6. Sri. Anurag Shukla, Senior Advocate appearing for the opposite party no. 4 has vehemently opposed the Writ Petition and he too has submitted that Section 12-J of the U.P. Panchayat Raj Act, 1947, does not provide that the provision for reservation will be observed even while appointing an officiating Pradhan and that there is no statutory requirement for obtaining consent of the members of gram panchayat before nominating any person to perform the duties of village pradhan in case of any casual vacancy. IN support of his contentions, the learned Counsel for the opposite party no. 4 has placed reliance upon the judgments in the cases of Udaivir v. State Election Commission of U.P.: 2008 SCC OnLine All 2132, Pushpendra Kumar v. State of U.P., 2010 SCC OnLine All 3140, Shyamu v. State of U.P. & Ors., 2010 SCC OnLine All 1250, Smt. Usha Singh v. District Magistrate, Gorakhpur & Ors., 1992 RD 337 = 1992 SCC OnLine All 184.

7. In Smt. Usha Singh v. District Magistrate, Gorakhpur & Ors. (Supra), a Single Judge Bench of this Court held that: -

"7. ... Literally construed the said provisions gives absolute discretion to the Prescribed Authority to nominate any member of the Gaon Panchayat for this purpose. Such an interpretation, however, would make the provision arbitrary and also unconstitutional since no guiding principle has been laid down as to how the discretion of the prescribed authority is to be exercised and in favour of which member of the Gaon Panchayat...."

After so observing, the learned Single Judge, then, proceeded to hold as under: -

"... In my opinion, since the Gaon Sabha and Gaon Panchayat are democratic bodies elected by the people, the proper interpretation of sub-section (2) of Section 12-J would be that in case where the offices of both Pradhan and Up Pradhan are vacant, or when both Pradhan and Up Pradhan are incapable to act, the Prescribed Authority should ask the members of the Gaon Panchayat to hold a meeting, and such members should decide among themselves which member should be nominated as Pradhan for the interim period until regular election, and such member should be nominated as officiating Pradhan under Section 12-J (2). Such an interpretation would be in consonance with the democratic principle underlying the U.P. Panchayat Raj Act, and would also make the statute constitutional."

8. In Kusma Devi v. State of U.P.: (Supra), another Single Judge Bench considered the judgment in Smt. Usha Singh, but did not follow the same in view of the following discussion: -

"6. In the aforesaid backdrop, the Court in the case of Smt. Usha Singh (supra) also observed that "Literally construed the said provisions gives absolute discretion to the Prescribed Authority to nominate any member of the Gaon Panchayat for this purpose". However, after opining that the aforesaid Gaon Sabha and Gram Panchayat may be taken into evidence, the Court in para 7 has held that no doubt such an interpretation is to some extent exercise of legislative functions by the Court, and has relied upon the observations made by the Apex Court in Ratan Chand Hira Chand v. Askar Nawasjung which is as under:

"The legislature often fails to keep pace with the changing needs and values nor is it realistic to expect that it will have provided for all contingencies and eventualities. It is, therefore not only necessary but obligatory on the courts to step in to fill the lacuna.

7. When courts performs this function undoubtedly they legislate judicially. But that is a kind of legislation which stands implicitly delegated to them to further the object of the legislation and to promote the goals of the society, or to put it negatively, to prevent the frustration of the legislation or perversion of the goals and values of the society"

8. In my opinion, there is no lacuna in Section 12-J which is required to be filled up by this Court. The provision of Section 12-J sub clause (2) is clear that temporary Gram Pradhan is to be nominated by the Prescribed Authority. Nothing can be added by reading in between the lines or to give strength one's own opinion. The Prescribed Authority has power to nominate any person under the Act which cannot be said to be arbitrary and the Registrar has acted in its wisdom as conferred under the Act."

9. In Udaivir v. State Election Commission of U.P., 2008 SCC OnLine All 2132, a Division Bench of this Court held that: -

"4. Considering the basic concept of the democracy set up for the Panchayat Raj under the provisions of Article 243 of the Constitution, we are of the opinion that respondent No. 3, i.e. District Magistrate, Aligarh ought to have ascertained the wishes of the elected members of the Gram Panchayat, as to who should be the officiating Pradhan for the period till the regular election of the Gram Pradhan is held. Further every attempt should be made to elect the new Pradhan at the earliest possible."

10. The aforesaid judgment was followed by another Division Bench of this Court in the case of Pushpendra Kumar v. State of U.P., 2010 SCC OnLine All 3140, wherein it was held that: -

"9. .....The provisions of section 12-J came up for consideration before a Division Bench in the case of Udaivir (supra) and this Court has held that the Prescribed Authority has to act in accordance with the majority opinion of the Members of the concerned Gram Panchayat while nominating the officiating Pradhan. The law laid down in the aforesaid case is in consonance with the spirit of the provisions of Chapter IX inserted in our Constitution by the Constitution (Seventy third) Amendment Act 1992 which provides for constitution of Panchayats at the village, empowering the villagers to manage their affairs at the local level themselves. ....."

11. In Shyamu v. State of U.P. & Ors.: 2010 SCC OnLine All 1250 yet another Division Bench of this Court noted the contradictory judgments given by coordinate Benches in Smt. Usha Singh v. District Magistrate, Gorakhpur & Ors., (Supra) and Kusma Devi v. State of U.P.1992 RD 337 (Supra) and the Division Bench held that: -

"8. It is a cardinal principle of our jurisprudence, that if a learned Single Judge disagrees with the view taken by another learned Judge on the interpretation of a provision, in the normal course, the learned Judge should refer the matter to a larger Bench unless the ratio of the judgment is clearly distinguishable. Judicial discipline requires such an approach to avoid inconsistency in judicial pronouncements and further to enable the authorities to exercise their powers in terms of the interpretation given by the Court to the provisions. We may gainfully refer to the judgment of the Supreme Court in the case of Tribhuvandas Purshottamdas Thakur v. Ratilal Motilal Patel, AIR 1968 SC 372, wherein the Supreme Court has observed that where a learned Single Judge chooses to take a view different from the view taken by another learned Single Judge, he is ordinarily bound to refer the matter to a Division Bench. We may only quote the following observations:-

"... It has been held time and again that a Single Judge of a High Court is ordinarily bound to accept as correct judgments of courts of coordinate jurisdiction and of Division Benches and of the Full Benches of his Court and of this Court. The reason of the rule which makes a precedent binding lies in the desire to secure uniformity and certainty in the law."

9. This principle flows on the proposition that if decisions of the same or a superior Court are ignored, even though directly applicable, by a Judge in deciding a case arising before him, on the view that every Judge is entitled to take such view as he chooses on the question of law arising before him, the law will be bereft of all its utility if it should be thrown into a state of uncertainty by reasons of conflicting decisions. In this regard, the observation of Gajendragadkar, C.J., in Lala Shri Bhagwan v. Shri Ram Chand, (1965) 3 SCR 218, is quoted below:-

"It is hardly necessary to emphasise that considerations of judicial propriety and decorum require that if a learned Single Judge hearing a matter is inclined to take the view that the earlier decisions of the High Court, whether of a Division Bench or of a Single Judge, need to be reconsidered, he should not embark upon that enquiry sitting as a Single Judge, but should refer the matter to a Division Bench or, in a proper case, place the relevant papers before the Chief Justice to enable him to constitute a larger Bench to examine the question. That is the proper and traditional way to deal with such matters and it is founded on healthy principles of judicial decorum and propriety."

The Division Bench concluded that: -

"14. We have earlier quoted Section 12-J of the Act. The Section, literally read, confers power on the Prescribed Authority alone to nominate a member of the Gram Panchayat. There is no provision for the Prescribed Authority to mandatorily consult the members of the Gram Panchayat. The settled legal principle of the interpretation is, in the first instance, to read the language of the Section in its literal sense. It is only in the event, when the reading of the literal language would result into the absurdity or detract from the intent of the legislature, the Court steps into read the provision in consonance of the intent of the legislature. The intention of the legislation is primarily to be gathered from the language used, which means that attention should be paid to what has been said as also what has not been said. As a consequence, a construction, which requires for its support addition or substitution of words or which results in rejection of words as meaningless has to be avoided. [(See Shyam Kishori Devi v. The Patna Municipal Corporation & Anr., AIR 1966 SC 1678, and A.R. Antulay v. Ramdas Sriniwas Nayak & Anr., (1984) 2 SCC 500].

The learned Single Judge, who decided Smt. Usha Singh (supra), was of the opinion that the provision gives absolute discretion to the Prescribed Authority and such an interpretation would make the provision arbitrary and also unconstitutional since no guiding principle has been laid down as to how the discretion of the Prescribed Authority is to be exercised and in favour of which member of the Gram Panchayat. It cannot be said that this was not a possible interpretation considering that the object of the Section is to nominate a member to act as a Pradhan. The member nominated should normally enjoy the confidence of other members and/or atleast the majority of the members so that the functions of the Gram Panchayat can proceed smoothly. Secondly, this view has been holding the field atleast since the year 1992. In these circumstances, in our opinion, the requirement of consultation with the members cannot be said to be contrary to the intent of the legislature or adding words which have not been provided by the Statute. We, therefore, overrule the view taken in Smt. Kusma Devi.

15. The office of Pradhan of a village is filled in by elections. The legislature, aware of this position, has made a specific provision under the Act, conferring powers on the Prescribed Authority to nominate a member to discharge the duties and exercise the powers of Pradhan until the vacancy of the office of Pradhan is filled in. This exercise is for the purpose of seeing that the functions of the Panchayat proceed smoothly and that there is no vacancy in the post till the vacancy is filled, as the Panchayat constitutes the basic unit of our democratic structure.

To that extent, the observations made by the learned Division Bench in Udaivir (supra), in our opinion, can be said to reflect this basic concept of our democratic body that those in majority, shall have their nominee elected as an elected Pradhan should have the confidence of the members."

(Emphasis added)

12. The learned counsel for the opposite party no. 4 has submitted that as Section 12-J of the U.P. Panchayat Raj Act does not contain any provision mandating the prescribed authority to take into consideration the views of majority of members as expressed in a meeting held for this purpose, for nominating a person to discharge the duties of pradhan in a case of a casual vacancy, the casus omissus cannot be supplied by the courts except in the case of clear necessity and except where reason for the same is found in the corners of the statute itself but at the same time a casus omissus should not be readily inferred and for this purpose all the parts of statute or sections must be construed together and every clause of a section should be construed with reference to the context with other clauses thereof so that the construction to be put on a particular provision makes a consistent enactment of the whole statute. He has submitted that for the aforesaid reasons, this Court should refer the point decided in the aforesaid cases for reconsideration by a larger Bench.

13. The learned Counsel for the opposite party no. 4 has placed reliance on the judgment of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Union of India versus Dharmendra Textile Processors: (2008) 13 SCC 369, wherein the Hon'ble Supreme Court held that: -

"18. Two principles of construction - one relating to casus omissus and the other in regard to reading the statute as a whole, appear to be well settled. Under the first principle a casus omissus cannot be supplied by the court except in the case of clear necessity and when reason for it is found in the four corners of the statute itself but at the same time a casus omissus should not be readily inferred and for that purpose all the parts of a statute or section must be construed together and every clause of a section should be construed with reference to the context and other clauses thereof so that the construction to be put on a particular provision makes a consistent enactment of the whole statute. This would be more 45 so if literal construction of a particular clause leads to manifestly absurd or anomalous results which could not have been intended by the legislature. "An intention to produce an unreasonable result", said Danckwerts, L.J. in Artemiou v. Procopiou (1965) 3 ALL ER 539 (All ER p. 544 I) "is not to be imputed to a statute if there is some other construction available". Where to apply words literally would "defeat the obvious intention of the legislation and produce a wholly unreasonable result", we must "do some violence to the words" and so achieve that obvious intention and produce a rational construction. [Per Lord Reid in Luke v. IRC (1963) AC 557 where at AC p. 577 he also observed: (All ER p.664 I) "This is not a new problem, though our standard of drafting is such."

(The above paragraph has been quoted from the text of the judgment available on the web portal of the Hon'ble Supreme Court because there is an error in paragraph numbering in SCC)

14. Having gone through the law laid down in Udaivir (supra) and affirmed by two different division benches in Pushpendra Kumar (supra) and Shyamu (supra), I find myself bound by the proposition of law laid down by the Division Benches in the aforesaid cases.

15. I agree with the submission made by Sri. Anurag Shukla, the learned Senior Counsel for the opposite party no. 4 that a Single Judge Bench can refer the decision rendered by a Division Bench for reconsideration to a larger Bench, but this can only be done when the Single Bench doubts correctness of the view taken by the Division Bench. However, I am in respectful agreement of the view taken by the Single Judge Bench in the case of Smt. Usha Singh v. District Magistrate, Gorakhpur & Ors., (Supra) decided way back in the year 1992, which view was also taken by the Division Benches in the cases of Udaivir (supra) and affirmed in Pushpendra Kumar (supra) and finally explained and settled in Shyamu (Supra) and I find no ground for making a reference for reconsideration of the issue by a larger Bench.

16. It is also a settled principle of law that longstanding precedents should not ordinarily be interfered with. Even the Hon'ble Supreme Court does not ordinarily interfere with the long standing precedents of High Courts regarding State legislations.

17. In Dattatraya Ganesh Kulkarni v. Appa Tukaram Mude: (1998) 8 SCC 717, the Hon'ble Supreme Court held that: -

"Those judgments are in the nature of stare decisis insofar as the interpretation of the local legislation on the subject is concerned. These having remained in the field for decades would not warrant us now to be giving a different interpretation as sought by the learned counsel for the appellant."

18. In Shri Sant Sadguru Janardan Swami (Moingiri Maharaj) Sahakari Dugdha Utpadak Sanstha v. State of Maharashtra: (2001) 8 SCC 509, the Hon'ble Supreme Court again held that:

"7. ...This being the consistent view of the High Court on the interpretation of provisions of a State Act, the same is not required to be disturbed unless it is shown that such a view of the High Court is palpably wrong or ceased to be good law in view of amendment in the Act or any subsequent declaration of law."

19. In view of the foregoing discussion, I am unable to accept the request of the learned Senior Counsel for the opposite party no. 4 for referring the aforesaid well settled issue for reconsideration by a larger Bench and this request of the learned Counsel for the opposite party no. 4 is turned down.

20. Regarding the other submission of the learned Counsel for the petitioner that even while filling up a casual vacancy of Pradhan under Section 12-J of the Panchayat Raj Act, the principle of reservation has to be followed, the judgment of a coordinate Bench of this Court in Brij Rani Singh v. State of U.P.: 2000 SCC OnLine All 1249 : 2000 All LJ 1854 had as follows: -

"25. ...it is apparent that the arrangement made for filling up temporary vacancy in the office of Pradhan which may cause, because of certain factors including removal of Pradhan would not mean that the office of Pradhan is filled up by a person or member or Up-Pradhan who is otherwise not eligible or was not eligible to contest for the seat of Pradhan in a particular reserved constituency. This being only a simple arrangement during a temporary vacancy, no exception of the same can be taken and It can not be read in derogation with the provisions regarding reservation made under the Act and prescribed under the Rules...."

21. Therefore, the rule of reservation has to be applied even while making nomination of a member of a village Panchayat under Section 12-J of the U. P. Panchayat Raj Act to perform the duties of a Pradhan against a casual vacancy of Pradhan.

22. In view of the foregoing discussion, I am of the considered view that the impugned order dated 26.06.2025, passed by the District Panchayat Raj Officer, Sitapur, whereby the District Panchayat Raj Officer has nominated the opposite party No. 4 to perform the duties of Gram Pradhan of Gram Panchayat, Sikauha, Development Block Reusa, District Sitapur until further orders, or until a Pradhan is appointed, is unsustainable in law and the same is quashed. The District Magistrate/District Panchayat Raj Officer, Sitapur is directed to make a fresh appointment of officiating Pradhan, keeping in view the observations made in this judgment.

23. With the aforesaid observations/directions the petition stands allowed.

(2026) 2 ILRA 624
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 20.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE ALOK MATHUR, J.

Writ C No. 526 of 2026

Jag Prasad & Ors. ...Petitioners

Versus

Additional Commissioner, Administration, 2nd, Devi Patan Division, Gonda & Ors. ...Respondents

Issue(s) for consideration

Whether in case, notices were served to the legal heirs of the deceased respondent would amount to effective service on the parties to the proceedings?

Headnotes

A. Land Law – Section 24 of U.P. Revenue Code / 41 of Land Revenue Act - Service of notice on persons who are not parties to the proceedings is of no value, as they cannot participate in such proceeding despite service. Once some of the petitioners who are the legal heirs of Swami Deen were never substituted and hence they were never the contesting parties before the SDM and their status of necessary party would accrue only when the application for substitution if had been filed in accordance with law would have been allowed by the SDM. (Para 9)

There is no dispute w.r.t. the facts, but only the infirmity claimed by the petitioners is w.r.t. not giving adequate opportunity of hearing to the petitioners by the SDM at the stage of confirming the revenue report dated 02.01.2020 and passing of the order dated 20.05.2022. It is noticed that Swami Deen who was a respondent before the SDM and a recorded tenure holder of Plot No. 23 situated at Village Madhavpar, Pargana, Tehsil and District Gonda was a necessary party in proceedings for demarcation. He had died on 12.09.2020 and no application for substitution was preferred by the private respondents before the SDM at any stage prior to passing of the order dated 20.05.2022. The infirmity in the said proceedings is said to have cured when notices were issued on the fresh revenue report dated 02.01.2020 which was served on some of the petitioners who are the legal heirs of Swami Deen. (Para 8)

In the present case, service of notice on the legal heirs prior to their being substituted as parties in the regular proceedings cannot be deemed to be effective service curing the defect of non-substitution of the deceased respondent. Accordingly, the service on the legal heirs of Swami Deen will(not) cure the defect of non-substituting Swami Deen with his legal heirs and hence the infirmity which was existing at the stage of passing of the impugned order by the SDM dated 20.05.2022 cannot be cured by assuming the service to be effective service on the parties to the proceedings. Therefore, this Court finds that the revisional authority has incorrectly appreciated the law and dismissed the revision filed by the petitioner. (Para 10)

The impugned orders dated 06.05.2025 and 20.05.2022 are set aside. The matter is remitted to the SDM to proceed afresh from the stage of receipt of the report dated 02.01.2020. (Para 11)

Writ petition allowed. (E-4)

List of Acts

U.P. Revenue Code/Land Revenue Act.

List of Keywords

Land, demarcation, infirmity, adequate, opportunity, substitution, service, legal, heir, deceased.

Appearances for Parties

For Petitioner(s): Faiz Ahmad Khan
For Respondent(s): C.S.C., Chandra Shekhar Shukla, Pankaj Gupta, Vijay Shankar Trivedi

(Delivered by Hon'ble Alok Mathur, J.)

1. Heard Sri Faiz Ahmad Khan, learned counsel for petitioners as well as learned Standing Counsel for respondent Nos. 1 to 3 and Sri Vijay Shankar Trivedi, learned counsel for respondent Nos. 5 to 8.

2. The dispute in the present case pertains to demarcation of the land situated at Gata No. 32 measuring 0.870 hect. recorded in the name of predecessor in interest of the private respondents. The petitioners are recorded tenure holders of land situated at Gata No. 23 situated at Village Madhavpar, Pargana, Tehsil and District Gonda which is adjacent to Gata No. 32 and accordingly were necessary parties in proceedings U/S 24 of U.P. Revenue Code / 41 of Land Revenue Act.

3. The proceedings were initiated sometimes in 2015 and the report of the revenue officials were also called for but subsequently during the proceedings after hearing the objections another fresh report of revenue officials were called which were submitted on 02.01.2020. It seems that when the case was next listed on 20.05.2022, the petitioners did not put in appearance nor did they filed their objections against the report dated 02.01.2020 and consequently the Sub-Divisional Magistrate, Devi Patan Mandal, Gonda confirmed the demarcation report as per the report of the revenue officials dated 02.01.2020 and directed for actual demarcation proceedings to be conducted (Patharnasin). The petitioners thereafter had preferred a revision before Additional Commissioner (Administration-II) stating that after filing of the second revenue report on 02.01.2020 no opportunity was given to them.

4. Apart from the fact that one of the parties to the case namely, Swami Deen had died on 12.03.2020 and accordingly the order dated 20.05.2022 has been passed against a dead person. The revisional authority has duly considered the objections filed by the petitioner and found that the Sub-Divisional Magistrate had issued notices on a receipt of the revenue report dated 02.01.2020. He has further observed that no doubt that Swami Deen had died in the meanwhile during the proceedings but the notice was received by petitioner Nos. 2 to 5 who are the legal heirs of Swami Deen and accordingly once the legal heirs were served then the infirmity with regard to death of Swami Deen stood cured and accordingly declined to interfere in exercise his judicial power and dismissed the revision filed by the petitioners. It is in the aforesaid circumstances that the writ petition has been filed before this Court assailing the validity of the order dated 20.05.2022 and the order dated 06.05.2025.

5. Learned counsel for petitioner has submitted that once a party to a civil dispute has died then it is incumbent for him to be substituted before the proceedings can be finalized and there is no dispute with regard to legal proposition that any order passed against a dead person is a nullity and void. He submits that undoubtedly even if it is assumed that the notices were served on the legal heir of Swami Deen but they were not parties to the present dispute at that time and such a service on the legal heirs of Swami Deen (deceased) cannot be deemed to be effective service on Swami Deen. He submits that it is only after curing the defect and making necessary substitution of Swami Deen the proceedings could have continued after adequately serving notices on the legal heirs of Swami Deen.

6. Accordingly, in this regard it is stated that the order dated 20.05.2022 is illegal and arbitrary and even the order dated 06.5.2025 passed by Additional Commissioner (Administration) is illegal and arbitrary inasmuch as he has wrongly appreciated the aspect pertaining to substitution of the parties and both the orders deserves to be set aside.

7. Learned counsel for respondents on the other hand has opposed the writ petition and submitted that merely because petitioners were not served or were not properly served cannot be a sole ground for setting aside the impugned order inasmuch as they were fully aware of the proceedings pending before the Sub-Divisional Magistrate and had deliberately not participated in the said proceedings and therefore had supported the impugned orders.

8. Considering the rival submissions of the parties, it is noticed that there is no dispute with regard to the facts, but only the infirmity claimed by the petitioners is with regard to not giving adequate opportunity of hearing to the petitioners by the Sub-Divisional Magistrate at the stage of confirming the revenue report dated 02.01.2020 and passing of the order dated 20.05.2022. It is noticed that Swami Deen who was a respondent before the Sub-Divisional Magistrate and a recorded tenure holder of Plot No. 23 situated at Village Madhavpar, Pargana, Tehsil and District Gonda was a necessary party in proceedings for demarcation. He had died on 12.09.2020 and no application for substitution was preferred by the private respondents before the Sub-Divisional Magistrate at any stage prior to passing of the order dated 20.05.2022. The infirmity in the said proceedings is said to have cured when notices were issued on the fresh revenue report dated 02.01.2020 which was served on some of the petitioners who are the legal heirs of Swami Deen.

9. The aspect which required consideration before this Court is as to whether in case notices were served to the legal heirs of the deceased-respondent would amount to effective service on the parties to the proceedings. There is again no dispute that once some of the petitioners who are the legal heirs of Swami Deen were never substituted and hence they were never the contesting parties before the Sub-Divisional Magistrate and their status of necessary party would accrue only when the application for substitution if had been filed in accordance with law would have been allowed by the SDM. Accordingly, service of notice on persons who are not parties to the proceedings is of no value, as they cannot participate in such proceeding despite service.

10. In the present case, service of notice on the legal heirs prior to their being substituted as parties in the regular proceedings cannot be deemed to be effective service curing the defect of non-substitution of the deceased respondent. Accordingly, the service on the legal heirs of Swami Deen will cure the defect of non-substituting Swami Deen with his legal heirs and hence the infirmity which was existing at the stage of passing of the impugned order by the Sub-Divisional Magistrate dated 20.05.2022 cannot be cured by assuming the service to be effective service on the parties to the proceedings. It is in this regard, this Court finds that the revisional authority has been incorrectly appreciated the law and dismissed the revision filed by the petitioner.

11. With the aforesaid circumstances, the writ petition is allowed. The impugned orders dated 06.05.2025 and 20.05.2022 are set aside. The matter is remitted to the Sub-Divisional Magistrate to proceed afresh from the stage of receipt of the report dated 02.01.2020. The petitioners would be at liberty to file their objections within next three weeks and the Sub-Divisional Magistrate shall conclude the proceedings within a period of two months thereafter by speaking and reasoned order in accordance with law.

12. Parties before this Court undertake to cooperate in the proceedings and shall not take any unnecessary adjournments.

13. Till such time as final orders are passed by Sub-Divisional Magistrate, the parties shall maintain status quo over the disputed land as existing today.

14. Affidavit of service filed today is taken on record.

(2026) 2 ILRA 628
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 06.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SUBHASH VIDYARTHI, J.

Writ C No. 1113 of 2026

Rajesh Kumar & Anr. ...Petitioner
Versus
State Election Commissioner U.P. Lko. & Ors. ...Respondents

Issue(s) for consideration

Who shall be deemed to be an ordinary resident in the territorial constituency of a Gram Panchayat?

Headnotes

A. Civil Law – U.P. Panchayat Raj Act, 1947: Section 9(3) - The Explanation appended to Section 9(3) of the U. P. Panchayat Raj Act clarifies that a person shall not be treated to be an ordinary resident in the territorial constituency merely on the ground that is in possession of a dwelling house therein, whereas the petitioners are claiming themselves to be residents of Village Panchayat- Kandaari only on the ground that the petitioner no. 1 is in possession of a room in the sahan of Rakesh Kumar, son of Banwari Lal in village Shahzadpur in village Panchayat Kandaari and he has put up his name plate on it portraying it to be his residence, whereas it has come to light in inquiry that that there was no evidence of their actual residence in that room and they are ordinarily residing in village Shahzadpur in village panchayat Bambhauri. (Para 7)

B. Even if the petitioners are absenting themselves temporarily from their place of ordinary residence in Village Panchayat- Bambhauri, they shall not by reason thereof cease to be ordinarily residents of Village Panchayat- Bambhauri. The names of the other family members of the petitioners are recorded in the electoral roll of Village Panchayat- Bambhauri. Several villagers have stated that the petitioners are not residents of Village Panchayat- Kandaari and some of them have given affidavits stating that the petitioners are residents of Village Panchayat- Bambhauri and their names are recorded in the electoral roll of that Village. (Para 9)

C. The S.D.M. has passed the impugned order holding the petitioners to be ordinary residents of Village Panchayat- Bambhauri after proper consideration of all the facts of the case, as required by Explanation (v) appended to Section 9(3) of the Act. (Para 10)

Writ petition dismissed.

List of Acts

U.P. Panchayat Raj Act, 1947.

List of Keywords

Resident, territorial, constituency, gram panchayat, residence, ordinary.

Appearances for Parties

For Petitioner(s): Anshuman Singh, Vipul Singh
For Respondent(s): Anurag Kumar Singh

(Delivered by Hon'ble Subhash Vidyarthi, J.)

1. Heard Shri Anshuman Singh, the learned counsel for the petitioner and Shri Anurag Kumar Singh, the learned counsel for the State Election Commission representing the opposite party Nos.1, 2 and 3.

2. By means of the instant petition filed under Article 226 of the Constitution of India, the petitioner has challenged the validity of an order dated 24.12.2025 passed by the S.D.M., Mahmoodabad, District- Sitapur whereby the petitioner's representation dated 08.12.2025 for treating him as a resident of Village Panchayat - Kandaari, has been rejected. The ground of rejection is that earlier the petitioner was a resident of Village Panchayat- Bambhauri and the petitioner's father, wife and children are still continuing as residents of Village Panchayat- Bambhauri. Therefore, the petitioner shall also be treated as a resident of Village Panchayat- Bambhauri.

3. It has been pleaded in the petition that earlier the petitioner was elected as Pradhan of the Village Panchayat- Bambhauri in the elections held in the year 2005. At that time, the said Village Panchayat comprised of eight villages. Subsequently in the year 2015, a new Village Panchayat- Kandaari comprising of 3 villages was carved out from Village Panchayat- Bambhauri. The petitioner was elected as Pradhan of Village Panchayat- Bambhauri in the year 2015 and he held that Office till the year 2021. In the year 2021, the petitioner lost election for Pradhan of Village Panchayat- Bambhauri and the opposite party No.4 was elected as Pradhan. The petitioner claims to have shifted his residence from Village Panchayat- Bambhauri to Shahzadpur, which is a hamlet of Village Panchayat- Kandaari. The petitioner has been issued a domicile certificate by the Competent Authority.

4. On 26.09.2025, the father of the petitioner No.1 had moved an application for striking out the petitioners 'names from the voters′ list of the Village Panchayat- Bambhauri and, accordingly, their names have been struck out from the voters′ list of Village Panchayat- Bambhauri. Thereafter the petitioners sought inclusion of their names in the electoral roll of Village Panchayat- Kandaari. This claim has been rejected by the impugned order 24.12.2025.

5. It is recorded in the order dated 24.12.2025 that the names of other family members of the petitioners, namely, Jwala Prasad- father of the petitioner No.-1, Usha Devi wife of the petitioner No.1, Jyoti Yadav and Manjari Yadav - daughters of the petitioner No.1 and Devendra Singh and Gyanendra Singh - sons of the petitioner No.1, are recorded in the electoral roll of Village Panchayat- Bambhauri. During inquiry, it came to light that Rakesh Kumar, son of Banwari Lal has provided a room in the Sehen of his house to the petitioner No.1 and the petitioner No.1 has put up his name plate on it portraying it to be his residence, but there was no evidence of the residence of the petitioner No.1 in the said room. Although the petitioner has submitted affidavits of some persons, the affidavits were pre-prepared affidavits. Several villagers have objected stating that the petitioners are not residents of Village Panchayat- Kandaari and some of them have given affidavits stating that the petitioner and his family members are residents of Village Panchayat- Bambhauri and their names are recorded in the electoral roll of that Village.

6. Challenging the validity of the aforesaid order dated 24.12.2025, the learned counsel for the petitioners has submitted that Section 9 (3) of U.P. Panchayat Raj Act, 1947 provides that "Subject to the provisions of sub-section (4), (5) and (7) every person who has attained the age of 18 years of the first day of January of the year in which the electoral roll is prepared or revised and who is ordinary resident in the territorial constituency of a Gram Panchayat shall be entitled to be registered in the electoral roll for that territorial constituency." However, the learned Counsel for the petitioners has not placed the explanation appended to Section 9(3) of the Act whereas whenever any provision of law is placed before a Court, it should be placed in its entirety. Therefore, Section 9 (3) of U.P. Panchayat Raj Act, 1947 is being quoted below: -

"(3) Subject to the provisions of sub-sections (4), (5), (6) and (7) every person who has attained the age of 18 years on the first day of January of the year in which the electoral roll is prepared or revised and who is ordinarily resident in the territorial constituency of a Gram Panchayat shall be entitled to be registered in the electoral roll for that territorial constituency.

Explanation (i) A person shall not be deemed to be ordinarily resident in the territorial constituency on the ground only that be owns, or is in possession of, a dwelling house therein.

(ii) A person absenting himself temporarily from his place of ordinary residence shall not by reason thereof cease to be ordinarily resident therein.

(iii) A member of Parliament or of the Legislature of the State shall not, during the term of his office, cease to be ordinarily resident in the territorial constituency merely by reason of his absence from that area in connection with his duties as such member.

(iv) Any other factor that may be prescribed shall be taken into consideration for deciding as to what persons may or may not be deemed to be ordinarily residents of a particular area at any relevant time.

(v) If in any case a question arises as to where a person is ordinarily resident at any relevant time, the question shall be determined with reference to all the facts of the case*."*

(Emphasis added)

7. The Explanation appended to Section 9(3) of the U. P. Panchayat Raj Act clarifies that a person shall not be treated to be an ordinary resident in the territorial constituency merely on the ground that is in possession of a dwelling house therein, whereas the petitioners are claiming themselves to be residents of Village Panchayat- Kandaari only on the ground that the petitioner no. 1 is in possession of a room in the sahan of Rakesh Kumar, son of Banwari Lal in village Shahzadpur in village Panchayat Kandaari and he has put up his name plate on it portraying it to be his residence, whereas it has come to light in inquiry that that there was no evidence of their actual residence in that room and they are ordinarily residing in village Shahzadpur in village panchayat Bambhauri.

8. The petitioners have themselves pleaded that earlier the petitioner no. 1 has been elected as Pradhan of Village Panchayat- Bambhauri in the elections held in the year 2005. At that time, the said Village Panchayat comprised of eight villages. Subsequently in the year 2015, a new Village Panchayat - Kandaari comprising of 3 villages was carved out from Village Panchayat- Bambhauri. The petitioner was elected as Pradhan of Village Panchayat- Bambhauri in the year 2015 and he held that Office till the year 2021. In the year 2021, the petitioner lost election for Pradhan of Village Panchayat- Bambhauri and the opposite party No.4 was elected as Pradhan. The petitioner claims to have shifted his residence from Village Panchayat- Bambhauri to Shahzadpur, which is a hamlet of Village Panchayat- Kandaari.

9. The names of the other family members of the petitioners, namely, Jwala Prasad- father of the petitioner No.-1 and husband of the petitioner no. 2, Usha Devi wife of the petitioner No.1 and daughter-in-law of the petitioner no. 2, Jyoti Yadav and Manjari Yadav - daughters of the petitioner No.1 and grand-daughters of the petitioner no. 2 and Devendra Singh and Gyanendra Singh - sons of the petitioner No.1 and grand-sons of the petitioner no. 2, are recorded in the electoral roll of Village Panchayat- Bambhauri. Several villagers have stated that the petitioners are not residents of Village Panchayat- Kandaari and some of them have given affidavits stating that the petitioners are residents of Village Panchayat- Bambhauri and their names are recorded in the electoral roll of that Village. Even if the petitioners are absenting themselves temporarily from their place of ordinary residence in Village Panchayat- Bambhauri, they shall not by reason thereof cease to be ordinarily residents of Village Panchayat- Bambhauri.

10. The S.D.M. has passed the impugned order holding the petitioners to be ordinary residents of Village Panchayat- Bambhauri after proper consideration of all the facts of the case, as required by Explanation (v) appended to Section 9(3) of the Act. The impugned order does not suffer from any error or illegality warranting interference by this Court.

11. The Writ Petition lacks merit and the same is dismissed.

(2026) 2 ILRA 631
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 25.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SUBHASH VIDYARTHI, J.

Writ C No. 1337 of 2026

Shri Radhey Shyam Yadav ...Petitioner
Versus
Presiding Officer CGIT-cum-Labour Court Lko. & Ors. ...Respondents

ISSUE FOR CONSIDERATION

Whether a belated industrial dispute raised after a long lapse of time can be entertained, although no period of limitation is prescribed under the Industrial Disputes Act.

HEADNOTE

Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 – Delay and laches – No statutory limitation prescribed for raising an industrial dispute – Belated industrial dispute – Re-engagement claim – Justification:

Held: Although law has not prescribed any period of limitation for raising an industrial dispute, it does not mean that the dispute can be raised at any time and without regard to delay and reasons therefor – Power is to be exercised reasonably and in a rational manner and a stale dispute cannot be the subject-matter of reference – What is a reasonable time depends upon the facts and circumstances of each case – Submission of applications after long intervals followed by complete inaction amounts to laches –In the present case, submission of applications for re-engagement in the years 1997 and 2004 and thereafter complete inaction for eleven years, and raising of dispute after about 25 years of disengagement, amounts to laches – Claim for re-engagement was barred by delay and laches – Tribunal did not committed any illegality or error in rejecting the claim on the ground of delay. (Paras 10, 12, 21) (E-5)

CASE LAW CITED

S.M. Nilajkar v. Telecom District Manager (2003) 4 SCC 27;
Nedungadi Bank Ltd. v. K.P. Madhavankutty (2000) 2 SCC 455;
Union of India v. N. Murugesan (2022) 2 SCC 25;
SBI v. M.J. James (2022) 2 SCC 301

List of Acts

Industrial Disputes Act, 1947;
Constitution of India.

List of Keyword

Delay and laches; Industrial dispute; Stale claim; Reasonable time; Re-engagement; Casual labour; Acquiescence; Discretion under Article 226.

CASE ARISING FROM

Order dated 09.04.2025 passed by the Central Government Industrial Tribunal-cum-Labour Court, Lucknow.

Appearances for Parties

Advs For Petitioner: Manju Nagaur, Sushila Pandey.
Advs For Respondents: A.S.G.I.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Subhash Vidyarthi, J.)

1. Heard Smt. Manju Nagaur, the learned counsel for the petitioner and Shri Dev Rishi Kumar, the learned counsel for the opposite parties.

2. By means of the instant petition filed under Article 226 of the Constitution of India, the petitioner has challenged the validity of a judgment and order dated 09.04.2025 passed by the Central Government Industrial Tribunal-cum-Labour Court, Lucknow in ID Casc No.71 of 2015 whereby the claim of the petitioner-workman under the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, has been rejected on the ground that the cause of action had accrued to the workman on 30.06.1990 and he raised the Industrial Dispute in the year 2015. The reference was made on 09.11.2015 and a Claim Petition was filed on 25.01.2016. During pendency of the case, the petitioner has attained the age of retirement and for these reasons, he is not entitled for any relief.

3. Assailing validity of the aforesaid order, Smt. Manju Nagaur, the learned counsel for the petitioner has submitted that the Industrial Disputes Act does not lay down any period of limitation for raising an industrial dispute and the provisions of the Limitation do not apply to the proceedings under the Industrial Disputes Act. She has placed reliance on judgments of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the cases of Ajaib Singh v. Sirhind Co-op. MKTG.-cum-Processing Service Society Ltd.: (1999) 6 SCC 82, Jasmer Singh v. State of Haryana and Anr.: (2015) 4 SCC 458, U.P.P.C.L. v. Presiding Officer, Labour Court, Faizabad and another: 2020 SCC OnLine All 1288, Vijay Pal Singh v. State of U.P.: 2020 SCC OnLine All 253 and Prem Sagar Vishwakarma v. Presiding Officer, Court, Central Industrial Government: 2023:AHC-LKO:85351.

4. In Ajaib Singh v. Sirhind Co-op. MKTG.-cum-Processing Service Society Ltd. (supra), the Hon'ble Supreme Court held that: -

"10. ...the provisions of Article 137 of the Schedule to the Limitation Act, 1963 are not applicable to the proceedings under the Act and that the relief under it cannot be denied to the workman merely on the ground of delay. The plea of delay if raised by the employer is required to be proved as a matter of fact by showing the real prejudice and not as a merely hypothetical defence. No reference to the Labour Court can be generally questioned on the ground of delay alone. Even in a case where the delay is shown to be existing, the tribunal, labour court or board, dealing with the case can appropriately mould the relief by declining to grant back wages to the workman till the date he raised the demand regarding his illegal retrenchment/ termination or dismissal. The court may also in appropriate cases direct the payment of part of the back wages instead of full back wages…"

5. The aforesaid law was followed in Jasmer Singh v. State of Haryana and Anr.: (supra) and U.P Power Corp. Ltd. v. Presiding Officer (supra).

6. In Vijay Pal Singh v. State of U.P. (supra) a Co-ordinate Bench of this Court set aside an order rejecting an application for condonation of delay in filing an application for substitution of a deceased petitioner by holding that:

"6. The purpose of laws of limitation is to ensure that the parties may remain vigilant to their cause and institute their claim in good time. Laws of limitation are statutes of repose. They are usually triggered in cases of inordinate delay caused by apathy of litigants. The mandate of laws of limitation is not to shut the doors of justice to the parties or decline adjudication on merits. On the contrary it should be the constant endeavour the courts of law to adjudicate issues on merits and dispense justice on a substantive basis.

7. There is good authority to say that the courts should adopt a liberal, pragmatic and a justice oriented approach matters of condonation of delay. Equally the courts should avoid a pedantic view and eschew servitude to procedure in such matters."

7. Vijay Pal Singh v. State of U.P. (supra) was altogether on a different point which is not involved n the present case and, therefore, it is not relevnt for adjudication of the present case.

8. In Prem Sagar Vishwakarma (supra), the question before a Co-ordinate Bench of this Court was regarding the effect and applicability of Section 2-A(3) of the U. P. Industrial Disputes Act, which was inserted by Act No. 24 of 2010 with effect from 15.09.2010 and it provided as follows: -

"2-A. Dismissal, etc., of an individual workman to be deemed to be an industrial dispute.-

(3) The application referred to in sub-section (2) shall be made to the Labour Court or Tribunal before the expiry of three years from the date of discharge, dismissal, retrenchment or otherwise termination of service as specified in sub-section (1)."

9. The industrial dispute in the present case was not instituted on an application under Section 2-A, rather it was instituted on a reference under Section 10 of the Act. Therefore, Prem Sagar Vishwakarma (supra) is not applicable to the present case.

10. In S.M. Nilajkar v. Telecom District Manager: (2003) 4 SCC 27, the Hon?ble Supreme Court referred to some precedents on the point of belated industrial disputes and held as follows: -

"17. ...It is true, as held in Shalimar Works Ltd. v. Workmen [AIR 1959 SC 1217] that merely because the Industrial Disputes Act does not provide for a limitation for raising the dispute, it does not mean that the dispute can be raised at any time and without regard to the delay and reasons therefor. There is no limitation prescribed for reference of disputes to an Industrial Tribunal; even so it is only reasonable that the disputes should be referred as soon as possible after they have arisen and after conciliation proceedings have failed, particularly so when disputes relate to discharge of workmen wholesale. A delay of 4 years in raising the dispute after even re-employment of most of the old workmen was held to be fatal in Shalimar Works Ltd. v. Workmen. In Nedungadi Bank Ltd. v. K.P. Madhavankutty [(2000) 2 SCC 455] a delay of 7 years was held to be fatal and disentitled the workmen to any relief. In Ratan Chandra Sammanta v. Union of India [1993 Supp (4) SCC 67] it was held that a casual labourer retrenched by the employer deprives himself of remedy available in law by delay itself; lapse of time results in losing the remedy and the right as well. The delay would certainly be fatal if it has resulted in material evidence relevant to adjudication being lost and rendered not available…"

(Emphasis added)

11. In Nilajkar case (supra), considering the facts of the case, it was held that the delay in the case had not been so culpable as to disentitle the appellants to any relief. The Hon?ble Supreme Court held that: -

"Although the High Court has opined that there was a delay of 7 to 9 years in raising the dispute before the Tribunal but we find the High Court factually not correct. The employment of the appellants was terminated sometime in 1985-86 or 1986-87. Pursuant to the judgment in Daily Rated Casual Labour v. Union of India [(1988) 1 SCC 122] the Department was formulating a scheme to accommodate casual labourers and the appellants were justified in awaiting the outcome thereof. On 16-1-1990 they were refused to be accommodated in the Scheme. On 28-12-1990 they initiated the proceedings under the Industrial Disputes Act followed by conciliation proceedings and then the dispute was referred to the Industrial Tribunal-cum-Labour Court. We do not think that the appellants deserve to be non-suited on the ground of delay."

12. In Nedungadi Bank Ltd. v. K.P. Madhavankutty: (2000) 2 SCC 455, it was held that: -

"6. Law does not prescribe any time-limit for the appropriate Government to exercise its powers under Section 10 of the Act. It is not that this power can be exercised at any point of time and to revive matters which had since been settled. Power is to be exercised reasonably and in a rational manner. There appears to us to be no rational basis on which the Central Government has exercised powers in this case after a lapse of about seven years of the order dismissing the respondent from service. At the time reference was made no industrial dispute existed or could be even said to have been apprehended. A dispute which is stale could not be the subject-matter of reference under Section 10 of the Act. As to when a dispute can be said to be stale would depend on the facts and circumstances of each case. …."

(Emphasis added)

13. In Union of India v. N. Murugesan: (2022) 2 SCC 25, the Hon?ble Supreme Court explained the principles of delay, latches and acquiescence, in the following words: -

"20. The principles governing delay, laches, and acquiescence are overlapping and interconnected on many occasions. However, they have their distinct characters and distinct elements. One can say that delay is the genus to which laches and acquiescence are species. Similarly, laches might be called a genus to a species by name acquiescence. However, there may be a case where acquiescence is involved, but not laches. These principles are common law principles, and perhaps one could identify that these principles find place in various statutes which restrict the period of limitation and create non-consideration of condonation in certain circumstances. They are bound to be applied by way of practice requiring prudence of the court than of a strict application of law. The underlying principle governing these concepts would be one of estoppel. The question of prejudice is also an important issue to be taken note of by the court.

Laches

21. The word "laches" is derived from the French language meaning "remissness and slackness". It thus involves unreasonable delay or negligence in pursuing a claim involving an equitable relief while causing prejudice to the other party. It is neglect on the part of a party to do an act which law requires while asserting a right, and therefore, must stand in the way of the party getting relief or remedy.

22. Two essential factors to be seen are the length of the delay and the nature of acts done during the interval. As stated, it would also involve acquiescence on the part of the party approaching the court apart from the change in position in the interregnum. Therefore, it would be unjustifiable for a Court of Equity to confer a remedy on a party who knocks its doors when his acts would indicate a waiver of such a right. By his conduct, he has put the other party in a particular position, and therefore, it would be unreasonable to facilitate a challenge before the court. Thus, a man responsible for his conduct on equity is not expected to be allowed to avail a remedy.

23. A defence of laches can only be allowed when there is no statutory bar. The question as to whether there exists a clear case of laches on the part of a person seeking a remedy is one of fact and so also that of prejudice. The said principle may not have any application when the existence of fraud is pleaded and proved by the other side. To determine the difference between the concept of laches and acquiescence is that, in a case involving mere laches, the principle of estoppel would apply to all the defences that are available to a party. Therefore, a defendant can succeed on the various grounds raised by the plaintiff, while an issue concerned alone would be amenable to acquiescence.

Acquiescence

24. We have already discussed the relationship between acquiescence on the one hand and delay and laches on the other.

25. Acquiescence would mean a tacit or passive acceptance. It is implied and reluctant consent to an act. In other words, such an action would qualify a passive assent. Thus, when acquiescence takes place, it presupposes knowledge against a particular act. From the knowledge comes passive acceptance, therefore instead of taking any action against any alleged refusal to perform the original contract, despite adequate knowledge of its terms, and instead being allowed to continue by consciously ignoring it and thereafter proceeding further, acquiescence does take place. As a consequence, it reintroduces a new implied agreement between the parties. Once such a situation arises, it is not open to the party that acquiesced itself to insist upon the compliance of the original terms. Hence, what is essential, is the conduct of the parties. We only dealt with the distinction involving a mere acquiescence. When acquiescence is followed by delay, it may become laches. Here again, we are inclined to hold that the concept of acquiescence is to be seen on a case-to-case basis."

14. In SBI v. M.J. James: (2022) 2 SCC 301, the Hon?ble Supreme Court held that: -

"36. What is a reasonable time is not to be put in a straitjacket formula or judicially codified in the form of days, etc. as it depends upon the facts and circumstances of each case. A right not exercised for a long time is non-existent. Doctrine of delay and laches as well as acquiescence are applied to non-suit the litigants who approach the court/appellate authorities belatedly without any justifiable explanation for bringing action after unreasonable delay*. In the present case, challenge to the order of dismissal from service by way of appeal was after four years and five months, which is certainly highly belated and beyond justifiable time. Without satisfactory explanation justifying the delay, it is difficult to hold that the appeal was preferred within a reasonable time. Pertinently, the challenge was primarily on the ground that the respondent was not allowed to be represented by a representative of his choice. The respondent knew that even if he were to succeed on this ground, as has happened in the writ proceedings, fresh inquiry would not be prohibited as finality is not attached unless there is a legal or statutory bar, an aspect which has been also noticed in the impugned judgment [SBI v. James, 2008 SCC OnLine Ker 759]. This is highlighted to show the prejudice caused to the appellants by the delayed challenge. We would, subsequently, examine the question of acquiescence and its judicial effect in the context of the present case."*

15. In the case of State of Uttaranchal v. Sri. Shiv Charan Singh Bhandari: (2013) 12 SCC 179, the Hon?ble Supreme Court held that a mere submission of representation to the competent authority does not arrest time.

16. The aforesaid decision has been relied upon by the Hon?ble Supreme Court in State of West Bengal v. Debabrata Tiwari: 2023 SCC OnLine SC 219, where after submitting an application in the year 2005-2006 the petitioners did nothing further to pursue the matter for a period of ten years. The Hon?ble Supreme Court held that such prolonged delay in approaching the High Court may be regarded as a waiver of a remedy and such a delay would disentitle the writ petitioners to the discretionary relief under Article 226 of the Constitution of India.

17. Although the aforesaid judgments were rendered in context of delay in filing of a Writ Petition challenging termination of service, the principles will be applicable to filing of claims under the Industrial Disputes Act also, because no limitation is prescribed either for raising an Industrial Dispute or for filing a Writ Petition.

18. The public welfare also demands that the parties should avail their legal remedies promptly. Salmond in his Jurisprudence has stated that the laws come to the assistance of the vigilant and not of the sleepy. Public interest undoubtedly is a paramount consideration in exercising the courts? discretion. Pursuing stale claims in no manner serves the public interest.

19. In the present case, the petitioner had pleaded in the reference application that he was appointed as a casual labor on 01.06.1976 and he worked till 30.06.1990. He was awarded temporary status in the year 1986-87. His service was terminated orally on 01.07.1990. The petitioner stated that his service was terminated illegally and as per the provisions of law, he should be treated as continuing in service. There was absolutely no averment regarding the delay in filing the reference application. The petitioner has annexed a copy of a letter dated 14.07.1997 written by the Divisional Railway Manager (Personal) to the General Manager, North Eastern Railway rejecting the petitioner?s request for re-employment stating that the petitioner is out of service since 01.07.1990. The D.R.M. has referred to a Circular dated 22.11.1984 issued by the Railway Board, which provides that the names of casual labours who have not worked for two years, will be struck off the live register. The Divisional Railway Manager stated that as some persons junior to the petitioner were working, permission be granted for engagement of the petitioner. Apparently, this request was not accepted and the petitioner did not challenge the rejection of the request.

20. On 10.08.2004, the petitioner gave an application for re-engagement in service and this request was turned down by means of a letter dated 10.12.2004 sent by the Divisional Railway Manager (Personal), stating that the petitioner was out of service for the past fourteen years and his application had been forwarded to the Head Office which was pending consideration. Apparently, the petitioner did not take any action to seek re-engagement in service for more than a decade after receipt of this letter. He raised an industrial dispute in the year 2015, when he had already remained out of service for about 25 years and he had attained the age of 55 years. By the time the reference was decided, the petitioner attained the age of 65 years.

21. Keeping in view the aforesaid facts in light of the law laid down by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the cases of S.M. Nilajkar v. Telecom District Manager (supra) and Nedungadi Bank Ltd. v. K.P. Madhavankutty (supra), I am of the considered view that although the law has not prescribed any period of Limitation, the petitioner ought to have filed his claim for re-engagement in service with reasonable promptness. Submission of two applications for re-engagement ? first in the year 1997, i.e., seven years after his dis-engagement and the second in the year 2004, fourteen years since his dis-engagement and thereafter complete inaction for eleven years, amounts to latches and the claim for re-engagement in service filed twenty five years after his dis-engagement, is barred by delay and latches as per the principles laid down in the cases of Union of India v. N. Murugesan (supra) and SBI v. M.J. James (supra).

22. In these circumstances, the Central Government Industrial Tribunal-cum-Labour Court has not committed any illegality or error in dismissing the petitioner's claim on the ground of delay.

23. The Writ Petition lacks merit and the same is dismissed at the admission stage.

(2026) 2 ILRA 638
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 09.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE MAHESH CHANDRA TRIPATHI, J.
THE HON'BLE KUNAL RAVI SINGH, J.

Writ C No. 3630 of 2026

Sarvesh Kumar & Anr. ...Petitioners
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

Issue(s) for consideration

(a) Whether the Court can exercise its discretionary power u/Art. 226, when there is inordinate delay in filing the writ petition and when all steps taken in the acquisition proceedings have become final?
(b) Whether petitioners are entitled for the compensation at the current circle rate?

Headnotes

A. Land Reform Law – Land Acquisition Act, 1894: Section 4 r/w Section 17(4) and Section 6 r/w Section 17(1) - The order or action, if ultra vires the power, becomes void and it does not confer any right. The action need not necessarily be set at naught in all events. Though the order may be void, if the party does not approach the Court within reasonable time, which is always a question of fact and have the order invalidated or acquiesced or waived, the discretion of the Court has to be exercised in a reasonable manner. (Para 12)

Where the Court quashes the acquisition on the grounds personal to individual objectors-such as vitiated consideration of their specific objections u/s 5A, the relief operates "in personam" and benefits only those parties, who contested the matter before the judicial forum. (Para 16)

In the instant proceeding, the award was made in the year 2010. Even from the date of taking possession, the previous writ petition was preferred with inordinate delay of more than 15 years, as such no interference is required in the instant matter at this belated stage. (Para 13)

B. A writ petition challenging the notification for acquisition of land, if filed after the possession having been taken, is not maintainable. (Para 14, 15)

In the instant proceeding, the acquisition proceedings were initiated in the year 1996, the award was made in the year 2010 and first time the writ petition was instituted by the petitioners in the year 2025. As such, there is hardly any scope to exercise our discretionary jurisdiction u/Art.226 of the Constitution of India. (Para 16)

In the instant matter, first time the petitioners approached this Court, without any challenge to the acquisition proceeding, in the year 2025, only asking for the compensation under the Act, 2013. As such, no interference can be made at this belated stage. (Para 17)

No infirmity or illegality is found in the order impugned, which may warrant any interference in writ jurisdiction. However, in the interest of justice, it is provided that in case the petitioners have not lifted the compensation, they are at liberty to move appropriate application before the Special Land Acquisition Officer (SLAO) for disbursement of compensation, which was deposited in view of the award made in the year 2010. (Para 18)

Writ petition disposed of. (E-4)

Case Law Cited

1. Swaran Lata & Ors. Vs. State of Haryana & Ors., (2010) 4 SCC 532 (Para 12)
2. State of Rajasthan Vs. D.R. Laxmi, (1996) 6 SCC 445 (Para 12)
3. Swaika Properties Pvt. Ltd. & Anr. Vs. State of Rajasthan & Ors., 2008 AIR SCW 1574 (Para 14)
4. Municipal Corporation of Greater Bombay Vs. Industrial Development Investment Co. Pvt. Ltd. & Ors. (1996) 11 SCC 501 (Para 14)
5. Hari Singh & Ors. Vs. State of U.P. & Ors., AIR 1984 SC 1020 (Para 15)

List of Acts

Land Acquisition Act, 1894; Right to Fair Compensation and Transparency in Land Acquisition, Rehabilitation and Resettlement Act, 2013.

List of Keywords

acquisition, land, validity, compensation, fair.

Appearances for Parties

For Petitioner(s): Raj Kishor Mishra
For Respondent(s): C.S.C., Shiv Prakash Gupta, Yash Padia

(Delivered by Hon'ble Mahesh Chandra Tripathi, J.
& Hon'ble Kunal Ravi Singh, J.)

1. Heard learned counsel for the petitioners; Sri Devesh Vikram, learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel for the State-respondents and Sri Yash Padia, learned counsel for the Kanpur Development Authority (in short "Authority").

2. The instant writ petition under Art.226 of the Constitution of India has been preferred for following reliefs:-

"(1) Issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of certiorari quashing the impugned order dated 29.12.2025 passed by respondent no.2/ District Magistrate, District Kanpur Nagar.

(2) Issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of mandamus directing the Prescribed Authority to pass afresh order regarding the compensation of the petitioners of Arazi No.82 area 0.1180 hectare and Gata No.503 area 0.1540 hectare situated at Village Bairi, Akbarpur Kachhar, District Kanpur Nagar at the present circle rate.

(3) Issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of mandamus directing to the respondents to make rehabilitation and resettlement award as per provisions of Act, 2013."

3. The factual matrix giving rise to the instant writ petition is that the proceeding under the Land Acquisition Act, 1894 (in short "Act, 1894) in respect of area notified under Section 4 read with Section 17 (4) and Section 6 read with Section 17 (1) of the Act, 1894 was gazetted for 07 revenue villages of District Kanpur Nagar, Uttar Pradesh. A notification under Section 4 of the Act, 1894 was issued for planned development of New Kanpur City in the official gazette of the State of Uttar Pradesh on 9th August, 1996 in respect of a huge area of land of seven revenue villages. The notification was also published in different newspapers. The last such publication was made on 20.12.1996. The declaration under Section 6 of the Act, 1894 was published on 17.12.1997 in the official gazette. The provisions of Section 17 (1) and 17 (4) of the Act, 1894 were resorted to and as such enquiry under Section 5A of the Act, 1894 was dispensed with. Various writ petitions were preferred by the aggrieved persons questioning the validity of the acquisition proceeding. The Civil Misc. Writ Petition No.66471 of 2005 (Mahavir Sahkari Avas Samiti Ltd. v. State of U.P. & Ors.) was filed challenging the validity of the acquisition proceeding, which was allowed vide order dated 26.09.2006 with following observations:-

".....The result therefore is that the Statutory prescribed period for making the declaration under Section 6 of the Act having lapsed, all actions and consequences subsequent to the notification under Section 4 of the Act stand vitiated. The impugned declaration under Section 6 of the Act dated 03.10.2005 is quashed, so far as the land involved in these petitions are concerned. The writ petitions accordingly succeed and are allowed with no order as to costs."

4. The record reflects that the petitioners' father, who was recorded tenure holder had never challenged the acquisition proceeding during his life time, first time the petitioners had preferred Writ-C No.37666 of 2025 (Sarvesh Kumar & Anr. v. State of U.P. & Ors.) in the year 2025, which was disposed of on 3.11.2025 with following observations:-

"1. Heard learned counsel for the petitioners, Shri Abhinav Krishna Srivastava, learned counsel appearing for respondent no.3, and Ms. Uttara Bahuguna, learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel for the State-respondents.

2. Learned counsel for the petitioners are the recorded tenure holder of Gata No.82 area 0.1180 hectare, Gata no.503 area 0.1540 hectare situated in village Bairi Akbarpur Kachhar, District Kanpur Nagar. Even though, the land was acquired but till date the actual compensation had not been disbursed.

5. Considering the factual situation, we are not inclined to issue notice or to invite counter affidavit to the respondents. With the consent of the parties, the instant writ petition is disposed of with an observation that in case, the petitioner moves a detailed representation before the District Magistrate, Kanpur Nagar/respondent no.2 in accordance with law, within a period of two weeks from today, the same shall be considered and decided by the respondent no.2 in further three months but certainly after giving opportunity of hearing to all the stakeholders. "

5. In response to the aforesaid order, the claim of the petitioners had been considered and rejected by the order impugned, hence the instant writ petition has been preferred with aforequoted reliefs.

6. Learned counsel for the petitioners, in this backdrop, states that the order impugned is per se unsustainable as the petitioners are entitled for compensation at the current circle rate. He states that direction may be issued to the respondents to make award as per the Right to Fair Compensation and Transparency in Land Acquisition, Rehabilitation and Resettlement Act, 2013 (in short "Act, 2013").

7. Per contra, learned Addl. Chief Standing Counsel has vehemently opposed the writ petition and submitted that initially acquisition proceedings were initiated for Planned Development of "Kanpur New City", which was challenged by various tenure holders. The acquisition proceedings were also tested in the leading Writ Petition No.66471 of 2005 (Mahavir Sahkari Avas Samiti Ltd. v. State of U.P. & Ors.). The said writ petition was allowed and the impugned declaration under Section 6 of the Act, 1894 was quashed qua the land involved in the said petition. He submits that admittedly for other tenure holders, who have not challenged the acquisition, the award was made with respect to their land in the year 2010. Admittedly qua petitioners' holding, award was made but till date no such challenge has been made to the award. Inspite of the remedy of reference, the petitioners did not approach the competent court. Only a belated attempt has been made by the petitioners in the previous round of litigation, which was instituted in the year 2025, wherein an innocuous relief was prayed for according compensation. The Division Bench, without adverting to the merits of the matter, had disposed of the same with a direction to the respondents to decide the representation of the petitioners. In response thereof, the order impugned had rightly been passed by the respondents. He submits that admittedly the award qua the petitioner was made in the year 2010 and till date the same has not been upset by any competent court. At this belated stage, the relief as prayed for, is totally misconceived and the order impugned does not warrant any interference in writ jurisdiction. Learned Addl. Chief Standing Counsel, in support of his submissions, has also placed reliance on the Division Bench judgment of this Court dated 16.05.2012, passed in a bunch of writ petitions with leading Writ Petition No.32875 of 2009 (Smt. Krishana Tomar & Ors. v. State of U.P. & Ors.).

8. Shri Yash Padia, learned counsel for the Authority has also corroborated the arguments so advanced by learned Addl. Chief Standing Counsel. In addition, he has also argued that the acquisition was made for planned development and admittedly neither the father of the petitioners nor the petitioners themselves had ever challenged the acquisition. Admittedly, the award has also attained finality and after more than 16 years of award, no such relief can be accorded and the order impugned is legally sustainable under the present facts and circumstances of the case.

9. We have heard rival submissions, perused the record and respectfully considered the judgments cited at Bar.

10. We find that no doubt the petitioners had never challenged the acquisition, which was of the year 2005. The relief accorded by the Division Bench in Mahavir Sahkari Avas Samiti Ltd. (Supra) was only available to those petitioners, who had challenged the acquisition. In the said proceeding, the Court had categorically observed that quashing is only qua the petitioners in the said proceeding. As such, in absence of any challenge to the acquisition by the petitioners or their predecessors, no such relief can be accorded. The argument that the petitioners are entitled to receive the compensation as per the Act, 2013 is also misplaced inasmuch as for the first time the petitioners had approached this Court in the year 2025 for a direction to the respondents to disburse the compensation. Admittedly the award is of the year 2010. In absence of any challenge or reference, no such relief, as has been prayed for, can be accorded under the Act, 2013. The quashing of declaration under Section 6 of the Act, 1894 vide order dated 26.09.2006 was only qua the petitioners, those have approached the Court at the relevant point of time and the same cannot be applied to other tenure holders, who have not challenged the same.

11. We have also proceeded to consider the judgment in Smt. Krishna Tomar & Ors. (Supra). In the said proceeding, same notifications under Sections 4 and 6 of the Act, 1894 were under challenge. The Division Bench had considered the objection of the respondents that the petitions were barred by gross delay and laches and had also considered the judgment passed by the Division Bench in Mahavir Sahkari Avas Samiti Ltd. (Supra). The Division Bench had also taken note of the fact that large number of writ petitions in respect of same acquisition of the remaining portion of 111.84 hects. were filed and had been dismissed by this Court on the ground of laches. In the said proceeding, learned counsel for the respondents has also placed reliance on the order dated 24.2.2012 in Writ Petition No.10116 of 2012, Narendra Singh & Ors. v. State of U.P. & Ors., which for ready reference is quoted as under:-

"Heard learned counsel for the petitioners, Sri Ramendra Pratap Singh appearing for respondent No.4 and learned Standing Counsel appearing for respondents No.1, 2 and 3.

By this writ petition, the petitioner has prayed for quashing the notifications of section 4 and 6 of Land Acquisition Act 1894 dated 16.8.1988 and 22.2.1989 respectively.

This writ petition has been filed on 17.2.2012 i.e. after more than twenty years of declaration issued under Section 6 of the Land Acquisition Act.

The Apex Court in the case of Sawaran Lata vs. State of U.P. and others reported in 2010(4) SCC 532 has laid down following in paragraph 10:-

"10. Similar view has been reiterated in State of Rajasthan v. D.R. Laxmi wherein this Court has held that even the void proceedings need not be set at naught if the party has not approached the court within reasonable time, as judicial review is not permissible at a belated stage. This Court held as under:

"9. Delay in challenging the notification was fatal and writ petition entails with dismissal on grounds of laches. It is thus, well-settled law that when there is inordinate delay in filing the writ petition and when all steps taken in the acquisition proceedings have become final, the Court should be loath to quash the notifications.

10. The order or action, if ultra vires the power, becomes void and it does not confer any right. But the action need not necessarily be set at naught in all events. Though the order may be void, if the party does not approach the Court within reasonable time, which is always a question of fact and have the order invalidated or acquiesced or waived, the discretion of the Court has to be exercised in a reasonable manner. When the discretion has been conferred on the Court, the Court may in appropriate case decline to grant the relief, even if it holds that the order was void. The net result is that extraordinary jurisdiction of the Court may not be exercised in such circumstances."

Similar view has been reiterated by this Court in Northern India Glass Industries v. Jaswant Singh and Haryana State Handloom & Handicrafts Corpn. Ltd. vs. Jain School Society."

A Full Bench of this Court in bunch of writ petitions being leading Writ Petition No.37443 of 2001 (Gajraj and others vs. State of U.P. and others) decided on 21st October, 2011 had occasion to consider the issue of laches in entertaining the writ petition challenging land acquisition proceedings. The writ petitions, which were filed with inordinate delay were dismissed.

Present is a case where acquisition is sought to be challenged after more than 10 years and there is no explanation in the writ petition which may furnish any ground for entertaining the writ petition after such a long period.

The writ petition being barred by laches is dismissed."

12. While dismissing the writ petitions in Smt. Krishna Tomar & Ors. (Supra) the Division Bench had also considered the judgment passed in Swaran Lata & Ors. v. State of Haryana & Ors., (2010) 4 SCC 532, wherein the Supreme Court relying upon State of Rajasthan v. D.R. Laxmi, (1996) 6 SCC 445 held that the order or action, if ultra vires the power, becomes void and it does not confer any right. The action need not necessarily be set at naught in all events. Though the order may be void, if the party does not approach the Court within reasonable time, which is always a question of fact and have the order invalidated or acquiesced or waived, the discretion of the Court has to be exercised in a reasonable manner.

13. In the instant proceeding, undisputed position, which emerges out is that the award was made in the year 2010. Even from the date of taking possession, the previous writ petition was preferred with inordinate delay of more than 15 years, as such no interference is required in the instant matter at this belated stage.

14. Hon'ble the Apex Court in Swaika Properties Pvt. Ltd. & Anr. v. State of Rajasthan & Ors., 2008 AIR SCW 1574 has deprecated the practice of filing writ petitions after possession has been taken and award has become final and held that the said writ petitions are liable to be dismissed for delay and laches. Similar view has also been taken by Hon'ble Apex Court in Municipal Corporation of Greater Bombay v. Industrial Development Investment Co. Pvt. Ltd. & Ors. (1996) 11 SCC 501 in which it is held:-

"It is thus well-settled law that when there is inordinate delay in filing the writ petition and when all steps taken in the acquisition proceedings have become final, the Court should be loath to quash the notifications. The High Court has, no doubt, discretionary powers under Article 226 of the Constitution to quash the notification under Section 4(1) and declaration under Section 6. But it should be exercised taking all relevant factors into pragmatic consideration. When the award was passed and possession was taken, the Court should not have exercised its power to quash the award which is a material factor to be taken into consideration before exercising the power under Article 226. The fact that no third party rights were created in the case is hardly a ground for interference. The Division Bench of the High Court was not right in interfering with the discretion exercised by the learned Single Judge dismissing the writ petition on the ground of laches."

15. Similar view has also been taken by Hon'ble Apex Court in Hari Singh & Ors. v. State of U.P. & Ors., AIR 1984 SC 1020, wherein interference has been denied only on the ground of delay as it would cause serious public prejudice. The Courts have repeatedly held that a writ petition challenging the notification for acquisition of land, if filed after the possession having been taken, is not maintainable.

16. In the instant proceeding, what we find is that the acquisition proceedings were initiated in the year 1996, the award was made in the year 2010 and first time the writ petition was instituted by the petitioners in the year 2025. As such, there is hardly any scope to exercise our discretionary jurisdiction under Art.226 of the Constitution of India in the instant matter. We further observe that where the Court quashes the acquisition on the grounds personal to individual objectors-such as vitiated consideration of their specific objections under Section 5A, the relief operates "in personam" and benefits only those parties, who contested the matter before the judicial forum.

17. In Smt. Krishna Tomar & Ors. (Supra) similar benefits had been denied in terms of Mahavir Sahkari Avas Samiti Ltd. and the writ petition was dismissed in the year 2012 itself, whereas in the instant matter, first time the petitioners approached this Court, without any challenge to the acquisition proceeding, in the year 2025, only asking for the compensation under the Act, 2013. As such, no interference can be made at this belated stage.

18. In the facts and circumstances of the case, we do not find any infirmity or illegality in the order impugned, which may warrant any interference in writ jurisdiction. However, in the interest of justice, it is provided that in case the petitioners have not lifted the compensation, they are at liberty to move appropriate application before the Special Land Acquisition Officer (SLAO) for disbursement of compensation, which was deposited in view of the award made in the year 2010.

19. With the aforesaid observations, the instant writ petition stands disposed of.

(2026) 2 ILRA 644
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 26.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE ATUL SREEDHARAN, J.
THE HON'BLE SIDDHARTH NANDAN, J.

Writ C No. 5663 of 2026

M/s Scc Builders Pvt. Ltd. ...Petitioner
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

ISSUE FOR CONSIDERATION

Whether the complaint can be decided on the first date itself by the State Commissioner in summary proceedings under the Rights of Persons with Disabilities Act, 2016.

HEADNOTE

Rights of Persons with Disabilities Act, 2016 – ss.23(3), 44 – Constitution of India – Arts.14, 21 – Summary proceedings – Right to Accessibility – Division of allotted parking space – Challenge to order of State Commissioner – Justification:

Held: Allottee, who was 90% disabled, was allotted a flat along with Parking No. UB-37 – After about eight years, builder divided the said parking into two parts (UB-37A and UB-37B) and allotted part to another person – Complaint was made and inspection was carried out in presence of parties which revealed that due to such division, the allottee was facing difficulty in accessing lift – It was also admitted that original allotment was not cancelled and parking was partitioned without consent of allottee – Held: One of the facets of the Rights of Persons with Disabilities Act, 2016 is to provide speedy redressal and for this reason the Act contemplates that the complaint "shall" be inquired within two weeks of its registration under Section 23(3) – Proceedings under the Act are summary in nature, designed to be quick, efficient and accessible and the Commissioner, acting as a quasi-judicial authority, may proceed on admitted facts and documents on record – Mandatory observance of accessibility norms under Section 44 requires that building plan and completion must adhere to accessibility rules – Right to Accessibility cannot now be confined to public infrastructure but demands that in "community living" also, where there are common facilities like lift, pavements, playgrounds, community centres and gymnasium, the right should be unhindered – Right to Accessibility is a fundamental right and extends to buildings used for community living – It is a fundamental right of a person with disability to have access to common facilities and any hindrance to such access, including access to lift from parking space, would be violative of such right – In the present case, representative of the petitioner was part of the proceedings and admitted that the original allotment was not cancelled and parking was subsequently partitioned without consent – Approach of the Commissioner that an allottee with 90% disability cannot be made to run from pillar to post cannot be faulted – Spot inspection conducted in presence of parties clearly established hindrance in accessing lift – Petitioner failed to place material to justify division of parking – No prejudice was caused and no violation of principles of natural justice is made out – No infirmity or perversity found in the impugned order – Court declined to exercise jurisdiction under Article 226.
Development Authorities in the State directed to incorporate necessary guidelines to ensure that persons with disabilities are not put to an inequitable position and that sanctioned maps for community living provide proper parking spaces with clear access to common facilities like lift – Government to ensure mandatory observance of accessibility rules at the stage of granting permission to build and issuance of completion certificate. (Paras 9, 12, 14, 18, 19, 20, 24) (E-5)

CASE LAW CITED

State of Himanchal Pradesh v. Umed Ram Sharma (1986) 2 SCC 68;
Jeeja Ghosh v. Union of India (2016) 7 SCC 761;
Rajive Raturi v. Union of India (2018) 2 SCC 413;
Ravinder Kumar Dharwal v. Union of India (2023) 2 SCC 209;
Vikash Kumar v. Union Public Service Commission (2021) 5 SCC 370;
Rajiv Raturi v. Union of India (2024) 1 SCC 654

List of Acts

Rights of Persons with Disabilities Act, 2016;
Constitution of India.

List of Keyword

Right to Accessibility; Persons with Disabilities; Summary proceedings; Parking space; Community living; Fundamental right; Accessibility norms; Hindrance to access; Natural justice.

CASE ARISING FROM

From the order dated 14.11.2025 passed by the State Commissioner under the Rights of Persons with Disabilities Act, 2016.

Appearances for Parties

Advs For Petitioner: Devendra Singh, Pravindra Singh.

Advs For Respondents: C.S.C., Tejasvi Misra.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Siddharth Nandan, J.)

1. Heard Sri Devendra Singh, learned counsel for the petitioner, Sri Tejasvi Misra, learned counsel for the Ghaziabad Development Authority and learned Standing Counsel for the State-respondents.

2. The present writ petition has been filed challenging the order dated 14.11.2025 by which Complaint Reference No.137 of 2025 Mrs. Bobby Bagga Vs. President/Director/Competent Authority, M/s SCC Builders, Pvt. Ltd.) under the provisions of the Rights of Persons with Disabilities Act, 2016 has been decided.

3. The sole argument that the petitioner has raised is that on the first date itself, the complaint was decided.

4. We have perused the record. The order sheet has not been brought on record.

5. Brief conspectus of facts are that the allottee who is 90% disabled, was given an allotment by builder in one of the projects named as SCC Sapphire being Flat No. D 509, Block - D; as per terms of the agreement, she was also allotted Parking No. UB - 37. Subsequently, after eight years, another Flat was sold by the builder. In pursuance thereof, he divided Parking No. UB 37 into UB 37 A and 37 B which was originally allotted to Mrs. Bobby Bagga.

6. Aggrieved by the aforesaid action, she approached the Ghaziabad Development Authority who carried out inspection on 16.09.2025 and submitted an inquiry report on 25.10.2025. The State Commissioner took note of the fact that the spot inspection was carried out in the presence of the parties and it clearly reveals that the complaint made by Mrs. Bobby Bagga was correct.

7. Perusal of the impugned order also clearly demonstrates that an adequate opportunity was given to the petitioner and argument of his representative before the State Commissioner was also considered. For ready reference, the following paragraphs of the impugned order are reproduced hereinbelow:

"'उल्लेखनीय है कि प्रश्नगत प्रकरण में विशेष कार्याधिकारी, प्रभारी प्रवर्तन जो-/, गाजियाबाद विकास प्राधिकरण गाजियाबाद की आख्या पत्रांक 1470/ प्रवर्तन जो- आई०जी०आर०एस 0/2025 दिनांक 25-10-2025 जोकि जिलाधिकारी, गाजियाबाद को सम्बोधित एवं शिकायतकर्ता को पृष्ठांकित है, में उल्लिखित किया गया है कि राजनगर एक्सटेंशन में स्थित ग्रुप हाउसिंग एससीसी सफायर के बिल्डर द्वारा शिकायतकर्ता को अन्बंटित पार्किंग स्थान यू०बी०-37 को विभाजित कर दो भागों में बांट दिया गया है, जिस कारण शिकायतकर्ता को पार्किंग, से लिफ्ट तक जाने में परेशानी हो रही है, के सम्बन्ध में शिकायतकर्ता द्वारा ईमेल के माध्यम से भी शिकायत की गयी थी, के सम्बन्ध में पुनः आईजीआरएस के माध्यम से शिकायत की गयी है।

उक्त के सम्बन्ध में क्षेत्रीय अभियन्ता द्वारा स्थल निरीक्षणोपरान्त अवगत कराया गया है कि प्रश्नगत ग्रुप हाउसिंग के विकासकर्ता के प्रतिनिधि एवं शिकायतकर्ता श्रीमती बोबी बग्गा के साथ दिनांक 16.09.2025 को पार्किंग स्थल का निरीक्षण किया गया। स्थल पर श्रीमती बोबी बग्गा से कई स्थानों पर गाडियां खड़ी कराकर लिफ्ट में जाने तक देखा गया। स्थल पर श्रीमती बोबी बग्गा द्वारा बताया गया कि उनको यूबी-37 नम्बर की पार्किंग आवंटित हुई थी जिसे बिल्डर द्वारा दो भागों में विभाजित करते हुए अन्य व्यक्ति को आवंटित कर दिया गया है, जिस कारण श्रीमती बोबी बग्गा को लिफ्ट तक जाने में परेशानी हो रही है।

तदोपरान्त सहायक अभियन्ता, प्रवर्तन जोन-1 गाजियाबाद विकास प्राधिकरण के कार्यालय पत्र संख्या-173/प्रवर्तन जोन-1/2025 दिनांक 03-10-2025 द्वारा मै० एस०सी०सी० बिल्डर्स प्रा०लि०, ग्रुप हाउसिंग एस०सी०सी० सफायर, राजनगर एक्सटेन्शन, गाजियाबाद को निर्देशित किया गया है कि सुश्री बॉबी बग्गा फ्लैट संख्या डी-509 को मूल पार्किंग स्थान स्वीकृत मानचित्र एवं अनुबन्ध के अनुसार आवंटित किया जाना सुनिश्चित करें।

मा० न्यायालय द्वारा गाजियाबाद विकास प्राधिकरण की उपरोक्त आख्या दिनांक 25-10-2025 के परिशीलनोपरान्त पृच्छा की गई कि विपक्षी द्वारा शिकायतकर्ता को आवंटित पार्किंग को 08 साल बाद परिवर्तित किए जाने की आवश्यकता क्यों पड़ी? क्या विपक्षी द्वारा शिकायतकर्ता को आवंटित एक बड़ी पार्किंग को दो भागों में विभाजित कर आधे भाग को अन्य आवंटी को प्रदान किया जाना वाणिज्यिक परिदृश्य नहीं है? विपक्षी द्वारा शिकायतकर्ता को पार्किंग आवंटित किए जाने के उपरान्त उसे निरस्त परिवर्तित क्यों किया गया? क्या विपक्षी को ऐसा प्रतीत होता है कि शिकायतकर्ता सुश्री बॉबी बग्गा (90 प्रतिशत चलन क्रिया दिव्यांग) बार-बार मा० न्यायालय अथवा अन्य किसी प्राधिकरण में आने-जाने में समर्थ हैं? मा० न्यायालय द्वारा की गई पृच्छाओं को विपक्षी के अधिकृत प्रतिनिधि द्वारा स्वीकार किया गया किन्तु बिन्दुवार उत्तर प्रदान किए जाने हेतु अतिरिक्त समय की मांग की गई जिसे मा० न्यायालय द्वारा अस्वीकार किया गया।"

8. The statement of objects and reasons of the "Rights of Persons with Disabilities Act, 2016" while considering the 19 specified disabilities, enumerates various rights vis-a-vis duties and responsibilities of the appropriate Government. It is not disputed that the inquiry which is being conducted under the Act by the Chief Commissioner or the State Commissioner for persons with disabilities is considered to be a summary proceeding designed to be quick, efficient and accessible, rather than lengthy and formal. The forum acts as a quasi-judicial authority and the Commissioner acts as a civil court for specific purpose i.e. empowered to summon witnesses, receive evidence and enforce production of records, if the need arises. However, it being a summary proceeding and the process contemplated is, with an objective to provide speedy redressal, the Act is also to give effect to the United Nations Convention on the Right of Persons with Disability and for matters connected therewith an incidental thereto. The United Nations General Assembly adopted its convention on the Rights of Persons with Disability on 13.12.2006; which lays down certain principles for empowerment of Persons with disability, which includes "accessibility" and India is a signatory to the said Convention and has also ratified the same on 01.10.2007. It is for the implementation of the said principles that the Parliament has enacted the said legislation i.e. "Rights of Persons with Disabilities Act, 2016".

9. That one of the facets of the mechanism, is to provide speedy redressal and it is for this reason Act, 2016 contemplates that the complaint " shall " be inquired within 2 weeks of its registration; under Section 23(3) of the Act, 2016. We also find that under Chapter VII of the Act, 2016, makes special provisions for persons with disabilities with high support needs, which has been prescribed, more particularly under Section 44 of the Act, 2016. It has been provided that no establishment shall be granted permission to build any structure if the building does not adhere to the Rules formulated.

10. For ready reference, Section 44 is quoted herein below:

"44. Mandatory observance of accessibility norms. (1) No establishment shall be granted permission to build any structure if the building plan does not adhere to the rules formulated by the Central Government under section 40.

(2) No establishment shall be issued a certificate of completion or allowed to take occupation of a building unless it has adhered to the rules formulated by the Central Government."

11. Perusal of the impugned order also indicates that the forum was conscious of the fact that the original parking was allotted in a building, which was granted the completion certificate after examining the approved map, which necessarily was required to adhere to the mandate of Section 44 of the Act, 2016. The representative of the petitioner who had appeared, had also not denied the fact that the original allotment was not cancelled and the fact that the original parking allotted was subsequently partitioned without consent of the original allottee, was also admitted. Taking into account the aforesaid evidence and the admitted position, since nature of the proceedings were summary in nature, the Commissioner had proceeded on the basis of the admitted facts and documents on record, while not finding it necessary, to call for parawise reply.

12. On a pointed query to the learned counsel for the petitioner that in case further indulgence being given by the Commissioner, what objection or document contrary to the finding in the impugned order, could have been produced; he had only relied on his argument that the proceedings were allegedly ex parte which as stated herein above could not have been accepted because representative of the petitioner was part of the proceeding and he had admitted the facts that the original allotment was not cancelled or whether he could have challenged the original allotment after five years. Therefore, approach of the Commissioner that an allottee with 90% disability cannot be made to run from pillar to post and on account of fact as the development authority had already carried out a spot inspection and submitted a report on 25.10.2025, which was not controverted by the representative of the petitioner, cannot be faulted; and accordingly we do not find any error in the proceedings or violation of the principles of natural justice.

13. At this juncture, the Court also takes note of the fact that the "Right to Accessibility" now being a fundamental right as guaranteed under Article 21 of the Constitution of India (State of Himanchal Pradesh vs. Umed Ram Sharma 1986 (2) SCC 68), is broad enough to incorporate and be extended to a "Right to Accessibility in a Community Living; also. These rights are essential for enabling persons with disabilities (hereinafter referred as "PWDs) to live independently, participate in a Society and enjoy their rights on a equal basis with others. Article 14 of the Constitution of India upholds equal access to spaces and services, as well. (See: Jeeja Ghosh v. Union of India (2016) 7 SCC 761; Rajive Raturi vs. Union of India (2018) 2 SCC 413; Ravinder Kumar Dharwal vs. Union of India, 2023 (2) SCC 209; Vikash Kumar vs. Union Public Service Commission, 2021 (5) SCC 370 and Rajiv Raturi vs. Union of India and others 2024 (1) SCC 654)

14. The Right to Accessibility, can not now be confined to the principles of accessibility in public infrastructure; but now it demands that in "Community Living" also, where there are common facilities like lift, pavements, playgrounds, community centres and gymnasium etc., the "Right to Accessibility" should be unhindered.

15. The sanctioning of the map for a building meant for community living, now ought to take into account parking space with clear and unhindered access to the common facilities like lift for PWDs; and any change or hindrance to the access of common facilities (including access to lift from the parking lot), should be seen as violation of the fundamental right under Article 21 of the Constitution of India. In the case of Rajiv Raturi vs. Union of India and others, 2024 (1) SCC 654 the Apex Court being ceased with the issue of "Right to Accessibility", also considered a report of a Committee on 'Rights of Persons with Disability"; and found that accessibility is related to groups, whereas reasonable accommodation is related to individuals. State parties need to set accessibility standards, which must be negotiated with organizations of 'Persons with Disability', and need to be specified for service providers, builders and other relevant stake holders. Accessibility standards must be broad and standardised in case of individuals, who have disabilities, that were not taken into account. The accessibility standards were developed to use the modes, methods and meaning, offering to achieve accessibility; and where the application of disability standards may not be sufficient to ensure them access, in such cases, principles of reasonable accommodation may apply.

16. The duty to provide reasonable accommodation is an ex-nunc duty, which means that it is enforceable from the moment an individual with an impairment needs it; and in a given situation, individual accommodation seeks to achieve individual justice in the sense that non-discrimination and equality are assured, taking the dignity, autonomy, and choice of the individual into account; and as such, accommodation may also be required for a scenario which falls beyond the scope of an accessibility standard. The decision to provide it or not depends on whether it is reasonable or whether it imposes a disproportionate and undue audit.

17. The Court is also persuaded from the fact that the Rule of Law also demands that the locomotor disability, visible impairment, hearing and speech impairments and neurodevelopmental disorder and learning disability, multiple disability or survivors of accidents, crime etc. are to be protected, in case of the disabilities which restricts a normal pattern in daily chores. Section 34 deals with the mandatory observance of the accessibility Rules to be framed by the Central Government under Section 40 and the consequences of non-compliance; which under sub-clause (1) states that no establishment shall be granted permission to built any structure, if the building plan does not adhere to the Rules formulated by the Central Government under Section 40; and sub-clause (2) stipulates that no establishment shall be issued a certificate of completion or allow to take occupation of a building unless it has adhered to the Rules formulated by the Central Government. Therefore, at both stages-when the building plan is prepared and at the stage of completion-mandatory adherence to the accessibility Rules is envisaged by the Act.

18. In the facts of the present case, we find that the Commissioner has taken note of the fact that during the on spot inspection, Mrs. Bobby Bagga's right to accessibility to a common facility e.g. lift, was assessed by observing contingencies, wherein, her vehicle being parked at the different places, whether gave her an unhindered access to the lift in view of her disability; and it was found the act of the builder, by dividing her parking into two, was causing inherence to the incumbent, from accessing the lift.

19. We have no hesitation in holding that the 'Right to Accessibility' cannot be confined only in public places but as a fundamental right, it is also to be extended to a structure or building which is being utilized as "community living"; and as such right to accessibility which is a fundamental right, has to be adhered to in residential buildings, which caters to the requirement of providing a shelter with common facilities like lift, pavement, playgrounds, community centres, gymnasium etc. It is a fundamental right of a PWD to have right to accessibility, for facilities which are common in a building or structure, which is providing a shelter to an incumbent.

20. Apart from the aforesaid reasons, we find that the petitioner has failed to bring on record the allotment letter which could have clearly demonstrated that the parking which was allotted to Mrs. Bobby Bagga was UB - 37; and it is only subsequent to the allotment made to one Virendra Singh, that parking was split into 37A and 37B, without the consent of the original allottee; but nevertheless representative of the petitioner was duly heard and the impugned order is based on the inspection report of the Ghaziabad Development Authority, which was done in the presence of the parties. It was only thereafter, the inquiry report dated 25.10.2025 was submitted.

21. Perusal of the report also indicates that efforts were made to find out alternative parking for the allottee with 90% disabilities but it was found that no other parking is suitable for her; to access the lift for her Flat and for that reason also, an alternative arrangement was also not feasible.

22. It has been held by this Court as well as Hon'ble Apex Court that exercise of extraordinary jurisdiction under Article 226 of the Constitution of India, has to be made only in circumstances where there is apparent injustice being caused to the petitioner and thus violation of the principles of nature justice, which leads to some prejudice to the petitioner. In the present case, we do not find any prejudice being caused to the petitioner; and on the contrary by unilaterally dividing petitioner's parking into two parking spaces, it has been to the detriment of the allottee, the same cannot be sustained; and in view of the aforesaid admitted position and documents, no infirmity or perversity can be found in the impugned order or any prejudice being caused to the petitioner or there being any violation of the procedure prescribed, under the Act.

23. In view of the aforesaid and nature of the proceedings, we decline to exercise our extraordinary jurisdiction under Article 226 of the Constitution of India.

24. However, we find it appropriate in the facts of the case to issue directions, as follows:-

(i) That, the Development Authorities in the State of Uttar Pradesh to incorporate necessary guidelines, which may be necessary to ensure that persons with disability are not put to a inequitable position and the maps which is being sanctioned for such community living, it may be necessary that proper parking spaces may be made for persons with disability, from where there is a clear access to a common facility like lift; and also provisions for convenience of "persons with disabilities" to have access to other common facilities like pavement, playgrounds, community centres, gymnasium etc.

(ii) It is expected from the Government to ensure mandatory observance of the Accessibility Rules applicable, at the stage of granting permission to build any structure and issuance of certificate of completion; and it may also be verified that there has been a mandatory adherence to the Accessibility Rules as envisaged.

25. With the above, the present writ petition is disposed off.

(2026) 2 ILRA 651
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 27.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SARAL SRIVASTAVA, J.
THE HON'BLE SUDHANSHU CHAUHAN, J.

Writ A No. 6098 of 2016 and other connected cases

Benara Udyog Ltd. ...Petitioner
Versus
Union of India & Ors. ...Respondents

Issue(s) for consideration

(a) Whether the Payment of Bonus (Amendment) Act, 2015 (herein-after referred to as 'Amendment Act, 2015') published in the Gazette of India dated 01.01.2016, can be declared as ultra-vires?
(b) Whether the impugned recovery issued in pursuance of Amendment Act, 2015 can be quashed?
(c) Whether before amending the Act, 1965 retrospectively, opportunity of hearing was required?

Headnotes

A. Labour Law – Payment of Bonus Act 1965: Section 2(4), 2(6), 2(13), 12; Government of India (Transaction of Business) Rules, 1961: Rule 12; Punjab Service of Engineers, Class-I, Public Works Department (Irrigation Branch) Rules, 1964: Rule 6(b) - The pre-decisional hearing for making the Act retrospective is not required, inasmuch as retrospective application of the Amendment Act has not prejudiced the rights of the petitioners. (Para 54)

According to the petitioners, pre-decisional hearing to the petitioners was necessary inasmuch as retrospective operation of the Act has seriously prejudiced the vested rights of the petitioners and has created fiscal liability upon the petitioners. It is submitted that the petitioners as per Section 19 of the Act, 1965 have paid the bonus to their employees within the time frame provided under the said section, and the implementation of the Act with retrospective effect has resulted in financial liability for the petitioner and has further created accounting complexities. (Para 50)

The facts w.r.t. consultation with various organizations by State Machinery establishes that pre-decisional hearing was given to the recognised organizations by the State Machinery before introduction of the Amendment Bill in the Parliament, which is in compliance of the principles of natural justice. (Para 51 to 53)

In the present case, the petitioner has not disclosed any fact in the writ petition indicating that on account of the retrospective amendment, the liability is such, which would result in creating a huge financial liability which is detrimental to the interest of the employer. (Para 59)

B. There is a presumption of constitutionality in favour of the statute and the onus of proving it unconstitutional lies upon the person who challenges it. (Para 76)

"Vested right" is a right independent of any contingency. Such a right can arise from a contract, statute or by operation of law. A vested right can be taken away only if the law specifically or by necessary implication provides for such a course. (Para 72)

A right is considered vested, absolute, when it is not dependent on any future event; it is generally immune from subsequent changes in law that would impair it. (Para 73)

The payment of bonus is a statutory liability upon the employer i.e. he is statutorily bound to pay the bonus to the employees in compliance of statutory obligations posed upon it by the Act, 1965, therefore, to say that the petitioners' vested right by implementing Amendment Act, 2015 retrospectively has been infringed is not justified for the reason that the vested right is a right independent of any contingency whereas the petitioners are obligated to pay bonus by virtue of Section 10 of the Act, 2015. (Para 74)

The petitioners in the instant case have failed to demonstrate that petitioners cannot be asked to pay bonus with retrospective effect since such an amendment infringes their vested right. (Para 75)

C. All statutes other than those which are merely declaratory or which relate only to matters of procedure or of evidence are prima facie prospective and retrospective operation should not be given to a statute so as to affect, alter or destroy an existing right or create a new liability or obligation unless that effect cannot be avoided without doing violence to the language of the enactment. If the enactment is expressed in language which is fairly capable either interpretation, it ought to be construed as prospective only. (Para 88)

As per the petitioners the amendment in Principal Act i.e. Act, 1965 is not a declaratory Act because it does not clarify anything embodied in the parent Act i.e. Act, 1965 rather retrospective enactment of the Amendment Act, creates new rights and obligations upon the parties which is not permissible in law. (Para 79)

Further it is submitted that the Act, 1965 is substantive law because it creates rights and liabilities upon the employers and the employees and any amendment in the Principal Act, i.e. Act, 1965 which creates new rights and obligations upon the employers is not a declaratory law. (Para 80)

The law does not permit the legislature to take away or impair any existing right or create a new obligation or impose a new liability retrospectively. At this stage, it is pertinent to note that the payment of bonus is a statutory right given to the employees. The liability to pay the bonus lies upon the employer which emanates from the Act, 1965. So by introducing the Amendment Act with retrospective effect, it neither impairs any existing right of the employer nor creates any new obligation upon the employer. The employer at the most can say that by retrospective operation of Amendment Act, 2015, additional liability to pay bonus upon the employer has been created. Thus, by Amendment Act, 2015, no new liability has been imposed upon the employer. (Para 94, 95)

D. A liability cannot be declared to be unreasonable because it merely operates retrospectively. (Para 77)

In order to succeed in challenging the Act on the ground of retrospective enactment, the petitioner has to establish that by enacting the Amendment Act, 2015 retrospectively, the legislature has conferred benefit of bonus to the employees, which inflicts a corresponding detriment on the employer, which is not permissible as the legislature can confer the benefit on employees retrospectively without inflicting a corresponding detriment on the employer. (Para 93)

E. The amendment, which has been implemented retrospectively has been made in a social welfare legislation. In order to appreciate the controversy in the light of facts, detailed by the petitioner in the writ petition in implementing the Amendment Act, 2015 retrospectively, the Court must remember that Act, 1965 is a social welfare legislation enacted with an object to achieve the principles enshrined in Articles 39 and 43 of the Constitution of India. (Para 98)

The Bombay High Court has dismissed the petitions challenging the vires of Section 10 of the Act, 1965 on the ground that it is violative of Article 19(1)(g) and Article 302 of the Constitution of India. (Para 99)

A benevolent provision should be interpreted liberally to achieve the purpose for which it has been enacted. In other words, the interpretation of beneficial legislation involves liberal and purposive construction to achieve the statute's underlying aim to ensure the welfare of the intended beneficiaries. (Para 100)

F. The legislature keeping in view the difficulty of the employer in providing the benefit of bonus to the employees has incorporated Section 15 of the Act, 1965 with a view to ease the employer in paying the bonus in case of non-availability of available surplus and shortfall of allocable surplus. Therefore, the difficulty posed by the petitioner, i.e. a serious financial threat to the establishment so as to close down the establishment because of such financial liability, is not found to be bonafide and genuine and a beneficial legislation can't be rendered unconstitutional on the said grounds. (Para 108, 109)

Section 15 of the Act, 1965 provides for 'set on' and 'set off' to ensure a consistent payment of bonus over the years. If in a given case, allocable surplus exceeds the maximum bonus amount such surplus, subject to ceiling of 20%, shall have to be carried forward to the succeeding year upto and inclusive of fourth accounting year to be utilised for the purpose of payment of bonus. (Para 101, 103)

Section 15(2) of the Act, 1965 permits the employer that if, in any accounting year, there is no available surplus or allocable surplus in respect of that year falls short of the amount of minimum bonus payable to the employees in the establishment u/s 10 and there is no amount or sufficient amount which is carried forward and set on u/sub-section (1) that could be utilised for the purpose of payment of minimum bonus, then, such minimum amount or deficiency, as the case may be, shall be carried forward for being set off in the succeeding accounting year and so on upto and inclusive of the fourth accounting year in the manner illustrated in the Fourth Schedule. (Para 105)

The petitioner though has posed difficulty in implementing the Act retrospectively, but has neither given any detail as to what available surplus or allocable surplus is available with the companies, which has been set on u/s 15(1) of the Act, 1965, nor has stated that there is no available surplus or allocable surplus in respect of that year, which falls short of minimum bonus payable to the employees in the establishment u/s 10. In the absence of any such detail in the writ petition, it is difficult to comprehend that by retrospective amendment in Section 2(13) of the Act, 1965, a huge financial liability has been inflicted upon the petitioner. (Para 107, 110)

G. If the bonus is paid retrospectively by way of notification, no prosecution could be made or launched against the petitioners for non-payment of bonus or for delayed payment of bonus. Hence, when the Amendment Act, 2015 has not even seen the light of the day, the petitioners cannot be prosecuted for the year 2015- 16 on the ground of delayed payment of bonus. (Para 111, 112)

H. Since the Amendment Bill was presented with proposal to amend it w.e.f. 01.04.2015 and without there being any serious discussion, it was proposed to be made effective w.e.f. 1st day of April, 2014. Thus, it is contended that constitutional decisions cannot be made on the whims and desires of the Government. He further contends that while the initial Bill by which it was proposed that the Bill to be made effective w.e.f. 01.04.2015, the discussions had taken place w.r.t. the financial aspect of the matter, but the proposed amendment makes it's applicability retrospectively and does not consider the economic viability. Thus, it is evident that the Amendment Act has been made effective retrospectively on the whims of the Government, without any proper discussion, which cannot be permitted in law, therefore, retrospective implementation of the Amendment Act, 2015 is bad in law and against the spirit of the Constitution of India. (Para 115, 116)

The respondent has filed a supplementary counter affidavit annexing therewith the proposal relating to seeking approval of Hon'ble Prime Minister u/Rule 12 of the GOI (Transaction of Business) Rules, 1961 for moving an official amendment to the Payment of Bonus (Amendment) Bill, 2015. In paragraph nos.5 & 8 of the said proposal, the justification for making the Bill retrospective has been stated. (Para 117)

From perusal of Rule 12 of the Rules, 1961, it is evident that the Prime Minister may, in any case or classes or cases, permit or condone a departure from these rules to the extent he deems necessary. The proposal to make the Rules, 1961 applicable has been duly approved by the Prime Minister u/Rule 12 of the Rules, 1961. (Para 119)

I. Rationale and reasonable classification - There may be several tests to decide whether a classification or differentiation is reasonable or not. One test which we are laying down and which will be useful in deciding this case, is: Is it conducive to the functioning of modern society? If it is then it is certainly reasonable and rational.

The equality code in Article 14 of the Indian Constitution prescribes substantive and not formal equality. It is now a settled position that classification per se is not discriminatory and violative of Article 14. Article 14 only forbids class legislation and not reasonable classification. A classification is reasonable, when the twin tests as laid down by Apex Court are fulfilled:

(1) The classification must be based on an intelligible differentia which distinguishes persons or things that are grouped, from others left out of the group; and
(2) The differentia must have a rational relationship to the object sought to be achieved by the statute. (Para 120, 123)

The capacity of employer is not to be considered as the welfare State assumes every employer must pay the minimum wages to its labour before employing them so as to prevent the exploitation of labours. (Para 121, 122)

It is true that a law should satisfy the twin test as laid down by the Apex Court in order to pass the test of reasonable classification. However, the Madras High Court has categorically repelled the contention of employer that amendment in Section 12 of the Act, 1965 amounts to class legislation and is discriminatory. (Pars 124)

Writ petitions dismissed. (E-4)

Case Law Cited

1. Remington Rand of India Ltd. Vs. The Workmen, AIR 1970 SC 1421 (Para 27)
2. State of Gujarat & Another Vs. Raman Lal Keshav Lal Soni & Others, 1983 (2) SCC 33 (Para 27)
3. T.R. Kapur & Others Vs. State of Haryana & Others, 1986 (Supp.) SCC 584 (Para 27)
4. Union of India & Others Vs. Tushar Ranjan Mohanty & Others, (1994) 5 SCC 450 (Para 27)
5. Punjab State Co-operative Milk Producers Federation Ltd. & Another Vs. Balbir Kumar Walia & Others, 2021 (171) FLR 397 (Para 28)
6. Indra Sawhney Vs. Union of India & Others, 2000 (1) SCC 168 (Para 30)
7. State of Punjab & Others Vs. Bhajan Kaur & Others, 2008 (12) SCC 112 (Para 30)
8. Commissioner of Income Tax (Central)-I, New Delhi Vs. Vatika Township Private Limited, 2015 (1) SCC 1 (Para 30)
9. Jayam and Company Vs. Assistant Commissioner & Another, 2016(15) SCC 125 (Para 32)
10. Sukanya Shantha Vs. Union of India and Others, 2024 SCC OnLine SC 2694 (Para 36)
11. Bhikusa Yamasa Kshatriya & Another Vs. Sangamner Akola Taluka Bidi Kamgar Union & Others, AIR 1963 SC 806 (Para 36)
12. U. Unichoyi & Others Vs. State of Kerala, AIR 1962 SC 12 (Para 36)
13. J.S.Yadav Vs. State of Uttar Pradesh & Another, 2011 (6) SCC 570 (Para 72)
14. M/S. Jalan Trading Company Private Ltd. Vs. Mill Mazdoor Sabha, AIR 1967 SC 691 (Para 76)
15. R.C. Tobacco Pvt. Ltd. and Another Vs. Union of India and Another, AIR 2005 SC 4203 (Para 77)
16. The Employers' Federation of Southern India and Others Vs. The Government of India & Others, Madras High Court, WP No.6958 of 2016 (Para 120)

List of Acts

Payment of Bonus (Amendment) Act, 2015; Payment of Bonus Act 1965; Government of India (Transaction of Business) Rules, 1961; Punjab Service of Engineers, Class-I, Public Works Department (Irrigation Branch) Rules, 1964.

List of Keywords

bonus, payment, vested right, allocable surplus, available surplus, employee, declaratory, substantive.

Appearances for Parties

For Petitioner(s): Anshul Kumar Singhal, Vinod Kumar Agarwal
For Respondent(s): A.S.G.I., Arvind Kumar Goswami, C.S.C., Santosh Kumar Shukla

(Delivered by Hon'ble Saral Srivastava, J.)

1. Heard learned counsel for the petitioners, Sri Shashi Prakash Singh, learned Additional Solicitor General of India assisted by Sri Arvind Kumar Goswami, Sri Purnendu Kumar Singh, Sri Ved Mani Tiwari, Ms. Sujata Choudhary & Sri Ravi Prakash Singh, learned counsels for respondent-Union of India and Sri Rajeshwar Tripathi, learned Chief Standing Counsel-II for the State-respondent.

2. The petitioners in this bunch of writ petitions have prayed for a writ of mandamus declaring the Payment of Bonus (Amendment) Act, 2015 (herein-after referred to as 'Amendment Act, 2015') published in the Gazette of India dated 01.01.2016 as ultra-vires, and have further prayed for quashing of the impugned recovery issued in pursuance of Amendment Act, 2015.

3. For convenience, the facts have been delineated from Writ-C No.6098 of 2016 (Benara Udyog Ltd. Vs. Union of India and Others)

4. The petitioner is an Engineering Industrial Unit established in the vicinity of District Agra and is involved in manufacturing of products like disc-brake pads, bushing, pistons of motorcycle. The petitioner states that since the establishment of petitioner's unit, due care has been taken of welfare and rights and benefits of the employees employed in the petitioner's company. The petitioner's company has paid wages, bonus, increments and other statutory emoluments to its employees from time to time.

5. It is stated that Payment of Bonus Act, 1965 (hereinafter referred to as 'Act, 1965') was enacted with a view to provide for payment of bonus to persons employed in certain establishments on the basis of profits or on the basis of production or productivity.

6. The President of India was informed about the subject matter of Amendment Act, 2015. The President of India recommended the introduction and consideration of Bill, 2015 in the House under Clause (1) & (3) of Article 117 of the Constitution of India.

7. The Bill, 2015 was introduced in Lok Sabha on 07.12.2015 and was passed on 22.12.2015. The Bill, 2015 (Bill No.265-C of 2015) was passed by Rajya Sabha on 23.12.2015 and thereafter, the Bill, 2015 received assent of President of India.

8. The Act, 1965 is applicable to all business establishments which has employed 20 employees or more. As per Section 2(13) of Act, 1965, an 'employee' who was employed on a salary or wages not exceeding Rs.10,000/- per mensem in any industry to do any skilled or unskilled manual, supervisory, managerial, administrative, technical or clerical work or for hire or reward and has worked for not less than thirty days in an accounting year was eligible for bonus with a ceiling limit of minimum 8.33% of salary payable to him and a maximum cap of 20% of the salary. The Amendment Act, 2015 by amending Section 2(13) which defines 'employee' has brought the eligibility limit from Rs.10,000/- to Rs.21,000/-.

9. The Amendment Act, 2015 has further raised the ceiling provided under Section 12 of the Act, 1965 for payment of bonus from Rs.3500/- to Rs.7,000/- or the minimum wage for scheduled employment as fixed by the Government, whichever is higher.

10. It is stated that inclusion of minimum wage component in Section 12 of the Act, 1965 in calculating bonus will hinder the accounting policy of companies. The petitioner states that by the Amendment Act, 2015, the employers have not been provided with any specified time frame to factor the increased cost in their accounts in order to comply with retrospective applicability of the Amendment Act, 2015.

11. According to pleadings in the writ petition, further grievance of the petitioner by the Amendment Act, 2015 is that significant financial burden on the establishment ought to have been taken into consideration by the respondents while amending the Act, 1965. The petitioner states that Bill No.265 of 2015 has been introduced in the Lok Sabha vide Clause 1(2) to enforce the Bill from 1st day of April, 2015, which has not been done, and the Amendment Act, 2015 has been made effective retrospectively w.e.f. 1st day of April, 2014.

12. It is stated that by enforcement of Amendment Act, 2015 retrospectively, the petitioner would face difficulties inasmuch as allocable surplus would required to be re-assessed to account in the increased pool for eligible employees and the bonus eligibility based upon the Amendment Act, 2015. According to petitioner, the price fixation of the product has already been done, and the books of accounts have already been closed, and the product has been launched in the market, therefore, it is impossible to re-fix it′s price or to recover the enhanced price.

13. Further difficulty, which is faced by the establishment is that fiscal deficit incurred by virtue of Amendment Act, 2015 cannot be extracted under any of the heads of the account except adding it to the liabilities of the establishment resulting into decrease in profits or by variation of price in the commodity market.

14. It is stated that by the Amendment Act, 2015 there would be an increase in the financial burden and greater accounting complexities for employers.

15. It is further stated that insertion of 'minimum wage′ under the Minimum Wages Act, 1948 by amendment in Section 12 to calculate bonus has created an additional challenge for the petitioner′s company. It is stated that appropriate Government (State Government) and in different cases, Central Government fixed different minimum wages for various scheduled employment (skilled, unskilled and semi skilled) because of this fact, the petitioner would have to carry out separate assessment of applicable wage rate for different categories of employees to calculate statutory bonus payable. The petitioner has alleged that respondent has acted arbitrarily in enforcing the Amendment Act, 2015 retrospectively w.e.f. 01.04.2014.

16. Counter affidavit has been filed by the respondent-Union of India contending inter-alia that issues relating to amendment in the Act, 1965 was discussed before number of forums including tripartite consultation meetings with the representatives of various Departments of Central Government, State Labour Secretaries, Employers′ Associations and Central Trade Union Organization. It is further stated that under the Chairmanship of the Minister for Labour and Employment, a tripartite consultation meeting was held on 20.10.2014 at New Delhi in which Employers' Association, Central Trade Union Organization, various Central Government Ministries and State Labour Secretaries had participated.

17. The respondents further stated that vide order dated 21.11.2014, an Inter Ministerial Group (IMG) was also set up to decide the revision in calculating ceiling and eligibility limit under the Act, 1965. It is stated that aforesaid Inter Managerial Group (IMG) for bonus held it's meeting on 03.12.2014 with the representatives of Employers' Associations to discuss the proposal relating to amendment in the Act, 1965.

18. It is also stated that the issue of amendment in the Act, 1965 was also discussed in the 46th Session of the Indian Labour Conference on 20-21 July, 2015 at New Delhi. It is further stated that there has been 111.67% increase in All India Consumer Price Index fixed for industrial workers (Base 2001=100) from 120 in April, 2006 to 254 in March, 2015. Further it is the case of the respondent-Union of India that rise in Consumer Price Index for industrial workers has been taken into consideration in calculating ceiling which came to Rs.7408/- per month till March, 2015 which is higher than the ceiling of Rs.7,000/- per month under the Amendment Act, 2015.

19. It is stated that the object, which is sought to be achieved by the amendment is fulfilled by making the law which increases the eligibility limit to Rs.7000/- or minimum wage for the scheduled employment whichever is higher, and plea of invalidity of retrospectivity of amendment on the ground that it infringes Article 14 of the Constitution of India is misconceived.

20. It is further stated that since bonus has to be paid after determining profits and calculation of allocable surplus for that particular year, therefore, retrospective implementation of Amendment Act, 2015 is just and proper.

21. Respondents have also stated that necessary debit and credit is a routine in an establishement, which implies that there should be no difficulty as far as practical aspects in calculating bonus is concerned, therefore, problems indicated by the petitioner are not justified and there is no statutory bar in adjustment of the account books.

22. It is further stated that any provision, which has the effect of promoting or effectuating directive principles is presumed to be reasonable. Such provisions are to be construed in favour of beneficiary for achieving the purpose of enactment being a social benefit oriented legislation.

23. It is also stated that enforcement of Amendment Act, 2015 retrospectively does not violate any vested right of petitioner, which has accrued to him nor retrospective enforcement of Amendment Act, 2015 has taken away any vested right of the petitioner. According to the respondents, the legislature has power to enact an amendment with retrospective effect. It is stated that the legislature possesses the right to make retrospective legislation, which creates new obligation in respect to the transactions already over and requires reopening of past, closed and completed transactions.

24. Respondents contend that no hurdle is faced by the establishment under the provisions of income tax, and other relevant statutes to ensure compliance of statutory liability. It is also stated that Section 15(2) of the Act, 1965 deals with a contingency where for any accounting year, if there is no available surplus or allocable surplus in respect of that year and falls short of the amount of minimum bonus payable to the employees in the establishment under Section 10 of the Act, 1965 and there is no amount or sufficient amount carried forward and set on in sub-section (1) of that section, which could be utilised for payment of minimum bonus, then such minimum amount or deficiency shall be carried forward for being set off in the succeeding accounting year and so on upto and inclusive of fourth accounting year.

25. The petitioner has filed rejoinder affidavit denying the averments made in the counter affidavit. The petitioner has confined the challenge to the Amendment Act, 2015 only to the extent it has been implemented with retrospective effect i.e. 01.04.2014 and also enhancement of ceiling for payment of bonus under Section 12 from Rs.3500/- to Rs.7000/- and insertion of minimum wages under the Minimum Wages Act, 1948 to calculate bonus under Section 12 of the Act, 1965.

26. Challenging the amendment, Sri Anshul Kumar Singhal, learned counsel for the petitioner has contended that if, the amendment in the Act, 1965 creates financial burden on a class of persons without offending the rights of other persons, such amendment is permissible, but if it offends the rights of other persons, the amendment cannot be enforced with retrospective effect.

27. Supporting the aforesaid contention, Sri Shakti Swaroop Nigam, learned Senior Counsel appearing in some petitions has contended that any amendment in Act, 1965 can be implemented prospectively and not retrospectively as it violates Article 14 of the Constitution of India. He has relied upon the following judgements in support of his contention:-

(i). Remington Rand of India Ltd. Vs. The Workmen, AIR 1970 SC 1421;

(ii). State of Gujarat & Another Vs. Raman Lal Keshav Lal Soni & Others 1983 (2) SCC 33;

(iii). T.R. Kapur & Others Vs. State of Haryana & Others1986 (Supp.) SCC 584;

(iv). Union of India & Others Vs. Tushar Ranjan Mohanty & Others (1994) 5 SCC 450.

28. He further submits that since Amendment Act, 2015 created a financial liability, therefore, pre-decisional hearing before amending the Act, 1965 is mandatory. Accordingly, it is contended that since no pre-decisional hearing was given, therefore, Amendment Act is invalid. In support of the said contention, he has relied upon judgement of Apex Court in the case of Punjab State Co-operative Milk Producers Federation Ltd. & Another Vs. Balbir Kumar Walia & Others, 2021 (171) FLR 397.

29. He submits that legislative declaration cannot be contrary to the judicial declaration. He submits that for the following two reasons, the said principle of law is attracted in the present case:-

(a). According to him, amendment in Act, 1965 is not a declaratory Act because it does not clarify anything embodied in the parent Act rather the amendment creates a new right and obligation upon the establishment;

(b). Act, 1965 is substantive law because it creates rights and liabilities upon the employer and the employees and any amendment in the parent Act i.e. Act, 1965 would create new rights and obligations.

30. Thus, for the aforesaid two reasons, he submits that Amendment Act, 2015 is not a declaratory law. In support of the said contention, he has placed reliance upon following judgements of the Apex Court:-

(i). Indra Sawhney Vs. Union of India & Others, 2000(1) SCC 168;

(ii). State of Punjab & Others Vs. Bhajan Kaur & Others 2008 (12) SCC 112;

(iii). Commissioner of Income Tax (Central)-I, New Delhi Vs. Vatika Township Private Limited, 2015 (1) SCC 1.

31. He has further contended that financial burden cannot be applied retrospectively unless the legislature has expressly and unambiguously stated such an intent in the amendment

32. Sri Diptiman Singh, learned counsel appearing in some of the petitions submitted that the Bill No.265 of 2015 was introduced w.e.f 01.04.2015, the statement of object and reasons do not mention that it would be made effective retrospectively. He submits that financial memorandum mentions that the Bill does not involve, 'any other recurring or non-recurring expenditure'. He has referred to certain discussions on the Bill, which shall be considered at the appropriate stage, to contend that constitutional decisions cannot be taken on the whims and desires of the Government. He further submits that original bill was to be made effective from 01.04.2015 and no explanation or reason has been given in changing the date of implementation of the Bill and making it retrospective. He has placed reliance upon the judgement of Apex Court in the case of Jayam and Company Vs. Assistant Commissioner & Another 2016(15) SCC 125.

33. Sri Sunil Kumar Tripathi, Advocate has addressed on the Amendment in Section 12 of the Act, 1965. He submits that amendment in Section 12 of the Act, 1965 in respect to increase in ceiling limit is based upon unreasonable classification. Therefore, it is violative of Article 14 of the Constitution of India.

34. Elaborating the said argument, he submits that industries notified as scheduled employment under Minimum Wages Act, 1948, monthly ceiling limit for calculation of bonus for this class of industry is the minimum wages under the Minimum Wages Act, 1948. He submits that at present minimum wages for unskilled workers is Rs.10,701/-, semi-skilled workers is Rs.11,772/- and skilled workers is Rs.13,186/- and bonus is to be calculated on the aforesaid notified wages with respect to different classes of workers.

35. He submits that for industries, which have not been notified as scheduled employment under the Minimum Wages Act, 1948, monthly ceiling limit for this class of industries is Rs.7000/- per month for calculation of bonus. He submits that classification is unreasonable and discriminatory.

36. He further submits that the classification of industries in two categories is arbitrary as the classification is not based on intelligible differentia. He contends that object sought to be achieved by classifying the industries in two categories is irrational because unorganised industries covered by scheduled employment have to pay higher bonus than the organised industries not covered by scheduled employment. He has placed reliance upon following judgements of Apex Court:-

(i) Sukanya Shantha Vs. Union of India and Others, 2024 SCC OnLine SC 2694;

(ii) Bhikusa Yamasa Kshatriya & Another Vs. Sangamner Akola Taluka Bidi Kamgar Union & Others,AIR 1963 SC 806;

(iii) U. Unichoyi & Others Vs. State of Kerala AIR 1962 SC 12.

37. Rebutting the aforesaid contention, learned Additional Solicitor General submits that the Act, 1965 being a welfare legislation should be interpreted in a manner so as to achieve the object of the Act. He submits that power and competence of the Parliament to amend the statutory provision cannot be doubted, however, the only rider in amending the Act, 1965 retrospectively is that the Act, 1965 must be reasonable and not arbitrary and must not be violative of any of the fundamental rights guaranteed under the Constitution of India. He submits that Amendment Act, 2015 amending the Act, 1965 with retrospective effect is reasonable and has been introduced to achieve the object for which it has been introduced. Therefore, the Amendment Act, 2015 is neither arbitrary nor is violative of any fundamental rights of the petitioner guaranteed under the Constitution of India.

38. It is contended that the Amendment Act, 2015 does not violate any vested right of the petitioner. He submits that Amendment Act, 2015 has been introduced for promoting and effectuating the Directive Principles of State Policy enshrined in the Constitution of India, therefore, the Amendment Act, 2015 cannot be said to be arbitrary and violative of any of the provisions of Constitution of India.

39. He further contends that Section 15(2) of the Act, 1965 provides for a situation where for any accounting year, if there is no available surplus or allocable surplus in respect to that year falls short of the amount of minimum bonus payable to the employees in the establishment under Section 10 of the Act, 1965, and there is no amount or sufficient amount carried forward and set on under sub-section (1) of that Section, which could be utilised for payment of minimum bonus, then such minimum amount or deficiency shall be carried forward for being set off in the succeeding accounting year and so on upto and inclusive of the fourth succeeding year. Therefore, the difficulty as pointed out by the petitioner in the writ petition in implementing the Amendment Act is non-existent in view of Section 15(2) of the Act, 1965.

40. He contends that proviso (b) to Section 19 of the Act, 1965 provides that time for payment can be extended. He submits that validity of Amendment Act has been upheld by Patna High Court in Civil Writ Jurisdiction Case No.15379 of 2017 and by Madras High Court in Writ Petition No.6958 of 2016.

41. He has further contended that there is no arbitrariness in including the concept of calculation on the basis of minimum wages under the Minimum Wages Act, 1948 for the purpose of payment of bonus. Accordingly, he submits that the contention advanced in this regard by the learned counsel for the petitioners is misconceived.

42. He further urges that the contention of learned counsel for the petitioner that statement of object of the Bill indicates that the Bill was to be implemented w.e.f. 01.04.2015 and its applicability cannot be made retrospectively on the whims and desires of the Government is not sustainable inasmuch as the Prime Minister of India has approved the proposal of the Ministry for moving official amendments through Amendment Act, 2015 as contained in para 8 of the proposal dated 22.12.2015 under Rule 12 of the Government of India (Transaction of Business) Rules, 1961.

43. Accordingly, he submits that petitioners have failed to make out any case calling for any interference by this Court in exercise of power under Article 226 of the Constitution of India and declaring the Amendment Act, 2015 as ultra-vires to the Constitution of India.

44. We have considered the rival submissions advanced by the learned counsel for the parties and perused the record.

45. Section 2(13) of the Act, 1965 which defines 'employee' as it stood prior to the Amendment Act, 2015 reads as under:

"2. Definitions-

(13) "employee" means any person (other than an apprentice) employed on a salary or wage not exceeding [ten thousand rupees] per mensem in any industry to do any skilled or unskilled manual, supervisory, managerial, administrative, technical or clerical work for higher or reward, whether the terms of employment be express or implied."

46. Section 12 of the Act, 1965 as it prior to amendment provides for bonus payable to certain employees which reads as follows:-

"12. Calculation of bonus with respect to certain employees.-Where the salary or wage of an employee exceeds [three thousand and five hundred rupees] per mensem, the bonus payable to such employee under section 10 or, as the case may be under section 11, shall be calculated as if his salary or wage were [three thousand and five hundred rupees] per mensem."

47. By the Amendment Act, 2015 in Section 2(13) which defines expression "employee", the ceiling on salary or wages has been enhanced from Rs.10,000/- per month to Rs.21,000/- per month.

48. As a result of amendment in Section 12 of Act, 1965, the amount of Rs.3500/- has been substituted by an amount of Rs.7000/- or the minimum wages for scheduled employment as fixed by the Government whichever is higher.

49. Section 19 of the Act, 1965 deals with the time limit for the payment of bonus which reads as under:

"19. Time-limit for payment of bonus.-[All amounts] payable to an employee by way of bonus under this Act shall be paid in cash by his employer-

(a) where there is a dispute regarding payment of bonus pending before any authority under section 22, within a month from the date on which the award becomes enforceable or the settlement comes into operation, in respect of such dispute;

(b) in any other case, within a period of eight months from the close of the accounting year:

Provided that the appropriate Government or such authority as the appropriate Government may specify in this behalf may, upon an application made to it by the employer and for sufficient reasons, by order, extend the said period of eight months to such further period or periods as it thinks fit; so, however, that the total period so extended shall not in any case exceed two years.″

50. According to the learned counsel for the petitioners that pre-decisional hearing to the petitioners was necessary inasmuch as retrospective operation of the Act has seriously prejudiced the vested rights of the petitioners and has created fiscal liability upon the petitioners. It is submitted that the petitioners as per Section 19 of the Act, 1965 have paid the bonus to their employees within the time frame provided under the said section, and the implementation of the Act with retrospective effect has resulted in financial liability for the petitioner and has further created accounting complexities.

51. The respondent in the counter affidavit has stated that the issues relating to the Amendment in the Act, 1965 were discussed before a number of forums including tripartite consultation meetings with the representatives of the various departments of Central Government, State Labour Secretaries, Employers′ Association and Central Trade Union Organization. It has also been stated that under the Chairmanship of the Minister for Labour and Employment, a tripartite consultation meeting was held on 20.10.2014 at New Delhi in which Employers′ Association, the Central Trade Union Organization, various Central Government Ministries and State Labour Secretaries had participated.

52. The aforesaid averments have not been denied by the petitioners in their rejoinder affidavit. However, the petitioners have stated that mere fact that certain consultation meetings and groups formed and chaired by the government functionaries in respect of the Amendment Act, 2015 will not cure it′s constitutional vices and infirmities.

53. The facts stated in the counter affidavit, referred above, with regard to consultation with various organizations by State Machinery establishes that pre-decisional hearing was given to the recognised organizations by the State Machinery before introduction of the Amendment Bill in the Parliament, which is in compliance of the principles of natural justice.

54. Further, the question as to whether before amending the Act, 1965 retrospectively, opportunity of hearing was required, we may state that in the facts of the present case for the reasons delineated above, the pre-decisional hearing for making the Act retrospective is not required, inasmuch as retrospective application of the Amendment Act has not prejudiced the rights of the petitioners. The reason why we say so shall be dealt with at the appropriate stage in the latter part of the judgement.

55. Sri Shakti Swaroop Nigam, learned Senior Counsel appearing for the petitioners in support of the contention that retrospective amendment has put financial liability upon the petitioner has placed reliance upon the judgement in the case of Punjab State Co-operative Milk Producers Federation Ltd. (supra) wherein it has been held that economic viability or financial capacity of the employer is an important factor, which cannot be ignored while fixing wage structure. The said judgement is not applicable in the facts of the present case inasmuch as in the said case, the employees of the Milk Federation demanded the pay scale as revised by the Punjab Government Anomaly Committee w.e.f. 01.01.1986. The Federation was suffering from acute financial stringency, therefore, it granted revised pay scale from 01.01.1994 instead of 01.01.1986. The employees of the Federation raised protest for grant of revised pay scale w.e.f. 01.01.1986, therefore, a Committee was constituted to examine several issues that arose.

56. The judgement of the Apex Court considered the recommendations of the Committee in paragraph no.8 of the judgement, the Committee in it′s recommendations found that large number of employees will be financially benefited and the financial burden will be of Rs.2 lacs per month, this was considered to be a huge liability. The Committee was also apprised that the liability of the arrears from 01.01.1986 to 31.08.1992 was still outstanding. The Committee after considering the above, as well as various other aspects, recommended that the improved pay scales may be implemented w.e.f. 01.01.1994 without giving the benefit of even notional pay fixation w.e.f. 01.01.1986, this would have saved the organization from a huge liability of the payment of arrears and would also give scope to the employees for placement in better pay scales and getting other benefits, which might accrue as a result of next revision of pay scale likely to be made from 01.01.1994 on the pattern of Punjab Government.

57. The report of the Committee was considered by the Board of Directors of Federation who approved the grant of revised pay scale w.e.f. 01.01.1994. Subsequently, the decision of the Board was approved by the Registrar (Cooperative Societies) on 29.04.1997.

58. The facts of the case noted above clearly discloses that the Apex Court in granting pay scale w.e.f. 01.01.1994 found that the same was in the interest of Federation as well as the employees of the Federation, inasmuch as, if the benefit of revised pay scale was granted w.e.f. 01.01.1994, the Federation could be saved from collapsing because of the huge financial liability likely to be incurred on the grant of revised pay scale w.e.f. 01.01.1986. On the other hand, the employees interest could also be protected, as that would help in extending the next revision of pay scale likely to be made w.e.f. 01.01.1994 on the pattern of Punjab Government.

59. In the present case, the petitioner has not disclosed any fact in the writ petition indicating that on account of the retrospective amendment, the liability is such, which would result in creating a huge financial liability which is detrimental to the interest of the employer.

60. Learned counsel for the petitioner has further relied upon the several judgements noted below on the issue that the amendment in Bonus Act, 1965 could apply prospectively and not retrospectively, as it violates Article 14 of the Constitution of India.

61. The first judgement relied upon by the learned counsel for the petitioners is the case of Remington Rand of India Ltd. (supra). The petitioners have placed reliance on paragraph no.1 of the said judgement with respect to the issue involved in the said case, which included the issue of grant of bonus for the year 1963-64. The said issue has been decided on concession given by the counsel for the workmen. Paragraph no.3 of the said judgement is reproduced herein-below:-

"3. As regards the bonus, the company had already paid to the workmen bonus at the rate of 4 months basic pay as against the demand for the maximum bonus calculated in accordance with the Payment of Bonus Act, 1965, and on consolidated as against the basic wages. The Tribunal conceded that demand and granted bonus at 20 percent of the consolidated wages. In view, however, of this Court's decision in Jalan Trading Co. v. Mill Mazdoor Union, 1967-1 SCR 15 (AIR 1967 SC 691), Mr. Ramamurthi for the workmen conceded that the Act cannot apply in respect of the year in question and that the bonus payable for that year will have to be calculated on the basis of the Full Bench Formula as approved by this Court. The award to that extent therefore, has to be set aside and remanded to the Tribunal for determining the bonus in accordance with the said Formula."

62. Accordingly, the aforesaid judgement of the Apex Court is not applicable to the facts of the present case.

63. So far as the judgement of the Apex Court in the case of State of Gujarat (supra) is concerned, the said judgement is not applicable as it was a case where personnel were drawn from different sources viz. government departments as well as local authorities or municipal services and were merged together to constitute a single integrated Civil Service (Panchayat Service) by a legislative enactment.

64. In the said case, a retroactive amendment of the enactment namely Gujarat Panchayats (Third Amendment) Act, 1978 created a differential classification in relation to the original position of the employees of different departments and the said amendment deprived the ex-municipal employees of their status of government servants.

65. In the aforesaid background, it was argued that the benefit acquired could not be taken away with retrospective effect. On the other hand, it was urged by the respondent that there was good reason for the classification, and that in the circumstances of the case, the classification was legitimately made with retrospective effect. In the said backdrop, the Apex Court in paragraph no.52 of the judgement had held as under:-

"52. The legislation is pure and simple, self-deceptive, if we may use such an expression with reference to a legislature-made law. The legislature is undoubtedly competent to legislate with retrospective effect to take away or impair any vested right acquired under existing laws but since the laws are made under a written Constitution, and have to conform to the dos and don'ts of the Constitution, neither prospective nor retrospective laws can be made so as to contravene fundamental rights. The law must satisfy the requirements of the Constitution today taking into account the accrued or acquired rights of the parties today. The law cannot say, 20 years ago the parties had no rights, therefore, the requirements of the Constitution will be satisfied if the law is dated back by 20 years. We are concerned with today's rights and not yesterday's. A legislature cannot legislate today with reference to a situation that obtained 20 years ago and ignore the march of events and the constitutional rights accrued in the course of the 20 years. That would be most arbitrary, unreasonable and a negation of history. It was pointed out by a Constitution Bench of this Court in B.S. Yadav v. State of Haryana. Chandrachud, C.J. speaking for the Court held :(SCC head-note)

Since the Governor exercises the legislative power under the proviso to Article 309 of the Constitution, it is open to him to give retrospective operation to the rules made under that provision. But the date from which the rules are made to operate must be shown to bear either from the face of the rules or by extrinsic evidence, reasonable nexus with the provisions contained in the rules, especially when the retrospective effect extends over a long period as in this case.

Today's equals cannot be made unequal by saying that they were unequal 20 years ago and we will restore that position by making a law today and making it retrospective. Constitutional rights, constitutional obligations and constitutional consequences cannot be tampered with that way. A law which if made today would be plainly invalid as offending constitutional provisions in the context of the existing situation cannot become valid by being made retrospective. Past virtue (constitutional) cannot be made to wipe out present vice (constitutional) by making retrospective laws. We are, therefore, firmly of the view that the Gujarat Panchayats (Third Amendment) Act, 1978 is unconstitutional, as it offends Articles 311 and 14 and is arbitrary and unreasonable. We have considered the question whether any provision of the Gujarat Panchayats (Third Amendment) Act, 1978 might be salvaged. We are afraid that the provisions are so intertwined with one another that it is well nigh impossible to consider any life-saving surgery. The whole of the Third Amendment Act must go. In the result Writ Petitions Nos.4266-4270 of-1978 are allowed with costs quantified at Rs 15,000. The directions given by the High Court, which we have confirmed, should be complied with before June 30, 1983. In the meanwhile, the employees of the panchayats covered by the appeal and the writ petitions will receive a sum of Rs.200 per month over and above the emoluments they were receiving before February 1, 1978. This Order will be effective from February 1, 1983. The interim Order made on February 20, 1978 will be effective up to January 31, 1983. The amounts paid are to be adjusted later."

66. Since, the facts of the present case are different from the facts in the case of State of Gujarat (supra), therefore, the law laid down in the said case does not help the petitioners in the present case.

67. So far as the judgement of the Apex Court in the case of T.R. Kapur (supra) is concerned, the said judgement is also distinguishable on facts of the present case, therefore, it is of no help to the petitioners. In the said case, the petitioners being diploma holders were eligible for consideration for promotion on the post of Executive Engineer.

68. In the said case by a retrospective amendment in Rule 6 (b) of the Punjab Service of Engineers, Class-I, Public Works Department (Irrigation Branch) Rules, 1964, the right of petitioners, who were diploma holders, to be considered for promotion in Class-I service was taken away. In the said context, the Apex Court in paragraph no.16 had held as under:-

"16. It is well settled that the power to frame rules to regulate the conditions of service under the proviso to Article 309 of the Constitution carries with it the power to amend or alter the rules with a retrospective effect: B.S. Vadhera v. Union of India, Raj Kumar v. Union of India, K. Nagaraj v. State of A.P. and State of J & K v. Triloki Nath Khosa. It is equally well settled that any rule which affects the right of a person to be considered for promotion is a condition of service although mere chances of promotion may not be. It may further be stated that an authority competent to lay down qualifications for promotion, is also competent to change the qualifications. The rules defining qualifications and suitability for promotion are conditions of service and they can be changed retrospectively. This rule is however subject to a well recognised principle that the benefits acquired under the existing rules cannot be taken away by an amendment with retrospective effect, that is to say, there is no power to make such a rule under the proviso to Article 309 which affects or impairs vested rights. Therefore, unless it is specifically provided in the rules, the employees who are already promoted before the amendment of the rules, cannot be reverted and their promotions cannot be recalled. In other words, such rules laying down qualifications for promotion made with retrospective effect must necessarily satisfy the tests of Articles 14 and 16(1) of the Constitution: State of Mysore v. M.N. Krishna Murty, B.S. Yadav v. State of Haryana, State of Gujarat v. Raman Lal Keshav Lal Soni and Ex-Captain K.C. Arora v. State of Haryana."

69. The judgement of T.R. Kapur (supra) is also rendered in a different factual backdrop, and therefore, the ratio laid down in the said judgement does not help the petitioners.

70. The judgement of the Apex Court in the case of Union of India (supra) is also not applicable in the present case inasmuch as by introducing the amendment, the legislature attempted to deprive the petitioners in the said case of an accrued right by enacting retrospective legislation. The ratio laid down in paragraph nos. 14 and 15 of the judgement, which has been relied upon by the learned counsel for the petitioners does not help the petitioners in the present case and is reproduced herein-below:-

"14. The legislatures and the competent authority under Article 309 of the Constitution of India have the power to make laws with retrospective effect. This power, however, cannot be used to justify the arbitrary, illegal or unconstitutional acts of the Executive. When a person is deprived of an accrued right vested in him under a statute or under the Constitution and he successfully challenges the same in the court of law, the legislature cannot render the said right and the relief obtained nugatory by enacting retrospective legislation.

15. Respectfully following the law laid down by this Court in the judgments referred to and quoted above, we are of the view that the retrospective operation of the amended Rule 13 cannot be sustained. We are satisfied that the retrospective amendment of Rule 13 of the Rules takes away the vested rights of Mohanty and other general category candidates senior to Respondents 2 to 9. We, therefore, declare amended Rule 13 to the extent it has been made operative retrospectively to be unreasonable, arbitrary and, as such, violative of Articles 14 and 16 of the Constitution of India. We strike down the retrospective operation of the rule. In the view we have taken on the point it is not necessary to deal with the other contentions raised by Mohanty.″

71. Further, the aforesaid judgements do not help the petitioners inasmuch as though the petitioners claim that retrospective amendment has infringed their vested rights but the petitioners have failed to establish that by the retrospective amendment, which of their vested rights have been infringed.

72. The Apex Court in the case of J.S.Yadav Vs. State of Uttar Pradesh & Another 2011 (6) SCC 570 has defined the words 'vested right'. Paragraph nos.20 to 22 of the said judgement are reproduced herein-below:

"20 . "17. The word 'vested' is defined in Black's Law Dictionary (6th Edn.) at p. 1563, as:

'Vested; fixed; accrued; settled; absolute; complete. Having the character or given the rights of absolute ownership; not contingent; not subject to be defeated by a condition precedent.'

Rights are 'vested' when right to enjoyment, present or prospective, has become property of some particular person or persons as present interest; mere expectancy of future benefits, or contingent interest in property founded on anticipated continuance of existing laws, does not constitute vested rights. In Webster's Comprehensive Dictionary (International Edn.) at p. 1397, 'vested' is defined as:

'Law held by a tenure subject to no contingency; complete; established by law as a permanent right; vested interests.'"

(See Bibi Sayeeda v. State of Bihar at SCC p. 527, para 17.)

21. The word "vest" is normally used where an immediate fixed right in present or future enjoyment in respect of a property is created. With the long usage the said word "vest" has also acquired a meaning as "an absolute or indefeasible right". It had a "legitimate" or "settled expectation" to obtain right to enjoy the property, etc. Such "settled expectation" can be rendered impossible of fulfilment due to change in law by the legislature. Besides this, such a "settled expectation" or the so-called "vested right" cannot be countenanced against public interest and convenience which are sought to be served by amendment of the law. (Vide Howrah Municipal Corpn. v. Ganges Rope Co. Ltd.)

22. Thus, "vested right" is a right independent of any contingency. Such a right can arise from a contract, statute or by operation of law. A vested right can be taken away only if the law specifically or by necessary implication provides for such a course"

73. The necessary corollary, which comes out from the reading of the aforesaid judgement is that a right is considered vested, absolute, when it is not dependent on any future event; it is generally immune from subsequent changes in law that would impair it.

74. The payment of bonus is a statutory liability upon the employer emanating from the Act, 1965. The employer is statutorily bound to pay the bonus to the employees in compliance of statutory obligations posed upon it by the Act, 1965, therefore, to say that the petitioners' vested right by implementing Amendment Act, 2015 retrospectively has been infringed is not justified for the reason that the vested right is a right independent of any contingency whereas the petitioners are obligated to pay bonus by virtue of Section 10 of the Act, 2015.

75. The petitioners in the instant case have failed to demonstrate that petitioners cannot be asked to pay bonus with retrospective effect since such an amendment infringes their vested right.

76. At this stage, it is pertinent to note that the Apex Court in paragraph no.19 of the judgement in the case of M/S. Jalan Trading Company Private Ltd. Vs. Mill Mazdoor Sabha AIR 1967 SC 691 has held that there is a presumption of constitutionality in favour of the statute and the onus of proving it unconstitutional lies upon the person who challenges it.

77. In the case of R.C. Tobacco Pvt. Ltd. and Another Vs. Union of India and Another, AIR 2005 SC 4203, the Apex Court held that a liability cannot be declared to be unreasonable because it merely operates retrospectively. The Apex Court further in paragraph no.23 of the judgement laid down the factors which are generally considered in considering the challenge to an enactment because of its retrospective implementation. Paragraph nos.22 and 23 of the said judgement are reproduced herein below:-

"22. A law cannot be held to be unreasonable merely because it operates retrospectively. Indeed even judicial decisions are in a sense retrospective. When a statute is interpreted by a Court, the interpretation is, by fiction of law, deemed to be part of the statute from the date of its enactment. The unreasonability must lie in some other additional factors. The retrospective operation of a fiscal statute would have to be found to be unduly oppressive and confiscatory before it can be held to be so unreasonable as to violate constitutional norms. "Where for instance it appears that the taxing statute is plainly discriminatory or provides no procedural machinery for assessment and levy of the tax, or that it is confiscatory, Courts would be justified in striking down the impugned statute as unconstitutional. In such cases, the character of the material provisions of the impugned statute is such that the Court would feel justified in taking the view that, in substance, the taxing statute is a cloak adopted by the legislature for achieving its confiscatory purposes". (Rai Ramkrishna v. State of Bihar: AIR 1963 SC 1667). The question to be answered therefore is whether Section 154, which is in terms retrospective, is ex facie discriminartoy, or so unreasonable or confiscatory that it violates Articles 14 and 19 of the Constitution.

23. The factors which are generally considered relevant in answering this question are (i) the context in which retrospectivity was contemplated, (ii) the period of such retrospectivity, and (iii) the degree of any unforeseen or unforeseeable financial burden imposed for the past period."

78. In the light of the factors laid down by the Apex Court in the aforesaid judgement while considering the validity of the retrospective application of an Act, the contention of the learned counsel for the petitioners that the legislative declaration cannot be contrary to judicial declaration shall be considered by this Court.

79. The aforesaid proposition has been raised by the learned counsel for the petitioners on the ground that the amendment in Principal Act i.e. Act, 1965 is not a declaratory Act because it does not clarify anything embodied in the parent Act i.e. Act, 1965 rather retrospective enactment of the Amendment Act, creates new rights and obligations upon the parties which is not permissible in law.

80. Further it is submitted that the Act, 1965 is substantive law because it creates rights and liabilities upon the employers and the employees and any amendment in the Principal Act, i.e. Act, 1965 which creates new rights and obligations upon the employers is not a declaratory law. In this regard, reliance has been placed upon the judgements already referred above.

81. It is pointed out that paragraph no.43 of the judgement in the case of Indra Sawhney (supra) relied upon by the learned counsel for the petitioners in support of aforesaid contention has been rendered in a peculiar factual background. The case of Indra Sawhney (supra) requires 'creamy layer' to be identified and excluded. The State of Kerala did not identify the creamy layer in the backward class in compliance of the judgement of Indra Sawhney (supra). The Apex Court held that State of Kerala represented by its Chief Secretary was guilty of contempt but the Apex Court gave further opportunity to the State to purge the contempt by implementing the directions of the Apex Court in the case of Indra Sawhney (supra).

82. The State of Kerala sought time to appoint a Commission to identify the creamy layer. However, the legislature of State of Kerala suddenly promulgated Kerala State Backward Classes (Reservation of Appointments or Posts in the Services under the State) Act, 1995, which declares that there was no creamy layer in the State of Kerala. Sections 3, 4 & 6 of the said Act contained provisions, which were contrary to law laid down in the case of Indra Sawhney (supra). The validity of the said Act was challenged before the Apex Court.

83. The Apex Court keeping in view, the fact that the State Government had failed to appoint a Commission as directed in the case of Indra Sawhney (supra) requested the Chief Justice of Kerala High Court to appoint a retired Judge to be the Chairman of a High Level Committee for gathering necessary information regarding creamy layer. The Committee submitted it's report identifying the creamy layer in the backward classes of State of Kerala and it is in this backdrop, the Apex Court held that the Amendment Act, 1995 was unrelated to the facts in existence. The Apex Court has further held in paragraph no.42 that the said Act had shut it's eyes to the realities and facts and it came up with a declaration in clause (a) of Section 3, which had no factual basis inspite of the word used, 'known facts'. In such backdrop, the Apex Court held in paragraph no.43 of the judgement as under:-

"43. In view of the facts and circumstances referred to above, we hold that the declaration in clause (a) of Section 3 made by the legislature has no factual basis in spite of the use of the words "known facts". The facts and circumstances, on the other hand, indicate to the contrary. In our opinion, the declaration is a mere cloak and is unrelated to facts in existence. The declaration in Section 3(a) is, in addition, contrary to the principles laid down by this Court in Indra Sawhney and in Ashoka Kumar Thakur. It is, therefore, violative of Articles 14 and 16(1) of the Constitution of India. Clause (a) of Section 3 is, therefore, declared unconstitutional.

(viii) Clause (b) of Section 3-inadequate representation: Section 3(b) mixes up two different concepts."

84. The said judgement on facts is clearly distinguishable and does not help the petitioners.

85. So far as the judgement of the Apex Court in the case of Bhajan Kaur (supra) relied upon by the learned counsel for the petitioners is concerned, it was a case where the accident had taken place on 08.01.1983. The claim petition was filed in relation to the said accident purported to be in terms of Section 110-A of the Motor Vehicles Act, 1939.

86. The claim petition was dismissed by an Award dated 12.10.1984. The appeal preferred against the said award was disposed off by the learned Single Judge awarding a sum of Rs.15,000/- as compensation by way of 'no fault liability'. In intra-court appeal, the Appellate Court enhanced the awarded amount to Rs.50,000/- under 'no fault liability'. It is by virtue of an Amendment Act 54 of 1994, amending Section 140 of the Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 came into force w.e.f. 14.11.1994. In such backdrop, the Apex Court held that the Division Bench had erred in law by enhancing the compensation to Rs.50,000/- under the Motor Vehicles Act, 1988.

87. The Court held that Section 92A of the Act, 1939 created a right and a liability on the owner of the vehicle being a statutory liability, as the right was created by an enactment. In the absence of a clear provision in the Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 that it is to be applied retrospectively, the Court held that a statute is presumed to be prospective, unless it is retrospective either expressly or by necessary implication. It was held that a substantive law is presumed to be prospective.

88. Learned counsel for the petitioners has also relied upon paragraph nos. 28 to 32 & 35 of the judgement of the Apex Court in the case of Commissioner of Income Tax (supra) which is reproduced herein-below:-

"28. Of the various rules guiding how a legislation has to be interpreted, one established rule is that unless a contrary intention appears, a legislation is presumed not to be intended to have a retrospective operation. The idea behind the rule is that a current law should govern current activities. Law passed today cannot apply to the events of the past. If we do something today, we do it keeping in view the law of today and in force and not tomorrow's backward adjustment of it. Our belief in the nature of the law is founded on the bedrock that every human being is entitled to arrange his affairs by relying on the existing law and should not find that his plans have been retrospectively upset. This principle of law is known as lex prospicit non respicit: law looks forward not backward. As was observed in Phillips v. Eyre, a retrospective legislation is contrary to the general principle that legislation by which the conduct of mankind is to be regulated when introduced for the first time to deal with future acts ought not to change the character of past transactions carried on upon the faith of the then existing law.

29. The obvious basis of the principle against retrospectivity is the principle of "fairness", which must be the basis of every legal rule as was observed in L'Office Cherifien des Phosphates v. Yamashita-Shinnihon Steamship Co. Lid. Thus, legislations which modified accrued rights or which impose obligations or impose new duties or attach a new disability have to be treated as prospective unless the legislative intent is clearly to give the enactment a retrospective effect; unless the legislation is for purpose of supplying an obvious omission in a former legisiation or to explain a former legislation. We need not note the cornucopia of case law available on the subject because aforesaid legal position clearly emerges from the various decisions and this legal position was conceded by the counsel for the parties. In any case, we shall refer to few judgments containing this dicta, a little later.

30. We would also like to point out, for the sake of completeness, that where a benefit is conferred by a legislation, the rule against a retrospective construction is different. If a legislation confers a benefit on some persons but without inflicting a corresponding detriment on some other person or on the public generally, and where to confer such benefit appears to have been the legislators' object, then the presumption would be that such a legislation, giving it a purposive construction, would warrant it to be given a retrospective effect. This exactly is the justification to treat procedural provisions as retrospective. In Govt. of India v. Indian Tobacco Assn., the doctrine of fairness was held to be relevant factor to construe a statute conferring a benefit, in the context of it to be given a retrospective operation. The same doctrine of fairness, to hold that a statute was retrospective in nature, was applied in Vijay v. State of Maharashtra. It was held that where a law is enacted for the benefit of community as a whole, even in the absence of a provision the statute may be held to be retrospective in nature. However, we are (sic not) confronted with any such situation here.

31. In such cases, retrospectivity is attached to benefit the persons in contradistinction to the provision imposing some burden or liability where the presumption attaches towards prospectivity. In the instant case, the proviso added to Section 113 of the Act is not beneficial to the assessee. On the contrary, it is a provision which is onerous to the assessee. Therefore, in a case like this, we have to proceed with the normal rule of presumption against retrospective operation. Thus, the rule against retrospective operation is a fundamental rule of law that no statute shall be construed to have a retrospective operation unless such a construction appears very clearly in the terms of the Act, or arises by necessary and distinct implication. Dogmatically framed, the rule is no more than a presumption, and thus could be displaced by outweighing factors.

32. Let us sharpen the discussion a little more. We may note that under certain circumstances, a particular amendment can be treated as clarificatory or declaratory in nature. Such statutory provisions are labelled as "declaratory statutes". The circumstances under which provisions can be termed as "declaratory statutes" are explained by Justice G.P. Singh in the following manner:

"Declaratory statutes

The presumption against retrospective operation is not applicable to declaratory statutes. As stated in CRAIES and approved by the Supreme Court: 'For modern purposes a declaratory Act may be defined as an Act to remove doubts existing as to the common law, or the meaning or effect of any statute. Such Acts are usually held to be retrospective. The usual reason for passing a declaratory Act is to set aside what Parliament deems to have been a judicial error, whether in the statement of the common law or in the interpretation of statutes. Usually, if not invariably, such an Act contains a Preamble, and also the word "declared" as well as the word "enacted". But the use of the words 'it is declared' is not conclusive that the Act is declaratory for these words may, at times, be used to introduced new rules of law and the Act in the latter case will only be amending the law and will not necessarily be retrospective. In determining, therefore, the nature of the Act, regard must be had to the substance rather than to the form. If a new Act is 'to explain' an earlier Act, it would be without object unless construed retrospective. An explanatory Act is generally passed to supply an obvious emission or to clear up doubts as to the meaning of the previous Act. It is well settled that if a statute is curative or merely declaratory of the previous law retrospective operation is generally intended. The language 'shall be deemed always to have meant is declaratory, and is in plain terms retrospective. In the absence of clear words indicating that the amending Act is declaratory, it would not be so construed when the pre-amended provision was clear and unambiguous. An amending Act may be purely clarificatory to clear a meaning of a provision of the principal Act which was already implicit. A clarificatory amendment of this nature will have retrospective effect and, therefore, if the principal Act was existing law which the Constitution came into force, the amending Act also will be part of the existing law."

The above summing up is factually based on the judgments of this Court as well as English decisions.

35. We would also like to reproduce hereunder the following observations made by this Court in Govind Das v. ITO, while holding Section 171(6) of the Income Tax Act to be prospective and inapplicable for any assessment year prior to 1-4-1962, the date on which the Income Tax Act came into force: (SCC p. 914, para 11)

"11. Now it is a well-settled rule of interpretation hallowed by time and sanctified by judicial decisions that, unless the terms of a statute expressly so provide or necessarily require it, retrospective operation should not be given to a statute so as to take away or impair an existing right or create a new obligation or impose a new liability otherwise than as regards matters of procedure. The general rule as stated by Halsbury in Vol. 36 of the Laws of England (3rd Edn.) and reiterated in several decisions of this Court as well as English courts is that 'all statutes other than those which are merely declaratory or which relate only to matters of procedure or of evidence are prima facie prospective and retrospective operation should not be given to a statute so as to affect, alter or destroy an existing right or create a new liability or obligation unless that effect cannot be avoided without doing violence to the language of the enactment. If the enactment is expressed in language which is fairly capable either interpretation, it ought to be construed as prospective only."

89. Similar proposition has been laid down by the Apex Court in the case of Jayam and Company (supra). There is no quarrel to the proposition of law laid down in the aforesaid judicial pronouncement by the Apex Court, but in the opinion of this Court, the law enunciated by the Apex Court in the aforesaid cases is not attracted in the present case for the reasons delineated below.

90. At this stage, it would be appropriate to refer to Sections 2(4) & (6) of the Act, 1965, which defines expression 'allocable surplus' and 'available surplus'. Section 2(4) & (6) of the Act, 1965 are reproduced herein below:-

"2. Definitions.-

(4). "allocable surplus" means –

(a). in relation to an employer, being a company [(other than a banking company)] which has not made the arrangements prescribed under the Income-tax Act for the declaration and payment within India of the dividends payable out of its profits in accordance with the provisions of section 194 of that Act, sixty-seven per cent of the available surplus in an accounting year;

(b). in any other case, sixty per cent of such available surplus.

(6). "available surplus" means the available surplus computed under section 5."

91. Section 15 of the Act, 1965 provides 'set on' and 'set off' of 'allocable surplus'. Section 15 of the Act, 1965 reads as under:-

"15. Set on and set off of allocable surplus.-(1) Where for any accounting year, the allocable surplus exceeds the amount of maximum bonus payable to the employees in the establishment under section 11, then, the excess shall, subject to a limit of twenty per cent of the total salary or wage of the employees employed in the establishment in that accounting year, be carried forward for being set on in the succeeding accounting year and so on up to and inclusive of the fourth accounting year to be utilised for the purpose of payment of bonus in the manner illustrated in the Fourth Schedule.

(2) Where for any accounting year, there is no available surplus or the allocable surplus in respect of that year falls short of the amount of minimum bonus payable to the employees in the establishment under section 10, and there is no amount or sufficient amount carried forward and set on under sub-section (1) which could be utilised for the purpose of payment of the minimum bonus, then, such minimum amount or the deficiency, as the case may be, shall be carried forward for being set off in the succeeding accounting year and so on up to and inclusive of the fourth accounting year in the manner illustrated in the Fourth Schedule.

(3) The principle of set on and set off as illustrated in the Fourth Schedule shall apply to all other cases not covered by sub-section (1) or sub-section (2) for the purpose of payment of bonus under this Act.

(4) Where in any accounting year any amount has been carried forward and set on or set off under this section, then, in calculating bonus for the succeeding accounting year, the amount of set on or set off carried forward from the earliest accounting year shall first be taken into account."

92. Section 19 of the Act, 1965 provides for the time limit for payment of bonus. 93. In order to succeed in challenging the Act on the ground of retrospective enactment, the petitioner has to establish that by enacting the Amendment Act, 2015 retrospectively, the legislature has conferred benefit of bonus to the employees, which inflicts a corresponding detriment on the employer, which is not permissible as the legislature can confer the benefit on employees retrospectively without inflicting a corresponding detriment on the employer.

94. The law does not permit the legislature to take away or impair any existing right or create a new obligation or impose a new liability retrospectively. At this stage, it is pertinent to note that the payment of bonus is a statutory right given to the employees. The liability to pay the bonus lies upon the employer which emanates from the Act, 1965.

95. So by introducing the Amendment Act with retrospective effect, it neither impairs any existing right of the employer nor creates any new obligation upon the employer. The employer at the most can say that by retrospective operation of Amendment Act, 2015, additional liability to pay bonus upon the employer has been created. Thus, by Amendment Act, 2015, no new liability has been imposed upon the employer.

96. The employer is liable to pay bonus under Section 10 of the Act, 1965. The minimum bonus which the employer is liable to pay is 8.33% of the salary or wage earned by the employee during the accounting year or one hundred rupees, whichever is higher, whether or not, the employer has any allocable surplus in the accounting year. The employer is liable to pay bonus to a maximum 20% of the salary or wage under Section 11 of the Act, 1965 subject to the existence of the conditions enumerated in Section 11 of the Act, 1965.

97. Now, various difficulties have been posed by the petitioner in the writ petition from paragraph nos.30 to 37 of the writ petition, which are reproduced herein-below:-

"30. That thus the fiscal deficit incurred by virtue of the impugned amendment act cannot be extracted under any of the heads of the account except adding it to the liabilities of the company resulting into the decrease in profits or variating the prices of the commodity market.

31. That by the impugned amendment there would be an increase in the financial burden and greater accounting complexities for employers.

32. That for the first time by the impugned amendment there has been a insertion of a reference to the minimum wage under the Minimum Wages Act 1948 to calculate bonus and thus it has created an additional challenge to the petitioner companies.

33. That it is relevant to mention that the appropriate government (i.e. the State Government) and in different cases the Central Government fix different minimum wages for various schedule employment (skilled, unskilled and semi skilled). Thus the petitioner would have to carry out a separate assessment of the applicable wage rate for different category of employees to calculate the statutory bonus payable.

34. That since there has been a different minimum wages in different states and further varying to different types of industries, therefore now the bonus calculation has to be done separately for each category.

35. That the General Principles concerning retrospectivity provides various rules guiding as to how a legislation has to be interpreted and one established rule is that unless a contrary intention appears, a legislation is presumed not be intended to have a retrospective operation.

36. That the current law should govern the current activities while in the present matter the impugned amendment is directly having a consequence upon the activities done for past one year.

37. That the Principal of Law "Lex Prospicit non respicit" also provides for a law to look forward and not backward. Human being are entitled to arrange his affairs by relying upon the existing law and should not find that his plans have been retrospectively assets.″

98. In order to appreciate the controversy in the light of facts, detailed by the petitioner in the writ petition in implementing the Amendment Act, 2015 retrospectively, the Court must remember that Act, 1965 is a social welfare legislation enacted with an object to achieve the principles enshrined in Articles 39 and 43 of the Constitution of India. Thus, the amendment, which has been implemented retrospectively has been made in a social welfare legislation.

99. The Apex Court in the case of M/s. Jalan Trading Company (supra) has also affirmed the judgement of Bombay High Court whereby the Bombay High Court has dismissed the petitions challenging the vires of Section 10 of the Act, 1965 on the ground that it is violative of Article 19(1)(g) and Article 302 of the Constitution of India, paragraph no.2 of the said judgement is reproduced herein below:-

"2. We are satisfied that the restriction imposed by the Bonus Act in compelling the employer to pay the statutory minimum bonus even in years where there has been a loss sustained by the management is reasonable or in public interest within the meaning of Articles 19(6) and 302. What is reasonable depends on a variety of circumstances, but what is important is that the Directive Principles of State Policy in Part IV of the Constitution are fundamental to the Governance of the country. Therefore, what is directed as State Policy by the founding fathers of the Constitution cannot be regarded as unreasonable or contrary to public interest even in the context of Article 19 or 302. It follows that payment of bonus, being in implementation of Articles 39 and 43 of the Constitution, is reasonable. We agree with the High Court and dismiss the appeal with costs quantified at Rs.2,000/-. The costs be paid to respondent No.2″

100. The law is settled that a benevolent provision should be interpreted liberally to achieve the purpose for which it has been enacted. In other words, the interpretation of beneficial legislation involves liberal and purposive construction to achieve the statute′s underlying aim to ensure the welfare of the intended beneficiaries.

101. If we take a glance at Section 15 of the Act, 1965, we find the difficulty posed by the petitioners is eliminated in view of Section 15(2) of the Act, 1965, which provides for 'set on′ and 'set off′.

102. Section 15(1) of the Act, 1965 provides for carry forward and set on and on it′s plain terms, it comes into operation only when in a given accounting year, the allocable surplus exceeds the maximum bonus payable under the Act, so that after payment of maximum bonus, there is surplus left which can be carried forward and set on, subject, of course, to the limit of 20% of the total salary or wage.

103. Section 15 of the Act, 1965 provides for 'set on' and 'set off' to ensure a consistent payment of bonus over the years. If in a given case, allocable surplus exceeds the maximum bonus amount such surplus, subject to ceiling of 20%, shall have to be carried forward to the succeeding year upto and inclusive of fourth accounting year to be utilised for the purpose of payment of bonus.

104. The method to be followed in this behalf is set out in the Fourth Schedule of the Act, 1965. As per Section 15(2) of the Act, 1965, if in any succeeding accounting year, there is no available surplus or allocable surplus in respect of that year falls short of the amount of minimum bonus, the amount so carried forward has to be utilised for paying the bonus.

105. Thus, Section 15(2) of the Act, 1965 permits the employer that if, in any accounting year, there is no available surplus or allocable surplus in respect of that year falls short of the amount of minimum bonus payable to the employees in the establishment under Section 10 and there is no amount or sufficient amount which is carried forward and set on under sub-section (1) that could be utilised for the purpose of payment of minimum bonus, then, such minimum amount or deficiency, as the case may be, shall be carried forward for being set off in the succeeding accounting year and so on upto and inclusive of the fourth accounting year in the manner illustrated in the Fourth Schedule.

106. So, in the absence of available surplus or allocable surplus in respect of that year and there is shortfall of the amount of the minimum bonus payable to the establishment under Section 10, and no amount or sufficient amount has been carried forward and has been set on under sub-section (1), which could be utilised for the purpose of payment of minimum bonus, the said sub-section permits the petitioner to set off the shortfall in the succeeding year upto and inclusive of fourth accounting year.

107. The petitioner though has posed difficulty in implementing the Act retrospectively, but has neither given any detail as to what available surplus or allocable surplus is available with the companies, which has been set on under Section 15(1) of the Act, 1965. The petitioner has not stated in the writ petition that there is no available surplus or allocable surplus in respect of that year, which falls short of minimum bonus payable to the employees in the establishment under Section 10. In the absence of any such detail in the writ petition, it is difficult to comprehend that by retrospective amendment in Section 2(13) of the Act, 1965, a huge financial liability has been inflicted upon the petitioner, which would be detrimental to the interests of the petitioner.

108. The legislature keeping in view the difficulty of the employer in providing the benefit of bonus to the employees has incorporated Section 15 of the Act, 1965 with a view to ease the employer in paying the bonus in case of non-availability of available surplus and shortfall of allocable surplus. Therefore, for the aforesaid reason, we do not find that the difficulty posed by the petitioner in the writ petition as stated in the paragraphs, extracted above, are bonafide and genuine and a beneficial legislation can be rendered unconstitutional on the said grounds.

109. For the reasons given above, we do not find that any such liability has been imposed by implementing the Amendment Act retrospectively, which poses a serious financial threat to the establishment so as to close down the establishment because of such financial liability.

110. Sri Diptiman Singh, learned counsel for the petitioners in the rejoinder affidavit has pointed out that the liability of the petitioner is more than Rs.3 crores, but necessary facts have not been detailed in the writ petition in the light of Section 15 of the Act, 1965.

111. So far as the contention of learned counsel for the petitioners that as per Section 19, eight months period is provided to pay bonus and that period has expired and any payment of bonus after the expiry of period provided in Section 19 will entail penal consequences is concerned, the said contention is also misconceived inasmuch as the Competent Authority under the Proviso (b) to Section 19 has power to extend the period of payment of bonus upto two years.

112. It is also settled law that if the bonus is paid retrospectively by way of notification, no prosecution could be made or launched against the petitioners for non-payment of bonus or for delayed payment of bonus. Hence, when the Amendment Act, 2015 has not even seen the light of the day, the petitioners cannot be prosecuted for the year 2015-16 on the ground of delayed payment of bonus.

113. We have also perused the judgements cited by the learned counsel for the respondents of Patna High Court in Civil Writ Jurisdiction Case No.15379 of 2017 and Madras High Court in Writ Petition No.6958 of 2016 upholding the validity of Amendment Act with retrospective effect.

114. For the reasons delineated above, we are in agreement with the judgement of Patna High Court as well as Madras High court.

115. One further submission has been raised by Sri Diptiman Singh, learned counsel for the petitioner that when the Amendment Bill was presented before the Lok Sabha at 16:04 hours on 22.12.2015, it is evident from the Lok Sabha discussion held on 22.12.2015, which is enclosed at page-31 of the rejoinder affidavit in Writ-C No.8995 of 2016, that the Amendment Bill was presented with a proposal that it should be made effective w.e.f. 1st day of April, 2015. However, without there being any further discussion, it was proposed that the proposed amendment may be made effective from the 1st day of April, 2014.

116. It is contended that since the Amendment Bill was presented with proposal to amend it w.e.f. 01.04.2015 and without there being any serious discussion, it was proposed to be made effective w.e.f. 1st day of April, 2014. Thus, it is contended that constitutional decisions cannot be made on the whims and desires of the Government. He further contends that while the initial Bill by which it was proposed that the Bill to be made effective w.e.f. 01.04.2015, the discussions had taken place with regard to the financial aspect of the matter, but the proposed amendment makes it′s applicability retrospectively and does not consider the economic viability. Thus, it is evident that no proper discussion had taken place for making the amendment with retrospective effect, and the Amendment Act has been made effective retrospectively on the whims of the Government, which cannot be permitted in law, therefore, retrospective implementation of the Amendment Act, 2015 is bad in law and against the spirit of the Constitution of India.

117. The respondent has filed a supplementary counter affidavit annexing therewith the proposal relating to seeking approval of Hon′ble Prime Minister under Rule 12 of the Government of India (Transaction of Business) Rules, 1961 for moving an official amendment to the Payment of Bonus (Amendment) Bill, 2015. In paragraph nos.5 & 8 of the said proposal, the justification for making the Bill retrospective have been stated which are reproduced herein-below:-

"5. JUSTIFICATION: As it is evident from the above paragraph, changes in the two ceilings have been given retrospective effect, initially through ordinance, for providing actual benefit to the employees. On the same analogy, the date of implementation may be 1.4.2014. This will also help in meeting the expectations of the Trade Union and may be useful in improving the relation with workers. The competent authority to approve an official amendment to a Bill is the Cabinet. However, it may not be feasible to bring the proposal before the Cabinet at this stage.

8.APPROVAL: In view of the above, Cabinet Secretariat is requested to convey the approval of the Hon'ble Prime Minister under Rule 12 of the Government of India (Transaction of Business) Rules, 1961 for moving an official amendment to the Payment of Bonus (Amendment) Bill, 2015(pending in Lok Sabha) for making the date of implementation as 1st day of April, 2014″.

118. Rule 12 of the Rules, 1961 is reproduced herein-below:-

"12. Departure from Rules*.-*
The Prime Minister may, in any case or classes or cases, permit or condone a departure from these rules to the extent he deems necessary.″

119. From perusal of Rule 12 of the Rules, 1961, it is evident that the Prime Minister may, in any case or classes or cases, permit or condone a departure from these rules to the extent he deems necessary. The proposal to make the Rules, 1961 applicable has been duly approved by the Prime Minister under Rule 12 of the Rules, 1961. Therefore, in view of the aforesaid fact, the contention advanced by Sri Diptiman Singh, learned counsel for the petitioners lacks merit and is accordingly, rejected.

