitioner has completed her

B.Ed. course in the session 2016-18, which is evident from the second year mark-sheet of the petitioner, appended on page 29 of the writ petition. Thus, it is manifest from the record that the sessions of the petitioner for the B.T.C. training course and B.Ed are different as the session for the B.Ed course was 2016-18 whereas the session of B.T.C. was 2015-17. At this point, it would be apt to refer to paragraph 5.8 of the U.G.C. (Minimum Standards of Instructions for the Grant of the First Degree through Formal Education) Regulation, 2003 (hereinafter referred to as 'Regulation 2003'):

"The minimum number of lectures, tutorials, seminars and practicals which a student shall be required to attend for eligibility to appear at the examination shall prescribed by the university, which ordinary shall not be less than 75% of the total number of lectures, tutorials, seminars, practicals, and any other prescribed requirements."

17. Paragraph 5.8 of Regulation, 2003 is relevant in the context of the present case. It specifies the minimum number of lectures that a student is required to attend to become eligible for appearing in the examination at the university.

18. In the case in hand, the respondents do not dispute the fact that the petitioner had pursued the B.T.C. certificate course in the session 2015-17, whereas she did B.Ed. course in the session 2016-18. Thus, the sessions for the two courses are different. It is also pertinent to mention that there is no averment in the counter affidavit that the petitioner did not attend 75% of lectures, tutorials, seminars, and practicals in the B.T.C. course to become eligible to appear in the examination. In such view of the fact, it can be concluded that the petitioner's B.T.C. course certificate is valid and does not suffer from any infirmity.

19. Learned counsel for the respondent has heavily placed reliance upon paragraph 16 of the letter dated 18.01.2021 issued by Director General, School Education and Director of State Project to contend that since there is a restraint imposed in paragraph 16 of the letter dated 18.01.2021, therefore, the authorities have acted as per law in rejecting the appointment of the petitioner. In this context to appreciate the controversy at hand, it would also be relevant to reproduce para 16 of the letter dated 18.01.2021.

16. एक शैक्षिक सत्र में दो कोर्स- ऐसे अभ्यर्थी जिनके द्वारा एक शैक्षिक सत्र में दो कोर्स उत्तीर्ण किया गया है उनमें यदि दोनो कोर्स संस्थागत परीक्षार्थी के रूप में उत्तीर्ण किया गया है, तो ऐसे अभ्यर्थियों का चयन मान्य न किया जाये, किन्तु यदि दोनो कोर्स में से कोई एक कोर्स व्यक्तिगत परीक्षार्थी के रूप में उत्तीर्ण किया गया है, किन्तु उन दोनों परीक्षाओं का अधिभार चयन में एक साथ सम्मिलित न हो तो ऐसे अभ्यर्थी के संबंध में नियुक्ति पत्र निर्गत किये जाने हेतु जनपदीय चयन समिति के समक्ष प्रस्तुत करते हुए, मूल अभिलेखों से मिलान एवं अन्य साक्ष्यों का परीक्षण करते हुए, प्रकरण निस्तारित किया जाये। किन्तु यदि उन दोनों परीक्षाओं का अधिभार चयन में एक साथ सम्मिलित किया गया हो तो ऐसे अभ्यर्थी के चयन पर विचार किया जाना उपयुक्त नहीं होगा।

20. The perusal of paragraph 16 of the letter dated 18.01.2021 though indicates that a candidate shall become ineligible for the appointment if he had pursued two-degree courses simultaneously as a regular student, but the fact remains that in the absence of any statutory provisions prohibiting the pursuing of two-degree courses simultaneously, can such a condition be imposed by a letter of Director General, School Education and Director of State Project dated 18.01.2021. In the opinion of the Court, the answer to the same is emphatic 'No' for the reason that there is no provision in the law that has been pointed out by the learned Standing Counsel which prohibits a candidate to pursue two courses simultaneously. If there is no statute prohibiting pursuing two courses simultaneously and if there is no illegality attached to pursuing two courses simultaneously and obtaining a degree then a candidate cannot be disqualified on the ground that he has pursued two courses i.e. B.Ed. And B.T.C. Simultaneously. In such view of the fact, this Court finds that paragraph 16 of the letter dated 18.01.2021 is arbitrary and has no nexus with the object sought to be achieved.

21. The Apex Court in Kuldeep Kumar Pathak (supra) in paragraph No. 7 of the judgment has held that where there is no prohibition in the regulation prohibiting pursuing two courses simultaneously, the intermediate certificate of a candidate cannot be cancelled. Paragraphs Nos. 6, 7, and 8 of the judgment are reproduced herein below.

