Criminal Misc. Bail Cancellation Application No.
 69 of 2023

Farook ...Applicant
Versus
State of U.P. & Anr. ...Opposite Parties

Counsel for the Applicant:

Akash Dwivedi, Rajiv Lochan Shukla,
 Sanjay Shukla

Counsel for the Opposite Parties:

Ambikesh Kumar Sharma, G.A., Shashi
 Kant Shukla

Criminal Law - Indian Penal Code, 1860 - Sections 420, 406, 504 & 506 - Cancellation of Bail - Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 - Section 82 - Informant challenged order passed by learned Additional District Judge granting bail to opposite party - Perusal of record indicates opposite party cleverly filed several legal proceedings with distinct names to evade his arrest/presence before Police/Court - Such conduct demonstrates he did not approach Court with clean hands. (Para 21, 32)

Criminal history and gravity of offence of opposite party was not considered by learned Court - Learned Court ignored fact that opposite party had duped informant for Rs.31,50,000/- . Even after receiving money, he did not execute sale deeds of flats in favour of informant - He violated undertaking given by him before Court - Despite his admission that he received Rs. 4,40,000/- from informant, he never offered to return money to him - He filed incorrect affidavit knowing that it was not a matrimonial dispute - To commit a fraud, he gave two cheques of Rs.31,50,000/- to informant, dishonoured due to insufficiency of fund in his account. (Para 33, 34)

After granting bail, he visited house of informant, threatened informant and his father with life and asked them to withdraw present case and pressurised for amicable settlement - Captured in CCTV footage - Misuse of liberty of bail by opposite party - Impugned order set aside - Directed to surrender before Court concerned. (Para 37, 42)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Mayank Kumar Jain, J.)

1. Heard Sri Rajeev Lochan Shukla, learned Counsel for the applicant/ informant, Sri Shashikant Shukla, learned Counsel for the opposite party No.2/accused and learned A.G.A. for the State.

2. The applicant Farook has filed the present Criminal Misc. Bail Cancellation Application seeking cancellation of bail granted to opposite party no.2 namely Zakir Ali @ Hazi Zakir (hereinafter referred to as the opposite party) vide order dated 21.09.2022 passed by learned Special Judge, SC/ST Act, Moradabad in Second Bail Application No.3413 of 2022 arising out of Case Crime No. 1166 of 2020, under Sections 420, 406, 504, 506 of IPC relating to Police Station Civil Line, District Moradabad.

3. It would be pertinent to summarise the case of the prosecution, unfolded in the First Information Report. The applicant Farook (hereinafter referred to as the informant) lodged a First Information Report against the opposite party and one Vimal with the following averments that:

3.1 The opposite party entered into an agreement with the informant for sale of three flats/houses ad-measuring 52-59 square meter situated at Sonakpur, Tehsil and District Moradabad @ Rs.8 lakhs per flat. Rs.4,40,000/- were transferred through RTGS to the bank account of the opposite party on 03.10.2019. Two cheques amounting to Rs.4,50,000 was given later which were duly encashed. Cash was also paid to the opposite party on different dates. In all, Rs.31,50,000/- was paid by the informant to the opposite party.

3.2 The informant repeatedly requested the opposite party to execute a sale deed. Based on the directions of the opposite party, he prepared three sale deeds. The opposite party signed and affixed his thumb impression only on one sale deed and said that remaining sale deeds would be signed at the registry office. The informant waited at the registry office but the opposite party did not turn up.

3.3 Thereafter, the informant made regular requests with the opposite party to execute the sale deeds. The opposite party executed a document promising to return the entire amount of Rs. 31,50,000/- to the informant by 27.03.2020 but he failed to return the money.

3.4 The opposite party gave two cheques of Rs.15,00,000/- and 16,50,000/- respectively. These cheques were presented before the bank for payment but were dishonoured due to insufficient funds in the account of the opposite party. When the informant informed the opposite party about this, he promised to execute sale deed in his favour in the near future.

3.5 Upon inspection of relevant records in the registry office in relation to the disputed property, the informant came to know that the opposite party had already executed a registered agreement for sale on 07.11.2019 in favour of Amar Pal and Prem Pal, the real brothers of co-accused, Vimal, much before the transaction with the informant. When the informant confronted the opposite party and asked to return his money, he hurled abuses and threatened to life. Kamal Ahmad and Farjand were the witnesses before whom the money was paid to the opposite party. The opposite party and co-accused Vimal duped the informant for a huge amount of Rs.31,50,000/-.

4. Sri Rajeev Lochan Shukla, learned Counsel appearing on behalf of the informant submitted that even after receiving Rs.31,50,000/- from the informant, the opposite party neither executed a sale deed of the flats nor returned the money to the informant. The opposite party committed fraud and cheated the informant.

5. He submitted that to evade his arrest and to avoid his appearance in the trial and with malafide intentions, the opposite party filed Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No. 11964/2020. False information was given to this Court that parties were at advanced stage of arriving at a compromise. Based on this information, the matter was adjourned. Since negotiations for arriving at compromise never took place, the said petition was dismissed on 25.11.2020. Thereafter, he filed a Criminal Misc. Anticipatory Bail Application No.11760/2021 (Hazi Zakir Vs.State of U.P.). An undertaking was given on behalf of the opposite party that he would fulfill his part of the contract provided the payment was made. On such undertaking, the opposite party was granted interim protection by this Court. Finally, the anticipatory bail application was dismissed for want of prosecution. While on one hand he misled the Court, on the other hand, he violated the undertaking given before this Court.

6. He further submitted that the opposite party then moved a second anticipatory bail application before the District Judge, Moradabad which was rejected vide order dated 28.03.2022. The opposite party preferred another Anticipatory Bail Application No.3956/2022 (Hazi Zakir @ Zakir Ali Vs. State) before this Court. During the pendency of aforesaid application, he filed an Application u/s 482 Cr.P.C. No.17053/2022 (Zakir Vs. State of U.P. and Another) for quashing the proceedings. This Court disposed off the said application and granted liberty to the opposite party to surrender before the trial Court within a period of two weeks. The trial Court was directed to decide his bail application in view of the law laid down in the case of Satender Kumar Antil vs. Central Bureau of Investigation and another, 2022 SCC OnLine SC 825. He misused the liberty and did not surrender before the trial Court within the stipulated time.

7. He further contended that concealing all the aforesaid chain of litigation and the orders passed thereof, the opposite party moved second bail application before the District Judge, Moradabad. The opposite party obtained bail, concealing the material facts. The impugned order dated 21.09.2022, granting bail to the opposite party is challenged in the present application, seeking cancellation of bail to the opposite party.

8. It is further submitted that the learned Sessions Judge did not consider the criminal history of the opposite party in the correct perspective. Learned Sessions Judge erroneously passed the bail order without considering the material aspect of the matter. He completely lost sight of the facts that the opposite party had received Rs. 31,50,000 from the informant. The opposite party defrauded the informant and misrepresented that he had no criminal history to his credit. He repeatedly made false promises with the informant that he would execute the sale deeds in his favour, with malafide intentions and to not to return the hard-earned money of the informant. He intentionally gave two cheques to him knowing that sufficient funds were not available in his account to honour those cheques. The learned Court did not consider the conduct of the opposite party and ignored the documentary evidence about payment of Rs. 31,50,000 to him. The bail order has been passed in a casual manner. The learned Court did not even consider the factual matrix of the matter.

9. It is also submitted that the opposite party was granted bail on 21.09.2022. Thereafter on 13.04.2023, at around 2.00 PM, he visited the informant and threatened him and his father to life, if they did not withdraw the proceedings instituted by them against him. On 15.04.2023, he again pressurised to withdraw the case. These incidents were captured in a CCTV footage. On 19.04.2023 at around 10.00 AM, he scolded the informant and said that if the case is not withdrawn, he would kill him. An FIR came to be registered against him as Case Crime Number 0387/2023 under Section 506 IPC at Police Station, Civil Lines Moradabad. The opposite party is making every effort to threaten and tamper the witnesses. Learned Counsel drew the attention of this Court to a letter sent by the Court concerned to the S.S.P., Moradabad to the effect that proper security be provided to the informant so that he may depose fearlessly before the trial Court.

10. It is also submitted by learned counsel for the informant that there is a history of Case Crime Number 252/2022, under Section 420, 406, 323, 307, 504, 506, 315 and 354 of IPC, Police Station Pakbada, District Moradabad. Charge sheet came to be filed against the opposite party after the investigation. In the present proceedings, before this Court, it is pleaded by the opposite party in his supplementary counter affidavit, that it is a matrimonial dispute. Perusal of the first information report of the said case discloses that one Mrs. Nazrana Khan is the informant of this case. The opposite party was chargesheeted under Section 406 of IPC. The facts of this case are based on the transaction of money. Thus, the opposite party filed wrong affidavit and committed cheating with this Court also.

11. It is further submitted that the opposite party has admitted that he received Rs.4,40,000 from the informant but he never offered to return that amount to the informant. He is keeping this amount with him without any authority. The opposite party never had any intention to sell flats to the informant. The opposite party violated the undertaking given before this Court and obtained interim protection on the basis of false statement.

12. Sri Rajeev Lochan Shukla, learned Counsel made a straightforward argument that documents are brought on record to demonstrate the malpractices adopted by the opposite party to further deceive the informant by filing different proceedings before this Court with distinct names. It is argued that the opposite party has cleverly filed a Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No.11964/2020 as “Zakir Ali” as the petitioner. He filed a Criminal Misc. Anticipatory Bail Application under Section 438 Cr.P.C. No.11760/2021 as applicant as “Hazi Zakir”. Thereafter, he filed Criminal Misc. Anticipatory Bail Application under Section 438 Cr.P.C. No.3956/2022 as ‘Hazi Zakir @ Zakir Ali’. Further, Application u/s 482 No.17053/2022 was filed as applicant ‘Zakir’. Instituting these proceedings before this Court with distinct names demonstrates the malafides of the opposite party and indicates that he wanted to obtain relief from this Court any how. He did it deliberately so that the informant would not know about these proceedings and could not contest them. It is not controverted by the opposite party in his pleadings.

13. To buttress his argument, learned Counsel Sri learned counsel relied on the following judgments:

(i) Abdul Basit Vs. Abdul Kadir Choudhary, 2015 SCC (Cri) 257

(ii) Panchanan Mishra Vs. Digambar Mishra passed in Criminal Appeal Nos.107108 of 2005(arising out of Special Leave Petition (Crl.) Nos.33153316/2004)

Learned counsel also relied on the following judgments of this Court:

(i) Parul Tyagi Vs. Guarav Tyagi, 2023 SCC OnLine All 2684

14. Sri Rajeev Lochan Shukla, learned counsel referred the judgment of this Court passed in Smt. Pooja Pal Vs. State of U.P. in Criminal Misc. Bail Cancellation Application No.38904 of 2016 and submitted that the opposite party appears to be manifestation of the age old quote that ‘too err is human to repent is divine but to persist is devilish.’

15. Sri Shukla concluded his arguments that the impugned order dated 21.09.2022, granting bail to the opposite party, is liable to be cancelled because of his misconduct, and concealment and misrepresentation of the facts, before district Courts as well as before this Court. While enjoying the liberty of bail, he is threatening and tampering the witnesses. The opposite party has a criminal history of 11 cases that have not been properly considered by the learned Court granting him bail.

16. Sri Shashi Kant Shukla, learned Counsel for the opposite party, vehemently opposed the prayer for cancellation of bail application. It is submitted that the informant and the opposite parties are neighbours. Therefore, no question arises for the opposite party to create a dispute with the informant. Due to ‘parti bandi’ of the village and at the instance of the persons having vested interest against the opposite party, false allegations have been made against him. Since the informant has already initiated criminal proceedings against the opposite party, therefore, he had no occasion to visit the house of the informant. The opposite party never threatened the applicant or his father. The first information report lodged by the informant under Section 506 IPC is based on concocted facts. It is also submitted that so far as the criminal history to the credit of the opposite party is concerned, most of the cases have been lodged against him after registering the present case. The criminal history is properly explained by the opposite party. Learned Court while granting bail to the opposite party has considered the criminal history to his credit. So far as the cases registered under the Negotiable Instrument Act are concerned, in some cases, the opposite party has been acquitted and some cases are still pending for consideration. The informant has paid Rs.4,40,000/-as advance to the opposite party through RTGS but the remaining amount as per agreement was not paid by him. The opposite party never denied to execute sale deeds in his favour.

17. It is submitted that so far as the receipt of Rs.31,50,000/- is concerned, it is a forged document prepared by the informant. Civil proceedings are also pending before the competent Court being the matter of civil nature. The opposite party is cooperating before the trial Court. He never misused the liberty of bail.

18. I have perused the record.

19. The Hon'ble Apex Court in Himanshu Sharma Vs. State of Madhya Pradesh passed in Criminal Appeal No(S). Nil of 2024 arising out of SLP (Crl.) No (s). 786 of 2024 dealt with powers vested under Section 439(2) Cr.P.C. to cancel the bail of an accused. The Hon'ble Court observed that:

"12. Law is well settled by a catena of judgments rendered by this Court that the considerations for grant of bail and cancellation thereof are entirely different. Bail granted to an accused can only be cancelled if the Court is satisfied that after being released on bail, (a) the accused has misused the liberty granted to him; (b) flouted the conditions of bail order; (c) that the bail was granted in ignorance of statutory provisions restricting the powers of the Court to grant bail; (d) or that the bail was procured by misrepresentation or fraud."

20. In Abdul Basit Vs. Abdul Kadir Choudhary, 2015 1 SCC (Cri) 257, the Hon'ble Apex Court further observed that:

"20. In Gurcharan Singh case (supra) this Court has succinctly explained the provision regarding cancellation of bail under the Code, culled out the differences from the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (for short, "old Code") and elucidated the position of law vis-à-vis powers of the Courts granting and cancelling the bail. This Court observed as under:

"16. Section 439 of the new Code confers special powers on High Court or Court of Session regarding bail. This was also the position under Section 498, Cr.P.C. of the old Code. That is to say, even if a Magistrate refuses to grant bail to an accused person, the High Court or the Court of Session may order for grant of bail in appropriate cases. Similarly under Section 439(2) of the new Code, the High Court or the Court of Session may direct any person who has been released on bail to be arrested and committed to custody. In the old Code, Section 498(2) was worded in somewhat different language when it said that a High Court or Court of Session may cause any person who has been admitted to bail under Sub-section (1) to be arrested and may commit him to custody. In other words, under Section 498(2) of the old Code, a person who had been admitted to bail by the High Court could be committed to custody only by the High Court. Similarly, if a person was admitted to bail by a Court of Session, it was only the Court of Session that could commit him to custody. This restriction upon the power of entertainment of an application for committing a person, already admitted to bail, to custody, is lifted in the new Code under Section 489(2). Under Section 439(2) of the new Code a High Court may commit a person released on bail under Chapter XXXIII by any Court including the Court of Session to custody, if it thinks appropriate to do so, it must, however, be made clear that a Court of Session cannot cancel a bail which has already been granted by the High Court unless new circumstances arise during the progress of the trial after an accused, person has been admitted to bail by the High Court. If, however, a Court of Session had admitted an accused person to bail, the State has two options. It may move the Sessions Judge if certain new circumstances have arisen which were not earlier known to the State and necessarily, therefore, to that Court. The State may as well approach the High Court being the superior Court under Section 439(2) to commit the accused to custody. When, however, the State is aggrieved by the order of the Sessions Judge granting bail and there are no new circumstances that have cropped up except those already existed, it is futile for the State to move the Sessions Judge again and it is competent in law to move the High Court for cancellation of the bail. This position follows from the subordinate position of the Court of Session vis-a-vis the High Court."

21. In this context, it is profitable to render reliance upon the decision of this Court in Puran v. Rambilas and Anr., (2001) 6 SCC 318. In the said case, this Court held that the concept of setting aside an unjustified, illegal or perverse order is absolutely different from the cancelling an order of bail on the ground that the accused has misconducted himself or because of some supervening circumstances warranting such cancellation. In Dr. Narendra K. Amin v. State of Gujarat and Anr., (2008) 13 SCC 584, the three-Judge Bench of this Court has reiterated the aforesaid principle and further drawn the distinction between the two in respect of relief available in review or appeal. In this case, the High Court had cancelled the bail granted to the appellant in exercise of power under Section 439(2) of the Code. In appeal, it was contended before this Court that the High Court had erred by not appreciating the distinction between the parameters for grant of bail and cancellation of bail. The Bench while affirming the principle laid down in Puran case (supra) has observed that when irrelevant materials have been taken into consideration by the Court granting order of bail, the same makes the said order vulnerable and subject to scrutiny by the appellate Court and that no review would lie under Section 362 of the Code. In essence, this Court has opined that if the order of grant of bail is perverse, the same can be set at naught only by the superior Court and has left no room for a review by the same Court.

22. Reverberating the aforesaid principle, this Court in the recent decision in Ranjit Singh v. State of M.P. and Ors., 2013 (12) SCALE 190 has observed that:

"20....There is also a distinction between the concept of setting aside an unjustified, illegal or perverse order and cancellation of an order of bail on the ground that the accused has misconducted himself or certain supervening circumstances warrant such cancellation. If the order granting bail is a perverse one or passed on irrelevant materials, it can be annulled by the superior Court."

23. Therefore, the concept of setting aside an unjustified, illegal or perverse order is different from the concept of cancellation of a bail on the ground of accused's misconduct or new adverse facts having surfaced after the grant of bail which require such cancellation and a perusal of the aforesaid decisions would present before us that an order granting bail can only be set aside on grounds of being illegal or contrary to law by the Court superior to the Court which granted the bail and not by the same Court."

21. The informant is challenging the order dated 21.09.2022 passed by the learned Additional District Judge granting bail to the opposite party. After being released on bail the opposite party threatened the informant and his father to withdraw present proceedings otherwise they would be killed by him. Resultantly, an FIR under Section 506 IPC came to be registered against the opposite party. After the investigation, he was charge-sheeted.

22. The opposite party filed Criminal Miscellaneous Writ Petition No. 11964 of 2020 Zakir Ali vs State of U P and 2 others. Considering the arguments of the petitioner Counsel, the following order was passed on 10.11.2020 :-

“Learned Counsel for the petitioner states that parties are at an advance stage of arriving at a compromise, and, therefore, the matter be adjourned.

As prayed by him, put up as fresh on 25.11.2020.”

On 25.11.2020, in the aforesaid writ petition, following order was also passed:-

“Heard Sri Krishna Dutt Tiwari, learned Counsel for the petitioner, Shri Pawan Kumar Shukla & Shri Sanjay Shukla learned Counsel for the informant and the learned A.G.A.

This writ petition has been filed, seeking a writ of mandamus, directing the respondent concerned, not to arrest the petitioner, with a further prayer for quashing the impugned FIR dated 23.08.2020 registered as Case Crime No.1166 of 2020 under Sections 420, 406, 504 and 506 I.P.C., P.S. Civil Lines, district Moradabad.

Learned Counsel for the petitioner submits that FIR has been lodged on false / vexatious / mischievous allegations, no offences are made out, FIR be quashed.

Learned AGA has opposed the submission.

The correctness of the allegations would have to be tested on the basis of the materials collected during the course of investigation as by insertion of notification No.1058/79-V-1-19-1 (Ka)-20-2018 dated 6th June 2019, an alternate remedy is available to the petitioner to seek for an anticipatory bail/bail as he may be advised.

The writ petition is dismissed.”

23. Perusal of the aforesaid order discloses that wrong information was given to this Court that the parties were at an advanced stage of a compromise. On the next date of the hearing, the Court was not informed about the outcome of the alleged compromise proceedings. It is also to be noted that on 25. 11. 2020, the opposite party argued the Writ Petition on its merits.

24. After disposal of the aforesaid proceedings, the opposite party filed Criminal Misc. Anticipatory Bail Application u/s 438 Cr.PC No. 11760 of 2021 Hazi Zakir vs State of U P. The opposite party gave an undertaking, which is noted in the order dated 18.06.2021. It reads thus:-

“Learned Counsel for the applicant on behalf of the applicant on taking instructions undertakes that the applicant shall fulfil his part of the contract provided the payment is made. Counsel for the first informant also was present when the undertaking was given.

Place this case on 6.7.2021 as fresh. In the meantime, the parties may try to conclude the matter amicably.

In the meantime, it is provided that no coercive measures shall be taken against the applicant in the aforesaid case provided: (a) the applicant has already not been arrested; and (b) the applicant continues to cooperate with the Investigating Officer by presenting himself before him as and when required for the purpose of investigation.”

25. It appears that on the basis of the undertaking given by the opposite party, an interim protection was granted to him by this Court. On the next date of hearing, none appeared for the opposite party and on 30.07.2021 & 14.12.2021 following orders were passed:-

30.07.2021

“In spite of repeated calls, no one is present on behalf of the applicant to extend the argument. Sri Hari Om Sharan Tiwari, learned Counsel for the informant is present.

Since no one is present on behalf of the applicant, therefore, interim order granted by coordinate Bench of this Court dated 18.06.2021 comes to an end.

Put up this case on 30th August, 2021 as fresh.”

“1. Case called out in revised list.

No one appears on behalf of applicant to press this application for anticipatory bail.

2. However, learned A.G.A. for State and Mr. Hari Om Sharn, learned Counsel representing first informant are present.

3. Record shows that applicant was not present on 03.07.2021 and 24.09.2021 when the matter was taken up.

4. In view of above, present application for anticipatory bail is dismissed for want of prosecution.”

26. Thereafter, the opposite party filed an Anticipatory Bail Application before learned Session Judge, Moradabad. It was dismissed on 28.03.2022.

27. Feeling aggrieved by the aforesaid order, the opposite party filed Criminal Misc. Anticipatory Bail Application u/s 438 Cr.PC No. 3956 of 2022 before this Court.

28. During the pendency of the aforesaid application, the opposite party filed another application under Section 482 No. 17053 of 2022, Zakir vs State of U P and another. This application was disposed off vide order dated 06.07.2022 of this Court with the following observation:-

“On due consideration to the submissions of learned Counsel for the parties', it is provided that in case, the applicant appears before the trial Court within a period of two weeks from today and files bail application, the same shall be decided expeditiously in view of law laid down in the case of Satender Kumar Antil versus Central Bureau of Investigation and another (supra).

The application is disposed off accordingly.”

29. Pursuant to the aforesaid order of this Court, the opposite party did not surrender before the Court concerned. Process u/s 82 Cr.PC was issued by the Court to ensure his appearance. It appears that the opposite party moved second bail application before the court concerned after the expiry of the period of two weeks granted by this Court. The learned Special Judge (SC/ST Act), Moradabad, by the impugned order dated 21.09.2022, allowed the application with the following observation:-

“प्रस्तुत मामले में प्रार्थी/अभियुक्त व अन्य सह अभियुक्त विमल के विरुद्ध प्रथम सूचना रिपोर्ट दर्ज करायी गयी थी, किन्तु दोराने विवेचना कथित विमल के विरुद्ध कोई साक्ष्य न पाते हुये उसका नाम विवेचना से पृथक कर दिया गया है। प्रस्तुत मामले में आरोप पत्र न्यायालय में प्रस्तुत किया जा चुका है। मामले में अब कोई विवेचना शेष नहीं है। प्रार्थी/ अभियुक्त के विरुद्ध धारा 138 एन०आई० एक्ट से सम्बन्धित नौ प्रकरण तथा उक्त प्रकरण के अतिरिक्त एक अन्य आपराधिक प्रकरण पंजीकृत होने का आपराधिक इतिहास अभियोजन की ओर से प्रस्तुत किया गया है, किन्तु अभियोजन द्वारा किसी भी मामले में दोषसिद्ध होना नहीं बताया गया है। मामला मजिस्ट्रेट न्यायालय द्वारा विचारणीय है। प्रार्थी/ अभियुक्त दिनांक 21-7-2022 से न्यायिक अभिरक्षा में

कारागार में निरुद्ध है। अतः अभियुक्त के कारागार में निरुद्ध होने तथा मामले के समस्त तथ्यों परिस्थितियों को दृष्टिगत रखते हुए केस के गुण-दोष पर कोई टिप्पणी किये बिना मेरा राय में आवेदक/अभियुक्त को निम्न शर्तों के अधीन जमानत पर छोड़े जाने का पर्याप्त आधार है।”

30. It is pertinent to mention here that it was averred by the opposite party in his bail application that he had no criminal history to his credit. Perusal of the record, it emerges that the opposite party had criminal history of as many as 11 cases to his credit. He misrepresented his criminal history in his bail application.

31. Another aspect about the conduct of the opposite party is brought to the notice of this Court by Sri Rajiv Lochan Shukla, learned Counsel for the informant that the opposite party filed a Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No.11964/2020 as “Zakir Ali” (as petitioner). He filed a Criminal Misc. Anticipatory Bail Application under Section 438 Cr.P.C. No.11760/2021 as applicant as “Hazi Zakir”, thereafter, he filed Criminal Misc. Anticipatory Bail Application under Section 438 Cr.P.C. No.3956/2022 as ‘Hazi Zakir @ Zakir Ali’. another Application u/s 482 No.17053/2022 was filed by him as ‘Zakir’.(applicant)

32. Perusal of the relevant record of aforesaid proceedings indicates that the opposite party very cleverly filed several legal proceedings before this Court with distinct names to mislead not only the informant but also this Court. It seems that he did so for two reasons. Firstly, to anyhow obtain relief from this Court and secondly, to prevent the informant from contesting those proceedings. Such conduct of the opposite party demonstrates that he did not approach this Court with clean hands.

33. So far as the impugned order dated 22.09.2022 is concerned, it reflects that the criminal history of the opposite party was not duly considered by the learned Court. Besides, learned Court did not express any opinion that it has duly considered the merits of the case. Learned Court completely lost sight that the opposite party had duped the informant for Rs.31,50,000/-. The opposite party, even after receiving the aforesaid money, did not execute the sale deeds of flats in favour of the informant. The opposite party violated the undertaking given by him before this Court. He filed several petitions just to evade his arrest during the investigation and the trial. Despite his admission that he received Rs. 4,40,000/- from the informant, he never offered to return the said money to him. He continued to enjoy the fruits of this money and continues to do so till today. The intention of the opposite party was clearly apparent to not return the money to the informant.

34. Further, the opposite party referred to the criminal case registered against him as a matrimonial dispute. Perusal of the record goes to show that it was an incorrect pleading. It was a dispute based on a money transaction. A charge-sheet under Section 406 of IPC came to be filed against him. The opposite party filed an incorrect affidavit before this Court knowing that it was not a matrimonial dispute.

35. In view of the above, the entire conduct of the opposite party shows about his modus operandi to dupe innocent persons and to obtain the favourable orders from the Court concerned, either by hook or by crook.

36. On behalf of the informant, a document executed on a stamp of Rs.100/- is brought on record. It is submitted that this document is the receipt of Rs.31,50,000/- given by the opposite party. This document bears the signatures of the informant and the opposite party. The learned trial Court completely ignored this document and the fact that in this matter, the transaction of Rs.31,50,000/- was involved. It was a specific allegation of the informant that even after receiving Rs.31,50,000/- the opposite party did not execute sale deed of flats in favour of the informant. He did not return the money to the informant. To commit a fraud, he gave two cheques of Rs.31,50,000/- to the informant which were dishonoured due to insufficiency of fund in the account of the opposite party. This conduct also indicates the intention of the opposite party that he never wanted to repay the amount of Rs.31,50,000/- to the informant.

37. Vide the impugned order, the opposite party was granted bail on 21.09.2022. An FIR relating to Crime No.387/2023 is brought on record. Perusal of this FIR goes to show that on 13.04.2023, at around 2.00 pm, the opposite party visited the house of the informant. He threatened the informant and his father with life and asked them to withdraw the present case. Further, on 15.04.2023 at around 8.30 hours he pressurised the informant for amicable settlement. The visit of the opposite party to the house of informant was captured in CCTV footage. After the investigation, a charge sheet came to be filed against the opposite party. This conduct shows that the opposite party has misused the liberty of the bail and he is repeatedly trying to tamper the witnesses so that they cannot depose before the Court against him.

38. It is also submitted on behalf of the informant that the opposite party has criminal history of 11 cases. Perusal of the impugned order dated 21.09.2022 goes to show the Court was informed that there was no criminal history to the credit of the opposite party. The learned trial Court while passing the impugned order, merely on the basis that although opposite party has criminal history to his credit but he was not convicted so far in any case, granted bail to the opposite party. The learned trial Court did not even consider the gravity of the offence.

39. So far as the argument advanced by the learned Counsel for the opposite party that opposite party had not misused the liberty of the bail is concerned, it is apparent that charge sheet under Section 506 of IPC came to be filed against him. He extended life threats to the informant and his father. He mounted pressure upon them to arrive at an amicable solution in the matter. In his supplementary counter affidavit filed before this Court, the opposite party submitted that the Case Crime No.252/2022 under Sections 420, 406, 323, 307, 504, 307, 506, 315, 354 of IPC was a matrimonial dispute. Whereas perusal of the conclusion arrived by the Investigating Officer while submitting the charge sheet, does not seem to be correct. Therefore, it is apparent that the opposite party filed the affidavit with wrong facts before this Court also.

40. In view of above, I am of the considered view that the opposite party has misused the liberty of bail. He tampered with the evidence and harassed the witnesses by threatening the informant and his father. The conduct of the opposite party also shows that he filed several litigation one after another with distinct names to evade his arrest/presence before the Police/Court. Learned trial Court also sent a letter to S.S.P., Moradabad for providing adequate security to the informant so that he can fearlessly attend the Court to record his statement.

41. The learned trial Court while passing the impugned order did not consider the material aspect of the matter and ignored certain documents as well the criminal history of the opposite party. The learned trial Court passed the impugned bail order taking into consideration the incorrect facts of the case, therefore, the bail cancellation application deserves to be allowed.

42. Having considered the facts and circumstances of the case, the material available on record and the observations made above, the Court is of the opinion that the impugned bail order dated 21.09.2022 passed by learned Special Judge, SC/ST Act, Moradabad in the aforesaid case crime cannot be sustained. Accordingly, the bail cancellation application is allowed and the impugned bail order dated 21.09.2022 is hereby set aside. The bail granted to opposite party no.2-Zakir Ali @ Hazi Zakir in aforesaid case crime stands cancelled.

43. The opposite party Zakir Ali @ Hazi Zakir is hereby directed to surrender within 10 days before the Court concerned.

44. Any observation made above shall not be treated as any finding on the merit and shall not prejudice the trial.

45. Registrar (Compliance) is also directed to communicate this order to the Chief Judicial Magistrate, Moradabad for necessary compliance forthwith.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Krishan Pahal, J.)

1. Heard Sri Yadavendra Dwivedi, learned counsel for the applicant and Sri Jai Kishan Chaurasia, learned State Law Officer and also perused the record.

2. This is the second bail application moved on behalf of the applicant seeking bail in Case Crime No. 238 of 2020, under Sections 376, 506, 452 of I.P.C. and Sections 3/4 of POCSO Act, Police Station - Shivli, District - Kanpur Dehat, during the pendency of trial.

3. The first bail application of the applicant was rejected by the coordinate Bench of this Court vide order dated 01.09.2021 passed in Criminal Misc. Bail Application No. 41070 of 2020.

ARGUMENTS ON BEHALF OF APPLICANT :

4. As a new ground, learned counsel for the applicant has stated that PW-1 Informant and PW-2 Victim have been examined in Court and they have not supported the prosecution story, as such, there is no likelihood of conviction of the applicant in the instant case.

5. The applicant is incarcerated in jail since 13.05.2020, as such, more than 4 years have been passed. His fundamental rights enshrined in Article 21 of the Constitution of India stand violated, as such, he is entitled for bail. In case, the applicant is released on bail, he will not misuse the liberty of bail and shall cooperate with trial.

ARGUMENTS ON BEHALF OF STATE LAW OFFICER :

6. Per contra, learned State Law Officer has vehemently opposed the bail application by stating that the statement of the victim recorded by the trial court is intact as her examination-in-chief and cross examination were taken up on 18.04.2024 and she has categorically nominated the applicant to have barged into her house and committed rape with her. The said statement stands unimpeached during her cross-examination taken up the same day but the cross-examination has been deferred at the request of counsel for the applicant and further cross-examination was taken up about 2 months and 9 days thereafter i.e. on 27.06.2024 and the victim had not supported the prosecution story in it. The said act of the applicant for not completing the cross-examination the same day and deferring the matter for more than two months is an act to somehow win over the witness, as such, the applicant is not entitled for bail.

CONCLUSION :

7. Supreme Court, in the case of C. Muniappan and Others v. State of Tamil Nadu¹, has observed thus:

"81. It is settled legal proposition that : (Khujji case, SCC p. 635, para 6)

'6. ... the evidence of a prosecution witness cannot be rejected in toto merely because the prosecution chose to treat him as hostile and cross-examined him. The evidence of such witnesses cannot be treated as effaced or washed off the record altogether but the same can be accepted to the extent their version is found to be dependable on a careful scrutiny thereof.'

82. In State of U.P. v. Ramesh Prasad Misra, (1996) 10 SCC 360] this Court held that (at SCC p. 363, para 7) evidence of a hostile witness would not be totally rejected if spoken in favour of the prosecution or the accused but required to be subjected to close scrutiny and that portion of the evidence which is consistent with the case of the prosecution or defence can be relied upon. A similar view has been reiterated by this Court in Balu Sonba Shinde v. State of Maharashtra, (2002) 7 SCC

543], Gagan Kanojia v. State of Punjab, (2006) 13 SCC 516], Radha Mohan Singh v. State of U.P., (2006) 2 SCC 450], Sarvesh Narain Shukla v. Daroga Singh, (2007) 13 SCC 360] and Subbu Singh v. State, (2009) 6 SCC 462.

8. In the case of Vinod Kumar v. State of Punjab², the Supreme Court has observed thus:

“51. It is necessary, though painful, to note that PW 7 was examined-in-chief on 30-9-1999 and was cross-examined on 25-5-2001, almost after 1 year and 8 months. The delay in said cross-examination, as we have stated earlier had given enough time for prevarication due to many a reason. A fair trial is to be fair both to the defence and the prosecution as well as to the victim. An offence registered under the Prevention of Corruption Act is to be tried with all seriousness. We fail to appreciate how the learned trial Judge could exhibit such laxity in granting so much time for cross-examination in a case of this nature. It would have been absolutely appropriate on the part of the learned trial Judge to finish the cross-examination on the day the said witness was examined. As is evident, for no reason whatsoever it was deferred and the cross-examination took place after 20 months. The witness had all the time in the world to be gained over. We have already opined that he was declared hostile and re-examined.

52. It is settled in law that the testimony of a hostile witness can be relied upon by the prosecution as well as the defence. In re-examination by the Public Prosecutor, PW 7 has accepted about the correctness of his statement in the court on 13-9-1999. He has also accepted that he had not made any complaint to the Presiding Officer of the court in writing or verbally that the Inspector was threatening him to make a false statement in the court. It has also been accepted by him that he had given the statement in the court on account of fear of false implication by the Inspector. He has agreed to have signed his statement dated 13-9-1999 after going through and admitting it to be correct. It has come in the re-examination that PW 7 had not stated in his statement dated 13-9-1999 in the court that recovery of tainted money was not effected in his presence from the accused or that he had been told by the Inspector that amount has been recovered from the accused. He had also not stated in his said statement that the accused and witnesses were taken to the Tehsil and it was there that he had signed all the memos.

53. Reading the evidence in entirety, PW 7's evidence cannot be brushed aside. The delay in cross-examination has resulted in his prevarication from the examination-in-chief. But, a significant one, his examination-in-chief and the re-examination impels us to accept the testimony that he had gone into the octroi post and had witnessed about the demand and acceptance of money by the accused.

In his cross-examination he has stated that he had not gone with Baj Singh to the Vigilance Department at any time and no recovery was made in his presence. The said part of the testimony, in our considered view, does not commend acceptance in the backdrop of entire evidence in examination- in-chief and the re-examination.

57. Before parting with the case we are constrained to reiterate what we have said in the beginning. We have expressed our agony and anguish for the manner in which trials in respect of serious offences relating to corruption are being conducted by the trial courts:

57.1. Adjournments are sought on the drop of a hat by the counsel, even though the witness is present in court, contrary to all principles of holding a trial. That apart, after the examination-in-chief of a witness is over, adjournment is sought for cross-examination and the disquieting feature is that the trial courts grant time. The law requires special reasons to be recorded for grant of time but the same is not taken note of.

57.2. As has been noticed earlier, in the instant case the cross-examination has taken place after a year and 8 months allowing ample time to pressurise the witness and to gain over him by adopting all kinds of tactics.

57.3. There is no cavil over the proposition that there has to be a fair and proper trial but the duty of the court while conducting the trial is to be guided by the mandate of the law, the conceptual fairness and above all bearing in mind its sacrosanct duty to arrive at the truth on the basis of the material brought on record. If an accused for his benefit takes the trial on the path of total mockery, it cannot be countenanced. The court has a sacred duty to see that the trial is conducted as per law. If adjournments are granted in this manner it would tantamount to violation of the rule of law and eventually turn such trials to a farce. It is legally impermissible and jurisprudentially abominable. The trial courts are expected in law to follow the command of the procedure relating to trial and not yield to the request of the counsel to grant adjournment for non-acceptable reasons.

57.4. In fact, it is not at all appreciable to call a witness for cross-examination after such a long span of time. It is imperative if the examination-in-chief is over, the cross-examination should be completed on the same day. If the examination of a witness continues till late hours the trial can be adjourned to the next day for cross-examination. It is inconceivable in law that the cross-examination should be deferred for such a long time. It is anathema to the concept of proper and fair trial.

57.5. The duty of the court is to see that not only the interest of the accused as per law is protected but also the societal and collective interest is safeguarded. It is distressing to note that despite series of judgments of this Court, the habit of granting adjournment, really an ailment, continues. How long shall we say, "Awake! Arise!". There is a constant discomfort. Therefore, we think it appropriate that the copies of the judgment be sent to the learned Chief Justices of all the High Courts for circulating the same among the learned trial Judges with a command to follow the principles relating to trial in a requisite manner and not to defer the cross-examination of a witness at their pleasure or at the leisure of the defence counsel, for it eventually makes the trial an apology for trial and compels the whole society to suffer chicanery. Let it be remembered that law cannot be allowed to be lonely; a destitute."

9. A similar view has also been taken by the Supreme Court in the case of Rajesh Yadav and Another v. State of Uttar Pradesh³.

10. In the present case, it appears that, on account of a long gap of two months and nine days between the examination-in-chief and cross examination, the witness was won over by the accused and she resiled from the version as deposed in the examination-in-chief which fully incriminates the accused.

11. Considering the facts and circumstances of the case, submissions advanced by learned counsel for the parties, complicity of accused, severity of punishment and also considering the aforesaid judgements of Supreme Court and the facts as narrated above by learned State Law Officer, I do not find it a fit case to release the applicant on bail.

12. The bail application is, accordingly, rejected.

13. However, it is directed that the aforesaid case pending before the trial court be decided expeditiously, in view of the principle laid down in the recent judgements of the Supreme Court in the cases of Vinod Kumar vs. State of Punjab⁴ and Hussain and Another vs. Union of India⁵, if there is no legal impediment.

14. It is clarified that the observations made herein are limited to the facts brought in by the parties pertaining to the disposal of bail application and the said observations shall have no bearing on the merits of the case during trial.

Sushila Aggarwal Vs St. (NCT of Delhi) - 2020 SCC online SC 98

(Delivered by Hon'ble Karunesh Singh Pawar, J.)

1. The present bail application under Section 438 Cr.PC. has been filed seeking anticipatory bail in case crime/F.I.R No.1163/2023, under Sections 420, 425, 467, 468, 471, 120-B I.P.C., P.S. Kotwali Nagar, District Barabanki.

2. Heard learned counsel for the applicant and learned A.G.A. for the State.

3. This Court while granting interim protection to the applicant vide order dated 29.08.2024 has passed the following order:-

"Heard learned counsel the applicant and learned A.G.A. for the State.

The present bail application under Section 438 Cr.PC. has been filed seeking anticipatory bail in case crime/F.I.R No.1163/2023, under Sections 420, 425, 467, 468, 471, 120-B I.P.C., P.S. Kotwali Nagar, District Barabanki.

It is alleged in the F.I.R. that nazul land registered at page No.89 vide order dated 29.08.1956/11.10.1956 in the name of Kapura Devi to the tune of 66,844 square ft. In the said record, no order number is written neither there is reference of order on the paper book, the name of the officer who has made the endorsement is also not on the record neither there is any stamp of the concerned office. It is alleged that due to this reason the alleged record appears to be forged. It is further alleged that at page No.2 on 12-16 line whitener has been used which further makes it suspicious.

Learned counsel for the applicant submits that applicant is not named in the F.I.R. He has made following submissions:-

"Ram Rajeshwar Bali was the owner of the property Khasra Plot No. 315/1, Obari, Civil Lines bearing Municipal No. B/1049/614/T 364 to 368 also known as B-1365, Mohalla Begum Ganj, P.S. Kotwali, District Barabanki.

After the death of Ram Rajeshwar Bali, Ram Dinanath Bali, who was the legal heir, became the owner of the aforesaid property.

Kapura Devi had purchased the property from Dinanath Bali on 03.03.1955.

After the death of Kapura Devi, her son Nandanlal Jain became the owner of this property by inheritance.

In the year 1998, Nandlal Jain transferred his property to Dr. Vinay Kumar Jain through gift deed.

From 1998 till now, applicant Vinay Kumar Jain is the sole owner of the said property Khasra No. 315.

Dr Padma Shukla the then CMO was under tenancy in her individual capacity, but after the transfer of Dr Padma Shukla in the year 1991 the premises would be deemed to be vacated, but the District Administration started to treat the land as CMO Residence. After 1995, CMO Dr. Surendra Kumar had stopped paying rent. Therefore, the Applicant proceedings U/s. 16 of the Act. instituted the

The applicant applied to District Magistrate Barabanki on 25.01.99 for free holding of the said Arajai Nazul.

On 28.08.1999, Additional District Magistrate (Finance and Revenue) ordered to deposit Rs. 6,10,619/- in the treasury within 90 days. After the applicant deposited the said amount, a deed of sale was executed in favor of the applicant by Additional District Magistrate (Finance and Revenue) Barabanki.

After the deed of sale by the Additional District Magistrate on 22.07.2000, the applicant was not given possession of the said premises, since it was being used illegally as residence of CMO.

Then the petitioner filed an application for release of the said property in terms of section 16 of the UP-Act No. 13 of 1972 on march, 2007 for deemed vacancy.

The said Application was rejected by means of order dated 30.03.2011 primarily on the ground that the property in question comes under ownership of State Government and has been in use and occupation of the Chief Medical Officer.

The Petitioner filed the Revision No. 01/2011 in the court of Additional Sessions Court No. 01, which was also rejected by the Learned Court.

Therefore, the Applicant challenged the Order dated 30.03.2011 and 06.09.2012 by filing WRITA No. 1000081 of 2015 (Dr. Vinay Kumar Jain vs. State of U.P. & Others) before this Hon'ble Court, wherein after exchange of pleadings, this Hon'ble Court allowed the said petition vide order dated 14.02.2023 and held that the provisions of Section 16(1)(b) of the act is clearly applicable in the present case indicating vacancy, accordingly, the release application filed by petitioner also stands allowed.

The Authorities have failed to comply the order, accordingly, the Applicant filed Contempt Application (Civil) No. 1470 of 2023 before this Hon'ble Court for non compliance, but even then the Respondents have not complied the same as such the charges were framed against the contemnor i.e. CMO. Vide order dated 22.09.2023.

Thereafter, State Government filed a Review 1 Application No. 165 of 2023 against the Order Dated 14.02.2023 and the same has been rejected vide order dated 13.10.2023.

Accordingly, the State Government assailed the Order Dated 14.02.2023 and 13.10.2023 before Hon'ble Supreme Court by filing SLP (C) /Diary No. 44267 of 2023, wherein the Hon'ble Supreme Court dismissed the SLP and directed the state to hand over the possession of the property in question till 31.03.2024.

During the pendency of the aforesaid proceedings, the District Collector, Barabanki filed another suit against the Petitioner on 4.05.2023 challenging the free hold deed dated 24.07.2000, wherein the Applicant filed the Written Statement and the same is pending for adjudication.

The CMO has handed over the possession of the premises on 31.03.2024.

Thereafter, on the behest of the District Administration an FIR bearing case crime no. 460/2024 dated 25.05.2024 under Section 2 and 3 of the Prevention of Damage Public Property Act, 1984 has been lodged against the Applicant.

The Applicant challenged the said FIR before this Hon'ble Court by filing Criminal Writ Petition no. 4365 of 2024 before this Hon'ble Court, wherein interim protection was granted vide order dated 24.06.2024.

Thereafter, due to malafide intentions the diagnostic center running by the Applicant has been seized by the district administration without following due process of law. The said proceedings were challenged by the Petitioner by filing Writ-C 5623 of 2024 wherein this Hon'ble Court has been pleased to stay the proceedings vide order dated 26.06.2024.

During this period, the impugned FIR was lodged U/s. 420, 425, 468, 467, 471 and 120-B of IPC on 01.11.2023 at PS- Kotwali, Barabanki. However, the Applicant is not named in the FIR, but, in the name of investigation he has been called several times for interrogation by the investigating agency, and therefore, there is an apprehension for arrest. Hence this Anticipatory Bail."

Learned A.G.A. has opposed the contention of learned counsel for the applicant .

Learned counsel for the applicant undertakes that applicant will cooperate in the investigation.

Learned Addl. Government Advocate prays for and is granted two weeks' time to file counter affidavit.

List on 20.09.2024.

Considering the above aspect of the matter, perusal of the record as well as the fact that civil suit is pending between the parties before the competent civil court, Barabanki prima facie dispute appears to be civil in nature and the applicant is undertaking to cooperate in the investigation as also the judgment of Apex Court passed in Sushila Aggarwal and others versus State (NCT of Delhi) and another (2020) 5 SCC 1, it would be appropriate to grant interim protection to the applicant under Section 438 Cr.P.C.

Till the next date of listing, it is provided that in the event of arrest, the applicant-Dr. Vinay Kumar Jain shall be released on bail on his furnishing a personal bond and two sureties of the like amount to the satisfaction of the arresting officer/I.O./S.H.O. concerned.

The applicant shall cooperate in the investigation and he will not influence the witness. The accused-applicant will remain present as and when the arresting officer/I.O./S.H.O. concerned call(s) for investigation/interrogation. The applicant shall not leave India without previous permission of the Court.

In case of default, it would be open for the investigating agency to move application for vacation of this interim protection. "

4. Learned AGA has submitted that investigation in the matter is going on, however, he could not show from the material on record that the applicant is not cooperating in the investigation.

5. On due consideration to the fact that civil suit is pending between the parties and dispute is civil in nature, there is nothing on record to show that the applicant is not cooperating in the investigation; as well as considering the undertaking given by the applicant that he will cooperate in the investigation, the interim protection granted by this Court vide order dated 29.08.2024 is made absolute in view of dictum of Apex Court in re: Sushila Aggarwal Vs. State (NCT of Delhi)-2020 SCC online SC 98.

6. In view of the aforesaid, the application is allowed.

Criminal Law - Indian Penal Code, 1860 - Sections 498-A, 304-B, 302 & 201 - Dowry Prohibition Act, 1961 - Section 3/4 - Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 - Section 309 - Second Bail - Ground - Subsequent to rejection of first bail application of applicant, informant (P.W.-1) has not supported cross-examination and her husband (P.W.-2) has been declared hostile - Accused persons harassed informant's daughter by demanding dowry - On 29.07.2022, her son-in-law told her that her daughter had ran away from home at 12:00 in night - Six days thereafter, her dead-body was recovered from septic tank situated adjacent to accused persons' house. (Para 3, 4)

Held, a perusal of St.ment of P.W.-1 recorded on 18.10.2023 and continued till 07.08.2024 shows that she supported prosecution case but on last date i.e. 07.08.2024, she took u-turn and started supporting accused - PW-2 was examined and turned hostile - This prima facie indicates that long period of about 10 months spent in recording St.ment of PW-1, gave an opportunity to accused persons to influence prosecution witnesses - Thus, no case for grant of bail to applicant. 4. Ramesh Vs St. of Har.: (2017) 1 SCC 529, (Para 39, 44, 45)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Subhash Vidyarthi, J.)

1. Heard Sri Suraj Singh Visen, learned counsel for the applicant, Sri Abhishek Kumar Singh, the learned AGA for the State and perused the records.

2. This is the second bail application seeking release of the applicant on bail in Case Crime No.121 of 2022, under Sections 498-A, 304-B, 302 and 201 IPC and 3/4 D.P. Act, registered at Police Station - Khodhare, District - Gonda.

3. The first bail application of the applicant bearing No.14638 of 2022 was rejected by means an order dated 22.03.2023. The second bail application has been moved on the ground that subsequent to rejection of the first bail application of applicant, the informant has been examined as P.W.-1 and her husband has been examined as P.W.-2. P.W.-1 has not supported the cross-examination and P.W.-2 has been declared to be hostile.

4. When this Court perused the statement of P.W.-1, which was recorded on 5 dates between 18.10.2023 and 07.08.2024, it appears that in her statement recorded on 18.10.2023, the informant fully supported the prosecution case. She stated that all the accused persons used to harass her daughter by demanding dowry. On 29.07.2022, her son-in-law Mukeem had told her that her daughter had ran away from the home at 12:00 in the night. Six days thereafter, the dead-body of the informant's daughter was recovered from a septic tank situated in front of a Madarasa adjacent to the accused persons' house. Her cross-examination was recorded on 21.03.2024, 23.05.2024, 05.06.2024 and 07.08.2024. She supported the prosecution case till 05.06.2024, on which date she stated that she had visited the matrimonial home of her daughter about one month's prior to the incident and her daughter had told her that the accused persons used to harass her. However, in her cross-examination recorded on 07.08.2024, P.W.-1 turned turtle and started supporting the accused persons. Statement of P.W.-2 was recorded thereafter on 27.08.2024 and he has been declared hostile. Now the applicant is seeking his release on bail on this ground after his first bail application was rejected by a reasoned order.

5. The long period of about 10 months consumed by the trial Court in this case in recording the statement of PW-1, during which period PW-1 has sided with the accused, is very disturbing. Cross-examination of prosecution witnesses need to be recorded on day-to-day basis to avoid the possibility of witnesses being influenced. The statutory provision in this regard is contained in Section 309 Cr.P.C., which is being reproduced below: -

“309. Power to postpone or adjourn proceedings.—(1) In every inquiry or trial the proceedings shall be continued from day-to-day until all the witnesses in attendance have been examined, unless the court finds the adjournment of the same beyond the following day to be necessary for reasons to be recorded:

Provided that when the inquiry or trial relates to an offence under Section 376, Section 376-A, Section 376-AB, Section 376-B, Section 376-C, Section 376-D, Section 376-DA or Section 376 - DB of the Indian Penal Code (45 of 1860), the inquiry or trial shall be completed within a period of two months from the date of filing of the charge sheet.

(2) If the Court, after taking cognizance of an offence, or commencement of trial, finds it necessary or advisable to postpone the commencement of, or adjourn, any inquiry or trial, it may, from time to time, for reasons to be recorded, postpone or adjourn the same on such terms as it thinks fit, for such time as it considers reasonable, and may by a warrant remand the accused if in custody:

Provided that no Magistrate shall remand an accused person to custody under this section for a term exceeding fifteen days at a time:

Provided further that when witnesses are in attendance, no adjournment or postponement shall be granted, without examining them, except for special reasons to be recorded in writing:

Provided also that no adjournment shall be granted for the purpose only of enabling the accused person to show cause against the sentence proposed to be imposed on him:

Provided also that—

(a) no adjournment shall be granted at the request of a party, except where the circumstances are beyond the control of that party;

(b) the fact that the pleader of a party is engaged in another Court, shall not be a ground for adjournment;

(c) where a witness is present in Court but a party or his pleader is not present or the party or his pleader though present in Court, is not ready to examine or cross-examine the witness, the Court may, if it thinks fit, record the statement of the witness and pass such orders as it thinks fit dispensing with the examination-in-chief or cross-examination of the witness, as the case may be.

Explanation 1.—If sufficient evidence has been obtained to raise a suspicion that the accused may have committed an offence, and it appears likely that further evidence may be obtained by a remand, this is a reasonable cause for a remand.

Explanation 2.—The terms on which an adjournment or postponement may be granted include, in appropriate cases, the payment of costs by the prosecution or the accused.

(Emphasis added)

6. In Raj Deo Sharma (II) v. State of Bihar: (1999) 7 SCC 604, the Hon'ble Supreme Court stated that "We cannot permit the trial court to flout the said mandate of Parliament unless the court has very cogent and strong reasons. No court has permission to adjourn examination of witnesses who are in attendance beyond the next working day" (emphasis added).

7. In State of U.P. v. Shambhu Nath Singh: (2001) 4 SCC 667, the Hon'ble Supreme Court explained the legislative mandate contained in Section 309 Cr.P.C. in the following words:

"11. The first sub-section mandates on the trial courts that the proceedings shall be held expeditiously but the words "as expeditiously as possible" have provided some play at the joints and it is through such play that delay often creeps in the trials. Even so, the next limb of the sub-section sounded for a more vigorous stance to be adopted by the court at a further advanced stage of the trial. That stage is when examination of the witnesses begins. The legislature which diluted the vigour of the mandate contained in the initial limb of the sub-section by using the words "as expeditiously as possible" has chosen to make the requirement for the next stage (when examination of the witnesses has started) to be quite stern. Once the case reaches that stage the statutory command is that such examination "shall be continued from day to day until all the witnesses in attendance have been examined". The solitary exception to the said stringent rule is, if the court finds that adjournment "beyond the following day to be necessary" the same can be granted for which a condition is imposed on the court that reasons for the same should be recorded. Even this dilution has been taken away when witnesses are in attendance before the court. In such situation the court is not given any power to adjourn the case except in the extreme contingency for which the second proviso to sub-section (2) has imposed another condition,

12. Thus, the legal position is that once examination of witnesses started, the court has to continue the trial from day to day until all witnesses in attendance have been examined (except those whom the party has given up). The court has to record reasons for deviating from the said course. Even that is forbidden when witnesses are present in court, as the requirement then is that the court has to examine them. Only if there are "special reasons", which reasons should find a place in the order for adjournment, that alone can confer jurisdiction on the court to adjourn the case without examination of witnesses who are present in court.

13. Now, we are distressed to note that it is almost a common practice and regular occurrence that trial courts flout the said command with impunity. Even when witnesses are present, cases are adjourned on far less serious reasons or even on flippant grounds. Adjournments are granted even in such situations on the mere asking for it. Quite often such adjournments are granted to suit the convenience of the advocate concerned. We make it clear that the legislature has frowned at granting adjournments on that ground. At any rate inconvenience of an advocate is not a "special reason" for bypassing the mandate of Section 309 of the Code."

8. This High Court issued a Circular Letter No. 20/Admin. 'G-II' Dated 14.05.2015, which provides as follows: -

1. C.L. No. 152/VIII-b13, 28.10.1974 2. C.L. No. 58-50/Admn „G“, 23.11.1992 3. C.L. No. 54/VIIb-18, 06.12.2000 4. C.L. No. 8/VIIb-18, 07.02.2000 5. C.L. No. C-72/1990, 26.07.1990	In continuation of marginally quoted Court's earlier Circular Letters and in the light of Hon'ble Apex Court's orders passed in the cases of Akil alias Javed VS. State of NCT of Delhi, reported in 2012 (11) SCALE 709, in paras 27 to 36; State of UP Vs. Shambhu Nath Singh and others, reported in 2001 (4) SCC 667; Raj Deo Sharma Vs. State of Bihar, 1999 Cr.L.J. 4541 and Lt. Col. S.J. Chaudhari Vs. State (Delhi) Administration, (1984) 1 SCC 722, I am directed to state that the High Court is noticing disturbing trend in criminal trials, where Sessions cases are being adjourned, in some cases to suit convenience of counsels or because the prosecution or the defence is not fully ready and considers it necessary to draw the attention of all the Sessions Judges and Additional Sessions Judges once again to the provision of Section 309 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 and directs 73 them to adhere strictly to these provisions and instructions given below while granting adjournment in Sessions Cases:

(1) Trial Judges are reminded of the need to comply with Section 309 of the Code in letter and spirit.

(2) In every inquiry or trial the proceedings shall be held as expeditiously as possible, and in particular, when the examination of witnesses has once begun, the same shall be continued from day to day until all the witnesses in attendance have been examined, unless the court finds the adjournment of the same beyond the following day to be necessary for reasons to be recorded: (Section 309 (1) Cr.P.C.)

9. In Doongar Singh v. State of Rajasthan: (2018) 13 SCC 741, the Hon'ble Supreme Court reiterated that: -

"8. In spite of repeated directions of this Court, the situation appears to have remained unremedied. We hope that the Presiding Officers of the trial courts conducting criminal trials will be mindful of not giving such adjournments after commencement of the evidence in serious criminal cases. We are also of the view that it is necessary in the interest of justice that the eyewitnesses are examined by the prosecution at the earliest.

10. To conclude:

10.1. The trial courts must carry out the mandate of Section 309 CrPC as reiterated in judgments of this Court, inter alia, in State of U.P. v. Shambhu Nath Singh, (2001) 4 SCC 667, Mohd. Khalid v. State of W.B.: (2002) 7 SCC 334 and Vinod Kumar v. State of Punjab, (2015) 3 SCC 220.

10.2. The eyewitnesses must be examined by the prosecution as soon as possible.

10.3. Statements of eyewitnesses should invariably be recorded under Section 164 CrPC as per procedure prescribed thereunder."

10. A perusal of the statement of P.W.-1 recorded in this case, which had commenced on 18.10.2023 and continued till 07.08.2024 shows that on 18.10.2023, 21.03.2024, 23.05.2024 and 05.06.2024, P.W.-1 supported the prosecution case but on the last date i.e. 07.08.2024, she took u-turn and started supporting the accused. PW-2 was examined thereafter and he turned hostile. This prima facie indicates that the long period of about 10 months spent in recording the statement of prosecution witness PW-1 gave an opportunity to the accused persons to influence or win-over the prosecution witnesses.

11. In Ramesh v. State of Haryana: (2017) 1 SCC 529, the Hon'ble Supreme Court expressed its concern about the culture of witnesses turning hostile, in the following words: -

“39. We find that it is becoming a common phenomenon, almost a regular feature, that in criminal cases witnesses turn hostile. There could be various reasons for this behaviour or attitude of the witnesses. It is possible that when the statements of such witnesses were recorded under Section 161 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 by the police during investigation, the investigating officer forced them to make such statements and, therefore, they resiled therefrom while deposing in the court and justifiably so. However, this is no longer the reason in most of the cases. This trend of witnesses turning hostile is due to various other factors. It may be fear of deposing against the accused/delinquent or political pressure or pressure of other family members or other such sociological factors. It is also possible that witnesses are corrupted with monetary considerations.

44. On the analysis of various cases, the following reasons can be discerned which make witnesses retracting their statements before the court and turning hostile:

- (i) Threat/Intimidation.*
- (ii) Inducement by various means.*
- (iii) Use of muscle and money power by the accused.*
- (iv) Use of stock witnesses.*
- (v) Protracted trials.*
- (vi) Hassles faced by the witnesses during investigation and trial.*
- (vii) Non-existence of any clear-cut legislation to check hostility of witness.*

45. Threat and intimidation has been one of the major causes for the hostility of witnesses. Bentham said: “witnesses are the eyes and ears of justice”. When the witnesses are not able to depose correctly in the court of law, it results in low rate of conviction and many times even hardened criminals escape the conviction. It shakes public confidence in the criminal justice delivery system. It is for this reason there has been a lot of discussion on witness protection and from various quarters demand is made for the State to play a definite role in coming out with witness protection programme, at least in sensitive cases involving those in power, who have political patronage and could wield muscle and money power, to avert trial getting tainted and derailed and truth becoming a casualty. A stern and emphatic message to this effect was given in Zahira Habibullah Sheikh (5) v. State of Gujarat, (2006) 3 SCC 374 as well.”

12. As the aforesaid facts and circumstances of the case prima facie indicate that the prosecution witnesses have been influenced in the present case, no case for grant of bail to the applicant is made out.

13. Accordingly, the second application of the applicant is rejected.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Vikram D. Chauhan, J.)

1. Heard learned counsel for the applicants as well as learned AGA and perused the material available on record.

2. The present Anticipatory Bail Application has been filed with the prayer to grant anticipatory bail to the applicant - Rahis Ahmad and Mohammad Arif in Case No. 4364 of 2024 in Case Crime No. 78 of 2018 under Sections 4/21 of Mine and Minerals Act and Section 3/4 of Damage to Public Property Act, Police Station - Swar, District - Rampur.

3. It is submitted by learned counsel for the applicants that applicant has not been served with the summons although the summoning order was passed on 15.10.2023. On 21.08.2024 this Court has passed the following order:-

"1. The present Anticipatory Bail Application has been filed with the prayer to grant anticipatory bail to the applicants Rahis Ahmad and Mohammad Arif in Case Crime No.78 of 2018, under Section 4/21 of Mines and Minerals Act and Section 3/4 Damage to Public Property Act, Police Station Swar, District Rampur.

2. In the present case, summoning order was issued on 15.10.2023 by the court concerned. A perusal of the order sheet of the court concerned would demonstrate that the Non-Bailable Warrant has been issued against the applicant.

3. Learned counsel for the applicants submit that summons have not been served on the applicants.

4. This Court on 9.7.2024 granted time to learned A.G.A. to obtain instructions as to whether the summons were served on the applicants. On 6.8.2024, learned A.G.A. has made a statement that summons were not received in the police station as such the same could not be served.

5. Today an affidavit of compliance has been filed by learned A.G.A. in this respect.

6. Paragraph 6 of the compliance affidavit filed today is quoted hereinbelow:-

"6. That it is relevant to mention here that the Inspector Incharge, Police Station Swar, District Rampur has prepared his report and a perusal of the same goes to show that according to order sheet of the Learned Court Below it appears that on different dates ordered to issue summons and Non Bailable Warrant but the same were not received at the Police Station and lastly on 03.04.2024 a Non Bailable Warrant issued against the applicant no.1 was received at the Police Station and the concerned Sub-Inspector namely Amar Pal has gone to serve the same at the house of aforesaid Rahis Ahmad but he was not present at the house and it transpires that he used to work of Dairy in Haldwani (Uttarakhand) accordingly regarding the issuance of Non Bailable Warrant and information given to him at his mobile No.9837165426. Photocopy of Non Bailable Warrant issued against applicant no.1 Rahis Ahmad in which 03.05.2024 was fix and information regarding the same was given to him on telephone is being filed herewith and marked as Annexure-2 to this affidavit."

7. It is to be seen in the present case that as per the State the summons were not received by the police station from the court concerned and as such the same is not served.

8. It is not known as to how the court concerned has issued the Non-Bailable Warrant against the applicants without recording a finding with regard to service of summons.

9. The District Judge, Rampur is hereby directed to submit a report as to why the summons were not issued to police station concerned despite the order being passed by the court concerned for service. In the event, summons were issued then, whether the service was made on the applicants. Any service report was filed by the police shall also be disclosed. In the event, no summons were issued in pursuance to the summoning order of the court concerned, the District Judge, Rampur shall specify reason in the report for non-issuance of the summoning order and the Officer, who have erred in not issuing the summons despite the order of the court concerned summoning the accused.

10. The report shall be submitted before the next date fixed.

11. List on 10th September, 2024 in top ten cases.

12. Interim order granted earlier shall remain in currency, till the next date of listing.

13. Registrar (Compliance) is directed to send a copy of this order to the District Judge, Rampur for necessary compliance forthwith through Special Messenger/Fax/E-mail."

4. The District Judge, Rampur has submitted report dated 05.09.2024. As per report of District Judge, Rampur non-bailable warrants have been issued without issuance of summons to the accused/applicants.

5. It is submitted by learned counsel for applicants that applicants are innocent and have no concern with the present matter. Allegations levelled against the applicants are false. It is further argued that no prima facie case is made out against the applicants. Applicants have no previous criminal history. If the applicants are enlarged on anticipatory bail, they will not misuse the liberty and cooperate with the investigation. The applicants have apprehension of their arrest by the police any time. It is further submitted that Article-21 of the Constitution of India is violated.

6. Learned A.G.A. opposed the prayer but does not dispute the factual matrix.

7. It is not shown by learned AGA that the nature and gravity of allegations are such that the same would disentitle the applicants for relief of anticipatory bail. No material, facts, circumstances or concern been shown by learned AGA for the State that the accused may tamper with the evidence or witnesses or accused is of such character that his mere presence at large would intimidate the witnesses or that accused will use his liberty to subvert justice or tamper with the evidence.

8. Learned Counsel for opposite parties has not placed any criminal antecedents of the applicants. The applicants have no criminal history.

9. When a First information report is lodged, the investigating agency after investigation submits its report before the court concerned having jurisdiction. The court concerned after scrutinising the material, if it is of the opinion that sufficient grounds for proceeding against an accused exist, issues process against the accused by way of summon or warrant as the case may be. In the event, summoning order is passed by the court concerned against an accused person, a summon is to be issued as per section 61 (Section 63 of BNSS, 2023) of the Criminal Procedure Code, 1973 (for short 'Cr.P.C.'). As per aforesaid section, every summons issued by a Court under the Code shall be in writing, in duplicate, signed by Presiding Officer of such Court or by such other officer as the High Court may, from time to time, by rule direct, and shall bear the seal of the Court. In this respect section 61 of the Cr.P.C. is quoted herein below:-

“61. Form of summons.—Every summons issued by a Court under this Code shall be in writing, in duplicate, signed by the presiding officer of such Court or by such other officer as the High Court may, from time to time, by rule direct, and shall bear the seal of the Court.”

10. Further, Section 63 of BNSS, 2023 is quoted herein below :-

“63. Form of summons.—Every summons issued by a Court under this Sanhita shall be,—

(i) in writing, in duplicate, signed by the presiding officer of such Court or by such other officer as the High Court may, from time to time, by rule direct, and shall bear the seal of the Court; or

(ii) in an encrypted or any other form of electronic communication and shall bear the image of the seal of the Court or digital signature.”

11. As per section 62 of the Cr.P.C. (Section 64 of BNSS, 2023), summons are required to be served by a police officer or subject to such rules as the state government may make in this behalf, by an officer of the court issuing it or other public servant. Section 62 of the Cr.P.C., is quoted herein below :-

Every summons shall be served by a police officer, or subject to such rules as the State Government may make in this behalf, by an officer of the Court issuing it or other public servant.

(2) The summons shall, if practicable, be served personally on the person summoned, by delivering or tendering to him one of the duplicates of the summons.

(3) Every person on whom a summons is so served shall, if so required by the serving officer, sign a receipt therefor on the back of the other duplicate.”

Every summons shall be served by a police officer, or subject to such rules as the State Government may make in this behalf, by an officer of the Court issuing it or other public servant:

Provided that the police station or the registrar in the Court shall maintain a register to enter the address, email address, phone number and such other details as the State Government may, by rules, provide.

(2) The summons shall, if practicable, be served personally on the person summoned, by delivering or tendering to him one of the duplicates of the summons:

Provided that summons bearing the image of Court's seal may also be served by electronic communication in such form and in such manner, as the State Government may, by rules, provide.

(3) Every person on whom a summons is so served personally shall, if so required by the serving officer, sign a receipt therefor on the back of the other duplicate.”

13. As per section 62 of Cr.P.C. (Section 64 of BNSS, 2023), summons are required to be served personally on the person summoned, by delivering or tendering to him one of the duplicates of the summons. The person on whom a summon is so served, if so required by the serving officer, sign a receipt therefor on the back of the other duplicate.

14. The law prescribes that once summoning order is passed, the court concerned is required to issue a summon (in writing) in pursuance to the summoning order, to the police officer for service on the accused person. It is to be noted that till the stage of summoning of an accused, normally the accused does not have any knowledge with regard to the process under criminal law being initiated against him by court concerned. It is the summons which when served on the accused, forms the basis of knowledge to the accused with regard to initiation of criminal proceedings against the accused person by court concerned.

15. As per Section 64 of Cr.P.C. (Section 66 of BNSS, 2023), when the person summoned cannot, by exercise of due diligence, be found, the summons may be served by leaving one of the duplicates for him with some adult male member of his family residing with him, and the person with whom the summons is so left shall, if so required by the serving officer, sign a receipt therefor on the back of other duplicate. In respect of, service of a summon on a corporation, as per section 63 of the Cr.P.C. (Section 65(1) of BNSS, 2023), the same may be effected by serving it on the Secretary, local Manager or other Principal Officer of the Corporation, or by letter sent by registered post, addressed to the chief officer of the corporation in India, in which case the service shall be deemed to have been effected when the letter would arrive in ordinary course of post.

16. A Court under law is authorised to issue a warrant against an accused under section 87 of the Cr.P.C. (Section 90 of BNSS, 2023), where the accused person fails to appear and the summons is proved to have been duly served in time to admit his appearance in accordance therewith and no reasonable excuse is offered for such failure by accused. The provision of section 87 of the Cr.P.C. is quoted herein below :-

“87. Issue of warrant in lieu of, or in addition to, summons.—A Court may, in any case in which it is empowered by this Code to issue a summons for the appearance of any person, issue, after recording its reasons in writing, a warrant for his arrest—

(a) if, either before the issue of such summons, or after the issue of the same but before the time fixed for his appearance, the Court sees reason to believe that he has absconded or will not obey the summons; or

(b) if at such time he fails to appear and the summons is proved to have been duly served in time to admit of his appearing in accordance therewith and no reasonable excuse is offered for such failure.”

17. A perusal of the above-mentioned provision would demonstrate that the court concerned is authorised to issue warrant where the court has reason to believe that the accused has absconded or will not obey the summons or where the summons have been duly served in time, however, the accused has failed to appear before the court concerned in pursuance to the summons.

18. For proceeding, against an accused for issuance of a warrant, it is imperative on the part of the court concerned to record a finding that summons have been served on the accused person and he has failed to appear before the court concerned without reasonable cause. The finding with regard to service of summons on accused can only be recorded by the court concerned when in pursuance to the summoning order, the court has actually issued summons to the police authorities for service. The issuance of a actual summons in pursuance to the summoning order is the procedure prescribed by law.

19. Article 21 of the Constitution of India provides that no person shall be deprived of his life or liberty except in accordance with procedure established by law. Article 21 of Constitution of India is one of the fundamental rights provided under part-III of the Constitution of India. The right to life and liberty has an important role to play in the life of every individual. The object of the aforesaid provision is to prevent the deprivation of personal liberty of an individual except in accordance with law. It is necessary that before an individual is deprived of his personal liberty, the procedure established by law is followed and must not be departed from, to the disadvantage of accused person. The aforesaid fundamental right is available to every individual including an accused. It is settled law that the procedure established by law has to be “due procedure”. The Supreme Court has read the principle of reasonableness into the said procedure prescribed by Article-21, holding that it must be just and fair & not arbitrary.

20. Article 21 of Constitution of India, has embedded in itself the principle of Rule of Law. It is fundamental right of an individual to be subjected to deprivation of personal liberty by procedure established by law. Whenever an individual is threatened or steps are taken, for deprivation of his personal liberty in violation of Article 21 of Constitution of India, such a procedure or steps would not be constitutionally permissible. It is further to be noted that Constitution is a “grand norm” and all the laws & procedures are subject to Article 21 of Constitution of India. It is, therefore, imperative that whenever personal liberty of individual is threatened or is being violated without following the procedure established by law, courts are required to take steps in furtherance of the mandate of Article 21 of Constitution of India. Personal liberty of an individual is required to be protected.

21. It is further to be noted that provision of anticipatory bail is an extension to the fundamental right of an individual under Article 21 of the Constitution of India. The provision of anticipatory bail ensures that an individual is not subjected to arbitrary arrest and is subjected to deprivation of personal liberty only by established procedure of law. While exercising the jurisdiction of anticipatory bail, the courts are required to also examine, as to whether, the personal liberty of an individual is being proceeded to be curtailed as per the procedure established by law or an individual is being subjected to arbitrary arrest/without following the procedure established by law. The constitution being the grand norm, all laws and procedures are required to ensure that a right of an individual under Article 21 of the Constitution of India is not in any manner infringed. The state and all authorities (including court of law) are required to preserve the right of an individual under Article 21 of Constitution of India by following the procedure established.

22. In Sushila Aggarwal v. State (NCT of Delhi), (2020) 5 SCC 1, the Supreme Court has observed as under:-

“56. The reason for enactment of Section 438 in the Code was parliamentary acceptance of the crucial underpinning of personal liberty in a free and democratic country. Parliament wished to foster respect for personal liberty and accord primacy to a fundamental tenet of criminal jurisprudence, that everyone is presumed to be innocent till he or she is found guilty. Life and liberty are the cherished attributes of every individual. The urge for freedom is natural to each human being. Section 438 is a procedural provision concerned with the personal liberty of each individual, who is entitled to the benefit of the presumption of innocence. As denial of bail amounts to deprivation of personal liberty, the court should lean against the imposition of unnecessary restrictions on the scope of Section 438, especially when not imposed by the legislature. In Sibbia [Gurbaksh Singh Sibbia v. State of Punjab, (1980) 2 SCC 565 : 1980 SCC (Cri) 465] , it was observed that : (SCC p. 589, para 35)

“35.... Anticipatory bail is a device to secure the individual's liberty; it is neither a passport to the commission of crimes nor a shield against any and all kinds of accusations, likely or unlikely.”

57. The interpretation of Section 438 — that It does not encapsulate Article 21, is erroneous. This Court is of the opinion that the issue is not whether Section 438 is an intrinsic element of Article 21 : it is rather whether that provision is part of fair procedure. As to that, there can be no doubt that the provision for anticipatory bail is pro-liberty and enables one anticipating arrest, a facility of approaching the court for a direction that he or she not be arrested; it was specifically enacted as a measure of protection against arbitrary arrests and humiliation by the police, which Parliament itself recognised as a widespread malaise on the part of the police.”

23. In the present case, summoning order has been passed on 15.11.2018 and thereafter on 24.11.2018, 03.01.2019, 06.02.2019, 08.04.2019, 28.05.2019, 17.07.2019, 27.08.2019, 06.11.2019, 17.12.2019, 10.02.2020, 13.03.2020, 24.04.2022, 24.05.2022, 20.08.2022, 25.07.2022, 25.08.2022 & 29.09.2022 summons have been directed to be issued. The case before the court concerned travel for four years for issuance of summons. Thereafter, on 21.11.2023, order for issuance of non-bailable warrant was passed. As per report of District Judge, Rampur, summons were not issued to the accused/applicants in pursuance to the summoning order passed by the court concerned.

24. In the order-sheet of the trial court there is no finding that summons were actually issued to the accused/applicants after passing of the summoning order nor there is any finding that summons were actually served on the accused/applicants. Once summons were not served on the accused/applicants, the non-bailable warrants could not have been issued in an mechanical manner. Non issuance of the summons affects the right of the accused/applicants to defend himself/herself by various legal remedies available to an accused by challenging the summoning order or filing an application under Section 88 Cr.P.C. or to prefer anticipatory bail application.

25. The accused/applicants have been subjected to issuance of non-bailable warrant without service of summons which is not in accordance with the procedure established by law and as such the right of the accused/applicants under Article 21 of the Constitution of India is violated. In view of aforesaid, non-bailable warrant against applicants is issued without following procedure established by law.

26. It is settled principle of law that the object of bail is to secure the attendance of the accused. No material particulars or circumstances suggestive of the applicants fleeing from justice or thwarting the course of justice or creating other troubles in the shape of repeating offences or intimidating witnesses and the like have been shown by learned AGA for the State.

27. In view of the above, the applicants are granted anticipatory bail in respect of offence described in para-2 of the present order. In the event of arrest of the applicants, they shall be released on anticipatory bail on their furnishing a personal bond of Rs.25,000/- with two sureties each in the like amount to the satisfaction of the court concerned with the following conditions:-

(i) The applicants shall not directly or indirectly, make any inducement, threat or promise to any person acquainted with the facts of the case so as to dissuade themselves from disclosing such facts to the Court or to any police office.

(ii) The applicants shall not leave India without the previous permission of the Court concerned.

(iii) In the event, applicants change residential address, the applicants shall inform the court concerned/Investigating Officer about new residential address in writing.

(iv) The applicants shall cooperate with the investigation and make themselves available for interrogation whenever required.

(v) The applicants shall not obstruct or hamper the police investigation and not to play mischief with the evidence collected or yet to be collected by the police.

(vi) The applicants shall maintain law and order.

(vii) The applicants shall at the time of execution of the bond, furnish their address and mobile number to investigating officer, and the court concerned.

(viii) The applicants shall regularly remain present during the trial, and cooperate with the Court to complete the trial for the above offences.

(ix) Non presence of the applicants or their counsel before the court concerned shall be construed as violation of the present order and the court concerned would be at liberty to take coercive measures in accordance with law.

28. In case of default of any of the conditions, the Investigating Officer shall be at liberty to file appropriate application for cancellation of protection granted to the applicants.

29. With the directions made above, the anticipatory bail application stands allowed.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Jaspreet Singh, J.)

1. This is a pre-trial bail application moved by the applicant who is arraigned in connection with ECIR No. LKZO/05/2021, under Section 3/4 of the Prevention of Money Laundering Act, 2002 (hereinafter referred to as The PML Act of 2002).

2. The background is, that large number of FIRs were lodged against Shine City Group of Companies and its Directors, Promoters, share holders, authorized representatives and beneficial owners, all across the country. In the same vein, several FIRs were lodged by the Uttar Pradesh Police under various sections of the I.P.C. at P.S. Gomti Nagar at Lucknow and P.S. Civil Lines at Prayagraj. The FIRs lodged at Lucknow and Prayagraj were all later transferred to the Economic Offence Wing at Lucknow.

3. The contents of the Enforcement Case Information Report (hereinafter referred to as "ECIR"), in a gist, reflects that many real estate projects were floated by various companies under the umbrella of Shine City Group of Companies in Uttar Pradesh, Bihar and West Bengal. The said companies is said to have allured the investors to invest in the projects of the companies which promised handsome returns. The company is said to have issued post-dated cheques to instill confidence in the investors, however, as alleged, as and when the said cheques matured for redemption, they were dishonored.

4. It is further alleged that in order to dupe the investors forged documents were shown to the investors in order to instill confidence that the company had a very healthy land bank, however, neither the investors got the plot as promised nor the amount invested was returned.

5. The company is also alleged to have a scheme for investing in its alleged virtual currency titled as 'Shine Victory Coin' which was floated through Shine City Infrastructure Projects Pvt. Ltd though the Company had no authority or approval from its Board of Directors nor from any Government Authority.

6. All the companies, under the umbrella of Shine Group of Companies, were managed by its main director and supremo namely Sri Rasheed Naseem. He was responsible for luring investors by persuading them to invest in a scheme namely 'Bid and Hot Deal'. In the instant 'bid and hot deal', the company promised to provide vehicles (two wheeler and four wheelers) to its investors at discounted price, however, despite deposit of money in the said scheme, neither the vehicles were delivered nor the money was returned to the innocent investors and moreover few cheques which were issued towards refund were also dishonored.

7. In the aforesaid fashion, several other schemes were floated inter-alia known as "Project Investment Plan" which was the brain child of one Sri Abhishek Thakur who is alleged to be the President of Garud Team of Shine City Group of Companies. In the aforesaid scheme, the amount invested was to be returned in 12/15 months by giving a plot and needless to say these promises were also not honored. Another scheme known as 'Principal Cash Back' wherein the persons investing the amount was assured of fantastic returns. It is in this light that a huge corpus was collected and siphoned by the Shine City Group of Companies while large number of investors were duped and cheated.

8. The record would reflect that the investigation in the aforesaid scam relating to investments in Shine City Group of Companies is being monitored by a Division Bench of this Court in Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No. 1834 of 2021 (Sri Ram Ram Vs. State of U.P. and Others) along with several other connected writ petitions.

9. It is in this context that the Enforcement Directorate, Government of India filed a complaint under Section 44 and 45 of the The PML Act of 2002 for commission of offence of money laundering as defined under Section 3 read with Section 17 of The PML Act of 2002 which is punishable under Section 4 of The PML Act of 2002.

10. The ECIR is on record as Annexure No. 2 with the bail application and it reveals that upon investigation made under The PML Act of 2002 by the prosecuting agency, various premises were searched inter-alia including that of the present applicant. The present applicant was apprehended on 25.11.2023 and has been in Jail since then.

11. As per the ECIR, the role of the present applicant reveals that the applicant is said to be the main confidant of Sri Rasheed Naseem who is said to be the Director and master-mind of the companies under the umbrella of Shine City Group of Companies. The role of the applicant is summarized as under:-

(i) It is alleged that the applicant had created a social media group under the name and style of 'Customer ka Haq'; It is also alleged that she had been acting on behalf of Sri Rasheed Naseem and Shine City Group of Companies trying to give possession, illegally, of the land to their own persons which was already provisionally attached by the Enforcement Directorate. This led to frustrating the final confiscation of the attached property which had been confirmed by the Adjudicating Authority;

(ii) Several incriminating information and data in digital form was available on the applicant's mobile phone which established her role in assisting Sri Rasheed Naseem and Shine City Group of Companies to conceal the proceeds of crime and also siphoning the said proceeds;

(iii) The applicant is said to be the single point of contact between Rasheed Naseem and Shine City Group of Companies;

(iv) The account statement of the applicant indicated that the applicant had deposited cash in bank accounts maintained with the Aryavart Bank and during her interrogation she was confronted with the said statements, however, she could not explain the source of cash amounts;

(v) The applicant is a Government School Teacher by profession and apart from her salary, she does not have any other known source of income and thus the deposits apparently links her to the Shine City Group of Companies;

(vi) That the mobile records of the applicant reflects her being in touch with another co-accused namely Abhishek Thakur who is also one of the alleged confidant of the Shine City Group of Companies and was responsible for handling the affairs of the Shine City Group of Companies in Uttar Pradesh and Kolkata in the State of West Bengal;

(vii) The said data indicates sending of photos of the properties belonging to the Shine City Group of Companies situate in West Bengal by Sri Abhishek Thakur to the present applicant. The Google locations of the said properties was also shared by Sri Abhishek Thakur with the present applicant to facilitate the illegal handing over of possession of the said properties to the persons who were closely associated with the offending Companies and its management.

12. Thus, in view thereof, it was deduced that the present applicant being a close confidant and closely associated with the illegal activities of the offending company and its management, was instrumental in assisting the main master-mind and Director Sri Rasheed Naseem and the Shine City Group of Companies, to conceal and siphon the proceeds of crime.

13. As per the ECIR, the evidence collected during investigation linking the present applicant to the alleged offence of money laundering has been indicated as under:-

(i) As per the search conducted at the residential premises of the present applicant, bank account statement and digital devices recovered indicated that considerable quantum of proceeds of crime were received in the bank accounts of the present applicant which was received from the various Shine City Group of Companies which was later withdrawn in cash and utilized by the present applicant for her personal expenses and other investment best known to her;

(ii) The applicant being a School Teacher and apart from her monthly salary, she had received a total sum of Rs. 16,82,331/- in her bank account in cash which is alleged to be the proceeds of crime generated by the criminal activities of the Shine City Group of Companies and being a close confidant of Sri Rasheed Naseem, she was controlling the affairs and was the face of the company vis.a.vis its investors.

(iii) Mobile device recovered from her residence pointed towards the conversation between the applicant and Sri Rasheed Naseem which also indicated that she was in constant touch and was acting at his behest including her involvement in giving possession of the properties provisionally attached by the Enforcement Directorate to persons being loyal to the offending group of companies.

14. The specific role of the applicant as indicated in para 6.1 of the ECIR, is being reproduced hereinafter for ease of reference:-

“ ROLE OF SHASHI BALA (ACCUSED 1)

6.1 She is a teacher in a government school and confidant of Rashid Naseem, head of operations of Shine City Group. She created a social media group and channel namely 'Customer ka Haq' and acting on the directions of Rashid Naseem. Further evidence from the WhatsApp group chat clearly shows that she is in possession of important information regarding the assets/properties of shine city which establishes her role in the concealment and laundering of the proceeds of crime. She is involved in dissipation of proceeds of crime by giving possession of the land/plots belong to Shine City companies which were earlier attached by this office. She has been assisting Rashid Naseem in acquisition, possession, concealment and use of the Proceeds of Crime and has indulged in offence of continuous money laundering by continuing to cheat innocent public investors even till date, despite knowing about various FIRs registered against Rashid Naseem & Shine City. She had received funds majorly in the form of cash directly from the customers however she also received funds to the tune of Rs. 16.82 lakh against Cash Credit which was nothing but the proceeds of crime generated out of the criminal activities being done by Shine City Group of Companies and its operators. Thus, she knowingly assisted and involved in the process and activity connected with generation of Proceeds of Crime and actually in possession and use of proceeds of crime.”

15. Sri Pradeep Rai, the learned counsel for the applicant submits that the applicant has no concern with Sri Rasheed Naseem or the management of Shine City Group of Companies. It is stated that the applicant herself was duped by the company as she herself had invested money and the same was not returned as per the promise made by the company and its management.

16. It is further urged that in the ECIR, it is alleged that a sum of Rs. 16,82,331/- is the estimated quantum of proceeds of crime found in the account of the applicant, however, the same has been explained to state that the amount shown in her account dated 23rd August, 2013 relating to an entry of Rs. 2,02,000/- was the maturity amount which she received as part of her matured deposit.

17. Similarly, a sum of Rs. 5,05,331/- which was received in her account on 29th

June, 2019 is also the maturity amount relating to her deposits made over a period of 9 years. It has also been urged that the applicant had taken loan from the HDFC Bank and Aryavat Bank between the year 2010-2020 for a total sum of Rs. 28,60,000/- (loan taken in parts have been explained in paragraph 14 of the affidavit in support of the bail application).

18. The applicant has also stated that she has been in Government Service since 2005 and has been receiving salary and as such over a period of one decade i.e. for the period 2009-10 till 2019-20, she had received salary of Rs. 46 lakhs and odd as per her salary account statement.

19. It has further been urged that the applicant being a School Teacher had her own independent source of income and she also earned additional income from agriculture and sale and purchase of land and sale of milk and dairy products.

20. It is submitted that the applicant was not named in the ECIR but came to be arrested on 25.11.2023. Significantly, the applicant has not been named in any FIRs which was lodged against Rasheed Naseem and his group of companies and associates. The applicant is neither a Director nor Officer or employee or associated with Rasheed Naseem or any companies of the Shine City Group of Companies.

21. It is also urged by the learned counsel for the applicant that the applicant has been falsely implicated for the reason that a Division Bench of this Court at Allahabad is seized of a bunch of writ petitions, leading petition being Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No. 1834 of 2021 (Sri Ram Ram Vs. State of U.P. and Others) wherein on 31st January, 2023 during the course of hearing, it was informed to the Court that the present applicant had filed her impleadment application in the said bunch of writ petitions and was present in the Court and it was further alleged that she was in regular touch with Rasheed Naseem who is allegedly in Dubai.

22. The said Court had made strong negative observations against the Enforcement Directorate and in view thereof the ED falsely implicated the applicant and apprehended her on 25.11.2023. A copy of the said order passed by the Division Bench of this Court at Allahabad has been brought on record as Annexure-7 with the affidavit in support of the bail application.

23. It is urged that no offence of money laundering is made out against the applicant nor the applicant is involved in either of the predicate offence, accordingly, the applicant is a school teacher and has been in judicial custody since 25.11.2023.

24. The learned counsel for the applicant has also relied upon his supplementary affidavit dated 27.08.2024 to impress that on the basis of the present ECIR, 3 separate complaints have been filed by the ED. In the present complaint, there are four accused namely, the applicant, Abhishek Kumar Singh, Udhav Singh and Durga Prasad. A list of 67 prosecution witnesses and 272 documents will be relied by the Prosecution in the present complaint alone. In all there are about 226 FIRs lodged in the predicate offences and needless to say that the trial of the predicate would go along simultaneously with the trial of the complaints made under the PML Act, 2002.

25. It is also urged that the complaint was filed on 23rd January, 2024 of which cognizance was taken by the Court concerned on 17.05.2024 and till date of filing of the supplementary affidavit, the charges have yet not been framed.

26. In the aforesaid circumstances, there is no likelihood of the trial being concluded in the near future. Hence, the bail application be allowed.

27. The learned counsel for the applicant in support of his submissions has relied upon the following decisions of the Apex Court:- (i) Arvind Kejriwal v. Directorate Enforcement, 2024 SCC OnLine SC 1703. However, the said decision may not help the applicants since in the case before the Apex Court, the issue therein was in respect of legality of arrest. Moreover, the Apex Court thereafter referred the matter to a Larger Bench for resolving the issue referred and then interim bail was granted considering that Sri Kejriwal, the accused was an elected leader and the Chief Minister of Delhi and further leaving it open for the Larger Bench to either extend or recall the interim bail. Thus, the case in hand is quite different where there is no challenge to the legality of arrest.

(ii) The learned counsel further relied upon the decision of the Apex Court in Kalvakuntla Kavitha v. Enforcement Directorate, 2024 SCC OnLine SC 2269 wherein the Apex Court has held as under:-

“26. This Court in the case of Saumya Chaurasia (supra) 2023 SCC OnLine SC 1674, while paraphrasing proviso to Section 45(1) of the PML stated in paragraph 23 as follows:

“23. No doubt the courts need to be more sensitive and sympathetic towards the category of persons included in the first proviso to Section 45 and similar provisions in the other Acts, as the persons of tender age and women who are likely to be more vulnerable, may sometimes be misused by the unscrupulous elements”

27. This Court, in the carefully couched paragraph extracted above used the phrase “persons of tender age and woman who are likely to be more vulnerable, may sometimes be misused by the unscrupulous elements”. This is vastly different from saying that the proviso to Section 45(1) of the PML applies only to “vulnerable woman”. Further, this Court in the case of Saumya Chaurasia (supra) does not say that merely because a woman is highly educated or sophisticated or a Member of Parliament or a Member of Legislative Assembly, she is not entitled to the benefit of the proviso to Section 45(1) of the PML.

28. We, therefore, find that the learned Single Judge of the High Court has totally misdirected herself while denying the benefit of the proviso to Section 45(1) of the PML.

In the aforesaid case, the question whether the word ‘vulnerable women’ applies only to women who are vulnerable or the word vulnerable will be taken in context to all women being vulnerable per se being a woman. Hence, the facts of this case is quite different to the case at hand, accordingly, it may have a limited impact in the case as the applicant claims benefit merely on the basis of gender without pleading or bringing on record any material to connect her vulnerability.

(iii) The learned counsel for the applicant has relied upon another decision of the Apex Court in Prem Prakash Vs. Union of India through Directorate of Enforcement; 2024 SCC Online SC 2270 and the relevant portion thereof read as under:-

“Scope of Inquiry under Section 45 of PML

13. Coming back to the scope of inquiry under Section 45, Vijay Madanlal Choudhary (Supra), while reiterating and agreeing with the holding in Ranjitsing Brahmajeetsing Sharma v. State of Maharashtra, (2005) 5 SCC 294, held that the Court while dealing with the application for grant of bail in PML need not delve deep into the merits of the case and only a view of the Court based on the available material available on record is required. It held that the Court is only required to place its view based on probability on the basis of reasonable material collected during investigation. The words used in Section 45 are “reasonable grounds for believing” which means that the Court has to see only if there is a genuine case against the accused and the prosecution is not required to prove the charge beyond reasonable doubt. We deem it fit to extract the relevant portion (Para 131) from Vijay Madanlal Choudhary (supra):

“131. It is important to note that the twin conditions provided under section 45 of the 2002 Act, though restrict the right of the accused to grant of bail, but it cannot be said that the conditions provided under section 45 impose absolute restraint on the grant of bail. The discretion vests in the court which is not arbitrary or irrational but judicial, guided by the principles of law as provided under section 45 of the 2002 Act. While dealing with a similar provision prescribing twin conditions in MCOCA, this court in Ranjitsing Brahmajeetsing Sharma (supra), held as under:

positive finding that the applicant for bail has not committed an offence under the Act. If such a construction is placed, the court intending to grant bail must arrive at a finding that the applicant has not committed such an offence. In such an event, it will be impossible for the prosecution to obtain a judgment of conviction of the applicant. Such cannot be the intention of the Legislature. Section 21(4) of the MCOCA, therefore, must be construed reasonably. It must be so construed that the court is able to maintain a delicate balance between a judgment of acquittal and conviction and an order granting bail much before commencement of trial. Similarly, the court will be required to record a finding as to the possibility of his committing a crime after grant of bail. However, such an offence in futuro must be an offence under the Act and not any other offence. Since it is difficult to predict the future conduct of an accused, the court must necessarily consider this aspect of the matter having regard to the antecedents of the accused, his propensities and the nature and manner in which he is alleged to have committed the offence.

45. It is, furthermore, trite that for the purpose of considering an application for grant of bail, although detailed reasons are not necessary to be assigned, the order granting bail must demonstrate application of mind at least in serious cases as to why the applicant has been granted or denied the privilege of bail.

46. The duty of the court at this stage is not to weigh the evidence meticulously but to arrive at a finding on the basis of broad probabilities. However, while dealing with a special statute like MCOCA having regard to the provisions contained in sub-section (4) of section 21 of the Act, the court may have to probe into the matter deeper so as to enable it to arrive at a finding that the materials collected against the accused during the investigation may not justify a judgment of conviction. The findings recorded by the court while granting or refusing bail undoubtedly would be tentative in nature, which may not have any bearing on the merit of the case and the trial court would, thus, be free to decide the case on the basis of evidence adduced at the trial, without in any manner being prejudiced thereby”.

We are in agreement with the observation made by the court in Ranjitsing Brahmajeetsing Sharma (supra). The court while dealing with the application for grant of bail need not delve deep into the merits of the case and only a view of the court based on available material on record is required. The court will not weigh the evidence to find the guilt of the accused which is, of course, the work of Trial Court. The court is only required to place its view based on probability on the basis of reasonable material collected during investigation and the said view will not be taken into consideration by the Trial court in recording its finding of the guilt or acquittal during trial which is based on the evidence adduced during the trial. As explained by this court in Nimmagadda Prasad (supra), the words used in section 45 of the 2002 Act are “reasonable grounds for believing” which means the court has to see only if there is a genuine case against the accused and the prosecution is not required to prove the charge beyond reasonable doubt.”

Importance of the foundational facts-under Section 24 PML

14. In Vijay Madanlal Choudhary (supra) dealing with Section 24 of the PML, the three-Judge Bench held as under:—

“97. Be that as it may, we may now proceed to decipher the purport of section 24 of the 2002 Act. In the first place, it must be noticed that the legal presumption in either case is about the involvement of proceeds of crime in money-laundering. This fact becomes relevant, only if, the prosecution or the authorities have succeeded in establishing at least three basic or foundational facts. First, that the criminal activity relating to a scheduled offence has been committed. Second, that the property in question has been derived or obtained, directly or indirectly, by any person as a result of that criminal activity. Third, the person concerned is, directly or indirectly, involved in any process or activity connected with the said property being proceeds of crime. On establishing the fact that there existed proceeds of crime and the person concerned was involved in any process or activity connected therewith, itself, constitutes offence of money-laundering. The nature of process or activity has now been elaborated in the form of Explanation inserted vide Finance (No. 2) Act, 2019. On establishing these foundational facts in terms of section 24 of the 2002 Act, a legal presumption would arise that such proceeds of crime are involved in money-laundering. The fact that the person concerned had no causal connection with such proceeds of crime and he is able to disprove the fact about his involvement in any process or activity connected therewith, by producing evidence in that regard, the legal presumption would stand rebutted.

99. Be it noted that the legal presumption under section 24(a) of the 2002 Act, would apply when the person is charged with the offence of money-laundering and his direct or indirect involvement in any process or activity connected with the proceeds of crime, is established. The existence of proceeds of crime is, therefore, a foundational fact, to be established by the prosecution, including the involvement of the person in any process or activity connected therewith. Once these foundational facts are established by the prosecution, the onus must then shift on the person facing charge of offence of money-laundering-to rebut the legal presumption that the proceeds of crime are not involved in money-laundering, by producing evidence which is within his personal knowledge. In other words, the expression “presume” is not conclusive. It also does not follow that the legal presumption that the proceeds of crime are involved in money-laundering is to be invoked by the Authority or the court, without providing an opportunity to the person to rebut the same by leading evidence within his personal knowledge.

100. Such onus also flows from the purport of section 106 of the Evidence Act. Whereby, he must rebut the legal presumption in the manner he chooses to do and as is permissible in law, including by replying under section 313 of the 1973 Code or even by cross-examining prosecution witnesses. The person would get enough opportunity in the proceeding before the Authority or the court, as the case may be. He may be able to discharge his burden by showing that he is not involved in any process or activity connected with the proceeds of crime. In any case, in terms of section 114 of the Evidence Act, it is open to the court to presume the existence of any fact which it thinks likely to have happened, regard being had to the common course of natural events, human conduct, and public and private business, in their relation to the facts of the particular case. Considering the above, the provision under consideration [section 24(a)] by no standards can be said to be unreasonable much less manifestly arbitrary and unconstitutional.”

The proposition in the aforesaid case cannot be disputed and this Court while considering the case of the applicant shall also notice the applicability of the said decision.

(iv) Learned counsel for the applicant next relied upon the decision of the Apex Court in Manish Sisodia v. Enforcement Directorate, 2024 SCC OnLine SC 1920, wherein the Apex Court has held as under:-

“49. We find that, on account of a long period of incarceration running for around 17 months and the trial even not having been commenced, the appellant has been deprived of his right to speedy trial.

50. As observed by this Court, the right to speedy trial and the right to liberty are sacrosanct rights. On denial of these rights, the trial court as well as the High Court ought to have given due weightage to this factor.

51. Recently, this Court had an occasion to consider an application for bail in the case of Javed Gulam Nabi Shaikh v. State of Maharashtra 2024 SCC OnLine SC 1693 wherein the accused was prosecuted under the provisions of the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act, 1967. This Court surveyed the entire law right from the judgment of this Court in the cases of Gudikanti Narasimhulu v. Public Prosecutor, High Court of Andhra Pradesh (1978) 1 SCC 240, Shri Gurbaksh Singh Sibbia v. State of Punjab (1980) 2 SCC 565, Hussainara Khatoon (I) v. Home Secretary, State of Bihar (1980) 1 SCC 81, Union of India v. K.A. Najeeb (2021) 3 SCC 713 and Satender Kumar Antil v. Central Bureau of Investigation (2022) 10 SCC 51. The Court observed thus:

“19. If the State or any prosecuting agency including the court concerned has no wherewithal to provide or protect the fundamental right of an accused to have a speedy trial as enshrined under Article 21 of the Constitution then the State or any other prosecuting agency should not oppose the plea for bail on the ground that the crime committed is serious. Article 21 of the Constitution applies irrespective of the nature of the crime.”

52. The Court also reproduced the observations made in Gudikanti Narasimhulu (supra), which read thus:

*“10. In the aforesaid context, we may remind the trial courts and the High Courts of what came to be observed by this Court in Gudikanti Narasimhulu v. Public Prosecutor, High Court reported in (1978) 1 SCC 240. We quote:*

“What is often forgotten, and therefore warrants reminder, is the object to keep a person in judicial custody pending trial or disposal of an appeal. Lord Russel, C.J., said [R v. Rose, (1898) 18 Cox]:

“I observe that in this case bail was refused for the prisoner. It cannot be too strongly impressed on the, magistracy of the country that bail is not to be withheld as a punishment, but that the requirements as to bail are merely to secure the attendance of the prisoner at trial.””

53. The Court further observed that, over a period of time, the trial courts and the High Courts have forgotten a very well-settled principle of law that bail is not to be withheld as a punishment. From our experience, we can say that it appears that the trial courts and the High Courts attempt to play safe in matters of grant of bail. The principle that bail is a rule and refusal is an exception is, at times, followed in breach. On account of non-grant of bail even in straight forward open and shut cases, this Court is flooded with huge number of bail petitions thereby adding to the huge pendency. It is high time that the trial courts and the High Courts should recognize the principle that “bail is rule and jail is exception”.

54. In the present case, in the ED matter as well as the CBI matter, 493 witnesses have been named. The case involves thousands of pages of documents and over a lakh pages of digitized documents. It is thus clear that there is not even the remotest possibility of the trial being concluded in the near future. In our view, keeping the appellant behind the bars for an unlimited period of time in the hope of speedy completion of trial would deprive his fundamental right to liberty under Article 21 of the Constitution. As observed time and again, the prolonged incarceration before being pronounced guilty of an offence should not be permitted to become punishment without trial.

55. As observed by this Court in the case of Gudikanti Narasimhulu (supra), the objective to keep a person in judicial custody pending trial or disposal of an appeal is to secure the attendance of the prisoner at trial.

56. In the present case, the appellant is having deep roots in the society. There is no possibility of him fleeing away from the country and not being available for facing the trial. In any case, conditions can be imposed to address the concern of the State.

57. Insofar as the apprehension given by the learned ASG regarding the possibility of tampering the evidence is concerned, it is to be noted that the case largely depends on documentary evidence which is already seized by the prosecution. As such, there is no possibility of tampering with the evidence. Insofar as the concern with regard to influencing the witnesses is concerned, the said concern can be addressed by imposing stringent conditions upon the appellant."

The proposition in the aforesaid case cannot be disputed and this Court while considering the case of the applicant shall also notice the applicability of the said decision.

28. Sri Rohit Tripathi, learned counsel for the Prosecuting Agency has submitted that during investigation and seizure of the records found from the residence of the applicant as has been disclosed in the ECIR, categorically links the applicant with the operations of the Shine City Group of Companies.

29. It is further urged that even though the applicant has stated in her affidavit regarding her source of income derived from the salary, being a School Teacher, however, it has not been indicated what was her quantum of investments in the Shine City Group of Companies.

30. As per the admission of the applicant, she is alleged to have invested a sum of Rs. 11,00,000/- between the year 2013 to 2019 and she has further indicated that Shine City Group of Companies had registered 11 properties in her name but she was not able to indicate that under what circumstances, the said 11 properties were parked in her name.

31. It is further urged that her own admission which was even recorded before a Division Bench of this Court while hearing was in progress of a bunch of writ petitions at Prayagraj clearly indicates that she was in constant touch with Rasheed Naseem and the applicant's daughter and her son-in-law had even met Rasheed Naseem in Dubai. This clearly linked the applicant to the Director as well as the master-mind of the Shine City Group of Companies.

32. The conversation and exchange of photos between the applicant and another close confidant of Rasheed Naseem namely Abhishek Thakur also fortifies the strong links between the applicant and the Shine City Group of Companies and her assistance in siphoning of the proceeds of crime.

33. In view of the aforesaid, it is urged that there is ample material available on record which clearly incriminates the applicant and for the aforesaid reasons the bail application of the applicant deserves to be rejected.

34. Before dealing with the respective submissions of the learned counsel for the parties, it will be appropriate to take a glance at the certain relevant provisions relating to The PML Act of 2002:-

Proceeds of crime has been defined in Section 2(u) which reads as under:-

2 (u) "proceeds of crime" means any property derived or obtained, directly or indirectly, by any person as a result of criminal activity relating to a scheduled offence or the value of any such property [or where such property is taken or held outside the country, then the property equivalent in value held within the country] [or abroad].

[Explanation- For the removal of doubts, it is hereby clarified that 'proceeds of crime' including property not only derived or obtained from the scheduled offence but also any property which may directly or indirectly be derived or obtained as a result of any criminal activity relatable to the scheduled offence]"

35. Scheduled offence has been defined in Section 2(y) which reads as under:-

"(y) "scheduled offence" means

(i) the offences specified under Part A of the Schedule; or

(ii) the offences specified under Part-B of the Schedule if the total value involved in such offences is [one crore rupees] or more; or

(iii) the offences specified under Part C of the Schedule;]"

36. The offence of money laundering has been defined in Section 3 while the punishment for money laundering has been provided in Section 4 and they read as under:-

"3. Offence of money-laundering- Whosoever directly or indirectly attempts to indulge or knowingly assists or knowingly is a party or is actually involved in any process or activity connected [proceeds of crime including its concealment, possession, acquisition or use and projecting or claiming] it as untainted property shall be guilty of offence of money-laundering.

Explanation- For the removal of doubts, it is hereby clarified that –

1. (i) a person shall be guilty of offence of money-laundering if such person is found to have directly or indirectly attempted to indulge or knowingly assisted or knowingly is a party or is actually involved in one or more of the following processes or activities connected with proceeds of crime, namely:-

(a) concealment, or

(b) possession; or

(c) acquisition; or

(d) use; or

(e) projecting as untainted property; or

(f) claiming as untainted property in any manner whatsoever;

(ii) the process or activity connected with proceeds of crime is a continuing activity and continues till such time a person is directly or indirectly enjoying the proceeds of crime by its concealment or possession or acquisition or use or projecting it as untainted property or claiming it as untainted property in any manner whatsoever]"

4. Punishment for money-laundering:- Whoever commits the offence of money-laundering shall be punishable with rigorous imprisonment for a terms which shall not be less than three years but which may extend to seven years and shall also be liable to fine Provided that where the proceeds of crime involve in money-laundering relates to any offence specified under paragraph 2 of Part A of the Schedule, the provisions of this section shall have effect as if for the words "which may extend to seven years", the words "which may extend to ten years" had been substituted."

37. In so far as the issue regarding consideration of an application for bail is concerned, the same is provided under Section 45 which reads as under:-

"45. Offences to be cognizable and non-bailable:- (1) [Notwithstanding anything contained in the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 (2 of 1974), no person accused of an offence [under this Act] shall be released on bail or on his own bond unless-}

(i) the Public Prosecutor has been given an opportunity to oppose the application for such release; and

(ii) where the Public Prosecutor opposes the application, the court is satisfied that there are reasonable grounds for believing that he is not guilty of such offence and that he is not likely to commit any offence while on bail.

Provided that a person who is under the age of sixteen years or is a woman or is sick or infirm [or is accused either on his own or along with other co-accused of money laundering a sum of less than one crore rupees], may be released on bail, if the special court so directs:

Provided further that the Special Court shall not take cognizance of any offence punishable under section 4 except upon a complaint in writing made by-

(i) the Director; or

(ii) any office of the Central Government or State Government authorised in writing in this behalf by the Central Government by a general or a special order made in this behalf by that Government.

[(1A) Notwithstanding anything contained in the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 (2 of 1974), or any other provision of this Act, no police officer shall investigate into an offence under this Act unless specifically authorised, by the Central Government by a general or special order, and, subject to such conditions as may be prescribed.]

(2) The limitation on granting of bail specified in sub-section (1) is in addition to the limitation under the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 (2 of 1974) or any other law for the time being in force on granting of bail.

[Explanation- For the removal of doubts, it is clarified that the expression "Offences to be cognizable and nonbailable" shall mean and shall be deemed to have always meant that all offences under this Act shall be cognizable offences and non-bailable offences notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 (2 of 1974), and accordingly the officers authorised under this Act are empowered to arrest an accused without warrant, subject to the fulfillment of conditions under Section 19 and subject to the conditions enshrined under this section.]”

38. Having taken a glance at the aforesaid statutory provisions it now will be worthwhile to notice certain decisions of the Apex Court on the issue of the offence of money laundering and the approach of courts while dealing with an application for bail.

39. The Apex Court in Rohit Tandon v. Directorate of Enforcement, (2018) 11 SCC 46 has held as under:-

"19. The sweep of Section 45 of the 2002 Act is no more res intergra. In a recent decision of this Court in Gautam Kundu v. Directorate of Enforcement (2015) 16 SCC 1, this Court has had an occasion to examine it in paras 28-30. It will be useful to advert to paras 28 to 30 of this decision which read thus : (SCC pp. 14-15)

"28. Before dealing with the application for bail on merit, it is to be considered whether the provisions of Section 45 of PML are binding on the High Court while considering the application for bail under Section 439 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. There is no doubt that PML deals with the offence of money laundering and Parliament has enacted this law as per commitment of the country to the United Nations General Assembly.

PML is a special statute enacted by Parliament for dealing with money laundering. Section 5 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 clearly lays down that the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure will not affect any special statute or any local law. In other words, the provisions of any special statute will prevail over the general provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure in case of any conflict.

29. Section 45 of PML starts with a non obstante clause which indicates that the provisions laid down in Section 45 of PML will have overriding effect on the general provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure in case of conflict between them. Section 45 of PML imposes the following two conditions for grant of bail to any person accused of an offence punishable for a term of imprisonment of more than three years under Part A of the Schedule of PML:

(i) That the prosecutor must be given an opportunity to oppose the application for bail; and

(ii) That the court must be satisfied that there are reasonable grounds for believing that the accused person is not guilty of such offence and that he is not likely to commit any offence while on bail.

30. The conditions specified under Section 45 of PML are mandatory and needs to be complied with, which is further strengthened by the provisions of Section 65 and also Section 71 of PML. Section 65 requires that the provisions of CrPC shall apply insofar as they are not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act and Section 71 provides that the provisions of PML shall have overriding effect notwithstanding anything inconsistent therewith contained in any other law for the time being in force. PML has an overriding effect and the provisions of CrPC would apply only if they are not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act. Therefore, the conditions enumerated in Section 45 of PML will have to be complied with even in respect of an application for bail made under Section 439 CrPC. That coupled with the provisions of Section 24 provides that unless the contrary is proved, the authority or the Court shall presume that proceeds of crime are involved in money laundering and the burden to prove that the proceeds of crime are not involved, lies on the appellant.”

20. In para 34, this Court reiterated as follows : (Gautam Kundu case, SCC p. 16)

“34. ... We have noted that Section 45 of PML will have overriding effect on the general provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure in case of conflict between them. As mentioned earlier, Section 45 of PML imposes two conditions for grant of bail, specified under the said Act. We have not missed the proviso to Section 45 of the said Act which indicates that the legislature has carved out an exception for grant of bail by a Special Court when any person is under the age of 16 years or is a woman or is sick or infirm. Therefore, there is no doubt that the conditions laid down under Section 45-A of PML, would bind the High Court as the provisions of special law having overriding effect on the provisions of Section 439 of the Code of Criminal Procedure for grant of bail to any person accused of committing offence punishable under Section 4 of PML, even when the application for bail is considered under Section 439 of the Code of Criminal Procedure.”

The decisions of this Court in Subrata Chatteraj v. Union of India (2014) 8 SCC 768, Y.S. Jagan Mohan Reddy v. CBI (2013) 7 SCC 439 and Union of India

v. Hassan Ali Khan (2011) 10 SCC 235 have been noticed in the aforesaid decision.

21. The consistent view taken by this Court is that economic offences having deep-rooted conspiracies and involving huge loss of public funds need to be viewed seriously and considered as grave offences affecting the economy of the country as a whole and thereby posing serious threat to the financial health of the country. Further, when attempt is made to project the proceeds of crime as untainted money and also that the allegations may not ultimately be established, but having been made, the burden of proof that the monies were not the proceeds of crime and were not, therefore, tainted shifts on the accused persons under Section 24 of the 2002 Act.

22. It is not necessary to multiply the authorities on the sweep of Section 45 of the 2002 Act which, as aforementioned, is no more res integra. The decision in Ranjitsing Brahmajeetsing Sharma v. State of Maharashtra (2005) 5 SCC 294 and State of Maharashtra v. Vishwanath Maranna Shetty, (2012) 10 SCC 561, dealt with an analogous provision in the Maharashtra Control of Organised Crime Act, 1999. It has been expounded that the Court at the stage of considering the application for grant of bail, shall consider the question from the angle as to whether the accused was possessed of the requisite mens rea. The Court is not required to record a positive finding that the accused had not committed an offence under the Act. The Court ought to maintain a delicate balance between a judgment of acquittal and conviction and an order granting bail much before commencement of trial. The duty of the Court at this stage is not to weigh the evidence meticulously but to arrive at a finding on the basis of broad probabilities. Further, the Court is required to record a finding as to the possibility of the accused committing a crime which is an offence under the Act after grant of bail.

31. Suffice it to observe that the appellant has not succeeded in persuading us about the inapplicability of the threshold stipulation under Section 45 of the Act. In the facts of the present case, we are in agreement with the view taken by the Sessions Court and by the High Court. We have independently examined the materials relied upon by the prosecution and also noted the inexplicable silence or reluctance of the appellant in disclosing the source from where such huge value of demonetised currency and also new currency has been acquired by him. The prosecution is relying on statements of 26 witnesses/accused already recorded, out of which 7 were considered by the Delhi High Court. These statements are admissible in evidence, in view of Section 50 of the 2002 Act. The same makes out a formidable case about the involvement of the appellant in commission of a serious offence of money laundering. It is, therefore, not possible for us to record satisfaction that there are reasonable grounds for believing that the appellant is not guilty of such offence. Further, the courts below have justly adverted to the antecedents of the appellant for considering the prayer for bail and concluded that it is not possible to hold that the appellant is not likely to commit any offence ascribable to the 2002 Act while on bail. Since the threshold stipulation predicated in Section 45 has not been overcome, the question of considering the efficacy of other points urged by the appellant to persuade the Court to favour the appellant with the relief of regular bail will be of no avail. In other words, the fact that the investigation in the predicate offence instituted in terms of FIR No. 205/2016 or that the investigation qua the appellant in the complaint CC No. 700 of 2017 is completed; and that the proceeds of crime are already in possession of the investigating agency and provisional attachment order in relation thereto passed on 13-2-2017 has been confirmed; or that charge-sheet has been filed in FIR No. 205/2016 against the appellant without his arrest; that the appellant has been lodged in judicial custody since 2-1-2017 and has not been interrogated or examined by the Enforcement Directorate thereafter; all these will be of no consequence."

40. Similarly, the Apex Court in Nikesh Tarachand Shah v. Union of India, (2018) 11 SCC 1 has held as under:-

"11. Having heard the learned counsel for both sides, it is important to first understand what constitutes the offence of money laundering. Under Section 3 of the Act, the kind of persons responsible for money laundering is extremely wide. Words such as "whosoever", "directly or indirectly" and "attempts to indulge" would show that all persons who are even remotely involved in this offence are sought to be roped in. An important ingredient of the offence is that these persons must be knowingly or actually involved in any process or activity connected with proceeds of crime and "proceeds of crime" is defined under the Act, by Section 2(1)(u) thereof, to mean any property derived or obtained directly or indirectly, by any person as a result of criminal activity relating to a scheduled offence (which is referred to in our judgment as the predicate offence). Thus, whoever is involved as aforesaid, in a process or activity connected with "proceeds of crime" as defined, which would include concealing, possessing, acquiring or using such property, would be guilty of the offence, provided such persons also project or claim such property as untainted property. Section 3, therefore, contains all the aforesaid ingredients, and before somebody can be adjudged as guilty under the said provision, the said person must not only be involved in any process or activity connected with proceeds of crime, but must also project or claim it as being untainted property."

41. In Vijay Madanlal Choudhary v. Union of India, 2022 SCC OnLine SC 929 the Apex Court has held as under:-

"269. From the bare language of Section 3 of the 2002 Act, it is amply clear that the offence of money-laundering is an independent offence regarding the process or activity connected with the proceeds of crime which had been derived or obtained as a result of criminal activity relating to or in relation to a scheduled offence. The process or activity can be in any form — be it one of concealment, possession, acquisition, use of proceeds of crime as much as projecting it as untainted property or claiming it to be so. Thus, involvement in any one of such process or activity connected with the proceeds of crime would constitute offence of money-laundering. This offence otherwise has nothing to do with the criminal activity relating to a scheduled offence — except the proceeds of crime derived or obtained as a result of that crime.

295. As aforesaid, in this backdrop the amendment Act 2 of 2013 came into being. Considering the purport of the amended provisions and the experience of implementing/enforcement agencies, further changes became necessary to strengthen the mechanism regarding prevention of money-laundering.

It is not right in assuming that the attachment of property (provisional) under the second proviso, as amended, has no link with the scheduled offence. Inasmuch as Section 5(1) envisages that such an action can be initiated only on the basis of material in possession of the authorised officer indicative of any person being in possession of proceeds of crime. The precondition for being proceeds of crime is that the property has been derived or obtained, directly or indirectly, by any person as a result of criminal activity relating to a scheduled offence. The sweep of Section 5(1) is not limited to the accused named in the criminal activity relating to a scheduled offence. It would apply to any person (not necessarily being accused in the scheduled offence), if he is involved in any process or activity connected with the proceeds of crime. Such a person besides facing the consequence of provisional attachment order, may end up in being named as accused in the complaint to be filed by the authorised officer concerning offence under Section 3 of the 2002 Act.

387. Having said thus, we must now address the challenge to the twin conditions as applicable post amendment of 2018. That challenge will have to be tested on its own merits and not in reference to the reasons weighed with this Court in declaring the provision, (as it existed at the relevant time), applicable only to offences punishable for a term of imprisonment of more than three years under Part A of the Schedule to the 2002 Act. Now, the provision (Section 45) including twin conditions would apply to the offence(s) under the 2002 Act itself. The provision post 2018 amendment, is in the nature of no bail in relation to the offence of money-laundering unless the twin conditions are fulfilled. The twin conditions are that there are reasonable grounds for believing that the accused is not guilty of offence of money-laundering and that he is not likely to commit any offence while on bail. Considering the purposes and objects of the legislation in the form of 2002 Act and the background in which it had been enacted owing to the commitment made to the international bodies and on their recommendations, it is plainly clear that it is a special legislation to deal with the subject of money-laundering activities having transnational impact on the financial systems including sovereignty and integrity of the countries. This is not an ordinary offence. To deal with such serious offence, stringent measures are provided in the 2002 Act for prevention of money-laundering and combating menace of money-laundering, including for attachment and confiscation of proceeds of crime and to prosecute persons involved in the process or activity connected with the proceeds of crime. In view of the gravity of the fallout of money-laundering activities having transnational impact, a special procedural law for prevention and regulation, including to prosecute the person involved, has been enacted, grouping the offenders involved in the process or activity connected with the proceeds of crime as a separate class from ordinary criminals. The offence of money-laundering has been regarded as an aggravated form of crime “world over”. It is, therefore, a separate class of offence requiring effective and stringent measures to combat the menace of money-laundering.

400. It is important to note that the twin conditions provided under Section 45 of the 2002 Act, though restrict the right of the accused to grant of bail, but it cannot be said that the conditions provided under Section 45 impose absolute restraint on the grant of bail. The discretion vests in the Court which is not arbitrary or irrational but judicial, guided by the principles of law as provided under Section 45 of the 2002 Act. While dealing with a similar provision prescribing twin conditions in MCOCA, this Court in Ranjitsing Brahmajeetsing Sharma(2005) 5 SCC 294, held as under:

“44. The wording of Section 21(4), in our opinion, does not lead to the conclusion that the court must arrive at a positive finding that the applicant for bail has not committed an offence under the Act. If such a construction is placed, the court intending to grant bail must arrive at a finding that the applicant has not committed such an offence. In such an event, it will be impossible for the prosecution to obtain a judgment of conviction of the applicant. Such cannot be the intention of the legislature. Section 21(4) of MCOCA, therefore, must be construed reasonably. It must be so construed that the court is able to maintain a delicate balance between a judgment of acquittal and conviction and an order granting bail much before commencement of trial. Similarly, the Court will be required to record a finding as to the possibility of his committing a crime after grant of bail. However, such an offence in futuro must be an offence under the Act and not any other offence. Since it is difficult to predict the future conduct of an accused, the court must necessarily consider this aspect of the matter having regard to the antecedents of the accused, his propensities and the nature and manner in which he is alleged to have committed the offence.

45. It is, furthermore, trite that for the purpose of considering an application for grant of bail, although detailed reasons are not necessary to be assigned, the order granting bail must demonstrate application of mind at least in serious cases as to why the applicant has been granted or denied the privilege of bail.

46. The duty of the court at this stage is not to weigh the evidence meticulously but to arrive at a finding on the basis of broad probabilities. However, while dealing with a special statute like MCOCA having regard to the provisions contained in sub-section (4) of Section 21 of the Act, the court may have to probe into the matter deeper so as to enable it to arrive at a finding that the materials collected against the accused during the investigation may not justify a judgment of conviction. The findings recorded by the court while granting or refusing bail undoubtedly would be tentative in nature, which may not have any bearing on the merit of the case and the trial court would, thus, be free to decide the case on the basis of evidence adduced at the trial, without in any manner being prejudiced thereby”

401. We are in agreement with the observation made by the Court in Ranjitsing Brahmajeetsing Sharma. The Court while dealing with the application for grant of bail need not delve deep into the merits of the case and only a view of the Court based on available material on record is required. The Court will not weigh the evidence to find the guilt of the accused which is, of course, the work of Trial Court. The Court is only required to place its view based on probability on the basis of reasonable material collected during investigation and the said view will not be taken into consideration by the Trial Court in recording its finding of the guilt or acquittal during trial which is based on the evidence adduced during the trial. As explained by this Court in Nimmagadda Prasad(2013) 7 SCC 466 the words used in Section 45 of the 2002 Act are “reasonable grounds for believing” which means the Court has to see only if there is a genuine case against the accused and the prosecution is not required to prove the charge beyond reasonable doubt.”

42. Similarly, the Apex Court in Tarun Kumar v. Enforcement Directorate, 2023 SCC OnLine SC 1486 has held as under:-

“15. In our opinion, there is hardly any merit in the said submission of Mr. Luthra. In Rohit Tandon v. Directorate of Enforcement (2018) 11 SCC 46, a three Judge Bench has categorically observed that the statements of witnesses/accused are admissible in evidence in view of Section 50 of the said Act and such statements may make out a formidable case about the involvement of the accused in the commission of a serious offence of money laundering. Further, as held in Vijay Madanlal (supra), the offence of money laundering under Section 3 of the Act is an independent offence regarding the process or activity connected with the proceeds of crime which had been derived or obtained as a result of criminal activity relating to or in relation to a scheduled offence. The offence of money laundering is not dependent or linked to the date on which the scheduled offence or predicate offence has been committed. The relevant date is the date on which the person indulges in the process or activity connected with the proceeds of crime. Thus, the involvement of the person in any of the criminal activities like concealment, possession, acquisition, use of proceeds of crime as much as projecting it as untainted property or claiming it to be so, would constitute the offence of money laundering under Section 3 of the Act.

17. As well settled by now, the conditions specified under Section 45 are mandatory. They need to be complied with. The Court is required to be satisfied that there are reasonable grounds for believing that the accused is not guilty of such offence and he is not likely to commit any offence while on bail. It is needless to say that as per the statutory presumption permitted under Section 24 of the Act, the Court or the Authority is entitled to presume unless the contrary is proved, that in any proceedings relating to proceeds of crime under the Act, in the case of a person charged with the offence of money laundering under Section 3, such proceeds of crime are involved in money laundering. Such conditions enumerated in Section 45 of PML Act will have to be complied with even in respect of an application for bail made under Section 439 Cr. P.C. in view of the overriding effect given to the PML Act over the other law for the time being in force, under Section 71 of the PML Act.”

43. Again, the Apex Court in Pavana Dibbur v. Enforcement Directorate, 2023 SCC OnLine SC 1586 has held as under:-

“15. The condition precedent for the existence of proceeds of crime is the existence of a scheduled offence. On this aspect, it is necessary to refer to the decision of this Court in the case of Vijay Madanlal Choudhary. In paragraph 253 of the said decision, this Court held thus:

“253. Tersely put, it is only such property which is derived or obtained, directly or indirectly, as a result of criminal activity relating to a scheduled offence can be regarded as proceeds of crime. The authorities under the 2002 Act cannot resort to action against any person for money-laundering on an assumption that the property recovered by them must be proceeds of crime and that a scheduled offence has been committed, unless the same is registered with the jurisdictional police or pending inquiry by way of complaint before the competent forum. For, the expression “derived or obtained” is indicative of criminal activity relating to a scheduled offence already accomplished. Similarly, in the event the person named in the criminal activity relating to a scheduled offence is finally absolved by a Court of competent jurisdiction owing to an order of discharge, acquittal or because of quashing of the criminal case (scheduled offence) against him/her, there can be no action for money-laundering against such a person or person claiming through him in relation to the property linked to the stated scheduled offence. This interpretation alone can be countenanced on the basis of the provisions of the 2002 Act, in particular Section 2(1)(u) read with Section 3. Taking any other view would be rewriting of these provisions and disregarding the express language of definition clause “proceeds of crime”, as it obtains as of now.”

16. In paragraphs 269 and 270, this Court held thus:

“269. From the bare language of Section 3 of the 2002 Act, it is amply clear that the offence of money-laundering is an independent offence regarding the process or activity connected with the proceeds of crime which had been derived or obtained as a result of criminal activity relating to or in relation to a scheduled offence. The process or activity can be in any form — be it one of concealment, possession, acquisition, use of proceeds of crime as much as projecting it as untainted property or claiming it to be so. Thus, involvement in any one of such process or activity connected with the proceeds of crime would constitute offence of money-laundering. This offence otherwise has nothing to do with the criminal activity relating to a scheduled offence — except the proceeds of crime derived or obtained as a result of that crime.

270. Needless to mention that such process or activity can be indulged in only after the property is derived or obtained as a result of criminal activity (a scheduled offence). It would be an offence of money-laundering to indulge in or to assist or being party to the process or activity connected with the proceeds of crime; and such process or activity in a given fact situation may be a continuing offence, irrespective of the date and time of commission of the scheduled offence. In other words, the criminal activity may have been committed before the same had been notified as scheduled offence for the purpose of the 2002 Act, but if a person has indulged in or continues to indulge directly or indirectly in dealing with proceeds of crime, derived or obtained from such criminal activity even after it has been notified as scheduled offence, may be liable to be prosecuted for offence of money-laundering under the 2002 Act — for continuing to possess or conceal the proceeds of crime (fully or in part) or retaining possession thereof or uses it in trenches until fully exhausted. The offence of money-laundering is not dependent on or linked to the date on which the scheduled offence or if we may say so the predicate offence has been committed. The relevant date is the date on which the person indulges in the process or activity connected with such proceeds of crime. These ingredients are intrinsic in the original provision (Section 3, as amended until 2013 and were in force till 31.7.2019); and the same has been merely explained and clarified by way of Explanation vide Finance (No. 2) Act, 2019. Thus understood, inclusion of Clause (ii) in Explanation inserted in 2019 is of no consequence as it does not alter or enlarge the scope of Section 3 at all."

(underline supplied)

17. Coming back to Section 3 of the PML, on its plain reading, an offence under Section 3 can be committed after a scheduled offence is committed. For example, let us take the case of a person who is unconnected with the scheduled offence, knowingly assists the concealment of the proceeds of crime or knowingly assists the use of proceeds of crime. In that case, he can be held guilty of committing an offence under Section 3 of the PML. To give a concrete example, the offences under Sections 384 to 389 of the IPC relating to "extortion" are scheduled offences included in Paragraph 1 of the Schedule to the PML. An accused may commit a crime of extortion covered by Sections 384 to 389 of IPC and extort money. Subsequently, a person unconnected with the offence of extortion may assist the said accused in the concealment of the proceeds of extortion. In such a case, the person who assists the accused in the scheduled offence for concealing the proceeds of the crime of extortion can be guilty of the offence of money laundering. Therefore, it is not necessary that a person against whom the offence under Section 3 of the PML is alleged must have been shown as the accused in the scheduled offence. What is held in paragraph 270 of the decision of this Court in the case of Vijay Madanlal Choudhary supports the above conclusion. The conditions precedent for attracting the offence under Section 3 of the PML are that there must be a scheduled offence and that there must be proceeds of crime in relation to the scheduled offence as defined in clause (u) of sub-section (1) of Section 3 of the PML.

31. While we reject the first and second submissions canvassed by the learned senior counsel appearing for the appellant, the third submission must be upheld. Our conclusions are:

a. It is not necessary that a person against whom the offence under Section 3 of the PML is alleged, must have been shown as the accused in the scheduled offence;

b. Even if an accused shown in the complaint under the PML is not an accused in the scheduled offence, he will benefit from the acquittal of all the accused in the scheduled offence or discharge of all the accused in the scheduled offence. Similarly, he will get the benefit of the order of quashing the proceedings of the scheduled offence;

c. The first property cannot be said to have any connection with the proceeds of the crime as the acts constituting scheduled offence were committed after the property was acquired;

d. The issue of whether the appellant has used tainted money forming part of the proceeds of crime for acquiring the second property can be decided only at the time of trial; and

e. The offence punishable under Section 120-B of the IPC will become a scheduled offence only if the conspiracy alleged is of committing an offence which is specifically included in the Schedule."

44. The Court has heard the learned counsel for the parties at length and also perused the material on record.

45. As far as the alleged involvement of the present applicant is concerned if the documents on record are perused, it indicates that the applicant was appointed as an Assistant Teacher in the year 2009 and was promoted later and for her service she received a sum of Rs. 46,81,538/- as salary for the period 2009 to 2020.

46. An attempt has been made to indicate that the amount as shown by the prosecution as received by the applicant as proceeds of crime is nothing but hard earned money of the applicant. The said amount is said to be her saving from her part of salary which she invested as well as money she earned from the sale and purchase of agricultural and commercial land and also part of her income she derived from sale and purchase of cow milk and other dairy products and from agricultural income apart from the monetary help extended to her by her husband and children.

47. The record would further indicate that large number of documents were recovered from the premises/house of the applicant. The details of which have been mentioned in ECIR, Clause 3.4. The nature of the documents so recovered are certain FIRs lodged against the applicant relating to the year 2016. Documents indicating investments made in PIP Plan of Shine City Infra Project relating to Ajay Pal, Kuldeep Singh, Ram Awadh Yadav and the applicant herself.

48. Further, the documents recovered reveal the liabilities of Kuldeep Singh. Various cheques paid by Shine City Infra Projects Ltd. to Kuldeep Singh. Copy of investment made by Sri Ajay Pal, Kuldeep Singh, Ram Awadh Yadav, details of land holdings of Kuldeep Singh.

49. Several original sale deeds in the name of Kuldeep Singh, Santram son of Banwari, Nitish Singh Son of Virendra Singh and Kishor Kumar were recovered. About 12 original sale deeds in the name of Kuldeep Singh, 3 original sale deeds in the name of Santram, 4 original sale deeds relating to Kishore Kumar and 3 original sale deeds relating to Nitish Kumar (son of the present applicant) along with 2 sale deeds in favour of the present applicant were also recovered.

50. It could not be explained by the applicant as to why there large number of original sale deeds belonging to third parties were present at the residence of the applicant. Thus, in absence of any plausible reason, either the properties have been parked in names of third parties to create a smokescreen to evade it being traced to the applicant or the applicant has deep rooted connections to hold on to said documents for third parties for some ulterior gains.

51. The record further reflects that Kuldeep Singh in whose name, there were 12 sale deeds is none other than the Manager of Aryavrat Bank where the applicant has her account and is also the bank from where the applicant has taken loan. There are certain other documents indicating that Kuldeep Singh had paid some money to Richa Singh, the daughter of the applicant and he also transferred some money to the son of the applicant. Then there is transfer of a sum of Rs. 6,70,000/- from the account of Richa Singh, the daughter of the applicant. There are certain other payment receipts indicating that the applicant had some stake in project 'Royal Residency'. Certain E-payment receipts were also recovered indicating movements of fund from the applicant in respect of certain plots of Shine City Infra Project.

52. In this manner, it would be seen that there are several transactions between the applicant and Kuldeep Singh and the son and daughter of the applicant. There is no explanation regarding the aforesaid transactions as to why the Bank Manager of Aryavrat Bank would give money to the son and daughter of the applicant and why would he keep 12 original sale deeds relating to properties in his name at the residence of the applicant.

53. Merely to suggest that a sum of Rs. 16,00,000/- and odd has been shown as proceeds of crime and the applicant being a school teacher and later promoted to the post of Headmaster between the year 2009 to 2020 had the means to garner such amount which was in her account and it cannot be treated as an alarming figure.

54. However, at this stage, it will be relevant to notice that the prosecution has stated that the amount of 16 lakhs and odd as shown in the ECIR is a clerical error rather the sum total of the said amount in the ECIR comes to Rs. 36,93, 831/- and this assumes significance for the reason that as per the applicant her total salary received by her is about Rs. 46 lakhs and out of which she has Rs. 36,93, 831/- in her account in liquid cash and also 11 properties are alleged to be parked in her name and large number of sale deeds relating to various immovable properties in name of third parties were found from her custody, sharing of data including GPS locations of various other properties in control of the Companies of Shine City and chats with Rasheed Naseem and co-accused Abhishek Thakur prima facie indicates the involvement of the applicant.

55. The applicant could have easily indicated her source of income from agricultural activities if she could give details of the extent of her landholding but it has not been done. No details were given to show how much live stock she had from where she could substantially earn by the sale of milk and dairy products. She has not indicated what her husband, son and daughter were doing that their source of earnings to justify that they could offer funds to the applicant to be utilized by her for investments nor the details of investments has been given by her to prima facie ascertain the quantum of funds available and how and when such investments were made that it have grown into a handsome amount and that they were duly reflected in her income tax returns.

56. In absence of such material or explanation to justify the documents, data and amount found with the applicant such as third party sale deeds, plot buyer agreements, e-payment receipts which if seen in juxtaposition to the language of Section 3 of The PML Act of 2002 which provides that any act of a person engaged directly or indirectly being connected or associated with proceeds of crime or even being involved in concealing, possessing, acquisition or use or projecting as untainted property, all such acts falls within Section 3 of The PML Act of 2002.

57. Though, this Court is aware that at this stage, a mini trial is not to be held nor the Court is required to delve deep into the evidence to return a finding of guilt but what is required of the Court is to consider the matter before it and it must enable the Court to prima facie satisfy itself and form an opinion that the applicant is not guilty and that the applicant is not likely to commit any offence on bail and while forming such satisfaction, the Court is required to consider the nature and gravity of accusations, severity of punishment in the event of conviction, danger of the accused absconding or fleeing also the character, behaviour, means, position and standing of the accused and the likelihood of the offence being repeated, coupled with the reasonable apprehensions of the witnesses being influenced and danger of justice being defeated by grant of bail.

58. Thus, keeping the aforesaid in mind and considering the material before this Court, including the fact that Rasheed Naseem is absconding but the applicant has been in touch with him and also being in touch with other co-accused and this was while prosecution was searching for the Directors and the applicant was knowing their whereabouts but she never came forward to assist the prosecution and this also casts a doubt on the plea of the applicant that she too was a genuine investor and the alleged explanation on her part, rather absence of any cogent explanation of recovery of huge data, documents from her residence and money in her account which leads this Court at this stage to be unable to form a prima facie satisfaction as required in terms of Section 45 of The PML Act of 2002.

59. The plea that the applicant is a woman and she has been in custody since November, 2023 and the trial is not likely to conclude soon pales into insignificance at this stage since the main director with whom the applicant was in touch this fact does not bring her in the category of a vulnerable woman, coupled with the proportion of fraud committed as the number of FIR's spread across various States duping very large number of persons does not permit this Court to extend the benefit of the decision of the Apex Court in Kalvakuntla Kavitha (supra) and Manish Sisodia (supra) to the applicant at this stage.

60. Section 3 of The PML Act of 2002 not only takes into account a role of a person actively engaged in any process connected with the proceeds of crime but even if such person directly or indirectly is associated in the concealment, possession, acquisition or use or projecting as untainted property or claiming as untainted property, all such acts are covered under the offence of money laundering.

61. Thus taking an overall view including the gravity of offence including the fact that the witnesses of fact are yet to be examined also keeping in mind the dictum of the Apex Court in Pavana Dibbur (supra) and for all the reasons aforesaid, this Court is unable to persuade itself to form a, prima facie, satisfaction in terms of Section 45 of The PML Act of 2002, at this stage, that the applicant is not guilty or that she may not commit an offence on bail. Thus, for all the aforesaid reasons, the bail application is rejected.

43. However, it is also clarified that any observations made by this Court may not be taken as an expression of opinion on merits. The trial court is directed to expedite the trial to complete it as swiftly as possible and the prosecuting agency shall not seek any unnecessary adjournments on the ground of examination of witnesses.

1. This bunch of bail applications arises out of three first information reports, which are: (i) FIR /Case Crime No. 203 of 2023, dated 04.05.2023, under Sections 420, 467, 468, 471 IPC, Police Station Noida Sector-20, District Gautam Buddh Nagar (ii) FIR/Case Crime No. 248 of 2023, dated 01.06.2023, under Sections 420, 467, 468, 471 IPC, Police Station Noida Sector-20, District Gautam Buddh

Nagar, and (iii) FIR/Case Crime No. 255 of 2023, dated 08.06.2003, under Sections 420, 467, 468, 471 & 120B IPC, Noida Sector-20, District Gautam Buddh Nagar.

2. As per prosecution version in FIR/Case Crime No. 203/2023, dated 04.05.2023 under Sections 420, 467, 468, 471 IPC, Police Station Noida Sector-20, Gautam Buddh Nagar, the informant Saurabh Dwivedi is a journalist and works as an Editor of the Lallantop internet news portal and India Today Hindi Magazine. He came across two GST registrations viz. 03AUSPD7067N1Z3 and 27AUSPD7067N1ZT obtained in the State of Punjab and Maharashtra respectively w.e.f. 20.03.2023. These have been applied on informant's PAN AUSPD7067N (Exhibit 1) and bear his name, Saurabh Dwivedi as legal name of the business entity. The details of both the registrations from GST portal are enclosed as Exhibit 2 to the complaint. The registered address mentioned for the given two registrations are as under – (a) 03AUSPD7067N1Z3 having registered address as 787, Ground Floor, Railway Office, ATI Road, Ludhiana, Punjab, 141008, (b) 27AUSPD7067N1ZT having registered address as 172, Sau Alakatal Uttamrao Nikalaje Path, Solapur, Solapur, Maharashtra, 413003. These have not been obtained with his consensus and he is totally unaware of the person who applied for these registrations and whose contact details are updated in these GST registrations. It is also mentioned that the two registrations are already authenticated for Aadhaar verification whereas as on date no email ID and mobile number is linked with his Aadhaar. Copy of Aadhaar Card along with screenshot showing the absence of any email ID or mobile number in Aadhaar details is enclosed as Exhibit.

Further it has been learnt that similar registration has been applied in the UT of Delhi, however, the same got rejected by the GST authorities. The acknowledgement number generated after filing of GST registration application is AA070323054161Q. Hence, the FIR has been lodged.

3. As per prosecution version in FIR/Case Crime No. 248/2023, dated 01.06.2023 under Sections 420, 467, 468, 471 IPC, Police Station Noida Sector-20, Gautam Buddh Nagar, the informant – Sumit Yadav came to know about registration of fake firm, Yadav Traders, against his PAN Card No. AHFPX9874Q and the address is recorded as Ground Floor JL No. 219 Khatian No. 2275 dag no. 1835, Sahibganj Road, near Sahibganj, High School, Kharimala, Khagrabari Cooch behar West Bengal – 736101. Said Firm is got registered fallaciously against informant's PAN Card AHFPX9874Q. It has been registered illegally by some unknown miscreants. Informant has mentioned his permanent address as K-11 Gyan Sarowar Colony, Ramghat Road, Aligarh, and present address as J-41, Senior Citizen Society, Greater Noida. Thus, the FIR has been lodged.

4. As per prosecution version in FIR/Case Crime No. 255/2023, dated 08.06.2023 under Sections 420, 467, 468, 471, 120-B IPC, Police Station Noida Sector-20, Gautam Buddh Nagar, the informant - Arvind Kumar Yadav, on being known about arrest of some persons who illegally got GST registration using PAN Card of the persons, checked on GSTSEARCH.in and found that three fake GST Numbers detailed in the FIR bearing: (1) GST No. 24ABBP43323J12N, (2) GST No. 24ABBPY43323J2ZM and (3) GST

No. 06ABBPY3323J12L have been obtained by someone, whereas he or his family member never obtained any GST Number and has no concern with the firms. He has stated that his documents have been misused. Hence, the FIR has been lodged.

5. Learned counsel for the applicant while placing the fact in the case of Kanika Dhingra and Mayank Dhingra, submits that three first information reports have been lodged, for which investigation started and charge sheet was submitted against 8 accused persons on 29.08.2023. The applicants are neither named in the first information reports nor have been chargesheeted till 29.08.2023.

6. On 06.09.2023 CD Parcha No. 75 was forwarded, wherein the Investigating Officer has recorded that he has received information from DGGI Meerut, Zonal Unit, Ghaziabad regarding prosecution of Sanjay Dhingra conducted by DGGI, Meerut under the provisions of the GST Act, 2017. The Investigating Officer reduced into writing the complaint dated 04.08.2023 filed by DGGI, Meerut in the court of Special Chief Judicial Magistrate, Meerut bearing Case No. 1942 of 2023. In the said complaint it was alleged that M/s Good Health Industries Pvt. Ltd., the Company where husband of the applicant - Kanika Dhingra, works as a consultant, had transactions with M/s AKS Traders which in turn had transactions with M/s YOYO Traders.

7. Learned counsel for the applicants submits that the case-diary of Case Crime No. 203 of 2023 consists of 70 parchas, wherein investigation as conducted from 04.05.2023 to 29.08.2023 does not mention names of YOYO Traders and M/s AKS Traders. The same is situation in the case diary of Case Crime No. 248 of 2023, wherein investigation was conducted from 01.06.2023 to 29.08.2023 containing 63 parchas and also that in the case of Case Crime No. 255 of 2023, wherein 51 parchas were there, investigation has been conducted from 08.06.2023 to 29.08.2023.

8. It appears that taking a clue from the complaint of GST, the Investigating Officer has forwarded CD Parcha No. 59 wherein he records that M/s YOYO Traders passed on input tax credit to M/s AKS Traders and M/s AKS Traders passed on input tax credit to M/s Good Health Pvt. Ltd. It is for the first time in the entire case diary wherein names of M/s YOYO Traders and M/s AKS Traders have been included in the investigation and it has been alleged that M/s YOYO Traders had been registered using mobile phone having IMEI No. 862625043825695 which was allegedly shown to have been recovered from Deepak Murjani. Thus, it is evident that allegation of transactions made by M/s Good Health Pvt. Ltd. with M/s AKS Traders which in turn transacted to M/s YOYO Traders, has already been investigated by the DGGI, Meerut and charge sheet in form of complaint under CGST Act, 2017 has been submitted before the Special Chief Judicial Magistrate, Meerut. However, the same allegation has been pressed into CD Parcha No. 57 of the instant case.

9. It is also relevant to mention that Sanjay Dhingra, against whom complaint is there under CGST Act, 2017, has already been released on bail in the aforesaid case by an order dated 03.08.2023 passed in Criminal Misc. Bail Application No. 32951 of 2023, Sanjay Dhingra v. Union of India and another.

10. Thus, for the offence under the GST Act, where provisions of the CGST

Act are applicable, the proceedings have been drawn and Sanjay Dhingra had already been released on bail, for the said offence, Kanika Dhingra (wife of Sanjay Dhingra) and Mayank Dhingra (son of Sanjay Dhingra) cannot be prosecuted as there were some transactions between the companies of Sanjay Dhingra and Mayank Dhingra whereas only money has been transferred from the account of Mayank Dhingra to that of Kanika Dhingra.

11. It has also been submitted by learned counsel for the applicants that from CD Parcha No. 60 wherein Investigating Officer records statements of employees of M/s Good Health Pvt. Ltd., no such statement has come on behalf of the employees which suggests complicity of the applicants in the aforesaid case. The Investigating Officer further records that Rs. 16.35 crore have been transferred to Kanika Dhingra from M/s Radhey Krishna Marketing, which is the firm of son of Sanjay Dhingra. All transactions were through online mode i.e. bank to bank transactions and the amount has been returned / adjusted by the applicant as on 31.03.2024.

12. In CD Parcha No. 60, wherein statements of employees of M/s Good Health Pvt. Ltd., have been recorded, it has been alleged that Rs. 289.14 crores have been transferred from M/s Good Health Industries Pvt. Ltd. to M/s Radhey Krishna Marketing (firm of Mayank Dhingra). The aforesaid amount was paid by M/s Good Health to M/s Radhey Krishna Marketing against the supply of milk, which is an exempted item under GST, made by M/s Radhey Krishna Marketing which was in turn purchased by its own vendors. It is relevant to point out that payments made by applicant's (Mayank Dhingra's) firm to its vendors have already been demonstrated in the balance sheet annexed in bail application.

13. The Investigating Officer has recorded that Rs. 16.35 crore have been transferred to Kanika Dhingra from M/s Radhey Krishna Marketing, which is the firm of Mayank Dhingra, through on-line mode and Mayank Dhingra has received back the adjusted amount.

14. Except the aforesaid, there is no evidence against the applicant - Kanika Dhingra in the entire case diary constituting any offence of cheating anybody or forging/ manipulating any documents or hatching any conspiracy whatsoever. There being no evidence of cheating anybody or forging any document, the applicants are entitled to be released on bail.

15. The applicants have been arrested on 30.04.2024 without there being any credible evidence against them.

16. The Investigating Officer has falsely implicated the applicants in the present case, without there being any credible evidence against them. Neither any collusion of applicants was found with any of the fake firm nor disclosed any proof of forging or creating any such document. It is only money transaction from one account to another which has been taken into consideration for implicating the applicants in the present case. Other basis of implication is the SIM used in registration of M/s YOYO Traders which belongs to Deepak Murjani.

17. From the aforesaid facts, it cannot be said that the applicants can be charged of criminal conspiracy under Section 120-B IPC as there is no direct evidence to establish conspiracy and there being no agreement or connection with fake GST firms. In support of his submissions, learned counsel for the applicants has placed reliance on a judgement of the Supreme Court in the case of Maghavendra Pratap Singh @ Pankaj Singh v. State of Chhattisgarh¹.

18. Learned counsel for the applicant has elaborated his arguments submitting that in the counter affidavit State has come with Parcha Nos. 77, 78, 79 and 87. It says that the husband of Kanika Dhingra, namely, Sanjay Dhingra happens to be owner of M/s Good Health Industries Pvt. Ltd.² and son of Kanika Dhingra, namely, Mayank Dhingra is the owner of Radhey Krishna Marketing Pvt. Ltd.³ Certain amount has been transferred from Good Health to the firm of Kanika Dhingra's son, and from Radhey Krishna Marketing to the personal account of Kanika Dhingra.

19. He further submits that as on date no charge sheet has been submitted in the matter of the applicant. Learned Senior Counsel further argued that allegation is against Good Health. As per allegations, there are two companies, namely, YOYO Traders and AKS Traders which are mentioned in the charge sheet, which have been formed by the accused persons who have been chargesheeted in the first charge sheet. Allegation is that from these traders, transactions were made to Good Health. Statements of employees show that M/s Good Health was controlled by Sanjay Dhingra. Perusal of record shows that some complaints have been filed against the applicant under GST Act. This allegation has already been investigated by GST Department. He has drawn attention of the court to bail order dated 03.08.2023 passed in the case of Sanjay Dhingra i.e. Criminal

Misc. Bail Application No. 32951 of 2023,
Sanjay Dhingra v. Union of India and another.

20. Insofar as transfer of money is concerned, money came from the company of applicant's son. Sanjay Dhingra's Company has 5000 vendors. Money was deposited in Mayank Dhingra's Company because milk was transacted by his Company. Transaction reveals that son gave money to his mother, which has been returned to Mayank Dhingra's account.

21. Learned Senior Advocate argues that transfer of money from Radhey Krishna Marketing to Kanika Dhingra's account and returning it back does not amount to any offence.

22. Sri Manish Goel, learned Additional Advocate General assisted by Sri Amit Singh Chauhan, AGA-I, Sri Nitesh Srivastava, learned AGA and Sri Mayank Awasthi, learned Brief Holder, appearing for the State submits that nucleus of the entire issue is that there is a Press Reporter. He says that his PAN Card was misused and on the basis of his PAN Card two Firms were registered. Thus, offence under the provisions of IPC stands committed. On the basis of these fake firms, a transaction is being done with the Company, of which Sanjay Dhingra is a Director. Each and every transaction is separate set, for this they have to submit separate return. Applicants have committed offence of separate nature, so GST Rule will not apply, but it will not take them out of the offence that has been committed under Indian Penal Code, 18604.

23. Elaborating the points, learned Additional Advocate General has placed following arguments:

A. He submits, insofar as involvement of the applicants in the offence is concerned, that they formed a syndicate and their modus operandi configures four segments: (i) assignment of job of collection of SIM Cards and personal data of people that have been uploaded on the portal of Goods & Services Tax; (ii) to use personal data for creation of fake firms by uploading it on GST Portal; (iii) there will be one actual firm which will be working and money transaction will flow to this actual firm and the input tax credit will be availed; and (iv) distribution of monetary benefits amongst all. He has very strenuously argued that to divulge the involvement of the applicants, the dots are required to be joined to examine as to who has done it.

B. It is submitted by Mr. Goel that 2600 fake firms were found to be registered and the input tax credit availed with these 2600 firms was more than Rs. 40,00,00,00,000/- (Rupees Four Thousand Crore). In the present matter anticipatory bail application was filed by one of the co-accused persons and after due consideration the Court has rejected the said anticipatory bail application.

C. Learned Additional Advocate General has further contended that from the material as collected by the Investigating Officer including statements, as recorded, it is evident that it is a case where a number of SIM Cards have been utilized, therefore, it is a case where the entire family is involved and if the bail is granted to one person, it will perpetuate illegality.

D. The FIR was lodged by one Saurabh Dwivedi, who is a journalist and Editor of The Lallantop Internet News Portal, about unknown GST registrations applied on his PAN showing the addresses of Punjab and Maharashtra. The said GST registrations have been obtained without consensus. It has also been alleged that two registrations are already authenticated for Aadhaar verification whereas as on date no email ID or mobile number is linked with the Aadhaar.

E. Learned Additional Advocate General submits that the informant finds his name as a business entity. There are already two registrations for which he has never applied and there are two different addresses which have been shown. The informant in the FIR has emphatically stated that he never applied for such registrations and there is no consensus on his part. It is also stated that similar registration has been applied in the UT of Delhi, however, same has been rejected by the GST authorities.

F. Mr. Goel submits that the argument with regard to applicability of the provisions of GST Act, the informant levelled allegations of misusing his Aadhaar and PAN Cards for GST registration, thus, FIR has rightly been lodged under the relevant Sections 420, 467, 468, 471 IPC.

G. With regard to arguments of learned counsel for the applicants that once chargesheet has been submitted in economic offence, the person should be released, learned AAG contends that each economic offence has distinct parameter while consideration of bail, which can be summarized in three counts: (i) Gravity of Economic Offence, (ii) Impact, if the person is released on bail or the person is detained, and (iii) Interest of the Nation. It is argued that economic offence is not possible at the hands of one person and the present case is an organized crime where crores of government money has been siphoned by registration of fake firms in which all applicants are connected in one or the other way.

H. With respect to consideration of bail in offences related to GST, learned AAG has placed reliance on various judgements of the Apex Court in the cases of Yogesh Jagish Kanodia v. State of Maharashtra and another,⁵ Ajay Khanna v. State Tax Anti Evasion Bureau, Jabalpur (M.P.),⁶ Rajesh Jindal v. Commissioner of Central Tax GST, Delhi (West),⁷ Jagdish Kanani v. Commissioner of CGST & Central Excise, Indore,⁸ Ranjeet @ Ranjeet Singh v. Union of India.⁹

24. As argued by Mr. Amit Singh Chauhan, learned AGA-I and Sri Mayank Awasthi, learned Brief Holder, for the State, the following material has been collected to show the involvement of the applicants in the present case:

(i) C.D. Parcha No. 2 bears details of Mobile No. 8800966916 which was used to register the GST firms mentioned in the FIR, its CDR17/ CAF18 reports were obtained from Surveillance Cell.

(ii) CDR/ CAF reports were received which reveal that accused's location is of Pitampura Delhi, said information forms part of C.D. Parcha No. 4, whereafter informer as per CD Parcha No. 5 disclosed the names of Deepak Murjhani and Yaseen Sheikh found to have been involved in the crime.

(iii) CD-Parcha No. 7 says that on the aforesaid information, police arrested Ashwani Pandey and Yaseen Sheikh along with the recovery of incriminating materials i.e. SIM Cards of different companies, laptops, Aadhaar Cards, PAN Cards. On being checked the laptop, a master file contained in folder at the desktop, names of 1891 GST firms in various names were found, and in another master sheet contained in a separate folder there were details of 680 GST firms. In the said sheet, name of firms mentioned in the FIR were also found. On the pointing out of Ashwani Pandey and Yaseen Sheikh, the investigating team reached at Madhu Vihar office, where accused Deepak Murjhani, Akash Saini, Vishal Singh, Atul Sengar, Rajiv, Vineet were found and arrested along with huge amount of money and documents relating to fake GST firms. Copy of recovery memo was duly received by the accused persons putting their signatures thereon. The arrested accused persons, in their confessional statements, disclosed names of Anchit Goyal, Pradeep Goyal, Archit Goyal, Mayur alias Mani Nagpal, Charu Nagpal and Deepak Singhal. Consequently, Section 120B IPC was added.

(iv) C.D. Parcha No. 11 shows supplementary statement of accused persons in judicial custody, who said to assist in recovery of incriminating articles from concerned place and persons.

(v) C.D. Parcha No. 14 contains majid-statement of Yaseen Sheikh, Rajiv Jindal and Deepak Murjhani, who disclosed names of Rajiv Maheshwari and Rahul Gupta. In the same parcha the aforesaid accused persons including accused Ashwani Pandey, Vishal and Akash, all of them disclosed the complicity of Rajiv Maheshwari, Rahul Gupta, Gaurav Singhal and Gurmeet Singh Batra alias Sahil and confessed that they used to generate fake GST bills/ invoices in the names of registered fake firms on the basis of fake SIM and IDs.

(vi) C.D. Parcha No. 15 shows that at the instance and pointing out of Deepak Murjhani, Ashwani Pandey and Yaseen Sheikh, arrest of Gaurav Singhal and Gurmeet Singh Batra was effected on 10.06.2023 from the residence of Gaurav, i.e., House No. 2/214, Sector-16, Rohini, Delhi, along with huge recovery of incriminating articles. Whereafter, the investigating team reached at Gautam Buddh Nagar along with accused taken in police custody remand alongwith arrested accused persons Gurmeet Singh Batra and Gaurav Singhal, from where accused Rahul Gupta and Rajiv Maheshwari were arrested with several SIMs and other incriminating material and the recovery memo was handed over with consent to Rajiv.

(l) C.D. Parcha No.167 (23.06.2024) details about the arrest of Smt. Suganya Prabhu, her confessional statement was recorded which discloses the complicity in the present case.

(li) C.D. Parcha No.172 (27.06.2024) shows the arrest of accused Babar Khan and recovery of forged tax invoices and other incriminating material and thereafter confessional statement of the accused was recorded.

25. Learned counsel for the State submits that in relation to the accused person, namely, Sanjay Dhingra, Mayank Dhingra and Kanika Dhingra, chargesheet was submitted on 26.07.2024 under Sections 420, 467, 468, 471, 120-B IPC in respective case crime numbers.

26. Learned counsel for the State has argued that the complicity of accused Sanjay Dhingra along with applicants Mayank Dhingra and Kanika Dhingra was unravelled by complete chain of evidence and the name of firms AKS Traders and YOYO Traders were disclosed which were connected with the firm M/s Good Health Industries Private Limited, which was ultimately involved in the entire scam.

These firms, namely, AKS Traders and YOYO Traders, during investigation, were found to be non-existing and fake as they were registered by procuring fake and fabricated documents by the applicants along with other accused persons. On being asked, Ramkumar and Rajni Kumar who were found at the addresses of said firms, they stated that no such firm in the aforesaid names is being operated by them and their documents have been misused and a written complaint along with aadhaar and electricity bill were given to the Investigating Officer.

27. It has also been argued that the mobile phones which were used in the registration of firms YOYO Traders and AKS Traders were used in mobile phone having IMEI No. 862625043825695. The same mobile having the said IMEI was recovered from accused Deepak Murjani who was initially arrested.

28. During investigation it was found that M/s Good Health Pvt. Ltd. was having Directors Sukhveer Singh Yadav and Rajesh Kumar Jha. These persons could not be traced out and it was found that they were dummy directors for the purpose of committing the offence and further during investigation when the statements of employees of the company were recorded they disclosed that they have never seen the said Directors but they used to report only to accused Sanjay Dhingra (husband of applicant-Kanika Dhingra and father of applicant-Mayank Dhingra), and he is said to be the chief controller of the company M/s Good Health Pvt. Ltd. as such complicity of the Director of the Company and that of the applicants was also found in the commission of said offence.

29. Further it was found that accused - Mayank Dhingra is the proprietor of M/s Radhey Krishna Marketing, in whose account a hefty transaction of crores of rupees was found to be made in a very short span from M/s Good Health Pvt. Ltd., and thereafter, from M/s Radhey Krishna Marketing to the saving bank accounts of applicants – Kanika Dhingra and Mayank Dhingra. It was found that there were 71 consecutive transactions in the account of applicant – Mayank Dhingra and 168 times in the account of applicant – Kanika Dhingra. The said transactions were of about Rs. 300 crores. These cumulative facts reveal that the applicants were involved in hatching up entire conspiracy for gaining wrong financial benefits along with other accused persons, and it has not been appropriately replied by the accused persons.

30. While assisting the Court, Mr. Rishi Kumar, learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel submits that the present case begins with lodging of FIR by Saurabh Dwivedi, wherein allegations for fake GST registration applied in his name with PAN No. AUSPD7067N by anonymous person and got two GST firms registered, thus, the entire case begins with fake GST registration using PAN Card and Aadhaar Card of the informant. During the investigation it was found that larger nexus works for having benefit of input tax credit. The offence has been committed in an organized and synchronized manner, wherein fake and bogus invoices have been created to cover the money trail and goods supply as well as money transactions are there with forged firms. Establishing the entire chain, the accused persons have been found connected with each other and in one or the other way they have been benefited by fake GST registration shown by using PAN Card and Aadhaar Card of the informant.

31. The backbone of goods and services regime is input tax credit. Under the GST regime, ITC follows supply chain not only intrastate but also interstate supply.

32. It has been established through investigation that crime has been committed by the accused persons by making fraudulent firm by using PAN Card and Aadhaar Card, Mobile Number for creating fake firms and through fake invoices, they breached supply chain of ITC and got benefit through fake gains which have been created by them. Thus, in so many words, the said case is started with registration of fake firms using PAN Card and Aadhaar Card of the informant for consequential benefits of claiming ITC. Thus, it cannot be said that the proceedings have to be initiated against the applicants under the special Act i.e. Goods and Services Tax Act, where the proper procedure has been laid down and FIR could not have been registered.

33. The next finding in the case of recovery and use of fake PAN Cards has to be understood by analysing the purpose of issuing a PAN Card. The PAN card is issued to keep a track of financial activity of a person and a PAN is integral for all forms of payments. A PAN Card number is located to a needful and contains information such as Aadhaar number, date of birth and address. Similar is the use of Aadhaar Card which is now linked with the account of individual in favour of whom it has been issued. The PAN Card contains details of Aadhaar also. The PAN Card can be used for availing utility connections like electricity, telephone, LPG and internet. Under GST, a registered taxable person is required to issue an invoice containing all relevant information, such as the GSTIN, tax divergence and so on. If a taxpayer issues an invoice that is missing critical information, the invoice may be considered a fake GST invoice. Thus, by forging fake GST number using PAN Card of the informant fake GST invoices have been created for financial benefit, thus, the very basis of the present case is forgery done by the accused persons, on the basis of which financial gains in terms of ITC have been availed by them.

34. The learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel, in order to show how use of PAN Card in such a manner, is detrimental not only to the interest of the person whose PAN Card has been used but is also detrimental in national interest, has relied upon a judgement of Bombay High Court in the case of UTI Infrastructure Technology and Services Limited v. Extra Tech World and Ors.²⁰, wherein the Court has observed thus:

“It cannot be in dispute that the PAN system is of paramount importance on a national scale due to its multifaceted impact on governance, taxation, and financial integrity, and it can be said to be the cornerstone of a robust financial economic system. PAN related services are pivotal in fostering fiscal discipline and ensuring a transparent and accountable economic framework, as apart from being a unique identifier for individuals and entitles, it also aim at streamlining the tax recovery and payment process. Government of India has made it mandatory for PAN card holders to link the same to Aadhar Card, which is an acceptable proof of identification in India, and therefore, any potential misuse of the licence/ authorisation to issue PAN cards, would be highly detrimental not only to the interest.”

35. Thus, the offence in the present case is affecting the interest of public at large.

36. I have considered the submissions advanced by learned counsel for the parties and perused the record.

37. The main argument of learned counsel for the applicant is with respect to there being no direct evidence of being in any way connected with the fake GST firms and even if it is presumed that there were any transaction of the applicants with Company of Sanjay Dhingra, he has already been released on bail, this Court feels that unknowing involvement in such transactions which are fraudulent in nature, which benefitted them and has aided in concealing the money trail in the commission of offence, the same was subject to investigation, where after collecting evidence, charge sheet has been submitted.

38. Learned counsel for the applicants, in order to prove innocence of Kanika Dhingra, has submitted that transaction of money in her account from her son's account would not hold her guilty of participating in the crime in criminal offence. This Court is of the opinion that if the relatives, mother and son in the present case, are knowingly benefitted from money/ transactions even without directly participating in the crime, they shall stand implicated in the legal proceedings as offence against them is made out. This Court has found from the case diary, portion of which has been placed above, that the mother and son have personally gained from the illegal funds, thus, it cannot be said that as they are not directly involved in registration of fake firms, they are not guilty. In these transactions, suspicious financial activity, especially a large sum of money has been deposited in the account of Kanika Dhingra unexpectedly. Such financial activity has to be reported and failure to report deposition of huge amount of funds is an activity which might lead to legal consequence even if the person concerned being relative was not actively involved in fraud.

39. Nowadays, money laundering has become a frequent feature and if there is evidence that the recipient attempted to conceal source of funds or participated in transferring the money in ways that suggests intentional wrong doing, thus, create circumstantial evidence as in the present case to hold them involved in the criminal activity.

40. In the facts of the present case, the involvement, knowledge and actions following the deposit determines that the applicants were well connected with Sanjay Dhingra in respect of transactions which he had with GST firms which were registered by using PAN Card and Aadhaar Card of the informant.

41. As regards the submissions regarding no credible evidence that the applicants have conspired, planned or plotted, in any manner, with Sanjay Dhingra or any of the fake firms, this Court has found from case diary, as placed above, that the SIM which has been used by accused Deepak Murjani in whose name M/s YOYO Traders is registered, and the same has been done with intention of achieving some gain, thus, it is an organized crime where the money trail is involved.

42. Money trail/ financial transaction and the records that have been traced to track the flow of funds, detect illegal activity which can be analyzed from the bank account of the applicants wherein it is not clear as to from where such huge amount of money came into accounts of the alleged accused persons and have been deposited in other accounts. The Investigating Officer has, while submitting the charge sheet, found unusual and unexplained transactions which indicate some illegal activity as showing involvement of the applicants in the criminal offence.

43. It is also clear that the illegal profits as made by the fake GST firms registered on the basis of PAN and Aadhaar Cards of the informant, were made to appear legitimate by moving money / funds to the Bank accounts of others, may be company or firm or relatives' accounts.

44. The intention of all the accused of having transactions with fake GST firms, was for claiming input tax credit. For the purposes, fake invoices are created for purchase of goods, a group of firms engaged in fictitious transactions and no actual goods or services are exchanged but ITC is claimed multiple times.

45. Fraudsters, like all the alleged accused in the present case set up companies only on paper to generate fake transactions and claim ITC. Such companies are abandoned or shutdown after a short period.

46. GST Department has blown a whistle to report the fraudulent activities like fake invoicing or ITC theft, thus, giving opportunity to the Investigating Agency to trace the conspiracy as planned which was the outcome of fake GST firm registered on the basis of Aadhaar and PAN cards of others as in the present case.

47. As regards the bail being granted to Sanjay Dhingra, the same is for an offence under the GST Act, which has no relevance in facts of the present case as the same involves offences under IPC.

48. The principal of "bail is the rule, jail is the exception" is a fundamental concept in criminal law, where the criminal justice system recognizes the importance of personal liberty and the presumption of innocence until proven guilty. This principal emphasizes that an accused should ordinarily be granted bail unless there are compelling reasons to detain him in custody. But there are exceptions to the aforesaid principal. While, the general rule favours granting bail, there are several exceptions where courts may deny bail due to specific circumstances. These exceptions are based on factors that indicate a potential risk to society, the judicial process, or the investigation. Some points that should be kept in mind while granting bail are; the nature and gravity of the offence, likelihood of flight risk, risk of tampering with the evidence of witnesses, repeated offenders or habitual criminals, danger to society or the victim, possibility of committing another offence while on bail, interference with justice, specific statutory provisions like the Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances Act, 1985, Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act (UAPA) and the Prevention of Money Laundering Act, 2002 (PMLA), lastly economic offence and white collar crimes.

49. The present case relates to economic offences. Such offence like large scale fraud, money laundering and corruption, are often viewed seriously because they affect the economic fabric of the society. The Courts may deny bail in such cases especially if the accused holds a position of influence or power. In the present case, money trail of crores, which affects the society at large scale, is involved which started from registration of fake firms by using Aadhaar and PAN Cards of the informant who had not applied for such registration.

50. The Apex Court in the case of Manish Sisodia v. Central Bureau of Investigation, 2023 SCC OnLine SC 1393, has discussed about the constitutional mandate which is higher law and accordingly it is the basic right of person charged of offence and not convicted be ensured and given a speedy trial, thus, where the trial is not proceeding for the reasons not attributed to the accused, the Court unless there are good reasons may well be guided by exercising power to grant bail. This would be true, the trial would take years.

51. As discussed while rejecting bail of other accused persons in Criminal Misc. Bail Application No. 53010 of 2023, Rajiv Jindal v. State of U.P., and connected bail applications, from the report of the concerned District Judge/ Chief Judicial Magistrate, it is clear that the co-accused have avoided coming to the court and discharge application of one of the accused has been rejected. One or the other grounds are being taken by the accused persons in getting the matter adjourned so that the charge is not framed, therefore, they are trying to cause deliberate delay so that the charges may not be framed, hence, interfering in judicial process, thus, giving ample reason of not enlarging them on bail.

52. From the report also it is clear that the discharge application of one of the accused has been rejected and it shows that the charges are proved and once on the basis of material collected chargesheet has been submitted, discharge is rejected, the case of bail is not made out in economic offence where money trail of crores has been found which is a result of registration of fake firms. Offence under the IPC is made out and such accused cannot be dealt with easy hands. The applicants are also chargesheeted hence to be dealt with the same rod. In the case of Y.S. Jagan Mohan Reddy v. Central Bureau of Investigation, (2013) 7 SCC 439, the Supreme Court has held thus:

“34. Economic offences constitute a class apart and need to be visited with a different approach in the matter of bail. The economic offences having deep-rooted conspiracies and involving huge loss of public funds need to be viewed seriously and considered as grave offences affecting the economy of the country as a whole and thereby posing serious threat to the financial health of the country.

35. While granting bail, the court has to keep in mind the nature of accusations, the nature of evidence in support thereof, the severity of the punishment which conviction will entail, the character of the accused, circumstances which are peculiar to the accused, reasonable possibility of securing the presence of the accused at the trial, reasonable apprehension of the witnesses being tampered with, the larger interests of the public/State and other similar considerations.”

53. The Apex Court in the case of Nimmagadda Prasad v. Central Bureau of Investigation, (2013) 7 SCC 466 has formulated some important factors to be taken into consideration while considering bail applications.

Relevant paragraph of the said judgement is quoted herein below:

“24. While granting bail, the court has to keep in mind the nature of accusations, the nature of evidence in support thereof, the severity of the punishment which conviction will entail, the character of the accused, circumstances which are peculiar to the accused, reasonable possibility of securing the presence of the accused at the trial, reasonable apprehension of the witnesses being tampered with, the larger interests of the public/State and other similar considerations. It has also to be kept in mind that for the purpose of granting bail, the legislature has used the words “reasonable grounds for believing” instead of “the evidence” which means the court dealing with the grant of bail can only satisfy itself as to whether there is a genuine case against the accused and that the prosecution will be able to produce prima facie evidence in support of the charge. It is not expected, at this stage, to have the evidence establishing the guilt of the accused beyond reasonable doubt.”

54. Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Directorate of Enforcement v. M. Gopal Reddy and another, 2022 SCC OnLine SC 1862 has held that in the economic offences which are having great impact on the society, the court must be slow in exercising discretion under Section 438 of Cr.P.C.

55. Insofar as the argument of learned counsel for the applicants that the cases where the accused are females, they are entitled to be released on bail giving benefit of Section 437 Cr.P.C., the court is of the opinion that the benefit can be given to women who do not have agency and not who themselves are powerful or connected with such powerful persons and the offence is such which is affecting the public at large.

56. In the case of Tahir Hussain v. The Assistant Director Enforcement Directorate²¹, the Court has observed that the accused Tahir Hussain was involved in the acts of cheating/ falsification/ forgery of documents which resulted in fraudulent removal of money from the accounts of the three companies (M/s SEAPL, ECPL and EG SPL). On the directions and instructions of Tahir Hussain, huge amount of money was withdrawn from the accounts of the said three companies by way of transfer of funds to entry operators and bogus companies. Tahir Hussain was ultimate beneficiary of the laundered money which he used for fulfilment of ulterior motives. Fake and bogus invoices were created to cover the money trail.

57. The same situation is there in the facts of this case where the crime has started with registration of fake GST firms by using Aadhaar and PAN Card of the informant which amounts to forgery, therefore, offence under the relevant sections is made out and these offences have been properly investigated by the Investigating Officer after lodging of FIRs. The evidences have been collected from the GST Department also.

58. While considering an appeal against the bail cancellation order, the Apex Court in the case of Gurcharan Singh v. State (Delhi Administration)²², has held that there cannot be an inexorable formula in the matter of granting bail. Paragraph-29 of the said judgement is thus:

“29. We may repeat the two paramount considerations, viz. likelihood of the accused fleeing from justice and his tampering with prosecution evidence relate to ensuring a fair trial of the case in a Court of Justice. It is essential that due and proper weight should be bestowed on these two factors apart from others. There cannot be an inexorable formula in the matter of granting bail. The facts and circumstances of each case will govern the exercise of judicial discretion in granting or cancelling bail.”

59. The Apex Court in the case of Prahlad Singh Bhati v. NCT, Delhi and another²³, has held that while granting bail, the court has to keep in mind nature of accusations, nature of evidence in support thereof, severity of punishment which conviction will entail, the character, behaviour, means and standing of the accused, circumstances which are peculiar to the accused, reasonable possibility of securing the presence of the accused at the trial, reasonable apprehension of the witnesses being tampered with, larger interest of the public or State and similar other considerations. Relevant paragraph no. 8 of the said judgement is reproduced hereunder:

“8. The jurisdiction to grant bail has to be exercised on the basis of well-settled principles having regard to the circumstances of each case and not in an arbitrary manner. While granting the bail, the court has to keep in mind the nature of accusations, the nature of evidence in support thereof, the severity of the punishment which conviction will entail, the character, behaviour, means and standing of the accused, circumstances which are peculiar to the accused, reasonable possibility of securing the presence of the accused at the trial, reasonable apprehension of the witnesses being tampered with, the larger interests of the public or State and similar other considerations. It has also to be kept in mind that for the purposes of granting the bail the legislature has used the words “reasonable grounds for believing” instead of “the evidence” which means the court dealing with the grant of bail can only satisfy it (sic itself) as to whether there is a genuine case against the accused and that the prosecution will be able to produce prima facie evidence in support of the charge. It is not expected, at this stage, to have the evidence establishing the guilt of the accused beyond reasonable doubt.”

60. Law on consideration of the Court to grant or refusal of bail has been settled by the Apex Court in a catena of decisions. In the case of Kalyan Chandra Sarkar v. Rajesh Ranjan²⁴, the Supreme Court has held that the court granting bail should exercise its discretion in a judicious manner and not as a matter of course. Paragraph-11 of the said judgement is being quoted below:

“11. The law in regard to grant or refusal of bail is very well settled. The court granting bail should exercise its discretion in a judicious manner and not as a matter of course. Though at the stage of granting bail a detailed examination of evidence and elaborate documentation of the merit of the case need not be undertaken, there is a need to indicate in such orders reasons for prima facie concluding why bail was being granted particularly where the accused is charged of having committed a serious offence. Any order devoid of such reasons would suffer from non-application of mind. It is also necessary for the court granting bail to consider among other circumstances, the following factors also before granting bail; they are:

(a) The nature of accusation and the severity of punishment in case of conviction and the nature of supporting evidence.

(b) Reasonable apprehension of tampering with the witness or apprehension of threat to the complainant.

(c) Prima facie satisfaction of the court in support of the charge. (See *Ram Govind Upadhyay v. Sudarshan Singh*²⁵ and *Puran v. Rambilas*²⁶).”

61. In the case of State of U.P. Through CBI v. Amarmani Tripathi²⁷, the Supreme Court has formulated eight points for consideration of bail application. It would be apposite to quote the relevant paragraph no. 18 of the said judgement:

“18. It is well settled that the matters to be considered in an application for bail are (i) whether there is any prima facie or reasonable ground to believe that the accused had committed the offence; (ii) nature and gravity of the charge; (iii) severity of the punishment in the event of conviction; (iv) danger of the accused absconding or fleeing, if released on bail; (v) character, behaviour, means, position and standing of the accused; (vi) likelihood of the offence being repeated; (vii) reasonable apprehension of the witnesses being tampered with; and (viii) danger, of course, of justice being thwarted by grant of bail. ...”

62. The Apex Court has, in the case of P. Chidambaram v. Directorate of Enforcement²⁸, held that precedent of another case alone will not be the basis for either grant or refusal of bail though it may have bearing on principle and the consideration will have to be on case-to-case basis on facts involved therein and securing the presence of the accused to stand trial. Paragraph-23 of the said judgement reads thus:

“23. Thus, from cumulative perusal of the judgments cited on either side including the one rendered by the Constitution Bench of this Court, it could be deduced that the basic jurisprudence relating to bail remains the same inasmuch as the grant of bail is the rule and refusal is the exception so as to ensure that the accused has the opportunity of securing fair trial. However, while considering the same the gravity of the offence is an aspect which is required to be kept in view by the Court. The gravity for the said purpose will have to be gathered from the facts and circumstances arising in each case. Keeping in view the consequences that would befall on the society in cases of financial irregularities, it has been held that even economic offences would fall under the category of “grave offence” and in such circumstance while considering the application for bail in such matters, the Court will have to deal with the same, being sensitive to the nature of allegation made against the accused. One of the circumstances to consider the gravity of the offence is also the term of sentence that is prescribed for the offence the accused is alleged to have committed. Such consideration with regard to the gravity of offence is a factor which is in addition to the triple test or the tripod test that would be normally applied. In that regard what is also to be kept in perspective is that even if the allegation is one of grave economic offence, it is not a rule that bail should be denied in every case since there is no such bar created in the relevant enactment passed by the legislature nor does the bail jurisprudence provide so. Therefore, the underlining conclusion is that irrespective of the nature and gravity of charge, the precedent of another case alone will not be the basis for either grant or refusal of bail though it may have a bearing on principle. But ultimately the consideration will have to be on case-to-case basis on the facts involved therein and securing the presence of the accused to stand trial.”

63. Recently the Apex Court in the case of Satendra Kumar Antil v. Central Bureau of Investigation and another²⁹, has outlined the considerations by the Court in the matter of grant or refusal of bail.

64. In the matter of other accused persons, this Court has rejected the bail applications vide judgement dated 31.08.2024 passed in Criminal Misc. Bail Application No. 53010 of 202330.

65. Having gone through the submissions of learned counsel for the parties, nature of accusation of offence, role of the applicants as well as reasons given in judgement passed in Bail Application No. 53010 of 2023, I do not find it a fit case for granting bail.

66. The bail applications preferred by the applicants - Kanika Dhingra and Mayank Dhingra are rejected.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Ajay Bhanot, J.)

1. Matter is taken up in the revised call.

2. Shri Paritosh Kumar Malviya, learned AGA-I for the State contends that the police authorities in compliance of the directions issued by this Court in Junaid Vs State of U.P. and another¹ and with a view to implement the provisions of POCSO Act, 2012 read with POCSO Rules, 2020, have served the bail application upon the victim/legal guardian as well as upon the CWC.

3. By means of this bail application, the applicant has prayed to be enlarged on bail in Session Trial No.103 of 2024 arising out of Case Crime No.492 of 2023 at Police Station-Kotwali Dehat, District-Etah under Sections 376, 506, 120B I.P.C. and Section 3/4 of the POCSO Act, 2012. The applicant is in jail since 17.12.2023.

4. The bail application of the applicant was rejected by the learned trial court on 23.08.2024.

5. The following arguments made by Shri Shashi Kumar Mishra, learned counsel on behalf of the applicant, which could not be satisfactorily refuted by Shri Paritosh Kumar Malviya, learned AGA-I from the record, entitle the applicant for grant of bail:

I. The victim was wrongly shown as a minor of 15 years in the F.I.R. only to falsely implicate the applicant under the stringent provisions of the POCSO Act and cause her imprisonment.

II. The age of the victim set out in the prosecution case is refuted in light of the judgement of this Court in Monish vs State of U.P. 2 and on the following grounds:

(i) There are material contradictions in the age of the victim as recorded in various prosecution documents.

(ii) The age of the victim was incorrectly got registered in the school records by the victim's parents to give her an advantage in life. There is no lawful basis for the age related entry of the victim in the school records. The school records disclosing her age as 15 years are unreliable.

(iii) The victim in her statement under Section 161 Cr.P.C. has stated that she is 15 years of age.

(iv) The medical report records the age of the victim as 13 years. The medical report has been drawn up in a mechanical manner and is bereft of all reasons. The scientific criteria and medical parameters on the basis of which the said age has been determined are not disclosed in the medical report. The said medical report is in the teeth of Section 27 of the POCSO Act read with Section 164A (2)(3) of the Cr.P.C.

(v) No medical examination in consonance with Section 27 of the POCSO Act read with Section 164A (2)(3) of the Cr.P.C. to determine the correct age of the victim as per the latest scientific criteria and medical protocol by competent doctors was got done and no such medical report was drawn up by the prosecution as it would establish the majority of the victim and falsify the prosecution case. The victim is in fact a major.

III. Delay in lodgement of the F.I.R. in the facts of this case is fatal to the prosecution case.

IV. The victim was intimate with the applicant. The couple had eloped together and got married.

V. Subsequently the victim and her husband became estranged. The victim returned her home after five months.

VI. False and aggravated allegations were made by the victim against the applicant only to deflect attention from her conduct.

VII. The victim was present at various public places but never raised an alarm nor did she resist the applicant. The conduct of the victim shows that she was a consenting party.

VIII. Medical evidence to corroborate commission of rape by the applicant with the victim has not been produced by the prosecution.

IX. The victim has not identified the applicant as the principal offender who committed rape with her.

X. The applicant does not have any criminal history apart from this case.

XI. The applicant is not a flight risk. The applicant being a law abiding citizen has always cooperated with the investigation and undertakes to join the trial proceedings. There is no possibility of the applicant influencing witnesses, tampering with the evidence or reoffending.

6. In the light of the preceding discussion and without making any observations on the merits of the case, the bail application is allowed.

7. Let the applicant-Dharmendra be released on bail in the aforesaid case crime number, on furnishing a personal bond and two sureties each in the like amount to the satisfaction of the court below. The following conditions be imposed in the interest of justice:-

(i) The applicant will not tamper with the evidence or influence any witness during the trial.

(ii) The applicant will appear before the trial court on the date fixed, unless personal presence is exempted.

8. The learned trial court is directed to fix the sureties after due application of mind in light of the judgement rendered by this Court in Arvind Singh v. State of U.P. Thru. Prin. Secy. Home Department.³

The learned trial court shall ensure that the right of bail of the applicant granted by this Court is not frustrated by arbitrary demands of sureties or onerous conditions which are unrelated to the socioeconomic status of the applicant.

9. The issue relating to determination of age of a victim in a bail under a POCSO Act offence has arisen in the instant case. The said issue will now be addressed. It is noteworthy that the same issue is constantly arising in bail applications under the POCSO Act offences.

10. The age of the victim in the POCSO Act offences has to be determined in light of the statutory provisions holding the field. Needless to add, only a prima facie determination of the age of a victim is made in a bail application of an accused under the POCSO Act.

11. It has been repeatedly noticed by this Court that the age of a victim is disputed by the accused in an overwhelming majority of cases. On many occasions there are no age related documents pertaining to the victim which are available with the prosecution. The age related documents are disputed with credibility by the accused persons in the other set of cases. At times there are material contradictions in the age of the victim in the prosecution documents. This has led to a widespread misuse of the POCSO Act.

12. The provisions which govern and regulate determination of age of victims of POCSO Act offences are as follows:

B. Section 27 of POCSO Act read with Section 164A(2)(3) of Cr.P.C.

13. The said statutory provisions have to be construed as a complete scheme. No part thereof can be made redundant by non consideration of the documents mentioned therein or failure to comply with the mandate of said provisions. The manner of an application of the said provisions in bail jurisdiction however has been the subject matter of various decisions of this Court.