120. So far as the argument of Sri S.K. Tripathi that the amendment in Section 12 of the Act, 1965 in respect to increase in ceiling limit is based upon unreasonable classification is concerned, we find that the Madras High Court in Writ Petition No.6958 of 2016 (The Employers′ Federation of Southern India and Others Vs. The Government of India & Others) has given elaborate reasons for upholding the validity of Section 12 of the Act, 1965, and has also dealt with the argument of rationale and reasonable classification. Relevant extract of paragraph no.12 of the judgement of Madras High Court is reproduced herein below:-

(o) While considering the classification, the Hon'ble Supreme Court considered the terms 'rationale and reasonable' in the judgment in Transport & Dock Workers Union & Ors vs Mumbai

Port Trust & Anr (2011(2) SCC 575) and in paragraph 25, laid down the following test to determine what is reasonable or having rationale. The same is reproduced hereunder:

"25. In our opinion while it is true that a mathematically accurate classification cannot be done in this connection, there should be some broad guidelines. There may be several tests to decide whether a classification or differentiation is reasonable or not. One test which we are laying down and which will be useful in deciding this case, is : is it conducive to the functioning of modern society? If it is then it is certainly reasonable and rational."

(p) Useful reference can also be made as to the re-statement of law in this regard to the judgment of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in State of Tamil Nadu & Anr vs. National South Indian River Interlinking Agriculturist Association, 2021 (15) SCC 534, more particularly, paragraphs 15 to 15.2 which read as under:

"15. The equality code in Article 14 of the Indian Constitution prescribes substantive and not formal equality. It is now a settled position that classification per se is not discriminatory and violative of Article 14. Article 14 only forbids class legislation and not reasonable classification. A classification is reasonable, when the twin tests as laid down by Justice SR Das in State of W.B v. Anwar Ali Sarkar (1952 SCR 284) are fulfilled:

15.1 The classification must be based on an intelligible differentia which distinguishes persons or things that are grouped, from others left out of the group; and

15.2 The differentia must have a rational relationship to the object sought to be achieved by the statute."

(q) Thus, it is seen that the classification per se between the employees who are in scheduled employment receiving minimum wages and others by itself is not forbidden, provided the same is reasonable.

(r) The twin test for arriving at a finding as to the reasonability is that it should be based on an intelligible differentia, which distinguishes the persons or things that are grouped from the others left out of the group. In this case, it is the workmen who are poorer among the poor who are governed under the Minimum Wages Act, 1948 who are grouped from the others left out.

(s) The second essentiality is that such differentiation must have a rational relationship to the objects sought to be achieved by the statute. The object sought to be achieved by the statute viz., the original Act is to provide a reasonable amount of bonus. The object of the amending Act is to enhance/modify or vary the quantum according to the prevalent conditions. Taking into account the time it takes to make amendments, i.e., it can be seen that the last amendment was made in the year 2006 and it has taken almost another decade to review the amount and the vagaries of the price index, when at least in respect of one part of the employees an able mechanism is available in the form of minimum wages, adopting the same has a rational relationship to the objects sought to be achieved by the statute. Therefore, we are unable to agree with the contentions made on behalf of the petitioners that the impugned enactment amounts to class legislation and is discriminatory. Accordingly, the question is answered that the classification made is reasonable and has nexus to the purposes of the Act."

121. The judgements of Unichoyi (supra) & Bhikusa Yamasa Kshatriya (supra) have elaborated the object behind promulgating the Minimum Wages Act. The Apex Court in paragraph no.12 of the judgement in the case of Unichoyi (supra) has stated that "The policy of the Act is to prevent the employment of such sweated labour in the interest of general public and so in prescribing the minimum wage rates, the capacity of the employer, need not be considered."

122. So the Apex Court while explaining the object behind the introduction of Minimum Wages Act has held that the capacity of employer is not to be considered as the welfare State assumes every employer must pay the minimum wages to its labour before employing them so as to prevent the exploitation of labours.

123. The Apex Court in the case of Sukanya Shantha (supra) has dealt with contours of Article 14 of the Constitution of India, and in paragraph no.34 of the judgement, the Apex Court has summarized the constitutional standard laid down by the Court under Article 14 of the Constitution of India. Paragraph no.34 of the said judgement is reproduced herein below:-

"34. The constitutional standards laid down by the Court under Article 14 can be summarized as follows. First, the Constitution permits classification if there is intelligible differentia and reasonable nexus with the object sought. Second, the classification test cannot be merely applied as a mathematical formula to reach a conclusion. A challenge under Article 14 has to take into account the substantive content of equality which mandates fair treatment of an individual. Third, in undertaking classification, a legislation or subordinate legislation cannot be manifestly arbitrary, i.e. courts must adjudicate whether the legislature or executive acted capriciously, irrationally and/or without adequate determining principle, or did something which is excessive and disproportionate. In applying this constitutional standard, courts must identify the "real purpose" of the statute rather than the "ostensible purpose" presented by the State, as summarized in ADR. Fourth, a provision can be found manifestly arbitrary even if it does not make a classification. Fifth, different constitutional standards have to be applied when testing the validity of legislation as compared to subordinate legislation."

124. It is true that a law should satisfy the twin test as laid down by the Apex Court in order to pass the test of reasonable classification. However, the Madras High Court has categorically repelled the contention of employer that amendment in Section 12 of the Act, 1965 amounts to class legislation and is discriminatory. Therefore, the judgement of Apex Court in the case of Sukanya Shantha (supra) is of no help to the petitioners.

125. Thus for the reasons given above, we are of the view that all the writ petitions lack merit and are, accordingly, dismissed with no order as to costs.

(2026) 2 ILRA 681
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 24.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE AJIT KUMAR , J.
THE HON'BLE MRS. SWARUPAMA CHATURVEDI, J.

Writ C No. 7685 of 2025

Jm Pharma A Proprietorship Firm ...Petitioner
Versus
Principal Secretary, Department of Medical Health & Ors. ...Respondents

ISSUE FOR CONSIDERATION

Whether cancellation of tender/purchase order and adverse action based on an enquiry conducted without furnishing details of allegations, without supplying supporting material, and without affording reasonable opportunity of hearing to the petitioner is vitiated for violation of the principles of natural justice; and whether, in such circumstances, the matter requires a fresh enquiry.

HEADNOTE

Constitution of India – Art.226 – Tender/Contract – Cancellation of bid – Enquiry report – Administrative Law – Principles of natural justice – Rule of Law – Petitioner awarded contract pursuant to bid – Supply made – CRAC generated – Payment not released – Enquiry conducted alleging substandard supply and irregularities – Tender cancelled – Maintainability and validity: Fairness, transparency, and impartiality in administrative action are facets of the Rule of Law – Every authority is bound to act within the framework of law and cannot exercise power unreasonably or arbitrarily – Decisions affecting rights must be based on relevant material and objective considerations – The affected party must be informed about allegations and be supplied with all relevant documents and reports relied upon, and granted a reasonable and meaningful opportunity to rebut all the allegations and defend the case – The Rule of Law requires that discretion be exercised without bias or predetermined conclusions – Where serious civil consequences such as cancellation of contract or blacklisting are involved, strict adherence to natural justice is mandatory – Any action taken in violation of these principles cannot be sustained in law.

Held: In the instant case, a tender was issued for supply of diagnostic material – The petitioner was selected as the successful bidder and a purchase/work order was issued – The petitioner supplied the material and a Consignee Receipt and Acceptance Certificate (CRAC) was generated indicating acceptance of goods – The petitioner sought release of payment – Subsequently, an enquiry committee was constituted; the first enquiry report recorded that the quantity was complete and quality could be assessed only through laboratory testing, whereas a subsequent enquiry alleged discrepancies and supply of substandard material – A show cause notice was issued, to which the petitioner submitted a reply denying the allegations – The purchase order was cancelled. Held: Petitioner was not provided any details of defective goods or any laboratory reports in support of the allegation of substandard quality in the show cause notice – The petitioner was also not made to participate in the enquiry and was not given details of the allegations or the basis of the impugned opinion, nor any reasonable opportunity to respond – The entire action is in violation of the principles of natural justice – Successful generation of CRAC indicates that the petitioner is legally entitled to receive payment – The impugned order and enquiry report are quashed – The matter is remanded for fresh enquiry by a new committee – Direction issued to provide a fresh show cause notice along with all material relied upon and to afford a reasonable opportunity of hearing. [Paras 27, 28, 29] (E-5)

CASE LAW CITED

Uma Nath Pandey v. State of U.P., (2009) 12 SCC 40;
Gorkha Security Services v. Govt. (NCT of Delhi), (2014) 9 SCC 105;
Daffodills Pharmaceuticals Ltd. v. State of U.P., (2020) 18 SCC 550;
UMC Technologies (P) Ltd. v. Food Corpn. of India, (2021) 2 SCC 551

List of Acts

Constitution of India.

List of Keyword

Natural justice; Audi alteram partem; Show cause notice; Cancellation of tender; Enquiry report; Civil consequences; Rule of law; CRAC; Payment obligation; Arbitrary administrative action; Opportunity of hearing; Remand for fresh enquiry.

CASE ARISING FROM

From the order dated 04.03.2025 cancelling the bid and enquiry report dated 13.02.2025.

Appearances for Parties

Advs For Petitioner: Udai Chandani

Advs For Respondents: C.S.C., Pooja Singh, Rekha Singh

(Delivered by Hon'ble Mrs. Swarupama Chaturvedi, J.)

1. Heard Sri Udai Chandani, learned counsel appearing for the petitioner and Sri Sanjeev Singh, learned Additional Advocate General assisted by Sri Ratan Deep Mishra, learned Standing Counsel for the State respondents.

2. By means of this petition filed under Article 226 of the Constitution of India, petitioner, who is proprietorship firm in a business of pharmaceutical, mainly prays for writ in the nature of certiorari seeking quashing of the order dated 04.03.2025, whereby the bid dated 25.11.2024 granted in the favour of the petitioner has been cancelled. Petitioner further seeks writ in the nature of certiorari seeking quashing of the enquiry report dated 13.02.2025 as well. Petitioner also prays for a writ of mandamus to command respondent no. 5 to release payment due against the invoices raised pursuant to the work order dated 25.11.2024.

3. The background fact of the matter is that petitioner participated in a tender bearing bid no. GEMC/2024-25/B/5533411 dated 23.10.2024 issued by the office of respondent no. 5 for diagnostic material and got selected for providing the material. Petitioner entered into a contract on 25.11.2024 in pursuance of the above mentioned bidding. Learned counsel appearing for the petitioner submitted that as per the work order, the material was to be supplied by the petitioner by 10.12.2024 after due verification of sample, but certain materials were not available, therefore, an extension application was filed, and fifteen days of extension was provided to the petitioner on 15.12.2024. The counsel for the petitioner submits that materials were supplied within time, considering the extension granted, and were duly accepted by the respondent authority.

4. Learned counsel appearing for the petitioner further submits that the bid document required the successful bidder to obtain approval of sample in advance before commencing bulk supply and it was a matter of record that the petitioner had addressed a letter to the Chief Medical Officer requesting acceptance of the sample submitted for GEMC/2024-25/B/5533411. After entire material was supplied to the respondent no. 5, the Consignee Receipt and Acceptance Certificate (hereinafter referred to as ?CRAC?) was generated, which acknowledged a fact that services rendered by the petitioner was satisfactory and within ten days from generation of CRAC, the payment, as raised by the petitioner, was to be released.

5. Learned counsel submitted that the letter dated 07.01.2025 was sent to the Chief Medical Officer seeking release of payment of Rs. 1,60,47,000/-, stating that the required documents had already been uploaded and that there was delay in payment. Further, the petitioner had sent reminders in this regard, but petitioner got to know from the Chief Medical Officer, Kanpur Nagar that an enquiry committee was constituted on 07.02.2025, which submitted its report dated 13.02.2025 and subsequently, by office letter dated 03.03.2025, the purchase order dated 25.11.2024 bearing Purchase Order No. GEMC-511687758881075 was cancelled. As a sequel to that the Additional Chief Medical Store, Chief Pharmacist and Pharmacist, Central Drug Store were directed to initiate the process for return of all materials relating to the said purchase. In pursuance of the above, the Chief Medical Officer issued a consequential letter dated 04.03.2025.

6. Learned counsel further submitted that the inquiry committee had analyzed the materials in the store on 16.01.2025 and had observed that no sample material was provided to the committee, and materials the inquiry report stated, which was received by the committee, was found complete in quantity. The report further stated that in absence of sample provided before the supply of the materials which was to be analyzed, the quality assessment and comparison could not have been done. It further observed that the supplied materials were related to pathology lab and the materials were as per the standard norms and therefore, there could not have been any comment on this without any lab examination.

7. He next submitted that there was another report dated 23.12.2024 which stated that the materials were sub-standard and those were less in numbers. The report further stated that the extension of the date was not based upon correct documents as there was no document available which would have demonstrated that there was any time extension provided to the seller by the Chief Medical Officer. The report further stated that on 14.12.2024, the Chief Medical Officer, who got transferred was to provide time extension.

8. The petitioner's counsel submitted that by letter dated 29.01.2025, which got issued in the nature of a show cause notice proposing blacklisting of the petitioner's firm, it was stated that pursuant to the petitioner's earlier letter dated 07.01.2025 seeking payment, a three-member enquiry committee was constituted on 10.01.2025 to examine Bid No. GEMC/2024-25/B/5533411 dated 23.10.2024 and Purchase Order No. Gem C-511687758881075 dated 25.11.2024, and to submit its report within three days, which was communicated to the petitioner on 18.01.2025. The petitioner's counsel submitted that the committee conducted an enquiry on 24.01.2025 and alleged differences in items and quantity, supply of substandard materials, and termed the purchase process as suspicious, stating that payment could not be released as per rules. It was further alleged that the petitioner had not supplied the materials as per the terms and specifications of the tender and was creating pressure for payment. By the said notice, the petitioner was granted two days' time to supply the materials in accordance with the tender conditions, failing which the tender and purchase order would be cancelled, the security amount forfeited, and the firm recommended for blacklisting.

9. Learned counsel for the petitioner referred to the detailed reply dated 30.01.2025 that was filed in response to the show cause notice dated 29.01.2025 and while referring reply, he submitted that the enquiry committee was constituted only after he sought payment on 07.01.2025 and hence the action was unreasonable and arbitrary. He referred to earlier enquiry report dated 16.01.2025, which, recorded that the quantity supplied was adequate and that quality could be determined only through laboratory testing. Learned counsel also submitted that the the inspection report dated 23.12.2024 was not supplied to him. He further contended that without laboratory testing, the allegation of substandard material was unfounded.

10. He further submitted that the subsequent enquiry dated 24.01.2025 recorded contrary findings, termed the materials substandard, and questioned the procurement process, while the enquiry committee had no authority to examine the legality of a duly approved purchase, which was already concluded. He further stated that the show cause notice did not specify any item-wise defects, batch numbers, brands, or enclose any laboratory report, and that grant of only two days? time to reply amounted to denial of reasonable opportunity.

11. Learned counsel also contended that CRAC had already been issued without objection as to quality or quantity and that payment was required to be made within ten days thereof as per rules. He alleged that re-examination at a later stage was only to delay payment and raised apprehension of tampering during the intervening period. He asserted that he had supplied the materials strictly in terms of the tender, enclosed receipts and valid laboratory reports, denied exerting any undue pressure, and alleged mala fide intent to cancel the tender and blacklist his firm.

12. Learned counsel further submitted that the petitioner send letter to the District Magistrate, Kanpur Nagar against arbitrary action of the Chief Medical Officer, Kanpur Nagar, Assistant Chief Medical Officer and Chief Pharmacist for non-cooperating in providing the details of the materials which allegedly not provided by the petitioner. He reiterated that the petitioner had not been provided any details of goods which were not claimed to have not been supplied or the details of goods which was sub-standard.

13. Learned counsel contended that the bid document provided that the tender committee had the sole authority to accept or reject any bid and to cancel the ongoing bid without prior notice. The contract contained a termination clause, which permitted the buyer to terminate the contract by written notice if the seller failed to supply the materials within the stipulated period or failed to replace or rectify defective goods but this was not the case where CRAC was also generated and payment was being delayed even after sending reminders.

14. Learned counsel appearing for the petitioner submitted that after CRAC dated 15.12.2024, petitioner was entitled to receive payment from the respondent within ten days. Learned counsel for the petitioner placed reliance upon the Office Memorandum dated 03.07.2020 issued by the Ministry of Finance, Government of India, which is reproduced below for the ready reference:

"No F 6/18/2016-PPD

Government of India Department of Expenditure

Ministry of Finance

Procurement Policy Division

512. Lok Nayak Bhawan

New Delhi Dated the 3rd July 2020

OFFICE MEMORANDUM

Subject: Prompt payment to suppliers including MSMEs: Charging of interest on delayed payments in Government e-Marketplace (GeM)

Reference This Department OM No FG/18/2019-PPD dated 23.01.2020

1. Government has been repeatedly emphasizing the need for prompt payment to vendors specially the MSME vendors. The intent of the Government in this regard has been articulated under the Aatmanirbhar Bharat pronouncements. For procurements made under rule 149 of GFRs 2017, buyers are mandated to make payments within 10 calendar days after generation (including auto generation) of Consignee Receipt and Acceptance Certificate (CRAC) in the GeM.

2. In order to promote greater discipline and timeliness in payment to vendors it is decided that whenever a CRAC is auto generated or issued by a buyer and payment is not made 10 days thereafter the buyer organization will be required to pay penal interest @ 1% per month for the delayed payment beyond the prescribed timeline till the date of such payment. The charge of interest shall be prorated for the period of delay. [For example, if CRAC is generated on the 1st day of a month and payment is made by the buyer organization on the 20th day of the month, interest for 10 days will be charged. The penal interest will be 10/30 multiplied by 1% i.e. 0.33%] Month may be taken as 30 days in all cases.

3. The amount collected in this regard shall be deposited in an account maintained by GeM. This interest will not be paid to the vendor and will be kept by GeM in a separate account which will be used only for the education of sellers/buyers etc or other purposes related to GeM or public procurement with the prior approval of Department of Expenditure. This shall not cover any other interest payable to vendors under any law of contractual obligations, which will be over and above the interest as charged above.

4. The above conditions will be applicable for all procurements made from 1st October 2020.

5. This issues with the approval of Finance Minister.

Sd/-
(Kotluru Narayana Reddy)
Deputy Secretary to the Govt of India
Tel No 24621305 Email kn reddy@gov in"

15. In the light of paragraph 2 of the above mentioned Office Memorandum, any auto-generated CRAC issued by the buyer makes it mandatory that the buyer shall make payment within ten days and if it fails to do so, there is a provision for the penal interest for delayed payment beyond that prescribed time line till the date of such payment. Bringing of provision for penal interest shows the intention of the government to ensure timely payment to the suppliers after the CRAC is generated.

16. Per contra, learned counsel appearing for respondent nos. 2 and 5 submitted that the Enquiry Committee submitted detailed report dated 13.02.2025. In the said report, it was found that a case of corruption related to the Health Department was registered against the petitioner with the CBI and STF, New Delhi, and that charge sheets had been filed and charges had been framed by the competent court, including the Court of Special Judge, Anti-Corruption/CBI, Ghaziabad. He further submitted that Case No. 40 of 2015 and Case No. 18 of 2016 were still pending.

17. Learned counsel representing respondents further submits that the petitioner uploaded a notarized affidavit along with the bid, which was based on false facts, as the aforesaid criminal cases were concealed there. He contended that the firm deliberately suppressed these facts and obtained the tender in its favour. Reliance was placed upon Government Order dated 06.11.2023 issued by the Secretary, Government of Uttar Pradesh, Medical Section-1, which directed that no agency or firm involved in corruption shall be granted work under any circumstances. It was contended that despite the said Government Order, the then GeM Buyer/Consignee and Senior Finance and Accounts Officer acted illegally and attempted to process payment in favour of the firm.

18. Learned counsel for respondent nos. 2 and 5 further submitted that the purchase order was issued to the petitioner firm on 25.11.2024 in relation to the bid, in which the time period was fixed for 15 days, which was expiring on 10.12.2024, but the supply as per the purchase order was not completed by the petitioner firm within the stipulated period. On 14.12.2024, the Chief Medical Officer was transferred by the government, after which new Chief Medical Officer assumed charge on 16.12.2024.

19. The Enquiry Committee examined the purchase order issued on the GeM portal and found that on 15.12.2024, which was Sunday, the then GeM Buyer and GeM Consignee extended the time for supply of medical items without any written order from the then Chief Medical Officer, Kanpur Nagar. It was also recorded that the then GeM Buyer and GeM Consignee took advantage of the period between the transfer of the earlier Chief Medical Officer and the joining of the present Chief Medical Officer, extending the supply period in haste and contrary to rules, before the generation of the CRAC.

20. Learned counsel further submitted that the Enquiry Committee found that the acts of the GeM Buyer and GeM Consignee violated rules, and acted to benefit the firm. The Committee observed that the materials supplied under the bid were substandard, with discrepancies between the batch numbers on the bill vouchers uploaded on the GeM portal and those of the materials physically received were in lesser quantity. The department instructed that the materials be returned after informing the firm of these issues and of its being charge-sheeted by the CBI under serious sections. He further submitted that departmental investigation also found the petitioner and certain officials guilty, and legal action had been initiated against them.

21. Learned counsel appearing for the petitioner submitted in the rejoinder argument that there was no suppression of fact as alleged by the respondent as no charges were ever framed against the petitioner and nor was he convicted in any case by the court. He submits that cases were against respondent no.5 and that could not have been interpreted as suppression of facts by petitioner at initial stage. He also contended that the enquiry was conducted by same authority against whom the petitioner has preferred complained before district magistrate and this alone rendered complete action at fault as it was against the principle that ?no one can be judge of his own cause?. Learned counsel for the petitioner emphasised upon a fact that there was no occasion when the petitioner was provided a show cause having details of allegations with supported evidence to provide too short time to submit reply. It was also contended that the impugned enquiry report was ex-parte which had the adverse effect on petitioner and, therefore, the same deserved to be quashed.

22. Issues that fall for consideration are; whether the issuance of the Consignee Receipt and Acceptance Certificate (CRAC) validates satisfactory supply of goods and entitles the petitioner to get timely payment and therefore the respondent is under liability to make payment; whether petitioner was given proper show cause having allegations and the basis to form a conclusive view and the enquiry was conducted fairly in accordance with the principle of rule of law, and whether the petitioner was afforded a reasonable and adequate opportunity to rebut allegations.

23. Having dealt with the factual matrix and the rival submissions, it is now necessary to advert to the settled principles applicable to the controversy involved in the matter. In Uma Nath Pandey v. State of U.P., (2009) 12 SCC 40, the Supreme Court has held that:

"(10). The adherence to principles of natural justice as recognised by all civilised States is of supreme importance when a quasi-judicial body embarks on determining disputes between the parties, or any administrative action involving civil consequences is in issue. These principles are well settled. The first and foremost principle is what is commonly known as audi alteram partem rule. It says that no one should be condemned unheard. Notice is the first limb of this principle. It must be precise and unambiguous. It should apprise the party determinatively of the case he has to meet. Time given for the purpose should be adequate so as to enable him to make his representation. In the absence of a notice of the kind and such reasonable opportunity, the order passed becomes wholly vitiated. Thus, it is but essential that a party should be put on notice of the case before any adverse order is passed against him. This is one of the most important principles of natural justice. It is after all an approved rule of fair play."

24. This is the settled principle which has been consistently followed and in Gorkha Security Services v. Govt. (NCT of Delhi) (2014) 9 SCC 105, Supreme Court has held that any exercise of power prejudicially affecting another must be in conformity with the rule of natural justice. Daffodills Pharmaceuticals Ltd. v. State of U.P., (2020) 18 SCC 550 and UMC Technologies (P) Ltd. v. Food Corpn. of India, (2021) 2 SCC 551 has also followed the same principles.

25. On a careful consideration of the facts of the case, and submissions advanced by counsel, it appears that the entire dispute arose due to contradictory reports and allegation of procedural irregularities. The grievance of the petitioner is that after sample approval, goods were supplied within the extended time, and thereafter CRAC was generated and yet payment was delayed despite repeated reminders made. Respondent's allegation is that the product did not get delivered timely and failed to meet the quality as well as quantity, both were not satisfactory. It is also clear from records that there were two enquiry committee reports having differing findings. While report dated 16.01.2025 recorded that quantity was adequate and quality could only be determined, though examination in lab but the subsequent enquiry report dated 24.01.2025 concluded that substandard materials were supplied and questioned the procurement process as well.

26. Fairness, transparency, and impartiality in administrative action are facets of the Rule of Law. Under the Rule of Law, every authority is bound to act within the framework of law and cannot exercise power unreasonably or arbitrarily. Decisions affecting rights must be based on relevant material and objective considerations. The affected party must be informed about allegations, and be supplied with all relevant documents and reports relied upon, and granted a reasonable and meaningful opportunity to rebut all the allegations and defend the case. The Rule of Law requires that discretion be exercised without bias or predetermined conclusions. Where serious civil consequences such as cancellation of contract or blacklisting are involved, strict adherence to natural justice is mandatory. We are of the considered view that any action taken in violation of these principles cannot be sustained in law.

27. It in the facts of the case, petitioner was not provided any details of defective goods or any laboratory reports in support of the allegation of substandard quality in the show cause notice. Further, the extension of supply time on 15.12.2024, by the then Chief Medical Officer, and successful generation of CRAC, indicates that the petitioner is legally entitled to receive payment. From bare reading of the impugned report, it appears that the petitioner was not made to participate in the enquiry and, therefore, there was no occasion for the petitioner to defend any of the allegations made against him. In fact, petitioner was not given details of the allegations and the basis to form that impugned opinion and the reasonable opportunity to respond. This complete action is in violation of the principle of natural justice. Considering above discussion, we are of view that there is need for an independent enquiry in the matter.

28. In view of the above, petition deserves to be allowed to the extent that a fresh enquiry is conducted by a new enquiry committee, comprising officers who were not previously involved in the case. We direct respondent no.1 to set up an enquiry committee within period of two weeks from the date of this order. The Chairperson of the Committee shall be an Additional Secretary and members shall not be from the same District Administration as there was allegation regarding connivance. A fresh show cause notice along with all documents forming basis of the allegations shall be provided to the petitioner and the petitioner shall have reasonable opportunity to respond all allegations. The fresh enquiry is directed to be completed in eight weeks for giving the fresh show cause notice to the petitioner.

29. Accordingly, the petition is partly allowed. The impugned order dated 04.03.2025 and enquiry report dated 13.02.2025 are quashed. The matter is remanded to the respondent no.1, for fresh enquiry and decision in terms of the directions issued hereinabove.

30. In the circumstances, petitioner would be permitted to participate in future tender proceedings.

31. No order as to costs.

(2026) 2 ILRA 690
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 27.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SAURABH SHYAM SHAMSHERY, J.

Writ C No. 13237 of 2025

The C/M, Nawab Singh Chauhan Gramodaya Inter College & Anr. ...Petitioner
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Respondents

ISSUE FOR CONSIDERATION

Matter pertains to the legality of the order passed by the Regional Level Committee rejecting rival elections of Committee of Management and directing fresh elections on the basis of undisputed membership list of the year 2012; and the validity of subsequent elections conducted pursuant thereto.

HEADNOTE

U.P. Intermediate Education Act, 1921, s.16-A(7) – Societies Registration Act, 1860, s.4-B – Scheme of Administration – Dispute regarding membership and validity of elections of Committee of Management Rival elections set up by parties – Regional Level Committee rejected both elections holding membership lists manipulated – Directed fresh election on basis of undisputed list of 284 members of year 2012 – Challenge – Justification:

Held: It is a case arising out of a dispute essentially of admission of new members and removal of old members and such meetings have to be conducted strictly in terms of provisions of the Scheme of Administration – Though the Scheme permits that in absence of President, Vice-President can conduct the meeting, however, there must be legally sustainable reasons for his absence, which do not reflect from the minutes – No communication from the President was placed on record – Even though further procedure may appear to be in terms of the Scheme, the manner in which the meeting was conducted was not proper – There is no sufficient material to demonstrate how names of forty members were deleted except a general reference that some of them are dead and no documentary proof was taken on record – Thus, the meeting in which sixty members were admitted and forty members were deleted was not conducted in accordance with the Scheme of Administration – Expulsion of members on allegations of misconduct without any declaration that they were found guilty and without affording opportunity is also not proper – There is no legally sustainable reason to conduct election about six months before expiry of tenure and the observation that decision was taken in a secret manner has substance – Elections are required to be conducted in a fair manner, however, such fairness was missing – All three meetings were not conducted properly – There is no error in the impugned order – Fresh election has already been concluded pursuant to the impugned order – No ground exists to cause interference – Writ petition lacks merit and is dismissed. [Paras 21, 22, 24, 25, 26, 27] (E-5)

CASE LAW CITED

Nil.

List of Acts

U.P. Intermediate Education Act, 1921;
Societies Registration Act, 1860.

List of Keyword

Committee of Management; Membership dispute; Scheme of Administration; Induction of members; Removal of members; Validity of elections; Regional Level Committee; Undisputed membership list; Fresh elections; Abuse of procedure; Noncompliance of statutory scheme; Election irregularities.

CASE ARISING FROM

From the order dated 29.03.2025 passed by the Regional Level Committee, Aligarh Region, Aligarh and consequential order dated 16.05.2025 passed by District Inspector of Schools, Aligarh.

Appearances for Parties

Advs For Petitioner: Shivendu Ojha, Sneh Pandey, Sr. Advocate.

Advs For Respondents: Bachchu Lal Yadav, C.S.C., Wahid Jamal.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Saurabh Shyam Shamshery, J.)

1. Present writ petition is filed by Committee of Management of Nawab Singh Chauhan Gramodaya Inter College, Aligarh through its Manager (Smt. Niharika Chauhan) whereas respondent-4 (Ravindra Singh Chauhan) has also claimed that he was the elected Manager of said Committee of Management.

2. Present case is arising out of a direction passed by this Court in Writ C No. 42499/2023 decided along with Writ C No. 12426/2022 filed by petitioners herein vide a judgment dated 16.07.2024 wherein following observations and directions were passed :-

"The outcome of the aforesaid discussion is that elections to a Committee of Management of an institution and its office- bearers are to be held in accordance with the Scheme of Administration. Any transgression from the scheme prescribed in the Scheme of Administration would invalidate the elections and any elections held according to the provisions of the Scheme of Administration cannot be rejected by the DIOS or the Regional Level Committee on the ground that the elections were not in accordance with the Government Order dated 21.11.2008. Under Section 16-A(7) of the Act, 1921, the educational authorities "the District Inspector of Schools, the Regional Level Committee, the Joint Director or any other authority" can only look into the question as to whether the elections set up by the concerned party was in accordance with the Scheme of Administration. The educational authorities while deciding any dispute regarding rival claims set up by the parties under Section 16-A(7) cannot go beyond the provisions of the Scheme of Administration. Resultantly, where the Scheme of Administration of the institution stipulates a general body of the institution separate and different from the general body of the parent society, i.e., the society which runs the institution, and the general body of the society is not the electoral College for electing the Committee of Management and the office bearers of the institution, the elections cannot be invalidated on the ground that the elections were held on a list which was not registered under Section 4-B of the Act, 1860.

In the present case, the Scheme of Administration of the College was approved by the Regional Joint Director of Education, Agra. It is not the case of the respondents that any action was taken or any notice was issued to the College by the Director under Section 16-B or Section 16-CCC to include in the Scheme of Administration of the College the provisions of the Government Order dated 21.11.2008. The provisions stipulated in the Government Order dated 21.11.2008 were not incorporated in the Scheme of Administration of the College. There is nothing on record in the present case to show that any proposal was made by the Director or any other authority asking the College to amend its Scheme of Administration in accordance with the provisions stipulated in the Government Order dated 21.11.2008.

The Scheme of Administration of the College provides for a general body of the College separate and different from the general body of the Society. There is no provision either in the Scheme of Administration of the College or in the bye-laws of the Society providing that members of the general body of the Society shall automatically also be members of the general body of the College or that the general body of the Society shall also be the general body of the College. The Scheme of Administration of the College provides that any person desirous of being member of the general body of the College shall deposit the requisite fees, either by cheque or bank draft issued in the name of the College, along with an application recommended by any member of the general body of the College and submit the application before the Treasurer of the College. The application shall be placed before the Manager who shall in turn place the same before the Committee of Management and in case, the Committee of Management refuses to enroll the said person as member of the College, the matter shall be placed before the general body of the College. Clause - 5 of the Scheme of Administration provides that if the general body of the College agrees to admit the applicant as member, the applicant shall be admitted as member with effect from the date the cheque or the bank draft was submitted by him. A reading of Clause - 5 of the Scheme of Administration shows that it is the general body of the College which has the authority to decide on the admission of any applicant as a member of the general body of the College and the society "its general body or its governing body" has no role in the matter. The Scheme of Administration of the College also provides that the Executive Committee of the College shall be constituted by elections from amongst members of the general body of the College and the elections shall be held by the general body of the College. The Scheme does not stipulate participation of the general body of the Society in the elections of the Committee of Management or its office-bearers. Clause - 26 of the Scheme of Administration also provides that any order passed by the Registrar, Firms, Societies and Chits shall not be applicable either on the general body of the College or on the Executive Committee of the College. In short, the general body of the Society is not the electoral College which elects the Committee of Management and the office bearers of the College. Thus, the elections of the Committee of Management and the office bearers of the College cannot be rejected on the ground that the elections were held, on a list of members which was not registered under Section 4-B of the Act, 1860. Any order rejecting the elections on the ground that the election was held on a list not registered under Section 4-B of the Act, 1860 would be vitiated because of consideration of irrelevant material. As a corollary, any election held on a list registered under Section 4-B of the Act, 1860 and excludes members of the general body of the College who were not members of the general body of the Society would be contrary to the Scheme of Administration and invalid.

In view of the aforesaid, the elections of the Committee of Management of the College set up by the petitioners and by respondent no. 4 and referred to the Regional Level Committee by the DIOS vide his order dated 15.12.2021 could not have been rejected on the ground that the elections were held on a list of members which had not been registered under Section 4-B of the Act, 1860. The decision / order dated 29.3.2022 passed by the Regional Level Committee rejecting the elections set up by the petitioners as well as the respondent no. 4 on the aforesaid ground is contrary to law. The consequential order dated 30.3.2022 passed by the Joint Director of Education appointing an Authorized Controller in the College is, for the same reason also contrary to law. The appointment of Authorized Controller in the College has been declared illegal. It has also been held that the elections of the Committee of Management and the office bearers of the College could not have been held on a list registered under Section 4-B of the Act, 1860 and such an election would be invalid because it would be contrary to the Scheme of Administration. For the said reasons, the elections dated 10.9.2023 were invalid and contrary to law.

Thus, the order dated 14.9.2023 passed by the District Inspector of Schools, Aligarh recognizing the elections dated 10.9.2023 electing the respondent no. 4 as Manager of the Committee of Management of the Institution is also contrary to law.

For the aforesaid reasons, the orders dated 29.3.2022, 30.3.2022 and 14.9.2023 are contrary to law and are, hereby, quashed.

The matter is remanded back to the Regional Level Committee, Aligarh Region, Aligarh, i.e., respondent no. 2 to decide the dispute regarding the rival elections set up by the petitioners and respondent no. 4 and referred to it by the District Inspector of Schools, Aligarh by his letter dated 15.12.2021 afresh in accordance with the observations made above. Appropriate orders shall be passed by the Regional Level Committee and by the District Inspector of Schools, Aligarh within a period of two months from today and the Regional Joint Director of Education, Aligarh Region, Aligarh shall ensure that appropriate orders are passed by the Regional Level Committee and the District Inspector of Schools within the time prescribed by this Court.

Till the decision of the Regional Level Committee, the College shall be managed by an Authorized Controller appointed by the Joint Director of Education, Aligarh Region, Aligarh.

With the aforesaid directions and observations, the writ petitions are allowed.

A copy of this order shall be sent to the Joint Director of Education, Aligarh Region, Aligarh by the Registrar (Compliance) within ten days for necessary compliance."

3. In aforesaid circumstances, impugned order dated 29.03.2025 was passed by Regional Level Committee whereby it was held that election conducted by either party was not conducted as per valid list of 284 Members and it was also directed that a list dated 26.06.2012 on which earlier, undisputed election was conducted would be the valid list and after removing names of Members who have meanwhile died, a fresh election be conducted. For reference, relevant part of impugned order is quoted below :-

"विवेचना (Analysis)

मण्डलीय समिति की बैठक दिनांक 29.03.2025 में सम्बन्धित पक्षों द्वारा उपलब्ध कराये गये अभिकथनाेंं उत्तर/प्रत्युत्तर एवं प्रत्युत्तर के जवाबों तथा काार्यालय में उपलब्ध अभिलेखों की विवेचना की गयी। विवेचना में निम्न तथ्य उभरकर सामने आये।

1- ग्राम शिक्षा समिति कासिमपुर अलीगढ़ सोसाइटी रजिस्ट्रेशन अधिनियम-21 सन् 1860 के तहत एक पंजीकृत संस्था है, जिसका पंजीकरण दिनांक 19.07.1982 को पंजीकरण संख्या 4291/1982-83 पत्रावली सं. बी-1278 पर हुआ। उक्त का नवीनीकरण दिनांक 26.10.2020 को दिनांक 16.07.2024 से पांच वर्ष के लिए विधिमान्य है। उक्त संस्था का नवीनीकरण श्री रवेन्द्र सिंह चौहान प्रबन्धक द्वारा समय-समय पर कराया गया है एवं संस्था प्रबन्ध समिति में वर्ष 2002 से श्री रवेन्द्र सिंह चौहान अनवरत प्रबन्धक रहे हैं, जो उप निबन्धक फर्म्स सोसाइटी एवं चिट्स आगरा से पंजीकृत/मान्य है। उक्त पंजीकृत संस्था द्वारा नवाब सिंह चौहान ग्रामोदय इण्टर कॉलेज कासिमपुर पावर हाउस अलीगढ संचालित है। उक्त साधारण सभा के सदस्य प्रशासन योजना में वर्णित प्रावधानों के अनुसार है। विद्यालय साधारण सभा के सदस्य उसी नाम पते से संस्था सोसाइटी साधारण सभा के सदस्य हैं, सोसाइटी साधारण सभा के सदस्य सोसाइटी नियमावली के अनुसार बने हैं। विद्यालय एवं सोसाइटी की साधारण सभा में उसी नाम पते के व्यक्ति पाये गये। विद्यालय प्रबन्ध समिति का चुनाव विद्यालय की अनुमोदित प्रशासन योजना के अन्तर्गत साधारण सभा के सदस्यों से तथा संस्था सोसाइटी का चुनाव सोसाइटी नियमावली के अन्तर्गत साधारण सभा के सदस्यों से सम्पन्न होना पाया गया। विद्यालय प्रबन्ध समिति में वर्ष 2002 से दिनांक 24.06.2012 तक श्री रवेन्द्र सिंह चौहान प्रबन्धक रहे हैं।

2- उक्त विद्यालय की प्रबन्ध समिति का पिछला निर्विवादित चुनाव दिनांक 25.06.2012 को सम्पन्न हुआ, जिसमें अध्यक्ष पद पर श्री महेन्द्र सिंह चौहान तथा प्रबन्धक पद पर श्री विपिन कुमार चौहान निर्वाचित हुए। प्रशासन योजना में प्रबन्ध समिति का कार्यकाल पांच वर्ष है।

3- प्रबन्ध समिति का अगला चुनाव कार्यकाल समाप्ति से 6 माह पूर्व दिनांक 02.01.2017 को प्रबन्ध समिति का चुनाव श्री जगदीश सिंह चौहान की अध्यक्षता में सम्पन्न होना दर्शाया गया जबकि आउटगोइंग प्रबन्ध समिति के निर्वाचित अध्यक्ष श्री महेन्द्र सिंह चौहान थे, तब श्री जगदीश सिंह चौहान द्वारा चुनाव हेतु साधारण सभा की अध्यक्षता प्रशासन योजना के प्रावधानों के विपरीत और अनियमित पायी गयी। इस सम्बन्ध में प्रकरण में बार-बार की गयी सुनवाई के समय अभिकथनों, प्रत्युत्तरों एवं प्रत्युत्तरों के जवाब में याची श्रीमती निहारिका चौहान द्वारा किसी भी प्रकार का जवाब नहीं दिया जा सका। जिससे

ऐसा प्रतीत होता है कि वर्ष 2017 में प्रबन्ध समिति का चुनाव कार्यकाल समाप्त होने से 06 माह पूर्व गोपनीय रूप से दर्शाया गया।

4- याची पक्ष द्वारा कराये गये चुनाव में प्रयुक्त साधारण सभा की सूची में श्री रवेन्द्र सिंह चौहान, श्री महेन्द्र सिंह चौहान व श्री लाखन सिंह आदि ऐसे अनेक सदस्यों के नाम अंकित नहीं है, जो वर्ष 2012 तक वैध आजीवन सदस्य रहे है। उक्त सन्दर्भ में याची पक्ष द्वारा प्रयुक्त साधारण सभा की सूची का गहन परीक्षण करने पर पाया गया है कि जो वर्ष 2012 तक के चुनावों में मान्य एवं वैध सदस्यता सूची थी में से 40 आजीवन सदस्यों को हटाकर तथा 63 नये सदस्य जोड़कर तैयार की गयी सदस्यता सूची वर्ष 2017 एवं 2021 के चुनाव में प्रयुक्त की गयी है, जो बिना किसी विधिवत कार्यवाही के मनमाने तरीके से नये 63 सदस्य जोड़कर तैयार की गयी है, जिसका विवरण निम्नवत् है :-

साधारण सभा के उन सदस्यों के नाम जो वर्ष 2012 तक के निर्विवादित चुनावों में प्रयुक्त साधारण सभा की सूची से प्रथक किये गये है।
सूची क्रमांक	सदस्य का नाम	सूची क्रमांक	सदस्य का नाम	सूची क्रमांक	सदस्य का नाम
4	श्री कैलाश चन्द्र सिंघल	5	श्री उदयभान सिंह राना	8	श्री नेत्रपाल सिंह चौहान
13	श्री कृष्ण कुमार सिंह तोमर	15	श्री महाबीर सिंह	27	श्री महाराज सिंह राघव
33	श्री दुष्यन्त सिंह राठौर	35	श्रीमती प्रकाश कुमारी	44	श्री डी०पी० सिंह
46	श्री विनय कुमार सिंह तोमर	52	श्री सुखपाल सिंह छोकर	53	श्री बृजभान सिंह तोमर
57	श्री मिथलेश सिंह	60	श्री नरेन्द्र सिंह चौहान	62	श्री नगेन्द्र सिंह चौहान
63	श्री प्रमोद कुमार	64	श्री विजेन्द्र गालिफ	71	श्री प्रताप सिंह चौहान
75	श्री सुभाष चौहान	76	श्री रवेन्द्र सिंह चौहान	82	श्री सुरेश चौहान
85	श्री महेन्द्र सिंह चौहान	86	श्री बीरेश चौहान	87	श्री हरीश चन्द्र शर्मा
97	श्रीमती मीरा देवी	108	श्री राज कुमार सिंह	123	श्री मुकेश कुमार सिंह
124	श्री प्रमोद कुमार सिंह	125	श्री मनोज कुमार शर्मा	126	श्री ललित कुमार

127	श्री हरपाल सिंह	159	श्री पुष्पेन्द्र सिंह	219	श्री धीरज सिंह तोमर
231	श्री भूपेश प्रताप सिंह	240	श्री लाखन सिंह तोमर	245	श्री पदम सिंह
247	श्रीमती प्रवेश	266	श्रीमती रिकी कुमारी	267	श्रीमती नीतू कुमारी
274	श्री सूर्यकान्त

साधारण सभा के उन सदस्यों के नाम जो वर्ष 2017 एवं 2021 के चुनाव में बढ़ाये गये है।

सूची क्रमांक	सदस्य का नाम	सूची क्रमांक	सदस्य का नाम	सूची क्रमांक	सदस्य का नाम
6	श्री योगेश सिंह राघव	49	श्रीमती नीतू रानी	50	श्री महिपाल सिंह
109	श्रीमती कुसुमलता देवी	249	श्री लक्ष्मन सिंह	250	श्रीमती कमलेश देवी
251	श्री राजेन्द्र सिंह	252	श्री रिशीपाल सिंह	253	श्री श्रीकृष्ण
254	श्रीमती धर्मवती	255	श्री अमित कुमार	256	श्री विल्लू कुमार
257	श्रीमती संजयरानी	258	श्री रोहित कुमार	259	श्री मुखत्यार सिंह
260	श्रीमती रूपवती देवी	261	श्री सर्वजीत सिंह	262	श्री परमजीत सिंह
263	श्री इन्द्रदेव सिंह	264	श्रीमती मछला देवी	265	श्री धीरज कुमार
266	कु० शीतल	267	श्री गोविन्द राव	268	श्रीमती लक्ष्मी
269	श्री राजवीर सिंह	270	श्रीमती सुमन	271	श्रीमती मोनिका
272	श्री संजीव आनन्द	273	श्रीमती भावना आनन्द	274	श्री दिव्येन्द्र चौधरी
275	श्रीमती रश्मि चौधरी	276	श्री योगेन्द्र प्रताप सिंह	277	श्री चमन चौधरी
278	श्री नृपेन्द्र सिंह	279	श्रीमती अन्जू	280	श्री अभय कुमार
281	श्री अन्नू कुमार	282	श्री गोपाल	283	श्रीमती सुमन देवी

284	श्री हरीश कुमार	285	श्रीमती मंजू देवी	286	श्रीमती मीरा चौहान
287	श्री प्रभव चौहान	288	कु० पुलकिता चौहान	289	कु० रिशु
290	श्री मनोज सागर	291	श्री संजय सागर	292	श्री विनोद
293	श्री प्रमोद कुमार	294	श्रीमती रेखा देवी	295	श्री प्रेम कुमारा
296	श्रीमती हेसमुखी	297	श्री राजाेश कुमार	298	श्रीमती कृष्णा कुमारी
299	श्री गौरव कुमार	300	कु० दिव्या	301	श्री मयंक चतुर्वेदी
302	श्री रवि अग्रवाल	303	श्री दुजेन्द्र सिंह	304	श्री धीरेन्द्र सिंह
305	श्री अनिल कुमार चौहान	306	श्री सुरेश चन्द्र वर्मा	307	श्रीमती सुधा चौहान

5- याची श्रीमती निहारिका चौहान, दावेदार प्रबन्धक वाली प्रबन्ध समिति के चुनाव में प्रयुक्त साधारण सभा की सूची में वर्ष 2012 तक के निर्विवादित चुनावों में प्रयुक्त वैध एवं आजीवन सदस्यों के नाम पृथक करने और नये सदस्यों के नाम जोड़ने के सम्बन्ध में याची श्रीमती निहारिका चौहान द्वारा कोई भी साक्ष्य/अभिलेख उपलब्ध नहीं कराये जा सके। इस प्रकार याची पक्ष द्वारा वर्ष 2012 तक के निर्विवादित चुनावों में प्रयुक्त वैध एवं आजीवन सदस्यों की साधारण सभा की सूची से मनमाने तरीके से बिना किसी प्रस्ताव/कार्यवाही के विवाद पैदा किया गया है। यहां तक कि याची का नाम वर्ष 2012 तक की वैध सदस्यता सूची में सूची क्रमांक 102 पर श्रीमती आशा कुमारी पत्नी श्री विपिन कुमार, ग्राम व पोस्ट साथा, अलीगढ़ अंकित है, को याची पक्ष वाले चुनाव में प्रयुक्त सदस्यता सूची में क्रमांक 80 पर नाम बदलकर श्रीमती निहारिका चौहान उर्फ आशा पत्नी श्री विपिन चौहान ग्राम व पोस्ट साथा, अलीगढ़ अंकित कर दिया गया है। इस प्रकार याची पक्ष द्वारा वैध सदस्यता सूची से अपने नाम में ही फेरबदल किया गया है। याची श्रीमती निहारिका चौहान दावेदार प्रबन्धक वाले पक्ष के चुनाव में वर्ष 2012 की सूची से 40 आजीवन सदस्यों के नाम हटाकर तथा 63 नये सदस्यों के नाम बिना किसी प्रस्ताव आदि कार्यवाही के जोड़कर 286 सदस्यों की सूची प्रयुक्त की गयी है।

6- याची श्रीमती निहारिका चौहान से सदस्य बनने की रसीद व उक्त से सम्बन्धित अभिलेख मांगने पर प्रत्युत्तर दिनांक 02.01.2025 बिन्दु संख्या 3 में 36 से 40 व 41 से 44 संलग्नक सदस्यता रसीदों का उल्लेख रसीद क्रमांक 102, 103, 106, 107, 108, 110, 112, 113, 120, 123 बुक संख्या 2 दिनांक 02.01.1996 एवं रसीद संख्या 180, 168, 171, 159, 160, 153, 154 बुक संख्या 2 दिनांक 10.05.1997 छायाप्रति संलग्न की गयी। उक्त रसीदें धनराशि 500 व 1000 रूपये की दर्शायी गयी। किन्तु उक्त से सम्बन्धित मूल अभिलेख जैसे सदस्यता रजिस्टर, सदस्यता जमा का कोई भी अभिलेख सुनवाई के समय मांगने पर उपलब्ध नहीं कराये जा सके।

7- श्री रवेन्द्र सिंह चौहान वर्ष 2012 तक विद्यालय की प्रबन्ध समिति के प्रबन्धक रहे हैं और श्री रवेन्द्र सिंह चौहान सचिव/मंत्री वाले पक्ष का सोसाइटी समिति पर अद्यतन प्रभावी नियंत्रक बना हुआ है, श्री विपिन कुमार चौहान वर्ष 2012 से वर्ष 2017 तक एवं वर्ष 2017 से नवम्बर 2021 तक विद्यालय की प्रबन्ध समिति के प्रबन्धक रहे हैं। वर्ष 2012 में विद्यालय की प्रबन्ध समिति का चुनाव दिनांक 25.06.2012 निर्विवादित सदस्यता सूची से सम्पन्न हुआ था, जिसमें अध्यक्ष पद पर श्री महेन्द्र सिंह चौहान तथा प्रबन्धक पद पर श्री विपिन कुमार चौहान निर्वाचित हुये थे। उक्त चुनाव में प्रयुक्त सदस्यता सूची में 284 सदस्य अंकित पाये गये हैं। सुनवाई के समय श्री रवेन्द्र सिंह चौहान द्वारा कार्यालय में अवलोकित कराये गये मूल अभिलेखों के परीक्षण करने पर पाया गया है कि वर्ष 2012 के चुनाव में प्रयुक्त साधारण सभा की सूची में अंकित सदस्यों को रूपये 500.00 की सदस्यता रसीदें निर्गत की गयी है और उनसे प्राप्त धनराशि सम्बन्धित बैंक में जमा की गयी है साथ ही मूल एजेण्डा रजिस्टर, कार्यवाही रजिस्टर सदस्यता रजिस्टर आदि अभिलेखानुसार 284 सदस्य सही पाये गये हैं। उसी निर्विवादित सदस्यता सूची से वर्ष 2012 में श्री विपिन कुमार चौहान, प्रबन्धक वाली प्रबन्ध समिति का चुनाव सम्पन्न हुआ है। उक्त चुनाव को मान्यता प्रदान करने के उपरान्त जिला विद्यालय निरीक्षक, अलीगढ़ द्वारा निर्वाचित प्रबन्धक श्री विपिन कुमार चौहान के हस्ताक्षर प्रबन्धक के रूप में प्रमाणित किये गये।

8- श्री रवेन्द्र सिंह चौहान विद्यालय की प्रबन्ध समिति में वर्ष 2012 के बाद प्रबन्धक नहीं रहे हैं और श्री रवेन्द्रसिंह चौहान वाले पक्ष द्वारा साधारण सभा के जो सदस्य बना लिये गये और इनके द्वारा चुनाव में साधारणसभा के 514 सदस्यों की सदस्यता सूची प्रयुक्त की गयी है। अभिलेखों के परीक्षण करने पर पाया गया है कि श्री रवेन्द्र सिंह चौहान द्वारा उक्त अवधि में सोसाइटी के सचिव/मंत्री के रूप में उक्त सदस्य बनाये गये हैं और वही सदस्यता सूची धारा 4बी में उप निबन्धक, फर्म्स सोसाइटीज एवं चिट्स फण्ड, आगरा कार्यालय से पंजीकृत करायी गयी है। इस प्रकार श्री रवेन्द्र सिंह चौहान, दावेदार प्रबन्धक के चुनाव में प्रयुक्त सदस्यता सूची विद्यालय की साधारण सभा की सदस्यता सूची नहीं है, वह सूची केवल सोसाइटी समिति की साधारण सभा की सूची है, जो प्रशासन योजना में वर्णित व्यवस्थानानुसार विद्यालय की प्रबन्ध समिति के चुनाव में मान्य नहीं है।

9- माननीय उच्च न्यायालय इलाहाबाद के आदेश में उल्लिखित है कि विद्यालय की साधारण सभा के आधार पर ही चुनाव की वैधता का निर्धारित किया जायेगा।

10- कार्यालय पत्रांक: मा०-1/प्र०स०/7735/2024-25 दिनांक 03.03.2025 द्वारा जि०वि०नि०, अलीगढ़ को तथा पत्रांक: मा०-1/प्र०स०/7752/2024-25 दिनांक 06.03.2025 एवं पत्रांक: मा०-1/प्र०स०/7816/2024-25 दिनांक 10.03.2025 याची श्रीमती निहारिका चौहान को वर्ष 2012 के चुनाव में प्रयुक्त निर्विवादित साधारण सभा की सूची उपलब्ध कराने के निर्देश दिये गये। याची श्रीमती निहारिका चौहान के पत्र दिनांक 17.03.2025 द्वारा प्रबन्ध समिति के चुनाव दिनांक 25.06.2012 को विवादित बताया गया है। कार्यालय अभिलेखों में उपलब्ध वर्ष 2012 के चुनाव पत्रावलियों का अवलोकन करने पर पाया गया है कि श्री विपिन कुमार चौहान, निर्वाचित प्रबन्धक द्वारा अपनी चुनाव के समय वर्ष 2012 के चुनाव में प्रयुक्त साधारण सभा की वही सूची जिस पर चुनाव अधिकारी, प्रबन्धक, मंत्री के हस्ताक्षर अंकित है, की छायाप्रति सुनवाई के दौरान कार्यालय में प्राप्त करायी गयी है। उक्त सदस्यता सूची में 284 सदस्य अंकित है, जो निर्विवादित आजीवन सदस्य पाये गये हैं और प्रशासन योजना में वर्णित व्यवस्थानुसार वर्ष 2012 में प्रयुक्त सदस्यता शुल्क की धनराशि रू० 500.00 अंकित है।

11- वर्ष 2012 में श्री विपिन कुमार चौहान, प्रबन्धक एवं श्री रवेन्द्र सिंह चौहान, मंत्री द्वारा दैनिक हिन्दुस्तान समाचार पत्र की छायाप्रति में कार्यालय में प्रस्तुत की गयी थी, में 284 सदस्यों की सूची सूचना पट पर विद्यालय में 30.03.2012 को चस्पा करने एवं सदस्यों को सूचना दिये जाने की विज्ञप्ति प्रकाशित करायी गयी है, इससे स्पष्ट है कि विद्यालय की साधारण सभा के 284 सदस्यों की सूची वैध एवं सही है।

- निष्कर्ष -

उपरोक्त विवेचना से निष्कर्ष निकलता है कि विद्यालय की प्रबन्ध समिति के उक्त दोनों ही चुनावों में प्रयुक्त साधारण सभा की सदस्यता सूची अनियमित एवं अवैध पायी गयी है। इस प्रकार दोनों पक्षों द्वारा कराये गये प्रबन्ध समिति के चुनाव मान्य किये जाने योग्य नहीं है और दिनांक 25.06.2012 के चुनाव में प्रयुक्त साधारण सभा की निर्विवादित सदस्यता सूची, जिसमें 284 सदस्य अंकित पाये गये है, में से अद्यतन मूल सदस्यों को जोड़कर निस्तारित सदस्यता सूची से पुनः चुनाव कराना विधिसंगत है।

- निर्णय -

उपरोक्त विवेचना एवं निष्कर्ष के आधार पर मण्डलीय समिति द्वारा सर्वसम्मति से लिये गये निर्णयानुसार नवाब सिंह चौहान ग्रामोदय इण्टर कालेज, कासिमपुर पावर हाउस (अलीगढ़) की समानान्तर प्रबन्ध समितियों के चुनाव दिनांक 28.11.2021 एवं 05.12.2021 को निरस्त करते हुये विद्यालय की प्रबन्ध समिति के चुनाव दिनांक 25.06.2012 में प्रयुक्त निर्विवादित साधारण सभा की सदस्यता सूची से पुनः चुनाव कराये जाने का निर्णय लेते हुए प्रकरण निस्तारित किया जाता है और संयुक्त शिक्षा निदेशक को निर्देशित किया जाता है कि वे प्रबन्ध समिति के चुनाव दिनांक 25.06.2012 में प्रयुक्त साधारण सभा की सूची जिसमें 284 सदस्य अंकित पायें गये हैं, मे से मृत सदस्यों को हटाकर अन्तिम सदस्यता सूची तैयार कर

जिला विद्यालय निरीक्षक, अलीगढ की देख रेख में प्रशासन योजना में वर्णित व्यवस्थानुसार प्रबन्ध समिति का चुनाव तत्काल सम्पन्न करायें।"

4. During pendency of present writ petition, fresh election was conducted on 11.05.2025 on basis of above order and Sri Mahendra Nath Chauhan, President and Sri Ravendra Chauhan, Manager was elected and election was approved by the concerned D.I.O.S. by an order dated 16.05.2025. The said order is impugned by way of an application for amendment which was allowed and subsequently, an amended writ petition was also filed.

5. Sri R.K. Ojha, learned Senior Advocate assisted by Sri Shivendu Ojha, learned counsel for petitioners has submitted that in the year 2017 (02.01.2017), the election was conducted wherein 207 Members of General Body have participated and Election of year 2017 was duly approved by DIOS, Aligarh vide an order dated 18.01.2017 and also by Joint Director of Education, Aligarh vide an order dated 04.06.2018 and further challenge was disputed subsequently. Though it was not denied that Joint Director of Education has not decided the dispute of Membership on merit, being beyond jurisdiction. Relevant part of it is reproduced hereinafter :-

"निष्कर्ष

उपरोक्त विवेचना से यह निष्कर्ष निकलता है कि श्री विपिन कुमार चौहान नव निर्वाचित प्रबन्धक वाली प्रबन्ध समिति का चुनाव दिनांक 02.01.2017, जो जिला विद्यालय निरीक्षक द्वारा मान्य किया गया है, प्रशासन योजना में वर्णित प्रावधानों के अनुरूप है। परन्तु संस्था की अनुमोदित प्रशासन योजना के नियमों एवं प्रावधानों के विपरीत बनावटी सदस्यता से चुनाव कराये जाने विषयक शिकायत के सम्बन्ध में शिक्षा विभागत के किसी सक्षम अधिकारी को निर्मय लेने का अधिकार नहीं है। प्रकरण में इण्टरमीडिएट शिक्षा अधिनियम 1921 की धारा 16 डी के अनुरूप संस्था में प्राधिकृत नियंत्रक को संस्तुति किये जाने का कोई भी कारण विद्यमान नहीं है।

निर्णय

उपरोक्त विवेचना एवं निष्कर्ष के आधार पर मण्डलीय समिति द्वारा लिये गये निर्णयानुसार शिकायत कर्ताओं की सदस्यता विषयक शिकायतों को क्षेत्राधिकार से बाहर होने के कारण प्रकरण को अस्वीकार करते हुए एतदद्वारा निस्तारित किया जाता है।"

6. Learned Senior Advocate has further submitted that 60 new Members were inducted after they deposited requisite fee of Rs. 500/- each and total sum of Rs. 30,000/- was deposited in the bank account on 30.04.2016. Learned Senior Advocate has submitted that name of 40 earlier Members were deleted as either they were dead or had not attended meeting for many long time, though in support of submission, no supportive document was placed on record.

7. Per contra, Sri Ashok Khare, learned Senior Advocate assisted by Sri Wahid Jamal, learned counsel for respondents has submitted that this Court in earlier round of litigation has directed that issue of dispute of Membership considered by the Regional Level Committee and since that order has attained finality, therefore, Regional Level Committee has not made any illegality to consider the dispute of membership.

8. Learned Senior Advocate for respondents has further submitted that Regional Level Committee has considered the material on record and referred a finding that induction of new Members was wrong and deletion of earlier Members was also without any reason. No document was placed on record which could dispute said findings.

9. In earlier round of litigation, this Court has directed the Regional Level Committee to look into the dispute afresh and as referred above, after giving opportunity of hearing to petitioners and others, impugned order was passed whereby it was held that admission of 63 new Members as well as removal of 40 earlier Members was dehors of provisions of approved Scheme of Administration.

10. In the impugned order, it was also held that there was no reason for Committee to conduct election six months prior to end of tenure in the year 2017 and despite various opportunities, petitioner-2 Smt. Niharika Chauhan, Manager has not submitted any reply or documents that under what circumstances, a decision was taken to prepone the elections.

11. It was also held that in support of admission of 63 new Members, Manager has not able to show any requisite documents.

12. In above background, Court has considered rival submissions and documents now placed on record.

13. First document is minutes of proceedings dated 30.04.2016 whereby 63 new Members were inducted and some Members who were either dead or have not attended the meeting for last many years were removed.

14. I have carefully perused the resolution and found that it appears that procedure for admission of new Members appears to be followed, however, no document was placed that 40 Members have died and some Members have submitted their resignation. Court takes note that meeting was conducted under Chairmanship of Vice President on a ground that President was absent though it is not on record whether any prior information was given to Vice President or published in news paper.

15. Second document is minutes of meeting dated 08.05.2016 whereby a resolution was adopted for removal of S/Sri Mahendra Singh Chauhan, President, Ravindra Singh Chauhan, Secretary and Lakhan Singh, Member on a ground of their unsocial and bad conduct.

16. In this regard, Court takes note of Clause-IV of approved Scheme of Administration that any Member can be removed from membership if he is found guilty of a conduct related to anti-social, however, for that there must be a declaration that he was found guilty and such declaration is absent in resolution dated 08.05.2016 except that they were involved in antisocial activities though Court is of the view that if allegations are serious, General Body can take a decision to remove any Member from membership, though it is not recorded in resolution that said Members were put on notice or their stand was called and considered.

17. Third document is resolution dated 29.05.2016 whereby it was resolved that election be conducted much before tenure is over on a ground that 3 Office Bearers are not attending the meeting and they are not cooperating, therefore, work of Committee of Management is hampered.

18. In this regard, Court takes note of clauses of approved Scheme of Administration that tenure of an election is 5 years and within one month thereafter, election ought to have been held otherwise Committee will be declared time-barred. There is no provision of early election and still Court takes note there is no bar to conduct early election if circumstances so warrant, but it should be very specific.

19. As referred above, impugned order was passed mainly on a ground that aforesaid documents were never placed before concerned respondents despite various opportunities were granted and concerned respondent has no opportunity to consider above referred three documents, impugned order was passed.

20. Now the Court proceeds to consider whether on basis of documents brought on record along with this Writ Petition, it would be a sufficient ground to grant an opportunity to petitioners to place them before concerned respondents or in the light of observations made by this Court in earlier paragraphs in reference to each document, it would not necessary or legally permissible to grant an opportunity to place referred documents.

21. It is a case arising out of a dispute essentially of admission of new Members and removal of old Members, therefore, Court finds that meeting for said purpose have to be conducted strictly in terms of provisions of Scheme of Administration.

22. The meeting for admission of new Members was conducted in absence of President, though, scheme of Administration permits that in absence of President, Vice President can conduct meeting, however, there must be legally sustainable reasons for his absence, however, same does not reflect from minutes of meeting, which only states that President was not available.

23. No communication from the President was placed on record or taken note in resolution, therefore, even though further procedure may be in terms of Scheme of Administration for admission of Members, manner under which meeting was conducted was not proper.

24. Court is of the view that there is no sufficient material even in proposal adopted that how names of forty Members were deleted except a general reference that some of them are dead. No documentary proof of their death was taken on record, therefore, Court if of the view that said meeting on which sixty Members were admitted and forty Members were deleted was not conducted in accordance with Scheme of Administration.

25. The next meeting was conducted on 08.05.2016, whereby a serious allegation was made against three Members i.e. President, Secretary and one Member and they were expelled from General Body and as referred above before such action is proposed, there must be some finding or some substantial evidence that they were found guilty, however, there is no such declaration even in brief in the resolution, though there were serious allegations that one expelled Member was found in compromising position with a woman, therefore, manner under which President, Secretary and one Member were expelled from General Body was also not proper.

26. In similar circumstances Court finds that there is no legally sustainable reason to conduct election about six months before expiry of tenure and observations made in impugned order that decision was taken to conduct election in a secret manner has substance. The Election should be conducted in a fair manner, however, such fairness was missing.

27. In aforesaid circumstances Court finds that all three meetings referred above were not conducted properly, therefore, there is no need to this Court to grant liberty to petitioner to place these documents before concerned respondents as there is no error in impugned order and since according to directions made in impugned order, fresh election has already been concluded, therefore also, no ground exists to cause interference.

28. Accordingly, Writ Petition lacks merit, hence, it is dismissed.

(2026) 2 ILRA 703
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 27.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE ATUL SREEDHARAN, J.
THE HON'BLE SIDDHARTH NANDAN, J.

Writ C No. 44795 of 2025

Sarita Devi ...Petitioner
Versus
Union of India & Ors. ...Respondents

ISSUE FOR CONSIDERATION

Whether for want of quantification of the compensation amount, the determination of the same can be justified in view of the provision of Section 4(1)(a) read with Section 5 of the Employees Compensation Act, 1923 and whether the calculation of the compensation being accepted without any opportunity to the claimant/petitioner amounts to post-decisional hearing, in contravention to the principles of natural justice; whether the State is vicariously liable for tortuous act resulting in death of the employee; and whether the notification issued in purported exercise of power under Section 4(1B) can override Section 5 of the Act, 1923.

HEADNOTE

Employees Compensation Act, 1923 – ss.4(1)(a), 4(1B), 5, 20 – Constitution of India, Art.226 – Scope of judicial review - claim for enhancement of compensation and damages – employee died while performing his duty – postmortem report showed electrocution burn injury – determination of compensation without quantification – acceptance of a figure given by the Department, without providing any basis of such quantification, could not be accepted – no notice was given to the petitioner to demonstrate the mitigating factors – method of calculating wages – monthly wages – notification issued under Section 4(1B) vis-à-vis Section 5 of the Act, 1923 – field covered by special enactment i.e. Employees Compensation Act, 1923 and calculation required to be made keeping in mind statutory provision of Section 4(1)(a) read with Section 5 - adjudicating authority could not grant compensation lesser than what statute provides and even in case of ambiguity it was obligatory to consider factor or monthly wages leading to higher compensation – power of Commissioner not restricted and compensation could be enhanced irrespective of claim made by claimant – exercise of power under Article 226 as judicial review – In case an employee is found to have committed a civil wrong, resulting in death of another employee, the State has to be held vicariously liable and such action can be subjected to judicial scrutiny in exercise of its power of judicial review under the Constitution – tortuous act by employees entitled claimants to damages – involvement of public functionaries and violation of fundamental rights – life recognised as basic human right and its violation actionable under Article 226 – State failed in its duty and held vicariously liable and under constitutional liability to pay damages.

Held: Case arose out of the death of the petitioner's husband, a railway employee, who died while performing his duty. Postmortem report and departmental record showed electrocution burn injury. Shutdown was not done resulting in electrocution, which demonstrated negligence of the Department and the same being the main cause of fall from the ladder resulting in death – Compensation quantified at Rs. 10,16,700/- without disclosing any basis of such quantification and without following the statutory mandate of Section 4(1)(a) read with Section 5 of the Act, 1923 was erroneous – Only method of calculation/computation of compensation is as provided under Section 4 read with Section 5 and adoption of any other criteria resulting in lesser compensation could not be accepted under the Scheme of the Act, which is a beneficial legislation – Adjudicating Authority could not grant a compensation which was lesser than what the statute provides and it was obligatory to consider the factor or monthly wages which leads to higher compensation – Acceptance of a figure given by the Department, without providing any basis of such quantification, could not be accepted and without putting the claimant to notice amounted to violation of principles of natural justice – It was admitted position that no notice was given to the petitioner to demonstrate the mitigating factors and respondents could not justify the basis of such quantification – On admitted facts, shutdown was not done resulting in electrocution, which established tortious act and rendered the State vicariously liable – Where public functionaries are involved and right to life was violated, remedy under Article 226 is available – Notification dated 03.01.2020 could not override the statutory provision of Section 5 and where the monthly wages admissible to the deceased employee was higher, the same was required to be considered – Beneficial legislation was required to be interpreted to achieve the object of providing just compensation – Court applied the statutory formula by taking the monthly wage at ₹39,900, calculating 50% thereof as ₹19,950, applying the relevant factor for age 55 as 135.56, and thus arriving at compensation of approximately ₹27,04,422 (₹19,950 × 135.56), thereby demonstrating that the amount of ₹10,16,700 was grossly incorrect - Impugned determination was set aside and matter was remitted for fresh determination of compensation as per Section 4 read-with Section 5 of the Act, 1923 after affording opportunity along with consideration of damages and interest. Court held that the family belonged to a middle-class background and, in the absence of the sole breadwinner, had suffered significant financial hardship, and therefore applied the principle of restitutio in integrum, holding that the claimants are entitled to such compensation as would, as far as money can, place them in the same position in which they would have been had the wrongful death not occurred. Court directed that the adjudicating authority may also consider the grant of damages for the tortuous act of the employees of the department, keeping in mind other mitigating factors. Court further directed that the petitioner/claimants shall be entitled to interest @ 12% per annum from the date of death of the employee, i.e., the date of occurrence of the accident, on the amount of compensation as determined in accordance with law. It was further provided that a conventional sum of ₹1,00,000/- shall be added and paid over and above the quantifiable compensation, to be determined by the Commissioner appointed under Section 20 of the Employees Compensation Act, 1923. (Paras 9, 14, 15, 19, 20, 22, 23) (E-5)

CASE LAW CITED

Karnataka State Road Transport Corporation v. B.T. Somasekharaiah (1994 LLR 251 (KAR));
General Manager, Kerala State Road Transport Corporation v. Susamma Thomas (1994) 2 SCC 176;
Lata Wadhwa v. State of Bihar (2001) 8 SCC 197;
Chairman, Railway Board v. Chandrima Das (2000) 2 SCC 465;
Rudul Sah v. State of Bihar (1983) 4 SCC 141;
Bhim Singh v. State of J&K (1985) 4 SCC 677;
People's Union for Democratic Rights v. State of Bihar (1987) 1 SCC 265;
People's Union for Democratic Rights v. Police Commissioner, Delhi Police Headquarters (1989) 4 SCC 730;
Saheli, A Women's Resources Centre v. Commissioner of Police (1990) 1 SCC 422;
Arvinder Singh Bagga v. State of U.P. (1994) 6 SCC 565;
P. Rathinam v. Union of India 1991 SCC (Cri) 228;
Death of Sawinder Singh Grower, In re 1994 SCC (Cri) 1464;
Inder Singh v. State of Punjab (1995) 3 SCC 702;
D.K. Basu v. State of W.B. (1997) 1 SCC 416;
Khadak Singh Vs. State of U.P AIR 1963 SC 1295
State of Rajasthan v. Vidyawati AIR 1962 SC 933;
State of Gujarat v. Memon Mahomed Haji Hasam AIR 1967 SC 1885;
Basavva Kom Dyamangouda Patil v. State of Mysore (1977) 4 SCC 358;
N. Nagendra Rao & Co. v. State of A.P. (1994) 6 SCC 205;
State of Maharashtra v. Kanchanmala Vijaysing Shirke (1995) 5 SCC 659;
V. Krishnakumar Vs. State of Tamil Nadu and Ors 2015 9 SCC 388
H.L. Trehan v. Union of India (1981) 1 SCC 764;
Maneka Gandhi v. Union of India (1978) 1 SCC 248;
State of Orissa v. Dr. (Miss) Binapani Dei 1967 2 SCR 625;
Swadeshi Cotton Mills v. Union of India (1981) 1 SCC 664;
Pandit Ram Narain v. State of U.P. AIR 1957 SC 18;
East India Hotels Ltd. v. Union of India (2001) 1 SCC 284;
Darshan Singh v. State of Punjab AIR 1953 SC 83;
State of Maharashtra v. Marwanjee F. Desai (2002) 2 SCC 318;
Employees' Provident Fund Commissioner v. Official Liquidator of Esskay Pharmaceuticals Ltd. (2011) 10 SCC 727;
M/s Aphali Pharmaceuticals Ltd. v. State of Maharashtra (1989) 4 SCC 378;
ONGC Ltd. v. Afcons Gunanusa JV (2024) 4 SCC 481;
Assistant Commissioner of Income Tax (International Taxation) v. Shelf Drilling Ron Tappmeyer Ltd. 2025 SCC OnLine SC 1652;
Union of India v. Prabhakaran Vijaya Kumar (2008) 9 SCC 527;
Alembic Chemical Works Co. Ltd. v. Workmen AIR 1961 SC 647;
Jeewanlal Ltd. v. Appellate Authority (1984) 4 SCC 356;
Lalappa Lingappa v. Laxmi Vishnu Textile Mills Ltd. AIR 1981 SC 852;
S.M. Nilajkar v. Telecom District Manager (2003) 4 SCC 27;

List of Acts

Employees Compensation Act, 1923;
Constitution of India.

List of Keywords

Compensation; Electrocution; Workplace accident; Beneficial legislation; Quantification; Monthly wages; Relevant factor; Vicarious liability; Tortious act; Public law remedy; Natural justice; Audi alteram partem; Just compensation; Harmonious construction; restitutio in integrum.

CASE ARISING FROM

From the order dated 29.12.2023 passed in W.C. Case No. 15/2023 (Smt. Sarita Devi v. Divisional Railway Manager).

Appearances for Parties

Advs For Petitioner: Mohammad Parwez Khan, Raj Kumar Singh, Vipul Yadav.

Advs For Respondents: A.S.G.I., Dinesh Varun.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Siddharth Nandan, J.)

1. Heard Shri Raj Kumar Singh, learned counsel for the petitioner and Shri Dinesh Varun, learned counsel for the respondents.

2. By the consent of the parties the writ petition is being disposed of at the admission stage itself.

Facts

The admitted facts in the present case are that-

1. Shri Vinod Kumar Joshi (husband of the petitioner) was employed as Senior Technician (Electrical) under the Senior Section Engineer (Electrical)/Renukoot. On 08.04.2023, at approximately 7.30 AM, a power outage was reported in the Renukoot main colony and on being reported, the Senior Section Engineer (Electrical)/Renukoot directed the deceased along with one Shri Vinod Kumar (Senior Technician), at 8.00 AM to rectify that fault. During patrolling, the team identified a burnt 11 KV HT fuse near the power house and after request of shutdown of the 11 KV HT line at 9.35 AM, the deceased proceeded to climb the utility pole/ladder, equipped with necessary safety gear including gloves and helmet, while his colleague, Mr. Vinod Singh secured ladder from below.

2. As per the report of the Senior Section Engineer, East Central Railway, Renukoot & Chopan and statement of Shri Vinod Singh (co-worker), at approximately 9.45 AM while performing his official duties, the deceased fell from the pole. He was immediately rushed to HINDALCO hospital by railway staff, where he was declared dead and an F.I.R. was also lodged; and a postmortem examination was conducted.

As per postmortem report, the following ante-mortem injury was found:-

"1. Electrocution burn inj. of size 25 cm x 14 cm on Rt. Forearm 4 cm below Rt. Elbow.
2. Electrocution burn inj. of size 7cm x 1 cm, 10 cm below cimbilians.
3. Swelling of size 7 cm x 5 cm on Rt. Side Skull (Pariatal bone), 10 cm above Rt. Underlying bone fracture, & about 50 ml blood clot underneath the inj.
4. Exit wound - Electrocuted burn inj. of size 2 cm x 1 cm of Nav on lt. sole of."

3. It is admitted by the respondents that in a joint investigation, it was found that the incident was a workplace accident, occurring in the course of performance of duty. The perusal of the postmortem report also indicates that there was an exit wound of size 2 cm x 1 cm and electrocution burn injury of size 7 cm x 1 cm, 10 cm below cimbilians; which has not been disputed by the respondents, as such the accident was clearly attributed to the electrocution.

4. The petitioner was given a compensation of Rs. 10,16,700/- but however she was not satisfied with the ex-parte computation and accordingly has assailed the said computation of the compensation. The present writ petition has been filed for enhancement of the same, since no basis for the computation was either provided by the respondents or by the Presiding Officer, in W.C. Case No. 15/2023(D) (Smt. Sarita Devi Vs. Divisional Railway Manager), in its order dated 29.12.2023.

Issues-

(i) Whether for want of quantification of the compensation amount, the determination of the same by the order dated 29.12.2023 can be justified in view of the provision of Section 4(1)(a) read with Section 5 of the Employees Compensation Act, 1923; and also whether, in the factual context, petitioner is entitled to enhancement, by way of damages.

(ii) Whether the calculation of the Railway Authority regarding the compensation being accepted without any opportunity to the claimant/petitioner and treating the same to be final, amounts to post-decisional hearing, in contravention to the principles of natural justice.

(iii) Whether the notification issued in purported exercise of power under Section 4(1B) regarding the fixation of "monthly wages" by the Government shall supersede Section 5 of the Act, 1923.

Argument - (Issue No.1)

1. The learned counsel for the petitioner has argued that neither the evidence which was placed on record was considered nor any opportunity of hearing was provided, prior to accepting the ex-parte compensation as determined by the respondent-Authorities to be Rs. 10,16,700/- and being directed to be released in favour of the petitioner; though the "relevant factors" for determination of the compensation were not taken into account by the authorities.

2. He has placed reliance on the judgment in the case of Karnataka State Road Transport Corporation Vs. B.T. Somasekharaiah to contend that apart from the mitigating factors for award of compensation under Section 4 of the Act, 1923, the Commissioner has power to award compensation more than what is claimed by the workman, if the facts do warrant such an award in the form of damages.

3. He has further contended that from the perusal of the postmortem report, it is evident that negligence was that of the employees of the Department, since the shutdown of the 11 KV HT Line was not made, which resulted in the death of the deceased; and as such the State was vicariously liable.

4. Per contra, learned counsel for the respondents has submitted that the compensation was quantified as per the mandate of Section 4 of the Act, 1923 and has further submitted that apart from the aforesaid compensation, all admissible retirement benefits payable to on-duty deceased employee was paid, to the tune of Rs. 21,33,567/-; and further maximum admissible ex-gratia as per Circular no. RBE No. 139/2016 dated 25.11.2016 i.e. Rs. 25,00,000/- was also paid; and as such the acceptance of the compensation amount, as computed by them, was completely justifiable. However, they had not disputed the postmortem report and the cause of death with respect to the deceased employee on-duty.

Discussion- (Issue No.1)

1. In view of the admitted facts that the deceased who was an employee of the Department, had died while he was performing his duty and the postmortem report clearly shows that the deceased suffer electrocution burn injury; it demonstrate the negligence of the Department and the same being the main cause of fall from the ladder, due to which the husband of the petitioner died. Now, it is to be seen, if the State is vicariously liable and whether the adjudicating authority has failed to take the same into account, while determining the compensation and as such in the aforesaid background, the moot question which is to be considered is, the basis of quantification of the compensation.

2. At this juncture, it will be relevant to quote Section 4(1)(a) and Section 5, which are as below:

"[4. Amount of compensation.-(1) Subject to the provisions of this Act, the amount of compensation shall be as follows, namely:-

(a) where death results from the injury an amount equal to [fifty per cent.] of the monthly wages of the deceased [employee] multiplied by the relevant factor; or an amount of [one lakh and twenty thousand rupees], whichever is more;

5. [Method of calculating wages.- [In this Act and for the purposes thereof the expression "monthly wages" means me amount of wages deemed to be payable for a month's service (whether the wages are payable by the month or by whatever other period or at piece rates), and calculated] as follows, namely:-

(a) where the 1[employee] has, during a continuous period of not less than twelve months immediately preceding the accident, been in the service of the employer who is liable to pay compensation, the monthly wages of the 1[employee] shall be one-twelfth of the total wages which have fallen due for payment to him by the employer in the last twelve months of that period;

[(b) where the whole of the continuous period of service immediately preceding the accident during which the 1[employee] was in the service of the employer who is liable to pay the compensation was less than one month, the monthly wages of the 1[employee] shall be the average monthly amount which, during the twelve months immediately preceding the accident, was being earned by a 1[employee] employed on the same work by the same employer, or, if there was no [employee] so employed, by a 1[employee] employed on similar work in the same locality;]

[(c)] [in other cases [including cases in which it is not possible for want of necessary information to calculate the monthly wages under clause (b)]], the monthly wages shall be thirty times the total wages earned in respect of the last continuous period of service immediately preceding the accident from the employer who is liable to pay compensation, divided by the number of days comprising such period.

Explanation.-A period of service shall, for the purposes of [this [section]] be deemed to be continuous which has not been interrupted by a period of absence from work exceeding fourteen days."*

3. The perusal of the aforesaid provision indicated that an amount equal to 50% of the monthly wages of the deceased employee, is to be multiplied by the relevant factors, where death results from an injury.

4. Now, we proceed to examine the Scheme of the Act, to the extent it relates to the quantification of amount of compensation. Section 4 (1)(a) of the Act, 1923 clearly prescribes that in case of death, an amount equal to 50% of the "monthly wages" of the deceased employees has to be multiplied by the relevant factor.

5. Explanation 1 to Section 4 of the Act, 1923 states that for the purposes of clause (a), "relevant factor", in relation to an employee means the factor specified in the second column of Schedule IV; against the entry in the first column of the Schedule specifying the number of years which are same as the completed years of the age of the employee on his last birthday immediately preceding the date on which the compensation fell due.

6. We find that the respondent-Railways had prepared an accident report which has been annexed as Annexure 4 to the Affidavit filed with the aforesaid Writ Petition and the pay of the deceased employee has been clearly mentioned as Rs. 39,900/-. For ready reference the same is pasted below:-

ANNEXURE "A"
PARA-2.1

EAST CENTRAL RAILWAY (DHANBAD DIVISION)

NOTICE BOOK OF ACCIDENT
Workman's Compensation Act

To be filled up to workman or on behalf of workman

Department Electrical Station/Office Chopan Shop No.

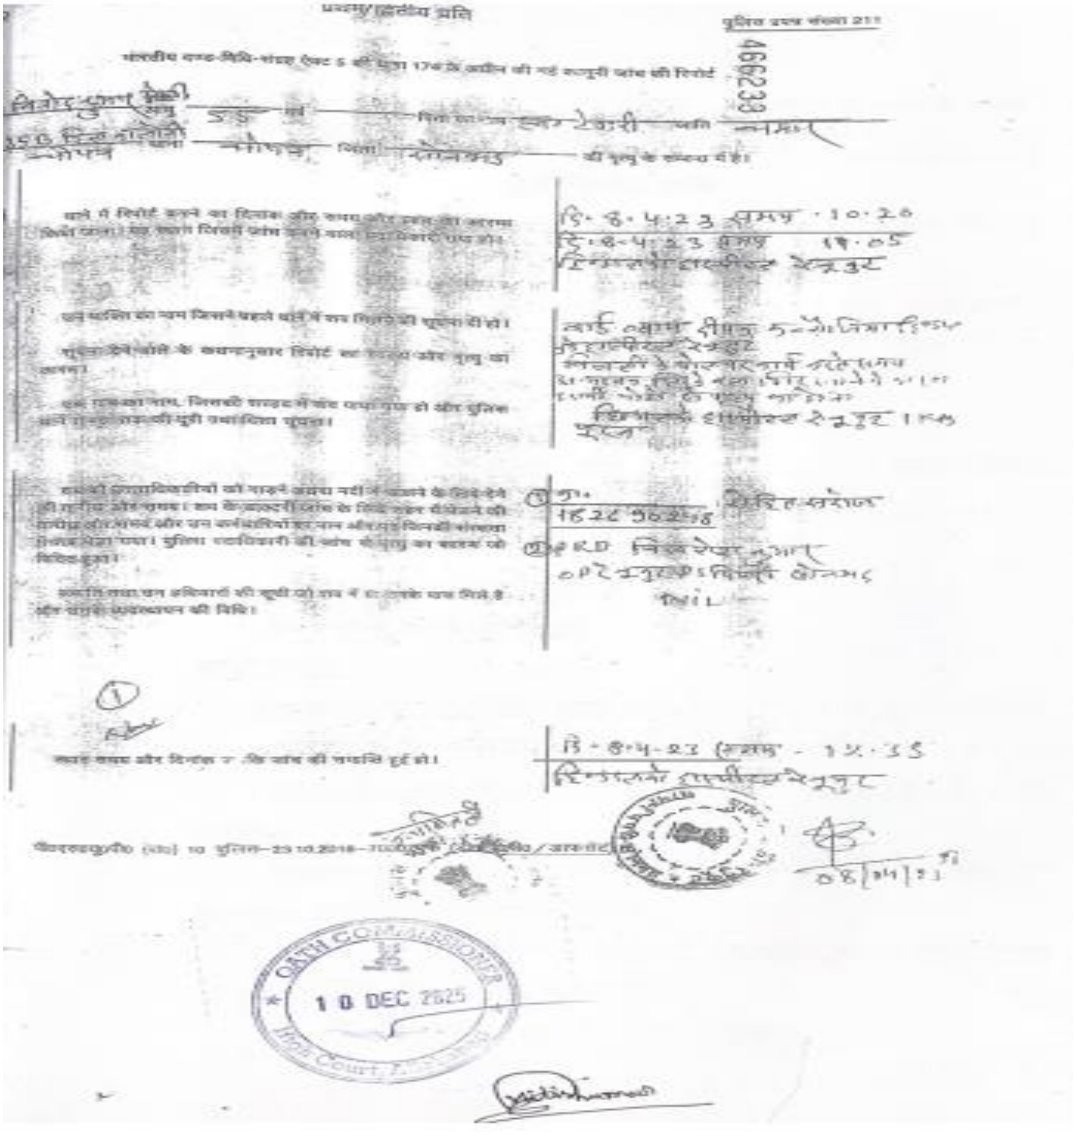
Reference No

1. Date of accident : 08.04.2023
2. Time of day at which accident occurred : 09:45 Hrs
3. Place accident occurred (If not no Railway premises, it must be so stated. : Near Power House at RNQ
4. Nature and cause of accident and detail statement of the circumstances under which it happened : fell down from Electric pole
5. Nature of injury sustained whether slight or severe :
6. Name : Vinod Kumar Joshi Casts : SC Ticket/Gang No :
7. Designation : Sr. Tech. age under/over 15 yrs.

Sex : male Rate of pay Rs : 39900/-
Station/Office/Shop : (9300-34800) Gr.Pay - 4200
Dated /20

Signature or LT.1 of person injured

To be filled up by the Employer or his Agent.



1. Time and the date of accident reported by employee : 09:45 Hrs on 08.04.2023
2. To whom reported : K.N. Singh, SS E/E/ RNQ
3. Method of report : Written Statement
4. If notice not reported by the employee how and when did Railway Authorities become aware of the accident : N.A
5. Did accident arise out of and in the course of his employment? : Yes
6. If injured person has been disabled, state when first absent through accident :

Time Date /20

Page 1 of 6

OATH COMMISSIONER 10 DEC 2023

7. It is also borne out from the record that in the accident report which has been appended as Annexure 2, the age of the deceased has been mentioned as 55 years at the time of the death. For ready reference the Accident Report is pasted below:-

8. In the aforesaid admitted facts, the factor as mentioned in Schedule IV in case of an employee who is 55 years of age, is "135.56". Based on the aforesaid data the following calculation emerges:

Monthly wages	Rs. 39,900/-
50% of Monthly Wage	Rs. 19,950/-
Factor, as per Schedule IV for 55 year of age	135.56
Amount of compensation	19,950 x 135.56 = Rs. 27,04,422/-

9. On a pointed query to the counsel for the respondents as to what method was adopted for computing the compensation, he could not dispute that the mandatory provision of Section 4 read-with Section 5, is the only method of calculation/computation of compensation; and adoption of any other criteria for computation of compensation, especially if it results in lesser compensation, than what is prescribed under Section 4(1)(a) read with Section 5 of the Act, cannot be accepted under the Scheme of the Act, which is a beneficial legislation. He also could not dispute that the grant of compensation to a tune of Rs. 10,16,700/-, is an incorrect calculation while looking at the beneficial nature of the legislation in question, the provision for any other method of calculation resulting in a lesser computation, has to be superseded by the calculation which is in consonance of Section 4(1)(a) read-with Section 5 of the Act, 1923.

10. The Apex Court in the case of General Manager, Kerela State Road Transport Corporation Vs. Susamma Thomas and Ors. while concluding on the question of "just" compensation held that the multiplier method is logically sound and legally well established method of ensuring a "just" compensation, which will make for uniformity and certainty of the award. A departure from this method can only be justified in rare and extraordinary circumstances and very exceptional cases.

11. We may gainfully take a clue from the judgment in the case of Lata Wadhwa and Ors. Vs. State of Bihar and Ors.; when multiple claims were raised by the heirs/survivors of an unfortunate accident, resulting in death on account of burn injury to several persons, the Apex Court appointed Justice Y.V. Chandrachud, former Chief Justice of India having expertise in the matter, to determine the compensation, keeping in mind principles enunciated by the Apex Court in various judgments till date.

12. Justice Chandrachud, adopted the multiplier method and on that basis determined quantum of compensation, as pertaining to various deaths/injuries which was suffered; and the said method for determination of quantum of compensation, was thereafter approved by the Apex Court.

13. The Apex Court, in the aforesaid judgment approved the method of quantification of compensation on the basis of dependency of 60% of the annual income and thereafter applied different multipliers, depending upon their age. It also approved a conventional figure to compensate the variables which were not quantifiable. It is also noteworthy that the other benefits which were payable to the employees apart from the compensation, was not taken into consideration, while determining the compensation. The benefit already granted to the dependents of the deceased were not taken into account as the quantification of the compensation, was required to be made independent of the other statutory rights and the entitlements.

14. However in the present case, since the field is covered by the special enactment i.e. The Employee's Compensation Act, 1923, the calculation has to be made keeping in mind the statutory provision of Section 4(1)(a) read-with Section 5 of the Act, 1923. The said legislation being a beneficial legislation, the object of the Act is to provide an undisputed methodology for coming to the conclusion pertaining to the amount of the compensation payable. However, this does not entitle the adjudicating authority or act as a hindrance, to the power of the Commissioner to award more compensation. There maybe an instance where the claimant not knowing the provisions of the enactment or aware to his rights, makes a claim for a lesser compensation; but the Court finds that irrespective of the claim made by the claimant, the adjudicating authority cannot grant a compensation which is lesser than what the statue provides. Even in case of ambiguity as to the applicability of the "factor", it is obligatory on the Adjudicating Authority to consider the "factor" or the "monthly wages" which leads to a higher compensation and under no circumstances a compensation less than what is provided under the Act can be awarded by the Commissioner.

15. The aforesaid interpretation is in consonance with the purpose and the objective of the legislation and can also be read to give ample powers to the Commissioner to award further damages, considering the facts and circumstances of each case and resultantly enhance the compensation.

16. The Apex Court while dealing with the issue with respect to public law remedies and the award of compensation under Article 226 of Constitution of India in the case of Chairman, Railway Board and others v. Chandrima Das(Mrs) and others. laid down a ratio that the public law remedies has also been extended to realm of Tort and the court can award compensation to the petitioner, who suffer personal injuries, amounting to tortuous act at the hand of officers of the Government. It discarded the contention that for such a remedy, the petitioner has to approach a Civil Court and a petition under Article 226 of the Constitution, is not maintainable. The Apex Court held that where public functionaries are involved and matters relate to violation of a fundamental right or the enforcement of public duties, the remedy would still be available under the public law, notwithstanding that a suit can be filed for damages under private law.

17. The learned counsel for the respondents had also contended that as far as the enhancement sought by the petitioner in the amount of compensation to Rs. 60,00,000/- is concerned, the Department is only liable to pay the compensation as provided under the Act, 1923 and for any enhancement in the form of damages, the Government cannot be held vicariously liable.

18. Per contra, learned counsel for the petitioner has submitted that the functions of the State in a welfare State, is not limited to carry out the obligations as provided under the statute but it also has to take the responsibility being vicariously liable, so that the essential components of the Government machinery i.e. their employees, if found to have committed an act of tort, the Government, of which they are the employees, can be subjected and held to be vicariously liable in providing damages to the person wronged by the employees.

19. We find that the report submitted by the Department clearly states that the deceased employee had asked for shutdown but clearly the same was not done by other employees of the State Government, resulting in electrocution of the deceased employee, which was the factor of the fall from the ladder and resulting in his death.

20. Aforesaid admitted position clearly establishes all the ingredients of the commission of "tort" against the deceased person, so as to entitle the heirs/claimants to the relief or damages.

21. Now, we proceed to the other objection of the State Counsel, to the effect that considering the nature of the liability, the relief is not available to the petitioner, by invocation of the extraordinary jurisdiction of the High Court under Article 226 of the Constitution of India.

22. The exercise of constitutional power by the High Court under Article 226 can be categorized as power of "judicial review". In case an employee is found to have committed a civil wrong, resulting in death of another employee, the State in the opinion of this Court has to be held vicariously liable and such action accordingly can be subjected to judicial scrutiny in exercise of its power of judicial review under the Constitution. Especially, when the right to life, has been brutally violated and as such those who can be treated as "authority", within the meaning of Article 12, can be made amenable to the jurisdiction of this court and can be subjected to scrutiny on the touchstone of the constitutional mandates. The causing of injuries, which amounted to tortuous act, was compensated by this Court in many of its decisions beginning from Rudul Sah v. State of Bihar. (See also Bhim Singh v. State of J&K, Peoples' Union for Democratic Rights v. State of Bihar, Peoples' Union for Democratic Rights v. Police Commr., Delhi Police Headquarters, Saheli, A Women's Resources Centre v. Commr. of Police, Arvinder Singh Bagga v. State of U.P., P. Rathinam v. Union of India, Death of Sawinder Singh Grower In re, Inder Singh v. State of Punjab and D.K. Basu v. State of W.B.)

23. In the present case, there is involvement of public functionaries and on admitted facts itself there is violation of fundamental rights, that being so, since "life" has been recognized as a basic human right, which has been interpreted by the courts in various decision relating to Article 21 of the Constitution of India, we find State is vicariously liable and remedy for damages, resulting in enhancement of the compensation can be claimed under Article 226 of the Constitution of India. In Khadak Singh Vs. State of U.P , the term "life" was held to indicate something more than an animal existence; and its violation can give a cause of action to be remedied by envocation of Article 226 of the Constitution.

24. The employees of the State at times, as in the present case, perform hazardous duties which even raises threat to their life, however, such duties are undertaken with a firm belief that the State shall be responsible for their "life" as guaranteed under Article 21 of the Constitution of India and various human right declaration, to which India is also a party; but however, in the present case, the State has failed, and as such is vicariously liable, and is under a constitutional liability, to pay damages.

25. In State of Rajasthan Vs. Vidyawati, it was held that Government will be vicariously liable for the tortuous act of its employee. Reference may also be made to the decisions of this Court in State of Gujarat Vs. Memon Mahomed Haji Hasam and Basavva Kom Dyamangouda Patil Vs. State of Mysore. These Principles were reiterated in N. Nagendra Rao & Co. Vs. State of A.P. and again in State of Maharashtra Vs. Kanchanmala Vijaysing Shirke.

Conclusion

1. We are constrained to note that the Department is guilty of ignoring the standards of normal safety measures and resultantly the negligence ultimately led to death of the sole bread winner of the family. In absence of quantification by Adjudicatory Authority, the acceptance of a figure given by the Department, without providing any basis of such a quantification, cannot be accepted. It is no doubt that the amount of compensation has to be determined as per the statutory provisions of section 4(1)(a) read with Section 5 of the Act, 1923 which itself contemplates i.e. the amount equal to 50% of the "monthly wages" of the deceased employee, is to be multiplied by the relevant factors. Apart from the same, in consideration of the various judgments referred herein above, we find that no exhaustive list can be provided but for certainty, the following points are to be kept in consideration, while determining the compensation as contemplated under Section 4 of the Act 1923 and to provide for damages, in exceptional cases:-

(i) It has to be taken into account, as to the life expectancy of the deceased and the dependents and the amount that the deceased would have earned during the remaining of his life, the amount that he would have attributed to the dependents during that period.

(ii) Apart from the determination as provided under Section 4(1)(a) read with Section 5 of the Act, 1923, it may also be seen that the said capital if invested at the prevailing rate of interest, which is acceptable to a stable economy, which would have been utilized in the form of saving; and which is expected from an employee to invest for better future of his children/family members; but for his death, it being not invested.

(iii) The chances that the deceased might have got better employment or income i.e. an over all picture that matters, should be kept in mind while making the computation or assessment for reaching to a "just" compensation viz. a viz. the loss suffered.

(iv) The question of extent of harm/loss/pain/hardship, impact of inflation, may also be taken into consideration. [Ref: V. Krishnakumar Vs. State of Tamil Nadu and Ors.]

2. In view of the aforesaid, the Issue No.1 is decided in favour of the petitioner and it is held that the quantification of the amount of compensation, as provided under Section 4(1)(a) read with Section 5 of the Act, 1923 being erroneous, is required to be re-determined by the adjudicating authority and after doing so, he may also consider the grant of damages for the tortuous act of the employees of the department, keeping in mind other mitigating factors, as indicated hereinabove.

3. It is also provided that after the aforesaid determination, the petitioner/claimants shall be entitled to interest @ 12% p.a. from the date of death of the employee i.e. occurrence of the accident, on the amount, after deducting Rs. 10,16,700/-, which has already been paid to the petitioners/claimants, till the date of actual payment of entire amount.

Argument- (Issue No.2)

1. The learned counsel for the petitioner has argued that though, the order dated 29.11.2023 records that certain evidences were filed on affidavit but since there was no computation of the compensation of the amount in terms of Section 4(1)(a) read with Section 5 of the Act 1923, therefore, no opportunity was given to the petitioner to plead his case pertaining to "relevant factors" that were essential for the claim for damages viz-a-viz enhancement of of compensation and the Adjudicatory Authority without such computation and opportunity accepted the compensation amount of Rs. 10,16,700/- to be a "just" compensation; which amounts to denial of principles of natural justice and as such was a post decisional hearing; and failure to observe audi alteram partem rule at pre-decisional stage, vitiates the determination of compensation and accordingly they are entitled to a higher compensation which has been prayed for in the present writ petition.

2. He has relied on the ratio propounded in H.L. Trehan Vs. Union of India to contend that post-decisional opportunity of hearing does not subserve rules of natural justice and the authority who embarks upon post-decisional hearing will naturally proceed with the closest trend and there is hardly any chance of getting a proper consideration of the representation at such post-decisional hearing. He has further relied upon the case of Maneka Gandhi Vs. Union of India and submitted that any violation to the principles of audi alteram partem rule will lead to paralysing the administrative process and the court must make every effort to salvage this cardinal rule to the maximum extent permissible in the given case. He has relied on the following excerpt from the judgment of Maneka Gandhi (supra).

"The Court must make every effort to salvage this cardinal rule to the maximum extent permissible in a given case. It must not be forgotten that "natural justice is pragmatically flexible and is amenable to capsulation under the compulsive pressure of circumstances". The audi alteram partem rule is not cast in a rigid mould and judicial decisions establish that it may suffer situational modifications. The core of it must, however, remain, namely, that the person affected must have a reasonable opportunity of being heard and the hearing must be a genuine hearing and not an empty public relations exercise."

3. Per contra, learned counsel for the respondents have contended that they have determined the compensation as per Section 4 of the Act, 1923 but on a pointed query as to the basis of the quantification of the compensation, they could not state, as to what factors were considered while determining the compensation.

Discussion- (Issue No.2)

1. It is to be determined in the facts of the present case, whether the petitioner was at all put to notice or given an opportunity either by the Department or the Adjudicatory Authority, to substantiate their claim by providing cogent evidence, which according to them would have substantiated their claim regarding various factors, which ought to have been considered prior to quantification of the compensation and also towards their claim for damages, for which State is vicariously liable, as such for the enhancement of their compensation, itself.

2. It is also pertinent to note that even in case, the petitioner would have failed to justify the factors for computing or quantifying the compensation, was it justified on part of the Department or the Adjudicatory Authority, to straightaway provide or accept a figure, without looking into the basis of the quantification of the compensation. The respondents, in their instructions, could not point out as to what were the factors which formed the basis of the figure of Rs. 10,16,700/-; and the learned Standing Counsel also could not point out as to whether before the determination by the Adjudicatory Authority in its order dated 29.11.2023, did he made efforts either to put the petitioners to notice on the question of quantification or by itself, it considered the basis on which the Department has determined the said compensation.

Conclusion

1. From the aforesaid facts, it is admitted to the department that no notice was given to the petitioner to demonstrate the mitigating factors so as to determine the basis on which the quantification of the compensation could have been made. They also could not justify the said quantification or basis of any multiplier, or the principles of "restitutio in integrum". They also could not demonstrate the compliance to the two fundamental maxims of natural justice vis.

(i) audi alteram partem

(ii) nemo judex in re sua

2. The audi alteram partem rule has many facets, two of them being:

(a) Notice of the case to be made, and

(b) Opportunity to explain.

3. It is no longer res integra that even if the statute is silent with regard to giving a pre-decisional hearing to the person affected and which involves a civil consequences of grave nature, it inherently involves the principles of natural justice, which demands that the person to be effected, may be given an opportunity, by putting him to notice prior to the determination; and as such the Court must make every effort to salvage this cardinal rule to the maximum extent. (Ref: State of Orissa v. Dr. (Miss) Binapani Dei). The principles of natural justice are now considered so fundamental as 'implicit in the concept of ordered liberty' and, therefore, implicit in every decision making function, call it judicial, quasi judicial or administrative. Where the statute is silent about the observation of principles of natural justice, such statutory silence it taken to imply compliance with the principles of natural justice. (kindly referred to Swadeshi Cotton Mills vs. Union of India.

4. In the Scheme of a Statute there may be a provision itself providing for a post-decisional hearing, a post-decisional hearing may also be had by the terms of Section 21 of the General Clauses Act; but it may not necessarily help in the interpretation of the provision of the Statute concerned. The exclusion of the principles of natural justice, is generally when a question of public interest is involved and statute provides for post decisional hearing itself.

5. However, in the present case we do not find any such exclusion to the principles of natural justice or a question of public interest, since the question of determination of the compensation under the Employees Compensation Act, 1923 is very individual or a private right. We find that the petitioner ought to have been given an opportunity to substantiate by way of evidence or other mitigating factors, apart from the multiplication of the average annual income, (to the extent of 50%) with such "relevant factors" as provided in the statute; which has been denied in the present case; and as such the decision of the adjudicatory authority while accepting computation of compensation, without the department justifying its basis or putting the claimant/petitioner to notice, is clearly in violation of the principles of natural justice, which is to be read as an implied requirement of the law.

6. Accordingly, under the facts and circumstances of the present case, there has been a non compliance, with such implied requirement of audi altram partem rule of natural justice at the pre-decisional stage.

7. The family belongs to a middle class and in absence of the bread winner, the pain and sufferings, lost wages and the future care that would be necessary while accounting for inflationary trends; and accordingly, the maxim 'restitutio in integrum' is applicable i.e. the aggrieved person should get that sum of money, which would put him in the same position, if he had not sustained the wrong.

8. We find that in such circumstances, the question of grant of damages, by way of enhancement of compensation is also to be considered. However, we restrain ourselves from computation for such damages, to which the petitioner/claimant may be entitled and leave it open to the Adjudicating Authority, to determine the same keeping in mind the criteria/considerations as indicate hereinabove.

Argument- Issue No.3

1. Learned counsel for the respondents has relied upon a notification dated 03.01.2020 which has been published in the Gazette of India in supersession of the earlier notification dated 31.05.2010, in purported exercise of Section 4(1B) of the Act, 1923 to contend that the monthly wages have been capped at Rs. 15,000/-; and accordingly the said amount is to be considered for the purposes of grant of compensation, under Section 4 of the Act, 1923.

2. Per contra, learned counsel for the petitioner has submitted, that Section 5 of the Act, 1923 clearly provides that the expression "monthly wages" means an amount of wages, which is payable for a month's service and the explanation appended to Section 5 of the Act, 1923, further clarifies that the period of service shall, for the said purposes, be deemed to be continuous, which has not been interpreted by a period of absence from work exceeding 14 days.

3. He has further contended that the capping of the "monthly wages" will render the statutory provision that Section 5 of the Act, 1923; to be otiose.

Discussion- Issue No.3

1. We have carefully examined the interplay of the provisions i.e. Section 4(1B) and Section 5 of the Act, 1923. The careful perusal of sub-section (1B), undoubtedly gives a power to notify in the official Gazette, such "monthly wages" in relation to an employee, which may be required for the purpose of determination of the amounts of compensation in the following conditions:-

(a) Where death results from the injury- or
(b) Where permanent total disablement results from the injury; or

(c) Where permanent partial disablement results from the injury; or
(d) Where temporary disablement, whether total or partial, results from the injury.

2. Section 5 of the Act, 1923 provides the method of calculating wages i.e. it gives meaning to the expression "monthly wages" i.e. the amount of wages deemed to be payable for a month's service; and Section 5(a) may be relevant for the purposes of the present case, which states that where the employee has, during a continuous period of not less than 12 months immediately preceding the accident, been in the service of the employer which is liable to pay compensation, the monthly wages of the employee shall be "1/12th of the total wages", which have fallen due for payment to him by the employer in the last 12 months of that period. In the present case, the deceased employee was in continuous service, for years together, immediately preceding the accident.

3. The said section also take notes of the circumstance, when the service of the employee was less than one month; then in the said circumstance, the monthly wages of the employee shall be average monthly amount which, during 12 months immediately preceding the accident, was being earned by the employee; and lastly it makes provision for a circumstance, in "other cases" for example in cases in which it is not possible for want of necessary information to calculate the monthly wages under clause (b), the monthly wages shall be 30 times the total wage earned in respect of the last continuous period of service immediately preceding the accident, divided by the number of days comprising such period.

4. In order to harmonize the provision of Section 4(1B) and Section 5 of the Act, 1923, the object of the legislation or the scheme of the Act is to be analyzed, to come to the conclusion as to whether Section 4(1B) would proceed for all purposes Section 5 of the Act, 1923 or it may have to give way, to the circumstances, which are covered by Section 5 of the Act, 1923.

5. In the case of Pandit Ram Narain Vs. The State of Uttar Pradesh and Ors., the Apex Court observed that expression used in an Act must take colour from the context in which they appear. In the case of East India Hotels Ltd. and Anr. Vs. Union of India and Anr., the Apex Court reiterated a settled principle that an Act is to be read as a whole and different provisions have to be harmonize and effect have to be given to all of them and is not proper to give judgment upon a single clause unless a whole law is examined (Ref: Darshan Singh and Anr. Vs. State of Punjab; and State of Maharashtra v. Marwanjee F. Desai & Others.)

6. It is no longer res integra that an interpretation must taken on the text and the context, as held in the case of Employees' Provident Fund Commissioner vs Official Liquidator of Esskay Pharmaceuticals Ltd.

7. In order to harmonize the statutory provision of Section 4(1B) and Section 5 of the Act, 1923, it is the duty of the court to interpret the said provision in a way which ultimately avoid conflict in two different spheres and at the same time, achieve the objective of the legislation in question, so as to suit, the intent of the legislature must be carefully analysed, in crystallizing the interplay between the two provisions of same statute.

8. This court, gainfully refers to the ratio in the case of M/s Aphali Pharmaceuticals Ltd. v. State of Maharashtra & Others.31, which was considered with affirmation in ONGC Ltd. vs. Afcons Gunanusa JV, and which has laid down context of the "principles of harmonizing construction" i.e. provision could be so construed in the context of the Act, that no word of the statute is rendered redundant, superfluous or meaningless. The Apex Court, recently in the case of Assistant Commissioner of Income Tax (International Taxation) and others vs. Shelf Drilling Ron Tappmeyer Ltd. etc., has dealt with the issue in hand and for ready reference Para-9 is quoted below:

"Principles of Statutory Interpretation:

9. Before proceeding further, it would be useful to discuss the relevant principles of statutory interpretation from authoritative sources.

9.1 A statute or any enacting provision therein must be so construed as to make it effective and operative. Thus, courts should lean against construction which reduces a provision to a futility. It has been observed by Lord Dunedin of the House of Lords that "A statute is designed to be workable, and the interpretation thereof by a court should be to secure that object, unless crucial omission or clear direction makes that end unattainable." vide Whitney vs. Inland Revenue Commissioner, (1926) A.C. 37 ("Whitney"). Therefore, any construction which would defeat the plain intention of the Legislature must be rejected by the courts. Hence, courts should avoid a construction which would reduce the provision to futility and rather accept a construction based on the view that Parliament or any Legislature would legislate only for the purpose of bringing about an effective result. It is in that context that purposive construction by court is gaining acceptance rather than holding that there is absurdity in the statute. The doctrine of purposive interpretation may be taken recourse to for the purpose of giving full effect to the statutory provisions and the courts must state what meaning the statue should bear rather than rendering the statute a nullity.

9.2 Another principle of statutory interpretation is that when the words of a statute are clear, plain or unambiguous, i.e., they are reasonably susceptible to only one meaning, courts are bound to give effect to that meaning irrespective of consequences. The results of the construction are then not a matter for the court, even though they may be strange or surprising, unreasonable or unjust or oppressive. Gajendragadkar, J. in Kanailal Sur vs. Paramnidhi Sadhu Khan, AIR 1957 SC 907 opined thus:

"If the words used are capable for one construction only then it would not be open to the courts to adopt any other hypothetical construction on the ground that such hypothetical construction is more consistent with the alleged object and policy of the Act."

S.R. Das, J. in CIT, Agri vs. Keshab Chandra Mandal, AIR 1950 SC 265 observed thus:

"Hardship or inconvenience cannot alter the meaning of the language employed by the Legislature if such meaning is clear on the face of the statute or the rules."

He further observed that:

"The spirit of the law may well be an elusive and unsafe guide and the supposed spirit can certainly not be given effect to in opposition to the plain language of the sections of the Act". Vide Rananjaya Singh vs. Baijnath Singh, AIR 1954 SC 749,"

9.3 Similarly, Subba Rao, J. observed that in interpretation of a statute, the primary test is the language employed in the Act and when the words are clear and plain, the court is bound to accept the expressed intention of the Legislature, vide MV Joshi vs. MU Shimpi, AIR 1961 SC 1494.

9.4 This means that mere hardship cannot be a ground for not giving effective and grammatical meaning to every word of the provisions of a statute if the language used therein is unequivocal. Thus, an unambiguous and plain statute must be given its full interpretation. It has been observed that unambiguous means "unambiguous in context". The expression "context" in this connection is used in a wide sense as including not only other enacting provisions of the same statute, but its preamble, the existing state of the law, other statutes in pari materia and the mischief which by those and other legitimate means can be discerned that the statute was intended to remedy. In this context, it would be useful to recall the words of Grover, J. in VO Tractoroexport vs. Tarapore and Co., AIR 1971 SC 1, which are as follows:-

"We are aware of no rule of interpretation by which rank ambiguity can be first introduced by giving certain expressions a particular meaning and then an attempt can be made to emerge out of semantic confusion and obscurity by having resort to presumed intention of the Legislature to give effect to international obligations."

9.5 On the other hand, plain meaning rule applies at the stage when the words have been construed in their context and the conclusion has been reached that they are susceptible to only one meaning. In that event, the meaning so derived is to be given effect to irrespective of consequences.

9.6 Further, while interpreting a statute it must be read as a whole and one provision of the Act should be construed with reference to other provisions in the same Act so as to make out a consistent enactment of the whole statutes. Such a construction has a merit of avoiding any inconsistency or repugnancy either within a Section or between a Section and other parts of the statutes. It is the duty of the courts to avoid a clash between two Sections of the same Act and "whenever it is possible to do so, to construe provisions which appear to conflict so that they harmonise". While doing so the edges have to be ironed out so as to read the provisions of an Act in consonance with the object of the Act. Thus, the provisions of one Section of a statute cannot be used to defeat another section of the same statute. The same rule applies to a sub-section of a Section. In Venkataramana Devaru vs. State of Mysore AIR 1958 SC 255, Venkatarama Aiyar, J. said that "the rule of construction is well settled that when there are in an enactment two provisions which cannot be reconciled with each other, they should be so interpreted that, if possible, effect should be given to both. This is what is known as the rule of harmonious construction."

9.7 Therefore, effect should be given to both provisions. Thus, a construction which reduces one of the provisions to a "useless lumber" or 'dead letter' is to be avoided. One of the ways in dealing with such a situation is to find out which of the two apparently conflicting provisions is more general and which is more specific and to construe the same accordingly. However, if a specific provision has to be read within the mandate of a general provision then the same has to be accordingly construed so as to give effect to the mandate of the general provision. However, if a situation arises where two Sections of the Act cannot be reconciled, as there is an absolute contradiction between them, it is often said that the latter must prevail. Another way of looking at such a situation is to ascertain which is the leading provision and which is the subordinate provision and which must give way to the other, but only if a harmonious construction of two apparently contradictory provisions is possible which will not lead to any absurdity or give rise to practical inconvenience or make well-established provision of existing law nugatory, then the same should be resorted to. In other words, an interpretation which would dilute the intention of the Parliament or give rise to an absurdity or lead to any provision of law being rendered nugatory has to be eschewed.

(Source: GP Singh - Principles of Statutory Interpretation, 15th Ed. LexisNexis)."

9. We may also refer to the title of Section 4(1B) and Section 5 of the Act, 1923. Section 4 has been titled as "amount of compensation"; whereas Section 5 has been titled as "method of calculating wages". Primarily, Section 4(1B) gives an impetus to the Central Government to determine "monthly wages" and Section 5 lays down the method of calculating wages, in different circumstances. It is also no longer res integra that even if a notification which has been issued in its purported exercise of a statutory provision, the same shall not override a statutory provision, itself; as it would amount to amending the statutory provision itself. A circular, notifications, or instructions issued by Government Departments under statutory powers are merely interpretative or administrative guidance and cannot override, contravene, or supplant the provisions of the statute itself. A statutory provisions is supreme, and any subordinate legislation or executive instructions must align with it. It is no longer res integra that executive fiat cannot override the statutory provision.

10. In view of the aforesaid, principle of harmonizing construction and the principle of law that a notification, which can only be categorized as a subordinate legislation, cannot override a statutory provision of law; this court has no hesitation in holding that the circular dated 03.01.2020 cannot override the statutory provision of Section 5 of the Act, 1923 which provides for a method of calculating wages, relevant for the purposes of Section 4 of the Act, 1923. Aforesaid conclusion also finds strength from the object of the Act and the fact that same is a beneficial legislation.

11. For gain sake, the 'Statement of Objects and Reasons' of the Employee's Compensation Act, 1923 is quoted below:

"The general principles of workmen's compensation command almost universal acceptance, and India is now nearly alone among civilised countries in being without legislation embodying those principles. For a number of years the more generous employers have been in the habit of giving compensation voluntarily, but this practice is by no means general. The growing complexity of industry in this country, with the increasing use of machinery and consequent danger to workmen, along with the comparative poverty of the workmen themselves, renders it advisable that they should be protected, as far as possible from hardship arising from accidents.

An additional advantage of legislation of this type is that by increasing the importance for the employer of adequate safety devices, it reduces the number of accidents to workmen in a manner that cannot be achieved by official inspection. Further, the encouragement given to employers to provide adequate medical treatment for their workmen should mitigate the effects of such accidents as do occur. The benefits so conferred on the workman added to the increased sense of security which he will enjoy, should render industrial life more attractive and thus increase the available supply of labour. At the same time, a corresponding increase in the efficiency of the average workman may be expected. A system of insurance would prevent time burden from pressing too heavily on any particular employer.

After a detailed examination of the question by the Government of India, Local Governments were addressed in July 1921, and provisional views of the Government of India were published for general information. The advisability of legislation has been accepted by the great majority of Local Governments and of employers' and workers' association and the Government of India believe that public opinion generally is in favour of legislation.

In June 1922, a committee was convened to consider the question. This committee was composed, for the most part of members of the Imperial Legislature. After considering the numerous replies and opinions received by the Government of India, the committee was unanimously in favour of legislation and drew up detailed recommendations regarding the lines which in its opinion such legislation should follow. The Bill now presented follows these recommendations closely. A number of supplementary provisions have been added where necessary, but practically no variations of importance have been made.

The Bill contains two distinct proposals. In Chapter II modifications are made in the ordinary civil law affecting the liability of employers for the damages in respect of injuries sustained by their workmen; these clauses will operate only in actions before the ordinary civil courts. The main part of the Bill makes provisions for workmen's compensation and sets up special machinery to deal with claims falling under this category.

Both parts of the Bill, however, apply to the same classes of workmen. If the scope of the employers' liability clauses was made wider than the scope of the workmen's compensation provisions, there would be considerable danger of a great increase in litigation. The classes included are those whose inclusion was recommended by the committee, and are specified in Schedule II. Two criteria have been followed in the determination of the classes to be included-

(1) that the Bill should be confined to industries which are more or less organised;

(2) that only workmen whose occupation is hazardous should be included.

The general principle is that the compensation should ordinarily be given to workmen who sustained personal injuries by accidents arising out of and in the course of their employment. Compensation will also be given in certain limited circumstances for disease. The actual rates of compensation payable are based on the unanimous recommendation of the committee. They are in every case subject to fixed maxima, in accordance with the committee's recommendations. It should be remembered, however, that the more highly paid workmen will be enabled in cases to which the employers' liability clauses will apply, to obtain damages on a scale considerably in excess of the maximum fixed for workmen's compensation.

A consistent endeavour has been made to give as little opportunity for disputes as possible. Throughout the Bill in the definitions adopted the scales selected, and the exceptions permitted the great aim has been precision in order that in as few cases as possible should the validity of a claim for compensation or the amount of that claim be open to doubt. At the same time, on the unanimous recommendation of the committee provision has been made for special Tribunal to deal cheaply and expeditiously with any disputes that may arise, and generally to assist the parties in a manner which is not possible for the ordinary civil courts courts."

12. The aforesaid object clearly envisages that by increasing the importance of adequate safety devices for the employee, reduces the number of accident to workman (employee) in a manner that it cannot be achieved by official inspection. The benefit that an employee draws from the enactment, is an increased sense of security, and which would render industrial life more attractive, catering to the conduciveness and increased availability with supply of labours. The liability of an employer for the damages in respect of injury sustained by their employee, was made paramount and the provision for compensation by setting up special mechanism to deal with claims falling under this category.

13. We also find that one of the considerations before the Committee was that more highly paid workman, shall be entitled under the employers' liability clause, to obtain "damages" on a scale considerably in excess of the maximum fixed for the workman's compensation.

We may gainfully refer to the judgment in the case of Union of India Vs. Prabhakaran Vijaya Kumar and Others, wherein while a lady was trying to enter a train, fell down on railway track and was run over by the train and consequently died, on legal representatives filing a claim petition before the Railway Claims Tribunal, it held that it was not an "untoward incident" within the meaning of the said expression in Section 123(c) of the Railways Act, 1989; as the same was not an accidental falling of the passenger from a train. However the Apex Court held that the case came within the expression "accidental falling of a passenger from a train carrying passengers" which was an "untoward incident."

In the aforesaid case, while interpreting the aforesaid provisions and the words "untoward incident" as defined under Section 123(c) of the Railways Act, 1989, the Apex Court held that, it is a well settled law if the words used in a beneficial or welfare statute are capable of two constructions, the one which is more in consonance with the object of the Act and for the benefit of the person for whom the Act was made, should be preferred. In other words, beneficial or welfare statutes should be given a liberal and not literal or strict interpretation. Reliance was placed on

Alembic Chemical Works Co. Ltd. v. Workmen35 (AIR para 7), Jeewanlal Ltd. v. Appellate Authority36 (AIR para 11), Lalappa Lingappa v. Laxmi Vishnu Textile Mills Ltd.37 (AIR para 13), S.M. Nilajkar v. Telecom District Manager 38(SCC para 12). Paragraph no.13 of the Prabhakaran Vijaya Kumar and Others (supra) is quoted as below:

"13. In Hindustan Lever Ltd. v. Ashok Vishnu Kate this Court observed: (SCC pp. 347-48, paras 41-42)

"41. In this connection, we may usefully turn to the decision of this Court in Workmen v. American Express International Banking Corpn. wherein Chinnappa Reddy, J. in para 4 of the Report has made following observations: (SCC p. 76)

'4. The principles of statutory construction are well Words occurring in statutes of liberal import such as social welfare legislation and human rights' legislation are not to be put in Procrustean beds or shrunk to Lilliputian dimensions. In construing these legislations the imposture of literal construction must be avoided and the prodigality of its misapplication must be recognised and reduced. Judges ought to be more concerned with the colour", the "content" and the "context" of such statutes (we have borrowed the words from Lord Wilberforce's opinion in Prenn v. Simmonds). In the same opinion Lord Wilberforce pointed out that law is not to be left behind in some island of literal interpretation but is to enquire beyond the language, unisolated from the matrix of facts in which they are set; the law is not to be interpreted purely on internal linguistic considerations. In one of the cases cited before us, that is, Surendra Kumar Verma v. Central Govt. Industrial Tribunal-cum-Labour Court we had occasion to say: (SCC p. 447, para 6)

"6. ... Semantic luxuries are misplaced in the interpretation of 'bread and butter' statutes. Welfare statutes must, of necessity, receive a broad interpretation. Where legislation is designed to give relief against certain kinds of mischief, the court is not to e make inroads by making etymological excursions."

42. Francis Bennion in his Statutory Interpretation, 2nd Edn., has dealt with the Functional Construction Rule in Part XV of his book. The nature of purposive construction is dealt with in Part XX at p. 659 thus:

'A purposive construction of an enactment is one which gives effect to the legislative purpose by –

(a) following the literal meaning of the enactment where that meaning is in accordance with the legislative purpose (in this Code called a purposive-and-literal construction), or

(b) applying a strained meaning where the literal meaning is not in accordance with the legislative purpose (in the Code called a purposive-and-strained construction).'

At p. 661 of the same book, the author has considered the topic of 'Purposive Construction' in contrast with literal construction. The learned author has observed as under:

'Contrast with literal construction.- Although the term "purposive construction" is not new, its entry into fashion betokens a swing by the appellate courts away from literal construction Lord Diplock said in 1975: "If one looks back to the actual decisions of the [House of Lords] on questions of statutory construction over the last 30 years one cannot fail to be struck by the evidence of a trend away from the purely literal towards the purposive construction of statutory provisions." The matter was summed up by Lord Diplock in this way-

...I am not reluctant to adopt a purposive construction where to apply the literal meaning of the legislative language used would lead to results which would clearly defeat the purposes of the Act. But in doing so the task on which a court of justice is engaged remains one of construction, even where this involves reading into the Act words which are not expressly included in it.' "

(emphasis supplied)"

14. Perhaps this brings us back to the question that once "method for calculating" wages has been provided under Section 5, what could be the intent of the legislature to make provision under Section 4(1B) of the Act, 1923, by providing the Central Government to issue notification of such "monthly wages" as it may consider necessary; for an employee who is entitled for compensation under Section 4 of the Act, 1923.

15. There is no iota of doubt that Section 5 visualises three different contingencies and provides a method for calculation of wages in the said three contingencies; but nonetheless there may be a circumstance where a claimant may not be able to demonstrate, the actual "monthly wages" that the deceased employee was entitled to or there may be a circumstance where an employee may be getting wages which may be so meager that applying the methodology as provided under Section 5 of the Act, 1923, the amount of compensation as contemplated under Section 4 of the Act, 1923 is so meager that it may not be a "just compensation"; and which was not be the intent of the Act, 1923; and in form of a social security to the deceased dependents or the family. In the said circumstances, a notification under Section 4(1B) has to be taken into account, which provides for a minimum "monthly wages" to be Rs. 15000/-.

Conclusion

In view of the foregoing discussions we have no hesitation in holding that if the case of a deceased employee is covered by any of the contingencies provided under Section 5 of the Act, 1923, the same shall be applicable; which would mean the actual "monthly wages" an employee was drawing immediately preceding the accident. However, in case the "monthly wages" of an employee is less than what is provided by the notification dated 03.01.2020 i.e. 15000/- the benchmark for calculating the amount of compensation under Section 4 of the Act, 1923 shall be Rs. 15000/-. This is imperative and in consonance with the objects and reasons of the Act, 1923 and in line with the principles for providing a "just compensation" which the enactment envisages, for providing a social security to the family in destitute, on account of death of the earning member of the family. The amount fixed by the circular dated 03.01.2020, can only get a benchmark that the calculation cannot be with a lesser amount; but where the "monthly wages" admissible to the deceased employee was higher, the same shall be considered, for determining the "Amount of Compensation" under Section 4 of the Act, 1923.

Directions

In view of the aforesaid the writ petition stands allowed in terms of the following directions.

(i) The present matter is referred to the Commissioner of the concerned Region, who may have been appointed by the State Government by the notification in the official Gazette, in view of the provisions of Section 20 of the Act, 1923; and he may put the claimant/petitioner to notice for filing evidence/documents to demonstrate their restitutio in integrum, which may be considered along with the mitigating factors; as indicated hereinabove, for grant of damages; apart from the re-determination of compensation as per Section 4 read-with Section 5 of the Act, 1923

(ii) Once the claimant is put to notice and given an opportunity to file their evidence, he shall proceed to quantify the compensation and in consideration of the determining factors. The compensation shall be quantified afresh and paid to the claimant within a period of one month from the date of such determination.

(iii) Once the compensation along with damages are determined, the same shall be held to be payable along with the interest of 12% p.a., which is to be calculated from the date of death i.e. date of accident till the actual disbursal of the said amount after deducting amount of Rs. 10,16,700/-, which has already been paid to the petitioner/claimant.

(iv) In view of the law laid down in the case of Lata Wadhwa and Ors. (supra) and in consideration of the admitted factual position and there has been an infraction to the principles of natural justice, it is provided that a conventional figure of Rs. 1,00,000/- is to be added and paid over and above the quantifiable compensation, to be determined by the Commissioner appointed under Section 20 of the Act, 1923.

(v) The entire aforementioned exercise is to be completed within a period of four months from the date of production of copy of this order.

(vi) No order as to costs.

(2026) 2 ILRA 727
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 26.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE IRSHAD ALI, J.

Writ C No. 1003583 of 2008

F.C.I. Faiazabad ...Petitioner

Versus

Regional Labour Commissioner Central Lko. & Ors. ...Respondents

Issue for Consideration

Matter pertains to whether the Regional Labour Commissioner while exercising conciliation proceedings has jurisdiction to decide the dispute relating to payment of wages and issue consequential recovery proceedings (Paras 4, 6–8, 11,12)

Headnotes

LABOUR LAW – Conciliation Proceedings – Jurisdiction of Regional Labour Commissioner – Scope and limitation – Whether authority can adjudicate dispute and direct payment of wages – Held, under conciliation proceedings only conciliation can be made and authority has no power to decide dispute or direct payment of wages – such action amounts to assumption of jurisdiction of Labour Court/Industrial Tribunal – impermissible – orders passed without jurisdiction liable to be quashed. (Paras 9, 11)

LABOUR LAW – Conciliation vs. Adjudication – Distinction – Conciliation proceedings cannot culminate in determination of rights – if conciliation fails matter has to be referred to Central Government for transmission to Labour Court/Industrial Tribunal – direct adjudication by conciliation authority is manifest error of law and jurisdiction. (Paras 9, 11)

JURISDICTION – Lack of – Effect – Primary order being without jurisdiction – consequential orders including rejection of recall application and recovery proceedings also wholly without jurisdiction – not sustainable in eyes of law. (Para 12)

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW – Orders passed in perfunctory and cursory manner – exemplary costs – imposition justified where authority acts beyond jurisdiction. (Para 15)

Held:

Under conciliation proceedings only conciliation can be made and in case conciliation proceeding fails the only remedy is to refer the matter to the Central Government for its transmission to the Labour Court or Industrial Tribunal which alone can pass appropriate order - the order passed by the Regional Level Commissioner directing payment of wages is wholly without jurisdiction as he has no authority under law to pass such order and if satisfied that wages are liable to be paid he ought to have made reference to the competent authority - in proceeding to decide the controversy he has committed manifest error of law and jurisdiction - consequential orders including rejection of recall application and initiation of recovery proceedings being dependent upon such order are also wholly without jurisdiction and not sustainable in the eyes of law - impugned orders having been passed in a perfunctory and cursory manner are liable to be quashed - Petition allowed. (Paras 9, 11–13, 15) (E-7)

Case Law Cited

Nil

List of Acts

– Article 226

List of Keywords

Conciliation Proceedings – Jurisdiction – Regional Labour Commissioner – Industrial Dispute – Reference to Government – Labour Court – Industrial Tribunal – Recovery Proceedings – Without Jurisdiction – Manifest Error – Quashing of Orders

Case Arising From

Order dated 2.11.2006, order dated 5.6.2008 and recovery certificate dated 4.7.2008 passed by the in-Conciliation Case No. LKO.8(2-31)/2005

Appearances for Parties

Counsel for the Petitioner(s):

Jaideep Narain Mathur, Sayed Haseen, Shikhar Anand

Counsel for the Respondent(s):

H.G.S. Parihar, Kumar Ayush, R.N. Tilhari, Raj Kumar Singh

(Delivered by Hon'ble Irshad Ali, J.)

1. Heard Shri Shikhar Anand, learned counsel for the petitioners and Shri Raj Kumar Singh, learned counsel for the respondents-Union of India.

2. Vide order dated 11.7.2019, this Court held that service of notice upon opposite party no.2 is deemed sufficient.

3. In view of the above, this Court is proceeding to decide the controversy involved in the present writ petition.

4. By means of the present writ petition, the petitioner is challenging the order dated 2.11.2006, 5.6.2008 and the recovery certificate dated 4.7.2008 passed by the opposite party no.1 in Conciliation Case No.LKO.8(2-31)/2005, enclosed as Annexure Nos.1 & 2 to the writ petition.

5. Factual matrix of the case is that the respondent no.2 filed several writ petition before this Hon'ble Court praying reinstatement of 255 workers with continuity of service and full back wages and also wages for the period 26.06,1998 to 19.08.1999. Vide order dated 4.10.2025, these writ petitions were disposed of with the direction to the petitioners to approach the concerned State or Central for making reference for adjudication of dispute before appropriate Forum/ Industrial Adjudicator.

On 23/27.12.2007, respondent no.2 instead of approaching Industrial Tribunal/ Labour Court made representation before RLC (Central), Lucknow for conciliation proceedings. On 14.08.2006, petitioner filed preliminary objections before the RLC. The RLC without deciding the preliminary objection started conciliation proceedings in the matter relating to payment of wages to 77 workers w.e.f. 26.06.1998 to 18.08.1998. The petitioner never accepted any compromise nor made any commitment an order was passed by the opposite party no.1 without having any power for determination of dispute the petitioner to pay wages to the 77 workers.

The application for recall of the order dated 2.11.2006 was rejected by the opposite party no.1 vide order dated 5.6.2008. The opposite parties did not take any decision regarding the revision/ modification of the drawings submitted by the petitioner but instead the Director, C&DS arbitrarily and unilaterally modified the agreement and took 7 works from the petitioner out of the total 17 works granted by the agreement and also asked to show cause as to why the agreement not be terminated on the ground that it had not completed the work as per the terms of agreement vide order dated 4.7.2008 and recovery was issued on 4.7.2008.

6. Submission of learned counsel for the petitioner is that once the application was moved for conciliation proceedings to be initiated before the Regional Labour Commissioner, then he would not have proceeded to decide the issue like Industrial Tribunal/ Labour Court.

7. Next submission of learned counsel for the petitioner is that without any authority under law and wholly without jurisdiction the opposite parties proceeded to pass orders impugned and in pursuance thereof, recovery proceedings have also been initiated and an application for recall of the order has also been rejected, therefore the order passed is wholly without jurisdiction.

8. Next submission of learned counsel for the petitioner is that the entire proceedings initiated by the Regional Level Commissioner is wholly without jurisdiction and without any rational basis, therefore, the impugned orders are patently illegal and are liable to be set aside.

9. On the other hand, Shri Raj Kumar Singh, learned counsel for the respondents-Union of India admitted the fact that under the conciliation proceedings only conciliation can be made. In case conciliation proceeding fails, the only remedy is available to refer the matter to the Central Government who will recommend to the Labour Court or Industrial Tribunal and the Labour Court or Industrial Tribunal will pass an appropriate order.

10. Having heard the rival submissions of learned counsel for the parties, I have perused the material on record.

11. Admitted position is that the order passed by the Regional Level Commissioner is wholly without jurisdiction. He has no authority under law to pass the order for payment of wages under conciliation proceedings. In case he was satisfied that the wages are liable to be paid to the labourer then by disposing of the conciliation proceeding he has to make reference to the Central Government for its transmission to the Competent Authority i.e. Labour Court or Industrial Tribunal. In this view of the matter, the Regional Level Commissioner has committed manifest error of law and jurisdiction in proceeding to decide the controversy involved in the matter.

12. The consequential orders are also dependent upon the order passed by the Regional Level Commissioner, therefore, the order rejecting recall application as well as initiating proceeding for recovery of the amount is wholly without jurisdiction and is not sustainable in the eyes of law.

13. In view of the facts and circumstances of the case and the reasons assigned above, impugned orders dated 2/11/2006, 5/6/2008 and the recovery certificate dated 4.7.2008 are hereby quashed.

14. In the result, this writ petition is allowed.

15. The orders impugned show that in a very perfunctory and cursory manner, the orders have been passed, therefore an exemplary cost to the tune of Rs.50,000/- to be payable to the petitioner is imposed upon the then Regional Level Commissioner who was appointed at the relevant point of time when the order was passed.

(2026) 2 ILRA 730
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 04.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. YOGENDRA KUMAR SRIVASTAVA, J.

Matters Under Article 227 No. 3 of 2026

Mohammad Arif ...Petitioner
Versus
Laiq Ahmad ...Respondent

Issue for Consideration

(A) Whether permitting summoning of documents at the stage of final arguments amounted to allowing the plaintiff to fill up lacunae in the case and defeated a valuable right which had accrued in favour of the defendant.
(B) Whether the trial court was justified in fixing the matter for arguments/orders without affording adequate opportunity to the petitioner to cross-examine witnesses and to advance submissions in the light of the additional documents brought on record.

Head Notes

The Constitution of India, 1950-Article 227; The Code of Civil Procedure, 1908- Order VII Rule 14(3)- The discretion under Order VII Rule 14(3) CPC is required to be exercised judiciously by applying a threefold test: (i) whether the omission to file the document earlier was bona fide; (ii) whether the document is relevant and necessary for effective adjudication of the dispute; and (iii) and whether permitting its production at a later stage would occasion serious prejudice or irreparable injustice to the defendant- The Trial Court has recorded a clear finding that the omission occurred due to an inadvertent and bona fide mistake arising out of the simultaneous filing of several eviction suits against different tenants on the same date. The documents sought to be summoned pertain to the notice terminating the tenancy, postal receipts evidencing dispatch, and the reply notice submitted by the defendant, all of which form the very foundation of the eviction proceedings. Significantly, the documents were already part of the judicial record of a connected SCC suit and were not sought to be introduced for the first time- Fairness in procedure necessarily requires that once such documents are permitted to be brought on record, the opposite party must be afforded a real, effective, and meaningful opportunity to meet the same by way of cross-examination and by advancing arguments.

Held- No illegality in the impugned orders insofar as they relate to summoning and taking on record the relevant documents- having regard to the subsequent fixation of the matter for final orders and the concern expressed on behalf of the petitioner regarding lack of adequate opportunity, this Court is of the considered opinion that the ends of justice would be best served by directing the Trial Court to afford full opportunity to the parties before proceeding to pronounce final judgment- Petition disposed of. (E-15)

(Para 15, 16, 19, 20 & 21)

Case Law Cited

K.K. Velusamy v. N. Palanisamy (2011) 11 SCC 275; Manohar Lal Chopra v. Rai Bahadur Rao Raja Seth Hiralal AIR 1962 SC 527; State of Punjab v. Shamlal Murari AIR 1976 SC 1177; Sangram Singh v. Election Tribunal, Kotah AIR 1955 SC 425

List of Acts

The Constitution of India, 1950; The Code of Civil Procedure, 1908

List of Keywords

Order VII R.14, Production of documents; the opposite party must be afforded opportunity; by way of cross-examination and by advancing arguments

Case Arising From

the orders dated 03.09.2025 and 09.10.2025 passed by the Judge, Small Causes Court, , as also the order dated 20.11.2025 passed by the learned District Judge, Bareilly whereby the revision preferred by the petitioner under Section 25 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act came to be dismissed as not maintainable.

Appearances for Parties

Counsel for Petitioners(s) : Rama Goel Bansal, Shalini Goel
Counsel for Respondent(s) : Rupesh Srivastav

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Yogendra Kumar Srivastava, J.)

1. Heard Ms Rama Goel Bansal, learned counsel for the petitioner and Sri Rupesh Srivastav, learned counsel for the respondent.

2. The present petition under Article 227 of the Constitution of India calls in question the orders dated 03.09.2025 and 09.10.2025 passed by the Judge, Small Causes Court, Bareilly in SCC Suit No. 6 of 2019, as also the order dated 20.11.2025 passed by the learned District Judge, Bareilly in Misc. Civil Case No. 397 of 2025, whereby the revision preferred by the petitioner under Section 25 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act came to be dismissed as not maintainable.

3. The dispute has its genesis in SCC Suit No. 6 of 2019 instituted by the respondent-plaintiff seeking eviction of the petitioner-defendant from a shop situated at Meena Bazar, Mohalla Tanda, near Imambara Baheri, District Bareilly. The plaintiff asserted his ownership over the premises on the strength of a registered sale deed dated 15.04.1988 and pleaded that the shop in question formed part of Kadri Market, which was constructed during the years 2000-2001.

4. It was the specific case of the plaintiff that the shop was let out to the defendant in the year 2003 at a monthly rent of Rs.2,500/- per shop and that the defendant was in occupation of two shops at a total monthly rent of Rs.5,000/- per month. It was alleged that the defendant committed default in payment of rent after August 2018. Consequently, a notice dated 16.01.2019 terminating the tenancy and demanding arrears of rent was issued. Alleging non-compliance with the said notice, the eviction suit came to be instituted.

5. The plaintiff further pleaded that on the same date he had instituted several eviction suits against different tenants occupying various shops in the same market, namely SCC Suit Nos. 4 to 9 of 2019. It was asserted that each of the said suits was filed along with the respective notices terminating tenancy, postal receipts evidencing dispatch, and reply notices submitted by the concerned defendants. According to the plaintiff, owing to the simultaneous filing of multiple suits, an inadvertent and bona fide mistake occurred at the stage of presentation, resulting in the basic documents relating to SCC Suit No. 6 of 2019 being wrongly tagged with the record of SCC Suit No. 7 of 2019 and vice versa.

6. During the course of proceedings, the defence of the defendant was struck off. The plaintiff led his evidence and, during cross-examination, PW-1, after perusing Paper No.8C2, stated that the said document was the notice issued to the defendant. It was thereafter, at the stage of final arguments, that the plaintiff moved an application dated 19.08.2025 (Paper No.81C) seeking summoning of the relevant documents from the record of SCC Suit No. 7 of 2019.

7. By order dated 03.09.2025, the Trial Court directed summoning of the record of SCC Suit No. 7 of 2019 from the record room. Subsequently, by order dated 09.10.2025, the application was allowed, the Trial Court accepting the explanation furnished by the plaintiff that the omission was bona fide and occurred on account of an inadvertent mistake while filing multiple suits simultaneously. While allowing the application, the Trial Court expressly granted liberty to the defendant to move an application for recalling witnesses for further cross-examination in respect of the documents so summoned.

8. Aggrieved thereby, the petitioner preferred a revision under Section 25 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act, which came to be registered as Misc. Civil Case No. 397 of 2025. The revisional court, by order dated 20.11.2025, dismissed the revision holding that the impugned order did not amount to a "case decided" and, therefore, was not amenable to revisional jurisdiction.

9. Before this Court, counsel for the petitioner initially assailed the impugned orders contending that permitting summoning of documents at the stage of final arguments amounted to allowing the plaintiff to fill up lacunae in the case and defeated a valuable right which had accrued in favour of the defendant. However, after making submissions to some extent, learned counsel could not seriously dispute that the order passed by the Trial Court summoning the documents on the ground of a bona fide mistake could not be said to be perverse or wholly unjustified, inasmuch as it was passed in furtherance of the ends of justice.

10. Learned counsel for the respondent-plaintiff, on the other hand, submitted that the omission in filing the correct set of documents at the time of institution of the suit was wholly inadvertent and was a direct consequence of the simultaneous filing of multiple eviction suits against different tenants on the same date. It was urged that the documents sought to be summoned were not new documents being introduced for the first time in the proceedings, but were already part of the judicial record of a connected SCC suit and constituted the foundational documents of the plaintiff's case. It was further submitted that no prejudice whatsoever was caused to the defendant, particularly in view of the liberty granted by the Trial Court to recall witnesses for further cross-examination and to address arguments on the basis of the said documents.

11. The principal grievance of the petitioner which survives for consideration is that by a subsequent order dated 20.01.2026, the Trial Court has fixed the matter for arguments/orders without affording adequate opportunity to the petitioner to cross-examine witnesses and to advance submissions in the light of the additional documents brought on record. Learned counsel for the respondent, in all fairness, does not oppose the prayer that such opportunity be granted before the suit is finally decided.

12. The supervisory jurisdiction of this Court under Article 227 of the Constitution of India is intended to ensure that subordinate courts act within the bounds of their authority, exercise jurisdiction vested in them in accordance with law, and adhere to the principles of natural justice. Though this Court does not sit as a court of appeal over interlocutory or procedural orders, it is obliged to intervene where a procedural irregularity results in denial of a fair opportunity to a party.

13. Order VII Rule 14(3) of the Code of Civil Procedure places a procedural embargo on the reception in evidence of documents which were required to be produced or listed at the time of presentation of the plaint but were not so produced. The object underlying the provision is to ensure procedural transparency and fairness by mandating early disclosure of the documentary foundation of the plaintiff's claim and by preventing surprise to the opposite party at a later stage of the proceedings. At the same time, the provision itself confers discretion upon the Court to grant leave for production of documents at a subsequent stage, thereby indicating that the rule is directory and not mandatory.

14. A code of procedure is a body of law designed to facilitate justice and further its ends, and should not be treated as an enactment providing for punishments and penalties. The laws of procedure are grounded on the principles of natural justice, which require that a person should not be condemned unheard, that decisions should not be reached behind the back of a party, and that proceedings affecting life or property should not continue without affording an effective opportunity of participation. Subject to clearly defined exceptions, procedural provisions must therefore be construed, wherever reasonably possible, in the light of these principles.

15. The discretion under Order VII Rule 14(3) CPC is required to be exercised judiciously by applying a three fold test: (i) whether the omission to file the document earlier was bona fide; (ii) whether the document is relevant and necessary for effective adjudication of the dispute; and (iii) and whether permitting its production at a later stage would occasion serious prejudice or irreparable injustice to the defendant.

16. In the present case, the Trial Court has recorded a clear finding that the omission occurred due to an inadvertent and bona fide mistake arising out of the simultaneous filing of several eviction suits against different tenants on the same date. The documents sought to be summoned pertain to the notice terminating the tenancy, postal receipts evidencing dispatch, and the reply notice submitted by the defendant, all of which form the very foundation of the eviction proceedings. Significantly, the documents were already part of the judicial record of a connected SCC suit and were not sought to be introduced for the first time.

17. The exercise of discretion by the Trial Court is further reinforced by the safeguards incorporated in the order itself. Liberty was expressly granted to the defendant to recall witnesses for further cross-examination in respect of the documents so summoned. Such an approach is in consonance with the settled principle that procedural laws are handmaids of justice and ought to be applied in a manner that advances, rather than obstructs, the cause of substantive justice. The Supreme Court in Sangram Singh v. Election Tribunal, Kotah1 and State of Punjab v. Shamlal Murari2 has consistently held that rules of procedure are intended to advance justice and not to defeat it. It has also been emphasised that procedural provisions should be construed pragmatically so as to further the cause of fair trial rather than frustrate it on technical grounds. This principle has also been consistently reiterated that where the Court is satisfied about the bona fides of a party and adequate opportunity is afforded to the opposite side, production of documents at a later stage does not vitiate the proceedings.

18. The inherent powers of the Court preserved under Section 151 CPC are intended to supplement the procedural framework of the Code and to ensure that justice is done in situations where rigid adherence to procedure may result in injustice. The scope and amplitude of Section 151 CPC have been authoritatively explained by the Supreme Court in Manohar Lal Chopra v. Rai Bahadur Rao Raja Seth Hiralal3, wherein it was held that the inherent powers of the Court are complementary to the powers expressly conferred by the Code and may be exercised to secure the ends of justice or to prevent abuse of the process of the Court, so long as their exercise is not in conflict with any express provision of law. A conjoint reading of Order VII Rule 14(3) CPC and Section 151 CPC makes it clear that where the interests of justice so demand, and where adequate opportunity is afforded to the opposite party to meet the case set up by the additional documents, the Court is well within its jurisdiction to permit their production, subject to appropriate safeguards, for processual law is meant to be not an obstruction but an aid to justice. The Court is invested with the widest possible discretion to ensure that justice is done to all concerned, and such discretion must be exercised to advance the cause of justice while safeguarding fairness to the opposite party and strict adherence to the principles of natural justice.

19. At the same time, fairness in procedure necessarily requires that once such documents are permitted to be brought on record, the opposite party must be afforded a real, effective, and meaningful opportunity to meet the same by way of cross-examination and by advancing arguments. Any denial of such opportunity would offend the principles of natural justice and would warrant supervisory interference by this Court.

20. In view of the foregoing discussion, this Court finds no illegality, jurisdictional error or perversity in the orders dated 03.09.2025 and 09.10.2025 passed by the Trial Court, nor in the order dated 20.11.2025 passed by the revisional court, insofar as they relate to summoning and taking on record the relevant documents. The approach adopted by the courts below is in consonance with the law laid down by the Supreme Court in K.K. Velusamy v. N. Palanisamy4, wherein it has been held that procedural provisions, including the power to permit additional evidence or recall of witnesses, are intended to advance justice and can be exercised where the Court is satisfied about the bona fides of the party and where the opposite side is afforded adequate opportunity to rebut the material so brought on record. Consequently, the relief sought by the petitioner for setting aside the impugned orders is declined.

21. However, having regard to the subsequent fixation of the matter for final orders and the concern expressed on behalf of the petitioner regarding lack of adequate opportunity, this Court is of the considered opinion that the ends of justice would be best served by directing the Trial Court to afford full opportunity to the parties before proceeding to pronounce final judgment.

22. Accordingly, the petition is disposed of with a direction to the Judge, Small Causes Court, Bareilly to afford adequate opportunity to the parties to adduce evidence, to recall and cross-examine witnesses, if so prayed, in respect of the documents summoned from the record of SCC Suit No. 7 of 2019, and thereafter to hear and decide the matter after granting reasonable opportunity of arguments to both sides. The Trial Court may regulate the proceedings, subject to appropriate terms, so as to balance procedural fairness with expeditious disposal.

23. It is made clear that this Court has not expressed any opinion on the merits of the case, which shall be decided independently by the Trial Court in accordance with law.

(2026) 2 ILRA 736
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 19.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SUBHASH VIDYARTHI, J.

Matters Under Article 227 No. 252 of 2026

Lko. Development Authority ...Petitioner
Versus
Prem Chandra ...Respondent

Issue for Consideration

Whether interest can only be awarded from the date of notification under Section 4 and not from any date prior to initiation of proceedings under the Land Acquisition Act. and the award of interest from the date of taking possession on 30.12.1984 is without jurisdiction and, therefore, the award cannot be executed to the extent it awards interest for the period prior to the notification under Section 4 of the Land Acquisition Act

Head Notes

The Constitution of India, 1950-Article 227; The Code of Civil Procedure, 1908-Section 47; The Land Acquisition Act, 1894- Section 4, 28 & 34- Perusal of the order dated 19.12.2025 indicates that it nowhere assigns any reason for rejecting the objection of the petitioner that the Land Acquisition Act does not stipulate payment of interest from a date prior to issuance of notification under Section 4 of the Act which was the sole ground raised in the application under Section 47 C.P.C. The submissions of the learned counsel for the opposite party-decree holder recorded in the impugned order also do not contain any reply to the solitary ground raised in the application under Section 47 C.P.C. and the only objection is application under Section 47 C.P.C. advanced during pressing submissions was that the application had been filed with an intention to cause delay in execution proceedings- The opposite party is claiming is that although he was deprived of the possession of the land in the year 1984, he should be paid compensation at the rates prevalent on 19.04.2010, i.e., 26 years later, and he should be given interest on the amount of compensation calculated at the rates prevalent on 19.04.2010, since 31.12.1984. This claim is not equitable.

Held- LARA had no jurisdiction to award interest for any period prior to 19.04.2010 – the date of issuance of the notification under Section 4(1) of the Land Acquisition Act. It is settled law that the plea of lack of jurisdiction can be raised at any stage, even during execution proceedings by filing an application under Section 47 CPC. LARA has passed the impugned orders without dealing with the plea of lack of jurisdiction raised by the petitioner which makes the orders unsustainable in law- Petition allowed. (E-15)

Case Law Cited

Sadhana Lodh v. National Insurance Co. Ltd.: (2003) 3 SCC 524; . C.G. Thampi v. Jyothis: 2022 SCC OnLine Ker 704; Tapan Chandra Deb Barma v. Dulal Chandra Deb Barma: 1979 SCC OnLine Gau 17; State of A.P. v. V. Sarma Rao: (2007) 2 SCC 159; Bhavnagar University v. Palitana Sugar Mill (P) Ltd.: (2003) 2 SCC 111,; Shiv Shakti Coop. Housing Society v. Swaraj Developers: (2003) 6 SCC 659; Shalini Shyam Shetty v. Rajendra Shankar Patil: (2010) 8 SCC 329; Union of India v. Budh Singh: (1995) 6 SCC 233; R.L. Jain (D) by LRs. Vs. DDA and others: (2004) 4 SCC 79; Madishetti Bala Ramul v. Land Acquisition Officer: (2007) 9 SCC 650; Tahera Khotoon v. Land Acquisition Officer: (2014) 13 SCC 613; Dhanush Vir Singh v. Ila Sharma: 2024 SCC OnLine All 3693

List of Acts

The Constitution of India, 1950; The Code of Civil Procedure, 1908; The Land Acquisition Act, 1894

List of Keywords

Section 4 Land Acquisition Act; Payment of interest; from the date; issuance of notification u/s 4; plea of lack of jurisdiction; raised at any stage; even during execution proceedings

Case Arising From

Petitioner has challenged the validity of three orders passed by the Land Acquisition and Rehabilitation and Resettlement Authority, Lucknow in Execution Case No. 42 of 2024 (i) an order dated 25.09.2025, whereby the petitioner's objections against a calculation chart submitted by the opposite party have been rejected, (ii) an order dated 19.12.2025, whereby the petitioner's application under Section 47 C.P.C. has been rejected and (iii) an order dated 23.12.2025 rejecting the petitioner's objections against the decree holder's application under Order XXI, Rule 37 CPC.

Appearances for Parties

Counsel for Petitioner(s) : Bhanu Bajpai, Counsel for Respondent(s) : Amit Jaiswal, Ankit Verma, Ashish Kumar Singh

(Delivered by Hon'ble Subhash Vidyarthi, J.)

1. Heard Sri Mukund Tiwari, Senior Advocate, assisted by Sri Bhanu Bajpai, Advocate, the learned counsel for the petitioner, Sri Amit Jaiswal, Advocate, the learned counsel for the opposite party and perused the records.

2. By means of the instant petition filed under Article 227 of the Constitution of India, the petitioner has challenged the validity of three orders passed by the Land Acquisition and Rehabilitation and Resettlement Authority, Lucknow (hereinafter referred to as "the LARA") in Execution Case No. 42 of 2024 titled Prem Chandra Vs. State and another namely - (i) an order dated 25.09.2025, whereby the petitioner"s objections against a calculation chart submitted by the opposite party have been rejected, (ii) an order dated 19.12.2025, whereby the petitioner"s application under Section 47 C.P.C. has been rejected and (iii)"an order dated 23.12.2025 rejecting the petitioner"s objections against the decree holder"s application under Order XXI, Rule 37 CPC.

3. Sri. Amit Jaiswal, the learned counsel for the opposite party has raised a preliminary objection that the petitioner has got the remedy of challenging these orders by filing a revision under Section 115 CPC and, therefore, the petition under Article 227 is not maintainable. In support of this contention he has relied upon a judgment of a Single Judge Bench of the High Court of Kerala at Ernakulam in the cases of C.G. Thampi v. Jyothis: 2022 SCC OnLine Ker 704, Tapan Chandra Deb Barma v. Dulal Chandra Deb Barma: 1979 SCC OnLine Gau 17, Sadhana Lodh v. National Insurance Co. Ltd.: (2003) 3 SCC 524,

4. In Sadhana Lodh v. National Insurance Co. Ltd.: (2003) 3 SCC 524, it was held that: -

"7."The supervisory jurisdiction conferred on the High Courts under Article 227 of the Constitution is confined only to see whether an inferior court or tribunal has proceeded within its parameters and not to correct an error apparent on the face of the record, much less of an error of law. In exercising the supervisory power under Article 227 of the Constitution, the High Court does not act as an appellate court or the tribunal. It is also not permissible to a High Court on a petition filed under Article 227 of the Constitution to review or reweigh the evidence upon which the inferior court or tribunal purports to have passed the order or to correct errors of law in the decision.

8."For the aforesaid reasons, we are of the view that since the insurer has a remedy by filing an appeal before the High Court, the High Court ought not to have entertained the petition under Articles 226/227 of the Constitution and for that reason, the judgment and order under challenge deserves to be set aside. We, accordingly, set aside the judgment and order under appeal. The appeal is allowed. There shall be no order as to costs. However, it would be open to the insurer to file an appeal if it is permissible under the law."

5. In C. G. Thampi v. Jyothis: 2022 SCC OnLine Ker 704, it was held that: -

"...wherever the proceedings are under the Code of Civil Procedure and the forum is the Civil Court, the availability of a remedy under CPC, will deter the High Court, not merely as a measure of self imposed restriction, but as a matter of discipline and prudence, from exercising its power of superintendence under the Constitution. Hence the High Court ought not to have entertained the Revision under Article 227 of the Constitution of India, in a case where a specific remedy of appeal is provided under the code of Civil Procedure. Further the availability of such a remedy under the Code of Civil Procedure to be construed as near to total bar for the remedy under Article 227 of the Constitution of India."

6. In Tapan Chandra Deb Barma v. Dulal Chandra Deb Barma: 1979 SCC OnLine Gau 17 : AIR 1980 Gau 3, it was held that determinations made under Section 47 of the CPC on or after 01.02.1977 are not decrees and therefore not appealable, The Gauhati High Court ordered the appellate Court to return the memorandum of appeals for due presentation before the High Court as revisions.

7. Per contra, Sri. Mukund Tiwari, the learned Senior Counsel appearing for the petitioner, has invited attention of the Court to the provision contained in Section 53 of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, which is as follows: -

"53. Code of Civil Procedure to apply to proceedings before Court.- Save in so far as they may be inconsistent with anything contained in this Act, the provision of the"Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, shall apply to all proceedings before the Court under this Act."

8. The definition of Court given in Section 3(d) of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894 is as follows: -

"(d) the expression "Court"means a principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction, unless the"appropriate Government has appointed (as it is hereby empowered to do) a special judicial officer within any specified local limits to perform the functions of the Court under this Act"

9. The State Government has issued a Notification dated 04.08.2022 authorising the Presiding Officers of the Land Acquisition and Rehabilitation and Resettlement Authority to perform the duties of Courts and that declaring that they shall work as Special Judicial Officers. Thereafter the Government Order dated 21.02.2024 has clarified that the Presiding Officers of the Land Acquisition and Rehabilitation and Resettlement Authority are also authorised to adjudicate upon all the pending matters under the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, including the execution cases.

10. The learned Counsel for the petitioner has submitted that while deciding cases under the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, LARA acts as a Court under the Land Acquisition Act hence the provision of the"Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, shall apply to all proceedings before the LARA. However, in the case of State of A.P. v. V. Sarma Rao: (2007) 2 SCC 159, the Hon"ble Supreme Court has held that: -

"12.... Despite applicability of the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure (CPC) in relation to the proceedings pending before it, its substantive part is not applicable. A right of appeal is provided for under Section 96 of the Civil Procedure Code. Such appeals are to be filed before the forums laid down under the Civil Procedure Code or the courts governed by the statute. However, no appeal from a judgment of the Land Acquisition Judge can be filed before the Principal Court of civil jurisdiction or in other words, the District Judge of the district, as such appeals lie only before the High Court. No appeal"ex facie"or filed against the order passed by the Reference Court is maintainable before the District Judge."

11. Sri. Tiwari has submitted that the provision under Section 115 of CPC is also a substantive provision like the substantive provision of appeal under Section 96 CPC. Therefore, in view of the law laid down in State of A.P. v. V. Sarma Rao (Supra), revision under Section 115 CPC would not lie against an order passed by LARA.

12. The learned Counsel for the opposite party has submitted that State of A.P. v. V. Sarma Rao (Supra) was decided in view of the peculiar facts of that case and it does not lay down a general principle of universal application that no revision would lie against an order passed by LARA. He has placed reliance on the judgment in the case of Bhavnagar University v. Palitana Sugar Mill (P) Ltd.: (2003) 2 SCC 111, wherein the Hon"ble Supreme Court held that a decision is an authority for which it is decided and not what can logically be deduced therefrom.

13. I agree with the submission of the learned Counsel for the opposite party that State of A.P. v. V. Sarma Rao (Supra) does not lay down that an order passed by LARA is not amenable to revisional jurisdiction under Section 115 CPC. In Shiv Shakti Coop. Housing Society v. Swaraj Developers: (2003) 6 SCC 659, it was held that "It is fairly a well-settled position in law that the right of appeal is a substantive right. But there is no such substantive right in making an application under Section 115". The Hon"ble Supreme Court clarified that "Section 115 is essentially a source of power for the High Court to supervise the subordinate courts. It does not in any way confer a right on a litigant aggrieved by any order of the subordinate court to approach the High Court for relief. The scope for making a revision under Section 115 is not linked with a substantive right."

14. The learned counsel for the petitioner has next submitted that although the order rejecting the application under Section 47 CPC may be amenable to the revisional jurisdiction of this court,"the other two orders do not fall within the category of "case decided"and, therefore, those are not amenable to the revisional jurisdiction of this court. He has submitted that when three orders passed in the same proceedings between the same set of parties are required to be challenged before this court, challenging one order by filing a revision under Section 115 CPC, whereas filing a petition under Article 227 of the Constitution of India for challenging the validity of the other two orders, will only lead to multiplicity of proceedings. Moreover, the power of superintendence conferred upon this court under Article 227 of the Constitution of India is not abridge the revisional power of this court under Section 115 CPC.

15. Sri. Mukund Tiwari Senior Advocate has relied upon the judgment in the case of Shalini Shyam Shetty v. Rajendra Shankar Patil: (2010) 8 SCC 329, in which the Hon"ble Supreme Court considered various precedents on the point of scope of interference under Article 227 of the Constitution of India and summarised the following principles: -

"48."The jurisdiction under Article 226 normally is exercised where a party is affected but power under Article 227 can be exercised by the High Court suo motu as a custodian of justice. In fact, the power under Article 226 is exercised in favour of persons or citizens for vindication of their fundamental rights or other statutory rights. The jurisdiction under Article 227 is exercised by the High Court for vindication of its position as the highest judicial authority in the State. In certain cases where there is infringement of fundamental right, the relief under Article 226 of the Constitution can be claimed ex debito justitiae or as a matter of right. But in cases where the High Court exercises its jurisdiction under Article 227, such exercise is entirely discretionary and no person can claim it as a matter of right. From an order of a Single Judge passed under Article 226, a letters patent appeal or an intra-court appeal is maintainable. But no such appeal is maintainable from an order passed by a Single Judge of a High Court in exercise of power under Article 227. In almost all the High Courts, rules have been framed for regulating the exercise of jurisdiction under Article 226. No such rule appears to have been framed for exercise of High Court's power under Article 227 possibly to keep such exercise entirely in the domain of the discretion of High Court.

49."On an analysis of the aforesaid decisions of this Court, the following principles on the exercise of High Court's jurisdiction under Article 227 of the Constitution may be formulated:

(a) A petition under Article 226 of the Constitution is different from a petition under Article 227. The mode of exercise of power by the High Court under these two articles is also different.

(b) In any event, a petition under Article 227 cannot be called a writ petition. The history of the conferment of writ jurisdiction on High Courts is substantially different from the history of conferment of the power of superintendence on the High Courts under Article 227 and have been discussed above.

(c) High Courts cannot, at the drop of a hat, in exercise of its power of superintendence under Article 227 of the Constitution, interfere with the orders of tribunals or courts inferior to it. Nor can it, in exercise of this power, act as a court of appeal over the orders of the court or tribunal subordinate to it. In cases where an alternative statutory mode of redressal has been provided, that would also operate as a restrain on the exercise of this power by the High Court.

(d) The parameters of interference by High Courts in exercise of their power of superintendence have been repeatedly laid down by this Court. In this regard the High Court must be guided by the principles laid down by the Constitution Bench of this Court in"Waryam Singh"[AIR 1954 SC 215] and the principles in"Waryam Singh"[AIR 1954 SC 215] have been repeatedly followed by subsequent Constitution Benches and various other decisions of this Court.

(e) According to the ratio in"Waryam Singh"[AIR 1954 SC 215] , followed in subsequent cases, the High Court in exercise of its jurisdiction of superintendence can interfere in order only to keep the tribunals and courts subordinate to it, "within the bounds of their authority".

(f) In order to ensure that law is followed by such tribunals and courts by exercising jurisdiction which is vested in them and by not declining to exercise the jurisdiction which is vested in them.

(g) Apart from the situations pointed in (e) and (f), High Court can interfere in exercise of its power of superintendence when there has been a patent perversity in the orders of the tribunals and courts subordinate to it or where there has been a gross and manifest failure of justice or the basic principles of natural justice have been flouted.

(h) In exercise of its power of superintendence High Court cannot interfere to correct mere errors of law or fact or just because another view than the one taken by the tribunals or courts subordinate to it, is a possible view. In other words the jurisdiction has to be very sparingly exercised.

(i) The High Court's power of superintendence under Article 227 cannot be curtailed by any statute. It has been declared a part of the basic structure of the Constitution by the Constitution Bench of this Court in"L. Chandra Kumar"v."Union of India"[(1997) 3 SCC 261 : 1997 SCC (L&S) 577] and therefore abridgment by a constitutional amendment is also very doubtful.

(j) It may be true that a statutory amendment of a rather cognate provision, like Section 115 of the Civil Procedure Code by the Civil Procedure Code (Amendment) Act, 1999 does not and cannot cut down the ambit of High Court's power under Article 227. At the same time, it must be remembered that such statutory amendment does not correspondingly expand the High Court's jurisdiction of superintendence under Article 227.