"6. Before us, Mr. Pradeep Kant, learned senior counsel for the appellant has made a neat legal argument. He submits that though the impugned judgment proceeds on the basis that appearing in two examinations simultaneously for the same year is violation of the Regulations of the Board, this reason given by the High Court is clearly unsustainable inasmuch as no such Regulation is shown by the Board which prohibited any such candidate to appear in two examinations in the same year. The learned senior counsel further argued that the impugned order passed by the respondents for confiscating his Certificate of Intermediate exam was, otherwise also, contrary to the principles of natural justice inasmuch as no show cause notice and opportunity of hearing was given to the appellant before passing such an order, which was passed belatedly after a period of nine years from the passing of the said examination by the appellant.

7. We are of the opinion that both the submissions of the learned senior counsel are valid in law and have to prevail. The High Court has been influenced by the argument of the respondents that simultaneous appearance in two examinations by the appellant in the same year was 'contrary to the Regulations'. However, no such Regulation has been mentioned either by the learned Single Judge or the Division Bench. Curiously, no such Regulation has been pointed out even by the respondents. On our specific query to the learned counsel for the respondents to this effect, he expressed his inability to show any such Regulation or any other rule or provision contained in the U.P. Intermediate Education Act, 1921 or Supplementary Regulations of 1976 framed under the aforesaid Act or in any other governing Regulations. Therefore, the entire foundation of the impugned judgment of the High Court is erroneous.

8. It is also pertinent to note that the appellant's intermediate examination and result thereof was not in question before the U.P. Board. No illegality in the admission in that class has been pointed out by the respondents. The alleged charge of simultaneously appearing in two examinations, one of the U.P. Board and other of the Sanskrit Board, was with respect to Class X and equivalent examination which did not relate to admission in intermediate course. The only provision for canceling the said admission is contained in Regulation (1) of Chapter VI-B. It details the procedure for passing the order of punishment canceling intermediate results and, inter alia, prescribes that a committee consisting of three different members is to be constituted and entrusted with the responsibility of looking into and disposing of cases relating to unfair means and award appropriate penalty as specified in the Regulations itself. However, there is no allegation of any unfair means adopted by the appellant in the instant case and, therefore, that Regulation has no applicability. Even otherwise, no such committee was constituted. Therefore, having taken admission in Intermediate on the basis of past certificate issued by a separate Board, which was recognised, and not on the basis of the result of Class X of the U.P. Board, the appellant derived no advantage from his examination of the U.P. Board while seeking admission in Intermediate course. Thus, from any angle the matter is to be looked into, the impugned orders dated April 20, 2011 and May 10, 2011 passed by the respondents are null and void, apart from the fact that they are in violation of the principles of natural justice."

22. Similarly, in the case of A. Dharmraj (supra) the Apex Court almost in identical circumstances has held that cancellation of appointment of a candidate for pursuing two degrees simultaneously is illegal when there is no bar in the statute. In this respect, the Court observed that even if one of the degrees i.e. the subsequent degree obtained by the appellant namely M.A. (Tamil) is ignored, the appellant could have been promoted to the post of B.T. Assistant (English) because of the degree of B.A. (English) obtained by him. Paragraphs No. 5 and 5.1 of the judgment are reproduced herein below:

5. Having heard the learned counsel appearing on behalf of the respective parties and on perusal of the judgment and order passed by the learned Single Judge as well as the Division Bench, it appears that the promotion of the appellant to the post of B.T. Assistant (English) has been set aside by the High Court on the ground that the appellant obtained two degrees namely B.A. (English) and M.A. (Tamil) simultaneously and therefore as per Rule 14 he was ineligible for promotion. However, considering Rule 14, it can be seen that the bar was against teachers who have obtained B.A./B.Sc./B.Ed degree simultaneously during the same academic year. In the present case it cannot be said that the appellant obtained the degree of B.A. (English) and M.A. (Tamil) during the same academic year. The appellant pursued his B.A. (English) during January, 2012 to December, 2014. He pursued his M.A. (Tamil) which was a two years distance education course between the academic years 2013-2014 to 2014-2015. Therefore, as such Rule 14 is not applicable to the facts of the case on hand stricto senso. The degree of M.A. (Tamil) cannot be equated with B.A./B.Sc./B.Ed.

5.1 Assuming that the subsequent degree obtained by the appellant namely M.A. (Tamil) is ignored, in that case also, considering his degree in B.A. (English) he could have been promoted to the post of B.T. Assistant (English). That both the degrees secured by the appellant cannot be ignored. It is not in dispute that the degree of B.A. (English) was sufficient as per the eligibility criteria for promotion to the post of B.T. Assistant (English).

23. The Division Bench in the case of the Board of Basic Education (supra) following the judgment of Kuldeep Kumar Pathak (supra) has held as under:

"It is not in dispute that at the relevant time the respondent-petitioner could have obtained two qualification simultaneously and the respondent-petitioner as such possessed requisite qualification to hold the post of Assistant Teacher as well as the further promotional post.