14. This Court was faced with the issue of age determination of victims under the POCSO Act for the purposes of deciding the bail applications in Monish (supra). In Monish (supra) while examining the manner of applicability of Section 94 of Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection of Children) Act, 2015, it was held:

"93. In wake of the preceding narrative, the manner of consideration of age of a victim in a bail application under the POCSO Act shall be guided as follows:

I. The procedure for determination of a victim's age provided in Section 94 of the JJ Act, 2015 read with JJ Rules, 2016 shall not apply to bail applications, though the documents therein are liable to be considered. Age of victim as per procedure prescribed in Section 94 of the JJ 46 Act, 2015 is determined conclusively only in the trial.

II. The line of enquiry and relevant factors to assess the age of the victim in a bail application under the POCSO Act offences are these. The consideration of the age related documents mentioned in Section 94 of the JJ Act, 2015 i.e. school certificate (including matriculation), date of birth certificate issued by a local body, and medical report for age determination as produced by the prosecution is a good start point in the process.

III. The accused has a right to assail the veracity of the age of the victim as stated in the prosecution case.

IV. The court while deciding the said bail application is obligated to independently:

A. Examine the challenge laid to the victim's age by the accused applicant.

B. Evaluate credible doubts about the age of the victim.

V. The assessment of age in a bail order is of a tentative nature, and is based on probative value of documents which are yet to be proved or statements of witnesses who are still to be examined in court. Such determination by a court is not conclusive and is made only for the limited purpose for deciding the bail application.

VI. Same parameters shall apply to the bail applications filed at a different stages of trial. However, with each stage of the trial, the threshold of the satisfaction of the court may be raised in the facts and circumstances of the case. Heightened threshold of satisfaction means the duty of the court to give full weight to prosecution evidence, and due regard to the defence case while considering grant of bail.

VII. It is not advisable to lay down an inflexible or a straitjacket formula for grant of bail which will fit all cases. Practices and precedents in point are a reliable guide for the Court while exercising its judicial discretion in bail proceedings and a good defence against arbitrary decisions."

15. Apart from Section 94 of Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection of Children)

Act, 2015, there are other provisions also which deal with the determination of age of a victim in a POCSO Act offence. The said provisions are Section 27 of POCSO Act read with Section 164A (2)(3) of Cr.P.C. A faultline in police investigations which has repeatedly come to fore is the failure of the police and the medical authorities to comply with the provisions of Section 27 of POCSO Act read with Section 164A (2)(3) of Cr.P.C. It will be apposite to reproduce the said provisions to facilitate the discussion:

"Section 27 of the POCSO Act- Medical examination of a child.—

(1) The medical examination of a child in respect of whom any offence has been committed under this Act, shall, notwithstanding that a First Information Report or complaint has not been registered for the offences under this Act, be conducted in accordance with section 164A of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 (2 of 1973).

(2) In case the victim is a girl child, the medical examination shall be conducted by a woman doctor.

(3) The medical examination shall be conducted in the presence of the parent of the child or any other person in whom the child reposes trust or confidence.

(4) Where, in case the parent of the child or other person referred to in sub-section (3) cannot be present, for any reason, during the medical examination of the child, the medical examination shall be conducted in the presence of a woman nominated by the head of the medical institution.

Section 164A of CrPC- Medical examination of the victim of rape.-

(2) The registered medical practitioner, to whom such woman is sent, shall, without delay, examine her person and prepare a report of his examination giving the following particulars, namely:—

(i) the name and address of the woman and of the person by whom she was brought;

(ii) the age of the woman;

(iii) the description of material taken from the person of the woman for DNA profiling;

(iv) marks of injury, if any, on the person of the woman;

(v) general mental condition of the woman; and

(vi) other material particulars in reasonable detail.

(3) The report shall state precisely the reasons for each conclusion arrived at.”

16. The legislative mandate of Section 27 of the POCSO Act read with Section 164A (2)(3) of the Cr.P.C. is explicit and mandatory. The law enforcement authorities as well as competent medical authorities are enjoined to draw up the medical report pertaining to the age of the victim. (This is apart from other medical parameters). The same is of course subject to the consent of the victim. The age of the victim is a jurisdictional issue in the POCSO related offences. Thus, the determination of age under Section 27 of the POCSO Act read with Section 164A (2)(3) of the Cr.P.C. assumes critical importance and has jurisdictional significance. The said medical reports traceable to Section 27 of POCSO Act read with Section 164A (2)(3) of Cr.P.C. determining the age have to record the scientific criteria and the medical protocols on which the opinion regarding the age is based. The said medical reports are examined by the courts on the footing of the reasoning and the scientific tests/medical protocols adopted to make the finding on age.

17. The medical reports determining the age of the victim which are bereft of reasoning or made in breach of the existing scientific parameters and medical protocols are inconsistent with Section 27 of the POCSO Act read with Section 164A (2)(3) of the Cr.P.C. In the instant case the age column has been simply filled, and the reasons for the conclusion regarding age is absent. The report is invalid.

18. Reasons and description of the medical parameters or scientific criteria adopted to determine the age of the victim are the mandatory prerequisites of a valid medical report. The Court is noticing that in a number of cases the medical report mechanically records the age of the victim. The medical reports which do not give reasons in support of conclusions with respect to the victim's age are vitiated, being in contravention of Section 27 of the POCSO Act read with Section 164A (2)(3) of the Cr.P.C.

19. This Court handed down the directions to the police authorities in Aman @ Vansh vs State of U.P.⁴ to ensure strict compliance with Section 27 of POCSO Act read with Section 164A (2)(3) of Cr.P.C. The competent medical authorities of the State too are liable to implement the mandate of Section 27 of POCSO Act read with Section 164A (2)(3) of Cr.P.C. by giving reasoned medical reports for age determination of victims.

20. The statutory scheme of determination of age of the victims in POCSO Act offences is a composite one and involves an interplay of Section 94 of Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection of Children) Act, 2015 and also Section 27 of POCSO Act read with Section 164A(2)(3) of Cr.P.C.

21. As seen earlier the scope of Section 94 of the Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection of Children) Act, 2015 has been determined by various holdings of the Supreme Court and the High Courts. In particular, the nuanced applicability of Section 94 of Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection of Children) Act, 2015 in relation to the offences under the POCSO Act has been considered by this Court in Monish (supra) for the purposes of grant of bail of an accused.

22. The age of the victim in POCSO Act cases has to be determined in light of and upon holistic examination of the above said provisions, namely, Section 94 of Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection of children) Act, 2015 and Section 27 of POCSO Act read with Section 164A(2)(3) of Cr.P.C. The criteria and the documents referenced in all the aforesaid provisions are liable to be considered to determine the age of the victim while deciding the bail applications under the POCSO Act. The said statutory provisions mandate that the consideration of the age of the victim of a POCSO Act offence has to be made in a manner which implements the above said provisions in an integrated manner and neglects no provision.

23. The documents mentioned in Section 94 of Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection of children) Act, 2015 cannot be neglected from consideration. Similarly, the provisions of Section 27 of the POCSO Act read with Section 164A(2)(3) of the Cr.P.C. cannot be rendered otiose by non consideration of the medical report determining the age of the victim, or on account of failure to submit a reasoned medical report determination of age of the victims.

24. The Principal Secretary, Medical Health and Family Welfare, Uttar Pradesh and Director General, Medical and Health, Uttar Pradesh, shall ensure that the medical specialists who determine the age of the victims/medical reports under the POCSO Act are properly trained and the said medical reports are drawn up after giving reasons for the conclusions consistent with the mandate of Section 27 of the POCSO Act read with Section 164A (2)(3) of the Cr.P.C.

25. After composite consideration of the law in Monish (supra), Aman (supra) and the provisions of Section 27 of the POCSO Act read with Section 164A(2)(3) of the Cr.P.C., this Court in Anurudh⁵ issued appropriate directions. The directions in Anurudh (supra) are reiterated.

26. The Director General of Police, Government of U.P. Lucknow, Principal Secretary, Medical Health and Family Welfare, Uttar Pradesh and Director General, Medical and Health, Uttar Pradesh are directed to ensure compliance of the judgements rendered in Monish (supra), Aman (supra), Anurudh (supra) and the instant case.

Criminal Law - Indian Penal Code, 1860 - Sections 420, 467, 468 & 471 - Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 - Sections 100, 161, 167 & 177 - Indian Evidence Act, 1872 - Sections 3, 4, 25 & 27 - FIR was lodged by one journalist and editor - Allegations that fake GST registration applied in his name with PAN and Aadhaar Card by anonymous person and got two GST firms registered - The said GST registrations have been obtained without his knowledge and consensus - During investigation it was found that larger nexus works for having benefit of input tax credit - The offence has been committed in an organized and synchronized manner, wherein fake and bogus invoices have been created to cover money trail and goods supply, money transactions are there with forged firms. (Para 111)

Held, after registration of FIR, Investigating Officer arrested two accused who disclosed about office where work of firm was being done - Thereafter, Investigating Officer reached office premises, where he found other persons working for firm of arrested accused persons - Laptops, mobiles, SIM Cards, fake invoices were recovered - Therefore, contention by applicants regarding fact that confessional St.ments can be taken as a piece of evidence, has no relevance. (Para 126)

On ground of jurisdiction as contended by applicant, Court found that though registration of fake firms were at Punjab and Maharashtra, complainant was resident of New Delhi and FIR lodged at Gautam Buddha Nagar, genuineness of complaint questioning territorial jurisdiction cannot be raised on basis of occurrence as it was not at one place where GST firm was registered but its connections with other fake firms are also required to be seen. (Para 144)

Bail applications rejected. (E-13)

3. As per prosecution version in FIR/Case Crime No. 203/2023, dated 04.05.2023 under Sections 420, 467, 468, 471 IPC, Police Station Noida Sector-20, Gataum Buddh Nagar, the informant Saurabh Dwivedi is a journalist and works as an Editor of the Lallantop internet news portal and India Today Hindi Magazine. He came across two GST registrations viz. 03AUSPD7067N1Z3 and 27AUSPD7067N1ZT obtained in the State of Punjab and Maharashtra respectively w.e.f. 20.03.2023. These have been applied on informant's PAN AUSPD7067N (Exhibit 1) and bear his name, Saurabh Dwivedi as legal name of the business entity. The details of both the registrations obtained from GST portal are enclosed as Exhibit 2 to the complaint. The registered address mentioned for the given two registrations are as under – (a) 03AUSPD7067N1Z3 having registered address as 787, Ground Floor, Railway Office, ATI Road, Ludhiana, Punjab, 141008, (b) 27AUSPD7067N1ZT having registered address as 172, Sau Alakatal Uttamrao Nikalaje Path, Solapur, Solapur, Maharashtra, 413003. These have not been obtained with his consensus and he is totally unaware of the person who applied for these registrations and whose contact details are updated in these GST registrations. It is also mentioned that the two registrations are already authenticated for Aadhaar verification whereas as on date no email ID and mobile number is linked with his Aadhaar. Copy of Aadhaar Card along with screenshot showing the absence of any email ID or mobile number in Aadhaar details is enclosed as Exhibit. Further it has been learnt that similar registration has been applied in the UT of Delhi, however, the same got rejected by the GST authorities. The acknowledgement number generated after filing of GST registration application is AA070323054161Q. Hence, the FIR has been lodged.

4. As per prosecution version in FIR/Case Crime No. 248/2023, dated 01.06.2023 under Sections 420, 467, 468, 471 IPC, Police Station Noida Sector-20, Gataum Buddh Nagar, the informant – Sumit Yadav came to know about registration of fake firm, Yadav Traders, against his PAN Card No. AHFPX9874Q and the address is recorded as Ground Floor JL No. 219 Khatian No. 2275 dag no. 1835, Sahibganj Road, near Sahibganj, High School, Kharimala, Khagrabari Cooch behar West Bengal – 736101. Said Firm is got registered fallaciously against informant's PAN Card AHFPX9874Q. It has been registered illegally by some unknown miscreants. Informant has mentioned his permanent address as K-11 Gyan Sarowar Colony, Ramghat Road, Aligarh, and present address as J-41, Senior Citizen Society, Greater Noida. Thus, the FIR has been lodged.

5. As per prosecution version in FIR/Case Crime No. 255/2023, dated 08.06.2023 under Sections 420, 467, 468, 471, 120-B IPC, Police Station Noida Sector-20, Gataum Buddh Nagar, the informant - Arvind Kumar Yadav, on being known about arrest of some persons who illegally got GST registration using PAN Card of the persons, checked on GSTSEARCH.in and found that three fake GST Numbers detailed in the FIR bearing: (1) GST No. 24ABBP43323J12N, (2) GST No. 24ABBPY43323J2ZM and (3) GST No. 06ABBPY3323J12L have been obtained by someone, whereas he or his family member never obtained any GST Number and has no concern with the firms.

He has stated that his documents have been misused. Hence, the FIR has been lodged.

7. Sri Arvind Srivastava, learned counsel for the applicant submits that instant bail application being Criminal Misc. Bail Application No. 51920 of 2023 has been preferred by the applicant – Mahesh with a prayer to release him on bail in Case Crime No. 255 of 2023, under Sections 420, 467, 468, 471 and 120B IPC, Police Station Noida Sector-20, District Gautam Buddh Nagar.

8. As per prosecution story the informant on being searched on internet found that three fictitious firms have been formed with his PAN and three GST Numbers have been obtained, whereas the applicant neither got any such firm opened nor obtained any GST Number, thus he prayed for legal action against the accused who have manipulated and misused his documents and lodged the first information report on 08.06.2023.

9. Learned counsel for the applicant submits that the applicant is innocent and has been falsely implicated in the present case. He is not named in first information report¹. Placing forth the facts, learned counsel next submits that on 07.07.2023 when the applicant came back from Delhi after appearing in a competitive examination of IELTS, he along with his brother (deponent) were quizzed and exerted pressure to produce their father, however, on being asked the reason, the applicant was challaned on 09.07.2023.

10. To show the fair background of the applicant, it is stated that the applicant is a student of K.R. Mangalam University, Gurugram, State of Haryana, he is aged about 20 years and is a meritorious student. However, due to arrest he has missed his one semester. In paragraph-15 of the application, the applicant has averred that he is a heart patient and his bypass surgery has been done, for the said purpose he has been undergoing medical treatment at Narayan Hrudayalaya Super Speciality Clinic & Diagnostic Centre, Bangalore.

11. Learned counsel for the applicant contended that there is no evidence in the entire case diary against the applicant as nothing has been recovered from him to prove the offence against him. However, the chargesheet has been submitted on 03.10.2023 only the basis of alleged circumstantial evidence. It is argued on behalf of the applicant that prima face if no offence is made out against the applicant, he should not ordinarily be apprehended. Article 21 of the Constitution of India mandates that no person shall be deprived of his life or personal liberty except according to procedure established by law. The basic rule is to release him on bail unless there are circumstances suggesting the possibility of his fleeing from justice or thwarting the course of justice.

12. Learned counsel for the applicant contends that the complainant is resident of New Delhi whereas he has filed first information report in Gautam Buddha Nagar without there being any reason as to why the applicant came to Noida to lodge the FIR. He raises question over the genuineness of the complaint stating that the territorial jurisdiction is decided on the basis of place of occurrence. In support of his submission, learned counsel for the applicant has placed reliance on a judgement of the Supreme Court in the case of Dinesh Gupta v. State of Uttar Pradesh and another². Paragraph Nos. 24, 36 & 38 of the said judgement are quoted as under:

“24. The falsehood in the complaint, filed with reference to the addresses of the accused, was established at the time of filing of charge-sheet. Whereas in the FIR, the addresses of all the accused given were incomplete merely mentioning the address as ‘Sector 20, Gautam Buddha Nagar’, in the charge-sheet addresses of not only the appellants, namely, Rajesh Gupta and Dinesh Gupta, were found to be ‘D-393, New Friends Colony, New Delhi, even Sushil Gupta and Baljeet Singh were also found to be residents of New Delhi. ...

36. In view of the aforesaid discussion, we find that the FIR in question, if proceeded further, will result in absolute abuse of process of court. It is a clear case of malicious prosecution. Hence, the same is required to be quashed.

38. Before parting with the judgment, we are reminded of the opening remarks. The respondent Karan Gambhir having misused the legal system by lodging false and frivolous complaint with non-disclosure of necessary facts must bear its costs. The registration of FIR at Noida despite having registered offices of companies in question at Delhi shows a wishful forum shopping by the Complainant, casting serious doubts on their bona fides. The Complainant had already sought remedy against amalgamation order before the High Court and the High Court had dismissed the same. However, Complainant chose to again use judicial mechanisms to raise his grievances. A criminal complaint was filed and FIR was registered against appellants despite the commercial nature of dispute. Such ill intended acts of abuse of power and of legal machinery seriously affect the public trust in judicial functioning. Thus, we find ourselves constrained to impose cost on Complainant with a view to curb others from such acts leading to abuse of judicial remedies.”

13. It is also contended that neither FIR has been lodged at the concerned police station nor investigation has been done by it, thus, it is a malicious prosecution. To strengthen his argument, learned counsel for the applicant has referred two judgements of the Supreme Court in the cases of Manoj Kumar Sharma and others v. State of Chhattisgarh and another³. Relevant Paragraph Nos. 27 & 28 of the said judgement are thus:

“27. The territorial jurisdiction of a court with regard to a criminal offence would be decided on the basis of the place of occurrence of the incident. In the instant case, the suicide was committed at Ambala. Ambala Police closed the case after fulfilling the requirements of Section 174 of the Code holding that there was no foul play in the incident and also there was no requirement of lodging FIR under Section 154 as none of the family members of the deceased raised any suspicion over the death even though the death was committed within seven years of marriage. Also, there is no evidence of it being a continuing offence. Hence, the offence alleged cannot be said to have been committed wholly or partly within the local jurisdiction of the Magistrate's Court at Durg. Prima facie, none of the ingredients constituting the offence can be said to have occurred within the local jurisdiction of that Court.

28. In the case on hand, as per the materials on record, in Crime No. 194 of 2005, charge-sheet has been filed and the Judicial Magistrate First Class, Durg has taken cognizance of the proceedings. In the present fact situation, we are of the considered opinion that the court at Durg has no territorial jurisdiction to try the case and the proceedings are liable to be quashed on the ground of lack of territorial jurisdiction since the entire cause of action for the alleged offence had purportedly arisen in the city of Ambala.”

14. He further contends that no recovery has been made from the applicant's possession and the alleged recovery is fake and it does not make any case against the applicant.

15. Mr. Arvind Srivastava, learned counsel argued on behalf of the applicant – Rajiv Jindal in Criminal Misc. Bail Application Nos. 53010 of 2023, 53475 of 2023, 52966 of 2023; applicant – Mahesh in Criminal Misc. Bail Application Nos. 51907 of 2023, 51920 of 2023, 52254 of 2023, and applicant-Nand Kishore in Criminal Misc. Bail Application Nos. 53246 of 2023, 50362 of 2023 and 50510 of 2023.

16. Placing reliance upon a judgement of the Supreme Court in the case of Haricharan Kurmi and another v. State of Bihar⁴, learned counsel for the applicants has drawn attention of the Court to Paragraph-13 and argued that it has been held in the said judgement that Section 30 of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872⁵ provides that the court may take confession into consideration and thereby no doubt, makes it evidence on which the court may act; but the section does not say that the confession amounts to proof. Relevant excerpt of Paragraph-13 of said judgement is quoted herein below:

“13. ... Section 30, however, provides that the court may take the confession into consideration and thereby, no doubt, makes it evidence on which the court may act; but the section does not say that the confession is to amount to proof. Clearly there must be other evidence. The confession is only one element in the consideration of all the facts proved the case; it can be put into the scale and weighed with the other evidence”. It would be noticed that as a result of the provisions contained in Section 30, the confession has no doubt to be regarded as amounting to evidence in a general way, because whatever is considered by the court is evidence; circumstances which are considered by the court as well as probabilities do amount to evidence in that generic sense. Thus, though confession may be regarded as evidence in that generic sense because of the provisions of Section 30, the fact remains that it is not evidence as defined by Section 3 of the Act. The result, therefore, is that in dealing with a case against an accused person, the court cannot start with the confession of a co-accused person; it must begin with other evidence adduced by the prosecution and after it has formed its opinion with regard to the quality and effect of the said evidence, then it is permissible to turn to the confession in order to receive assurance to the conclusion of guilt which the judicial mind is about to reach on the said other evidence. ...”

17. Learned counsel for the applicants has vehemently argued that with respect to grant of bail the applicants cannot tamper any evidence and a case of bail is made in their favour as nothing, even prima facie, is available on record which may require the applicant to be apprehended, as also it is a settled law that the bail is rule and jail is exception.

18. Placing the three first information reports bearing Case Crime Nos. 203 of 2023, 248 of 2023 and 255 of 2023, lodged by Saurabh Dwivedi, Sumit Yadav and Arvind Kumar Yadav, respectively, learned counsel for the applicants submits that neither the permanent addresses of the informants are shown, nor the alleged forged firms registered on the PAN Card and Aadhaar Card is within the limits of State of U.P., therefore, the registration of proceedings in the State of U.P. is without jurisdiction and the investigation so conducted by the officers is also without jurisdiction and is in teeth of Section 177 Cr.P.C. In support of his submissions, learned counsel for the applicants has relied upon the judgements of Supreme Court in the case of Dinesh Gupta v. State of U.P.⁶, Manoj Kumar Sharma & others v. State of Chhattisgarh & another⁷, and Y Abraham Ajith & others v. Inspector of Police, Chennai & another⁸.

19. The entire investigation started from an input by a secret informer and then on the basis of confessional statement of co-accused persons, the name of other co-accused persons came into light, thus, the implication of the applicants on the basis of confessional statements of co-accused cannot be taken as a substantial piece of evidence. In support of his submissions, learned counsel for the applicants has relied upon the judgements of Supreme Court in the cases of Haricharan Kurmi & another v. State of Bihar⁹, Narcotics Control Bureau v. Pallulabid Ahmad Arimutta¹⁰, Union of India (NCB) etc. v. Khalil Uddin etc.¹¹, Bharat Chaudhary v. Union of India¹², Sanjeev Chandra Agarwal v. Union of India¹³, Dinesh Kumar v. State of Himachal Pradesh¹⁴, Dipakbhai Jagdishchandra Patel v. State of Gujarat¹⁵, and Surinder Kumar Khanna v. Directorate of Revenue Intelligence¹⁶.

20. From the investigation as carried out, there is no evidence against the applicants regarding commission of the alleged offence as there is no allegation against the applicants of any overact or any meeting of mind between the applicants or other co-accused persons for commission of the offence. Thus, no offence under the relevant Sections is made out against the applicants. He has relied upon the judgements of Supreme Court in the cases of Rajender Singh & others v. State of Bihar¹⁷, Ramashish Yadav & others v. State of Bihar¹⁸, and Kehar Singh v. State (Delhi Admn.)¹⁹.

21. As the applicants have not taken the benefit of any document (ITC) nor has facilitated any person in any manner to take these documents, hence no proceeding, against the applicants under the Goods and Services Tax Act²⁰, can be initiated. In the entire investigation there is no allegation against the applicants that they have prepared incorrect Form GSTR-I under Rule 59(1) of the Central Goods and Services Tax Rules, 2017²¹ or the Form GSTR-2A under Rule 60(2) of the Rules, 2017, or the Form GSTR-2B under Rule 60(7) of the Rules, 2017 or the Form GSTR-3B of the Rules, 2017.

22. There is no case of theft of GST, as a result no criminal proceedings under Section 132 of the GST Act has been initiated against the applicant. Even otherwise, an elaborated provision has been given in Rule-8, 9 & 10 of the Rules, 2017 for registration of firm and it is clearly stipulated that the registration can be done only after PAN is validated online by a Common Portal from the Database maintained by Central Board of Direct Taxes²² and the mobile number is verified with One Time Password sent on the same mobile number. No such evidence has been collected, therefore, the implication of the applicant is false.

23. The Bail is the Rule and Jail is an exception. Said view has been taken by the Apex Court in the cases of Arnab Manoranjan Goswami v. State of Maharashtra²³, Sanjay Chandra v. CBI²⁴, Susanta Ghosh v. State of W.B.²⁵, and Satender Kumar Antil v. CBI²⁶.

24. Relying upon the the judgement of the Supreme Court in the case of State of Haryana v. Ram Singh²⁷, learned counsel for the applicants submits that no evidence exists and no recovery against the applicant Rajiv Jindal, co-accused Mahesh and Nand Kishore, for the alleged forged GST papers and for misappropriation of any tax or use of any ITC has been collected. The recoveries shown are planted without there being any independent witness and these recoveries are held to be having no credibility and these recoveries cannot be taken as a piece of credible evidence.

25. Sri Kamal Krishna, learned Senior Advocate assisted by Sri Prakhar Saran Srivastava, learned Advocate argued the matter on behalf of the applicant - Manan Singhal in Criminal Misc. Bail Application Nos. 55125 of 2023, 55131 of 2023, 55268 of 2023, and applicant – Sumit Garg alias Chacha in Criminal Misc. Bail Application Nos. 55161 of 2023, 55235 of 2023, and 55245 of 2023.

26. Learned Senior Counsel submits that pursuant to the first information reports, the Investigating Officer proceeded with the investigation on receiving information about the accused Yaseen from an informer. Accordingly, Yaseen and Ashwani Pandey were arrested from Film City Flyover. Rs. 10,000/-, 5 SIM Cards, Aadhaar Card, PAN Card and a mobile phone were recovered from Ashwani Pandey. Two mobile phones, Rs. 1,88,000; 5 keypad mobile phones, 12 SIM Cards and a laptop were recovered from the possession of Yaseen. A data of 1891 and 680 firms was found on different excel sheets in the laptop. Fake PAN Cards, Aadhaar Cards and photographs were also found in pdf file. The data of informants of Case Crime Nos. 203 of 2023 and 248 of 2023 was also found in the laptop.

27. The accused Yaseen allegedly confessed that they worked in a group and their office is at Madhu Vihar, New Delhi. The Investigating Officer proceeded to the said office and arrested Deepak Murjhani, Vinita, Vishal Singh, Akash Saini, Atul Sengar and Rajiv therefrom. Total recovery of Rs. 12,66,000/-, 24 computer systems, 4 laptops, 30 mobile phones, 50 fake PAN and Aadhaar Cards, 60 SIM Cards and 3 cards parked near the office was made.

28. The aforesaid arrested persons confessed about the involvement of Anchit Goyal, Pradeep Goyal, Archit, Mayur, Charu Nagpal, Rohit Nagpal and Deepak Singhal, to whom the alleged firms were allegedly sold. Names of applicants Manan and Sumit have not been surfaced till date.

29. On 05.06.2023 and 08.06.2023, supplementary statements of arrested accused persons were recorded, wherein name of Manan and Sumit have not been mentioned.

30. In the supplementary statement dated 08.06.2023, names of Rajiv Maheshwari, Rahul Gupta, Gaurav Singhal and Gurmeet Batra surfaced, after which Gaurav Singhal and Gurmeet Batra were arrested on 08.06.2023 and Cash Counting Machine, one POS machine, 18 false invoices, 12 Aadhaar Cards, 1 GST registration certificate, 1 PAN Card and a show cause notice from Commissioner of Customs were allegedly recovered. On 10.06.2023 co-accused Rahul and Rajiv Gupta were arrested.

31. Name of Sumit along with 16 other persons figured in the confessional statements of co-accused Gaurav Singhal and Gurmeet Batra alleging their involvement but no specific role has been assigned to accused Sumit. Till this date, i.e., 10.06.2023 name of accused Manan has not been mentioned. On 11.06.2023, names of both applicants Manan and Sumit figured in the joint statements of arrested accused persons, no specific role has been assigned to the aforesaid persons.

32. On 22.06.2023 the alleged accused Manan and Sumit along with co-accused Atul Gupta were allegedly apprehended on the road connecting DND²⁸ and Greater Noida Expressway in Mahindra XUV 700 Car bearing registration no. HR21-Q-0725. Recovery of Rs. 40,500/- from the pocket of accused Sumit, iPhone 10 and Rs. 10,000/- from the pocket of applicant Manan was made. As per the confessional statement, the Car belonged to Goldy. Bills of Shri Radhey Trading Company were recovered from the back seat of the car; key of another car and few documents were recovered from the dashboard and the car key recovered belonged to Anchit's car as confessed by Manan, Sumit and Atul Gupta. Copy of recovery memo was given to only co-accused Atul Gupta.

33. On 22.06.2023 Skoda Rapid UP16-BD2278 was recovered from Sector-9, Rohini, Delhi and this car was opened with the key that was recovered from the vehicle from which Manan, Sumit and co-accused Atul Gupta were apprehended and after opening the aforesaid car, documents relating to alleged offence were found from the dashboard.

34. On 19.08.2023 and 20.08.2023 a large number of persons were examined and they made general allegation of misuse of their PAN Cards but they have not taken name of the applicants Sumit Garg and Manan Singhal which could connect them in the present case.

35. On 19.09.2023 a chargesheet has been filed against Sumit, Manan and Atul Gupta, however, no specific role has been attributed to Sumit and Manan, and only general allegations of involvement in conspiring in money trail is there. No offence under the relevant Sections is made out against Manan and Sumit as there is no allegation of any kind of deceit or inducement against them nor any allegation of preparation of any kind of forged document, whereas there are general allegations of conspiracy which are insufficient to attract the specific requirement as settled in Section 120A IPC. Thus, the offence of criminal conspiracy under Sections 120A & 120B IPC is not made out.

36. There is no substantive evidence against Manan and Sumit as the prosecution case hinges upon confessional statement of co-accused and alleged recoveries. Confessional statement of co-accused cannot be made the sole basis or foundation of conviction. In support of his submissions, learned counsel has relied upon the judgements of Supreme Court in the cases of Surinder Kumar Khanna v. Intelligence Officer²⁹ and Sanju Bansal v. State of Uttar Pradesh³⁰.

37. There is no independent witness to the alleged recovery and despite the fact that the alleged recovery has been made at the busy place recovery memo has not been given to accused Manan and Sumit, therefore, recovery is false and planted.

38. The alleged recovery from the car, in which the accused Sumit and Manan were travelling has been made prior to arrest, thus, the statement of applicants as such is not admissible under Section 27 of the Evidence Act, as the same has not been recorded in terms of Section 27 of the Act, 1872 and the direction issued by the Supreme Court and this Court, nor any panchnama or disclosure statement has been prepared. Learned counsel for the applicants has relied upon the judgement of the Supreme Court in the case of Rajesh and another v. State of Madhya Pradesh³¹. Learned counsel for the applicants submits that provisions of Section 100 Cr.P.C. have not been complied with, therefore, reliance cannot be placed upon the alleged recovery. The alleged accused Manan and Sumit cannot be said to be in conscious possession of the alleged documents recovered from two accused as they are not the owner of the car and they were only travelling in the car with the co-accused Atul Gupta.

39. The alleged documents have been recovered from the dashboard of XUV 700 and Skoda car, therefore, the same cannot be pinned upon the applicants. In support of his submissions, learned counsel has relied upon a judgement of the Supreme Court in the case of Avtar Singh v. State of Punjab³². He next submits that the present case is a case of false implication as the police is implicating the friends and family of co-accused persons. Cousin of the applicants Manan and Sumit, namely, Gaurav Singhal was initially implicated and when the applicant met the co-accused Gaurav Singhal, they were also implicated in the case and arrested on 20.06.2023.

40. Raising objections on the issue of jurisdiction, learned counsel for the applicants submits that the informant is resident of Delhi and the alleged firms were registered in other States, therefore, no jurisdiction is vested in Police Station Sector-20 Noida, Gautam Buddha Nagar in Case Crime No. 255 of 2023. In support of his submissions, learned counsel has relied upon a judgement of the Supreme Court in the case of Dinesh Gupta v. State of U.P.³³

41. He next submits that there is an inordinate delay in framing of charges despite submission of chargesheet and cognizance on 20.09.2023. In order to defeat the provisions of Section 167 Cr.P.C. chargesheet has been submitted in a hasty manner, hence, the charges are not being framed due to insufficiency of evidence. Thus, they are entitled for being released on bail under the provisions of Section 437(6) Cr.P.C. In support of his submission, learned counsel has relied upon a judgement of this Court in the case of Yogendra Kumar Mishra v. State of U.P.³⁴. Lastly, he submits that the offence in the present case is triable by Magistrate. The applicants are languishing in jail since more than one year, hence, they are entitled to be released on bail as there is a little possibility of early completion of trial. In support of his submission, he has relied upon a judgement of the Supreme Court in the case of Mohd. Muslim v. State (NCT of Delhi)³⁵.

42. Learned Senior Counsel submits that till date charges have not been framed and the delay is not on the part of the applicants. Despite application moved by the accused, documents have not been provided, there is no chance of conclusion of trial in near future, thus, the principal that 'bail is rule and refusal is exception' has to be followed and the applicant is entitled to be released on bail due to his prolong incarceration in jail. In support of his submissions, he has relied upon a judgement of the Supreme Court in the case of Manish Sisodia v. Directorate of Enforcement³⁶.

43. Sri Vinay Saran, learned Senior Advocate assisted by Sri Eshan Lamba, learned Advocate argued the matter on behalf of the applicant – Dolsy Murjhani in Criminal Misc. Bail Application Nos. 6728 of 2024, 8746 of 2024 & 9061 of 2024, and applicant – Jatin Murjani in Criminal Misc. Bail Application Nos. 10526 of 2024, 10527 of 2024 and 10528 of 2024. He submits that the applicants are neither named in all three first information reports nor have been arrested from the alleged place of incident where raids were apparently made by police personnel.

44. The applicant Jatin Murjani is 21 years old student of B.Com. and applicant Dolsy Murjhani is an unmarried 23 years old girl. They have been falsely implicated being the son and daughter of co-accused Deepak Murjhani. On 01.06.2023 first statement of accused Yaseen Sheikh and Deepak Murjhani were recorded along with others and none of them stated that the applicants were involved in the controversy in any manner. After a lapse of 4 days i.e. on 05.06.2023 second statement of Deepak Murjhani and Yaseen Sheikh were recorded by the Investigating Officer and the earlier statements were reiterated. Deepak Murjhani has categorically stated that he has kept the alleged laptop and mobile hidden from his children, thus, Jatin Murjani and Dolsy Murjhani had no knowledge about the said laptop and mobile.

45. On 08.06.2023 statements of Deepak Murjhani and Yaseen Sheikh were recorded. They for the first time introduced the names of Jatin Murjani and Dolsy Murjhani. In their statements, no specific role has been assigned to the applicants.

46. In the investigation of Case Crime No. 255 of 2023, statements of Deepak Murjani were recorded and for the first time he disclosed the name of his son Jatin Murjani. Statements of co-accused Gaurav Singhal and Gurmeet were recorded by the Investigating Officer on 10.06.2023. They did not level any allegation against the applicants Jatin Murjani and Dolsy Murjhani. The applicants have been falsely implicated being the son and daughter of accused Deepak Murjhani.

47. On 18.07.2023 Jatin Murjani and Dolsy Murjhani were arrested showing recovery of one mobile phone, having IMEI No. 354016094312491/9. Learned counsel for the applicants submits that there is no material on record to connect the said mobile phone having IMEI No. 354016094312491/9 with Jatin and Dolsy Murjhani.

48. On 26.08.2023 in CD Parcha No. 69, the Investigating Officer has noted down the report of running IMEI matching of mobile sets and tablets of all mobile phones allegedly recovered during the investigation from different accused persons. However, the aforesaid mobile did not find place in the said report.

49. On 02.10.2023 Parcha No. 85 noted down the report of running IMEI of SIM Cards alleged recovery during the investigation from different accused persons. However, mobile having IMEI – 354016094312491/9 did not find place in the said report.

50. Learned counsel for the applicants submits that barring the statements of co-accused Yaseen Sheikh, Deepak Murjhani, Gaurav Singhal, Gurmeet Singh and Nandlal recorded under Section 161 Cr.P.C. along with confessional statement of the applicants Jatin Murjani and Dolsy Murjhani, there is nothing on record to connect the applicants with the present offence, especially when the so called mobile phone having IMEI-354016094312491/9 could not be connected by any way with the commission of the offence in question. He seeks benefit of Section 437 Cr.P.C. in respect to the matter of Dolsy Murjhani.

51. Sri Manish Tiwary, learned Senior Advocate assisted by Sri Aushim Luthra, learned counsel for the applicant – Gaurav Singh alias Gaurav Singhal argued the case in Criminal Misc. Bail Application Nos. 6882 of 2024, 16146 of 2024 and 16288 of 2024.

52. Upon receipt of an information from a secret informer on 31.05.2023, Yaseen and Ashwani Pandey were arrested on 01.06.2023 from a flyover at Film City located at 16-A, Noida, U.P. and certain recovery of money, SIM Cards, Aadhaar Cards, PAN Cards, Mobile Phones, Laptops were shown from their possession. Their arrest and recovery from their possession has been transcribed in the case diary, from where it transpires that the accused Yaseen and Ashwani Pandey were taken to their office situated at Madhu Vihar, New Delhi.

53. While, the police raided the office at Madhu Vihar, New Delhi, it found 6 other accused persons, namely, Deepak Murjhani, Vineeta W/o Deepak Murjhani, Vishal Singh, Rajeev, Akash Saini and Atul Sengar. Yaseen confessed before the Investigating Officer that they worked for Deepak Murjhani and their office is at Madhu Vihar, New Delhi. A total of Rs. 12,66,000/-, 4 laptops, 30 mobile phones, 50 PAN Cards and Aadhaar Cards, 60 SIM Cards of different companies and 3 Cars were recovered.

54. The Investigating Officer has recorded in Parcha No. 7, dated 01.06.2023, that upon enquiry it was found that the office belongs to Deepak Murjhani, and his wife Vineeta, Vishal Singh, Akash Saini, Atul Sengar and Rajeev were found working in the office of Deepak Murjhani and the aforesaid persons were arrested. Laptop of accused Yaseen is said to have contained excel sheets where details of approximately 2571 Firms, having different GST Numbers, had been mentioned, and it was informed by the co-accused Yaseen that the said Firms are fake Firms and had been created for claiming Input Tax Credit³⁷.

55. Statements of accused persons were recorded and the name of applicant – Gaurav Singh alias Gaurav Singhal does not find any mention whatsoever. The Investigating Officer has recorded statements of co-accused Ashwani Pandey, Yaseen Sheikh, Deepak Murjhani, Vishal Singh, Akash Saini, Atul Sengar, Rajeev and Vineeta wife of Deepak Murjhani. Investigation has been carried out, the role of the accused persons in commission of offence has come up in the aforesaid statements. Names of accused persons, namely, Anchit Goyal, Pradeep Goyal, Archit, Mayur alias Mani Nagpal, Charu Nagpal, Rohit Nagpal and Deepak Singhal came into light on the basis of statements of co-accused persons.

56. The second confessional statement of accused Deepak Murjhani, Yaseen Sheikh, Ashwani Pandey, Vishal Singh, Akash Saini, Atul Sengar and Rajiv Agarwal were recorded and the name of the applicant – Gaurav Singh alias Gaurav Singhal does not find place.

57. The confessional statement of Yaseen Sheikh, Deepak Murjhani and Rajiv were again recorded. It was for the first time that name of Gaurav Singhal surfaced on 08.06.2023 i.e. after lapse of more than a month. The applicant was arrested along with one Gurmeet Singh Batra alias Sahil on 10.06.2023. The arrest and recovery memo as recorded by the Investigating Officer would go to reveal that the same was made from the house of the applicant – Gaurav Singh and he confessed to have committed the offence.

58. Cash counting machine, POS machine and certain documents which are alleged to be forged invoices, 6 Aadhaar Cards were alleged to have been recovered from a car (Innova Crysta CS01-CF2606) which was allegedly parked outside the house of the applicant – Gaurav Singh and similar recovery was shown from the car of co-accused Gurmeet Batra.

59. Learned counsel for the applicant submits that the applicant is not named in the FIR bearing Case Crime No. 203 of 2023 lodged on 04.05.2023. On the basis of information by a secret informer, co-accused Ashwani Pandey and Yaseen Sheikh were apprehended on 01.06.2023. Name of the applicant surfaced in the confessional statement of Yaseen Sheikh, Deepak Murjhani and Rajeev. Accordingly, the applicant and one Gurmeet Singh Batra were arrested on 10.06.2023 showing certain recovery.

60. He further submits that there is no independent witness to the alleged recovery shown from the applicant or the co-accused persons. The alleged forged invoices as recovered from the car of the applicant and another co-accused Gurmeet Singh Batra have not been connected to the offence in question. The applicant is not a beneficiary of the crime in any manner, however, solely on the basis of confessional statement of co-accused and totally false and fabricated recovery, the applicant has been implicated in the present case.

61. The prosecution claims that a total ITC of Rs. 26,45,28,96,500/- had been wrongly claimed by the accused persons, however, it has failed to connect the same to the applicant in any manner. The applicant – Gaurav Singh alias Gaurav Singhal has been granted bail in another offence of GST by a Coordinate Bench of this Court vide order dated 29.05.2024 passed in Criminal Misc. Bail Application No. 16786 of 2024³⁸. The applicant has been arrayed as accused in the case at hand because he is cousin of Arjit Goyal who is mastermind of the alleged offence and was solely involved in the illegal activities. The police has arrested the applicant from Dehradun on 05.06.2023, however, they have shown his arrest on 10.06.2023.

62. Learned counsel for the applicant next submits that compliance of Section 100 Cr.P.C. has not been done as there was no independent witness to the alleged recovery, as such a recovery shown to be made from the applicant's house is barred and inadmissible. The only evidence connecting the applicant to the offence in question is confessional statement of the applicant and co-accused which is totally inadmissible and cannot be read against the applicant in view of Sections 25 and 27 of the Indian Evidence Act. Placing reliance upon Section 27 of the Indian Evidence Act, learned counsel for the applicant submits that the aforesaid section is applicable only if the confessional statement leads to discovery of some new fact. Relevance is limited as it relates distinctly to the fact thereby discovered. In support of his submissions he has relied upon a judgement of the Supreme Court in the case of Navaneethakrishnan v. State By Inspector of Police³⁹.

63. Placing reliance upon Section 25 of the Indian Evidence Act and corresponding provisions of Section 23(1), he submits that the confession made by an accused to the police is not admissible. The alleged recovery is also not a proper one as no memo of recovery has been made in the present case, as has been held in the case of Sanju Bansal v. State of Uttar Pradesh⁴⁰. He, lastly, submits that there is no chance of early conclusion of trial in near future, thus, bail can be granted if there is undue delay in trial as held by the Supreme Court in the case of Mohd. Muslim v. State (NCT of Delhi)⁴¹. He has also placed reliance on a judgement in the case of Union of India v. K.A. Najeeb⁴².

64. Sri Bharat Singh Pal, learned counsel appeared on behalf of the applicant Vishal in Criminal Misc. Bail Application Nos. 50337 of 2023, 2994 of 2024 and 2742 of 2024. He submits that the FIR was lodged on the basis of written application of Saurabh Dwivedi against unknown persons. There is delay in lodging the FIR which is not explained. No specific time and place of the incident has been provided in the FIR.

65. The Investigating Officer on the basis of aforesaid FIR arrested Ashwani Kumar Pandey and Yaseen Sheikh from Film City Flyover on 01.06.2023 on the basis of information of the informant and recovered money, SIM Cards, Mobile etc. At the instance of Yaseen Sheikh, police went to the office of Jiwalo Pvt. Ltd. located at Madhu Vihar, Delhi, where the police found some people working on computer and laptops, and others were sitting idle. The police arrested all accused persons from the office and the applicant-Vishal is also said to be arrested from there, and from right pocket of his pant two mobile phones (Samsung Galaxy and iPhone Pro) were recovered. From his table 3 Keypad Phones and 12 SIM Cards were recovered. The police recorded statements of Ashwani Pandey, Yaseen Sheikh, Deepak Murjhani, applicant-Vishal Singh, Akash Saini, Atul Sengar, Rajeev and Vineeta. In CD Parcha-7 dated 01.06.2023 the Investigating Officer added Section 120B IPC in Case Crime No. 203 of 2023. Learned counsel further submitted that only Yaseen Sheikh took name of the applicant in his statement and none other referred applicant's name or assigned any role to him. In the statement of Yaseen it is stated that the applicant was hired to bring material for preparing forged documents.

66. Pointing out the real story, learned counsel for the applicant submits that the applicant was lifted from his house and the same can be verified from CCTV footage. Thus, the arrest and the alleged recovery shown from the applicant on the said date, i.e., 01.06.2023 from the office at Madhu Vihar, Delhi are false and illegal. On 05.06.2023, statements of Deepak Murjhani, Yaseen Sheikh, Ashwani Pandey, applicant-Vishal Singh, Akash Saini, Atul Sengar and Rajeev Agrawal were recorded. None of them took name of applicant except Yaseen Sheikh. On 08.06.2023 statement of Yaseen Sheikh, Rajeev Jindal and Deepak Murjhani were recorded. None of the accused took name of the applicant or assigned him any role. On 10.06.2023 the police arrested Gaurav Singhal and Gurmeet Singh Batra and recovered certain things. Their statements were recorded but they did not take name of the applicant nor assigned any role in commission of the alleged offence.

67. On 12.06.2023 statement of Sahil Gupta, landlord of the property on which the office of Jiwalo Pvt. Ltd was situated, was recorded. He did not take name of the applicant which could show that the applicant took the office on rent from the landlord nor he has been assigned any role in setting up the said office. On 23.06.2023 Atul Gupta, Sumit Garg and Manan Singhal were arrested and their statements were recorded. Certain things were also recovered from their possession. None of them disclosed name of the applicant. On 09.07.2023 Amit, Ajay alias Mintu and Mahesh were arrested. Their statements were recorded and certain things were recovered from them. They also did not take name of the applicant.

68. Honda City Car bearing registration no. DL8C-NA4506 which is registered in the name of the applicant has been taken to connect the applicant in the aforesaid offence. The applicant had only attached his car with the office on rent. There is no evidence that the car has been used by the applicant in commission of offence. On 15.07.2023 Pritam Garg alias Chacha was arrested and certain things were recovered from his possession and also his statements were recorded. He also did not take name of the applicant.

69. The police arrested Rohit alias Jatin and Dolsy Murjhani on 18.07.2023 and recovered certain things and documents and also recorded their statements. On 26.07.2023 Nand Kishore alias Nand Lal alias Nandu was arrested. Certain things were recovered from them and their statements were recorded. Said persons did not take name of the applicant, nor they assigned any role to the applicant in commission of the alleged offence. On 15.08.2023 the Investigating Officer recorded statements of witnesses of arrest and recoveries, namely, SI Satan Kumar, SI Mukul Yadav, SI Birbhadra Singh, HC Sunil Kumar, C Ashish Kumar, WC Shailesh Kuntal, HC Vinod Kumar, Kailash Nath, Satish Kumar, Jitendra Singh, Rohit Sahrawat, Mukesh Rathor, Ram Niwas Singh, Deena Nath Yadav, Amit Balyan, Rajesh Babu, Anand, Manish Badhana, Ranjeet Kumar, Saurabh Chauhan, Jitendra Singh, Vishwesh, Vipin, Amit Kumar, Priyansh, Idrish, Akhil Kumar, Shilpa Chikara and Kavita. All the said witnesses are police personnel and there is no independent witness to support the arrest or recovery.

70. On 19.08.2023 statements of the victim/ witnesses, namely, Amit Kumar, Amit Agrawal, Vivek Garg, Sumit Anand, Anup Kumar Singh, Saurabh Kumar, Vivek Kumar, Sumit Gautam, Amit Kumar Chaturvedi, Amit Chauhan and Vivek Sharma were recorded. None of them named the applicant nor assigned any role to him. On 20.08.2023, 21.08.2023 and 22.08.2023 statements of victim/ witnesses were recorded. None of them named the applicant nor assigned any role to him. On 26.08.2023 the Investigating Officer has noted that by way of 22 mobile phones recovered from the applicant - Vishal Singh and Akash, on the basis of report obtained from GST Department, 53 GST Firms have been found to be registered.

71. From the aforesaid, it can be said that the Investigating Officer has not collected any credible evidence against the applicant connecting him in the alleged offence. Chargesheet has been submitted on 29.08.2023.

72. Learned counsel Sri Amit Kumar, Sri Jitendra Dwivedi and Sri Vinod Kumar Tripathi appearing on behalf of the applicant – Praveen Kumar in Criminal Misc. Bail Application Nos. 56396 of 2023, 525 of 2024 and 561 of 2024, submit that pursuant to the three first information reports, the matter was investigated simultaneously by the Investigating Officer. The applicant's name came to light from the joint statements of all the accused. Neither the applicant is named in the FIR nor he has committed any theft of PAN Card of the informant nor has registered any Firm using informant's PAN Card. He has no previous criminal history.

73. The alleged recovery shown by the Investigating Officer is planted, false and fabricated. The applicant's name came for the first time in the statements of co-accused on being interrogated by the Investigating Officer on 11.06.2023, which is CD Parcha No. 16. There is no independent witness to the said recovery. There is no evidence against the applicant except the confessional statement of co-accused.

74. The applicant was arrested on 30.09.2023 and from his possession one mobile of Oppo company, one debit card, one Tax Invoice (two copies) in the name of Ram Enterprises to Keshav Traders (applicant's firm) were shown.

75. The applicant is the Director of the Firm running in the name and style of Keshav Traders which is registered with PAN Card of the applicant and said Firm has been registered under the relevant provisions of the Companies Act.

76. Learned counsel Sri Deo Kumar Tripathi and Sri Prashant Kumar Singh appearing on behalf of the applicant - Ashwani in Criminal Misc. Bail

Application Nos. 52956 of 2023, 53087 of 2023 and 53088 of 2023, submit that the statements of informant were recorded on 05.05.2023 after lodging of the FIR on 04.05.2023, and on information of private informant police team arrested Ashwani and Yaseen Sheikh from Film City Flyover. The police party saw that the accused Yaseen has passed some documents and money to the applicant Ashwani, however, nothing incriminating was recovered from their possession. Recoveries from the office of Jiwaloo Pvt. Ltd., Delhi were made. From the possession, recovery of Ashwani Rs. 10,000/-, 5 SIM Cards of different mobile companies, 1 Aadhaar Card, PAN Card and one mobile phone was made.

77. The applicant - Ashwani has confessed his guilt. He stated that he is employee of HDFC Bank and was engaged in opening of bank accounts. He had opened three fake bank accounts in the name of Rajneesh Jha, Jhameli Chaupal, Jiwaloo Pvt. Ltd. and Vivek Kumar Jha. He also confessed that he had provided the documents of the said bank accounts to Yaseen Sheikh and had received Rs. 10,000/- for each forged bank account. He further disclosed that the said bank accounts were used by Yaseen to get GST registration numbers from GST Department. The police team further recovered 1 Aadhaar Card, Pan Card, Rs. 10,000/- which were handed over to Yaseen and by using the same he got OTP to open the bank accounts. No fard recovery has been made.

78. The investigation is silent as to which firms are connected with the Bank Accounts. Co-accused Yaseen has confessed that he worked in a group in the office of M/s JIWALO PVT LTD., from where co-accused persons have been arrested and alleged recovery has been made.

79. There is no evidence to connect the applicant in the commission of alleged offence, on the basis of statements of the applicant as well as other co-accused persons who were arrested from the office.

80. Sri Prashant Kumar Singh, learned counsel informs the Court that one co-accused Anshul Goyal was granted anticipatory bail by the Supreme Court by an order dated 29.04.2024 passed in Petition for Special Leave to Appeal (Crl.) No. 5472 of 2024 (Anshul Goyal v. State of U.P. & Anr.)⁴³, which has been made absolute by the Apex Court vide judgement dated 27.08.2024, passed in Criminal Appeal No. 3566 of 2024⁴⁴.

81. Sri Alok Kumar Singh, learned counsel appearing on behalf of accused-Ajay alias Mintu in Criminal Misc. Bail Application Nos. 11406 of 2024, 11452 of 2024 and 11581 of 2024, submits that the applicant is not named in the FIR. His named surfaced for the first time in the confessional statement on 09.07.2023. Recovery of a car AMEO, HR 242 48842, which is shown to have been recovered from joint possession, does not belong to the applicant. From the said car 4 keypad mobile phones, 6 tax invoices, 3 aadhaar cards have been recovered. A mobile phone (Apple) in switched off condition, was recovered from the applicant, same belongs to him. Only on the basis of confessional statement of the applicant and other co-accused persons, the applicant has been arrested. The role of the applicant as per statements of other co-accused persons is of collection of payments.

82. Sri Saurabh Basu and Sri Abhinay Bhattacharya, learned counsel for the applicant – Rakesh Dialani in Criminal

Misc. Bail Application Nos. 17749/2024, 17809/2024 & 17802/2024, and applicant – Pritam Garg alias Chacha in Criminal Misc. Bail Application Nos. 13386/2024, 12687/2024, 13150/2024 submit that name of the applicants surfaced in the statements of co-accused after they were arrested. From the applicant - Rakesh Dialani's possession recovery of 2 mobile phones, 1 Passport, SIM Cards, Aadhaar Cards and ID Cards was shown, whereas from the applicant - Pritam Garg recovery of fake tax invoice, 3 mobile phones, Aadhaar Card and ID card was also shown. No other substantive recovery has been shown, thus it is clear that no recovery of any item which coincides with the allegations of the informant or the case of the prosecution and investigating agency can be made out.

83. Learned counsel for the applicants further submits that from a perusal of the FIRs, it is transpires that firstly there is no disclosure by the informant as to how he has come to know about the fact that his PAN Card and Aadhaar Card are linked with a fake firm.

84. The informant has nowhere disclosed about any offence or any loss incurred by him during the alleged commission of offence. From a perusal of entire case diary, no offence can be made, which has been alleged by the informant in regard to commission of any offence whereby recovery of GST from the Government Portal is being made. The allegation about fake IDs and fake accounts being created by the alleged accused is totally on the basis of statements made by other accused persons. No linking material to connect the same has been collected by the Investigating Officer. The applicants have been entangled into this case without any material evidence. They have been falsely implicated in the present case. The applicant Rakesh Dialani was taken into custody on 06.12.2023 but actual date of arrest is 07.12.2023, whereas the applicant - Pritam Garg is in jail since 15.07.2023.

85. The GST Department has not got registered any FIR against the applicants while fake firms are alleged to have been registered. The primary allegation was with regard to Aadhaar and PAN linked with the Department, which raises fake invoices and by such fake invoices they have received GST returns but the prosecution has failed to show any such recovery from the accused and no such allegation has been levelled against the applicants in this regard.

86. There is no witness or evidence to connect the applicants with the instant case.

87. Mr. Siddharth Srivastava, learned counsel for the applicant – Akash Saini in bail application nos. 50753 of 2023, 8643 of 2024 and 10603 of 2024 submits that they adopt the arguments advanced by learned counsel for the applicant in Criminal Misc. Bail Application No. 51920 of 2023⁴⁵.

88. Learned counsels representing the applicants in rest of bail applications have adopted the arguments as placed by learned counsel for the applicants, mentioned above.

89. Sri Manish Goel, learned Additional Advocate General assisted by Sri Nitesh Srivastava, learned AGA and Sri Rishi Kumar, learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel, appearing for the State submits, insofar as involvement of the applicants in the offence is concerned, that they formed a syndicate and their modus operandi configures four segments: (i) assignment of job of collection of SIM

Cards and personal data of people that have been uploaded on the portal of Goods & Service Tax; (ii) to use personal data for creation of fake Firms by uploading it on GST Portal; (iii) there will be one actual Firm which will be working and money transaction will flow to this actual Firm and the input tax will be availed; and (iv) distribution of monetary benefits among all. He has very strenuously argued that to divulge the involvement of the applicants, the dots are required to be joined to examine as to who has done it.

90. It is submitted by Mr. Goel that 2600 fake firms were found to be registered and the input tax credit availed with these 2600 Firms was more than Rs. 40,00,00,00,000/- (Rupees Four Thousand Crore). In the present matter anticipatory bail application was filed and after due consideration the Court has rejected the anticipatory bail of the applicant.

91. In response to the submissions advanced by learned counsel for Dolsy Murjhani that SIM numbers which have been recovered at the relevant point of time do not match, learned counsel for the State submits that there are two statements on the record and Dolsy Murjhani in her confessional statement specifically stated that she was helping her father and is involved in the offence. There are several SIM Cards that were being utilized and only one card recovered at the relevant point of time has not been matched. It is also contended that there are confessional statements of co-accused about involvement of Dolsy Murjhani and her brother Jatin Mujhani, on the basis of which recovery has been made which discourse the fact connecting them in the organized criminal offence.

92. Learned Additional Advocate General has further contended that from the material i.e. statements of Krishna Singh, Deepak Murjhani and from her (Dolsy Murjhani) own statement, it is evident that it is a case where a number of SIM Cards have been utilized, therefore, it is a case where the entire family is involved and if the bail is granted to one person, it will perpetuate illegality. He has drawn attention of the Court to Paragraph-12 of the Counter Affidavit, stating that as to how from IMEI number which has been recovered, Dolsy Murjhani has nexus with the fake firms, of which account has been ceased.

93. The FIR was lodged by one Saurabh Dwivedi, who is a journalist and Editor of The Lallantop Internet News Portal. About unknown GST registrations applied on his PAN showing the addresses of Punjab and Maharashtra. The said GST registrations have been obtained without consensus. It has also been alleged that two registrations are already authenticated for Aadhaar verification whereas as on date no email ID or mobile number is linked with the Aadhar.

94. Learned Additional Advocate General submits that the informant finds his name as a business entity. There are already two registrations for which he has never applied and there are two different addresses which have been shown. The informant in the FIR has emphatically stated that he never applied for such registrations and there is no consensus on his part. It is also stated that similar registration has been applied in the UT of Delhi, however, same has been rejected by the GST authorities.

95. Mr. Goel submits that the argument with regard to applicability of the provisions of GST Act, the informant levelled allegations of misusing his Aadhaar and PAN Cards for GST registration, thus, FIR has rightly been lodged under the relevant Sections 420, 467, 468, 471 IPC.

96. As regards matter regarding jurisdiction as has been argued by learned counsel for the applicants, the same is demolished by bare reading of the FIR. Addressing the aspect with respect to jurisdictional issue of Gautam Buddh Nagar, learned AAG further submits that the person, who is making complaint, is having his identity of Gautam Buddh Nagar. In the FIR two GST Registration Nos. 03AUSPD7067N1Z3 and 27AUSPD7067N1ZT are mentioned, against which Tam Enterprises and Tam Traders have been registered, which are situated at Punjab and Maharashtra, whereas the complainant has stated that these firms bear his name as legal name of business entity. Thus, on the same GST registrations, name of Saurabh Dwivedi is registered besides the firms shown. Learned Addl. A.G. contends that the matter is as clear as it is there, that both firms have been registered with PAN numbers of Saurabh Dwivedi, hence submission as observed by learned counsel for the applicants has no legs to stand.

97. Learned AAG submits that the third submission of the applicants, which has been made the basis in all bail applications is with respect to the statement of co-accused, which cannot be read. Most of the judgements, placed before this Court, are with respect to cases in trial and not with respect to cases in bail, which say that at the time of consideration of bail application, it is the duty of the Court to examine all the material on record. Once it is duty of the court to examine all material, it includes the statement of co-accused too. Thus, the parameter for grant of bail is entirely different to that of the parameter taken to be considered under trial. He has relied upon judgements of the Apex Court in the cases of Kalyan Chandra Sarkar v. Rajesh Ranjan alias Pappu Yadav and another⁴⁶, Masroor v. State of Uttar Pradesh and another⁴⁷, State of U.P. Through CBI v. Amarmani Tripathi⁴⁸, Mehboob Ali and another v. State of Rajasthan⁴⁹, P. Chidambaram v. Directorate of Enforcement⁵⁰, and Sunil Kumar v. Stte of Bihar and another⁵¹.

98. Mr. Goel has drawn attention of the Court to Paragraph-8 of the judgement of the Supreme Court in the case of Union of India (NCB) etc. v. Khalil Uddin etc.⁵². Paragraph-8 of the said judgement reads thus:

“8. The answer to said question could be the statement recorded of Md. Nizam Uddin. The statement of Md. Jakir Hussain recorded under Section 67 of the Act has also named his owner accused Abdul Hai. We are conscious of the fact that the validity and scope of such statements under Section 67 has been pronounced upon by this Court in Tofan Singh vs. State of Tamil Nadu⁵³. In State by (NCB) Bengaluru vs. Pallulabid Ahmad Arimutta & Anr.⁵⁴, the rigour of law lay down by this Court in Tofan Singh was held to be applicable even at the stage of grant of bail.”

99. It is also contended on behalf of the State that the judgements referred by learned Senior Advocate Mr. Kamal Krishna are also with respect to trial not to bail.

100. With regard to arguments of learned counsel for the applicants that once chargesheet has been submitted in economic offence, the person should be released, learned AAG contends that each economic offence has distinct parameter while consideration of bail, which can be summarized in three counts: (i) Gravity of Economic Offence, (ii) Impact, if the person is released on bail or the person is detained, and (iii) Interest of the Nation. It is argued that economic offence is not possible at the hands of one person and the present case is organized crime where crores of government money has been siphoned by registration of fake firms in which all applicants are connected in one or the other way.

101. In regard to the case of Dolsy Murjhani, learned AAG for the State submits that she had chip of the SIM Card, hence her involvement cannot be denied. The entire focal point is that the modus operandi was utilized by SIM and Aadhaar for GST registration. SIM Cards that have been recovered, are not mentioned, however, she has made a statement to the effect that her father is the main accused and the entire family was involved in the offence. The said statement has come on the record. Nine SIM Cards were being utilized at the time when she was intercepted, just because one SIM recovered at that point of time, was not being utilized, cannot go to prove her innocence.

102. Mr. Manish Goel next submits that the GST Act does not impliedly or explicitly repeal the provisions of the Indian Penal Code, 1860, or the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973, hence investigation for offences under the IPC is permissible. In support of his submission, he has relied upon the judgements of the Apex Court in the cases of Shahzad Alam v. State of U.P.⁵⁵, and Govind Agarwal v. State of U.P.⁵⁶

103. Likewise with respect to economic offences, there are several decisions of the Supreme Court, wherein the Apex Court has held that the statement of co-accused as well as confessional statements are required to be considered while considering bail application of an accused. Learned counsel for the State Mr. Goel further emphasized that in view of the law laid down by the Apex Court, entire material as come in the case diary alongwith other material has to be looked into while considering bail application, thus, it is imperative to take into account all material whether it may or may not have evidential value and the Court should deal with it strictly while hearing economic offence.

104. With respect to consideration of bail in offences related to GST, learned AAG has placed reliance on various judgements of the Apex Court in the cases of Yogesh Jagish Kanodia v. State of Maharashtra and another,⁵⁷ Ajay Khanna v. State Tax Anti Evasion Bureau, Jabalpur (M.P.),⁵⁸ Rajesh Jindal v. Commissioner of Central Tax GST, Delhi (West),⁵⁹ Jagdish Kanani v. Commissioner of CGST & Central Excise, Indore,⁶⁰ Ranjeet @ Ranjeet Singh v. Union of India⁶¹.

105. It has also been argued that the Supreme Court has viewed the matters of economic offences and laid down law while considering bail applications in the cases of Y.S. Jagan Mohan Reddy v. Central Bureau of Investigation; Central Bureau of Investigation,⁶² Central Bureau of Investigation v. Ramendu Chattopadhyay,⁶³ Tarun Kumar v. Assistant Director, Directorate of Enforcement,⁶⁴ State of Bihar and another v. Amit Kumar alias Bachcha Rai,⁶⁵ Nimmagadda Prasad v. Central

Bureau of Investigation,⁶⁶ Serious Fraud Investigation Office v. Nittin ohari and another,⁶⁷ and State of Gujarat v. Mohanlal Jitmalji Porwal and another.⁶⁸

106. Learned Additional Advocate General for the interpretation of Section 27 of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, has placed Section 3 of the said Act, which defines ‘fact’, ‘relevant’, ‘proved’, which are as follows:

Fact”.—“Fact” means and includes—(1) anything, state of things, or relation of things, capable of being perceived by the senses;

(2) any mental condition of which any person is conscious.

“Relevant”. — One fact is said to be relevant to another when the one is connected with the other in any of the ways referred to in the provisions of this Act relating to the relevancy of facts.

“Proved”.—A fact is said to be proved when, after considering the matters before it, the Court either believes it to exist, or considers its existence so probable that a prudent man ought, under the circumstances of the particular case, to act upon the supposition that it exists.”

107. He has also placed Section-4 of the Act, 1872 wherein the words ‘may presume’, ‘shall presume’ and ‘conclusive proof’ have been explained which are as follows:

“4. “May presume”.—Whenever it is provided by this Act that the Court may presume a fact, it may either regard such fact as proved, unless and until it is disproved, or may call for proof of it.

“Shall presume”.—Whenever it is directed by this Act that the Court shall presume a fact, it shall regard such fact as proved, unless and until it is disproved.

“Conclusive proof”.—When one fact is declared by this Act to be conclusive proof of another, the Court shall, on proof of the one fact, regard the other as proved, and shall not allow evidence to be given for the purpose of disproving it.”

108. From a reading of the aforesaid sections, it is clear that the material collected by the Investigating Officer at this stage is relevant for the purposes of considering that the applicants are involved in the commission of offence as the deposition made by co-accused persons leading to discovery of such information or fact is not required to be proved and is admissible piece of evidence as per Section 27 of the Act, 1872.

109. As argued by Mr. Amit Singh Chauhan, learned AGA-I and Sri Mayank Awasthi, learned Brief Holder, for the State, the following material has been collected to show the involvement of the applicants in the present case:

(i) C.D. Parcha No. 2 bears details of Mobile No. 8800966916 which was used to register the GST firms mentioned in the FIR, its CDR⁶⁹/ CAF⁷⁰ reports were obtained from Surveillance Cell.

111. While assisting the Court, Mr. Rishi Kumar, learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel submits that the present case begins with lodging of FIR by Saurabh Dwivedi, wherein allegations for fake GST registration applied in his name with PAN No. AUSPD7067N by anonymous person and got two GST firms registered, thus, the entire case begins with fake GST registration using PAN Card and Aadhaar Card of the informant. During the investigation it was found that larger nexus works for having benefit of input tax credit. The offence has been committed in an organized and synchronized manner, wherein fake and bogus invoices have been created to cover the money trail and goods supply as well as money transactions are there with forged firms. Establishing the entire chain, the accused persons have been found connected with each other and in one or the other way they have been benefited by fake GST registration shown by using Pan Card and Aadhaar Card of the informant.

112. The backbone of goods and services regime is input tax and credit. Under the GST regime, ITC follows supply chain not only intrastate but also interstate supply.

113. It has been established through investigation that crime has been committed by the accused persons by making fraudulent firm by using PAN Card and Aadhaar Card, Mobile Number for creating fake firms and through fake invoices, they breached supply chain of ITC and got benefit through fake gains which have been created by them. Thus, in so many words, the said case is started with registration of fake firms using Pan Card and Aadhaar Card of the informant for consequential benefits of claiming ITC. Thus, it cannot be said that the proceedings have to be initiated against the applicants under the special Act i.e. Goods and Services Tax Act, where the proper procedure has been laid down and FIR could not have been registered.

114. The next finding in the case of recovery and use of fake PAN Cards has to be understood by analysing the purpose of issuing a PAN Card. The PAN card is issued to keep a track of financial activity of a person and a PAN is integral for all forms of payments. A PAN Card number is located to a needful and contains information such as Aadhaar number, date of birth and address. Similar is the use of Aadhaar Card which is now linked with the account of individual in favour of whom it has been issued. The PAN Card contains details of Aadhaar also. The PAN Card can be used for availing utility connections like electricity, telephone, LPG and internet. Under GST, a registered taxable person is required to issue an invoice containing all relevant information, such as the GSTIN, tax divergence and so on. If a taxpayer issues an invoice that is missing critical information, the invoice may be considered a fake GST invoice. Thus, by forging fake GST number using PAN Card of the informant fake GST invoices have been created for financial benefit, thus, the very basis of the present case is forgery done by the accused persons, on the basis of which financial gains in terms of ITC have been availed by them.

115. The learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel, in order to show how use of PAN Card in such a manner, is detrimental not only to the interest of the person whose PAN Card has been used but is also detrimental in national interest. He has relied upon a judgement of Bombay High Court in the case of UTI Infrastructure Technology and Services Limited v. Extra Tech World and Ors.⁷², wherein the Court has observed thus:

“It cannot be in dispute that the PAN system is of paramount importance on a national scale due to its multifaceted impact on governance, taxation, and financial integrity, and it can be said to be the cornerstone of a robust financial economic system. PAN related services are pivotal in fostering fiscal discipline and ensuring a transparent and accountable economic framework, as apart from being a unique identifier for individuals and entities, it also aim at streamlining the tax recovery and payment process. Government of India has made it mandatory for PAN card holders to link the same to Aadhar Card, which is an acceptable proof of identification in India, and therefore, any potential misuse of the licence/ authorisation to issue PAN cards, would be highly detrimental not only to the interest.”

116. Thus, the offence in the present case is affecting the interest of public at large.

117. I have considered the submissions advanced by learned counsel for the parties and perused the record.

118. Learned counsel for the applicant-Gaurav Singhal has stated that in Case No. 22362 of 2023 lodged under the GST Act with the allegation that the applicant operates a racket for evading the Input Tax Credit by creating fake firms, he has already been granted bail, this Court is of the opinion that the present case is of a forgery and not related to GST, therefore, no benefit of bail granted in the aforesaid case can be given in the present case.

119. To understand the point of jurisdiction as argued by learned counsel for the State, it would be appropriate to quote Section 177 of Cr.P.C., which is as follows:

Every offence shall ordinarily be inquired into and tried by a court within whose local jurisdiction it was committed.

120. It is also necessary to understand the meaning of inquiry. The inquiry has been defined under Section 2(g) of Cr.P.C. to mean every inquiry, other than trial, conducted by a Magistrate or a Court. It would also be appropriate to understand the meaning of ‘investigation’ which has been defined under Section 2(h) Cr.P.C. as all the proceedings for collection of evidence conducted by a police officer.

121. ‘Trial’ has not been defined under the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973. Lexicologically, ‘trial’ means a judicial examination of a case in accordance with law. Hence, for an inquiry or trial, it is the court which is the focal point, whereas for an investigation, it is the police officer. Thus, in the present case, the arguments as placed by learned counsel for the applicants, on the point of jurisdiction, have no legs to stand.

122. Section 27 of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872 deals with the relevancy of information received from a person accused of any offence while in the custody of the police officer. The Section provides an exception to the general rule that confessions made to the police officers are inadmissible in evidence. From the aforesaid, the scope of Section 27 of the Act, 1872 is that it applies to any information given by the person accused of an offence, which leads to the discovery of a fact. The Section states that "so much information" given by the accused that distinctly relates to the fact discovered may be proved. The exception to rule of admissibility is that normally confessions made to a police officer or while in police custody are inadmissible under Sections 25 and 26 of the Indian Evidence Act, however, Section 27 allows for an exception where information received from the accused leads to discovery of a fact. The Section makes only that part of the statement relevant, which directly leads to the discovery of facts. It does not make the entire statement of the accused inadmissible.

123. The condition for applicability of the aforesaid Section is that the person giving the information must be an accused in police custody. The information provided must lead directly to the discovery of the material fact and only that portion of information which directly leads to the discovery is admissible. For example, if an accused, while in custody, reveals the location of a weapon used in the crime and upon searching that location, the weapon is indeed found, the part of statement where accused described the location of weapon is admissible in courts as evidence.

124. The rationale behind Section 27 of the Act, 1872 is to strike a balance between protection of the accused from coercive confession and the necessity of law enforcement to discover fact related to a crime. The courts have interpreted Section 27 in various judgements, often emphasizing that it should be applied only to the extent necessity to prove discovery of a fact. The Hon'ble Apex Court has also laid down guidelines to ensure that the information obtained is not the result of any compulsion or coercion.

125. In the case of Pulukuri Kotayya and others v. King Emperor⁷³, which is a landmark judgement, the Apex Court has explained the scope of Section 27 of the Act. In the said case it has been held that the phrase "distinctly related to the fact thereby discovered" is crucial, meaning only that part of statement that led directly to the discovery is admissible, and not the entire statement. In the case of State of Uttar Pradesh v. Deoman Upadhyaya⁷⁴, the Apex Court has reiterated the aforesaid. Thus, Section 27 is a significant provision under the Indian Evidence Act providing an exception to the inadmissibility of custodial confessions. It allows admissibility of the specific information that leads directly to the discovery of a fact, balancing the needs of criminal investigation with the rights of the accused.

126. In the present case, after registration of the FIR when forgery had been done by using the Aadhaar Card and PAN Card of the informant, fake GST firms were registered, Investigating Officer proceeded on the information as provided by a secret informer and arrested two accused who disclosed about the office where work of the firm was being done. On the aforesaid information of the arrested accused persons, the Investigating Officer reached the office premises, wherein he found other persons working for the firm of the arrested accused persons. Laptops, mobiles, SIM Cards, fake invoices were recovered, thus, discovering such fact which connected them with the main accused who had got registered the fake firms and the consequential forgery or theft of GST was found. Thus, that part of the discovery of fact is admissible as per Section 27 of the Act. Therefore, argument as placed by learned counsel for the applicants regarding the fact that confessional statements can be taken as a piece of evidence, has no legs to stand.

127. The principal of "bail is the rule, jail is the exception" is a fundamental concept in criminal law, where the criminal justice system recognizes the importance of personal liberty and the presumption of innocence until proven guilty. This principal emphasizes that an accused should ordinarily be granted bail unless there are compelling reasons to detain him in custody. But there are exceptions to the aforesaid principal. While, the general rule favours granting bail, there are several exceptions where courts may deny bail due to specific circumstances. These exceptions are based on factors that indicate a potential risk to society, the judicial process, or the investigation. Some points that should be kept in mind while granting bail are; the nature and gravity of the offence, likelihood of flight risk, risk of tampering with the evidence of witnesses, repeated offenders or habitual criminals, danger to society or the victim, possibility of committing another offence while on bail, interference with justice, specific statutory provisions like the Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances Act, 1985, Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act (UAPA) and the Prevention of Money Laundering Act, 2002 (PMLA), lastly economic offence and white collar crimes.

128. The present case relates to economic offences, such as large scale fraud, money laundering and corruption, are often viewed seriously because they affect the economic fabric of the society. The Courts may deny bail in such cases especially if the accused holds a position of influence or power. In the present case, money trail of crores, which affects the society at large scale, is involved which started from registration of fake firms by using Aadhaar and PAN Cards of the informant who had not applied for such registration.

129. The Apex Court in the case of Manish Sisodia v. Central Bureau of Investigation, 2023 SCC OnLine SC 1393, has discussed about the constitutional mandate which is higher law and accordingly it is the basic right of person charged of offence and not convicted be ensured and given a speedy trial, thus, where the trial is not proceeding for the reasons not attributed to the accused, the Court unless there are good reasons may well be guided by exercising power to grant bail. This would be true, the trial would take years.

130. In the present case from the report of the concerned District Judge/ Chief Judicial Magistrate, it is clear that the accused have avoided coming to the court and discharge application of one of the accused has been rejected. One or the other grounds are being taken by the accused persons in getting the matter adjourned so that the charge is not framed, therefore, they are trying to cause deliberate delay so that the charges may not be framed, hence, interfering in judicial process, thus, giving ample reason of not enlarging them on bail.

131. From the report also it is clear that the discharge application of one of the accused has been rejected and it shows that the charges are proved and once on the basis of material collected chargesheet has been submitted, discharge is rejected, the case of bail is not made out in economic offence where money trail of crores has been found which is a result of registration of fake firms. Offence under the IPC is made out and such accused cannot be dealt with easy hands. In the case of Y.S. Jagan Mohan Reddy v. Central Bureau of Investigation, (2013) 7 SCC 439, the Supreme Court has held thus:

“34. Economic offences constitute a class apart and need to be visited with a different approach in the matter of bail. The economic offences having deep-rooted conspiracies and involving huge loss of public funds need to be viewed seriously and considered as grave offences affecting the economy of the country as a whole and thereby posing serious threat to the financial health of the country.

35. While granting bail, the court has to keep in mind the nature of accusations, the nature of evidence in support thereof, the severity of the punishment which conviction will entail, the character of the accused, circumstances which are peculiar to the accused, reasonable possibility of securing the presence of the accused at the trial, reasonable apprehension of the witnesses being tampered with, the larger interests of the public/State and other similar considerations.”

132. The Apex Court in the case of Nimmagadda Prasad v. Central Bureau of Investigation, (2013) 7 SCC 466 has formulated some important factors to be taken into consideration while considering bail applications. Relevant paragraph of the said judgement are quoted herein below:

“24. While granting bail, the court has to keep in mind the nature of accusations, the nature of evidence in support thereof, the severity of the punishment which conviction will entail, the character of the accused, circumstances which are peculiar to the accused, reasonable possibility of securing the presence of the accused at the trial, reasonable apprehension of the witnesses being tampered with, the larger interests of the public/State and other similar considerations. It has also to be kept in mind that for the purpose of granting bail, the legislature has used the words “reasonable grounds for believing” instead of “the evidence” which means the court dealing with the grant of bail can only satisfy itself as to whether there is a genuine case against the accused and that the prosecution will be able to produce prima facie evidence in support of the charge. It is not expected, at this stage, to have the evidence establishing the guilt of the accused beyond reasonable doubt.”

133. Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Directorate of Enforcement v. M. Gopal Reddy and another, 2022 SCC OnLine SC 1862 has held that in the economic offences which are having great impact on the society, the court must be slow in exercising discretion under Section 438 of Cr.P.C.

134. Insofar as the argument of learned counsel for the applicants that the cases where the accused are females, they are entitled to be released on bail giving benefit of Section 437 Cr.P.C., the court is of the opinion that the benefit can be given to women who do not have agency and not who themselves are powerful or connected with such powerful persons and the offence is such which is affecting the public at large.

135. In the case of Tahir Hussain v. The Assistant Director Enforcement Directorate⁷⁵, the Court has observed that the accused Tahir Hussain was involved in the acts of cheating/ falsification/ forgery of documents which resulted in fraudulent removal of money from the accounts of the three companies (M/s SEAPL, ECPL and EGSPL). On the directions and instructions of Tahir Hussain, huge amount of money was withdrawn from the accounts of the said three companies by way of transfer of funds to entry operators and bogus companies. Tahir Hussain was ultimate beneficiary of the laundered money which he used for fulfilment of ulterior motives. Fake and bogus invoices were created to cover the money trail.

136. The same situation is there in the facts of this case where the crime has started with registration of fake GST firms by using Aadhaar and PAN Card of the informant which amounts to forgery, therefore, offence under the relevant sections is made out and these offences have been properly investigated by the Investigating Officer after lodging of FIRs. The evidences have been collected from the GST Department also.

137. In the case of Perumal Raja @ Perumal v. State, Rep. By Inspector of Police⁷⁶, the Court has gone to the extent of clarifying phrase “discovery of a fact” by saying that the same includes the object found, the place from which it was produced and the knowledge of the accused as to its existence, therefore, factum of discovery combines both the physical object as well as mental consciousness of the informant accused in relation thereto. The same has been stated in Paragraph Nos. 22 & 23 of the said judgement, which are thus:

“22. However, we must clarify that Section 27 of the Evidence Act, as held in these judgments, does not lay down the principle that discovery of a fact is to be equated to the object produced or found. The discovery of the fact resulting in recovery of a physical object exhibits knowledge or mental awareness of the person accused of the offence as to the existence of the physical object at the particular place. Accordingly, discovery of a fact includes the object found, the place from which it was produced and the knowledge of the accused as to its existence. To this extent, therefore, factum of discovery combines both the physical object as well as the mental consciousness of the informant accused in relation thereto. In *Mohmed Inayatullah v. State of Maharashtra*⁷⁷, elucidating on Section 27 of the Evidence Act, it has been held that the first condition imposed and necessary for bringing the section into operation is the discovery of a fact which should be a relevant fact in consequence of information received from a person accused of an offence. The second is that the discovery of such a fact must be deposed to. A fact already known to the police will fall foul and not meet this condition. The third is that at the time of receipt of the information, the accused must be in police custody. Lastly, it is only so much of information which relates distinctly to the fact thereby discovered resulting in recovery of a physical object which is admissible. Rest of the information is to be excluded. The word ‘distinctly’ is used to limit and define the scope of the information and means ‘directly’, ‘indubitably’, ‘strictly’ or ‘unmistakably’. Only that part of the information which is clear, immediate and a proximate cause of discovery is admissible.

23. The facts proved by the prosecution, particularly the admissible portion of the statement of the accused, would give rise to two alternative hypotheses, namely, (i) that the accused had himself deposited the physical items which were recovered; or (ii) only the accused knew that the physical items were lying at that place. The second hypothesis is wholly compatible with the innocence of the accused, whereas the first would be a factor to show involvement of the accused in the offence. The court has to analyse which of the hypotheses should be accepted in a particular case.”

138. While considering an appeal against the bail cancellation order, the Apex Court in the case of Gurcharan Singh v. State (Delhi Administration)⁷⁸, has held that there cannot be an inexorable formula in the matter of granting bail. Paragraph-29 of the said judgement is thus:

weight should be bestowed on these two factors apart from others. There cannot be an inexorable formula in the matter of granting bail. The facts and circumstances of each case will govern the exercise of judicial discretion in granting or cancelling bail.”

139. The Apex Court in the case of Prahlad Singh Bhati v. NCT, Delhi and another⁷⁹, has held that while granting bail, the court has to keep in mind nature of accusations, nature of evidence in support thereof, severity of punishment which conviction will entail, the character, behaviour, means and standing of the accused, circumstances which are peculiar to the accused, reasonable possibility of securing the presence of the accused at the trial, reasonable apprehension of the witnesses being tampered with, larger interest of the public or State and similar other considerations. Relevant paragraph no. 8 of the said judgement is reproduced hereunder:

“8. The jurisdiction to grant bail has to be exercised on the basis of well-settled principles having regard to the circumstances of each case and not in an arbitrary manner. While granting the bail, the court has to keep in mind the nature of accusations, the nature of evidence in support thereof, the severity of the punishment which conviction will entail, the character, behaviour, means and standing of the accused, circumstances which are peculiar to the accused, reasonable possibility of securing the presence of the accused at the trial, reasonable apprehension of the witnesses being tampered with, the larger interests of the public or State and similar other considerations. It has also to be kept in mind that for the purposes of granting the bail the legislature has used the words “reasonable grounds for believing” instead of “the evidence” which means the court dealing with the grant of bail can only satisfy it (sic itself) as to whether there is a genuine case against the accused and that the prosecution will be able to produce prima facie evidence in support of the charge. It is not expected, at this stage, to have the evidence establishing the guilt of the accused beyond reasonable doubt.

140. Law on consideration of the Court to grant or refusal of bail has been settled by the Apex Court in a catena of decisions. In the case of Kalyan Chandra Sarkar v. Rajesh Ranjan⁸⁰, the Supreme Court has held that the court granting bail should exercise its discretion in a judicious manner and not as a matter of course. Paragraph-11 of the said judgement is being quoted below:

“11. The law in regard to grant or refusal of bail is very well settled. The court granting bail should exercise its discretion in a judicious manner and not as a matter of course. Though at the stage of granting bail a detailed examination of evidence and elaborate documentation of the merit of the case need not be undertaken, there is a need to indicate in such orders reasons for prima facie concluding why bail was being granted particularly where the accused is charged of having committed a serious offence. Any order devoid of such reasons would suffer from non-application of mind. It is also necessary for the court granting bail to consider among other circumstances, the following factors also before granting bail; they are:

(a) The nature of accusation and the severity of punishment in case of conviction and the nature of supporting evidence.

(b) Reasonable apprehension of tampering with the witness or apprehension of threat to the complainant.

(c) Prima facie satisfaction of the court in support of the charge. (See *Ram Govind Upadhyay v. Sudarshan Singh*⁸¹ and *Puran v. Rambilas*⁸².)”.

141. In the case of State of U.P. Through CBI v. Amarmani Tripathi⁸³, the Supreme Court has formulated eight points for consideration of bail application. It would be apposite to quote the relevant paragraph no. 18 of the said judgement:

“18. It is well settled that the matters to be considered in an application for bail are (i) whether there is any prima facie or reasonable ground to believe that the accused had committed the offence; (ii) nature and gravity of the charge; (iii) severity of the punishment in the event of conviction; (iv) danger of the accused absconding or fleeing, if released on bail; (v) character, behaviour, means, position and standing of the accused; (vi) likelihood of the offence being repeated; (vii) reasonable apprehension of the witnesses being tampered with; and (viii) danger, of course, of justice being thwarted by grant of bail. ...”

142. The Apex Court has, in the case of P. Chidambaram v. Directorate of Enforcement⁸⁴, held that precedent of another case alone will not be the basis for either grant or refusal of bail though it may have bearing on principle and the consideration will have to be on case-to-case basis on facts involved therein and securing the presence of the accused to stand trial. Paragraph-23 of the said judgement reads thus:

“23. Thus, from cumulative perusal of the judgments cited on either side including the one rendered by the Constitution Bench of this Court, it could be deduced that the basic jurisprudence relating to bail remains the same inasmuch as the grant of bail is the rule and refusal is the exception so as to ensure that the accused has the opportunity of securing fair trial. However, while considering the same the gravity of the offence is an aspect which is required to be kept in view by the Court. The gravity for the said purpose will have to be gathered from the facts and circumstances arising in each case. Keeping in view the consequences that would befall on the society in cases of financial irregularities, it has been held that even economic offences would fall under the category of “grave offence” and in such circumstance while considering the application for bail in such matters, the Court will have to deal with the same, being sensitive to the nature of allegation made against the accused. One of the circumstances to consider the gravity of the offence is also the term of sentence that is prescribed for the offence the accused is alleged to have committed. Such consideration with regard to the gravity of offence is a factor which is in addition to the triple test or the tripod test that would be normally applied. In that regard what is also to be kept in perspective is that even if the allegation is one of grave economic offence, it is not a rule that bail should be denied in every case since there is no such bar created in the relevant enactment passed by the legislature nor does the bail jurisprudence provide so. Therefore, the underlining conclusion is that irrespective of the nature and gravity of charge, the precedent of another case alone will not be the basis for either grant or refusal of bail though it may have a bearing on principle. But ultimately the consideration will have to be on case-to-case basis on the facts involved therein and securing the presence of the accused to stand trial.”

143. Recently the Apex Court in the case of Satendra Kumar Antil v. Central Bureau of Investigation and another⁸⁵, has outlined the considerations by the Court in the matter of grant or refusal of bail.

144. As assisted by learned counsel for the State that backbone of Goods Services Tax regime and Input Tax Credit, is that under the GST Regime ITC follows supply chain not only in intra-state but also inter-state supply. Thus, on the ground of jurisdiction as argued by learned counsel for the applicant this Court is of the view that though registration of fake firms were at Punjab and Maharashtra, the complainant is resident of New Delhi and the FIR has been lodged at Gautam Buddha Nagar, the genuineness of complaint questioning the territorial jurisdiction cannot be raised on the basis of occurrence as the same cannot be said to be at one place where the GST firm was registered but its connections with other fake firms are also required to be seen.

145. Having gone through the submissions of learned counsel for the parties, nature of accusation of offence, role of the applicants, I do not find it a fit case for granting bail.

146. The bail applications are rejected.

“सेवा में,

श्रीमान थानाध्यक्ष महोदय,

थाना देहली गेट, जनपद (अलीगढ़)

निवेदन करना है कि कल दिनांक 24.7.2015 को प्रार्थी के ताऊ की लड़की की शादी थी जिसका भात लेकर प्रार्थी के पिता नौशे व उनके दोस्त चन्दा उर्फ आशिफ गये थे। प्रार्थी के घर की चाबी प्रार्थी के पिता नौशे के पास थी प्रार्थी व प्रार्थी के चाचा रफीक मोटर साइकिल लेकर चाबी लेने गये थे तब समय करीब 11.30 बजे रात वहाँ पर ये बताया कि नौशे व चन्दा को एहसान निवासी करबला व आशिफ ठाकुर निवासी माबूद नगर अपने घर की तरफ लिवा कर ले गये हैं। प्रार्थी व प्रार्थी का चाचा रफीक जैसे ही प्रार्थी शाहिद पॉलिश वालों के मकान के पास पहुँचा तो

देखा कि प्रार्थी के पिता नौशे व उनके दोस्त चंदा को चारो तरफ से घेर कर आशिफ ठाकुर पुत्र नामालूम वा कपिल पुत्र नामालूम वा वकील पुत्र नामालूम व भूरा दूधवाला पुत्र नामालूम अपने हाथों में लिए हुए तमंचे व पिस्टल थे। जान से मारने की नीयत से फायर कर रहे थे। प्रार्थी के पिता नौशे व उनके दोस्त चंदा गोली लगने के बाद जम(का०फटा) पर नीचे गिर गये। जमीन पर गिरने के बाद इन सभी लोगों (का० फटा) प्रार्थी के पिता नौशे व चंदा को ईंटों और पत्थरों से कुचला पड़ोस में शादी होने की वजह से काफी रोशनी हो रही थी। जिसमे मैंने और मेरे चाचा रफीक ने अपनी आँखों से पूरा वाकया देखा है। हमारे शोर मचाने पर यह सब मारने वाले माबूद नगर की तरफ भाग गये। प्रार्थी के पिता नौशे की जमीन की रंजिश गयासउद्दीन सेक्रेटरी वल्द फतेह मौहम्मद निवासी हमदर्द नगर से चल रही है। उन्ही ने सुपारी देकर मेरे पिता व चंदा की हत्या करायी है। चूँकि मारने वाले चीख-चीख कर कह रहे थे। कि साले गयासुद्दीन से रंजिश रखते थे।

6. On receiving the complaint, the police registered the chik FIR, Ex.Ka.2 and started the investigation. The Panchayatnama was prepared in which the opinion of Panches read as under:

"राय पंचान

हम पन्चों की राये मे मिरतक नौशे उर्फ जुनेद s/o मुन्ने खाँ की मिरतुयु बदमाशो दुआरा गोली मारने व पथथरो से मुह कुचलने से आई चोटो के कारण हुई है फिर भी मिरतुयु का सही कारण जान्ने हेतु PM करा लिया जाये।"

7. During further investigation, the post-mortem of the deceased was got conducted, the accused were arrested, the weapons of offence were recovered and the incriminating recoveries were sent to FSL, Agra by the Investigating Officer who also recorded the statement of the witnesses under Section 161 of Cr.P.C. Thereafter, he submitted the charge-sheet before the trial court. Later on, the case was committed to the Court of Sessions where the charges were framed against the accused persons under Sections 147, 148, 302/149 read with Section 120-B I.P.C. for committing the murder of Naushe and Chanda by using the firearms.

8. The appellants did not plead guilty and claimed trial.

9. In prosecution evidence, the informant-PW-1- Raja deposed on a line of information given to the police. The operative part of the statement read as under:

"नाम पता गवाह: राजा s/o नौशे उर्फ जुनेद उम्र 22 साल पेशा मजदूरी R/o खैर रोड लाल मस्जिद के सामने थाना देगोट अलीगढ़।

मारा और एहसान ने फेटे मे से छुरा निकाल कर चंदा के गर्दन पर वार किया और सभी मुलजमान तमंचे व पिस्टल लहराते हुये कहा कि किसी ने हमारा नाम लिया तो सभी का यही हाल होगा। और कहा कि ग्यासउद्दीन से पंगा लेने का नतीजा देख लिया वह बहुत बड़ा वकील है। और सैक्रेटरी भी है। जैसे ही मैंने शोर किया और बोले कि यह दोनों मर गये भाग चलो छप्पर वाली मस्जिद की तरफ भागे। यह घटना मैंने व चाचा रफीक ने बिजली की रोशनी में देखी व पहचाना। हाजिर अदालत मुलजमान के देखकर गवाह ने कहा कि यही सब मुलजमान है जिन्होंने मेरे पिता व चाचा की हत्या की थी। मेरे पिता की रंजिश ग्यासुद्दीन सैक्रेटरी से चल रही है। इसने न्यायालय के स्टे के बाद भी मकान को तुड़वा दिया था। जब मैं मुलजमानों के भाग जाने के बाद वहाँ पहुँचा तो मेरे पापा व चाचा घरेलू नाली के पास अलग-2 पड़े थे। मुझे देखते हुये मेरे परिवार के लोग भी आ गये थे। घरवालों ने पुलिस को सूचना दी पुलिस आ गयी थी। और मेरे चाचा व पापा को लेकर अस्पताल पहुँची थी वहाँ पर दोनों को मृत घोषित कर दिया। गवाह ने तहरीर देखकर कहा कि यह वह वही तहरीर जो मैंने लिखकर दी थी। गवाह ने अपने हस्ताक्षर व लेख में दी थी। मैं अपने हस्ताक्षर व लेख कि शिनाख्त करता हूँ। जिस पर प्रदर्श क-1 डाला गया। मेरे पिता व चाचा की हत्या ग्यासउद्दी (काफ्टा) सुपारी देकर करायी थी।"

In cross-examination, this witness stated that till the time the FIR was registered, he did not know the name of the father of the accused. He has reached the police station for lodging the case at about 1 PM and at that time Naushad, Appu and Rafiq had accompanied him. Prior to making the report with the police, the dead body of his father- Naushe and Chanda was lying in the hospital. He further stated that the dead body of his father and Chanda was not sealed in a parcel in his presence and on 24.07.2015 at about 11-11:30 PM, the police has taken the dead body and he has reached the spot at 11:20 PM. The statement was recorded by the police at the spot and he had given the name of the accused person to the Investigating Officer. He further stated that his statement was recorded on 24.07.2015 at 11:35 PM prior to registration of the FIR and the site plan was prepared as per his instructions. He further stated that on complaint, Ex.Ka.1, he has not made any cuttings and signed it as Raja.

In further cross-examination, this witness denied a suggestion that there was no light at the place of occurrence. He further stated that the blood stained stones, pistol and magazine were lying at the place where the dead bodies were lying in front of house of Pyare and Shamshad which are facing each other. This witness admitted that Naushe @ Junaid has criminal history of criminal cases as admitted in the cross-examination. In further cross-examination, this witness gave a description of the incident, however, denied that his father was having enmity with many persons of the locality. He further stated that accused Gayasuddin had a land dispute with his father and denied a suggestion that the accused have not committed murder of his father- Naushe and Chanda. He also denied a suggestion that he was not present at the spot. In further cross-examination, he stated that the exact time of the incident was not recorded in the complaint which was written by his cousin- Guddu and even in the statement under Section 161 Cr.P.C., the time of the incident was not recorded by the Investigating Officer. He further stated that his father sustained bullet injury fired by accused- Bhura but this is not recorded in the statement under Section 161 Cr.P.C. He further stated that there was light outside the house of Shamshad as there was marriage ceremony and lighting was done outside the house. He further denied that accused owe Rs. 2,000/- to his mother and therefore, his name has been falsely implicated. In further cross-examination, this witness stated that during the investigation, he has not provided any evidence to the Investigating Officer regarding the enmity on account of land dispute between Naushe and Gayasuddin. He stated that it is correct that after the police reached at the spot and removed the dead body, the complaint was lodged in the concerned police station. He further stated that the Panchayatnama was prepared by the in-charge of the police station who got his signature on many documents and one knife was recovered from Ahsan.

10. PW-2- Rafeeq also stated on the line of the statement made by PW-1 as well as the version in the FIR. He stated that when the accused persons Bhura, Asif Thakur, Ehsan, Vakeel and Kafeel had encircled his brother- Chanda and his friend- Junaid, they were carrying 315 bore pistols and country made pistols and fired upon Chanda and his friend- Naushe @ Junaid. It was at about 11:30 PM at night and there was light outside the house of Shamshad where some marriage ceremony was going on. He stated that accused were exhorting Junaid and Chanda who have developed enmity with Gayasuddin, it will cost them heavily. Asif gave a blow with a stone on the face of Naushe and Bhura gave a stone blow on the face of his brother- Chanda. Ahsan took out the knife and cut the neck of his brother- Chanda. All the accused persons saying that if any person gave witness against them, he will face the same consequences. Thereafter, the accused ran away and the police reached. In cross-examination, this witness replied to certain queries as under:

"प्रश्न:- यह बात सही है कि इस मुकदमे कि रिपोर्ट इन दोनों मजरूवों को मृत हालत में पुलिस वालों ने मृत हालत में मलखान सिंह में दाखिल करने के बाद रिपोर्ट की थी।

प्रश्न:- क्या आपने उन सिपाहियों के साथ सम्बन्धित डाक्टर को बताया कि हम परीवारी जन हैं।

उत्तर:- हमें मालूम नहीं है।

अस्पताल एक डेढ़ बजे रात पहुंचे थे। अस्पताल में घंटे आध घंटे रुके थे। अस्पताल में मृत शरीर को सरकारी कर्मचारी हिला डुला के देखा था या नहीं यह ध्यान नहीं है। मैं राजा के साथ रिपोर्ट करने थाने पर गया था। थाने पर सुबह 10-11 बजे पहुंचा था। तहरीर राजा ने थाने पर लिखी थी। राजा जहाँ तहरीर लिख रहा था वहाँ पर पुलिस वाले मौजूद थे। नौशे खाँ मेरे भाई के दोस्त थे। राजा मेरा भतीजा लगता है। राजा नौशे खाँ का लड़का है। मकान की चाभी जिसकी तलाश में हम नौशे खाँ व चन्दा के पास

गये थे वह चाभी हमें नहीं मिली क्योंकि वे मर चुके थे। यह बात सही है कि मरे हुये हालत में ये दोनों नालियों में पड़े थे। यह कहना सही है कि ये चोटों के कारण मरे पड़े थे। घटना स्थल पर मृतको से मेरी कोई बातचीत नहीं हुई थी।"

He further denied a suggestion that at the time of preparation of Panchayatnama, names of the accused were not disclosed. This witness after lengthy cross-examination denied a suggestion that he was not present at the spot. He also denied a suggestion that his brother was a known criminal and he was murdered in a gang war.

11. PW-3- Anurudh Kumar stated that on receiving a complaint from informant-Raja, he has registered the chik FIR, Ex.Ka.2 and G.D. Ex.Ka.3. In cross-examination, he stated that the place of occurrence is two kilometer away from the police station and is situated in the densely populated area. He further stated that on 25.07.2015, after the post-mortem was conducted, two envelopes were given to him, carrying bloodstained earth stone, 32 bore magazine which were entered in the G.D. He further stated that in cross-examination that the chik report was prepared through a computer and G.D. was written prior to recording the chik FIR.

In further cross-examination, he stated that Section 364 of I.P.C. was not made out and he gave minute details of the investigation conducted by him. This witness further stated that the doctor who conducted Postmortem, in his statement has stated that Chanda suffered two bullet injuries whereas the deceased had one bullet injury. He stated that he did not remember if the metallic bullet also retrieved from the body of deceased and was sent to ballistic expert or not. He admitted that deceased Naushe and Chanda had a criminal history in police station-Delhi Gate and they were involved in heinous offences like murder, dacoity etc.

He denied a suggestion that he has not conducted the investigation at the spot and prepared the report while sitting in the police station.

13. PW-5- Dr. P. Kumar, who conducted the post-mortem deposed as under:

"ब्यान साक्षी - डॉ पी. कुमार हाल तैनात पंडित दीन दयाल अस्पताल अलीगढ़ में फिजिसियन के पद पर तैनात हूँ। मैं दिनांक 25.7.2015 को इसी पद पर इसी चिकित्सालय में तैनात था। उस दिन मैंने मृतक नौश उर्फ जुनैद s/o मुन्ने खाँ उम्र लगभग 38 साल नि० लाल मस्जिद के सामने खैररोड थाना देहली गेट अलीगढ़ का 4.30 PM पर शव विच्छेदन किया था जिसे सील हालत में कां० 463 वीरेन्द्र HG 853 जयराम थाना देहली गेट अलीगढ़ सील हालत में लेकर आये थे।

In cross-examination, this witness gave the details about the nature of injury sustained by the victim. He stated that in the post-mortem, Ex.Ka.9 and Ex.Ka.10, the description of injuries sustained by the victims were mentioned. He stated that the bullet referred to Ex.Ka.9 is not produced in the court and even the weapons recovered were not shown to him in the court. He further stated that in Ex.Ka.10, there are three bruises and there is no incised wound. He denied a suggestion that the Ex.Ka.9 and Ex.Ka.10 relates to two male Hindu person.

14. PW-6, Suraj Pal Sharma (S.H.O.), Investigating Officer who conducted the investigation deposed as under :

"बयान साक्षी- SHO श्री सूरज पाल शर्मा थाना राया जिला मथुरासशपथ बयान किया मैं दिनांक 25.07.2015 को बतौर SI थाना देहली गेट पर नियुक्त था तभी वादी मुकदमा राजा s/o नौशे निवासी लाल मस्जिद खैर रोड़ अलीगढ़ ने थाना देहली गेट पर अपने पिता नौशे व उनके दोस्त चन्दा की हत्या किये जाने के सम्बन्ध में तहरीर दी तहरीर के आधार पर मु०अ०सं० 253/2015 धारा 147, 148, 149, 120B, 302 IPC बनाम पहलवान 2. आसिफ ठाकुर 3. कपिल 4. वकील 5. भूरा 6. गयासुद्दीन के विरुद्ध पंजीकृत किया गया। इस सूचना पर थाना हाजा के रपट नं० 2 समय 00.10 बजे रात्रि में SO श्री विनोद कुमार SI प्रेमपाल सिंह SI इकरार हुसैन ASI नत्थू सिंह के साथ रवाना हुआ। थानवा से रवाना होकर शमशाद के घर पास पहुंचा वहाँ पर मृतक नौशे व चन्दा के शव घरेलू नाली में पड़े हैं। मृतक नौशे का शव नाली से निकाल कर रात्रि का वख्त

15. PW-7, Mahtab Hasan, another Investigating Officer deposed about the arrest of the accused persons and the procedure adopted under Section 82 of Cr.P.C..

16. PW-8, Prem Pal Singh, Sub Inspector, another Investigating Officer gave details about the preparation of Panchayatnama and sending the dead body to mortuary for postmortem. In cross examination, this witness admitted that in the Panchayatnama the date has been changed from 24 to 25 and on the first page, space of the case number was left blank. He admitted that the Panchayatnama was not prepared at the spot where the dead body was recovered and on first page, the name of the person, giving the information is also not mentioned. He stated that the dead body was kept in the custody of two constables and was not sealed. He stated that it was dark due to night, therefore, the Panchayatnama was not written at the spot and the proceedings of Panchayatnama were initiated after the sunrise on the next date. He has also given the description of the recovery affected at the spot. He further stated that it is correct that the Panchayatnama was completed at 12:10 at noon and till the time, the proceedings of Panchayatnama were started, the FIR was not registered and during the proceedings, constable-Mahesh Kumar came along with a copy of FIR. He admitted that while recovering the dead body, country made pistol and cartridges were not sealed at the spot and witness-Rafeeq has not stated that he had seen the occurrence. He admitted that in the Panchayatnama, it is recorded that the deceased was murdered by miscreants by firing upon the deceased persons.

17. PW-9, Sahbeer Singh, another Investigating Officer deposed about recording of the GD Entries and statements of the witnesses. He proved the permission from the District Magistrate for trial of the accused person under Section 25 of the Arms Act as Exhibit Ka-14 to Ka-16.

In cross examination, he denied the suggestion that the accused persons were arrested from their home. He also denied that no recovery was affected from accused persons.

18. PW-10, Dharendra Singh proved the recovery memo of weapon of offence which was Exhibited as Ka-17. He identified the signature of the In-charge as Exhibit Ka-18. This witness also denied the suggestions that the entire proceeding was prepared at the police station on the direction of S.O.. This witness on further examination proved the memo prepared by S.O. Surya Prakash as Exhibit Ka-19 to Ka-27 which was relating to the investigation of the case.

19. Thereafter the statement of the accused under Section 313 Cr.P.C. was recorded and all the incriminating evidence was put to them. In reply to a question what the accused want to state in their defence, it was stated that no recovery of weapon was affected from them and the prosecution story is false.

20. In defence evidence, DW-1 Shahid Quayoom appeared and stated that on the date of incident at about 12:30 at night, he was present near his house which is situated on the corner of 'Amar Masjid Wali Street' after leaving two houses is the house of Shamshad. While hearing noise in the street, he came out, it was pitch dark and nothing was visible. There was no marriage programme on that date, he heard noise of fight near the house of Shamshad but nothing was visible and after one and a half hours, police came and took dead bodies of two persons who were later on found to be of two history sheeters namely Naushe @ Junaid and Chanda @ Chanda and they were murdered by some unknown persons. No one has witnessed the incident. In cross examination, he denied the suggestion that there was a function at the house of Shamshad. He also denied that he was not present on the spot.

21. DW-2 Pyara Khan also stated that on the date of incident it was pitch dark and on hearing the noise of fire, he woke up and had seen from the window that 5-6 persons were running in the street, who ran away towards another 'Chapparwali street'. After one and a half hours police came and took the bodies of two persons. On that day, there was no marriage function as it was scheduled for the next date.

22. In cross examination, this witness stated that the assailants were having muffled faces and he did not go out of his house and had seen from the window. However, he admitted that there was marriage of son of Shamshad but he denied the suggestion that there was lighting on his house on that night.

23. Thereafter, the Trial Court held the appellants guilty of offence under Section 302 read with Section 149 of I.P.C, Section 120(B) of I.P.C and section 25 of Arms Act and awarded death sentence and life imprisonment as noted above.

24. The paper book is ready. The Trial Court record is received and entire evidence is re-appreciated with the assistance of learned counsel for appellant and the learned AGA for the State.

25. Counsel for the appellant Ahsan has argued that as per the prosecution witnesses, on 27.7.2015 at 00:25 AM, inquest of deceased Naushe @ Junaid was started and completed at 12:30 PM, as per Ex.Ka-11 and similarly as per Ex.Ka-12 inquest of Chand @ Chanda was also prepared at the same time. It is further submitted that postmortem of both the dead bodies were conducted from 4:00 PM to 4:30 PM of Chand @ Chanda and from 4:30 PM to 5:00 PM of Naushe @ Junaid. It is thus submitted that there is no explanation of the delay in reporting the matter to the police and registration of the FIR.

26. Counsel argued that according to the prosecution version, the incident took place on 24.7.2015 at about 11:30 PM and place of occurrence is about 2 Kilometer away from the police station whereas, the report was lodged with the police station on the next day i.e. 25.7.2015 at 10 AM by Raja (PW-1), the first informant. It is submitted that the case was initially registered as Case Crime No. 253 of 2015 but later on it was changed to 362 of 2015 and the prosecution has failed to explain this discrepancy. It is next argued that from the statement of PW-1, the first informant, who is son of deceased Naushe @ Junaid, it has come that there was indiscriminate firing on the deceased persons but as per the postmortem report of the deceased Naushe @ Junaid, he received one fire arm injury and Chand @ Chanda received two fire arm injuries and, therefore, PW-1 is not an eye witness. It is also argued that as per PW-1, the first informant, the appellant Ahsan has inflicted knife injury on the neck of the deceased Chand @ Chanda but as per the postmortem report, PW-5, the doctor who conducted the postmortem stated that, there is no incised wound on his neck.

27. It is next argued that PW-1 stated that he reached at the spot after the miscreants has fled away and found that the dead bodies of his father Naushe @ Junaid and Chand @ Chanda were lying near a Nali (drain), but as per site plan prepared by the Investigating Officer, dead bodies were found inside Nali (Drain) near the door of one Pyare, who appeared as PW-2. It also show that PW-1 is not an eye witness.

28. Counsel next argued that PW-1, the first informant, stated that on 25.7.2015 at about 12:20 – 12:30 AM, he went to police station for lodging the FIR which was registered within 10 minutes of reaching there. It is submitted that perusal of the FIR show that it was registered at 00:10 AM which shows that the FIR is anti timed. The counsel has also referred to certain discrepancies with regard to the time given by PW-1 regarding reaching the police station for lodging of FIR and submits that genesis of the occurrence as well as timing of the lodging of the FIR is highly discrepant which prove that PW-1 is not an eye witness. Counsel has further challenged the credibility of PW-1 on the ground that the name of the accused persons were not disclosed in the statement of PW-1 and therefore, name of the accused persons are mentioned as after thought improvements.

29. It is argued that both PW-1 and PW-2 are closely related with the deceased persons and are highly interested witnesses. There are many contradiction in their statements and therefore, their testimonies cannot be relied on.

30. Counsel submits that while preparing the Panchayatnama, which was prior to the registration of the FIR, in the opinion of the Panches, some miscreants have committed murder of Naushe @ Junaid and Chand @ Chanda. It is submitted that PW-1, first informant, has admitted that his father and uncle, both the deceased, were harden criminal of the area and they were facing trials in number of cases, an admitted fact which was put to him during the cross examination.

31. The counsel argued that, in fact, both the deceased were having enmity with the persons of the locality and they were murdered by some unknown persons and the appellants have been made scape goat by the informant.

32. Counsel next argued that the incident took place at a place where it was pitch dark at about 11:30 PM and nobody has seen the occurrence. Both PW-1 and PW-2 are planted as eye witness next day when the FIR was registered.

33. It is submitted that the statement of PW-2 is also contradictory with the statement of PW-1.

34. Counsel has argued that during cross examination PW-2 was not able to give correct description of the place of occurrence and the manner of assault which also proves that even PW-2 was not eye witness. The counsel submits that there are cuttings and improvements in the column of date and time, in both the inquest reports which suggests that the FIR was not registered on the alleged date and time as suggested by the prosecution.

35. Counsel submits that the prosecution has failed to prove that there was any motive behind occurrence and therefore, participation of the appellant Ahsan in the absence of any motive is not proved.

36. Counsel lastly argued that it is not a rarest of rare case where the death penalty has been awarded.

37. Counsel for the other appellants have further argued that as per the FSL report, Ex.Ka-29, the weapon of offence recovered from the accused was never sent for examination. For ready reference report is as under :-

38. It is argued that even as per PW-1, a bullet and magazine was recovered at the spot but the same was never sent to the Forensic Science Laboratory by the Investigating Officer.

39. Counsel submits that even the two blood stained stone which related to deceased Chand @ Chanda and Naushe @ Junaid, as per Ex.1 and 2, the FSL report states that since the blood was disintegrated therefore, its source could not be ascertained. It is argued that in the light of the FSL report, no offence is proved.

40. Counsel for the appellants submitted that accused Gayasuddin has been convicted in the aid of Section 120-B IPC read with Section 302 IPC for life imprisonment though as per the prosecution version, he was not present at the spot. He further argued that no evidence of conspiracy has come on record except that PW-1 has stated that Gayasuddin has got murder of his father and uncle done by giving 'Supari'.

41. Counsel further submits that in cross examination of PW-1 it is only stated that there was a land dispute between Gayasuddin and the deceased persons, however, this witness has also admitted that he has not provided any evidence to the Investigating Officer regarding any land dispute and, therefore, motive against the appellant Gayasuddin is not proved.

42. Counsel for the appellant Asif Thakur has also raised similar argument. It is submitted that both the deceased were history sheeters having many criminal history as admitted by PW-1 and PW-2 and it has come in the statement of two defence witness DW-1 and DW-2 that some unknown persons have killed the deceased.

43. Counsel appearing for Gayasuddin has also argued that there is no evidence of conspiracy on record. It is submitted that PW-1 has admitted that he has no provided any document regarding any litigation of his father and Gayasuddin and therefore, in the absence of any such evidence, the case of prosecution that with a motive and conspiracy Gayasuddin by paying 'supari' got murder of the assailants is false and there is no evidence except bald statement of informant.

44. In reply, counsel for the informant as well as counsel for the State have argued that both the eye witnesses PW-1 and PW-2 have duly supported the witness. It is submitted that in a calculated conspiracy, two persons Naushe @ Junaid and Chanda @ Chand were murdered by the accused persons. It is also submitted that recovery of blood stones, pistol and magazine with cartridges were also recovered on the spot. It is also submitted that after the arrest of the accused persons they had made disclosure that they have thrown their respective weapons and therefore same could not be recovered. It is submitted that there was sufficient light at the spot as it was a marriage function in the house of Shamshad and the prosecution witness have seen the occurrence in the light and have identified the accused persons as the assailants. It is also argued that all the accused persons were assigned to fire arm weapon and as per the post mortem report both the deceased persons have suffered injuries in a manner as explained by prosecution witnesses.

45. It is thus argued that appeal be dismissed.

46. In reply, the counsel for the appellant has argued that prosecution has failed to prove any connection of the accused persons with their respective arms as per post mortem report. It is also submitted that it came in the statement of the doctor that two bullets were retrieved from the dead body, however, same were never sent for examination in the Forensic Science Laboratory. It is also submitted that the deceased have long criminal history in the area and the motive for hatching the conspiracy are not proved.

47. It is also argued that the reasons for delay in sending the first information report to the concerned Magistrate has not been explained as PW-3 has stated that he don't know which official has taken report (Ex.Ka-3) to the Chief Judicial Magistrate. It is also argued that PW-1 and PW-2 are not the eye witnesses as they being the son and nephew of the deceased did not try to save them and even did not ...attend the deceased persons as there is no blood stained on their clothes. It is submitted that in both the inquest reports, it is stated that some unknown criminals have murdered the deceased persons and at that time PW-1 and PW-2 never named the appellant as the assailant.

48. It is argued t hat three First Information Reports in Crime No. 377, 378 and 379 of 2015 were registered. Prior to preparation of recovery weapons and therefore, the weapons were not sent for ballistic examination alongwith bullets recovered from the dead bodies.

49. Counsel has relied upon the judgment in the case of Mehraj Singh (L/Nk) Vs. State of UP; (1994) 5 SCC 188, where the Supreme Court has held that the delay in sending FSL report to the Magistrate or failure to sent copy of the FIR to the Medical Officer alongwith the post mortem report, in the absence of any reference in the inquest report give rise to inference that the FIR is anti times. Similar view is taken in the case of Thanedar Singh Vs. State of MP; (2002) 1 SCC 487.

50. Counsel has also relied upon the judgment in the case of Mohd. Muslim Vs.

State of UP; (2023) LiveLaw SC 489, wherein the Supreme Court has held that if the credibility of the eye witness of the incident is not proved, a benefit of doubt be given to the accused persons.

51. Reliance is also placed upon the judgment in the case of Manoj Kumar Soni Vs. State of MP; 2023 0 Supreme (SC) 703, wherein the Supreme Court has held as under :-

“38. It is intriguing that among all five accused persons, only Kallu has been convicted for criminal conspiracy under Section 120-B, IPC. At this stage, we cannot help but wonder: can a single individual conspire with oneself? We cannot but disagree. It logically follows that one person alone can never be held guilty of criminal conspiracy because one cannot conspire with oneself. As per Black’s Law Dictionary (8th Edn), ‘conspiracy’ is an “agreement by two or more persons to commit an unlawful act, coupled with an intent to achieve the agreement’s objective, and action or conduct that furthers the agreement”. The wordings of Section 120-A, IPC make it abundantly clear—the offence of criminal conspiracy is committed only when two or more persons agree to do or cause to be done an illegal act or legal act by illegal means. The position in English law too is well-settled. In *The King vs. Plummer*¹⁰, the King’s Bench, speaking through Lord Justice Bruce, held:

It logically follows from the nature of the offence of conspiracy that, where two or more persons are charged in the same indictment with (1902) 2 KB 339 conspiracy with one another, and the indictment contains no charge of their conspiring with other persons not named in the indictment, then, if all but one of the persons named in the indictment are acquitted, no valid judgment can be passed upon the one remaining person. (page 343)

39. In *I.G. Singleton v. King-Emperor*¹¹, the Calcutta High Court further clarified the law related to criminal conspiracy:

The rule of English law that is now well settled is that where two persons are indicted for conspiring together and they are tried together, both must be acquitted, or both convicted. (page 265)

40. The decision of this Court in Topandas (supra) affirmed the aforesaid position and held:

14. ... on the charge as it was framed against the Accused 1, 2, 3 and 4 in this case, the Accused 1 could not be convicted of the offence under Section 120-B of the Indian Penal Code when his alleged co-conspirators Accused 2, 3 and 4 were acquitted of that offence.

41. Having regard to the position of law as aforesaid, the conviction of Kallu under Section 120-B, IPC stands completely vitiated because of the simple reason that one cannot alone conspire. There is no evidence to even remotely suggest that there existed any agreement between Kallu and the co-accused while none of the others, except Kallu, has been convicted for criminal conspiracy.”

52. The counsel submits that in view of arguments raised, the conviction of the appellant Gayasuddin stands vitiated as there is no evidence that he had any agreement with the co-accused to commit offence.

53. After hearing the learned counsel appearing on behalf of accused- appellants as well as learned AGA for State and perusal of lower court record, paper book and re-appreciation of evidence, we find merits so far the case of accused- Gayasuddin is concerned.

Appellant-Gayasuddin is tried in the aid of Section 120B IPC as in the FIR the informant/ PW-1 has stated that after committing the offence, the assailants were shouting that since the deceased were having enmity with accused-Gayasuddin, they have killed them. However, while in the cross examination, PW-1 (Raja) has admitted as under:

“यह बात सही है कि मेरे पिता नौशे को मारने के लिये किसी व्यक्ति से मेरे सामने गयासुद्दीन ने बात नहीं की थी। मुझे याद नहीं है कि मैंने अपनी तहरीर में यह बात लिखाई थी या नहीं कि मुल्जिम गयासुद्दीन ने मेरे वालिद नौशे को मारने की बात की थी याद नहीं है। यह बात सही है कि दौरान विवेचना मैंने किसी भी विवेचना अधिकारी या किसी व्यक्ति या अधिकारी को जमीनी रंजिश नौशे व गयासुद्दीन के जमीनी रंजिश के बाबत कोई भी दस्तावेजी साक्ष्य इस बाबत उपलब्ध नहीं कराया था कि उक्त रंजिश किसी प्लाट खेत व मकान आदि के बाबत थी मुझे ध्यान नहीं है।”

54. Similarly, second eye witness i.e. PW-2 Rafeeq has even gone to the extent that he had not heard any accused naming Gayasuddin that he was having enmity with deceased Naushe and Chanda. However, while in the cross examination, PW-2 (Rafeeq) has admitted as under:

“मैंने गयासुद्दीन के बाबत किसी भी मुल्जिम के द्वारा यह बात करते नहीं सुना था कि नौशे व चंदा से मेरी रंजीस है, इन्हें खत्म कर दो। मैंने दोनों मृतको को उठाया नहीं था न ही उलट पलट कर चोटो को देखा था। मुझे पहले से यह बात नहीं मालूम थी कि गयासुद्दीन व एहसान अभियुक्त से गयासुद्दीन की कोई रंजीश मृतक चंदा व नौशे से रही हो और न ही मृतको ने कभी मुझे बताया था।”

Therefore, except the bald statement made in the FIR that the assailants / accused, Ahsan, Asif Thakur, Bhoora, Kafeel and Wakeel were having any meeting of minds with accused- Gayasuddin or that Gayasuddin has paid any amount for killing the two accused persons, namely, Naushe and Chanda, nothing has come in the evidence.

55. The cross examination of PW-1 (Raja) & PW-2(Rafeeq) is clear that in their statement recorded under Section 161 Cr.P.C., both these witnesses have not named Gayasuddin as a principal conspirator and even in cross examination they have not levelled the allegations of conspiracy against Gayasuddin, therefore, in view of judgment of Supreme Court in Manoj Kumar Soni's Case (supra), the conviction of Gayasuddin under Section 120B IPC stands completely vitiated as there is no evidence even remotely to suggest that there existed any agreement between Gayasuddin and other co-accused.

56. Accordingly, the appeal filed by accused Gayasuddin is accepted and he is acquitted of charge.

57. The appellant Gayasuddin is in custody since 22.4.2022 and, therefore, he will be released forthwith, if he is not required in any other case.

58. So far as the accused Ahsan, Asif Thakur, Bhoora, Kafeel and Wakeel are concerned, there is no merits in their appeals for the following reasons :

A. One of the primary defence taken by the accused-appellants is that at the place of occurrence it was pitch dark as the occurrence took place around 11-11:30 p.m. However, both PW-1 and PW-2 are consistent that the occurrence took place in front of house of one Shamsad where there was a marriage function and lighting were done outside his house.

B. Even the defence witnesses, PW-2(Rafeeq) has admitted that there was marriage of the son of Shamsad but stated that it was scheduled on the next day, therefore, putting up the lights outside the house of Shamshad on account of marriage of his son is duly proved not only by PW1 & PW-2 but by DW-1 as well.

C. Both, PW-1 & PW-2 have named all the accused persons as assailants and have given complete description, the manner in which they have committed offence of murder of Naushe and Chanda.

D. The next argument raised by the counsel for appellant that the deceased were having criminal history and they were murdered by unknown assailants as it noticed in the inquest report is of no avail as the panches of inquest report are not the eye witness. PW1 & PW-2 have consistently given the name of accused persons as the assailants and in lengthy cross examination, their testimony could not be shattered.

E. The argument raised by learned counsel for appellants that PW-1 &

PW-2 are not the eye witnesses is also without any merit as they are being the son and nephew of the deceased are the natural witnesses who have stated that they were present at the spot when the incident took place and have witnessed the occurrence in the light. The minor contradictions in the time and manner of preparation of inquest report and sending the dead body to the hospital for postmortem do not prove that the FIR was ante time. The prosecution has proved recovery of three firearms i.e. 314 bore country made pistol from Bhoora, 32 bore pistol and empty magazine from Wakeel and 34 bore pistol without magazine from Kafeel which are exhibited by the Investigating Officer and, therefore, assailants were armed with deadly weapons which were used for committing the offence. Even at the time of conducting the postmortem, one bullet each was retrieved from the dead body of the victim.

F. The argument raised by counsel for appellants that these bullets were not sent for examination to the Ballistic Expert, though may be a lapse on the part of the Investigating Officer but do not make the prosecution case doubtful as the eye witnesses have deposed that the assailants were armed with firearm weapon and the Investigating Officer / PW-4 has duly proved the recovery effected from the accused persons i.e. the firearms which were duly exhibited.

G. The bloodstained earth and stones recovered from the spot, though as per FSL report were found having human blood but it was opined that same is disintegrated as per the cause of death as opined by the Doctor who conducted the postmortem both the deceased died because of firearms injuries and the crush injury sustained on the face and head also corroborate the version of PW-1 and PW-2 that after giving firearms injuries, the accused with the help of stones have crushed the heads of the deceased.

In their statement under Section 313 Cr.P.C., the accused persons could not give any valid explanation to contradict the incriminating evidence which was put to them except that they have been falsely implicated.

H. As noticed above, both the defence witnesses have admitted that on the date of incident, there was marriage function in the house of one Shamsad. Therefore, the place of occurrence has described by the PW-1 and PW-2 to be outside the house of Shamsad is also proved by the prosecution.

58. In view of above, we find no merits in the appeal filed by accused-appellants Ahsan, Asif Thakur, Bhoora, Kafeel and Wakeel and their conviction as per the judgment of Trial Court is upheld. However, so far the death penalty awarded by the Trial Court to the aforesaid appellants is concerned, this Court finds merit that it is not 'rarest of rare' cases where death penalty should be awarded to the appellant.

59. The Supreme Court in the case State of Maharashtra Vs. Nisar Ramzan Sayyed, 2017(2) R.C.R.(Criminal) 564, has held that in case where a pregnant woman who along with a minor child was murdered, there are various circumstances pointing out certain lacuna, the death penalty should not be awarded and the judgment of Trial Court was modified to life imprisonment till natural life of the accused.

60. The Supreme Court in State of U.P. Vs. Ram Kumar and others, 2017(5) R.C.R.(Criminal)785, has held that taking consideration of facts and circumstances of the case, the capital punishment is to be converted into life imprisonment.

61. The Supreme Court in Chhannu Lal Verma Vs. State of Chhattisgarh, 2019(5) R.C.R.(Criminal) 192, has discussed the aggravating circumstances as well as mitigating circumstances which read as under : -

"Aggravating circumstances: A court may, however, in the following cases impose the penalty of death in its discretion:

(a) if the murder has been committed after previous planning and involves extreme brutality; or

(b) if the murder involves exceptional depravity; or

(c) if the murder is of a member of any of the armed forces of the Union or of a member of any police force or of any public servant and was committed—

(i) while such member or public servant was on duty; or

(ii) in consequence of anything done or attempted to be done by such member or public servant in the lawful discharge of his duty as such member or public servant whether at the time of murder he was such member or public servant, as the case may be, or had ceased to be such member or public servant; or

(d) if the murder is of a person who had acted in the lawful discharge of his duty under Section 43 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973, or who had rendered assistance to a Magistrate or a police officer demanding his aid or requiring his assistance under Section 37 and Section 129 of the said Code."

Mitigating circumstances: In the exercise of its discretion in the above cases, the court shall take into account the following circumstances:

(1) That the offence was committed under the influence of extreme mental or emotional disturbance.

(2) The age of the accused. If the accused is young or old, he shall not be sentenced to death.

(3) The probability that the accused would not commit criminal acts of violence as would constitute a continuing threat to society.

(4) The probability that the accused can be reformed and rehabilitated. The State shall by evidence prove that the accused does not satisfy the conditions (3) and (4) above.

(5) That in the facts and circumstances of the case the accused believed that he was morally justified in committing the offence.

(6) That the accused acted under the duress or domination of another person.

(7) That the condition of the accused showed that he was mentally defective and that the said defect impaired his capacity to appreciate the criminality of his conduct."

In this case, after upholding the conviction of the accused who were held guilty of committing murder of four persons with a knife, the Supreme Court commuted the death penalty to life imprisonment.

62. In Dnyaneshwar Suresh Borkar Vs. State of Maharashtra, 2019(2) R.C.R.(Criminal) 302, it is held by Supreme Court that if the Court is inclined to award death penalty, then there must of exceptional circumstances warranting imposition of excess penalty. The Court should consider probability of reformation and rehabilitation of convict in the society as this is one of the mandates of special reason as per requirement of Section 354(3)

Cr.P.C. It is also held in the judgment that when the DNA report is not done, an adverse inference should not be drawn. It is also held that the antecedents of the convict or that the pendency of one or more criminal cases against the convict, cannot be a factor of consideration for awarding death sentence and, therefore, has held that looking to the conduct of the convict, the capital sentence can be commuted .

63. The Supreme Court in Manoharan Vs. State by Inspector of Police, Variety Hall Police Station , Coimbatore, 2019AIR (Supreme Court) 3746, has held that a balance sheet of aggravating and mitigating circumstances should be drawn while awarding death penalty and in doing so mitigating circumstances have to be accorded full weightage and a just balance has to be struck between the aggravating and the mitigating circumstances while exercising judicial discretion. The Supreme Court while commuting death sentence to life imprisonment till his natural death without remission by upholding the conviction.

64. In Veerendra Vs. State of Madhya Pradesh, 2022(3)R.C.R.(Criminal) 254, the Supreme Court while upholding conviction under Section 364A, 376(2)(i), 302, 201 IPC regarding murder and rape of a minor girl, commuted the death sentence to life imprisonment with stipulation that the convict is not entitled to premature release or remission before undergoing imprisonment of thirty years.

65. In The State of Haryana Vs. Anand Kindo & Another etc., 2022(4)R.C.R. (Criminal)735, the Supreme Court has again held that if there is any circumstance favouring the accused such as lack of intention to commit the crime, possibility of reformation, young age of the accused, accused not being a menace to the society and his clearly criminal antecedents, the death sentence can be commuted to life for a actual period of thirty years.

66. In Re: Framing Guidelines Regarding Potential Mitigating Circumstances to be Considered While Imposing Death Sentences, 2023(1) R.C.R.(Criminal) 571, the Supreme Court while deciding the issue regarding the same day sentence of capital sentence, held that the conviction will not be vitiated, however held that the hearing under Section 325(2) Cr.P.C., requires the accused and the prosecution, at their option, be given the meaningful opportunity which in usual course is not conditional upon time or dates granted for the same and should be qualitatively and quantitatively.

67. In Sundar @ Sundarrajan Vs. State by Inspector of Police, 2023 Cri.L.R.(SC) 473, the Supreme Court held that it is the duty of the Court to enquire into mitigating circumstances as well as to foreclose the possibility of reformation and rehabilitation before imposing the death penalty. It is also held that even though the crime committed by the accused is unquestionably grave and unpardonable, it will not be appropriate to affirm the death sentence as 'rarest of rare' doctrine requires that the death sentence not be imposed only by taking into account the grave nature of crime but only if there is no possibility of reformation.

The State of Madhya Pradesh, 2024(1) Crimes 121, the Supreme Court has commuted the death sentence despite holding that the offence committed was brutal or barbaric, however, considering the mitigating circumstances, the capital sentence was commuted to life for a fixed term of sentence.

69. As noticed above, it has been held by the Supreme Court in Nisar Ramzan Sayyed Case (Supra), Ram Kumar and others, Chhannu Lal Verma, Dnyaneshwar Suresh Borkar, Manoharan Case (Supra), Veerendra Case (Supra), Anand Kindo & Another Case (Supra), Ravindar Singh Case (Supra), Digambar's Case (Supra) and Bhaggi @ Bhagirah @ Naran's Case (Supra) that if the Court is inclined to award death penalty, there must be exceptional circumstance warranting imposition of excessive death penalty which cannot be reversed.

70. In the light of the judgment of Supreme Court (supra), there is no aggravating circumstances as the Trial Court has not recorded any satisfaction that in case the life imprisonment awarded to the accused persons, there will be a security threat to the society as the accused persons have no criminal history.

71. The Trial Court has also not considered the age of the accused while awarding death penalty. All the accused persons are married persons having their family to support and this aspect have also not considered by the Trial Court rather there are mitigating circumstances in favour of the appellants as considering their age, there is probability that the accused can be reformed and rehabilitated as they have no criminal history.

72. Accordingly, while upholding the judgment of conviction of accused-appellants, namely, Ahsan, Asif Thakur, Bhoora, Kafeel and Wakeel, we partly allowed the appeal and convert the death penalty to life imprisonment for a fixed period of 20 years. They are in custody and will continue to serve remaining punishment. The finding recorded by the Trial Court regarding the imposition of fine is also upheld.

73. Record and proceedings be sent back to the Trial Court forthwith.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Subhash Vidyarthi J.)

1. Heard Shri Indu Prakash Singh, the learned counsel for the appellant and Shri R.S. Dwivedi, the learned Additional Government Advocate for the State.

2. By means of the instant appeal filed under Section 374 (2) of Cr.P.C., the appellant has challenged validity of the judgment and order dated 27.03.2019 passed by Sri Nand Pratap Ojha, the learned V Additional Sessions Judge, Bahraich in Sessions Trial No.110 of 2017, arising out of Case Crime No.215 of 2017 under Sections 498-A, 323, 304-B, 201, 504, 506, 302 I.P.C. and 3/4 Dowry Prohibition Act registered at Police Station-Risiya, District Bahraich, to the extent that it holds the appellant guilty of committing offences under Sections 302, 201 I.P.C. and sentences him to undergo simple imprisonment for life and pay Rs.50,000/- as fine and on failure to pay fine, to undergo simple imprisonment for a further period of 3 years for the offence under Section 302 I.P.C. The appellant has been sentenced to undergo simple imprisonment for 5 years and pay Rs.10,000/- fine and in case of failure to pay fine, to undergo simple imprisonment for a further period of one year for the offence under Section 201 I.P.C.

3. Briefly stated, facts of the case are that on 15.01.2017, the informant Shabana, daughter of Azmat Khan, had given a written complaint to the Station House Officer, Risiya stating that her sister Sayra Bano had got married to the appellant - Hafeez Khan on 11.05.2016. Merely a few days after marriage, her sister informed her telephonically that the appellant, his mother - Zakrun Nisa, her maternal aunt Shahjahan and his grand-father Buddhu used to beat her for demanding dowry. Thereafter, the informant took her sister to her home. After some days, the appellant visited the informant's home, apologized for his fault and assured that such things would not recur. The informant sent her sister with the appellant on 12.12.2016. After a few days, the informant's sister informed her telephonically that all the aforesaid four persons had again started beating and harassing her for demanding dowry. The informant tried to contact her sister through phone, but her phone was switched off. On 15.01.2017, she went to her sister's home at Makoliya where all the aforesaid four accused persons abused and threatened her and they turned her out of their home. The informant expressed a suspicion that the aforesaid four persons had made her sister disappear for demanding dowry.

4. The Investigating Officer claims that some informer told him that the appellant had killed his wife and had buried the dead body in the grave of one Kennoo, whereupon the appellant was taken into custody. The grave of Kennoo was dug out and a dead body was exhumed after digging upto a depth of merely about two feet. The inquest proceedings conducted at the spot of recovery of the dead body was witnessed by (1) the informant Smt. Shabana, (2) the informant's sister Smt. Parveen, (3) Achhan son of Kennoo, (4) Abdul Naushad and (5) Pappu. It mentions that a red colour Kurta and salwar was there on the dead body and a Duppatta like sheet was wrapped around its neck. It mentions that the informant Smt. Shabana and her sister Smt. Parveen had identified the dead body as belonging to Sayra.

5. The postmortem examination of the dead body was conducted on 19.01.2017 itself and the postmortem report also makes a mention of the clothes and a black thread with Tabeez present on the dead body. The report mentions that the face of the body was not recognizable. Skin had peeled off with grayish dis-colouration, ligaments were loosened, nails, hairs easily pulled out, teeth loosened from their sockets and soft parts were changing into black mass. Eyeballs were missing and eye-tor orbit was filled with mud. The postmortem examination report mentioned some injuries on the dead body, including an incised wound of 8x2 cm, cervical vertebra deep over front of neck, trachea and cervical vertebra out, hyoid bone and trachea partially missing. The cause of death was opined to be shock and hemorrhage due to anti-mortem injury. The time of death was opined to be about 8 weeks ago.

6. The police claim to have recovered a knife wrapped in an old cloth kept on a loft in the appellant's house on his voluntary pointing out. The recovery is said to have been witnessed by the informant Shabana, her sister Parveen and the appellant, besides some police personnel. The test report given by the Forensic Science Laboratory, U.P., Lucknow, mentions presence of blood on major parts of the knife, but the blood had been disintegrated and its group could not be ascertained.

7. On 10.04.2017, a charge-sheet was submitted against the applicant for offences under Sections 498-A, 323, 304-B, 201, 504, 506, 302 I.P.C. and 3/4 Dowry Prohibition Act and the Chief Judicial Magistrate took cognizance of the offences on 15.04.2017 and committed the matter to the Sessions Judge on the same date. The case was registered as Sessions Trial No.110 of 2017 and it was transferred to the Court of the learned Additional Sessions Judge/Fast track Court-I, Bahraich.

8. The record reveals that the appellant had filed an application for his release on bail, which was rejected by the trial Court by means of an order dated 02.05.2017 and he continued to remain in custody through the entire trial and he is in custody even at present.

9. The trial Court framed charges by means of an order dated 03.07.2017 regarding offences under Sections 498-A, 323, 304-B, 201, 504, 506 IPC and Sections 3/4 Dowry Prohibition Act and an alternative charge for commission of offence under Section 302 I.P.C. was also framed.

10. The prosecution examined nine witnesses.

11. PW-1 Smt. Shabana, who was the informant, reiterated the F.I.R. version. She further stated that she had got the complaint scribed by some unnamed person and had put her thumb impression thereon. This complaint was proved by PW-1 as exhibit-A1.

12. In her cross-examination, PW-1 stated that her sister Sayra Bano had got married about 3 – 3½ years ago to a person named Munna, who was resident of Bahraich City. Sayra stayed with him for about two years and thereafter one day Munna informed that Sayra had gone missing from her home. Munna had also told her that Hafeez Khan son of Subrati Khan resident of Makoliya (the appellant) was his friend and he used to visit Munna's place. Munna had expressed a suspicion that Hafeez was involved in Sayra Bano having gone missing. Thereafter, the informant had gone to the appellant's house along with Munna but the appellant had abused them and turned them away from his home stating that he did not know about the informant's sister. Thereafter, the informant's brother-in-law Munna had taken her to the police station and got the complaint scribed by a person by dictating it himself. He got the informant's thumb impression on the complaint and handed it over to the police.

13. PW-1 categorically stated that all the things written in the complaint were wrong and the same were got scribed by her brother-in-law Munna to save himself by getting a case registered against the appellant whereas the truth is that her sister never got married to the appellant and the appellant never harassed her sister or demanded dowry. The Investigating Officer had detained the appellant at the police station since the day the FIR was lodged. The appellant had expressed ignorance about Sayra Bano. The Investigating Officer had asked Munna to search for Sayra Bano and after 3-4 days, Munna had given information about dead body of her sister having been found in the grave yard. Upon this, the informant, her elder sister Parveen, her younger sister Saher Bano, Pappu and Dilawar, who are also residents of the informant's village, had gone to Bahraich and thereafter, all of them went to Makoliya along with Munna. A dead body of a lady was lying in the Makoliya grave yard. The informant and her sisters saw the dead body and told that it did not belong to their sister Sayra Bano but her brother-in-law Munna said that the dead body was of Sayra Bano and believing his statement, the informant and her sister had put their thumb impressions on the inquest report. PW-1 categorically stated that the dead body was not of her sister; that the appellant had not confessed about killing Sayra Bano or hiding her dead body in the grave and that no dead body was recovered from the pointing out of the appellant. An unidentified dead body of a woman had been exhumed from a grave and was lying in the grave yard. She believed that her brother-in-law Munna had made her sister disappear and he had falsely implicated the appellant.

14. PW-2 Saher Bano was a cousin of the deceased and she stated that the deceased Sayra Bano had got married to Munna @ Hafeez. Sayra Bano used to live in her matrimonial home happily and she did not make any complaint regarding demand of dowry. She denied having given any statement given under Section 161 Cr.P.C. to the police. She was declared to be hostile. In her cross-examination, she stated that Sayra Bano had got married about 4-5 years ago to Munna resident of Bahraich and she did not ever get married to the appellant.

15. PW-3 Pappu stated that the informant was related to him. He had come to the matrimonial home of the deceased upon information given by Munna. When he reached there, the dead body was lying there in the grave yard. In his cross-examination, PW-2 stated that the informant did not ever get married to the appellant and she was married to Munna, resident of Bahraich. He further stated that he and the other persons had reached the grave yard on an information given by Munna and after seeing the dead body, all of them had stated that the dead body was not of Sayra Bano but Munna had insisted that the dead body was of the Sayra Bano and the police acted as per the statement given by Munna and prepared the inquest report accordingly.

16. PW-4 Smt. Parveen was the elder sister of the deceased. She also stated in her cross-examination that the deceased had got married to Munna and she never got married to the appellant. Munna had told them about the dead body having been found in the grave yard and she and the other persons had stated that the dead body was not of her sister Sayra Bano but Munna insisted that the dead body was of Sayra Bano. She stated that she did not know whether her sister Sayra Bano was alive or not but the dead body recovered was not of her sister Sayra Bano.

17. PW-5 Dilawar was father-in-law of Parveen - sister of the informant Shabana and deceased Sayra Bano and he was also declared to be hostile.

18. PW-6 Constable Umesh Kumar Yadav proved some signatures of some police officers.

19. The statement of a Doctor has been recorded as PW-6. Apparently he has erroneously been marked as PW-6 when Constable Umesh Kumar was also marked as PW-6. The doctor stated that he was present at the time of postmortem examination of the deceased and he had signed the postmortem examination report of the deceased along with other Doctor, who had conducted the postmortem examination.

20. PW-7 was the Doctor who had conducted the postmortem examination of the dead body and he stated that the face of the dead body was not recognizable and the deceased had died about eight weeks ago due to shock and hemorrhage.

21. PW-8 was the Station House Officer, who stated that during the investigation of the case, information had been received from a Mukhbir that dead body of Sayra Bano had been hidden in an old grave of Kennoo Khan. He proved the memo of recovery of knife from the house of the appellant.

22. In his statement recorded under Section 313 Cr.P.C., the appellant denied that he ever got married to Sayra Bano. He denied that the dead body of Sayra Bano was recovered on 19.10.2017 from a grave yard in Village Makoliya and that a knife was recovered from his house on his pointing out. He denied that the deceased died in his home. He further stated that Sayra Bano had got married to Munna resident of Bahraich, she ran away from the house of Munna and he was falsely implicated at the behest of Munna. The dead body which was recovered, could not be recognized.

23. The trial Court proceeded on an assumption that the appellant was present with the deceased at the time of her death, which took place inside the appellant's house and, therefore, the burden to prove the circumstances in which Sayra Bano died, lied on the appellant. The trial Court has observed that the appellant had relied on prosecution witnesses, who stated that the deceased had got married to some person named Munna, on whose information the prosecution witnesses had come to Makoliya Village but the accused did not get this person Munna examined as a defense witness and he did not establish the existence of any person named Munna from any other oral or documentary evidence.

24. Relying on the decisions of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the cases of Ramnaresh v. State of Chandigarh; AIR 2012 SC 1357 = (2012) 4 SCC 257 and Phula Singh v. State of Himachal Pradesh; (2014) 4 SCC 09, the trial Court held that the failure of the appellant in giving a clarification in his statement recorded under Section 313 Cr.P.C. regarding marriage of Sayra Bano with Munna and offence having been given effect to by Munna or any other person gives rise to a basis for drawing an adverse inference against an accused. The trial Court further held that as per the provisions contained in Section 106 of the Evidence Act, the burden to prove the circumstances in which Sayra Bano died, lied on the appellant. Although the appellant had stated in his statement under Section 313 Cr.P.C. that Sayra Bano had got married to Munna resident of Bahraich and she ran away from the house of Munna and thereafter he was falsely implicated at the behest of Munna, the appellant did not adduce any evidence to establish the reason of animosity between him and Munna and he did not disclose the parentage and address of Munna.

25. Relying on the decisions of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Ramesh v. State of Haryana; AIR 2016 SC 5554 = (2017) 1 SCC 529, Khachar Dipu @ Dilipbhai Nakubhai v. State of Gujrat; 2014 AIR SCW 466 = (2013) 4 SCC 322, Koli Lakshmanbhai @ Chana Bhai v. State of Gujrat; AIR 2000 SC 210 = (1999) 8 SCC 624 and S.C. Goyal v. State of Haryana; 2017 CRLJ SC 536 = (2016) 13 SCC 258, the trial Court held that the prosecution witnesses had turned hostile because of a 'hostile culture' to save the accused person and their testimony cannot be discarded entirely. Portion of their statements which support the prosecution case, can be read against the accused.

26. The trial Court concluded that the following facts were established by the prosecution evidence:-

i. The appellant got married to Sayra Bano regarding which a contract was executed on 11.05.2016, ii. On the date and time of the incident, the deceased was present in the house of the appellant in village Makoliya, iii. The appellant killed Sayra Bano by assaulting her on her neck with knife and he had hidden the dead body in the grave of Kennoo Khan, iv. The dead body was recovered after digging a grave up to a depth of 2 feet,

v. The weapon used in commission of the offence was recovered from the appellant's house on his pointing out and,

vi. The appellant had stated that the deceased had got married to one Munna but he did not produce Munna in defense evidence and he did not disclose the father's name and address of Munna. He could not establish the existence of Munna from any oral or documentary evidence.

27. As per the trial Court, the aforesaid facts establish that the appellant had killed Sayra Bano and had hidden the dead body in the grave of Kennoo Khan. The other accused persons Zakrun Nisa and Shahjahan were acquitted and the appellant was convicted for offences under Sections 302 and 201 IPC while acquitting him for the offences under Sections 498-A, 323, 304-B, 504 & 506 I.P.C. and 3/4 Dowry Prohibition Act.

28. Now we proceed to examine the correctness of all the aforesaid conclusions drawn by the trial Court. The first point decided by the trial Court that the appellant got married to Sayra Bano regarding which a contract was executed on 11.05.2016, is based on a photocopy of a notarized marriage agreement dated 11.05.2016, the original whereof was not brought on record. Photocopy of the document being a secondary evidence, was not admissible in evidence unless any of the circumstances mentioned in Section 63 of the Evidence Act, 1872 justifying admissibility of secondary evidence were established, which has not been done in the present case. The photocopy of the marriage agreement dated 11.05.2016 was not admissible in evidence. No witness has made any statement to prove the marriage agreement dated 11.05.2016. No question was put to the appellant regarding this document in his examination under Section 313 Cr.P.C. Therefore, we are of the considered view that the photocopy of the marriage agreement dated 11.05.2016 was not admissible in evidence and the trial Court has committed a patent error in relying upon the photocopy of the marriage agreement dated 11.05.2016.

29. PW-1 had stated that her sister Sayra Bano had got married to Munna and she did not get married to the appellant. The learned A.G.A. has drawn attention of the Court towards the examination-in-chief of PW-2 Saher Bano, who was a cousin of the deceased. PW-2 stated in her examination-in-chief that the deceased Sayra Bano had got married to Munna @ Hafeez. However, in her cross-examination, PW-2 stated that Sayra Bano had got married about 4-5 years ago to Munna resident of Bahraich City and she did not ever get married to the appellant.

30. PW-3 Pappu also categorically stated that Sayra Bano did not ever get married to the appellant. PW-4 Smt. Parveen was the elder sister of the deceased. She also stated that the deceased had got married to Munna and she never got married to the appellant. There was no evidence to prove that the deceased had got married to the appellant. Therefore, the first finding of the learned trial Court that the appellant got married to Sayra Bano regarding which a contract was executed on 11.05.2016, is perverse.

31. The trial Court has concluded that on the date and time of the incident, the deceased was present in the house of the appellant in village Makoliya. In this regard it is relevant to take note of the facts that PW-1 had stated that her sister Sayra Bano had got married to Munna, who was a resident of Bahraich City. She stayed with him for about two years and thereafter one day Munna informed that Sayra had gone missing from her home. Munna had also told her that the appellant was his friend and he used to visit Munna's place. Munna had expressed a suspicion that Hafeez was involved in Sayra Bano having gone missing. Munna had given information about dead body of her sister having been found in the grave yard but she and the other witnesses had not identified the dead body as being of Sayra Bano. As per the post mortem examination, the dead body was not recognizable and the victim had died about 8 weeks ago.

32. There is absolutely no evidence to prove that the informant's sister Sayra Bano has been killed, nor has any date, time and place of the alleged killing been established. Except for the suspicion allegedly expressed by Munna, there is no evidence to prove that Sayra Bano was living with the appellant. Therefore, the conclusion drawn by the trial Court that on the date and time of the incident, the deceased was present in the house of the appellant in village Makoliya, is perverse.

33. Now we proceed to examine the correctness of the third conclusion drawn by the trial Court that the appellant killed Sayra Bano by assaulting her on her neck with a knife and he had hidden the dead body in the grave of Kennoo Khan. The informant - PW-1 stated that her sister Sayra Bano had got married to Munna, who was resident of Bahraich City. Sayra stayed with him for about two years and thereafter one day Munna informed that Sayra had gone missing from her home. Munna had also told her that the appellant was his friend and he used to visit Munna's place. Munna had expressed a suspicion that the appellant was involved in Sayra Bano having gone missing. The informant's brother-in-law Munna had taken her to the police station and got the complaint scribed by a person by dictating it himself. He had got the informant's thumb impression on the complaint and had handed it over to the police.

34. PW-1 categorically stated that all the things written in the complaint were wrong and the same were got scribed by her brother-in-law Munna to save himself by getting a case registered against the appellant whereas the truth is that her sister never got married to the appellant. The Investigating Officer had detained the appellant at the police station since the day the FIR was lodged and he had asked Munna to search for Sayra Bano. After 3-4 days, Munna had given information about dead body of her sister having been found in the grave yard. When PW-1 and other persons had reached the grave-yard, a dead body of a lady was lying there. The informant and her sisters had told that it did not belong to their sister Sayra Bano but her brother-in-law Munna said that the dead body was of Sayra Bano and believing his statement, the informant and her sister had put their thumb impressions on the inquest report.

35. PW-1 further categorically stated that the dead body was not of her sister; that the appellant had not confessed about killing Sayra Bano or hiding her dead body in the grave and that no dead body was recovered from the pointing out of the appellant. An unidentified dead body of a woman had been exhumed from a grave and was lying in the grave yard. She believed that her brother-in-law Munna had made her sister disappear and he had falsely implicated the appellant.

36. PW-3 Pappu stated that he had gone to Makoliya grave-yard upon information given by Munna. When he reached there, a dead body was lying there in the grave yard. After seeing the dead body, all the persons had stated that the dead body was not of Sayra Bano but Munna had insisted that the dead body was of the Sayra Bano and the police acted as per the statement given by Munna and prepared the inquest report accordingly.

37. PW-4 Smt. Parveen was the elder sister of the deceased. She also stated that the deceased had got married to Munna and she never got married to the appellant. Munna had told them about the dead body having been found in the grave yard and she and the other persons had stated that the dead body was not of her sister Sayra Bano but Munna insisted that the dead body was of Sayra Bano. She stated that she did not know whether her sister Sayra Bano was alive or not but the dead body recovered was not of her sister Sayra Bano.

38. The post mortem examination report states that the face of the dead body was not recognizable, skin had peeled off with grayish dis-colouration, ligaments were loosened, nails, hairs easily pulled out, teeth loosened from their sockets, soft parts were changing into black mass, eyeballs were missing and eye-tor orbit was filled with mud. PW-7, the Doctor who had conducted the postmortem examination, stated that the face of the dead body was not recognizable and the deceased had died about eight weeks ago.

39. The book titled “Modi – A Textbook of Medical Jurisprudence and Toxicology” is widely considered to be an authority on the subject. Chapter 14 of the 27th edition of the book deals with Exhumation. It is written therein that “In case of bodies, which have been underground for a sufficiently long time and undergone putrefaction, an attempt should be made to determine the sex, stature and marks of identification. A photograph of the exhumed body may also help in identification. If necessary, an X-ray examination of the cadaver should be undertaken. Hair found on the body should be preserved in a dry, clean glass bottle for subsequent identification and chemical analysis. All these bottles or jars should then be closed with well-fitted glass stoppers and forwarded, duly labeled and sealed, to the Forensic Science Laboratory.”

40. In the present case, the prosecution did not take any of the aforesaid steps to ascertain the identity of the dead body by any scientific evidence.

41. It is significant to note that as per the inquest report and also as per the post mortem examination report, some clothes, a thread and a tabeez were present on the dead-body, but the prosecution remained silent about those articles and no question was put to any witness about those articles so as to connect the same with the informant’s sister Sayra Bano so as to identify the dead body.

42. Thus there was no evidence to prove that Sayra Bano had been killed and the dead body was of Sayra Bano. In these circumstances, the only irresistible conclusion that we can draw is that the trial Court has concluded that the appellant killed Sayra Bano by assaulting her on her neck with knife and he had hidden the dead body in the grave of Kennoo Khan, without there being any evidence to support this conclusion and, therefore, this conclusion is perverse.

43. The fourth conclusion drawn by the trial Court that the dead body was recovered after digging a grave up to a depth of 2 feet, whereas the prosecution witnesses have merely stated that when they had reached the grave-yard, a dead body was lying there and no witness has stated that the dead body was exhumed from any grave in her or his presence. The dead-body is said to have been recovered from the grave of Kennoo and the recovery memo mentions that the recovery had been witnessed by Achchhan son of Kennoo also, but Achchhan son of Kennoo has not been produced as a prosecution witness. Therefore, the finding that the dead body was recovered after digging a grave up to a depth of 2 feet, is also perverse.

44. Regarding the fifth conclusion of the trial Court, that the weapon used in commission of the offence was recovered from the appellant's house on his pointing out, suffice it to say that the alleged recovery is said to have been witnessed by the informant Shabana and her sister Parveen, besides some police personnel. Except for the S.H.O. – PW-8, no witness has given any evidence to prove the recovery of knife. The test report given by the Forensic Science Laboratory, U.P., Lucknow mentions presence of blood on major parts of the knife, but the blood had been disintegrated and its group could not be ascertained. In these circumstances, it cannot be said that the blood found on the knife was of Sayra Bano. The appellant had denied the alleged recovery of knife in his statement recorded under Section 313 Cr.P.C. Therefore, there was no evidence to prove that any knife had been recovered from the appellant's house on his pointing out and that the knife had been used in commission of the offence and this conclusion drawn by the trial Court is also perverse.

45. Lastly, the trial Court has held that the appellant had stated that the deceased had got married to Munna but he did not produce Munna in defense evidence and he did not disclose the father's name and address of Munna. He could not establish the existence of Munna from any oral or documentary evidence. While recording the aforesaid statement, the trial Court has acted against the basic principle of dispensation of criminal justice that in a criminal trial, it is the prosecution which has to prove the guilt of the accused person and that too, beyond any reasonable doubt. The accused is not required to prove his innocence. In case the prosecution fails to discharge its burden to prove beyond any reasonable doubt that the accused is guilty, the accused has to be acquitted and he cannot be held guilty merely because he has not adduced any evidence to prove his innocence. It appears that the trial Court has proceeded to hold the appellant guilty under a patent misconception about the aforesaid basic principles of justice dispensation.

46. On the basis of the aforesaid conclusions, the trial Court has held that the appellant had killed Sayra Bano and had hidden the dead body in the grave of Kennoo Khan and has convicted the appellant for offences under Sections 302 and 201 IPC. As all the aforesaid conclusions have already been held to be perverse, the consequential finding of guilt of the appellant is also perverse.

47. As the trial Court has placed reliance on some judgments to hold that the accused can be held guilty even where the prosecution witnesses turn hostile, it is necessary to examine whether the principles laid down in those judgments warrant conviction of the appellant.

48. In Ramesh v. State of Haryana, (2017) 1 SCC 529, a dying declaration had been recorded in which the deceased had categorically stated that her husband had set her ablaze but the trial Court had acquitted the accused as the deceased's brother had stated that the accused was not involved in killing the deceased. The High Court had reversed the judgment of acquittal. In appeal, the Hon'ble Supreme Court held that: - “20. The High Court, in the impugned judgment, has found fault with the aforesaid analysis, approach and the manner in which the dying declaration has been dealt with by the trial court. According to the High Court, the veracity of the dying declaration could not be examined with reference to the other evidence. It has held that the approach of the trial court was blemished. According to the High Court, the trial court was required to appreciate as to whether the statement of the deceased was given in a fit state of mind; and whether it was voluntarily given without being influenced by any extraneous circumstances and without any tutoring. If that was so and the dying declaration of the deceased passed the muster of the aforesaid test and was to be believed, the conviction could be based solely on such a dying declaration. The High Court then examined the dying declaration in the aforesaid perspective and found that the doctor had declared her fit to make a statement on the basis of which the Judicial Magistrate recorded the statement and even after recording of the statement, the doctor again gave endorsement that the deceased remained fit during the period her statement was recorded. In such circumstances, statement of the Judicial Magistrate (PW 11) in the Court that he could not say whether the deceased was semi-conscious when her statement was recorded, was of no consequence as he had acted on the basis of the medical opinion.

30. We have already noticed above, the reasons recorded by the trial court while discarding the dying declaration. Admittedly, no weightage is given by the trial court to the opinion of the doctor certifying that the deceased was in a fit state of mind. Likewise, no reasons were given by the trial court as to why the testimony of the Judicial Magistrate, who recorded the statement, be disbelieved.”

49. Thus it is clear that in Ramesh (Supra) there was sufficient evidence in the shape of dying declaration and statement of the doctor to establish the guilt of the accused, which is not the case here.

50. In Khachar Dipu v. State of Gujarat, (2013) 4 SCC 322, the Hon’ble Supreme Court relied upon some precedents which hold that “It is well settled in law that the evidence of the hostile witness can be relied upon by the prosecution as well as by the defence”. After examining the facts of that case, the Hon’ble Supreme Court found that: -

18. On a careful scrutiny of the testimonies of the said two witnesses PWs 20 and 21, it is seen that both of them have categorically deposed that the motor vehicle involved in the accident had dashed against the cycle of the deceased as a result of which he had fallen down. It is interesting to note that in cross-examination by the accused, they have not paved the path of variance in this regard. In our opinion, their evidence supports the prosecution version that the motor vehicle had dashed against the cycle. We may note with profit that one of the witnesses has not identified the accused in the court but the other witness, PW 20 Shantibhai Lakhmanbhai has identified him. That apart, as far as the identification of the accused is concerned, there is ample evidence on record to support the same. The singular purpose of referring to the testimonies of these two witnesses is that the incident did occur and the accused had dashed the vehicle against the cycle.”

51. Thus in Khachar Dipu (Supra) the accused was convicted because there was ample evidence to prove his guilt.

52. In Koli Lakhmanbhai Chanabhai v. State of Gujarat, (1999) 8 SCC 624, the High Court had relied upon some part of the evidence of a hostile witness, PW 7 who had not supported the prosecution story in its entirety, but his evidence established the prosecution case with regard to the time, place and weapon of offence being the knife and also that the person having the knife was Accused 2. Some part of his evidence was corroborated by PWs 11 and 12. It has come on record that PW 7 had immediately informed PW 11 and PW 12 about the incident. PW 12 had also stated that PW 7 had informed that Laxman Chana had inflicted knife-blow. This witness was cross-examined in detail with regard to this aspect but nothing could be found out from the cross-examination. Extensively bloodstained bush shirt, banian and other clothes were seized from the accused. Bush shirt and banian contained human blood of 'A' group, which was the blood group of the deceased. The High Court had relied upon the discovery of a knife at the instance of the appellant, which was hidden beneath the ashes of the fireplace in the kitchen of the appellant. The said knife also contained blood having 'A' group. For that purpose the High Court had relied upon the panch witness PW 20. In the aforesaid peculiar factual background of the case, the Hon'ble Supreme Court held that: -

"5. From the aforesaid evidence on record, in our view, it cannot be said that the High Court erred in relying upon some portion of the evidence of PW 7 who was cross-examined by the prosecution. It is settled law that evidence of a hostile witness also can be relied upon to the extent to which it supports the prosecution version. Evidence of such witness cannot be treated as washed off the record. It remains admissible in the trial and there is no legal bar to base his conviction upon his testimony if corroborated by other reliable evidence (Bhagwan Singh v. State of Haryana [(1976) 1 SCC 389] and Sat Paul v. Delhi Admn. [(1976) 1 SCC 727]. In the present case, apart from the evidence of PW 7, the prosecution version that he saw that the appellant was having a knife in his hand and was quarrelling with the deceased gets corroboration from the evidence of PWs 11 and 12 to whom he disclosed the incident immediately. On the basis of the said information, within one hour, FIR was lodged disclosing the name of the appellant as the person who had inflicted the knife-blow. A number of incised wounds are found as per the post-mortem report. The prosecution version gets further corroboration from discovery of Muddamal knife containing human blood Group 'A'. Further the bush shirt and banian which were put on by the accused at the time of incident were having extensive bloodstains which were also found containing human blood Group 'A'. Learned counsel for the appellant, however, contended that the accused is also having Blood Group 'A' and that he was having injury on the thigh as per the evidence of the doctor. In our view, there is no substance in his contention because as per the medical evidence, the injuries caused to the accused were minor and that because of such injuries, there would not be extensive bloodstains on the bush shirt and banian put on by the accused. In his Section 313 statement also, the accused has not explained how he got bloodstains on his bush shirt and banian. He has also not denied the recovery of the said bush shirt

53. Thus in Koli Lakhmanbhai Chanabhai (Supra) also, there was ample evidence to prove the guilt of the accused in spite of a witness having been declared to be hostile, whereas there is absolutely no evidence against the accused in the present case.

54. In S.C. Goel v. State: (2016) 13 SCC 258, the Hon’ble Supreme Court upheld the conviction of the appellant for offences under Section 7 and Section 13(1)(d) read with Section 13(2) of the Prevention of Corruption Act, 1988 recorded by the trial Court and affirmed by the High Court after recording a satisfaction that PW 5 had clearly and categorically stated that the demand of Rs. 10,000/- was made. Merely because PW 5 was declared hostile with regard to certain other aspects of the evidence tendered by him, the entire evidence cannot be discarded. The evidence tendered by the said witness with regard to the demand in question can be accepted if the same is otherwise worthy of trust. Admittedly the marked currency notes were recovered from the accused. PW 9 (panch witness) had proved the aforesaid recovery and also the test conducted by dipping the fingers of the accused in chemical solution of sodium bicarbonate. In such circumstances and taking into account the totality of the facts of the case, the Hon’ble Supreme Court held that the prosecution had succeeded in proving the demand of bribe and the acceptance and recovery of the offending bank notes from the posSessions of the accused. This case was also decided on the basis of the peculiar facts of the case, which are in no manner similar to the present case.

55. In Ramnaresh v. State of Chhattisgarh: (2012) 4 SCC 257, the Hon’ble Supreme Court found that PW-6 had clearly narrated how the offence was committed by the accused and there was nothing abnormal and inconsistent in his testimony. His statement was fully corroborated by medical evidence and the testimony of PW 12. The confirmation of blood on the piece of saree used for gagging the mouth of Rajkumari, the confirmation of presence of semen and human spermatozoa on the vaginal slides of the victim, the findings during autopsy duly proved by PW 7 and the corroboration of other witnesses including that of the investigating officer leave no room for any doubt that the appellants had committed house trespass in the house of the victim, raped and strangled her. In these circumstances, the mere fact that some of the witnesses, who were not the eye-witnesses of the incident, had turned hostile, would not affect the prosecution case.

56. In Phula Singh v. State of H.P.: (2014) 4 SCC 9, it was an admitted fact that the appellant had no relationship or acquaintance, whatsoever, with the complainant and the appellant failed to furnish any explanation about his visit and staying in the house of the complainant. The appellant had not denied visit to the house of the complainant. More so, he did not furnish any explanation in respect of the recovery of Rs. 1000/- from the pocket of his pants nor could he furnish any information as to how his fingers turned pink on being washed with sodium carbonate solution as the currency notes already found in the pocket of his pants had been treated with phenolphthalein. On being washed, part of his pants also turned pink. In light of these undisputed facts, the Hon’ble Supreme Court held that: -

“11. The accused has a duty to furnish an explanation in his statement under Section 313 CrPC regarding any incriminating material that has been produced against him. If the accused has been given the freedom to remain silent during the investigation as well as before the court, then the accused may choose to maintain silence or even remain in complete denial when his statement under Section 313 CrPC is being recorded. However, in such an event, the court would be entitled to draw an inference, including such adverse inference against the accused as may be permissible in accordance with law.”

57. In the present case, there was absolutely no incriminating material against the appellant and, therefore, in absence of any incriminating material, the aforesaid principles would not apply to the facts of the present case and no adverse inference of the appellant's guilt can be raised merely because the appellant did not establish the existence of Munna, regarding whom the Prosecution witnesses had stated that he was the husband of the victim and that he was instrumental in the victim having gone missing and in false implication of the appellant.

58. Since the trial Court has relied upon numerous precedents, none of which was based on facts which were in any manner similar to the facts of the present case where the prosecution has failed to produce any evidence to establish the guilt of the appellant, it would be appropriate to reiterate the basic principles to be observed while relying upon precedents, as explained in the following words by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Parasa Raja Manikyala Rao v. State of A.P., (2003) 12 SCC 306 : 2003 SCC OnLine SC 1142: -

“9. Each case, more particularly a criminal case, depends on its own facts and a close similarity between one case and another is not enough to warrant like treatment because a significant detail may alter the entire aspect. In deciding such cases, one should avoid the temptation to decide cases (as said by Cordozo) by matching the colour of one case against the colour of another. To decide, therefore, on which side of the line a case falls, the broad resemblance to another case is not at all decisive.”

59. In none of the judgments relied upon by the learned trial Court the accused was held guilty in spite of the prosecution having failed to adduce any evidence to establish his guilt and all the matters, the Hon'ble Supreme Court came to conclusion that the accused person's guilt was proved by relevant and admissible evidence, which is not the case here. Therefore, the principles laid down in the judgments referred by the learned trial Court would not apply to the facts and circumstances of the present case, where the prosecution has failed to produce any evidence to prove the guilt of the accused – appellant.

60. In view of the foregoing discussion, we are of the considered view that the judgment and order passed by the learned trial Court is unsustainable in law and it is liable to be set aside.

61. Accordingly, the appeal is allowed. The judgment and order dated 27.03.2019 passed by Sri Nand Pratap Ojha, the learned V Additional Sessions Judge, Bahraich in Sessions Trial No.110 of 2017, arising out of Case Crime No.215 of 2017 under Sections 498-A, 323, 304-B, 201, 504, 506, 302 I.P.C. and 3/4 Dowry Prohibition Act registered at Police Station-

Risiya, District Bahraich, to the extent that it holds the appellant guilty of committing offences under Sections 302, 201 I.P.C. and sentences him to undergo simple imprisonment for life and pay Rs.50,000/- as fine and on failure to pay fine, to undergo simple imprisonment for a further period of 3 years for the offence under Section 302 I.P.C. and to undergo simple imprisonment for and 5 years and pay Rs.10,000/- fine and in case of failure to pay fine, to undergo simple imprisonment for a further period of one year for the offence under Section 201 I.P.C., is set aside. The appellant is acquitted of all the charges.

62. The appellant is languishing in jail and he is directed to be released forthwith unless he is wanted in any other case, subject to the condition that he shall file a personal bond and two sureties within a period of three weeks from the date of his release from custody, to the satisfaction of the trial Court under Section 437-A Cr.P.C.

63. The appellant was taken into custody soon after lodging of the F.I.R. on 15.01.2017 and he continues to remain in custody till date. Now that this Court has found that there was absolutely no evidence against him, it is a fit case for awarding costs of litigation as also to order payment of compensation for the confinement of the appellant for a period exceeding 7½ years without any evidence to prove his guilt cannot be fully compensated in terms of money but as a token of compensation for the injustice done to the appellant, we order that the State shall pay Rs.1,00,000/- to the appellant towards compensation for the period spent by him in custody.

64. Let a copy of this judgment and order and the original record of the trial court be transmitted to the trial court concerned forthwith for necessary information and compliance as also to Sri Nand Pratap Ojha, the Presiding Officer who had passed the impugned judgment. The office is further directed to enter the judgment in compliance register maintained by the Court.

(A) Criminal Law - appeal against conviction - Indian Penal Code, 1860 – Section 302 – murder, Section 147, 148, 149 - Common Object - Dying Declaration – Contradictions – Reliability - "Nemo Moriturus Praesumitur Mentiri" - "No one on the point of death is presumed to lie." - when a conviction is to be done under Section 149 of I.P.C. the identification of common object is essential and when the common object is not identified, the accused cannot be, in any manner, be convicted under the substantive offence with the assistance of Section 149 of I.P.C. . (Para -15)

investigation led to charges under Sections 148, 302 and 149 IPC - trial court convicted all seven and sentenced them to life imprisonment, with the appellants - challenging the conviction under appeal. (Para - 1 to 6)

HELD: - Prosecution's case was weakened by dying declaration. Other accused were falsely implicated by P.W. -1(First Informant) due to enmity. First Informant's statements were inconsistent and unreliable. Post-mortem reports showed firearm injuries of only one size, contradicting multiple shooters. Contradictions in prosecution witnesses' statements made them unreliable. Conviction under Section 149 of the Indian Penal Code (IPC) requires establishing a common object among accused persons, and mere presence at the crime scene is insufficient. Judgment and order quashed and set aside for appellants 2, 6 & 7, who are acquitted of the charges. (Para -17,18)

Criminal appeal allowed. (E-7)

1. The present criminal appeal has been filed against the judgement and order dated 24.3.1986 passed by the 3rd Additional Sessions Judge, Fatehpur, in Session Trial No. 416 of 1983 convicting and sentencing the appellants under Section 302 read with Section 149 IPC for life imprisonment, under Section 148 IPC for three years rigorous imprisonment and under Section 147 IPC for two years with rigorous imprisonment. All the sentences were directed to run concurrently.

2. When the alleged incident took place on 6.5.1983 at around 8:30am a first information report was got lodged by the son of the deceased Pramod Kumar Gupta at 9:25 am on the very same day. In the first information report, there was a specific averment that Gorelal son of Badku, Sheo Ram son of Bajrang, Shatrughan Singh son of Ganga Singh, Ompal Singh, Rajendra Singh and Narendra Singh with their guns and Shiv Singh who was empty handed had reached the shop where Gopi Krishan was running his shop. Thereafter, Gorelal had fired upon the deceased- Gopi Krishna Gupta. The firing done by Gorelal was followed by an indiscriminate firing by Sheoram, Shatrughan, Ompal Singh, Rejendra Singh and Narendra Singh.

3. Upon the lodging of the first information report, the police got into action and investigation followed. A panchayatnama was prepared stating that the incident was got reported in the police station at 9:25am on 6.5.1983 and that the panchayatnama proceeding commenced on 6.5.1983 at 10:00am and it also stated that on the very same day at 11:00am the panchayatnama proceeding got concluded. After the panchayatnama was concluded, the dead body of the deceased was sent for post mortem which was conducted on 6.5.1983 at 4:15PM. It may be mentioned that the first informant at the time of getting the F.I.R. lodged had not reported that the deceased Gopi Krishna had died. It had only stated that he was lying in an injured state at his shop. The F.I.R. was also, therefore, followed by an injury report dated 6.5.1983 and was allegedly said to have been prepared at 8:45am. Not only this, from the record it can be found that there was a dying declaration also of the deceased numbered as exhibit – kha 6 which was recorded 8:45am again on the same day i.e. on 6.5.1983 by Dr. S.N. Tripathi. This dying declaration had categorically stated upon a question being asked by the Doctor that who exactly was responsible for the firing and the injured Gopi Krishna had stated that Gorelal was the person who had fired on him and he had also stated while giving the dying declaration that with Gorelal he had no enmity. The Doctor in the dying declaration itself had mentioned that the S.D.M. of Bindki Court was called but he could not appear and the patient had expired at 9:00am. Dr. S.N. Tripathi was not produced by the prosecution but was produced by the defence as D.W. - 4.

4. A recovery memo of two empty cartridges of 12 bore which were found from the place of incident was also prepared and was exhibited as Exhibit - ka23. The police had also taken the plain soil and the soil with blood and the recovery memo of it was marked as exhibit ka-24. Upon investigation having got completed, the police submitted its report and the Court thereafter took cognizance of the case and framed charges against six persons, namely, Gorelal @ Shyam Narain Singh, Sheoram Singh, Shatrughan Singh, Rajendra Singh, Narendra Singh and Ompal Singh for charges under Sections 148, 302 read with 149 IPC. The charges were framed on 23.6.1984 and they were read over to the accused persons and when they did not plead guilty, the case was put to trial.

5. A separate charge sheet was prepared for the accused Shiv Singh on 23.6.1984 itself and the charges in it were three in number. Firstly, the charge was with regard to the death of Gopi Krishna Gupta under Section 147 IPC and under Section 302 IPC read with Section 149 IPC and the other set charge was with regard to one more deceased Ram Gopal whose dead body was recovered at a little distance away and was under Section 302 read with Section 149 IPC.

6. The Trial Court after recording all the evidence of the prosecution and after going through the evidence on record, convicted Gorelal, Sheoram Singh, Shatrughan Singh, Rajendra Singh, Narendra Singh, Shiv Singh and Ompal Singh under Sections 302 read with 149 IPC. Vis-a-vis Shiv Singh, the charge under Section 302 read with Section 149 along with Section 147 was also held to have been proved and he was also held guilty. All the seven accused persons were sentenced with rigorous imprisonment under Section 302 read with 149 IPC. With regard to the conviction under Section 148 IPC, the punishment of two years with rigorous imprisonment was awarded. However with regard to murder of Ram Gopal, all the accused persons were acquitted.

7. Aggrieved by the judgement and order of the Additional Sessions Judge, Fatehpur, dated 24.3.1986, the instant appeal has been filed.

8. Sri V.P. Srivastava, Senior Advocate, assisted by Sri Jitendra Singh, Sri Rajiv Nayan Singh and M/sNija Srivatava was heard for the appellants, namely, Sheoram Singh, Shiv Singh and Ompal Singh. The appeal vis-a-vis Gorelal, Shatrughan Singh, Rajendra Singh and Narendra Singh had abated on account of the fact that they had died during the pendency of the appeal and no near relatives of theirs had filed any application for continuing the appeal.

9. Learned counsel for the appellants took the Court through the statements of the witnesses of fact i.e. the first informant Pramod Kumar Gupta who had appeared in the witness box as P.W. - 1 and Somdutt as P.W. - 2. He had also drawn the attention of the Court to the statement of P.W.-3 Dr. S.K. Srivastava who had proved the post mortem report. P.W. - 4, Shiv Mohal Singh, was the head constable of Police Station – Bindki. He had proved the exhibit ka-1 i.e. the chik which was prepared by him. P.W. - 5, Madan Singh, was the investigating officer whose statement was also read out to the Court.

10. Learned counsel for the appellants also had drawn the attention of the Court to the deposition of Dr. S.N. Tripathi who was produced by the defence as D.W.-4.

11. P.W. 1, in his statement has stated that he had known Gorelal, Shatrughan Singh, Shiv Ram Singh, Rajendra Singh, Narendra Singh, Ompal Singh and Shiv Singh from before and that he was also recognizing them and he had stated that they were all of the same party. He has also stated that the accused had enmity with his father. He has given various reasons on account of which the accused persons were inimical to the father of the first informant. In his examination in chief, the first informant had categorically stated that when the incident had occurred, the first shot which was fired by Gorelal- accused had hit his father and he had fallen down in the shop itself and, thereafter, the other accused, excepting Shiv Singh, had with their firearms aimed at his father and fired. When there was a hue and cry raised by the first informant then Somdutt, Smt. Ram Kumari, Om Prakash Goswami and Balbindra came on the spot. Upon reaching of the various persons from the neighbourhood, the accused persons ran away towards the Nehru Inter College. He has stated that his father was still breathing but he could not speak. Thereupon, he stated that on his dictation, Ram Lakhani Tiwari had transcribed the first information report and he has also proved the first information report which he had given to the police. After the dictation was over, the police had reached the spot and in that Jeep, the first informant had taken the injured father to the Bindki Hospital where the Doctor had examined his injuries. He has further stated that he had given the representation to Mohan Singh Daroga in the Jeep itself and the Daroga had given the report to another policeman who was along with him. He had, therefore, gone to the police station after leaving his father at the hospital.

12. Upon coming to know that his father had passed away, he once again rushed to the hospital. The panchayatnama was done in the hospital itself. The first informant has stated that later on when he came to know that because of the firing another person by the name of Ram Gopal about 100 yards away had also died.

13. The prosecution had cross-examined the witnesses wherein the first informant had stated that the Daroga had come to the site in question but he had not seen anything from the inside of the shop. In paragraph no. 24 of his cross-examination, he has stated that he had, later on, come to know on the basis of a rumour in public that the father of the first informant had died and this effect he had got recorded his statement. He has categorically stated that his uncle Durga Prasad (who was a witness of the panchayatnama) had not informed the first informant about the dying declaration. He has stated that he had not signed the first information report. So far as the P.W. - 2 is concerned, he has stated in his statement-in-chief that the thrust of the bullets was to the extent that after having hit the deceased Gopi Krishna, the pellets had rebounded and had also hit the Neem Tree. In his cross examination, he had stated that he had reached the spot because he had gone to Bindki market to buy some clothes. He has also stated in paragraph no. 6 of the cross-examination that he had been informed by his wife that the police had called him and, therefore, he had gone straight to the police station where his statement under Section 161 Cr.P.C. was recorded.

14. In paragraph no. 10 of the cross-examination, he had stated that there were other criminal cases pending against him. Dr. S.K. Srivastava, the P.W.-3, in his examination has proved the post mortem report and he has stated that all the injuries were of the same size i.e. 1/2-1/2 inch and that they were three in number. P.W. - 4 has proven the chik. P.W. -5, the Investigating Officer has stated that on 6.5.1983 at around 8:30am, he had got a telephone call from Durga Prasad Gupta that on the crossing of the bus stand firing had taken place. Thereafter with all the police force he had reached the spot, where they found that Gopi Krishna was lying, injured at his shop and, therefore, he had taken the injured Gopi Krishna on his own jeep. He has stated that in the hospital, the son of the deceased Pramod Kumar Gupta had handed over to him the first information report and, thereafter, he had directed the head moharrir to lodge the first information report. He has stated that he was there along with the injured at the hospital and, thereafter, the injured had died. He has stated in the examination in chief that it was during this time that he also received information that one more dead body had been found in the neighbourhood and, therefore, he went to the place where the other dead body was lying. He has stated that the dead body was identified as that of one Ram Gopal. D.W. - 4, Dr. S.N. Tripathi, the Deputy Chief Medical Officer, has stated on oath that on

6.5.1983, he was the Medical Officer at Bindki and that the deceased Gopi Krishna had been brought to him in an injured state by the police and he had at 8:45am after he had come to the hospital died at 9:00am. The Doctor, D.W.- 4, had stated that he had made all efforts to get the Magistrate before recording the dying declaration of Gopi Krishna but the Magistrate came after the statement was recorded and after the deceased had passed away. He has proved the exhibit kha-6.

15. Learned counsel for the appellants has while challenging the judgement and order dated 24.3.1986 passed by the Additional Sessions Judge made the following submissions:

(i) Learned counsel for the appellants has submitted that the dying declaration is such a declaration which cannot be lightly done away with. Relying upon the famous maxim Nemo Moriturus Praesmitur Mentiri submitted that the prosecution, conscious of the fact that the deceased had only mentioned that Gorelal was present at the spot and had fired upon the deceased and that the injured had not mentioned that there was any enmity between Gorelal and any of the accused, had not relied upon that document i.e. the dying declaration which was brought in by the defence as Exhibit Kha-6. Learned counsel for the appellants states that the prosecution had not made any effort to prove the dying declaration. This, learned counsel for the appellants states, was done because only Gorelal was the person who was responsible for the death of the deceased while the other co-accused persons namely Shiv Ram Singh, Shatrughan Singh, Rajendra Singh, Narendra Singh, Ompal Singh and Shiv Singh were not even present at the spot.

Learned counsel for the appellants relying upon the statement of PW-1 has stated that these persons were known to the PW-1, Pramod Kumar Gupta, and they were also known of having enmity with Pramod Kumar Gupta and Gopi Krishna Gupta and, therefore, the first informant PW-1 had falsely implicated all of them. Learned counsel for the appellants, therefore, states that it was an absolute case of false implication of all the other co-accused persons other than Gorelal. Learned counsel for the appellants has further submitted that in the first information report the first informant, Pramod Kumar Gupta, had stated that Gorelal had fired upon the deceased and thereafter the other co-accused persons had also fired upon him and that after he was injured, he was lying at the shop where the incident had occurred. This first information report, learned counsel for the appellants states, was got lodged on 06.05.1983 at 09:25 AM whereas the PW-1 in his statement before the Court has submitted that in fact when the incident had occurred, the Police had reached the spot and thereafter the injured was put into the jeep of the Police and they had taken the injured to the Bindki Hospital. He has stated that he had also accompanied his father to the hospital. He has thereafter stated that the first information report was got transcribed by Ram Lakhan Tiwari at the place of incident and the first informant had handed over the first information report to Madan Singh, Daroga, who was also sitting in the jeep, and thereafter the first informant alongwith Madan Singh, Daroga had gone to the Police Station to get the first information report lodged. Learned counsel for the appellants, therefore, states that the first informant was in fact not there at the spot at all and after he had got the information about the fact that Gorelal was made an accused by the deceased in his dying declaration and was held responsible of having had shot on him, he had come up with the whole story. Learned counsel for the appellants states that the other accused persons were also implicated in the case as their names were known to the first informant and they were inimical to him and also his father.

(ii) Learned counsel for the appellants thereafter states that if the injury report and the postmortem reports are seen, it would become evident that all the injuries with firearm injuries which were three in number were $\frac{1}{2} \times \frac{1}{2}$ inches and he, therefore, states that all the injuries were by one firearm and the other co-accused persons had not at all fired upon the injured/deceased.

(iii) Learned counsel for the appellants thereafter states that there were contradictions in the statements of PW-1 with what he had stated in the first information. He has stated that in the first information report there was a statement of the first informant that the father of the first informant was lying in an injured state in the shop when the incident had occurred whereas in the statement-in-chief he had stated that after the incident had occurred a Police jeep had come and the first informant alongwith the Police had headed towards the hospital and while going to the hospital the first information report was handed over to Madan Singh, Daroga. Definitely, therefore, he states that the story which had been reported in the first information report and was got lodged as a definite first information, was a concocted story. Learned counsel for the appellants further states that if the statement of PW-1 is compared with the statement of PW-5 then it becomes evident that the case as was being put forth by the prosecution was not a reliable one. Learned counsel for the appellant states that the PW-5 had stated that the son of the deceased, the first informant, in the hospital got transcribed the first information report which was Exhibit Ka-1 and he had directed the Head Muharrir to get the first information report lodged. Learned counsel for the appellants, therefore, states that there is contradiction between the statements of the PW-5 and the PW-1. Still further learned counsel for the appellants states that when there was a definite recording of statement done by D.W.-4 and he had also proved the dying declaration then it did not lie in the mouth of PW-5 to say that he had taken the injured/deceased to the hospital, where he was throughout with the injured and after the injured had died he had left the spot to investigate into the other death which had taken place i.e. the death of Ram Gopal.