(k) The power is discretionary and has to be exercised on equitable principle. In an appropriate case, the power can be exercised suo motu.

(l) On a proper appreciation of the wide and unfettered power of the High Court under Article 227, it transpires that the main object of this article is to keep strict administrative and judicial control by the High Court on the administration of justice within its territory.

(m) The object of superintendence, both administrative and judicial, is to maintain efficiency, smooth and orderly functioning of the entire machinery of justice in such a way as it does not bring it into any disrepute. The power of interference under this article is to be kept to the minimum to ensure that the wheel of justice does not come to a halt and the fountain of justice remains pure and unpolluted in order to maintain public confidence in the functioning of the tribunals and courts subordinate to the High Court.

(n) This reserve and exceptional power of judicial intervention is not to be exercised just for grant of relief in individual cases but should be directed for promotion of public confidence in the administration of justice in the larger public interest whereas Article 226 is meant for protection of individual grievance. Therefore, the power under Article 227 may be unfettered but its exercise is subject to high degree of judicial discipline pointed out above.

(o) An improper and a frequent exercise of this power will be counterproductive and will divest this extraordinary power of its strength and vitality."

16. The learned counsel for the opposite party has not placed any judgment in support of his submission that the orders dated 25.09.2025 and 23.12.2025 would fall within the category of "case decided"and would be amenable to the revisional jurisdiction of this court.

17. I find force in the submission of the learned Counsel for the petitioner that although the order rejecting the application under Section 47 CPC may be amenable to the revisional jurisdiction of this court,"the other two orders do not fall within the category of "case decided"and, therefore, those are not amenable to the revisional jurisdiction of this court. When three orders passed in the same proceedings between the same set of parties are required to be challenged before this court, challenging one order by filing a revision under Section 115 CPC, whereas filing a petition under Article 227 of the Constitution of India for challenging the validity of the other two orders, will only lead to multiplicity of proceedings. The power of superintendence conferred upon this court under Article 227 of the Constitution of India is not abridge the revisional power of this court under Section 115 CPC and this power can be exercised where the order under challenge suffers from a patent error of jurisdiction which can be established without any detailed factual inquiry.

18. In view of the foregoing discussion, I turn down the preliminary objection that the petition is not maintainable and I proceed to examine the merits of the case.

19. Grievance of the petitioner is that under provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, interest can be paid since the date of notification under Section 4 and not prior to it. In Union of India v. Budh Singh: (1995) 6 SCC 233, the Hon"ble Supreme Court held that the question whether the respondents-owners of the lands are entitled to interest from the date on which possession was initially taken, preceding the date on which the notification under Section 4(1) was published, is a jurisdictional issue and the finding in this behalf touches and trenches into the jurisdictional power of the court, acting under the Act regarding award of interest. This is the precise issue involved in the present case, where the LARA has awarded interest since prior to the notification.

20. The dispute between the parties emanates from an award dated 12.07.2012, passed by the Land Acquisition Officer Nagar Mahapalika-I, Lucknow / Additional District Magistrate, Lucknow. The award states that a notification under Section 4/17 of the Land Acquisition Act was issued on 19.04.2010 and a notification under Section 6/17 of the Land Acquisition Act was published on 04.01.2011. As against the date of taking possession of the acquired land, the award states that the land is in possession of the petitioner since before. The award directs payment of interest from the date of taking possession of the land.

21. The opposite party had filed a reference no.119 of 2015, which was decided by LARA by means of a judgment and order dated 10.04.2024. The following issues were framed by the authority: -

"1."Whether the compensation declared by the Special Land Acquisition Officer is improper and insufficient, if yes, what was the market value of the property on the date of publication of the notification under Section 4 of the Land Acquisition Act?

2."Other relief which the claimant is entitled to."

22. Apparently, no issue was framed regarding the date of taking possession of the land. However, while deciding issue no.1, the authority has held that it is clear that possession of the land had been taken in the year 1983-84, but as the date of taking possession has not been ascertained, the authority assumed 30.12.1984 to be the date of taking over possession. LARA held that the claimant is entitled to get compensation at the market"value of the land as on the date of issuance of the notification under Section 4 of the Land Acquisition Act, i.e., 19.04.2010, which was Rs.6,771/- per square meter. The opposite party was also held entitled to receive interest at the rate of 12% from the date of notification i.e. 09.04.2010 till the date of the award, i.e., 12.07.2012 and 30% solatium. The opposite party was further held entitled to get interest at the rate of 9% per annum from the date of possession i.e. 30.12.1984, for a period of one year and thereafter interest at the rate of 15%.

23. The aforesaid order dated 10.04.2024, passed in reference has been challenged by filing a belated appeal which is yet to be admitted."The delay has not yet been condoned and the appeal is yet to be admitted.

24. The opposite party filed Execution Case No.42 of 2024 for execution of the award passed in reference. The opposite party "decree holder filed a calculation chart calculating interest from the date of possession and not from the date of the notification under Section 4 of the Land Acquisition Act. The petitioner filed objections against it and filed its own calculation chart calculating interest from the date of notification under Section 4 of the Act. The LARA rejected the petitioner"s objection by means of the impugned order dated 25.09.2025 (Annexure No.2 to the petition) by holding that the petitioner had not taken possession of the land after its acquisition and it had been taken earlier. The award states that the interest will be payable from the date of taking over possession of the land. Therefore, the objections of the petitioner against the calculation chart calculating interest from the date of possession i.e. 31.12.1984 were rejected and"the calculation chart of the petitioner calculating interest from the date of notification under Section 4 of the Act was also rejected. The authority accepted the calculation chart of the opposite party-decree holder for calculating interest from the date of possession.

25. Thereafter the petitioner filed an application under Section 47 CPC, stating that interest can only be awarded from the date of notification under Section 4 and not from any date prior to initiation of proceedings under the Land Acquisition Act. The award of interest from the date of taking possession on 30.12.1984 is without jurisdiction and, therefore, the award cannot be executed to the extent it awards interest for the period prior to the notification under Section 4 of the Land Acquisition Act. In support of this contention the petitioner relied upon the judgment of the Hon"ble Supreme Court in the case of R.L. Jain (D) by LRs. Vs. DDA and others: (2004) 4 SCC 79.

26. From the record it appears that the opposite party did not file any objection against the petitioner's application under Section 47 C.P.C."

27. The application has been rejected by means of the impugned order dated 19.12.2025, wherein the objection raised in the application under Section 47 C.P.C. is mentioned and it is mentioned that counsel for the opposite party-decree holder opposed the application under Section 47 C.P.C. stating that the petitioner is merely causing delay in execution proceedings. The authority has held in the impugned order that a sum of Rs.15,33,11,140/- has already been attached as per the report (C-17) submitted by the accounts officer and the judgment debtor has made an endorsement "no objection". The grounds raised in the application under Section 47 CPC amounts to questioning the validity of the award. The award has been challenged in First Appeal No.84 of 2024, wherein no interim order has been passed. The authority held that the application had been filed merely to cause delay in execution proceedings and accordingly rejected the application."

28. A bare perusal of the order dated 19.12.2025 indicates that it nowhere assigns any reason for rejecting the objection of the petitioner that the Land Acquisition Act does not stipulate payment of interest from a date prior to issuance of notification under Section 4 of the Act which was the sole ground raised in the application under Section 47 C.P.C. The submissions of the learned counsel for the opposite party-decree holder recorded in the impugned order also do not contain any reply to the solitary ground raised in the application under Section 47 C.P.C. and the only objection is application under Section 47 C.P.C. advanced during pressing submissions was that the application had been filed with an intention to cause delay in execution proceedings.

29. Section 34 of the Land Acquisition Act contains provision for payment of interest and it provides as follows: -

"34. Payment of interest. -When the amount of such compensation is not paid or deposited on or before taking possession of the land, the Collector shall pay the amount awarded with interest thereon at the rate of"nine per centum per annum from the time of so taking possession until it shall have been so paid or deposited:

Provided that if such compensation or any part thereof is not paid or deposited within a period of one year from the date on which possession is taken, interest at the rate of fifteen per centum per annum shall be payable from the date of expiry of the said period of one year on the amount of compensation or part thereof which has not been paid or deposited before the date of such expiry."

30. The other provision relevant for payment of interest is Section 28, which provides as follows: -

"28. Collector may be directed to pay interest on excess compensation. - If the sum which, in the opinion of the Court, the Collector ought to have awarded as compensation is in excess of the sum which the Collector did award as compensation, the award of the Court may direct that the Collector shall pay interest on such excess at the rate of"53[nine per centum] per annum from the date on which he took possession of the land to the date of payment of such excess into Court.

Provided that the award of the Court may also direct that where such excess or any part thereof is paid into Court after the date of expiry of a period of one year from the date on which possession is taken, interest at the rate of' fifteen per centum per annum, shall be payable from the date of expiry of the said period of one year on the amount of such excess or part thereof which has not been paid into Court before the date of such expiry."

31. In Union of India v. Budh Singh: (1995) 6 SCC 233, the Hon"ble Supreme Court held that: -

"5.""the statute covers the entire field of operation of the liability of the State to make payment of interest and entitlement thereof by the owner when land has been taken over and possession in consequence thereof, the land owner was deprived of the enjoyment thereof. Thus, it could be seen that the court has no power to impose any condition to pay interest in excess of the rate and manner prescribed by the statute as well as for a period anterior to the publication of Section 4(1) notification under the Act. The parameter for initiation of the proceedings is the publication of the notification under Section 4(1) of the Act in the State Gazette or in an appropriate case in District Gazette as per the local amendments. But the condition precedent is publication of the notification under Section 4(1) in the appropriate gazette. That would give legitimacy to the State to take possession of the land in accordance with the provisions of the Act. Any possession otherwise would not be considered to be possession taken under the Act. In fact, a situation has been envisaged under Section 48(2) of the Act, namely, that when proceedings under the Act were initiated and in the midstream the proceedings were dropped, the owner who has been deprived of the enjoyment of the property, the statute prescribes the remedy of determination of the amount of compensation due to the owner for the damages suffered by the owner in consequence of the notice of the proceedings under the Act. The statute also imposes liability on the State to reimburse the costs incurred by the owner to defend the proceedings under the Act. The Act is a self-contained code and common law principles of justice, equity and good conscience cannot be extended in awarding interest, contrary to the provisions of the statute."

32. In R.L. Jain v. DDA: (2004) 4 SCC 79, the Hon"ble Supreme Court discussed numerous precedents, ncluding the case of Budh Singh (Supra) and concluded that: -

"17.1."The normal rule, therefore, is that if on account of acquisition of land a person is deprived of possession of his property he should be paid compensation immediately and if the same is not paid to him forthwith he would be entitled to interest thereon from the date of dispossession till the date of payment thereof. But here the land has been acquired only after the preliminary notification was issued on 9-9-1992 as earlier acquisition proceedings were declared to be null and void in the suit instituted by the landowner himself and consequently, he was not entitled to compensation or interest thereon for the anterior period.

18."In a case where the landowner is dispossessed prior to the issuance of preliminary notification under Section 4(1) of the Act the Government merely takes possession of the land but the title thereof continues to vest with the landowner. It is fully open for the landowner to recover the possession of his land by taking appropriate legal proceedings. He is therefore only entitled to get rent or damages for use and occupation for the period the Government retains possession of the property. Where possession is taken prior to the issuance of the preliminary notification, in our opinion, it will be just and equitable that the Collector may also determine the rent or damages for use of the property to which the landowner is entitled while determining the compensation amount payable to the landowner for the acquisition of the property. The provisions of Section 48 of the Act lend support to such a course of action. For delayed payment of such amount appropriate interest at prevailing bank rate may be awarded.

19."The case may be examined from the equitable consideration as well. In the earlier acquisition proceedings the notification under Section 4(1) had been published on 13-11-1959 and the Collector had made an award for Rs. 6301 for the plot in dispute on 30-12-1961. The award was made within 1"months of dispossession which allegedly took place on 10-11-1961. This amount was paid to R.L. Jain and was retained by him. Learned counsel for the respondent has placed before the Court a copy of the sale certificate issued in favour of R.L. Jain on 31-8-1961 which shows that the plot was purchased by him for Rs. 3200 only and thus he had received almost double amount of compensation. Therefore, even on equitable ground he is not entitled to any amount from the date of dispossession till the date of second notification under Section 4(1) of the Act which was issued in 1992."

33. The learned Counsel for the opposite party has submitted that in R.L. Jain v. DDA (supra), the Hon"ble Supreme Court held that if on account of acquisition of land a person is deprived of possession of his property he should be paid compensation immediately and if the same is not paid to him forthwith he would be entitled to interest thereon from the date of dispossession till the date of payment thereof.

34. Sri. Jaiswal has also relied upon the following observation made in Madishetti Bala Ramul v. Land Acquisition Officer: (2007) 9 SCC 650: -

"20."In the peculiar facts and circumstances of the case, although the proper course for us would have to remand the matter back to the Collector to determine the amount of compensation to which the appellants would be entitled for being remained out of possession since 1979, we are of the opinion that the interest of justice would be met if this appeal is disposed of with a direction that additional interest @ 15% per annum on the amount awarded in terms of award dated 2-1-1999 for the period 16-3-1979 till 22-12-1991, should be granted, which, in our opinion, would meet the ends of justice."

35. The learned Counsel for the opposite party as also relied upon the judgment in the case of Tahera Khotoon v. Land Acquisition Officer: (2014) 13 SCC 613, wherein the Hon"ble Supreme Court referred to the decisions in the cases of R.L. Jain"v."DDA"(supra) and"Madishetti Bala Ramul"(supra) and held that: -

"13."Keeping in view the peculiar facts and circumstances of the case, we are of the opinion that the exercise that has been done by this Court in"Madishetti Bala Ramul"requires to be adopted.

14."In the instant case, it is not in dispute nor can it be disputed by either side that the property in dispute was in possession of the Warangal Municipal Committee. In fact the said Municipal Committee had developed the aforesaid land into a park. Since there was a dispute among the owners of the land with the Municipal Committee, the Municipal Committee had sought the assistance of the State Government to acquire the property and to hand over the same to the Municipal Committee for its use and development.

15."It is also not in dispute that the Municipal Committee was in possession of the aforesaid property right from 1-1-1938 till the Notification was issued by the State Government on 10-1-1996. Keeping in view the observations made by this Court in"Madishetti Bala Ramul, we direct the State Government to pay rents/damages at the rate of 15% on the compensation awarded from the date the landowners were dispossessed, namely, from 1-1-1938 till the date of issuance of the preliminary Notification i.e. 10-1-1996. The calculations shall be made by the State Government as expeditiously as possible and disburse the aforesaid amount to the appellants as early as possible, at any rate, within three months from the date of receipt of copy of this order."

36. The learned Counsel for the opposite party has submitted that the award in question awards interest since the date of taking over possession to compensate the undue loss suffered by the opposite party by illegally being deprived of the possession of his property without its acquisition.

37. In the present case, the land has been acquired only after a notification under Section 4 of the Act was issued on 09.09.1992, as the earlier acquisition proceedings were declared to be null and void in the suit instituted by the opposite party himself. Neither the opposite party had claimed the relief for payment of compensation for having been deprived of possession of the land, nor was the said relief granted to him.

38. As has already been discussed above, the Land Acquisition Act, 1894 does not contain any provision for payment of interest for a period anterior to issuance of the notification under Section

4 of the Act. The Act contains a provision for payment of additional compensation in Section 23 (1-A), which is as follows: -

"(1A) In addition to the market value of the land above provided, the Court shall in every case award an amount calculated at the rate of twelve per centum per annum on such market-value for the period commencing on and from the date of the publication of the notification under section 4, sub-section (1), in respect of such land to the date of the award of the Collector or the date of taking possession of the land, whichever is earlier.

Explanation.-In computing the period referred to in this sub-section, any period or periods during which the proceedings for the acquisition of the land were held up on account of any stay or injunction by the order of any court"shall"be excluded."

39. Section 23 (1-A) of the Act also provides for payment of additional amount calculated at the rate of twelve per cent per annum on the market value of the land for the period commencing on and from the date of the notification under section 4 (1) to the date of the award or the date of taking possession of the land, whichever is earlier. This provision also stipulates payment of additional amount only after the date of issuance of notification under Section 4 (1) but the amount will be calculated till the date of the award or the date of taking possession, whichever is earlier. It does not stipulate payment of any additional amount for any period prior to issuance of a notification under Section 4 of the Act.

40. Payment of interest for a period prior to issuance of the notification under Section 4 of the Land Acquisition Act is based on equitable considerations because a person who has been deprived of the use and enjoyment of his land, should be provided compensation in respect of the same. However, the Land Acquisition Act provides that the amount of compensation shall be determined considering the value of the land as on the date of notification under Section 4 of Land Acquisition Act and interest will also be payable from the same date. Equity demands that the land owner should be granted compensatory benefits from the date he is deprived of the enjoyment of the possession of his land. In case we reconcile the statutory provisions with equitable considerations, the opposite party has the statutory right to receive compensation at the rates prevalent on the date of notification under Section 4(1) of the Act, i.e., from 19.04.2010 and he is entitled to receive interest on this amount from 19.04.2010. On equitable considerations, the opposite party was entitled to receive compensation on the date of being deprived of the possession and enjoyment of his land, i.e. 31.12.1984 and in that case, the compensation will be payable at the rates prevalent on 31.12.1984 and he would get interest on this amount since 31.12.1984.

41. However, in the present case, although the opposite party is said to have been deprived of the possession of his land in the year 1984, the rate of compensation has been assessed on the value of the land prevailing on the date of notification under Section 4 i.e. the 19.04.2010, which obviously is many times higher than the rates prevalent on 31.12.1984. What the opposite party is claiming is that although he was deprived of the possession of the land in the year 1984, he should be paid compensation at the rates prevalent on 19.04.2010, i.e., 26 years later, and he should be given interest on the amount of compensation calculated at the rates prevalent on 19.04.2010, since 31.12.1984. This claim is not equitable.

42. Had the opposite party claimed and was paid land acquisition compensation on equitable considerations promptly after taking over possession of the land in the year 1984, he would have got the same at the rates prevalent in the year 1984 and in that case, he would be entitled to receive interest on the amount payable in the year 1984 from the date of taking possession till the date of making payment. However, neither the opposite party claimed compensation immediately after taking over possession of the land, nor was the same paid to him. The amount of compensation has now been assessed as on the date of notification under Section 4(1) of the Act, i.e. 19.04.2010, which was Rs.6,771/- per square meter and he has been awarded interest at the rate of 12% from the date of notification i.e. 09.04.2010 till the date of the award, i.e., 12.07.2012 and 30% solatium. The opposite party was further held entitled to get interest at the rate of 9% per annum from the date of possession i.e. 30.12.1984, for a period of one year and thereafter interest at the rate of 15%. The delay of 26 years between taking over possession of the land and issuance of the notification under Section 4 has resulted in the compensation being assessed at the rates prevalent 26 years after the date of taking over possession, which in any case, is much higher than the amount that would be payable had the compensation been determined in the year 1984, when the possession was taken and interest would be added on it. Therefore, the opposite party stands adequately compensated even on equitable considerations by assessment of compensation at the rates prevalent 26 years after the date of taking possession of the land.

43. The learned counsel for the opposite party has submitted that the intent of the State for acquisition of the land was expressed on the date of publication of notification under Section 4 i.e. 19.04.2010 and therefore the compensation is to be assessed as on 14.04.2010. If this submission is accepted interest will also be payable since 19.04.2010 since no intent for acquisition had been expressed prior to that.

44. In view of the foregoing discussions, I am of the view that the LARA had no jurisdiction to award interest for any period prior to 19.04.2010 "the date of issuance of the notification under Section 4(1) of the Land Acquisition Act. It is settled law that the plea of lack of jurisdiction can be raised at any stage, even during execution proceedings by filing an application under Section 47 CPC. LARA has passed the impugned orders dated 25.09.2025 and 19.12.2025, without dealing with the plea of lack of jurisdiction raised by the petitioner which makes the orders unsustainable in law.

45. Accordingly, the impugned orders dated 25.09.2025 and 19.12.2025 are set aside. It is held that the opposite party is entitled to receive interest on the amount of compensation from the date of notification under Section 4 i.e. 19.04.2010.

46. Now, I proceed to deal with the legality of the order dated 23.12.2025 rejecting the petitioner's objection that any officer of the petitioner cannot be arrested in execution proceedings for execution of the award passed against the petitioner. The learned Counsel for the petitioner has placed reliance on a judgment in the case of Dhanush Vir Singh v. Ila Sharma: 2024 SCC OnLine All 3693, wherein the moot question for consideration was whether the Directors/Authorized representatives of a Limited Company can be arrested and detained in civil prison for execution of a money decree against the company or so to say whether the directors/authorized representatives of the company are bound in a representative capacity for the judgment debtor company for the execution of the said decree. A coordinate Bench of this Court has held that there is no provision in the"CPC"which provides for execution of a money decree against the judgment debtor company by effecting arrest and detention of its employee, director or General Manager. The learned Counsel for the petitioner has submitted that the petitioner Lucknow Development Authority is a body corporate and its officers cannot be arrested for effecting execution of an award or a decree issued against the Authority.

47. Opposing this submission of the learned counsel for the petitioner, the learned counsel for the opposite party has submitted that the petitioner Lucknow Development Authority is a juristic person and it acts through the natural persons who are in-charge of its affairs. Therefore, for any default committed by the petitioner Lucknow Development Authority as a judgment debtor, where the statute permits incarceration of the judgment debtor, the judgment debtor being a juristic person, the natural persons who are in charge and responsible for the affairs of the petitioner will have to undergo incarceration. However, the learned counsel for the opposite party has not submitted any case law in support of this submission.

48. Keeping in view the law laid down in Dhanush Vir Singh v. Ila Sharma (supra), I am of the view that the executing court has no authority to order arrest and detention of the officers and officials of the petitioner "judgment debtor for execution of the order passed against the petitioner "judgment debtor. Therefore, the impugned order dated 23.12.2025 is also unsustainable in law and the same is also set aside.

49. It will be open for LARA to proceed with the execution of the award in question in accordance with the provisions provided in the CPC by taking appropriate steps against the Lucknow Development Authority itself and not taking any coercive measure against the persons who are holding any post or office in Lucknow Development Authority.

50. The petition stands allowed in the aforesaid terms.

(2026) 2 ILRA 750
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 13.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SUBHASH VIDYARTHI, J.

Matters Under Article 227 No. 555 of 2026

Mohd. Shakeel ...Petitioner
Versus
Munni Devi & Ors. ...Respondents

Issue for Consideration

Whether the action of alienation in favour of the opposite party no. 4 is not bona fide and the opposite party no. 4 is entitled to be impleaded under the provisions contained in Order XXII Rule 10 C.P.C.

Head Notes

The Constitution of India, 1950-Article 227; The Code of Civil Procedure, 1908-Order XXII Rule 10, Order I Rule 10, Order IX Rule 13; The Transfer of Property Act, 1882- Section 58- There is nothing in the present case to even prima facie establish that the action of alienation in favour of the opposite party no. 4 is not bona fide. In absence of the alienation being held to be not bona fide, the opposite party no. 4 is entitled to be impleaded under the provisions contained in Order XXII Rule 10 C.P.C- The suit proceeded with and decreed ex-parte and there is nothing on record to show that the defendant had knowledge of the temporary injunction order. Therefore, it cannot be said that the sale deed had been executed in deliberate violation of the temporary injunction order- The plaintiff himself had filed an application for impleadment of opposite party no. 4 in the execution proceeding which application was allowed by means of an order dated 30.09.2013. Thereafter the ex-parte decree was set aside upon an application filed by the opposite party no. 4. These facts also provide support to the claim for impleadment of the opposite party no. 4 as a defendant to the suit.

Held- No error or illegality in the impugned order- Petition lacks merit and the same is hereby dismissed at the admission stage. (E-15)

(Para 19, 22, 23 & 25)

Case Law Cited

Amit Kumar Shaw v. Farida Khatoon: (2005) 11 SCC 403,; Anil Kumar Singh v. Shivnath Mishra: (1995) 3 SCC 147; Vijay Pratap v. Sambhu Saran Sinha: (1996) 10 SCC 53; Bibi Zubaida Khatoon v. Nabi Hassan Saheb; Gurmit Singh Bhatia v. Kiran Kant Robinson: (2020) 13 SCC 77;

List of Acts

The Constitution of India, 1950; The Code of Civil Procedure, 1908; The Transfer of Property Act, 1882

List of Keywords

Order 1 Rule 10; Order XXII Rule 10; Opposite Party No.4 entitled to be impleaded; No knowledge of temporary injunction; Alienation being held to be not bona fide

Case Arising From

Order dated 13.03.2024 passed by the learned Additional Civil Judge (J.D.), Court No.48, Lucknow in Regular Suit No.973 of 2000 whereby an application filed by the third party- (the opposite party No.4 to the petition) has been allowed.

Appearances for Parties

Counsel for Petitioner(s) : Pramod Kumar, S.Mohd Kazim, Syed Jamal Ahmad
Counsel for Respondent(s) :

(Delivered by Hon'ble Subhash Vidyarthi, J.)

1. Heard Shri S. Mohd Kazim, the learned counsel for the petitioner.

2. By means of the instant petition filed under Article 227 of the Constitution of India, the petitioner has challenged the validity of an order dated 13.03.2024 passed by the learned Additional Civil Judge (J.D.), Court No.48, Lucknow in Regular Suit No.973 of 2000 titled Mohd. Shakeel v.

Munni Devi whereby an application filed by the third party- Babu Lal (the opposite party No.4 to the petition) has been allowed.

3. The petitioner had filed the aforesaid suit against Munni Devi, mother of the opposite party Nos.2 and 3- Ramesh Kumar and Naresh Kumar, for specific performance of contract. On 23.12.2000, the trial Court had passed an ex-parte order of temporary injunction restraining the defendant from selling the property to any other person and from changing the nature of the property. Thereafter, the suit was decreed ex-parte on 30.05.2002.

4. The plaintiff filed Execution Case No.08 of 2002 for execution of the ex-parte decree dated 30.05.2002.

5. Prior to filing of the Execution Case, the defendant ? judgment debtor Munni Devi had already executed a sale deed dated 26.03.2002 in respect of the property in question in favour of one Qadir Hussain and had handed-over physical possession of the property to the purchaser. The name of purchaser Qadir Hussain was mutated in the revenue records. Qadir Hussain executed a registered sale deed dated 15.02.2005 in respect of the property in question in favour of opposite party No.4 - Babu Lal and handed over possession of the property to the purchaser. The name of opposite party No.4- Babu Lal has been mutated in the revenue records.

6. The plaintiff - decree holder filed an application for impleadment of Qadir Hussain and Babu Lal in execution proceeding which application was allowed by means of an order dated 30.09.2013, and Qadir Hussain and Babu Lal were impleaded in the execution case. The opposite party no. 4 stated that prior to it, he had no knowledge of the execution proceedings.

7. The opposite party no. 4 filed an application for setting aside the ex-parte decree dated 30.05.2002, which application has been allowed by means of an order dated 07.08.2023. Thereafter the opposite party no. 4 requested for his impleadment in the suit.

8. The petitioner - Shakeel Ahmad filed objections against the application inter alia stating that the trial Court had passed a temporary injunction order dated 23.12.2000 restraining the defendants from transferring the property. Munni Devi had sold away the property to Qadir Hussain and their Qadir Hussain had sold the property to the opposite party no. 4 in violation of the provision contained in Section 58 of the Transfer of Property Act and the purchaser has no right to seek his impleadment. Regarding impleadment of the opposite party no. 4 in execution proceedings, the plaintiff stated that it was wrongly done by some other Counsel, whereas the newly engaged Counsel of the plaintiff was of a different view. The newly engaged Counsel had moved an application for deletion of the added defendants but the application under Order IX Rule 13 C.P.C. had been allowed. The plaintiff had challenged the order setting aside the ex-parte decree by filing Civil Revision No. 167 of 2023, which was pending in the Court of Additional District Judge, Court No. 9, Lucknow

9. The Trial Court allowed the impleadment application by means of the impugned order dated 13.03.2024 holding that the opposite party No.4 is a transferee pendente lite and he can seek his impleadment keeping in view the statutory provisions contained in Order I Rule 10 (2), Section 146 and Order XXII Rule 10 CPC. The Court also noted that the original defendant and her transferee having sold away the property are not interested in defending the proceedings. In these circumstances, non-impleadment of the opposite party No.4 would adversely affect his interests in the litigation. The Trial Court further held that the question of legality of the sale would be decided in the suit. The trial Court has relied upon the judgment of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Amit Kumar Shaw v. Farida Khatoon: (2005) 11 SCC 403 in which it has been held that a transferee pendente lite is a necessary party to the suit.

10. The petitioner had challenged the aforesaid order by filing Civil Revision No.65 of 2024 which has been dismissed by means of the judgment and order dated 17.11.2025 passed by the learned Additional District Judge, Court No.12, Lucknow and validity of the revisional order has also been challenged by the petitioner.

11. Assailing validity of the aforesaid orders, the learned counsel for the petitioner has placed reliance upon the judgments of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Anil Kumar Singh v. Shivnath Mishra (1995) 3 SCC 147, Vijay Pratap v. Sambhu Saran Sinha: (1996) 10 SCC 53, Bibi Zubaida Khatoon v. Nabi Hassan Saheb: (2004) 1 SCC 191 and Gurmit Singh Bhatia v. Kiran Kant Robinson: (2020) 13 SCC 773.

12. Section 52 of the Transfer of Property Act provides as follows: -

"52. Transfer of Property pending suit relating thereto. - During the pendency in any Court having authority within the limits of India excluding the State of Jammu and Kashmir or established beyond such limits by the Central Government, of any suit or proceeding which is not collusive and in which any right to immoveable property is directly and specifically in question, the property cannot be transferred or otherwise dealt with by any party to the suit or proceeding so as to affect the rights of any other party thereto under any decree or order which may be made therein, except under the authority of the Court and on such terms as it may impose.

Explanation.?For the purposes of this section, the pendency of a suit or proceeding shall be deemed to commence from the date of the presentation of the plaint or the institution of the proceeding in a court of competent jurisdiction, and to continue until the suit or proceeding has been disposed of by a final decree or order, and complete satisfaction or discharge of such decree or order, has been obtained, or has become unobtainable by reason of the expiration of any period of limitation prescribed for the execution thereof by any law for the time being in force."

13. Order I Rule 10, C.P.C. provides as follows: -

Order 1 Rule 10

"10. Suit in name of wrong plaintiff.?(1) Where a suit has been instituted in the name of the wrong person as plaintiff or where it is doubtful whether it has been instituted in the name of the right plaintiff, the court may at any stage of the suit, if satisfied that the suit has been instituted through a bona fide mistake, and that it is necessary for the determination of the real matter in dispute so to do, order any other person to be substituted or added as plaintiff upon such terms as the court thinks just.

(2) Court may strike out or add parties.?The court may at any stage of the proceedings, either upon or without the application of either party, and on such terms as may appear to the court to be just, order that the name of any party improperly joined, whether as plaintiff or defendant, be struck out, and that the name of any person who ought to have been joined, whether as plaintiff or defendant, or whose presence before the court may be necessary in order to enable the court effectually and completely to adjudicate upon and settle all the questions involved in the suit, be added.

(3) No person shall be added as a plaintiff suing without a next friend or as the next friend of a plaintiff under any disability without his consent.

(4) Where defendant added, plaint to be amended.?Where a defendant is added, the plaint shall, unless the court otherwise directs, be amended in such manner as may be necessary, and amended copies of the summons and of the plaint shall be served on the new defendant and, if the court thinks fit, on the original defendant.

(5) Subject to the provisions of the Indian Limitation Act, 1877 (15 of 1877), Section 22, the proceedings as against any person added as defendant shall be deemed to have begun only on the service of the summons."

14. Rule 10 of XXII C.P.C. provides as follows: -

"10. Procedure in case of assignment before final order in suit. -(1) In other cases of an assignment, creation or devolution of any interest during the pendency of a suit, the suit may, by leave of the Court, be continued by or against the person to or upon whom such interest has come or devolved.

(2) The attachment of a decree pending an appeal therefrom shall be deemed to be an interest entitling the person who procured such attachment to the benefit of sub-rule (1)."

15. In Amit Kumar Shaw v. Farida Khatoon: (2005) 11 SCC 403, the Hon'ble Supreme Court held that: -

"14. An alienee pendente lite is bound by the final decree that may be passed in the suit. Such an alienee can be brought on record both under this rule as also under Order 1 Rule 10. Since under the doctrine of lis pendens a decree passed in the suit during the pendency of which a transfer is made binds the transferee, his application to be brought on record should ordinarily be allowed.

* * *

16. The doctrine of lis pendens applies only where the lis is pending before a court. Further pending the suit, the transferee is not entitled as of right to be made a party to the suit, though the court has a discretion to make him a party. But the transferee pendente lite can be added as a proper party if his interest in the subject-matter of the suit is substantial and not just peripheral. A transferee pendente lite to the extent he has acquired interest from the defendant is vitally interested in the litigation, where the transfer is of the entire interest of the defendant; the latter having no more interest in the property may not properly defend the suit. He may collude with the plaintiff. Hence, though the plaintiff is under no obligation to make a lis pendens transferee a party, under Order 22 Rule 10 an alienee pendente lite may be joined as party. As already noticed, the court has discretion in the matter which must be judicially exercised and an alienee would ordinarily be joined as a party to enable him to protect his interests. The court has held that a transferee pendente lite of an interest in immovable property is a representative-in-interest of the party from whom he has acquired that interest. He is entitled to be impleaded in the suit or other proceedings where his predecessor-in-interest is made a party to the litigation; he is entitled to be heard in the matter on the merits of the case."

(Emphasis added)

16. In Anil Kumar Singh v. Shivnath Mishra: (1995) 3 SCC 147, the Hon'ble Supreme Court held that: -

"3. Order 22, Rule 10 postulates continuation of suit by or against a person who has, by devolution, assignment or creation, acquired any interest during the pendency of a suit, by leave of the court. The obtaining of a decree and acquiring the status as a co-owner during the pendency of a suit for specific performance, is not obtaining, by assignment or creation or by devolution, an interest. Therefore, Order 22, Rule 10 has no application to this case."

17. In Vijay Pratap v. Sambhu Saran Sinha: (1996) 10 SCC 53, the suit was filed for specific performance wherein the father during his lifetime was alleged to have entered into compromise and requested to delete his name from the array of parties as Respondent 1. His name was deleted after his demise. Pending suit before the compromise was recorded, the petitioners sought impleadment under Order 1 Rule 10. The trial court rejected the application holding that to decide right, title and interest of co-plaintiffs in suit property is beyond the scope of this suit and a suit of specific performance of contract can't be turned into a regular title suit and, therefore, the petitioners are not necessary and proper parties under Order 1 Rule 10 CPC. The question of impleadment / substitution of a transferee under Order XXII Rule 10 C.P.C. was not involved in this case.

18. In Bibi Zubaida Khatoon v. Nabi Hassan Saheb: (2004) 1 SCC 191, the Hon'ble Supreme Court held that: -

"9. It is not disputed that the present petitioner purchased the property during pendency of the suit and without seeking leave of the court as required by Section 52 of the Transfer of Property Act. The petitioner being a transferee pendente lite without leave of the court cannot, as of right, seek impleadment as a party in the suits which are long pending since 1983. It is true that when the application for joinder based on transfer pendente lite is made, the transferee should ordinarily be joined as a party to enable him to protect his interest*. But in the instant case, the trial court has assigned cogent reasons for rejecting such joinder stating that the suit is long pending since 1983 and prima facie the action of the alienation does not appear to be bona fide. The trial court saw an attempt on the part of the petitioner to complicate and delay the pending suits."*

19. There is nothing in the present case to even prima facie establish that the action of alienation in favour of the opposite party no. 4 is not bona fide. In absence of the alienation being held to be not bona fide, the opposite party no. 4 is entitled to be impleaded under the provisions contained in Order XXII Rule 10 C.P.C.

20. In Gurmit Singh Bhatia v. Kiran Kant Robinson: (2020) 13 SCC 773, the short question for consideration was, whether the plaintiffs can be compelled to implead a person in the suit for specific performance, against his wish and more particularly with respect to a person against whom no relief has been claimed by him? The Hon'ble Supreme Court relied upon a judgment in the case of Kasturi v. Iyyamperumal, (2005) 6 SCC 733 wherein it was held that the question of jurisdiction of the court to invoke Order 1 Rule 10 CPC to add a party shall not arise unless a party proposed to be added has direct and legal interest in the controversy involved in the suit. It was further observed and held that two tests are to be satisfied for determining the question as to who is a necessary party. The tests are: (1) there must be a right to some relief against such party in respect of the controversies involved in the proceedings; (2) no effective decree can be passed in the absence of such party. In a suit for specific performance the first test that can be formulated is, to determine whether a party is a necessary party there must be a right to the same relief against the party claiming to be a necessary party, relating to the same subject-matter involved in the proceedings for specific performance of contract to sell. In a suit for specific performance of the contract, a proper party is a party whose presence is necessary to adjudicate the controversy involved in the suit. The parties claiming an independent title and possession adverse to the title of the vendor and not on the basis of the contract, are not proper parties and if such party is impleaded in the suit, the scope of the suit for specific performance shall be enlarged to a suit for title and possession, which is impermissible. A third party or a stranger cannot be added in a suit for specific performance, merely in order to find out who is in possession of the contracted property or to avoid multiplicity of the suits. A third party or a stranger to a contract cannot be added so as to convert a suit of one character into a suit of different character.

21. In the present case, as the opposite party no. 4 has purchased the property in question through a registered sale deed and presently he is the owner of the property in question, the plaintiff has the right to claim relief against the opposite party no. 4 relating to the subject-matter involved in the proceedings for specific performance of contract to sell and his presence is necessary to adjudicate the controversy involved in the suit. The opposite party no. 4 is not claiming an independent title and possession adverse to the title of the vendor, rather he is claiming the same under a sale deed executed by the vendor. Therefore, he is entitled to be impleaded under Order XXII Rule 10 C.P.C.

22. Regarding the submission of the learned Counsel for the petitioner that the original defendant had executed the sale deed in violation of an order of temporary injunction restraining transfer of the property, suffice it to say that the suit was proceeded with and decreed ex-parte and there is nothing on record to show that the defendant had knowledge of the temporary injunction order. Therefore, it cannot be said that the sale deed had been executed in deliberate violation of the temporary injunction order.

23. Further, the plaintiff himself had filed an application for impleadment of Qadir Hussain and Babu Lal (opposite party no. 4) in the execution proceeding which application was allowed by means of an order dated 30.09.2013. Thereafter the ex-parte decree dated 30.05.2002 was set aside by means of an order dated 07.08.2023 passed upon an application filed by the opposite party no. 4. These facts also provide support to the claim for impleadment of the opposite party no. 4 as a defendant to the suit.

24. The submission of the learned Counsel for the petitioner that it was wrongly done by some other Counsel, whereas the newly engaged Counsel of the plaintiff was of a different view, also does not deserve acceptance, because the mere change of Counsel would not justify a change towards the approach adopted by the party when the case was being conducted by another Counsel.

25. Keeping in view the foregoing discussion, there appears to be no error or illegality in the impugned order dated 13.03.2024 passed by the learned Additional Civil Judge (J.D.), Court No.48, Lucknow in Regular Suit No.973 of 2000 allowing the application for impleadment filed by Babu Lal - the opposite party No.4 to the petition.

26. The petition lacks merit and the same is hereby dismissed at the admission stage.

(2026) 2 ILRA 757
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 05.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. YOGENDRA KUMAR SRIVASTAVA, J.

Matters Under Article 227 No. 650 of 2026

Shri Gopal Kishan Khandewal ...Petitioner
Versus
Smt. Archana Tripathi ...Respondent

Issue for Consideration

The petition raises a significant question concerning the scope and application of Order XVIII Rule 17 of the Code of Civil Procedure read with Sections 137, 138 and 145 of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, particularly the fine distinction between an impermissible attempt to fill up lacunae in evidence and a permissible exercise of seeking clarification of an ambiguity in a witness's testimony, so as to enable the Court to arrive at the truth and ensure a fair adjudication.

Head Notes

The Constitution of India, 1950-Article 227; The Code of Civil Procedure, 1908- Order XVIII Rule 17- The Indian Evidence Act, 1872- Sections 137, 138 & 145- The determinative factor is the object and purpose of the recall or reexamination- If the exercise is aimed at repairing a weak case or introducing evidence that was available but deliberately withheld, it would amount to filling up lacunae. However, where an apparent ambiguity arises on record, particularly one that goes to the root of the matter, and where clarification would assist the Court in arriving at the truth without causing prejudice to the opposite party, refusal to permit such clarification would defeat the ends of justice- Order XVIII Rule 17 CPC confers a discretionary power upon the Court to recall any witness at any stage of the proceedings, including even at the stage of writing the judgment, if such recall is found necessary for the proper adjudication of the case.

Held- Court is of the considered opinion that the ends of justice would be served by permitting recall of DW-1, strictly for the limited and specific purpose of clarifying the ambiguity arising from the statement made by him during cross-examination, which stands at variance with his affidavit and the other evidence on record. Such recall shall not be construed as permitting the petitioner to fill up any lacuna in the evidence, but only as an aid to the Court in arriving at a just and proper adjudication of the controversy- Impugned orders set aside- Petition disposed of. (E-15)

(Para 14, 15 & 18)

Case Law Cited

Shubhkaran Singh vs. Abhayraj Singh (2025) SCC Online SC 1028 ; K.K. Velusamy vs. N. Palanisamy (2011) 11 SCC 275 ; Vadiraj Naggappa Vernekar vs. Sharadchandra Prabhakar Gogate (2009) 4 SCC 410; Sangram Singh vs. Election Tribunal, Kotah AIR 1955 SC 425; State of Punjab vs. Shamlal Murari AIR 1976 SC 1177

List of Acts

The Constitution of India, 1950- The Code of Civil Procedure, 1908- The Indian Evidence Act, 1872

List of Keywords

Order XVIII Rule 17; discretionary power upon the Court to recall any witness at any stage; apparent ambiguity; particularly one that goes to the root of the matter; clarification in arriving at the truth; refusal to permit such clarification would defeat the ends of justice

Case Arising From

Order dated 04.02.2025 passed by the Judge, Small Cause Court, Kanpur Nagar whereby Application No. 99C/99-Ga filed by the petitioner–tenant seeking recall/reexamination of witness DW-1 was rejected. The petitioner has also assailed the subsequent order dated 19.09.2025 passed by the Additional District Judge, in SCC Revision, whereby the revision against the trial court's order was dismissed.

Appearances for Parties

Counsel for Petitioners(s) : Prakhar Tandon
Counsel for Respondent(s) : Manish Tandon

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Yogendra Kumar Srivastava, J.)

The present petition under Article 227 of the Constitution of India has been filed challenging the order dated 04.02.2025 passed by the Judge, Small Cause Court, Kanpur Nagar in SCC Suit No.12 of 2020 (Archana Tripathi vs. Gopi Kishan Khandelwal), whereby Application No. 99C/99-Ga filed by the petitione-'tenant seeking recall/re-examination of witness DW-1 was rejected. The petitioner has also assailed the subsequent order dated 19.09.2025 passed by the Additional District Judge, Court No. 24, Kanpur Nagar in SCC Revision No. 81 of 2025, whereby the revision against the trial court's order was dismissed.

2. The petition raises a significant question concerning the scope and application of Order XVIII Rule 17 of the Code of Civil Procedure read with Sections 137, 138 and 145 of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, particularly the fine distinction between an impermissible attempt to fill up lacunae in evidence and a permissible exercise of seeking clarification of an ambiguity in a witness's testimony, so as to enable the Court to arrive at the truth and ensure a fair adjudication.

3. The underlying SCC Suit No.12 of 2020 was instituted by the respondent'plaintiff seeking eviction, recovery of arrears of rent and damages, claiming ownership over the suit property on the basis of a Will dated 10.11.2010. The petitioner'defendant contested the suit by filing a written statement dated 18.02.2021, asserting that rent since the year 2010 had not been paid to the plaintiff but was being received by one Devendra Kumar Tripathi, son of Satyawati Tripathi, original owner of the premises. It was further pleaded that the Will dated 10.11.2010 relied upon by the plaintiff stood cancelled by a subsequent Will dated 21.01.2012 executed by the original owner, who admittedly died on 23.04.2019. According to the defendant, rent continued to be received by Devendra Kumar Tripathi both prior to and after the death of the original owner.

4. In the replication, the plaintiff admitted that Devendra Kumar Tripathi had been receiving rent earlier, though she claimed that thereafter she became entitled to receive rent. During trial, PW-1, namely Karmendra Tripathi, admitted in his cross-examination that the signatures appearing on the rent receipts, marked as paper nos. 81-Ga to 86-Ga, were those of Devendra Kumar Tripathi and that the said signatures tallied with the originals.

5. The defendant entered the witness box as DW-1 and filed his affidavit in evidence, wherein he categorically stated that rent was received by Devendra Kumar Tripathi and that rent receipts were issued by him. Original rent receipts bearing the signatures of Devendra Kumar Tripathi were also brought on record. However, during cross-examination dated 16.12.2024, DW-1 made a statement to the effect that Devendra Kumar Tripathi did not issue rent receipts. It is not in dispute that at the time when this statement was recorded, the counsel for the defendant was not present.

6. Despite the apparent inconsistency between the affidavit and the statement made during cross-examination, the plaintiff's counsel did not confront DW-1 with his earlier affidavit or with the rent receipts on record, as required under Section 145 of the Evidence Act. Nor was DW-1 afforded any opportunity to explain the discrepancy. Thus, on a cumulative reading of the material on record, there existed three apparently consistent pieces of evidence supporting the case that rent was received by Devendra Kumar Tripathi and rent receipts were issued by him, namely, the admission of the plaintiff in the replication, the admission of PW-1 in cross-examination, and the categorical statement of DW-1 in his affidavit in evidence.

7. In these circumstances, the defendant filed Application No. 99C-2/99Ga under Sections 137 and 138 of the Evidence Act seeking re-examination of DW-1 strictly for the purpose of clarifying the ambiguity created by the statement made during cross-examination, without seeking to introduce any additional or fresh evidence. The Trial Court rejected the application by order dated 04.02.2025, holding that the prayer amounted to filling up lacunae in the evidence. The Revisional Court, by order dated 19.09.2025, affirmed the rejection, observing that the power under Order XVIII Rule 17 CPC is to be exercised sparingly, that the inconsistency arose from statements of different witnesses, and that the application appeared to be an attempt to fill up deficiencies at a belated stage when the suit was ripe for final arguments and subject to directions for expeditious disposal.

8. Learned counsel for the petitioner has contended that both courts below have misdirected themselves in law by mechanically branding the request for re-examination as an attempt to fill up lacunae, without appreciating the settled distinction between curing a defect in evidence and clarifying an ambiguity arising on record. It is submitted that the alleged contradiction was never put to DW-1 in accordance with Section 145 of the Evidence Act and therefore could not be treated as a contradiction in the eye of law. Denial of re-examination, it is urged, has resulted in serious prejudice and denial of a fair opportunity, warranting interference under Article 227 of the Constitution.

9. Per contra, learned counsel for the respondent has supported the impugned orders, submitting that Order XVIII Rule 17 CPC does not confer a right upon a party to recall or re-examine a witness and that the discretion exercised by the courts below does not suffer from any perversity or jurisdictional error.

10. The law on the subject is no longer res integra. In Shubhkaran Singh vs. Abhayraj Singh1, it has been authoritatively held that the power under Order XVIII Rule 17 CPC is necessary for the proper conduct of a case and can be exercised by the Court at any stage, even at the stage of writing judgment. It was, however, simultaneously emphasized that such power is to be exercised sparingly and only in exceptional situations, and that its object is confined to removing ambiguities or clarifying statements and not to fill up lacunae in a party's case. It was further observed that while the power under Order XVIII Rule 17 primarily vests in the Court, recall or re-examination at the instance of a party may, in appropriate cases, be permitted in the exercise of inherent powers under Section 151 CPC.

11. The position was reiterated in K.K. Velusamy vs. N. Palanisamy2, wherein it was underscored that Order XVIII Rule 17 CPC is primarily intended to enable the Court to clarify any doubt or issue arising from the evidence on record, and that procedural provisions are meant to advance justice and not to thwart it. It was observed that where the application is bona fide and the clarification sought would assist the Court in rendering justice, the discretion to recall or re-examine a witness may be exercised, subject to appropriate safeguards against delay or abuse of the process of the Court.

12. At the same time, in Vadiraj Naggappa Vernekar vs. Sharadchandra Prabhakar Gogate3, it was cautioned that recall cannot be permitted to fill omissions or lacunae noticed after cross-examination, and that the power must be exercised judiciously and not as a matter of routine.

13. The consistent thread running through the aforesaid decisions is that the determinative factor is the object and purpose of the recall or re-examination. If the exercise is aimed at repairing a weak case or introducing evidence that was available but deliberately withheld, it would amount to filling up lacunae. However, where an apparent ambiguity arises on record, particularly one that goes to the root of the matter, and where clarification would assist the Court in arriving at the truth without causing prejudice to the opposite party, refusal to permit such clarification would defeat the ends of justice.

14. The legal principles governing the exercise of power under Order XVIII Rule 17 CPC, as crystallised by settled judicial precedents, may be summarised as follows:

14.1 Order XVIII Rule 17 CPC confers a discretionary power upon the Court to recall any witness at any stage of the proceedings, including even at the stage of writing the judgment, if such recall is found necessary for the proper adjudication of the case.

14.2 The power under Order XVIII Rule 17 CPC is primarily intended to enable the Court itself to clarify any ambiguity, doubt or inconsistency in the evidence already on record, so as to arrive at the truth and render a just decision.

14.3 The said power is discretionary in nature and is to be exercised sparingly, cautiously and in exceptional circumstances, and not as a matter of routine or merely because recall would not cause prejudice to the opposite party.

14.4 Recall of a witness under Order XVIII Rule 17 CPC cannot be permitted for the purpose of filling up omissions, repairing weaknesses, or curing lacunae in the evidence already adduced by a party.

14.5 The power of recall primarily vests in the Court and may be exercised suo motu or at the instance of a party, but only where the Court is satisfied that such recall is necessary for the proper conduct of the case and for removal of an ambiguity in the evidence.

14.6 Order XVIII Rule 17 CPC is not intended to provide a right to a party to recall and re-examine a witness merely because, upon hindsight, a party perceives inadequacy or inconsistency in its earlier examination of the witness.

14.7 Where an application for recall is bona fide in nature and is confined to seeking clarification of an apparent inconsistency or ambiguity, and where such clarification would assist the Court in arriving at the truth, recall may be permitted, subject to appropriate safeguards.

14.8 While allowing recall, the Court must ensure that the process is not misused as a delaying tactic, and must impose suitable conditions, including limitation of the scope of examination, denial of unnecessary adjournments, and expeditious conclusion of the proceedings.

14.9 The controlling and determinative test is whether the recall is sought to fill up lacunae in the evidence, which is impermissible, or to reconcile inconsistencies and clarify ambiguities, which is permissible and may be necessary to prevent failure of justice.

15. In the present case, the affidavit of DW-1, the pleadings and the admission of PW-1 form a consistent evidentiary foundation. The isolated statement made by DW-1 during cross-examination, recorded in the absence of his counsel and without being confronted as required by Section 145 of the Evidence Act, has created an apparent ambiguity rather than exposing any deliberate omission. The prayer for re-examination is confined strictly to clarifying this ambiguity and does not seek to introduce any new material. Treating such a request as an attempt to fill up lacunae reflects a misapplication of the settled legal position and amounts to a failure to exercise jurisdiction vested in the court.

16. The supervisory jurisdiction of this Court under Article 227 of the Constitution of India is intended to ensure that subordinate courts act within the bounds of their authority, exercise jurisdiction vested in them in accordance with law, and adhere to the principles of natural justice. Though this Court does not sit as a court of appeal over interlocutory or procedural orders, it is duty-bound to intervene where refusal to exercise jurisdiction results in manifest injustice or denial of a fair opportunity to a party. Procedural law, as repeatedly held by the Supreme Court in Sangram Singh vs. Election Tribunal, Kotah4 and State of Punjab vs. Shamlal Murari5, is the handmaid of justice and must be applied in a manner that advances, rather than obstructs, substantive justice.

17. It has been pointed out that the next date fixed before the Trial Court is 10th February, 2026. Learned counsel for the petitioner has undertaken that DW-1 shall be produced on the said date and that no adjournment shall be sought. Learned counsel for the respondent has fairly stated that he has no objection if the witness is examined on the said date strictly for the limited purpose of clarifying the ambiguity regarding issuance of rent receipts by Devendra Kumar Tripathi.

18. In view of the aforesaid discussion, this Court is of the considered opinion that the ends of justice would be served by permitting recall of DW-1, strictly for the limited and specific purpose of clarifying the ambiguity arising from the statement made by him during cross-examination, which stands at variance with his affidavit and the other evidence on record. Such recall shall not be construed as permitting the petitioner to fill up any lacuna in the evidence, but only as an aid to the Court in arriving at a just and proper adjudication of the controversy. The impugned orders dated 04.02.2025 passed by the Judge, Small Causes Court, Kanpur Nagar in SCC Suit No.12 of 2020 and dated 19.09.2025 passed in SCC Revision No.81 of 2025 are, therefore, unsustainable in law and are accordingly set aside.

19. The petition is, consequently, disposed of with a direction that on the next date fixed before the Trial Court, i.e. 10th February, 2026, the witness DW-1 shall be produced by the tenant-defendant and shall be examined by the Trial Court strictly within the aforesaid limited scope. No adjournment shall be granted to either of the parties on the said date. The Trial Court shall thereafter proceed to conclude the suit expeditiously, in accordance with law. It is made abundantly clear that in the event of failure on the part of the tenant-defendant to produce or examine the aforesaid witness on the said date, no further opportunity shall be granted for recall or re-examination of DW-1, and the Trial Court shall proceed to decide the suit on the basis of the evidence already on record.

(2026) 2 ILRA 763
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 19.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE KSHITIJ SHAILENDRA, J.

Matters Under Article 227 No. 1534 of 2015
connected with
Matters Under Article 227 No. 1535 of 2015

Vijendra Singh & Ors. ...Petitioners
Versus
Jai Bhagwan & Ors. ...Respondent

Issue for Consideration

Whether there was an obligation upon the plaintiff to honour the decree which attained finality upto the Hon'ble Supreme Court in his favour but he failed to discharge the same and did not deposit the balance money as required under the first appellate court's judgment and order, the contract stood rescinded in view of Section 28 of the Act, 1963 and, therefore, both the orders impugned are liable to be set aside.

Head Notes

The Constitution of India, 1950-Article 227; The Specific Relief Act, 1963- Section 28; The Code of Civil Procedure, 1908-Section 47 & 148- The nature of application 10-C certainly reflects the intention of the decree-holder to deposit the balance money and, for that purpose, he rightly sought permission from the court to pass the tender, in absence whereof he could not go ahead with the execution.

Once the application was allowed in the year 2011, in terms of the order impugned in the petition, it would certainly amount to extension/enlargement of time to make deposit- Neither Section 28 of the Specific Relief Act, 1963 nor Section 148 of C.P.C. provides for the starting point of the exercise of power to grant further time or to enlarge the same. The legislative intent speaks only of discretion of the Court to do so depending on the facts of a case. The only embargo, if at all it can be put on the power of the Court, may be felt from Section 148 C.P.C. where power to enlarge time has been restricted 'not beyond thirty days in total', but that is the outer limit for enlargement of time and not the starting point thereof. At the same time, there is no such apparent statutory restriction under Section 28 of the Specific Relief Act, 1963. Hence, the question as to when did the decree-holder move application 10-C becomes redundant.

Even if time of one (1) month for making deposit of amount is computed from the date of decision of Hon'ble Supreme Court, since Civil Appeal was dismissed on 09.12.2004, one month period would begin to run from the said date and would end on 09.01.2005 and, on or before the said date, the decree holder should have deposited the balance amount. In the opinion of the Court, even in that situation, the occasion to seek extension/enlargement of time would arise only after 09.01.2005 and not before that. Therefore, moving of application 10-C seeking to clear the tender of Rs. 95,000/- on 06.02.2005 was a rightful act on his part and there was no delay in moving the same. Delay, if any, could be of 28 days but cannot be said to be fatal to claim of decree-holder so as to frustrate the decree affirmed upto Hon'ble Supreme Court or hold the contract as rescinded. Therefore, timing, stage, nature and contents of application 10-C are found to be in accordance with law and executing Court did not commit any error in allowing the same. In totality of facts and circumstances, no case for rescission of contract as per Section 28 stands made out.

Held- Considering the entire facts and circumstances, the law referred above and balancing the equities in the matter of specific performance of agreement when lis, after going through multiple stages, is being finally decided after a long period of time, while dismissing both the petitions and upholding the orders impugned, it is hereby provided that the decree-holder shall deposit a further sum of Rs.2,00,000/- (Rupees two lacs) before the executing court within a period of two months from today-Petition dismissed. (E-15)

(Para 16, 22, 26 & 31)

Case Law Cited

Savitri Devi vs. Ashok Kumar, 2009 (2) ARC 211; V.S. Palanichamy Chettiar Firm vs. C. Alagappan and another, AIR 1999 SC 918; Ishwar vs Bhim Singh and another, AIR 2024 SC 4232; Ramankutty Guptan Vs. Avara, (1994) 2 SCC 642; K. Kalpana Saraswathi Vs. P.S.S. Somasundaram Chettiar, (1980) 1 SCC 630; Chanda v. Rattni, (2007) 14 SCC 26; P. Shyamala vs. Gundlur Mathan, Civil Appeal Nos. 1363-1364 of 2023; 2023 AIR SC 1224; Vansh S/o Prakash Dolas v. Ministry of Education and the Ministry of Health & Family Welfare and others : 2024 AIR SC 1924; Manoj Kumar v. Union of India : 2024 (3) SCC 563

List of Acts

The Constitution of India, 1950; The Specific Relief Act, 1963; The Code of Civil Procedure, 1908

List of Keywords

Section 28 Specific Relief Act; Rescission of contract; Decree-holder to deposit the balance money; Permission of court; Section 148 CPC; Grant further time; Not beyond thirty days

Case Arising From

Two orders were passed by the executing court, one rejecting an application 3-C filed by the judgment-debtor under Section 28 of Specific Relief Act, 1963 and declining to hold the contract as rescinded and the other allowing an application 10-C filed by the decree-holder whereby permission to pass tender of Rs.95,000/- enclosed with the application was sought by him. The orders were upheld in two revisions preferred by judgment-debtor.

Appearances for Parties

Counsel for Petitioner(s) : M.K. Gupta, Pankaj Agarwal, Shreya Gupta
Counsel for Respondent(s) : Gulrez Khan, Onkar Singh, S.C., W.H.Khan

(Delivered by Hon'ble Kshitij Shailendra, J.)

RESCISSION OF CONTRACT UNDER SECTION 28 OF SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT, 1963

1. Heard Mr. Pankaj Agarwal, learned counsel for judgment-debtor-petitioners and Mr. Gulrez Khan, learned counsel appearing for decree-holder-respondents in both the petitions.

2. These two petitions arise out of execution proceedings in pursuance of a decree for specific performance of an agreement for sale that has attained finality upto the Hon'ble Supreme Court.

3. Two orders were passed by the executing court, one rejecting an application 3-C filed by the judgment-debtor under Section 28 of Specific Relief Act, 1963 and declining to hold the contract as rescinded and the other allowing an application 10-C filed by the decree-holder whereby permission to pass tender of Rs.95,000/- enclosed with the application was sought by him. The orders were upheld in two revisions preferred by judgment-debtor.

FACTS AND PROCEEDINGS

4. An agreement for sale was executed by the petitioners in favour of respondents on 23.09.1979. When the same was not honoured, Original Suit No. 283 of 1980 for specific performance of the agreement was filed by the respondents. The suit was dismissed by the trial court on 09.02.1982 against which Civil Appeal No. 269 of 1982 was filed by the plaintiff, which was allowed on 05.03.1999 and the suit was decreed. The defendants filed Second Appeal before this Court, which was dismissed on 24.03.1999. Thereafter, Special Leave Petition No. 8127 of 1999 was filed by the defendants before Hon'ble Supreme Court, which, after its conversion into Civil Appeal, was dismissed on 09.12.2004.

5. Controversy between the parties arose thereafter in relation to execution of the decree. Whereas the decree-holder filed Execution Case No. 5 of 2005 on 16.02.2005 and an application 10-C requesting the executing court to pass tender of Rs.95,000/- and permit him to present draft of proposed sale deed, an application 3-C was filed by the judgment-debtor under Section 28 of Specific Relief Act praying that the contract stands rescinded on account of default committed by the decree-holder to obey the directions issued by the first appellate court regarding deposit of balance money in one month. Application 3-C was rejected and application 10-C was allowed. Two revisions preferred by the petitioners against both the orders met the fate of dismissal.

SUBMISSIONS ON BEHALF OF THE JUDGMENT DEBTOR-PETITIONERS

6. Learned counsel for the petitioners submits that once there was an obligation cast upon the plaintiff to honour the decree which attained finality upto the Hon'ble Supreme Court in his favour but he failed to discharge the same and did not deposit the balance money as required under the first appellate court's judgment and order, the contract stood rescinded in view of Section 28 of the Act, 1963 and, therefore, both the orders impugned are liable to be set aside. It is further submitted that question of readiness and willingness of a plaintiff continues to survive under test till the decree is finally executed and, in the present case, the conduct of the plaintiff was sufficient to disentitle him from getting the decree executed, inasmuch as once the appellate court passed the decree in the year 1999, the decree-holder did not file any execution application till 2005 and it was filed two months after the Hon'ble Supreme Court dismissed the Civil Appeal filed by the judgment-debtor, therefore, delay on the part of the decree-holder in depositing the amount under the first appellate court's order/decree beyond one month as per the decree itself, would render the contract rescinded.

7. It is further submitted that though the principle of merger may or may not be strictly applicable in the present case as it is not known to the parties whether or not there was any interim order in S.L.P. or Civil Appeal staying execution of the decree, even if pendency of S.L.P./Civil Appeal before Hon'ble Supreme Court is treated to be an impediment in execution of the decree, the plaintiff chose to file application two months after the Civil Appeal was dismissed and, therefore, since one month time granted by the first appellate court for the purpose of making deposit expired in January, 2005, the executing court did not have power to extend the time for making deposit, particularly when even no such prayer was made by the decree-holder in his application 10-C.

SUBMISSIONS ON BEHALF OF THE DECREE HOLDER- RESPONDENTS

8. Per contra, learned counsel for the respondents contends that the submissions advanced on behalf of the petitioners are contrary to the terms of the decree drawn by the first appellate court, operative portion whereof did not contain any direction for the decree-holder to deposit the money, rather the direction was for the judgment-debtor to accept the balance money after deducting Rs.8000/- which had been paid as advance money earlier and, therefore, the plea based upon the applicability of Section 28 of the Act, 1963 is misconceived. It is further submitted that, immediately after the Civil Appeal was dismissed by the Hon'ble Supreme Court, execution case was filed and when judgment-debtor was not ready to accept balance money, application 10-C was filed seeking permission to deposit the amount through tender and the same would certainly amount to seeking extension of time and, hence, contrary arguments advanced have no force.

DISCUSSION

9. I have considered the submissions advanced and have perused the material available on record.

The appellate decree

10. The operative portion of the decree drawn by the first appellate court has quite significance in this case. The same is reproduced as under:-

"आदेश

अपीलार्थी की अपील सव्यय स्वीकार की जाती है । अधीनस्थ न्यायालय द्वारा मूल वाद सख्या 283/1980 जय भगवान आदि बनाम राज सिंह आदि मे पारित निर्णय दिनांक 9-2-1982 निरस्त किया जाता है।

प्रतिवादीगण को आदेश किया जाता है कि वह वादीगण से विवादित जमीन के सन्दर्भ मे इकरारनामे के अनुसार तय धनराशि मे से अंकन 8000/- रुपये अग्रिम की धनराशि घटाकर शेष धनराशि 30 दिन के अन्दर प्राप्त कर पंजीकृत बयनामा वादीगण के पक्ष मे निष्पादित कर दे। अन्यथा वादीगण को यह अधिकार होगा कि वह न्यायालय द्वारा बयनामा निष्पादित करा ले।"

11. Apparently, there was no direction by the first appellate court under which the decree-holder was required to deposit any amount, rather the decree, when read as it is, cast an obligation on the judgment-debtor to receive balance money from the decree-holder within a period of 30 days. Nevertheless, effect of the terms of the decree shall be discussed hereinlater.

Rescission of contract

12. Under the peculiar nature of the operative portion of the appellate decree, language used in Section 28 of the Specific Relief Act, 1963 is important to be perused. The relevant portion of the provision reads as under:-

'28. Rescission in certain circumstances of contracts for the sale or lease of immovable property, the specific performance of which has been decreed.'(1) Where in any suit a decree for specific performance of a contract for the sale or lease of immovable property has been made and the purchaser or lessee does not, within the period allowed by the decree or such further period as the court may allow, pay the purchase money or other sum which the court has ordered him to pay, the vendor or lessor may apply in the same suit in which the decree is made, to have the contract rescinded and on such application the court may, by order, rescind the contract either so far as regards the party in default or altogether, as the justice of the case may require.

(2) ""..'

13. A perusal of Section 28 indicates that when the purchaser (i.e. the plaintiff) does not, within the period allowed by the decree or such further period as the court may allow, pay the purchase money or other sum which the court has ordered him to pay, the vendor may apply in the same suit in which the decree is made to have the contract rescinded. Therefore, consequences arising out of non-deposit of money would arise only when direction to pay the amount is issued but not honoured by the decree-holder and not otherwise.

14. Though there is no such direction in the present case requiring the decree-holder to pay the balance money, even if the argument of petitioners is accepted to the effect that it is always for the decree-holder to offer the balance money and not for the judgment-debtor to ask the decree-holder to pay the money, proceedings during the course of litigation in the present matter require a thoughtful consideration.

15. Apparently, the Hon'ble Supreme Court finally dismissed the Civil Appeal on 09.12.2004. Execution Case No. 5 of 2005 as well as application 10-C was filed immediately after two months. The contents of application 10-C read as under:-

'निवेदन है कि उपरोक्त इजराय डिग्रीदारान ने मदयूनान के विरुद्ध इकरारनामा महायदा बय के आधार पर पारित डिग्री के आधार पर अपने हक में बैनामा निष्पादित व पंजीकृत कराने के लिये योजित की है। डिग्रीदारान को अंकन 95,000/- रुपये की धनराशि बजरिये टेण्डर जमा करनी है तथा विक्रयपत्र का प्रारूप दाखिल करना है, जिसकी अनुमति का डिग्रीदारान को दिया जाना आवश्यक है।

अतः श्रीमान जी से प्रार्थना है कि उपरोक्त कारण व न्यायहेतु डिग्रीदारान को अंकन 95,000/- की धनराशि न्यायालय में जमा करने की अनुमति प्रदान करते हुये प्रार्थनापत्र के साथ संलग्न टैण्डर पास किया जावे तथा विक्रयपत्र का प्रारूप दाखिल करने की अनुमति प्रदान की जाये। अति कृपा होगी।"

16. Though, learned counsel for the petitioners has made vehement submissions that mere request made from the executing court to pass a tender would not amount to seeking extension of time, in the opinion of the Court, the nature of application 10-C certainly reflects the intention of the decree-holder to deposit the balance money and, for that purpose, he rightly sought permission from the court to pass the tender, in absence whereof he could not go ahead with the execution. Once the application was allowed in the year 2011, in terms of the order impugned in the petition, it would certainly amount to extension/enlargement of time to make deposit. No other interpretation of the nature of application 10-C or the order passed thereon can be made or accepted.

Power to extend/enlarge time

17. Power of execution court to grant/extend/enlarge time in this regard has been dealt with in Savitri Devi vs. Ashok Kumar, 2009 (2) ARC 211, wherein, after placing reliance upon various decisions including the judgment of Hon'ble Supreme Court in V.S. Palanichamy Chettiar Firm vs. C. Alagappan and another, AIR 1999 SC 918, it has been held that executing court can extend the time and the powers of the trial court and the executing court in this regard are common.

18. Recently, in Ishwar vs Bhim Singh and another, AIR 2024 SC 4232, under almost identical circumstances, one of the issues that fell for consideration before the Hon'ble Supreme Court was as to whether the execution court had jurisdiction to deal with the application(s) for rescission of contract and extension of time to deposit the balance sale consideration. Reference was made to a judgment in Ramankutty Guptan Vs. Avara, (1994) 2 SCC 642, holding that when a suit for specific performance is dismissed by the trial court, but decreed in appeal and the decree specifies the time for performance of the conditions of the decree, on its failure to deposit the money, Section 28(1) itself gives power to the court to extend the time on such terms as the court may allow to pay the purchase money or other sum which the court has ordered him to pay.

19. In K. Kalpana Saraswathi Vs. P.S.S. Somasundaram Chettiar, (1980) 1 SCC 630, Hon'ble Supreme Court held that on an oral prayer made by the counsel for the plaintiff for permission to deposit the entire amount as directed by the trial court, direction was issued to the appellant to deposit the amount within six months from that date together with interest and other conditions mentioned therein. It was further held that an application for extension of time for payment of balance consideration may be filed even in the court of first instance or in the appellate court in the same suit as the decree of the trial court stands merged with that of the appellate court which decree is under execution. It was further held that the procedure is the handmaid for justice and unless the procedure touches upon jurisdictional issue, it should be moulded to subserve substantial justice. Therefore, technicalities would not stand in the way to subserve substantive justice.

20. In Chanda v. Rattni, (2007) 14 SCC 26, Hon'ble Supreme Court has held that the power to rescind the contract under Section 28 of the 1963 Act is discretionary in nature and is to do complete justice to the parties. The Court does not cease to have the power to extend the time even though the decree may have directed that payment of balance price is to be made by a certain date. While exercising discretion in this regard, the Court is required to take into account facts of the case so as to ascertain whether the default was intentional or not. If there is a bona fide reason for the delay/ default, such as where there appears no fault on the part of the decree holder, the Court may refuse to rescind the contract and may extend the time for deposit of the defaulted amount.

21. In this connection, the court may also take aid of the provisions of Section 148 of Code of Civil Procedure, which reads as under:-

'148. Enlargement of time.'Where any period is fixed or granted by the Court for the doing of any act prescribed or allowed by this Code, the Court may, in its discretion, from time to time, enlarge such period, not exceeding thirty days in total, even though the period originally fixed or granted may have expired.'

22. It is apparent from Section 148 C.P.C. that the Court may, in its discretion, enlarge any period which is fixed for doing of any act. In the opinion of the Court, neither Section 28 of the Specific Relief Act, 1963 nor Section 148 of C.P.C. provides for the starting point of the exercise of power to grant further time or to enlarge the same. The legislative intent speaks only of discretion of the Court to do so depending on the facts of a case. The only embargo, if at all it can be put on the power of the Court, may be felt from Section 148 C.P.C. where power to enlarge time has been restricted 'not beyond thirty days in total', but that is the outer limit for enlargement of time and not the starting point thereof. At the same time, there is no such apparent statutory restriction under Section 28 of the Specific Relief Act, 1963. Hence, the question as to when did the decree-holder move application 10-C becomes redundant.

23. Therefore, in a case where grant of further time to deposit money pursuant to a decree for specific performance is the question before the Court, it would be seen as to whether decree-holder was on default/successive defaults in complying with the terms of the decree but even then the Court either cursorily, wrongly or unreasonably granted further time or enlarged the time or as to whether the decree-holder himself or Court itself was precluded from making or entertaining a request for grant of further time for which neither the decree-holder nor the Court can be blamed.

24. As far as reliance placed on behalf of the petitioners on the judgment of Hon'ble Supreme Court in P. Shyamala vs. Gundlur Mathan, Civil Appeal Nos. 1363-1364 of 2023; 2023 AIR SC 1224, in that case rescission of the contract was upheld, however the facts were entirely different. In that case, the decree was passed in the year 2013 and application seeking enlargement of time was filed under Section 148 C.P.C. with a delay of 853 days without any intervening obstruction. In the facts of that case, after dealing with the relevant dates, the Hon'ble Supreme Court found the huge delay as fatal to the claim of the decree-holder. In the present case, once the operative portion of the appellate decree did not cast any obligation upon the decree-holder to deposit the balance amount and, even if, the decree is read in that sense against the decree-holder requiring him to deposit money, though he was not even asked to do so, moving of application 10-C, two months after the Hon'ble Supreme Court dismissed the Civil Appeal, would not be fatal to the claim of the decree-holder.

25. In the present case, the suit was decreed in appeal in 1999. The defendants' Second Appeal was dismissed in 1999, immediately whereafter the matter, in 1999 itself, reached to the Hon'ble Supreme Court which dismissed the Civil Appeal on 09.12.2004. Therefore, occasion to move and consider any application seeking permission to pass the tender to go ahead with the process of execution, arose at that very time. The decree-holder filed application 10-C on 16.02.2005 just after two months from dismissal of Civil Appeal by the Hon'ble Supreme Court and even going to the extent of reading the decree in a way that it was the decree-holder who was required to pay balance money, though the terms of the decree were otherwise, since money could not be accepted unless the Court granted time for the said purpose and cleared the tender on being requested to do so, no sum could be deposited.

26. Now the Court tests the submission of Shri Agrawal that even if time of one (1) month for making deposit of amount is computed from the date of decision of Hon'ble Supreme Court, since Civil Appeal was dismissed on 09.12.2004, one month period would begin to run from the said date and would end on 09.01.2005 and, on or before the said date, the decree holder should have deposited the balance amount. In the opinion of the Court, even in that situation, the occasion to seek extension/enlargement of time would arise only after 09.01.2005 and not before that. Therefore, moving of application 10-C seeking to clear the tender of Rs. 95,000/- on 06.02.2005 was a rightful act on his part and there was no delay in moving the same. Delay, if any, could be of 28 days but cannot be said to be fatal to claim of decree-holder so as to frustrate the decree affirmed upto Hon'ble Supreme Court or hold the contract as rescinded. Therefore, timing, stage, nature and contents of application 10-C are found to be in accordance with law and executing Court did not commit any error in allowing the same. In totality of facts and circumstances, no case for rescission of contract as per Section 28 stands made out.

27. In view of above discussion, this Court does not find any error in any of the orders impugned.

Balancing the equities and length of litigation

28. In the last, Shri Pankaj Agarwal, Advocate submits that the suit being that of specific performance of agreement and the value of immovable property covered by that having gone up over a period of time, equities should be balanced as regards deposit and payment of money. To this submission, Shri Gulrez Khan, Advocate submits that over the entire period of litigation, it was the judgment-debtor who continued to remain in possession of the property and the decree-holder has already deposited the amount in the year 2011 itself pursuant to the permission granted by the executing court, therefore, he cannot be penalized in any manner.

29. In the present case, the agreement for sale was executed in 1979, Original Suit was filed in 1980, it was dismissed in 1982 against which appeal was filed by the plaintiff in 1982 itself, which was allowed after 17 years in 1999 and the suit was decreed. The defendants' Second Appeal was dismissed in 1999, whereafter, S.L.P. was filed in 1999 itself, Civil Appeal was dismissed by Hon'ble Supreme Court by a very detailed order on 09.12.2004. Thereafter, applications were filed by the contesting parties in February 2005 and were decided after 6 years, whereafter, revisions preferred by the judgment-debtor were dismissed in 2011. This petition was filed in 2012 under Article 226 of Constitution of India and later on, it was converted into Matter under Article 227 in the year 2015. In the meantime, an interim order was passed on 05.05.2014 staying further proceedings in Execution Case of 2005. The matter is now being finally decided by this Court in the year 2026.

30. The Court here deems it appropriate to refer a judgment in Vansh S/o Prakash Dolas v. Ministry of Education and the Ministry of Health & Family Welfare and others : 2024 AIR SC 1924, wherein the Hon'ble Supreme Court, by referring to its previous decision in Manoj Kumar v. Union of India : 2024 (3) SCC 563, observed that in public law proceedings, when it is realized that the prayer is unattainable due to passage of time, claim should not be dismissed by the Constitutional Courts on the ground of their perceived futility and in the life of litigation, passage of time can stand both as an ally and adversary and it is the duty of the Court to transcend the constraints of time and perform the primary duty to control and regulate the exercise of power or arbitrary action. It has further been observed that the temporal gap between the actions and their subsequent adjudication by the courts introduces complexities in the provision of restitution, however, the Court should try to subserve the primary purpose and object of public law proceedings by appropriately providing remedial measures and relief in the nature of restitution.

31. Considering the entire facts and circumstances, the law referred above and balancing the equities in the matter of specific performance of agreement when lis, after going through multiple stages, is being finally decided after a long period of time, while dismissing both the petitions and upholding the orders impugned, it is hereby provided that the decree-holder shall deposit a further sum of Rs.2,00,000/- (Rupees two lacs) before the executing court within a period of two months from today. On deposit of the said amount, executing court shall make all endeavour to execute the decree forthwith and not later than one month in terms of getting the sale deed executed by the judgment-debtor and, on his failure to do so, to execute the same itself in favour of the decree-holder.

32. Both the petitions are, therefore, DISMISSED with the above observations.

(2026) 2 ILRA 771
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 25.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE MANISH KUMAR NIGAM, J.

Matters Under Article 227 No. 5796 of 2023

Dayanand & Ors. ...Petitionesr
Versus
Mohan @ Ghure ...Respondent

Issue for Consideration

Whether in view of the proviso to Rule 17 of Order 6 amendment cannot be allowed in the present case and the proposed amendment will change the nature of the suit.

Head Notes

The Constitution of India, 1950-Article 227; The Code of Civil Procedure, 1908- Order VI Rule 17- The contention that in view of proviso to Rule 17 of Order 6, the said amendment could not be allowed is misconceived as the suit is of the year 1997 which is pre amendment and therefore, amended proviso will not apply to the suit in view of the judgment of the Apex Court in case of State Bank of Hyderabad v. Town Municipal Council reported in reported in (2007) 1 SCC 765- Delay in filing an application for amendment by itself cannot be a ground for rejecting the application.

Held- Impugned order set aside- Amendment application allowed. (E-15)

(Para 8, 9 & 10)

Case Law Cited

Sampath Kumar Vs. Ayyakannu and another reported in (2002) 7 SCC 559; State Bank of Hyderabad v. Town Municipal Council (2007) 1 SCC 765;

List of Acts

The Constitution of India, 1950- The Code of Civil Procedure, 1908

List of Keywords

Amendment application; Order 6 Rule 17;

Case Arising From

Petition filed challenging the order dated 16.11.2022 passed by the trial court rejecting the application for amendment filed by the petitioner in the plaint. Revision against the said order has also been dismissed by order dated 10.04.2023 in Civil Revision No. 124 of 2022

Appearances for Parties

Counsel for Petitioner(s) : Ashok Kumar Shukla
Counsel for Respondent(s) : Vivek Singh Shrinet

(Delivered by Hon'ble Manish Kumar Nigam, J.)

1. Heard Shri Ashok Kumar Shukla, learned counsel for the petitioner, Shri Vivek Singh Shrinet, learned counsel for the respondent and perused the record.

2. This petition has been filed challenging the order dated 16.11.2022 passed by the trial court i.e. Additional Civil Judge (Junior Division), Court No. 3, Gorakhpur, rejecting the application for amendment filed by the petitioner in the plaint. Revision against the said order has also been dismissed by order dated 10.04.2023 passed by the Additional District and Sessions Judge, Court No. 4, Gorakhpur in Civil Revision No. 124 of 2022.

3. Contention of the learned counsel for the petitioner is that by the amendment, the petitioner has only changed the relief from mandatory injunction directing the defendants to remove their constructions and to hand over the possession to the plaintiff to the prayer for possession of the property in dispute apart from minor corrections in the plaint. The said application has been erroneously rejected on the ground that the application has been filed after a long lapse of time and therefore, the same cannot be allowed.

4. Learned counsel for the respondent submitted that in view of the proviso to Rule 17 of Order 6 such amendment cannot be allowed. He further submitted that the proposed amendment will change the nature of the suit.

5. I have perused the order impugned. The relief claimed by the petitioner in the plaint which is at page no.33 of the paper book is quoted as under:

"1- बसदूर डिग्री Mandatory Injunction प्रतिवादीगण को यह आदेश दिया जावे कि वे मकान जैल मुन्दर्जा लिस्ट (ग) मय नक्शा जो नक्शा लिस्ट (ख) जैल में भी बरंग हरा से प्रदर्शित है पर से अपना कब्जा दखल जो दखिनी पश्चिमी पहली मंजिल के कमरे पर एवं दूसरी मंजिल के पश्चिमी उत्तरी कमरे पर तनहा है व बकिया हिस्से पर वादी गण के साथ मुश्तर्का है को उठाकर मकान लिस्ट (ग) जैल पर तनहा कब्जा दखल वादीगण को दे देवे।"

6. The said relief has been sought to be substituted /amended by the relief as quoted in the amendment application at page no. 39 and the same is quoted as under:

"यह कि बसदुर डिक्री दखल बहक वादीगण खिलाफ प्रतिवादीगण, प्रतिवादीगण को आदेशित कर दिया जावे कि वे मकान जैल मुन्दर्जा लिस्ट (ग) मय नक्शा जो नक्शा लिस्ट (ख) जैल वाद पत्र में बरंग हरा से दर्शित है पर से प्रतिवादीगण का कब्जा दखल जो दखिनी पश्चिमी पहली मंजिल के कमरे पर एंव दूसरी मंजिल के पश्चिमी उत्तरी कमरा पर से कब्जा दखल प्रतिवादीगण हटवाकर न्यायालय द्वारा निर्धारित समय के अन्दर वादीगण को जायदाद नजाई पर कब्जा दखल दिलवा दिया जाय। यदि प्रतिवादीगण न्यायालय द्वारा निर्धारित समय के अन्दर कब्जा दखल वादीगण को नहीं देते है तो उस सूरत में न्यायालय अमीन अथवा वकील कमिश्नर द्वारा कब्जा दखल दिलवा दिया जावे।"

7. I do not find any change in the nature of the suit as the relief in substance is same.

8. So far as the contention of the learned counsel for the petitioner that in view of proviso to Rule 17 of Order 6, the said amendment could not be allowed, is also misconceived. The suit is of the year 1997 which is pre amendment and therefore, amended proviso will not apply to the suit in view of the judgment of the Apex Court in case of State Bank of Hyderabad v. Town Municipal Council reported in reported in (2007) 1 SCC 765. Paragraph nos. 5, 6, 7, 8 & 9 of the aforesaid judgment are quoted as under:

"5. Order VI, Rule 17 of the Code reads, thus:
"The Court may at any stage of the proceedings allow either party to alter or amend his pleadings in such manner and on such terms as may be just, and all such amendments shall be made as may be necessary for the purpose of determining the real questions in controversy between the parties."

6. Proviso appended thereto was added by the Code of Civil Procedure (Amendment) Act, 2002 which came into force with effect from 1.07.2002. It reads as under:

"Provided that no application for amendment shall be allowed after the trial has commenced, unless the Court comes to the conclusion that in spite of due diligence, the party could not have raised the matter before the commencement of trial."

7. Section 16(2) of the Amending Act of 2002 reads as under:

"16(2) Notwithstanding that the provisions of this Act have come into force or repeal under sub- section (1) has taken effect, and without prejudice to the generality of the provisions of section 6 of the General Clauses Act, 1897 -

*(a) *** ****

(b) the provisions of rules 5, 15, 17 and 18 of Order VI of the First Schedule as omitted or, as the case may be, inserted or substituted by section 16 of the Code of Civil Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1999 and by section 7 of this Act shall not apply to in respect of any pleading filed before the commencement of Section 16 of the Code of Civil Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1999 and Section 7 of this Act;"

8. In view of the said provision there cannot be any doubt whatsoever that the suit having been filed in the year 1998, proviso to Order VI, Rule 17 of the Code shall not apply.

9. The High Court relied upon the said proviso and opined that having regard thereto the plaintiff was obligated to establish that in spite of due diligence it could not have raised the matter before commencement of the trial of the suit. The High Court evidently committed an illegality in relying upon the said provision."

9. The Supreme Court in case of Sampath Kumar Vs. Ayyakannu and another reported in (2002) 7 SCC 559 has held that delay in filing an application for amendment by itself cannot be a ground for rejecting the application. Paragraph No. 9 of the judgment in case of Sampath Kumar Vs. Ayyakannu(supra) is quoted as under:-

"9. Order 6 Rule 17 of the CPC confers jurisdiction on the Court to allow either party to alter or amend his pleadings at any stage of the proceedings and on such terms as may be just. Such amendments as are directed towards putting forth and seeking determination of the real questions in controversy between the parties shall be permitted to be made. The question of delay in moving an application for amendment should be decided not by calculating the period from the date of institution of the suit alone but by reference to the stage to which the hearing in the suit has proceeded. Pre-trial amendments are allowed more liberally than those which are sought to be made after the commencement of the trial or after conclusion thereof. In former case generally it can be assumed that the defendant is not prejudiced because he will have full opportunity of meeting the case of the plaintiff as amended. In the latter cases the question of prejudice to the opposite party may arise and that shall have to be answered by reference to the facts and circumstances of each individual case. No strait-jacket formula can be laid down. The fact remains that a mere delay cannot be a ground for refusing a prayer for amendment."

10. In my view, orders impugned cannot be sustained, therefore, the order dated 16.11.2022 passed by the trial court i.e. Additional Civil Judge (Junior Division), Court No. 3, Gorakhpur and 10.04.2023 passed by the Additional District and Sessions Judge, Court No. 4, Gorakhpur in Civil Revision No. 124 of 2022, are hereby set-aside.

11. In exercise of power under Article 227 of Constitution of India, I am not remitting the matter back for decision afresh. The application for amendment filed by the petitioner being Paper No. 140 Ka-2 is allowed. The petitioner is directed to carry out the necessary amendment within three weeks from the date of the order.

12. Since the suit is of the year 1997, it is expected that the court below i.e. Additional Civil Judge (Junior Division) Court No. 3, Gorakhpur to consider and decide the aforesaid case, in accordance with law, expeditiously, preferably within a period of six months from the date of production of a certified copy of this order after ensuring service upon all the parties concerned and after giving opportunity of hearing to the parties concerned as well as opportunity to lead evidence in support of their case and without granting unnecessary adjournments to either of the parties provided that there is no other legal impediment.

13. With the aforesaid observation, this petition stands allowed.

(2026) 2 ILRA 775
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 27.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE MANISH KUMAR NIGAM, J.

Matters Under Article 227 No. 14134 of 2024

Anendra Singh ...Petitioner
Versus
Ram Kishan & Anr. ...Respondents

Issue for Consideration

Whether the amendment application filed by the plaintiff-petitioner was highly delayed as the same was filed almost after three years of the alleged possession being taken by them, which was not admitted to the defendants as they were already in possession and the amendment application was hit by the proviso to Rule 17 of Order VI of C.P.C. as the issues have been framed in the suit and the suit has commenced.

Head Notes

The Constitution of India, 1950-Article 227; The Code of Civil Procedure, 1908- Order VI Rule 17- The amendment sought by the plaintiff was only to incorporate a relief, based on a cause of action which arose after filing of the suit. Since the allegation of the plaintiff was that in June, 2019 the possession was taken and the consequential amendment application was filed in May, 2022 well within three years, the plaintiff could have filed a separate suit for the same relief which he sought to add in the plaint by seeking an amendment. Once a separate suit is permissible, there is no reason to deny a relief by amendment in the pending suit as the same will avoid multiplicity of the proceedings- The merit of amendment cannot be prejudged at the stage of considering the application for amendment. The question as to whether which of the parties is in possession has to be considered and decided after the evidence is led by both the parties.

Held- The courts below erred in rejecting the application for amendment- Impugned orders dated 23.02.2024 and 03.07.2024 are hereby quashed. The petition is allowed. (E-15)

(Para 6, 9 & 13)

Case Law Cited

Chitranshi Vs. Rajnarayan Tripathi reported in 2025 (5) AWC 4867; Mohinder Kumar Mehra Vs. Roop Rani Mehra and others reported in (2018) 2 SCC 132; Sampath Kumar versus Ayakannu and others reported in (2002) 7 SCC 559;

List of Acts

The Constitution of India, 1950 - The Code of Civil Procedure, 1908

List of Keywords

Amendment application; Order 6 Rule 17 CPC; Cause of action; arose after filing of suit; consequential amendment application.

Case Arising From

Petition filed challenging the order dated 23.02.2024 passed by the trial court i.e. Additional Civil Judge (Senior Division) Court No. 8, Farrukhabad, rejecting an application for amendment filed by the plaintiff-petitioner in the suit. Against the order dated 23.02.2024, a revision was filed by the petitioner and the same has also been dismissed

Appearances for Parties

Counsel for Petitioner(s) : Devesh Kumar Verma, Suresh Chandra Verma
Counsel for Respondent(s) : Ajai Singh Kushwaha

(Delivered by Hon'ble Manish Kumar Nigam, J.)

1. Heard Sri Devesh Kumar Verma, learned counsel for the petitioner and Sri Ajai Singh Kushwaha, learned counsel for the respondents.

2. This petition has been filed challenging the order dated 23.02.2024 passed by the trial court i.e. Additional Civil Judge (Senior Division) Court No. 8, Farrukhabad, rejecting an application for amendment filed by the plaintiff-petitioner in the suit. Against the order dated 23.02.2024, a revision was filed by the petitioner and the same has also been dismissed.

3. Brief facts of the case are that a suit for declaration was instituted on 29.05.2015, claiming ownership of the property in dispute on the basis of Will executed by the original owner of the property in dispute in favour of the petitioner. During pendency of the suit, an amendment application was filed by the petitioner, who was the plaintiff before the court below, in May, 2022 with the allegation that during the pendency of the suit in June, 2019, the defendants have taken forcible possession of the property in dispute and therefore, the decree of possession may also be passed in favor of the plaintiff-petitioner. The said application was opposed by the defendants and was ultimately dismissed by the trial court. Revision filed against the said order has also been dismissed.

4. It has been contended by learned counsel for the petitioner that the petitioner was only claiming a consequential relief because a cause of action for the same arose after filing of the suit. It has been further submitted by learned counsel for the petitioner that as per the case of the petitioner, the possession was taken forcibly by the defendants in June, 2019 and the consequent amendment application was filed by the petitioner in May, 2022 well within the limitation for filing a suit for possession. It has also been submitted by learned counsel for the petitioner that once a separate suit could have been filed by the petitioner, there was no impediment in allowing the amendment application as the same would result in avoiding the multiplicity of the proceedings.

5. Per contra, learned counsel for the respondents vehemently contended that the courts below have committed no illegality in rejecting the amendment application. The amendment application filed by the plaintiff-petitioner was highly delayed as the same was filed almost after three years of the alleged possession being taken by them, which was not admitted to the defendants as they were already in possession. It has been further submitted that the amendment application was hit by the proviso to Rule 17 of Order VI of C.P.C. as the issues have been framed in the suit and the suit has commenced.

6. Considering the rival submissions of the parties, I am of the opinion that the amendment sought by the plaintiff was only to incorporate a relief, which was based on a cause of action which arose after filing of the suit. Since the allegation of the plaintiff was that in June, 2019 the possession was taken and the consequential amendment application was filed in May, 2022 well within three years, the plaintiff could have filed a separate suit for the same relief which he sought to add in the plaint by seeking an amendment. Once a separate suit is permissible, there is no reason to deny a relief by amendment in the pending suit as the same will avoid multiplicity of the proceedings.

7. In case of Sampath Kumar versus Ayakannu and others reported in (2002) 7 SCC 559, the Supreme Court was considering the question whether it is permissible to convert through amendment a suit merely for permanent prohibitory injunction into a suit for declaration of title and recovery of possession. In paragraph Nos. 6 and 7, the Supreme Court has held as under:-

"6. It is true that the plaintiff on the averments made in the application for amendment proposes to introduce a cause of action which has arisen to the plaintiff during the pendency of the suit. According to the defendant the averments made in the application for amendment are factually incorrect and the defendant was not in possession of the property since before the institution of the suit itself.

7. In our opinion, the basic structure of the suit is not altered by the proposed amendment. What is sought to be changed is the nature of relief sought for by the plaintiff. In the opinion of the Trial Court it was open to the plaintiff to file a fresh suit and that is one of the reasons which has prevailed with the Trial Court and with the High Court in refusing the prayer for amendment and also in dismissing the plaintiffs revision. We fail to understand, if it is permissible for the plaintiff to file an independent suit, why the same relief which could be prayed for in a new suit cannot be permitted to be incorporated in the pending suit. In the facts and circumstances of the present case, allowing the amendment would curtail multiplicity of legal proceedings"

8. Order VI Rule 17 of C.P.C. confers jurisdiction on the Court to allow either party to alter or amend his pleadings at any stage of the proceedings and on such terms as may be just. Such amendments as are directed towards putting-form and seeking determination of the real question in controversy between the parties shall be permitted to be made. The question of delay in moving an application for amendment should be decided not by calculating the period from the date of institution of the suit alone but by reference to the stage to which the hearing in the suit has proceeded. Pre-trial amendments are allowed more liberally than those which are sought to be made after the commencement of the trial or after conclusion thereof.

9. So far as contention of learned counsel for the respondents that trial court has rejected the application for amendment on the ground that the issues have been framed in the suit and in the application for amendment, it has not been disclosed as to why the delay has been occurred in filing the amendment application. It has also been held that defendants in their written statement has specifically stated that defendants are in possession over the property in dispute, in such a situation, amendment application cannot be allowed. The same view has been reaffirmed by the revisional court. The view taken by the courts below is erroneous. The merit of amendment cannot be prejudged at the stage of considering the application for amendment. The question as to whether which of the parties is in possession has to be considered and decided after the evidence is led by both the parties.

10. Further, this Court in the case of Chitranshi Vs. Rajnarayan Tripathi reported in 2025 (5) AWC 4867 relied upon the judgment of Mohinder Kumar Mehra Vs. Roop Rani Mehra and others reported in (2018) 2 SCC 132 and held that normally the trial commences with the leading of evidence and the proviso to Order VI Rule 17 of C.P.C. prohibited entertainment of amendment application after commencement of the trial with the object and purpose that once parties proceed with the leading of evidence, no new pleading be permitted to be introduced.

11. In the present case, only issues have been framed and it is not the case of either of the parties that any evidence was led at the time of filing of the amendment application.

12. The Supreme Court in case of Sampath Kumar Vs. Ayyakannu (supra) has held that delay in filing an application for amendment by itself cannot be a ground for rejecting the application. Paragraph No. 9 of the judgment in case of Sampath Kumar Vs. Ayyakannu(supra) is quoted as under:-

"9. Order 6 Rule 17 of the CPC confers jurisdiction on the Court to allow either party to alter or amend his pleadings at any stage of the proceedings and on such terms as may be just. Such amendments as are directed towards putting forth and seeking determination of the real questions in controversy between the parties shall be permitted to be made. The question of delay in moving an application for amendment should be decided not by calculating the period from the date of institution of the suit alone but by reference to the stage to which the hearing in the suit has proceeded. Pre-trial amendments are allowed more liberally than those which are sought to be made after the commencement of the trial or after conclusion thereof. In former case generally it can be assumed that the defendant is not prejudiced because he will have full opportunity of meeting the case of the plaintiff as amended. In the latter cases the question of prejudice to the opposite party may arise and that shall have to be answered by reference to the facts and circumstances of each individual case. No strait-jacket formula can be laid down. The fact remains that a mere delay cannot be a ground for refusing a prayer for amendment."

13. In my view, the courts below have erred in law in rejecting the application for amendment. Consequently, the orders dated 23.02.2024 and 03.07.2024 are hereby quashed. The petition is allowed.

14. As the matter is pending since 2019, I am not remitting the same to be decided by the trial court itself and in exercise of powers under Article 227 of the Constitution of India, I am allowing the application for amendment filed by the petitioner. The petitioner shall carry out the amendment within three weeks from the date of production of certified copy of this order before the court below.

(2026) 2 ILRA 779
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 19.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE BRIJ RAJ SINGH, J.

Application U/S 482. No. 871 of 2026

Gayatri Nanjundappa @ Dr. Gayatri Singh ....Applicant
Versus
State of U.P. & Anr. ...Opposite Parties

ISSUE FOR CONSIDERATION

Whether the complaint filed by the Additional Chief Medical Officer, under the PCPNDT Act, 1994, is maintainable in law.
Whether the authorization order issued by the District Magistrate was legally valid despite absence of recorded reasons.
Whether the discharge application could be allowed on the ground that the complaint was based on hearsay evidence.

HEADNOTES

Criminal Law – Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 – Section 482 - Pre-Conception and Pre-Natal Diagnostic Techniques (Prohibition of Sex Selection) Act, 1994 – Section 17, 17(1), 17(3), 17(3)(b), 23, 28, 28(1), 28(1)(a), 30, 30(1) - Pre-Conception and Pre-Natal Diagnostic Techniques (Prohibition of Sex Selection) Rules, 1996 – Rule 11: - Application u/s 482 CrPC – for quashing impugned orders whereby the trial court rejected discharge application and further the dismissal of criminal revision subsequently – Complaint filed under PCPNDT Act, 1994 – cognizance – summoning order - bail granted – applicant pleaded that complaint not filed by Appropriate Authority and authorization defective and complaint was based on hearsay evidence – State contended District Magistrate validly authorized ACMO under Section 28(1)(a) and Rule 11 PCPNDT Rules – Court finds delegation permissible, authorization lawful, and evidentiary challenge premature – held - Section 28 allows complaint by officer duly authorized -and Rule 11 permits inspection authorization without reasons – further, Section 482 jurisdiction does not extend to mini-trial – consequently, complaint maintainable, discharge rightly rejected – petition fails – accordingly, rejected. (Para – 18, 20, 21, 22)
Application Dismissed. (E-11)

CASE LAW CITED

Ravinder Kumar v. State of Haryana, 2024 (SC)

Dr. Vinod Kumar Bassi v. State of U.P., 2024 (Allahabad HC)
State of M.P. v. Manvinder Singh Gill, SLP (Crl.) No. 2226/2014, SC (2015)
Suo Motu v. State of Gujarat, 2008 SCC OnLine Guj 294 (FB)
Dr. Brij Pal Singh v. State of U.P., 2024 AHC 159207

LIST OF ACTS

Pre-Conception and Pre-Natal Diagnostic Techniques (Prohibition of Sex Selection) Act, 1994 - Pre-Conception and Pre-Natal Diagnostic Techniques (Prohibition of Sex Selection) Rules, 1996 - Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973.

LIST OF KEYWORDS

PCPNDT Act, Appropriate Authority, Delegation of Power, Complaint Maintainability, Authorization Order, Search and Seizure, Discharge Application, Section 482 CrPC, Hearsay Evidence.

CASE ARISING FROM

Complaint Case No. 9713 of 2008, Dr. A.K. Chaudhary v. Dr. Gayatri Singh & Another
Criminal Revision No. 517 of 2024, Dr. Gayatri Singh v. State of U.P. & Another
Orders dated 13.06.2024 (CJM, Lucknow) and 18.11.2025 (Special Judge, PC Act, Lucknow)

APPEARANCE OF PARTIES

Counsel for Appellant(s): Shri Dhirendra Singh Panwar.
Counsel for Respondent(s): Shri S.M. Singh Royekwar, Additional Advocate General; Sri Rajdeep Singh, AGA-I

(Delivered by Hon'ble Brij Raj Singh, J.)

1. The present application has been filed seeking setting aside the order dated 13.06.2024 passed by the Chief Judicial Magistrate, Lucknow in Complaint Case No.9713 of 2008, Dr. A.K. Chaudhary Vs Dr. Gayatri Singh and another, under Section 23 of Pre-Conception and Pre-Natal Diagnostic Techniques Act, 1994 (hereinafter referred to as the 'Act, 1994'), Police Station Bakshi Ka Talab, District Lucknow, whereby the application for discharge preferred by the applicant was rejected and further the order dated 18.11.2025 passed by the Special Judge, Prevention of Corruption Act, Court No.7, Lucknow in Criminal Revision No.517 of 2024, Dr. Gayatri Singh Vs. The State of U.P. and another, whereby the revision filed by the applicant was dismissed.

2. The facts, in nut shell, are that a complaint was filed by opposite party no.2 under Section 23 of the Act, 1994 at Police Station Bakshi Ka Talab, District Lucknow on 18.11.2008, which was registered as Complaint Case No.9713 of 2008 before the Magistrate, whereupon the Magistrate took cognizance on 20.11.2008 and thereafter summon was issued against the applicant. The applicant surrendered and was enlarged on bail on 14.09.2010. The applicant moved an application for discharge, which was rejected on 13.06.2024. Being aggrieved by the said order, applicant preferred a revision, which too was dismissed by the revisional court vide order dated 18.11.2025. Hence, the instant application has been filed.

3. Sri Dhirendra Singh Panwar, learned counsel for the applicant has submitted that applicant is an M.B.B.S. doctor and she has been a Registered Medical Practitioner since 1999 in the field of Obstetrics. Applicant is not the owner of Maa Chandrika Devi Maternity and Surgical Center and she was practicing there as Gynecologist at the time of alleged incident of search and seizure and the entire complaint is based on the hearsay evidence. He has further submitted that Dr. A.K.

Chaudhary (opposite party no.2), the then Additional Chief Medical Officer, Lucknow is not the appropriate authority within the meaning of Section 17 of the Act, 1994 and he has no legal authority to file the present complaint. It is submitted that only single member of the Appropriate Authority cannot authorize any official to take action or decision as provided under Section 30(1) of the Act, 1994. The complaint is based on the proceedings of search and seizure conducted by the members of the search team on 13.11.2008, who were authorized by only single person of the party, as such the entire proceeding is vitiated.

4. Learned counsel for the applicant has further invited the attention of the Court towards the Government Notification No.3020/V-9-2007-6(74)-94-T.C. dated 30.11.1997, which has been issued in pursuance of Section 17 of the Act, 1994 and has submitted that as per clause (3) of the said Notification, the District Magistrate may nominate an executive Magistrate of the district as his/her nominee to assist him/her in monitoring the implementation of the Pre-conception and Pre-natal Diagnostic Techniques Act, as deemed necessary.

5. In sum and substance, learned counsel for the applicant has taken two legal grounds; firstly, that complaint was not filed by the Appropriate Authority as provided under Section 28 of the Act, 1994, i.e. District Magistrate, but the same was filed by the Additional Chief Medical Officer, Lucknow, which is not sustainable and; secondly, while taking action under Section 30 of the Act, 1994, it is imperative upon the District Magistrate to record reasons, but he has passed the order without recoding any reasons. In support of his contention, counsel for the applicant has relied upon the following judgments:

1. Ravinder Kumar Vs. State of Haryana, 2024 (4) JIC 742 (SC);

2. Dr. Vinod Kumar Bassi Vs. State of U.P. and another, 2024:AHC-LKO:25839

6. On the other hand, Sri S.M. Singh Royekwar, learned Additional Advocate General assisted by Sri Rajdeep Singh, learned AGA-I for the State has submitted that the issue raised by the applicant has engaged attention of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Special Leave to Appeal (Crl.) No. 2226 of 2014, State of Madhya Pradesh Vs. Manvinder Singh Gill, decided on 03.08.2015 and after going through the provisions of Section 28(1)(a) and Section 17(3)(b) of the Act 1994, it emerges that the complaint in respect of an offence under the Act, 1994 can be filed by the District Magistrate himself or by any officer authorised in this behalf by him. The District Magistrate has authorized the Additional Chief Medical Officer, Lucknow vide order dated 18.08.2008, which clearly indicates that the District Magistrate has authorized Additional Chief Medical Officer, Lucknow to do pairvi and file the complaint. In view of the express provision contained in Section 28(1)(a) of the Act, 1994, the Appropriate Authority has been authorized or empowered to delegate his power to file complaint to an officer, therefore, the complaint was maintainable and there is no illegality or infirmity in the summoning order.

7. Learned Additional Advocate General by citing the judgement of the Full Bench of the Gujarat High Court in the case of Suo Motu Vs. State of Gujarat, 2008 SCC OnLine Guj 294 and a judgement of this Court in the case of Dr. Brij Pal Singh Vs. State of U.P. and another, 2024 AHC 159207 has submitted that there is no ambiguity in Section 28(1) of the Act, 1994, which clearly conveys that complaint could be filed by an officer who is authorised in that behalf by the Central Government, State Government or the appropriate authority. The power of delegation is stipulated in all the three authorities under the provisions of Section 28 of the Act, 1994.

8. Learned Additional Advocate General has further invited the attention of the Court towards the order dated 18.08.2008, by which the District Magistrate has exercised his power as envisaged under Section 28(1)(a) of the Act, 1994 and has authorized Dr. A.K. Chaudhary, Additional Chief Medical Officer, Lucknow to file complaint in competent court under the Act, 1994. He has further submitted that vide order dated 13.11.2008, the District Magistrate issued an order under Rule 11 of the Rules, 1996, which pertains to inspection for facilities at Ultrasound Clinic, Imaging Centre, etc. Thus, the argument of learned counsel for the applicant that the authorization dated 13.11.2008 is against the Act, is not sustainable. It is also submitted that Section 30 of the Act, 1994 also provides that if the Appropriate Authority has reason to believe that an offence under this Act has been or is being committed at Genetic Counselling Centre, Genetic Laboratory, Genetic Clinic or any other place, such Authority or any officer authorised in this behalf may, subject to such Rules as may be prescribed, enter and search at all reasonable times with such assistance, if any, as such Authority or officer considers necessary, such Genetic Counselling Centre, Genetic Laboratory, Genetic Clinic or any other place and examine any record, register, document, book, pamphlet, advertisement or any other material object found therein and seize and seal the same if such Authority or officer has reason to believe that it may furnish evidence of the commission of an offence punishable under this Act. He has submitted that vide order dated 13.11.2008, the District Magistrate/Appropriate Authority under Rule 11 of the Rules, 1996 has authorised two officers to take action.

9. Learned Additional Advocate General has further invited the attention of the Court towards the Government Notification dated 30.11.1997 and has submitted that as per clause (3) of the said Notification, the District Magistrate may nominate an executive Magistrate of the district as his/her nominee to assist him/her in monitoring the implementation of the Pre-conception and Pre-natal Diagnostic Techniques Act and he has been empowered under clause (a) read with clause (b) of Sub-Section (3) of Section 17 of the Act, 1994. He has, therefore, submitted no interference is required by this Court in the impugned orders while exercising its inherent powers under Section 482 Cr.P.C.

10. I have heard learned counsel for the parties and perused the record.

11. For the sake of reference, Sections 17 and 28 of Act, 1994 are quoted below:-

'17. Appropriate Authority and Advisory Committee.-

1. The Central Government shall appoint, by notification in the Official Gazette, one or more Appropriate Authorities for each of the Union territories for the purposes of this Act.

2. The State Government shall appoint, by notification in the Official Gazette, one or more Appropriate Authorities for the whole or part of the State for the purposes of this Act having regard to the intensity of the problem of pre-natal sex determination leading to female foeticide

3. The officers appointed as Appropriate Authorities under sub-section (1) or sub-section (2) shall be,'

(a) when appointed for the whole of the State or the Union territory, consisting of the following three members-

i) an officer of or above the rank of the Joint Director of Health and Family Welfare-Chairperson;

ii) an eminent woman representing women's organization; and

iii) an officer of Law Department of the State or the Union territory concerned:

Provided that it shall be the duty of the State or the Union territory concerned to constitute multi-member State or Union territory level Appropriate Authority within three months of the coming into force of the Pre-natal Diagnostic Techniques (Regulation and Prevention of Misuse) Amendment Act, 2002:

Provided further that any vacancy occurring therein shall be filled within three months of that occurrence.

(b) when appointed for any part of the State or the Union territory, of such other rank as the State Government or the Central Government, as the case may be, may deem fit.

4. The Appropriate Authority shall have the following functions, namely:-

(a) to grant, suspend or cancel registration of a Genetic Counselling Centre, Genetic Laboratory or Genetic Clinic;

(b) to enforce standards prescribed for the Genetic Counselling Centre, Genetic Laboratory and Genetic Clinic;

(c) to investigate complaints of breach of the provisions of this Act or the rules made thereunder and take immediate action;

(d) to seek and consider the advice of the Advisory Committee, constituted under sub-section

(5), on application for registration and on complaints for suspension or cancellation of registration;

(e) to take appropriate legal action against the use of any sex selection technique by any person at any place, suo motu or brought to its notice and also to initiate independent investigations in such matter;

(f) to create public awareness against the practice of sex selection or pre-natal determination of sex;

(g) to supervise the implementation of the provisions of the Act and rules;

(h) to recommend to the CSB and State Boards modifications required in the rules in accordance with changes in technology or social conditions;

(i) to take action on the recommendations of the Advisory Committee made after investigation of complaint for suspension or cancellation of registration.

5. The Central Government or the State Government, as the case may be, shall constitute an Advisory Committee for each Appropriate Authority to aid and advise the Appropriate Authority in the discharge of its functions, and shall appoint one of the members of the Advisory Committee to be its Chairman.

6 The Advisory Committee shall consist of'

(a) three medical experts from amongst gynaecologists, obstericians, paediatricians and medical geneticists;

(b) one legal expert;

(c) one officer to represent the department dealing with information and publicity of the State Government or the Union territory, as the case may be;

(d) three eminent social workers of whom not less than one shall be from amongst representatives of women's organisations.

7. No person who has been associated with the use or promotion of pre-natal diagnostic technique for determination of sex or sex selection shall be appointed as a member of the Advisory Committee.

8. The Advisory Committee may meet as and when it thinks fit or on the request of the Appropriate Authority for consideration of any application for registration or any complaint for suspension or cancellation of registration and to give advice thereon:

Provided that the period intervening between any two meetings shall not exceed the prescribed period.

9. The terms and conditions subject to which a person may be appointed to the Advisory Committee and the procedure to be followed by such Committee in the discharge of its functions shall be such as may be prescribed

28. Cognizance of offences:

1. No court shall take cognizance of an offence under this Act except on a complaint made by'

(a) the Appropriate Authority concerned, or any officer authorised in this behalf by the Central Government or State Government, as the case may be, or the Appropriate Authority; or

(b) a person who has given notice of not less than fifteen days in the manner prescribed, to the Appropriate Authority, of the alleged offence and of his intention to make a complaint to the court.

Explanation.'For the purpose of this clause, 'person' includes a social organisation.

2. No court other than that of a Metropolitan Magistrate or a Judicial Magistrate of the first class shall try any offence punishable under this Act.

3. Where a complaint has been made under clause (b) of subsection (1), the court may, on demand by such person, direct the Appropriate Authority to make available copies of the relevant records in its possession to such person.'

12. Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Manvinder Singh Gill (supra) while considering the provisions of Sections 17 and 28 of the Act, 1994, held as under:-

'We perused Section 28 (1) (a) of the Act which reads as under:-

"28. Cognizance of offences. (1) No court shall take cognizance of an offence under this Act except on a complaint made by-- (a) the Appropriate Authority concerned, or any officer authorised in this behalf by the Central Government or State Government, as the case may be or the appropriate authority:'

When read carefully it emerges that the Authority vested in three officers, namely, authority the as Appropriate Authority, i.e. the notified under Section 17 (3) of the Act apart from any officer authorised in that behalf either by the Central Government or the State Government or by the concerned Appropriate Authority notified under Section 17(3) itself.'

Hon'ble Supreme Court in the aforesaid case has further observed as under:-

"Learned counsel for the petitioner, however, drew our attention to paragraph 11 of the impugned judgment wherein while considering Section 17 (3) (b) and (28) (1) (a) of the Act, the High Court stated that action under the Act can be taken by the Court only when a complaint is made by "the appropriate authority" or "by any officer authorised by the Central Government or State Government, otherwise such action would not be valid in law. While stating so, the High Court has omitted to note that under Section 28 (1)(a) any officer authorised by the "Appropriate Authority" notified under Section 17 (3) would also be entitled to initiate action under the Act."

13. The aforesaid judgment of the Hon'ble Supreme Court has given the verdict that under Section 28(1)(a) of the Act 1994, any officer authorised by the Appropriate Authority notified under Section 17(3) of the Act, 1994 would also be entitled to initiate action under the Act, 1994. Thus, the authorization done by the District Magistrate is valid and the Additional Chief Medical Officer, Lucknow was empowered to file the complaint and there is no illegality in it.

14. The issue of authorization under Section 28(1)(a) of the Act 1994 has again considered by this Court in the case of Dr. Brij Pal Singh (supra). Relevant paragraph of the aforesaid judgement is extracted below:

"ISSUE (E)

78. In view of Section 28 of the PC & PNDT Act, the following persons are authorized to file complaint case for any offence under the PC & PNDT Act, Le. (1) the Appropriate Authority; (ii) any other person authorized by the Central Government or the State Government, as the case may be; (iii) or any person authorized by the Appropriate Authority and (iv) a person who has given a notice of not less than 15 days to the appropriate authority for filing of the complaint before the Magistrate."

15. The aforesaid judgment also indicates that any person authorized by the Appropriate Authority is empowered to file a complaint before the Magistrate.

16. Similar question has been cropped up before the Full Bench of the Gujarat High Court in the case of Suo Motu Vs. State of Gujarat (supra) and the Full Bench has considered the provisions of Section 28(1)(a) of the Act 1994. Relevant paragraph of the said judgement is quoted below:-

"Use of the words 'Appropriate Authority' twice, at the beginning and end of clause (a) of sub-section (1) of section 28, clearly conveys that complaint could be made by an officer who is authorised in that behalf by the Central Government, the State Government or the Appropriate Authority, besides the Appropriate Authority itself. The power to delegate and authorise an officer to make a complaint is clearly conferred upon all the three authorities under the provisions of section 28, and therefore, a Court can take cognizance of an offence under the Act on a complaint made by any officer authorised in that behalf by the Appropriate Authority."

17. The said judgment also clearly indicates that complaint could be filed by any officer, who is authorized by the Appropriate Authority. It appears that a coordinate Bench of this Court in the case of Dr. Vinod Kumar Bassi (supra) could not consider the judgement of Hon'ble Supreme Court rendered in the case of Manvinder Singh Gill (supra).

18. The second legal aspect that while passing the order dated 13.11.2008, the District Magistrate has not recorded his reasons. A critical reading of the order dated 13.11.2008 indicates that the same is issued under Rule 11 of the Rules, 1996 which provides facilities for inspection at any Genetic Counselling Centre, Genetic Laboratory, Genetic Clinic, etc. and this Rule 11 further provides that the Appropriate Authority may authorized any other person to act in this behalf and there is no illegality in the order of authorization.

19. The second limb of argument advanced by the applicant's counsel also fails.

20. It is further to be noted that as per Clause 3 of the Notification dated 30.11.2017, District Magistrate may nominate an executive magistrate of the district as his/her nominee to assist him/her in monitoring the implementation of the Pre-conception and Pre-natal Diagnostic Techniques Act. He has been empowered under empowered under Clause (a) read with Clause (b) of Sub-Section 3 of Section 17 of the Act, 1994.

21. The scope of Section 17(1) has been considered by the Full Bench of Gujarat High Court in the case of Suo Motu Vs. State of Gujarat (supra) and by this Court in the case of Dr. Brij Pal Singh (supra).

22. It is pertinent to note that the applicant has challenged the order rejecting the application for discharge. At this stage, this Court cannot embark upon a mini-trial or undertake an evaluation of the evidentiary material on record. The contention that the complaint is founded on hearsay evidence is not tenable in proceedings under Section 482 of the CrPC. The inherent jurisdiction of this Court does not extend to assessing the probative value of evidence, which is a matter to be determined during trial upon the parties leading evidence in accordance with law.

23. In view of the aforesaid legal and factual aspects, the petition fails and has no merits. Accordingly, it is rejected.

(2026) 2 ILRA 787
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 09.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE PANKAJ BHATIA, J.

Application U/S 528 BNSS. No. 1980 of 2025

Kamlesh Agnihotri @ Kamal & Ors. ....Applicants
Versus
State of U.P. & Anr. ...Opposite Parties

ISSUE FOR CONSIDERATION

Whether the FIR, charge sheet, and summoning order under Sections 308(2), 351(2), 352 BNS against elected Resident Welfare Association (RWA) members for alleged extortion/harassment in parking disputes disclose any offence and justify continuation of criminal proceedings.

HEADNOTES

Criminal Law – Criminal Procedure Code - Section – 482, - Bharatiya Nagarik Surakhash Sanhita, 2023 (BNSS) - Section - 180, 528, - Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita, 2023 (BNS) - Section - 308(1), 308(2), 351(2), 351, 351(3), 352 - Uttar Pradesh Apartment Act – Section - 14: - Application u/s 482 CrPC – for quashing of entire criminal proceedings - FIRs - offences of cheating, intentional insult, and criminal intimidation (in year 2004 case) and causing hurt by poison, gang rape, criminal breach of trust, and unlawful religious conversion (in year 2024) – investigation - arrest – Mistaken Identity – Non-verification of particulars in NBW – Applicant wrongly apprehended – Violation of Article 21 - charge sheet - cognizance order – Trial - applicants pleaded mistaken identity, no evidence under Section 161 Cr.P.C., and mechanical cognizance – State admitted factual confusion due to identical names and incomplete particulars in NBW – Court finds that, arrest based on mistaken identity, violating Article 21 – held - arrest must be justified, not routine; deprivation of liberty impermissible without due verification – hence, impugned orders and proceedings quashed – applications allowed with direction to police to take lawful action against erring officers, compliance report to be filed - applicants at liberty to seek compensation under Article 226. (Para – 31, 23, 34, 35, 36, 38)

Application Allowed. (E-11)

CASE LAW CITED

Sanjeev @ Kallu Sethiya v. State of U.P. (2022).
Manik Taneja v. State of Karnataka (2015).
Beri Manoj v. State of A.P. (2026).
Anukul Singh v. State of U.P. (2025 INSC 1153).
Manmohan Krishna v. State of U.P. (2024 AHC 31717).
Isaac Isanga Musumba v. State of Maharashtra (2015 ALL SC 3483).
CBI v. Aryan Singh (2023).
M/s Balaji Traders v. State of U.P. (2025 INSC 806).
Dhananjay Kumar Singh v. State of Bihar (2007 AIR SCW 923).

LIST OF ACTS

Code of Criminal Procedure - Bharatiya Nagarik Surakhash Sanhita, 2023 - Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita, 2023 - U.P. Apartment Act.

LIST OF KEYWORDS

Criminal Case – FIR – Quashing of proceedings - Mistaken identity - non-bailable warrant (NBW) - Personal liberty – Article 21 - Wrongful arrest - Compensation for unlawful detention - Police accountability.

CASE ARISING FROM

Case Crime No.392 of 2025, P.S. Sushant Golf City, Lucknow - Proceedings in Case No.115214 of 2025 (State v. Kamal @ Kamlesh Agnihotri & Ors.) - Charge Sheet No.01 of 2025 dated 25.07.2025.

APPEARANCE OF PARTIES

Counsel for Appellant(s): Shri Mohit Mishra.
Counsel for Respondent(s): Shri Dr. L.P. Mishra, Shri Sriniwas Bajpai, Shri Abhay Shukla, Shri V.K. Singh, Government Advocate assisted by Shri Bhanu Pratap Singh, AGA-I.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Pankaj Bhatia, J.)

1. Heard Shri Mohit Mishra, learned counsel for the applicants; Shri V.K. Singh, learned Government Advocate assisted by Shri Bhanu Pratap Singh, learned AGA - I appearing for the State and Dr. L.P. Mishra, learned counsel alongwith Shri Sriniwas Bajpai and Shri Abhay Shukla, learned counsel(s) for respondent no.2.

2. Present application has been filed seeking to quash the Charge Sheet No.01 of 2025 Dated 25.07.2025 submitted in Case Crime No.392 of 2025, under Sections 308(2), 351(2), 352 of BNS,

P.S. Sushant Golf City, District Lucknow alongwith summoning order and entire criminal proceedings of Case No.115214 of 2025 (State v. Kamal @ Kamlesh Agnihotri & Ors.).

3. The facts, in brief, are that the applicants and Opposite Party No.2 are residents of a society known as Celebrity Greens. The said society is inhabited by a substantial number of members who are the apartment owners. The society was formed by the residents of the society and was also duly registered. Applicant No.1 is the Secretary to the said society duly elected, and Applicant Nos.2 & 3 are President and Caretaker of the said society respectively. It is pleaded that the said society was formed after taking the NOC from the builder and has been constituted under Section 14 of the U.P. Apartment Act and works according to the provisions of the Act and the bye-laws. It is pleaded that the general body of the society holds regular meeting and actions are taken as per the bye-laws, regulations etc.

4. It is stated that in the board meeting held on 24.11.2024 the issue with regard to haphazard parking was taken up and guidelines were issued and the residents were allotted one slot of their choice for parking of their vehicles with an advice to the resident to park in the allotted parking space. The said welfare measure was taken to avoid obstruction in traffic movement within the colony. It was also decided that in the event of not following the guidelines, at the first instance advice would be issued to the residents and in case of repeat, vehicles will be locked and locks will be opened by giving warning and at the third instance, steps would be taken for levy of penalty of Rs.500/- as per the board meeting.

5. It is stated that Opposite Party No.2 was wrongly parking his vehicle which was opposed, as such, he lodged the FIR in question being FIR No.392 of 2025 (Annexure ' 1) wherein it was alleged that the informant was a B.Tech and was an entrepreneur and social worker; it was stated that he was a trustee of Bhavrao Devras Trust of Rastriye Swyamsevak Sangh (RSS) and was residing in the said apartment since 2022. It was stated that applicants were engaged in extracting money from the residents and threats were issued on 1st of May to the informant for levying a penalty of Rs.500/-. It was also stated that the applicants were recovering money from various persons after forming a gang and on account of non payment, harassment was being meted out to the residents. It was also stated that as per the information of the informant, there was no sanction for the said recoveries and even the receipts were not issued and thus, a request was made to lodge the FIR under Sections 308(2), 351(2), 352 of IPC.

6. Investigation was conducted by Investigating Officer Mr. Shiv Kant Tiwari. While investigating, the Investigating Officer recorded the statement of the informant and also prepared a site plan. He also recorded the evidences given by Opposite Party No.2 which are contained in Annexure ' 8. The evidences collected was only in the form of statement of the informant wherein he stated that the Resident Welfare Association (for short 'RWA') was only a headless body without having any rights and has no rights to take any decision with regard to the management of the society etc. The same are on record as Annexure ' 8. Other allegations were also levelled of not utilising the funds properly.

7. Statement of the informant is also on record as Annexure ' 6 wherein it is stated that threats were being issued by RWA for improper parking of vehicles including that of the informant.

8. Statement of the applicants were also recorded under Section 180 of BNSS to the effect that the informant was habitual of wrongly parking his vehicle which was opposed by the residents and a Whatsapp message was also floated that the vehicle should be removed and information was also given that despite advice, vehicle was being wrongly parked and in case the owner repeat the same, steps shall be taken for locking the vehicle. The said statements are on record as Annexures ' 9, 10 & 11.

9. Based upon the said material, charge sheet came to be filed which is on record, on which the statements were referred including the statements under Section 180 BNSS of the all three accused and abruptly a conclusion was drawn that the applicant nos.1 & 2 had got the Jammers installed on the car and a demand of Rs.500/- was made for removing the lock. Based upon this material, a charge sheet came to be filed under Sections 308(2), 351(3), 352 IPC.

10. Based upon the said charge sheet, Chief Judicial Magistrate, Lucknow gook cognizance and summoned the applicants in Case No.115214 of 2025. Summoning order is on record as Annexure ' 13.

11. Summoning order, on perusal, does not reflect any application of mind except that the charge sheet has been submitted, documents perused and there was sufficient material to proceed, and the summons were issued.

12. Challenging the said, present application has been filed.

13. Submission of learned counsel for the applicant is that the entire allegations even if treated to be gospel truth, do not amount to the offence under Sections 308(2), 351(2), 352 of BNS. It is further argued that the proceedings have been initiated at the instance of the informant only with a view to harass the duly elected members of the RWA and to browbeat the applicants which is also reflected from the description of the membership of the informant in the organization. It is further argued that the entire proceedings are malafide. It is argued that the charge sheet has been filed without investigating properly, no statement of any of the other members of the society was recorded, the resolution of the RWA was not even looked into, no material was recorded that any amount was charged.

14. It is also essential to notice that the wife of the same informant had filed a complaint on 07.06.2025 before the Additional Secretary under the U.P. Apartment Acct which was disposed off with direction to the society to work as per the judgment of the High Court in Writ Petition No.33826 of 2012 (M/s. Designarch Infrastructure Pvt. Ltd. & Ors. v. Vice Chairman, Ghaziabad Development Authority & Ors.). The said complaint filed by the informant and the order passed are contained in Annexures ' 14 & 15.

15. In view of the said, it is argued that continuation of the proceedings are nothing but an abuse of process of law. It is also pleaded that challenging the FIR, Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No.5311 of 2025 was filed, however, after the filing of the charge sheet, the same has rendered infructuous. It is also stated that interim protection was also granted to the applicants in the said matter.

16. Learned counsel for respondent no.2 has filed a counter affidavit wherein it has been stated that the deponent was peacefully living in the society till 'kleptocracy type of management was thrust on him' and the other society members are now defunct. It is stated that many other vehicles were stopped by putting lock and were allowed to be released on payment basis. It is further argued that the allocation of parking lots were also arbitrary and the residents were being harassed. It is also pleaded that the deponent and family was feeling small, pipsqueak. The exact statement is quoted herein below:

"4. 'Deponent and family was feeling small, pipsqueak. The egregious, bellicose orders were causing fear and resentment among residents. Extortion became routine affair. Last straw on capacity to endure hardship was when, while going for urgent work, deponent found car tyre jammed. The deponent and other society members made fervent request to alleged titular RWA, working like mafia, to not take law into hands but it was going in-vain giving mental tension. Therefore, upon finding no alternatives to tyranny, the deponent opted to file the FIR in question against the Petitioners as a last resort.'

Other allegations have also been levelled in the counter affidavit. The manner of handing over of project to the RWA is also pleaded in the counter affidavit.

17. It is argued by learned counsel for Opposite Party No.2 that the allegations would constitute an offence under Sections 308(2), 351(2) & 352 of BNS and thus, present application was liable to be dismissed. It was further argued that the informant was well within his rights to disclose his social status which include the membership of a trust run by RSS.

18. Learned AGA has also filed a counter affidavit reiterating the versions in the FIR and justifying the manner in which the investigation was carried out and with a prayer that the present application is liable to be dismissed as the investigation was fair and the charge sheet discloses the cognizable offence.

19. Learned counsel for the applicant has relied upon the observations made by this Court in the case of Sanjeev @ Kallu Sethiya v. State of U.P. passed in Criminal Misc. Bail Application No.18458 of 2022 decided on 17.10.2022 with an emphasis from Paras 29 to 36 highlighting the importance of a fair investigation. The same read as under:

"29. The U.P. Police Regulation 107 and 108 detail the procedure required to be followed by the Investigating Officer as follows:-

107. An Investigating Officer is not to regard himself as a mere clerk for the recording of statements. It is his duty to observe and to infer. In every case, he must use his own exprt observations of the scene of the offence and of the general circumstances to check the evidence of witnesses, and in cases in which the culprits are unknown to determine the direction in which he shall look for them. He must study the methods of local offenders who are known to the police with a view to recognizing their handiwork, and he must be on his guard against accepting the suspicions of witness and complaints when they conflict with obvious inferences from facts. He must remember that it his duty to find out the truth and not merely to obtain convictions. He must not prematurely commit himself to any view of the facts for or against any person and though he need not go out of his way to hunt up evidence for the defence in a case in which he has satisfactory grounds for believing that an accused person is guilty, he must always give accused persons an opportunity of producting defence evidence before him, and must consider such evidence carefully if produced. Burglary investigations should be conducted in accordance with the special orders on the subject.

108. The first step of the Investigating Officer should be to note in the case diary prescribed by Section 172 of the Code of Criminal Procedure the time and place at which he has received the information on which he acts and to make in the diary a copy of the first information report. When beginning his investigation, he must note in the diary the time and place at which he begins. He should then inspect the scene of the alleged offence and question the complainant and any other person who may be able to throw light on the circumstances. At an early stage of the investigation, he should consult the village crime note-book to learn of any matter recorded there which may have a bearing on the case.

30. A perusal of the aforesaid regulations shows that for the Investigating Officer, the accused and the complainant are equal at the time of conducting investigation. He has to consider the case of both the parties and thereafter, arrive at a fair conclusion regarding the investigation into the allegations made against the accused. He is not required to simply prove that the allegations in the F.I.R are correct and should necessarily collect evidence to implicate the accused, justifying his implication. This was done when the country was under colonial rule but it appears that even after independence the police investigation is still the same. Its aim is only to justify the implication. Rarely the statements of the accused side are recorded by the investigating officers of police.

31. What is fair investigation has been considered by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in number of judgements, considered hereinbelow:-

1) State of Bihar v. P.P. Sharma, 1992 Supp (1) SCC 222, at page 258 :

48. From this perspective, the function of the judiciary in the course of investigation by the police should be complementary and full freedom should be accorded to the investigator to collect the evidence connecting the chain of events leading to the discovery of the truth, viz., the proof of the commission of the crime,. Often individual liberty of a witness or an accused person are involved and inconvenience is inescapable and unavoidable. The investigating officer would conduct indepth investigation to discover truth while keeping in view the individual liberty with due observance of law. At the same time he has a duty to enforce criminal law as an integral process. No criminal justice system deserves respect if its wheels are turned by ignorance. It is never his business to fabricate the evidence to connect the suspect with the commission of the crime. Trustworthiness of the police is the primary insurance. Reputation for investigative competence and individual honesty of the investigator are necessary to enthuse public confidence. Total support of the public also is necessary.

2) Babubhai v. State of Gujarat, (2010) 12 SCC 254 : (2011) 1 SCC (Cri) 336, at page 268 :

32. The investigation into a criminal offence must be free from objectionable features or infirmities which may legitimately lead to a grievance on the part of the accused that investigation was unfair and carried out with an ulterior motive. It is also the duty of the Investigating Officer to conduct the investigation avoiding any kind of mischief and harassment to any of the accused. The Investigating Officer should be fair and conscious so as to rule out any possibility of fabrication of evidence and his impartial conduct must dispel any suspicion as to its genuineness. The Investigating Officer "is not to bolster up a prosecution case with such evidence as may enable the court to record conviction but to bring out the real unvarnished truth". (Vide R.P. Kapur Vs. State of Punjab AIR 1960 SC 866; Jamuna Chaudhary & Ors. Vs. State of Bihar AIR 1974 SC 1822; and Mahmood Vs. State of U.P. AIR 1976 SC 69).

3) Vinay Tyagi v. Irshad Ali, (2013) 5 SCC 762, at page 792 :

48. What ultimately is the aim or significance of the expression "fair and proper investigation' in criminal jurisprudence? It has a twin purpose. Firstly, the investigation must be unbiased, honest, just and in accordance with law. Secondly, the entire emphasis on a fair investigation has to be to bring out the truth of the case before the court of competent jurisdiction. Once these twin paradigms of fair investigation are satisfied, there will be the least requirement for the court of law to interfere with the investigation, much less quash the same, or transfer it to another agency. Bringing out the truth by fair and investigative means in accordance with law would essentially repel the very basis of an unfair, tainted investigation or cases of false implication. Thus, it is inevitable for a court of law to pass a specific order as to the fate of the investigation, which in its opinion is unfair, tainted and in violation of the settled principles of investigative canons.

4) Amitbhai Anilchandra Shah v. CBI, (2013) 6 SCC 348 : (2014) 1 SCC (Cri) 309, at page 383 :

58.9. Administering criminal justice is a two-end process, where guarding the ensured rights of the accused under Constitution is as imperative as ensuring justice to the victim. It is definitely a daunting task but equally a compelling responsibility vested on the court of law to protect and shield the rights of both. Thus, a just balance between the fundamental rights of the accused guaranteed under the Constitution and the expansive power of the police to investigate a cognizable offence has to be struck by the court. Accordingly, the sweeping power of investigation does not warrant subjecting a citizen each time to fresh investigation by the police in respect of the same incident, giving rise to one or more cognizable offences. As a consequence, in our view this is a fit case for quashing the second F.I.R to meet the ends of justice.

58.10. The investigating officers are the kingpins in the criminal justice system. Their reliable investigation is the leading step towards affirming complete justice to the victims of the case. Hence they are bestowed with dual duties i.e. to investigate the matter exhaustively and subsequently collect reliable evidences to establish the same.

5) Manohar Lal Sharma v. Prinicipal Secy., (2014) 2 SCC 532 : (2014) 4 SCC (Cri) 1, at page 553 :

26. One of the responsibilities of the police is protection of life, liberty and property of citizens. The investigation of offences is one of the important duties the police has to perform. The aim of investigation is ultimately to search for truth and bring the offender to book.

27. Section 2(h) of the Code of Criminal Procedure (for short "the Code") defines investigation to include all the proceedings under the Code for collection of evidence conducted by a police officer or by any person (other than a Magistrate) who is authorized by the Magistrate in this behalf.

28. In H.N. Rishbud, this Court explained that the investigation generally consists of the following steps : (AIR p. 201, para 5)

(1) Proceeding to the spot;

(2) ascertainment of the facts and circumstances of the case;

(3) discovery and arrest of the suspected offender;

(4) collection of evidence relating to the commission of the offence which may consist of the examination of :

(a) various persons (including the accused) and the reduction of statement into writing, if the officer thinks fit;

(b) the search of places and seizure of things, considered necessary for the investigation and to be produced at the trial;

(5) formation of the opinion as to whether on the materials collected, there is a case to place the accused before a Magistrate for trial, if so, take the necessary steps for the same for filing necessary charge-sheet under Section 173 Cr.P.C.

6) Dinubhai Boghabhai Solanki v. State of Gujarat, (2014) 4 SCC 626 : (2014) 2 SCC (Cri) 384, at page 643 :

48. Undoubtedly, the essence of criminal justice system is to reach the truth. The underlying principle is that whilst the guilty must not escape punishment; no innocent person shall be punished unless the guilt of the suspect/accused is established in accordance with law. All suspects/accused are presumed to be innocent till their guilt is proved beyond reasonable doubt in a trial conducted according to the procedure prescribed under law. Fair, unbiased and transparent investigation is a sine quo non for protecting the accused. Being dissatisfied with the manner in which the investigation was being conducted, the father of the victim filed the petition seeking an impartial investigation.

7) Rajiv Singh v. State of Bihar, (2015) 16 SCC 369, at page 397 :-

79. The investigating agency as the empowered mechanism of the law enforcing institution of the State is entrusted with the solemn responsibility of securing the safety and security of the citizens and in the process, act as the protector of human rights. The police force with the power and resources at its disposal is a pivotal cog in the constitutional wheel of the democratic polity to guarantee the sustenance of an orderly society. It is usually the first refuge of one in distress and violated in his legal rights to seek redress. The police force, thus is bestowed with a sacrosanct duty and is undisputedly required to be impartial, committed and relentless in their operations to unravel the truth and in the case of a crime committed, make the offender subject to the process of law. The investigating agency, thus in the case of a probe into any offence has to maintain a delicate balance of the competing rights of the offenders and the victim as constitutionally ordained but by no means can be casual, incautious, indiscreet in its approach and application. A devoted and resolved intervention of the police force is thus an assurance against increasingly pernicious trend of escalating crimes and outrages of law in the current actuality.

80. As a criminal offence is a crime against the society, the investigating agency has a sanctified, legal and social obligation to exhaust all its resources, experience and expertise to ferret out the truth and bring the culprit to book. The manifest defects in the investigation in the case demonstrate an inexcusable failure of the authorities concerned to abide by this paramount imperative.

81. This Court, amongst others, in Amitbhai Anilchandra Shah vs. Central Bureau of Investigation and another (2013) 6 SCC 348, while underlining the essentiality of a fair, in-depth and fructuous investigation had observed that investigating officers are the kingpins in the criminal justice system and reliable investigation is a leading step towards affirming complete justice to the victims of the case. It was ruled that administering criminal justice is a two-end process, where guarding the ensured rights of the accused under the Constitution is as imperative as ensuring justice to the victim. It was held that the daunting task, though a compelling responsibility, is vested on the court of law to protect and shield the rights of both. That a just balance between the fundamental rights of the accused guaranteed under the Constitution and the expansive power of the police to investigate a cognizable offence has to be struck by the Court was emphatically underlined. We are left appalled by the incomprehensible omissions of the investigating agency in the instant case and we would expect and require that the authorities in-charge of ensuring fair, competent and effective investigation of criminal offences in particular would take note of this serious concern of the Court and unfailingly take necessary remedial steps so much so that these observations need not be reiterated in future entailing punitive consequences.

8) Suresh Chandra Jana v. State of W.B., (2017) 16 SCC 466, at page 480 :-

34. The last aspect is regarding the defective investigation and prosecution. If a negligent investigation or omissions or lapses, due to perfunctory investigation, are not effectively rectified, the faith and confidence of the people in the law enforcing agency would be shaken. Therefore the police have to demonstrate utmost diligence, seriousness and promptness. [refer Ram Bihari Yadav v. State of Bihar & Ors., (1998) 4 SCC 517].

35. The basic requirement that a trial must be fair is crucial for any civilized criminal justice system. It is essential in a Reportable society which recognizes human rights and is based on values such as freedoms, the rule of law, democracy and openness. The whole purpose of the trial is to convict the guilty and at the same time to protect the innocent. In this process courts should always be in search of the truth and should come to the conclusion, based on the facts and circumstances of each case, without defeating the very purpose of justice.

32. The Hon'ble Supreme Court has held in number of cases that fair investigation, which precedes filing of charge-sheet, is a fundamental right under Article 21 of the Constitution of India. Therefore, it must be fair, transparent and judicious. A tainted and biased investigation leads to filing of a charge-sheet which is infact based on no investigation and therefore, the charge-sheet filed in pursuance of such an investigation cannot be held to be legal and in accordance with law. Some of such observations are as follows :-

1) Nirmal Singh Kahlon v. State of Punjab, (2009) 1 SCC 441 : (2009) 1 SCC (Cri) 523, at page 455:

28. An accused is entitled to a fair investigation. Fair investigation and fair trial are concomitant to preservation of fundamental right of an accused under Article 21 of the Constitution of India. But the State has a larger obligation i.e. to maintain law and order, public order and preservation of peace and harmony in the society. A victim of a crime, thus, is equally entitled to a fair investigation. When serious allegations were made against a former Minister of the State, save and except the cases of political revenge amounting to malice, it is for the State to entrust one or the other agency for the purpose of investigating into the matter. The State for achieving the said object at any point of time may consider handing over of investigation to any other agency including a central agency which has acquired specialization in such cases.

2) Babubhai v. State of Gujarat, (2010) 12 SCC 254 : (2011) 1 SCC (Cri) 336, at page 272 :

45. Not only fair trial but fair investigation is also part of constitutional rights guaranteed under Articles 20 and 21 of the Constitution of India. Therefore, investigation must be fair, transparent and judicious as it is the minimum requirement of rule of law. The investigating agency cannot be permitted to conduct an investigation in a tainted and biased manner. Where non-interference of the court would ultimately result in failure of justice, the court must interfere. In such a situation, it may be in the interest of justice that independent agency chosen by the High Court makes a fresh investigation.

3) Azija Begum v. State of Maharashtra, (2012) 3 SCC 126, at page 128 :

12. In the facts and circumstances of this case, we find that every citizen of this country has a right to get his or her complaint properly investigated. The legal framework of investigation provided under our laws cannot be made selectively available only to some persons and denied to others. This is a question of equal protection of laws and is covered by the guarantee under Article 14 of the Constitution.

13. The issue is akin to ensuring an equal access to justice. A fair and proper investigation is always conducive to the ends of justice and for establishing rule of law and maintaining proper balance in law and order. These are very vital issues in a democratic set up which must be taken care of by the Courts.

33. This country has inherited the present police system from the British Government. The main objective of British rule was to maintain status quo by using the police force as effective weapon to put down any challenge to its authority by iron hand. The police had to take repressive measures on account of the directions of the British Government. The investigation was accordingly carried out keeping in view the direction of the government and their object of ruling this country. Charge-sheets were submitted accordingly which were not the result of free and fair investigation. The fundamental rights of the people of the country were not in existence and the Criminal Procedure Code was designed in a manner which was not in accordance with the rights of the people of this country before independence. The code no where clearly provides that the investigating officer shall necessarily record the statements of witnesses of both the sides, viz., the accused and the informant / complainants, while conducting the investigation into an alleged offence.

34. After India became independent, it became a welfare state from the police state of the Britishers. The legislations which were framed after independence were in conformity with the fundamental rights of the people of this country. In the welfare state, the role of the police became more difficult in view of deteriorating law and order situation, communal riots, political turmoil, student unrest, terrorist activities, increase in white-collar crimes, etc. The police force, in addition to the aforesaid new challenges, came under stress and strain. Long hours of duty in connection with law and order situation, V.I.P duty, etc., left the police with lesser time to properly investigate the cases. Under the pressure of work, police started mechanical investigation of the crimes entrusted to it for free and fair investigation. The investigating officer is subjected to pressure by the influential persons of society to give report as per their command. The influence of money in conducting investigation is quite evident and it is a very big hurdle in the free and fair investigation of a crime and case. It was suggested by number of Law Commission Reports that the investigation wing of the police should be separated from the law and order wing but it has not materialized as yet. The separation of investigation wing from law and order wing has its hazards. If they are separated it would be difficult to control law and order situation time the mischief mongers and the criminals will not tear the law and order wing of the police, once it is clear to them but the investigation of the case after report is lodged will be done by different wing of police. This is the practical drawbak in separation of the wings of police at local level. The investigating officer is also under pressure of Senior Officers, who do not favourable see any departure from established practice of justifying implication of an accused by collecting evidence in this regard. They feel it safe to justify implication of an accused by submitting investigation reports against the accused, except in few cases, where they or their political patron is interested otherwise.

35. Therefore, it is clear that the Court has to be cautious in considering the bail applications filed by the accused before and after submission of charge-sheet. There are number of impediments in the way of Investigating Officer in submission of charge-sheet after free and fair investigation as considered hereinabove.

36. Right to liberty is sacrosanct and guaranteed under Article 21 of the Constitution of India. Under Article 14 of the Constitution of India, there is equal protection of law to everyone, informant/complainant and accused, alike. During investigation stage or during trial stage, "presumption of innocence of accused" is intact and it is so till he is convicted either under Section 255 Cr.P.C. (summons case), Section 248 Cr.P.C. (warrant case) or under Section 335 Cr.P.C. (sessions case). Only when he is convicted, presumption of innocence gets replaced by a judgement of conviction."

20. Learned counsel for the applicant also places reliance on the judgment of the Supreme Court in the case of Manik Taneja & Anr. v. State of Karnataka & Anr. passed in Criminal Appeal No.141 of 2015 on 20.01.2015 with emphasis on Paras 13 to 16 to argue that no offence can be said to be made out under Section 351(3) of BNS, as no allegation of criminal intimidation was alleged. The said paragraphs are quoted herein under:

'13. Section 506 IPC prescribes punishment for the offence of criminal intimidation. "Criminal intimidation" as defined in Section 503 IPC is as under:-

'503. Criminal Intimidation.- Whoever threatens another with any injury to his person, reputation or property, or to the person or reputation of any one in whom that person is interested, with intent to cause alarm to that person, or to cause that person to do any act which he is not legally bound to do, or to omit to do any act which that person is legally entitled to do, as the means of avoiding the execution of such threat, commits criminal intimidation.

Explanation.- A threat to injure the reputation of any deceased person in whom the person threatened is interested, is within this section.'

14. A reading of the definition of 'Criminal intimidation' would indicate that there must be an act of threatening to another person, of causing an injury to the person, reputation, or property of the person threatened, or to the person in whom the threatened person is interested and the threat must be with the intent to cause alarm to the person threatened or it must be to do any act which he is not legally bound to do or omit to do an act which he is legally entitled to do.

15. In the instant case, the allegation is that the appellants have abused the complainant and obstructed the second respondent from discharging his public duties and spoiled the integrity of the second respondent. It is the intention of the accused that has to be considered in deciding as to whether what he has stated comes within the meaning of 'Criminal intimidation'. The threat must be with intention to cause alarm to the complainant to cause that person to do or omit to do any work. Mere expression of any words without any intention to cause alarm would not be sufficient to bring in the application of this section. But material has to be placed on record to show that the intention is to cause alarm to the complainant. From the facts and circumstances of the case, it appears that there was no intention on the part of the appellants to cause alarm in the minds of the second respondent causing obstruction in discharge of his duty. As far as the comments posted on the Facebook are concerned, it appears that it is a public forum meant for helping the public and the act of appellants posting a comment on the Facebook may not attract ingredients of criminal intimidation in Section 503 IPC.

16. Of course, in exercise of its jurisdiction under Section 482 Cr.P.C., the court should be extremely cautious to interfere with the investigation or trial of a criminal case and should not stall the investigation, save except when it is convinced beyond any manner of doubt that the FIR does not disclose commission of offence and that continuance of the criminal prosecution would amount to abuse of process of the court. As noted earlier, the page created by the traffic police on the Facebook was a forum for the public to put forth their grievances. In our considered view, the appellants might have posted the comment online under the bona fide belief that it was within the permissible limits. As discussed earlier, even going by the uncontroverted allegations in the FIR, in our view, none of the ingredients of the alleged offences are satisfied. We are of the view that in the facts and circumstances of the case, it would be unjust to allow the process of the court to be continued against the appellants and consequently the order of the High Court is liable to be set aside."

21. Learned counsel for the applicant places reliance upon the judgment of the Supreme Court in the case of Beri Manoj v. State of Andhra Pradesh & Anr. passed in Criminal Appeal No.362 of 2026 on 20.01.2026 with emphasis on Paras 5, 6 & 7 to argue that the offence under Section 352 of IPC is also not made out. The said paragraphs read as under:

"5. Having heard the learned counsel appearing for the parties and after bestowing our careful considerations to the rival contentions raised at the Bar, we notice at the initial stage itself in the statement recorded under Section 161 of the CrPC of the prosecutrix for reasons best known has not even whispered of any threat having been posed by the appellant herein except to the extent of stating that she had gone to the appellant's house. However, after seven days, namely after much water having flown down the bridge, she gave her statement under Section 164 of the CrPC and improved her version as is evident from her statement itself which reads as under:

'Chandu tej's father, uncle and two aunts came there and threatened me stating 'whatever happens I should talk in favour of Chandu tej, I should keep the blame on me, failing which I will be killed.'

6. In fact, we may quote with benefit the judgments of this Court in Naresh Aneja Vs. State of U.P., (2025) 2 SCC 604 and Sharif Ahmad Vs. State of U.P. (2024) 14 SCC 122, wherein it has been held that mere threats without intention to cause alarm do not constitute criminal intimidation under Section 506 of the IPC. In the instant case, as could be seen from the records, the prosecutrix improved her statement which came to be recorded under Section 164 of the CrPC alleging that 'two aunts and an uncle threatened' her which is a clear improvement from the statement recorded under Section 161 of the CrPC. This contradiction in timing of events create a serious doubt in the prosecution's version or in other words, the appellant's name suddenly surfaced after seven days through a vague reference to 'an uncle' and thereby further weakening the prosecution's case. Even otherwise, mere expression of words, without any intention to cause alarm cannot amount to criminal intimidation. Hence, we are of the considered view that the allegation in the prosecutrix statement recorded under Section 164 of the CrPC would be insufficient in law to proceed against the appellant for being prosecuted under Section 506 of the IPC.

7. That apart, we notice from the clear statement recorded under Section 164 of the CrPC that no intention of criminal intimidation was prima facie established since prosecution of a person for criminal intimidation requires clear intention to cause alarm, irrespective of whether the victim was alarmed or not. In the absence thereof continuation of the prosecution against the appellant by virtue of a vague reference to the expression 'an uncle' cannot by itself would not disclose any offence. Vague allegations unsupported by prima facie cogent evidence cannot constitute offence indicated under Section 506 of the IPC. Last but not the least, the mere presence of a lawyer (appellant in the instant case) in his capacity of discharging professional duty of either giving advice or suggestion cannot amount to intimidation and this is foundational fact being conspicuously absent in the instant case, we are perforced to disagree with the contention of learned counsel for the complainant (victim) and the learned counsel appearing for respondent No.1 the State. In other words, we are of the considered view that contentions urged, grounds pressed into service by the learned counsel appearing for the appellant deserves to be accepted. Accordingly, it it accepted.'

22. Learned counsel for the applicant also places reliance on the judgment of the Supreme Court in the case of Anukul Singh v. State of Uttar Pradesh & Anr.; 2025 INSC 1153 to argue that the present case is a fit case for quashing the proceedings. He emphasis on Paras 11.1 & 11.4 of the said judgment which read as under:

11.1. This Court in State of Haryana v. Bhajan Lal; 1992 SCC (Cri) 426 , at paragraph 102, laid down illustrative categories where quashing of proceedings is justified. These are:

"(1) Where the allegations made in the first information report or the complaint, even if they are taken at their face value and accepted in their entirety do not prima facie constitute any offence or make out a case against the accused.

(2) Where the allegations in the first information report and other materials, if any, accompanying the FIR do not disclose a cognizable offence, justifying an investigation by police officers under Section 156(1) of the Code except under an order of a Magistrate within the purview of Section 155(2) of the Code.

(3) Where the uncontroverted allegations made in the FIR or complaint and the evidence collected in support of the same do not disclose the commission of any offence and make out a case against the accused.

(4) Where the allegations in the FIR do not constitute a cognizable offence but constitute only a non-cognizable offence, no investigation is permitted by a police officer without an order of a Magistrate as contemplated under Section 155(2) of the Code.

(5) Where the allegations made in the FIR or complaint are so absurd and inherently improbable on the basis of which no prudent person can ever reach a just conclusion that there is sufficient ground for proceeding against the accused.

(6) Where there is an express legal bar engrafted in any of the provisions of the Code or the Act concerned (under which a criminal proceeding is instituted) to the institution and continuance of the proceedings and/or, where there is a specific provision in the Code or the Act concerned, providing efficacious redress for the grievance of the aggrieved party.

(7) Where a criminal proceeding is manifestly attended with mala fide and/or where the proceeding is maliciously instituted with an ulterior motive for wreaking vengeance on the accused and with a view to spite him due to private and personal grudge.'

11.4. Nevertheless, an exception has been recognized where the defence relies upon unimpeachable, incontrovertible evidence of sterling quality ' such as documents of undisputed authenticity ' which ex facie demonstrate that continuation of criminal proceedings would be unjust and oppressive. This principle was recognized in Suryalakshmi Cotton Mills Ltd v. Rajvir Industries Ltd., (2008) 13 SCC 678, and followed in subsequent decisions.'

Emphasis was also placed on Paras 17, 18 & 19 of the said judgment, which read as under:

'17. This Court has, in a long line of decisions, deprecated the tendency to convert civil disputes into criminal proceedings. In Indian Oil Corporation v. M/s. NEPC India Ltd.; (2006) 6 SCC 738 , it was held that criminal law cannot be used as a tool to settle scores in commercial or contractual matters, and that such misuse amounts to abuse of process. The following paragraphs from the decision are apposite:

'9. The principles, relevant to our purpose are:

(i) A complaint can be quashed where the allegations made in the complaint, even if they are taken at their face value and accepted in their entirety, do not prima facie constitute any offence or make out the case alleged against the accused. For this purpose, the complaint has to be examined as a whole, but without examining the merits of the allegations. Neither a detailed inquiry nor a meticulous analysis of the material nor an assessment of the reliability or genuineness of the allegations in the complaint, is warranted while examining prayer for quashing of a complaint.

(ii) A complaint may also be quashed where it is a clear abuse of the process of the court, as when the criminal proceeding is found to have been initiated with malafides/malice for wreaking vengeance or to cause harm, or where the allegations are absurd and inherently improbable.

(iii) The power to quash shall not, however, be used to stifle or scuttle a legitimate prosecution. The power should be used sparingly and with abundant caution.

(iv) The complaint is not required to verbatim reproduce the legal ingredients of the offence alleged. If the necessary factual foundation is laid in the complaint, merely on the ground that a few ingredients have not been stated in detail, the proceedings should not be quashed.

Quashing of the complaint is warranted only where the complaint is so bereft of even the basic facts which are absolutely necessary for making out the offence.

(v) A given set of facts may make out: (a) purely a civil wrong; or (b) purely a criminal offence; or (c) a civil wrong as also a criminal offence. A commercial transaction or a contractual dispute, apart from furnishing a cause of action for seeking remedy in civil law, may also involve a criminal offence. As the nature and scope of a civil proceedings are different from a criminal proceeding, the mere fact that the complaint relates to a commercial transaction or breach of contract, for which a civil remedy is available or has been availed, is not by itself a ground to quash the criminal proceedings. The test is whether the allegations in the complaint disclose a criminal offence or not.

10. While on this issue, it is necessary to take notice of a growing tendency in business circles to convert purely civil disputes into criminal cases. This is obviously on account of a prevalent impression that civil law remedies are time consuming and do not adequately protect the interests of lenders/creditors. Such a tendency is seen in several family disputes also, leading to irretrievable break down of marriages/families. There is also an impression that if a person could somehow be entangled in a criminal prosecution, there is a likelihood of imminent settlement. Any effort to settle civil disputes and claims, which do not involve any criminal offence, by applying pressure though criminal prosecution should be deprecated and discouraged.'

18. Similarly, in Inder Mohan Goswami and another v. State of Uttaranchal and others; AIR 2008 SC 251, it was emphasized that criminal prosecution must not be permitted as an instrument of harassment or private vendetta. In Ganga Dhar Kalita v. State of Assam; (2015) 9 SCC 647, this Court again reiterated that criminal complaints in respect of property disputes of civil nature, filed solely to harass the accused or to exert pressure in civil litigation, constitute an abuse of process.

19. Most recently, in Shailesh Kumar Singh @ Shailesh R. Singh v. State of Uttar Pradesh and others; 2025 INSC 869, this Court disapproved the practice of using criminal proceedings as a substitute for civil remedies, observing that money recovery cannot be enforced through criminal prosecution where the dispute is essentially civil. The Court cautioned High Courts not to direct settlements in such matters but to apply the settled principles in Bhajan Lal. The following paragraphs are relevant in this context:

"9. What we have been able to understand is that there is an oral agreement between the parties. The Respondent No.4 might have parted with some money in accordance with the oral agreement and it may be that the appellant ' herein owes a particular amount to be paid to the Respondent No.4. However, the question is whether prima facie any offence of cheating could be said to have been committed by the appellant.

10. How many times the High Courts are to be reminded that to constitute an offence of cheating, there has to be something more than prima facie on record to indicate that the intention of the accused was to cheat the complainant right from the inception. The plain reading of the FIR does not disclose any element of criminality.

11. The entire case is squarely covered by a recent pronouncement of this Court in the case of 'Delhi Race Club (1940) Limited vs. State of Uttar Pradesh' reported in (2024) 10 SCC 690. In the said decision, the entire law as to what constitutes cheating and criminal breach of trust respectively has been exhaustively explained. It appears that this very decision was relied upon by the learned counsel appearing for the petitioner before the High Court. However, instead of looking into the matter on its own merits, the High Court thought fit to direct the petitioner to go for mediation and that too by making payment of Rs. 25,00,000/- to the 4th respondent as a condition precedent. We fail to understand why the High Court should undertake such exercise. The High Court may either allow the petition saying that no offence is disclosed or may reject the petition saying that no case for quashing is made out. Why should the High Court make an attempt to help the complainant to recover the amount due and payable by the accused. It is for the Civil Court or Commercial Court as the case may be to look into in a suit that may be filed for recovery of money or in any other proceedings, be it under the Arbitration Act, 1996 or under the provisions of the IB Code, 2016.

12. Why the High Court was not able to understand that the entire dispute between the parties is of a civil nature.

13. We also enquired with the learned counsel appearing for the Respondent No.4 whether his client has filed any civil suit or has initiated any other proceedings for recovery of the money. It appears that no civil suit has been filed for recovery of money till this date. Money cannot be recovered, more particularly, in a civil dispute between the parties by filing a First Information Report and seeking the help of the Police. This amounts to abuse of the process of law.

14. We could have said many things but we refrain from observing anything further. If the Respondent No.4 has to recover a particular amount, he may file a civil suit or seek any other appropriate remedy available to him in law. He cannot be permitted to take recourse of criminal proceedings.

15. We are quite disturbed by the manner in which the High Court has passed the impugned order. The High Court first directed the appellant to pay Rs.25,00,000/- to the Respondent No.4 and thereafter directed him to appear before the Mediation and Conciliation Centre for the purpose of settlement. That's not what is expected of a High Court to do in a Writ Petition filed under Article 226 of the Constitution or a miscellaneous application filed under Section 482 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 for quashing of FIR or any other criminal proceedings. What is expected of the High Court is to look into the averments and the allegations levelled in the FIR along with the other material on record, if any. The High Court seems to have forgotten the wellsettled principles as enunciated in the decision of this Court in the 'State of Haryana & Others vs. Bhajan Lal & Others' Reported in 1992 Supp.(1) SCC 335."

23. Learned counsel for the applicant also places reliance upon the judgment of this Court in Application U/S No.38781 of 2016 (Manmohan Krishna v. State of U.P. & Anr.), 2024:AHC:31717 to press that the offence under Section 504 of IPC cannot be said to be made out. He emphasised on Paras 28 to 32 of the said judgment, which read as under:

"28. He further submitted that the allegations made against the applicant under Section 504 IPC is not made out as to attract the provisions of Section 504 IPC. The relevant provision of Section 504 IPC is quoted herein for ready reference:

"504. Whoever intentionally insults, and thereby gives provocation to any person, intending or knowing it to be likely that such provocation will cause him to break the public peace, or to commit any other offence, shall be punished with imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to two years, or with fine, or with both.'"

29. The necessary ingredients for invocation of Section 504 are-(a) intentional insult, (b) insult may be such as to give provocation to the person insulted, and (c) the accused must intend to know that such provocation would cause another to break the public peace or to commit any other offence. The intentional insult must be of such a degree that should provoke a person to break the public peace or to commit any other offence. The person who intentionally insults intending or knowing it to be likely that it will give provocation to any other person and such provocation will cause to break public peace or to commit any other offence, in such a situation the ingredients of section 504 are satisfied. One of the essential elements constituting the offence is that the there should have been an act or conduct amounting to intentional insult and the mere fact that the accused abused the complainant, as such, is not sufficient by itself to warrant a conviction under Section 504.

30. To buttress this argument, he has placed reliance on paragraph 13 of a judgment passed by Hon'ble the Supreme Court in the matter of Fiona Shrikhande vs. State of Maharashtra and another; AIR 2014 SC 957, which read as under:-

"Section 504 comprises of the following ingredients, viz., (a) intentional insult, (b) insult may be such as to give provocation to the person insulted, and (c) the accused must intend to know that such provocation would cause another to break the public peace or to commit any other offence. The intentional insult must be of such a degree that should provoke a person to break the public peace or to commit any other offence. The person who intentionally insults intending or knowing it to be likely that it will give provocation to any other person and such provocation will cause to break public peace or to commit any other offence, in such a situation the ingredients of section 504 are satisfied. One of the essential elements constituting the offence is that the there should have been an act or conduct amounting to intentional insult and the mere fact that the accused abused the complainant, as such, is not sufficient by itself to warrant a conviction under Section 504.'

4th Argument

31. Learned counsel for the applicant further submitted that applicant had been charged for the offence under Section 506 IPC, but the same is not attracted in the present case. Section 506 IPC is quoted hereunder for ready reference:

"506. Punishment for criminal intimidation.-Whoever commits the offence of criminal intimidation shall be punished with imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to two years, or with fine, or with both;

If threat be to cause death or grievous hurt, etc.-And if the threat be to cause death or grievous hurt, or to cause the destruction of any property by fire, or to cause an offence punishable with death or imprisonment for life, or with imprisonment for a term which may extend to seven years, or to impute unchastity to a woman, shall be punished with imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to seven years, or with fine, or with both.'"

32. He further submitted that there are three ingredients to attract Section 506 IPC. Firstly, there must be an act of threatening another person. Secondly, of causing injury to the person's reputation; or property of the persons threatened or to the person in whom the 'threatened person is interested and Thirdly, the threat must be with the intent to cause alarm to the persons threatened or it must be to do any act, which is not legally bound to do or omit to do an act, which he is legally entitled to do."

24. Learned counsel for the applicant lastly places reliance on the judgment of the Supreme Court in the case of Isaac Isanga Musumba & Ors. v. State of Maharashtra & Ors.; 2015 ALL SC 3483 with emphasis on Para 3, which reads as under:

"3. We have read the FIR which has been annexed to the writ petition as Annexure P-7 and we find therefrom that the complainants have alleged that the accused persons have shown copies of international warrants issued against the complainants by the Ugandan Court and letters written by Uganda Ministry of Justice & Constitutional Affairs and the accused have threatened to extort 20 million dollars (equivalent to Rs.110 crores). In the complaint, there is no mention whatsoever that pursuant to the demands made by the accused, any amount was delivered to the accused by the complainants. If that be so, we fail to see as to how an offence of extortion as defined in Section 383, IPC is made out. Section 383, IPC states that whoever intentionally puts any person in fear of any injury to that person, or to any other, and thereby dishonestly induces the person so put in fear to deliver to any person any property, or valuable security or anything signed or sealed which may be converted into a valuable security, commits 'extortion'. Hence, unless property is delivered to the accused person pursuant to the threat, no offence of extortion is made out and an FIR for the offence under Section 384 could not have been registered by the police.'

25. Learned counsel for the Opposite Parties, on the other hand, places reliance on the judgment of the Supreme Court in the case of Central Bureau of Investigation v. Aryan Singh Etc. passed in Criminal Appeal Nos.1025 ' 1026 of 2023 on 10.01.2023 to argue that the proceedings are not liable to be quashed in exercise of powers under Section 482 of Cr.P.C. / 528 of BNSS. He emphasises on Para 4.1, which reads as under:

"4.1 From the impugned common judgment and order passed by the High Court, it appears that the High Court has dealt with the proceedings before it, as if, the High Court was conducting a mini trial and/or the High Court was considering the applications against the judgment and order passed by the learned Trial Court on conclusion of trial. As per the cardinal principle of law, at the stage of discharge and/or quashing of the criminal proceedings, while exercising the powers under Section 482 Cr.P.C., the Court is not required to conduct the mini trial. The High Court in the common impugned judgment and order has observed that the charges against the accused are not proved. This is not the stage where the prosecution / investigating agency is/are required to prove the charges. The charges are required to be proved during the trial on the basis of the evidence led by the prosecution / investigating agency. Therefore, the High Court has materially erred in going in detail in the allegations and the material collected during the course of the investigation against the accused, at this stage. At the stage of discharge and/or while exercising the powers under Section 482 Cr.P.C., the Court has a very limited jurisdiction and is required to consider 'whether any sufficient material is available to proceed further against the accused for which the accused is required to be tried or not'."