Learned single Bench in view of it, has not committed any error that may warrant interference in appellate jurisdiction.

While dismissing the appeal, we would like to observe that the government authorities must be quite sensitive while imposing the severe punishment of dismissal as a consequence to disciplinary action. It is strange that in the instant matter the authority competent despite knowing the fact that the respondent-petitioner is having requisite qualification to hold the post chose to impose the penalty of dismissal.

With the observations as above, the appeal stands dismissed accordingly."

24. In view of the aforesaid discussion, the condition imposed by paragraph 16 of the letter dated 18.01.2021 is hit by Article 14 of the Constitution of India.

25. In the instant case, there is no averment or allegation in the counter affidavit that the two degrees acquired by the petitioner have been obtained by fraud or suffer from any illegality on account of non-compliance of any provision of law like non-fulfilling of criteria of minimum 75% attendance as provided in paragraph 5.8 of U.G.C., so this Court believes that the objection raised by the respondent for cancelling the appointment of the petitioner is illegal and is not sustainable in law.

26. Viewed from another angle, in the instant case applying the ratio of law elucidated by the Apex Court in paragraph 5.1 of the judgment in the case of A. Dharmraj (supra), if the B.Ed. degree of the petitioner for session 2016-18 is ignored, which has been obtained after the B.T.C. certificate course which the petitioner did in the session 2015-17, it can easily be concluded that the petitioner is eligible to be appointed as Assistant Teacher. Therefore, in view of the said fact, the objection raised by the respondents is misconceived and not sustainable in law.

27. Now coming to the submission advanced by learned counsel for the respondents that the writ petition is premature as it has been instituted against the show cause notice. In this regard, it is apposite to state that though it is settled in law that this Court should refrain from interfering at the stage of show cause notice, there is no bar that this Court cannot exercise its power under Article 226 of the Constitution of India where the notice itself is bad as having been issued on irrelevant considerations. In the instant case, the only allegation in the notice is that the petitioner is not eligible to be appointed on account of obtaining two degrees simultaneously, besides this, no other ground has been raised for invalidating the appointment of the petitioner. In the counter affidavit also the only stand taken by the respondents is that the petitioner is not eligible to be appointed because of para 16 of the letter dated 18.01.2021 as she has pursued two courses simultaneously.

28. From the discussion aforesaid, it is evident that the allegation made in the notice for declaring the petitioner to be ineligible for the appointment is based upon irrelevant considerations and is not supported by any material on record which requires any factual investigation. Since the counter affidavit in the instant case has been invited and filed, this Court finds that it is one such case that falls in the exceptional category where the Court can exercise its power under Article 226 of the Constitution of India and, therefore, in such view of the fact, the objection raised by the learned counsel for the respondents is not sustainable.

29. For the reasons given above, the writ petition is allowed, and notice dated 02.01.2021 issued by the Basic Shiksha Adhikari, Firozabad and paragraph 16 of the letter dated 18.01.2021 are quashed and a writ of mandamus is issued to the respondents to issue appointment letter to the petitioner as Assistant Teacher in any Junior Basic School to which she has opted as per her preference within one month from the date of production of the certified copy of this order and the respondents shall ensure the joining of the petitioner and shall pay regular monthly salary on the said post regularly every month with all consequential benefits to which she is entitled in law. There shall be no order as to cost.

(2022) 9 ILRA 1214
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 31.08.2022

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SAUMITRA DAYAL SINGH, J.

Writ-A No. 18302 of 2021

Pradeep Kumar Gupta ...Petitioner
Versus
Government of U.P. & Ors.
...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
Sri Pradeep Kumar Gupta (In Person). Sri Prabhakar Awasthi

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C.

Civil Law - Rights of Persons with Disabilities Act, 1995- Petitioner-differently abled-50 % locomotor disorder-applied for advertisement-appointment on post of Library Peon (one Post)-essential qualification-class V pass and ability to ride cycle-Petitioner claims violation of his rights and humiliation-before reservation to be claimed-identification of post necessary-absence of the same-reservation cannot be claimed-in absence of specification of 'bicycle' in advertisement-he should have been allowed to ride a tricycle-and should be compete as a General category candidate-Petitioner is entitled to compensation at Rs. 5,00,000/- by the Respondent St. Government-W.P. partly allowed. (E-9)

Held, the amount of compensation has been awarded to let the petitioner know, the St. may take time to hear & understand its citizen and his plight but, it is neither deaf nor heartless as may ever remain indifferent, forcing him to drag his feet, almost literally, to this Court to seek justice. The citizen works at the heart of the giant being the St. is. Unless the heart beats freely, the being cannot thrive. (para 31)

List of Cases cited:

K.S. Puttaswamy (Privacy-9J) Vs U.O.I., (2017) 10 SCC 1

(Delivered by Hon'ble Saumitra Dayal Singh, J.)