(iv) Still further learned counsel for the appellants states that PW-2, Somdutta, whose name was not mentioned in the first information report allegedly was not there at the spot as had been stated by the PW-1 in his statement-in-chief. In fact the statement of PW-2 is absolutely unreliable inasmuch as he himself states that in fact his wife had told him to go to the Police Station where he had given his statement. Learned counsel for the appellants, therefore, states that he was only a chance witness who was brought in by the prosecution to make the case of the prosecution stronger.

(v) Learned counsel for the appellants states that in the first information even though the PW-1 had not stated anything about any eye-witnesses but in the statement before the Court he had stated that apart from Somdutta, Smt. Ram Kumari, Om Prakash Goswami and Balvindra Singh were also there. He, however, states that none of the persons mentioned in the statement of PW-1 apart from Somdutta (whose evidence is absolutely not believable) were not produced before the Court.

(vi) Learned counsel for the appellants, therefore, states that if the case as a whole is looked into, it becomes evident that there was a dying declaration which was proved by the doctor who had recorded the same and in the dying declaration there was only one name mentioned i.e. of Gorelal and the injured who was getting his dying declaration recorded, had categorically stated that he had no enmity with Gorelal. Learned counsel for the appellants, therefore, states that the other co-accused persons who had been named by the first informant in the first information report were not there on the spot and only to implicate certain persons, who were inimical to the first informant and the deceased, their names were mentioned in the first information report. Learned counsel for the appellants, therefore, states that absolutely there was no ingredient of section 149 of I.P.C. present. The co-accused persons could not be said to have had any common object as is defined under Section 141 of I.P.C., to be with Gorelal. Learned counsel for the appellants relying upon the judgment of Supreme Court in Vinubhai Ranchhodbhai Patel vs. Rajivbhai Dudabhai Patel & Others reported AIR 2018 SC 2472 states that when a conviction is to be done under Section 149 of I.P.C. the identification of common object is essential and when the common object is not identified, the accused cannot be, in any manner, be convicted under the substantive offence with the assistance of Section 149 of I.P.C. To bolster his case, learned counsel relied upon paragraphs 30, 31 and 32 of the judgement which are being reproduced here as under:

30. The common object of assembly is normally to be gathered from the circumstances of each case such as the time and place of the gathering of the assembly, the conduct of the gathering as distinguished from the conduct of the individual members are indicative of the common object of the gathering. Assessing the common object of an assembly only on the basis of the overt acts committed by such individual members of the assembly, in our opinion is impermissible. For example, if more than five people gather together and attack another person with deadly weapons eventually resulting in the death of the victim, it is wrong to conclude that one or some of the members of such assembly did not share the common object with those who had inflicted the fatal injuries (as proved by medical evidence); merely on the ground that the injuries inflicted by such members are relatively less serious and non fatal.

31. For mulcting liability on the members of an unlawful assembly under Section 149, it is not necessary that every member of the unlawful assembly should commit the offence in prosecution of the common object of the assembly. Mere knowledge of the likelihood of commission of such an offence by the members of the assembly is sufficient. For example, if five or more members carrying AK 47 rifles collectively attack a victim and cause his death by gunshot injuries, the fact that one or two of the members of the assembly did not in fact fire their weapons does not mean that they did not have the knowledge of the fact that the offence of murder is likely to be committed.

32. The identification of the common object essentially requires an assessment of the state of mind of the members of the unlawful assembly. Proof of such mental condition is normally established by inferential logic. If a large number of people gather at a public place at the dead of night armed with deadly weapons like axes and fire arms and attack another person or group of persons, any member of the attacking group would have to be a moron in intelligence if he did not know murder would be a likely consequence.

16. Sri Amit Sinha, learned A.G.A. assisted by Ms. Mayuri Mehrotra, however, supported the judgment. Learned AGA submitted that eye-witness account could not be brushed aside lightly. He further submitted that when even if dying declaration had mentioned just one name it mattered little as there were definite evidence of the fact that the other accused persons were involved in the crime. Learned AGA still further submitted that if there were some minor contradictions in the statement of the prosecution witnesses then also they ought to be ignored, looking to the other evidence which was led in the case.

17. Having heard the learned counsel for the appellants Sri V.P. Srivastava, Senior Advocate, assisted by Sri Jitendra Singh, Sri Rajiv Nayan Singh and M/s Nija Srivastava and the learned AGA Sri Amit Sinha assisted by Ms. Mayuri Mehrotra counsel for the State, this Court is of the view that definitely the prosecution case becomes weak when one looks into the dying declaration. In the dying declaration, the deceased had mentioned that Gorelal alone was present at the place and he had fired upon the injured deceased. However, even in the dying declaration, the injured deceased had mentioned that there was no enmity between Gorelal and the injured/deceased. We find that the prosecution realizing fully well that its case would become weak had not tried to prove the dying declaration. It was also not exhibited in the trial and in fact the defence brought it as exhibit kha-6. We are also convinced that the names of the other co-accused which never found place in the dying declaration were mentioned by the P.W.-1, the first informant only to settle scores with them. It appears that the P.W. - 1 was inimical to the other co-accused persons and, therefore, while he was lodging the first information report with regard to the murder of his father, he had mentioned those names as well. Also, we are of the view that P.W. - 1 Pramod Kumar Gupta was not sure as to how the incident had occurred and he gives stories which are at variance with each other. This convinced the Court that the petitioner no. 1 was, in fact, not at the spot. Also, from the post-mortem report, we find that firearm injuries were only of one size and if the other co-accused also fired then there would have been injuries of different sizes and, therefore, this also falsifies the case of the prosecution. Needless to mention that the contradictions were such that the statements of the various prosecution witnesses become highly unreliable. Also, we find that Somdutt, the P.W. - 2, was not at the spot as he, in fact, has mentioned in his statement that he had gone to the police station when his wife had sent him and the P.W. - 1 in his statement in chief had definitely stated that P.W. - 2 was not there at the spot. Also, we find that P.W. - 1 had tried to improve the case which he had taken in the first information report at the time of getting his statement recorded in the Court. He had stated that Smt. Ram Kumari, Om Prakash Goswami and Balbindra were also there on the spot. The Court finds that they were never produced as prosecution witnesses in the Court. Also, we find that when the other co-accused were not there at the spot and when there was no meeting of mind with regard to any common object then the various co-accused persons could not be implicated under Section 149 IPC.

18. Under such circumstances, the instant criminal appeal is allowed and the judgement and order dated 24.3.1986 passed by the 3rd Additional Sessions Judge, Fatehpur, in Session Trial No. 416 of 1983 is quashed and set aside vis-a-vis appellant no. 2 Sheoram Singh, appellant no.6 Shiv Singh and the appellant no. 7 Ompal Singh. The appellants No. 2, 6 and 7 are acquitted of the charges on the basis of which the trial had proceeded. Since the appellants no. 2, 6 and 7 are on bail, the bail bonds and sureties are discharged. With regard to the appellants no. 1, 3, 4 and 5, the appeal had already abated.

A. Criminal Law - Criminal Procedure Code,1973-Section 374(2)-Indian Penal Code,1860-Sections 302/34, 498A, & 3/4 D.P. Act-the deceased was set ablaze by her in-laws due to dowry demands-the prosecution relied on dying declaration from the victim, statements from the victim's family and neighbors, investigation reports including site plan and medical documentation- Later, key witnesses (father, mother, brother of the deceased) turned hostile, stating that there was no dowry demand- The court held that dying declaration needs corroboration given the inconsistencies and procedural gaps- witnesses' credibility issues arose as key prosecution witnesses did not support the case- no recovery of evidence to substantiate the prosecution's claims (e.g., burnt clothes, forensic reports)- A dying declaration must be voluntary, truthful and reliable to form the sole basis of conviction- benefit of doubt in criminal cases goes to the accused. 8. Identical charges were framed against accused Kamal. The accused did not plead guilty and claimed the trial.

9. In prosecution evidence, PW-1- Munesh appeared and deposed on the line of the FIR. The operative part of the examination-in-chief read as under:

"मुनेश एस/ओ काले सिंह उम्र 30 साल पेशा- मजदूरी निवासी गांव सदरपुर थाना सलैमपुर जिला बुलन्द शहर ने शपथ पूर्वक ब्यान किया कि- मृतका नीलम मेरी भतीजी लगती थी घटना से करीब 7 वर्ष पूर्व उसकी शादी राजू के साथ हुई थी। शादी अच्छी हुई थी मेरे भाई ने खूब पैसा लगाया था। जो शादी में दिया था उससे नीलम की ससुराल वाले राजू पति, जय प्रकाश ससुर, बबली नन्द, विमला सास और कमल जो इनके परिचित हैं खुश नहीं थे। कमल राजू के दोस्त हैं और राजू के साथ आते जाते थे। और ये लोग कहते थे कि शादी में गाड़ी नहीं दी और इस बात को लेकर लड़की के साथ मारपीट करते थे और परेशान, तंग करते थे। ये बात हमें जब पता लगी जब हम लड़की को लिवा कर लाये थे तब लड़की ने यह

हमने पूछा लाली क्या हुआ। उसने बताया कि चाचा जी कमल, राजू, विमलेश, बबली, जय प्रकाश ने मेरे उपर मिट्टी का तेल डालकर आग लगा दी क्योंकि आग इसलिए लगायी थी कि दहेज नहीं दिया गया था। जो कि गाड़ी के रूप में मांगा गया था। फिर हमारी भतीजी दिल्ली रैफर यह कहकर कर दी थी कि इसका इलाज यहां नहीं हो पायेगा। हम करीब 11-11.30 पर यहां आये थे। तो पता करने पर 11 बजे आग लगने का पता चला इस घटना की रिपोर्ट मैंने अपने ही गांव के सतीश कुमार से बोल-बोल कर लिखायी थी। और बाद में मैंने उसके पढकर सुनाने पर उस पर हस्ताक्षर किये थे। साक्षी ने पत्रावली पर उपलब्ध तहरीर को देखकर कहा कि यह वही तहरीर है जो मैंने सतीश कुमार को बोल-2 कर लिखायी थी इस पर मेरे हस्ताक्षर हैं। इस पर प्रदर्श क-1 डाला गया।"

In cross-examination, this witness stated that accused Kamal is resident of different village-Accheja in District Bulandshahar.

He further stated that on account of demand of dowry, the relationship of the deceased and her husband were strained and father of the deceased has got registered the police complaint regarding demand of dowry. He further stated as under :

"अस्पताल में और लोगों की बाते नीलम से हुई थी हमें तो डाक्टर ने कहा था कि उसे दिल्ली ले जाओ मुझे पता चला था कि नीलम बोलने में असमर्थ थी।

.....XX.....

.....XX

भी गांव आता जाता था। कभी राजू (नीलम) को ले आता था कभी नीलम के घर वाले ले आते थे। गुरु तेग बहादुर में नीलम के साथ अधिकतर सुधीर व उसकी भाभी नीलम डब्लू/ओ नरेश रहती थी यह बात सही है कि मेरे साथ मेरे भाई फकीरा आज न्यायालय आये हैं।"

10. PW-2- Fakira- father of deceased Neelam, did not support the prosecution version and stated as under:

" नाम साक्षी फकीरा एस ओ काले सिंह आयु 55 साल पेशा मजदूरी आर/ओ सदरपुर साईवैली पी०एस० सलैमपुर जि० बुलन्दशहर ने सशपथ ब्यान किया कि- मेरे इस समय 3 लड़के व 2 लड़की है। एक लड़की खत्म हो गयी थी मेरी लड़की नीलम की उम्र मृत्यु पूर्व 24-25 साल थी। मैंने नीलम की शादी लगभग 7 साल पहले राजू के साथ की थी। राजू अनौना ग्राम का पी०एस० पहासू जिला बुलन्दशहर का रहने वाला है। मैंने अपनी लड़की नीलम की

शादी मैंने एक रुपये की शादी थी जो मुझ पर बना मैंने सभी कुछ दिया था। शादी के समय ससुराल वाले खुश थे पहले दहेज प्रथा लगी थी। सास विमलेश ससुर जयप्रकाश मेरी लड़की से खुश नहीं थे दहेज की कोई मांग नहीं थी सास बहू में कहन सुनन होने लगी थी। ये बात मुझे, मेरी पन्ति व अपने भाई के कहन सुनन वाली बात बताई थी इससे सम्बन्धित दहेज उत्पीडन का मुकदमा बुलन्दशहर न्यायालय में चला था। मेरी लड़की को मरे करीब 3 साल हुए हैं शादी को सात आठ साल हो गये हैं। मेरी लड़की नीलम को मुलजिमान राजू जयप्रकाश विमलेश, बबली व कमल को दहेज के लिये नहीं मारा था। दिल्ली जी०टी०वी० अस्पताल में मैं अपनी लड़की को लेकर गया था लड़की की सूचना गांव वालों ने दी थी मैं मेरा लड़का नीलम को एम्बुलेंस से दिल्ली अस्पताल ले गये थे। उसके बाद जी०टी०वी० अस्पताल में भर्ती (का० फटा) एफ०आई०आर० मेरे भाई मुनेश

Declare hostile on the request of ADGC."

In cross-examination by ADGC, he denied that he has made a statement before C.O. regarding demand of dowry. He pleaded ignorance about the contents of the complaint filed for demand of dowry. He also denied about the dying declaration made by the deceased in the hospital. In cross-examination by accused Kamal, he stated that Kamal is not from the family of the accused persons and is resident of the different village. He further stated that when they were in the hospital, he did not ask anyone as to how a victim suffered burn injuries. He further stated that in a period of six days, he along with Sudhir, Sudhir's sister-in-law-Neelam stayed in the hospital and as the deceased was admitted in a Ladies Ward, Neelam (sister-in-law) stayed with her. During the treatment, the victim was unconscious and when the cremation of his daughter was done, Jayprakash (father-in-law) and other villagers attended the same. He further stated that he did not know how his daughter sustained burn injuries and admitted a suggestion that Raju, Jayprakash, Vimlesh, Babli and Kamal have not committed the murder of his daughter.

11. PW-3- Sudhir Kumar, brother of deceased Neelam also did not support the prosecution version and rather stated that his sister sustained accidental burn injuries from stove while cooking food.

In cross-examination, this witness also stated that till the time his sister was in the hospital, she was unconscious and he along with his sister-in-law Neelam were attending her. He stated that the informant of the case is uncle who residing separately and her father-in-law Jayprakash and 2-3 other persons attended the cremation of his sister. He admitted a suggestion that his sister died because of accidental stove burn injuries. The operative part of cross examination read as under :

"जब हम बुलन्दशहर अस्पताल में आये थे तब हमारी बहन बेहोश थी। जी०टी०बी० अस्पताल दिल्ली में वो महिला वार्ड में रही थी। मैं व मेरी भाभी नीलम उसकी तीमार दारी में रहे थे यह बात सही है कि वह जिस जले वार्ड में भर्ती रही वह पूरा महिला वार्ड था उसमें आदमी लोग मरीज को केवल देख सकते थे रह नहीं सकते थे नीलम मेरे

इस वार्क की रिपोर्ट मेरे चाचा ने लिखाई थी जो हमारे परिवार से अलग रहते हैं। और उनका मकान भी हमसे अलग है। मैं अपने चाचा के साथ रिपोर्ट कराने थाने नहीं गया था। मेरे पिता मेरे परिवार के मुखिया हैं। बेटे बेटियों की शादी लेना देना सब मेरे पिता करते हैं। बहन को शादी में जो भी खर्च किया वह मेरे पिता ने किया अपनी इच्छा से किया शादी के समय कोई मांग जांच नहीं थी। मुझसे भी व्यक्तिगत रूप से

कोई मांग जांच नहीं थी। शादी के बाद जो भी रस्में होती हैं वह सब राजी खुशी हुई थी। और लड़की का शादी के बाद आना जाना था कभी हम ले आते थे कभी वह स्वयं लाते थे। कमल मुलजिम दूसरे गाँव का रहने वाला है। राजू मेरा बहनोई पंखे बनाने का मिस्त्री है। हमारी बहन स्वयं अपनी राजी से अपने पति राजू के साथ गयी थी। मुझसे सी०ओ० साहब ने कोई पूछताछ नहीं की थी। मेरी बहन के दाह संस्कार में मेरी बहन के ससुर जय प्रकाश व दो चार लोग अनौना के शामिल हुए थे। यह बात सही है कि मेरी बहन स्टोव से आग लगने के कारण जल कर मरी थी।"

12. PW-4- Ved Prakash Meena, Executive Magistrate stated that on the direction of S.D.M. Seemapuri, he has visited the G.T.B. Hospital for recording the statement of Neelam, where he met A.S.I. Naresh Kumar and he then went for recording the statement of victim. The doctor gave his opinion that the victim is fit to make her statement and he recorded the statement, the dying declaration, which Ex.Ka.2. In cross-examination, this witness stated that he cannot tell the difference between fitness to speak and stability in fitness to speak. He stated that the statement of the victim as Ex.Ka.2 is of 40 lines, which were recorded at the time when doctor was not present. He took one hour in recording the statement. He stated that he has no written order of S.D.M. and only on his oral order, he has recorded the statement. He further stated that he had no knowledge if the Investigating Officer has recorded his statement. He stated on Ex.Ka.2 at the beginning, there is a signature but he did not know, who had signed it. He also stated that he did not get the signature of the attendant of the victim. He further stated that the victim was 90% burnt and only doctor can tell whether she was in a position to speak. 13. PW-5- Naresh Kumar, A.S.I. stated that he got the post-mortem of Neelam conducted and handed over the dead body to her brother and father. He recorded the statement of some of the witnesses vide Ex.Ka.3. The dead body was handed over as per order of Executive Magistrate. He obtained the thumb impression of Fakir Chand as Ex.Ka.4. Panchayatnama is Ex.Ka.6.

In cross-examination, he admitted that he has not signed the documents i.e. Ex.Ka.3 to Ex.Ka.6. Even on the Panchayatnama as Ex.Ka.6, he has not signed and no time is mentioned on these documents. However, as per his memory, these were prepared on 09.07.2014. The examination-in-chief of PW-5 is read as under :

"दि० 9.7.2014 को बतौर ए०एस०आई० जि०टी०बी० एन्कलेव तैनात था उस दिन मैंने नीलम डब्लू/ओ राजू का पी०एम० कराकर उसकी वोडी उसके भाई व पिता के सुपुर्द की थी तथा नीलम के निशानी अंगूठा लगवाया था तथा भाई सुधीर के दस्तखत कराये थे मेरे द्वारा शिनाख्ती (sic) सुधीर कुमार व फकीर चन्द कराये थे जो पत्रावली पर पेपर सं० 7ए/4 है ब्यान मेरे हस्तलेख में अंकित परन्तु हस्ताक्षर एकजीक्यूटिव मजिस्ट्रेट के हैं मैं अपने हस्तलेख की शिनाख्त करता हूँ जिस पर प्रदर्श क-3 डाला गया। इसी तरह मैंने निशानी अंगूठा फकीर चन्द का लिया था कागज सं० 7ए/5 मेरे हस्तलेख में है जिस पर प्रदर्श क-4 डाला गया।"

14. PW-6- Rafal Singh Tomar, C.O., another I.O. also gave details of the investigation conducted, recording the statement of the victim and the manner in which the arrest of the accused persons was done. He prepared the charge-sheet as Ex.Ka.7 which was filed in the court and the supplementary charge-sheet regarding Jayprakash as Ex.Ka.8.

In cross-examination, this witness stated that accused Kamal is resident of village- Accheja whereas other accused is resident of village- Ananua and there is a difference of 20kms. He stated that he asked from the accused if Kamal is their relative. The case was initially registered under Sections 498A, 307 of I.P.C. and Section 3/4 of D.P. Act. Later on, Section 304B of IPC was added.

15. PW-7- Virma, mother of the deceased Neelam stated that there was no demand of dowry from the accused side and she has no knowledge how her daughter Neelam died. This witness was also declared hostile.

In cross-examination, she stated that when she visited the hospital, her daughter Neelam was not in a position to speak. She admitted a suggestion that Neelam never raised any objection that there was any demand of dowry from her in-laws.

16. PW-8- Manish Kumar, Constable stated that he has recorded the G.D. entry and chic FIR as Ex.Ka.9 and Ex.Ka.10. In cross-examination, he admitted that in the chic FIR as Ex.Ka.9, the C.J.M. under his seal has put the date as 10.7.2014 whereas the incident is of 2.7.2014. He denied a suggestion that FIR is ante-time.

17. PW-9- Jay Prakash Upadhyay, another I.O. stated that he has prepared the site plan as Ex.Ka.11 and recorded statement of witnesses as Ex.Ka.12 and Ex.Ka.13. After the death of the victim, section 304B of IPC was added.

18. PW-10- Alok Kumar, working in G.T.B. Hospital, has produced on record the death summary prepared by Dr. Swathi as Ex.Ka-1.

In cross-examination, he stated that he had no knowledge where Dr. Swathi is presently working. He further stated that the cause of death was septicemia and the deceased died on 9.7.2014.

19. Thereafter, the statements of accused persons under Section 313 of Cr.P.C. was recorded and all the incriminating evidences were put together. It was stated on behalf of the accused Kamal that he has no connection with the family of accused Raju and he was not present at the spot and he has been falsely implicated. The other accused also in their statements under Section 313 of Cr.P.C., stated that neither there was any demand of dowry nor the deceased was harassed. The victim was admitted in Govt. Hospital by Vimlesh and Raju. Jaiprakash had stayed in the hospital and had borne all the expenses of medical treatment including medicine. He also attended the cremation of the deceased. In reply to Question No.5, a specific reply is given that the statement of Neelam (sister-in-law of victim Neelam) is made base of Dying Declaration.

20. In defence evidence, DW-1, Dr. Sachin, was examined who stated that on 2.7.2014, Neelam was brought by Raju s/o Jaiprakash. Neelam was having 95% burn injuries and she did not tell him about the cause of sustaining injuries as she was not in a position to speak. After her medical examination, she was sent to better institution for further medical treatment.

21. The right foot impression of the injured was taken on the medico legal report as Ex.Kha.1. In cross-examination, he has stated that witness was not in a position to speak.

22. Thereafter, the trial court vide impugned judgment of conviction, held the appellants guilty of offence under Sections 302/34 of I.P.C. and further awarded life imprisonment along with fine to all the accused persons.

23. Heard learned counsel for the appellants and the paper book and the Trial Court's Record is perused. The entire evidence has been re-appreciated.

24. Learned counsel for the appellant-Kamal has primarily argued that the appellant-Kamal is resident of a different village and is not related to the other accused and he has been falsely nominated in the F.I.R. only because he is named in the Dying Declaration.

25. It is next argued that PW-2, father of deceased, PW-3, brother of deceased and PW-7, mother of the deceased, have not supported the prosecution version and have not named appellant-Kamal for his involvement in the incident.

26. It is also argued that all the three witnesses of fact have also not supported the allegation against the other accused.

27. It is next argued that no motive is attributed towards the appellant and even no motive is attributed to the other accused regarding demand of dowry or maltreatment at any stage.

28. The common argument raised by counsels for all accused persons is that the Dying Declaration is a doubtful document as the opinion of the Doctor that the victim was in a fit state of mind is not obtained on the Dying Declaration and only on the OPD Notes, it is mentioned that the victim is fit to give statements though a day prior, it was reported that she was unfit to make statements.

29. Counsel submits that the Doctor Sudipta who was treating the victim was the best witness to depose whether victim was in a fit condition to speak or not, however, Dr. Sudipta of G.T.B. Hospital, Shahdara, Delhi was not examined by the prosecution.

30. It is next argued that the deceased had suffered 90 to 95% of burn injuries and she was on seductive medication and nothing has come on record that she was not given seductive medication for pain and, therefore, it is not proved that she was in a fit mental condition to record the statement.

31. Counsel argued that even PW-4 before recording the Dying Declaration has not asked any questions to the victim, in order to satisfy himself that she was in fit mental condition to depose. In cross examination, PW-4 has stated that he was not sure whether the victim was in a fit condition to speak and rather stated that only the Doctor can tell whether she was in a fit condition to speak or not and, therefore, subjective satisfaction of the Executive Magistrate is missing.

32. It is next argued that the Dying Declaration contains two pages and as per PW-4, was recorded in time span of one hour. Therefore, the manner in which, the Dying Declaration, was recorded raises a doubt whether the victim was in fit mental condition as she was in a deep pain due to 90-95% of burn injuries which included injuries on her face, therefore, she was not in a position to speak.

33. Reliance is placed on Irfan @ Naka Vs. State of U.P., AIR 2023 SC 4129 where the Supreme Court has held as under :

“62. There is no hard and fast rule for determining when a dying declaration should be accepted; the duty of the Court is to decide this question in the facts and surrounding circumstances of the case and be fully convinced of the truthfulness of the same. Certain factors below reproduced can be considered to determine the same, however, they will only affect the weight of the dying declaration and not its admissibility: -

(i) Whether the person making the statement was in expectation of death?

(ii) Whether the dying declaration was made at the earliest opportunity? “Rule of First Opportunity”

(iii) Whether there is any reasonable suspicion to believe the dying declaration was put in the mouth of the dying person?

(iv) Whether the dying declaration was a product of prompting, tutoring or leading at the instance of police or any interested party?

(v) Whether the statement was not recorded properly?

(vi) Whether, the dying declarant had opportunity to clearly observe the incident?

(vii) Whether, the dying declaration has been consistent throughout?

(viii) Whether, the dying declaration in itself is a manifestation / fiction of the dying person's imagination of what he thinks transpired?

(ix) Whether, the dying declaration was itself voluntary?

(x) In case of multiple dying declarations, whether, the first one inspires truth and consistent with the other dying declaration?

(xi) Whether, as per the injuries, it would have been impossible for the deceased to make a dying declaration?

63. It is the duty of the prosecution to establish the charge against the accused beyond the reasonable doubt. The benefit of doubt must always go in favour of the accused. It is true that dying declaration is a substantive piece of evidence to be relied on provided it is proved that the same was voluntary and truthful and the victim was in a fit state of mind. It is just not enough for the court to say that the dying declaration is reliable as the accused is named in the dying declaration as the assailant.”

34. It is argued that except the Dying Declaration, there is no other corroborating evidence to prove the charges against the appellants and, therefore, the Dying Declaration cannot be made the sole basis for convicting the appellants.

34. It is argued that except the Dying Declaration, there is no other corroborating evidence to prove the charges against the appellants and, therefore, the Dying Declaration cannot be made the sole basis for convicting the appellants.

35. Reliance is placed on the decision of the Supreme Court in Jayamma Vs. State of Karnataka, AIR 2021 SC 2399. Operative part of the judgment read as under :

“22. Having meditated over the issue to the extent it is possible, and on a minute examination of the original document Ex.P5 (without understanding its contents as it is in Kannada language except that the endorsement of the doctor is in English) read with its true translation placed on record, we do not find it totally safe to convict the appellants on the basis of the said document alongwith its corroboration by PW11 and PW16. We say so for several reasons as summarised hereinafter:

Firstly, the narration of events in the dying declaration is so accurate, that even a witness in the normal state of mind, cannot be expected to depose with such precision. Although it is stated that deceased was questioned by the Police officer, the purported dying declaration is not in a questions and answers format. The direct or indirect dominance of the Police Officer appears to have influenced the answers only in one direction.

Secondly, the injured victim was an illiterate old person and it appears beyond human probabilities that she would have been able to narrate the minutes of the incident with such a high degree of accuracy.

Thirdly, there is sufficient evidence on record that the victim had been administered highly sedative painkillers. Owing to 80% burn injuries suffered by the victim on all vital parts of the body, it can be legitimately inferred that she was reeling in pain and was in great agony and the possibility of her being in a state of delusion and hallucination cannot be completely ruled out. We say so at the cost of repetition that the doctor (PW16) made the endorsement that the victim was in a fit state of mind to make the statement ‘after’ the statement was recorded and not ‘before’ thereto — being the normal practice. It further appears to us that faculties of the injured had been drastically impaired and instead of making statement in an informative form she had apparently endorsed what the Police Officer (PW11) intended to.

True it is that the Police Officer (PW11) had no axe to grind or a motive to implicate the appellants, but his overenthusiasm to solve a criminal case within no time seems to have swayed the Police Officer (PW11) so much that he appears to have not asked the doctor to make an endorsement of fitness of the victim before recording the statement. He also did not deem it appropriate to call a Judicial or Executive Magistrate to record such statement, for the reasons best known to himself.

Fourthly, there is a serious contradiction between the statement of Dr. A. Thippeswamy (PW16) on one hand and the police officer K.V. Mallikarjunappa (PW-11) on the other, in respect of the nature of burn injuries suffered on different body parts of the victim. While the doctor acknowledges that burn injuries included the hands of the victim, the police officer claims that her hands were safe and she could put her thumb impression. We have seen the thumb impression very scrupulously and the same appears to be absolutely natural. If that is so, the medical officer, whose statement should carry more weightage in respect of the nature and gravity of injuries, stands belied.

Fifthly, and most importantly the police officer K.V. Mallikarjunappa (PW11) candidly admits that he did not seek an endorsement from the doctor as to whether the injured was in a fit state of mind to make a statement, before he proceeded to record the statement. Both the police officer as well as the doctor have tried to cover up this serious lacuna by referring to the purported oral endorsement of the doctor. It appears that the police officer was in full command of the situation and with a view to fill up the legal lacuna, he later on secured the endorsement from the doctor (PW-16) on the available space of the paper, which is ex facie unusual and not in line with settled legal procedure.

Sixthly, the alleged motive for the homicidal death is highly doubtful. There is not an iota of evidence, and the prosecution has made no effort to verify the truth in the statement that the appellants poured kerosene and lit the victim on fire only because her son had assaulted the husband of Appellant No.1 and the accused were insisting on payment of Rs.4,000/ which was spent on the treatment of the said assault-victim. Not much can be said when the deceased's own son and daughter-inlaw have denied this incident and rather claimed that their mother/motherinlaw committed suicide.

The Seventh reason to dissuade us from harping upon Ex.P5 is the conduct of the parties, i.e., a natural recourse expected to happen. Had it been a case of homicidal death, and the victim's son (PW2) and her daughterinlaw (PW5) had witnessed the occurrence, then in all probabilities, they would have, while making arrangement to take the injured to hospital, definitely attempted to lodge a complaint to the police. Contrarily, the evidence of the doctor and the police officer suggest that while the son, daughter-in-law and neighbour of the deceased were present in the hospital, none approached the police to report such a ghastly crime. It is difficult to accept that the son and daughter-in-law of the deceased were won over by the accused persons within hours of the occurrence. This unusual conduct and behaviour lends support to the parallel version that the victim might have committed suicide.

The Eighth reason which makes us reluctant to accept the contents of purported dying declaration (Ex. P-5), is the fact that victim, Jayamma was brought to the Civil Hospital at 12.30 a.m. on 22.09.1998. She succumbed to her burn injuries after almost 30 hours later at 5:30 am on 23.09.1998. It is neither the case of prosecution nor has it been so stated by PW-11 or PW-16 that soon after recording her statement (Ex. P-5) she became unconscious or went into coma. The prosecution, therefore, had sufficient time to call a Judicial/Executive Magistrate to record the dying declaration. It is common knowledge that such Officers are judicially trained to record dying declarations after complying with all the mandatory pre-requisites, including certification or endorsement from the Medical Officer that the victim was in a fit state of mind to make a statement. We hasten to add that the law does not compulsorily require the presence of a Judicial or Executive Magistrate to record a dying declaration or that a dying declaration cannot be relied upon as the solitary piece of evidence unless recorded by a Judicial or Executive Magistrate. It is only as a rule of prudence, and if so permitted by the facts and circumstances, the dying declaration may preferably be recorded by a Judicial or Executive Magistrate so as to muster additional strength to the prosecution case.

23. The other important reason to depart from the High Court's view re. conviction of the appellants is that the power of scrutiny exercisable by the High Court under Section 378, CrPC should not be routinely invoked where the view formed by the trial court was a 'possible view'. The judgment of the trial court cannot be set aside merely because the High Court finds its own view more probable, save where the judgment of the trial court suffers from perversity or the conclusions drawn by it were impossible if there was a correct reading and analysis of the evidence on record. To say it differently, unless the High Court finds that there is complete misreading of the material evidence which has led to miscarriage of justice, the view taken by the trial court which can also possibly be a correct view, need not be interfered with. This self-restraint doctrine, of course, does not denude the High Court of its powers to re-appreciate the evidence, including in an appeal against acquittal and arrive at a different firm finding of fact.”

36. It is further argued that the sister-in-law of the deceased whose name is also Neelam, as per the prosecution version, had attended her in the Burn Ward of the Hospital was not examined and even her statement was not recorded by the Investigating Officer which raises a suspicion and, therefore, material witness has not been examined by the prosecution.

37. It is next argued that it has come in the statement of Investigating Officer that he has not recovered the burnt clothes of the accused-appellant who tried to save her for verifying that there was kerosene residue and, therefore, the Investigating Officer has failed to conduct a fair, impartial and proper investigation.

38. It is lastly argued that there is no eye-witness of the incident and even PW-1, the uncle of the deceased, who is the informant, in cross examination, has not supported the prosecution version.

39. It is additionally argued on behalf of other co-accused who are the husband, sister-in-law, mother-in-law of the deceased that the deceased had not reported any incident of cruelty or harassment to her parents prior to her death to prove the motive of committing the offence.

40. It is argued that in fact it was a case of accidental fire as a kerosene stove exploded while cooking the food as stated by PW-3, brother of the deceased.

41. Counsel has further submitted that though PW-1, Munesh, who is the first informant and uncle of the deceased has stated that on previous occasion, a case was registered against the accused for harassment and demand of dowry, however, there is nothing on record to prove this fact as no complaint or order of any Court is produced by prosecution.

42. It is further submitted that PW-2, Fakira, the father, PW-3, Sudhir Kumar, the brother, PW-7, Virma, the mother of the victim, have unequivocally failed to support the prosecution version and rather stated that the appellants have not made any demand of dowry immediately prior to the death of the deceased. PW-3 has even stated that the deceased died as a result of accident as the kerosene stove exploded.

43. It is argued that in fact the IO has recorded the dying declaration later on taking statement from Neelam (who is wife of brother of victim as she shares the same name as of victim) and Trial Court has misread the evidence as the Trial Court has wrongly taken the statement of Neelam to the statement of victim-Neelam. It is argued that Neelam is sister-in-law of victim-Neelam who as per prosecution was present at the hospital but was never examined by the prosecution and an important right of accused to put up their defence in this regard to her in cross examination is denied.

44. It is submitted that DW-1, Dr. Sachin, who examined the victim at the first instance, has stated that the victim suffered 95% of burn injuries and was not in a position to speak or communicate and Dr. Sudipta who, gave the opinion on the MLC at the first instance on 2.7.2014 that the victim was not in a fit state of making statement and on the next date the opinion was that the victim was in fit condition to make statement, was never examined. Counsel submits that even the Dying Declaration was not attested by any of the said Doctor to prove that statement was either recorded after seeking her opinion or was recorded in her presence.

45. In reply, learned A.G.A. for the State has argued that in the operating notes of the treating Doctor, Dr. Sudipta, on 2.7.2014 at 7.30 PM, she gave opinion that Patient is not fit for making statement as she is not totally conscious, oriented and in sound state of mind. However on the next date i.e. 3.7.2014 at 11.30 AM she gave opinion that Patient is fit for giving statement as she is conscious, oriented and in sound state of mind. It is submitted that only after this opinion was given, PW-4 recorded dying declaration of the victim on the same date.

46. It is next argued that even as per the MLC of the Doctor of District Hospital, Bulandshahr, it is reported that the burn percentage is about 95% and smell of kerosene oil is coming from the body and the patient is reported to be conscious.

47. Learned A.G.A. has further argued that in the Dying Declaration, the victim has given the details of incident and manner in which she was burnt to death and, therefore, the Dying Declaration is proved in accordance with law.

48. It is submitted that PW-4 had gone to record the statement of the victim as per the order of the Sub Division Magistrate of the area and, therefore, he was duly authorized to record the Dying Declaration.

49. After hearing the counsel for the appellants and upon perusal of the paper book and on re-appreciation of the entire evidence, with the assistance of learned Counsels for the appellants and learned A.G.A. for the State and in view of the decisions in Irfan @ Naka's Case and Jayamma's Case (Supra), we find merits in these appeals for the following reasons :

A. The three witnesses of facts i.e. Fakira (PW-2/father of the deceased), Sudhir Kumar (PW-3/brother of the deceased) and Virma (PW-7/mother of the deceased) did not support the prosecution version and were declared hostile. All the three witnesses have stated that the accused persons have not killed victim-Neelam for demand of dowry.

PW-3 has even stated that the deceased died in an accidental fire due to bursting of kerosene stove. He further stated in his cross examination that his father is the head of the family and his uncle Munesh (PW-1/Informant) is residing separately and marriages of all the sons and daughters were performed by his father Fakira (PW-2). Therefore, there is nothing on record to suggest that the victim was harassed on account of demand of dowry immediately prior to her death. Even PW-1 (informant/real uncle of deceased), in cross examination, has stated that accused persons have not harassed the victim and there was no demand of dowry and he do not know how the victim died.

B. Munesh (PW-1/informant) in the complaint (Ex.Ka-1) which is base of the F.I.R. (Ex.Ka-2) has stated that he had gone to the hospital at Bulandshahr where he met the victim and she told that the accused persons by pouring kerosene oil lit the fire because the demand of dowry was not met.

The only source of information given in the complaint is that the victim had told PW-1 about this fact. However, DW-1, Dr. Sachin, who first attended the victim in the Government Hospital, Bulandshahr and had prepared the Medico Legal Report has categorically stated that victim-

Neelam was having 95% of burn injuries and she did not tell him about the cause of sustaining injuries as she was not in a position to speak. Therefore, the statement of PW-1 that on visiting the hospital, the victim told him about the role of the accused persons is not proved as the Doctor who attended her in the same hospital has stated that she was not in a position to speak. Even in cross examination, PW-1 has not supported the prosecution version and, therefore, no reliance can be placed on the statement of PW1.

C. The conviction of the appellants is based on the Dying Declaration which was recorded by PW-4, Ved Prakash Meena, the Executive Magistrate. However, on a careful perusal of the Dying Declaration and the statement of PW-4 on oath, the same cannot be relied upon for the following reasons :

(i) PW-4 has admitted that he had gone to the hospital on the oral orders of the Sub District Magistrate Seemapuri and, there is no written order to record the statement.

(ii) PW-4 stated that he met ASI Naresh and then recorded the statement of victim, however, the signature of ASI Naresh are not taken on the Dying Declaration.

(iii) This witness has even stated that after recording the statement he has handed over the Dying Declaration to ASI Naresh Kumar but not in a sealed cover, though there is endorsement that the same is handed over to ASI Naresh Kumar. Their endorsement is not signed by ASI Naresh Kumar and one of the Investigating Officers i.e. ASI Naresh Kumar (PW-5), Rafal Singh (PW-6) and Jai Prakash Uadhyay (PW-9) have stated that they have received the Dying Declaration from PW-4 after it was recorded by him.

(iv) PW-4 further stated that the doctor has given opinion that victim was in fit state of mind to make statement on MLC and, thereafter, he recorded the statement. However, he admitted that no such opinion was taken on the Dying Declaration and the doctor never signed this document to prove that the victim was in a fit mental condition to make statement.

(v) PW-4 further stated that he cannot tell the difference between fitness to speak and the stability in fitness to speak. He further stated that only doctor can tell whether the victim was fit mental condition to make statement.

(vi) PW-4 did not ask any preliminary questions to the victim to satisfy himself that she was in a fit mental condition to make statement.

(vii) PW-4 has also admitted that there were attendants of victim in the ward, however, no signature of any of the attendants as witness was taken on the Dying Declaration.

(viii) PW-4 further stated that it took about one hour to record the statement of the victim as it was a long statement running into two pages containing 45 lines and nothing is on record that the victim remained in conscious state of mind throughout as seductive pain killer were given to her as she sustained 90-95% burn injuries.

(ix) In the absence of the statement being recorded in presence of doctor, recording of such detailed statements just on the line of allegation contained in the FIR, raises a suspicion as all the accused in their statements under Section 313 Cr.P.C. have stated that, in fact, it was a statement of Neelam, the wife of brother of deceased-Neelam (both have same names), which was recorded by the Investigating Officer and it is not the statement made by the victim and, therefore, it is doubtful if victim has given statement voluntarily.

(x) The statement bears left foot impression of Neelam whereas, in the Medico Legal Report prepared by DW-1 Dr. Sachin in District Hospital, Bulanshahr the right foot impression was obtained and it has come in the evidence of this witness that she suffered 90-95% burn injuries and, therefore, in the absence of any witness to the Dying Declaration, the marking of left foot impression also raises suspicion.

(xi) From the statement of PW-4-Ved Prakash Meena, it is proved that considering the nature of burn injuries i.e. 90-95%, the victim was not in a position to make deposition especially when it has come in the statement of DW-1, Dr. Sachin who treated the victim at the first instance on 2.7.2014 that she was not in a position to speak due to 90-95% burn injuries.

(xii) PW-4 has stated that the doctor has given a fitness certificate in her operating notes on 3.7.2014 that she is fit to give statement. A perusal of Exhibit Ka-2, the operating notes which were proved by an employee of G.T.B. Hospital creates a doubt about it. PW-4 has nowhere given the name of doctor from whom he has sought the opinion. Exhibit Ka-2 refers to the name of Dr. Sudipta whereas PW-10- Alok Kumar, an employee of G.T.B. Hospital has produced the notes by naming one Dr. Swathi and, therefore, it is not proved that which doctor has given the fitness certificate.

(xiii) The prosecution has withheld the material witness i.e. Dr. Sudipta or Dr. Swathi who had treated the victim at the time of admission and subsequently when she was referred to the Burn Ward, the treatment given to her, therefore, the accused-appellants were denied the important right of cross examination of the doctor who had treated the victim (Neelam) in G.T.B. Hospital, to put their defence that the victim was not in a fit position to make statement on account of burn injuries sustained by her.

(xiv) Another important witness, Neelam (who share the name of victim Neelam), the Bhabhi i.e. (sister-in-law of the victim) who as per the Investigating Officer was an attendant throughout was also not examined by the prosecution witness and even her statement under Section 161 Cr.P.C. was also not recorded.

(xv) The appellants have taken a categorical stands in their statement under Section 131 Cr.P.C. that in fact PW-4 had recorded the statement of this attendant-Neelam and not the victim-Neelam and, therefore, the Investigating Officer did not examine her so that the material questions may not be put to her in cross examination in this regard.

D. All the witness of fact have not supported the prosecution version though the marriage of the victim with accused-Raju, as per the prosecution were performed about seven years ago but no child was born by this wedlock and allegation of demand of dowry as stated by PW-1 are not corroborated by PW-2, PW-3 & PW-7.

E. PW-1 has stated that there was a dispute between the husband and wife regarding the demand of dowry and some complaint was also given to police however, during investigation no such complaint was given to the Investigating Officer to prove this allegation and thus nothing has come on record to prove it.

F. As noticed earlier, PW-1 has given complaint on the basis of alleged information given by the victim after she was admitted in District Hospital, Bulandshahr that accused poured kerosene oil and lit the fire due to non fulfilment of demand of dowry. However, DW-1-Dr. Sachin who treated her in District Civil Hospital, Bulandshahr has categorically stated that the victim was not in fit mental condition to speak as she sustained 90-95% burn injuries on entire body.

G. As per deposition of three witnesses of fact i.e. PW-2- Fakira- father of deceased Neelam, PW-3 - Sudhir Kumar, brother of deceased Neelam and PW-7- Virma, mother of the deceased Neelam, there was no demand of dowry by the accused immediately before the incident and PW-3, brother of the deceased has even stated that she sustained incidental injury due to bursting of stove. This witness has also stated that PW-1 is his uncle and he is residing separately. Even as per statement of PW-5, Investigating Officer, it has not come on record that he has either recorded the statement of PW-4, Executive Magistrate, who recorded the alleged dying declaration or that the same was handed over to him in a sealed cover. Though, the dying declaration, there was an endorsement that same is handed over to PW-5, Sub Inspector- Naresh but there is no signature on this endorsement by PW-5 as receipt of the same which also raises a suspicion.

H. The dying declaration runs in 45 lines and the narration of events is given so accurately that even a witness in normal state of mind is not expected to depose with such precession specially when the PW-4 has stated that he took about one hours in recording the statement.

H. Even from the statement of other two witness, PW-6-Rafal Singh Tomar, C.O., second I.O., it has not come that during investigation the dying declaration recorded by PW-4 was made part of the investigation. Similar is the statement of PW-9- Jay Prakash Upadhyay, another Investigating Officer who arrested the accused persons and submit the charge sheet as it is not stated by him that he received the dying declaration from PW-5, S.I.-Naresh. Therefore, dying declaration is doubtful and is not a reliable document and the benefit of doubt has to be given to the accused persons.

I. The trial court has not held the appellant Kamal guilty of offence under Section 498A IPC and 3/4 of Dowry Prohibition Act which is alleged in the dying declaration, to conspire with other accused who are the husband and family members of the in-laws of the deceased and, therefore, his conviction under Section 302 of IPC solely on the dying declaration is not sustainable when it is admitted by the prosecution witnesses that he does not belong to the family of husband Raju and his resident of a different village. Thus, the motive against appellant- Kamal is otherwise not proved.

50. In view of above, the impugned judgment of conviction and order of sentence are set aside. The appellant- Raju is in custody since the time of registration of FIR and his custody is more than ten years of actual sentence and twelve years with remission. The other accused were on bail during the trial and after the judgment of conviction dated 10th January, 2020, they are in judicial custody and have undergone total period of custody of about five years and six months actual and more than six years and six months with remission. All the accused appellants have no criminal history. All the accused – appellants namely, Babli, Jaiprakash, Vimla, Raju and Kamal, are acquitted of the charges and they be released forthwith from the judicial custody.

51. All the appeals are accordingly allowed.

52. Record and proceedings be sent back to the Trial Court forthwith.

53. Ms. Muskan Pandey, learned Amicus Curiae be paid the requisite fee by High Court Legal Services Committee.

A. Criminal Law – Criminal Procedure Code, 1973 – Section 374(2) – Appeal against conviction and Sentence – Evidence of one witness is based on hearsay – Other witnesses, except one, have been declared hostile – Effect – Testimony of single witness, who is the complainant – Reliability – Held, the case as it rests on the testimony of a single witness the same has to be wholly reliable. The testimony of PW-1 Babu Yadav cannot be in any manner said to be of sterling quality and he cannot be treated to be a witness wholly reliable. There has been falsehood stated by him, improvements in his statement and also variations which go to the root of the matter and in any event he cannot be trusted as a wholly reliable witness – High Court found sole eye witness namely Babu Yadav (PW-1) not a trustworthy witness and hence set aside the conviction order. (Para 47 and 63)

B. Criminal Trial – Criminal Procedure Code – Section 164 – Confession – Non-compliance of S. 164 – Effect – Duty of Magistrate clarified – Bhukin's case relied upon – A Magistrate recording a confession ought to question the accused merely with a view to discovering whether the proposed confession is voluntarily or on account of any inducement or threat and the Magistrate should not question the prisoner so as to get answers from him regarding the occurrence which would be inculpatory. The prisoner should be allowed to state whatever he wants and the confession should be recorded in his own words. (Para 59)

1. These criminal appeals are connected together as being of co-accused persons which have been preferred against the judgement and order dated 15.4.2015 passed by the Additional District and Sessions Judge, Court No. 2, Kanpur Nagar in Session Trial No. 07 of 2003 (State vs. Indra Bahadur Singh and 8 others) whereby the accused-appellants Lalli Singh, Virendra, Jhande Yadav @ Jhundu @ Shiv Kumar, Chaloo Yadav @ Ram Chandra Yadav, Ghanshyam Singh, Jay Karan Singh, Jhallar Singh, Shivnath Yadav and Indra Bahadur Singh have been convicted and sentenced under Section 147 I.P.C. to 01 year rigorous imprisonment and a fine of Rs.5,000/- each and in default of payment of fine to 01 month additional imprisonment, under Section 148 I.P.C. to 01 year rigorous imprisonment and a fine of Rs.5,000/- each and in default of payment of fine to 01 month additional imprisonment, under Section 302 read with 149 I.P.C. to life imprisonment and a fine of Rs.10,000/- each and in default of payment of fine to 02 months additional imprisonment. The sentences have been ordered to run concurrently and benefit of set off under Section 428 Cr.P.C. has been ordered to be extended to the convicted accused persons.

2. A First Information Report has been lodged against Harnam Singh, Indra Bahadur, Ghanshyam, Virendra, Lalli, Jaikaran and Jhallar, all being residents of village Sipai, Police Station Bindaki, District Kanpur Nagar.

3. During investigation complicity of Shiv Nath Yadav, Pappu Yadav, Chaloo Yadav @ Ram Chandra Yadav and Jhande Yadav @ Jhundu @ Shiv Kumar came to light and as such they were also made accused in the present matter. The investigation concluded and a charge sheet no. 129 of 2001 dated 05.8.2001 was filed against Lalli Singh, Jai Karan Singh, Jhallar Singh, Pappu Yadav @ Karpuri and Shiv Nath Yadav. Further Charge Sheet No. 129A of 2001, dated 20.09.2001 was submitted against Chaloo Yadav @ Ram Chandra @ Balbir and also against Jhande Yadav @ Jhundu @ Shiv Kumar as an absconder.

4. The accused Indra Bahadur Singh, Ghanshyam Singh, Harnam Singh and Virendra who were named in the F.I.R.

were exonerated by the Investigating Agency. They were subsequently summoned under Section 319 Cr.P.C.

5. In so far as Harnam Singh, son of Mani Singh is concerned, his trial stood abated vide order dated 16.10.2007 of the trial court. The trial of Pappu Yadav @ Karpuri also stood abated vide order dated 06.07.2013 of the trial court.

6. The prosecution case as per the F.I.R. lodged on 10.07.2001 at 07:45 a.m. by Babu son of Jagmohan of which Shyam Sunder is the scribe, against 07 named persons namely Harnam Singh, Indra Bahadur, Ghanshyam, Virendra, Lalli, Jaikaran and Jhallar is that around 02 months back Rs.50/- was to be taken from Desi Darji by the persons of sanger group and milk of Desi Darji used to be given to Babu Yadav and then the said persons demanded Rs.50/- of Desi Darji from him, on which he refused giving money and stated that he will only give it when Desi Darji tells him to return, on which the said persons scolded his son Narendra in Sidhi Bazar. His son had beaten Dinesh@Topilal the grandson of Harman Singh with kicks and fists. Due to this reason Sangers entered inside his house with lathi and dandas and assaulted them. The village persons intervened and got the matter settled but the said persons regularly used to extend death threats to them. Today on 09.07.2001 at mid-night his son Azad, like regular days, was at the tube-well for ensuring its safety wherein at about 11:00 p.m. Harnam Singh exhorted to murder him and then stated that he would take care of everything, after which his sons Indra Bahadur, Ghanshyam with Virendra, Lalli, Jai Karan, Jhallar and others armed with Barchhi and country-made pistols started moving ahead in which Virendra and Indra Bahadur were carrying country-made pistols and Ghanshyam, Lalli, Jai Karan and Jhallar were carrying Barchhi with them. On suspicion, he and his brother namely Babu son of Jagmohan and Raj Bahadur son of Jagmohan proceeded from the village and as soon as they reached the tube-well and saw the said persons had already committed murder. Both the brothers have witnessed it and identified the accused persons well. On their shouts the accused persons while abusing ran away. They were seen in the moon-light and very well identified but due to fear he could not come to the police station earlier but now he has come to give an information.

7. The said F.I.R. was lodged as Case Crime No. 149 of 2001, under Sections 147, 148, 149, 302/34 I.P.C., Police Station- Bindaki, District Kanpur Nagar.

8. Investigation in the matter started and blood stained earth and plain earth, blood stained and plain ropes of cot were taken by the police and sealed on 10.07.2001 and memo of it was prepared. One pair of 'hawai chappal' of the deceased was also taken by the police and a recovery memo of the same was also prepared on 10.07.2001. The inquest on the body of the deceased was conducted on 10.07.2001.

9. Post mortem examination of the deceased Azad was conducted on 11.07.2001 at 01:00 p.m. by Dr. Somnath/P.W.-2. The following injuries were found on his body: -

“1. Multiple punctured wound in area 14cm X 13cm on the front and left side of chest, size 1.5cm x 1.5 cm x chest cavity deep, 12 in numbers, each wound

20. Amongst the persons whose statements were recorded under Section 164 Cr.P.C. Shivram whose statement was recorded on 25.07.2001, was not produced in the trial.

21. Babu Singh Yadav P.W.-1 the first informant of the matter, reiterated the version stated by him in the F.I.R. and he states that the deceased Azad is his son. The incident is about 05 years and 04 months old. At about 11:30 p.m. he was getting milk filled at the door of his house. His son Narendra used to bring milk from village after getting it miltched which used to be collected and then sold in the market. He was getting the same milk filled. The doors of his house and the doors of the shop of the accused Lalli are in front of each other. Harnam Singh was telling the other accused persons that they would finish Azad today as he has gone to sleep at tube-well. All the accused persons had collected at the shop of Lalli Singh. 2-3 months ago Dinesh the grandson of Harnam Singh who is also called Topilal and his son Narendra had a fight at Sidhi Bazar in which Narendra had assaulted him with kicks and fists. On the saying of Harnam Singh all the accused persons had entered into his house and assaulted ladies, him and his son with lathi and danda but the people of village had intervened and saved them. They had accepted their fault and had apologized for it by saying that they are not having the status to fight with them since they are only house of the caste in the village, but his son Azad did not extend apology. The accused persons even before the present incident used to threaten him of murdering him. The said incident was prior to the present incident. In the night of the present incident Harnam Singh told the other accused persons to murder Azad and after sometimes the accused persons were not seen and then he thought that they must have gone to his tube-well. He and his son Brijendra went to the tube-well.

They were carrying torches in their hands and night was also bright. Indra Bahadur Singh and Virendra Singh threatened them by putting country-made pistols on them and told them that if they move forward they will be murdered. Lalli, Jai Karan, Jhallar and Ghanshyam were assaulting his son Azad with Barchhi. Jhande, Pappu Yadav, Chaloo and Shiv Nath were carrying lathis and were standing nearby. When the accused persons after assaulting Azad, moved away towards 'nahar' then they picked up Azad and saw him to be dead. He states that report of the incident was dictated by him to his cousin brother Shyam Sunder at about 06:00 a.m. at that place and whatever he had written he had dictated to him, the same was read to him, he had put his thumb impression and then went to the Police Station and lodged it. After lodging of his report, S.H.O. reached the place of occurrence. The incident is of 09th and the report was lodged on 10th. He does not remember the month and the year since he is illiterate. The accused persons have murdered his son Azad as there was a prior incident of beating between Narendra and Dinesh.

In his cross-examination he states that he and his brother Raj Bahadur had gone at the place of occurrence. He states that previously he had stated that he and his son Brijendra had gone to the tube-well but the same is incorrect. His brother Raj Bahadur had gone with him. Brijendra had reached the place of occurrence after half an hour of the incident. He states of dictating the report to Shyam Sunder. He states that he is an eye witness of the incident. He states that he has stated of 11 accused persons in the matter but in the F.I.R. name of only 07 accused persons have been given since he remembered their names only at the relevant time. He states that he saw Lalli, Jaikaran, Ghanshyam and Jhallar assaulting his son Azad with 'Barchhi'. He does not remember how many blows were given. In the morning when all the people collected, then the injuries on the body were counted which were found to be about 42 in number. There was no firearm used on the deceased. Virendra Singh and Indra Bahadur Singh did not fire but they had threatened him and his brother Raj Bahadur with their country-made pistols and assaulted them with fists on their chest and threatened them that if they moved forward they will be murdered. When his son Brijendra reached at the place of occurrence, by that time the accused persons had left the place and had proceeded towards the tube-well. He did not see the incident. The accused Shiv Nath, Jhande, Pappu and Chaloo were armed with lathis and were standing at that place but did not assault anyone or did any act with it. When he and his brother Raj Bahadur reached the place of occurrence at that time the accused persons were assaulting Azad and after their assault, when he went near Azad he found him to be dead. He then picked up Azad in his lap and saw him, by that time the accused persons had moved out from that place. He states that after he and his brother Raj Bahadur were threatened with country-made pistols by Virendra and Indra Bahadur Singh, they did not try to run away as no one would run away at that time. They were not having any fear but still the accused did not assault them. They were pushing them back and stopped them to proceed further. They used to proceed further and then accused used to push them back. This carried on for about 15 minutes. In the said 15-20 minutes no accused assaulted him or Raj Bahadur. He states that he went to the Police Station along with Rajendra, Shyam Sunder and his brother Raj Bahadur. They went there on bicycle. They reached the police station at about 08.00 p.m. on the next day of the incident. He states that his statement under Section 161 Cr.P.C. was recorded on the day of incident. His brother Raj Bahadur was present in his house near the house of witnesses. He went to some distance from his house and then called his brother and told him that they have to come to the house. He called him from a distance of about 10 steps from the house of Raj Bahadur. The house of Raj Bahadur is about 30 steps away from his house. He states that he did not see the accused going to the place of occurrence. When he reached the place of occurrence then he saw the accused there. The accused did not go to tube-well in front of him. His tube-well is situated at a distance of about 4-10 furlong south of village. His tube-well is in the field where there is an orchard. He had told the Investigating Officer that Virendra and Indra Bahadur were stating to them to not come forward and pushed them back. This carried for about 15-20 minutes. If the investigating officer has not written this in his statement, he cannot tell the reason for it. He states to suggestion that it is incorrect that the accused persons are witnesses against him in a case and due to village enmity and political reasons he is falsely implicating them. Further he denies the suggestion that he has not seen the incident and on receiving information in the morning he found the dead body of his son Azad. He further states that Raj Bahadur is his brother and it is incorrect to state that he has not taken name of the person going with him but had stated that Brijesh was going with him.

22. P.W.-2 Dr. Somnath was posted on postmortem duty on 11.07.2001 at V.H.M., Kanpur Nagar. On that date he conducted the postmortem examination of Azad Yadav aged about 27 years. The injuries as noted by the doctor have already been mentioned above and as such are not being mentioned herein as being repetitive.

In his cross-examination he stated that there were 15 piercing injuries in all. He further stated that the injuries could have been caused by a hasia or any pointed weapon if it is used in a straight manner. He further states that the incised wounds could have been caused by one weapon. They are likely to have been caused by a knife. He clarifies further after being recalled that in the postmortem in column of date he has incorrectly mentioned 07.11.2001 in place of 11.07.2001 and further in the column relating to the death he has wrongly mentioned 09.11.2001 in place of 09.07.2001.

23. P.W.-3 Virendra is the son of the first informant Babu and elder brother of the deceased Azad. His testimony is on the basis of hearsay evidence. He states that the incident is of 09.07.2001 at about 11 pm. He was at his house. Around 03 months ago his brother Narendra had a fight on Sidhi Itara. The fight was with Topilal @ Dinesh the grandson of Harinam with regards to the fact that he was taking milk of Desi Darji and his father had a due of Rs. 50/- on him. Topilal had demanded the money at Sidhi Itara Bazar. His brother Narendra said if Desi Darji tells him to give money then he would give him. Narendra was beaten by Topilal after which Narendra also beat him. He states that on 09.07.2001 at about 8 pm when he and other persons were filling milk then all the accused came in his house and entered inside and started assaulting everyone. They apologized to them but his brother did not. His brother had brought milk from Sone Gadaria. Lalli Singh caught hold of the hand of his brother and said that whoever has named him as Azad, he would be finished. His father was sitting outside the house and after sometime all the accused persons were seen going towards his field on which his father became suspicious and his father took his uncle Bahadur with him and went towards the field where they saw all the accused persons assaulting. When his father came back home then he told them that Azad has been murdered. In the morning his father lodged a report at Police Station Bidhnoo. Due to the said enmity his brother has been murdered.

In his cross-examination he states that his brother Azad had gone to the tube-well at about 9 pm. He did not see the accused going to the tube-well. His father saw them going. He saw the accused coming to his house in the evening but after that did not see them going anywhere. When his father and uncle Bahadur went he was sleeping. He states that he was at the house and sleeping. His father came to the house at about 12 midnight and woke him up and told him about the incident. He lives in a separate house from his father but the same is also besides the house. His father told him that the accused persons have murdered Azad and told him about their names. As there was no facility of conveyance, report could not be lodged on the same day. On the next morning he went with his father for getting a report lodged along with uncle Shyam Bahadur. He states that he did not tell the Investigating Officer that in the morning when his father and uncle came home then they told him that Azad has been murdered. He states that he had told the Investigating Officer that there is a suspicion that the persons who had come in the evening have murdered his brother. He went at the place of occurrence later. He is not an eye-witness of the incident. He states that when his father told him of the incident in the night he did not tell to anyone in the village. People gathered in the morning. He did not see his father and uncle going towards the field. The incident has been witnessed by Ghanshaym and his brother Vishram Singh. He states that it is incorrect that he is giving evidence against the accused since they are witnesses against them. He further denies the suggestion that his father and uncle went to the place of occurrence at 11 p.m. and came back in the morning. He states that he did not give the statement to the Investigating Officer that his father and uncle when came back in the morning then told him that Azad has been murdered. The said fact was told to him in the night. He had told the Investigating Officer about the names of the persons involved in the incident three months back. He had told the name of Topilal but did not tell the name of anyone else. He told the Investigating Officer that the persons who had fought three months back have been murdered. He is giving evidence on the basis of information given to him by his father and uncle.

24. P.W.-4 Chandra Prakash is the Head Constable who lodged the first information report, prepared its chik and also prepared the corresponding GD of it. He states that the original GD of the same has been weeded out, a report of which has been given by the Record Keeper, Police Office which has been filed by him and marked as Exb: Ka-4. He proves the said documents and also proves the writing of Constable Kaushal Kishore.

25. P.W.-5 Dalchandra is the Investigating Officer of the matter. He states that after lodging of the first information report he took up the investigation himself and proceeded to the place of occurrence. He investigated the spot. The inquest on the body of the deceased was conducted and the relevant papers were prepared after which the dead body was sealed and sent for postmortem examination. The plain earth blood stained earth, plain rope of cot and blood stained cot rope were taken into custody and a memo of the same was prepared. A pair of hawai chappal of the deceased was also taken into possession and a memo of the same was prepared. In the presence of the informant he investigated the place of occurrence and prepared the site plan. He then recorded the statement of witnesses of inquest and that of other witnesses. He then raided the house of the accused. The material as collected from the place of occurrence was sent by him to the Forensic Science Lab and a report of the examination was received which is on record. On 16.07.2001 accused Harnaam Singh was arrested by him and his statement was recorded. On 22.07.2001 the accused Lalli Singh and Pappu were arrested and their statements were recorded. Both the accused gave their confessional statements under Section 164 Cr.P.C. for which they were sent to the court concerned and their statements were recorded. He then states to have conducted an inspection of the place of occurrence on the basis of pointing out of the accused and their confessional statement and prepared the site plan of it which is Exb: Ka-15. On 23.07.2001 accused Lalli Singh, witness Ram Asrey, Neta @ Virendra, Shivram, Gautam, Awdhesh and Pramod Pandey were interrogated and their statements under Section 164 Cr.P.C. were recorded. He states of filing of two charge-sheets which are dated 05.08.2021 and 20.09.2021. The details of the charge-sheets have also been mentioned above.

In his cross-examination he states that the place from where he collected the blood stained earth, the plain rope of cot, blood stained rope of cot and one pair of chappals is shown in the site plan dated 10.07.2001 which is Exb: Ka-13. It is the place where the tube-well of the informant is situated. On 22.07.2001 he states to have prepared another site plan which is of the place of murder of the deceased Azad. The place where murder was committed is the field of Monau Kumar. He did not get any blood stained earth at the said place. The place where the body was thrown after murder is situated at about 92 steps away. He states that he interrogated the informant Babu in a question answer form and in the first question he asked about Shiv Nath Yadav and Pappu Yadav etc. coming out of his house in the evening and having a fight there on which he stated that Shiv Nath Yadav, Chalu Yadav and Lalli Yadav had come. On asking the names of the accused he stated that he has named all since he has enmity with them. He further states that during investigation he finds the name of Harnaam Singh, Indra Bahadur Singh, Ghanshaym Singh and Virendra Singh to be false and as such did not charge-sheet them.

In his cross-examination he states that Jhande Singh, Pappu, Shivrath, Ramchandra @ Chalu were not stated to have participated in the incident and to have been present therein. He states of recording the statement of Virendra on 14.07.2001. He states that the statement of Lalli Singh and Jai Karan Singh was recorded under Section 164 Cr.P.C. by the IVth Metropolitan Magistrate. He states that he and the Metropolitan Magistrate were of the same batch and for one year worked in the police department. He denies the suggestion that on his saying without the accused giving their confessional statement the Magistrate concerned has written their statements in his chambers in the presence of the said witnesses as they were known to each other and then the accused were made to sign on it and the accused persons have not given any statement before the Magistrate concerned.

26. P.W.-6 Ram Aasrey is a resident of the same village as that of the first informant. He states that in the night at about 12 midnight he and Neta @ Virendra were going for making a call to Unnao where his relatives live. At the side of the road beneath a mango tree some people were talking on which he flashed his torch and saw 07 people namely Shiv Nath Yadav, Pappu, Jhande, Chahlu, Lalli, Jai Karan, Jhallar. They were conversing that if anyone tells about this murder then they will also let him meet the same fate. Due to fear he and the other person came back. In the morning they came to know in the village that Azad Yadav has been murdered in the night. On hearing about it he reached the place of occurrence where he saw the mother of the deceased crying and saying that Shiv Nath Yadav, Pappu, Jhande, Chahlu have murdered her son. He gave his statement to the Investigating Officer and also in the Court. Shiv Nath Singh was carrying a barchi in his hand, Jhande and Chahlu were also carrying barchi and Pappu was carrying a torch. Whatever he had heard the accused talking, he told the father of Azad about it.

In his cross-examination he states that he had seen the accused persons about four fields away from the tube-well of Azad. He told the father of Azad about the incident of the night at his door. He did not give torch which he was carrying to the Investigating Officer and neither did the Investigating Officer see it. He even did not ask for it from him. He did not show the tree where the accused were talking to the Investigating Officer as the Investigating Officer told him that he has seen it. He states that he did not see the incident and cannot tell as to who committed the incident. He states to have given his statement under Section 164 Cr.P.C. on the saying of the Investigating Officer. He had given the same statement under Section 164 Cr.P.C. as to what he had given to the Investigating Officer. He denies the suggestion that since he has enmity with the accused he is giving a false evidence.

27. P.W.-7 Gautam Dhanuk is a resident of the same village as that of the first informant / P.W.-1 and his house is situated near the house of the informant. He states that on the day of incident at about 8-9 pm he heard shouts and abuses at the house of Babu Yadav. On hearing the same he went there. The lantern was burning at the place. He saw people fighting there but there were no talks with regards to Azad. The said witness was declared as hostile by the trial court.

In his cross-examination he states that he did not see Jhande Yadav, Chalu Yadav, Shiv Nath Yadav and Pappu Yadav at the door of Babu Yadav abusing. Lalli Yadav was also not present there. His statement was recorded by the Investigating Officer. He had told him about the incident of abusing. He had told him that they were saying that Azad had not returned the money and insults them and they would see him. He states that on the next date he came to know that Azad has been murdered but he did not see it himself. He denies his statement as produced before him under Section 164 Cr.P.C. and states that he did not give any such statement.

28. P.W.-8 Awdhesh Trivedi is also a resident of the same village as that of the first informant / P.W.-1. He states that accused Pappu Yadav has died. He further states that on 15.07.2001 at about 5 pm accused Jhande, Shiv Nath, Chalu and Pappu did not come to him and neither did they talk of anything about the murder of Azad with him and also did not tell him about collectively murdering with Jhallar, Lalli Singh and Jai Karan. The said persons did not ask for any help from him. This witness was declared hostile.

In his cross-examination he states that he came to know that Azad has been murdered. He states that the Investigating Officer did not enquire anything from him about the murder. He denies that any such statement under Section 164 Cr.P.C. was recorded in Court on 25.07.2001. On being confronted with the said statement he states that he did not sign on the said pages before the Magistrate but the Investigating Officer got him signed on the papers. He completely denies of recording of any such statement under Section 164 Cr.P.C.

29. P.W.-9 Virendra @ Neta is also a resident of the same village as that of the first informant / P.W.-1. He states that on 09.07.2001 he was not present in his village. On the said night Azad was murdered. He did not hear the accused persons talking and conspiring for the murder of Azad. He did not see them. He was declared hostile by the trial court.

In his cross-examination he states that he is illiterate. On showing his statement under Section 164 Cr.P.C., he states that he does not know as to who has affixed his thumb impression on it. He denies giving any statement before the Magistrate.

30. Shiv Shankar Verma was produced as C.W.-1 who testifies regarding death of the accused Harnaam Singh. He is a police personnel who at the time of the incident was posted at the Police Station Bidhnoo. He states that a report was called for regarding the death of Harnaam Singh and after taking a certificate from the Village Pradhan a report was sent to the court about it. In the said report it was mentioned that accused Harnaam Singh Sengar has died on 29.05.2007.

31. Pramod Kumar Pandey C.W.-2 is a resident of the same village as that of the first informant / P.W.-1. He states that he knows the deceased. He states that he does not know when the present incident took place. He further states that he does not know anything about murder of Azad and as to who committed the same. He was declared hostile by the trial court.

In his cross-examination he states that he was not enquired by the Investigating Officer. His statement under Section 164 Cr.P.C. was shown to him to which he states that he did not give any such statement. He states that he does not know as to when and how the Investigating Officer has recorded the same. To a suggestion that he has colluded with the accused, he denies the same.

32. The accused in their statements under Section 313 Cr.P.C. denied the entire prosecution case and stated of being falsely implicated in the matter due to enmity. They state that the witnesses are giving testimony against them due to village party bandi.

33. The accused namely Lalli Singh, Jai Karan Singh and Jhallar whose statements under Section 164 Cr.P.C. have been recorded have denied the entire investigation and also stated of false implication.

34. The trial court thus after recording of the evidence has convicted the accused persons as stated above.

35. Heard Shri Bimla Prasad, Shri Ashutosh Pandey, Shri Rajesh

Mishra, Shri Mritunjay Datt Tiwari, Shri Awadh Bihari Pandey, learned counsels for the respective accused-appellants, Shri Rakesh Dubey, learned counsel for the complainant/first informant and Shri Jitendra Kumar Jaiswal, learned A.G.A. for the State in all the criminal appeals and perused the record and also the trial court records.

36. Learned counsels for the appellants submitted as under:

i) The appellants have been falsely implicated in the present case.

ii) The implication of Shivnath Yadav, Babu Yadav, Chaloo Yadav @ Ram Chandra @ Balwan and Jhande Yadav @ Jhundu @ Shiv Kumar in the present matter is an afterthought as the same has seen the light of the day during investigation. They are not named in the First Information Report.

iii) The accused Indra Bahadur Singh, Ghanshyam Singh, Harnam Singh and Virendra Singh were exonerated by the police as they were found to be falsely implicated who were later on summoned under Section 319 Cr.P.C. vide order dated 06.01.2004 of the court concerned. Their implication thus in the present matter is also false as the Investigating Agency did not find them involved in the matter.

iv) PW-1 Babu Yadav the first informant and father of the deceased Azad Yadav is a totally non reliable witness. He did not see the occurrence. He although states to have followed the accused persons with his brother Raj Bahadur but in his statement in Court he initially states that he went to the place of occurrence with his son Virendra but later on states that he called Raj Bahadur and went with him. His movement and the person accompanying him is in variance.

v) There is an inordinate delay in lodging of the FIR inasmuch as the incident is stated to have taken place on 09.07.2001 at about 11:00 pm but the FIR was lodged on 10.07.2001 at 07:45 am by PW-1 Babu Yadav wherein the distance from the place of occurrence and the police station is only 12 kilometres.

vi) The conduct of PW-1 is totally an unnatural conduct. He states of going to the place of occurrence with one person accompanying him and is present at the place of occurrence to witness the murder of his son but he does not make any effort effectively to save his son. He states of being a witness to the murder and then returns back to the house and informs the other house members and then proceeds of lodging of the FIR on the next day morning.

vii) Raj Bahadur the brother of Babu Yadav PW-1 has not been produced before the Court. He is stated by Babu Yadav PW-1 to be the person who was accompanying him in the night to the place of occurrence and the said two persons are the only alleged eye witnesses of the incident but he has

viii) The non production of Raj Bahadur before the trial court is an important and relevant fact and would go to show that the prosecution is concealing some relevant material from the court and as such an adverse inference should be drawn against the prosecution for the said conduct.

ix) The evidence of PW-3/Virendra Yadav the brother of the deceased and son of Babu Yadav is based on hearsay evidence. He gives a totally new story about the incident by introducing a fact before the court that before the present incident in the evening the accused persons entered inside his house and assaulted him and the other family members. The said fact is not in the prosecution version at any place. He also is a totally unreliable witness even though his evidence for the present incident is based on hearsay evidence.

x) PW-6 Ram Asre is not an eye witness of the incident. He also names four accused persons namely Shivnath Singh, Jhande, Chaloo and Pappu Yadav in the present matter despite the fact that they were not named in the FIR and states of the said persons along with other accused persons talking about committing the murder.

xi) PW-7 Gautam Dhanuk, PW-8 Awadhesh Trivedi and PW-9 Virendra Singh @ Neta although were also produced before the Magistrate and their statements under Section 164 Cr.P.C. were recorded but they have totally disowned the prosecution version and have stated of not being a witness to any event. They have been declared hostile by the trial court.

xii) The motive as has been brought forward by the prosecution is a very weak motive since the same is stated to be some incident between Narendra the son of the first informant and Dinesh @ Topilal the grandson of co-accused Harnam Singh for Rs. 50/- of charges of milk of Desi Darzi but even Desi Darzi has not been produced and examined in the matter.

xiii) The present incident has taken place at the tube-well of the first informant in his fields which is away from abadi area. The incident appears to have taken place in the night which was noticed in the morning and then the same was reported by PW-1 at the police station in the morning at about 7.45 am.

xiv) The confessional statements of accused Jaikaran, Jhallar and Lalli Singh recorded under Section 164 Cr.P.C. cannot be given any credence as the same has been recorded against the procedures prescribed for it which has been affirmed by the courts. The said accused were not warned of the consequences of the said statements and were even not told of the procedure and warned in explicit words before recording of the same about the fact that the same may be read against them. The said statements cannot be given credence. Even otherwise the prosecution evidence has to be tested and if found totally reliable then the statement of the accused under Section 164 Cr.P.C. if recorded as per the procedure and law can be seen to corroborate the prosecution version.

xv) The accused persons have been falsely implicated in the present case and the present case rests only on the testimony of PW-1 who is also not trustworthy at all and thus the present appeals deserve to be allowed and the accused-appellants deserve to be acquitted.

37. Learned counsel for the first informant submitted as under:

i) PW-1 Babu Yadav is a wholly reliable witness. He has given the details of the incident as witnessed by him in detail which is in no manner is false and unbelievable. He is the father of the deceased who went to the place of occurrence along with his brother Raj Bahadur after hearing talks of the accused persons and they have witnessed the incident.

ii) Raj Bahadur the brother of PW-1 went with him to the place of occurrence. He has been discharged by the prosecution on 30.08.2008 since the request of the prosecution was allowed by the Court and adverse inference regarding his not being produced before the Court cannot be drawn.

iii) The injuries as received by the deceased Azad Yadav and noted in the postmortem examination report corroborate with the prosecution case. The assault on the deceased is stated by four persons with barchi. The injuries received by him are of the weapon as stated by the prosecution.

iv) The version of PW-1 as given in the court also corroborates with the medical evidence. The same thus shows that he was present at the place of occurrence and is an ocular witness to the same who has given a natural version of the incident.

v) The statements under Section 164 Cr.P.C. of accused persons Jaikaran, Jhallar and Lalli Singh would go to show that the concerned court after recording of their statements has made a note that it has made the said persons to understand that he is not being compelled to give the statement but if he does so then the said statement may be used as evidence against him and has then recorded its finding that the said statement has been recorded on the free will of the said accused persons. The said statements thus corroborate with the prosecution version and can be looked into.

vi) There is no delay in lodging of the FIR as the incident is of 11:00 pm of 09.07.2001 after which at 06:00 am the first informant got the report transcribed by the Shyam Sanehi and then proceeded on a bicycle to the police station which is at a distance of 12 kilometres and reached there and then the FIR was lodged at 07:45 am which is without unreasonable delay.

vii) The first informant has stated that due to fear he did not proceed in the night for lodging of the FIR which is a reasonable explanation for not lodging the report in the night itself.

viii) The prosecution has succeeded in proving the case beyond reasonable doubt against the accused-appellants and as such their appeals be rejected and the judgment and order of the trial court be affirmed.

38. Learned counsel for the State has submitted as under:

i) There is no unreasonable delay in lodging of the FIR. The distance between the place of occurrence and the police station is 12 kilometres and the incident being in the night in a dare devil manner had put the first informant in fear and as such he proceeded to the police station in the morning at the earliest for lodging of the report.

ii) PW-1 Babu Yadav the first informant and father of the deceased is a wholly reliable witness and a natural witness. His version of the incident and also his movement which enabled him to become a witness of the incident is having no suspicion and improbabilities.

iii) The arguments of learned counsel for the first informant are reiterated.

iv) The prosecution has proved the case beyond reasonable doubt after which the trial court has convicted the accused-appellants with a well reasoned judgment and order which does not call for any interference in the same. The appeal be thus dismissed.

39. After having heard learned counsels for the parties and perusing the records, it transpires that Azad Singh the son of the first informant Babu Yadav is the deceased in the matter. The occurrence as per the FIR is stated to have taken place on 09.07.2001 at about 11:00 pm at the tubewell in the field of Babu of which the FIR was lodged on the next day i.e. 10.07.2001 at about 07:45 am. The distance between police station and the place of occurrence is 12 kilometres. The First Information Report states of the first informant going behind the accused persons along with his brother Raj Bahadur and then being a witness to the said murder. He states of dictating the First Information Report to Shyam Bahadur in the morning and then proceeding to police station for its lodging. The FIR was lodged against seven accused namely Harnaam Singh, Indra Bahadur, Ghanshyam, Virendra, Lalli, Jaikaran and Jhallar. During investigation, four other accused namely Shivnath Yadav, Pappu Yadav, Chaloo Yadav @ Ram Chandra Yadav and Jhande Yadav @ Jhandu @ Shiv Kumar were made as accused. After investigation, Harnaam Singh, Indra Bahadur Singh, Ghanshyam and Virendra were exonerated who were then summoned under Section 319 Cr.P.C. The first informant during trial initially states that he went behind the accused to the place of occurrence in the night with his son Virendra Yadav, later on states that he went with his brother Raj Bahadur. He further states that he and Raj Bahadur were trying to proceed towards the deceased but the accused persons were pushing them back and threatening them of not proceeding further which stopped them from reaching the deceased.

40. Amongst the other witnesses examined in the trial, Virendra Yadav PW-3 although is the son of the first informant Babu Yadav/PW-1 and brother of the deceased but his evidence is based on hearsay basis.

41. Further the other witness of fact namely Ram Asre PW-6 has stated that he did not see the incident and as such he is not an eye witness of the incident.

42. In so far as the three other witnesses namely Gautam Dhanuk PW-7, Awadhesh Trivedi PW-8 and Virendra Singh @ Neta PW-9 are concerned they have totally disowned the prosecution case including their statements given to the Magistrate under Section 164 Cr.P.C. They have been declared hostile by the trial court. They are not of any help to the prosecution.

43. The case thus rests on the sole testimony of Babu Yadav PW-1 who is the first informant and the father of the deceased.

44. The Investigating Officer has although prepared a second site plan on the pointing out of the accused and has stated that the dead body was found at about 92 steps away from the tubewell but the same is not reliable inasmuch as there was nothing found at the place where the dead body was found and even initially the site plan was prepared in which body was shown to be found at the tubewell. Moreover the second site plan was prepared on the pointing out of the accused which cannot be trusted and relied upon.

45. Raj Bahadur the brother of the first informant Babu Yadav who was the person stated by Babu Yadav to have accompanied him in the night to the place of occurrence and had witnessed the incident was an important and a relevant witness. For the reasons best known to the prosecution they did not produce him before the trial court and claimed his discharge which was allowed. The evidence thus of an important and a relevant witness was thus withheld and suppressed by the prosecution.

46. The confessional statements of the accused Jaikaran Singh, Jhallar and Lalli Singh recorded under Section 164 Cr.P.C. cannot be given credence. The said accused were not warned by the concerned Magistrate prior to recording of their statements. They were even not made to understand before recording of their statements that the same can be read against them and were not given time to think over and then depose. The reading of the statement goes to show that the statements were recorded in a mechanical manner and then the Magistrate concerned made a note therein that he had warned the accused and had made him to understand the consequences but they volunteered to give their statements.

47. The case as it rests on the testimony of a single witness the same has to be wholly reliable. The testimony of PW-1 Babu Yadav cannot be in any manner said to be of sterling quality and he cannot be treated to be a witness wholly reliable. There has been falsehood stated by him, improvements in his statement and also variations which go to the root of the matter and in any event he cannot be trusted as a wholly reliable witness.

The law with regards to appreciation of evidence of a solitary witness

48. In the case of Vadivelu Thevar Vs. State of Madras : AIR 1957 SC 614, the Apex Court while examining the case of solitary witness, held as follows:

“11.....Generally speaking, oral testimony in this context may be classified into three categories, namely:

- (1) Wholly reliable.
- (2) Wholly unreliable.
- (3) Neither wholly reliable nor wholly unreliable.

12. In the first category of proof, the court should have no difficulty in coming to its conclusion either way — it may convict or may acquit on the testimony of a single witness, if it is found to be above reproach or suspicion of interestedness, incompetence or subornation. In the second category, the court equally has no difficulty in coming to its conclusion. It is in the third category of cases, that the court has to be circumspect and has to look for corroboration in material particulars by reliable testimony, direct or circumstantial.

49. In the case of State of Rajasthan Vs. Bhola Singh: AIR 1994 SC 542 the Apex Court held as under:

“5. From the abovestated facts, it can be seen that the case rested entirely on the solitary evidence of PW 1. The High Court has pointed out several infirmities in the evidence of PW 1. It is well settled that if the case rests entirely on the sole evidence of the eyewitness, such testimony should be wholly reliable. In this case, the occurrence admittedly took place in the darkness. The two accused were also sleeping in the courtyard along with the other family members, out of whom three were unfortunately killed on the fateful night. PW 1 categorically stated that she woke up only when her mother-in-law was beaten by one of the accused but yet she added that she saw her father-in-law and husband who were sleeping in the courtyard of the house being murdered by the miscreants. This is a clear infirmity in her evidence. That apart, it is highly doubtful that there was any light with the help of which she could have identified the accused.

On the other hand, a story was built up that an electric bulb was burning, in support of which there is no material.”

50. In the case of Lallu Manjhi Vs. State of Jharkhand : (2003) 2 SCC 401 it has been held by the Apex Court as under:

“10. The law of evidence does not require any particular number of witnesses to be examined in proof of a given fact. However, faced with the testimony of a single witness, the court may classify the oral testimony into three categories, namely, (i) wholly reliable, (ii) wholly unreliable, and (iii) neither wholly reliable nor wholly unreliable. In the first two categories there may be no difficulty in accepting or discarding the testimony of the single witness. The difficulty arises in the third category of cases. The court has to be circumspect and has to look for corroboration in material particulars by reliable testimony, direct or circumstantial, before acting upon the testimony of a single witness. (See: Vadivelu Thevar v. State of Madras [AIR 1957 SC 614 : 1957 Cri LJ 1000].)”

51. The Apex Court in the case of Bibin Kumar Mondal Vs. State of West Bengal : (2010) 12 SCC 91, examined the sole testimony of a witness and the following observations has been made:

“31. In Sunil Kumar v. State (Govt. of NCT of Delhi) [(2003) 11

SCC 367 : 2004 SCC (Cri) 1055] this Court repelled a similar submission observing that : (SCC p. 371, para 9)

“9. ... as a general rule the court can and may act on the testimony of a single witness provided he is wholly reliable. There is no legal impediment in convicting a person on the sole testimony of a single witness. That is the logic of Section 134 of the Evidence Act, 1872. But, if there are doubts about the testimony the courts will insist on corroboration.”

In fact, it is not the number, the quantity, but the quality that is material. The time-honoured principle is that evidence has to be weighed and not counted. The test is whether the evidence has a ring of truth, is cogent, credible and trustworthy, or otherwise.”

Adverse inference

52. On the issue of non-examination of material witness, in Takhaji Hiraji Vs. Thakore Kubarsing Chamansing : (2001) 6 SCC 145 the Apex Court held as under:

“19. So is the case with the criticism levelled by the High Court on the prosecution case finding fault therewith for non-examination of independent witnesses. It is true that if a material witness, who would unfold the genesis of the incident or an essential part of the prosecution case, not convincingly brought to fore otherwise, or where there is a gap or infirmity in the prosecution case which could have been supplied or made good by examining a witness who though available is not examined, the prosecution case can be termed as suffering from a deficiency and withholding of such a material witness would oblige the court to draw an adverse inference against the prosecution by holding that if the witness would have been examined it would not have supported the prosecution case. On the other hand if already overwhelming evidence is available and examination of other witnesses would only be a repetition or duplication of the evidence already adduced, non-examination of such other witnesses may not be material. In such a case the court ought to scrutinise the worth of the evidence adduced. The court of facts must ask itself - whether in the facts and circumstances of the case, it was necessary to examine such other witness, and if so, whether such witness was available to be examined and yet was being withheld from the court. If the answer be positive then only a question of drawing an adverse inference may arise. If the witnesses already examined are reliable and the testimony coming from their mouth is unimpeachable the court can safely act upon it, uninfluenced by the factum of non-examination of other witnesses...”

53. In Rajesh Yadav Vs. State of Uttar Pradesh : (2022) 12 SCC

200 on the issue of non-examination of witness, it was held by the Apex Court as under:

“Non-examination of witness

34. A mere non-examination of the witness per se will not vitiate the case of the prosecution. It depends upon the quality and not the quantity of the witnesses and its importance. If the court is satisfied with the explanation given by the prosecution along with the adequacy of the materials sufficient enough to proceed with the trial and convict the accused, there cannot be any prejudice. Similarly, if the court is of the view that the evidence is not screened and could well be produced by the other side in support of its case, no adverse inference can be drawn. Onus is on the part of the party who alleges that a witness has not been produced deliberately to prove it.”

164 Code of Criminal Procedure

54. Section 164 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 reads as follows:

“164. Recording of confessions and statements.- (1) Any Metropolitan Magistrate or Judicial Magistrate may, whether or not he has jurisdiction in the case, record any confession or statement made to him in the course of an investigation under this Chapter or under any other law for the time being in force, or at any time afterwards before the commencement of the inquiry or trial:

(2) The Magistrate shall, before recording any such confession, explain to the person making it that he is not bound to make a confession and that, if he does so, it may be used as evidence against him; and the Magistrate shall not record any such confession unless, upon questioning the person making it, he has reason to believe that it is being made voluntarily.

(3) If at any time before the confession is recorded, the person appearing before the Magistrate states that he is not willing to make the confession, the Magistrate shall not authorise the detention of such person in police custody.

(4) Any such confession shall be recorded in the manner provided in Section 281 for recording the examination of an accused person and shall be signed by the person making the confession; and the Magistrate shall make a memorandum at the foot of such record to the following effect:-

"I have explained to (name) that he is not bound to make a confession and that, if he does so, any confession he may make may be used as evidence against him and I believe that this confession was voluntarily made. It was taken in my presence and hearing, and was read over to the person making it and admitted by him to be correct, and it contains a full and true account of the statement made by him.

(Signed) A.B.

Magistrate."

(5) Any statement (other than a confession) made under subsection (1) shall be recorded in such manner hereinafter provided for the recording of evidence as is, in the opinion of the Magistrate, best fitted to the circumstances of the case; and the Magistrate shall have power to administer oath to the person whose statement is so recorded.

(6) The Magistrate recording a confession or statement under this section shall forward it to the Magistrate by whom the case is to be inquired into or tried."

55. The law with regards to confession is trite. In the case of Kashmira Singh Vs. State of M.P. : AIR 1952 SC 159 it has been held by the Apex Court as under:

"A confession cannot be made the foundation of a conviction and can only be used in "support of other evidence."

56. In the case of Kuthu Goala Vs. State of Assam : 1980 SCC OnLine Gau 21 : 1981 Cri LJ 424 it was held that a Magistrate must take care to see that the requirements of law. It was held as under:

"15. The act of recording confessions under Section 164, Cr. P.C. is a solemn act, and in discharging his duties under the said section, the Magistrate must take care to see that the requirements of law under Section 164, Cr. P.C. must be fully satisfied. It would be necessary in every case to put the questions prescribed by the High Court circular, but the questions intended to be put should not be allowed to become a matter of mere mechanical enquiry and no element of casualness should be allowed to creep in. The Magistrate should be fully satisfied that the confessional statement which the accused wants to make is in fact and in substance voluntary. The whole object of putting questions to an accused who offers to confess is to obtain an assurance of the fact that the confession is not caused by any inducement, threat or promise, having reference to the charge against the accused, as mentioned in Section 24 of the Evidence Act.”

In the judgment of Kuthu Goala (Supra) Lahiri, J. while dealing with the question of voluntariness of a confession observed as under:

“26. What ought to be the presumption as to the state of mind of an accused who has just committed a gruesome offence like murder? The author of confession belongs to a class of persons known as criminals. Does it really stand to scrutiny that of criminal having committed murder can keep his composure, retain his mental faculty intact; retain his receptive capacity to understand the implications of the warnings. A confession must be “perfectly voluntary” otherwise the Court should reject it. The term “voluntary” means one who does anything of his own free will it must be made spontaneously on his own volition. After commission of such a crime the existence of state of mind cannot be normal. Therefore, is the need to establish that the state of mind of the author was fit enough to make a voluntary incriminatory statement comprehending the implications of his admission. The warnings set forth in S. 164 of the Code are merely illustrative and not exhaustive. In my opinion, a Magistrate recording confession must make inquisitorial enquiry and make adequate exercise to ascertain the impelling reason of the prisoner to confess his guilt. Penitence, qualms of conscience, remorse etc. might be the ready and prepared answers. He must find out the real motive behind making the confession. If he finds that the reason to be well-grounded and the prisoner has a real, genuine and impelling motive to make a clean breast of his crime, he must proceed to record the confession. However, if the answers are halting, incoherent and do not appear to be cogent, the recording Magistrate should cry a halt. The basic object to entrust the serious business of recording confession upon the judicial officers is that they must exercise their judicial knowledge and wisdom to find out whether it is a voluntary confession or not. To adjudge voluntariness, in my opinion, two basic factors should be taken note of. First, the existing mental condition of the prisoner. The Magistrate ought to proceed with the assumption that the prisoner is labouring under mental agony or disorder having arrayed as an accused of a crime. A man in peril undergoing distress and torture, worry and strain is ordinarily not mentally fit person to make a statement to endanger his life and liberty. The Prosecution must confirm that the judicial mind of the recording officer was satisfied, by some objective tests; that a mentally disabled person coming from a criminal class was mentally fit enough to understand the implications of the warnings and to make a fatal statement. Secondly, the Magistrate must satisfy the court by documentary or oral evidence that he had fully exercised his judicial mind to get the real motive or the impelling factor which prompted the prisoner to make the confession. Failing, a confession ought not to be accepted as voluntary?"

57. The rule of prudence for Magistrates to typically adhere to certain guidelines to ensure the voluntary nature of confessions are as under:

(a) After issuing warnings to the individual making a confession under subsection (2), the Magistrate should allow ample time for reflection. There's no strict rule regarding the duration, but it's crucial that the confessor's mind is free from any potential police influence. Typically, if the individual is transferred from police custody, they are held in jail custody for at least a day before their confession is recorded.

(b) In every inquiry, the accused must be questioned about their custody prior to appearing and their custody afterward, as well as the treatment they received. This inquiry ensures no external influence, particularly from sources favouring the prosecution, is lingering in the accused's mind. If there are any injuries on the accused, they should be asked how they sustained them.

(c) If the accused is handcuffed, the Magistrate should order their removal, and any individuals likely to influence the accused should be asked to leave, creating a free atmosphere.

(d) The accused should be assured, explicitly, of protection from any potential torture or pressure from external agents such as the police if they decline to make a statement. Additionally, subsection (3) prohibits remanding the accused to police custody if they express unwillingness to confess when brought before the Magistrate.

(e) The accused should be asked about the reason for making a statement that goes against their self-interest during the trial. They should also be informed that even if they retract the confession later, it remains admissible as evidence against them. Failure by the Magistrate to inquire about the accused's reason for confessing was deemed a non-compliance, curable under Section 463.

(f) The Magistrate recording the confession must understand their role as a judicial officer, ensuring the statement is made voluntarily. They should pose questions to ascertain voluntariness, and the record of the confession should reflect these inquiries. While it's necessary to ask the questions prescribed by the High Court Circular, it's crucial that the inquiry isn't mechanical, and there's no hint of casualness. The Magistrate must be fully satisfied that the confession is truly voluntary, ensuring it's not induced by threats, promises, or inducements referenced in Section 24 of the Evidence Act.

(g) A confession must be entirely voluntary; otherwise, the court should reject it. The Magistrate should make an inquisitorial inquiry to understand the prisoner's compelling reason to confess. If the reason appears well-grounded, genuine, and compelling, the confession should be recorded. However, if the answers are hesitant, incoherent, or lack cogency, the recording Magistrate should stop the process.

(h) To assess voluntariness, the Magistrate should consider two factors: the accused's mental state and the Magistrate's own judicial assessment of the motive behind the confession. The Magistrate must ensure that mentally disabled individuals understand the implications of the warnings and the confession they're making.

(i) The Magistrate must provide documentary or oral evidence demonstrating their full exercise of judicial mind to understand the motive behind the confession. (j) If the prisoner can write, they may be asked to write their own confession. This ensures the confession is in the prisoner's own words and confirms their mental capability to translate thoughts into writing. The inability to write the confession, despite being otherwise capable, suggests mental incapacity to express thoughts in writing, a point emphasised in the Kuthu Goala case (1980 SCC OnLine Gau 21).

Non-Compliance of Section 164 Cr.P.C.

58. Some of the legal ramifications of non-compliance with the provisions of Section 164 Cr.P.C. is of the individual making the confession might not have been cautioned as required by Section 164(2) Cr.P.C., the Magistrate might have failed to record the confession or statement in accordance with Section 164(4) Cr.P.C. or in the manner provided by Section 281 Cr.P.C. or the Magistrate might have omitted to make a memorandum as required by Section 164(4) Cr.P.C.. Section 463 Cr.P.C. aims to address some of these defects and irregularities in the recording of confessions or statements of the accused under Section 164.

59. In the case of Bhukin Vs. King Emperor : 1947 SCC OnLine MP 81 : AIR 1948 Nag 344 it was held that a Magistrate recording a confession ought to question the accused merely with a view to discovering whether the proposed confession is voluntarily or on account of any inducement or threat and the Magistrate should not question the prisoner so as to get answers from him regarding the occurrence which would be inculpatory. The prisoner should be allowed to state whatever he wants and the confession should be recorded in his own words.

60. Further in the case of Sarwan Singh Vs. State of Punjab : AIR 1957 SC 637, the Apex Court held as under:

“ the questions intended to be put under sub-s.(3) of 164 should not be allowed to become a matter of a mere mechanical enquiry”. “The whole object of putting questions to an accused person who offers is to obtain an assurance of the fact that the confession is not caused by any inducement, threat or promise having, reference to the charge against the accused person as mentioned in Sec.24 of Indian Evidence Act”. “That in ordinary circumstance an interval of twenty four hours may be regular as reasonable time for reflection is not to be taken as an absolute rule and as laying down that, whatever the circumstances, a confession recording without allowing time for reflection is to be rejected as a confession that is not voluntary”. “ The act of recording confession u/s.164 is a Solemn Act and in discharging his duties, under that section, the Magistrate must take care to see that the requirements of law must be fully satisfied”...

61. In the case of Kehar Singh Vs. State (Delhi Admin.) : AIR 1988 SC 1883 it was held as under:

“Where the confessional statement neither points out the warning against the making of the confession, nor does it show that the confession was made voluntarily not sufficient time was given to the person making the confession to have a cool reflection, the confessional statement is liable to be rejected”.

62. In the case of Mahabir Singh Vs. State of Haryana : AIR 2001 SC 2503 it was held as under:

“As the confession recorded by PW-2 cannot be brought under Section 164 of the Code it is an idle exercise to consider whether it was voluntary or true. We may again point out, PW-2 has not stated that before taking down the confession he explained to Ranbir Singh that he was not bound to make the confession, and that if he did so, such confession might be used as evidence against him. This is sine qua non for recording a confession. Further a Magistrate is forbidden from recording any such confession until he gets satisfaction that the person is going to make a voluntary confession. There is nothing in the evidence of PW-2 that he had adopted such precaution. For all those reasons we keep that document out of the ken of consideration in this case”.

63. Looking to the facts of the case, the law on the subject and the nature of evidence produced, the sole eye witness Babu Yadav PW-1 is not a trustworthy witness, the appeal thus succeeds and is allowed.

64. The judgment and order dated 15.04.2015 passed by Additional District and Sessions Judge, Court No.2, Kanpur Nagar of Sessions Trial No. 07 of 2003 is hereby set aside.

65. The appellants are acquitted of the charges levelled against them. The appellants are on bail. Their bail bonds are cancelled and sureties discharged.

66. Office is directed to transmit the trial court records along with a copy of this judgment to the trial court forthwith for its compliance and necessary action.

A. Criminal Law - Criminal Procedure Code, 1973-Section 374(2)-Indian Penal Code, 1860-Sections 376 & 3/4 POC SO Act-the victim initially supported the prosecution's version during the trial, describing the assault and identifying the accused-later in cross-examinations she retracted her earlier testimony, claiming no assault occurred and attributing her injuries to other causes(e.g. a bull's horn)-the victim's father also contradicted his earlier statement, stating no assault occurred-Held, in cases of sexual assault, an initial consistent testimony by the victim corroborated by medical and forensic evidence can form the basis for conviction, even if later testimony retracts or contradicts earlier statements-Injuries consistent with sexual assault corroborated by forensic evidence(e.g. presence of spermatozoa), hold decisive evidentiary value in proving guilt beyond reasonable doubt-The court upheld the conviction-However, life imprisonment sentence was modified and reduced to 14 years of rigorous imprisonment-The fine was enhanced from Rs.50,000 to 1,00,000 payable to the victim.(Para 1 to 37)

The appeal is partly allowed. (E-6)

6. अभियोजन साक्षी सं० 01- पीड़िता ने विचारण न्यायालय के समक्ष दिये गये कथन में बताया कि उसके साथ बुरा काम हुआ था। साक्षी ने पीछे देखकर कहा कि अभियुक्त दुर्वेश जो हाजिर अदालत है ने उसके साथ सुबह बुरा काम किया था । उक्त अभियुक्त ने उसके साथ खेत में बुरा काम किया था, बुरा काम के समय उसके शरीर से

खून निकला था । इसके बाद उसका इलाज अस्पताल में चला था, जिस खेत में उसके साथ बुरा काम किया गया था उस खेत में अरहर की फसल खड़ी हुयी थी । अभियुक्त द्वारा बुरा काम करते समय वह चिल्लाई थी, चिल्लाने पर चाचा आ गये थे, चाचा ने पूछा कि तुम्हारे साथ किसने बुरा काम किया तब उसने बताया कि दुर्वेश ने बुरा काम किया है ।

इस साक्षी ने दिनांक 17-01-14 को अपने प्रतिपरीक्षण में दिये गये कथन में बताया कि आज वह अपनी मम्मी पापा के साथ आई है । हाजिर अदालत मुल्जिम रिश्ते में उसका चाचा लगता है, हाजिर अदालत मुल्जिम दुर्वेश उर्फ पप्पू उसे अरहर के खेत में नहीं ले गया था और ना ही अरहर के खेत में टॉफी आदि कुछ खाने को दिया था, बुरा काम का मतलब गाली देने से होता है। मुल्जिमान ने उसका कच्चा व स्कर्ट नहीं उतारी थी, मुल्जिमान ने अपनी पेशाब का रास्ता उसके पेशाब के रास्ते में नहीं डाली ली। भैंस के सींग मार देने से उसकी पेशाब के रास्ते में चोट आई थी। पुलिस ने उससे कोई पूछताछ नहीं किया था, उसके पिता ने क्या रिपोर्ट

लिखाई उसे नहीं मालूम । इस स्तर पर इस साक्षी को ए०डी०जी०सी० फौजदारी द्वारा पक्षविरोधी घोषित करते हुये न्यायालय की अनुमति से प्रतिपरीक्षण किया गया । इस साक्षी ने अपने प्रतिपरीक्षण में दिये गये कथन में बताया कि उसका इलाज जिला इटावा में चला था 10-12 दिन अस्पताल में भर्ती रहकर उसका इलाज चला था, वह आज से पूर्व इसी अदालत में बयान देने आई थी और सही बयान दिया था ।

7. अभियोजन साक्षी सं० 02- वीरेन्द्र सिंह ने विचारण न्यायालय में बयान दिया है कि पीड़िता उसकी पुत्री है, घटना के समय उसकी उम्र 8 वर्ष थी । आज से 10-12 माह पहले की घटना है, समय दिन के 8-00 बजे का था वह अपने घर पर मौजूद नहीं था उसकी पुत्री अर्चना और पीड़िता विद्यालय के पास कण्डे पाथ रही थी, उस समय उसका लड़का प्रदीप वहाँ नहीं था पीड़िता को कोई भी व्यक्ति टॉफी देने के बहाने नहीं ले गया था । पीड़िता के साथ हाजिर अदालत मुल्जिम पप्पू उर्फ दुर्वेश द्वारा कोई भी बुरा काम (बलात्कार) नहीं किया गया था। वह दस्तखत करना जानता है कागज संख्या

53/3 को देखकर कहा कि इस पर उसके हस्ताक्षर हैं जिस पर प्रदर्श क-1 डाला गया ।

इस स्तर पर इस साक्षी को ए०डी०जी०सी० फौजदारी द्वारा पक्षद्रोही घोषित करते हुये प्रतिपरीक्षण में सवाल पूछे गये । साक्षी ने बताया कि भगवान सिंह वंजारा उसका भतीजा है प्रदर्श क-1 उसके भतीजे भगवान सिंह का लिखा हुआ है उसने भगवान सिंह को कुछ नहीं बोला था वह तथा भगवान सिंह थाना किशनी नहीं गये थे । प्रदर्श क-1 न तो उसने अपने घर पर और न ही थाना किशनी में लिखवाया था उसे अस्पताल इटावा से पुलिस लेकर आई तब थाने में रिपोर्ट लिखाई थी । इटावा से उसे थाना किशनी की पुलिस लेकर आई थी, पुलिस वाले एक मार्शल में थे, पुलिस वालों को इटावा इलाज कराने की बात गाँव वालों ने झूठा फोन करके बता दिया था । उसकी पुत्री को टाफी देने वाली बात तथा उसके साथ बुरा काम करने वाली बात दरोगाजी ने लिखवाई थी । उसने प्रदर्श क-1 दरोगा जी द्वारा झूठा लिखाने वाली बात की शिकायत मौखिक अथवा लिखित किसी भी प्रशासनिक अधिकारी, न्यायिक

अधिकारी, पुलिस अधिकारी को नहीं की थी। वह घटना के दिन घर पर नहीं था, वह घटना के 2-3 दिन बाद घर पर आया था, वह पीड़िता को इलाज हेतु स्वयं नहीं ले गया था, गाँव वाले ले गये थे। घटना के 2-3 दिन बाद पीड़िता के इलाज होने वाले अस्पताल गया था। जिस दिन अस्पताल पहुँचा उसी दिन शाम को दरोगा जी अस्पताल से थाने लाये थे। उसकी पुत्री पीड़िता भैंस के पास से गोबर उठा रही थी, भैंस घर पर बंधी थी, उसे नहीं पता कि पीड़िता खड़े होकर गोबर उठा रही थी अथवा बैठकर। दरोगा जी से उसकी कोई लड़ाई नहीं थी और न ही पप्पू उर्फ दुर्वेश से उसकी कोई लड़ाई थी। इस साक्षी ने अपने कथन में यह भी बताया कि उसके बयानों में अभियुक्त पप्पू उर्फ दुर्वेश द्वारा बलात्कार कर चोटें पहुँचाने वाली बात गलत लिखी है, जिसकी कोई वजह नहीं बता सकता। इस साक्षी ने अपने कथन में यह भी स्वीकार किया कि उसकी पुत्री पीड़िता का इलाज इटावा में 8 दिन चला था।

8. अभियोजन साक्षी सं० 3- काँ० 815 जितेन्द्र सिंह एक औपचारिक साक्षी है जिसने अपने द्वारा की गयी

कार्यवाही के संबंध में बयान दिया है तथा आवश्यक फर्द प्रदर्श आदि को साबित किया है।

9. अभियोजन साक्षी सं० 4- डा० साक्षी श्रीमती स्मिता सिंह ने अपने कथन में बताया कि दिनांक 03-04-13 को वह डा. बी० आर० ए० ज्वॉइंट हास्पिटल फीमेल इटावा में चिकित्सा अधिकारी के रूप में तैनात थी, उस दिन उसने पीड़िता उम्र 7 वर्ष पुत्री वीरेन्द्र सिंह निवासी भोजपुर जिला-मैनपुरी का समय 11.45 ए०एम० पर जिसे ई०एम०टी० मुकेश कुमार गाड़ी संख्या 108 यू०पी०41 जी /633 सरसई नावर लेकर आया था और पीड़िता की शिनाख्त की थी का परीक्षण किया था। उसकी राय में शुक्राणु होने का कारण दिनांक 03-04-14 को सुबह करीब 9-00 बजे पीड़िता के चोट जबरदस्ती बलात्कार किये जाने से आना सम्भव है। पूरक रिपोर्ट उसके लेख व हस्ताक्षर में है इस पर प्रदर्श क-7 डाला गया।

10. अभियोजन साक्षी सं० 5- डा० मोहम्मद अजहर सिद्दीकी ने अपने कथन में बताया कि दिनांक 03-04-13 को वे सामुदायिक स्वास्थ्य केन्द्र सरसई

नावर पर तैनात थे। उस दिन पीड़िता पुत्री वीरेन्द्र सिंह उम्र 8 वर्ष ग्राम भोजपुर थाना किशनी को समय 10-10 ए०एम० पर गम्भीर हालत में उसके परिवारीजन द्वारा सरकारी एम्बुलेन्स संख्या 108 द्वारा लाया गया था उसके परिवारीजनों ने बताया कि पीड़िता के साथ बुरा काम (बलात्कार) हुआ है। उसने उसे देखा, पीड़िता के गुप्तांग से रक्त-श्राव हो रहा था। पीड़िता की गम्भीर हालत को देखते हुये उसे प्राथमिक उपचार देने के बाद जिला अस्पताल इटावा को रेफर किया था । कागज संख्या 17-अ सूचना उसने थाना किशनी को भिजवाई थी, जो उसके बोलने पर फार्मासिस्ट द्वारा लिखा गया था, इस पर उसने अपने हस्ताक्षर किये थे, इस पर प्रदर्श क-8 डाला गया।

11. अभियोजन साक्षी सं० 6- साक्षी डा० के० के० तिवारी ने अपने कथन में बताया कि दिनांक 03-04-13 को वह जिला चिकित्सालय इटावा में वरिष्ठ परामर्शदाता के पद पर तैनात थे, उस दिन उसने पीड़िता की योनि से शुक्राणु परीक्षण की जाँच हेतु डा० स्मिता सिंह द्वारा पीड़िता पुत्री वीरेन्द्र सिंह निवासी भोजपुर थाना किशनी की स्लाइड सील

12. अभियोजन साक्षी सं० 7- साक्षी प्रभारी निरीक्षक रामबहादुर शर्मा एक औपचारिक साक्षी है जिसने अपने द्वारा की गयी कार्यवाही के संबंध में बयान दिया है तथा आवश्यक फर्द प्रदर्श आदि को साबित किया है।

13. अभियोजन साक्षी सं० 8- साक्षी भगवान सिंह ने अपने कथन में बताया कि वह कक्षा-8 तक पढ़ा है, प्रदर्श क-1 को देखकर कहा कि यह उसके हाथ का लिखा है इस पर उसके हस्ताक्षर हैं। उसने यह प्रार्थना पत्र पुलिस स्टेशन में लिखा था, इस पर वादी वीरेन्द्र सिंह के भी हस्ताक्षर हैं। प्रदर्श क-1 दरोगा जी ने बोलकर लिखाया है ।

14. दस्तावेजीय साक्ष्य:- पीड़िता का चिकित्सीय परीक्षण रिपोर्ट

सामान्य बाह्य परीक्षण:-

ऊँचाई 140.5 से०मी० दाँत 14 X 14 उसकी हालत

गम्भीर थी। उसकी पहिनी हुई स्कर्ट तथा दोनों टाँगे खून से पूरी तरह सनी हुई थी ।

आन्तरिक परीक्षण:-

गुप्तांग (योनि) से गम्भीर खून निकल रहा था । हाईमन झिल्ली फटी हुई थी तथा ताजा खून आ रहा था। वेजाइनल स्मेयर की स्लाइड तैयार कर सील मुहर कर पैथोलोजिस्ट जिला अस्पताल भेजी गई थी तथा पेरीनियल हिस्से में एक से० मी० टीयर (फटा हुआ) पोस्ट वेजाइनल वाल पर था। यूरेथिबल हिस्से में कोई चोट नहीं थी, कागज संख्या 11-अ उसने वरवक्त मुआयना अपने हस्तलेख में तैयार की थी। पीड़िता के पहिचान चिन्ह अंकित किये थे तथा उसका आर. टी. आई. लगवाया था। रिपोर्ट उसके द्वारा लिखित व हस्ताक्षरित है, इस पर प्रदर्श क-6 डाला गया तथा पूरक रिपोर्ट उसने पैथोलौजी रिपोर्ट मिलने के बाद तैयार की थी, जिसमें पैथोलौजी की रिपोर्ट 23/13 थी जिसमें शुक्राणु कुछ जीवित तथा कुछ मृत पाये गये थे।

15. अभियोजन साक्षियों के बयान के आधार पर अभियुक्त का धारा 313

16. सत्र न्यायाधीश ने मामले में दिये गये तथ्यों एवं साक्ष्यों के आधार पर यह अभिमत व्यक्त किया है कि:-

(1) पीड़िता ने अपने मुख्य परीक्षण में दिये गए कथन में अभियोजन कहानी का पूरी तरह से समर्थन किया है, किन्तु लगभग दो माह पश्चात बचाव पक्ष द्वारा इस साक्षी को फोड़ लिए जाने के कारण इस साक्षी ने अभियोजन कहानी से इंकार किया है, किन्तु इस साक्षी ने अपने कथन में स्वीकार किया कि उसने उक्त तिथि से पूर्व जो न्यायालय में बयान दिया है, वह सही दिया है। सत्र न्यायाधीश ने पीड़िता के इस बयान को इस आधार पर स्वीकार किया है कि न्याय दृष्टान्त 2005 (53) ए. सी. सी. पृष्ठ 553 (इलाहाबाद उच्च न्यायालय) मुन्ना सिंह

तथा अन्य बनाम उत्तर प्रदेश राज्य में उच्च न्यायालय द्वारा साक्षी के प्रतिपरीक्षण में दिए गए कथन को स्वीकार न करते हुए इसके मुख्य परीक्षण में दिये गये कथन को सत्य व विश्वसनीय पाते हुए लिखित रिपोर्ट को विश्वसनीय माना गया। माननीय उच्च न्यायालय का उक्त न्याय दृष्टान्त प्रस्तुत मामले में लागू होता है।

(2) सत्र न्यायाधीश ने यह भी अभिमत व्यक्त किया है कि न्याय दृष्टान्त 2015 (88) ए. सी. सी. पृष्ठ 139 (इलाहाबाद उच्च न्यायालय) अल्ताफ बनाम उत्तर प्रदेश राज्य में यह कहा गया है कि उक्त मामले की अवयस्क बालिका से बलात्कार के मामले में पीड़िता पी०डब्लू०-1 ने न्यायालय के समक्ष मुख्य परीक्षण में दिये गये कथन में अभियोजन कहानी का समर्थन करते हुये बताया कि अपीलार्थी/ अभियुक्त द्वारा उसके साथ बलात्कार किया गया, किन्तु उक्त तिथि को साक्षी का प्रतिपरीक्षण स्थगित किया गया और यह साक्षी आगामी तिथि पर जब प्रतिपरीक्षण हेतु उपस्थित हुयी तब इस साक्षी ने यूटर्न लेते हुये अभियोजन कहानी का समर्थन नहीं किया। इस साक्षी के प्रतिपरीक्षण में दिये गये

कथन से स्पष्ट हुआ कि यह साक्षी सफेद झूठ बोल रही है, क्योंकि वादी पक्ष और अभियुक्त के मध्य अवैध रूप से समझौता हो गया था या डर या भय के कारण पीड़िता ने प्रतिपरीक्षण में दिये गये कथन में मुख्य परीक्षण से अलग हटकर कथन किया । तब माननीय उच्च न्यायालय द्वारा कहा गया कि विचारण न्यायालय द्वारा सही ढंग से साक्षी के मुख्य परीक्षण में दिये गये कथन को विश्वसनीय मानते हुये अभियोजन कहानी मेडिकल साक्ष्य, विधि विज्ञान प्रयोगशाला की रिपोर्ट तथा विवेचना अधिकारी के कथन से सम्पुष्ट होने के कारण अभियुक्त को उचित आधार पर दोषसिद्ध किया गया। इस कारण माननीय उच्च न्यायालय द्वारा अपील को निरस्त कर दिया गया । माननीय उच्च न्यायालय का उक्त न्याय दृष्टान्त प्रस्तुत मामले में लागू होता है ।

(4) विवेचक द्वारा प्रथम सूचना रिपोर्ट दर्ज होने के पश्चात मौके पर जाकर घटना स्थल अरहर के खेत से खून अलूदा व सादा मिट्टी साक्षियों के समक्ष कब्जे में लेकर फर्द तैयार की गयी, जिला महिला चिकित्सालय इटावा जाकर पीड़िता का खून अलूदा कपड़े शर्ट व स्कर्ट जिसमें काफी मात्रा में खून के धब्बे लगे थे को साक्षियों के समक्ष कब्जे पुलिस में लेकर मौके पर सील मुहर करके फर्द तैयार की गयी, वादी मुकदमा विरेन्द्र सिंह का कथन केस डायरी में अंकित किया गया तथा अन्य साक्षियों का भी बयान लिया गया तथा सभी प्रदर्शों को संबंधित साक्षियों द्वारा साबित किया गया है तथा उन्होंने उपलब्ध साक्ष्यों के आधार पर यह भी

पाया है कि वादी मुकदमा विरेन्द्र सिंह व तहरीर लेखक भगवान सिंह द्वारा अभियुक्त दुर्वेश उर्फ पप्पू के प्रभाव में आकर न्यायालय के समक्ष असत्य कथन किया गया है।

(6) इस प्रकार दस्तावेजीय व मौखिक साक्ष्यों से स्पष्ट है कि घटना दिनांक 03.04.2013 को 09.00 बजे प्रातः पीड़िता के साथ अरहर के खेत में निश्चित रूप से बलात्कार किया गया था जिससे उसका गुप्तांग फट गया था। समस्त दस्तावेजीय साक्षियों द्वारा प्रमाणित किये गये हैं जिनसे स्पष्ट है कि घटना के दिनांक को पीड़िता के भैंस के सींग मार देने से उसके योनि में चोटें नहीं आई, बल्कि उसके साथ निश्चित रूप से बलात्कार किया गया था। यह तथ्य मेडिकल साक्ष्य व अन्य दस्तावेजीय साक्ष्यों से भी युक्ति-युक्त संदेह से परे प्रमाणित है।

(7) पीड़िता के साथ उक्त बलात्कार की घटना अभियुक्त दुर्वेश उर्फ पप्पू के द्वारा ही कारित की गयी है यह पीड़िता के मुख्य परीक्षण में दिये गये बयान से साबित है क्योंकि उसने न्यायालय के समक्ष कटघरे में पीछे मुड़कर देखकर बताया है कि उसके साथ बुरा काम इसी अभियुक्त ने अरहर के खेत में किया था। अरहर के खेत में फसल खड़ी थी, वह चिल्लाई तब उसके चाचा आ गये थे, चाचा के पूछने पर उसने बताया था कि दुर्वेश ने उसके साथ बुरा काम किया था।

17. उपरोक्त आधारों पर सत्र न्यायाधीश ने यह पाया अभियोजन पक्ष ने अपना मामला उचित संदेह से परे स्थापित किया है, जिसके आधार पर अपीलार्थी/अभियुक्त को धारा 376 भा०दं०वि० के अपराध के लिये आजीवन कारावास व 30 हजार रुपये के अर्थ दण्ड तथा धारा 374 लैंगिक अपराधों से बालकों का संरक्षण अधिनियम के अपराध के लिए दस वर्ष के कारावास व बीस हजार रुपये के अर्थ दण्ड से दण्डित किया गया है।

18. अपीलार्थी के विद्वान अधिवक्ता श्री शशि कुमार मिश्रा एवं

विद्वान अपर शासकीय अधिवक्तागण श्री विकास गोस्वामी एवं उच्च न्यायालय विधिक सेवा प्राधिकरण की ओर से सुश्री मुस्कान पाण्डेय विद्वान अधिवक्ता को सुना तथा पत्रावली का परिशीलन किया।

19. अपीलार्थी के विद्वान अधिवक्ता ने तर्क प्रस्तुत किया कि अभियुक्त/अपीलार्थी को रंजिशन इस मामले में असत्य व कपोल-कल्पित तथ्यों के आधार पर झूठा फंसाया गया है, कथित पीड़िता ने न्यायालय के समक्ष अपने प्रतिपरीक्षण में दिये गये कथन में बताया कि "मुल्जिम रिश्ते में उसका चाचा लगता है, हाजिर अदालत मुल्जिम दुर्वेश उर्फ पप्पू उसे अरहर के खेत में नहीं ले गया था और न हीं अरहर के खेत में टॉफी आदि कुछ खाने को दिया था, बुरा काम का मतलब गाली देने से होता है। मुल्जिमान ने उसका कच्चा व स्कर्ट नहीं उतारी थी, मुल्जिमान ने अपनी पेशाब का रास्ता उसके पेशाब के रास्ते में नहीं डाली ली। भैंस के सींग मार देने से उसकी पेशाब के रास्ते में चोट आई थी। पुलिस ने उससे कोई पूछताछ नहीं किया था, उसके पिता ने क्या रिपोर्ट लिखाई उसे

नहीं मालूम” इस स्तर पर उसे विचारण न्यायालय द्वारा पक्षद्रोही घोषित किया गया है, यद्यपि प्रश्नगत प्रकरण में पीड़िता अवयस्क है, किंतु पीड़िता के पिता/अभियोजन साक्षी 02 द्वारा भी न्यायालय के समक्ष अपने परीक्षण में दिये गये कथन में बताया कि "आज से 10-12 माह पहले की घटना है, समय दिन के 8-00 बजे का था वह अपने घर पर मौजूद नहीं था उसकी पुत्री अर्चना और पीड़िता विद्यालय के पास कन्डे पाथ रही थी, उस समय उसका लड़का प्रदीप वहाँ नहीं था पीड़िता को कोई भी व्यक्ति टॉफी देने के बहाने नहीं ले गया था । पीड़िता के साथ हाजिर अदालत मुल्जिम पप्पू उर्फ दुर्वेश द्वारा कोई भी बुरा काम (बलात्कार) नहीं किया गया था।”

20. इस प्रकार प्रश्नगत प्रकरण के मुख्य अभियोजन साक्षी 01 एवं अभियोजन साक्षी 02 को पक्षद्रोही घोषित किया जा चुका है। उनका यह भी कथन है कि आवेदक एक नवयुवक है व अत्यंत ही गरीब पारिवारिक पृष्ठभूमि से है। अपीलार्थी द्वारा कारित यह प्रथम अपराध है, इसके पूर्व का उसका अन्यत्र आपराधिक इतिहास

21. विद्वान अपर शासकीय अधिवक्ता द्वारा अभियुक्त के विद्वान अधिवक्ता के तर्कों पर आपत्ति करते हुए कथन किया गया कि अभियुक्त द्वारा लगभग 8 वर्षीय मासूम पीड़िता के साथ जबरदस्ती दुराचार किया गया, जिसके कारण एक अबोध/अवस्यक लड़की को अपने जीवन में दुर्व्यवहार से अवसाद, बाध्यकारी विकार, कम आत्मसम्मान और मानसिक पक्षाघात

का सामना करना पड़ता है और समाज में महिलाओं की पहुँच को सीमित करता है। इस प्रकार विद्वान अपर शासकीय अधिवक्ता ने सत्र न्यायालय के निर्णय का समर्थन किया है, जिसके तहत एक अभियुक्त को दोषी ठहराया गया है और उपरोक्तानुसार सजा सुनायी गयी है।

22. उच्च न्यायालय विधिक सेवा प्राधिकरण की ओर से विद्वान अधिवक्ता सुश्री मुस्कान पाण्डेय ने तर्क प्रस्तुत किया कि तथाकथित घटना कि प्रथम सूचना रिपोर्ट बिना किसी विलम्ब के दर्ज करायी गयी है, अभियुक्त का परीक्षण विचारण न्यायालय में किया गया जिसमें अभियोजन द्वारा लगाये गये आरोपों की पूर्णतः पुष्टि हुई है, एफ.एस.एल रिपोर्ट अभियोजन द्वारा बखूबी साबित किया गया है जिसमें पीड़िता के कपड़ों पर Spermatozoa (Few dead and occasional alive spermatozoa are seen) पाया गया व चिकित्सीय साक्ष्य में जिसे अभियोजन द्वारा पूर्णतः साबित किया गया, पीड़िता ने अपने बयान में अभियोजन कथानक का समर्थन किया है। अभियुक्त/अपीलार्थी द्वारा एक जघन्य अपराध "पीड़िता उम्र मात्र 7 वर्ष" के

(1) T.K. Gopal V/S State of Karnataka 2000 (6) SCC 168

(2) Bhaggi Alias Bhagirath Alias Naran V/S State of Madhya Pradesh (2024) 5 SCC 782

23. हमने उभय पक्ष के विद्वान अधिवक्ताओं के तर्कों को सुना तथा विचारण न्यायालय के मूल अभिलेख सहित पत्रावली पर रखी गयी सामग्री का सम्यक रूप से परिशीलन किया एवं उन पर गहनतापूर्वक विचार किया।

24. प्रस्तुत मामले में घटना दिनांक 03.04.2013 को सुबह के लगभग 09 बजे की बतायी गयी है जिसमें अभियुक्त द्वारा लगभग 8 वर्षीय पीड़िता के साथ बलात्कार करना कहा गया, जिसके फलस्वरूप उसका

गुप्तांग फटकर काफी लहुलुहान हो गया। पीड़िता के भाई-बहन एवं रिश्तेदारों द्वारा उसे अस्पताल ले जाया गया अस्पताल में पीड़िता का उचित इलाज किया गया तथा वेजाइना से ब्लीडिंग होने के कारण उक्त स्वास्थ्य केन्द्र पर महिला चिकित्सक न होने के कारण जिला अस्पताल इटावा को रेफर कर दिया गया, चिकित्सक द्वारा पुलिस को लिखित तहरीर भेजी गयी तथा डाक्टर एवं पुलिस अधिकारियों द्वारा समस्त प्रदर्शों को साबित किया गया।

25. विवेचक द्वारा प्रथम सूचना रिपोर्ट दर्ज होने के पश्चात मौके पर जाकर घटना स्थल अरहर के खेत से खून अलूदा व सादा मिट्टी साक्षियों के समक्ष कब्जे में लेकर फर्द तैयार की गयी, जिला महिला चिकित्सालय इटावा जाकर पीड़िता का खून अलूदा कपड़े शर्ट व स्कर्ट जिसमें काफी मात्रा में खून के धब्बे लगे थे को साक्षियों के समक्ष कब्जे पुलिस में लेकर मौके पर सील मुहर करके फर्द तैयार की गयी, वादी मुकदमा विरेन्द्र सिंह का कथन केस डायरी में अंकित किया गया तथा अन्य साक्षियों का भी बयान लिया गया तथा सभी प्रदर्शों को संबंधित साक्षियों द्वारा

साबित किया गया है तथा उन्होंने उपलब्ध साक्ष्यों के आधार पर यह भी पाया है कि वादी मुकदमा विरेन्द्र सिंह व तहरीर लेखक भगवान सिंह द्वारा अभियुक्त दुर्वेश उर्फ पप्पू के प्रभाव में आकर न्यायालय के समक्ष असत्य कथन किया गया है।

26. विधि विज्ञान प्रयोगशाला आगरा की रिपोर्ट 36-अ में इस बात का स्पष्ट रूप से उल्लेख है कि पीड़िता के स्कर्ट पर शुक्राणु व मानव वीर्य पाये गए, खून अलूदा मिट्टी तथा पीड़िता के शर्ट में रक्त के धब्बे पाये गये। जो संबंधित चिकित्सक द्वारा प्रमाणित किया गया है।

था। यह तथ्य मेडिकल साक्ष्य व अन्य दस्तावेजीय साक्ष्यों से भी युक्ति-युक्त संदेह से परे प्रमाणित है।

28. पीड़िता के साथ उक्त बलात्कार की घटना अभियुक्त दुर्वेश उर्फ पप्पू के द्वारा ही कारित की गयी है यह पीड़िता के मुख्य परीक्षण में दिये गये बयान से साबित है क्योंकि उसने न्यायालय के समक्ष कटघरे में पीछे मुड़कर देखकर बताया है कि उसके साथ बुरा काम इसी अभियुक्त ने अरहर के खेत में किया था। अरहर के खेत में फसल खड़ी थी, वह चिल्लाई तब उसके चाचा आ गये थे, चाचा के पूछने पर उसने बताया था कि दुर्वेश ने उसके साथ बुरा काम किया था।

29. पीड़िता के प्रति परीक्षण में भैंस के सींग से चोट लगने की बात सर्वथा झूठ लगती है क्योंकि यदि अगर ऐसा होता तो पीड़िता के वरजाइन स्मियर और कपड़ों में स्परमैटोजोआ का पाया जाना असंभव था। इससे ऐसा परिलक्षित है कि बाद में पीड़िता एवं अभियोगी पर अनुचित प्रभाव एवं दबाव से उन्होंने बाद में गलत बयान दिलवाया गया।

30. अभियोजन पक्ष के अनुसार तथा कथित घटना दिनांक 03.04.2013 को घटित हुई, वादी की पुत्री के साथ अभियुक्त द्वारा दुराचार किया गया, जिसकी पुष्टि चिकित्सीय परीक्षण रिपोर्ट व अन्य साक्ष्यों के होती है। विचारण न्यायालय के अभिलेख एवं इस न्यायालय की पत्रावली पर उपलब्ध साक्ष्यों तथा सत्र न्यायाधीश के निर्णय के परिशीलन से तथा उन पर सम्यक रूप से विचार करने के उपरान्त इस न्यायालय का अभिमत है कि तथाकथित घटना को मौखिक एवं दस्तावेजी सबूतों की सहायता से अभियोजन पक्ष द्वारा साबित किया गया है, जिसका उल्लेख उपर्युक्त किया गया है तथा साबित किये गये साक्ष्यों के आधार पर सत्र न्यायाधीश द्वारा अभियुक्त/अपीलार्थी को उपरोक्तानुसार दोषसिद्ध किया गया है, जिसमें उनके उक्त निर्णय में कोई त्रुटि परिलक्षित नहीं होती है।

31. इस स्तर पर विचारण न्यायालय द्वारा अभियुक्त को दिये गये दण्डादेश पर पुनर्विचार किये जाने हेतु भारतीय दण्ड विधान की धारा 376 (1) & (2) पर विचार किया जाना

“[376. Punishment for rape- (1) Whoever, except in the cases provided for in sub-section (2), commits rape, shall be punished with rigorous imprisonment of either description for a term which shall not be less than ten years, but which may extend to imprisonment for life, and shall also be liable to fine.”

32. विचारण न्यायालय द्वारा अभियुक्त को दिये गये दण्डादेश पर पुनर्विचार किये जाने हेतु मा० उच्चतम न्यायालय द्वारा GURMUKH SINGH Vs. STATE OF HARYANA (2009) 15 Supreme Court Cases 635 एवं RAJ BALA Vs. STATE OF HARYANA AND OTHERS (2016) 1 Supreme Court Cases 463 में प्रतिपादित विधिव्यवस्था एवं उच्च न्यायालय इलाहाबाद द्वारा CRIMINAL APPEAL No. 2878 of 2013 (Babu Vs. State of U.P.) तथा CRIMINAL APPEAL No. 4378 of 2019 (Shyamveer Vs. State of U.P. And Another) का परिशीलन किया गया।

33. अपीलार्थी के विद्वान अधिवक्ता ने पूरकशपथ पत्र के माध्यम से न्यायालय का ध्यान वरिष्ठ कारागार अधीक्षक सेन्ट्रल जेल फतेहगढ़ की

34. सजा के प्रश्न पर विचार करने के स्तर पर हम पाते हैं कि विचारण न्यायालय ने अभियुक्त/अपीलार्थी को भारतीय दण्ड संहिता की धारा 376 के तहत आजीवन कारावास की सजा सुनाई है। भारतीय दण्ड संहिता की धारा 376 के तहत सजा सात साल से लेकर उम्र कैद तक होती है, जब अदालत किसी अपराध के लिए अधिकतम स्वीकार्य सजा देने के लिए आगे बढ़ती है, तो कानून का यह मुख्य सिद्धांत है कि ऐसी अधिकतम सजा देने के लिए कारण दिये जाने चाहिए। हमें ऐसा कोई कारण नहीं मिला की जिसका खुलासा विचारण न्यायालय ने

“14. While coming to the conclusion that the accused is the perpetrator of the offence, whether sentence of life imprisonment and fine is adequate or the sentence requires to be modified in the facts and circumstances of this case and in the light of certain judicial pronouncements and precedents applicable in such matters. This Court would refer to the following precedents, namely, Mohd. Giasuddin Vs. State of AP, [AIR 1977 SC 1926], explaining rehabilitary & reformatory aspects in sentencing it has been observed by the Supreme Court:

"Crime is a pathological aberration. The criminal can ordinarily be redeemed and the state has to rehabilitate rather than avenge. The sub-culture that leads to ante-social behaviour has to be countered not by undue cruelty but by reculturation. Therefore, the focus of interest in penology is the individual and the goal is salvaging him for the society. The infliction of harsh and savage punishment is thus a relic of past and regressive times. The human today vies sentencing as a process of reshaping a person who has deteriorated into criminality and the modern community has a primary stake in the rehabilitation of the offender as a means of a social defence. Hence a therapeutic, rather than an 'in terrorem' outlook should prevail in our criminal courts, since brutal incarceration of the person merely produces laceration of his mind. If you are to punish a man retributively, you must injure him. If you are to reform him, you must improve him and, men are not improved by injuries."

15. 'Proper Sentence' was explained in Deo Narain Mandal Vs. State of UP [(2004) 7 SCC 257] by observing that Sentence should not be either excessively harsh or ridiculously low. While determining the quantum of sentence, the court should bear in mind the 'principle of proportionality'. Sentence should be based on facts of a given case. Gravity of offence, manner of commission of crime, age and sex of accused should be taken into account. Discretion of Court in awarding sentence cannot be exercised arbitrarily or whimsically.

16. In Ravada Sasikala vs. State of A.P. AIR 2017 SC 1166, the Supreme Court referred the judgments in Jameel vs State of UP [(2010) 12 SCC 532], Guru Basavraj vs State of Karnatak, [(2012) 8 SCC 734], Sumer Singh vs Surajbhan Singh, [(2014) 7 SCC 323], State of Punjab vs Bawa Singh, [(2015) 3 SCC 441], and Raj Bala vs State of Haryana, [(2016) 1 SCC 463] and has reiterated that, in operating the sentencing system, law should adopt corrective machinery or deterrence based on factual matrix. Facts and given circumstances in each case, nature of crime, manner in which it was planned and committed, motive for commission of crime, conduct of accused, nature of weapons used and all other attending circumstances are relevant facts which would enter into area of consideration. Further, undue sympathy in sentencing would do more harm to justice dispensations and would undermine the public confidence in the efficacy of law. It is the duty of every court to award proper sentence having regard to nature of offence and manner of its commission. The supreme court further said that courts must not only keep in view the right of victim of crime but also society at large. While considering imposition of appropriate punishment, the impact of crime on the society as a whole and rule of law needs to be balanced. The judicial trend in the country has been towards striking a balance between reform and punishment. The protection of society and stamping out criminal proclivity must be the object of law which can be achieved by imposing appropriate sentence on criminals and wrongdoers. Law, as a tool to maintain order and peace, should effectively meet challenges confronting the society, as society could not long endure and develop under serious threats of crime and disharmony. It is therefore, necessary to avoid undue leniency in imposition of sentence. Thus, the criminal justice jurisprudence adopted in the country is not retributive but reformatory and corrective. At the same time, undue harshness should also be avoided keeping in view the reformatory approach underlying in our criminal justice system.

17. Keeping in view the facts and circumstances of the case and also keeping in view criminal jurisprudence in our country which is reformatory and corrective and not retributive, this Court considers that no accused person is incapable of being reformed and therefore, all measures should be applied to give them an opportunity of reformation in order to bring them in the social stream.

20. As discussed above, 'reformatory theory of punishment' is to be adopted and for that reason, it is necessary to impose punishment keeping in view the 'doctrine of proportionality'. It appears from perusal of impugned judgment that sentence awarded by learned trial court for life term is very harsh keeping in view the entirety of facts and circumstances of the case and gravity of offence. Hon'ble Apex Court, as discussed above, has held that undue harshness should be avoided taking into account the reformatory approach underlying in criminal justice system. ”

35. संपूर्ण साक्ष्यों पर विचार करने के पश्चात् हमारा मानना है कि भारतीय दण्ड संहिता के धारा 376 के तहत अभियुक्त/अपीलार्थी को आजीवन कारावास की सजा दिया जाना न्यायोचित नहीं है और यदि अभियुक्त को भारतीय दण्ड संहिता के धारा 376 के तहत न्यूनतम 14 वर्ष की सजा दी जाय तो न्याय की पूर्ति संभव होगी।

नहीं किया जाता ह यहां पर यह स्पष्ट किया जाता है कि विचारण न्यायालय द्वारा अभियुक्त को धारा 376 भा.दं.वि. एवं 3/4 लैगिक अपराधों से बालकों का संरक्षण अधिनियम इन दोनों धाराओं में अभियुक्त के विरुद्ध अधिरोपित कुल अर्थदण्ड की धनराशि रुपया 50,000/- को भी संशोधित करते हुए उसे कुल रु. 1,00,000/- (एक लाख रुपया) किया जाता है। अर्थदण्ड की उक्त संशोधित धनराशि अदा न करने पर अभियुक्त को 14 वर्ष के उपरान्त 01 वर्ष का अतिरिक्त कारावास का दण्ड भुगतना होगा। वसूल की गयी अर्थदण्ड की सम्पूर्ण धनराशि पीड़िता को प्रदान किया जाये। दोनों धाराओं में दी गयी सजाएं साथ-साथ चलेगी।

37. अभियुक्त/अपीलार्थी को कारागार में 14 वर्ष की सजा भुगतने तथा 01 लाख रुपया अर्थदण्ड की धनराशि अदा करने पर जेल से अवमुक्त कर दिया जाय। उपरोक्त संशोधित अर्थदण्ड की धनराशि अदा न करने पर उसे एक वर्ष का अतिरिक्त कारावास भुगतने के पश्चात कारागार से मुक्त किया जाये।

38. सुश्री मुस्कान पाण्डेय, जो उच्च न्यायालय विधिक सेवा प्राधिकरण की

ओर से उपस्थित हुई है, वे नियमानुसार अपना शुल्क प्राप्त करने की अधिकारिणी है।

39. कार्यालय को निर्देश दिया जाता है कि विचारण न्यायालय का अभिलेख वापस भेज दिया जाय तथा इस आदेश की एक प्रतिलिपि संबंधित विचारण न्यायालय को अनुपालन हेतु तुरंत भेजना सुनिश्चित किया जाय।

Section 201 - Murder - Causing disappearance of evidence of offense - Ante-timed FIR - chance witness - failure to recover material evidence - doubt in prosecution story - Evidence of a chance witness requires a very cautious and close scrutiny and a chance witness must adequately explain his presence at the place of occurrence - Deposition of a chance witness whose presence at the place of incident remains doubtful should be discarded - Conviction cannot be sustained if the prosecution story has lapses and if chance witnesses are not credible or adequately explain their presence.(Para - 12 ,14,15,16)

Accused convicted for allegedly killing deceased during a gambling dispute – deceased won money in gambling - refused to return it - leading to his murder by accused and co-accused using an axe and throttling - FIR lodged following morning - stated eyewitness accounts, including seeing the body being dragged to a well - prosecution relied on eyewitnesses PW-3 and PW-4 - who claimed to have seen incident in torchlight. (Para - 1 to 9)

HELD: - There are any number of lapses in the prosecution story and the prosecution case thus becomes doubtful. Nowhere was the currency etc., which it was alleged was won in the gambling by the deceased, recovered. Charges as were framed against the accused appellant were not proved beyond reasonable doubt and, therefore, the accused cannot be held guilty. Accused-appellant was acquitted of all charges as the prosecution failed to prove the case beyond reasonable doubt. (Para -16 to 18)

Appeal allowed. (E-7)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Siddhartha Varma, J.)

1. This criminal appeal has been filed against the judgment and order dated 23.05.1983 passed by the Sessions Judge, Jalaun at Orai by which the appellant Ram Babu was convicted under Section 302 of the Indian Penal Code (henceforth called the "IPC") read with Section 201 IPC and punished the appellant under Section 302 IPC with life imprisonment and under Section 201 IPC with a rigorous imprisonment of two years.

2. The brief facts of the case are that upon an incident which allegedly occurred on 21.8.1982 at around 7.30 to 8.00 PM, a First Information Report (henceforth called the "FIR") was lodged in that regard on 22.11.1982 at 7.05 AM. As per the FIR, the brother of the first informant namely Jagram, who was gambling with the accused persons Ram Babu and Kisna, was killed in the house of Ram Babu because the deceased Jagram had won in the gambling and Ram Babu and Kisna had asked for the return of their money. When Jagram had refused to return that money, then, it is alleged, the accused persons Ram Babu and Kisna had killed the deceased. It has been stated that Kisna had used an axe to kill the deceased while Ram Babu was responsible for throttling the deceased. As per the FIR, when Jagram shouted upon being attacked at 8.00 pm, then Laxman Singh and Mulayam Singh had seen the incident in the light of their torches. It has been stated in the FIR itself that the dead body of Jagram, after he was killed, was dragged by the assailants and taken to a well which was situated in the land of one Sri Dixit and that the assailants had thrown the dead body into the well.

3. The FIR was scribed by Mulayam Singh on the dictation of the first informant Takdeer Singh. Upon the FIR having been lodged, the police got into action and investigation commenced. The panchayatnama proceedings which commenced at around 11.15 am on 22.11.1982 states that the Constable Prem Shanker Shukla reached the spot and he after seeing the trail which had been created because of the pulling of the dead body by the accused towards the well had traced out the dead body. It has been stated that thereafter the panchayatnama was prepared and completed at 12.30 PM. The memo Ka-1 as was prepared by the investigating police had stated that they had only seen the torch of Mulayam Singh which had three cells in it. The police had also taken it into its custody. The police had also recovered a Sadari and Angochha (the clothes worn by the deceased) which were blood stained which were exhibited as Exhibit Ka-2. As per the Exhibit Ka-3 which was the memorandum prepared by the police, the plain soil and the blood stained soil were taken into custody. After the panchayatnama was completed, the dead body was sent for post mortem and the post mortem report was prepared on 23.11.1982. The investigation having got completed, the police submitted its report. Since the accused Kisna was absconding, charges were framed only viz.-a-viz. Ram Babu under section 302/201 IPC. When the accused pleaded not guilty, trial commenced.

4. The prosecution produced five witnesses in the Court.

5. PW-1 was the first informant Takdeer Singh. In his testimony before the Court, he has stated that Kashi Singh and Harmohan Singh had seen his brother Jagram gambling. It has been stated by the PW-1 that Kashi Singh and Harmohan

Singh in fact had asked his brother not gamble but neither did Jagram nor did the assailants Ram Babu and Kisna stop gambling. He has stated that when the sun set and it became dark, the three who were gambling, came out on the western side to gamble and when Jagram had won a substantial amount of money, then Ram Babu and Kisna asked him to return the money. When, however, Jagram refused to return the money then Kisna assailed him by an axe while Ram Babu had throttled the deceased. Upon being attacked when the deceased started shouting, then Laxman Singh and Mulayam Singh who were easing themselves in the open agricultural field saw the incident in the light of their torches. In the examination in chief, the PW-1 has stated that Kisna and Ram Babu had pulled the dead body down to the well and had thrown the dead body in there. PW-1 has stated that he was at his house and when he heard the shouting, then he had also reached the spot and over there Laxman Singh and Mulayam Singh had narrated the incident to him and had told that Kisna and Ram Babu had killed the brother of the PW-1. He has also stated that when the two eye-witnesses namely Laxman Singh and Mulayam Singh were following the accused persons, they heard a sound which clearly meant that the dead body had been thrown into the well. However, because of the fear of the accused persons, it has been stated in the examination in chief, the two eye-witnesses and the PW-1, did not go near the well. He has stated that the FIR was scribed by Mulayam Singh on his dictation and whatever he had told, was scribed by Mulayam Singh in the FIR. In the cross examination, he has stated that he had not seen the two accused persons and the deceased actually gambling. He has only stated that when he had reached the spot then Kisna and Ram Babu, the accused persons, had pulled the dead body of the deceased towards the well. He has also stated that when he had reached the place of incident then Mata Prasad, Jahar Singh, Mukat Singh, Ram Babu son of Kandhai, Vasdev and a few others had reached the place of incident. He has stated that they were all without any arms etc. He has also stated that the well was situate in the south-west of the village. The house of the accused Ram Babu was in the western direction of the village whereas the house of the first informant was in the northern direction. At the time of the incident, in the house of Ram Babu where gambling was going on, the wife of the accused Ram Babu, his two sisters and two younger brothers were also staying with him and at the time when the gambling was going on, they were all present in the house. He has emphatically stated that since he was not there at the place of incident, he had no knowledge of the entire incident. He has stated that on the next date at around 7.00 AM he had gone to the police station to lodge the report. He has also in the cross-examination, upon a question being asked as to whether he tried to search out the dead body of Jagram, he had categorically stated that he had not tried to search out the dead body. In fact, he has stated that he had not even gone near the well. He has stated that the entire FIR was scribed with the help of Mulayam Singh at his house. After the FIR was lodged, the police had come to the spot at around 8.00 AM and had got the dead body pulled out from the well. Upon a further question being asked as to whether the accused Ram Babu was into the business of crackers, he told that he was not aware. He has also categorically stated that for the first time, he saw the dead body when the same was pulled out from the well. He has very categorically stated that the well, situate in the land of Sri Dixit, was around 250 steps away from the agricultural fields of Mulayam Singh. He has also stated that Laxman Singh and Mulayam Singh were not his family.

6. PW-2 was Kashi Prasad son of Gyan Singh who had stated that he had seen the deceased and the two accused gambling in the room of Ram Babu. He has stated that he had not actually entered the place where gambling was going on but while passing through the house of Ram Babu, he had seen the three i.e. the deceased Jagram and the two accused were playing cards and he assumed that they were gambling.

7. PW-3 was the eye-witness Mulayam Singh. He is also the scribe of the first information report. He had stated that he was easing in the fields at around 8.00 PM and when he heard some noises from the southern side of the village, then with the help of his torch, he saw that the accused Ram Babu and Kisna were beating up Jagram. He had stated that Laxman Singh, the another eye-witness, was also near him. When the sounds were heard of beating etc., Laxman Singh had enquired as to what was going on and to this, the accused persons had threatened the two eye-witnesses with dire consequences. He has stated that he had seen the accused persons dragging the dead body towards the well. However, since it was night, they had gone to their houses. He has also stated that the FIR was written by him on the dictation of Takdeer Singh and had proved the FIR which was Exhibit Ka-1. In the cross-examination, he has stated that the FIR was written by him on the dictation of Takdeer Singh and whatever Takdeer Singh had dictated, he had written. He had also very categorically stated that in between the incident which had occurred and the lodging of the FIR, he had not talked to Takdeer Singh. He has, upon a question being asked as to whether both, he himself and Laxman Singh were easing themselves at a close distance, he had, at one point, stated that Laxman was easing himself in the fields of Ramdayal and then he had stated that in fact Laxman was easing himself in the fields of Santram Mishra and thereafter he had stated that he was around 4-6 steps away from him. He has stated that Laxman Singh had reached the fields to ease himself before he had gone. After they had eased themselves, they heard the sounds which were created because of the scuffle which was going on between the deceased and the accused persons. He has stated that the place of incident was around 30-40 steps away from the place where they were easing themselves. He has thereafter upon a question being asked as to whether he had seen the entire incident from where he was easing himself, he had replied that in fact he had not seen the incident from the place where he was easing. He further stated that when he had reached the place where Laxman Singh was easing himself, then from there he had seen the incident which was around 25 steps away from the place of incident. He has again stated that he had not brought the torch which he was using on that date. He has also stated that the axe was being used by Kisna whereas the other accused Ram Babu had actually throttled the deceased to death.

8. PW-4 is the eye-witness, Laxman Singh and he, in his examination-in-chief, has stated that he had known Ram Babu, the accused, from before. He has also stated the same story with regard to the fact that he had seen the incident from a distance while he had gone to ease himself in the late hours of 21.11.1982. He has stated that in fact he had seen Kisna assailing the deceased by an axe and Ram Babu throttling the deceased to death and he had also stated in his examination-in-chief that the accused persons were making it clear that if anybody went near them then they would also be done to death. He has stated that he had also seen the accused persons dragging the dead-body of Jagram. He has also stated that when a hue and cry was raised by the eye-witnesses then Rajendra, Takdeer Singh, Bhagirath, Samrath Singh and a few others had also reached the place of incident. He has stated that he had himself told about the entire incident to the first informant, Takdeer Singh. He has also stated that when they had followed the accused persons then they had heard something been thrown into the well and thereafter they had stopped the pursuit of apprehending the accused persons. In the cross-examination, he has stood affirm with what he had stated in the examination-in-chief. When a question was being asked as to whether there was any enmity between the PW-3 and the deceased because of some business of crackers etc., then he had denied the same. He has stated that his torch had got damaged and, therefore, he had not brought it. He had also stated that when the dead-body was being dragged towards the well, he himself alongwith 10-15 people had followed the accused persons. After they had tried to follow the accused for around a furlong, they had dropped the idea as it was a dark night. He has also stated that the well was around two furlong away from the agricultural fields of Mulayam Singh.

9. PW-5 Kailash Nath Tiwari was the Investigating Officer who had scribed the chick and had also proven the same.

10. Thereafter, the statement of the accused, Ram Babu was recorded under Section 313 Cr.P.C. and he had denied that he was not responsible for the crime.

11. Upon the conclusion of the trial, when the Sessions Judge, Jalaun at Orai on 23.05.1983 convicted the accused Ram Babu under Section 302 read with Section 201 IPC and punished the appellant under Section 302 IPC with life imprisonment and under Section 201 IPC with a rigorous imprisonment of two years, the instant Criminal Appeal was filed.

12. Sri Rajiv Nayan Singh, who was appointed as an Amicus Curiae to argue the case on behalf of the appellant, has argued that the appellant Ram Babu was innocent. He has made the following submissions :-

(i) Learned Amicus Curiae has submitted that the FIR was an ante-dated one. He has submitted that in the FIR itself the first informant had made a statement that the dead-body was thrown into the well and this he had stated on the information being given by Mulayam Singh and Laxman Singh. However, learned Amicus Curiae has drawn the attention of the Court to the Panchayatnama which is annexed at page no. 30 of the paper book and he has read out the statements made in the Panchayatnama that the Constable Prem Shankar Shukla had come to the spot and he upon tracking down till the well with the help of the marks which were made on the ground because of the dragging of the dead body, had found out the body. Learned Amicus Curiae, therefore, states that it was for the first time that the dead-body was traced out i.e. when the Police Official Prem Shankar Shukla had come to the village. Learned Amicus Curiae states that wrongly in the FIR, it had been stated that the first informant was aware of the fact that the dead-body had been dragged down from the place of incident to the well. Learned Amicus Curiae states that it was for the first time, the prosecution had got information as to where exactly the body was lie when the Police had come and had tracked down the dead body with the help of the marking which was there on the ground which started from the alleged place of incident and ended at the well and, therefore, learned counsel for the appellant states that it was impossible for the first informant to have known at the alleged time of lodging the FIR that he had known about the fact that the dead-body was thrown into the well. Had the FIR been in existence then the Police which had come on 22.11.1982 after the lodging of the FIR at 07:05 AM, would not have endeavoured to search out the dead-body. They would have, as per the first informant, immediately reached the well which was situate in the fields of Sri Dixit and would have found out the dead-body. Learned Amicus Curiae further states that if the FIR was being scribed on the dictation of the first informant Takdeer Singh by Mulayam Singh, then the language as was there in the FIR would have been slightly different. In the FIR, the eye-witness Mulayam Singh who himself had scribed the FIR, would not have contained such averments which were being known for the first time by the eye-witness Mulayam Singh.

(ii) Learned Amicus Curiae further states that Mulayam Singh who was an educated person and had known about the incident on the night of 21.11.1982, would not have waited till the next day for the brother of the deceased to have got the FIR lodged. He would himself have reached the Police Station and would have lodged the FIR.

(iii) Learned Amicus Curiae further states that no material relating to the incident was at all found. The torch was nowhere to be seen. The playing cards, which allegedly were being used for gambling, were also not recovered.

(iv) Learned Amicus Curiae has thereafter stated that the PW-3 and PW-4 were also not the eye-witnesses. They were only chance witnesses. To bolster his case, learned Amicus Curiae has stated that a chance witness is such a witness who is only planted by the prosecution to prove a point. In the instant case, if the eye-witnesses had been there on the spot and had they seen the incident, as they had narrated in the statement-in-chief before the trial Court, then they would themselves have taken action upon seeing the murder having taken place in the village but since they had actually not seen the incident, they were planted by the prosecution to only prove the point that the implicated persons had actually committed the murder. Learned Amicus Curiae relied upon a decision of the Supreme Court in (2023) 2 SCC 352 : Manoj and Ors. vs. State of U.P. and has submitted that a chance witness cannot be taken to be a reliable witness and, therefore, the testimony of a chance witness could not be in any manner used to convict the accused. Learned counsel for the appellant states that as per the law laid down by the Supreme Court a testimony of a chance witness should be utilised by the prosecution very cautiously. He submits that the evidence of the chance witness requires a very cautious and strict scrutiny and if there was any slackness in the explanation about the presence of the chance witness at the place of incident then his deposition ought to be rejected. Since learned counsel for the appellant relied heavily on paragraphs 102, 103 and 104 of the judgment reported in (2003) 2 SCC 353 : Manoj & Ors. vs. State of Madhya Pradesh, the same are being reproduced here as under :-

"102. A chance witness is one, who appears on the scene suddenly. This species of witness was described in Puran v. State of Punjab (AIR 1953 SC 459), in the following terms:

"Such witnesses have the habit of appearing suddenly on the scene when something is happening and then of disappearing after noticing the occurrence about which they are called later on to give evidence."

103. This court has sounded a note of caution about dealing with the testimony of chance witnesses. In Darya Singh v. State of Punjab (AIR 1965 SC 328), it was observed that:

"...where the witness is a close relation of the victim and is shown to share the victim's hostility to his assailant, that naturally makes it necessary for the criminal courts examine the evidence given by such witness very carefully and scrutinise all the infirmities in that evidence before deciding to act upon it. In dealing with such evidence, Courts naturally begin with the enquiry as to whether the said witnesses were chance witnesses or whether they were really present on the scene of the offence.....If the criminal Court is satisfied that the witness who is related to the victim was not a chance-witness, then his evidence has to be examined from the point of view of probabilities and the account given by him as to the assault has to be carefully scrutinised."

104. In Jarnail Singh v. State of Punjab [(2009) 9 SCC 719] again, this Court held that:

"22. The evidence of a chance witness requires a very cautious and close scrutiny and a chance witness must adequately explain his presence at the place of occurrence (Satbir v. Surat Singh (1997) 4 SCC 192 30, Harjinder Singh v. State of Punjab (2004) 11 SCC 253, Acharaparambath Pradeepan and Anr. v. State of Kerala (2006) 13 SCC 643 and Sarvesh Narain Shukla v. Daroga Singh (2007) 13 SCC 360). Deposition of a chance witness whose presence at the place of incident remains doubtful should be discarded (vide Shankarlal v. State of Rajasthan (2004) 10 SCC 632)."

Since the learned counsel for the appellant also relied upon paragraphs 22 to 24 of the judgment reported in (2016) 16 SCC 418 : Harbeer Singh vs. Sheeshpal & Ors., the same are being reproduced here as under :-

"22. The High Court has further noted that there were chance witnesses whose statements should not have been relied upon. Learned counsel for the respondents has specifically submitted that PW5 and PW6 are chance witnesses whose presence at the place of occurrence was not natural.

23. The defining attributes of a "chance witness" were explained by Mahajan, J., in Puran v. State of Punjab, AIR 1953 SC 459. It was held that such witnesses have the habit of appearing suddenly on the scene when something is happening and then disappearing after noticing the occurrence about which they are called later on to give evidence.

24. In Mousam Singha Roy v. State of W.B., (2003) 12 SCC 377, this Court discarded the evidence of chance witnesses while observing that certain glaring contradictions/omissions in the evidence of PW 2 and PW 3 and the absence of their names in the FIR has been very lightly discarded by the courts below. Similarly, Shankarlal v. State of Rajasthan, (2004) 10 SCC 632 and Jarnail Singh v. State of Punjab, (2009) 9 SCC 719, are authorities for the proposition that deposition of a chance witness, whose presence at the place of incident remains doubtful, ought to be discarded. Therefore, for the reasons recorded by the High Court we hold that PW5 and PW6 were chance witnesses and their statements have been rightly discarded."

Similarly, paragraphs 20 to 23 of the judgment of the Supreme Court in Jarnail Singh & ors. vs. State of Punjab reported in (2009) 9 SCC 719 are also being reproduced here as under :-

"20. After considering the oral as well as documentary evidence on record, the High Court came to the conclusion that the statement of Gurcharan Singh (PW-18) in respect of the fact of hatching of a conspiracy by Balbir Singh and Gurdip Singh, at the Bus-stand Bassi Pathana on 21-6-2000 at 7.30/8.00 p.m. was not worthy of credence. Gurcharan Singh (PW-18), a chance witness could not explain under what circumstances he was present at the bus-stand at the said time.

21. In Sachchey Lal Tiwari v. State of U.P. (2004) 11 SCC 410, this Court while considering the evidentiary value of the chance witness in a case of murder which had taken place in a street and passerby had deposed that he had witnessed the incident, observed as under:

"If the offence is committed in a street only a passer-by will be the witness. His evidence cannot be brushed aside lightly or viewed with suspicion on the ground that he was a mere chance witness. However, there must be an explanation for his presence there."

The Court further explained that the expression "chance witness" is borrowed from countries where every man's home is considered his castle and everyone must have an explanation for his presence elsewhere or in another man's castle. It is quite unsuitable an expression in a country like India where people are less formal and more casual, at any rate in the matter of explaining their presence.

22. The evidence of a chance witness requires a very cautious and close scrutiny and a chance witness must adequately explain his presence at the place of occurrence (Satbir v. Surat Singh (1997) 4 SCC 192; Harjinder Singh v. State of Punjab (2004) 11 SCC 253; Acharaparambath Pradeepan & Anr. v. State of Kerala (2006) 13 SCC 643; and Sarvesh Narain Shukla v. Daroga Singh and Ors. (2007) 13 SCC 360). Deposition of a chance witness whose presence at the place of incident remains doubtful should be discarded (vide Shankarlal v. State of Rajasthan (2004) 10 SCC 632).

23. Conduct of the chance witness, subsequent to the incident may also be taken into consideration particularly as to whether he has informed anyone else in the village about the incident. (vide Thangaiya v. State of Tamil Nadu (2005) 9 SCC 650). Gurcharan Singh (PW-18) met the informant Darshan Singh (PW-4) before lodging the FIR and the fact of conspiracy was not disclosed by Gurcharan Singh (PW-18) and Darshan Singh (PW-4). The fact of conspiracy has not been mentioned in the FIR. Hakam Singh, the other witness on this issue has not been examined by the prosecution. Thus, the High Court was justified in discarding the part of the prosecution case relating to conspiracy. However, in the fact situation of the present case, acquittal of the said two co-accused has no bearing, so far as the present appeal is concerned."

Paragraph 10 of the judgment reported in 1976 Criminal L.J. 1568 : Bahal Singh vs. State of Haryana is also being reproduced here as under :-

"10. As to the presence of P. Ws. 4 and 5 at the time and place of occurrence the trial Court entertained grave doubts. If by coincidence or chance a person happens to be at the place of occurrence at the time it is taking place, he is called a chance witness. And if such a person happens to be a relative or friend of the victim or inimically disposed towards the accused then his being a chance witness is viewed with suspicion. Such a piece of evidence is not necessarily incredible or unbelievable but does require cautious and close scrutiny. In the instant case, P.Ws. 4 & 5 were agnatic relations of the deceased-one of them a close one. The reason given by them for being at the place of occurrence did not appear to be true to the trial Court. There was not any compelling or sufficient reason for the High Court to differ from the evaluation of the evidence of the two chance witnesses. It may well be as remarked by the High Court that the respondent was also their collateral but they appeared to be partisan witnesses on the side of the prosecution and hence their testimony was viewed with suspicion by the trial Judge."

13. Sri Amit Sinha, learned Additional Government Advocate has, however, supported the judgment of the trial court and submitted that the case was that of a direct evidence based on the eye-witness account of PW-3 and PW-4 and the eye-witness account could not be done away lightly.

14. Having heard Sri Rajiv Nayan Singh, learned Amicus Curiae and Sri Amit Sinha, learned Additional Government Advocate, we find upon the assessment of all the evidence that definitely the FIR was an ante-timed FIR. Had the prosecution known about the fact that the dead-body had been dragged from the spot 'B' and 'C', as had been given in the site plan, to the village well marked as point 'F' which was around 440 yards (two furlongs) away, then there was absolutely no requirement for the Investigating Police to have come to the spot after the FIR was lodged and thereafter searched for the dead-body as had been stated in the inquest report. Further we are of the view that had the incident which has been narrated in the FIR been definitely witnessed by the eye-witnesses, then the FIR itself would have been lodged only under Section 302 IPC and there would not have been any doubt with regard to the fact as to where the dead-body had been thrown and, therefore, the FIR would not have been lodged under Section 201 IPC.

15. In the instant case, we do not hesitate to conclude that till such time as the Police had come, it was not known to anyone as to where the dead-body was and after the investigation had taken place and Police had recovered the dead-body, the FIR was lodged and, thereafter, pursuant to a definite conference between the first informant and the Police, the accused appellant was named in the FIR. It is just possible that there was some dispute with regard to some accounting with regard to the cracker business which was being done by the deceased and therefore, the first informant and the two eye-witnesses namely Laxman Singh and Mulayam Singh had ganged together to implicate the appellant in the instant case. We are definitely of the view that when all the eye-witnesses were mentioning that quite a few people of the village had collected at the place of incident and in fact PW-1 had taken the names of Mata Prasad, Jahar Singh, Mukut Singh, Ram Babu Singh S/o Kandhai, Vasdev and other villagers and PW-4 had taken the names of Rajendra, Takdeer Singh, Bhagirath, Samrath Singh but none of these villagers who were as per PW-1 and PW-4, eye-witnesses present had come to the witness box. We do find that Mulayam Singh, Laxman Singh and the first informant though were not of the same family but definitely were close to each other and, therefore, they had ganged together to implicate the accused, Ram Babu. Further, we are of the view that when the investigation was being done and it was alleged that gambling was done with the help of playing cards then at least an effort ought to have been made to recover the playing cards and to keep them in police custody. Neither the playing cards had been taken into custody nor any of the torches in the light of which the incident was seen, were taken into custody.

16. We are definitely, therefore, of the view that there are any number of lapses in the prosecution story and the prosecution case thus becomes doubtful. Also, we find that nowhere was the currency etc., which it was alleged was won in the gambling by the deceased, recovered.

17. Under such circumstances, the charges as were framed against the accused appellant were not proved beyond reasonable doubt and, therefore, the accused cannot be held guilty and, therefore, we acquit him of all the charges levelled against him.

18. The appeal therefore, stands allowed. The impugned judgment and order dated 23.05.1983 passed by the Sessions Judge, Jalaun at Orai is set-aside. The appellant, Ram Babu, is on bail. He need not surrender. The sureties and the bail bonds are discharged.

19. We do appreciate the hard work done by the learned Amicus Curiae Sri Rajiv Nayan Singh and provide that he would be paid a fee of Rs.25,000/- by the High Court Legal Services Authority. The Registrar General of this Court to see that this order for the payment of the fee to the learned Amicus Curiae is complied with.

procedure but it cannot be taken away.(Para -19,40)

(B) The Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 - Section 167(2) – Right of default bail - If the right of default bail has been availed by an accused by moving a bail application and the period of 90 days has expired and is not extended further and even if the said bail application has not been disposed by the court and remained pending for a long time and the litigation travels to the higher forum and in between charge-sheet has been filed by the investigation agency within the statutory time, the right of the accused to be released on default bail will not be extinguished or defeated. (Para - 23)

Appellant arrested on March 3, 2023 various IPC, UAPA, and IT Act sections - remanded to judicial custody on March 6, 2023 - Investigation custodial remand was granted from April 2-4, 2023 - subsequent judicial custody remands until June 2, 2023 - Despite 90 days of custody expiring on June 1, 2023, the investigating agency sought and received an extension under Section 43-D(2) of the UAPA - appellant filed a default bail application on June 2, 2023 - rejected on June 26, 2023 - charge sheet was eventually filed on July 20, 2023, within the extended 180-day period – subsequent filing of the charge sheet nullified his right to bail - hence appeal challenging the rejection of default bail application.(Para - 2 to 8)

HELD: - Subsequent extension of time of investigation after 02.06.2023 or filing of charge-sheet on 30.07.2023 may not cure, suppress, vitiate or extinguish the right of the appellant/accused, to be released on default bail, which had already accrued in favour of the appellant in the midnight of 01/02.06.2023 when the same has also been acted upon/availed by the appellant by filing a default bail application on 02.06.2023. Special Court committed material illegality in rejecting the default bail application. Appellant entitled to default bail. (Para -31 to 34)

Appeal allowed. (E-7)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Mohd. Faiz Alam Khan, J.)

(1) Heard Shri Sheeran Mohiuddin Alavi & Shri Harsh Vardhan Kediya, learned counsels appearing for the appellant and Shri Shiv Nath Tilhari, learned Additional Government Advocate for respondents and perused the record.

(2) The instant criminal appeal under Section 21(4) of the N.I.A. Act, 2008 has been filed by the appellant- Kamal K.P. against the impugned order dated 26.06.2023 passed by the Additional District and Sessions Judge-5/Special Judge, NIA/ATS, Lucknow, in Bail Application No. 5048 of 2023, arising out of Case Crime No. 199 of 2020, under Sections 153-A, 295-A, 124-A, 120-B I.P.C. & Section 17 and 18 of the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act, 1967 [here-in-after referred to as 'UAPA' and Section 65 & 72 of the I.T. (Amendment) Act, 2008, Police Station Manth, District Mathura, Uttar Pradesh, whereby his application for default bail moved under Section 167(2) of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 (hereafter referred as 'Cr.P.C.') read with Section 43-D(2) of the UAPA has been rejected.

(3) Learned counsel for the appellant submits that appellant was arrested on 03.03.2023 and was produced before the learned Magistrate at Kerala on 04.03.2023 whereon his transit remand was granted and thereafter he was produced before the Special Judge, (NIA/ATS), at Lucknow on 06.03.2023 and was remanded to judicial custody for 14 days.

(4) It is further submitted that appellant was also taken on Police Custody Remand (P.C.R.) for three days from 02.04.2023 to 04.04.2023 where after he was again remanded to judicial custody.

(5) It is further submitted that the investigation of the case remained pending even after completion of 90 days and in this regard the appellant preferred an application under Section 167 (2) Cr.P.C. on 02.06.2023 for his release on statutory bail and the same was fixed for 05.06.2023 and the same was ultimately rejected vide impugned order dated 26.06.2023 on the ground that the period of investigation has already been extended by means of order dated 05.06.2023 and the charge-sheet has already been filed within 180 days of first remand of the appellant.

(6) It is vehemently submitted that the reasoning given by the Special Court in rejecting the prayer of default bail of the appellant is not tenable in the eyes of law as the period of investigation was extended on 05.06.2023 after expiry of 90 days while the application under Section 167 (2) Cr.P.C. for grant of default bail had already been moved on 02.06.2023, thus an indefeasible right had accrued in favour of appellant, which could not be defeated by filing the charge- sheet subsequently.

(7) It is further submitted that the Special Court has committed manifest illegality in rejecting the default bail application of the appellant as the appellant had become entitled to the default bail when the period of extension of investigation period was extended only on 05.06.2023 while the same had expired in the midnight of 01/02.06.2023.

(8) It is further submitted that since an indefeasible right to be released on bail had accrued in favour of the appellant by non-filing of charge-sheet by the Investigating Agency within 90 days and as the period of 90 days had expired on 02.06.2023 and the period of extension of investigation has been enlarged on 05.06.2023 and the application for statutory bail was moved on 02.06.2023, the appellant should have been released on default bail and, thus, the Special Court has committed patent illegality in rejecting the bail application of applicant, therefore, the impugned order passed by the Special Court is required to be set-aside and the appellant is entitled to be released on default bail.

(9) Learned counsel for the appellant has relied on the following case laws:-

(i) Enforcement Directorate, Government of India Vs. Kapil Wadhwan and Another reported in 2023 SCC OnLine SC 972

(ii) Gautam Navlakha Vs. National Investigation Agency reported in (2022) 13 SCC 542; and

(iii) Judgebir Singh alias Jasbir Singh Samra alias Jasbir and others Vs. National Investigating Agency reported in 2023 SCC Online SC 543

(10) Shri S. N. Tilhari, learned A.G.A. relying on the short counter affidavit as well as the supplementary counter affidavit filed by the State vehemently opposes the prayer of default bail of the appellant and submits that the appellant was arrested on 03.03.2023 from Malappuram, Police Station Melattur, Kerala in connection with this case and by producing him before the local Magistrate, a transit remand was obtained on 04.03.2023 and on 06.03.2023 the appellant was again produced before the Special Judge, (NIA/ATS), Lucknow and his judicial custody remand was allowed for 14 days and which was subsequently extended vide order 20.03.2023 till 03.04.2023.

(11) It is further submitted that on 31.03.2023 an application was filed for taking the accused on Police Custody Remand which was allowed from 02.04.2023 to 04.04.2023 and vide order dated 04.04.2023 remand was further allowed till 03.05.2023.

(12) It is also submitted that vide order dated 03.05.2023 the judicial remand of the appellant was further allowed till 17.05.2023 and the same was again extended to 02.06.2023 vide order dated 17.05.2023.

(13) It is vehemently submitted that before expiring of 90 days' time i.e. on 01.06.2023 Public Prosecutor had moved an application before the learned Special Judge, (NIA/ATS), Lucknow for extension of time of investigation from 90 days to 180 days, as provided under Section 43-D(2) of the UAPA and vide order dated 01.06.2023 the application was directed to be listed on 02.06.2023 and the appellant/accused was summoned from District Jail and on 02.06.2023 the remand period was extended till 05.06.2023. The Public Prosecutor filed another application before the Special Court on 05.06.2023 for extension of time for investigation for further 60 days and vide order dated 05.06.2023 the period of investigation was extended for 50 more days and the remand of the appellant was granted up to 03.07.2023 and vide order dated 03.07.2023 the remand was further allowed till 20.07.2023 and ultimately the charge-sheet against the appellant/accused was filed on 20.07.2023 i.e. within 180 days, as provided under Section 43-D(2) of the U.A.P.A. Thus, it is submitted that the extension of time to complete investigation was extended by the Special Court within 90 days i.e. on 02.06.2023 and 05.06.2023 and charge-sheet has also been filed within 180 days of the first remand of the appellant and, therefore, no indefeasible right for release on default bail had ever occurred in favour of the appellant/accused. Thus, it is submitted that there is no illegality in the order passed by the Special Court and appeal is liable to be dismissed.

(14) Having heard learned counsel for the parties and having perused the record it appears to be appropriate that before considering the rival submissions of the learned counsels for the parties, it will be useful to look into the relevant statutory provisions and legal precedents pertaining to the matter in issue.

(15) Section 167(2) of Code of 1973 which is relevant for the disposal of present case, existing as of now is being reproduced as under:

"167(2). The Magistrate to whom an Accused person is forwarded under this Section may, whether he has or has not jurisdiction to try the case, from time to time, authorise the detention of the Accused in such custody as such Magistrate thinks fit, for a term not exceeding fifteen days in the whole; and if he has no jurisdiction to try the case or commit it for trial, and considers further detention unnecessary, he may order the Accused to be forwarded to a Magistrate having such jurisdiction:

Provided that,-

(a) the Magistrate may authorise the detention of the Accused person, otherwise than in the custody of the police, beyond the period of fifteen days, if he is satisfied that adequate grounds exist for doing so, but no Magistrate shall authorise the detention of the Accused person in custody under this paragraph for a total period exceeding,-

(i) ninety days, where the investigation relates to an offence punishable with death, imprisonment for life or imprisonment for a term of not less than ten years;

(ii) sixty days, where the investigation relates to any other offence, and, on the expiry of the said period of ninety days, or sixty days, as the case may be, the Accused person shall be released on bail if he is prepared to and does furnish bail, and every person released on bail under this Sub-section shall be deemed to be so released under the provisions of Chapter XXXIII for the purposes of that Chapter;

(b) no Magistrate shall authorise detention of the Accused in custody of the police under this Section unless the Accused is produced before him in person for the first time and subsequently every time till the Accused remains in the custody of the police, but the Magistrate may extend further detention in judicial custody on production of the Accused either in person or through the medium of electronic video linkage;

(c) no Magistrate of the second class, not specially empowered in this behalf by the High Court, shall authorise detention in the custody of the police."

(16) Section 43-D of the UAPA operates as a special provision vis-a-vis the applicability of rights granted Under Section 167(2)(a) of the Code of Criminal Procedure. Section 43D is also reproduced here-in-below:

"43D. Modified application of certain provisions of the Code.-(1) Notwithstanding anything contained in the Code or any other law, every offence punishable under this Act shall be deemed to be a cognizable offence within the meaning of Clause (c) of Section 2 of the Code, and "cognizable case" as defined in that Clause shall be construed accordingly.

(2) Section 167 of the Code shall apply in relation to a case involving an offence punishable under this Act subject to the modification that in Sub-section (2),-

(a) the references to "fifteen days", "ninety days" and "sixty days", wherever they occur, shall be construed as references to "thirty days", "ninety days" and "ninety days" respectively; and

(b) after the proviso, the following provisos shall be inserted, namely:

Provided further that if it is not possible to complete the investigation within the said period of ninety days, the Court may if it is satisfied with the report of the Public Prosecutor indicating the progress of the investigation and the specific reasons for the detention of the Accused beyond the said period of ninety days, extend the said period up to one hundred and eighty days:

Provided also that if the police officer making the investigation under this Act, requests, for the purposes of investigation, for police custody from judicial custody of any person in judicial custody, he shall file an affidavit stating the reasons for doing so and shall also explain the delay, if any, for requesting such police custody.

(3) Section 268 of the Code shall apply in relation to a case involving an offence punishable under this Act subject to the modification that-

(a) the reference in Sub-section (1) thereof

(i) to "the State Government" shall be construed as a reference to "the Central Government or the State Government.";

(ii) to "order of the State Government" shall be construed as a reference to "order of the Central Government or the State Government, as the case may be"; and

(b) the reference in Sub-section (2) thereof, to "the State Government" shall be construed as a reference to "the Central Government or the State Government, as the case may be".

(4) Nothing in Section 438 of the Code shall apply in relation to any case involving the arrest of any person Accused of having committed an offence punishable under this Act.

(5) Notwithstanding anything contained in the Code, no person Accused of an offence punishable under Chapters IV and VI of this Act shall, if in custody, be released on bail or on his own bond unless the Public Prosecutor has been given an opportunity of being heard on the application for such release:

Provided that such Accused person shall not be released on bail or on his own bond if the Court, on a perusal of the case diary or the report made Under Section 173 of the Code is of the opinion that there are reasonable grounds for believing that the accusation against such person is prima facie true.

(6) The restrictions on granting of bail specified in Sub-section (5) is in addition to the restrictions under the Code or any other law for the time being in force on granting of bail.

(7) Notwithstanding anything contained in Sub-sections (5) and (6), no bail shall be granted to a person Accused of an offence punishable under this Act, if he is not an Indian citizen and has entered the country unauthorisedly or illegally except in very exceptional circumstances and for reasons to be recorded in writing."

(17) Hon'ble Supreme Court in Judgebir Singh and Ors. vs. National Investigation Agency, MANU/SC/0501/2023, explained the law with regard to section 167 CrPc in following words:-

"A three-Judge Bench of this Court in Uday Mohanlal Acharya v. State of Maharashtra reported in MANU/SC/0222/2001 : (2001) 5 SCC 453, has noticed the object of enacting the provisions of Section 167 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. Section 57 of the Code of Criminal Procedure contains the embargo on the police officers to detain in custody, a person arrested beyond 24 hours. The object is that the Accused should be brought before a Magistrate without delay within 24 hours, which provision is, in fact, in consonance with the constitutional mandate engrafted Under Article 22(2) of the Constitution. The provision of Section 167 is supplementary to Section 57. The power Under Section 167 is given to detain a person in custody while police goes on with the investigation. Section 167 is, therefore, a provision which authorises the Magistrate permitting the detention of the Accused in custody prescribing the maximum period. In Uday Mohanlal Acharya (supra) this Court while dealing with Section 167 laid down the following:

5. ...This provision of Section 167 is in fact supplementary to Section 57, in consonance with the principle that the Accused is entitled to demand that justice is not delayed. The object of requiring the Accused to be produced before a Magistrate is to enable the Magistrate to see that remand is necessary and also to enable the Accused to make a representation which he may wish to make. The power Under Section 167 is given to detain a person in custody while the police goes on with the investigation and before the Magistrate starts the enquiry. Section 167, therefore, is the provision which authorises the Magistrate permitting detention of an Accused in custody and prescribing the maximum period for which such detention could be ordered. Having prescribed the maximum period, as stated above, what would be the consequences thereafter has been indicated in the proviso to Sub-section (2) of Section 167. The proviso is unambiguous and clear and stipulates that the Accused shall be released on bail if he is prepared to and does furnish the bail which has been termed by judicial pronouncement to be "compulsive bail" and such bail would be deemed to be a bail under Chapter 33. The right of an Accused to be released on bail after expiry of the maximum period of detention provided Under Section 167 can be denied only when an Accused does not furnish bail, as is apparent from Explanation I to the said section. The proviso to Sub-section (2) of Section 167 is a beneficial provision for curing the mischief of indefinitely prolonging the investigation and thereby affecting the liberty of a citizen....

29. Again, there has been a very detailed consideration of Section 167 by a three-Judge Bench of this Court in Rakesh Kumar Paul v. State of Assam, reported in MANU/SC/0993/2017 : (2017) 15 SCC 67. This Court in the above case has traced the legislative history of the provision of Section 167. This Court in the above case emphasised that the debate on Section 167 must also be looked at from the perspective of expeditious conclusion of investigation and from the angle of personal liberty. This Court also held that the right of default bail is an indefeasible right which cannot be allowed to be frustrated by the prosecution. Following was laid down in paras 37, 38 and 39:

37. This Court had occasion to review the entire case law on the subject in Union of India v. Nirala Yadav [Union of India v. Nirala Yadav, MANU/SC/0580/2014 : (2014) 9 SCC 457: (2014) 5 SCC (Cri) 212]. In that decision, reference was made to Uday Mohanlal Acharya v. State of Maharashtra [Uday Mohanlal Acharya v. State of Maharashtra, MANU/SC/0222/2001 : (2001) 5 SCC 453: 2001 SCC (Cri) 760] and the conclusions arrived at in that decision. We are concerned with Conclusion (3) which reads as follows: (Uday Mohanlal Acharya case [Uday Mohanlal Acharya v. State of Maharashtra, MANU/SC/0222/2001 :]

13. ... (3) On the expiry of the said period of 90 days or 60 days, as the case may be, an indefeasible right accrues in favour of the Accused for being released on bail on account of default by the investigating agency in the completion of the investigation within the period prescribed and the Accused is entitled to be released on bail, if he is prepared to and furnishes the bail as directed by the Magistrate.

38. This Court also dealt with the decision rendered in Sanjay Dutt [Sanjay Dutt v. State, MANU/SC/0554/1994 : (1994) 5 SCC 410: 1994 SCC (Cri) 1433] and noted that the principle laid down by the Constitution Bench is to the effect that if the charge-sheet is not filed and the right for "default bail" has ripened into the status of indefeasibility, it cannot be frustrated by the prosecution on any pretext. The Accused can avail his liberty by filing an application stating that the statutory period for filing the charge-sheet or challan has expired and the same has not yet been filed and therefore the indefeasible right has accrued in his or her favour and further the Accused is prepared to furnish the bail bond.

39. This Court also noted that apart from the possibility of the prosecution frustrating the indefeasible right, there are occasions when even the court frustrates the indefeasible right. Reference was made to Mohd. Iqbal Madar Sheikh v. State of Maharashtra [Mohd. Iqbal Madar Sheikh v. State of Maharashtra, MANU/SC/1045/1996 : (1996) 1 SCC 722: 1996 SCC (Cri) 202] wherein it was observed that some courts keep the application for "default bail" pending for some days so that in the meantime a charge-sheet is submitted.

While such a practice both on the part of the prosecution as well as some courts must be very strongly and vehemently discouraged, we reiterate that no subterfuge should be resorted to, to defeat the indefeasible right of the Accused for "default bail" during the interregnum when the statutory period for filing the charge-sheet or challan expires and the submission of the charge-sheet or challan in court.

30. One more judgment of this Court on Section 167 of the Code of Criminal Procedure be noticed i.e., Achpal alias Ramswaroop and Anr. v. State of Rajasthan, reported in MANU/SC/1035/2018 : (2019) 14 SCC 599. After referring to several earlier judgments of this Court including the judgments of this Court in Uday Mohanlal Acharya (supra) and Rakesh Kumar Paul (supra), this Court had laid down that the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure do not empower anyone to extend the period within which the investigation must be completed. This Court held that no court either directly or indirectly can extend such period. Following are the observations of this Court in para 20 of Achpal (supra):

20. We now turn to the subsidiary issue, namely, whether the High Court could have extended the period. The provisions of the Code do not empower anyone to extend the period within which the investigation must be completed nor does it admit of any such eventuality. There are enactments such as the Terrorist and Disruptive Activities (Prevention) Act, 1985 and the Maharashtra Control of Organised Crime Act, 1999 which clearly contemplate extension of period and to that extent those enactments have modified the provisions of the Code including Section 167. In the absence of any such similar provision empowering the Court to extend the period, no court could either directly or indirectly extend such period. In any event of the matter all that the High Court had recorded in its order dated 3-7-2018 [Mahaveer v. State of Rajasthan, MANU/RH/0391/2018] was the submission that the investigation would be completed within two months by a gazetted police officer. The order does not indicate that it was brought to the notice of the High Court that the period for completing the investigation was coming to an end. Mere recording of submission of the Public Prosecutor could not be taken to be an order granting extension. We thus reject the submissions in that behalf advanced by the learned Counsel for the State and the complainant.

31. The scheme of the Code of Criminal Procedure as noticed above clearly delineates that the provisions of Section 167 of the Code of Criminal Procedure give due regard to the personal liberty of a person. Without submission of chargesheet within 60 days or 90 days as may be applicable, an Accused cannot be detained by the police. The provision gives due recognition to the personal liberty. However, as explained by this Court in Dinesh Dalmia v. CBI reported in MANU/SC/7924/2007 : (2007) 8 SCC 770, such a right of default bail although a valuable right, yet the same is a conditional one, the condition precedent being pendency of the investigation. Therefore, once the investigation is complete with the filing of the police report, containing the details specified Under Section 173(2) of the Code of Criminal Procedure, the question of a claim or grant for default bail does not arise."