26. Reliance is also placed upon the judgment of the Supreme Court in the case of M/s Balaji Traders v. State of U.P. & Anr.; 2025 INSC 806 to argue that the case for extortion is made out based upon the evidences collected. He places emphasis on Para 14 of the said judgment to impress that the power under Section 482 of Cr.P.C. should be exercised sparingly. The same reads as under:

"14. Thus, it can be said in terms of Sections 386 (an aggravated form of 384 IPC) and 387 IPC that the former is an act in itself, whereas the latter is the process; it is a stage before committing an offence of extortion. The Legislature was mindful enough to criminalize the process by making it a distinct offence. Therefore, the commission of an offence of extortion is not sine qua non for an offence under this Section. It is safe to deduce that for prosecution under Section 387 IPC, the delivery of property is not necessary."

27. Reliance is also placed upon the judgment of the Supreme Court in the case of Dhananjay @ Dhananjay Kumar Singh v. State of Bihar & Anr.; 2007 AIR SCW 923 wherein Section 383 was interpreted as under:

'Section 384 provides for punishment for extortion. What would be an extortion is provided under Section 383 of the Indian Penal Code in the following terms:

"383. Extortion:- Whoever intentionally puts any person in fear of any injury to that person, or to any other, and thereby dishonestly induces the person so put in fear to deliver to any person any property or valuable security, or anything signed or sealed which may be converted into a valuable security, commits "extortion"."

A bare perusal of the aforementioned provision would demonstrate that the following ingredients would constitute the offence :

1. The accused must put any person in fear of injury to that person or any other person.

2. The putting of a person in such fear must be intentional.

3. The accused must thereby induce the person so put in fear to deliver to any person any property, valuable security or anything signed or sealed which may be converted into a valuable security.

4. Such inducement must be done dishonestly.

A First Information Report as is well known, must be read in its entirety. It is not in dispute that the parties entered into transactions relating to supply of bags. The fact that some amount was due to the appellant from the First Informant, is not in dispute. The First Information Report itself disclosed that accounts were settled a year prior to the date of incident and the appellant owed a sum of about Rs.400-500 from Gautam Dubey."

28. In the light of the arguments and the case laws relied upon by the parties, it is essential to notice the provision of Section 308(1) & (2), Section 351(2) and Section 352 of the BNS, which are quoted herein under:

'308. Extortion.-(1) Whoever intentionally puts any person in fear of any injury to that person, or to any other, and thereby dishonestly induces the person so put in fear to deliver to any person any property, or valuable security or anything signed or sealed which may be converted into a valuable security, commits extortion.*

Illustrations.

(a) A threatens to publish a defamatory libel concerning Z unless Z gives him money. He thus induces Z to give him money. A has committed extortion.

(b) A threatens Z that he will keep Z's child in wrongful confinement, unless Z will sign and deliver to A a promissory note binding Z to pay certain monies to A. Z signs and delivers the note. A has committed extortion.

(c) A threatens to send club-men to plough up Z's field unless Z will sign and deliver to B a bond binding Z under a penalty to deliver certain produce to B, and thereby induces Z to sign and deliver the bond. A has committed extortion.

(d) A, by putting Z in fear of grievous hurt, dishonestly induces Z to sign or affix his seal to a blank paper and deliver it to A. Z signs and delivers the paper to A. Here, as the paper so signed may be converted into a valuable security. A has committed extortion.

(e) A threatens Z by sending a message through an electronic device that "Your child is in my possession, and will be put to death unless you send me one lakh rupees." A thus induces Z to give him money. A has committed extortion.

(2) Whoever commits extortion shall be punished with imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to seven years, or with fine, or with both.'

Section 351(1) & (2) of the BNS reads as under:

'351. Criminal intimidation.-(1) Whoever threatens another by any means, with any injury to his person, reputation or property, or to the person or reputation of any one in whom that person is interested, with intent to cause alarm to that person, or to cause that person to do any act which he is not legally bound to do, or to omit to do any act which that person is legally entitled to do, as the means of avoiding the execution of such threat, commits criminal intimidation.

Explanation.-A threat to injure the reputation of any deceased person in whom the person threatened is interested, is within this section.

Illustration.

A, for the purpose of inducing B to resist from prosecuting a civil suit, threatens to burn Bs house. A is guilty of criminal intimidation.

(2) Whoever commits the offence of criminal intimidation shall be punished with imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to two years, or with fine, or with both.'

Section 352 of the BNS reads as under*:*

'Section 352. Intentional insult with intent to provoke breach of peace.- Whoever intentionally insults in any manner, and thereby gives provocation to any person, intending or knowing it to be likely that such provocation will cause him to break the public peace, or to commit any other offence, shall be punished with imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to two years, or with fine, or with both.'*

29. From plain reading of the FIR, the statements as well as the charge sheet which includes only the statements of the informant as well as the applicants, neither there is any allegation of intentional putting any person in fear of any injury, or to any other, and thereby dishonestly inducing the person so put in fear to deliver to any person any property, or valuable security.

30. In the present case, the allegations were that the RWA was unauthorizedly charging Rs.500/- and it was stated that in case the vehicles are not removed Rs.500/- would be charged after putting in locks at the third instance.

31. No material exists that the applicants intentionally put the informant or any other residents in fear of any injury or any effort was made to dishonestly induce any resident or the informant to deliver to any person any property or any security. No amount was extracted or taken from the informant.

32. The ingredients of Section 352 of BNS even if all the material are treated to be gospel truth is not made out, as there is no allegation of any intentional insult whereby it provokes any person which is likely to cause him to break the public peace or to commit any other offence.

33. The allegation of criminal intimidation as defined under Section 351 of BNS is also not discerned from the material filed alongwith the charge sheet which only includes the statement of the informant as well as the applicants.

34. Thus, from the plain reading of the materials collected including the statement and forming a part of the charge sheet, even if admitted to be gospel truth, the same do not constitute any offence whatsoever under the Sections in which the applicants have been charged/summoned.

35. This Court cannot ignore the manner in which the investigation has been carried out in the present case. In terms of the statement given by the informant, allegation of extortion by RWA was made which was denied in the statements made by the applicants, thus, it was incumbent upon the Investigating Officer to have taken the statement of the residents, verify the resolution passed by the RWA including their bye-laws, to form an opinion whether the allegations alleged amounted to offence or not. There is no material that any amount was actually taken from the informant which is a sine qua non for extortion. The charge sheet was filed in a hurried manner only after recording the statement of the informant as well as the applicants; even the material given by the informant was not got cross checked. As per the records, no material exists in the form of statement of any residents that any threat was issued at any point of time or any extortion was done. This Court has already emphasised the need for fair investigation as is evident from the observations made by this Court in the case of Sanjeev @ Kallu Sethiya (supra) as extracted above. None of the parameters laid down for fair investigation have been followed in the present case. The investigation is clearly half baked and appears to be under the influence of the office said to be held by Opposite Party No.2. A copy of this order shall be placed in the Annual Confidential Report of the Investigating Officer and a copy of this order shall be sent to the Director General of Police to take a decision as to whether the role of investigation can be entrusted on Mr. Shiv Kant Tiwari, Investigating Officer of the present case.

36. Thus, on the reasoning recorded above, this Court has no hesitation in holding that the entire FIR, Charge Sheet as well as summoning order are nothing but an abuse of process of law at the instance of a disgruntled resident against the duly elected members of the RWA.

It was proposed to be argued that the registration of the RWA has been cancelled. Irrespective of the said cancellation subsequently, the applicants were the duly elected members of the RWA and had taken decision based upon the resolution passed in the general body. The same could in no way be termed as 'extortion' as has been alleged and averred.

37. In view thereof, the entire proceedings of Case No.115214 of 2025 (State v. Kamal @ Kamlesh Agnihotri & Ors.) arising out of Case Crime No.392 of 2025, under Sections 308(2), 352, 351(2) of BNS, P.S. Sushant Golf City, District Lucknow as well as the Charge Sheet No.01 of 2025 dated 25.07.2025 are quashed.

38. 'With great powers come great responsibility'. The Opposite Party No.2 has clearly not gained responsibilities with the great powers that have come his way as claimed by him. It will be open to the organization of which the informant claims to be a member to see whether the browbeating of their members to the common public is sanctioned in favour of the Opposite Party

No.2 owing to his office. Prima-facie, a highly disciplined and respected cultural organization like the RSS has been maligned and the membership has been misused in the present case by Opposite Party No.2, however, this Court is not well equipped to go any further with regard to the acts of Opposite Party No.2 in misusing the name of a respected cultural organisation in the manner in which it has been done.

39. Present application stands allowed in above terms.

(2026) 2 ILRA 810
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 13.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE PADAM NARAIN MISHRA, J.

Application U/S 528 BNSS. No. 3690 of 2026

Awadhesh Nishad & Ors. ...Applicants
Versus
State of U.P. & Anr. ...Opposite Parties

ISSUE FOR CONSIDERATION

Whether the issuance of Non-Bailable Warrants (NBW) by the trial court on the very first date of listing, without recording objective satisfaction or considering other modes of securing presence, was legally justified?

HEADNOTES

Criminal Law – Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita, 2023 - Section 90, 528, - Indian Penal Code, 1860 - Sections 34, 323, 325, 504, 506 - Constitution of India - Article 21: - Application under Section 528 BNSS – for quashing the impugned order of Non-Bailable Warrants – Incident – FIR - cross-cases also registered from the said incident – Trial transferred from District Judge - NBW issued at the very first instance after the transfer of the case district judge to Special Judge - applicants pleaded that issuance of NBW was arbitrary, without judicial satisfaction, and contrary to Section 90 BNSS – Court finds that NBW was issued hastily, without recording reasons or exploring other means to secure presence – and NBW is a serious matter that impacts an individual's personal freedom as protected by Article 21 - reliance placed on Inder Mohan Goswami v. State of Uttaranchal and State of Haryana v. Bhajan Lal, court held that - (i) High Court's inherent powers under Section 528 BNSS invoked to prevent abuse of process and secure ends of justice and (ii) NBW should be a last resort, not the first step – therefore, impugned order quashed - directions issued to the Trial court to pass a fresh order, accordingly. (Para – 5, 7, 8)
Application Allowed. (E-11)

CASE LAW CITED

Inder Mohan Goswami & Another v. State of Uttaranchal & Others (2007) 12 SCC 1
State of Haryana v. Bhajan Lal (1992 Supp (1) SCC 335)

LIST OF ACTS

Bhartiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita, 2023 - Indian Penal Code, 1860 - Constitution of India.
.

LIST OF KEYWORDS

Non-Bailable Warrant (NBW) - Judicial discretion - Article 21 - Abuse of process - Inherent powers - Witness presence - Right to life - personal Liberty - Quashing order – fresh order.

CASE ARISING FROM

Case Crime No. 03 of 2014, P.S. Daraganj, District Allahabad - Session Trial No. 354 of 2016 (State vs. Faizan Hussain and Others) - Impugned order dated 13.01.2026 by ADJ-XVI/Special Judge (P.C.), Allahabad.

APPEARANCE OF PARTIES

Counsel for Appellant(s): Shri Sudhir Mahrotra, Suyash Mehrotra.
Counsel for Respondent(s): A.G.A.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Padam Narain Mishra, J.)

1. Heard learned counsel for the applicants, learned AGA for the State and perused the material available on record.

2. This application under Section 528 BNSS has been filed by the applicants for quashing the impugned order dated 13.01.2026 passed by learned Additional Distict Judge - XVI/ Special Judge (P.C.), Allahabad in Session Trial No. 354 of 2016 (State vs Faizan Hussain and Others) arising out of Case Crime No. 03 of 2014 under sections 323, 325/34, 504 and 506 of IPC, P.S. - Daraganj, District - Allahabad whereby Non-Bailable Warrants (NBW) have been issued against the applicants on the very first date of listing.

3. Facts in Brief fact of the present case is that the particular incident took place on 01.01.2014 agaisnt which an FIR was lodged by the Opposite Party No.2 against the applicants which is registered as the Case Crime No. 2 of 2014. The applicants also registered a cross case which was registered as the Case crime No. 3 of 2014 of the aforesaid incident. Subsequently the case lodged at the instance of the applicants committed to the District Judge, Allahabad vide order dated 02.05.2016. Thereafter, District Judge, Allahabad transferred the Case Crime No. 3 of 2014 to the court of ADJ 16/ Special Judge (P.C.) Act, Allahabad. The Trial on the first date that the trial court upon receiving the file on being transferred vide order dated 13.01.2023 issued NBW against all the applicants.

4. Having considered the submission of the learned counsels of the parties and perused the material available on records, it appears that the Additional District Judge - XVI/ Special Judge (P.C.), Allahabad has passed the impugned order 13.01.2026 in Session Trial No. 354 of 2016 without the application of judicial mind in a very hasty manner in complete disregard of the settled principles of the law. The impugned order passed against the applicants who are the witnesses of the facts, does not reflect the objective satisfaction recorded by the trial court for issuing the NBW at the very first instance after the transfer of the case from the Court of District Judge, Aligarh to the court of ADJ 16/ Special Judge (P.C.) Act without recoursing other modes of securing the presence of the witnesses. At this juncture, it is inevitable to discuss about the Section 90 of the BNSS. Section 90 of the BNSS is as under:

Section 90 - Issue of warrant in lieu of, or in addition to, summons

A Court may, in any case in which it is empowered by this Sanhita to issue a summons for the appearance of any person, issue, after recording its reasons in writing, a warrant for his arrest?

(a) if, either before the issue of such summons, or after the issue of the same but before the time fixed for his appearance, the Court sees reason to believe that he has absconded or will not obey the summons; or

(b) if at such time he fails to appear and the summons is proved to have been duly served in time to admit of his appearing in accordance therewith and no reasonable excuse is offered for such failure.

5. On bare perusal of the aforesaid section, it is clear that the general course of action for the appearance of any person before the court may be deviated only when the court has reason to believe that the he has absconded or will not obey the summons. The impugned order does not disclose the compliance of above noted requirement. The issuance of an NBW is a serious matter that impacts an individual's personal freedom as protected by Article 21 of the Indian Constitution. The authority to issue a warrant, whether it is bailable or not, must therefore be used carefully and not arbitrarily. Nonetheless, the courts have made it clear that their discretion is largely focused on ensuring the person's presence and preventing the criminal justice system from being impeded. An NBW is a very important legal action that is to be taken as a last resort when other means of ensuring a witness's presence have failed. Before issuing a warrant, a judge will consider factors like the witness's credibility, the importance of their testimony, how relevant their evidence is to your case, and if there are mitigating circumstances that could have caused the witness to miss the hearing.

6. The Apex Court in the case in re: Inder Mohan Goswami and another vs. State of Uttaranchal and others reported in (2007) 12 SCC 1 has observed the mechanism as to how the liberty of any person may be curtailed inasmuch as every citizen has got fundamental right of his liberty under Article 21 of the Constitution of India. The relevant paragraphs of the aforesaid judgment is reproduced as under:-

"When non-bailable warrants should be issued.

53. Non-bailable warrant should be issued to bring a person to court when summons of bailable warrants would be unlikely to have the desired result. This could be when:

it is reasonable to believe that the person will not voluntarily appear in court; or the police authorities are unable to find the person to serve him with a summon; or it is considered that the person could harm someone if not placed into custody immediately.

54. As far as possible, if the court is of the opinion that a summon will suffice in getting the appearance of the accused in the court, the summon or the bailable warrants should be preferred. The warrants either bailable or non-bailable should never be issued without proper scrutiny of facts and complete application of mind, due to the extremely serious consequences and ramifications which ensue on issuance of warrants. The court must very carefully examine whether the Criminal Complaint or FIR has not been filed with an oblique motive.

55. In complaint cases, at the first instance, the court should direct serving of the summons along with the copy of the complaint. If the accused seem to be avoiding the summons, the court, in the second instance should issue bailable- warrant. In the third instance, when the court is fully satisfied that the accused is avoiding the courts proceeding intentionally, the process of issuance of the non-bailable warrant should be resorted to. Personal liberty is paramount, therefore, we caution courts at the first and second instance to refrain from issuing non-bailable warrants.

56. The power being discretionary must be exercised judiciously with extreme care and caution. The court should properly balance both personal liberty and societal interest before issuing warrants. There cannot be any straight-jacket formula for issuance of warrants but as a general rule, unless an accused is charged with the commission of an offence of a heinous crime and it is feared that he is likely to tamper or destroy the evidence or is likely to evade the process of law, issuance of non-bailable warrants should be avoided.

57. The Court should try to maintain proper balance between individual liberty and the interest of the public and the State while issuing non-bailable warrant."

7. The inherent powers under Section 528 BNSS are to be exercised to prevent abuse of process of court and to secure ends of justice (State of Haryana v. Bhajan Lal, 1992 Supp (1) SCC 335). The matter at hand is the fit case for the exercise of the inherent powers of the High Court vested under section 528 of BNSS.

8. The impugned order dated 13.01.2026 passed by learned Additional Distict Judge - XVI/ Special Judge (P.C.), Allahabad in Session Trial No. 354 of 2016 (State vs Faizan Hussain and Others) arising out of Case Crime No. 03 of 2014 is hereby quashed. The Concerned Trial Court is directed to pass a fresh order in the light of the observation made hereinabove.

(2026) 2 ILRA 813
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 09.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE TEJ PRATAP TIWARI, J.

Application U/S 482. No. 8263 of 2025
Alongwith
Application U/S 482. No. 8685 of 2025

Mohd. Azeem Idrishi ....Applicant
Versus
State of U.P. & Anr. ...Opposite Parties

ISSUE FOR CONSIDERATION

Whether the arrest and prosecution of the applicants in connected criminal cases suffer from non-verification of true identity, leading to wrongful apprehension of innocent persons due to factual error by police.

HEADNOTES

Criminal Law – Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 – Section - 154, 161, 482, - Indian Penal Code, 1860 – Sections 328, 376D, 406, 420, 504, 506 - Prohibition of Unlawful Religious Conversion Act, 2021 – Section 5(1) - Constitution of India – Article 21 - Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita (BNSS) – Section 35: - Application u/s 482 CrPC – for quashing of entire criminal proceedings - FIRs - offences of cheating, intentional insult, and criminal intimidation (in year 2004 case) and causing hurt by poison, gang rape, criminal breach of trust, and unlawful religious conversion (in year 2024) – investigation - arrest – Mistaken Identity – Non-verification of particulars in NBW – Applicant wrongly apprehended – Violation of Article 21 - charge sheet - cognizance order – trial initiated – applicants pleaded mistaken identity, no evidence under Section 161 Cr.P.C., and mechanical cognizance – State admitted factual confusion due to identical names and incomplete particulars in NBW – Court finds that, arrest based on mistaken identity, violating Article 21 – held - arrest must be justified, not routine; deprivation of liberty impermissible without due verification – hence, impugned orders and proceedings quashed – applications allowed with direction to police to take lawful action against erring officers, compliance report to be filed - applicants at liberty to seek compensation under Article 226. (Para – 13, 14, 17, 19, 21, 22, 23)

Application Allowed. (E-11)

CASE LAW CITED

Joginder Kumar v. State of U.P., (1994) 4 SCC 260
Arnesh Kumar v. State of Bihar, (2014) 8 SCC 273
Satendra Kumar Antil v. CBI, (2022) 10 SCC 51
Rudul Shah v. State of Bihar, (1983) 4 SCC 141

LIST OF ACTS

Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 – Indian Penal Code, 1860 – Prohibition of Unlawful Religious Conversion Act, 2021 – Constitution of India – Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita (BNSS).

LIST OF KEYWORDS

Criminal Case – FIR – Quashing of proceedings - Mistaken identity - non-bailable warrant (NBW) - Personal liberty – Article 21 - Wrongful arrest - Compensation for unlawful detention - Police accountability.

CASE ARISING FROM

Criminal Case No. 312/2004 (State of U.P. v. Om Prakash) – arising from FIR No. 114/2004, P.S. Sidhauli, Sitapur - S.T. No. 300/2025 (State of U.P. v. Mohd. Azeem Idrishi) – arising from Case Crime No. 0041/2024, P.S. Gazipur, Lucknow.

APPEARANCE OF PARTIES

Counsel for Appellant(s): Shri Ratnesh Kant Agnihotri, Ranjana Agnihotri.
Counsel for Respondent(s): Shri Sandeep Tewari, GA.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Tej Pratap Tiwari, J.)

1. The present petitions have been filed under section 482 Cr.P.C. to quash the proceedings of S.T. No. 300/2025 arising out of supplementary charge sheet no. 2, dated 02.08.2024 relating to case crime no. 0041/2024 dated 28.01.2024, lodged under section 328, 376 D, 406 IPC and section 5(1) of the prohibition of Unlawful Religious Conversion Act, 2021 P.S. Gazipur, District Lucknow pending in the court of special judge POCSO Act- III, Lucknow titled as (State of U.P. versus Mohd. Azeem Idrishi) and in connected case also to quash the applicant's criminal prosecution in Criminal Case No. 312/2004, bearing FIR No. 114 of 2004 (State of U.P. versus Om Prakash) under Section 420, 504, 506 of Indian Penal Code, 1860 registered with Police Station Sidhauli, District Sitapur along with the Cognizance Order dated 17.11.2006 and the Impugned Order dated 01.07.2025 and all the consequential proceedings as against the applicants connected with S.T. No. 300/2025 arising out of supplementary charge sheet no. 2, dated 02.08.2024 relating to case crime no. 0041/2024 dated 28.01.2024, lodged under section 328, 376 D, 406 IPC and section 5(1) of the prohibition of Unlawful Religious Conversion Act, 2021 P.S. Gazipur, District Lucknow pending in the court of special judge POCSO Act- III, Lucknow titled as (State of U.P. versus Mohd. Azeem Idrishi) and to stay the further proceedings.

Factual Matrix

2. Shorn of the details in Criminal case no. 312/2024, an FIR lodged on 25.09.2004 under section 154 of Cr.P.C. against Om Prakash, as per the version of FIR, the accused has dishonestly by fraudulent means obtained the sale deed dated: 06.02.1984 (Bainama) of the complainant Smt. Suhagwati who is an illiterate woman. Om Prakash used the sale deed as security/guarantee in a loan account amounting to Rs. 1,00,000/- (One Lakh Only) from Bhagirath Gramin Bank, Branch Sidhauli, District Sitapur.

3. As per the version of the F.I.R. in Case Crime No. 0041 of 2024, the informant alleged that she was raped by one Nihal, who also recorded a video of the incident. On the basis of the said video, he threatened and extorted a sum of ₹3,00,000/- and on one occasion he came along with one Azeem, whom the informant claims to have recognised by face, and that the said Azeem also committed rape upon her by blackmailing her.

Issue

4. Both the cases are dealt with the same issue that the police officer without ascertaining the true identity and verifying the identity of the real accused, arrested the innocent person due to factual mistake.

5. Whether the arrest in both the cases suffers from non-verification of the true identity of the accused, leading to the apprehension of an innocent person due to a factual error on the part of the police.

Submission on behalf of applicants

6. Learned Counsel for the applicants submits that the applicants doesn't know the complainant by any means. There was no interaction or contact between them. The bank at the request of the guarantor has granted or agreed to grant to the Om Beej Bhandar, Sidhauli District Sitapur (Borrower) banking facilities by way of overdraft and/or promote or loan account upto the aggregate limit of Rs. 1,00,000/-. Om Prakash was the real accused whereas the applicants is Om Prakash Vishwakarma, he is innocent and facing the malicious prosecution. Learned Counsel submits that the applicants is not the proprietor of the company nor has any bank account in his name, he is a clerk and falls under the category of indigent person(s).

7. Learned Counsel for the applicants submits that the investigating officer has failed to point out any specific act of commission or omission on the part of the applicants. During investigation, there is no evidence and material in the shape of statement under Section 161 Cr.P.C. against applicants. The allegations are untrue, misconceived and concocted as against the applicants.

8. Learned Counsel for the applicants submits that the Learned Magistrate has passed order dated 17.11.2006 and taken the cognizance in the most mechanical manner, without any application of mind and in utter disregard to the settled principles of law. He further submits that the innocent applicants places his reliance on the statements of P.W.-1 (Suhagwati, complainant) recorded on 09.01.2006, the complainant states "My Bainama got exchanged with Bhagauti Devi who was my neighbour and Bhagauti Devi further gave my Bainama to his son namely Om Prakash who further took loan on the basis of my Bainama". This statement clearly indicates that the real-accused namely Om Prakash is the son of Sohan Lal & Bhagauti Devi, whereas the mother's name of the innocent applicants is Ramrati, which shows that the applicants is wrongly identified as the real accused.

Submission on Behalf of Opposite Party

9. Learned A.G.A. for the state submits that the investigating officer conducted a detailed inquiry regarding the named accused Om Prakash son of Sohanlal resident of Moh. Prem Nagar, police station Sidhauli, District Sitapur upon which it transpired that Om Prakash son of Sohanlal's mother's name is Bhagwati Devi, who is permanent resident of Moh. Prem Nagar, police station Sidhaulli, District Sitapur, who had died about 01 year and 06 months ago and at present his family is residing in Lucknow and due to this reason the investigating officer could not get the correct information regarding the actual accused Om Prakash.

10. Learned A.G.A. further submits that the factual mistake was caused, as the father's name of the named accused/deceased Om Prakash and Om Prakash produced before the learned court below was same and on the basis of the information given by the residents of the address mentioned on the N.B.W, Om Prakash son of Sohanlal resident of Shambhunath Colony, Police station Sairpur, District Lucknow, permanent resident of Village Kashipur, police station Sidhauli, District Sitapur was arrested on 01.07.2025 and was produced before the learned court below.

Observation

11. Heard learned counsel for the applicants, learned counsel for opposite party no. 2, learned A.G.A for the State and perused the record.

12. At the first instance, it would be appropriate to reproduce the relevant provisions of law under which the present criminal misc. application has been preferred and the law relating to arrest (Section 482 Cr.P.C.- Saving of inherent powers of High Court, Article 21 of the Constitution of India and Section 35 of BNSS.)

Section 528 BNS/482 Cr.P.C:-

"Nothing in this Code shall be deemed to limit or affect the inherent powers of the High Court to make such orders as may be necessary to give effect to any order under this Code, or to prevent abuse of the process of any Court or otherwise to secure the ends of justice."

Article 21. Protection of life and personal liberty.- 'No person shall be deprived of his life or personal liberty except according to procedure established by law*'.*

"Section 35. When police may arrest without warrant.

(1) Any police officer may without an order from a Magistrate and without a warrant, arrest any person -

(ba) against whom credible information has been received that he has committed a cognizable offence punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to more than seven years whether with or without fine or with death sentence and the police officer has reason to believe on the basis of that information that such person has committed the said offence"

13. The submissions advanced by the learned counsel for the parties emphasises though the name of the applicants are identical to that of the accused person, the applicants are not the real accused in the present case. The non-bailable warrant in question does not contain complete identifying particulars, such as the name of the mother. Owing to such deficiency in the warrant and lack of due verification, the police officials committed a factual mistake and apprehended the applicants, who are an innocent persons.

14. The record does not disclose any material establishing the identity of the applicants as the persons against whom the criminal proceedings were initiated. The deprivation of liberty of a person on account of mistaken identity is impermissible in law and strikes at the very root of the guarantee of personal liberty under Article 21 of the Constitution of India.

"45 In Rabindra Nath Ghosal vs. University of Calcutta reported in (2002) 7 SCC 478 the Supreme Court held:

The Courts having the obligation to satisfy the social aspiration of the citizens have to apply the tool and grant compensation as damages in a public law proceedings. Consequently when the Court moulds the relief in proceedings under Articles 32 and 226 of the Constitution seeking enforcement or protection of fundamental rights and grants compensation, it does so under the public law by way of penalising the wrongdoer and fixing the liability for the public wrong on the State which has failed in its public duty to protect the fundamental rights of the citizens. But it would not be correct to assume that every minor infraction of public duty by every public officer would commend the Court to grant compensation in a petition under Articles 226 and 32 by applying the principle of public law proceeding. The Court in exercise of extraordinary power under Articles 226 and 32 of the Constitution, therefore, would not award damages against public authorities merely because they have made some order which turns out to be ultra vires, or there has been some inaction in the performance of the duties unless there is malice or conscious abuse. Before exemplary damages can be awarded it must be shown that some fundamental right under Article 21 has been infringed by arbitrary or capricious action on the part of the public functionaries and that the sufferer was a helpless victim of that act."

15. The Supreme Court in Joginder Kumar vs. State of U.P. reported in (1994) 4 SCC 260, (paragraph 20). Extracted and reproduced below are the suggestions appearing in the paragraph.

"20. In India, Third Report of the National Police Commission at p. 32 also suggested:

"An arrest during the investigation of a cognizable case may be considered justified in one or other of the following circumstances:

(i) The case involves a grave offence like murder, dacoity, robbery, rape etc., and it is necessary to arrest the accused and bring his movements under restraint to infuse confidence among the terrorstricken victims.

(ii) The accused is likely to abscond and evade the processes of law.

(iii) The accused is given to violent behaviour and is likely to commit further offences unless his movements are brought under restraint.

(iv) The accused is a habitual offender and unless kept in custody he is likely to commit similar offences again.

It would be desirable to insist through departmental instructions that a police officer making an arrest should also record in the case diary the reasons for making the arrest, thereby clarifying his conformity to the specified guidelines..."

16. In the case of Satendra Kumar Antil vs. Central Bureau of Investigation reported in (2022) 10 SCC 51, the Supreme Court also declared on section 41 by paragraph 23 therein, reproduced below:-

"23. Section 41 under Chapter V of the Code deals with the arrest of persons. Even for a cognizable offense, an arrest is not mandatory as can be seen from the mandate of this provision. If the officer is satisfied that a person has committed a cognizable offense, punishable with imprisonment for a term which may be less than seven years, or which may extend to the said period, with or without fine, an arrest could only follow when he is satisfied that there is a reason to believe or suspect, that the said person has committed an offense, and there is a necessity for an arrest. Such necessity is drawn to prevent the committing of any further offense, for a proper investigation, and to prevent him/her from either disappearing or tampering with the evidence. He/she can also be arrested to prevent such person from making any inducement, threat, or promise to any person according to the facts, so as to dissuade him from disclosing said facts either to the court or to the police officer. One more ground on which an arrest may be necessary is when his/her presence is required after arrest for production before the Court and the same cannot be assured."

On this aspect, the judgment in Arnesh Kumar vs. State of Bihar reported in (2014) 8 SCC 273 was relied upon.

17. With reference to the suggestions in Third Report of the National Police Commission the Supreme Court in Joginder Kumar vs. State of U.P. (supra) said, the guidelines are merely the incidents of personal liberty guaranteed under the Constitution of India. No arrest can be made because it is lawful for the police officer to do so. An existence of the power to arrest is one thing. The justification for the exercise of it is quite another. The police officer must be able to justify the arrest apart from his power to do so. Arrest and detention in police lock-up of a person can cause incalculable harm to the reputation and self-esteem of a person. No arrest can be made in a routine manner on a mere allegation of commission of an offence made against a person. It would be prudent for a police officer, in the interest of protection of the constitutional rights of a citizen and perhaps in his own interest that no arrest should be made without a reasonable satisfaction reached after some investigation as to the genuineness and bona fides of a complaint and a reasonable belief, both as to the person's complicity and even so as to the need to effect arrest. Denying a person of his liberty is a serious matter. The recommendations of the Police Commission merely reflect the constitutional concomitants of the fundamental right to personal liberty and freedom. A person is not liable to arrest merely on the suspicion of complicity in an offence. There must be some reasonable justification in the opinion of the officer effecting the arrest that such arrest is necessary and justified.

18. Looking to the cases cited above, and taking reference of related legal provision as well facts and circumstances of the case, it is seen, that the Supreme Court has said that the constitutional Courts can grant compensation. Reliance to be placed on the judgment of the case Rudul Shah vs. State of Bihar reported in (1983) 4 SCC 141, paragraphs 1 and 11, reproduced below.

" CHANDRACHUD, C.J.- This Writ Petition discloses a sordid and disturbing state of affairs. Though the petitioner was acquitted by the Court of Session, Muzaffarpur, Bihar, on June 3. 1968 he was released from the jail on October 16. 1982, that is to say, more than 14 years after he was acquitted. By this habeas corpus petition, the petitioner asks for his release on the ground that his detention in the jail is unlawful. He has also asked for certain ancillary reliefs like rehabilitation, reimbursement of expenses which he may incur for medical treatment and compensation for the illegal incarceration.

11. Taking into consideration the great harm done to the petitioner by the Government of Bihar, we are of the opinion that, as an interim measure, the State must pay to the petitioner a further sum of Rs. 30,000 (Rupees thirty- thousand) in addition to the sum of Rs. 5,000 (Rupees five thousand) already paid by it. The amount shall be paid within two weeks from today. The Government of Bihar agrees to make the payment though, we must clarify, our order is not based on their consent."

19. In view of the discussion made hereinabove and having taken the references of the case laws and the legal provisions aforementioned, this court is of the considered view, that the impugned Order dated 01.07.2025, Cognizance Order dated 17.11.2006, and all the consequential proceedings as against the applicant in Criminal Case No. 312/2004 (State of U.P. versus Om Prakash) and the proceedings against the applicant in S.T No. 300 of 2025, relating to case crime no. 0041/2024 (State of U.P. versus Mohd. Azeem Idrishi) is liable to be set aside and the instant applications deserves to be allowed.

20. Accordingly, the impugned orders mentioned above are set aside and the applications stand allowed.

21. So far as the unlawful arrest of the applicants by the police is concerned, Police Commissioner, Lucknow and Superintendent of Police, Sitapur are directed to take appropriate and lawful action for such negligent act of the erring Police Officer/Officials and submit a compliance report before this Court within two months from today.

22. As regards the nature of harm suffered by the applicants, the applicants are at liberty to seek appropriate relief by way of invoking the writ jurisdiction under Article 226 of the Constitution of India, in the light of the legal aspects discussed above.

23. Let a copy of this order be send to the Police Commissioner, Lucknow and Superintendent of Police, Sitapur through Registrar (Compliance) of this Court.

(2026) 2 ILRA 820
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 05.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE TEJ PRATAP TIWARI, J.

Application U/S 482. No. 9472 of 2025

Nitesh Rastogi ...Applicant
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Opposite Parties

ISSUE FOR CONSIDERATION

Whether the Chief Judicial Magistrate (CJM), has jurisdiction to transfer a criminal case from one Magistrate to another under the BNSS/CrPC.
Whether the impugned transfer order dated 10.10.2025 is sustainable in law.

HEADNOTES

Criminal Law – Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 – Section 15, 192, 194, 407, 408, 409, 410, 482 - Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita, 2023 - Sections 13, 13(2), 212, 447, 448, 450, 528 - Indian Penal Code - Sections 170, 406, 411, 419, 420, 467, 468, 471, 506 : - Application u/s 482 CrPC - against the impugned transfer order, passed by the Chief Judicial Magistrate, whereby trial of Criminal Case arising from FIR for offences under Sections 406, 419, 420, 506, 170, 467, 468, 471, 411 IPC, involving recovery of 5.743 kg gold jewellery and forged IPS ID card, was transferred from Judicial Magistrate to Additional Chief Judicial Magistrate – FIR – Recovery - Charge sheet - cognizance taken - trial initiated - Applicant pleaded that CJM has no jurisdiction to transfer cases, power lies only with Sessions Judge, and transfer application was defective being unsupported by affidavit – opponent argued that CJM has supervisory powers and affidavit defect is curable - Court finds that statutory scheme confers transfer powers only on Supreme Court, High Court, and Sessions Judge, not CJM - administrative redistribution requires District Judge's approval - judicial transfer by CJM is without jurisdiction – held - impugned order contrary to law and circulars, ignoring Sessions Judge's prior rejection - transfer order is set aside – hence, petition is allowed - impugned order quashed – direction issued to Registrar General to issue circular clarifying CJM's lack of transfer powers. (Para – 12, 14, 19, 20, 21, 23)

Application Allowed. (E-11)

CASE LAW CITED

Radhey Shyam v. State of U.P., 1984 SCC OnLine All 365
Sudesh Chhikara v. State (NCT of Delhi), 2025 SCC OnLine Del 1641
Chhandrkantbhai Sharma v. State of Gujarat, 2015 SCC OnLine Guj 2891
A.K. Singh v. Virendra Kumar Jain, 1999 SCC OnLine MP 357
M/S Radical Works Pvt. Ltd. v. Sri Padmanabh T.G., CRL.P. No. 1291/2023
Dipak Babaria v. State of Gujarat, (2014) 3 SCC 502
Prem Narayan Singh v. Ramraj Singh, 1990 (27) ACC 430

LIST OF ACTS

Pre-Conception and Pre-Natal Diagnostic Techniques (Prohibition of Sex Selection) Act, 1994 - Pre-Conception and Pre-Natal Diagnostic Techniques (Prohibition of Sex Selection) Rules, 1996 - Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973.

LIST OF KEYWORDS

Criminal Case – FIR – Transfer of cases – jurisdiction - Chief Judicial Magistrate - Sessions Judge - supervisory powers - affidavit requirement - administrative vs judicial order - excess of jurisdiction - inherent powers.

CASE ARISING FROM

Criminal Case No. 6148/2022 (State vs. Bijendra Pal Singh & Anr.) - FIR dated 02.09.2021, Case Crime No. 219/2021, offences under Sections 406, 419, 420, 506, 170, 467, 468, 471, 411 IPC - Recovery of 5.743 kg gold jewellery and forged IPS ID card - Charge sheet filed 22.01.2022; cognizance taken 08.02.2022 - Transfer application rejected earlier by Sessions Judge; later entertained by CJM.

APPEARANCE OF PARTIES

Counsel for Appellant(s): Shri Amit Jaiswal, Sri Ambrish Singh Yadav.
Counsel for Respondent(s): Shri Pt. S. Chandra, Sri Durgesh Kumar Shukla, Sri Ravi Kant Mishra, AGA.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Tej Pratap Tiwari, J.)

1. The present petition has been filed under section 528 BNSS to quash/set aside impugned Transfer Order dated 10.10.2025 passed by learned court of Chief Judicial Magistrate, Lucknow whereby, trial of the Criminal case no. 6148/2022 "State vs. Bijendra Pal Singh and other" has been transferred from the court of Judicial Magistrate 1st (A.T.S.), Lucknow to the court of Additional Chief Judicial Magistrate 1st, Lucknow.

Factual Matrix

2. Shorn of the details, an FIR lodged against opposite party no.2 Bijendra Pal Singh and opposite party no.3 Rajiv Singh alleging fraudulent misappropriation of gold jewellery worth approximately 3,20,00,000/- on 02.09.2021, registered as Case Crime No. 219 of 2021 under Sections 406, 419, 420, 506 IPC, with Sections 170, 467, 468, 471 and 411 IPC added during investigation. On 03.09.2021, the police arrested opposite party no.3 Rajiv Singh and recovered 5 kg 743 gm 90 mg of gold jewellery belonging to the informant firm M/s Mohan Shyam Kalyan Das Jewellers (MJK), along with a forged identity card purporting to be that of an IPS officer. The seized jewellery was released in favour of the informant on 05.10.2021. Subsequent applications moved by opposite party no.3 for recall of the release order were rejected on 29.01.2022, against which he filed Application U/s 482 Cr.P.C. No. 1667 of 2022 before this Court challenging the orders dated 05.10.2021 and 29.01.2022. Meanwhile, the police filed charge sheet on 22.01.2022 and cognizance was taken by the trial court on 08.02.2022.

3. During the pendency of the aforesaid proceedings, opposite party no.2 and 3 moved an application for transfer of the case from the court of Judicial Magistrate First class (ATS) Lucknow to any other court before the Chief Judicial Magistrate Lucknow, which was rejected by the learned court of Session Judge Lucknow. The opposite party no. 3 preferred an application thereupon the learned trial court which was partially allowed in favour of the accused person and directed to take back the jewellery from the applicant and deposit the same in Malkhana Police Station. Another transfer application was submitted by opposite party no. 2 and 3 before CJM. The learned CJM Lucknow sought a report from the learned Judicial Magistrate First Class (ATS) Lucknow where, the trial of the criminal case no. 6148/2022 was pending. On 09.10.2025, learned Judicial Magistrate First Class (ATS) Lucknow had submitted the report. After considering the report, the learned CJM Lucknow passed the order dated 10.10.2025 by which the trial of the criminal case was transferred.

Submission on Behalf of the Applicant

4. At the very outset, Learned Counsel for the applicant submitted that the power of transfer of cases from one Judicial Magistrate to another Judicial Magistrate vest with Sessions Judge only. Section 408 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 (corresponding Section 448 of the Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita, 2023) exclusively deals with the transfer of criminal cases on the request of an interested party. The said provision confers such power only upon the Sessions Judge, and no equivalent power of transfer is vested in the Chief Judicial Magistrate under the law.

5. Learned Counsel for the applicant submitted that the learned Chief Judicial Magistrate, Lucknow, acted beyond the scope of jurisdiction in entertaining and allowing the transfer application, rendering the impugned order wholly illegal and unsustainable. The applicant relied upon the judgement of case Radhey Shyam and Another versus State of U.P. 1984 SCC OnLine All 365, Sudesh Chhikara versus State (Govt. Of NCT of Delhi) and Another, 2025 SCC OnLine Del 1641, Chhandrkantbhai Bhaichandhari Sharma versus State of Gujarat 2015 SCC OnLine Guj 2891, A. K. Singh, Special Railway Magistrate, Jabalpur v. Virendra Kumar Jain, Advocate, 1999 SCC OnLine MP 357, M/S Radical Works Pvt. Ltd. Versus Sri Padmanabh T.G. CRL.P. No. 1291/2023.

6. Learned Counsel for the applicant further submitted that the application preferred by opposite party nos. 2 and 3 was not supported by any affidavit. It is a statutory mandate that every application seeking transfer of a case from one court to another must be supported by a duly sworn affidavit. On this ground alone, the said application was liable to be dismissed at the very inception. However, the learned Chief Judicial Magistrate, Lucknow, failed to appreciate this mandatory requirement and proceeded to pass the impugned transfer order dated 10.10.2025, despite the application being unsupported by an affidavit. The impugned order is, therefore, without jurisdiction, bad in law, and has no legs to stand in the eyes of law. The applicant relied upon the judgment of case Dipak Babaria and Another versus State of Gujarat and Others (2014) 3 SCC 502.

Submission on Behalf of the Opposite party.

7. Learned A.G.A. and learned counsel for opposite party nos. 2 & 3 submitted that a plain and harmonious reading of the relevant provisions of the Code clearly shows that the Chief Judicial Magistrate is empowered to withdraw any case from any Magistrate subordinate to him, and such power cannot be narrowly construed as being limited only to cases earlier made over by him. The scheme of the Code, particularly Section 15 Cr.P.C., makes it evident that all Judicial Magistrates are subordinate to the Chief Judicial Magistrate, subject to the general control of the Sessions Judge, and the Chief Judicial Magistrate is vested with administrative and supervisory authority to regulate and distribute judicial business among subordinate Magistrates. Therefore, the power to withdraw and reassign cases flows from such statutory control and supervision, and the exercise of such power cannot be termed without jurisdiction or illegal. Learned A.G.A. relied upon the judgment of the case Prem Narayan Singh versus Ramraj Singh and Others, 1990 (27) ACC 430, Para 6 and 13.

8. Learned A.G.A. and learned counsel for opposite party no. 2 & 3 also submitted that the impugned order dated 10.10.2025 has been passed in the interest of justice to ensure fair and proper adjudication of the proceedings. It is contended that non-filing of an affidavit along with the transfer application is a curable irregularity and does not vitiate the proceedings, particularly when no prejudice has been caused to the applicant. It is further submitted that the learned Chief Judicial Magistrate, Lucknow, exercised supervisory and administrative control to facilitate proper conduct of the case and the impugned order cannot be termed as without jurisdiction merely on technical grounds.

9. Learned A.G.A. and learned counsel for opposite party further argued that the power exercised by the learned Chief Judicial Magistrate was incidental and ancillary in nature and was invoked to prevent abuse of process of court. Therefore, the impugned transfer order does not suffer from any illegality or perversity and does not call for interference by this Hon'ble Court.

Observation

10. Heard Sri Amit Jaiswal along with Sri Ambrish Singh Yadav, learned counsel for the appellant, Pt. S. Chandra, Sri Durgesh Kumar Shukla as well as Sri Ravi Kant Mishra, learned counsel for the opposite party nos. 2 and 3, learned AGA for the State of U.P. and perused the record.

11. At the first instance, it would be appropriate to reproduce the provisions of law under which the present criminal misc. application has been preferred i.e Section 528 B.N.S.S.- Saving of inherent powers of High Court.

"Nothing in this Code shall be deemed to limit or affect the inherent powers of the High Court to make such orders as may be necessary to give effect to any order under this Code, or to prevent abuse of the process of any Court or otherwise to secure the ends of justice."

12. In the light of legal provision mentioned above, upon careful consideration of the submissions advanced by learned counsel for the parties and perusal of the record, this Court finds that the question involved in present petition is relating to the power of Chief Judicial Magistrate to transfer the case by passing an order from one court to another.

13. Before proceeding further it is necessary to examine the relevant provision of Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita, 2023 (herein after referred as BNSS, 2023) or Criminal Procedure Code, 1973 (herein after referred as CrPC, 1973), which relates to the issue in contention.

Relevant provisions of CrPC, 1973 read as under:-

"Section 15. Subordination of Judicial Magistrates."(1) Every Chief Judicial Magistrate shall be subordinate to the Sessions Judge; and every other Judicial Magistrate shall, subject to the general control of the Sessions Judge, be subordinate to the Chief Judicial Magistrate.

(2) The Chief Judicial Magistrate may, from time to time, make rules or give special orders, consistent with this Code, as to the distribution of business among the Judicial Magistrates subordinate to him."

Section 410. Withdrawal of cases by Judicial Magistrate."(1) Any Chief Judicial Magistrate may withdraw any case from, or recall any case which he has made over to, any Magistrate subordinate to him, and may inquire into or try such case himself, or refer it for inquiry or trial to any other such Magistrate competent to inquire into or try the same.

(2) Any Judicial Magistrate may recall any case made over by him under sub-section (2) of section 192 to any other Magistrate and may inquire into or try such cases himself.

192. Making over of cases to Magistrates*."(1) Any Chief Judicial Magistrate may, after taking cognizance of an offence, make over the case for inquiry or trial to any competent Magistrate subordinate to him.*

(2) Any Magistrate of the first class empowered in this behalf by the Chief Judicial Magistrate may, after taking cognizance of an offence, make over the case for inquiry or trial to such other competent Magistrate as the Chief Judicial Magistrate may, by general or special order, specify, and thereupon such Magistrate may hold the inquiry or trial.

407. Power of High Court to transfer cases and appeals*."(1) Whenever it is made to appear to the High Court" (a) that a fair and impartial inquiry or trial cannot be had in any Criminal Court subordinate thereto, or (b) that some question of law of unusual difficulty is likely to arise, or (c) that an order under this section is required by any provision of this Code, or will tend to the general convenience of the parties or witnesses, or is expedient for the ends of justice, it may order"*

(i) that any offence be inquired into or tried by any Court not qualified under sections 177 to 185 (both inclusive), but in other respects competent to inquire into or try such offence;

(ii) that any particular case or appeal, or class of cases or appeals, be transferred from a Criminal Court subordinate to its authority to any other such Criminal Court of equal or superior jurisdiction;

(iii) that any particular case be committed for trial to a Court of Session; or

(iv) that any particular case or appeal be transferred to and tried before itself.

(2) The High Court may act either on the report of the lower Court, or on the application of a party interested, or on its own initiative: Provided that no application shall lie to the High Court for transferring a case from one Criminal Court to another Criminal Court in the same sessions division, unless an application for such transfer has been made to the Sessions Judge and rejected by him.

(3) Every application for an order under sub-section (1) shall be made by motion, which shall, except when the applicant is the Advocate-General of the State, be supported by affidavit or affirmation.

(4) When such application is made by an accused person, the High Court may direct him to execute a bond, with or without sureties, for the payment of any compensation which the High Court may award under sub-section (7).

(5) Every accused person making such application shall give to the Public Prosecutor notice in writing of the application, together with a copy of the grounds on which it is made; and no order shall be made on the merits of the applications unless at least twenty- our hours have elapsed between the giving of such notice and the hearing of the application.

(6) Where the application is for the transfer of a case or appeal from any Subordinate Court, the High Court may, if it is satisfied that it is necessary so to do in the interest of Justice, order that, pending the disposal of the application the proceedings in the Subordinate Court shall be stayed, on such terms as the High Court may think fit to impose:

Provided that such stay shall not affect the Subordinate Court"s power of remand under section 309.

(7) Where an application for an order under sub-section (1) is dismissed, the High Court may, if it is of opinion that the application was frivolous or vexatious, order the applicant to pay by way of compensation to any person who has opposed the application such sum not exceeding one thousand rupees as it may consider proper in the circumstances of the case.

(8) When the High Court orders under sub-section (1) that a case be transferred from any Court for trial before itself, it shall observe in such trial the same procedure which that Court would have observed if the case had not been so transferred. (9) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to affect any order of Government under section 197.

408. Power of Sessions Judge to transfer cases and appeals." 1) Whenever it is made to appear to a Sessions Judge that an order under this sub-section is expedient for the ends of justice, he may order that any particular case be transferred from one Criminal Court to another Criminal Court in his sessions division

(2) The Sessions Judge may act either on the report of the lower Court, or on the application of a party interested, or on his own initiative.

(3) The provisions of sub-sections (3), (4), (5), (6), (7) and (9) of section 407 shall apply in relation to an application to the Sessions Judge for an order under sub-section (1) as they apply in relation to an application to the High Court for an order under sub-section (1) of section 407, except that sub-section (7) of that section shall so apply as if for the words "one thousand rupees" occurring therein, the words "two hundred and fifty rupees" were substituted."

It is relevant to note that Section 15, 192, 410 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 corresponds to Section 13, 212, 450 of the Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita, 2023, respectively. Further, Sections 407 and 408 of the CrPC correspond respectively to Sections 447 and 448 of the BNSS, 2023 with some changes, there is no mean to quote the same provisions twice".

14. The scheme of powers relating to transfer of criminal cases demonstrates the legislative intent with sufficient clarity. Under these provisions, the authority to transfer criminal cases has been expressly conferred upon the Supreme Court, the High Court, and the Court of Session. A careful reading of the statutory framework makes it evident that the Chief Judicial Magistrate (CJM) has not been vested with any power to transfer criminal cases. The hierarchy and subordination prescribed under the Code clearly establish that the CJM is subordinate to the Sessions Judge. Had the Legislature intended to empower the CJM with the authority to transfer cases, such power would have been explicitly provided for in the statute.

15. This court choose to rely on the judgment of Sudesh Chhikara v. State (NCT of Delhi), 2025 SCC OnLine Del 1641

"The Court referred to Radical Works (P) Ltd. v. Padmanabh T.G., in Crl.P. No. 1291 of 2023, decided on 18-04-2023, Special Railway Magistrate, Jabalpur v. Virendra Kumar Jain, 1999 SCC OnLine MP 357 and Chandrkantbhai Bhaichandbhai Sharma v. State of Gujarat, 2015 SCC OnLine Guj 2891 and stated that the Court was of firm view that since the legislature in its own wisdom had conferred the power of the transfer only to Supreme Court, High Courts and the Sessions Court, it could not be given by way of inference to the Court of Chief Judicial Magistrate. The law of interpretation did not provide interpretation of any provision which in any manner contravened the intention of the legislature. The legislature could have specifically given the power of transfer to the Chief Judicial Magistrate if it would have considered it proper to do so."

16. Likewise, in the case of A. K. Singh, Special Railway Magistrate, Jabalpur v. Virendra Kumar Jain, Advocate, 1999 SCC OnLine MP 357, it has been held :-

10. "..The Chief Judicial Magistrate appears to have committed severe illegalities; firstly, the transfer petition moved before him was under section 410, Criminal Procedure Code, Under that provision the jurisdiction of the Chief Judicial Magistrate is administrative in nature. It is to keep equilibrium of cases amongst the various Magistrates working under him in the district. He can withdraw cases from one Magistrate and send them to another. This provision does not empower a Chief Judicial Magistrate to exercise power of transfer on complaint by one of the parties. For that, the remedy to the aggrieved party is under section 408, Criminal Procedure Code. That power is exercised by the Sessions Judge. He can transfer cases from one criminal Court to another in his Session Division "when he considers it expedient to do so for the ends of Justice". He can transfer a particular case from one court to another. He may act either on the report of the lower court or on the application of the party interested or on his own initiative. So, this is the provision which provides remedy to an aggrieved person, who feels to have lost faith in a particular criminal court for one or other reason. His remedy is not under section 410, Criminal Procedure Code.

1*1. In view of this scope of provisions of sections 408 and 410, Criminal Procedure Code the Chief Judicial Magistrate should not have acted on a transfer petition based on grievances against the trying Magistrate. The best course was to leave the complainant to move the Sessions Court under section 408, Criminal Procedure Code.*

17. In Chandrkantbhai Bhaichandbhai Sharma v. State of Gujarat in Special Criminal Application (Quashing) No. 4884/2015, it has been held :-

"16. ".The clear contrast in the language employed by the Legislature in the two sets of section is indicative of the difference in the nature of the power conferred thereunder. I note below the differences:

(i) Sections 406, 407 and 408 use the words "whenever it is made to appear" while referring to the power of the Supreme Court, High Court or the Sessions Judge to transfer cases. Sections 409, 410 and 411 significantly do not use these words.

(ii)The captions of Sections 406, 407 and 408 speak of exercise of "power" to transfer, Sections 409, 410 and 411 do not speak of "power" but merely refer to "withdrawal" or "recalling".

(iii) Sections 406, 407 and 408 contemplate the "power to transfer" being exercised on an application by a "party interested" (Sections 407 and 408 also contemplate the "power to transfer" being used on a report of the Lower Court or suo motu; and Section 406 contemplate the power of transfer being used on an application by the Attorney General). These Sections clearly imply a need for hearing before transfer. On the other hand, Sections 409, 410 and 411 contemplate exercise of the power of withdrawal/recalling cases in a routine manner in the day to day administration. They do not contemplate any hearing to the parties interested.

26. It is clear from the above that the power to be exercised under Sections 406, 407 and 408 is a judicial power to be invoked and exercised in the manner stated therein. On the other hand, the power of withdrawing or recalling of cases under Sections 409, 410 and 411 is an administrative power, complementary to the administrative power of making over cases vested in the Chief Judicial Magistrate/Magistrate and the Sessions Judge under Sections 192 and 194 of the Code."

18. In this context the Circular Orders of the High court of judicature at Allahabad Volume-II (Covering Circular Letters Issued Up to 31.03.2011) may also be looked upon :-

"DISTRIBUTION OF WORK BY C.J.Ms.

(i) Amongst Judicial Magistrates

C.L. No. 3/Admn.(B) dated 18th March, 1971

Under section 190 Criminal Procedure Code distribution of work among the Judicial Magistrates should be done by the Chief Judicial Magistrate who may, in his turn, consult the Sessions Judge in this behalf.

C.L. No. 124/Admn. (B) dated 30th September, 1975

The Chief Judicial Magistrates are required to act under the general supervision of the District and Sessions Judges even for the purposes of sub-section (2) of section 15 of Criminal Procedure Code.

C.L. No. 73/Admn. (A) dated 19th May, 1976

The Chief Judicial Magistrates should take necessary steps for transferring cases under special and local Acts to the Executive Magistrates, if not already done.

C.L. No. 4/Admn. (A) dated 21" January, 1987

The District Judges are requested to issue suitable directions to the Chief Judicial Magistrates with regard to distribution of work under local and special Acts amongst Executive Magistrates conferred with powers of Special Judicial Magistrates Ist Class, by the Court.

(ii) Distribution between C.J.M. and A.C.J.M.

C.L. No. 198/Admn. (A) dated 10th December, 1976

The Chief Judicial Magistrates will as far as possible, assign half the officers to be inspected by him and the rest by the Additional Chief Judicial Magistrates. The inspection notes of the District Judges/Chief Judicial Magistrates/Additional Chief Judicial Magistrates will be sent to the successor inspecting officer. Henceforth all the District Judges will also inspect the criminal work of the Judicial Magistrates and Munsif-Magistrates in addition to civil work.

Jail inspections will be made by the Additional Chief Judicial Magistrates only.

Correspondence work, compliance of High Court orders etc. and collection of statements will remain with the Chief Judicial Magistrates.

Any distribution of work among the Judicial Magistrates and the Additional Chief Judicial Magistrates or any change made therein by the Chief Judicial Magistrates will have the prior approval of the District Judge."

19. Although Section 13(2) of the BNSS authorises the CJM to make rules or give special orders, such powers must be exercised strictly in conformity with the Sanhita. These administrative powers cannot override or supplement the explicit statutory framework governing transfer of cases. Any attempt by the CJM to order a transfer, in the absence of statutory authorization, would amount to an excess of jurisdiction.

20. In the instant case, the legality of the impugned order dated 10.10.2025 needs to be tested in the light of the legal provisions and circulars discussed above. If the said order is taken to be an administrative in nature, as it distributes the work among the Judicial Magistrate and Additional Chief Judicial Magistrate then learned C.J.M., Lucknow should have taken prior approval of the District Judge as it is mentioned in the Circular No. 198/Admn. (A) dated 10th December, 1976 of the High Court of Judicature at Allahabad (mentioned above) but as per the instructions sought from the learned C.J.M. Lucknow, it is clear that neither prior approval has been taken nor information was given to the learned Session Judge. On the other hand, if the impugned order is said to be passed on judicial side (as said by learned C.J.M. in his report dated 14.11.2025), on the transfer application in Criminal Case No. 6148/2022, then this would be clearly in the absence of statutory authorization and thus, would amount to be passed without having jurisdiction, which does not stands. It is further pertinent to take note that prior to the passing of the impugned order, the transfer application had earlier been filed, considered and rejected by the learned Session Judge, ignoring which the impugned order has been passed.

21. In view of the discussions made herein above and the references of the case laws as well as the statutory provisions / circulars referred above, this Court is of the considered view, that the impugned Transfer Order dated 10.10.2025 passed by the learned Chief Judicial Magistrate Lucknow under Section 406, 419, 420, 506, 467, 468, 471, 411, 170 IPC, is not in conformity with law, therefore, the said impugned Transfer Order is liable to be set aside and the instant petition deserves to be allowed.

22. Accordingly, the impugned order dated 10.10.2025 is hereby set aside and the instant petition is allowed.

23. Delving into the importance of the issue raised in the instant matter and taking note of the grave fact that such practice is being followed by most of the District Courts across the State of Uttar Pradesh, the learned Registrar General of this Court is directed to issue an appropriate circular in this regard.

(2026) 2 ILRA 830
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 17.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SUBHASH CHANDRA SHARMA, J.

Application U/S 482. No. 10810 of 2018

Devinder Mohan Singh & Anr. ...Applicants
Versus
State of U.P. & Anr. ...Opposite Parties

Issue for Consideration

Matter pertains to whether, in the facts and circumstances of the case, the continuation of criminal proceedings against the applicants being relatives of husband on the basis of general and omnibus allegations of dowry demand and harassment, in absence of specific, cogent, and prima facie material, amounts to an abuse of process of law warranting exercise of inherent jurisdiction u/s 482 Cr.P.C. for quashing of proceedings, including the charge-sheet and cognizance order.

Headnotes

Indian Penal Code, 1860 - ss. 498A, 323, 504, 506, 306, 511, 108 - D.P Act, 1961 - s. 3/4 - Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 - s. 173(8) - Quashing of criminal proceedings - The instant application u/s 482 Cr.P.C. has been instituted by the applicants, who are the parents-in-law of victim, seeking quashing of entire criminal proceedings arising out of Case Crime No. 344 of 2014, registered u/ss. 498A, 323, 504, 506, 306, 511, 108 I.P.C. and s. 3/4 of Dowry Prohibition Act - The First Information Report was lodged by father of victim alleging dowry demand and harassment by husband and his family members, including the present applicants, both in Varanasi and during their stay in Australia - Upon initial investigation, no prima facie material was found against the applicants and they were exonerated; however, pursuant to oral directions of superior police authorities, further investigation was conducted and a supplementary charge-sheet filed implicating them - It has further been brought on record that matrimonial discord existed between the husband and wife, culminating in dissolution of marriage by a decree of divorce granted by a competent court in Australia - The allegations against the applicants are general and omnibus in nature, without attribution of any specific overt act.

Held: Taking in view the allegations as made in the first information report, the statement of informant and other witnesses as recorded by the previous investigating officer and non establishment of prima facie case against them, Mazeed statements of witnesses by the subsequent investigating officer, it appears that there are general and omnibus allegations against all the members of the family of the husband, those are vague and frivolous leading to a situation where it is hard to specify the role of each accused in furtherance of the offence - Where there is absence of clear allegation against the relatives of the husband, it simply amounts to an abuse of process of law - Thus, application allowed, entire criminal proceedings quashed. [Paras 14, 16] (E-13)

Case Law Cited

Preeti Gupta and Anr. v. State of Jharkhand and Anr; (2010) 7 SCC 667; Geeta Mehrotra & Anr. v. State of UP & Anr. (2012) 10 SCC 741; Kahkashan Kausar @ Sonam & others v. State of Bihar and other 2022 LiveLaw (SC) 141 - referred to

List of Acts

Indian Penal Code, 1860; D.P Act, 1961; Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973

List of Keywords

s. 482 Cr.P.C.; Quashing of criminal proceedings; Charge-sheet; Cognizance order; Summoning order; First Information Report; Indian Penal Code; D.P. Act; Applicants (parents-in-law); Matrimonial dispute; Dowry demand; Harassment; General and omnibus allegations; Absence of specific allegations; Lack of prima facie case; Initial investigation; Further investigation u/s 173(8) Cr.P.C.; Supplementary charge-sheet; Exoneration; Oral instructions of Superintendent of Police; Statements of witnesses; Mazeed statements; Lack of cogent evidence; Divorce decree by foreign court (Australia); Application allowed.

Case Arising From

ORIGINAL JURISDICTION: Application U/s No. - 10810 of 2018

From the Judgment and Order dated 02.01.2018 passed by the Chief Judicial Magistrate, Varanasi in Case Crime No. 344 of 2014.

Appearances for Parties

Adv. for the Applicant:
Mukhtar Alam
Advs. for the Opposite Party:
Ashish Kumar Gupta, G.A., Rupak Chaubey

(Delivered by Hon'ble Subhash Chandra Sharma, J.)

1. List revised.

2. Heard Sri Mukhtar Alam, Senior Advocate assisted by Sri Yawar Mukhtar, learned counsel for the applicants.

previous date, none was present on behalf of the opposite party no.2. Several time, the opposite party no.2 was granted time to file counter affidavit, if any, but no counter affidavit

4 Present application under Section 482 Cr. P.C. has been filed by the applicants with the prayer to quash the entire proceeding of criminal case No. 7243 of 2015 (State Versus Indrajeet Singh and others), under Section 498A, 323, 504, 506, 306, 511, 108 I.P.C. and Section 3/4 D.P. Act, Police Station Sigra, District Varanasi arising out of Case Crime No. 344 of 2014, pending in the Court of Chief Judicial Magistrate, Varanasi, Charge sheet No. 513 of 2017 dated 20.11.2027 as well as order of cognizance dated 02.01.2018 passed by the Chief Judicial Magistrate, Varanasi

5. Facts in brief are that first information report under Sections 498A, 323, 504, 506, 306, 511, 108 I.P.C. and Section 3/4 D.P. Act, was lodged by the informant against the applicants at the police station Sigra, District Varanasi as Case Crime No. 344 of 2014 on 23.08.2014 at about 7.10 A.M. with the allegation that the applicants and the husband of daughter of the informant, namely, Aman Jot Singh Vasoor and other family members subjected her to harassment in relation to demand of dowry. The applicants also subjected her to harassment and when the victim was in Australia with her husband, the applicants were also living there in Australia. After investigation, no any material was found against the applicants to establish prima facie case, as a result, the first investigating officer closed the investigation, but on the oral instructions given by the Superintendent of Police, Varanasi, investigation was handed over to some other investigating officer, who filed the charge sheet against the present applicants also and on the basis of which cognizance was taken by the learned trial court on 20.06.2015 and summoning order was passed by the learned court.

6. It is submitted that applicants are Saas and Sasur of the victim who were named in the first information report by the father of the victim with false allegation of demand of dowry and harassment at Varanasi and in Australia, though there was no any such incident committed by the applicants with the daughter of the informant. The daughter-in-law was living in Australia with her husband. There was matrimonial dispute between both of them that was the reason, a divorce petition was filed in Civil Court at Australia in which decree of divorce was also granted by the family Court vide order dated 27.11.2015 and relation between the husband and wife (victim) came to an end. No any injury was caused to the victim by these applicants. There are general allegations of demand of dowry and harassment with her regarding which there is no any material to support. The first investigating officer did also not find any reliable material against the applicants to establish the commission of the offence as stated in the first information report, but as per oral direction given by the Superintendent of Police, Varanasi, investigation was handed over to some other investigating officer and charge sheet was filed. He also submitted that Hon'ble Apex Court has held in the cases of Geeta Mehrotra and Kahkashan Kausar @ Sonam and others that where there are general allegations made against the relatives and there is no any other cogent evidence regarding demand of dowry and harassment, it will become misuse of the process of law and such practice be checked to prevent the abuse of the process of law, therefore request to quash the entire proceedings of the case against the applicants.

7. It is also submitted by the learned counsel for the applicants that in the present case, the applicants are father-in-law and mother-in-law of the daughter of the informant. In the first information report, the allegation regarding demand of dowry and harassment of daughter of informant was made against seven persons including the present applicants. Other accused persons, namely Aman Jeet Singh (husband), Gurmeet (Jeth), Sumit Saluja (Jethani), Indrajeet Man (Mama) and Romi Sahani (Mami). The charge sheet against other co-accused persons was filed separately by the investigating officer S.I. Abhai Raj Mishra and implication of the present applicants was found to be false. This fact gets mention in the charge sheet No. 51-A/17 dated 07.05.2017. Consequently at the instance of oral instructions given by the Senior Superintendent Police, Varanasi investigation was taken over by other S.I. ,namely, Gopal Ji Gupta on 01.06.2017 as mentioned by him in SCD No. 28. He after completing the investigation, filed the charge sheet against the present applicants also after writing Mazeed statements of same witnesses, which shows that when the statement of the informant and other witnesses were recorded by the previous investigating officer S. I. Ahhay Raj Mishra, no prima facie case was found to be made out against the present applicants, as a result, their implication being false, they were exonerated and charge sheet was filed on 07.05.2017 against other accused persons.

8. Learned A.G.A opposed the prayer as aforesaid but could not dispute the fact regrading general allegation of demand of dowry and harassment to the victim by the applicants and decree as passed by the Civil Court, Australia as aforesaid and the law as laid down by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the aforesaid cases.

9. It is to note that once final report is filed by the investigating officer after investigation being completed, further investigation can be done by the police under Section 173(8) Cr. P.C. and supplementary police report may be filed if the investigation officer gets sufficient material in this regard.

10. In the present case the subsequent investigating officer acted upon oral direction given by the Superintendent of Police, Varanasi and thereafter, he recorded Mazeed statements of witnesses whose statements were already recorded by 1st I.O. and then supplementary charge sheet was filed. The contents of the first information report did not disclose any specific allegation against the present applicants regarding harassment of the victim and in relation to the demand of dowry, but there are general allegations against all the members of the family including Jeth, Jethani Mama and Mami, who may have no any interest in the demand. The decree of divorce between the husband and wife as granted by the Civil Court, Australia by order dated 27.11.2015 also shows that there was matrimonial dispute between the husband and wife that was the reason they moved divorce petition in Australia, as a result, marriage was dissolved and now they are living separately.

11. In the case of Preeti Gupta and Anr. Versus State of Jharkhand and Anr; (2010) 7 SCC 667, it was observed:-

"32. It is a matter of common experience that most of these complaints under section 498A IPC are filed in the heat of the moment over trivial issues without proper deliberations. We come across a large number of such complaints which are not even bona fide and are filed with oblique motive. At the same time, rapid increase in the number of genuine cases of dowry harassment are also a matter of serious concern".

12. In the case of Geeta Mehrotra & Anr. Vs. State of UP & Anr.(2012) 10 SCC 741, it was observed:-

"21. It would be relevant at this stage to take note of an apt observation of this Court recorded in the matter of G.V. Rao vs. L.H.V. Prasad & Ors. reported in (2000) 3 SCC 693 wherein also in a matrimonial dispute, this Court had held that the High Court should have quashed the complaint arising out of a matrimonial dispute wherein all family members had been roped into the matrimonial litigation which was quashed and set aside.

Their Lordships observed therein with which we entirely agree that:

"there has been an outburst of matrimonial dispute in recent times. Marriage is a sacred ceremony, main purpose of which is to enable the young couple to settle down in life and live peacefully. But little matrimonial skirmishes suddenly erupt which often assume serious proportions resulting in heinous crimes in which elders of the family are also involved with the result that those who could have counselled and brought about rapprochement are rendered helpless on their being arrayed as accused in the criminal case. There are many reasons which need not be mentioned here for not encouraging matrimonial litigation so that the parties may ponder over their defaults and terminate the disputes amicably by mutual agreement instead of fighting it out in a court of law where it takes years and years to conclude and in that process the parties lose their "young" days in chasing their cases in different courts." The view taken by the judges in this matter was that the courts would not encourage such disputes."

13. Likewise Apex Court has made similar observations in Kahkashan Kausar @ Sonam & others Versus State of Bihar and other 2022 LiveLaw (SC) 141.

14.Taking in view the allegations as made in the first information report, the statement of the informant and other witnesses as recorded by the previous investigating officer and non establishment of the prima facie case against them, Mazeed statements of the witnesses by the subsequent investigating officer, it appears that there are general and omnibus allegations against all the members of the family of the husband, those are vague and frivolous leading to a situation where it is hard to specify the role of each accused in furtherance of the offence. Where there is absence of clear allegation against the relatives of the husband, it simply amounts to an abuse of process of law.

15. In view of law as laid down by Apex Court in the aforesaid cases, if the allegation made against them are general and omnibus, they do not warrant prosecution and therefore, it would be unjust, if the applicants are forced to go through the process of the learned trial court, since the criminal trial leading to an eventual acquittal also inflict severe scar upon the accused and such an exercise must therefore, be discouraged.

16. Accordingly, the present criminal misc. application under Section 482 Cr. P.C. is allowed and entire proceeding against the applicants in criminal case No. 7243 of 2015 (State Versus Indrajeet Singh and others), under Section 498A, 323, 504, 506, 306, 511, 108 I.P.C. and Section 3/4 D.P. Act, Police Station Sigra, District Varanasi arising out of Case Crime No. 344 of 2014, pending in the Court of Chief Judicial Magistrate, Varanasi, Charge sheet No. 513 of 2017 dated 20.11.2027 as well as order of cognizance dated 02.01.2018 passed by the Chief Judicial Magistrate, Varanasi are quashed.

(2026) 2 ILRA 835
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 12.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE RAJIV LOCHAN SHUKLA, J.

Application U/S 528 BNSS. No. 18266 of 2025

Pradeep Kumar ...Applicant
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Opposite Parties

ISSUE FOR CONSIDERATION

Whether the Chief Judicial Magistrate rightly treated the application moved under Section 175(3) BNSS as a complaint instead of directing police investigation?

HEADNOTES

Criminal Law – Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita, 2023 - Section 175(3), 175(4), 210, 528, 529, - Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 - Sections 154(3), 156(3), 202(1), 173(2), 190 - Indian Evidence Act, 1872 – Section - 27: - Application under Section 528 BNSS – for quashing the impugned order – whereby the learned CJM in an arbitrary, manner treated the application moved under section 175(3) BNSS as a complaint, while the matter required police investigation - allegations of grievous assault leading to amputation – applicant pleaded that custodial interrogation, recovery of motorcycle, weapon, and spot inspection required – Magistrate found no such evidence recoverable after lapse of time and held complainant had full knowledge of facts – reliance placed on Sukhwasi, Ram Babu Gupta, Lala Ram – Court finds that, principles governing Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. still apply under Section 175(3) BNSS, though procedure now requires affidavit and inquiry – Magistrate has discretion, not bound to order FIR in every case – held, order treating application as complaint is valid – hence, application is dismissed. (Para – 13, 18, 19, 20)

Application Dismissed. (E-11)

CASE LAW CITED

Sukhwasi v. State of U.P., 2007 (59) ACC 739 / (2007) 6 ALJ 424 (DB).
Ram Babu Gupta v. State of U.P., (2001) ACC 201 (Full Bench).
Priyanka Srivastava v. State of U.P., (2015) 6 SCC 287.
Lala Ram v. State of U.P., 2021 (1) ADJ 145.
Suresh Chand Jain (SC).
Mohan Shukla v. State of U.P. (Allahabad HC).
Ram Sabad v. Sessions Judge, Bahraich (Allahabad HC).
Lalita Kumari v. Govt. of U.P., (2014) 2 SCC 1.

LIST OF ACTS

Bhartiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita, 2023 - Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 - Indian Evidence Act, 1872.

LIST OF KEYWORDS

BNSS - Cr.P.C. - Magistrate's discretion – complaint – investigation – affidavit - frivolous applications - police apathy - cognizable offence - judicial review – delay - collection of evidence - physical evidence - recovery of blood-stained soil - legal or factual infirmity - jurisdictional error - perversity in the order.

CASE ARISING FROM

Complaint Case No. 1583 of 2024 (Pradeep Kumar v. Mohit Kumar & others), arising out of proceedings under Section 175(3) BNSS, Police Station Sheoli, District Kanpur Dehat.

APPEARANCE OF PARTIES

Counsel for Appellant(s): Shri Ejaz Ahmad Khan, Mohd. Monis.
Counsel for Respondent(s): Shri Shashi Dhar Pandey and A.G.A.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rajiv Lochan Shukla, J.)

1. Heard Sri Mohd. Monis, Learned counsel for the applicant, Sri Hari Nath Chaubey, Learned counsel for the opposite party Nos.2 & 3, Sri Shashi Dhar Pandey, Learned A.G.A. for the State and perused the material brought on the record.

2. Challenge in this application is to the impugned order dated 18.9.2024 passed by the Learned Chief Judicial Magistrate, Kanpur Dehat in Criminal Complaint Case No. 1583 of 2024 (Pradeep Kumar Vs. Mohit Kumar and others) arising out of proceeding under section 175(3) of B.N.S.S. Police Station Sheoli, District Kanpur Dehat.

3. The allegations made in the application under Section 175(3) of the B.N.S.S. are that the opposite parties on 29.7.2024 at about 08:30 P.M. at night, when the injured of the case Sandeep had gone to attend the call of nature, was caught hold by the opposite party Nos.2 & 3 due to previous enmity and then his right leg was tied up with barbed wire and then tied to a motorcycle through which he was dragged for quite a distance. It has further been alleged in the application that the entire leg of the injured Sandeep was amputated after which the accused left Sandeep and run away. The applicant coming to know of the incident is said to have rush to the spot along with other family members and saw that Sandeep was lying bleeding, who was then taken to Police Station Sheoli, District- Kanpur Dehat, where no action was taken, thereafter he was taken to Hallett Hospital then to Rawat Pur Catology Hospital, where the Doctors gave up on the injured, post which he was taken to the S.G.P.G.I. Lucknow, where at the time of moving of the application he was still being treated. The applicant supposedly went to the house of the opposite party Nos.2 & 3 complaining as to why they had cut off the leg of his brother on which the opposite party Nos.2 & 3 allegedly abused him and threatened him that the applicant and his brother would both be killed. The information regarding this incident is said to have been given to the Superintendent of Police, District- Kanpur Dehat through post, however, when no action was taken, the application under Section 175(3) B.N.S.S. was moved.

4. The Learned counsel for the applicant states that his application under Section 175(3) B.N.S.S. has been treated as a complaint and notices have been issued to the opposite party Nos.2 & 3 in accordance with the provisions of Section 223 B.N.S.S. and the date has been fixed for recording of the statement of the applicant under Section 223 B.N.S.S. Learned counsel for the applicant states that the Learned Chief Judicial Magistrate, Kanpur Dehat has, in an arbitrary, manner treated the application as a complaint, while the matter required police investigation as the same would entail a spot inspection, recovery of the weapon of assault, the motorcycle used in the commission of offence and arrest of the accused and recovery of the material above-mentioned on their pointing out. This also requires custodial interrogation. The Learned counsel for the applicant further states that the Learned Chief Judicial Magistrate Kanpur Dehat has wrongly relied upon the decision of this Court in the case of Sukhwasi Vs. State of Uttar Pradesh reported in 2007 (59) ACC 739, which was with respect to Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. and wrongly treated the application of the applicant as a complaint. He contends that the same considerations are not applicable to orders passed under Section 175(3) B.N.S.S.

5. Rebutting the said submissions, Learned Counsel for the opposite party Nos.2 & 3 contends that the Learned Magistrate has passed a reasoned order, the entire material on record has been duly considered and the discretion exercised by the Learned Magistrate to treat the application as a complaint, is in accordance with the law laid down by this Court in the case of Sukhwasi (Supra), which has also been followed in various recent decisions. He relies upon the judgement of this Court in the case of Lalaram Vs. State of U.P. and Ors. reported in 2021 (1) ADJ 145, where this Court after considering the impact of various decisions of this Court as well as the Supreme Court has summarized the propositions of law governing exercise of registration of First Information Report under Section 154(3) Cr.P.C. and 156(3) Cr.P.C. including the powers of Learned Magistrate to direct for registration of a case and investigation or to treat the application as a complaint.

6. Learned Counsel for the opposite party Nos.2 & 3 further submits that the provisions of Section 175(3) B.N.S.S. are in pari materia to the provisions of Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. and the propositions of law governing the exercise of powers under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C, as summarized by this Court in the judgement of Lala Ram (Supra), are squarely applicable to this case. He submits that tested on the anvil of the law summarized by this Court in Lala Ram (Supra), the impugned order does not suffer from any legal or factual error, which may require interference by this Court in exercise of its extraordinary jurisdiction under Section 528 B.N.S.S.

7. The Learned Additional Government Advocate, Shri Shashi Dhar Pandey has also supported the impugned order and stated that specific reasons for treating the application as a complaint have been given and this Court may not substitute its own reasoning to that of the Learned Magistrate and satisfaction of the Learned Magistrate cannot be substituted in exercise of powers of judicial review/superintendence, as saved under Section 528 B.N.S.S. and the duty cast upon the High Court under Section 529 B.N.S.S.

8. I have heard the Learned Counsels for the parties and perused the material brought on the record.

9. To support the contentions made in the application under Section 175(3) B.N.S.S., the applicant appears to have filed certain medical reports, which have been annexed as Annexure No.3 to this application and also a letter dated 9.8.2024 addressed to the Superintendent of Police, District Kanpur Dehat to justify not invoking the powers of the Learned Magistrate for directing registration of a case and a police investigation. This Court is not considering the merits of the contentions raised in the application under section 175(3) B.N.S.S. The only legal issue that has been raised before this Court is whether the Chief Judicial Magistrate Kanpur Dehat in the present case, rightly passed an order treating the application under Section 175(3) B.N.S.S. as a complaint. A perusal of the impugned order would indicate that the Learned Magistrate has given a few reasons for treating the application as a complaint. The reasons mentioned in the impugned order are being reproduced here in below:-

"प्रा थर्ना पत्र के कथनो के पिरशीलन से िविदत है िक प्र ा थीर् को घटना के तथ्यों एवं पिरिस्थ ितयों की पूणर् जानकारी है। प्र ा थर्ना पत्र में ऐसाकोई कथन विणत नहीं िकया या है िजससे िक कोई ऐसा साक्ष्य संकिलत िकया जाना हो, जो िक िववेचना कराए जाने के उपरान् त हीसंकिलत िकया जा सकता हो। प्र ा थर्ना पत्र में कोई तकनीकी तथ्य िनिहत नहीं है। प्र ा थीर् अपना समस्त साध्य न् या यालय में प्रस् तु त करसकता है। उल्ले खनीय है िक माननीय इलाहाबाद उच्च न् या यालय द्व ा रा सुखवासी बनाम उ०प्र ०राज् य [2007 (6) ALJ 424 (DB)] केमामले में अवधाि रत िकया गया है िक धारा 156 (3) दं०प्र ०सं० के प्र ा थर्ना पत्र का िनस्ता रण करते समय न् या यालय को िववेक शिक्त प्राप् त है और मिजस्ट्रे ट प्रत् ये क प्र ा थर्ना पत्र पर प्र थम सूचना िरपोटर् दजर् कराने के िलए बाध्य नहीं ही है। "

10. The Learned Magistrate has relied upon the decisions of a Division Bench of this Court in the case of Sukhwasi (Supra). The judgement of Sukhwasi (Supra) was on a reference made to the larger Bench of this Court for deciding the following question:-

"Whether the Magistrate is bound to pass an order on each and every application under Section 156 (3) Cr.P.C. containing allegations of commission of a cognizable offence for registration of the F.I.R. and its investigation by the police even if those allegations, prima-facie, do not appear to be genuine and do not appeal to reason, or he can exercise judicial discretion in the matter and can pass order for treating it as 'complaint' or to reject it in suitable cases"?

11. This Court in the case of Sukhwasi (Supra) taking into account the various decisions of the Supreme Court and also an earlier Full Bench of this Court in the case of Ram Babu Gupta Vs. State of U.P. reported in (2001) ACC 201 held as under:-

"20. The Full bench decision of Ram Babu Gupta's case ' Supra' also lays down that the Magistrate can treat an application under Section 156 (3) Cr.P.C. as a complaint. This will appear from the following observations :-

" Coming to the second question noted above, it is to be at once stated that a provision empowering a Court to Act in a particular manner and a provision creating a right for an aggrieved person to approach a Court or authority, must be understood distinctively and should not be mixed up. While sections 154, 155 sub-section (1) and (2) of 156, Cr.P.C. confer right on an aggrieved person to reach the police, 156 (3) empowers a Magistrate to act in a particular manner in a given situation. Therefore, it is not possible to hold that where a bare application is moved before Court only praying for exercise of powers under Section 156 (3) Cr.P.C., it will remain an application only and would not be in the nature of a complaint. It has been noted above that the Magistrate has to always apply his mind on the allegations in the complaint where he may use his powers under Section 156 (3) Cr.P.C. In this connection, it may be immediately added that where in an application, a complainant states facts which constitute cognizable offence but makes a defective prayer, such an application will not cease to be a complaint nor can the Magistrate refuse to treat it as a complaint even though there be no prayer seeking trial of the known or unknown accused. The Magistrate has to deal with such facts as constitute cognizable offence and for all practical purposes even such an application would be a complaint. This court can do no better than refer to the following observations in Suresh Chand Jain (Supra):-

" The position is thus clear. Any judicial Magistrate, before taking cognizance of the offence, can order investigation under Section 156(3) of the Code .....could take further steps contemplated in Chapter XII of the Code only thereafter.

21. Hon'ble Mr. Justice Amar Saran in Criminal Misc Application No. 7484 of 2004 Mohan Shukla and others Vs. State of U.P., Hon'ble Mr. Justice Alok Singh in Criminal Misc Application No. 671 of 2007 Ram Sabad Vs. Sessions Jude, Bahraich and others have also held that the Magistrate is empowered under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. to treat an application as a 'Complaint'.

22. Applications under Section 156(3) Cr. P.C. are now coming in torrents. Provisions under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. should be used sparingly. They should not be used unless there is something unusual and extra ordinary like miscarriage of justice , which warrants a direction to the Police to register a case. Such applications should not be allowed because the law provides them with an alternative remedy of filing a complaint, therefore, recourse should not normally be permitted for availing the provisions of Section 156(3) Cr.P.C.

23. The reference is, therefore, answered in the manner that it is not incumbent upon a Magistrate to allow an application under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. and there is no such legal mandate. He may or may not allow the application in his discretion. The second leg of the reference is also answered in the manner that the Magistrate has a discretion to treat an application under Section 156 (3) Cr.P.C. as a complaint."

12. It is to be taken note of that provisions of Section 175(3) & 175(4) B.N.S.S. are not exactly the same as those under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. For the sake of convenience, the provisions of Section 175(3) & 175(4) B.N.S.S. and 156(3) Cr.P.C. are being reproduced hereinbelow:-

"Section 175(3) of Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita, 2023

(3)Any Magistrate empowered under section 210 may, after considering the application supported by an affidavit made under sub-section (4) of section 173, and after making such inquiry as he thinks necessary and submission made in this regard by the police officer, order such an investigation as above-mentioned.

Section 175(4) of Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita, 2023

Any Magistrate empowered under section 210, may, upon receiving a complaint against a public servant arising in course of the discharge of his official duties, order investigation, subject to-

(a) receiving a report containing facts and circumstances of the incident from the officer superior to him; and

(b) after consideration of the assertions made by the public servant as to the situation that led to the incident so alleged

Section 156 (3) of The Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973

156. Police officer's power to investigate cognizable case.

(1)...

(2)...

(3) Any Magistrate empowered under section 190 may order such an investigation as above mentioned."

13. A comparison of both the provisions referred to above, would indicate that provisions of Section 175(3) B.N.S.S. have expanded the scope of the exercise of powers by the Learned Magistrate and has given the Learned Magistrate the discretion of making such inquiry as he thinks necessary and also take into account the submissions made by the police officer, order for such an investigation. Section 175(4) of the B.N.S.S. introduces a new provision that did not exist under the Cr.P.C. It mandates that, where a complaint is made against a public servant in respect of acts purportedly arising out of or in the course of the discharge of official duties, the Learned Magistrate may order a police investigation only after obtaining a report from the superior authority of the public servant detailing the relevant facts and circumstances, and after affording the public servant an opportunity to present his assertions explaining the circumstances that led to the alleged incident. These changes that have been brought forth in the B.N.S.S. are, in the opinion of the Court, to provide the Learned Magistrates with a more robust mechanism in dealing with applications moved by people complaining apathy by the police in lodging First Information Report, but at the same time, giving ample discretion to the Magistrate to make such inquiry as they may deem fit while also giving an opportunity to the police to represent before the Learned Magistrate. Such power being granted by the statute is intended to curb false and frivolous applications, which may be made to harass an individual, especially a public servant, who is acting in discharge of his official duties. The statutory mandate of filing an affidavit in support of an application under section 175(3) B.N.S.S. also indicates the intent of the Legislature in providing the Learned Magistrate with the tools to punish a person making a false or frivolous claim before the Learned Magistrate.

14. The Supreme Court in the case of Priyanka Srivastava and Ors. Vs. State of U.P. and Ors. reported in 2015 (6) SCC 287, made it mandatory for all applications under section 156(3) Cr.P.C. to be supported by an affidavit sworn by the applicant, who sought the invocation of the jurisdiction of the Learned Magistrate. The Supreme Court while taking into account the misuse of the provision under section 156(3) Cr.P.C., observed that applications were being filed in a routine manner without taking any responsibility whatsoever, only to harass certain persons. The Supreme Court in Paragraph Nos.26 and 27 of the above-mentioned judgement has observed as under:-

"26. At this stage it is seemly to state that power under Section 156(3) warrants application of judicial mind. A court of law is involved. It is not the police taking steps at the stage of Section 154 of the code. A litigant at his own whim cannot invoke the authority of the Magistrate. A principled and really grieved citizen with clean hands must have free access to invoke the said power. It protects the citizens but when pervert litigations takes this route to harass their fellows citizens, efforts are to be made to scuttle and curb the same.

27. In our considered opinion, a stage has come in this country where Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. applications are to be supported by an affidavit duly sworn by the applicant who seeks the invocation of the jurisdiction of the Magistrate. That apart, in an appropriate case, the learned Magistrate would be well advised to verify the truth and also can verify the veracity of the allegations. This affidavit can make the applicant more responsible. We are compelled to say so as such kind of applications are being filed in a routine manner without taking any responsibility whatsoever only to harass certain persons. That apart, it becomes more disturbing and alarming when one tries to pick up people who are passing orders under a statutory provision which can be challenged under the framework of said Act or under Article 226 of the Constitution of India. But it cannot be done to take undue advantage in a criminal court as if somebody is determined to settle the scores. We have already indicated that there has to be prior applications under Section 154(1) and 154(3) while filing a petition under Section 156(3). Both the aspects should be clearly spelt out in the application and necessary documents to that effect shall be filed. The warrant for giving a direction that an the application under Section 156(3) be supported by an affidavit so that the person making the application should be conscious and also endeavour to see that no false affidavit is made. It is because once an affidavit is found to be false, he will be liable for prosecution in accordance with law. This will deter him to casually invoke the authority of the Magistrate under Section 156(3). That apart, we have already stated that the veracity of the same can also be verified by the learned Magistrate, regard being had to the nature of allegations of the case. We are compelled to say so as a number of cases pertaining to fiscal sphere, matrimonial dispute/family disputes, commercial offences, medical negligence cases, corruption cases and the cases where there is abnormal delay/laches in initiating criminal prosecution, as are illustrated in Lalita Kumari are being filed. That apart, the learned Magistrate would also be aware of the delay in lodging of the FIR."

15. The requirement of filing an affidavit in support of an application under Section 175(3) B.N.S.S., which has now been mandated by the statute, appears to be in consonance with the observations of the Supreme Court regarding misuse of the provisions under section 156(3) Cr.P.C. by unscrupulous litigants. These changes, however, have been incorporated in the B.N.S.S. only to regulate the procedure in applications, where an aggrieved person approaches a Magistrate seeking a direction for investigation or registration of a case. The principles, however, governing the exercise of powers by a Magistrate when it comes to deciding whether to order for an investigation or treating that application as a complaint, are still the same as those under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. This Court as well as the Supreme Court have in various decisions guided the Learned Magistrates in exercising judicial discretion in such matters and have made all attempts to prevent arbitrary exercise of powers by the Magistrates.

16. Quite recently this Court in Lala Ram (Supra) framed four questions, the first three going directly to the heart of the Magistrate's exercise of jurisdiction under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. The questions framed by this Court are being reproduced hereinunder:-

"i) Whether in each and every case, where an application under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. is made to the Magistrate disclosing commission of a cognizable offence, the Magistrate is legally bound to direct registration of the FIR and investigation by police or the Magistrate has also the power and jurisdiction to pass order for registration of the application as a complaint case.?

ii) On what considerations the Magistrate should take decision for investigation by police or to proceed with as a complaint case?

iii) What is the nature of an investigation by the police in pursuance of the direction of the Magistrate issued under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. and the investigation by the police in pursuance of the direction of the Magistrate issued under Section 202(1) Cr.P.C. ?

iv) Whether the order passed by the Magistrate in the present case deserves to be maintained or not?"

17. After considering the entire gamut of the law laid down in various decisions of the Supreme Court and this Court, this Court in Lala Ram (Supra) summarized the propositions of law, as follows:-

"(40.06). In either case, i.e. issuing direction for investigation by the police officer under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. or taking cognizance and registering it as a complaint case, the Magistrate has to apply judicial mind. There cannot be mechanical exercise of jurisdiction or exercise in a routine manner. Mere statement in the order that he has gone through the complaint, documents and heard the complainant will not be sufficient. What weighed with the Magistrate to order investigation or to take cognizance should be reflected in the order, although a detailed expression of his view is neither required nor warranted.

(40.07). The exercise of discretion by the Magistrate is basically guided by interest of justice, from case to case.

(40.08). However, where some investigation is required which is of a nature that is not possible for the private complainant and which can only be done by the police officer upon whom statute has conferred the powers essential for investigation, the option to direct the registration of the FIR and its investigation by the police officer should be exercised, for example:-

(i) where the full details of the accused are not known to the complainant and the same can be determined only as a result of investigation, or

(ii) where recovery of abducted person or stolen property is required to be made by conducting raids or searches of suspected places or persons, or

(iii) where for the purpose of launching a successful prosecution of the accused evidence is required to be collected and preserved, and to illustrate this, by few example cases may be visualised where for production before Court at the trial

(a) sample of blood soaked soil is to be taken and kept sealed for fixing the place of incident; or

(b) recovery of case property is to be made and kept sealed; or

(c) recovery under Section 27 of the Evidence Act; or

(d) preparation of inquest report; or

(e) witnesses are not known and have to be found out or discovered through the process of investigation.

(40.09). Where the complainant is in possession of the complete details of all the accused and the witnesses who have to be examined and neither recovery is needed nor any such material evidence is required to be collected which can be done only by the police, no "investigation" would normally be required and the procedure of complaint case should be adopted.

(40.10). Category of cases falling under para 120.6 in Lalita Kumari (Supra) i.e.

(a) Matrimonial disputes/family disputes

(b) Commercial offences

(c) Medical negligence cases,

(d) Corruption cases

(e) Cases where there is abnormal delay in filling criminal complaint etc. may fall under Section 202 Cr.P.C .

(40.11). The Magistrate should also keep in view that primarily, it is the duty of the State/police to investigate the cases involving cognizable offence. Generally, the burden of proof to bring the guilt of the accused is on the State and this burden is a heavy burden to prove the guilt beyond all reasonable doubts. This burden should not unreasonably be shifted on an individual/complainant from the State by treating the application under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. as a complaint case.

(40.12). The investigation which the police officer or such other person makes in pursuance of the direction of the Magistrate under Section 202(1) Cr.P.C. is the same kind of investigation as is required to be conducted by police officer, under Chapter XII Cr.P.C. which ends with submission of the report as per Section 173(2) Cr.P.C.

(40.13). The distinction between the investigation by the police officer under Section 156(3) and under Section 202(1) Cr.P.C. is that the former is at the pre-cognizance stage and the latter is at post cognizance stage, when the Magistrate is seisin of the case. The investigation under Section 202(1) Cr.P.C. is for the purpose of ascertaining the truth or false hood of the complaint for helping the Magistrate to decide, whether or not there is sufficient ground, for him to proceed further against the accused by issuing process, whereas, the inquiry report under Section 173(2) Cr.P.C. of the investigation made by the police of its own or under the directions of the Magistrate under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. is for the purpose of enabling the Magistrate to take cognizance of an offence under Section 190(1)(a) Cr.P.C.

(40.14). Once cognizance is taken on the application under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. by the Magistrate and he embarks upon the procedure embodied in Chapter XV, he would not be competent to revert to the pre-cognizance stage under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C.

(40.15). If the Magistrate did not order for police investigation under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. and took cognizance of the case, that would not be bar to the exercise of the power of the Magistrate for directing the police investigation under Section 202(1) Cr.P.C.

41. Point nos. 1, 2 and 3 as framed in para 12 of this judgment stands answered as per para no.40 above."

18. In the opinion of this Court, the consideration by the Learned Magistrate of factors weighing upon his decision to either treat the application moved before him seeking registration of a case and an investigation to be treated as a complaint or to direct registration of a First Information Report, are still the same when it comes to exercise of powers under Section 175(3) B.N.S.S. Thus, the propositions of law summarized in the case of Lala Ram (Supra), as quoted above, still apply to proceedings under Section 175(3) B.N.S.S. The considerations of the Learned Magistrate extracted above on the facts and circumstances of the case, in the opinion of this Court, are in consonance with Paragraph Nos.40.06 and 40.07 of the case of Lala Ram (Supra) extracted above. The Learned Magistrate has given his reasons why a police investigation is not required. He has recorded his satisfaction that nothing has been mentioned in the application, which would require the collection of such evidence which can only be done by a police investigation. One more factor that weighs with this Court while considering the impugned order passed by the Chief Judicial Magistrate, District Kanpur Dehat, is that the alleged attack on the brother of the applicant is stated to have occurred on 19.07.2024. After the lapse of more than one and a half years from the date of the incident, no physical evidence would reasonably remain at an open place, and therefore, recovery of blood-stained soil at this stage would not be possible.

19. These considerations are without prejudice to the claims of the applicant in the application under Section 175(3) B.N.S.S. The Learned Magistrate has rightly treated the application under Section 175(3) B.N.S.S, as a complaint by applying the same principles, as were applicable to the exercise of powers under section 156(3) Cr.P.C.

20. As a result of the discussions made above, I find no legal or factual infirmity or jurisdictional error or any perversity in the order passed by the Learned Magistrate and as a result of the same, this application fails and is dismissed.

21. There shall be no order as to costs.

(2026) 2 ILRA 845
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 17.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE AVNISH SAXENA, J.

Application U/S 528 BNSS. No. 32942 of 2025

Shyam Bahadur Yadav ...Applicant
Versus
State of U.P. & Anr. ...Opposite Parties

ISSUE FOR CONSIDERATION

Whether a long-term sexual relationship between two educated adults, entered into on the basis of a promise of marriage that was later withdrawn, amount to 'rape under a misconception of fact,' or should it be treated as a consensual relationship where initiating criminal proceedings would constitute an abuse of process under Section 528 BNSS?

HEADNOTES

Criminal Law – Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita, 2023 - Sections 180, 183, 528 - Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 – Section 482 - Indian Penal Code - Sections 90, 313, 375, 376(2)(n), 420, 504, 506. - Indian Evidence Act - Section 114-A : - Application under Section 528 BNSS – against charge sheet and summoning order as well as the entire criminal proceedings - FIR – allegation of sexual intercourse on false promise of marriage and cheating – investigation - charge sheet – summoning order – trial – Applicant pleaded that the relationship was consensual for six years between educated adults and that the victim suppressed her status as a divorcee – opposite party no. 2 (victim) argued the consent was obtained via deceitful misconception of fact under Section 90 IPC – Court finds that (i) victim's claim of two pregnancies in 2020 contradicts her statement that the first sexual encounter occurred in October 2020 – (ii) victim's divorce is not mentioned ever in the FIR or in her statement, - (iii) relation between them started from 2019 on the promise of marriage, which continued till 2025, - (iv) both are educated, in a job and had frequent sexual intercourse and she continued to meet the applicant in jail even after the FIR via RTI evidence – point of consideration is about the consent or not consent – held that, a long-term physical relationship between two able-minded adults if maintain, then a subsequently broken of promise of marriage would not attract any offense – hence, continuation of proceedings will tantamount to miscarriage of justice – consequently, Application is allowed and entire proceedings are quashed. (Para – 10, 17, 18, 19)
Application Allowed. (E-11)

CASE LAW CITED

Pramod Kumar Navratna vs. State of Chhattisgarh (2026 INSC 124)
Prashant vs. State NCT of Delhi (2024 INSC 879)
Anurag Soni vs. State of Chhattisgarh (2019 LawSuit SC 1053)
Pramod Suryabhan Pawar vs. State of Maharashtra (2019 LawSuit SC 1504)

State of Haryana vs. Bhajan Lal (1992 Supp(1) SCC 335)
Ravi Pal vs. State of UP (2025 LawSuit All 1063)

LIST OF ACTS

Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita (BNSS) - Indian Penal Code (IPC) - Indian Evidence Act - Right to Information Act, 2005 - Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973.

LIST OF KEYWORDS

FIR – Rape – Cheating – chargesheet – summoning order – criminal proceedings - Misconception of Fact - False Promise of Marriage - Consensual relationship – Quashing – Deceit - Long-term Relationship – victim – inherent jurisdiction – consent or not consent – presumption – miscarriage of justice – non-fulfilment of promise – allowed.

CASE ARISING FROM

Case Crime No: 53 of 2025 - Police Station: Kotwali, District Basti - Criminal Case No: 2944 of 2025 (State of U.P. vs. Shyam Bahadur Yadav)

APPEARANCE OF PARTIES

Counsel for Appellant(s): Shri G.S. Chaturvedi (Senior Advocate), Sri Aditya Gupta.
Counsel for Respondent(s): Shri Prakash Veer Tripathi, Sri Munna Tiwari, Chandra Badan A.G.A.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Avnish Saxena, J.)

1. Heard Sri G.S. Chaturvedi, learned Senior Advocate assisted by Sri Aditya Gupta, learned counsel for the applicant, Sri Prakash Veer Tripathi, learned counsel for opposite party No.2 and Sri Chandra Badan, learned AGA for the State.

2. The present application under Section 528 BNSS is moved by the accused applicant with the prayer to quash the charge sheet dated 9.4.2023, summoning order dated 18.8.2025 and the proceedings of Criminal Case No. 2944 of 2025(State of U.P. vs. Shyam Bahadur Yadav), arose out of Case Crime No.53 of 2025 for offence under Section 376(2)(n) and 420 IPC, Police Station Kotwali, District Basti.

3. For the sake of brevity, the accused-applicant is referred as 'applicant' and opposite party no.2 is referred as 'victim' in this judgment.

4. The victim has lodged the FIR on 12.2.2025 at Police Station Kotwali district Basti at 17:10 hour for offence under section 420, 376, 504, 506 and 313 of IPC against the applicant and his brother, mother, father, and sisters, whose names have not been disclosed in the FIR. The allegation in the FIR is such that the victim was serving on contract basis as Data Executive from 2019 at District Hospital, where the victim came in contact with the applicant for the first time. The applicant has proposed the victim for marriage, on which the victim has replied that she will ask from parents. On his assurance, the applicant started visiting the house of the victim. The parents of victim were ready for marriage but the applicant has postponed the marriage after getting a job and submits that he will certainly marry. On 5.10.2020, the applicant was celebrating his birthday and pressurized the victim to come to his room. At about 7 PM, the victim reached there and the applicant has entered into sexual intercourse on the promise that he will marry. The applicant has also taken certain indecent photographs of the victim. The victim has intimated the incident to her parents and the applicant has admitted his fault but assured that he will certainly marry the victim, due to which the victim has not submitted any police report. Thereafter, the victim was consistently subjected to rape on false promise of marriage. In the year 2020, the victim became pregnant twice. The victim was given the pills for abortion. She has also sought advice of a gynecologist and undertook abortion. The applicant then gave assurance that within 4 to 6 months, he will marry, but later on, he kept on extending time. Then, in the month of May 2023, the applicant got service as a junior clerk at Ambedkar Nagar Medical College. But thereafter, his behavior got changed and his parents were trying to get him married somewhere else. On 9.2.2025, at about 5 p.m., the victim with her brother, sister, and brother-in-law went to the house of applicant to meet his parents, on which the sister of applicant has put a lock from outside the house and got away at the park outside their house with lathi-danda in their hands. The family members of the victim were roughed up by the family members of the applicant. The information of this act was given at 112 dial. Later on, parties have entered into a compromise owing to the pressure built up by the applicant and also offered money. But when nothing has happened, the FIR is lodged.

5. In the statement under section 180 BNSS, the victim has stated that she is 30 years of age. The rest of the allegations are the same as she has levelled against the applicant in the FIR. In the statement of 183 BNSS, the victim has stated that she is BMM(Block Mission Manager) and knew the applicant since 2016. But she has stated talking to him in the year 2018. She got a job at district hospital as data executive in the year 2019. She got the call of applicant that he wanted to meet the victim and he came to the hospital to meet her. The applicant often comes to the hospital as his father was not well. The applicant and victim started meeting and applicant has given victim the proposal to marry her. Rest of the statements given by the victim are the same as disclosed in the FIR. She has further submitted that she has met Dr. Pramila Singh for the purpose of abortion. She has also disclosed that her mother got apprehensive and asked the victim to lodge a police case. For five years, the applicant has continuously raped the victim on false promise of marriage. She further submits that the applicant has kept on extending dates for entering into marriage with the victim on one pretext or the other, but lastly, has refused to marry.

6. Learned Senior Counsel has submitted that the victim has leveled allegations of false promise of marriage against the applicant, whom she knew since the year 2016 and the friendship between them was started in the year 2019. He submits that there was a proposal of marriage given by the applicant to her, which was a true proposal, as it was not false for the purpose of deceiving. On contrary, the victim herself has deceived the applicant by not disclosing her previous marriage and divorce to the applicant. Learned counsel has drawn attention of this court towards the judgment of the Family Court dated 9.7.2019 passed in Petition No. 599 of 2018, Smt Rema vs. Ghanshyam, which was allowed by the Family Court, as the petition was for divorce by mutual consent between the victim and her husband with whom she has married on 29.6.2017. Learned counsel further submits that the bare perusal of the FIR and the statement of the victim on the face of it shows that it is the consensual relation between the two educated adults which continued from the year 2019 and subsists up to 2025. Between these years, the victim was continuously subjected to sexual intercourse on false promise of marriage. It is also revealed that twice the victim became pregnant and aborted.

7. Learned counsel has relied on a case of Pramod Kumar Navratna versus State of Chhattisgarh & others reported in 2026 INSC 124 and the case of Prashant versus State NCT of Delhi reported in 2024 INSC 879. Learned senior counsel has also drawn attention of the court towards the information received under Right to Information from the office of Senior Superintendent, District Jail, Basti, dated 13.05.2025 annexed at page 300 with the application to show that the victim came to the District Jail, Basti on 03.03.2025 to meet the applicant. Learned counsel further submits that this information is entered in paragraph 66 and 67 of the application, which is not being replied by the victim in the counter affidavit. The purpose of receiving information under Right to Information is that relation between the applicant and the victim was consensual. Learned counsel has also drawn the attention of this court towards the money transaction between the applicant and victim.Hence, seeks interference to quash charge sheet, summoning order and the proceedings of the case started against the applicant.

8. Learned AGA and learned counsel for opposite party No. 2/victim, have stated that the intention of the applicant not to marry the victim was from the very start of their relationship, is reflected from the conduct of the applicant. Learned counsel submits that the applicant has given promise to marry the victim and proposal was initiated from the side of applicant. There was no occasion to the victim to disclose that she is a divorcee, as it was the proposal given by the applicant for marriage. Further submit that for more than five years, the victim was subjected to sexual intercourse on false promise of marriage given by the applicant. There is ample evidence on record to show that the victim is subjected to rape and the consent of the victim for sexual intercourse was obtained by the applicant by deceitful means. Referred the provision of section 90 of Indian Penal Code that consent of the victim was due to misconception of fact. Learned counsel for victim has relied on the case of Anurag Soni versus State of Chhattisgarh reported in 2019 LawSuit(SC) 1053 on the point that Hon'ble Supreme Court has clearly found evidence adduced before the trial court to convict the accused for offence of rape on false promise of marriage. He relied on paragraph 9 and 14 of the judgment and relied on the case of Pramod Suryabhan Pawar versus State of Maharashtra, reported in 2019 LawSuit(SC) 1504, wherein Hon'ble Supreme Court has clearly explained the Misconception of fact and the deceit played by a person for seeking consent. He has also relied on the judgment of Ravi Pal versus State of UP & another reported in 2025 LawSuit(All) 1063 decided by this court on 4.11.2025 considering the principles of law laid down in the case of Pramod Suryabhan Pawar(supra). Learned counsel submits that the application is devoid of merits and is liable to be dismissed.

9. The court has taken into consideration the rival submission made by the learned counsel and perused the record.

10. The fact which culled out from the material on record, particularly from the FIR, statement of victim, and other facts are reiterated below:-

(i) The victim has stated to know the applicant since 2016 though in the FIR, she knew him since 2019;

(ii) The victim was doing the job at District Hospital in the year 2019 when she received the call of applicant to meet, on which the applicant came to meet her in hospital;

(iii) The applicant has proposed the victim for marriage in the year 2019 and there were talks of marriage between the families and the victim's family was ready for the marriage;

iv) The applicant took time for marriage as he was in search of a job;

v) In the year 2020 the victim became pregnant twice. A date 5.10.2020 is reflected in the FIR as well as in the statement of victim, which shows that on that date the victim was subjected to sexual intercourse on false promise of marriage, for the first time. If this would be the date of sexual intercourse for the first time then how it could be stated that the victim was pregnant twice in the year 2020;

vi) From the year 2020 to year 2025, prior to lodging of FIR victim was continuously subject to sexual intercourse on false promise of marriage;

vii) It is the allegation that after getting a job in the year 2023, the behaviour of the accused has changed and he has refused to marry the victim.

11. The point of concern in the present case is whether the continuance of proceedings would tantamount to abuse of process of law or there is substantive material against the accused on the basis of which the trial would continue.

12. The facts culled out from the material on record is already discussed herein above. Now, the principles enunciated through judgments of Hon'ble the Supreme Court relied on by the parties are to be discussed.

13. In the case of Pramod Kumar Navratna(supra) relied on by learned Counsel for the applicant, two relevant paragraphs, which deals with the sexual intercourse on false promise of marriage are taken into consideration are reiterated underneath:-

"24. On a perusal of the allegations made in the present case, it is an admitted fact that the complainant-respondent No.3, within the first initial meetings told the accused-appellant that she was a married woman with divorce proceedings pending before the Family Court. Therefore, in the same breath, she cannot be allowed to claim and allege that she was also coaxed by the accused-appellant into having a physical relationship with him on the false pretext of marriage as the two facts cannot stand together on the same plane and simultaneously as both are antagonistic and antithetical to each other. In our opinion, the facts of the present case clearly indicate a consensual relationship gone sour whereas both the parties should have exercised restraint and should have refrained from involving the State into their personal relationship turning rancour. 25 At this juncture, it is important to place reliance upon the observations in Prashant vs. State of NCT of Delhi, (2025) 5 SCC 764, wherein this Court speaking through one of us (Nagarathna, J.) observed that a mere break-up of a relationship between a consenting couple cannot result in the initiation of criminal proceedings. What was a consensual relationship between the parties at the initial stages cannot be given a colour of criminality when the said relationship does not fructify into a marriage. Furthermore, this Court in Samadhan Vs. State of Maharashtra, 2025 SCC OnLine SC 2528 through one of us (Nagarathna, J.) observed that this Court has, on numerous occasions, taken note of the disquieting tendency wherein failed or broken relationships are given the colour of criminality. The offence of rape, being of the gravest kind, must be invoked only in cases where there exists genuine sexual violence, coercion, or absence of free consent. To convert every soured relationship into an offence of rape not only trivialises the seriousness of the offence but also inflicts upon the accused indelible stigma and grave injustice. Such instances transcend the realm of mere personal discord. The misuse of the criminal justice machinery in this regard is a matter of profound concern for the judiciary already facing a heavy load and calls for condemnation."

14. Learned Counsel for the applicant also relied on a case, Prashant(supra), this case is reported in the previous case in paragraph 25 on the point that mere breakup of relationship between the consenting couple cannot result in initiation of criminal proceedings.

15. Learned Counsel for opposite party No. 2 has relied on a case of Anurag Soni(supra), particularly in paragraph 9 and 14, wherein Hon'ble Supreme Court has dealt with evidences on record adduced during trial and it is on the basis of evidences that Hon'ble Supreme Court has found that trial court as well as High Court were rightly maintaining conviction of the applicant/appellant for the offence of rape on false promise of marriage considering consent obtained by the accused is deceptive from the very beginning, the relevant paragraphs are quoted herein below:-

"[9] In the present case, the accused has been convicted for the offence under Section 376 of the IPC. It is the case on behalf of the appellant-accused that as it is a case of a consensual sex, the Courts below have committed an error in convicting the accused for the offence under Section 376 of the IPC. Both the Courts below have accepted the case of the prosecution that the consent of the prosecutrix was given on the basis of misconception of fact and, therefore, considering Section 90 of the IPC, such a consent cannot be said to be a consent and, therefore, the accused has committed the rape as defined under Section 375 of the IPC and thereby has committed an offence under Section 376 of the IPC. Therefore, the question which has been posed before this Court is, whether in the facts and circumstances of the case and considering the evidence on record, the Courts below have committed any error in holding the accused guilty for the offence under Section 376 of the IPC?

xxxx

[14] Considering the aforesaid facts and circumstances of the case and the evidence on record, the prosecution has been successful in proving the case that from the very beginning the accused never intended to marry the prosecutrix; he gave false promises/promise to the prosecutrix to marry her and on such false promise he had a physical relation with the prosecutrix; the prosecutrix initially resisted, however, gave the consent relying upon the false promise of the accused that he will marry her and, therefore, her consent can be said to be a consent on misconception of fact as per Section 90 of the IPC and such a consent shall not excuse the accused from the charge of rape and offence under Section 375 of the IPC. Though, in Section 313 statement, the accused came up with a case that the prosecutrix and his family members were in knowledge that his marriage was already fixed with Priyanka Soni, even then, the prosecutrix and her family members continued to pressurise the accused to marry the prosecutrix, it is required to be noted that first of all the same is not proved by the accused. Even otherwise, considering the circumstances and evidence on record, referred to hereinabove, such a story is not believable. The prosecutrix, in the present case, was an educated girl studying in B. Pharmacy. Therefore, it is not believable that despite having knowledge that that appellant's marriage is fixed with another lady - Priyanka Soni, she and her family members would continue to pressurise the accused to marry and the prosecutrix will give the consent for physical relation. In the deposition, the prosecutrix specifically stated that initially she did not give her consent for physical relationship, however, on the appellant's promise that he would marry her and relying upon such promise, she consented for physical relationship with the appellant accused. Even considering Section 114-A of the Indian Evidence Act, which has been inserted subsequently, there is a presumption and the court shall presume that she gave the consent for the physical relationship with the accused relying upon the promise by the accused that he will marry her. As observed hereinabove, from the very inception, the promise given by the accused to marry the prosecutrix was a false promise and from the very beginning there was no intention of the accused to marry the prosecutrix as his marriage with Priyanka Soni was already fixed long back and, despite the same, he continued to give promise/false promise and alluded the prosecutrix to give her consent for the physical relationship. Therefore, considering the aforesaid facts and circumstances of the case and considering the law laid down by this Court in the aforesaid decisions, we are of the opinion that both the Courts below have rightly held that the consent given by the prosecutrix was on misconception of fact and, therefore, the same cannot be said to be a consent so as to excuse the accused for the charge of rape as defined under Section 375 of the IPC. Both the Courts below have rightly convicted the accused for the offence under Section 376 of the IPC."

16. Learned Counsel for opposite party No.2 has relied upon the case of Pramod Suryabhan Pawar(supra), which is earlier relied on by this court in Paragraph 11 of its judgment passed in Ravi Pal(supra), wherein paragraph 18 of judgment in Pramod Suryabhan is reiterated. The same is reiterated hereunder:-

"[18] To summarise the legal position that emerges from the above cases, the "consent" of a woman with respect to Section 375 must involve an active and reasoned deliberation towards the proposed act. To establish whether the "consent" was vitiated by a "misconception of fact" arising out of a promise to marry, two propositions must be established. The promise of marriage must have been a false promise, given in bad faith and with no intention of being adhered to at the time it was given. The false promise itself must be of immediate relevance, or bear a direct nexus to the woman's decision to engage in the sexual act."

17. It is a settled principles of law that the facts of every case is different and therefore applying precedents requires careful judicial analysis. Moreover, while invoking the inherent jurisdiction for quashing a criminal case, the test is, the facts of the case, if taken to be true could end in conviction. The scope of ambit of the powers of the High Court invoking under Section 482 CrPC or 528 BNSS are very wide, but should be exercised with circumspection and in rarest of rare and appropriate cases. This power do not confer arbitrary jurisdiction to act according to whims and caprice and is used to prevent the abuse of process of law and for procuring the ends of justice. This preposition of law is enunciated in the cases of Kurukshetra University Vs. State of Haryana (1977) 4 SCC 451 and the State of Haryana Vs. Bhajan Lal, reported in 1992 Supp(1) SCC 335.

In the case of Som Mittal Vs. Government of Karnataka, reported in (2008) 3 SCC 574, Hon'ble the Supreme Court has given an expression of 'rarest of rare case', while describing the scope of Section 482 CrPC. This view is consistently maintained by Hon'ble the Supreme Court till the present day, which is settled by 'en' number of judgments, latest are Naresh Potteries Vs. Aarti Industries, reported in 2025 SCC OnLine SC 18 and Punit Beriwala Vs. State (NCT) of Delhi, reported in 2025 SCC OnLine SC 983.

18. In the present case, it is a fact situation that the victim was a divorced lady. The victim's divorce is not mentioned ever in the FIR or in the statement of the victim, though it is an admitted fact. It is also a fact that the relation between the applicant and the victim started from the year 2019 on the promise of marriage, which continued for a long period upto the year 2025. It is also an admitted fact that the applicant and victim are educated, in a job and had frequent sexual intercourse. Now, the point of concern is only about the consent or not consent. The Hon'ble Supreme Court, in catena of judgments, has observed that two able minded adults, if maintain a long term physical relationship, then a presumption would be drawn that they have voluntarily chosen their consensual relations and subsequent non-fulfillment of promise of marriage would not attract any offense. This analogy has been drawn from the case of Ravish Singh Rana v. State of Uttarakhand, reported in 2025 SCC OnLine SC 1055 (Paragraph 14,15) and in the cited case of Prashant (supra) in paragraph 20.

19. In view of the discussions made herein above, this Court is of the view that continuance of proceedings will tantamount to miscarriage of justice. The perusal of material available on record does not justify continuance of trial.

20. The application under section 528 BNSS is allowed.

21. Consequently, the proceeding of Criminal Case No. 2944 of 2025(State of U.P. vs. Shyam Bahadur Yadav), arose out of Case Crime No.53 of 2025 for offence under Section 376(2)(n) and 420 IPC, Police Station Kotwali, District Basti including charge sheet dated 9.4.2023, summoning order dated 18.8.2025 are quashed.

(2026) 2 ILRA 852
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 17.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE TEJ PRATAP TIWARI, J.

Application U/S 528 BNSS. No. 33773 of 2025

Mahendra Singh & Ors. ...Applicants
Versus
State of U.P. & Anr. ...Opposite Parties

ISSUE FOR CONSIDERATION

Whether the cases in which the parties have settled their grievances can be quashed?

HEADNOTES

Criminal Law – Bhartiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita, 2023 - Sections – 528, - Indian Penal Code, 1860 - Section 498-A, 323, 504, 506, - The Dowry Prohibition Act, 1961 - Sections 3, 4:- Application under Section 528 BNSS – for quashing of charge sheet, cognizance order, and the entire criminal proceedings arising out of a matrimonial dispute – FIR - charge sheet - cognizance order – plea taken that parties have amicably settled the dispute - Court observe that the law regarding quashing of criminal proceedings on the basis of settlement between parties is well settled - In light of the principles laid down by the Hon'ble Supreme Court, this case is a fit one for exercising the inherent powers of this Court to quash the proceedings, charge sheet, and cognizance order – held, the application is allowed - criminal proceedings, charge sheet, and cognizance order are quashed. (Para – 4, 5)
Application Allowed.(E-11)

CASE LAW CITED

B.S. Joshi and others Vs. State of Haryana and another - (2003)4 SCC 675, Nikhil Merchant Vs. Central Bureau of Investigation - (2008) 9 SCC 677, Manoj Sharma Vs. State and others: (2008) 16 SCC 1,
Gian Singh Vs. State of Punjab - (2012) 10 SCC 303,
Shaifullah and others Vs. State of U.P. And another - 2013 (83) ACC 278,
Parbatbhai Ahir@Parbatbhai @ Bhimsinbhai Karmur & others Vs. State of Gujarat & another - (2017) 9 SCC 641

LIST OF ACTS

Bhartiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita, 2023 - Indian Penal Code, 1860 - The Dowry Prohibition Act, 1961.

LIST OF KEYWORDS

Application under section 528 – settlement – law laid down – chargesheet – cognizance order – entire criminal proceedings – well settled – good case for exercising powers – quashed – allowed.

CASE ARISING FROM

Chargesheet dated 20.10.2019 and Cognizance Order dated 12.10.2020 passed in Criminal Case No. 1137/2020 (State Vs. Mahendra Singh and others) arising out of Case Crime No. 0091 of 2019 under section 498-A, 323, 504, 506 IPC, and 3 / 4 DP Act, Police Station Tehrauli, District Jhansi.

APPEARANCE OF PARTIES

Counsel for Appellant(s): Shri Dileep Kumar Shuukla, Shiv Kumar Singh.
Counsel for Respondent(s): G.A.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Tej Pratap Tiwari, J.)

1. Heard learned counsel for the applicants, learned counsel for the opposite party no.

2, learned A.G.A for the State and perused the records.2. The present application under Section 528 BNSS has been filed to quash the entire proceedings of Case No. 1137 of 2020 (State Vs. Mahendra Singh and others), arising out of Case Crime No. 0091 of 2019, under Sections 498A, 323, 504, 506 of I.P.C. and 3/4 DP Act, Police Station Tehrauli, District Jhansi, charge sheet dated 20.10.2019 as well as cognizance order dated 12.10.2020 passed in the aforesaid case, pending in the court of Judicial Magistrate, Garautha, Jhansi.

3. Learned counsel for the applicants states that an order was passed by a co-ordinate Bench of this Court on 04.09.2025 directing the applicants to file the said compromise deed before the court concerned which was to be verified by the court concerned. In pursuance of the said order, the court concerned on 17.09.2025 verified the said compromise. Copy of the same is on record. The same is not disputed by learned counsel for the opposite party no.2.

4. The law with regards to quashing of a case on the basis of settlement arrived between the parties, is well settled. The Apex Court in the cases of (1) B.S. Joshi and others Vs. State of Haryana and another: (2003)4 SCC 675; (2) Nikhil Merchant Vs. Central Bureau of Investigation : (2008) 9 SCC 677; (3) Manoj Sharma Vs. State and others: (2008) 16 SCC 1; (4) Gian Singh Vs. State of Punjab: (2012) 10 SCC 303; (5) Shaifullah and others Vs. State of U.P. And another: 2013 (83) ACC 278 and (6) Parbatbhai Ahir@Parbatbhai @ Bhimsinbhai Karmur and others Vs. State of Gujarat and another: (2017) 9 SCC 641 has held that the cases in which the parties have settled their grievances can be quashed.

5. From perusal of the records and the law laid down by the Apex Court on the subject matter, the present case is a good case for exercising powers by this Court to quash the proceedings, charge sheet as well as cognizance order as prayed for by the applicant(s).

6. The present application is allowed.

7. The entire proceedings, charge sheet as well as cognizance order of the aforesaid case are hereby quashed.

(2026) 2 ILRA 854
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 05.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE VIVEK KUMAR SINGH, J.

Application U/S 528 BNSS No. 43062 of 2025

Smt. Jyoti Suri ...Applicant
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ...Opposite Parties

ISSUE FOR CONSIDERATION

Whether proceedings under the U.P. Gangster and Anti-Social Activities (Prevention) Act, 1986 and the gang chart prepared against the applicant were valid, particularly when based on a solitary case and alleged violations of the Gangster Rules, 2021?

HEADNOTES

Criminal Law – Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita, 2023 – Section - 528, - U.P. Gangster and Anti-Social Activities (Prevention) Act, 1986 - Sections 2, 2(b) (i) to (xxv), 3 - Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 - Sections 482 – Bhartiya Nyaya Sanhita, 2023 – Section 126(2), 352, 351(2), 308(6) - U.P. Gangster and Anti-Social Activities (Prevention) Gangster Rules, 2021 – Rule - 5(3)9a), 5(3)(c), 6, 8, 8(2), 8(3), 10, 10(1), 16, 17, 17(2), 22, 60 - Indian Evidence Act, 1872 – Section – 76 : - Application under Section 528 BNSS – filed by applicant against proceedings under the U.P. Gangster Act – seeking quashing of chargesheet, cognizance order and the entire criminal proceedings of Special Sessions Trial - FIR registered under Gangster Act based on Case Crime No.406 of 2024 – investigation completed - chargesheet filed - gang chart prepared – applicant pleaded that Gangster Act cannot be invoked on solitary case, and Rules 2021 were violated i.e. no joint meeting, no certified copy, false information – State argued compliance with Rules, joint meeting held, chargesheet attached, no false information, and Gangster Act permissible even on single case – Court finds - satisfaction recorded in handwriting, chargesheet date mentioned, Rule 10 does not require certified copy from court, Rule 22 and Supreme Court precedent (Shraddha Gupta) allow invocation on solitary case – no violation of Rules 2021, precedents cited by applicant distinguishable – held, Gangster Act can be invoked even on basis of one case and therefore application is devoid of merit and is accordingly dismissed. (Para –21, 25, 26, 27, 29)

Application Dismissed. (E-11)

CASE LAW CITED

Mohd. Arif @ Guddu v. State of U.P.
Sanni Mishra @ Sanjayan Kumar Mishra v. State of U.P.
Vinod Bihari Lal v. State of U.P.
Asim @ Hasim v. State of U.P.
Master @ Ramzan v. State of U.P.
Prabhat Patel v. State of U.P.
Gulam Mustafa v. State of Karnataka
Shraddha Gupta v. State of U.P. (2022 SCC OnLine SC 514)
Ambuj Parag Dubey v. State of U.P. (2022 (4) ACR 3878)
Narendra Kumar v. State of U.P. (2023)
Anil Mishra v. State of U.P. (2025)
Manoj Maurya v. State of U.P. (2023)
Binni Lala @ Vinod Kumar Jain v. State of U.P. (2023)
Rahul Saxena @ Bhola v. State of U.P. (2023)

LIST OF ACTS

Bhartiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita, 2023 - Bhartiya Nyaya Sanhita, 2023 - Indian Evidence Act, 1872 - U.P. Gangster and Anti-Social Activities (Prevention) Act, 1986 - U.P. Gangster and Anti-Social Activities (Prevention) Gangster Rules, 2021 – Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973.

LIST OF KEYWORDS

Gang chart, solitary case, Rule 5(3)(a), Rule 5(3)(c), Rule 8(2), Rule 10(1), Rule 16, Rule 17, Rule 22, Rule 60, certified copy, chargesheet, joint meeting, satisfaction, false information, procedural compliance, Shraddha Gupta precedent.

CASE ARISING FROM

Special Sessions Trial No.2636 of 2025 - Case Crime No.502 of 2024 (Gangster Act, PS Sihani Gate, Ghaziabad) - Base case: Case Crime No.406 of 2024 (under BNS, PS Kotwali, Ghaziabad).

APPEARANCE OF PARTIES

Counsel for Appellant(s): Shri Surendra Tiwari.
Counsel for Respondent(s): Prashant Kumar Singh, A.G.A.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Vivek Kumar Singh, J.)

1. Heard Shri Santosh Tripathi, learned counsel for the applicant, Shri Surendra Tiwari, learned counsel appearing for the victim of the base case and Shri Prashant Kumar Singh, learned AGA for the State.

2. Present application under Section 528 BNSS has been filed to quash the entire proceedings of the Special Sessions Trial No.2636 of 2025, arising out of Case Crime No.502 of 2024 (State of U.P. vs. Sanjay Suri and Others), under section 2/3 of the U.P. Gangster and Anti Social Activities (Prevention) Act, 1986, Police Station Sihani Gate, District Ghaziabad, pending in the Court of Learned Special Judge (Gangster Act)/Additional District and Sessions Judge, Court no.12, Ghaziabad as well as Chargesheet dated 09.08.2025 and the cognizance/summoning order dated 28.08.2025 issued in the aforesaid proceedings.

3. The brief facts of the case are that the FIR was lodged against the applicant on 23.09.2024, as Case Crime No.502 of 2024, under section 2/3 of the U.P. Gangster and Anti Social Activities (Prevention) Act, 1986 (hereinafter referred to as the 'Gangster Act'), Police Station Sihani Gate, District Ghaziabad. Prior to the registration of the said FIR, a gang chart was prepared on 21.09.2024, wherein, the applicant was shown to be involved in a solitary case i.e. Case Crime No.406 of 2024, under Sections 126(2), 352, 351(2), 308(6) BNS, Police Station Kotwali, District Ghaziabad and the chargesheet was submitted in the aforesaid Case Crime no.406 of 2024 on 20.09.2024 and the learned Magistrate took cognizance of offence vide order dated 23.09.2024. After submission of chargesheet on 20.09.2024 in the aforesaid Case Crime No.406 of 2024, the gang chart was prepared by the Authorities on 21.09.2024. Thereafter, the investigation was handed over to the Investigating Officer, who submitted chargesheet in the present Case Crime no.502 of 2024 on 09.08.2025 and the court concerned took cognizance vide order dated 28.08.2025.

4. The submission of the learned counsel for the applicant is that in the gang chart detail of only one case has been mentioned and the applicant has already obtained bail in the base case from the court concerned on 23.09.2024. It is also submitted by the learned counsel for the applicant that only on the basis of solitary case, as mentioned in the gang chart, provisions of Gangster Act cannot be initiated and there is clear violation of Rules framed under the U.P. Gangster and Anti Social Activities (Prevention) Gangster Rules, 2021 (hereinafter referred to as the Rules, 2021). It is also submitted by the learned counsel for the applicant that provisions of Rule 5(3)(a) of the Rules, 2021 has not been followed as no joint meeting had taken place. He further pointed out that as per Rule 5(3) (c) of the Rules 2021 the gang chart would not have been approved without the completion of the investigation of the base case.

5. Learned counsel for the applicant next submitted that the provisions of Rule 8(2) of the Rules, 2021 was not followed, wherein, it is mentioned that no unconfirmed or false information would be entered in the gang chart. It is also argued by the learned counsel for the applicant that the provisions of Rule 10 (1) of the Rule, 2021 have also not been followed inasmuch as the certified copy of the chargesheet was not attached alongwith the gang chart. It is also submitted that the authorities at the time of preparation of gang chart have violated Rules 16 and 17 of the Rules, 2021, therefore, the impugned chargesheet dated 09.08.2025 as well as cognizance/summoning order dated 28.08.2025 issued by the Learned Special Judge (Gangster Act)/Additional District and Sessions Judge, Court no.12, Ghaziabad are liable to be quashed.

6. In support of his contention, learned counsel for the applicant has relied upon several judgments of Hon'ble Apex Court as well as this Court, which are as follows:-

(i) Shri Gulam Mustafa vs. State of Karnataka and Another reported in 2023 (18) SCC 265.

(ii) Vinod Bihari Lal vs. State of Uttar Pradesh and Another reported in 2025 SCC OnLine SC 1216.

(iii) Master @ Ramzan and Another vs. State of U.P. through Principal Secretary Home and Others, reported in 2020 LawSuit (All) 826.

(iv) Asim @ Hasim vs. State of U.P. and Another, reported in 2023 0 Supreme (All) 1722.

(v) Mohd. Arif @ Guddu vs. State of UP and 3 Others, Neutral Citation No.2024:AHC:111744-DB.

(vi) Sanni Mishra @ Sanjayan Kumar Mishra vs. State of U.P. and 2 Others, reported in 2024 (1) ADJ 231 (DB). (vii) Prabhat Patel and Another vs. State of U.P. and 3 Others, Neutral Citation No.2024:AHC:25612 -DB.

7. Per contra, learned AGA for the State as well as learned counsel appearing for the victim of the base case opposed the prayer made by the applicant and submitted that the gang chart was prepared in a joint meeting and after due discussion by the authorities concerned, i.e. Forwarding Authority and the Approving Authority, the joint meeting was held on 21.09.2024. The gang chart was approved by the Commissioner of Police, Ghaziabad on the very same day i.e. on 21.09.2024, therefore, there is no illegality or irregularity in preparation of the gang chart and the same was prepared as per Rule 5(3) (a) of the Rules, 2021.

8. It is further submitted by the learned AGA as well as by the counsel appearing for the victim of the base case that the gang chart was approved after completion of investigation of the base case. The investigation of the base case i.e. Case Crime No.406 of 2024 was completed on 20.09.2024 and this fact has been mentioned in the gang chart. It is also submitted that the chargesheet of the base case has been appended at page 78 of the application, wherein, date of preparation of chargesheet has been mentioned as 20.09.2024. Thereafter, the gang chart was prepared on 21.09.2024, therefore, there is no violation of Rule 5(3) (c) of the Rules, 2021.

9. It is also submitted by the learned AGA as well as counsel appearing for the victim of the base case that Rule 8 of the Rules, 2021 was also followed. Inasmuch as no unconfirmed or false information was given by the Incharge of police station concerned. The status of the base case has been mentioned in the gang chart dated 21.09.2024, therefore, there is no illegality or irregularity or violation of Rule 8(2) of the Rules, 2021 in preparation of gang chart. It is also submitted that so far as the Rule 10 of the Rules 2021 is concerned, there is no requirement of filing the certified copy of the chargehseet issued by the court concerned and the only requirement is that the chargesheet in the base case would be attached and the provisions of these Rules have been very well dealt with by the Division Bench of this Court in the judgment of Anil Mishra vs. State of U.P. and 2 Others, decided on 18.10.2025 in Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No.15515 of 2023, wherein, it has been held that chargesheet, prepared by the Investigating Officer under his signature should be attached and it is nowhere required that it has to be a certified copy having been issued by the court of law. Rule 10 of the Rules, 2021 nowhere says that copy of the chargesheet has to be a copy certified by the court or a certified copy of the chargesheet issued by the court. It is also submitted that compliance of Rules 16 and 17 of the Rules, 2021 has been done. The Commissioner of Police, Ghaziabad approved the gang chart after having considered the relevant papers and the evidence on the same day i.e. 21.09.2024. The competent authority used their independent mind while forwarding the gang chart.

10. It is further submitted that as per Rule 22 of the Rules 2021, provisions of Gangster Act can be imposed on the basis of a single case and the Hon'ble Supreme Court has also held in the case of Shraddha Gupta vs The State Of Uttar Pradesh reported in 2022 SCC OnLine SC 514, that a person may be prosecuted under the Gangster Act only on the basis of a solitary case. In last, it is prayed that the present application is liable to be dismissed since there is no violation of any Rule of the Rules, 2021.

11. I have heard rival submission of the learned counsel for the parties and perused the records as well as several case laws which were relied on by both the sides.

12. In the case of Mohd. Arif @ Guddu (supra) it has been held by Division Bench of this Court that the authorities signed the pre-typed gang-chart and approved the same, which goes to show sheer negligence on the part of Authorities. The judgment of Mohd. Arif @ Guddu (supra) was passed in view of the judgment of Sanni Mishra alias Sanjayan Kumar Mishra (supra) and Asim @ Hasim (supra). In Sanni Mishra alias Sanjayan Kumar Mishra (supra) also the Division Bench of this Court has held that signing of pre-printed proforma is prohibited under Rule 17 (2) of the Gangster Rules, 2021 and the date of filing the chargesheet in the base case was not mentioned in the gang chart though the same is required as per Rule 8(3) of the Rules, 2021. In Paragraph 22 of Sanni Mishra alias Sanjayan Kumar Mishra (supra) a direction for preparation of gang chart before lodging of the FIR under the Gangster Act, 1986 was issued by this Court. The Relevant paragraph 22 of the said judgment is reproduced here-under:-

"22. In view of the above, this court lays down following directions for preparation of gang-chart before lodging FIR under the Gangster Act, 1986 :

(i) Date of filing of chargesheet under base case must be mentioned in Column-6 of the gang-chart except in cases under Rule 22(2) of the Gangster Rules, 2021.

(ii) While forwarding or approving the gang-chart, competent authorities must record their required satisfaction by writing in clear words, not by signing the printed/typed satisfaction.

(iii) There must be material available for the perusal of the court which shows that the District Magistrate before approving the gang-chart had conducted a joint meeting with the District Police Chief and held a due discussion for invocation of the Gangster Act, 1986."

13. On perusal of gang-chart of the present case, it is clear that date of filing the chargesheet in the base case has been written in the gang-chart (appended at page 40) and all the authorities recorded their satisfaction in their own hand writing in a joint meeting after due discussion, therefore, the facts of the present case are entirely different from the case of Sanni Mishra alias Sanjayan Kumar Mishra (supra), Mohd. Arif @ Guddu (supra) and Vinod Bihari Lal (supra), wherein it was held that the authorities will record their satisfaction in a joint meeting after due discussion. The language/satisfaction of the authorities is as per Rule 16 of the Rules, 2021 in the present case.

14. In another judgement Asim @ Hasim (supra), it has been held that at the time of preparation of the chargesheet, the corresponding section 2(b) (i) to (xxv) of the Act, 1986 should be mentioned. The relevant paragraph 9 of the said judgment is reproduced hereunder:-

"9. In the present case, the impugned FIR was registered u/s 3(1) Gangster Act, without mentioning the corresponding provision, mentioning the anti social activities, in which the accused is involved and on the basis of which he was named as gangster. A person cannot be punished without specifying the offence committed by him which would justify his classification as a Gangster. "

15. In the present case chargesheet was submitted by the police under Section 2/3 Gangster Act, 1986 and in the body of the chargesheet it has also been mentioned that the offence of the applicant falls under the definition of Gangster Act, being part of the gang which is indulged in anti social activities as mentioned in Section 2(b) (i) to (xxv) of the Act, therefore, the facts of Asim @ Hasim (supra) is entirely different from the facts of the present case.

16. In another judgment of Master @ Ramzan (supra), the first information report was quashed since wrong information was mentioned in the gang-chart but in the present case, the counsel for the applicant could not show any false/wrong information in the gang-chart.

17. The judgement of Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Gulam Mustafa (supra) is not related to Gangster Act rather the power of High Court under Section 482 Cr.P.C. has been discussed.

18. The judgment of Prabhat Patel (supra) is also not applicable to the facts of the present case since it was held in the aforesaid case that gang-chart was prepared without joint meeting and Rules 8(3), 16 and 17 of Rules, 2021 were not followed. In the present case, all the competent authorities recorded their satisfaction in their own handwriting in a joint meeting after due discussion. Therefore, there is no violation of any aforesaid Rule of the Rules, 2021.

19. In the case of Ambuj Parag Dubey, reported in 2022 (4) ACR 3878 the Division Bench of this Court has considered the entire scheme of the Gangster Act and held that in a case, on the materials, the competent authority is convinced and prima facie satisfied that a case for prosecution is made out, he may approve the gang chart bypassing discussion with the police officials. But in a case where the competent authority is not convinced or in two mind, on the material placed by the police authorities, the competent authority may necessarily decide to call for a discussion to prima facie satisfy himself that prosecution is warranted.. Relevant paragraphs no.27 to 38 and 41 of the said judgement are reproduced as under:-

"27. Chapter-III of Gangster Rules lays down the principles related to Gang Chart. Rule-5 mandates that Incharge of a Police Station/Station House Officer/ Inspector shall prepare a Gang Chart (Form No. 1) mentioning the details of criminal activities of the gang. The Gang Chart will be presented to the district head of the Police after clear recommendation of the Additional Superintendent of Police mentioning the detailed activities in relation of all the persons of the said gang. Sub-rule (2) of Rule 5 provides that the provisions contained therein shall be complied in respect of gang charts. The provision reads thus:

5. (1) To initiate proceedings under this Act, the concerned Incharge of Police General Rules Station/Station House Officer/Inspector shall prepare a gang-chart mentioning the details of criminal activities of the gang.

(2) The gang-chart will be presented to the district head of police after clear recommendation of the Additional Superintendent of Police mentioning the detailed activities in relation to all the persons of the said gang.

(3) The following provisions shall be complied with in respect of gang-charts:-

a. The gang-chart will not be approved summarily but after due discussion in a joint meeting of the Commissioner of Police/District Magistrate/Senior Superintendent of Police/ Superintendent of Police.

b. There may be no gang of one person but there may be a gang of known and other unknown persons and in that form the gang-chart may be approved as per these rules.

c. The gang-chart shall not mention those cases in which acquittal has been granted by the Special Court or in which the final report has been filed after the investigation. However, the gang-chart shall not be approved without the completion of investigation of the base case.

d. Those cases shall not be mentioned in the gang-chart, on the basis of which action has already been taken once under this Act.

e. A separate list of criminal history, as given in Form No. 4, shall be attached with the gang-chart detailing all the criminal activities of that gang and mentioning all the criminal cases, even if acquittal has been granted in those case or even where final report has been submitted in the absence of evidence.

Along with the above, a certified copy of the gang register kept at the police station shall also be attached with the gang-chart. In addition to the above, the information of crime and gang members mentioned in the gang-chart will also be updated on Interoperable Criminal Justice (ICJS) portal and Crime and Criminal Tracking Network System (CCTNS).

28. Rule 6 provides that while preparing the Gang Chart it shall be clearly mentioned, if the alleged act of the gang falls within the purview of clause (b) of Section 2 of the Act along with relevant provisions, further, sub-rule (2) mandates that the Investigating Officer makes an endorsement to the effect that the accused is causing panic, alarm or terror in public, then evidence shall be collected in this regard. In addition to the above, a list of criminal history may be attached separately in the prescribed format. (Form No. 4)

29. Rule 10 mandates that records of base cases, would accompany the gang chart and Rule 11 mandates that the present status of all the accused, whether they are in jail or on bail or absconding, shall be clearly mentioned. Rule 13 mandates that while writing abstract below the gang chart and particulars of those officials shall be specifically mentioned. Rule 13 is extracted:

13. While writing the abstract below the gang-chart and particulars separately with the gang-chart, the particulars of those offences shall be specifically mentioned:-

i. which have been committed for pecuniary, materialistic and temporal or similar benefits; or

ii. which disturb the public order; or

iii. Which are a ground for detention under the National Security Act, 1980 (Act no. 65 of 1980)

30. Sub-rule 3 of Rule 15 provides that final decision as to whether to include or not to include the name of member of a gang in the gang and gang-chart shall be at the discretion of the Commissioner of Police/District Magistrate, as the case may be.

31. Rule 16 provides the manner and the recommendations to be made while forwarding the gang chart Rule 16 reads thus:

"16. The following manner shall be followed in the forwarding of Gang-Chart:

(1) Forwarding of the gang-chart by the Additional Superintendent of Police: The Additional Superintendent of Police will not only take a quick forwarding action in the case but he will duly peruse the gang-chart and all the attached forms; and when it is satisfied that there is a just and satisfactory basis to pursue the case, only then will he forward the letter along with the recommendation given below on the gang-chart to the Superintendent of Police/Senior Superintendent of Police.

"Throughly studies the gang-chart and attached evidence. The basis of action under the Uttar Pradesh Gangsters and Anti-Social Activities (Prevention) Act, 1986 exists. Accordingly, forwarded with recommendation."

(2) Forwarding of the gang-chart by the district police in-charge: When the gang-chart along with all the Forms is received by the Senior Superintendent of Police/Superintendent of Police with the clear recommendation of the Additional Superintendent of Police, he will also thoroughly analyze all the facts and when it is confirmed that all the formalities of the Act have been fulfilled and there is a legal basis for taking action in the case, then he should forward the gang-chart to the Commissioner of Police/District Magistrate stating that: "I have duly perused the gang-chart and attached forms and I am fully satisfied that all the particulars mentioned in the case are correct and there is a satisfactory basis for taking action under the Uttar Pradesh Gangsters and Anti-Social Activities (Prevention) Act 1986. Accordingly, approved"

(3) Resolution of the Commissioner of Police/District Magistrate: When the gang-chart is sent to be the Commissioner of Police/District Magistrate along with all the Forms, all the facts will also be thoroughly perused by the Commissioner of Police/Districts Magistrate and when he is satisfied that the basis of action exists in the case, then he will approve the gang-chart stating therein that: "I duly perused the gang-chart and attached Forms in the light of the evidence attached with the gang-chart, satisfactory grounds exist for taking action under the Uttar Pradesh Gangsters and Anti-Social Activities (Prevention) Act, 1986. The gang-chart is approved accordingly."

It is noteworthy that the words written above are only illustrative. There is no compulsion to write the same verbatim but it is necessary that the meaning of approval should be the same as the recommendations written above, and it should also be clear from the note of approval marked."

32. Satisfaction of the competent authority only means that the competent authority must be in fact satisfy and not a dishonest satisfaction, which will be no satisfaction at all. The satisfaction contemplated by the Gangster Rule is satisfaction in point of fact on the materials placed before the competent authority. The satisfaction of the competent authority referred to under the Rule is not with respect to the allegations levelled against the gangster but the satisfaction is confined to those allegations that the accused can be prosecuted under the Gangster Act. Whatever may be the nature of charge against the accused, the satisfaction of the competent authority should be with regard to that the materials placed before him and the nature of the accused indulging in community antisocial activities. It is expedient to sanction prosecution under the Gangster Act.

33. The expression satisfied is much narrower than "application of mind'. The competent authority is not to apply his mind and satisfy himself as to whether the material placed before him would be sufficient for convicting the accused under the Gangster Act. The satisfaction is confined within a narrow domain based on the materials placed before the competent authority, the authorities forwarding the gang chart is satisfied that the accused should be prosecuted under the Gangster Act. The expression satisfaction is not satisfaction on evidence but a prima facie satisfaction based on the representations of the nodal authority and the district police that the accused should be prosecuted under the Gangster Act.

34. Rule 17 mandates that the competent authority is bound to exercise its own independent mind while forwarding the gang chart and should not be on a pre-printed rubber seal gang chart. Rule 17 reads thus:

"17 (1) the Competent Authority shall be bound to exercise its own independent mind while forwarding the gang-chart.

(2) A pre-printed rubber seal gang-chart should not be signed by the Competent Authority; otherwise the same shall tantamount to the fact that the Competent Authority has not exercised its free mind."

35. Rule 18 provides that gang chart shall be sent only in the manner as given in Form No. 1 of these rules.

36. Rule 17 and 18 would have to be read together. Gang chart has to be sent in the prescribed Form No. 1. The endorsement to be made by each of the authorities have also been specified in Rule 16. The rule itself prescribes and mandates a printed Form. Rule 17 merely mandates that the competent authority while approving the gang chart should not be swayed by the recommendation of the police authorities mechanically but should satisfy himself independently that the grounds for prosecution is made out. The satisfaction at that stage is subjective and does not rest upon any evidence. The competent authority has to satisfy that the materials placed with the gang chart calls for prosecution. The stage of collecting evidence follows thereafter. The scope of judicial review is miniscule, the accused cannot challenge the FIR without challenging the gang chart. The question as to whether the antisocial activities of the proposed accused is that of a gang or gangster is a matter of investigation.

37. Rule 22 clarifies and specifies that a single act/omission will also constitute an offence under the Act and a first information report must be registered on the basis of a single case. Rule 22(1) reads thus:

"22(1) A single act/omission wi*ll also constitute an offence under the Act, and First Information Report may be registered on the basis of a single case i.e., it is not mandatory that any criminal history must be recorded and alleged before registering an offence under the Act."*

38. Further, sub-rule (2) of Rule 22 necessarily provides prosecution on certain class of cases, on a single offence which includes Section 302, 376D, 395, 396 or 397 of Indian Penal Code out of the offences mentioned in sub-clause (i) or clause (b) of Section 2 of the Act.

41. The submission of the learned counsel for the petitioners that there was no "discussion' by the competent authority with the police officers before approving the gang chart would not be fatal to the prosecution of the petitioners. The expression "discussion' has to be followed mandatorily by the competent authority in every case does not follow from reading of the Rule, though the rule employs the word "shall'. The Gangster Rule no where mandates the consequence of not following "discussion' by the competent authority. In our opinion the rule mandating discussion is directory. It is left to the discretion of the competent authority, having regard to the material placed before him for approval of the gang chart. In a case, on the materials, the competent authority is convinced and prima facie satisfied that a case for prosecution is made out he may approve the gang chart bypassing discussion with the police officials. But in a case where the competent authority is not convinced or in two mind, on the material placed by the police authorities, the competent authority may necessarily decide to call for a discussion to prima facie satisfy himself that prosecution is warranted. The FIR that follows the approval of the gang chart cannot be faulted or quashed merely for want of discussion."

20. Another Division Bench of this Court in the case of Narendra Kumar vs. State of U.P. and 3 Others, passed in Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No.15487 of 2023, decided on 04.10.2023 has followed the judgment of Ambuj Parag Dubey (supra). The relevant paragraphs no.11 to 17 are reproduced as under:-

"11. Applying the aforesaid principles there can be no two opinions that the words "the gang chart shall not be approved within the completion of investigation of the base case" are hardly open for any other interpretation as the words are plain and unambiguous and admits only one meaning and should be read as it is. Once this statutory mandate is taken as such the requirement of 'certified copy' of gang chart (or recovery memo) can safely be held or interpreted to be only 'procedural' in nature and only mandate of Rule 10 of the Rules would be that a copy certified by any competent person (which is being discussed in subsequent paragraphs) shall be attached with the gang chart. Any other interpretation of Rule 5(3)(c) read with Rule 10 of the Rules would frustrate the purpose and object of enactment of the Act and the Rules framed thereunder.

12. We, therefore, find that as the only requirement of law as per the above quoted Rule 5(3)(c) is that there should be a completion of the investigation of the base case before approval of the gang-chart, and the same had clearly been done in the present case. Therefore, filing or non-filing of the charge-sheet in the court concerned before preparation of the gang chart is immaterial and that the only requirement is that the charge-sheet should be available with the concerned authority before approval of the gang-chart.

13. In the present case of the petitioner herein Narender Kumar, at the cost of repetition, it is highlighted that date of completion of investigation is 6.2.2023; the process of approval of the gang chart started on 17.3.2023 and the approval of the gang-chart was given by the Commissioner of Police, Gautam Budh Nagar on 20.3.2023, hence there is no violation of Rule 5(3)(c) of the Rules.

14. Insofar as violation of Rule 10 of the Gangster Rules is concerned, submission is that there should exist a certified copy of the charge-sheet at the time of making draft gang chart. We find that the charge-sheet has been prepared by the Investigating Officer under his signatures and the investigation had already been concluded before preparation of the gang chart. We are of the opinion that there should be a copy duly certified by the Officer only, who is having control over the document and it is no where required that it has to be a certified copy having been issued by the court of law. Rule 10 of the Rules, 2021 nowhere says that copy of the charge-sheet has to be a copy certified by the Court or a certified copy of the charge-sheet issued by the Court. Submission of charge-sheet in the Court is not a prerequisite of Rule 10 of the Rules.

15. As the intention of the legislature is that the provision of Gangster Act can be imposed after completion of the investigation, therefore, it can be safely concluded that the copy of the charge-sheet or the recovery memo duly certified by the competent authority or the authority having control over such document i.e. Investigating Officer are sufficient for the said purpose. In this regard, a reference may be made to Rule 22 of the Rules, 2021, also heading whereof itself provides that criminal history is not mandatory and sections of the Gangster Act can be imposed in the course of investigation of any base case, falls under category of certain offence mentioned in Rule 22 (2) of the Rules, 2021.

16. The controversy has already been decided by Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Shraddha Gupta vs The State Of Uttar Pradesh decided on 26 April, 2022 in Criminal Appeal No. 569-570 of 2022 that the provisions of Gangster Act can be imposed on the basis of a solitary case.

17. In addition, the object of enacting the Gangster Act and the Rules framed thereunder may also be taken note of, which are noted as under:

Of the Act:

"An act to make special provision for the prevention of, and for coping with, gangsters and anti-social activities and for matters connected therewith or incidental thereto."

Of the Rules:

In exercise of the powers conferred by Section 23 of the Uttar Pradesh Gangster and Anti-Social Activities (Prevention) Act, 1986 (U.P. Act No. 7 of 1986) read with Section 21 of the Uttar Pradesh General Clauses Act, 1904 (U.P. Act No. 1 of 1904) and in suppression of all Government Orders and Notifications made under the Uttar Pradesh Gangster and Anti-Social Activities (Prevention) Act, 1986 (U.P. Act No. 7 of 1986), except as respect things done or omitted to be done before such suppression, the Governor is pleased to make the following rules with a view to provide for a speedy and transparent procedure to punish gangsters, to establish an efficient recovery system in respect of property of gangsters and incidental benefits acquired by them through crimes and acts related therewith."

21. Even, in the judgment of Division Bench of this Court in Anil Mishra (supra), the provisions of the Gangster Act have been again discussed and it was noted that there was no violation of any provisions of the Gangster Act and the Gangster Rules. So far as the violation of Rule 10 of the Rules, 2021 is concerned, submission is that there should exist a certified copy of the chargesheet at the time of making draft of gang chart. I find that the chargesheet has been prepared by the Investigating Officer under his signature in the base case on 20.09.2024 and the investigation had already been completed before preparation of the gang chart on 21.09.2024. Therefore, the gang-chart was prepared as per Rule 5(3) (c) of the Rules, 2021.

22. Therefore, there should have been a copy duly certified by the officer only who is having control over the document and it is nowhere required that it has to be a certified copy having been issued by the court of law. Rule 10 of Rules, 2021 nowhere says that copy of the chargesheet has to be a copy certified by the court.Therefore, there is no violation of Rules 10(1) of the Rules, 2021. Submission of charge-sheet in the court is not a prerequisite of Rule 10(1) of the Rules, 2021.

23. At this stage, the Court deems it appropriate to explain the requirement of attaching certified copy of the charge-sheet as per Rule 10. To appreciate this, Rule 60 of the Rules of 2021 needs thoughtful consideration and is quoted hereinbelow:-

"60.Certified copies shall be primary evidence- Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in any other Act, in the trial of cases under this Act the criminal cases included in the gang-chart and the FIRs mentioned in the list can be proved by the Officer certifying the certified copy of the charge-sheet. No original form shall be required for the same and the facts contained in the Forms so proved shall be deemed to be proved unless it is rebutted by any evidence to the contrary."

24. Significantly, Rule 60 finds place in Chapter-8 of the Rules with a heading-General Rules of Trial. The Rule clearly reflects that certification of a charge-sheet is associated with the police officer, however, it clearly and unambiguously relates to trial of cases under the Act and the role of the officer has been assigned only to prove the certified copy of the charge sheet during the course of trial itself. Therefore, proving certified copy of the charge-sheet has nothing to do with preparation or approval of the gang-chart at the initial stage of proceedings, rather Rule 60 would come into application during the course of trial and that would certainly begin when the charge-sheet is submitted before the court concerned and cognizance is taken thereon, otherwise, trial cannot begin. The language used in Rule 60 is clear and unambiguous, i.e., certifying the certified copy of the chargesheet and not certifying the cahrgesheet itself. Therefore, Rule 60 would come into play at that stage when gang-chart alongwith certified copy issued by the competent Court is already filed before the Trial Court and the police officer is called upon during the course of trial to certify that certified copy of the charge-sheet. Hence, it cannot be said that Rule 60 would empower the police officer to certify the charge-sheet itself during the course of investigation so as to satisfy the requirement of Rule 10 which casts mandatory duty upon police officer to compulsorily attach the certified copy of the charge-sheet alongwith gang-chart.

25. The Court has got the occasion to go through certain judgements pronounced by esteemed co-ordinate benches of our Court where necessity of attaching certified copy of the charge-sheet has been discussed. In the judgements dated 31.05.2023, 02.05.2023 and 28.08.2023 passed in Criminal Misc. Writ Petition Nos.5202 of 2023 (Manoj Maurya vs. State of U.P. and another), 19638 of 2022 (Binni Lala @ Vinod Kumar Jain vs. State of U.P. and 3 others) and 12808 of 2023 (Rahul Saxena @ Bhola/Bholu vs. State of U.P. and 3 others) respectively, the Co-ordinate Benches of this Court have dealt with Section 76 of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872 (hereinafter referred to as 'the Act of 1872') and have observed that it is not the requirement of law, particularly, Rule 10 of the Rules of 2021, to attach certified copy of the charge-sheet obtained from the court concerned, rather the certification made by the public officer in whose custody of public document remains, would suffice, provided requirements of Section 76 are satisfied.

26. It was also argued by the learned counsel for the applicant that the provisions of Rule 8(2) of the Rules, 2021 were not followed and false information was entered in the gang-chart. On being confronted, the counsel for the applicant could not point out as to what false information was mentioned in the gang-chart. Therefore, in the opinion of this Court, no false information is mentioned in the gang chart.

27. Rule 22 of the Rules, 2021 also makes it clear that criminal history is not mandatory and sections of the Gangster Act can be imposed in the course of investigation of any base case, falls under category of certain offences mentioned in Rule 22 of the Rules, 2021. The controversy has already been decided by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Shraddha Gupta (supra) that the provisions of the Gangster Act can be imposed on the basis of a solitary case.

28. In para 37 of Shraddha Gupta (supra) it has been held by the Hon'ble Apex Court that even on the basis of a single case Gangster Act can be imposed, which is quoted as under:-

"Now so far as the main submission on behalf of the accused that for a single offence/FIR/charge sheet with respect to any of the anti- social activities, such an accused cannot be prosecuted under the Gangsters Act, 1986 is concerned, on a fair reading of the definitions of 'Gang' and 'Gangster' under the Gangsters Act, 1986, it can be seen that a 'Gang' is a group of one or more persons who commit/s the crimes mentioned in the definition clause for the motive of earning undue advantage, whether pecuniary, material or otherwise. Even a single crime committed by a 'Gang' is sufficient to implant Gangsters Act on such members of the 'Gang'. The definition clause does not engulf plurality of offence before the Gangsters Act is invoked."

29. Needless to say that Gangster Rules, 2021 have been considered in great detail in Ambuj Parag Dubey (supra) and the manner in which satisfaction is to be recorded has been laid down, therefore, in view of the judgment of Ambuj Parag Dubey (supra), I find that in the present case satisfaction has been recorded as per Rules, 2021 and Form-I of the Gangster Act, which provides the format of the gang chart. I, therefore, find that the satisfaction was recorded by the authorities in the manner as per the provisions of the Rules, 2021 and it cannot be said that satisfaction was not recorded in accordance with the Rules, 2021.

30. From the discussion made hereinabove. I, therefore, find that the present application is devoid of merit and is accordingly dismissed.

31. No order as to costs.

(2026) 2 ILRA 867
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 23.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE AVNISH SAXENA, J.

Application U/S 528 BNSS. No. 45399 of 2025

Vipin Kumar & Ors. ...Applicants
Versus
State of U.P. & Anr. ...Opposite Parties

ISSUE FOR CONSIDERATION

Whether the allegations of sexual intercourse on false promise of marriage by a married man, along with intimidation by co-accused, are sufficient to proceed with trial, or whether continuance of trial would amount to abuse of process of law?

HEADNOTES

Criminal Law – Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita, 2023 - Sections 528, 180, 183 - Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita, 2023 - Sections 69, 115(2), 351(3), 352 - Indian Evidence Act, 1872 - Section 114A - Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 - Section 482: - Application under Section 528 BNSS – against charge sheet and summoning order as well as the entire criminal proceedings - FIR – allegation of sexual intercourse on false promise of marriage, blackmail, intimidation, repeated pregnancies and abortions – victim's statements under Sections 180 & 183 BNSS consistent – medical certificate records accused as father of child – chargesheet – summoning order - applicants pleaded consensual relationship, prior knowledge of marriage, delay in FIR, reliance on precedents – Court finds, victim unaware of marital status initially, promise deceitful from inception, prima facie case made out – further, observed that, Section 69 BNSS specifically criminalizes sexual intercourse by deceitful means including false promise of marriage – scope of quashing of proceedings limited to rarest of rare cases – held, Scope of High Court's powers under Section 482 CrPC / Section 528 BNSS are very wide, but should be exercised with circumspection and in rarest of rare and appropriate case – relying on the law laid down by the Hon'ble Supreme Court and considering the facts i.e. Victim's consistent statements, medical evidence, and admitted paternity establish prima facie case – application is devoid of its merit and is dismissed. (Para – 11, 17, 18)

Application Dismissed. (E-11)

CASE LAW CITED

Amol Bhagwan Nehul v. State of Maharashtra (2025 SC)
Mahesh Damu Khare v. State of Maharashtra (2024 SC)
Uday v. State of Karnataka (2003 SC)
Yedla Srinivasa Rao v. State of Andhra Pradesh (2006 SC)
Pramod Suryabhan Pawar v. State of Maharashtra (2019 SC)
Kuldeep Verma v. State of U.P. (2026 AHC)
Kurukshetra University v. State of Haryana (1977 SC)
State of Haryana v. Bhajan Lal (1992 SC)
Som Mittal v. Government of Karnataka (2008 SC)
Naresh Potteries v. Aarti Industries (2025 SC)
Punit Beriwala v. State (NCT of Delhi) (2025 SC)

LIST OF ACTS

Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita, 2023 - Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita, 2023 - Indian Evidence Act, 1872 - Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973.

LIST OF KEYWORDS

Application under section 528 – chargesheet – summoning order – aggravated criminal intimidation – voluntary causing hurt – intentional insult – consensual in nature - False promise of marriage - Deceitful means - Consent under misconception - Quashing of proceedings - Prima facie case – blackmail – social media – victim – recorded videos and photos – prima facie – compromise - - Abuse of process - Rarest of rare case - Section 69 BNSS - application dismissed.

CASE ARISING FROM

Case Crime No. 312 of 2025, P.S. Deoband, Saharanpur - Case No. 554 of 2025 (State vs. Vipin Kumar & Others) - FIR dated 22.05.2025 - Charge sheet dated 22.07.2025 - Summoning order dated 26.08.2025.

APPEARANCE OF PARTIES

Counsel for Appellant(s): Shri Syed Safdar Ali Kazmi.
Counsel for Respondent(s): Shri Sheshadri Trivedi and Ms. Seema Shukla, A.G.A.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Avnish Saxena, J.)

1. Heard, Shri Syed Safdar Ali Kazmi, learned counsel for the accused-applicant; Shri Sheshadri Trivedi, learned counsel for the opposite party no. 2; and Ms. Seema Shukla, learned A.G.A. for State.

2. The present application under Section 528 BNSS has been moved by four accused-applicants with a prayer to quash the charge sheet dated 22.07.2025, the summoning order dated 26.08.2025 and the proceeding of Case No. 554 of 2025 (State Vs. Vipin Kumar and others) before the court of Additional Chief Judicial Magistrate, Deoband, Saharanpur arose out of Case Crime No. 312 of 2025, under Sections 69, 115(2), 352, 351(3) of BNS. The main allegations of sexual intercourse on false promise of marriage is leveled against the accused applicant no. 1, the other accused who are wife, sister and brother-in-law of applicant no. 1 have been charge sheeted for the offence of voluntary causing hurt, intentional insult and aggravated criminal intimidation along with applicant no. 1

3. The FIR is lodged by opposite party no. 2 on 22.05.2025 against the above four accused applicants with the allegation that the victim (opposite party no. 2) came in contact with accused applicant no. 1 through facebook and since May 2018 was continuously entering into sexual intercourse on false promise of marriage. Four times the victim became pregnant and all the time she was aborted, she was again pregnant for the fifth time. Whenever she asked for marriage, the applicant no. 1 managed to escape the reply. Hearing the pregnancy of the victim, the accused applicant no. 1 has started putting pressure on her to abort the child but she refused. The accused applicant has refused to marry her and threatens her to kill, voluntary hurt and hurl abuses. The first applicant's wife, sister and brother-in-law, then started threatening to kill her, offered her money and pressurised her family for compromise on a heavy amount. It is further revealed from the FIR that applicant no. 1 is also having her indecent photographs and videos and he used to blackmail her. On 24.12.2024, the applicant no. 1 has called the victim in a hotel and entered into sexual intercourse, on which she became pregnant fifth time. It is also disclosed that the accused applicant no. 1 did the same act with other girls. On 11.05.2025 the applicant no. 1 has taken the victim to a Doctor for abortion.

4. The victim in her statement under Section 180 BNSS has reiterated the same incident as narrated in the FIR. She further stated that she is 26 years of age, did her graduation (Bachelor of Arts), the course of GNM (General Nursing and Midwifery) and was six months pregnant at the time of recording her statement.

5. The victim thereafter gave her statement under Section 183 BNSS wherein she has again reiterated the averments made in the FIR and further stated that the applicant no. 1 and she were friends through facebook, she was called by applicant no. 1, after 56 months of their friendship in a hotel at Saharanpur, where the accused applicant no. 1 has entered into sexual intercourse against her consent by alluring that they belong to the same caste, knew each other for quite sometime and assured her that he will not do any wrong to her. The victim was not having any idea when the accused applicant no. 1 had shot her video and photos while entering into sexual intercourse and therefore started blackmailing her for subsequent sex and abortion. He has also sent video to her mobile phone. Only sometime back she came to know that the applicant no. 1 is married having two children. When his wife had called her for entering into compromise, then she came to know that applicant no. 2 belong to her village.