1. Heard the petitioner - Sri Pradeep Kumar Gupta, in person and learned Standing Counsel for the State. Also, on the request of the Court, Sri Prabhakar Awasthi, Advocate has assisted the Court to ascertain the correct facts.

2. The petitioner is a differently abled person having 50% locomotor disorder. On 24.06.2006, an advertisement was published inviting applications for appointment, amongst other, on the post of Library Peon (one post) at Government Degree College, Deoband, Saharanpur. The essential qualifications prescribed were Class V pass and ability to ride cycle. The petitioner applied for appointment on that post. He was called for interview. However, in the interview, the petitioner was not evaluated. It is his grievance, he was summarily required to leave as he could not ride a bicycle, which test was insisted upon him though the petitioner could ride a tricycle with equal efficiency. Thus, the petitioner claims violation of his rights and alleges humiliation caused to him, mainly by the then Principal of the Government Degree College, Deoband, Saharanpur.

3. The petitioner agitated the matter. Subsequently, a higher educational qualification (for the post of Library Peon) of High School was insisted. Since the petitioner did not hold that qualification, he was excluded. The petitioner alleges hostile discrimination having been practised by the State respondents and complete violation of his special rights under the Rights of Persons with Disabilities Act, 1995 (hereinafter referred to as the 'Old Act'). The petitioner assailed the selection made, by filing Writ Petition No. 17917 of 2007.

4. Also, upon the petitioner escalating the issue and lodging complaints, the Regional Employment Exchange (Divyangjan), Meerut Division instituted an enquiry into the allegations levelled by the petitioner. It submitted report dated 23.11.2007. Thereunder, it was observed as under:

"प्रदेश के समस्त विभागों पर विकलांगजन अधिनियम 1995, विकलांगजन हेतु आरक्षण व पदो के चिन्हांकन का शासनादेश प्रभावी होने के बावजूद भी उक्त नियुक्ति प्रक्रिया में प्राचार्य/नियुक्ति प्राधिकारी द्वारा विकलांग अभ्यर्थी श्री प्रदीप कुमार गुप्ता के अधिकारों का हनन/ अतिक्रमण करके जानबूझकर उसे नियुक्ति के लाभ से वंचित किया गया है। उपरोक्त से स्वतः ही स्पष्ट है कि प्राचार्य/नियुक्ति प्राधिकारी के द्वारा अपनायी गयी चयन प्रक्रिया पूर्ण रूप से पक्षपातपूर्ण, त्रुटिपूर्ण एवं दोषपूर्ण है।"

5. Thereafter the court/office of State Commissioner (Divyangjan), exercising powers vested under Section 82 of the Old Act directed the District Magistrate, Saharanpur and the Additional Commissioner (Divyangjan), Saharanpur, to institute a magisterial enquiry into the complaint made by the petitioner. Admittedly, the magisterial enquiry was conducted and its report submitted on 09.09.2019. In that, the Magistrate found the fact allegation made by the petitioner to be correct and made the following observation:

"प्रश्नगत प्रकरण में मा० आयुक्त, सहारनपुर मण्डल, सहारनपुर के निर्देशों के क्रम में क्षेत्रीय सेवायोजन अधिकारी (दिव्यांग) मेरठ/सहारनपुर मण्डल द्वारा अपने कार्यालय के पत्रांक- सेवा-1/अ/स्थापना/0302/जांच/2008 दिनांक- 12-02-2008 को प्रेषित की गयी, जिसमें मुख्यतः उल्लिखित किया गया कि राजकीय स्नातकोत्तर महाविद्यालय, देवबन्द मे प्राचार्य/नियुक्ति प्राधिकारी द्वारा नवम्बर 2006 में परिचारक पद के चयन के समय अपने ही द्वारा समाचार पत्रों में विज्ञापित समूह 'घ' कर्मचारी सेवा नियमावली 1985 के आधार पर चयन समिति गठन न करना, साक्षात्कार की तिथि के समय विभाग में विकलांग आरक्षित पदों के रिक्त होने के बावजूद दिव्यांग अभ्यर्थी श्री प्रदीप कुमार गुप्ता की महाविद्यालय में नियुक्ति संबंधी विकलांग जन आयुक्त, उ०प्र० व निदेशकः (उच्च शिक्षा), शिक्षा निदेशालय उ०प्र० इलाहाबाद के पत्र दिनांक 13/11/2006 को संज्ञान में न लेना तथा आयोजित साक्षात्कार से पूर्व ही इन पत्रों पर अपने विभागाध्यक्ष / मुख्यालय से परामर्श में न लेना, शासन से परिचारक का पद विकलांग - जन हेतु चिन्हांकित होने के बावजूद विकलांग अभ्यर्थी श्री प्रदीप कुमार गुप्ता को प्रभावी नवीनतम शासनादेशों के अनुरूप साईकिल चलाने की परीक्षा में शिथिलता न देना तथा चयन समिति से पूर्व नियम विरूद्ध बनायी गयी समिति में हाईस्कूल का अंकपत्र प्रस्तुत न करने का सहारा लेकर प्रदीप कुमार गुप्ता को अनर्ह घोषित करना समूह घ' कर्मचारी सेवा नियमावली के प्राविधानों के विरूद्ध साक्षात्कार के 50 अंको का दोषपूर्ण तरीके से विभाजन करना परिचारक के पद पर लखनऊ से एक मात्र पिछड़ी जाति के अभ्यर्थी को सामान्य वर्ग में