(18) Thus, a plain reading of the above mentioned provisions makes it clear that the benefit of default bail shall be available to the accused for the offences alleged to have been committed under the UAPA also where the investigation has not concluded within 90 days of arrest of the accused irrespective of the punishment of the offences alleged to have been committed by him, unless the period has been extended within or upto maximum period of 180 days to complete the investigation on or before the due date following due procedure under the Statute.

(19) In Central Bureau of Investigation vs. Kapil Wadhawan and Ors., MANU/SC/0058/2024, though the Apex Court found the accused person not entitled for default bail by holding that once the charge-sheet has been filed, the question of grant of bail has to be considered and decided only with reference to the merits of the case under the provisions relating to grant of bail to the accused after the filing of the charge-sheet, but also highlighted that the right of default bail under Section 167(2) of CrPC is not only a statutory right but is a right that flows from Article 21 of the Constitution of India. It is an indefeasible right, nonetheless it is enforceable only prior to the filing of the challan or the charge-sheet, and does not survive or remain enforceable on the challan being filed, if already not availed of, in following words:-

"15. There cannot be any disagreement with the well settled legal position that the right of default bail Under Section 167(2) Code of Criminal Procedure is not only a statutory right but is a right that flows from Article 21 of the Constitution of India. It is an indefeasible right, nonetheless it is enforceable only prior to the filing of the challan or the chargesheet, and does not survive or remain enforceable on the challan being filed, if already not availed of. Once the challan has been filed, the question of grant of bail has to be considered and decided only with reference to the merits of the case under the provisions relating to grant of bail to the Accused after the filing of the challan. The Constitution Bench in Sanjay Dutt v. State through CBI, Bombay (II) MANU/SC/0554/1994 : (1994) 5 SCC 410, while considering the provisions of Section 20(4)(bb) of the Terrorist and Disruptive Activities (Prevention) Act, 1987 read with Section 167(2) Code of Criminal Procedure had very pertinently held that:

48. We have no doubt that the common stance before us of the nature of indefeasible right of the Accused to be released on bail by virtue of Section 20(4)(bb) is based on a correct reading of the principle indicated in that decision. The indefeasible right accruing to the Accused in such a situation is enforceable only prior to the filing of the challan and it does not survive or remain enforceable on the challan being filed, if already not availed of. Once the challan has been filed, the question of grant of bail has to be considered and decided only with reference to the merits of the case under the provisions relating to grant of bail to an Accused after the filing of the challan. The custody of the Accused after the challan has been filed is not governed by Section 167 but different provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure. If that right had accrued to the Accused but it remained unenforced till the filing of the challan, then there is no question of its enforcement thereafter since it is extinguished the moment challan is filed because Section 167 Code of Criminal Procedure ceases to apply. The Division Bench also indicated that if there be such an application of the Accused for release on bail and also a prayer for extension of time to complete the investigation according to the proviso in Section 20(4)(bb), both of them should be considered together. It is obvious that no bail can be given even in such a case unless the prayer for extension of the period is rejected. In short, the grant of bail in such a situation is also subject to refusal of the prayer for extension of time, if such a prayer is made. If the Accused applies for bail under this provision on expiry of the period of 180 days or the extended period, as the case may be, then he has to be released on bail forthwith. The Accused, so released on bail may be arrested and committed to custody according to the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure. It is settled by Constitution Bench decisions that a petition seeking the writ of habeas corpus on the ground of absence of a valid order of remand or detention of the Accused, has to be dismissed, if on the date of return of the rule, the custody or detention is on the basis of a valid order. (See Naranjan Singh Nathawan v. State of Punjab [MANU/SC/0073/1952 : (1952) 1 SCC 118; 1952 SCR 395; AIR 1952 SC 106; 1952 Cri LJ 656]; Ram Narayan Singh v. State of Delhi [MANU/SC/0035/1953 : 1953 SCR 652; AIR 1953 SC 277 : 1953 Cri LJ 1113] and A.K. Gopalan v. Government of India [MANU/SC/0091/1965 : (1966) 2 SCR 427; AIR 1966 SC 816; 1966 Cri LJ 602].)" (Emphasis Given)

(20) In Hitendra Vishnu Thakur and others v. State of Maharashtra and others reported in (1994) 4 SCC 602, while interpreting Section 20(4) of Terrorist and Disruptive Activities (Prevention) Act, 1987 (hereinafter referred to as 'TADA Act') read with Section 167 Cr.P.C., the Supreme Court held that once the period for filing the charge-sheet has expired and either no extension under Clause (bb) of Section 20 (4) of TADA Act has been granted by the Designated Court or the period of extension has also expired, the accused person would be entitled to move an application for being admitted to bail under Sub-Section (4) of Section 20 of TADA Act read with Section 167 of Cr.P.C. and the Designated Court shall release him on bail, if the accused seeks to be released and furnishes the requisite bail bonds but that does not mean that on expiry of the period, during which investigation is required to be completed under Section 24 of TADA Act read with Section 167 of Cr.P.C., the court must release the accused on bail on its own motion even without moving any application from the accused person on his offering to furnish bail. The accused will be required to make an application if he wishes to be released on bail on account of the 'default' of the Investigating/Prosecuting Agency, and once such an application is made, the court should issue notices to the Public Prosecutor who may either show that prosecution has obtained the order for completing the investigation from the court under Clause (bb) of Section 20 (4) of TADA Act or that the charge-sheet has been filed in the Designated Court before the expiry of prescribed period or even that the prescribed period has actually not expired and thus, resists the grant of bail on the alleged ground of 'default'. The issuance of notice would avoid the possibility of an accused obtaining an order of bail under the 'default' clause by either deliberately or inadvertently concealing certain facts and would avoid a multiplicity of proceedings. It would, therefore, serve the ends of justice, if both sides are heard on the petition for bail on account of prosecution 'default'. It has been further held by the Supreme Court that when a report submitted by the Public Prosecutor to the Designated Court, for grant of extension for Clause (bb) of Section 20 (4) of TADA Act, its notice should be issued to the accused, before granting such an extension so that an accused may have an opportunity to oppose the extension on all legitimate and legal grounds available to him. Even though neither Clause (b) nor Clause (bb) of Section 20 (4) of the TADA Act provides for issuance of such notice but, the issuance of such notice must be read into these provisions both in the interest of the accused and the prosecution as well as for doing complete justice between the parties. This is a requirement of the principles of natural justice, and issuance of notice to the accused or the Public Prosecutor, as the case may be, would accord with fair play in action, which the courts have always encouraged and even insisted upon. It would also strike a just balance between the interest of the liberty of an accused on the one hand and the society at large through the prosecuting agency on the other hand. There is no prohibition to the issuance of such a notice to the accused or Public Prosecutor in the scheme of the Act, and no prejudice whatsoever can be caused by the issuance of such a notice to any party. (para 21 of Judgment on pages 627 to 628)

(21) In Sanjay Dutt vs. State through C.B.I., Bombay (09.09.1994 - SC) : MANU/SC/0554/1994, while considering Hitendra Vishnu Thakur (supra) Apex Court opined as under:-

"52. We have no doubt that the common stance before us of the nature of indefeasible right of the accused to be released on bail by virtue of Section 20(4)(bb) is based on a correct reading of the principle indicated in that decision. The indefeasible right accruing to the accused in such a situation is enforceable only prior to the filing of the challan and it does not survive or remain enforceable on the challan being filed, if already not availed of. Once the challan has been filed, the question of grant of bail has to be considered and decided only with reference to the merits of the case under the provisions relating to grant of bail to an accused after the filing of the challan. The custody of the accused after the challan has been filed is not governed by Section 167 but different provisions of the CrPC. If that right had accrued to the accused but it remained unenforced till the filing of the challan, then there is no question of its enforcement thereafter since it is extinguished the moment challan is filed because Section 167 Cr.P.C. ceases to apply. The Division Bench also indicated that if there be such an application of the accused for release on bail and also a prayer for extension of time to complete the investigation according to the proviso in Section 20(4)(bb), both of them should be considered together. It is obvious that no bail can be given even in such a case unless the prayer for extension of the period is rejected. In short, the grant of bail in such a situation is also subject to refusal of the prayer for extension of time, if such a prayer is made. If the accused applies for bail under this provision on expiry of the period of 180 days or the extended period, as the case may be, then he has to be released on bail forthwith. The accused, so released on bail may be arrested and committed to custody according to the provisions of the CrPC. It is settled by Constitution Bench decisions that a petition seeking the writ of habeas corpus on the ground of absence of a valid order of remand or detention of the accused, has to be dismissed, if on the date of return of the rule, the custody or detention is on the basis of a valid order. (See Naranjan Singh Nathawan v. The State of Punjab MANU/ SC/ 0073/ 1952 : 1952CriLJ656 ; Ram Narayan Singh v. The State of Delhi and Ors. MANU/ SC/ 0035/ 1953 : 1953CriLJ113; and A.K. Gopalan v. The Government of India MANU/SC/0091/1965 : 1966CriLJ602 .

53. This is the nature and extent of the right of the accused to be released on bail under Section 20(4)(bb) of the TADA Act read with Section 167 Cr.P.C. in such a situation. We clarify the decision of the Division Bench in Hitendra Vishnu Thakur, accordingly, and if it gives a different indication because of the final order made therein, we regret our inability to subscribe to that view.

57.(2)(a) Section 20(4)(bb) of the TADA Act only requires production of the accused before the court in accordance with Section 167(1) of the CrPC and this is how the requirement of notice to the accused before granting extension beyond the prescribed period of 180 days in accordance with the further proviso to Clause (bb) of Sub-section (4) of Section 20 of the TADA Act has to be understood in the judgment of the Division Bench of this Court in Hitendra Vishnu Thakur. The requirement of such notice to the accused before granting the extension for completing the investigation is not a written notice to the accused giving reasons therein. Production of the accused at that time in the court informing him that the question of extension of the period for completing the investigation is being considered, is alone sufficient for the purpose.

(2)(b) The 'indefeasible right' of the accused to be released on bail in accordance with Section 20(4)(bb) of the TADA Act read with Section 167(2) of the CrPC in default of completion of the investigation and filing of the challan within the time allowed, as held in Hitendra Vishnu Thakur is a right which enures to, and is enforceable by the accused only from the time of default till the filing of the challan and it does not survive or remain enforceable on the challan being filed. If the accused applies for bail under this provision on expiry of the period of 180 days or the extended period, as the case may be, then he has to be released on bail forthwith. The accused, so released on bail may be arrested and committed to custody according to the provisions of the CrPC. The right of the accused to be released on bail after filing of the challan, notwithstanding the default in filing it within the time allowed, is governed from the time of filing of the challan only by the provisions relating to the grant of bail applicable at that stage." (Emphasis Supplied)

(22) In Uday Mohanlal Acharya vs. State of Maharashtra, MANU/SC/0222/2001 Hon'ble Supreme Court while considering Sanjay Dutt (supra) opined as under:-

"6. There cannot be any dispute that on expiry of the period indicated in the proviso to sub-section (2) of Section 167 of the Code of Criminal Procedure the accused has to be released on bail, if he is prepared to and does furnish the bail. Even though a Magistrate does not possess any jurisdiction to refuse bail when no charge sheet is filed after expiry of the period stipulated under the proviso to sub-section (2) of Section 167 and even though the accused may be prepared to furnish the bail required, but such furnishing of bail has to be in accordance with the order passed by the Magistrate. In other words, without an order of the Magistrate the legislative mandate engrafted in the proviso to sub-section (2) of Section 167 cannot be given effect to and there lies the rub. The grievance of the accused is that for a variety of reasons the Magistrate or even the superior Court would refuse to pass an order releasing the accused on bail notwithstanding the pre-conditions required under the proviso are satisfied and then when the accused moves the High Court or the Supreme Court during the interregnum the police files a challan. It was also contended by Mr. Tulsi that a Public Prosecutor may take adjournment from the Court when the bail application was being moved and then would persuade the investigating agency to file a challan and then contend that the Court would not be entitled to release the accused on bail under the proviso to sub-section (2) of Section 167, and in that situation not only the positive command of the legislature is flouted but also an unauthorised period of custody is being legalised and this would be an infraction of the constitutional provision within the meaning of Article 22. In Hitendra Vishnu Thakur vs. State of Maharashtra MANU/SC/0526/1994 : 1995CriLJ517, two learned Judges of this Court construed the provisions of Section 167 of the Code of Criminal Procedure Code read with sub-section 4 of Section 20 TADA. After examining in detail the object behind the enactment of Section 167 of the Code of Criminal Procedure and the object of the Parliament introducing the proviso to sub-section (2) of Section 167 prescribing the outer limit within which the investigation must be completed the Court expressed that the proviso to sub-section (2) of Section 167 read with Section 20(4)(b) of TADA creates an indefeasible right in an accused person on account of the default by the Investigating Agency in the completion of the investigation within the maximum period prescribed or extended, as the case may be, to seek an order for his release on bail and such order is generally termed as an "order on default". The Court also held that an obligation is cast upon the Court to inform the accused of his right of being released on bail and enable him to make an application in that behalf. It was also further held that the accused would be entitled to move an application for being admitted on bail and the Designated Court shall release him on bail if the accused seeks to be so released and furnishes the requisite bail. The Court declined to agree with the contention of the accused that the Magistrate must release the accused on bail on its own motion even without any application from an accused person on his offering to furnish bail."

On the aforesaid premises, we would record our conclusions as follows:-

1. Under sub-section (2) of Section 167, a Magistrate before whom an accused is produced while the police is investigating into the offence can authorise detention of the accused in such custody as the Magistrate thinks fit for a term not exceeding 15 days in the whole.

2. Under the proviso to aforesaid sub-section (2) of Section 167, the Magistrate may authorise detention of the accused otherwise than the custody of police for a total period not exceeding 90 days where the investigation relates to offence punishable with death, imprisonment for life or imprisonment for a term of not less than 10 years, and 60 days where the investigation relates to any other offence.

3. On the expiry of the said period of 90 days or 60 days, as the case may be, an indefeasible right accrues in favour of the accused for being released on bail on account of default by the Investigating Agency in the completion of the investigation within the period prescribed and the accused is entitled to be released on bail, if he is prepared to furnish the bail, as directed by the Magistrate. When an application for bail is filed by an accused for enforcement of his indefeasible right alleged to have been accrued in his favour on account of default on the part of the Investigating Agency in completion of the investigation within the specified period, the Magistrate/Court must dispose it of forth with, on being satisfied that in fact the accused has been in custody for the period of 90 days or 60 days, as specified and no charge-sheet has been filed by the Investigating Agency. Such prompt action on the part of the Magistrate/Court will not enable the prosecution to frustrate the object of the Act and the legislative mandate of an accused being released on bail on account of the default on the part of the Investigating Agency in completing the investigation within the period stipulated.

5. If the accused is unable to furnish bail, as directed by the Magistrate, then the conjoint reading of Explanation I and proviso to sub-section 2 of Section 167, the continued custody of the accused even beyond the specified period in paragraph (a) will not be unauthorised, and therefore, if during that period the investigation is complete and charge-sheet is filed then the so-called indefeasible right of the accused would stand extinguished.

6. The expression 'if not already availed of' used by this Court in Sanjay Dutt's case (supra) must be understood to mean when the accused files an application and is prepared to offer bail on being directed. In other words, on expiry of the period specified in paragraph

(a) of proviso to sub-section (2) of Section 167 if the accused files an application for bail and offers also to furnish the bail, on being directed, then it has to be held that the accused has availed of his indefeasible right even though the Court has not considered the said application and has not indicated the terms and conditions of bail, and the accused has not furnished the same.

With the aforesaid interpretation of the expression 'availed of' if charge-sheet is filed subsequent to the availing of the indefeasible right by the accused then that right would not stand frustrated or extinguished, necessarily therefore, if an accused entitled to be released on bail by application of the proviso to sub-section (2) of Section 167, makes the application before the Magistrate, but the Magistrate erroneously refuses the same and rejects the application and then accused moves the higher forum and while the matter remains pending before the higher forum for consideration a charge-sheet is filed, the so-called indefeasible right of the accused would not stand extinguished thereby, and on the other hand, the accused has to be released on bail.

Such an accused, who thus is entitled to be released on bail in enforcement of his indefeasible right will, however, have to be produced before the Magistrate on a charge-sheet being filed in accordance with Section 209 and the Magistrate must deal with him in the matter of remand to custody subject to the provisions of the Code relating to bail and subject to the provisions of cancellation of bail, already granted in accordance with law laid down by this Court in the case of Mohd. Iqbal vs. State of Maharashtra (supra).

Having indicated the position of law, as above, and applying the same to the facts and circumstances of the present case, it appears that the prescribed period under paragraph (a) of the proviso to sub-section (2) of Section 167 expired on 16.8.2000 and the accused filed an application for being released on bail and offered to furnish the bail on 17.8.2000. The Magistrate, however, erroneously refused the bail prayer on the ground that the proviso to sub-section (2) of Section 167 has no application to case pertaining to MPID Act. The accused then moved the High Court. While the matter was pending before the Division Bench of the High Court, the learned Public Prosecutor took an adjournment and the case was posted to 31st August, 2000 and just the day before the charge-sheet was filed on 30th August, 2000 and thus the indefeasible right of the accused stood frustrated and the High Court refused to release the accused on bail on a conclusion that the accused cannot be said to have availed of his indefeasible right, as held in Sanjay Dutt's case (supra) since, he has not yet been released on bail. But in view of our conclusion as to when an accused can be said to have availed of his right, in the case in hand, it has to be held that the accused availed of his right on 17th August, 2000 by filing an application for being released on bail and offering therein to furnish the bail in question. This being the position, the High Court was in error in refusing that right of the accused for being released on bail. We, therefore, direct that the accused should be released on bail on such terms and conditions to the satisfaction of the Learned Magistrate, and further the Magistrate would be entitled to deal with the accused in accordance with law and observations made by us in this judgment, since the charge-sheet has already been filed.

In accordance with the majority view, the appeal stands allowed."

(Emphasis given by us)

(23) Thus it is clear that if the right of default bail has been availed by an accused by moving a bail application and the period of 90 days has expired and is not extended further and even if the said bail application has not been disposed by the court and remained pending for a long time and the litigation travels to the higher forum and in between charge-sheet has been filed by the investigation agency within the statutory time, the right of the accused to be released on default bail will not be extinguished or defeated.

(24) In RITU CHHABARIA versus UNION OF INDIA & ORS.^{2023 LiveLaw (SC) 352}, the Apex Court opined as under:-

"21. A bare perusal of the abovementioned statement of objects strongly indicates that Section 167(2) of the Cr.PC was enacted to ensure that the investigating agency completes the investigation within the prescribed time limit, failing which no accused could be detained if they are willing to avail bail. This position was also laid emphasis on by a three-judge bench of this Court in the case of Ravindran Vs. The Intelligence Officer, Directorate of Revenue Intelligence,^{(2021) 2 SCC 485}, the relevant paragraphs of the same are being reproduced hereunder:

The suggestion made in Report No. 14 was reiterated by the Law Commission in Report No. 41 on The Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (Vol. I, 1969, pp. 76-77). The Law Commission re-emphasised the need to guard against the misuse of Section 344 of the 1898 Code by filing "preliminary reports" for remanding the accused beyond the statutory period prescribed under Section 167. It was pointed out that this could lead to serious abuse wherein "the arrested person can in this manner be kept in custody indefinitely while the investigation can go on in a leisurely manner". Hence the Commission recommended fixing of a maximum time-limit of 60 days for remand. It was in this backdrop that Section 167(2) was enacted within the present day CrPC, providing for time-limits on the period of remand of the accused, proportionate to the seriousness of the offence committed, failing which the accused acquires the indefeasible right to bail.

22. Further, this legal position was again reiterated in Satendar Kumar Antil vs CBI & Anr.,^{(2021) 10 SCC 773}, wherein it was held that Section 167(2) of the Cr.PC is a limb of Article 21 of the Constitution of India, and as such, the investigating authority is under a constitutional duty to expediate the process of investigation within the stipulated time, failing which, the accused is entitled to be released on default bail. The relevant observations made in the said judgment are as under:-

"Section 167(2) was introduced in the year 1978, giving emphasis to the maximum period of time to complete the investigation. This provision has got a laudable object behind it, which is to ensure an expeditious investigation and a fair trial, and to set down a rationalised procedure that protects the interests of the indigent sections of society. This is also another limb of Article 21. Presumption of Innocence is also inbuilt in this provision. An investigating agency has to expedite the process of investigation as a suspect is languishing under incarceration. Thus, a duty is enjoined upon the agency to complete the investigation within the time prescribed and a failure would enable the release of the accused. The right enshrined is an absolute and indefeasible one, ensuring to the benefit of suspect.

As a consequence of the right flowing from the said provision, courts will have to give due effect to it, and thus any detention beyond this period would certainly be illegal, being an affront to the liberty of the person concerned. Therefore, it is not only the duty of the investigating agency but also the courts to see to it that an accused gets the benefit of Section 167(2).

34. Even at the cost of repetition, we find it pertinent to mention that the right of default bail under Section 167(2) of the CrPC is not merely a statutory right, but a fundamental right that flows from Article 21 of the Constitution of India. The reason for such importance being given to a seemingly insignificant procedural formality is to ensure that no accused person is subject to unfettered and arbitrary power of the state. The process of remand and custody, in their practical manifestations, create a huge disparity of power between the investigating authority and the accused. While there is no doubt in our minds that arrest and remand are extremely crucial for the smooth functioning of the investigation authority for the purpose of attaining justice, however, it is also extremely important to be cognizant of a power imbalance. Therefore, it becomes essential to place certain checks and balances upon the Investigation Agency in order to prevent the harassment of accused persons at their hands.”

(Emphasis Given)

(25) In Judgebir Singh and Ors. vs. National Investigation Agency: MANU/SC/0501/2023 (Supra), the Apex Court dismissed the appeal filed by the accused persons as they failed to avail the right of default bail by filing a bail application and also noticing that the time to complete investigation, in that case, was extended on 101st day opined that the appellants would have been released on bail if they have filed any application for bail after statutory period and subsequent extension of time or filing of charge-sheet could not have extinguished their right, in following words:-

"AN EYE-OPENER
LITIGATION FOR THE NIA/STATE POLICE

76. As is evident from the chronology of dates and events referred to in the earlier part of our judgment, the final report Under Section 173(2) of the Code of Criminal Procedure was filed in the Court of SDJM, Ajnala on 15.11.2019. 15.11.2019 was the 161st day from the date of arrest of two of the Appellants before us, namely, Jasbir Singh and Varinder Singh. They were the first to be arrested on 08.06.2019. The Punjab Police applied to the Court of the Additional Sessions Judge, Amritsar, for extension of time to complete the investigation invoking the proviso to Section 43D(2)(b) of the UAPA on 04.09.2019. When this application for extension of time was filed only two days were left for 90 days to expire. This is suggestive of the fact that the 91st day would have fallen on 07.09.2019. What is important to highlight is that the Additional Sessions Judge, Amritsar, looked into the extension application dated 04.09.2019 filed by the Punjab Police and ultimately, extended the time limit vide its order dated 17.09.2019 i.e., on the 101st day. By the time, the Additional Sessions Judge, Amritsar, passed an order extending the time, the period of 90 days had already expired. Indisputably, there was no chargesheet before the Court on the 91st day i.e., on 07.09.2019. The reason why we say that this is a grey area is because what would have happened if the Appellants Jasbir Singh and Varinder Singh had preferred an application seeking statutory/default bail Under Section 167(2) of the Code of Criminal Procedure on the 91st day i.e., on 07.09.2019. The application seeking extension of time was very much pending. The Additional Sessions Judge could not have even allowed such application promptly i.e., on or before the 90th day without giving notice to the Accused persons. The law is now well settled in view of the decision of this Court in the case of Jigar alias Jimmy Pravinchandra Aditya v. State of Gujarat reported in MANU/SC/1233/2022 that an opportunity of hearing has to be given to the Accused persons before the time is extended up to 180 days to complete the investigation. The only error or lapse on the part of the Appellants Jasbir and Varinder Singh was that they failed to prefer an appropriate application seeking statutory/default bail on the 91st day. If such application would have been filed, the court would have had no option but to release them on statutory/default bail. The Court could not have said that since the extension application was pending, it shall pass an appropriate order only after the extension application was decided. That again would have been something contrary to the well settled position of law. This litigation is an eye opener for the NIA as well as the State investigating agency that if they want to seek extension, they must be careful that such extension is not prayed for at the last moment.

77. The right to be released on default bail continues to remain enforceable if the Accused has applied for such bail, notwithstanding pendency of the bail application or subsequent filing of the chargesheet or a report seeking extension of time by the prosecution before the court. However, where the Accused fails to apply for default bail when the right accrues to him, and subsequently a chargesheet, or a report seeking extension of time is preferred before the Magistrate or any other competent court, the right to default bail would be extinguished. The court would be at liberty to take cognizance of the case or grant further time for completion of the investigation, as the case may be, though the Accused may still be released on bail under other provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

78. Our observations in paras 76 and 77 respectively as above are keeping in mind the decision of this Court rendered by a three-Judge Bench in the case of Sayed Mohd. Ahmad Kazmi v. State (Government of NCT of Delhi) and Ors. reported in MANU/SC/0900/2012 : (2012) 12 SCC 1, wherein in paras 25, 26 and 27 respectively, this Court observed as under:

25. Having carefully considered the submissions made on behalf of the respective parties, the relevant provisions of law and the decision cited, we are unable to accept the submissions advanced on behalf of the State by the learned Additional Solicitor General Mr. Raval. There is no denying the fact that on 17-7-2012, when CR No. 86 of 2012 was allowed by the Additional Sessions Judge and the custody of the Appellant was held to be illegal and an application Under Section 167(2) Code of Criminal Procedure was made on behalf of the Appellant for grant of statutory bail which was listed for hearing. Instead of hearing the application, the Chief Metropolitan Magistrate adjourned the same till the next day when the Public Prosecutor filed an application for extension of the period of custody and investigation and on 20-7-2012 extended the time of investigation and the custody of the Appellant for a further period of 90 days with retrospective effect from 2-6-2012. Not only is the retrospectivity of the order of the Chief Metropolitan Magistrate untenable, it could not also defeat the statutory right which had accrued to the Appellant on the expiry of 90 days from the date when the Appellant was taken into custody. Such right, as has been commented upon by this Court in Sanjay Dutt [MANU/SC/0554/1994 : (1994) 5 SCC 410: 1994 SCC (Cri) 1433] and the other cases cited by the learned Additional Solicitor General, could only be distinguished (sic extinguished) once the charge-sheet had been filed in the case and no application has been made prior thereto for grant of statutory bail. It is well-established that if an Accused does not exercise his right to grant of statutory bail before the charge-sheet is filed, he loses his right to such benefit once such charge-sheet is filed and can, thereafter, only apply for regular bail.

26. The circumstances in this case, however, are different in that the Appellant had exercised his right to statutory bail on the very same day on which his custody was held to be illegal and such an application was left undecided by the Chief Metropolitan Magistrate till after the application filed by the prosecution for extension of time to complete investigation was taken up and orders were passed thereupon.

27. We are unable to appreciate the procedure adopted by the Chief Metropolitan Magistrate, which has been endorsed by the High Court and we are of the view that the Appellant acquired the right for grant of statutory bail on 17-7-2012, when his custody was held to be illegal by the Additional Sessions Judge since his application for statutory bail was pending at the time when the application for extension of time for continuing the investigation was filed by the prosecution. In our view, the right of the Appellant to grant of statutory bail remained unaffected by the subsequent application and both the Chief Metropolitan Magistrate and the High Court erred in holding otherwise.

(Emphasis supplied)

(26) If the facts of the instant case are appreciated in the background of the aforesaid legal position it would reflect that the factual matrix of this case has not been disputed so far as the chronology of the orders passed by the Special Court whereby remand of the appellant has been granted by the Special Court, moving of bail application as well as the applications moved by the Investigating Officer forwarded by the Public Prosecutor before the Special Court for extension of period of investigation are concerned. The State in its response, especially in para no.8 onwards of the short counter affidavit dated 27/30.09.2023, has admitted that the appellant was arrested on 03.03.2023 from Melattur Police Station Malappuram, Kerala in connection with the instant case and a transit remand was granted by the local Magistrate on 04.03.2023 and it was on 06.03.2023 the appellant was again produced before the Additional District and Sessions Judge-5/Special Judge, NIA/ATS, Lucknow and the judicial custody remand was allowed for 14 days. It is also admitted in this short counter affidavit that vide order dated 20.03.2023 the remand was further allowed till 03.04.2023 and it was on 31.03.2023 an application for seeking the Police Custody Remand of the appellant was moved and it was on 01.04.2023 the police custody remand of the appellant was accepted from 02.04.2023 to 04.04.2023 and the remand was also allowed up to 03.05.2023. Vide order dated 03.05.2023 the remand was further allowed till 17.05.2023 and vide order dated 17.05.2023 the remand was further allowed till 02.06.2023.

(27) It is also admitted to the State, as is evident from para no.17 onwards of the short counter affidavit dated 27/30.09.2023, that on 01.06.2023 the Public Prosecutor had moved an application before the Special Judge for extension of time of investigation from 90 days to 180 days, as provided under Section 43-D(2) of the UAPA and the Court vide its order dated 01.06.2023 fixed this application for 02.06.2023 and summoned the accused from the District Jail and vide order dated 02.06.2023 the Special Court also extended the remand period till 05.06.2023. It was on 05.06.2023 the Public Prosecutor again filed an application before the Special Court for extension of time for further 60 days as the period of remand was going to expire on 05.06.2023, vide order of the same date i.e. 05.06.2023 the period of investigation was extended for 50 more days and the remand of the appellant was also granted up to 03.07.2023 and subsequently on 03.07.2023 the remand was again allowed up to 20.07.2023 and ultimately the charge-sheet was also filed against the appellant on 20.07.2023. Thus, the case of the State is that the period of investigation was extended by the Special Court vide order dated 02.06.2023 to 05.06.2023 and thereafter vide order dated 05.06.2023 till 50 days and thereafter vide order dated 03.07.2023 till 20.07.2023 and it was on 20.07.2023 the charge-sheet has been filed i.e. within statutory period of 180 days and, therefore, the appellant is not entitled for default bail.

(28) The contention of learned counsel for the appellant to the contrary is that an application to extend the time of investigation was moved on 01.06.2023, which was directed to be taken up on 02.06.2023 and the appellant was summoned from the jail. However, it is vehemently submitted that vide order dated 02.06.2023, which was the 91st day of the first remand of the appellant, no order with regard to the extension of time of investigation was passed and an indefeasible right for release on default bail had occurred in favour of appellant and in this scenario the Investigating Officer was compelled to move another application for extension of time of investigation on 05.06.2023, on which the Special Court has passed an order on 05.06.2023, whereby 50 days further time was granted for completion of investigation which was subsequently extended till 20.07.2023, on which the charge-sheet appears to have been filed.

(29) Thus, the case of the appellant is that, when the time of investigation was not extended by the Special Court on 01.06.2023 (within 90 days of the 1st remand) and was also not extended vide order dated 02.06.2023 (91st day of the 1st remand) and the same could only be extended vide order dated 05.06.2023 and as the bail application had already been filed by the appellant on 02.06.2023 (on 91st day of 1st remand), an indefeasible right to be released on bail had occurred in favour of the appellant which could not be defeated by filing the charge-sheet subsequently or by extending the time of investigation on 05.06.2023.

(30) Perusal of the record in this regard would reflect that admittedly the transit remand of the appellant was granted by a local Court at Kerala on 04.03.2023, therefore, the 90th day of the detention of the appellant was on 01.06.2023 and an application, as is reflected from the record, for the purpose of extension of time of the investigation was moved on 01.06.2023 (on 90th day) by the prosecutor and an endorsement of date 01.06.2023 of the Presiding Officer of the Court, would reveal that on this application the accused/appellant was summoned for 02.06.2023 and vide another order of the same day the remand of the appellant was also extended till 05.06.2023. The order-sheet of date 02.06.2023, a copy of which has been placed on record as Annexure No. SCA-10 to the short counter affidavit filed by the State and perusal of this order would reveal that only remand of the appellant was accepted/extended till 05.06.2023 with a further direction to summon the accused/appellant on 05.06.2023. Admittedly in this order of date 02.06.2023, there is no mention of extension of the time of investigation. Thereafter the Public Prosecutor moved another application for extension of period of investigation for 60 days on 05.06.2023 and perusal of the order of date 05.06.2023 passed by the Special Court, a copy of which has been placed on record as Annexure No.SCA12 to the short counter affidavit filed by the State, would reveal that vide this order (05.06.2023) the period of investigation was extended for further 50 days.

A clear distinction may be inferred from the perusal of above mentioned both orders passed by the Special Court i.e. of date 02.06.2023 and of date 05.06.2023, as vide order dated 02.06.2023 only the remand of the appellant has been extended till 05.06.2023 with a further direction to summon the accused/appellant, while vide order dated 05.06.2023 the period of investigation has been extended for further 50 days. It also appears to be an admitted situation that the appellant had moved an application for default bail alleging non-completion of the investigation within 90 days on 02.06.2023, as is evident from the order sheet of the Special Court of date 02.06.2023 and the same was directed to be listed on 05.06.2023 for hearing. It may be recalled that the 90th day of the first remand of the appellant was 01.06.2023 and the default bail application has been moved by the appellant on 02.06.2023 which is/was the 91st day of the first remand of the appellant. The confusion as to whether vide order dated 02.06.2023 the Special Court has extended time of investigation or simply remanded the accused in judicial custody till 5th June, 2023 has been cleared by the Special Judge/Special Court itself, while passing the impugned order dated 26.06.2023 whereby the default bail application moved by the appellant has been rejected and it has been specifically stated in the impugned order by the Special Court that perusal of the record would reveal that vide order dated 05.06.2023, on an application moved by the Investigating Officer, the period of extension of the period of investigation was extended till 01.09.2023 in view of Section 43-D(2) of UAPA and charge-sheet has also been filed within 180 days of the first remand of the appellant. Thus, the air has been cleared by the Special Court itself by stating in clear and loud terms that the period of investigation could only be extended vide order dated 05.06.2023 which was the 94th day of first remand. Thus the period of investigation, as may be inferred from the impugned order dated 26.06.2023 could only be extended vide order dated 05.06.2023 and by that time an indefeasible right to be released on default bail, in our considered opinion, had already occurred in favour of the appellant and he has also availed this right by immediately moving an application for default bail before the Special Court on 02.06.2023, which has been rejected by passing impugned order of date 26.06.2023.

(31) Thus, the Special Court has committed material illegality in rejecting the prayer of default bail of the appellant and in our considered opinion the appellant is entitled for default bail.

(32) It is clarified that the subsequent extension of time of investigation after 02.06.2023, vide order dated 05.06.2023 or filing of charge-sheet on 30.07.2023 may not cure, suppress, vitiate or extinguish the right of the appellant/accused, to be released on default bail, which had already accrued in favour of the appellant in the midnight of 01/02.06.2023 when the same has also been acted upon/availed by the appellant by filing a default bail application on 02.06.2023.

(33) Accordingly, the appeal is allowed and the impugned order dated 26.06.2023, passed by the Additional District and Sessions Judge-5/Special Judge, NIA/ATS, Lucknow rejecting the default bail application filed by the appellant, is hereby, quashed /set aside.

(34) The appellant- Kamal K.P. is enlarged on default bail in Case Crime No. 199 of 2020 under Sections 153-A, 295-A, 124-A, 120-B I.P.C. & Section 17 and 18 of the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act, 1967 and Section 65 & 72 of the I.T. (Amendment) Act, 2008, Police Station Manth, District Mathura, Uttar Pradesh, on the following conditions:-

(i) The appellant shall furnish his personal bond with two sureties of the like amount as may be determined by the Special Court;

(ii) The appellant shall surrender his passport, if the same has been issued in his favour, to the Special Court at the time of furnishing sureties;

(iii) The appellant shall not indulge in any criminal activity and shall not interfere in any manner with the further investigation, if any and shall not make any effort to influence the prosecution witnesses; and

(iv) The appellant shall mark regular attendance with the local police station within which he is residing, at such periodical intervals as may be determined by the Special Court; and

(v) The appellant shall cooperate with the Special Court for early conclusion of the trial and shall not seek any adjournment when the prosecution witnesses would be in attendance.

(35) Having given an anxious thought to the ably authored judgment by my esteemed colleague, I find it my duty to put on record some further reasons to support the view taken as under:-

(36) The legal question in the present case that has escaped the attention of the Special Court is as to whether mere pendency of an application seeking extension of time to complete the investigation would necessarily imply that the right of default bail would stand extinguished, particularly when the extension subsequently sought by the Public Prosecutor, through another application was granted by a prospective order on 05.06.2023. The next question which would simultaneously arise in the present case and was left unnoticed by the Special Court would be whether remand order was rightly passed on 02.06.2023 without passing any order on the application seeking extension of time to complete investigation and thereby the infeasible right of default bail could be denied to the appellant.

(37) Undisputed facts between the parties are that an application seeking extension of time by 90 days to complete investigation was made by the Public Prosecutor on the 90th day, i.e., 01.06.2023. The right of default bail accrued to the detainee at 12 O' clock in the midnight following the day, i.e., on 02.06.2023, by which time, the application seeking extension of time for completing the investigation had already been filed and ordered to come up next day when the remand as per the previous order dated 17.05.2023 would fall due.

(38) It is already noticed that the remand was extended upto 05.06.2023 by virtue of an order dated 02.06.2023 without extension of time for investigation on the pending application filed on 01.06.2023 and the prosecution treated the pending application filed on 01.06.2023 to have become obsolete. It is for this reason that a subsequent application seeking extension of time for completing investigation was filed on 05.06.2023. It is filing of two separate applications which has led to a vacuum insofar as the period of extension of time for completing investigation from 02.06.2023 to 05.06.2023 is concerned. The default bail application had come to be filed in the meantime on 02.06.2023. Thus the real question before the Special Court on 05.06.2023 was as to whether extension of remand on 02.06.2023 would ipso facto qualify the extension of time for the purpose of completing the investigation without any order being passed on the application filed on 01.06.2023. In other words, whether pendency of an application seeking extension of time for completing investigation would obstruct the accrual of right to default bail particularly when the period for completing the investigation was prospectively extended on 05.06.2023 for 50 days.

(39) The Special Court in its order dated 26.06.2023 has clearly recorded that the extension of time for completing the investigation was granted on 05.06.2023. This clearly shows that there was complete non-application of mind by the Special Court insofar as the application made on 01.06.2023 is concerned. The Special Courts are under a bounden duty to consider and decide the respective applications seeking extension of time for completing investigation within the period of remand prescribed under law. The validity to the period of investigation legitimizes the grant of remand without which a judicial remand cannot be said to have obstructed or defeated the right of default bail, as is the case at hand.

(40) The Special Court ought to have applied mind on the pending application seeking extension of time for completing the investigation prior to 02.06.2023 when the period of remand was extended upto 05.06.2023 without there being a qualifying order for completion of investigation on the application seeking extension of time by 90 days. This flaw on the part of the Special Court while dealing with the earlier application on the date of its filing, i.e., 01.06.2023 or leaving it unattended on 02.06.2023 has led to the accrual of an infeasible right in favour of the detainee. The right accrued both on account of the fact that the first application itself was filed by the prosecution on 01.06.2023 leaving no scope for compliance of the Statute in the matter of opportunity and production of the detainee, and secondly, the Special Court having failed to apply its mind on the pending application granted judicial remand on 02.06.2023 upto 05.06.2023 without validation of extension of time to complete the investigation. This is a clear position of fact in the case at hand for which the benefit which had accrued to the appellant cannot be unsettled in view of the reasoning as has been recorded by my esteemed brother exhaustively in the judgment. Be it noted that right to personal liberty can only be curtailed by following due procedure under law. The investigating agency is obliged to stand on its toes in the matter of concluding investigation and must remain vigilant to follow the prescribed procedure, deviation whereof, it is well settled would not come to their rescue simply on the ground of procedural lapse. To be more clear it can be aptly said that right to life & personal liberty can only be confined by following due procedure but it cannot be taken away.

(41) In the circumstances of the case, this Court would caution the Special Courts to remain careful in future on any such exigency. The administration of justice and any dereliction of duty in the matter of adjudication of such valuable rights cannot be taken a lenient view in ordinary course.

(42) In the result, I concur with the relief granted in favour of the applicant-appellant for the cumulative reasons recorded as above.

(A) Criminal Law - Appeal in Absence of Trial Court Record - Indian Penal Code, 1860 - Sections 302 and 201 - If the substantial portion of trial court record is not available before the Appellate Court - an endeavour should be made firstly for the reconstruction of the record and if only reconstruction is not possible to facilitate the High Court to hear and dispose of the appeal, then possibility should be looked into for the retrial of the case and if due to the loss of vital and basic records of the trial court retrial and fresh adjudication of the matter is not possible, then in that case the impugned judgment and order should not be permitted to operate and the matter shall stand closed. (Para -12)

Appellant was convicted in 1982 – Trial court record was destroyed /weeded out , except for the impugned judgment and order - Reconstruction of the record was not possible - Retrial was also not feasible due to the loss of vital records - appeal was pending for 42 years - question involved - If the original record of the trial court is not available before the Appellate Court, what legal consequence would ensue - High Court relied on precedents to decide the case. (Para - 1 to 7)

HELD: - Nothing remains in appeal and on account of the lack of vital and important basic records, conviction order cannot be sustained. Court has no other alternative but to allow the appeal and set-aside conviction and sentence of appellant and to acquit him. Conviction and sentence of appellant, set-aside. (Para -14,15)

Appeal allowed. (E-7)

6. Raj Kumar Vs St. of U.P., Crl. Appeal No.29 of 1989

(Delivered by Hon'ble Nalin Kumar
Srivastava, J.)

1. This criminal appeal has been preferred by the appellant - Shri Ram Singh against the judgement and order dated 30.09.1982 passed by Session Judge, Ballia in Session Trial No.37 of 1982 (State Vs. Shri Ram Singh and another) under Section 302/201 IPC, Police Station Garwar, District Ballia convicting and sentencing the appellant for the offence under section 201 IPC to undergo 4 years rigorous imprisonment.

2. Heard Sri R.K. Kanaujiya, learned counsel for the appellant as well as learned A.G.A. for the State and perused the record.

3. A pertinent question involved in this appeal is as to if the original record of the trial court is not available before the Appellate Court, what legal consequence would ensue.

4. Learned counsel for the appellant has prayed for acquittal of the sole surviving appellant Shri Ram Singh, as the entire record (except the original judgment and order of the trial court) of this case has been weeded out as per report of District Judge, Ballia and now hearing of this Appeal is not possible for want of record. The present appeal pertains to year 1982. In view of all these facts particularly considering the fact that this appeal is pending for the last 42 years, it appears expedient in the interest of justice that this appeal may be decided finally.

5. A perusal of the record reveals that complete trial court record was summoned, but only a part of the record was sent by the District Judge, Ballia which includes only impugned judgment and order. No other document is available on record to proceed with the present appeal.

6. It further reveals from the perusal of the record that except the impugned judgment and order, rest of the record has been destroyed / weeded out. This Court vide order dated 8.8.2024 called for the report from the court concerned as to whether the reconstruction of the trial court record or retrial pertaining to the present case is possible or not. In compliance thereof, a report dated 28.8.2024 sent by the District Judge, Ballia was received wherein it was submitted that reconstruction of the trial court record of the present case is not possible and due to non-reconstruction of the trial court record, retrial of this case is also not possible.

7. In the similar circumstances, a Division Bench of this Court dealt with the matter in Brahmanand Shukla Vs. State of U.P. reported in 2010 (5) ADJ 158

(D.B.). In the said matter, it was observed that – "In the present case, as we have mentioned in the earlier part of the judgment only a copy of the trial court's judgment is available and no other documents like FIR, post mortem report, copies of the documents which had been filed by the prosecution and were exhibited during trial, the statement of the witnesses recorded under Section 161 Cr.P.C. are available despite various attempts to reconstruct the record. The incident is of the year 1979 i.e. the incident took place about 30 years back. In these circumstances, no fruitful purpose would be served by ordering re-trial as the same cannot be conducted at all in absence of these documents.

In the light of the above discussions and the circumstances mentioned above, we have no other alternative but to allow the appeal, set aside the conviction and sentence of the appellant and to acquit him.

The appeal is allowed and the conviction and sentence of the appellant as recorded by the trial court is set aside and the appellant is acquitted of the charge levelled against him. His sureties and personal bonds are discharged.

Let a copy of this judgment be certified to the trial court for its intimation."

8. Subsequently the issue was again raised before the Division Bench of this Court in Government Appeal No.2528 of 1987, State of U.P. Vs. Subedar and others, which was an acquittal appeal and the Division Bench in the aforesaid matter found which is extracted here in below –

"The incident in the present case is of the year 1986 almost 29 years ago. The judgment of the trial court is of the year 1987. The appeal is pending for the last 29 years. In absence of the record the direction for retrial would be of no purpose inasmuch as, the FIR, inquest report, the injury report, the postmortem report, site plan and other recovery memos are not available and as such nothing can be proved by directing retrial. Further retrial after a lapse of such a long time would also not serve the ends of justice, inasmuch as, requiring the witnesses to depose about the incident which took place 29 years ago, their memory would be falling and they would not be in a position to give an accurate account of the incident.

For the above reasons, we are not inclined to issue any direction for retrial. In such circumstances, we relying upon the judgment of the Apex Court in the case of State of U.P. Vs. Abhai Raj Singh and another [2004 (2) JIC 337 (SC)] and Division Bench judgment of this Court in the case of Brahmanand Shukla Vs. State of U.P. [LAWS (ALL)-2010-4-14], proceed to decide the appeals accordingly.

The only option that remains with us is to dismiss the Government Appeal.

Accordingly, the Government Appeal is dismissed."

9. It is notable that the law laid down in Brahmanand Shukla (supra) case was also taken into account by the Division Bench in the judgment and order passed in Government Appeal No.2528 of 1987 (supra) and the law promulgated by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the matter of State of U.P. Vs. Abhai Raj Singh and Anr. (supra) establishing a principle on the subject where substantial portion of record was not available and it was observed like this –

"We, therefore, set aside the order of the High Court and remit the matter back for fresh consideration. It is to be noted at this juncture that one of the respondents i.e. Om Pal has died during the pendency of the appeal before this Court. The High Court shall direct re-construction of the records within a period of six months from the date of receipt of our judgment from all available or possible sources with the assistance of the Prosecuting Agency as well as the defending parties and their respective counsel. If it is possible to have the records reconstructed to enable the High Court itself to hear and dispose of the appeals in the manner envisaged under Section 386 of the Code, rehear the appeals and dispose of the same, on its own merits and in accordance with law. If it finds that re- construction is not practicable but by order retrial interest of justice could be better served - adopt that course and direct retrial - and from that stage law shall take its normal course. If only reconstruction is not possible to facilitate High Court to hear and dispose of the appeals and the further course of retrial and fresh adjudication by Sessions Court is also rendered impossible due to loss of vitally important basic records - in that case and situation only, the direction given in the impugned judgment shall operate and the matter shall stand closed. The appeals are accordingly disposed of."

10. The same principle of law echoes in a plethora of decisions of the Hon'ble Supreme Court and this Court as well, such as Hari Ram Vs. State, Criminal Appeal No. 1239 of 1982 (date of decision 10.5.2016) and Raj Kumar Vs. State of U.P., Criminal Appeal No.29 of 1989 (delivered on 25.11.2020)

11. The judgment of the Hon'ble Supreme Court was also considered in Government Appeal No.2528 of 1987 (supra).

12. The dictum of law, which flows from the above is that if the substantial portion of trial court record is not available before the Appellate Court, an endeavour should be made firstly for the reconstruction of the record and if only reconstruction is not possible to facilitate the High Court to hear and dispose of the appeal, then possibility should be looked into for the retrial of the case and if due to the loss of vital and basic records of the trial court retrial and fresh adjudication of the matter is not possible, then in that case the impugned judgment and order should not be permitted to operate and the matter shall stand closed.

13. In the present case, as admitted by the prosecution itself, since the reconstruction of the record is not possible and no other record except the impugned judgment and order of the trial court is available, as a natural consequence thereof, retrial of the case is also not possible.

14. Hence, in view of the legal principle enumerated in the aforesaid judgments, in my view, nothing remains in this appeal and on account of non-availability of the vital and important basic records, the conviction order cannot be sustained. This Court has no other alternative in these circumstances but to allow the appeal and set-aside the conviction and sentence of the appellant and to acquit him.

15. Resultantly, the appeal is allowed and the conviction and sentence of the appellant, as recorded by the trial court vide impugned judgement and order dated 30.09.1982, is set-aside and the sole surviving appellant Shri Ram Singh is acquitted of the charge under Section 201 IPC levelled against him. His sureties and personal bonds are ordered to be discharged.

16. All pending applications shall also stand disposed of accordingly.

17. Let a copy of this judgment be certified to the trial court for intimation and necessary action.

Criminal Law - Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 - Section 341 (Now Section 380 of BNSS, 2023) - Family Court Act, 1984 - Section 19 - Appellant filed instant appeal against order by which application u/s 340, Cr.PC rejected - Maintainability of appeal - The order which was challenged was not an order passed on basis of consent between parties nor an order passed under Chapter IX of Code, meaning thereby that provisions of Section 19(2) of Act, 1984 would have no applicability - Thus, provisions of Section 19 (1) of Act, 1984 would be applicable. (Para 10)

Only remedy available to appellant is to challenge impugned order by filing of appeal u/s 19(1) of Act, 1984 and appeal filed under provisions of Code or BNSS would not be maintainable keeping in view the non-obstante clause as per Section 19(1) of Act, 1984 and said Act, 1984 being a special Act. (Para 13)

Appeal dismissed. (E-13)

List of Cases cited:

1. Kiran Bala Srivastava Vs Jai Prakash Srivastava, MANU/UP/2771/2004
2. Shah Babulal Khimji Vs Jayaben - AIR 1981 SC 1786

(Delivered by Hon'ble Abdul Moin, J.)

1. By means of the instant appeal filed under Section 380 of Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita, 2023 (earlier Section 341 of the Criminal Procedure Code, 1973 in short 'Code, 1973'), the appellant seeks to challenge the order dated 24.07.2024 passed by learned Family Court whereby the application filed by the appellant under Section 340 of the Code, 1973 has been rejected.

2. A preliminary objection has been taken by Sri Piyush Kumar Singh, learned AGA appearing on behalf of respondent no.1, that considering the provisions of Section 19 of the Family Court Act, 1984 (hereinafter referred to as the 'Act, 1984'), the appellant will have to file an appeal under the provisions of the Act, 1984 itself and instant appeal would not be maintainable.

3. Learned AGA argues that Section 19 of the Act, 1984 clearly provides for filing of an appeal and as such the instant appeal filed under the provisions of the Code, 1973 would not be maintainable.

4. Heard Sri Jitendra Kumar Lakhmani, the appellant, who appeared in person, and learned AGA for the State on the preliminary objection.

5. The appeal has been filed under Section 341 of the Code, 1973 (now Section 380 of BNSS, 2023) aggrieved against the order dated 24.07.2024 whereby the application filed under Section 340 of the Code, 1973 has been rejected by learned Family Court.

6. In order to consider the preliminary objection as raised by learned AGA the Court may have to consider the provisions of Section 19 of the Act, 1984.

7. For the sake of convenience, Section 19 of the Act, 1984 is reproduced as under:-

"19. Appeal.-

(1) Save as provided in sub-section (2) and notwithstanding anything contained in the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (5 of 1908) or in the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 (2 of 1974) or in any other law, an appeal shall lie from every judgment or order, not being an interlocutory order, of a Family Court to the High Court both on facts and on law.

*(2) No appeal shall lie from a decree or order passed by the Family Court with the consent of the parties or from an order passed under Chapter IX of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 (2 of 1974):

Provided that nothing in this sub-section shall apply to any appeal pending before a High Court or any order passed under Chapter IX of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1973 (2 of 1974) before the commencement of the Family Courts (Amendment) Act, 1991 (59 of 1991).

(3) Every appeal under this section shall be preferred within a period of thirty days from the date of the judgment or order of a Family Court.

*(4) The High Court may, of its own motion or otherwise, call for and examine the record of any proceeding in which the Family Court situate within its jurisdiction passed an order under Chapter IX of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 (2 of 1974) for the purpose of satisfying itself as to the correctness, legality or propriety of the order, not being an interlocutory order, and, as to the regularity of such proceeding.

(5) Except as aforesaid, no appeal or revision shall lie to any court from any judgment, order or decree of a Family Court.

(6) An appeal preferred under sub-section (1) shall be heard by a Bench consisting of two or more Judges."

8. From perusal of the provisions of Section 19 of the Act, 1984, it emerges that the Act categorically provides that except as provided in sub-section (2) of Section 19 of the Act, 1984 and notwithstanding anything contained in the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 or in any other law, an appeal shall lie from every judgment or order, not being an interlocutory order, of a Family Court to the High Court both on facts and on law.

9. Sub-section (2) of Section 19 of the Act, 1984 provides that no appeal shall lie from a decree or order passed by the Family Court with the consent of the parties or from an order passed under Chapter IX of the Code.

10. The order which is sought to be challenged in the instant appeal is not an order passed on the basis of consent between the parties nor an order passed under Chapter IX of the Code, meaning thereby that the provisions of sub-section (2) of Section 19 of the Act, 1984 would have no applicability. Thus, it is the provisions of sub-section (1) of Section 19 of the Act, 1984 which would be applicable.

11. As already indicated above sub-section (1) of Section 19 of the Act, 1984 starts with a non-obstante clause, meaning thereby that irrespective of anything contained in the Code, 1973 it is provisions of the Act, 1984 which would be applicable.

12. Consequently, once the Act, 1984 provides for filing of an appeal from every judgment or order not being an interlocutory order of a Family Court except an order passed under Chapter IX of the Code and in the instant case it is an order by which an application filed under Section 340 of the Code has been rejected which falls under Chapter XXVI of the Code. Therefore, it is only an appeal under the Act, 1984 which would lie in case the appellant herein is aggrieved by the said order.

13. Considering the aforesaid, it is thus apparent that in case the appellant herein is aggrieved by an order by which his application under Section 340 of the Code has been rejected consequently the only remedy available to him is to challenge the said order by filing of an appeal under Section 19(1) of the Act, 1984 and the appeal filed under the provisions of the Code or BNSS would not be maintainable keeping in view the non-obstante clause as per sub-section (1) of Section 19 of the Act, 1984 and the Act, 1984 being a special Act.

14. Further, whether the order by which the application under Section 340 of the Code has been rejected would be an interlocutory order or an order is also no longer res-integra keeping in view the Full Bench judgment in the case of Kiran Bala Srivastava vs. Jai Prakash Srivastava - MANU/UP/2771/2004 wherein considering the Full Bench of this Court which has been passed after considering the judgment of Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Shah Babulal Khimji vs. Jayaben - AIR 1981 SC 1786, it is apparent that the order passed under Section 340 of the Code would be an 'order' as per Section 19 of the Act, 1984 and accordingly it is an appeal which would be maintainable under the provisions of the Act, 1984.

15. After the aforesaid order has been dictated the appellant states that he does not intend to press on with the instant appeal and prays that the same may be dismissed as withdrawn with liberty to him to pursue other remedy as may be available to him under law.

16. Accordingly, the instant appeal is dismissed as withdrawn with liberty as aforesaid.

17. Let certified copies of the orders as annexed be returned to the appellant as per rules.

Darshan Singh Vs St. of Pun., (2024) 1 SCR 248, (Para 26)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Ram Manohar Narayan Mishra, J.)

1. This criminal appeal has been filed against the judgment and order of conviction dated 09.12.1983, passed by learned III Additional Sessions Judge, Muzaffarnagar, in Sessions Trial No.381 of 1982, whereby the learned III Additional Sessions Judge, Muzaffarnagar (hereinafter referred as 'trial court') has convicted the appellants namely, Rohtash, Vija alias Vijaipal, Dileep, Mughal and King Kong under Section 302/149 IPC for life imprisonment, while appellant Rohtash was further convicted under Section 148 IPC and sentenced to undergo two years imprisonment and the remaining appellants are convicted under Section 147 IPC and sentenced to undergo one year rigorous imprisonment. All the sentences were directed to run concurrently.

2. Factual matrix of the case in brief are that the informant Vishambher, son of Natthu, lodged an FIR orally at police station Purkaji, District Muzaffar Nagar stating that he is resident of village Khedaki, Police Station Purkaji, District Muzaffar Nagar. In last winter, his co-villager Bhopal, son of Mama and others had committed murder of Samay, son of Chohal. On account of the enmity of said murder case, on 6.8.1982, at 5/6:00 PM when he was coming from his agricultural field alongwith his bullock, he found that said Bhopal was fishing while sitting on slope of southwards to the river bank. Suddenly, his co-villager Rohtash armed with a countrymade pistol, Vijayee @ Vijja and his father Mughal wielding lathis in their hands, Dileep and King Kong, sons of Chohal having lathies in their hands appeared and accused Vijayee @ Vijja, Mugal, Dalip and King Kong started assaulting Bhopal by lathies. Rohtash fired two shots at Bhopal in the meanwhile and due to injuries suffered in the incident, Bhopal died on the spot. The occurrence was also witnessed by Rajpal, son of Atar Sing. He left villagers near the dead body and came at the police station to lodge the report. The delay while reaching police station occurred due to non availability of conveyance and pathway becoming muddy. The report was lodged on same day i.e. 6.8.1982, at 23:30 hours, vide Crime No.128 of 1982, under Sections 147, 148, 149, 302 IPC by Head Muharrir Satyapal Sharma on the basis of oral account of Vishambhar. He also made entry of lodging of this FIR vide report No.28, time 23:30 hours dated 6.8.1982, in which it is stated that Vishambhar @ Banda, Son of Nathhu Harijan, resident of village Khedaki, Police Station Purkaji, accompanied with Rishi, resident of Gram Khedaki appeared at police station and gave oral information regarding the incident against five named accused namely, Rohtash, Vijja, Mughal, Dileep and King Kong. After lodging of FIR and registration of case vide said GD entry, S.O. Shiv Raj Singh Tyagi (PW-4) rushed to the spot where dead body was lying together with S.I. Jagdamba Prasad and two constables Surendra Singh and Dhanpal Singh alongwith necessary papers and after appointing Panch witnesses, commenced inquest on dead body of deceased Bhopal on 7.8.1982, at 6:00 AM, which concluded at 7:30 AM on same day i.e. 7.8.1982. The inquest was conducted on place of incident where the dead body was lying. It was stucked in between water and mud and was found in supine position. In the opinion of Panch witnesses, the deceased Bhopal died due to firearm and lathi injuries received during the incident. The deceased was wearing a 'kameej' and white underwear, which were blood stained. The inquest Officer (S.O. concerned) entrusted the dead body alongwith copy of inquest report, copy of FIR, copy of GD Entry and photo lash, challan lash, report R.I., Report CMO and sample seal prepared by him to two Constables namely, Balveer Singh and Surendra Singh, who were posted at police station concerned for transporting the dead body to Headquarter at mortuary for postmortem. The Investigating Officer took into possession one cartridge shell 12 bore, one empty cartridge 12 bore without bottom and one refilled cartridge from place of incident on 7.8.1982 and prepared its inventory as Ext.Ka-9. He also collected plain earth and blood stained earth from place of occurrence and prepared its inventory as Ext.Ka-10.

3. The postmortem examination on the body of the deceased Bhopal was carried out by Dr. Satish Kumar Sharma (PW-1) on 7.8.1982, at 4:15 PM, which was sent by S.O. Purkaji (Muzaffar Nagar) through Constables Balveer Singh and Surendra Singh. Rigor mortis was present over the lower extremities and going from upper limbs. Body was covered with sand and mud. Approximate time of death was one day before the postmortem. Following antemortem injuries were found on the person of the deceased:-

(ii) Lacerated wound 2 and 1/4 inch X 1/4 inch scalp over right side of head, 3 and half inch above right ear;

(iii) Lacerated wound 2 and half inch X 1/4 inch X scalp over right side head, 2 inch behind right ear;

(iv) Lacerated wound 2 X 1/4 Inch X scalp over right side back against head, 1-1/2 inch behind injury No.3;

(vi) Gunshot wound of exit 3 inch X 2 inch over left side chest, 2 and 3/4 inch from left nipple at 7 to 8'O clock position. Margins averted, corresponding to injury No.5.

(vii) Gunshot wound of entry 1/2 inch X 1/4 inch X cavity deep over right side chest just lateral to sternum, 3 inch from right nipple at 2:00'O clock position. Tattooing and blacking were present. Margins inverted. This one entered between 3rd and 4th ribs and was directed medially and downwards. On dissecting path, which was found to cross over to left side anterior media sternum and from there to left side chest lacerating left lung;

(viii) Incised wound 3 X 1 inch X abdominal cavity deep over right side chest in anterior auxiliary line just above costal margin. Margins clean cut, angles angular.

On internal examination, it was found that right 8th, 5th and 11th ribs were cut laterally. Lower lobe of right lung was cut under injury No.8. Left lung was lacerated in both lobes. Left pleura was lacerated under injury No.5 and 8. Left 6th, 7th and 8th ribs were fractured anteriorly. Stomach was empty. Abdominal membranes were cut under injury No.8. Small intestine was half full and large intestine was half full.

8 metallic pellets and 2 wadding pieces were recovered from dead body during postmortem and were handed over to the Constables, who had carried the dead body to mortuary. Cause of death was due to shock and haemorrhage as a result of antemortem injuries noted. In the opinion of PW-1 injury No.5-7 were possibly caused by firearm and injury No.4 might have been caused by lathi. Injury No.8 was caused by some sharp edged weapon.

4. PW-4, S.O. Shiv Raj Singh Tyagi conducted investigation of the case, recorded statements of witnesses, collected two empty and one refilled live cartridge 12 bore KF Special from place of incident and prepared its seizure memo (Ext.Ka-9). He also collected plain and blood stained earth from the place of incident and prepared its seizure memo as Ext.Ka-10. He prepared site plan of place of incident and proved the same by his evidence as Ext.Ka-11. After completing investigation, he submitted chargesheet against all the five named accused persons for charge under Sections 147, 148, 302 IPC with prayer to prosecute them in the Court.

5. Learned Chief Judicial Magistrate committed the case to Session Court for trial as offence was exclusively triable by Court of Session.

6. On commencement of trial at Court of Session, learned 3rd Additional Session Judge framed charge under Section 148 IPC against accused Rohtash, Charge under Section 147 IPC against Vijayee @ Vijja, Mughal, Dileep and King Kong. Charge under Section 302/149 IPC against Rohtash, Vijayee @ Vijja, Mughal, Dileep and King Kong. The accused persons denied the charge, pleaded not guilty to it and claimed to be tried.

7. Prosecution examined Dr. S.K. Sharma, the author of postmortem report as PW-1; Vishambher, the informant as PW-

2; Rajpal as eye-witness as PW-3, S.O. Shiv Raj Singh Tyagi, the Investigating Officer as PW-4 and Surendra Singh, Police Constable who carried the dead body to mortuary for postmortem as PW-5.

8. On closure of prosecution evidence, statement of accused persons was recorded by learned trial court under Section 313 Cr.P.C., in which they stated that the witnesses have deposed against them due to enmity. The FIR has also been lodged against them due to enmity. They have admitted enmity as deceased Bhopal had killed Samay, prior to the incident, who was brother of accused Dilip and King Kong and cousin of accused Rohtash and Vijaypal alias Vijja. However, they denied that they killed Bhopal due to enmity. They also stated that both the witnesses belonged to clan of deceased and deposed falsely against the accused persons. Accused Dileep stated that deceased Bhopal was a man of criminal antecedents and was inimical to many persons. Informant side was exerting pressure on accused Mughal to desist from deposing in the murder case of Samay.

9. The accused persons were given opportunity of adducing defence evidence but they did not tender any evidence in defence. Their defence is that of denial.

10. Learned trial court after appreciation of evidence on record and considering the submissions made at Bar from both sides, recorded verdict of guilt against accused appellants and convicted them for charge under sections 302/149, 147, 148 IPC and appellants were sentenced to life imprisonment for charge under Section 302/149 IPC. Accused Rohtash was sentenced to two years rigorous imprisonment for charge under Section 148 IPC and other accused persons were sentenced to one year rigorous imprisonment for charge under Section 147 IPC.

11. Feeling aggrieved by the impugned judgement and order, the convicts/appellants preferred present appeal before this Court under Section 374(2) Cr.P.C.

12. Heard learned counsel for the appellants, learned AGA for the State and perused the material placed on record.

13. Prosecution examined two witnesses of fact in support of its case namely, Vishambhar (PW-2) and Rajpal (PW-3), who supported prosecution version in their testimony before the Court. PW-2 stated that accused Rohtash and Vijay @ Vijja are sons of accused Mughal. Accused Dilip and King Kong are real brothers and sons of Chohal. Deceased Bhopal belong to his village. Case of murder of Samay, son of Chohal was litigated in which deceased Bhopal and Raghuveer were accused. The incident occurred on fateful day at around 5-6 PM. He was returning to his home from his field. When he reached near the river bank, he saw Bhopal engaged in fishing. Accused Rohtash shot at Bhopal from behind. Rohtash fired two shots at him by countrymade pistol and at the same time, Dilip, King Kong, Vijja and Mughal emerged from nearby 'chari field'. The accused persons also hit Bhopal by lathies and he died on the spot on account of injuries suffered. He had seen the incident together with witness Rajpal, who was also present there. The witnesses namely, Vishambhar (PW-2) and Rajpal (PW-3) tried to stop the accused persons, who in turn walked away towards Pava. He straight way rushed to police station and lodged the FIR. Rajpal also accompanied him up to police station. He dictated the written report to Head Muharrir who transcribed the same as per his dictation. He appended his thumb impression thereon after being read over by the scribe, Ext.Ka-2 was marked thereon. A long iron nail was fixed in lathi of Vijaypal. In cross-examination, the witness stated that Bhopal was sitting on the bank of river. The witness was sitting in other side of river. A distance of 30 paces was lying between two banks. The four accused persons assaulted Bhopal by the lathies. He met Station Officer of police station when he visited the police station and got the report lodged by Head Constable. He is not aware as to whether thumb impression of Rajpal was taken on FIR. He travelled the police station from the ghat (Place of occurrence) on feet. Two Sub Inspectors and three Constables left for place of occurrence after lodging of FIR. He had not conversed with police officials on way to place of occurrence. They went to place of occurrence from police station by a horse cart at around 3:00 AM (night). The Sub Inspector sealed the dead body on the next date at 8:00 AM and did writing work with regard to dead body. The dead body was taken by police constables after paper work. Co-accused Dilip and King Kong are brothers of Samay, who was killed prior to this incident. The witness denied defence suggestion that the witness and his family members were exerting pressure on accused Mughal to desist to depose in murder case of Samay. They never exerted pressure on accused Dilip and King Kong. He had dictated in written report the fact that the lathi wielded by accused Vijaypal @ Vijja was consisting of a long nail. He had also dictated this fact in written report that at the time of incident, he was standing with his bullock on second side of the river. He had also got this fact written in his report that accused persons emerged from 'chari field' of Fullu and also reiterated this fact to Darogaji. He cannot explain as to why this fact has not been stated in his statement recorded by Darogaji. Bhopal had hunted three fishes, which he had kept in a bag. He was fishing by fishing hook.

14. PW-2 Rajpal has also deposed that he witnessed the incident as he was present near the place of occurrence at around 5:30 PM as he was easing himself and after getting eased, he went to river to wash his hands. He saw Bhopal engaged in fishing and suddenly accused Rohtash having a countrymade pistol in his hand and accused Dilip, Vijja, Mughal and King Kong armed with lathi reached there from the side of hillock and they fired at Bhopal. The accused, who were wielding lathi also assaulted him by their lathies. Bhopal died on the spot having been injured. A witness Vishambhar was also present there as he was offering water to cattle for drinking. The lathi which accused Vijja was wielding consisted an iron nail fixed therein. There is a hillock near the place of incident. In cross-examination, the witness stated that the accused persons fled away towards hillock after the incident. He witnessed the incident from a distance of 50-60 paces. Bhopal was fishing by fish hook. He had hunted three fishes. The fishes and fish hook was lying on the spot after the incident. Bhopal was sitting towards Pawa. The witness denied the defence suggestion that he had not seen any occurrence and he was not present in the village at the time of incident. He stated that the accused persons were 50-60 paces away from him when fire was shot.

15. PW-1 Dr. S.K. Sharma is author of postmortem report of the deceased who proved the same by his sworn testimony before the court on which Ext.Ka-1 has been marked. He stated that he prepared the postmortem report in his writing and signature.

16. PW-4 Shiv Raj Singh Tyagi was examined as Investigating Officer of the case who stated in his evidence that the case was registered in his presence on 6.8.1982. He was posted as Station Officer at police station concerned. The chik FIR was scribed by Head Muharrir Satyapal Sharma, who was posted at his police station. The FIR was drawn as per oral version of the informant. In chik FIR Ext.Ka-2 has been marked. He also stated that this police case was registered vide GD No.28, dated 6.8.1982, time 23:30 hours by Head Muharrir Satyapal Sharma. He is acquainted with his signature. The witness proved extracts of GD entries. The witness proved extracts of GD entries filed on record by producing the original before the court and accordingly Ext.Ka-3 has been marked on Paper No.6/1. He stated that he conducted investigation of the case on the same day on which day report was lodged. He started for place of occurrence on same day and reached there at 3:00 AM as the place of occurrence was lying in a jungle, no proceeding could be done due to onset of darkness of night. He carried out inquest of deceased Bhopal on next day in the morning at 6:00 AM on 7.8.1982 and got the inquest report prepared by dictating the same through S.I. J.P. Thapaliar. The inquest report was in the hand writing of J.P. Thapaliar, which also bears signature of the witness (PW-4), on which Ext.Ka-4 has been marked. The police papers like Letter to CMO, Letter to R.I., Challan Lash, Photo Lash were prepared by S.I. J.P. Thapaliar, which also bears signature of the witness on which Ext.Ka-5 to Ka-8 have been marked. He further stated that he dispatched dead body of Bhopal in sealed cover through Constable Balvir and Surendra Singh alongwith necessary enclosures after finishing inquest proceeding. He collected two empty cartridge shells and one refilled live cartridge and kept the same in his possession. He sealed the same. The ammunitions were produced before him during his evidence in sealed cover which bears signature of PW-4 and witnesses which is marked as Ext.Ka-9. He also prepared panchnama of blood stained and plain earth collected from place of occurrence and got it sealed. He proved the inventory of same on which Ext.Ka-10 has been marked. The witness also stated that he conducted spot inspection and recorded statement of the witnesses. He prepared site plan of the place of occurrence in his hand writing and signature on which Ext.Ka-11 has been marked. He filed charge sheet of the case after concluding the investigation in his hand writing and signature, on which Ext.Ka-12 has been marked. He reached the place of occurrence on 3:00 AM which was in jungle and for that reason he could not do any proceeding immediately. He carried out investigation proceeding since 5:15 AM on 7.8.1982. He recorded statement of the informant at police station. The place of occurrence situates 1 furlong away from the village. He conducted inquest at 6:00 AM and got dead body sealed at 7:30 AM. The witness corrected certain clerical errors which occurred in statement of witness Vishambhar recorded by him during his cross-examination.

17. PW-5 Constable Surendra Singh testified that he carried the dead body from the place of occurrence to head quarter on 7.8.1982 alongwith Constable Balvir. The dead body of Bhopal was kept in sealed cover. The GD entry of arrival of dead body at Police Lines is report No.31, time 14:13 hours. He produced the GD of receiving of dead body at Police Line before the Court. In cross-examination, the witness stated that they carried the dead body from place of occurrence by a Jeep, in which S.I. S.S. Tyagi, J.P. Thapalial and Constable Dharampal and Balvir were also sitting. They reached the place of occurrence at 12:30:00 hours in the night. It takes two and half hours in reaching Muzaffar Nagar from the place of occurrence. The police personnel were carrying torches in their hands at the scene of occurrence.

18. Learned counsel for the appellants submitted that the appellants have been implicated in the case due to old enmity between deceased and appellants. Deceased Bhopal was accused in murder case of Samay, son of Chohal. Appellants Dilip and King Kong were real brothers of deceased Samay. Accused appellant Mughal and his sons Rohtash and Vijaypal @ Vija belong to the clan (khandan) of Samay. All the appellants derived their origin from common ancestor Jagan. A genealogical table of the appellants has been given in paragtah No.9 of the impugned judgement as the appellants were witnesses in murder case of Samay in which deceased Bhopal was a potential accused. The informant's side was exerting pressure on the appellants to desist from deposing against Bhopal but the appellants did not oblige them, as a result of which when Bhopal was killed by some unknown person on a secluded place, the appellants have been falsely implicated in the case to settle the score by informant's side. He next submitted that no recovery of any firearm or ammunitions used in the offence has been effected from the appellant by the Investigating Officer, which creates a doubt on authenticity of prosecution version regarding complicity of appellants in the offence. The witnesses of fact i.e. PW-2 Vishambhar and PW-3 Rajpal are chance witnesses and their presence on the spot cannot be held to be natural. The Investigating Officer had not found or collected the fishing hook allegedly used by the deceased at the time of offence or fished hunted by him. The main role has been attributed to accused appellant Rohtash, who is said to have fired a shot at the deceased which proved fatal. Other appellants are attributed the role of causing injuries to deceased by lathi blow in FIR as well as in statements of the witnesses under Section 161 Cr.P.C., however, during investigation, a case has been developed with a view to create consistency with postmortem report that the lathi wielded and used by appellant Vijaypal @ Vija was having a long nail fixed therein. In postmortem report of the appellant as many as 8 antemortem injuries are shown on the person of the deceased out of which injury No.8 is incised wound of 3 inch X 1 inch X abdominal cavity deep over right side of chest and this injury can only be caused by sharp edged weapon. Such type of injury cannot be caused by lathi or even by a lathi fixed with a nail as deposed by witnesses of fact i.e. PW-2 and PW-3. Therefore, injury No.8 of the deceased remained unexplained in prosecution evidence. This depicts that the witnesses had not seen the occurrence and they are got up witnesses. The general role has been assigned to surviving appellant Vijaypal @ Vija that he had assaulted the deceased by lathi together with other appellants namely, Mughal, Dilip and King Kong. The presence and complicity of surviving appellant Vijaypal @ Vija is highly doubtful in view of the fact that the weapon (lathi fixed with iron nail) could have hardly caused injury No.8 as shown in postmortem report of the deceased. PW-3 has falsely stated that there was lying his agricultural field in the vicinity of place of occurrence on way. No agricultural field of Rajpal (PW-3) is shown in site plan.

19. With above submissions and contentions, learned counsel for the appellants prayed for acquittal of surviving appellant Vijaypal @ Vija in present appeal.

20. Per contra, learned AGA strongly supported the impugned judgement and order passed by learned trial court by which the appellant has been convicted and sentenced for charges under Sections 302/149, 147, 148 IPC. He submitted that the case is based on eye-witness account of witnesses i.e. PW-2 Vishambhar and PW-3 Rajpal. There was no occasion on the part of the witnesses to falsely implicate the appellants. They had no grudge or enmity with the appellants. The mode and manner of assault and the nature and number of injuries suffered by the deceased are duly proved by ocular testimony and medical evidence adduced during trial. There is consistency between medical and ocular testimony on point that deceased suffered two firearm injuries in the incident on his chest and back. The appellants nurtured strong motive against the deceased Bhopal as he was accused in murder case of Samay, who was real brother of appellants King Kong and Dilip and son of the real sister of accused Mughal and cousin of Rohtash and Vijaypal @ Vijja. The appellants committed murder of Bhopal to retaliate murder of their relative Samay. The eye-witnesses are natural witnesses of the incident as they are resident of same village where deceased and accused appellants were residing and their presence on the spot is duly explained in their testimony before the court and their presence cannot be doubted. FIR in the present case was lodged with promptness, keeping in view the distance of police station from place of incident as shown in chik FIR (Ext.ka-2). Nothing can be elicited by defence in evidence of prosecution witnesses of fact which could suggest reasonable doubt in testimony of the witnesses. The FIR in the case was lodged by the PW-2 Vishambhar, who is unconcerned with either of the parties. He narrated the sequence of events to Head Muharrir at police station orally and on his oral information, chik FIR (Ext.Ka-2) was drawn. There is no infirmity or misappreciation of evidence on the part of the learned trial court. Appeal deserves to be dismissed.

21. We re-appreciated the evidence on record in the light of submissions and contentions made by learned counsel for the parties to determine the question as to whether there is any factual or legal error in impugned judgement and order passed by learned trial court. So far as the motive of commission of the alleged offence is concerned, the motive has been introduced in FIR itself by the informant Vishambhar, who is also an eye-witness who stated that prior to nine months of the date of incident in present case which is 6.8.1982, murder of Samay, son of Chohal and brother of co-appellants Dilip and King Kong took place. This murder was committed by his co-villagers namely, Bhopal and others and for this enmity, on 6.8.1982 at around 5:30 to 6:00 PM, when the informant was coming back to home after taking his bullocks from his agricultural field, he found deceased Bhopal sitting on the slope of hillock on southwards of river bank. Suddenly, his co-villagers namely, Rohtash, Vijaypal @ Vijja, sons of Mughal, Mughal son of Ragsi, Dilip and King Kong, sons of Chohal emerged there. Rohtash was having a countrymade pistol and other miscreants were having lathies in their hands. Rohtash fired two shots at Bhopal and other accused persons assaulted him with lathi. Bhopal died on the spot due to injuries received in the incident. The informant witnesses the incident, left the dead body in supervision of villagers and reached police station anyhow with some delay on account of non availability of transport and the road becoming muddy. The FIR was lodged at around 23:30 hours. The FIR bears thumb impression of informant Vishambhar, which has been proved by informant in his evidence before the Court on which Ext.Ka-2 has been marked. The FIR in the case was drawn against five named accused persons on the basis of oral information given by PW-2. The witnesses of fact namely, PW-2 Vishambhar and PW-3 Rajpal have duly proved the motive introduced in FIR in their evidence during trial. PW-1 Vishambhar stated on oath as PW-2 that deceased Bhopal was his co-villager, who was an accused in murder case of Samay, the brother of accused Dilip and King Kong. Accused Mughal and his sons Rohtash and Vijaypal belong to branch of Ransi and King Kong, Dilip and deceased Samay are sons of Chohal, who was husband of Chhoti, sister of Ransi. Thus, all the accused persons belongs to same clan. PW-2 stated that he had seen accused Rohtash firing two shots at deceased Bhopal from behind. Thereafter, accused Dilip, King Kong and Mughal also came out from their place of hiding and assaulted the injured by their lathis resulting his death. This incident was also seen by witness Rajpal when the witnesses tried to intervene, the accused persons went towards Pawa. He went straight to police station for lodging the FIR and got the same lodged on the basis of his oral information. The lathi wielded by Vijaypal @ Vijja was fixed a long nail. There was distance of 30 paces between the banks of the river.

22. In site plan the river on which on which bank the deceased was sitting and fishing by fishing hook is shown to have 8 to 10 feet water. The dead body was found at place 'A' in supine position where the deceased Bhopal was fishing. Accused ran away after committing the crime towards east. Two empty cartridge shells and one cartridge was found at place 'D' and 'E' lying near the place where the dead body was found and same was taken into possession by the Investigating Officer. The legs of deceased were turned from knees and found hanging in river water. The Investigating Officer took into possession blood stained and plain soil found on place of incident. A 'chari' field of Phool Singh, who is resident of jungle village Khedaki is shown lying north westwards of the place of incident. PW-3, Rajpal stated that at the time of incident, he had gone to river bank for easing (answering call of nature) at around 5:00 to 5:30 PM and when he was washing his hands, he saw deceased Bhopal fishing on the bank side of river and suddenly accused persons came from the side of hillock. Rohtash fired shots at Bhopal and the accused persons who were wielding lathi assaulted him by their respective lathies. Bhopal fell down after being injured. The lathi wielded by accused Vijja was fixed with an iron nail. The witness Vishambhar was also present when fire was shot. Both the witnesses have stated that Vishambhar was present on south bank of river and Rajpal was present on north bank of river. Their village lies towards hillock situated near the river. Some agricultural fields intervene between the place of incident and the river on which incident occurred. Investigating Officer (PW-4) clarified in his evidence that due to heavy footfall at the place of incident, the fishing hook and fishes hunted by the deceased could not be found and same might have been removed by someone.

23. Learned counsel for the appellant forcefully contended that both the witnesses are chance witnesses and no reliance can be place on their statement. We are not ready to subscribe this contention as both the witnesses are co-villagers of the deceased and accused persons. The incident occurred at the outskirts of the village at the bank of local river adjacent to their village. Both the witnesses have explained the reasons for their presence. The accused persons failed to establish their contention that they are interested witnesses. A suggestion has been made to them on behalf of the defence counsel that they belong to clan of deceased Bhopal but no such evidence could be led in support of this. There is no evidence that the witnesses were inimical towards the appellants for any reason whatsoever. It could not be established in evidence during trial that the witnesses had any direct relationship with the deceased. Therefore, there was no occasion for them to falsely implicate the accused persons in the case. PW-2 Vishambhar has explained the delay of few hours in lodging of FIR in FIR itself and nothing can be illicited in his cross-examination which could suggest that the FIR was ante timed or the delay in lodging of FIR remained unexplained. As many as 8 injuries were found on the person of deceased in his postmortem, which is duly proved by its author Dr. S.K. Sharma during his evidence as PW-1 before the Court. One firearm injury over left side of back and one firearm wound of exit on left side of chest corresponding to back injury and one gunshot wound on right side of chest just lateral to sternum are shown in postmortem examination report, which substantially corroborate the eye-witness account given by PW-2 and PW-3 that accused Rohtash fired two shots at Bhopal by his countrymade pistol. Three injuries found on the person of deceased reveal that these were caused by two firearm shots. The enmity between accused persons and deceased also finds support from documents filed on record with regard to S.T. No.30/1982, which relates murder trial of Samay, son of Chohal and in that case, deceased Bhopal, Bhansingh and Raghuveer were tried. Appellant Mughal had testified as prosecution witness in earlier murder case against deceased Bhopal and others in said criminal trial.

24. On a meticulous appreciation of evidence on record, we find no infirmity or discrepancy in approach and finding of learned trial court while recording the verdict of guilt against co-appellants namely, Rohtash, Mughal, Dilip and King Kong for charge under Section 302/34 IPC. The evidence of witnesses is found reliable so far as these appellants (since deceased) are concerned and learned trial court has rightly recorded verdict of guilt against them for alleged offence under Section 302/34 IPC. However, we cannot lost sight of a crucial fact found in post mortem report of deceased Bhopal (Ext.Ka-1) which reveals that in antemortem injury No.8 of Bhopal “incised wound 3 X 1 inch X abdominal cavity deep over right side chest in anterior auxiliary line just above costal margin. Margins clean cut, angles angular” is described whereas in FIR or even in statement of witnesses, it is nowhere stated that any of the accused persons were armed with a sharp edged weapon, by which injury No.8 of deceased could have been caused. PW-2 and PW-3 has made an improvement in their evidence before the Court from their earlier version in the FIR/statement under Section 161 Cr.P.C. where they stated that the lathi wielded by accused Vijaypal @ Vija was fixed with an iron nail probably with a view to explain this injury No.8 of deceased Bhopal as stated above.

25. If we go through the evidence of PW-1 Dr. S.K. Sharma on this score, this is noticeable that he categorically stated in his cross-examination that injury No.8 of Bhopal as shown in postmortem examination report may not have been caused by a nail fixed in the lathi. This injury could only be caused by a sharp edged weapon. This injury could not have been caused by a pointed weapon. This injury must have been caused by a sharp edged weapon. If a small 'gadasa' had been fixed in a lathi in that case, such injury might have been caused. Such injury could also have been caused by some flat sharp edged weapon. Thus, the weapon assigned to surviving appellant Vijaypal @ Vija in evidence of witnesses of fact i.e. a lathi fixed with a nail is not found as weapon of offence in medical evidence which might have been caused injury No.8 of the deceased. Thus, injury No.8 of deceased Bhopal has not been duly explained in ocular testimony of the witnesses. Although, they had tried to explain the same by some improvement in their earlier version during investigation, as the injury attributed to appellant Vijaypal @ Vija with regard to injury No.8 of the deceased is not found to have been caused by the weapon assigned to the appellant in the light of medical evidence and there is apparent inconsistency between ocular and medical evidence in this regard and the evidence on this score cannot be relied upon also due to the fact that in FIR, the informant Vishambhar (PW-2) has nowhere stated that an iron nail was fixed in lathi wielded by appellant Vijaypal @ Vija. From perusal of statement of Investigating Officer, it appears that in statement of witness Vishambhar under Section 161 Cr.P.C., the word 'keelwali' was added above word 'lathi' after completion of his statement. Similarly, the Investigating Officer (PW-4) admitted that the words "Vija ki lathi me keel lagi thi" was included in statement of Rajpal under Section 161 Cr.P.C. in the last line of his statement and a suggestion has been given to the PW-4 by defence during cross-examination that this sentence has been added subsequently in his statement after recording the same.

26. Hon'ble Supreme Court in a recent judgement of Darshan Singh vs. State of Punjab, (2024) 1 SCR 248, dated 4.1.2024 observed in paragraph No.26 as under:-

"26. If the PWs had failed to mention in their statements u/s 161 CrPC about the involvement of an accused, their subsequent statement before court during trial regarding involvement of that particular accused cannot be relied upon. Prosecution cannot seek to prove a fact during trial through a witness which such witness had not stated to police during investigation. The evidence of that witness regarding the said improved fact is of no significance. [See : (i) Rohtash Vs. State of Haryana, (2012) 6 SCC 589 (ii) Sunil Kumar Shambhu Dayal Gupta Vs. State of Maharashtra, 2011 (72) ACC 699 (SC). (iii) Rudrappa Ramappa Jainpur Vs. State of Karnataka, (2004) 7 SCC 422 (iv) Vimal Suresh Kamble Vs. Chaluverapinake, (2003) 3 SCC 175]."

27. In the light of foregoing discussion, we are of the considered opinion that complicity of surviving appellant namely, Vijaypal @ Vija in the offence has not been found to be proved on re-appreciation of evidence on record in present appeal in the light of submissions made by learned counsel for the parties and the impugned judgement and order cannot be countenanced as regards surviving appellant Vijaypal @ Vija is concerned. The charges under Sections 302/149 and 147 IPC are not found to be proved against appellant Vija alias Vijaipal beyond reasonable doubt and the judgement of learned trial court deserves to be set aside qua surviving appellant Vija alias Vijaipal.

28. The appeal stands partly allowed qua appellant Vija alias Vijaipal and his conviction and sentence for charges under Sections 302/149 and 147 IPC in S.T. No.381 of 1982 by court below vide impugned judgement and order dated 9.12.1983 are set aside. He is acquitted of all charges. He has been enlarged on bail in present appeal by orders of this Court. He need not to surrender. His bail bonds are cancelled and sureties are discharged.

29. Let a copy of this judgement be forwarded to learned trial court for necessary compliance and further action together with record of trial court, immediately.

8. The deceased died on same day i.e. 18.3.2013 at about 5:00 PM and her post-mortem was conducted at MLN Hospital, Allahabad on 19.3.2013. The cause of death was due to septicemia as a result of ante-mortem burn injuries. The post-mortem report, Ex.Ka 3 stated that on the upper part of the body i.e. above neck, there was no injury and the deceased suffered the burn injury all over the upper chest, abdomen, left and right arms. However, no percentage of the burn injury was assessed. The police also prepared the Panchayatnama, Ex.Ka.5 in which as per the opinion of the Panches, the deceased died due to burn injuries. Thereafter, the police concluded the investigation and submitted the charge-sheet only against the accused-appellant Jaydevi @ Akhilesh.

9. It is worth noticing that the incident is dated 13.3.2013 at about 4:00 AM in the matrimonial home of deceased Suman, who is sister of the informant, however, no FIR was registered instantly and as per the prosecution, a complaint was given to the Superintendent of Police, i.e. Ex.Ka.1 but no action was taken and thereafter, a complaint was given to the Ilaka Magistrate under Section 156(3) of Cr.P.C. on 21.3.2013 (which is Ex.Ka.2). This complaint was filed against two accused persons, namely, Sajawati Devi and Jaydevi @ Akhilesh. The learned Magistrate passed an order and thereafter, the chik FIR was registered on 9.4.2013.

10. The police dropped the proceedings against Sajawati Devi and submitted the charge-sheet only against the appellant. The case was committed to the court of Sessions where charges under Section 302 I.P.C. were framed against the appellant on 1.8.2014.

11. The appellant did not plead guilty and claimed trial.

12. In prosecution evidence, informant- PW-1, Akhilesh Kumar appeared and deposed as under:

"मेरी बहन सुमन (मृतका) की शादी राधेश्याम पुत्र राजमणि निवासी ग्राम पाली थाना बरसठी, जौनपुर के

साथ हुई थी। मृतका सुमन अपनी ससुराल में रह रही थी। सुमन के 4 पुत्रियां हैं। "सुमन जेठानी सजावटी है। अभियुक्ता जय देवी उर्फ अखिलेश भी पाली गाँव की रहने वाली है।"

घटना दि० 13-3-13 ई०की सुबह 4.00 बजे की है। सुमन के जलने की सूचना मिलने पर मैं उसके घर जा रहा था कि अगहुआ बाजार में सुमन जली हुई अवस्था में मिली जिसके साथ उसके परिवार के लोग व" गाँव के लोग मिले और उन्हीं लोगों में से किसी ने बताया को उसकी जेठानी तथा जय देवी उर्फ अखिलेश ने मिट्टी का तेल डालकर आग लगाकर जला दिया है।" मैं सुमन को लेकर सरकारी अस्पताल मछलीशहर गया जहां डाक्टर ने उसकी स्थिति गम्भीर देखकर इलाहाबाद ले जाने की सलाह दिया। इलाहाबाद ले जाते समय रास्ते में ही सुमन की हालत बिगडती देखकर मैंने मुंगराबादशाहपुर में प्राइवेट डाक्टर से उसके घावों पर दवा लगवाया। तत्पश्चात स्वरूपरानी अस्पताल इलाहाबाद के इमर्जेंसी वार्ड में भर्ती कराया जहाँ इलाज के दौरान जलने की चोटों के कारण दि० 18-3-13 की शाम करीब 5.00 बजे उसकी मृत्यु हो गई।

मृतक सुमन के शव का पंचायतनामा मेरे सामने हुआ था जिस पर मैंने हस्ताक्षर बनाया था। घटना की सूचना थाने पर मेरे भाई आशीष ने दिया था। कोई कार्यवाही न होने पर मैंने कप्तान साहब को रजिस्टर्ड डाक से प्रार्थना पत्र भेजा था जिसकी छाया प्रति संलग्न पत्रावली है जिस पर मेरा हस्ताक्षर है जिस पर प्रदर्शक 1 डाला गया। पुलिस द्वारा कोई कार्यवाही न होने पर मैंने न्यायालय में प्रार्थना पत्र यू/एस 156 (3) सीआरपीसी दिया था। जिस पर मैंने अपना हस्ताक्षर बनाया था। न्यायालय के आदेश मुकदमा पंजीकृत हुआ। उक्त प्रार्थना पत्र संलग्न पत्रावली है जिस पर मेरा हस्ताक्षर है जिस पर प्रदर्शक 2 डाला गया।

Cross by Defence

घटना स्थल से मेरा घर करीब 20 किमी की दूरी पर है। मेरी बहन सुमन की शादी 17-18 वर्ष की उम्र में हुई थी। शादी के 8-9 साल बाद की यह घटना है। घटना के पूर्व मेरी बहन को 4लड़कियां पैदा हुईं और सभी जीवित हैं। "कम उम्र में शादी होने और बच्चा पैदा होने की वजह से वह अक्सर

बीमार रहती थी और उसका इलाज भी चल रहा था। बीमारी के कारण सुमन शारीरिक व मानसिक रूप से काफी क्षीण हो गई थी।"

"मेरे जीजा राधेश्याम मेरी बहन सुमन के साथ परिवार से अलग रहते थे। इन दोनों का खाना-पीना व रहन-सहन भी अलग था। परिवार के मकान व खेत से मेरे जीजा व बहन का कोई वास्ता सरोकार नहीं था। घटना के पूर्व में मेरे जीजा राधेश्याम व बहन सुमन का विवाद परिवार के अन्य सदस्यों से नहीं था। परिवार के सभी लोग आपस में मिल जुलकर खुशहाल जिन्दगी व्यतीत कर रहे थे।"

टू कोर्ट

अभियुक्ता जय देवी से मेरा समझौता हो गया है। समझौता बगैर पैसे का का हुआ है बयान मैंने अपनी इच्छा से दिया है।

बाई डिफेन्स :-

घटना के समय मेरे जीजा राधेश्याम बम्बई में थे। घटना के समय घटना स्थल पर मैं मौजूद नहीं था। घटना मैंने अपनी आँखों से नहीं देखी है। जिस समय मेरी बहन सुमन के ससुराल वाले इलाज के लिए ले जा रहे थे तो रास्ते में ही मेरी मुलाकात उन

लोगों से हुई। उस समय करीब 50 लोगों की भीड़ थी। उसी भीड़ में से किसी ने सुमन के जलने वाली बात बताया था। भीड़ की बजह से मैं उस व्यक्ति जान पहचान नहीं पाया। बहन की हालत देखकर मैं काफी घबराहट में था और सुनी सुनाई बातों के आधार पर मैंने मुकदमा कर दिया। विशेष कोई जांच पड़ताल नहीं किया। इलाज के दौरान मेरी बहन गम्भीर रूप से पीड़ित थी और कुछ स्पष्ट बोल नहीं पा रही थी।"

13. In cross-examination, this witness admitted that during the treatment his sister was not in a position to speak as she was seriously injured.

14. PW-2- Khushboo, aged about 10 years, who is daughter of the victim appeared and stated that she has no knowledge as to who has caused the burn injuries to her mother. No cross-examination was offered to this witness.

15. PW-3- Rajendra Prasad, Village Pradhan appeared and deposed as under:

"घटना दि० 13-3-13 ई० की करीब 4.00 बजे सुबह की है। उस समय मैं गाँव का प्रधान था। "सुबह जब मैं सोकर उठा तो मुझे पता चला कि सुमन जल गई है तो उसके घर गया और सुमन से पूँछा कि तुम कैसे जल गई तो उसने बताया कि जलती ढिबरी

(चिमनी) मेरे उपर गिर गई जिससे मैं जल गई।" सुमन को इलाज हेतु एक चारपहिया वाहन से अस्पताल भेजा गया तो रास्ते में उसका भाई व परिवार वाले मिल गये और उसे स्वरूपरानी हास्पिटल इलाहाबाद ले गये जहाँ वह भर्ती हुई और दवा इलाज हुआ दि० 18-3-13 ई० को मैं कुछ लोगों के सुमन को देखने अस्पताल गया तो देखा कि सुमन की हालत गम्भीर थी। मैंने सुमन से बात किया तो उसके भाई व माँ सुमन से कहे कि हम लोग कहे है वैसा ही बयान देना नहीं तो हम लोग तुम्हे यहीं छोड़कर घर चले जायेंगे और तुम्हारा इलाज नहीं करायेगे। सुमन के भाई व माँ उसे सिखा पढ़ाकर उससे गलत बयान दिलवाना चाहते थे। पुलिस ने मेरा बयान लिया था।

X X X X X X X

किसी पुलिस अधिकारी ने मेरा कोई बयान नहीं लिया था।" अभियुक्ता जयदेवी ने सुमन को जलाया नहीं था। सुमन जलती हुई ढिबरी गिर आने से जली थी। जिससे उसकी मृत्यु हुई थी। घटना के दूसरे दिन सुमन को देखने मैं स्वरूपरानी हास्पिटल गया था। तो उस समय सुमन बोल नहीं पा रही थी और न ही बोलने की स्थिति में थी।"

16. PW-4- Abhiraji Devi, mother-in-law of deceased Suman, stated as under:

"दिनांक 13-3-13 ई0 को मैं अपने कमरे में सो रही थी और बगल वाले कमरे में मेरी बहू मृतक सुमन देवी अपने बच्चों के साथ सो रही थी और उसके बगल के कमरे में मेरी बड़ी बहू सजावटी देवी अपने बच्चों के साथ सो रही थी। "सुबह करीब 4.00 सुमन शौच के लिए उठी कि अचानक उसकी चारपाई के पास ऊपर रखी ढिबरी में उसका हाथ टकरा गया और जलती हुई ढिबरी उसके ऊपर गिर गई जिससे उसके कपड़ों में आग लग गई और वह जलने लगी तो उसने चिल्लाना शुरू किया। चिल्लाहट सुनकर हम लोग दरवाजा खोलना चाहे लेकिन अन्दर से दरवाजा बन्द होने की वजह से नहीं खुल सका। बल्कि तेज धक्का देने के बाद दरवाजा खुल गया तो सुमन बाहर की तरफ भागी। इसके बाद हम लोग कथरी लपेटकर उसकी आग बुझाये"। इसके बाद हम लोग गाडी की व्यवस्था करके अस्पताल ले जा रहे थे कि रास्ते में उसके मायके वाले मिल गये और सुमन को इलाज हेतु स्वरूप रानी हास्पिटल इलाहाबाद ले गये जहां दौरान इलाज 4-5 दिन बाद उसकी मृत्यु हो

X X X X X X X X

घटना के समय मैं मृतका के कमरे से सटे हुए कमरे में मौजूद थी। घटना के वक्त मृतका सुमन का शोर सुनकर तत्काल मैं उसके कमरे के पास पहुंच गई। उस समय सुमन के कमरे का दरवाजा अन्दर से बन्द था। हम लोग बाहर से कई बार दरवाजे पर धक्का मारे तब अन्दर से जंजीर व कुण्डी छिटक गई तब दरवाजा खुल गया। हम लोगों ने अन्दर की तरफ देखा तो कमरे के अन्दर सुमन व उसके बच्चे मौजूद थे तथा सुमन जल रही थी और बच्चे चिल्ला रहे थे। दरवाजा खुलते ही सुमन व बच्चे बाहर भागे। कमरे के अन्दर काफी धुँवा मौजूद था। मैंने सुमन को कथरी से ढककर उसको बुझाने व बचाने का प्रयास किया और सुमन से पूँछा कि तुम्हे कैसे आग लग गई तो सुमन ने मुझसे व वहाँ मौजूद लोगों से कहा था कि मेरे कमरे में ढिबरी जल रही थी जो गलती से मेरे हाथ से टकरा गई और ढिबरी मेरे ऊपर गिर गई और मिट्टी का तेल भी मेरे ऊपर गिर गया जिससे मेरे कपड़ों में आग लग गई और मैं जलने लगी। "सुमन से मैंने यह भी

पूँछा कि ढिबरी तुम्हारे बच्चे या अन्य किसी ने तो नहीं गिराया है तो उसने कहा कि मेरी बच्चियों का अन्य किसी ने मेरे ऊपर ढिबरी नहीं गिरायी थी। सुमन के कमरे के अन्दर मैंने घुसकर देखा तो सुमन की चारपाई पर सुमन की ही ढिबरी गिरी पड़ी थी जिसे मैंने पहले भी सुमन के कमरे में देखा था। सुमन की लडकी भी मुझे बताई कि दादी यही ढिबरी मेरी माँ के ऊपर गिरी थी जिससे वह जली है। सुमन की लडकी ने यह भी बताया था कि धुँवा इतना ज्यादा हो गया था कि हम लोग घबरा गये और घबराहट व अँधेरा होने की वजह से दरवाजे की कुण्डी नहीं खोल सकी। सुमन जलने से गम्भीर स्थिति में थी इसलिये हम लोग तुरन्त उसे लेकर इलाज हेतु इलाहाबाद लेकर चले गये जहाँ इलाज के दौरान सुमन की स्थिति दिन प्रतिदिन खराब होती गई। जलने के 5 दिन बाद शाम 5 बजे सुमन की अस्पताल में ही मृत्यु हो गई थी। "मरने के 5-6 घण्टे पूर्व सुमन का बयान लेने तहसीलदार आये थे लेकिन उस समय सुमन बोलने की स्थिति में नहीं थी और वह बेहोश थी तथा लम्बी-2 सांसे ले रही थी।" एक बार डाक्टर ने तहसीलदार से सुमन का बयान लेने से

मना कर दिया था। डाक्टर के मना करने के बावजूद भी तहसीलदार ने सुमन के भाई के बताने के अनुसार बयान दर्ज कर लिया था। हाजिर अदालत अभियुक्ता जयदेवी उर्फ अखिलेश देवी घटना के समय सुमन के कमरे में या उसके अगर बगल मौजूद नहीं थी। घटना के समय जय देवी उर्फ अखिलेश देवी अपने घर पर मौजूद थी सुमन के कमरे से अभियुक्ता जय देवी का कमरा पश्चिम तरफ काफी दूरी पर है। सुमन के घर व अभियुक्ता के घर के बीच कई लोगों के खेत व गड़ही है। अभियुक्ता जय देवी मेरे परिवार की नहीं हैं बल्कि वह पट्टीदारी की औरत है। सुमन व जयदेवी के बीच घटना के पूर्व कोई विवाद या दुश्मनी नहीं थी और न ही उन दोनों के बीच घटना के 4-6 दिन पहले कोई झगडा ही हुआ था।"

In further cross-examination, this witness stated that Panchayatnama, Ex.Ka.5 was not prepared by him.

19. PW-7- Balendra Gautam, Inspector, I.O. stated that on 9.4.2013, the Case No. 133/13, under Section 302 I.P.C. was registered and its chik FIR, as per the order of the court was prepared and the site plan, Ex.Ka.12 was also prepared. Thereafter, he recorded the statement of the prosecution witnesses. On 10.4.2013, he recorded the statement of Nagendra Kumar Singh, Magistrate and Dr. Vimlendu and obtained the copy of the post-mortem report. On 17.4.2013, vide G.D. No. 5, he found that Sajawati Devi is falsely implicated in the case and on 22.4.2013 accused Jaydevi was arrested and thereafter, on completion of investigation, charge-sheet was submitted which is Ex.K.13. He proved the chik FIR and G.D. as Ex.Ka.14 and Ex.Ka.15. In cross-examination, this witness stated that the incident is of 13.3.2013 whereas the FIR was registered on 9.4.2013. He further stated that when a complaint was given to the police by the brother of husband of the deceased, he recorded the statement of Radhey Shyam, husband of the deceased who has stated that his brother has got the FIR registered by faking a false incident and therefore, in his investigation, the incident of burning the victim by accused person was found to be fake incident. He further stated that the house of Jaydevi is situated at a far off place from the place of occurrence and in the site plan, he has shown one kerosene chimney (earthen lamp) which has fallen on the deceased at the time of incident.

20. He further stated that he recorded the statement of Abhiraji Devi, mother-in-law of the deceased who stated that deceased sustained burn injuries due to falling of earthen lamp and she sustained the burn injuries accidentally. She further stated that the room was locked from inside and on hearing the cries, they opened the door and doused the fire. Similar statement was made by Khushboo, daughter of the deceased. He further stated that even Radhe Shyam, husband of the deceased has given a statement during investigation that the entire incident is false and fake and his wife died due to burn injuries sustained due to falling of earthen lamp on the deceased and regarding the treatment of the victim, she stated that at the first instance on 13.3.2013 at 10:30 AM, deceased was taken to Swaroop Rani Hospital, Allahabad for her first aid and her post-mortem was conducted on 19.3.2013. As per the FIR, the victim was referred to Allahabad, however, the informant got her first aid in a private hospital and then got her admitted in Swaroop Rani Hospital where she died. This witness further stated that he had gone to record the statement of doctor of Swaroop Rani Hospital and in the statement it has not come on record whether deceased Suman was in a position to depose before her death as doctor refused to give any such statement.

21. Thereafter, the statement of the accused under Section 313 Cr.P.C. was recorded and all the incriminating evidence was put to her. The accused denied all the allegations and stated that the doctor has wrongly given an opinion being a Govt. servant. In reply to question no.15 regarding giving any clarification, she stated that she has been falsely implicated in order to extract money and she is innocent.

22. Thereafter, the trial court vide impugned judgment dated 01.08.2018 convicted the appellant under Section 302 I.P.C. and awarded her life imprisonment.

23. Learned counsel for the appellant has argued that there is material variation in the statement given to the police and the dying declaration. It is submitted that in the FIR it is nowhere mentioned that appellant-Akhilesh @ Jaydevi was related to the victim whereas, in the dying declaration she has stated accused to be her cousin sister-in-law. She further submits that in the dying declaration, the name of appellant is mentioned as Akhilesh w/o Prem Chand whereas the appellant's name is Jaydevi and therefore, the identity of the appellant is highly doubtful in the dying declaration.

24. Learned counsel next argued that PW-6 who recorded the statement/dying declaration has admitted that he has not mentioned in the dying declaration that he has satisfied himself that the deceased was in a fit condition to record the statement or not. He has also shown ignorance about the doctor who has given the fitness certificate. It is next argued that on the dying declaration there are two endorsements of the doctor recorded at 11:05 AM and 11:15 AM. In both the endorsements, it is certified that Suman w/o Radhey Shyam is conscious and oriented during her statement. However, it is not recorded that the deceased was in a fit mental condition to record her statement. It is argued that PW-6 has neither obtained the signature of any of the attendant or family member of the deceased nor has recorded the same in the presence of the I.O. who has also not attested the same.

25. The appellant has set up a defence regarding her identity as both the name of the appellant as well as her husband name are wrongly given in the dying declaration, as PW-6 has failed to clarify this aspect.

26. Learned counsel has further submitted that nothing is stated in this dying declaration that after recording the same the I.O., he has read over the same to the victim and after understanding the same, she has put her right foot thumb impression.

27. Learned counsel further submitted that even there is no endorsement on the dying declaration that the same has been handed over to the I.O. in a sealed cover rather nothing has come on record when it proceedings against Sajawati Devi has come on record.

28. It is next argued that the doctor who treated the victim Suman from 13.3.2013 to 18.3.2013 for a period of about six days was never examined by the prosecution and even the operating notes was not produced on record and therefore, an important right to cross-examine the doctor about the nature of the injuries sustained, the mental state of the victim to make any statement and the nature of sedative medicine given to the victim is denied.

29. It is next argued that the deceased sustained burn injury on 13.3.2013 and her dying declaration was recorded on 18.3.2013 at 11:15 AM whereas the victim died on the same day at 5:30 PM i.e. in a span of about six and a half hours. It is argued that in such situation, as per the statement of PW-6 and the witnesses of fact, it is proved that the deceased was in a critical condition immediately before her death and was not in a position to speak and therefore, by not recording dying declaration for a period of six days when the victim was in hospital and recording it just few hours before her death raises a suspicion about its admissibility.

30. It is next argued that none of the witnesses of fact have supported the prosecution version and in the first complaint given to the Superintendent of Police on 16.3.2013 (Ex.K.1) i.e. after four days and no explanation of delay is given and even in complaint under Section 156(3) of Cr.P.C. two persons namely Sajawati Devi and appellant- Jaydevi @ Akhilesh are named. However, the charge-sheet was presented only against the appellant and no explanation regarding dropping the

31. Learned counsel for the appellant has next argued that all the witness of facts have consistently deposed that the deceased sustained burn injuries due to falling of a kerosene lantern and, therefore, the role of the appellant is not proved. It is also argued that there is no motive for the appellant to commit the offence as the witnesses of facts have admitted that she is not related to the family of husband of the victim and rather at the first instance, the allegations were against one Sajawati Devi who was stated to be the sister-in-law i.e. husband's brother's wife.

32. Learned counsel has next argued that the motive was attributed to Sajawati Devi as it is stated in the FIR that she used to harass and maltreat the deceased, even on previous occasions and, therefore, the prosecution has failed to prove the motive against the appellant.

33. Learned counsel has next argued that one of the eye witness, namely, Khusboo, PW-2, the daughter of the victim who as per the prosecution, was present in the room, also did not support the prosecution version.

34. Learned counsel for the appellant has further argued that the mother-in-law of the deceased also did not name the appellant as a person who has caused burn injuries and PW-7 (Balendra Gautam), the Investigating Officer has categorically stated that he has recorded the statement of Radhey Shyam, husband of the deceased, who has stated that entire incident is fake and no such offence was committed by the appellant.

35. Learned counsel for the appellant has lastly argued that the case of the prosecution is that accused named in the complaint namely, Sajawati Devi, on account of Pattidari was having a grudge with Suman and used to harass and maltreat her and even on the date of incident, she entered the house, abused Suman and gave fist blows. However, Sajawati Devi was given a clean chit by the police and no charge-sheet were presented against her and, therefore, the motive which was attributed towards Sajawati Devi, cannot be attributed to the appellant to hold her guilty of offence .

36. Counsel for the appellant has also relied upon the decision in Shambhubhai Kalabhai Raval vs. State of Gujarat, 2023 SCC OnLine SC 1420, wherein the Supreme Court has held as under :

“6. There are other factors on the basis which we can say that the dying declaration is not free from a serious doubt. The said reasons are as under:- (i) The dying declaration itself does not bear the endorsement of the doctor regarding the fitness of the deceased to make a statement; (ii) A panchnama (Exhibit '29') was recorded around 10:10 P.M. on 31.07.1994, which records that the deceased was barely able to tell her name and she stated that she could not speak. The alleged dying declaration was recorded between 09:45 P.M. to 10:00 P.M.; (iii) Even the police personnel, who recorded the panchnama has stated that the deceased was not in a position to speak; and (iv) PW5 - Dr. Rajendra, who examined the deceased stated in the cross-examination that when he asked the deceased about the cause of burn injuries, she disclosed that she poured kerosene on herself. But she gave no reason why she did the act.

7. These factors taken together create a serious doubt about the correctness of the dying declaration. Therefore, the dying declaration will have to be kept out of consideration. In any case, 5 the dying declaration is not of that sterling quality on which the conviction can be based in absence of any other evidence. Therefore, the prosecution has failed to prove the guilt of the appellant beyond a reasonable doubt. The appeal succeeds and the impugned orders are quashed and set aside. The appellant is acquitted.”

37. He has also relied upon the decision in Umakant and another Vs. State of Chhatisgarh, (2014) 7 SCC 405 wherein the Supreme Court has held as under :

“22. The legal position about the admissibility of a dying declaration is settled by this Court in several judgments. This Court in Atbir v. Government of NCT of Delhi- 2010 (9) SCC 1, taking into consideration the earlier judgments of this Court in Paniben v. State of Gujarat - 1992 (2) SCC 474 and another judgment of this Court in Panneerselvam v. State of Tamilnadu - 2008 (17) SCC 190 has given certain guidelines while considering a dying declaration:

“(i). Dying declaration can be the sole basis of conviction if it inspires full confidence of the Court.

(ii). The Court should be satisfied that the deceased was in a fit state of mind at the time of making the statement and that it was not the result of tutoring, prompting or imagination.

(iii). Where the Court is satisfied that the declaration is true and voluntary, it can base its conviction without any further corroboration.

(iv). It cannot be laid down as an absolute rule of law that the dying declaration cannot form the sole basis of conviction unless it is corroborative. The rule requiring corroboration is merely a rule of prudence.

(v). Where the dying declaration is suspicious, it should not be acted upon without corroborative evidence.

(vi). A dying declaration which suffers from infirmities, such as the deceased was unconscious and could never make any statement cannot form the basis of conviction.

(vii). Merely because a dying declaration does not contain all the details as to the occurrence, it is not to be rejected.

(viii). Even if it is a brief statement, it is not to be discarded.”

9. When the eye-witness affirms that the deceased was not in a fit and conscious state to make the dying declaration, medical opinion cannot prevail.

10. If after careful scrutiny the Court is satisfied that it is free from any effort to induce the deceased to make a false statement and if it is coherent and consistent, there shall be no legal impediment to make it basis of conviction, even if there is no corroboration.

23. In the light of the above legal position that governs the consideration of a dying declaration, the factual matrix has to be scrutinised. As already extracted above, in the dying declaration Ex.P-13, the deceased stated before the Magistrate that the appellants demanded dowry and that the appellants set fire to her and she asked her brother-in-law to rescue her, but he had chosen not to do so, and further on hearing her cries, the neighbours came and extinguished the fire and admitted her in the hospital. After she was admitted in the hospital, her parents came and she informed them about the incident. The deceased is said to have stated that when she was pregnant she was beaten up by the accused and because of which the child died in the womb. At that time, she had taken treatment in Revival Hospital]. This statement is found in Ex.P-23, FIR written by K.B. Singh (P.W.23), and not in Ex.P13 dying declaration.

24. When we look at the dying declaration, it is not inspiring confidence in the mind of this Court and throws serious doubt that the same is a product of tutoring by the family members of the deceased for the reason that, the sister of the deceased who was present when the deceased was admitted in the hospital had signed in Ex.P-2 wherein it is stated that it was an accident and nobody has burnt the deceased, but later she turned around and stated that unless she signed on that, they were told that the deceased would not be treated, and the High Court has taken this fact into consideration, whereas in the dying declaration, the deceased has stated that when her parents came to the hospital on 06.08.2003, she informed to the parents for the first time and she had not mentioned that she informed her sister or anybody before that, but according to the sister of the deceased, on 02.08.2003, she was aware of this, which shows that the evidence of the witness is not reliable and clouded with doubt.

38. Counsel for the appellant has relied upon the the decision in Kanti Lal vs. State of Rajasthan, (2009) 12 SCC 498 wherein the the Supreme Court with reference to the admissibility of the Dying Declaration has held as under :

32. It is well settled that one of the important tests of the credibility of the dying declaration is that the person, who recorded it, must be satisfied that the deceased was in a fit state of mind. For placing implicit reliance on dying declaration, the court must be satisfied that the deceased was in a fit state of mind to narrate the correct facts of occurrence. If the capacity of the maker of the statement to narrate the facts is found to be impaired, such dying declaration should be rejected, as it is highly unsafe to place reliance on it. The dying declaration should be voluntary and should not be prompted and physical as well as mental fitness of the maker is to be proved by the prosecution.

33. In the present case, as noticed above DW 2 has not taken any certificate from the doctor to prove that the deceased was in a fit state of mind to give statement nor he has recorded any endorsement to that effect on the alleged dying declaration (Ext. D-4). Another factor which impairs the credibility of the alleged dying declaration (Ext. D-4) and belies the statement of DW 2 was that, according to Dr. Vasudev, dying declaration was recorded by the reader of the Tahsildar and not by DW 2.

34. It is also proved on record that DW 2 did not ask preliminary questions from the deceased before the dying declaration allegedly made by her was recorded and this fact also created doubt about the correctness and truthfulness of the dying declaration. It is also the evidence of DW 2 that after recording the alleged statement of the deceased, he did not seal the dying declaration and the unsealed document was handed over to the Station House Officer. DW 2 has not produced on record the original copy of the "tehreer" submitted to him by a constable requesting him to visit the hospital for recording the alleged dying declaration of the deceased, and a carbon copy whereof was produced by him during his cross-examination.

35. A categorical refusal of putting her signature or thumb impression on the alleged dying declaration (Ext. D-4) by PW 6 Bhanvri (the mother of the deceased) would further go to prove that the alleged dying declaration was not at all recorded by DW 2 in the room of the hospital where the deceased was lying before she died.

36. The abovestated facts and circumstances would prove that the alleged dying declaration, on which much reliance has been placed by the defence, cannot be said to be an admissible and reliable document. The fact that the alleged dying declaration (Ext. D-4) did not bear endorsement of DW 2 to the effect that it was read over and explained to the deceased, also created a doubt on its credibility and truthfulness.

37. The trial court as well as the High Court both have concurrently and, in our considered view, have rightly rejected the genuineness and credibility of the alleged dying declaration to prove the defence version that the deceased made the said statement to DW 2 and she died because of accidental death. We agree with the findings and reasoning of the courts below that the alleged dying declaration (Ext. D-4) suffers from a number of basic infirmities and such dying declaration cannot be found admissible and accepted as a genuine document.

38. Ms Aishwarya, learned counsel, has relied upon the judgment of this Court in Gaffar Badshaha Pathan v. State of Maharashtra [(2004) 10 SCC 589 : 2004 SCC (Cri) 2037] to contend that it is one thing for an accused to attack a dying declaration in a case where the prosecution seeks to rely on a dying declaration against an accused but it is altogether different where an accused relies upon a dying declaration in support of the defence of accidental death. In such case, the burden on the accused is much lighter.

39. In the present case, according to the learned counsel, A-1 and A-3 have established beyond reasonable doubt that the statement of the deceased was recorded by DW 2 with bona fide intention and without putting any pressure upon the deceased and therefore, the document has to be accepted as an admissible and reliable document to indicate that the deceased died due to accidental fire.

40. We have gone through the abovesaid judgment in Gaffar Badshaha Pathan [(2004) 10 SCC 589 : 2004 SCC (Cri) 2037] . In that case, this Court while dealing with the dying declaration produced on record held as under: (SCC p. 590f-h)

“It is one thing for an accused to attack a dying declaration in a case where the prosecution seeks to rely on a dying declaration against an accused but it is altogether different where an accused relies upon a dying declaration in support of the defence of accidental death. The burden on the accused is much lighter. He has only to prove reasonable probability. The High Court erred in holding that the recording of the dying declaration and story stated therein apparently appears to be false and concocted. ... the fact whether the dying declaration is false and concocted has to be established by the prosecution. It is not for the accused to prove conclusively that the dying declaration was correct and the story therein was not concocted.”

41. In Ghurphekan v. State of U.P. [(1972) 3 SCC 361 : 1972 SCC (Cri) 531] this Court while dealing with the case which entirely rested on dying declaration of the deceased held as under: (SCC p. 362)

“(i) A dying declaration, recorded within a few hours after the incident, when it bore the endorsement of the doctor, that the victim was at that time in ‘proper senses’ to be able to give the statement and where the evidence of the recording Magistrate showed no flaw in taking it down, there is no reason to reject it.

(ii) Where the dying declaration had two weaknesses, namely, it did not mention the name of one of the witnesses present at the spot and it did not account for the injuries on the persons of the attacking party, it cannot be rejected on those omissions only, if otherwise it could be shown to be true in other respects, by other satisfactory evidence.

(iii) Where the circumstantial evidence negated the alternative case set up by the defence and the investigating officer's evidence about the place of incident, the medical officer's evidence in support of the prosecution about the manner of the occurrence of the incident, and the explanation of some witnesses for their presence at the spot, are consistent with the dying statement and the circumstantial evidence; the dying declaration possesses acceptability in spite of any weaknesses pointed out by the defence.”

42. In Kans Raj v. State of Punjab [(2000) 5 SCC 207 : 2000 SCC (Cri) 935] this Court held (SCC p. 218, para 11) that the statement of a person “as to any of the circumstances ... which resulted in his death” must have some close and proximate relation with the actual occurrence and proximity would depend upon the circumstances of each case for the purpose of admissibility of such statement as dying declaration under Section 32(1) of the Evidence Act, 1872.

43. In Kamalakar Nandram Bhavsar v. State of Maharashtra [(2004) 10 SCC 192 : (2010) 1 SCC (Cri) 495] this Court on scrutiny of the evidence on record found that the victim of dowry death/bride burning had suffered burn injuries to the extent of 94-95% could not have made dying declaration as stated by the doctor during the cross-examination that a dying declaration was made by the victim when she was in hospital. The alleged dying declaration was admitted in evidence at the behest of the defence by the trial court supportive to the defence of the accused. On the facts of the case, this Court observed that the source of production of dying declaration was neither mentioned in the trial court's judgment nor was there any evidence to prove the said document. In these circumstances, this Court held that the High Court had rightly rejected the said dying declaration.

44. In the present case, as noticed in the earlier part of the judgment A-1 and A-3 have not proved on record the source of production of the dying declaration by DW 2 who after recording the statement of the deceased was duty bound to hand over the alleged dying declaration under a sealed cover to the prosecuting agency. In this case, the origin and source of the alleged dying declaration produced by DW 2 at the time of his examination as a defence witness is highly doubtful and such document cannot be accepted as genuine and truthful document in support of the defence of A-1 and A-3.

45. In State (Delhi Admn.) v. Laxman Kumar [(1985) 4 SCC 476 : 1986 SCC (Cri) 2] this Court while dealing with a case of bride burning on the basis of dying declaration, held as follows: (SCC pp. 488 & 490, paras 21 & 25) piece of evidence as it comes from [the] mouth of a person who is about to die and at that stage of life he is not likely to make a false statement. ...

25. ... Ordinarily, a document as valuable as a dying declaration is supposed to be foolproof and is to incorporate the particulars which it is supposed to contain.”

Further, it is held that: (Laxman Kumar case [(1985) 4 SCC 476 : 1986 SCC (Cri) 2] , SCC p. 492, para 28)

“28. ... unless the dying declaration is in question and answer form it is very difficult to know to what extent the answers have been suggested by questions put. What is necessary is that the exact statement made by the deceased should be available to the court.”

It is also said that if the doctor happened to be present at the time of recording of the dying declaration and he had heard the statement made by the deceased, he would ordinarily endorse that the statement had been made to his hearing and had been recorded in his presence. The endorsement as made is indicative of the position that a statement had been recorded and the same was being attested by the doctor.

46. In the present case, these basic principles are ignored by DW 2 at the time of recording of the alleged dying declaration of the deceased. As noticed above, the doctor has not made any endorsement on the dying declaration to state that it was recorded in his presence and attested by him. The mother of the deceased refused to put her thumb impression on the said document. Thus, the judgment cited above cannot strengthen the defence of A-1 and A-3 that the dying declaration, Ext. D-4 had been recorded by DW 2 by observing the principles laid down in the above-said case.

47. The prosecution in support of the charge of dowry death has produced and relied upon the testimony of PW 5 Parasmal, father; PW 6 Bhanvri, mother and PW 8 Mahender Kumar, "mama" (mother's brother) of the deceased. Before we proceed to deal with and consider the evidence of the prosecution on the question of dowry death, we may consider the ratio of the law laid down in the cases relied upon before us.

48. In Pawan Kumar v. State of Haryana [(1998) 3 SCC 309 : 1998 SCC (Cri) 740] this Court held that: (SCC p. 314, para 6)

"6. ... The ingredients necessary for the application of Section 304-B are: (a) When the death of a woman is caused by any burns or bodily injury, or

(b) occurs otherwise than under normal circumstances,

(c) and the aforesaid two facts spring within 7 years of girl's marriage,

(d) and soon before her death, she was subjected to cruelty or harassment by her husband or his relative,

(e) this is in connection with the demand of dowry."

(emphasis in original)

49. In Hira Lal v. State (Govt. of NCT), Delhi [(2003) 8 SCC 80 : 2003 SCC (Cri) 2016] this Court reiterated that the essential ingredients to attract application under Section 304-B are that: (SCC p. 81b-c) "(i) the death of a woman should be caused by burns or bodily injury or otherwise than under a normal circumstance, (ii) such a death should have occurred within seven years of her marriage, (iii) she must have been subjected to cruelty or harassment by her husband or any relative of her husband, (iv) such cruelty or harassment should be for or in connection with demand of dowry, and (v) such cruelty or harassment is shown to have been meted out to the woman soon before her death."

Further it is said that the presumption under Section 113-B of the Evidence Act, 1872 is a presumption of law.

"... On proof of the essentials mentioned therein, it becomes obligatory on the court to raise a presumption that the accused caused the dowry death. The essentials required to be proved for raising the said presumption are that (i) the question before the court must be whether the accused has committed the dowry death of the woman, (ii) the woman was subjected to cruelty or harassment by her husband or his relatives, (iii) such cruelty or harassment was for or in connection with any demand for dowry, and (iv) such cruelty or harassment was soon before her death." (Hira Lal case [(2003) 8 SCC 80 : 2003 SCC (Cri) 2016], SCC p. 81c-d)

50. Again, in Kamesh Panjiyar v. State of Bihar [(2005) 2 SCC 388 : 2005 SCC (Cri) 511], Ram Badan Sharma v. State of Bihar [(2006) 10 SCC 115 : (2007) 1 SCC (Cri) 166], Trimukh Maroti Kirkan v. State of Maharashtra [(2006) 10 SCC 681 : (2007) 1 SCC (Cri) 80], Kailashv. State of M.P. [(2006) 12 SCC 667 : (2007) 2 SCC (Cri) 359] and Appasaheb v. State of Maharashtra [(2007) 9 SCC 721 : (2007) 3 SCC (Cri) 468] this Court reiterated and reasserted the settled principles laid down in Hira Lal case [(2003) 8 SCC 80 : 2003 SCC (Cri) 2016]."

39. Learned counsel for the State in reply argued that the appellant is named accused in the complaint as well as in the FIR. It is submitted that the delay in registration of FIR was due to the reasons that at the first instance, no FIR was registered and only after direction of the Court, it was registered on 9.4.2013.

40. Learned counsel for State submits that as per the postmortem report, the deceased sustained burn injuries and in the dying declaration, the victim has named the appellant.

41. Learned counsel for State submits that even in the complaint filed before the Magistrate, the appellant is named as Jaydevi @ Akhilesh wife of Prem Chandra whereas there is no document to state that the appellant is not having any alias name.

42. After hearing the learned counsel appearing on behalf of accused- appellant as well as learned AGA for State and perusal of lower court record, paper book and re-appreciation of evidence, we find merits in this case for the following reasons :

(A) The incident is of on 13.3.2013, whereas no complaint was given to the police prior to 16.3.2013. A perusal of first complaint (Exhibit-Ka-1) given to the Superintendent of Police, the informant-Akhilesh Kumar, brother of the victim, has named two ladies i.e. Sajawati Devi wife of Ramkaran, sister-in-law with a motive that because of pattidari she was keeping a grudge and used to harass and maltreat the victim whereas the appellant who is named as second lady, who on the date of incident accompanied Sajawati Devi and after abusing her both ladies by pouring kerosene oil, lit the fire.

(B) It is admitted of the case that prosecution during investigation Sajawati Devi who is the sister-in-law (Devrani of the victim) had dropped proceedings and she was given a clean chit whereas the appellant- Jaydevi who as per the Investigating Officer is not related to the family of the victim or her husband is nominated without any motive attributed to her. Therefore, once the police has dropped the investigation against Sajawati Devi against whom the motive was attributed, the prosecution of the appellant without there being any such motive is illegal.

(C) As per the informant, he took the victim to Government Hospital, Machhli Sahar from where she was referred to Allahabad however he got her admitted in the hospital at Mungara Badsahpur, Jaunpur who give first aid and then she was brought to Swaroop Rani Hospital, Allahabad, where she was admitted in ICU. Neither the Investigating Officer recorded the statement of any doctor of Government Hospital, Machhli Sahar, Jaunpur nor the doctor of Mungra Badshahpur, Jaunpur or the treating doctor of Swaroop Rani Hospital, Allahabad, where the deceased remains admitted for six days. Even the operative notes of the doctor regarding the treatments given to the victim, were not taken in possession by the Investigating Officer. This all raises suspicion about the version given by the informant.

(D) In the absence of any doctor being examined as witness, accused – appellant was denied a right to cross examine to put up her defence to the doctor regarding the nature of injuries sustained, or the information given at the first instance as to who has caused injuries and nature of treatment given to the victim which includes giving the sedative medicines as pain killer so as to ascertain whether the deceased was in a fit mental condition to gave the statement to PW-6.

(E) In the dying declaration, it is stated that when the accused poured kerosene oil and lit the fire, the daughter of her Jethani (husband's brother wife) came and by putting a blanket, doused the fire, however, no such witness has come forward during the investigation to support the allegation that the niece of the husband of the deceased has doused the fire. Rather PW-3, the mother-in-law has stated that she had douse the fire after breaking the latch of the room which was locked from inside.

(F) The husband of the victim, namely, Radhey Shyam did not support the prosecution version and he has not even appeared as a witness. It has come in the statement of PW-6 that when the complaint was given to police at the first instance i.e. before registration of FIR, he had recorded the statement of Radhey Shyam who has stated the entire occurrence is a fake occurrence as the deceased suffered accidental burn injuries and, therefore, no action was taken, also proves that no complaint was registered by the husband of the victim in this regard.

(G) PW-2, daughter of the victim as well as PW-4, mother-in-law of the victim did not support the prosecution version and stated that she suffered burn injuries in an accidental fire. One independent witness, PW-3- Rajendra Prasad who is Pradhan of the village has also deposed that when he came to know that Suman has sustained burn injuries, he immediately went and enquired from her, who told that she sustained injuries due to falling of a burning lantern and thereafter he managed a vehicle to send her to the hospital.

(H) In cross examination, PW-2 stated that Suman did not tell him that accused Jaydevi has poured kerosene oil or lit the fire. This witness further stated that he has gone to the hospital to meet the victim Suman and he found that she was not in a position to speak.

43. In the light of the aforesaid prosecution evidence which is highly discrepant and suspicious, the trial court has convicted the appellant on the basis of dying declaration, however on careful perusal of the dying declaration, we find that the same cannot be relied upon as legal evidence for the following reasons :

(a) PW-6, Narendra Kumar Singh, Sub Division Magistrate had stated that he had taken the opinion of the doctor whether the statement of the victim can be recorded and doctor had given opinion prior to recording of her statement and even subsequently.

A perusal of the dying declaration (Exhibit Ka-4) show that on the top, the doctor of Swaroop Rani Hospital, Allahabad has stated that this is to certify that "Suman wife of Radhey Shyam is conscious and oriented". This opinion was given at 11:05 a.m. and after recording the statement again, it is stated that Suman remains conscious during the statement. However, in this statement, it is nowhere recorded that the victim was in a fit mental condition to depose and give the statement.

(b) PW-6, Narendra Kumar Singh have admitted in cross examination that he himself has not recorded his satisfaction on Exhibit Ka-4 that the victim is fit to make statement as he has not asked any preliminary questions to record his own satisfaction that the victim was in a position to give statement.

(c) There is no endorsement on the dying declaration that the same was read over to the victim and after admitting the contents she has consented to give her right thumb foot impression.

(d) Since for the first time, in the dying declaration, it is stated that Jaydevi @ Akhilesh wife of Prem Chandra who is the cousin sister-in-law has committed the offence and, therefore, in order to ascertain identity of Jaydevi @ Akhilesh, no signature of the attendant of victim as witness or any family member of the victim was recorded on the dying declaration and even the signature of the Investigating Officer regarding receiving the same, as an endorsement is not there on record.

(e) The Investigating Officer has not tried to find out who is the daughter of the sister-in-law of the victim who has doused the fire with the help of a blanket and no such persons is cited as eye witness.

(f) PW-2, daughter of the victim has not stated that Jaydevi @Akhilesh pour kerosene oil and lit fire and even did not name any other person who doused fire.

(g) The statement made by the victim Suman is in sharp contrast to the statement of the informant who is brother of the victim whereas he has named two ladies and specific motive is attributed to one Sajawati Devi wife of Ramkaran. It is the consistent stand of PW-1 that it is Sajawati Devi, sister-in-law of victim, who harassed her sister and was keeping a grudge against her.

(h) PW-1 has nowhere attributed any motive to the appellant for pouring kerosene oil on the victim.

(i) Therefore, there is material contradictions in the dying declaration and the FIR version which also raises suspicious about its admissibility. Therefore, no reliance can be placed on the dying declaration (Ex.Ka.4).

44. It is worth noticing that the appellant Jaydevi as per custody certificate dated 24th September, 2024 has undergone eight years and five months of total sentence including remission and about six years and eleven months i.e. approximately seven years of actual sentence and she has no criminal antecedents. The appellant has her own family and children and prosecution failed to prove that she was related to victim in any manner.

45. In view of above, we find merits in the present appeal and the same is allowed.

46. Accordingly, the appellant; namely, Jaydevi @ Akhilesh is acquitted of the charges and she be released forthwith from the judicial custody, if not required in any other case.

47. Record and proceedings be sent back to the Trial Court forthwith.

1. Heard Shri Rajrshi Gupta, learned counsel for the appellants; Ms. Divya Ojha, learned A.G.A.-I for the State; Shri Sudhir Mehrotra, learned Special Counsel for the High Court and perused the material on record.

2. This criminal appeal against the judgment and order dated 14.09.2010 passed by learned Sessions Judge, Aligarh in S.T. No. 931 of 2006 (State vs. Virendra Singh and 4 others) connected with S.T. No. 949 of 2007 (State vs. Vishambhar) whereby the appellants were acquitted for offence under Sections- 498-A, 304-B, 201 IPC and Section 3/4 of D.P. Act. However, the appellants have been convicted for offence under Section 506(I) IPC and awarded two years rigorous imprisonment and fine of Rs. 10,000/- and in default of payment of fine to undergo two months additional simple imprisonment.

3. The prosecution case, in short, is that the informant, Panna Singh, married his daughter, Kumari Bhumika, with the appellant no. 3, Manoj on 22.06.2024. Rs. 5 lakhs in cash and other goods were given in dowry to the accused-appellants but the accused persons used to demand one Maruti car more in dowry and used to torture his daughter. Whenever his daughter used to come to her parental home, she used to complain that the appellants are demanding a Maruti car and in case the same is not given to them she would be killed. During his posting at Rajkot from November, 2005 to February, 2006 her husband and appellant no. 3, Manoj Kumar, took her along with him and tortured her as a result of which she suffered pain in her legs but he did not get her treated. She informed her brother, Sanjay Singh, about the pain in her legs and her brother went to Rajkot to get her treated in the hospital. The informant, his son and two relatives went to Rajkot where they discovered that on account of beating, the disk of the waist of his daughter has got displaced and operation has become necessary. The appellants stated that only after their demand of car is fulfilled they will get the operation of their daughter conducted. On 21.05.2006 at about 1:30 p.m in the night her elder brother-in-law, Vishambhar Singh (Jeth), who was residing at Kwarsi in Aligarh, informed on phone that daughter of informant has fallen from the roof of his house and died. He is taking her dead body to village- Khempur. The informant and others went to Khempur and found that there were no signs of falling of his daughter from the roof on her body. Blue signs were found on her neck, head was fractured by causing of injuries by log or some sharp edged weapon and there were signs of injuries all over her body. When the appellants were going to cremate the dead body of his daughter, informant tried to inform the police which was opposed by the appellants and they started throwing bricks and stones on them. They threatened them to leave their place failing which they would also be done to death. He informed the police on phone and then police reached and after taking possession of dead body of his daughter, saved the informant and his relatives.

4. Complaint in this regard was made at the police station- Gabhana, District- Aligarh on 22.05.2006 at 11:00 a.m and it was registered as First Informant Report No. 17, under Sections- 498-A, 304-B and 506 IPC and Section 3 of Dowry Prohibition Act. Thereafter on 22.06.2005 at 12:00 p.m the inquest proceedings were started which ended at 13:10 p.m. After inquest dead body of deceased was sent for post-mortem at 13:15 hours.

5. After submission of charge sheet charges were framed against the appellants under Sections- 498-A, 304-B, 201 and 506 IPC and Section 3 of D.P. Act on 14.03.2007. The appellants denied the charges and sought trial.

6. To prove the prosecution case, 8 witnesses were produced before trial court and examined. P.W.-1, Panna Singh, in his examination-in-chief, reiterated the contents of FIR. He further stated that on 31.05.2006 at about 10:30 p.m some policeman informed that his daughter has died. Thereafter, the elder brother-in-law of his daughter, Vishambhar Singh, informed him that his daughter has fallen from roof and has died and they are taking her dead body to village Khempur. When he reached Khempur along with his family members after five minutes the dead body of his daughter came in a Maruti van wherein the appellants, except Manoj and Balveer, were sitting. Manoj and Balveer followed them on motorcycle. There were no signs of his daughter falling from roof on her body. There were blue signs on her neck. Head was fractured because of injury caused by log. On her entire body lacerated wounds and blue signs were present. Co-accused persons, were taking the dead body for cremation and when the informant tried to inform the police they started throwing bricks and stones on them and threatened them to leave otherwise they would also be killed. With great difficulty informant informed the police. Police took the dead body of his daughter in possession and saved them. Thereafter he got the report written by his son, Sanjay Singh, which was lodged at the police station. In his cross-examination, P.W.-1 admitted that in his report it is not mentioned that the appellants ever demanded any dowry from him or his other family members. In his cross examination, he stated that his son, Sanjay Singh and appellant, Manoj, both were employed in Central Industrial Security Force (C.I.S.F) at Bombay Airport, but this fact was not known to him earlier and only after marriage of his daughter was settled with Manoj, he came to know of this fact. He further admitted that he did not enquired much about the appellant, Manoj, but from his son, Sanjay Singh, before marrying his daughter with appellant, Manoj. He himself enquired about his pay-scale and his service being permanent. He never went to see Manoj at Bombay but saw him in the village only. He never informed his son, Sanjay Singh, that the appellants are demanding any amount in dowry. In answer to reply whether his elder daughter, Prabha, was willing to marry at that time, the informant informed that she was not willing to marry because she was of religious temperament and did not wanted to get involved in the relationship of marriage. She was of saintly nature. He denied that appellant, Manoj, refused to marry his elder daughter, Prabha, and stated that he is willing to marry his younger daughter, Bhumika (deceased). He further stated that before marriage the accused persons never demanded any dowry but he spent money in marriage of his daughter on his own sweet will. They demanded Maruti car after her marriage. He admitted that he got the marriage of his daughter performed as an ideal marriage and the relatives of both sides appreciated the same. At the time of marriage his deceased-daughter, had passed intermediate examination and was studying in B.A privately. At the time of her death, she was in B.A.- IIIrd year. She had passed B.A. IInd year examination after her marriage. At the time of death her 7 papers of B.A.- III examination had concluded. After marriage, appellant, Manoj, had stated that he will not permit his daughter to study further. He never told appellant, Manoj, not to create hindrance in the study of his daughter. At the time of her death she was living in house of her elder brother-in-law, Vishambhar, at Aligarh and appearing in the examination of B.A.-IIIrd year. Her examination was concluding on 23.05.2006. In further cross-examination, P.W.-1 stated that he gave Rs. 5 lakhs in cash and other goods in dowry at the time of marriage of his daughter to the appellants but they were not satisfied and were demanding Maruti car. On account of non-fulfilment of demand of Maruti car they used to beat and torture his daughter. His daughter used to inform him of their conduct. He further stated in cross-examination that he gave the goods in marriage of his daughter willingly. He had prepared the list of goods given in dowry but had not taken signature of the appellant's side on the same. He had purchased some goods from market, some were already given by relatives and some were in his house. He admitted that he has no receipt of any goods purchased by him for giving it to his daughter in marriage. He named the banks from which he withdrew Rs. 4.8 lakhs but did not furnished any evidence of the same. He admitted that he did not mentioned in the report that the appellants were not happy with the dowry given in marriage nor he mentioned that his daughter informed him in this regard and he informed these facts to the Investigating Officer. He also admitted that he never made any complaint against the appellants regarding their unhappiness from dowry received by them. He admitted that before marriage he enquired about the financial condition of family of appellants and after being satisfied his daughter was married with appellant, Manoj. At the time of incident his son was at his home due to some holiday but he did not remembered the day on which he had come. He admitted that he was not present at the time of incident. When his daughter was residing at Vishambhar's house and appearing in B.A.-IIIrd year examination he and his wife never visited her. His daughter, Prabha, had gone to the place of appellant, Vishambhar. He reiterated that the first information about falling of his daughter was given by appellant, Vishambhar, on phone as mentioned in the FIR. He received information at about 10:30 p.m. After the dead body of his daughter arrived at village Khempur, he did not lodged the FIR because he wanted to see his daughter properly. Four persons accompanied him to the house of appellants, namely, Tejveer Singh, Gajendra Singh, Roshan Singh and his son, Sanjay Singh. They also did not made efforts to lodge the FIR. Since all wanted to see his daughter first. The appellants did not took out the dead body of deceased from Maruti van and it was taken out by the informant and his companions. He informed this fact to the Investigating Officer and if he did not mentioned the same in his statement he cannot say why. He admitted that when he reached village Khempur he did not had the phone. Police had not reached village Khempur at that time. It reached the village after he gave information to the police at about 09:00 a.m. He lodged the report on the next day at 11:00 a.m at P.S.- Gabhana. He further admitted in the cross-examination that neither he nor his son signed the inquest report. Dead body of the deceased was brought on jugaad after post-mortem at about 03:00 p.m. He further stated that clothes of deceased were not taken by Investigating Officer and given to some villager. When he contacted him investigating officer took custody of clothes of deceased and prepared memo of the same. There were blood stains found on her clothes. He further stated that on 22.05.2006 at 09:00 a.m the accused did not wanted post-mortem of dead body of his daughter. When he objected appellants threw bricks and stones on them and they suffered simple injuries thereafter police was informed and it came. When he visited the scene of incident people pointed out to the place where dead body of his daughter lying. When he went to house where incident took place he found that the roof of the house was 22 feet above the khadanja (uneven road). People informed that they were told by appellants, Vishambhar and Manoj, that his daughter was lying dead on this place. They also informed that they never saw the deceased falling from the roof before them. He denied that the deceased fell down from the roof while she was talking on mobile phone with her husband and there was no boundary wall on the roof. He also denied that her husband, Manoj, was at Rajkot at the time when she was talking to him on phone. He admitted that at the time of incident appellants, Virendra Singh, Pushpa Devi and Balveer Singh, were at village Khempur. He further stated that at the time of marriage of his daughter her elder brother-in-law, Vishambhar Singh, was employed in Rapid Action Force (R.A.F). Father of Vishambhar Singh, informed that he was posted at Aligarh. Later his daughter informed her father-in-law, Virendra Singh and his wife, Babita, reside at Aligarh. His daughter used to visit them. His elder sister-in-law, Babita (jethani), visited his place 2-3 times. His daughter used to come with Babita to his place and also go back with her. He does not know where Babita resided at Aligarh. He had provided medicines to his daughter 3-4 times before she went with her husband to Rajkot. The pain in the legs of his daughter started 7-8 months after her marriage. These facts were not written by him in the FIR. When Manoj took his daughter he informed him about her treatment at Aligarh and Manoj informed that he will get her treated at Rajkot free of cost. Appellant, Manoj, took her to Rajkot in November, 2005 from his village. After one and a half months he came to know that Manoj was not getting her treated. This fact was informed to him by his son, Sanjay Singh. He himself did not go to Rajkot but sent his two brothers-in-law and his son. He went there only after he heard that his daughter is hospitalized. His brother-in-law, Satish Kumar Singh, informed that his daughter was suffering from slip disk which requires operation. When he asked appellant, Manoj, to admit her in hospital he stated that unless Maruti car is given by him he will not get his daughter treated and appellant, Manoj, got her discharged from hospital. After hearing about the illness of his daughter he along with his brother-in-law, Satish Kumar Singh and other brother-in-law, Sanjay Singh and son, Sanjay Singh, went to Rajkot which he mentioned in the FIR. He admitted that he did not mention in the FIR that he sent his brother-in-law, Satish Kumar Singh, alone to Rajkot who got his daughter admitted in hospital and thereafter discharged. He further admitted in his cross-examination that his daughter came to Aligarh for appearing in B.A.-III examination in February, 2006. Her B.A.-III examination was to conclude on February, 2006. His elder daughter, Prabha, used to visit her at Aligarh at the house of appellant, Vishambhar. His daughter used to give examinations sitting on chair. She had appeared in 7 papers without any problem. The information about problem of slip disk in her spine was discovered from M.R.I report and at the time of her death she was suffering from same problem. He never went to meet his daughter while she was giving examination from the house of appellant, Babita wife of Vishambhar. After 26th December, 2006, appellant, Manoj Kumar, never got her treated for slip disc. He does not know in which hospital M.R.I of his daughter was conducted. He denied knowledge of treatment of his daughter by appellant, Manoj, at Shri G.T. Seth, Orthopaedic Hospital, Rajkot, on 23.11.2005, 30.11.2005, 07.12.2005, 15.12.2005, 22.12.2005, 11.01.2006 and 24.01.2006 continuously and making payment of cost of medicine and obtaining receipts. P.W.1 stated that he did not mention in the F.I.R that information of death of his daughter was first given by the police personnel. He only talked with appellant, Vishambhar. He stated that this fact was not mentioned by him in the F.I.R because of being mentally disturbed, but he informed the Investigating Officer in this regard. Why he did not mention this fact in his statement he cannot say. He does not know the mobile number from which calls were made to him. He stated that he did not lodge the F.I.R on the date of incident, but on the next day because he and his family members had not seen the dead body of the deceased and when they saw the injuries on the head and body of the deceased they decided to lodge the FIR. After her marriage his daughter came to his house 12-13 times and stated that Maruti car is being demanded by the appellants and they also beat her. He admitted that he went to the matrimonial home of his daughter 5-6 times and also meet with appellant, Vishambhar, about the same time. Sister-in-law of his daughter, Geeta, also used to come to his house along with his daughter.

7. P.W.-2, Kumari Prabha, daughter of P.W.-1 repeated the contents of F.I.R in her examination-in-chief. She also reiterated the contents of the statement of P.W-1 in her statement. In her cross-examination she stated that she has two elder sisters and the deceased, Bhumika, was her younger sister. P.W.-2 refused to marry. She denied that earlier her marriage was to be solemnized with appellant, Manoj, but she refused. She clearly stated that she never wanted to marry and her decision was known to her family members. She stated that after two months of marriage of deceased, she went to her matrimonial home and she was healthy. Before going to Rajkot she had come to her parental home 10-12 times. Whenever she came to her parental house she used to make complaint about being harassed for dowry by the appellants. She stated that prior to the incident she had gone to the house of appellant, Vishambhar, in Shankar Vihar Colony 8-10 times. He used to reside on the upper floor of the house with his family where her sister, Bhumika, was staying for appearing in B.A.-III examination. Whenever she went there no one misbehaved with her. She went to the house of appellant, Vishambhar, after the death of her sister where someone informed that her sister has been done to death. No one told her earlier that Bhumika has died. She was never informed that Bhumika was admitted in hospital. She herself was appearing in examination. She found dried blood on the body of deceased in the police station. She reached the police station after F.I.R was lodged. She stated in her cross-examination that she is giving statement on the basis of her statement noted on paper because she has habit of reading after writing on paper only. The deceased suffered pain in the legs because of beating by the family members of her matrimonial home. She also stated that the accused persons refused to get the deceased treated till their demand of Maruti Car is fulfilled. She stated that she had informed the Investigating Officer that her father and brother had gone to Rajkot in last week of December, 2005 but why this fact was not mentioned in her statement recorded by the Investigating Officer she cannot say. She stated that she had informed the Investigating Officer that her sister had suffered slip disk due to torture by the appellants and was unable to climb the stairs. She requested the appellants to permit Bhumika to live with her and appear in B.A.-III year examination but they refused stating that appellant, Vishambhar and Babita, have their own house in Aligarh and Bhumika will stay with them and appear in examination. She had informed the Circle Officer that on 21.05.2006, appellant, Manoj, came from Rajkot to Aligarh and other appellants had also reached Aligarh. On 21.06.2006 at about 06:00 p.m phone call came calling all the persons to the house of Vishambhar.

She had informed the Circle Officer that she sensed that intention of appellants are not good. She had informed Investigating Officer that all the appellants in execution of conspiracy caused murder of her sister on 21.05.2006 by causing her injuries and if this is not mentioned in her statement recorded under Section 161 Cr.P.C., she cannot say why. When the appellants were taking the dead body of her sister in Maruti van at 10:30 p.m in the night to village - Khempur for cremation, the police personnel informed her father. This fact was also informed by her to the Investigating Officer but he did not mention it in her statement. She clearly stated that the family members of matrimonial home of her sister did not indulge in any dispute regarding performance of her last rites. She had informed this fact to the Investigating Officer. She stated that when the dispute between the parties took place, she informed Investigating Officer that after dispute between the parties police was informed. She was not able to inform any phone number of her father nor her own mobile number to the police personnel informing about the death of her sister to the Investigating Officer. She could not state the phone number on which the deceased used to talk to her husband at Rajkot. In her cross-examination, she admitted that the Government Advocate got her statement prepared in writing but she did not read the statement of her father recorded earlier before the court. She did not ask her father what questions were put to him in a cross-examination. She admitted that she has written her statement because of habit and it has been prepared as the incident took place. She admitted that she had given her written statement to a Government Advocate and he may have left out something from her statement. She admitted that whenever Manoj used to come to village- Khempur, she used to go to meet him and her sister, Bhumika. She used to talk to appellant, Manoj. She used to talk to all the family members of matrimonial home of her sister. Prior to the death of her sister, she had gone to house of Babita and Vishambhar 8-10 times. It was situated on upper floor and consisted of one room only taken on rent. When Bhumika went to Rajkot, she had informed her that appellant, Manoj, was taking her for treatment. Manoj had come to Aligarh on the date of incident but she was not present in Aligarh. This was informed by Bhumika to her on telephone. When she went to house of Babita and Vishambhar, Manoj was not present. She stated that she had requested the appellants, including Manoj, to permit Bhumika to stay with her mama, Satish Kumar Singh, for giving examination but they refused. In the cross-examination, she was questioned as to how she named, Manoj, in her examination-in-chief when he was not present at Aligarh and then she replied that Manoj informed him on phone that Bhumika will appear in examination from his brother's place. She stated that she saw the place of incident where no blood was found. It was wiped out. People informed that her sister was done to death. She had informed everything to her father. No one informed her that they saw Bhumika falling from upper floor of the house.

8. P.W.-3, Dr. K.P. Singh, testified before the court that blood was oozing from nose and ears of the deceased. He found the following injuries on the dead body of the deceased :-

(1) lacerated wound 5cm x 0.5 cm x bone deep on the central vault of skull, 6 cm above from glabella.

(2) Abraded contusion on top of left shoulder 3cm x 3cm.

(3) Multiple abrasions 58cm x 8cm on outer side on left thigh and knee.

(6) Abrasion 1cm x 0.1cm between thumb and index finger.

9. No injury was found on the face and back. In internal examination both the bones of parietal side of the skull was found to be broken. Membrane of brain was congested and redness was present. Cause of death was certified to be coma as a result of head injury. During cross-examination, P.W.-3, stated that injury no. 1 was situated 6cm above glabella. Glabella is situated between both the eyebrows. He stated that injury no. 1 started from glabella on frontal bone. Injury nos. 2 to 6 were found on non-vital parts of the deceased and the doctor stated that they can be caused by falling on rough surface like damar road (metalled road) and khadanja (uneven road). Doctor further admitted that if a person falls from a height of 22 feet he cannot have any control over his body and the injury shall be caused on the part which will hit the land surface. He accepted that if the deceased fell from the height of 22 feet on the road, the injury suffered by her could have been caused. Her clothes would also be torned. He stated that in the inquest report, he found that mehroon colour salvaar of the deceased was torned because of skidding on the rough surface. No visible injuries were found on the face, neck and back of the deceased. The deceased died due to coma.

10. P.W.-4, proved that he registered the case at the police station chik report whereof is present on the record. He also proved the G.D. entry in this regard recorded by him. He also proved that the application for lodging the FIR was written by the son of informant, Sanjay Singh.

11. P.W.-5, Nayab Tehsildar, Devraj Singh, proved that he got the inquest proceedings conducted. He proved that he himself wrote in the inquest report that salvaar of deceased was torned due to skid injury. He further prove that the clothes of the deceased were not taken by the police in custody before him.

12. P.W.-6, Circle Officer, Rajesh Kumar Singh, proved that case in dispute were registered at P.S.- Gabhana in his absence and its investigation was entrusted to him. In his cross-examination, P.W.-6 admitted number of procedural lacks committed by him during investigation, like not recording the time when he left for investigation in General Diary nor the time of reporting back to the police station. He admitted that he did not recorded the statement of Head Constable of police station. He did not stated even the date when he recorded the statement of informant nor he could tell the reason why the signatures of P.W.-1 were not taken on the FIR. He also did not tried to know when the chik FIR was sent to the court concerned. He admitted that who brought to the dead body of the deceased to the police station is also not mentioned by him in a case diary. He stated that P.W.-1 did not provided him any receipt of purchasing the goods given in dowry in the marriage of deceased. He also admitted that P.W.-1 did not provided him details of the bank accounts from which he withdrew the amounts for making payment of dowry in cash to the appellants. He admitted that P.W.-1 never informed him that his deceased daughter used to inform him that the appellants were not satisfied with the dowry. He only informed that the appellants used to beat his daughter because of non-fulfilment of demand of Maruti car. He further admitted that when he took the copy of post-mortem report, he never informed him that the appellants did not cooperated with him after death of deceased nor he informed him that they started throwing bricks and stones. He stated that P.W.-1 only informed that the appellants started quarrelling on the issue of getting post-mortem of the dead body of deceased. He admitted that P.W.-1 never showed him the place of incident. He did not recorded the statement of any person of village Khempur, where the appellants resided. He did not went to the house where the deceased was residing nor he enquired from anyone in that locality. P.W.-1 informed him that appellant- Vishambhar Singh, informed him about the death of his daughter on account of falling from the roof and died on the spot. He also informed P.W.-1 that they are taking the dead body of deceased to village- Khempur. He admitted that Parcha No. 1 of the case diary was not in his hand writing.

13. P.W.-7, Circle Officer, Sunil Kumar Singh, proved that he got the investigation from earlier Investigating Officer, P.W.-6. Rajesh Kumar Singh. He proved that he recorded the statement of P.W.-1 and on his pointing out inspected the scene of occurrence and prepared site plan. At the time of inspection of place of incident, he recorded the statement of Mulayam Singh and Saurabh and further implicated the accused under Section 201 IPC. He proved that he recorded the statements of the prosecution witnesses, thereafter he conducted the other tasks like arrest of the accused persons, incorporating details of inquest report, post-mortem, etc., in the case diary. He is not aware when chik FIR was sent to the court since no such entry was found on the F.I.R and no signature of C.J.M is present on the F.I.R. It is not mentioned in the application of P.W.-1 that family members of matrimonial home of the deceased ever demanded dowry nor any such allegation was made in the statement of P.W.-1 recorded by him. P.W.-1 also never stated before him that appellants ever demanded dowry. He admitted that in the entire investigation none of the witnesses informed him that any of the appellants demanded dowry in front of them. No one informed him that prior to the death of deceased any application was given to any authority regarding the demand of dowry by anyone. He did not enquired from which bank account Rs. 5 lakhs was withdrawn by P.W.-1 nor he provided any list of the goods purchased by him and given as dowry in marriage of the deceased. P.W.-1 also did not provided any documents regarding treatment of the deceased prior to her death but he was informed that appellants stated that unless their demand of dowry is met, they will not get the deceased treated. He admitted that he also did not enquired from the appellant, Manoj, whether he got deceased treated and, if yes, then where. He did not collected any call details to verify whether deceased ever informed anyone about her torture for demand of dowry. Mama of deceased, brother of deceased and P.W.-1 never informed him about any ticket or reservation details about their going to Rajkot to prove whether they went to Rajkot for getting the deceased treated in the hospital. He admitted that in the FIR P.W.-1 stated that demand of Maruti car was being made. He was not shown any evidence of throwing bricks and stones by the accused persons on the prosecution side nor they were shown to the earlier Investigating Officer. During the investigation, it had come to his knowledge that information of death of Bhumika was given by family members of her matrimonial home to her father, P.W.-1, stating that she was strolling on roof of first floor and talking to her husband, Manoj, on phone when she fell down and died on account of injuries suffered by her and they are reaching village- Khempur with her dead body. During investigation he was never informed that any altercation took place between both the sides in the night of incident at village Khempur. He also stated that he was never informed by P.W.-1 that his one daughter is unmarried and involved in religious pursuits. He did not enquired why if the deceased was being tortured for dowry she was still living with the appellants, Vishambhar and Babita, and appearing for B.A.III examination from their house. At the place of incident at Shankar Vihar Colony, no one had informed him about beating and causing injuries to the deceased by anyone. No one told him that the deceased after suffering injuries was not in a position to walk and was made to walk by giving support. He did not found any sign of blood on the place of incident but admitted that the height of roof was 20-22 feet.

14. P.W.-7 further testified that P.W.-2 did not provided him any document regarding treatment of deceased nor he asked from P.W.-2, Kumari Prabha, why she has not married. He also stated that P.W.-2, never informed him that she went to Shankar Vihar Colony where deceased was residing and died at 10:30 p.m on the night of incident. He further stated that P.W.-2 never informed him that on the night of incident, husband of deceased, Manoj, had came back from Rajkot to Aligarh nor she informed him that on the night of incident husband of deceased and other family members of her matrimonial home had come to the place where deceased was residing. She also did not informed him that because of non-fulfilment of demand of a Maruti Car deceased was subjected to grievous injuries and she died of the same. She did not informed that deceased informed her about this on telephone nor she informed him about any telephone number.

15. P.W.-8, the third Investigating Officer, stated that he again recorded the statement of P.W.-1 and inspected the place of incident in the presence of witnesses, Asha Devi, Anokhe Lal, etc., on 18.09.2006 and submitted charge sheet against appellants in court against all of them except, Vishambhar Singh. Charge sheet was submitted against Vishambhar Singh later on 09.01.2007. He stated that witness, Asha Devi, informed him that Bhumika was strolling on roof talking on mobile phone on the upper floor of the house and she saw her there. After 15 minutes she heard the sound of her falling. She came out and saw the deceased lying on the road and raising cries. Anokhe Lal, informed P.W.-8, that he saw the deceased falling from roof. He enquired about deceased from Satendra who informed that he had come to know the deceased was wife of younger brother of Vishambhar, who is tenant on the first floor. The deceased was lying in the pool of blood and died soon. The other persons present on the spot approved the statements of Asha Devi, Anokhe Lal and also one Satendra. The appellants also informed him about the manner of incident as informed by the aforesaid witnesses.

16. The statement of the appellant, Babita, was recorded under Section 313 Cr.P.C., who clearly stated that deceased was living with her at the time of incident and was appearing in B.A.-III examination. She was talking on phone with her husband on the roof of upper floor of her house and accidentally fell down. Appellant, Pushpa, stated that she was in the village- Khempur at the time of incident. Appellant, Vishambhar Singh, stated that at the time of incident he was at Delhi and his family was residing in rented house at Aligarh where the deceased was also living for the purpose of appearing in B.A.-III examination. She fell accidentally from the roof top and died. Later he received information of this accident. Appellant, Manoj, husband of deceased, stated that on the date of incident he had taken leave and was coming to take back his wife, the deceased, whose examination was about to be concluded. He was coming from Rajkot, Gujarat and was on the way when the incident took place. Appellant, Balbeer, stated that the deceased died on account of falling from roof and at that time he was in his village- Khempur. Appellant, Virendra, stated that his daughter-in-law died because of suffering injuries from falling from the roof. Information of incident was given to the family members of the deceased and they were informed that her dead body is being taken to village- Khempur for last rites. He also stated that deceased was living with his another daughter-in-law, Babita, at Aligarh and appearing for examination.

17. The trial court after considering the rival submissions and going through the evidence on record acquitted the appellants of charges under Sections- 498-A, 304-B, 201 IPC and Section 34 of D.P. Act but convicted and sentenced the appellants under Section 506 Part-I IPC to two years rigorous imprisonment.

18. Against the judgment and order of trial court above noted four criminal appeals have been preferred. Criminal Appeal No. 6376 of 2010 has been preferred by the appellants against the order of conviction and sentence under Section 506 Part-I IPC. Second Criminal Appeal No. 6365 of 2010 and third Criminal Appeal No. 6504 of 2010 have been preferred by the informant, P.W.-1, challenging acquittal of the appellants for committing the offences under Section 498-A, 304-B, 201 IPC and Section 34 of D.P. Act. Last Government Appeal No. 8242 of 2010 has been also preferred by the State Government against the acquittal of the accused by trial court regarding the sections aforesaid.

19. Learned counsel for the appellants has submitted that it is a case of false implication of the appellants as clear from the evidence on record. The prosecution has tried to implicate the appellants falsely in the case of dowry death when it is a simple case of accident. He has made number of other submissions which shall be considered hereinafter.

20. Learned A.G.A has vehemently opposed the submissions made by learned counsel for the appellants and has submitted that the trial court has committed patent legal error in acquitting the appellants for committing the offences under Sections- 498-A, 304-B, 201 IPC and Section 34 of D.P. Act and only convicting them for committing minor offence punishable under Section 506 Part-I IPC. He has pointed out that at the time of consideration of bail application of the appellants a learned Single Judge of this court issued notices to the Presiding Officer of the trial court seeking his explanation as to why he has acquitted the appellants regarding the charges under Sections- 498-A, 304-B, 201 IPC and Section 34 of D.P.

Act. There was presumption against the accused under Section 113-B of Evidence Act since the deceased died within 7 years of her marriage with appellant, Manoj. He has further submitted that the Presiding Officer of the trial court has submitted his reply which is on record, but it is not satisfactory.

21. After hearing the rival submissions, we find that first lacuna in the prosecution is that the F.I.R was lodged on 21.05.2006 and the same was produced before C.J.M on 27.05.2006. Further, the Investigating Officers, P.W.-6 and P.W.-7, have not been able to state the date when F.I.R was sent to the C.J.M., Aligarh from the police station- Gabhana, District-Aligarh as per Section 157 Cr.P.C.

22. Regulation 97 of the Police Regulations also mandates that the original copy of the FIR shall be sent by the Superintendent of Police to the Magistrate forthwith having jurisdiction. For ready reference regulation 97 of Police Regulations is quoted hereinbelow:-

“97. Process for information relating to the commission of a cognizable offence.- Whenever information relating to the commission of a cognizable offence is given to an officer-in-charge of a police station the report will immediately be taken down in triplicate in the check receipt book for reports of cognizable offences (Police Form No. 341). The step will on no account be delayed to allow time for the true facts to be ascertained by a preliminary investigation. Even if it appears untrue, the report must be recorded at once. If the report is made orally, the exact words of the person who makes it, including his answers to any questions put to him should be taken down and read over to him; he must sign each of the three parts, or if he cannot write, he must make his mark or thumb-impression. If a written report is received an exact copy must be made, but the signature or mark of the messenger need not be taken. In all cases the officer-in-charge of the station must sign each of the three parts and have the seal of the station stamped on each. The triplicate copy will remain in the book; the duplicate copy will be given to the person who makes the oral or brings the written report; the original will be sent forthwith through the Superintendent of Police to the Magistrate having jurisdiction with the original written report (if any) attached.

The practice of delaying first information reports until they can be sent to head quarters attached to special or general diaries is contrary to the provisions of Criminal Procedure Code and is prohibited.

If there is an Assistant or Deputy Superintendent incharge of the subdivision, and stationed at a place other than the headquarters of the district, the original should be sent through him to the Magistrate.”

23. The Apex Court in the case of Ishwar Singh (the appellant) Vs. State of U.P. (The respondent) AIR 1976 SC 2423 has held that delay in sending report to the Magistrate makes the prosecution case doubtful. Only two days' delay in sending of the FIR to the Magistrate was considered fatal for the prosecution case. The Apex Court found that the delay in sending of the FIR gives time for introducing improvements setting up distorted version of the occurrence in the FIR. It would be useful to refer to paragraph 5 of the judgment of the Apex Court which is as follows:-

submitted that in affirming the Judgment of the trial Court, the High Court also overlooked certain important aspects of the case that the Sessions Judge had failed to consider. He pointed out that the F.I.R. which is stated to have been lodged at 9.05 A. M. on February 14, 1973 was sent out from the police station the next day, February 15; the time when it was despatched is not stated, but it appears from the record that the Magistrate received it on the morning of February 16. The Court of the Magistrate was nearby, which makes it difficult to understand why the report was sent to him about two days after its stated hour of receipt at the police station. Section 157 of the CrPC, 1898 as well as of 1973 both require the first information report to be sent "forthwith" to the Magistrate competent to take cognizance of the offence. No explanation is offered for this extraordinary delay in sending the report to the Magistrate. This is a circumstance which provides a legitimate basis for suspecting, as Mr. Anthony suggested, that the first information report was recorded much later than the stated date and hour affording sufficient time to the prosecution to introduce improvements and embellishments and set up a distorted version of the occurrence. In this case the suspicion hardens into a definite possibility when one finds that the case made in Court differs at least in two very important particulars from that narrated in the F.I.R. Mahabir Singh, who lodged the first information report, stated in-Court that he had invited some people to his house to effect a settlement between him and Ishwar Singh, and that he had also sent Ghanshyam to call Ishwar Singh there. The F.I.R. does not mention anything like this. From the F.I.R. it appears as if the accused persons came uninvited to his house, demanded why he had demolished the drain, and started assaulting him and the other persons who were present there. It is also difficult to understand why Mahabir should invite anyone to his house for a settlement, if really Ishwar Singh had permitted him to demolish the drain as he claimed. Further, the F.I.R. does not mention that Mahabir and Satyapal wielded lathis in their defence when attacked and that this resulted in some of the accused getting injured; but that is what both Mahabir (P.W. 1) and Satyapai (P.W. 2) stated in their evidence in Court. These variations relate to vital parts of the prosecution case, and cannot be dismissed as minor discrepancies. In such a case, the evidence of the eye-witnesses "cannot be accepted at its face value", as observed by this Court in Mitter Sain v. State of U.P."

24. The Apex Court in the case of Marudanal Augusti Vs. State of Kerala (1980) 4 SCC 425 has held that once FIR is found to be fabricated brought into existence long after the occurrence, entire prosecution case will collapse. In this case there was only 29 hours delay in receipt of FIR by Sub-Magistrate which the Apex Court held fatal for the prosecution case and affirmed the order of the acquittal passed by the trial court and set aside the judgment of the High Court.

25. In the recent judgment of the Apex Court in the case of Mohd. Muslim Vs. State of U.P. (Now Uttarakhand) [2023 (124) ACC 932] Apex Court has held that four days delay in sending of FIR to the court in a case of murder casts doubt on its authenticity in paragraph 13 which is quoted as follows:-

"13. The chick FIR report was sent to the Court on 08.08.1995 with the delay of about 4 days. It is worth mentioning that FIR in a criminal case and particularly in a murder case is a vital and a valuable piece of evidence especially for the purpose of appreciating the evidence adduced at the trial. It is for this reason that the infirmities, if any, in the FIR casts a doubt on its authenticity. The FIR in such cases may also lose its evidentiary value. In Meharaj Singh and Ors. Vs. State of U.P. and Ors.1, it has been opined that on account of the infirmities such an ante-timing of the FIR loses its evidentiary value. Thus, this entitles the accused to be given the benefit of doubt.”

26. Secondly, we find that there is no evidence at all on record which may prove that the deceased was subjected to cruelty soon before her death regarding non-fulfilment of demand dowry attracting section 304-B IPC along with Section 113-B of Evidence Act. For attracting the provisions of Section 304-B IPC prosecution is required to prove its one of the vital ingredients of Section 304-B IPC beyond reasonable doubt that deceased was subjected to cruelty by accused in connection with demand of dowry soon before her death. Legal presumption under Section 113-B of Evidence Act does not appear to be attracted in this case. The presence of all the appellants in their village home except appellants, Smt. Babita, Vishambhar, and Manoj, was proved in their village at the time of incident. City Aligarh where deceased died in the house of appellants, Babita and Vishambhar, was 21 kms away from the village- Khempur where remaining appellants resided. The prosecution under Section 304-B IPC cannot escape from the burden of proof that harassment / cruelty of deceased woman was related to demand of dowry and it was done “soon before her death”. The court cannot simply pass order of conviction and sentence if the death of deceased woman takes place within 7 years of her marriage in abnormal circumstances. To attract the provisions of section 304-B IPC, one of the main ingredients for constituting the offence which is required to be established is that the deceased was subjected to cruelty and harassment soon before her death in connection with demand of dowry.

27. In the present case, P.W.-1 stated that at the time of marriage of the deceased with appellant, Manoj, no demand of dowry was made and he willingly gave Rs. 5 lakhs in cash and other goods in dowry in their marriage which took place on 22.06.2004. It was an ideal marriage and all the relatives appreciated the same. He then stated that appellants were not happy with the dowry and they started demanding Maruti car in dowry after marriage and subjected his daughter to beating and harassment daily by different modes. There is nothing on record to prove this allegation except oral statement of P.W.-1. The marriage of deceased took place on 22.06.2004 and she died on 21.05.2006. During this period, no complaint was made against the appellants before the police or any other forum or authority alleging that appellants are demanding Maruti car from the deceased.

28. P.W.-2, who is real sister of deceased, also failed to prove any such allegation before the trial court. She gave her statement by reading a written document and admitted that she writes everything prior to stating it before the court. She also stated that government advocate may have failed to state some facts in her written note. The last Investigating Officer, P.W.-8, went to the place of incident and he recorded the statements of three witnesses, namely, Asha Devi, Anokhe Lal and Satendra Singh, where from it is clear that the deceased was talking on mobile phone and strolling on the upper floor of the house and accidentally fell down. It has come in the evidence that there was no boundary wall on the upper floor of the house whereon the deceased was strolling and talking on mobile phone from her husband. The above witnesses have clearly stated that the deceased fell down accidentally from the upper floor on the road and died soon. P.W.-1 and P.W.-2 have tried their best to make out a case of dowry death against the appellants but they have miserably failed in their efforts.

29. The essential ingredients to attract to provisions of Section 304-B IPC have been enumerated by the Apex Court in the case of Kashmir Kaur vs. State of Punjab, AIR 2013 SC 1039 as follows :-

“To attract the provisions of Section 304-B of the IPC the main ingredients of the offence to be established is (a) that soon before the death the deceased she was subjected to cruelty and harassment in connection with the demand of dowry, (b) the death of the deceased woman was caused by any burn or bodily injury or some other circumstance which was not normal, (c) such death occurs within seven years from the date of her marriage, (d) that the victim was subjected to cruelty or harassment by her husband or any relative of her husband, (e) such cruelty or harassment should be for or in connection with demand of dowry, and (f) it should be established that such cruelty and harassment was made soon before her death.”

30. The Apex Court in the case of Prema. S. Rao vs. Yadla Srinivasa Rao, AIR 2003 SC 11, has held that to attract the provisions of Section 304-B IPC one of the main ingredients of offence which is required to be established is that “soon before her death” deceased was subjected to cruelty and harassment “in connection with demand of dowry”. In the case of Mustafa Shahdal Shaikh vs. State of Maharashtra, AIR 2013 SC 851, the Apex Court defined the meaning of “soon before her death” as interval between cruelty and death should not be much. There must be existences of approximate and live link between the effect of cruelty based on demand of dowry in the concerned death. If the alleged incident of cruelty is remote in time and has become state enough not to disturb the mental equilibrium of the woman concerned, it would be of no consequence. In the cases of Yashoda vs. State of Madhya Pradesh, (2004) 3 SCC 98 and Kaliyaperumal vs. State of Tamil Nadu, AIR 2003 SC 3828 similar proposition of law has been considered.

31. In the present case, P.W.-1, stated that after the marriage of his daughter the appellants started demanding maruti car and she was subjected to torture daily. This assertion does not sounds credible in view of the fact that soon before her death, deceased had come from Rajkot, where her husband was employed. She was living at her sister-in-law's place at Aligarh and peacefully appeared in 7 papers of B.A.-III examination from there. There is no allegation that she was hindered from appearing in examination by any of the appellants. P.W.-1 has admitted that all the appellants, except appellant, Virendra and his wife visited his place with his daughter, number of times. He has not alleged that while they came to his house with his daughter they ever demanded maruti car or taunted him on this account. P.W.-2 has also not made any such allegation in her statement. She has admitted going to the matrimonial home of her sister, Bhumika and meeting the members of her matrimonial home and talking to appellant, Manoj, whenever he came to his house on leave. Thus, there is no evidence of the deceased being subjected to torture in connection with demand of dowry soon before her death.

32. In the present case, we find that the deceased was living at the house of her sister-in-law, Smt. Babita, in the city of Aligarh and was appearing for B.A. IIIrd year examination soon before her death. It is admitted fact that she had passed her examination of B.A. Part-1 and B.A. Part-II after her marriage. She has appeared in 7 papers in B.A final examination which was about to be completed in two days i.e., on 23.05.2006 and appellant, Manoj, who was posted at Rajkot in Gujarat was coming to take her back to Rajkot after her examinations were over. Before the trial court, documentary evidence were placed to prove that the appellant, Manoj, was coming back from Rajkot. He filed the copy of railway reservation ticket dated 20.05.2006 from Rajkot to Aligarh and also the warrant for travel issued by his employer, Central Industrial Security Force (C.I.S.F.) and his leave certificate from 22.05.2006 to 26.05.2006. he also produced the railway reservation ticket of return journey dated 29.05.2006 and 30.05.2006. Therefore, it is clear that the deceased was peacefully appearing in B.A. Part-III examination staying in the house of her sister-in-law, Smt. Babita. Prior to that she was living at Rajkot, where her husband was employed and she suffered problem of slip disk in her spine for which the appellant, Manoj, got her treated from 22.05.2005 to 26.11.2005. He filed the documents of Orthopaedic Hospital and the receipts of purchasing medicines, M.R.I report, prescription of her treatment, receipts of physiotherapy and the registration slip in the Rajkot Hospital regarding treatment of deceased. This proves that the deceased was living with her husband prior to her death at Rajkot and from Rajkot she came to Aligarh to appear in B.A.-III examination. There is no allegation that she was subjected to any torture connected with demand of dowry during this period except the statement of P.W.-1 that the appellant, Manoj, and husband of deceased, stopped her treatment for slip disk at Rajkot and threatened that unless the demand of Maruti car is fulfilled, he will not get the daughter of P.W.-1 treated further.

33. Even if the entire evidence lead before trial court by appellants regarding treatment of deceased, travel from Rajkot to Aligarh ignored even then the mere threat extended by appellant, Manoj, that he will not get daughter of P.W.-1 treated for her ailment of slip disk unless maruti car is given in dowry will not amount to subjecting the deceased to cruelty soon before her death. There is no evidence that deceased was suffering from ailment of slip disk to such an extent that her movement was difficult. She appeared in 7 papers of B.A.-III examination after sitting on chair without trouble which shows her ailment of slip disk was not critical. P.W.-1 claimed that his son and two brothers-in-law went to Rajkot and appellant, Manoj, gave threat to them that he will not get their daughter treated unless demand of maruti car is made. However, before the trial court P.W.-1 failed to file any documentary evidence to prove that he, his son and two brothers-in-law, ever went to Rajkot to meet the deceased where the threat was extended to P.W.-1. There is no allegation that the deceased was being subjected to any torture at Rajkot where she resided before coming to Aligarh to appear in B.A.-III examination before her death, nor P.W.-1 or P.W.-2 made any such allegation. Therefore, it is clear that soon before her death the deceased was not subjected to any harassment in connection with demand of any dowry by the appellants. The claim of P.W.-1 in his statement that he went to Rajkot along with his son and his two brothers-in-law also went there does not stand proved before trial court. Therefore, the finding of trial court that there was no evidence of the deceased being subjected to any cruelty in connection with demand of dowry soon before her death is in accordance with law and cannot be said to be perverse and is hereby affirmed.

34. The nature of injuries suffered by the deceased are six in numbers. Except the injury no. 1 which was a lacerated wound on the central vault of the skull, 6 cm above from glabella, all the other injuries were simple and on non-vital parts of body the deceased.

35. The Doctor, P.W.-3, was cross-examined on the nature of injuries by the prosecution and he proved that the injury no. 1 may have been caused by falling from the height of 22 feet on rough surface. After falling from above height, the injured may skid and it can result in tearing of clothes in the process. The doctor found the “salvaar” of the deceased torn on account of skidding after falling from the height. In the cross-examination, the prosecution did not cross-examine him as to whether such an injury can be caused by hitting the deceased on head by some hard object and he salvaar can get torn in the process.

Therefore, the medical evidence clearly proves that the deceased suffered vital head injury no. 1 because of accidentally falling from the height of about 22 feet while she was talking on phone.

36. P.W.-1 and P.W.-2 have tried to make improvements in their statements before the court with regard to the facts which they did not state in their statements before the Investigating Officer. It was alleged in the F.I.R. that there were blue marks found on the neck of the deceased and her head was broken by danda or some incised weapon but the doctor did not find sign of any such injury nor the prosecution cross-examined him in this regard. Therefore, the manner of incident and the injuries allegedly suffered by the deceased as alleged by the prosecution were not found to be proved before the trial court.

37. The statement of P.W.-2, daughter of P.W.-1 and sister of deceased, is most unreliable. She has given her statement on the basis of written note and has admitted that it was prepared in consultation with the government advocate. She has implicated appellants, Manoj and Vishambhar, and the other appellants and stated that they had gathered at Aligarh, where the deceased was temporarily residing and appearing for B.A. final examination, and all of them conspired and killed the deceased. This was never stated by the P.W.-1 in his statement. Clearly there is vital contradiction in the statements of P.W.-1 and P.W.-2. The appellants, Manoj and Vishambhar, both filed their railway tickets of travel before the trial court in evidence and proved that while the appellant, Manoj, was coming from Rajkot to Aligarh and was on the way on the night of incident, the appellant, Vishambhar, was employed and posted at Delhi and he had applied for leave on 21st and 22nd May, 2005. He also filed the documentary evidence issued by C.I.S.F Delhi before the trial court. The ration card of the appellant, Manoj and deceased, Bhumika and appellants, Virendra Singh and Pushpa Devi, were filed in evidence which proved that deceased was not member of family of her father-in-law and mother-in-law and was not residing with them in village- Khempur. She was residing with her husband, Manoj at Rajkot, Gujarat.

38. Regarding the incident of throwing bricks by the appellants on the prosecution side, this court finds that except the allegation made in statement of P.W.-1 and the F.I.R., there was no evidence at all to prove this allegation. The Investigating Officers did not found any evidence in this regard. There was no evidence found by the three Investigating Officers, P.W.-6, P.W.-7 and P.W.-8, nor any injury was suffered by prosecution side at all. The trial court convicted the appellants under Section 506 Part-I IPC only on the basis of the allegations made by P.W.-1. He stated that the alleged incident took place when the appellants were going to cremate the body of his daughter without post-mortem and they resisted and threatened P.W.-1 and his relatives of life. P.W.-2 was clearly not present in the village Khempur of appellants at that time as per her own admission. Therefore, the solitary witness, P.W.-1 supported the allegations of throwing bricks and stones on his side by the appellants. This court has found that the statement of P.W.-1 is not reliable since he failed to prove the allegations of commission of main offences under Sections 498-A, 304-B, 201 IPC and Section 34 of Dowry Prohibition Act, as alleged by him in the FIR and also in his statement, against the appellants. His allegation of visiting his daughter at Rajkot and sending his son and two brothers-in-law is also not found to be proved. Therefore, without any corroboration of his evidence regarding allegations of commission offence under Section 506, Part 1 IPC, conviction of appellants under Section 506 Part-I IPC by the trial court cannot be upheld. The allegations do not sound credible since this incident is alleged to have taken place on the night of 21.06.2006. Thereafter, the dead body of deceased was retained and inquest proceedings were conducted on 22.05.2006 from 11:00 a.m to 12:00 a.m.; post-mortem was conducted on 22.05.2006 at 04:00 p.m and thereafter the body of deceased was cremated. The cremation of the deceased was joined by the P.W.-1 and his relatives and no dispute took place between them. During inquest proceedings the mama of deceased, Satish Kumar Singh, was present as witness of inquest. Neither P.W.-1 nor his son are witnesses of inquest proceedings. It appears that dead body of the deceased was sought to be cremated by the appellants after being taken to the village but it was opposed by the prosecution side and therefore the police took the dead body of the deceased in its custody. There is no allegation that after the dead body of the deceased was taken by the police in its possession, P.W.-1 was threatened or subjected to any insult by the appellants, who did not wanted post-mortem of the dead body of the deceased. P.W.-1 stated that when the dispute took place between the parties he made phone call to the police but he has admitted in his cross-examination before the trial court that he did not had any phone at that time.

39. Reading of definition of “criminal intimidation” would indicate that there must be an act of threatening to another person, of causing an injury to the person, reputation or property of person threatened, or to the person in whom the threatened person has interest and the threat must be with the intent to cause alarm to the person threatened or it must be to do any act which he is not legally bound to do or forbid to do an act which he is legally entitled to do.

(i) For proving the offence under Section 506 IPC prosecution is required to prove that the accused threatened some person.

(ii) That such threatening consisted of some injury to his person, reputation of property.

(iii) That he did so with intent to compel either that person to do or not to do an act to which he was legally entitled.

40. In this case, no injury was caused to any person. There is no evidence that the appellants threatened the prosecution side from not insisting upon the post-mortem of the dead body of the deceased which was a legal necessity. There is clear allegation that bricks and stones were thrown on P.W.-1 and his relatives by the appellant's side. None of them suffered any injury nor the Investigating Officer, during investigation, found any such evidence. The Investigating Officers, P.W.-6, P.W.-7 and P.W.-8, have not found the alleged incident proved.

41. In view of the above consideration, this court finds that the finding of the trial court regarding conviction and sentence of appellants under Section 506 Part-I IPC is perverse and not based on any credible evidence. P.W.-1 does not appear to be a reliable witness since he failed to prove the allegations made by him in the FIR and also in his statement and conviction and sentence of appellants under Section 506, Part-1 IPC on his uncorroborated testimony cannot be justified.