6. Victim's father has stated in his statement under Section 180 BNSS that the victim was not knowing that the accused applicant is the husband of applicant no. 2 Priti, who belong to the same village. He further stated that the accused are pressurizing the victim and family to enter into compromise.

7. On these allegations the accused applicants have come up with the application to quash the entire proceedings on the ground that the relation between the two was consensual in nature. It is the contention of learned counsel for applicants that there is no deceitful means applied by the accused applicant no. 1 to enter into sexual intercourse with the opposite party no. 2. He further submits that there is no false promise of marriage given by the accused applicant no. 1 to the victim, who has attended the marriage of accused applicant no. 1 and applicant no. 2 in the year 2016 along with her family and knew that the accused applicant is married, despite that she has entered into sexual intercourse with applicant no. 1 just to fetch the financial support from the accused applicant no. 1. The FIR was registered, when this financial support was refused by the applicant no. 1. He submits that during her medical examination, the victim has specifically stated before the Doctor that she knew three years back that the accused applicant no. 1 is a married man. He further admits that the child born out of the illegitimate relation between the accused applicant no. 1 and victim shall be taken care of and the right of child will be safeguarded. Further submits that the FIR is highly delayed the victim is educated lady, she knew the pros and cons of her conduct of entering into sexual relations with the applicant no. 1. In support of his contention, learned counsel has relied on the judgment passed in Amol Bhagwan Nehul Vs. State of Maharashtra and another1; Mahesh Damu Khare Vs. State of Maharashtra2; and Uday Vs. State of Karnataka3.

8. Learned A.G.A. for State and learned counsel for opposite party no. 2 submit that there is ample material on record to show that the accused applicant no. 1, who is already married, but has given a promise to the victim to enter into marriage, who has been in contact with the victim since long through facebook. The accused applicant no. 1 is married and he knew that his promise to marry is deceitful from the beginning. The accused applicant has called the victim to a hotel where he has assured her of marriage, procured her consent and entered into sexual intercourse with her. The accused applicant himself is in hotel business and therefore, he has shot the video and photos of the victim while in intimate acts and blackmailed her, because he knew that he is a married man and he cannot fulfill the promise of marriage. Therefore, in order to blackmail the victim, he has recorded the videos and photos surreptitiously fixing the camera in the hotel room. Further submits that it is an excuse projected by the accused applicant that the victim knew prior to entering into relation with applicant no. 1 that he is married. Further submits that the allegations levelled by the applicants that they have given financial assistance to the victim and when that financial assistance was demanded back, the FIR is lodged. This allegation is not a part of case diary. Further submits that the accused applicant no. 1 is absconding and did not appear to the court with clean hands, as he is not appearing before the trial court. Further submits that Section 114A of the Indian Evidence Act 1872, a presumption as to absence of consent in certain prosecution for rape, as the accused applicant no. 1 has repeatedly raped the victim. Hence submits that the application is devoid of merit and is liable to be dismissed. In substantiation of his arguments learned counsel for opposite party no. 2 has relied on the judgment in Yedla Srinivasa Rao Vs. State of Andhra Pradesh4 (Paragraph No. 15 to 17).

'[15] In this connection reference may be made to the amendment made in the Indian Evidence Act. Section 114 A was introduced and the presumption has been raised as to the absence of consent in certain prosecutions for rape. Section 114-A reads as under:

Section 114 A- Presumption as to the absence of consent in certain prosecutions for rape.- In a prosecution for rape under Cl. (a) or Cl.(b) or Cl.(c) or Cl. (d) or Cl. (e) or Cl. (g) of sub-section (2) of Section 376 of the Indian Penal Code (45 of 1860), where sexual intercourse by the accused is proved and the question is whether it was without the consent of the woman alleged to have been raped and she states in her evidence before the court that she did not consent, the Court shall presume that she did not consent."

[16] If sexual intercourse has been committed by the accused and if it is proved that it was without the consent of the prosecutrix and she states in her evidence before the court that she did not consent, the court shall presume that she did not consent. Presumption has been introduced by the legislature in the Evidence Act looking to atrocities committed against women and in the instant case as per the statement of PW, she resisted and she did not give consent to the accused at the first instance and he committed the rape on her. The accused gave her assurance that he would marry her and continued to satisfy his lust till she became pregnant and it became clear that the accused did not wish to marry her.

[17] In the present case in view of the facts as mentioned above we are satisfied that the consent which had been obtained by the accused was not a voluntary one which was given by her under misconception of fact that the accused would marry her but this is not a consent in law. This is more evident from the testimony of PW1 as well as PW6 who was functioning as Panchayat where the accused admitted that he had committed sexual intercourse and promised to marry her but he absconded despite the promise made before the Panchayat. That shows that the accused had no intention to marry her right from the beginning and committed sexual intercourse totally under the misconception of fact by prosecutrix that he would marry her. Therefore, we are satisfied that the conviction and sentence awarded to the appellant is correct and no case is made out for our interference. The appeals are dismissed.'

9. This Court has taken into consideration the rival submissions made by the parties and perused the record.

10. Point of concern in the present application is whether prima facie the allegations levelled by the victim on the applicant accused is sufficient to proceed with the trial or continuance of the trial would amount to gross abuse of process of law?

11. Following facts culled out from the bare reading of FIR, statement of victim recorded under Sections 180 and 183 BNSS and the record of the case;

11.1 The victim came in contact with the accused through a social media app;

11.2 The accused applicant is already married;

11.3 The victim was called in a hotel in the year 2018 and entered into sexual intercourse with her on false promise of marriage.

11.4 The victim was pregnant at the time of lodging of the FIR and gave birth to a baby girl on 01.10.2025, in the medical certificate, the name of father is record as the name of applicant no. 1.

11.5 It is admitted by the accused applicant that the child is born of the victim from accused applicant no. 1;

11.6 The victim was repeatedly subjected to sexual intercourse on false promise of marriage;

11.7 There is continuous pressure on victim and her family for entering into compromise.

12. The charge sheet is submitted against the accused applicant no. 1 for the offence of sexual intercourse on false promise of marriage and for criminal intimidation, voluntary causing hurt on other applicants.

13. This Court while deciding the case of Kuldeep Verma Vs. State of U.P. and another5 (authored by Avnish Saxena, J.) has dealt with the new Section 69 of Bhartiya Nyaya Sanhita, 2023. The relevant paragraph nos. 15, 16 and 21 are reiterated underneath:

'15. Section 69 of Bhartiya Nyaya Sanhita, 2023 provides that 'Whoever, by deceitful means or by making promise to marry a woman without any intention of fulfilling the same, has sexual intercourse with her, such sexual intercourse not amounting to the offence of rape, shall be punished with imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to ten years and shall also be liable to fine.'

16. The provision contained in Section 69 of B.N.S. is a new induction in penal law, wherein sexual intercourse with a woman, by deceitful means including false promise of marriage is not 'Rape', but is made punishable. Prior to the enactment the courts interpret the conduct of parties in view of the provisions of Section 375 I.P.C. (Rape) coupled with the provision of Section 90 I.P.C (Consent known to be given under fear or misconception). The explanation provided under Section 69 B.N.S. of 'Deceitful means' 'shall include the false promise of employment or promotion, inducement, or marrying after suppressing identity.

xxxxxxxx

21. Even otherwise Section 69 B.N.S. provides for sexual intercourse by employing deceitful means and false promise of marriage as one of the deceitful means. In the case of Pramod

Suryabhan Pawar Vs. State of Maharashtra, (2019) 9 SCC 608, Hon'ble the Supreme Court has drawn a clear distinction between 'false promise of marriage, which is given on understanding by the maker that it will be broken' and 'a breach of promise which is made in good faith but subsequently not fulfilled'. It is former which out rightly attracts penal provision.'

14. Learned counsel for applicants has relied on three judgments of Hon'ble the Supreme Court. The case of Amol Bhagwan Nehul (supra) is not applicable in the present case because the fact of the case is that the allegation of rape on false promise of marriage continued for more than one year leveled by a woman having a child, obtained Khulanama, not a formal divorce, from her erstwhile husband and the allegation is levelled on a student, who was residing next door with three other men. It is in this backdrop that Hon'ble the Supreme Court in paragraph 11 has quashed the proceedings of the criminal case. The relevant paragraph no. 11 is reiterated underneath:-

11. Taking into consideration that the Appellant is just 25 years of age, and has a lifetime ahead of him, it would be in the interest of justice that he does not suffer an impending trial and, therefore, the proceedings emanating from C.R. No. 490/2023 dt. 31.07.2023 are quashed at this stage itself.

15. The case of Mahesh Damu Khare (supra) is also not applicable in the present set of facts because in that case the victim knew that accused was having two wives, while she was working in his house. Hence, Hon'ble the Supreme Court has observed that the sexual intercourse on false promise of marriage cannot be considered as rape on deceitful means. Paragraph No. 26 and 27 of the judgment relied by learned counsel for applicant is reiterated underneath:-

'26. In the present case, the nature of relationship between the appellant and the complainant can be characterised by the following attributes:

(i) The appellant and the complainant were acquainted with each other since 2008. The complainant herself admits that the appellant has been in physical relationship since then till 2017 without protest in spite of alleging that the appellant had done so without her consent.

(ii) The physical relationship was going on routinely. But the complainant in her complaint states that after she got a rented room in Shirvane, Nerul Sector 1, Navi Mumbai, in December, 2010, the appellant used to come every day and had sexual intercourse everyday, though without her consent and by giving false promise of marriage.

(iii) The complainant does not appear to be a naive and gullible woman who was susceptible to deceit while maintaining physical relationship with the appellant and the allegation of false promise surfaced only when the appellant refused to provide further financial and other assistance.

(iv) The conduct of the complainant clearly shows that she is a mature person clearly capable of understanding the consequences of her acts and she was fully aware of the kind of illicit relationship she was maintaining with a married person.

(v) The complainant was fully aware that the appellant was already married and had two wives, though one of them was not keeping well.

27. Thus, from the above it appears that it is more of an extra-marital affair during the aforesaid period without any insistence by the complainant for getting married to the appellant. The fact that the complainant continued to have a physical relationship for a long time without any insistence on marriage would indicate the unlikelihood of any such promise made by the appellant for marrying her and it rather indicates that the relationship was a consensual one.'

16. In the same way the case of Uday (surpa) is also not applicable in the present case, as in that case the accused and victim were neighbours and used to meet each other regularly. Once the accused has proposed her for marriage, on which the victim has refused, as she belongs to different caste. It is thereafter that the allegation of rape on false promise of marriage has been levelled by the victim. The relevant paragraph 21 relied by learned counsel for applicant is reiterated underneath:-

'21. It, therefore appears that the consensus of judicial opinion is in favour of the view that the consent given by the prosecutrix to sexual intercourse with a person with whom she is deeply in love on a promise that he would marry her on a later date, cannot be said to be given under a misconception of fact. A false promise is not a fact within the meaning of the Code. We are inclined to agree with this view, but we must add that there is no strait jacket formula for determining whether consent given by the prosecutrix to sexual intercourse is voluntary, or whether it is given under a misconception of fact. In the ultimate analysis, the tests laid down by the Courts provide at best guidance to the judicial mind while considering a question of consent, but the Court must, in each case, consider the evidence before it and the surrounding circumstances, before reaching a conclusion, because each case has its own peculiar facts which may have a bearing on the question whether the consent was voluntary, or was given under a misconception of fact. It must also weigh the evidence keeping in view the fact that the burden is on the prosecution to prove each and every ingredient of the offence, absence of consent being one of them.'

17. In the present case the accused applicant is a married man and came in contact with the victim through social media app. Called the victim to a hotel where the accused applicant no. 1 had entered in sexual intercourse with the victim. It is the case of victim that she was not knowing that the accused applicant no. 1 was married. She also did not know whether the accused applicant no. 1 is the husband of a girl of her village. The prior knowledge of victim that applicant no. 1 was married at the time when she entered into sexual intercourse with him is the matter of trial, because the record is clear and explicit on the point that the victim was not knowing about the marital status of applicant no. 1. Moreover, the accused applicant no. 1 while entering into sexual intercourse with the victim knew that he is a married man and his false promise of marriage to the victim will be broken, therefore, the allegation of deceit is from the very beginning of entering into sexual intercourse. The point of consent of sexual intercourse, knowing the marriage of applicant no. 1, is the matter of trial and the allegation of criminal intimidation levelled on other co-accused, applicant nos. 2 to 4 is also apparent and explicit on record and subject matter of trial.

18. The scope of ambit of the powers of the High Court invoking under Section 482 CrPC or 528 BNSS are very wide, but should be exercised with circumspection and in rarest of rare and appropriate cases. This power do not confer arbitrary jurisdiction to act according to whims and caprice and is used to prevent the abuse of process of law and for procuring the ends of justice. This preposition of law is enunciated in the cases of Kurukshetra University Vs. State of Haryana6 and the State of Haryana Vs. Bhajan Lal7. In the case of Som Mittal Vs. Government of Karnataka8, Hon'ble the Supreme Court has given an expression of 'rarest of rare case', while describing the scope of Section 482 CrPC. This view is consistently maintained by Hon'ble the Supreme Court till the present day, which is settled by 'en' number of judgments, latest are Naresh Potteries Vs. Aarti Industries9 and Punit Beriwala Vs. State (NCT) of Delhi10.

19. Therefore, the application under Section 528 BNSS is devoid of merit and is dismissed.

(2026) 2 ILRA 875
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 18.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE ARUN BHANSALI, C.J.
THE HON'BLE JASPREET SINGH, J.

Appeal U/S 37 Of Arbitration & Conciliation Act 1996 No.- 5 of 2024

Sanjay Gandhi Post Graduate Institute of Medical Science, Lucknow ...Applicant
Versus
M/S Trishul Enterprises ...Respondent

Issue for Consideration

Issue pertains to whether the arbitral award dated 20.08.2020, as affirmed by the Commercial Court u/s 34 of Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996, suffers from patent illegality or jurisdictional error warranting interference u/s 37 of the Act, particularly on the ground that the Sole Arbitrator exceeded the scope of reference by adjudicating claims beyond the terms of contract and the arbitration agreement.

Headnotes

Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996 - ss. 11, 34, 37 - Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 - O. 2 R. 2 - Arbitral Award - Modification - Severability - Jurisdiction of Arbitrator - Appeal - Scope of - Arbitration clause - Interpretation of - The instant dispute emanates from an agreement dated 16.04.2008 executed between the appellant, and respondent contractor for carrying out landscaping and maintenance works for a stipulated period, which agreement incorporated an arbitration clause - Upon the expiry of contract and emergence of disputes, particularly concerning alleged non-payment of dues including security deposit and other claims, the respondent initially approached the High Court by way of writ petition seeking, inter alia, appointment of an arbitrator, pursuant to which a Sole Arbitrator came to be appointed - Owing to certain procedural delays and change of arbitrator, fresh arbitral proceedings were commenced, culminating in an award dated 20.08.2020 whereby the Arbitrator partly allowed the respondent's claims, including refund of security deposit, reimbursement towards provident fund contributions, and other monetary reliefs - The appellant, assailing the said award as being contrary to the terms of contract and beyond the scope of reference, instituted proceedings u/s

34 of Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996 before the Commercial Court, which, by judgment dated 29.11.2023, dismissed the challenge and upheld the award - Aggrieved thereby, the appellant has preferred the instant appeal u/s 37 of the Act before the High Court, calling into question the legality and jurisdictional validity of arbitral award as affirmed by Commercial Court.

Held: Considering the findings given by Sole Arbitrator while considering issue nos. 5 and 12, it would reveal that the Arbitrator has entirely misconstrued the agreement and has gone beyond the terms of contract rendering the award susceptible to judicial interference - The Commercial Court No.1 also fell in the same error and it failed to consider the terms of contract and the manner in which it was construed by Sole Arbitrator - The manner in which the Commercial Court No.1 decided the petition u/s 34 of Act of 1996 by merely considering the respective contention, noticing certain decisions of Apex Court and without appreciating its applicability to the given set of facts and circumstances of case at hand and it dismissed the petition, cannot be appreciated in law - Thus, the claim relating to Employee Provident Fund Contribution granted by Sole Arbitrator and upheld by Commercial Court No.1 is unsustainable in law and is liable to be set aside - It is a fit case where certain claims which could not have been granted can be severed from the award and preserve the remaining part rather than setting aside the entire award - Accordingly, the claims under the head of Employee Provident Fund Contribution reimbursement of Rs.6,17,629/- alongwith interest at the rate of 18% per annum and the claim relating to refund of security money of Rs.6,12,000/- and bill of Rs.9456/- with 18% interest per annum are disallowed and rejected - The rest of claims as awarded shall remain intact and preserved - Accordingly, the award dated 20.08.2020 shall stand modified - It will be open for the respondent to raise his claims relating to return of security money and any other outstanding bill of claims pertaining to contract No.107 of 2013 - 2014, if the law so permits, before the appropriate forum/court - Appeal partly allowed. [Paras 40, 46 to 48] (E-13)

Case Law Cited

State of Chhattisgarh v. SAL Udyog (P) Ltd., (2022) 2 SCC 275; PSA SICAL Terminals Pvt. Ltd. v. Board of Trustees of V.O. Chidambranar Port Trust Tuticorin and others, AIR 2021 SC 4661; Group 4 Securities Guarding Ltd. v. Employees Provident Fund Appellate Tribunal and others, 2011 Lawsuit (Del) 3837; B.R. Patil v. Tulsa Y. Sawkar, 2022 SCC OnLine SC 240; UCM Coal Co. Ltd. v. Adani Enterprises Ltd., 2025 SCC OnLine All 7608; M/s. Regenvo Mobile Private Limited Lucknow v. M/s. Siyogi Enterprises and others, 2026(1) ADJ 250 (DB)(LB); Gayatri Balasamy v. ISG Novasoft Technologies Ltd., (2025) 7 SCC 1 - referred to

List of Acts

Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996; Code of Civil Procedure, 1908

List of Keywords

Arbitral award; Commercial Court; Sole Arbitrator; Maintenance of landscape; Arbitration Agreement; Mandamus; Arbitration clause; Reference to arbitration; Jurisdiction of Arbitrator; Excess of jurisdiction; Terms of contract; Contractual provisions; Interpretation of contract; Creature of contract; Adjudication of disputes; Non-arbitrable disputes; Separate contract; Subject matter of arbitration; Claim petition; Findings of Arbitrator; Reimbursement of provident fund contribution; Refund of security deposit; Imposition of penalty; Deduction from bills; Commercial Court; Severability of award; Modification of award; Setting aside of award; Preservation of award;; Principal employer; Labour law compliance; Arbitral proceedings; Arbitral tribunal; Jurisdictional error; Illegality going to the root of matter; Adjudicatory limits of Arbitrator; Appeal partly allowed.

Case Arising From

APPELLATE JURISDICTION: Appeal u/s 37 of Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996 No. - 5 of 2024

From the Judgment and Order dated 29.11.2023 passed by the Commercial Court No.1, Lucknow in Arbitration Case No.119 of 2020

Appearances for Parties

Advs. for the Appellant:
Pritish Kumar, Shubham Tripathi

Advs. for the respondent:
Ashish Gupta (in Person)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Jaspreet Singh, J.)

1. Under challenge is the judgment and order dated 29.11.2023 passed by the Commercial Court No.1, Lucknow in Arbitration Case No.119 of 2020 (Sanjay Gandhi Post Graduate Institute of Medical Sciences Lko. vs. M/s Trishul Enterprises) whereby a petition under Section 34 of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act 1996 (hereinafter referred to as the Act of 1996) was dismissed, as a consequence, the award passed by the Sole Arbitrator dated 20.08.2020 has been upheld.

2. In order to appreciate the controversy involved in the instant appeal, it will be appropriate to notice relevant facts leading upto this appeal.

3. An agreement was made between the appellant and the respondent bearing No.1 of 2008-2009, dated 16.04.2008 for the purposes of maintenance of the landscape in the campus of Sanjay Gandhi Post Graduate Institute of Medical Sciences (hereinafter referred to as the SGPGI). The agreement was for a period of three years and it could be extended till the finalization of a new tender process or three months which ever was earlier. The said agreement, inter alia, contained an arbitration clause.

4. The respondent initially filed Writ Petition No.10358 (M/B) of 2015 wherein the respondent sought a writ in the nature of mandamus directing the appellant to appoint an Arbitrator in terms of clause 27 of the agreement dated 16.04.2008. A further writ in the nature of mandamus was sought, seeking a direction for the appellant to release the security money amounting to Rs.6,12,000/- as well as payment of Rs.10,000/- which was allegedly withheld by the appellant. Before the Division Bench of this Court, it was informed by the appellant (who was the respondent in the writ court) that Dr. C.M. Pandey had already been appointed as a Sole Arbitrator. Taking note of the aforesaid statement, the writ petition was disposed of leaving it open for the respondent to get his claims adjudicated before the Sole Arbitrator.

5. In furtherance of the order passed by the High Court dated 06.11.2025 in Writ Petition No.10358 (M/B) of 2015 the respondent filed his statement of claim before the Sole Arbitrator, namely, Dr. C.M. Pandey. Despite the appointment of the Sole Arbitrator, he did not hold any proceedings, which led the respondent to file a contempt petition before the learned Single Judge of this Court bearing Contempt Petition No.427 (C) of 2016 and upon issuance of notice in the contempt proceedings, the Sole Arbitrator proceeded with the matter. However, the said Arbitrator could not conclude the proceedings as he retired.

6. Once again the respondent was compelled to approach the High Court and this time, it filed a petition under Section 11 of the Act of 1996 bearing number Arbitration Application No.29 of 2017 which was decided on 15.03.2019 and a fresh Arbitrator was appointed. This newly appointed Sole Arbitrator started the proceedings afresh taking it forward from the stage of exchange of pleadings. In the said arbitral proceedings, the respondent filed his statement of claim on 11.12.2015. The appellant (who was the respondent before the Arbitrator) filed its statement of defence including a counter claim dated 26.07.2019. The parties led evidence, and thereafter the Sole Arbitrator allowed the claims in part and made its award on 20.08.2020.

7. The appellant challenged the said award dated 20.08.2020 before the Commercial Court No.1 at Lucknow by filing a petition under Section 34 of the Act of 1996 which was registered as Arbitration Case No.119 of 2020.

8. The Commercial Court No.1 at Lucknow after hearing the parties did not find that there was any error in the award, hence it affirmed the award by means of its judgment dated 29.11.2023 which is under challenge in the instant appeal preferred under Section 37 of the Act of 1996.

9. Shri Pritish Kumar, learned Senior Counsel assisted by Shri Shubham Tripathi for the appellant primarily raised three grounds to attack the award passed by the Sole Arbitrator as well as the judgment passed by the Commercial Court No.1 at Lucknow:

(i) It was urged by the learned Senior Counsel that the Arbitrator committed a manifest error in allowing the claim raised by the respondent relating to refund of security money which was the subject matter of the claim and was covered by issue no.15 as framed by the Sole Arbitrator. It was submitted that the respondent in its claim petition in paragraph 15 had pleaded that after the contract period was over and even defect liability period had come to an end, yet the appellant did not release the security money of Rs.6,12,000/- and further a sum of Rs.10,000/- was illegally retained.

(ii) Learned Senior Counsel pointed out that this claim was absolutely without any basis since in terms of the contract bearing No.1 of 2008-2009, the respondent had merely submitted money security of Rs,3,35,000/- and the same had already been returned to the respondent.

(iii) It was also pointed out that in the statement of defence while replying to para-15 of the statement of claim, it was specifically pleaded that under the Contract No.1 of 2007-2008 the respondent had only given the security money of Rs.3,35,000/- which had been returned. There was no way that any security money was paid amounting to Rs.6,12,000/-. Moreover, the respondent introduced a claim for seeking recovery of security money which related to another contract bearing No.107 of 2013-2014, which was a separate contract all together and the same was not the subject matter of the Arbitral proceedings. The respondent did not raise any claim in respect to the other contract yet by misguiding the Arbitrator the said claim relating to a different contract was introduced in the arbitration proceedings relating to contract no.1 of 2007-2008.

(iv) Learned Senior Counsel further submitted that the controversy before the Sole Arbitrator was only in respect of contract No.1 of 2007-2008 and not the later context which came into being i.e. Contract No.107 of 2013-2014. There was never any claim nor there was any request for referring any dispute emerging from the later contract for arbitration, thus, the said claim could not have been considered in the instant Arbitral proceedings. The Sole Arbitrator ,who is merely a creature of the contract, could not have extended its jurisdiction to include such a claim which was never the subject matter of reference to arbitration.

(v) Learned Senior Counsel further submitted that the Sole Arbitrator grossly over stepped its jurisdiction to include a claim for refund of security money which did not relate to the contract in question or the reference which was made to the Arbitrator. The Sole Arbitrator purposefully went ahead to grant the claim on the Sole premise that since the claim was between the same parties and there is no clear denial of the said claim, hence in the interest of justice the amount was awarded. This was clearly a patent illegality. Accordingly, the award on the aforesaid ground suffered from excess of jurisdiction and a manifest error which vitiated the award.

10. Learned Senior Counsel for the appellant has further submitted that the Sole Arbitrator committed a grave error in allowing the claim of the respondent relating to the contribution towards provident fund of the employees, which was covered by issues No.5 and 12 as framed by the Sole Arbitrator.

(i) It was submitted that the instant contract was never a labour contract nor the appellant was required to reimburse any Employee Provident Fund Contribution and such liability was the Sole responsibility of the respondent. Neither the appellant was the principal employer nor there was any clause in the agreement between the parties by which the liability of the respondent under the Employee Provident Fund could have been extended to the appellant.

(ii) The Sole Arbitrator completely misread the terms of the contract and rather by granting the aforesaid claim relating to Employee Provident Fund contribution, it has re-written the contract which was neither in the domain of the Sole Arbitrator nor it could be countenanced in law.

11. Learned Senior Counsel has further urged that the Sole Arbitrator exceeded its jurisdiction in awarding a sum of Rs.57,521/- which was alleged to have been deducted by the appellant by imposing a penalty. It was urged that the agreement clearly vested power with the appellant to make any deduction and impose any penalty on the respondent in case of any loss occasioned to the appellant on account of any fault in the working of the respondent. In these circumstances, allowing the claim by treating imposing of penalty and deducting the penalty amount from the bills of the respondent, as being bad in law was not justified. Hence, the award on this count too was erroneous and deserved to be set aside.

12. Learned Senior Counsel also urged that the aforesaid illegality which went to the root of the matter and affected the jurisdiction of the Sole Arbitrator rendering the award patently illegal was demonstrated before the Commercial Court No.1 at Lucknow. However, the said Court took a dim view of the matter and in a cursory manner without considering the material brought to the notice of the Court dismissed the petition under Section 34 of the Act of 1996 which itself was an erroneous exercise of jurisdiction. Hence, the judgment passed by the Commercial Court No.1, Lucknow dismissing the petition under Section 34 of the Act of 1996 dated 29.11.2023 deserves to be set aside as also the award dated 20.08.2020 after allowing this appeal.

13. In support of his submissions, the learned Senior Counsel for the appellant has relied upon the decision of the Apex Court in State of Chhattisgarh v. SAL Udyog (P) Ltd., (2022) 2 SCC 275 and PSA SICAL Terminals Pvt. Ltd. v. Board of Trustees of V.O. Chidambranar Port Trust Tuticorin and others, AIR 2021 SC 4661. He has also relied on a decision of Delhi High Court in Group 4 Securities Guarding Ltd. v. Employees Provident Fund Appellate Tribunal and others, 2011 Lawsuit (Del) 3837 .

14. Shri Ashish Gupta, who is a partner of the respondent firm appeared in person and submitted that the award passed by the Sole Arbitrator does not suffer from any manifest error nor the judgment passed by the Commercial Court No.1, Lucknow can be said to be erroneous and does not require any interference of this Court.

(i). Shri Gupta submitted that right from the inception the respondent had made his claim regarding the security money and at no point of time it was ever denied by the appellant nor an objection was taken that it did not relate to the Contract No.1 of 2007-2008.

(ii). Shri Gupta pointed out that when he filed his first writ petition bearing No.10358 (M/B) of 2015 the respondent had clearly sought a relief relating to the refund of the security money of Rs.6,12,000/-. Even before the writ court, it was never alleged by the appellant that the said security money did not relate to the contract in question.

(iii) It has further been submitted by Shri Gupta that it was the appellant who informed the writ court that it had appointed Dr. C.M. Pandey as an Arbitrator. Since, as per the contract the appellant was required to appoint the Arbitrator if the appellant thought fit it could have appointed the said Arbitrator for both the contracts together. However, at this stage, it cannot be said that the Sole Arbitrator has exceeded his jurisdiction in granting the claim for refund of security money relating to the other contract No.107 of 2013-2014.

(iv) Shri Gupta has further urged that in terms of Order 2 Rule 2 CPC, it was open for the respondent to club all his claims together and therefore since the security money was outstanding even though relating to a later contract and had not been refunded, hence the respondent was justified in making his claim in this regard. On the contrary, if the respondent had failed to raise all his claims then he would have been prevented from making his claim in view of the bar contained in Order 2 Rule 2 CPC.

(v) He further submitted that there is no denial of the fact that the said amount was outstanding and was required to be refunded. In this view of the matter, the Sole Arbitrator was justified in allowing the claim, which cannot be said to be bad. Moreover, once on the basis of the 'no denial' an award has been made which is based on evidence on record then such a finding cannot be assailed before the Court under Section 34 of the Act of 1996 and it is for the said reason, the Court rejected the petition of the appellant under Section 34 of the Act of 1996. Apparently, the jurisdiction of this Court to interfere under Section 37 of the Act of 1996 is narrower than scope of interference under Section 34, thus it will not entitle this Court to interfere with the award.

15. Shri Gupta taking his submissions forward urged that while submitting his bid for the contract, he had enclosed two letters dated 01.10.2007 and 30.10.2007 which were part of his bid and it was made part of the contract in terms of clause 23 of the contract. On a meaningful reading of the two letters, which were part of the contract, it would be clear that the respondent quoted his rates for the contract inclusive only of income tax. Any other new tax or duty if imposed was to be paid by the appellant institute over and above the quoted rates.

(i) Relying upon the aforesaid clause 23 and the two letters dated 01.10.2007 and 30.10.2007, it was submitted that the respondent had made his contribution to the Employee Provident Fund and the appellant was required to contribute its share. Since, it was not done hence the respondent had raised his claim which has been allowed by the Arbitrator and upheld by the Court while rejecting the petition under Section 34 of the Act of 1996. A view taken by the Sole Arbitrator which is plausible cannot be interfered with in a petition under Section 34 of the Act of 1996 and certainly not in appeal under Section 37 of the Act of 1996. Thus, the said award does not suffer from any error which may require interference from this Court.

16. Shri Gupta also pointed out that the appellant institute was not justified in imposing a penalty and deducting the same from the bills of the respondent especially without putting the respondent to any notice. (i) In this regard, the respondent had raised his claim and the appellant could not bring any evidence on record which could justify the imposition of penalty and deduction from the bill of the respondent, hence, the claim raised by the respondent was allowed.

(ii) It was stated that there is no palpable error either in the award or in the order passed by the Commercial Court No.1, Lucknow, hence the submission of the learned Senior Counsel for the appellant deserves to be turned down. The award as upheld by the order passed by the Commercial Court No.1, Lucknow requires no interference and the appeal being devoid of merit deserves to be dismissed.

17. Shri Gupta has relied upon the decision of the Apex Court in B.R. Patil v. Tulsa Y. Sawkar, 2022 SCC OnLine SC 240.

18. This Court has heard the learned Senior Counsel for the appellant and Shri Ashish Gupta in person for the respondent and also meticulously perused the record.

19. This Court had the occasion to consider the scope of an appeal under Section 37 of the Act 1996 in UCM Coal Co. Ltd. v. Adani Enterprises Ltd., 2025 SCC OnLine All 7608 and in M/s. Regenvo Mobile Private Limited Lucknow v. M/s. Siyogi Enterprises and others; 2026(1) ADJ 250 (DB)(LB). Keeping the parameters as noticed in the aforesaid two decisions, this Court has proceeded to examine the contention of the respective parties.

20. At the outset, it may be noticed that it is not disputed that two separate contracts were entered between the parties. It is also not disputed that the first contract dated 16.04.2008 bearing Contract No.1 of 2007-2008 was for a period of three years which came to an end in the year 2011. It is also not disputed that the second Contract bearing No.107 of 2013-2014 was entered after the first contract had come to an end in the year 2011. It is also not disputed that under the first contract, Contract No.1 of 2007-2008, the respondent had furnished the money security for a sum of Rs.3,35,000/-. It is also not disputed that the security money under the first contract was released by the appellant and received by the respondent . It is also not disputed that the sum of Rs.6,12,000/- was the security money given by the respondent in context with the second Contract No.107 of 2013-2014.

21. In this backdrop, it would be relevant to notice that in the first writ petition filed by the respondent bearing No.10358 (M/B) of 2015 the respondent had primarily sought a relief of mandamus commanding the appellant institute to appoint a Sole Arbitrator. This is evident from the copy of the writ petition, which is on record. A Co-ordinate Bench of this Court on 06.11.2015 disposed of the said writ petition with a direction to the respondent herein to submit his claims before the Arbitrator concerned who was required to take a look into the matter and take a decision accordingly. The relevant portion of the order dated 06.11.2025 is being reproduced hereinafter for ease of reference:-

"The petitioner entered into an agreement between himself and Sanjai Gandhi Post Graduate Institute of Medical Science, Lucknow on 16.4.2008 and wants to settle his dispute outside the Court by way of recourse as is provided under Clause-27 of the agreement.

Mr. Rajnish Kumar Advocate, holding brief of Sri I.P.Singh, learned Counsel for Sanjai Gandhi Post Graduate Institute of Medical Science, Lucknow, has submitted that for settlement of dispute Dr. C.M.Pandey, Head of Department, Biostatics and Health Informatics, Sanjai Gandhi Post Graduate Institute of Medical Science, Lucknow, has already been appointed as Arbitrator to settle the dispute.

In view of the aforesaid submission, we hereby direct the petitioner to address his claim before the Arbitrator concerned, who shall look into the matter and take decision accordingly.

Accordingly, this petition is disposed of."

22. From the perusal of the aforesaid order, it would indicate that it specifically referred to the agreement entered between the parties dated 16.04.2008. It will also be relevant to mention that even in the entire writ petition the respondent had not raised any reference relating to the subsequent Contract No.107 of 2013-2014. Thus, the only inference which can be drawn from the order passed by the Division Bench dated 06.11.2015 is that the liberty was granted to the respondent to get his claims adjudicated by the Sole Arbitrator.

23. In this regard, if the statement of claim filed by the respondent is perused, it would reveal that it also relates to Contract No.1 of 2007-2008 and it does not make any reference to the subsequent Contract No.107 of 2013-2014. At this stage, it will also be relevant to notice that in paragraph-15 of the statement of defence containing counter claim filed by the appellant herein a specific plea was taken denying the claim raised by the respondent herein for the security money. For the ease of reference, para-15 of the statement of defence is being reproduced hereinafter:-

"That Claim No.15 as raised in paragraph 15 of the statement of claim pertains to withholding of security deposit of the petitioner of Rs.6,12,000/-. A perusal of the contract in the instant case in Clause 24 would reveal that as far as the present contract is concerned, the security deposit made by the claimant (contractor) was of Rs.3,35,000/- and not Rs.6,12,000/-. Even the security deposit of Rs.3,35,000/- has been released to the claimant (contractor). However, the petitioner has mixed up another contract relating to development of horticulture in the present claim petition, which is not permissible and beyond the scope of instant Arbitrator. The said contract, which bears Contract No.107 of 2013, is not the subject matter of arbitration before this Hon'ble Arbitral Tribunal and, therefore, any claim relating to the said separate contract No.107 of 2013-14 cannot be sustained or maintained by the claimant (contractor) and as such the same deserves to be rejected by this Hon'ble Arbitral Tribunal."

24. From the perusal of the aforesaid paragraph, it would reveal that it was clearly stated that Contract No.107 of 2013-2014 was not the subject matter of the arbitration proceedings and the Arbitral Tribunal could not consider the claim of a different contract in the instant proceedings.

25. The respondent could not dispute the fact that while the evidence was led before the Arbitral Tribunal, no plea relating to the separate Contract No.107 of 2013-2014 was raised nor it was made the subject matter. Despite the clear plea taken by the appellant, no evidence was led by the respondent in this regard to substantiate that in the scope of reference relating to Contract No.1 of 2007-2008, the claim relating to Contract No.107 of 2013-2014 could be introduced in the very same Arbitral proceedings. It also could not be established that the respondent had raised the disputes in respect of both the contracts, rather the record reflects that the disputes which had been raised were particularly in respect of contract bearing No.1 of 2007-2008. There were no pleadings nor evidence brought on record which could give any indication that claims of the subsequent contract was also raised or included.

26. The respondent could not dispute the fact that the Sole Arbitrator which was appointed, whether it be Dr. C. M. Pandey or the Arbitrator appointed vide order dated 22.02.2019, both entered into reference relating to the disputes arising out of Contract No.1 of 2007-2008 and no dispute was referred to the Arbitral Tribunal relating to Contract No.107 of 2013-2014. In this view of the matter, the Arbitral Tribunal was constituted in terms of the Arbitration Clause No.27 emanating from Contract No.1 of 2007-2008 for adjudicating the disputes only in relation to the Contract No.1 of 2007-2008.

27. It is now too well settled to be disputed that the Arbitrator is a creature of the contract and it can only adjudicate such disputes which are referred to it by the parties. It is not open for the Sole Arbitrator to travel beyond the terms of the contract or terms of the reference.

28. This aspect of the matter was considered by this Court in M/s. Regenvo Mobile (supra) wherein in paragraph 38 and 40 it was noticed as under:-

"38. It will be relevant to examine how an arbitration clause is to be interpreted. Whether it requires strict or liberal interpretation so as to expand the scope of arbitral disputes, even though they may not have been explicitly provided in the clause/agreement, was considered by the Apex

Court in (i) Harsha Constructions v. Union of India, (2014) 9 SCC 246, (ii) United India Insurance Co. Ltd. v. Hyundai Engg. & Construction Co. Ltd., (2018) 17 SCC 607, (iii) Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd. v. Narbheram Power and Steel (P) Ltd., (2018) 6 SCC 534. The aforesaid judgments were relied upon by the Apex Court in its later judgment in Indian Oil Corpn. Ltd. v. NCC Ltd., (2023) 2 SCC 539 and Emaar (India) Ltd. v. Tarun Aggarwal Projects LLP, (2023) 13 SCC 661. To avoid duplicacy, the relevant paragraphs of Emaar (supra) is being reproduced hereinafter :

"14. In Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd. v. Narbheram Power & Steel (P) Ltd. [Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd. v. Narbheram Power & Steel (P) Ltd., (2018) 6 SCC 534 : (2018) 3 SCC (Civ) 484], it is observed and held by this Court that the parties are bound by the clauses enumerated in the policy and the Court does not transplant any equity to the same by rewriting a clause. It is further observed and held that an arbitration clause is required to be strictly construed. Any expression in the clause must unequivocally express the intent of arbitration. It can also lay the postulate in which situations the arbitration clause cannot be given effect to. It is further observed that if a clause stipulates that under certain circumstances there can be no arbitration and they are demonstrably clear then the controversy pertaining to appointment of Arbitrator has to be put to rest (paras 10-23).

15. In Rajasthan State Industrial Development & Investment Corpn. v. Diamond & Gem Development Corpn. Ltd. [Rajasthan State Industrial Development & Investment Corpn. v. Diamond & Gem Development Corpn. Ltd., (2013) 5 SCC 470 : (2013) 3 SCC (Civ) 153], it is observed and held by this Court that a party cannot claim anything more than what is covered by the terms of the contract, for the reason that the contract is a transaction between two parties and has been entered into with open eyes and by understanding the nature of contract. It is further observed that thus the contract being a creature of an agreement between two or more parties has to be interpreted giving literal meanings unless there is some ambiguity therein. The contract is to be interpreted giving the actual meaning to the words contained in the contract and it is not permissible for the Court to make a new contract, however reasonable, if the parties have not made it themselves. It is further observed that the terms of the contract have to be construed strictly without altering the nature of a contract as it may affect the interest of either of the parties adversely (para 23).

16. In Harsha Constructions v. Union of India [Harsha Constructions v. Union of India, (2014) 9 SCC 246 : (2014) 4 SCC (Civ) 803], it is observed and held by this Court in paras 18 and 19 as under : (SCC p. 251)

"18. Arbitration arises from a contract and unless there is a specific written contract, a contract with regard to arbitration cannot be presumed. Section 7(3) of the Act clearly specifies that the contract with regard to arbitration must be in writing. Thus, so far as the disputes which have been referred to in Clause 39 of the contract are concerned, it was not open to the Arbitrator to arbitrate upon the said disputes as there was a specific clause whereby the said disputes had been "excepted". Moreover, when the law specifically makes a provision with regard to formation of a contract in a particular manner, there cannot be any presumption with regard to a contract if the contract is not entered into by the mode prescribed under the Act.

19. If a non-arbitrable dispute is referred to an Arbitrator and even if an issue is framed by the Arbitrator in relation to such a dispute, in our opinion, there cannot be a presumption or a conclusion to the effect that the parties had agreed to refer the issue to the Arbitrator. In the instant case, the respondent authorities had raised an objection relating to the arbitrability of the aforestated issue before the Arbitrator and yet the Arbitrator had rendered his decision on the said "excepted" dispute. In our opinion, the Arbitrator could not have decided the said "excepted" dispute. We, therefore, hold that it was not open to the Arbitrator to decide the issues which were not arbitrable and the award, so far as it relates to disputes regarding non-arbitrable disputes is concerned, is bad in law and is hereby quashed."

* * * * *

19. On the question, who decides on non-arbitrability of the dispute, after referring to and considering the earlier decisions on the point, more particularly, the decisions in Garware Wall Ropes Ltd. v. Coastal Marine Constructions & Engg. Ltd. [Garware Wall Ropes Ltd. v. Coastal Marine Constructions & Engg. Ltd., (2019) 9 SCC 209 : (2019) 4 SCC (Civ) 324], United India Insurance Co. Ltd. v. Hyundai Engg. & Construction Co. Ltd. [United India Insurance Co. Ltd. v. Hyundai Engg. & Construction Co. Ltd., (2018) 17 SCC 607 : (2019) 2 SCC (Civ) 530] and Narbheram Power & Steel [Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd. v. Narbheram Power & Steel (P) Ltd., (2018) 6 SCC 534 : (2018) 3 SCC (Civ) 484], it is observed and held in Vidya Drolia case [Vidya Drolia v. Durga Trading Corpn., (2021) 2 SCC 1 : (2021) 1 SCC (Civ) 549] that the question of non-arbitrability relating to the inquiry, whether the dispute was governed by the arbitration clause, can be examined by the Courts at the reference stage itself and may not be left unanswered, to be examined and decided by the Arbitral Tribunal. Thereafter, in para 153, it is observed and held that the expression, "existence of arbitration agreement" in Section 11 of the Arbitration Act, would include aspect of validity of an arbitration agreement, albeit the Court at the reference stage would apply the prima facie test. It is further observed that in cases of debatable and disputable facts and, good reasonably arguable case, etc. the Court would force the parties to abide by the arbitration agreement as the Arbitral Tribunal has the primary jurisdiction and authority to decide the disputes including the question of jurisdiction and non-arbitrability.'

* * *

40. The Apex Court in in Pam Development Private Limited v. State of West Bengal, (2024) 10 SCC 715, had the occasion to consider the effect of excepted/prohibitory clauses in an agreement and in this regard it held as under :

"12. This submission is persuasive, but the contract clauses speak for themselves. In fact, the High Court did what the Arbitrator should have done. Examine what the contract provides. This is not even a matter of interpretation. It is the duty of every Arbitral Tribunal and Court alike and without exception, for contract is the foundation of the legal relationship. Having considered the abovereferred clauses in the contract the High Court came to the conclusion that awarding any amount towards idle, machinery, etc. is prohibited under the "Special Terms and Conditions" of the contract. The Arbitrator did not even refer to the contractual provisions and the District Court dismissed the objections under Section 34 with a standard phrase as extracted hereinabove. The High Court exercising jurisdiction under Section 37 did its duty and we are of the opinion that the conclusions of the High Court are correct and cannot be interfered with."

29. In light of the aforesaid undisputed facts, it is clear that the Sole Arbitrator had no jurisdiction to enter into an unchartered territory which was occupied by the subsequent Contract No.107 of 2013-2014 which was never made the subject matter of reference. Hence, if any disputes which emerged from the subsequent contract it could not have been entertained or adjudicated upon by the Sole Arbitrator. Thus, the attempt of the Sole Arbitrator to take cognizance of such a claim was beyond its jurisdiction.

30. In this regard, the observations of the Apex Court in Sal Udyog Private Limited (supra) are relevant and in paragraph 26, it held as under:-

26. To sum up, existence of Clause 6(b) in the agreement governing the parties, has not been disputed, nor has the application of the Circular dated 27-7-1987 issued by the Government of Madhya Pradesh regarding imposition of 10% supervision charges and adding the same to cost of the Sal seeds, after deducting the actual expenditure been questioned by the respondent Company. We are, therefore, of the view that failure on the part of the learned Sole Arbitrator to decide in accordance with the terms of the contract governing the parties, would certainly attract the "patent illegality ground", as the said oversight amounts to gross contravention of Section 28(3) of the 1996 Act, that enjoins the Arbitral Tribunal to take into account the terms of the contract while making an award. The said "patent illegality" is not only apparent on the face of the award, it goes to the very root of the matter and deserves interference. Accordingly, the present appeal is partly allowed and the impugned award, insofar as it has permitted deduction of "supervision charges" recovered from the respondent Company by the appellant State as a part of the expenditure incurred by it while calculating the price of the Sal seeds, is quashed and set aside, being in direct conflict with the terms of the contract governing the parties and the relevant circular. The impugned judgment dated 21-10-2009 is modified to the aforesaid extent."

Similar observations were made by the Apex Court in PSA SICAL Terminals Pvt. Ltd. (supra).

31. Thus, as far as the first contention of the learned Senior Counsel for the appellant relating to the grant of claim of refund of security money of Rs.6,12,000/- is concerned, has substance and it finds favour with this Court.

32. It would also be relevant to notice at this stage, that the Commercial Court No.1, Lucknow should have considered this aspect of the matter. However, it has abdicated its duties in exercising its powers under Section 34 of the Act of 1996. The Commercial Court No.1, Lucknow merely relying upon certain decisions of the Apex Court has refused to interfere with the award without even noticing whether the Arbitrator could have granted or allowed the claim in respect of a separate contract for which no reference was made. It appears that the Commercial Court No.1, Lucknow did not apply its judicial mind and dismissed the petition in a mechanical exercise of jurisdiction which cannot be appreciated, rather reflects poorly of it.

33. The second limb of the submission of the learned Senior Counsel for the appellant relating to the Employee Provident Fund Contribution, if examined, it would reveal that the agreement entered between the parties, a copy of which is on record would indicate that the contract was given by the appellant institute for the purpose of landscape maintenance of the institute. Clause 3 and 4 of the agreement reads as under:-

"3. The workers of the CONTRACTOR shall not be treated as employees of the Institute in any case of CONTRACTOR will be Solely responsible for their affairs and will be under obligation to comply with the statutory obligations. These workers will have no claim whatsoever, to be treated as employees of the Institute.

4. The CONTRACTOR will have to abide by the Minimum Wages Act and the other statutory labour laws, rules and regulations as applicable in the State of Uttar Pradesh. Any liability arising on the Institute as principal employer shall be deducted from the bills of the CONTRACTOR and the full amount shall be recovered from the security money and subsequent monthly bills of the CONTRACTOR."

34. The clauses clearly indicate that the workers of the contractor (referring to the respondent herein) shall not be treated as employees of the institute and in any case the contractor would be solely responsible for his own affairs. He was under an obligation to comply with the statutory compliances. The workers could not have any claim whatsoever to be treated as employees of the institute. Similarly, clause 4 of the agreement directed the contractor to abide by the Minimum Wages Act and others statutory Labour Laws as applicable in the State of U.P..

35. The contract further indicated that the appellant was only liable to make the payment to the respondent as per the rates mentioned in clause 42 of the agreement. For better appreciation, Clause 39 to 41 of the contract are being reproduced:-

"39. PAYMENT SCHEDULE;- MAINTENANCE WORK

Normally the payment will be on month basis of Horticulture maintenance works only on submission of the bill after verification and measurement of work by Nodal Officer in every month against work order issued by Horticulture Officer.

40. The CONTRACTOR must ensure that the payment of minimum wages shall be made to his labour in the presence of the Institute representative nominated by the Director of Institute.

41. Payment will be released by the Institute after submission of payment voucher alongwith EPF deposit receipt by the CONTRACTOR RATE."

36. The aforesaid clauses reproduced above, if read together, would indicate that they were incorporated to work as a deterrent for the respondent and was to ensure compliance of necessary labour welfare laws. It did not in any manner, create any relationship between the workers of the respondent and the appellant as an employer or principal employer.

37. In the same vein, the letters dated 01.10.2007 and 30.10.2007 which have been made part of the contract in terms of clause 23 would indicate that it relates only to taxes and duties and cannot be extended to any other labour law compliances. It is not disputed that the Employee Provident Fund Contribution cannot be treated as tax or any duty.

38. The appellant had not given any labour contract that is to say that the respondent was to act as an outsourcing agency to provide the workers to the appellant, rather the entire tenor and texture of the contract dated 16.04.2008 was to give landscaping maintenance agreement to the respondent who exclusively, was to execute the same by himself and through his own workers.

39. In such circumstances, if the respondent had made any Employee Provident Fund Contribution, it was a matter between the respondent and his workers. The agreement did not envisage creating any relationship of employer and employee between the workers of the respondent and the appellant. Thus, in such circumstances, any claim for Employee Provident Fund Contribution could not have been allowed by the Sole Arbitrator.

40. Considering the findings given by the Sole Arbitrator while considering issue nos.5 and 12, it would reveal that the Arbitrator has entirely misconstrued the agreement and has gone beyond the terms of the contract rendering the award susceptible to judicial interference. At the very same time the Commercial Court No.1, Lucknow also fell in the same error and it failed to consider the terms of the contract and the manner in which it was construed by the Sole Arbitrator. The manner in which the Commercial Court no.1, Lucknow decided the petition under Section 34 of the Act of 1996 by merely considering the respective contention, noticing certain decisions of the Apex Court and without appreciating its applicability to the given set of facts and circumstances of the case at hand and it dismissed the petition under Section 34 of the Act of 1996, cannot be appreciated in law. Thus the claim relating to Employee Provident Fund Contribution granted by the Sole Arbitrator and upheld by the Commercial Court no.1, Lucknow is unsustainable in law and is liable to be set aside.

41. The learned Senior Counsel for the appellant though had made submissions regarding the claim relating to the deduction made by the appellant referable to the penalty imposed but could not substantiate the same and candidly made a statement that he does not wish to press his third submission. Hence this Court does not propose to delve any further into it and suffice to state that the said ground shall stand rejected as not pressed.

42. This Court in light of the detailed discussions as noticed hereinabove finds that two of the claims awarded could not have been allowed. Now, as a concomitant whether the entire award is required to be set aside or the award dated 20.08.2020 can be modified, by severing the offending part of the award and preserving the remaining part.

43. In order to overcome the said dilemma, this Court first deems appropriate to examine what claims have been allowed and for the ease of reference, the concluding portion of the award is being reproduced hereinafter:-

"Claimant has claimed in his original claim Rs.31,04,533/- and security money with expenses.

It shows claimant is uncertain and confuse for the amount of claim.

(i) None supply of diesel lawn mover @ 48,0000/- per year and for three years Rs.1,44,000/- and 18% interest thereon.

(ii) Claimant is also entitled regarding EPF reimbursement Rs.6,17,629/- and also 18% interest thereon.

(iii) Claimant is also entitled Rs.57,521/- illegal fine which was imposed by opposite party and deducted from his bill with 18% interest thereon.

(iv) Claimant is also entitled refund of security money Rs.6,12,000/- and bill Rs.9,456/- with 18% interest thereon.

(v) Claimant is also entitled 5% increase in 3rd year of bill of Rs.1,74,996.- with 18% interest thereon.

(vi) Claimant is also entitled his advocate fees and other expenses Rs.5,15,000/-

So, total amount which claimant is entitled Rs.21,30,602/-."

44. Having considered the nature of the claim and the way they have been separately considered by the Sole Arbitrator and the claims have been awarded under distinct heads, this can permit this Court to examine whether the entire award needs to be set aside or only the offending part is capable of being severed and the award can be modified to the aforesaid extent.

45. From the bare reading of Section 34 of the Act 1996, it would indicate the language used in Section 34 of the Act of 1996 is "application for setting aside Arbitral awards". Whether the Courts in terms of Section 34 of the Act of 1996 has the power to modify the award. This specific question was referred to a Constitution Bench of the Supreme Court in Gayatri Balasamy v. ISG Novasoft Technologies Ltd., (2025) 7 SCC 1. The Apex Court after considering the provisions of the Act and the law held that the Courts do possess limited powers under the Act of 1996 to modify the award by applying the doctrine of severability in limited circumstances. What would be the limited scope and circumstances was explained in the majority judgment in Gayatri Balasamy (supra). The propositions and guidelines laid down by the Apex Court can be summarized as under:-

(i) Only severable awards are amenable to modification.

A composite or indivisible arbitral award cannot be modified. Modification is permissible only where the claims, or parts of the award, are legally and pragmatically severable from the valid portion. In such cases, the court may sever the invalid part while preserving the remainder of the award. This constitutes one of the essential guardrails laid down by the Supreme Court for the exercise of the limited power to modify an arbitral award.

(ii) The error sought to be corrected must be patent and apparent on the face of the record.

The Supreme Court has clarified that modification is confined to the correction of obvious and self-evident errors, such as clerical, computational, or typographical mistakes. Modification is permissible only where the court has no uncertainty or doubt as to the correction; if the alleged error is debatable or not apparent on the face of the record, the court lacks jurisdiction to modify the award.

(iii) Modification is permissible for correcting or adjusting post-award interest.

Courts may modify an arbitral award where such modification is confined to the correction or adjustment of post-award interest, without disturbing the substantive findings of the Arbitral Tribunal.

(iv) Where modification is impermissible, the matter must be remanded.

In cases where the error cannot be corrected within the aforesaid guardrails and if it would require a review on merits or re-adjudication, the court must refrain from modifying the award and where permissible in law, remand the matter to the Arbitral Tribunal.

46. This Court applying the above mentioned principles finds that it is a fit case where certain claims which could not have been granted can be severed from the award and preserve the remaining part rather than setting aside the entire award. Accordingly, the claims under the head of Employee Provident Fund Contribution reimbursement of Rs.6,17,629/- alongwith interest at the rate of 18% per annum (which is at serial no.2 of paragraph 43 above) and the claim relating to the refund of security money of Rs.6,12,000/- and bill of Rs.9456/- with 18% interest per annum (which is at serial no.4 of paragraph 43 above) are disallowed and shall stand rejected. The rest of the claims as awarded and mentioned in paragraph 43 above shall remain intact and preserved. Accordingly, the award dated 20.08.2020 shall stand modified to the above extent.

47. It will be open for the respondent to raise his claims relating to the return of security money and any other outstanding bill of claims pertaining to contract no.107 of 2013-2014, if the law so permits, before the appropriate forum/court. It is made clear that this Court has not made any observation on merits relating to any claim of the respondent which may be relatable to Contract No.107 of 2013-2014 and if the respondent raises his claims in respect of the said contract, needless to say, it shall be considered on its own merits.

48. Subject to the modification made in the award dated 20.08.2020, as aforesaid, the appeal is partly allowed. In the facts and circumstances, there shall be no order as to costs.

(2026) 2 ILRA 891
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 20.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. GAUTAM CHOWDHARY, J.

Criminal Misc. Bail Application No. 1754 of 2026

Rohit ...Applicant
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ....Opposite Parties

विचारणीय प्रश्न

(i) क्या प्रकरण के तथ्यों एवं परिस्थितियों में आवेदक को जमानत पर मुक्त किया जाना उपयुक्त है;
(ii) क्या उपलब्ध साक्ष्यों एवं आरोपों की प्रकृति के आधार पर जमानत देने में कोई बाधा है।

हेडनोट्स

दाण्डिक विधि — जमानत — आरोपों का मूल्यांकन — भूमिका का अभाव:

निर्णीत: जहाँ प्रथम सूचना रिपोर्ट तथा पीड़िता के बयानों में आवेदक पर बलात्कार अथवा शारीरिक संबंध स्थापित करने का कोई आरोप नहीं लगाया गया, वहाँ अभिलेख पर उपलब्ध सामग्री से आवेदक की कथित घटना में भूमिका पर संदेह उत्पन्न होता है, जो जमानत प्रदान किए जाने के पक्ष में विचारणीय है। [Para 3]

दाण्डिक विधि — जमानत — विरोध — अभियोजन का प्रतिवाद:

निर्णीत: यद्यपि अभियोजन द्वारा यह तर्क प्रस्तुत किया गया कि अपराध संज्ञेय एवं गंभीर प्रकृति का है, तथापि केवल अपराध की गंभीरता, अन्य प्रासंगिक परिस्थितियों के अभाव में, जमानत अस्वीकार करने का एकमात्र आधार नहीं है। [Para 4–5]

दाण्डिक विधि — जमानत — साक्ष्य से छेड़छाड़ की संभावना — अभाव:

निर्णीत: जहाँ उपलब्ध सामग्री के आधार पर किसी ठोस विरोधात्मक सामग्री का अभाव हो तथा साक्ष्यों के साथ छेड़छाड़ की संभावना नहीं पाई जाती हो, वहाँ आवेदक को जमानत पर मुक्त किया जाना उपयुक्त है। [Para 5]

दाण्डिक विधि — जमानत — विचारण के गुण-दोष पर टिप्पणी — निषेध:

निर्णीत: जमानत प्रार्थना पत्र का निर्णय करते समय वाद के गुण-दोष पर कोई टिप्पणी किए बिना, परिस्थितियों के आधार पर जमानत प्रदान की जा सकती है। [Para 6]

दाण्डिक विधि — जमानत — शर्तें — अनुपालन:

निर्णीत: आवेदक को जमानत पर मुक्त करते समय यह शर्तें आरोपित की गईं कि वह साक्ष्यों से छेड़छाड़ नहीं करेगा, अभियोजन साक्षियों एवं पीड़िता को प्रभावित नहीं करेगा, न्यायालय के आदेशों का पालन करेगा, परीक्षण में सहयोग करेगा तथा जमानत की स्वतंत्रता का दुरुपयोग नहीं करेगा। [Para 6–7]

जमानत मंजूर। (E-14)

उद्धृत निर्णय (Case Law Cited)

— कोई नहीं —

अधिनियम / विधियाँ (List of Acts / Statutes)

भारतीय न्याय संहिता, 2023; लैंगिक अपराधों से बालकों का संरक्षण अधिनियम, 2012; भारतीय नागरिक सुरक्षा संहिता, 2023 ।

प्रमुख शब्द (List of Keywords)

जमानत; गंभीर अपराध; पीड़िता का बयान; भूमिका का अभाव; साक्ष्य से छेड़छाड़; जमानत की शर्तें।

उत्पत्ति (Case Arising From)

मु०अ०सं० 539/2025, धारा 137(2), 65(1) भारतीय न्याय संहिता एवं धारा 3/4(2) पॉक्सो एक्ट, थाना जलालाबाद, जिला शाहजहांपुर।

पक्षकारों के अधिवक्ता (Appearance for Parties)

आवेदक की ओर से: श्री अजय कुमार कश्यप

विपक्ष की ओर से: श्री शोभनाथ पाल, शासकीय अधिवक्ता (G.A.)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Gautam Chowdhary, J.)

1. वतर्मान दाि◌ण्ड क प्र कीणर् जमानत प्र ◌ा थर्ना पत्र आवेदक की ओर से मु०अ०सं०539/2025, अन्त गर्त धारा 137(2), 65(1) भारतीय न् या य संि◌हता एवं धारा 3/4(2)पाक्सो एक्ट , थाना जलालाबाद, ि◌जला शाहजहांपुर में जमानत पर मुक्त करने हेतु प्रस् तु तिकया गया है।

2. आवेदक के ि◌वद्वा न अिधवक्ता , पिरवादी के ि◌वद्व ◌ा न अिधवक्ता एवं ि◌वद्व ◌ा न अपरशासकीय अिधवक्ता को सुना तथा पत्रा वली का पिरशीलन ि◌कया।

3. आवेदक के ि◌वद्वा न अिधवक्ता ने तकर् प्रस् तु त ि◌कया ि◌क आवेदक को इस प्र करण में गलत एवं फजीर् ढंग से झूठा फंसाया गया है, उसने कथित अपराध कारि◌त नहीं ि◌कया है।इस मामलें में प्र ◌ा संि◌गक तथ्य यह है ि◌क प्र थम सूचना ि◌रपोटर् एवं कथित पीि◌ड़ ता द्व ◌ा राअपने धारा 180 के बयान में आवेदक पर बलात् का र करने का कोई आक्षे प

आरोिपतनहीं िकया गया है तथा कथित पीिड़ ता द्व ारा अपने धारा 183 भारतीय नागिरक सुरक्षासंिहता के बयान में आवेदक द्व ारा उसके साथ शारीिरक संबंध स् था िपत नहीं िकया गयाहै। इससे पिरलिक्ष त है िक आवेदक का कथित घटना में कोई भूिमका नहीं है। इसिलए,आवेदक जमानत पर मुक्त िकये जाने योग् य है। पुनः उनका कथन है िक आवेदक की ओरसे यह आश्वा सन िदया गया है िक वह कानून की प्र िक्र या में सहयोग करने के िलए तैयारहै और जब भी आवश्य कता होगी वह ईमानदारी से अदालत के समक्ष खुद को उपलब्धकराएगा और उन सभी शतोर्ं को स् वी कार करने के िलए भी तैयार है जो न् या यालय उसपर अिधरोिपत करेगी। आवेदक िनदोर् ष है तथा वह इस प्र करण में िद० 09.11.2025 सेकारागार में िनरुद्ध है। इसिलए आवेदक को जमानत पर छोड़ िदया जाय।

4. पिरवादी के िवद्वा न अिधवक्ता एवं िवद्व ान अपर शासकीय अिधवक्ता ने अिभयुक्त के जमानत का प्र बल िवरोध करते हु ए तकर् प्रस् तु त िकया िक अिभयुक्त द्व ारा काियत अपराध संज्ञे य एवं गंभीर प्र कृित का है, इसिलए अिभयुक्त को जमानत पर न छोड़ ा जाय।

5. उभय पक्ष के िवद्वा न अिधवक्ता के तकोर्ं के पिरप्रेक्ष् य एवं पत्रा वली पर उपलब्ध सारवान तथ्यों एवं पिरिस्थ ितयों का समग्र रू प से अवलोकन करने के बाद, सबूतों की प्रकृित और िकसी भी ठोस िवरोधात्म क सामग्री की अनुपिस्थ ित एवं उपलब्ध सामग्री से छेड़ छाड़ की संभावना न होने के तथ्य को देखते हु ए मेरी राय में आवेदक को जमानत परमुक्त करने का उपयुक्त आधार है।

6. अतः वाद के गुण-दोष पर िबना कोई िटप्प णी िकए हु ए आवेदक को उपरोक्त विणतअपराध में संबंिधत न् या यालय की संतुिष्ट पर व्य िक्त गत बंध-पत्र एवं अिधक धनरािश के दो स् था नीय प्र ितभू प्रस् तु त करने पर िनम् न िलिखत शतोर्ं के साथ जमानत पर छोड़ िदया जाय।

1. आवेदक िववेचना या परीक्ष ण के दौरान अिभयोजन साक्ष्यों के साथ छेड़ छाड़ नहीं करेगा।

2.आवेदक अिभयोजन साक्ष ियों व पीिड़ ता/ िशकायतकतार् को डरायेगा/धमकायेगा नहीं ।

3.आवेदक न् या यालय के आदेशों का पालन करेगा, वह परीक्ष ण के दौरान िबना कोईअनावश्य क स् थ गन िलए िनयत ितिथ पर न् या यालय में उपिस्थ त होगा तथा परीक्ष णमें ईमानदारी से सहयोग करेगा।

4.आवेदक जमानत पर िरहा होने के बाद जमानत की स् व तंत्र ता का दुरू पयोग नहीकरेगा और िकसी भी अपरािधक गितिविध में िलप् त नहीं होगा न कोई अपरािधककृत्य करेगा।

5.आवेदक प्रत् यक्ष या अप्रत् यक्ष रू प से मामले के तथ्यों से पिरचित िकसी भी व्य िक्तया पुिलस अिधकाियों को कोई प्र लोभन या धमकी नहीं देगा न ही उनसे कोईवायदा करेगा, िजसके कारण उन्हें न् या यालय में तथ्यों को उजागर करने से िवरतरहना पड़े।

.

7. उपरोक्त शतोर्ं में से िकसी के उल्लं घन के मामले में, िवचारण न् या यालय आवेदक की जमानत िनयमानुसार रद्द करने को स् व तंत्र है।

(2026) 2 ILRA 894
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 20.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE DR. GAUTAM CHOWDHARY, J.

Criminal Misc. Bail Application No. 5285 of 2026

Tahseen ...Applicant
Versus
State of U.P. & Ors. ....Opposite Parties

विचारणीय प्रश्न

(i) क्या प्रकरण के तथ्यों एवं परिस्थितियों में आवेदक को जमानत पर मुक्त किया जाना उपयुक्त है;
(ii) क्या उपलब्ध सामग्री के आधार पर जमानत देने में कोई बाधा विद्यमान है।

हेडनोट्स

दाण्डिक विधि — जमानत — सहमति — विरोध का अभाव:

निर्णीत: जहाँ सूचनाकर्ता द्वारा शपथपत्र के माध्यम से यह अवगत कराया गया कि वह आवेदक से विवाह कर चुकी है और अब उसके विरुद्ध कोई कार्यवाही नहीं करना चाहती, तथा अभियोजन की ओर से भी जमानत का विरोध नहीं किया गया, वहाँ जमानत प्रदान किए जाने का आधार विद्यमान था। [Para 3–4]

दाण्डिक विधि — जमानत — साक्ष्य से छेड़छाड़ की संभावना — अभाव:

निर्णीत: जहाँ उपलब्ध सामग्री के आधार पर साक्ष्यों के साथ छेड़छाड़ की कोई संभावना नहीं पाई गई और कोई ठोस विरोधात्मक सामग्री भी अभिलेख पर उपलब्ध नहीं थी, वहाँ आवेदक को जमानत पर मुक्त किया जाना उपयुक्त पाया गया। [Para 5]

दाण्डिक विधि — जमानत — विचारण के गुण-दोष पर टिप्पणी — निषेध:

निर्णीत: जमानत प्रार्थना पत्र पर निर्णय करते समय वाद के गुण-दोष पर कोई टिप्पणी किए बिना, उपलब्ध परिस्थितियों के आधार पर जमानत प्रदान की जा सकती है। [Para 6]

दाण्डिक विधि — जमानत — शर्तें — अनुपालन:

निर्णीत: आवेदक को जमानत पर मुक्त करते समय यह शर्तें आरोपित की गईं कि वह साक्ष्यों से छेड़छाड़ नहीं करेगा, अभियोजन साक्षियों को प्रभावित नहीं करेगा, न्यायालय के आदेशों का पालन करेगा, परीक्षण में सहयोग करेगा तथा जमानत की स्वतंत्रता का दुरुपयोग नहीं करेगा। [Para 6]

जमानत मंजूर। (E-14)

उद्धृत निर्णय (Case Law Cited)

— कोई नहीं —

अधिनियम / विधियाँ (List of Acts / Statutes)

भारतीय न्याय संहिता, 2023

प्रमुख शब्द (List of Keywords)

जमानत; सहमति; विरोध का अभाव; साक्ष्य से छेड़छाड़; जमानत की शर्तें; दाण्डिक कार्यवाही।

उत्पत्ति (Case Arising From)

मु०अ०सं० 298/2025, धारा 69/352/351(2)/351(3) बी.एन.एस., थाना कमलगंज, जिला फर्रूखाबाद।

पक्षकारों के अधिवक्ता (Appearance for Parties)

आवेदक की ओर से: श्री सुशांत मिश्रा

विपक्ष की ओर से: शासकीय अधिवक्ता (G.A.)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Gautam Chowdhary, J.)

1. सूची पुनरीिक्ष त वतर्मान दाण्ड क प्र कीणर् जमानत प्र ा थर्ना पत्र , आवेदक तहसीन की ओर से मु.अ.सं० 298/2025 अन्त गर्त धारा 69/ 352/ 351(2)/ 351(3) बी.एन.एस., थाना कमलगंज, िजला फरूर् खाबाद में जमानत पर मुक्त करने हेतु प्रस् तु त िकया गया है।

2. आवेदक के िवद्वा न अिधवक्ता एवं िवद्वा न अपर शासकीय अिधवक्ता को सुना तथा पत्रा वली कापिरशीलन िकया।

3. आवेदक के िवद्वा न अिधवक्ता ने तकर् प्रस् तु त िकया िक आवेदक को इस प्र करण में गलत एवंफजीर् ढंग से झूठा फंसाया गया है, उन्होने आगे कथन िकया िक सूचनाकतार् द्व ा रा अपने शपथ पत्र के माध् य म से यह अवगत कराया िक वह आवेदक से शादी कर चुकी है और अब वह आवेदक केिखलाफ कोई भी कायर्वाही नहीं करना चाहती। पुनः उनका कथन है िक आवेदक की ओर से यह आश्वा सन िदया गया है िक वह कानून की प्र िक्र या में सहयोग करने के िलए तैयार है और जब भीआवश्य कता होगी वह ईमानदारी से अदालत के समक्ष खुद को उपलब्ध कराएगा और उन सभी शतों को स् वी कार करने के िलए भी तैयार है जो न् या यालय उस पर अिधरोिपत करेगी। आवेदक िनदोर् ष है तथा वह इस प्र करण में िद० 05.01.2026 से कारागार में िनरुद्ध है इसिलए आवेदक को जमानत पर छोड़ िदया जाय।

4. िवद्वा न अपर शासकीय अिधवक्ता द्व ा रा भी आवेदक के िवद्वा न अिधवक्ता के बताए गए तथ्यों की पुिष्ट की गयी, और कथन िकया उन् हें इस तथ् य पर आवेदक के जमानत पर कोई आपित्त नहीं है।

5. आवेदक के िवद्वा न अिधवक्ता के तकोर्ं के पिरप्रेक्ष् य प्रश् न गत प्र करण में पत्रा वली पर उपलब्धसारवान तथ्यों एवं पिरिस्थ ितयों का समग्र रू प से अवलोकन करने के बाद, सबूतों की प्र कृित औरिकसी भी ठोस िवरोधात् म क सामग्र ी की अनुपिस्थ ित एवं उपलब्ध सामग्र ी से छेड़ छाड़ की संभावनान होने के तथ्य को देखते हु ए मेरी राय में आवेदक को जमानत पर मुक्त करने का उपयुक्त आधार है।

6. अतः वाद के गुण दोष पर िबना कोई िटप्प णी िकए हु ए आवेदक को उपरोक्त विणत अपराध मेंसंबंिधत न् या यालय की सन् तु िष्ट पर व्य िक्त गत बंध-पत्र एवं अिधक धनरािश के दो स् था नीय प्र ितभू प्रस्तुत करने करने पर िनम् न िलिखत शतोर्ं के साथ जमानत पर छोड़ िदया जाय।

1.आवेदक िववेचना या परीक्ष ण के दौरान अिभयोजन साक्ष् यों के साथ छेड़ छाड़ नहीं करेगा।

2.आवेदक अिभयोजन साक्ष यों व पीिड़ ता/ िशकायतकतार् को डरायेगा/धमकायेगा नहीं ।

3.आवेदक न् या यालय के आदेशों का पालन करेगा, वह परीक्ष ण के दौरान िबना कोई अनावश्य क स् थ गन िलए िनयत ितिथ पर न् या यालय में उपिस्थ त होगा तथा परीक्ष ण में ईमानदारी से सहयोग करेगा।

4.आवेदक जमानत पर िरहा होने के बाद जमानत की स् व तंत्र ता का दुरू पयोग नही करेगा और िकसी भी अपराधिक गितिविध में िलप्त नहीं होगा न कोई अपराधिक कृत्य करेगा।

5.आवेदक प्रत् यक्ष या अप्रत् यक्ष रू प से मामले के तथ्यों से पिरिचत िकसी भी व्य िक्त या पुिलसअिधकारियों को कोई प्र लोभन या धमकी नहीं देगा न ही उनसे कोई वायदा करेगा, िजसकेकारण उन् हें न् या यालय में तथ्यों को उजागर करने से िवरत रहना पड़े।

उपरोक्त शतोर्ं में से िकसी के उल्लं घन के मामले में, परीक्ष ण न् या यालय आवेदक की जमानत िनयमानुसार रद्द करने को स् व तंत्र है।

(2026) 2 ILRA 896
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 26.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE RAJIV GUPTA, J.
THE HON'BLE ACHAL SACHDEV, J.

Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No. 3822 of 2026

Kirti Verma ...Petitioner
Versus
State of U.P. ...Respondent

Issue for Consideration

(i) Whether a writ of mandamus can be issued directing re-recording of statement of the victim under Section 183 of the Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita, 2023;
(ii) Whether alleged non-compliance of procedural safeguards, particularly non-reading over of statement, warrants exercise of extraordinary jurisdiction for directing a second statement under Section 183 B.N.S.S.;

(iii) Whether, in the facts of the case, any exceptional circumstance existed justifying interference by the High Court.

Headnotes

Criminal Procedure — Statement under Section 183 B.N.S.S. — Nature and object:
Held: Section 183 B.N.S.S. provides a judicially supervised mechanism for recording statements/confessions to ensure voluntariness and reliability — It incorporates safeguards including explanation of rights, voluntariness, and reading over of statement — Such statement carries higher evidentiary value than police statements. [Paras 9–11]

Criminal Procedure — Re-recording of statement — Not a rule:
Held: The statutory scheme does not contemplate repeated or second recording of statement under Section 183 B.N.S.S. as a matter of course — Such statements are ordinarily recorded only once and meant to preserve reliable evidence. [Para 12]

Criminal Procedure — Extraordinary jurisdiction — Scope for second statement:
Held: High Court, in exercise of powers under Articles 226/227 of the Constitution and inherent jurisdiction, may direct re-recording only in exceptional cases — such as coercion, lack of voluntariness, procedural illegality, or compromised integrity of the statement — Power is discretionary and not routine. [Paras 13, 16]

Criminal Procedure — Procedural safeguards — Allegation of violation:
Held: Non-reading over of statement, if established, may constitute a serious procedural lapse affecting voluntariness and authenticity — However, mere allegation without substantiation is insufficient to invoke extraordinary jurisdiction. [Paras 15–16]

Criminal Procedure — Judicial review — Scope of interference:
Held: Where record indicates that statement was voluntarily made, read over to the maker, and duly signed, and procedural requirements were complied with, no ground exists for directing re-recording — Absence of extraordinary circumstances disentitles relief. [Paras 18–20]

Petition dismissed. (E-14)

Case Law Cited

Yogendra Yadav and others v. State of Jharkhand and another, (2014) 9 SCC 653 — distinguished.

List of Acts / Statutes

Constitution of India; Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita, 2023; Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita, 2023; Bharatiya Sakshya Adhiniyam, 2023.

List of Keywords

Re-recording of statement; Voluntariness; Procedural safeguards; Habeas jurisdiction; Extraordinary jurisdiction; Judicial confession; Victim statement; Reading over requirement; Abuse of process.

Case Arising From

Order dated 13.01.2026 passed by Additional District & Sessions Judge, FTC Court No. 01, Azamgarh, rejecting application for re-recording of statement under Section 183 B.N.S.S.

Appearance for Parties

For the Petitioner: Kirti Verma (in person)
For the Respondents: Learned A.G.A.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Achal Sachdev, J.)

1. The petitioner has filed a certified copy of her statement in the present case recorded under Section 183 B.N.S.S. before the Magistrate concerned.

2. Heard the petitioner Kirti Verma, who appears in person, learned A.G.A. for the State and perused the record and the case law cited by the petitioner.

3. The Petitioner, Kirti Verma, is complainant/victim in case crime number 320 of 2024, under sections 70(1), 352, 351(1), 61(2) B.N.S., 2023, Police Station Rani Ki Sarai, Azamgarh.

4. The petitioner, who is victim herein, has filed the present writ petition seeking issue of writ, order or direction in the nature of mandamus commanding and directing the respondent to re-record the statement of the victim/petitioner again under section 183 of B.N.S.S. 2023, in pursuance of order dated 13.01.2026 passed by the learned Additional District & Session Jude, FTC Court No. 01, Azamgarh and issue any other suitable writ, order or direction which the Court may deem fit and proper under the facts and circumstances of the case.

5. The petitioner has submitted that the petition is being filed strictly in compliance with and pursuant to the liberty granted by the order dated 13.01.2026 and is confined only to be procedural aspect as indicated by the learned court below and the petitioner is not seeking adjudication on the merits of the case, nor raising any factual controversy. The petitioner further submits that her statement has not been correctly recorded by the Magistrate and there has been gross violation of the express provisions of Section 183 B.N.S.S., which necessitates directions of this Court for re-recording of her statement under Section 183 B.N.S.S.

6. The learned Additional District & Session Judge, FTC Court No.01, Azamgarh in it's order dated 13.01.2026, while disposing applications dated 08.12.2025 and 09.01.2026 for re-recording of her statement under Section 183 B.N.S.S., made the following observations:-

(a). the Statement under section 183 B.N.S.S. is ordinarily recorded only once.

(b). any direction for recording such statement again can be issued only by the Hon'ble High Court or Hon'ble Supreme Court.

(c). until the procedural statement is clarified, it would not be appropriate to proceed further in the matter.

7. At this juncture, it is pertinent to refer to the provisions of Section 183 of B.N.S.S.

"183. (1). Any Magistrate of the District in which the information about commission of any offence has been registered, may, whether or not he has jurisdiction in the case, record any confession or statement made to him in the course of an investigation under this Chapter or under any other law for the time being in force, or at any time afterwards but before the commencement of the inquiry or trial:

Provided that any confession or statement made under this sub-section may also be recorded by audio-video electronic means in the presence of the advocate of the person accused of an offence:

Provided further that no confession shall be recorded by a police officer on whom any power of a Magistrate has been conferred under any law for the time being in force.

(2). The Magistrate shall, before recording any such confession, explain to the person making it that he is not bound to make a confession and that, if he does so, it may be used as evidence against him; and the Magistrate shall not record any such confession unless, upon questioning the person making it, he has reason to believe that it is being made voluntarily.

(3). If at any time before the confession is recorded, the person appearing before the Magistrate states that he is not willing to make the confession, the Magistrate shall not authorise the detention of such person in police custody.

(4). Any such confession shall be recorded in the manner provided in section 316 for recording the examination of an accused person and shall be signed by the person making the confession; and the Magistrate shall make a memorandum at the foot of such record to the following effect:'

"I have explained to (name) that he is not bound to make a confession and that, if he does so, any confession he may make may be used as evidence against him and I believe that this confession was voluntarily made. It was taken in my presence and hearing, and was read over to the person making it and admitted by him to be correct, and it contains a full and true account of the statement made by him.

Signed) A. B.

Magistrate."

(5). Any statement (other than a confession) made under sub-section (1) shall be recorded in such manner hereinafter provided for the recording of evidence as is, in the opinion of the Magistrate, best fitted to the circumstances of the case; and the Magistrate shall have power to administer oath to the person whose statement is so recorded.

(6) (a) In cases punishable under section 64, section 65, section 66, section 67, section 68, section 69, section 70, section 71, section 74, section 75, section 76, section 77, section 78, section 79 or section 124 of the Bhartiya Nayay Sanhita, 2023 the Magistrate shall record the statement of the person against whom such offence has been committed in the manner specified in sub-section (5), as soon as the commission of the offence is brought to the notice of the police:

Provided that such statement shall, as far as practicable, be recorded by a woman Magistrate and in her absence by a male Magistrate in the presence of a woman:

Provided further that in cases relating to the offences punishable with imprisonment for ten years or more or imprisonment for life or with death, the Magistrate shall record the statement of the witness brought before him by the police officer:

Provided also that if the person making the statement is temporarily or permanently mentally or physically disabled, the Magistrate shall take the assistance of an interpreter or a special educator in recording the statement:

Provided also that if the person making the statement is temporarily or permanently mentally or physically disabled, the statement made by the person, with the assistance of an interpreter or a special educator, shall be recorded through audio-video electronic means preferably by mobile phone;

(b) a statement recorded under clause (a) of a person, who is temporarily or permanently mentally or physically disabled, shall be considered a statement in lieu of examination-in-chief, as specified in section 142 of the Bhartiya Sakshya Adhiniyam, 2023 such that the maker of the statement can be cross-examined on such statement, without the need for recording the same at the time of trial.

(7). The Magistrate recording a confession or statement under this section shall forward it to the Magistrate by whom the case is to be inquired into or tried."

8. Moreover, Section 176 of B.N.S.S. relates to Procedure for Investigation and allows optional audio-video recording of statements during police investigation including any statement made to the police and for rape/sexual offence cases victim statements must preferably be recorded at their residence or place of choice by a woman officer and may use audio-video means.

9. Section 183 of B.N.S.S. corresponds to Section 164 Cr.P.C. and it mandates safeguards for voluntariness. The statements including confessions can be recorded in writing or through audio-video electronic means preferably by mobile phones. For certain vulnerable cases, example rape victims or disable persons audio-video recording is required or strongly preferred often by a woman Magistrate when applicable.

10. The primary purpose of Section 183 of B.N.S.S. is to provide a safe voluntary and judicially supervised mechanism for recording confessions (by the accused) and statements (witnesses or the victims) during a criminal investigation or even afterwards before inquiry or trial begins and this ensures that these statements or confession are made freely and without coercion and it carries higher reliability and evidentiary values as compared to ordinary police statements recorded under Section 180 B.N.S.S. The procedural safeguards directs constitutional rights under Article 20(3) and the Article 21 of the constitution against self incrimination and for fair procedure, the core objectives of section 183 B.N.S.S. is to prevent police coercion or torture and police officer cannot record confessions even though they may be adorned with magisterial powers. Only a Judicial Magistrate can record a statement under Section 183 B.N.S.S., thus reducing risk of forced or induced confessions but the Magistrate must ensure voluntariness on part of the person making the statement. Magistrate must explain to the person making a confession or a statement that the person is not bound to confess or give the statement and he must warn him prior to the recording of the statement that it may be used as evidence against them.

11. In essence, Section 183 BNSS acts as a judicial filter between police investigation and trial evidence, thereby capturing important statements/confessions in a protected, verifiable manner to aid truth-finding while safeguarding against abuse of power. It balances effective prosecution with protection of individual rights, with BNSS adding digital and victim-focused enhancements over the old CrPC framework.

12. The provision does not contemplate or authorize "second" or repeated statements under this section as a standard procedure. The purpose is to record a reliable, voluntary statement/confession once, with evidentiary value (e.g., statements under this section can be used to corroborate or contradict trial testimony, and confessions if voluntary can be substantive evidence).There is no statutory mandate for multiple recordings of the same person's statement under Section 183 BNSS. Police statements under Section 180 BNSS (old Section 161 CrPC) can be recorded multiple times if needed during investigation, but magisterial statements under Section 183 BNSS are exceptional and meant to preserve evidence with higher reliability.

13. High Courts have supervisory powers under Article 226/227 of the Constitution and Section 528 BNSS (old Section 482 CrPC) to intervene in criminal proceedings to prevent abuse, secure ends of justice, or correct grave errors. In exceptional cases ' such as where a prior statement under Section 183 was allegedly coerced, not voluntary, improperly recorded, or where fairness demands re-recording (e.g., new material facts, witness hostility, or serious procedural lapses) and a High Court may direct a fresh recording before a Magistrate as part of its extraordinary jurisdiction but this is not a routine direction. The High Court may direct re-recording if the original statement's integrity is seriously compromised, especially in sensitive cases involving victims (e.g., sexual offences, POCSO), where the statement carries significant weight for corroboration/contradiction at trial. While not every allegation will succeed, a credible claim of non-reading over (a core procedural safeguard) provides strong grounds for High Court intervention to order a second statement under Section 183 BNSS, to uphold fairness and prevent misuse. Outcomes depend on case facts, evidence, and judicial discretion.

14. Learned Additional District Judge in its order dated 13.01.2026 has observed that any direction for re-recording of the statement under Section 183 B.N.S.S. can be issued only by Hon'ble High Court or Hon'ble Supreme Court but it is pertinent to mention here that High Court cannot directly order or direct the recording of the second or additional statement under Section 183 B.N.S.S. in the sense of compelling the Magistrate to record another statement from the same person as a routine or an investigative measure. The power to record a statement under Section 183 B.N.S.S. is discretionary and is typically initiated by- (i) the investigating officer to producing the person (witness/victim or accused) and (ii) the person voluntarily approaching the Magistrate.

15. Section 183 B.N.S.S. like old section 164 Cr.P.C. incorporates strong safeguards to ensure voluntariness and accuracy. The Magistrate must explain to the person that they are not bound to make a statement or confession and that the confession may be used against them and the Magistrate must have reason to believe about voluntariness after initial questioning and the recorded statements must be read over and explain to the person making it moreover sign it or affix thumb impression. Where the person making the statement is unable to read it thereby confirming its correctness and especially in cases of sexual offenses, the Magistrate may resort to audio-video recording. If the victim claims that the statement was not read over to him or her, it raises serious questions about whether the procedural safeguards were followed as to its voluntariness and authenticity and potential coercion or misunderstanding or clerical error and such lapses, if prima-facie established by victims affidavit, may lead to interference. The direction for re-recording of statement under Section 183 B.N.S.S. may be issued if the original statements integrity is seriously compromised. While not every allegation is bound to succeed, a credible claim of non-reading of statement by the victim provides a strong ground for intervention to order a second statement under Section 183 B.N.S.S. to promote fairness and prevent misuse.

16. Ordinarily no routine direction for second statement under Section 183 B.N.S.S. can be given but under exceptional circumstances. High Court in exercise of it's extraordinary jurisdiction, if justified to rectify injustice, may issue directions for recording second statement under Section 183 B.N.S.S. but it cannot be exercised as a general rule where victim alleges that her statement recorded under Section 183 B.N.S.S. was not read over to her or that she was not given an opportunity to confirm its correctness. The High Court can in appropriate cases exercise its extraordinary jurisdiction to direct a fresh recording of statement before the Magistrate and the power is not a routine or an automatic power but is exercised by High Court or Supreme Court to prevent abuse of process, to secure ends of justice or rectify grave procedural irregularities that could lead to miscarriage of justice.

17. The case law Yogendra Yadav & Others vs. State of Jharkhand & Anr.(2014)9 SCC 653 does not apply to the facts of the present writ petition.

18. The petitioner, in order to substantiate her argument in support of the petition, has filed certified copy of her statement recorded under Section 183 B.N.S.S. before the Court of Civil Judge (Senior Division), Azamgarh.

19. Perusal of statement shows that statement was recorded on the basis of oral statement of the victim and after recording of the statement the victim/petitioner had read the statement and it is also noted that the victim gave the statement without any duress. The statement of the victim/petitioner recorded by the Magistrate clearly shows that the petitioner had given the statement without any duress and had read the statement and thereafter had signed the statement and all the procedural aspects have been followed. Trial court vide its order dated 13.01.2026 has rightly observed that the statement under section 183 B.N.S.S. is ordinarily recorded only once and any direction for recording of such statement can be issued only by Hon'ble High Court or by Hon'ble Supreme Court only under exceptional circumstances. The conditions under which High Court or Hon'ble Supreme Court can issue directions for re-recording of his statement under Section 183 B.N.S.S. has already been discussed above.

20. In the light of analysis given, we are of the opinion that there are no extraordinary circumstances warranting the re-recording of the statement under Section 183 B.N.S.S. and hence the instant writ petition lacks merit and is accordingly liable to be dismissed and is accordingly dismissed.

(2026) 2 ILRA 903
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 24.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE J.J. MUNIR, J.
THE HON'BLE PRAMOD KUMAR SRIVASTAVA, J.

Contempt Application (Criminal) No. 3 of 2025

In Re. ...Applicant
Versus
Shri Hari Narayan Pandey Adv. ...Opposite Party

Issue for consideration

Criminal Contempt against an Advocate

Headnotes

Criminal Contempt-Proceedings for criminal contempt commenced on a reference under Section 15 of the Act, 1971 made by Mr. Amit Mishra, the then Civil Judge (Sr. Div.), Basti- against the contemnor Advocate-contemnor's words certainly scandalize and lower the authority of the Court within the meaning of Section 2(c)(i) of the Act of 1971- words were entirely unrelated to the proceedings of the Court-contemnor expressed an early and unconditional apology in his affidavit-contemnor appeared before Mr. Amit Mishra at Raebareli and tendered an unconditional apology-put in long years of practice and there is nothing to show that he has indulged in contumacious conduct in the past- tendered unconditional apology at the earliest, which the learned Civil Judge accepted-accept the contemnor's apology and discharge the notice issued to him-contempt matter is consigned to record. (E-9)

Case Law Cited

Nil

List of Acts

1. The Contempt of Courts Act, 1971

List of Keywords

Scandalize and lower the authority of the Court; unconditional apology

Appearances of parties

Counsel for Applicant : Mr. Sudhir Mehrotra, Advocate Counsel for Opposite Party : Mr. Rakesh Pathak, Advocate

(Delivered by Hon'ble J.J. Munir, J.)

1. These are proceedings for criminal contempt commenced on a reference under Section 15 of the Contempt of Courts Act, 1971 (for short, 'the Act of 1971') made by Mr. Amit Mishra, the then Civil Judge (Sr. Div.), Basti, against the contemnor, Mr. Hari Narayan Pandey, Advocate, seeking the said contemnor to be punished in accordance with law. The reference as aforesaid was made on 29.01.2025.

2. On the basis of the reference papers, the Registry drew up an office note, which was laid before the Hon'ble the Chief Justice by the Registrar General vide his note dated 24.03.2025. The Hon'ble the Chief Justice directed the papers to be laid before the Hon'ble the Administrative Judge for the Sessions Division of Basti vide his order dated 24.03.2025. The papers were laid before the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Karunesh Singh Pawar, the then Administrative Judge, Basti and his Lordship passed the following order on 28.03.2025:

"Let the matter be placed before appropriate court having criminal contempt jurisdiction."

3. The matter then came up again before his Lordship, the Hon’ble The Chief Justice, with a proposal in terms of the order of the Administrative Judge, which the Hon'ble The Chief Justice approved vide his order dated 11.04.2025. This contempt matter was registered on 18.04.2025 and came up before the Division Bench on 23.04.2025. The Division Bench, finding a prima facie case made out, issued notice to the contemnor, returnable on 09.07.2025. On the date of return, Mr. Hari Narayan Pandey, the contemnor, filed an affidavit, which was taken on record. The contempt matter was adjourned to 30.07.2025 in order to enable the contemnor to appear in person. On 09.07.2025, the contemnor was represented by Mr. Rakesh Pathak, Advocate.

4. When the matter came up before the Division Bench again on 30.07.2025, the contemnor was present in person. He was represented before the Court by Mr. R.K. Ojha, learned Senior Advocate assisted by Mr. Rakesh Pathak, Advocate. Mr. Sudhir Mehrotra, Advocate appeared on behalf of the Court.

5. We must note here that at the earliest stage of proceedings, that is to say, on 30.07.2025, the first day, the contemnor appeared he tendered an unconditional apology, which was carried in his affidavit dated 08.08.2025. The Court, taking that apology into consideration, directed the contemnor to tender the same before the Judicial Officer, in whose presence the contempt had been committed, leading to the institution of the present proceedings. It was also recorded in the order of the day made by the Division Bench that the Judicial Officer was, at the relevant time, posted at Raebareli, after a routine transfer from Basti. The contemnor was, accordingly, permitted to tender his unconditional apology to the Judicial Officer at his current place of posting through the learned District Judge, Raebareli. Mr. Ojha, on 30.07.2025, assured their Lordships that necessary compliance would be made within a period of two weeks. Mr. Mehrotra was granted time to submit a report from the Judicial Officer concerned within a further period of one month. This matter was directed to be listed on 15.09.2025.

6. On 15.09.2025, the Court and the contemnor were both represented before the Division Bench and the contemnor appeared in person again. Mr. Sudhir Mehrotra produced a report from the Judicial Officer, which was taken on record. The Court did not find the report sent by the Judicial Officer to be complete. Accordingly, this cause was adjourned to 22.09.2025 to enable Mr. Mehrotra to place the entire report on record. The personal presence of the contemnor was not exempted and he was directed to appear again. On the 22nd of September, 2025, this contempt reference came up before the Court again, when the report submitted by the learned Civil Judge was perused. The two affidavits put in by the contemnor, that is to say, the affidavit dated 08.07.2025 and a later affidavit dated 14.09.2025, were also perused. The parties agreed that the contempt application be heard and decided on the existing pleading and materials. Thus, the contemnor waived his right to the framing of a formal charge, as he was apparently aware with all the allegations that were the subject matter of the instant contempt proceedings. Accordingly, the present matter was heard by consent of parties and judgment reserved.

7. Heard Mr. Sudhir Mehrotra, learned Special Counsel for the High Court and Mr. Radha Kant Ojha, learned Senior Advocate assisted by Mr. Rakesh Pathak, Advocate appearing on behalf of the contemnor-opposite party.

8. If we were to look at the reference made by Mr. Amit Mishra, the then Civil Judge (Sr. Div.), Basti dated 29.01.2025, we are clear in our mind that the words that the contemnor spoke in Court while appearing in a cause robed from the Bar for one of the parties on 22.01.2025 in O.S. No. 679 of 2024, most certainly amount to contempt of court within the meaning of Section 2(c) of the Act of 1971. These words certainly scandalize and lower the authority of the Court within the meaning of Section 2(c)(i) of the Act of 1971. We do not wish to reproduce the precise words that the contemnor had employed during the hearing of the temporary injunction application in O.S. No. 679 of 2024, where he was appearing for the plaintiff.

9. Suffice it to say that those words were entirely unrelated to the proceedings of the Court and were a calculated attempt to browbeat the Court into passing an order that was not the free dictate of the learned Judge's conscience. That way, it was interference with the due course of judicial proceedings within the meaning of Section 2(c)(ii) of the Act of 1971. The reason why we do not reproduce the obnoxious words employed by the contemnor is that by making them part of our order we would be echoing disrespect shown to the Court and the judiciary as a whole, a matter which the public at large nowadays have the tendency to receive almost with delight and are inclined readily to accept the truth of such insinuations, howsoever baseless. We must say here that any outlandish expression in contemporary times employed against the Courts and Judges has become a favourite pastime of the public, who, untrained as they are in the law, much more than the yesteryear generation, are prone by this behaviour of theirs to usher in a lawless society. It is keeping in mind those common perceptions and irresponsible public behaviour that we have eschewed the course of quoting the ignoble words spoken by the contemnor before the Court of the learned Civil Judge.

10. Now, turning to the fact if the contemnor indeed deserves to be held guilty of the contumacious words that he spoke in Court of Mr. Amit Mishra, the then Civil Judge (Sr. Div.), Basti, we take note of the fact that the contemnor expressed an early and unconditional apology in his affidavit dated 08.07.2025, where he has stated on oath:

"4. That the deponent is tendering unconditional apology in the present contempt application with respect to unfortunate incident taken place on 22.01.2025 before the court of Civil Judge (Senior Division), Basti. He is deeply regretted from the bottom of his heart about the aforesaid incident in which some unwilling disrespect has occurred.

5. That the deponent has no intention and object to dishonor the concerned court. Before this unfortunate incident from his practicing life no complaint whatsoever was made against him by the court. Even no incident of disrespect of the court has been taken place by the deponent.

6. That the conduct of the deponent was neither deliberate nor intended to show any disrespect to the authority of Hon'ble Court.

7. That the deponent assures this Hon"ble Court that he will be more careful in future and will refrain from any such act, expression, or conduct that may be perceived as contemptuous or disrespectful toward the court. He will be responsible, and respectful in all legal and judicial matters.

8. That the deponent tendering his unconditional, sincere and heartfelt apology to this Hon'ble Court for any act or omission on his part that may have caused disrespect, interference, or prejudice to the administration of justice. Further deeply regret his actions/words, which were not intended to disrespect or undermine the authority of Hon'ble Court or the judicial process.

9. That the deponent solemnly undertakes and assures this Hon'ble Court that he will not, in the future, engage in any act or conduct that could be construed as contemptuous or disrespectful to the judiciary or its proceedings. He holds the judiciary in the highest esteem and committed to upholding its dignity and authority."

11. In compliance with the orders of the Division Bench dated 30.07.2025, the contemnor appeared before Mr. Amit Mishra at Raebareli on 12.08.2025 and tendered an unconditional apology. The learned Civil Judge accepted the apology for himself, but he did say that disrespectful words had been spoken of the learned District Judge, Basti and also this Court, which he had no authority to condone. Nevertheless, so far as he was concerned, the apology was accepted. The relevant part of the learned Civil Judge's report dated 30.08.2025, reporting about the apology tendered by the contemnor before him reads:

"That pursuant to the directions of the Hon'ble Court in the above mentioned case, Shri Hari Narayan Pandey, Advocate, appeared before me on 12.08.2025 and tendered his unconditional apology in writing through Respected District Judge Raebareli. Having considered his submission and the deep remorse expressed, I state with due respect that I accept his apology insofar as it concerns the remarks made against me in my capacity as Presiding Officer. However, it is also a fact that on the said occasion, Shri Hari Narayan Pandey had intentionally used disparaging and offensive words in the open Court in the presence of litigants and other advocates against the Hon'ble High Court and Respected District Judge Basti. I most respectfully submit that such language is wholly unbecoming of a member of the Bar and deserves to be condemned in the strongest terms. I do not consider myself competent to deal with that part of the misconduct, and therefore leave it to the wisdom of the Hon'ble Court to consider whether his apology in that regard merits acceptance. This is submitted most respectfully for the kind perusal and further orders of the Hon'ble High Court."

12. The contemnor appeared before us and we granted him opportunity to have his say. He did not justify his words in the least measure and said before us that he was utterly distressed on the day when the unfortunate incident had happened for his own reasons. We had the occasion to watch the contemnor's demeanour in Court as he addressed us. We are convinced that he is a well-groomed member of the Bar, aware of the niceties of the law and etiquette in Court. Therefore, the words that he spoke in Court and landed himself in contempt proceedings, do seem to be the result of something extraneous, that affected his conduct in Court, which is not this way when he generally appears. He has put in long years of practice and there is nothing to show that he has indulged in contumacious conduct in the past. He has tendered unconditional apology at the earliest, which the learned Civil Judge accepted, of course, for himself. The learned Civil Judge has also remarked that he found the apology to be the expression of remorse, which led him to accept it. We are convinced that it was an expression of genuine remorse and not merely a contrivance to escape the consequences of contempt.

13. At one stage of proceedings, when we thought of accepting the apology at the hearing of this application, Mr. Mehrotra, appearing for the High Court, had some words of caution for us as he said that commission of criminal contempt of Court has become the order of the day. It was his caution that made us reserve opinion and we have carefully considered whatever Mr. Mehrotra had to say in the matter. We must remark that Mr. Mehrotra's words were certainly not misplaced and had lots of wisdom to them. Though, we do not take judicial notice because that would have consequences, but we do pay judicial attention, as it must be, to the fact that instances of criminal contempt galore on the social media in the name of freedom of expression, which cross the line. There are virtual abuses on media hurled at superior Courts, which are, by no means, within the fold of the defence, called fair comment or the informed criticism of a judgment. This is not the subject matter of the present contempt reference, but we do wish to remind the public to be cautious in future, because words that are most unambiguously contumacious, circulate on the social media, which, as and when, taken cognizance of in our contempt jurisdiction, may expose the contemnor to penalties of the law, which the Court may not hesitate to impose.

14. So far as the present contempt matter is concerned, we accept the contemnor's apology and discharge the notice issued to him.

15. This contempt matter is consigned to record.

(2026) 2 ILRA 907
ORIGINAL JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 13.02.2026
BEFORE

THE HON'BLE MANISH KUMAR, J.

Contempt Application (Civil) No. 99 of 2010

Ram Shanker Shukla & Anr. ...Applicants
Versus
Madhukar Shukla & Ors. ...Opposite Parties

Issue for consideration

Contempt if Counsel give an undertaking on its own without client's instructions.

Headnotes

Contempt of Court - Statement of counsel before Appellate Court-The counsel for the respondent no. 1 -made statement that the appellant does not intend to sell any property nor is going to sell the same-nothing on record that the counsel was instructed by respondent no. 1 to give any undertaking before the Appellate Court-counsel have stated before the Appellate Court on his own -lawyers should follow the client's instructions rather than substitute their judgment for that of the client- Case of respondent no. 1 squarely covered by Himalayan Coop. Group Housing Society -no contempt is made out. Application dismissed. (E-9)

Case Law Cited

Himalayan Cooperative Group Housing Society Vs. Balwan Singh and others reported in (2015) 7 SCC 373

List of Acts

Nil

List of Keywords

Client's instructions

Appearances of parties

Counsel for Applicant(s) : Anurag Srivastava, Abhishek Kumar Singh, Anand Dubey, Anurag Dixit, Bhupendra Pratap Singh Counsel for Opposite Party(s) : Pritish Kumar, Indrapal Singh, N.L.Pandey, Pt. S. Chandra, R.S.Tripathi, S.N. Tilhari, Vivek Sarswal

(Delivered by Hon'ble Manish Kumar, J.)

1. Heard.

2. Present contempt application has been preferred against alleged non-compliance of the judgment and order dated 02.09.2009 passed in Special Appeal No. 579 of 2009. The relevant paras of the said judgment and order are being reproduced hereinbelow:-

" We, therefore, set aside the order passed by the learned Single Judge and remit the matter to the learned Single Judge for being decided afresh, after afforing opportunity to the appellant, namely, opposite party no. 2 in the writ petition, in respect of the injunction being granted to the respondents.

So far the direction for deciding the recall application is concerned, we do not find any ground to interfere with the same, as both the parties agree that the application may be directed to be considered and disposed of expeditiously.

We expect that the application shall be decided within the time provided by the learned Single Judge.

At this juncture the counsel for the appellant says that the appellant does not intend to sell any property nor is going to sell the same."

3. Learned counsel for the applicant has submitted that despite the undertaking given by respondent no. 1 before the appellate court, he has executed the sale deeds on 23.12.2009 and 24.12.2009 during the pendency of the writ petition.

4. It is further submitted that the respondent no. 1 after giving an undertaking before the Appellate Court was not supposed to execute the sale deed dated 23.12.2009 and 24.12.2009 in the light of the interim order dated 27.07.2009 passed in the Writ Petition. The relevant para of the said interim order is being reproduced hereinbelow:-

"Till disposal of the aforesaid application, the parties shall not change the nature of property in dispute"

5. On the other hand learned counsel for the respondent no. 1 has submitted that neither any undertaking has been given nor the respondent no. 1 had instructed his counsel to make any statement on his behalf before the Appellate Court hence, it could not be said that the statement made by the learned counsel for the respondent no. 1 in the appeal, where the respondent no. 1 was appellant, was not an undertaking and in support of his submission, he placed reliance upon the judgment of Hon'ble Supreme Court passed in the case of Himalayan Cooperative Group Housing Society Vs. Balwan Singh and others reported in (2015) 7 SCC 373.

6. It is further submitted that the writ petition was also dismissed as withdrawn by the petitioner, who is the applicant herein on 11.01.2010.

7. It is further submitted that respondent no. 1 while submitting his reply to the charge has specifically mentioned in the affidavit that the statement given by his counsel is not in his knowledge, otherwise, he would not have sold the property and if the affidavit is read in totality then it has come out that he has not given any instruction to his counsel for making any such statement before the Appellate Court.

8. After hearing learned counsel for the parties and going through the record of the case, it is found that before the Appellate Court, the counsel for the appellant i.e. respondent no. 1 herein "says that". There is nothing on record that the counsel was instructed by the respondent no. 1 to give any undertaking before the Appellate Court. It is the counsel who seems to have stated before the Appellate Court on his own. The relevant paras of the judgment of Hon'ble Supreme Court relied upon by learned counsel for the respondent no.1 is being reproduced hereinbelow:-

"21. If for any reason, the writ court perceived the oral request made by the respondents to have justified the ends of justice and desired to accept the concession so made by the counsel for the appellant Society, the said request not being the subject-matter of the writ petition required the Court to query whether the counsel for the appellant Society has been authorised to make such a statement by the appellant Society or whether any such resolution has been passed by the appellant Society giving concession in matters of this nature. Since the required caution was not exercised by the learned Judges of the writ court, the directions issued by the writ court suffer from infirmity and hence require to be set aside.

22. Apart from the above, in our view lawyers are perceived to be their client's agents. The law of agency may not strictly apply to the client-lawyer's relationship as lawyers or agents, lawyers have certain authority and certain duties. Because lawyers are also fiduciaries, their duties will sometimes be more demanding than those imposed on other agents. The authority-agency status affords the lawyers to act for the client on the subject-matter of the retainer. One of the most basic principles of the lawyer-client relationship is that lawyers owe fiduciary duties to their clients. As part of those duties, lawyers assume all the traditional duties that agents owe to their principals and, thus, have to respect the client's autonomy to make decisions at a minimum, as to the objectives of the representation. Thus, according to generally accepted notions of professional responsibility, lawyers should follow the client's instructions rather than substitute their judgment for that of the client. The law is now well settled that a lawyer must be specifically authorised to settle and compromise a claim, that merely on the basis of his employment he has no implied or ostensible authority to bind his client to a compromise/settlement. To put it alternatively that a lawyer by virtue of retention, has the authority to choose the means for achieving the client's legal goal, while the client has the right to decide on what the goal will be. If the decision in question falls within those that clearly belong to the client, the lawyer's conduct in failing to consult the client or in making the decision for the client, is more likely to constitute ineffective assistance of counsel.

31. Therefore, it is the solemn duty of an advocate not to transgress the authority conferred on him by the client. It is always better to seek appropriate instructions from the client or his authorised agent before making any concession which may, directly or remotely, affect the rightful legal right of the client. The advocate represents the client before the court and conducts proceedings on behalf of the client. He is the only link between the court and the client. Therefore his responsibility is onerous. He is expected to follow the instructions of his client rather than substitute his judgment."

9. The submission of the learned counsel for the applicant that the said statement/undertaking given by the counsel for the respondent no. 1 before the Appellate Court must be read with interim order dated 27.7.2009 passed in the Writ Petition and the conjoint reading of those would demonstrate that the submission made by the learned counsel for the respondent no. 1 before the Appellate Court amounts to undertaking, the said submission of learned counsel for the applicant is not tenable for the reason that the Appellate Court had set aside the interim order dated 27.07.2009 while remitting the matter to the learned Single Judge, so it can not be read alongwith the same.

10. It has been held by Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Himalayan Coop. Group Housing Society (supra), which has been relied upon by learned counsel for the respondent no. 1 that the lawyers should follow the client's instructions rather than substitute their judgment for that of the client and it is always better to seek appropriate instructions from the client or his authorized agent before making any concession which may, directly or remotely, affect the rightful legal right of the client, which it appears not the case in the present proceedings.

11. The case of the respondent no. 1 is squarely covered by the judgment of Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Himalayan Coop. Group Housing Society (supra). Further the applicant within few months after passing the order in the Special Appeal had withdrawn the writ petition on 11.1.2010. During the period of withdrawal of the writ petition and special appeal, there existed no interim order.

12. In view of the facts, circumstances and discussion made hereinabove, no contempt is made out against the respondent no. 1, thus, present contempt application is hereby dismissed.

13. Charge framed against the respondent no. 1 is hereby withdrawn.

14. Notice issued, if any, stands discharged.

(2026) 2 ILRA 911
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 20.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE RAJESH SINGH CHAUHAN, J.
THE HON'BLE ABDHESH KUMAR CHAUDHARY, J.

Criminal Appeal No. 9 of 2016

Ajay Kumar ...Appellant
Versus
State Of U.P. ...Respondent

Issue for consideration

Matter relates to conviction only on the basis of theory of last seen.

Headnotes

Indian Penal Code, 1860 - S. 302 - Evidence Act, 1872 - Ss. 8, 101, 106 and 114 -Murder - Circumstantial evidence - Motive and theory of last seen together - Prosecution case based purely on circumstantial evidence - factum of discovery of dead bodies and homicidal death of the deceased stood proved- the fact of marriage could not be proved -evidence relating to "last seen together" was "not proximate" and the factum of having seen the deceased in the company of the accused/appellant was "seriously doubtful" - Held, Section 106 of the Evidence Act is "not a panacea for the defect in proving the case" -if the prosecution fails to establish a complete chain of circumstances in the first place, the accused's failure to discharge the burden under Section 106 becomes irrelevant -no other corroborative evidence against the accused/appellant - conviction only on the basis of last seen together could not be sustained - accused/appellant acquitted by giving benefit of doubt; impugned judgment reversed and set aside; Appeal allowed.(E-9)

Case Law Cited

1. Arjun Marik Vs State of Bihar, reported in 1994 Supp(2) SCC 372;
2. Krishnan alias Ramaswamy and Ors. Vs State of Tamil Nadu, reported in (2014) 4 SCC 715;
3. Kanahiya Lal Vs State of Rajasthan, reported in (2014) 4 SCC 715;
4. Sharad Birdhichand Sharda v. State of Maharashtra, reported in (1984) 4 SCC 116
5. Nandu Singh v. State of Chhattisgarh, reported in 2022 SCC Online SC 1454
6. Shambu Nath Mehra v. State of Ajmer, reported in AIR 1956 SC 404
7. Tulshiram Sahadu Suryawanshi and Anr. v. State of Maharashtra, reported in (2012) 10 SCC 373
8. Nagendra Sah v. State of Bihar, reported in (2021) 10 SCC 725

9. Anees v. State (NCT of Delhi), reported in (2024) 15 SCC 48
10. Umedbhai Jadavbhai v. State of Gujarat, reported in (1978) 1 SCC 228

List of Acts

1. Evidence Act, 1872
2. Indian penal Code, 1860

List of Keywords

Last seen together; Section 106 of the Indian Evidence Act; circumstantial evidence

Appearances of parties

Counsel for Appellant(s) : Neeta Singh Chandel, Arshad Hafeez Khan, Dinesh Kr. Sharma, Furkan Pathan, Piyush Kumar Singh, Prabha Shankar Pandey
Counsel for Respondent(s) : Govt. Advocate

(Delivered by Hon'ble Abdhesh Kumar Chaudhary, J.)

1. The present Criminal Appeal under Section 374 (2) of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 (in short Cr.P.C.) has been filed by the accused/appellant - Ajay Kumar, against the judgment and order dated 05.10.2015 passed by the Additional Sessions Judge, Court No. 9, Barabanki, in Sessions Trial No. 992 of 2011 (State Vs. Ajay Kumar) arising out of Case Crime No. 133 of 2011 wherein he has been convicted and sentenced for punishment under Section 302 of the Indian Penal Code for life imprisonment, along with fine of Rs. 20,000/- with default stipulation.

CASE OF THE PROSECUTION

2. The prosecution case can be succinctly narrated as that on 22.04.2011, the informant Omchand Yadav (P.W.-1) who was working as a watchman in village Chiloki, submitted a written complaint/Tehrir (Exhibit-Ka-1) at Police Station Safdarganj, District Barabanki, stating inter-alia that on the said date at about 11:00 PM, while he was on routine night patrol of the said village, certain villagers informed him that two dead bodies were lying in the Rakhuna Chiloki forest. The said informant on receipt of such information proceeded to the said place of incident along-with some villagers and on reaching the spot noticed that dead body of one woman was lying in a pit about 5 feet deep located at a field situated approximate 100 meters behind the Government Girls Inter College and a gamcha was also found wrapped around her neck and blood was oozing from her mouth. Further, at a distance of about 50 meters another dead body of a girl aged about 8-9 years was found lying in a drain, with a tukda of cloth tied around her neck. Various articles, including sarees, blouses, underwear, shirt and a bag, were found lying scattered at the place of incident. According to the informant, the condition of the bodies and the surrounding circumstances indicated that the victims had been murdered at the same very spot.

3. On the basis of the aforesaid written complaint/Tehrir (Exhibit-Ka-1), Case Crime No. 133 of 2011 under Section 302 of the Indian Penal Code was registered at Police Station Safdarganj, District Barabanki, against unknown persons and subsequently, the investigation of the case was started. The Investigating Officer after recording of the statement under Section 161 Cr.P.C. and on completion of the investigation, found material indicating the involvement of the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar. Thus, a charge-sheet (Exhibit-Ka-8) came to be filed against the said accused/appellant-Ajay Kumar, under Section 302 of the Indian Penal Code before the competent Court and after following the due process of law, the case came to be committed to the Court of Session for Trial vide order dated 18.07.2011.

4. The learned Trial Court, after being satisfied that a prima facie case was made out against the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar, framed the charge against him under Section 302 of the Indian Penal Code vide order dated 12.08.2011. The charge was read over and explained to the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar in Hindi, wherein he denied the charges and claimed for Trial. Therefore, the case was taken up for Trial.

PROCEEDINGS BEFORE THE TRIAL COURT

5. To bring home the charges, the prosecution examined nine witnesses in the following chronological manner being: -

P.W.-1	Om Chand Yadav	Witness of Chik F.I.R.
P.W.-2	Dr. Sunil Kumar, posted as Senior Consultant of the District Hospital, Barabanki on 23.04.2011	Witness of Postmortem
P.W.-3	Smt. Sona Devi	Villager/witness of last seen.
P.W.-4	Smt. Dhuriya	Villager/witness of last seen.
P.W.-5	Vinod	Villager/witness of last seen.
P.W.-6	Ganesh	Brother-in-law of the deceased/ witness of motive
P.W.-7	S.I. Nirbhay Kumar Singh	Investigating Officer of the present case.
P.W.-8	Sandeep	Tea shop owner/ witness of last seen.
P.W.-9	S.I. Pradeep Kankan	Witness of panchayatnama.

6. Besides the aforesaid oral testimonies, the prosecution also relied on various documentary evidence exhibited during the course of Trial, running from Exhibit Ka-1 to Exhibit Ka-27.

7. Upon completion of the prosecution evidence, the statement of the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar was recorded under Section 313 of Cr.P.C., wherein he denied all the circumstances put forth against him by the prosecution. In his additional statement, the accused stated that P.W.-6, Ganesh was a relative residing in his village and, due to prior enmity, had falsely implicated him in the present case.

8. The accused/appellant Ajay Kumar chose not to lead any defence evidence, as this Court finds that the learned Trial Court records that despite being afforded adequate opportunity, the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar did not adduce any evidence in his defence.

9. Upon consideration of the rival submissions and the evidence available on record, the learned Trial Court returned a finding that the prosecution had successfully established a complete and unbroken chain of circumstances through cogent oral and documentary evidence. The defence contention that no weapon of offence was recovered, was considered and rejected by the Trial Court, particularly in view of the recovery of material articles such as a gamcha and a piece of cloth found around the necks of the deceased persons, which were duly proved through prosecution witnesses. The Trial Court further rejected the defence plea regarding absence of motive, holding that sufficient material existed on record to negate the said contention against the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar.

10. The learned Trial Court also placed reliance upon the evidence relating to the Court marriage of the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar with the deceased Shubhangi. Though the notary of the marriage was not examined, the Trial Court found that the oral evidence on record sufficiently established that the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar was commonly known in the village as the second husband of the deceased, which circumstance was duly corroborated by the testimony of prosecution witnesses.

11. While analyzing the evidence in its entirety, the learned Trial Court further held that the testimony of the prosecution witnesses with respect to the -last seen- circumstance was trustworthy and reliable, as no material contradiction was found between their statements recorded under Section 161 Cr.P.C. and their depositions before the Court. Further, the delay of two to three days in recording statements under Section 161 Cr.P.C. was held to be inconsequential in the facts of the case.

12. The learned Trial Court went on to conclude that since the deceased and her minor daughter were last seen in the company of the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar, shortly before their death and no plausible explanation was offered by the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar regarding the circumstances leading to their death, the presumption under Section 106 of the Indian Evidence Act could be invoked. Consequently, the learned Trial Court recorded its satisfaction in holding the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar guilty of the offences charged and sentenced him for life imprisonment under Section 302 I.P.C. along with fine of Rs. 20,000/- with default stipulation vide judgment and order dated 05.10.2015, passed in Sessions Trial No. 992 of 2011.

PROCEEDINGS BEFORE THIS COURT

13. Being aggrieved by the aforesaid conclusion of the learned Trial Court, the present appeal being Criminal Appeal No. 9 of 2016 came to be filed by the accused/appellant- Ajay Kumar.

14. The bail application of the accused/appellant- Ajay Kumar having been rejected by this Court, the accused/appellant- Ajay Kumar is in jail, since 23.04.2011 and as such the period of his incarceration is more than 14 years and 8 months.

SUBMISSION ON BEHALF OF THE PARTIES

15. Learned counsel for the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar has submitted that Ajay Kumar has not been named in the F.I.R. (Exhibit Ka-26) and his conviction is based on circumstantial evidence, whereas as a matter of fact, there is no complete chain of evidence against him.

16. The post-mortem report dated 23.04.2011 and the evidence of Doctor reveals that the probable time since death was about 2 days, which apparently meant that the alleged incident might have taken place on 21.04.2011, at about 3-4 PM. However, according to him, there is no evidence that the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar was seen with the deceased or at the crime-spot by any of the witnesses soon before or after the occurrence of the incident.

17. Learned Counsel has vehemently submitted that there is no recovery of any article from the pointing out or from the possession of the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar. He further states that none of the witnesses have been produced by the prosecution to establish any link between the alleged recovery of crime weapon i.e. the piece of saree or gamcha with that of the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar.

18. According to the learned Counsel, the prosecution failed to prove any motive on the part of the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar to commit the alleged crime. He submits that motive is a very significant limb in cases sought to be proved by circumstantial evidence. He further states that neither there is any investigation nor any evidence on the aspect, as to why the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar would commit murder of the deceased at a place about 300 Km away from the village of the deceased and/or the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar. According to him, the appellant is not a beneficiary from the death of the deceased and rather it has come in the evidence that it is P.W.-6 (Ganesh), who is the real beneficiary from the death of the deceased.

19. The learned Counsel for the accused/appellant has strenuously argued that the Trial Court has presumed that the deceased is the wife of the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar, although the basis of the said relationship being the Notary affidavit dated 28.12.2010 was neither produced by the prosecution nor the same was proved by any witnesses.

20. According to the learned Counsel for the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar, the alleged circumstantial evidence of the last seen i.e. P.W-3 (Sona Devi), P.W.-4 (Smt.Dhuriya) and P.W.-5 (Vinod) are interested witnesses to support the beneficiary P.W.-6 (Ganesh), who is devar and all these witnesses belong to same village. In any case, he has highlighted that there are major contradiction in their deposition and do not inspire any confidence. He has submitted that the learned Trial Court has erroneously convicted the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar without any cogent evidence and ignoring the basic principle of criminal jurisprudence that in case of any suspicion on the testimony of the witnesses the benefit of doubt should always accrue in favour of the appellant/accused. Thus, he has prayed for exonerating the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar.

21. Per contra, the learned A.G.A. appearing for the State has supported the conviction order of the learned Trial Court. According to the learned A.G.A. the Trial Court has meticulously considered the various evidence, which has come on record and on the appreciation of the said evidence came to a conviction of guilt of the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar. He has further submitted that the contradiction pointed out by the Counsel appearing for the accused/appellant are not material and are merely human error which has been accepted by this Court to be natural variation and not material which would have any effect on the veracity of the deposition of the witnesses.

22. According to the learned A.G.A., a plain reading of the testimony of the last seen theory witnesses, it can be easily propounded that it is the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar, who was last seen in the company of the deceased, before she and her minor child was murdered and as such the learned Trial Court has rightly invoked the provisions of Section 106 of the Indian Evidence Act to seek the explanation from the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar, which he miserably failed and as such the Trial Court has rightly convicted the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar. Thus, according to him no interference was required in the impugned judgment and as such has prayed for dismissal of the present appeal.

ANALYSIS AND FINDINGS

23. Heard Sri Piyush Kumar Singh, learned counsel for the appellant and Sri Umesh Verma, learned A.G.A. appearing for the State.

24. There is no dispute that the case of prosecution is based purely on circumstantial evidence in the form of motive and theory of last seen together, since no witness claims to have seen the alleged incident, wherein the deceased Subhangi and her 8/9 years old minor daughter was done to death.

25. At the vert outset, it needs to be recorded that the deceased persons are resident of village - Bhairabpur Dhoula, Police Station - Raunapur, District - Azamgarh, as has come in the testimony of P.W.-3 (Sona Devi), P.W.-4 (Smt. Dhuriya) and P.W.-5 (Vinod), all co-villager and witness of Last seen together theory, according to the prosecution story. Further, P.W.-6 (Ganesh), who is the brother-in-law (devar) of the deceased has also deposed that the deceased and the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar were resident of the aforesaid village and goes to an extent to say that both he and the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar were caught together by the police from their village and taken to the Barabanki postmortem house, wherein the dead bodies were got identified by the said witness P.W.-6 (Ganesh) by the police. Therefore, there is no gain saying in believing that whether it is the deceased or the accused/appellant, both of them are resident of village - Bhairabpur, District-Azamgarh.

26. As far as the discovery of dead bodies are concerned, it is more than evident that the same has been recovered from Rakhuna Chiloki forest, Village - Chiloki, P.S.: Safdarganj, Nawabganj, District: Barabanki. This Court takes note of the fact that the distance between village - Bhairabpur, District - Azamgarh i.e. the residence of the deceased and Police Station - Safdarganj, District-Barabanki i.e. the place for discovery of the dead body of the deceased is approximately 300 Kilometers. Therefore, a very crucial aspect of the present case, according this Court would be also to see as to what evidence has come on record to show, as to how and in what circumstances the deceased (or say the dead body of the deceased) travelled this 300 KM and what is the evidence to link the accused/appellant to the said place of crime spot.

27. No doubt, it is a well-established canon of criminal jurisprudence that conviction on a charge of murder may be based purely on circumstantial evidence, however, the said conviction always comes with a caveat that such conviction ought to be based on evidence deemed to be credible and trustworthy. In cases involving circumstantial evidence, it is crucial to ensure that the facts leading to the conclusion of guilt are fully established and that all the established facts point irrefutably to the accused/appellant person-s guilt. The chain of incriminating circumstances must be conclusive and should exclude any hypothesis other than the guilt of the accused/appellant. In other words, from the chain of incriminating circumstances, no reasonable doubt can be entertained about the accused person's innocence, demonstrating that it was the accused and none other who committed the offence. The law with regard to conviction based on circumstantial evidence has been crystallized by the Hon-ble Supreme Court in the case of Sharad Birdhichand Sharda v. State of Maharashtra, reported in (1984) 4 SCC 116; wherein it was held:

"153. A close analysis of this decision would show that the following conditions must be fulfilled before a case against an accused can be said to be fully established:

(1) the circumstances from which the conclusion of guilt is to be drawn should be fully established. It may be noted here that this Court indicated that the circumstances concerned -must or should- and not -may be-established. There is not only a grammatical but a legal distinction between -may be proved- and -must be or should be proved- as was held by this Court in Shivaji Sahabrao Bobade v. State of Maharashtra [(1973) 2 SCC 793] where the observations were made: [SCC para 19, p. 807] -Certainly, it is a primary principle that the accused must be and not merely may be guilty before a court can convict and the mental distance between (1984) 4 SCC 116. 20 -may be- and -must be- is long and divides vague conjectures from sure conclusions.-

(2) the facts so established should be consistent only with the hypothesis of the guilt of the accused, that is to say, they should not be explainable on any other hypothesis except that the accused is guilty,

(3) the circumstances should be of a conclusive nature and tendency,

(4) they should exclude every possible hypothesis except the one to be proved, and

(5) there must be a chain of evidence so complete as not to leave any reasonable ground for the conclusion consistent with the innocence of the accused and must show that in all human probability the act must have been done by the accused.

(emphasis supplied)

28. Having noted the principles governing a case based purely on circumstantial evidence, this Court proceeds to discuss the evidence led by the prosecution in order to bring home the charges against the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar. The evidence brought on record by the prosecution to establish the charge of murder against the accused-appellant Ajay Kumar, can be formulated into the following circumstances:

(i) The first circumstances would be the discovery of dead bodies of two unknown persons lying in the Rakhuna Chiloki forest, P.S.-Safdarganj, Sub-district - Nawabganj, District – Barabanki;

(ii) The second circumstance would be the cause of death of the deceased persons;

(iii) The third circumstance would be the recovery of a photocopy of a Notary Affidavit dated 28.12.2010 relating to the solemnization of a marriage between the deceased lady and the appellant from the crime spot;

(iv) The fourth circumstance would be the motive for doing the deceased to death by the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar;

(v) The fifth circumstance would be the evidence of last seen together, so as to invoke the provision of Section 106 Indian Evidence Act and cast an onus on the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar to explain the circumstances under which the deceased was found murdered.

29. As far as the first circumstance is concerned, P.W.-1 has deposed that in Rakhuna Chiloki Forest, the dead body of deceased Subhangi was found in a pit behind the Government Girls Inter College with a gamcha (towel) tied around her neck and a dead body of minor girl lying near the drain. He proved the written complaint/Tehrir as Exhbit- Ka-1, which led to lodging of a F.I.R. being case Crime No. 133 of 2011 (Exhibit- Ka-26) against unknown persons under Section 302 I.P.C. Thereafter, P.W.-9 proved the Inquest proceedings and the panchayatnama of both the deceased persons as Exhibit Ka-12 and Exhibit Ka-19. Thus, the factum of discovery of dead bodies at Rakhuna Chiloki forest, village - Chiloki, Police Station - Safdarganj, District- Barabanki, stands proved.

30. The second circumstances is the cause of death. As aforesaid, this Court finds that the investigation started with the lodging of F.I.R. and the panchaytnama records that the deceased Subhangi had a knot of gamcha tied around her neck and the identity of the said deceased could not be ascertained even after talking to several persons in the vicinity. Thus, to know the cause of death both the bodies were sent for post mortem. The post mortem reports of both the deceased (Exhibit-Ka-2 and Exhibit- Ka-3) were proved by P.W.-2. The said witness, who is a Doctor and posted as Senior consultant at the District Hospital, Barabanki has deposed that a contusion ligature mark 34cm X 2- cm was present all around the neck at the level of thyroid cartilage. He has also deposed that the death was caused due to ante-mortem strangulation and the injuries sustained by both the deceased were sufficient to cause death in the ordinary course of nature. Thus, the second circumstances relating to the homicidal death of the deceased also stands proved.

31. The third circumstance would be the recovery of a photocopy of a Notary Affidavit dated 28.12.2010 from the crime spot relating to the solemnization of a marriage between the deceased lady and the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar. As regards the recovery of the said Notary Affidavit, the Investigating officer (P.W.-7) deposed that he recovered the said Notary Affidavit from the crime spot along with various articles strewn at the crime-spot like sarees, blouse, petticoats, Mobile, cream, needles and thread, nail polish, bag etc., including the crime-weapon. However, this Court finds that a recovery memo (fard) was prepared as Exhibit ka-5, for all the articles, except the Notary Affidavit. Further, recovery of crime-weapon, i.e. part/piece of saree and gamcha used to tie around the neck so as to throttle the deceased persons were also marked as Exhibit Ka-6 and Exhibit Ka-7; however no fard/ recovery memo was prepared with respect to the Notary Affidavit, nor the same was filed along with the charge-sheet or has been brought on record.

32. Further, no witnesses have been produced to prove the factum of marriage between the deceased and the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar, nor to prove the contents of the said Notary Affidavit. The Notary Affidavit dated 28.12.2010 alleged to be a marriage certificate is not available on the record of the present case and has mysteriously vanished. This Court finds that according to the Investigating Officer, the Notary affidavit was one of the most vital document to ascertain the identity of the deceased persons and was also a link to the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar, however, this Court is absolutely clueless as to in what circumstances, the said Notary Affidavit was not brought on records of the present case.

33. Further, no doubt P.W.-3 in her statement has stated that the deceased is wife of the appellant, however, she has also stated that Shubhangi and her child were the residence of her village and the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar is from some other village and came to live along with the deceased only before 3/4 months, before the incident. Apparently, the factum of marriage seems to be unreliable for obvious reasons as it has also come in evidence that she does not know as to what the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar did for his living nor as to from which village he had come. Similarly, P.W.-4 although in his examination-in-chief stated the factum of a Court-marriage, however, in her cross-examination she admits that she is not aware as to where and when the said marriage was performed. P.W.-4 also says that she and P.W.-6 (Ganesh/Devar) belongs to the same fraternity/biradari .

34. It is also easily verifiable from the testimony of P.W.-6 (Ganesh) that although, he has testified that the deceased and the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar had a Court-marriage and the said paper was shown to him by the Investigating Officer, however. in his cross examination he admits that the paper of Court-marriage shown to him by the Investigating Officer was being seen by him for the first time. Further, the Investigating Officer, has testified in his cross examination that he had never visited the house of P.W.-6 (Ganesh) and that is why there was no question of showing him the notarial affidavit of Court marriage. Interestingly, all these fact witnesses have deposed relating to the marriage of the deceased with the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar, however, none of them knew the name of the child aged about 8/9 years old nor they knew as to what the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar did for his living nor they knew, as to from which village the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar had come from. Thus, the testimony of these fact witnesses relating to the marriage does not boost of confidence and are untrustworthy and has to be taken with a pinch of salt, keeping in view that all these fact witnesses belong to the same village and same fraternity/biradari. Thus, the fact of marriage could not be proved form the evidence on record, however, this Court reasons to believe that some relation existed between the deceased and the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar.

35. The fourth circumstance is to be found from the reading of the evidence would be the theory of motive propounded by the prosecution for committing the offense of murder by the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar. As far as the theory of motive is concerned, it is trite law that proof of motive is not sine qua non in a case of murder. However, in a case based purely on circumstantial evidence, motive if properly established, assumes great significance and would definitely provide an important corroborative link in the chain of incriminating circumstances and strengthen the case of prosecution. The reliance in this regard may be placed on the case of Nandu Singh v. State of Chhattisgarh, reported in 2022 SCC Online SC 1454.

36. As far as the present case is concerned, there are five fact witnesses. Out of the said five witnesses, except for P.W.-6 (Ganesh), none of these witnesses have deposed anything relating to motive. A careful scanning of the evidence of P.W.-6 would reveal that the sole motive assigned for murder by him is the threat extended by the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar, during the life time of the deceased. According to the said witness, the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar had extended threat of life to the deceased- Subhangi, in case she did not stop following him. However, in his cross-examination, the said witness admitted that neither he nor the deceased -Subhangi had ever lodged any complaint related to the said threat. He also admits that the said fact of threat to life was not told by him to the police during his recording of statement under Section 161 Cr.P.C. Further, he admits in his cross- examination that after the death of his brother- Shankar, the village land came to be vested with Subhangi, his Bhabhi (sister-in-law) and after her death, the land presently came to be vested with him. Besides, the said stray statement of P.W.-6, there is no evidence nor any investigation, which has come on record to show the ill-motive of the accused/appellant. Thus, the motive as tried to be proved against the accused/appellant is absolutely far-fetched and no immediate or proximate reasons have come on record to show any motive of the accused/appellant to commit the offense of murder. The accused/appellant Ajay Kumar admittedly is not even a beneficiary of death of the deceased person. Thus, we have no hesitation in holding that the evidence led by the prosecution to prove the theory of motive for commission of the crime as attributed to the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar, is far from convincing and a vital link in the chain of incriminating circumstances is snapped. In view of the above finding, unquestionably, the trial Court erred in holding that the prosecution has been able to prove the motive for the murder against the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar, beyond all manner of doubt.

37. The fifth circumstance would be the evidence of last seen together, as propounded by the prosecution, thereby, trying to shift the burden of proof by virtue of Section 106 of the Evidence Act and placing the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar under the onus to explain the circumstances under which Subhangi and her 8/9 years old minor daughter was found murdered. It is a cardinal principle of criminal jurisprudence that Section 106 of the Evidence Act shall apply and the onus to explain would shift on the accused only after the prosecution succeeds in establishing the basic foundational facts from which a reasonable inference can be drawn regarding the existence of certain other facts which are within the special knowledge of the accused. When the accused fails to offer a proper explanation about the existence of the said other facts, the Court can draw an appropriate inference against the accused. In cases based on circumstantial evidence, the accused's failure to provide a reasonable explanation as required under Section 106 of the Evidence Act can serve as an additional link in the chain of circumstantial evidence - but only if the prosecution has already established other essential ingredients including the foundational fact, sufficient to shift the onus on the accused. However, if the prosecution fails to establish a complete chain of circumstances in the first place, then the accused's failure to discharge the burden under Section 106 of the Evidence Act becomes irrelevant.

38. The law concerning the invocation of shifting of onus under Section 106 of the Evidence Act has been explained by the Hon-ble Supreme Court in the case of Shambu Nath Mehra v. State of Ajmer, reported in AIR 1956 SC 404; wherein it was held as follows:

"8. Section 106 is an exception to Section 101. Section 101 lays down the general rule about the burden of proof:

"101.Burden of proof.-Whoever desires any court to give judgment as to any legal right or liability dependent on the existence of facts which he asserts, must prove that those facts exist.-

9.-Illustration (a) says:

"Adesires a court to give judgment that-B-shall be punished for a crime which-A-says-B-has committed.

Amust prove that-B-has committed the crime.-

10.This lays down the general rule that in a criminal case the burden of proof is on the prosecution and Section 106 is certainly not intended to relieve it of that duty. On the contrary, it is designed to meet certain exceptional cases in which it would be impossible, or at any rate disproportionately difficult, for the prosecution to establish facts which are -especially- within the knowledge of the accused and which he could prove without difficulty or inconvenience. The word -especially- stresses that. It means facts that are-pre-eminently-or-exceptionally-within his knowledge. If the section were to be interpreted otherwise, it would lead to the very startling conclusion that in a murder case the burden lies on the accused to prove that he did not commit the murder because who could know better than he whether he did or did not. It is evident that that cannot be the intention and the Privy Council has twice refused to construe this section, as reproduced in certain other Acts outside India, to mean that the burden lies on an accused person to show that he did not commit the crime for which he is tried…."

39. Further, in Tulshiram Sahadu Suryawanshi and Anr. v. State of Maharashtra, reported in (2012) 10 SCC 373; the Supreme Court observed as under:

"23."It is settled law that presumption of fact is a rule in law of evidence that a fact otherwise doubtful may be inferred from certain other proved facts. When inferring the existence of a fact from other set of proved facts, the court exercises a process of reasoning and reaches a logical conclusion as the most probable position. The above position is strengthened in view of Section 114 of the Evidence Act, 1872. It empowers the court to presume the existence of any fact which it thinks likely to have happened. In that process, the courts shall have regard to the common course of natural events, human conduct, etc. in addition to the facts of the case. In these circumstances, the principles embodied in Section 106 of the Evidence Act can also be utilised. We make it clear that this section is not intended to relieve the prosecution of its burden to prove the guilt of the accused beyond reasonable doubt, but it would apply to cases where the prosecution has succeeded in proving facts from which a reasonable inference can be drawn regarding the existence of certain other facts, unless the accused by virtue of his special knowledge regarding such facts, failed to offer any explanation which might drive the court to draw a different inference."

40. A similar observation is found in Nagendra Sah v. State of Bihar, reported in (2021) 10 SCC 725; wherein the Hon-ble Supreme Court has held that:

"22."Thus, Section 106 of the Evidence Act will apply to those cases where the prosecution has succeeded in establishing the facts from which a reasonable inference can be drawn regarding the existence of certain other facts which are within the special knowledge of the accused. When the accused fails to offer proper explanation about the existence of said other facts, the court can always draw an appropriate inference.

23.-When a case is resting on circumstantial evidence, if the accused fails to offer a reasonable explanation in discharge of burden placed on him by virtue of Section 106 of the Evidence Act, such a failure may provide an additional link to the chain of circumstances. In a case governed by circumstantial evidence, if the chain of circumstances which is required to be established by the prosecution is not established, the failure of the accused to discharge the burden under Section 106 of the Evidence Act is not relevant at all. When the chain is not complete, falsity of the defence is no ground to convict the accused."

41. Recently, Hon-ble Supreme Court in the case of Anees v. State (NCT of Delhi), reported in (2024) 15 SCC 48; held in the following terms:

"45."Section 106 of the Evidence Act cannot be invoked to make up the inability of the prosecution to produce evidence of circumstances pointing to the guilt of the accused. This section cannot be used to support a conviction unless the prosecution has discharged the onus by proving all the elements necessary to establish the offence. It does not absolve the prosecution from the duty of proving that a crime was committed even though it is a matter specifically within the knowledge of the accused and it does not throw the burden on the accused to show that no crime was committed. To infer the guilt of the accused from absence of reasonable explanation in a case where the other circumstances are not by themselves enough to call for his explanation is to relieve the prosecution of its legitimate burden. So, until a prima facie case is established by such evidence, the onus does not shift to the accused.-

(emphasis supplied)

42. Applying the aforesaid principles to the case at hand, the prosecution would be required to establish the basic foundational fact that the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar and Subhangi and her daughter (deceased) were last seen together, and to be specific during the time immediately preceding the incident. On a minute perusal of the testimony of the fact witnesses it is revealed from the deposition of P.W.-3 (Sona Devi) that she had seen the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar along with the deceased persons leaving the village. In her cross-examination, she deposed that she was not able to meet them as they were leaving the village and told that either on the 3rd or 4th day after they left, the Barabanki Police had come to her village. She does not say anything about the timing, but says it was during evening. Thus, the evidence relating to -last seen together- is not proximate as there is a gap of 3-4 days between the incident of seen together and the crime committed. Further, the said witness is not sure about the number of days before she allegedly saw the deceased in the company of the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar. P.W.-4 (Dhuriya) also says that she had seen the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar leaving the village together some three years ago in the afternoon, however, he does not know as to at which place he had seen these people together.

43. P.W.-5 (Vinod) says that he had also seen the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar along with the deceased leaving the village around 11 AM. However, in his cross-examination, he has stated that it is correct that he has not seen the deceased and the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar going together. Thus, an apparent contradiction appears in his statement. Further, he admits that the fact of having seen both the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar and the deceased leaving together from the village has not been told by him to the police, when his statement was recorded under Section 161 Cr.P.C. The next fact witnesses, namely P.W.-6 (Ganesh) admits in his cross-examination that he had not seen the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar and the deceased leaving together from the village. Thus, the factum of having seen the deceased in the company of the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar leaving together or as to on which date or time is seriously doubtful. Apparently, the P.W.-7 (Investigating officer) has stated in his testimony that he has recorded the statement of P.W.-3 (Sona Devi) and P.W.-5 (Vinod) on 06.07.2011 i.e. after more than 75 days of the incident and that of P.W.-4 on 11.07.2011 i.e. after more than 80 days. Although, different time of having seen the accused/appellant along with the deceased, leaving the village has been said by witnesses P.W.-3, P.W.-4 and P.W.-5 in their testimony, which appears to be minor inconsistencies, the delay in recording the police statement of those witnesses calls for a close scrutiny of their version. Keeping in view that human memory fades with time and any narration of facts or events would depend on the perception and on the knowledge, which the said witness has gained in the intervening period between the date of crime and the date of recording the statements.

44. In any case, it is apparent from the facts of the present case that admittedly, the dead bodies were recovered not after 3/4 days of having seen together, but also some 300 KM away precisely at Rakhuna Chiloki forest, Village - Chiloki, P.S.- Safdarganj, Nawabganj, District: Barabanki. Thus, the testimony of last seen together does not appears to be immediately preceding the incident or proximate to the happening of murder of the deceased persons. The Hon-ble Supreme Court in the case of Rambraksh Vs State of Chhattisgarh, reported in (2016) 12 SCC 251; held that the last seen theory would be advantageous to the prosecution to prove a case based on circumstantial evidence only when the time gap between the last seen point and the discovery of the death is so small and proximate that no one else could have committed the crime, but for that person. The Supreme Court even in those cases where the accused was last seen in the company of deceased, went on to hold that even in these cases the circumstance of last seen together alone is insufficient and the prosecution must establish a complete chain of circumstances proving the accused-s guilt. In the aforesaid judgment of Rambraksh (Supra), the Hon-ble Supreme Court went on to hold as under:

"12."It is trite law that a conviction cannot be recorded against the accused merely on the ground that the accused was last seen with the deceased. In other words, a conviction cannot be based on the only circumstance of last seen together. Normally, last seen theory comes into play where the time gap, between the point of time when the accused and the deceased were seen last alive and when the deceased is found dead, is so small that possibility of any person other than the accused being the perpetrator of the crime becomes impossible. To record a conviction, the last seen together itself would not be sufficient and the prosecution has to complete the chain of circumstances to bring home the guilt of the accused.-

(emphasis supplied)

45. Further, there are consistent line of judgment, starting from Arjun Marik Vs State of Bihar, reported in 1994 Supp(2) SCC 372; Krishnan alias Ramaswamy and Ors. Vs State of Tamil Nadu, reported in (2014) 4 SCC 715; and Kanahiya Lal Vs State of Rajasthan, reported in (2014) 4 SCC 715; which have held that evidence of last seen together is a weak evidence and conviction only on the basis of last seen together without there being any other corroborative evidence against the accused will not be sufficient to convict the accused for an offence under Sections 302 I.P.C.

46. According to this Court, the best witness to narrate about the last seen together theory would had been P.W.-8 (Sandeep Kumar), the witness, who allegedly saw the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar and the deceased together at his shop of tea and samosa. However, the deposition of the said witness is of not much use as not only he refuses to identify the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar due to passage of time and his shop to be very busy, so as to identify a solitary client like the accused/appellant, but also testifies that no statement under Section 161 Cr.P.C was recorded by the police after the time of incident.

47. Thus, this Court finds nothing in the testimony of the fact witnesses which could even remotely suggest that the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar was last seen together immediately before or after the incident, as propounded by the prosecution, thereby, trying to shift the burden of proof by virtue of Section 106 of the Evidence Act and placing the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar under the onus to explain the circumstances under which Subhangi and her 8/9 years old minor daughter was found murdered. This Court finds that there had been a growing trend in the Trial Court to invoke the provisions of Section 106 of the Indian Evidence Act at the drop of hat, for getting that time and again the Hon-ble Supreme Court has held that Section 106 is not a panacea for the defect in proving the case against the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar. The prosecution case has to stand on its own legs and prove all the elements necessary to establish the offence against the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar.

48. In addition thereto, it is seen from the evidence that the F.I.R. was lodged on 22.04.2011, the postmortem was conducted on the dead bodies on 23.04.2011 and on the same date the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar was arrested. The Investigating officer (P.W.-7) has stated that the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar was arrested on 23.04.2011 on the basis of Notary affidavit found from the crime spot on 22.04.2011. Admittedly, the said notarial affidavit has not been proved nor filed on record and the statement of the fact witnesses, which allegedly saw the accused/appellant

Ajay Kumar together with the deceased going away from the village was recorded after more than two and half months of the incident, which creates a serious doubt on the testimonies of these fact witnesses.

49. From the evidence of P.W.-3 (Sona Devi) and P.W.-6 (Ganesh/ devar) it also transpires that the deceased had a mother-in-law. However, the prosecution has not explained as to where the mother-in-law was on the date of the incident. Nothing is available on record to throw any light regarding the same. Likewise, the prosecution has also failed to provide any explanation whatsoever as to why the beneficiaries of death of the deceased person namely the mother-in-law and one Uma as named by the P.W.-6 in his cross-examination, were not examined in evidence. This Court also notes that although a mobile was recovered from the crime spot, however, no investigation was carried with the help of said mobile, which could had given vital information and evidence relating to the death of the deceased. Failure to examine them in evidence calls for drawing of adverse inference thereby, further denting the credibility of the prosecution case, especially the link of -motive- for the murder of the deceased and the last seen theory proposed by the prosecution to convict the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar.

50. There is another doubtful aspect of the matter. Although, the presence of the Notary Affidavit cannot be doubt as P.W.-7 (Investigating officer) has deposed that the whereabouts of the deceased persons and the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar came to be revealed from the said Affidavit only. However, the same has mysteriously vanished in thin air. Further, if for a while, the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar is presumed to be the real culprit, then the said notarial affidavit, which had the effect of connecting and leading to the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar with that of the deceased Subhangi, would had been altogether removed or destroyed or at least not left at the crime-spot by the accused/appellant. Leaving the said notarial affidavit at the crime-spot would had been a self-goal for the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar. Thus, allegedly recovery of only the said notarial affidavit from the crime spot and not other important document of the deceased like, the Aadhar Card, pension papers, property papers etc., creates a doubt about the complicity of the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar in the present case. The said fact is further testified from the statement of P.W.-7, who has testified that although the name of the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar was clear from the notary affidavit, however, the name of Shubhangi/deceased was not clear. Apparently, it seems that entire case started by presuming the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar to be guilty and evidence were as such collected to vindicate the said presumption rather than finding the real culprit, who was responsible for crime against the deceased. Further, the conduct of the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar after the incident i.e. being stationed at the village of the deceased as testified by P.W.-6 (Ganesh) is also a relevant factor to show his innocence, under Section 8 of the Indian Evidence Act. This Court finds profitable to quote a very interesting observation of the Supreme Court relating to standard of evidence required from the prosecution to prove a case based of circumstantial evidence. The Supreme Court in the case of Umedbhai Jadavbhai v. State of Gujarat, reported in (1978) 1 SCC 228; held that while convicting the accused based on circumstantial evidence,there should remain no circumstance which aligns with the innocence of the accused. The observations made by the Court read thus:

"7."It is well-established that in a case resting on circumstantial evidence all the circumstances brought out by the prosecution, must inevitably and exclusively point to the guilt of the accused and there should be no circumstance which may reasonably be considered consistent with the innocence of the accused. Even in the case of circumstantial evidence, the Court will have to bear in mind the cumulative effect of all the circumstances in a given case and weigh them as an integrated whole. Any missing link may be fatal to the prosecution case."

(emphasis supplied)

51. Further, this Court finds that no efforts have been made by the prosecution to lead and connect the articles or the crime weapon recovered from the crime-spot with the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar. There is absolutely no evidence on record nor any testimony of any of the witnesses to show that these articles were recovered at the behest of the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar or that these articles belonged to him or to show that as to how these articles belonging to the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar could had reached the crime-spot. No efforts have been made by the prosecution to prove any of the circumstances, which would lead to any inkling as to how and in what circumstances the deceased (or say the dead body of the deceased) were found some 300 kilometers from their ordinary place of residence. Apparently, it seems the prosecution has built its case entirely on the fourth and fifth circumstances to prove their case against the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar, which according to this Court have miserably failed and fallen like a pack of cards as these circumstances does not establish facts, which could irrefutably points towards the guilt of the accused/appellant - Ajay Kumar.

52. Thus, this Court has no hesitation in holding that the nature of circumstantial evidence available against the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar, may would at best raise a doubt that he may have committed the offence but the same is not so conclusive that he can be convicted only on the evidence of the last seen together. Be that as it may, it is a settled proposition that whenever any doubt is created in the mind of the Court, the benefit shall accrue to the accused and not the prosecution. The present is a case where except for the weak evidence of last seen together, there is no other corroborative evidence against the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar. Therefore, the conviction only on the basis of last seen together cannot be sustained.

53. As a sequel to above, we are of the view that the prosecution has failed to prove the chain of incriminating circumstances against the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar by convincing evidence and beyond the shadow of doubt, so as to affirm his guilt. The Trial Court clearly erred while appreciating the evidence and in holding that the prosecution has proved the case against the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar beyond all manner of doubt. Hence, the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar deserves to be acquitted of the charge by giving him the benefit of doubt.

54. Resultantly, the impugned judgment dated 05.10.2015 passed by the learned Trial Court in Session Trial No. 992 of 2011 (State Vs Ajay Kumar) arising out of Case Crime No. 133 of 2011, is hereby reversed and set aside.

55. Consequently, we also direct that if the accused/appellant Ajay Kumar is in custody, he shall be released forthwith, if not wanted in any other case.

56. The appeal is allowed accordingly.

(2026) 2 ILRA 927
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 24.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE J.J. MUNIR, J.
THE HON'BLE VINAI KUMAR DWIVEDI, J.

Criminal Appeal No. 17 of 1988

Amar Singh & Ors. ...Appellants
Versus
State Of U.P. ...Respondents

Issue for consideration

Matter pertains to dacoity with murder

Headnotes

Indian Penal Code-Section 396 -dacoity with murder- enmity between parties -admitted by the prosecution witnesses-Kunji, who is alleged to have fired and shot Summera to death, has not been challaned by the police as an accused-no motive for the appellants to commit dacoity at Pohap Singh's house-Pohap Singh was not examined-six accused arraigned were well known and familiar to the prosecution witnesses-committed dacoity visible in electric light-no recovery of any looted items, objects, or materials-prosecution witnesses say facts that are against human nature- improbable and unbelievable version of events-Appeal allowed.(E-9)

Case Law Cited

1. Iqbal & another v. State of UP; (2015) 6 SCC 623
2. Lakshman Prasad v. State of Bihar; AIR 1981 SC 1388
3. Sushil And Others v. State of U.P. 1995 SSC (Cri.) 388
4. State of Punjab v. Sucha Singh (2003) 3 SCC 153

List of Acts

Indian Penal Code

List of Keywords

Dacoity; visible in electric light; did not cover his face; recover of any looted articles; conceal his identity.

Appearances of parties

Counsel for Appellant(s) : Bimla Prasad, K.c. Saxena, Kartikey Singh, Rajesh Pachauri, Rajrshi Gupta Counsel for Respondent(s) : A.G.A.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Vinai Kumar Dwivedi, J.)

1. This criminal appeal has been preferred by the convicts, to wit, Amar Singh, Prakash @ Om Prakash, Hardayal, Bahori and Biri Singh, against the judgment and order passed by Mr. Jaswant Singh, the then Ist Additional Sessions Judge, Mathura dated 22.12.1987 in Sessions Trial No. 166 of 1986, State v. Amar Singh and Others (arising out of Case Crime No. 196 of 1985), under Section 396 IPC, Police Station Goverdhan, District Mathura.

2. By the impugned judgment and order, the learned Additional Sessions Judge, Mathura, has convicted the appellants for an offence punishable under Section 396 IPC and sentenced them to suffer rigorous imprisonment for life. Aggrieved by the judgment and order dated 22.12.1987, the appellants have preferred this appeal.

3. The prosecution case, in brief, is that on the basis of a written report dated 11.11.1985 (Exhibit Ka-1) submitted by the informant Tika Ram (PW-1), a First Information Report dated 11.11.1985 (Exhibit Ka-11) was registered as Case Crime No. 196 of 1985, under Section 396 IPC, at Police Station Goverdhan, District Mathura, against six nominated accused, which includes the appellants and six unnamed men.

4. According to the prosecution case, in the intervening night of 10/11.11.1985, at about 2:00 a.m., the informant Tika Ram (PW-1), heard gunshots and cries of distress coming from the direction that his brother Pohap Singh's house was situate. Upon hearing the same, the informant, along with Baboo Lal and other villagers, rushed towards the place of occurrence. On reaching the spot, they saw that 10-12 armed dacoits were committing dacoity in Pohap Singh's house. The dacoits armed with deadly weapons, were moving in and out of the house, and were assaulting the inmates. In the electric light at Pohap Singh's house at the time of occurrence, the informant Tika Ram (PW-1), his brother Pohap Singh, and his nephew Murari Lal, clearly saw and identified six of the miscreants, namely Hardayal, Beeri Singh, Bahori Jatav, Prakash, Amar Singh Jatav, and Kunji, who were well known to them since before. During the course of the incident, the dacoits were firing indiscriminately, as a result of which, Summera, son of Sufha Jatav, resident of the same village, sustained fire arm injuries and succumbed thereto. Pohpi, Murari, Banwari Lal, Baboo Lal, Ramshri, Kishni, Ramvati, and Sundarlal also sustained injuries in the incident.

5. Further, the prosecution case is that the dacoits looted cash and ornaments from Pohap Singh's house. The looted articles included silver and gold ornaments belonging to Premvati and the daughter-in-law of Pohap Singh, besides one gold Kantha weighing one tola and cash to the tune of Rs. 11,000/-. After committing the offence, the dacoits fled towards Neem Gaon. The prosecution has also alleged the existence of previous enmity. It is stated that on 13.07.1985, the appellant Hardayal had eloped with the wife of one Deepa of the village, and that Pohap Singh had helped Deepa in that matter. On account of the said dispute, the appellant Hardayal barboured animosity towards Pohap Singh and, in furtherance of the same, committed the present offence along with the other appellants.

6. On the basis of the written report lodged by the informant, an FIR (Exhibit Ka-11) was registered under Section 396 IPC against the accused, including the appellants. The investigation of the case was taken up by Investigating Officer Virendra Kumar Tiwari (PW-4). He inspected the place of occurrence and directed Sub-Inspector, Ashok Kumar to hold inquest (Panchayatnama) on the cadaver of Summera. PW-4 collected empty cartridges, tikli, and pellets from the place of occurrence and prepared the recovery memo. After inspecting the place of occurrence, he prepared the site plan (Exhibit Ka-14). PW-4 also prepared necessary documents (police papers), including the photolash, chalanlash, letter to the CMO, and letter to the R.I. Thereafter, the dead body of the deceased Summera was sent for autopsy and the nine injured persons were sent for medical examination.

7. Dr. M.K. Gupta of District Hospital, Mathura, conducted the postmortem examination on the dead body of deceased Summera and reported following ante-mortem injuries in his postmortem report (Exhibit Ka.27):

(i) Contusion 4 x 3 cm on right side forehead 4 cm above right eyebrow.

(ii) Abrasion 0.25 x 0.25 cm on 3 cm on the right chin.

(iii) Abrasion 2 x 1 cm on left temporal region 3 cm lateral to the left eye.

(iv) Three gun shot wounds on the front of upper part of right side chest, size of each 0.25 x 0.25 cm. Blackening, tattooing absent.

(v) Two gun shot wounds on lateral side of middle and lower part of right side chest. Size 0.25 x 0.25 cm. Blackening, charring, tattooing absent.

(vi) Multiple gun shot wound (4) on front and lateral part of right side of upper and middle part of abdomen. Blackening, charring, tattooing absent.

(vii) Multiple gun shot wound (4)- two on front and two on back of lower part of right side arm. Blackening, charring, tattooing absent. Size 0.25 x 0.25 cm to 0.2 x 0.2 cm.

(viii) Three gun shot wounds size from 0.25 x 0.25 cm to 0.2 x 0.2 cm on the front and upper part of right thigh. Blackening, charring, tattooing absent.

(ix) One gun shot wound 0.25 x 0.2 cm on the right side of upper part of gestines. Blackening, charring, tattooing absent.

(x) Two gun shot wounds on upper part of left thigh. Size 0.25 x 0.25 cm. Blackening, charring, tattooing absent.

(xi) Abrasion 1 cm x 0.5 cm on the lateral side of left knee.

In the postmortem report, Dr. M.K. Gupta opined that death was caused due to 'shock and hemorrhage'.

8. All the injured persons, namely, Smt. Kishni, Smt. Ramwati, Pohpi, Murari Lal, Smt. Prem, Smt. Ramshri, Sunder, Babu Lal and Banwari, were referred to District Hospital, Mathura, where, their medical examination was conducted by Dr. RR Vaishya and he reported following injuries as per Exhibit Ka.2 to Exhibit Ka.10 as reproduced below:

(i) Injury Report of Smt. Kishni (Exhibit Ka.2)

1. Pellet wound of entry 0.2 x 0.2 cm on medial side of middle part of left thigh.

2. Pellet wound of entry 0.2 x 0.2 cm on front upper part of right leg.

(ii) Injury Report of Smt. Ramwati (Exhibit Ka.3)

1. Pellet wound of entry 0.2 x 0.2 cm on front middle and lower part of abdomen near pubic bone.

2. Pellet wound of entry 0.2 x 0.2 cm on front upper part of left thigh.

3. Pellet wound of entry 0.2 x 0.2 cm on medial side of left ankle.

(iii) Injury Report of Pohpi (Exhibit Ka.4)

1. Multiple pellet wounds of entry in an area of 14 cm x 1 cm on medial side of left foot.

(iv) Injury Report of Murari Lal (Exhibit Ka.5)

1. Multiple pellets wounds of entry in an area of 23 cm x 10 cm on front of right leg, x-ray advised.

2. Abrasion (scabbed) 3 cm x 0.5 cm on front & lower part of left leg.

3. Traumatic swelling 6 x 4 cm on front of left knee.

4. Multiple abraded scabbed contusion on back of left side chest upper part.

(v) Injury Report of Smt. Prem (Exhibit Ka.6)

1. Pellet wound of entry 0.3 x 0.3 cm on front of right thigh middle part.

(vi) Injury Report of Smt. Ramshri (Exhibit Ka.7)

1. Pellet wound of entry 0.3 x 0.3 cm on back & middle of left forearm.

2. Pellet wound of entry 0.3 x 0.3 cm on left blank.

3. Pellet wound of entry contusion 3 cm x 2 cm on medial side & upper part of left thigh.

(vii) Injury Report of Sri Sunder (Exhibit Ka.8)

1. Complaint of pain in right foot but no mark of external injury seen.

(viii) Injury Report of Sri Baboo Lal (Exhibit Ka.9)

1. Scabbed abrasion 0.2 x 0.3 cm on outer surface & middle of right ear.

2. A scabbed linear abrasion 2 cm long on right side middle part of neck.

3. Multiple pellets wound of entry in an area of 30 x 15 cm back of both side chest & upper part right upper arm.

4. Multiple pellets wound of entry in an area of 15 x 6 cm on both buttocks.

(ix) Injury Report of Sri Panwari (Exhibit Ka.10)

1. Multiple pellets wounds of entry in an area of 17 x 15 cm on right ride face & head, congestion & ecchymosis of right eye conjunction.

2. Multiple pellets wound of entry in an area of 21 x 6 cm on medial side of right knee and leg.

3. Multiple pellets wound of entry in an area of 30 x 8 cm on front & medial side of left leg.

9. The Investigating Officer, Virendra Kumar Tiwari (PW-4) recorded statements of eye-witnesses and other witnesses of the incident under Section 161 Cr.P.C. Thereafter, the Investigating Officer, Virendra Kumar Tiwari (PW-4) was transferred. After his transfer, Rahtu Singh (PW-5) took charge of investigation of this case and completed the same submitting a charge-sheet (Exhibit Ka.26) under Section 396 IPC against the appellants, namely, Amar Singh, Prakash @ Om Prakash, Hardayal, Bahori, and Biri Singh in the Court of the Magistrate.

10. After submission of the charge-sheet (Exhibit Ka.26)) in the concerned Court by PW-5, the learned Magistrate committed the case to the Court of Session as it was triable by the Court of Sessions.

11. The learned Ist Additional Sessions Judge, Mathura framed charges against the appellants, namely, Amar Singh, Prakash @ Om Prakash, Hardayal, Bahori, and Biri Singh, under Section 396 IPC. The charges were read over to the appellants, who pleaded not guilty and claimed trial.

12. The prosecution to substantiate its case examined prosecution witnesses i.e. Tika Ram (PW-1), Baboo Lal (PW-2), Banwari Lal (PW-3), Virendra Kumar Tiwari (PW-4) and Rahtu Singh (PW-5). Apart from oral evidence, the prosecution also relied upon documentary evidence in support of its case, such as, Exhibit Ka.1 to Exhibit Ka. 27.

13. After recording of evidence of the prosecution witnesses, the appellants were examined under Section 313 Cr.P.C. In their statements recorded under Section 313 Cr.P.C., all appellants denied the charges. In their statement recorded under Section 313 Cr.P.C., they have stated that due to enmity and rivalry in village, they have been falsely implicated in this case. They have also stated that they are innocent and have not committed dacoity as alleged.

14. After the prosecution evidence, the defense have not produced any evidence in their support. The Trial Court, after hearing arguments of both sides, passed the impugned judgment and order of conviction and sentence dated 22.12.1987 against the appellants, convicting them of the offence punishable under Section 396 IPC and sentencing them. All the appellants were sentenced to rigorous imprisonment for life.

15. We have heard Mr. Rajrshi Gupta, learned Counsel for the appellants and Mr. Anil Kumar Mishra, learned Additional Government Advocate for the State.

16. Learned Counsel for the appellants submitted that there is enmity between parties as admitted by the prosecution witnesses, which has resulted in a false nomination for them in the First Information Report. He next submitted that it is also admitted to the prosecution that though the appellants were known to the injured and the informant since before, but the appellants did not take any precaution to conceal their identity. He next submitted that Kunji, who is alleged to have fired and shot Summera to death, has not been challaned by the police as an accused in the present case. There was no motive for the appellants to commit dacoity at Pohap Singh's house, particularly when the appellant Hardayal had already executed a will of his property in favour of Ram Kumar, the real nephew of Pohap Singh. It was also argued by the learned Counsel for the appellants that the prosecution witnesses did not say which appellant had what weapon and who caused injuries to whom, when they were well known to the prosecution witnesses since before. All the prosecution witnesses belong to the same family. They are father, son and nephew. They are partisan who harboured animosity against the appellants and cannot be believed when independent witnesses whose presence is admitted at the spot have not been produced. The prosecution deliberately withheld Pohap Singh as a witness in the case at whose house the dacoity is said to have been committed. It is also submitted that despite the dacoits being known and familiar, who were challaned by the police, the police could not recover any looted articles, ornaments and other valuables from the appellants' house. It is also submitted that apart from the appellants who were known, six unknown men also participated in the commission of dacoity as per prosecution story but the unknown offenders could not be arrested by the police. In the light of above arguments, learned Counsel for the appellants submitted that all the charge-sheeted and known appellants were falsely implicated in this case of dacoity only on the ground of previous enmity with a view to seek revenge from them. Hence, it is submitted by the learned Counsel for the appellants that the present criminal appeal is liable to be allowed and judgment and order of conviction and sentence dated 22.12.1987 deserves to be set aside.

17. Per contra, the learned A.G.A. for the State has vehemently opposed the submissions advanced by learned Counsel for the accused-appellants and contended that the written report (Exhibit Ka-1) was promptly lodged by the informant, Tika Ram (PW-1), wherein he specifically named all the appellants along with some unknown men. It was submitted that the appellants committed dacoity and murder visible in electric light. As a result of the acts of the appellants, one Summera died on the spot due to firearm injuries, and nine others sustained firearm injuries. The prosecution witnesses, namely, Tika Ram (PW-1), Baboo Lal (PW-2), and Banwari Lal (PW-3), who are eyewitnesses to the incident, have fully supported the prosecution case in their depositions. The motive for the commission of dacoity was previous enmity with the appellant Hardayal. Owing to this enmity, the appellant Hardayal along with other appellants, hatched a plan to seek revenge. All the appellants were well known and familiar to the prosecution witnesses.