चयन करना, इसी आवेदक को बाद में विभागीय अभिलेखों में उसे पिछड़ी जाति का दर्शाना नियम विरुद्ध व शासनादेशों के विपरीत है। क्षेत्रीय सेवा योजन अधिकारी (विकलांग), मेरठ मण्डल, मेरठ द्वारा अपनी जांच में यह भी उल्लेख है कि भर्ती के समय प्रभावी शासनादेशों को संज्ञान में न रखना, नियुक्ति प्राधिकारी द्वारा भर्ती प्रक्रिया में व्यापक स्तर पर की गई अनियमितताओं, पक्षपातपूर्ण कार्यवाही ही शिकायत की सत्यता को परिलक्षित करती है। शिक्षा निदेशक (उच्च शिक्षा) उ०प्र० इलाहाबाद ने अपने पत्र में प्रभावी शासनादेशों के अनुपालन का दायित्व संबंधित नियुक्ति प्राधिकारी का ही होना स्पष्ट किया है। वर्तमान में भी महाविद्यालय में चतुर्थ श्रेणी के रिक्त पद दफ्तरी- 01, स्वीपर कम चौकीदार-01, है जिनमें दफ्तरी का पद विकलांगजन हेतु चिन्हांकित किये जाने का उल्लेख गया है। प्रदेश के समस्त विभागों पर विकलांगजन अधिनियम-1995, विकलांगजन हेतु आरक्षण व पदो के चिन्हांकन का शासनादेश प्रभावी होने के बावजूद भी उक्त नियुक्ति प्रक्रिया में प्राचार्य/ नियुक्ति प्राधिकारी द्वारा दिव्यांग अभ्यर्थी श्री प्रदीप कुमार गुप्ता के अधिकारों का हनन / अतिक्रमण करके जानबूझकर उसे नियुक्ति के लाभ से वंचित किये जाने तथा प्राचार्य/नियुक्ति प्राधिकारी के द्वारा अपनायी गयी चयन प्रक्रिया पूर्ण रूप से पक्षपातपूर्ण, त्रुतिपूर्ण एवं दोषपूर्ण होने का उल्लेख किया गया है।

अतः उपरोक्त तथ्यों तथा प्रार्थी द्वारा उपलब्ध कराये गये साक्ष्यों के अवलोकन से स्पष्ट है कि उक्त चयन प्रक्रिया में प्राचार्य/नियुक्ति प्राधिकारी द्वारा शासनादेशो एवं नियमों का पालन नहीं किया गया है।

अतः उपरोक्त तथ्यों तथा प्रार्थी द्वारा उपलब्ध कराये गये साक्ष्यों के अवलोकन से स्पष्ट है कि उक्त चयन प्रक्रिया में प्राचार्य/ नियुक्ति प्राधिकारी द्वारा शासनादेशों एवं नियमों का पालन नहीं किया गया है।"

6. Also, upon receipt of direction issued by the court/office of State Commissioner (Divyangjan) dated 23.05.2019, the District Magistrate, Saharanpur, acting as the Additional Commissioner (Divyangjan), Saharanpur, made his own enquiry and passed an order dated 30.11.2019, wherein it was observed as under:

"उक्त प्रकरण में सम्पादित हुई जाँचाख्याओं एवं साक्ष्यों के परीक्षणोपरान्त दिव्यांगजन (समान अवसर अधिकार संरक्षण एवं पूर्ण भागीदारी) अधिकार अधिनियम के प्रावधानों तथा दिव्यांगजन हेतु उ०प्र० शासन के द्वारा समय-समय पर जारी शासनादेशो को दृष्टिगत रखते हुए राजकीय स्नात्कोत्तर महाविद्यालय, देवबन्द (सहारनपुर) के वर्तमान प्राचार्य/नियुक्ति प्राधिकारी को आदेशित किया जाता है कि दिव्यांग श्री प्रदीप कुमार गुप्ता को दिनाँक 30.11.2006 में जानबूझकर नियुक्ति के अधिकार से वंचित करने तथा नियुक्ति सम्बन्धी अधिकारों का हनन करने के कारण श्री प्रदीप कुमार गुप्ता को उसी तिथि से नियुक्ति एवं नियुक्ति के अन्य सभी लाभ दिया जाना सुनिश्चित करते हुए एक सप्ताह के भीतर नियुक्ति पत्र पंजीकृत डाक के माध्यम से श्री प्रदीप कुमार गुप्ता को जारी करते हुए कृत कार्यवाही से इस न्यायालय/कार्यालय को भी अवगत कराये। दिव्यांगजन के हित में कार्य करना, संवेदना तथा सहानुभूति पूर्वक कार्य करना शासन के विभागों की प्राथमिकता है, ताकि उपेक्षित दिव्यांगजनो के हितो का संरक्षण करते हुए उन्हें समाज की मुख्य धारा के साथ जोड़ा जा सके, परन्तु तत्समय नियुक्ति प्राचार्य ने इसके विपरीत जानबूझकर दिव्यांग को उसके नियुक्ति एवं जीवन यापन करने के अधिकार से वंचित किया है, उक्त प्रकरण में सम्पादित हुई जाँचाख्याओं एवं साक्ष्यों के आधार पर प्राचार्य पूर्ण रूप से दोषी पाये गये है। अतः तत्समय नियुक्त प्राचार्य के विरुद्ध भी कार्यवाही किया जाना अति आवश्यक है।"

7. At that stage and in view of the order dated 30.11.2019 passed by District Magistrate, Saharanpur, the petitioner withdrew his earlier writ petition No. 17917 of 2007, in belief of appointment thus assured to him.

8. However, the above order was assailed by the then Principal of the Government Degree College, Deoband, Saharanpur, in Writ ? A No. 1975 of 2020 (Ashok Kumar Sharma Vs. State of U.P. & 3 Ors.). It transpires, in the course of those proceedings, office of the District Magistrate/Additional Commissioner (Divyangjan), Saharanpur, vide further order dated 17.02.2020 withdrew in entirety its earlier order dated 30.11.2019. In that regard, the following recital is contained in the order dated 17.02.2020 :

"उपरोक्त तथ्यों की पुष्टि उत्तर प्रदेश शासन के उच्च शिक्षा अनुभाग-5 से निर्गत कार्यालय-ज्ञाप दिनांक 04-03-2011 से हुई। जिसके अन्तर्गत संस्थित अनुशासनिक कार्यवाही में श्री अशोक कुमार शर्मा को दोष मुक्त पाया गया है। किन्तु जिला दिव्यांगजन सशक्तिकरण अधिकारी सहारनपुर द्वारा प्रस्तुत टीप आख्या दिनांक 11-10-2019 व 22-11-2019 में उक्त तथ्य, जो कि निर्णायक तथ्य थे, को छिपाते हुए वास्तविकता का उद्घाटन नही किया गया जिसके कारण आदेश संख्या-6797/ जि०दि०ज०स०अ०, दिनांक 30-11-2019 अस्तित्व में आया। अब उक्त तथ्यों के संज्ञान में आने के उपरान्त आदेश संख्या-6797/जि० दि०ज० स०अ०, दिनांक 30-11-2019 को तत्काल प्रभाव से वापस लिया जाता है।"

9. Thereafter, the petitioner appears to have agitated the matter further and has filed the present petition. Though the relief, as framed, is not happily worded, upon assistance from the Sri Prabhakar Awasthi and the learned Standing Counsel, and upon the matter being discussed with the petitioner (in person), it transpires, he has sought remedial action against the respondents both for himself as also with respect to enforcement of the Act.

10. It has been thus submitted, the petitioner was entitled to be granted reservation as a person with disability by virtue of the Old Act. In fact, reservation was provided under the original notification dated 24.06.2006. Accordingly, the petitioner was called for interview by granting age relaxation allowable to reserved category candidates, though on that date, he was more than 40 years of age, his date of birth being 01.07.1966.

11. According to the petitioner, it is not a simple case of hostile discrimination but is one that has caused deep humiliation as during the course of interview, the petitioner was forced to part with his tricycle which he uses to commute and was called upon to ride a bicycle which obviously he could not and which fact was self apparent from the physical appearance of the petitioner. This humiliation and discrimination is attributed (by the petitioner), to the then Principal of the Government Degree College, Deoband, Saharanpur.