42. The judgment and order of trial court regarding conviction and sentence of appellants under Section 506 Part 1 IPC is set aside. The judgment and order of trial court is set aside. The appellants are acquitted of all charges.

43. Criminal Appeal No. 6376 of 2010 is allowed.

44. The appellants are on bail. Their bail bonds are cancelled and sureties are discharged.

45. Before parting we must do justice also to the Presiding Officer who passed the judgment and order under appeal and was issued show cause notice by a learned Single Judge as to why he has acquitted the appellants u/S 498-A, 304-B, 201 IPC and Section 34 of D.P. Act despite presumption against them u/S 113-B of Evidence Act.

46. The notice issued by a learned Single Judge of this court on 23.09.2010 to the District and Sessions Judge, Aligarh, who passed the judgment and order under challenge, was replied by him stating that the offences alleged U/S 498-A, 304-B, 201 IPC and Section 34 of D.P. Act are not proved against the appellants because they failed to prove that soon before her death deceased was subjected to any cruelty or harassment in connection with any demand of dowry, which is one of the vital ingredients for proving the offence of dowry death.

47. We are in full agreement with the reply submitted by the District and Sessions Judge, Aligarh to the notice issued by the learned Single Judge of this court. He has not committed any mistake in deciding the case and acquitting the appellants of charges under Sections- 498-A, 304-B, 201 IPC and Section 34 of D.P. Act. We have also reached the same conclusion. Further, we have found that conviction and sentence of appellants U/S 506 Part 1 IPC was also unwarranted and may have been ordered only for protection of trial court from unwanted notice like the one which was issued by learned Single Judge to the District and Sessions Judge.

48. The reply submitted by the District and Sessions Judge, Aligarh is accepted with regret that learned Single Judge should not have issued notice to the Presiding Officer of trial court merely on the basis of submission of counsel for informant without considering the full facts and the law involved in the case. Learned Single Judge of this court acted in haste when he issued notice to the District and Sessions Judge, Aligarh. The District and Sessions Judge has stated in his reply that the notice has been issued to him only to harm his reputation and service career.

49. Learned Single Judge of this High Court not only issued notice to the Sessions Judge but directed the matter to be placed before Hon'ble The Chief Justice for kind perusal without waiting for reply of District and Sessions Judge and deciding whether reply of the District and Sessions Judge was satisfactory or not. Such conduct of the High Court is responsible for the fear on the part of the Judicial Officers in the trial court and in many cases where the accused deserves clear acquittal, judgment of conviction and order of sentence is passed only because Presiding Officers want to avoid issuance of notice and action by High Court ordered without properly considering their judgments and orders.

50. The office shall make endeavour to search the then District and Sessions Judge, Aligarh who has certainly retired by now and send a copy of this judgment to him so that he may know that he did not committed any error in deciding the case, except the minor error of conviction of appellants u/S 506, Part 1 IPC, which we have rectified.

51. For the detailed reasons given in the judgment of Criminal Appeal No. 6376 of 2010, the Criminal Appeal Nos. 6365 of 2010, 6504 of 2010 U/S 372 Cr.P.C and Government Appeal No. 8242 of 2010 are clearly without force and are hereby dismissed.

52. Office is directed to return the record of the trial court within period of two weeks and notify this judgment to the trial court too.

Criminal Appeal No. 6710 of 2011

 Criminal Appeal No. 5490 of 2011

Ram Ji & Anr. ...Appellants
Versus
State of U.P. ...Respondent

Counsel for the Appellants:
 V.P. Srivastava, Sr. Advocate

Counsel for the Respondent:
 G.A.

(A) Criminal Law - Dowry Death and Cruelty - Indian Penal Code, 1860 - Section 304-B/34, 498-A/34, The Dowry prohibition Act, 1961- Section 4 - Essential ingredients of Section 304-B IPC, including "soon before her death" and "in connection with demand of dowry - Presumption under Section 113-B of the Evidence Act, 1872 - There must be existence of a proximate and live link between the effect of cruelty based on dowry demand and the death concerned - General and Omnibus allegations cannot be manifest in a situation where the relatives of the husband are forced to undergo trial - Allowing prosecution in the absence of clear allegations against relatives of the husband would simply result in an abuse of the process of law - Burden on the accused is not as onerous as that which lies on the prosecution - In a criminal trial the defence evidence stands on the same footing as that of the prosecution.(Para - 72,76,93,101,104)

Deceased, married to the appellant - was allegedly harassed for dowry (Rs. 50,000 and a scooter) - She was brought to her parental house in an injured state - was tortured and burnt by pouring hot mustered oil, which resulted into the burning of her right hand and leg - died the following day - death of deceased occurred while she was staying with her own family members. (Para - 4 to 6 ,104)

HELD: - Accused husband (Ram Ji) and mother-in-law (Sumari Devi) only may be held liable for the offence under Section 498-A and Section 4 D.P. Act for causing cruelty to the deceased and also for making an indirect demand of dowry from the family members of the deceased through her but the evidence on record is not sufficient to record the conviction of the appellants under Section 304-B/34 I.P.C. as the essential ingredient of 'soon before' is not satisfied. Prosecution failed to show that 'soon before' her death the deceased was subjected to cruelty and harassment by her in-laws for or in connection with demand of dowry. Prosecution also failed to show that all the relatives of the husband were residing jointly with the appellant (Ram Ji) and her mother (Sumari Devi) and hence, they are entitled for benefit of doubt. Other relatives of the husband were acquitted. (Para -104,105,106)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Nalin Kumar
Srivastava, J.)

1. Since these appeals have been filed by the accused appellants against the same judgement and order, they have been heard together and are being disposed of by a common order.

2. Feeling aggrieved with the judgment and order dated 9.9.2011 passed by Additional Sessions Judge, Court No.13, Allahabad in S.T. No. 618 of 2006 arising out of Crime No. 193 of 2003 under Section 304-B/34, 498-A/34 I.P.C. and 4 D.P. Act, P.S.-Kydganj, Allahabad, whereby the appellants have been convicted and sentenced under Section 304-B/34 I.P.C. for 10 years rigorous imprisonment, under Section 498-A/34 I.P.C. for 2 years rigorous imprisonment with a fine of Rs.2,000/- each with default clause and under Section 4 D.P. Act for 1 year simple imprisonment with a fine of Rs.1,000/- each with default clause and all the sentences were to run concurrently, the present criminal appeals have been preferred by convict-appellants 1. Ram Ji, 2. Smt. Sumari Devi, 3. Mahendra Kumar, 4. Dwarika Prasad, 5. Ram Prasad, 6. Smt. Manju, 7. Smt. Manisha, 8. Smt. Urmila and 9. Smt. Kusum.

3. Out of nine convict appellants, convict Ram Ji and Dwarika Prasad have died and reports regarding their death are available on record. Hence, the appeals qua convict appellants Ram Ji and Dwarika Prasad stand abated.

4. The prosecution story as unfolded in the FIR is that Urmila, the daughter of the informant Chote Lal was married with Ram Ji s/o Shyam Sundar on 11.11.2003 and when she came to her matrimonial house after marriage a demand for one scooter and Rs.50,000/- cash was made by her in-laws as an additional dowry and she was also threatened for dire consequences in case the demand made by the in-laws was not satisfied. She came back to her parental house and when on 27.11.2003 she again went to her matrimonial house she was tortured and burnt by pouring hot mustered oil, which resulted into the burning of her right hand and leg; On her telephone call, Ghanshyam, the son of the informant and his son-in-law Chaman Kumar went to the house of her in-laws on 3.12.2003 and the deceased was taken to her parental house and when they were taking her to the hospital on 4.12.2003, she died on way at 7 am.

5. On the written report of informant FIR was lodged on 4.12.2003 at 10.00 am against 9 named accused persons and investigation started.

6. Inquest proceedings were performed by Tehsildar Bara, Brajendra Singh on 4.12.2003 and subsequently her dead body was examined by Dr. A.K. Mehrotra on 6.12.2003, who prepared the autopsy report and found several ante-mortem injuries over the body of the deceased and the cause of death was found coma as a result of ante-mortem head injury.

7. The matter was investigated initially by Shri Prakash Swaroop Pandey, Dy. S.P. EOW, who during course of investigation inspected the place of occurrence and prepared site plan, made arrest of accused persons and also proceeded to interrogate the witnesses of this case and subsequently the investigation was transferred to Shri Rajesh Kumar, C.O. City, Firozabad, who completed the rest formalities of the investigation and after collecting sufficient evidence submitted charge sheet to the Court.

8. The offence being exclusively triable by the Sessions Court was committed to the Court of Sessions by the Magistrate where charges under Section 498-A/34, 304-B/34 I.P.C. and Section 3/4 D.P. Act were framed against all the charge sheeted nine accused persons. They denied all the charges and claimed for trial.

9. To bring home the charges against the accused-appellants the prosecution relied upon the oral evidence and in all as many as 10 prosecution witnesses were examined. P.W.1 Chote Lal, informant/father of the deceased, P.W.2 Ghanshyam Kumar, brother of the deceased, P.W.3 Km. Shabnam, sister of the deceased and formal witnesses P.W.4 Dr. Veerendra Singh, medical officer, P.W.5 Crt. Mhr. Rampati Singh, P.W.6 Dr. R.D. Ram, P.W.7 Rajesh Kumar, C.O. City, second I.O., P.W.8 Dy. S.P. Prakash Swaroop Pandey, first I.O., P.W.9 Brijendra Dwivedi, Tehsildar and P.W.10 S.I. Surendra Nath Dubey, the scribe, have been produced by the prosecution.

10. In support of the oral evidence the prosecution has relied upon the documentary evidence as well. Written report Ex.Ka-1, Inquest report Ex.Ka-2, marriage invitation cards Ex.Ka-3 and Ex.Ka-4, photographs Ex.Ka-5 to Ex.Ka-9, first post mortem report Ex.Ka-9/1, GD. Ex.Ka-10, second post mortem report Ex.Ka-11, charge sheet- Ex.Ka-12, site plan Ex.Ka-13, memo of taking photo and video of marriage ceremony Ex.Ka-14, report to CMO Ex.Ka-15, Report of Tehsildar Ex.Ka-16, report to R.I. Ex.Ka-17, letter by Tehsildar to C.M.O. Ex.Ka-18, challan lash Ex.Ka-19, photo nash Ex.Ka-20, chick FIR Ex.Ka-21, copy of nakal rapat regarding registration of case Ex.Ka-22 are produced as documentary evidence. Shri Rajesh Kumar Yadav, C.O. Sirathu, District Kaushambi was produced as C.W.1, who has proved the fact, the investigation in this case was performed by C.O. City-III, Shri Rajesh Kumar, who as per his information is posted at Firozabad at present.

11. The incriminating circumstances appearing in evidence were put to the accused persons after closure of the prosecution evidence in their statement under Section 313 Cr.P.C. wherein they made a specific denial of the prosecution case, claimed the prosecution evidence as false and fabricated and pleaded for defence evidence. A specific defence was taken by the accused Ramji, the husband, who stated in his statement under Section 313 Cr.P.C. that no conjugal relation was made between the couple and the deceased stayed at his home for about 2 days only and then her family members took her with them. The bidaai of his wife had to take place on 7.12.2003 but they got information of her death prior to that. Subsequently he came to know that his wife was entangled with some other person and was making preparation to go with him but when the matter was disclosed to her family members she was bitterly assaulted by them which resulted into her death. The accused persons were falsely implicated in this matter as the family members of the deceased are active in politics and they have a lot of influence upon the police and local leaders. Besides it a plea for separate living was taken by the co-accused persons.

12. To strengthen the defence version D.W.1 Vinod Kumar, D.W.2 Smt. Usha Devi and D.W.3 Jagdish Prasad have been examined as defence witnesses by the accused persons.

13. The trial Court after hearing at length both the sides and after scrutinizing and analyzing the evidence on record passed an order of conviction against all the 9 accused persons and they all were convicted under Sections 304-B/34, 498-A/34 I.P.C. and Sec. 4 D.P. Act and were sentenced as mentioned herein above.

14. Heard Sri V.P. Srivastava, learned Senior Advocate assisted by Ms. Neeja Srivastava, learned counsel for the appellants and Sri Kamal Dev Rai and Sri A.K. Mishra, learned A.G.A. for the State.

15. Criminal Appeal No. 6710 of 2011 was filed by appellant Ram Ji, the husband and Smt. Sumari Devi, the mother-in-law and Criminal Appeal No. 5490 of 2011 was preferred by Mahendra Kumar, brother-in-law (Jeth), Dwarika Prasad, uncle of husband, Ram Prasad, uncle of the husband, Smt. Manju, aunt of accused Ram Ji, Smt. Manisha and Smt. Urmila sister-in-law (Jethani) and Smt. Kusum, sister-in-law (Nand) of the deceased.

Prosecution Evidence-

16. To start with the appreciation of evidence on record the examination of P.W.1 Chote Lal, the informant/ father of the deceased is to be scrutinized. P.W. 1 in his testimony has corroborated the prosecution case as disclosed in the FIR. He has narrated that several articles were given along with cash rupees in the marriage of his daughter with Ram Ji on 11.11.2003 but her in-laws were not happy with the dowry given in the marriage and on her stay to her matrimonial house for 5-6 days only the deceased was subjected to cruelty and harassment for demand of additional dowry and the said story was disclosed by her to her mother blaming all the accused persons/ in-laws for the said harassment and demand. The deceased was sent again to her in-laws' house on 27.11.2003 but this time she was bitterly assaulted by her in-laws and hot mustard oil was poured upon her causing burn injuries to her legs and hands. On a telephone call made by the deceased he sent his son-in-law and son to her matrimonial house on 3.12.2003 to take her back and when she came back she was unable to speak even and reported her family members about the serious assault made upon her by her in-laws. They also found her face swollen, having blackening in the back of chest and marks of injuries over her whole body. When she was being taken by an auto for treatment next day on 4.12.2003 she collapsed near the Glass factory. P.W.1 has also proved written report Ex.Ka-1, which he dictated to Shiv Shankar Gupta and on the basis of which FIR was lodged. He has also proved inquest report Ex.Ka-2 and has affirmed his presence at the time of inquest proceeding.

17. P.W. 2 Ghanshyam Kumar is the brother of the deceased. Corroborating the testimony of P.W.1. he has also given his statement in the same fashion and has proved this fact that his sister had been under continuous torture made by her in-laws for demand of dowry and when on her telephone call he along with his brother-in-law went to her matrimonial house on 3.12.2003 she again disclosed the factum of assault made by her in-laws and she was not in a fit state of health. She was brought to her parental house and the next morning she became serious. They took her for treatment by a tempo but his sister who was having several injuries over her body died near a glass factory. P.W.2 has proved the marriage invitation cards as Ex.Ka-3 and Ex.Ka-4 and photographs at the time of jaimal as Ex.Ka-5 to Ex.Ka-7 and photographs taken after her death as Ex.Ka-8, Ka-9.

18. P.W.3 Km. Shabnam is the sister of the deceased, who has corroborated the statements made by P.W.1 and P.W.2 and has repeated the story of demand of dowry and causing cruelty and harassment to her sister followed by serious assault by her in-laws for demand of one scooter and Rs.50000 cash as additional dowry.

19. Apart from the aforesaid witnesses of fact the prosecution has also relied upon the testimony of formal witnesses.

20. P.W. 4 Dr. Veerendra Singh, medical officer, who has conducted the autopsy of the body of the deceased on 05.12.2003 at 3:15 p.m. has proved the first post mortem report as Ex.Ka-9 and has also identified the signature of Dr. Pradip Tondon, who accompanied him in the proceedings of post mortem of the deceased. P.W.4 at the time of post mortem found following injuries over the body of the deceased:

(i) Abrasion 1 cm x 1 cm on left forearm post aspect 2.5 cm below elbow.

(v) Abrasion 1 cm x 1 cm on anterior aspect of right leg 4 cm below knee joint.

21. P.W.4 has stated that the death of the deceased was caused due to ante mortem head injury followed by coma.

22. P.W.5 Cons. Rampati Singh is the scribe of G.D. He has narrated in his testimony that earlier the case was registered as case crime no. 'Nil' of 2003 but since the place of occurrence was falling in the area of P.S. Kydganj he marked a crime number to it and prepared G.D. by his signature. He has proved the copy of G.D. as Ex.Ka-10.

23. P.W.6 Dr. R.D. Ram has proved the factum of second post mortem and he has explained that earlier the post mortem of the deceased was conducted on 5.12.2003 by Dr. Veerendra Singh and Dr. P. Tondon and subsequent post mortem was performed by him by order of C.M.O. on 6.12.2003 at 4:45 p.m. and in the panel he was authorized along with Dr. A.K. Mehrotra and Dr. D.K. Srivastava to perform the post mortem. P.W.6 who proves the second autopsy report as Ext. Ka-11 found following injuries over the body of the deceased:

(i) Abraded wound 1 cm x 1 cm on the dorsum of left forearm 2.5 cm below the elbow.

(iv) Abraded wound 1 cm x 1/2 cm on the lateral aspect of left forearm 1 cm proximal to wrist joint.

(v) Abraded wound 1 cm x 1 cm on the front of the right leg 2 cm below tibial tuberosity.

(vi) Abraded wound 1 cm x 1/2 cm on the lateral aspect of right ankle joint.

He has opined that the death should have been caused 2 and ½ day before the post mortem and opined that due to ante mortem head injuries which resulted into coma, the death of the deceased occurred. He has also clarified that no difference was found between the first and the subsequent post mortem of the deceased.

24. P.W.7 Rajesh Kumar, C.O. city, Firozabad is the second I.O. of the case, who took over the investigation on 09.01.2004 and performed the remaining investigation of the case and on the basis of sufficient evidence submitted the charge sheet Ex.Ka-12 against all the 9 named accused persons of the case.

25. P.W.8 Prakash Swaroop Pandey is the first I.O of the case who has proved the proceedings of the investigation. He has also proved the site plan as Ex.Ka-13 and memo of taking photographs into possession as Ex.Ka-14. He has further proved the factum of recording of the statement of the witnesses of fact and other relevant formal witnesses.

Rival contentions-

26. The impugned judgement and order passed by the learned Sessions Court has been assailed by the learned counsel for the appellants on various grounds. It has been vehemently submitted that the essential ingredients to constitute an offence under Section 304-B I.P.C. are completely missing in this case and the prosecution has miserably failed to establish the essential components to bring the matter within the purview of dowry death.

27. It is further urged that significantly in this case the death of the deceased lady has been occurred while she was present in her parental house amongst her own family members. It is further submitted that the evidence available on record explicitly shows that when the deceased was taken by her own family members from her matrimonial house she was in a fit and healthy condition but the family members of the deceased herself ill-treated and assaulted her causing grievous injuries which were proved fatal to her. It is further submitted that the prosecution has failed to show on the basis of the evidence of fact and medical evidence as well that the deceased came to her parental house in injured condition and the injuries whatsoever, found upon her body were the result of beating her violently by her own family members and the present appellants had nothing to do with that.

28. The impugned judgement has been assailed on another ground that the prosecution has come forward with an unnatural story that a demand of Rs.50,000/- and one scooter was made to the deceased by all the appellants, including all the family members of her husband viz. brother-in-law, Mahendra Kumar (Jeth), Sisters-in-law, Smt. Urmila and Smt. Manisha, uncle and aunt of husband, Ram Prasad and Smt. Manju, sister-in-law Smt. Kusum (married nand), mother-in-law Sumari Devi, and Dwarika Prasad (uncle) and Ram ji the husband as well. It is vehemently submitted that in this way all the family members of the husband of the deceased including his married sister, uncle and aunt have been falsely roped into the present case on the basis of omnibus allegations without any specific instance of their involvement in the alleged offence.

29. It is further submitted that the medical evidence does not corroborate the prosecution version in material terms and there are relevant contradictions between the evidence of fact and the medical evidence on record. On such grounds a prayer has been made for the acquittal of all the appellants by allowing the present criminal appeal.

30. Per contra, learned A.G.A vehemently opposed the contentions raised by the learned counsel for the appellants. It has been submitted that there is ample evidence on record to prove that the demand for additional dowry in the form of one scooter and Rs.50,000/- cash was continuously being made by all the appellants. It is further submitted that the essential element of 'soon before' to bring an offence under the cover of 'dowry death' has very well been proved by the witnesses of fact. The deceased was taken to her parental house same day when she was tortured by the appellants for the sake of additional dowry. It is also submitted that she was taken to her parental house in injured condition and the injuries were very severe and grievous in nature which ultimately proved fatal to her and the poor lady died just on the next day when she was being taken to the doctor by her family members.

31. It is also submitted that the conduct of the appellants from the very inception of the occurrence is also relevant to be taken into consideration.

32. The medical evidence on record stands in complete conformity with the deposition of the witnesses who are the family members of the deceased. It is also submitted that there is no perversity in the impugned judgement which is well reasoned and sentencing is also proper and the present criminal appeal is liable to be dismissed.

Ingredients of Section 304-B I.P.C.-

33. At the very outset before analysing the evidence on record the essential ingredients to constitute an offence under Section 304-B are required to be taken into consideration. Section 304-B I.P.C. provides as hereunder:

“304-B. Dowry death. -- (1) Where the death of a woman is caused by any burns or bodily injury or occurs otherwise than under normal circumstances within seven years of her marriage and it is shown that soon before her death she was subjected to cruelty or harassment by her husband or any relative of her husband for, or in connection with, any demand for dowry, such death shall be called "dowry death", and such husband or relative shall be deemed to have caused her death".

34. Further, the conditions for applying Section 498-A I.P.C. and Section 4 D.P. Act are also to be kept in mind which follow like this-"Section 498-A. Husband or relative of husband of a woman subjecting her to cruelty.

Whoever, being the husband or the relative of the husband of a woman, subjects such woman to cruelty shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three years and shall also be liable to fine".

"Section 4 Dowry Prohibition Act, 1961

If any person demands, directly or indirectly, from the parents or other relatives or guardian of a bride or bridegroom, as the case may be, any dowry, he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which shall not be less than six months, but which may extend to two years and with fine which may extend to ten thousand rupees: Provided that the court may, for adequate and special reasons to be mentioned in the judgment, impose a sentence of imprisonment for a term of less than six months".

35. The definition of 'dowry death' envisaged under Section 304-B I.P.C. is exhaustive and the essential components to constitute an offence thereunder deserve to be observed which have been elucidated in umpteen of cases.

Essentials of Section 304-B I.P.C.-

36. In Satveer Singh Vs. State of Punjab (2001) 8 SCC 633 relying upon the decision in Shanti Vs. State of Haryana (1991) 5 SCC 371 and Kansraj Vs. State of Punjab (2000) 5 SCC 207 the Hon'ble Apex Court defined the essential components of Section 304-B I.P.C. which are as follows-

(i) death of woman occurring otherwise than under normal circumstances,

(ii) such death should be occurred within 7 years of her marriage and

(iii) soon before her death she should have been subjected to cruelty and harassment and

(iv) such cruelty and harassment should be in connection with any demand of dowry.

When the above pre-requisitions are established the husband or his relatives who caused the deceased such cruelty and harassment shall be presumed to be guilty of offence under Section 304-B I.P.C.

Conclusion-

Death within 7 years of marriage-

37. Death of the deceased within seven years of her marriage with Ram Ji (now dead) being an admitted fact needs no analysis of evidence over this issue.

Death caused otherwise than under normal circumstances-

38. The second ingredient necessary to establish an offence under Section 304-B I.P.C is that the prosecution has to show that the death of the lady occurred otherwise than under normal circumstances. The phrase “otherwise than under normal circumstances” may be taken to mean as to the death of the deceased was not a result of any usual course of life but the circumstances under which the death of the woman was caused should be apparently under suspicious circumstances. It should never be a result of natural death but the circumstances surrounding her death must be otherwise than normal circumstances.\

39. The learned trial Judge in order to find out the truthfulness of the aforesaid fact relied upon the testimony of the witnesses of fact and formal witnesses and medical evidence as well available on record.

40. The most crucial point in the matter in hand is as to whether the deceased was brought to her parental house in an injured condition from her matrimonial house and injuries inflicted upon her body were the root cause of her death occurring just on the next day of the injuries caused or she was brought to her parental house in a healthy state of body and only after coming to her parental house she was belaboured by her own family members which was proved fatal to her. The Court has to find out whether she sustained injuries in her own parental house or she was already seriously injured when she was brought to her parental house.

41. The evidence on record on the said relevant issue is to be examined minutely to find out the guilt of the accused persons in connection with dowry death of the deceased. The FIR of this case consists of the allegation that when after Bidaai the deceased went to her matrimonial house on 27.11.2003 she was bitterly assaulted by all the named accused persons and was burnt over her right hand and legs by hot mustard oil which was poured upon her by her mother-in-law and elder sister-in-law (jethani) and when the incident was informed by the deceased on phone to her family members Ghanshyam, brother of the deceased and his brother-in-law (behnoi) went to her matrimonial house and took the deceased to her parental house on 3.12.2003 in the evening.

42. P.W.1 the informant/ father of the deceased in his statement recorded before the Court has deposed that on 27.11.2003 when his daughter went again to her matrimonial house she was beaten bitterly by her in-laws and her legs and hands were also burnt by pouring hot mustard oil upon her. P.W.2 Ghanshyam Kumar, the brother of the deceased is the person who had gone with his brother-in-law to the matrimonial house of the deceased and he states in his evidence that on receiving the phone call by her sister on 3.12.2003 informing of the injuries she sustained by her in-laws, he along with his brother-in-law went there and took her to her parental house. She was having serious injuries.

43. P.W.3 the sister of the deceased also affirms that when on 3.12.2003 the deceased was brought to her parental house she had seen several injuries upon her body.

44. P.W.4 Dr. Virendra Singh, who performed the first post mortem of the deceased has categorically stated that the death of the deceased was caused due to ante mortem head injury. He also found several injuries over the body of the deceased.

45. In the same fashion P.W.6 who performed the second autopsy of the dead body of the deceased also finds several injuries, eight in number over the body of the deceased and in his opinion the death of the deceased was caused due to coma as a result of ante mortem head injury.

46. The aforesaid set of evidence is capable of disclosing the number and nature of the injuries of the deceased but the most crucial point to be taken into account is whether the deceased was brought to her parental house already in a fit state of health and body and subsequently for some reasons she sustained injuries by her own family members or she was already injured when brought to her parental home. This issue arises on account of the defence case which was suggested by the defence during the course of cross-examination of the witnesses of fact. The defence has come forward with a definite case that the deceased was entangled with some one else and she never wanted to go to her matrimonial house but P.W.1, P.W.2 and P.W.3 the family members of the deceased denied of such suggestions.

47. P.W.3 in her deposition further states that when after first bidai her sister came to her parental house she herself found some signs of injuries over her body which she disclosed before the I.O. as well. Further, she states that subsequently on 3.12.2003 when the deceased came to her house she herself found some injuries over her head, leg, back and her private parts as well but however, no sign of burning or blister was discovered by her.

48. P.W.2 in this connection has stated that her sister herself told her that she was beaten violently by her in-laws and sustained a number of injuries when he went for her bidai on 3.12.2003. He further states that due to that assault serious injuries were present over her body and he had seen the signs of injuries over her chest, head, back etc. and further he affirms that due to injuries his sister was unable to move even.

49. P.W.1 in the same fashion states that when her daughter was brought to her parental house she had a swollen face, black signs over her back and several signs of injuries were present over different parts of her body including several burn signs and blisters over different parts of her body as well. However, this court takes notice of this fact that the evidence of P.W.1, the informant/father of the deceased is self contradictory as in his cross-examination he categorically states that his daughter did not make any telephone call on 03.12.2003 and further did not inform about any assault made to her by her in-laws. Remarkably, if it was so, what brought two family members of P.W.1 and why they went to the matrimonial house of the deceased becomes a highly suspicious circumstance. The prosecution was certainly under obligation to explain the same but it failed and resultantly P.W.1 at this place himself disowns the contents of the FIR which was lodged by him leaving an ugly scar upon the story of prosecution.

50. The attention of this Court has been drawn to a very relevant situation which unfolds the truth of the prosecution case and the defence version as well. As per oral evidence on record when the deceased was brought to her parental house in the evening of 3.12.2003 she was found in injured condition by her family members and was medically examined by some Dr. Maurya in the very evening of 3.12.2003.

51. The prosecution evidence requires to be examined from the angle of the treatment of deceased in the evening of 3.12.2003 as well.

52. P.W.1 in his examination-in-chief states that when her daughter came to his house she told that she had been subjected to assault by her in-laws and she was even unable to speak properly but however he makes no statement for her treatment by some doctor of the locality, however, in his cross-examination he states that when his daughter came to his house she was conscious and was speaking as well. There were several signs of burn injuries over her body and blisters were also visible on different parts of her body. Significantly in his entire testimony he makes no statement for the treatment of the deceased in the evening of 3.12.2003.

53. P.W.2 Ghanshyam in his examination-in-chief has stated that the deceased had undergone treatment by a local doctor in the evening of 3.12.2003 who was named as Dr. Maurya Prasad kushwaha by him later on and further he explains that since doctors were not available in the government hospital she had undertaken treatment of Dr. Maurya at 7.30 pm where she was carried by his father and not by him.

54. P.W.3 Shabnam states that since the deceased had several bodily injuries, Dr. Maurya was called for her treatment. However this fact does not appear in her statement under section 161 Cr.P.C. and she is unable to explain the reason thereof. While controverted in her cross-examination she states that on being interrogated by the I.O. she had disclosed the factum of treatment of the injured by Dr. Maurya and she herself had seen injuries over the several parts of her body but however there was no sign of burning and no blisters were seen by her. She further states that Dr. Maurya visited her place at 7.30 in the evening but how long he remained at her house she is unable to tell. She further states that only one or two bangles were found in her wrist and rest of the bangles were broken while she was being beaten by her in-laws.

55. On analysis of the evidence of the witnesses of fact on record some twisted story in respect of the treatment of the deceased by Dr. Maurya is found. At one place P.W.3 the sister of the deceased states that in the evening at 7.30 PM Dr. Maurya had visited her own house to see her sister but at the same time P.W.2 the brother of the deceased states that his father himself took his sister to Dr. Maurya in the evening at 7.30. This is a material contradiction in the deposition of P.W.2 and P.W.3 as to whether Dr. Maurya himself visited the place of the informant or the deceased was taken to the clinic of Dr. Maurya. The said contradiction undoubtedly is very significant and relevant in the facts and circumstances of the present case because the most crucial issue in this case is as to at which place the deceased sustained injuries. There are material contradictions in the statement of P.W.1, P.W.2 and P.W.3 as to whether there were blisters/burn injuries over the body of the deceased or not. No clear picture regarding the health and condition of the deceased when she was brought to her parental house is found on the basis of evidence of P.W.1, P.W.2 and P.W.3 who make inconsistent and contradictory statements in this regard. It is also relevant to see that if the deceased was taken by the informant P.W.1 to Dr. Maurya for treatment why this fact does not appear in the entire testimony of P.W.1 himself. Moreover, P.W.8 the first I.O. categorically states that P.W.3 Shabnam never told him that the deceased remained under treatment of some Dr. Maurya in the evening of 03.12.2003, hence the entire story of treatment of the deceased by some Dr. Maurya is an after thought script of the prosecution which cannot be relied upon.

56. P.W.4 the doctor who performed the first autopsy of the deceased no where states that any blister was found over any of the injuries sustained by the deceased.

57. P.W.6 in the post mortem report Ex.Ka-11 makes no statement in respect of any burn injury or blister found over the body of the deceased and this is a material contradiction between the prosecution version and the medical evidence adduced in this regard which leaves this question unanswered as to if the deceased was burnt by some of the accused persons by pouring hot mustered oil upon her which resulted into generating some burn injuries and blisters over her body parts why no blister or burn sign was found by the doctors who performed her autopsy and at this juncture the prosecution story becomes highly suspicious which proceeds with a specific case that the deceased had informed her family members on phone that she was burnt by her mother-in-law and elder sister-in-law (jethani) by pouring hot mustard oil upon her and this situation indicates that certainly there was some concealment of facts on the part of the prosecution which adversely affects the very inception of the case.

58. It is relevant to note that Dr. Maurya who is said to perform the medical examination of the deceased on the very evening when she was brought to her parental house has not been produced by the prosecution as a witness. Interestingly the I.O. has not arrayed him in the list of witnesses which further shows that no statement under Section 161 Cr.P.C. of the said Dr. Maurya has been recorded by the I.O.

59. It is true that every omission and negligence on the part of the I.O. is not fatal for the prosecution unless its goes to the very root of the prosecution case but in the case in hand notably Dr. Maurya would be the only and the best witness who could affirm the factum of the injuries, if any, inflicted upon the body of the deceased in the very morning of the incident of assault and burning by the in-laws of the deceased and no doubt this omission of I.O hits the prosecution case adversely.

60. A very significant statement has been made by P.W.4, the doctor who in his testimony emphasises injury no.8 sustained by the deceased which was a contusion over the scalp of the deceased as cause of death of the deceased. In his cross-examination P.W.4 says:

"चोट नंबर 8 के लगने के तुरंत बाद अथवा 15-20 मिनट बाद मृतका बेहोश हो गई होगी और इसी चोट के कारण कोमा में चली गई होगी"

61. P.W.6 also finds a contusion over the scalp of the deceased and has also averred that the death of the deceased was caused by coma as a result of ante-mortem head injury.

62. Learned counsel for the appellants has raised a prominent question particularly with reference to the medical evidence. Referring the statement of P.W.4 it has been argued that if the deceased became unconscious immediately after sustaining injury no.8 (head injury) and went in coma how it can be said that the said head injury was received by the deceased in her matrimonial house on 3.12.2003 as she survived and died on the next day at about 7.30 am. It has been vehemently argued that the aforesaid situation is indicative to the fact that the deceased was probably beaten by her own family members some time before her death and in that case no injury could be inflicted upon her body in her matrimonial house from where she had already been taken to her parental house in the evening of 3.12.2003. Had she sustained the injuries, particularly the head injury in her matrimonial house she could not survive beyond the evening of 3.12.2003 as opined by the doctor P.W.4 and if she remained alive for the next day it denotes that no injury, particularly the fatal injury no.8 as shown in the post mortem reports Ext. A9 and Ext. A11 respectively, was inflicted upon her in her matrimonial house. The defence has come forward with a definite case by putting suggestions to the P.Ws, who were the family members of the deceased that the deceased was beaten by her own family members at any point of time in the evening of 03.12.2003 or in the morning of 4.12.2003 as she was insisting upon not to go to her matrimonial house because she was not willing to marry and live with Ram ji and the injuries so caused by her own family members were proved fatal to her .

63. In the facts and circumstances of this case and also in the light of the evidence adduced by the prosecution it is found that the prosecution has miserably failed to prove that the injuries were inflicted by the accused persons to the deceased when she was with them in her matrimonial house for the reason that the oral evidence of P.W.1, P.W.2 and P.W.3 over this issue is full of contradictory and inconsistent statements.

64. Learned A.G.A. vehemently argued that the medical evidence as per settled legal principle cannot override upon the ocular evidence and if there is some conflict between medical and ocular evidence this is the evidence of eyewitness which overpowers the opinion given by the doctor whose deposition being an expert is only of advisory character.

65. The attention of the Court is drawn to the rule that in case the Court finds a possibility that the medical evidence may not supersede the ocular evidence, the Courts of law should lean in favour of the prosecution but in the present case the opinion given by the doctor is nowhere contrary to the material evidence on record due to the reason that there is no ocular evidence in respect of the story of assault made upon the deceased on record and the prosecution case at this juncture runs under the circumstantial evidence; no witness has seen the accused persons making assault upon the deceased and the crucial issue involved in this matter as to whether the deceased sustained injuries in her matrimonial house or parental house has not been clarified by the prosecution by any cogent and consistent evidence and the prosecution no doubt failed to prove this crucial issue in its favour.

66. The legal presumption as to the medical evidence has always been to the effect that it is only an opinion given by a medical expert but it need not be the last word on the subject. From the conjoint reading of the decisions Sadhu Saran Singh Vs. State of U.P. and Anr. (2016) 4

SCC 357 and State of Haryana Vs. Bhagirath and Ors. (1999) 5 SCC 96 over this issue the conclusion which is arrived at is that the evidence of a doctor is only of an advisory character which should be tested by the Court and if the opinion is bereft of logic or objectivity or not consistent with the probabilities of the case, the Court is not obliged to go by that opinion. The Court has no liability to go by that opinion merely because it is said by a medical expert although due weight must be given to opinion given by persons who are expert in the particular subject.

67. Sahebrao Mohan Berad Vs. State of Maharashtra 2011 Cr.LJ. 2157 (SC) is another authority wherein it has been pronounced that if the cause of death as opined by the doctor is inherently defective it can be rejected in that case only otherwise doctor is the only competent person to opine about the cause of death.

In the instant case, the doctor P.W.4 has given a clear opinion that death of the deceased might have been the result of injury no.8 and the impact of the said injury might be that in all probabilities 15-20 minutes after sustaining the aforesaid injury the deceased was likely to be unconscious and further to go into coma and this opinion has not been controverted by P.W.6, who performed the second autopsy of the deceased.

68. No doubt the concept of dowry death takes within its purview death of any type, whether accidental, homicidal or suicidal. It also does not make any bifurcation with regard to the place of occurrence as to at which place death was occurred. In the case in hand injuries found over the body of the deceased out of which one was proved fatal to her were capable to indicate that the death was not normal but to take benefit of this column the prosecution bears the burden of at least to show that when the deceased was brought to her parental house, she had already sustained injuries and unfortunately the present case lacks an unblemished evidence on record and this failure comes out with an inference adverse to the prosecution. Despite testimony of P.W.1, P.W.2 and P.W.3 although contradictory, who state of having seen the injuries upon the body of the deceased, the main question remains unanswered as to why she was not undertaken any medical assistance in the evening if she was badly injured. P.W.1, P.W.2 and P.W.3 are having material contradictions as to the general condition of the deceased and the story of her treatment under Dr. Maurya is highly suspicious and cannot be believed. If the deceased, as the facts and circumstances indicate, received injuries which resulted into her unfortunate death while residing with her own family members, I doubt the prosecution is enabled to get the benefit of the ingredient “death occurred otherwise than under normal circumstances”.

69. The other relevant component to establish an offence under Section 304-B is the element of ‘soon before’ and when this Court goes through the evidence rendered by the prosecution over this issue it is found that only within a period of about 24 days from the marriage to death all the incidents happened. The learned state counsel urged that since the occurrence happened in a very short span of about 24 days of married life of the deceased, the element of ‘soon before’ naturally existed there. The FIR speaks that the marriage between the two solemnized on 11.11.2003 and when the deceased came back from her matrimonial house after about 5-6 days as P.W.1 states she told her family members that she was subjected to cruelty and harassment for demand of dowry by her in-laws but on 27.11.2003 she was again sent to her matrimonial house by her parents and again she was assaulted and harassed by her in-laws and on 3.12.2003 when she made a telephone call to her family members after being beaten and burnt by hot mustered oil in her matrimonial house, she was brought back to her parental house on the same day by her brother Ghanshyam and brother-in-law and thereafter on 4.12.2003 she died.

70. Sharpening his argument the learned AGA further argued that on the aforesaid issue, the testimony of P.W.1, P.W.2 and P.W.3 is almost the same and they corroborate the prosecution version over the aspect of short span of married life of the deceased. Now since 11.11.2003 the deceased was harassed and tortured by her in-laws for the demand of dowry and when she was lastly brought back to her parental house in the evening of 3.12.2003 after she complained of the cruelty, harassment and torture made by her in-laws in the morning and died just next day of her injuries, the element of 'soon before' is very well proved. The meaning and sense of the word 'soon before her death' has been explained in a catena of decisions by the Hon'ble Apex Court and this Court as well.

71. Explaining the manner and scope of the term 'soon before' her death the Hon'ble Apex Court in Satveer Singh Vs. State of Punjab (2001) 8 SCC 633 clarified that this expression indicates that there must be a perceptible nexus between the infliction of dowry related harassment and cruelty on the woman and her death. Further, in Satbir Singh Vs. State of Haryana (2021) 6 SCC 1 the Hon'ble Apex Court reiterated the principle of 'soon before' like this:

"Being a criminal statute, generally it is to be interpreted strictly. However, where strict interpretation leads to absurdity 10 or goes against the spirit of legislation, the courts may in appropriate cases place reliance upon the genuine import of the words, taken in their usual sense to resolve such ambiguities. Therefore, courts should use their discretion to determine if the period between the cruelty or harassment and the death of the victim would come within the term "soon before". Thus, held, phrase "soon before" cannot be construed to mean "immediately before". Prosecution must establish existence of "proximate and live link" between the dowry death and cruelty or harassment for dowry demand by the husband or his relatives"

72. In fact the expression 'soon before' never means immediately before and no definite period has been indicated in the provision itself and it is left open for the Courts to define the said expression dependent upon facts and circumstances of each case. It is reiterated in Kunhiabdulla and Anr. Vs. State of Kerala (2004) 4 SCC 13 that the expression "soon before" would normally imply that the interval should not be much between the cruelty or harassment concerned and the death in question. There must be existence of a proximate and live link between the effect of cruelty based on dowry demand and the death concerned. If alleged incident of cruelty is remote in time and has become stale enough not to disturb the mental equilibrium of the woman concerned, it would be of no consequence.

73. However, in the facts and circumstances of the presentie it is to be noted that it is an admitted case that the death of the deceased was caused when she was staying in the company of her own family members and the evidence on record falls short of the proof that the injuries sustained by her were the result of any assault or excruciating conduct of her in-laws and also it is not shown on the basis of any cogent and consistent evidence of the witnesses that soon before her death she was subjected to cruelty and harassment by her husband or any relative of the husband for, or in connection with, any demand of dowry. The prosecution failed to produce any cogent, reliable and unblemished evidence that after her bidai on 27.11.2003 to her matrimonial house, the deceased ever complained of any ill-treatment or cruelty in connection with demand of dowry by the accused persons and also that when on 03.12.2003, she was brought to her parental house she was bitterly injured. The evidence of P.W.1 himself shatters the whole prosecution story in this regard.

74. Hence, the vital element of 'soon before' is also found not proved and the inherent inconsistency and improbability in the evidence on record denies the prosecution of any benefit of the principle enumerated in the decisions noted above.

False implication of the relatives of the husband in the case pertaining to dowry death

75. The learned state counsel submits that prosecution in the instant case has proved by cogent evidence of P.W.1, P.W.2 and P.W.3 that the deceased was subjected to cruelty and harassment for the demand of dowry since after her marriage by her in-laws. At this juncture it is also desirable to find out as to whether all the accused persons who were summoned to face trial under Section 304-B/34, 498-A/34 I.P.C. and 4 D.P. Act are liable to be punished for the said offences and this search takes the Court to find out the relation of the accused persons with the deceased Ram Ji, the husband. Accused Mahendra Kumar is brother in law (Jeth), Dwarika Prasad, Ram Prasad are uncles-in-law of the deceased, Smt. Manju is aunt-in-law, Smt. Manisha and Smt. Urmila are sisters in law (Jethani) and Smt. Kusum is sister in law (Nand) of the deceased. It is pertinent to mention here that as per prosecution case demand of dowry which was made by the accused persons from the deceased was for one scooter and Rs.50,000/- cash and that too by all the accused persons nine in number.

76. The Court genuinely feels that the implication of all the in-laws of the deceased for a demand of Rs.50,000/- and one scooter as dowry does not seem to be plausible and natural. The old aged uncles of deceased Ram Ji along with their wives and Jeth-Jethani, who have taken specific plea of separate living appear to be falsely implicated in this case and no specific or overt act has been assigned to them. Although a specific role on the part of the mother-in-law and Jethani of the deceased has been alleged by the prosecution witnesses to pour down hot mustered oil upon the body of the deceased but this allegation has not been proved by any cogent evidence. The Hon'ble Apex Court has focused on the issue of false implication of all the in-laws in the cases related to demand of dowry, cruelty and dowry death and in a catena of decisions this pattern has been deprecated by the Hon'ble Apex Court and it has been alarmed in case of K. Subba Rao and Ors. Vs. State of Telangana (2018) 14 SCC

452 that the Courts should be extremely careful and vigilant in proceeding against distant relatives of the husband in the crimes pertaining to the dispute even in dowry deaths. All the relatives of the husband should not be roped in on the basis of omnibus allegation unless specific instances of their involvement in the crime as alleged and surfaced during investigation. The increasing number of the cases relating to dowry death drew the concern of Hon'ble Apex Court and again it was observed in Kahkashan Kausar @ Sonam and Ors. Vs. State of Bihar and Ors (2022) 6 SCC 599 that implicating relatives of husband in matrimonial disputes, without analysing the long-term ramification of a trial on the complainant as well as the accused is improper. It was further held that general and omnibus allegations cannot be manifest in a situation where the relatives of the husband are forced to undergo trial. It was also emphasised by the Hon'ble Apex Court that allowing prosecution in the absence of clear allegations against relatives of the husband would simply result in an abuse of the process of law.

77. The case in hand is very well covered as to what was emphasised by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the above mentioned decisions.

78. The Court takes notice of the fact at the cost of repetition, that no other relatives of Ram Ji, who are roped as co-accused in this case have been assigned any specific role in the case in hand except a specific role of burning the deceased by use of hot mustered oil which is assigned to Smt. Sumri Devi, the mother-in-law and Smt. Manju, the sister-in-law (jethani) but as discussed earlier in the body of this judgement the evidence rendered by the prosecution on the aforesaid particular issue is completely unreliable and misleading and there is no cogent proof of the same on record.

79. P.W.1 the father of the deceased no where states in his examination- in-chief that he had seen any sign of burning or blister over the parts of the body of her daughter. In his cross-examination P.W.1 states that when her daughter came back to her parental house he had seen several burn injuries and blisters upon her body but his examination-in-chief consists of no such statement. In the same fashion P.W.2 in the examination-in-chief makes no statement in respect of burn injuries and blisters seen over the body of the deceased. P.W.3 in her cross-examination makes a significant statement when she says that there appeared no sign of burn injuries over the body of her sister and she further states that there was no blister on any of the injuries of her sister and significantly she was watching her sister in the same evening when she allegedly sustained burn injuries in the morning. Hence, P.W.1, P.W.2 and P.W.3 are having material contradictions in their depositions recorded before the Court on the aforesaid issue. P.W.4 the doctor found several injuries over the body of the deceased but no where he states that he found any burn injury or blister over her body. In the same fashion P.W.6 the doctor who performed the subsequent autopsy of the deceased no where states to find out any burn injury or blister over the body of the deceased. Hence, the prosecution case so far as the injuries allegedly caused to the deceased on 3.12.2003 are concerned miserably fails to prove any specific role of assault or overt act to any of the accused persons.

80. In continuation it is also to be pointed out that the prosecution evidence is not sound on the point that all the accused persons were residing in the same house.

The accused persons relatives of Ram Ji have taken a defence of separate living as well and their addresses as may be found in their statement under Section 313 Cr.P.C. are different from that of Ram Ji, the husband. It might be a normal situation that Ram Ji, the husband of the deceased, who himself is no more at present would be residing with her mother Smt. Sumri Devi in the same house but it is never plausible that her married sister Smt. Kusum also used to reside with the deceased in the same house. The prosecution has not produced any cogent and reliable evidence to this effect that all the accused persons were living jointly in the same house. In the site plan Ex.Ka-13, the place of occurrence is shown in the house of Shyam Sundar, who is the late father of Ram Ji, which is indicative of the fact of separate living of other relatives of Ram Ji. Hence, if except the husband and mother-in-law of the deceased all the other relatives of the husband/ co-accused persons were residing separately, it was not plausible that they, who were in a large number, used to visit the matrimonial house of the deceased only for the sake of causing cruelty and harassment to her and to make a demand of one scooter and Rs.50,000/- only as dowry.

81. This Court is of considered view that in absence of any cogent evidence for any specific role played by any of the relatives of the husband of the deceased, in accomplishment of the demand made and the harassment and cruelty, if any, for or in connection with any demand for dowry caused to the deceased, the relatives of the husband cannot be held liable for the charges levelled against them but the same treatment cannot be applied in the case of husband Ram Ji, now dead and mother-in-law Smt. Sumri Devi and up to this extent their evidence, after the death of the deceased does not fall in the category of 'hearsay evidence' and remains an admissible piece of evidence so far as the offences under Section 498-A and Section 4 Dowry Prohibition Act are concerned.

82. In the case of Asokan Vs. State with M. Balasubramaniam Vs. State of Tamil Nadu and Rajammal and Anr. Vs. State (2000) 4 SCC 68 the death of a house wife was caused by strangulation in her matrimonial house. The High Court on the given facts and evidence on record held that charge of murder was not established against the accused but the conviction of the husband of the deceased was found justified under Section 498-A I.P.C. and the Hon'ble Apex Court considered the statement of P.W.7, who had deposed that the deceased had told her for demand of a scooter and cot made by the accused husband and also had shown her injuries which were inflicted upon her on her failure to bring the scooter and other witness P.W.2 who also stated that the deceased had told him for her torture by her husband and mother-in-law for not getting the scooter and the Hon'ble Apex Court did not discard the evidence of P.W.2 & 7 and their deposition was not placed in the category of hearsay evidence. On the same analogy in the case in hand since the deceased used to tell her family members regarding the demand of one scooter and Rs.50,000/- cash as additional dowry and her tormentation for the same which was deposed by P.W.1, P.W.2 and P.W.3 before the trial Court, in my view, the deposition of all the aforesaid three witnesses does not fall within the category of hearsay evidence and is capable of proving the charge under Section 498-A I.P.C. and Section 4 D.P. Act.

Application of Section 113 B Evidence Act

83. Learned A.G.A. appearing for the prosecution has vehemently argued that a presumption under Section 113-B of the Evidence Act arises against the accused persons of this case, which means that burden of proof is now shifted to the defence side. Pleading their innocence, the said plea was heavily opposed by the learned counsel for the appellants.

84. Learned senior advocate appearing on behalf of the appellants has drawn the attention of the Court in respect of the concept of the burden of proof particularly in a case relating to dowry death. It has been submitted that the case relating to dowry death rests upon circumstantial evidence and there can be no ocular evidence in a dowry death case but the surrounding circumstances which play a vital role in establishing the offence of dowry death should also be taken into account while dealing with such a matter.

85. The Evidence Act, 1872 consists of a peculiar provision under Section 113-B which provides like this:

“113-B. Presumption as to dowry death- When the question is whether a person has committed the dowry death of a woman and it is shown that soon before her death such woman had been subjected by such person to cruelty or harassment for, or in connection with, any demand for dowry, the Court shall presume that such person had caused the dowry death”.

86. It is vehemently submitted that a presumption as to dowry death arises only in case the essential components to establish an offence of dowry death are found established on the basis of the evidence on record and in that case the theory of burden of proof is to be looked into with a different angle and in case the prosecution succeeds to establish the essential ingredients in respect of an offence of dowry death, particularly the element of ‘soon before’, the corresponding burden of proof shifts upon the accused and a legal presumption arises against him to show that the dowry death was not caused by him and the Court presumes that the accused had caused a dowry death.

87. In Sher Singh Vs. State of Haryana (2015) 3 SCC 724 the Hon’ble Apex Court in a wide perspective made an interpretation of the word ‘shown’ and ‘deemed’ in connection with Section 113-B of Evidence Act and it has been held that “Shown” should be read as “proved” and “deemed” should be read as “presumed”. Initial burden is on prosecution to prove by preponderance of probabilities the ingredients of Section 304-B. Requiring prosecution to prove these ingredients beyond reasonable doubt would defeat purpose of Section 304-B. Once such initial burden is discharged by prosecution, initial presumption of innocence of accused would get replaced by deemed presumption of guilt of accused. Burden would then be shifted on accused to rebut that deemed presumption of guilt by proving beyond reasonable doubt his innocence. Right to life and liberty of accused cannot be jeopardised without providing accused opportunity to prove his innocence”

88. So far as the case in hand is concerned it has been discussed in the earlier part of this judgement that the prosecution has miserably failed to show that when the deceased came to her parental house from her matrimonial house she was injured and in the same evening she was also medically examined by some local doctor. The prosecution was under initial obligation to show that soon before her death the deceased was subjected to cruelty and harassment by the accused persons in connection with demand of dowry but it failed.

89. For failure of prosecution to establish the aforesaid ingredient of 'soon before' no presumption under Section 113-B of The Evidence Act arises against the accused persons or in favour of the prosecution and consequently the burden of proof does not shift in this matter and it remains intact upon the shoulders of the prosecution.

90. Vetting the submissions made by both the sides on the aforesaid crucial issue of presumption as to dowry death, the Court takes notice of the legal formula as to what is the extent of burden of proof which lies upon an accused in a criminal trial. It is a trite law and this Court is never hesitant to promulgate that it is always the prosecution which owes a burden of proof beyond reasonable doubt in a criminal trial but in certain enactments and in a case like this one as well by virtue of Section 113-B of Evidence Act the prosecution enjoys a privilege of shifting of burden of proof by way of a legal presumption whereby showing certain contingencies and it is able to be drawn a presumption in its favour but at the same time it must be borne in mind that the concept of burden of proof in a criminal trial is little lighter when it is the duty of the accused to prove certain facts and it is not beyond reasonable doubt in comparison with the prosecution. In the case in hand, it is found on the basis of evidence on record that the prosecution, in view of the concept laid down in Sher Singh (supra) has failed to prove by preponderance of probabilities the ingredients of the offence under Section 304-B I.P.C. and since this initial burden is not discharged by the prosecution, no deemed presumption of guilt arises against the defence side.

91. In a recent pronouncement Primila Vs. State of U.P. (2023) 2 SCC (Cri) 223, the Hon'ble Apex Court over the subject held as below:

7. It has repeatedly been held that the procedure under Section 313 CrPC is but a facet of the principles of natural justice giving an opportunity to an accused to present the defence. The burden of proof on an accused in support of the defence taken under Section 313 CrPC is not beyond all reasonable doubt as it lies on the prosecution to prove the charge. The accused has merely to create a doubt. It will be for the prosecution then to establish beyond reasonable doubt that no benefit can flow from the same to the accused.

92. Similarly in Anand Ramchandra Chougule Vs. Sidarai Laxaman Chougala and Ors. (2019) 8 SCC 50 the same principle was reiterated by the Hon'ble Apex Court in following paragraphs which are extracted as herein under:

"10. The burden lies on the prosecution to prove the allegations beyond all reasonable doubt. In contradistinction to the same, the accused has only to create a doubt about the prosecution case and the probability of its defence. An accused is not required to establish or prove his defence beyond all reasonable doubt, unlike the prosecution. If the accused takes a defence, which is not improbable and appears likely, there is material in support of such defence, the accused is not required to prove anything further. The benefit of doubt must follow unless the prosecution is able to prove its case beyond all reasonable doubt.

11. The fact that a defence may not have been taken by an accused under Section 313 CrPC again cannot absolve the prosecution from proving its case beyond all reasonable doubt. If there are materials which the prosecution is unable to answer, the weakness in the defence taken cannot become the strength of the prosecution to claim that in the circumstances it was not required to prove anything. In Sunil Kundu v. State of Jharkhand, this Court observed: (SCC pp. 433-34, para 28)

"28.... When the prosecution is not able to prove its case beyond reasonable doubt it cannot take advantage of the fact that the accused have not been able to probabilise their defence. It is well settled that the prosecution must stand or fall on its own feet. It cannot draw support from the weakness of the case of the accused, if it has not proved its case beyond reasonable doubt."

93. In the said law the Hon'ble Apex Court referring the notion of law promulgated in Pratap Vs. State of U.P. (1976) 2 SCC 798 clarified that it is well settled that the burden on the accused is not as onerous as that which lies on the prosecution. While the prosecution is required to prove its case beyond reasonable doubt, the accused can discharge his onus by establishing a mere preponderance of probability.

94. In fact the legal philosophy which makes the onus of proof easier for an accused is that from the materials placed on record a reasonable doubt is created in the mind of the Court that with regard to some relevant probabilities the accused shall be entitled to the benefit of doubt.

95. In the preceding paragraphs of this judgement this Court has dealt with the circumstances as to what was incumbent upon the prosecution to prove on the basis of the cogent, factual and medical evidence which the prosecution failed to prove in the present case and that resulted into non-application of Section 113-B of Evidence Act in this matter.

Defence Evidence-

96. To buttress his arguments on the basis of the evidence and case laws the learned counsel for the appellants relied upon the defence evidence adduced by the accused persons during trial.

97. D.W.1 Vinod Kumar, who is the resident of same village where Ram Ji, the deceased's husband was residing, states that after marriage deceased came to her matrimonial house but stayed only for a short period of 2-3 days and then went to her parental house where she expired after 14-15 days.

98. In the same fashion D.W.2, who is the neighbourer of Ram Ji states before the Court that after her Bidai when the deceased after 2-3 days of her marriage went to her parental house, she never came back to her matrimonial house.

99. D.W.3 is the witness of separate living of accused Mahendra (Jeth) and he further states that after marriage the deceased stayed at her matrimonial house only for a period of 2-3 days and then went back to her parental house where she expired after 14-15 days.

100. All the three defence witnesses have been cross-examined by the government counsel but remained intact and strengthened the defence case. It is to be added here that some defence papers showing the factum of separate living of some of the accused persons attached along with list 42 Kha are found on record but however, no witness came forward to prove the same.

101. The Court also takes notice to the fact that CW-1 Rajesh Kumar Yadav, C.O. Sirathu was also examined under the impression that he was the I.O. of the case but in his deposition he clarifies that he has not been working in this case as I.O.

102. It is trite law that in a criminal trial the defence evidence stands on the same footing as that of the prosecution and the law is settled in a catena of decisions of the Hon'ble Apex Court. In Munshi Prasad vs. State of Bihar, (2002) 1 SCC 351, it has been held that :

"3... Before drawing the curtain on this score, however, we wish to clarify that the evidence tendered by the defence witnesses cannot always be termed to be a tainted one by reason of the factum of the witnesses being examined by the defence. The defence witnesses are entitled to equal respect and treatment as that of the prosecution. The issue of credibility and the trustworthiness ought also to be attributed to the defence witnesses on a par with that of the prosecution....."

103. It is notable that the present matter was investigated by two Investigating officers and both have been examined as P.W.7 and P.W.8 by the prosecution.

Conclusion-

104. To sum up the matter, it is to be concluded that the charge relating to dowry death of the deceased is not proved in this case particularly for want of proof of the essential ingredient of 'soon before' on the part of prosecution. The aforesaid discussion leads this Court to a logical conclusion that the prosecution miserably failed to show that 'soon before' her death the deceased was subjected to cruelty and harassment by her in-laws for or in connection with demand of dowry. The evidence of P.W.1, P.W.2 and P.W.3 is sufficient to prove the factum of her being victim of cruelty and harassment by the husband and her mother but the relatives of husband Ram Ji have been falsely roped in this case. Hence, in the facts and circumstances of this case the accused husband Ram Ji and mother-in-law Sumari Devi only may be held liable for the offence under Section 498-A and Section 4 D.P. Act for causing cruelty to the deceased and also for making an indirect demand of dowry from the family members of the deceased through her but the evidence on record is not sufficient to record the conviction of the appellants under Section 304-B/34 I.P.C. as the essential ingredient of 'soon before' is not satisfied. The death of the deceased occurred while she was staying with her own family members. The evidence adduced by the prosecution falls short of proving the essential ingredients to constitute an offence under Section 304-B I.P.C. as discussed earlier. It is also found in the facts and circumstances of this case that the prosecution further failed to show that all the relatives of the husband were residing jointly with the appellant Ram Ji and her mother Sumari Devi and hence, they are entitled for benefit of doubt and as such the appeal deserves to be party allowed.

105. Hence, the Criminal Appeal No. 6710 of 2011 is party allowed. The conviction and sentence of the sole surviving convict-appellant Smt. Sumari Devi for the offence under Section 304-B/34 I.P.C. is set aside whereas the conviction and sentence imposed upon her for the offences under Section 498-A/34 I.P.C. for 2 years rigorous imprisonment with a fine of Rs.2,000/- with default stipulation and for the offence under Section 4 D.P. Act for 1 year simple imprisonment with a fine of Rs.1,000/- with default clause is hereby confirmed. Appellant Smt. Sumari Devi is on bail, her bail bonds are cancelled and sureties are discharged. The concerned Court is directed to take the appellant Smt. Sumari Devi into custody forthwith and send her to jail to serve-out the remaining sentence. It is also clarified that both the sentences shall run concurrently and the period of sentence shall be adjusted into the period already undergone by her in this matter.

106. The Criminal Appeal No. 5490 of 2011 is allowed. The conviction and sentence under Sections 304-B/34, 498-A/34 I.P.C. and under Section 4 D.P. Act awarded by the learned trial Court vide impugned judgement and order dated 9.9.2021 to the convicts-appellants Mahendra Kumar, Ram Prasad, Smt. Manju, Smt. Manisha, Smt. Urmila and Smt. Kusum is set aside and they are acquitted of the charges levelled against them. They are on bail. They need not surrender. Their bail bonds are cancelled and sureties are discharged.

107. The amount of fine, if any, deposited earlier by the aforesaid appellants shall be taken into account by the learned trial Court while making a compliance of impugned judgement and order of this appeal.

108. Registry is directed to transmit the trial court record to the Court concerned along with copy of this judgement and order for necessary compliance.

109. This Court is thankful to Sri V.P. Srivastava, learned Senior Advocate assisted by Ms. Neeja Srivastava, learned counsel for the appellants, Sri Kamal Dev Rai and Sri A.K. Mishra, learned A.G.A. for the State and Mr. Akash Verma, Research Associate of this Court for ably assisting the Court.

(B) Criminal Law - The Code of criminal procedure, 1973 - Section 227 - Discharge - At the stage of discharge and/or while exercising the powers under Section 482 Cr.P.C. - Court has a very limited jurisdiction and is required to consider "whether any sufficient materials is available to proceed further against the accused for which the accused is required to be tried or not - If two views are possible and one of them gives rise to suspicion only, as distinguished from grave suspicion, the trial Judge will be empowered to discharge the accused irrespective of result of the trial - At the time of framing of charge the Court is required to evaluate the material and documents on record to decide whether there is a ground for presuming that the accused had committed the offence - No need to evaluate the sufficiency of evidence to convict the accused.(Para - 18,19,30,37)

Appellant allegedly submitted forged documents for declaring land as Abadi - private forensic expert's report indicated forged signatures - leading to charges under IPC and SC/ST Act - FIR lodged against appellant - alleging forgery and conspiracy - allegations relate to a property dispute - appellant's alleged attempt to purchase the property at a lower value - appellant filed a discharge application under Section 227 of CrPC - rejected by trial court - appellant challenged the rejection order.(Para - 3 to 9)

HELD: - Perusal of F.I.R. and material collected by Investigating Officer based on which charge sheet has been submitted makes out a prima facie case against the accused at this stage. Quashing or setting aside impugned order refused. No illegality, impropriety and incorrectness in the impugned order or the proceedings under challenge. No abuse of process of the Court. (Para - 40,41)

Appeal rejected. (E-7)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Mrs. Manju Rani Chauhan, J.)

1. Heard Mr. Syed Imran Ibrahim, learned counsel for the appellant and Mr. Amit Singh Chauhan, learned AGA for the State-respondent.

2. The present criminal appeal under Section 14A(2) of SC/ST Act, 1989, has been filed challenging the order dated 07.10.2023 passed by learned Special Judge, SC/ST Act, Mathura, in S.S.T. No.1999 of 2016 (State vs. Dinesh Kumar Agrawal), arising out of Case Crime No.374 of 2014, under Sections 420, 467, 468, 471 IPC and Sections 3(1)IX SC/ST Act, Police Station-Highway, District-Mathura.

3. Brief facts of the case; that an FIR has been lodged through an application u/s 156(3) Cr.P.C. by Dwarika Prasad S/o Bhoop Singh against the appellant with the allegations that Bhoop Singh was owner of Khasra No.97, Gata No.67, situated at Village-Nawada, District- Mathura along with Kishan Singh and Dwarika Prasad. The eyes of the appellant was on this property and he wanted to purchase the same in less value, for which he pressurized Bhoop Singh father of the informant. He also used caste indicative words in order to take the property in question. When Bhoop Singh was alive, partition of the property was done and as per the mutual consent between the family members of the Bhoop Singh, the property was divided amongst Dwarika Prasad his brother and mother and application in this regard was given, on which, order dated 14.07.2008 was passed by SDM making partition of the property in accordance with the settlement between the parties. An application was given by Bhoop Singh for declaring the land as Abadi, on which order dated 02.05.2001 was passed by the SDM. In the records of the aforesaid case, an application as well as affidavit having signatures of Bhoop Singh were found. The signatures in the aforesaid application were sent for being verified with the signatures as made by Bhoop Singh in the proceedings for cancellation of Mukhtarnama, which were found in the records in the office of the registry, Mathura.

4. The signatures of Bhoop Singh as accepted to be made in the proceedings for cancellation of power of attorney, did not tally with that of the application as well as affidavit moved for declaration of Abadi. Thus, alleging that the appellant has conspired to forged signatures of Bhoop Singh in the application and affidavit. Thus, the allegations in the FIR in short was that the application and affidavit alleged to be given by Bhoop Singh wherein order dated 02.05.2001 was passed by SDM, was not at all moved by him and the application and affidavit so placed before the S.D.M. were having forged signatures of Bhoop Singh.

5. Learned counsel for the appellant submits that present criminal proceedings initiated against the appellant are an after thought, as such the same is not only malicious but also amount to abuse of process of Court. He further submits that the concerned Court below has rejected the discharge application of the applicant without assigning any reason, therefore, the impugned order dated 07.10.2023 passed by the concerned Court below is

6. Learned counsel for the appellant has placed the brief facts of the case which are as follows:-

(i) The First Information Report has been lodged on 27.04.2014 at 12:10 PM by Dwarika Prasad s/o Late Bhoop Singh against the appellant Dinesh Kumar

Agarwal with the allegations that father of the first informant, namely, Bhoop Singh was in possession of land of Khasra No.97, Khata No.67 situated in village Nawada District-Mathura along with his co-sharer, namely, Kishan Singh and Dwarika Prasad. When Bhoop Singh expired on 30.12.2010, the first informant became the owner of the property by law of succession along with his brother Mahesh Chandra, Vijendra Singh and mother Ram Kumari.

(ii) It has further alleged that on 14.07.2008 when father of the first informant was alive, a partition suit u/s 176 of U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act was decreed in favour of Bhoop Singh, as a consequence of which partition of the property was allowed. A restoration application was filed by the appellant against the order dated 14.07.2008, on 29.08.2013, in which he has stated that he had filed an application u/s 143 of U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act (in short 'of the Act') and has got the property declared as Abadi as such the jurisdiction of the Court under U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act does not lie. It has been categorically alleged by the first informant in the first information report that the application u/s 143 of the Act which was the basis of the restoration application is a forged document as his father had never submitted any application to get the land declared as Abadi. As such the appellant has filed a forged and fabricated application, on the basis of which the order dated 14.07.2008 was being sought to be restored. On the said forged application, the order dated 02.05.2001 was passed by S.D.M. The signatures of Bhoop Singh were sent for examination by Private Forensic Science Laboratory expert, namely, Ms. Shruti Agarwal to be examined comparing the same with the signatures of the appellant made in an application for cancellation of power of attorney as available in the Registry office. It has been alleged that the report as placed by Ms. Shruti Agarwal proved that the signatures were not of Bhoop Singh, thus, the present FIR was lodged.

(iii) The investigation was conducted in different police stations of different districts and finally charge sheet was submitted by Investigating Officer of Police Station- Highway, District- Mathura.

(iv) While conducting the investigation, the Investigating Officer tried to get copy of original document for getting the signatures of Bhoop Singh examined by Government Forensic Science Laboratory and went to the extent for sending notices under Section 160 Cr.P.C. requesting the appellant to provide original documents at the earliest. Thus, without getting the original documents, the Investigating Officer solely relying upon the alleged Forensic Report of Ms. Shruti Agarwal (Private Forensic Expert) as supplied by the first informant himself, has submitted the charge sheet against the appellant on 09.07.2015 on which the Court below took cognizance on 08.10.2015 and summon the appellant to face the trial.

7. On an application moved by the appellant before the Investigating Officer requesting to conduct further investigation after getting the signatures of Bhoop Singh verified by Government Forensic Laboratory and the SSP, Mathura, directed for further investigation by order dated 09.04.2016. The aforesaid fact is evident from Parcha No.7 placed at Page-98 of the affidavit.

8. The discharge application was filed by the appellant on 24.08.2023 on the following grounds:-

(i) That the original document containing the handwriting of Bhoop Singh was never examined and solely relying upon the report of Private Forensic Expert, the charge sheet has been submitted.

(ii) That the supplementary charge sheet was submitted after order of further investigation by the SSP, Mathura, which has not been taken into consideration while taking cognizance.

(iii) The FIR is a counterblast to the case filed by the company of the appellant.

(iv) Despite the pendency of matters before Civil Court, the FIR has been lodged to give a criminal color to the civil proceedings, which has been ignored by the concerned Court while taking cognizance.

(v) The forensic handwriting report from private person cannot be taken as an authentic document relying upon which charge sheet has been submitted.

(vi) The report of handwriting expert is based on photo-copy of the documents, hence, the same is not valid.

9. The discharge application was rejected by order dated 07.10.2023 in an illegal manner, without application of judicial mind, ignoring two aspects, (i) that the charge sheet has been submitted on the basis of defective investigation as the report of Private Forensic Expert based on photo-copy of the documents has been taken into consideration, (ii) there being two reports on record, and supplementary report has not been taken into consideration, hence, the same is liable to be quashed.

10. Learned counsel for the appellant relying upon the judgements of High Courts passed in cases of Bheri Nageswara Rao vs. Mavuri Veerbhadra Rao & Ors., 2006 SCC Online AP 330 and Abhay Jain and Others vs. State of Madhya Pradesh and Another, 2018

SCC Online MP 1839, submits that law is clear that the opinion of handwriting expert is relevant but not conclusive. It is a fragile type of evidence and it is only corroborative evidence. It's probative value is that only on the basis of expert opinion no conclusion can be drawn if there is no other supportive evidence. It is to be accepted with good amount of circumspection. Thus, without analyzing that the expert report was not based on verification from original documents, the charge sheet has been submitted and Court concerned has ignored the aforesaid fact.

11. After further investigation, supplementary report was not taken into consideration, hence, the impugned order rejecting the discharge application without considering the aforesaid is bad in the eyes of law. It is settled position that when there are two reports, both have to be read conjointly and it is cumulative efforts of the reports and documents annexed thereto which the Court is expected to apply its mind to determine whether there exist ground to presume that the appellant has committed offence or not. Hence, after considering both the reports, the Court shall decide the discharge application of the alleged accused in compliance of the provision of Section 227 of Cr.P.C. In support of his submission he has relied upon the judgement of Apex Court passed in case of Vinay Tyagi vs. Irshad Ali Alias Deepak And Others, (2013) 5 SCC 762.

12. Per contra learned AGA has opposed the contention raised by learned counsel for the appellant by submitting that in the impugned order itself it has been mentioned that documents placed with the discharge application are to be seen at the time of evidence. From perusal of the records, prima facie it cannot be said that at this stage no offence has been committed by the appellant.

13. Before appreciating the contentions as raised by learned counsel for the parties, it will be appropriate to refer the position of law with respect to the scope of exercise of power under Section 227 of Cr.P.C.:-

“227. Discharge.—If, upon consideration of the record of the case and the documents submitted therewith, and after hearing the submissions of the accused and the prosecution in this behalf, the Judge considers that there is not sufficient ground for proceeding against the accused, he shall discharge the accused and record his reasons for so doing.”

14. From bare reading of Section 227 of Cr.P.C., the meaning of the expression “the record of the case and documents submitted therewith” is clear and there cannot be any doubt with respect to the position that at the stage of consideration of such an application for discharge, defence case or material, if produced at all by the accused, cannot be looked at all. Once “the record of the case and the documents submitted therewith” are before the Court they alone can be looked into for considering the application for discharge and thereafter if it considers that there is no sufficient ground for proceeding against the accused concerned then he shall be discharged after recording reasons therefor. The aforesaid has been held in the case of State of Orissa vs. Debendra Nath Padhi, 2005 (1) SCC 568.

15. The words “not sufficient ground for proceeding against the accused” appearing in Section 227, Cr.PC, postulate exercise of judicial mind on the part of the Judge to the facts of the case revealed from the materials brought on record by the prosecution in order to determine whether a case for trial has been made out. Thus, at the stage of consideration of an application for discharge, the Court has to proceed with an assumption that the materials brought on record by the prosecution are true, and evaluate the materials to find out whether the facts taken at their face value disclose the existence of the ingredients constituting the offence. At this stage, only the probative value of the materials has to be gone into and the court is not expected to go deep into the matter to hold a mini-trial.

16. The Apex Court in the case of BK Sharma v. State of UP, 1987 SCC Online ALD 314, has held that the standard of test and judgement which is finally applied before recording a finding of conviction against an accused is not to be applied at the stage of framing the charge. It is just a very strong suspicion, based on the material on record, and would be sufficient to frame a charge.

17. Thus, in the opinion of this Court, strong suspicion, in order to be sufficient to frame a charge should be based on the material brought on record by the prosecution and should not be based on supposition, suspicions and conjectures.

18. In P. Vijayan v. State of Kerala and Anr., after extracting Section 227, Cr.PC, the Court in paragraph No.10 and 11 held thus: -

“10. If two views are possible and one of them gives rise to suspicion only, as distinguished from grave suspicion, the trial Judge will be empowered to discharge the accused and at this stage he is not to see whether the trial will end in conviction or acquittal. Further, the words “not sufficient ground for proceeding against the accused” clearly show that the Judge is not a mere post office to frame the charge at the behest of the prosecution, but has to exercise his judicial mind to the facts of the case in order to determine whether a case for trial has been made out by the prosecution. In assessing this fact, it is not necessary for the court to enter into the pros and cons of the matter or into a weighing and balancing of evidence and probabilities which is really the function of the court, after the trial starts.

11. At the stage of Section 227, the Judge has merely to sift the evidence in order to find out whether or not there is sufficient ground for proceeding against the accused. In other words, the sufficiency of ground would take within its fold the nature of the evidence recorded by the police or the documents produced before the court which ex facie disclose that there are suspicious circumstances against the accused so as to frame a charge against him.”

19. In paragraph 13 in P. Vijayan’s case (supra), this Court took note of the principles enunciated earlier by this Court in Union of India v. Prafulla Kumar Samal which reads thus: -

“10....

(1) That the Judge while considering the question of framing the charges under Section 227 of the Code has the undoubted power to sift and weigh the evidence for the limited purpose of finding out whether or not a prima facie case against the accused has been made out.

(2) Where the materials placed before the Court disclose grave suspicion against the accused which has not been properly explained the Court will be fully justified in framing a charge and proceeding with the trial.

(3) The test to determine a prima facie case would naturally depend upon the facts of each case and it is difficult to lay down a rule of universal application. By and large however if two views are equally possible and the Judge is satisfied that the evidence produced before him while giving rise to some suspicion but not grave suspicion against the accused, he will be fully within his right to discharge the accused.

(4) That in exercising his jurisdiction under Section 227 of the Code the Judge which under the present Code is a senior and experienced court cannot act merely as a post office or a mouthpiece of the prosecution, but has to consider the broad probabilities of the case, the total effect of the evidence and the documents produced before the Court, any basic infirmities appearing in the case and so on. This however does not mean that the Judge should make a roving enquiry into the pros and cons of the matter and weigh the evidence as if he was conducting a trial.”

20. From the aforesaid decisions, it is, thus, obvious that it will be within the jurisdiction of the Court concerned to sift and weigh the evidence for the limited purpose of finding out whether or not a prima facie case against the accused concerned has been made out.

21. Be that as it may, though it is permissible to sift and weigh the materials for the limited purpose of finding out whether or not a prima facie case is made out against the accused, on appreciation of the admissibility and the evidentiary value such materials brought on record by the prosecution is impermissible as it would amount to denial of opportunity to the prosecution to prove them appropriately at the appropriate stage besides amounting to exercise of the power coupled with obligation under Section 232, Cr.PC, available only after taking the evidence for the prosecution and examining the accused.

22. It can be said in that view of the matter that the intention embedded is to ensure that an accused will be made to stand the ordeal of trial only if 'the record of the case and the documents submitted therewith' discloses ground for proceeding against him. When that be so, in a case where an application is filed for discharge under Section 227, Cr.PC, it is an irrecusable duty and obligation of the Court to apply its mind and answer to it regarding the existence or otherwise, of ground for proceeding against the accused, by confining such consideration based only on the record of the case and the documents submitted therewith and after hearing the submissions of the accused and the prosecution in that behalf. To wit, such conclusion on existence or otherwise of ground to proceed against the accused concerned should not be and could not be based on mere suppositions or suspicions or conjectures, especially not founded upon material available before the Court.

23. In case of Ram Prakash Chadha (supra), the Apex Court has held that while considering the discharge application, it is just a very strong suspicion, based on the material on record and it is sufficient to frame a charge.

24. As regards the submission of learned counsel for the applicant regarding non consideration of supplementary report dated 25.05.2016, Parcha No.7, annexed as Annexure-13, while passing the order impugned, this Court finds that nothing has been placed on record to show that the aforesaid supplementary charge sheet dated 25.05.2016 was placed before the concerned Court nor any such specific ground has been taken in the discharge application.

25. Perusal of the discharge application goes to show that all the grounds as taken by learned counsel for the applicant have been dealt with by the concerned Court while rejecting the same, thus, there is no illegality in the order impugned.

26. Be that as it may, all the grounds as taken in the discharge application can be examined at any/appropriate stage of trial and this Court while exercising inherent powers cannot go to conduct mini trial.

27. The second supplementary report dated 25.05.2016 is of no relevance and this Court is of the opinion that, even if it is presumed that supplementary report dated 25.05.2016 has not been considered by the concerned Court while rejecting the discharge application, there can be no illegality in the order as the second supplementary report has been submitted by the Investigating Officer on the basis of signature being verified by photocopy of the documents, which has been the position in the first report as placed before the Court. In other words, the second report is of no value when the same has been prepared after verification from photocopy of the documents as is the case wherein first signature verification report has been placed on the basis of photocopy of the documents.

28. Even otherwise, learned counsel for the applicant has not been able to make out the case as to what was the illegality in the first report except the fact that it is by a Private Forensic Laboratory (which as per record is recognized by the Government), when the same has been placed by verifying from photocopy of the documents as is the position of the second report. Thus, in such circumstances which report has to be relied upon and how the same is going to effect the applicant is subject matter to be considered and examined at appropriate stage.

29. To sum up, reliability is to be placed on first report, which has been first forensic verification report as the second one has not been placed before the concerned Court and is also based on verification from photocopy of the documents and has not been verified by the original signatures or documents.

30. The Court in the case of Sheoraj Singh Ahlawat vs. State of U.P., 2013 (11) SCC 476, has held that if two views are possible and one of them gives rise to suspicion only, as distinguished from grave suspicion, the trial Judge will be empowered to discharge the accused irrespective of result of the trial. It has been further held that at the time of framing of charge the Court is required to evaluate the material and documents on record to decide whether there is a ground for presuming that the accused had committed the offence. There is no need to evaluate the sufficiency of evidence to convict the accused. Materials brought on record by the prosecution can be believed to be true, but their probative value cannot be decided at that stage. The accused is entitled to urge his contentions while entertaining the discharge application only on the material submitted by the prosecution, but he is not entitled to produce any material at that stage and the court is not required to consider any such material.

31. In the present case, both the signature verification reports are based on photocopy of the documents, thus, there is no chance of any suspicion and as to which report has to be considered, is to be seen at the time of trial at the appropriate stage when the aforesaid report is placed before the trial Court.

32. In the present facts of the case, the Court has applied its mind and on the basis of necessary material collected during the course of investigation and as placed before the Court concerned, has proceeded to pass the order impugned, hence, there is no illegality in the aforesaid.

33. Before proceeding to adjudge the validity of the impugned order, in opinion of this Court, it would be useful to cast a fleeting glance to some of the representative cases decided by the Hon'ble Supreme Court which have expatiated upon the legal approach to be adopted at the time of framing of the charge or at the time of deciding whether the accused ought to be discharged. It shall be advantageous to refer to the observations made by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of State of Bihar vs. Ramesh Singh 1977 (4) SCC 39 which are as follows :-

"4. Under S. 226 of the Code while opening the case for the prosecution the prosecutor has got to describe the charge against the accused and State by what evidence he proposes to prove the guilt of the accused. Thereafter, comes at the initial stage, the duty of the Court to consider the record of the case and the documents submitted therewith and to hear the submissions of the accused and the prosecution in that behalf. The Judge has to pass thereafter an order either u/s. 227 or u/s. 228 of the Code. If "the Judge considers that there is not sufficient ground for proceeding against the accused, he shall discharge the accused and record his reasons for so doing", so enjoined by s. 227. If, on the other hand, "the Judge is of opinion that there is ground for presuming that the accused has committed an offence which ?.....

(b) in exclusively triable by the court, he shall frame in writing a charge against the accused," as provided in S. 228.

Reading the two provisions together in juxtaposition, as they have got to be, it would be clear that at the beginning and the initial stage of the trial the truth, veracity and effect of the evidence which the prosecutor proposes to adduce are not to be meticulously judged. Nor is any weight to be attached to the probable defence of the accused. It is not obligatory for the Judge at that stage of the trial to consider in any detail and weigh in a sensitive balance whether the facts, if proved, would be incompatible with the innocence of the accused or not. The standard of test and judgment which is to be finally applied before recording a finding regarding the guilt or otherwise of the accused is not exactly to be applied at this stage of deciding the matter under s. 227 and 228 of the Code. At that stage the court is not to see whether there is sufficient ground for conviction of the accused or whether the trial is sure to end in his conviction. Strong suspicion against the accused, if the matter remains in the region of suspicion, cannot take the place of proof of his guilt at the conclusion of the trial. But at the initial stage if there is a strong suspicion which leads the court to think that there is ground for presuming that the accused has committed an offence then it is not open to the court to say that there is no sufficient ground for proceeding against the accused. The presumption of the guilt of the accused which is to be drawn at the initial stage is not in the sense of the law governing the trial of criminal cases in France where the accused is presumed to be guilty unless the contrary is proved. But it is only for the purpose of deciding prima facie whether the court should proceed with the trial or not. If the evidence which the Prosecutor proposes to adduce to prove the guilt of the accused even if fully accepted before it is challenged in cross-examination or rebutted by the defence, if any, cannot show that the accused committed the offence, there will be no sufficient ground for proceeding with the trial. An exhaustive list of the circumstances to indicate as to what will lead to one conclusion or the other is neither possible nor advisable. We may just illustrate the difference of the law by one more example. If the scales of pan as to the guilt or innocence of the accused are something like even at the conclusion of the trial, then, on the theory of benefit of doubt the case is to end in his acquittal. But if, on the other hand, it is so at the initial stage of making an order under S. 227 or S. 228, then in such a situation ordinarily and generally the order which will have to be made will be one under S. 228 and not under S. 227."

34. Aforesaid case was again referred to in another Apex Court's decision Superintendent and Remembrancer of Legal Affairs, West Bengal Versus Anil Kumar Bhunja AIR 1980 (SC) 52 and the Apex Court proceeded to observe as follows:-

"18. It may be remembered that the case was at the stage of framing charges; the prosecution evidence had not yet commenced. The Magistrate had, therefore, to consider the above question on a general consideration of the materials placed before him by the investigating police officer. At this stage, as was pointed out by this Court in State of Bihar v. Ramesh Singh, AIR 1977 SC 2018, the truth, veracity and effect of the evidence which the prosecutor proposes to adduce are not to be meticulously judged. The standard of test, proof and judgment which is to be applied finally before finding the accused guilty or otherwise, is not exactly to be applied at the stage of Section 227 or 228 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973. At this stage, even a very strong suspicion founded upon materials before the Magistrate, which leads him to form a presumptive opinion as to the existence of the factual ingredients constituting the offence alleged; may justify the framing of charge against the accused in respect of the commission of that offence."

35. In yet another case of Palwinder Singh Vs. Balvinder Singh reported in AIR 2009 SC 887, the Apex Court had the occasion to reflect upon the scope of adjudication and its ambit at the time of framing of the charge and also about the scope to consider the material produced by the accused at that stage. Following extract may be profitably quoted to clarify the situation:-

"12. Having heard learned counsel for the parties, we are of the opinion that the High Court committed a serious error in passing the impugned judgment insofar as it entered into the realm of appreciation of evidence at the stage of the framing of the charges itself. The jurisdiction of the learned Sessions Judge while exercising power under Section 227 of the Code of Criminal Procedure is limited. Charges can be framed also on the basis of strong suspicion. Marshalling and appreciation of evidence is not in the domain of the Court at that point of time. This aspect of the matter has been considered by this Court in State of Orissa v. Debendra Nath Padhi, (2005) 1 SCC 568 wherein it was held as under :

"23. As a result of the aforesaid discussion, in our view, clearly the law is that at the time of framing charge or taking cognizance the accused has no right to produce any material. Satish Mehra's Case holding that the trial Court has powers to consider even materials which the accused may produce at the stage of Section 227 of the Code has not been correctly decided."

36. The following observations made by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Sanghi Brothers (Indore) Pvt. Ltd. v. Sanjay Choudhary reported in AIR (2009) SC 9 also reiterated the same position of law :-

"10. After analyzing the terminology used in the three pairs of sections it was held that despite the differences there is no scope for doubt that at the stage at which the Court is required to consider the question of framing of charge, the test of a prima facie case to be applied.

11. The present case is not one where the High Court ought to have interfered with the order of framing the charge. As rightly submitted by learned counsel for the appellant, even if there is a strong suspicion about the commission of offence and the involvement of the accused, it is sufficient for the Court to frame a charge. At that stage, there is no necessity of formulating the opinion about the prospect of conviction. That being so, the impugned order of the High Court cannot be sustained and is set aside. The appeal is allowed."

37. Lastly, at the stage of discharge and/or while exercising the powers under Section 482 Cr.P.C., the Court has a very limited jurisdiction and is required to consider "whether any sufficient materials is available to proceed further against the accused for which the accused is required to be tried or not".

38. In any case, at this stage, what is required to be considered is a prima facie case and the material collected during the course of the investigation, which warranted the accused to be tried. The same has been held in the case of CBI v. Aryan Singh etc., 2023 SCC Online SC 379. It has also been held in the aforesaid case that as per the cardinal principle of law, at the stage of discharge and/or quashing of the criminal proceedings, while exercising the powers under Sections 482 Cr.P.C., the Court is not required to conduct the mini trial.

39. In fact, while exercising the inherent jurisdiction under Section 482 Cr.P.C. or while wielding the powers under Article 226 of the Constitution of India the quashing of the complaint or charge sheet can be done only if it does not disclose any offence or if there is any legal bar which prohibits the proceedings on its basis. The Apex Court decisions in R.P. Kapur Vs. State of Punjab AIR 1960 SC 866 and State of Haryana Vs. Bhajan Lal 1992 SCC(Cr.) 426 make the position of law in this regard clear recognizing certain categories by way of illustration which may justify the quashing of a complaint or charge sheet.

40. The submissions made by the learned counsel for the applicants counsel call for adjudication on pure questions of fact which may be adequately adjudicated upon only by the trial court and while doing so even the submissions made on points of law can also be more appropriately gone into by the trial court in this case. This Court does not deem it proper, and therefore cannot be persuaded to have a pre-trial before the actual trial begins. A threadbare discussion of various facts and circumstances, as they emerge from the allegations made against the accused, is being purposely avoided by the Court for the reason, lest the same might cause any prejudice to either side during trial. But it shall suffice to observe that the perusal of the F.I.R. and the material collected by the Investigating Officer on the basis of which the charge sheet has been submitted makes out a prima facie case against the accused at this stage and this Court does not find any justifiable ground to set aside the impugned order refusing the discharge of the accused. This court has not been able to persuade itself to hold that no case against the accused has been made out or to hold that the charge is groundless.

41. The prayer for quashing or setting aside the impugned order dated 07.10.2023 is refused as I do not see any illegality, impropriety and incorrectness in the impugned order or the proceedings under challenge. There is absolutely no abuse of process of the Court perceptible in the same. The present matter also does not fall in any of the categories recognized by the Supreme Court which might justify interference of this Court in order to upset or quash them.

42. With the above observations, this application is rejected.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Shamim Ahmed, J.)

1. Heard Sri Ashutosh Pandey, learned counsel for the petitioner and Sri Rajeev Verma, learned A.G.A.-1 for the State.

2. This writ petition has been filed with the following prayer:

"i) A writ, order or direction in the nature of Certiorari thereby quashing the impugned order of the learned Session Judge, District and Session Judge, Ambedkar Nagar dated 08.09.2011 passed in Case No. 174/2011, whereby the learned Session Judge granted police protection to opposite party No.2, as contained in Annexure No.1 to this writ petition.

ii) A writ, order or direction in the nature of Mandamus directing and commanding the opposite parties not to harass the petitioner;

iii) A writ, order or direction in the nature of Mandamus directing and commanding the opposite parties not to lodge frivolous cases against the petitioner"

3. Learned counsel for the petitioner submits that vide impugned order dated 08.09.2011 passed in Case No. 174/2011: State Vs Shyam Ji Tiwari, learned Session Judge granted police protection to opposite party No.2 while he is in District Ambedkar Nagar and the said police protection continues even today. Learned counsel for the petitioner further submits that the impugned order is passed without application of mind, as the opposite

4. Sri Rajeev Verma, learned A.G.A.-1 submits that there are five criminal cases against the petitioner, reference of which has been given on page 21 of the writ petition i.e. Case Crime No.220/10 under Sections 147, 447, 504, 506 I.P.C., Case Crime No. 174/11, under Section 419/420/467/468/471 I.P.C., Case Crime No. 273/13, under Sections 341/306 I.P.C., Case Crime No. 24/14, under Section 323/504/452 I.P.C. and Case Crime No. 56/82 under Section 147, 148, 149, 302 I.P.C..

5. Learned A.G.A.-1 further submits that the impugned order dated 08.09.2011 has been challenged after 13 years and regarding delay no explanation/sufficient cause has been given in any paragraph of the writ petition. He further submits that the petitioner has not filed complete order sheet and the current status to the case in which the impugned order has been passed. The writ petition is totally frivolous and is liable to be dismissed. However, on the ground of delay itself the present writ petition is liable to be dismissed, even though the petitioner has not filed any document or order to show before the court that the impugned protection given to the opposite party No.2 vide order dated 08.09.2011 is still continuing.

6. After considering the argument, as advanced by learned counsel for the parties and after perusal of the entire averment made in the writ petition, this court is of the view that the petitioner has approached this Court at a highly belated stage after about 13 years without any explanation/sufficient cause and prayed for quashing of the impugned order dated 08.09.2011. A petition must be filed within a reasonable time and it should not be vitiated by inordinate delay and laches on the part of the petitioner. As per the record there are five criminal cases against the petitioner and even though the ground and averment made in the writ petition is neither acceptable and trustworthy.

7. The expression “sufficient cause” in Section 5 of Limitation Act, 1963 has been held to receive a liberal construction so as to advance substantial justice and generally a delay in preferring the case may be condoned in the interest of justice where no gross negligence or deliberate inaction or lack of bona fide is imputable to parties, seeking condonation of delay. In Collector, Land Acquisition Vs. Katiji, 1987(2) SCC 107, the Court said, that, when substantial justice and technical considerations are taken against each other, cause of substantial justice deserves to be preferred, for, the other side cannot claim to have vested right in injustice being done because of a non deliberate delay. The Court further said that judiciary is respected not on account of its power to legalise injustice on technical grounds but because it is capable of removing injustice and is expected to do so.

8. In P.K. Ramachandran Vs. State of Kerala, AIR 1998 SC 2276 the Court said:

“Law of limitation may harshly affect a particular party but it has to be applied with all its rigour when the statute so prescribe and the Courts have no power to extend the period of limitation on equitable grounds.”

9. The Rules of limitation are not meant to destroy rights of parties. They virtually take away the remedy. They are meant with the objective that parties should not resort to dilatory tactics and sleep over their rights. They must seek remedy promptly. The object of providing a legal remedy is to repair the damage caused by reason of legal injury. The statute relating to limitation determines a life span for such legal remedy for redress of the legal injury, one has suffered. Time is precious and the wasted time would never revisit. During efflux of time, newer causes would come up, necessitating newer persons to seek legal remedy by approaching the courts. So a life span must be fixed for each remedy. Unending period for launching the remedy may lead to unending uncertainty and consequential anarchy. The statute providing limitation is founded on public policy. It is enshrined in the maxim Interpublicae up sit finis litium (it is for the general welfare that a period be put to litigation). It is for this reason that when an action becomes barred by time, the Court should be slow to ignore delay for the reason that once limitation expires, other party matures his rights on the subject with attainment of finality. Though it cannot be doubted that refusal to condone delay would result in foreclosing the suiter from putting forth his cause but simultaneously the party on the other hand is also entitled to sit and feel carefree after a particular length of time, getting relieved from persistent and continued litigation.

10. There is no presumption that delay in approaching the court is always deliberate. No person gains from deliberate delaying a matter by not resorting to take appropriate legal remedy within time but then the words "sufficient cause" show that delay, if any, occurred, should not be deliberate, negligent and due to casual approach of concerned litigant, but, it should be bona fide, and, for the reasons beyond his control, and, in any case should not lack bona fide. If the explanation does not smack of lack of bona fide, the Court should show due consideration to the suiter, but, when there is apparent casual approach on the part of suiter, the approach of Court is also bound to change. Lapse on the part of litigant in approaching Court within time is understandable but a total inaction for long period of delay without any explanation whatsoever and that too in absence of showing any sincere attempt on the part of suiter, would add to his negligence, and would be relevant factor going against him.

11. I need not to burden this judgment with a catena of decisions explaining and laying down as to what should be the approach of Court on construing "sufficient cause" under Section 5 of Act, 1963 and it would be suffice to refer a very few of them besides those already referred.

12. In Shakuntala Devi Jain Vs. Kuntal Kumari, AIR 1969 SC 575 a three Judge Bench of the Court said, that, unless want of bona fide of such inaction or negligence as would deprive a party of the protection of Section 5 is proved, the application must not be thrown out or any delay cannot be refused to be condoned.

13. The Privy Council in Brij Indar Singh Vs. Kanshi Ram ILR (1918) 45 Cal 94 observed that true guide for a court to exercise the discretion under Section 5 is whether the appellant acted with reasonable diligence in prosecuting the appeal. This principle still holds good inasmuch as the aforesaid decision of Privy Council as repeatedly been referred to, and, recently in State of Nagaland Vs. Lipok AO and others, AIR 2005 SC 2191.

14. In Vedabai @ Vaijyanatabai Baburao Vs. Shantaram Baburao Patil and others, JT 2001(5) SC 608 the Court said that under Section 5 of Act, 1963 it should adopt a pragmatic approach. A distinction must be made between a case where the delay is inordinate and a case where the delay is of a few days. In the former case consideration of prejudice to the other side will be a relevant factor so the case calls for a more cautious approach but in the latter case no such consideration may arise and such a case deserves a liberal approach. No hard and fast rule can be laid down in this regard and the basic guiding factor is advancement of substantial justice.

15. In Pundlik Jalam Patil (dead) by LRS. Vs. Executive Engineer, Jalgaon Medium Project and Anr. (2008) 17 SCC 448, in para 17 of the judgment, the Court said :

“...The evidence on record suggests neglect of its own right for long time in preferring appeals. The court cannot enquire into belated and state claims on the ground of equity. Delay defeats equity. The court helps those who are vigilant and "do not slumber over their rights.”

16. In Maniben Devraj Shah Vs. Municipal Corporation of Brihan Mumbai, 2012 (5) SCC 157, in para 18 of the judgment, the Court said as under:

“What needs to be emphasised is that even though a liberal and justice oriented approach is required to be adopted in the exercise of power under Section 5 of the Limitation Act and other similar statutes, the Courts can neither become oblivious of the fact that the successful litigant has acquired certain rights on the basis of the judgment under challenge and a lot of time is consumed at various stages of litigation apart from the cost. What colour the expression 'sufficient cause' would get in the factual matrix of a given case would largely depend on bona fide nature of the explanation. If the Court finds that there has been no negligence on the part of the applicant and the cause shown for the delay does not lack bona fides, then it may condone the delay. If, on the other hand, the explanation given by the applicant is found to be concocted or he is thoroughly negligent in prosecuting his cause, then it would be a legitimate exercise of discretion not to condone the delay. In cases involving the State and its agencies/instrumentalities, the Court can take note of the fact that sufficient time is taken in the decision making process but no premium can be given for total lethargy or utter negligence on the part of the officers of the State and / or its agencies/instrumentalities and the applications filed by them for condonation of delay cannot be allowed as a matter of course by accepting the plea that dismissal of the matter on the ground of bar of limitation will cause injury to the public interest.”

17. Within what time the petitioner should approach the Court depends upon the facts and circumstances of the case. Reasonable time generally means any time which is not manifestly unreasonable and which is fairly necessary for approaching the Court. Reasonable time would mean a time required by a prudent litigant to approach the Court in the given facts and circumstances of the case.

18. Analyzing the facts of the instant case in the backdrop of aforesaid legal position, it is absolutely clear that the petitioner has approached this Court at a highly belated stage after about 13 years. The petitioner after waking up from deep slumber, approached this Court, without any iota of explanation for the delay as per his choice, caprice and whim. Thus, it can by no stretch of imagination be stated that the petitioner has approached this Court within a reasonable time and even though nothing has been stated in the writ petition, why the petitioner is coming after 13 years of passing the impugned order dated 08.09.2011, thus this Court does not find any justification to grant relief as sought by the petitioner on the ground of delay and laches. The petition is totally misconceived and is liable to be dismissed.

19. According, dismissed.

20. No order as to cost.

Hon'ble Ram Manohar Narayan Mishra, J.

1. Heard Sri Jitendra Kumar Jaiswal, learned A.G.A. for the State/appellant and Sri Subhash Chandra Tiwari, learned counsel for respondent No.1 to 4. We have perused the record and also the impugned judgment under challenge in this appeal.

2. The trial court has acquitted the accused-respondents for charge under Sections 366 and 376 IPC, vide judgment and order dated 08.04.2015 passed by learned Additional District and Session Judge/FTC, Kanpur Dehat in S.T. No.233 of 2010 (State Vs. Balwan Singh and others). This appeal under 378(3) of the Criminal Procedure Code, 1973 (hereinafter referred to as Cr.P.C.) has been preferred at the instance of the State as Government Appeal against the impugned judgment and order.

3. The brief facts of the case as appeared from FIR and other material on record are that the defacto complainant Munna Lal had given a written report on 22.04.2009 at Police Station concerned, on the basis of which Chick FIR (Ext. Ka-2) was drawn by Head Constable Sudhakar Singh on 22.4.2009 at 11:00 hours under Section 363 and 366 IPC at Police Station Rura, District Kanpur Dehat. The informant stated in his written report that on 07.04.2009 his minor daughter whose date of birth was 15.09.1993 had gone with her younger brother Rohit to the market to take medicines, at around 10:00 am accused Balwan Singh and Akhilesh who were coming by a tractor met them and got his daughter and son sit on the tractor. On some pretext they send his son Rohit to take guthka for them on way and when he returned back to the place where he was dropped by accused persons, he found neither the accused nor tractor nor his sister (victim), thus Rohit came back to home and narrated the incident to the informant. The informant embarked on search of his missing daughter, and in that sequence Akhilesh met him in the evening on the bank of a canal in Ballia and on making a pointed query he told that his brother Siya Ram and his brother-in-law (Bahnoi) who belonged to Panki took away his daughter from Madhauri by making her sit on a Marshal Jeep. The informant raised an apprehension in FIR, if his daughter be not recovered immediately she might be killed by the accused persons.

4. The police carried out investigation in the case and victim was recovered on 03.05.2009 by police. On secret information on 03.05.2009 at 17:15 hours she was recovered alongwith main accused Balwan Singh. Both the accused and victim were apprehended by police near staircase of over-bridge situated towards North of Railway Station Rura. The accused Balwan Singh was taken into custody by police and recovery cum arrest memo was prepared, which is placed on record as Ext. Ka-6. The investigating officer recorded the statement of the victim and other witnesses prepared site plan of place of occurrence, which is marked as Ext. Ka-7. In medico legal examination of victim which was carried out by C.M.O. District Women Hospital, Kanpur Dehat, no mark of injury was seen on private part, hymen was torn and healed, vagina admitted two fingers easily. Referred to Radiologist for Xray, for ossification test for age examination. In the opinion of lady doctor she was found to be used to sexual intercourse and no definite opinion about rape could be given. In age determination report Ext. Ka-5, her age was found to be more than 18 years, on the basis of her radiological examination. The Investigating Officer submitted chargesheet against named accused persons Balwan Singh, Akhilesh, Siya Ram and Vimal Chandra Tiwari for committing and facilitating the offence of kidnapping and rape. The tractor in which the victim was allegedly kidnapped was taken into custody by police, which is marked as Ext. Ka-9.

5. Learned Additional Chief Judicial Magistrate, Kanpur Dehat committed the case for trial to the court of session, as offence was triable by court of session. Learned Additional Session Judge Court No.3, Ramabai Nagar framed charge under Sections 366 and 376 IPC, against chargesheeted accused Balwan Singh, Akhilesh, Siya Ram and Vimal Chandra Tiwari, charges were read-over and explained to the accused persons who denied the charge and claimed to be tried.

6. The prosecution examined witnesses PW-1 Munna Lal the informant, PW-2 victim, PW-3 SI Sudhakar Singh (then Head Constable) placed before, the author of FIR and GD Entries of registration of this case. PW-4 Pushpa Gurnani who conducted medico legal examination of the victim, PW-5 SID Data Ram the investigating officer. After conclusion of prosecution evidence, the accused were examined under Section 313 Cr.P.C. with a view to seek their explanation regarding evidence and circumstances appearing against them during trial. The accused persons stated in their statement under Section 313 Cr.P.C. that they were falsely implicated in the case, they have committed no offence, the witnesses had deposed against them falsely.

7. Learned trial judge after hearing the submissions of both the sides and appreciating their evidence on record observed that on the basis of evidence on record it is proved that the victim had left her home alongwith accused on her own volition and will. She had attained age of majority as per medical age determination report. She never tried to seek help of any person enroute to her journey. The tractor passed through Madhauri village at 10:00 am, but she had not ask for help from any person as admitted by her. Thereafter she was taken by Marshal Jeep, even then she did not make any effort to seek help. She resided at the residence of Vimal Tiwari (accused) in Panki, but even there she did made any complaint to wife of Vimal Tiwari or person in vicinity she even did not tried to raise alarm by shouting. All these facts and circumstances which proved that she went alongwith the accused on her own volition.

8. Learned trial judge placed reliance on a judgment of this Court reported as Kumabuddin Vs. State of U.P. 2013 (3) JIC 61. Learned trial court gave a finding that victim was more than 18 years on the date of incident and she left her home on her own volition. Therefore, it is discerned that she was neither taken by the accused against her will, nor was subjected to sexual intercourse against her will. Therefore charge under Section 366 and 376 IPC has not been proved beyond reasonable doubt. Consequently accused persons are acquitted of charges under Sections 363 and 366 IPC.

9. Learned A.G.A. for the State-appellant submitted that the order of acquittal recorded by learned trial court is not justified in the eyes of law, as prosecution established the case against the accused persons. He further submitted that learned additional session judge has misread the evidence adduced during trial. Both the witnesses of facts PW1 informant the father of the victim and PW2 victim have fully proved the guilt of the accused respondents, but the learned trial court has taken erroneous approach while disbelieving the sworn testimony of the complainant as well as victim before the court. The victim has categorically stated in her evidence that the applicant had committed bad work, which implies that she was subjected to rape by her. She has even explained the said bad work in her testimony, but learned trial court has misappreciated the evidence and passed impugned judgment of acquittal, which is liable to be set-aside.

10. Per-contra, learned counsel for the respondent No.2 to 4 submitted that there are number of discrepancies in prosecution evidence. The FIR is highly belated which finds no explanation. The victim and the accused were caught together by police near over-bridge situated in the vicinity of railway station. She never raised alarm to seek assistance of passersby while she was allegedly taken by the accused. She never made complaint to wife or family members of co-accused Vimal Tiwari in whose house she was allegedly confined by main accused Balwan during the period of her kidnapping. She was found major in medico legal examination and her date of birth recorded in school record was not proved by prosecution. Therefore, no reliance can be placed on date of birth relied by prosecution on the basis of her academic records. The star witnesses of the case Rohit who happened to be minor brother of the victim and son of the informant in whose presence she was allegedly kidnapped by accused Balwan and Akhilesh was not produced in any evidence, whose testimony would have thrown some light on actual sequence of events. There is clear contradiction in stand of the informant and victim on one hand and that of investigating officer on the other hand with regard to place of arrest and recovery of the accused and victim.

11. PW-1 and PW-2 have stated in their statement that victim was recovered by police from the house of accused Vimal Tiwari at Panki, whereas the investigating officer has stated that she was recovered on 03.05.1999 near Rura Railway Station. Therefore one thing is certain that either the victim or the investigating officer had taken false stand before the court with regard to recovery of the victim and arrest of the accused Balwan. The learned trial court has rightly extended benefit of doubt in favour of the accused persons and recorded verdict of acquittal, as evidence adduced by prosecution does not inspire confidence.

12. In the present case, if we briefly examine the facts of the case and evidence adduced during trial we find that incident occurred on 07.04.2009. Whereas FIR was lodged after 15 days of the incident, this inordinate delay does not find any plausible explanation either in FIR or in evidence of the witnesses. PW-1 Munna Lal is not an eye witness and only the informant in the case is the father of the victim. The main witness Rohit who is minor son of the informant and brother of the victim was not examined during trial for reasons best known to prosecution. The victim remained in the company of accused Balwan as per her testimony for 25-26 days, but she never raised any alarm to seek assistance of passersby while on journey or made complaint to the wife of family members of accused Vimal Tiwari in whose house she was allegedly confined. Her medico legal examination report does not corroborate the allegations that she was subjected to sexual assault, as no mark of external or internal injury were found on her person. She was found to be aged around more than 18 years in her medical age determination report. No evidence was led to prove the prosecution version that she was below 18 years of age at the time of incident.

13. Learned trial court has rightly observed that she appears to be a consenting party. The principles which would govern and regulate the hearing of an appeal by this Court, against an order of acquittal passed by the trial Court, have been very succinctly explained by the Apex Court in catena of decisions. In the case of "M.S. NARAYANA MENON @ MANI VS. STATE OF KERALA & ANR", (2006) 6 S.C.C. 39, the Apex Court has narrated the powers of the High Court in appeal against the order of acquittal. In para 54 of the decision, the Apex Court has observed as under:

"54. In any event the High Court entertained an appeal treating to be an appeal against acquittal, it was in fact exercising the revisional jurisdiction. Even while exercising an appellate power against a judgment of acquittal, the High Court should have borne in mind the well settled principles of law that where two views are possible, the appellate Court should not interfere with the finding of acquittal recorded by the Court below."

14. Further, in the case of "CHANDRAPPA Vs. STATE OF KARNATAKA", reported in (2007) 4 S.C.C. 415, the Apex Court laid down the following principles;

"42. From the above decisions, in our considered view, the following general principles regarding powers of the appellate Court while dealing with an appeal against an order of acquittal emerge:

[1] An appellate Court has full power to review, re-appreciate and reconsider the evidence upon which the order of acquittal is founded.

[2] The Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 puts no limitation, restriction or condition on exercise of such power and an appellate Court on the evidence before it may reach its own conclusion, both on questions of fact and of law.

[3] Various expressions, such as, "substantial and compelling reasons", "good and sufficient grounds", "very strong circumstances", "distorted conclusions", "glaring mistakes", etc. are not intended to curtail extensive powers of an appellate Court in an appeal against acquittal. Such phraseologies are more in the nature of "flourishes of language" to emphasise the reluctance of an appellate Court to interfere with acquittal than to curtail the power of the Court to review the evidence and to come to its own conclusion.

[4] An appellate Court, however, must bear in mind that in case of acquittal there is double presumption in favour of the accused. Firstly, the presumption of innocence is available to him under the fundamental principle of criminal jurisprudence that every person shall be presumed to be innocent unless he is proved guilty by a competent Court of law. Secondly, the accused having secured his acquittal, the presumption of his innocence is further reinforced, reaffirmed and strengthened by the trial Court.

[5] If two reasonable conclusions are possible on the basis of the evidence on record, the appellate Court should not disturb the finding of acquittal recorded by the trial Court."

15. Thus, it is a settled principle that while exercising appellate powers, even if two reasonable views/conclusions are possible on the basis of the evidence on record, the appellate Court should not disturb the finding of acquittal recorded by the Trial Court.

16. The Apex Court in "SHIVASHARANAPPA & ORS. VS. STATE OF KARNATAKA", JT 2013 (7) SC 66 has held as under:

"That appellate Court is empowered to reappraise the entire evidence, though, certain other principles are also to be adhered to and it has to be kept in mind that acquittal results into double presumption of innocence."

17. The Apex Court recently in Jayaswamy vs. State of Karnataka, (2018) 7 SCC 219, has laid down the powers of appellate court in re-appreciating the evidence in a case where the State has preferred an appeal against acquittal, which read as follows:

"10.It is by now well settled that the Appellate Court hearing the appeal filed against the judgment and order of acquittal will not overrule or otherwise disturb the Trial Court's acquittal if the Appellate Court does not find substantial and compelling reasons for doing so. If the Trial Court's conclusion with regard to the facts is palpably wrong; if the Trial Court's decision was based on erroneous view of law; if the Trial Court's judgment is likely to result in grave miscarriage of justice; if the entire approach of the Trial Court in dealing with the evidence was patently illegal; if the Trial Court judgment was manifestly unjust and unreasonable; and if the Trial Court has ignored the evidence or misread the material evidence or has ignored material documents like dying declaration/report of the ballistic expert etc. the same may be construed as substantial and compelling reasons and the first appellate court may interfere in the order of acquittal. However, if the view taken by the Trial Court while acquitting the accused is one of the possible views under the facts and circumstances of the case, the Appellate Court generally will not interfere with the order of acquittal particularly in the absence of the aforementioned factors.

.....It is relevant to note the observations of this Court in the case of Ramanand Yadav vs. Prabhu Nath Jha & Ors., (2003) 12 SCC 606, which reads thus:

"21.There is no embargo on the appellate court reviewing the evidence upon which an order of acquittal is based. Generally, the order of acquittal shall not be interfered with because the presumption of innocence of the accused is further strengthened by acquittal. The golden thread which runs through the web of administration of justice in criminal cases is that if two views are possible on the evidence adduced in the case, one pointing to the guilt of the accused and the other to his innocence, the view which is favourable to the accused should be adopted. The paramount consideration of the court is to ensure that miscarriage of justice is prevented. A miscarriage of justice which may arise from acquittal of the guilty is no less than from the conviction of an innocent. In a case where admissible evidence is ignored, a duty is cast upon the appellate court to re-appreciate the evidence in a case where the accused has been acquitted, for the purpose of ascertaining as to whether any of the accused committed any offence or not."

18. The Apex Court recently in Shailendra Rajdev Pasvan v. State of Gujarat, (2020) 14 SC 750, has held that the appellate court is reversing the trial court's order of acquittal, it should give proper weight and consideration to the presumption of innocence in favour of accused, and to the principle that such a presumption stands reinforced, reaffirmed and strengthened by the trial court and in Samsul Haque v. State of Assam, (2019) 18 SCC 161 held that judgment of acquittal, where two views are possible, should not be set aside, even if view formed by appellate court may be a more probable one, interference with acquittal can only be justified when it is based on a perverse view.

19. We have perused the deposition of prosecution witnesses, documents proved during trial, arguments advanced by learned counsel for the parties and meticulously examined the judgment under appeal. The reasoning given by learned Additional Session Judge is logical and legal as well. The finding of learned trial court need not be disturbed in present appeal for reasons stated in foregoing discussion.

20. The factual scenario in the present case does not permit us to take a different view than that of taken by learned trial court. We find no reason to disagree with the reasoning and finding of learned trial court, thus we concur findings of the court below.

21. Consequently keeping in view the facts and circumstances of the case, evidence adduced during trial and reasons given by learned trial court and binding precedent of Apex Court as cited above, we are of the considered view that there is no good ground to grant leave to appeal in the instant case, which accordingly is refused, consequently the government appeal also stands dismissed, at the stage of admission itself.

22. Let lower court record be send back immediately for necessary action alongwith certified copy of this judgment.

Civil Law-The Constitution of India, 1950- Article 227 - The Code of Civil Procedure, 1908-Section 22 - The Legal Services Authority Act, 1987- Section 22-Territorial jurisdiction of Lok Adalat- There is no provision contained in the Legal Services Authorities Act governing the territorial jurisdiction of Permanent Lok Adalat and in these circumstances, the general principles regarding territorial jurisdiction contained in the Civil Procedure Code shall apply to proceeding before Permanent Lok Adalat also. Section 20 of the Civil Procedure Code provides that 'a suit may be instituted within the court, within the local limits of whose jurisdiction and defendants reside or carry on business or personally works for gain. When the defendant in the claim-

Universal Sompo General Insurance Company Ltd has its office at Lucknow and it carries on business within the limits of Lucknow, the Permanent Lok Adalat at Lucknow has territorial jurisdiction to entertain the claim filed by the petitioner. (Para 4)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Subhash Vidyarthi, J.)

1. Sri Rinku Verma, the learned counsel for the petitioner and perused the record.

2. By means of the instant petition filed under Article 227 of the Constitution of India, the petitioner has challenged validity of an order dated 01.05.2024 passed by the Permanent Lok Adalat, Lucknow in Miscellaneous Case No.02 of 2024, whereby the claim petition filed by the petitioner was rejected at the admission stage for the reason that the accident, giving rise to the cause of action for filing the claim, took place within the limits of District Ayodhya. The Insurance policy of the vehicle was issued by Universal Sompo General Insurance Company Ltd. through its web portal and the pollution 'under control' certificate was issued from District Unnao. The rejection under letter dated 28.11.2023 issued by the Insurance Company rejecting the petitioner's claim mentions that the petitioner may take action at one of the four levels mentioned in the letter and he has an option to file a complaint before the Insurance Ombudsman, but the petitioner has not exercised those options. From the aforesaid facts, the Permanent Lok Adalat came to a conclusion that it has no jurisdiction to entertain the claim.

3. The learned counsel for the petitioner submits that the opposite party M/s Universal Sompo General Insurance Company Ltd has its office at Lucknow. Although Section 22D of the Legal Services Authority Act, 1987 provides that 'the Permanent Lok Adalat shall be guided by the principles of natural justice, objectivity, fair play, equality and other principles of justice, and shall not be bound by the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, Section 22 of the aforesaid Act provides that 'the Permanent Lok Adalats have the same powers as are the vested in a Civil Court under the Civil Procedure Code, 1908 while trying a suit in respect of certain matters enumerated in that section.

4. There is no provision contained in the Legal Services Authorities Act governing the territorial jurisdiction of Permanent Lok Adalat and in these circumstances, the general principles regarding territorial jurisdiction contained in the Civil Procedure Code shall apply to proceeding before Permanent Lok Adalat also. Section 20 of the Civil Procedure Code provides that 'a suit may be instituted within the court, within the local limits of whose jurisdiction and defendants reside or carry on business or personally works for gain. When the defendant in the claim-Universal Sompo General Insurance Company Ltd has its office at Lucknow and it carries on business within the limits of Lucknow, the Permanent Lok Adalat at Lucknow has territorial jurisdiction to entertain the claim filed by the petitioner.

5. In view of the above discussion, this Court is of the considered view that the order dated 01.05.2024 passed by the Permanent Lok Adalat, Lucknow dismissing the petitioner's claim at the admission stage on the ground of lack of territorial jurisdiction, is not sustainable in law and the same is liable to be set aside.

6. So far as the observations of Permanent Lok Adalat regarding alternative remedy is concerned, the Beema Lok Pal has been constituted by a notification issued by the Central Government and it has not been constituted under any statute. The remedy before Insurance Lok Pal is not a statutory remedy and it does not bar the petitioner's right to file a claim before the Permanent Lok Adalat.

7. Accordingly, the petition is allowed. The order dated 01.05.2024 is set aside and the matter is remanded to the Permanent Lok Adalat Lucknow for passing fresh orders regarding admission of the claim in accordance with law, keeping in view the observations made in this order.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Subhash Vidyarthi, J.)

1. Heard Sri Yogeshwar Sharan Srivastava, the learned counsel for the petitioner.

2. By means of the instant petition filed under Section 227 of the Constitution of India, the petitioner has sought a direction to the opposite party no. 2-Consolidation Officer (Purana) for expeditious disposal of Case No. 65 of 2024, which is an application filed under Rule 109-A (1) of U.P. Consolidation of Holdings Act Rules, 1954 (which will hereinafter be referred to as 'the Rules of 1954'), for execution of an order dated 24.04.1993 passed by the Consolidation Officer, Nawabganj in Case No. 3939.

3. Sri Hemant Kumar Pandey, the learned Standing Counsel for the State of U.P. has raised a preliminary objection that the application under Rule 109-A has been filed after more than 30 years since passing of the alleged order dated 24.04.1993, a certified copy whereof has not been produced by the petitioner along with the application for execution of the order. The photocopy of the order dated 24.04.1993 filed alongwith the execution application is not admissible. In these circumstances, the photocopy of the order dated 24.04.1993 prima facie appears to be forged. The original record of the proceedings in the court of Consolidation Officer stands weeded out. There is no method to verify the genuineness of the petitioner's claim regarding order dated 24.04.1993 in absence of a certified copy of the order dated 24.04.1993 having been filed by the petitioner along with his application dated 07.11.2023.

4. The learned Standing Counsel relied on a decision of this Court in case of Chandrajeet Ram v. State of U.P., 2009 SCC OnLine All 2446 = (2009) 108 RD 190, in which a coordinate bench of this Court has recorded that the Court is daily coming across such matters where people come out with certified copies of orders alleged to have been passed 25 to 40 years before by Consolidation Courts and start asserting that the order must be mutated. In most of the cases such certified copies are forged. In normal course of things if an order is passed by Consolidation Court in favour of a person then either it is implemented forthwith in normal course or he will immediately take steps for getting that mutated in the revenue records. A wait of more than 12 years always raises a grave doubt regarding the genuineness of the order sought to be enforced. In most of such cases certified copies of non existent orders are manufactured after the loss/weeding out of original records. It is also the experience of the court that Rule 109-A is being utterly misused. It is not meant for rampant use. It cannot be invoked after notification under section 52 of the Act to enforce orders passed before the notification.

5. The learned counsel for the petitioner could not give any reply to the aforesaid legal submissions raised by the learned Standing Counsel.

6. The application filed by the petitioner under Rule 109 has been filed after more than 30 years since the alleged order dated 24.04.1993, a certified copy whereof has not been produced by the petitioner along with the application for execution of the order. The photocopy of the order dated 24.04.1993 filed alongwith the execution application is not admissible. The original record of the proceedings in the court of Consolidation Officer stands weeded out. In these circumstances, there is no method to verify the genuineness of the petitioner's claim regarding order dated 24.04.1993 in absence of a certified copy of the order dated 24.04.1993 having been filed by the petitioner along with his application dated 07.11.2023.

7. Further, Section 52 of the U. P. Consolidation of Holdings Act, 1953 provides as follows: -

“52. Close of consolidation operations. - (1) As soon as may be, after fresh maps and records have been prepared under sub-section (1) of Section

27, the State Government shall issue a notification in the Official Gazette that the consolidation operations have been closed in the unit and the village or villages forming a part of the unit shall then cease to be under consolidation operations:

Provided that the issue of the notification under this section shall not affect the powers of the State Government to fix, distribute and record the cost of operations under this Act.

(1-A) The notification issued under sub-section (1) shall be published also in a daily newspaper having circulation in the area and in such other manner as may be considered proper.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1), any order passed by a Court of competent jurisdiction in cases of writs filed under the provisions of the Constitution of India, or in cases of proceedings pending under this Act on the date of issue of the notification under sub-section (1), shall be given effect to by such authorities, as may be prescribed and the consolidation operation shall, for that purpose, be deemed to have not been closed.

8. Rule 109-A of the Rules of 1954 provides as follows: -

"109A. - (1) Orders passed in cases covered by sub-section (2) of Section 52 shall be given effect to by the consolidation authorities, authorised in this behalf under sub-section (2) of Section 42. In case there be no such authority the Assistant Collector, incharge of the sub-division, the Tahsildar, the Naib-Tahsildar, the Supervisor kanungo, and the Lekhpal of the area to which the case relates shall, respectively, perform the functions and discharge the duties of the Settlement Officer, Consolidation, Consolidation Officer, the Assistant Consolidation Officer, the Consolidator and the Consolidation Lekhpal respectively for the purpose of giving effect to the orders aforesaid.

(2) If for the purpose of giving effect to any order referred to in sub-rule (1) it becomes necessary to reallocate affected chaks, necessary orders may be passed by the 28 Consolidation Officer, or the Tahsildar, as the case may be, after affording proper opportunity of hearing to the parties concerned.

(3) Any person aggrieved by the order of the Consolidation Officer, or the Tahsildar, as the case may be, may, within 15 days of the order passed under sub-rule (2), file an appeal before the Settlement Officer, Consolidation, or the Assistant Collector incharge of the sub-division, as the case may be, who shall decide the appeal after affording reasonable opportunity of being heard to the parties concerned, which shall be final.

(4) In case delivery of possession becomes necessary as a result of orders passed under sub-rule (2) or sub-rule (3), as the case may be, the provisions of Rules 55 and 56 shall, mutatis mutandis, be followed."

9. A combined reading of Section 52 (2) of the Act of 1953 and Rule 109-A (2) of the Rules of 1954 makes it clear that only the orders passed by a Court of competent jurisdiction in cases of writs filed under the provisions of the Constitution of India, or in cases of proceedings pending under this Act on the date of issue of the notification under sub-section (1), shall be given effect to. The learned Counsel for the petitioner could not dispute that the consolidation operations stand closed long ago. There is nothing on record to indicate that any writ petition was filed in this matter or any proceedings under the Act were pending on the date of notification under Section 52 (1) of the act of 1953. In these circumstances, the order dated 24.04.1993 cannot be implemented long after closure of the consolidation operations.

10. When this Court is of the view that the order dated 24.04.1993 cannot be implemented, there is no occasion for this Court to give a direction for expeditious disposal of the application for implementation of the order filed after more than 30 years since passing of the order.

11. Accordingly, the petition is dismissed.

Therefore, the jurisdiction of Civil Courts to entertain suits for injunction filed by tenants against their landlords, is not barred by the provisions of the Act of 2021 and the Civil Court continues to have jurisdiction to entertain the suits for injunction even after enactment of the Act of 2021. Impugned order set aside.
(Para 10)

Petition allowed. (E-15)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Subhash Vidyarthi, J.)

1. Heard Shri Ratnesh Chandra, the learned counsel for the petitioner and Shri Gopesh Tripathi, the learned counsel for the opposite party.

2. The learned counsel for the opposite party does not propose to file a counter affidavit and the petition is being heard finally with the consent of the learned counsel for the parties.

3. By means of the instant petition filed under Article 227 of the Constitution of India, the petitioner has challenged validity of the judgment and order dated 15.11.2022 passed by the learned Civil Judge (Junior Division), Court No.16 Raebareli in Civil Miscellaneous Case No.630 of 2022, whereby the suit filed by the petitioner for the relief of perpetual injunction restraining the defendant/landlord from evicting him from a property in his tenancy, otherwise than in accordance with the law, has been dismissed at the admission stage on the ground that Section 38(1) of the U.P Regulation of Urban Premises Tenancy Act, 2021 (hereinafter referred to as ‘the Act of 2021’) provides that no civil court shall entertain any suit or proceeding insofar as it relates to the provisions of the Act of 2021.

4. The petitioner has also challenged validity of the judgement and order dated 07.08.2023 passed by the learned First Additional District Judge, Raebareli in Civil Revision No.35 of 2022, whereby the revision has been dismissed and the order dated 15.11.2022 passed by the Civil Judge has been affirmed.

5. Sri. Ratnesh Chandra, the learned counsel for the petitioner has submitted that the Act of 2021 has been enacted to regulate renting of premises and to protect the interests of the landlords and tenants and to provide speedy adjudication mechanism for resolution of disputes and matters connected therewith or incidental thereto. It contains provisions enabling the landlord to file a suit for ejectment/eviction of tenant and for recovery of arrears of rent and damages etc. but it does not contain any provision under which a tenant can file a suit for perpetual injunction for restraining the landlord from dispossessing him from the property in his tenancy otherwise in accordance with law.

6. The learned counsel for the opposite party contends that the landlord is not making any effort to dispossess the petitioner otherwise then in accordance with law and the petitioner has got no cause of action to file a suit against the landlord. However, he does not dispute the legal submission of the learned counsel for the petitioner that the Rent Act, 2021 does not empower the rent authority /rent tribunal to entertain a suit for perpetual injunction filed by the tenant.

7. The Uttar Pradesh Regulation Of Urban Premises Tenancy Act, 2021 [Act No. 16 Of 2021] is “An Act to establish Rent Authority and Rent Tribunals to regulate renting of premises and to protect the interests of landlords and tenants and to provide speedy adjudication mechanism for resolution of disputes and matters connected therewith or incidental thereto.”

8. Various sections of the Act of 2021 contain provisions for making applications by the landlord and the tenant. A tenant can file an application under Section 10 of the Act requesting the Rent Authority to determine the revised rent in case of dispute. Section 14 authorises a tenant to file an application before the Rent Authority for depositing the rent where the landlord refuses to accept any rent and other charges payable or refuses to give a receipt. Section 20 of the Act empowers a tenant to file an application before the Rent Authority in case a landlord withholds any essential supply or service in the premises occupied by the tenant.

9. Section 21 of the Act of 2021 is titled “Protection of tenant against eviction” and it provides that “A tenant shall not be evicted during the continuance of tenancy agreement unless otherwise agreed to in writing by the landlord and tenant, except in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (2) or in accordance with the provisions of section 22” but Section 21(2) of the Act provides that on an application made to it by the landlord, the Rent Authority may make an order for eviction and recovery of possession of the premises. This Section also does not contain any provision enabling a tenant to file an application for protection against apprehended eviction otherwise than in accordance with the law.

10. Having gone through the provisions of the Act of 2021, this Court is of the considered view that the Act of 2021 confers jurisdiction on rent authority/rent tribunal to entertain petitions filed by landlord or eviction/ejectment of tenant for recovery of arrears of rent and damages etc. but there is no provision in the aforesaid act which confers jurisdiction on the rent authority/rent tribunal to entertain a suit for perpetual injunction filed by a tenant against his dispossession otherwise then in accordance with the law. Therefore, the jurisdiction of Civil Courts to entertain suits for injunction filed by tenants against their landlords, is not barred by the provisions of the Act of 2021 and the Civil Court continues to have jurisdiction to entertain the suits for injunction even after enactment of the Act of 2021.

11. By declining to admit the suit for perpetual injunction filed by the petitioner, the Civil Judge has failed to exercise a jurisdiction vested in it by law, which makes the order passed by the Civil Judge, as also the order passed by the revisional court affirming the order of Civil Judge, unsustainable in law.

12. Accordingly, the petition is allowed. Order dared 15.11.2022 passed by the learned Civil Judge (Junior Division), Court No.16 Raebareli and the order dated 07.08.2023 passed by the learned First Additional District Judge, Raebareli are set aside. The Civil Judge is directed to pass fresh orders regarding admission of the suit keeping in view the observations made in this order.

Petition disposed of. (E-15)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Ms. Nand Prabha Shukla, J.)

1. Heard learned counsel for the petitioner, Sri S.C. Mishra, learned AGA for the State and perused the record.

2. The present writ petition under Article 227 of the Constitution of India has been filed with a prayer to issue an order or direction to set aside the impugned order dated 12.12.2023 passed by learned Revisional Court/learned Court of Session Judge, Ghazipur and impugned order dated 21.09.2023 passed by learned Court of Civil Judge (Junior Division)/Judicial Magistrate, Court No. 1, Mohammadabad, Ghazipur.

3. It has been submitted by learned counsel for the petitioner that petitioner is the Trustee/Co-President of Sarvashva Narayan Gau Raksha Evam Samaj Seva Trust (in short the Trust) established in the year 2015.

4. The instant matter arises out of an FIR No. 0133 of 2023 dated 20.08.2023 registered under Section 3/5A/5B/8 of the U.P. Prevention of Cow Slaughter Act, 1955 wherein the respondent no. 4 Vikram Kumar Gupta was named as an accused and about 18 cows and four calves were seized from his truck. On 23.8.2023, the Station House Officer of Police Station Bahwarkol, District Ghazipur handed over the seized cattle to the petitioner's Trust to take care and to look after the cattle by arranging the fodder etc.

5. The respondent no. 4 being the owner of the seized cattle filed an application under Section 457 Cr.P.C. before the learned Judicial Magistrate, Court No. 1, Mohammadabad, Ghazipur seeking release of his cattle. □

6. Accordingly, vide order dated 21.09.2023, the said cattle were released in favour of Respondent No. 4-Vikram Kumar Gupta/owner by the Civil Judge (Junior Division)/Judicial Magistrate, Court No. 1, Mohammadabad, Ghazipur after seeking an undertaking and a personal bond of Rs. 3,00,000/- and a surety of the like amount.

7. Aggrieved by the said order, the petitioner/Trust preferred a Criminal Revision bearing Criminal Application No. 668 of 2023 claiming the expenses incurred by him to the tune of Rs. 2,52,700/ spent in taking care of the said cattle from the period 23.08.2023 to 03.10.2023 and seeking further relief to get the said cattle released in favour of the Trust. But the said Criminal Revision was dismissed in limine as the petitioner had no locus to challenge the said order.

8. At this juncture, it is relevant to quote Section 7, sub-section (3) of U.P. Prevention of Cow Slaughter Act, 1955 which specifically provides as follows:

"Section 7 (3) Any Goshala or any institution may receive any cow, bull or bullock for custody from police or any other person which may be released to the owner on such terms and conditions and in such manner and on payment of such charges as may be prescribed."

9. Considering the aforesaid facts and circumstances as well as the provision as quoted above, the Court below has rightly released the cattle in favour of the respondent no. 4 being the owner of the seized cows and the calves after seeking an undertaking and executing a personal bond of Rs. 3,00,000/- and a surety of the like amount which is not illegal. The order dated 12.12.2023 has been passed after proper application of judicial mind. □

10. However, the petitioner is at liberty to claim the necessary expenses incurred by him in taking care of the cattle.

11. The writ petition is accordingly disposed of.

3. Briefly stated, facts stated in the petition are that marriage of the parties was solemnized on 11.02.2008 at New Delhi. Out of the wedlock between the parties, a daughter was born on 15.02.2011 at Belfast, Northern Ireland and a son was born on 14.02.2013 in Scotland. The petitioner is a British citizen and she is domicile of United Kingdom. The respondent also had the intention to settle in the United Kingdom but he could not qualify the entrance examination required for medical practitioners to obtain employment in United Kingdom and consequently, he returned to India. The petitioner is residing in Scotland along with both her minor children and she is currently employed in N.H.S. Grampian, as a Consultant Psychiatrist at Westholme Woodend Hospital, Scotland.

4. The opposite party has filed the aforesaid suit for a decree of divorce on 07.02.2019. On 28.01.2020, the petitioner filed an application in the suit stating that she is residing in United Kingdom and she has executed a power of attorney in favor of her mother, who would represent the petitioner in the suit. The power of attorney dated 08.07.2019 filed before the Family Court authorizes the petitioner's mother to prosecute the suit and proceedings, to sign and verify all the pleadings, applications and documents etc., to enter into a compromise in the suit and to appear before the Family Court at the first motion and the second motion in a petition for mutual consent and generally to do all other acts and things for conduct of the suit, as the petitioner could have done herself if she was personally present.

5. The plaintiff-opposite party had filed objections against the aforesaid application but the petitioner's application was allowed by means of an order dated 02.03.2020 passed by the Family Court permitting the petitioner to participate in the proceedings through her power of attorney holder subject to the condition that upon being directed, the petitioner shall appear before the Court in person.

6. The written statement filed in the suit has been signed and verified by the power of attorney holder of the petitioner. The plaintiff-opposite party has been examined as PW-1 and thereafter, the petitioner filed an application in the suit requesting for recording of her evidence through video conferencing or to allow her power of attorney holder to physically appear and give evidence on behalf of the petitioner. The said application has been rejected by the impugned order dated 06.09.2023 for the reasons that there is no law laying down the procedure for recording evidence of a person from some other country through virtual mode and that there is a time difference of six hours between India and United Kingdom. The petitioner has not disclosed the name of the Court of United Kingdom, in which she will be physically present for getting her statement recorded through virtual mode and the Family Court also does not have any list of such Courts of United Kingdom, where the petitioner can be directed to be present for recording of her evidence. While allowing the petitioner's application for being represented through her power of attorney holder, the Family had granted permission to the petitioner to be represented through her power of attorney subject to the condition that the petitioner will appear in person before the Court whenever directed by the court and will participate in the proceedings of the Court personally.

7. In view of the aforesaid observations, the Family Court rejected the petitioner's application for recording of her evidence through video conferencing.

8. The opposite party has filed a counter affidavit opposing the writ petition inter alia stating that the petitioner's mother and power of attorney holder Smt. Kusumlata Verma has already appeared as DW-1 in the suit and her examination-in-chief and cross-examination has already been recorded.

9. While assailing validity of the aforesaid order, learned counsel for the petitioner has submitted that the Rules for Video Conferencing for the Courts in the State of Uttar Pradesh, 2020 provide for recording of evidence of witnesses through video conferencing and the Family Court has erred in rejecting the petitioner's application for being examined through video conferencing.

10. Per contra, learned counsel for the opposite party has submitted that the petitioner had prayed before the Family Court for recording of her evidence through video conferencing and she had made an alternative prayer for recording of evidence of her power of attorney holder in her place. Prayer No.2 in the petition filed before this court is for issuance of a direction to the Family Court for permitting the petitioner for recording her evidence through video conferencing or through her power of attorney holder. The alternative prayer made by the petitioner for recording of evidence through power of attorney holder of the petitioner, has become infructuous as statement of the power of attorney holder has already been recorded.

11. In reply to this objection, the learned Counsel for the petitioner has submitted that PW-1 has been examined in her personal capacity and she has not been examined as the power of attorney holder of the plaintiff.

12. What appears from the facts of the case mentioned above is that although the parties got married at New Delhi on 11.02.2008, shortly thereafter they moved to United Kingdom. The petitioner and both children of the parties are citizens of United Kingdom and they are domicile of United Kingdom. The husband – opposite party resides in India and he has filed a suit for divorce. Although the plaintiff-opposite party had opposed the defendant's request for being permitted to appear through her power of attorney holder, the Family Court allowed the request by means of an order dated 02.03.2020 subject to the condition that upon being directed, the petitioner shall appear before the Court in person. The defendant – petitioner has not appeared in the suit personally and she is defending the suit through her mother, in whose favour she has executed a power of attorney and she has filed the written statement also through her power of attorney holder. In her application, the petitioner requested for recording of her evidence through video conferencing or to allow her power of attorney holder to physically appear and give evidence on behalf of the petitioner. The evidence of the petitioner's mother and power of attorney holder has already been recorded as PW-1. Therefore, the alternative prayer made in the petitioner filed before this Court - to allow her power of attorney holder to physically appear and give evidence on behalf of the petitioner, has become infructuous.

13. PW-1 has not stated that she has appeared as a witness only as the power of attorney holder of the petitioner and she simply got herself examined on behalf of the petitioner. PW-1 cannot be expected to state different facts on oath while appearing in her personal capacity and in the capacity of the power of attorney holder of the petitioner. Therefore, the contention of the learned Counsel for the petitioner that PW-1 has not been examined as the power of attorney holder of the petitioner, is not acceptable.

14. The statutory provision contained in Rule 3-A of Order XVII C.P.C. would also be relevant in the present case, which provides as follows:

“3-A. Party to appear before other witnesses.—Where a party himself wishes to appear as a witness, he shall so appear before any other witness on his behalf has been examined, unless the Court, for reasons to be recorded, permits him to appear as his own witness at a later stage.”

(Emphasis added)

15. In case the petitioner – plaintiff herself wished to appear as a witness, she should have appeared before her mother and power of attorney holder. As the plaintiff did not appear as a witness before her mother and power of attorney holder, she cannot be permitted to be examined now in absence of any special reasons. It is significant to note that the plaintiff has not appeared before the trial Court even once and she has not even signed the pleadings. Therefore, there appears to be no special reason to permit the petitioner to appear as a witness now when her mother and power of attorney holder has already been examined.

16. For the foregoing reason, I find no illegality in the order dated 06.09.2023 passed by the learned Additional Principal Judge-IV, Family Court, Lucknow in Case No.440 of 2019 under Section 13 of the Hindu Marriage Act. As the evidence of the petitioner’s power of attorney holder has already been recorded, there is no need to direct the Family Court to record the plaintiff’s evidence through video conferencing.

17. The petition lacks merits and the same is dismissed. The parties shall bear their own costs of the petition.

Petition dismissed. (E-15)

(Delivered by Hon’ble Neeraj Tiwari, J.)

1. Heard Sri Mansoor Ahmad, learned counsel for the petitioner, Sri S.P. Singh, learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel and Sri Ten Singh, learned counsel for the private respondents.

2. Present petition has been filed with the following prayer:□

"i. to set aside the impugned order dated 16.07.2024 passed in Case No. 2 of 2023 and remand back the matter to Ld. Court concerned to pass a fresh and appropriate order."

3. Learned counsel for the petitioner submitted that Election Petition no. 2 of 2023 has been filed by respondent No. 1 challenging the election of petitioner as Chairman/Pesident of Nagar Palika Parishad, Chunar, Mirzapur under Section□ 19 of the U.P. Municipalities Act, 1916(hereinafter, referred to as, 'Act, 1916'). He next submitted that petitioner has filed objection dated 10.06.2023 on the ground that election of President may not be challenged under Section 19 of the Act, 1916 as it belongs to election of members, therefore Election Petition no. 2 of 2023 may be dismissed as not maintainable.□ He next submitted that objection of petitioner has been rejected vide□ impugned order dated 16.07.2024. He further submitted that Section 19 of the Act, 1916 provides for election dispute of members only and petition relating to the election of President is not maintainable under the said provision of law, therefore, impugned order dated 16.07.2024 is bad and liable to be set aside.

4. Sri S.K. Singh, learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel as well as Sri Ten Singh, learned counsel for the private respondents vehemently opposed the submission of learned counsel for the petitioner and submitted that Section 43 of the Act, 1916 itself provides that provisions for election to the post of a member shall mutatis mutandis apply to the election for the post of President, therefore, there is no illegality in the impugned order dated 16.07.2024.

5. I have considered the rival submissions made by learned counsel for the parties and perused provisions of law.

6. Section 19 of the Act, 1916 pertains to power to question the municipal election by petition. The same is being quoted hereinbelow:

"19. Power to question municipal election by petition. - (1) The election of any person as a member of a [Municipality] may be questioned by an election petition on the ground, -

(a) that such person committed during or in respect of the election proceedings a corrupt practice as defined in Section 28;

(b) that such person was declared to be elected by reason of the improper rejection or admission of one or more votes, or any other reason was not duly elected by a majority of lawful votes;

(c) that such person was not qualified to be nominated as a candidate for election or that the nomination paper of the petitioner was improperly rejected.

(2) The election of any person as a member of a [Municipality] shall not be questioned, -

(a) on the ground that the name of any person qualified to vote has been omitted from, or the name of any person not qualified to vote has been inserted in the electoral roll or rolls;

[(b)] on the ground of any non-compliance with this Act or any rule, or of any mistake in the forms required thereby, or of any error, irregularity or informality on the part of the officer or officers charged with carrying out this Act or any rules, unless such non-compliance, mistake, error, irregularity or informality has materially affected the result of the election."

7. From the perusal of the aforesaid provision, it shows that it is for dispute of election of members.□

8. Section 43 of the Act, 1916 pertains to election of President. Same is being quoted hereinbelow:

"43. Election of President. - (1)
The President of the municipality shall be elected on the basis of adult suffrage by the electors in the municipal area.

(2) An outgoing President shall be eligible for re-election.

(3) The provision of this Act and the rules framed thereunder in relation to election (including disputes relating to election and electoral offences) of a member shall, mutatis mutandis, apply in relation to election of the President.

(4) If in a general election a person is elected both as member and President of the municipality or being a member of the municipality is elected President thereof in any bye-election, he shall, except as provided in Section 49, cease to be a member from the date of his election as President.] "

9. From the perusal of Section 43(3) of the Act, 1916, it again shows that Act and the rules framed thereunder in relation to election including disputes relating to election and electoral offences of a member shall, mutatis mutandis, apply in relation to election of the President, meaning thereby that provision of Section 19 of the Act, 1916, so far as it pertains to election dispute shall also be applicable in the election dispute of President.

10. Therefore, in light of Section 19□ and 43 of the Act, 1916, this Court holds that provision of Section 19, so far as it relates to election dispute shall also be applicable for the□ dispute of□ election and electoral offences of President. Therefore, I found no illegality or infirmity in the impugned order dated 16.07.2024.

11. Petition lacks merit and is hereby dismissed.

12. No order as to costs.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Anish Kumar Gupta, J.)

1. Heard Sri Mohammad Zakir and Sri Nanhe Lal Tripathi, learned counsel for the applicants, Sri Anand Kumar Singh, learned counsel for the opposite party no. 2 and Ms. Harshita, learned AGA for the State.

2. This application under Section 482 Cr.P.C. has been filed to quash the entire proceeding of Complaint Case No. 4827 of 2016 (Savita Devi Vs. Maan Singh and others) under section 498A, 323, 504, 506 IPC and 3/4 D.P. Act, Police Station Sarai Akil, District Kaushambi pending in the Court of C.J.M. Kaushambi.

3. The brief facts of the case are that the instant complaint case has been filed by the opposite party no. 2 alleging therein that the marriage of applicant no. 1 with the opposite party no. 2 was solemnized on 27.04.2012 and since after the marriage she was discharging her matrimonial obligations up to four years without any dispute. It is further alleged that the applicant no. 1 was already married prior to the marriage of the opposite party no. 2 with the applicant and out of that wedlock there was a child born which is applicant no. 3 herein. It is alleged in the complaint that after four years of marriage the applicant herein started harassing the opposite party no. 2 for demand of dowry and the applicants were not happy with the gifts and dowry given by the father of the opposite party no. 2. When the aforesaid was intimated to the father by the opposite party no. 2 he came and there was a settlement and they continue to live together. Subsequently, it has been alleged that on 17.10.2016 all the opposite parties forcibly taken her in a car and dropped her at village Pure-Ghasiram and told that unless she brings Rs. Two Lacs and a car they will not take her back. It is further alleged that the intimation of such incident was given to the police, when no action was taken the instant complaint case was filed by opposite party no. 2 under section 498A, 323, 504, 506 IPC and 3/4 D.P. Act. Thereafter, the statements of witnesses were recorded under section 200 and 202 Cr.P.C. In her statement recorded under section 200 Cr.P.C. the opposite party no. 2 has alleged that the applicant no. 2 is the first wife of the applicant no. 1 and she was residing with her in the same house. However, it has been stated that at the time of marriage the applicant no. 1 had misrepresented that his first wife had died. It is further stated that she did not raise any objection and did not file any case for such misrepresentation as she thought that she and the applicant no. 2 will live together as sisters and wives of applicant no. 1. The aforesaid averments have also been supported by the witnesses Dharmraj and Nirmala Devi and both of them had categorically admitted that till four years from the date of marriage i.e. 27.04.2012, there was no dispute and there was no demand of any sought by the applicants herein, however the demands have been raised by the applicants after four years of marriage. Admittedly as per the complaint, the date of marriage is 27.04.2012 and the date when opposite party no. 2 was finally thrown out from the house is 17.09.2016 thereby till the end of the April, 2016 there was no dispute of any kind with regard to the dowry and there was no harassment for dowry. Subsequent thereto the allegations of demand of dowry has been made.

4. Learned counsel for the applicants has submitted that since from the facts, admittedly the opposite party no. 2 is the second wife of the applicant herein, therefore, she is not competent to maintain the proceedings against the applicant for the offences under sections 498A IPC. So far as the allegations of demand of dowry and torture is concerned i.e. from the facts as alleged there was no demand of dowry or harassment up to four years of marriage and subsequent thereto the allegations have been made with regard to demand of dowry. Since the marriage of opposite party no. 2 with the applicant no. 1 was admittedly a nullity, therefore, neither the offence under section 498A IPC nor the offence u/s 3/4 Dowry Prohibition Act would be attracted in the instant case. Even if the demand has been made, the demand would not be said to have been made in connection with the marriage as the marriage itself is a nullity, therefore, learned counsel for the applicant seeks quashing of the entire proceedings relying upon the judgment of co-ordinate Bench of this Court vide order dated 28.03.2024 passed in Application U/s 482 No. 38288 of 2023 (Akhilesh Keshari and others Vs. State of U.P. and Another).

5. Per contra learned counsel for the opposite party no. 2 submits that in her statement under section 200 Cr.P.C. the opposite party no. 2 has categorically stated that the applicant no. 1 had misrepresented her and on such misrepresentation she has solemnized the marriage with applicant no. 1 and now her life has been spoiled by the applicant no. 1 and as per the allegations as made in the complaint she has been beaten up by all the applicants, therefore, the proceedings against the applicants so far as the other offences under sections 323, 504, 506 IPC are maintainable against the applicants and cannot be quashed.

6. Learned AGA also submits that from the facts of the case since it was a second marriage the offences u/s 498A IPC as well as from the allegations as made the provisions of Dowry Prohibition Act would not be attracted in the instant case.

7. Having heard the rival submissions as made by learned counsel for the parties, this Court has carefully gone through from the record of the case, from the facts as have been stated herein above it is crystal clear that it was the second marriage of opposite party no. 2 and there was no dispute between the applicant no. 1 and opposite party no. 2 till four years of such marriage and the opposite party no. 2 was fully aware about her second marriage which is apparent from her own statement recorded u/s 200 Cr.P.C. that despite knowing the fact that it is her second marriage she continued to live without raising any objection from such marriage. In view thereof since the marriage of applicant no. 1 and the opposite party no. 2 was a nullity the provisions of Section 498A IPC would not be attracted, the aforesaid view is fully supported from the law laid down by the Hon'ble Apex Court in Shivcharan Lal Verma v. State of M.P (2007) 15 SCC 369. The view taken in Shivcharan Lal Verma, has also reiterated by the Apex Court in P. Shivakumar and others Vs. State Criminal Appeal Nos. 1404-1405 of 2012. In Shivcharan Lal

Verma (supra) the Apex Court has held as under :-

"This matter had not been taken up for hearing for this length of time as the judgment of this Court holding Section 306 of the I.P.C. to be unconstitutional, was under re-consideration by the constitution bench. The constitution bench finally disposed of the matter in criminal case No. 274 of 1984 and batch and set aside the earlier judgment of this Court and held that Section 306 is constitutionally valid. In view of the aforesaid constitution bench decision, two questions arise for consideration in this appeal. One, whether the prosecution under Section 498A can at all be attracted since the marriage with Mohini itself was null and void, the same having been performed during the lifetime of Kalindi. Second, whether the conviction under Section 306 could at all be sustained in the absence of any positive material to hold that Mohini committed suicide because of any positive act on the part of either Shiv Charan or Kalindi.

There may be considerable force in the argument of Mr. Khanduja, learned counsel for the appellant so far as conviction under Section 498A is concerned, inasmuch as the alleged marriage with Mohini during the subsistence of valid marriage with Kalindi is null and void. We, therefore, set aside the conviction and sentence under Section 498A of the I.P.C. But so far as the conviction under Section 306 is concerned, the evidence of the three witnesses already referred to, make it absolutely clear that it is on account of torture by both Kalindi and Shiv Charan that Mohini committed suicide inside the house of Shiv Charan in another room. The learned sessions judge as well as the High Court have appreciated the evidence of the aforesaid three witnesses and on going through the evidence of these three witnesses, we do not find any error committed by the courts below either in the matter of appreciation or in their approach relating to the evidence in question. We, therefore, do not find any infirmity with the conviction of the appellants under Section 306 of the I.P.C. So far as the sentence is concerned, they have been sentenced to undergo rigorous imprisonment for seven years but having regard to the facts and circumstances of this case, we reduce the sentence to five years. This appeal is accordingly disposed of. Bail bonds of the appellants would stand cancelled, and they must surrender to undergo the remaining period of sentence."

8. And in P. Shivakumar (supra) the Apex Court has held as under:-

"Undisputedly, the marriage between the appellant No.1 and PW-1 has been found to be null and void. As such, the conviction under Section 498-A I.P.C. would not be sustainable in view of the judgment of this Court in the case Shivcharan Lal Verma's case supra. So far as the conviction under Sections 3 and 4 of the Dowry Prohibition Act is concerned, the learned trial judge, by elaborate reasoning, arrived at after appreciation of evidence, has found that the prosecution has failed to prove the case beyond a reasonable doubt. In an appeal/revision, the High Court could have set aside the order of acquittal only if the findings as recorded by the trial court were perverse or impossible."

9. In view of the categorical finding recorded by the Hon'ble Apex Court the proceedings under section 498A IPC by the second wife is not maintainable. So far as the proceedings under section 3/4 D.P. Act is concerned, it would be relevant to take note of the provisions of section 2 of the Dowry Prohibition Act which reads as follows:-

"2. Definition of "dowry".- In this Act, "dowry" means any property or valuable security given or agreed to be given either directly or indirectly-

(a) by one party to a marriage to the other party to the marriage; or

(b) by the parents of either party to a marriage or by any other person, to either party to the marriage or to any other person, at or before [or any time after the marriage][in connection with the marriage of the said parties, but does not include] dower or mahr in the case of persons to whom the Muslim Personal Law (shariat) applies."

10. From the plain reading of the aforesaid provision the dowry means any property or valuable security given or "agreed to be given" in connection with the marriage of the parties.

11. However, in the entire complaint the allegations of demand of dowry which have been made that has neither given nor agreed to have been given, therefore, the considered opinion of this Court the provision of section 3/4 Dowry Prohibition Act would also not attract in the instant case. So far as the allegations of harassment and torture are there with regard to the same it would be relevant that there is no specific allegation, and only general and vague allegations have been made by opposite party no. 2 without there being any specific issue, who actually and when had assaulted the opposite party no. 2, therefore, in the considered opinion of the Court offence u/s 323, 504, 506 IPC are also not attracted in the instant case.

12. In view thereof the instant application is allowed and the entire proceeding of the instant case are hereby quashed.

1. Heard Sri Mithilesh Kumar Shukla, learned counsel for applicant and Sri Rajiv Chaddha (complainant in person) and Sri Rakesh Kumar Mishra, learned A.G.A. for State.

2. Applicant has approached this Court to quash a charge-sheet dated 28.01.2019 under Section 406 I.P.C, Police Station- Kidwai Nagar, District- Kanpur Nagar (arising out of Case Crime No.344 of 2017), cognizance as well as summoning order dated 08.02.2019 passed in Criminal Case No. 2330 of 2019, pending before the Court of A.C.M.M, Court No.-7, Kanpur Nagar.

3. Facts of present case are unfortunate, that two real brothers are at loggerheads and their relation became so inimical that after death of their father, they are now entangled in present criminal proceeding. The complainant, an Advocate, has alleged that applicant, his elder brother, has committed offence of criminal breach of trust that he has not returned Rs. 2.20 lakh given to him on different dates for his business, but despite earlier repeated assurance of returning it, he after death of their father, refused to return it.

4. The complainant has also alleged that on basis of an alleged Will, applicant has not only opened a joint account with his father but after his death, he withdrew money without his consent. An FIR was lodged by the complainant against his elder brother i.e. applicant for above referred offence on 12.11.2017, wherein after investigation, a charge-sheet was filed on 28.01.2019, for an offence under Section 406 I.P.C., only for allegation that applicant has not returned Rs.2.20 lakh. The other allegations were not found to be true. In this regard, 'brief facts of case' as mentioned in charge-sheet at its serial No. 16, being relevant are reproduced hereinafter :-

5. On above referred charge-sheet, cognizance of offence was taken and a case

6. The applicant has challenged the above referred charge-sheet, cognizance as well as summoning order in present application filed under Section 482 Cr.P.C., which is pending for last four years. During proceedings of present case, at a later stage, since both parties, being real brothers, have shown readiness to negotiate following order dated 21.02.2024 was passed :-

“Heard Sri Mithlesh Kumar Shukla, learned counsel for the applicant, Sri Rajiv Chadda, opposite party no.2, in person, who is an Advocate of this Court and Sri Vijay Kumar assisted by Sri Ajay Kumar Singh, learned AGA for the State.

This matter was fixed for hearing in chamber today.

Applicant and opposite party no.2 are real brothers and they are present in Court today. On the request of both the parties, matter was heard today.

Some dispute with regard to the Will executed by their father arose between them. In the negotiation held between the parties through learned counsel for the parties assisted by learned AGA, they arrived at an amicable settlement of the dispute to be reduced in writing and to be filed before this Court by 02.04.2024. It is also agreed upon between the parties that the applicant shall also consult his sister Mrs. Priti Kapoor, who is presently residing in Agra. The applicant and opposite party no.2 shall extend their No Objection Certificates in continuation to the arrangement of the house situated at Preetam Nagar, Prayagraj as well as Kidwai Nagar, Kanpur Nagar, so that names of the applicant and opposite party no.2 may be mutated in the records of the respective Municipal Corporations.

So far as the payment of amount as mentioned in the Will executed by the father of the parties is concerned, as per negotiation, the settled amount is Rs.4.95 lakhs for which a provision is made in paragraph 5 of the Will dated 26.5.2016 by Late V.N. Chadda, former ADJ plus Rs.5.00 lakhs, as settlement amount, total of which comes to Rs.9.95 lakhs. The parties have agreed that Rs.2.20 lakhs has to be deducted from the total amount, which is already accepted by opposite party no.2. Now, opposite party no.2 is entitled for Rs.7.75 lakhs out of which, Rs.4.95 lakhs is lying in the Bank which, he would receive after completing necessary formalities with the Bank. Rest amount of Rs.2.80 lakhs shall be paid by the applicant through a Demand Draft before this Court within 30 days from today through his counsel, Sri M K Shukla.

So far as transaction of shares, a SBBL gun and a Rifle of the father of the applicant and opposite party no.2 is concerned, that will be settled between them to which, opposite party no.2 is entitled to receive. The applicant and the sister of the parties shall also give NOCs to opposite party no.2 to get his name entered according to the provisions of the Arms Act.

A Wagon-R Car, bearing Registration No.UP 78 CK 8403, shall stand transferred according to the arrangement made in the Will and opposite party no.2 shall provide NOC in favour of the applicant.

Put up this case on 02.04.2024 at 3:30 pm in Chamber.

Interim order, if any, is extended till the next date of listing.

In view of the aforesaid proposed agreement, sister of the applicant and opposite party no.2, Mrs Priti Kapoor, may make herself present before this Court on the next date, if so desired.

However, it is made clear that the terms and conditions mentioned above, are drawn on the basis of the negotiations made in the presence of the applicant and opposite party no.2 as well as their respective counsels. Therefore, in case of any failure for agreement upon the aforesaid conditions, no right of any party shall be prejudiced."

7. Thereafter, parties were granted time to finalise negotiation and, therefore, present matter was adjourned on various dates i.e. 04.07.2024, 02.04.2024, 09.04.2024, 09.05.2024, 22.05.2024 and lastly on 20.08.2024, however, when parties have not able to reach to any mutual agreement, the Court decided to hear it finally. During final hearing also, the Court tried to mediate, however, unfortunately, adamant approach of parties, particularly of the complainant, no final agreement could arrive and matter was heard finally.

8. Sri Mithilesh Kumar Shukla, learned counsel for applicant has submitted that charge-sheet was filed only for offence under Section 406 I.P.C. on an allegation that complainant has paid Rs.2.20 lakh on different dates to applicant i.e. his elder brother for business purpose, however, despite assurance same was not returned. All other allegations about withdrawing money from a joint account by the applicant by way of cheating and of a forged Will were found false.

9. Learned counsel also submitted that during negotiations, the applicant has returned the said amount (Rs.2.20 lakh) to the complainant, which has not been seriously disputed by the complainant appearing in person. Learned counsel by referring the contents of Section 406 I.P.C. submitted that there was no entrustment, rather if allegations are considered to be true, it would be a commercial dispute, i.e. a civil dispute. The complainant has pointed it with colours of criminality.

10. The complainant has not stated during investigation that money was given as an entrustment. There was no written agreement between parties. Learned counsel also submitted that summoning order as referred has not assigned any reasons that there are sufficient grounds to proceed.

11. The above submissions are opposed by Sri Rajiv Chaddha, the complainant appearing in person. He submitted that applicant has committed cheating also. The alleged Will is a document of fraud, however, failed to convince the Court on basis of above referred brief facts of charge-sheet as well as evidence collected during investigation. The only allegation which was found sufficient to file charge-sheet was that amount of Rs.2.20 lakh was not returned to complainant.

12. The allegation of cheating was not even found sufficient to file charge-sheet. The complainant has also not filed any civil litigation to challenge the Will. The argument of unfair investigation could not be taken in present application and for that there may be an alternative remedy.

13. In order to appreciate the rival submission, I have also carefully perused the case diary, provided by the complainant that applicant has provided relevant documents such as copy of the Will and details of opening of joint account. The Investigating Officer has also considered the report submitted by concerned Bank that it was a joint account duly signed by applicant and his father and operation of account was 'either of survival', therefore, there is no error committed during investigation for non-filing the charge-sheet for offence of cheating.

14. Sri Rakesh Kumar Mishra, learned A.G.A. for State has supported the charge-sheet but has not denied the ingredients of Section 406 I.P.C., in given facts may not be made out.

15. In aforesaid circumstances, the Court proceeds to consider whether on basis of material available, offence of criminal breach of trust would be made out or not. In this regard, following paragraphs of a judgment passed by Supreme Court in Deepak Gaba and others Vs. State of U.P. and another (2023) 3 SCC 423, being relevant are reproduced hereinafter :-

"15. For Section 405IPC to be attracted, the following have to be established:

(a) the accused was entrusted with property, or entrusted with dominion over property;

(b) the accused had dishonestly misappropriated or converted to their own use that property, or dishonestly used or disposed of that property or wilfully suffer any other person to do so; and

(c) such misappropriation, conversion, use or disposal should be in violation of any direction of law prescribing the mode in which such trust is to be discharged, or of any legal contract which the person has made, touching the discharge of such trust.

16. Thus, criminal breach of trust would, inter alia, mean using or disposing of the property by a person who is entrusted with or otherwise has dominion. Such an act must not only be done dishonestly, but also in violation of any direction of law or any contract express or implied relating to carrying out the trust. [Sudhir Shantilal Mehta v. CBI, (2009) 8 SCC 1 : (2009) 3 SCC (Cri) 646].

17. However, in the instant case, materials on record fail to satisfy the ingredients of Section 405IPC. The complaint does not directly refer to the ingredients of Section 405IPC and does not state how and in what manner, on facts, the requirements are satisfied. Pre-summoning evidence is also lacking and suffers on this account. On these aspects, the summoning order is equally quiet, albeit, it states that "a forged demand of Rs 6,37,252.16p had been raised by JIPL, which demand is not due in terms of statements by Shubhankar P. Tomar and Sakshi Tilak Chand". A mere wrong demand or claim would not meet the conditions specified by Section 405IPC in the absence of evidence to establish entrustment, dishonest misappropriation, conversion, use or disposal, which action should be in violation of any direction of law, or legal contract touching the discharge of trust. Hence, even if Respondent 2 complainant is of the opinion that the monetary demand or claim is incorrect and not payable, given the failure to prove the requirements of Section 405IPC, an offence under the same section is not constituted. In the absence of factual allegations which satisfy the ingredients of the offence under Section 405IPC, a mere dispute on monetary demand of Rs 6,37,252.16p, does not attract criminal prosecution under Section 406IPC.

16. As referred above, for purpose of Section 406 Cr.P.C., the requirement for commission of an offence of criminal breach of trust is that there must be entrustment with property, which was dishonestly misappropriate or converted to his own use and it must be in violation of any direction of law or any legal contract express or implied, however, in present case, neither there was an 'entrustment' in such sense nor there was any proof that it was 'dishonestly misappropriate' nor there was any evidence that such act was in violation of any legal contract express or implied, therefore, on basis of material, none of ingredient of offence of criminal breach of trust is made out.

17. The Court at this stage, also takes note that alleged amount has already been returned during pendency of this application, when parties were trying to negotiate. The proceedings appears to be initiated by the complainant only to put pressure on his elder brother to negotiate since there is a Will wherein the complainant is not a beneficiary.

18. The said Will has been alleged to be a creature of fraud but no civil proceeding has been still initiated by complainant. The facts of present case are not only squarely covered by facts as well as on law as observed in Deepak Gaba (supra) but it is a fit case to invoke inherent jurisdiction in terms of paragraph 102(7) of State of Haryana v.

Bhajan Lal, 1992 Supp (1) SCC 335 : 1992 SCC (Cri) 426 that present criminal proceedings was initiated by the complainant only for purpose of wrecking vengeance. For reference para 102(7) of Bhajan Lal (supra) is reproduced hereinafter:

"(7) Where a criminal proceeding is manifestly attended with mala fide and/or where the proceeding is maliciously instituted with an ulterior motive for wreaking vengeance on the accused and with a view to spite him due to private and personal grudge."

19. In the aforesaid circumstances, not only the ingredients of Section 406 I.P.C. are not made out but proceedings are also creature of malafides and were initiated only to harass the applicant by giving cloak of a criminal case to a dispute which was essentially of a civil nature, therefore, entire proceedings arising out of charge-sheet dated 28.01.2019 under Section 406 I.P.C., Police Station- Kidwai Nagar, District- Kanpur Nagar (arising out of Case Crime No. 344 of 2017) as well as cognizance and summoning order dated 08.02.2019 passed by the Court of A.C.M.M., Court No.-7, Kanpur Nagar are hereby quashed and the complainant is directed to pay Rs.25,000/- as a cost of litigation to the applicant within four weeks and a proof of it be placed on record of this case.

20. The Court deems fit to conclude this judgment with a parting remark that we always cherish sacrifice of the Bharat (भारत), younger brother of the Bhagwan Shri Ram but the complainant for his conduct towards his elder brother could be termed as a 'Kalyugi Bharat (कल्युगी भारत)'.

21. Accordingly, Application is allowed.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Saurabh Lavania, J.)

1. Heard counsel for the applicant and Sri Nirmal Kumar Pandey, learned A.G.A. for the State.

2. By means of the present application, the applicant has assailed the pending criminal proceedings against him arising out of Case Crime No. 89/2023, under Section 323, 364, 143, 147, 341, 342, 427 IPC, Police Station Hasanganj, District Unnao and summoning order dated 28.06.2023, passed by Additional Chief Judicial Magistrate, Court No. 3, Unnao whereby the applicant has been summoned under Section 323, 147, 143 IPC. The relevant portion of the order dated 28.06.2023 reads as under:-

"पत्रावली प्रस्तुत हुई आज दिनांक 28.06.2023 को तलबशुदा अभियुक्तगण अभय सिंह यादव, आदेश यादव, ललित यादव, जरिये वी०सी०आर० न्यायालय के समक्ष पेश किया गया। विवेचक/ उपनिरीक्षक श्री अरविन्द कुमार सरोज द्वारा उपरोक्त अभियोग में विवेचनोपरान्त पर्याप्त साक्ष्य पाये जाने के फलस्वरूप आरोप-पत्र के साथ अभियोग दैनिकियों तथा विवेचक द्वारा विवेचना के दौरान संकलित पत्र अभियोग दैनिकियों एवं संलग्नक दैनिकियों एवं संलग्नक प्रपत्रों का सम्यक परिशीलन किया गया जिसके आधार पर मु०अ०सं०- 89/2023 अभियुक्तगण अभय सिंह यादव, आदेश यादव, ललित यादव, सतीश के विरुद्ध धारा- 323, 364, 143, 147, 341, 341, 427 भा.दं.सं. तथा अभियुक्तगण हर्षवर्धन सिंह व पियूष सिंह उर्फ बाबी यादव के विरुद्ध धारा- 323, 147, 143 भा.दं.सं में संज्ञान लिये जाने के आधार पर्याप्त हैं।"

3. The applicant has assailed the impugned order on the sole ground that the applicant was not present at the situs/ place of crime, as appears from the submissions advanced by the counsel for the applicant, as also from the averments made in Para 12 and 13 of the affidavit filed in support of the application. The same are extracted hereunder:-

"12. That being a matter of fact the petitioner was not there at point of Offence at Unnao and was there at Lucknow at his Rented Accommodation Near Budheshwar Temple P.S. Para Dist. Lucknow.

13. That the Petitioner has also stated his version before the investigating officer by means of the Clarification Letter and also has handed over a Pen drive Containing the CCTV Footage of him Being at the Residence at Lucknow along with Photographs depicting the same. Copy of the Letter and Photographs are annexed as Annexure No. 6 to this petition."

4. From the aforesaid, it is apparent that the case of the applicant is based on the plea of 'Alibi'.

5. Sri Nirmal Kumar Pandey, learned A.G.A. for the State also stated that the plea of 'Alibi' is a question of fact to be entertained and decided only after evidence of the prosecution takes its evidence to prove the incident, and the participation of the accused as well.

6. The Latin word 'Alibi' means 'elsewhere'. Plea of 'Alibi' is a rule of recognized in Section 11 of the Evidence Act. The plea of Alibi disputes the case of prosecution. Thus plea of 'Alibi' is question of fact. It is settled law that when an accused raises plea of 'Alibi', the burden is on accused to prove the same. A plea of 'Alibi' is a question of fact which is required to be proved by the accused at the stage of trial to show that he/ she was elsewhere and was falsely implicated and the accused is also required to prove the same by adducing appropriate evidence.

7. Under Section 103 of the Evidence Act the burden rests on the accused who raises the plea of 'Alibi'. Section 103 of the Evidence Act provides:—

"103. The burden of proof as to any particular fact lies on that person who wishes the court to believe in its existence, unless it is provided by any law that the proof of that fact shall lie on any particular person.

Illustrations

(b) B wishes the court to believe that, at the time in question, he was elsewhere. He must prove it."

8. In Binay Kumar Singh v. State of Bihar [(1997) 1 SCC 283], the Hon'ble Apex Court observed as under:

"23. The Latin word alibi means "elsewhere" and that word is used for convenience when an accused takes recourse to a defence line that when the occurrence took place he was so far away from the place of occurrence that it is extremely improbable that he would have participated in the crime. It is a basic law that in a criminal case, in which the accused is alleged to have inflicted physical injury to another person;

(i) the burden is on the prosecution to prove that the accused was present at the scene and has participated in the crime.

(ii) The burden would not be lessened by the mere fact that the accused has adopted the defence of alibi.

(iii) The plea of the accused in such cases need be considered only when the burden has been discharged by the prosecution satisfactorily.

(iv) But once the prosecution succeeds in discharging the burden it is incumbent on the accused, who adopts the plea of alibi, to prove it with absolute certainty so as to exclude the possibility of his presence at the place of occurrence.

(v) When the presence of the accused at the scene of occurrence has been established satisfactorily by the prosecution through reliable evidence, normally the court would be slow to believe any counter-evidence to the effect that he was elsewhere when the occurrence happened.

9. In Rajendra Singh v. State of U.P., (2007) 7 SCC 378 the Hon'ble Apex Court has held as under:—

"8. That apart, the plea taken by the respondent Kapil Dev Singh in his petition under Section 482 CrPC was that of alibi. Section 103 of the Evidence Act says that the burden of proof as to any particular fact lies on that person who wishes the court to believe in its existence, unless it is proved by any law that the proof of that fact lie on any particular person.

The second illustration to Section 103 reads as under:

"B wishes the Court to believe that at the time in question, he was elsewhere. He must prove it."

This provision makes it obvious that the burden of establishing the plea of alibi set up by Respondent 2 in the petition filed by him under Section 482 CrPC before the High Court lay squarely upon him. There is hardly any doubt regarding this legal proposition. (See Gurcharan Singh v. State of Punjab [AIR 1956 SC 460 : 1956 Cri LJ 827], Chandrika Prasad Singh v. State of Bihar [(1972) 4 SCC 140 : AIR 1972 SC 109] and State of Haryana v. Sher Singh [(1981) 2 SCC 300 : 1981 SCC (Cri) 421 : AIR 1981 SC 1021].) This could be done by leading evidence in the trial and not by filing some affidavits before the High Court. In such a case the prosecution would have got an opportunity to cross-examine those witnesses and demonstrate that their testimony was not correct. Learned counsel for the appellant has submitted that in fact no affidavits were filed in the High Court but what was filed were copies of two or three affidavits which were given by some persons before the Superintendent of Police, Allahabad. Thus, there was absolutely no legal evidence in support of the plea of alibi of Kapil Dev Singh, which the High Court chose to rely upon and accept for the purpose of quashing the order passed by the learned Sessions Judge.

13. Having considered the submissions made by learned counsel for the parties, we are of the opinion that the statements of the witnesses under Section 161 CrPC being wholly inadmissible in evidence could not at all be taken into consideration. The High Court relied upon wholly inadmissible evidence to set aside the order passed by the learned Sessions

Judge. That apart, no finding on a plea of alibi can be recorded by the High Court for the first time in a petition under Section 482 CrPC. As mentioned above, the burden to prove the plea of alibi lay upon the accused which he could do by leading evidence in the trial and not by filing some affidavits or statements purported to have been recorded under Section 161 CrPC. The whole procedure adopted by the High Court is clearly illegal and cannot be sustained."

10. In Shaikh Sattar v. State of Maharashtra [(2010) 8 SCC 430], the Hon'ble Apex court has observed as under:-

"35. Undoubtedly, the burden of establishing the plea of alibi lay upon the appellant. The appellant herein has miserably failed to bring on record any facts or circumstances which would make the plea of his absence even probable, let alone, being proved beyond reasonable doubt. The plea of alibi had to be proved with absolute certainty so as to completely exclude the possibility of the presence of the appellant in the rented premises at the relevant time. When a plea of alibi is raised by an accused it is for the accused to establish the said plea by positive evidence which has not been led in the present case. We may also notice here at this stage the proposition of law laid down in Gurpreet Singh v. State of Haryana [(2002) 8 SCC 18 : 2003 SCC (Cri) 186] as follows : (SCC p. 27, para 20)

"20. ... This plea of alibi stands disbelieved by both the courts and since the plea of alibi is a question of fact and since both the courts concurrently found that fact against the appellant, the accused, this Court in our view, cannot on an appeal by special leave go behind the abovenoted concurrent finding of fact."

13. It is the prosecution to prove its case by adducing evidence. The petitioner is at liberty to take the plea of alibi as his defence and to establish the same with positive evidence. Before prosecution adduce evidence to establish the incident, and to prove participation of the accused, there is no scope for entertaining a defence plea of alibi."

11. From the observations made by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the judgments referred above, what appears is as under:

(i) The prosecution has to prove its case including the role of the accused in that incident.

(ii) Only when prosecution succeeds in discharging the burden by establishing its case including participation of the accused in the crime/incident, the plea of 'Alibi' put up by the accused needs to be considered.

(iii) The burden is on the prosecution to prove that the accused was present at the scene and has participated in the crime.

(iv) The burden would not be lessened by the mere fact that the accused has adopted the defence of 'Alibi'.

(v) The plea of 'Alibi' of the accused in such cases need be considered only when the burden has been discharged by the prosecution satisfactorily.

(v) It is incumbent on the accused, who adopts the plea of alibi, to prove it with absolute certainty so as to exclude the possibility of his presence at the place of occurrence.

(vii) When the presence of the accused at the scene of occurrence has been established satisfactorily by the prosecution through reliable evidence, normally the court would be slow to believe any counter-evidence to the effect that he was elsewhere when the occurrence happened.

(viii) If the evidence adduced by the accused is of such a quality and of such a standard that the court may entertain some reasonable doubt regarding his presence at the scene when the occurrence took place, the accused would, no doubt, be entitled to the benefit of that reasonable doubt. For that purpose, it would be a sound proposition to be laid down that, in such circumstances, the burden on the accused is rather heavy.

(ix) Strict proof is required for establishing the plea of 'Alibi'. [vide: Dudh Nath Pandey v. State of U.P. (1981) 2 SCC 166 : 1981 SCC (Cri) 379; State of Maharashtra v. Narsingrao Gangaram Pimple (1984) 1 SCC 446 : 1984 SCC (Cri) 109 : AIR 1984 SC 63]"].

12. Section 482 of CrPC (Now repealed) and Section 528 of BNSS, enforced w.e.f. 01.07.2024, are pari mareria. This Court in exercise of jurisdiction under the said provisions should not meticulously examine the evidence filed along with charge-sheet by the Investigating Officer, as the same is an issue relating to appreciation of evidence and the same can be gone into by the concerned court during trial when the entire evidence is adduced by the parties. The power exercised by this Court is discretionary in nature. This Court in exercise of its inherent powers cannot go into the disputed question of facts. In exercise of power under the said provisions, this court is required to consider the case set up by the prosecution/complainant for coming to the conclusion as to whether the criminal proceedings are required to be quashed at the initial stage. The accused person during trial is required to place and prove/ establish its defence in accordance with the law of evidence. The defence of the accused is required to be taken note of in the trial by the trial Court. At this stage, a mini trial is not permissible. At the stage of framing of charge as also while exercising power under the said provision, the material/ evidence collected during investigation by the Investigating Officer and in the case of complaint the documents and evidence produced by the complainant before the court concerned can only be considered. [See: Mohd. Allauddin Khan Vs. The State of Bihar And Others (2019) 6 SCC 107; R. P. Kapur Vs. State of Punjab AIR 1960 SC 866; State of Haryana And Others Vs. Ch. Bhajan Lal And Others 1992 Supp. (1) SCC 355; State of Bihar & Anr. Versus P. P. Sharma & Anr.; 1992 Supp (1) SCC 222; Zandu Pharmaceuticals Works Ltd. & Ors. Versus Mohammad Shariful Haque & Anr.; 2005 (1) SCC 122; M. N. Ojha Vs. Alok Kumar Srivastava; 2009 (9) SCC 682; Rajeev Kourav Vs. Baisahab & Others (2020) 3 SCC 317; State of U.P. Vs. Akhil Sharda & Others 2022 SCC OnLine SC; Salib alias Shalu alias Salim Vs. State of U.P. and Others]. The defence which is irrefutable/ indisputable/ undeniable/ unquestionable/ irrefragable/ beyond suspicion may be considered in exceptional circumstances in the peculiar facts of a given case by this Court while exercising its power/ jurisdiction under the said provisions. [See: Harshendra Kumar D. Vs. Rebatilata Koley and Others, (2011) 3 SCC 351; G. N. Mishra And Another Vs. Smt. Divya Awasthi And Another, MANU/UP/1879/2012].

13. Learned counsel for the applicant has not shown any material to establish that the evidence, which to the view of this Court is not beyond suspicion, relied upon in this application was verified by the Investigating Officer during investigation. In this view of the matter, the same cannot be considered at this stage.

14. Having considered the aforesaid facts as also the observations made by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the judgments, referred above, this Court is of the view that no interference is required in this case on the basis of plea of 'Alibi' taken by the applicant.

15. Accordingly, the present application is dismissed. No order as to costs.

16. The Court records the valuable assistance given by Ms. Urmish Shankar, Research Associate, attached with me in drafting this judgment and finding out case laws applicable in the present case.

List of Cases cited:

1. Rosy & anr. Vs St. of Kerela, reported in 2000 (2) SCC 230
2. Dilip Kumar Basu Vs St. of W.B. & ors. reported in 2015 (8) SCC 744
3. Bachanan Devi & anr. Vs Nagar Nigam, Gorakhpur & anr. reported in 2008 (12) SCC 372
4. Moti Lal & ors. Vs St. of U.P. & anr.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Abdul Moin, J.)

1. Heard.

2. Under challenge is the order dated 09.07.2024 passed by learned Additional Sessions Judge / Special Judge, P.C. Act, Lucknow in Criminal Revision No. 10 of 2023 in re: Vidya Sagar and others vs State of U.P. and others, a copy of which is annexure 2 to the application, by which the revision filed by the applicants has been rejected. Also under challenge is the order dated 28.05.2019, a copy of which is annexure 1 to the application, whereby the applicants have been summoned for offences under Sections 323, 504 and 506 I.P.C.

3. Only two grounds which are raised in order to challenge the said orders are (a) of nine persons who are named in the application under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. only four persons have been summoned and (b) prior to summoning the provisions of Section 204 (2) Cr.P.C. has not been followed.

4. No other ground has been urged.

5. So far as ground (a) is concerned suffice to states that it is the discretion of court to summon any person who is found to be prima facie involved in an offence. Merely because various persons may have been named in an application filed under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. it cannot be construed that all persons named in application should be summoned.

6. Thus, the ground (a) is rejected.

7. So far as ground (b) is concerned i.e. the list of witnesses was not indicated which appears in terms of Section 204(2) Cr.P.C. that no summon or warrant shall be issued against the accused under Section 204(1) Cr.P.C. until a list of prosecution witnesses are filed, the said ground may also not detain Court considering the law laid down by this Court at Allahabad in order dated 14.09.2022 passed in APPLICATION U/S 482 No. - 19772 of 2022 in re: Moti Lal And 2 Others vs State of U.P. and Another wherein this Court has held as under:

"13. Although, in Section 204 (2) Cr.P.C. the word "shall" is used but it does not mean that whenever there is a word "shall" has been used under any Act in respect of a provision then the provision will be mandatory one.

14. The Apex Court in the case of Bachanan Devi and another Vs. Nagar

Nigam, Gorakhpur and another reported in 2008 (12) SCC 372 observed as:

"14. ".....Mere use of word 'may' or 'shall' is not conclusive. The question whether a particular provision of a statute is directory or mandatory cannot be resolved by laying down any general rule of universal application. Such controversy has to be decided by ascertaining the intention of the Legislature and not by looking at the language in which the provision is clothed. And for finding out the legislative intent, the Court must examine the scheme of the Act, purpose and object underlying the provision, consequences likely to ensue or inconvenience likely to result if the provision is read one way or the other and many more considerations relevant to the issue."

15. The Apex Court in the case of Dilip Kumar Basu Vs. State of W.B. and others reported in 2015 (8) SCC 744 again observed that mere use of word "may" or "shall" is not conclusive and it has to be decided according to the object and scheme of the Act and the contest and back ground against which the word has been used.

16. Therefore, from the above judgments of the Apex Court, it is apparent that on the basis of mere word "may" or "shall", it cannot be conclusively held that "may" means directory and "shall" denotes mandatory provision rather it depends upon various factors, namely, object and scheme of the Act, the context and background against which the word "may" and "shall" has used and purpose and advantageous sought to be achieved by using these words.

17. No doubt, in Section 204(2) Cr.P.C. the word "shall" has been used by legislature but whether word 'shall' used in section 204(2) Cr.P.C. is mandatory or directory it can be decided only after considering the legislative intent coupled with the fact that whether any prejudice was caused to the accused by its violation. If any prejudice can be caused to accused by violation of section 204(2) Cr.P.C. then the provision is mandatory. □

18. The legislative intent behind the provision of section 204(2) Cr.P.C. is only to provide the list of witnesses to the accused so as he can effectively defend himself during trial and this requirement can very well be fulfilled by the complainant at the time of appearance of accused before the trial court pursuant to the summons issued to him. Therefore, from the legislative intent provision of Section 204(2) Cr.P.C. appears to be non-mandatory.

19. Further, as complainant can provide the list of the witnesses to the accused at the time of his appearance before the trial court, therefore, it can not be said that non-compliance of the provisions of Section 204(2) Cr.P.C. causes prejudice to him as □ after obtaining the list of witnesses from complainant accused can effectively defend himself during trial. Therefore, from this angle too provision of Section 204(2) Cr.P.C. appears to be directory in nature.

20. The Apex Court in the case of □ Rosy and another Vs. State of Kerela, reported in 2000 (2) SCC 230 in para-20 deduced certain principles with regard to Sections 200, 202 and 204 Cr.P.C. as under:

"20. Hence, what emerges from the above discussion is :

I. (a) Under Section 200 Magistrate has jurisdiction to take cognizance of an offence on the complaint after examining upon oath the complainant and the witnesses present;

(b) When the complaint is made in writing by a public servant acting or purporting to act in discharge of his official duties, the Magistrate need not examine the complainant and the witnesses.

(c) In such case Court may issue process or dismiss the complaint.

II. (a) The Magistrate instead of following the procedure stated above may, if he thinks fit, postpone the issue of process and hold inquiry for the purpose of deciding whether or not there is sufficient ground for proceeding against the person ac-cused. Such inquiry can be held by him or by the police officer or by other person authorised by him.