18. Further, the learned Trial Judge, upon proper appreciation of the evidence of the prosecution witnesses, found the appellants guilty of the alleged offence. By a well-reasoned and speaking judgment, the learned Trial Judge passed a judgment of conviction, and, accordingly, held the appellants guilty. There is no illegality, perversity or misappreciation of evidence in the findings recorded by the learned Trial Court. The appeal preferred by the accused-appellants is devoid of merit and liable to be dismissed.

19. We have heard the arguments advanced by learned Counsel for the appellants and the learned A.G.A. for the State, and have gone through the evidence available on record. We have also perused the judgment and order of conviction and sentence dated 22.12.1987.

20. In the light of the arguments advanced by learned Counsel for the parties, we find that the present case is one of dacoity with murder. We further find that the six accused arraigned were well known and familiar to the prosecution witnesses, who is said to have committed dacoity visible in electric light.

21. A perusal of the written report (Exhibit Ka-1) reveals that the motive for the commission of the crime was enmity harboured by the appellant Hardayal. It is stated therein that Hardayal had eloped with the wife of Deepa, a resident of the same village. In connection with this dispute, Pohap Singh, brother of the informant Tika Ram (PW-1), had extended assistance to Deepa, on account of which the appellant Hardayal, in retaliation, along with the other men arraigned, committed dacoity at Pohap Singh's house. It is further said in the written report that the dacoity was committed in the presence of electric light, enabling clear visibility, and that all the dacoits were seen and their identities fully known to the prosecution witnesses. Apart from the named accused, six other unknown dacoits are also said to have participated in the incident, who could be identified by the prosecution witnesses if produced before them.

22. It is also a noteworthy fact that the incident occurred in the night intervening 10/11.11.1985 at about 2:00 a.m., and the First Information Report was lodged promptly on 11.11.1985 at 3:30 a.m. The place of occurrence, situated in village Sakarva, is at a distance of only two miles from the concerned police station. After receiving the information, the Investigating Officer conducted a raid on 13.11.1985 at the house of the appellant Bahori. But, he was not present at his residence. The Investigating Officer searched the house of the appellant Bahori, but no looted article was recovered from his house, as evident from Exhibit Ka-24. The Investigating Officer also conducted a raid at the house of accused Hori Singh, who was also not present at his residence at the relevant time. A search of Hori Singh's house was carried out, but the Investigating Officer was unsuccessful in recovering any looted article from his possession, as reflected in Exhibit Ka-25.

23. When informant, Tika Ram (PW-1) was examined in the Court, he stated in his examination-in-chief that "The accused persons present in Court, namely, Biri Singh, Bahori, Amar Singh, Prakash @ Om Prakash and Hardayal, are known to me since before the incident. Hardayal is from my village, and the others used to visit his place frequently, that is how I know them. About three-four months prior to the incident, the accused Hardayal had eloped with the wife of Deepa, a resident of our village, and had started living in Krishna Nagar. My brother, Pohap Singh, had helped Deepa, on account of which the accused persons bear a grudge (enmity) against us. It is a matter, that is about one and half years old. At 2 O' clock in the night dacoity was committed at the house of my brother, Pohap Singh. At that time, I was sleeping at my house. I woke up to the sound of gunshots coming from the direction of Pohap Singh's house and went towards his home. Baboo Lal and others from the neighborhood were also with me. The lights were on in the Veranda, Courtyard (Angan) and the shop at Pohap Singh's house. I saw there that 10-12 men, armed with sticks (lathi), axes (farsa), country-made pistols (katta) and torches, were beating and looting Pohap Singh's family members and were moving in and out. Pohap Singh and his sons, Banwari and Murari, were sleeping in the Veranda. They were also assaulted by the dacoits. One dacoit had climbed onto the upper roof and was saying, 'I am the Kunji of Totha, if anyone comes, I will shoot him down.' He was firing. The dacoits looted for half an hour and then left. We did not chase them out of fear. Among those dacoits/miscreants, we identified five men i.e. Bahori, Biri Singh, Amar Singh, Prakash, and Hardayal. These people were involved in the assault and looting. Murari, Banwari, Pohap Singh, Premvati, Ramvati, Ramshri, Kishni and Sundar sustained injuries, and one Summera died on the spot from a bullet fired by the dacoits."

24. During his cross examination, the informant, Tika Ram (PW-1) has stated that "The accused Hardayal had made a will in the name of my son, Ram Kumar. At that time, Hardayal's wife had run away and Hardayal was ill, until then, he had not remarried. Hardayal had no children from his first wife. Before this dacoity, the accused Hardayal had cancelled that will on the date 28.03.1984. I felt neither good nor bad about Hardayal cancelling the will. It is wrong to say that I have falsely implicated Hardayal and his family members in this dacoity because of the cancellation of the will."

25. PW-1, in his cross-examination, further stated that he was not aware that all the accused were related to each other. He also stated that he did not know that Amar Singh and Prakash were cousins of Biri and Bahori. PW-1 further stated that none of the dacoits had covered their faces at the time of commission of the offence.

26. Thus, the evidence of the informant Tika Ram (PW-1) reveals that he stated in Court the same facts as mentioned in his written report (Exhibit Ka-1). According to him, the appellant Hardayal was the mastermind behind the incident. Hardayal had eloped with Deepa's wife, and when Pohap Singh, Tika Ram's brother, helped Deepa, Hardayal harboured animosity against Pohap Singh. Hardayal's first wife later left him, and he had executed a will in favour of Tika Ram's son, Ram Kumar, but cancelled it 3-4 months before the incident.

27. Upon a perusal of the written report (Exhibit Ka-1) and the evidence of informant Tika Ram (PW-1) in Court, it is revealed that according to this witness, the appellant Hardayal, along with his relatives, committed dacoity at the house of Pohap Singh. The incident occurred in the presence of electric light, and the appellants did not cover their faces.

28. Upon a perusal of the evidence of informant Tika Ram (PW-1), it is clear that due to the enmity, the appellant Hardayal, along with his relatives, committed the alleged dacoity at the house of Pohap Singh, the brother of informant Tika Ram (PW-1). However, upon examining Tika Ram's evidence, we find that it lacks forthrightness and truthfulness. It appears that this witness, due to enmity, falsely implicated known and familiar persons in this case. The testimony of this witness does not inspire confidence, making it unreliable.

29. The prosecution produced Baboo Lal as PW-2 and Banwari Lal as PW-3. Upon a perusal of evidence of these two witnesses, it is revealed that they stated in their evidence that at the time of the incident, there was electric light, and in the presence of electric light, they identified Hardayal, Biri Singh, Bahori, Amar Singh, and Prakash while they were assaulting and committing dacoity. These two prosecution witnesses stated that they saw Hardayal and others assault with fire arms and other weapons, resulting in Summera's death and injuries to nine others. Banwari Lal (PW-3) also said in his cross-examination that amongst the accused, only Hardayal is from his village, and the rest usually come to Hardayal's place. Thus, it appears that Hardayal was from the same village, and other accused were relatives or acquaintances of Hardayal. The testimonies of Baboo Lal (PW-2) and Banwari Lal (PW-3) corroborate the informant Tika Ram's (PW-1) account.

30. It is also noteworthy that the Investigating Officer could not recover any looted articles, such as, ornaments, or other things from the appellants' houses or possession. No recovery of any looted items, objects, or materials could be made by the Investigating Officer from the possession of the accused persons or from their houses, although the First Information Report was lodged promptly. Since the Investigating Officer could not recover a single ornament, valuable or thing from the appellants' houses of the accused persons or at their instance, the appellants cannot be held connected to the dacoity.

31. It is a well-known fact that dacoits usually commit their evil deeds by the darkness of night and cover their faces so that their identity cannot be known. However, surprisingly, in this case, the appellants allegedly committed dacoity at the house of Pohap Singh, brother of the informant Tika Ram (PW-1), at night, visible in electric light, and even without covering their faces. It is also a very surprising fact that the appellant Hardayal was a resident of the same village as informant Tika Ram (PW-1), yet he did not cover his face during the crime. It appears that the appellant Hardayal, along with other perpetrators, intentionally committed the crime at the house of Pohap Singh, visible in electric light, without covering their faces, so that the informant Tika Ram (PW-1) and the other prosecution witnesses, namely, Baboo Lal (PW-2) and Banwari Lal (PW-3), could easily identify them and lodge a First Information Report against them.

32. Upon a perusal of the evidence of eye witnesses in this case, it is revealed that all the prosecution witnesses of fact narrated a concocted, artificial, and fabricated story only due to enmity against the appellant Hardayal. It is a fact that any person who is committing a crime tries his best to conceal his identity so that the victim of the crime and the police do not trace out his presence at the place of occurrence and cannot connect him to the commission of the crime. But in this case, the prosecution witnesses say facts that are against human nature, that all the appellants were committing the dacoity even without covering their faces. Due to these reasons, we are unable to believe the evidence of these prosecution witnesses.

33. It is worthwhile to refer, at this stage, to the authority of the Supreme Court in Iqbal & another v. State of UP; (2015) 6 SCC 623. The Supreme Court observed in paragraphs 10, 16 and 17 of the report as follows:

10. In cases of dacoity, usually, the offence is committed by unknown persons with the criminal background. It is only in very few cases, are the accused dacoits known to the victim. PW 1 Patia Singh and PW 2 Jay Singh have stated that they had witnessed the incident from a distance of three-and-a-half yards. PW 3 Begraj also stated that he had witnessed the incident from a distance of five-six yards in the feeble torchlight. Admittedly, according to the witnesses, there was no electricity at the time of incident in their houses. They claimed that they could see the accused persons with the help of their torchlights. In the courts below, on behalf of the accused persons, it was argued that the night of incident was an amavasya-new moon night. On a perusal of calendar of that month in that year, it is seen that the intervening night of 21-9-1979/22-9-1979 was a new moon night i.e. 'amavasya'.

16. It is pertinent to note that in the present case no recovery of articles which are the subject of dacoity was made from the appellants or other non-appealing accused persons. In his complaint, PW 1 gave a list enumerating fifty expensive items, such as gold jewellery, silver articles, sarees and clothes and also cash. As per the recovery memo, what was recovered was just three kilograms of ghee in a claypot. In his deposition, PW 8 Nepal Singh (investigating officer) has stated that at the instance of Kripa, he had recovered a "chaptaghu" and an "attire". However, in the recovery memo, only three kilograms of ghee is mentioned which is said to have been recovered on the disclosure statement of accused Kripa. From the appellants as well as from the non-appealing accused persons, not a single valuable item out of the whole list of stolen articles was recovered. It is quite unbelievable that within a short span of time i.e. from 21-9-1979 (date of incident) to 9-10-1979 (date of arrest), the accused would have converted or sold out all the valuable items. Even if we accept that they had done so, the prosecution ought to have adduced evidence as to how and in what manner the articles which were the subject-matter of dacoity were either disposed of or converted. Murder and robbery were part of the same transaction. Consequent upon the disclosure statement, only three kilograms of ghee was recovered.

17. In order to bring home the guilt of the accused persons, it is the duty of the prosecution to prove that the stolen property was in the possession of the accused persons or that the accused had knowledge that the property was a stolen property or the accused persons had converted the stolen property. No such recovery was made to connect the appellants and other non-appealing accused persons with the crime."

34. The Supreme Court in Lakshman Prasad v. State of Bihar;AIR 1981 SC 1388, observed the following key points in the context of a case of dacoity in para 3 of the report, which is reproduced as under:

"3. The central evidence against the appellant consisted of the testimony of PWs 1 and 2 who were the servants of complainant PW 4 Baijnath Prasad. It appears from the evidence that Baijnath Prasad was a rich businessman of the locality and the accused-appellant Lakshman Prasad was his next door neighbour having a double storey house. Both the courts below have accepted the prosecution case that a dacoity took place in the house of Baijnath Prasad in the course of which cash and other articles were stolen away. In the instant case, counsel for the appellant has not challenged this finding of the courts below. We are also satisfied that a dacoity undoubtedly took place in the house of Baijnath Prasad. The only question that falls for consideration is whether or not the appellant participated in the crime. PWs 1, 2 and 4 have supported the prosecution case that the appellant clearly participated in the dacoity and was, in fact, the leader of the dacoits. After going through their evidence, we do find that there is some amount of consistency in their evidence but mere congruity or consistency are not the sole test of truth. Sometimes even falsehood is given an adroit appearance of truth, so that truth disappears and falsehood comes on the surface. This appears to be one of these cases. There are many inherent improbabilities in the prosecution case so far as the participation of appellant is concerned. In the first place, admittedly the appellant was a respectable man in the sense that he was possessed of sufficient means and was a well-known homeopath doctor and also the neighbour of the complainant. In this view of the matter, it is difficult to believe that he would commit dacoity in the house of his own neighbour and that too in the early hours of the evening, so that he may be caught any moment and take the risk of a conviction under Section 395 Indian Penal Code. Secondly, the evidence of the complainant PW 4 clearly shows that the dacoits had no doubt concealed their identify but they did it in such a way that their faces were visible. Indeed, if the appellant had participated in the dacoity and took the precaution of concealing his identity, then he would have seen to it that his face was fully covered so that identification by the complainant or the witnesses would become impossible. If he was a dare-devil, then he would not have concealed his identity at all. Thirdly, FIR having been lodged the same evening the police visited the house of the appellant next morning and found him there. If the appellant had really participated in the dacoity, he would have at least made himself scarce. The house of the accused was also searched and nothing incriminating was at all found. Finally, there was the important circumstance that in view of a dispute between complainant Baijnath Prasad and the appellant, there was a clear possibility of the appellant having been falsely implicated due to enmity. The complainant himself admits that there is a boundary wall around the house of the appellant and there is a road which runs to the east of his house and the mill of the complainant is situated to the west of the house. There is evidence of DW 2 that there has been some dispute between Baijnath Prasad and accused Lakshman Prasad two or three years before the occurrence of dacoity in respect of a passage near the house of accused Lakshman Prasad through which he used to go to his mill. The evidence of DW 2 does support what the complainant has himself admitted. The gravest provocation which the complainant must have felt was the fact that Lakshman Prasad bought a piece of land near his house from Kishori Lall, the nephew of Baijnath Prasad. This is proved by Ex. Kha and the evidence of DW 4. The High Court also observed that the sale-deed executed by the nephew of the complainant in favour of the appellant was executed only a month before this occurrence. This therefore furnishes an immediate motive for the false implication of the appellant. Another important circumstance which seems to have been overlooked by the courts below is that PW 4 has clearly admitted in his evidence at page 44 of the paper-book that immediately after the occurrence, a number of people near the mosque assembled, of whom he recognized Suba Raut and Moti Raut, but they never came to his help. The witness also says that when he came from the west, he saw 40 to 50 persons at a little distance, including Ganesh Raut, Achhelal, Mathura Ram and Rameshwar. Obviously, if an occurrence of dacoity had taken place in the early hours of the evening, the near neighbours must have assembled and yet none of these neighbour have been examined to support the complainant's version that the appellant has participated in the occurrence. It seems to us that the reason why these persons did not choose to support the complainant was that perhaps the appellant had been falsely implicated and hence the persons who had assembled may not have relished the idea of supporting the complainant if he had gone to the extent of falsely implicating the appellant in the dacoity. These intrinsic circumstances speak volumes against the prosecution case and raise considerable amount of suspicion in our minds regarding the complicity of the appellant in the dacoity. It is well settled that while witnesses may lie, circumstances do not."

35. When the evidence in the present case is examined in the light of the aforesaid principles laid down by the Supreme Court, it emerges that dacoits ordinarily commit dacoity during darkness of the night after covering their faces, so as to avoid identification and evade tracing by the police. However, in the case at hand, the offence was committed in a bold and unusual manner, in the presence of electric light and without the appellants covering their faces.

36. In view of the principles laid down by the Supreme Court in the aforesaid authorities, the testimony of the prosecution witnesses does not inspire confidence and cannot be safely relied upon to establish the commission of the offence by the appellants. Furthermore, the Investigating Officer failed to recover any looted articles, ornaments, or other incriminating material from the appellants' possession.

37. In view of the facts and circumstances of the case, it is amply clear that the prosecution witnesses have not placed the true facts before the Court. Consequently, the prosecution story appears to be concocted and false. In other words, the prosecution have put forward an improbable and unbelievable version of events and falsely implicated the appellants in the crime.

38. Upon a perusal of the written report (Exhibit Ka-1) and the testimony of eye-witnesses for the prosecution, namely, the informant Tika Ram (PW-1), Baboo Lal (PW-2), and Banwari Lal (PW-3), it appears that the accusation levelled against the appellant Hardayal and his relatives of committing dacoity at the house of Pohap Singh, brother of the informant Tika Ram (PW-1), is false and fabricated. The first cause of animosity, as stated in the FIR and reiterated by the informant Tika Ram (PW-1), is that the appellant Hardayal had eloped with the wife of Deepa, and that Pohap Singh had supported Deepa in the said matter. The second cause of animosity is that Hardayal had executed a will in favour of Ram Kumar, son of the informant Tika Ram (PW-1), which was subsequently cancelled by him three to four months prior to the incident. In view of these admitted causes of animosity, the prosecution version that Hardayal and his relatives committed dacoity openly, in the presence of electric light, and without covering their faces, appears highly doubtful and suspicious.

39. The Supreme Court in the case of Sushil And Others v. State of U.P. 1995 SSC (Cri.) 388 and in the case of State of Punjab v. Sucha Singh (2003) 3 SCC 153, has held:

"Enmity is a double edged weapon which cut both ways. It may constitute motive for the commission of the crime and at the same time it may also provide a motive for false implication."

40. Thus, only on the ground of enmity, without any other corroborating or connecting evidence, an accused cannot be held guilty of the commission of a crime because if enmity can be a ground for commission of a crime, it can also be a ground for false implication in any case. As such, only on the ground of enmity, it cannot be legally presumed that the appellants in this case, in the presence of electric light, without covering their faces, had committed dacoity at the house of Pohap Singh, brother of the informant Tika Ram (PW-1).

41. Upon a perusal of record, it is evident that Pohap Singh, at whose house the dacoity is said to have committed, was not examined by the prosecution as a witness. The reasons for the prosecution's failure to produce Pohap Singh are best known to the prosecution themselves. This fact also goes against the prosecution.

42. Upon a perusal of the reasoning and findings of conviction recorded by the Trial Court, it is evident that the Trial Court has failed to consider the aspect of enmity in the correct perspective. It is well settled that enmity is a double edged weapon which cuts both ways. It may constitute motive for commission of the crime, and at the same time, may also provide a motive for false implication. The learned Trial Court has also failed to consider that offences of this nature are ordinarily committed in a clandestine manner, with the assailants concealing their identities and covering faces. Despite these material aspects, the learned Trial Judge did not give due consideration to them and, in a cursory manner, wrongly and contrary to settled principles of law, relied upon the prosecution evidence. In view of the foregoing discussion, and in the light of the law laid down by the Supreme Court, we are unable to sustain the findings, reasoning, and conviction recorded against the appellants in the present case by the learned Trial Judge.

43. It was also the responsibility of the prosecution to produce evidence of an electricity department employee from the concerned sub-division or feeder, who could have verified from which feeder village Sakarva was supplied electricity. If such an official had been examined as a prosecution witness, he could have testified whether, on the date and time of the alleged incident, i.e., the intervening night of 10/11.11.1985 at about 2:00 a.m., electricity supply was available in village Sakarva or not. This omission assumes significance, inasmuch as, it is a fundamental principle of criminal law that the burden lies upon the prosecution to prove its case beyond reasonable doubt.

44. Although, six persons were named as accused, only five were charge-sheeted by the Investigating Officer, as the named accused, Kunji Jatav, could not be traced out and challaned by the police. Thus, in view of the foregoing discussions, we are of considered opinion that the reasoning and findings recorded by the Trial Court, holding the accused-appellants guilty and convicting them, are not sustainable in the eyes of law. We find considerable force in the submissions advanced by the learned Counsel for the accused-appellants. For the reasons aforesaid, the present criminal appeal deserves to be allowed and is, accordingly, allowed.

45. Consequently, the judgment and order of conviction and sentence dated 22.12.1987 passed by the learned Ist Additional Sessions Judge, Mathura, in Sessions Trial No. 166 of 1986 (State v. Amar Singh and Others), arising out of Case Crime No. 196 of 1985, under Section 396 IPC, Police Station Goverdhan, District Mathura, is hereby set aside.

46. The present criminal appeal on behalf of the appellant Hardayal has already been abated vide order dated 26.07.2018. The appellants, namely, Amar Singh, Prakash @ Om Prakash, Bahori and Biri Singh, are on bail. They need not surrender. Their bail bonds stand cancelled and sureties discharged.

47. The appellants, Amar Singh, Prakash @ Om Prakash, Bahori and Biri Singh, each shall execute a personal bond in the sum of Rs.25,000/- under Section 481 of the Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita, 2023 (corresponding to Section 437-A of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973) for their appearance, in the event of an appeal being preferred against his acquittal.

48. Let a copy of this judgment be transmitted to the learned Trial Court along with the lower Court records forthwith for necessary compliance.

(2026) 2 ILRA 940
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 05.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE RAJESH SINGH CHAUHAN, J.
THE HON'BLE PRAMOD KUMAR SRIVASTAVA, J.

Jail Appeal No. 62 of 2024

Kumari Janki ...Appellant
Versus
State of U.P. ...Respondent

Issue for consideration

Matter pertains to quantum of punishment to be governed by the Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection of Children) Act, 2015.

Headnotes

Indian Penal Code-Sections 302 and 120B; The Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection of Children) Act, 2015 - dying declaration -examination-in-chief- the complainant fully corroborated the prosecution's case-Held, complainant may have turned hostile during cross-examination, the core of the testimony remains: the deceased was set on fire-Deceased's own statement substantiates that the appellant, along with other accused persons, poured kerosene over her and set her ablaze- Kumari Janki (name changed), played a direct role in the incident- undisputed fact that the appellant was a juvenile at the time of the commission of the offence.- the dying declaration satisfies the requirements of Section 32(1) of the Evidence Act for conviction under Section 302 IPC, the quantum of punishment is strictly governed by the Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection of Children) Act, 2015- incident was neither accidental nor suicidal, but homicidal-trial court has awarded a sentence of ten years- already undergone incarceration for a period of more than seven years-continued detention is de hors the provisions under Section 21 and Section 18(1)(g) of Act, 2015-maximum period for which a juvenile can be detained is three year- conviction upheld-sentences altered. Appeal allowed.(E-9)

Case Law Cited

1. State of U.P. vs. Ram Sagar Yadav (1985) 1 SCC 553
2. Kamlendra Singh @ Pappu Singh Vs. State of M.P. (2013) 12 SCC 239

List of Acts

1. The Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection of Children) Act, 2015
2. Indian penal Code, 1860

List of Keywords

Dying declaration; direct role; de hors the provisions under Section 21 and Section 18(1)(g); homicidal.

Appearances of parties

Counsel for Appellant(s) : Adnan Ahmad, Amresh Kumar, Dinesh Kumar Counsel for Respondent(s) : G.A.,

(Delivered by Hon'ble Pramod Kumar Srivastava, J.)

1. Heard, Shri Arvind Saroj, Advocate holding brief of Shri Dinesh Kumar, learned counsel for the appellant and Shri Anirudh Kumar Singh, learned AGA for the State.

2. The instant appeal has been preferred against the impugned judgment and order dated 01.08.2023 passed by the learned Special Judge, Court No. 44, Barabanki, in Criminal Trial No. 51 of 2018 (State Vs. Kumari Janki), arising out of Case Crime No. 0118 of 2017, under Sections 302 and 120B IPC, Police Station Haidargarh, District Barabanki, whereby the learned Trial Court convicted the accused appellant for the offence under Section 302 IPC and awarded the sentence of 10 years imprisonment with a fine of ₹5,000/-, and under Section 120B IPC for 2 years imprisonment.

Factual Matrix

3. The facts giving rise to this case are that the complainant's daughter, Chamela, was married to Udai Raj approximately 20 years ago. However, Udai Raj kept a mistress named Kumari Janki (Name Changed). It is averred that Udai Raj, along with his mistress Kumari Janki (Name Changed), and others named Rameshwar and Bahadur, were pressuring Bhawani Prasad, the deceased's father-in-law, to dispose of land situated in Dandupur. The deceased opposed this transaction. Consequently, on April 4, 2017, at approximately 2:00 PM, the accused persons allegedly locked the deceased inside the house and set her ablaze, resulting in her death from severe burn injuries. In this regard, the complainant, Chotka (mother of the deceased), moved an application at Haidargarh police station. On that basis, a First Information Report (FIR) was lodged under Sections 302 and 120-B of the Indian Penal Code (IPC) against Udai Raj, Kumari Janki (Name Changed), Bhawani Prasad, Bahadur, and Rameshwar. The deceased was admitted to the hospital, where her statement (dying declaration) was recorded by a Magistrate. Following the victim's death, an inquest report was prepared, and the body was sent for autopsy. The Investigating Officer (I.O.) prepared the site plan, inspected the place of occurrence, and recorded the statements of the witnesses. After collecting sufficient evidence against the accused persons, the I.O. concluded the investigation and filed a charge sheet under Sections 302 and 120-B of IPC. The appellant claimed she was a juvenile at the time of the occurrence. Consequently, the Juvenile Justice Board (JJB) determined her age based on her academic documents and found that, as her date of birth is October 24, 1999, she was 17 years, 5 months, and 10 days old at the time the offense was committed. Accordingly, she was declared a juvenile.

4. In view of above and the provisions of the Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection of Children) Act, 2015 (in short Act), it was observed that the appellant"s age falls within the age group of 16 to 18 years at the time of the incident. Since the charges leveled were for a heinous offence under Section 302 of the IPC, the case falls under the category of heinous crimes as defined by the Act under Section 2(33) IPC. Consequently, a preliminary assessment was conducted under Section 15 of the Act, which determined that the appellant possessed the mental and physical capacity to understand the nature and consequences of the alleged offence. Based on this assessment, and in accordance with Section 18(3) of the Act, the case was transferred to the Children's Court for trial. The proceedings were subsequently conducted by the Children's Court in a consolidated manner alongwith the other co-accused. Upon the framing of charges, the appellant and co-accused denied the allegations and claimed to be tried. To prove the charges leveled against the accused, the prosecution has produced the following evidence.

(I) Oral Evidence (Prosecution Witnesses)- The prosecution examined following seven witnesses to establish the charges under Sections 302 and 120B of the Indian Penal Code:

"P.W. 1: Smt. Chhotka " The complainant and mother of the deceased (Chamela).

P.W. 2: Shyam Narayan " The brother of the deceased.

P.W. 3: Patiram " The first Investigating Officer (I.O.) and Sub-Inspector.

P.W. 4: Prabhat Kumar " The second Investigating Officer.

P.W. 5: Dr. Kuldeep Maurya " The medical officer who conducted the post-mortem examination.

P.W. 6: Sushil Pratap Singh " The Tehsildar (Naib Tehsildar at the time) who recorded the dying declaration.

P.W. 7: Dr. V.C. Pandey " The Senior Surgeon who certified the fitness of the deceased to give a statement."

(II) Documentary Evidence (Prosecution Exhibits)- The following documents were submitted and marked as exhibits to support the prosecution's case:

"Exhibit Ka-1*: Written complaint (Tehreer) filed by the complainant.*

Exhibit Ka-2*: Panchayatnama (Inquest Report).*

Exhibit Ka-3: Site Plan (Naksha Nazri) of the place of occurrence.

Exhibit Ka-4*: Chik First Information Report (FIR).*

Exhibit Ka*-5: G.D. Entry (Kaymi G.D.) regarding the registration of the case.*

Exhibit Ka-6*: Challan Nash (Dead body challan).*

Exhibit Ka-7*: Photo Nash (Photographs of the deceased).*

Exhibit Ka-8*: Letter to the R.I. (Reserve Inspector).*

Exhibit Ka-9*: Letter to the C.M.O. (Chief Medical Officer).*

Exhibit Ka-10*: Specimen Seal (Namuna Mohar).*

Exhibit Ka-11: Charge Sheet filed against the accused.

Exhibit Ka-12*: Post-Mortem Report.*

Exhibit Ka-13*: Dying Declaration (Mrityukalik Bayan) of the deceased, Chamela."*

5. PW-5: Dr. Kuldeep Maurya conducted the post-mortem of the deceased, Chamela. His evidence is recorded as follows:

"On 05.04.2017, he was posted at New P.H.C. Ghazipur Dariyabad, Barabanki. On that day, he was assigned post-mortem duty. He reached the Post-Mortem House, Barabanki, where a sealed body was received along with police documents through Constable Mahendra Yadav of Police Station Kotwali Nagar, who identified the deceased. The body was of Chamela, wife of Udayraj Nishad, resident of Dandupur, Police Station Haidergarh, aged 38 years. According to the records, the deceased died during treatment in the hospital.

External Examination*: The body was of medium build, height 148 cm, and identification marks were noted. There were no clothes on the body. Bangles were present on both hands. A Vego (IV cannula) was attached to the left hand. Rigor mortis was absent. The hair on the head was burnt, and there was a smell of kerosene. The eyebrows, face, and head hair were found burnt.*

Injuries before Death*: The face, neck, chest, abdomen, both hands, and the lower parts of the body were 90% burnt. Deep burn injuries were present, and a 'Line of Redness' was observed at the burnt areas. Blisters were present on the burnt portions. Soot (kalikh) from smoke was present in both eyes. In his opinion, the deceased was burnt while alive. Both soles of the feet were not burnt.*

Internal Examination*: Upon opening the body, sufficient soot from smoke was found inside the respiratory tract (trachea). The stomach contained 250 ml of semi-digested food, and gas was present in the intestines.*

Conclusion: In his opinion, the death of the deceased occurred as a result of injuries sustained due to pre-mortem burning. He prepared the post-mortem report in his own handwriting and signature, which is Exhibit Ka-12."

6. P.W. 7: Dr. V.C. Pandey (Senior Surgeon) certified the fitness of the deceased for recording her dying declaration. His evidence is as follows:

"On 04.04.2017, he was posted as Senior Surgeon at District Hospital, Barabanki. On that day, the then Naib Tehsildar Sushil Pratap Singh came to the hospital and expressed his intention to record the statement of the injured Chamela, wife of Udayraj. Thereafter, he went to the injured Chamela along with him and talked to her; she was in full consciousness.

After examination, he found that the patient was capable of giving a statement. He then informed the Naib Tehsildar that the victim was fit to give a statement. He recorded his recommendation/certification on the paper on which the Naib Tehsildar was to record the statement. The Naib Tehsildar recorded the statement in his presence by asking questions.

After the victim gave her statement, he again inquired from her and observed her condition; she was in full consciousness. He also recorded a note regarding her condition, stating that the patient was in full consciousness while giving the statement. The patient was capable of giving a statement and remained fully conscious until the end of the entire statement and was aware of the time and place.

His signatures are present at the beginning and the end of the statement, which is enclosed in the file as Exhibit Ka-13, which he re-authenticated."

7. Thereafter, following the closure of prosecution evidence, the statement of the accused-appellant was recorded under Section 313 of the Cr.P.C.. In her statement, she denied all evidence and incriminating circumstances presented against her. She further stated that prior to the current case, the co-accused, Bhawani Prasad, had lodged a case against Hansa Ram (the husband of the complainant, Chotka) and his nephew, Udai Raj, for the murder of his daughter. Due to this existing enmity, the complainant lodged a false FIR against the appellant and tutored the deceased to give a statement against her before death. At the stage of defence evidence, no oral or documentary evidence was produced. After hearing the learned counsel for both parties, the learned Trial Court, vide its judgment and order dated 01.08.2023, convicted the appellant, Kumari Janki (name changed). Being aggrieved and dissatisfied from the impugned judgment and order, the appellant has filed the present criminal appeal.

Submission of learned counsel for the appellant:

8. Learned counsel appearing on behalf of the appellant submitted that the learned trial court passed the impugned judgment in a mechanical and cursory manner and failed to consider the facts, evidence, and circumstances in the correct legal perspective. He contended that the findings are perverse and that the trial court failed to consider the fact that appellant was below 18 years of age at the time of the alleged incident; therefore, trial against her should not have been proceeded as an adult. He further submitted that the learned trial court failed to correctly interpret the provisions of Sections 19 and 21 of the Juvenile Justice Act. Furthermore, there are major contradictions in the testimonies of the witnesses, and the witnesses of fact turned hostile. Despite these aspects and the lack of independent witnesses, the trial court wrongly appreciated the evidence and relied solely on the testimonies of interested witnesses.

9. Learned counsel for the appellant further submitted that according to the medical report, the deceased had sustained 90% burn injuries. Thus she was not in a physical or mental state to give a statement. Despite this fact, a dying declaration was recorded. Therefore, no reliance can be placed on such a manipulated declaration. As the evidence adduced by the prosecution is not of sterling quality, they have failed to prove the charges against the appellant beyond a reasonable doubt. Consequently, the impugned judgment and order are liable to be set aside, and the appellant is entitled to be acquitted.

Submission of learned Additional Government Advocate:

10. Per contra, the learned AGA appearing for the State submitted that while academic documents indicated the appellant was below 18 years of age at the time of the incident, her trial was properly conducted by the trial court in accordance with the provisions of the Juvenile Justice Act. Since her age was determined to be between 16 to 18 years, and the court found she possessed the mature mental faculty to understand the nature and consequences of the offence, the findings in this regard are in consonance with the law. He further submitted that the deceased was admitted to the hospital, where her mental status was duly tested. The Magistrate subsequently recorded her statement after receiving a fitness certificate from the attending doctor. Therefore, the appellant"s contention that the deceased was not in a physical or mental position to provide a statement while hospitalized, is not tenable.

11. Learned AGA further submitted that the prosecution produced sufficient evidence to prove the charges levelled against the accused. This prosecution evidence was considered in its entirety by the learned trial court, who has rightly concluded that the charges levelled against the accused are fully proved. As the trial court committed no illegality or perversity in passing the impugned judgment and order, this appeal is devoid of merit and is liable to be dismissed.

12. We have heard the submissions of the learned counsel for the parties and perused the material available on record.

13. The material available on record reveals that the appellant had claimed to be a juvenile at the time of the alleged incident. Consequently, her age was determined by the Juvenile Justice Board (JJ Board) in accordance with the provisions of the Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection of Children) Act. After providing a full opportunity to adduce evidence in this regard, the learned JJ

Board found, based on her academic records, that the appellant's date of birth made her 17 years, 5 months, and 10 days old at the time of the offence. The Board, under Section 2(33) of the Act, determined that the offence committed by the appellant under Section 302 of the IPC falls within the category of 'heinous offences'.

14. It is further observed that for being the age group between (16-18) the preliminary assessment conducted under Section 15 of the JJ Act revealed that she possessed the mental and physical capacity to understand the nature and consequences of the offence. Considering her maturity and cognitive ability at the time, the JJ Board directed that her case be transferred for trial as an adult before the Children's Court, pursuant to Section 18(3) of the Act. Therefore, the contention raised by the appellant regarding her status as a juvenile could be tried only by JJ Board is not tenable.

15. Insofar as the oral testimony of the prosecution witnesses is concerned, Chotka, the mother of the deceased was examined as P.W. 1. In her statement, she testified that her daughter, Chamela, was married to Udai Raj. However, Udai Raj was in a relationship with Kumari Janki (name changed). Consequently, the appellant, along with other co-accused persons, mounted pressure over the father-in-law, Bhawani Prasad, to dispose of the property in question. When the deceased opposed this, the appellant and the co-accused allegedly set her ablaze. It is noteworthy that the cross-examination of this witness took place eighteen months after the examination-in-chief. During her cross-examination, the witness turned hostile, stating that the incident actually occurred due to the deceased's own negligence while she was cooking food.

16. Among the other witnesses of fact, PW-2, Shyam Narain, the brother of the deceased, stated that the deceased was his real sister. He further stated that the deceased sustained burn injuries from a stove while she was preparing food. However, the witness subsequently turned hostile. On the basis of above, the learned counsel for the appellant submitted that the trial court failed to consider the evidence of the witnesses in the right perspective. Nevertheless, it is pertinent to mention that it is a settled principle of law that even if the testimony of a witness becomes partially deficient, it does not necessarily invalidate the entire case if the charges are otherwise proved. In India, the doctrine of 'Falsus in uno, falsus in omnibus' (false in one thing, false in everything) is not applicable. Therefore, despite a major portion of the evidence being deficient, if the remaining evidence is sufficient to prove the charges, the testimony of the witnesses cannot be discarded entirely.

17. In this case, the dying declaration of the deceased was recorded by Magistrate Sushil Singh, who was examined as PW-6. He testified that, acting upon the recommendation of the doctor, he recorded the statement of the deceased at the hospital. He stated that during the course of recording the evidence, she was fully conscious, a fact which was certified by the doctor. This witness proved the statement as Exhibit Ka-13. During his cross-examination, he stated that the doctor was present while the statement was being recorded and that the patient was in their complete senses. Consequently, nothing adverse emerged from the cross-examination.

18. The learned trial court cited numerous rulings concerning dying declarations. According to the law laid down by the Hon"ble Apex Court in this regard, it may safely be concluded that if the court is satisfied that a declaration inspires confidence regarding truthfulness, a conviction can be based upon it without further corroboration. This principle was upheld in State of U.P. vs. Ram Sagar Yadav (1985) 1 SCC 553. However, it has also been observed in other cases that it is the duty of the court to scrutinize a dying declaration carefully to ensure it is not the result of tutoring, prompting, or imagination.

19. The deceased had an opportunity to observe and identify the assailant and was in a fit state to make the declaration. Normally, in order to satisfy itself as to whether the deceased was in a fit mental state to make a dying declaration, the court looks to medical opinion. Generally, dying declarations should be recorded in a question-and-answer format. However, if a declaration is not elaborate, consisting of only two sentences in the actual words of the maker, the mere fact that it is not in a question-and-answer format cannot be a ground for challenging its acceptability or reliability.

20. In view of the above, a perusal of the material available on record, specifically the dying declaration of the deceased, reveals the facts which are reproduced hereunder:-

"बयान - मृत्यु पूर्व

मैं चमेला पत्नी उदयराज उम्र लगभग 38 वर्ष निवासी ग्राम दादूपुर, थाना- हैदरगढ़, जिला बाराबंकी पूरे होशोहवास में सशपथपूर्वक बयान करती हूँ कि आज दिनांक 04-04-2017 को सांय 4:00 बजे मेरे ससुर भवानी, मेरी सौत जनका व सौत की भतीजी आरती ने मेरे ऊपर मिट्टी का तेल डालकर आग लगा दिया। आज दोपहर में मेरे पति उदयराज घर पर नहीं थे, तब मेरे ससुर ने मुझे गाली देना शुरू किया तो मैंने कहा कि मैं अपनी ननद के घर जा रही हूँ तो मेरे ससुर ने कहा कि गेट में ताला बन्द कर इसे जला दो। मेरे ससुर ने गेट में ताला बन्द कर दिया और मेरी सौत की भतीजी ने मेरे ऊपर मिट्टी का तेल डाल दिया और मेरी सौत ने आग लगा दी। उस समय मेरे पति घर से बाहर कहीं गए हुए थे। आग लगाने का कारण ससुर द्वारा गाली देने के दौरान ननद के घर चली जाने की बात कहने पर की गयी। इस घटना में अन्य किसी व्यक्ति की भूमिका नहीं थी। मेरी शादी के 19 वर्ष हो गये हैं। मेरी एक दो साल की पुत्री है।

बयान सुनकर तस्दीक किया।"

21. Thus, in light of the above statement, it is pertinent to mention the legal provisions contained under Section 32(1) of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872. The relevant portion of Section 32, which deals with statements made by persons who cannot be called as witnesses (Dying Declaration), is reproduced below:

"32. Cases in which statement of relevant fact by person who is dead or cannot be found, etc., is relevant. " Statements, written or verbal, of relevant facts made by a person who is dead, or who cannot be found, or who has become incapable of giving evidence, or whose attendance cannot be procured without an amount of delay or expense which, under the circumstances of the case, appears to the Court unreasonable, are themselves relevant facts in the following cases:"

(1) When it relates to cause of death*. " When the statement is made by a person as to the cause of his death, or as to any of the circumstances of the transaction which resulted in his death, in cases in which the cause of that person"s death comes into question. Such statements are* relevant whether the person who made them was or was not, at the time when they were made, under expectation of death, and whatever may be the nature of the proceeding in which the cause of his death comes into question."

22. In view of the deceased"s statement, recorded as a dying declaration, she categorically stated that the nephew of the appellant"s step-mother (or co-wife) poured kerosene over her body and set her ablaze. The medical officer further certified that the deceased was in a fit mental condition during the recording of the statement and remained conscious throughout. Furthermore, the appellant has not contended that the deceased was tutored by her parents. In the examination-in-chief, the complainant fully corroborated the prosecution's case. While the complainant may have turned hostile during cross-examination, the core of the testimony remains: the deceased was set on fire. Regarding the identity of the perpetrators, the deceased's own statement substantiates that the appellant, along with other accused persons, poured kerosene over her and set her ablaze.

23. Applying the aforesaid principles to the present case, it is evident from the dying declaration that the appellant, Kumari Janki (name changed), played a direct role in the incident. However, this Court cannot overlook the undisputed fact that the appellant was a juvenile at the time of the commission of the offence. While the dying declaration satisfies the requirements of Section 32(1) of the Evidence Act for conviction under Section 302 IPC, the quantum of punishment is strictly governed by the Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection of Children) Act, 2015. Specifically, Section 18(1)(g) of the Act mandates that a child in conflict with law can be sent to a special home for a period not exceeding three years. In the instant case, the appellant has been in continuous custody since April 7, 2017, totaling more than seven years. This period of incarceration significantly exceeds the maximum three-year reformative sentence permissible under the law. Consequently, even if the conviction based on the dying declaration is sustained, the appellant's further detention is unsustainable and contrary to the legislative intent of the Juvenile Justice Act.

24. Consequently, it is fully established that the incident was neither accidental nor suicidal, but homicidal. The evidence adduced by the prosecution successfully proves the charges levelled against the appellant beyond a reasonable doubt. The learned Trial Court thoroughly perused the facts, evidence, and circumstances of the case in its entirety and arrived at the correct conclusion that the evidence clearly demonstrates that the appellant, actively participated in the commission of the offence.

25. Insofar as contention regarding the quantum of sentence is concerned, we find that it must be made clear that where a juvenile covered within the law falls within the category of age group of 16 to 18 years and their trial has been conducted by a Children's Court for a heinous offence, the sentence must be balanced against the reformative spirit of the law. In the present case, the trial court has awarded a sentence of ten years.

26. In the instant case, the appellant, Kumari Janki (name changed), has been in jail since April 7, 2017. As of April 7, 2024, she has already undergone incarceration for a period of more than seven years. This continued detention is de hors the provisions under Section 21 and Section 18(1)(g) of the Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection of Children) Act, 2015, which read as under:"

"Section 21: Order that may not be passed against a child in conflict with law" No child in conflict with law shall be sentenced to death or for life imprisonment without the possibility of release, for any such offence, under the provisions of this Act or under the provisions of the Indian Penal Code or any other law for the time being in force."

Section 18(1)(g): direct the child to be sent to a special home, for such period, not exceeding three years, as it thinks fit, for providing reformative services including education, skill development, counselling, behaviour modification therapy, and psychiatric support during the period of stay in the special home."*

27. A perusal of the aforementioned provisions makes it clear that the maximum period for which a juvenile can be detained is three years. Considering that the appellant has already spent more than seven years in custody, her continued incarceration is not only in violation of the statutory mandate of the Juvenile Justice Act but also infringes upon her fundamental rights. Consequently, the sentence awarded by the learned Trial Court, insofar as it exceeds the maximum permissible limit under the Act, is unsustainable in the eyes of law.

28. Having considered the evidence on record, this Court finds no reason to interfere with the finding of guilt recorded by the learned Trial Court. However, as regards the sentence, it is pertinent to note that the appellant was a 'child in conflict with law' on the date of the incident. Section 21 of the Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection of Children) Act, 2015, mandates a 'non-obstante' clause, providing that no child shall be sentenced to death or life imprisonment. While the Trial Court awarded a sentence of 10 years and a fine of Rs. 5000/- , the statutory framework of the Act, particularly Section 18, limits the period of stay in a Special Home to a maximum of three years.

29. In the present case, the record reveals that the appellant has already undergone approximately seven years and two months of incarceration, having been in jail since April 7, 2017. While the conviction under Section 302 IPC is upheld, the sentence is modified in light of the mandate of the Juvenile Justice Act and the principles laid down by the Hon"ble Apex Court in Kamlendra Singh @ Pappu Singh Vs. State of M.P. (2013) 12 SCC 239. Since the appellant has already served a period far exceeding the maximum three-year term prescribed under the Act, the sentence already undergone is deemed sufficient to meet the ends of justice.

30. It is evident that by enacting Section 21 of the Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection of Children) Act, 2015, the legislature, in its wisdom, intended to grant specific benefits to individuals declared as children on the date of the incident. This benefit applies specifically to the sentencing portion of a judgment, ensuring that they are not awarded death or life imprisonment"whereas in the instant case, the appellant was sentenced to 10 years of imprisonment with a fine under Section 302/120-B IPC. The Hon"ble Apex Court has categorized four distinct approaches for such cases: (i) Where the conviction is upheld, but the sentence is quashed; (ii) Where the conviction is upheld, but the sentence is modified to the period already undergone; (iii) Where both the conviction and sentence are set aside; (iv) Where the conviction is upheld, and the matter is referred to the Juvenile Justice Board for awarding a suitable sentence.

31. Applying these parameters to the present case, while the appellant's involvement is noted in the trial court's findings, the fact remains that she has already undergone over seven years and two months of incarceration, having been in jail since 07.04.2017. Therefore, we are of the considered view that, without disturbing the conviction, the appellant, Kumari Janki (name changed), should be released as she has already served a period exceeding the maximum three-years term permissible for a juvenile delinquent under the Act.

32. The judgment and order dated August 1, 2023, passed by the Additional District and Sessions Judge, Barabanki, in Criminal Trial No. 51 of 2018 (arising out of Case Crime No. 0118/2017), is modified to the extent mentioned above.

33. Accordingly, the present appeal is hereby allowed with the aforementioned modifications.

(2026) 2 ILRA 950
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 26.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE RAJNISH KUMAR, J.
THE HON'BLE ZAFEER AHMAD, J.

Jail Appeal No. 66 of 2021

Etwari ...Appellant
Versus
State of U.P. ...Respondent

Issue for Consideration

Matter pertains to whether the conviction of the appellant under S. 6 of the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences Act, 2012 on the basis of circumstantial evidence is sustainable in law and whether the chain of circumstances is complete pointing only towards the guilt of the appellant. (Paras 3,4,35)

Headnotes

Criminal Law - Protection of Children from Sexual Offences Act, 2012 - S. 6 - Conviction based on circumstantial evidence - Completeness of chain - Chain of circumstances must be complete and consistent only with hypothesis of guilt – Conviction sustainable where chain is complete. (Paras 3, 4, 35, 36)

Evidence Act, 1872 - S.s 118 and 119 - Competency of witness - Minor victim of "feeble mind" - Testimony of victim of weak mental condition - Evidence cannot be discarded merely on ground of mental weakness if understandable through signs/gestures. (Paras 25, 26)

Evidence - Related witness - Father and brother of victim - Testimony cannot be discarded merely due to relationship - Must be tested on reliability and consistency. (Paras 28, 29, 30)

Criminal Law - POCSO Act - Rape of minor - Medical evidence corroborating prosecution case - Conviction justified. (Paras 12, 13, 15)

Evidence - Extra judicial confession - Can be relied upon when supported by other evidence. (Para 21)

Investigation - Sniffer dog evidence - Not substantive evidence of guilt - Can only support investigation and arrest. (Paras 33, 34)
Defence - Plea of enmity - Not proved - Cannot discredit prosecution case. (Paras 3, 28, 38)
Criminal Appeal - Jail Appeal - No interference warranted where trial court judgment is reasoned and based on evidence. (Paras 39, 40)
Held: It is a case of circumstantial evidence but all the chain of the circumstances consistently indicates towards the guilt of the appellant and appellant only - prosecution proved its case beyond reasonable doubt - The testimony of victim, though of weak mind, is admissible as "a person, who is of weak mind, his testimony cannot be ignored only on this ground" - related witnesses cannot be termed as interested witnesses merely due to relationship and their evidence is reliable - medical evidence fully supports the prosecution case and establishes commission of rape - sniffer dog evidence cannot be the sole basis of conviction but can support investigation - plea of enmity is rejected as "the plea of enmity taken by the appellant has not been proved" - Accordingly, "the conviction of the appellant for the offence punishable under S. 6 of the POCSO Act is upheld and the sentence awarded is confirmed". (Para 12,15,26,28,29,30,33,34,35,38,40) (E-7)

Case Law Cited

State of Rajasthan Vs. Darshan Singh Alias Darshan Lal, (2012) 5 SCC 789; Baban Shankar Daphal and Others Vs. State of Maharashtra,* MANU/SC/0099/2025; Ravasaheb Vs. State of Karnataka,* MANU/SC/0248/2023; State of Maharashtra Vs. Bandu Alias Daulat,* (2018) 11 SCC 163; Lalit Kumar Yadav Alias Kuri Vs. State of Uttar Pradesh,* (2014) 11 SCC 129; Sharad Birdhichand Sarda Vs. State of Maharashtra,* AIR 1984 SC 1622 ; Abdul Rajak Murtaja Dafedar Vs. State of Maharashtra, (1969) 2 SCC 234*; Gade Lakshmi Mangaraju Vs. State of A.P.,* (2001) 6 SCC 205*; Dinesh Borthakur Vs. State of Assam,* (2008) 5 SCC 697.

List of Acts

Protection of Children from Sexual Offences Act, 2012; Protection of Children from Sexual Offences Rules; Indian Penal Code, 1860; Indian Evidence Act, 1872 Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973

List of Keywords

Circumstantial evidence; Chain of circumstances; Minor victim; Rape; POCSO Act; Weak minded witness; Competency of witness; Related witness; Extra judicial confession; Medical evidence; Sniffer dog; Enmity; Benefit of doubt; Conviction; Life imprisonment.

Case Arising From

APPELLATE JURISDICTION: Arising from judgment and order dated 21.01.2015 passed by learned Additional Sessions Judge / Special Judge, POCSO Act, Unnao in Special Session Trial No.01/2023 (State Vs. Etwari and Another) convicting the appellant under S. 6 POCSO Act.

Appearances for Parties

Advs. for the Appellant:
Sri Diwakar Singh, learned Amicus Curiae.
Advs. for the Respondents:
Sri Pawan Kumar Mishra, learned A.G.A. for the State

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rajnish Kumar, J.)

(1) The instant Jail Appeal has been filed against the judgment and order dated 21.01.2015 passed by learned Additional Sessions Judge, Court No.8 / Special Judge, POCSO Act, Unnao in Special Session Trial No.01/2023; State Vs. Etwari and Another, arising out of Case Crime No.249/2013, under Sections 3/4 of the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences Act, 2012 (here-in-after referred as POCSO Act), Police Station Kotwali, District Unnao, by means of which,

Etwari and Ramzan alias Ramzani have been convicted under Section 6 of the POCSO Act with punishment of life imprisonment and fine of Rs.10,000/- each and in default of payment of fine, to undergo one year's rigorous imprisonment. It has further been directed that 50% of the amount of both the fines would be paid to the victim as compensation. The learned Trial Court has further recommended for damages to the victim under Rule 7 of the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences Rules.

(2) Heard Sri Diwakar Singh, learned Amicus Curiae for the appellant and Sri Pawan Kumar Mishra, learned A.G.A. for the State.

(3) Learned Amicus Curiae for the appellant submitted that the appellant has wrongly and illegally been convicted and punished by means of the impugned judgment and order without considering the evidence and material on record appropriately. He further submitted that the appellant is innocent and he has falsely been implicated in this case. He further submitted that there is no eye witness to the incident and it is a case of circumstantial evidence and chain of circumstances is not complete, therefore, it could not have been said that the appellant has committed the crime and convicted. He further submitted that the appellant has been implicated in the case only on account of enmity and the investigation is tainted, which has been done only with a view to implicate the appellant, as looking to the kind of crime, the police was under pressure to solve the case. Thus, learned Amicus Curiae submitted that the impugned judgment and order is not sustainable in the eyes of law and the same is liable to be set aside and the appellant is liable to be acquitted.

(4) Learned A.G.A. vehemently opposed the submissions of learned Amicus Curiae for the appellant. He submitted that the appellant has rightly and in accordance with law been convicted and sentenced by means of the impugned judgment and order considering and dealing the same appropriately. He further submitted that the appellant has committed a heinous crime with a minor girl, who was not mentally sound completely. He did not dispute that this is a case of circumstantial evidence but the chain of circumstances is complete, which refers only to the guilt of the appellant. He further submitted that the appellant has failed to show any reason for false implication and the plea of enmity could not be proved. Even otherwise he submitted that the ground of enmity shown by the appellant is highly improbable, on account of which, the parents could have implicated him at the cost of reputation of their minor daughter. He further submitted that father and mother are the best persons to understand the things told by such a challenged person i.e. the victim. Thus, the submission is that the impugned judgment and order has rightly been passed in accordance with law after considering the evidence and material on record by a reasoned and speaking order, which does not suffer from any illegality or error, which may call for any interference by this Court. He further submitted that the instant Jail Appeal filed by the appellant is misconceived and lacks merit, which is liable to be dismissed.

(5) We have heard learned counsel for the parties and perused the records.

(6) The prosecution story, in brief, is that the complainant Jaipal Yadav S/o Sri Hiralal Yadav, resident of 64, Anwar Nagar, Chowki Kila, Police Station Kotwali, District Unnao gave a written report stating therein that his father has a hotel of tea at Ibrahim Bagh Chauraha, from which, he and his father earn livelihood. Yesterday i.e. on 11.02.2013 at about 08:30 PM, complainant's sister, who is aged about 8 years, went to defecate but she did not return for a long, therefore, the complainant and his father went to search her. They heard the groaning of victim from inside the boundary wall of Ramesh (Dhobi), Mohalla Pahli Kheda, then, they went there and found that the blood was oozing out from the private parts of the victim and her mouth was tightened with a cloth and some unknown persons have committed misdeed with her and went away after leaving her there. They took the victim to the district hospital for treatment, from where after primary treatment, she was referred to Kanpur, where her treatment was going on. It has also been stated in the written report that before the incident, Etwari, who works on the shop of tea of Badakke and resides at the aadhat of chicken (murga) of Afzal, was seen there and he was also seen there after the incident. Some people have also seen him taking away the victim and the complainant is sure that the incident and the misdeed have been committed by Etwari. It has further been stated in the written report that seeing and hearing about the incident, there is fear and terror among the ladies of the area.

(7) In pursuance of the aforesaid written report, a case under Section 376 of the Indian Penal Code, 1860 was registered and after investigation, the charge sheet (Ex. Ka-8) was filed against Etwari and Ramzan alias Ramzani under Section 3/4 of the POCSO Act, on which cognizance was taken by the Sessions Judge on 29.05.2013. Thereafter, after providing the prosecution papers to the accused persons, they were heard on charge and on account of prima facie evidence against the Etwari and Ramzan alias Ramzani, a charge under Section 6 of the POCSO Act was framed. The accused persons denied the charge and pleaded for trial.

(8) In order to prove its case, the prosecution produced Jaipal, the complainant as P.W.-1, Hiralal as P.W.-2, Constable Nazrul Hasan as P.W.-3, Dr. Sanju Agarwal as P.W.-4, Victim as P.W.-5, Vivek Dubey as P.W.-6, Kripa Shanker Saroj, Investigating Officer as P.W.-7, Kallu Ram Bharti, Investigating Officer as P.W.-8, Dr. Rakesh Kumar Tripathi as P.W.-9, Mahesh as P.W.-10, Shivkumar as P.W.-11, Constable 694 Mohammad Afzal as P.W.-12, Saiyed Mohammad Azmeri as P.W.-13 and Ashok Kumar as P.W.-14. P.W.-13 and P.W.-14 were declared hostile and they were cross-examined by the prosecution.

(9) The prosecution also placed on record and proved the documentary evidence.

(10) We have considered the submissions of learned counsel for the parties and perused the records.

(11) The P.W.-1; complainant stated that his father and he have a hotel of tea at Ibrahim Bagh crossing. On 11.02.2013, his sister, who is aged about 8 years, went from the shop to defecate and when she did not return for a long, then he and his father went for her search. They heard groaning of his sister from the plot of Ramesh (Dhobi) and they reached near the victim and found her in pool of blood and a cloth was also tightened on her mouth. He got shocked with it and, firstly, he and his father brought the victim to their shop and, thereafter, they took her to the hospital, where the doctor advised to take the victim to the Hallet Hospital, Kanpur. The P.W.-2, who is father of the victim as well as of the complainant, has joined the P.W.-1 in stating that he was in his shop of tea at Ibrahim Bagh Crossing at 08:00 PM - 08:30 PM on 11.02.2013 with his daughter i.e. the victim, who is aged about 8 years. The victim went to defecate and when she did not return for a long time, then he went to search her and found her in the boundary of plot of Ramesh (Dhobi). He found that the victim was seriously injured and blood was oozing out from the place of urination and her mouth and neck were tightened. He took the victim to the District Hospital, Unnao but on account of serious condition, he took her to the G.S.V.M. Medical College, Kanpur.

(12) Dr. Sanju Agrawal appeared as P.W.-4. She proved medical examination report of the victim as Ex. Ka-4, which was conducted by her on 11.02.2023 at 10:00 PM at District Hospital, Unnao. She stated that condition of the girl was very critical. There was injury and swelling on the right eye of the victim. General condition was very critical. Blood stains were on both the legs. There was extensive bleeding. Vagina was torn, which was going upto rectum. Anal in sphincter was torn. First aid was given to the girl and swab was collected from vagina and sent for testing to lab. For better treatment, she was sent to G.S.V.M. Medical Colllege, Kanpur. It has also been stated that blue lungi, bed sheet of coca cola colour and piece of blood soaked cloth were sealed and handed over to the police. Thus, it has been proved that the victim was found in very critical condition in a plot and the medical examination report supports the condition told by the brother, who is complainant and the father of the victim.

(13) Dr. Rakesh Kumar Tripathi, Assistant Professor, Surgery Department, G.S.V.M. Medical College, Kanpur appeared as P.W.-9 and stated that the victim, who was aged about 7 years, D/o Hiralal, 64 Anwar Nagar, Police Station Kotwali Unnao was admitted in the maternity hospital at 11:50 PM on 11.02.2023 and a team of Dr. Anshu Mishra had seen the victim and after admission, she was referred for operation to the Surgery Department. Thereafter, Dr. Rakesh Kumar Tripathi and his team had seen the victim and found that there was extensive injuries in the lower part of her body and there was huge blood loss. The girl was not allowing the examination, therefore, after transfusion of blood, a plan was made for examination and surgery after comatising her. Accordingly, in the next morning, the victim was examined in the operation theater after comatising her, wherein, Dr. Rakesh Kumar Tripathi and Dr. Anshu Mishra found five following injuries:-

"(1) पेशाब के रास्ते के आस पास के हिस्से पर चोट था लेकिन पेशाब की नली ठीक थी।

(2) बच्चे की बेबी XXXX की बच्चेदानी की नीचे की दीबार दोनो तरफ दाई और बाई तरफ 4 से 5 से०मी० की गहराई तक पूरे तौर पर फटी हुई थी।

(3) बच्चेदानी और लेटरीन के बीच की जगह पूरे तौर पर फटी हुई थी।

(4) बेबी XXXX के लेटरीन का रास्ता (मल द्वार) के ऊपरी हिस्से में 4 से 5 से०मी० गहरा घाव था। मल द्वार की ऊपरी दीवार कैंटीरियर कॉन्टराइर वॉल) लगभग 4 से 5 से० मी० तक पूरे तौर पर फटी हुई थी।

(5) इसे 4th डिग्री पेरिनेल. टियर माना गया।"

(14) It has further been stated by him that all the torn parts were stitched, passage for latrine was made from the stomach, therefore, the same may be stopped from going downside and in future, there may not be any damage to the injury. It was done after informing and with the consent of father of the victim. It has further been stated by him that the victim was kept for 10 days in the Gynae Department, thereafter, transferred to Surgery Department. He has also stated that he was referred on 11.02.2013 from District Hospital Unnao to L.L.R. Hospital after primary treatment at 10:00 PM. He proved medical examination report. In the cross examination, he supported his evidence given in the examination-in-chief and nothing can be extracted from him, which may create any doubt about the medical condition of the victim and the treatment given to her.

(15) The learned Trial Court has recorded that the medical examination report of the victim has been proved by the P.W.-4 and no cross-examination has been made by anybody from her, therefore, her statement is completely believable. The subsequent treatment of the victim has been proved by the Dr. Rakesh Kumar Tripathi, Assistant Professor, Surgery Department, G.S.V.M. Medical College, Kanpur, who appeared as P.W.-9. After considering the medical evidence of the victim, the learned Trial Court has categorically found that at the time of incident, a serious offence of rape has been committed upon the victim. This Court does not find any illegality or error in the finding so recorded by the learned Trial Court.

(16) The complainant further stated that the tea shop of Badakke is near his shop and near chicken's commission agency (आढ़त) of Afzal. The accused, Etwari resides in these shops and one or two persons have seen his sister going with the accused, Etwari and it has been mentioned in the F.I.R. also and on account of it, an apprehension was expressed that the complainant is confident that the incident and the misdeed have been committed by Etwari.

(17) The P.W.-2, Hiralal has stated that after one month of the incident when his daughter was better then she told that Kakwar (Etwari) and Ramzani have done misdeed with her. Ramzani used to bring thelia of chickens at the chicken's commission agency of Afzal and he used to sell the chicken after cutting in the neighbour of his shop. Both of them used to come to take tea at his shop. The information of incident was given by his son Jaipal at the police station and when his daughter told the names of accused persons to him, then he gave a written information of the incident at the police station, which is paper No. 8क / 2, which was written and signed by him, and the same has been marked as Ex. Ka-2. Thus, the names of the accused persons told by the father of the victim are same as told by the victim to her father and the complainant.

(18) The consistent case of the complainant and his father is that the victim had gone from their shop for defecation, when some persons of area had seen the accused going towards that side and with the victim. Mahesh, P.W.-10 stated that he works in superhouse and lives in Anwar Nagar and knows Hiralal, who is of his family. Hiralal has a hotel of tea on highway. The incident is of 14 months back. He had come back on the date of incident by 06:00 in the evening at his home, thereafter, he went at the hotel of Hiralal for having tea. Daughter of Hiralal, who is aged about 7 years, was at hotel at that time. At about 08:30 in the night, she went to defecate towards the field of Ibrahim Bagh. When he was sitting on the shop, Etwari and Ramzani, who have shops of chicken in front of the hotel of the Hiralal, came at the hotel, when the victim had gone to defecate, they also went behind her. After some time, he came back to his home. At about 09:30 - 10:00 in the night, he came to know that misdeed has been done with the victim and her condition is very bad. On hearing the news, he came running and found that Hiralal and Kali Prasad are accompanying the victim, who was in pool of blood. Seeing the same, he was confident that the misdeed has been committed by Ramzani and Etwari, who had gone behind her. In the cross-examination, he denied the suggestion that he has any enmity with the Etwari. He also stated that the Inspector had enquired from him near the hotel of Hiralal on the date of incident. He, in his further examination, stated that the victim had gone alone to defecate and he had not seen anybody taking away the victim. In the cross-examination, he also stated that Etwari had come at the shop of Hiralal and from the shop, Etwari and Ramzani had gone behind the victim. He further stated that he had told all this to the Investigating Officer in his statement under Section 161 Cr.P.C. but he does not know as to why the name of Ramzani has not been written by the Investigating Officer. He also stated that it is wrong to say that he is first time taking the name of Ramzani. Thus, he has supported the prosecution case.

(19) P.W.-11, Shiv Kumar stated that the incident is of 13 - 14 months back. He had gone to the market of Unnao and was going back to his home after purchasing through Anwar Nagar at 09:00 in the night. When he reached ahead the hotel of Hiralal, Etwari and Ramzani were in very hurry and perturbation. He asked the Etwari as to where he is going, then he spoke nothing and both of them went with speedy steps. He knew Etwari and Ramzani since earlier and their shop of chicken is in front of the hotel of tea of Hiralal and he used to go to take tea at the hotel of Hiralal, therefore, knows them. On that night, there was a screaming and the police had reached there. He came to know that the 7 years' daughter of Hiralal has been raped. He had not gone at the place of incident in the night. He further stated that Etwari and Ramzani were going from the site where the rape of the girl was committed. In cross-examination, he stated that his statement was recorded after 2 - 3 days of the incident, he had told the name of Etwari and Ramzani in his statement but he does not know as to why it has not been written. Thus, this witness has also supported the prosecution case to the extent of presence of the accused persons and their coming back from the place of incident. He has also denied the suggestion that he had any hot talk or any abusive language with Etwari.

(20) The written complaint for lodging the F.I.R. was written by Ashok S/o Ghunni Prasad. The P.W.-1, complainant has stated in his evidence that he had given the report at Kotwali after getting it written from Ashok, which was written by him and read over to him and the complainant had signed the said report and, thereafter, handed over at the Kotwali. His report was written and the Inspector had made enquiries from him. He proved the paper No. क-4/2, which was read over to him and stated that it is the same report, which was got written by Ashok and signed by him. It was marked as Ex. Ka-1.

(21) Ashok Kumar appeared as P.W.-14. He stated that about quarter to 2 years back between 08:00 PM to 08:30 PM on the date of incident, he came to know that misdeed has been committed with the victim. The brother of the victim, Jaipal had come to him. He was at the shop. Jaipal asked for help, and then he, alongwith Jaipal, took the victim to the hospital, where her brother got her admitted. Next day, the report of this incident was got written by Jaipal and gave at the Police Station Kotwali, District Unnao. He proved the written report as Ex. Ka-1. Though he has been declared hostile but he proved that the written report was written by him as told by the complainant, Jaipal and thereafter it was given at the Police Station Kotwali. The victim was referred by the District Hospital, Unnao for G.S.V.M. Medical College, Kanpur. The learned Trial Court has recorded that though he has been declared hostile, however, he has proved in his examination-in-chief that he had written the report (Ex. Ka-1) as told by the complainant, Jaipal. He also accepted that he knows Hiralal and his daughter, who are of his Mohalla and that Etwari had done the wrong work, which was told by him before many persons, when he was caught by the police. He also clarified that when the wrong work was done with the victim, then brother of the victim, Jaipal had come to him for help, then he went to the hospital alongwith him taking the victim. As such, this witness has also proved the extra judicial confession made by the accused.

(22) The second Investigating Officer, Sri Kripa Shankar Saroj, Incharge Inspector appeared as P.W.-7. He stated that he was posted as Station House Officer at Police Station Kotwali, District Unnao on 16.02.2013 and he himself entrusted the investigation to him and perused the paper Nos.1, 2, 3 and 4 of the earlier Investigating Officer. He stated that on 22.03.2013, the father of the victim, Hiralal gave an application to him mentioning therein that after returning from Kanpur, his daughter told her that two persons have committed rape with her and their names are Kakua and Ramzani. After recording the same in C.D. and annexing the application with the C.D., he recorded the statement of father of the victim, Hiralal on the same date and reached his house with him. He made enquiries from the victim but things were not being cleared and she was not able to speak clearly, therefore, her statement was recorded on the basis of question answers through her father. She told some things by mouth and some things by gestures. The videography of her statement was also got done and the same were recorded in the C.D., which is paper 6 क/4 and the same is signed by him and signed by the father of the victim and two witnesses and it was marked as Ex. Ka-6. Thus, the statement of victim under Section 161 Cr.P.C. was recorded, wherein she had supported the prosecution case. He further stated that the statements of two witnesses, namely, Shiv Kumar and Shahid were also recorded. Thus, on the basis of the statements of the victim and the complainant, the names of Ramzani @ Ramzan also came to light and on 24.03.2013, he arrested Ramzani @ Ramzan. The Sections 3/4 of the POCSO Act were added on 25.03.2013 and, on 09.04.2013, statement of the victim under Section 164 Cr.P.C. was got recorded. In the cross-examination, he explained as to how the statement of victim was recorded and the videography was got done and the name of Ramzani surfaced on the statement of the victim and nothing could be extracted, which may create any doubt about recording of the statement in the manner stated.

(23) Vivek Dubey appeared as P.W.-6. He proved that the video recording was made by him. He also told the name of the victim and told that she was so much frightened that she was not able to speak properly and she was making replies slowly after understanding the things told by her father. The questions, which were being asked by the Inspector, were put to her by her father and she was replying them slowly. He also stated that he had given C.D. Cassette to the Inspector of Kotwali, which was prepared by him. The sealed C.D. was opened. He, after looking to it, admitted that it was prepared by him, which was marked as Material Ex.-1. No cross-examination was made from him. Thus, his statement remains unrebutted.

(24) The victim appeared as P.W.-5. She was aged about 9 years and of feeble mind. The learned Trial Court has recorded that she was unable to understand the nature of questions and giving answers of them on repeated efforts and with the help of father. The Court tried to understand the facts through her language and appearance and no oath was administered to her. It has been recorded that she told her name and name of her father as Babu Papa. She further stated that Tiwari (Etwari) and Razana (Ramzani) both had pressed her mouth and neck and took her away in lap and inserted her in bush of berry (बेर). They tied the cloth on her mouth and neck and opened her underwear. The learned Trial Court has recorded that all the injuries are still present on her private parts, which are covered with cotton bandages. On account of weak mind, she was unable to tell anything further, therefore, the examination-in-chief was closed. In the cross-examination, she stated that the Investigating Officer had made queries from her. She recognized the Etwari, who was present in the Court and stated that this is Tiwari (Etwari). A question was asked as to whether there is any enmity with the family of Etwari but the learned Trial Court has recorded that she was unable to understand the question. She further stated that she had gone to defecate. On a query as to whether it was day or night, she could not reply. Thus, with the help of father, she supported the prosecution case. In her further cross-examination on behalf of the accused, Ramzani, the Court has recorded that on being asked about the name of her brother, she only stated the name of Babu, by which name, she used to call her father, who had come with her. She told that she goes to school and studies in class-3. On being asked about the name of school, she denied by shaking her head. On being asked about the name of her mother, she stated Amma. She further stated that she has come from village today and she could not tell the name of village and number of members of the family. She also showed ignorance about the numbers. When she was asked 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 then she told numbers 1, 2 and 3. About her sister, she stated that Didi has gone up. She also made replies to certain queries. On being asked as to how many persons had taken her away, she clearly stated that two persons had took away. In this regard she not only spoke from mouth but also told by sign by raising her hand and showing two fingers but the names could not be spelt out clearly. Thus, the victim has also supported the prosecution.

(25) Sections 118 and 119 of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872 provides as to who may testify, which are extracted here-in-below:-

118. Who may testify. --- All persons shall be competent to testify unless the Court considers that they are prevented from understanding the questions put to them, or from giving rational answers to those questions, by tender years, extreme old age, disease, whether of body or mind, or any other cause of the same kind.*

Explanation. --- A lunatic is not incompetent to testify, unless he is prevented by his lunacy from understanding the questions put to him and giving rational answers to them.

119. Witness unable to communicate verbally. --- A witness who is unable to speak may give his evidence in any other manner in which he can make it intelligible, as by writing or by signs; but such writing must be written and the signs made in open Court, evidence so given shall be deemed to be oral evidence:*

Provided that if the witness is unable to communicate verbally, the Court shall take the assistance of an interpreter or a special educator in recording the statement, and such statement shall be video graphed.

(26) In view of above, unless the Court considers that any person is prevented from understanding the questions put to him or from giving rational answers to those questions whether due to weakness of body or mind, or any other cause of the same kind. etc, all persons shall be competent to testify. The explanation to the aforesaid Section 118 of the Indian Evidence Act clarifies that a lunatic is not incompetent to testify, unless he is prevented by his lunacy from understanding the questions put to him and giving rational answers to them. According to the aforesaid Section 119 of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, if a person is unable to speak, may give his evidence in any other manner in which he can make it intelligible, as by writing or by signs; but such writing must be written and the signs made in open Court, evidence so given shall be deemed to be oral evidence. Thus, a person, who is of weak mind, his testimony cannot be ignored only on this ground, if he/she is able to give his/her evidence by any method and same can be understood by the Court.

(27) The Hon'ble Supreme Court, in the case of State of Rajasthan Vs. Darshan Singh Alias Darshan Lal; (2012) 5 SCC 789, has held that language is much more than word and like all other languages, communication by way of signs has some inherent limitations, since it may be difficult to comprehend what the user is attempting to convey, but a dumb person need not be prevented from being a credible and reliable witness merely due to his/her physical disability. Such a person though unable to speak may convey himself through writing if literate or through signs and gestures if he is unable to read and write. The relevant paragraph Nos.28 and 29 are extracted here-in-below:-

28. Language is much more than words. Like all other languages, communication by way of signs has some inherent limitations, since it may be difficult to comprehend what the user is attempting to convey. But a dumb person need not be prevented from being a credible and reliable witness merely due to his/her physical disability. Such a person though unable to speak may convey himself through writing if literate or through signs and gestures if he is unable to read and write. A case in point is the silent movies which were understood widely because they were able to communicate ideas to people through novel signs and gestures. Emphasised body language and facial expression enabled the audience to comprehend the intended message.

29. To sum up, a deaf and dumb person is a competent witness. If in the opinion of the Court, oath can be administered to him/her, it should be so done. Such a witness, if able to read and write, it is desirable to record his statement giving him questions in writing and seeking answers in writing. In case the witness is not able to read and write, his statement can be recorded in sign language with the aid of interpreter, if found necessary. In case the interpreter is provided, he should be a person of the same surrounding but should not have any interest in the case and he should be administered oath.

(28) In the aforesaid case, the statement was recorded with the help of father and an interpreter and the Court had found that he was interested witness and, therefore, assisted during trial and investigation, and acquitted the accused giving benefit of doubt. In the present case, the statement of the victim has been recorded with the help of father but in the presence of two witnesses under Section 161 Cr.P.C. and the videography of same was also done, which has been proved by videographer, who stated that she had answered slowly and no cross-examination was done from him. The victim has been examined before the learned Trial Court and before the learned Trial Court also, she has supported the prosecution case. Though a plea of enmity with the father has been taken but the same has not been proved, therefore, merely because the father is father of the victim, it cannot be said that he was an interested witness and the innocent persons would be roped in the case. It has also been noticed that the father had given the application naming the appellant and co-accused only after the victim told him after relieved from the hospital, i.e. after about a month, and came back to home and told him about the accused persons. If his intention would have been to implicate the appellant and co-accused only on account of some enmity, he could have done it immediately after the incident. Even otherwise, the enmity pleaded by the appellant could not be proved and this Court failed to comprehend as to how a father would implicate innocent persons at the cost of reputation of daughter and social stigma, which may have been caused to her.

(29) The Hon'ble Supreme Court, in the case of Baban Shankar Daphal and Others Vs. The State of Maharashtra; MANU/SC/0099/2025, has held that credibility of witnesses, particularly those who are close relatives of the victim, is often scrutinized. However, being a relative does not automatically render a witness "interested" or biased. The term "interested" refers to witnesses who have a personal stake in the outcome, such as a desire for revenge or to falsely implicate the accused due to enmity or personal gain. A "related" witness, on the other hand, is someone who may be naturally present at the scene of the crime, and their testimony should not be dismissed simply because of their relationship to the victim. Courts must assess the reliability, consistency, and coherence of their statements rather than labelling them as untrustworthy. The relevant paragraph Nos.28 and 29 are extracted here-in-below:-

"28. In criminal cases, the credibility of witnesses, particularly those who are close relatives of the victim, is often scrutinized. However, being a relative does not automatically render a witness "interested" or biased. The term "interested" refers to witnesses who have a personal stake in the outcome, such as a desire for revenge or to falsely implicate the accused due to enmity or personal gain. A "related" witness, on the other hand, is someone who may be naturally present at the scene of the crime, and their testimony should not be dismissed simply because of their relationship to the victim. Courts must assess the reliability, consistency, and coherence of their statements rather than labelling them as untrustworthy.

29. The distinction between "interested" and "related" witnesses has been clarified in Dalip Singh v. State of Punjab, where this Court emphasized that a close relative is usually the last person to falsely implicate an innocent person. Therefore, in evaluating the evidence of a related witness, the court should focus on the consistency and credibility of their testimony. This approach ensures that the evidence is not discarded merely due to familial ties, but is instead assessed based on its inherent reliability and consistency with other evidence in the case. This position has been reiterated by this Court in:

i. Md. Rojali Ali and Ors v. The State of Assam Ministry of Home Affairs through secretary;

ii. Ganapathi v. State of T.N.;

iii. Jayabalan v. Union Territory of Pondicherry."

(30) The Hon'ble Supreme Court, in the case of Ravasaheb Vs. State of Karnataka; MANU/SC/0248/2023, has narrated some of the principles essential for the consideration in regard to testimony of close relatives. The Hon'ble Supreme Court observed that the witness being a close relative is not a ground enough to reject his testimony and mechanical rejection of an even "partisan" or "interested" witness may lead to failure of justice. The relevant paragraph No.17.4 is extrated here-in-below:-

"17.4 - A witness being a close relative is not a ground enough to reject his testimony. Mechanical rejection of an even "partisan" or "interested" witness may lead to failure of justice. The principle of "falsus in uno, falsus in omnibus" is not one of general application. "

(31) The Hon'ble Supreme Court, in the case of State of Maharashtra vs. Bandu Alias Daulat; (2018) 11 SCC 163, upheld the conviction made under Section 376 I.P.C. for rape of a minor victim considering that the victim is deaf and dumb and mentally challenged to some extent and she was lured away by the accused by offering some sweet meat and was taken to the market and she explained to her mother by gesture as to what happened, on the basis of which, F.I.R. was registered and investigation was carried out and medical examination of the victim confirmed the commission of rape and the High Court had acquitted on the ground that the victim herself was not examined and factum of rape and involvement of accused could not be proved, whereas not only the victim had supported the prosecution case with her signs but also the medical supported the prosecution case.

(32) The first Investigating Officer, Incharge Inspector Kallu Singh Bharti appeared as P.W.-8. He stated that the F.I.R. of Case Crime No.249/2013, under Section 376 I.P.C. was registered at Police Station Kotwali, District Unnao in his presence and the investigation was entrusted to him on the direction of the Station House Officer. He proceeded from the police station alongwith the complainant to the place of occurrence and on his pointing out, inspected the place and prepared the site plan, which is paper No. 7क / 1 and marked as Ex. Ka-3. After recording the statements of witnesses and collecting the plain soil and blood stained soil and keeping them in separate boxes and sealing them and preparing the seal, he alongwith others proceeded towards the shop of tea of the complainant. He collected the clothes of the victim at the place of occurrence and kept them in a sealed cover. He further stated that on his prior information, the Dog Squad Unit had reached at the place of occurrence, who made the search with the help of trained dogs and the accused Etwari was searched but he was not found there. However, it was told by an informer that the witnesses Mahesh Kumar and Shiv Kumar have seen the Etwari going and coming from that side, therefore, their statements were recorded after calling them. It was found during investigation that the Etwari was at the Commission Agency (आढ़त) of Chicken of Afzal at Khorat Bagh, therefore, he went there and arrested the Etwari, who accepted his crime and on his pointing out, he recovered clothes worn by him at the time of incident, however, Etwari told that he has kept those clothes after washing them. He has further stated that he recorded the statements of Incharge of the Dog Squad Nazrul Hasan on 14.02.2014, who had brought Brano Dog with him, who after smelling the place of incident, went towards the tea shop of Etwari and directly to the hen farm of Afzal. The accused was arrested on the pointing of Dog Brano and he had accepted his crime. No cross-examination has been made from him on behalf of the accused Ramzani and Etwari and no cross-examination was made in regard to the Dog Squad and the pointing out by the Dog.

(33) The Incharge of Dog Squad Constable Nazrul Hasan appeared as P.W.-3. He stated that on telephonic information of the incident of misdeed, he had reached on the spot with the Brano Dog. The Brano Dog smelled the footprints of the accused, thereafter, it went to the place of incident and then to the main road and after crossing, he turned left and then right and from brick road to the hen farm of Afzal, which is about 200 meters away. After reaching on the hen farm, the Dog indicated towards the accused Etwari and the Etwari had accepted the crime of misdeed before the police. He also stated that the said hen farm is in Anwar Nagar. He had submitted the track report. In the cross-examination, he stated that he has been given training of Dog Squad and guiding the Dog in the Dog Squad. He also stated that the Dogs understand his expression and works after smelling. He denied the suggestion that on the direction of higher officer, he, in collusion with the complainant, has wrongly guided the Dog to mark Etwari. In view of above, the accused Etwari was also pointed out by the trained dog of the Dog Squad of the police and the Incharge of Dog Squad proved as to how the accused was pointed out by the trained dog and extra-judicial confession made by the appellant and nothing could be extracted in the cross-examination, which may create any doubt about his testimony. The learned Trial Court, after considering the evidence of P.W.-3, Constable Nazrul Hasan, has recorded a finding that though the cross-examination has been made from him but no cross-examination has been made about his command to the Brano Dog and his veracity. The learned Trial Court, after considering the site plan and the proof thereof made by the prosecution witnesses, has recorded a finding that the place of incident as well as the place of arrest of the accused has also been fixed and proved. The same were fixed and proved by evidence of other witnesses also. However, the conviction of the appellant has not been made on the basis of report of the Dog Squad but after considering the evidence and material on record and finding that the chain of circumstances lead towards the guilt of the appellant only. Thus, the evidence of the Incharge of the Dog Squad is only supportive and proved only arrest of the accused. Even otherwise, the conviction cannot be made independently on the basis of report of Dog Squad and tracking by the sniffer dog.

(34) The aforesaid issue has been considered by the Hon'ble Supreme Court, in the case of Lalit Kumar Yadav Alias Kuri Vs. State of Uttar Pradesh; (2014) 11 SCC 129, and the relevant paragraph Nos.34 to 38 of which are extracted here-in-below:-

34. It was lastly urged on behalf of the appellant that identification of accused by sniffer dog cannot be relied upon as it is not admissible in order to prove the guilt of the appellant.

35. Similar contention was raised in Abdul Rajak Murtaja Dafedar v. State of Maharashtra, (1969) 2 SCC 234, wherein this Court opined:

"11.....that in the present state of scientific knowledge evidence of dog tracking, even if admissible, is not ordinarily of much weight."

36. In Gade Lakshmi Mangaraju alias Ramesh v. State of A.P., (2001) 6 SCC 205, this Court noticed the criticism advanced against the reception of evidence pertaining to sniffer dog. The objection was that the life and liberty of human being should not be made to depend on animals sensibilities and that the possibility of a dog misjudging the smell or mistaking the track cannot be ruled out, for many a time such mistakes have happened. In the said case, this Court relying decision in Abdul Rajak Murtaja Dafedar (supra) case held:

"17. We are of the view that criminal courts need not bother much about the evidence based on sniffer dogs due to the inherent frailties adumbrated above, although we cannot disapprove the investigating agency employing such sniffer dogs for helping the investigation to track down criminals."

37. In Dinesh Borthakur v. State of Assam, (2008) 5 SCC 697, while the same question was considered, referring to Gade Lakshmi Mangaraju (supra) case this Court held:

"40.....the law in this behalf, therefore, is settled that while the services of a sniffer dog may be taken for the purpose of investigation, its faculties cannot be taken as evidence for the purpose of establishing the guilt of an accused."

38. In the present case, the services of a sniffer dog was taken for investigation. The said dog traced the accused and he was formally arrested in the evening of the next day. The Investigating Officer, Ashok Kumar Yadav (PW-10) corroborated the evidence of Abdul Lais Khan (PW-4) to the effect that "Raja" sniffer dog after picking up scent from the place of occurrence tracked down the house of the accused. What is relevant to note is that the accused has not been convicted on the ground that the sniffer dog tracked down the house of the accused and barked at him. The evidence of dog tracking only shows how the accused was arrested. The Trial Court and the Appellate Court noticed the motive of the accused. Ram Chandra Chaurasiya (PW-1) disclosed in his evidence that a few days before the date of occurrence, the accused has teased his daughter and also threatened her. Her daughter Km."x" complained about the misconduct of the accused to her cousin Ashok Kumar and the latter admonished the accused for the same. Ashok Kumar died subsequently but the evidence of the girl"s father is quite convincing and worthy of credit. The aforesaid incident clearly reflects upon the motive of the accused.

(35) In view of above, though it is a case of circumstantial evidence but all the chain of the circumstances consistently indicate towards the guilt of the appellant and appellant only. The co-accused, Ramzani has died and his appeal has been abated.

(36) In the case of circumstantial evidence, the evidence and material on record is to be analyzed on the touch stone of 5 golden principles (Panchsheel) laid down by the Hon'ble Supreme Court, in the case of Sharad Birdhichand Sarda Vs. State of Maharashtra; AIR 1984 SC 1622, wherein while dealing with circumstantial evidence, it has been held that the onus was on the prosecution to prove that the chain is complete and the infirmity or lacuna in the prosecution cannot be cured by a false defence or plea. The said 5 golden principles are as under:-

"(1) The circumstances from which the conclusion of guilt is to be drawn should be fully established. The circumstances concerned must or should and not may be established;

(2) The facts so established should be consistent only with the hypothesis of the guilt of the accused, that is to say, they should not be explainable on any other hypothesis except that the accused is guilty;

(3) The circumstances should be of a conclusive nature and tendency;

(4) They should exclude every possible hypothesis except the one to be proved; and

(5) There must be a chain of evidence so complete as not to leave any reasonable ground for the conclusion consistent with the-innocence of the accused and must show that in all human probability the act must have been done by the accused."

(37) In regard to P.W.-13, Saiyed Mohammad Azmeri, who has also been declared hostile, the learned Trial Court has recorded that after analysis of his evidence, it could not be said that he does not know accused Etwari and his evidence is believable.

(38) In view of above, the prosecution proved its case beyond reasonable doubt. In the statement under Section 313 Cr.P.C., the appellant stated that he has falsely and wrongly been implicated on account of enmity and stated that wrong and false statements have been given. On a query as to whether he will give any defense, he stated yes. The family members of the victim have registered the case in collusion with the police and intermediaries. On a query as to whether anything else is to be said, he stated that he had quarrel with the complainant at the Commission Agency (आढ़त) of chickens of Afzal, and on account of enmity, he has been implicated. The plea of enmity taken by the appellant has not been proved and no evidence has been adduced by the appellant. Even otherwise, no such enmity could be proved and even it there was any such minor conflict, this Court fails to comprehend that a father and brother would implicate the appellant at the cost of reputation of daughter/sister and social stigma, which may cause to her.

(39) In view of above and considering the over all facts and circumstances of the case, we are of the view that the learned Trial Court has rightly and in accordance with law, after considering the evidence and material on record, convicted the appellant and sentenced him. There is no illegality or error in the impugned judgment and order, which has been passed by a reasoned and speaking order after considering the evidence and material on records and none of the grounds taken by the appellant are tenable in the eyes of law.

(40) The appeal is misconceived and is liable to be dismissed, which is accordingly dismissed, upholding the impugned judgment and order passed by the learned Trial Court. The conviction of the appellant for the offence punishable under Section 6 of the POCSO Act is upheld and the sentence awarded to him under Section 6 of the POCSO Act is confirmed.

(41) Let a copy of this judgment alongwith the Trial Court's record be transmitted to the Court concerned forthwith and in any case within two weeks from today for information and compliance.

(2026) 2 ILRA 965
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 03.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE CHANDRA DHARI SINGH, J.
THE HON'BLE DEVENDRA SINGH-I, J.

Jail Appeal No. 192 of 2022

Dharmendra @ Chandra Prakash ...Appellant
Versus
State of U.P. ...Respondent

Issue for consideration

Matter pertains to whether conviction under section 302 IPC is justified or the offence is covered under section 304 IPC.

Headnotes

Indian Penal Code, 1860-Section 302-accused used to consume intoxicant- there had been altercations between husband and wife-accused assaulting his wife-Smt Neetu Devi from sickle (Hansia) on her face and neck -appellant was accustomed to consuming intoxicant -incident took place over a petty dispute of consuming intoxicant-result of sudden fight-no premeditation-act was done in a heat of passion-no motive of the incident-Held, appellant entitled to the benefit of Exception 4 to Section 300 IPC.-conviction under Section 302 IPC cannot be sustained.- offence would squarely come within the ambit of Section 304 part-I IPC, instead of Section 302 IPC-Appeal is partly allowed. (E-9)

Case Law Cited

1. Jagtar Singh Vs. State of Punjab (1983) 2 SCC 342
2. K. Ramakoteswara Rao Vs. State of A.P., 1986 Cr.L.J. 680
3. Surinder Kumar Vs. Union Territory, Chandigarh, (1989)2 SCC 217
4. V. Sreedharan Vs. State of Kerala, AIR 1992 SC 754
5. Bhera Vs. State of Rajasthan, 2000 SCC (Cri) 1230
6. Mochi Raju Vs. State of Gujarat, JT 2001 (10) SC 398
7. Sukhbir Singh Vs. State of Haryaba, (2002) 3 SCC 327
8. Ghapoo Yadav Vs. State of M.P. (2003) 3 SCC 528
9. Sudhakar Vs. State of U.P., (2012)8 SC 289

List of Acts

The Indian Penal Code, 1860

List of Keywords

Premeditation; act was done in a heat of passion; Section 304 Part II; Exception 4 to Section 300 IPC; motive of the incident.

Appearances of parties

Counsel for Appellant(s) : From Jail, Harish Chandra Tiwari
Counsel for Respondent(s) : A.G.A.

(Delivered by Hon’ble Chandra Dhari Singh, J.)

1. The instant criminal appeal has been filed by appellant-Dharmendra alias Chandra Prakash against a judgment and order dated 08.06.2022 passed by the Additional Sessions Judge, Court No. 4, Jhansi in Sessions Trial No. 336 of 2014 arising out of Case Crime No. 80 of 2014, under Section 302 IPC whereby the learned Judge convicted and sentenced the appellant to life imprisonment and a fine of Rs. 20,000/- under Section 302 IPC and in case of default in payment of fine, he was further directed to undergo additional imprisonment of one year.

Brief Facts of the case

2. The facts that formed the bedrock of the present criminal appeal, in short compass, are that a written report was handed over by the first informant Rohit Kumar, son of Kailash Narain at police station Uldan at 01:30 AM on 23.07.2014 that on 22.07.2017 at about 08:30 PM, his cousin Dharmendra (hereinafter referred to as the accused-appellant), son of Vishwanath Srivas, who is permanent resident of village Dhabari, police station Tahrauli, district Jhansi and is presently residing with his grand-maternal father (Nana) at village Rajpura, police station Uldan, district Jhansi. Since accused used to consume intoxicant, there had been altercations between husband and wife. On hearing the shrieks from inside the house of the appellant, when he along with Jugul Kishore and Lalta Prasad went inside the house, they saw the accused assaulting his wife-Smt Neetu Devi from sickle (Hansia) on her face and neck. The FIR further recounts that on arrival of the witnesses, accused fled away with bloodstained Hansia (sickle) and in bloodstained clothes, which he was wearing at the time of occurrence. The information in respect of the aforesaid incident was communicated to the father of the deceased, who also arrived at the spot. On account of the injuries received, Smt. Neetu Devi (hereinafter referred to the deceased) succumbed to the injuries.

3. On the basis of the aforesaid report, a case was registered at Case Crime No. 80 of 2014, under Section 302 IPC, police station Uldan, district Jhansi.

4. After the registration of the first information report, the law set into motion and investigation of the case was taken up by PW-7, Inspector Satyendra Singh, who after completing necessary formalities, submitted charge sheet against the accused under Section 302 IPC. Bloodstained sickle and bloodstained clothes of the accused were also sent to Forensic Science Laboratory, Agra.

5. As the case was exclusively triable by the Court of Sessions, learned Magistrate committed the case to the Court of Sessions, where case was registered as ST No. 336 of 2014. The learned Additional Sessions Judge/Special Judge (SC&ST Act, Jhansi vide order dated 15.09.2015 framed the charges against the accused-appellant under Section 302 IPC, which was read over and explained to him.

6. To bring home guilt of the appellant beyond the hilt, the prosecution has examined as many as seven witnesses, out of which PW-1, Rohit Kumar is the first informant of the case, PW-2, Jugul Kishore, PW-3, Lalta Prasad are the witnesses of facts, remaining witnesses are formal one.

7. PW-1, Rohit Kumar is the first informant of the case. In his examination-in-chief, he has reiterated the versions given in the FIR. He further deposed that on 23.07.2014, on the pointing out of the accused, the investigating officer recovered weapon of assault, i.e. bloodstained sickle (Hansia) and bloodstained clothes of the accused, on which he put his signature, which he proved as Ext. Ka-2 and Ka-3. He was also the witness of inquest. He also stated that accused-appellant is his cousin and he along with several persons of the village have seen the accused committing the murder of the deceased.

8. PW-2, Jugul Kishore in his examination-in-chief has deposed that he knows the appellant well. He used to live in a rented house in his neighbourhood. Accused-appellant and the deceased used to quarrel over intoxication by the accused. On 22.07.2014 at about 08:00-08:30, on hearing the hue and cry from the house of the appellant, when he along with Rohit and Lalta Prasad went inside the house, they saw the accused assaulting his wife (deceased) on her face from sickle (Hansia). They tried to apprehend the appellant, but as he was armed with sickle, no one could dare to go beside him and accused managed to escape. Accused"s wife died at the spot. He further deposed that he was also the witness of inquest.

9. PW-3, Lalta Prasad, in his examination-in-chief has deposed that on the date of occurrence, accused was living in the vacant house of his maternal grandfather along with his wife and children. There had always been altercation between the accused and the deceased as the appellant used to consume intoxicant. On 22.07.2014 at 08:00-08:30 PM, he was standing at the shop of Sita Ram. On hearing the shrieks of the deceased, when he along with Jugul, Rohit and other persons of the vicinity went to the house of the appellant, he saw appellant assaulting the deceased on her face and neck from sickle. On seeing them, the accused fled away. He saw the accused assaulting his wife in the light. Since, the accused was armed with sharp edged weapon, he could not muster courage to go near him. He further deposed that he was also the witness of inquest.

10. PW-4, Dr. Ram Naresh, in his examination-in-chief has deposed that at about 3:00 PM on 23.07.2014, he conducted the autopsy on the cadaver of the deceased and found the following ante mortem injuries:

1. Incised wound of size 08 cm x 01 cm x bone deep on nose and face left side 2.5 cm below the tip of nose. 2 cm below the lower lid of left eye, edges are clean cut. Clotted blood present underlying bone fractured.

2. Incised wound of size 12 cm x 5 cm x bone deep on left side of neck just above the thyroid cartilage directed obliquely up to the let ear lobe Underlying soft tissue trachea, esophagus end blood vessels of left side of neck damaged. Clotted blood present.

11. In the opinion of the doctor, the cause of death of the deceased was shock and haemorrhage as a result of antemortem injuries.

12. PW-5, Ghanaram Chaudhary, in his examination-in-chief has deposed that on 23.07.2014, he was posted at police station Uldan at Head Constable. On that date on the written report of Rohit Kumar, he prepared Chik FIR at case crime No. 80 of 2014, underSection 302 IPC, police station Tahrauli, district Jhansi against the appellant, which he proved as Ext. Ka-6.

13. PW-6, Vijay Pratap Singh, in his examination-in-chief, has deposed that on 23.07.2014, he was posted at police station Uldan as Sub-Inspector. On that date, on the directions of the investigating officer, he conducted inquest on the body of the deceased. He also prepared required documents, sealed the dead body and handed over to Constable Raja Ram and Rajesh Kumar for getting postmortem done. At that time, the investigating officer collected plain and bloodstained earth, the memos whereof were prepared by him. On the pointing out of the appellant, bloodstained sickle (Hansia) was recovered by the investigating officer from the hut, inside the field of Ram Sahai, the memo of the same was prepared by him. He also prepared memo of bloodstained clothes of the accused on the dictation of the investigating officer.

14. After the closure of the prosecution evidence, statement of the accused was recorded under Section 313 Cr.P.C. in which he denied the circumstances appearing against him and claimed innocence by pleading false implication in the crime in question and claimed trial.

15. Learned Additional Sessions Judge, Court No. 4, Jhansi after hearing the learned counsel for the parties and assessing, evaluating and scrutinizing the evidence on record, convicted and sentenced the accused-appellant as indicated herein above.

16. Being aggrieved and dissatisfied with the order of conviction and sentence as aforementioned, the appellant has preferred the instant appeal.

Submission on behalf of the appellant

17. Learned counsel for appellant-accused at the very outset submits that he restricts his argument only to the extent for conversion of the sentence from Section 302 to Section 304 IPC and submits that since, there was no premeditation and the incident took place in a heat of passion, considering the injuries received by the deceased, the case shall not traverse beyond the purview of Section 304 I.P.C.

18. Learned counsel for the appellant further submits that motive to commit the incident in this case is absent

Submissions on behalf of the State

19. On the other hand, Shri R.K. Gupta, learned Additional Government Advocate representing the State submitted that the accused caused injury by sickle on the neck and face of the deceased, which resulted in her death and there was no grave or sudden provocation, the learned Trial Court on appreciation of the entire evidence on record, has rightly convicted and sentenced the appellant for the offence punishable under Section 302 IPC.

Analysis and conclusion

20. Heard Shri Harish Chandra Tiwari, learned Amicus Curiae for the appellant and leaned Additional Government Advocate.

21. As an abundant precaution, we have gone through the postmortem report and evidence of the prosecution witnesses. From the perusal of the postmortem report and the evidence of the Medical Officer, we do not find any reason to interfere with the finding that the death of the deceased is homicidal. We also do not find any reason to interfere with the finding of the trial court that it is the appellant who caused injuries to the deceased resulting in her death.

22. Having come to the conclusion that the appellant is liable for the death of the deceased, we will have to now examine whether the offence committed by the appellant would come under the ambit of Section 302 IPC or it can be altered to one under Section 304 IPC as argued by the learned counsel for the appellant.

23. For better appreciation of the contention of learned counsel for the appellants, we would like to refer certain pronouncement of Hon'ble Supreme Court on the point in question insofar as the appellant is concerned.

24. In Jagtar Singh Vs. State of Punjab (1983) 2 SCC 342, accused on the spur of moment inflicted a knife blow on the chest of the deceased. The injury proved fatal. The doctor opined that the injury was sufficient in the ordinary course of nature to cause death. The Apex Court observed that quarrel was of a trivial nature and even in such a trivial quarrel appellant wielded a weapon like a knife and landed a blow on the chest. In these circumstances, it is inadmissible to infer that the accused at least could be imputed with the knowledge that he was likely to cause an injury which was likely to cause death. The Court altered the conviction of the appellant from Section 302 IPC to Section 304 Part II IPC and sentenced the accused to suffer rigorous imprisonment for five years.

25. In K. Ramakoteswara Rao Vs. State of A.P., 1986 Cr.L.J. 68*0, a sudden quarrel arose between the accused and the deceased and the deceased threatened the accused with dire consequences. The accused stabbed the deceased with knife. The Court convicted the accused under Section 304 Part-I IPC.

26. In Surinder Kumar Vs. Union Territory, Chandigarh, (1989)2 SCC 217, Hon'ble Apex Court held that if on a sudden quarrel a person in the heat of the moment picks up a weapon which is handy and causes injuries out of which only one proves fatal, he would be entitled to the benefit of the Exception provided he has not acted cruelly. Hon'ble Supreme Court held that the number of wounds caused during the occurrence in such a situation was not the decisive factor. What was important was that the occurrence had taken place on account of a sudden and unpremeditated fight and the offender must have acted in a fit of anger. Dealing with the provision of Exception 4 to Section 300, Hon'ble Supreme Court held thus:

"..... To invoke this exception four requirements must be satisfied, namely, (i) it was a sudden fight; (ii) there was no premeditation; (iii) the act was done in a heat of passion; and (iv) the assailant had not taken any undue advantage or acted in a cruel manner. The cause of the quarrel is not relevant nor is it relevant who offered the provocation or started the assault. The number of wounds caused during the occurrence is not a decisive factor but what is important is that the occurrence must have been sudden and unpremeditated and the offender must have acted in a fit of anger. Of course, the offender must not have taken any undue advantage or acted in a cruel manner. Where, on a sudden quarrel, a person in the heat of the moment picks up a weapon which is handy and causes injuries, one of which proves fatal, he would be entitled to the benefit of this exception provided he has not acted cruelly."

27. In V. Sreedharan Vs. State of Kerala, AIR 1992 SC 754, the accused, as a result of provocation caused in the heat of passion upon a sudden quarrel, chased the deceased to some distance and then gave the single fatal blow, it was held that the whole incident was a continuous sequence. Hence the conviction of the accused was shifted from Section 302 to Section 304 Part-I IPC.

28. In Bhera Vs. State of Rajasthan, 2000 SCC (Cri) 1230, accused and the deceased quarrelled and while quarrelling the accused in anger suddenly took out the knife and gave knife blow on the chest of the deceased which resulted in his death. The Apex Court set aside the conviction of the appellant under Section 302 IPC, instead convicted him under Section 304 Part II IPC and sentenced him to 5 years imprisonment.

29. In Mochi Raju Vs. State of Gujarat, JT 2001 (10) SC 398, accused appellant and the deceased started fighting and during the quarrel appellant took out the knife from the pocket and gave one blow to the deceased on his chest. The Apex Court while convicting the appellant for an offence under Section 304 Part II, sentenced him to five years rigorous imprisonment.

30. In Sukbhir Singh v. State of Haryana (2002) 3 SCC 327, the appellant caused two Bhala blows on the vital part of the body of the deceased that was sufficient in the ordinary course of nature to cause death. The High Court held that the appellant had acted in a cruel and unusual manner. Reversing the view taken by the High Court, Hon'ble Supreme Court held that all fatal injuries resulting in death cannot be termed as cruel or unusual for the purposes of Exception 4 of Section 300 IPC. In cases where after the injured had fallen down, the appellant did not inflict any further injury when he was in a helpless position, it may indicate that he had not acted in a cruel or unusual manner. The Court observed:

31. "In Sukhbir Singh Vs. State of Haryaba, "(2002) 3 SCC 327, the appellant caused two Bhala blows on the vital part of the body of the deceased that was sufficient in the ordinary course of nature to cause death. The High Court held that the appellant had acted in a cruel and unusual manner. Reversing the view taken by the High Court this Court held that all fatal injuries resulting in death cannot be termed as cruel or unusual for the purposes of Exception 4 of Section 300 IPC. In cases where after the injured had fallen down, the appellant did not inflict any further injury when he was in a helpless position, it may indicate that he had not acted in a cruel or unusual manner. The Court observed:

"...All fatal injuries resulting in death cannot be termed as cruel or unusual for the purposes of not availing the benefit of Exception 4 of Section 300 IPC. After the injuries were inflicted and the injured had fallen down, the appellant is not shown to have inflicted any other injury upon his person when he was in a helpless position. It is proved that in the heat of passion upon a sudden quarrel followed by a fight, the accused who was armed with Bhala caused injuries at random and thus did not act in a cruel or unusual manner.

32. In Ghapoo Yadav Vs. State of M.P. (2003) 3 SCC 528, Hon'ble Supreme Court held that in a heat of passion there must be no time for the passions to cool down and that the parties had in that case before the Court worked themselves into a fury on account of the verbal altercation in the beginning. Apart from the incident being the result of a sudden quarrel without premeditation, the law requires that the offender should not have taken undue advantage or acted in a cruel or unusual manner to be able to claim the benefit of Exception 4 to Section 300 IPC. Whether or not the fight was sudden, was declared by the Court to be decided in the facts and circumstances of each case."

33. In Pulicherla Nagaraju @ Nagaraja Reddy v. State of Andhra Pradesh (2006) 11 SCC 444, the Hon'ble Court held thus:

"Therefore, the court should proceed to decide the pivotal question of intention, with care and caution, as that will decide whether the case falls under Section 302 or 304 Part I or 304 Part II. Many petty or insignificant matters - plucking of a fruit, straying of a cattle, quarrel of children, utterance of a rude word or even an objectionable glance, may lead to altercations and group clashes culminating in deaths. Usual motives like revenge, greed, jealousy or suspicion may be totally absent in such cases. There may be no intention. There may be no pre-meditation. In fact, there may not even be criminality."

34. In Sudhakar Vs. State of U.P., (2012)8 SC 289, Hon"ble Supreme Court held as under:

"Going by the narration of the facts disclosed, there was nothing to suggest that there was any premeditation in the mind of the appellant to cause the death of the deceased. Taking into account the statement of P.W.1 that the deceased was under the influence of liquor and that whenever he was under the influence of liquor he used to throw the household articles and create a ruckus in the house was a factor which created a heat of passion in the appellant who as a father was not in a position to tolerate the behaviour of his son whose misbehaviour under the influence of liquor was the torment. Therefore, unmindful of the consequences, though not in a cruel manner the appellant inflicted a single blow which unfortunately caused severe damage to the vital organs resulting into the death of the deceased. In such circumstances, as rightly contended by learned counsel for the appellant, we are convinced that the offence alleged and as found proved against the appellant can be brought under the First Part of Section 304 of IPC. Accordingly, while affirming the conviction of the appellant, we are only altering the same as falling under Section 304 "Part I of IPC"in place of"Section 302 of IPC. As far as the sentence imposed on the appellant in as much as we reached at the conclusion that the conviction should fall under"Section 304"Part I of IPC, taking note of the sentence already undergone, we find from the Imprisonment Certificate that the appellant is in jail from 12.07.2004 and he is 60 year old, P.W.1, who is the wife of the appellant, is left all alone and the appellant having suffered imprisonment for more than eight years, we hold that the sentence already undergone would be sufficient punishment apart from the fine imposed with the default sentence as per the judgment of the Trial Court and as affirmed by the High Court. The appeal stands partly allowed with the above modifications of the charge and the sentence imposed on the appellant."

35. In the light of the above pronouncements of Hon'ble Apex Court, we shall now proceed to consider whether case against the accused-appellant falls within the ambit of Section 302 IPC or Section 304 IPC.

36. PW-1, Rohit Kumar, who is the first informant and cousin of the deceased in his deposition has stated that there had always been quarrel between the deceased and the accused over consuming intoxicant. On the day of incident, on hearing the shrieks from inside the house of the appellant, when he along with Jugul Kishore, Lalta Prasad and several other people of the vicinity went inside the room, he saw that the accused assaulting his wife on her neck. On seeing them, the accused-appellant managed to escape. In his cross-examination, PW-1, Rohit Kumar has stated that accused-appellant was habitual of consuming intoxicant (Ganja), which was told to him by the parents of the accused-appellant and that he has also seen the appellant consuming intoxicant (Ganja). He further deposed that at the time of incident no person was present in the room except the appellant and the deceased. The later portion of the evidence of PW-1 suggests that the appellant had every opportunity to inflict more injuries, but he had not taken any undue advantage or acted in a cruel manner.

37. PW-2, Jugul Kishore, in his examination-in-chief has deposed that on the date of incident, on hearing the hue and cry from the house of the appellant, when he along with Rohit and Lalta Prasad went inside the house, they saw the accused assaulting his wife (deceased) on her face from sickle (Hansia). In his cross-examination, which was done on 18.05.2016, PW-2 has stated that since the habit of the accused was not good, his maternal uncle and other members of family called the accused to village so that he may improve his habit. There was always controversy between the accused and his wife deceased over consuming intoxicant. Appellant used to consume liquor and Ganja.

38. PW-3, Lalta Prasad, in his deposition has stated that on 22.07.2014 at 08:00-08:30 PM, he was standing at the shop of Sita Ram. On hearing the shrieks of the deceased, when he along with Jugul, Rohit and other persons of the vicinity went to the house of the appellant, he saw appellant assaulting the deceased on her face and neck from sickle. In his cross-examination, which was done on 21.06.2016, he deposed that the accused was living in the village 5-6 months prior to the incident in question. He wanders around drunk and consume Ganja. Accused-appellant used to beat his wife after consuming intoxicant.

39. On the conjoint reading of deposition of evidence of PW-1, Rohit Kumar, PW-2, Jugul Kishore and PW-3, Lalta Prasad, it is evident that the appellant was accustomed to consuming intoxicant and the incident in question took place over a petty dispute of consuming intoxicant. The incident was the result of sudden fight, there was no premeditation, act was done in a heat of passion and that the assailant had not taken any undue advantage or acted in a cruel manner. There was also no motive of the incident.

40. The cumulative effect of all these circumstances, in our opinion, should entitle the appellants to the benefit of Exception 4 to Section 300 IPC.

41. In view of the aforesaid legal proposition enunciated by Hon'ble Supreme Court and looking at the nature of injuries sustained by the deceased and the circumstances as enumerated above, the conclusion is irresistible that the death was caused by the acts of the accused-appellant done with the intention of causing such bodily injury as would likely to cause death and, therefore, the offence would squarely come within the ambit of Section 304 part-I IPC, instead of Section 302 IPC.

42. In view of the above conspectus, the conviction of the appellant under Section 302 IPC cannot be sustained. This Court is reluctant in endorsing the life imprisonment. Accordingly, the conviction of the appellant under Section 302 IPC is set aside, instead, he is convicted under Section 304 Part-I IPC and sentenced to rigorous imprisonment of ten years. Appellant is stated to be in jail since 23.07.2014. He shall be released forthwith unless wanted in any other case provided he has completed the modified sentence of ten years.

43. Consequently, the appeal is partly allowed with the aforesaid modification in the impugned judgement and order dated 08.06.2022 passed by the Additional Sessions Judge, Court No. 4, Jhansi.

44. Office is directed to transmit the lower court record along with a copy of this order to the court concerned for compliance.

45. Shri Harish Chandra Tiwari, learned Amicus Curiae shall be paid a sum of Rs. 15,000/- (rupees fifteen thousand) only towards his assistance rendered to the Court in deciding this appeal.

(2026) 2 ILRA 973
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 03.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE ANIL KUMAR-X, J.

Criminal Appeal No. 348 of 2026

Siraj Ali @ Babu ...Appellant
Versus
State Of U.P. & Anr. ...Respondents

Issue for Consideration

Matter pertains to whether the Trial Court was justified in allowing the application under S. 216 Cr.P.C. and altering the charge from S. 324 IPC to S. 307 IPC at the stage of trial and whether such alteration on the basis of an application filed by the prosecution is legally sustainable. (Paras 11,13,15)

Headnotes

Criminal Procedure Code, 1973 - S. 216 - Alteration of charge - Power exclusively confined with the Court as an enabling provision to alter or add any charge at any time before judgment - No party has vested right to seek addition or alteration of charge - Application by prosecution only brings facts to notice of Court - Court competent to exercise power independently - Order not vitiated merely because application moved by party - Held, no illegality in impugned order. (Paras 14,15,17,18)

Criminal Trial - Alteration of charge from S. 324 IPC to S. 307 IPC - Based on FIR allegations, X-ray report showing pellets, and statement of injured witness - At stage of framing or alteration of charge, existence of strong suspicion sufficient - Medical opinion not decisive over injured witness statement - Held, Trial Court rightly exercised discretion. (Paras 10,12,13)

Criminal Procedure - Right of accused - Prejudice due to alteration of charge - Mere partial cross-examination under earlier charge does not invalidate alteration when Court applies mind to material on record - Held, no prejudice warranting interference. (Paras 7,13,18)

Interpretation of precedent - P. Kartikalakshmi v. Ganesh - Restriction on vested right of parties, not on power of Court - Court not prohibited from considering applications under S. 216 Cr.P.C. - Held, Trial Court's approach consistent with law. (Paras 11,14,15)

Held: Power of invocation of S. 216 Cr.P.C. is exclusively confined with the Court as an enabling provision for alteration or addition of any charge at any time before pronouncement of judgment - no party neither de facto complainant nor the accused nor the prosecution has any vested right to seek such alteration - an application filed by any party only brings facts to the notice of the Court and the final decision must always depend on the Court's own satisfaction and independent application of mind - where from the FIR allegations the statement of injured witness and the X-ray report indicating presence of pellets there exists material sufficient to establish strong suspicion that the accused in furtherance of common intention fired upon the injured resulting in gunshot injury the alteration of charge from S. 324 to S. 307 IPC does not suffer from any infirmity - the conclusion drawn by the doctor and investigating officer will not prevail over the statement of injured witness at the stage of framing or alteration of charge - mere fact that the application under S. 216 Cr.P.C. was moved after partial examination of prosecution witness does not cause such prejudice as to vitiate the order when the Court has exercised its jurisdiction after due application of mind - impugned order justified and calls for no interference. (Paras 11,13,15,17,18) (E-7)

Case Law Cited

P. Kartikalakshmi Vs. Ganesh and Ors., (2017) 3 SCC 347; Guriya @ Tabassum Tauquir and Others v. State of Bihar and Another, AIR 2008 SC 95; Sethuraman vs Rajamanikam, (2009) 5 SCC 153.

List of Acts

Criminal Procedure Code, 1973; Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes (Prevention of Atrocities) Act, 1989; Indian Penal Code, 1860;

List of Keywords

alteration of charge; S. 216 CrPC; vested right; strong suspicion; injured witness; X-ray report; pellets; firearm injury; prejudice; trial court discretion; application by prosecution

Case Arising From

APPELLATE JURISDICTION: Against the order dated 18.11.2025 passed by the learned Additional Sessions Judge, Court No.2/Special Court (SC/ST Act), Farrukhabad in Special Sessions Trial No.44 of 2016 arising out of Case Crime No.436 of 2013, at Police Station Kayamganj, District Farrukhabad allowing the application under S. 216 Cr.P.C. and altering the charge.

Appearances for Parties

Advs. for the Appellant:
Sri Srijan Pandey
Advs. for the Respondents:
Sri R.K. Singh, learned AGA for the State

(Delivered by Hon'ble Anil Kumar -X, J.)

1. Heard Sri Srijan Pandey, learned counsel for the appellant, and Sri R.K. Singh, learned AGA for the State.

2. This criminal appeal under Section 14-A(1) of the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes (Prevention of Atrocities) Act, 1989 has been preferred by the appellant against the order dated 18.11.2025 passed by the learned Additional Sessions Judge, Court No.2/Special Court (SC/ST Act), Farrukhabad, allowing the application u/s 216 Cr.P.C. preferred on behalf of the State in Special Sessions Trial No.44 of 2016 arising out of Case Crime No.436 of 2013, at Police Station Kayamganj, District Farrukhabad.

3. Learned counsel for the appellant has submitted that the order of the learned Trial Court in allowing the application under Section 216 Cr.P.C. filed by the prosecution is illegal. He further submitted that the Hon'ble Supreme Court in P. Kartikalakshmi Vs. Ganesh and Ors., (2017) 3 SCC 347 held that no party, neither the de facto complainant nor the accused or, for that matter, the prosecution, has any vested right to seek any addition or alteration of charge, because it is not provided under Section 216 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. The Hon'ble Supreme Court also observed that if such a course is adopted by the parties, then it will be well nigh impossible for the Criminal Court to conclude its proceedings and the concept of speedy trial will get jeopardized.

4. He submitted that the charges in this case were framed against the appellant on 24.11.2023 under Sections 323, 324, 506, 506 IPC and Sections 3(1)(10), 3(1)(Da) and 3(1)(Dha) of the SC/ST Act. However, an application under Section 216 Cr.P.C. was moved by the prosecution after partial examination of PW-1. There was no occasion for the learned Trial Court to allow the application filed on behalf of the prosecution.

5. It was further submitted that initially the FIR against the appellant and others was lodged under Section 307 IPC, wherein the respondent/informant alleged that co-accused Waseem Ali Khan fired upon respondent no.2, Devki Nandan alias Pintu. Respondent no.2, Devki Nandan alias Pintu, was brought before Dr. Rajeev Kumar at Samudayik Swasthya Kendra, Kayamganj, District Farrukhabad, for medical examination. The doctor found a lacerated wound measuring 0.4 * 0.4 cm on the right elbow and also advised an X-ray examination. The said doctor opined that the nature of the injury did not suggest that it was caused by a firearm. On the basis of the X-ray report, the doctor also observed that it appeared that two pellets were placed on the side of the injury in order to establish a firearm injury.

6. The Investigating Officer also concluded during investigation that the injury report suggested that all injuries were caused by hard and blunt objects. Hence, there was no indication to suggest that the injured sustained any firearm injury. The Investigating Officer further mentioned that the criminal prosecution was initiated due to prior enmity and that there was no motive on the part of the accused persons to cause injury to the injured.

7. Learned counsel for the appellant submitted that the appellant-accused was prejudiced by the step taken by the learned Trial Court in allowing the application under Section 216 Cr.P.C. after partial cross-examination of PW-1. The counsel for the accused had prepared himself to cross-examine the prosecution witness on the basis of the charge framed under Section 324 IPC, and such cross-examination was also partially completed. If the application under Section 216 Cr.P.C. is allowed to remain in force, then the right to effectively cross-examine the prosecution witness with respect to the allegation under Section 307 IPC would never occur. Therefore, the impugned order allowing the application under Section 216 Cr.P.C. at the behest of the prosecution is perverse and illegal, and is liable to be set aside.

8. Per contra, Sri R.K. Singh, learned AGA for the State, submitted that the prosecution story from the very inception was that the appellant caught hold of the injured and co-accused Waseem Ali Khan fired upon him. The X-ray report of the injured also indicates the presence of two pellets on the injured side. Therefore, the impugned order altering the charge from Section 324 to Section 307 IPC does not suffer from any illegality.

9. Heard learned counsel for the parties and perused the impugned order.

10 The FIR in this case was lodged in the year 2013, wherein the informant/injured, Devki Nandan alias Pintu, stated that he was caught hold of by the appellant, accused Waseem Ali Khan, and one unknown person on 21.12.2013. They assaulted and abused him, and accused Waseem Ali Khan fired upon him, as a result of which the bullet hit his elbow. The X-ray report indicates the presence of two pellets on the injured side.

11. It would be pertinent to mention that initially the charges against the appellant were framed under Section 324 IPC. After partial examination of PW-1, an application under Section 216 Cr.P.C. was filed by the prosecution, which was allowed by the learned Trial Court vide its order dated 18.11.2025. In its order, the learned Trial Court also discussed the judgment of P. Kartikalakshmi (supra), relied upon by the appellant. The learned Trial Court held that the judgment of P. Kartikalakshmi (supra) only prohibits the contesting parties, including the prosecution, from filing an application under Section 216 Cr.P.C., but does not prohibit the Court from passing orders suo motu under Section 216 Cr.P.C. Therefore, the Supreme Court has not restricted a Trial Court from exercising its discretion under Section 216 Cr.P.C.

12. Apart from this, the learned Trial Court also discussed the injury report of the injured/informant, Devki Nandan alias Pintu, along with the X-ray report. The said X-ray report suggests the presence of two pellets on the injured side as well as injury to the bone on that side. The Trial Court also relied upon the statement of PW-1 recorded during trial, wherein the witness stated that he was fired upon by the accused persons, causing injuries to his right elbow.

13. The finding recorded by the learned Trial Court to alter the charge from Section 324 to Section 307 IPC does not suffer from any infirmity. The evidence available on record is sufficient to establish that the allegations and the evidence collected during investigation and trial are consistent on the point that the appellant, along with other accused, in furtherance of their common intention, fired upon the injured, resulting in a gunshot injury to the right elbow of the injured. The conclusion drawn by the doctor and I.O. in relation to the injury sustained by the injured will not prevail over the statement of injured witnesses, particularly at the stage of framing charges. It is trite law that charges can be framed if there exists strong suspicion. Hence, the learned Trial Court did not commit any error in altering the charge from Section 324 to 307 IPC. This Court is of the view that had the Court not altered the charge, that would have been prejudicial to the prosecution.

14. Learned counsel for the appellant has very much emphasized the judgment of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in P. Kartikalakshmi (supra). It will be appropriate to refer to the relevant paragraph of the judgment, which reads as follows:-

"We were taken through Sections 221 & 222 of the Cr.P.C. in this context. In the light of the facts involved in this case, we are only concerned with Section 216 Cr.P.C. We, therefore, do not propose to examine the implications of the other provisions to the case on hand. We wish to confine ourselves to the invocation of Section 216 and rest with that. In the light of our conclusion that the power of invocation of Section 216 Cr.P.C. is exclusively confined with the Court as an enabling provision for the purpose of alteration or addition of any charge at any time before pronouncement of the judgment, we make it clear that no party, neither de facto complainant nor the accused or for that matter the prosecution has any vested right to seek any addition or alteration of charge, because it is not provided under Section 216 Cr.P.C. If such a course to be adopted by the parties is allowed, then it will be well nigh impossible for the Criminal Court to conclude its proceedings and the concept of speedy trial will get jeopardized."

15. If the observation of the Hon'ble Court is read carefully, it will appear that it did not prohibit the Trial Court from entertaining applications under Section 216 CrPC only because the application was filed by either party or the prosecutor. The Supreme Court, in this paragraph, only wanted to explain how Section 216 CrPC works. It clarified that the power to add or change a charge belongs only to the Court. Section 216 is an enabling provision, which means the Court can use this power whenever it feels necessary before judgment. The Court did not say that an application filed by a complainant, accused, or prosecutor is not maintainable. What it clearly said is that no party has a legal right to demand addition or alteration of charges. A party cannot insist that charges must be changed simply because it has filed an application. The real concern of the Supreme Court was that if parties are allowed to repeatedly seek change of charges as a matter of right, criminal trials will never end and the right to a speedy trial will be defeated. Therefore, the restriction is on the right of the parties, not on the power of the Court. It becomes manifest from a careful reading of the judgment that even if an application is filed, the Court is free to consider it and pass an order under Section 216 CrPC, provided the Court applies its own mind and finds that change of charge is required. The application only brings facts to the notice of the Court; the final decision must always be taken by the Court itself.

16. In order to bring home the above point, there are some clear examples from the Cr.P.C. where power is primarily with the Court (often suo motu), yet parties are not barred from filing applications. Here are some examples:-

(i) Section 319 CrPC ? Summoning Additional Accused: Court can summon a person not named as accused suo motu if evidence shows his involvement in the offence. But there is no bar for complainants, accused, or prosecution to file an application under Section 319. The same proposition has been laid down by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Guriya @ Tabassum Tauquir and Others v. State of Bihar and Another, AIR 2008 SC 95, wherein it was held as under:

"14. Power under Section 319 of the Code can be exercised by the Court suo motu or on an application by someone, including an accused already before it, if it is satisfied that any person other than the accused has committed an offence and he is to be tried together with the accused."

(ii) Section 311 CrPC ? Power to Summon or Recall Witness: Court may summon, recall, or re-examine any witness at any stage on its own if necessary for justice. There is no restriction for either prosecution or accused to move an application. The same proposition has been laid down by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Sethuraman vs Rajamanikam, (2009) 5 S C C 153, wherein it was held as under:

"4. Secondly, what was not realized was that the order passed by the Trial Court refusing to call the documents and rejecting the application under Section 311 Cr.P.C., were interlocutory orders and as such, the revision against those orders was clearly barred under Section 397(2) Cr.P.C."

(iii) Section 156(3) CrPC ? Power of Magistrate to direct Investigation: Magistrate is empowered to direct investigation by police on his own satisfaction. But usually he exercises his power only after an application is submitted by a complainant.

(iv) Section 227 / 239 CrPC ? Discharge of Accused: Court is empowered to discharge accused if no sufficient ground exists. But the said power is usually invoked by Courts after the accused files a discharge application before it.

17. From the foregoing discussion, it becomes evident that power to pass order upon any application rests with the Court. But if any application is filed by any party, it is only meant to place facts before the Court. It is also true that no party has a vested right to demand an order upon any application moved by it. The Court alone is empowered to take a decision on any application after applying its own independent mind. In simple terms, the law gives power to the Court, but filing an application does not give any right to the parties. Any party who files any application only draws the Court's attention, and the final decision always depends on the Court's own satisfaction. Hence, if the Court passes an order after independently applying its mind, merely because such order was passed on an application filed by a party and not suo motu, the same cannot be set aside on that ground alone.

18. In view of the aforesaid facts and legal position, this Court finds no illegality or infirmity in the impugned order dated 18.11.2025 passed by the learned Additional Sessions Judge/Special Court (SC/ST Act), Farrukhabad, allowing the application under Section 216 Cr.P.C. and altering the charge. The learned Trial Court has exercised its jurisdiction after due application of mind and on the basis of material available on record.

19. Accordingly, the present criminal appeal lacks merit and is, hereby, dismissed. The impugned order is affirmed.

(2026) 2 ILRA 979
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 02.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE ANISH KUMAR GUPTA, J.

Criminal Appeal No. 493 of 1988

Mangey & Anr. ...Appellant
Versus State ...Respondents

Issue for Consideration

Matter pertains to whether delay in lodging the F.I.R., non-supportive medical evidence, and alleged inconsistencies in prosecution witnesses render conviction under S. 376 I.P.C. unsustainable. (Paras 11, 12, 26, 27)

Headnotes

Criminal Law - Indian Penal Code ,1860 - Criminal Appeal - Conviction under S. 376 I.P.C. - Challenge to - Delay in lodging F.I.R. - Whether fatal - Held, delay of about 12 hours "in the given circumstances a very natural one" and not fatal. (Paras 11, 26, 27)

Evidence - Prosecutrix testimony - Evidentiary value - "the deposition of the PW-1 is concerned, that is uncontroverted and fully reliable"- Conviction can be based solely on such testimony. (Paras 15, 28, 29)

Medical Evidence - No definite opinion regarding rape – Effect - "no inference can be drawn either side"- Not sufficient to discard prosecution case. (Para 27)

Witnesses-non-examination / hostility – Effect - "attempt by the defence side to win over the witnesses"- Not fatal where core evidence intact. (Paras 16, 27, 28)

F.I.R. - Delay explained - Social stigma and consultation - "discussion between the husband and her brothers - as the same involves the reputation". (Para 26)

Defence plea - False implication due to enmity - Not proved - "nothing on record which can create any shadow of doubt" (Para 29)

Held: The delay of about 12 hours which is in the given circumstances a very natural one - would not be of any consequence - from the medical report no inference can be drawn either side - it cannot be concluded that no rape had been committed - the deposition of the PW-1 is concerned, that is uncontroverted and fully reliable - in the cases of rape, ordinarily there is no direct evidence except that of the prosecutrix - conviction can be upheld if the deposition inspires the confidence of the court - there is nothing on record which can create any shadow of doubt which inspires the confidence of the court - this Court does not find any illegality in the conviction and sentence - Accordingly, the instant appeal fails and is dismissed.(Paras 27,28,29) (E-7)

Case Law Cited

Harpal vs. State, 1981: Criminal Law Journal page 1; State of Rajasthan vs. Dhanya, 1984 Criminal Law Journal 956

List of Acts

Indian Penal Code, 1860; Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973

List of Keywords

delay in lodging F.I.R.; prosecutrix; medical examination; habitual to sexual intercourse; deposition; corroboration; rape; conviction; pressure by defence; eyewitnesses; affidavits; enmity; false implication

Case Arising From

APPELLATE JURISDICTION: Against the judgment and order dated 01.03.1988 passed by the Additional District and Sessions Judge, Meerut in Sessions Trial No. 563 of 1986 convicting the appellants under S. 376 I.P.C. and sentencing them to seven years rigorous imprisonment.

Appearances for Parties

Advs. for the Appellant:
Sri Atul Kumar
Advs. for the Respondents:
Sri S.K. Ojha, learned A.G.A.; Sri Satendra Nath Tiwari, learned A.G.A.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Anish Kumar Gupta, J.)

1. Learned counsel for the appellants submits that the non-bailable warrants have already been executed and both the appellants have already been arrested on 17.01.2026 and have been sent to the jail.

2. In view thereof, the instant recall application having become infructuous is disposed of specifically in the view of the fact that the criminal appeal is being heard on merits.

Order on Criminal Appeal

1. Heard Sri Atul Kumar, learned counsel for the appellants and Sri S.K. Ojha, learned A.G.A. for the State.

2. The instant criminal appeal has been filed by the appellants against the judgment and order dated 01.03.1988 passed by the then Additional District and Sessions Judge, Meerut in Sessions Trial No. 563 of 1986 (State vs. Mangey and others), whereby both the appellants herein were convicted for the offense under Section 376 I.P.C. and were directed to undergo seven years rigorous imprisonment.

3. The facts in brief are that on 14.08.1985 at around 6:00 AM in the morning, the informant PW3 herein has submitted a written report, which was scribed by PW2. On the basis of the said written report, the instant F.I.R. was lodged. The case of the prosecution is that on 13.08.1985 at 6:00 P.M., the wife of the complainant, the prosecutrix was going towards the fields in search of her husband from her house. When she reached about three to four fields away from the village, then both the accused persons came out from the maize field and obstructed the way of the prosecutrix and forcibly taken her into the maize field where they have broken the waist cord of the prosecutrix and thereupon both the accused persons have raped her turn by turn. Hearing her cries, Qasim and Ajba who were also coming from the village reached at the spot and saw that the prosecutrix was lying on the ground and both the accused persons had run away in the jungle. However, they could not be caught on the spot. Thereupon, the prosecutrix returned back to her house and when her husband came back from the fields, she narrated the entire story to her husband. Thereupon, next day morning, the complainant got scribed the written report and submitted the same at the police station on 14.08.1985 at 6:05 AM at Police Station- Ramala. On the basis of such written report, the F.I.R. was registered, the case was investigated and charge-sheet was filed against the appellants herein. On submission of the charge-sheet, the case was committed to the sessions court for trial.

4. In support of its case, the prosecution has examined the prosecutrix as PW1, Jagbir Singh, scriber of the report as PW2, and Israel, the husband of the prosecutrix as PW3. Constable Ram Kishan as PW4 who has registered the F.I.R. and made the relevant GD entries. The Investigation Officer could not be examined as prior to the examination he has died. Thus, the Constable Ram Kishan has proved the F.I.R., GD entries, site-plan, charge-sheet, etc.

5. In 313 Cr.P.C. statements, both the accused persons have denied the charges and claimed trial.

6. After registration of the F.I.R., the medical examination of the prosecutrix was conducted on 14.08.1985 itself. On the internal examination of the prosecutrix, the Medical Officer has observed as under:

"No injury on private part. Hymen torn. Old healed hymen tear the vagina admits two fingers. Uterus normal in shape and size firm mobile in clear os clesed. No bleeding or discharge P/V, vaginal semen taken and sent for H.P. Enew."

7. For determination of the age of the prosecutrix, the X-ray was advised. As per the opinion of the Medical Officer, since the prosecutrix used to do sexual intercourse, therefore no definite opinion can be given with regard to rape. X-ray of the prosecutrix was also conducted on 17.08.1985 and according to the X-ray report, epiphysis around the elbow joint, wrist joint, and knee joint are fused. The aforesaid medical report was admitted by the defense, therefore the Medical Officer was not examined to prove the same during the trial.

8. In 313 Cr.P.C. statement, the accused Jan Mohammad has submitted that the prosecutrix had cut the grass from the field of Mangey and when Mangey has objected to her then she has also abused him. In fact, warned them that she will lodge a false report in collusion with the village Pradhan Sakoor.

9. The accused Mangey has also stated that in the morning at 8:00 AM when he reached on his field, he has found the prosecutrix there. She has cut the grass from their field, which was objected by him, and the co-accused Jan Mohammad has also reached there. On objections raised by the accused, the prosecutrix has abused them and thereafter had threatened for lodging the false case against the accused persons.

10. After concluding the trial, the trial court having found that the offense of rape has been committed by the accused persons, the appellants herein, the trial court has convicted them for offence under Section 376 I.P.C. and sentenced them to undergo seven years rigorous imprisonment against which the instant criminal appeal has been filed by the appellants.

11. Submission of learned counsel for the appellants is that the there is delay of about 12 hours in lodging the F.I.R. and from the close scrutiny of the statement of the prosecutrix as well as the husband of the prosecutrix, PW3, it is apparent that the F.I.R. is nothing but an afterthought. Thus, the F.I.R. which has been lodged as an afterthought is fatal to the prosecution case and the appellants have been falsely implicated by the prosecutrix in the instant case due to rivalry.

12. Learned counsel for the appellants further submits that the medical report do not support the prosecution case with regard to the commission of offense of rape against the prosecutrix. Prosecution has failed to examine the key eyewitnesses named in the F.I.R. Thus, the instant case was lodged due to enmity by the PW3 making the false allegations of rape of the prosecutrix. Therefore, learned counsel for the appellants seeks acquittal in the instant case.

13. Per contra, Sri S.K. Ojha, learned AGA for the State, assisted by Sri Satendra Nath Tiwari, learned AGA, submits that the delay in lodging the F.I.R. in the cases of rape, that too long back in the year 1985, was not fatal to the prosecution case because lodging of the F.I.R. for rape cases at that relevant time was a very courageous movement for the entire family as the reputation of not only the prosecutrix but the entire family was at stake. Therefore, as per the prosecution story, though rape was committed around 6:00 PM in the evening on 13.08.1985, the prosecutrix has come back to the house thereafter. On coming of her husband she has narrated the entire story. Thereafter, the responsible persons in the family have discussed the issue whether to lodge the F.I.R. or not of such a heinous crime, which was committed against the prosecutrix as it involved the reputation of the entire family including the reputation of the prosecutrix.

14. Learned AGA further submits that the Hon'ble Supreme Court in such circumstances has held that the delay in lodging the F.I.R. in such cases is not fatal to the prosecution case. In support of his submission he has relied upon the judgment of the Apex Court in Harpal vs. State, 1981 : Criminal Law Journal page 1 and State of Rajasthan vs. Dhanya, 1984 Criminal Law Journal 956.

15. Learned AGA further submits that since the prosecutrix was a married lady and was habitual to sexual intercourse, which was a natural situation, in such circumstances, the medical opinion which has not given any definite opinion of the offense of rape against the prosecutrix is of no consequence, as her oral testimony is clear and uncontroverted even in the cross-examination. She has given the minute details how the offense was committed to her. The entire discussion is at page no. '11' of the impugned judgement. The deposition of the PW1 has been fully corroborated by the PW3, her husband. There is no iota of doubt with regard to the deposition of PW1 is concerned.

16. It is also submitted by learned AGA that the reasons for non-examination of the eyewitnesses, namely Ajba and Kasim, has been duly explained by the prosecution by moving the application for their discharge, as they have already submitted their affidavits denying the prosecution story, having been won over by the defense and the aforesaid application was also endorsed by the defense during the trial.

17. It is further submitted by learned AGA that the trial court has taken into consideration the entire facts and circumstances of the case as detailed by the PW1, which are corroborated by PW3 and thereafter, having been satisfied that charges of rape against the appellants are proved, they have been convicted. Therefore, learned AGA submits that no interference is called for in the impugned judgment and order passed by the trial court, convicting the appellants for the offense under Section 376 I.P.C. and sentencing them to seven years rigorous imprisonment, which is a minimum punishment at the relevant time for the said offense.

18. Having heard the rival submissions made by the learned counsel for the parties, this Court has carefully gone through the record of the case. Before proceeding further, it is relevant to take note of the statement of PW1, the prosecutrix. In her examination-in-chief, the prosecutrix PW1 states that she was the resident of Kalyanpur. She was married about eight years back. Since after the marriage, she is residing with her husband at village- Thal. She states her husband was doing the labor work on the agriculture field and he has also taken the field of Fatey Lohar and has also sown the maize on the said field. The name of her brother-in-law is Fayyaz. Her husband and brother-in-law both are residing at the same place. Her husband is weak, therefore she also used to help in the agriculture work. She further states that she knew the appellant no.1, Mangey. He is also resident of the same village. She is also acquainted with Jan Mohammad, who is also resident of the same village. She further states about one and half years ago her husband and brother-in-law had gone to the jungle and they were late in coming back. Therefore, in the evening she has gone in search of them. When she reached about 12 Kiyaris away, Jan Mohammad came there and obstructed her way. Mangey was also accompanying him. Thereafter, both the accused persons have forcibly pulled her towards the maize field. In the process one of her slippers left on the boundary of the field and one was on her foot. Thereafter, Jan Mohammad has removed her Salwar. Thereafter, both of them have insulted her.

19. She further states that they have kept her legs on their shoulders and thereafter have done the offense. The Court had observed that the prosecutrix was repeatedly asked what was the work done by them. Then, she stated that both of them have insulted her. At that time she was wearing the Salwar and Kameez and her Salwar was damaged due to the act done by the accused persons. Then, subsequently she stated that they have committed the bad act to her. She has shouted and on her shouting Kasim and Azabdeen have reached there. Having seen them the accused persons have fled away from the spot. Thereafter, both of them have brought her out from the field and then to village. After she reached the house her husband also came there and she has narrated the entire story to her husband. Next day morning she has accompanied her husband to the police station for lodging the report. Report was lodged by her husband. Thereafter, her medical examination was conducted at hospital at Meerut. The Salwar which was damaged due to the act done by the appellants was handed over to the police. When the sealed Salwar was shown to the prosecutrix, she has identified the same and said that she was wearing that Salwar during the incident. She further states that when her husband has come back at the house it was late night, when she has returned to house after the incident committed by the accused persons, thereafter, her husband has come back to the house.

20. At the time when the accused persons have committed the bad act after removing the salwar at that time it was still some time left for sunset. In the cross-examination she has stated that her husband has three brothers, Israel, Fayyaz, and Meharban. Her husband is of the middle one. One brother is elder to him and the another brother is younger to him. The elder brother of the husband has already married however younger brother is unmarried. She has not gone to her maternal house since last eight years and she is residing in her in-laws' place only. Father's name of Jan Mohammad is Yasin. There was no enmity or altercation with her husband and Yasin. Brother of Jan Mohammad is Gulfam. Gulfam has never beaten her husband. The house of the accused Jan Mohammad is adjoining to her house and there is a passage in between. In this passage there is a drainage. Yasin has objected them to flow the water in the said drain. Since then, they have not flown the water on the said drainage. Some water during bath flow in the drainage and for that reason sometime there is some altercation between them. The field of Fatey Lohar is towards the ridge where her husband has shown the maize. Towards the hill side there is residences of the Scheduled Caste and about two kiyaris away from the said residence, the field of Fatey Lohar is there. On the query made by the court she has explained the field of Fatey Lohar is about 40 kiyaris away from the residential area. When her husband has gone in the morning then it was sun-rising. He has taken the food. Her husband used to go to the fields everyday and used to come back in the noon and thereafter he used not to go. On the day when the accused persons have committed insult upon her and on that day her husband has not returned in the noon and her husband has taken food in the morning while going to the field. The field on which the accused persons have committed the bad act upon her, from there Fatey Lohar's field is about 30 kiyaris away.

21. She further states that Jan Mohammad has came out from the same field where he has committed bad act to her. When the Jan Mohammad came out and obstructed she has not shouted because he has caught hold of her hand and also her mouth. Mangey was also there when Jan Mohammad has caught hold of her. Jan Mohammad and Mangey met her on the east side of the field. When the accused persons were caught hold of her, she was on the midway, on the other side of the passage there is a field of Shakoora Pradhan. In all the fields there was maize grown. The accused persons have ran away from the spot when she came out of the field and shouted for help. When she has reached the house while crying, her husband has reached the house. On the day when she has disclosed the incident to her husband, they didn't go to the police station, however they have gone next day. In the night, they stayed in the house and consulted each other, as they have assaulted upon their daughter-in-law (???), therefore they should be named in the F.I.R. Therefore, all the family members, Fayyaz, Meharban and her husband has consulted each other, and Qasim and Ajba were also called for consultation. When they were going to the police station, sun had not risen. Police persons have interrogated her, at the police station as well in the village on third day, the salwar was handed over to the police on the day when she has gone to the police station.

22. PW2 is the scribe of the written report and stated that when Israel came there for getting the report scribed, it was around 7:00-7:30 or 8:00 in the morning. He has not given any statement to police officer, nor he has interrogated him. PW3 is the husband of the prosecutrix. In initial statement recorded on 13.04.1987, including the examination-in-chief and the cross-examination, he has supported the prosecution case as was narrated by the prosecutrix. He has also supported that he has lodged the F.I.R. having got scribed from PW2. All the suggestions that the F.I.R. was lodged, in consultation, at the behest of the village Pradhan Shakoora, such suggestion was categorically denied by this witness on 13.04.1987. However in subsequent cross-examination conducted on 17.04.1987, this witness has admitted that the report was lodged in consultation with said Shakoora.

23. PW-3 has explained that when in the night his wife has narrated the incident to him, due to the delay in the night, he could not go to the police station. Next day morning he reached the police station and lodged F.I.R. In the cross-examination, this witness has stated that on 25.03.1987 also, he came to the court for his deposition. Thereafter, Ayub Ali, Shami, Yasin, and Israel, who are his cousin brothers, have surrounded him and had asked him to settle the dispute and due to which he could not depose on that day and they had asked him to settle the dispute. Therefore, upon their instructions he has to submit an affidavit. The advocate who has recorded his statement on oath has read over the same, and thereafter he has put his thumb impression on the said affidavit.

24. In the cross-examination, this witness has further stated that on the date of incident, he had gone in the morning at 8 AM to the field along with his brother. After taking the food, he has not carried the food along. In those days, he used to take food in the morning and do not use to take lunch in the noon and after returning from the field in the evening, he used to take the food. On that date also, he has returned as usual in the evening. When he reached home, at first his wife has narrated the story, and next day morning he has lodged report at police station. After lodging the report he has returned. When further cross-examination was conducted on 17.04.1987, this witness has stated that after lodging the report, he went to his village and his wife had gone for medical examination at Meerut and thereafter, the Investigation Officer has met him after about two days. He was called at the house of the village Pradhan and other witnesses were also called there and thereafter he submits that his statement was not recorded by the Investigation Officer. However, he states that he has got written all the incident as was narrated by his wife in the report.

25. In further cross-examination he admits that there was a dispute with regard to cutting of the grass between his wife with the accused and he came to know about the same later on after registration of the F.I.R. He further submits he has not witnessed that altercation. He further states that his wife has stated that in the morning at 8:00 AM there was altercation with regard to cutting of the grass and the said incident came to his knowledge on the same date. The field in which the incident has taken place belongs to Mohammad Umar, Shami Sher, and father of Mangey Barkhu. He further stated that he has later on discovered that the report is false and due to some dispute with regard to cutting of grass, the report was lodged. Village pradhan and various other persons of the village had instigated him. The accused used to quarrel with your wife daily, therefore, you should lodge the F.I.R. that the accused persons have committed the rape upon her. On the query made by the court, he has stated that he know what is true and what is false and whatever statement he has given on the previous date, was given relying upon the narration of the story by his wife, and relying upon the same, the report was lodged. On 13.04.1987, the statement which was made by him that he has not lodged the false case on instructions of the village Pradhan is a true statement.

26. From the perusal of the entire evidence available on record it is apparent that the incident of rape as narrated by the prosecutrix has taken place on 13.08.1985 in the evening around 6 o?clock. The prosecutrix has disclosed the incident with minute detail. How the incident has taken place, how both the accused persons have committed rape upon her by pulling out her salwar. While considering the delay in lodging the F.I.R. it would be relevant to take note that the F.I.R.

was lodged next day morning at 6.05 AM. Obviously, after the incident it would have taken some time to the prosecutrix to reach her house and thereafter when her husband came there, she has narrated the incident. Thereafter, as has been stated by the prosecutrix herself that there was discussion between the husband and her brothers, whether to report the case against the accused persons or not as the same involves the reputation of the prosecutrix as well as the entire family. Thereafter, they have decided, they have shown their courage and decided to lodge the F.I.R. on the next day morning without any further delay.

27. Therefore, in the considered opinion of this Court, the delay of about 12 hours which is in the given circumstances a very natural one, as in the late night there were discussions whether to go ahead with lodging the report or not and subsequently once they have decided to lodge the report, immediately in the early morning they have lodged the report after getting the same scribed from PW-2. Therefore, the delay in lodging the F.I.R. in the instant case would not be of any consequence of which benefit can be granted to the accused persons. So far as the medical report do not confirm the rape having been committed upon the prosecutrix is concerned, it is apparent from the said medical examination report and the statement of witnesses available on record that the prosecutrix was a married lady and was habitual to the sexual intercourse. In such circumstances, any definite opinion with regard to rape cannot be given and accordingly, from the medical report no inference can be drawn either side and merely because no definite opinion has been given by the medical officer examining the prosecutrix, it cannot be concluded that no rape had been committed upon her. In such circumstances, close scrutiny of the prosecutrix deposition is required which has already been done here in above. The prosecutrix has given the great detail of the incident of the rape committed by the accused appellants, both the accused persons in a pair together, Jan Mohammad has obstructed her way and thereafter both of them have pulled her towards the maize field where they have removed the salwar and put the legs of the victim on their shoulders and thereafter committed rape upon her. From the investigation stage itself, there was attempt by the defence side to win over the witnesses, which is apparent from the record itself. Though the charge-sheet was filed in the instant case, however, during the trial it is apparent from the deposition of PW-3 that a successful attempt was made by the defence side by forcing the PW-3 as well as his brothers and other witnesses too, file an affidavit in the instant case denying the story of the prosecution.

28. In his deposition, PW-3 has categorically admitted that the aforesaid affidavits were filed by the said witnesses under the pressure created by the defense side to settle the dispute on 25.03.1987. Subsequently, on 13.04.1987 the PW-3 has categorically supported the prosecution case. However, again it appears that there is an attempt by the defence side to win over this witness and in further cross-examination the PW-3 has deposed that he later on learned that the prosecution story as narrated by his wife was false and there was some dispute with regard to cutting of grass between the prosecutrix as well as the accused persons. Thus, it is nothing but pressure created by the defense which has forced the PW-3 who had tried to dilute the prosecution case. However, so far as the deposition of the PW-1 is concerned, that is uncontroverted and fully reliable and the first part of the statement of PW-3 also supports and corroborates the statement of PW-1. However, later on as has been apparent from the record that under the pressure created by the defence side he had tried to dilute the story of the prosecution, though unsuccessfully as in the course a query made by the court he has categorically admitted that the statement which he has recorded on 13.04.1987 is a true statement. In the cases of rape, ordinarily there is no direct evidence except that of the prosecutrix. In catena of judgments, the Apex Court has held that the conviction in the cases of rape can be upheld if the deposition of the prosecutrix is uncontroverted and inspires the confidence of the court.

29. In the instant case, there is nothing on record which can create any shadow of doubt on the statement made by the prosecutrix, which has given each and every minute detail with regard to the incident as has been committed by the accused persons, which inspires the confidence of the court. In such circumstances, this Court does not find any illegality in the conviction and sentence awarded to the appellants herein. Accordingly, the instant appeal fails and is dismissed.

30. Appellants have already been apprehended in terms of the last order passed by this Court issuing non-bailable warrants against the appellants and are stated to be confined in jail from 17th January 2026. Let them undergo the remaining part of the sentence in accordance with law.

31. The original Trial Court record along with the copy of the instant judgment be sent back to the trial court to be consigned.

(2026) 2 ILRA 987
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 05.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE RAJESH SINGH CHAUHAN, J.
THE HON'BLE PRAMOD KUMAR SRIVASTAVA, J.

Criminal Appeal No. 1079 of 2016
Alongwith other cases

Anil ...Appellant
Versus
State Of U.P. ...Respondent

Issue for Consideration

Matter pertains to "whether the trial court has erred in its compliance with S. 313 of the CrPC during the trial procedure." (Para 19)

Headnotes

Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 - S. 313 - Examination of the accused - Non-compliance - Effect of failure to put material incriminating circumstances to the accused - It is the duty of the trial court to put each material circumstance appearing in the evidence against the accused specifically, distinctively, and separately. (Para 23)

Fair Trial - Constitutional Guarantee - A fair trial is a guarantee under Article 21 of the Constitution of India, requiring the accused be given an opportunity to dispel prosecution claims in their own words. (Para 20)

Criminal Trial - S. 313 Cr.P.C. - Non-compliance - "primary contention rests on non-compliance with S. 313 of the CrPC." (Para 19)

Object of S. 313 Cr.P.C. - "to put all incriminating evidence to the accused so as to provide him an opportunity to explain such incriminating circumstances" (Para 22)
Effect of non-compliance - "failure to put material circumstances to the accused amounts to a serious irregularity." (Para 23.4)
Prejudice to accused - "Any circumstance not put to the accused cannot be used against him." (Para 25)
Present case - Omission by Trial Court - "failed to put specific and material incriminating circumstances to the accused" (Para 30)
Conviction based on unput circumstances - "resulted in prejudice to the appellants." (Para 32)
Indian Evidence Act,1872 - S.106 - Applicability - "can arise only after the prosecution discharges its primary burden" (Para 33)
Remedy - Remand - "the same is curable remanding the matter to the trial court" (Para 34)
Held: All the accused persons were asked general questions omnibus denial - cannot be expected to make any statement of defense against the grounds they are unaware of - trial court failed to put specific and material incriminating circumstances particularly: (i) administration of poison (ii) post-mortem finding of ligature mark - mandatory for the trial court to confront the accused - relied upon the aforesaid circumstances to record conviction resulted in prejudice - burden on the accused can arise only after the prosecution discharges its primary burden - defect curable remanding the matter to the trial court - judgment and order are set aside - Directions:

- "Record fresh statements specifically putting all incriminating circumstances"
- "Afforded an opportunity to lead defence evidence"
- "Decide the matter afresh in accordance with law" (Para 29 - 36) (E-7)

Case Law Cited

State of Orissa v. Babaji Charan Mohanti (2003) 10 SCC 57; Nagendra Shah v. State of Bihar (2021) 10 SCC 725; Anil v. State of U.P., 2022 SCC OnLine All 812; Indira Kunwar v. State of Chhattisgarh, 2023 SCC OnLine SC 1364; Nababuddin @ Mallu @ Abhimanyu v. State of Haryana, 2023 SCC OnLine SC 1534; Sujit Biswas v. State of Assam, (2013) 12 SCC 406; Maheshwar Tigga v. State of Jharkhand, (2020) 10 SCC 108; Sanatan Naskar v. State of W.B (2010) 8 SCC 249; Raj Kumar v. State (NCT of Delhi), (2023) 17 SCC 95; Aejaz Ahmad Sheikh v. State of U.P., 2025 SCC OnLine SC 913; Sovaran Singh Prajapati v State of U.P 2025 SCC OnLine SC 351; Zahira Habibullah Sheikh v State of Gujarat (2006) 3 SCC 374.

List of Acts

Indian Penal Code,1860; Code of Criminal Procedure,1973; Indian Evidence Act,1872; Dowry Prohibition Act,1961; Constitution of India

List of Keywords

fair trial; S. 313 CrPC; incriminating circumstances; prejudice; circumstantial evidence; ligature mark; poisoning; burden of proof; remand; trial court; compliance; Article 21; defence opportunity; evidence; irregularity.

Case Arising From

APPELLATE JURISDICTION: Appeal against "judgment and order dated 08.09.2015 passed by the learned Additional Sessions Judge, Ambedkar Nagar, in Sessions Trial No. 179/2008"

Appearances for Parties

Advs. for the Appellant:
Shri Anand Dubey
Advs. for the Respondents:
Shri Vijay Prakash Dwivedi, learned AGA

(Delivered by Hon'ble Pramod Kumar Srivastava, J.)

1. Heard, Shri Anand Dubey, learned counsel for the appellant, and Shri Vijay Prakash Dwivedi, learned AGA for the State.

2. The present criminal appeal has been preferred against the judgment and order dated 08.09.2015 passed by the learned Additional Sessions Judge, Ambedkar Nagar, in Sessions Trial No. 179/2008, State Versus Anil & others, whereby the appellants namely Anil, Nand Lal, Govardhan, Gena, and Sheela were convicted under Sections 302/34 of the Indian Penal Code and sentenced to rigorous imprisonment for life and a fine of ₹50,000; in default of payment of the fine, they are to undergo a further six months' imprisonment. Additionally, under Sections 201/34 of the Indian Penal Code, they were sentenced to five years' rigorous imprisonment and a fine of ₹10,000, and in default of payment of the fine, to further undergo three months' rigorous imprisonment, with all sentences running concurrently.

FACTUAL MATRIX

3. The prosecution case, in brief, is that the deceased Bhuila @ Sushila wife of appellant-accused Anil, died an unnatural death inside her matrimonial home. She was married about ten years prior to her death (aged 21 at the time of death) to the accused and a year before her death, her Gauna ceremony was performed by her parents. Allegedly during the Gauna ceremony the appellants accused Anil, Nand Lal and Govardhan had demanded Hero Honda motorcycle and had refused to perform the ceremony but the informant Ram Rajbhar, father of the deceased requested the accused persons and somehow completed the vidai ceremony. When the deceased used to visit her paternal home, she had informed her parents of the cruelty and dowry demand meted to her however her parents would console her and send her back to her matrimonial home. On 11.06. 2008, the informant was informed by telephone that his daughter was killed by the accused persons Anil- husband of the deceased, Nand Lal- brother in law of the deceased, Govardhan- brother in law of the deceased, Gena- mother in law of the deceased and Sheela- sister in law of the deceased by strangulating her. When the informant and his wife along with their son reached the place of incident, the dead body of the deceased was lying on the cot. The inquest of the deceased was done on 11.06.2008 at 10:30 A.M. and the same concluded on 12:30 P.M. According to the inquest report, no injury mark was observed except a mark on the neck of the deceased. According to the opinion of the panch, the deceased was killed by the accused persons for demand of dowry. The post mortem of the deceased was done on 11.06.2008 at about 4:00 P.M. According to the post mortem report in the internal examination a red contusion mark was observed on the side of the left eye and a post mortem horizontal ligature mark was observed on the neck of the deceased but thyroid bone and trachea were found intact. No definite opinion regarding death was given and viscera was preserved.

4. On the basis of the evidence collected by the Investigating Officer (here-in-after referred as IO) and the complaint of the informant a charge-sheet was filed under sections 498A/304B Indian Penal Code & 3/4 Dowry Prohibition Act. On 01.10.2008, the learned trial court proceeded to frame charges against the accused under section 302/201. At the trial stage, prosecution produced six witnesses to prove its case namely PW1- Shri Ram Rajbhar (father of the deceased), PW2-

Sumitra (mother of the deceased), PW3 Krishan Kumar Singh, PW4 Ram Krishan Magan, PW5 Dr. Vijay Tiwari, and PW6- CM. Virendra Kumar Gautam. The defence produced one witness namely DW1 Chaituram.

5. PW1 deposed before the trial court that the accused persons have killed the deceased on the pretext of not getting motorcycle as dowry however in his cross examination, he has stated that no demand for dowry was made by the accused persons and further stated that he does not remember that Nand Lal came to his house to give information regarding the death of the deceased. He further stated that when he reached the place of incident the police of P.S. Sammanpur, Akbarpur and accused persons were present there.

6. PW2 deposed that for demand of motorcycle her daughter was killed by the accused persons. When she reached the place of incident, she saw vomit under the cot, which had not been cleaned, and the deceased's body was soiled with faeces. In her Cross examination she admitted the fact that Nand Lal has a motorcycle and at the time of marriage no demand of dowry was made.

7. PW-3 stated that the Panchnama of deceased was made in his presence. In his cross examination he stated that except an injury mark on the neck of the deceased no other injury was seen by him.

8. PW-4 before the trial court stated that the reason for death of the deceased was illicit relationship and she had been married for about 10-15 years as such, he amended charges to section-302/201 I.P.C. In his cross examination he stated that he did not get any evidence to the effect that the accused persons were demanding motorcycle as a dowry. He further said that the deceased had illicit relationship with someone in her parental home and this fact was told by the family members of the deceased. He further stated that the informant has not given any statement that the deceased was beaten by the accused persons prior to her death.

9. Dr. Vijay Tiwari was examined as PW-5 before the trial court, stated that a ligature mark around the neck 25 x1 C.M. was found. A contusion mark was also found on the left eye of the deceased. He further stated that the hyoid bone was not fractured and the injury on the neck was post-mortem as such the cause of death could not be ascertained and viscera was preserved. In his cross examination, he stated that the contusion on the left eye was near the eyebrow and the same may be caused while falling on some hard object. He further stated that the death had not been caused due to any injury and the marks on the neck could not come without strangulation. The Constable Virendra Kumar Gautam was examined as PW-6 before the trial court and he proved chik FIR.

10. After the conclusion of the prosecution witnesses' testimony, the statements of the accused persons under Section 313 of the Cr.P.C. were recorded. The main question put to all the accused was whether, on June 11, 2008, at approximately 06:00 A.M., they had strangulated the deceased with a rope, thereby causing her death, and subsequently attempted to hide the body.

11. The defence produced Chaitu Ram as DW-1. He stated before the trial court that the incident took place seven years ago in the month of June. He testified that Anil Kumar and Gena reside in front of his house and that, at the time of the deceased's death, they had gone to the fields for the weeding of peppermint. He further stated that appellant Nand Lal has resided in Machhali Gaon for the last twenty years and appellant Govardhan has resided in Kurri for eight years with his family; both Nand Lal and Govardhan have lived separately from appellants Anil and Gena for several years.

12. After appreciating the evidence on record, the Trial Court proceeded to convict the accused persons under Sections 302/34 and 201/34 on the basis of circumstantial evidence, including medical evidence indicating alleged poisoning and the presence of a ligature mark on the neck of the deceased. Aggrieved thereby, the appellants have preferred the present appeal.

SUBMISSIONS OF PARTIES

13. The learned counsel for the appellant argued that no evidence regarding the demand for dowry was found and, accordingly, no charges under Sections 3/4 of the Dowry Prohibition Act were framed. It was contended that PW-1 and PW-2 had lied about the demand for dowry in order to add gravity to the prosecution's case. The prosecution has failed to prove the motive of the accused. In support of this submission, the counsel referred to the judgment in State of Orissa v. Babaji Charan Mohanti and Another (2003) 10 SCC 57.

14. The learned counsel for the appellant has argued that PW 1 has deliberately concealed the fact that appellant Nand Lal had gone to the house of PW 1 to inform him regarding the death of the deceased so as to show the conduct of the appellants as doubtful. Whereas also no allegation has been levelled by the prosecution witnesses regarding the hiding of the body by the accused persons.

15. The learned counsel for the appellant argued that the learned Trial Court wrongly applied Section 106 of the Indian Evidence Act to convict the appellant. The Apex Court, in Nagendra Shah v. State of Bihar (2021) 10 SCC 725, held that Section 106 of the Indian Evidence Act applies to cases where the prosecution has succeeded in establishing facts from which a reasonable inference can be drawn regarding the existence of certain other facts within the exclusive knowledge of the accused. The Apex Court further held that an accused cannot be convicted solely on the basis of an autopsy report. In this regard, the learned counsel for the appellant also cited the judgment in Anil v. State of U.P., 2022 SCC OnLine All 812.

16. It was further argued that the Trial Court did not put any questions to the appellant under Section 313 of the Code of Criminal Procedure regarding the administration of poison to the deceased, nor regarding the ligature marks on her neck. Once such questions are not put to the appellants, it cannot be expected to them to provide an explanation or a defense regarding such facts of the case. In support of his argument, the learned counsel cited the following cases: Indira Kunwar v. State of Chhattisgarh, 2023 SCC OnLine SC 1364; Nababuddin @ Mallu @ Abhimanyu v. State of Haryana, 2023 SCC OnLine SC 1534; Sujit Biswas v. State of Assam, (2013) 12 SCC 406; and Maheshwar Tigga v. State of Jharkhand, (2020) 10 SCC 108.

17. It was further argued that the learned trial court convicted the appellants Nand Lal, Govardhan, and Sheela, despite the fact that they lived separately from the deceased.

18. The counsel for the respondent submitted that the trial court's judgment is a reasoned one and that no prejudice has been caused to the appellants. All incriminating material was put forth to the accused-appellants during their examination in compliance with Section 313 of the CrPC.

ANALYSIS

19. We have considered the submissions. A perusal of the appeal reveals that, among other grounds, the primary contention rests on non-compliance with Section 313 of the CrPC. At this stage, it would not be appropriate to deliberate upon the conviction and sentence of the appellants on merits. The only question that falls for our consideration is whether the trial court has erred in its compliance with Section 313 of the CrPC during the trial procedure.

20. A fair trial is a guarantee under Article 21 of the Constitution of India. One of the non-negotiable requirements of a fair trial is the opportunity given to the accused to be heard and to prove his innocence by dispelling the claims of the prosecution raised against him, on his own and in his own words.

21. In reference to the non-compliance with Section 313 of the CrPC, the law is clear; there is a catena of judgments, apart from the ones relied upon by the appellants, that has deliberated on this issue. Even so, we may refer to certain pronouncements for the sake of completeness.

22. In Sanatan Naskar v. State of W.B (2010) 8 SCC 249, the Apex Court, regarding the scope of the examination under Section 313 CrPC follows:

"21. The answers by an accused under Section 313 CrPC are of relevance for finding out the truth and examining the veracity of the case of the prosecution. The scope of Section 313 CrPC is wide and is not a mere formality. ... 22. As already noticed, the object of recording the statement of the accused under Section 313 CrPC is to put all incriminating evidence to the accused so as to provide him an opportunity to explain such incriminating circumstances appearing against him in the evidence of the prosecution. At the same time, also permit him to put forward his own version or reasons, if he so chooses, in relation to his involvement or otherwise in the crime. The court has been empowered to examine the accused but only after the prosecution evidence has been concluded. It is a mandatory obligation upon the court and, besides ensuring the compliance therewith, the court has to keep in mind that the accused gets a fair chance to explain his conduct. The option lies with the accused to maintain silence coupled with simpliciter denial or, in the alternative, to explain his version and reasons for his alleged involvement in the commission of crime. This is the statement which the accused makes without fear or right of the other party to cross-examine him. However, if the statements made are false, the court is entitled to draw adverse inferences and pass consequential orders as may be called for in accordance with law. The primary purpose is to establish a direct dialogue between the court and the accused and to put every important incriminating piece of evidence to the accused and grant him an opportunity to answer and explain. ..."

23. In Raj Kumar v. State (NCT of Delhi), (2023) 17 SCC 95, as subsequently approved by a three-judge Bench in Aejaz Ahmad Sheikh v. State of U.P. and Another, 2025 SCC OnLine SC 913, the Apex Court laid down the following factors:

"22. The law consistently laid down by this Court can be summarised as under:

22.1. It is the duty of the trial court to put each material circumstance appearing in the evidence against the accused specifically, distinctively and separately. The material circumstance means the circumstance or the material on the basis of which the prosecution is seeking his conviction.

22.2. The object of examination of the accused under Section 313 is to enable the accused to explain any circumstance appearing against him in the evidence.

22.3. The Court must ordinarily eschew material circumstances not put to the accused from consideration while dealing with the case of the particular accused.

22.4. The failure to put material circumstances to the accused amounts to a serious irregularity. It will vitiate the trial if it is shown to have prejudiced the accused.

22.5. If any irregularity in putting the material circumstance to the accused does not result in failure of justice, it becomes a curable defect. However, while deciding whether the defect can be cured, one of the considerations will be the passage of time from the date of the incident.

22.6. In case such irregularity is curable, even the appellate court can question the accused on the material circumstance which is not put to him.

22.7. In a given case, the case can be remanded to the trial court from the stage of recording the supplementary statement of the accused concerned under Section 313 CrPC.

22.8. While deciding the question whether prejudice has been caused to the accused because of the omission, the delay in raising the contention is only one of the several factors to be considered."