12. Second, it has been submitted, only to deprive the petitioner opportunity of employment, the selection process was stalled and higher educational qualification (than that possessed by the petitioner), was pressed. It was done only to exclude the petitioner from the zone of consideration. Also, such course was adopted by the then Principal of the Government Degree College, Deoband, Saharanpur, only to avoid compliance of the directions issued by other State authorities to give effect to the reservation granted under the old Act.

13. Third, it has been submitted, the State Commissioner (Divyangjan), the Magistrate, Saharanpur, the District Magistrate, Saharanpur and the Magisterial enquiry had found the petitioner to have been discriminated and humiliated. At the same time, the District Magistrate, Saharanpur, had passed the order requiring the petitioner to be granted employment against the post of Library Peon at the Government Degree College, Deoband, Saharanpur. That order was wrongly withdrawn by the then District Magistrate, Saharanpur, for reasons not known to the petitioner.

14. Last, the petitioner has prayed for a high level enquiry to be instituted to hold the guilty responsible so that justice may be done to the petitioner.

15. On the other hand, learned Standing Counsel would submit, this is not the first writ petition filed by the petitioner. His earlier writ petition being Writ ? A No. 17917 of 2007 filed to seek quashing of the select list pursuant to the advertisement referred to above, was dismissed as withdrawn on 07.01.2020. Therefore, no challenge may arise to the selection already made.

16. Insofar as the enforcement of the order of the District Magistrate, Saharanpur, dated 30.11.2019 is concerned, it has been submitted, the same was withdrawn vide order dated 17.02.2020, which fact has also been taken note of in the order dated 20.02.2020 passed in Writ ? A No. 1975 of 2020 (Ashok Kumar Sharma Vs. State of U.P. & 3 Ors.).

17. As for the orders passed by the State Commissioner and the Magistrate, no direction has been issued as may allow any relief of appointment (on any post), to be granted to the petitioner, at this stage.

18. Last, in view of the decision of this Court in Ashok Kumar Sharma Vs. State of U.P. & 3 Ors, no further enquiry is warranted, at this stage.

19. Having heard the petitioner (in person), learned Standing Counsel for the State and Sri Prabhakar Awasthi, in the first place, it cannot be denied, there is no room to consider the challenge to selection already made. That challenge was made in the earlier writ petition filed by the petitioner being Writ - A No. 17917 of 2007. That petition came to be dismissed as withdrawn vide order dated 07.01.2020. In absence of liberty granted to the petitioner to file a second writ petition that relief may not be granted now especially since the petitioner is past the age of fresh employment (being about 56 years of age) and he has not impleaded the duly selected candidate.

20. Besides the fact, the petitioner is about 56 years of age, in any case, before any reservation may have been claimed for a person with disability, identification of post was necessary to be made under the Old Act. No such identification or reservation of post for person with locomotor disability is shown to have been provided before issuance of the advertisement. In absence of post identification and reservation made, the petitioner could not have claimed a right to be appointed on the post of Library Peon upon claiming reservation under the Old Act.

21. However, what is most disturbing is the fact that instead the petitioner being apprised of this fact and the consequent position in law, it does appear, the petitioner was unfairly asked to ride a bicycle which he obviously could not. In any case, in absence of specification of 'bicycle' in the advertisement dated 24.06.2006, the petitioner should have been allowed to ride a 'tricycle' which also qualifies as a cycle. In other words, if otherwise eligible the petitioner should have been allowed to compete as a General Category candidate. His carrying a disability did not render him ineligible.

22. Though the order of the District Magistrate dated 30.09.2019 stood withdrawn by the subsequent order dated 17.02.2020, it is surprising, no action has been taken pursuant to the magisterial enquiry report dated 09.09.2019, pursuant to the order of the State Commission dated 23.05.2019.

23. Here, again, the piquant situation exists, inasmuch as, the withdrawal of the order dated 30.11.2019 has not been challenged by the petitioner. In fact, on the strength of the withdrawal of that order, Writ A No. 1975 of 2020 (Ashok Kumar Sharma Vs. State of U.P. & 3 Ors.) came to be disposed of.

24. Therefore, no positive relief is found deliverable to the petitioner in such circumstances, at this belated stage.

25. In the first place, there is found no post identified or reserved for persons with locomotor disablity, before issuance of the advertisement inviting application for the post of Library Peon at the Government Inter College, Deoband, Saharanpur. Second, the petitioner was more than 40 years of age on the date of first application on 2006. In absence of reservation for person with locomotor disability, the petitioner could not have claimed benefit of relaxation of age treating himself to be candidate belonging to the reserved category. That occasion would have arisen only if the enabling reservation had been first provided for. Though necessary, clearly, that was not done. Third, at present, no relief can be granted in the nature of employment for reason of passage of time as also for reason of the enabling order passed by the District Magistrate dated 30.11.2019 was withdrawn in toto. Besides no challenge thereto, that action had been practically endorsed by the Court in its earlier order dated 20.02.2020 passed in Writ ? A No. 1975 of 2020 (Ashok Kumar Sharma Vs. State of U.P. & 3 Ors.). Also, for that reason, no further enquiry is to be made at this belated stage.