(b) However, where it appears to the Magistrate that the offence complained of is triable exclusively by the court of Sessions, the direction of investigation by the police officer is not permissible and he is required to hold inquiry by himself. During that inquiry he may decide to examine the witnesses on oath. At that stage, proviso further gives mandatory directions that he shall call upon the complainant to produce all his witnesses and examine them on oath. The reason obviously is that in a private complaint, which is required to be committed to the Sessions Court for trial, it would safeguard the interest of the accused and he would not be taken by surprise at the time of trial and it would reveal the version of the witnesses whose list is required to be filed by complainant under Section 204 (2) before issuance of the process,

(c) The irregularity or non-compliance thereof would not vitiate the further proceeding in all cases. A person complaining of such irregularity should raise objection at the earliest stage and he should point out how prejudice is caused or is likely to be caused by not following the proviso. if he fails to raise such objection at the earliest stage. he is precluded from raising such objection later."

21. From the perusal of the above judgment of the Apex Court it is undoubtedly clear that mere non-compliance of the provisions of Section 204(2) Cr.P.C. would not vitiate further proceedings unless and until prejudice is caused or likely to be caused by not following the provisions."

8. From the perusal of aforesaid judgement of this Court in the case of Moti Lal (supra) which judgement has been passed after considering the judgement of Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Rosy (supra) it emerges that mere non-compliance of provisions of Section 204(2) Cr.P.C. would not vitiate further proceedings unless and until prejudice is caused in not following the provisions.

9. A perusal of the application filed by the applicants would indicate the applicants have failed to indicate prejudice that has either been caused or likely to be caused by not following the provisions of Section 204(2) Cr.P.C.

10. Further the provisions of Section 204(2) Cr.P.C. are only directory and thus unless prejudice is shown by the applicants simply on the basis of non-compliance of the aforesaid provisions neither proceedings pending against the applicants can be said to be vitiated nor summoning order can be quashed.

11. Keeping in view the aforesaid discussion, no case for interference is made out.

12. Accordingly, the application is dismissed.

Criminal Law - Indian Penal Code, 1860- Section 498-A-Criminal Procedure Code, 1973 – Section 482 – Quashing of proceedings – Scope of Section 498-A Indian Penal Code and The Dowry Prohibition Act, 1961 –

Malicious Prosecution – The applicant is a friend of the coM.P.lainant's husband, -seeks the quashing of the entire proceedings -she was neither the husband nor a relative of the husband of the coM.P.lainant- the applicant was allegedly iM.P.licated solely based on call details- showing conversations with the coM.P.lainant's husband who was a former classmate-only the husband or his relatives can be charged for subjecting a woman to cruelty-no evidence to show that the applicant conspired with the husband of the coM.P.lainant to cause harm or to further any unlawful object, such as facilitating divorce or cruelty- unnecessarily iM.P.licated due to the coM.P.lainant's suspicion about an illicit relationship-which was not supported by any evidence of wrongful conduct.-the prosecution against the applicant is malicious, proceedings quashed.

Application allowed. (E-9)

1. Heard Shri Rishabh Kumar Pandey holding brief of Shri Santosh Kumar Upadhyay, learned counsel for the applicant, Shri Ramesh Chand Yadav, learned counsel for the opposite party no. 3 and Shri Kamlesh Kumar Tripathi, learned A.G.A. for the State.

2. The instant application under section 482 Cr.P.C. has been filed seeking quashing of the entire proceedings of Criminal Case No. 11843 of 2018 (State of U.P. Vs. Naveen Kumar Verma and others) arising out of Case Crime No. 490 of 2017 under section 498-A, 506, 120-B I.P.C. and 3/4 of Dowry Prohibition Act, 1961 (in short, 'the D.P. Act'), Police Station- Civil Lines District Allahabad, pending in the court of Chief Judicial Magistrate, Allahabad as well as charge sheet No. 134 of 2018 dated 30.6.2018.

3. Learned counsel for the applicant submitted that no offence, whatsoever can be said to have been made out against the applicant herein as for the offence under section 498-A I.P.C., the accused must be either husband or relative of the husband of the victim. The applicant herein is neither the husband nor the relative of the husband of the opposite party no. 3, therefore, she is not covered within the provisions of section 498-A I.P.C. and no offence whatsoever can be said to have been made out against the applicant herein. Similarly no offence under section 3/4 of D.P. Act can be said to have been made out against the applicant as she is not a family member or remote family member of the husband of the opposite party no. 3. It is further submitted that though the applicant herein has been implicated in the instant case only on the basis of some call details according to which husband of the opposite party no. 3 and applicant were having long conversation but the fact is that the husband of the opposite party no. 3 and the applicant were classmate and are good friends and the instant F.I.R. has been lodged only on the basis of suspicion on the part of the opposite party no. 3. No overt act has been alleged against the applicant except that she was in the talking terms with the husband of the opposite party no. 3. Similarly no offence under section 120-B I.P.C. would be made out against the applicant herein.

4. Per contra, learned counsel for the opposite party no. 3 submitted that it is only because of the applicant, the matrimonial life of the opposite party no. 3 has been spoiled and she has been ignored by her husband and various allegations have been made against the applicant and the husband of the opposite party no. 3 and a divorce petition has been filed by the husband of the opposite party no. 3 due to intervention by the applicant herein. Therefore, she was abetting the husband of the opposite party no. 3 to divorce the opposite party no. 3 with object to torture and harass her, therefore, she was also involved in view of the provisions of the section 120-B I.P.C. in the offence.

5. Learned A.G.A. on the other hand submitted that as per call details collected by the Investigating Officer, it is established that there was continuous conversation between the applicant and the husband of the opposite party no. 3, therefore, it should be presumed that she was abetting the husband of the opposite party no. 3 to divorce his wife/opposite party no. 3 for which cruelty was being committed by the husband upon the opposite party no. 3 at the behest of the applicant herein. Therefore she is also involved in the offence.

6. Having considered the rival submissions made by learned counsels for the parties, this Court has carefully gone through the record of the case. From the record of the case it is apparent that the applicant herein is allegedly the friend of the husband of the opposite party no.3. As they were the college friends and used to talk to one another, the applicant herein has been implicated in the instant case for demand of dowry and harassment by the husband and the in-laws of the opposite party no.3. She has been implicated in the instant case with the strength of Section 128 I.P.C.

7. Before proceeding further it would be relevant to take note of the provisions of Sections 498-A, 506, 120B I.P.C. as well as 3/4 of the D.P. Act, for which the applicant has also been charged.

Sections 120-B, 498A, 506 I.P.C.

"120-B. Punishment of criminal conspiracy.-(1) Whoever is a party to a criminal conspiracy to commit an offence punishable with death, 2[imprisonment for life] or rigorous imprisonment for a term of two years or upwards, shall, where no express provision is made in this Code for the punishment of such a conspiracy, be punished in the same manner as if he had abetted such offence.

(2) Whoever is a party to a criminal conspiracy other than a criminal conspiracy to commit an offence punishable as aforesaid shall be punished with imprisonment of either description for a term not exceeding six months, or with fine or with both."

Section 498-A. Husband or relative of husband of a woman subjecting her to cruelty- Whoever, being the husband or the relative of the husband of a woman, subjects such woman to cruelty shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three years and shall also be liable to fine.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this section, "cruelty means"—

(a) any wilful conduct which is of such a nature as is likely to drive the woman to commit suicide or to cause grave injury or danger to life, limb or health (whether mental or physical) of the woman; or

(b) harassment of the woman where such harassment is with a view to coercing her or any person related to her to meet any unlawful demand for any property or valuable security or is on account of failure by her or any person related to her to meet such demand.]

"Section 506. Punishment for criminal intimidation.- Whoever commits the offence of criminal intimidation shall be punished with imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to two years, or with fine, or with both;

If threat be to cause death or grievous hurt, etc — and if the threat be to cause death or grievous hurt, or to cause the destruction of any property by fire, or to cause an offence punishable with death or imprisonment for life, or with imprisonment for a term which may extend to seven years, or to impute unchastity to a woman, shall be punished with imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to seven years, or with fine, or with both."

Sections 3 and 4 of the D.P. Act.

"3. Penalty for giving or taking dowry.—

(1) If any person, after the commencement of this Act, gives or takes or abets the giving or taking of dowry, he shall be punishable [with imprisonment for a term which shall not be less than five years, and with fine which shall not be less than fifteen thousand rupees or the amount of the value of such dowry, whichever is more]:

Provided that the Court may, for adequate and special reasons to be recorded in the judgment, impose a sentence of imprisonment for a term of less than [five years].

[(2) Nothing in sub-section (1) shall apply to, or in relation to,—

(a) presents which are given at the time of a marriage to the bride (without any demand having been made in that behalf):

Provided that such presents are entered in a list maintained in accordance with the rules made under this Act;

(b) presents which are given at the time of a marriage to the bridegroom (without any demand having been made in that behalf):

Provided that such presents are entered in a list maintained in accordance with the rules made under this Act:

Provided further that where such presents are made by or on behalf of the bride or any person related to the bride, such presents are of a customary nature and the value thereof is not excessive having regard to the financial status of the person by whom, or on whose behalf, such presents are given].

4. Penalty for demanding dowry.--If any person demands, directly or indirectly, from the parents or other relatives or guardian of a bride or bridegroom, as the case may be, any dowry, he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which shall not be less than six months, but which may extend to two years and with fine which may extend to ten thousand rupees:

Provided that the Court may, for adequate and special reasons to be mentioned in the judgment, impose a sentence of imprisonment for a term of less than six months."

8. From the plain reading of Section 498-A I.P.C., the offence can be made out under Section 498-A I.P.C. only against the husband or the relative of the husband of a woman, who allegedly subjects such woman to cruelty. The explanation under Section 498-A of I.P.C. defines what 'cruelty' means for the purpose of Section 498-A I.P.C. It provides that, (1) any wilful conduct which is of such a nature as is likely to drive the woman to commit suicide or to cause grave injury or danger to life, limb or health (whether mental or physical) of the woman; or (2) harassment of the woman where such harassment is with a view to coercing her or any person related to her to meet any unlawful demand for any property or valuable security or is on account of failure by her or any person related to her to meet demand.

9. From the allegations as made in the instant case, there is no allegation of any harassment about the demand of dowry on the part of the applicant herein.

10. The applicant herein is neither the husband nor the relative of the husband but a friend of the husband and a friend of a husband cannot be in any way covered within the phrase of relative of the husband. Further, there is no allegation in the instant case with regard to any demand of dowry made by the applicant no.1 or any harassment for such demand of dowry. Further, there is no allegation of any wilful conduct by the applicant no. 1 herein, which is likely to try the opposite party no.2 to commit suicide or cause grave injury or danger to life, limb or health. Therefore, from the facts of the instant case no offence under Section 498-A I.P.C., is made out against the applicant herein.

11. Similarly, the provisions of 3/4 D.P. Act, would also not attract towards the applicant herein as there is no allegation of any demand of dowry by the applicant herein nor she can by any stretch of imagination be said to be the beneficiary of such dowry, if it is fulfilled. Further, there is no allegation of any sort that the applicant herein has ever talked or directly interfered in the matrimonial life of the opposite party no.2 and her husband except she was in talking terms with the opposite party no.2.

12. Therefore, in the considered opinion of this Court none of the offences as alleged in the instant case against the applicant herein can be said to have been made out and the applicant herein has been made an accused and has been maliciously prosecuted by the opposite party no.3 due to her suspicion of illicit relationship of the applicant with the husband of the opposite party no.3., without there being any action. They were alleged to have been on talking terms, being the college friends. Therefore, the instant case is nothing but a malicious prosecution of the applicant herein by the opposite party no.3. Consequently, the instant application is allowed and the entire proceedings of Criminal Case. No. Criminal Case No. 11843 of 2018 (State of U.P. Vs. Naveen Kumar Verma and others) arising out of Case Crime No. 490 of 2017 under sections 498-A, 506, 120-B I.P.C. and 3/4 of D.P. Act, Police Station- Civil Lines, District Allahabad, pending in the court of Chief Judicial Magistrate, Allahabad as well as charge sheet No. 134 of 2018 dated 30.6.2018, are hereby quashed qua the applicant herein.

3. The facts in brief are that the opposite party no.2 herein initially submitted a complaint dated 12.11.2018 before the Additional Director General of Police, Agra Zone, Agra, seeking registration of the F.I.R. and strict action against the applicant herein. On the aforesaid complaint, as per the direction of the Additional Director General of Police, the instant F.I.R. has been registered at Women Police Station, Agra, on 15.11.2018, whereby the Case Crime No. 211 of 2018 was registered for the offences under Sections 504, 506, 328, 34, 376

I.P.C. against the applicant and the entire family members of the applicant.

4. As per the F.I.R., both the applicant as well as the opposite party no.2 are highly educated persons and belong to a higher social status. Both of them were studying together in Agra and used to meet each other. The allegation in the F.I.R. is that once in the year, 2016, the entire family members of the applicant came to the house of the opposite party no.2 and proposed the marriage of applicant with the opposite party no.2. The aforesaid proposal was rejected by the opposite party no.2. Therefore, all the family members of the applicant have returned back. However, the said applicant continued to talk with the applicant herein. The opposite party no.2 herein went to Delhi for her studies. Subsequently, after about a year on 16.10.2017, in the morning at 10:00 A.M. the applicant went to the house of the opposite party no.2 and informed her about the illness and hospitalization of his mother and asked the opposite party no.2 to donate the blood. In view thereof, the opposite party no.2 accompanied the applicant herein, however, instead of taking her to the hospital the applicant took her to his house, where, except the mother all other family members met and welcomed her in the house. The sisters-in-law (bhabhis) of the applicant herein went in the kitchen to bring tea for her. Subsequently, applicant's elder brother Ashish brought tea and brothers- Ketan Kumar and Atul brought biscuits and namkeen etc. After consuming the tea, she became unconscious. When she regained her consciousness, she found herself without clothes and she realized that she has been raped. Then, the aforesaid sisters-in-law of the applicant brought clothes of the opposite party no.2, then, she wore the said clothes. Then, the opposite party no.2 told them that she will complain about this incident to the police. Then, the applicant putting the revolver on his head told her that he loves her and wanted to marry her, if she refused, he will commit suicide right then. Then, all the family members came inside the room and called her a bride and at the same time all the persons shown the nude pictures of the opposite party no.2, which they have taken during the aforesaid incident. Thereby, the opposite party no.2 got frightened. Thereafter, on the basis of the aforesaid nude pictures taken by the applicant and other family members, they started blackmailing the opposite party no.2. In such a compelling circumstances, the opposite party no.2 agreed to marry the applicant herein. Thereafter, after sometime all the family members except the father of the applicant herein came to the house of the opposite party no.2 and a golden ring was given to the opposite party no.2. Thereafter, under the pretext of marriage the applicant started physical exploitation of the opposite party no.2 by taking her at different places and hotels and on one occasion he has filled vermilion (सिंदूर) in parting of her hair (मांग). Thereafter, the family members of the applicant took the opposite party no.2 in various relations and introduced her as the wife of the applicant and started exchanging gifts. Subsequently, the parents of the opposite party no.2 also agreed to marry the opposite party no.2 with the applicant herein. Subsequently, the opposite party no.2 went to Delhi for preparation of IAS Exams and also started doing private job there. The applicant also came there and continued to exploit the opposite party no.2 physically. Thereupon, after physical exploitation he used to take all the salary of the opposite party no.2 forcibly. Fed up with all this, the opposite party no.2 left the job and came back to her house and the last time the applicant herein established physical relationship with the opposite party no.2 at the house of the opposite party no.2. Subsequently thereto, when the opposite party no.2 pressurized the applicant to marry the opposite party no.2, then, he started avoiding the same and told the opposite party no.2 that once they had gone with a proposal to marry the opposite party no.2, then, she has rejected the proposal of marriage and thereby she has insulted him and his family members, therefore, by doing the aforesaid incidents as narrated hereinabove, they have taken a revenge of that insult committed by the opposite party no.2. Now, they will not marry the applicant with the opposite party no.2. The applicant also threatened her of dire consequences and told that she should commit suicide. Thereafter, he switched off his phone. When she called the mother of the applicant she also threatened her that if she will make any complaint, poster of her nude pictures shall be placed in the entire locality of the opposite party no.2. On the basis of the aforesaid narration of the facts in the F.I.R. she has asked for a strict action against the applicant and the entire family members of the applicant.

5. In view of the aforesaid F.I.R., a detailed investigation was carried out by the Investigation Agency. During the investigation, the statements under Sections 161 and 164 Cr.P.C. of the opposite party no.2 was recorded and the medical examination of the opposite party no.2 was also conducted. In the medical examination no forcible act of rape was found to be committed on the opposite party no.2 and no injury of any sort was found on the body of the opposite party no.2. In her 164 Cr.P.C. statement, she has tried to improve the case by adding the allegation of insertion of a bottle in her private part.

However, the same was disbelieved by the Investigation Agency and the offence under Section 377 I.P.C. was not added in the charge-sheet, specifically relying upon the F.I.R. and 161 Cr.P.C. statement, which was recorded under the videography. During the investigation, except the victim even the parents of the opposite party no.2 have not supported any allegation of rape, however, the parents of the opposite party no.2 have admitted that there was a continuous relationship between the applicant and the opposite party no.2. The mother of the opposite party no.2 has categorically admitted that the applicant and the opposite party no.2 both were in very deep relationship with one another and the applicant as well as the opposite party no.2 used to frequently move together at any place of their choice as per the averments made in the F.I.R. as well as 161 Cr.P.C. statement. She has categorically admitted that the applicant used to take her to various hotels and they used to stay there and the applicant also used to get decorations to celebrate the memorable moments. On the request of the opposite party no.2 the Investigation Officer has also visited the hotels concerned where the receptionist has identified her and has told that the opposite party no.2 and the applicant used to stay there in the hotel and the record was also produced by the receptionist of the hotel. The doctor was also examined during the investigation, who has examined the victim/opposite party no.2 and he has also stated that no element of forcible sexual activity was found on the body of the opposite party no.2.

6. After due investigation, the charge-sheet was filed on 13.12.2018 only against the applicant herein for the offences under Sections 376, 504, 506 I.P.C. and the names of all other accused in the F.I.R. were dropped by the Investigation Officer. Various witnesses during the investigation have deposed that the opposite party no.2 used to visit the house of the applicant, when the other family members were not present in the house.

7. Therefore, from the entire material available on record, the sum and substance of the allegations made by the opposite party no.2 is that the applicant and the opposite party no.2 both were adults and highly educated persons. The applicant used to study together. The applicant has developed liking towards the opposite party no.2, which was intimated by him to the other female friends of both the parties and as per the allegation the applicant alongwith other family members have visited the house of the opposite party no.2, with a proposal to marry the opposite party no.2, however, the aforesaid proposal was rejected by the opposite party no.2, thereupon, the applicant and his family members felt insulted and thereupon after about one year of the said rejection by the opposite party no.2, the applicant has taken her to his house on the pretext of the illness of his mother. Thereupon, in the house in presence and in collusion with the other family members she was given an intoxicated tea which was consumed by the opposite party no.2, whereupon, she became unconscious and when she regained her consciousness she found herself without clothes and the clothes were given by the sisters-in-law of the applicant and she was shown her nude pictures and thereafter, the applicant on the basis of the said nude pictures, continued to have physical relationship with the opposite party no.2 by blackmailing her and subsequently, the opposite party no.2 has also accepted the relationship and she was in intimate relationship with the applicant herein continuously for a long period of time and she has never raised any objection to such relationship and it is only when the applicant and his family members had refused to marry her, the instant complaint has been filed by the opposite party no.2.

SUBMISSION BY APPLICANT

8. Learned counsel applicant submits that applicant and the opposite party no.2 were known to each other and were studying together and both were preparing for the Civil Services Examination. They developed a consensual physical relationship and such relationship continued for a long period of time. Even as per allegations in the F.I.R. such relationship continued for more than a year.

9. Learned counsel for the applicant has also relied upon the averments in the F.I.R. as well as 164 Cr.P.C. statement and also the statement of the parent of the opposite party no.2, to suggest that both the applicant and the opposite party no.2 were in consensual physical relationship with one another. Therefore, learned counsel for the applicant submits that since it was a longstanding continuous consensual physical relationship between the parties, therefore, no offence whatsoever under Section 376 I.P.C. can be said to have been made out against the applicant herein.

10. Learned counsel for applicant has also relied upon the judgements of the Apex Court in Dhruvaram Murlidhar Sonar vs. State of Maharashtra : (2019) 18 SCC 191, Shivashankar vs. State of Karnataka and Ors. (2019) 18 SCC 204, Pramod Suryabhan Pawar vs. the State of Maharashtra and Another : (2019) 9 SCC 608 and the judgement of this Court in

Jiyaullah vs. State of U.P. and Another (Application u/S 482 No. 5419 of 2021).

SUBMISSION BY A.G.A.

11. Per contra, learned A.G.A. submits that the inception of the relationship between the parties is based on cheating and it was a forcible act on the part of the applicant herein, for which no consent was there on the part of the opposite party no.2. Therefore, prima facie an offence under Section 376 I.P.C. is made out. However, the subsequent relationship between the parties was due to the threat perception created by the applicant and his family members. Therefore, even if there was subsequent relationship between the parties and the same cannot be said to be a consensual relationship but was a relationship under threat perception created by the applicant and his family members.

12. Having heard the submissions made by learned counsel for the parties, this Court has carefully gone through the record of the case.

13. Learned counsel for the applicant has submitted that since it was a longstanding continuous consensual relationship between the parties, no offence whatsoever under Section 376 I.P.C. can be said to have been made out against the applicant herein. In support of his submissions learned counsel for the applicant has relied upon the judgements of Apex Court in Dhruvaram Murlidhar Sonar (supra), Shivashankar (supra), Pramod Suryabhan Pawar (supra) and the judgement of this Court in Jiyaullah (supra).

14. Before proceeding further, it would be relevant to note the provisions of Section 375 I.P.C. as relevant to the instant case, which reads as under:

"375. Rape.- A man is said to commit "rape" if he—

1. penetrates his penis, to any extent, into the vagina, mouth, urethra or anus of a woman or makes her to do so with him or any other person; or

2. inserts, to any extent, any object or a part of the body, not being the penis, into the vagina, the urethra or anus of a woman or makes her to do so with him or any other person; or

3. manipulates any part of the body of a woman so as to cause penetration into the vagina, urethra, anus or any part of body of such woman or makes her to do so with him or any other person; or

4. applies his mouth to the vagina, anus, urethra of a woman or makes her to do so with him or any other person, under the circumstances falling under any of the following seven descriptions:-

Firstly- against her will.

Secondly- Without her consent.

Thirdly-.....

Fourthly-.....

Fifthly-.....

Sixthly-.....

Seventhly-....."

15. It would be further relevant to note provisions of Section 90 of I.P.C., which deals with the consent given under fear or misconception, which reads as under:

"90. Consent known to be given under fear or misconception.—

A consent is not such a consent as it intended by any section of this Code, if the consent is given by a person under fear of injury, or under a misconception of fact, and if the person doing the act knows, or has reason to believe, that the consent was given in consequence of such fear or misconception; or Consent of insane person.— if the consent is given by a person who, from unsoundness of mind, or intoxication, is unable to understand the nature and consequence of that to which he gives his consent; or Consent of child.— unless the contrary appears from the context, if the consent is given by a person who is under twelve years of age."

16. Therefore, a man establishes a sexual relationship with a woman against her will and without her consent is said to have committed rape on the woman. However, if a man establishes sexual relationship with a woman with her consent, then, such sexual activity would not amount to rape. However, if such consent was given by the woman under fear or misconception, such sexual activity with such tainted consent would amount to rape.

17. In Kaini Rajan v. State of Kerala, (2013) 9 SCC 113, the Apex Court has held that the consent for the purpose of Section 375 I.P.C. requires voluntary participation not only after the exercise of intelligence based on the knowledge of the significance of the morality, quality of the act but after fully exercising the choice between the resistance and assent whether there was consent or not is to be ascertained only after careful study of the relevant circumstances.

18. In Anurag Soni v. State of Chhattisgarh, (2019) 13 SCC 1, the Apex Court has held as under:

"12. The sum and substance of the aforesaid decisions would be that if it is established and proved that from the inception the accused who gave the promise to the prosecutrix to marry, did not have any intention to marry and the prosecutrix gave the consent for sexual intercourse on such an assurance by the accused that he would marry her, such a consent can be said to be a consent obtained on a misconception of fact as per Section 90 IPC and, in such a case, such a consent would not excuse the offender and such an offender can be said to have committed the rape as defined under Section 375 IPC and can be convicted for the offence under Section 376 IPC."

19. In Deepak Gulati v. State of Haryana, (2013) 7 SCC 675, the Apex Court while dealing with the consent for the offence under Section 375 I.P.C. has held that the Court must examine whether the consent involved was given after wholly understanding the nature and consequence of sexual indulgence. There may be a case where the prosecutrix agrees to have sexual intercourse on account of her love and passion for the accused and not solely on account of misrepresentation made to her by the accused.

20. In Pramod Suryabhan Pawar (supra), while dealing with the consent for the offence under Sections 375, 376 I.P.C. the Apex Court has observed as under:

"18. To summarise the legal position that emerges from the above cases, the "consent" of a woman with respect to Section 375 must involve an active and reasoned deliberation towards the proposed act. To establish whether the "consent" was vitiated by a "misconception of fact" arising out of a promise to marry, two propositions must be established. The promise of marriage must have been a false promise, given in bad faith and with no intention of being adhered to at the time it was given. The false promise itself must be of immediate relevance, or bear a direct nexus to the woman's decision to engage in the sexual act."

21. It was further held that misconception of fact must be a fact which had an immediate relevance to the consent given by the prosecutrix.

22. Thus, in the light of the judgements of the aforesaid position of law, if the facts of the instant case are examined, we will find that though the applicant and the opposite party no.2 were friends, the opposite party no.2 had never agreed for any relationship with the applicant other than the friendship and that is apparent from the fact that initially the opposite party no.2 has rejected the proposal of marriage with the applicant. However, she was continuously in talking terms with the applicant. As per the allegations in the F.I.R., which are supported in her 161 Cr.P.C. statement as well as in her 164 Cr.P.C. statement, the applicant herein has taken opposite party no.2 to his house on the pretext of illness and hospitalization of his mother where she has been given tea which was intoxicated and after consuming the said tea the opposite party no.2 became unconscious and she was sexually assaulted without her consent and nude pictures of the opposite party no.2 were taken, thereafter, she was blackmailed to give consent to the relationship. Therefore, for the initial incident as alleged in the F.I.R. there was no consent on the part of the opposite party no.2 herein. Therefore, the offence of rape is prima facie constituted against the applicant, however, the subsequent relationship of the applicant with the opposite party no.2 was initially under threat perception created by the applicant and his family members and subsequently a promise of marriage was also stated to have been given by the applicant, which was accepted by the opposite party no.2 under the threat perceptions created by the applicant and his family members. However subsequently, they are stated to have been in consensual relationship for sufficiently a long period of time and applicant and his family member have refused to marry the opposite party no.2, the instant F.I.R. has been lodged and the fact that they were in continuous physical relationship is sufficiently established during the investigation and even by the photographs annexed as Annexure '21' in the instant application, which has also been found established during the investigation from the examination of the hotel staff where they used to stay.

CONCLUSION

23. Therefore, in the considered opinion of this Court since the initial relationship was established by the applicant with an element of cheating, threat etc., against the will of the opposite party no.2, prima facie an offence under Section 376 I.P.C. is made out against the applicant. Though, the subsequent relationship, which appears to be a consensual relationship under the promise of marriage, however, such consent is also stated to be given by the opposite party no.2 initially under the threat perception created by the applicant herein. Therefore, in the considered opinion of this Court the judgements relied upon by the applicant in Shivashankar (supra), Pramod Suryabhan

Pawar (supra) and Jiyaullah (supra) are of no help to the applicant, in view of the initial act committed against the will of the opposite party no.2. Therefore, this Court does not find any good reason to quash the proceedings as prayed by the applicant, in view thereof, the instant application is accordingly dismissed.

24. However, the observation made hereinabove are made only for the purpose of deciding the instant application and the trial court shall not be influenced by any of the observations made hereinabove and shall proceed in accordance with law.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Saurabh Shyam

1. Heard Sri Rajiv Lochan Shukla, learned counsel for applicants, Sri Vimal Kumar Pandey, learned counsel for opposite party No.2 and Sri Rakesh Kumar Mishra, learned A.G.A. for State.

2. Applicant No.1 got married with Manju Tiwari (daughter of the complainant) in 2014, whereas other applicants are relatives of applicant No.1. It is the case of applicants that on 23.09.2016 at about 9.00 p.m., Smt. Manju Tiwari ran away from their house and despite searched for days, she was not located. Applicants have lodged missing report as well as publications were made in newspaper also.

3. The complainant side was also making efforts along with applicants side to search her but all attempts were failed. In the aforesaid circumstances, complainant after about six weeks filed an application under Section 156 (3) Cr.P.C. on 11.01.2017, alleging that his daughter (wife of applicant No.1) died under otherwise than normal circumstances and her dead body was concealed by applicants. On order of learned Magistrate, an FIR was lodged on 25.11.2016 against applicants (Case Crime No.1203 of 2017) under Sections 498-A, 304-B, 201 I.P.C. and ¼ of D.P. Act, Police Station- Kotwali Padrauna, District- Kushinagar.

4. The Investigating Officer recorded statements of witnesses and made attempts to locate victim either alive or dead but she was not found alive nor her dead body was recovered. Investigation was not proper, therefore, a writ petition was filed before this Court by the complainant for referring investigation to CBI. The writ petition was remained pending and orders were passed against Police Officers.

5. Initially, a charge-sheet No.31 of 2017 was filed only under Section 498-A I.P.C. and ¼ of D.P. Act. The learned Chief Judicial Magistrate, Kushinagar at Padrauna, by order dated 02.11.2017, returned the charge-sheet with direction to conduct investigation properly. Relevant part of order is mentioned hereinafter :-

“सुना तथा पत्रावली का सम्यक परिशीलन किया।

पुलिस द्वारा प्रस्तुत प्रपत्रों के अवलोकन से प्रथम दृष्टया स्पष्ट है, कि विवेचक द्वारा सभी तथ्यों की विस्तृत जाँच किये बिना मात्र खानापूति करते हुये आरोप पत्र न्यायालय में प्रेषित कर दिया गया है। यहाँ यह उल्लेखनीय है, कि आवेदक द्वारा धारा-498A, 304B, 201 भा०द०सं० व धारा- 3/4 डी०पी० एक्ट के तहत मुकदमा पंजीकृत कराया गया था। आवेदक द्वारा अपने प्रार्थना पत्र अन्तर्गत धारा- 156(3) द०प्र०सं० में आधार लिया गया था, कि दहेज के लिये उसकी लड़की की हत्या कर उसकी लाश गायब कर दी गयी है। इस सम्बन्ध में विवेचक द्वारा उसके तथा अन्य निकटतम सम्बन्धियों के C.D.R निकलवायी गयी, परन्तु विवेचक द्वारा उससे क्या निष्कर्ष निकला यह अपने केस डायरी में

उल्लेखित नहीं किया है, तथा उसकी गुमसुदगी के सम्बन्ध में पेपरों में तथा सभी सम्बन्धित लोगों व गुमसुदगी के सम्बन्ध में जरिये रेडियो व दूरदर्शन आस-पास के जिलों से कराया गया था। परन्तु बिना किसी समुचित निष्कर्ष पर आये विवेचक द्वारा यह आरोप पत्र न्यायालय के समक्ष प्रस्तुत कर दिया गया है। प्रथम दृष्टया स्वयं विवेचना अपूर्ण की जानी प्रतीत होती है। अतः इस निर्देश के साथ विवेचक को केस डायरी वापस प्रेषित की जाती है, कि वह सभी तथ्यों को दृष्टिगत रखते हुये निष्पक्षतापूर्वक विवेचना सम्पादित कर आख्या प्रेषित करें।”

6. It appears that Investigating Officer has submitted other charge-sheet also. Learned Magistrate has decided another protest petition by order dated 17.07.2018, whereby said charge-sheet was also returned for further investigation. Relevant part of it is reproduced hereinafter :-

“सुना तथा पत्रावली का सम्यक परिशीलन किया।

7. Meanwhile, applicants' attempt to quash FIR was failed, whereas attempts of complainants for fair and further investigation remained successful.

8. The writ petition filed by the complainant got disposed of by order dated 24.02.2020. Relevant part of it is reproduced hereinafter :-

“ 6. Today, an affidavit has been filed by Investigating Officer (hereinafter referred to as 'I.O.') stating therein that charge-sheet has been submitted by I.O before Chief Judicial Magistrate, Kushi Nagar whereupon, Magistrate has taken cognizance and issued summons on 18.2.2020 to accused.

7. Learned counsel for accused respondent-5 submits that superficial investigation has been conducted and without collecting any credible evidence, charge-sheet has been submitted. If petitioner has any grievance regarding submission of charge-sheet, same can be raised before the Magistrate concerned at the time of framing of charge or by challenging order taking cognizance before Revisional Court.

8. Since charge-sheet has already been submitted and Magistrate has taken cognizance in the matter, no further cause of action survives in present writ petition. Writ petition is, accordingly, dismissed as infructuous. Personal appearance of Mr. Vinod Kumar Mishra, Superintendent of Police, Kushi Nagar and Mr. Netesh Pratap Singh Deputy Superintendent of Police (Circle Officer, Tamkuhiraj), District Kushi Nagar is dispensed with. ”

9. In the aforesaid circumstances, finally a charge-sheet was filed on 12.02.2020 i.e. after about 3 years on which cognizance was taken and applicants were summoned by order dated 05.03.2020.

10. The said charge-sheet, cognizance and summoning order were challenged by way of present application. Initially, this Court has granted an interim order on 21.09.2020, which was extended on subsequent dates also, however, on 28.03.2022 it was discharged. In the aforesaid circumstances, applicants have filed respective discharge applications before learned Trial Court, which are still pending.

11. Sri Rajiv Lochan Shukla, learned counsel for applicants has submitted that offence under Section 304-B I.P.C. could not be made out, since there is no material or evidence that wife of the applicant No.1 has died under otherwise than normal circumstances since there is no evidence that she has died as well as if she already died, still there is no evidence about manner of her death. Her dead body was not recovered. Learned counsel also submitted that complainant's side along with applicants side was taking various efforts to locate wife of applicant No.1 and they have not raised any suspicion for about more than one and a half month.

12. Learned counsel also referred litigation filed before this Court that charge-sheet was filed only under threat of contempt proceedings initiated by complainant against police officers. The complainant himself has raised a suspicion that his daughter may have eloped with other person though on investigation there was no break through in that direction. The charge-sheet was filed only on assumption without any evidence to support allegation of dowry death.

13. The aforesaid submissions are opposed by Sri Rakesh Kumar Mishra, learned A.G.A. for State and Sri Vimal

Kumar Pandey, learned counsel for complainant side that in such cases, it is not necessary to establish corpus delicti. It is the case of complainant side that deceased has died under otherwise than normal circumstances within seven years of marriage and that she has suffered with cruelty for demand of dowry soon before her death and her dead body was concealed by applicants side.

14. Learned counsel for complainant submitted that applicants were initially successful in misdirecting the complainant that it was a case of missing and kept him busy in order to delay in lodging FIR and from prompt commencement of investigation. Applicants have already filed respective discharge application which will be considered in accordance with law. No circumstance exists to interfere with charge-sheet. Learned counsel for complainant has placed reliance on judgments of Supreme Court passed in Sevaka Perumal Vs. State of Tamil Nadu, (1991) 3 SCC 471 and Mani Kumar Thapa Vs. State of Sikkim, (2002) 7 SCC 157.

15. Heard counsel for parties and perused the record.

16. It is well settled that at the stage of challenge to charge-sheet, no mini trial could be conducted by this Court. The only consideration before this Court is that in given circumstances, when dead body of wife of applicant No.1 was not recovered, whether it could be deemed that she died under otherwise than normal circumstances or in given set of circumstances, the argument that there is no requirement to establish corpus delicti has merit.

17. In order to consider above submissions, a judgment passed by

Supreme Court in the case of Sanjay Rajak Vs. State of Bihar, (2019) 12 SCC 552 would be relevant and its few paragraphs are reproduced hereinafter :-

“9. It is not an invariable rule of criminal jurisprudence that the failure of the police to recover the corpus delicti will render the prosecution case doubtful entitling the accused to acquittal on benefit of doubt. It is only one of the relevant factors to be considered along with all other attendant facts and circumstances to arrive at a finding based on reasonability and probability based on normal human prudence and behaviour. In the facts and circumstances of the present case, the failure of the police to recover the dead body is not much of consequence in the absence of any explanation by the appellant both with regard to the victim last being seen with him coupled with the recovery from his house of the belongings of the deceased. Rama Nand v. State of H.P. [Rama Nand v. State of H.P., (1981) 1 SCC 511 : 1981 SCC (Cri) 197], was a case of circumstantial evidence where the corpus delicti was not found. This Court upholding the conviction observed: (SCC pp. 522-23, para 28)

“28. ... But in those times when execution was the only punishment for murder, the need for adhering to this cautionary rule was greater. Discovery of the dead body of the victim bearing physical evidence of violence, has never been considered as the only mode of proving the corpus delicti in murder. Indeed, very many cases are of such a nature where the discovery of the dead body is impossible. A blind adherence to this old “body” doctrine would open the door wide open for many a heinous murderer to escape with impunity simply because they were cunning and clever enough to destroy the body of their victim. In the context of our law, Sir Hale's enunciation has to be interpreted no more than emphasising that where the dead body of the victim in a murder case is not found, other cogent and satisfactory proof of the homicidal death of the victim must be adduced by the prosecution. Such proof may be by the direct ocular account of an eyewitness, or by circumstantial evidence, or by both. But where the fact of corpus delicti i.e. "homicidal death" is sought to be established by circumstantial evidence alone, the circumstances must be of a clinching and definitive character unerringly leading to the inference that the victim concerned has met a homicidal death. Even so, this principle of caution cannot be pushed too far as requiring absolute proof. Perfect proof is seldom to be had in this imperfect world, and absolute certainty is a myth. That is why under Section 3 of the Evidence Act, a fact is said to be "proved", if the court considering the matters before it, considers its existence so probable that a prudent man ought, under the circumstances of the particular case, to act upon the supposition that it exists. The corpus delicti or the fact of homicidal death, therefore, can be proved by telling and inculcating circumstances which definitely lead to the conclusion that within all human probability, the victim has been murdered by the accused concerned."

10. Sevaka Perumal v. State of T.N. [Sevaka Perumal v. State of T.N., (1991) 3 SCC 471 : 1991 SCC (Cri) 724], was also a case where the corpus delicti was not found yet conviction was upheld observing: (SCC pp. 476-77, para 5)

"5. ... In a trial for murder it is not an absolute necessity or an essential ingredient to establish corpus delicti. The fact of death of the deceased must be established like any other fact. Corpus delicti in some cases may not be possible to be traced or recovered. Take for instance that a murder was committed and the dead body was thrown into flowing tidal river or stream or burnt out. It is unlikely that the dead body may be recovered. If recovery of the dead body, therefore, is an absolute necessity to convict an accused, in many a case the accused would manage to see that the dead body is destroyed, etc. and would afford a complete immunity to the guilty from being punished and would escape even when the offence of murder is proved. What, therefore, is required to base a conviction for an offence of murder is that there should be reliable and acceptable evidence that the offence of murder, like any other factum of death was committed and it must be proved by direct or circumstantial evidence, although the dead body may not be traced."

(Emphasis Supplied)

18. It is case of complainant that under a bonafide impression, believing that applicant No.1 i.e. (husband of his daughter) was undertaking bonafide steps to search his wife, no prompt FIR was lodged but later on when it was clear that attempts of applicants side were nothing but to distract the complainant from real issue, an FIR was lodged after about six weeks. The police was not conducting fair investigation, therefore, the complainant has filed a writ petition wherein various orders were passed and after two charge-sheet were returned with direction of further investigation by concerned Magistrate, finally impugned charge-sheet was filed.

19. In order to consider rival submissions, above referred circumstances are very relevant as well as no circumstance exist to support the story put forward by the applicants that his wife ran away on 23.09.2016 and remained missing except a vague story that she has an illicit relationship with some other person and she may elope with him, which was later on, after an inquiry was found false. In above background claim of complainant side that applicants side has misdirected them during initial period for about six weeks that his wife was missing but later on their intention were exposed, has substance.

20. No reason even remote was brought on record which could be ground for applicant No.1's wife to run away from her matrimonial house. Only on a ground that her dead body was not recovered, it could not be said that she is still alive. There are evidence on record that applicant No.1 has illicit relationship with co-accused and it was repeatedly objected by his wife and her family members as well as that there are allegations of committing cruelty for or in regard to demand of dowry also, therefore, the Court is of considered opinion that argument of learned counsel for complainant and the State has more force at this stage that in given circumstances to establish corpus delicti is not necessary and applicants have a liberty to raise all such arguments during consideration of their discharge application pending before learned Trial Court or during trial, as the case may be. The Sanjay Rajak (supra) is applicable in full force in present case in support of prosecution case.

21. The Court also takes note of ;brief facts of the case; mentioned in the impugned charge-sheet and for reference relevant part of it is reproduced hereinafter :-

“मुकदमा उपरोक्त की अब तक की कार्यवाही विवेचना से यह स्पष्ट हो चुका है कि मृतका गायब नहीं हुई थी बल्कि गुमशुदगी के पूर्व वादी द्वारा प्रस्तुत विवरण के अनुसार ससुराल पक्ष द्वारा दहेज के लिये उसको प्रताड़ना करते हुये मन्जू तिवारी की मृत्यु करित कर साक्ष्य का लोप करने हेतु शव को गायब कर दिया गया। वादी द्वारा इस सम्बन्ध में मुख्य न्यायिक मजिस्ट्रेट कुशीनगर के न्यायालय में सशपथ शपथ पत्र प्रस्तुत करते हुये उपरोक्त तथ्यों की पुष्टि की गयी है। जिसकी छायाप्रति संलग्न की जा रही है।... प्रथम सूचना रिपोर्ट के अनुसार वादी की पुत्री मंजू तिवारी की शादी दिनांक 17-02-2014 को मृत्युन्जय तिवारी निवासी ग्राम भिसवा सरकारी थाना कोतवाली पडरौना जिला कुशीनगर के साथ सम्पन्न हुई। इस तथ्य की पुष्टि में शादी के फोटो ग्राफ व शादी की कार्ड साक्ष्य रूप में उपलब्ध है। शादी के पश्चात मृत्युन्जय तिवारी, राधेश्याम तिवारी, राजेन्द्र तिवारी, देवेन्द्र तिवारी पुत्रगण धुपही तिवारी, कुमारी डिम्पल तिवारी पुत्र घनश्याम तिवारी, गायत्री देवी पत्नी घनश्याम तिवारी, द्रोपदी देवी पत्नी देवेन्द्र तिवारी सा० निसवा सरकारी थाना कोतवाली पडरौना कुशीनगर द्वारा मंजू तिवारी की प्रताड़ना सम्बन्धी साक्ष्य वादी के शपथ पत्र व धारा 161 सीआर०पी०सी० के बयान वादी व वादी की पत्नी श्रीमती निर्मला दीक्षित व लड़का मानवेन्द्र दीक्षित गवाहान श्री जटाशंकर मिश्रा पुत्र छेदी मिश्रा व अनिल कुमार मिश्रा पुत्र जटाशंकर मिश्रा सा० बेलवा मिश्र पकड़ी थाना कोतवाली पडरौना कुशीनगर व श्री बलीराम यादव पुत्र राधे किशुन सा० परसौना थाना कसया जनपद कुशीनगर के बयान से सिद्ध होता है। इन्ही गवाहों द्वारा प्रथम सूचना रिपोर्ट के तथ्यों की पुष्टि की गयी है। विवाहित मंजू तिवारी के मोबाईल नं० 9120442 के सी०डी०आर० के अवलोकन करने पर इस तथ्य की पुष्टि हुई है कि उसकी बात अपने माता पिता से दिनांक 23-09-16 को 20-07-46 बजे 1177 सेकेण्ड 9120810387 हरिशंकर दीक्षित के मोबाईल नं० पर बात हुई है तथा इस बात की भी पुष्टि हो रही है कि रात में सवा दस बजे के आस पास मन्जू तिवारी के मोबाईल से उसके पति द्वारा मन्जू के माता पिता । वादी। को फोन करके उसके घर से गायब होने की सूचना दी गयी। वादी द्वारा यह भी अवगत कराया गया है कि अभियुक्त पक्ष द्वारा विवाहिता के स्वयं गायब होने सम्बन्धी सूचनावादी पक्ष को और गुमशुदगी के माध्यम से पुलिस को भी देकर गुमराह करने का प्रयास किया गया है जबकि अभियुक्तगणों द्वारा विवाहिता मंजू के स्वयं गायब हो जाने का समुचित कारण न तो वादी को बताया गया और न तो पुलिस को विवेचना के दौरान बताया गया। विवाहिता मन्जू तिवारी स्वस्थ महिला थी जिसके पास एक छोटा दुधमुहां बच्चा भी था जो ऐसा कोई निर्णय नहीं ले सकती थी. जो उसके बच्चे के हित के विरुद्ध हो तथा उसके स्वयं के जीवन के लिये उचित न हो। दहेज सम्बन्धी प्रताड़ना की बात उसने

22. The above referred conclusion is supported by statements of various witnesses recorded during long investigation. In the charge-sheet 25 witnesses were proposed as prosecution witnesses. Statement of all proposed witnesses are not enclosed with present application as well as it has been recently reiterated by the Supreme Court that at this stage High Court cannot undertake to conduct a mini trial or enter into appreciation of evidence of a particular case, in the case of Priyanka Jaiswal Vs. State of Jharkhand and others, 2024 SCC OnLine SC 685 and relevant part of it is mentioned hereinafter :-

“13. We say so for reasons more than one. This Court in catena of Judgments has consistently held that at the time of examining the prayer for quashing of the criminal proceedings, the court exercising extra-ordinary jurisdiction can neither undertake to conduct a mini trial nor enter into appreciation of evidence of a particular case. The correctness or otherwise of the allegations made in the complaint cannot be examined on the touchstone of the probable defence that the accused may raise to stave off the prosecution and any such misadventure by the Courts resulting in proceedings being quashed would be set aside. This Court in the case of Akhil Sharda, 2022 SCC OnLine SC 820 held to the following effect:

“28. Having gone through the impugned judgment and order passed by the High Court by which the High Court has set aside the criminal proceedings in exercise of powers under Section 482 Cr. P.C., it appears that the High Court has virtually conducted a mini trial, which as such is not permissible at this stage and while deciding the application under Section 482 Cr. P.C. As observed and held by this Court in a catena of decisions no mini trial can be conducted by the High Court in exercise of powers under Section 482 Cr. P.C. jurisdiction and at the stage of deciding the application under Section 482 Cr. P.C., the High Court cannot get into appreciation of evidence of the particular case being considered.””

23. In the aforesaid circumstances, I do not find that there is any ground to quash the charge-sheet as well as cognizance and summoning order. Accordingly, present application is rejected.

3. The brief facts of the case are that the opposite party no.2 has filed a complaint case under Section 138 of the N.I. Act for dishonour of three cheques bearing cheque no. 418192 dated 28.06.2022, amounting Rs. 5,00,000/-, cheque no. 418193 dated 28.06.2022, amounting Rs. 5,00,000/- and cheque no. 418194 dated 28.06.2022, amounting Rs. 6,72,000/- respectively issued by the applicant herein, which were paid in terms of the sale deed executed by the opposite party no.2 in favour of the applicant herein. The said cheques were presented for encashment and were dishonoured. Thereupon a legal notice dated 19.07.2022 was sent, which was not complied with. Thereafter a complaint case was filed on 24.08.2022 by the opposite party no.2 under Section 138 of N.I.Act. Subsequently during the pendency of the aforesaid complaint case, the applicant herein entered into a settlement with the opposite party no.2 and agreed to make the entire payment of the aforesaid cheque amount. A compromise dated 05.01.2024 has arrived at between the parties and the applicant has admitted his liability with regard to the aforesaid three cheques and has agreed to make the payment by the 5th of February 2024. In terms of the aforesaid settlement, the matter was taken up in the Lok Adalat on 22.01.2024 and the following order was passed:

"Parties are present along with their learned counsel.

The present complaint has been filed by the complainant against the accused in respect of dishonour of dishonour of following three cheques---

1. Cheque No. 418192 dated 28-6-2022 for the sum of Rs. 500,000/-

2. Cheque No. 418193 dated 28-6-2022 for the sum of Rs. 500,000/-

3. Cheque No. 418194 dated 28-6-2022 for the sum of Rs. 672,000/-

Subsequently the parties entered into a compromise and thereafter on 05-01-2024 filed a compromise deed through paper No. 15-B, stating that they have settled their dispute to the effect that the accused has issued following two cheques in favour of the complainant---

1. Cheque No. 947560 for the sum of Rs 150,000/- and

2. Cheque No. 947561 for the sum of Rs. 150,000/-

It has also been agreed that remaining amount shall be paid positively by 05-02-2024 Accordingly it is prayed that the complaint case should be decided in terms of compromise 15-B.

The aforesaid compromise was verified by me on 08-01-2024. The present complaint has been filed against the accused under Section 138 NI Act. The offence under Section 138 of NI Act is compoundable. Therefore the complaint case is disposed of in terms of aforesaid compromise as under---

1. That out of the settled amount the accused has already paid a sum of Rs. 300,000/ through aforementioned two cheques. Remaining settled amount shall be paid positively by 05-02-2024.

2. On default of payment of the settled amount as aforesaid the accused will have to undergo three months simple imprisonment.

3. On default of payment of amount in terms of compromise the complainant will be entitled to interest at the rate of 9% on the amount due by then, till realisation of entire amount.

Accordingly the complaint is decided in terms of compromise 13-8. Let the file be consigned to record room with the further direction that on being informed by the complainant about the default in payment, the file will be summoned from the record Room and recovery warrant and NBW will be issued forthwith against the accused."

4. Learned counsel for the applicant submits that the Lok Adalat has erroneously imposed the conditions no.2 and 3, which were not there in the compromise. Therefore, learned counsel for the applicant states that it was not open for the Lok Adalat to impose the conditions no.2 and 3 by admitting the compromise and disposing of the case on the basis of the settlement / compromise. Being aggrieved by the aforesaid order passed by the Lok Adalat, the instant application has been filed initially on 07.08.2024, in which this Court has passed the following order:

"1. Heard Sri Anurag Pathak, learned counsel for the applicant and Sri Rajeev Kumar Singh, learned AGA for the State.

2. Learned counsel for the applicant submits that the applicant is aggrieved by the order dated 22.1.2024, whereby the Complaint Case No.25882 of 2022 under Section 138 of N.I. Act was disposed of in terms of the settlement, which was duly verified by the trial court on 8.1.2024. Learned counsel for the applicant further submits that the trial court has recorded that the parties are present along with their learned counsels and he disputes that neither the applicant nor his counsel was present before the court on that date.

3. Further, learned counsel for the applicant is aggrieved by other two conditions imposed, which was not part of the compromise, namely, on default of payment of the settled amount as aforesaid, the accused will have to undergo three months of imprisonment and on default of payment of amount in terms of the compromise, the complainant will be entitled to interest at the rate of 5% of the amount duped by them till realization of the entire amount.

4. In view thereof, let a report be called from the Presiding Officer, Additional Court, Saharanpur with regard to the material facts specifically the presence of the parties and the conditions imposed beyond the compromise.

5. Put up this matter on 21.8.2024, as fresh."

5. In pursuance to the aforesaid order, a detailed report has been submitted by the Presiding Officer, Additional Court, Saharanpur justifying the imposition of the conditions in view of various judgments of the Apex Court and this Court as well.

6. The report submitted by the learned Magistrate reads as under :

"Please be kind enough to take notice of the letter dated 30-7-2024 whereby I have been directed to submit my explanation about the complaint case No. 25882 of 2022 Kanishka Kund Jain vs. Shaswata Agrawal u/s Section 138 of NI Act in Lok Adalata held on 22-01-2024.

Special Lok Adalata for NI Act cases was held on 22-01-2024, when the aforementioned complainant case was also decided. The accused has filed a petition before Hon'ble the High Court challenging the order on the following grounds---

1. The court has imposed default clause in case of default in payment of the settled amount which was not part of the compromise.

2. That neither the applicant/accused nor his learned counsel was present on the date but both have been shown as present on that date.

So I have been directed to submit my report with regard to presence of parties and conditions imposed beyond the compromise.

In this respect my explanation is as under—

1. Since the impugned order was passed in Special Lok Adalata held on 22-01-2024, therefore according to the Section 21 of "The Legal Services Authorities Act, 1987", the order will be deemed as a decree. Section 21 of "The Legal Services Authorities Act, 1987", reads as under—

"Section 21---Award of Lok Adalat-

1) Every award of the Lok Adalat shall be deemed to be a decree of a civil court or, as the case may be, an order of any other court and where a compromise or settlement has been arrived at, by a Lok Adalat in a case referred to it under sub-section(1) of section 20, the court-fee paid in such case shall be refunded in the manner provided under the Court-fees Act, 1870 (7 of 1870).

2) Every award made by a Lok Adalat shall be final and binding on all the parties to the dispute, and no appeal shall lie to any court against the award."

2. Mode and procedure for execution of decree of a Civil Court has been prescribed in Chapter II (Section 36 to 74) and Order 21 of Civil Procedure Code. Relevant provisions are mentioned as under-

A. Order 21 Rule- 30 Decree for payment of money. Every decree for the payment of money, including a decree for the payment of money as the alternative to some other relief, may be executed by the detention in the civil prison of the judgment-debtor, or by the attachment and sale of his property, or by both.

B. Section 51---Powers of Court to enforce execution-Subject to such conditions and limitations as may be prescribed, the Court may, on the application of the decree-holder, order execution of the decree-

a) by delivery of any property specifically decreed;

b) by attachment and sale or by the sale without attachment of any property;

c) by arrest and detention in prison for such period not exceeding the period specified in section 58, where arrest and detention is permissible under that section

d) by appointing a receiver; or

e) in such other manner as the nature of the relief granted may require:

Provided that, where the decree is for the payment of money, execution by detention in prison shall not be ordered unless, after giving the judgment-debtor an opportunity of showing cause why he should not be committed to prison, the Court, for reasons recorded in writing, is satisfied-

a) that the judgment-debtor, with the object or effect of obstructing or delaying the execution of the decree-

i. is likely to abscond or leave the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court, or

ii. has, after the institution of the suit in which the decree was passed, dishonestly transferred, concealed, or removed any part of his property, or committed any other act of bad faith in relation to his property, or

b) that the judgment-debtor has, or has had since the date of the decree, the means to pay the amount of the decree or some substantial part thereof and refuses or neglects or has refused or neglected to pay the same, or

c) that the decree is for a sum for which the judgment-debtor was bound in a fiduciary capacity to account.

Explanation-In the calculation of the means of the judgment-debtor for the purposes of clause (b), there shall be left out of account any property which, by or under any law or custom having the force of law for the time being in force, is exempt from attachment in execution of the decree.

C. Section 55---Arrest and detention-

1) A judgment-debtor may be arrested in execution of a decree at any hour and on any day, and shall, as soon as practicable, be brought before the Court, and his detention may be in the civil prison of the district in which the Court ordering the detention is situate, or, where such civil prison does not afford suitable accommodation, in any other place which the State Government may appoint for the detention of persons ordered by the Courts of such district to be detained:

Provided firstly- that, for the purpose of making an arrest under this section, no dwelling-house shall be entered after sunset and before sunrise:

Provided, secondly- that no outer door of a dwelling- house shall be broken open unless such dwelling house is in the occupancy of the judgment-debtor and he refuses or in any way prevents access thereto, but when the officer authorized to make the arrest has duly gained access to any dwelling-house, he may break open the door of any room in which he has reason to believe the judgment-debtor is to be found:

Provided, thirdly- that, if the room is in the actual occupancy of a woman who is not the judgment- debtor and who according to the customs of the country does not appear in public, the officer authorized to make the arrest shall give notice to her that she is at liberty to withdraw, and, after allowing a reasonable time for her to withdraw and giving her reasonable facility for withdrawing, may enter the room for the purpose of making the arrest:

Provided, fourthly- that, where the decree in execution of which a judgment-debtor is arrested, is a decree for the payment of money and the judgment-debtor pays the amount of the decree and the costs of the arrest to the officer arresting him, such officer shall at once release him.

2) The State Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, declare that any person or class of persons whose arrest might be attended with danger or inconvenience to the public shall not be liable to arrest in execution of a decree otherwise than in accordance with such procedure as may be prescribed by the State Government in this behalf.

3) Where a judgment-debtor is arrested in execution of a decree for the payment of money and brought before the Court, the Court shall inform him that he may apply to be declared an insolvent, and that he 1 [may be discharged) if he has not committed any act of bad faith regarding the subject of the application and if he complies with the provisions of the law of insolvency for the time being in force.

4) Where a judgment-debtor expresses his intention to apply to be declared an insolvent and furnishes security, to the satisfaction of the Court, that he will within one month so apply, and that he will appear, when called upon, in any proceeding upon the application or upon the decree in execution of which he was arrested, the Court may release him from arrest, and, if he fails so to apply and to appear, the Court may either direct the security to be realized or commit him to the civil prison in execution of the decree.

D. Section 56---Prohibition of arrest or detention of women in execution of decree for money-Notwithstanding anything in this Part, the Court shall not order the arrest or detention in the civil prison of a woman in execution of a decree for the payment of money.

E. Section 57-Subsistence-allowance-The State Government may fix scales, graduated according to rank, race and nationality, of monthly allowances payable for the subsistence of judgment-debtors.

F. Section 58-Detention and release-

1) Every person detained in the civil prison in execution of a decree shall be so detained-

a) where the decree is for the payment of a sum of money exceeding five thousand rupees for a period not exceeding three months, and,

b) where the decree is for the payment of a sum of money exceeding two thousand rupees, but not exceeding five thousand rupees, for a period not exceeding six weeks.

Provided that he shall be released from such detention before the expiration of said period of detention-

On the amount mentioned in the warrant for his detention being paid to the officer-in-charge of civil prison or

On the decree against him being otherwise fully satisfied, or

On the request of the person on whose application he has been so detained or

Iv. On the omission by the person on whose application he has been so detained to pay subsistence allowance.

Provided also that he shall not be released from such detention under clause II or III, without the order of the court,

1A) For the removal of doubts, it is hereby declared that no order for detention of the judgment-debtor in civil prison in execution of a decree for the payment of money shall be made, where the total amount of the decree does not exceed two thousand rupees.

2) A judgment-debtor released from detention under this section shall not merely by reason of his release be discharged from his debt, but he shall not be liable to be re-arrested under the decree in execution of which he was detained in the civil prison.

3. Thus perusal of the aforesaid scheme and all provisions it becomes clear that the term "decree" is not a like a bubble of water or bed of rose for wrong doers, instead of it, it is more drastic and stringent. In case of money decree exceeding Rs. 5000/-, the executing Court on application of the decree holder may adopt any one following mode---

1) The Court may execute the decree by attachment or sale of movable or immovable properties of the judgment debtor or

2) The Court may direct civil imprisonment of the judgment debtor which shall not exceed three months to be commenced only after payment of subsistence allowance in terms of Section 57 of Civil Procedure Code, or

3) In addition to above Section 51 (e) of Civil Procedure Code confers some more powers in the form of inherent powers of the Court when it says that- "In such other manner as the nature of the relief granted may require"

4. In this Court nearly 8000/ complaint cases relating to Section 138 of NI Act are pending. Due to non-cooperation of the police the Court despite striving hard is not able to achieve the desired results. Due to non- execution of decree or other processes NBW, summons or notices, the functioning of the Court has been paralyzed. Parties ceased to take any interest to settle the disputes by way of compromise due to failure of getting the benefit of the decree for want of execution/service of processes by the police or District magistrate. In this respect the court was compelled to write several letters to SSP Saharanpur but in vain. Photocopies of some letters are attached with the report.

5. So in order to combat gargantuan pendency of complaint cases under Section 138 of NI Act and the ever increasing melancholy by expeditious disposal it became the need of hour to motivate the parties for settlement by way of compromise I took recourse to Section 51 (e) of Civil Procedure Code which has recognized the inherent powers of the courts, and while exercising the inherent powers of the Court added default clauses in the form of imprisonment and interest and affixed the sample of proposed order in the notice board of the Court, in the office and Court-room also. In addition to it before taking on record any compromise I always made the parties and their counsels aware of the proposed order. The same practice was followed by me in this case also before verifying the compromise deed and only when the parties assented to the proposed order which was passed on 22-01-2024 the compromise deed was verified by me.

6. This power of the Court to adapt itself and interpret the law according to the changing needs of the society has been recognized by our Hon'ble the Constitutional Courts in the followings cases—

1. The luminous guideline in the interpretation of a constitutional provision is provided by the Supreme Court of United States in Weems v. U. S., (1909) 54 LEd 793 (801)---

"Legislation, both statutory and constitutional, is enacted, it is true, from an experience of evils, but its general language should not, therefore, be necessarily confined to the form that evil had therefore taken. Time works changes, brings into existence new conditions and purposes. Therefore, a principle, to be vital, must be capable of wider application than mischief which gave it birth. This is peculiarly true of Constitutions. They are, to use the words of Chief Justice Marshall, "designed to approach immortality as nearly as human institutions can approach it. "The future is their care, and provisions for events of good and bad tendencies of which no prophecy can be made in the application of a Constitution, therefore, our contemplation cannot be only of what has been, but of what may be. Under any other rule a Constitution would indeed be as easy of application as it would be deficient in efficacy and power. Its general principles would have little value, and be converted by precedent into impotent and lifeless formulas. Rights declared in the words might be lost in reality. And this has been recognized. The meaning and vitality of the Constitution have developed, against narrow and restrictive construction.

This principle of interpretation which requires that a constitutional provisions must be construed, not in a narrow and constricted sense, but in a wide and liberal manner so as to anticipate and take account of changing conditions and purposes so that the constitutional provision does not get atrophied or fossilized but remains flexible enough to meet the newly emerging problems and challenges, applied with greater force in relation to a fundamental right enacted by the Constitution. The fundamental right to life which is the most precious human right and which forms the ark of all other rights must therefore be interpreted in a broad and expansive spirit so as to invest, it with significance and vitality which may endure for years to come and enhance the dignity of the individual and the worth of the human persons." (Francis Corallie Mullin v. Administrator AIR 1981 SC 746)

2. Interpretation of the provisions-The Court is supposed to adapt itself according to the contemporary needs of the society- Justice M. Katju while criticizing the old licensing policy and its applicability in the then social needs observed as under—

"37. As a matter of fact, the vast expansion of the scope of Articles 14, 19 and 21 by the Supreme Court in the last 20 years or so itself proves that our Supreme Court has adopted the organic (or dynamic) approach. And this is very appropriate, since Courts must apply the law to flesh and blood, and not dry bones. Today our country is facing gigantic problems, social, economic and political, and unless a dynamic and activist approach is adopted the judiciary will be living in an ivory tower unconnected with reality. (Ganesh Chandra Bhatt vs. DM Almora AIR 1993 All 993)

3. Badshah v. Sou. Urmila Badshah Godse, AIR 2014 SC 869. This case related to standard of proof of legal marriage in a case under section 125 of the Code, the Supreme Court made a very emphatic observation regarding the ambit and object of the law provided by section 125 of the Code observed as under—

"Thirdly, in such cases, purposive interpretation needs to be given to the provisions of Section 125, Cr.P.C. While dealing with the application of destitute wife or helpless children or parents under this provision, the Court is dealing with the marginalized sections of the society. The purpose is to achieve "social justice" which is the Constitutional vision, enshrined in the Preamble of the Constitution of India. Preamble to the Constitution of India clearly signals that we have chosen the democratic path under rule of law to achieve the goal of securing for all its citizens, justice, liberty, equality and fraternity. It specifically highlights achieving their social justice. Therefore, it becomes the bounden duty of the Courts to advance the cause of the social justice. While giving interpretation to a particular provision, the Court is supposed to bridge the gap between the law and society."

The Supreme Court further observed-

"Of late, in this very direction, it is emphasized that the Courts have to adopt different approaches in "social justice adjudication", which is also known as "social context adjudication" as mere "adversarial approach" may not be very appropriate. There are number of social justice legislations giving special protection and benefits to vulnerable groups in the society. Prof. Madhava Menon describes it eloquently: "It is, therefore, respectfully submitted that "social context judging" is essentially the application of equality jurisprudence as evolved by Parliament and the Supreme Court in myriad situations presented before courts where unequal parties are pitted in adversarial proceedings and where courts are called upon to dispense equal justice. Apart from the social- economic inequalities accentuating the disabilities of the poor in an unequal fight, the adversarial process itself operates to the disadvantage of the weaker party. In such a situation, the Judge has to be not only sensitive to the inequalities of parties involved but also positively inclined to the weaker party if the imbalance were not to result in miscarriage of justice. This result is achieved by what we call social context judging or social justice adjudication."

It further observed.....

"The law regulates relationships between people. It prescribes patterns of behavior. It reflects the values of society. The role of the Court is to understand the purpose of law in society and to help the law achieve its purpose. But the law of a society is a living organism. It is based on a given factual and social reality that is constantly changing. Sometimes change in law precedes societal change and is even intended to stimulate it. In most cases, however, a change in law is the result of a change in social reality. Indeed, when social reality changes, the law must change too. Just as change in social reality is the law of life, responsiveness to change in social reality is the life of the law. It can be said that the history of law is the history of adapting the law to society's changing needs. In both Constitutional and statutory interpretation, the Court is supposed to exercise direction in determining the proper relationship between the subjective and objective purpose of the law."

Therefore, the Court held---

"Provision of maintenance would definitely fall in this category which aims at empowering the destitute and achieving social justice or equality and dignity of the Individual. While dealing with cases under this provision, drift in the approach from "adversarial" litigation to social context adjudication is the need of the hour."(Badshah v. Sou. Urmila Badshah Godse, AIR 2014 SC 869)

4. Ongoing statute---Power to adapt itself according to the changing needs of the society or public at large with the passage of time--Criminal Procedure Code is an ongoing statute---Supreme Court while explaining the meaning of ongoing statute observed that the Criminal Procedure Code is an ongoing statute, in the following words---

"In case of an ongoing statute, it is presumed that the Parliament intended the Court to apply a construction that continuously updates its wordings to allow for changes and is compatible with the contemporary situation. In paragraph 14 of the said decision, the Court observed thus-

"14. It must also be remembered that the Criminal Procedure Code is an ongoing statute. The principles of interpreting an ongoing statute have been very succinctly set out by the leading jurist Francis Bennion in his commentaries titled Statutory Interpretation, 2nd Edn. p. 617---

"It is presumed Parliament intends the court to apply to an ongoing Act a construction that continuously updates its wordings to allow for changes since the Act was initially framed. While it remains law, it has to be treated as always speaking. This means that in its application on any day, the language of the Act though necessarily embedded in its own time, is nevertheless to be construed in accordance with the need to treat it as a current law.

In construing an ongoing Act, the interpreter is to presume that Parliament intended the Act to be applied at any future time in such a way as to give effect to the original intention. Accordingly, the interpreter is to make allowances for any relevant changes that have occurred since the Act's passing, in law, in social conditions, technology, the meaning of words and other matters.... That today's construction involves the supposition that Parliament was catering long ago for a state of affairs that did not then exist is no argument against that construction. Parliament, in the wording of an enactment, is expected to anticipate temporal developments. The drafter will foresee the future and allow for the wording.

An enactment of former days is thus to be read today, in the light of dynamic processing received over the years, with such modification of the current meaning of its language as will now give effect to the original legislative intention. The reality and effect of dynamic processing provides the gradual adjustment. It is constituted by judicial interpretation, year in and year out. It also comprises processing by executive officials." (State of Maha. vs. Dr Praful B. Desai (2003) 4 SCC 601)

7. So in order to overcome the burden of increasing number of cheque bounce cases, when the police is not complying with the orders and the wrongdoers are not willing to pay the cheque amount despite orders of the court, need of the hour is to strengthen the hands of judicial officers and say good-bye to traditional approach of interpretation and instead of it to adopt renovative and dynamic approach.

8. Compromise means when both parties are willing to perform certain act in a certain manner in other words generally it is bilateral in nature. But in the following cases our Hon'ble the Apex Court and Hon'ble the High Court after having taken note of the increasing number of cases recognized the inherent powers of the court and thus empowered the court to decide the case even when the adversary was not ready to accept the proposal---

1. M/s Meters and Instruments Private Limited and Another vs. Kanchan Mehta AIR 2017 SC 4594" --In this case Hon'ble the Apex Court while recognizing the inherent powers of the court in para 18 (3) observed as under---

"The object of the provision being primarily compensatory, punitive element being mainly with the object of enforcing the compensatory element, compounding at the initial stage has to be encouraged but is not debarred at later stage subject to appropriate compensation as may be found acceptable to the parties or the Court. Though compounding requires consent of both parties, even in absence of such consent, the Court, in the interests of justice, on being satisfied that the complainant has been duly compensated, can in its discretion close the proceedings and discharge the accused."

2. Shrimati Rani Gaur vs. State of UP (2023)124 ACC 891 (All) ---While following the judgment rendered in M/s Meters and Instruments Private Limited and Another vs. Kanchan Mehta AIR 2017 SC 4594 observed as under..

"8. I studied both the judgments. The Supreme Court did not say that the requirement of consent for compounding may just be done away with. Instead widening the compensatory aspect of cases filed under Section 138 of the Negotiable Instrument Act, the Apex Court has carved out a window in the existing scheme of things saying that the case can be disposed of without obtaining direct consent of the complainant under certain circumstances. The circumstances included offering an amount just fair and acceptable which in the opinion of the court is appropriate for duly compensating the complainant, That is under certain circumstances the court can proceed in absence of direct consent. The court is empowered to apply its discretion in terms of provisions of Section 258 Cr.P.C. It may be made clear that this aspect of the matter is distinct and separate from compounding of the case where both the parties agree. The revisional court has remanded the matter to decide it afresh as per law laid down in M/s Meters and Instruments Private Limited and Another (supra). By the aforesaid judgment the Apex Court has emphasized that where an appropriate amount has been offered/deposited, the trial court may consider to drop the proceeding. Definitely the objections, if any, raised by complainant in this regard shall be taken into consideration before the court concerned decides to act upon on the basis of offer/deposit of appropriate amount as compensation. A pertinent question may arise as to criteria to be adopted for determination of amount of compensation which may be termed as just, fair and acceptable. In my opinion, provisions of section 138 N.I. Act regarding fine may act as the best guide coupled with all the peculiar facts and circumstances of each case to determine the amount of compensation being just, fair and acceptable. The court must record its satisfaction as regard above before it proceeds to finally decide and drop the proceedings under Section 258 Cr.P.C. Definitely the court is expected to apply its mind and judicial discretion when it proceeds to decide the matter in the light of M/s Meters and Instruments Private Limited and Another (supra). The court has not lost its power of discretion in such matters. In view of the above i do not find any cause for interference.”

9. Hon'ble the Supreme Court has always impressed upon the disposal of cheque bounce cases by way of amicable settlement. In order to motivate the parties to settle their disputes at the earliest stages it has formulated a graded scheme of imposing costs. In the case of "Damodar S. Prabhu vs. Sayed Babalal (2010) 5 SCC 663" Hon'ble the Supreme Court in para 21 has propounded thus-

21. With regard to the progression of litigation in cheque bouncing cases, the learned Attorney General has urged this Court to frame guidelines for a graded scheme of imposing costs on parties who unduly delay compounding of the offence. It was submitted that the requirement of deposit of the costs will act as a deterrent for delayed composition, since at present, free and easy compounding of offences at any stage, however belated, gives an incentive to the drawer of the cheque to delay settling the cases for years. An application for compounding made after several years not only results in the system being burdened but the complainant is also deprived of effective justice. In view of this submission, we direct that the following guidelines be followed

a) That directions can be given that the Writ of Summons be suitably modified making it clear to the accused that he could make an application for compounding of the offences at the first or second hearing of the case and that if such an application is made, compounding may be allowed by the court without imposing any costs on the accused.

b) If the accused does not make an application for compounding as aforesaid, then if an application for compounding is made before the Magistrate at a subsequent stage, compounding can be allowed subject to the condition that the accused will be required to pay 10% of the cheque amount to be deposited as a condition for compounding with the Legal Services Authority, or such authority as the Court deems fit.

c) Similarly, if the application for compounding is made before the Sessions Court or a High Court in revision or appeal, such compounding may be allowed on the condition that the accused pays 15% of the cheque amount by way of costs.

d) Finally, if the application for compounding is made before the Supreme Court, the figure would increase to 20% of the cheque amount.”

10. So in the light of law laid down by Hon'ble the Supreme Court in Damodar S. Prabhu case, the accused was required to pay 10% of the cheques' amount as the costs in the District Legal Services Authority. The present complaint case was filed in respect of following three cheques---

1. Cheque No. 418192 dated 28-6-2022 for the sum of Rs. 500,000/

2. Cheque No. 418193 dated 28-6-2022 for the sum of Rs. 500,000/ and

3. Cheque No. 418192 dated 28-6-2022 for the sum of Rs. 672,000/

11. Thus it becomes clear that the complaint case involved huge amount and the compromise was confined only up to the cheques' amount, but in order to encourage the compromise, the accused was exempted from paying 10% costs in the Legal Services Authority. Despite this fact the accused did not pay the settled amount till date. Why should the complainant suffer for the wrongs of accused for infinite time?

12. In this respect for the guidance of the subordinate courts of the Country Hon'ble the Supreme Court in the following cases has held that---

1. Sentencing policy---Uniform exercise of powers---Up to twice the cheque amount and interest at the rate of 9% per annum---The Apex Court in order to bring the uniformity in sentencing policy observed thus-

"As the provisions of Chapter XVII of the Act strongly lean towards grant of reimbursement of the loss by way of compensation, the court should unless there are special circumstances in all cases of conviction uniformly exercise the power to levy fine up to twice the cheque amount (keeping in view the cheque amount and the simple interest thereon at 9% per annum as the reasonable quantum of loss) and direct payment of such amount as compensation. Direction to pay compensation by way of restitution in regard to the loss on account of dishonour of the cheque should be practical and realistic, which would mean not only the payment of the cheque amount but interest thereon at reasonable rate. Uniformity and consistency in deciding similar cases by different courts not only increases the credibility of the cheque as a negotiable instrument, but also the credibility of courts of justice." (R Vijayan vs. Baby (2012)1 SCC (Cri) 520)

2. Section 138 NI Act---Dishonour of cheque---Powers of the court to close proceedings---In view of the above, we hold that where the cheque amount with interest and cost as assessed by the Court is paid by a specified date, the Court is entitled to close the proceedings in exercise of its powers under Section 143 of the Act read with Section 258 Cr.P.C. (M/S Meters And Industries Private Ltd vs Kanchan Mehta Criminal Appeal No 1731 of 2017 DOD 5-10-2017).

3. Dishonour of cheque---Compensation with interest at the rate of 9% per annum---Object of the Chapter XVII of NI Act---Punitive, compensatory and restitutive as well---Providing single window for all claims---As regard to the claim of compensation raised on behalf of the respondent, we are conscious of the settled principles that the object of Chapter XVII of the NIA is not only punitive but also compensatory and restitutive. The provisions of NIA envision a single window for criminal liability for dishonour of cheque as well as civil liability for realization of the cheque amount. It is also well settled that there needs to be a consistent approach towards awarding compensation and unless there exist special circumstances, the Courts should uniformly levy fine up to twice the cheque amount along with simple interest at the rate of 9% per annum. (M/S Kalamani Tex vs. P. Balasubramanian Criminal Appeal 123 of 2021 (DOD 10 February, 2021) SC) (Three Judge Bench)

13. So in order to avoid further loss of the bona-fide cheque holders due to delaying tactics adopted by the drawers of the cheque, in payment of the settled amount, payment as interest at the rate of 9% has been recognized by Hon'ble the Supreme Court. Therefore keeping in mind the general tactics of the dishonest drawers, the Court while passing the impugned order and in exercise of its inherent powers also added the condition of payment of interest at the rate of 9% in the order. The purpose of this addition is two folded one is to compensate the future/further loss to the bona-fide cheque holders and another is to make the wrongdoers aware that if the order is not obeyed they will not be able to take any advantage of delay and thus as a deterrence in the minds of wrong doers.

14. So, while passing the impugned order, the Court has not gone beyond the provisions or procedure prescribed by law. To the contrary what is implicit in the word "decree" has been made explicit by disclosing each and every consequence to be followed in case of non-compliance as deterrence in the mind of wrong doers. Had he obeyed the order he would not have faced the enumerated consequences.

15. As far as the question of presence of the parties is concerned on 22-01-2024 the impugned order was passed in Special Lok Adalata. On that day in total 169 cases were fixed and 57 cases were disposed of. The impugned order was passed by me on my lap-top. On my direction case was called out by the court peon/orderly and then order was typed by me on my lap top. As impugned order was passed more than 7 months earlier, so I have no personal knowledge about the presence of the parties. The orderly had told the parties present in the court. However, mistake in hearing cannot be ruled out due to heavy rush in court. It may be possible that the accused might be present but he deliberately might have avoided his signature on the order and in view of his conduct the later possibility appears more possible.

16. Thus order was passed with bona-fide intention simply to revive the faith of the general public which had been lost due to non-compliance by the police and the wrong-doers as well. However whatever directions are issued will be honoured and complied with utmost respectfully and sincerely.

17. Accordingly report is submitted for kind perusal."

7. From the aforesaid report, it appears that the learned Magistrate while exercising the jurisdiction sitting as a Presiding Officer of the Lok Adalat has confused himself that he is still exercising the powers of a Magistrate, who can pass the appropriate orders on the basis of a compromise compounding the offences under Section 138 of the N.I.Act. The moment, the same officer, who was holding the post of Magistrate takes up the matter as a Presiding Officer of the Lok Adalat seizes the power of the Magistrate and in Lok Adalat, the Presiding Officer's role is only that of a conciliator, who can facilitate the parties to arrive at a compromise and if the parties disagreed and did not settle their dispute, then the Lok Adalat is deprived of any powers of a Magistrate to adjudicate the dispute between the parties.

8. It is settled view that even if a criminal proceeding has been referred to the Lok Adalat, the award passed by the Lok Adalat shall be treated as a decree of a civil court and a decree of civil court cannot impose any penalty. In the instant case, the learned Magistrate is said to have been confused, while holding the Lok Adalat that is still having the power of a Magistrate to pass the appropriate orders in the in the interest of justice, which is reflected from the aforesaid report submitted by the learned Magistrate.

9. In the State of Punjab and another vs. Jalour Singh and others, AIR 2008 (2) SCC 660, three Judges Bench of the Apex Court has held as under:

"8. It is evident from the said provisions that Lok Adalats have no adjudicatory or judicial functions. Their functions relate purely to conciliation. A Lok Adalat determines a reference on the basis of a compromise or settlement between the parties at its instance, and put its seal of confirmation by making an award in terms of the compromise or settlement. When the Lok Adalat is not able to arrive at a settlement or compromise, no award is made and the case record is returned to the court from which the reference was received, for disposal in accordance with law. No Lok Adalat has the power to "hear" parties to adjudicate cases as a court does. It discusses the subject matter with the parties and persuades them to arrive at a just settlement. In their conciliatory role, the Lok Adalats are guided by principles of justice, equity, fair play. When the LSA Act refers to 'determination' by the Lok Adalat and 'award' by the Lok Adalat, the said Act does not contemplate nor require an adjudicatory judicial determination, but a non-adjudicatory determination based on a compromise or settlement, arrived at by the parties, with guidance and assistance from the Lok Adalat. The 'award' of the Lok Adalat does not mean any independent verdict or opinion arrived at by any decision making process. The making of the award is merely an administrative act of incorporating the terms of settlement or compromise agreed by parties in the presence of the Lok Adalat, in the form of an executable order under the signature and seal of the Lok Adalat.

9. But we find that many sitting or retired Judges, while participating in Lok Adalats as members, tend to conduct Lok Adalats like courts, by hearing parties, and imposing their views as to what is just and equitable, on the parties.

Sometimes they get carried away and proceed to pass orders on merits, as in this case, even though there is no consensus or settlement. Such acts, instead of fostering alternative dispute resolution through Lok Adalats, will drive the litigants away from Lok Adalats. Lok Adalats should resist their temptation to play the part of Judges and constantly strive to function as conciliators. The endeavour and effort of the Lok Adalats should be to guide and persuade the parties, with reference to principles of justice, equity and fair play to compromise and settle the dispute by explaining the pros and cons, strength and weaknesses, advantages and disadvantages of their respective claims.

12. It is true that where an award is made by Lok Adalat in terms of a settlement arrived at between the parties, (which is duly signed by parties and annexed to the award of the Lok Adalat), it becomes final and binding on the parties to the settlement and becomes executable as if it is a decree of a civil court, and no appeal lies against it to any court. If any party wants to challenge such an award based on settlement, it can be done only by filing a petition under Article 226 and/or Article 227 of the Constitution, that too on very limited grounds. But where no compromise or settlement is signed by the parties and the order of the Lok Adalat does not refer to any settlement, but directs the respondent to either make payment if it agrees to the order, or approach the High Court for disposal of appeal on merits, if it does not agree, is not an award of the Lok Adalat. The question of challenging such an order in a petition under Article 227 does not arise. As already noticed, in such a situation, the High Court ought to have heard and disposed of the appeal on merits."

10. The aforesaid view has been further affirmed by the Apex Court in Bharvagi Construction vs. Kothakapu Muthyam Reddy and others, AIR 2017 SC 4428, wherein the Apex Court has held as under :

"27. In our considered view, the aforesaid law laid down by this Court is binding on all the Courts in the country by virtue of mandate of Article 141 of the Constitution. This Court, in no uncertain terms, has laid down that challenge to the award of Lok Adalat can be done only by filing a writ petition under Article 226 and/or Article 227 of the Constitution of India in the High Court and that too on very limited grounds.

28. In the light of clear pronouncement of the law by this Court, we are of the opinion that the only remedy available to the aggrieved person(respondents herein/plaintiffs) was to file a writ petition under Article 226 and/or 227 of the Constitution of India in the High Court for challenging the award dated 22.08.2007 passed by the Lok Adalat. It was then for the writ Court to decide as to whether any ground was made out by the writ petitioners for quashing the award and, if so, whether those grounds are sufficient for its quashing."

11. Thus, in the considered opinion of this Court, the report submitted by the Magistrate is not the correct understanding the powers of the Lok Adalat and the Magistrate is confused while sitting as a Presiding Officer of a Lok Adalat, he still have a power of the Magistrate. Therefore, in view of the aforesaid settled view as has been laid down by the Apex Court in the aforesaid judgments, the Presiding Officer of a Lok Adalat is not empowered to include any condition beyond the compromise/settlement between the parties. Thus, the conditions of punishment in case of default of the payment of settlement amount and payment of interest at the rate of 9% could not have been imposed by the learned Magistrate as the same were not the part of the compromise arrived at between the parties. Had the Magistrate concerned passed the similar orders while passing the orders under Section 147 of the N.I. Act, while compounding the offences under Section 138 of the N.I. Act, it would be open for him to impose just the appropriate conditions in the interest of justice but while exercising the jurisdiction and powers of a Lok Adalat, the Magistrate concerned was debarred from exercising the power of Magistrate and it was not open for him to impose such conditions.

12. However, Sri Anil Kumar Srivastava, learned Senior Advocate appearing for the opposite party no.2 placing reliance upon the aforesaid two judgments submits that an award passed by the Lok Adalat is a decree passed by a civil court, which can be challenged only by way of the writ petition under Article 226 and 227 of the Constitution of India. The powers of the High Court under Section 482 Cr.P.C. against an award passed by the Lok Adalat cannot be invoked.

13. Per contra, learned counsel for the applicant submits that since the punishment of imprisonment in case of default has been imposed in the award passed by the Lok Adalat in a proceeding arising out of a criminal complaint case, the powers of Section 482 Cr.P.C. are amenable to a party aggrieved by such an award passed by Lok Adalat.

14. As has been held by the Apex Court in Jalour Singh (supra) against an award passed by the Lok Adalat. The same can be challenged only by way of a petition under Section 226 or 227 of the Constitution of India and not otherwise and the aforesaid views have already been affirmed in Bharvagi Construction (supra) by the Apex Court. In view thereof, the instant application under Section 482 Cr.P.C. against the award of Lok Adalat is not maintainable. Therefore, this Court while exercising the jurisdiction under Section 482 Cr.P.C. cannot interfere with the Award passed by the Lok Adalat, which is a decree passed by civil court, and is not amenable to the criminal jurisdiction under Section 482 Cr.P.C.

15. With the aforesaid observations, the instant application is disposed of.

16. The Registrar (Compliance) is directed to communicate this order to the State Legal Services Authority as well as all the District Legal Services Authorities, who shall communicate this order to all the Presiding Officers holding the Lok Adalat.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Mrs. Manju Rani Chauhan, J.)

1. Heard Mr. Manish Kumar Singh, Advocate holding brief of Mr. Kailash Pati Singh, learned counsel for the applicant as well as Mr. D.P. Singh, learned AGA for the State and perused the record.

2. This application under Section 482 Cr.P.C. has been filed to quash the impugned order dated 08.05.2024 passed by Special Judge SC/ST Act Chandauli in Criminal Misc. Case No.78 of 2024 (Mukesh Kharwar vs. Arun Kumar and Others), Police Station- Baluwa, District- Chandauli as well as stay the further proceedings of the aforesaid case, pending in the court of Special Judge SC/ST Act Chandauli.

3. Considering the nature of the order under challenge as well as order proposed to be passed, as purely equal question is involved, no fruitful purpose will be served in keeping this matter pending, therefore, the matter is being decided at this stage without calling for counter affidavit.

4. Brief facts of the case are that an application under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. was moved by the applicant with the allegations that the applicant is an elected Member of Kshetra Panchayat, Kshetra Sankhya 83, Kshetra Papaura Vikas Khand Chahaniya, District- Chandauli. On 04.03.2024, the applicant along with 66 Kshetra Panchayat Members had gathered at the office of the District Magistrate, Chandauli to propose no confidence motion against Arun Kumar Jaiswal, Block Pramukh Chahaniya, District- Chandauli. Annoyed by the aforesaid, on 14.03.2023 at about 08:15 am when the applicant was performing pooja at the village's Radha Krishna Mandir, villagers namely Gopal Singh @ Bablu and Monu Singh reached there and forced the applicant to sign on the affidavit in favour of Block Pramukh. When the applicant refused to sign the same, they used abusive language, caste indicative words and assaulted him. They forcefully tried to take him on the motorcycle and assaulted him with hand and fist. Hearing the noise, the applicant's wife and other villagers reached there and tried to intervene. It has been further alleged that the applicant tried to lodge an FIR by giving an application before the concerned police station but of no avail, therefore, the present application has been filed. The aforesaid application was treated as complaint case thus, refusing the prayer to issue direction to lodge the FIR on the ground that the facts of the case were known to the applicant.

5. Learned counsel for the applicant submits that the application under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. discloses commission of cognizable offence and as such the Magistrate must have directed for registration of first information report and investigation by the police, instead of treating the application as a complaint case. He further submits that the order impugned has been passed mechanically and in a routine manner, which does not manifest the application of judicious mind to the facts of the case and law applicable therein. In support of his submission, he has placed reliance upon the judgment passed by this Court in the case of Anmol Singh vs. State of U.P. and Others reported in 2021 (1) ADJ 400.

6. Learned A.G.A. on the other hand has supported the impugned order and has pointed out that the grievance of the applicant has not gone unattended by the court below. The court below after taking into consideration the entire gamut of the facts and circumstances of the case has rightly concluded to treat the application filed by the applicant under Section 156 (3) Cr.P.C. as a complaint. The applicant shall still have an opportunity to prove his case before the court below.

7. Having heard the learned counsel for the parties, the following question has come up for consideration before this Court :-

8. Whether the Magistrate is bound to pass an order on each and every application under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. containing allegations of commission of a cognizable offence for registration of the F.I.R. and its investigation by the police even if those allegations, prima-facie, do not appear to be genuine and do not appeal to reason, or he can exercise judicial discretion in the matter and can pass order for treating it as 'complaint' or to reject it in suitable cases?

9. In other words, the question arises that when a Magistrate is approached by a complainant with an application praying for a direction to the police under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. to register and investigate an alleged cognizable offence, why he should :-

(a) grant the relief of registration of a case and its investigation by the police under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. and when should he

(b) treat the application as a complaint and follow the procedure of Chapter XV of Cr.P.C.

10. Before dealing with the question, it will be appropriate to discuss some provisions to answer the aforesaid question.

11. Section 154 and 156 Cr. P. C. provides for the registration and investigation of complaint. The same are reproduced herein under:-

"154. Information in cognizable cases.

(1) Every information relating to the commission of a cognizable offence, if given orally to an officer in charge of a police station, shall be reduced to writing by him or under his direction, and be read Over to the informant; and every such information, whether given in writing or reduced to writing as aforesaid, shall be signed by the person giving it, and the substance thereof shall be entered in a book to be kept by such officer in such form as the State Government may prescribe in this behalf.

(2) A copy of the information as recorded under sub- section (1) shall be given forthwith, free of cost, to the informant.

(3) Any person aggrieved by a refusal on the part of an officer in charge of a police station to record the information referred to in subsection (1) may send the substance of such information, in writing and by post, to the Superintendent of Police concerned who, if satisfied that such information discloses the commission of a cognizable offence, shall either investigate the case himself or direct an investigation to be made by any police officer subordinate to him, in the manner provided by this Code, and such officer shall have all the powers of an officer in charge of the police station in relation to that offence."

12. Section 156 Cr.P.C. is quoted herein below:-

"156. Police officer' s power to investigate cognizable case.

(1) Any officer in charge of a police station may, without the order of a Magistrate, investigate any cognizable case which a Court having jurisdiction over the local area within the limits of such station would have power to inquire into or try under the provisions of Chapter XIII.

(2) No proceeding of a police officer in any such case shall at any stage be called in question on the ground that the case was one which such officer was not empowered under this section to investigate.

(3) Any Magistrate empowered under section 190 may order such an investigation as above- mentioned."

13. From the perusal of the aforesaid provision as well as Section 154 Cr.P.C., it is evident that the police can investigate into matters relating to commission of 'cognizable offences' brought to its notice under section 154 Cr.P.C. Officer-in-charge of police station has power to investigate U/S 156(1) in such case. Magistrate has power to take cognizance u/s 190 Cr.P.C. on receiving the 'complaint'. Thus the matter relating to section 156 (3) relates to power of Magistrate to order investigation by police in matters relating to cognizable offences brought before it through complaint. Complaint has been defined in section 2(d) Cr.P.C. of as follows : "complaint" means any allegation made orally or in writing to a Magistrate, with a view to his taking action under this Code, that some person whether known or unknown, has committed an offence, but does not include a Police report." Code of Criminal Procedure has given different type of powers to deal with such matters relating to commission of cognizable offences when brought before it. A Division bench of this Court in the case of 'Sukhwasi v. State of U.P., 2007(59) ACC 739' held as under:

"Applications under section 156(3) Cr.P.C. are coming in torrents. Provisions under section 156(3) Cr.P.C. should be used sparingly. They should not be used unless there is something unusual and extra ordinary like miscarriage of justice which warrants a direction to the Police to register a case. Such application should not be allowed because the law provides them with an alternative remedy of filing a complaint; therefore, recourse should not normally be permitted for availing the provisions of section 156(3) Cr.P.C.

The reference is, therefore, answered in the manner that it is not incumbent upon a Magistrate to allow an application section 156(3) Cr.P.C. and there is no such legal mandate."

However, the said judgement does not provide any reason as to why FIR should not be registered in respect of a cognizable offence.

14. The Apex Court in the case of Lalita Kumari Vs Government of Uttar Pradesh and another, reported in 2014 (2) SCC 1 has discussed as follows :-

"i) Registration of FIR is mandatory under Section 154 of the Code, if the information discloses commission of a cognizable offence and no preliminary inquiry is permissible in such a situation.

ii) If the information received does not disclose a cognizable offence but indicates the necessity for an inquiry, a preliminary inquiry may be conducted only to ascertain whether cognizable offence is disclosed or not.

iii) If the inquiry discloses the commission of a cognizable offence, the FIR must be registered. In cases where preliminary inquiry ends in closing the complaint, a copy of the entry of such closure must be supplied to the first informant forthwith and not later than one week. It must disclose reasons in brief for closing the complaint and not proceeding further.

iv) The police officer cannot avoid his duty of registering offence if cognizable offence is disclosed. Action must be taken against erring officers who do not register the FIR if information received by him discloses a cognizable offence.

v) The scope of preliminary inquiry is not to verify the veracity or otherwise of the information received but only to ascertain whether the information reveals any cognizable offence.

vi) As to what type and in which cases preliminary inquiry is to be conducted will depend on the facts and circumstances of each case. The category of cases in which preliminary inquiry may be made are as under:

a) Matrimonial disputes/ family disputes

b) Commercial offences

c) Medical negligence cases

d) Corruption cases

e) Cases where there is abnormal delay/laches in initiating criminal prosecution, for example, over 3 months delay in reporting the matter without satisfactorily explaining the reasons for delay.

The aforesaid are only illustrations and not exhaustive of all conditions which may warrant preliminary inquiry.

vii) While ensuring and protecting the rights of the accused and the complainant, a preliminary inquiry should be made time bound and in any case it should not exceed 7 days. The fact of such delay and the causes of it must be reflected in the General Diary entry.

viii) Since the General Diary/Station Diary/Daily Diary is the record of all information received in a police station, we direct that all information relating to cognizable offences, whether resulting in registration of FIR or leading to an inquiry, must be mandatorily and meticulously reflected in the said Diary and the decision to conduct a preliminary inquiry must also be reflected, as mentioned above."

15. From the above discussion, it is clear that the scheme of Cr.P.C. and the prevailing circumstances require that the option to direct the registration of the case and its investigation by the police should be exercised where some "investigation" is required, which is of a nature that is not possible for the private complainant, and which can only be done by the police upon whom statute has conferred the powers essential for investigation, for example

(1) where the full details of the accused are not known to the complainant and the same can be determined only as a result of investigation, or

(2) where recovery of abducted person or stolen property is required to be made by conducting raids or searches of suspected places or persons, or

(3) where for the purpose of launching a successful prosecution of the accused evidence is required to be collected and preserved. To illustrate by example cases may be visualised where for production before Court at the trial (a) sample of blood soaked soil is to be taken and kept sealed for fixing the place of incident; or (b) recovery of case property is to be made and kept sealed; or (c) recovery under Section 27 of the Evidence Act; or (d) preparation of inquest report; or (e) witnesses are not known and have to be found out or discovered through the process of investigation.

16. Thus, where the complainant is in possession of the complete details of all the accused as well as the witnesses who have to be examined and neither recovery is needed nor any such material evidence is required to be collected which can be done only by the police, no "investigation" would normally be required and the procedure of complaint case should be adopted. It must be kept in mind that adding unnecessary cases to the diary of the police would impair their efficiency in respect of cases genuinely requiring investigation. Besides even after taking cognizance and proceeding under Chapter XV the Magistrate can still under Section 202(1) Cr. P.C. order investigation, even thought of a limited nature.

17. The position has been clarified in the judgement passed by the Apex Court in the case of Suresh Chand Jain vs. State of M.P. and Another reported in (2001) 2 SCC 628 which while dealing with the issue has held as follows :-

"Any Judicial Magistrate, before taking cognizance of the offence, can order investigation under Section 156(3) of the Code. If he does so, he is not to examine the complainant on oath because he was not taking cognizance of any offence therein. For the purpose of enabling the police to start investigation it is open to the Magistrate to direct the police to register an FIR. There is nothing illegal in doing so. After all registration of an FIR involves only the process of entering the substance of the information relating to the commission of the cognizable offence in a book kept by the officer in charge of the police station as indicated in Section 154 of the Code. Even if a Magistrate does not say in so many words while directing investigation under Section 156(3) of the Code that an FIR should be registered, it is the duty of the officer in charge of the police station to register the FIR regarding the cognizable offence disclosed by the complaint because that police officer could take further steps contemplated in Chapter XII of the Code only thereafter."

18. The Co-ordinate Bench of this Court while dealing with the issue in the case of Lalaram v. State of U.P. and 13 others passed in Criminal Revision No. 1611 of 2020, decided on 18.12.2020 (Neutral Citation No. - 2020:AHC:119365) has summarized the following propositions :-

"40. From the aforesaid judgments, some of the following proposition of law, well settled, may be summarized as under :-

(40.01). Under Section 154 of the Code, if the information discloses commission of a cognizable offence it is the mandatory duty of the police officer in charge to register the FIR. He cannot avoid his duty of registering offence, if cognizable offence is made out.

(40.02). If FIR is not registered, the person aggrieved by a refusal to record the information has remedy to approach the Superintendent of Police by submitting an application in writing and by post to enable him to satisfy if such information discloses the commission of a cognizable offence and in case of such satisfaction, either to investigate himself or direct an investigation to be made by any police officer subordinate to him.

(40.03). If the person still feels aggrieved from inaction of the police authorities he has the remedy to approach the Magistrate by way of application under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C.,

(40.04). On such an application having been made, if, the Magistrate finds that a cognizable offence is made out, the Magistrate may direct the police to register the FIR and investigate the matter, without taking cognizance.

(40.05). The other option open to the Magistrate is to take cognizance on the complaint, register it as a complaint case and proceed as per the procedure prescribed under Chapter

XV Cr.P.C. The Magistrate would record the statement of the complainant and the witnesses if any present, under Section 200 Cr.P.C. He may, if he thinks fit and shall in cases where accused resides outside the area of exercise of jurisdiction of the Magistrate concerned, either enquire into the case himself or direct an investigation to be made by a police officer or by such other person as he thinks fit, under Section 202(1) Cr.P.C. Thereafter, he shall pass order, either under Section 203 dismissing the complaint, for brief reasons to be recorded, or he shall issue process under Section 204 Cr.P.C.

(40.06). In either case, i.e. issuing direction for investigation by the police officer under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. or taking cognizance and registering it as a complaint case, the Magistrate has to apply judicial mind. There cannot be mechanical exercise of jurisdiction or exercise in a routine manner. Mere statement in the order that he has gone through the complaint, documents and heard the complainant will not be sufficient. What weighed with the Magistrate to order investigation or to take cognizance should be reflected in the order, although a detailed expression of his view is neither required nor warranted.

(40.07). The exercise of discretion by the Magistrate is basically guided by interest of justice, from case to case.

(40.08). However, where some investigation is required which is of a nature that is not possible for the private complainant and which can only be done by the police officer upon whom statute has conferred the powers essential for investigation, the option to direct the registration of the FIR and its investigation by the police officer should be exercised, for example:-

(i) where the full details of the accused are not known to the complainant and the same can be determined only as a result of investigation, or

(ii) where recovery of abducted person or stolen property is required to be made by conducting raids or searches of suspected places or persons, or

(iii) where for the purpose of launching a successful prosecution of the accused evidence is required to be collected and preserved, and to illustrate this, by few example cases may be visualised where for production before Court at the trial

(a) sample of blood soaked soil is to be taken and kept sealed for fixing the place of incident; or

(b) recovery of case property is to be made and kept sealed; or

(c) recovery under Section 27 of the Evidence Act; or

(d) preparation of inquest report; or

(e) witnesses are not known and have to be found out or discovered through the process of investigation.

(40.09). Where the complainant is in possession of the complete details of all the accused and the witnesses who have to be examined and neither recovery is needed nor any such material evidence is required to be collected which can be done only by the police, no "investigation" would normally be required and the procedure of complaint case should be adopted.

(40.10). Category of cases falling under para 120.6 in Lalita Kumari (Supra) i.e.

(a) Matrimonial disputes/family disputes

(b) Commercial offences

(c) Medical negligence cases,

(d) Corruption cases

(e) Cases where there is abnormal delay in filling criminal complaint etc. may fall under Section 202 Cr.P.C.

(40.11). The Magistrate should also keep in view that primarily, it is the duty of the State/police to investigate the cases involving cognizable offence. Generally, the burden of proof to bring the guilt of the accused is on the State and this burden is a heavy burden to prove the guilt beyond all reasonable doubts. This burden should not unreasonably be shifted on an individual/complainant from the State by treating the application under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. as a complaint case.

(40.12). The investigation which the police officer or such other person makes in pursuance of the direction of the Magistrate under Section 202(1) Cr.P.C. is the same kind of investigation as is required to be conducted by police officer, under Chapter XII Cr.P.C. which ends with submission of the report as per Section 173(2) Cr.P.C.

(40.13). The distinction between the investigation by the police officer under Section 156(3) and under Section 202(1) Cr.P.C. is that the former is at the pre-cognizance stage and the latter is at post cognizance stage, when the Magistrate is seisin of the case. The investigation under Section 202(1) Cr.P.C. is for the purpose of ascertaining the truth or false hood of the complaint for helping the Magistrate to decide, whether or not there is sufficient ground, for him to proceed further against the accused by issuing process, whereas, the inquiry report under Section 173(2)

Cr.P.C. of the investigation made by the police of its own or under the directions of the Magistrate under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. is for the purpose of enabling the Magistrate to take cognizance of an offence under Section 190(1)(a) Cr.P.C.

(40.14). Once cognizance is taken on the application under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. by the Magistrate and he embarks upon the procedure embodied in Chapter XV, he would not be competent to revert to the pre-cognizance stage under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C.

(40.15). If the Magistrate did not order for police investigation under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. and took cognizance of the case, that would not be bar to the exercise of the power of the Magistrate for directing the police investigation under Section 202(1) Cr.P.C."

19. Perusal of the impugned order shows that no sufficient reason has been disclosed, on the basis of which, the Magistrate has proceeded to treat the application under section 156(3) Cr.P.C. as a complaint. Merely because the facts are in the knowledge of the applicant, direction to lodge FIR cannot be refused. The gravity/seriousness of the offence; the requirement of the evidence for the purpose of launching a successful prosecution, and basically the interest of justice depending on the facts of each case, need be considered in passing the order under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. The impugned order does not assign any valid reason nor reflects application of judicious mind and has been passed in a mechanical manner only on the ground that the facts of the case were within the knowledge of the applicant, thus, the same is liable to be set-aside.

20. The present Application U/S 482 is allowed.

21. Accordingly, the impugned order dated 08.05.2024 is set aside with the direction to the court concerned to pass a fresh order on the application under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. filed by the applicant after affording opportunity of hearing to both the parties, in accordance with law, within a period of one month from the date of production of certified copy of this order.

1. आवेदक के लिए विद्वान अधिवक्ता श्री श्याम सुंदर मिश्रा के संक्षिप्त धारक विद्वान अधिवक्ता श्री राजीव द्विवेदी, और राज्य के लिए विद्वान ए.जी.ए. श्री डी.पी. सिंह को सुना गया और अभिलेख का परिशीलन किया गया।

2. दं.प्र.सं. की धारा 482 के अंतर्गत यह आवेदन, आरोप पत्र दिनांकित 09.10.2022 और संज्ञान आदेश/समन आदेश दिनांकित 23.02.2024 के साथ-साथ मुकदमा अपराध संख्या 171/2024 अन्तर्गत धारा 354, 452, 504, 323 भा.दं.सं., थाना-कोतवाली, जिला-फतेहपुर से उद्भूत अपराधिक मुकदमा सं. 171/2024 (राज्य बनाम मोहम्मद रिजवान खान और अन्य), जो सिविल जज (जूनियर डिवीजन)/ एफ.टी.सी/ सी.ए.डब्ल्यू, फतेहपुर की अदालत में लंबित है, की सम्पूर्ण कार्यवाही को रद्द करने के लिए दायर किया गया है।

3. आवेदकों के विद्वान अधिवक्ता ने प्रस्तुत किया कि दिनांक 13.09.2022 की घटना के लिए, आवेदक मोहम्मद रिजवान खान, गुड्डू उर्फ मोहम्मद रेहान और मोहम्मद नदीम खान के खिलाफ प्रतिपक्षी संख्या 2 द्वारा दिनांक 15.09.2022 को लगभग 17:21 बजे भा.दं.सं. की धारा 354, 452, 323, 504 के तहत एफआईआर दर्ज की गई है। विवेचना के बाद आवेदकों के खिलाफ दिनांक 09.10.2022 को आरोप पत्र प्रस्तुत किया गया, जिस पर संबंधित न्यायालय ने केवल दो व्यक्तियों, यानी मोहम्मद रिजवान खान और गुड्डू उर्फ मोहम्मद रेहान के खिलाफ दिनांक 23.02.2024 को संज्ञान लिया, बिना यह उल्लेख किए कि आरोपी मोहम्मद नदीम खान को दोषमुक्त क्यों

4. विद्वान ए.जी.ए. आवेदकों के विद्वान अधिवक्ता द्वारा प्रस्तुत किए गए तर्कों की सत्यता पर प्रतिवाद नहीं किया और यदि संज्ञान/समन आदेश को रद्द कर दिया जाता है तो उन्हें कोई आपत्ति नहीं है।

5. पक्षकारों के विद्वान अधिवक्ता द्वारा प्रस्तुत तर्कों पर विस्तृत और गहन विमर्श करने के पश्चात, तथा आवेदन के समस्त अभिलेखों का सूक्ष्म और समग्र अवलोकन करने के उपरांत, यह माननीय न्यायालय इस निष्कर्ष पर पहुँचती है कि दिनांक 23.03.2024 का संज्ञान/समन आदेश अधीनस्थ न्यायालय द्वारा बिना समुचित विवेकाधीन शक्ति के प्रयोग और बिना किसी स्पष्ट कारण के पारित किया गया है। उक्त आदेश में यह उल्लेखित नहीं किया गया कि अभियुक्त मोहम्मद नदीम खान को दोषमुक्त किए जाने का कारण क्या था, अथवा

उसे न्यायालय के समक्ष प्रस्तुत होने के लिए क्यों नहीं बुलाया गया।

6. यह विधिक सिद्धांत दीर्घकाल से स्थापित और सुव्यवस्थित है कि किसी भी आदेश, चाहे वह प्रशासनिक प्रकृति का हो या न्यायिक, उसमें तर्कपूर्ण और विधिक आधारों के रूप में स्पष्ट कारणों का उल्लेख अपरिहार्य होता है। यह केवल एक विधिक औपचारिकता नहीं, बल्कि न्यायिक प्रक्रिया का एक बुनियादी और अभिन्न अंग है। कारण किसी भी निर्णय की आधारशिला होते हैं और निर्णय के पीछे की न्यायिक मंशा और तर्कशीलता को प्रकट करते हैं। यदि किसी आदेश में कारणों का अभाव हो, तो वह आदेश न केवल विधिक दृष्टि से दुर्बल हो जाता है, अपितु न्यायिक प्रक्रिया के मूल सिद्धांतों के साथ भी अन्याय करता है।

7. अतिरिक्त रूप से, न्यायिक प्रक्रिया में कारण लेखन की अनिवार्यता का प्रमुख ध्येय यह है कि यह न्यायाधीश की व्यक्तिनिष्ठता को नियंत्रित करते हुए निष्पक्ष और वस्तुनिष्ठ निर्णय प्रदान करता है। यह सुनिश्चित करता है कि कोई भी निर्णय पूर्वाग्रह या निजी दृष्टिकोण के आधार पर नहीं, बल्कि तथ्यों और प्रमाणों के निरपेक्ष विश्लेषण के आधार पर पारित किया जाए। इसके साथ ही, निर्णय में कारण दर्ज करने की यह प्रक्रिया निर्णय की पारदर्शिता को भी प्रकट करती है, जिससे संबद्ध पक्षों को यह समझने में सहायता मिलती है कि उनके मामले में न्यायालय द्वारा किस प्रकार का विवेकाधिकार प्रयोग किया गया है और किन आधारों पर निर्णय लिया गया है।

8. यह भी अत्यंत महत्वपूर्ण है कि कारण लेखन की यह प्रक्रिया 'प्राकृतिक न्याय' के सिद्धांत का अंग मानी जाती है। यह न्यायिक निष्पक्षता, पारदर्शिता, और निर्णय की उत्तरदायित्वता सुनिश्चित करने का आवश्यक साधन है। यदि किसी आदेश या निर्णय में समुचित कारण दर्ज नहीं किए गए हैं, तो संबद्ध पक्षों के लिए यह समझ पाना कठिन हो जाता है कि उनके खिलाफ किस प्रकार के आधारों पर आदेश पारित किया गया है, जिससे न्याय का उद्देश्य असफल हो सकता है। न्यायपालिका का यह परम कर्तव्य है कि वह प्रत्येक निर्णय में पारदर्शिता, निष्पक्षता और तर्कशीलता का पालन करे, ताकि विधि के शासन में जनता का विश्वास दृढ़ और अक्षुण्ण बना रहे।

9. सर्वोच्च न्यायालय द्वारा संत लाल गुप्ता और अन्य बनाम मॉडर्न कोऑपरेटिव ग्रुप हाउसिंग सोसाइटी लिमिटेड और अन्य¹, के मामले में निम्नानुसार अवधारित किया है:

"27. यह एक स्थापित कानूनी प्रस्ताव है कि न केवल प्रशासनिक बल्कि न्यायिक आदेशों को भी इसमें दर्ज कारणों द्वारा समर्थित होना चाहिए ...

आदेश को लिखित रूप में दर्ज कारणों द्वारा समर्थित होना चाहिए। यह निर्णय लेने में पारदर्शिता और निष्पक्षता सुनिश्चित करता है। जिस व्यक्ति पर प्रतिकूल प्रभाव पड़ता है, उसे पता होना चाहिए कि उसका आवेदन क्यों खारिज किया गया है।"

(हिंदी अनुवादित)

10. इस प्रकरण में सर्वोच्च न्यायालय द्वारा प्रतिपादित विधिक सिद्धांतों का अनुकरण करते हुए, इस न्यायालय का यह स्पष्ट मत है कि दिनांक 23.02.2024 को पारित आक्षेपित संज्ञान/समन आदेश में किसी प्रकार के विधिक तर्क या कारण का अभाव है। किसी भी न्यायिक आदेश का ठोस कारणों और विधिक आधारों पर समर्थित होना अनिवार्य है, और उक्त आदेश का इन आवश्यकताओं से रहित होना इसे विधिक दृष्टि से दुर्बल और अस्थिर बनाता है। अतः यह आक्षेपित संज्ञान/समन आदेश न्यायिक दृष्टिकोण से बलहीन है और विधिक परिप्रेक्ष्य में पोषणीय नहीं कहा जा सकता।

11. तदनुसार, इस न्यायालय द्वारा यह निर्णय लिया जाता है कि दिनांक 23.02.2024 को संबंधित न्यायालय द्वारा पारित संज्ञान/समन आदेश को निरस्त किया जाए, क्योंकि यह विधिक मानदंडों और न्यायिक विवेक के अभाव में पारित किया गया है। यह आदेश न्यायिक प्रक्रिया के उन मौलिक सिद्धांतों का उल्लंघन करता है जिनके अंतर्गत किसी भी न्यायिक निर्णय में पर्याप्त कारणों का उल्लेख किया जाना आवश्यक है।

12. इसके अतिरिक्त, यह निर्देश दिया जाता है कि संबंधित न्यायालय, इस न्यायालय द्वारा पारित आदेश की प्रमाणित प्रति प्राप्त होने की तिथि से एक माह के भीतर, समस्त अभिलेखों और तथ्यों का सम्यक अवलोकन कर, विधि के अनुसार, एक नया, विधिसम्मत, आख्यायित एवं तर्कसंगत आदेश पारित करेगा। नया आदेश पारित करते समय न्यायालय यह सुनिश्चित करेगा कि उस आदेश में पर्याप्त तर्क, प्रमाणिक आधार और विधिक निष्कर्ष स्पष्ट रूप से उल्लिखित हों, ताकि न्याय की प्रक्रिया का सम्यक निर्वहन हो सके।

13. यह भी सुनिश्चित किया जाना चाहिए कि संबंधित न्यायालय अपने निर्णय में उचित कारणों का उल्लेख करते हुए, पक्षकारों के अधिकारों और तथ्यों की विस्तृत समीक्षा के बाद निष्कर्ष पर पहुँचे। इस प्रकार का आदेश न केवल विधि की दृष्टि से उचित होगा, बल्कि न्यायालय की निष्पक्षता, पारदर्शिता और उत्तरदायित्व का भी प्रमाण होगा, जो कि न्यायिक प्रक्रिया के मूलभूत सिद्धांतों में से एक है।

14. उपरोक्त निर्देशों एवं टिप्पणियों के आलोक में, प्रस्तुत आवेदन स्वीकृत किया जाता है।

15. कार्यालय को निर्देशित किया जाता है कि इस आदेश की प्रमाणित प्रति एक सप्ताह की अवधि के भीतर संबंधित न्यायालय को प्रेषित की जाए, ताकि विधिक प्रक्रिया का सम्यक् अनुपालन सुनिश्चित हो सके।

More so, no illegality is apparent on the face of record at the time of adjudication of writ petition No. 12216 of 2010, wherein interim protection has been extended at the time of admission and later on considering the bonafide of the petitioner, the matter has been remitted back to the respondent no. 2 for deciding afresh.

16. Learned Standing Counsel sought attention of the court over the ground which has formed the basis of passing the order dated 12.09.2012 but at the same time fails to apprise that once the decision has been taken up by the respondent no. 1 in favour of the respondent no. 5, wherein the same position was prevalent as mentioned in the order which impugned in the present petition how the case of the petitioner are different with respondent no. 5, whereas, the allegation which has been put forward by the respondent no. 5 was only against one Mohd. Sayeed and not at all against the petitioners. The reasoning behind order dated 12.09.2012 is contrary to the order 03.08.2010.

17. It is also informed by learned counsel for the petitioners are not paid their salaries till June, 2012 and thereafter retired during pendency of the instant writ petition.

18. After having the rival submissions extended by learned counsel for the parties and after perusal of the counter affidavit preferred by respondent no. 5 which more or less supporting the case of the petitioners, the order dated 12.09.2012 is hereby set aside. All the petitioners are thereby treated as permanent incumbent of the institution, arrears of salary from July, 2012 till date of their retirements be extended. Since there is hardly any case made out by the respondents that the petitioners never rendered their services for the institution and thereafter, retiral benefits admissible to the petitioners be also extended within a period of six months from the date of production of certified copy of this order.

19. The writ petition stands allowed accordingly."

FACTS

3. The facts in a nutshell relevant and essential for disposal of instant appeal are noted herein below.

4. The opposite parties-petitioners while preferring the writ petition had challenged the order dated 12.09.2012 passed by Director of Education (Basic), U.P. on the ground that he had rejected the representation of the petitioners overlooking the order dated 03.08.2012 passed by Special Secretary, Government of U.P. and also prayed for direction to the respondents to pay the salary and all the emoluments to the petitioners.

5. The claim of the petitioners is that they are serving in Lal Bahadur Shastri Purwa Madhyamik Vidyalaya, Jagdishpur, Raja, Siddharth Nagar¹, which is a recognized and aided Junior High School and governed under the U.P. Junior High School (Payment of Salaries) Act, 1978. The institution was granted temporary recognition on 4.6.1980 and the permanent recognition was granted on 31.10.1984. The institution had received grant-in-aid on 01.12.2006. On the said date, salary of 01 Head Master, 04 Assistant Teachers, 01 clerk and 03 Class-IV employees were approved. The Asstt. Director of Education (Basic), Gorakhpur vide order dated 31.3.2007 had approved the salary against the said posts.

6. The petitioner no.1 was appointed in the institution in question on 02.07.1977. Petitioner nos.2 and 3 were appointed as Assistant Teachers in the said institution on 02.07.1977 and petitioner no.4 was appointed as Assistant Teacher on 05.07.1977. The petitioner no.5 was appointed as Clerk on 2.7.1977 and petitioner nos.6, 7 and 8 were appointed as Peon on 02.07.1977 and 26.09.1989 respectively. The services of all the petitioners were affirmed by the then District Basic Education Officer, Siddharth Nagar vide order dated 23.3.1985. The services of the teachers are covered by the provisions of U.P. Recognized Basic Schools (Junior High Schools) (Recruitment and Conditions of Service of Teachers) Rules, 1978 and the service of the Ministerial Staff and Group-D employees is covered by the provisions of Uttar Pradesh Recognized Basic Schools (Junior High Schools) (Recruitment and Conditions of Service of Ministerial Staff and Group 'D' Employees) Rules, 1984.

7. The controversy had raked up when one Kanhaiya Lal, who was Asstt. Teacher in the institution made a complaint against one Md. Sayeed, Asstt. Teacher (Urdu). He had also later on filed Writ Petition No.44836 of 2009, which was disposed of on 26.08.2009 directing the Director of Education, Basic, U.P. Lucknow to pass reasoned and speaking order. In response to the said mandate, the Director of Education (Basic), U.P. Lucknow passed an order dated 17.2.2010 recognising the services of those teachers and employees, who were being paid salary after obtaining the reports and documents from the Asstt. Director of Education, Basic, Gorakhpur; District Basic Education Officer, Siddharth Nagar and Manager/ Principal of the institution and accordingly cancelled the earlier order dated 31.3.2007 by which the salary was approved by the Asstt. Director of Education, Basic, Gorakhpur.

8. The order dated 17.2.2010 was challenged by the petitioners in Writ Petition No.12216 of 2010, wherein interim order was accorded on 11.3.2010 permitting the petitioners to continue and be paid salary till further orders. In spite of the aforesaid order, once the salary was not released, the petitioners preferred contempt application. In response to the order dated 6.8.2012 passed by the Contempt Court the salary was released in favour of the petitioners-opposite parties. Later on the said writ petition was allowed on 30.07.2012 on the ground of non-adherence to principles of natural justice. The order dated 17.2.2010 passed by the Director of Education, Basic, U.P. was set aside and the matter was remitted back to the Director of Education, Basic to pass appropriate order. In compliance to the Writ Court order, the Director of Education, U.P. Lucknow, after giving opportunity to all the stake holders, passed an order dated 12.09.2012 derecognising the services of petitioners-opposite parties and other employees, stating them to be illegally appointed and the salary was also stopped since August, 2012. The said order was impugned in the Writ Petition No.13353 of 2013 in which learned Single Judge has passed the judgment dated 27.09.2023, which has been assailed in the present special appeal.

9. It is averred that the minimum qualification of Head-Master and Asstt. Teacher is provided under unamended Rule 4 of the Rules, 1978, (which were applicable at the relevant time), which for ready reference is reproduced as under:-

“4. Minimum qualification-(1)

The minimum qualifications for the post of Assistant Teacher of recognised school shall be Intermediate Examination of the Board of High School and Intermediate Education, Uttar Pradesh or equivalent examination (with Hindi and a teacher's training course recognised by the State Government or the Board such as Hindustani Teaching Certificate, Junior Teaching Certificate, Basic Teaching Certificate, or Certificate of Training).

(2) The minimum qualifications for the appointment to the post of Head-master of a recognised school shall be as follows:

(a) A degree from a recognised University or an equivalent examination recognised as such;

(b) A teacher's training course by the State Government or the Board, such as Hindustani Teaching Certificate, Junior Teaching Certificate, Certificate of Training or Basic Teaching Certificate; and

(c) Three years teaching experience in a recognised school.”

10. Rule 5 of the Rules, 1978 deals with eligibility for appointment and specially bars any appointment as Headmaster or Assistant Teacher in substantive capacity in recognized schools unless-

(A) He possesses the minimum qualification prescribed for such posts;

(B) He is recommended for such appointment by the Selection Committee.

11. Rule 7 of the Rules, 1978 prescribes for advertisement of vacancy, which is as follows:-

“7. Advertisement of vacancy.--
(1) No vacancy shall be filled, except after its advertisement in at least newspapers one of whom must have adequate circulation all over the State and the other in a locality the school is situated.]

(2) In every advertisement and intimation under clause (1), the Management shall give particulars as to the name of the post the minimum qualifications and age-limit, if any, prescribed for such post and the last date for receipt of applications in pursuance of such advertisement.”

12. Rule 10 of the Rules, 1978 provides for procedure for selection, which for ready reference, is also reproduced as under:-

“10. Procedure for selection.-(1) The Selection Committee shall, after interviewing such candidates as appear before it on a date to be fixed by it in this behalf, of which due intimation shall be given to all the candidates, prepare a list containing as far as possible the names, in order of preference, of three candidates found to be suitable for appointment.

(2) The list prepared under clause (1) shall also contain particulars regarding the date of birth, academic qualifications and teaching experience of the candidates and shall be signed by all the members of the Committee.

(3) The Selection Committee shall, as soon as possible, forward such list, together with the minutes of the proceedings of the Committee to the management.

(4) The Manager shall within one week from the date of receipt of the papers under clause (3) send a copy of the list to the District Basic Education Officer.

(5)(i) If the District Basic Education Officer is satisfied that-

(a) the candidates recommended by the Selection Committee possess the minimum qualifications prescribed for the post;

(b) the procedure laid down in these rules for the selection of Headmaster or Assistant Teacher, as the case may be, has been followed he shall accord approval to the recommendations made by the Selection Committee and shall communicate his decision to the Management within two weeks from the date of receipt of the papers under clause (4).

(ii) If the District Basic Education Officer is not satisfied as aforesaid, he shall return the papers to the Management with the direction that the matter shall be reconsidered by the Selection Committee.

(iii) If the District Basic Education Officer does not communicate his decision within one month from the date of receipt of the papers under clause (4), he shall be deemed to have accorded approval to the recommendations made by the Selection Committee.”

ARGUMENTS OF STATE APPELLANTS

13. Shri Ratan Deep Mishra, learned Standing Counsel for State-appellants has submitted that in the present matter the teachers have been shown to have been appointed in the year 1997. At the time of their alleged appointment admittedly they were lacking the essential qualification as they were all untrained and the same was also contrary to the order dated 08.11.1974, which was issued by the Basic Shiksha Parishad, whereby specific direction was given for appointing trained teachers in the recognised institutions. He submitted that the institution in question was accorded temporary recognition in the year 1980. Clause 4 and 14 of the recognition order specifically provides:-

"4- अप्रशिक्षित अध्यापको के स्थान पर प्रशिक्षित अध्यापको की नियुक्ति की जाए 14-विभागीय आदेशों / नियमों का अक्षरशः पालन किया जाए"

14. He has further placed reliance on the permanent recognition order of the institution dated 31.10.1984 (Paper Book p.322). Clause 2 & 4 of the said order specifically states as follows:-

"2-विद्यालय में विभागीय नियमों एवं आदेशों की किसी प्रकार की अवहेलना करने तथा तथ्यों को छिपाने पर मान्यता निरस्त करने का अधिकार विभाग को सुरक्षित है।

4-विभाग द्वारा निर्धारित न्यूनतम योग्यताओं से विभूषित अध्यापको की नियुक्ति नियमानुसार की जाए तथा अप्रशिक्षित अध्यापको के स्थान पर प्रशिक्षित अध्यापको की नियुक्ति की जाए"

15. He submitted that from the aforesaid it is apparent that the institution had to follow the Rules prevailing at the time of recognition of the institution. The Rules of 1978 got notified on 13.02.1978. In Rule 4 (1) of the Rules, 1978, qualification is prescribed but the institution continued with the teachers not having the qualification prescribed as per Rule 4 (1) of Rules, 1978.

16. Learned counsel for the State-appellants further argued that the alleged appointments of Group-C and D posts were also contrary to the Rules, 1984. For the selection of Ministerial Staff as well as the Class-IV employees, neither any vacancy was advertised in the newspaper nor prescribed procedure for selection was adhered to. No selection committee was constituted nor any proceeding for interview was held. Moreso the appointments were made without preparation of any merit list and without getting approval of the competent authority prior to the appointment. They also got the salary only from the month of March, 2010 to July, 2012. Surprisingly, the Manager's Return (MR) submitted by the Management did not accompany any order of sanction of posts. He submitted that as the salary had to be paid by the State exchequer, the Authority had every right to see whether the alleged appointments were made strictly in accordance with the procedure prescribed under the Rules, 1978 and the Rules, 1984.

17. He vehemently submitted that while issuing temporary and permanent recognition to the institution, rider was put for ensuring that the appointment of teachers must be as trained teachers. It, therefore, appears that a purported claim had been set up on the basis of some alleged appointment of the year 1977 and the claim had been cleverly set up to be prior to the invocation of Rules, 1978. The contention that the Rules, 1978 would not be applicable is unsustainable as while according temporary recognition in the year 1980 and the permanent recognition in the year 1984 specific clauses were incorporated for appointing trained teachers. On the one hand they got recognition and on the other hand they had not ensured the terms and conditions of the recognition.

18. He lastly submitted that in the facts and circumstances while passing the judgment and order, learned Single Judge has erred in law and even not touched the Rules applicable in the instant matter and without ascertaining from the record, indulgence was accorded to the petitioners, as such the impugned judgment is per se unsustainable.

SUBMISSIONS ON BEHALF OF OPPOSITE PARTIES- PETITIONERS

19. Per contra, Mrs. Kamla Singh, learned counsel for the opposite parties-petitioners vehemently opposed the special appeal and submitted that there was absolutely no reason for raising the controversy after approximately three decades of appointment and continuous working of opposite parties-petitioners. She submitted that merely non-possession of trained certificate at the time of their initial appointment and due to this reason holding all of them ineligible in terms of Rules, 1978 is per se illegal as the appointment of Asstt. Teachers were made in the year 1977.

20. She further submitted that in writ proceeding, in response to the order passed by learned Single Judge detailed supplementary affidavit was filed, wherein it had been indicated that after completion of building and other infrastructure of the institution, the Committee of Management had decided to appoint Asstt. Teachers and non-teaching staff. Thereafter, the meeting of Committee of Management was convened on 18.6.1977. The agenda of meeting had also been appended along with the supplementary affidavit. Accordingly, it is claimed that the opposite parties-petitioner nos.1 to 4 were appointed on 29.6.1977 and they joined the institution on 1.7.1977 and 2.7.1977. Even the District Basic Education Officer vide order dated 6.7.1982 had temporarily approved the services of first petitioner as Head Master. Admittedly after fulfilling the minimum required norms the institution was recognised. Initially temporary recognition was accorded on 4.6.1980 and permanent recognition was accorded on 31.10.1984. Therefore, at this belated stage, it cannot be presumed that the Asstt. Teachers and Group-C & D employees were not working in the institution.

21. In this backdrop, she further submitted that even before according permanent recognition, the services of petitioners were approved by the then District Basic Education Officer on 23.09.1985 on probation of one year i.e. from 02.07.1984 and after verifying the infrastructure and working strength of teachers and other employees, after making due enquiry, the institution was also taken on grant-in-aid list on 05.02.2007 and financial approval was accorded on 31.03.2007. While issuing the order dated 05.02.2007 for putting the various institutions on grant-in-aid list, direction was also issued to Asstt. Director of Education, Basic, Gorakhpur Division, Gorakhpur for ensuring due enquiry of the institutions, which were to be put on grant-in-aid list. She submitted that only, thereafter, adequate notices were issued to the institutions including the institution in question for submitting details so that actual salary of teachers and other staff may be ensured w.e.f. 10.03.2007.

22. Mrs. Singh, learned counsel assertively submitted that exhaustive procedure was adopted while putting the institution on grant-in-aid list. Even at the said stage, due verification was again made and adequate information was submitted by the Manager of the institution. Only, thereafter, final approval was accorded on 31.03.2007.

23. She submitted that in most arbitrary manner, on the basis of some complaint, the appointments of entire teachers and non-teaching staff were cancelled and financial approval was withdrawn vide order dated 17.02.2010, which was subject matter of challenge in Writ Petition No.12216 of 2010. Learned Single Judge vide order dated 11.3.2010 had accorded interim protection in favour of the petitioners and the direction was also issued for payment of salary. Later on the said writ petition was allowed and the matter was relegated. She submitted that learned Single Judge has rightly appreciated the record and decided the writ petition. The order impugned does not suffer from any infirmity, which may warrant any interference in the instant appeal.

ANALYSIS & REASONING

24. We have given thoughtful consideration to the submissions advanced at Bar and have gone through the impugned judgment and material placed on record.

25. Before examining the merits of the arguments of learned counsel for the parties, it would be apt to cite the provisions governing the appointment of teachers in the recognised basic schools.

26. The U.P Basic Education Act, 19724 was enacted for establishment of the Board of Basic Education and to deal with the matters connected therein. As per section (2), the definition Clause, the "Basic Education" means education up to the VIIIth Class imparted in schools other than high schools or intermediate college. "Junior Basic School" means a Basic School in which education is imparted up to Class-V. "Junior High School" means a basic school in which education is imparted to boys and girls or to both from Class-VI to Class-VIII. Section 3 contemplates setting of the Board of Basic Education. The function of the Board under Section 4 (1) is to organize, coordinate and control the imparting of basic education and teachers' training in the State in order to raise its standards and to co-relate it with the system of education as a whole in the State.

27. In exercise of powers conferred under section 19 of the Act, 1972, to carry out the purposes of the Act, three sets of Rules have been framed regulating the recruitment and conditions of service of persons appointed to the post of teachers. The "U.P recognized Basic schools (Recruitment and Conditions of Service of Teachers and other Conditions) Rules, 1975" was framed to govern the recognized Basic Schools imparting education up to Class-V, not being an institution belonging to or wholly maintained by the Board or any local body. The Rules 1978 was framed to govern the service conditions of teachers of recognized Junior High School, i.e. an institution other than a High School or Intermediate College imparting education from Class-VI to Class-VIII (both inclusive). The "U.P Basic Education Teachers Service Rules, 19816" was framed to govern the service conditions of teachers of the Junior Basic Schools imparting instructions in Nursery and Class I to VIII established by the U.P Board of Basic Education. The academic/eligibility qualifications for appointment to the post of Assistant Teacher in a Nursery and Junior Basic Schools (I to V) established by the Board as per Rules, 1981 are as follows:-

(i) Mistress of Nursery School	Bachelors degree from a University established by law in India or a degree recognised by the Government equivalent thereto together with certificate of teaching (Nursery) from recognised training institution of Uttar Pradesh and any other training course recognised by the Government as equivalent thereto and teacher eligibility test passed conducted by the Government or by the Government of India.
(ii) Assistant Master and Assistant Mistress of Junior Basic School	(ii)(a) Bachelors degree from a University established by law in India or a degree recognised by the Government equivalent thereto together with any other training course recognised by the Government as equivalent thereto together with the training qualification consisting of a Basic Teacher's Certificate (BTC), two years BTC (Urdu) Vishisht BTC. Two year Diploma in Education (Special Education) approved by the Rehabilitation Council of India or four year degree in Elementary Education (B.El.Ed.), two year Diploma in Elementary Education (by whatever name known) in accordance with the National Council of Teacher Education (Recognition, Norms and Procedure) Regulations, 2002 or any training qualifications to be added by National Council for Teacher Education for the recruitment of teachers in primary education and teacher eligibility test passed conducted by the Government or by the Government of India and passed Assistant Teacher Recruitment Examination conducted by the Government.

28. In Rules, 1981, a Junior Basic School has been defined to mean a Basic School where instructions are imparted from Class-I to V; whereas a "Senior Basic School" means a Basic School where instructions are imparted from Class-VI to VIII. A "Nursery school," on the other hand, means a school in which children ordinarily of the age up to 8 years are taught in the Class lower than Class-'I'.

29. In so far as Rules, 1975 governing service conditions of teachers of a recognized Junior Basic School (Class-I to V) is concerned, Rule 9 thereof provides that for appointment on a teaching post in any recognized school a person must possess such qualification as are specified by the Board in this behalf and previous approval to whose appointment has been granted by the District Basic Education Officer in writing.

30. Under Rules, 1978 pertaining to service conditions of teachers in a recognized Senior Basic School or Junior High School, (Class VI to VIII) the minimum qualification as provided in Rule 4 of the Original Rule has been quoted in the foregoing part of this judgment.

31. Rule 5 of the Original Rules, 1978 further puts a condition that no one shall be appointed as Assistant Teacher in substantive capacity in any recognized school; unless (a) he possess minimum qualification prescribed for such post; (b) he is recommended for such appointment by the Selection Committee.

32. The question that arises for consideration in the instant appeal is whether the services of the opposite parties-petitioner nos.1 to 4, who were appointed as untrained teachers in the year 1977 and have worked continuously since then, could be deemed to have come to an end after the institution was upgraded and came on grant-in-aid list with effect from 2007 because they were not trained Asstt. Teachers on the date of their appointment, even though they acquired necessary qualification and became trained teachers during service either after upgradation of the institution or it's coming on grant-in-aid list in the year 2007.

33. When the Rules, 1978 were enacted, the minimum educational qualification prescribed for appointment of Asstt. Teacher was Intermediate only. The petitioner nos.1 to 4 were thus educationally qualified to be appointed as Asstt. Teacher in Junior High School. It may now be examined whether the untrained teachers could be appointed permanently and whether such appointments were illegal. Before 10.03.1971 the services of Asstt. Teachers in Junior High School were governed by the provisions of the Education Code.

34. Chapter-V of Education Code dealt with recognised Junior and Senior Basic schools. It has two Sections 'A' and 'B'. The former dealt with school for boys and later for girls. No qualification was prescribed for an Asstt. Teacher in boys school. But paragraph 196 in 'B' Section provided that no untrained teacher shall be appointed permanently in a recognized school. This did not apply to boys' schools. As such there was no bar on permanent appointment for an untrained teacher in boys schools. The State Government had issued the order in 1971, which purported to revise the salary of Asstt. Teachers in junior high schools but it made obligatory for any untrained teacher appointed after the notification was issued to acquire training certificate within five years of his appointment otherwise he would be paid the initial salary only. There was thus no restriction on the management of a Junior Basic School in appointing an untrained teacher permanently.

35. Training became essential qualification under Rules, 1978. The appointment of petitioner nos.1 to 4, however, being prior to it and in accordance with law in force on the date of their appointment does not suffer from any defect. The provisions of Rules, 1978 were not retrospective, therefore, appointment of an untrained teacher prior to these Rules could not be held to be illegal only on that account. Ref. Rikh Pal Singh v. District Basic Education Board, Allahabad⁷. These Rules did not in any manner effect the appointments made after the Government Order of 1971. An untrained teacher, therefore, could be appointed permanently between 1971 and 1978.

36. In similar facts and circumstances in Pati Ram Yadav v. State of U.P. & Ors.⁸ a learned Single Judge of this Court has considered the appointment of Asstt. Teacher in Boys Junior High School, which were made prior to G.O. dated 10.03.1971 and observed that the same stood governed by Education Code. Chapter-V, Section A of the Education Code provides for no training qualification. The G.O. dated 10.03.1971 brought a change. It raised no objection for appointment of an untrained candidate as permanent teacher but put up a condition that it should obtain training qualification within five years. In case it fails to do so, then it would continue an initial scale of pay. Learned Single Judge observed that for the first time Rules, 1978 prescribed 'training' as essential qualification for appointment and appointment of an untrained teacher on permanent basis between 10.03.1971 to year 1970 is valid and regular.

37. In Ram Sarup v. State of Haryana & Ors.⁹, the Supreme Court examined whether the appointment of Labour-cum-Conciliation Officer, who did not possess five years experience in the working of Labour Laws would be void and observed that it would not be void but merely irregular and the observations are:-

"..... The appellant could not, therefore, be legitimately appointed to the post of Labour-cum-Conciliation Officer unless, amongst other things, he possessed five years' experience in the working of Labour laws as Labour Inspector, Deputy Chief Inspector for Shops or Wage Inspector, which he admittedly did not.

The question then arises as to what was the effect of breach of Cl. (1) of R. 4 of the Rules. Did it have the effect of rendering the appointment wholly void so as to be completely ineffective or merely irregular, so that it could be regularised as and when the appellant acquired the necessary qualifications to hold the post of Labour-cum-Conciliation Officer. We are of the view that the appointment of the appellant was irregular since he did not possess one of the three requisite qualifications but as soon as he acquired the necessary qualification of five years' experience of the working of labour laws in any one of the three capacities mentioned in Cl. (1) of R. 4 or in any higher capacity, his appointment must be regarded as having been regularised. The appellant worked as Labour-cum-Conciliation Officer from 1st Jan., 1968 and that being a post higher than that of Labour Inspector or Deputy Chief Inspector of Shops or Wage Inspector, the experience gained by him in the working of Labour Laws in the post of Labour-cum-Conciliation Officer must be regarded as sufficient to constitute fulfilment of the requirement of five years' experience provided in Cl. (1) of R. 4. The appointment of the appellant to the post of Labour-cum-Conciliation Officer, therefore, became regular from the date when he completed five years after taking into account the period of about ten months during which he worked as Chief Inspector of Shops. Once his appointment became regular on the expiry of this period of five years on his fulfilling the requirements for appointment as Labour-cum-Conciliation Officer and becoming eligible for that purpose, he could not thereafter be reverted to the post of Statistical Officer. The order of reversion passed against the appellant was, therefore, clearly illegal and it must be set aside."

38. In Dr. M.S. Mudhol & Anr. v. S.D. Halegkar & Ors.¹⁰, the Supreme Court observed that even though the first respondent did not have the requisite educational qualification to be selected for the post of Principal but as the default was on the part of the Director of Education in illegally approving the said appointment made in 1981 as a result of which the said respondent continued to work on the post for 12 years, it would be inadvisable to disturb him from the said post, particularly when the infraction of the statutory Rule regarding the qualification was not that grave taking into consideration all the other relevant facts. The observations of the Apex Court in the said judgment are as under:-

“4. The contention of the respondents that M.Ed. IInd Division was equivalent to M.A. IInd Division is obviously fallacious. We have, therefore, no doubt that the 1st respondent did not have the requisite educational qualifications to be selected for the post of the Principal.

5. As regards the teaching experience, the 1st respondent's contention is that he had worked as a teacher for 9 years in a High School and Higher Secondary School which had upto 11 standards. According to him, he also worked as a Lecturer in History. His further contention is that the post of the School Inspector in Karnataka where he was working as such and that of the teacher were interchangeable. Hence the selection committee had taken into consideration his experience in both the capacities. These facts are not controverted before us and in any case today, he has the requisite experience of teaching as he has been teaching the 11th and the 12th class continuously for 12 years now, since 1981. It can, therefore, be said that at least as on date when his removal from the post of Principal is sought, he cannot be said to be disqualified on account of the lack of required teaching experience.

6. Since we find that it was the default on the part of the 2nd respondent, Director of Education in illegally approving the appointment of the first respondent in 1981 although he did not have the requisite academic qualifications as a result of which the 1st respondent has continued to hold the said post for the last 12 years now, it would be inadvisable to disturb him from the said post at this late stage particularly when he was not at fault when his selection was made. There is nothing on record to show that he had at that time projected his qualifications other than what he possessed. If, therefore, inspite of placing all his cards before the selection committee, the selection committee for some reason or the other had thought it fit to choose him for the post and the 2nd respondent had chosen to acquiesce in the appointment, it would be inequitous to make him suffer for the same now. Illegality, if any, was committed by the selection committee and the 2nd respondent. They are alone to be blamed for the same.

7. Whatever may be the reasons which were responsible for the non-discovery of the want of qualifications of the 1st respondent for a long time, the fact remains that the Court was moved in the matter after a long lapse of about 9 years. The post of the Principal in a private school though aided, is not of such sensitive public importance that the Court should find itself impelled to interfere with the appointment by a writ of quo warranto even assuming that such a writ is maintainable. This is particularly so when the incumbent has been discharging his functions continuously for over a long period of 9 years when the court was *moved and today about 13 years have elapsed. The infraction of the statutory rule regarding the qualifications of the incumbent pointed out in the present case is also not that grave taking into consideration all other relevant facts. In the circumstances, we deem it unnecessary to go into the question as to whether a writ of quo warranto would lie in the present case or not, and further whether mere laches would disentitle the petitioners to such a writ.

39. The aforesaid decision of the Supreme Court in Dr. M.S. Mudhol & Anr. (Supra) was followed by the Division Bench of this Court in Rajendra Prasad Srivastava v. District Inspector of Schools, Gorakhpur, Now Maharajganj¹¹ and the observations are:-

*"It is true that the appointment of the appellant was in violation of Regulation 4 of Chapter III and was as such, illegal, but he has worked in the institution from 1971 to 1978, when his service was terminated. But this order of termination was stayed by this Court, on account of which he continued to work upto the time when his writ petition was dismissed in August, 1991. It will be highly unfair to remove a person from service after about 20 years, on the ground that his initial appointment was illegal. Division Bench of this Court in Committee of Management v. District Inspector of Schools, 1990 (1) UPLBEC 189 has held that it will be unfair and unjust to unsettle the career of an employee who has worked for about eight years. In Smt. Rani Srivastava v. State of U.P. & ors. 1990 All CJ 243 another Division Bench did not permit the appointment of Head mistress to be put to an end after five years, even though there* *was infirmity in making her appointment. Supreme Court in Dr. M.S. Mudhol v. S.D. Halegkar (supra) has observed that it would be undesirable to disturb a principal after 12 years on the ground that he was not eligible at the time of his appointment, because it would be inequitous to make him suffer after such a long time."*

40. In Ram Swarup v. State of Haryana & Ors. (Supra), Hon'ble the Apex Court held that appointment of an employee, who did not have five years experience as required on the date of appointment but continued to work for nine years was not void but only irregular, therefore, it did not suffer from any defect. In Smt. Shanti Devi Verma v. Deputy Director of Education¹², the High Court held that lack of prescribed qualification at the time of appointment if not obtained by fraud, then it did not render the appointment void and the teacher could obtain necessary qualification after appointment.

41. In the instant matter, the petitioner nos.1 to 4 claimed to be appointed as Asstt. Teachers in the year 1977. Their services were affirmed by the then District Basic Education Officer, Siddharth Nagar vide order dated 23.03.1985. It is claimed that they continued to teach till their superannuation. Vide order impugned their services were not recognised only on the ground that they did not possess the minimum qualification of training. The record reflects that they all acquired the qualification later on. Therefore, they possessed the minimum qualification of training in view of Rules, 1978.

42. While passing the order dated 12.09.2012 (impugned in the writ petition) the appellants-respondents had taken an objection that the opposite parties-petitioner nos.1 to 4, who were working as Head Master and Asstt. Teachers were not inhering the qualification in view of Rules, 1978. Admittedly the institution was not recognized. The temporary recognition was accorded in the year 1980; the permanent recognition was accorded in the year 1984 and the institution was put on grant-in-aid list in the year 2006. Even the financial approval was also accorded in the year 2007. While making an enquiry at the said stage, no such objection was raised, contrarily the approval was accorded on the basis of their working in the institution, which was also one of the relevant consideration. Therefore, at this belated stage, raising an objection that the procedure had not been adopted at the stage of their initial engagement in the light of Rules, 1978 qua Asstt. Teacher is unsustainable. At their initial inception and later on while successive exercises, which had been carried out by the Authorities, no such objection was raised. We are surprised that in case they were not working in the institution, as to under what circumstances in absence of teachers (temporary and permanent) recognition was accorded to the institution and later on the same was also put on grant-in-aid list. Similarly the objection that for appointment of opposite party-petitioner no.5, who was working as Clerk and opposite party-petitioner nos.6 to 8, who were working as Peon at the initial stage of their appointment, the Rules, 1984 were not followed, the said objection can also not be accepted.

43. While passing the order (impugned in the writ petition), the order putting the institution on grant-in-aid list was withdrawn. We are surprised that why the management has not questioned the said order and only the petitioners had put up their case for salary and continuity of their services.

44. The Apex Court in the case of Ashok Kumar Sharma and another Vs. Chandra Shekhar and another¹³, came to the conclusion that the results of the examination of the qualification that was required to be possessed on the date of interview had not been declared for no fault of the applicants, but were announced immediately before the date of interview. This did not dis-entitle the applicants as being disqualified and the Supreme Court upheld their selection and appointment in spite of that infirmity. The minority view of the third Hon'ble Judge even though agreed with the conclusion but held the applicants to be ineligible on the date when the application was to be filed. The minority view held that such practice should be discouraged as a person not qualified on the date of the application, cannot be subsequently given any benefit. However, since the conclusion was in favour of the applicants, their appointments were upheld.

45. The Supreme Court in the case of Roshni Devi Vs. State of Haryana and others¹⁴, again came across such a case where it passed an order in exercise of powers under Article 142 of the Constitution of India and upheld the appointment.

CONCLUSION

46. We have carefully examined the record and find that the writ petition was instituted in the year 2013 and since then the matter is pending consideration without any interim order. Even the pleading has not been set up before learned Single Judge that all the petitioners continued to work in the institution and in absence of any pleading qua their working in the institution, learned Single Judge has erred in law while setting aside the order dated 12.09.2012 and holding the petitioners to be treated as permanent incumbent of the institution and also holding that they were also entitled for arrears of salary from July, 2012 till the date of their retirement. The said finding of fact could not be substituted by learned Single Judge on his own accord without returning the concrete finding on the same. In absence of any pleading and material on record, we are unable to accord arrears with effect from July, 2012.

47. However, we corroborate the other reasoning recorded by learned Single Judge to the effect that petitioner nos.1 to 5, those were working as Head Master and Asstt. Teachers and were appointed in the institution much prior to the invocation of Rules, 1978 and petitioner nos.6 to 8, who were also appointed in the institution prior to invocation of Rules, 1984, the rightful claim cannot be denied merely on the ground that the petitioner nos.1 to 5 were lacking the training, whereas the record amply demonstrate that the financial approval was accorded by the competent authority way back on 4.5.2007 and admittedly all the petitioners were fulfilling the eligibility as required at the relevant point.

48. Surprisingly the entire case has been set up by the appellant-respondents that the Rules of 1978 were applicable at the time of initial engagement of petitioner nos.1 to 5 in the institution. The said objection is unsustainable as on the basis of Manager's Return (MR) the temporary and permanent recognition of the institution was accorded in the year 1980 and 1984 respectively and later on financial approval was also accorded in the year 2007. The said approval could not have been accorded in the absence of actual strength of teacher and other employees in the institution. On one hand while according temporary and permanent recognition the appellants-respondents had considered the working strength in the institution and on the other hand at the belated stage the objection has been raised that the petitioners' induction in the institution was dehorse the Rules, 1978 and the Rules, 1984. Both the things cannot move simultaneously. Therefore, we find that the reasoning assigned by learned Single Judge does not require any interference. But we are not in a position to return any concrete finding at this belated stage whether the petitioners were working in the institution since then.

49. We, therefore, approve the finding returned by learned Single Judge qua the petitioners' initial engagement in the institution as admittedly the petitioners were paid salary in response to the financial approval accorded in the year 2007 and in the light of the order passed by the Writ Court from 2010 to 2012. But so far as payment of salary to the petitioners with effect from July, 2012 till their superannuation, only for this limited purpose, the matter is relegated to the Authority to ascertain entire working since 2012. In case they have worked in the institution, they will be entitled to salary but if it is found that they were not working in the institution, they will not be entitled for the salary from July, 2012 till their superannuation on the principle of 'no work no pay'.

50. It is made clear that in either of the case, the opposite parties-petitioners shall certainly be entitled for all consequential benefits qua their initial engagement in the institution being found in accordance with law. Accordingly, the order impugned passed by learned Single Judge is modified to the above extent.

51. With the above observations and directions, the appeal stands partly allowed.

A. Service Law – Termination – Appointment on probation as Assistant Professor – Non-disclosure of the crime number and details of offence – Effect – Gravity of offence or acquittal after trial, how far relevance – Held, an employee on probation can be discharged from service on the ground of unsatisfactory antecedents and suppression of material information or making false St.ment in reply to queries relating to pendency of the criminal case as it shows a current dubious conduct and absence of character at the time of making the declaration, thereby making him unsuitable for the post – Neither the gravity of the criminal offence nor the ultimate acquittal therein was relevant – The employer/University is well within its domain in not continuing the petitioner, who is facing grave charge of molestation and is bailed out in the criminal case.. (Para 33, 46 and 56)

B. Service law – Termination of probationer – Ordinance XLI, Conditions of Service of teachers of the University – Clause 5 (a) – Principle of natural justice, how far relevance – Held, principles of natural justice need not be followed while terminating the services of a probationer. Neither any notice is required to be given to the probationer nor any opportunity of hearing is to be accorded to him. Merely because the order terminating probationer's service, refers to his unsatisfactory performance not suitable for confirmation, the order cannot be said to be stigmatic. (Para 39)

2. Present Special Appeal has arisen from a judgment and order of the learned Single Judge dated 23.05.2024 passed in Writ A No.17284 of 2023 (Dr. Raghvendra Mishra vs. Union of India and 3 others) by which the writ petition filed by the petitioner has been allowed.

FACTS

3. The respondent-petitioner belongs to the category of 'Economically Weaker Section' and he has 50% permanent visual impairment. He is an academic scholar having Bachelor's and Master's degrees and completed M.Phil. and Ph.D. from Jawahar Lal Nehru University, New Delhi. In pursuance of the advertisement No.UoA/Asst. Prof/01/2021 dated 28.09.2021 published by the University of Allahabad¹, he applied for post of 'Assistant Professor' in the Department of Sanskrit, Pali, Prakrit and Oriental Languages of the University on 16.10.2021. At the time of filling up the application form in column under the head of 'Disclosure' containing the query 'Do you have any criminal case pending against you in a Court of Law?', the petitioner-respondent had mentioned 'Yes' and under column of details, he had mentioned 'FOR STUDENTS POLITICAL ISSUES'. Thereafter, the petitioner appeared in different stages of selection and on the basis of the recommendation of the Selection Committee dated 18.05.2022 and approval by the Executive Committee in its meeting dated 21.05.2022, he was selected on the post of Assistant Professor (PWBD-A (EWS) in the Department of Sanskrit, Pali, Prakrit and Oriental Languages of the University.

4. Consequently, the University had issued an appointment letter dated 21.05.2022 in favour of the petitioner on the terms and conditions mentioned therein. In pursuance thereof, the petitioner joined the said post and started working on probation of one year. Subsequently, vide notification dated 08.8.2023, the probation period of all newly appointed teachers was extended by one year in terms of Resolution of the Executive Council dated 20.06.2023. Thereafter, the meeting of the Executive Council of the University was held on 15.09.2023, wherein the Executive Council vide resolution No.06/78 dated 15.09.2023 had unanimously resolved to not extend the services of Dr. Vidhu Khare Das, Associate Professor, Centre of Theatre and Films and Dr. Raghvendra Mishra, Assistant Professor, Department of Sanskrit of the University (petitioner) and to terminate their contract of service under Clause 5 (a) of the Ordinance XLI, Conditions of Service of teachers of the University. For ready reference, Resolution No.06/78 of the Executive Council is reproduced hereinafter:-

“After due deliberation on the service rendered by Dr. Vidhu Khare Das, Associate Professor, Centre of Theatre and Films, University of Allahabad and Dr. Raghvendra Mishra, Associate Professor, Department of Sanskrit, University of Allahabad, it was unanimously resolved by the Executive Council to not extend their services (currently under probation) and to terminate their contract of service under clause 5 (a) of the Ordinance XLI: Conditions of Service of Teachers of the University. It has been decided to make a payment of a sum equivalent to one month's salary in lieu of a notice of termination. The services of Dr. Vidhu Khare Das and Dr. Raghvendra Mishra shall be considered to be dispensed with, with effect from the date of the meeting. Hon'ble Members of the Executive Council unanimously approved the same.

Dr. Deepali Pant Joshi, nominee of the Hon'ble Chancellor in the Executive Council said that a teacher is a role model and it is good to nip any problem in the bud, for smooth functioning and future of the institution.”

5. Consequently, the Registrar of University vide order dated 15.09.2023 had dispensed with the services of the petitioner-respondent with effect from 15.09.2023. For ready reference, the same is reproduced herein under:-

Subject: Termination of services with effect from 15.09.2023

Sir,
By the appointment letter no.05/R/1499/2022 dated 21.05.2022, you were appointed to the post of Assistant Professor (PWDB-A, EWS Category) in the Department of Sanskrit, University of Allahabad. Your probation period was 1+1 years as per the aforementioned appointment letter.

Vide Resolution No.06/78 of Executive Council dated 15.09.2023, it has been resolved not to extend your service (currently under probation) and to terminate your contract of service under clause 5 (a) of the Ordinance XLI: conditions of service of teachers of the University.

It has been decided to make a payment of a sum equivalent to one month's salary in lieu of a notice of termination. Therefore, your services are being dispensed with, with effect from 15.09.2023.

Thanking you,

Registrar”

6. Aggrieved by the termination order, the respondent-petitioner preferred

Writ A No.17284 of 2023 interalia seeking the following reliefs:-

“i. to issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of certiorari quashing the impugned resolution no.6/78 passed by the Executive Council of the University of Allahabad, Prayagraj in its 78th meeting dated 15th September, 2023 in so far as it resolved to terminate the services of the petitioner as an Assistant Professor in terms of Clause-5 (a) of Ordinance XLI (Annexure-7 to the writ petition).

ii. to issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of certiorari quashing the first consequential letter dated 15.9.2023 terminating the services of the petitioner as Assistant Professor in the Department of Sanskrit, University of Allahabad issued by the Registrar of the University (Annexure-8 to the writ petition).

iii. to issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of certiorari quashing the second consequent relieving order dated 15.9.2023 issued by the Registrar relieving the petitioner from his service (Annexure-9 to the writ petition).

iv. to issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of mandamus commanding the respondent-authorities not to interfere with the peaceful functioning of the petitioner as an Assistant Professor in the University and ensure payment of month to month salary to him.

v. to issue any other writ, order or direction as this Hon'ble Court may deem fit and proper in the facts and circumstances of the case.

vi. to award cost of the writ petition to the petitioner.”

7. After considering the pleadings and submissions of the parties, learned Single

Judge has accepted the submissions of the respondent-petitioner and accordingly, allowed the writ petition vide impugned judgement and order dated 23.05.2024, which is under challenge in the instant Special Appeal. Relevant portion of the judgment is reproduced herein below:-

“17. The outcome of above factual and legal analysis is that the petitioner was appointed under a due process. He has completed satisfactory service on probation of one year and on basis of his satisfactory service, his probation was extended for a period of one year. On basis of material available which also includes the material provided by University in a sealed envelope that within a few months of passing an order of extension of probation period of one year, the Executive Council considered the case of petitioner even without being part of agenda with permission of Chair and terminated his services under clause 5(a) of the Ordinance XLI.

18. It is a definite stand of the University that there were some material before the Executive Council which were considered and as referred above, the material was a complaint of Co-ordinator, wherein there are allegations against petitioner as well as a news cutting that petitioner was involved in a criminal case. It is also stand of University that material was not considered to be such which requires an inquiry to consider its truthness but it was not conducted, therefore, from last paragraph of resolution which has already been reproduced earlier, it could be held that definitely the said materials were considered and found adverse to petitioner and for that the Court is of the considered opinion that order becomes stigmatic since all the resolutions are on the website of University and open for view of general public also and in case, petitioner applies in any other University, the said material will definitely become adverse to his future prospects.

19. The Court takes note that it is stand of University that truthfulness of allegations were not verified, therefore, petitioner was penalized only on basis of complaints whose contents were not verified and even before completing the extended period of probation of one year. Accordingly, the case of petitioner would fall under clause 2(e) and (f) as contended by the petitioner and not under clause 5(a) of Ordinance XLI as contended by the respondent-University and admittedly procedure prescribed under clause 5(a) was not followed, therefore, impugned Resolution and impugned termination order become illegal. The procedure adopted by University thus has legal flaws and was also against the legal principle discussed in Ved Priya (supra). The Court is of the considered opinion that Resolution dated 20.06.2023 qua to petitioner and order of termination dated 15.09.2023 are illegal, therefore, liable to be set aside and ordered accordingly.

20. It would also be relevant to observe that the effect of judgment of this Court would be only that petitioner will be remained in probation till one year from the date of his extension of probation and thereafter respondent University would be at liberty to take a decision in terms of relevant clauses of Ordinance XLI.

21. The petitioner was out of service from 15.9.2023 to till date of this judgment and same will be considered on principle of 'No Work No Pay' and his satisfactory service at the end of extended period of probation will be considered on basis of period he worked. The University is directed to allow petitioner to work on post concerned forthwith.

22. The petitioner is also put on caution that he will diligently discharge his duties of a teacher and he will not indulge in any activity which is adverse to his profession and will also remain polite with his co-employees and shall disclose complete details of criminal case and it would also be a factor for consideration for his confirmation.

23. Accordingly, writ petition is allowed with aforesaid observations and directions."

SUBMISSIONS ON BEHALF OF THE APPELLANT

8. Sri Amit Saxena, learned Senior Advocate appearing for the appellant University vehemently submitted that respondent-petitioner was selected and offered appointment on the post of Assistant Professor on 21.05.2022. The service conditions of the teaching staff of the University are regulated by Ordinance No.XLI. In view of Clause 2 (a), the respondent-petitioner was to remain on probation for a period of one year, which could be extended by one year. In the instant matter, the Executive Council vide resolution dated 20.06.2023 had extended the probation period of all the newly appointed teaching staffs including the petitioner and accordingly, a notification in this regard was issued by the Registrar of the University on 08.08.2023. As the respondent-petitioner was on his extended period of probation, certain materials against him were brought into the notice and upon consideration thereof, the University had decided not to go into the merits of the allegations and in the meeting of the Executive Council dated 15.09.2023, it was unanimously resolved to dispense with the services of the respondent-petitioner by passing a simplicitor order of termination, as envisaged under Clause 5 (a) of Ordinance XLI. A consequential order of termination and relieving was passed by the University on 15.09.2023.

9. Sri Amit Saxena further submitted that the grounds taken for challenging the action of the University before the Writ Court were mainly:-

1. Termination from service was bad in law as the same was in derogation to the procedure for termination of probationers enshrined in Clause 2 (f) of the Ordinance XLI. Only after service of notice to the respondent and after eliciting his explanation in respect of the grounds on which his services were proposed to be terminated, could the order of termination have been passed by the University.

2. The order dismissing the Respondent is stigmatic in as much as it casts aspersions on the working of the Respondent, upon the statement made by Dr. Deepali Pant Joshi, the nominee of the Hon'ble Chancellor, who in the meeting of the Executive Council while considering the issue of further continuity of the services of the Respondent and another probationer said "that a teacher is a role model and it is good to nip any problem in the bud for smooth functioning and future of the institution".

3. If the statement of Dr. Deepali Pant Joshi is taken on its face value it suggests that there was some problem vis-a-vis the respondent and since the problem is relatable to the respondent which has resulted in discontinuation of his services, the University ought to have followed the procedure prescribed in Clause 2 (e) read with Clause 2 (f) of the Ordinance.

10. Learned Senior Counsel for the appellant University submitted that while filing the detailed counter affidavit, the appellant University had taken categorical stand that there were materials before the Competent Authority and after consideration of the same, it chose not to go into the truthfulness and on merits of the same and unanimously resolved not to continue the services of the respondent-petitioner. Thus, the same classified as a simplicitor order of termination, which is envisaged under Clause 5 (a) of the Ordinance. The statement of Dr. Deepali Pant Joshi was made in reference to the exalted stature of a teacher as visualized in Indian society and such general observations could not be taken as stigmatic. It was further endeavour of the appellant University to ensure that no stigma is casted upon the respondent-petitioner, and in this backdrop the appellant University sought leave of the learned Single Judge to exempt it from bringing on record the materials, which were there before the University on the basis of which the order of termination simplicitor was passed and to produce the same by way of a sealed cover.

11. It was urged by the learned Senior Counsel that in the midst of the proceeding before the learned Single Judge and as per direction of learned Single Judge, two set of materials were placed before the Court i.e. (i) a confidential letter dated 13.09.2023 by the Coordinator, Department of Sanskrit, Pali, Prakrit & Oriental Languages addressed to the Vice Chancellor of the University, wherein certain complaints were made against the respondent and (ii) materials demonstrating the act of concealment of material particulars by the respondent-petitioner as regards the disclosure in the form, which he was required to make about the details of the criminal case pending against him as well as the nature of the offence for which the respondent-petitioner is facing criminal trial.

12. Learned Senior Counsel submitted that the learned Single Judge committed an egregious error in passing the impugned judgement dated 23.05.2024 and recorded perverse finding in para-19 of the impugned judgment to the effect that “truthfulness of allegations were not verified, therefore, petitioner was penalized only on basis of complaints whose contents were not verified and even before completing the extended period of probation of one year.” He submitted that said finding militates against the fundamental principles governing service jurisprudence, which envisaged dispensation of services of the probationer by way of a simplicitor termination order without assigning any reason.

13. He assertively submitted that in the instant matter, it is admitted case that the appellant-University neither held any enquiry nor called for any report vis-a-vis material before it and chose to simply discharge the respondent-petitioner under Clause 5 (a) of the Ordinance with a view to give him a chance to make good in other walks of life without a stigma. In support of his submission, he has placed reliance on the judgements in Gujarat Steel Tubes Ltd. v. Gujarat Steel Tubes Mazdoor Sabha²; Dipti Prakash Banerjee v. Satyendra Nath Bose National Centre for Basic Sciences, Calcutta and others³; Pavanendra Narayan Verma v. Sanjay Gandhi PGI of Medical Sciences & Anr.⁴ and Daya Shankar Yadav vs. Union of India and others⁵.

14. Sri Saxena further argued that the learned Single Judge has also erred in law while placing too much emphasis upon the statement of Dr. Deepali Pant Joshi, and having regards to the fact, that there were adverse materials before the University, the order of termination becomes stigmatic. It was submitted that stigma is something that detracts the character or reputation of a person. He submitted that an order can be said to be stigmatic only if it is couched in a language, which imputes something over and above mere unsuitability for the job. In the instant matter, Dr. Deepali Pant Joshi had only made a statement that a teacher is a role model and it is good to nip any problem in the bud for smooth functioning and future of the institution. The general role of the teacher as being a role model has been stated and as such, nothing more can be attributed to such statement of Dr. Deepali Pant Joshi. There is no material contained either in the impugned order of termination or in the resolution to which the impugned order makes a reference that imputes anything over and above the unsuitability for the job. Learned Single Judge has failed to appreciate the fact that the statement of Dr. Deepali Pant Joshi was also not individually directed towards the respondent-petitioner inasmuch as the Executive Council was considering the issue of further continuity of the services of not only the respondent-petitioner but also of another probationer. More so, the statement of Dr. Joshi is to be taken in individual capacity and the same cannot be taken as the statement made by the Executive Council.

15. Sri Amit Saxena, learned Senior Advocate submitted that even though there is admitted case of concealment of criminal case by the respondent-petitioner, but the learned Single Judge has utterly failed to ascribe due weightage to the factum of concealment of material particulars in the application form by the respondent-petitioner as well as nature of offence qua which the respondent-petitioner was facing criminal prosecution. He vehemently argued that assuming the respondent-petitioner was not guilty of suppression of material particulars, still the appellant University is fully justified and competent to discharge the services of the petitioner-respondent during the probation. Even on his own admission before the learned Single Judge that the respondent-petitioner had not made complete disclosures of the material particulars regarding pendency of the criminal case against him. The learned Senior Counsel placed strong reliance on the judgements in Kendriya Vidyalaya Sangathan vs. Ram Ratan Yadav⁶; Rajasthan Rajya Vidyut Prasaran Nigam Limited and another v. Anil Kanwariya⁷ and Satish Kumar Yadav v. Union of India⁸ to fortify his submission that probationer, who has secured appointment by suppressing material information with respect to prosecution in a criminal case, can be terminated from service.

16. It was next submitted by Sri Saxena that the learned Single Judge during the midst of the argument had also raised certain queries from the respondent-petitioner regarding the criminal case to which he was having no satisfactory answer and contrarily, learned Single Judge has held that pendency of the criminal case was in the knowledge of the University and it chose not to seek details from the candidate. Further the pendency of the criminal case was not considered to be adverse by the appellant University either at the stage of selection process or at the stage of extension of period of probation. The said finding of learned Single Judge is also not sustainable. Neither, it was the case of the respondent-petitioner in the writ petition nor there is anything on record to even remotely suggest that the adverse materials were available before the appellant University at the stage of selection process or at the stage of extension of period of probation. It was argued that even if the University had not rejected the application form of the respondent-petitioner at the stage of selection process on the ground of non-disclosure of complete particulars of pendency of criminal case, even in that situation the appellant University could not be estopped from dispensing with his services on the said ground, in view of the undertaking extended by the respondent-petitioner in his application form as well as Clauses 5 and 6 of the appointment letter.

17. In support of his submission, Sri Amit Saxena, learned Senior Advocate has also placed reliance on paras 14 and 15 of the judgment impugned. For ready reference, paras 14 and 15 of the judgment are reproduced herein under:-

“14. The other document is the copy of application form submitted by petitioner at the time of applying for the post. The Court perused the same and found that in the column Disclosure, do you have any criminal case pending against you in a court of law. The petitioner has declared, Yes, however, in the column of details, it was only mentioned that ‘FOR STUDENTS’ POLITICAL ISSUES’. The details of offence were not disclosed. In papers provided by Registrar, Allahabad University, there is a document which is a news published on a website, namely, Khabar, that petitioner was arrested in a case of a harassment of a girl in JNU Campus.

15. During hearing, petitioner was present in person. The Court has asked a query about nature of criminal case against him. He fairly submits that a case of outrage of modesty was lodged against him wherein after investigation charge-sheet has been filed and it is at the stage of trial and presently he is on bail. The Court also asked a query that why he has not disclosed the details of it in the form, however, he had no satisfactory answer to it. At this stage, it would be relevant to mention that the issue of pending criminal case was not considered to be adverse either at the stage of selection process or at the stage of extension of period of probation; though it might be considered against petitioner during the meeting of Executive Council held on 15.09.2023. It would be relevant to note that information in regard to a criminal case was available with the University since it was disclosed in application form though details were neither mentioned nor sought by the University.”

18. He further submitted that during the course of hearing of the writ petition the respondent-petitioner was present in person in the Court room and once the Court had asked the query about the nature of criminal case against him then he fairly submitted that a case of outrage of modesty of a woman was lodged against him, wherein, after investigation the chargesheet has been filed and it is at the stage of trial and presently, he is on bail. The learned Single Judge has even observed in the impugned judgement that “the Court also asked a query that why he has not disclosed the details of it in the form, however, he had no satisfactory answer to it”. In this backdrop, he has placed reliance on the judgement passed by the Apex Court in Daya Shankar Yadav vs. Union of India and others (supra) and submitted that even if the respondent-petitioner is not guilty of willful suppression of material facts relating to pendency of criminal case against him, however, if the employer having regard to the nature and gravity of the criminal case, the information of which he may acquire through any means can choose to discharge the probationer from service. He submitted that even the nature of offence for which the respondent-petitioner is facing criminal trial cannot be characterized as trivial. The offence for which the respondent-petitioner has been charged, shocks the moral conscience of the society.

19. He further argued that learned Single Judge has returned the erroneous finding that the proceeding of Executive Council was suspicious and prejudicial inasmuch as there was no agenda. Learned Single Judge has further recorded erroneous finding that the materials, which were there before the University at the time of dispensation of the service of the petitioner, were not considered adverse at the stage of extension of probation period of the petitioner, which occasioned on 20.06.2023. He submitted that learned Single Judge has proceeded on an erroneous assumption in law that the extension of probation envisages rendition of satisfactory service by the probationer. Even since the confidential letter of the Coordinator, Department of Sanskrit, Pali, Prakrit & Oriental Language is of date 13.09.2023 and the same would have no relevance in the matter, in view of the provision under Clause 2 (c) (ii) (1) of the Ordinance XLI, which provides “not being a teacher of a University College maintained by the University, except after considering the report of the concerned Head of the Department, Director of the University Institute or Head of the independent Centre or, where the post is not assigned to a specific Department, University Institute of independent Centre, of the officer or functionary under whom the teacher has been placed in accordance with the said arrangements". In the instant matter, by no stretch of imagination, the confidential letter dated 13.09.2023 sent by the Coordinator could be taken as a report in view of provision under Clause 2 (c) (ii) (1) of the Ordinance. As a complaint, the Coordinator of the department concerned has only indicated the behaviour of the respondent-petitioner.

20. In the last, the learned counsel submitted that the order impugned in the writ petition was not stigmatic in nature as no allegation has been made against the respondent-petitioner and it was unanimously resolved in the meeting of the Executive Council not to continue his service as per the procedures prescribed in Clause-5 (a) of the Ordinance. Therefore, the judgement and order passed by learned Single Judge is unsustainable under the facts and circumstances and the same is liable to be set aside.

SUBMISSIONS ON BEHALF OF RESPONDENTS

21. Per contra, Sri G.K. Singh, learned Senior Advocate appearing for the respondent-petitioner, vehemently opposed the instant appeal and submitted that in most arbitrary manner, the services of the respondent-petitioner were terminated and the same was stigmatic in nature. Admittedly, the appellant University had not followed the procedure prescribed in Clause 2 (e) and (f) of the Ordinance XLI. Even though there was no such concealment of fact in the application form in the column under the head of 'disclosure', which required 'Do you have any criminal case pending against you in a Court of Law?', the respondent-petitioner had mentioned 'Yes' and under column of details, he mentioned 'For Students Political Issue'. Therefore, it cannot be said that he had concealed the criminal proceeding. In the facts and circumstances, learned Single Judge was absolutely right in holding that the truthfulness of the allegations were not verified and the petitioner was penalized only on the basis of complaint so made by the Head of the Department. Even in view of Clause 2 (e) and (f) of the Ordinance, there is detailed procedure but the said procedure was not followed. Even the said issue was not in the agenda and therefore, learned Single Judge has rightly held that the proceedings of the Executive Council were certainly suspicious and prejudicial inasmuch as there was no agenda for the same.

22. Sri G.K. Singh, learned Senior Counsel further submitted that learned Single Judge has rightly held that details of so-called material were not disclosed. Even though the appellant University had filed counter affidavit and in the last paragraph of the resolution No.06/78, which was adopted on 15.09.2023, it was stated that Dr. Deepali Pant Joshi, who is nominee of the Hon'ble Chancellor in the Executive Council, said that a teacher is a role model and it is good to nip any problem in the bud, for smooth functioning and future of the institution. The learned counsel for the respondent-petitioner placed strong reliance on the judgement of the Apex Court in Mathew P. Thomas vs. Kerala State Civil Supply Corpn. Ltd. and others⁹ to fortify his submission that if the services of a probationer were terminated by an order of termination simplicitor but the language of material to support it either show that it was punitive or stigmatic on the fact of it, the Court may leave the way to consider the attending circumstances for such order of termination.

23. Learned Senior Counsel further submitted that during the proceeding before learned Single Judge, a sealed envelop was placed by the Registrar of the University, which contained the documents including a letter of Prof. Prayag Narayan Mishra dated 13.09.2023, Coordinator Sanskrit, Pali, Prakrit Evam Prachya Bhasha Vibhag, which was addressed to the Vice Chancellor of the University, wherein the Coordinator had mentioned some complaints in regard to behaviour of the respondent-petitioner and even learned Single Judge has also taken note of the said complaint into notice. Once the complaint was entertained then the Executive Council has only to adopt the procedure in terms of Clause 2 (e) and (f) of the Ordinance XLI and not under Clause 5 (a) of the Ordinance. Accordingly, learned Single Judge has rightly observed that truthfulness of allegations were not verified and the petitioner was penalized only on the basis of complaints whose contents were not verified and even before completing the extended period of probation of one year. Learned Single Judge has rightly observed that the case of the petitioner falls under Clause 2 (e) and (f) of the Ordinance XLI and the same would not fall under Clause 5 (a) of the Ordinance. Admittedly, the appellant University had not followed its own mandate, which provides detailed procedure under Clause 2 (e) and (f) of the Ordinance XLI and therefore, the same is unsustainable. The judgement and order passed by learned Single Judge is liable to be approved and the instant appeal is liable to be dismissed.

FINDINGS OF THE LEARNED SINGLE JUDGE

24. The main contention urged before the learned Single Judge was that the order terminating the services of the respondent-petitioner was punitive in nature and it attached stigma to him. The learned Single Judge observed that undisputedly, the petitioner had completed his probation period of one year successfully and satisfactorily and therefore, by a unanimous decision of Executive Council vide a resolution 20.06.2023, the probation period of petitioner and other appointees was extended further for one year from the date of Executive Council dated 20.06.2023 vide notification dated 08.08.2023. The learned Single Judge further observed that in normal circumstances, extension of probation period for one year by a Notification dated 8.8.2023 would mean that the petitioner has a satisfactory service and, therefore, he was found fit to continue on probation for further one year and final decision would be taken on his confirmation only after one year or any time earlier.

25. Learned Single Judge further considered the question that once after considering service of petitioner, the Executive Council adopted the resolution dated 26.06.2023 and extended the probation period of petitioner for one year, which would come to end in August, 2025, then under what circumstances the matter of petitioner was taken up for consideration within a short period of three months. The learned Single Judge recorded a finding that the Executive Council in its 78th meeting, without being a part of the circulated agenda but with permission of the Chair, considered the agenda on the subject without any apparent reason and therefore, procedure adopted appears to be suspicious and suffered with prejudice also. Learned Single Judge further observed that in this regard, the stand of the University as specifically mentioned in their counter affidavit, was that there were certain materials against the petitioner before the Executive Council, however, a decision was taken not to hold any inquiry and passed the order not to extend the probation and to terminate the petitioner from service. In counter-affidavit, details of so-called materials were not disclosed and in the last paragraph of Resolution No. 06/78 adopted on 15.9.2023 it has been stated that Dr. Deepali Pant Joshi, nominee of the Hon'ble Chancellor in the Executive Council said that a teacher is a role model and it is good to nip any problem in the bud for smooth functioning and future of the institution.

26. Learned Single Judge further observed that at the time of hearing, the petitioner was present in person and the Court had asked a query about nature of criminal case against him. The petitioner fairly submitted that a case of outrage of modesty was lodged against him, wherein after investigation the charge-sheet has been filed and it is at the stage of trial and presently he is on bail. Learned Single Judge also asked a query that why he has not disclosed the details of it in the form, however, he had no satisfactory answer to it. Learned Single Judge further observed that the issue of pending criminal case was not considered to be adverse either at the stage of selection process or at the stage of extension of period of probation. The information with regard to a criminal case was available with the University since it was disclosed in application form, though details were neither mentioned nor sought by the University.

27. Learned Single Judge had relied upon the judgement of the Apex Court in the case of Rajasthan High Court vs. Ved Priya and 2 others¹⁰, in which the Apex Court has dealt with the issue of termination during probation and if it was a stigmatic order then its consequence. Learned Single Judge observed that the petitioner was appointed under a due process. He had completed satisfactory service on probation of one year and on basis of his satisfactory service, his probation was extended for a period of one year. On the basis of material available, which also includes the material provided by University in a sealed envelope, the Executive Council considered the case of petitioner even without being part of agenda with permission of Chair and terminated his services under clause 5(a) of the Ordinance XLI. It was the stand of the University that there were some material before the Executive Council, which were considered and the material was a complaint of Co-ordinator, wherein there are allegations against the petitioner as well as a news cutting that petitioner was involved in a criminal case. It was also stand of University that the material was not considered to be such, which requires an inquiry to consider its truthfulness but it was not conducted. Therefore, from last paragraph of resolution, it could be held that definitely the said materials were considered and found adverse to petitioner. In such circumstances, learned Single Judge was of the considered opinion that order becomes stigmatic since all the resolutions are on the website of University and open for view of general public also and in case, petitioner applies in any other University, the said material will definitely become adverse to his future prospects.

28. Learned Single Judge had recorded a categorical finding that it is stand of University that truthfulness of allegations were not verified, therefore, the petitioner was penalized only on basis of complaints whose contents were not verified and even before completing the extended period of probation of one year. Accordingly, the case of petitioner would fall under clause 2(e) and (f) as contended by the petitioner and not under clause 5(a) of Ordinance XLI as contended by the respondent-University. Admittedly, procedure prescribed under the Ordinance was not followed, The procedure adopted by University thus has legal flaws and was also against the legal principle discussed in Ved Priya (supra). In the aforesaid circumstances, learned Single Judge has allowed the writ petition and set aside the Resolution dated 20.06.2023 qua the petitioner and order of termination dated 15.09.2023.

ANALYSIS AND FINDINGS BY THE COURT

29. We have carefully considered the submissions made by the learned counsel for the parties and perused the documents annexed along with writ petition and the instant appeal.

30. It is not in dispute that the petitioner-respondent was appointed in the University in pursuance of appointment letter dated 21.05.2022. The appointment letter contains the terms & conditions governing petitioner's services. Clause-1 of the appointment letter contains duration of probation period and its extension as well as confirmation on satisfactory completion of probation period. Clause-5 of the appointment letter states that the offer of appointment was further subject to police verification of his antecedent and character and production of a medical certificate of fitness by the Senior Medical Officer, University Health Centre, University of Allahabad within three months of joining. Clause-6 of the appointment letter further provides that if any declaration or information furnished by him is proved to be false or if he was found to have willfully suppressed any information, he was liable to be dismissed from service and also subject to other legal action as University may deem necessary under rules applicable.

31. It is also not in dispute that by notification dated 08.8.2023, the probation period of the petitioner was extended for further one year from the date of meeting of the Executive Council dated 20.06.2023. During the extended period of probation, it was found that the petitioner had not disclosed crime number and details of offence for which he is facing criminal trial. After due deliberation on the service rendered by the respondent-petitioner, the Executive Council vide resolution No.06/78 dated 15.09.2023 resolved not to extend the services of the petitioner-respondent and to terminate his contract of service under clause 5 (a) of the Ordinance XLI: Conditions of Service of teachers of the University.

32. The main contention urged before the learned Single Judge was that the order terminating the services of the respondent-petitioner was punitive in nature and it attached stigma to him. The learned Single Judge observed that the petitioner was appointed under a due process. He had completed satisfactory service on probation of one year and on basis of his satisfactory service, his probation was extended for a period of one year. During the extended period of probation, the Executive Council had considered the case of petitioner and terminated his services under Clause 5 (a) of the Ordinance LXI. Learned Single Judge has allowed the writ petition and recorded a finding that truthfulness of allegations were not verified and the petitioner was penalized only on the basis of complaints.

33. As regards the disclosure, the petitioner was required to give details of the criminal case pending against him as well as the nature of offence for which he is facing criminal trial. Admittedly, a criminal case relating to outraging of modesty of woman was registered against him and after investigation, charge-sheet has been filed against him. The petitioner had suppressed the material fact and in column details under the head of 'Disclosure', he mentioned 'For students political issues'. An employee on probation can be discharged from service on the ground of unsatisfactory antecedents and suppression of material information or making false statement in reply to queries relating to pendency of the criminal case as it shows a current dubious conduct and absence of character at the time of making the declaration, thereby making him unsuitable for the post. We, therefore, do not agree with the findings of learned Single Judge in this regard.

34. In the case of Ved Priya & another (supra), which was relied by learned Single Judge, while allowing the writ petition, the respondents therein were initially appointed as Judicial Officer along with others and at the time of considering the candidature of those Judicial Officers for confirmation, the High Court, after taking into consideration the overall performance and the other requirement of a Judicial Officer under the service rules, have confirmed services of ninety Judicial Officers, extended probation of one judicial officer, the services of two Judicial Officers, who were before the Court, were not confirmed and they were discharged. It is in those facts of the case, Hon'ble Supreme Court has held that the respondents therein failed to establish that the High Court intended or has actually punished him for any defined misconduct, it stands crystallized that the object of the High Court on the administrative side was to verify the suitability and not to enquire into the allegations against the first respondent. Hon'ble Supreme Court did not find that the foundation was the allegations but it was based upon a holistic assessment of the respondent's service records.

35. In Ved Priya & Anr. (supra), Hon'ble Apex Court reiterated that the purpose of any probation is to ensure that before the employee attains the status of confirmed regular employee, he should satisfactorily perform his duties and functions to enable the authorities to pass appropriate orders. In other words, the scheme of probation is to judge the ability, suitability and performance of an officer under probation. This exercise is a necessary part of the process of recruitment, and must not be treated lightly. Written tests and interviews are only attempts to predict a candidate's possibility of success at a particular job. The true test of suitability is actual performance of duties, which can only be applied after the candidate joins and starts working. Such exercise is subjective and not objective. Probationers have no indefeasible right to continue in employment until confirmed. In case of a confirmed employee the scope of judicial interference would be more expansive given the protection under Article 311 of the Constitution or the Service Rules but such may not be true in the case of probationers, who are denuded of such protection while working on trial basis. Relevant paras from the judgment rendered by Apex Court in Ved Priya (supra) are as under:-

“14. The present case is one where the first respondent was a probationer and not a substantive appointee, hence not strictly covered within the umbrella of Article 311. The purpose of such probation has been noted in Kazia Mohammed Muzzammil v. State of Karnataka (2010) 8 SCC 155:

“25. The purpose of any probation is to ensure that before the employee attains the status of confirmed regular employee, he should satisfactorily perform his duties and functions to enable the authorities to pass appropriate orders. In other words, the scheme of probation is to judge the ability, suitability and performance of an officer under probation.”

15. Similarly, in Rajesh Kumar Srivastava v. State of Jharkhand (2011) 4 SCC 447 it was opined:

“9. ... A person is placed on probation so as to enable the employer to adjudge his suitability for continuation in the service and also for confirmation in service. There are various criteria for adjudging suitability of a person to hold the post on permanent basis and by way of confirmation. At that stage and during the period of probation the action and activities of the probationer (appellant) are generally under scrutiny and on the basis of his overall performance a decision is generally taken as to whether his services should be continued and that he should be confirmed, or he should be released from service. ...”