24. In the recent case of Sovaran Singh Prajapati v State of U.P 2025 SCC OnLine SC 351 the Supreme Court has while summing up the law laid down in the case of Zahira Habibullah Sheikh v State of Gujurat 2006 3 SCC 374 laid down the following

"30.1 A perusal and consideration of the aforesaid decisions reveal the following principles as governing the application of Section 311 Cr.P.C. :

(a) The Section is divided into two parts, the first being directory with the use of the word 'may' and the latter being mandatory with the use of the word 'shall'.

(b) The power of the Court is couched in the widest terms possible with no express limitation thereon.

(c) The exercise of such power is not only the prerogative but also the duty of the Court, in connection with a witness who may be considered absolutely necessary, in the interest of justice.

(d) This power is to be used both for the benefit of the prosecution and the defence. To summon a witness because it serves the case of one of the parties and not the other, would be improper.

(e) This power can be exercised at any stage of proceedings, i.e. enquiry, trial or any other.

(f) Power is to be exercised judiciously since wider the power, greater the requirement of the application of a judicial mind.

(g) If a witness so-called under this power, gives evidence against the complainant, the latter should be given an opportunity to crossexamination. This power arises not under Section 311 but under the Indian Evidence Act, 1872.

(h) A witness cannot be recalled by the use of this power to simply fill up a lacuna in the case of the prosecution"

25. The object of Section 313 Cr.P.C. is to enable the accused to explain any circumstance appearing in the evidence against him and to ensure compliance with the principle of natural justice (audi alteram partem). Any circumstance not put to the accused cannot be used against him.

26. The Hon'ble Supreme Court has consistently held that failure to put material incriminating circumstances to the accused amounts to a serious irregularity and causes prejudice, particularly in cases based on circumstantial evidence.

27. Having duly considered the position of law and principles as above, on a careful scrutiny of the record, we may now examine the statements of the appellants recorded under section 313 CrPC. The statements recorded under section 313 of the accused persons is as below:

Appellant no. 1

Name - Anil Kumar Age - 26 years Father's name - Late Bhagirathi

1. Question - According to the prosecution story, on 11.06.2008 at around 6:00 AM at village Tandwa Gopalpur, Police Station Sammanpur, District Ambedkar Nagar, you, along with other co-accused, murdered the complainant's daughter, Bhuila @ Sushila, who was married to the accused Anil, by strangling her with a rope, and after committing the murder, you concealed the deceased's body with the intention of destroying evidence. What do you have to say in this regard?

Answer - This is false.

2. Question - You have heard the statement of prosecution witness PW-1 Shriram Rajbhar, who has proved the complaint Exhibit K-1 and his signature on the inquest report Exhibit K-2. What do you have to say in this regard?

Answer - He has falsely testified.

3. Question - Have you heard the statement of witness PW-2 Sumitra? What do you have to say in this regard?

Answer - She has given false testimony due to enmity.

4. Question - Have you heard the statement of witness PW-3 Krishna Kumar Singh, Naib Tehsildar, who has proved police documents Exhibit K-3 to Exhibit K-6?

Answer - He is a formal witness. He has given false evidence.

5. Question - Have you heard the statement of witness PW-4 Ram Krishna Magan, who has proved the site plan Exhibit K-7 and the charge sheet Exhibit K-8?

Answer - He is a formal witness. He has falsely testified.

6. Question - Have you heard the statement of witness P.W. 5 Dr. Vijay Tiwari, who conducted the post-mortem examination of the deceased Sushila @ Bhuila, whose post-mortem report has been proved as Exhibit K-9? What do you have to say in this regard?

Answer - I don't know.

7. Question - Have you heard the statement of witness P.W. 6 Constable No. 582 Virendra Kumar, who has certified the carbon copy of the Chik GD report No. 10, which is in the handwriting and bears the signature of Constable Jamuna Prasad, as Exhibit K-11? What do you have to say in this regard?

Answer - I don't know.

8. Question - Have you heard the statement of witness P.W. 6 Inspector Ram Kumar Chaudhary, who has proved the charge sheet Exhibit K-6 and the site plan of the incident Exhibit K-7? What do you have to say in this regard?

Answer - He is a formal witness. He has given a false statement.

9. Question - Why did the above witnesses give their testimonies? What do you have to say in this regard?

Answer - Due to enmity.

10. Question - Why was this case filed against you?

Answer - Due to enmity.

11. Question - Do you want to produce any defense evidence?

Answer - Yes.

12. Question - Do you have anything else to say in your defense?

Answer - The deceased had an illicit relationship with someone in her village, due to which she wanted to stay at her parents' house. Even before this, she had consumed poison at her parents' house before her Gauna ceremony. The complainants forcibly sent her with the appellant, and being upset by this, she committed suicide. The complainants have falsely implicated me under pressure from the patidar.

28. The appellant no. 2 Nandlal, appellant no. 3 Govardhan, appellant no. 4 Gena Devi and appellant no. 5 Sheela have been asked the same questions as appellant no. 1 Anil to which their replies are identical except question 12, which has been answered by the appellants as follows:

Appellant no. 2

Name - Nandlal Age - 38 years Father's name - Late Bhagirathi

12. Question - Do you have anything else to say in your defence?

Answer - I have been living in Sammanpur market with my wife in a house I built since 1994. When I went to the complainant's house after receiving information about the incident, I was beaten up. My motorcycle was snatched away. I have been falsely implicated because I am the brother-in-law of the deceased.

Appellant no. 3

Name - Govardhan Age - 45 years Father's name - Late Bhagirathi

12. Question - Do you have anything else to say in your defense?

Answer - I had been living separately from my parents in my own house for 8 years before the incident. I have no connection with the incident. He was falsely implicated simply because he was the eldest brother.

Appellant no. 4

Name - Gena Devi Age - 70 years Husband's name - Late Bhagirathi

12. Question - Do you have anything else to say in your defense?

Answer - Both my elder sons lived separately. I lived with the deceased. The deceased committed suicide herself. I sent the information to her parents' house through my son Nandlal. Upon receiving the information, her family members came to our house and, instigated by our relatives, falsely implicated me because I was her mother-in-law.

Appellant no. 5

Name - Sheela, Age - 43 years, Husband's name ' Govardhan

12. Question - Do you have anything else to say in your defense?

Answer - I have been living separately from my in-laws for 8 years before the incident. I have been falsely implicated because I am the sister-in-law.

29. The statements extracted above reveal that all the accused persons were asked general questions and all appellants have given an omnibus denial to allegations made against them in the questions put forth by the learned trial court. Question no. 12 where all the appellants have been asked to speak anything in their defense, all have given their respective statements. However in reference to the grounds that were undertaken by the prosecution for the conviction of the appellants no questions have been put forth. In reference to question no. 12 all the appellants cannot be expected to make any statement of defense against the grounds they are unaware of.

30. Therefore, It is evident that the learned trial court failed to put specific and material incriminating circumstances to the accused, particularly:

i. The allegation relating to administration of poison to the deceased; and

ii. The post-mortem finding of ligature mark on the neck of the deceased.

31. These circumstances form the foundation of the prosecution case. Once the prosecution relied upon them to establish homicidal death, it was mandatory for the trial court to confront the accused with the same while recording their statements under Section 313 Cr.P.C.

32. In the present case, despite the omission, the learned trial court relied upon the aforesaid circumstances to record conviction, which has resulted in prejudice to the appellants.

33. Though the prosecution sought to rely upon Section 106 of the Indian Evidence Act on the ground that the incident occurred inside the house, such burden on the accused can arise only after the prosecution discharges its primary burden and the incriminating circumstances are properly put to the accused under Section 313 Cr.P.C.

34. Considering the nature of the defect, this Court is of the view that the same is curable and the ends of justice would be served by remanding the matter to the trial court for compliance of Section 313 Cr.P.C.

35. Accordingly, the appeals are allowed to the limited extent indicated herein. The judgment and order dated 08.09.2015 passed by the learned trial court are set aside.

36. The matter is remanded back to the Trial Court with the following directions:

i. The Trial Court shall record fresh statements of the accused under Section 313 Cr.P.C., specifically putting all incriminating circumstances appearing in the evidence, including those relating to alleged poisoning and post-mortem ligature mark.

ii. The accused shall be afforded an opportunity to lead defence evidence, if they so choose.

iii. Thereafter, the trial court shall decide the matter afresh in accordance with law, uninfluenced by the earlier judgment.

37. Considering the pendency of the appeals, we direct the concerned trial court to expedite the proceedings and do the needful within three months from the date of communication of this judgment. The appellants namely Anil- the present appellant, Nand Lal- appellant in Criminal Appeal No.1388 of 2015, Govardhan- appellant in Criminal Appeal No.1384 of 2015, Gena- appellant in Criminal Appeal No.439 of 2016 and Smt. Sheela- appellant in Criminal Appeal No.1121 of 2015 be released on bail unless they are required to be detained in connection with any other case and they will appear before the trial court in person and will participate in the proceedings on the date fixed by the trial court, failing which the trial court shall be at liberty to cancel their bail and take them into custody.

(2026) 2 ILRA 998
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 18.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SIDDHARTHA VARMA, J.
THE HON'BLE PRASHANT MISHRA-I, J.

Criminal Appeal No. 1188 of 1989

Khunni Lal ...Appellant
Versus
State ...Respondent

Issue for consideration

Matter pertains to principal of Parity in case of more than one accused.

Headnotes

Indian Penal Code, 1860 - Sec. 302 and 34- Murder -Conviction of one accused and acquittal of two others on same set of evidence -sustainability prosecution witnesses giving contrary versions- prominent eye-witnesses not examined- reason for their non-examination not explained, and F.I.R. rendered suspicious-Held, when there is similar or identical evidence of eye-witnesses against accused persons by assigning same or similar role-court cannot convict one accused and acquit the other- both accused will be governed by principles of parity -suspicion cannot at all take place of proof-Judgment and order of conviction suffers from infirmity - set aside- Appeal allowed. (E-9)

Case Law Cited

1. Javed Shaukat Ali Qureshi vs. State of Gujarat, (2023) 9 SCC 164
2. Ram Singh vs. State of Uttar Pradesh, (2024) 4 SCC 208

List of Acts

The Indian Penal Code, 1860

List of Keywords

Principles of parity; two accused; similar role; same set of evidence

Appearances of parties

Counsel for Appellant(s) : Amar Saran, Sikandar B Kochar Counsel for Respondent(s) : G.A.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Prashant Mishra-I, J.)

1. Heard Mr. Sikandar B Kochar, learned counsel for the appellant, Mr. Amit Sinha, learned Additional Government Advocate representing the State and perused the materials on record.

2. The instant criminal appeal has been preferred by appellant, namely, Khunni Lal, against the judgment and order dated 17.05.1989 passed by learned Additional District and Sessions Judge, Kannauj, Farrukhabad in Sessions Trial No. 219 of 1987, arising out of Case Crime No. 56 of 1987, under Section 302 I.P.C., Police Station Thathiya Sub-District Kannauj, District Farrukhabad, whereby the appellant has been convicted and sentenced to imprisonment for life, under Section 302 I.P.C.

3. As per the prosecution case, in brief, the accused persons, namely, Khunni Lal, Bhagwan Din and Jagdish belong to the family of complainant Ram Singh and they are co-sharers of half of the house and land of the complainant. Accused Khunni Lal is a Lekhpal and Bhagwan Din is an inspector in the canal department in district Kanpur. The accused persons built their house by encroaching the land of the complainant. On 09.05.1987, at around 6 PM, when the accused persons were cutting the eastern platform (chabutra) of the complainant, his father objected, then the accused persons started abusing. At the same time, the complainant's younger brother Mauji Lal also reached there. He also objected and brought his father to his doorstep and the villagers pacified them. After an hour, at around 7 pm, accused Khunni Lal armed with a big knife, Bhagwan Din armed with a pistol and Jagdish armed with a spear arrived there. At that time, informant's brother, Mauji Lal, was smoking outside the shed. Complainant ran and grabbed Jagdish's spear. At that very moment, Bhagwan Din and Jagdish grabbed both the hands of Mauji Lal, and Khunni Lal stabbed Mauji Lal in the left side of his neck. Mauji lal died on the spot. Complainant, his brother Bechelal, his father Keshari Lal, Mauji Lal's wife, Chhammi Lal, and other villagers witnessed the said incident. The accused persons fled away with knife and pistol extending fire shots. Report of the said incident got lodged on the next day.

4. The police conducted panchayatnama of the body of the deceased and seized a broken spade and blood-soaked soil from the place of occurrence. After the investigation, a charge sheet was submitted against the aforesaid accused persons.

5. The accused persons, namely, Khunni Lal, Bhagwan Din and Jagdish were charged with commission of offence under Section 302/34 I.P.C. They denied the charges and sought trial.

6. To prove the prosecution case, the prosecution examined PW-1 Ram Singh, PW-2 Chhammi Lal, PW-3 Bhagwati, PW-4 Head Constable Dinesh Pal Singh, PW-5 Dr. V.K. Bhatiya, PW-6 Rajendra Singh Solanki (S.I., investigating officer).

7. Statements of the accused persons were recorded under Section 313 Cr.P.C., wherein they claimed their innocence and said that they have been falsely implicated in this case. The accused persons furnished two defence witnesses in defence.

8. In documentary evidence, written report (exhibit-Ka.1), F.I.R. (exhibit-Ka.2), chick copy (exhibit-Ka.3), postmortem report (exhibit-Ka.4), site plan (exhibit-Ka.5), site plan (exhibit-Ka.6), panchayatnama (exhibit-Ka.7), arakshi receipt (exhibit-Ka.8) photo nash (exhibit-Ka.9), police station report (exhibit-Ka.10), police station report (exhibit-Ka.11), letter to CMO (exhibit-Ka.12), recovery memo of plain soil (exhibit-Ka.13), recovery memo of blood stained soil (exhibit-Ka.14), recovery memo of blood stained 'tehmad' (exhibit-Ka.15), recovery memo of Javelin etc. (exhibit-Ka.16), charge-sheet '*mool'(*exhibit-Ka.17) were filed.

9. Application to Superintendent of Police (exhibit-Kha.1), Telegram (Taar) to S.S.P (exhibit-Kha.2), copy of Telegram (Taar) (exhibit-Kha.3) and copy of Telegram (Taar) (exhibit-Kha.4) produced and proved by DW-1.

10. The trial court after considering the evidence on record acquitted the co-accused, namely Bhagwan Din and Jagdish and convicted and sentenced the appellant-Khunni Lal as aforesaid.

11. Learned counsel for the appellant argued that there is manipulation of date in the F.I.R., it appears that figure '10' has been manipulated as '11' that goes to create doubt. The prominent witnesses Bechelal and Kesari Lal, who are allegedly the eye-witnesses of the incident have not been examined by the prosecution. One more witness-Jalil was also not examined. The testimony of PW-1, Ram Singh is contrary to the F.I.R., which was lodged by him only. PW-1 has specifically denied that he did not see the appellant assaulting Mauji Lal with a knife because it was dark in the night. He has also stated that Chhammi Lal and other people came there after the incident, whereas in the F.I.R., he states that Khunni Lal assaulted his brother with a knife on the left side of the neck. Bhagwan Din had country made pistol (tamancha) and Jagdish was having spear in his hand at the time of incident. He states that he rapidly caught hold of the spear which was in the hand of Jagdish and in such act the spear broke down. So this version in the F.I.R. is absolutely contrary to the testimony of PW-1 recorded in the learned trial court. PW-3 Bhagwati Devi who is the wife of the deceased Mauji Lal also deposed as if she was the eye-witness of the incident, but during the course of evidence, she has admitted that when her husband raised alarm, she could not come out from the thatched hut. Learned trial court has committed gross mistake in acquitting two accused persons and convicting the appellant on the same set of evidence led before the trial court. The interpolation in the F.I.R. also shows that F.I.R. was lodged as a result of afterthought due to some enmity. It was also argued that there was no F.I.R. in existence at 9:30 P.M. The written report, inquest etc. were prepared next morning at the police station. The inquest shows to be conducted on 10.05.1987. This also creates doubt on the version as regards the alleged incident. Hence the appeal deserves to be allowed.

12. On the other hand, learned A.G.A. for the State vehemently opposed the argument of the learned counsel for the appellant and stated that the appellant with his brother Bhagwan Din and nephew Jagdish were having dispute with the informant and his family members regarding construction of Chabutra. On 09.05.1987, at about 6:00 P.M., father of the informant opposed the appellant from constructing the Chabutra then the appellant started hurling abuse. At the same time, the brother of informant-Mauji Lal (deceased) reached there and objected the appellant and they brought their father to the house of Mauji Lal. After an hour at about 7 P.M., appellant-Khunni Lal armed with knife, Bhagwan Din with a country made pistol and Jagdish with spear came there and assaulted Mauji Lal. Bhagwan Din and Jagdish caught hold of Mauji Lal and Khunni Lal, assaulted with his knife on the neck. Mauji Lal sustained fatal injuries which resulted in his death. The eye-witness account to the incident has clearly corroborated the incident. Postmortem report of the deceased also shows that he sustained incised wound on the left side of the neck and contusions on the chest and right shoulder. The learned trial court while evaluating the evidence on record found accused-Khunni Lal guilty and convicted him. On the other hand, it was found that co-accused Bhagwan Din and Jagdish were innocent, hence they were acquitted of charges. Therefore, no interference is required by this Court and appeal deserves to be dismissed.

13. After hearing the rival submissions and going through the materials on record, we find that PW-1, Ram Singh is the informant of the case who has lodged the F.I.R. against Khunni Lal, Bhagwan Din and Jagdish, as per the prosecution case stated above. PW-1, Ram Singh, in his testimony recorded before the trial court specifically stated that at around 6:00 P.M. in the evening he was present in his house, all the three accused persons were constructing their house by cutting down his Chabutra. His father Keshari objected to this. The accused persons started abusing him. When PW-1 reached there, Mauji Lal and Beche Lal also came. All of them tried to stop the accused persons from abusing his father Keshari Lal. All of them escorted his father to the house of Mauji Lal. Ram Singh along with his father and two real brothers, namely, Mauji Lal and Beche Lal were sitting at Mauji Lal's house where at about 7 P.M., Jagdish armed with spear, Khunni Lal armed with a knife and Bhagwan Din with a country made pistol arrived there. Accused persons tried to attack Mauji Lal when PW-1 caught hold of the spear in the hand of Jagdish which broke down. Soon after Bhagwan Din and Jagdish caught hold of Mauji Lal, and Khunni Lal assaulted Mauji Lal on the left side of his neck. Mauji Lal fell down and died. He has also specifically stated that he along with Beche Lal, Ganga Ram and Jalil along with Keshari saw the whole incident. This witness has given specific role of assault to Khunni Lal, assigned the role of firing to Bhagwan Din in his examination-in-chief. He also stated that he dictated the written report to one Putti Lal and has proved the written report (exhibit-Ka-1). Role of catching hold has been assigned to other co-accused jagdish.

14. It is pertinent to mention here that the scribe of the F.I.R. Putti Lal has not been examined by the prosecution or else he had deposed that whatever Ram Singh stated, he reduced it in writing and then was read over to him.

15. Next besides PW-1 Ram Singh, his father Keshari Lal, Beche Lal, Ganga Ram and Jalil also witnessed the incident as per testimony on oath recorded before the learned trial court, but Beche Lal, Ganga Ram, Jalil and Keshari were not examined by the prosecution and the reason of their non-examination has not been explained.

16. On the other hand in his cross-examination PW-1 Ram Singh on page No. 3 has stated very clearly that he could not see assaulting with knife because it was dark of night. At one place in his statement he clearly says that he saw the incident and in his cross-examination he denies that because it was dark of night he could not see the assault with knife.

17. The prominent witnesses, who have been named as eye-witnesses to the incident, namely, Beche Lal, Ganga Ram, Jalil and Keshari, have not been examined. The reason of their non-examination is best known to the prosecution. Another most important fact relating to incident is that on page No. 4 of the cross-examination, PW-1 has stated that he could not see Khunni Lal at the place of occurrence as it was dark in the night. These two versions of the witness are altogether contrary. It has also been said that he along with Beche Lal went to the police station. Beche Lal is said to accompany him from place of occurrence to the police station, but he has not been examined. On page No. 5 of the cross-examination this fact has been reiterated by the witness PW-1 that he did not see Khunni Lal assaulting with knife or Bhagwan Din and Jagdish catching hold of Mauji Lal. Next he also says that earlier he had a scuffle with the accused persons and therefore, he opined that the incident might have been caused by them. Opinion of a witness is of no value as it is not based on credible piece of evidence.

18. Another eye-witness again who had been examined by the prosecution is PW-2 Chhammi Lal and PW-3 Bhagwati Devi. Chhammi Lal is an eye-witness to the incident as per the F.I.R. lodged by the complainant PW-1 Ram Singh. PW-2 has also stated the same story as has been stated by the complainant of the case, PW-1. PW-1 has also stated that Chhammi Lal is resident of his village. PW-2 admits in his cross-examination that he borrowed Rs. 1000/- from accused Khunni Lal for purchasing a buffalo and he has denied the fact that he had a scuffle with Khunni Lal on account of interest payable on the debt. The informant has although named PW-2, Chhammi Lal as witness in the F.I.R., but in his testimony at page No. 3 he has stated that at the time of occurrence only the members of the family were present. None of resident villager was there, whereas Chhammi Lal in his statement has tried to explain the incident as if it all happened in his presence and view. Hence here also a big doubt comes into light which shadows the prosecution case.

19. PW-1 and PW-2 both have given statement before the court that on the place of occurrence Bhagwati Devi was also present. She is said to be the wife of Mauji Lal. Bhagwati Devi has been examined as PW-3. In her cross-examination, she has stated that she was sitting in a thatched hut and cleaning her house. She was inside the house when her husband raised alarm even then she did not come out from her house. She also said that when she came out of the hut she saw the accused persons running away from there after the incident. These two versions are also contrary to each other. At one point of time she was saying that she did not come out of the hut even after the alarm of the deceased-Mauji Lal her husband, and her father-in-law Keshari. How did she see the assailants running, from what distance she saw because it is very obvious that when the assailants ran away she might have seen them running from behind.

20. It is also remarkable to note that thumb impressions of exhibit Ka-1 (report), Panchayatnama and few other prosecution papers appear to be written in the same ink. Even the defence witness No. 2 (writing expert) examined before the learned trial court has deposed that the thumb impression on the report, inquest and other police papers are in the same ink. It may also indicate a situation where all these papers were prepared at one and the same time. F.I.R. is said to have been registered on 09.05.1987 at 9:30 P.M. whereas inquest conducted bears the date 10.05.1987 at 5:30 A.M. PW-3 Bhagwati Devi has also in her testimony admitted that police came there at 5:30 A.M. in the morning. Why this inquest was conducted on 10.05.1987, 5:30 A.M. also remains unexplained and makes a possibility that F.I.R. was not in existence at the time shown in it i.e. 9:30 P.M. When the witnesses depose contrary to the prosecution version and when it finds no corroboration, it goes to affect the prosecution version negatively and renders F.I.R. suspicious. Further as per PW-1 informant, earlier a scuffle took place with the accused persons and therefore, he opined that the incident might have been caused by them reflects that F.I.R. was lodged on the ground of suspicion. Suspicion cannot at all take place of proof, howsoever strong it may be.

21. In the instant case, Dr. V.K. Bhatiya-PW-5 conducted the postmortem on the body of the deceased on 11.05.1987 at 3:30 P.M. and found the following injuries:

(i) Incised wound of size 7 cm x 1.5 cm on the lateral side of the neck and back.

(ii) Contusion 9 cm x 4 cm downward the right side of the chest.

(iii) Contusion 4 cm x 2 cm upward the right shoulder.

22. In his cross-examination, PW-5 has stated that dry soil was found at certain parts of the body of the deceased. He has also opined that injury Nos. 2 and 3 may be caused by some hard and blunt object and also death might have taken place somewhere in the midnight of 09.05.1987.

23. It is true that there were injuries found on the body of the deceased, but this is not sufficient to entail conviction as prosecution owes a legal obligation to prove that those injuries found on the body of the deceased were inflicted by the accused persons and this has to be proved by the prosecution beyond all reasonable doubts, in which prosecution has not succeeded.

24. It is also noteworthy to mention here that in the instant case there were three accused persons, namely, Khunni Lal, Bhagwan Din and Jagdish. Evidence led by the prosecution witnesses defines the specific role of each of them. All the three accused persons were tried together under Section 302 read with Section 34 I.P.C. Hon'ble Apex Court, in Javed Shaukat Ali Qureshi vs. State of Gujarat, (2023) 9 SCC 164 and in Ram Singh vs. State of Uttar Pradesh, (2024) 4 SCC 208, has laid down the principle that when there is similar or identical evidence of eye-witnesses against two accused by scribing the same or similar role, the Court cannot convict one accused and acquit the other. It was also held that in such a case both the accused will be governed by the principles of parity, which means that the criminal court should decide like cases alike. Thus the Hon'ble Apex Court on carefully analyzing the evidence on record gave the benefit of doubt to the accused persons.

25. In the instant case before the learned trial court there are three accused, one is convicted and two others are acquitted on the same set of evidence.

26. In view of the above, we are of the opinion that the judgment and order of conviction recorded by the learned trial court dated 17.05.1989 suffers from infirmity and is liable to be set aside.

27. Hence, the judgment and order of the trial court convicting and sentencing the appellant for life imprisonment for the offence under Section 302 I.P.C. is set aside for the reasons mentioned above.

28. Accordingly, the instant appeal is hereby allowed.

29. The appellant shall be set free, if not wanted in any other case.

30. Office is directed to return the trial court record as expeditiously as possible and notify this judgment to the trial court too.

(2026) 2 ILRA 1004
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 02.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE CHANDRA DHARI SINGH, J.
THE HON'BLE DEVENDRA SINGH-I, J.

Criminal Appeal No. 1279 of 1987

Jaggu Kol & Anr. ...Appellants
Versus
State Of U.P. ...Respondent

Issue for consideration

Matter pertains to prosecution case failed to prove its case beyond reasonable doubt.

Headnotes

Indian Penal Code, 1860 - Ss. 302, 302/34 and 394 - Circumstantial evidence -There is no direct evidence on record to connect the accused with the commission of crime -no eye witness - PW-1 and PW-2 had not seen as to who fired pistol shot -recovered pistol was not sent to ballistic expert for comparison with the fired cartridges recovered from the spot- was not established that fatal shot was fired from the same pistol which was recovered - Held, evidence adduced-not worth to be relied upon-prosecution failed to prove its case "beyond reasonable doubt" -Judgment and order set aside - Appellants acquitted- Appeal allowed.(E-9)

Case Law Cited

1. C. Chenga Reddy & Ors. v. State of A.P., (1996) 10 SCC 193
2. Ramreddy Rajesh Khanna Reddy v. State of A.P., (2006) 10 SCC 172
3. Sattatiya v. State of Maharashtra, (2008) 3 SCC 210
4. State of Goa v. Pandurang Mohite, (2008) 16 SCC 714
5. Laxman Pradad alias Laxman Vs. State of Madhya Pradesh,
6. R. Sreenivasa Vs. State of Karnataka,
7. Sukhwant Singh vs. State of Punjab
8. Pankaj vs. State of Rajasthan, (2016) 16 SCC 192
9. Goverdhan and Another vs. State of Chhattisgarh Goverdhan and Another vs. State of Chhattisgarh, (2025) 3 SCC 378
10. Jitendra Kumar Mishra @ Jittu vs. State of Madhya Pradesh, 2024 INSC 20

List of Acts

1. Indian penal Code, 1860
2. Indian Evidence Act

List of Keywords

No eye witness; beyond reasonable doubt; ballistic expert

Appearances of parties

Counsel for Appellant(s) : Ashish Kumar, Rajesh Kumar Vishwakarma, S.p. Singh Counsel for Respondent(s) : A.G.A.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Chandra Dhari Singh, J.)

1. The instant Criminal Appeal has been preferred by the accused-appellants- Jaggu Kol and Shankar against a judgment and order dated 31.03.1987 passed by Additional Sessions Judge, Mirzapur in Sessions Trial No. 251 of 1986 arising out of Case Crime No. 151 of 1986, under Section 302 I.P.C., Police Station Lalganj, District Mirzapur, convicting and sentencing the appellants as under:-

Accused-appellant Jaggu Kol

(a) Imprisonment for life for the offence under Section 302 read with 34 I.P.C.

(b) Rigorous imprisonment of five years' and a fine of Rs. 1,000/- for the offence under Section 394 I.P.C. and in default of payment of fine, he shall further undergo for rigorous imprisonment for a period of one year.

(a) Imprisonment for life for the offence under Section 302 I.P.C.

(b) Rigorous imprisonment for a period of five years' and a fine of Rs. 1,000/- for the offence under Section 394 I.P.C. and in default of payment of fine, he shall further undergo for rigorous imprisonment for a period of one year.

However, all the sentences awarded to both the appellants have been directed to run concurrently.

Brief Facts

2. In nutshell, the case of the prosecution as set up in the first information report is that a written report was filed by Kanhaiya Lal Kol son of Lalai Kol, resident of Village Godar Kala, Police Station Lalganj, District Mirzapur stating inter-alia that on 07.08.1986 he was returning home via road going from Duwar Kalan to Dadri. As soon as he reached the eastern road of his village at about 04:30 P.M., he saw that three persons namely Radhe Kol, Jaggu Kol and Shankar Kol were standing and talking among themselves. Thereafter, he proceeded to north of the Dhesur tree situated on the western side of the road. After that he took the footpath (pakdandi) and proceeded towards his village. As soon as he reached the eastern side near the pond, he heard a sound of firing. He immediately returned back and saw that Jaggu Kol and Shankar Kol have shot the injured Radhe Kol near the eastern side of the road. On hearing the sound of firing, Premlal, Chhotkau Kurmi and Ludhar Kol reached at the spot and they saw that Jaggu Kol and Shankar Kol were dragging Radhe Kol (who was in an injured condition). Seeing them, the accused persons left Radhe Kol near the bush and ran away towards the north side of the forest. When they approached to Radhe Kol, they saw that he had a gunshot wound on his left shoulder and was bleeding profusely. He groaned, hiccuped and died. The aforesaid written report was marked Ext.Ka.1.

3. On the basis of aforesaid written report filed by Kanhaiya Lal Kol (hereinafter referred to as 'informant'), the First Information Report was lodged at Case Crime No. 151 of 1986, under Section 302 I.P.C., Police Station Lalganj, District Mirzapur, which was marked as Ext.Ka.9. The said information has been endorsed in G.D. vide report no. 5 by Constable Moharir Chandrika Sharma, which was marked as Ext.Ka.10.

4. After registration of the F.I.R., the law set into motion and investigation of the case was entrusted to S.H.O. Rampratap Arya (PW-6). He in his deposition has stated that on 08.08.1986, he was posted as Station House Officer at Police Station Lalganj. He recorded the statement of the informant. Thereafter he reached at the place of occurrence at 07:30 am and found the dead body of Radhe Kol (hereinafter referred to as 'deceased') lying near the bushes. The deceased was wearing kurta-pajama. Upon search of his clothes, a sum of Rs. 200/- was recovered from the right pocket of his kurta. A sack about 50 steps north of the dead body was found containing 10 kilograms of paddy and wood. He took him in his possession, marked them as Ext.Ka.5 and handed over to Rangila Lal (uncle of the deceased). He took the dead body in his possession and conducted the inquest proceedings, which was marked as Ext.Ka.6. He prepared photo lash, challan lash, letter to R.I., letter for post-mortem and took the clothes of the deceased, which was marked as Ext.Ka.11 to Ext.Ka.15. He sealed the dead body and prepared sample seal, which was marked as Ext.Ka.16. Thereafter he handed over the dead body of the deceased in a sealed cover to Constable Ram Dev and Sant Prasad for post-mortem. He inspected the spot and prepared the site-plan, which was marked as Ext.Ka.17. Blood stained soil and plain soil were took into possession, seized and marked as Ext.Ka.2. An empty cartridge was found lying towards the north of the dead body, which was marked as Ext.ka.3. He also recorded the statement of witnesses namely Premlal and Rangilal. Search of the accused was conducted but they were not found. On 09.08.1986, he received an information that the accused persons were present at the tri-junction road to village Nardagahna. He, along with other police personnel, reached at the said place, the accused seeing them attempted to flee but were apprehended. Upon interrogation, accused Shankar told that he had a country-made pistol which was used in the commission of crime and could get it recovered. Accused Jaggu disclosed that he could get the bicycle of the deceased recovered. Thereafter, accused Shankar led us to his house situated in the southern side of the village. He opened the lock of the southern room, removed mud from the eastern wall and took out one country-made pistol and cartridge, which were wrapped in a paper. The said pistol and cartridge were sealed, recovery memo was prepared and the same was marked as Ext.Ka.7. Thereafter accused Jaggu led us to his house, where bicycle was recovered. He had also prepared a site-plan of the place of recovery, which was marked as Ext.Ka.18.

5. After culmination of investigation, the investigating officer submitted charge-sheet against the accused appellants, namely, Jaggu Kol and Shankar @ Sheo Shankar, which was marked as Ext.Ka.20.

6. As the case was exclusively triable by the Court of Sessions, the learned Magistrate committed the case to the Court of Sessions, where case was registered as Sessions Trial No. 251 of 1986. Learned Additional Sessions Judge, Mirzapur vide order dated 09.12.1986 framed charges against the accused appellant Jaggu Kol for the offence under Section 302 r/w Section 34 I.P.C. and Section 394 I.P.C. whereas accused-appellant Shankar for the offence under Section 302 and 394 I.P.C. The aforesaid charges were read over and explained to them in Hindi, whereby they pleaded not guilty and claimed to be tried.

7. To bring home the guilt of the accused-appellants beyond the hilt, the prosecution has examined as many as six prosecution witnesses, out of whom Premlal Tiwari (PW-1), Kanhaiya (PW-2), Rangilal (PW-4) and Ramlakhan (PW-5) are witnesses of fact whereas Dr. Chandra Prakash (PW-3) and S.H.O. Rampratap Arya (PW-6) are formal witnesses.

8. Premlal Tiwari (PW-1) in his deposition has stated that on 07.08.1986 at about 04:30 PM after attending the call of nature, he heard a sound of a gunshot followed by Kanhaiya Kol's cries and he followed it's direction. Chhotkau Kunvi, who was shooting birds in his field, also reached there. Laudhar Kol had also arrived on his bicycle. Upon reaching there, they saw that accused-appellants Jaggu Kol and Shankar were assaulting a man and dragging him into the bushes. Jaggu was holding his hands whereas Shankar was holding his feet. As soon as they raised an alarm, the accused persons hid the deceased into the bush and ran away from the place of incident on a bicycle. They have not chases the accused persons as they were having pistol (katta). Thereafter, they reached to the injured person, who groaned, hiccuped and died. Blood was oozing from his left shoulder. Laudher Kol, upon seeing the deceased, started crying and said 'he is my nephew Radhe'. Jaggu and Shankar are residents of village Nadighana. Jaggu's in-law's house is in his village. Both the accused persons are friends.

9. Kanhaiya (PW-2/informant) in his deposition has stated that on the day of incident when he was returning to his house, he saw that Shankar, Jaggu and Radhe were talking to each other. He knew Radhe as he was from Village Kota, four-five miles from his village. Seeing them talking to each other, he headed towards his village and after some time, he heard a sound of gunshot from the north-east direction. Hearing the sound of gunshot, he immediately ran towards the direction of gunshot and saw that Shankar and Jaggu were dragging Radhe to the east side of the road. Thereafter, he along with Premlal Tiwari, Laudhar Kol and Chhotkau reached there. Seeing them, the accused persons ran away from the place of incident on two bicycles which were parked there. They have not chased the accused persons as they were carrying pistol. Thereafter they went to the deceased who groaned, hiccuped and died. Thereafter, he went to the village Majra to call Pradhan. After the written report was prepared, he along with Kheladi Vishwakarma, Lalata Kohar, Sukhdev and Punjabi Kol went to Lalganj police station and gave the same to the Inspector.

10. Dr. Chandra Prakash (PW-3) in his deposition has stated that on 09.08.1986, he was posted Senior Orthopedic at District Hospital, Mirzapur. At about 04:00 PM, he he conducted the post-mortem on the cadaver of the deceased. As per post-mortem, following ante-mortem injuries were found:-

'Gunshot wound 2.0cm x 2.5cm x cavity deep on the upper and anterior part of the left shoulder joint. Wound was directly medially and downwards. Margins are inverted and charred. The surrounding skin in an area of 1.0cm round the wound is also blacked and charred. On cut the underlying tissue and muscle lacerated and rib fractured. The lung left upper lobe was badly lacerated and the wadding caps and pellets metallic 27 found in the upper lobe of left lung cavity of left side full of clotted blood about 400 ml.'

The deceased was aged about 25 years and had died two days' before. Rigor-mortis passed off from both upper and lower limbs. Blisters was present all over body. Hairs of his head are falling out easily. Green discolouration of of skin at some place.

On internal examination, it was found that the first rib of left side was fractured. Pleura was lacerated on the left side. The left lungs was lacerated and metallic pellets twenty-seven in number and wadding cap one in number were found in upper lobe of left lung. Clotted blood was present in left lobe. The stomach contained digested rice and dal. The small intestine contained gasses and fecal matters.

As per the opinion of doctor, the cause of death of the deceased-Radhe was 'shock and haemorrhage as a result of ante-mortem injury'.

11. Rangilal (PW-4) in his deposition has stated that at the midnight of the day of incident, uncle (mama) of the deceased had informed him about the incident. He was informed that some miscreants had killed Radhe (deceased) and thrown his dead body in the forest. He also stated that about two days ago, Radhe left on a bicycle for his sister's house in Jamohara. He was also a witness of inquest proceedings and the investigating officer had handed over the same to him.

12. Ram Lakhan (PW-5) in his deposition has stated that while he along with Chandu Lal were in a search of paddy seeds, the police office of police station Lalganj along with a constable, who were holding two mens, stopped them and asked for to accompany them as these two accused can recover some goods. One of the accused took us to his house located in the south of Nadgahna Village. The room was locked from the outside. The accused dig a hole on the eastern side of the wall with his hands and took out a pistol and a live cartridge wrapped in a plastic sheet. Thereafter another accused Jaggu took us to his house where as bicycle was recovered.

13. The evidence of S.H.O. Rampratap Arya (PW-6) has already been discussed above.

14. After the closure of prosecution evidence, the statements of the accused-appellants namely Jaggu Kol and Shankar @ Sheo Shankar have been recorded under Section 313 Cr.P.C., who denied the charges levelled against them.

15. Learned Additional Sessions Judge, Mirzapur after hearing the learned counsel for the parties and assessing, evaluating and scrutinizing the evidence on record, convicted and sentenced the accused-appellants as indicated herein above.

16. Hence, the instant appeal.

Arguments on behalf of Accused-Appellants

17. Mr. Rajesh Kumar Vishwakarma, learned counsel appearing on behalf of the appellant submitted that the prosecution has miserably failed to prove the motive for committing the murder of the deceased.

18. It is next submitted that the alleged incident took place on 07.08.1986 at 04:30 PM whereas the First Information Report of the said incident was lodged on 08.08.1986 at about 04:00 AM, after delay of about 12 hours without any plausible explanation.

19. It is also submitted that from the perusal of evidence of Premlal Tiwari (PW-1) and Kanhaiya (PW-2/informant), it is clear that they are not the eye-witnesses of the incident in question as they have not seen that who had fired the deceased, as such, their testimonies falsifies the prosecution story.

20. So far as the recovered weapon (pistol/katta) and cartridge is concerned, it cannot be said that the alleged fire was made by from the same pistol, which has been recovered, as the investigating officer has deliberately did not get the ballistic report of the same to establish the fact that whether the recovered weapon was used in the commission of crime or not, hence, the prosecution story cannot be relied upon. In support of his submission, he has relied upon the judgment of the Supreme Court in the case of Sukhwant Singh vs. State of Punjab1.

21. There is no evidence on record or any circumstantial evidence on the basis of which it can be said that there was a common intention to both the appellants to commit the murder of the deceased-Radhe as there is no implication of Section 34 I.P.C.

22. It is lastly submitted that the accused-appellants were arrested on 09.08.1986 and were granted bail on 07.11.1989. They have incarcerated in jail for more than three years' for an offence that prosecution could not even prove. As of today, the appellants are old aged person and are unable to perform their routine work independently. The prosecution has failed to bring home the guilt of the appellants beyond reasonable doubt.

Arguments on behalf of Respondents-State

23. Per-contra, Mr. S.K. Ojha, learned Additional Government Advocate-Ist vehemently opposed the aforesaid contentions of learned counsel for the appellants and submitted that the prosecution has proved its case beyond reasonable doubt, which is also evident from the depositions of Premlal Tiwari (PW-1) and Kanhaiya (PW-2/informant).

24. It is next submitted that there is no contradiction in the statement of Premlal (PW-1) and Kanhaiya (PW-2). It is further submitted that the opinion of the doctor is also matches with the prosecution story.

25. It is lastly submitted that since the prosecution has proved its case beyond reasonable doubt and complete the entire chain of evidence, the trial court has rightly convicted the accused appellants. There is no error in the impugned judgment and order, therefore, the instant criminal appeal is devoid of merit and is liable to be dismissed.

Analysis and Conclusion

26. Heard Mr. Rajesh Kumr Vishwakarma, learned counsel for the appellant, Mr. S.K. Ojha, learned Additional Government Advocate-Ist for the State of U.P. and perused the documents on record.

27. In this case, the occurrence had taken place on 07.08.1986 at about 04:30 PM, but the F.I.R. was lodged on 08.08.1986 at 04:00 AM i.e. about 12 hours after the occurrence. Premlal Tiwari (PW-1) and Kanhaiya (PW-2) have explained the delay in preparing the report at 01:00 PM. Thereafter, Kanhaiya (PW-2) went to police station in the night as stated by him. The way to police station passes through jungle and river. It was night and therefore, he would have taken atleast three hours in covering the distance of 10 miles in the night.

28. PW-1, Premlal Tiwari stated and admitted that he had not seen as to who fired pistol shot. PW-2 Kanhaiya Lal states that when he reached near lake, he heard sound of fire and rushed towards the spot where he observed the accused taking the deceased towards bushes. He had also not seen the occurrence as who filed pistol shot to the deceased. There is no direct evidence on record to connect the accused with the commission of crime.

29. It is well settled that where there is no direct evidence connecting the accused-appellant with the commission of the offence and no witness had seen the accused-appellant committing the murder of the deceased, the case of the prosecution rests entirely on circumstantial evidence. In such circumstances, the law mandates that each incriminating circumstance relied upon must be firmly established and the chain of circumstances must be so complete as to unerringly point towards the guilt of the accused and exclude every possible hypothesis consistent with his innocence. Suspicion, however strong, cannot take the place of proof, and if the circumstances proved do not form a continuous and cogent chain leading only to the conclusion that the accused-appellant is alone the author of the crime, the benefit of doubt must necessarily enure to the appellant.

30. In Sharad Birdhichand Sarda Vs. State of Maharashtra2, the Supreme Court has framed five golden principles for the circumstantial evidence, which are as under;

(i) The circumstances from which the conclusion of guilt is to be drawn should be fully established.

(ii) The facts so established should be consistent only with the hypothesis of the guilt of the accused that is to say, they should not be explainable on any other hypothesis except that the accused is guilty.

(iii) The circumstances should be of conclusive nature and tendency

(iv) They should exclude every possible hypothesis except the one to be proved and,

(v) There must be a chain of evidence so complete as not to leave any reasonable ground for the conclusion consistent with the innocence of the accused and must show that in all human probability the act must have been done by the accused.

31. In State of U.P. Vs. Ashok Kumar Srivastava3, it was pointed out that great care must be taken in evaluating circumstantial evidence and if the evidence relied on is reasonably capable of two inferences, the one in the favour of the accused must be accepted. It was also pointed out that the circumstances relied upon must be found to have fully established and cumulative effect of all the facts so established must be consistent only with the hypothesis of guilt.

32. In the case of Hanumant Govind Nargundkar v. State of M.P.4, the Supreme Court has observed as under:

"It is well to remember that in cases where the evidence is of a circumstantial nature, the circumstances from which the conclusion of guilt is to be drawn should in the first instance be fully established, and all the facts so established should be consistent only with the hypothesis of the guilt of the accused. Again, the circumstances should be of a conclusive nature and tendency and they should be such as to exclude every hypothesis but the one proposed to be proved. In other words, there must be a chain of evidence so far complete as not to leave any reasonable ground for a conclusion consistent with the innocence of the accused and it must be such as to show that within all human probability the act must have been done by the accused. ...."

33. In the case of Padala Veera Reddy v. State of A.P.5, the Supreme Court has opined as under:

"10. Before adverting to the arguments advanced by the learned Counsel, we shall at the threshold point out that in the present case there is no direct evidence to connect the accused with the offence in question and the prosecution rests its case solely on circumstantial evidence. This Court in a series of decisions has consistently held that when a case rests upon circumstantial evidence such evidence must satisfy the following tests:

(1) the circumstances from which an inference of guilt is sought to be drawn, must be cogently and firmly established;

(2) those circumstances should be of a definite tendency unerringly pointing towards guilt of the accused;

(3) the circumstances, taken cumulatively, should form a chain so complete that there is no escape from the conclusion that within all human probability the crime was committed by the accused and none else; and

(4) the circumstantial evidence in order to sustain conviction must be complete and incapable of explanation of any other hypothesis than that of the guilt of the accused and such evidence should not only be consistent with the guilt of the accused but should be inconsistent with his innocence.

34. In the case of C. Chenga Reddy & Ors. v. State of A.P.6, the Supreme Court while considering a case of conviction based on the circumstantial evidence, held as under:

"21. In a case based on circumstantial evidence, the settled law is that the circumstances from which the conclusion of guilt is drawn should be fully proved and such circumstances must be conclusive in nature. Moreover, all the circumstances should be complete and there should be no gap left in the chain of evidence. Further, the proved circumstances must be consistent only with the hypothesis of the guilt of the accused and totally inconsistent with his innocence. In the present case the courts below have overlooked these settled principles and allowed suspicion to take the place of proof besides relying upon some inadmissible evidence."

35. In the case of Ramreddy Rajesh Khanna Reddy v. State of A.P.7, the Supreme Court again considered the case of conviction based on circumstantial evidence and held as under:

"26. It is now well settled that with a view to base a conviction on circumstantial evidence, the prosecution must establish all the pieces of incriminating circumstances by reliable and clinching evidence and the circumstances so proved must form such a chain of events as would permit no conclusion other than one of guilt of the accused. The circumstances cannot be on any other hypothesis. It is also well settled that suspicion, however grave it may be, cannot be a substitute for a proof and the courts shall take utmost precaution in finding an accused guilty only on the basis of the circumstantial evidence.'

36. In the case of Sattatiya v. State of Maharashtra8, the Supreme Court held as under:

"10. We have thoughtfully considered the entire matter. It is settled law that an offence can be proved not only by direct evidence but also by circumstantial evidence where there is no direct evidence. The court can draw an inference of guilt when all the incriminating facts and circumstances are found to be totally incompatible with the innocence of the accused. Of course, the circumstances from which an inference as to the guilt is drawn have to be proved beyond reasonable doubt and have to be shown to be closely connected with the principal fact sought to be inferred from those circumstances." This Court further observed in the aforesaid decision that:

"17. At this stage, we also deem it proper to observe that in exercise of power under Article 136 of the Constitution, this Court will be extremely loath to upset the judgment of conviction which is confirmed in appeal. However, if it is found that the appreciation of evidence in a case, which is entirely based on circumstantial evidence, is vitiated by serious errors and on that account miscarriage of justice has been occasioned, then the Court will certainly interfere even with the concurrent findings recorded by the trial court and the High Court--Bharat v. State of M.P., (2003) 3 SCC 106. "

37. In the case of State of Goa v. Pandurang Mohite9, the Supreme Court has reiterated the settled law that where a conviction rests squarely on circumstantial evidence, the inference of guilt can be justified only when all the incriminating facts and circumstances are found to be incompatible with the innocence of the accused or the guilt of any person. The circumstances from which an inference as to the guilt of the accused is drawn have to be proved beyond reasonable doubt and have to be shown to be closely connected with the principal fact sought to be inferred from those circumstances.

38. The decision in Sharad Birdichand Sarda (Supra) has recently been followed by the Supreme Court in catena of judgement including Laxman Pradad alias Laxman Vs. State of Madhya Pradesh10, and R. Sreenivasa Vs. State of Karnataka11.

39. An 'unbroken chain of safe custody' for the recovered weapon and sample packets must be proved by the prosecution. Failure to do so leads to the acquittal of the accused.

40. The Supreme Court in the case of Sukhwant Singh vs. State of Punjab12, has observed as under:

'There is yet another infirmity in this case. We find that whereas an empty had been recovered by PW6, ASI Raghubir Singh from the spot and a pistol along with some cartridges were seized from the possession of the appellant at the time of his arrest, yet the prosecution, for reasons best known to it, did not send the recovered empty and the seized pistol to the ballistic expert for the examination and expert opinion. Comparison could have provided link evidence between the crime and the accused. This again is an omission on the part of the prosecution for which no explanation has been furnished either in the trial court or before us. It hardly needs to be emphasised that in cases where injuries are caused by fire arms, the opinion of the Ballistic Expert. is of a considerable importance where both the fire arm and the crime cartridge are recovered during the investigation to connect an accused with the crime. Failure to produce the expert opinion before the trial court in such cases affects the creditworthiness of the prosecution case to a great extent.'

41. The Supreme Court in the case of Pankaj vs. State of Rajasthan13, has held that 'when the genesis and the manner of the incident is doubtful, the accused cannot be convicted.' It also referred to Bhagwan Sahai vs. State of Rajasthan14, which states that once the prosecution is found to have suppressed the origin of the occurrence, the only proper course is to grant the benefit of doubt.

42. In the case of State of U.P. vs. Kishore Gopal Das15, the Supreme Court has succinctly explained the concept 'reasonable doubt', which is as under:

"""...There is an unmistakable subjective-element in the evaluation of the degrees of probability and the quantum of proof. Forensic probability must, in the last analysis, rest on a robust common-sense and, ultimately, on the trained intuitions of the judge. While the protection given by the criminal process to the accused-persons is not to be eroded, at the same time, uninformed legitimisation of trivialities would make a mockery of administration of criminal justice.'

43. In the case of Ramakant Rai vs. Madan Rai and Others16, the Supreme Court has held as under:

'24. Doubts would be called reasonable if they are free from a zest for abstract speculation. Law cannot afford any favourite other than truth. To constitute reasonable doubt, it must be free from an over emotional response. Doubts must be actual and substantial doubts as to the guilt of the accused persons arising from the evidence, or from the lack of it, as opposed to mere vague apprehensions. A reasonable doubt is not an imaginary, trivial or a merely possible doubt; but a fair doubt based upon reason and common-sense. It must grow out of the evidence in the case.'

44. The aforesaid judgment has recently been followed by the Supreme Court in the case of Goverdhan and Another vs. State of Chhattisgarh17 wherein, the Court has held as under:-

'20. As per Section 3 of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, a fact can be said to have been proved when, after considering the matters before it, the court either believes it to exist or considers its existence so probable that a prudent man ought, under the circumstances of the particular case, to act up on the supposition that it exists. The court undertakes this exercise of examining whether the facts alleged including the particular criminal acts attributed to the accused are proved or not.

21. It is also to be noted that the law does not contemplate stitching the pieces of evidence in a watertight manner, for the standard of proof in a criminal case is not proof beyond all doubts but only beyond reasonable doubt. In other words, if a clear picture emerges on piecing together all evidence which indicates beyond reasonable doubt of the role played by the accused in the perpetration of the crime, the court holds the accused criminally liable and punishes them under the provisions of the penal code, in contradistinction to the requirement of proof based on the preponderance of probabilities as in case of civil proceedings.

22. It will be relevant to discuss, at this juncture, what is meant by 'reasonable doubt'. It means that such doubt must be free from suppositional speculation. It must not be the result of minute emotional detailing, and the doubt must be actual and substantial and not merely vague apprehension. A reasonable doubt is not an imaginary, trivial or amerely possible doubt, but a fair doubt based upon reason and common sense.'

45. The Supreme Court in the case of Jitendra Kumar Mishra @ Jittu vs. State of Madhya Pradesh18, has held as under :

'We are conscious of the fact that the appellate court should be slow in interfering with the conviction recorded by the courts below but where the evidence on record indicates the prosecution has failed to prove the guilt of the accused beyond reasonable doubt and that a plausible view, different from the one expressed by the courts below can be taken, the appellate court should not shy away in giving the benefit of doubt to the accused persons.'

46. The recovered pistol (Ex.Ka.7) was not sent to ballistic expert for comparison with the fired cartridges recovered from the spot, therefore, it is not established that fatal shot was fired from the same pistol which was recovered. The recovery of the said pistol on the pointing out of accused Shankar @ Sheo Shankar after a day of occurrence is doubtful. The evidence adduced by the prosecution regarding the manner of occurrence and complicity of accused as well as recovery are not worth to be relied upon. None of the witness had seen any accused person firing gunshot upon the deceased. PW-2 Kanhaiya had only seen the accused persons talking with the deceased person and after few minutes, the other witnesses heard the sound of firing and rushed to the spot immediately, therefore, there is no eye witness of the occurrence and the entire case of the prosecution is based upon circumstantial evidence.

47. When we evaluate the testimony of Premlal Tiwari (PW-1) and Kanhaiya (PW-2/informant) carefully and with due caution, as is required in the facts of the case, we find that their testimony do not inspire our confidence to sustain the conviction. The evidence produced by the prosecution has neither quality nor credibility and it would be unsafe to rest conviction upon such evidence. After having considered the matter thoughtfully, we find that the evidence on record in the case is not sufficient to bring home guilt of the appellants. We, therefore, conclude that prosecution has failed to prove it's case 'beyond reasonable doubt' against the appellants.

48. This Court has decided the present criminal appeal on its merits and held as above. Even otherwise, it deserves to be noticed that occurrence in the present case is more than four decades old. The appellants have remained in jail for more than three years.

49. Accordingly, the judgment and order dated 31.03.1987 passed by Additional Sessions Judge, Mirzapur is hereby set aside. The appellants are acquitted of all the charges levelled against him.

50. Consequently, for all the foregoing reasons, the instant criminal appeal is allowed.

51. The appellants'Jaggu Kol and Shankar @ Sheo Shankar are already on bail. His bail bonds shall stand discharged.

52. The trial court record be sent back.

(2026) 2 ILRA 1016
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 26.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SALIL KUMAR RAI, J.
THE HON'BLE VINAI KUMAR DWIVEDI, J.

Criminal Appeal No. 1330 of 1989

Kishan Lal & Ors. ...Appellants
Versus
State of U.P. ...Respondent

Issue for consideration

Matter pertains to ingredients of Section 302 read with Section 34 IPC.

Headnotes

Indian Penal Code-Section 302 - murder - PW-1 and PW-2 have turned hostile - not supported the prosecution case - only eye-witness of the alleged incident is the informant- the evidence of the sole is wholly reliable - the postmortem report clearly establishes that the deceased sustained thirteen injuries on vital parts of the body - strong motive of the accused-appellants to commit the murder - acted with pre-planning, premeditation, and actively participated in the commission of alleged crime - ingredients of Section 34 of Indian Penal Code are fully established .Appeal dismissed. (E-9)

Case Law Cited

1. Ashok Kumar v. State of Punjab; AIR 1977 Supreme Court 109
2. Babulal Bhagwan Khandare v. State of Maharashtra; AIR 2005 Supreme Court 1460
3. Virendra Singh v. State of M.P.; (2010) 8 SCC 407

List of Acts

1. Indian Penal Code
2. Code of Criminal Procedure

List of Keywords

Murder; sole eyewitness; turned hostile; thirteen injuries on vital parts; strong motive; pre-planning; premeditation; common intention.

Appearances of parties

Counsel for Appellant(s) : Raghuvansh Misra, Rahul Misra
Counsel for Respondent(s) : D.G.A.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Vinai Kumar Dwivedi, J.)

1. The present criminal appeal has been filed by the accused-appellants, namely, Kishan Lal S/o Bhola Nath, Bhola Nath S/o Sewa Ram and Veerpal S/o Rameshwar against the judgment and order of conviction and sentence dated 16.05.1989 passed by the learned Vth Additional District and Sessions Judge, Pilibhit in Sessions Trial No. 33 of 1988 (Kishan Lal and Others v. State of U.P.) arising out of Case Crime No. 338 of 1987, under Section 302 read with Section 34 I.P.C., Police Station- Bisalpur, District- Pilibhit.

2. By the impugned judgment and order of conviction and sentence dated 16.05.1989, the learned Vth Additional District and Sessions Judge, Pilibhit held the accused-appellants guilty and convicted them under Section 302 read with Section 34 I.P.C., sentencing each of them to undergo imprisonment for life. Aggrieved by the judgment and order dated 16.05.1989, the accused-appellants have preferred the present criminal appeal before this Court.

3. From the written report (Exhibit Ka-1), the prosecution case is that on the date of the incident, i.e. 23.10.1987, in the morning hours, the informant Ram Dayal (PW-5), along with his elder brother, Indal was returning on a bicycle after meeting Mool Chand, the Gram Pradhan of Village Gujranpur, which is situated 1/2 km away in the north direction from the village of informant. Indal was riding the bicycle, while the informant Ram Dayal (PW-5) was seated on the carrier. At about 10:00 a.m., when they reached the sugarcane field of Ramchandra Lal at Kulawa, the accused persons suddenly emerged from the sugarcane field. Accused Kishan Lal S/o Bhola Nath was armed with a sword; Bhola Nath S/o Sewa Ram, was armed with a kanta; and Veerpal S/o Rameshwar Dayal, was also carrying a kanta in his right hand. The accused Bhola Nath assaulted Indal with the kanta, proclaiming that they were taking revenge that day. The informant Ram Dayal (PW-5), after jumping from the bicycle, ran away raising alarm that his brother was being killed. Thereafter, all the three accused persons, acting with common intention and in furtherance of a pre-concerted plan, assaulted Indal with kanta and sword with the intention to cause his death. As a result of the said assault, Indal died on the spot and his head was severed from his body. Hearing the cries of the informant, Omkar and Ramlal, residents of the village, rushed to the spot and witnessed the accused persons committing the murder of Indal, brother of the informant. When they raised alarm and challenged the accused persons, they after leaving the dead body at the spot, fled towards the northern direction. It is further stated in the written report that Omkar S/o Bhola Nath was murdered in the year 1981, in which Indal, brother of the informant Ram Dayal was named as an accused. He faced trial in the said case and was convicted and sentenced to four years' imprisonment. His appeal was pending and he was on bail. On account of the said previous enmity, the accused persons committed the murder of brother of the informant.

4. After lodging of the written report (Exhibit Ka-1), a First Information Report (Exhibit Ka-13) was registered at Police Station Bisalpur against the named accused persons, namely, Kishan Lal S/o Bhola Nath, Bhola Nath S/o Sewa Ram and Veerpal S/o Rameshwar, as Case Crime No. 338 of 1987, under Section 302 IPC, on the date of the incident itself at about 2:00 p.m. After registration of the FIR, the investigation was entrusted to S.I. Tejpal Singh (PW-6), who took up the investigation and proceeded in accordance with law. The Investigating Officer inspected the place of occurrence and prepared the site plan. He recovered blood stained soil as well as simple soil from the place of occurrence, sealed the same, and prepared the recovery memo (Exhibit Ka-2). He also took into custody one bicycle and a pair of slippers lying at the place of occurrence and prepared a recovery memo (Exhibit Ka-3). Further, from the body of deceased, the Investigating Officer recovered a blood- stained trouser and a white kurta, which were duly sealed and taken into possession, and the relevant recovery memo was prepared as Exhibit Ka-4. The Investigating Officer also conducted the inquest proceedings (panchayatnama) of the dead body of deceased and prepared the inquest report (Exhibit Ka-5). Thereafter, the dead body was sent for post-mortem examination. Subsequently, the Investigating Officer S.I. Tejpal Singh (PW-6) recorded the statements of the informant Ram Dayal (PW-5) and other eyewitnesses of the occurrence under Section 161 Cr.P.C. After completing all the formalities and procedures of investigation, the Investigating Officer S.I. Tejpal Singh (PW-6) submitted the charge-sheet against the accused persons, namely, Kishan Lal, Bhola Nath and Veerpal under Section 302 IPC before the Court of the concerned Magistrate.

5. Since the offence was exclusively triable by the Court of Session, the learned Magistrate committed the case to the Sessions Court for trial. The learned Trial Court framed charges against the accused-appellants on 24.02.1989 under Section 302 read with Section 34 IPC, to which the accused-appellants pleaded not guilty and claimed trial.

6. In order to prove its case against the accused-appellants, the prosecution examined Ramlal (PW-1), Omkar (PW-2), Salik Ram (PW-3), Mool Chand (PW-4), the informant Ram Dayal (PW-5), the Investigating Officer S.I. Tejpal Singh (PW-6) and Dr. S.K. Agrawal (PW-7).

7. Apart from the oral evidence of the aforesaid witnesses, the prosecution also relied upon the documentary evidence, such as, the written report (Exhibit Ka-1), the recovery memo of blood-stained and plain soil (Exhibit Ka-2), the recovery memo of bicycle, slippers and H.M.T. watch (Exhibit Ka-3), the recovery memo of blood stained clothes of the deceased (Exhibit Ka-4), the inquest report (Exhibit Ka-5), the charge-sheet (Exhibit Ka-12) and the post-mortem report (Exhibit Ka-15).

8. After conclusion of the prosecution evidence, the statements of the accused-appellants were recorded under Section 313 Cr.P.C., wherein they denied the prosecution case and stated that they had been falsely implicated in the present case on account of previous enmity. It was further stated that the prosecution witnesses had deposed falsely against them due to such enmity. The accused-appellants, however, did not adduce any defence witness in support of their case.

9. After hearing the arguments of both sides and upon appreciation and evaluation of the evidence on record, the learned Trial Court found the accused-appellants, namely, Kishan Lal, Bhola Nath and Veerpal guilty of the offence and convicted them under Section 302 read with Section 34 IPC to undergo imprisonment for life.

10. Vide order dated 15.12.2025 passed by this Court, the appeal in respect of appellant nos. 1 and 2, namely, Kishan Lal and Bhola Nath, stood abated on account of their death. Consequently, the appeal now survives only on behalf of appellant no.3, Veerpal and is being adjudicated, accordingly.

11. We have heard the arguments advanced by learned counsel for the surviving appellant no.3 and the learned A.G.A. for the State. We have also gone through the entire evidence available on record and have also perused the impugned judgment and order of conviction and sentence dated 16.05.1989 passed by the learned Trial Court.

12. Learned counsel for appellant no. 3- Veerpal, the sole surviving appellant, contended that the so-called eyewitnesses of the occurrence, namely, Ramlal (PW-1) and Omkar (PW-2) have turned hostile and have not supported the prosecution case. It was argued that only the informant Ram Dayal (PW-5), who is the brother of the deceased, has supported the prosecution version. However, his presence at the place of occurrence on 23.10.1987 is highly doubtful and suspicious. It has also been argued by the learned counsel for appellant no. 3 that the prosecution has wholly failed to prove the existence of a pre-plan, premeditation, and joint participation by all the accused-appellants in the commission of the alleged crime, in light of the ingredients of Section 34 IPC. Learned counsel for the appellant no.3 further argued that the named eyewitnesses mentioned in the written report, namely, Ramlal (PW-1) and Omkar (PW-2) have not supported the prosecution case during trial, and therefore the conviction of the accused is based solely on the interested and solitary testimony of the informant Ram Dayal (PW-5), which is unsafe to rely upon in the facts and circumstances of the present case. It was thus submitted that the learned Trial Court has illegally and erroneously convicted the accused-appellants by placing reliance on doubtful and unreliable evidence, ignoring the settled principles governing appreciation of evidence. Consequently, the judgement and order of conviction and sentence dated 16.05.1989 is against the weight of evidence on record and is liable to be set aside and the instant criminal appeal deserves to be allowed.

13. Per contra, learned A.G.A. for the State submitted that although the eyewitnesses Ram Lal (PW-1) and Omkar (PW-2) have turned hostile and have not supported the prosecution case, the informant Ram Dayal (PW-5), who is the brother of the deceased, has fully and consistently supported the prosecution version in his testimony. The learned A.G.A. further submitted that it is a settled principle of law that a conviction can safely be based on the testimony of a solitary witness, provided his evidence is found to be credible and trustworthy. Further, the learned Trial Court, in a proper and legal perspective, placed reliance upon the testimony of Ram Dayal (PW-5), who is the solitary eyewitness in the present case, and on the basis of his reliable evidence rightly held the accused-appellant guilty of the offence. It was vehemently argued by learned A.G.A. that the judgment and order of conviction and sentence dated 16.05.1989 passed by the learned Trial Court is fully justified on the basis of the evidence available on record and does not suffer from any misappreciation and mis-evaluation of the prosecution evidence. The Trial Court has, in accordance with law and on proper appreciation of the evidence, rightly convicted the accused-appellant for the commission of the alleged offence. Thus, prosecution has fully proved its case beyond all reasonable doubt. Consequently, it was submitted that the instant criminal appeal filed by the accused-appellant lacks merit, and the same is liable to be dismissed.

14. In view of the arguments advanced by the learned counsel for sole surviving accused-appellant no.3, Veerpal and the counter submissions made by the learned A.G.A. for the State, we have perused the written report (Exhibit Ka-1) and the entire evidence on record. From perusal of the First Information Report, it is apparent that the incident is alleged to have occurred on 23.10.1987 at about 10:00 a.m.

15. From perusal of the post-mortem report (Exhibit Ka-15), and the testimony of Dr. S.K. Agrawal (PW-7), who conducted the post-mortem examination of the deceased Indal, it is revealed that the following injuries were found on the body of deceased:

'1. An incised wound measuring 15 cm ' 5 cm, bone deep, situated on the front side of the chest at the root of the neck. The C-7 and C-8 vertebrae were severed at the level of bone, and the chest was found separated from the neck.

2. Two incised wounds, each measuring 4 cm ' 1 cm, bone deep.

3. An incised wound measuring 3 cm ' 1 cm, bone deep, situated slightly above the left ear.

4. An incised wound measuring 2 cm ' ' cm, bone deep, located on the middle front portion of the head.

5. An incised wound measuring 5 cm ' 1 cm, bone deep, extending from the middle of the head towards the left side, involving the left eye and left cheek.

6. Two incised wounds, each measuring 3 cm ' 1 cm, bone deep, present on the left wrist, over the upper part of the wrist bone. The wrist bone was found cut.

7. An incised wound measuring 5 cm ' ' cm, bone deep, present on the back of the left palm.

8. Two incised wounds, each measuring 3 cm ' 1 cm, bone deep, present on the back of the left forearm, towards the outer side.

9. An incised wound measuring 4 cm ' 1 cm, bone deep, present on the left shoulder.

10. An incised wound measuring 3 cm ' 1 cm, bone deep, present on the back of the right palm.

11. An incised wound measuring 2 cm ' 1 cm, bone deep, present on the front side of the right palm.

12. An incised wound measuring 4 cm ' 1 cm, bone deep, present on the back of the right hand and fingers.

13. An incised wound measuring 2 cm ' 1 cm, bone deep, present between the toes of the right foot.'

16. From the testimony of Dr. S.K. Agrawal (PW-7) and from the postmortem report (Exhibit Ka-15), it is evident that the cause of death of the deceased was shock and hemorrhage resulting from ante-mortem injuries. The postmortem report clearly establishes that the deceased sustained thirteen injuries on vital parts of the body. Thus, it stands proved that the deceased was brutally murdered.

17. According to the prosecution case as set out in the FIR, the informant Ram Dayal (PW-5) was seated on the carrier of the bicycle, while the deceased was riding the bicycle. When the accused-appellants allegedly assaulted the deceased, the informant is stated to have got down from the bicycle and fled towards the southern direction. It is also mentioned in the FIR that apart from the informant Ram Dayal (PW-5), Ramlal (PW-1) and Omkar (PW-2) had also witnessed the commission of alleged offence by the accused persons.

18. However, upon appreciation of the evidence of Ramlal (PW-1) and Omkar (PW-2), it is evident that both these prosecution witnesses did not support the prosecution case before the Trial Court and were declared hostile. They also denied the statements allegedly made by them under Section 161 Cr.P.C. before the Investigating Officer.

19. From the testimony of PW-1 and PW-2, the only fact that stands established is that on the date of the incident they had seen the dead body of the deceased lying at the place of occurrence. Both these witnesses categorically stated that they had not seen the actual commission of the offence by any of the accused person.

20. Thus, from the evidence of the aforesaid witnesses, it is proved only to the extent that the deceased was murdered on the said date, time and place and deceased's body with severed head, was found at the place of occurrence.

21. Prosecution witness Salik Ram (PW-3) has categorically testified that after the occurrence of the incident, he scribed the tehriri on the dictation of informant Ram Dayal (PW-5). He further deposed that after scribing the said report, he endorsed his own signatures as well as the signatures of Ram Dayal (PW-5) on it. This witness has also stated that he did not go to the police station. From a conjoint reading of the testimony of prosecution witness Salik Ram (PW-3), it is clearly established that Salik Ram (PW-3) is the scriber of the tehriri, i.e., the written report marked as 'Exhibit Ka-1'. The said written report (Exhibit Ka-1) was written by Salik Ram (PW-3) as dictated by the informant Ram Dayal (PW-5).

22. Prosecution witness Mool Chand (PW-4) has proved the recovery memo of blood-stained soil, plain soil marked as 'Exhibit Ka-2'. He has further proved the recovery memo of a bicycle, slippers, and an HMT wristwatch recovered from the place of occurrence, marked as 'Exhibit Ka-3'. This witness has also proved the recovery memo of the clothes of the deceased, marked as 'Exhibit Ka-4'. Apart from the above, prosecution witness Mool Chand (PW-4) has proved the panchayatnama of the deceased, marked as 'Exhibit Ka-5'. This witness has stated in his evidence that the deceased Indal Prasad was his relative. From the statement of this witness Mool Chand (PW-4), it is also clear that at about 11:00- 11:30 a.m., he reached at the place of occurrence. At that time, police were preparing recovery memo, Exhibit Ka-2, Exhibit Ka-3, Exhibit Ka-4 and Exhibit Ka-5. At that time, Daroga Ji was also questioning that who had enmity with whom. PW-4 has further deposed that the proceedings of the Panchayatnama were conducted in his presence and that the same was prepared before him. The witness has testified the aforesaid facts.

23. It is evident that the prosecution witnesses, namely, Ramlal (PW-1) and Omkar (PW-2), whose names find place in the written report (Exhibit Ka-1) as eye-witnesses of the alleged incident, have turned hostile before the Trial Court and have not supported the prosecution case. Salik Ram (PW-3) is a formal witness who scribed the written report (Exhibit Ka-1) on the dictation of the informant, Ram Dayal (PW-5). Mool Chand (PW-4) is a witness only with regard to the recovery and the preparation of the recovery memo and the Panchayatnama, and he has proved Exhibit Ka-2, Exhibit Ka-3, Exhibit Ka-4, and Exhibit Ka-5.

24. Thus, in the present case, the only eye-witness of the alleged incident is the informant, Ram Dayal (PW-5). He is the star witness of the prosecution, who claims to have witnessed the commission of alleged crime by all the accused-appellants with his own eyes on the date of incident, i.e., 23.10.1987. His version is also reflected in the written report (Exhibit Ka-1).

25. From a perusal of examination-in-chief of informant, Ram Dayal (PW-5), it transpires that at the time of alleged incident he was present along with his elder brother, the deceased Indal Prasad. He deposed that he and his brother Indal had gone on a bicycle to meet Mool Chand, the Gram Pradhan of village Gujranpur. While returning from the meeting, at about 10:00 a.m., when they reached near the Tila situated close to the canal (nahar), the accused persons, namely, Veerpal, Kishan Lal and Bhola Nath, suddenly emerged from a sugarcane field. According to him, Veerpal and Bhola Nath were armed with kanta, whereas Kishan Lal was armed with a sword. The accused persons, after emerging from the sugarcane field, brutally assaulted the deceased and severed his head from his body. He saw the severed head of his brother and thereafter, the accused fled from the spot. The witness stated that when he raised alarm and ran some distance, Ramlal and Omkar, who were passing near the canal, reached the spot. Ramlal and Omkar attempted to intervene, however, before they could prevent the assault, the accused persons had already severed the head of the deceased and fled. From the evidence of this witness, it is also apparent that the deceased was riding a bicycle before the alleged incident, and his slippers and wristwatch remained lying at the place of occurrence.

26. In his cross-examination, the informant Ram Dayal (PW-5) stated that he along with his brother, Indal Prasad went at around 7:00 a.m. to the house of Mool Chand, the village Pradhan. He said that when the accused came out of the sugarcane field, he got down from his bicycle and ran away shouting, but he could not remember which direction he ran.

27. From the cross-examination of the witness, it has also emerged that there had been enmity between the accused persons and my brother ever since a murder case was lodged against my brother, Indal Prasad. In that earlier case, my brother, Indal, had been convicted and sentenced to four years' imprisonment. At the time of the alleged incident, the appeal against that conviction was pending, and my brother was out on bail.

28. On perusal of the written report (Exhibit Ka-1), it is apparent that in 1981, Omkar S/o Bhola Nath, was murdered, and my brother Indal had been named in that case. He had undergone trial and served part of the sentence. In view of these circumstances, it appears that the murder of the brother of the informant was committed by the accused persons due to the existing enmity arising from the earlier case.

29. From the perusal of the written report (Exhibit Ka-1), it is evident that there existed a bitter enmity between the deceased, Indal Prasad, and the accused persons. The cause of this enmity was the murder of Omkar S/o Bhola Nath, in which the deceased, Indal Prasad, had been named as an accused. Indal Prasad was tried, convicted, and sentenced to four years' imprisonment. At the time of the alleged incident, he was on bail, and the appeal against his conviction was pending. These circumstances indicate a strong motive on the part of the accused-appellants to commit the murder of Indal Prasad, who was returning home with his brother, the informant Ram Dayal (PW-5), on a bicycle. The existence of this heated and revengeful enmity is further corroborated by the cross-examination of the accused-appellants. Accordingly, the facts of long-standing enmity and revengeful intention of the accused-appellants are clearly established from the evidence of the informant Ram Dayal (PW-5), as deposed in Court.

30. Although the other prosecution witnesses, such as, Ramlal (PW-1) and Omkar (PW-2), have not supported the prosecution story, but when their evidence is considered in the light of the written report (Exhibit Ka-1), the evidence of the prosecution witness Ram Dayal (PW-5) is found to be fully reliable and relevant. We cannot reject the evidence of the informant Ram Dayal (PW-5) only on the ground that the evidence of this sole eyewitness has not been supported by other prosecution witnesses, such as, Ramlal (PW-1) and Omkar (PW-2). The evidence of the informant Ram Dayal (PW-5) is further supported and corroborated by the postmortem report (Exhibit Ka-15) and the evidence of Dr. S.K. Agarwal (PW-7), who conducted the postmortem examination of the deceased, Indal Prasad.

31. From the perusal of the postmortem report (Exhibit Ka-15) prepared by Dr. S.K. Agarwal (PW-7), it is found that thirteen grievous injuries were sustained on the vital parts of the deceased's body. According to Dr. S.K. Agarwal, all these injuries were caused by a sword, kanta, or some other heavy sharp-edged weapon. The informant, Ram Dayal (PW-5), in his written report (Exhibit Ka-1) as well as in his evidence before the Court, stated that the accused-appellant Kishan Lal was armed with a sword, while the accused-appellants Bhola Nath and Veerpal were armed with kanta.

32. From a perusal of the number, nature, and location of the injuries, it is evident that all three accused-appellants were present at the place of occurrence and jointly assaulted the deceased, Indal Prasad, with a sword and kanta, thereby causing thirteen grievous injuries to the vital parts of his body. The nature and size of the injuries, as well as the weapons used, indicate that the accused-appellants were motivated by revenge, as the deceased, Indal Prasad, had been named and convicted in connection with the murder case of Omkar S/o accused-appellant Bhola Nath. This establishes a strong motive for the accused-appellants to commit the murder of Indal Prasad as an act of revenge for the earlier incident. Accordingly, the fact of motive against the accused-appellants, which prompted them to commit the alleged crime, has been fully established by the prosecution.

33. As far as the testimony of the sole eyewitness, informant Ram Dayal (PW-5), is concerned, upon perusal and analysis of the entire evidence, it is found that there is no material or major contradiction in his testimony that could render his deposition doubtful or suspicious. In other words, the evidence of the sole eyewitness, Ram Dayal (PW-5), is wholly reliable. Further, the evidence of Ram Dayal (PW-5) inspires confidence, as the fact of motive against the accused-appellants for the commission of the alleged crime has been established through his testimony.

34. The presence of the sole eyewitness, informant Ram Dayal (PW-5), is further corroborated by his testimony in Court as well as by the written report (Exhibit Ka-1). It is a natural and human tendency that the family members of a victim would not exonerate the real culprit or falsely implicate an innocent person in connection with the crime. Family members of the victim are generally inclined to ensure that the actual perpetrator is held accountable for the commission of the crime.

35. From the evidence of the sole eyewitness, informant Ram Dayal (PW-5), and the written report (Exhibit Ka-1), it is evident that all the accused-appellants, with a strong motive, hatched a premeditated plan. They were waiting for a suitable opportunity and when they found Indal Prasad, alone with his brother, the informant Ram Dayal (PW-5), they, in furtherance of their premeditated plan, jointly assaulted Indal Prasad with sword and kanta, thereby causing his murder.

36. The number, nature, and location of the injuries, as well as the nature of the weapons used in the commission of the alleged crime, establish that all three accused-appellants equally participated in the offence. Therefore, from the foregoing facts, it is evident that the accused-appellants acted with pre-planning, premeditation, and actively participated in the commission of alleged crime.

37. The Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Ashok Kumar v. State of Punjab; AIR 1977 Supreme Court 109 has held on Section 34 IPC that:

"the existence of a common intention amongst the participants in a crime is the essential element for application of this Section. It is not necessary that the acts of the several persons charged with commission of an offence jointly must be the same or identically similar. The acts may be different in character, but must have been actuated by one and the same common intention in order to attract the provision."

38. In the case of Babulal Bhagwan Khandare v. State of Maharashtra; AIR 2005 Supreme Court 1460, the Hon'ble Supreme Court in paragraph nos. 20 & 23 has held that:

"20. Section 34 has been enacted on the principle of joint liability in the doing of a criminal act. The Section is only a rule of evidence and does not create a substantive offence. The distinctive feature of the Section is the element of participation in action. The liability of one person for an offence committed by another in the course of criminal act perpetrated by several persons arises under Section 34 if such criminal act is done in furtherance of a common intention of the persons who join in committing the crime. Direct proof of common intention is seldom available and, therefore, such intention can only be inferred from the circumstances appearing from the proved facts of the case and the proved circumstances. In order to bring home the charge of common intention, the prosecution has to establish by evidence, whether direct or circumstantial, that there was plan or meeting of mind of all the accused persons to commit the offence for which they are charged with the aid of Section 34 be it pre-arranged or on the spur of moment; but it must necessarily be before the commission of the crime. The true contents of the Section are that if two or more persons intentionally do an act jointly, the position in law is just the same as if each of them has done it individually by himself.

23. The Section does not say "the common intention of all", nor does it say "and intention common to all". Under the provisions of Section 34 the essence of the liability is to be found in the existence of a common intention animating the accused leading to the doing of a criminal act in furtherance of such intention. As a result of the application of principles enunciated in Section 34 , when an accused is convicted under' Section 302 read with Section 34, in law it means that the accused is liable for the act which caused death of the deceased in the same manner as if it was done by him alone. The provision is intended to meet a case in which it may be difficult to distinguish between acts of individual members of a party who act in furtherance of the common intention of all or to prove exactly what part was taken by each of them."

39. In the case of Virendra Singh v. State of M.P.; (2010) 8 SCC 407, the Hon'ble Supreme Court in paragraph nos. 15, 16 and 17 has held that:

"15. Ordinarily, a person is responsible for his own act. A person can also be vicariously responsible for the acts of others if he had the common intention to commit the offence. The words "common intention" implies a pre-arranged plan and acting in concert pursuant to the plan. It must be proved that the criminal act was done in concert pursuant to the pre-arranged plan. Common intention comes into force prior to the commission of the act in point of time, which need not be a long gap. Under this section a pre-concert in the sense of a distinct previous plan is not necessary to be proved. The common intention to bring about a particular result may well develop on the spot as between a number of persons, with reference to the facts of the case and circumstances of the situation. Though common intention may develop on the spot, it must, however, be anterior in point of time to the commission of the crime showing a pre- arranged plan and prior concert. The common intention may develop in course of the fight but there must be clear and unimpeachable evidence to justify that inference.

16. The essence of the liability is to be found in the existence of a common intention animating the accused leading to the doing of a criminal act in furtherance of such intention. Undoubtedly, it is difficult to prove even the intention of an individual and, therefore, it is all the more difficult to show the common intention of a group of persons. Therefore, in order to find whether a person is guilty of common intention, it is absolutely necessary to carefully and critically examine the entire evidence on record. The common intention can be spelt out only from the evidence on record.

17. Section 34 is not a substantive offence. It is imperative that before a man can be held liable for acts done by another, under the provisions of this section, it must be established that there was common intention in the sense of a pre-arranged plan between the two and the person sought to be so held liable had participated in some manner in the act constituting the offence. Unless common intention and participation are both present, this section cannot apply."

40. Upon re-examination of the evidence in light of the Hon'ble Supreme Court's case laws as referred above, it is evident from the prosecution evidence that all the accused-appellants were motivated by a strong desire to avenge the murder of Omkar, son of accused-appellant Bhola Nath, acted pursuant to a pre-planned and pre-meditated design. They were concealing themselves in a sugarcane field adjoining a canal in wait for the deceased, Indal Prasad. When the deceased passed through the place of occurrence, all the accused-appellants, acting in furtherance of the common intention, attacked him with swords and kanta, inflicting grievous injuries on vital parts of his body and ultimately severing his head from his body. Thus, the prosecution evidence clearly establishes that the surviving appellant, Veerpal, along with the other appellants (now deceased), acted pursuant to a pre-planned and premeditated design, and that each of them actively participated in the commission of the alleged crime. The ingredients of Section 34 of Indian Penal Code are fully established, making all accused liable for the commission of alleged crime. The defence arguments lack merit in light of the evidence and also in light of the aforesaid decisions of Hon'ble Supreme Court.

41. From a perusal of the findings and reasoning given by the learned Trial Court in the judgment and order of conviction and sentence dated 16.05.1989, it is apparent that the learned Trial Court duly considered the question of motive and, after appreciating the evidence, found a strong motive against all the accused-appellants for the commission of alleged crime. The learned Trial Court recorded its findings based on the prosecution evidence, which, upon examination, are wholly in accordance with the evidence and the law.

42. The learned Trial Court placed full reliance on the evidence of informant, Ram Dayal (PW-5), and on the basis of his testimony and the motive as stated in the written report (Exhibit Ka-1), concluded that all the accused-appellants had a strong motive to commit the alleged crime. From the perusal of the Trial Court's reasoning, it is evident that the prosecution witnesses were discussed in a proper and legally sound manner, in accordance with settled principles of law. Accordingly, the findings and reasoning given by the learned Trial Court are found to be affirmable by this Court.

43. Thus, from the above discussions, we find no force or merit in the arguments advanced by the learned counsel for the surviving appellant, Veerpal. We further hold that the learned Trial Court has rightly appreciated the evidence adduced by the prosecution and correctly found the surviving appellant, Veerpal, along with the other appellants (now deceased), guilty under Section 302 read with Section 34 IPC. We do not find any illegality or infirmity in the Trial Court's appreciation of evidence.

44. The impugned judgment of conviction and sentence dated 16.05.1989, passed by the learned Trial Court under Sections 302 read with Section 34 IPC, is fully supported by the evidence available on record. The evidence conclusively establishes the participation of the surviving appellant, Veerpal, in the alleged crime with premeditation and prior planning, along with the other appellants (now deceased).

45. Thus, from the above discussions, it is evident that the essential ingredients of Section 34 of the IPC, namely, pre-planning, premeditation and participation, stand fully established and proved against the surviving accused-appellant, Veerpal. Since the prosecution evidence has conclusively proved the existence of pre-plan, premeditation and active participation on the part of the accused-appellant, Veerpal, he is consequently liable to be convicted for the offence and charge levelled against him by the prosecution.

46. Accordingly, the present criminal appeal lacks merit and is hereby rejected.

47. The accused-appellant, Veerpal, is presently on bail. His personal bond stands cancelled, and his sureties are discharged from their liabilities. He is directed to surrender before the Chief Judicial Magistrate, Pilibhit, within one month from today, to undergo the remaining sentence awarded by the Trial Court vide order dated 16.05.1989.

48. In the event the accused-appellant, Veerpal, fails to surrender before the Chief Judicial Magistrate, Pilibhit, within the stipulated period of one month, the Chief Judicial Magistrate, shall issue a non-bailable warrant to secure his arrest. Upon arrest, he shall be sent to jail to serve the remaining sentence in accordance with the Trial Court's order dated 16.05.1989.

49. The Chief Judicial Magistrate, Pilibhit, is directed to intimate this Court regarding compliance of this order.

50. Let a copy of this judgment be sent to the learned Trial Court along with the Trial Court record forthwith.

(2026) 2 ILRA 1027
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 03.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE AVNISH SAXENA, J.

Criminal Appeal No. 1458 of 1984

Ramphal & Ors. ...Appellants
Versus
State Of U.P. ...Respondent

Issue for consideration

Matter pertains to whether conviction of dacoity be made if less than five accused.

Headnotes

Indian Penal Code, 1860 - Ss. 391, 395 & 397- Dacoity - Conviction of less than five accused -Validity- Appreciation of evidence -Held, where after discharge and acquittal the number of accused facing trial was less than five -and even the charge was framed against four persons-conviction under S. 395 IPC is not sustainable; further, conviction of accused under S. 397 IPC despite acquittal under S. 25 Arms Act- and inconsistencies in evidence, including non-examination of star witnesses- unreliable independent witness-doubtful recovery and identification-absence of injuries despite alleged cross-firing- prosecution case doubtful-Conviction set aside and accused acquitted -Appeal allowed. (E-9)

Case Law Cited

1. Ram Lakhan Vs. State of Uttar Pradesh, (1983) 2 SCC 65
2. Jackaran Singh Vs. State of Punjab, AIR 1995 SC 2345
3. Dilawar Singh Vs. State of Delhi, (2007) 12 SCC 641
4. Jitendra Kumar Mishra alias Jittu Vs. State of Madhya Pradesh, (2024) 2 SCC 666

List of Acts

1. Arms Act, 1959
2. Indian Penal Code, 1860

List of Keywords

Dacoity; inconsistencies in evidence; non-examination of star witnesses.

Appearances of parties

Counsel for Appellant(s) : Kamta Prasad, Shashank Kumar, Vinod Kumar Yadav, Virendra Singh Parmar
Counsel for Respondent(s) : A.G.A.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Avnish Saxena, J.)

1. Heard Sri Mahesh Prasad Yadav, Sri Kamta Prasad, learned counsel appearing for appellant and learned A.G.A. for the State.

2. The present criminal appeal has been preferred by two appellants, namely, Ramphal s/o Sukh Ram and Dhuram s/o Baij Nath, under Section 374 CrPC, as they have been found guilty for offence under Section 395 IPC for which both the accused were directed to undergo rigorous imprisonment for a term of ten years. The accused-appellant Ramphal is further found guilty for offence under Section 397 IPC and sentenced to undergo rigorous imprisonment for three years. For the accused Ramphal, both the sentences were directed to run concurrently. This conviction and sentence has been recorded by the trial court (Special Sessions Judge, Jhansi) by judgment and sentence dated 24.04.1984 in Sessions Trial No.43 of 1977 (State Vs. Hindupat and others), arose out of Case Crime No.10 of 1975 and Case Crime No.11 of 1975 for offences under Sections 395, 397, 307 IPC and Section 25 of Arms Act, respectively, Police Station Garotha, District Jhansi.

3. The prosecution case is such that a police party consisting HC Jayatram A.P., C.A.P. Nathuram, C.A.P. Thakur Prasad and Constable Ram Kishan, who were posted for dacoity guard duty at village Tharro, when got a tip off at 11:30 a.m. on 19.01.1975 from Hardass, a village watchman of village Para that 8 to 9 miscreants extorting the passersby near Pearghata at Jhansi. Believing the tip off, the police party has taken Kalka Singh Thakur and Harju Gadaria from village Tharro and also taken the police persons from out post Kakarbai, namely, H.C. 759 C.P. Krishan Pal, C 456 Ram Awdhar, C 507 Mahabir Singh C and 898 Brindavan. They also took Nepal Singh, whom they met in the way to the place of incident Pearghata. The police persons reached the place of incident and saw that 9 persons were extorting passersby. They were seen equipped with one rifle, two SBBL gun, two country made pistols, three axes and one lathi and were spotted making personal search of two persons namely, Lakhan Singh of village Dhanora and Baldev Prasad

Khare, a forest guard. The police party intercepted, one of the miscreants has raised alarm that the police has arrived, on which the miscreants have challenged the police persons and cross-firing begun. After indiscriminate firing on each other, the firing was stopped from the side of accused and two of the accused, namely, Ramphal and Dhuram have surrendered. Rest accused had sprinted away. The incident is of 19th January,1975 occurred at 12:30 p.m. The F.I.R. was registered the next date on 20th January,1975, at 12:15 p.m.

4. The memo of arrest and recovery (Exhibit Ka-1) disclosed that the two accused-appellants, namely, Dhuram s/o Baij Nath and Ramphal s/o Sukh Ram have surrendered before the police party and in their disclosure statements, the name of seven other accused has been mentioned in the memo, they are Hindupat Lodhi, Ramratan, Moolchand Nai, Tijua Teli, Halkua Chamar, Sukhainya Chamar, Ajuddi Chamar, who were stated to be present at the place of incident committing dacoity. It is further disclosed in the memo that Nandram Yadav of village Goti had called them to commit dacoity. From the personal search of Ramphal, the country made pistol 12 bore, two live and five empty cartridges as well as the booty was recovered; whereas from the personal search of Dhuram, jewellery and watch as booty had been recovered.

5. During the investigation, the identification parade of four accused, namely, Ramratan, Hindupat Lodhi, Ramphal and Dhuram has been carried out.

6. After the investigation, the charge sheet is submitted against six accused, namely, Hindupat Lodhi, Ramratan, Ramphal, Dhuram, Sukhainya Chamar and Tijua Teli.

7. It is mentioned in the judgment that Sukhainya Chamar and Tijua Teli, both had been discharged.

8. By the impugned judgment, accused Hindupat Lodhi and Ramratan were not found guilty of offence under Section 395 IPC and they have been acquitted. Accused Ramphal was also not found guilty for offence under Section 25 of Arms Act. Hence, acquitted for the said offence.

9. The learned counsel for the appellant has submitted that there is delay in lodging the F.I.R. The accused, who are only four in numbers, after discharge of two accused out of six, could not be charged for the offence of dacoity. Further submits that the police witnesses were interested witnesses, who have falsely implicated the accused-appellants, because the accused-appellants were sitting in a dhaba and enjoying their tea, when some police persons came there and asked them to leave, on which, there was altercation between the accused-appellants and the police persons, due to which the police persons have falsely implicated the accused-appellants in a false case of dacoity. Further submits that despite firing, no one has suffered any gun shot injury. Though, the accused Ramphal was beaten by the police persons and was injured, but his injuries were shown to be caused due to accidental slip in cross firing. Further submits that the two of the star witnesses, namely, Lakhan Singh and Baldev Prasad Khare, have not been examined in the court, who were spotted being extorted by the accused during the dacoity. The learned counsel has relied on the case of Ram Lakhan Vs. State of Uttar Pradesh1 on the point of trial of less than five accused for offence under Section 395 IPC; the case of Jackaran Singh Vs. State of Punjab2 on the point of recovery; and the case of Dilawar Singh Vs. State of Delhi3, on the point of conviction under Section 397 I.P.C.

10. Per contra, learned A.G.A. for State submits that the charge sheet is submitted against six persons. It is the judicial process that the two accused have been discharged and two were acquitted. As such, the trial of offence of dacoity was rightly initiated against the accused. He further submits that the accused-appellant were committing dacoity, who have been identified by the persons of the vicinity and from their possession, the ornaments and watches have been recovered, which were identified by the owners of the articles. He further submits that the prosecution has produced 6 witnesses, namely, P.W.-1 Jayatram Singh, who is the informant and was leading the police party; P.W.-2 Nepal Singh, who is an independent witnesses; P.W.-3 Angad Singh the Investigating Officer; P.W.-4 Meghraj, P.W.-5 Parmeshwari, who have identified their articles recovered from accused; and P.W.-6 Kuldeep Singh, the witness of arrest of Hindupat. The prosecution witnesses have not only proved the documentary evidences, which are the memo of recovery, F.I.R., site plan, memo of identification of accused and booty, but have also proved the material Exhibit Ka.1 to 20, which have been recovered from the accused-appellants. Further submits that the accused-appellants has not led any defence evidence. As such, submits that the appeal deserves to be dismissed.

11. This Court has taken into consideration the rival submissions made by the parties and perused the record.

12. The points of concern in the present appeal are:-

12.1 Whether less than five miscreants could be convicted for the offence of dacoity under Section 395 of Indian Penal Code?

12.2 Whether the single accused-appellant, Ramphal could be convicted under Section 397 of Indian Penal Code for the offence of attempt to cause death or grievous hurt, while committing dacoity although the trial court has acquitted the accused-appellant Ramphal for offence under Section 25 of Arms Act, which implies that Ramphal was not carrying any weapon, which may cause death or grievous hurt?

12.3 Whether the trial court has rightly appreciated the evidence adduced by the prosecution and convicted the two accused-appellants, while acquitted two accused?

13. The points of concern taken hereinabove have been dealt with concomitantly, because the matter is not only about the conviction of two accused-appellants for dacoity, but also about the appreciation of evidence by the trial court.

14. Section 391 of Indian Penal Code, provides the definition of dacoity, reiterates underneath:-

"When five or more persons conjointly commit or attempt to commit a robbery, or where the whole number of persons conjointly committing or attempting to commit a robbery, and persons present and aiding such commission or attempt, amount to five or more, every person so committing, attempting or aiding, is said to commit "dacoity".

The above definition has its genesis from the word robbery defined under Section 390 of Indian Penal Code, which provides that all robbery are either theft or extortion. The definition is provided underneath:-

"390. Robbery."In all robbery there is either theft or extortion.

When theft is robbery."Theft is "robbery" if, in order to the committing of the theft, or in committing the theft, or in carrying away or attempting to carry away property obtained by the theft, the offender, for that end voluntarily causes or attempts to cause to any person death or hurt or wrongful restraint, or fear of instant death or of instant hurt, or of instant wrongful restraint.

When extortion is robbery."Extortion is "robbery" if the offender, at the time of committing the extortion, is in the presence of the person put in fear, and commits the extortion by putting that person in fear of instant death, of instant hurt, or of instant wrongful restraint to that person or to some other person, and, by so putting in fear, induces the person so put in fear then and there to deliver up the thing extorted.

Explanation."The offender is said to be present if he is sufficiently near to put the other person in fear of instant death, of instant hurt, or of instant wrongful restraint. "

15. The prosecution case deals with extortion committed by robbers, who are more than five in numbers. As per prosecution, the number of robbers was nine, against whom the F.I.R. has been lodged.

16. The robbery has allegedly been committed at 12:30 p.m. on 19.01.1975, reflected from Exhibit Ka-2, the first information report lodged by P.W.-1 Jayatram Singh.

17. The initial investigation was conducted by P.W.-3 Angad Singh, who was the first Investigating Officer and prepared the site plan Exhibit Ka-3, he has not conducted subsequent investigation, as the investigation has been transferred to S.O. The prosecution has not produced other Investigating Officer(s), who had conducted subsequent investigation and submitted the charge sheet.

18. The impugned judgment reveals that Sukhainya Chamar and Tijua Teli were discharged by the trial court. This shows that the number of accused, who had to face trial, then became four.

19. On 19.06.1981, two separate charges have been framed against four accused. The accused-appellant Ramphal has been charged for offence under Sections 395, 397 IPC and Section 25(1)(a) of Arms Act, whereas the other accused Dhuram and the two acquitted accused were charged for offence under Section 395 IPC This shows that at the time charge of dacoity and attempt to cause death or grievous hurt while committing dacoity has been framed against four persons.

20. In the case of Ram Lakhan (Supra), Hon"ble the Supreme Court while allowing the appeal against conviction of the appellant for offence under Section 395 IPC considered that the accused-appellants, who are convicted for dacoity were less than five. The relevant paragraph is reiterated underneath:-

"In this appeal the appellant has been convicted under Section 395, IPC, 1860 and sentenced to 7 years' rigorous imprisonment. In our opinion this appeal must succeed on a short point. It appears from the FIR that only nine persons viz. 1. Ramroop Kurmi, 2. Ramdhoop Kurmi, 3. Rambodh Kurmi, 4. Ram Noker Kurmi, 5. Sampuran Kurmi, 6. Rambachan Kurmi, 7. Ram Lakhan Kurmi, 8. Ram Ujagir Kurmi, and 9. Ram Pyare Kurmi have participated in the dacoity which is alleged to have been committed in the course of which ornaments, grains and other property were looted away. The trial court had acquitted five persons and convicted four. But on appeal the High Court acquitted the remaining three persons and convicted Ram Lakhan the present appellant. The position now is that out of nine persons named in the FIR who are alleged to have participated in the dacoity Ram Lakhan is alone left. Before an offence under Section 395 can be made out there must be an assembly of five or more persons. On the findings of the courts below it is manifest that only one person is now left. In these circumstances therefore the appellant cannot be convicted for an offence under Section 395. The High Court has not found that Ram Lakhan was guilty of any overt act so as to bring his case within any other minor offence. For these reasons therefore the conviction and sentence imposed on the appellant are set aside and he is acquitted of offence charged under Section 395. The appeal is accordingly allowed. The accused is on bail. His bail-bonds are cancelled."

21. In the present case even the charge is framed for dacoity against less than five accused. Therefore, the appeal deserves to be allowed on this ground alone, but the evidence adduced requires further consideration to see whether the accused-appellant could be convicted for minor offence.

22. So far as, the role of accused-appellant Ramphal, for offence of attempt to cause death or grievous hurt by using deadly weapon, is concerned, the trial judge has not convicted the accused-appellant Ramphal for offence under Section 25 of Arms Act on the ground that the prosecution sanction is not a proper sanction to prosecute the accused-appellant for the offence of Arms Act. Hence, acquitted the accused-appellant Ramphal for the offence under Section 25(1)(a) of Arms Act, but during appreciation of evidence, the trial judge has specifically made observation that the accused-appellant Ramphal was carrying a country made pistol, which has been proved by P.W.-1 Jayatram Singh and P.W.-2 Nepal Singh, an independent witness, who was made the witness of recovery of the accused-appellant Ramphal and Dhuram. P.W.-2 Nepal Singh is projected as a public witness, who is an ex-Army man and was taken by the police party, while he was on the way leading to Kotra from Dhanora via Pearghata was made an independent witness. In his examination-in-chief, he has stated specifically that he met the police persons at 11:00 a.m. on the date of incident. He has also stated that in the way, he met two Hawaldars, six constables, Kalika and Harju. He submits that by that time, when he met the police party, the police party was proceeding to arrest the miscreants at Pearghata and he has accompanied them on their request. The trial judge has not taken into consideration a vital point that the tip off was made to the police by one Hardass, who is village watchman of village Para at about 11:30 a.m. stating that 8 to 9 miscreants were robbing the passersby near Pearghata. The time of giving the tip off is specifically mentioned in memo of recovery Exhibit Kha-1 proved by P.W.-1 Jayatram Singh. It is the cross-examination of P.W.-1 Jayatram Singh and P.W.-2 Nepal Singh, which reveals that the place of incident, which is Pearghata, situated at a distance from where the tip off is given. The time of intimation and the time of meeting of Nepal Singh with the police party is inconsistent to each other and shows that Nepal Singh as framed witness., it is also because P.W.-2 stated in cross-examination that there is another way to reach Kotra from Dhanora, via Barmain and Pratappura, on which route Pearghata does not come in way. There is no plausible reply that why this witness has chosen a longer route to reach his house.

23. The prosecution has produced two witnesses, namely, P.W.-4 Meghraj and P.W.-5 Parmeshwari, both are students. They have also stated in their statements that the incident occurred at 11:00 a.m., when their belongings have been looted. They are the witnesses, who have identified their belongings, recovered from the accused. The pant, shirt and socks of Meghraj was identified by him, which is recovered from the accused Ramphal. He has also identified accused Hindupat and Ramphal during the test identification parade carried out at the jail, but the trial judge has acquitted Hindupat and convicted Ramphal. There is nothing in the prosecution case to show that the particulars of pant, shirt and socks mentioned in the memo of recovery, but the same has been identified by the P.W.-4, Meghraj. How the clothes have been identified; what was the colour of the clothes and the size of the clothes is nowhere reflected in the police papers. This shows a sham identification parade of the accused-appellant and the material.

24. Moreover, P.W.-6 Kuldeep Singh, who was made a witness of arrest of Hindupat has turned hostile and denied the arrest in his presence. Moreover, the prosecution has not produced two star independent witnesses, namely, Lakhan Singh and Baldev Prasad Khare, who have been projected as the victims, who have been searched by the accused while committing dacoity and the police has reached there, rescued the two victims and arrested the accused. The victim Lakhan Singh is of village Dhanora and victim Baldev Prasad Khare, is the forest guard. No reason has been attributed for not producing these two star witnesses by the prosecution during the trial. Moreover, in the cross firing between the accused and police persons, neither side suffered gun shot injuries.

25. Even victims from whom their belongings have been looted, did not suffer any injury.

26. It could not be out of place to mention that the site plan of the place of incident of dacoity shows that there is forest on both the sides of road. Out of 9 miscreants, only two accused-appellants have themselves surrendered and have not sprinted away along with the other miscreants, shows substance in the defence taken by the accused-appellants in their statements under Section 313 CrPC, that they were enjoying tea at a hotel and had an altercation with police person due to which they have been framed in a false case of dacoity.

27. In the case of Jitendra Kumar Mishra alias Jittu Vs. State of Madhya Pradesh4 Hon"ble the Supreme Court held that an appellate court should be slow in interfering with conviction recorded by courts below but where evidence on record indicates that prosecution has failed to prove guilt of accused beyond reasonable doubt and that a plausible view, different from one expressed by trial court, can be taken. The appellate could should not shy away in giving benefit of doubt to the accused.

28. Therefore, the appellants cannot be held guilty for offence of dacoity or any other minor offence and liable to be acquitted for the offence of dacoity and attempt to cause death or grievous hurt, while committing dacoity, as the trial court has incorrectly adduced evidence. Thus, the judgment of conviction dated 24.04.1984 in Sessions Trial No.43 of 1977 (State Vs. Hindupat and others), arose out of Case Crime No.10 of 1975 for offences under Sections 395, 397 IPC, Police Station Garotha, District Jhansi, is set aside.

29. The appeal is allowed. The accused-appellants Ramphal and Dhuram are acquitted of offence under Sections 395, 397 IPC. Appellants are on bail. Their bail bonds are discharged. The material Exhibit Nos. 1 to 20, shall be disposed of as per law.

30. Record be remitted back forthwith alongwith the copy of judgment.

(2026) 2 ILRA 1034
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 27.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE MANOJ BAJAJ, J.

Criminal Appeal No. 1550 of 2021

Surajpal ...Appellant
Versus
State Of U.P. ...Respondent

Issue for consideration

Matter pertains to offences punishable under Sections 376-D.

Headnotes

Indian Penal Code-Sections 376-D, 506; Protection of Children from Sexual Offences Act, 2012-Section 6 - occurrence was witnessed by younger daughter of the complainant- but she was not examined as a witness - ocular version of the prosecutrix-victim not supported from the medical evidence including the FSL report - no any mark of injury - hymen of the prosecutrix was old torn and healed - clothes worn by the prosecutrix were not collected - evidence adduced by the prosecution itself throws serious doubts - charges against the accused have not been proved beyond shadow of a doubt - false implication -Appeals allowed. (E-9)

Case Law Cited

Nil.

List of Acts

1. Indian Penal Code
2. Protection of Children from Sexual Offences Act, 2012

3. Code of Criminal Procedure

List of Keywords

Ocular version; medical evidence; no mark of injury; old torn and healed; torn clothes were not collected; serious doubts; not proved beyond shadow of a doubt; false implication.

Appearances of parties

Counsel for Appellant(s) : Rajeev Sawhney, Veerendra Singh, Vipin Gangwar Counsel for Respondent(s) : G.A., Girja Shanker Sen, Krishna Dutt Awasthi.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Manoj Bajaj, J.)

1. Appellants namely, Surajpal and Udai Pal are aggrieved against the judgment of conviction and order of sentence dated 16.12.2020 passed by Additional Sessions Judge, Bareilly in Criminal Case No. 249 of 2020, arising out of Case Crime No. 217 of 2015, registered at Police Station Aonla, District Bareilly, whereby they have been convicted under Sections 376-D, 506 I.P.C., and sentenced to twenty years rigorous imprisonment under Section 376-D I.P.C. alongwith fine of Rs.25,000/- each; three years imprisonment under Section 506 I.P.C. along with fine of Rs.1,000/- each, and in the event of default, they have been ordered to undergo further imprisonment of three months, and fifteen days, respectively. The sentences have been ordered to run concurrently.

2. The subject F.I.R. was registered on the basis of a written complaint dated 9.6.2015 submitted by Dharmpal to Station House Officer Aonla, District Bareilly, who alleged that he is a resident of village Panvariya, Police Station Aonla, District Bareilly. On 8.6.2015 at around 5 p.m., his daughter was bringing fodder from the village, and on the way co-villagers namely, Surajpal s/o Dilsukh and Udai Pal s/o Kannhiya Lal being drunk had pulled his daughter with bad intentions in the fields of Rakesh. They both had forcibly torn the clothes of his daughter and raped her. When complainant's daughter cried and attempted to get herself released, Surajpal gagged her mouth with a cloth and after raping her, they both left his daughter naked in the fields, and also threatened her, if, she would disclose it to anyone, the consequences would be adverse. His daughter wearing torn clothes reached home and narrated the incident to him. The complainant described the age of the victim as 14 years and requested for registering a case. Broadly, on these allegations, F.I.R. bearing Case Crime No. 217 of 2015 was registered against the accused persons for alleged commission of offences punishable under Sections 376(2)(g), 506 I.P.C. and Section 4 Protection of Children from Sexual Offences Act, 2012.

3. After registration of the F.I.R., the investigation in the case was conducted by Investigating Officer namely, Anoop Singh Rathi, Sub Inspector, who recorded the statements of complainant-Dharmpal, his wife-Jeera Devi, prosecutrix and Rakesh. During investigation, the victim's medical report dated 11.6.2015 was collected and site plan was also prepared. The statements of other formal witnesses were also recorded and finally the charge sheet was filed against the accused persons under Section 173(2) Cr.P.C. thereby sending them to face prosecution for commission of offences punishable under Sections 376-D, 506 I.P.C. and Section 6 Protection of Children from Sexual Offences Act, 2012.

4. Thereafter, the case was committed to the Special Court and vide order dated 11.5.2016 the charges against the accused persons were framed for alleged commission of offences punishable under Sections 376, 506 I.P.C. and Section 6 Protection of Children from Sexual Offences Act, 2012. The appellants-accused pleaded not guilty and claimed trial

5. The prosecution in order to prove the guilt of the accused persons had examined seven witnesses namely, Dharmpal (P.W.-1), Victim (P.W.-2), Jeera Devi-mother of victim (P.W.-3), Dr. Shilpi Kesarwani (P.W.-4), Constable Ranveer Singh (P.W.-5), Dr. S.S. Chauhan (P.W.-6) and Investigating Officer Anoop Singh Rathi (P.W.-7). Besides, the prosecution also adduced documentary evidence i.e. written complaint (Exb.Ka-1), statement of victim under Section 164 Cr.P.C. (Exb.Ka-2), medical report (Exb.Ka-3), supplementary medical report (Exb.Ka-4), pathology report (Exb.Ka-5), FSL (Exb. Ka-6), check report (Exb.Ka-7), G.D. entry (Exb.Ka-8), age certificate (Exb.Ka-9), Site Plan (Exb.Ka-10), Charge Sheet (Exb.Ka-11).

6. After completion of the prosecution evidence, the separate statements of accused-appellants were recorded under Section 313 Cr.P.C. on 1.2.2020, who denied the prosecution evidence. However, no defence evidence was adduced by the accused persons. Later, vide order dated 19.10.2020 the charge under Section 376 I.P.C. was altered and substituted with Section 376-D I.P.C.

7. Upon analyzing the prosecution case, evidence and other material on record, the trial court proceeded to convict the appellants-accused under Sections 376-D, 506 I.P.C. and Section 6 Protection of Children from Sexual Offences Act, 2012 and awarded substantive sentence of twenty years rigorous imprisonment. Aggrieved against the judgment of conviction and order of sentence dated 16.12.2020, the appellants preferred these separate appeals.

8. Mr. Rahul Saxena, learned counsel for the appellants assisted by Mr. Vipin Gangwar, Advocate has argued that the alleged occurrence dated 8.6.2015 is proved by three witnesses, who are prosecutrix and her parents, but their testimones contain major discrepancies and the same have been ignored by the trial court while convicting the appellants. Learned counsel submits that according to witnesses, P.W.-1, P.W.-3 (parents of the prosecutrix) and P.W.-2 (prosecutrix), the occurrence was witnessed by younger daughter of the complainant, but she was not examined as a witness. Learned counsel submits that ocular version of the prosecutrix-victim does not find any support from the medical evidence including the FSL report, therefore, under such circumstances it cannot be said that the prosecution has proved the charges against the accused-appellants beyond doubt.

9. Learned counsel for the appellants emphasized that the wife of complainant's nephew namely, Pappu had eloped with appellant-Surajpal, therefore, because of this enmity, the complainant falsely implicated Surajpal and his nephew Udai Pal. According to Mr. Rahul Saxena, learned counsel, the material witness prosecutrix (P.W.-2) admitted in her cross-examination that wife of Pappu (complainant's nephew) had eloped with Surajpal. Besides, learned counsel for the appellants has argued that though according to the prosecution witnesses, the clothes worn by the prosecutrix were torn by the accused persons, but during investigation, no such evidence was collected or produced before the trial court. Learned counsel for the appellants continued to point out the discrepancies in the prosecution case and finally submitted that the impugned judgment of conviction dated 16.12.2020 has been passed by the trial court by brushing aside the defects in the prosecution case. He prays that the impugned judgment of conviction as well as order of sentence dated 16.12.2020 be set aside, and the appellants be acquitted.

10. On the other hand, Mr. H.P. Gupta, learned A.G.A. assisted by Mr. Sanjeev Kumar Maurya, learned counsel for the complainant has argued that the offence committed by the accused-appellants is serious and the material witness P.W.-2 (prosecutrix) clearly testified to name both the accused persons as well as their involvement in commission of crime against her. Learned counsel for the complainant has argued that the deposition of P.W.-1 and P.W.-3 (parents of prosecutrix) has also supported the prosecution case and merely, because younger sister of the prosecutrix was not examined as a witness, this alone would not be sufficient to doubt the prosecution version. Learned counsel for the complainant has referred to the testimony of P.W.-4 Dr. Shilpi Kersarwani and argued that she proved the medical examination report dated 11.6.2015 (Exb.Ka-3) and according to this witness, she found the evidence of sexual intercourse with the prosecutrix as her hymen was torn. Similarly, learned A.G.A. has also argued on the similar lines to contend that according to P.W.-6 Dr. S.S. Chauhan, the age of the prosecutrix was approximately 16 years, therefore, her testimony alone is enough to hold the accused guilty of the alleged offences committed against her. Lastly, learned counsel for the respondents submitted that the trial court has carefully analyzed the prosecution evidence in a proper manner and rightly drew the conclusion that the prosecution has proved the charges against the accused beyond doubt, therefore, according to learned counsel, the impugned judgment of conviction as well as order of sentence dated 16.12.2020 do not call for any interference by this Court in exercise of appellate jurisdiction. They prayed that both the appeals be dismissed.

11. Learned counsel for the parties have been heard and with their assistance, case file and the trial court record has been perused carefully.

12. According to the complainant-P.W.-1, when his 14 years old minor daughter (prosecutrix) after collecting fodder was returning back home, the accused persons namely, Surajpal and Udai Pal waylaid and dragged her in the fields of Rakesh and raped her in a pit. The alleged occurrence dated 8.6.2015 was reported to the police on 9.6.2015 by P.W.-1 through written complaint, and the entire case of the prosecution rests on the testimony of three witnesses i.e. complainant (P.W.-1), prosecutrix (P.W.-2) and mother of prosecutrix (P.W.-3). According to these material witnesses, the occurrence took place at 5 p.m. in an open place and Dr. Shilpi Kesarwani was examined as P.W.-4, who had medically examined the prosecutrix and proved the medical report (Exb.Ka-3). Mr. Ranveer Singh (P.W.-5) is a formal witness, who had registered the F.I.R. whereas Dr. S.S. Chauhan (P.W.-6) gave medical opinion (Exb. Ka-9) about the age of the prosecutrix as approximately 16 years. Mr. Anoop Singh Rathi (P.W.-7) is the investigating officer, who conducted the investigation and collected evidence during investigation and finally submitted the charge sheet (Exb.Ka-11) against the accused persons.

13. The entire case of the prosecution is to be tested on the strength of the material witnesses P.W.-1, P.W.-2 and P.W.-3, and amongst them, the prosecutrix (P.W.-2) is the prime witness against whom the alleged crime was committed. A perusal of the deposition of P.W.-2 would show that she was accompanied by her younger sister-Shyamwati when the accused committed the crime, and according to the deposition of prosecutrix, the accused persons before committing rape had tied her sister. Thus, the sister of the prosecutrix was an eye witness, but strangely neither she was associated in investigation nor was later summoned as a prosecution witness to lend strength to the version of her elder sister (P.W.-2). The evidence on record including the testimony of investigating officer does not offer any explanation for not relying upon the material eye witness-Shyamwati.

14. Further, according to prosecutrix (P.W.-2), the clothes (Salwar, Kameej and Dupatta) worn by her were torn by accused persons before she was raped by both the accused. The prosecutrix in her deposition clearly mentioned that as a result of commission of crime by Surajpal, she had suffered injuries on her chest and back resulting in bleeding also, who further stated that the rape by Udai Pal too resulted in more injuries of similar nature to her. At this juncture, this Court deems it appropriate to analyze the medical evidence adduced by the prosecution to ascertain, if, it supports the prosecution case, but a reading of the medical examination report dated 11.6.2015 (Exb. Ka-3) does not indicate any mark of injury suffered by prosecutrix (P.W.-2). That apart, it also reveals that the hymen of the prosecutrix was old torn and healed.

15. A perusal of the evidence of Dr. Shilpa Kesarwani (P.W.-4) makes it abundantly clear that the prosecutrix had not suffered any injury as deposed by her. Thus, the contradiction between ocular version and the medical evidence also raises doubt in the prosecution case.

16. Most importantly, the clothes worn by the prosecutrix on the day of occurrence, which were torn by the accused persons were not collected by the Investigating Officer during investigation. According to prosecutrix (P.W.-2), she had left the torn clothes at the place of occurrence, who went back home naked and on the way, she was seen by approximately ten to twenty persons. As per the deposition of P.W.-1, the house of the prosecutrix is situated at a distance of 125 meters from the place of occurrence, therefore, it does not appeal to prudence that if, actually her younger sister accompanied her, she would not make any effort to cover the naked body of her elder sister.

17. The witnesses (P.W.-1 and P.W.-3) are at a variance with the version of prosecutrix as far as the clothes of the prosecutrix are concerned, who deposed before the trial court that she returned home wearing torn clothes. The investigating officer stated that the torn clothes of the prosecutrix were not handed over to him despite asked by him, therefore, this major discrepancy in the prosecution case also questions the truthfulness of the prosecution case.

18. The parents of the prosecutrix, who were examined as P.W.-1 and P.W.-3 are not the eye witness of the occurrence as they came to learn about the incident from the victim. Obviously, the place of occurrence was also not known to the complainant, but strangely the site plan (Exb.Ka-10) was prepared by Investigating Officer when he visited the spot with complainant (P.W.-1), and it is nowhere stated by him that he had earlier seen the place of occurrence with her daughter or her daughter had explained him about the place of occurrence. Besides, a careful look at the site plan (Exb.Ka-10) clarifies that point-B wherefrom the prosecutrix was pulled by accused persons is situated on a Kaccha thoroughfare connecting with the main road, and was taken to point-A-the pit where rape was committed. It is also mentioned in the site plan that the distance between two points B and A is ten steps, and as per P.W.-3 the people would often roam around near Kaccha thoroughfare, therefore, it is not believable that the crime committed by accused went unnoticed. Although, it is the case of the prosecution as well as prosecutrix that her younger sister was accompanying her when accused persons committed the crime, but the site plan does not at all indicate the spot where the younger sister was tied by the accused persons before committing the crime.

19. Thus, in view of the above discussions, this Court has no hesitation in holding that the evidence adduced by the prosecution itself throws serious doubts on this case and the charges against the accused have not been proved beyond shadow of a doubt. At this juncture, this Court finds that the defence set up by the accused that the complainant falsely implicated them in the case, because Surajpal had eloped with Pooja, wife of Pappu (complainant's nephew) seems probable as the suggestion in respect of elopement is admitted by prosecutrix in her cross-examination.

20. Now while examining the prosecution case conversely, it also becomes clear that the prosecution evidence on record is not at all inconsistent to the innocence of the accused persons. A perusal of the impugned judgment of conviction and order of sentence dated 16.12.2020 would show that the trial court has failed to appreciate the prosecution evidence in a proper manner by ignoring the material discrepancies in the prosecution case, therefore, it would be unsafe to maintain the conviction of the appellant.

21. Resultantly, the appeals succeed and the impugned judgment of conviction and order of sentence dated 16.12.2020 are hereby set aside, and the appellants Surajpal and Udai Pal are acquitted of all the charges. The accused-appellants are in jail, who shall be set free immediately, if, not required in any other offence/case.

22. The appeals are allowed. Record and proceedings be sent back to the trial court forthwith.

(2026) 2 ILRA 1039
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 02.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE CHANDRA DHARI SINGH, J.
THE HON'BLE CHAWAN PRAKASH, J.

Criminal Appeal No. 1565 of 1987

Achhaibarrs & Ors. ...Appellants
Versus
State Of U.P. ...Respondent

Issue for consideration

Effect of defects in investigation on the Trial and final judgment.

Headnotes

Indian Penal Code-sec. 302- gruesome murder - postmortem report-nine injuries- clot in the skull-evidence of PW-2, PW-3 and PW correctly marshalled and assessed by the learned Trial Court. Held, for certain defects in investigation, the accused cannot be acquitted- prosecution has successfully proved its case beyond all reasonable doubt. Appeal dismissed. (E-9)

Case Law Cited

1. State of Rajasthan Vs. Kalki (1981)2 SCC 752
2. State represented by Inspector of Police Vs. Saravanam and another, (2008) 17 SCC 587
3. State of U.P. Vs. M.K. Anthony, (1985)1 SCC 505
4. Shivaji Vs. State of Maharashtra, AIR 1973 SC 2622
5. Edakkandi Dineshan alias P. Dineshan and others Vs. State of Kerala, (2025) 3 SCC 273
6. Krishnappa Vs State of Karnataka (2012) 11 SCC237
7. Vinubhai Ranchhodbhai Patel Vs. Rajivbhai Dudabhai Patel (2018)7 SCC 743
8. Krishnappa Vs State of Karnataka (2012)11 SCC 237
9. Nitya Nand Vs. State of U.P. (2024)9 SCR 37

List of Acts

Indian Penal Code, 1860

List of Keywords

Member of an unlawful assembly; vicarious liability; gruesome murder; Severity of injuries; brutality of the attacks.

Appearances of parties

Counsel for Appellant(s) : Jaiprakash Narain Raj, Kamleshwar Singh, Pramod Shukla Counsel for Respondent(s) :A.G.A.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Chandra Dhari Singh, J.)

1. This criminal appeal has been filed against a judgment dated 27.05.1987 and order dated 01.6.1987 passed by the learned Sessions Judge, Basti in ST No. 184 of 1985, under Sections 147, 148 and 302/149 IPC, police station Bakhira, district Basti, whereby the learned Sessions Judge convicted and sentenced all the appellants namely Achhaibar (Ram Achhaibar), Phoolman, Sanwarey, Rajendra and Ram Dass to imprisonment for life under Section 302 read with Section 149 IPC. Accused Achhaibar, Ram Dass, Phoolman and Sanwarey were further convicted under Section 147 IPC and sentenced to one year"s rigorous imprisonment, whereas accused Rajendra was convicted and sentenced to two years rigorous imprisonment under Section 148 IPC.

2. However, all the sentences were directed to run concurrently.

Brief Facts

3. The facts that formed the bedrock of the present appeal, in short compass, are that a written report was given by the first informant Smt. Murta, wife of Bideshi Kurmi, resident of village Gajauli at the police station Bakhira at 09:30 hrs on 07.04.1985 mentioning therein that in the previous night, her husband after taking meals slept in the Khalihan in his portion of the land

(Chak). By the side of Chak, she also slept under a Chhappar. Her daughters were in her dwelling house in the village. Her Chak is adjacent to the west of Abadi. She and accused-Acchaibar resided in the same house on separate portion on account of private partition. Accused-Rajendra, son of Ram Dass alias Lalla resided in the adjacent house. The FIR further alleges that Chhappar of her house was pulled down for being repaired and replaced. At that time, there had been some altercations between her husband on one side and Acchaibar and his two sons Sanwarey and Phoolman on the other. Supporting the accused persons, Rajendra and his father Lalla also came there, abused and threatened her husband of dire consequences. Today at about 03:00-03:30 AM all the aforementioned accused persons came to her husband at Khalihan and started assaulting him by lathi and knife. On the painful cries of her husband, she woke up, rushed to the spot and raised an alarm for rescue. Naresh, son of Banshraj and Ram Shankar, son of Ganga , who were in the nearby field and Khalihan and some other persons of the village reached the spot. On arrival and challenged by the witnesses, the accused persons left the place abusing and extending threats. Accused-Rajendra was armed with knife whereas accused-Achhaibar, Sanwarey, Phoolman and Ram Dass were armed with lathis. Due to fear, they could be chased and they managed to escape. The accused were seen and recognized by the witnesses in the moonlit night. Leaving the dead body on the spot, she submitted written report at the police station Ext. Ka-2.

4. On the basis of the aforesaid report, a case was registered at case crime No. 57 of 1985, under sections 147, 148, 149 and 302 IPC, police station Bakhira, district Basti, Ext. Ka-3, which was entered in GD vide report No. 12 at 09:30 hours by Head Moharrir PW-5, Ram Jatan Chaudhary.

5. After the registration of the first information report, the law set into motion and investigation of the case was entrusted to PW-8, SI Vijai Pratap Singh. He reached the place of occurrence at 11:05 AM and found the dead body of Bideshi (hereinafter referred to as "the deceased) lying in his Chak in village Gajauli towards west. In that Chak a portion of the land was a Khalihan and in that Khalihan there was kooty (straw). The dead body was lying on that kooty. The wife of the deceased, who is the first informant of the case, was also there by the side of the dead body along with Chaukidar Ram Raj. He took the dead body in his possession and conducted inquest, Ext. Ka-8. He also prepared photo Lash and Challan Lash, Ext. Ka 9 and 10. He also prepared letter to CMO for postmortem. Thereafter the investigating officer handed over the dead body in sealed cover to Constables Rajendra Pratap Yadav and Sangram Prasad along with relevant documents including copy of the FIR and sample seal. On the pointing out of the first informant Smt. Murta and the witnesses, he inspected the spot and prepared site plan, Ext. Ka 14. He found blood on the spot on the heap of fresh kooty of wheat. He took sample of it and ordinary kooty (straw), put them in sealed cover and prepared memos thereof as marked as Ext. Ka-15. He also found blood on Kathri. He took a piece of bloodstained Kathri and quilt, put them in sealed cover and prepared memo Ext. Ka-16 and sent all these bloodstained articles to the Forensic Science Laboratory, Agra. He also recorded the statement of the first informant at the place of occurrence.

6. On 08.04.1985, the investigation of the case was taken over by the Station House Officer, SO Jai Prakash Mishra.

7. PW-7, Station House Officer Jai Prakash Mishra recorded the statements of witnesses Naresh and Ram Shankar etc. On 08.4.1985 On the information of the informer, he arrested the accused Achhaibar by the side of brick kiln of Sami Ullah. The accused was having fresh blood stains on his Dhoti and Banyan. He had blood stains on his lathi also. He took all these articles into custody and prepared memo Ext. Ka.5. Those articles, i.e. Dhoti, Bandi and piece of lathi are Ext. 1, 2 and 3. On 10.04.1985, he reported the matter to the Court for initiating proceedings under Section 82/83 against rest of the accused. On 12.04.1985, he raided the place of accused persons, but they could not be arrested. On 13.04.1985, he arrested accused-Rajendra, who confessed to his crime and agreed to get the weapon of assault recovered. Thereafter, he was brought to his house by the police where he took out the knife from Khaprail and handed over the same to the police, Ext. Ka-61. The shirt which was worn by the accused Rajendra was also having blood stains. He took into custody the same and prepared memo thereof Ext. Ka-5 and sent it to the Forensic Science Laboratory, Agra.

8. After culmination of investigation, the investigating officer submitted charge sheet against the accused Achhaibar, Sanwarey, Phoolman, Rajendra and Ram Dass.

9. As the case was exclusively triable by the Court of Sessions, learned Magistrate committed the case to the Court of Sessions, where case was registered as ST No. 184 of 1985. Learned Sessions Judge, Basti framed the charge against the accused Achhaibar, Sanwarey, Phoolman, Rajendra and Ram Dass under Sections 147 and 302 read with section 149 IPC. Accused Rajendra was further charged under Section 148 IPC. The charges were read over and explained to the accused in Hindi, who pleaded not guilty and claimed to be tried.

10. To bring home guilt of the appellant beyond the hilt, the prosecution has examined as many as eight witnesses of facts, out of whom PW-2, Smt Murta (the first informant of the case), PW-3 Shankar, PW-4 Ram Naresh and PW-6 Iqbal Husain are the witnesses of facts, whereas PW-1, Dr. P.N. Bansal, who conducted autopsy on the cadaver of the deceased, PW-5, Head Constable 69 Ram Jatan Chaudhary, Chik writer of the FIR, PW-7, SHO Jai Prakash Mishra, the second investigating officer and PW-8, SI Vijay Pratap Singh, who started the investigation, were formal witnesses.

11. PW-1, Dr. P.N. Bansal conducted autopsy on the cadaver of the deceased at 04:00 PM on 08.04.1985, which was brought by Constables Rajendra Prasad Yadav and Sangram Prasad in a sealed condition. On external examination, doctor found the age of the deceased about 55 years. Between the time of death and conducting postmortem examination is about 36 hours. The deceased was a man of average build. Rigor mortis had passed of the upper and lower limbs of the body. Doctor found the following ante-mortem injuries.

1. Lacerated wound 6 cm x 4 cm x bone deep left side face about 3 cm lateral to chin, underneath mandible broken into multiple pieces.

2. Lacerated wound 4 cm x 3 cm x bone deep at the lower lip tooth underneath broken and coming out, underneath mandible broken into multiple pieces.

3. Lacerated wound 4 cm x 3 cm x bone deep upper lip, underneath tooth coming out and upper joint broken into pieces.

4. Punctured wound 4 cm x 1 cm bone deep right side face near the root of the nose, underneath bone broken.

5. Punctured wound 4 cm x 2 cm x bone deep left side forehead on left eyebrow, underneath orbit. Parietal bone fractured into pieces.

6. Lacerated wound 4 cm x 2 cm into bone deep right side forehead 2 cm above the root of nose, underneath bone broken into multiple pieces.

7. Punctured wound 4 cm x 3 cm x bone deep right side forehead, right eyebrow orbit and parietal bone broken into multiple pieces.

8. Multiple abraded contusions 15 cm x 10 cm right side face downwards 4 cm below the eye and just below the right ear.

9. Multiple abraded contusion 20 cn x 12 cm left side face just below the left ear and 5 cm below the left eye.

12. On internal examination, doctor found blood clot in the skull. Membranes congested and lacerated. Blood clot present, brain congested, lacerated and blood clot present, mouth, teeth and tongue broken, stomach contained semi digested rice food material. In the opinion of the doctor, the deceased died as a result of shock and hemorrhage on account of ante mortem injuries. In the opinion of the doctor, injuries No. 4, 5 and 7 could have been caused by sharp edged weapon. Remaining injuries could have been caused by giving lathi blow by back side (Hura) of lathi or some other blunt object. He also opined that deceased died after 4-5 hours of taking food.

13. PW-2, Smt Murta, who is the first informant and wife of the deceased, in her examination-in-chief, which was recorded on 02.07.1986, stated that Sheo Saran, Surajbali and Jai Karan are real brothers. Bideshi is the son of Sheo Saran whereas Achhaibar is the son of Surajbali. Achhaibar"s sons are Phoolman and Sanwarey. Jai Karan"s son is Ram Dass and Ram Dass"s son is Rajendra. PW-2, Smt Murtha has further stated that she has only one son and two daughters. She has ancestral house in the village. In that house she along with her family (including the deceased), Surajbali and Jai Karan along with their family reside in separate portion. Two days prior to the murder of her husband, the roof of portion of the house of the deceased was pulled down for being thatched again. At that time there had been some altercation between the accused persons and the deceased, thereupon the accused threatened the deceased of dire consequences. The accused persons do not want to give share to the deceased in the house. At a distance of about two bighas towards the west, she had a Chak of three bighas. In that Chak, she had made a Madai, which does not have any door. More than a year before the date of occurrence, the deceased after doing work, slept on Khalihan. Inside the Chappar, she was also sleeping. This witnesses further stated that she along with her husband-deceased worked in Khalihan up to mid-night and thereafter they slept after taking food. It was a moonlit night. Deceased had taken rice, pulse and Chokha of Aalu. At about 2:00 AM, accused persons Lalla alias Ram Dass, Phoolman, Sanwarey, Achhaibar and Rajendra came there. Rajendra was armed with knife and rest of the accused persons were having lathis. Achhaibar overpowered her husband and sat over his chest, Rajendra assaulted him with knife whereas Sanwarey, Phoolman and Lalla assaulted with the back (end side) of lathis. On an alarm being raised by her, witnesses Shankar and Naresh rushed to the spot. On seeing the witnesses coming towards the place of occurrence, the accused persons after killing her husband fled away. Her husband died at the spot. In the early morning, village Pradhan, Chaukidar and several persons of the village came there. She got the report of the offence written by Iqbal Husain, Pradhan, who read over the same to her, on which she put her thump impression and sent the same to the police station through Shankar.

14. PW-3, Shankar, in his examination-in-chief, which was recorded on 08.07.1986, deposed that his house is at a distance of about 25 kaththas towards east from the Khalihan of the deceased. Between his house and the Khalihan of the deceased, there is no house. About 1-1/2 years back at about 3:00 AM, he was lying in his Khalihan, which is situated in front of his house and is at a distance of 35 Kathas from the Khalihan of the deceased. On hearing the shrieks of Smt. Murta that they were killing, he rushed to the Khalihan of the deceased . He was about 3 Kaththas from that place and saw the accused-Rajendra with knife and Achhaibar, Sanwarey, Phoolman and Ram Dass with back (end side) of lathis were assaulting the deceased. It was a moonlit night. The wife of the deceased was crying. Ram Naresh had also reached there. By the time they had reached the place two kaththas from the place of occurrence, the accused persons after killing the deceased fled away towards north. He was having a torch and was flashing it. Then, in the early morning when the persons of the village collected there, wife of the deceased got the report of the incident scribed by Pradhan, which was handed over to this witness for giving it to the police station. Accused and the deceased were living in the same building. They are residing separately on the basis of private partition. Three days" prior to the occurrence, the deceased had pulled down a portion of his roof (Khaprail) for being repaired. On that date accused persons had abused and threatened the deceased of dire consequences. He was present there at that time. By the time, when he reached near the deceased, he was dead.

15. PW-4, Ram Naresh, in his examination-in-chief, which was recorded on 09.07.1986, deposed that deceased was killed about 1-1/2 years ago. It was the season of harvesting and the month of Chaitra. He was sleeping in the field in the night. On that date, he had harvested crop and for the protection of that crop, he was sleeping there. At about 3:30 AM, wife of the deceased raised alarm "Bachao Bachao". He had not slept by that time. He responded to the call and went to the spot. On reaching there, he saw the deceased lying in his Khalihan on Kooty and wheat and accused Rajendra by knife, Ram Dass, Phoolman, Sanwarey and Achhaibar with the back (end side) of lathis were assaulting the deceased. It was a moonlit night. Shankar had also reached the spot. When he reached the place and was at a distance of about 1-1/2 kaththas from the deceased, the accused after killing the deceased fled away. He had a torch in his hand. He wanted to chase them, but on account of fear of knife and lathis, he did not chase them. After the accused left the place of occurrence, he saw that the deceased had died. The field in which he was sleeping at that time is at a distance of 20-25 Kaththas towards south-west from the place of occurrence.

16. PW-5, Head Constable Ram Jatan Chaudhary, in his examination-in-chief deposed that on 07.04.1985, he was posted as Head Muharrir at police station Bakhira. On that date he had prepared Chik FIR, Ext. Ka-3 on the report brought by Shankar lal, which was entered in GD vide report No. 12 at 09:30 hours.

17. PW-6, Iqbal Husain in his examination-in-chief, which was recorded on 18.07.1986, deposed that he is the Gram Pradhan of Gajrauli. The village where he lives and village Gajrauli come under the same Gram Sabha. In the morning of 07.04.1985, on the dictation of Smt. Murta, wife of the deceased, he wrote and read over the report, on which after putting her signature, she had given it to Shankar for being handed over at the police station. Daroga Ji (police inspector) came to village and conducted inquest, on which he also put his signature. The Police Inspector also collected bloodstained wheat Kutty, simple Kutty, bloodstained kathri, Rajai (quilt) and Taat and made memos thereof, on which this witness also put his signature.

18. The evidences of PW-8, SI Vijay Pratap Singh, who conducted initial investigation and PW-7, SO Jai Prakash Mishra, who conducted remaining investigation and submitted charge sheet, have already been discussed above.

19. After the closure of the prosecution evidence, statements of the accused were recorded under Section 313 Cr.P.C. in which all the accused persons have denied the charges and stated that witnesses are deposing against them due to enmity. However, they claimed to be tried.

20. Accused-Achhaibar further stated that he was arrested from his house and police took his shirt. Lathi was not recovered from him. He also stated that when he was arrested, police had sprinkled nail polish on his shirt.

21. Accused in his defence has also produced one Raja Ram as DW-1.

22. DW-1, Raja Ram, in his examination-in-chief has deposed that he lives in village Gajrauli. Accused and the first informant also live in the same village. Police has not recovered any knife from the accused. Police came to the village and took his thumb impression on a blank paper.

23. Learned Sessions Judge, Basti after hearing the learned counsel for the parties and assessing, evaluating and scrutinizing the evidence on record, convicted and sentenced the accused-appellants as indicated herein above.

24. Hence, this appeal.

25. Pursuant to the order of the Court 09.09.2025, appeal filed on behalf of appellant Nos. 1, 4 and 5 namely Achhaibar (Ram Achhaibar), Rajendra and Ram Dass stand abated, whereas vide dated 13.01.2025, appeal on behalf of Appellant No. 2, Phoolman stand abated.

26. Now, this Court is deciding the appeal on behalf of appellant No. 3, Sanwarey.

Submissions on behahlf of the appellants

27. Learned counsel for the appellants submits that there are material contradictions in the statements of the witnesses.

28. Learned counsel for the appellant further submits that PW-3 Shankar and PW-4, Ram Naresh deposed that they were having torch, but no memo was prepared by the investigating officer.

. Learned counsel for the appellants also submits that Investigation is tainted inasmuch as the investigating officer in his deposition submits that when he arrested the accused Rajendra, blood was found on his clothes, whereas in the report of the Forensic Science Laboratory, Agra no blood was found on his shirt, which belied the whole prosecution story.

30. Learned counsel for the appellant lastly submits that accused-Rajendra was assigned the role of causing injuries with knife whereas the present appellant was assigned lathi and most of the injuries were caused by knife and, therefore, the appellant cannot be held responsible for the injuries resulting in the death of the deceased.

31. The incident took place in the night and there was insufficient light to recognize the accused.

Submissions on behalf on the State

32. On the other hand, learned Additional Government Advocate submits that the contradictions pointed out by the learned counsel for the appellant is very trivial in nature. Learned Additional Government Advocate further submits that non-making of memo of the torch, which PWs 3 and 4 were having at the time when they reached at the spot is the lapse on the part of the investigating officer, the benefit of the same cannot be extended to the accused.

33. He also pointed out that the appellant was armed with lathi and most of the injuries were caused by lathis. He also submits that since, it was the moonlit night, the accused could be easily identified by the witnesses.

34. Heard Sri jai Prakash Narain Raj, learned counsel appearing on behalf of the appellant, Sri S.N. Tewari, learned AGA appearing on behalf of the State and perused the evidences on record.

Analysis and Conclusion

35. The first contention of learned counsel for the appellant is with regard to contradictions in the statement of PW-2 Smt Murta and PW-3, Shankar and PW-4 Ram Naresh. The contradictions pointed out by the learned counsel for the appellant is that PW-1, Smt. Murta in her deposition has stated that accused Achhaibar sat on the chest of the deceased and accused Rajendra was assaulting the deceased with knife, Sanwarey, Phoolman and Lalla with the back (end side) of lathis, whereas PW-3 Shankar and PW-4 in their deposition have not stated that on hearing the shrieks of Smt. Murta, when they rushed to the spot, they saw that accused-Rajendra was assaulting the deceased with knife, whereas accused Achhaibar, Sanwarey, Phoolman and Ram Dass were assaulting the deceased with lathis. We have perused the deposition of PW-1, Smt Murta and PW-3, Shankar and PW-4, Ram Naresh. PW-1, Smt Murta in her deposition stated that accused Achhaibar sat on the chest of the deceased, but that does not mean that he was only sitting on the chest of the deceased, but what she wants to depose is that the deceased was overpowered by the accused-Achhaibar and this Court failed to notice any contradictions in their deposition.

36. Moreover, in the depositions of witnesses there may always be some normal discrepancies. These discrepancies are due to lapse of time and mental disposition such as shock and horror at the time of the occurrence. Material discrepancies are those which are not normal and go to the root of the prosecution case and not expected of a normal person. Therefore, such a minor contradiction pointed out by the learned counsel for the appellant is of no help to the appellant. Further the discrepancies pointed out by the learned counsel for the appellant is very trivial in nature, which does not, in any way, affect the foundation of the prosecution case.

37. In State of Rajasthan Vs. Kalki (1981)2 SCC 752, High Court of Rajasthan acquitted the accused on the grounds that PW-1 was highly interested witness because she is the wife of the deceased and that there was discrepancies in her statement. Against the order of High Court, State of Rajasthan preferred a Criminal Appeal. Hon'ble Supreme Court set aside the order of the High Court and convicted the accused. The Court in paragraphs 5, 6 and 7 held as under:

5. As mentioned above the High Court has declined to rely on the evidence of P.W.1 on two grounds: (1) she was a "highly interested" witness because she "is the wife of the deceased", and (2) there were discrepancies in her evidence. With respect, in our opinion, both the grounds are invalid. For, in the circumstances of the case, she was the only and most natural witness; she was the only person present in the hut with the deceased at the time of the occurrence, and the only person who saw the occurrence. True, it is she is the wife of the deceased; but she cannot be called an 'interested' witness. She is related to the deceased. 'Related' is not equivalent to 'interested'. A witness may be called 'interested' only when he or she derives some benefit from the result of a litigation; in the decree in a civil case, or in seeing an accused person punished. A witness who is a natural one and is the only possible eye witness in the circumstances of a case cannot be said to be 'interested'. In the instant case P.W.1 had no interest in protecting the real culprit, and falsely implicating the respondents.

6. The second ground on which the High Court refused to place reliance on the evidence of P.W. 1 was that there were "material discrepancies". As indicated above we have perused the evidence of P.W. 1. We have not found any "material discrepancies" in her evidence. The discrepancies referred to by the High Court are, in our opinion, minor, insignificant, natural and not 'material'. The discrepancies are with regard to as to which accused "pressed the deceased and at which part of the body to the ground and sat on which part of the body; with regard to whether the respondent Kalki gave the axe blow to the deceased while the latter was standing or lying on the ground, and whether the blow was given from the side of the head or from the side of the legs. In the depositions of witnesses there are always some normal discrepancies however honest and truthful they may be. These discrepancies are due to normal errors of observation, normal errors of memory due to lapse of time, due to mental disposition such as shock and horror at the time of the occurrence, and the like. Material discrepancies are those which are not normal, and not expected of a normal person. As indicated above we have not found any material discrepancies in the evidence of the P. W. 1.

7. Learned counsel for the respondent submitted that the appeal involved only appreciation of evidence and this Court may not interfere with the findings of facts resulting from appreciation of evidence. It is true that in an appeal under Article 136 of the Constitution this Court normally does not interfere with findings of facts arrived at by the High Court. But when it appears that the findings of facts arrived at are bordering on perversity and result in miscarriage of justice, this Court will not decline to quash such findings to prevent the miscarriage of justice."

38. In State represented by Inspector of Police Vs. Saravanam and another, (2008) 17 SCC 587, Hon'ble Supreme Court held that while appreciating the evidence, the court has to take into consideration whether the contradictions/omissions had been of such magnitude that they may materially affect the trial. Minor contradictions, inconsistencies, embellishments or improvements on trivial matters without effecting the core of the prosecution case should not be made a ground to reject the evidence in its entirety. The Trial Court, after going through the entire evidence, must form an opinion about the credibility of the witnesses and the appellate Court in normal course would not be justified in reviewing the same again without justifiable reasons.

39. In State of U.P. Vs. M.K. Anthony, (1985)1 SCC 505, Hon'ble Supreme Court held as under:

"While appreciating the evidence of a witness, the approach must be whether the evidence of the witness read as a whole appears to have a ring of truth. Once that impression is formed, it is undoubtedly necessary for the court to scrutinise the evidence more particularly keeping in view the deficiencies, draw-backs and infirmities pointed out in the evidence as a whole and evaluate them to find out whether it is against the general tenor of the evidence given by the witness and whether the earlier evaluation of the evidence is shaken as to render it unworthy of belief. Minor discrepancies on trivial matters not touching the core of the case, hyper-technical approach by taking sentences torn out of context here or there from the evidence, attaching importance to some technical error committed by the investigating officer not going to the : root of the matter would not ordinarily permit rejection of the evidence as a whole. If the court before whom the witness gives evidence had the opportunity to form the opinion about the general tenor of evidence given by the witness, the appellate court which had not this benefit will have to attach due weight to the appreciation of evidence by the trial court and unless there are reasons weighty and formidable it would not be proper to reject the evidence on the ground of minor variations or infirmities in the matter of trivial details. Even honest and truthful witnesses may differ in some details unrelated to the main incident because power of observation, retention and reproduction differ with individuals. Cross examination is an unequal duel between a rustic and refined lawyer. Having examined the evidence of this witness, a friend and well-wisher of the family carefully giving due weight to the comments made by the learned Counsel for the respondent and the reasons assigned to by the High Court for rejecting his evidence simultaneously keeping in view the appreciation of the evidence of this witness by the trial court, we have no hesitation in holding that the High Court was in error in rejecting the testimony of witness Nair whose evidence appears to us trustworthy and credible."

40. Further, we find that PW-2, Smt. Murta, who is the first informant of the case is illiterate and rustic villager as is evident from her deposition that got the report scribed by PW-6, Iqbal Husain and put her thumb impression thereon. Therefore, such a trivial contradictions is of no help to the appellant.

41. Hon'ble Supreme Court in Shivaji Vs. State of Maharashtra, AIR 1973 SC 2622, held thus:

"The scene of murder is rural, the witnesses to the case are rustic and so their behavioural pattern and perceptive habits have to be judged as such. The too sophisticated approaches familiar in courts based on unreal assumption about human conduct cannot obviously be applied to those given to the lethargic ways of our villages. When scanning the evidence of various witnesses, we have to inform ourselves that variances on the fringes, discrepancies in details, contradictions in narrations and embellishment in essential parts cannot mitigate against the veracity of the core of the testimony provided there is impress of truth and conformity of probability in the substantial fabric of testimony delivered."

42. Second argument of learned counsel for the appellant is concerned that PW-3 Shankar and PW-4, Ram Naresh deposed that they were having torch, but no memo was prepared by the investigating officer, it has no leg to stand inasmuch as if the accused had used a torchlight or if the victim had a torchlight with him during the occurrence, or the witnesses had stated that they saw the accused or the occurrence in the torchlight, there would be force in insisting that the investigating officer should have seized it as the same could be used as a material object during trial. In the present case, PW-3, Shankar and PW-4 Ram Naresh have only stated that they were having torch and at no point of time they have stated that in the torchlight they saw the accused. Therefore, non-seizure and non-making of memo cannot be considered as lapse on the part of the investigating officer.

43. Next argument of learned counsel for the appellant is that the investigation was tainted. It is to be mentioned that in the present case, as per report of the Forensic Science Laboratory, Agra dated 13.08.1986, no blood was found on on the Baniyan of accused Achhaibar and on the shirt of accused Rajendra. In his statement under Section 313 Cr.P.C. accused Achhaibar has stated that nail polish was sprinkled over his clothes. This fact has not been put to the investigating officer in his cross examination. Merely because, the Forensic Science Laboratory has opined that on the Baniyan of the accused-Achhaibar no blood was found, it cannot be said that the investigation was tainted particularly when the material on record shows that there had been some sorts of stains on the clothes of Achhaibar at the time of his arrest. Prosecution called those spots on the clothes as bloodstained whereas the accused-Achhaibar stated that nail polish was sprinkled over his clothes by the police at the time of his arrest.

44. Further, Dhoti of the accused, which was taken into possession by the investigating officer and was sent for chemical examination, benzidine test was found positive. Moreover, knife and part of lathi, on benzidine test were found positive. As the versions of the eyewitnesses in specially naming the appellants have been consistent throughout the trial, we find that there is enough corroboration to bring home the guilt of the accused persons. When the testimony of PW-2, Smt.

Murta, PW-3, Shankar and PW-4 Ram Naresh is seen cumulative, their versions can be seen to be corroborating each other. Therefore, it cannot be said that the investigation was tainted.

45. It is settled proposition of law that for certain defects in investigation, the accused cannot be acquitted. This aspect has been considered in various decisions of the Hon'ble Supreme Court.

46. In C. Muniappan v. State of Tamil Nadu, (2010) 9 SCC 563 the following discussion and conclusion are relevant which are as follows:

"55. There may be highly defective investigation in a case. However, it is to be examined as to whether there is any lapse by the IO and whether due to such lapse any benefit should be given to the accused. The law on this issue is well settled that the defect in the investigation by itself cannot be a ground for acquittal. If primacy is given to such designed or negligent investigations or to the omissions or lapses by perfunctory investigation, the faith and confidence of the people in the criminal justice administration would be eroded. Where there has been negligence on the part of the investigating agency or omissions, etc. which resulted in defective investigation, there is a legal obligation on the part of the court to examine the prosecution evidence dehors such lapses, carefully, to find out whether the said evidence is reliable or not and to what extent it is reliable and as to whether such lapses affected the object of finding out the truth. Therefore, the investigation is not the solitary area for judicial scrutiny in a criminal trial. The conclusion of the trial in the case cannot be allowed to depend solely on the probity of investigation.

47. In Dayal Singh v State of Uttaranchal, (2012)8 SCC 263 while reiterating the principles rendered in C. Muniappan (supra), the Apex Court held thus:

"Merely because PW 3 and PW 6 have failed to perform their duties in accordance with the requirements of law, and there has been some defect in the investigation, it will not be to the benefit of the accused persons to the extent that they would be entitled to an order of acquittal on this ground. ..."

In Gajoo v State of Uttrakhand4, while reiterating the same principle again, the Apex Court held that defective investigation, unless affects the very root of the prosecution case and is prejudicial to the accused should not be an aspect of material consideration by the Court. Since the Court has adverted to all the earlier decisions with regard to defective investigation and outcome of the same, it is useful to refer the dictum laid down in those cases:

48. In Edakkandi Dineshan alias P. Dineshan and *others Vs. State of Kerala, (2025) 3 SCC 273, Hon'ble Supreme Court after considering a catenal of judg;ement on the point held as under:

"Hence, the principle of law is crystal cler that on account of defective investigation the benefit will ot inure to the accused persons on that ground alone. It is well within the domain of the courts to consider the rest of the evidence which the prosecution has gathered such as statement of the eyewitnesses, medical report etc. It has been a consistent stand of this Court that the accused cannot claim acquittal on the ground of faulty investigation done by the prosecuting agency. As the version of eyewitnesses in specifically naming the appellants have been consistent throughout the trial, we find that there is enough corroboration to drive home the guilt of the accused persons."

49. The last limb of argument of learned counsel for the appellant is that accused-Rajendra was assigned the role of causing injuries with knife whereas the present appellant along with others accused were assigned lathi and most of the injuries were caused by knife and, therefore, the appellant cannot be held responsible for the injuries caused by lathis. This argument of learned counsel for the appellant is totally mis-conceived and has no leg to stand.

50. In the postmortem report nine injuries were noted by the doctor. On internal examination, doctor found clot in the skull. Membranes congested and lacerated. Blood clot present, brain congested, lacerated and blood clot present, mouth, teeth and tongue broken. Doctor specifically opined that except Injury Nos. 4, 5 and 7, rest of the injuries have been caused by giving lathi blow or by some blunt object.

51. Furthermore, the appellant has been roped in this case by virtue of Sections 148 and 149 IPC. He was a part of the unlawful assembly which had the common object of eliminating Bideshi (deceased) by means of criminal force and, therefore, being a member of the unlawful assembly, he was also guilty of the offence committed in prosecution of the common object, i.e. the offence under Section 302 IPC.

52. At this juncture, we would briefly survey the relevant legal provision.

Section 141 IPC defines unlawful assembly. It says that an assembly of five or more persons is designated as unlawful assembly, if the common object of the persons composing that assembly is to commit an illegal act by means of criminal force.

Section 148 IPC deals with rioting armed with deadly weapon. It says that whoever is guilty of rioting, being armed with a deadly weapon or with anything which, used as a weapon of offence, is likely to cause death, shall be punished with imprisonment of either description fora term which may extend to three years, or with fine, or with both.

Section 149 IPC says that every member of an unlawful assembly shall be guilty of the offence committed in prosecution of the common object. Section 149 IPC further says that if an offence is committed by any member of an unlawful assembly in prosecution of the common object of that assembly, or such as the members of that assembly knew to be likely to be committed in prosecution of that object, every person who, at the time of the committing of that offence, is a member of the same assembly, is guilty of that offence.

53. Thus, it is a case of murder under Section 302 IPC, each member of the unlawful assembly would be guilty of committing the offence under Section 302/149 IPC.

54. In Krishnappa Vs State of Karnataka (2012) 11 SCC237, Hon'ble Supreme Court held thus:

"It is now well settled law that the provisions of Section 149 IPC will be attracted whenever any offence committed by any member of an unlawful assembly in prosecution of the common object of that assembly, or when the members of that assembly knew that offence is likely to be committed in prosecution of that object, so that every person, who, at the time of committing of that offence is a member, will be also vicariously held liable and guilty of that offence. Section 149 IPC creates a constructive or vicarious liability of the members of the unlawful assembly for the unlawful acts committed pursuant to the common object by any other member of that assembly. This principle ropes in every member of the assembly to be guilty of an offence where that offence is committed by any member of that assembly in prosecution of common object of that assembly, or such members or assembly knew that offence is likely to be committed in prosecution of that object.

The factum of causing injury or not causing injury would not be relevant, where accused is sought to be roped in with the aid of Section 149 IPC. The relevant question to be examined by the court is whether the accused was a member of an unlawful assembly and not whether he actually took active part in the crime or not."

55. Hon'ble Supreme Court in Vinubhai Ranchhodbhai Patel Vs. Rajivbhai Dudabhai Patel (2018)7 SCC 743, reiterated the decision that Section 149 does not create separate offence but only declares vicarious liability of all members of the unlawful assembly for acts done in common object. The Court further held as under:

"In cases where a large number of accused constituting an unlawful assembly are alleged to have attacked and killed one or more persons, it is not necessary that each of the accused should inflict fatal injuries or any injury at all. Invocation of Section 149 IPC is essential in such cases for punishing the members of such unlawful assemblies on the ground of vicarious liability even though they are not accused of having inflicted fatal injuries in appropriate cases if the evidence on record justified. The mere presence of an accused in such an unlawful assembly is sufficient to render him vicariously liable under Section 149 IC for causing the death of the victim of the attack provided that the accused are told that they have to face a charge rendering them vicariously liable under Section 149 IPC for the offence punishable under Section 302 IPC. Failure to appropriately invoke and apply Section 149 enables large number of offenders to get away with the crime."

56. The aforesaid decisions in Krishnappa Vs State of Karnataka (2012)11 SCC 237 and Vinubhai Ranchhodbhai Patel Vs. Rajivbhai Dudabhai Patel (Supra) have been followed by Hon'ble Supreme Court in Nitya Nand Vs. State of U.P. (2024)9 SCR 37.

57. So far as the last limb of argument of learned counsel for the appellant that the incident took place in the night and there was insufficient light to recognize the accused, is concerned, it may be noted that PW-2, Smt. Murta, in her examination-in-chief has clearly stated that it was a moonlit night. Further PW-3 Shankar in his cross-examination has stated that he was able to see the accused without torchlight. PW-4, Ram Naresh in his cross examination has stated that when he reached near the place of occurrence, he saw that accused were assaulting the deceased. Moreover, PW-2, Smt. Murta, the first informant, PW-3, Shankar and PW-4, Ram Naresh and all the accused persons are either relatives or living in the same village and they were familiar to each other. Since, the witnesses were familiar to the accused, there was no difficulty for them to identify the accused.

58. Hon'ble Supreme Court in Anwar Hussain Vs. State of UP, AIR1981 SC 2071 held as under:

"Even if there is insufficient light, a witness can identify a person, with whom he is fairly acquainted or is in intimate terms. From his voice, features etc. Therefore, there is nothing to discard the evidence of PW-8 so far as his claim to have recognised the appellant is concerned."

59. In Dalbir Singh Vs. State of Haryana, (2008) 11 SCC 425, it was observed by the Hon'ble Apex Court that it would be possible for a witness to identify an assailant in insufficient light from his voice, gait, features etc. with whom he was fairly acquainted or was in intimate terms.

60. In view of the above, the contention of learned counsel for the appellant that there was insufficient light to recognize the appellant has no leg to stand.

61. It was a gruesome murder. Perusal of postmortem shows that the deceased was mercilessly attacked. Severity of injuries clearly demonstrate the brutality of the attacks.

62. We have carefully scrutinized and examined the evidence of PW-2, Smt Murta, PW-3 Shankar and PW-4 Ram Naresh and we find that they have been correctly marshalled and assessed by the learned Trial Court.

63. In view of what has been indicated above, we are of the view that the prosecution has successfully proved its case beyond all reasonable doubt against all the accused-appellants.

64. Accordingly, the criminal appeal is dismissed.

65. The appellant Sanwarey is on bail. His bail bond is cancelled and sureties are discharged. He is directed to surrender before the Court concerned within four weeks to serve out the sentence awarded to him by the learned Trial Court.

66. Office is directed to send a copy of this order to the court concerned for compliance and compliance report be submitted to this Court within two months.

(2026) 2 ILRA 1053
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 02.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SIDDHARTHA VARMA, J.
THE HON'BLE MADAN PAL SINGH, J.

Criminal Appeal No. 1597 of 2020

Raees Ahmad @ Raesu ...Appellant

Versus

State Of U.P. ...Respondent

Issue for Consideration

Matter pertains to whether conviction of the appellant could be sustained solely on the basis of a dying declaration, when prosecution witnesses had turned hostile and the dying declaration itself was allegedly recorded not on the direct statement of the victim but on the narration of an unidentified relative, and such circumstance was not put to the accused under S. 313 Cr.P.C. (Paras 28-30)

Headnotes

Criminal Law - S.s 302/34, 326A/34, 342 and 201 IPC - Conviction based on circumstantial evidence and dying declaration - Reliability - Victim not in a position to speak - Statement recorded through relative - Name and identity of relative not disclosed - Evidentiary value doubtful. (Paras 15-16, 29-30)

Criminal Law - Hostile witnesses - Prosecution witnesses including informant, relatives and ambulance driver turned hostile - No direct or circumstantial evidence except dying declaration. (Paras 7-11, 17, 28)

Evidence - Dying declaration - Must be voluntary, truthful and recorded in conscious state - Recording through third person renders it unreliable. (Paras 29-30)

Criminal Procedure - S. 313 Cr.P.C. - Non-putting of material circumstance to accused - Such circumstance cannot be used against accused. (Para 29)

Criminal Appeal - Benefit of doubt - Absence of reliable evidence - Conviction unsustainable - Acquittal. (Paras 30-31)

Held: Prosecution witnesses had turned hostile - The sole basis on which the conviction could have been done was that there was a dying declaration - P.W.-8 had categorically stated that the victim was not able to speak at all a relative used to speak on behalf of the victim and those statements were recorded - he had not recorded the name of the relative and what was the relationship of the victim with the relative - this circumstance was also not put to the accused at the time of the recording of the statement under S. 313 Cr.P.C. - when this circumstance was not put to the accused then the dying declaration could not also be used as an evidence - the dying declaration could not be relied upon for convicting the appellant - there was absolutely no evidence on the basis which the appellant could have been convicted - the judgment is quashed and set aside - The appellant is acquitted - The appeal stands allowed. (Paras -28,29,30,31) (E-7)

Case Law Cited

Kanchy Komuramma v. State of A.P., 1996 SCC (Crl) 31; Puran Chand v. State of Haryana,* (2010) 6 SCC 566; Khushal Rao v. State of Bombay,* AIR 1958 SC 22; Suchand Pal v. Phani Pal,* (2003) 11 SCC 527; Raja Naykar v. State of Chhattisgarh,* (2024) 3 SCC 481; Sharad Birdhichand Sarda v. State of Maharashtra,* AIR 1984 SC 1622; Hate Singh Bhagat Singh v. State of Madhya Bharat,* AIR 1953 SC 468; Shamu Balu Chaugule v. State of Maharashtra,* (1976) 1 SCC 438; Sujit Biswas v. State of Assam,* (2013) 12 SCC 406; Nar Singh v. State of Haryana,* AIR 2015 SC 310; Sunil v. State of NCT of Delhi, AIROnline* 2023 SC 766; Ashok v. State of Uttar Pradesh,* AIR 2025 SC 308; Indrakunwar v. State of Chhattisgarh,* AIR 2023 SC 5221; Naresh Kumar v. State of Delhi,* AIR 2024 SC (Cri.) 437

List of Acts

Indian Penal Code, 1860; Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973

List of Keywords

dying declaration; hostile witnesses; circumstantial evidence; S. 313 Cr.P.C.; not in a position to speak; relative of the victim; not reliable piece of evidence; acquitted.

Case Arising From

APPELLATE JURISDICTION: The present Criminal Appeal has been filed against the judgment and order dated 19.2.2020 passed by the Additional Sessions Judge, Court No. 3, Bijnor, in S.T. No. 120 of 2017 (State vs. Raees Ahmad & another) arising out of Case Crime No. 976 of 2016.

Appearances for Parties

Advs. for the Appellant:
Sri V.M. Zaidi, learned Senior Advocate, assisted by Sri M.J. Akhtar.
Advs. for the Respondents:
Sri Amit Sinha, learned AGA for the State.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Siddhartha Varma, J.
&
Hon'ble Madan Pal Singh, J.)

1. The present Criminal Appeal has been filed against the judgment and order dated 19.2.2020 passed by the Additional Sessions Judge, Court No. 3, Bijnor, in S.T. No. 120 of 2017 (State vs. Raees Ahmad & another) arising out of Case Crime No. 976 of 2016, under Sections 302/34, 326A/34, 342 and 201 IPC, Police Station Najibabad, District Bijnor.

2. The case was initiated with the lodging of a First Information Report on 5.12.2016 at 14:50 hours. The first informant, namely, Ahmad Ali @ Nanhe had in the FIR stated that his Bhanji (sister's daughter) a few days earlier had fallen in love with a neighbour's son which was not liked by Rahisa the husband of the sister Fatima. Even though the case had resulted in a settlement, the husband of the sister of the first informant was very cross with his daughter and therefore, because of this incident, the first informant had brought his niece to his house at Kashipur where she stayed for around 4 months. In the FIR, it has been stated that on 4.12.2016 at 6:00PM Rahisa the husband of the sister of the first informant came to the house of the first informant and told him that some people were coming to see his daughter in connection with her marriage at his house at Maswani and, therefore, Farheen his daughter be sent along with him. Upon this request, the first informant had taken Farheen on his motorcycle to the roadways bus stand at Kashipur and dropped her there. The next day i.e. on 5.12.2016 at around 7:00AM, he received an information from the Najibabad hospital that his niece Farheen had got acid burns and that she was found in Nanuwala village and for further treatment she had been referred to a better hospital at Bijnor. Upon getting this news, the first informant along with his brother Mubarak Ali reached the Bijnor Government Hospital and met his niece who told him that her father and one Nabi Hasan had taken her from Kasipur roadways bus stand and had made her sit in a pick up van and had proceeded for their village. On the way she had fallen asleep. Nabi Hasan the partner of the father of the niece had tried to throttle her and because of which her eyes had opened and she saw everything. Thereafter she had said she did not know as to what had happened. She had also informed that a vehicle from the Najibabad Hospital had come to take her. She had also told the first informant that she had given the telephone number of the first informant (Nanhe Mama) to the hospital authorities who had rung him up. He had, thereafter, stated in the FIR that his brother-in-law Rahees and his partner Nabi Hasan had first tried to kill his niece by throttling her and thereafter they had thrown acid on her to obliterate her identity. He had thereafter in the FIR itself stated that the niece was admitted in the hospital and he had got the FIR lodged. The case was registered as Case Crime No. 0976 of 2016 and was lodged under Section 307, 326A, 201, 342 and 34 IPC.