26. However, it yet survives for consideration, whether the petitioner may be found entitled to any other relief for reason of being dealt with unfairly to the point of his dignity being violated and being humiliated at the instance of the State authorities, for no fault and for the State and its functionaries having failed to protect him, which act was against the mandate of the Constitution.

27. No occasion may have existed to make this consideration if the respondent State authorities had apprised the petitioner of the correct facts and made him understand the same without violating his dignity as a human being and without committing any positive act of humiliation in making him feel inadequate, owing to his different ability.

28. Having done that the State and its functionaries have not only failed a special citizen but also violated his fundamental right to life and liberty - for what worth is human existence if it is denuded of dignity and respect deserving its cherished existence. Deprived of dignity, liberty is a sea-shell washed to the shore, dead and of ornate value for others but worthless to the being that used to live within it.

29. In K.S. Puttaswamy (Privacy-9J) Vs. Union of India, (2017) 10 SCC 1, detailed discussion and analysis of the fundamental right to life and liberty has been made. In that, considering the entire gamut of law the following pertinent observations have been made in the majority decisions:

"108. Over the last four decades, our constitutional jurisprudence has recognised the inseparable relationship between protection of life and liberty with dignity. Dignity as a constitutional value finds expression in the Preamble. The constitutional vision seeks the realisation of justice (social, economic and political); liberty (of thought, expression, belief, faith and worship); equality (as a guarantee against arbitrary treatment of individuals) and fraternity (which assures a life of dignity to every individual). These constitutional precepts exist in unity to facilitate a humane and compassionate society. The individual is the focal point of the Constitution because it is in the realisation of individual rights that the collective well-being of the community is determined. Human dignity is an integral part of the Constitution. Reflections of dignity are found in the guarantee against arbitrariness (Article 14), the lamps of freedom (Article 19) and in the right to life and personal liberty (Article 21).

110. A Bench of two Judges in Francis Coralie Mullin v. UT of Delhi [Francis Coralie Mullin v. UT of Delhi, (1981) 1 SCC 608 : 1981 SCC (Cri) 212] ("Francis Coralie") while construing the entitlement of a detenue under the Conservation of Foreign Exchange and Prevention of Smuggling Activities (Cofeposa) Act, 1974 to have an interview with a lawyer and the members of his family held that : (SCC pp. 618-19, paras 6-8)

"6. The fundamental right to life which is the most precious human right and which forms the ark of all other rights must therefore be interpreted in a broad and expansive spirit so as to invest it with significance and vitality which may endure for years to come and enhance the dignity of the individual and the worth of the human person.

7. the right to life enshrined in Article 21 cannot be restricted to mere animal existence. It means something much more than just physical survival.

8. We think that the right to life includes the right to live with human dignity and all that goes along with it, namely, the bare necessaries of life such as adequate nutrition, clothing and shelter and facilities for reading, writing and expressing oneself in diverse forms, freely moving about and mixing and commingling with fellow human beings. Every act which offends against or impairs human dignity would constitute deprivation pro tanto of this right to live and it would have to be in accordance with reasonable, fair and just procedure established by law which stands the test of other fundamental rights."

111. In Bandhua Mukti Morcha v. Union of India [Bandhua Mukti Morcha v. Union of India, (1984) 3 SCC 161 : 1984 SCC (L&S) 389] , a Bench of three Judges of this Court while dealing with individuals who were living in bondage observed that : (SCC p. 183, para 10)

"10…This right to live with human dignity enshrined in Article 21 derives its life breath from the directive principles of State policy and particularly clauses (e) and (f) of Article 39 and Articles 41 and 42 and at the least, therefore, it must include protection of the health and strength of the workers, men and women, and of the tender age of children against abuse, opportunities and facilities for children to develop in a healthy manner and in conditions of freedom and dignity, educational facilities, just and humane conditions of work and maternity relief. These are the minimum requirements which must exist in order to enable a person to live with human dignity, and no State ? neither the Central Government nor any State Government ? has the right to take any action which will deprive a person of the enjoyment of these basic essentials."

113. Human dignity was construed in M. Nagaraj v. Union of India [M. Nagaraj v. Union of India, (2006) 8 SCC 212 : (2007) 1 SCC (L&S) 1013] by a Constitution Bench of this Court to be intrinsic to and inseparable from human existence. Dignity, the Court held, is not something which is conferred and which can be taken away, because it is inalienable : (SCC pp. 243 & 247-48, paras 26 & 42)