16. It is thus clear that the entire objective of probation is to provide the employer an opportunity to evaluate the probationer's performance and test his suitability for a particular post. Such an exercise is a necessary part of the process of recruitment, and must not be treated lightly. Written tests and interviews are only attempts to predict a candidate's possibility of success at a particular job. The true test of suitability is actual performance of duties which can only be applied after the candidate joins and starts working.

17. Such an exercise undoubtedly is subjective, therefore, Respondent No.1's contention that confirmation of probationers must be based only on objective material is far-fetched. Although quantitative parameters are ostensibly fair, but they by themselves are imperfect indicators of future performance. Qualitative assessment and a holistic analysis of non-quantifiable factors are indeed necessary. Merely because Respondent No. 1's ACRs were consistently marked 'Good', it cannot be a ground to bestow him with a right to continue in service.

18. Furthermore, there is a subtle, yet fundamental, difference between termination of a probationer and that of a confirmed employee. Although it is undisputed that the State cannot act arbitrarily in either case, yet there has to be a difference in judicial approach between the two. Whereas in the case of a confirmed employee the scope of judicial interference would be more expansive given the protection under Article 311 of the Constitution or the Service Rules but such may not be true in the case of probationers who are denuded of such protection (s) while working on trial basis.

19. Probationers have no indefeasible right to continue in employment until confirmed, and they can be relieved by the competent authority if found unsuitable. Its only in a very limited category of cases that such probationers can seek protection under the principles of natural justice, say when they are 'removed' in a manner which prejudices their future prospects in alternate fields or casts aspersions on their character or violates their constitutional rights. In such cases of 'stigmatic' removal only that a reasonable opportunity of hearing is sine-qua-non. Way back in Parshotam Lal Dhingra v. Union of India AIR 1958 SC 36, a Constitution Bench opined that:

"28.... In short, if the termination of service is founded on the right flowing from contract or the service rules then, prima facie, the termination is not a punishment and carries with it no evil consequences and so Article 311 is not attracted. But even if the Government has, by contract or under the rules, the right to terminate the employment without going through the procedure prescribed for inflicting the punishment of dismissal or removal or reduction in rank, the Government may, nevertheless, choose to punish the servant and if the termination of service is sought to be founded on misconduct, negligence, inefficiency or other disqualification, then it is a punishment and the requirements of Article 311 must be complied with."

36. It is gainful to note that the Apex court in para-24 of the decision in the case of Ved Priya (supra) observed that the unsatisfactory performance of a probationer and resultant dispensation of service at the end of the probation period, may not necessarily be impacted by the fact that meanwhile, there were some complaints attributing specific misconduct, malfeasance or misbehavior to the probationer. If the genesis of the order of termination of service lies in a specific act of misconduct, regardless of over all satisfactory performance of duties during the probation period, the Court will be well within its reach to unmask the hidden cause and hold that the simplicitor order of termination, in fact, intends to punish the probationer without establishing the charge(s) by way of an enquiry. However, when the employer does not pick-up a specific instance and forms his opinion on the basis of over all performance during the period of probation, the theory of action being punitive in nature, will not be attracted. Onus would thus lie on the probationer to prove that the action taken against him inheres punitive characteristics. In para-24 of the said judgement Hon'ble Supreme Court has also observed that since Respondent No.1 (therein) has failed to establish that the High Court intended or has actually punished him for any defined misconduct, it stands crystallized that the object of the High Court on the administrative side was to verify the suitability and not to enquire into the allegations against the first respondent.

37. Facts of the case in hand are entirely different from the facts of Ved Priya. In the case at hand, the petitioner-respondent was appointed on probation and he was terminated from service under Clause 5 (a) of the Ordinance XLI: Conditions of Service of teachers of the University. The petitioner's services were not confirmed at the time of evaluation of his suitability and after due deliberation on the service rendered by him, it was unanimously resolved by the Executive Council to not extend his services and to terminate his contract of service on making a payment of a sum equivalent to one month's salary in lieu of a notice of termination.

38. For ready reference, Clause 2 (e), 2 (f) and 5 (a) of the Ordinance XLI are quoted below:-

“Ordinance XLI : Conditions of service of Teachers of the University

1. xxx

2. (a) xxx

(b) xxx

(c) xxx

(d) xxx

(e) Where the work or conduct, or both, of a teacher appointed on probation is, or are, not considered satisfactory, the Executive Council may, during or on the expiry of the period, including extended period, of probation, after considering a report of the same officer or functionary responsible for making the report under sub-clause (c) in respect of the confirmation of such teacher, or any other report of a competent officer or functionary endorsed by the Vice-Chancellor, in respect of the work or conduct of such teacher, terminate his services.

(f) An order of termination of services, under sub-clause (e), shall not be made by the Executive Council, except after notice to the concerned teacher giving him an opportunity of explanation in respect of the grounds on which his services are proposed to be terminated: Provided that if such notice is given before, or on, the date of the expiry of the period, including extended period, of probation, the period shall stand extended up to the date on which the order of termination is communicated to the teacher concerned.

3. xxxx

4. xxxx

5. (a) Except in the case of a teacher referred to in sub-clause (e) of clause 2, the contract of service, and the engagement thereunder, of a teacher appointed on probation, or in temporary capacity, may be terminated by one month's notice on either side, or by payment, by the party choosing to terminate the said engagement, of a sum equivalent to one month's salary in lieu of such notice:

Provided that where, in the case of a teacher appointed in temporary capacity

(i) such engagement is for a period of less than one month, or

(ii) the duration of such engagement has already been specified or notified to the teacher concerned in advance and the said engagement is terminated in accordance with the term so specified or notified; or

(iii) such engagement has been determined by the Executive Council under the provisions of sub-clause (a), (d), (e) or (1) of clause 7, neither notice, nor payment of salary in lieu of notice, shall be necessary.”

39. In view of Clause 5 (a) of the Ordinance XLI, principles of natural justice need not be followed while terminating the services of a probationer. Neither any notice is required to be given to the probationer nor any opportunity of hearing is to be accorded to him. Merely because the order terminating probationer's service, refers to his unsatisfactory performance not suitable for confirmation, the order cannot be said to be stigmatic. Such an order would not assume characteristics of a stigmatic order just because a prospective employer might be prejudiced.

40. In Muir Mills Unit of NTC (U.P.) Ltd. v. Swayam Prakash Srivastava and another¹¹, State of W.B. and others v. Tapas Roy¹² and Rajesh Kumar Srivastava v. State of Jharkhand and Others¹³, Hon'ble Supreme Court has repeatedly held that an order terminating the services of a probationer on the ground of unsatisfactory performance is not a stigmatic order and there is no requirement of following the principles of natural justice in such a case.

41. In the case of Dipti Prakash Banerjee (supra), the Apex Court, while determining as to when a simple order of termination is to be treated as "founded" on the allegations of misconduct and when complaints could be only as motive for passing such a simple order of termination, a distinction is explained in para-21 as under: -

"21. If findings were arrived at in an enquiry as to misconduct, behind the back of the officer or without a regular departmental enquiry, the simple order of termination is to be treated as "founded" on the allegations and will be bad. But if the enquiry was not held, no findings were arrived at and the employer was not inclined to conduct an enquiry but, at the same time, he did not want to continue the employee against whom there were complaints, it would only be a case of motive and the order would not be bad. Similar is the position if the employer did not want to enquire into the truth of the allegations because of delay in regular departmental proceedings or he was doubtful about securing adequate evidence. In such a circumstance, the allegations would be a motive and not the foundation and the simple order of termination would be valid."

42. In Rajesh Kumar Srivastava (supra) Hon'ble Supreme Court held that while taking a decision to terminate the services of a probationer, no notice is required to be given where the decision is taken by the employer considering the employee's over all performance, conduct and suitability to the job and strictly speaking, these are not cases of removal but of discharge simplicitor.

43. In State of Uttar Pradesh and another v. Kaushal Kishore Shukla¹⁴, the Supreme Court held as under:-

"7. Whenever, the competent authority is satisfied that the work and conduct of a temporary servant is not satisfactory or that his continuance in service is not in public interest on account of his unsuitability, misconduct or inefficiency, it may either terminate his services in accordance with the terms and conditions of the service or the relevant rules or it may decide to take punitive action against the temporary government servant. If it decides to take punitive action it may hold a formal inquiry by framing charges and giving opportunity to the government servant in accordance with the provisions of Article 311 of the Constitution. Since, a temporary government servant is also entitled to the protection of Article 311(2) in the same manner as a permanent government servant, very often, the question arises whether an order of termination is in accordance with the contract of service and relevant rules regulating the temporary employment or it is by way of punishment. It is now well settled that the form of the order is not conclusive and it is open to the court to determine the true nature of the order. In Parshotam Lal Dhingra v. Union of India [1958 SCR 828 : AIR 1958 SC 36 : (1958) 1 LLJ 544] , a Constitution Bench of this Court held that the mere use of expressions like 'terminate' or 'discharge' is not conclusive and in spite of the use of such expressions, the court may determine the true nature of the order to ascertain whether the action taken against the government servant is punitive in nature. The court further held that in determining the true nature of the order the court should apply two tests namely: (1) whether the temporary government servant had a right to the post or the rank or (2) whether he has been visited with evil consequences; and if either of the tests is satisfied, it must be held that the order of termination of a temporary government servant is by way of punishment.....”

44. In Pavanendra Narayan Verma v. Sanjay Gandhi PGI of Medical Sciences and another (supra), the Supreme Court once again deliberated on the semantic concepts like ‘motive’ and ‘foundation’ and reiterated and re-affirmed the position that termination founded on misconduct is illegal but where misconduct is the motivating factor, termination warrants no interference.

45. The Apex Court in the case of Daya Shankar Yadav (supra) was faced with a similar issue, wherein a CRPF officer upon suppression of material facts was terminated from the service. The Apex Court, while referring to its previous decisions, summarised the position as follows:

“14. ... The purpose of seeking the said information is to ascertain the character and antecedents of the candidate so as to assess his suitability for the post. Therefore, the candidate will have to answer the questions in these columns truthfully and fully and any misrepresentation or suppression or false statement therein, by itself would demonstrate a conduct or character unbefitting for a uniformed security service.”

15. When an employee or a prospective employee declares in a verification form, answers to the queries relating to character and antecedents, the verification thereof can therefore lead to any of the following consequences:

(a) If the declarant has answered the questions in the affirmative and furnished the details of any criminal case (wherein he was convicted or acquitted by giving benefit of doubt for want of evidence), the employer may refuse to offer him employment (or if already employed on probation, discharge him from service), if he is found to be unfit having regard to the nature and gravity of the offence/crime in which he was involved.

(b) On the other hand, if the employer finds that the criminal case disclosed by the declarant related to offences which were technical, or of a nature that would not affect the declarant's fitness for employment, or where the declarant had been honourably acquitted and exonerated, the employer may ignore the fact that the declarant had been prosecuted in a criminal case and proceed to appoint him or continue him in employment.

(c) Where the declarant has answered the questions in the negative and on verification it is found that the answers were false, the employer may refuse to employ the declarant (or discharge him, if already employed), even if the declarant had been cleared of the charges or is acquitted. This is because when there is suppression or non-disclosure of material information bearing on his character, that itself becomes a reason for not employing the declarant.

(d) Where the attestation form or verification form does not contain proper or adequate queries requiring the declarant to disclose his involvement in any criminal proceedings, or where the candidate was unaware of initiation of criminal proceedings when he gave the declarations in the verification roll/attestation form, then the candidate cannot be found fault with, for not furnishing the relevant information. But if the employer by other means (say police verification or complaints etc.) learns about the involvement of the declarant, the employer can have recourse to courses (a) or (b) above.

16. Thus an employee on probation can be discharged from service or a prospective employee may be refused employment:

(i) on the ground of unsatisfactory antecedents and character, disclosed from his conviction in a criminal case, or his involvement in a criminal offence (even if he was acquitted on technical grounds or by giving benefit of doubt) or other conduct (like copying in examination) or rustication or suspension or debarment from college etc.; and

(ii) on the ground of suppression of material information or making false statement in reply to queries relating to prosecution or conviction for a criminal offence (even if he was ultimately acquitted in the criminal case).

This ground is distinct from the ground of previous antecedents and character, as it shows a current dubious conduct and absence of character at the time of making the declaration, thereby making him unsuitable for the post.”

46. In Kendriya Vidyalaya's case (supra) the Apex Court held that the purpose of requiring an employee to furnish information regarding prosecution/conviction, etc. in the verification form was to assess his character and antecedents for the purpose of employment and continuation in service; that suppression of material information and making a false statement in reply to the queries relating to prosecution and conviction had a clear bearing on the character, conduct and antecedents of the employee; and that where it is found that the employee had suppressed or given false information in regard to the matters which had a bearing on his fitness or suitability to the post, he could be terminated from service during the period of probation without holding any inquiry. The Apex Court also made it clear that neither the gravity of the criminal offence nor the ultimate acquittal therein was relevant when considering whether a probationer, who suppresses a material fact (of his being involved in a criminal case, in the personal information furnished to the employer), is fit to be continued as a probationer. Relevant portion of the judgement is reproduced as follows :-

"11. It is not in dispute that a criminal case registered under Sections 323, 341, 294, 506-B read with Section 34, IPC was pending on the date when the respondent filled the attestation form. Hence, the information given by the respondent as against columns 12 and 13 as "No" is plainly suppression of material information and it is also a false statement. Admittedly, the respondent is holder of B.A., B.Ed. and M.Ed. degrees. Assuming even his medium of instruction was Hindi throughout, no prudent man can accept that he did not study English language at all at any stage of his education. It is also not the case of the respondent that he did not study English at all. If he could understand columns 1-11 correctly in the same attestation form, it is difficult to accept his version that he could not correctly understand the contents of columns 12 and 13. Even otherwise if he could not correctly understand certain English words, in the ordinary course he could have certainly taken the help of somebody. This being the position, the Tribunal was right in rejecting the contention of the respondent and the High Court committed a manifest error in accepting the contention that because the medium of instruction of the respondent was Hindi, he could not understand the contents of columns 12 and 13. It is not the case that columns 12 and 13 are left blank. The respondent could not have said "No" as against columns 12 and 13 without understanding the contents. Subsequent withdrawal of criminal case registered against the respondent or the nature of offences, in our opinion, were not material. The requirement of filling columns 12 and 13 of the attestation form was for the purpose of verification of character and antecedents of the respondent as on the date of filling and attestation of the form. Suppression of material information and making a false statement has a clear bearing on the character and antecedents of the respondent in relation to his continuance in service.

12. The object of requiring information in columns 12 and 13 of the attestation form and certification thereafter by the candidate was to ascertain and verify the character and antecedents to judge his suitability to continue in service. A candidate having suppressed material information and/or giving false information cannot claim right to continue in service. The employer having regard to the nature of the employment and all other aspects had the discretion to terminate his services, which is made expressly clear in para 9 of the offer of appointment. The purpose of seeking information as per columns 12 and 13 was not to find out either the nature or gravity of the offence or the result of a criminal case ultimately. The information in the said columns was sought with a view to judge the character and antecedents of the respondent to continue in service or not. The High Court, in our view, has failed to see this aspect of the matter. It went wrong in saying that the criminal case had been subsequently withdrawn and that the offences, in which the respondent was alleged to have been involved, were also not of serious nature. In the present case the respondent was to serve as a Physical Education Teacher in Kendriya Vidyalaya. The character, conduct and antecedents of a teacher will have some impact on the minds of the students of impressionable age. The appellants having considered all the aspects passed the order of dismissal of the respondent from service. The Tribunal after due consideration rightly recorded a finding of fact in upholding the order of dismissal passed by the appellants. The High Court was clearly in error in upsetting the order of the Tribunal. The High Court was again not right in taking note of the withdrawal of the case by the State Government and that the case was not of a serious nature to set aside the order of the Tribunal on that ground as well. The respondent accepted the offer of appointment subject to the terms and conditions mentioned therein with his eyes wide open. Para 9 of the said memorandum extracted above in clear terms kept the respondent informed that the suppression of any information may lead to dismissal from service. In the attestation form, the respondent has certified that the information given by him is correct and complete to the best of his knowledge and belief; if he could not understand the contents of columns 12 and 13, he could not certify so. Having certified that the information given by him is correct and complete, his version cannot be accepted. The order of termination of services clearly shows that there has been due consideration of various aspects. In this view, the argument of the learned counsel for the respondent that as per para 9 of the memorandum, the termination of service was nor automatic, cannot be accepted."

47. In the case of State of Madhya Pradesh and Others vs. Abhijit Singh Pawar¹⁵, when the employee participated in the selection process, he tendered an affidavit disclosing the pending criminal case against him and according to the disclosure, a case registered in the year 2006 was pending on the date when the affidavit was tendered. However, within four days of filing such an affidavit, a compromise was entered into between the original complainant and the employee and an application for compounding the offence was filed under Section 320 Cr.P.C. The employee came to be discharged in view of the deed of compromise. Thereafter the employee was selected in the examination and was called for medical examination. However, his character verification was also undertaken and after due consideration of the character verification report, his candidature was rejected. The employee filed a writ petition before the High Court of Madhya Pradesh challenging rejection of his candidature and learned Single Judge of the High Court of Madhya Pradesh allowed the said writ petition on 31.7.2014. The judgment and order passed by the learned single Judge directing the State to appoint the employee came to be confirmed by the Division Bench, which led to appeal before the Apex Court. After considering catena of decisions on the point including the decision of this Court in the case of *Avtar Singh v. Union of India*¹⁶, the Apex Court upheld the order of the State rejecting the candidature of the employee by observing that as held in Avtar Singh (supra), even in cases where a truthful disclosure about a concluded case was made, the employer would still have a right to consider antecedents of the candidate and could not be compelled to appoint such candidate. After reproducing and/or re-considering para 38.5 of the decision in the case of Avtar Singh (supra), the Apex Court observed and held as under:-

"14. In Avtar Singh (supra), though this Court was principally concerned with the question as to non-disclosure or wrong disclosure of information, it was observed in paragraph 38.5 that even in cases where a truthful disclosure about a concluded case was made, the employer would still have a right to consider antecedents of the candidate and could not be compelled to appoint such candidate.

15. In the present case, as on the date when the respondent had applied, a criminal case was pending against him. Compromise was entered into only after an affidavit disclosing such pendency was filed. On the issue of compounding of offences and the effect of acquittal under Section 320(8) of Cr.P.C., the law declared by this Court in Mehar Singh (supra), specially in paragraphs 34 and 35 completely concludes the issue. Even after the disclosure is made by a candidate, the employer would be well within his rights to consider the antecedents and the suitability of the candidate. While so considering, the employer can certainly take into account the job profile for which the selection is undertaken, the severity of the charges levelled against the candidate and whether the acquittal in question was an honourable acquittal or was merely on the ground of benefit of doubt or as a result of composition.

16. The reliance placed by Mr. Dave, learned Amicus Curiae on the decision of this Court in Mohammed Imran (supra) is not quite correct and said decision cannot be of any assistance to the respondent. In para 5 of said decision, this Court had found that the only allegation against the appellant therein was that he was travelling in an auto-rickshaw which was following the autorickshaw in which the prime accused, who was charged under Section 376 IPC, was travelling with the prosecutrix in question and that all the accused were acquitted as the prosecutrix did not support the allegation. The decision in Mohammed Imran (supra) thus turned on individual facts and cannot in any way be said to have departed from the line of decisions rendered by this Court in Mehar Singh (supra), Parvez Khan (supra) and Pradeep Kumar (supra).

17. We must observe at this stage that there is nothing on record to suggest that the decision taken by the concerned authorities in rejecting the candidature of the respondent was in any way actuated by mala fides or suffered on any other count. The decision on the question of suitability of the respondent, in our considered view, was absolutely correct and did not call for any interference. We, therefore, allow this appeal, set aside the decisions rendered by the Single Judge as well as by the Division Bench and dismiss Writ Petition No.9412 of 2013 preferred by the respondent. No costs."

CONCLUSION

48. Hon'ble Apex Court while considering Pavanendra Narayan Verma's case (supra) had considered what should be the test to determine whether a letter of termination of service was termination simplicitor or stigmatic termination. After referring to a number of authorities including the judgment in Parshotam Lal Dhingra vs. Union of India¹⁷ the Apex Court has held as under (vide para 19):

"..Courts continue to struggle with semantically indistinguishable concepts like motive" and "foundation"; and terminations founded on a probationer's misconduct have been held to be illegal while terminations motivated by the probationer's misconduct have been upheld. The decisions are legion and it is an impossible task to find a clear path through the jungle of precedents."

49. Hon'ble Apex Court has further formulated the judicial test to determine as to on which side of the fence the case lay, in the following words (vide para 21):-

"One of the judicially evolved tests to determine whether in substance an order of termination is punitive is to see whether prior to the termination there was (a) a full scale formal enquiry (b) into allegations involving moral turpitude or misconduct (c) which (c) culminated in a finding of guilt. If all three factors are present the termination has been held to be punitive irrespective of the form of the termination order. Conversely if any one of the three factors is missing, the termination has been upheld."

50. The real test to be applied in every situation where an employee is removed by an innocuous order of termination is: "Is he discharged as unsuitable or is he punished for his misconduct?". If the order of termination from service casts a stigma in the sense that it contains a statement casting aspersion on his conduct or his character, then it can be treated as an order of punishment but not if it merely amounts to highlighting the unsuitability of the employee.

51. In the instant matter, we have carefully examined the resolution of the Executive Council and the termination order. The finding of learned Single Judge qua the fact, that no agenda was there in the meeting of Executive Council, is unsustainable as the matter falling even outside the agenda can always be taken with the leave of the Vice Chancellor of the University and the case of the petitioner was taken into consideration by the Executive Council with the leave of the chair i.e. Vice Chancellor of the University.

52. The instant matter can also be seen from another angle that the petitioner, who was aggrieved with the order of termination being simplicitor by which his services were dispensed with, challenged the same in the writ petition and while responding the writ petition the University had taken a very innocuous and categorical stand that the order was simplicitor and no material was brought by the University with the counter affidavit, which could even reflect a glimpse of impression that the order of simplicitor could be presumed as stigmatic. No doubt, learned Single Judge has a right to lift the veil to find out the actual reason, which prompted the University to pass such an order. Thereafter, on the instance of learned

Single Judge the material was placed by the appellant University in a sealed cover. Till the submission of papers in the sealed cover, no document was in public domain except the resolution of the Executive Council. Therefore, we find that there was no reason or occasion to mention the papers, which were supplied by the University, on insistence of the learned Single Judge.

53. Surprisingly, the petitioner was present in the court room and learned Single Judge himself had asked certain queries to the petitioner in the open court. Even the details are averred in the impugned judgment, which also categorically reflect that the petitioner himself has failed to satisfy the Court qua the concealment of criminal proceeding. In such situation the employer i.e. University cannot be blamed and no onus can be shifted upon the University that the order of dispensation of petitioner's services as probationer is stigmatic. In the absence of any attempt by the University to place the complaint/report and newspaper cutting on affidavit or to bring it in public domain, the order of termination, as on the face of it, remains simplicitor.

54. As averred in the earlier part of the judgement, we find that a termination order, which explicitly states what is implicit in every order of termination of a probationer's appointment, does not ipso facto become stigmatic. Therefore, what emerges from the conspectus of the aforesaid judgements is that if an order is found on allegations, the order is stigmatic and punitive and services of an employee cannot be dispensed without affording him an opportunity of defending the accusations/allegations made against him in a full-fledged inquiry.

55. In the instant matter, the procedure adopted by the appellant University under Clause 5 (a) is just and proper as the said provision leaves it open upon the wisdom of the employer to part with the enquiry, if the employer did not find it proper to institute an enquiry. The term used 'may' in Clause 5 (a) leaves upon the discretion of the University to dispense with service of the probationer by simply payment of one month salary in lieu of notice.

56. The employer/University is well within its domain in not continuing the petitioner, who is facing grave charge of molestation and is bailed out in the criminal case. The factum of not disclosing the details/nature of criminal case against the petitioner may have independently invited the termination even in absence of any complaints. The requirement of integrity and high standard of conduct is of paramount importance in the service of teacher. However, in this case, it was not a case of termination on the ground of complaint, but was a simple discharge of probationer.

57. We are, therefore, of the considered opinion that the mere reiteration of a universal fact of Dr. Deepali Pant Joshi, does not amount to stigma by any stretch of imagination as it can at the best be taken as a general statement. The termination of the petitioner is, therefore, neither punitive nor stigmatic.

58. For the aforesaid reasons, we are of the firm view that the learned Single Judge has recorded contradictory findings of facts in the impugned judgement.

59. In view of the law laid down on the subject by the Apex Court and the material placed on record, the judgement of learned Single Judge dated 23.05.2024 deserves to be set aside and is hereby set aside.

60. Accordingly, the Special Appeal stands allowed.

A. Service Law – Post of Gramin Dak Sevak (GDS) – Qualification – Petitioner possessed Certificate of Prathama from Hindi Sahitya Sammelan – Notification dated 24.11.2009 require the qualification of High School form a recognized Board – However, the Notification dated 21.11.2006 recognized Certificate of Prathama as equivalence to High School – Effect – Held, Hindi Sahitya Sammelan is neither a University/Deemed University nor Educational Board but it is only a society registered under the Societies Registration Act and the degree offered by it has no sanctity, but what is to be seen is the stand of the Postal Department based upon the statutory rules with regard to the issue of equivalence – The recruitment rules itself provides for equivalent qualification and once the position being so, in the backdrop of the notification dated 26.11.2006 as adopted from time to time by the Postal Department, it cannot be said that the selection and the appointment of the writ petitioner was illegal. (Para 18 and 19)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Vikas Budhwar, J.)

1. Impugned in the present proceedings at the instance of Smt. Madhumita Pandey (in short 'writ petitioner') is an order dated 20.03.2024 passed by Central Administrative Tribunal, Allahabad Bench, Allahabad (in short 'Tribunal') in OA No. 1820 of 2010 (Smt. Kalpana Tripathi Vs. Union of India & 4 Others), whereby the original application preferred by Smt. Kalpana Tripathi (in short 'original applicant') questioning the order dated 15.07.2010 of the Post Master General, Gorakhpur Region, Gorakhpur, third respondent (in short 'Postal Department') appointing the writ petitioner on the post of GDS, Branch Post Master, Baraon, Branch Office was set aside.

2. A joint statement has been made by the learned counsels for the parties that they do not propose to file any affidavits. With the consent of the parties, the writ petition is being decided at the fresh on the basis of the documents available on record.

Facts:

3. The case of the original applicant which was projected before the Tribunal as set out in the OA is that a recruitment exercise was undertaken by the Postal Department for filling up the post of GDS Branch Post Master, Baraon, Branch Office through District Employment Officer, Deoria. The original applicant along with the writ petitioner and others applied in pursuance of the said notification, thereafter, a merit list was prepared of five candidates on the basis of the percentage of marks obtained in the high school examination in which the original applicant's name found place at serial No. 4 whereas the writ petitioner was assigned ranking at serial No. 3. On 15.07.2010, an appointment order came to be issued in favour of the writ petitioner appointing her on the post of GDS, Branch Post Master, Baraon. The original applicant questioned the appointment of the writ petitioner on the said post while instituting proceedings, OA No. 1820 of 2010 seeking following reliefs:-

"A. To quash the order dated 15.07.2010 (Annexure No. 1) passed by the respondent No. 3 for the appointment of the respondent No. 4 the post of Post Master, Post Office Baraw, District Deoria.

B. To direct the respondent No. 3 to appoint the applicant on the post of Post Master, Post Office Baraw, District Deoria.

C. To pass such other and further order which may be deem fit and proper in the circumstances of the case.

D. To award the cost of this application to the applicant.”

4. The sheet anchor of the challenge raised to the appointment of the writ petitioner was on the premise that she was not eligible and qualified for being selected and appointed on the said post, as the minimum qualification as per the notification dated 24.11.2009 was possession of High School certificate from a recognized Board. Since, according to the original applicant, the writ petitioner possessed the certificate of Prathama examination conducted by the Hindi Sahitya Sammelan, Allahabad which was not the qualification specified in the notification, thus, the selection and the appointment of the writ petitioner was illegal.

5. The Tribunal entertained the original application while issuing notice to the writ petitioner and seeking response from the writ petitioner as well as the Postal Department. On contest, response was filed by the Postal Department and the writ petitioner to which rejoinder affidavits were filed and the O.A. came to be allowed while relying upon the decision in Rajasthan Pradesh Vidya Samiti V.S. Sardarshahar & Anr. Vs. Union of India and others, 2010 (12) SCC 609 and Manish Kumar Vs. State of U.P. 2010 (9) ADJ 762 holding that the Hindi Sahitya Sammelan is neither a University nor an Educational Board and the certificate so offered does not have legal sanctity, the appointment of the writ petitioner was set aside.

6. Questioning the order dated 20.03.2024 passed in OA No. 1820 of 2010, the writ petitioner has filed the present writ petition seeking following reliefs.-

“i. Issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of certiorari to quash the impugned order dated 20.03.2024 passed by Central Administrative Tribunal, Allahabad in Original Application No. 1820 of 2010 (Smt. Kalpana Tripathi Vs. Union of India and others).

ii. Issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of Mandamus directing the respondents not to interfere her working as Branch Postmaster Branch Baraon, District Deoria.

iii. Issue any other writ order or direction which this Hon’ble Court may deem fit and proper in the circumstances of the present case.

iv. Award costs of the writ petition to the petitioner.”

7. This Court on presentation of the writ petition on 15.04.2024 passed the following orders.-

“1. Supplementary affidavit, annexing the certified copy of the impugned order, filed today, is taken on record.

2. Sri B.B.P. Srivastava, Advocate, holding brief of Sri Vinay Kumar Srivastava, has entered appearance on behalf of respondent no. 5.

3. Counsel for the petitioner to provide him with complete set of pleadings.

4. As jointly prayed, list as fresh on 25.4.2024, showing the name of Sri Vinay Kumar Srivastava as counsel for respondent no. 5.

5. The order has been passed in the presence of Sri Saumitra Singh, learned counsel for respondent nos. 1, 3 and 4.”

8. Thereafter, on 01.08.2024 the following orders were passed.-

“1. Despite grant of sufficient time, the Notification dated 21.11.2006, Annexure-6 (Page 111) published in Gazette has not been produced. However, a copy of the said notification as annexed with the petition has been again produced by learned A.S.G.I.

2. In view of the fact that the respondents themselves have relied on the said notification dated 21.11.2006, now the plea being raised on behalf of the respondents is that the advertisement did not indicate the equivalent qualification and in terms of the notification also, the same is only an equivalent qualification.

3. Counsel for the petitioner submits that the Rules provide equivalent qualification and prays for time to produce the same.

4. In view of the submissions made, list on 20th August, 2024, as fresh.”

Argument of counsel for writ petitioner:

9. Sri R.C. Dwivedi, learned counsel for the petitioner has sought to argue that the judgment and order of the Tribunal impugned in the present writ petition cannot be sustained for a single moment inasmuch as the Tribunal has misconstrued the entire controversy and has adopted an incorrect approach. Elaborating the said submission it is submitted that as per the statutory rules for Postal Gramin Dak Sevak, Section IV deals with the method of recruitment and according to which for the post of ED/Post Master/ED Branch Post Master, the relevant qualification is matriculation or equivalent thereof.

10. Submission is that though matriculation is one of the qualification but besides it equivalent qualification as recognized by the Postal Department is also permissible for the recruitment on the post in question. According to the writ petitioner, in the case in hand the Postal Department had issued a notification dated 21.11.2006 under the signature of the Joint Secretary to the Government of India, Ministry of Human Resource Development, Department of High Education according to which in continuation of the departments notification dated 14.05.2004 the Government of India in its meeting held on 16.10.2006 had decided to extend the provisional recognition granted to the Prathama examination being conducted by Hindi Sahitya Sammelan, Allahabad for the purposes of employment under the Central Government for the post where the desired qualification is to pass matriculation for a period of three years from 27.07.2007 to 26.10.2010. It is, thus, contended that merely because the writ petitioner does not possess matriculation from U.P. High School and Intermediate Education, ICSE or CBSE, the same would not be a disqualification particularly when the Prathama from Hindi Sahitya Sammelan has been made equivalent. Additionally, it has been argued that the judgments in the case of Rajasthan Pradesh (supra) and Manish Kumar (supra) would not be applicable in the present case and, thus, the Tribunal erred in law in allowing the original application while setting aside the appointment of the writ petitioner, it is, therefore, prayed that the order of the Tribunal impugned in the present proceeding be set aside and the writ petition be allowed while granting relief as claimed in toto.

Argument of counsels for Original Applicant:

11. Countering the submission of the learned counsel for the petitioner Sri V.K. Singh, learned Senior Counsel assisted by Sri Vinay Kumar Srivastava has submitted that the judgment and order of the Tribunal needs no interference in the present proceedings in view of the fact that the Tribunal has considered each and every aspect of the matter and has proceeded to pass an order which cannot be said to be suffering from any illegality. Argument is that the qualification as prescribed in the advertisement was matriculation from a recognized Board and once the writ petitioner as per her own saying possessed qualification of Prathama from Hindi Sahitya Sammelan which is not a recognized institution then by all eventuality the selection and appointment of the writ petitioner was illegal and has been rightly set aside by the Tribunal. Reliance has been placed upon the decision in Bedanga Talukdar Vs. Saifudullah Khan & Ors., 2011 (12) SCC 85 and Ankita Thakur and Ors. Vs. H.P. Staff Selection Commission & Ors. reported in 2023 (7) Supreme Court 468 so as to contend that even if there exists power of relaxation of the rules then the same has to be specifically indicated in the advertisement otherwise it would be in violation of Articles 14 and 16 of the Constitution of India. Submission is that though the rule provides for possession of matriculation and equivalent examination but once relaxation is being accorded then it is to be specifically mentioned in the advertisement so as to give opportunity to the other deserving candidates who would have applied in that regard. Since the advertisement did not prescribe for any equivalent qualification, thus, no benefit whatsoever could have been accorded to the writ petitioner. While driving force from the judgment in Rajasthan Pradesh Vidya Samiti (supra) and Manish Kumar (supra) it is contended that once there happens to be series of decisions on the subject that the Hindi Sahitya Sammelan being neither university/deemed university nor an educational board, thus, the question of equivalence itself stands extinguished, therefore, the writ petitioner is not entitled to relief and the writ petition be dismissed.

Argument of counsel for Postal Department:

12. Sri Saumitra Singh, learned counsel who appears for the Postal Department has supported the case of the writ petitioner while adding that the Postal Department in view of the notification dated 21.11.2006 considers the qualification of Prathama from Hindi Sahitya Sammelan as equivalent to matriculation and the same stands adopted also. According to him the selection and appointment of the writ petitioner is perfectly valid and on the basis of the sheer dint of merit she has been selected and accorded appointment and the Tribunal committed an error in allowing the original application preferred by the original applicant while setting aside the appointment of the writ petitioner.

Analysis:

13. The facts are not in issue. It is not in issue that the notification came to be issued by the Postal Department for filling up the post of GDS, Branch Post Master Baraon wherein the qualification prescribed was possession of matriculation (High School) from a recognized Board. It is also not in dispute that the writ petitioner along with the original applicant and others applied in pursuance of the said notification and a merit list came to be published, in which as per the averments contained in para 5 of the reply filed by the Postal Department before the Tribunal, it was asserted.-

“5. That, on receipt of applications from the District Employment Officer Deoria as well as from the candidates applying direct, the merit list was prepared for five candidates on the basis of percentage of marks obtained in the High School Examination and in the examination equivalent to High School Examination. The merit list was prepared as under:-

SI No	Name of candidates	Obtained Marks	Percentage	Name of Board
1.	Smt. Indubala Tripathi	447/600	74.5	HS & Intermediate Education U.P. Board Allahabad
2.	Sri Vipin Kumar Pandey	592/800	74.00	Hindi Sahitya Sammelan, Allahabad
3.	Smt. Madhumita Pandey	565/800	70.62	Hindi Sahitya Sammelan, Allahabad
4.	Smt. Kalpana Tripathi	407/600	67.83	HS & Intermediate Education U.P., Board Allahabad
5.	Sri Rajesh Singh	379/600	63.16	HS & Intermediate Education U.P. Board Allahabad

14. The bone of contention between the parties is whether it was open for the Postal Department to select the writ petitioner on the said post on the face of the fact that the writ petitioner did not possess matriculation from the recognized Board, U.P. Board of High School & Intermediate Education/ICSE/CBSC.

15. To address the said question, we are required to have a quick survey of the statutory rules, advertisement and the notifications issued from time to time on the said subject. Record reveals there exist Service Rules for Postal Gramin Dak Sevak for recruitment of Sub Postmasters and Branch Postmasters prescribing qualification of matriculation or equivalent examination. Though we find that the advertisement does not speak about any equivalence barring the qualification of matriculation but what is relevant is the statutory rules which would in all eventualities prevail in case of any inconsistency with the advertisement where the recruitment rules prescribe for equivalent qualification. The said aspect is no more res integra as the same stands crystallized in the case of Ashish Kumar Vs. State of Uttar Pradesh 2018 (3) SCC 55 wherein the following was observed.-

“27. Any part of the advertisement which is contrary to the statutory rules has to give way to the statutory prescription. Thus, looking to the qualification prescribed in the statutory rules, the appellant fulfils the qualification and after being selected for the post denying appointment to him is arbitrary and illegal. It is well settled that when there is variance in the advertisement and in the statutory rules, it is the statutory rules which take precedence.”

16. Recently the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case in Civil Appeal No. 152 of 2022 the Employee State Insurance Corporation Ltd. Vs. Union of India decided on 20.01.2022 held as under:-

“It is settled law that if an advertisement is inconsistent with the recruitment rules, the rules would prevail, *as held by this Court in Malik Mazhar Sultan & Anr. Vs. U.P. Public Service Commission & Ors., 2006 (9) SCC 507.

17. Applying the principles of law as culled out in the above noted decision in the facts of the present case, an irresistible conclusion stands drawn that the recruitment rules will have precedence over the advertisement and the advertisement is to yield before the recruitment rules.

18. Now the next question which falls for consideration before us is regarding the issue of equivalence. Though there happens to be judgments on the subject that the Hindi Sahitya Sammelan is neither a University/Deemed University nor Educational Board but it is only a society registered under the Societies Registration Act and the degree offered by it has no sanctity, but what is to be seen is the stand of the Postal Department based upon the statutory rules with regard to the issue of equivalence. Apparently, there happens to be a notification issued by the Government of India, Ministry of Human Resource Development, Department of Higher Education dated 21.11.2006 on the subject that even in the past and in continuation of the notification dated 14.05.2004, the Government of India on the recommendation of the higher level committee in its meeting convened on 16.10.2006 had taken a decision to extend the provisional recognition granted to the Prathama examination being conducted by Hindi Sahitya Sammelan for the purposes of employment under the Central Government for the post for which desired qualification is to pass matriculation for a further period of three years from 27.10.2007 to 26.10.2010. The said notification specifically recognizes the qualification of Prathama examination and adoptable to the post which are under the Government of India. Not only this, the Postal Department has also issued a circular adopting the said notification and making it applicable in the Postal Department. On examination, we find that the qualification of Prathama obtained by the writ petitioner from Hindi Sahitya Sammelan, Allahabad is of the year 2006 i.e. the period when the same was made equivalent to Prathama Hindi Sahitya Sammelan.

19. Bearing in mind the said factual backdrop, it becomes explicitly clear that the Postal Department being the employers has been treating the qualification of Prathama obtained from Hindi Sahitya Sammelan to be equivalent to matriculation and on the said basis the recruitment exercise stood undertaken pursuant to the notification dated 24.11.2009 and the writ petitioner was selected and granted appointment. Our views further stands amplified from the fact that the recruitment rules itself provides for equivalent qualification and once the position being so, in the backdrop of the notification dated 26.11.2006 as adopted from time to time by the Postal Department, it cannot be said that the selection and the appointment of the writ petitioner was illegal. So far as the reference so placed upon the judgment in the case of Bedanga Talukdar (supra) and Ankita Thakur (supra), the same would not apply in the facts of the case particularly when the issue before the Court in the said cases was with regard to the issue of relaxation whereas in the present case, the issue is of equivalence which is prescribed in the statutory recruitment rules.

20. Nonetheless, we are also not required to delve into the issue relatable to the validity of the notification dated 21.11.2006 or the statutory rules providing for equivalence particularly when neither the same has been subject matter of challenge nor any pleadings or arguments have been advanced in that regard. Moreover, it is also not the case of the original applicant before the Tribunal or before us that any fraud, concealment or misrepresentation has been practised by the writ petitioner as rather to the contrary on the basis of the statutory rules and the qualification as exhibited by the writ petitioner, she was selected. Once the employers, the Postal Department had taken a stand before the Tribunal and is also maintaining it before us that the qualification of Prathama is equivalent to matriculation and invariably selections have been conducted of the candidates who are possessing the said qualification then it cannot be said that the selection and appointment of the writ petitioner was illegal.

21. There is another reason in subscribing to the contention raised by the writ petitioner that she is eligible and qualified particularly when nothing has been brought on record before us in the present proceedings that the notification dated 21.11.2006 had been done away with or there is any change in the recruitment rules on the said subject whereby the candidates who possessed Prathama from Hindi Sahitya Sammelan have been rendered ineligible.

22. Moreover the question of equivalence is to be left to the employer and it would not be a matter of judicial scrutiny by the Courts. Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Zahoor Ahmad Rather and others Vs. Sheikh Intiyaz Ahmad and others: 2019 (2) SCC 404 has observed as under:-

“The prescription of qualifications for a post is a matter of recruitment policy. The State as the employer is entitled to prescribe the qualifications as a condition of eligibility. It is no part of the role or function of judicial review to expand upon the ambit of the prescribed qualifications. Similarly, equivalence of a qualification is not a matter which can be determined in exercise of the power of judicial review. Whether a particular qualification should or should not be regarded as equivalent is a matter for the State, as the recruiting authority, to determine”.

23. Accordingly, we are of the firm opinion that the Tribunal has overlooked the vital aspects which are germane to the controversy in question and has erred in law in setting aside the appointment of the writ petitioner while allowing the original application.

24. In view of the foregoing discussions, the writ petition stands allowed. The order dated 20.03.2024 passed by the Tribunal in O.A. No. 1820 of 2010 is set aside.

25. Consequently, the original application stands dismissed.

26. The natural and legal consequences shall follow.

(1) Heard Sri S.B. Pandey, learned Senior Advocate and Deputy Solicitor General of India assisted by Sri Ashwani

(2) By means of this bunch of writ petitions, similar orders of the same nature passed in separate Original Applications involving similar facts and case, have been challenged. Writ-A No.6056 of 2024 has been taken up as the leading writ petition with the consent of the parties.

(3) The case of the petitioners herein is that all the respondents in this petitions had been granted three promotions/financial upgradation, therefore, in view of three promotions already having been granted to them, they were not entitled to any financial upgradation under the 'Assured Career Progression Scheme (ACPS)' which came into force w.e.f. 01.09.2008 as modified. Nevertheless, they were wrongly granted the benefit of 'Modified Assured Career Progression Scheme (MACPS) (3rd financial upgradation)' w.e.f. 01.09.2008 in the form of Grade Pay Rs.4800/-. They were erroneously given the benefit of 3rd financial upgradation w.e.f. 01.09.2008 vide orders dated 26.07.2010, 18.02.2010, 12.08.2010, 19.04.2010, 15.02.2012, 25.10.2013 and their names figure in the list appended therein. One such order dated 26.07.2010 is annexed at page 26 to 28 of the supplementary affidavit filed by the petitioner in Writ-A No.6056 of 2024, the leading petition.

(4) Our attention has been drawn to point 2 of the said order dated 26.07.2010 which contains a specific condition to the effect - "The pay fixation is subject to post audit and in the light of audit observation, over payment if any shall be recovered from the official in one lump-sum." Similar condition is there in other orders.

(5) The submission is that prior to retirement of the respondents, the account section scrutinized their service records and raised an objection on detection of an irregularity in grant of the aforesaid benefit of 3rd financial upgradation as noticed hereinabove and accordingly, a note was put up to the DDO on 17.05.2016 (Writ-A No.6056 of 2024) to the effect- "please recover the over payment amount due to wrong fixation from 01.09.2008 to 31.05.2016 in the grade pay of Rs.4800/- and sent the recovery statement duly attested by DDO along with pension paper." This was prior to the retirement of the respondents. Similar audit objections were raised in case of all the respondents albeit on different dates.

(6) It appears that the private respondents were aware of this audit objection which was referable to the condition mentioned in the order dated 26.07.2010 etc., as such, the respondents moved applications copies of which are on record having been annexed with the supplementary affidavit, asking the Deputy Director General, Doordarshan Centre, Lucknow to kindly finalize their pension matter taking into consideration the audit objection of the Accounts and Audit Officer dated 17.05.2016 etc., in pursuance to which, the pay fixation was corrected and thereafter the pension was fixed.

(7) While disbursing the post retiral dues, the excess payment was deducted therefrom as was permissible in view of the conditions mentioned in the orders dated 26.07.2010 and other orders which the respondents readily accepted without any demur and also in view of their own letter given before their retirement for finalizing their pension in terms of the audit objections which in the context of Writ-A No.6056 of 2024 was served on 17.05.2016. In Writ-A No.7231 of 2024, respondent had given such letter after retirement.

(8) In the light of the aforesaid facts, reliance has been placed by the petitioners upon a judgment of Hon'ble the Supreme Court in the case of High Court of Punjab and Haryana and Ors. vs. Jagdev Singh reported in AIR 2016 SC 3523 wherein Supreme Court of India considered its earlier decision in State of Punjab and others etc. vs. Rafiq Masih (White Washer) etc : (2015) 4 SCC 334 and opined that the principle enunciated at point no. (ii) therein regarding non-recovery of excess payment from retired employees, or employees, who are due to retirement within one year of the order of recovery, being not applicable to a situation such as in the case at hand where the officer to whom the payment was made in the first instance was clearly placed on notice that any payment found to have been made in excess would be required to be refunded. It was further observed in the said judgment that the officer furnished an undertaking while opting for revised pay scale is bound by undertaking, therefore, according to learned counsel, an exception was carved out to the application of the earlier decision in Rafiq Masih (supra) in the aforesaid manner.

(9) The submission is that in view of the aforesaid, in the facts of this case, neither the refixation of pay nor the recovery ensuing, as a consequence therefrom, was barred by law, in fact, the Tribunal has not interfered with the refixation but has interfered with the recovery, ignoring the factual aspects as narrated hereinabove, and ignoring the documents referred above which were also on record of the Tribunal and without considering the subsequent decision of Hon'ble the Supreme Court in Jagdev Singh (supra) which was also brought on record by it.

(10) On being confronted, Ms. Savita Jain, counsel for the private respondents submitted that, in the case at hand, no undertaking has been given by the respondents permitting such refixation or recovery, however, she does not deny the fact that before the Tribunal, the order of refixation of salary or the audit objections were not challenged instead a relief was sought in the form of directions to the respondents therein to pay the post retiral dues, inter alia, albeit along with already deducted amount from the gratuity of the petitioners with the interest at market rate i.e. the amount deducted on account of excess payment.

(11) The contention of the counsel for the respondents was that the Accounts Officer was not entitled to refix the pay or order recovery, however, learned counsel did not deny the conditions mentioned in the orders dated 26.07.2010 and other orders as noticed hereinabove nor that the respondents had given an application for fixing their pension prior to retirement taking into consideration the audit objection dated 17.05.2016, except in Writ-A No.7231 of 2024. Moreover, the audit objection was not challenged by the respondent in the Original Application.

(12) She, however, laid great emphasis on another judgment of the Supreme Court of India rendered on 08.08.2024 in Civil Appeal No(s). 1635 of 2013 : Jagdish Prasad Singh vs. State of Bihar and Others, wherein it has been held in para 20 that an order directing reduction in pay scale and recovery from the appellant therein was manifestly not preceded by any show cause notice and was, thus, passed in gross violation of principles of natural justice and also that no departmental action could have been initiated against the appellant therein after eight years following his superannuation because the employer employee relationship had come to an end after the appellant's superannuation, to contend that in the facts of the case the judgment of the Tribunal is justified and this Court should not interfere with the same.

(13) Having heard learned counsel for the parties and having perused the records and in view of the facts already noticed hereinabove, what comes out is that all the respondents had already been promoted/granted upgradation under ACP scheme thrice prior to coming into force of the 'Modified Assured Career Progression Scheme (MACPS)' and in the very nature of the said scheme, any financial upgradation would have been made available only if there was stagnation on any post without such promotion/upgradation and the benefits which were admissible thereunder were in the form of three financial upgradation depending upon how many promotions/upgradations have been made/given. In the case at hand, all the respondents had already been promoted/granted upgradation thrice, therefore, there was no application of the 'MACPS', yet erroneously the benefit of financial upgradation was extended to them vide order dated 26.07.2010 and other orders, however, as already noticed, the appellants herein were cautious enough to incorporate a condition therein that the pay fixation consequent to grant of such financial upgradation was subject to post audit and in light of audit objection, over payment, if any, shall be recovered from the officials in one lump sum and that it was being extended to the respondents subject to the said condition. They are bound by it as they have never challenged the said order nor the said condition. Now in the light of the said condition, the Audit and Account Section raised an objection that there was over payment on account of erroneous grant of 3rd financial upgradation whereas all the officers had already availed three promotions and, therefore, the benefit was not available, accordingly, recovery was suggested so that the pension paper could be finalized. This audit objection was raised before retirement of the respondents except in the case of Amit Kumar Arora (Writ-A No.7231 of 2024) and was in terms of the condition already referred hereinabove. Most important, all the respondents, submitted separate applications to the higher officials for finalizing their pension taking into consideration these audit objections, therefore, this also while submitting such representation, they acceded to the objections raised by the audit department and cannot resile from the same.

(14) If the order dated 26.07.2010 and other similar orders were not on record of the Tribunal then not only the petitioners but also the respondents have to offer an explanation as to why they did not bring it on record because under this very order the benefit was extended to them. In any case, all these documents have been filed along with the supplementary affidavit before this Court, a copy of which was served upon the counsel for the respondents but till date no response has been filed to the same nor these documents have been denied. These are official documents and there is no reason for us to disbelieve the same.

(15) In these cases at hand, there is one exception on facts, i.e., in Writ-A No.7231 of 2024, wherein, the respondent-Anil Kumar Arora retired on 31.08.2015 and the refixation of pay was done subsequent to his retirement, however, this does not make any difference as the condition contained in the order dated 17.08.2011 was already existing and he was bound by the same. Moreover, he had also submitted an application dated 21.10.2015 for finalizing his pension after taking into consideration the audit objection dated 06.10.2015.

(16) In view of the aforesaid discussions, the judgment relied upon by the counsel for the respondents in Jagdish Prasad Singh (supra) and Rafiq Masih (supra) are not attracted rather the exception to Rafiq Masih (supra) as carved out in the case of Jagdev Singh (supra) is squarely applicable. The respondents had notice of the fact that, if any, excess payment is made, the same would be liable to be recovered/refunded. Moreover, they themselves submitted an application that their pension be fixed after taking into consideration the audit objections raised on 17.05.2016 and other orders that too, except in one case, prior to their retirement, therefore, we are of the opinion that the Tribunal's judgment which is impugned herein cannot be sustained. The excess payment had already been recovered prior to filing of the Original Applications. The same has not been refunded as yet.

(17) The impugned judgments are quashed in all the petitions. The Original Applications are dismissed. Petitions are allowed.

2. Counter affidavit filed today on behalf of opposite party no. 1 is taken on record.

3. Learned counsel for petitioner on the basis of instructions submits that petitioner does not wish to file any response thereto.

4. Short counter affidavit by opposite parties no. 3 & 4 has already been filed and replied to. The petition, therefore, is being adjudicated upon finally.

5. Petition has been filed challenging the recommendations/decision of Departmental Promotion Committee dated 05.07.2024 so far as it relates to withholding of recommendation pertaining to petitioner for promotion on the post of Chief Engineer (Civil) of the U.P. State Construction and Infrastructure Development Corporation Limited. Further prayer for a direction to opposite parties to consider petitioner's case for promotion on the post of Chief Engineer (Civil) of the Corporation in accordance with Government Order dated 27.09.2019 and for a prohibition to opposite parties for making promotions on the aforesaid post till decision on petitioner's claim has also been sought.

6. Learned counsel for petitioner submits that for the purposes of promotion on the post of Chief Engineer (Civil) of the Corporation, a Departmental Promotion Committee was constituted to be held on 05.07.2024 and petitioner's name was duly forwarded by the Managing Director on 05.03.2024. It is submitted that the cut off bench marks for consideration of such promotion being 80 marks, petitioner having obtained 80.25, on the basis of his service his name was duly forwarded for consideration thereof.

7. Learned counsel for petitioner has drawn attention to minutes of the Departmental Promotion Committee brought on record by means of the supplementary affidavit dated 04.09.2024 to submit that petitioner's name was thereafter disregarded on the ground that although he had cleared the bench mark with 80.25 marks but 10 marks therefrom were required to be deducted in view of two warnings which were issued to him earlier as well as the fact that he was visited with a minor penalty vide order dated 21.02.2018. It is submitted that due to aforesaid reasons, petitioner's case has not been considered.

8. Learned counsel has submitted that earlier a warning was issued to petitioner on 28.10.2014 by the Managing Director of the Corporation when he was posted as Assistant Engineer. Subsequently petitioner was promoted on the post of Executive Engineer (Civil) on 21.12.2016 but while working on such post, he was again issued a warning by the Superintending Engineer on 12.09.2017 whereafter he was also visited with the minor penalty dated 21.02.2018.

9. It is further submitted that thereafter a warning was issued to petitioner by the State Government on 05.02.2021 but was subsequently expunged vide order dated 30.01.2024. It is submitted that thereafter petitioner was promoted on the post of Superintending Engineer (Civil) on 16.12.2021 whereafter vide order dated 12.12.2023, the State Government approved upgradation of service entry in petitioner's service records for the year 2017-2018 from 'good' to 'very good'. Similarly vide order dated 11.01.2024, service entry in records of petitioner for the year 2017-2018 and 2018-2019 were also upgraded from 'good' to 'very good'.

10. Learned counsel has thereafter adverted to the Government Order dated 27.09.2019, particularly paragraph 7 (6) thereof to submit that as per directions issued by the State Government, only those warnings which were issued by the State Government are required to be taken into account for purposes of deduction in the bench mark for purposes of promotion and since in the present case, two warnings were issued by the Managing Director of the Corporation, the same were not required to be taken into account by the Departmental Promotion Committee. It is further submitted that in terms thereof, the only other warning issued by the State Government has thereafter already been expunged by the State Government itself and naturally the same was not taken into consideration by the Committee.

11. So far as the minor penalty is concerned, learned counsel for petitioner submits that the doctrine of washing off will be applicable with regard to said penalty since the same was imposed vide order dated 21.02.2018 whereafter petitioner was promoted on the post of Superintending Engineer on 16.12.2021 and whereafter also his entries in his service were recorded as very good vide order dated 12.12.2023.

12. Learned counsel for petitioner has also adverted to Form 4 dated 05.03.2024 whereby bench mark of 80.25 was awarded to petitioner while forwarding his name for consideration by the Departmental Promotion Committee. He has adverted to the aforesaid document to indicate that warnings issued by the Managing Director of the Corporation were rightly not taken into account in view of the provisions under paragraph 7 of the Government Order dated 27.09.2019.

13. In view thereof, it has been submitted that there was no occasion for the Departmental Promotion Committee to have deducted 10 marks from the bench mark awarded to petitioner.

14. Learned counsel appearing on behalf of opposite parties, particularly opposite parties no. 3 & 4 has refuted submissions advanced by learned counsel for petitioner with the submission that paragraph 7 of the Government Order dated 27.09.2019 adverts two warnings being issued by the State (Shasan). It is submitted that the Corporation being a Government Corporation, the word 'Shasan' would include the Managing Director of the Corporation in terms of Rule 2 (g) of the U.P. Government Servant (Discipline and Appeal) Rules, 1999 and particularly in view of Rule of 2 (j) thereof which defines the word 'service' to mean public service and post in connection with the affairs of the State of U.P.

15. Learned counsel has also adverted to the U.P. State Construction and Infrastructure Development Corporation Limited Service Regulations to submit that Rule 17 (3) thereof clearly indicates that for the purposes of promotion on a Class-I post having pay scale of more than Rs. 18,300/- or more, the criteria is only merit and not even seniority. In terms thereof, he has submitted that the doctrine of washing off will not be applicable in the present case where promotion is required to be considered only on the basis of merit and not seniority. He has also adverted to the Government Order dated 17.09.2019 with paragraphs 2 and 7 to submit that for the purposes of promotion, service record of the recommended candidate for the past ten years is required to be taken into consideration which would include the minor penalty and warnings which were issued to petitioner.

16. Upon consideration of submissions advanced by learned counsel for parties and perusal of material on record, it is evident that dispute centers around deduction made in the bench mark obtained by petitioner on account of two warnings issued to him by the Managing Director of Corporation as well as the minor penalty imposed upon him vide order dated 21.02.2018. As has already been indicated hereinabove, the warning issued to petitioner by the State Government on 05.02.2021 already stood expunged by order of State Government dated 30.01.2024 and has not been taken into consideration by the opposite parties themselves.

17. A perusal of format 4 dated 05.03.2024 forwarded by the Managing Director of the Corporation recommending name of petitioner for consideration by the Departmental Promotion Committee and awarding him marks of 80.25 clearly indicates the aspect that two warnings have been issued to petitioner by the Corporation and one by the State Government. The format also indicates that warning issued by the State Government has been discarded since it was expunged. It also indicates that the warnings issued by the Corporation have also not been taken into account while awarding marks to petitioner. The note appended thereto also indicates that the provisions of Government Order dated 27.09.2019 would govern promotions to be made on the post in question. It has also been indicated that there is no departmental or vigilance inquiry pending against petitioner.

18. So far as the question of warnings being issued to petitioner is concerned, paragraph 7 (6) of the Government Order dated 17.09.2023 indicates that despite there being no provision in the Rules of 1999 for issuance of any warnings to an employee, it has been brought to the notice of State Government that such a procedure is still being followed by issuance of warnings to employees. The directions were therefore issued that in cases of promotion, only warnings issued by the State Government (Shasan) shall be taken into consideration and then too only in case adequate opportunity of hearing has been provided to the employee concerned whereafter five marks would be deducted for every such warning.

19. As is evident from Format-4 dated 05.03.2024, the Government Order dated 27.09.2019 appears to have been made applicable for purposes of promotion of employees of the Corporation and therefore the aforesaid paragraph 7 (6) would be applicable in the present case.

20. The material on record clearly denotes the fact that deduction from petitioner's marks have been effected on account of two warnings being issued to petitioner by the Managing Director of the Corporation.

21. Although, learned counsel for opposite parties has adverted to Rule 2 (g) (j) to submit that the Managing Director of the Corporation would come within definition of 'Shasan', the rule in its clear definition denotes otherwise. Rule 2 (g) of the Rules of 1999 clearly adverts to the definition of Government as meaning the State Government of Uttar Pradesh. No provision of law has been cited or indicated by learned counsel for opposite parties to indicate that the Managing Director of the Corporation would come within definition of the Government of Uttar Pradesh.

22. A perusal of Rule 2 (j) also indicates 'service' to mean public service and post in connection with the affairs of the State of Uttar Pradesh. That by any stretch of imagination cannot be deduced that the affairs of the Government Corporation as defined under Section 617 of Companies Act would come within definition of the affairs of the State of Uttar Pradesh.

23. The aforesaid provision also clearly indicates as to when a Corporation registered under the Companies Act can be deemed to be a Government Corporation but still does not indicate that any such Government Corporation would come within definition of the State Government of Uttar Pradesh or that the employees or Managing Director of any such Government Corporation can be included to mean service and post in connection with the affairs of State of Uttar Pradesh, which clearly would involve exercise of sovereign powers of State as per Schedule VII to Article 246 of the Constitution of India.

24. In view of aforesaid discussion, the submission of learned counsel for opposite parties that the Managing Director of the Corporation would come within definition of State (Shasan) is hereby rejected.

25. In such circumstances, the provision of paragraph 7 (6) of the Government Order dated 27.09.2019 gains significance particularly since the State Government which issued the warning earlier to petitioner stood expunged and the only warnings due to which deductions have been made from petitioner's marks have been issued by the Corporation itself.

26. In view of aforesaid, it is quite evident that opposite parties have erred in deducting marks obtained by petitioner on account of warning issued by the Corporation.

27. So far as the question of the minor penalty dated 21.02.2018 is concerned, learned counsel for petitioner has cited judgment rendered by Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Rajasthan State Road Transport Corporation and others versus Babu Lal Jangir, (2013) 10 SCC 551 in which it has been clearly enunciated that after promotion of an employee, adverse entries prior thereto would have no relevance and can be treated as washed off when the Government employee is to be considered for further promotion. The only exception indicated is that the aforesaid theory would be inapplicable where an employee is being assessed for purposes of compulsory retirement.

28. In view of the fact that petitioner was visited with the minor penalty vide order dated 21.02.2018 whereafter he was promoted on the post of Superintending Engineer on 16.12.2021 as well as the fact that his service entry in service records was also upgraded on 12.12.2023 and 11.01.2024 to very good from good clearly makes the aforesaid doctrine of washing off applicable in the present facts and circumstances.

29. It is also relevant that as per paragraph 7 (5) of the Government Order dated 27.09.2023, it has been provided that an employee who has been visited with a minor penalty would not be considered for further promotion in at least two subsequent Departmental Promotion Committees but in the case of petitioner, he has been promoted subsequent to the minor penalty imposed upon him which clearly denotes the fact that petitioner's case was covered by the aforesaid provision of the Government Order and the aforesaid minor penalty was considered by the opposite parties prior to his subsequent promotion on the post of Superintending Engineer and therefore also would lose its efficacy subsequently.

30. In view of discussion made hereinabove, it is evident that the opposite parties have erred in declaring to petitioner unsuitable for promotion on the post of Chief Engineer (Civil) by means of recommendation dated 05.07.2024.

31. In view thereof, the recommendations of the Departmental Promotion Committee dated 05.07.2024 to the extent it reduces petitioner's marks obtained by petitioner by 10 marks and declaring him unsuitable on that ground is hereby quashed by issuance of a writ in the nature of certiorari. A further writ in the nature of mandamus is issued commanding the opposite party no. 1 to reconstitute a Departmental Promotion Committee for purposes of consideration of promotion to the post of Chief Engineer (Civil) in the Corporation concerned and to consider petitioner's case afresh with regard to same without making any deductions for the two warnings issued to petitioner by the Corporation and the minor penalty dated 21.02.2018.

32. Since the recommendations of Departmental Promotion Committee dated 05.07.2024 are said to have already been given effect to with regard to names of other recommended persons, it is further directed that in case petitioner is found eligible for promotion on the post of Chief Engineer (Civil), such promotion would relate back to 05.07.2024.

33. Consequently, the petition succeeds and is allowed. Parties to bear their own cost.

A. Service Law – UP Government Servant (Discipline & Appeal) Rules, 1999 – Rule 8 & 9 – Departmental enquiry – No charge was found proved – However, direction for re-enquiry was made before taking decision by the Disciplinary Authority – Validity challenged – Intervention before taking decision by Disciplinary Authority – Permissibility – Held, the Director General has got no say or authority to request the Disciplinary Authority to direct for re-enquiry. This power vests with the Disciplinary Authority under Rule 9 to agree with the findings of the Inquiry Officer or not to agree with the findings of the Inquiry Officer – High Court set aside the impugned order for re-enquiry. (Para 10 and 12)

Writ allowed. (E-1)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rajesh Singh Chauhan, J.)

1. Heard.

2. Though this Court allowed the amendment application of the petitioner vide order dated 29.08.2024 but the amendment has not been incorporated at appropriate place, therefore, learned counsel for the petitioner is permitted to incorporate the amendment at appropriate place indicating the date of the impugned order and the annexure number thereof properly, during the course of day.

3. This Court has passed the order dated 22.08.2024, which reads as under:-

"1. Heard Sri Upendra Singh, learned counsel for the petitioner and Sri Jogendra Nath Verma, learned Standing Counsel for the State-opposite parties no.1, 2 & 3.

2. By means of this petition, the petitioner has prayed following main reliefs:-

"1. Issue a writ order or direction in the nature of certiorari quashing the impugned suspension order dated 15.12.2022 passed by respondent no.2 on the recommendation of the respondent no.3 and impugned charge sheet dated 20.01.2023 issued by the respondent no.1 on the recommendation of the respondent no.3 against the petitioner (Annexure No.1 & 2 to the writ petition.)

2. Issue a writ order or direction in the nature of mandamus commanding the respondents to make the payment of salary regularly month to month as and when it falls due.

3. Issue a writ order or direction in the nature of mandamus commanding the respondents to pay the arrears of salary with 18% interest.

4. Issue a writ order or direction in the nature of mandamus commanding the respondents not to harass the petitioner in any manner on the name of alleged inquiry."

3. The precise contention of learned counsel for the petitioner is that pursuant to the impugned suspension order dated 15.12.2022, the petitioner was placed under suspension. Thereafter, Inquiry Officer was appointed and the petitioner was given charge sheet on 20.01.2023. The aforesaid disciplinary inquiry was concluded on 05.07.2023 whereby none of the charges has been proved against the petitioner. As per the U.P. Government Servant (Discipline and Appeal) Rules, 1999 (hereinafter referred to as "the Rules, 1999"), after conclusion of disciplinary inquiry, the Inquiry Officer submits its inquiry report and findings before the disciplinary authority and the disciplinary authority passes appropriate order finalizing the disciplinary proceedings. Undisputedly, in the present case, the disciplinary/ appointing authority of the petitioner is the State Government and any appropriate decision in the case of the petitioner after concluding the disciplinary proceedings could have been taken by the disciplinary authority but before taking any appropriate decision by the disciplinary authority on the findings of the inquiry report, the Director General of Police/ Commandant General, Home Guards, U.P., Lucknow preferred a letter dated 29.08.2023 (Annexure No.31) to the Additional Chief Secretary of the Home Guards Department, Government of U.P., Lucknow indicating therein that the findings of the Inquiry Officer are not appropriate, such departmental inquiry has been conducted in a cursory manner, therefore, the findings of the Inquiry Officer may be rejected and direction for fresh inquiry may be issued.

4. Sri Upendra Singh, learned counsel for the petitioner, has rightly submitted that after initiating the departmental inquiry against any employee, no officer can come within the Inquiry Officer and the disciplinary authority inasmuch as after conclusion of the departmental inquiry, the appropriate decision may only be taken by the disciplinary authority independently without being influenced from the opinion of any other authority but in the present case, the Director General of Police/ Commandant General, Home Guards, U.P., Lucknow has influenced the disciplinary authority to reject the inquiry report and to pass order for fresh departmental enquiry saying that that departmental inquiry has been concluded in a cursory manner and after being influenced from such letter of the Director General of Police/ Commandant General, Home Guards, the disciplinary authority passed an order dated 17.05.2024 for conducting fresh inquiry against the petitioner, therefore, the Office Memo dated 17.05.2024 has been passed in utter violation of Rule 9 of the Rules, 1999.

5. Learned counsel for the petitioner has further submitted that if the fresh departmental inquiry would be conducted against the petitioner pursuant to the order dated 17.05.2024, the petitioner would remain under suspension inasmuch as the impugned suspension order dated 15.12.2022 has not been revoked/ cancelled and about one year and nine months' period has passed since the petitioner is under suspension and the law is trite that prolonged suspension is not acceptable unless there is any cogent reason to that effect. In the present case, final order could have been passed by the disciplinary authority in the month of July, 2023 when the departmental inquiry was concluded against the petitioner but on account of unwarranted and unauthorized action on the part of the Director General of Police/ Commandant General, Home

Guards, the petitioner is under suspension, therefore, Sri Singh has requested that the impugned suspension order may be set aside.

6. Matter requires consideration.

7. Let a short counter affidavit be filed by opposite party no.2 i.e. Joint Secretary, Home Guards, Civil Secretariat, U.P., Lucknow within a period of ten days to explain under which provision of law, he has passed the order dated 17.05.2024 when the Inquiry Officer has submitted his findings exonerating the petitioner but on the letter being issued by the Director General of Police/ Commandant General, Home Guards, U.P., Lucknow on 29.08.2023, he passed the aforesaid order dated 17.05.2024.

8. List this case on 12.09.2024 as fresh.

9. This matter may be taken up after fresh cases."

4. Sri Vikas Singh, learned Standing Counsel has apprised that the short counter affidavit has been filed on 20.09.2024.

5. The short question involved in this writ petition is that as to whether after conclusion of the departmental inquiry, the inquiry report should be submitted before the Disciplinary Authority for taking appropriate decision or any other authority may intervene before taking any final decision or before passing any final order by the Disciplinary Authority.

6. To appreciate the aforesaid question, Rule 8 & 9 of Uttar Pradesh Government Servant (Discipline & Appeal) Rules, 1999 (here-in-after referred to as the "Rules, 1999") would be relevant to be examined. For convenience, Rule 8 & 9 read as under:-

"8. Submission of Inquiry Report. –

When the inquiry is complete, the Inquiry Officer shall submit its inquiry report to the disciplinary authority alongwith all the records of the inquiry. The inquiry report shall contain a sufficient record of brief facts, the evidence and statement of the findings on each charge and the reasons thereof. The Inquiry Officer shall not make any recommendation about the penalty.

9 Action on Inquiry Report. –

(1) The disciplinary authority may, for reasons to be recorded in writing, remit the case for re-inquiry to the same or any other Inquiry Officer under intimation to the charged Government servant. The Inquiry Officer shall thereupon proceed to hold the inquiry from such stage as directed by the disciplinary authority, according to the provisions of Rule 7.

(2) The disciplinary authority shall, if it disagrees with the findings of the Inquiry Officer on any charge, record its own findings thereon for reasons to be recorded.

(3) In case the charges are not proved, the charged Government servant shall be exonerated by the disciplinary authority of the charges and inform him accordingly;

(4) If the disciplinary authority having regard to its findings on all or any of charges is of the opinion that any penalty specified in Rule 3 should be imposed on the charged Government servant, he shall give a copy of the inquiry report and his findings recorded under sub-rule (2) to the charged Government servant and require him to submit his representation if he so desires, within a reasonable specified time. The disciplinary authority shall, having regard to all the relevant records relating to the inquiry and representation of the charged Government servant, if any, and subject to the provisions of Rule 16 of these rules, pass a reasoned order imposing one or more penalties mentioned in Rule 3 of these rules and communicate the same to the charged Government servant."

7. Rule 8 of the Rules, 1999 categorically provides that when the inquiry is complete, the Inquiry Officer shall submit its inquiry report to the Disciplinary Authority along with all the records of the inquiry.□ Rule 9 (1) of the Rules, 1999 provides that the Disciplinary Authority may, for reasons to be recorded in writing, remit the case for re-inquiry to the same or any other Inquiry Officer under intimation to the charged Government servant.□ Rule 9 (2) of the Rules, 1999 provides that the disciplinary authority shall, if it disagrees with the findings of the Inquiry Officer on any charge, record its own findings thereon for reasons to be recorded.

8. The present case is a glaring example of the violation of the rules inasmuch as in the present case the departmental inquiry was concluded on 05.07.2023 whereby none of the charges have been proved against the petitioner.□ The Disciplinary Authority, in the case of the present petitioner, is the State Government and appropriate decision may be taken by the Disciplinary Authority under Rule 9.

9. In the case of the petitioner, the Director General of Police/ Commandant General, Home Guards, U.P., Lucknow preferred a letter dated 29.08.2023 to the Disciplinary authority i.e.□ Additional Chief Secretary of the department indicating therein that the findings of the Inquiry Officer are not appropriate as□ the departmental inquiry has

13. The Disciplinary Authority shall take appropriate decision on the inquiry report dated 05.07.2023, strictly in accordance with law, to be more precise, under Rule 9 of the Rules, 1999.

(Para 5 and 6)

Writ dismissed of. (E-1)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rajesh Singh Chauhan, J.)

1. Heard Sri S.K. Pathak, learned counsel for the petitioner and Ms. Deepshikha, learned Chief Standing Counsel-II for the State-opposite parties.

2. By means of this petition, the petitioner has prayed following reliefs:-

"(i) A writ, order or direction in the nature of Mandamus thereby commanding and directing the opp. party no. 1 i.e. the Principal secretary, Grah Police Anubhag-1, Home Department, Civil Secretariat, Lucknow to consider and decide the Representation of the petitioner dated 26/12/2023 under Rule 25 of U.P. Police Officers of Subordinate Ranks (Punishment and Appeal) Rules, 1991, as contained in Annexure No. 6 to this Writ Petition, by way of passing a speaking and reasoned order, within the stipulated period.

(ii) Any other order or direction which this Hon'ble Court may deem appropriate and proper in the circumstances and allow this Writ Petition with substantial costs, throughout."

3. Learned counsel for the petitioner has drawn attention of this Court towards Annexure No.6 of the writ petition, which is a representation of the petitioner being filed under Rule 25 of the U.P. Police Officers of the Subordinate Ranks (Punishment and Appeal) Rules, 1991 (hereinafter referred to as "the Rules, 1991") against five orders of punishment. The date of punishment orders are different i.e. orders dated 11.07.2014, 26.01.2017, 05.05.2018, 18.03.2019 and 27.04.2019. Learned counsel for the petitioner has stated that as per Rule 25 of the Rules, 1991, if any employee has not filed appeal, he/she may prefer his/her representation under Rule 25 of the Rules, 1991 and direction may be issued to the competent authority to decide the representation of the petitioner.□

4. Per contra, Ms. Deepshikha, learned Chief Standing Counsel-II, has submitted that invoking powers of the Government under Rule 25 of the Rules, 1991, the statutory prescriptions to file appeal and revision may not be circumvented. If any Police Officer is aggrieved from the punishment order, he may file appeal under Rule 20 of the Rules, 1991 and if he/ she is still aggrieved, revision may be filed under Rule 23 of the Rules, 1991. Power under Rule 25 of the Rules, 1991 is a power of the Government whereby the Government may on its own motion or otherwise call for and examine the records of any case decided by the authority against which no appeal has been preferred but this Rule does not permit the Police Officer to prefer an application ignoring the statutory prescriptions relating to the appeal and revision.

5. Having heard learned counsel for the parties and having perused the material available on record as well as perusing the relevant provisions of law and Rules, 1991, I am of the considered opinion that on account of any provision of law authorizing the Government to call for and examine the record on its own motion or otherwise may not make the statutory prescriptions redundant, which have been provided earlier to such prescription. To be more precise, under Rule 20 of the Rules, 1991, any Police Officer may file statutory appeal challenging the punishment order within the prescribed period and if such officer is aggrieved from the order of the appellate authority, the revision may be filed under Rule 23 of the Rules, 1991 within specific period. If any Police Officer does not file statutory appeal and statutory revision within the time so stipulated and has slept over on the issue, then filing any representation under Rule 25 of the Rules, 1991 saying that since he has not filed any appeal and there is no limitation under Rule 25, therefore, the Government may pass any appropriate order invoking its power under Rule 25 of the Rules, 1991 may not be permissible under the law otherwise the earlier provisions i.e. Rule 20 and Rule 23 of the Rules, 1991 would be redundant and any Police Officer may likely ignore the appellate provision and revisional provision and will approach the State Government straight away under Rule 25 of the Rules, 1991 saying that since no time limit has been prescribed under Rule 25 of the Rules, 1991 and such representation may be preferred in the case where the appeal has not been filed, so the representation may be decided, in that situation the statutory prescriptions would be circumvented deliberately and intentionally. No Court can permit to circumvent the statutory prescriptions, rather this has been the consistent view of the Apex Court as well as this Court to approach the statutory appellate and revisional authority before approaching any other authority, be it Court or State Government.

6. Therefore, in view of the above, since the petitioner has preferred a representation under Rule 25 of the Rules, 1991 challenging the punishment orders passed since 2014 till 2019 in a composite representation, therefore, no direction can be issued to the authority concerned i.e. Principal Secretary, Home, to decide the aforesaid representation as by means of aforesaid representation, the petitioner attempted to circumvent the statutory prescriptions to file appeal and revision within the time so prescribed under Rules 20 (6) & 23 (1) of the Rules, 1991.

7. Accordingly, this writ petition is dismissed being misconceived.

8. No order as to costs.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rohit Ranjan Agarwal, J.)

A. Service Law – UP Education Service Section Commission Act, 2023 – Establishment of an unified Commission – Object – Idea for setting up a unified commission was due to the difference in the level of efficiency related to selection by the above named Commission/ Institution, as the quality of selection of teachers was affected, there was no uniformity in the process of selection, timely selection of teachers was not being done, and there were several vacant posts of teachers in various institutions, which adversely affected the education/training of the students/trainees in the St.. (Para 6)

B. Service law – UP Education Service Section Commission Act, 2023 – Section 31 – Repeal and Saving clause – UP Secondary Education Service Selection Board Act, 1982 – C/M had already sent the requisition to the Board in the year 2019 – Sub-section (2) of Section 31, which is a non obstante clause, saves all those action taken and proceedings initiated under Act of 1982, and it shall be deemed to have been done or taken under the Act of 2023. The saving clause of Section 31 clearly saves all the action which were done pursuant to the Act of 1982 – Additional Director did not have the power to proceed with the single transfer taking benefit of the proviso to sub-rule (5) of Rule 28. (Para 18, 19 and 23)

2. Hari Pal Singh Vs St. of U.P. & ors.; 2016 (8) ADJ 622

1. The question which needs adjudication by this Court, raised through these two petitions are as to “Whether once the requisition has been sent by the Committee of Management to the U.P. Secondary Education Service Selection Board (hereinafter referred to as “the Board”) in terms of sub-rule (4) of Rule 11 of U.P. Secondary Education Services Selection Board Rules, 1998 (hereinafter called as “Rules of 1998”) the post of Principal in an intermediate institution can be filled by way of transfer or the senior most teacher officiating as a Principal is to continue till a duly selected candidate is sent by the Board.”

2. Further, upon the enactment of Uttar Pradesh Education Service Section Commission Act, 2023 (hereinafter called as “Act of 2023”) enforced on 17.08.2023 published in official gazette on 21.08.2023 and the Uttar Pradesh Education Service Selection Commission Rules, 2023 (hereinafter called as “Rules of 2023”) having been enforced from 13.12.2023, whether anything done or action taken in pursuance of Rules of 1998 to continue or not.

3. The question relating to intimation of vacancy to the Board and cessation of power to fill up the vacancy by transfer was before the Full Bench in case of Prashant Kumar Katiyar vs. State of U.P. and others 2013(1)ADJ 523 (FB). The Full Bench found that once the procedure as per Rule 11(4) was followed and necessary intimation was given to the Board, there vest no power to fill up the vacancy by transfer. Relevant paras 38 to 41 of the judgment are extracted hereas under :

“38. In our opinion if the management has determined the vacancy or the District Inspector of Schools has done it as per Rule 11(4) then in that event the alteration of such determination and intimation is controlled only to the extent as provided by sub-rule (3) of Rule 11 which authorises the management and the Inspector to notify any fresh vacancy that may have occurred after such notification. The management or the District Inspector of Schools therefore has not been empowered under the rules to reverse the determination and it can only add to it, subject to the contingency as contemplated under sub-rule (3) of Rule 11. This however does not take away the power to correct any arithmetical or calculative errors that may have crept into such determination.

39. To our mind, the function of the management and the District Inspector of Schools, therefore, has to follow this procedure and it is trite law that if a statute requires a thing to be done in a particular manner then it should be done in that manner alone and not otherwise. The procedure under the Act and Rules is mandatory and it has to be done in that manner alone. Reference be had to Para 20 and 23 of the division bench judgment in the case of Km. Poonam Vs. State of U.P. 2008 (3) AWC Pg. 2852 and to Para 24 of the decision in the case of U.P. Secondary Education Service Selection Board Vs. State of U.P. 2011 (3) ADJ Pg. 340. The rules have been framed consciously by making a provision of limited alteration in the determination by adding to the vacancies on account of any fresh occurrence during the year of recruitment itself. Thus impliedly no power has been conferred for altering the vacancies already determined and intimated to the Board for the purpose of notification under the Act and Rules. The requisition to fill up the vacancies after having sent to the Board therefore becomes unalterable as the Board proceeds with the advertisement under Rule 12 by publishing the vacancy in accordance with reservation rules and in accordance with the subject-wise and group-wise vacancies against which appointments are to be made inviting applications from candidates giving their preference of the institution which choice has to be indicated by the candidate. At this stage, to upset the procedure after advertisement by giving any further leverage would be to disturb the entire process of selection and if such a concession is given, the management can indulge into motivated manipulations which are not uncommon and give rise to uncalled for controversies ending up in litigation.

40. We would also like to put a note of caution for the District Inspector of Schools while performing his duty of verification of the determination of vacancies. There can be cases where the management deliberately modifies a requirement in the name of extending benefit to some candidate/teacher who may be desirous of seeking promotion but otherwise not eligible within the year of recruitment. The management can withhold such information and it is at this stage that the District Inspector of Schools has to exercise his powers under sub-rule (4). The management at times may not cooperate with the District Inspector of Schools and therefore the District Inspector of Schools has to determine the vacancy as per the records available in his office and inform the Board. The responsibility therefore rests on the District Inspector of Schools to undertake this exercise by putting the management to clear notice during the year of recruitment itself. The District Inspector of Schools on coming to know of any additional vacancy if any that arises or the management having withheld such information is obliged to take action forthwith and disallow the management from taking any undue advantage in such situations. The vacancy that has occurred during the year of recruitment has to be mandatorily informed as noted hereinabove as no selection can be held except through the Board.

41. Once it is held that the power of the management and the District Inspector of Schools after determination, and intimation to the Board, to re-introduce any alteration is taken away then the management cannot be given the authority to adopt any other mode of recruitment.”

4. The matter again came up before Division Bench of this Court in case of Hari Pal Singh Vs. State of U.P. and others, 2016 (8) ADJ 622 where the Court, relying upon the judgment of Full Bench rendered in Prashant Kumar Katiyar (supra), held that logic of initiation of selection process has to be distinguished in the present process of recruitment where the initiation of determination of vacancy is relevant for the purpose of choosing the mode of recruitment. The Court further held that once determination and notification process is either made or there is a failure on the part of management to do so, then the DIOS has to perform his duty as per Rule 11(4). Once this contingency has occurred, then the option of the mode to recruit by transfer is not available. Relevant paras 15, 16 and 17 of the judgment are extracted hereas under :

“15. On a consideration of the ratio of the Full Bench in the case of Prashant Kumar Katiyar (supra), what we find is that the learned Single Judge in the impugned decision has extracted paragraphs 36, 37 and 38 of the said judgment and thereafter, it crosses over to paragraph - 43 of the judgment and has then reconciled it with the judgments in the cases of Asha Singh vs. State of U.P. And others 2007 (3) UPLBEC 2497 and Smt. Amita Sinha vs. State of U.P. And others 2008 (4) ESC 2799 to conclude that the appointment through transfer would be legally permissible up to the stage of advertisement only.

16. We are unable to uphold the said view of the learned Single Judge, inasmuch as it appears that the learned Single Judge has concluded that the process of direct recruitment starts with the issuance of advertisement and in such a situation, prior to that, the process of appointment by way of transfer would be permissible. The ratio of the Full Bench in the case of Prashant Kumar Katiyar (supra) in paragraphs 38, 39, 40 and 41 has clearly concluded that the power of the Management or the District Inspector of Schools or even the authority which is to give effect to any transfer cannot proceed to adopt any other mode of recruitment after the steps taken for determination and notification as per Rule 11 of the 1998 Rules. It has also been held that the alteration of any such determination is not permissible and cannot be reversed. This has been reiterated in paragraph - 39 of the decision. Not only this in paragraph - 40, the Full Bench also obliges the Committee and the District Inspector of Schools to fulfill their obligations as per Rule 11 for determination and intimation of vacancies. The ratio therefore of the Full Bench read with the aforesaid Rules is clearly to the effect that the authorities, who are obliged to fill up the vacancies occurring in the year of recruitment, have to mandatorily perform their function of determining and notifying the vacancy. The failure by the Management or the District Inspector of Schools to act as per Rule 11 of the 1998 Rules would therefore not generate a right in favour of any person to seek transfer or even in the Committee of Management to defeat the very purpose of Rule 11 of determining or intimating the vacancies to the Selection Board for direct recruitment. The Committee of Management no doubt has the right to select the mode of recruitment when it has to be filled up directly in the event it has an option from a candidate seeking transfer. However, this conscious decision of the Committee of Management to adopt a particular mode has to be taken within the time frame as provided under Rule 11 of the 1998 Rules. If the Committee of Management is allowed to violate the time schedule, then it would be allowing the Committee of Management to have a free play to choose to determine its mode of recruitment at any time which is not the purpose of the Rules. For that matter, under Sub-Rule (4) of Rule 11, the District Inspector of Schools is also obliged to take a decision as per the specifications of the time schedule provided in Rule 11 itself for the Committee as well as for the District Inspector of Schools. This compliance has to be adhered to keeping in view the year of recruitment and also the eligibility of the candidate including his qualification as on the first day of the year of recruitment which would be the 1st of July of the year in question. However, any failure on their part would not extend the right of the Management to any stage beyond that for adopting the mode of appointment by way of transfer. It is this aspect which has been insisted upon by the Full Bench in the paragraphs referred to here-in-above and which has not been noticed by the learned Single Judge in the impugned judgment. Consequently, we are of the opinion that the learned Single Judge has not correctly appreciated the ratio of the Full Bench and has therefore arrived at an incorrect conclusion that the option is open up to the stage of advertisement for making appointment by way of transfer. The impugned judgment therefore cannot be sustained to that extent.

17. There is yet another aspect which deserves to be explained, namely, that the process of determination and intimation of vacancy for direct recruitment is a distinct process under Rule 11 of the 1998 Rules. The stage of advertisement comes after the request is received by the Board. The stage of determination and notification of the vacancy is therefore a unique methodology in this process of selection which is a stage prior to advertisement. It is for this reason that the judgment in the case of Prashant Kumar Katiyar (supra), as noted above, has held that this process should not be avoided which is mandatory. Consequently, the learned Single Judge did not appreciate this distinction while applying the principles of commencement of the date of selection process on the strength of the judgments of the Supreme Court and the ratio of the judgments in the cases of Asha Singh (supra) and Smt. Amita Sinha (supra) respectively. The said logic of the initiation of the selection process has to be distinguished in the present process of recruitment where the initiation of the determination of vacancy is relevant for the purpose of choosing the mode of recruitment under the 1998 Rules. Consequently, we are of the opinion that once the determination and the notification process is either made or there is a failure on the part of the Management to do so, then the District Inspector of Schools has to perform his duty as per Rule 11(4). Once this contingency has occurred, then the option of the mode to recruit by transfer is not available. This issue will therefore have to be taken into account by the Joint Director (Education) who would be under our orders in this appeal be now proceeding to examine the matter.”

5. U.P. Act No. 15 was enacted on 21.08.2023 with the object to bring in uniformity, transparency and timeliness in the recruitment process of teachers as there were five various commissions functioning in the State for selection of teachers, in the name of; (i) Uttar Pradesh Higher Education Service Commission for the selection of teachers of non-government aided colleges of the State; (ii) Uttar Pradesh Secondary Education Service Selection Board for the selection of teachers of non-government aided intermediate colleges; (iii) Concerned management committee for the selection of the posts of assistant teachers in aided junior high schools and affiliated primary schools; (iv) District Basic Education Officer and Secretary, Basic Education Council for selection of assistant teachers in council schools; (v) Uttar Pradesh Subordinate Services Selection Commission for the selection of instructors in the Department of Vocational Education.

6. The idea for setting up a unified commission was due to the difference in the level of efficiency related to selection by the above named Commission/Institution, as the quality of selection of teachers was affected, there was no uniformity in the process of selection, timely selection of teachers was not being done, and there were several vacant posts of teachers in various institutions, which adversely affected the education/training of the students/trainees in the State. Apart from this, a lack of transparency is also evident in the selection process conducted by institution level selection committee which has resulted in litigations.

7. Section 31 is the repeal and saving clause, which is extracted hereunder :

“31. (1) The Uttar Pradesh Higher Education Services Commission Act, 1980, the Uttar Pradesh Secondary Education Service Selection Board Act, 1982 and the Uttar Pradesh Education Service Selection Commission, 2019 are hereby repealed.

(2) Notwithstanding such repeal, anything done or any action taken under the Acts referred to in sub-section (1) shall be deemed to have been done or taken under this Act, as if the provisions of this Act were in force at all material times.

(3) Save as otherwise provided in this Act, the repeal of the Acts referred to in sub-section (1) shall not have an adverse effect on the general application of section 6 of the Uttar Pradesh General Clauses Act, 1904 (U.P. Act no. 1 of 1904) in relation to the enforcement of provisions.”

8. Sub-section (2) of Section 31 is the saving clause which provides that anything done or any action taken under the Acts referred to in sub-section (1) shall be deemed to have been done or taken under this Act, as if the provisions of this Act were in force at all material times. Meaning thereby, that all the actions, which were done pursuant to Uttar Pradesh Secondary Education Service Selection Board Act, 1982 (hereinafter called as “Act of 1982”) and the rules framed thereunder, were saved by sub-section (2) of Section 31.

9. Rules of 2023 was introduced on 13.12.2023. Sub-rule (2) of Rule 1 provides for commencement of Rules dated 13.12.2023, which came into force with effect from the date of its publication in the gazette. Rule 1 is extracted hereasunder :

“1(1) These rules may be called the Uttar Pradesh Education Service Selection Commission Rules, 2023.

(2) They shall come into force with effect from the date of their publication in the Gazette.”

10. Chapter V of Rules of 2023 provides for procedure of recruitment. Rule 28 is of great importance and relates to determination of notification of vacancies. It is somewhat pari materia to Rule 11 of Rules of 1998. Sub-rule (1) of Rule 28 provides for determination of vacancies in accordance with sub-section (1) of Section 10 of Act of 1923 by the Appointing Authority or Management or Authorized Officer and the same has to be notified through Director (Higher Education) or the Director (Secondary Education), or the Director (Basic Education) or the Director (Training and Employment) or Director General of Atal Residential Schools, as the case may be, to the Commission in the manner hereafter provided.

11. Similarly, sub-rule (2) provides that vacancies for each category of post to be filled in by direct recruitment, including the vacancies that are likely to arise on the last day of the year of recruitment has to be sent by the Appointing Authority or Management or Authorized Officer by July 15 of the year of recruitment to the Authorized Officer.

12. Sub-rule (3) of the Rule 28 envisages a situation that if, after vacancies have been notified under sub-rule (2), any vacancy in the post of teacher or instructor occurs, the Appointing Authority or Management or Authorized Officer shall, within fifteen days of its occurrence, notify the Authorized Officer in accordance with the said sub-rule and the Authorized Officer shall within ten days of its receipt by him send it to the Commission.

13. Sub-rule (4) further provides that where for any year of recruitment, the Appointing Authority or Management or Authorized Officer does not notify the vacancies by the date specified in sub-rule (2) or fails to notify them in accordance with the said sub-rule, the Authorized Officer shall on the basis of the record in his office, determine the vacancies in such institution in accordance with sub-section (1) of section 10 and notify them to the Commission in the manner and by the date referred to in the said sub-rule. The explanation appended to it clarifies that vacancies notified to the Commission under the sub-rule shall be deemed to be notified by the Appointing Authority or Management or Authorized Officer of such institution. Thus, explanation appended to sub-rule (4) is a deeming clause.

14. Sub-rule (5) is of great importance as it provides that post of notified vacancies shall not be filled by a single transfer. However, proviso to sub-rule (5) provides that in special circumstances, if a single transfer is necessary, then it will be necessary to bring the said process to the notice of the Commission as soon as possible, and the vacancy as a result of single transfer will be considered included in the posts notified by the Director, and this vacancy will also be covered by the same selection process. After commencement of the selection process, no single transfer will be done under any circumstances.

15. Thus, it is clear from sub-rule (5) that notified vacancy is not to be filled by single transfer. However, in exceptional cases, when it is brought to the notice of Commission, the single transfer may be considered for the post which has been notified. It cannot be done in a routine manner.

16. Coming to the facts of the case, in Writ A No.12611 of 2024, the post of Principal became vacant on retirement of Principal on 31.03.2019. One Shri Ram Prakash Rathore, who was the senior most teacher, was appointed as an Officiating Principal with effect from 01.04.2019. The requisition for filling up the post of Principal was made online to the Board on 30.09.2019. Thereafter the Officiating Principal of the institution had also notified the DIOS through letter dated 29.05.2023. Thus, the vacancy was notified by the Management through online on 30.09.2019 and through Principal on 29.05.2023. Sri Ram Prakash Rathore attained the age of superannuation on 31.03.2024, thereafter Committee of Management had passed a resolution for appointing one Sri Khemkaran as Officiating Principal. The petitioner made a representation before the District Inspector of Schools, who accepted his claim on 26.04.2024 and appointed him as Officiating Principal and his signatures were attested. He assumed the charge on 27.04.2024 and since then he is working as Officiating Principal. By the order impugned dated 28.06.2024, 5th respondent has been transferred to the institution known as Late Gaya Prasad Verma Smarak Krishak Inter College, which is subject matter of dispute.

17. In Writ-A No.11436 of 2024 the post of Principal fell vacant on 30.06.2015 on the retirement of one Dharam Singh. There also stood vacancy of four Assistant Teachers alongwith that of Principal in the institution known as Sarvodaya Inter College, Nazirpur Sakeet, District Etah. Pursuant to the letter of District Inspector of Schools dated 15.7.2019, the Management notified the vacancy online to the Board. This fact was conveyed to the District Inspector of Schools through letter dated 22.07.2019. One Shyam Singh being the senior-most teacher was officiating as Principal of the institution. He attained the age of superannuation on 31.03.2022. The petitioner, who was the senior-most teacher, on 01.04.2022 was given the charge of Officiating Principal and his signatures were attested on 16.05.2022, since then he is working as Officiating Principal in the institution. The Committee of Management has given consent for transfer of the 4th respondent to the institution as he is the relative of the Manager. By the order impugned, the 7th respondent has been transferred in the institution on 28.06.2024.

18. In both these writ petitions, the Committee of Management had already sent the requisition to the Board in the year 2019 when the vacancy occurred on the post of Principal. In both the cases, requisition was made online as well as intimation was also sent in writing to the District Inspector of Schools.

19. Sub-section (2) of Section 31, which is a non obstante clause, saves all those action taken and proceedings initiated under Act of 1982, and it shall be deemed to have been done or taken under the Act of 2023. The saving clause of Section 31 clearly saves all the action which were done pursuant to the Act of 1982.

24. Selection and appointment to the post of Principal could only be made by the

28. In the result, both the writ petitions succeed and are hereby allowed. The transfer orders dated 28.06.2024 (Annexure 1 to Writ-A No.12611 of 2024) and 28.06.2024 (Annexure 1 to Writ A No.11436 of 2024) are not sustainable in the eyes of law and the same are hereby set aside.

1. Writ A No. 39967 of 2008; Ranvijay Singh Bhadauria Vs St. of U.P. & ors. decided on 17.10.2014

2. Nand Kishor Vs St. of U.P. & ors.; 2008 (26) LCD 428

(Delivered by Hon'ble Ajit Kumar, J.)

1. Heard Sri Jeetendra Singh, learned counsel for the petitioner and Sri Yashwant Singh, learned counsel for the respondent nos.1 to 4.

2. By means of this petition filed under Article 226 of Constitution of India, petitioner has assailed the order passed by the Secretary of the District Cooperative Bank Limited, Kanpur dated 01.06.2024 whereby he has been dismissed from the employment of the Bank through a resolution adopted by the Committee, dated 18.09.2023.

3. A preliminary objection has been raised by Sri Yashwant Singh, learned counsel for the respondent to the effect that the petitioner has efficacious remedy to challenge the resolution of the Committee of Management which has resulted in the order dated 01.06.2024 before the Registrar, Cooperative Societies under Section 128 of the U.P. Cooperative Societies Act, 1965. He has also placed reliance upon a judgment of a Coordinate Bench of this Court dated 17.10.2014 in the matter of Ranvijay Singh Bhadauria v. State of U.P. and others passed in Writ A No.39967 of 2008 whereunder the Court had declined to entertain the petition against the order of dismissal from the service on the ground that the Registrar, Cooperative Societies has requisite residuary and supervisory powers to deal with the resolution adopted by the Committee of Management and annul the same.

4. Meeting the arguments, Sri Jeetendra Singh, learned counsel for the petitioner has placed before the Court relevant provisions as contained under the U.P. Cooperative Societies Employees Service Regulations, 1975, according to which against the order of dismissal no forum of appeal has been provided. Sri Singh, learned counsel has also placed before the Court the provisions as contained under Section 84 which provide for penalties and one of them is Clause (iv) dismissal from service whereas other penalties are of different nature and vide Regulation 86 of the Regulations the penalties imposed under Clause (a) to (d) of Clause (i) of Regulation 84 only have been made appealable before the authority as mentioned in Appendix-D. The penalties as contained under Clause (e) and (G) sub-clause (i) of Clause 84 only the prior permission concurrence of the Institutional Service Board is required. He further argues that since there is no forum of appeal therefore this Court may entertain this petition.

5. Having heard learned counsel for the parties and having perused the records and particularly after going through the relevant provisions as contained under Section 128 of U.P. Cooperative Societies Act, 1965, I find that the Registrar has been vested with all the residuary powers to deal with the resolutions adopted by the Committee of Management being of whatever nature and has power to annul such resolution. The relevant provision under Section 128 of the U.P. Cooperative Societies Act, 1965 are reproduced hereunder:

"128. Registrar's power to annul resolution of a co-operative society or cancel order passed by an officer of a co-operative society in certain cases.-The Registrar may –

(i) annul any resolution passed by the Committee of Management, or the general body of any co-operative society; or

(ii) cancel any order passed by an officer of a co-operative society;

if he is of the opinion that the resolution or the order, as the case may be, is not covered by the objects of the society, or is in contravention of the provisions of this Act, the rules or the bye-laws of the society, whereupon every such resolution or order shall become void and inoperative and be deleted from the records of the society....."

6. I further notice that a concurrent Bench of this Court in the matter of $\square$ Ranvijay Singh Bhadauria (Supra) has already followed order and judgment of this Court of the Division Bench of this Court in the case of Nand Kishor v. State of U.P. and others:2008(26) LCD 428 to hold that the power vested with Registrar, Cooperative Societies under Section 128 is wide enough to include all such resolutions which have even resulted in dismissal of employee of the Co-operative Societies vide paragraph nos.4 and 5 of the judgment it has been held thus:

"4. For appreciating the contentions raised on behalf of the respondents it is worthwhile to refer to Section 122 of the Act 1965 which confers a power upon the State Government to constitute an Authority for regulating the Service condition of the employees of the Cooperative Societies. The Authority in turn has been conferred powers to frame regulations for the purpose. In exercise of powers under Section 122 State Government as constituted Cooperative Societies Service Institutions Board at Lucknow. This Board has framed the Regulation of 1975. Under the Regulation 1986 an appeal to the Chairman against an order of the Managing Director has been provided for. It is in exercise of this power that the Chairman has decided the appeal filed by the petitioner against the order of Managing Director imposing the punishment of recovery of the loss caused. It is thus apparent that the source of power of the Chairman under the Regulations flows from this provisions under Section 122 of the Cooperative Societies Act. Section 128 of the Cooperative Societies Act contemplates that all orders passed by the officers of Cooperative Societies can be cancelled in the cases provided for under the said Section itself.

5. The power conferred under Section 128 is therefore available to an employee who is aggrieved by order of the Chairman passed in appeal preferred by him under the Regulations. The power conferred upon the Registrar under Section 128 of the Act, i.e., the parent legislation is not diluted in any manner by the regulations framed by the Institutional Board which are in the nature of subordinate legislation as reference may also be had to the definition of "Officer" as contained in Section 20 of the Cooperative Societies Act which categorically refers to the Chairman as an officer of the Cooperative Societies. Therefore, the application filed by the petitioner under Section 128 of the Act 1965 was legally maintainable. The order of Additional Registrar dated 12.6.2007 holding otherwise is legally not justified."

7. In such above view of the matter, therefore, I do not see any justification to take a different view from what has already been taken by a coordinate Bench of this Court in the aforesaid case. Hence the preliminary objection raised by Sri Yashwant Singh, learned counsel for the respondent is upheld.

8. The law is well settled that no one can be left remediless. The highest authority under an enactment if is vested with the supervisory and superintending power or residuary power, which is not traceable in any other provision of the Act then such power should be permitted to be exercised to look into and decide the matter as a final authority on facts and I find it to be necessary for arresting any miscarriage of justice.

9. Hence, I decline to entertain the petition at this stage. However, it is left open for the petitioner to prefer an appeal/representation before the Registrar, Cooperative Societies taking aid to Section 128 of the U.P. Cooperative Societies Act, 1965 and in the event any such representation/appeal is filed within a period of four weeks from today, the same shall be dealt with and disposed of by Registrar, Cooperative Societies within a further period of two months.

10. With the aforesaid observations and directions, this petition stands disposed of.

02. This bunch of writ petitions is being decided by means of a common judgment and order as the controversy involved in the writ petitions is similar in nature treating Writ-A No.13992 of 2019 to be leading writ petition and the order passed thereon shall be equally applicable to all the connected matters.

03. The controversy involved in the present bunch of writ petitions arises due to denial of extension benefit granted by Hon'ble Supreme Court of India in Writ Petition No.43 of 1998; Dr. Chandra Prakash and others Vs. State of U.P. and others decided on 04.12.2002, reported in 2002 (10) SCC 710, the petitioners preferred present writ petitions with following prayer:

i) Issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of certiorari quashing the impugned order dated 20.05.2005 upto extent of denial of promotion on higher post and denial of payment of arrears of salary and order dated 01.11.2018, whereby the respondents said that all the benefits have been given to the petitioners.

ii) Issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of mandamus commanding the respondents to examine the case of the petitioners to grant the benefit of judgment and order passed by this Hon'ble Court and Hon'ble Supreme Court of India in respect of grant of promotion and position, selection grade and arrears of salary from the date of notional promotion as the same has been given by the respondents to other similarly situated persons.

iii) Issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of mandamus commanding the respondents to promote and provide the position with all incidental and consequential benefits including selection grade of Rs.4500-5700 to the petitioners as per direction of Hon'ble Supreme Court of India.

iv) Issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of mandamus commanding the respondents to fix and revise the pension of the petitioners as per rules and pay the arrears of salary as well as arrears of pension with interest at market rate.

v) Issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of mandamus commanding the respondents to provide the selection grade for the post of Joint Director in the pay scale of Rs.4500-5700 as per Government Order dated 29.12.1997, as the same benefits have been given to other similarly situated persons.

vi) Any other writ, order or direction, as this Hon'ble Court may deem fit and proper and to award the cost of the petition to the petitioners.

04. There was a dispute in respect of determination of seniority and extension of benefit of promotion and position between the regularly selected and appointed medical officers and medical officers appointed by the Departmental Selection Committee (DSC) on adhoc basis finally deciding the case of Dr. Chandra Prakash (Supra) on 04.12.2002, wherein Hon'ble Supreme Court of India has held as under:

"We accordingly allow the writ petitions and declare that (1) the writ petitioners are not within the purview of Rules of 1979, (2) the State Government will fix the seniority of all doctors in PMHS Cadre from the date of orders of their initial appointment within a period of six weeks from the date of this order and give all consequential benefits including promotions and positions on the basis of such seniority list and, (3) those doctors, who were selected in year 1972 and 1977-78-79 by Principal Secretary and who were not issued orders of appointment and joined the service on the basis of Tandon's case, will be treated as having been appointed on the date they actually joined the service and their seniority will be counted from that date."

05. In compliance of judgment and order of Hon'ble Supreme Court of India dated 04.12.2002, on 05.06.2003 the respondents circulated the seniority list of medical officers of U.P. Medical and Health Department and in the seniority list, name of petitioners finds place.

06. On the basis of seniority list, by adopting the procedure of pick and choose, several medical excluding the petitioners got promoted to the post of Joint Director, Additional Director, Director and Director General.

07. In violation of order of Hon'ble Supreme Court, instead of extending the benefits of promotion and position to all on the basis of seniority list, vide impugned order dated 20.05.2005, the respondents notionally promoted the medical officers from senior grade to Joint Director grade in the pay scale applicable on the date and denied to pay the arrears of salary ignoring the fact that on the basis of seniority, they have already promoted several medical officers upto the post of Director General & Director and paid them arrears of salary.

08. The petitioners have been promoted on the post of Joint Director w.e.f. 10.05.1990, thus, as per Government Order dated 29.12.1997 and 31.07.2008, they are entitled for selection grade pay scale of Rs.4500-5700 w.e.f. 10.05.1990 but respondents are not extending the benefits to them.

09. Being aggrieved with the discriminatory action of the respondents, several writ petitions have been filed by medical officers of U.P. Medical and Health Department. In Writ Petition No.1543 (S/B) of 2004 vide judgment and order dated 18.09.2007, this Court has been pleased to dispose of the writ petition directing the respondent No.1 to grant all consequential benefits including notional promotion etc to the petitioners within two months from the date of production of a certified copy of the order.

10. Against judgment and order dated 18.09.2007; Writ Petition No.1543 (S/B) of 2004; Dr. Raghubeer Prasad Dixit and others Vs. State of U.P. and others, the State of U.P. preferred Review Petition NO.100 of 2008; State of U.P. and others Vs. Dr. Raghubeer Prasad Dixit and others, which was dismissed by this Court on 31.07.2008.

11. Due to discretionary action of the State Government, several medical officers of U.P. Medical and Health Department preferred writ petitions before this Court at Lucknow and Allahabad. The writ petitions filed at Lucknow Bench have been allowed but Writ-A No.7742 of 2004; Dr. Chandra Prakash and others Vs. State of U.P. and others, filed at Allahabad was dismissed on 10.11.2005.

12. Being aggrieved with the judgments of this Court, State Government preferred SLP (Civil), which was converted as Civil Appeal Nos.3041, 3043, 3044, 3045, 3046 of 2010 and Dr. Chandra Prakash filed SLP (Civil), which has been converted as Civil Appeal NO.3042 of 2010. All the civil appeals were connected on 05.09.2011 and Hon'ble the Supreme Court of India has held as under:

"On the facts and circumstances, particularly having regard to the fact that most of the contesting respondents are retired, we do not propose to stay the impugned order of the High Court. If appellants succeeds ultimately, it will be entitled to recover the amount paid in pursuance of the order of the High Court."

13. Subsequently, all the civil appeals were listed on 24.07.2024 and the civil appeal filed by the State of U.P. has been dismissed while the civil appeal NO.3042 of 2010; Dr. Chandra Prakash and others Vs. State of U.P. and others was allowed with following order:

"In view of the observation made above, we have no option but to set aside the part of the impugned order dated 10th November, 2005 passed by the High Court of Judicature at Allahabad in CMWP 7742/2004, whereby High Court refuse to grant arrear of salary in favour of the appellant."

The respondents are directed to pay the appellant the consequential benefits of arrears of pay pursuant to the said order in view of the notional promotion granted in favour of the appellant."

Impugned order passed by the High Court stands modified to the extent above."

The appeal is allowed with direction to the State to pay arrears of salary if it not yet paid within three months. On failure, the State of U.P. will be liable to pay interest @6% from the date of judgment of this Court."

14. In Compliance of judgment and order dated 24.07.2014 vide office order dated 21.10.2015, respondents extended all the benefits including arrears of salary with interest to Dr. Chandra Prakash and others.

15. Due to denial of benefit of judgment of Hon'ble Supreme Court of India, Dr. Virendra Singh Pachahara filed Writ Petition No.1461 (S/B) of 2009 and vide judgment and order dated 15.07.2013, this Court has observed as under:

"In view of above, the writ petition deserves to be allowed and is hereby allowed. A writ in the nature of certiorari is issued quashing the impugned order dated 12.05.2009 commanding the State Government to provide promotion and pay scale and promotional avenues under the judgment of Hon'ble Supreme Court of India in case of Dr. Chandra Prakash (Supra) expeditiously, say within a period of three months from the date of production of a certified copy of the order."

16. In compliance of the order dated 15.07.2013, vide office memo dated 18.02.2014 respondents extended the benefits including pay scale of Rs.4500-5700 with arrears subject to outcome of Civil Appeal No.3041 of 2010. In the said order, it has been said that the case of Virendra Singh Pachahara is same as of case of Dr. Raghubeer Prasad Dixit, even then respondents are not extending the benefits. The civil appeal was dismissed on 24.07.2014.

17. Due to discriminatory action of respondents, Dr. Ramji Pandey preferred Writ-A No.3334 of 2009, which was allowed by this Court on 31.08.2017 with following observation:

"Consequently, the writ petition is allowed. A direction is issued to the respondents to grant notional benefits of promotion to the petitioner as Additional Director as Director as and when it falls due in accordance with the rules as notified on 11th August, 2004 and the pay scale shall be re-fixed, which shall be complied with by making payment of arrears of salary of such re-calculation as expeditiously as possible preferably within three months from today. The consequential benefits of pension, gratuity and other retiral dues shall also be available to the petitioner to that effect. In the event, the payment is delayed beyond three months, the same shall carry 6% simple interest from the date of judgment to the date of payment."

18. Against the judgment and order dated 31.08.2017 passed in Writ-A No.3334 of 2009, State of U.P. preferred SLP with Diary No.33951 of 2010 before the Apex Court and in the said SLP no order for stay has been granted and the SLP is pending.

19. Vide order dated 05.05.2015, the respondents rejected the claim of Dr. J.P. Gupta (Jagannath Prasad Gupta), who was petitioner of Writ Petition No.04 (S/B) of 2004, preferred writ petition No.2229 (S/B) of 2015, wherein vide judgment and order dated 01.07.2021, this Court allowed the writ petition with following observation:

"16. This writ petition is allowed in the same terms as the decision by this Court on 31.08.2017 in Writ-A No.3334 of 2009 (Ramji Pandey Vs. State of U.P.).

17. Let appropriate order be passed by opposite party No.2 making them subject to decision in SLP with Diary No.33951 of 2018 (State of U.P. Vs. Ram Ji Pandey).

18. A direction is issued to the respondents to grant notional benefits of promotion to the petitioner as Additional Director and Director as and when it falls due in accordance with the Rules as notified on 11th August, 2004 and the pay shall be re-fixed and payment of arrears of salary on such re-calculation shall be made as expeditiously as possible, preferably within three months from today. The consequential benefits of pension, gratuity and other retiral dues shall also be available to the petitioner. In the event the payment is delayed beyond three months, the same shall carry 6% simple interest from the date of this judgment to the date of payment."

20. Learned counsel for the petitioners submitted that there is no iota of difference between the petitioner and other such medical officers to whom the benefit has been extended by the respondents.

21. He further submitted that the effect of the judgment dated 04.12.2002 passed in the case of Dr. Chandra Prakash ;(2002) 10 SCC 710 is rem in nature while the judgment passed in Writ-A No.3334 of 2009; Ramji Pandey (Supra), against which the State of U.P. has preferred SLP No.33951 of 2010 is personam in nature.

22. He next submitted that since denial to extend the benefit of promotion, position and pay scale with arrears and revision of pension at par with junior is discriminatory, illegal and arbitrary, thus, the impugned order dated 20.05.2005 and 01.11.2018 annexed as Annexure No.1 to the writ petition are liable to be quashed and the writ petition is liable to be allowed.

23. On the other hand, learned Additional CSC appearing for respondent - State opposed the submission advanced by learned counsel for the petitioners and submitted that the seniority list was prepared in compliance of Hon'ble Supreme Court's order in Dr. Chandra Prakash case on 05.06.2003. On the basis of seniority, notional promotion was granted on senior grade. There was no basis for granting notional promotion to the post higher than that of Joint Director i.e. Additional Director and Director Grade, as there were selection posts. He submitted that consequential order for revision of pension was also issued thereafter. The representation of the petitioners was disposed of and as such, the order impugned is just and valid.

24. I have considered the submissions advanced by learned counsel for the parties and perused the material on record.

25. Learned counsel for the petitioners have submitted written submissions, wherein charts have been prepared reflecting the service details of the date from which the petitioners were granted notional promotion, which is being extracted below:

26. This Court having considered the two judgments passed by Division Benches in the case of Gulab Chandra and Dr. Ramji Pandey, the arguments as raised by learned counsel for the petitioners and on perusal of judgment of Single Bench of this Court in the case of Dr. Jagannath Prasad Gupta Vs. State of U.P. and others; Service Bench No.2029 of 2015 order dated 01.07.2021, found that the same reason for rejecting the case of the petitioners have been mentioned in the impugned order dated 05.08.2018, as have been mentioned in the counter affidavit filed by the respondents. The impugned order also considers the case of Dr. Sumati Sheel Sharma and mentions that Dr. Sumati Sheel Sharma was placed at the serial No.1099 of the seniority list and 21 other doctors, who were senior to her including those who had retired from service or died, had been given notional promotion as Additional Director w.e.f. 21.06.2009 and the notional promotion on the post of Director in the pay scale of Rs.5900-6300 w.e.f. the date that Dr. Sumati Sheel Sharma was given such promotion. This fact mentioned in the order dated 05.05.2015, as also the fact that petitioners were placed at serial numbers indicated in the chart narrated above of the seniority list, has convinced the Court that the impugned order is liable to be set aside.

27. Cases of the petitioners have been rejected only on the ground that Dr. Sumati Sheel Sharma had been given promotion on 21.06.1990 and 22.05.1996 on the basis of earlier seniority list and the petitioner were at that time junior to Dr. Sumati Sheel Sharma, therefore, they cannot claim the same benefit. Additionally, a reference has been made of pension, re-fixation having 30. Similar orders have been passed by Hon'ble the Supreme Court in Civil Appeal No.3041 of 2010 as have been mentioned above.

33. A direction is issued to the respondents to grant notional benefits of promotion to the petitioners as Additional Director and Director as and when it falls due in accordance with rules as notified on 11.08.2004 and the pay shall be refixed and payment of arrears of salary on such recalculation shall be made as expeditiously as possible, preferably within three months from today. The consequential benefits of pension, gratuity and other retiral dues shall also be available to the petitioners. In the event the payment is delayed beyond three months, the same shall carry 6% simple interest from the date of this judgment to the date of payment.

Only thereafter, such affidavit of pleading shall be finalized, so that unnecessary time of the Court is not wasted. (Para 5 and 6)

Writ petition kept pending. (E-1)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rajan Roy, J.
&
Hon'ble Om Prakash Shukla, J.)

1. Heard Km. Vishwa Mohini, learned Counsel for the petitioner, Shri Shailendra Kumar Singh learned Chief Standing Counsel & Shri Prashant Singh Atal, learned C.S.C. - I, for the State.

2. After seeking instructions, this Court has been informed by the learned Chief Standing Counsel that in fact, the affidavit filed after the passing of the order dated 19.05.2023 was duly vetted by the Additional Chief Secretary of the department i.e. Rural Engineering Services.

However, in this very context we find, that in Public Interest Litigation No. 338 of 2022, in response to our order dated 30.08.2024, filed in the said petition as to who is authorized to file an affidavit on behalf of the Government, a Government Order dated 26.04.2001 was brought on record according to which, such responses on behalf of the State Government are to be filed by an officer not below the rank of Joint Secretary/Deputy Secretary, however, in exceptional circumstances, the same can also be filed by the Deputy Secretary or Section Officer concerned.

3. We had not expressed any opinion on this issue in the said matter. Today, we found that in the order dated 19.05.2023, there is a reference to four Government Orders on the subject which are dated 23.06.2010, 25.09.2018, 14.03.2022 and 08.07.2022. None of these Government orders were brought to our notice in P.I.L. No. 338 of 2022. Moreover, it is also informed that after 19.05.2023, another Government order dated 12.06.2023 was issued by the Chief Secretary for strict compliance of the Government Orders dated 23.06.2010, 25.09.2018, 14.03.2022 and 08.07.2022. There is no reference therein to the order dated 26.04.2001 which was placed before us in P.I.L. No. 338 of 2022.

4. We have gone through the aforesaid Government Orders and we find that in the Government Order dated 23.02.2010, it was provided that wherever the State Government is a party in any proceedings before the High Court, then the narrative should be got vetted by the Principal Secretary / Secretary and the counter affidavit should be prepared and filed based on the said vetted narrative. However, this Government Order was further considered and another Government Order dated 23.06.2010 was issued, according to which in matters where the State Government was merely a proforma party / remote party, then the narrative pertaining to such matters for the purposes of filing counter affidavit should contain an endorsement by a Group A Officer of the administrative department concerned on the prescribed format of the Law Department that the counter affidavit in the matter is required to be filed by the Head of Department or Head of the Office i.e. not by the State Government. However, if in a particular matter, certain paragraphs of the writ petition pertain to the State Government, in that case, the narrative pertaining to the said paragraphs should be got vetted / approved by the Principal Secretary / Secretary / Special Secretary of the Government. The Principal Secretary can delegate his powers / obligations in this regard which would obviously mean a delegation to the Secretary / Special Secretary. Thereafter, another G.O. dated 25.09.2018 was issued reiterating what had been stated in the G.O. dated 23.06.2010, so far as, filing of affidavits on behalf of the State Government is concerned. Another G.O. was issued on 14.03.2022 dealing with various issues pertaining to legal proceedings before the High Court wherein the State is a party or not a party. However, so far as, the issue with which we are concerned i.e. the officer who is authorized and should file the affidavit on behalf of the State Government, the said G.O. also reiterated what was stated in the G.O. dated 25.09.2018. Paragraph 2 (?) (2) of the said G.O. dated 14.03.2022 reads as under:-

"उपर्युक्त वादों के संबंध में प्रतिशपथ पत्र तैयार कराते समय तथ्यों की पुष्टि सहित तथ्यपरक प्रस्तरवार आख्या तैयार करने के उपरान्त, उसका सम्यंक परीक्षण विभागाध्यक्ष एवं कार्यालयाध्यक्ष के स्तर पर किया जाय तथा न्याय विभाग के उपर्युक्त संदर्भित शासनादेश दिनांक 25 सितम्बर 2018 के परिप्रेक्ष्य में यह स्पष्ट रूप से मत स्थिर किया जाय कि क्या प्रश्नगत बाद में शासन प्रोफार्मा पार्टी है अथवा कि शासन के किसी आदेश / नीति/नियम को चुनौती दी गयी है। यदि शासन के किसी आदेश/नीति/नियम को चुनौती दी गई है तो उसके संबंध में प्रत्तरवार आख्या तैयार कराकर व पुष्टि स्वरूप सक्षम प्राधिकारी के हस्ताक्षर सहित, अनुमोदन हेतु शासन को उपलब्ध कराया जाना सुनिश्चित किया जाय तथा यदि संबंधित बाद में शासन प्रोफार्मा पार्टी के रूप में पक्षकार है तो न्याय विभाग के उक्त शासनादेश में दिये गये निर्देशों व संक्षिप्त प्रतिशपथ पत्र के संलग्न मॉडल प्रारूप के अनुसार ही संक्षिप्त प्रतिशपथ पत्र तैयार कराकर उपलब्ध कराया जाय।"

5. There is another Government Order dated 08.07.2022 but it does not dwell on the issue with which we are concerned, at least, no provision could be pointed out by the Chief Standing Counsel in this regard. By the G.O. dated 12.06.2023 issued by the

9 All. Commissioner, Kendriya Vidyalaya Sangathan & Ors. Vs. Central Administrative Tribunal, 555 Allahabad & Anr.

Chief Secretary, strict compliance of the G.O.'s dated 23.06.2010, 25.09.2018, 14.03.2022 and 08.07.2022 was reiterated with reference to the orders passed in this petition on 19.05.2023. In the aforesaid G.O. dated 12.06.2023, in Paragraph 3 thereof, again, the Chief Secretary has reiterated that in matters where the State Government is a contesting party, meaning thereby, where it has an active role in the matter, then then counter affidavit or any pleading should be got vetted by the Additional Chief Secretary / Principal Secretary and the counter affidavit should be prepared on the basis of the narrative vetted by the said Officer.

6. In view of the above, we hereby provide that every Government Counsel, whether he be the Standing Counsel or A.G.A., or known by any other designation in the High Court, when he prepares a counter affidavit, objection or any pleading of any sort on behalf of the State Government or where the State Government is a party, then he shall first of all satisfy himself as to whether the aforesaid Government Orders have been complied or not ? Only thereafter, such affidavit of pleading shall be finalized, so that unnecessary time of the Court is not wasted when the pleadings have already been filed and this error or omission is pointed out to it. The Chief Standing Counsel and the Government Advocates shall take cognizance and ensure compliance thereof. In fact, if a narrative or the counter affidavit is required to be vetted by a senior officer of the Government in terms of the aforesaid Government Order, then a counter affidavit prepared in terms of the said narrative shall contain a specific paragraph that the said counter affidavit has been prepared on the basis of the narrative vetted by the concerned Officer, whose name and designation should be mentioned, and also, that this has been prepared in compliance of the aforesaid Government order.

7. Shri Sanjay Verma, Additional L.R. is present from the office of Legal Remembrancer, U.P.. He expresses apology for non-production of the other Government Orders in the P.I.L. referred herein above.

8. Two weeks time is granted to the petitioner for filing rejoinder affidavit to the affidavit filed on behalf of the State.

9. List/put up this case after two weeks.

10. Let a copy of this order be sent to the Legal Remembrancer, U.P., the Chief Secretary, Government of U.P., Lucknow, as also, to the Chief Standing Counsel and Government Advocate of this Court at Lucknow & at Allahabad. A copy thereof be also sent to the learned Advocate General for his information.

A. Civil Law - Service Matter - Probationer - Termination of Service - If the termination of services of a probationer is by an order simpliciter, based on the unsuitability of the employee for the post and/or unsatisfactory performance, the action would be tenable in law. However, if findings are arrived at in an inquiry regarding misconduct behind the officer's back or without a regular departmental inquiry, the simple order of termination is to be treated as being founded on allegations and would be bad in law. If, for determining the suitability of the probationer for the post in question, an inquiry is held, and it is on the basis of that inquiry that a decision is taken to terminate the probationer's service, the order will not be punitive in nature. Conversely, if there are allegations of misconduct, and an inquiry is held to ascertain the truth of such misconduct, and an order terminating the service is passed based on that inquiry, the order would be punitive in nature. In each case, the "motive" or "foundation" behind the termination order must be ascertained to decide whether the termination order is bad in law. (Para 38)

B. Civil Law - Service Matter - Probationer - Termination of Service Based on Unauthorized Absence- Allegation that the applicant remained unauthorizedly absent without any sanctioned leave from the competent authority. Court found that the termination order did not contain any recital indicating that it was based on misconduct. Instead, it was a simpliciter discharge order. As the applicant was a probationer, he did not have any legal right to challenge the issuance of a simpliciter discharge order. Held: Termination order upheld. (39, 43)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Vikas Budhwar, J.)

1. Impugned in the present proceedings at the instance of Commissioner, Kendriya Vidyalaya Sangathan, New Delhi (in short 'K.V.S.') is the order dated 24.04.2018 of Central Administrative Tribunal, Allahabad, bench Allahabad (in short 'Tribunal') in O.A. No.330/01233 of 2010 whereby the original application preferred by Sanjay Singh (in short 'original applicant') challenging the orders dated 19.08.2009 of the K.V.S. terminating the services of the original applicant as well as the order dated 10.11.2009 holding that the appeal preferred by the original applicant on 08.08.2009 in terms of Article 81-B read with sub-para 7 of the Education Code against the show cause memorandum dated 28.05.2009 does not lie, order dated 15/18.06.2010 whereby the revision preferred by the original applicant against the termination order dated 19.11.2008 needs no reconsideration and the order dated 02.07.2010 rejecting the representation of the original applicant for reconsideration of the order discharging him from service, has been allowed, all the orders impugned have been set aside and original applicant has been ordered to be reinstated back in service.

2. A joint statement has been made by learned counsel for the rival parties that the pleadings are complete and they do not intend to file any further affidavits and the writ petition be decided on the basis of the documents available on record. With the consent of the parties, the writ petition is being decided at the admission stage.

Facts

3. The case of the original applicant projected before the Tribunal was that pursuant to a recruitment exercise undertaken by the K.V.S., the original applicant after facing selection was offered appointment on the post of Work Experience Teacher in the pay scale of Rs. 5500-175-9000/- in Kendriya Vidyalaya, Dinjan, Assam on 19.11.2008. As per the offer of the appointment to the post of Work Experience Teacher, the original applicant was to report on duty by 05.12.2008. The original applicant claims to have reported for duty on 02.12.2008 and performed his duties with utmost sincerity till 12.12.2008. Since Dinjan happened to be a very cold station and the original applicant was short of warm clothes so he took permission from the Principal of the K.V.S., Assam and got his leave sanctioned w.e.f. 13.12.2008 onwards.

4. According to the original applicant, the Vidyalaya in question was going to close for winter vacation from 21.12.2008 so there was no question of any loss to the students. It is also the case of the original applicant that on the reopening of the Vidyalaya on 01.01.2009, the original applicant got his reservations done by train, however, as the ill luck it may be, there happened to be a major train accident between Allahabad and Kanpur Station resulting to cancellation of several trains which constrained the original applicant to extend his leave. Somehow, the original applicant managed to reach Dinjan on 07.01.2009 and he reported for duty on 08.01.2009. The original applicant claims to have met the Principal of the Vidyalaya requesting him to accord permission to join the duties from 01.01.2009 but for the reasons best known to him, permission was not accorded to the original applicant to enter the Vidyalaya campus itself. Repeated request was extended by original applicant but the same was in vain. The original applicant again on 09.01.2009 and 10.01.2009 requested for joining the duties on 10.01.2009, the original applicant claims to have made telephonic conversation with the Assistant Commissioner of the K.V.S. and apprised him of the entire situation which was followed by a detailed representation dated 10.01.2009. Being frustrated with the odd situation and harassment meted to him, the original applicant claims to have lodged a first information report at Police Station-Dinjan. As joining was not accorded and things had become bad to worse so the original applicant having no alternative left, returned back to Kanpur on 11.01.2009 and thereafter fell ill due to high fever, he could not join the Vidyalaya.

5. On 30.04.2009, a communication is stated to have been issued under the signatures of the Assistant Commissioner KVS, Regional Office, Silchar, Assam whereby it was recited that the original applicant is absent from duties w.e.f. 08.01.2009 and he was advised to report for duties immediately failing which disciplinary action would be taken against him as per K.V.S. Rules. The original applicant on the receipt of the said communication reported for duty on 19.05.2009 wherein the Principal of the K.V.S. apprised him that since the Vidyalaya is closed, thus, the original applicant cannot be accorded joining and he was instructed to join on 22.06.2009, the opening day of the Vidyalaya after summer vacation. On 28.05.2009, the Assistant Commissioner, K.V.S., Regional Office, Silchar, Assam proceeded to issue a notice purported to be under Article 81-D of the Education Code of the Kendriya Vidyalaya show causing as to why on account of unauthorized absence, he may not be deemed to have been removed from the service and for that purpose 10 days time for show causing was accorded to the original applicant. The original applicant on the receipt of the notice tendered his reply on 06.05.2009. A representation/request letter for according joining was also made by the original applicant on 15.06.2009 before the Assistant Commissioner, K.V.S., Silchar, Assam. It is alleged that the applicant consequent to the opening of the Vidyalaya post vacations appeared for joining on 22.06.2009 and thereafter the Principal of the Vidyalaya permitted the original applicant to join duties on 22.06.2009 and he worked up till 25.06.2009. On 25.06.2009, the Principal of the Vidyalaya directed the original applicant to sign some blank papers and also obtained his receipt on certain orders and proceeded to cancel the entire joining of the original applicant from 22.06.2009 to 25.06.2009 (four days) on the premise that the original applicant was erroneously permitted to join, the original applicant on 25.06.2009 claims to have preferred an objection against the notice dated 28.05.2009 of the Assistant Commissioner, K.V.S., Silchar, Assam.

6. Thereafter, the Senior Administrative Officer of the K.V.S. (H.Q.), New Delhi proceeded to issue a communication dated 14.07.2009 requiring the original applicant to prefer appeal before the appellate authority against loss of the lien vide order dated 28.05.2009 of the Assistant Commissioner, K.V.S. Regional Office, Silchar. On 08.08.2009, the original applicant preferred an appeal before the appellate authority. On 19.08.2009, an order came to be passed by the Assistant Commissioner, K.V.S. Regional Office, Silchar, Assam whereby the services of the original applicant came to be terminated on completion of one month notice.

7. Being aggrieved against the termination order dated 19.08.2009 of the Assistant Commissioner, K.V.S., Regional Office, Silchar, Assam, the original applicant preferred an appeal on 09.09.2009 before the appellate authority. On 10.11.2009, the Joint Commissioner (Acad. and Admin.)/ appellate authority proceeded to pass an order holding that appeal preferred by the original applicant before the appellate authority was not maintainable against the show cause memorandum dated 28.05.2009. The applicant thereafter preferred a detailed representation on 06.03.2010 in the form of Revision under Schedule-II read with Appendix-III of K.V.S. Code.

8. The original applicant being further aggrieved against the acts and omissions of the writ petitioners/ K.V.S. preferred O.A. No.683 of 2010 before the Tribunal, (Sanjay Singh v. State of U.P. and others) which came to be disposed of on 10.05.2010 with a direction to the original applicant to file reply to the show cause notice dated 28.05.2009 within a period of two weeks from the date of the receipt of the certified copy of the order and the competent authority was directed to pass a reasoned and speaking order within a period of two months. The original applicant submitted his response/ objection to the show cause notice on 12.05.2010. On 15/18.06.2010, the Education Officer of K.V.S., New Delhi proceeded to pass an order holding that there is no provision of reconsideration of the termination during probation in terms of the offer of the appointment. On 02.07.2010, another communication came to be issued negating the claim of the original applicant while holding that since the original applicant was not confirmed teacher, thus, the provisions of the Article 81-D of the Education Code will not apply and due to inadvertence, a show cause notice came to be issued on 28.05.2009 which stands withdrawn.

9. Questioning the orders dated 19.08.2009, 10.11.2009 15/18.06.2010 and 02.07.2010, the original applicant preferred O.A. No. 330/01233 of 2010 before the Tribunal seeking following reliefs:

“ A. To issue a writ order or direction in the nature of certiorari, quashing the order dt. 19.8.09, 10.11.09, 15/18.6.2010 & 2.7.2010 (Annexure no. 1, 2, 3 & 4 respectively) passed by the respondents.

B. To issue a further writ order or direction in the nature of mandamus commanding the respondents to reinstate the applicant as work experience teacher and permit him to work as such and grant him seniority, arrears of salary and other consequential benefits for which he is entitled for.

C. To pass any other suitable order or direction which this Hon'ble Tribunal may deem fit and proper under the circumstances of the case.

D. To award the cost of the present O.A. in favour of the applicant.”

10. On being noticed, the writ petitioners who were respondents before the Tribunal filed their response, to which a rejoinder affidavit was filed.

11. The original applicant came up for consideration before the Tribunal on 24.04.2018 wherein the same stood allowed, the orders impugned was set aside and the writ petitioners were directed to reinstate the original applicant in service as per his appointment order with all consequential benefits within a period of three months from the date of the production of the certified copy of the order.

12. Questioning the order of the Tribunal, the present writ petition has been preferred seeking following reliefs:

“1. issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of certiorari to call for record of the case and quash the judgment and order dated 24.4.2018 passed by the Hon'ble Central Administrative Tribunal, respondent no.1 in O.A. No. 1233 of 2010 (Annexure No. 1 to the writ petition).

2. issue any other suitable writ petition, order or direction, and/or to pass such other and further order which this Hon'ble Court may deem fit and proper under the circumstances of the case.

3. award the cost to the petition in favour of the petitioner."

13. On 27.07.2018, the following orders were passed:

"Heard Sri D.P. Singh, learned counsel for the petitioner and Sri Islam Ahmad for the respondent no.2.

The petitioners in the writ petition are seeking quashing of the order dated 24.4.2018, passed by the Central Administrative Tribunal, Allahabad in O.A. No.330/01233/2010, whereby, the Tribunal has set aside the order of termination of respondent no.2 and directed his reinstatement in service with all consequential benefits.

The matter requires consideration.

Respondent may file counter affidavit within four weeks.

List thereafter.

Till the next date of listing, operation of order of the Tribunal dated 24.4.2018, shall remain stayed."

14. A response has been filed by the original applicant to which a rejoinder affidavit has been filed.

Arguments of Counsel for K.V.S.

15. Shri D.P. Singh, learned counsel for the writ petitioners/ K.V.S. has sought to argue that the judgment and order of the Tribunal, impugned in the present proceedings cannot be sustained for a single moment inasmuch as the Tribunal while endorsing the claim of the original applicant has misconstrued the entire controversy and adopted an incorrect approach. Elaborating the said submission, it is being submitted that the reasoning assigned by the Tribunal while coming to the conclusion that it was a case of punitive discharge of services suffers from inherent fallacy, particularly, when neither any preliminary inquiry nor any departmental enquiry was initiated pursuant to issuance of any charge-sheet. However, only on the basis of overall assessment of the work of the original applicant, he was discharged from services. According to the writ petitioners, the original applicant was a probationer who was offered appointment on the post of Work Experience Teachers on a probation period with a clear stipulation during the probation period and thereafter, before he is confirmed, the services of the original applicant are terminable by one month notice or either side without any reasons being assigned.

16. Submissions is that the probationer does not possess any legal right to resist the discretion exercised by the appointing authority in discharging his services, as the original applicant is only a probationer subject to overall assessment by the employer. He further submits that though the writ petitioner pursuant to the offer of the appointment reported on duty on 02.12.2008 but without there being any sanctioned leave, he unauthorizedly remained absent from 13.12.2008 that too without due intimation and merely because, a notice purported to be under sub-clause (3) of Article 81-D of the Education Code was issued proposing to discharge his services on account of the voluntary abandonment of services, the same would not give any legal right to the original applicant, particularly, when no further action whatsoever was taken on the said notice and the same stood withdrawn.

17. Argument is that the position might have been different in case for any misconduct (unauthorized absence) any departmental enquiry was proceeded with thus the entire approach of the Tribunal itself, proceeds on misconception of facts and law and the order impugned in question is liable to be set aside.

18. Attention has also been invited towards the order dated 19.08.2009 dispensing with the services of the original applicant so as to contend that the order does not indicate in any manner whatsoever that the same is punitive as the position is otherwise as it is a simpliciter order of discharge. Reliance has been placed upon the decision in the cases of Municipal Committee, Sirsa v. Munshi Ram, (2005) 2 SCC 382, Punjab and Others v. Sukhwinder Singh, (2005) 5 SCC 569, Chaitanya Prakash and Another v. H. Omkarappa, (2010) 2 SCC 623 and Rajesh Kumar Srivastava v. State of Jharkhand and Others, (2011) 4 SCC 447 so as to contend that the probationer has no legal right and it is always open for the employer to adjudge the suitability and once a simpliciter discharge order is passed then there is no requirement of adherence of the principle of natural justice. It is, thus, prayed that the order of the Tribunal be set aside and the writ petition be allowed in toto.

Arguments of Learned Counsel for Original Applicant

19. Countering the submission of the learned counsel for the K.V.S., Shri Arvind Srivastava-III who appears for the original applicant submits that the order of the Tribunal needs no interference in the present proceedings. It is submitted that the services of the original applicant has been dispensed with by resorting to punitive measure as the basic reason attributable to terminate the services of the original applicant was the allegation with respect to unauthorized absence.

20. Submission is that once the show cause notice dated 28.05.2009 came to be issued containing an allegation to the effect that the original applicant was unauthorizedly absent from duty then it is a open and shut case that the writ petitioners had resorted to punitive measures.

21. According to the original applicant, there were intervening circumstance beyond the control of the original applicant which created a situation whereby after taking permission, the original applicant proceeded on leave and left the station on 13.12.008 and thereafter when he reported for joining on 08.01.2009 but he was not allowed joining but subsequently, he was accorded joining on 22.06.2009 and he worked till 25.06.2009 and thereafter unilaterally the joining of the original applicant was cancelled. It is the submission of the original applicant that the entire action taken by the writ petitioners is just in order to get rid off the original applicant as though at one stage notice dated 28.05.2009 was sought to be issued but in order to hush up the entire episode, the notice stood withdrawn which itself shows that the entire action is nothing but a camouflage. While driving force from the judgment in Anoop Jaiswal v. Government of India and Another 1984 (2) SCC 369. It is contended that the order dispensing with the services with the original applicant is punitive and on account of misconduct that too in violation of principles of natural justice. Reliance has also been placed upon the judgment in Jarnail Singh and Others v. State of Punjab and Others, 1986 (3) SCC 277 so as to further contend that once the services are to be terminated on the basis of the allegations of misconduct then, the same partakes the character of a punitive order. Therefore, it is prayed that the writ petition be dismissed and the judgment and the order of the tribunal be affirmed.

Analysis

22. We have given the thoughtful submission of the rival parties and perused the record.

23. Undisputedly, an offer of appointment came to be issued in favour of the original applicant on 19.11.2008 appointing the original applicant as a Work Experience Teacher in Kendriya Vidyalaya, Dinjan Assam in the pay scale of Rs.5500-175-9000/- whereby the original applicant was to report on duty by 05.12.2008.

24. The relevant terms and conditions of the offer of the appointment is quoted hereinunder:

“4. He/She will be on probation for a period of 02 years which may be extended. Upon successful completion of probation, he/she will be confirmed in his/her turn as per Kendriya Vidyalaya Sangathan rules.

5. During the probation and thereafter, until he/she is confirmed, the services of the appointee are terminable by one month notice on either side without any reason being assigned, thereof. The appointing authority, however, reserves the right to terminate the services of the appointee before expiry of the stipulated period of notice by making payment of such equivalent to the pay & allowances for the period of notice of the unexpired portion thereof.”

25. It is also not in dispute that the original applicant reported for joining on 02.12.2008 and thereafter proceeded to leave the appointed place on 13.12.2008. Pleadings reveal that on one hand the original applicant claims that he was accorded permission and his leave was sanctioned w.e.f. 13.12.2008 but on the other hand the same is disputed by the K.V.S. as according to them, there is nothing on record to suggest that the leave was sanctioned. As per the original applicant, the Vidyalay went off for winter vacation from 21.12.2008 and was to reopen on 01.01.2009 but due to a major train accident between Allahabad-Kanpur station, the train was cancelled so he reached Dinjan on 07.01.2009 and reported for duty on 08.01.2009 but he was not accorded joining and he made request on 09.01.2009 and 10.01.2009 but the same was in vain so he made correspondences before the Assistant Commissioner, K.V.S. as well as the Principal. The original applicant returned back to Kanpur on 11.01.2009 wherein he claims to have received a letter dated 30.04.2009 of the Assistant Commissioner, K.V.S. requiring him to join the duties as he was unauthorizedly absent, so he again approached the Vidyalay and he was accorded joining on 22.06.2009 and he discharged the duties till 25.06.2009 (four days), whereafter a notice came to be issued on 28.05.2009 of the Assistant Commissioner, Kendriya Vidyalaya

Sangathan Regional Office, Silchar, Assam show causing the original applicant that as to why he shall not be deemed to have been abandoned the service owing to loss of lein for not joining the duties. On 19.08.2009, an order came to be passed by the Assistant Commissioner, Kendriya Vidyalaya Sangathan Regional Office, Silchar, Assam whereby the original applicant services stood terminated on completion of one month.

26. The bone of contention between the parties is whether the order of terminating the services of the original applicant on the face of allegation of unauthorized absence can be said to be an exercise of termination simpliciter or punitive. To answer the said question, it would be apposite to retrace the law on the said subject.

27. The Hon'ble Supreme Court in Dipti Prakash Banerjee v. Satyendra Nath Bose National Centre For Basic Sciences, Calcutta and Others, (1999) 3 SCC 60, in para 21 had observed as under:

"If findings were arrived at in an enquiry as to misconduct, behind the back of the officer or without a regular departmental enquiry, the simple order of termination is to be treated as 'founded' on the allegations and will be bad. But if the enquiry was not held, no findings were arrived at and the employer was not inclined to conduct an enquiry but, at the same time, he did not want to continue the employee against whom there were complaints, it would only be a case of motive and the order would not be bad. Similar is the position if the employer did not want to enquire into the truth of the allegations because of delay in regular departmental proceedings or he was doubtful about securing adequate evidence. In such a circumstance, the allegations would be a motive and not the foundation and the simple order of termination would be valid."

28. In Pavendra Narayan Verma v. Sanjay Gandhi PGI of Medical Sciences and Another, (2002) 1 SCC 520, in para 29, the following was held:

"Before considering the facts of the case before us one further, seemingly intractable, area relating to the first test needs to be cleared viz. what language in a termination order would amount to a stigma? Generally speaking when a probationer's appointment is terminated it means that the probationer is unfit for the job, whether by reason of misconduct or ineptitude, whatever the language used in the termination order may be. Although strictly speaking, the stigma is implicit in the termination, a simple termination is not stigmatic. A termination order which explicitly states what is implicit in every order of termination of a probationer's appointment, is also not stigmatic. The decisions cited by the parties and noted by us earlier, also do not hold so. In order to amount to a stigma, the order must be in a language which imputes something over and above mere unsuitability for the job."

29. In Chandra Prakash Shahi v. State of U.P. and Others, (2000) 5 SCC 152, following was observed:

"28. The important principles which are deducible on the concept of 'motive' and 'foundation', concerning a probationer, are that a probationer has no right to hold the post and his services can be terminated at any time during or at the end of the period of probation on account of general unsuitability for the post in question. If for the determination of suitability of the probationer for the post in question or for his further retention in service or for confirmation, an inquiry is held and it is on the basis of that inquiry that a decision is taken to terminate his service, the order will not be punitive in nature. But, if there are allegations of misconduct and an inquiry is held to find out the truth of that misconduct and an order terminating the service is passed on the basis of that inquiry, the order would be punitive in nature as the inquiry was held not for assessing the general suitability of the employee for the post in question, but to find out the truth of allegations of misconduct against that employee. In this situation, the order would be founded on misconduct and it will not be a mere matter of "motive".

29. "Motive" is the moving power which impels action for a definite result, or to put it differently, "motive" is that which incites or stimulates a person to do an act. An order terminating the services of an employee is an act done by the employer. What is that factor which impelled the employer to take this action? If it was the factor of general unsuitability of the employee for the post held by him, the action would be upheld in law. If, however, there were allegations of serious misconduct against the employee and a preliminary inquiry is held behind his back to ascertain the truth of those allegations and a termination order is passed thereafter, the order, having regard to other circumstances, would be founded on the allegations of misconduct which were found to be true in the preliminary inquiry."

30. In State of Punjab and Others v. Sukhwinder Singh, (2005) 5 SCC 569, the Hon'ble Supreme Court was confronted with the situation wherein a probationer remained continuously absent for 22 days and he was discharged without holding a formal or a departmental enquiry or a preliminary or fact finding inquiry, it was held as under:

"20. In the present case neither any formal departmental inquiry nor any preliminary fact-finding inquiry had been held and a simple order of discharge had been passed. The High Court has built an edifice on the basis of a statement made in the written statement that the respondent was a habitual absentee during his short period of service and has concluded therefrom that it was his absence from duty that weighed in the mind of the Senior Superintendent of Police as absence from duty is a misconduct. The High Court has further gone on to hold that there is direct nexus between the order of discharge of the respondent from service and his absence from duty and, therefore, the order discharging him from service will be viewed as punitive in nature calling for a regular inquiry under Rule 16.24 of the Rules. We are of the opinion that the High Court has gone completely wrong in drawing the inference that the order of discharge dated 16-3-1990 was, in fact, based upon misconduct and was, therefore, punitive in nature, which should have been preceded by a regular departmental inquiry. There cannot be any doubt that the respondent was on probation having been appointed about eight months back. As observed in Ajit Singh v. State of Punjab the period of probation gives time and opportunity to the employer to watch the work, ability, efficiency, sincerity and competence of the servant and if he is found not suitable for the post, the master reserves a right to dispense with his service without anything more during or at the end of the prescribed period, which is styled as period of probation. The mere holding of preliminary inquiry where explanation is called from an employee would not make an otherwise innocuous order of discharge or termination of service punitive in nature. Therefore, the High Court was clearly in error in holding that the respondent's absence from duty was the foundation of the order, which necessitated an inquiry as envisaged under Rule 16.24(ix) of the Rules."

31. In Municipal Committee, Sirsa v. Munshi Ram, (2005) 2 SCC 382, the issue involved and which engaged attention was with respect to termination of a probationer and in para 10, it was observed as under:

"It is clear from the above that if the order of termination indicates that it is a termination simpliciter and does not cast any stigma on the employee by the said order of termination the mere fact that there was an inquiry into his conduct earlier would not by itself render the termination invalid. Applying the said principle, we see that the order of termination in the present case is an order of discharge simpliciter. But in the course of the inquiry, the Labour Court noticed that on an earlier day there was some incident where the administrative officer found some lacunae in the working of the respondent but based on that no charge-sheet was served nor inquiry was conducted. However, the appellant came to the conclusion that it is not in its interest to continue the respondent's services, hence, discharged him. In the background, the mere fact that there was a misconduct on the part of the respondent which was not enquired into ipso facto does not lead to the conclusion that the order of termination is colourable and in fact is a punitive order."

32. The Hon'ble Supreme Court in State of W.B. and Others v. Tapas Roy, (2006) 6 SCC 453 was dealing with a discharge order mentioning several instances of unauthorized absence of a probationer and while following the judgments on the said subject, it was observed as under:

"8. The High Court was of the view that Rule 10 of the Rules did not apply to orders which were stigmatic. As has already been held by this Court in Pavanendra Narayan Verma v. Sanjay Gandhi PGI of Medical Sciences that in order to constitute a stigmatic order necessitating a formal inquiry, it would have to be seen whether prior to the passing of the order, there was an inquiry into the allegations involving moral turpitude or misconduct so that the order of discharge was really a finding of guilt. If any of these three factors are absent, the order would not be punitive. We have also held that stigma in the wider sense of the word is implicit in every order of termination during probation. It is only when there is something more than imputing unsuitability for the post in question, that the order may be considered to be stigmatic. In our view, the language, quoted earlier in the discharge order, cannot be said to be stigmatic as it neither alleges any moral turpitude or misconduct on the part of the respondent nor was there an inquiry as such preceding the order of discharge. The order has been passed strictly in terms of Rule 10 of the Rules. We are, accordingly, of the view that the appeal must be allowed. It is, accordingly, allowed and the impugned order is set aside."

33. In Muir Mills Unit of NTC (U.P.) Ltd. v. Swayam Prakash Srivastava and Another, (2007) 1 SCC 491, the Hon'ble Apex Court held as under:

“44 Also in Registrar, High Court of Gujarat v. C.G. Sharma it was observed that an employee who is on probation can be terminated from services due to unsatisfactory work.

45. This Court's decision in *P.N. Verma v. Sanjay Gandhi PGI of Medical Sciences*¹ can be referred to in this context, where it was held by this Court that the services of a probationer can be terminated at anytime before confirmation, provided that such termination is not stigmatic. This Court in State of M.P. v. Virendera Kumar Chourasiya also has held that in the event of a non-stigmatic termination of the services of a probationer, principles of audi alteram partem are not applicable.”

34. While dealing with the case of a probationer whose services stood terminated on account of the unsatisfactory service, in the case of Chaitanya Prakash and Another v. H. Omkarappa, (2010) 2 SCC 623, the following was observed:

“18. It is no longer res integra that even if an order of termination refers to unsatisfactory service of the person concerned, the same cannot be said to be stigmatic. In this connection, we make a reference to the decision of the Supreme Court in *Abhijit Gupta v. S.N.B. National Centre, Basic Sciences*¹, wherein also a similar letter was issued to the employee concerned intimating him that his performance was unsatisfactory and, therefore, he is not suitable for confirmation. We have considered the ratio in light of the facts of the said case and we are of the considered opinion that the basic facts of the said case are almost similar to the one in hand. There also, letters were issued to the employee concerned to improve his performance in the areas of his duties and that despite such communications the service was found to be unsatisfactory. In the result, a letter was issued to him pointing out that his service was found to be unsatisfactory and that he was not suitable for confirmation, and, therefore, his probation period was not extended and his service was terminated, which was challenged on the ground that the same was stigmatic for alleged misconduct. The Supreme Court negated the said contention and upheld the order of termination.”

35. With regard to termination of a probationer on the premise of non-suitability for the job, the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Rajesh Kumar Srivastava v. State of Jharkhand and Others, (2011) 4 SCC 447 observing held as follows:

“The order of termination passed in the present case is a fallout of his unsatisfactory service adjudged on the basis of his overall performance and the manner in which he conducted himself. Such decision cannot be said to be stigmatic or punitive. This is a case of termination of service simpliciter and not a case of stigmatic termination and, therefore, there is no infirmity in the impugned judgment and order passed by the High Court.”

36. The Hon'ble Supreme Court in Dr. Vijayakumaran C.P.V. v. Central University of Kerala and Others, (2020) 12 SCC 426 held as under:

“It is well-established position that the material which amounts to stigma need not be contained in the order of termination of the probationer, but might be contained in "any document referred to in the termination order". Such reference may inevitably affect the future prospects of the incumbent and if so, the order must be construed as ex facie stigmatic order of termination. A three-Judge Bench of this Court in Indra Pal Gupta v. Model Inter College had occasion to deal with somewhat similar situation. In that case, the order of termination referred to the decision of the Managing Committee and subsequent approval by the competent authority as the basis for termination. The resolution of the Managing Committee in turn referred to a report of the Manager which indicated serious issues and that was made the basis for the decision by the Committee to terminate probation of the employee concerned."

37. Recently in the case of State of Punjab and Others v. Jaswant Singh, (2023) 9 SCC 150, the issue which fell for consideration before the Hon'ble Supreme Court was with regard to unauthorized absence without any intimation by the probationer and the Hon'ble Supreme Court observed as under:

"23. Similarly, in Amar Kumar, wherein the Court found that the appellant therein had instigated to do commotion/agitation/protest and also raised slogans by spreading false rumours in connection with the death of one of the trainees, which was the foundation to pass the order for termination. Thus, in the said case, the Court was of the opinion that the order of termination cannot be simpliciter. In both the cases as referred to above, the allegation of serious misconduct is common, unlike in the instant case, wherein, the foundation of discharge is not on any serious allegation or act of misconduct. The discharge order was passed on the recommendation of the supervisory authority concerned of the Training Centre due to prolonged absence from training without any intimation. The authority found that the probationer constable has no interest in training, and no sense of responsibility, hence, he cannot prove himself a good, efficient police officer. In view of above discussion, both the referred cases are distinguishable on facts."

38. An irresistible conclusions stand drawn from the proposition of law culled out from the above noted decision is that with respect to termination of services of a probationer if it is by an order simpliciter and on the ground of unsuitability of the employee from the post and/ or unsatisfactory performance, the action would be tenable in law since the stimulus or motive is the unsatisfactory service, however, if findings were arrived in an inquiry, as to the misconduct behind the back of an officer or without a regular departmental inquiry, the simple order of termination is to be treated to be founded on the allegations and would be bad in law. Therefore, there is no strict jacket formula and each case, 'motive' or 'foundation' behind the termination order will have to be ascertained to decide whether the termination order is bad in law.

39. Reverting to the facts of the case, pleadings reveal that there is an allegation against the original applicant that he remained unauthorizedly absent without there being any sanctioned leave from the competent authority of the K.V.S. from 13.12.2008. However, we find that the termination order dated 19.08.2009 does not contain any recital that the same is on the basis of any misconduct as rather to the contrary, the same is a simpliciter discharge order.

40. Interestingly, the termination/discharge order also does not contain any reference to any correspondence either by way of any advisory or reference to the show cause notice but only refers to the terms and conditions of the offer of the appointment.

41. The termination order dated 19.08.2009, for the ready reference is reproduced hereinunder:

“No.f.29064/2009/KVS(SR)

Dated 19.8.2009

OFFICE ORDER

Shri Sanjay Singh, WET is hereby informed that his services stand terminated on completion of one month hereof in terms of offer of appointment vide Memorandum No.F.29053(Misc)/2008/KVS(SR)/ 18872-74 dated 19.11.2008.

To

Shri Sanjay Singh

C/O. Shri Lal Bahadur Singh,

Distribution:

1 The Principal, KV, Dinjan- for information.

2. The Deputy Commissioner(Admn), KVS(HQ), New Delhi

3. The AAO, KVS, RO, Silchar.”

42. Bearing in mind, the aforesaid factual situation, mere issuance of the show cause notice dated 29.05.2009 and subsequent withdrawal would not be of any relevance, particularly, when though at one stage, the K.V.S. intended to proceed with some sort of inquiry by way of a show cause notice but once the same stood withdrawn and no action whatsoever was taken then by no stretch of imagination it can be said that the order of discharge was punitive in nature. Thus, it can be safely said that the action taken by the K.V.S. was actuated with motive and not foundation.

43. Nonetheless, once the status of the original applicant was of a probationer and probation did not transform into a regular/confirmed employee then, in law, the original applicant does not have any legal right to resist the action of the K.V.S. in proceedings to issue a simpliciter order of discharge.

44. As regards, the reliance placed upon the decision in the case of Anoop Jaiswal (supra) is concerned, the same is not applicable in the facts of the case, particularly, when in the said case though the simple order of discharge of a probationer was passed but the same was on the ground of unsuitability that too based upon a report/ recommendation of the concerned authority indicating of commission of misconduct by the probationer and while applying of Article 311(2) of the Constitution of India, it was treated to be punitive in nature. So far as the judgment in the case of Jarnail Singh (supra) is concerned, in the said case, the allegations were of misconduct and adverse entries, which became the basis for the departmental selection committee for considering the employee as unfit for regularization resulting in termination.

Both the judgments relied upon by the Tribunal are distinguishable as here in the present case, there is neither an enquiry with relation to any misconduct nor there is any legal protection is available under the statutory rules. Pertinently, the Kendriya Vidyalaya Sangathan (Appointment, Permissions, Seniority Etc.) Rules, 1971 also does not confer any legal protection to a probationer so as to make him akin to avail the benefits of a regular officer/employee.

45. Viewing the case from all the angles, we are of the firm opinion that the Tribunal has committed a serious error in allowing the original application preferred by the original applicant while making him admissible to the benefits akin to a regular employee despite the fact that the original applicant was only a probationer and no inquiry whatsoever was initiated against him with respect to any misconduct.

46. Accordingly, the writ petition is allowed. The judgment and order dated 24.04.2018 of the Tribunal in Original Application No.330/01233 of 2010 is hereby set aside.

47. Original application No.330/01233 of 2010 stands dismissed.

Raj Kumar

Versus

...Petitioner

The State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:

Sri Anil Kumar Srivastava

Counsel for the Respondents:

C.S.C., Sri Mukesh Kumar Kushwaha, Sri Pranjali Mehrotra

A. Service Law – Promotion - One must have requisite academic qualification of the concerned trade to make him eligible for post on which promotion has to be made and if a candidate possesses requisite qualification as in the present case petitioner possesses the requisite academic qualification being diploma in engineering for promotion on the post of Junior Engineer (Mechanical), such a candidate definitely deserves to be promoted. The experience is only counted qua service rendered by an employee in a feeding cadre. If a clerk, who falls in group 'C' category can be promoted considering his clerical experience as sufficient, then any other employee including a storekeeper, who falls in Group 'C' cadre would be entitled to promotion unless of course, working experience in a particular trade is required, but this is not the case of respondent that experience of a particular trade was required under the rules. (Para 12)

A candidate if is already having requisite qualification to his credit prior to entering into the service and, he is equally entitled to be considered for promotion on the post of Junior Engineer within 5% quota provided under the relevant rules. (Para 11)

B. Based on the principle of Article 14 of the Constitution and on sound principle of service jurisprudence governing the healthy employer and employee relationship, it is a must that employees falling in same or similar cadre are given further same opportunity to advance their career in service.

If a clerk can be promoted as Junior Engineer for having diploma in concerned trade, the denial of this opportunity to Storekeeper, just for he being not clerk is highly discriminatory.

C. Rules of promotion are to be construed liberally as promotional avenues are meant to avoid stagnation of employees and regular promotion not only boosts up the moral of work force at lower level but otherwise also improves the total environment qua work culture in any establishment. In industries it seen as a tool to ensure that no industrial unrest takes place amongst the workers.

In present case, petitioner was appointed against the substantive vacancy and was also having diploma in concerned trade and also requisite period of service in group 'C' cadre and so definitely he deserved to be considered for promotion on the post of Junior Engineer (Mechanical). Thus, the order passed by the authority rejecting the claim of the petitioner dated 27th April, 2017 cannot be sustained in law. (Para 14, 15)

Writ petition allowed. (E-5)

Precedent followed:

Madhavendra Singh Vs St. of U.P. & ors., 2016 (2) ADJ 259 (DB) (Para 4)

Present petition assails the order dated 27.04.2017, passed by the Managing Director, U.P. State Bridge Corporation Limited, Lucknow.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Ajit Kumar, J.)

1. Supplementary counter affidavit filed today is taken on record.

2. Heard Sri Anil Kumar Srivastava, learned counsel for the petitioner, Sri Pranjal Mehrotra, learned counsel for the respondent Nos. 2 to 4 and learned Standing Counsel for the State respondent.

3. Petitioner, who is working as Storekeeper Grade-1 with the respondent establishment, is aggrieved by the order dated 27th April, 2017 passed by the respondent No.- 2, whereby his claim for promotion on the post of Junior Engineer (Mechanical) has been rejected on the ground that in respect of the post falling in the category of Junior Engineer 5% posts meant for the purpose of promotion from amongst employees falling in the category of Draftsmen/ Dresser/ Clerks/ Laboratory Assistant, who required diploma certificate in Engineering and who have completed five years of his regular service, whereas petitioner had already diploma certificate to his credit prior to entering into the service and secondly he would not come in the category of employees mentioned under the rules.

4. The submission advanced by learned counsel for the petitioner is two fold: Firstly, the controversy that a candidate should have acquired the requisite qualification whether during service period or had the requisite qualification prior to entering into the service is no more res integra in the light of the Division Bench judgment of this Court in the case of Madhavendra Singh v. State of U.P. and others, 2016 (2) ADJ 259 (DB); and secondly, the argument advanced by learned counsel for the petitioner is that post of Storekeeper falls within the category of Group - C employee and since the posts of Draftsmen/ Dresser/ Clerks/ Laboratory Assistant also fall in group 'C' category the post of Storekeeper shall also be taken to be in group 'C' category.

5. Earlier when the Court had heard this matter on 21st August, 2024 upon these very above arguments already advanced by learned counsel for the petitioner the Court had issued following direction:

“1. The submission advanced by learned counsel for the petitioner is that the controversy regarding petitioner having diploma certificate prior to any Government service is no more res integra in view of the judgment of Division Bench of this Court in the case of Manvendra Singh vs. State of U.P. and others (Misc. Bench No.5874 of 2020). However, the respondents have refused to accord promotion to the petitioner on the post of Junior Engineer only on the ground that the petitioner was not a Group C employee belonging to the clerical cadre. He submits that post of Storekeeper is Group C post and therefore falls in clerical cadre.

2. Another argument advanced by learned counsel for the petitioner is that the basic requirement for promotion is that a candidate should fall in Group C category and should have a diploma certificate in Engineering and so the basic post is however of no relevance. According to him person falling in Group C category should be given promotion if he has diploma certificate.

3. Meeting the argument above, Sri Mehrotra, learned counsel for the respondent has taken the Court to the relevant paragraph nos.9 and 10 of the supplementary counter affidavit in support of his argument that the petitioner was having a lesser pay scale as presentee Storekeeper whereas for the purpose of direct recruitment on the same post the pay scale is Rs.5200-20,000/-. Sri Mehrotra has sought to urge that the petitioner was not falling in the category of the post in the requisite pay scale to have received promotion.

4. In order to appreciate the argument of Sri Mehrotra, learned counsel for the respondent, it is necessary to go through the pay scale of Draftsmen/Dresser/Clerks/Laboratory Assistant in the establishment.

5. Upon a pointed query Sri Mehrotra, learned counsel for the respondent seeks time to have instruction in the matter.

6. Let the affidavit be filed on behalf of the Corporation giving in the details of payscale of Draftsmen/Dresser/Clerks/Laboratory Assistant of the establishment in question. The affidavit shall also disclose as to whether the post of Storekeeper and Assistant Store Keeper fall in Group C category or not, on the next date fixed.

7. List this case immediately after fresh on 04.09.2024.”

6. A supplementary counter affidavit has been filed today in which vide paragraph 5 it has been clearly stated that the pay-scale of Draftsmen is Rs.4000-100-6300, the pay-scale of Clerk is Rs.3285-85-5700, the pay-scale of Storekeeper is Rs.3050-75-3950-8-4590 and the pay-scale of Laboratory Assistant is Rs.- 3050-75-4590. Paragraph 5 of the supplementary counter affidavit is reproduced hereunder:

“5. That the Government Order No. 1409/23-1-2007-12 Setu/07 dated 27.08.2007 provides the full list of posts falling under the regular establishment of the Uttar Pradesh State Bridge Corporation Limited. As per the said list, at serial no. 17 the post Draftsmen (Cartographer) is on the pay scale of Rs. 4000-100- 6300; at serial no. 39 the post of Clerk (Office Assistant Grade - 2) is on the pay scale of Rs. 3285-85-5700; at serial no. 41 the post of Storekeeper is on the pay scale of Rs. 3050-75-3950-80- 4590; and at serial no. 43 the post of Laboratory Assistant is on the pay scale of Rs. 3050-75-4590.

Copy of the Government Order No. 1409/23-1-2007-12 Setu/ 07 dated 27.08.2007, is being filed herewith and marked as Annexure No.2 to this affidavit."

7. Further vide paragraph 7 of the supplementary counter affidavit post of Storekeeper is taken to be falling in the category of group 'C' employees. Paragraph 7 of the supplementary counter affidavit is reproduced hereunder:

"7. That it is further submitted that the post of Storekeeper falls within Group – C, with the basic pay of Rs. 3050-4590, which is fixed from time to time as per the recommendations of the Pay Commission."

8. In view of this above admitted position, it can be safely concluded that post of Storekeeper falls in group 'C' category and so the posts of Storekeeper like that of Lab Assistant, Draftsmen, can be considered for promotion as Junior Engineer within 5% of quota as provided for under the relevant service rules.

9. One of the arguments advanced by learned counsel for the respondents is that petitioner was appointed on temporary basis in the year 2002 on the post of Storekeeper grade - II. Admittedly petitioner has been promoted in the year 2018 on the post of Storekeeper Grade - I. A person in any establishment is promoted only when he acquires a permanent status on the lower post. The order of appointment which has been relied upon in support of his argument, is of the year 2002 and subsequently petitioner's service are claimed to have been confirmed on 19th February, 2007, which shows that appointment has been made against a substantive vacancy. The appointment order was on the temporary basis being on probation and not a stop gap arrangement or ad hoc appointment. It is admitted to the learned counsel for the respondent that petitioner was promoted in the year 2018 on a substantive vacancy.

10. In such above view of the matter only point is to be considered as to whether petitioner would be entitled to be promoted in the event he had qualification prior to his entering into service. As I have already observed in the earlier part of this judgement that controversy is no more res integra in view of the Division Bench of this Court in the case of Madhavendra Singh (supra) I see no justification for denial of promotion to the petitioner. It is relevant to quote paragraphs 5, 6, 7 & 8 of the said judgment:

"5. In pursuance of an order passed by this Court on 18 November 2015, a counter affidavit has been filed by the Principal Secretary in the PWD in which, it has been stated as follows:

"That the petitioner has not obtained diploma in civil engineering with the prior permission of the department hence in accordance with Rule 5(2) of the Rules, 2014 is not eligible for promotion. Rule 5 (2) of the U.P. Public Works Department Junior Engineer (Civil) (Group-C) Service Rules, 2014 specifically provides that in order to be eligible for promotion under 5% quota, a candidate must have completed 10 years of service on group C post and have completed diploma in civil engineering after the prior approval/permission of the department. Petitioner had obtained diploma in civil engineering prior to his appointment in group C post and without approval/permission of the department, hence is not in accordance with Rules, 2014 and is not entitled for promotion as per the policy of the government."

Now Rule 5 of the Rules insofar as is material provides as follows:

“भाग – तीन भर्ती

भर्ती का 5 सेवा में अवर अभियन्ता (सिविल) के पदों पर भर्ती निम्नलिखित स्रोत स्रोतों से की जायेगी:-

(एक) पञ्चानने प्रतिशत आयोग के माध्यम से सीधी भर्ती द्वारा।

(दो) पांच प्रतिशत विभाग में मौलिक रूप से नियुक्त समूह "ग" के कर्मचारियों में से, जिन्होंने विभाग से अनुज्ञा प्राप्त करने के पश्चात नियम 8 में विहित अर्हताएं अर्जित की हों और भर्ती के वर्ष के प्रथम दिवस को दस वर्ष की मौलिक सेवा पूर्ण कर ली हो, पदोन्नति द्वारा आयोग के माध्यम से।"

6. Rule 5 provides for 95% of the posts being filled up by direct recruitment. The remaining 5% of the posts are to be filled up by promotion from in service candidates who were substantively appointed as Group-C employees. The condition is that such candidates must fulfil the required educational qualifications as prescribed in Rule 8 after obtaining the permission of the department and should have completed 10 years of substantive service on the first day of the year of recruitment.

7. In our view, the requirement that a candidate should have fulfilled the required educational qualifications as prescribed by Rule 8 after obtaining the permission of the department covers those in service candidates who have acquired the qualifications during their employment with the State Government. This is intended to ensure that a candidate who is duly employed with the State obtains the educational qualifications only after seeking and obtaining the permission of the prescribed authority. Obviously, the object and purpose is not to exclude from consideration in service candidates who have already obtained educational qualifications prescribed prior to their date of entry in service. In other words, Rule 5 (2) is not intended to act as an exclusion of in service candidates who otherwise fulfil the requirement of holding the prescribed qualifications, where the qualifications had already been acquired prior to entry in service. If the Rule is construed in the manner it has been interpreted by the State Government, it would become manifestly arbitrary since it would operate to exclude in service candidates who fulfil all the required norms including the prescribed qualifications, only on the ground that the qualifications had been obtained prior to the date of entry in service. This is evidently not the object and purpose which is sought to be achieved by the Rule.

8. Hence, as we have interpreted the Rule, it would not exclude the petitioner from being considered for promotion merely on the ground that he had not obtained the educational qualifications prescribed with the permission of the department. There was no occasion for the petitioner to obtain the permission of the department for the simple reason that he had acquired a three year diploma in 1988, much prior to his appointment in the clerical cadre of the PWD in 1999. We, consequently, hold that the petitioner shall not be excluded from the eligibility list for the reasons which had weighed with the authorities. We clarify that it would be open to the authorities to duly verify that the petitioner does fulfil the prescribed qualifications. Subject to this verification and the petitioner meeting the required norms as prescribed in Rule 5 (2), the name of the petitioner shall be included in the eligibility/select list in accordance with law. This exercise shall be completed within a period of one month from the date of receipt of a certified copy of this order.

In the view which we have taken in interpreting Rule 5 (2), it has not been necessary for the Court to strike down the provisions contained in the Rule."

11. Thus upon a bare reading of the aforesaid paragraphs it is clear that a candidate if is already having requisite qualification to his credit prior to entering into the service and, he is equally entitled to be considered for promotion on the post of Junior Engineer within 5% quota provided under the relevant rules.

12. Even otherwise the legal principle to be evolved in the case would be, one must have requisite academic qualification of the concerned trade to make him eligible for post on which promotion has to be made and if a candidate possesses requisite qualification as in the present case petitioner possesses the requisite academic qualification being diploma in engineering for promotion on the post of Junior Engineer (Mechanical), such a candidate definitely deserves to be promoted. The experience is only counted qua service rendered by an employee in a feeding cadre. If a clerk, who falls in group 'C' category can be promoted considering his clerical experience as sufficient, then any other employee including a storekeeper, who falls in Group 'C' cadre would be entitled to promotion unless of course, working experience in a particular trade is required, but this is not the case of respondent that experience of a particular trade was required under the rules.

13. Still further I do not find substance in the argument of Sri Mehrotra that post of Storekeeper being not mentioned under the rules, Storekeeper cannot claim promotion. This has nothing to do with the object sought to be achieved and has no rationale. If a clerk can be promoted as Junior Engineer for having diploma in concerned trade, the denial of this opportunity to Storekeeper, just for he being not clerk is highly discriminatory. Rules of promotion are to be construed liberally as promotional avenues are meant to avoid stagnation of employees and regular promotion not only boosts up the moral of work force at lower level but otherwise also improves the total environment qua work culture in any establishment. In industries it seen as a tool to ensure that no industrial unrest takes place amongst the workers. So based on the principle of Article 14 of the Constitution and on sound principle of service jurisprudence governing the healthy employer and employee relationship, it is a must that employees falling in same or similar cadre are given further same opportunity to advance their career in service.

14. Applying the above principles to the case in hand I find that petitioner was appointed against the substantive vacancy and was also having diploma in concerned trade and also requisite period of service in group 'C' cadre and so definitely he deserved to be considered for promotion on the post of Junior Engineer (Mechanical).

15. In view of the above, the order passed by the authority rejecting the claim of the petitioner dated 27th April, 2017 (Annexure -1 to the writ petition) cannot be sustained in law.

16. Thus writ petition succeeds and is accordingly, allowed. The order passed by the authority dated 27th April, 2017 is hereby quashed.

17. Respondents are directed to pass appropriate order regarding promotion of the petitioner within 5% quota for promotion on the post of Junior Engineer (Mechanical) and give notional benefits including seniority in the event any of his juniors was promoted, with effect from the date of promotion of such junior person.

18. Appropriate order shall be passed within a period of one month from the date of production of certified copy of this order.

A. Service Law – Enhancing punishment - CCS CCA Rules, 1965 - Rule 23, 29 - The bone of contention is whether it was permissible for the revisable authority to have invoked the provisions contained under Rule 29 (1)(vi) of the Rules, 1965 or not for enhancing the punishment. (Para 29)

The judgment in the case of Vikrambhai Maganbhai Chaudhary (infra) holds that notification dated 29.5.2001 is unsustainable in the eyes of law as there is no period stipulated for exercising the revisable powers u/Rule 29(1)(vi) of the Rules, 1965. (Para 34)

In the present case, it is evident that the notice dated 30.06.2022 issued by the Revisable Authority, Chief Postmaster General, U.P. Circle Lucknow is in exercise of the powers u/Rule 29(1)(vi) of the Rules, 1965 after a period of approximately five years from the date of the order of the Disciplinary Authority dated 31.10.2017 and approximately after four years from the date of the order of the Appellate Authority dated 12.4.2018 on a revision preferred by the original applicant on 23.5.2018. (Para 35)

A Division Bench of this Court in the case of M.M. Srivastava (infra) had the occasion to consider the provision of Clause (v) Sub-Rule (1) of Rule 29 of the Rules, 1965 and went on to hold that the orders are to be passed within the statutory period that too within the reasonable time. In so far as the judgment in the case of K. Raghvan (infra) is concerned, the same also speaks about exercising of the proceedings within the reasonable period. (Para 37)

Notably the Disciplinary Authority imposed punishment on 31.10.2017 currency whereof was for a period of five years from 1.11.2017 to 31.10.2022 however, prior to one month of lapsing of the currency of the punishment on 30.9.2022, the order enhancing the punishment to compulsory retirement has been passed, while exercising the powers u/Rule 29(1)(vi) of the Rules, 1965 was thoroughly uncalled for and not justified in the eyes of law. (Para 39)

B. Violation of principles of natural justice
- As regards the issue of violation of principles of natural justice on account of the fact that the allegation of forged vouchers was not part and parcel of the charge memorandum. (Para 40)

The vouchers came to be submitted by the original applicant on 21.8.2014 which is before the the date of issuance of the charge sheet, as the same came to be issued on 15.9.2014. Thus, once the said vouchers were in possession of the Disciplinary Authority then it was required of that the said allegations were to be made the part and the parcel of the charge sheet if to be inquired into. Moreover, the original applicant was aware about the said allegation as the same stood noticed in the inquiry report as well as in the order of the Disciplinary Authority confirmed upto appellate authority. The said findings have not been questioned by the original applicant. (Para 43)

C. This Court in exercise of jurisdiction u/Article 226 of the Constitution of India may not interfere with the quantum of the punishment sought to be imposed upon the delinquent as what is to be seen is the decision making process and not the ultimate decision until and unless the same is disproportionate to the gravity of the charge and shocks the conscience - There is no quarrel to the said proposition since the facts and circumstances of the present case, are on different footing and in the opinion of the Court the Revisional Authority could not have exercised powers u/Rule 29(1)(vi) of the Rules, 1965. 3. U.O.I. & ors.Vs K. Raghavan, 2012 SCC Kerala 31795 (Para 20)

Present petition assails the order dated 01.08.2023 of the Central Administrative Tribunal Lucknow Bench, Lucknow, upholding the order dated 25.3.2018 of the Appellate Authority confirming the punishment imposed by the Disciplinary Authority on 31.10.2017 reverting the original applicant (respondent here) for the post of Senior Postmaster to Dak Assistant for a period of five years while fixing the pay at the minimum of the scale of Dak Assistant for a period of five years with cumulative effect on future increments for the reversion period, recovery of an amount of Rs. 3,88,060/- and the said period shall not be treated as dies non but only be for computation of retiral benefits.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Vikas Budhwar, J.)

1. Impugned in the present proceedings at the instance of Union of India through Director General Post, Department of Posts, New Delhi (In short 'Postal Department') is an order dated 1.8.2023 of the Central Administrative Tribunal Lucknow Bench, Lucknow (In short Tribunal) passed in O.A. No.541 of 2022, (Namo Narain Prasad vs. Union of India & others) whereby the original application preferred by Namo Narain Prasad (In short 'original applicant') came to be disposed of while setting aside the order dated 30.9.2022 of the Revisional Authority and upholding the order dated 25.3.2018 of the Appellate Authority confirming the punishment imposed by the Disciplinary Authority on 31.10.2017 reverting the original applicant for the post of Senior Postmaster to Dak Assistant for a period of five years while fixing the pay at the minimum of the scale of Dak Assistant for a period of five years with cumulative effect on future increments for the reversion period, recovery of an amount of Rs.3,88,060/- and the said period shall not be treated as dies non but only be for computation of retiral benefits.

2. A joint statement has been made by the learned counsel for the rival parties that they do not propose to file any further affidavits and the writ petition be decided at the admission stage on the basis of the documents available on record. With the consent of the parties, the writ petition is being decided at the admission stage.

Facts

3. The case of the original applicant before the Tribunal was that while he was discharging the duties on the post of Sub

Post Master, Sikanderpur, Bus Stand from 7.8.2012 to 26.6.2012 alleging irregularities, was placed under suspension vide order dated 26.6.2014. A major penalty charge memorandum was issued on 15.9.2014 containing as many as two articles of charges. An Inquiry Officer came to be appointed to conduct inquiry against the original applicant. The Inquiry Officer tendered its inquiry report dated 31.8.2017 holding the two article of charges stood proved against the original applicant. A show cause notice is also stated to have been issued to which the original applicant submitted his reply and thereafter on 31.10.2017, the Superintendent Post Office, Ballia Division, Ballia proceeded to pass an order imposing as many as four punishments: (a) reversion from the post of Sub Post Master to Dak Assistant from the pay scale of Rs.37,500/- to Rs.25,500/- w.e.f. 1.11.2017 for a period of five years (b) fixation of the pay at the minimum of scale of Dak Assistant for a period of five years with cumulative effect on future increment (c) no increment was made admissible for the period of reversion (d) an amount of Rs.3,88,060/- to be deposited by the original applicant to be adjusted.

4. Being aggrieved against the punishment order dated 31.10.2017 of the Disciplinary Authority, the original applicant preferred an appeal on 12.12.2017 under Rule 23 of the CCS CCA Rules, 1965 (In short Rules, 1965) before the Director Postal Services, Office of P.M.G., Varanasi, writ petitioner no.4. The said appeal came to be rejected on 13.4.2018 confirming the punishment imposed by the Disciplinary Authority.

5. Against the appellate order dated 13.4.2018 confirming the punishment order dated 31.10.2017 of the Disciplinary Authority, the original applicant claims to have preferred revision before the writ petitioner no.3, Chief Postmaster General, U.P. Circle, Lucknow on 23.5.2018.

6. According to the original applicant, the revision preferred by him remained pending and during the interregnum period the punishment order dated 31.10.2017 came to be implemented. As per the original applicant the Revisional Authority, Chief Postmaster General U.P. Circle Lucknow proceeded to issue a notice dated 30.6.2022 while exercising powers under Rule 29(1)(vi) of the Rules, 1965 intending to revise/ enhance the punishment inflicted vide order dated 31.10.2017 of the Disciplinary Authority.

7. The original applicant on the receipt of the same tendered its objection/reply on 20.7.2022 and thereafter on 30.9.2022 the Chief Postmaster General, U.P. Circle Lucknow exercising its revisional jurisdiction proceeded to pass an order for compulsory retirement.

8. Assailing the order dated 30.9.2022 of the Revisional Authority, order dated 13.4.2018 of the Appellate Authority and order dated 31.10.2017 of the Disciplinary Authority, the original applicant preferred O.A. No.332/00541 of 2022 seeking following reliefs:

“(i) Issue order or direction to respondents to quash the Revision order dated 30.9.2022, appellant order dated 13.4.2018, and punishment order dated 31.10.2017 contained in Annexure No.1,2 and 3 respectively to the Original Application in the interest of justice.

(ii) Issue order or direction to declare that Rule 29(1)(vi) of the CCS(CCA)1965 cannot be invoked to issue show cause notice and thereafter enhance punishment order after six months of the date of punishment order sought to be enhanced.

(iii) Issue order or direction to respondents to reinstate the applicant on the post of Sub Post Master (SPM) and to take work by withdrawing Respondent letter dated 6.10.2022 and pay salary month to month, treating the punishment order contained in Annexure No 1,2 and 3 to the Original Application as nonest in the eyes of law and consequently grant all consequential benefits of arrears of salary, seniority and other service benefits with 12% interest.

Issue order or direction to respondents to consider and pass order regularising the suspension period from 25.6.2014 to 19.10.2014 and to pay salary for the aforesaid period.

Grant any other relief which this Hon'ble Tribunal deems fit in facts and circumstances of the case. Cost of this Original Application may please be awarded."

9. On being noticed, a reply was filed by the writ petitioners herein to which a rejoinder affidavit was also filed.

10. The original application came up for consideration before the Tribunal on 1.8.2023 wherein the original application preferred by the original applicant came to be disposed of

"In view of above, OA is disposed of in the following terms: (a) Impugned order dated 30.09.2022 passed by the Revising Authority whereby applicant has been compulsorily retired is quashed.

(b) The punishment order dated 31.10.2017 passed by Disciplinary Authority is confirmed and Respondents/competent authority are directed to execute the same.

(c) Consequently, the applicant is entitled to reinstatement in service. The respondents are directed to issue appropriate office order in this regard immediately but not later than 06 (six) weeks from the date of receipt of a certified copy of this order.

(d) We, however, direct that the applicant will not be entitled to back wages on the principle of "no work no pay" although a period of his absence from the date of passing the order by Revising Authority shall not be treated as dies non, and the same will be counted for retiral benefits.

(e) There shall be no order as to costs."

11. Questioning the said order, Postal department/writ petitioners have filed the present writ petition.

12. This Court on 16.11.2023 entertained the writ petition while issuing notice to the original applicant and passed an interim order providing that the reinstatement of the original applicant shall subject to the final outcome of the writ petition.

Arguments of the counsel for the Writ Petitioners/Postal Department

13. Sri Krishna Agarwal, learned counsel for the Postal department/writ petitioners has sought to argue that the judgement and the order of the Tribunal impugned in the present writ petition cannot be sustained for the single moment inasmuch as the Tribunal has misconstrued the entire controversy and adopted an incorrect approach. Elaborating the said submission, it has been submitted that the original applicant while posted as Sub Post Master, Sikanderpur, Bus Stand for the period from 7.8.2012 to 26.6.2014 has committed serious irregularities resulting to the fact that on 26.6.2014, he was placed under suspension and thereafter on 15.9.2014 a major penalty charge memorandum containing two articles of charges was served upon him. In the light of the provisions of the Rules, 1965, the inquiry proceedings stood initiated while appointing an Inquiry Officer, who conducted the inquiry in accordance with law after giving full opportunity to the delinquent employee/original applicant, and the charges stood proved against him. A show cause notice was also issued to the original applicant accompanied with the inquiry report to which the original applicant submitted his reply and after considering the same on 31.10.2017 the punishment order was passed against which an appeal was preferred which came to be rejected on 13.4.2018 confirming the order of the Disciplinary Authority. Against the order of the Disciplinary Authority and the Appellate Authority, the original applicant preferred revision under Rule 29 of the Rules, 1965 before the Revisional Authority, the writ petitioner no.3, who in terms of the provisions contained under Rule 29 (1)(vi) of the Rules, 1965 proceeded to issue notice dated 30.6.2022 intending to revise/enhance the punishment imposed by the Disciplinary Authority as confirmed by the Appellate Authority. The original applicant submitted his reply on 20.7.2022 and after considering the same, the order dated 30.9.2022 has been passed enhancing the punishment to compulsory retirement.

14. Submission is that once the charges which were obviously grave and serious in nature stood proved against the original applicant in the inquiry proceedings and the same stood accepted by the Disciplinary Authority and remained intact throughout till the appellate stage then while exercising of the powers conferred under Rule 29 (1)(vi) of the Rules, 1965, it is always open for the Revisional Authority to enhance the punishment in that regard.

15. It is the submission of the writ petitioners that there has been no procedural infirmity in the entire decision making process as at all stages and levels, the original applicant was given full opportunity of hearing.

16. While assailing the findings returned in the order impugned of the Tribunal, it is contended that a totally perverse and incorrect finding has been recorded to the extent that the charge of submission of forged vouchers was not the part and the parcel of the charge memorandum inasmuch as during the course of the inquiry proceedings, when the original applicant submitted its reply to the charge memorandum then certain vouchers were submitted which on enquiry were found to be forged thus, there was no question of the said allegation to be the part of the articles of the charge/charge memorandum.

17. To put it otherwise the contention is that the allegation of submission of forged vouchers is in furtherance of the articles of charges which have been mentioned in the charge sheet and the same are interwoven and intermingled with it and is an offshoot itself. It is also argued that inquiry officer is under legal obligation to deal with all the contentions raised by the respective parties during the inquiry proceedings in order to determine as to whether the delinquent is guilty or not and the in the present case based upon the submission of the vouchers by the delinquent when inquiry was held then it revealed that the same was forged thus, by no stretch of imagination it can be said that inquiry was conducted with respect to a charge which was not mentioned in the charge sheet.

18. Additionally, it has been argued that once the finding of submission of forged vouchers remains intact and unquestionable then the natural consequences will follow as the Courts of law would not interfere with the ultimate decision but would invoke writ jurisdiction in case there is any procedural infirmity in decision making process.

19. Lastly, it has been argued that once the Rule 29(1)(vi) of the Rules, 1965 provides for enhancement of punishment and the same has been enhanced after according satisfaction then merely because sufficient time had lapsed from the date of the imposition of the punishment by Disciplinary Authority term whereof was five years would not be a relevant factor as even before the lapsing of the period of punishment imposed by the Disciplinary Authority on 31.10.2022, prior to it on 30.6.2022 a notice came to be issued for enhancement of the punishment and ultimate order came to be passed on 30.9.2022. It is is thus, prayed that the order of the Tribunal be set aside and the writ petition be allowed in toto.

Arguments of the counsel for the original applicant

20. Countering the submission of the learned counsel for the writ petitioners, Sri Tanuj Shahi, who appears for the original applicant has submitted that the order of the Tribunal needs no interference in the present proceedings. It is submitted that the exercise of power under Rule 29(1)(vi) of the Rules, 1965 was thoroughly impermissible particularly in view of the fact that the order of the Disciplinary Authority dated 31.10.2017 was implemented and the currency of the punishment was from 1.11.2017 to 30.10.2022 however, on 30.6.2022 a notice has been issued under Rule 29(1)(vi) of the Rules, 1965 and thereafter on 30.9.2022 now an order enhancing the punishment to compulsory retirement has been passed. According to him the exercise of the powers under Rule 29(1)(vi) of the Rules, 1965 is to be within the reasonable period and not after a period of approximately five years from the date of the passing of the order of the Disciplinary Authority, 31.10.2017 that too on a revision preferred by the original applicant against the order of the Disciplinary Authority and Appellate Authority with a prayer for setting aside the same. He seeks to rely upon the judgement in the case of Union of India v. Vikrambhai Maganbhai Chaudhari (2011) 7 SCC 321, M.M. Srivastava v. Union of India 1985 LAB. I.C. 1757 and Union of India & others v. K. Raghavan, 2012 SCC Kerala 31795.

21. It is also the submission of the learned counsel for the original applicant that might be the issue relatable to forged vouchers came to be noticed in the inquiry report but the same would not suffice and would not be in conformity with the Rules inasmuch under the statutory Rules a specific charge is to be reproduced in the memorandum of charges supported by documentary evidence and witnesses in order to bring home the charges and in case according to the writ petitioners/Postal department the same was to be inquired into then a supplementary charge sheet containing the said charge ought to have been issued. He further submits that the entire procedure adopted by the postal department/writ petitioners is foreign to the service jurisprudence and thus the writ petition is liable to be dismissed.

22. Before embarking the inquiry upon the tenability of the argument of the rival parties, it would be apposite to reproduce the statutory rules, government orders/circulars and the documents which have material therein in the controversy in question.

यह कि उक्त श्री नमोनारायण प्रसाद उपडाकपाल सिकन्दरपुर बस स्टैण्ड ने दिनांक 07.08.2012 से 26.06.2014 तक उक्त पद पर कार्य करते हुए डाकघर से संबंधित तथा कथित विभिन्न मदों में किए गए खर्च का विवरण एवं बाऊचर से संबंधित कोई भी रजिस्टर या अभिलेख संधारित नहीं किये। इससे रूपया 388060/- (रु० तीन लाख अठासी हजार साठ) का विवरण स्पष्ट नहीं हो सका।

अतः एतद् द्वारा आरोपित है कि उक्त श्री नमोनारायण प्रसाद के उक्त कृत्य से P & T FHB Volume-I के नियम

354 एवं 357 का उल्लंघन किया तथा वांछित कर्तव्य निष्ठा एवं सत्यनिष्ठा बनाये रखने में असफल रहकर केन्द्रीय सिविल सेवा(आचरण) नियमावली 1964 के नियम 3(I)(i) एवं (ii) का भी उल्लंघन किया।

25. Order of the disciplinary authority dated 31.10.2017-

अधोहस्ताक्षरी द्वारा समस्त दस्तावेजों बयानों प्रदर्शों का गहराई से अध्ययन किया और पाया कि आरोपित कर्मचारी द्वारा शिकायत से पूर्व दिनांक 22.07.2013 तक के डीजल/पेट्रोल वाउचर मंडलीय कार्यालय प्रस्तुत किए। पेट्रोल से संबंधित नित्य प्रति किए जाने वाले खर्चों को नियम अनुसार हिसाब में नहीं लिया और ना ही उसे स्वीकृत करने के लिए नियम अनुसार सक्षम अधिकारी को प्रेषित किया। खर्चों से एवं जनरेटर प्रयोग से संबंधित रजिस्टर भी नित्य प्रति उप डाकघर में आरोपित कर्मचारी द्वारा संधारित नहीं किया गया जिसे आरोपित कर्मचारी द्वारा मनमानी तरीके से निलंबन अवधि में जांच कार्यवाही प्रस्तावित होने के उपरान्त तैयार किया जो कि पूरी तरीके से काल्पनिक व आधारहीन है। आरोपित कर्मचारी द्वारा स्वयं स्वीकार किया गया है कि वह कार्य के अधिकता के कारण खर्च से संबंधित अभिलेख नित्य प्रति नहीं बनाता था तथा खर्चा के बाउचर्स भी समय से स्वीकृति हेतु सक्षम अधिकारी को नहीं भेज सका। खर्चों से संबंधित 15 बण्डल वाउचर द्वारा कुल खर्च रु० 396952(तीन लाख छियान्नवे हजार नौ सो बावन मात्र) के आरोपित कर्मचारी द्वारा अपने पत्र दिनांक 22.08.2014 के द्वारा निलंबन अवधि में मण्डलीय कार्यालय बलिया को भेजना दर्शाया गया है जो यह सिद्ध करता है कि खर्चों से संबंधित बाउचर्स समय से स्वीकृत हेतु मंडलीय कार्यालय नहीं भेजे जाते थे और ना ही दस्तावेज विधिवत समय से बनाया जा रहा था. अतः आरोपित कर्मचारी पर लगाया गया आरोप कि वह खर्चों से संबंधित अभिलेख नियमानुसार नहीं बना रहे हैं सिद्ध होते हैं।

जांच कार्रवाई के दौरान साक्षी श्री उज्जवल अग्रवाल सहायक श्री जहीर अहमद अंसारी कार्यालय सहायक श्री अभय शंकर वर्मा उप डाकपाल सिकन्दरपुर बस स्टैण्ड के बयानों से इस आरोप की पुष्टि होती है कि वाउचर समय से स्वीकृत हेतु सक्षम अधिकारी को नहीं भेजे गए सबसे अहम व गंभीर विषय कि जो बाउचर्स खर्चों के रूप में दर्शाए गए वह सभी आरोपित कर्मचारी द्वारा तैयार किए गए हैं इस बात की पुष्टि जांच अधिकारी द्वारा जांच में की गई इस संबंध में प्रबंधक किसान सेवा केन्द्र शंकरपुर बलिया श्री संदीप कुमार उपाध्याय का बयान व जांच में उसकी पुष्टि यह स्पष्ट करती है कि आरोपित कर्मचारी द्वारा खर्चों से संबंधित सभी बाउचर्स फर्जी तरीके से तैयार किए गए। आरोपित कर्मचारी का यह कहना है कि श्री संदीप कुमार उपाध्याय किसान सेवा केन्द्र शंकरपुर बलिया के प्रबंधक नहीं है गलत है अगर वह कहते हैं कि श्री संदीप

कुमार उपाध्याय किसान सेवा केन्द्र के प्रबंधक नहीं है तो उन्हें जांच करवाई में असली प्रबंधक किसान सेवा केन्द्र शंकरपुर बलिया के बयान व जांच करवाई में पुष्टि से स्वतः सिद्ध होता है कि श्री नमो नारायण प्रसाद द्वारा प्रस्तुत समस्त पेट्रोल खर्च बाउचर्स फर्जी हैं। पेट्रोल खर्च बाउचर्स के फर्जी होने की पुष्टि श्री चन्द्रिका राम मेल ओवरसीयर व श्री बलबीर सिंह तत्कालीन निरीक्षक डाकघर केन्द्रीय बलिया द्वारा भी की गयी। इसके अतिरिक्त ए०सी०जी० 17 पर खर्च की पुष्टि/ गवाही स्वरूप भी जीउत राम जी०डी०एस० पैकर सिकन्दरपुर बलिया के जो हस्ताक्षर किए गए वह भी फर्जी पाए गए जिन्हें भी श्री नमो नारायण प्रसाद द्वारा पेट्रोल खरीदने के लिए प्रतिदिन लगभग 80 कि०मी० की दूरी तय की जबकि सिकन्दरपुर में डाकघर से कुछ ही दूरी पर पेट्रोल पंप है वहां से पेट्रोल नहीं खरीदा गया बल्कि 80 किलोमीटर दूर से खरीदा गया। जो सिद्ध करता है कि पेट्रोल रसीद फर्जी तैयार की गई है। श्री नमो नारायण प्रसाद अपने वाउचरों की पुष्टि के लिए श्री संजय प्रसाद बचाव गवाह प्रस्तुत किया वह पूरी तरह से प्रायोजित है क्योंकि आरोपित कर्मचारी उसकी वैधानिकता की पुष्टि नहीं कर सके। श्री नमो नारायण प्रसाद आरोपित कर्मचारी द्वारा अन्य खर्चा के रूप में डाकघर के बाहर रबिश डलवाने आदि पर किया गया खर्च भी जांच में फर्जी पाया गया क्योंकि डाकघर में कार्यरत सहकर्मी द्वारा जांच में बताया गया कि रबिश आदि आरोपित कर्मचारी द्वारा नहीं डलवाई गई।

अतः मैं डॉ० अरूण यादव अधीक्षक डाकघर बलिया श्री नमो नारायण प्रसाद आरोपित कर्मचारी के वर्तमान मूल वेतन रु० 37500/- डाक सहायक संवर्ग के न्यूनतम वेतन रु० 25500 पर दिनांक 01.11.2017 से कम करने का आदेश पारित करता हूं साथ ही यह दण्ड अगले पांच वर्ष (दिनांक 31.10.2022) तक संचाई प्रभाव के साथ लागू रहेगा। श्री नमो नारायण प्रसाद दंड अवधि के दौरान कोई भी इन्कीमेंट अर्जित नहीं करेंगे तथा भविष्य में मिलने वाले इन्कीमेंट को भी संचाई प्रभाव से प्रभावित करेगा। इसके अलावा नमोनारायण प्रसाद आरोपित कर्मचारी द्वारा यू०सी०आर० में जमा धनराशि रु० 388060/- को गबनित धनराशि के सापेक्ष समायोजित किया जाता है।

Notice dated 30.6.2022:-

DEPARTMENT OF POSTS, INDIA
OFFICE OF THE CHIEF POSTMASTER
GENERAL, U.P. CIRCLE, LUCKNOW-01

Memo No. Vig/P-38/2018/5 Dated at Lucknow the 30-06-2022

NOTICE

Whereas Shri Namo, Narayan Prasad, PA, Ballia was proceeded against under Rule-14 CCS (CCA) Rules 1965 by SPOs Ballia vide memo no. F/Genral/DP/Namo Narayan Prasad/14-15 dated 15.09.2014 and penalty of "Reduction of his pay from Rs. 37,500/- to Rs. 25,500/- w.e.f. 01.11.2017 for a period of five years. It is further ordered that during the period of reduction of the pay, the charged official will not earn increments of pay and this will have the effect of future increments of his pay with cumulative effect was awarded vide SPOs Ballia memo no. F/Genral/DP/Namo Narayan Prasad/14-15 dated 31.10.2017. Against the aforesaid punishment order, he preferred an appeal dated 12.12.2017 to DPS Varanasi, which was decided as "Rejected" by DPS Varanasi vide memo RPV/Vig/Appeal/5-2/2018 dated 13.04.2018. Now, instant petition dated 23.05.2018 has been preferred by the petitioner against the said punishment order. .

2- And whereas the undersigned in exercise of powers conferred vide Rule-29 (1) (vi) CCS (CCA) Rules 1965, intends to revise the said punishment order F/Genral/DP/Namo Narayan Prasad/14-15 dated 31.10.2017 due to following reasons:-

a) Allegations leveled against the petitioner were related to misappropriation government money which was established during the course of oral inquiry. Petitioner has misappropriated Rs. 3,88,050/- as cash was found short in his office was responsible.

b) Petitioner on the one hand has misappropriated Rs. 3,88,060/- and on hand created bogus vouchers for justifying the liability in the office, whereas testimony of SW-8, Shri Sandeep Kumar Upadhyay clearly established that vouchers forwarded by the petitioner were bogus and fake.

c) Petitioner has forwarded fake and bogus vouchers of a petrol pump situated 80 Km. away from Sikandarpur, which is not justified on any ground.

All the above irregularities are very serious and grave in nature and committed by the petitioner.

3- Now, therefore, the undersigned while deciding the petition of the petitioner, perused the relevant records of the case and found that the penalty of "Reduction of his pay from Rs. 37,500/- to Rs. 25,500/- w.e.f. 01.11.2017 for a period of five years. It is further ordered that during the period of reduction of the pay, the charged official will not earn increments of pay and this will have the effect of future increments of his pay with cumulative effect" imposed vide SPOs Ballia memo no. F/Genral/DP/Namo Narayan Prasad/14-15 dated 31.10.2017 is not commensurate with the gravity of offence committed by him. As the petitioner misappropriated Rs. 3,88,060/- and to justify his claim presented fake and bogus vouchers. These are very serious and grave irregularities and such an official is undesirable in government service.

4- Therefore, the undersigned proposes to enhance the penalty upheld by appellate authority vide memo no. RPV/Vig/Appeal/5-2/2018 dated 13.04.2018 and imposed by disciplinary authority vide memo no. F/Genral/DP/Namo Narayan Prasad/14-15 dated 31.10.2017 "Reduction of his pay from Rs. 37,500/- to Rs. 25,500/- w.e.f. 01.11.2017 for a period of five years. It is further ordered that during the period of reduction of the pay, the charged official will not earn increments of pay and this will have the effect of future increments of his pay with cumulative effect" to "Dismissal from Service." , if any,

5- Narayan Shri Namo Narayan Prasad, PA, Ballia is called upon to submit his representation against the proposed revised penalty within 10 (Ten) days of receipt of this memo, failing which it shall be presumed that he has nothing to say and revised penalty will be imposed.

26. We have given thoughtful consideration to the arguments advanced by the rival parties and perused the record.

27. The facts are not in issue. It is not in dispute that the original applicant while posted as Sub Postmaster, Sikandarpur, Bus Stand from 7.8.2012 to 26.6.2014 owing to certain irregularities was placed under suspension on 26.6.2014. On 15.9.2014 a major penalty charge sheet containing two articles of charges was served upon the original applicant with the allegation, (a) the applicant without there being any approval/order of the competent authority made expenditures of an amount of Rs.3,88,060/- and misappropriated the same; (b) despite being asked to submit the vouchers, registers and the documents showing the the expenditure of an amount of Rs.3,88,060/- the same was not furnished.

28. One Sri P.S.P. Srivastava was appointed as an Inquiry Officer, who conducted the inquiry proceedings and tendered inquiry report on 31.8.2017 before the Disciplinary Authority, a show cause notice was issued to the original applicant and thereafter on 31.10.2017, the punishment order came to be passed whereby (a) reversion from the post of Senior Postmaster to Dak Assistant for a period of five years in the pay scale of Rs.37,500/- (b) fixation of the pay at the minimum of the scale of Dak Assistant of five years with cumulative effect on future increment (c) non admissibility of the increments during the reversion period and (d) deposit of amount of Rs.3,88,060/- to be adjusted. Against the same an appeal came to be filed by the original applicant which came to be rejected on 13.4.2018 confirming the order of the Disciplinary Authority and thereafter the original applicant preferred a revision on 23.5.2018 which came to be rejected on 30.9.2022.

29. The bone of contention between the rival parties is whether it was permissible for the revisable authority to have invoked the provisions contained under Rule 29 (1)(vi) of the Rules, 1965 or not for enhancing the punishment.

30. To begin with, we are required to have a quick survey of the Rule 29 of the Rules, 1965 which deals with revision. Rule 29(1) of the Rules, 1965 postulates six categories of Revisional Authority. So far as the present controversy is concerned the same is relatable to the exercise of the powers by the Revisional Authority under Rule 29(1)(vi) of the Rules, 1965. Perusal of the said Rule would go to show that there is no period provided in Sub-Clauses (i) to (iv) & (vi), Sub-Clause (v) refers to a period of six months from the date of the order proposed to be revised by the appellate authority.

31. On 29.5.2021 the Ministry of Communication (Department of Post) in exercise of the powers conferred by Clause (vi) of Sub Rule (1) of Rule 29 of the Rules, 1965 issued a notification specifying the authorities who were to exercise revisional powers against the order of the Appellate Authority. In the case in hand, the matter relates to Postal department of Ministry of Communication. Interestingly, in the notification dated 29.5.2001 there is no time line provided for exercising the powers of the Revisional Authority under Clause (vi) of Sub Rule (1) of Rule 29 of the Rules, 1965. The said notification came up for consideration before the Hon. Supreme Court in the case of Vikrambhai Maganbhai Chaudhary (Supra) wherein the following was observed”-

10. As rightly observed by the Tribunal, the above sub-rule (1) of Rule 29 indicates 6 categories of revisional authorities. If we go further it shows that while no period is mentioned in sub-clauses (i) to (iv), sub-clause (v) refers to a period of six months from the date of the order proposed to be revised. Since the order was passed by exercising power under sub-clause (vi), we have to see whether in the notification specifying an authority a time-limit has been mentioned or even in the absence of the same, the outer limit can be availed by exercising power under sub-clause (v). According to the learned ASG, there is no need to specify the period in the notification authorising the authority concerned to call for the record for any enquiry and revise any order made under the Rules. We are unable to accept the said claim for the following reasons.

11. It is to be noted that in cases where the appellate authority seeks to review the order of the disciplinary authority, the period fixed for the purpose is six months from the date of the order proposed to be revised. This is clear from sub-clause (v) of sub-rule (1) of Rule 29. On the other hand, Clause (vi) confers similar powers on such other authorities which may be specified in that behalf by the President by a general or special order and the said authority has to commence the proceedings within the time prescribed therein. Even though Rule 29(1)(vi) provides that such order shall also specify the time within which the power should be exercised, the fact remains that no time-limit has been prescribed in the notification.

12. We have already pointed out that no period has been mentioned in the notification. The argument that even in the absence of a specific period in the notification in view of Clause (v), the other authority can also exercise such power, cannot be accepted. To put it clear, sub-clause (v) applies to the appellate authority and Clause (vi) to any other authority specified by the President by a general or special order for exercising power by the said authority under sub-clause (vi). There must be a specified period and the power can be exercised only within the period so prescribed.

13. Inasmuch as the Notification dated 29-5-2001 has not specified any time-limit within which the power under Rule 29(1)(vi) is exercisable by the authority specified, we are of the view that such notification is not in terms with Rule 29 and the Tribunal is fully justified in quashing the same. The High Court has also rightly confirmed the said conclusion by dismissing the special application of the appellants and quashing the notification on the ground that it did not specify the time-limit. Consequently, the appeal fails and the same is dismissed. No order as to costs.

32. The Swamy's Compilation of Central Civil Services, Classification Control and (Incorporating Orders received up to February 2015) of Muthuswamy and Brinda baring the notification dated 29.5.2001 on the said subject does not contain any other notification. The pleadings either before the Tribunal or before us also does not indicate that there is any other notification on the said subject.

33. Though against the order of the Disciplinary Authority dated 31.10.2017 and the Appellate Authority dated 13.4.2018 a revision came to be preferred by the original applicant on 23.5.2018 before the Revisable Authority but the same remained pending however, on 30.6.2022 a notice came to be issued while exercising powers under Rule 29(1)(vi) of the Rules, 1965 for revising/enhancing the punishment. The source of power invoking the proceedings for enhancement of the punishment by the revisable authority is under Rule 29(1)(vi) of the Rules, 1965.

34. The judgment in the case of Vikrambhai Maganbhai Chaudhary (Supra) holds that notification dated 29.5.2001 is unsustainable in the eyes of law as there is no period stipulated for exercising the revisable powers under Rule 29(1)(vi) of the Rules, 1965.

35. Applying the said judgement in the facts of the case, it is evident that the notice dated 30.6.2022 issued by the Revisable Authority, Chief Postmaster

General, U.P. Circle Lucknow is in exercise of the powers under Rule 29(1)(vi) of the Rules, 1965 after a period of approximately five years from the date of the order of the Disciplinary Authority dated 31.10.2017 and approximately after four years from the date of the order of the Appellate Authority dated 12.4.2018 on a revision preferred by the original applicant on 23.5.2018.

36. The revision preferred by the original applicant was for the limited purpose for setting aside the order passed against him by the Disciplinary Authority affirmed by the Appellate Authority, however, in the revisional proceedings, the Revisional Authority had intended to enhance the punishment. The Sub-Rule (1) of Rule 29 of the Rules, 1965 though provides that the Authorities enumerated in Clause (i) to (vi) may at any time either on his or in its own motion or otherwise call for the records of the inquiry and pass an order to confirm, modify or set aside the punishment order however, as mandated by the Hon. Supreme Court in the case of Vikrambhai Maganbhai Chaudhary (Supra) the said exercise is to be undertaken within a reasonable period. Moreover, the said aspect assumes significance particularly in view of the fact that party seeking revision would not obviously intend that the punishment be enhanced thus, by all eventualities the exercise of the power by the Revisional Authority is to be within the reasonable period.

37. Further a Division Bench of this Court in the case of M.M. Srivastava (Supra) had the occasion to consider the provision of Clause (v) Sub-Rule (1) of Rule 29 of the Rules, 1965 and went on to hold that the orders are to be passed within the statutory period that too within the reasonable time. In so far as the judgment in the case of K. Raghvan (Supra) is concerned, the same also speaks about exercising of the proceedings within the reasonable period.

38. Consequently, we are unable to subscribe to the view taken by the Tribunal in para-14 of the judgement of the Tribunal under challenge that there is no time line prescribed in Rule 29(1)(vi) of the Rules 1965 for invoking revisable jurisdiction as the said issue is now more res integra in view of the judgement of the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Vikrambhai Maganbhai Chaudhary (Supra).

39. Notably the Disciplinary Authority imposed punishment on 31.10.2017 currency whereof was for a period of five years from 1.11.2017 to 31.10.2022 however, we find that prior to one month of lapsing of the currency of the punishment on 30.9.2022, the order enhancing the punishment to compulsory retirement has been passed which in the background of the intervening facts as discussed above, while exercising the powers under Rule 29(1)(vi) of the Rules, 1965 was thoroughly uncalled for and not justified in the eyes of law.

40. As regards the issue of violation of principles of natural justice on account of the fact that the allegation of forged vouchers was not part and parcel of the charge memorandum is concerned, though we are not required to go in to the said issue in the wake of the fact that the proceedings under Rule 29(1)(vi) of the Rules, 1965 exercised by the Revisional Authority was unjustified but since argument has been raised by the parties so we proceed to examine the same.

41. As noticed, there were two charges levelled against the original applicant in the charge memorandum dated 15.9.2014, (a) misappropriation of the government money while showing it towards the expenditure to the tune of Rs.3,88,060/- without any approval orders of the competent authority under various heads; and (b) non submission of vouchers record and documents to substantiate the expenditures. The inquiry report as well as the order of the Disciplinary Authority recites that the delinquent/original applicant did not submit the documents at the appropriate/relevant time however, it was submitted subsequently after his suspension and during the inquiry proceedings and when it came to be enquired it was found that the vouchers were forged.

42. A counter reply has been filed by the writ petitioners before the Tribunal by the Superintendent Post Office, Ballia in which in paragraph no. 3, it was asserted as under:-

"3. That it may be stated here that the applicant Namu Narayan Prasad (compulsorily retired) had worked as Sub Postmaster (Postal Assistant cadre, not norm based LSG) of Sikanderpur Bas Stand Office from 7.8.2012 to 26.4.2014. He made expenditures of Rs. 3,88,060/- in various heads without the order/sanction of the competent authority (Supdt. of Post Offices, Ballia Division) during the above mentioned period and he was showing these amounts in the 'Part of Cash' head. It is submitted that Deputy Post Master, Ballia, HQ vide his letter dated 11.3.2014, a copy of which is being annexed herewith and marked as Annexure no. CR-1, informed SPOs, Ballia about this irregularity. The whole matter was got inquired into by the Inspector of Posts, Central Sub Division (SDI, Central) Ballia. The report, a copy of which is being annexed herewith and marked as Annexure no. CR-2 alongwith a statement of applicant, a copy of which is being annexed herewith and marked as Annexure no. CR-3 was submitted by the SDI, Central letter dated 25.6.2014. As per the report, it was clear that the Government money was being misappropriated by the applicant. After this, applicant was suspended vide SPOs Ballia Memo dated 25.6.2014, a copy of which is being annexed herewith and marked as Annexure no. CR-4. After a detailed inquiry into the matter, it was found that the applicant had misappropriated the Government money amounting to Rs. 288060/- in different heads. The 15 bundle vouchers sent by the applicant through Ballia HO Speed Post No. EQ2723156621N dated 21.8.2014 during the suspension period against this amount were found bogus and fake during the inquiry, a copy of which is being annexed herewith and marked as Annexure no. CR-5. After that, in this regard the applicant submitted an application to SDI Central on 13.9.2014 and deposited Rs. 3,00,000/- on 13.9.2014 under UCR (Unclassified receipts) no. D-2 in Ballia HO and Rs. 88060/- on 16.9.2014 under UCR (Unclassified receipts) no. B-1174 in Ballia HO, a copy of which are being annexed herewith and marked as Annexure nos. CR-6 & 7 respectively. An FIR no. 0574 of 2016 was lodged in this matter against the applicant in Sikanderpur P.S. on 27.10.2016, a copy of which is being annexed herewith and marked as Annexure no. CR-8.

43. Perusal of the counter affidavit filed by the writ petitioners before the Tribunal would reveal that 15 bundle vouchers came to be submitted by the original applicant through Ballia, H.O. Post Office No.EQ2723156621N on 21.8.2014 during the suspension period against the said amount which was found bogus and fake during the inquiry. The said assertion in the counter reply of the writ petitioners explicitly reveals that the vouchers came to be submitted by the original applicant on 21.8.2014 which is before the the date of issuance of the charge sheet, as the same came to be issued on 15.9.2014. Thus, once the said vouchers were in possession of the Disciplinary Authority then it was required of that the said allegations were to be made the part and the parcel of the charge sheet if to be inquired into. Moreover, the original applicant was aware about the said allegation as the same stood noticed in the inquiry report as well as in the order of the Disciplinary Authority confirmed upto appellate authority. The said findings have not been questioned by the original applicant.

44. As regards the submission of the learned counsel for the writ petitioners that this Court in exercise of jurisdiction under Article 226 of the Constitution of India may not interfere with the quantum of the punishment sought to be imposed upon the delinquent as what is to be seen is the decision making process and not the ultimate decision until and unless the same is disproportionate to the gravity of the charge and shocks the conscience, is concerned, there is no quarrel to the said proposition since the facts and circumstances of the present case, are on different footing and in the opinion of the Court the Revisional Authority could not have exercised powers under Rule 29(1)(vi) of the Rules, 1965.

45. Accordingly, we are of the firm opinion that the writ petitioners have miserably failed to show any illegality committed by the Tribunal in passing the order impugned so as to warrant interference in the present proceedings.

46. Resultantly, the writ petition is dismissed.

47. Interim order if any stands vacated.

THE HON'BLE DINESH PATHAK, J.

Writ B No. 1983 of 2023

Sanjay Kumar	...Petitioner
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors.	...Respondents

Counsel for the Petitioner:
 Sri Neeraj Srivastava

Counsel for the Respondents:
 Sri Alkesh Singh, C.S.C.

A. Limitation Law – Condonation of delay – U.P. Consolidation of Holdings Act, 1950 - Section 9A(2) & 48(1) - Whenever technicality is pitted against the substantial justice, it is substantial justice which prevails. Law of limitation is based upon public policy intending to discourage unnecessary litigation between the parties, therefore, while exercising discretionary power to condone the delay, the Court should act sparingly.

In normal course, delay cannot be condoned unless sufficient reason is assigned.

Delay cannot be condoned in a cavalier manner unless the sufficient cause is shown by the parties. Normally, despite the prescribed period of limitation is expired, the phrase "sufficient cause" receiving a liberal construction so as to advance substantial justice when no negligence, inaction or for want of bonafide is imputable to the adversary party. Meaning thereby, if sufficient cause for delay is shown by the parties concerned, discretion is entrusted upon the court/authority concerned to condone the delay so that substantial justice be done. (Para 6)

In present case, it is evident that Deputy Director of Consolidation while quashing the order passed by the Settlement Officer of Consolidation has not properly discussed the genuineness of the Vakalatnama and service of notice upon the Kanhaiya Lal as pointed out by the petitioner in the writ petition. Both the parties are at variance on the point of knowledge qua order dated 30.7.1970 passed by the Consolidation Officer. The petitioner has denied the knowledge of proceeding u/s 9A(2) of UPCH Act before the Consolidation Officer, however, conversely, the contesting-respondents have laid emphasis upon the knowledge to Kanhaiya Lal who was served with notice, and appeared through "Vakeel", namely, Sri Ramesh Chandra Kulshreshtha.

There is no discussion, appraising the copy of notice which is said to have been served upon Kanhaiya Lal and memo of appearance filed by "Vakeel" Sri Ramesh Chandra Kulshreshtha. In case, it is proved that despite the knowledge Kanhaiya Lal had chosen not to assail the order dated 30.07.1970, then right of the appellant (descendants from Kanhaiya Lal) to assail the order passed by the Consolidation Officer will be affected. However, on the flip side, in case, knowledge to Kanhaiya Lal is not proved, then certainly, to serve the substantial justice, the petitioner should be accorded an opportunity to contest the appeal on merits. (Para 7)

B. The date of knowledge and source of knowledge of any particular event to explain the "sufficient cause" is paramount consideration at the time of considering the point of delay in filing any application or appeal etc. Therefore, liberal approach in condoning the delay cannot be made absolute and same is subject to the bonafide and conscious action of the person, who is beseeching for the condonation of the delay. (Para 7)

The Deputy Director of Consolidation has miserably failed to accord conscious discussion in the light of available documentary evidence on the record, (w.r.t. which both the parties are at variance) to prove the presence of Kanhaiya Lal and his knowledge qua order dated 30.7.1970. Kanhaiya Lal has allegedly restrained himself from assailing the said order during his life time. Thus, instant writ petition succeeds and is partly allowed. The order dated 27.03.2023 passed by the Deputy Director of Consolidation is quashed. The revision filed on behalf of Subhash Kumar and others is restored to its original number and parties are relegated before the Deputy Director of Consolidation to get the revision decided de novo in the light of the observation as made in the order of the date. (Para 8)

Words and Phrases – “Sufficient cause” -

The expression "sufficient cause" should be given a liberal interpretation to ensure that substantial justice is done, but only so long as negligence, inaction or lack of bona fides cannot be imputed to the party concerned, where or not "sufficient cause" has been furnished, can be decided on the facts of the particular case and no strait-jacket formula is possible. (Para 6)

Writ petition partly allowed. (E-4)

Precedent followed:

1. Ram Nath Sao Vs Govardhan Sao, AIR 2002 SC 1201 (Para 6)

2. Majji Sannemma @ Sanyasirao Vs Reddy Srivedi & ors., AIR 2022 SC 332 (Para 6)

Present petition assails order dated 27.3.2023, passed by the Deputy Director of Consolidation, reversing the order dated 28.9.2002 passed by the Settlement Officer of Consolidation, whereby delay caused in filing the appeal has been condoned on the cost of Rs. 100/- and date is fixed for hearing the appeal on merits.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dinesh Pathak, J.)

1. Heard learned counsel for the parties and perused the record on board.

2. Aggrieved with the order dated 27.3.2023 passed by the Deputy Director of Consolidation in Revision No. 2015530149000043 under section 48(1) of UP Consolidation of Holdings Act, 1950 (in brevity 'UPCH Act'), reversing the order dated 28.9.2002 passed by the Settlement Officer of Consolidation in appeal No. 438 under section 11(1) of UPCH Act whereby delay caused in filing the appeal has been condoned on the cost of Rs. 100/- and date is fixed for hearing the appeal on merits, petitioner has filed the present writ petition.

3. Having considered the rival submissions advanced by the learned counsel for the parties and perusal of record, it is manifested that instant writ petition has arisen from delay condonation in filing the appeal before the Settlement Officer of Consolidation. In basic consolidation record, names of Kanhaiya Lal and Shiv Prasad (predecessor-in-interest of the petitioners) were recorded. One Angad Rai (father of respondent No. 4) has filed an objection under Section 9A(2) of UPCH Act claiming his right and title over the property in question on the basis of sale deed said to have been executed by Kanhaiya Lal. The Consolidation Officer, vide order dated 30.7.1970, has allowed the objection under Section 9A(2) of UPCH Act and passed an order to record the name of Aangad Rai & others in place of recorded tenure holders. At belated stage, after the death of Kanhaiya Lal, an appeal dated 21.07.1982 has been preferred on behalf of his son, namely, Sanjay Kumar (minor) under the guardianship of his mother Smt. Prema Devi wife of Kanhaiya Lal. The Settlement Officer of Consolidation, vide order dated 15.11.1989, has condoned the delay in filing the appeal and, simultaneously, allowed the appeal on merits whereby the parties were relegated before the Consolidation Officer to get the matter decided afresh. The Deputy Director of Consolidation, on revision being filed on behalf of the Angad Rai, has reversed the order passed by the Settlement Officer of Consolidation and relegated the parties, at the appellate stage to decide the point of delay first caused in filing the appeal, before deciding its merits. In pursuance of the remand order dated 5.6.1999 passed by the Deputy Director of Consolidation, the matter has been scrutinized on the point of delay, as such, the Settlement Officer of Consolidation, vide order dated 28.9.2002, has condoned the delay in filing the appeal on the cost of Rs. 100/-. Having been aggrieved with the order dated 28.9.2002 passed by the Settlement Officer of Consolidation, Subhash Kumar (respondent No. 4) and others have preferred revision. The Deputy Director of Consolation, vide order dated 27.3.2003, has allowed the revision and quashed the delay condonation order passed by the Settlement Officer of Consolidation, which gives rise a cause of action for filing the instant writ petition.

4. Solitary point involved in the instant writ petition relates to the condonation of delay caused in filing the appeal dated 21.7.1982 assailing the order dated 30.7.1970 passed by the Consolidation Officer in proceeding under Section 9A(2) of UPCH Act. As per the ground taken by the petitioner in appeal dated 21.7.2022 (annexure No. 5), he/she came to know for the first time through rumour in the village on 19.7.1982 qua order passed by the consolidation court, therefore, inspected the record on 20.7.1982. Petitioner came with a specific case that before that neither the appellant (petitioner No. 1 herein) nor his father had ever come to know about the order passed by the Consolidation Officer. It is apposite to mention that father of the petitioner No. 1 had died on 25.4.1982 and, after his death, the appeal was filed on 21.7.1982. The petitioner has denied any service of notice upon Kanhaiya Lal and also denied the filing of Vakalatnama on his behalf. Learned counsel for the petitioner has attempted to bring out a case of fraud by distinguishing between the signatures made on the Vakalatnama (annexure No. 2) and the notice (annexure No. 3). Learned counsel for the contesting-respondents has denied the plea as raised on behalf of the petitioner and came with the contention that one Mr. Ramesh Chandra Kulshrestha had appeared and filed his Vakalatnama on 8.6.1970 on behalf of Kanhaiya Lal. Notice was properly served upon Kanhaiya Lal and the delay in filing the objection under Section 9A(2) of UPCH Act was condoned in his presence, vide order dated 18.6.1970, on the cost of Rs. 10/-. He has placed reliance on the order sheets dated 7.7.1970 and 16.7.1970 whereby time was granted to the defendant for filing written statement and, thereafter, the case was ordered to be proceeded ex-parte in absence of the defendant, respectively. Copy of the order sheets from dated 27.5.1970 to dated 16.7.1970 are collectively filed as annexure No. CA-1 to the counter affidavit. Qua the survival of another co-tenant Shiv Prasad, it has been contended that he has executed a registered sale deed on 2.9.2002, however, he himself has never made any endeavour to challenge the order dated 30.7.1970 passed by the Consolidation Officer.

5. In nutshell, there is an intricate question qua knowledge of order dated 30.7.1970 passed by the Consolidation Officer in proceeding under Section 9A(2) of UPOCH Act whereby names of Kanhaiya Lal and Shiv Prashad (predecessors-in-interest of the petitioners) have been ordered to be deleted from the consolidation record and in its place name of predecessors-in-interest of the contesting-respondent No. 4 and others have been ordered to be recorded. Admittedly, Kanhaiya Lal died on 25.4.1982, however, his minor son (Sanjay Kumar) through his mother being a guardian has filed an appeal on 21.7.1982. The appellant has blatantly denied the knowledge about the order dated 30.07.1970, to him, and his father Kanhaiya Lal either. However, the contesting-respondents are vehemently relied upon the memo of appearance filed by counsel Sri Ramesh Chandra Kulshreshtha, who was a designated "Vakeel". The Settlement Officer of Consolidation while condoning the delay in filing the appeal was of the opinion that the liberal view should be taken in condoning the delay so that opportunity may be accorded to the appellant to defend his case. However, he has not returned any finding qua sufficiency of cause for delay in filing the appeal. The Deputy Director of Consolidation, in turn, has laid emphasis upon the service of notice on Kanhaiya Lal, who had chosen not to contest the case and, ultimately, the same is resulted into final culmination of proceeding under section 9A(2) of UPOCH Act by the order dated 23.7.1970 passed against him. The Deputy Director of Consolidation has emphasised the reluctance at the part of Kanhaiya Lal, who had not assailed the order dated 30.7.1970. Thus, he has concluded that both the parties were litigated before the Consolidation Officer, therefore, filing an appeal at the belated stage, after twelve years, is not liable to be condoned.

6. It is no more res integra that whenever technicality is pitted against the substantial justice, it is substantial justice which prevails. Law of limitation is based upon public policy intending to discourage unnecessary litigation between the parties, therefore, while exercising discretionary power to condone the delay, the Court should act sparingly. Delay cannot be condoned in a cavalier manner unless the sufficient cause is shown by the parties. Normally, despite the prescribed period of limitation is expired, the phrase "sufficient cause" receiving a liberal construction so as to advance substantial justice when no negligence, inaction or for want of bonafide is imputable to the adversary party. Meaning thereby, if sufficient cause for delay is shown by the parties concerned, discretion entrusted upon the court/authority concerned to condone the delay so that substantial justice be done. In the case of Ram Nath Sao v. Govardhan Sao, AIR 2002 SC 1201, the Hon'ble Supreme Court has expounded that the expression "sufficient cause" should be given a liberal interpretation to ensure that substantial justice is done, but only so long as negligence, inaction or lack of bona fides cannot be imputed to the party concerned, where or not "sufficient cause" has been furnished, can be decided on the facts of the particular case and no strait-jacket formula is possible. Dealing with the phrase "sufficiency cause", Hon'ble Supreme Court in the matter of Majji Sannemma @ Sanyasirao vs. Reddy Srivedi & Others reported in AIR 2022

SC 332, has expounded that, in normal course, delay cannot be condoned unless sufficient reason is assigned. For ready reference, Paragraph Nos. 7.1 to 7.5 are quoted hereinbelow:-

"7.1 In the case of Ramlal, Motilal and Chhotelal (supra), it is observed and held as under:-

In construing s. 5 it is relevant to bear in mind two important considerations. The first consideration is that the expiration of the period of limitation prescribed for making an appeal gives rise to a right in favour of the decree-holder to treat the decree as binding between the parties. In other words, when the period of limitation prescribed has expired the decree-holder has obtained a benefit under the law of limitation to treat the decree as beyond challenge, and this legal right which has accrued to the decree-holder by lapse of time should not be light-heartedly disturbed. The other consideration which cannot be ignored is that if sufficient cause for excusing delay is shown discretion is given to the Court to condone delay and admit the appeal. This discretion has been deliberately conferred on the Court in order that judicial power and discretion in that behalf should be exercised to advance substantial justice. As has been observed by the Madras High Court in Krishna v. Chattappan, (1890) J.L.R. 13 Mad. 269, "s. 5 gives the Court a discretion which in respect of jurisdiction is to be exercised in the way in which judicial power and discretion ought to be exercised upon principles which are well understood; the words 'sufficient cause' receiving a liberal construction so as to advance substantial justice when no negligence nor inaction nor want of bona fide is imputable to the appellant."

7.2 In the case of P.K. Ramachandran (supra), while refusing to condone the delay of 565 days, it is observed that in the absence of reasonable, satisfactory or even appropriate explanation for seeking condonation of delay, the same is not to be condoned lightly. It is further observed that the law of limitation may harshly affect a particular party but it has to be applied with all its rigour when the statute so prescribes and the courts have no power to extend the period of limitation on equitable grounds. It is further observed that while exercising discretion for condoning the delay, the court has to exercise discretion judiciously.

7.3 In the case of Pundlik Jalam Patil (supra), it is observed as under :-

The laws of limitation are founded on public policy. Statutes of limitation are sometimes described as "statutes of peace". An unlimited and perpetual threat of limitation creates insecurity and uncertainty; some kind of limitation is essential for public order. The principle is based on the maxim "interest reipublicae ut sit finis litium", that is, the interest of the State requires that there should be end to litigation but at the same time laws of limitation are a means to ensure private justice suppressing fraud and perjury, quickening diligence and preventing oppression. The object for fixing time-limit for litigation is based on public policy fixing a lifespan for legal remedy for the purpose of general welfare. They are meant to see that the parties do not resort to dilatory tactics but avail their legal remedies promptly. Salmond in his Jurisprudence states that the laws come to the assistance of the vigilant and not of the sleepy."

7.4 In the case of Basawaraj (supra), it is observed and held by this Court that the discretion to condone the delay has to be exercised judiciously based on facts and circumstances of each case. It is further observed that the expression "sufficient cause" cannot be liberally interpreted if negligence, inaction or lack of bona fides is attributed to the party. It is further observed that even though limitation may harshly affect rights of a party but it has to be applied with all its rigour when prescribed by statute. It is further observed that in case a party has acted with negligence, lack of bona fides or there is inaction then there cannot be any justified ground for condoning the delay even by imposing conditions. It is observed that each application for condonation of delay has to be decided within the framework laid down by this Court. It is further observed that if courts start condoning delay where no sufficient cause is made out by imposing conditions then that would amount to violation of statutory principles and showing utter disregard to legislature.

7.5 In the case of Pundlik Jalam Patil (supra), it is observed by this Court that the court cannot enquire into belated and stale claims on the ground of equity. Delay defeats equity. The Courts help those who are vigilant and "do not slumber over their rights."

7. Applying the ratio decided by Hon'ble Supreme Court, as discussed above, in the given circumstances of the present case, it is evident that Deputy Director of Consolidation while quashing the order passed by the Settlement Officer of Consolidation has not properly discussed the genuineness of the Vakalatnama and service of notice upon the Kanhaiya Lal as pointed out by the petitioner in the writ petition. Both the parties are at variance on the point of knowledge qua order dated 30.7.1970 passed by the Consolidation Officer. I have already discussed the facts relating to delay in previous paragraphs, wherein petitioner has denied the knowledge of proceeding under section 9A(2) of U.P. Act before the Consolidation Officer, however, conversely, the contesting-respondents have laid emphasis upon the knowledge to Kanhaiya Lal who was served with notice, and appeared through "Vakeel", namely, Sri Ramesh Chandra Kulshreshtha. While returning its finding qua service of notice upon Kanhaiya Lal and his appearance through "Vakeel", the Deputy Director of Consolidation has failed to appraise the evidence on record. There is no discussion, appraising the copy of notice which is said to have been served upon Kanhaiya Lal and memo of appearance filed by "Vakeel" Sri Ramesh Chandra Kulshreshtha on behalf of Kanhaiya Lal. In case, it is proved that despite the knowledge Kanhaiya Lal had chosen not to assail the order dated 30.7.1970 passed by the Consolidation Officer then right of the appellant (descendants from Kanhaiya Lal) to assail the order passed by the Consolidation Officer will be affected. However, on the flip side, in case, knowledge to Kanhaiya Lal is not proved, then certainly, to serve the substantial justice, the petitioner should be accorded an opportunity to contest the appeal on merits. Needless to say that date of knowledge and source of knowledge of any particular event to explain the "sufficient cause" is paramount consideration at the time of considering the point of delay in filing any application or appeal etc. Therefore, liberal approach in condoning the delay cannot be made absolute and same is subject to the bonafide and conscious action of the person, who is beseeching for the condonation of the delay.

8. In this conspectus, as above, in my considered opinion, the Deputy Director of Consolidation has decided the revision in a

9. It is expected that the Deputy Director of Consolidation shall accord conscious appraisal to the documents on record and pass a speaking and reasoned order in accordance with law after giving opportunity of hearing to the parties concerned without granting unnecessary adjournment to either of the parties expeditiously, preferably, within a period of three months from the date of appearance of the parties along with certified copy of the order of the date, who are hereby directed to appear before the Deputy Director of Consolidation on 24.9.2024.

IA No.8 of 2024

1. Heard.

2. In view of order passed on 22.8.2024, the present application for impleadment has been filed for impleadment of District Magistrate, Balrampur as District Gonda has been bifurcated and new district Balrampur has been created.

3. In view of facts narrated above, the application is allowed.

4. Learned counsel for the petitioners is permitted to carry out necessary incorporation during course of the day.

Order on Writ Petition

1. Heard Sri Anuj Kudesia, learned counsel for the petitioners and Sri Rajiv Srivastava, learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel for the State-respondent.

2. In the year 1979, notice under Sub Section (2) of Section 10 of the Act, 1960 has been issued during pendency of case a fire had taken place in Tahsil Balrampur and entire record was destroyed. In the year 1981, again, notice under Sub Section (2) of Section 10 of the Act, 1960 was issued in the name of Late Surya Narain Singh even though he already died on 8.12.1977. Again, separate notices were issued under Sub Section (1) of Section 10 of the Act, 1960.

3. Notices were issued for the land as follows :-

(a) Plot No.352 area 7.06 acres and Plot No.370 area 9.98 acres situated at Village Bhadua Shanker Nagar, Pargana and Tahsil Tulsipur District Gonda.

(b) Plot No.283 area 11.67 acres and Plot No.415 area 5.00 acres situated at Village Charan Gahiya, Pargana and Tahsil Tulsipur District Gonda.

(c) At village Kapia Khalsa Tappa Aikhin, Pargana and Tahsil Naugarh District Basti which were in the name of Smt. Jayanti Kunwar.

4. The petitioners filed separate objections, Annexure-1 (dated 7.4.1983) and Annexure-2 (dated 6.7.1983), which are as under :-

(a) Plot No.352 area 7.06 acres and Plot No.370 area 8.98 acres situated at Village Bhadua Shanker Nagar, Pargana and Tahsil Tulsipur District Gonda the entire land was bhumidhari land of Smt. Jayanti Kunwar and was already transferred in year 1959 by executing sale deed in favour of Ram Chandra and Paras Nath for valuable consideration and the mutation order was passed on 06.09.1974 by Consolidation Officer and the amaldaramad of this mutation order was not made due to mistake on the part of consolidation staff.

(b) Plot No.283 area 11.67 acres and Plot No.415 area 5.00 acres situated at Village Charan Gahiya Pargana and Tahsil Tulsipur District Gonda were wrongly shown as irrigated, while this land was unirrigated and this land was also not situated in effective command area of any lift irrigation canal or a private irrigation work and due to which, only one crop was yielded from such land.

(c) at village Kapia Khalsa Tappa Aikhin, Pargana and Tahsil Naugarh District Basti, which were in the name of Smt. Jayanti Kunwar who was owner of the land having inherited the same from her maternal grandfather and which she transferred entire land in favour of different persons by way of registered sale deed after obtaining valuable sale consideration from the transferees (sale deeds were executed on 07.04.1971, 08.06.1971 and 26.06.1971).

5. In response to objections, the State of Uttar Pradesh filed its written statement. Registered sale deed in respect of Plot No.352 and Plot No.370 situated at Village Bhadua Shanker Nagar, Pargana and Tahsil Tulsipur District Gonda were executed in year 1959 in favour of Ram Chandra and Paras Nath.

6. Impugned order dated 31.12.1991 passed by the respondent No.3 Chief Revenue officer, Faizabad (Annexure-8 to the writ petition), whereby the authority framed the following issues :-

(i) Whether the entries of C.L.H. form 3A, 3B and 3C issued to the tenure holders are correctly entered ?

(ii) Whether the sale deed in the respect of plot No.352 and Plot No.370 situated at Village Bhadua Shanker Nagar, Pargana and Tahsil Tulsipur District Gonda were executed in favour of Ram Chandra and Paras Nath were admissible in law, and if so, its effect ?

(iii) Whether the entire land of Charan Gahiya was unirrigated ?

(iv) Whether the sale deeds executed by Smt. Jayanti Kunwar (petitioner No.2) widow of original ceiling tenure holder Late Surya Narain Singh in respect of the land of Village Kapia Khalsa on 07.04.1971, 08.06.1971 and 26.06.1971 were legally admissible, if so, its effect ?

6. The issue Nos.1 and 3 were interconnected and they were decided together. The prescribed authority has decided two issues in favour of the petitioners and no evidence was adduced on behalf of the state of Uttar Pradesh to establish the fact that the land of village Charan Gahiya was within the command area of canal of Bhawanpur Bandh and the statement of Lekhpal also recorded and no document was produced by him.

7. With regard to issue No.2, the plot No.352 and Plot No.370 situated at Village Bhadua Shanker Nagar, Pargana and Tahsil Tulsipur District Gonda were executed in favour of Ram Chandra and Paras Nath during the year 1959 for valuable consideration and these persons were neither family members of the tenure holder nor they were otherwise related to them and the finding recorded the name of transferees was not entered over the land but the authority did not consider that the mutation order was passed on 06.09.1974 by Consolidation Officer and the amaldaramad of this mutation order was not made due to mistake on the part of consolidation staff.

8. It is submitted by learned counsel for the petitioners that the issue No.4 was decided very casually and non-speaking and ignored the sale deeds were executed on 07.04.1971, 08.06.1971 and 26.06.1971 in respect of the land of Village Kapia Khalsa Tappa Aikhin Pargana and Tahsil Naugarh District Basti merely on the ground that they were executed after the appointed date of 24.1.1971 and prescribed authority did not correctly apply its mind that they were executed for adequate consideration and in good faith for the immediate benefit of the tenure holder and also the provisions of sub section (6) of Section 5 of the Act of 1961.

9. After the prescribed authority rejected petitioners' objections and determined their ceiling area by treating and clubbing the entire land covered by the aforesaid sale deeds situated in village Bhadua Shanker Nagar as well as situated in village Kapia Khalsa with the land of the tenure holder and thereby declared an area of 28.13-7 acres of land as surplus area.

10. Against the order of the prescribed authority, appeal was filed before the Additional Commissioner, Faizabad.

11. While deciding the issue Nos.1 and 3 to the effect that entire land of Village Charan Gahiya was unirrigated said by prescribed authority and no appeal was preferred by the State against aforesaid finding, but appellate court, while deciding the appeal, had no jurisdiction to hold that the land of Village Charan Gahiya was irrigated land and the finding of appellate court is manifestly perverse and contrary to law.

12. About issue No.2, Gata Nos.352 and 370 Village Bhadua Shankar Nagar, Gonda and in the year 1959 sale deeds were executed in favour of Ram Chandra and Paras Nath and statement was also given by them before prescribed authority and the mutation order was passed on 06.09.1974 which was not made due to mistake on the part of consolidation staff.

13. About issue No.4, Village Kapia Khalsa land, sale deed executed by the Petitioner No.2 for adequate consideration and in good faith for immediate benefit of the tenure holder and the purpose for agriculture the land was far from her house that's why petitioner No.2 sold her land and the name of purchaser of the land was also recorded in the consolidation record. Reference may be made on paragraph-63 of the writ petition, as stated by the petitioners' counsel.

14. In evidences of Ram Chandra and Phoolmati W/o Paras Nath, they have stated that they purchased the land after paying a valuable consideration and they have possession over it.

15. The instant supplementary affidavit bringing on record the form CH-41, CH-23, CH-11, CH-45 Khatauni of Aadhar year, 1359 Fasli and 1356 Fasli, whose certified copies have been obtained by the petitioners from the revenue record of the office of District Collector, Balrampur on 18.07.2024, whereby it is evident that Gata No.352 and Gata No.370 situated at village Bhadua Shankar Nagar, Pargana and Tehsil- Tulsipur, District- Gonda, have been renumbered during consolidation proceedings which have been sold in year 1959, whose old numbers were 2258, 2259, 2260, 2261, 2267 and 2268, meaning thereby, the properties are the same as per Form- 23.

16. In respect of Gata No. 283 and Gata No. 415 situated at village Charan Gahiya, Pargana and Tehsil - Tulsipur, District- Gonda, is unirrigated land as per Form CH- 41 and 45 in the revenue record but the revenue authorities have treated the same as irrigated land.

17. Learned counsel for the petitioners placed reliance upon the following judgments :-

(i) Ramadhhar Singh Vs. Prescribed Authority & others [1994 Supp (3) Supreme Court Cases 702]. Relevant paragraph-2 is being quoted below :-

"2. "It has to be seen under what provision of the Act can the validity of the sale executed prior to January 24, 1971, the appointed day, be gone into? Sub-section (6) of Section 5 of the said Act says that in January, 1971, which but for the transfer would have been declared as surplus land under the Act shall be ignored and not taken into account. The proviso (b) thereto, inter alia, provides that a transfer proved to the satisfaction of the prescribed authority to be in good faith and for adequate consideration and an irrevocable instrument, not being of benami transaction or for immediate or deferred benefit for the tenureholder or other members of the family, is outside the scope of the aforesaid sub-section. Thereafter explanation II provides that the burden of proving that a case falls within clause (b) of the proviso shall rest with the party claiming its benefit. Apparently, it is under this provision of law that the validity of the sale deed dated April 22, 1969 was put to test. The authorities under the Act took the view that the sale deed was not genuine because no consideration appears to have passed before the Sub-Registrar and that it was a transfer between father and son raising a dust of suspicion. Otherwise it was not disputed on fact that the sale had been effected by means of a registered deed in which the passing of consideration was mentioned as a recital. The existence of the sale deed being not disputed and it having taken place, as said before, on February 24, 1969, prior to the appointed day that is January 24, 1971, the inquiry regarding the validity of the sale deed under sub-section (6) of Section 5 was totally misplaced. Thereunder, as it appears to us, the appropriate authority had no jurisdiction to be put the validity of the sale deed to test since his jurisdiction arose only when the deed of transfer had been effected on or after the appointed day. Not only the first and the appellate authority under the Act persisted in that view, but the High Court too proceeded on that basis. The effort of the appellant to have it declared that the authorities had no jurisdiction to invalidate the sale under sub-section (6) of Section 5 when read with Explanation II to sub-section (1) of Section 5 also was a futile attempt because the High Court followed the path, as did the authorities under the Act, and rejected the writ petition. We are of the view that this was a wholly erroneous approach. Sub-section (6) of Section 5 did not confer jurisdiction on the authorities to determine the validity of the sale and if that is so any finding of theirs as to the contents of the sale is of no assistance. In the result the appeal must succeed. Accordingly, allowing the same we set aside all the orders of the authorities below as also that of the High Court. No costs."

(ii) Ram Chandra Vs. State of U.P. & others [2020 (4) ADJ 535 (LB)].

Relevant paragraphs-31 to 41 are being quoted below :-

"31. In the instant case the petitioner got the right to possession by virtue of succession to the six plots of land in village Magrapur on death of his father in September 1979 only. However, in the extract of Khatauni considered by the Prescribed Authority of the year is 1407 to 1412 Fasli, the term of cultivatory possession was mentioned as since before 1373 Fasli.

32. Moreover, the Appellate Authority rightly interpreted section 29 of the Act and came to a conclusion that determination of ceiling area is to be done with reference to the date the petitioner was recorded as tenure holder i.e. with effect from September 1979 and not with reference to 08.06.1973, the date of the enforcement of the Amendment Act.

33. The language of Section 5 (1) "on and from the date of commencement" of the amendment act i.e. 08.06.1973, ceiling area has to be determined taking into account all the lands held by such a person throughout the State, in any capacity, whatsoever. The date of 08.06.1973 is relevant date only for the purpose of defining "ceiling area", it is not relevant for the purpose of determining the area of the holding of a tenure holder. If the petitioner's argument is to be believed it would mean that only if a person has land in excess of "ceiling area" on 08.06.1973 then alone he shall come under the clutches of the Act. This would do violence to the very language of the Act, and the purpose for which it was enacted. The language of Section 5 (1) of the Act starts with the phrase "on and from" Commencement of the Act.

34. The date of commencement of the Amendment Act is 8th June 1973, hence, the computation of a holding of a tenure holder would depend on either the date of commencement of the Act, or from the commencement of the Act to any other point of time in the future. The operation of the Act is a continuing process. It does not stop merely on the date of 8th June 1973, when the Amendment Act came into operation but from the date of such commencement the determination of surplus land will be done as and when a tenure holder comes into possession and holds land the aggregate of which is more than the ceiling area permissible under the Act.

35. It is clear from the Long Title and Preamble of the Act that the object of the act is to impose ceiling on land holdings in Uttar Pradesh. The Act does not take away any rights of the tenure holder but only restricts the area he can hold to allow for a more equitable distribution of a scarce resource among the States' entire population in the interest of the community, to ensure increased agricultural production and to provide land for landless agricultural labourers and for other public purposes as best to subserve the common good. The argument of the learned counsel for the petitioner that since he did not hold surplus land on the date of commencement of the Amendment Act, any land which came into his possession by succession thereafter should be ignored, is rejected as misconceived.

36. The next contention of the learned counsel for the petitioner is that under section Under section 3 (7) the definition of family has been given and in relation to a tenure holder it means himself or herself and the spouse, other than a judicially separated spouse, minor son and minor daughters, other than married daughters. Under Sub-section (3) of Section 5 for Computation of Ceiling Area in case of a tenure holder the number of family members has to be done taking into account. In case the family members are not more than five, only 7.30 hectares of irrigated land is permissible. However, if the family members are more than five, then 2 additional hectares of land is admissible subject to a maximum of 6 hectares of such additional land.

37. For each adult son the tenure holder is entitled to 2 hectares of additional land, subject to a maximum of 4 hectares of additional land. Provided that such adult sons are not independent tenure holders in their own right having more than 2 hectares of irrigated land in their possession.

38. A careful perusal of the aforesaid provision clearly shows that if the member in the family exceeds five, the tenure holder is entitled for additional land provided that none of such member is a tenure holder in his/her own right. Similarly, it also provides that even if there are no adult sons, but if the strength of the members of the family is more than five, then the tenure holder is entitled to additional land of 2 hectares for each member of the family subject to a maximum of 6 hectares of additional land. It is not in dispute in the present case that the strength of family members of the petitioner was Eight at the time when notice was issued to him on 02.11.2000. The petitioner brought on record the High School pass Certificates of his three daughters and three sons. However, the Prescribed Authority and the Appellate Authority refused to grant benefit of additional land for each member of the family in addition to the five members as the petitioner did not produce relevant extract of the Family Register and on 08.06.1973 none of the petitioner's children was born. The logic applied by the Prescribed Authority and the Appellate Authority is incomprehensible. According to the respondents, the date of determination of family members has been taken as 8th June 1973, but the date of determination of ceiling area has been taken as the date when the Prescribed Authority was deciding the case.

39. In my considered opinion even though the petitioner's family consisted of only two members i.e. himself and his wife on 8th June 1973, at the time of issuance of notice under Section 9, on 02.11.2000, all of his six children had been born. Three of his daughters were married but there were at least three sons who were living with him. None of them has been shown to be an independent tenure holder having more than 2 hectares of land by the State respondents, in their Counter affidavit. For the purpose of determination of ceiling area the petitioner was entitled to

2 additional hectares for at least one of his sons namely Shyam Srivastava who was major at the time.

40. Though this Court is not convinced with the argument of the learned counsel for the petitioner regarding the applicability of the cut-off date of 08.06.1973 for determining ceiling area on the basis of Section 29 of the Act and holds that the petitioner was independent tenure holder of eight plots of land ad-measuring 8.546 hectares in villages Magrapur and Baddupur in Tehsil Shahbad District Hardoi which in irrigated terms came out to be 7.968 hectares; the failure of the learned Court below to take into account the number of members of the petitioner's family while determining the permissible limit of land to be left with the petitioner cannot be countenanced.

41. The Writ Petition is allowed. The orders of the Respondent nos.2 & 3 are set aside as they failed to take into account the petitioner right to additional land under Section 5(3) b of the Act. The petitioner shall be entitled to all of his land in the eight plots mentioned in CLH 3 in the two villages concerned."

18. On the other hand, Sri Rajiv Srivastava, learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel placed reliance upon Section-5 of the Uttar Pradesh Imposition of Ceiling on Land Holdings Act, 1960, which is being quoted as under :-

"5. Imposition of Ceiling.- (1) On and from the commencement of the Uttar Pradesh Imposition of Ceiling on Land Holdings (Amendment) Act, 1972, no tenure holder shall be entitled to hold in the aggregate through-out Uttar Pradesh, any land in excess of the ceiling area applicable to him."

19. In respect of Section 5, learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel submitted that minor sons, daughters and wife is admissible in the definition of 'family'. This submission is in respect of issue No.4 of the issues framed by the prescribed authority with regard to imposition of ceiling.

20. In rebuttal, learned counsel for the petitioners submitted that after the amendment on 8.6.1973, the land sold prior to 1973 shall not be added in the ceiling proceedings.

21. After having heard the rival submission of learned counsel for the parties, I perused the material on record as well as law report cited by learned counsel for the petitioners.

22. On overall consideration, it is evident that the respondents have treated the land of Village Bhadua Shanker Nagar, Pargana and Tehsil Tulsipur, District Gonda covered by the registered sale deeds executed during the year 1959 in favour of Ram Chandra and Paras Nath, much prior to the appointed date of 24.1.1971 to continue to belong to Smt. Jayanti Kunwar in spite of the fact that the aforesaid registered sale deeds were implemented and in pursuance of which, the names of the transferees were ordered to be mutated during consolidation operations under the orders of the Consolidation Officer, amaldaramad of which was not made in the revenue records and by doing this, the respondents have committed an error, which is not sustainable in the eyes of law.

23. On perusal of certified copies of CH-23, CH-41, CH-11 and CH-45, it is evident that Gata No.352 and 370 situated at Village Bhadua Shanker Nagar, Pargana and Tehsil Tulsipur, District Gonda, which have been sold in the year 1959, whose old numbers were 2258, 2259, 2260, 2261, 2267 and 2268, meaning thereby, the properties are the same as per form-23 of U.P. Consolidation of Holdings Act, 1953. During the consolidation proceedings, the old Gata Nos.2258, 2259, 2260, 2261, 2267 and 2268 have been renumbered as Gata No.352 and 370, which also finds mention in sale deeds contained in Annexures-6 and 7. On perusal of the documents referred hereinabove, it is transpired that the land in question is unirrigated land. The prescribed authority as well as the Additional Commissioner have not considered the same and held that these are different numbers and land is irrigated, in fact, the land is unirrigated, which clearly demonstrates the findings of the prescribed authority as well as Additional Commissioner to be erroneous in nature.

The finding recorded by the respondents to the effect that the entire land of Village Charan Gahiya, Pargana and Tehsil Tulsipur, District Gonda is irrigated, is erroneous in law and the same has not been recorded in accordance with the statutory determination of irrigated land provided under Section 4-A of the Act of 1961 read with Rule 3 of the U.P. Imposition of Ceiling on Land Holdings Act, 1961. In fact, the non-irrigated land does not come under the ambit of ceiling.

24. The argument advanced by learned counsel for the petitioners is also supported by the judgments relied upon by him as they are totally applicable in the present case.

25. In view of the foregoing discussion and the judgments relied upon, the Court is of the opinion that the impugned orders are not sustainable in law, thus, the impugned orders dated 21.4.1997 and 31.12.1991, passed by respondent Nos.2 and 3 are hereby set aside. The writ petition succeeds and is allowed.

26. However, the matter is remanded back to the Additional Commissioner to decide the issue afresh in accordance with law.

1. Heard Sri Swetashwa Agarwal, learned counsel appearing on behalf of the petitioner and Sri Parv Agarwal, learned counsel appearing on behalf of the respondents.

2. This is a writ petition under Article 226 of the Constitution of India wherein the writ petitioner is aggrieved by the provisional attachment order dated May 16, 2024 passed by the respondent authorities under Section 83 of the Central Goods and Service Tax Act, 2017 (hereinafter referred to as "the Act").

3. It is to be noted that the same bank account had been attached vide order dated February 16, 2023. After expiry of the period of one year, the writ petitioner had filed a writ petition seeking removal of the said attachment. Subsequent to the filing of the said writ petition, it appears that the attachment was removed and the same has been recorded in the order passed by the coordinate Bench of this Court dated May 6, 2024 in Writ Tax No.699 of 2024.

4. Surprisingly, ten days after passing the order by the coordinate Bench of this Court, a verbatim notice has been issued on May 16, 2024 without providing for any fresh reason for provisional attachment of the account for the second time. This notice even does not mention the fact that this attachment is being done for the second time. Furthermore, no specific reasons have been provided for requirement of the Department for fresh provisional attachment of the bank account.

5. In our view, this kind of arbitrary action without providing any fresh reasons to the petitioner for provisional attachment is draconian in nature and cannot be sustained in the eyes of law. Section 83 of the Act is provided below :-

"Section 83. Provisional attachment to protect revenue in certain cases

(1) Where during the pendency of any proceedings under section 62 or section 63 or section 64 or section 67 or section 73 or section 74, the Commissioner is of the opinion that for the purpose of protecting the interest of the Government revenue, it is necessary so to do, he may, by order in writing attach provisionally any property, including bank account, belonging to the taxable person in such manner as may be prescribed.

(2) Every such provisional attachment shall cease to have effect after the expiry of a period of one year from the date of the order made under sub-section (1)."

6. In Radha Krishan Industries vs. State of Himanchal Pradesh and Others reported in (2021) 6 SCC 771 the Supreme Court has held in relation to Section 83 of the Act that a second attachment of the bank account may be made under Section 83 of the Act, but the Department has to provide fresh reasons for the same. Relevant paragraphs thereof are extracted below :-

"75. Moreover, an order of provisional attachment was issued by the Joint Commissioner which was withdrawn on 30-1-2019, after considering the representations made by the petitioner. On the very ground, without any material change in circumstances, another order of provisional attachment came to be issued by another Joint Commissioner. Therefore, it was the contention of the petitioner before the High Court that the subsequent order of provisional attachment is in substance and effect an order reviewing the earlier order withdrawing the order of provisional attachment which was not permissible and therefore the subsequent order of provisional attachment is without jurisdiction. The High Court has not considered this aspect. Both the earlier and the subsequent orders of provisional attachment are on the same grounds. Therefore, unless there was a change in the circumstances, it was not open for the Joint Commissioner to pass another order of provisional attachment, after the earlier order of provisional attachment was withdrawn after considering the representations made by the petitioner. This is an additional ground to set aside the subsequent order of provisional attachment.

E. Summary of findings

76. For the above reasons, we hold and conclude that:

76.1. The Joint Commissioner while ordering a provisional attachment under Section 83 was acting as a delegate of the Commissioner in pursuance of the delegation effected under Section 5(3) and an appeal against the order of provisional attachment was not available under Section 107(1).

76.2. The writ petition before the High Court under Article 226 of the Constitution challenging the order of provisional attachment was maintainable.

76.3. The High Court has erred in dismissing the writ petition on the ground that it was not maintainable.

76.4. The power to order a provisional attachment of the property of the taxable person including a bank account is draconian in nature and the conditions which are prescribed by the statute for a valid exercise of the power must be strictly fulfilled.

76.5. The exercise of the power for ordering a provisional attachment must be preceded by the formation of an opinion by the Commissioner that it is necessary so to do for the purpose of protecting the interest of the government revenue. Before ordering a provisional attachment the Commissioner must form an opinion on the basis of tangible material that the assessee is likely to defeat the demand, if any, and that therefore, it is necessary so to do for the purpose of protecting the interest of the government revenue.

76.6. The expression "necessary so to do for protecting the government revenue" implicates that the interests of the government revenue cannot be protected without ordering a provisional attachment.

76.7. The formation of an opinion by the Commissioner under Section 83(1) must be based on tangible material bearing on the necessity of ordering a provisional attachment for the purpose of protecting the interest of the government revenue.

76.8. In the facts of the present case, there was a clear non-application of mind by the Joint Commissioner to the provisions of Section 83, rendering the provisional attachment illegal.

76.9. Under the provisions of Rule 159(5), the person whose property is attached is entitled to dual procedural safeguards:

(a) An entitlement to submit objections on the ground that the property was or is not liable to attachment; and

(b) An opportunity of being heard.

There has been a breach of the mandatory requirement of Rule 159(5) and the Commissioner was clearly misconceived in law in coming into conclusion that he had a discretion on whether or not to grant an opportunity of being heard.

76.10. The Commissioner is duty-bound to deal with the objections to the attachment by passing a reasoned order which must be communicated to the taxable person whose property is attached.

76.11. A final order having been passed under Section 74(9), the proceedings under Section 74 are no longer pending as a result of which the provisional attachment must come to an end.

76.12. The appellant having filed an appeal against the order under Section 74(9), the provisions of sub-sections (6) and (7) of Section 107 will come into operation in regard to the payment of the tax and stay on the recovery of the balance as stipulated in those provisions, pending the disposal of the appeal.

77. For the above reasons, we allow the appeal and set aside the impugned judgment and order of the High Court dated 1-1-2021 [Radha Krishan Industries v. State of H.P., 2021 SCC OnLine HP 4566] ."

(Emphasis added)

6. Upon perusal of Sub-section 2 of Section 83 of the Act, it appears that such provisional attachment shall cease to have effect after the expiry of a period of one year. The department cannot be allowed simpliciter to issue a second notice, and thereafter, third and fourth and continue with the provisional attachment for four to five years without giving any fresh reason for the said provisional attachment. If the same was allowed, Sub-section 2 of Section 83 of the Act would become otiose and have no relevance whatsoever.

7. One may look into the judgment passed by the Calcutta High Court in the case of Amazonite Steels Pvt. Ltd. vs. Union of India reported in 2020 (36) G.S.T.L. 184 (Cal.), wherein the Court has held as follows:-

"Epilogue:

"A tax collector should collect taxes from a taxpayer just like a bee collects honey from a flower in an expert manner without disturbing its petals" - Kautilya in Arthashastra.

38. The new regime under the GST Act, 2017 is a new legislative creation by which the Union Government along with all the State Governments have streamlined various statutes under which tax was earlier collected to enhance the ease of doing business by preventing multi-point taxation that was extremely cumbersome and time consuming for the citizens of India. The raison d'etre of the GST Act, 2017 is to reduce the burden of tax and also to simplify the procedures. This, however, is coupled with certain far reaching and drastic measures that would be applicable on persons who evade the payment of such taxes. One need not stress the importance of the responsibility that comes upon the Government officials who take such drastic measures upon the citizens of this country. Nonetheless, these drastic provisions come with a purpose, and that is to ensure collection of taxes so that the inequities in society may be reduced by the Government. Provisions such as provisional attachment are necessary to ensure that persons who intend to evade taxes and/or are a part of a mechanism to defraud the Government are nipped in the bud and appropriate taxes can be collected from such persons."

8. We are of the view that the legislature never intended this provision to be read in a casual manner, as the provision for provisional attachment is a drastic measure that the Department takes even before assessing the liability of the petitioner. This provision is in the nature of preventive detention in criminal cases where one detains a person without any offence having been committed.

9. In light of the above, it becomes extremely necessary for the Department to justify the reasons for such a provisional attachment and without such justification being provided by the Department, by way of specific reasons, such provisional attachment would be illegal, arbitrary and non est in law. In the present facts and circumstances of the case, we do not find recording of any such reasons.

10. Accordingly, the provisional attachment order dated May 16, 2024 is quashed and set aside. The bank concerned is directed to remove the attachment and immediately allow the petitioner to have access to the said bank account. Needless to mention, the Department shall be at liberty to proceed in accordance with law.

11. The writ petition is allowed.

(Delivered by Hon'ble J.J. Munir, J.)

1. This is a defendants' second appeal arising out of a suit for permanent prohibitory injunction.

2. Original Suit No.1187 of 1991 was instituted by the four plaintiffs, Virendra
Kumar, Sheo Singh, Rampal Singh Chauhan and Km. Pushpa with a case that plaintiff-respondents Nos.1 to 3 are tenants in the premises detailed at the foot of the plaint since the year 1970 on a monthly rent of Rs.300/-. Defendant-respondent
No.5, Sirajuddin son of Fariduddin, arrayed as defendant No.3 to the suit, was the owner of the said premises and the land comprising it. He agreed to transfer the premises aforesaid in the plaintiff-respondents' favour, and for the purpose, executed a registered agreement to sell dated 05.04.1990. The agreement to sell last mentioned (for short, 'the suit agreement') covenants to transfer an area of 5000 square yards, situate in Khasra No.5751M of Khewat Nos.1 and 15, Qasba Meerut (for short, 'the suit property'). The further case of the plaintiff-respondents is that they are residing in the premises under reference as tenants and now by virtue of the suit agreement have contracted a right to purchase the suit property for a total sale consideration of Rs.5,00,000/-. Out of the settled sale consideration, the plaintiff-respondents have paid an earnest in the sum of Rs.4,70,000/- to defendant-respondent No.5. The plaintiff-respondents say that they were paying rent to defendant-respondent No.5 regularly up to the date of execution of the said agreement, but not later on, as was covenanted between the plaintiff-respondents and defendant-respondent No.5 at the time of execution and registration of the last mentioned agreement that no further rent shall be payable by the plaintiff-respondents to defendant-respondent No.5 for reason that a substantial part of the sale consideration had been paid at the time of registration of the suit agreement.

3. It is also the plaintiff-respondents' case that in part performance of the suit agreement, possession of the suit property has been given to the plaintiff-respondents (described in the plaint as 'remained with the plaintiffs'). The plaintiff-respondents are residing in the suit property and tethering their cattle there. The defendant-appellants have no concern with the suit property. It has never been acquired by the defendant-appellants and no proceedings for acquisition of the suit property have been taken. The defendant-appellants never sent any notice to the plaintiff-respondents or defendant-respondent No.5 with regard to the suit property, or so to speak, regarding its acquisition or taking possession. The constructions standing in the suit property are old and neither the plaintiff-respondents nor defendant-respondent No.5 have raised any new construction. The plaintiff-respondents do not own any other house, except the one located in the suit property in the city of Meerut.

4. In the first week of September, 1991, the employees of the defendant-appellants attempted to take possession of the suit property and also attempted demolition of the constructions standing thereon. The plaintiff-respondents, therefore, sent a notice under Section 88 of the Uttar Pradesh Avas Evam Vikas Parishad Adhiniyam, 1965 (for short, 'the Act of 1965') to the defendant-appellants on 10.09.1991, which was received by the said defendant-appellants, but not answered. The employees of the defendant-appellants, a day before institution of the suit, attempted to demolish the plaintiff-respondents' construction and take forcible possession of the suit property. They are also said to have demanded money of the plaintiff-respondents. It was on this cause of action that the plaintiff-respondents prayed that a decree of permanent injunction be granted against the defendant-appellants, restraining them from interfering in the rights and possession of the plaintiff-respondents or user by the plaintiffs of the suit property (described as working of the plaintiffs on the premises) and from demolishing any construction of theirs on the said property, a full description of which is given at the foot of the plaint. It must be mentioned here that in the plaint, the suit property was originally described as follows:

“Open land with four rooms situated at Victoria Park, Dhobighat, Jail Chungi, Meerut bounded as follows:

East : Plot of Rajvir Singh & others.

West : Victoria Park, Sports Colony,

North : Nala, government road and Dhobighat colony.

South : Rana Pratap Enclave.”

5. The suit was instituted on 20.11.1991 with the aforesaid description of the suit property, but much later on 27.03.2009, an amendment application was made, seeking to amend the boundaries. The amendment application was allowed by the Court vide order dated 28.04.2009. The amended description of the suit property is detailed below:

“Open land with four rooms situated at Victoria Park, Dhobighat, Jail Chungi, Meerut bounded as follows:

South : earlier Plot of Rajvir Singh & others. Now colony of Avas Vikas Parishad.

North : Dhobi Ghat Colony and Victoria Park Sports Colony and thereafter road.

East : Government road thereafter Nala.

West : Now construction of Avas Vikas Parishad thereafter Rana Pratap Enclave. Thereafter Abu Nala.

6. Along with the amended plaint, a plaint map is annexed, where the suit property is denoted by the letters ABCD, an area of 5000 square yards.

7. A written statement was filed on behalf of the two defendants to the suit, who are the defendant-appellants here. They are, for all practical purposes and intents, the U.P. Avas Evam Vikas Parishad, queerly impleaded twice, first through the Housing Commissioner and then as defendant No.2 through the Assistant Housing Commissioner, Meerut. In the written statement, they have denied the ownership of defendant-respondent No.5 and say that, not being the owner, he had no right to execute the suit agreement, on the foot of which, no rights can accrue in the plaintiff-respondents' favour. The suit property was acquired by the Government and delivered unto the defendant-appellants, who are in possession of the same. It is the defendant-appellants' case that the suit property is a small piece of land, which was acquired by the Government for the Improvement Trust, Meerut. A scheme for Housing in Meerut, known as 'Housing Accommodation and Street Scheme No.1', was launched in an area lying between the Abu Nala Meerut, Garh Road and Kanker Road, now known as the University Road. The boundaries of the acquired land have been pleaded by the defendants in paragraph No.16 of the written statement, thus:

South : Meerut-Garh Mukteshwar Road.

West : Abu Nala.

East : Kanker Road which joins Abdullahpur Chungi to Meerut Garhmukteshwar Road.”

The defendant-appellants say that later on, the name of the Avas Evam Vikas Parishad, the defendant-appellants was entered in the Malikan Register on Page No.79. This entry was made in the Tehsil records on 16th of August, 1977.

8. A notification for acquisition of the land under reference was issued under Section 36 of the Town Improvement Act, 1919 and published in the Gazette of U.P. dated 22nd, 29th October, 1966 and 5th November, 1966 for information to the general public, inviting objections. It is the defendant-appellants' case that after due process of disposal of objections, the land proposed to be acquired through the earlier notifications under the Town Improvement Act was notified on 29.11.1969 under Section 32 of the Act of 1965. It is also pleaded by the defendant-appellants that upon enforcement of the Act of 1965, the Improvement Trust, constituted for the area, stood dissolved and all its assets, rights and liabilities transferred to the Avas Evam Vikas Parishad, the defendant-appellants (for short, 'the defendants'). After publication of the notification in the Gazette on 29.11.1969, the entire land detailed in the written statement stood vested in the defendants and possession of the land acquired was delivered on 13.01.1972 to the defendants by the Government. The defendants say that the plaintiff-respondents and defendant-respondent No.5 are not at all entitled to raise any constructions on any part of the suit property, located in part of Khasra No.5751, without the sanction of a plan for the purpose by the Avas Evam Vikas Parishad. To do otherwise, would be a contravention of Section 83 of the Act of 1965. It seems to be the alternate case of the defendants that if any constructions have been raised by the plaintiff-respondents, though not admitted, in the suit property, comprising a part of Khasra No.5751, in contravention of provisions of the Act of 1965, the plaintiff-respondents are liable to be penalized under Section 73 of the last mentioned Act. The defendants are vested by statute with the right to demolish the said constructions, if any, standing on the suit property under Sections 82 and 83 of the Act of 1965. They have a right to enter in the said land under Section 84 of the last mentioned statute.

9. On the 8/9th of August, 1992, the defendants lodged a First Information Report with the jurisdictional police station against unknown anti-social elements, who were attempting to encroach the suit property, which belonged to the Avas Evam Vikas Parishad. Acting on the FIR, the Police demolished the unauthorized and illegal constructions found on the spot. The defendants say that the plaintiff-respondents (for short, 'the plaintiffs') are not residing in the suit property, but live in separate residences of their own in the city, a fact mentioned in the cause title of the plaint. Defendant-respondent No.5 was never the owner of the suit property and, therefore, the suit agreement, described by the defendants as 'so called', is a nullity in the eye of law and void. In the absence of any right, title or interest and lawful possession, the plaintiffs have no cause of action to maintain the suit. The description of the suit property given in the plaint is castigated as vague and incorrect. The boundaries of Khasra No.5751, part of which was delivered into the possession of the defendants by the Government (by virtue of the acquisition), have been given in paragraph No.27 of the written statement, thus:

“North: Pakki Nali and thereafter Dhobi Ghat and Abadi of others.

South: Part of Khasra No.5749 and part of Khasra No.5750.

East: Nala and Khasra No.5733.
West: Abu Nala."

10. It is also the defendants' case that though possession of the plaintiff is not admitted, but if they be found in possession, they are no more than trespassers in the suit property. Their suit, therefore, is not maintainable. The suit is barred by estoppel and acquiescence, besides the want of notice under Section 88 of the Act of 1965.

11. On the pleadings of parties, the Trial Court framed the following issues (translated into English from Hindi):

"1. Whether defendant No.3 was owner of the suit property? If yes, its effect?

2. Whether plaintiff Nos.1 to 3 were tenants in the suit property from the year 1970 at the rate of Rs.300/- per month? If yes, its effect?

3. Whether defendant No.3 has executed a registered agreement dated 05.04.1990 to transfer the suit property in the plaintiffs' favour for a total sale consideration of Rs.5,00,000/-, out of which the plaintiffs have paid defendant No.3 a sum of Rs.4,70,000/- in advance?

4. Whether possession of the suit property has been delivered to the plaintiffs in part performance? If yes, its effect?

5. Whether the suit property has been acquired by the Government and its possession delivered to defendant Nos.1 and 2 as averred in paragraph Nos.7 and 16 to 20 of the written statement?

6. Whether the plaintiffs are liable to be punished under Section 73 of the U.P. Avas Evam Vikas Parishad Adhiniyam, 1965, as averred in paragraph No.21 of the written statement?

7. Whether the suit agreement is void and has any evidentiary value? If yes, its effect?

8. Whether in view of the averments in paragraph No.26 of the written statement, the plaint is liable to be rejected?

9. Whether the suit is barred by the principle of estoppel and acquiescence?

10. Whether the plaintiffs' suit is barred by Section 88 of the U.P. Avas Evam Vikas Parishad Adhiniyam for want of notice?

11. To what relief is the plaintiffs entitled?"

12. The plaintiffs in support of their case filed documentary evidence, a summary of which is recorded in the judgment of the Trial Court. Apart from the documentary evidence, the plaintiffs examined PW-1 Virendra Kumar, PW-2 Rampal Singh, PW-3 Raj Kumar Sharma and PW-4 Jaipal Sharma. The defendants too filed documentary evidence, a summary whereof figures in the judgment of the Trial Court. Two witnesses were examined on behalf of the defendants, to wit, DW-1 Umesh Mohan Sharma and DW-2 Jeet Singh.

13. The Trial Court determined Issues Nos.1, 2, 3, 4 and 7 together. The Trial Court after considering the case and evidence of parties on the aforesaid issues remarked that the evidence shows that so far as the plaintiffs are concerned, they had in their favour the suit agreement, but no sale deed had been executed. It is remarked by the Trial Court that in Khasra No.5751, names of a number of other persons are also recorded. The plaintiffs never applied for a survey to be done in order to determine in which Khasra number the suit property was located. It is opined that on the basis of the suit agreement alone, the plaintiffs would not become owners. The Trial Court has also frowned much upon the fact that in the suit agreement, the suit property has not been properly described with reference to its location. It is described as 5000 square yards of land with its boundaries given. The agreement is of the year 1990, but no sale deed was attempted to be secured by the plaintiffs. This, in the opinion of the Trial Court, shows that the suit agreement is sham. It is more than once emphasized by the learned Trial Judge in his findings on these issues that in the absence of a survey being done, it is difficult to determine in which plot number, the suit property is located. More or less on this reasoning, the Trial Court decided Issues Nos.1, 2, 3, 4 and 7 against the plaintiffs and in the defendants' favour.

14. Issue No.5 was decided against the plaintiffs and in the defendants' favour, holding that the suit property had been acquired by the Government for the defendants, who have been given possession thereof. The defendants are owners in possession of the suit property. Issues Nos.8 and 11 were determined together. Here again, the Trial Court has emphasized the fact that the plaintiffs did not take steps to get the suit property surveyed nor did they secure execution of a sale deed in their favour from defendant-respondent No.5, Sirajuddin. The Trial Court on these findings dismissed the suit with costs vide judgment and decree dated 16.08.2005.

15. Aggrieved, the plaintiffs appealed the decree to the District Judge of Meerut, where their appeal was numbered as Civil Appeal No.181 of 2005. It was assigned to the learned Additional District Judge, Court No.7, Meerut, before whom it came up for hearing. The learned Additional District Judge by his judgment and decree dated 07.01.2010 allowed the plaintiffs' appeal with costs, set aside the judgment and decree passed by the Trial Court, reversed the same and decreed the suit with costs. The defendants were restrained from interfering with the plaintiffs' possession in the suit property, denoted by letters ABCD.

16. Disillusioned by the decree passed by the learned Additional District Judge, the defendants have appealed to this Court under Section 100 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (for short, 'the Code').

17. The appeal was admitted to hearing on 07.04.2010, when the following substantial questions of law were formulated:

1. Whether the plaintiff-respondents can claim or maintain any rights or title over the land in question only on the basis of agreement of sale executed by Sirajuddin?

2. Whether the plaintiff-respondents who claim tenancy rights also over the land in question could contest the claim of U.P. Awas Vikas Parishad, Lucknow to acquisition of land in question on grounds other than those to which a tenant is entitled in law?

18. On 07.08.2019, another substantial question of law was framed, which reads:

Whether the lower appellate court was justified in allowing the appeal and decreeing the suit of the plaintiff-respondent without the boundaries mentioned in the amended plaint being duly proved?

19. After the hearing had proceeded substantially on 28.02.2024, 29.02.2024,

01.03.2024, 04.03.2024, 05.03.2024, 07.03.2024 and 11.03.2024, on 12th of March, 2024, this Court thought it imperative to frame a further substantial question of law, to which the parties agreed. Accordingly, following substantial question of law, marked as '(iv)' was formulated. It reads:

Whether the issue being if part of Khasra No. 5751 i.e. the suit property is located in Khewat Nos. 1 and 15 or Khewat No. 445, it was imperative for the Court to issue a Survey Commission or adopt the Total Station Method in order to locate the suit property?

20. This appeal was heard on 28.02.2024, and, thereafter, across a number of dates until 14.03.2024, when judgment was reserved.

21. The learned Counsel for the parties addressed the Court on Substantial Question of Law No.1, the third that was formulated on 07.08.2019, without being numbered, which shall be referred to as Substantial Question of Law No.3, and for the most part on the question that was formulated last, that is to say, Question No. (iv). Upon considering the submissions of parties on Substantial Question of Law No. (iv), the way these were addressed, this Court thought that the question was formulated on slightly different terms than those involved, which required clarification and perhaps re-formulation, on which the parties had to be heard again. Accordingly, the appeal was posted for further hearing on 06.09.2024. On the said day, learned Counsel for the parties were apprised about the terms of Substantial Question of Law No. (iv) formulated on 12.03.2024, seeking clarification about their submissions advanced earlier. The learned Counsel appearing for both parties agreed that given their submissions on the substantial question under reference, it was required to be re-formulated. Accordingly, Substantial Question of Law No.(iv), framed on 12.03.2024, was reformulated on 06.09.2024 in the following terms:

(iv) Whether the issue being if the suit property is located in Khasra Nos. 5751/1, 5751/2, 5751/3, 5751/4, 5751/6, 5751/7, 5751/8, 5751/9, 5751/10, 5751/11 and 5751/12 or a part of these plots (unacquired) or Khasra No.5751/5 (acquired), all part of Khewat Nos. 1 and 15, it was imperative for the Court to issue a Survey Commission or adopt the Total Station Method?

22. Before proceeding further and answering the questions involved in this appeal, it must be recorded here that in the Lower Appellate Court, extensive documentary evidence was admitted to record, a copious description of which in a summary finds record in the judgment of that Court. There are three registered agreements, apparently executed by defendant-respondent No.5, either directly or through his attorney, in favour of the plaintiffs dated 07.10.2005, 29.09.2008 and 16.09.2009, extending the life of the original registered agreement to sell dated 05.04.1990. Apart from it, there are many documents relating to acquisition by the defendants brought on record, some of which have been secured under the Right to Information Act. PW-1, Virendra Kumar, who is the first plaintiff in the suit, has testified before the Lower Appellate Court in the witness-box.

23. Heard Mr. Ramesh Upadhyaya, learned Senior Advocate assisted by Mr. Rajan Upadhyay, learned Counsel for the defendants in support of this appeal, Mr. Ashish Kumar Singh, learned Counsel appearing on behalf of defendant-respondent No.5 and Mr. Pushkar Mehrotra, learned Counsel appearing for plaintiffs Nos.1, 2, 3 and 4.

24. As regards the first substantial question of law, the Lower Appellate Court has extensively referred to the recorded chain of title relating to Khasra No.5751, regarding the part falling in Khewat No.1. It has been noticed that Khewat No.15 relating to Khasra No.5751, paper No.144-Ga shows the name of Sirajuddin son of Fariduddin, defendant-respondent No.5 recorded along with the other co-owners. The Lower Appellate Court has opined that a perusal of paper No.145-Ga/3 supports the fact that Shafiuddin son of Rafiuddin was recorded in Khasra No.5751M to the extent of 0.9360 hectare. Likewise, paper No.145-Ga/4 shows that in Khewat No.15, Shafiuddin son of Rafiuddin's name is recorded in Khasra No.5751M to the extent of 1.3160 hectares. Others too are recorded in the plot with their possession shown by way of abadi. It is then remarked that Khasra No.5751 also finds record in paper No.147-Ga for the Fasli Year 1410. It is also remarked by the Lower Appellate Court that paper No.142-Ga is a sale deed executed by Khan Bahadur Sheikh Wahiuddin in favour Bhuria, which is now Allah Mehar's land. This fact shows that in the opinion of the Judge in the Lower Appellate Court, Wahiuddin sold land to Allah Mehar, leaving back the remainder of his land lying towards south of that sold in Khasra No.5751M. The inference drawn by the learned Judge in the Lower Appellate Court is that the suit property, denoted by letters ABCD (in the plaint map) lies to the south of the Dhobi Ghat and belongs to the heirs of Khan Bahadur Wahiuddin, where in the Khewat, Shafiuddin son of Rafiuddin is recorded along with others. It is also remarked that in the same Khewat, defendant-respondent No.5, Sirajuddin is also recorded as a owner. A copy of the plaint, bearing paper No.117-Ga, giving rise O.S. No.21 of 1993, Jamaluddin v. Mughisuddin and another, from the Court of the 5th Additional Civil Judge, Meerut has been noticed by the Lower Appellate Court to show that Shafiuddin son of Rafiuddin was defendant No.20 to the said suit, who had died and in his place, his heirs had been substituted as defendant Nos.20/1, Kutubuddin, 20/2, Sirajuddin and 20/3, Abdul Qadir, all sons of Sheikh Fariduddin. This has led the Lower Appellate Court to further infer that Shafiuddin, who was recorded in Khasra No.5751, Khewat No.15 to the extent of 1.3160 hectares and Khewat No.1 to the extent of 0.9360 hectare, had died, leaving behind defendant-respondent No.5, Sirajuddin, inheriting a one-third share that he owned in the Khewat. It is also noticed that Sirajuddin was already recorded in Khewat Nos.1 and 15 as one of the owners (Malikan). From these facts, the Lower Appellate Court has inferred that defendant-respondent No.5, Sirajuddin was owner in possession of land, comprising his share in Khasra No.5751 of Khewat Nos.1 and 15. It is then remarked by the learned Judge that defendant-respondent No.5 has not traversed the plaintiffs' claim and the suit against him had proceeded ex parte. He had executed the suit agreement, the execution of which was proved by Virendra Kumar, PW-1 and Jaipal Sharma, PW-2, who were witnesses of the agreement. A further agreement to sell and extending the term of the suit agreement, paper No.173-Ga (photostat copy of which is paper No.174-Ga) has been executed on 16.09.2009. The suit agreement has, therefore, been found to be still an enforceable contract. The suit agreement was opined by the Lower Appellate Court to be one showing the boundaries of the suit property, comprising 5000 square yards of land, contracted to be purchased for the worth of Rs.5,00,000/-, out of which a sum of Rs.4,70,000/- was paid in earnest.

25. In the opinion of the learned Judge in the Lower Appellate Court, the suit agreement shows that the plaintiffs were in possession of the suit property, earlier as tenants. It is remarked that the issue, whether the plaintiffs had paid the requisite sale consideration to defendant-respondent No.5 is a matter inter se the two parties, where the defendants have no locus standi to object. From the testimony of PW-1 Virendra Kumar, PW-2 Rampal Singh, PW-3 Raj Kumar Sharma and PW-4 Jaipal Sharma, in the witness-box, it has been concluded by the Lower Appellate Court for a fact that it is the plaintiffs, who are in possession of the suit property. The suit agreement affirms the fact that at the time of entering into it, the plaintiffs were in occupation of the suit property on a monthly rent of Rs.300/- since the year 1970. It has also been remarked that rent receipts have been produced and proved.

26. The question, therefore, if the plaintiffs can claim or maintain any rights or title over the suit property on the basis of an agreement to sell alone, executed by Sirajuddin, is to be answered in the affirmative. The reason is that inter se Sirajuddin, defendant-respondent No.5, who has been found by the Lower Appellate Court on a plausible view of the evidence on record to be the owner of the suit property and the plaintiffs, there is no dispute that the plaintiffs are in possession of the suit property. Their possession commenced as tenants way back in the year 1970 and the character and nature of their rights altered to that of a vendee, holding under a contract, whose existing possession had been converted to one referable to the agreement to sell or the suit agreement here. It really means that the former tenants, to wit, the plaintiffs, are now in possession of the suit property in part performance of the suit agreement. Assuming that the plaintiffs are not in possession of the suit property in part performance of the suit agreement, but as tenants, properly so called, or holding over, or at sufferance, there is no quarrel about the fact that howsoever inchoate the plaintiffs' title, it is a case for the plaintiffs, holding permissive possession of the suit property at the instance of the owner thereof, to wit, defendant-respondent No.5, Sirajuddin.

27. Now, the other issues to what extent Sirajuddin is the owner of the suit property, vis-à-vis his co-sharers and what is the extent of his rights in the suit property, area-wise, is a matter inter se Sirajuddin and his co-sharers, and may be the plaintiffs. The fact if the plaintiffs are still tenants of some kind or in possession of the suit property in part performance, as already remarked, is also a matter between the plaintiffs on one hand, and defendant-respondent No.5, Sirajuddin on the other. It has nothing to do with the defendants unless the defendants show or establish that they have acquired title to the suit property, or so to speak, the said property through the Government under the law of acquisition. Whether they have acquired the suit property or not, is not the subject matter of this question. Elsewhere, it has been held and that alone is relevant to this question that the defendants are not the owners of the suit property. If they are not, the plaintiffs, whether in possession of the suit property by permission or licence of defendant-respondent No.5, or in their right as his tenants, or by virtue of possession traceable to part performance of the suit agreement, executed by defendant-respondent No.5, are entitled to maintain the suit for an injunction against the defendants; if not on the basis of pristine title, on the basis of a well established and sound possessory title.

28. In view of the answer to Substantial Question of Law No.1, Substantial Question of Law No.2 does not arise for consideration, as rightly objected to by the plaintiffs.

29. Now, this takes us to the third question, if the Lower Appellate Court was justified in decreeing the suit without the boundaries mentioned in the amended plaint being duly proved. The Lower Appellate Court has answered the issue if the boundaries originally given in the plaint and those amended and clarified with the aid of a plaint map effect a change in the identity of the suit property. The learned Judge has remarked that the boundaries given in the plaint, originally pleaded, showed the suit property to be one abutting the Dhobi Ghat and the Government Road. The boundaries, that were earlier given in the plaint and those presently given, on all four sides are the same. The suit property on side AB to the north showed Dhobi Ghat and Sports Colony; to the south, it earlier showed the plot of Rajveer, which land has now been given into the possession of the defendants, the Avas Evam Vikas Parishad. The suit property on the side AD shows the defendants and thereafter the Maharana Enclave. It is then remarked that upon a perusal of the map attached to the plaint, it is clear that the north-south directions relative to the suit property are diagonally placed and for the said reason, in giving the boundaries of the suit property, some confusion had arisen. A perusal of the plaint map, annexed after the amendment, clarifies the situation of the suit property and indicates no change in its location.

30. It is remarked by the Lower Appellate Court that the submission of the learned Counsel for the defendants here that there is a change brought about to the suit property has no force. The said property, as shown in the plaint map annexed, has no confusion about its identity. Now, these are findings of fact recorded by the Lower Appellate Court upon doing a comparison of the boundaries originally pleaded in the plaint, with those amended, together with the plaint map brought in through the amendment to clarify matters. It may be noticed that the suit was instituted way back in the year 1991 and the plaint giving rise to it is a document dated 20.11.1991. The boundaries were amended pursuant to an order of the Court dated 28.04.2009, made on an amendment application dated 27.03.2009. The change in boundaries, that the plaintiffs have brought in through the amendment, is distanced in time by 18 years. This Court must observe that every amendment to the boundaries in the plaint need not be proved, provided the change brought in through the amendment on a realistic appraisal of evidence, does not bring about a change to the location and the identity of the suit property. If the change, that is brought in through the amendment, is merely clarificatory of the boundaries originally pleaded, or is necessitated by the fast-changing landscape in contemporary time, where the surroundings of a given property suffer quick change due to the fast pace of development, no proof of boundaries, the change whereof is necessitated by the changed surroundings of the property overtime may be required. In this connection, reference may be made to Naresh Kumar and others v. Smt. Chawli and others, 2020 (5) ADJ 33, where I held:

“41. The findings of the lower Appellate Court, based on appreciation of documentary and oral evidence to conclude the precise manner in which Khasra No. 113 has been subdivided to leave a residue on the eastern side of the brick-worked road, laid with permission of the plaintiff, is a flawless finding of fact. It is not for this Court to interfere with that part of the finding. This Court, however, has, within the limited scope of its scrutiny clearly indicated that on a true interpretation of the title deeds, dated 3.6.1896, 4.6.1896 and 26.3.1920, there is no interpretation to be done about identity of the suit property, where conclusions have been drawn by the lower Appellate Court from evidence based on subsequent changes to physical features, that are not contemporaneous to the sale-deeds. It is held for a principle that though boundaries given in the deeds of title are the most reliable evidence about the identity of adjoining properties, but the rule may have slender or no application to a situation where physical features about the property suffer change in course of time. In this case that change happened in 1956.”

(emphasis by Court)

31. The question is, therefore, answered in the negative with the remark that given the clarificatory nature of the boundaries of the suit property brought in by amendment and depiction of changes due to development, the Lower Appellate Court committed no error in decreeing the suit without the boundaries in the amended plaint being proved.

32. Now arises for consideration the last and the most fundamental question, that is to say, the fourth substantial question of law. The question is, if it was imperative for the Court to issue a survey commission or resort to the total station method in order to locate the suit property. The dispute about the location of the suit property has arisen precisely on the issue if it is located in Khasra Nos. 5751/1, 5751/2, 5751/3, 5751/4, 5751/6, 5751/7, 5751/8, 5751/9, 5751/10, 5751/11 and 5751/12 or a part of these plots (unacquired), or Khasra No.5751/5 (acquired), all part of Khewat Nos. 1 and 15. The question about the location of the suit property has been dealt with by the Lower Appellate Court in answering Issue No.5; Issues Nos.1, 2, 3, 4 and 7 together, and, lastly, Issue No.11. In answering the substantial question of law under consideration, it is not the findings of fact recorded by the Lower Appellate Court about the location of the suit property, vis-à-vis the Khasra plot number, that we are required to re-determine, but to see if the conclusion about location of the suit property in one or the other Khasra plot number, could be reached without the aid of a survey commission. There is no quarrel on facts between parties that a survey commission following the three-fixed point method was not issued at all in this case. Neither the parties made that application, either during trial or in appeal; nor did the Court consider it appropriate to issue a survey commission. This issue was raised before the Trial Court and noticed in its judgment, but no commission was indeed issued. It is required to be seen if on the state of evidence the issue of a survey commission or adoption of the total station method to locate the suit property in one

Khasra plot number or the other with reference to its Khewat or otherwise was necessary. The Lower Appellate Court has noticed that the suit property is a 5000 square yards land, denoted in the plaint map by letters ABCD. According to the plaintiffs, it is a part of Khasra No.5751, which is included in Khewat Nos.1 and 15. It is also noticed that the plaintiffs' case is that the suit property has not been acquired by the Government. Rather, what has been acquired out of the said plot is the land comprising the Dhobi Ghat, belonging to Allah Mehar, which comprises an area of two bigha.

33. The plaintiffs' case further noticed is that two bigha of land belonging to Allah Mehar has constructions all over it and for the said reason, possession of this acquired land could not be taken. The defendants, therefore, are attempting to take possession of land to the south of Allah Mehar's, that is part of Khasra No.5751M, included in Khewat Nos.1 and 15, but not acquired in order to make good the total area of 14 bigha 16 biswa and 6 biswansi of acquired land in Khasra No.5751.

34. The learned Judge in the Lower Appellate Court while answering Issue No.5 has remarked that the conclusions of the Trial Court on the issue were not based on evidence led by parties. The evidence led by parties on this issue has not been appreciated in its context and conclusions drawn. The learned Judge has referred to paper No.48-Ga/1, which is a possession memo. A photostat copy of the said memo has been noticed to be marked as paper No.188-Ga/2. Now, about this document, it is remarked by the Lower Appellate Court that pursuant to the notification dated 12.10.1972 under Section 17 of the Land Acquisition Act, a total area of 66 bigha 6 biswansi was taken possession of by the defendants. The possession memo indicates the Khasra numbers of the plot and the relative area. It is remarked that Khasra No.5751, which is a big plot, has had an area of 12 bigha 5 biswa belonging to Bhabhuti and another agriculturist, taken possession of, besides an area of 2 bigha, also in the same Khasra No.5751M, belonging to Allah Mehar. Also taken possession of in Khasra No.5751M is an area of 11 biswa 6 biswansi, recorded in the name of Municipal Board. The total area of land acquired out of Khasra No.5751M works out to a figure of 14 bigha 16 biswa 6 biswansi.

35. It is remarked by the learned Judge that in the written statement in paragraph No.16, it is averred that a part of Khasra No.5751 alone has been acquired and that to the north of the acquired part of Khasra No.5751 lies the balance of unacquired land. The Judge in the Lower Appellate Court has taken particular note of the contents of the award passed in the compensation matter. This document was secured under the Right to Information Act and its veracity is not in doubt. The award has been noticed at page Nos.9 and 10 thereof to say that out of Khasra No.5751, 12-5-0 of land stood in the name of Bhabhuti and Bulaki, whereas these men hold no title to it. This land is nazul. It then figures at page No.10 of the award that Khasra No.5751/13, comprising 0-10-0 has not been acquired. Likewise, the award shows at page No.11 that land comprising Khasra Nos. 5751/2, 5751/3, 5751/4, 5751/6, 5751/7, 5751/8, 5751/9, 5751/10, 5751/12, admeasuring 4 bigha 14 biswa has not been acquired. On the same page, the finding recorded by the Land Acquisition Officer in the award is that 3-19-0 land in Khasra No.5751/1, and 1-5-0 in Khasra

No.5751/2, is not found included in the defendants' Housing Scheme, and a fortiori, not acquired. At page No.12 of the award, it is remarked that Sheikh Shafiuddin had said that Khasra No.5751, part of Khewat No.15, the land admeasured 5-4-0, whereas the part of Khasra No.5751 that lay in Khewat No.1, the area of land was 3-14-0. He further said that he was the tenure holder of the said land and that his father died in October, 1968. He had possession recorded in revenue records relating to the said land. Shafiuddin also credited with the statement that Khasra No.5751 is recorded as a joint holding and land acquired for Scheme No.1 includes part of land from this Khasra. Out of the said Khasra number, two bigha of land was sold by his grandfather, Wahiuddin to Mst. Bhuria vide registered sale deed dated 04.09.1949 and upon Bhuria's demise, came to be recorded in her son Allah Mehar's name in the revenue records of 1370 Fasli. Shafiuddin has further said that Allah Mehar sold the most part of his land for construction of houses. It was also said by Shafiuddin that Allah Mehar's land abuts the pucca road and Nala No.5743, and stretches across on the other side to the Dhobi Ghat constructed by him. The southern part of Khasra No.5751, by no means, is Allah Mehar's land. The southern part, admeasuring 2.30 bigha, which is being acquired, belongs to him (Shafiuddin) and he is entitled to claim compensation for it. He has also said that the remainder of land lies to the west. Now, all this testimony credited to Rafiuddin was recorded during proceedings of adjudication leading to the award by the Special Land Acquisition Officer.

36. The learned Judge has inferred from these facts that Wahiuddin was Shafiuddin's grandfather, who sold land to

Mst. Bhuria vide registered sale deed dated 04.09.1949. After Bhuria's demise, her son, Allah Mehar came to be recorded in the said land by succession. The said land houses the Dhobi Ghat as well. To the south of Allah Mehar's land, admeasuring 2 bigha, is the remainder of land belonging to Shafiuddin. The learned Judge has particularly remarked that the award holds that the inference is that Shafiuddin's demand for compensation regarding Khasra Nos. 5751/1, 5751/2, 5751/3, 5751/4, 5751/6, 5751/7, 5751/8, 5751/9, 5751/10, 5751/11 and 5751/12 is not tenable because the land aforesaid is not under acquisition. Possession of the aforesaid Khasra numbers has never been taken by the defendants. It is remarked by the Lower Appellate Court that, according to the award, the defendants took possession of Khasra No.5751, part of Khewat No.445, Khata Nos.398 and 411, admeasuring 12-16-6, comprising nazul and Khasra No.5751/5, admeasuring 2-0-0 for the purpose of the Scheme. The learned Judge has remarked that from a perusal of the award, it is pellucid that Khasra No.5751, 12-16-6 land is nazul, whereas 2 bigha comprised in Khasra No.5751/5 is Allah Mehar's land. The land situate to the south of Allah Mehar's, held by Sheikh Shafiuddin, is not included in the acquired land. The award has been relied upon by the learned Judge to infer that land to the south of the part of Khasra No.5751, upon which the Dhobi Ghat is constructed, is not acquired land at all. The possession memo, paper No.188-Ga has been noticed by the learned Judge to say that 12-5-0 land recorded in the name of Bhabhuti and another, besides Khasra No.5751M, admeasuring 0-11-6 recorded in the Municipal Board's name, totals to an area 12-16-6, which is nazul in the award. The learned Judge has also remarked that Khasra No.5751/5, admeasuring 2 bigha is Allah Mehar's land. Thus, the total land comprising 14-16-6 is acquired land, but land to the south of Allah Mehar's, is not acquired. The learned Judge has then quoted from the award thus:

"अल्लामेहर ने खसरा सं. 5751 की 2-0-0 बीघा भूमि जो जमींदारी विनाश क्षेत्र में पड़ती है, के सम्बन्ध में मुवावजा हेतु मांगपत्र प्रस्तुत किया है इन्होंने अधिकांश भूमि प्लाट बनाकर बेच दी है। इनकी भूमि अर्जन में न होते हुए भी यह प्रतिकर पाने की कोशिश कर रहे हैं।"

37. It is then recorded by the Lower Appellate Court that in view of the said finding by the Land Acquisition Officer, Allah Mehar was not paid any compensation for the 2 bigha of his land. It is further remarked that though the land of Khasra No.5751/5 admeasuring 2 bigha is under acquisition and Allah Mehar's name is recorded over it, but in consequence of Allah Mehar selling the said land to third parties, possession of the same could not be taken. Referring to the award extensively, the learned Judge has inferred that out of the total area of land acquired in Khasra No.5751M, to wit, 14-16-6, 2-0-0, belonging to Allah Mehar, could not be taken possession of. The physical possession taken, according to the award, was noticed to be 11-19-12 i.e. short by 2-16-14. The learned Judge has opined that the defendants' case that they have taken possession of the entire area of acquired land, admeasuring 14-16-6 physically, which does not include Allah Mehar's land, that is to say, 2 bigha of the Dhobi Ghat, which was not acquired, but lay to the south of Dhobi Ghat, is incorrect. There are very detailed comparison with areas of the acquired land, old records and guesswork done on some probabilities, whether the suit property could indeed be part of the acquired land or away from it. The conclusion drawn is that the suit property, that lay to the south of Allah Mehar's land, was not included in the acquired land and that part of Khasra No.5751M was unacquired. To the same effect are the findings on Issue No.11.

38. Now, on the undisputed facts, what may not be denied are that the only land acquired, comprising Khasra No.5751M, part of Khewat Nos.1 and 15 was the one sold away by the ancestors of defendant-respondent No.5 to Mst. Bhuria vide sale deed dated 04.09.1949. In former times, Khasra No.5751 was a very large number, spread across a number of Khewat. It is also not disputed that the land of Khasra No.5751, belonging to defendant-respondent No.5 and rented out to the plaintiffs, and subsequently contracted to be sold, is located in that part of Khasra No.5751, which lies in Khewat Nos.1 and 15. The only part of Khasra No.5751 lying in Khewat Nos.1 and 15, that was acquired, is an area of 2 bigha sold to Bhuria, and, subsequently, inherited by Allah Mehar. It is also not in dispute that the suit property lies in the southern part of Khasra No.5751, part of Khewat Nos.1 and 15, owned by defendant-respondent No.5 and let out to the plaintiffs, and subsequently contracted to be sold to them.

39. The Lower Appellate Court seems to have attempted to determined the matter with reference to the findings in the award passed by the Special Land Acquisition Officer, the records, the relative location of different parts of Khasra No.5751, the way they are placed direction-wise to one another, because what is not in dispute is that most of the acquired part of Khasra No.5751 lie in other Khewat numbers; not 1 and 15. At the same time, there is no quarrel, as already said, that the suit property is definitely located in that part of Khasra No.5751, which is included in Khewat Nos.1 and 15. The last fact that has led the Lower Appellate Court to decide finally and without undertaking a survey of the suit property with reference to its plot number, in which it is located, is the fact that Allah Mehar's part of Khasra No.5751, lying in Khewat Nos.1 and 15, alone has admittedly been acquired, which measures 2-0-0 with evidence there to the effect that Allah Mehar sold away his 2 bigha to third parties, of which possession could not be taken due to encroachment and constructions over it. The Lower Appellate Court moved to a quick finding that for the balance of the total area of acquired land in Khasra No.5751, to wit, 14-16-6, part of Khewat Nos.1 and 15, the defendants have attempted to encroach into the suit property, claiming it as theirs in lieu of the short area of Allah Mehar's, of which they could not take possession.

40. This Court must remark that Khasra No.5751, the part lying in Khewat Nos.1 and 15, has since come to be subdivided into Khasra Nos.5751/1, 5751/2, 5751/3, 5751/4, 5751/5, 5751/6, 5751/7, 5751/8, 5751/9, 5751/10, 5751/11, 5751/12. It is no longer an undivided or minjumla number, but has definitive subdivisions, all bearing different survey plot numbers/ Khasra numbers. It is also not in dispute that the survey plot number or Khasra number of land owned by Allah Mehar is 5751/5. Abutting it to the south, are different subdivisions of Khasra Nos.5751/1, 5751/2, 5751/3, 5751/4, 5751/6, 5751/7, 5751/8, 5751/9, 5751/10, 5751/11, 5751/12, in some of which the suit property is located. There is every possibility that the suit property might include some part or area of Khasra No.5751/5. Therefore, it is of the first importance to determine in which plot numbers precisely the suit property lies. By now, it has come to be settled for a principle that in the face of any doubt or dispute, if the suit property is located in one survey plot number or Khasra number or the other, has to be determined through a survey commission following the three fixed points method. If fixed points are no longer available, the precise location of the suit property with reference to the survey plot number or Khasra number can be done through resort to the total station method. The principle that in case of a dispute about the location of the property in one survey plot number or the other, it is necessary to issue a survey commission, has come to be well settled.

41. The principle that in case of a dispute about the location of the property in one survey plot number or the other, it is necessary to issue a survey commission, which would identify the suit property following the fixed point method, is laid down by the Supreme Court in Shreepat v. Rajendra Prasad and others, 2000 (40) ALR 534: JT 2000 (7) SC 379. It has been held in Shreepat (supra):

“1. Respondent No. 1 - Rajendra Prasad had instituted a suit for declaration and possession over land bearing Khasra No. 257/3 against the Appellant on the ground that he had purchased this land from its previous owner - Premnarayan - by a registered sale-deed. It was further pleaded that the Appellant had forcibly taken possession and was trying to construct his house. The suit was resisted by the Appellant on the grounds, inter alia, that the land in dispute was not part of Kteasra Plot No. 257/3, but was part of Khasra Plot No. 257/1 which was the Government land and over which the Appellant was in possession since long, it having been leased out to him. It was also pleaded that he had constructed the house over that land.

2. On a consideration of the evidence on record, the trial court decreed the suit. The decree was affirmed by the lower appellate court and upheld by the High Court in Second Appeal.

3. The principal contention raised by learned Counsel for the Appellant is that though there was a serious dispute with regard to the identity of the land in dispute, whether the land in dispute formed part of Khasra No. 257/3 or Khasra No. 257/1 (sic) courts below did not get the identity established and decreed the suit of the Respondent only on the basis of oral evidence which was not sufficient for the purpose of establishing the identity of the land in dispute at the spot.

4. In our opinion, this contention is correct. Since there was a serious dispute with regard to the area and boundaries of the land in question, especially with regard to its identity, the courts below, before decreeing the suit should have got the identity established by issuing a survey commission to locate the plot in dispute and find out whether it formed part of Khasra No. 257/3 or Khasra No 257/1. This having not been done has resulted 'in serious miscarriage of justice. We consequently allow the appeal, set aside' the order passed by the courts below as affirmed by the High Court and remand the case to the trial court to dispose of the suit afresh in the light of the observations made above and in accordance with law."

42. In the fast changing landscape of the present day, fixed points sometimes disappear and are no longer available. If that be the position, to determine the Khasra number, where the suit property is located and demarcate it with reference to its plot number, an alternate method of more recent origin is the total station method. That this method can be utilized to demarcate lands/ property with regard to their location in one survey number or the other was held by the Delhi High Court in Delhi Development Authority v. Mohd. Sher Nabi Chaman and others, 2015 SCC OnLine Del 7832, where it is observed:

"13. At this stage, I may also deal with and dispose of an argument urged on behalf of the respondent no. 1/plaintiff/ applicant/ review petitioner that the right to file objections if taken away would seriously affect the rights of the respondent no. 1/plaintiff/ applicant/ review petitioner, however, this argument conveniently ignores the fact that both the parties agreed to be bound by the fresh demarcation report to be carried out in terms of the Total Station Method. Since both the parties agreed, more so because there was a very narrow scope of the respondent no. 1/plaintiff/applicant/review petitioner existing whether in khasra nos. 22/3, 22/4, 22/8, 22/9 and 25/20/2 of village Mandoli as claimed by him or in khasra nos. 976 min., 977 min., 978 min. and 979 min. of village Mandoli which was the land of the petitioner/DDA, therefore, there is no prejudice to the respondent no. 1/ plaintiff/ applicant/ review petitioner and hence these arguments urged on behalf of the respondent no. 1/ plaintiff/applicant/review petitioner are rejected.

14. The next argument which was urged on behalf of the respondent no. 1/ plaintiff/ applicant/ review petitioner was that the revenue law does not entitle the demarcation by the Total Station Method, however, in my opinion, this is an argument of desperation because there is no bar under the revenue law not to carry out demarcation by the Total Station Method. Merely because a particular method is provided in the revenue laws which was passed many decades back, does not mean that the modern methods with respect to demarcation cannot be adopted by the revenue authorities, more so when such a method is now the only available proper method, because the traditional methods were with respect to areas and lands which were unconstructed and wherein demarcation could be done by traditional methods, but when the entire city is built up, demarcation will have to be done by the laser method i.e the Total Station Method inasmuch as which is done with respect to the fixed and specific points in terms of the revenue law. This argument urged on behalf of the respondent no. 1/ plaintiff/ applicant/ review petitioner is also therefore rejected.”

43. In the entire gamut of the otherwise very detailed findings recorded by the Lower appellate Court to answer for the plaintiffs, the ignorance of this principle in a dispute about location of the suit property being in one plot number or numbers, or the other or others specified, would vitiate the conclusions. In this case, the principle applies with greater force, because the controversy has, as already remarked, narrowed down to the issue if the suit property is located in Khasra No.5751/5, which is the only plot number of the subdivided plots of Khasra No.5751, located in Khewat Nos.1 and 15, that has admittedly been acquired. Other parts of Khasra No.5751 or its later subdivided plots fall in other Khewats; not Khewat No.1 or 15. The suit property, which the plaintiffs claim comprising Khasra No.5751, and now, its subdivided numbers is located in Khewat Nos.1 and 15; not the other Khewat. These issues have already been dwelt upon by the Lower Appellate Court in punctilious detail, which need not detain us. Nevertheless, the findings of the Lower Appellate Court cannot be upheld unless a survey of the contiguous Khasra Nos. 5751/1, 5751/2, 5751/3, 5751/4, 5751/6, 5751/7, 5751/8, 5751/9, 5751/10, 5751/11, 5751/12 on one hand and Khasra No.5751/5 on the other, is carried out according to the fixed points method. If survey is not possible, the location of the suit property in the precise Khasra numbers has to be determined through the total station method.

44. In view of the aforesaid conclusions, Substantial Question of Law No. (iv) is answered in the affirmative.

45. In view of the answer to Substantial Question of Law No.(iv), the judgment of the Lower Appellate Court would have to be set aside with a remit of the matter to that Court with a direction to hear and decide the appeal afresh, after causing a fixed point survey of the suit property with regard to its location in one set of plot numbers or the other. Or, failing a fixed point survey of the suit property, the location thereof with reference to its plot number/ numbers has to be undertaken, adopting the total station method.

46. The result would be that the decree passed by the Lower Appellate Court would have to be set aside with a remit of the matter to that Court with the direction that the location of the suit property in one plot number or the other, and, particularly, if it is located in Khasra No.5751/5 or in the contiguous Khasra Nos. 5751/1, 5751/2, 5751/3, 5751/4, 5751/6, 5751/7, 5751/8, 5751/9, 5751/10, 5751/11, 5751/12, would have to be determined through the agency of a survey commission, who would undertake it following the three fixed points method. If the survey commission fails for the non-availability of three fixed points, a fresh commission shall be issued to a trained agency to determine the location of the suit property as aforesaid, following the total station method. Upon the submission of a report by the Survey Commissioner following the fixed point method, or the total station method, as the case may be, the parties would have a right to object and lead necessary evidence. The Lower Appellate Court will then re-hear and decide the appeal afresh, all to be done within a period of six months from the date of receipt of a copy of this judgment and order.

47. In the result, this appeal succeeds and is allowed in part. The impugned decree passed by the Lower Appellate Court is set aside with an order of remand in above terms.

48. The costs of this appeal shall abide by the event in the appeal before the Lower Appellate Court.

49. Let the lower court's records be sent down at once.

Civil Law - Civil Procedure Code, 1908 - Section 100 - Order VII - Rule 11 - U.P. Avas Evam Vikas Parishad Adhiniyam, 1965 - Sections 17, 32 & 88(2) - U.P. Town Improvement Act, 1919 - Section - 36 - Specific Relief Act, 1963 - Sections 38 & 41 - Second Appeal - filed by defendants - original suit - for a permanent prohibitory injunction - filed by five plaintiffs, against the defendant-appellants, who claim ownership and tenancy of a disputed property - The trial court dismissed the suit - but, the appeal filed by plaintiffs was allowed, leading to a decree in their favour - The defendants then appealed in instant Second Appeal - raised substantial questions of law regarding the ownership and identity of the disputed land - court finds that, in the entire gamut of the otherwise very detailed findings recorded by the lower appellant court to answer for the plaintiffs, the ignorance of this principle in dispute about location of the suit property being in one plot number or numbers or the other, would vitiate the conclusions - held, the findings of the lower appellate court cannot be U.P.held unless a survey of the contiguous Khasra numbers is duly carried out according to the fixed point method - hence, the impugned decree passed by lower appellate court is set aside - matter is remanded back to the court for further investigation to accurately determine the location of the suit property using a survey commission or the total station method - lower appellate court will then rehear and decide the appeal afresh - directions issued, accordingly - Appeal is allowed in part.(Para - 38, 40, 41, 42)

(Delivered by Hon'ble J.J. Munir, J.)

1. This is a defendants' second appeal arising out of a suit for permanent prohibitory injunction.

2. Original Suit No.866 of 2005 was instituted in the Court of the City Munsif, Meerut by the five plaintiff-respondents to this appeal, praying that a decree of permanent injunction be passed against the defendants, to wit, the U.P. Avas Evam Vikas Parishad, Lucknow and the Assistant Housing Commissioner of the Parishad aforesaid to the effect that the defendants be restrained from interfering in the rights and possession of the plaintiffs, demolishing their standing constructions or interfering with the construction work carried on by the plaintiffs on the land in dispute, the full particulars whereof are given at the foot of the plaint. The property, subject matter of the said suit, was shown to be 5000 square yards of land of Khasra No.5751, part of Khewat Nos.1 and 15, situate at Victoria Park, Dhobi Ghat, Meerut City (for short, 'the suit property'), with boundaries detailed. Plaintiff-respondent No.1, Sirajuddin son of Sheikh Fariduddin, claimed himself to be the owner and landlord of the suit property. Plaintiff-respondent Nos.2 to 5, to wit, Maharaj Singh, Ashok Kumar, Shripal Singh and Ashok Kumar Sharma, claimed possession over the suit property as tenants of plaintiff No.1, Sirajuddin. Plaintiff-respondent Nos.2 to 5 pleaded that they were carrying the business of a dairy in the suit property and there was no dispute between Sirajuddin, the owner and landlord on one hand and plaintiff-respondent Nos.2 to 5, tenants on the other. The plaintiff-respondents shall together be referred to as 'the plaintiffs' hereinafter. In the event of reference to some of them, the reference would be by their number in the array or other individual reference.

3. Plaintiff Nos.2 to 5 say that they are in possession since the year 1972 and have earned goodwill for their business. Plaintiff No.1, therefore, agreed to transfer the suit property in favour of plaintiff Nos.2 to 5, executing a registered agreement to sell dated 11.04.1990 in their favour for a total sale consideration of Rs.5,00,000/-. Plaintiff Nos.2 to 5 paid the first plaintiff in earnest a sum of Rs.4,70,000/-. It is averred that plaintiff Nos.2 to 5, being in possession of the suit property prior to execution of the agreement to sell, plaintiff No.1, in part performance of the contract, delivered possession to plaintiff Nos.2 to 5. The defendants have no interest whatsoever in the suit property. On the other hand, plaintiff Nos.2 to 5 are tethering their cows and buffaloes and carrying on business. The defendants have never acquired or purchased the suit property. It was also pleaded by the plaintiffs that the total area of Khasra No.5751 was 29 bigha 13 biswa (pucca), of which in Khewat Nos.1 and 15 Mahal 3+7 - 1/2 and 13+2 - 1/2, 13 bigha 8 biswa was part of the Khewat of the zamindars. Two biswa land of Khasra No.5751 was part of other Khewat, belonging to other zamindars and 16 bigha 5 biswa was mafi davam mahal.

4. A sale deed was executed on 04.07.1949 by Wahiuddin in favour of Smt. Bhuria, conveying 2 bigha land out of Khasra No.5751, located towards the northern side of the said plot. The land, which was purchased by Smt. Bhuria on northern side of the Khasra was located near the road. After Bhuria's demise, her son Allah Mehar inherited the said land. This land came to be known as Dhobi Ghat and is part of the land acquired out of Khasra No.5751, the total acquisition out of the said plot, being an area of 12 bigha 5 biswa.

5. It is also the plaintiffs' case that though acquired, possession of land purchased by Smt. Bhuria, known as Dhobi Ghat, was not taken by the defendants. Instead, they are asserting claim to 2 bigha land towards south of the part of Khasra No.5751, belonging to Smt. Bhuria and after her, her son, Allah Mehar. The suit property is situate to the south of the part of Khasra No.5751, that has not been acquired. The further case of the plaintiffs is that they were not issued any notice by the defendants to take possession. The plaintiffs say that they have not encroached any land of the defendants. The defendants do not own the suit property, but their employees threatened to take forcible possession and forcibly demolished the plaintiffs' construction. It is also pleaded that in the month of February, 1990, the defendants held out threats again, compelling the plaintiffs to serve a notice under Section 88(2) of the Uttar Pradesh Avas Evam Vikas Parishad Adhiniyam, 1965 (for short, 'the Act of 1965') upon the defendants on 23.02.1990. The defendants received the notice, but did not answer.

6. The defendants filed a written statement, contesting the plaintiffs' case. They say that plaintiff No.1 is neither owner in possession of the suit property nor plaintiff Nos.2 to 5 tenants in possession. The plaintiffs, thus, have neither title nor possession. The suit property is there on papers, but not on the spot. The description is vague and elusive. The suit property is not identifiable. The boundaries given in the plaint are fictitious. The suit property does not exist in the vicinity of the acquired land of Khasra No.5751. The defendants say that some land of Khasra No.5751 was acquired by the State Government under Section 36 of the U.P. Town Improvement Act, 1919 and by subsequent notifications under Section 32 of the Act of 1965. A notification was in the last issued under Section 17 of the Act of 1965 in October, 1972. Possession and ownership of the land acquired out of Khasra No.5751 was taken by the defendants on 13.11.1972. Since then, they are in possession of the suit property as its absolute owner. The total area acquired out of Khasra No.5751 is 14 bigha 16 bishwa and 6 biswansi. The boundaries of the acquired part of Khasra No.5751 have been pleaded by the defendants to rebut the plaintiffs' case. The defendants say that part of the land, belonging to Allah Mehar, was acquired, but possession of the acquired land in its entirety was not delivered to the defendants at the time of acquisition, including the part belonging to Allah Mehar as it houses abadi. The acquired part of Khasra No.5751 has encroachers, against whom cases are pending in various Courts. In paragraph No.19 of the written statement, it is admitted that a total area of 11 bigha 19 bishwa 12 biswansi alone out of Khasra No.5751 was taken possession of by the defendants. It is pleaded in paragraph No.20 of the written statement, amongst others, that construction work is going on over an area 11-19-12 of land aforesaid for Scheme No.1, Mangal Pandey Nagar, but according to the layout plan, no area out of land comprised in Khewat Nos.1 and 15 is included. It is said, therefore, that the plaintiffs would have no cause of action, because the suit property is part of Khasra

No.5751, located in Khewat Nos.1 and 15. There were other pleas raised regarding bar of the suit under the law.

7. The Trial Court, on the pleadings of parties, framed the following issues (translated into English from Hindi):

“1. Whether plaintiff No.1 is the sole owner of the property in dispute, comprising Khewat Nos.1 and 15, Khasra No.5751, the details of which are given at the foot of the plaint?

2. Whether plaintiff Nos.2 to 5 are in possession of the property in dispute with the consent of plaintiff No.1 since the year 1972 and their possession is protected by Section 53A of the Transfer of Property Act?

3. Whether the suit is barred by res judicata, as pleaded in paragraph No.24 of the written statement?

4. Whether the land in dispute is part of the acquired land, as pleaded in the written statement?

5. Whether the suit is barred by Section 88(2) of the U.P. Avas Evam Vikas Parishad Adhiniyam, 1965?

6. Whether the plaint is fit to be rejected under Order VII Rule 11 CPC, as pleaded in paragraph No.29 of the written statement?

7. Whether the suit is barred by Section 38/41 of the Specific Relief Act?

8. Whether the suit is bad for non-joinder of necessary parties?

9. Whether the defendants are entitled to the award of special cost?

10. Relief?

11. Whether the description of the property in dispute is incomplete, misleading and ambiguous, and the land is not identifiable on the spot? If yes, its effect?”

8. The plaintiffs filed substantial documentary evidence and examined two witnesses, PW-1 Maharaj Singh and PW-2 Daya Shankar Pandey, whereas the defendants also led documentary evidence and examined a solitary witness, DW-1 Umesh Mohan Sharma. The details of the evidence, that was there before the Trial Court, is listed in the learned Trial Judge’s judgment.

9. Issues Nos.1 and 2 were answered against the plaintiffs and in favour of the defendants. Issue No.3 was answered for the plaintiffs. Issue No.4 was also answered for the plaintiffs. Issue No.5, likewise, was answered for the plaintiffs. Issue No.11 was decided against the plaintiffs and in favour of the defendants. Issue No.6 for the defendants, holding that since Issues Nos.1 and 2 had been decided against the plaintiffs, the plaint was fit to be rejected. Issue Nos.7 and 8 were not pressed by the defendants. Issue No.9 was answered for the plaintiffs as the defendants did not press much for special costs. Issue No.10 was answered against the plaintiffs, holding that no injunction can be issued against the true owner and that the suit was not filed by the true owner. The Trial Court, accordingly, dismissed the suit with costs vide judgment and decree dated 01.10.2009.

10. The plaintiffs, aggrieved by the Trial Court’s decree, appealed to the learned District Judge, Meerut. The plaintiffs’ appeal was numbered as Appeal No.130 of 2009 and assigned to the Special Judge (E.C. Act)/ Additional District Judge, Meerut. The learned Additional District Judge, before whom the appeal came up for determination, vide judgment and decree dated 02.06.2010 allowed the same, reversed the Trial Court and decreed the suit perpetually restraining the defendants from interfering with the plaintiffs’ possession in the suit property.

11. Aggrieved, this appeal has been preferred by the defendants under Section 100 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (for short, 'the Code').

12. The appeal was admitted on the following substantial question of law:

Whether the finding of the courts below that the land in dispute has not been acquired by the U.P. Avas Evam Vikas Parishad in exercise of power under Section 28 read with section 32 of the U.P. Avas Evam Vikas Adhiniyam is perverse?

The aforesaid question was not numbered.

13. Later on, on 07.08.2019, two other substantial questions of law were formulated and numbered. These read:

(1) Whether, in absence of any categorical finding with regard to ownership of the plaintiffs over the suit property and with regard to identity of the land in dispute, the lower appellate court was justified in decreeing the suit?

(2) Whether, the lower appellate court was justified in placing the onus on the defendants-appellant of proving their right over the property in dispute?

14. After the hearing had proceeded substantially on 28.02.2024, 29.02.2024, 01.03.2024, 04.03.2024, 05.03.2024, 07.03.2024 and 11.03.2024, on 12th of March, 2024, this Court thought it imperative to frame a further substantial question of law, to which the parties agreed. Accordingly, following substantial question of law, marked as '(iii)' was formulated. It reads:

Whether the issue being if part of Khasra No. 5751 i.e. the suit property is located in Khewat Nos. 1 and 15 or Khewat No. 445, it was imperative for the Court to issue a Survey Commission or adopt the Total Station Method in order to locate the suit property?

15. This appeal was heard on 28.02.2024, and, thereafter, across a number of dates until 14.03.2024, when judgment was reserved.

16. The learned Counsel for the parties mostly addressed the Court on Substantial Question of Law Nos.1, 2 and (iii). Upon considering the submissions of parties on Substantial Question of Law No. (iii), the way these were addressed, this Court thought that the question was formulated on slightly different terms than those involved, which required clarification and perhaps re-formulation, on which the parties had to be heard again. Accordingly, the appeal was posted for further hearing on 06.09.2024. On the said day, learned Counsel for the parties were apprised about the terms of Substantial Question of Law No. (iii) formulated on 12.03.2024 and seeking clarification about their submissions advanced earlier. The learned Counsel appearing for both parties agreed that given their submissions on the substantial question under reference, it was required to be re-formulated. Accordingly, Substantial Question of Law No.(iii), framed on 12.03.2024, was reformulated on 06.09.2024 in the following terms:

(iii) Whether the issue being if the suit property is located in Khasra Nos. 5751/1, 5751/2, 5751/3, 5751/4, 5751/6, 5751/7, 5751/8, 5751/9, 5751/10, 5751/11 and 5751/12 or a part of these plots (unacquired) or Khasra No.5751/5 (acquired), all part of Khewat Nos. 1 and 15, it was imperative for the Court to issue a Survey Commission or adopt the Total Station Method?

17. Heard Mr. Ramesh Upadhyaya, learned Senior Advocate assisted by Mr. Rajan Upadhyay, learned Counsel for the defendants in support of this appeal, Mr. R.C. Singh, learned Senior Advocate assisted by Mr. Dheeraj Singh Bohra, learned Counsel appearing for the plaintiffs.

18. It was urged on behalf of the defendants on the substantial question of law formulated on 10.07.2019 that the finding by the Lower Appellate Court in reversal of the Trial Court to the effect that the suit property had not been acquired by the defendants is perverse. On the other hand, it is urged for the plaintiffs that the finding about non-acquisition of the suit property recorded by the Lower Appellate Court is based on a thorough appreciation of the documentary and oral evidence on record. It is a very plausible finding and one of fact, which ought not be disturbed. This question would be dealt with later in this judgment.

19. Substantial Question of Law No.1 may first be answered. This question has two parts to it. The first is if in the absence of any categorical finding with regard to the plaintiffs' ownership of the suit property, the suit could be decreed and the other is if it could be decreed, without a categorical finding with regard to identity of the land in dispute. A perusal of the findings recorded by the Lower Appellate Court shows that it is not all the plaintiffs, who claim ownership of the suit property. Ownership is claimed by plaintiff No.1, Sirajuddin alone, whereas plaintiff Nos.2 to 5 claimed to be his tenants and doing business in the suit property i.e. part of Khasra No.5751 on the southern side of this large minjumla number, part of Khewat Nos.1 and 15. Khasra No.5751M has been noticed to be a very large plot, spread across different Khewat, including Khewat Nos.1 and 15. On the question of ownership, the Lower Appellate Court has recorded a finding in favour of plaintiff No.1 by relying upon the award, where it is mentioned that Sheikh Shafiuddin has claimed to be the tenure-holder of land of Khewat No.15, Mahal 13+2 - 1/2 to the extent of 5-4-0 and Khewat No.1, Mahal 3+7 - 1/2, admeasuring 3-14-0, which is in his possession.

20. It is also noticed by the Lower Appellate Court from the award that Shafiuddin's father was Sheikh Rafiuddin, who died in the year 1968. The award also mentions the fact that 2-0-0 of land had been sold to Allah Mehar. In fact, it had been sold to Allah Mehar's mother, Smt. Bhuria by an ancestor of Shafiuddin, one Wahiuddin. The further finding recorded based on the award by the learned Additional District Judge is that the land of Khasra No.5751, in the southern part of it, does not belong to Allah Mehar, as would be evident from a perusal of the sale deed executed in favour of Smt. Bhuria (Allah Mehar's mother). The remainder of land in Khasra Nos.5751/1, 5751/2, 5751/3, 5751/4, 5751/6, 5751/7, 5751/8, 5751/9, 5751/10, 5751/11, 5751/12 has not been acquired.

21. It has also been held by the learned District Judge, on the basis of the findings in the Special Land Acquisition Officer's award, that land of Khewat No.445, part of Khata Nos.398 and 411, but comprising Khasra No.5751, admeasuring 12-16-6 is nazul and land of Khasra No.5751/5, 2-0-0 has been acquired for the Scheme. The further finding is that apart from 2-0-0 of land, comprised in this Khasra, part of Khewat Nos.1 and 15, no other part has been acquired. The learned Lower Appellate Court has, therefore, recorded a finding that leaving aside nazul land in Khasra No.5751 and the area of 2-0-0, the rest of the land would be owned according to the record of ownership in the Khewat.

22. This Court must remark that in determining the question of ownership on the state of pleadings of parties, the question is always to be determined inter partes, relative to their pleaded case and the evidence produced. The case of plaintiff No.1 is one based on inheritance, pitted against that of the defendants, who claim on the basis of acquisition. No doubt, the Lower Appellate Court has not investigated the entire derivation of title by plaintiff No.1 from the last recorded and admitted owner or zamindar Sheikh Wahiuddin down to plaintiff No.1, precisely determining his share according to the pedigree, but that would not be the requirement of the law in a suit for injunction of the present kind. The findings in the award, on which the Lower Appellate Court has relied, clearly point to the fact that the Special Land Acquisition Officer has held that in Khasra No.5751, part of Khewat Nos.1 and 15, all that has been acquired is an area of 2-0-0, the land transferred by Sheikh Wahiuddin to Mst. Bhuria, and, subsequently, inherited by Allah Mehar, her son. The Lower Appellate Court has, therefore, held that the other land in Khasra No.5751 would belong to the owners as recorded in the Khewat. Amongst them, it is not disputed that plaintiff No.1 is there. In this suit for injunction against a defendant, who does not himself claim title to a particular plot of land beyond a certain area of it, which the plaintiff does not claim, the Lower Appellate Court has recorded a finding as to ownership of plaintiff No.1, sufficient to support the decree for injunction. It has also been opined by the Lower Appellate Court, on the basis of consideration of relevant evidence, that plaintiff Nos.2 to 5 are in possession of the suit property with permission of plaintiff No.1, and further, that their possession is protected by Section 53-A of the Transfer of Property Act.

23. As to the other part of the question regarding decreeing the suit without the Court recording a categorical finding as to identity of the suit property, this Court notices that the Lower Appellate Court has determined the identity of the suit property by looking into the award, where the case of parties is categorical that except for an area admeasuring 2-0-0 of land, comprising Khasra No.5751/5, transferred to Mst. Bhuria through a sale deed by Wahiuddin (later on inherited by Allah Mehar), no other part of Khasra No.5751, lying in Khewat Nos.1 and 15, was acquired by the defendants. Now, to determine the identity of the suit property, the Lower Appellate Court has looked into two maps, produced in evidence by the defendants, one bearing paper No.20-Ga and the other bearing paper No.21-Ga. The Court has found material discrepancies between these two maps and analyzed it well. The Lower Appellate Court has remarked that the two maps are contrary to the acquisition proceedings. A lay out plan, bearing paper No.93-Ga has also been considered by the Lower Appellate Court, which shows the total area of acquired land in Khasra No.5751M to be 3.9550 hectares that works out to 16-0-0. Out of this, an area of 1740 square meters, which is shown as abadi, reducing the acquired area to 15-0-0, has been noticed. The lay out plan of the acquired land has been meticulously analyzed with reference to the other maps produced by the defendants to reach a conclusion that the land of the Dhobi Ghat, which is admittedly acquired, is not shown in the lay out plan and the area thereof, admeasuring 2-0-0, is admitted to be made good from land in Khasra No.5751 to the south, which is unacquired land. It is also observed that admittedly, according to the defendants, they are in possession of an area 12-0-0 of land, apparently out of Khasra No.5751, but in the lay out plan, they have surprisingly shown an area of 15-0-0 in the said Khasra number. There is then a stinging comment by the Lower Appellate Court that the defendants with a dishonest intention have drawn up the lay out in order to claim unacquired land from the southern part of the Khasra, which they have lost to the extent of 2-0-0, despite acquisition, comprising the Dhobi Ghat, of which they could not take possession.

24. In the face of these findings, apart from the question whether the suit property is accurately identified or something more was required to be done to identify it with greater precision, it cannot be said that the Lower Appellate Court has decreed the suit without recording a finding regarding the identity of the suit property.

25. Substantial Question of Law No.1 is, therefore, answered in the terms that it cannot be said that there is absence of findings with regarding to ownership of the plaintiffs over the suit property or as to identity of the same, though the identity is required to be established with greater precision.

26. We may now turn to answer the substantial question of law last formulated, that is to say, Question No. (iii) as re-formulated. In support of the appeal, it is urged on behalf of the defendants that looking to the findings recorded by the Lower Appellate Court, all that can be said is that Khasra No.5751 is a very large plot, spread across different Khewat. The land of Khasra No.5751, that is part of Khewat Nos.1 and 15, has not been acquired except some area, but parts of the said Khasra number, that lie in other Khewat numbers, have been substantially acquired. The defendants would submit that the suit property's location has not been identified with reference to the Khasra number, where it is situate. This militates against the principle that if there is a doubt with reference to the plot number, where the suit property is situate, it is imperative for the Court to issue a survey commission and determine the precise location.

27. The plaintiffs rely on the very elaborate findings of the Lower Appellate Court to hold that the suit property is not at all a part of the acquired land, particularly those findings that tend to show the first plaintiff's land, part of Khasra No.5751, lying in Khewat Nos.1 and 15 was never acquired. This Court finds that the Lower Appellate Court has remarked that after the issue of notification under Section 6 of the Land Acquisition Act, which here would mean the notification issued under Section 32 of the Act of 1965 read with Section 6 of the Land Acquisition Act and before possession is taken, the Collector under Section 8 of the last mentioned Act has to demarcate the land acquired and get the same measured. If a map of the acquired land has not already been drawn up, the Collector has to get that map done. The Lower Appellate Court has said and very pertinently that despite the map or plan, as it is called under Section 8 of the Land Acquisition Act, being demanded by the Court, it was not produced. Obviously, the Court must have asked the defendants to produce the map, because they are the acquiring body, who are in touch with the Collector and the Land Acquisition Officer. The absence of the map or a plan of the land acquired, at the stage of Section 8 proceedings, has left matters about the precise identity of the acquired land and a fortiori the location of the suit property, within or without the said land in the realm of doubt.

28. The Lower Appellate Court has recorded facts, relying extensively on the award made by the Land Acquisition Officer, to the effect that the proposal to acquire the land for the defendants involved a total of 71-14-6, of which 55-16-0 was ZA land and the balance 14-16-6 was non-ZA area. The award has been extensively scrutinized by the Lower Appellate Court to remark that so far as Khasra No.5751 is concerned, there was a demand for compensation, as regards 2-0-0 area of land acquired, put forward by Allah Mehar. It is noticed that out of the acquired land in Khasra No.5751, 0-11-6 has been noticed to be banjar belonging to Class 14(3). An area of 12-5-0 in Khasra No.5751, was claimed by Bhabhuti and Bulakidas on the basis of their possession, with the entries of a well and a pucca construction. The award found it to be nazul, entrusted to the Management of the City Board, Meerut. Bhabhuti and Bulakidas were recorded in Class 10 as non-occupancy tenants. The land was utter nazul. There is then a finding with reference to the various subdivisions of Khasra No.5751, commencing 5751/1, 5751/2, 5751/3, 5751/4, 5751/6, 5751/7, 5751/8, 5751/9, 5751/10, 5751/11, 5751/12, belonging to different landholders and the fact that these landholders came up with objections claiming compensation, but the Land Acquisition Officer held that all these plots of land were not acquired.

29. There is a specific finding by the Lower Appellate Court, on the basis of the findings of the Land Acquisition Officer, that the Avas Vikas Parishad had acquired land of Khasra No.5751, that was part of Khewat No.445, Khata Nos.398 and 411, admeasuring 12-16-6 and Khasra No.5751/5, admeasuring 2-0-0. It is also remarked that the land, admeasuring 2-0-0 belongs to Allah Mehar. The further finding is that a perusal of the award shows that the fact is admitted that in Khewat Nos.1 and 15, the only land acquired is an area of 2-0-0 and no other land from this Khewat has been acquired.

30. Now, before this Court also, it is not seriously in issue at the instance of the defendants that any other part of Khasra No.5751, Khewat Nos.1 and 15 was acquired for the defendants. In their submission, the defendants had said that they had not acquired any land in Khewat Nos.1 and 15, part of Khasra No.5751. They had acquired other parts of the last mentioned plot located in different Khewat and Mahal. The Lower Appellate Court has considered a map produced by the defendants relating to their acquired land, bearing paper No.20-Ga and remarked that the total area of Khasra No.5751 shown in this map is 6.4584 hectares, where the acquired land in possession of the defendants, indicated in green colour, is 14-16-6. Beyond it, an area of 3.0278 hectare is shown and the area of the Dhobi Ghat indicated is 0.5152 hectare, in yellow colour. Maharana Pratap Enclave's area shown is 0.9770 hectare, Jasrampur Village an area of 0.1729 hectare and the Sports Colony is shown with an area of 1.7660 hectares. In the map aforesaid, relating to Scheme-01 of the defendants, the boundaries show Maharana Pratap Enclave and Jasrampur Village not acquired, but the rest is shown acquired. The total area of acquired land in this map, according to the Lower Appellate Court, turns out to be 20-22 bigha pucca.

31. Another map was produced by the defendants, bearing paper No.21-Ga, where the total area of Khasra No.5751 is shown to be 6.6500 hectares, denoted by bold dotted line in black. In the said map, it is noticed that the south-western part of Khasra No.5751 is shown comprising 1466 square meters of encroached land, which includes Village Jasrampur, Dhobi Ghat, Sports Colony, Maharana Pratap Enclave to the extent of 1683 square meters, 4350 square meters, 1757 square meters and 1228 square square meters, respectively. This map, presented by the defendants, has been remarked by the Lower Appellate Court to be discrepant from the earlier map, bearing paper No.20-Ga. It is also said about the latter map, bearing paper No.21-Ga, that the acquired land shown, does not include the area of Dhobi Ghat nor of the Sports Colony, which show that both the maps are contrary to the acquisition proceedings, including the lay out plan, bearing paper No.93-Ga. In the lay out plan, the total area shown is 16-0-0, out of which 1740 square meters is recorded to be abadi, leaving a net area of 3.7180 hectares, which works out to 15-0-0. In the said plan, the Sports Colony is shown to the north of the acquired land, stretching up to the road and to the east, abutting public drain. This plan does not show the land of the Dhobi Ghat, which was acquired land. It is also said by the Lower Appellate Court that in order to make up for the shortage of area between the acquired land and that available on the spot, which is short by 2-0-0 of land of the Dhobi Ghat, included in the acquisition, but left out in the acquisition map/ plan, the defendants have moved southwards, that is in Khasra No.5751, including in the plan the unacquired land with a dishonest motive. The lay out plan, which has included the unacquired land in the Khasra to the south to make up for the lost area of Dhobi Ghat's acquired land, has been drawn up with a dishonest motive because the defendants have admitted that they have taken possession of 12-0-0 land, whereas the plan shows the area of the acquired land possessed as 15-0-0.

32. There is also a remark that the Trial Court has wrongly regarded Allah Mehar's land as one belonging to plaintiff No.1, Sirajuddin, also concluding in error that the plaintiffs have no possession over the same. This Court must observe that on these facts, the Lower Appellate Court has concluded that the only part of Khasra No.5751, that is included in Khewat Nos.1 and 15 which has been acquired, is Khasra No.5751/5, admeasuring 2-0-0, belonging to Allah Mehar, sparing all land in the said Khasra, belonging to plaintiff No.1 from acquisition. This is a finding that proceeds on relevant evidence, but ignores principle. The principle here, that seems to be violated by the Lower Appellate Court, is that while upon a consideration of the different maps produced by the defendants and other evidence relating to the acquired land and the unacquired part of Khasra No.5751, a very careful mensuration of the acquired land and the unacquired part of the Khasra has been done, the location of the suit property, vis-à-vis the precise plot number(s), has not been ensured. This becomes very relevant because what was a very large Khasra No.5751, located in different Khewat, has overtime been subdivided and assigned different plot numbers, marked as subdivisions of Khasra No.5751.

33. The Lower Appellate Court is right in depending much upon the award passed by the Land Acquisition Officer, because possibly the defendants cannot deny what has been held there. Khasra Nos. 5751/1, 5751/2, 5751/3, 5751/4, 5751/6, 5751/7, 5751/8, 5751/9, 5751/10, 5751/11, 5751/12, regarding which Sheikh Shafiuddin, an ancestor of plaintiff No.1, laid claim for compensation before the Land Acquisition Officer, led to a refusal on ground that those subdivisions of Khasra No.5751 were not acquired. There is a remark in the award that a part of Khasra No.5751 was sold by Shafiuddin's ancestor Wahiuddin to Mst. Bhuria, from whom Allah Mehar inherited it, but he sold much of this land and now claims compensation. About this land of Allah Mehar, which has been acquired, the Land Acquisition Officer says, stretches up to the pucca road and drain No.5743 and to the Dhobi Ghat constructed by him. He is entitled to compensation of that land. It is also held by the Land Acquisition Officer that the southern part of Khasra no.5751 cannot be Allah Mehar's land.

34. There is also a remark in the award that the defendants have taken possession of Khewat No.445, Khata Nos.398 and 411, comprised of part of Khasra No.5751, admeasuring 12-16-6 of nazul land and Khasra No.5751/5, admeasuring 2-0-0, of which possession has been taken. Now, to infer from this remark of the Land Acquisition Officer, as done by the learned Judge in the Lower Appellate Court that Khasra No.5751/5, admeasuring 2-0-0, is Allah Mehar's land, of which possession has been taken and, therefore, the defendants attempt to move southwards to the other subdivisions of Khasra No.5751 upon 5751/1, 5751/2, 5751/3, 5751/4, 5751/6, 5751/7, 5751/8, 5751/9, 5751/10, 5751/11, 5751/12, not 5751/5 to make up for the lost area of Allah Mehar's acquired Khasra No.5751/5, is rather conjectural and as already said, ignores principle. The principle is if there is doubt about the location of the suit property in a particular plot number, it is the duty of the Court to issue a survey commission, who would ascertain the precise location of the suit property in one plot number or the other. Here, going by the award, there is no dispute now, since Khasra No.5751 has been subdivided, that the only part of Khasra No.5751 included in Khewat Nos.1 and 15, that has been acquired, is 5751/5. It has been held by the Lower Appellate Court that this plot belongs to Allah Mehar and is encroached. The Land Acquisition Officer has not said that Khasra No.5751/5 belongs to Allah Mehar, but does say that Allah Mehar's land has been illegally sold and, therefore, encroached. Therefore, what is to be determined is whether the suit property, in respect of which the plaintiffs claim relief, is part of Khasra No.5751/5 or a part of it, or is it included in Khasra Nos. 5751/1, 5751/2, 5751/3, 5751/4, 5751/6, 5751/7, 5751/8, 5751/9, 5751/10, 5751/11, 5751/12, all of which have admittedly not been acquired, except Khasra No.5751/5.

35. It is particularly to be remarked that now these various subdivided plots of Khasra No.5751, including the acquired part, comprising Khasra No.5751/5, are contiguous plots and location of the suit property with reference to the precise plot number would be of the first importance. There is no dispute about the fact that other parts of Khasra No.5751, that lie in different Khewat, is not in issue, because plaintiff No.1 is the owner of Khasra No.5751 that falls in Khewat Nos.1 and 15. The controversy, therefore, almost narrows down to determining if the suit property is located in Khasra No.5751/5 or away from it in the other plot numbers of 5751 that are unacquired. This would most certainly require determination of the precise location, vis-à-vis the plot number of the suit property through a survey commission following the three fixed points method. It would also be possible, in the alternative, to employ the total station method, if fixed points are no longer available in the vicinity.

36. The principle that in case of a dispute about the location of the property in one survey plot number or the other, it is necessary to issue a survey commission, which would identify the suit property, is laid down by the Supreme Court in Shreepat v. Rajendra Prasad and others, 2000 (40) ALR 534: JT 2000 (7) SC 379. It has been held in Shreepat (supra):

“1. Respondent No. 1 - Rajendra Prasad had instituted a suit for declaration and possession over land bearing Khasra No. 257/3 against the Appellant on the ground that he had purchased this land from its previous owner - Premnarayan - by a registered sale-deed. It was further pleaded that the Appellant had forcibly taken possession and was trying to construct his house. The suit was resisted by the Appellant on the grounds, inter alia, that the land in dispute was not part of Kteasra Plot No. 257/3, but was part of Khasra Plot No. 257/1 which was the Government land and over which the Appellant was in possession since long, it having been leased out to him. It was also pleaded that he had constructed the house over that land.

2. On a consideration of the evidence on record, the trial court decreed the suit. The decree was affirmed by the lower appellate court and upheld by the High Court in Second Appeal.

3. The principal contention raised by learned Counsel for the Appellant is that though there was a serious dispute with regard to the identity of the land in dispute, whether the land in dispute formed part of Khasra No. 257/3 or Khasra No. 257/1 (sic) courts below did not get the identity established and decreed the suit of the Respondent only on the basis of oral evidence which was not sufficient for the purpose of establishing the identity of the land in dispute at the spot.

4. In our opinion, this contention is correct. Since there was a serious dispute with regard to the area and boundaries of the land in question, especially with regard to its identity, the courts below, before decreeing the suit should have got the identity established by issuing a survey commission to locate the plot in dispute and find out whether it formed part of Khasra No. 257/3 or Khasra No 257/1. This having not been done has resulted 'in serious miscarriage of justice. We consequently allow the appeal, set aside the order passed by the courts below as affirmed by the High Court and remand the case to the trial court to dispose of the suit afresh in the light of the observations made above and in accordance with law.’”

37. In the fast changing landscape of the present day, fixed points sometimes disappear and are no longer available. If that be the position to determine the Khasra number, where the suit property is located and demarcate it with reference to its plot number, an alternate method of more recent origin is the total station method. That this method can be utilized to demarcate lands/property with regard to their location in one survey number or the other, was held by the Delhi High Court in Delhi Development Authority v. Mohd. Sher Nabi Chaman and others, 2015 SCC OnLine Del 7832, where it is observed:

“13. At this stage, I may also deal with and dispose of an argument urged on behalf of the respondent no. 1/plaintiff/applicant/ review petitioner that the right to file objections if taken away would seriously affect the rights of the respondent no. 1/plaintiff/ applicant/ review petitioner, however, this argument conveniently ignores the fact that both the parties agreed to be bound by the fresh demarcation report to be carried out in terms of the Total Station Method. Since both the parties agreed, more so because there was a very narrow scope of the respondent no. 1/plaintiff/applicant/review petitioner existing whether in khasra nos. 22/3, 22/4, 22/8, 22/9 and 25/20/2 of village Mandoli as claimed by him or in khasra nos. 976 min., 977 min., 978 min. and 979 min. of village Mandoli which was the land of the petitioner/DDA, therefore, there is no prejudice to the respondent no. 1/ plaintiff/applicant/ review petitioner and hence these arguments urged on behalf of the respondent no. 1/ plaintiff/applicant/review petitioner are rejected.

14. The next argument which was urged on behalf of the respondent no. 1/ plaintiff/ applicant/ review petitioner was that the revenue law does not entitle the demarcation by the Total Station Method, however, in my opinion, this is an argument of desperation because there is no bar under the revenue law not to carry out demarcation by the Total Station Method. Merely because a particular method is provided in the revenue laws which was passed many decades back, does not mean that the modern methods with respect to demarcation cannot be adopted by the revenue authorities, more so when such a method is now the only available proper method, because the traditional methods were with respect to areas and lands which were unconstructed and wherein demarcation could be done by traditional methods, but when the entire city is built up, demarcation will have to be done by the laser method i.e the Total Station Method inasmuch as which is done with respect to the fixed and specific points in terms of the revenue law. This argument urged on behalf of the respondent no. 1/ plaintiff/applicant/ review petitioner is also therefore rejected.”

38. In the entire gamut of the otherwise very detailed findings recorded by the Lower appellate Court to answer for the plaintiffs, the ignorance of this principle in a dispute about location of the suit property being in one plot number or numbers, or the other, would vitiate the conclusions. In this case, the principle applies with greater force, because the controversy has, as already remarked, narrowed down to the issue if the suit property is located in Khasra No.5751/5, which is the only acquired plot number of the subdivided plots of Khasra No.5751, located in Khewat Nos.1 and 15, that has admittedly been acquired. Other parts of Khasra No.5751, or its other subdivided plots, fall in other Khewat; not Khewat No.1 or 15. The suit property, which the plaintiffs claim, comprising Khasra No.5751 and now its subdivided number, is located in Khewat Nos.1 and 15, not the other Khewat. These issues have already been dwelt upon by the Lower Appellate Court in punctilious detail, which need not detain us. Nevertheless, the findings of the Lower Appellate Court cannot be upheld unless a survey of the contiguous Khasra Nos. 5751/1, 5751/2, 5751/3, 5751/4, 5751/6, 5751/7, 5751/8, 5751/9, 5751/10, 5751/11, 5751/12 on one hand, and Khasra No.5751/5 on the other, is duly carried out according to the fixed point method. If that survey is not possible, the location of the suit property in the precise Khasra numbers has to be determined through the total station method.

39. In this view of the aforesaid conclusions, Substantial Question of Law No. (iii) is answered in the affirmative.

40. In view of the answer to Substantial Question of Law No. (iii), the unnumbered one framed at the time of admission of the appeal as well as Substantial Question of Law No.2, need not be answered as the judgment of the Lower Appellate Court would have to be set aside with a remit of the matter to that Court with a direction to hear and decide the appeal afresh, after causing a fixed points survey of the suit property with regard to its location in one set of plot numbers or the other, or failing a fixed point survey taking resort to the total station method.

41. The result would be that the decree passed by the Lower Appellate Court would have to be set aside with a remit of the matter to that Court with the direction that the location of the suit property in one Khasra number or the other, and, particularly, if it is located in Khasra No.5751/5 or in the contiguous Khasra Nos. 5751/1, 5751/2, 5751/3, 5751/4, 5751/6, 5751/7, 5751/8, 5751/9, 5751/10, 5751/11, 5751/12, shall be determined through the agency of a Survey Commission, who would undertake it following the three fixed points method. If the Survey Commission fails for the non-availability of three fixed points, a fresh commission shall be issued to a trained agency to determine the location of the suit property as aforesaid following the total station method. Upon submission of a report by the Survey Commissioner, following the fixed point method, or the total station method, as the case may be, the parties would have a right to object and lead necessary evidence. The Lower Appellate Court will then re-hear and decide the appeal afresh, all to be done within a period of six months from the date of receipt of a copy of this judgment and order.

42. In the result, this appeal succeeds and is allowed in part. The impugned decree passed by the Lower Appellate Court is set aside with an order of remand in above terms.

43. The costs of this appeal shall abide by the event in the appeal before the Lower Appellate Court.

44. Let the lower court's records be sent down at once.

APPELLATE JURISDICTION

CIVIL SIDE

THE HON'BLE RAJNISH KUMAR, J.

First Appeal From Order No. 244 of 2022

Jamuna Prasad @ Yamuna Prasad

...Appellant

Versus

Harilal

...Respondent

Counsel for the Appellant:

Sri Rajesh Kumar

Counsel for the Respondent:

Sri Kaushal Tiwari

A. Civil Law - U.P. Zamindari Abolition and Land Reforms Act, 1950 - Section 9 - Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 - Rules 23, 23A, 24 & 25 - Appeal was filed on ground that trial court has passed judgment and decree without considering pleadings, evidence, material on record, commission report etc - Admittedly all the material for deciding suit was before trial court and no evidence was required to be placed on record for passing judgment and decree in suit. (Para 11)

B. Regarding first and second point of determination, first appellate court concluded that trial court should have passed order but trial court has not done so and passed order in a cursory manner - The view expressed by trial court does not seem in accordance with law - In such situation, first appellate court found that case was liable to be remanded to trial court for passing fresh order in view of observations made by first appellate court. (Para 18)

C. While considering third point of determination, first appellate court found that appellant succeeded in proving that land in dispute was his sehan land, of which he was owner and in possession since time of his ancestors - His trees and tap are situated on said land - Thus, appellant was entitled to permanent injunction. (Para 19)

Held, appellate court has not found that evidence on record was not sufficient to dispose of case finally, not recorded any finding that any issue has not been framed, which was required to be framed and evidence on same was required to be adduced by parties - In such circumstances, appellate court itself should have determined suit finally instead of remanding matter to trial court - Impugned order set aside, directions accordingly. (Para 20)

Appeal allowed. (E-13)List of Cases cited:

1. Shivakumar & ors. Vs Sharanbasappa & ors.; 2020 AIR(SC) 3102/2020 LawSuit(SC) 345, (Para 25)

2. J. Balaji Singh Vs Diwakar Cole & ors.; (2017) 14 SCC 207, (Para 13, 14, 18, 19)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rajnish Kumar, J.)

1. Heard Shri Rajesh Kumar, learned counsel for the defendant/appellant and Shri Kaushal Tiwari, learned counsel for the plaintiff/respondent.

2. This first appeal from order has been preferred under Order XLI Rule 1(u) of Civil Procedure Code, 1908 (hereinafter referred to as "C.P.C.") against the judgment and order dated 10.02.2022 passed in Civil Appeal No. 11 of 2021; Harilal vs. Jamuna Prasad by District Judge, Ambedkar Nagar, by means of which the appeal filed by the plaintiff/respondent has been allowed and judgment and order dated 05.12.2019 passed in Regular Suit No. 476 of 1997; Harilal vs. Jamuna Prasad by Civil Judge, Junior Division, Ambedkar Nagar has been set aside and the case has been remanded to the trial court to decide afresh in accordance with law and the observations made in the same.

3. Learned counsel for the appellant submits that the first appellate court has wrongly and illegally allowed and remanded the matter for deciding afresh, whereas all the pleadings, evidence and material on record were before the first appellate court and the first appellate court has recorded findings on the basis of material on record and remanded the matter only on the ground that the evidence has properly not been appreciated, while the first appellate court has to decide the appeal considering the pleadings, evidence and material on record as trial court and it could have decided the case finally instead of reminding the matter. Thus, Learned counsel for the appellant submits that the impugned judgment and order is not sustainable in the eyes of law and is liable to be set aside and the matter may be remanded to the first appellate court to decide the appeal on merit in accordance with law. He relies on Shivakumar and others vs. Sharanbasappa and others; 2020 AIR(SC) 3102/2020 LawSuit(SC) 345.

4. Per contra, learned counsel for the respondent submits that learned first appellate court has rightly remanded the case in accordance with law to decide the suit afresh because the learned trial court has failed to properly appreciate the pleadings, evidence and material on record and the law laid down by the Hon'ble Apex Court and this Court. He further submits that the learned trial court has also failed to consider the report of the commissioner and the site plan prepared, which were on record, therefore, there is no error or illegality in the impugned judgment and order. However, he could not dispute that all the pleadings, evidence and commission report etc. were on record and the first appellate court could have passed the final order after considering the same.

5. I have considered the submissions of learned counsel for the parties and perused the records.

6. The plaintiff/respondent filed suit for permanent injunction on the ground that the land in dispute shown in the site plan annexed with the plaint is old abadi and sehan land and his house is adjacent to the land in dispute on the western side. The sehan darwaja opens in the land in dispute, which is being used by his family members for sitting, sukhvan and for other agricultural and household purposes since prior to abolition of zamindari. There are two thala Kothi Bans, one tree of Gular, hand pipe, haudi and khoota in the land in dispute, as such, he is owner of the land in dispute under Section 9 of U.P. Zamindari Abolition and Land Reforms Act. The defendant/appellant has no concern with the land in dispute. The defendant/appellant is a muscle man and on the basis of his muscle power, he is threatening to open door in the land in dispute on the instigation of local police and administration since the last week of June, 1997. The sehan of the defendant/appellant is on the east side of his house. The defendant/appellant, after hearing about the suit, with the help of the local police and some enemies of the plaintiff/respondent has constructed a wall of bricks forcefully before commission, which has been shown in the site plan. Thus, the suit for permanent injunction and for demolition of wall constructed by the defendant/appellant and handing over possession back to the plaintiff/respondent.

7. The defendant/appellant contested the suit by filing written statements denying the averments made in the plaint and alleging that the wrong site plan has been filed alongwith the suit. It has further been stated that the wall existing on the western hata of his house on the western side, which was of mud had shortened, therefore, he had planned to construct a wall of bricks, which was opposed by the plaintiff/respondent, therefore, he gave an application to the Pargana Adhikari, Jalalpur for protection from the plaintiff/respondent for reconstruction of the wall. It was further alleged that after inquiry in the complaint made by the defendant/appellant and with the intervention of the previous and the present Gram Pradhan, it was decided, on the basis of compromise, that a wall will be constructed leaving four hand land. Accordingly, the wall of 22 Radda was constructed. It was further alleged that in the east side of the boundary, his two thatches and the trees of Mango, Badhal, Goolar, Lahchaura and Kothi bans planted by his father are existing. The plaintiff/respondent has wrongly shown his pipe in the land in dispute, whereas the same is existing beyond his boundary wall at a distance on the western side and on the southern side of the house of the plaintiff/respondent and the main sehan of the plaintiff/ respondent is also situated on the eastern side, accordingly, his sariya is also adjacent to his house. The house of the plaintiff/respondent had never been on the eastern side of the A.C. Line and he has no right to use the said land. The possession of the plaintiff/respondent had never been on the land in dispute, therefore, the suit may be dismissed. An additional written statement was also filed, before the trial court, denying the averments made in the plaint.

8. On the basis of the pleadings of the parties, six issues were framed by the trial court. Thereafter, evidence of P.W. 1-Harilal, P.W. 2-Ambeylal and P.W. 3-Haridarshan was recorded, but no documentary evidence was filed on behalf of the plaintiff/respondent. On behalf of the defendant/appellant, the evidence of D.W. 1-Jamuna, D.W. 2-Ram Deen and D.W. 3-Hari Prasad was recorded. On his behalf, copy of the Nakal Report Chalani, Police Station Malipur dated 22.07.2010 and case State vs. Jamuna Prasad under Section 18/116 IPC, court of Up Zila Magistrate, Jalalpur and Nakal Report Chalani, Police Station Malipur dated 10.07.2010, case State vs. Jamuna Prasad etc. Case No. 1490 of 2010, under Section 18/116 IPC court of Up Zila Magistrate Jalalpur were filed as Paper Nos. 41ga and 42ga alongwith the list 40ga in documentary evidence. The learned trial court, after considering the pleadings of the parties, evidence and material on record and hearing, dismissed the suit. Being aggrieved, the Civil Appeal was filed by the plaintiff/respondent before the court below.

9. The court below recorded that the main objection against the judgment and decree passed by the trial court is that the learned trial court has passed the impugned order without perusing appropriately pleadings of both the parties, facts and evidence available on record and circumstances of the case. The learned trial court has also ignored the guidelines determined by Hon'ble Supreme Court and this High Court while passing the impugned order. The learned trial court has also not considered the commission report and site plan, therefore, the impugned order is not sustainable, therefore, the appropriate order may be passed setting aside the impugned order. The relevant Paragraph 9 of the impugned order is extracted hereinbelow:-

"9. अपीलार्थी/वादी द्वारा विद्वान अवर न्यायालय द्वारा पारित आक्षेपित निर्णय एवं आदेश के विरुद्ध मुख्य रूप से यह आपत्ति की गयी है कि विद्वान अवर न्यायालय ने उभय पक्ष के अभिकथनों तथा पत्रावली पर उपलब्ध तथ्य साक्ष्य एवं परिस्थितियों का सम्यक् ढंग से परिशीलन किये बिना आक्षेपित आदेश पारित किया है। विद्वान अवर न्यायालय ने माननीय उच्च न्यायालय व माननीय उच्चतम न्यायालय द्वारा निर्धारित गाइड लाइन की अनदेखी करके आक्षेपित आदेश पारित किया है। विद्वान अवर न्यायालय ने

अमीन आयुक्त द्वारा प्रस्तुत आख्या व मानचित्र को नजरन्दाज करते हुए आक्षेपित आदेश पारित किया है, जो अस्तित्व में रहने योग्य नहीं है। अतः उसे अपास्त करते हुए यथोचित आदेश पारित किया जाय।"

10. The defendant/appellant opposed the submissions of learned counsel for the plaintiff/respondent and stated that the learned trial court has passed the judgment and decree after considering the facts and evidence available on record and circumstances of the case, in which there is no error, therefore, the appeal is liable to be dismissed. The relevant paragraph 10 of the impugned order is extracted hereinbelow:-

"प्रत्यर्थी / प्रतिवादी के विद्वान अधिवक्ता द्वारा अपीलार्थी के उपरोक्त तर्कों व तथ्यों का खण्डन किया गया और यह कथन किया गया कि विद्वान अवर न्यायालय ने पत्रावली पर उपलब्ध तथ्य, साक्ष्य एवं परिस्थितियों को दृष्टिगत रखते हुए आक्षेपित आदेश पारित किया है, जिसमें कोई त्रुटि नहीं है। अतः अपीलार्थी की अपील निरस्त किये जाने योग्य है।"

11. In view of above, it is apparent that the appeal was filed only on the ground that the trial court has passed the judgment and decree without considering pleadings, evidence, material on record, commission report and the facts and circumstances of the case, therefore, admittedly all the material for deciding the suit was before the trial court and no evidence or material was required to be placed on record for passing the judgment and decree in the suit.

12. The provision of remand has been made in Rule 23, 23A and 25 of Order XLI C.P.C. Rule 24 of Order XLI C.P.C. provides that where the evidence upon the record is sufficient to enable the appellate court to pronounce judgment, the appellate court may, after resettling the issues, if necessary, may determine the suit finally, which is extracted herein-below"-

"24. Where the evidence upon the record is sufficient to enable the Appellate Court to pronounce judgment, the Appellate Court may, after resettling the issues, if necessary, finally determine the suit, notwithstanding that the judgment of the Court from whose decree the appeal is preferred has proceeded wholly upon some ground other than that on which Appellate Court proceeds."

13. In view of Rule 24, quoted above, the appellate court is to pronounce the judgment and determine the suit finally, where the evidence upon the record is sufficient to enable it to pronounce the judgment, which may be pronounced after resettling the issues, if necessary, notwithstanding that the judgment of the court from whose decree the appeal is preferred has proceeded wholly upon some ground other than that on which the appellate court proceeds, therefore, even if the appellate court is of the view that the trial court has passed an erroneous and illegal order taking a view, which is not sustainable on the basis of material before the trial court, it can pass order taking a different view after considering the pleadings, evidence and material on record. Thus, if no issue arises, which is required to be framed or which is required to be considered on the basis of pleadings of the parties and if required to be framed but no additional evidence is required, the first appellate court may decide the appeal as a trial court after resettling issues and it cannot invoke provisions of Rule 23, 23-A or 25 of Order XLI C.P.C. for remanding the matter. Consequence thereof is that the first appellate court has to finally determine the suit after considering the pleadings, evidence and material on record as a trial court considers the same.

14. The aforesaid view taken by this court is covered by the judgment of Hon'ble Supreme Court, in the case of Shivakumar and others vs. Sharanbasappa and others (Supra). The Hon'ble Supreme Court, in the said case, considered the procedure relating to appeals from original decrees provided under Order XLI C.P.C. and noted in para 25 (25.1 to 25.6). The Hon'ble Supreme Court held in para 25.3 and 25.4 that a comprehension of the scheme of the provisions for remand as contained in Rules 23 and 23A of Order XLI is not complete without reference to the provision contained in Rule 24 of Order XLI. It has further held that a conjoint reading of the Rule 23, 23A and 24 of Order XLI brings forth the scope as also contours of the powers of the remand that when the available evidence is sufficient to dispose of the matter, the proper course for an appellate court is to follow the mandate of Rule 24 of Order XLI C.P.C. and to determine the suit finally and it is only in such cases where the decree in challenge is reversed in appeal and a re-trial is considered necessary, the appellate court shall adopt the course of remanding the case. It remains trite that order of remand is not to be passed in a routine manner because an unwarranted order of remand merely elongates the life of the litigation without serving the cause of justice. The para 25 (25.1 to 25.6) is extracted herein below:-

"[25] Taking up the other point for determination the submission of learned counsel for the appellants that the High Court ought to have considered remanding the case by taking recourse to the provision contained in Order XLI Rule 23A CPC, in our view, remains totally bereft of substance this submission has only been noted to be rejected.

25.1. The procedure relating to appeals from original decrees (usually referred to as 'regular first appeal') is provided in Order XLI of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 and therein, various provisions relating to hearing of an appeal, remand of case, remitting of issues for trial, production of additional evidence in Appellate Court etc. are contained in Rules 16 to 29 under the sub-heading Procedure on hearing. For their relevance, we may take note of the provisions contained in Rules 23, 23A, 24 and 25 of Order XLI CPC as follows:-

"23. Remand of case by Appellate Court.- Where the Court from whose decree an appeal is preferred has disposed of the suit upon a preliminary point and the decree is reversed in appeal, the Appellate Court may, if it thinks fit, by order remand the case, and may further direct what issue or issues shall be tried in the case so remanded, and shall send a copy of its judgment and order to the Court from whose decree the appeal is preferred, with directions to re-admit the suit under its original number in the register of civil suits, and proceed to determine the suit, and the evidence (if any) recorded during the original trial shall, subject to all just exceptions, be evidence during the trial after remand.

23A. Remand in other cases. Where the Court from whose decree an appeal is preferred has disposed of the case otherwise than on a preliminary point, and the decree is reversed in appeal and a re-trial is considered necessary, the Appellate Court shall have the same powers as it has under rule 23.

24. Where evidence on record sufficient. Appellate Court may determine case finally.- Where the evidence upon the record is sufficient to enable the Appellate Court to pronounce judgment, the Appellate Court may, after resettling the issues, if necessary, finally determine the suit notwithstanding that the judgment of the Court from whose decree the appeal is preferred has proceeded wholly upon some ground other than that on which the Appellate Court proceeds.

25. Where Appellate Court may frame issues and refer them for trial to Court whose decree appealed from Where the Court from whose decree the appeal is preferred has omitted to frame or try any issue, or to determine any question of fact, which appears to the Appellate Court essential to the right decision of the suit upon the merits, the Appellate Court may, if necessary, frame issues, and refer the same for trial to the Court from whose decree the appeal is preferred. and in such case shall direct such Court to take the additional evidence required:

and such Court shall proceed to try such issues, and shall return the evidence to the Appellate Court together with its findings thereon and the reasons therefor within such time as may be fixed by the Appellate Court or extended by it from time to time."

25.2. Rule 23A came to be inserted in Order XLI CPC by way of the Code of Civil Procedure (Amendment) Act. 1976. Prior to this amendment, it was generally accepted by the Courts that although under Rule 23, an order of remand could be made only on reversal of a decree disposing of suit on a preliminary point but the Appellate Court has the inherent power of remanding a case where it was considered necessary to do so in the interest of justice. Some of the High Courts had made similar provisions by way of their respective amendments. Insertion of Rule 23A in Order XLI by the Amending Act of 1976 makes it explicit that even when the suit has been disposed of otherwise than on a preliminary point and the decree is reversed in appeal, the Appellate Court shall have the power of remand, if a re-trial is considered necessary.

25.3. A comprehension of the scheme of the provisions for remand as contained in Rules 23 and 23A of Order XLI is not complete without reference to the provision contained in Rule 24 of Order XLI that enables the Appellate Court to dispose of a case finally without a remand if the evidence on record is sufficient; notwithstanding that the Appellate Court proceeds on a ground entirely different from that on which the Trial Court had proceeded.

25.4. A conjoint reading of Rules 23, 23A and 24 of Order XLI brings forth the scope as also contours of the powers of remand that when the available evidence is sufficient to dispose of the matter, the proper course for an Appellate Court is to follow the mandate of Rule 24 of Order XLI CPC and to determine the suit finally. It is only in such cases where the decree in challenge is reversed in appeal and a re-trial is considered necessary that the Appellate Court shall adopt the course of remanding the case. It remains trite that order of remand is not to be passed in a routine manner be the litigation unwarranted order of remand merely elongates the life of the litigation without serving the cause of Justice. order of remand only on the ground that the points touching An appreciation of evidence were not dealt with by the Trial Court may not be considered proper in a given case because the First Appellate Court itself is possessed of jurisdiction to enter into facts and appreciate the evidence. There could, of course, be several eventualities which may justify an order of remand or where remand would be rather necessary depending on the facts and the given set of circumstances of a case.

25.4.1. The decision cited by the learned Counsel for the appellants in the case of Mohan Kumar (supra) is an apt illustration as to when the Appellate Court ought to exercise the power of remand. In the said case, the appellant and his mother had filed the civil suit against the Government and local body seeking declaration of title, perpetual injunction and for recovery of possession in respect of the land in question. The Trial Court partly decreed the suit while holding that the plaintiffs were the owners of the land in dispute on which trespass was committed by the respondents and they were entitled to get the encroachment removed: and it was also held that the Government should acquire the land and pay the market value of the land to the appellant. Such part of the decree of the Trial Court was not challenged by the defendants but as against the part of the decision of the Trial Court which resulted in rejection of the claim of the appellant for allotment of an alternative land, the appellant preferred an appeal before the High Court. The High Court not only dismissed the appeal so filed by the appellant but proceeded to dismiss the entire suit with the finding that the plaintiff-appellant had failed to prove his ownership over the suit land inasmuch as he did not examine the vendor of his sale deed. In the given circumstances, this Court observed that when the High Court held that the appellant was not able to prove his title to the suit land due to non-examination of his vendor, the proper course for the High Court was to remand the case to the Trial Court by affording an opportunity to the appellant to prove his title by adducing proper evidence in addition to what had already been adduced. Obviously, this Court found that for the conclusion reached by the High Court, a case for re-trial was made out particularly when the Trial Court had otherwise held that the appellant was owner of the land in dispute and was entitled to get the encroachment removed as also to get the market value of the land. Such cases where re-trial is considered necessary because of any particular reason and more particularly for the reason that adequate opportunity of leading sufficient evidence to a party is requisite, stand at entirely different footings than the cases where evidence has already been adduced and decision is to be rendered on appreciation of evidence. It also remains trite that an order of remand is not to be passed merely for the purpose of allowing a party to fillup the lacuna in its case.

25.5. It gets perforce reiterated that the occasion for remand would arise only when the factual findings of Trial Court are reversed and a re-trial is considered necessary by the Appellate Court.

25.6. The present case had clearly been the one where the parties had adduced all their evidence, whatever they wished to; and it had not been the case of the plaintiff-appellants that they were denied any opportunity to produce any particular evidence or if the trial was vitiated because of any alike reason. As noticed, there had been several suspicious circumstances surrounding the Will in question, some of which were noticed by the Trial Court but were brushed aside by it on untenable reasons. The High Court has meticulously examined the same evidence and the same circumstances and has come to a different conclusion that appears to be sound and plausible, and does not appear suffering from any infirmity. There was no reason or occasion for the High Court to consider remanding the case to the Trial Court. The contention in this regard is required to be, and is, rejected.

15. The Hon'ble Supreme Court had also considered the aforesaid issue in the case of J. Balaji Singh vs. Diwakar Cole and others; (2017) 14 SCC 207 and under what circumstances, remand could have been made and the power of this Court under Order 43 Rule 1(u) C.P.C on being challenged in an order of remand.