3. A dying declaration of the niece of the first informant was recorded on 5.12.2016 itself. The dying declaration which was got recorded on 5.12.2016 had stated that Farheen(victim) was staying for the past 5 to 6 months with her elder mami Sayra wife of Dr. Mubarak Ali (scribe of the first informant report) at Police Station - Bhagatpur District - Kasipur. She had stated that in her village Maswani, she had fallen in love with a boy and therefore her father had left her with her elder Mami Sayra so that she may get detached from the boy she was loving. She had then stated that on 4.12.2016 at around 6:00PM her father Rahees came to her Mamiji's house at Kasipur and informed her that he wanted to take her home where for the purposes of the marriage of Farheen some people were coming to meet her. She had, thereafter, in her dying declaration stated that she did not know as to where her father Rahees took her. She had also mentioned that along with him there was one more person and that the two of them took her to a forest at around 11 and 12 in the night and they throttled her first and thereafter put something on her face and put fire on it. Upon seeing her lying there, somebody had rung at the Police at 108 and an ambulance had come and had taken her to the hospital. She had also stated that at the hospital her Mami Sayra, her mama Mubarak Ali were there but her father had not come.

4. Thereafter the clothes as were provided by the first informant Sri Ahmad Ali were also kept in the custody of the police and the memo was numbered as exhibit ka2. A certain closed bottle and kurta of the victim was also recovered and kept as exhibit ka-13. When the victim was sent to Jai Prakash Narayan Apex Trauma Centre (AIIMS) Delhi an admit card was prepared which is also a part of the recovery. Thereafter when the victim died on 23.12.2016 at 2:30PM after the inquest was performed, the body was sent for post mortem which was conducted on 24.12.2016 at 12:30 PM.

5. Upon the completion of the investigation, charges were framed against the appellant Rais alias Rahisa and Nabi Hasan under Sections 342 IPC, 302 read with Section 34 IPC, 326 A read with 34 IPC and under Section 201 IPC. Nabi Hasan had died during the trial and at the time of judgment he was not alive and, therefore, the trial had continued against the sole appellant Rais and when he was convicted, the present criminal appeal was filed by him.

6. During the trial as many as 13 prosecution witnesses were examined by the prosecution.

7. P.W.-1 was the first informant Ahmad Ali who has stated that on 4.12.2016 he had gone to a nearby village called Chilkiya Tanda from his own village Kashipur and while he was away the victim /deceased his niece went away somewhere. On 5.12.2016, he received a phone call that Farheen, his niece, was in Najibabad Government Hospital and, therefore, he reached that hospital along with his brother Mubarak and there he found that Farheen had burn injuries and that she was not in a position to speak as she was not in a good condition. The Doctor had recommended her to be taken to Delhi and he has stated that his brother Mubarak Ali had taken her to Delhi where she died. He has categorically denied the fact that his brother in law Rais and his partner Nabi Hasan had taken her on the fateful day and, thereafter, had killed her. When he made such a statement, the P.W.-1 was declared hostile. However, the prosecution cross-examined him and had he stated that though the FIR was written / scribed by his brother Mubarak Ali, he had not known what was written therein and he had only put in his signatures on it. All other places where his signature were he had denied that after putting them, he had read the contents of the document.

8. Upon the statements under Section 161 Cr.P.C. being read over to him, he had stated that he had not got recorded any statement as was recorded under Section 161 Cr.P.C. He has also denied the fact that the victim was in a position to speak when he had reached the hospital. Upon a suggestion being made that he was trying to save his own brother-in-law, he had stated that this was a wrong fact. Upon a cross-examination by the defence, he had stated that he did not recognize Nabi Hasan. What he had stated in his cross-examination to the prosecution, he had also reiterated in his cross-examination done by the defence.

9. The P.W.-2 was Mubarak Ali, the brother of the P.W.-1. He had also stated that while he was working on his fields on 4.12.2016 his niece had gone away from his house without telling him. He also gets his statement-in-chief recorded by saying that on 5.12.2016 at 7:00am he got the information about the fact that Farheen was admitted in the hospital in a burnt condition and that she was burnt in such a manner that her face was also grievously burnt and she could not speak etc. and therefore she had been referred to Delhi for further treatment. He had taken her to the All India Institute of Medical Sciences where she died on 23.12.2016. He categorically denied the fact that his brother-in-law Rais and his partner Nabi Hasan had committed the murder. He was also declared hostile. The State counsel cross-examined him and when the statement under Section 161 Cr.P.C. was shown, he had stated that he had not stated any such thing which was recorded therein. He had also denied the fact that his brother-in-law Rais had taken the victim on 4.12.2016. When the defence counsel cross-examined him, he reiterated what he had reiterated in the cross-examination to the prosecution. He had, however, categorically stated that the victim could not speak when he had reached the hospital.

10. P.W.-3, Smt. Fatima, is the mother of the deceased. She had also stated that Farheen was her daughter and that she had gone to the house of Mubarak Ali and Ahmad Ali around one week back. She had been informed on 5.12.2016 by Ahmad Ali that someone had thrown acid on her face and that the victim was at the hospital at Bijnor and, thereafter, she had stated that her brother had taken the victim to Delhi. At this stage, she was also declared hostile. In her cross-examination, she denies the story about the love affair which the deceased supposedly had with a boy in her village. She had also stated that she had, in fact, not on her own sent her daughter to her brothers house. She had also stated that her husband Rais had not gone to fetch his daughter on 4.12.2016 and, therefore, had also denied the fact that he had put acid on her face. She also denied the recorded statement under Section 161 Cr.P.C. She had also stated that she did not know Nabi Hasan who was there in the court. She also denied the knowledge as to who had written the FIR.

11. P.W.-4, Smt. Sayra, is the wife of Mubarak Ali (brother of the P.W.-3). After having introduced her relationship with P.W.-3 and her husband, she states that she had no knowledge that Rais was angry with his daughter. She however states that he had come to her house earlier and on that very date he had taken his daughter along with him and, thereafter, she along with her husband and brother-in-law (Nanhe) had gone to Najibabad hospital and had also stated that the victim could not speak on that day and had also not given any information to them. She was also declared hostile. In her cross-examination, she denied her statement under Section 161 Cr.P.C. and reiterated the fact that the victim was not in a position to speak.

12. P.W.-6 is Dr. Suraj Ohal, Senior Consultant Forensic Department, AIIMS, Delhi. He had conducted the post mortem of the deceased on 24.12.2016 on 12:45 PM. He had, thereafter, proved the post mortem report.

13. P.W.-7 is Dr. Sheel Kumar Gautam, who was the doctoer at CHC Najibabad District Bijnor, and he had stated that he had taken care of the person who was brought by the Ambulance 108. He had stated that he had referred her to the hospital at Bijnor. He had stated in his cross-examination that it was not known to him as to which place the victim belonged to. The face, the chest and the neck was burnt. She was not in a position to speak and, therefore, she could not inform as to from where she had come. Who had brought her was also not known. How her name was written on the dying declaration was not known to him. He had stated that he had given the details of the injuries in the accident register.

14. P.W.-8 was Ramesh Chandra, the Naib Tehsildar, Tehsil Sadar, District Bijnor, in whose presence on 5.12.2016 the dying declaration of the victim Kumari Farheen was got recorded. He had stated that he had reached the burn ward of the hospital where the doctors attending to emergency were present and they had given their certificate about the fact that the victim was healthy enough to get her statement recorded. At 2:15 PM, he had started off with the recording of the statement and at 2:30PM the recording of the statement was completed. The dying declaration was numbered as exhibit ka-8.

15. However, in his cross-examination, the Naib Tehsildar, P.W.-8, had stated that when the statement was being recorded there was one lady and a man sitting beside the victim who had told him that they were the relatives of the victim. When the recording of the statement had commenced, he had asked them to go out of the room. However, because the face and the mouth of the victim was absolutely burnt she could not be recognized. Also when it was certain that she could not speak then the lady who was sitting beside her was summoned by him. He had also stated that there was one more reason for calling the lady inside as whatever little the victim was stating was not understandable/audible.

16. Thereafter the lady who entered the room heard the victim speak and she told the P.W.-8 as to what she was speaking. What the lady who came inside told the P.W.-8 was got recorded as dying declaration and the same was numbered as exhibit ka-8. He has categorically stated that exhibit ka-8 was prepared on the statement made by the relative who had been permitted to come inside the room.

17. P.W.-9 is Ram Saran who was the Ambulance driver of Ambulance 108. He had categorically stated that the girl could not speak. She had not even told her name. She had definitely not told the names of her father and that of his associate. She was referred to the Bijnor Hospital because of her bad state of health. The driver was also declared hostile. In the cross-examination, the driver P.W.-9 stuck to the statement which he had made in the examination in chief.

18. P.W.-10 was the Investigating Officer. He had stated that on 28.12.2016 he was posted at Police Station Najibabad and had taken over the responsibility of investigating the case. He had stated that after having recorded the statement of the driver Ram Saran, he had gone, on his pointing, to the place where the incident had taken place and with the assistance provided to him he had prepared the site plan. He had on 9.1.2017 taken the accused on remand.

19. On 24.1.2017, he had recorded the statement of P.W.-1 Ahmad Ali and the statement of P.W.-3 Fatima was recorded by him on 25.1.2017. He had taken the telephone numbers of the accused persons for the preparation of the call detail report. This report was received by him on 3.2.2017. Also, he had stated that the presence of the accused on the basis of the call detail reports was found at the place of incident. He had stated that the telephone numbers 9756428205 and 9719696796 were the telephones of the accused Rais and that they were used at the time of the incident. He stood firm in his cross-examination.

20. P.W.-11 was Dr. K.K. Singh and he had stated that he was the emergency medical officer on the relevant date i.e. on 5.12.2016 and he had stated that to record the dying declaration of Kumari Farheen, Ramesh Chandra, the Naib Tehsildar, Bijnor, had come at 2:15 PM and he had also stated that he had given the certificate that the victim was in a position to get her statement recorded. Thereafter, the statement of the victim was got recorded by the Naib Tehsildar. He has stated that at 2:30 PM after the recording of the statement was over, he had seen Farheen and had found that she was in a proper state of mind. He had then, upon being asked as to whether he was present at the time of the statement being recorded, he had stated that he was not present at that point of time. He had stated that, in his certificate, he had not even mentioned as to whether the victim was a male or a female. He had also not stated the time and place on the certificate. On what basis he had stated that she was in a fit mental state, he replied that he had no idea how he had given that certificate.

21. P.W. -12 was one Rohtas Singh Chaudhary and he had stated that on 5.12.2016 he was the Sub Inspector posted at Najibabad. He had also stated that the dying declaration was got recorded by the Naib Tehsildar Ramesh Chandra. He had stated that he had recorded the statements of all the relevant persons in the case diary. When the accused had told him about the manner of disposal of the clothes of the victim and the bottle of acid then he had gone to get them recovered on the pointing of the accused. He had, thereafter, stated the manner in which he had continued the investigation till such time he had the investigation in his hands.

22. P.W.-13 was Dr. Antariksha Kumar. He had stated that he was on the relevant date at the AIIMS Hospital Delhi where the victim had been admitted by her uncle Mubarak Ali. He had stated that the injured was in a fit condition to speak and, thereafter, had mentioned about the injuries. He had confirmed the death of Nabi Hasan on 7.12.2017. The statement of Rais, the accused appellant, under Section 313 Cr.P.C. was got recorded on 7.3.2019 and, thereafter, on 18.11.2019.

23. Upon the completion of the trial, the judgment and order was passed by the Additional Sessions Judge Court No. 3, Bijnor, by which he had on 18.2.2020 convicted Rais Ahmad the accused appellant under Sections 302/34, 326A/34, 342 and 201 IPC .

24. By the order dated 19.2.2020 sentence was pronounced. Under Section 302 read with Section 326A IPC. The appellant was punished with life imprisonment and he was also fined with Rs. 40,000/-. It was provided that if he did not deposit the fine then he would have to undergo further imprisonment of two months. Under Section 342 IPC, 1 year of imprisonment was awarded. Rais Ahmad was also punished under Section 201 IPC for 7 years and a fine of Rs. 10,000/- was imposed upon him. On the non-deposit of the fine a month of further incarceration was provided. Half of the fine was to go to the mother of the deceased.

25. When the appeal was argued, the learned counsel for the appellant submitted that:-

I. The P.W.-1, the first informant, P.W.-2 the brother of the first informant, P.W.-3 Smt. Fatima the wife of Mubarak Ali P.W.-2 and Smt. Sayra mother of the victim had not supported the prosecution in the trial and, therefore, there was very little evidence available for the trial court to punish the appellant.

II. Learned counsel for the appellant further submitted that there was no eyewitness account and only on the basis of the circumstantial evidence punishment was awarded. Learned counsel for the appellant states that when the prosecution witnesses 1, 2, 3, 4 and also the driver P.W.- 9, Ram Saran, had gone hostile then the only evidence, i.e. the dying declaration, ought to have been properly assessed.

III. Learned counsel for the appellant still further submitted that Dr. Sheel Kumar Gautam P.W.-7 who had initially attended on the victim had categorically stated that the victim was not in a position to speak. He has, in fact, gone to the extent of saying that she was not even in a position to inform as to which place she belonged to. Who had brought her was also not told by her. He has stated that how the name of the victim was recorded on the dying declaration was a mystery to him. Learned counsel for the appellant further pointed to the statement of P.W.-8 who in his examination-in-chief, though had stated, that the emergency Medical Officer who was present, namely, P.W. - 11 Dr. K.K. Singh had stated that the victim was in a position to give her statement and her mental state was all right, he had in the cross-examination very categorically stated that it was very difficult to decipher as to what she was speaking, therefore he had to take the assistance of a lady who was a relative of the victim in getting the statement recorded. Since the victim was not speaking clearly and what she was speaking was incomprehensible , therefore, it was essential that the lady be summoned inside the room. What she stated was recorded by the P.W.-8 the Naib Tehsildar Sri Ramesh Chandra.

Learned counsel for the appellant states that in view of the fact that the statement as was got recorded by the P.W.-8 was not directly stated by the victim but was so stated by the relative of the victim it could not be treated as a dying declaration at all.

Learned counsel for the appellant states that as per the judgment in 1996 SCC Crl 31 (Kanchy Komuramma v. State of A.P) and 2010 (6) SCC 566 (Puran Chand v. State of Haryana), a dying declaration even if it is recorded by magistrate is only a piece of evidence and it is not a proof of truthfulness. Even the dying declaration has to go through the scrutiny of the court. While relying upon 2010(6) SCC 566 (Puran Chand v. State of Haryana), learned counsel for the appellant relied upon paragraph no. 15 of the judgment and stated that the evidence at hand had to be considered by the court in its right perspective. Since the learned counsel for the appellant relied upon paragraph no. 15 of the judgement, it is being reproduced here as under:-

15. The courts below have to be extremely careful when they deal with a dying declaration as the maker thereof is not available for the cross-examination which poses a great difficulty to the accused person. A mechanical approach in relying upon a dying declaration just because it is there is extremely dangerous. The court has to examine a dying declaration scrupulously with a microscopic eye to find out whether the dying declaration is voluntary, truthful, made in a conscious state of mind and without being influenced by the relatives present or by the investigating agency who may be interested in the success of investigation or which may be negligent while recording the dying declaration.

For explaining as to how a dying declaration has to be assessed, learned counsel for the appellant relied upon AIR 1958 SC 22 (Khushal Rao v. State of Bombay). He relied upon paragraph nos. 16-17 of the judgment and they are being reproduced here as under:-

16. On a review of the relevant provisions of the Evidence Act and of the decided cases in the different High Courts in India and in this Court, we have come to the conclusion, in agreement with the opinion of the Full Bench of the Madras High Court, aforesaid, (1) that it cannot be laid down as an absolute rule of law that a dying declaration cannot form the sole basis of conviction unless it is corroborated; (2) that each case must be determined on its own facts keeping in view the circumstances in which the dying declaration was made; (3) that it cannot be laid down as a general proposition that a dying declaration is a weaker kind of evidence than other pieces of evidence; (4) that a dying declaration stands on the same footing as another piece of evidence and has to be judged in the light of surrounding circumstances and with reference to the principles governing the weighing of evidence; (5) that a dying declaration which has been recorded by a competent Magistrate in the proper manner, that is to say, in the form of questions and answers, and, as far as practicable, in the words of the maker of the declaration, stands on a much higher footing than a dying declaration which depends upon oral testimony which may suffer from all the infirmities of human memory and human character, and (6) that in order to test the reliability of a dying declaration, the court has to keep in view, the circumstances like the opportunity of the dying man for observation, for example, whether there was sufficient light if the crime was committed at night; whether the capacity of the man to remember the facts stated, had not been impaired at the time he was making the statement, by circumstances beyond his control; that the statement has been consistent throughout if he had several opportunities of making a dying declaration apart from the official record of it; and that the statement had been made at the earliest opportunity and was not the result of tutoring by interested parties.

17. Hence, in order to pass the test of reliability, a dying declaration has to be subjected to a very close scrutiny, keeping in view the fact that the statement has been made in the absence of the accused who had no opportunity of testing the veracity of the statement by cross-examination. But once, the court has come to the conclusion that the dying declaration was the truthful version as to the circumstances of the death and the assailants of the victim, there is no question of further corroboration. If, on the other hand, the court, after examining the dying declaration in all its aspects, and testing its veracity, has come to the conclusion that it is not reliable by itself, and that it suffers from an infirmity, then, without corroboration it cannot form the basis of a conviction. Thus, the necessity for corroboration arises not from any inherent weakness of a dying declaration as a piece of evidence, as held in some of the reported cases, but from the fact that the court, in a given case, has come to the conclusion that that particular dying declaration was not free from the infirmities referred to above or from such other infirmities as may be disclosed in evidence in that case.

Another judgment which the learned counsel for the appellant relied upon for the purposes of stating as to how a dying declaration has to be assessed as an evidence was 2003 (11) SCC 527 (Suchand Pal v. Phani Pal and anr.) and from this judgment learned counsel for the appellant relied upon paragraph no. 9 which is being reproduced here as under:-

9. The trial court appears to have discarded the defence version highlighting the unacceptability of the prosecution version and came to a conclusion that the shot was made from a close range on the courtyard. This plea was taken at the argument stage by the prosecution, trying to read the prosecution evidence in a manner so that the ocular evidence and medical evidence do not appear to be irreconcilable. The High Court was right in disapproving the course adopted by the trial court. It is an established position in law that the prosecution can succeed by substantially proving the version it alleges. It must stand on its own legs and cannot take advantage of the weakness in the defence case. The court cannot on its own make out a new case for the prosecution and convict the accused on that basis. Only when a conclusion is arrived at on the evidence and the substratum of the case is not changed, such a course is permissible. The High Court noticed the medical evidence to be consistent with the defence version that the deceased was hit by the gunshot from a close range and that she was accidentally shot in the scuffle between the informant party and the accused. Coming to the acceptability of the dying declaration, the High Court has rightly discarded it. The declaration made by the deceased was not voluntary and in fact, the answers were not given by her and it was her husband who was answering. Such nature and manner of response from the injured who ultimately succumbed to injuries can by no means be elevated to the level of her dying declaration , even when it is found to sound the voice of Jacob . Stand of the prosecution that he tried to clarify by stating that it was the accused who had fired the gun does not improve the situation. In the true sense of the term or in legal parlance the statement made by the deceased cannot be called a dying declaration. In view of the admitted hostility and strained relations, the natural effort was to rope in the accused. The High Court, therefore, discarded the evidence as not worthy of acceptance.

Learned counsel for the appellant also relied upon (2024) 3 SCC 481 (Raja Naykar v. State of Chhattisgarh) and submitted as to how a circumstantial evidence had to be looked into.

IV. Learned counsel for the appellant thereafter submitted that as per the judgment of Sharad Birdhichand Sarda v. State of Maharashtra reported in AIR 1984 SC 1622 that if a particular circumstance is not put to the accused while putting questions under Section 313 Cr.P.C. then that circumstance ought to be completely excluded from the zone of consideration. He submits that the Supreme Court has said so as the accused would have no opportunity to explain the circumstance.

Learned counsel for the appellant specifically relied upon paragraphs n. 142 and 144 of the judgment reported in AIR 1984 SC 1622.

142. Apart from the aforesaid comments there is one vital defect in some of the circumstances mentioned above and relied upon by the High Court, viz., circumstances Nos. 4, 5, 6, 8, 9, 11, 12, 13, 16 and 17. As these circumstances were not put to the appellant in his statement under Section 313 of the Criminal Procedure Code they must be completely excluded from consideration because the appellant did not have any chance to explain them. This has been consistently held by this Court as far back as 1953 where in the case of Hate Singh Bhagat Singh v. State of Madhya Bharat AIR 1953 SC 468 this Court held that any circumstance in respect of which an accused was not examined under Section 342 of the Criminal Procedure Code cannot be used against him. Ever since this decision, there is a catena of authorities of this Court uniformly taking the view that unless the circumstance appearing against an accused is put to him in his examination under Section 342 or Section 313 of the Criminal Procedure Code, the same cannot be used against him. In Shamu Balu Chaugule v. State of Maharashtra, (1976) 1 SCC 438: (AIR 1976 SC 557) this Court held thus :

"The fact that the appellant was said to be absconding, not having been put to him under Section 342, Criminal Procedure Code, could not be used against him."

144. It is not necessary for us to multiply authorities on this point as this question now stands concluded by several decisions of this Court. In this view of the matter, the circumstances which were not put to the appellant in his examination under Section 313 of the Criminal Procedure Code have to be completely excluded from consideration.

Learned counsel for the appellant still further relied upon 2013 (12) SCC 406 (Sujit Biswas vs. State of Assam) and submitted that the very purpose of examining the accused persons under Section 313 Cr.P.C. was to meet the requirement of principles of natural justice. Since the learned counsel for the appellant relied upon the contents of provisions of Section 313 Cr.P.C., the section 313 Cr.P.C. the section 313 Cr.P.C. is being reproduced here as under :

313. Power to examine the accused. (1) In every inquiry or trial, for the purpose of enabling the accused personally to explain any circumstances appearing in the evidence against him, the Court*

(a) may at any stage, without previously warning the accused put such questions to him as the Court considers necessary;

(b) shall, after the witnesses for the prosecution have been examined and before he is called on for his defence, question him generally on the case:

Provided that in a summons-case, where the Court has dispensed with the personal attendance of the accused, it may also dispense with his examination under clause (b).

(2) No oath shall be administered to the accused when he is examined under sub-section (1).

(3) The accused shall not render himself liable to punishment by refusing to answer such questions, or by giving false answers to them.

(4) The answers given by the accused may be taken into consideration in such inquiry or trial, and put in evidence for or against him in any other inquiry into, or trial for, any other offence which such answers may tend to show he has committed.

2[(5) The Court may take help of Prosecutor and Defence Counsel in preparing relevant questions which are to be put to the accused and the Court may permit filing of written statement by the accused as sufficient compliance of this section.]

V. In the instant case, learned counsel for the appellant states that if the statement under Section 313 Cr.P.C. is perused then it becomes clear that the circumstance that the statement was, in fact, got record on the basis of what the relative had stated was never put before the accused and, therefore, whatever the relative had mentioned in the dying declaration could not be read by the prosecution. He still further submitted relying upon AIR 2015 SC 310 (Nar Singh vs. State of Haryana) that not putting material evidence to accused in course of examination amounts to non-compliance of the mandates of Section 313 Cr.P.C. by the Trial court. In this regard, learned counsel for the petitioner also relied upon AIROnline 2023 SC 766 (Sunil vs. State of NCT of Delhi) and AIR 2025 SC 308 (Ashok v. State of Uttar Pradesh), AIR 2023 SC 5221 (Indrakunwar vs State of Chhattisgarh) and AIR 2024 SC (Cri.) 437(Naresh Kumar v. State of Delhi).

VI. In the instant case, the learned counsel for the appellant states that if the dying declaration is perused then it becomes abundantly clear that the Naib Tehsildar who was recording the statement had categorically mentioned that the victim was not in a position to speak and also the statements as were recorded was so recorded on the basis of what was spoken by the relative of the deceased. The dying declaration dated 5.12.2016 is also being reproduced:-

"मृत्यु पूर्व बयान दर्ज करने का समय दिनांक 05-12-2016मृत्यु पूर्व बयान कु० फरहीन कु० फरहीन पुत्री रहीस उम्र लगभग 17 साल निवासी ग्राम कच्छवासी, जिला रामपुर, थाना स्वार, निवासी नई बस्ती विजयनगर, काशीपुर, उत्तराखण्ड ने बहलफ बयान दिया कि- मै पाँच छः महीने से अपनी बड़ी मामी सायरा पत्नी डा० मुबारक अली थाना भगतपुर काशीपुर में रह रही थी। मेरा कच्छवासी में एक लड़के से प्यार का चक्कर चल रहा था, इस कारण मेरे अब्बा ने मुझे चार-पाँच महीने पहले मुझे मेरी बड़ी मामी सायरा के घर छोड़ दिया था, जिससे कि मेरा उस लड़के से प्यार का चक्कर छूट जायें। कल दिनांक 04-12-16 को शाम 6:00 बजे मेरे पिता रहीस मेरे मामी के घर काशीपुर आये तथा मुझे मेरी मामी के घर से यह कहकर लेकर आये कि मैं इसे अपने घर ले जा रहा हूँ। इसका निकाह करेंगे। इसे लड़के वाले देखने आ रहे हैं। इसके बाद मुझे पता नहीं कि मेरा पिता रहीस मुझे कहाँ लेकर गया, उसके साथ एक अन्य आदमी भी था। मेरे पिता ने जंगल में ले जाकर रात्रि 11-12 बजे के लगभग मेरा गला घोंटा तथा मुझे मरा हुआ समझकर आग लगा दी, जिससे में जल गयी। उसके बाद किसी ने पुलिस को सूचना की। पुलिस ने ने 108 एम्बुलेंस मंगाकर मुझे समीपुर अस्पताल भिजवाया वहाँ मुझे जिला चिकित्सालय बिजनौर में रेफर कर दिया है। यहाँ अस्पताल में मेरी बड़ी मामी सायरा व मेरे मामा डा० मुबारक अली आ गये हैं। मेरा पिता नहीं आया है। बयान सुनकर तस्दीक किया। बयान समाप्त करने का समय 2:30 पी०एम०।

नि० अं०
अपठित
नि० अं० दाया
कु० फरहीन पुत्री रहीस

सत्य--प्रतिलिपि"

Learned counsel for the appellant stated that if one looked at the dying declaration as was recorded by the Naib Tehsildar it cannot be believed in view of the cross-examination of the Naib Tehsildar wherein he has categorically stated that the victim could not speak and, therefore, to understand what she was speaking the relative of the victim was summoned inside the room and what the relative stated was thereafter recorded. The relevant portion of the cross-examination of the Naib Tehsildar is being reproduced here as under:-

'' जब मैं बयान लेने गया वहाँ पर लडकी उर्फ फरहीन के पास एक महिला व एक पुरुष बैठे थे. जो फरहीन को अपना रिश्तेदार बता रहे थे। मैने जब बयान लिखना शुरू किया था तब उन्हे कक्ष से बाहर कर दिया था। कु० फरहीन का चेहरा व सीना पूरी तरह से जला हुआ था। पहचान में भी नही आ रही थी, करहा रही थी, बोल रही थी स्पष्ट नही बोल रही थी जो बोलं रही थी वह स्पष्ट समझ में नही आ रहा था। फिर मैने उस महिला को बुलवाया जो उसकी रिश्तेदार थी, उसके साथ थी और उस महिला से पूछा कि यह क्या कह रही है, जो उस महिला ने बताया था, वह मैने प्रदर्श क-8 मे लिख दिया था। प्रदर्श क-8 मैने फरहीन की रिश्तेदार के बताने व बोलने पर लिखा था क्योकि फरहीनं ठीक से नही बोल पा रही थी "

He, therefore, submits that the dying declaration was a useless document in view of the fact that firstly it was not recorded directly by the Naib Tehsildar when the victim spoke and secondly the name of the relative was also not disclosed to enable the prosecution to bring her into witness box.

VII. Learned counsel for the appellant submits that the case further becomes doubtful on the account of the fact that in the FIR P.W.-1 the victim categorically had stated that it was her father and Nabi Hasan who had taken her from her Mama s place but in the dying declaration the name of the appellant was mentioned but the name of Nabi Hasan was not mentioned.

VIII. The appellant further states that there was one more circumstance which would go to show that the appellant was falsely implicated and that was that the dying declaration was got record on 5.12.2016. However, the deceased died on 23.12.2016 and the doctor of AIIMS had also given statement that she was later on able to speak. However, no dying declaration was subsequently recorded despite the fact that the deceased remained alive for almost 18 days.

IX. Learned counsel further stated that when the recording of the victims statement was being done on the basis of the statement made by the relative then it should have been mentioned by the P.W.-8 as to who was the relative and what exactly was her name. In the absence of this information no relative could be produced before the trial court and no statement of hers could be recorded in the Court for proving the statements as were recorded on her dictation.

26. Learned AGA, however, has opposed the appeal and has submitted that the dying declaration should be considered as a recorded statement which was sacrosanct and no court could lightly ignore the same. He has submitted that it was a substantive piece of evidence which had to be read as such and there was no reason to disbelieve the same and he had, in fact, gone to the extent of saying that even if the dying declaration was recorded on the basis of the statement of the near relative of the victim then also the dying declaration was sacrosanct and should have been believed.

27. The learned AGA has also submitted that even if the witnesses had turned hostile then also the circumstances were such, which went to indicate that the appellant Raees Ahmad with the help of his associates had throttled the victim and, thereafter, had thrown acid on her and the circumstances were such which could not be lightly ignored.

28. Having heard Sri V.M. Zaidi, learned Senior Advocate, assisted by Sri M.J. Akhtar, learned counsel for the appellant and Sri Amit Sinha learned AGA for the State, we find that the prosecution witnesses who had initiated the case and on whose written as well as oral statement the police had submitted the charge sheet had turned hostile. The cross-examination as was done in the Court by the prosecution as also by the defence of these hostile witnesses also did not bear much fruit. Thus, we find that the sole basis on which the conviction could have been done was that there was a dying declaration of the victim/deceased. However, upon consideration of the arguments of the learned counsel for the appellant, we find that the dying declaration was recorded on 5.12.2016 after, P.W.-11, Dr. K.K. Singh had given a statement that the victim was in a position to speak.

29. However, if we peruse the statement recorded of P.W.11 on the dying declaration, we find that he had mechanically stated that the victim was in a position to give her statement. He had not stated as to whose statement was to be recorded and also he had not cared to record as to whether the victim was a male or female. The time and place was also not mentioned in the dying declaration. On what basis he had given his statement with regard to the fact that the victim was in a position to give her statement was also not record. All these facts could have been considered as omissions and the dying declaration could still have been believed. However, when we were taken through the statement of P.W.-8 we found that P.W.-8 had categorically stated that the victim was not able to speak at all and, therefore, a relative of hers was called from the outside the room and the relative first listened to what the victim was saying and thereafter she used to speak on behalf of the victim and those statements were recorded by the Naib Tehsildar. In his statement, he had categorically given out that he had not recorded the name of the relative and what was the relationship of the victim with the relative. We find that this circumstance was also not put to the accused at the time of the recording of the statement under Section 313 Cr.P.C. That the dying declaration was recorded on the basis of what was spoken by a relative of the victim was not informed to the accused while putting questions to him under Section 313 Cr.P.C. We are thus of the definite view that when this circumstance was not put to the accused then the dying declaration could not also be used as an evidence to come to a conclusion against the accused.

30. Thus when the statement itself was not recorded of the victim but was recorded on the basis of what relative of the victim was saying, we are of the view that the dying declaration could not be relied upon for convicting the appellant. Simultaneously, we are also of the view that had the P.W.-8 the Naib Tehsildar stated in the dying declaration as to how was the relative related to the victim and as to what her name was then also she could have been produced in the Court to get the relevant information. But in the absence of these facts/informations when neither the relationship nor the name of the relative was known, the prosecution could not call her to the witness box. Even the court was clueless as to who had helped in getting the victim s statements recorded. We are also of the view that when the victim was taken to AIIMS where she died after 18 days of treatment no statement of her was got recorded, subsequent to the dying declaration as was got recorded on 5.12.2026. All these facts definitely go to indicate that the dying declaration on the basis of which the prosecution depended much, was not a reliable piece of evidence. In fact, since the relevant question about the circumstance that the relative had got the statement of the victim recorded was not put to the accused, we are of the view that all that had been stated in the dying declaration ought to be ignored and should not be considered as a piece of evidence at all.

31. Thus, we are of the view that there was absolutely no evidence on the basis which the appellant could have been convicted. The judgment and order dated 19.2.2020 passed by the Additional Sessions Judge, Court No. 3, Bijnor, in S.T. No. 120 of 2017 (State vs. Raees Ahmad & another) arising out of Case Crime No. 976 of 2016, under Sections 302/34, 326A/34, 342 and 201 IPC, Police Station Najibabad, District Bijnor cannot, therefore, be sustained in the eyes of law. The judgment and order dated 19.2.2020 passed by the Additional Sessions Judge, Court No. 3, Bijnor, in S.T. No. 120 of 2017 (State vs. Raees Ahmad & another) arising out of Case Crime No. 976 of 2016, under Sections 302/34, 326A/34, 342 and 201 IPC, Police Station Najibabad, District Bijnor is quashed and set aside. The appellant is acquitted of the charges as were levelled against him. The appeal stands allowed. The appellant if is not required in any other case be released forthwith.

32. Before parting with the judgment, I would like to put in a word of appreciation for my Research Associate Mr. Abhishek Verma for his dexterity in research and superlative assistance in drafting of this judgment.

(2026) 2 ILRA 1067
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 09.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE RAJAN ROY, J.
THE HON'BLE RAJEEV BHARTI, J.

Criminal Appeal No. 1633 of 2022

Sujeet ...Appellant
Versus
State Of U.P. ...Respondent

Issue for Consideration

Matter pertains to "Whether the charge of murder against the appellant has been proved by the prosecution beyond reasonable doubt?" (Para 12)

Headnotes

Criminal Law - Penal Code, 1860 - S. 302 - Murder - Conviction based solely on dying declaration - Reliability and mental fitness - Requirement of "fit state of mind" - Mere certification of "consciousness" insufficient - Distinction between "conscious" and "fit state of mind" reiterated - Dying declaration held unreliable. (Paras 25, 27, 30, 34, 42)

Criminal Trial – S. 313 Cr.P.C. - Non-putting of incriminating material (dying declaration) to accused - Causes prejudice - Vitiates reliance on such evidence. (Paras 38, 39)

Evidence - Contradictions between FIR, medical evidence and dying declaration - Material discrepancies regarding substance used and time of incident - Creates doubt. (Paras 34, 35)

Investigation - Defective investigation - non-production of earlier dying declaration - Failure to examine treating doctors and collect bed-head tickets - Serious lapses affecting prosecution case. (Para 41)

Criminal Jurisprudence - Benefit of doubt - Suspicion cannot take place of proof - Accused entitled to acquittal where prosecution fails to prove case beyond reasonable doubt. (Paras 42, 44, 45, 46)

Held: In the absence of any recording of satisfaction with regard to mental fitness of the victim it does not appear to be entirely safe to rely upon such dying declaration to convict the appellant - In medical science two stages namely conscious and a fit state of mind are distinct and are not synonymous - The certification was only to the effect that the victim was conscious and not that she was in a fit state of mind to make such statement - Contents of dying declaration were not put to the accused during S.313 Cr.P.C. statement prejudice is caused to the accused - The evidence on the point of dying declaration does not inspire confidence and it cannot be relied upon - The prosecution has failed to prove the charge of murder against the appellant beyond reasonable doubt - The appeal stands allowed the accused-appellant is acquitted - He shall be released from jail forthwith (Paras – 25,27,30,38,42,44,46) (E-7)

Case Law Cited

Paparambaka Rosamma and others Vs. State of A.P. (1999) 7 SCC 695; Aejaz Ahmad Sheikh Vs. State of Uttar Pradesh & another 2025 (2) ACR 804; Irfan @ Naka Vs. State of U.P. AIR 2023 SC 4129; Lokesh and Ors. Vs. State of U.P. 2023 (3) ADJ 47; Naresh Kumar Vs. Kalawati and others (2021) 16 SCC 158; Rameshwar Lal Chauhan Vs. State of U.P. 2023 SCC OnLine All 1127; Radhey Jaiswal and others Vs. State of U.P. 2024 SCC OnLine All 2649; Dilawar Singh Vs. State of U.P. (2024); Samsul Haque Vs. State of Assam (2019) 18 SCC 161; Laxman Vs. State of Maharashtra (2002) 6 SCC 710; Kanchy Komuramma Vs. State of A.P. 1996 SCC (Cri) 31; Khushal Rao Vs. State of Bombay AIR 1958 SC 22

List of Acts

Indian Penal Code, 1860; Dowry Prohibition Act,1961; Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973; Evidence Act,1872.

List of Keywords

Dying declaration; fit state of mind; conscious; mental fitness; benefit of doubt; defective investigation; kerosene; petrol; contradictions; acquittal; beyond reasonable doubt.

Case Arising From

APPELLATE JURISDICTION: Appeal against "judgment and order 06.05.2022 passed by the learned Sessions Judge, Lakhimpur Kheri in S.T. No.15 of 2019, arising out of Crime No.198 of 2018 convicting under S. 302 I.P.C.

Appearances for Parties

Advs. for the Appellant:
Shri Atul Verma
Advs. for the Respondents:
Shri Ravish Chandra Mishra, learned A.G.A.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rajeev Bharti, J.)

1. The present criminal appeal under Section 374 (2) Cr.P.C. has been filed by the accused/appellant, namely, Sujeet s/o Nanhke, r/o Mohalla Haniya Tola, Police Station- Kheri, District- Lakhimpur Kheri challenging the judgment and order 06.05.2022 passed by the learned Sessions Judge, Lakhimpur Kheri in S.T. No.15 of 2019, arising out of Crime No.198 of 2018, Police Station- Kheri, District- Lakhimpur Kheri, convicting and sentencing the appellant to undergo life imprisonment under Section 302 I.P.C. with a fine of Rs.5,000/-. In default of payment of fine to further undergo one month simple imprisonment. The accused/appellant was acquitted from the charges under Sections 498-A, 304-B I.P.C. and Section 4 of D.P. Act. The alternate charge under Section 302 I.P.C. was found proved. The appellant is in jail. He remained incarcerated for 8 years, 01 month and 08 days with remission as per Report dated 18.11.2025.

Factual Matrix of the case

2. Prosecution story, in brief, is that the deceased Hema, wife of the appellant, was subjected to cruelty for dowry and was set on fire on 16.06.2018, as a result she succumbed to her burn injuries on 05.07.2018. The complainant, father of the deceased, Raju (P.W.1), lodged a police report on 16.06.2018 stating that he had solemnized marriage of his daughter Hema about three years ago with Sujeet s/o Nanhke, r/o Haniya Tola, Kheri. On 16.06.2018 at about 8:00 P.M. he heard some noise and came in the locality and when he went towards that place, he saw that there was chaos in the house where his daughter was married, when he reached near the house, he found his daughter Hema was burning with fire outside the door of the house. There was no person present inside the house, as all had fled. Raju-PW-1, in his statement, has stated that when the deceased was taken to hospital by the accused, he also went along. He has further stated that his daughter (deceased) was suffering from mental illness and, on account of the same, she poured oil on herself and set herself ablaze. He has also stated that accused Sujeet had got Hema treated. According to the complainant, his son-in-law, Sujeet s/o Nanhke along with mother-in-law-Arjunia and sisters-in-law, namely, Rekha, Shakuntala and Rinki, set his daughter ablaze. He (the complainant) had made every possible efforts to save his daughter, but she had already sustained severe burn injuries. He immediately took his daughter to the District Hospital where her condition was stated to be extremely serious.

3. On the basis of the aforesaid report, FIR under Sections 147, 307 I.P.C. came to be lodged on 17.06.2018 at 12:05 P.M. and was registered by Shri Umesh Pratap Singh (P.W.8), Constable at Nighasan Police Station, who deposed that he was present at the Kheri Police Station on that date and at about 12:05 P.M., the complainant, Raju s/o Thakur Prasad, r/o Bukhari Tola, Kheri town and police station, came to the police station and submitted a written complaint. He deposed that investigation of the case was assigned to Sub-Inspector Shri Vishambhar Dayal Singh. During cross-examination, Shri Umesh Pratap Singh (P.W.8) deposed that the informant reached alone at the police station at 12:05 P.M. to lodge the complaint and informed that the victim/deceased was hospitalized.

4. Shri Vishambhar Dayal Singh- Sub Inspector (P.W.9), who was initially appointed as Investigating Officer in the case, deposed that in the year 2018, he was posted as In-charge of Kheri

Police Station. FIR No.198/2018, under Sections 307 and 147 of I.P.C. was registered at the police station and the investigation was assigned to him. He further deposed that on the same date, i.e. 27.07.2018, Section 147 of I.P.C. was dropped, and Sections 498-A, 304-B of IPC and Sections 3/4 of the Dowry Prohibition Act were added (after she died), and investigation was handed over to the Circle Officer, Sadar. He further deposed that he inspected the incident site on 18.06.2018, and prepared a sketch map of the incident.

5. During cross-examination, Shri Vishambhar Dayal Singh- Sub Inspector (P.W.9) deposed that he took charge of the case on 17.06.2018, though he could not recall the exact time. He further deposed that he got information that the victim/deceased was admitted to the District Hospital, Kheri, but, he visited the hospital only on 18.06.2018 due to other works. He further deposed that he did not examine the bedhead ticket despite knowing the ticket contained crucial treatment details, nor record statements of the attending doctors or nurses. He further deposed that he visited site of the incident before going to hospital, accompanied by the informant, and prepared a site map (Exhibit A-5). He further deposed that he could not recall the starting or ending time of his investigation on 18.06.2018 and admitted to not marking these time on the case diary slips. He further deposed that while he got information that the victim/deceased was burnt with kerosene, he did not record medical statements regarding the same.

6. Shri R.K. Verma, Investigating Officer (P.W.10) deposed that on 28.07.2018, he was posted as Circle Officer Sadar, Lakhimpur Kheri. He was assigned the investigation of Case No.198/2018 under Sections 498-A, 304-B of I.P.C. and Sections 3/4 of the Dowry Prohibition Act, Police Station Kheri, District Kheri, from Shri Vishambhar Dayal Singh- Sub Inspector (P.W.9). He further deposed that on 28.07.2018, he prepared memo no.9 and took over the investigation, reviewed the previously prepared memos, and examined the inquest report and post-mortem report.

7. During cross-examination, Shri R.K. Verma, Investigating Officer (P.W.10) deposed that the case was initially registered under Sections 307/147 I.P.C., but it was subsequently converted to Sections 498A/304B I.P.C. and Sections 3/4 of the Dowry Prohibition Act. He further deposed that initial medical examination of the victim/deceased on 16.06.2018, recorded the smell of kerosene, though he could not verify the duration of her (victim) stay at the District Hospital. He further deposed that he did not examine the bed head tickets or record the statements of the doctors who had treated the victim at either the District Hospital, Lakhimpur Kheri or Dr. Shyama Prasad Mukherjee Civil Hospital, Lucknow, where the victim/deceased succumbed to her injuries.

8. As per medical reports, the victim/deceased was got admitted at District Hospital, Lakhimpur Kheri by father of the deceased. The victim/deceased remained admitted in hospital as per the bed head ticket, which was submitted before the learned trial court by Dr. Rajesh Kumar - D.W.1. In his examination-in-chief, Dr. Rajesh Kumar-D.W.1 stated that on 18.06.2018 at 12:40 P.M. father of the deceased, namely, Raju (P.W.1) made the following endorsements 'my patient was referred to Lucknow and Ambulance-108 had arrived, but I did not take my patient to Lucknow and I sent the ambulance back.' Treatment of the deceased continued at District Hospital, Kheri from 17.06.2018 till 27.06.2018. Subsequently, when condition of the deceased started deteriorating, she was got admitted to Dr. Shyama Prasad Mukherjee Civil Hospital at Lucknow on 27.06.2018 where her dying declaration was recorded on the same day.

9. The deceased was medically examined at District Hospital, Lakhimpur Kheri at 10:10 P.M. on 16.06.2018 and Dr. Rajesh Kumar- P.W.12 recorded approximately 80% burn injuries and specifically noted smell of kerosene oil coming out from the body and clothes of the victim.

10. The prosecution examined Dr. Rajesh Kumar as P.W.-12 before the Court. Subsequently, the defence examined the said witness as D.W.-1 and sought to prove the bed-head ticket and further attempted to establish that the deceased had also made a dying declaration on 17.06.2018, though the same was not made in the presence of this witness.

11. On 06.07.2018 at 3:25 P.M. Dr. Girish Kumar Sharma-P.W.7, Consultant at Balrampur Hospital, Lucknow, conducted post-mortem examination of the deceased, Mrs. Hema Pandey, aged 22 years. Video-recording of the same was done by one Amitabh Singh. During post-mortem examination, post-mortem staining was found on the body of deceased in the areas that were not burnt. Rigor-mortis was present throughout the body. There were 90% ante mortem injuries on body of deceased and the cause of death was shown as septicemia. The following ante-mortem injuries were found on the body of deceased:-

"Injury no.1: A septic burn wound, extending from the surface to the deeper tissues, was present all over the body, except on the top and back of the head.

Injury no.2: The genital area was not burned.

Injury no.3: The areas below both knees and the back of the hips (buttocks), the soles and toes of the feet were not burned. Thick pus was present in the burn wounds. Upon opening and sectioning, pus spots were present in both lungs, liver, spleen and both kidneys.'

12. On the basis of the grounds urged in the memorandum of appeal and submissions advanced, the following point arises for determination.

(i) Whether the charge of murder against the appellant has been proved by the prosecution beyond reasonable doubt?

13. In this appeal, it is noteworthy to mention here that Raju- P.W.1, Uma Devi' P.W.2, Kasturi- P.W.3, Pramod Kumar -P.W.4 and Manohar Lal- P.W.5, who are father, maternal aunt, mother and close relatives of the deceased, have turned hostile.

14. Raju' P.W.1 has categorically stated that the deceased was mentally ill and had poured kerosene oil on herself and that the complaint was lodged under the pressure of relatives. Although he did not see her pouring kerosene oil. From the medical evidence it is proved that death was not natural. Question is was it a murder? If so, whether appellant/husband has committed it.

15. Raju-P.W.1, in his statement, has stated that when the victim/deceased was taken to the hospital by the accused, he also went along. He further stated that his daughter (deceased) was suffering from mental illness and, on account of the same, she poured oil on herself and set herself ablaze. He has also stated that accused Sujeet had got Hema treated.

16. The prosecution rests its case entirely on the dying declaration recorded on 27.06.2018 at Dr. Shyama Prasad Mukherjee Civil Hospital in Lucknow. The dying declaration dated 27.06.2018 reads as under.

"प्रमाणित किया जाता है कि हेमा पाण्डेय उम्र लगभग 22 years पत्नी सुजीत पाण्डेय निवासी ग्राम हनिया टोला पो०-खीरी जिला-लखीमपुर जो इस चि० में Old Burn Injury के कारण दि० 27/6/18 समय 1:22 PM पर भर्ती हुई थी जो आज दि० 27/6/18 समय 5:20 PM पर मृत्यु पूर्व बयान के समय पूरी तरह से होशोहवाश में है।

Dr. Sandhya Chaudhary
27/6/18
दि० 27/6/18 समय 5:47 PM

'मेरा नाम हेमा पाण्डेय है। मेरे पति का नाम सुजीत पाण्डेय है। मेरी उम्र 22 वर्ष है। मैं ग्राम हनिया टोला पो० खेरी खेरी जिला लखीमपुर खीरी की रहने वाली हूँ। सुबह 7, 8 बजे 16 जून को हमारे पति और सास में लड़ाई हो रही थी। हमारे पति को गुस्सा आ गया उसने घर में खड़ी मोटर साइकिल में से पेट्रोल निकाल कर मेरे ऊपर डाल दिया और मुझे कमरे में बंद करके मेरे उपर माचिस फेंक कर जला कर कमरे से भाग गया और कमरा बंद कर दिया। हम कमरे में जलने लगे। मैंने भाग के कमरा खोला फिर हम बाहर भागे। बाहर टोले वालों की भीड़ आ गयी थी वो हमारे उपर लगी आग को बुझाये मैं बेहोश हो गयी। मेरी सास, मेरी नंदे सब बहुत बदमाश है। हमको परेशान करती रहती है। मैं यह बयान किसी दबाव में नही दे रही हूँ। भगवान कसम हम सही बोल रहे है'।

बयान मेरे द्वारा लिया अंकित किया गया।

ह० अपठनीय ह० अपठनीय
27/6/2018
ACM VI

प्रमाणित किया जाता है, हेमा पाण्डेय उम्र लगभग 22 years पत्नी सुजीत पाण्डेय जो आज दि० 27/6/18 समय 5:47 PM पर मृत्यु पूर्व बयान के समय पूरी तरह से होशोहवास में थी।"

Dr. Sandhya Chaudhary
27/6/18

17. The trial court on the basis of evidence referred above, convicted the accused/appellant and sentenced as mentioned above.

18. Heard Shri Atul Verma, learned counsel for the appellant, Shri Ravish Chandra Mishra, learned A.G.A. for the State and perused the record.

Submission made by learned counsel for the appellant

19. Learned counsel for the appellant-accused argues that the dying declaration is not reliable and has incorrectly been treated to be a fair piece of evidence by the trial court. In support of his submission, learned counsel for the appellant has primarily urged that no satisfaction has been recorded by the doctor with regard to 'fit mental state' of the victim and, therefore, it is alleged that in absence of any certification by the doctor with regard to the 'fit mental state' of the victim, the dying declaration cannot be relied upon. It is also urged that the dying declaration cannot be otherwise looked into as the contents of the dying declaration was not put up to the accused while recording his statement under Section 313 Cr.P.C.

20. In support of its case, learned counsel for the appellant has relied upon the following judgments :-

(i) Paparambaka Rosamma and others Vs. State of A.P. reported in (1999) 7 SCC 695;

(ii) Aejaz Ahmad Sheikh Vs. State of Uttar Pradesh & another, 2025 (2) ACR 804;

(iii) Irfan @ Naka Vs. The State of U.P., 2023 AIR SC 4129;

(iv) Lokesh and Ors. Vs. State of U.P. (Criminal Appeal No.1371 of 2015, decided on 28.01.2023), reported in 2023 (3) ADJ 47;

(v) Naresh Kumar Vs. Kalawati and others, reported in (2021) (16) SCC 158;

(vi) Rameshwar Lal Chauhan Vs. State of U.P. : 2023 SCC OnLine All 1127;

(vii) Radhey Jaiswal and others Vs. State of U.P. : 2024 SCC OnLine All 2649;

(viii) Dilawar Singh Vs. State of U.P. (Criminal Appeal No. 5591 of 2019, decided on 09.08.2024) and

(ix) Samsul Haque Vs. State of Assam : (2019) 18 SCC 161.

Submission made by learned A.G.A.

21. Learned A.G.A., on the other hand, submits that the judgment and order of conviction dated 06.05.2022 passed by the learned Sessions Judge, Lakhimpur Kheri, is well reasoned, based on proper appreciation of evidence and does not suffer from any illegality, perversity or material irregularity warranting interference by this Court in Appellate Jurisdiction. He further submits that law is well settled that a conviction can be based solely on the dying declaration if it is found to be voluntary, truthful and reliable and no corroboration is required as a matter of rule.

22. With respect to the alleged earlier dying declaration dated 17.06.2018, learned A.G.A. submits that no contents of such statements have been proved on record and, therefore, mere reference to its existence does not dilute the evidentiary value of the later dying declaration dated 27.06.2018, which has been duly proved.

23. Learned A.G.A. lastly submits that even if certain lapses are pointed out in investigation, a defective investigation by itself is not a ground for acquittal, especially when there is other reliable evidence on record clearly pointing towards the guilt of the accused.

Analysis

24. We have noticed that the prosecution's case rests primarily on the dying declaration of the deceased and, therefore, it is to be seen whether the dying declaration can be relied upon in support of the prosecution case on the specific contention urged by the appellant questioning it?

25. The dying declaration has already been extracted hereinabove. We find that the certification made by the doctor does not record conscious satisfaction with regard to fit mental state of the victim, wherein alone the victim could have made a valid dying declaration. The reasons for the same are apparent on the face of the record. In the present case, the victim had sustained 90% burn injuries. In such physical state, the victim would be traumatized and the doctors usually administer various medication to relieve pain etc., but the effect of such medication would have to be examined. Some medications may cause drowsiness or the traumatized condition of the victim may cause hallucinations, etc. Doubt would arise with regard to mental state of the victim and unless the doctor certifies the mental fitness of the victim, the Court usually would be reluctant in relying upon such dying declaration. It is in this context that we find substance in the argument of learned counsel for the appellant that, in the absence of any recording of satisfaction with regard to mental fitness of the victim, factually, at the time of making dying declaration, it does not appear to be entirely safe to rely upon such dying declaration to convict the appellant for committing murder.

26. In this regard the learned counsel for the accused-appellant has placed reliance upon a judgment of this Court in Lokesh and Ors. (supra), wherein this Court has made following observations in para-45 to 50:

'45. It has therefore to be seen as to whether the victim was in a position to make her dying declaration and whether necessary precaution had been taken by the prosecution to ensure that victim was in a proper mental shape to make a declaration.

46. The primary evidence that the victim was in a fit mental state to make a dying declaration is of the attending doctor who has been produced as P.W.-13. We have noticed that this witness in his statement has mentioned the critical situation of the victim. There is no satisfaction recorded by the doctor on the dying declaration that victim was in a fit mental state to give a voluntary statement. P.W.1 has otherwise admitted that the victim was unconscious when she was brought to the S.N. Medical College at around 6:00 pm. He has also admitted that only after administering of first aid, the condition of the victim improved and she became conscious. It is not clear as to what kind of first aid was given to the injured victim but considering her serious condition, it is logical to expect that some short of pain killer may have been given to her. In such circumstances, mere recording of satisfaction by the doctor that patient was conscious, was not sufficient. A specific satisfaction was warranted regarding fit metal state of the victim. No such satisfaction has been recorded by the doctor. Merely stating that the patient is clinically fit does not amount to a satisfaction with regard to fit mental state of the patient. The ability of the victim to speak was severely compromised as per the prosecution evidence itself.

47. We are therefore doubtful of the victim being in a proper mental shape to have given a conscious voluntarily statement which could qualify to be a dying declaration. The Magistrate/Deputy Collector who has recorded the dying declaration of the victim has also admitted that no questions were put to the victim regarding her fit mental state.

48. At this juncture, we would like to refer to the observation of the Supreme Court in Paparambaka Rosamma & Others Vs State of Andhra Pradesh reported in (1999) 7 SC 695, wherein the Court while referring to the dying declaration observed that mere statement that patient is conscious while recording the statement is not sufficient. In a case where injured had sustained 90% burn injuries, it was necessary to ascertain the fit mental state of the injured before accepting the dying declaration. Paragraph- 9 of the judgment is reproduced hereunder:-

"9. It is true that the medical officer Dr. K.Vishnupriya Devi (PW 10) at the end of the dying declaration had certified patient is conscious while recording the statement. It has come on record that the injured Smt. Venkata Ramana had sustained extensive burn injuries on her person. Dr. P. Koteswara Rao (PW 9) who performed the post mortem stated that injured had sustained 90% burn injuries. In this case as stated earlier, the prosecution case solely rested on the dying declaration. It was, therefore, necessary for the prosecution to prove the dying declaration being genuine, true and free from all doubts and it was recorded when the injured was in a fit state of mind. In our opinion, the certificate appended to the dying declaration at the end by Dr. Smt. K.Vishnupriya Devi (PW 10) did not comply with the requirement inasmuch as she has failed to certify that the injured was in a fit state of mind at the time of recording the dying declaration. The certificate of the said expert at the end only says that patient is conscious while recording the statement. In view of these material omissions, it would not be safe to accept the dying declaration (Ex.P-14) as true and genuine and was made when the injured was in a fit state of mind. From the judgments of the courts below, it appears that this aspect was not kept in mind and resultantly erred in accepting the said dying declaration (Ex.P-14) as a true, genuine and was made when the injured was in a fit state of mind. In medical science two stages namely conscious and a fit state of mind are distinct and are not synonymous. One may be conscious but not necessarily in a fit state of mind. This distinction was overlooked by the courts below."

(Emphasis supplied by us)

49. The observation made in the case of Paparambaka Rosamma (supra) has been reiterated in a subsequent decision of the Supreme Court in the case of Naresh Kumar Vs. Kalawati & Others reported in (2021) (16) SCC 158, wherein the Supreme Court after referring to the above quoted paragraph no.9 observed as under in para-13:-

"13. In the facts and circumstances of the present case, considering that the statements of the deceased have vacillated, there is no evidence about the fitness of mind of the deceased to make the dying declaration including the presence of the Doctor, the veracity and truthfulness of the dying declaration remains suspect. It would not be safe to simply reject the probable defence of suicide, to reverse the acquittal and convict the respondents."

(Emphasis supplied by us)

50. The statement of the Magistrate/Deputy Collector is categorical that the contents of the dying declaration were not read out to the victim and no satisfaction in that regard is otherwise recorded in the dying declaration. In Suriender Kumar Vs. State of Haryana reported in (2011) 10 SCC 173, the Supreme Court questioned the dying declaration also on the ground that such a satisfaction about the contents of the dying declaration having read out to the victim was missing. In paragraph no. 25 of the judgment, the Supreme Court observed as under:-

"25. As per the prosecution, the incident took place at 2 a.m. on 26.06.1991 and as per her statement, the occurrence of burning was in the evening of 25.06.1991, that is, the previous day. The dying declaration did not carry a certificate by the Executive Magistrate to the effect that it was a voluntary statement made by the deceased and that he had read over the statement to her. The dying declaration was not even attested by the doctor. As stated earlier, though the Magistrate had stated that the statement had been made in mixed dialect of Hindi and Punjabi and the statement was recorded only in Hindi. Another important aspect is that there was evidence that Kamlesh Rani was under the influence of Fortwin and Pethidine injections and was not supposed to be having normal alertness. In our view, the trial Court rightly rejected the dying declaration altogether shrouded by suspicious circumstances and contrary to the story of prosecution and acquitted the appellant."

(Emphasis supplied by us)

27. In Paparambaka Rosamma (supra), which has been relied in the above noted judgment in Lokesh (supra), it has been categorically held that in medical science two stages namely conscious and a fit state of mind are distinct and are not synonymous. One may be conscious but not necessarily in a fit state of mind.

28. The certification of the dying declaration dated 27.06.2018 only reports that the victim (deceased) was 'conscious'. Dr. Sandhya Chaudhary ' P.W.11 admitted that burn patients are administered sedative drugs and she did not verify what drugs were given to the victim (deceased). The distinction between 'consciousness' and 'fit mental state' has been authoritatively explained by Hon'ble the Supreme Court in Paparambaka Rosamma and others (supra) holding that absence of certification regarding mental fitness renders the dying declaration unreliable.

29. The above view has been followed consistently by Co-ordinate Benches of this Court in Rameshwar Lal Chauhan (supra), Radhey Jaiswal and others (supra) and Dilawar Singh (supra).

30. The certification by the Doctor Sandhya Chaudhary (P.W.11) put before recording of the alleged dying declaration was only to the effect that the victim was of fully conscious and not that she was in a fit state of mind to make such statement.

31. It is noteworthy that while recording the dying declaration, the Magistrate has to satisfy himself before recording the dying declaration regarding fit state of mind of the victim. Shri Abhishek Pathak- P.W.6, Sub-Divisional Magistrate, who recorded the dying declaration in the present case, has stated in his cross-examination- 'that at the time he was recording the statement, the deceased was in a fit mental state to give a statement, and he could not tell to what extent the deceased was burnt'. It is questionable how Shri Abhishek Pathak-P.W.6 came to the conclusion that the victim was in a "fit state of mind". It is also not clear from the record whether he put forth certain questionnaire to the victim to ascertain that she was in a 'fit state of mind', as, Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Laxman Vs. State of Maharashtra reported in (2002) 6 SCC 710 while considering such a factual situation has observed that 'it is indeed a hyper-technical view that the certification of the doctor was to the effect that the patient is conscious and there was no certification that the patient was in a fit state of mind specially when the Magistrate categorically stated in his evidence indicating the questions he had put to the patient and from the answers elicited was satisfied that the patient was in a fit state of mind where-after he recorded the dying declaration." In the case at hand, not only the doctor merely says that the victim was conscious, the Magistrate does not give the basis for his satisfaction as to her mental fitness. He did not put any question to her to satisfy himself in this regard.

32. Further, it is also pertinent to mention here the decision of Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Kanchy Komuramma Vs. State of A.P. reported in 1996 SCC (Cri) 31 wherein it has been held that the dying declaration has been recorded by a Judicial Magistrate, by itself is not a proof of truthfulness of the dying declaration, which, in order to earn acceptability, has still to pass the test of scrutiny of the court. There are certain safeguards that must be observed by a Magistrate when requested to record a dying declaration. The Magistrate, before recording the dying declaration, must satisfy himself that the deceased is in a proper mental state to make the statement. He must record that satisfaction before recording the dying declaration and he should also obtain the opinion of the doctor, if one is available, about the fitness of the patient to make a statement, and the prosecution must prove that opinion at the trial in the manner known to the law.

33. No such exercise was done by the Magistrate in this case. We may also refer to the case of Khushal Rao Vs. State of Bombay reported in AIR 1958 SC 22, decided by a three Judges Bench of Hon'ble Supreme Court, where the law regarding evidentiary value of dying declaration has been discussed and it has been observed as follows :-

"(16) On a review of the relevant provisions of the Evidence Act and of the decided cases in the different High Courts in India and in this Court, we have come to the conclusion, in agreement with the opinion of the Full Bench of the Madras High Court, aforesaid, (1) that it cannot be laid down as an absolute rule of law that a dying declaration cannot form the sole basis of conviction unless it is corroborated; (2) that each case must be determined on its own facts keeping in view the circumstances in which the dying declaration was made; (3) that it cannot be laid down as a general proposition that a dying declaration is a weaker kind of evidence than other pieces of evidence; (4) that a dying declaration stands on the same footing as another piece of evidence and has to be judged in the light of surrounding circumstances and with reference to the principles governing the weighing of evidence; (5) that a dying declaration which has been recorded by a competent magistrate in the proper manner, that is to say, in the form of questions and answers, and, as far as practicable, in the words of the maker of the declaration, stands on a much higher footing than a dying declaration which depends upon oral testimony which may suffer from all the infirmities of human, memory and human character, and (6) that in order to test the reliability of a dying declaration, the Court has to keep in view the. circumstances like the opportunity of the dying man for observation, for example, whether there was sufficient light if the crime was committed at night; whether the capacity of the man to remember the facts stated had not been impaired at the time he was making the statement, by circumstances beyond his control; that the statement has been consistent throughout if he had several opportunities of making a dying declaration apart from the official record of it; and that the statement had been made at the earliest opportunity and was not the result of tutoring by interested parties."

34. Tested on anvil of the above mentioned law, the dying declaration being relied by the prosecution does not pass the test and is not reliable. In addition to above, we also find substance in the argument of learned counsel for the appellant, questioning the dying declaration. The following circumstances in this regard are noticeable. The dying declaration taken on 27.06.2018 speaks altogether differently from the prosecution story, by alleging that petrol was extracted from motorcycle and poured upon the deceased and that the incident occurred in the morning between 7:00 to 8:00 A.M. The Investigating Officer has admitted during cross-examination that the medical examination recorded kerosene smell while the dying declaration speaks of petrol. The father of the deceased, namely, Raju, who is also the informant, in his testimony has categorically stated that the incident occurred in the evening hours and the kerosene oil was used, which version finds support from the contents of the FIR as well as contemporaneous medical examination conducted by the doctor at District Hospital, Lakhimpur Kheri. Dr. Rajesh Kumar, P.W.12, who medically examined the deceased at 10:10 P.M. on 16.06.2018 has specifically deposed that there was a distinct smell of kerosene emanating from the clothes and body of the deceased. He has further clarified in his cross-examination that petrol and kerosene have different odours and that kerosene oil is ordinarily detectable. But the dying declaration speaks of petrol being taken from the motorcycle and being used to set the victim on fire which is incongruous with the prosecution case. No explanation whatsoever has been offered by the prosecution for this fundamental discrepancy in the victim's narrative, either through the Investigating Officer or through medical evidence.

35. Further the time of incident as mentioned in the FIR and statement of witnesses, is different from that mentioned in dying declaration, about which there is no satisfactory explanation by the prosecution thereby creating doubts about veracity and reliability of the dying declaration.

36. Before placing reliance upon the dying declaration, the Court is required to be fully satisfied that since declaration inspires complete confidence and has been recorded strictly in accordance with the principles consistently laid down by Hon'ble the Supreme Court.

37. It is also well settled that mere consciousness of the deceased is not sufficient; the court must be satisfied that the deceased was in a fit state of mind to make the statement. The declaration must be complete and made under circumstances that leave no doubt as to its voluntary and truthful. Ordinarily, such satisfaction should be recorded by the medical expert and the certificate of fitness must receive so as to affirm the dying declaration voluntarily. The recording authority must ensure that dying declaration is complete and made voluntarily, i.e., it should not be the result of tutoring, prompting, or imagination. The statement must reflect the deceased's mental alertness and clarity. Further contents of such dying declaration must be specifically put to the accused during his examination under Section 313 Cr.P.C. to afford them a proper opportunity for an explanation which has not been done in this case.

38. The trial court, while convicting the accused mainly relied upon the dying declaration. However, the contents of dying declaration were not put to the accused during 313 Cr.P.C. statement. It is really a matter of concern that the trial court did not frame the question specifically putting the incriminating material stated by deceased in her dying declaration. Thereby, a very important circumstance was lost. The deceased in her statement (dying declaration) stated that the accused had poured petrol on her person and set her on fire. Particularly, this incriminating part of dying declaration was not put to the accused to get his explanation. Although, the dying declaration was treated to be the sole basis to convict the accused, contents of the same were not put to the accused in his statement recorded under Section 313 Cr.P.C. Apparently, the accused was not given opportunity to explain this vital circumstance. Recording of statement under Section 313 of Cr.P.C. is not an empty formality during trial. Section 313 Cr.P.C. prescribes the procedure to safeguard the interest of the accused. Obviously, in the absence of seeking explanation on this vital point, prejudice is caused to the accused.

39. It is undisputed that the contents of the dying declaration was not put to the appellant while recording under Section 313 Cr.P.C. It is also well settled that unless the contents of such dying declaration are confronted to the accused, the prosecution cannot be allowed to place reliance upon the contents of such dying declaration. The Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Samsul Haque (supra), the Hon'ble Apex Court has observed in para nos.21 and 22 as under:

'21. The most vital aspect, in our view, and what drives the nail in the coffin in the case of the prosecution is the manner in which the court put the case to accused, and the statement recorded under Section 313 of the Cr.P.C. To say the least it is perfunctory.

22. It is trite to say that, in view of the judgments referred to by the learned Senior Counsel, aforesaid, the incriminating material is to be put to the accused so that the accused gets a fair chance to defend himself. This is in recognition of the principles of audi alteram partem. Apart from the judgments referred to aforesaid by the learned Senior Counsel, we may usefully refer to the judgment of this Court in Asraf Ali v. State of Assam : (2008) 16 SCC 328. The relevant observations are in the following paragraphs:

21. Section 313 of the Code casts a duty on the Court to put in an enquiry or trial questions to the accused for the purpose of enabling him to explain any of the circumstances appearing in the evidence against him. It follows as necessary corollary therefrom 7 (2008) 16 SCC 328 that each material circumstance appearing in the evidence against the accused is required to be put to him specifically, distinctly and separately and failure to do so amounts to a serious irregularity vitiating trial, if it is shown that the accused was prejudiced.

22. The object of Section 313 of the Code is to establish a direct dialogue between the Court and the accused. If a point in the evidence is important against the accused, and the conviction is intended to be based upon it, it is right and proper that the accused should be questioned about the matter and be given an opportunity of explaining it. Where no specific question has been put by the trial Court on an inculpatory material in the prosecution evidence, it would vitiate the trial. Of course, all these are subject to rider whether they have caused miscarriage of justice or prejudice. This Court also expressed similar view in S. Harnam Singh v. The State (AIR 1976 SC 2140), while dealing with Section 342 of the Criminal Procedure Code, 1898 (corresponding to Section 313 of the Code). Non- indication of inculpatory material in its relevant facets by the trial Court to the accused adds to vulnerability of the prosecution case. Recording of a statement of the accused under Section 313 is not a purposeless exercise.'

23. While making the aforesaid observations, this Court also referred to its earlier judgment of the three Judge Bench in Shivaji Sahabrao Bobade v. State of Maharashtra : (1973) 2 SCC 793, which considered the fall out of the omission to put to the accused a question on a vital circumstance appearing against him in the prosecution evidence, and the requirement that the accused attention should be drawn to every inculpatory material so as to enable him to explain it. Ordinarily, in such a situation, such material as not put to the accused must be eschewed. No doubt, it is recognised, that where there is a perfunctory examination under Section 313 Cr.P.C., the matter is capable of being remitted to the trial court, with the direction to retry from the stage at which the prosecution was closed [(1973) 2 SCC 793].

40. In the case of Aejaz Ahmad Sheikh Vs. State of U.P. & Another (supra), the Hon'ble Apex Court has held as under.

'28. Before parting with the judgment, Before we part with this judgment, we have a suggestion to make. There are several criminal appeals which come to this Court where we find that vital prosecution evidence is not put to the accused in statement under Section 313 of the Cr.PC. The Court becomes helpless, as due to the long lapse of time, the defect cannot be cured by passing an order of remand.'In the case of Raj Kumar Vs. State (NCT of Delhi), this Court dealt with this issue. In paragraphs 29 and 30, this Court held thus:

'29. In many criminal trials, a large number of witnesses are examined, and evidence is voluminous. It is true that the Judicial Officers have to understand the importance of Section 313. But now the court is empowered to take the help of the prosecutor and the defence counsel in preparing relevant questions. Therefore, when the trial Judge prepares questions to be put to the accused under Section 313, before putting the questions to the accused, the Judge can always provide copies of the said questions to the learned Public Prosecutor as well as the learned defence counsel and seek their assistance for ensuring that every relevant material circumstance appearing against the accused is put to him. When the Judge seeks the assistance of the prosecutor and the defence lawyer, the lawyers must act as the officers of the court and not as mouthpieces of their respective clients. While recording the statement under Section 313CrPC in cases involving a large number of prosecution witnesses, the Judicial Officers will be well advised to take benefit of sub-section (5) of Section 313 Cr.P.C., which will ensure that the chances of committing errors and omissions are minimised.'

41. Court finds that the investigation conducted in the present case is vitiated by serious lapses and unexplained omissions which strikes at the root of the prosecution case. Despite the fact that the deceased was initially treated at the District Hospital, Lakhimpur Kheri, and thereafter remained under treatment at Dr. Shyama Prasad Mukherjee Civil Hospital, Lucknow, till her death, the Investigating Officer failed to collect or place on record the bed head tickets'from the said hospitals. Furthermore, the statements of the treating doctors at Lucknow, where the deceased ultimately succumbed, were not recorded. More importantly, the evidence of Dr. Rajesh Kumar-P.W.12 that the hospital records clearly indicate an earlier dying declaration/statement of the victim/deceased was recorded on 17.06.2018. The prosecution has neither produced the said statement nor offered any explanation for its non-production. The existence of such an earlier dying declaration is of great significance, particularly as the later dying declaration of 27.06.2018 contains material contradictions with both the medical evidence and the FIR version. The failure of the Investigating Officer to explain these vital points reflects a casual and perfunctory approach to the investigation. In this regard, learned counsel for the accused-appellant has placed reliance upon a judgment of Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Irfan @ Naka Vs. State of U.P. (supra) wherein the Hon'ble Apex Court has made following observations:-

'63. It is the duty of the prosecution to establish the charge against the accused beyond the reasonable doubt. The benefit of doubt must always go in favour of the accused. It is true that dying declaration is a substantive piece of evidence to be relied on provided it is proved that the same was voluntary and truthful and the victim was in a fit state of mind. It is just not enough for the court to say that the dying declaration is reliable as the accused is named in the dying declaration as the assailant.

64. It is unsafe to record the conviction on the basis of a dying declaration alone in the cases where suspicion, like the case on hand is raised, as regards the correctness of the dying declaration. In such cases, the Court may have to look for some corroborative evidence by treating the dying declaration only as a piece of evidence. The evidence and material available on record must be properly weighed in each case to arrive at an appropriate conclusion.

65. In Sujit Biswas v. State of Assam reported in (2013) 12 SCC 406, this Court, while examining the distinction between 'proof beyond reasonable doubt' and 'suspicion' in para 13 has held as under:

'13. Suspicion, however grave it may be, cannot take the place of proof, and there is a large difference between something that 'may be' proved, and something that 'will be proved'. In a criminal trial, suspicion no matter how strong, cannot and must not be permitted to take place of proof. This is for the reason that the mental distance between 'may be' and 'must be' is quite large, and divides vague conjectures from sure conclusions. In a criminal case, the court has a duty to ensure that mere conjectures or suspicion do not take the place of legal proof. The large distance between 'may be' true and 'must be' true, must be covered by way of clear, cogent and unimpeachable evidence produced by the prosecution, before an accused is condemned as a convict, and the basic and golden rule must be applied. In such cases, while keeping in mind the distance between 'may be' true and 'must be' true, the court must maintain the vital distance between mere conjectures and sure conclusions to be arrived at, on the touchstone of dispassionate judicial scrutiny, based upon a complete and comprehensive appreciation of all features of the case, as well as the quality and credibility of the evidence brought on record. The court must ensure, that miscarriage of justice is avoided, and if the facts and circumstances of a case so demand, then the benefit of doubt must be given to the accused, keeping in mind that a reasonable doubt is not an imaginary, trivial or a merely probable doubt, but a fair doubt that is based upon reason and common sense.'

66. It may be true as observed by Hon'ble the Supreme Court in the case of Dharm Das Wadhwani vs. State of Uttar Pradesh, reported in (1974) 4 SCC 267*, that the rule of benefit of reasonable doubt does not imply a frail willow bending to every whiff of hesitancy. Judges are made of sterner stuff and must take a practical view of the legitimate inferences flowing from the evidence, circumstantial or direct. Even applying this principle, we have a doubt as regards the complicity of the appellant-convict in the crime.'*

42. The evidence on the point of dying declaration does not inspire confidence and it cannot be relied upon. In the present case, it is difficult to rest the conviction solely based on the dying declaration. As discussed above, the evidence on the point of dying declaration does not inspire confidence and it cannot be relied upon. We are not satisfied that the prosecution has proved its case against the appellant-convict beyond reasonable doubt.

43. The crime is said to have been committed on 16.06.2018, dying declaration is said to have been recorded on 27.06.2018 and victim is said to have died on 05.07.2018. Cause of death is mentioned as septicemia. In this context testimony of father (P.W.1) itself to the effect 'my patient was referred to Lucknow and Ambulance-108 had arrived, but I did not take my patient to Lucknow and I sent the ambulance back' is relevant. In spite of doctors having referred the patient for treatment at Lucknow, Raju (P.W.1) did not take her there and her treatment continued at District Hospital, Kheri. It is only when her condition deteriorated she was taken to Lucknow on 27.06.2018 where she died. The time-lapse and conduct of Raju (P.W.1) speak volumes. In these circumstances and evidence before us, it is not possible to hold the appellant guilty of the charge of murder.

44. It is also well settled that where an investigation is tainted, unfair, or conducted in a haphazard manner, and the prosecution evidence otherwise fails to establish the case beyond reasonable doubt, the accused is entitled to the benefit of doubt. The defective investigation in the present case further reinforces the conclusion that the appellant's conviction cannot be sustained. The prosecution has failed to prove the charge of murder against the appellant beyond reasonable doubt.

45. Learned trial court has erred in appreciating evidentiary value of the dying declaration which is the only evidence relied for conviction of the appellant and has not kept in mind the law on the subject as discussed hereinabove. It has also brushed aside the discrepancy in the time of commission of crime as mentioned in the F.I.R. and statement of the witnesses vis-a-vis with the dying declaration, cursorily, on surmises, ignoring the material impact which it had on the prosecution case. Learned trial court has thus erred in convicting the appellant and sentencing him to life imprisonment for the charge of having committed an offence punishable under Section 302 I.P.C.

46. In view of the above, the appeal stands allowed. The judgment and order of conviction dated 06.05.2022 passed by Ld. Session's Judge, Lakhimpur Kheri in S.T. No.15/2019, Case Crime No.198/2018, under Section 302 I.P.C. Police Station-Kheri, District- Lakhimpur Kheri is quashed. The accused-appellant, Sujeet, is acquitted of the offence punishable under Section 302 of the IPC. He shall be released from jail forthwith, if not required in any other offence. The amount of fine, if deposited, shall be refunded to the accused.

47. The accused-appellant, namely, Sujeet would be released forthwith unless he is wanted in any other case, subject to compliance of Section 437-A Cr.P.C.

48. Trial court record along with copy of this judgment and order be transmitted to the court concerned forthwith.

49. Let a copy of this judgment be sent to the Jail Authorities concerned and the court concerned for compliance.

(2026) 2 ILRA 1083
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: LUCKNOW 17.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE PRAMOD KUMAR SRIVASTAVA, J.

Criminal Appeal No. 1937 of 2007

Munna ...Appellant
Versus
State Of U.P. ...Respondent

Issue for consideration

Matter pertains to mandate of sec 50 of Narcotics Drugs and Psychotropic Substance Act, 1985.

Headnotes

Narcotics Drugs and Psychotropic Substance Act, 1985-sec 50-nothing to show that the officers apprised them explicitly of right under section 50 of the act-mandate of Section 50 is not an empty formality - incident of the present case is said to happen on 17.01.2000 while chargesheet against the accused has been filed so promptly on 21.01.2000 -without waiting or procuring the FSL report in regard of suspect's contraband-signatures or thumb impressions of the respective accused persons were not taken on the samples memos- before sending them to the malkhana.-Held, should be given the benefit of doubt as the prosecution has failed to establish its case beyond reasonable doubt. Appeals allowed.(E-9)

Case Law Cited

1. State of Punjab v. Baldev Singh, (1999) 6 SCC 172
2. State of H.P. v. Pawan Kumar, (2005) 4 SCC 350

3. Tofan Singh v State of Tamil Nadu (2021) 4 SCC 1
4. Vinubhai Haribhai Malaviya v State of Gujarat (2019) 17 SCC 1
5. State of Rajasthan v. Parmanand & Anr. (2014) 5 SCC 345
6. Vijaysinh Chandubha Jadeja v. State of Gujarat (2011) 1 SCC 609
7. State of Delhi v. Ram Avtar (2011) 12 SCC 207
8. Ranjan Kumar Chadha v. State of H.P. 2023 SCC OnLine SC 1262
9. Gorakh Nath Prasad v. State of Bihar (2018) 2 SCC 305
10. Ashok Kumar Sharma v. State of Rajasthan (2013) 2 SCC 67

List of Acts

Narcotics Drugs and Psychotropic Substance Act, 1985

List of Keywords

Statutory right; section 50; statutory right; FSL report; search and seizure; standard of proof

Appearances of parties

Counsel for Appellant(s) : Avinash Srivastava, Counsel for Respondent(s) : G.A.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Pramod Kumar Srivastava, J.)

1. Heard, Shri Avinash Srivastava, learned counsel for the appellants and Shri Bishvanath Nishad, learned AGA for the State.

2. By means of the captioned appeals the appellants have assailed the correctness of the judgment and order dated 21.08. 2007 by which the learned additional sessions judge, fast track court no 30 district Barabanki in criminal trial no 22/2000 State v Kamlesh Case crime no. 12/2000 convicted the appellant (Kamlesh) to undergo RI for six months and a fine of Rs 5000 and in default of fine further imprisonment of one month under section 8/18 NDPS Act and convicted Munna in criminal trial no 23/2000 State v Munna under section 8/18 NDPS Act sentencing him to undergo RI one year and also to pay fine of Rs 10000, to further undergo 2 months additional rigorous imprisonment.

CASE OF THE PROSECUTION

3. On 17.01.2000, S.O. Gauri Shankar, along with Constable Ashok Kumar Singh and Constable Anil Pratap Singh, departed from the police station in search of the wanted accused Ram Naresh related to Case Crime No. 3/2000 under Sections 457, 380, 411 IPC Police Station Kothi, and upon reaching near Usmanpur, information was received through a special informer that two individuals had gone to the place of farmer Paridin in Village Birapur on a motorcycle to purchase opium, and if acted upon quickly, they could be caught. Believing this information, Constable Shahabuddin and Constable Rudra Nath Pandey, who were deployed on road patrol, were taken along, and they reached Village Birapur. Public witnesses were asked to accompany them after being told the purpose, but due to village enmity/issues, no person was ready to go along. Therefore, along with the informer and the accompanying staff, when they reached near Paridin's house around 8:00 PM, two individuals were sitting on a motorcycle and one person was talking to them. Upon the informer's signal, they were challenged by flashing a torch. All three individuals attempted to flee but were surrounded and stopped with the help of the accompanying staff. When asked for their names and addresses, the person sitting on the motorcycle driver's seat stated his name as Kamlesh, the second person sitting behind on the motorcycle stated his name as Munna, and the third person stated his name as Paridin. On being asked the reason for attempting to flee, they stated that they possessed illicit opium, which is why they wanted to run away. Since there was information regarding the possession of illicit opium, all three individuals were asked if they wanted to give their personal search (Jama Talashi) before any nearest Magistrate or a Gazetted Officer. On this, all three said that when the police had caught them, they may only make the search.

4. Upon conducting the personal search as per rules, approximately half a kilogram of illicit opium was recovered from inside a polythene bag kept in the gamchha (towel) tied around Kamlesh's waist. From the person sitting behind Munna, approximately one kilogram of opium was recovered from a polythene bag pressed under his right armpit, and a Hero Honda Motorcycle U.P. G.O. Number 3830 was recovered in working condition; and from the third person, Paridin, approximately 400 grams of illicit opium was recovered from a polythene bag held in his right hand. The accused persons were arrested on the spot. Recovered suspicious contraband was sealed and a recovery memo was prepared to the same effect, a copy of which was given to the accused persons. The contraband and the accused were brought to the police station and deposited, and a case was registered on the basis of the memo. The case was registered, and an investigation was conducted. Statements of witnesses were recorded under Section 161 CrPC.

5. During the course of investigation the Investigating officer visited the place of incidence and prepared a site plan (Naksha Nazri) of the crime scene and recorded the statement of the accused and sent the contraband to the Forensic Science Laboratory for examination, and upon receipt of the test report, charge sheets against the accused persons were submitted to the court.

6. The essential prosecution documents were furnished to the accused persons by the trial court, and a charge was subsequently framed. The accused persons, however, pleaded not guilty and chose to be tried by the court.

7. To establish its case, the prosecution examined seven witnesses. After completing the prosecution evidence statements of accused persons were recorded under Section 313 Cr.P.C. At the stage of defence evidence three witnesses were examined.

8. On conclusion of the trial, the accused persons were held guilty and convicted by learned trial Court for the offence punishable under Section 8/18 of the Act in the manner already referred to supra.

9. Aggrieved against the judgment of conviction, instant appeal has been preferred by the appellants Kamlesh and Munna whereas the co-accused Paridin has passed away during the pendency of the appeal hence appeal in respect of Paridin has been abated.

SUBMISSIONS OF APPELLANTS

10. The counsel for the appellant submitted that the learned trial court has erred in holding that the alleged material was recovered in polythene from the possession of the appellants which does not come in personal search as such provisions of section 50 of the N.D.P.S Act are not applicable in the case.

11. The counsel also submitted that the learned trial court erred in not considering the fact that the alleged recovered material was sent for chemical examination on 20.01.2000 by the police and on the next day on 21.01.2000 charge sheet was submitted against the accused appellant without waiting the chemical examination.

12. The counsel further submitted that the trial court erred in not considering the fact that there were no independent witnesses and that prosecution has failed to prove its case beyond reasonable doubt.

SUBMISSIONS OF RESPONDENT

13. The counsel for the respondent submitted that judgment and order of the trial court is a reasoned one and that prosecution has proved its case beyond reasonable doubt.

14. I have heard the learned counsels for the parties and perused the entire material available on record with due care. The question that falls for consideration here is, whether the trial court erred in convicting the accused persons under section 8/18 of the NDPS Act.

ANALYSIS/ DISCUSSION/ CONCLUSION

15. At the outset, it is to be noted that the conviction of the appellants rests entirely upon the alleged recovery of opium from their respective possession. The prosecution case itself makes it evident that recovery of the contraband was effected after taking a personal search of the accused persons, namely, from a polythene bag kept in the gamchha tied around the waist of appellant Kamlesh, from a polythene bag pressed under the armpit of appellant Munna, and from a polythene bag held in hand by co-accused Paridin. In this regard the question arises whether the provision of section 50 of the NDPS Act was attracted in the present case and if yes then whether it was complied with. While dealing with this question of compliance of section 50 of the Act the trial court observed the following:-

"On behalf of the defense, the first argument presented is that at the time of the arrest of the accused persons, Section 50 of the N.D.P.S. Act was not complied with by the police. In my opinion, there is no force in this argument of the defense. The opium stated to have been recovered from all three accused persons, Kamlesh, Munna, and Paridin, is stated to have been recovered from the polythene recovered from each accused, which does not fall under the category of personal search, and in such a situation, the provisions of Section 50 of the N.D.P.S. Act does not apply, as propounded by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in AIR 2007 SC 2018 State of Rajasthan Vs. Baburam. There is no dispute in this regard that if the recovery of the narcotic substance is from any object other than the body of the accused, then it does not fall under the category of personal search. Since it has been stated that 500 grams of opium was recovered from accused Kamlesha from a polythene kept inside the gamchha tied at his waist, one kilogram of opium from a polythene pressed in the armpit of accused Munna, and 400 grams of opium from a polythene held in the hand of accused Paridin. From which it is clear that the recovery of opium from all three accused persons has been described as being from polythene, which does not fall into the category of personal search, and accordingly, the provision of Section 50 N.D.P.S. Act does not apply in the present case. Where the recovery is not from a personal search but from any other type of plastic bag, polythene, etc., in such a situation, the provision of Section 50 N.D.P.S. Act does not apply. A similar view has been expressed by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of AIR 2007 S.C. 2040 Ravindran @ John Vs. Superintendent of Customs. Therefore, keeping in view the above facts and circumstances in the present case, the provision of Section 50 N.D.P.S. Act does not apply. Thus, I have duly perused the precedents presented by the defense: "1999 (39) Supreme Court-349 State of Punjab Vs. Baldev Singh, 2006 E.F.R. 251 (Punjab and Haryana High Court) Gurucharan Singh Vs. State of Punjab, and 2006 (1) E.F.R. 272 Allahabad High Court Lucknow Bench Liyakat Gurjar Vs. State of U.P." Accordingly, the facts and circumstances of the above precedents are completely different and do not apply to the present case. Even otherwise, if it is assumed that the provisions of Section 50 N.D.P.S. Act apply in the present case, the accused persons were given the option by the police personnel before their search that the accused are free to give their search before any nearest Magistrate or Gazetted Officer. But their search was taken only on the basis of the consent of the accused persons, whereby opium was recovered from polythene bags during the search. As far as the question of giving information regarding the consent of the accused persons under Section 50 N.D.P.S. Act is concerned that it is not necessary that this information be given in writing. As mentioned in paragraph 58 of the precedent "Baldev Singh" presented on behalf of the accused persons. Therefore, there seems to be no force in this argument of the defense that the trial of the accused persons is vitiated due to non-compliance of Section 50 N.D.P.S. Act in the present case."

Non-compliance of Section 50 NDPS Act

16. What is pertinent to note from the prosecution evidence is that it transpires that a collective option was given to all the accused persons asking whether they wished to be searched before a nearest Magistrate or a Gazetted Officer, and all of them allegedly stated in one voice that the police personnel themselves may conduct the search. There is nothing on record to show that each accused was individually apprised of his independent and valuable statutory right under Section 50 of the NDPS Act. This right was waived by the accused persons collectively. There is also nothing on record taken in written by the officers regarding the waving off of such statutory right by the accused persons.

17. In the case of State of Rajasthan v Parmanand & Anr (2014) 5 SCC 345 the apex court while dealing with the issue of joint communication of the right under section 50 of the Act held that such communication of the right would be bad in law. The relevant observations made are reproduced below.

"14. In our opinion, a joint communication of the right available under Section 50(1) of the NDPS Act to the accused would frustrate the very purport of Section 50. Communication of the said right to the person who is about to be searched is not an empty formality. It has a purpose.

Most of the offences under the NDPS Act carry stringent punishment and, therefore, the prescribed procedure has to be meticulously followed. These are minimum safeguards available to an accused against the possibility of false involvement. The communication of this right has to be clear, unambiguous and individual. The accused must be made aware of the existence of such a right. This right would be of little significance if the beneficiary thereof is not able to exercise it for want of knowledge about its existence. A joint communication of the right may not be clear or unequivocal. It may create confusion. It may result in diluting the right. We are, therefore, of the view that the accused must be individually informed that under Section 50(1) of the NDPS Act, he has a right to be searched before a nearest gazetted officer or before a nearest Magistrate. Similar view taken by the Punjab & Haryana High Court in Paramjit Singh and the Bombay High Court in Dharamveer Lekhram Sharma meets with our approval."

18. While dealing with the question whether section 50 would be attracted where personal search of the accused has been carried out but the contraband has been recovered from a polythene or bag The Supreme Court in Paramand *(supra) observed as follows: -

"12. Thus, if merely a bag carried by a person is searched without there being any search of his person, Section 50 of 9 (2009) 16 SCC 644 1 Page"12 the NDPS Act will have no application. But if the bag carried by him is searched and his person is also searched, Section 50 of the NDPS Act will have application."

19. While considering the law laid down in Parmanand the Supreme Court in the case of Ranjan Kumar Chadha v State of Himachal Pradesh 2023 SCC OnLine SC 1262 dealt with the set of precedents and went on to clarify the position of law in this regard. The observation made the court are reproduced here: -

"126. As such, there is no direct conflict between SK. Raju (supra) and Baljinder Singh (supra). It is pertinent to note that in SK. Raju (supra) the contraband was recovered from the bag which the accused was carrying, whereas in Baljinder Singh (supra) the contraband was recovered from the vehicle. This makes a lot of difference even while applying the concept of any object being "inextricably linked to the person". Parmanand (supra) relied upon the judgment in Dilip (supra) while taking the view that if both, the person of the accused as well as the bag is searched and the contraband is ultimately recovered from the bag, then it is as good as the search of a person and, therefore, Section 50 would be applicable. However, it is pertinent to note that Dilip (supra) has not taken into consideration Pawan Kumar (supra) which is of a larger Bench. It is also pertinent to note that although in Parmanand (supra) the Court looked into Pawan Kumar (supra), yet ultimately it followed Dilip (supra) and took the view that if the bag carried by the accused is searched and his person is also searched, Section 50 of the NDPS Act will have application. This is something travelling beyond what has been stated by the large Bench in Pawan Kumar (supra). Baljinder Singh (supra), on the other hand, says that Dilip (supra) does not lay down a good law.

127. In the facts of the present case, there is no scope of applying the ratio of Parmanand (supra) and SK. Raju (supra). At the cost of repetition, we may state that in the case on hand, there is nothing to indicate that the search of the person of the accused was also undertaken along with the bag which he was carrying on his shoulder.

128. We do not propose to say anything further as regards SK. Raju (supra) as well as Baljinder Singh (supra). We adhere to the principles of law as explained by the Constitution Bench in Baldev Singh (supra) and the larger Bench answering the reference in Pawan Kumar (supra)."

20. From the above mentioned extract of the judgment, it can be deduced that even in the case at hand and even otherwise following the dictum of the Constitution Bench in State of Punjab v. Baldev Singh, (1999) 6 SCC 172 and of three judge bench in State of H.P. v. Pawan Kumar, (2005) 4 SCC 350 should be appropriate.

21. At this stage it is pertinent to look at the observations made in Pawan Kumar (supra):

"11. A bag, briefcase or any such article or container, etc. can, under no circumstances, be treated as body of a human being. They are given a separate name and are identifiable as such. They cannot even remotely be treated to be part of the body of a human being. Depending upon the physical capacity of a person, he may carry any number of items like a bag, a briefcase, a suitcase, a tin box, a thaila, a jhola, a gathri, a holdall, a carton, etc. of varying size, dimension or weight. However, while carrying or moving along with them, some extra effort or energy would be required. They would have to be carried either by the hand or hung on the shoulder or back or placed on the head. In common parlance it would be said that a person is carrying a particular article, specifying the manner in which it was carried like hand, shoulder, back or head, etc. Therefore, it is not possible to include these articles within the ambit of the word "person" occurring in Section 50 of the Act.

12. An incriminating article can be kept concealed in the body or clothings or coverings in different manner or in the footwear. While making a search of such type of articles, which have been kept so concealed, it will certainly come within the ambit of the word "search of person". One of the tests, which can be applied is, where in the process of search the human body comes into contact or shall have to be touched by the person carrying out the search, it will be search of a person. Some indication of this is provided by Sub-section (4) of Section 50 of the Act, which provides that no female shall be searched by anyone excepting a female. The legislature has consciously made this provision as while conducting search of a female, her body may come in contact or may need to be touched and, therefore, it should be done only by a female. In the case of a bag, briefcase or any such article or container, etc., they would not normally move along with the body of the human being unless some extra or special effort is made. Either they have to be carried in hand or hung on the shoulder or back or placed on the head. They can be easily and in no time placed away from the body of the carrier. In order to make a search of such type of objects, the body of the carrier will not come in contact of the person conducting the search. Such objects cannot be said to be inextricably connected with the person, namely, the body of the human being. Inextricable means incapable of being disentangled or untied or forming a maze or tangle from which it is impossible to get free."

22. The further observations made by the Supreme Court in Ranjan Kumar Chadha (Supra):

"129. It has been observed in Baldev Singh (supra) that drug abuse is a social malady. While drug addiction eats into the vitals of the society, drug trafficking not only eats into the vitals of the economy of a country, but illicit money generated by drug trafficking is often used for illicit activities including encouragement of terrorism. It has acquired the dimensions of an epidemic, affects the economic policies of the State, corrupts the system and is detrimental to the future of a country. Reference in the said decision has also been made to some United Nation Conventions which the Government of India has ratified. It is, therefore, absolutely imperative that those who indulge in this kind of nefarious activities should not go scot-free on technical pleas which come handy to their advantage in a fraction of second by slight movement of the baggage, being placed to any part of their body, which baggage may contain the incriminating article."

23. In the present case the contraband was recovered from inside a polythene bag kept in the gamchha tied around Kamlesh's waist while from Munna the contraband was recovered from a polythene bag pressed under his right armpit while Paridin held it in his hand. I believe that if the contraband is seized by the empowered officer there would be some contact with the body of the accused persons but I feel that applying a straitjacket formula and this test as a sole determining factor without looking at the facts of the case would not be justified neither does the precedent at hand suggest that.

24. The manner of recovery differs significantly between the appellants. For appellant Kamlesh, the contraband was recovered from the folds of a gamchha tied around his waist. As held by the three judge Bench in Pawan Kumar (supra), a gamchha or dhoti worn by the accused is an integral part of his clothing and body. Therefore, the search of Kamlesh was a 'personal search,' mandating compliance with Section 50 of the NDPS Act.

25. Conversely, regarding accused Munna, the contraband was recovered from a polythene bag pressed under his armpit, and for co-accused Paridin, from a bag held in his hand. A bag or container even if carried under the arm does not constitute the 'person' of the accused unless it is concealed within the clothing. Consequently, I concede that Section 50 was not technically attracted for Munna and Paridin.

26. However, this distinction exposes a fatal flaw in the investigation procedure by the police. The empowered officer treated all three accused as a single unit. By offering a 'Joint Option' to a group where one person (Kamlesh) had an absolute statutory right to be searched before a Gazetted Officer and the others did not, the officer created an atmosphere of confusion. The 'Joint Option' failed to isolate and inform Kamlesh of his specific, indefeasible right, effectively diluting the mandate of Section 50 into an empty formality for him.

27. A constitution bench of the apex court in the case of Vijaysinh Chandubha Jadeja v State of Gujarat (2011) 1 SCC 609 held that the obligation under section 50 is mandatory and the person to be searched should be specifically informed that he has a right to be searched in the presence of a Gazetted officer or Magistrate and disapproved with the concept of substantial compliance. The relevant observations made in this regard are reproduced below: -

"29. In view of the foregoing discussion, we are of the firm opinion that the object with which the right under Section 50(1) of the NDPS Act, by way of a safeguard, has been conferred on the suspect viz. to check the misuse of power, to avoid harm to innocent persons and to minimise the allegations of planting or foisting of false cases by the law enforcement agencies, it would be imperative on the part of the empowered officer to apprise the person intended to be searched of his right to be searched before a gazetted officer or a Magistrate. We have no hesitation in holding that insofar as the obligation of the authorised officer under sub-section (1) of Section 50 of the NDPS Act is concerned, it is mandatory and requires strict compliance. Failure to comply with the provision would render the recovery of the illicit article suspect and vitiate the conviction if the same is recorded only on the basis of the recovery of the illicit article from the person of the accused during such search. Thereafter, the suspect may or may not choose to exercise the right provided to him under the said provision.

X X X

31. We are of the opinion that the concept of "substantial compliance" with the requirement of Section 50 of the NDPS Act introduced and read into the mandate of the said section in Joseph Fernandez and Prabha Shankar Dubey is neither borne out from the language of sub-section (1) of Section 50 nor it is in consonance with the dictum laid down in Baldev Singh case. Needless to add that the question whether or not the procedure prescribed has been followed and the requirement of Section 50 had been met, is a matter of trial. It would neither be possible nor feasible to lay down any absolute formula in that behalf."

28. Similarly in the case of State of Delhi v Ram Avtar (2011) 12 SCC 207 the apex court held that merely asking the accused whether he wished to be searched before a Gazetted Officer or a Magistrate without informing him that he enjoyed a right in that behalf, is not compliance of section 50 of the NDPS Act.

29. In a similar vein in the case of Navdeep Singh v State of Haryana (2013) 2 SCC 584 the court while dealing with notice regarding informing the suspected persons of his right held that: -

"11. In our opinion, the provisions do not prescribe any set format for such notice. The essence is to apprise the accused of his legal right of being searched either by a gazetted officer or a Magistrate. Here, when the appellant was apprised of his statutory rights under Section 50 by PW 3 and he opted to be searched by a gazetted officer, then he has, by necessary implication, consciously exercised his right. In that view of the matter, we cannot accept the submission of the learned counsel for the appellant that the mandatory provisions of Section 50 of the Act were breached."

30. Thus it has to be seen whether the accused persons were merely informed of the option of being searched before a Gazatted Officer or a Magistrate or apprised of the statutory right to be exercised by them. An excerpt from the recovery memo is quoted below regarding this: -

"Since there is information of having illicit opium, therefore, the above-mentioned three persons were asked whether you people want to give your personal search (body search) before any Magistrate or Gazetted Officer, then the above-mentioned three people said that now that you people have stopped [us], then you yourself take our personal search, we are consenting/agreeable."

31. In the present case from the above excerpt and even the other evidence on record there is nothing to show that the officers apprised them explicitly of their right under section 50 of the act. The empowered officers while informing the accused persons of the choice available to them put it merely as an option but did not apprise them that they have a statutory right regarding the same.

32. The mandate of Section 50 is not an empty formality but a substantive safeguard provided to the accused. The law is well settled that the accused must be made aware of his right in clear and unambiguous terms, and such communication must be individual and specific, particularly when more than one accused is involved. A joint or collective consent cannot be treated as valid compliance of Section 50.

33. The majority in the case of Tofan Singh v State of Tamil Nadu (2021) 4 SCC 1 while emphasising the on the need of compliance of safeguards provided in the NDPS act observed as follows:-

"55.Given the stringent provisions of the NDPS Act, together with the safeguards mentioned in the provisions discussed above, it is important to note that statutes like the NDPS Act have to be construed bearing in mind the fact that the severer the punishment, the greater the care taken to see that the safeguards provided in the statute are scrupulously followed. This was laid down in paragraph 28 of Baldev Singh (supra). That the NDPS Act is predominantly a penal statute is no longer res integra. In Directorate of Revenue and Anr. v. Mohammed Nisar Holia (2008) 2 SCC 370, this Court held:

"9. The NDPS Act is a penal statute. It invades the rights of an accused to a large extent. It raises a presumption of a culpable mental state. Ordinarily, even an accused may not be released on bail having regard to Section 37 of the Act. The court has the power to publish names, address and business, etc. of the offenders. Any document produced in evidence becomes admissible. A vast power of calling for information upon the authorities has been conferred by reason of Section 67 of the Act.

10. Interpretation and/or validity in regard to the power of search and seizure provided for under the said Act came up for consideration in Balbir Singh case [(1994) 3 SCC 299] wherein it was held:

"10. It is thus clear that by a combined reading of Sections 41, 42, 43 and 51 of the NDPS Act and Section 4 CrPC regarding arrest and search under Sections 41, 42 and 43, the provisions of CrPC, namely, Sections 100 and 165 would be applicable to such arrest and search. Consequently the principles laid down by various courts as discussed above regarding the irregularities and illegalities in respect of arrest and search would equally be applicable to the arrest and search under the NDPS Act also depending upon the facts and circumstances of each case.

11. But there are certain other embargoes envisaged under Sections 41 and 42 of the NDPS Act. Only a Magistrate so empowered under Section 41 can issue a warrant for arrest and search where he has reason to believe that an offence under Chapter IV has been committed so on and so forth as mentioned therein. Under sub-section (2) only a gazetted officer or other officers mentioned and empowered therein can give an authorisation to a subordinate to arrest and search if such officer has reason to believe about the commission of an offence and after reducing the information, if any, into writing. Under Section 42 only officers mentioned therein and so empowered can make the arrest or search as provided if they have reason to believe from personal knowledge or information. In both these provisions there are two important requirements. One is that the Magistrate or the officers mentioned therein firstly be empowered and they must have reason to believe that an offence under Chapter IV has been committed or that such arrest or search was necessary for other purposes mentioned in the provision. So far as the first requirement is concerned, it can be seen that the legislature intended that only certain Magistrates and certain officers of higher rank and empowered can act to effect the arrest or search. This is a safeguard provided having regard to the deterrent sentences contemplated and with a view that innocent persons are not harassed. Therefore if an arrest or search contemplated under these provisions of NDPS Act has to be carried out, the same can be done only by competent and empowered Magistrates or officers mentioned thereunder."

11. Power to make search and seizure as also to arrest an accused is founded upon and subject to satisfaction of the officer as the term "reason to believe" has been used. Such belief may be founded upon secret information that may be orally conveyed by the informant. Draconian provision which may lead to a harsh sentence having regard to the doctrine of "due process" as adumbrated under Article 21 of the Constitution of India requires striking of balance between the need of law and enforcement thereof, on the one hand, and protection of citizen from oppression and injustice on the other.

12. This Court in Balbir Singh [(1994) 3 SCC 299] referring to Miranda v. State of Arizona [384 US 436 (1966)] while interpreting the provisions of the Act held that not only the provisions of Section 165 of the Code of Criminal Procedure would be attracted in the matter of search and seizure but the same must comply with right of the accused to be informed about the requirement to comply with the statutory provisions. xxx xxx xxx

16. It is not in dispute that the said Act prescribes stringent punishment. A balance, thus, must be struck in regard to the mode and manner in which the statutory requirements are to be complied with vis-"-vis the place of search and seizure."

33. Keeping this approach in mind, further the other evidence at hand can be analyzed.

34. It is also a glaring fact that the incident of the present case is said to happen on 17.01.2000 while chargesheet against the accused has been filed so promptly on 21.01.2000 without waiting or procuring the FSL report in regard of suspect"s contraband. This conduct casts significant doubt on the prosecution's narrative.The prompt submission of the charge-sheet on 21.01.2000, merely one day after the alleged contraband was sent for chemical examination on 20.01.2000, critically undermines the prosecution's case. In NDPS Act offenses, the substance's nature is a foundational element, and filing a charge-sheet without the requisite forensic report reflects a casual and mechanical investigatory approach, thereby casting significant doubt on the entire prosecution narrative. This haste, particularly given the incident occurred on 17.01.2000, strongly suggests the investigation was conducted without properly securing or awaiting the FSL report, thereby creating clouds of suspicion over the prosecution's story. Though this fact does not alone vitiate the case of the prosecution but it portrays lack of fair investigation.

35. A three judge bench of the Supreme Court in the case of Vinubhai Haribhai Malaviya v State of Gujarat (2019) 17 SCC 1 while emphasising the need of fair investigation and inquiry has held that: -

"Article 21 of the Constitution of India makes it clear that the procedure in criminal trials must, after the seminal decision in Mrs. Maneka Gandhi v. Union of India & Anr. (1978) 1 SCC 248, be "right, just and fair and not arbitrary, fanciful or oppressive" (see paragraph 7 therein). Equally, in Commissioner of Police, Delhi v. Registrar, Delhi High Court, New Delhi (1996) 6 SCC 323, it was stated that Article 21 enshrines and guarantees the precious right of life and personal liberty to a person which can only be deprived on following the 18 procedure established by law in a fair trial which assures the safety of the accused. The assurance of a fair trial is stated to be the first imperative of the dispensation of justice (see paragraph 16 therein). 17. It is clear that a fair trial must kick off only after an investigation is itself fair and just. The ultimate aim of all investigation and inquiry, whether by the police or by the Magistrate, is to ensure that those who have actually committed a crime are correctly booked, and those who have not are not arraigned to stand trial. That this is the minimal procedural requirement that is the fundamental requirement of Article 21 of the Constitution of India cannot be doubted. It is the hovering omnipresence of Article 21 over the CrPC that must needs inform the interpretation of all the provisions of the CrPC, so as to ensure that Article 21 is followed both in letter and in spirit."

36. A further lapse during the investigation that comes out is that the signatures or thumb impressions of the respective accused persons were not taken on the samples memos before sending them to the malkhana. This is a glaring lapse on the part of the prosecution as the absence of the signatures or thumb impression which are the identifying marks on the samples of the contraband, develop the possibility of misplacing and tampering. In fact in the recovery memo it has not been specifically stated that the contraband was separated and weighed on the spot rather this comes on later in the picture in the statements of the prosecution witnesses. This appears to suggest that they were only trying to fill the lapses. It is also poignant to note that the contraband allegedly recovered with possession of the accused persons is more than the small quantity but much less than the commercial quantity.

37. The act of the Investigating Officer filing the charge sheet in a predetermined manner without even awaiting the FSL report, reducing the investigation to an empty formality. More damning, however, is the failure to obtain the signatures or thumb impressions of the accused on the sealed sample packets. This omission is not merely a procedural irregularity but a substantive failure that destroys the sanctity of the seizure. Without these signatures, there is no judicial certainty that the samples tested were the same as those seized.

38. It is also evident from the record that although the alleged recovery of the contraband from the accused persons took place in a village area, no independent public witness was associated with the search and seizure. The explanation offered by the prosecution that villagers refused due to enmity is a stereotyped and routine explanation, which does not inspire confidence, particularly in a case under the NDPS Act where the standard of proof is stringent and procedural safeguards are required to be strictly followed.

39. In the case of Gorakh Nath Prasad v State of Bihar (2018) 2 SCC 305 the apex court had observed while stating about the testimonies of police witnesses: -

"The remaining prosecution witnesses being police officers only, it will not be safe to rely upon their testimony alone, which in any event cannot be sufficient evidence by itself either with regard to recovery or the seized material being ganja. No explanation has also been furnished by the prosecution for non-production of the ganja as an exhibit in the trial. The benefit of doubt will, therefore, have to be given to the appellant and in support of which learned Senior Counsel Shri Rai has relied upon"

40. While the testimony of police personnel cannot be discarded merely on the ground of their official status, in cases involving severe punishment and stringent provisions, the absence of independent corroboration assumes significance and weakens the prosecution case when procedural lapses are already apparent.

41. The trial court after analyzing the records has refused to accept the testimonies of the defence witnesses on grounds that they are interested persons with political connections. With the other infirmities and lapses in the investigation process I believe this was not the right approach to take.

42. Before arriving at the conclusion the observations made by the apex court in the case of Ashok Kumar Sharma v State of Rajasthan (2013) 2 SCC 67 squarely fit in the present case. The relevant portion of which is reproduced below: -

"We may, in this connection, also examine the general maxim "ignorantia juris non excusat" and whether in such a situation the accused could take a defence that he was unaware of the procedure laid down in Section 50 of the NDPS Act. Ignorance does not normally afford any defence under the criminal law, since a person is presumed to know the law. Indisputedly ignorance of law often in reality exists, though as a general proposition, it is true, that knowledge of law must be imputed to every person. But it must be too much to impute knowledge in certain situations, for example, we cannot expect a rustic villager, totally illiterate, a poor man on the street, to be aware of the various law laid down in this country i.e. leave aside the NDPS Act. We notice this fact is also within the knowledge of the legislature, possibly for that reason the legislature in its wisdom imposed an obligation on the authorized officer acting under Section 50 of the NDPS Act to inform the suspect of his right under Section 50 to be searched in the presence of a Gazetted Officer or a Magistrate warranting strict compliance of that procedure."

43. The cumulative effect of the aforesaid infirmities particularly the absence of independent witnesses as well as no names of persons who refused to be the witness, the discrepancy in how the weight was measured, the filing of the charge sheet prior to the receiving of FSL report, absence of the link evidence with regard to sending the contraband to the FSL for examination since secondary evidence is adduced therefore it is lacking the transparency in carrying contraband in transit, absence of signatures of the accused on the samples of the contraband as well as other procedural lapses during investigation creates serious doubt about the prosecution version and thereby both the accused persons Kamlesh, in whose case there was non compliance of section 50 of the NDPS act and other procedural lapses during the investigation process and Munna, who also suffered due to these lapses, undoubtedly should be given the benefit of doubt as the prosecution has failed to establish its case beyond reasonable doubt. The learned trial court, while recording the conviction, failed to give attention to the procedural lapses apparent on the face of it and erroneously held that the accused persons were guilty of the offence under section 8/18 of the act, which finding is contrary to the evidence on record and settled legal principles.

44. Accordingly, the appeals are allowed.

45. The judgment and order dated 21.08.2007 passed by the learned Additional Sessions Judge, Fast Track Court No. 30, District Barabanki, in Criminal Trial No. 22/2000 (State v. Kamlesh) and Criminal Trial No. 23/2000 (State v. Munna), arising out of Case Crime No. 12/2000, Police Station- Kothi, District- Barabanki are hereby set aside.

46. The appellants Kamlesh and Munna are acquitted of the charge under Section 8/18 of the NDPS Act.

47. The appellants are on bail. Their bail bonds are cancelled and sureties are discharged. The appellants shall comply with the requirement of section 437A Cr.P.C.

(2026) 2 ILRA 1096
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 02.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE ANISH KUMAR GUPTA, J.

Criminal Appeal No. 2435 of 1984

Ram Narain & Ors. ...Appellants
Versus
State Of U.P. ...Respondent

Issue for Consideration

Matter pertains to whether "conviction of the appellants herein for the offence under S. 365 I.P.C." is sustainable "for want of evidence" and in absence of "any charge framed" and "wrongful confinement". (Paras 27, 29, 31)

Headnotes

Criminal Law - Indian Penal Code, 1860 - S. 365 - "it is necessary for the prosecution to prove something beyond abduction with regard to the wrongful confinement of the victim" - "prosecution evidence is totally silent" - conviction unsustainable. (Paras 25, 27)

Evidence - "neither the corpus of the victim has not been recovered alive or dead" - "no iota of evidence to suggest that there was any wrongful confinement" - ingredients of S. 365 not made out. (Para 24)
Criminal Trial - Charge - "no charge under S. 364 or 365 I.P.C. against the appellant" - conviction "without there being any charge" and "without giving them any opportunity to defend" - not sustainable. (Para 29)
Last Seen Theory - "victim was seen in the company of the accused persons" - but "no evidence that there was any wrongful confinement" - insufficient for conviction under S. 365. (Paras 23, 24)
S. 313 Cr.P.C. - "no specific questions have been put with regard to the incriminating evidence relating to the offence under S. 365 I.P.C." - vitiates conviction. (Para 28)
Acquittal - "for want of any charge framed and no incriminating evidence with regard to the wrongful confinement" - appellants entitled to acquittal. (Paras 29, 31)
Held: There is no justification for conviction of the appellants herein for the offence under S. 365 I.P.C. for want of evidence - their conviction under S. 365 is not sustainable, that too without giving any opportunity to defend - no incriminating evidence available on record with regard to the wrongful confinement - the instant appeal is allowed and all the accused appellants are acquitted of the offence under S. 365 I.P.C. (E-7)

Case Law Cited
Sharad Birdhichand Sarda v. State of Maharashtra, (1984) 4 SCC 116; Kali Ram v. State of H.P., (1973) 2 SCC 808; Ramreddy Rajesh Khanna Reddy v. State of A.P., (2006) 10 SCC 172; Dilshad vs. State of Uttarakhand: 2013 SCC Online Utt 1303
State of Rajasthan vs. Kashi Ram: (2006) 12 SCC 254; Yakub Khan vs. State of Chattisgarh* (Criminal Appeal No. 798 of 2023)

List of Acts
Indian Penal Code, 1860; Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973

List of Keywords
conviction; wrongful confinement; abduction; kidnapping; corpus; last seen; charge; incriminating evidence; acquittal; S. 365 IPC; S. 313 CrPC; prosecution evidence

Case Arising From
APPELLATE JURISDICTION: Against "the judgment and order dated 21.08.1984 passed by the First Additional Sessions Judge, Jhansi in Sessions Trial No. 107 of 1982 (State of U.P. vs. Ram Narain and 11 others)" convicting appellants under S. 365 I.P.C.

Appearances for Parties
Advs. for the Appellant:
Sri Amit Daga, learned Senior Advocate assisted by Sri Bihaan Pandey; Sri Jitendra Kumar Rawat; Sri Bhriguram Ji Pandey; Sri Pankaj Kumar Shukla, Amicus Curiae.
Advs. for the Respondents:
Sri D.P.S. Chauhan, learned A.G.A. for the State.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Anish Kumar Gupta, J.)

1. Heard Sri Amit Daga, learned Senior Advocate assisted by Sri Bihaan Pandey, learned counsel for appellant no.2; Sri Jitendra Kumar Rawat, learned counsel for appellant no.3; Sri Bhriguram Ji Pandey, learned counsel for appellant no.5; Sri Pankaj Kumar Shukla, learned Amicus Curiae on behalf of appellant no.4; and Sri D.P.S. Chauhan, learned AGA for the State.

2. The instant criminal appeal has been filed by the appellants against the judgment and order dated 21.08.1984 passed by the First Additional Sessions Judge, Jhansi in Sessions Trial No. 107 of 1982 (State of U.P. vs. Ram Narain and 11 others), whereby all the appellants herein were convicted for the offence under Section 365 I.P.C. During the pendency of the instant appeal the appellant no.1, namely Ram Narain, died and his appeal was abated vide order dated 19.02.2018.

3. The brief facts in the instant case are that on 09.06.1981 at 2:30 PM, the informant Raja Ram lodged an F.I.R. at Police Station- Kotwali, District- Jhansi, stating therein the informant and his son Govind Ram was implicated in a case of murder and were arrested. On 04.06.1981, the informant Raja Ram was released from the jail after the bail was granted by the High Court. When after release from the jail he reached at his house situated at New Basti, Jhansi, then he met his son Shiv Narain, who was aged about 19 years and one Kammad Kachi, the appellant no.5 herein at his house. The appellant no.5, Kammad Kachi informed that Ram Narain etc. who have falsely implicated the informant and his son are regretting their action and he has asked him to come to the village so that he can get a settlement of dispute so that son Govind Ram may also be released on bail. When the informant heard the aforesaid suggestion of the appellant no.5, then he reacted that since they are having too much enmity with the informant and his family members, therefore, they are trying to do some wrong things by inducing and cheating them. Then, he cautioned his son Shiv Narain not to go to the village.

4. On 05.06.1981, after attending the court of District Magistrate, he along with his other relatives went to the village- Datavli and when he came on 07.06.1981 at his house in New Basti, Jhansi, then, he came to know that his son Shiv Narain is not in the house. Then, he inquired about him in the neighbourhood. On inquiry, one Bhagirath and Lakhan Singh has informed that on Saturday 06.06.1981 at around 2:00 PM, they have seen Shiv Narain in the company of Kammod (appellant no.5) near Motor Stand as he was going towards Kachahri Chauraha. When they have inquired from them, then Shiv Narain told them that Kammod (appellant no.5) herein was carrying him to the village for settlement of the case. At that time, Shiv Narain was having cycle and was also having watch on his wrist. Next day, he went to the village to find out the whereabouts of Shiv Narain but he could not get any clue. Then, he continued to search for his son in various places. When he could not find him then came back to Jhansi at around 8:30 PM, hoping that he would have reached Jhansi. However, he has not reached their. Thereupon, the informant has expressed his apprehension that since he was having enmity with Ram Narain, Bhagwat, Gopal Das, Darale, they might have conspired with Kammad and would have called Shiv Narain to the village and since the informant and his elder son was in jail, Shiv Narain, victim son went to the village. Then, he apprehended that the aforesaid accused persons in collusion with other accused persons would have killed the victim, Shiv Narain. The matter be investigated. On the aforesaid information the F.I.R. was registered under Section 364 I.P.C. against Ram Narain, Bhagwat, Gopal Das, Darale.

5. Subsequently, on 24.09.1981, one Ram Swaroop @ Bhunni s/o Mari Mate deposed under Section 164 Cr.P.C. before the Judicial Magistrate, 1st Class, Moth, Jhansi, making out his confessional statement wherein he stated that about three months ago he was in the house of Prabhu, who was resident of his village. Prabhu was also with him at that time. Ram Narain came their and he asked them to accompany him. Thereupon, the witness, Ram Swaroop and Prabhu taken their latthi and accompanied Ram Narain. At that time, it was 8-9 PM. They reached near the canal towards village, where they found Bhole @ Lallu, Bhagwat and Jagdish alongwith three other persons who was not known to the witness. Bhole was having ballam, Jagdish was having axes, Bhagwat was having an open knife. Out of the three unknown persons, one was having a countrymade pistol, Ram Narain was having lathi and torch. All of them have gone to the horticulture field of Kammod. Ram Narain had flashed torch from the distance then there came Kammod and Shiv Narain was sitting there. Shiv Narain tried to ran away after seeing them. Then, Kammod had caught hold of his hand and all of them have reached their. Shiv Narain tried to shout, then Jagdish has closed his mouth by putting his hand. Thereafter, they carried out Shiv Narain in the fields of the village near the well where Jagdish and Lallu have thrown Shiv Narain in the well. One hand of Shiv Narain was caught hold by Bhagwat and another hand was caught hold by Prabhu and one leg was caught hold by Lallu and another hand was caught hold by Ram Narain and Jagdish had assaulted with an axe on the neck of Shiv Narain due to which half of the neck was cut. He died on the spot. At that time, he was standing along with the accused persons. Jagdish and other accused persons have thrown the dead body as well as the axe in the said well and one spear was also thrown in the well. Thereafter, Ram Narain and Jagdish have gone towards Samthar and the other three persons along with them have also gone. Jagdish has instructed the witness as well as Prabhu and Kammod to go to their homes and around 12:00 P.M. in the night they have came back to their house. The next day evening, around 6-7 PM, Ram Narain came to him and he called Prabhu and told that dead body is floating on the well, that is required to be abolished. Then, the witness went to the house of Prabhu but he did not meet him there. Along with Ram Narain, Kammod also came to their house. Thereafter, all the three persons went near the well where the cart of Darale was there. Near the well, Darale, Dhan Singh, Badri, Gopal Das, Govind, Jagdish, Bhole @ Lallu and Bhagwat were standing. Lallu and Jagdish went down in the well and brought out the dead body from the well. The dead body was kept in the bullock cart of Darale. Gopal Das has told him that he has brought the petrol and the blood which was lying on the well, on that Gopal Das has thrown out the petrol and ablazed.

6. After the fire was subsidized they have carried out the dead body on the bullock cart towards the west of the well. When they reached near the canal of Samthar, thereafter they went to Wajita drainage. After pulling out the dead body from the cart, Ram Narain had went to Wajita, where Brij Kishor, Kaushal Kishor and Gauri Shankar met him in the house of Rajendra Singh. Rajendra Singh was also present there. Ram Narain has asked Rajendra Singh to make the arrangement of the woods. Thereupon, Rajendra Singh has brought the woods along with his servant and Brij Kishor, Gauri Shanker and Kaushal Kishor. Rajendra Singh was having single barrel gun; Ram Narain Singh having double barrel gun; and Govindi was having the gun. All of them have ablazed the dead body near Wajita drainage. Prabhu is the childhood friend of this witness and his relative that is why Prabhu has saved him in his statement. He is associated with Gopal Das and in the offence of murder of Rambabu, the son of Gopal Das, Govind Ram and Rajaram were the accused that is why they have killed Shiv Narain son of Rajaram. After recording the aforesaid statements the police has conducted the investigation and thereupon recovered various incriminating material and thereupon submitted charge-sheet on 22.10.1981.

7. On submission of the charge-sheet the case was committed to the Sessions Court for trial. On 28.04.1981, the learned Sessions Judge framed various charges against the accused persons in four sets. First set of charge was leveled against Ram Narain, Bhagwat, Gopal Das, Darale, Kammod, Jagdish, Dhan Singh, Badri, Govindi and Ramswaroop. The first set of charge includes the charges under Section 147 as well as under Section 149/201 IPC. The second set of charge was framed against Ram Narain, Bhagwat, Prabhu, Jagdish and Ramswaroop for the offenscs under Sections 147, 149 read with Section 302 IPC and 149 read with Section 201 IPC. The third set of charge was framed against Kammod, Bhagwat, Prabhu, Ramswaroop and Darale under Section 147 IPC as well as 364 IPC and under Section 149, 302 IPC as well as for the offences under Section 149 and 201 IPC. The fourth set of charge was framed against Jagdish for the offence under Section 148, 302 IPC as well as under Section 149, 201 IPC. All the accused persons denied the charges and claimed trial.

8. In support of its case, the prosecution has examined the informant as PW1; one Babu Lal as PW2, who is the witness of the fact that he has seen the victim Shiv Narain in the company of Kammod and Shiv Narain has informed that he was going to the village along with Kammod to settle the case; PW3 is Babu Khan, who has last seen the victim Shiv Narain in the company of Kammod, Bhagwat, Ram Narain, Jagdish, Prabhu and Bhole who were talking to each other and had gone towards the field on the side of the Datavali; Gabdoo was examined as PW4 who has denied the prosecution story and did not affirm his statement under Section 161 Cr.P.C. He was declared hostile; PW5 is Laxman who has deposed that Prabhu was working for few days with him and one day said Prabhu was very sad, he has asked him the cause thereof, then he has disclosed that he has committed a murder. Immediately thereafter, this person has relieved Prabhu. Thus, he is the witness of the extra judicial confession made by the accused appellant no. 3, Prabhu with regard to the murder of the victim; PW6 is Siya Ram who deposed that Prabhu was working with PW5, Laxman and subsequently he came to know that he was arrested. This witness was also declared hostile; PW7 is Narain Das who has deposed that he has seen Shiv Narain in the court complex while he was sitting in a bus. This witness was also declared hostile.

9. PW8 is Bhagirath who has deposed that on 06.06.1981, around 2:00 PM he has seen Shiv Narain in the company of accused Kammod and he has also stated that he is going along with Kammod for settlement of dispute. PW9 Vijendra Pal, Head Constable who had registered the F.I.R. and PW10, Sri P.D. Atal is the initial Investigating Officer, who submits that he had investigated the case upto 02.07.1981 and thereafter since he was transferred, further investigation was carried out by SHO Bhullan Ram. SHO Bhullan Ram has not been examined in the instant case. PW11 is Raunak Hussain who has recorded the 164 Cr.P.C. of accused Ramswaroop. After the prosecution witnesses were examined the statement of accused persons were recorded. They denied all the allegations made against them. Thereupon, vide impugned judgement and order dated 21.08.1984 the trial court has acquitted all the accused persons for all other offences except the appellants herein, who were convicted for the offence under Section 365 I.P.C. and sentenced to undergo three years rigorous imprisonment. Being aggrieved by the same, the instant appeal has been filed.

10. Learned Senior Counsel appearing for the appellant no.2, Sri Amit Daga has vehemently submitted that in the instant case though the appellant no.2 has been named in the F.I.R., however, no specific role has been assigned against the appellant and the F.I.R. was filed only on the basis of the apprehension. He has vehemently argued that the trial court has not framed any charges against the appellant no.2 as well as the appellant nos. 1, 3 and 4 herein for the offence under Section 365

I.P.C. or 364 I.P.C. and submitted that in the first set of the charge, the charge is only for the offence under Section 147 as well as the 149 read with Section 201 I.P.C. for which all the appellants herein have already been acquitted. For the second set of the charges, framed against the appellant nos.1, 2, 3 and 4 and acquitted accused Ramswaroop was for the offence under Sections 147, 149/302, 149/201 I.P.C. For those offence also, all the appellants herein were acquitted. Relying upon the third set of the charge framed against the appellant nos.5, 2, 3, and 4 and two other acquitted accused persons, learned Senior Counsel submits that the aforesaid third set of the charge is also in four parts. In first part, the charge was framed under Section 147 I.P.C. for which all the accused persons have already been acquitted. For the third and fourth charge, under Section 149/302 I.P.C. as well as 149/201 I.P.C., for the same also, all the accused persons have been acquitted. So far as the second charge in the third set of the charge is concerned, it is submitted by learned Senior Counsel for the appellant that it was framed only against appellant no.5 and not against any other accused person, which was framed for the offences under Section 364 I.P.C. Therefore, he submits that since there was no charge under Section 364 or 365 I.P.C. against the appellant no.2, he cannot be convicted for the offence under Section 365 I.P.C. It is further submitted by learned Senior Counsel for the appellant relying upon the statement under Section 313 Cr.P.C., specifically the question no.4, that even according to the aforesaid question put to the appellant, the witness Narottam and Babu Khan have seen the victim Shiv Narain in the company of Kammod as well as Ram Narain, Bhagwat, Bhole. However, in the aforesaid question, it has been categorically mentioned that Kammod and Shiv Narain have went towards west and Ram Narain, Bhagwat, Bhola have gone towards village Datavali. Therefore, even as per the last seen theory, there is no question put to the appellants that the victim was last seen in the company of the appellants herein except the appellant no.5.

11. Learned Senior Counsel for the appellant submits that there are three key witnesses in the instant case on the part of the prosecution, namely PW1, Rajaram, PW2 Babulal and PW3 Babu Khan. So far as the statement of co-accused Ramswaroop, which was recorded under Section 164 Cr.P.C. is concerned, the same has already been discarded by the trial court, therefore, the reliance cannot be placed upon the said statement. Otherwise also, for the other offences, the appellants have already been acquitted. Thus, learned counsel for the appellants submits that so far as the offence under Section 365 I.P.C. is concerned, there has to be abduction by an accused and kidnapping and thereupon a wrongful confinement of the victim. Since, there is no evidence available on record with regard to any wrongful confinement on the part of the accused appellants herein, the trial court has erred in convicting the appellants herein under Section 365. The corpus of the victim has not been recovered dead or alive by the prosecution. All the key witnesses do not depose anything against the appellants that the appellants have wrongly confined the victim at any stage.

12. Learned Senior Counsel has further submitted that the statement under Section 313 Cr.P.C. is not mere an empty formality, rather the proper incriminating material has to be put to the accused persons, if all the incriminating material on the basis of which has been convicted has not been put to him in the 313 Cr.P.C. statement, then his conviction becomes erroneous and cannot be sustained. There is no material available on record nor any question has been put to the appellant with regard to the wrongful confinement of the victim. Thus, learned Senior Counsel for the appellants submits that the impugned judgement and order convicting the appellant herein for the offence under Section 365 I.P.C. is not sustainable in law, therefore, he seeks quashing/setting-aside of the impugned judgement and order dated 21.08.1984 and submits that the appellants herein are entitled to be acquitted for the ofence under Section 365 I.P.C. as well.

13. Sri Jitendra Kumar Rawat, learned counsel appearing for the appellant no.3, Prabhu has also adopted the submissions so made by Sri Amit Daga, learned Senior Counsel for the appellant no.2.

14. Sri Pankaj Kumar Shukla, learned Amicus Curiae appearing on behalf of the appellant no.4 has relied upon the judgements of Apex Court in Sharad Birdhichand Sarda v. State of Maharashtra, (1984) 4 SCC 116, Kali Ram v. State of H.P., (1973) 2 SCC 808, Ramreddy Rajesh Khanna Reddy v. State of A.P., (2006) 10 SCC 172, Dilshad vs. State of Uttarakhand : 2013 SCC Online Utt 1303 and State of Rajasthan vs. Kashi Ram : (2006) 12 SCC 254 had submitted that an accused cannot be convicted for the offence under Section 365 unless the victim of such offence is recovered and has made statement against the accused persons with regard to the factum of wrong confinement against his wishes. Since, in the instant case the corpus of the victim either dead or alive has not been recovered, the conviction of the appellants under Section 365 is unsustainable in law, therefore, he seeks acquittal of the appellants herein.

15. Per contra, learned A.G.A. for the State submits that in the instant case the victim Shiv Narain was induced by appellant no. 5, Kammod at the instigation of the other appellants herein as they were having enmity with the informant as well as the son Shiv Narain, the victim herein. Therefore, appellants herein had sufficient motive to commit the offence as alleged against them. The entire story in detail has been narrated by the co-accused Ramswaroop in his confessional statement recorded under Section 164 Cr.P.C. before the Magistrate.

16. Learned A.G.A. further submits that there is categorical deposition by PW3 that he has last seen the victim in the company of the appellants herein, thereafter, he could not be traced out till date and further story has been narrated by the co-accused Ramswaroop in his 164 Cr.P.C. statement, which explains that it were the accused persons herein who have wrongfully confined, killed the victim and thereupon have ablazed the dead body to wipe out the evidence of the death of the victim. The trial court has erroneously discarded the deposition under Section 164 Cr.P.C. by accused Ramswaroop and wrongly acquitted the appellants herein. The appellants herein had sufficient motive to cause the incident as narrated by the prosecution. However, for want of sufficient evidence, the trial court has acquitted the accused persons for the other offences under Sections 147, 148, 149/302, 149/201 I.P.C. and have convicted only five of the appellants herein for the offence under Section 365 I.P.C. Therefore, learned A.G.A. submits that no interference is called for in the matter. The nature of offence is heinous. The accused persons not only brutally killed, but have also wiped out the evidence by setting the dead body ablazed. Thus, no interference is called for in the impugned judgment.

17. Having heard the rival submissions so made by learned counsel for the parties, this Court has carefully gone through the record of the case.

18. The brief facts of the case have already been noted herein above. There are only three key witnesses of the incident as led by the prosecution namely PW1 Rajaram, PW2 Babulal and PW3 Babu Khan. Therefore, proceeding further, it would be appropriate to closely scrutinize the depositions of the aforesaid three witnesses. The PW1 Rajaram has supported the narration of the F.I.R. to the effect that he and his son Govind Ram were falsely implicated in a murder case. Thereupon, having been granted bail by the High Court, he was released from the jail on 04.06.1981 and he came to the house at New Basti, Jhansi where his younger son Shiv Narain as well as the appellant no. 5 was present. Shiv Narain has told him that appellant no. 5, Kammod was telling him that Ram Narain etc. who have falsely implicated the informant as well as the elder son of the informant are regretting their conduct and they want to settle the dispute so that the elder son of the informant namely Govind Ram may also be released on bail. The appellant no. 5 Kammod has also told the same thing to the informant. Thereupon, Shiv Narain, the victim, has told the informant that those persons are having enmity, therefore informant should not go with them.

19. On 05.06.1981, he went to attend the date in the Collectorate and thereafter he had gone to his village and returned on 07.06.1981 to his house at Jhansi where he came to know that Shiv Narain is missing from the house. Then, he inquired in the neighborhood. Then, Bhagirath and Lakhan had told him that on 06.06.1981 Shiv Narain has gone along with Kammod and he has seen him near Kachahri Crossing. On inquiry he has told him that he is going to settle the dispute. This witness has further deposed that he had waited till 7th and thereupon, on 8th he has went to the village for searching his son and he has also searched his son Shiv Narain in various relations and when he could not trace out him, he came on 09.06.1981 at 9:00 AM in the morning to Jhansi and thereupon he got scribed the report from Har Govind and thereupon had put his signatures on the report upon which the F.I.R. was registered.

20. In cross-examination, this witness has deposed that he was having enmity with appellant no.1 Ram Narain regarding the consolidation matters. However, he was not having any enmity with the appellant no.5, Kammod. He has denied the suggestion that in 1979 also a false case was lodged by his elder son Govind Ram against Ram Narain with regard to kidnapping of the informant. He has also shown his ignorance with regard to any proceedings carried out against his elder son under Section 211 I.P.C. He has further denied the suggestion that his son has neither been abducted nor killed. This witness was further called to prove that carbon copy of the F.I.R., as the original report as well as the F.I.R. was missing. In the cross-examination he admits that on 06.06.1981 he was not in Jhansi and he has met witness Bhagirath on 05.06.1981. Then he said, on 06.06.1981, he met with Bhagirath, again denied that he has met with Bhagirath on 06.06.1981. Again, at 5:00 PM on 05.06.1981 he had met Bhagirath. On 05.06.1981 Bhagirath has not told anything to him. He further stated that when he was searching his son Shiv Narain, then Babulal has told him that on 07.06.1981 he has seen Shiv Narain near Jhansi Bus Stand. However, he has shown his ignorance why the name of witness Babulal has not been mentioned in his written report.

21. The PW2 in his statement has stated that on 06.06.1981 he was there at the bus stand at Jhansi around 2:00 PM. He has seen the victim Shiv Narain and Kammod. He had asked Shiv Narain where he is going and Shiv Narain has told him that he is going to settle the dispute with Ram Narain along with Kammod. Shiv Narain was having cycle and was wearing the watch on his wrist. In the cross-examination, he admits that he was previously known to the victim Shiv Narain and also Govind Ram who was residing in the neighborhood of his house. He further states that his statement was recorded on 26.07.1981 at PS- Samthar as the constable from PS- Samthar has come to call him and has told him that the sub-inspector from Jhansi had come to record his statement. He has told to the sub-inspector that Shiv Narain was having the cycle and wrist-watch on his hand. However, if the aforesaid is not mentioned in his statement, then he cannot tell the reasons for the same.

22. PW3 Babu Khan has deposed that around three years back he had gone near culvert at Pandokhar Road for defecation around 5:30 PM. Narottam was coming from Pandokhar. He has asked the matchbox for lighting his cigar/bidi. Thereafter, he was talking to him. Thereupon, he has seen that accused Kammod and Shiv Narain came from the eastern side. Shiv Narain was having cycle and a wrist watch on his hand, who was coming from the side of the horticultural field. Ram Narain, Bhagwat, Jagdish, Prabhu and Bhole came out and thereafter they started talking to Shiv Narain. Shiv Narain and other persons have gone towards the horticulture field towards Datavali while talking to each other. Thereafter, he has come back. Since, thereafter he has not seen Shiv Narain. In his cross-examination he has stated that the horticulture field is around hundred steps away from the culvert. Shiv Narain and Kammod had come to the culvert. Thereafter, Ram Narain etc. have come out from the aforesaid horticulture field. Shiv Narain and Kammod were ahead and rest of the persons were around 25 feet behind them. Thereafter, after some time all of them have gathered ahead and while talking to each other they have went towards the field on the north side.

23. Thus, from the statement of the aforesaid key witnesses, the case of the prosecution is that on 06.06.1981, the victim, Shiv Narain, had gone along with Kammod to settle the dispute with Ram Narain. The PW2, Babulal, has seen the victim in the company of appellant no. 5 at Jhansi and on query, he has also confirmed that he was going towards the village to settle the dispute with Ram Narain and others and PW3 has deposed that he has seen the victim in the company of appellant no. 5 and the rest of the accused persons were coming from behind, who were 25 steps behind Kammod and Shiv Narain, and subsequently after some distance, they have gathered and while talking to each other, they have went towards the agricultural field on the North side from the culvert near canal. Since thereafter, he has not seen the victim Shiv Narain.

24. It is also apparent from the aforesaid evidence that the neither the corpus of the victim has not been recovered alive or dead. There is no evidence that any remains of the dead body was found or which correlated with the corpus of the victim. There is no evidence on record to suggest that any force was being used by any of the accused persons/ appellants herein against the victim which could suggest that there was any wrongful confinement of the victim on the part of either of the accused persons. The statement of PW2 and PW3 only suggest that the victim was seen in the company of the accused persons, but there is no iota of evidence to suggest that there was any wrongful confinement on the part of the appellants herein. To find out the ingredients of the offence under Section 365, it is relevant to take note of the definition of the offence of kidnapping under Section 359 and abduction under Section 362 and the definition of offence under Section 365, which reads as under:

Section 359, 362 and 365

"359. Kidnapping.- Kidnapping is of two kinds: kidnapping from 1[India], and kidnapping from lawful guardianship.

362. Abduction.- Whoever by force compels, or by any deceitful means induces, any person to go from any place, is said to abduct that person.*

365. Kidnapping or abducting with intent secretly and wrongfully to confine person.- Whoever kidnaps or abducts any person with intent to cause that person to be secretly and wrongfully confined, shall be punished with imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to seven years, and shall also be liable to fine."*

25. The kidnapping is defined, the kidnapping of a person from lawful guardianship or kidnapping from India. In the instant case, there is no allegation or whisper about the offence of kidnapping in the evidence available on record. So far as abduction is concerned, there is apprehensive evidence of PW1 with regard to the inducement of the victim by appellant no. 5 at the instigation of rest of the appellants due to enmity which may indicate to some extent the offence of abduction through inducement of the victim by appellant no. 5. However, for the offence under Section 365 IPC, it is necessary for the prosecution to prove something beyond abduction with regard to the wrongful confinement of the victim.

26. In judgement and order dated 09.11.2023 passed in Criminal Appeal No. 798 of 2023 (Yakub Khan vs. State of Chattisgarh through Station House Officer, P.S.-AJK, Korba, District-Korba,C.G.), relied upon by learned Counsel for the appellant no.5, the Division Bench has observed as under:

"11. The essence of the offence under Section 365 of the IPC embodies an aggravated form of offence of kidnapping as defined in Sections 360 and 361 and of abduction as defined in Section 362 IPC. Section 365 is attracted when the kidnapping or abduction is committed with intent to secretly and wrongfully confine the victim. Section 365 of the IPC lays down that where a person was abducted in order to that he might be held to ransom by his abductors, it was held that this section is applicable. The prosecution must prove:

(i) Kidnapping or abduction by the accused.

(ii) The accused thereby intended that the person kidnapped or abducted should be kept in wrongful or secret confinement.

12. To prove the ingredients of Section 365 of the IPC, it is essential that there should be abduction, if no abduction is there; the offence under Section 365 of the IPC is not made out. To prove charge of wrongful confinement, proof of actual physical restriction is not essential. It is sufficient if the evidence shows that such an impression was produced in the mind if the accused as to create a reasonable apprehension in the mind of the victim. The Intention can be inferred from the subsequent acts and conduct of the kidnapper or abductor."

27. With regard to the wrongful confinement of the victim, the prosecution evidence is totally silent. Therefore, this Court do not find any justification for conviction of the appellants herein for the offence under Section 365 I.P.C. for want of evidence in this regard.

28. From the perusal of the 313 Cr.P.C. statements of the appellants, it is apparent that no specific questions have been put to any of the accused persons with regard to the incriminating evidence relating to the offence under Section 365 I.P.C. From the perusal of the third set of the charge as framed against the accused persons, specifically the second charge of the third set of charge, from the close scrutiny, it would be apparent that the said charge was framed only against the appellant no. 5, Kammod and not against any other accused persons, while corrections being made with regard to the first and third charge, no correction has been made in the second charge of third set of charges whereby the other accused persons could be included in the second charge. Had there been any intent of the court framing the charge to include other appellants as well, the necessary amendments with regard to the naming of the other accused persons would have been done in the second charge as has been done in the first and third charge.

29. From the perusal of the impugned judgment, it is apparent that the trial court has proceeded on the assumption that the charge under Section 364 was framed against all the appellants herein, whereas as has been noticed herein above, the aforesaid charge under Section 364 was framed only against the appellant no. 5 herein. Thus, the other appellants, namely appellant nos. 1 to 4, have been convicted for the offence under Section 365 without there being any charge for the said purpose and thus without giving them any opportunity to defend the aforesaid charge. So far the other charges are concerned, the appellants have already been acquitted. Thus, for want of any charge framed against the appellants under Section 364 or 365 I.P.C., their conviction under Section 365 is not sustainable, that too without giving any opportunity to defend the aforesaid charge or without putting any incriminating material against them with regard to the aforesaid charge. Otherwise also, this Court has already noticed that there is no incriminating evidence available on record with regard to the wrongful confinement whereby the offence under Section 365 can be said to have been constituted against the appellants herein.

30. From the perusal of the judgements of the Apex Court in Sharad Birdhichand Sarda (supra), Kali Ram (supra), Ramreddy Rajesh Khanna Reddy (supra), Dilshad (supra) and Kashi Ram (supra), it is apparent that the Apex Court has categorically held that unless there is recovery of the corpus of the victim and there is categorical statement by such victim that he was wrongly confined by the accused person, the offence under Section 365 I.P.C. cannot be said to have been made out against the appellants herein.

31. In view of the aforesaid, this Court do not find any justifiable reason for conviction of the appellants herein for the offence under Section 365 I.P.C. Accordingly, the instant appeal is allowed and all the accused appellants are acquitted of the offence under Section 365 I.P.C. as has been held by the Apex Court.

32. Since, the appellants no.2 to 5 are on bail, their bail bonds are cancelled and sureties are discharged.

33. The original record of the trial court be returned to the trial court to be consigned.

34. This court appreciates the assistance provided by Sri Pankaj Kumar Shukla, Amicus Curiae, who has assisted the Court and for the service rendered by him, an honorarium of Rs. 10,000/- shall be paid to him as per rules.

(2026) 2 ILRA 1107
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 13.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SALIL KUMAR RAI, J.
THE HON'BLE VINAI KUMAR DWIVEDI, J.

Criminal Appeal No. 2903 of 2020

Shakeel Ahmad & Anr. ...Appellants
Versus
State Of U.P. ...Respondent

Issue for Consideration

Matter pertains to whether the sentence of life imprisonment awarded under S. 304B IPC in a case of dowry death is liable to be reduced considering absence of direct evidence, hostile witnesses, and socio-economic circumstances of the parties. (Paras 11,15,20,21,22)

Headnotes

Dowry death - Unnatural death within seven years of marriage by burn injuries in matrimonial home established - factum of death proved despite prosecution witnesses turning hostile - conviction sustainable. (Para 13)

Evidence - Dying declaration corroborated by medical certification and recording officer - forms basis of conviction where accused fail to explain circumstances of death. (Para 14)

Burden of proof - Once unnatural death in matrimonial home established, burden shifts upon accused to explain circumstances - failure to discharge burden relevant for conviction. (Para 14)

Sentencing - S. 304B IPC provides minimum sentence of seven years which may extend to life imprisonment - life imprisonment not mandatory and must be reserved for rare cases. (Paras 11,16,17)

Sentencing policy - Punishment must not be too lenient or too severe - socio-economic condition of parties and absence of direct evidence are relevant mitigating factors. (Paras 15,19)

Reduction of sentence - Where accused already undergone more than ten years imprisonment and mitigating circumstances exist - sentence reduced to period already undergone while maintaining conviction. (Paras 20,21,22)

Held: Conviction of accused-appellants under S. 304B IPC and S. 4 of Dowry Prohibition Act is justified as deceased died an unnatural death by sustaining 80 percent burn injuries in her matrimonial home - dying declaration supported by medical evidence established prosecution case - accused failed to explain circumstances of death thereby attracting statutory presumption - however sentence of life imprisonment is excessive in view of settled principle that punishment should neither be too lenient nor too harsh - life imprisonment under S. 304B IPC is to be awarded only in rare cases - considering absence of direct evidence socio-economic background of parties and period of incarceration already undergone exceeding ten years ends of justice would be met by reducing sentence to period already undergone while maintaining conviction.(Paras 13 – 22) (E-7)

Case Law Cited

Hem Chand v. State of Haryana, (1994) 6 SCC 727

List of Acts

Indian Penal Code,1860; Dowry Prohibition Act,1961; Code of Criminal Procedure,1973; Indian Evidence Act,1872

List of Keywords

dowry death; unnatural death; burn injuries; dying declaration; hostile witnesses; presumption; burden of proof; sentencing; life imprisonment; mitigating circumstances; socio-economic condition; period already undergone;

Case Arising From

APPELLATE JURISDICTION: Against the judgment and order dated 29.09.2018/03.10.2018 passed by learned IVth Additional Session Judge/Special Judge (E.C. Act), Bijnor in Session Trial No. 593 of 2015 arising out of Case Crime No. 272 of 2015 convicting the accused-appellants under S.s 304B IPC and S. 4 of Dowry Prohibition Act.

Appearances for Parties

Advs. for the Appellant:
Arvind kumar Srivastava, R.P.S. Chauhan,
Rajiv Sisodia, Shailesh Kumar Srivastava,
Shyam Shanker Pandey.
Advs. for the Respondents:
Learned A.G.A. for the State.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Vinai Kumar Dwivedi, J.)

This criminal appeal has been filed against the judgment and order dated 29.09.2018/03.10.2018 passed by learned IVth Additional Session Judge/Special Judge (E.C. Act), Bijnor in Session Trial No. 593 of 2015, arising out of Case Crime No. 272 of 2015, under Sections 304B in alternative 302/34 IPC and Section 4 of Dowry Prohibition Act, Police Station Chandpur, District Bijnor. By the impugned order, learned Additional Session Judge has convicted and sentenced the accused-appellants Shakeel Ahmad and Sherbaz @ Shadab to undergo imprisonment for life under Sections 304B IPC and under Section 4 of Dowry Prohibition Act, to undergo two years imprisonment and a fine of Rs. 10,000/- and in default of payment of fine, to undergo three months' further imprisonment. Both the sentences awarded to the accused-appellants are to run concurrently.

2. Brief facts of the case are that on the basis of written report, Ext. K-1, which was filed by informant Naseema (PW-1) at police station Chandpur, district Bijnor, a first information report, Ext. K11, was registered on 24.04.2015 against Gulshana, Shakeel Ahmad, Shahzad, Km. Roshan and Shadab, who are mother-in-law, father-in-law, brother-in-law, sister-in-law and husband of the deceased, respectively, alleging inter alia that her daughter's marriage was solemnized with Sherbaz @ Shadab on 14.12.2014. After the marriage, her in-laws used to taunt her for bringing less dowry and the son-in-law used to demand a motorcycle and rest of the family members were demanding

Rs. Two lakh. On 09.04.2015 at about 10:30 PM, Sherbaz put kerosene on her daughter and her mother-in-law and sister-in-law were saying that because the demand of additional dowry has not yet been fulfilled, therefore, burn her to death. After that, her brother-in-law Shahzad and father-in-law Shakeel lit a fire with a matchstick and threw it on her daughter. The daughter of the informant was seriously burned. The first information report was lodged after the death of the daughter of the informant.

3. On receiving information of the incident, Investigating Officer Mahesh Chandra Atri (PW-11) reached at the spot of the incident and inspected the place of occurrence. Prior to this witness, the case had been investigated by Shailendra Rao, Circle Officer. Mahesh Chandra Atri (PW-11) recorded the statement of the informant Naseema on 25.04.2015. He also prepared a site plan of the place of occurrence, Ext. K14, on the pointing out of the informant Naseema (PW-1). Thereafter, Investigating Officer recorded the statement of Reshma and Asif @ Asif. Investigating Officer also prepared other formal police papers and also prepared panchayatnama of the dead body of the deceased through Sub Inspector Kripal Singh (PW-8). After panchayatnama, dead body of the deceased was sent for autopsy. After recording the statement under Section 161 Cr.P.C. of the prosecution witnesses, charge-sheet was filed only against accused-appellants, Shakeel Ahmed and Sherbaj @ Shadab, under Section 304B IPC and Section 3/4 Dowry Prohibition Act. Other persons named as accused in the written report were exonerated by the police. Dr. Ravi Prakash (PW-6) conducted the postmortem of the deceased Nazia and prepared the postmortem report, Ext. K-10, and according to Ext. K-10, Dr. Ravi Prakash (PW-6) found following burn injuries on her body :

"Superficial to deep burn present on whole of face, neck front and back both upper limb right and left, breast and abdomen as whole front and back, buttocks both genital organ, left thigh whole thigh front and back, right thigh front up to the knee. Blackish brown skin present. Infected pus present at the burn wound, whitish yellow in colour. Clawing of hand both right and left present. Line of redness present. Signing of hairs present on scalp, head, charred skin and face out. Burn is about 80%.'

4. Cause of death of the deceased as stated by Dr. Ravi Prakash (PW-6) was shock and septicemia due to ante mortem burn injuries. As per the postmortem report, the deceased had sustained approximately 80% burn injuries.

5. Since the case was exclusively triable by the Court of Session, hence learned concerned Magistrate committed the case to the Court of Session for trial.

6. Against accused-appellants, Shakeel Ahmed and Sherbaz @ Shadab, charge was framed by learned Sessions Judge under Section 304B IPC and in alternative under Section 302 read with Section 34 IPC. Charge was also framed against the accused-appellants by the learned trial Court under Section 4 of the Dowry Prohibition Act. The accused-appellants denied from the charge and claimed trial.

7. Prosecution adduced as many as 11 witnesses in support of its case; informant Naseema (PW-1), Reshma (PW-2), Asif @ Arif (PW-3), Devraj Singh (PW-4), Om Prakash Yadav (PW-5), Dr. Ravi Prakash (PW-6), Onkar Singh (PW-7), Kripal Singh (PW-8), Dr. Madhumita Tripathi

(PW-9), Indresh Singh Chahar (PW-10) and Mahesh Chandra Atri (PW-11). Apart from these evidences, prosecution also relied on documentary evidence, such as, Ext. K1 to Ext. K15.

8. In trial Court, after recording of the evidence of the prosecution witnesses, statements of accused persons were recorded under Section 313 Cr.P.C. The accused-appellants in their statements under Section 313 Cr.P.C. denied the allegations. They have also stated that the stove exploded while the deceased was cooking food, as a result of which the clothes of the deceased caught fire. She was taken to hospital for her treatment but she died. Accused-appellants have not adduced any evidence in support of their defence.

9. The trial Court after appreciating all evidences, both oral and documentary as available on the record, held the accused-appellants guilty of the alleged crime and death of deceased Nazia and convicted both of them under Section 304B IPC with life imprisonment and under Section 4 of Dowry Prohibition Act for two years imprisonment with a fine of Rs. 10,000/- to each accused accused and in default of payment of fine, both accused-appellants were directed to undergo further imprisonment for three months. Aggrieved by the above judgment and order of conviction dated 03.10.2018, accused-appellants have preferred this criminal appeal before this Court.

10. We have heard the arguments of learned counsel for the accused-appellants and also the arguments of learned A.G.A. for the State, gone through the evidence as available on record and also perused the judgment and order of conviction passed by the learned Trial Court.

11. Learned counsel for the accused-appellants has argued in support of this criminal appeal that both parties belong to weaker sections of the society. Accused-appellants had not made any demand for dowry from the deceased or her family members. No demand was made for a motorcycle and Rs. 2 lakhs. On the date of incident, i.e., 09.04.2015, deceased Nazia was cooking food on the stove and the stove exploded during cooking, because of which the clothes of the deceased caught fire, causing her burn injuries. Accused-appellants took her to the hospital for treatment, but she died during treatment at the hospital. It is also submitted that the deceased Nazia sustained 80% burn injuries at her matrimonial home within seven years of her marriage but the accused-appellants had not poured kerosene nor lit fire from the matchstick. The prosecution witnesses, including Naseema (PW-1), Reshma (PW-2), and Asif @ Arif (PW-3) have not supported the prosecution story. However, learned trial Court wrongly relying on the evidence of above prosecution witnesses and also on the dying declaration, held the accused-appellants guilty under Section 304B IPC and convicted them for life imprisonment, which is excessive. It is also submitted that the parties belong to very poor sections of the society and earn their livelihood through labour work. It is further submitted that life imprisonment awarded to the accused-appellants by the trial Court is excessive. Accused-appellant no. 1 Shakil is languishing in jail since 13.08.2015 and appellant no. 2 since 10.10.2015, thus both the accused-appellants are in jail for more than ten years. It is also argued that under Section 304B IPC, it is not mandatory to award life imprisonment under Section 304B IPC. In Section 304B IPC, option has been given to the Court to award minimum sentence of seven years. By the above arguments, learned counsel for the accused-appellants submitted that both the accused-appellants are languishing in jail for more than ten years which is much more than the minimum provided under Section 304B IPC. In view of the above, it is further pleaded that the punishment of the accused-appellants be reduced to the imprisonment as the period already undergone.

12. Per contra, learned A.G.A. for the State has submitted that the accused-appellants committed a heinous crime in their home. Deceased Nazia was the wife of accused-appellant no. 2, Sherbaaz @ Shadab, and daughter-in-law of accused-appellant no. 1, Shakeel Ahmed. She was burnt in her matrimonial home within two years of marriage. Her body was burnt by 80%, which proved fatal for her due to septicemia. It was also submitted by learned A.G.A. for the State that accused-appellants not only demanded dowry of Rs. 2 lakhs and one motorcycle from the deceased Nazia but when their demand was not fulfilled by Nazia and her parents, they poured kerosene upon her and lit the fire, causing 80% burn injuries on her body and she died during her treatment at hospital due to septicemia. He further submitted that the trial Court rightly and in proper perspective convicted the accused-appellants by maximum punishment of life imprisonment provided in Section 304B IPC. The accused-appellants by their criminal act ended the life of a young girl of 22 years of age, hence the accused-appellants deserved maximum punishment of life imprisonment which was rightly awarded to them by learned trial Court. Learned A.G.A. has also submitted that the reasoning and finding as recorded by learned trial Court suffers from no perversity or misappreciation of the evidence, hence criminal appeal filed by the accused-appellants has no merit and is liable to be rejected.

13. The prosecution case has not been supported by the prosecution witnesses, informant Naseema (PW-1), Reshma (PW-2) and Asif @ Arif (PW-3) who turned hostile during recording of their evidence. However, from perusal of the evidence of the prosecution witnesses, this fact is clearly proved that deceased Nazia died in her matrimonial home in unnatural circumstances by sustaining 80% burn injuries on her body. Thus the factum of unnatural death has been established by the evidence of the prosecution witnesses, Naseema (PW-1), Reshma (PW-2) and Asif @ Arif (PW-3).

14. Learned Trial Court mainly relying on the dying declaration, Ext. K-3, evidence of Devraj Singh (PW-4), who recorded the dying declaration of the deceased Nazia and also relying on the evidence of Dr. Madhumita Tripathi (PW-9), who has given certificate before and after recording of dying declaration of the victim Nazia, held the accused-appellants guilty under Section 304B IPC and Section 4 of Dowry Prohibition Act. The Trial Court also considered this fact that a young married lady of 22 years of age was burnt and sustained 80% burn injury in her matrimonial home and died at hospital during treatment. Learned Trial Court relying on dying declaration, Ext. K-3 and also to the evidence of Devraj Singh (PW-4) and Dr. Madhumita Tripathi (PW-9) found that an unnatural and homicidal death had occurred in the house of the accused-appellants and, therefore, the burden was on the accused-appellants to explain the circumstances in which the deceased Nazia received burn injury of 80% on her body. The accused-appellants were unable to explain the burn injuries on the deceased by adducing any oral or documentary evidence. As per law, it was the responsibility of the accused-appellants to explain this fact by adducing their evidence in this regard in their statement under Section 313 Cr.P.C.

15. From the records, it appears that families of informant and accused-appellants belong to the weaker sections of the society, earning their livelihood by doing labour work. It is settled principle of law that punishment should be of the nature and extent that it must not be too lenient and also must not be too severe and harsh. Both sides belong to weaker sections of the society and are daily wage earner. In view of the above social condition and economic capacity of the accused-appellants as well as also of the prosecution sides, we find that life imprisonment under Section 304B IPC as awarded by learned Trial Court for life imprisonment is too harsh and severe.

16. The Three Judges Bench of Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Hem Chand v. State of Haryana, (1994) 6 SCC 727, which was also a case under Section 304B IPC (dowry death), held in para 7 that;

"A reading of Section 304-B IPC would show that when a question arises whether a person has committed the offence of dowry death of a woman what all that is necessary is it should be shown that soon before her unnatural death, which took place within seven years of the marriage, the deceased had been subjected, by such person, to cruelty or harassment for or in connection with demand for dowry. If that is shown then the court shall presume that such a person has caused the dowry death. Likewise there is a presumption under Section 113-B of the Evidence Act as to the dowry death. Practically this is the presumption that has been incorporated in Section 304-B IPC also. It can, therefore, be seen that irrespective of the fact whether the accused has any direct connection with the death or not, he shall be presumed to have committed the dowry death provided the other requirements mentioned in the section are satisfied. In the instant case the prosecution has proved that the deceased died an unnatural death, but there is no direct evidence connecting the accused with the death. The accused has not been charged under Section 302 IPC. Therefore at the most it can be said that the prosecution proved that it was an unnatural death in which case also Section 304-B IPC would be attracted. But this aspect i.e., absence of direct connection of the accused with death has certainly to be taken into consideration in balancing the sentence to be awarded to the accused.

Section 304-B IPC only raises presumption and lays down that minimum sentence should be seven years but it may extend to imprisonment for life. Therefore awarding extreme punishment of imprisonment for life should be in rare cases and not in every case."

17. Thus, from the above case law of Hon'ble Supreme Court, it is clear that under Section 304B IPC for dowry death, life imprisonment should be awarded in rarest of the rare cases, where it is alleged that bride was killed in a brutal and ruthless manner and also where there is no mitigating circumstances, then in this condition, life imprisonment should be awarded as a rarest of the rare cases. However, the trial Court also held the accused-appellants guilty under Section 4 of Dowry Prohibition Act and convicted them for two years imprisonment and a fine of Rs. 10,000/- to each accused and in default of payment of fine, both the accused-appellants were directed to undergo further imprisonment for three months.

18. In the case in hand, we find that it was the defence of the accused-appellants that the stove exploded at the time of cooking food on the stove by the deceased and the deceased caught fire and sustained burn injuries on her body.

19. We are of the view that the quantum of punishment should be proportionate. It should neither be too lenient nor too excessive and harsh. While awarding sentence, the Court must take an overall view of the facts and circumstances of the case, including the socio-economic conditions of both the parties, so as to meet the ends of justice and convey a clear message to society that no person could dare to commit any heinous crime.

20. In view of the above facts and circumstances of the case, as revealed from the records, we are inclined to sustain the order of conviction maintaining the finding and reasoning in this respect. However, we are inclined to reduce the sentence from life imprisonment to the period already undergone by the accused-appellants, without altering the finding of the trial Court.

21. In the light of the above discussion, we are of the considered view that the ends of justice would be met by reducing the sentence of life imprisonment, as awarded by the trial Court, to imprisonment for a period of ten years.

22. Since the accused-appellants have already served more than 10 years in jail, hence we reduce the sentence of both the accused-appellants as the period already undergone by them. Thus, the criminal appeal filed by the accused-appellants is liable to be partly allowed.

23. The criminal appeal is partly allowed. The sentence of life imprisonment under Section 304B IPC as awarded by the learned Trial Court to the accused-appellants is reduced to the period already undergone by them.

24. Let the accused-appellants be released forthwith.

25. Let the trial Court record be returned by the office alongwith copy of this judgment for necessary information and compliance forthwith.

(2026) 2 ILRA 1113
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 05.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE J.J. MUNIR, J.
THE HON'BLE SANJIV KUMAR, J.

Criminal Appeal No. 3252 of 1984

Mata Din & Anr. ...Appellants
Versus
State Of U.P. ...Respondent

Issue for Consideration

Matter pertains to "whether the prosecution have been able to prove their case beyond reasonable doubt." (Para 26)

Headnotes

Criminal Procedure Code, 1973 - S. 374(2) - Appeal against conviction -Sustainability of conviction based on ocular testimony corroborated by medical evidence.

Indian Penal Code, 1860 - S. 302 - Murder - Appellants (brothers-in-law of the deceased) shot the deceased in the informant's courtyard over a land dispute - Presence of motive to grab property through illegal mutation.

Criminal Trial - FIR - Promptness - "it is proved that the FIR was lodged on 09.04.1983 at 1:00 p.m. i.e. after about 2 hours of the incident there is no delay in lodging the FIR. It is prompt and not ante-timed." (Para 27)

Place of Occurrence - Proof - "we are of opinion that the place of occurrence is established by the prosecution." (Para 30)

Defective Investigation - Effect - "any lapse on the Investigating Officer's part, would not adversely affect the prosecution case." (Para 30)

Eye-witnesses - Reliability - "they are consistent in their deposition and there are no major contradictions reliable and trustworthy." (Para 31, 38)

Chance Witness - Presence Explained - "the reason for Jivaram's presence at the time of the incident is well explained." (Para 32)

Non-reaction of Witnesses - "there cannot be any suspicion about the witnesses' presence particularly, when the appellants were armed with pistols." (Para 37)

Ocular vs Medical Evidence - "there are no material contradictions in the ocular and medico-legal evidence." (Para 39)

Motive - Land Dispute - "there was motive for the appellants to commit the evil deed in order to grab Shyama Devi's property." (Para 40)

Direct Evidence -Motive not material - "in case of direct evidence, it is settled law that motive is not very material." (Para 40)

False Implication - Defence Plea - "the defence have not produced an iota of evidence in support of this contention." (Para 41)

Held: The FIR was lodged after about 2 hours - there is no delay prompt and not ante-timed - place of occurrence is established by the prosecution - they are consistent reliable and trustworthy - there are no material contradictions in the ocular and medico-legal evidence - there was motive to grab Shyama Devi's property - the prosecution have proved their case beyond reasonable doubt - The appeal fails and is dismissed -The conviction and sentence is hereby affirmed. (Paras 27,30,31,38,39,40,42,43) (E-7)

Case Law Cited

Rana Pratap v/s State of Haryana, AIR 1983 SC 680, (1983) 3 SCC 327

List of Acts

Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973; Indian Penal Code,1860; Land Revenue Act,1901

List of Keywords

FIR; place of occurrence; eye-witness; ocular and medico-legal evidence; motive; defective investigation; beyond reasonable doubt; false implication.

Case Arising From

APPELLATE JURISDICTION: Criminal Appeal against "judgment and order dated 31.10.1984 in Sessions Trial No. 270 of 1983 under S. 302 IPC.

Appearances for Parties

Advs. for the Appellant:

P.N.Mishra, Rakesh kumar Rathore, Sanjeev Kumar

Advs. for the Respondents:

learned A.G.A. on behalf of the State

(Delivered by Hon'ble Sanjiv Kumar, J.)

1. This criminal appeal has been preferred, under Section 374(2) of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 (for short, 'Cr.P.C.'), by the appellant/ convicts, Matadin and Ram Kishan against the judgment and order dated 31.10.1984 passed by Mr. K.S. Srivastava, the then 1st Addl. Sessions Judge, Mainpuri in Sessions Trial No. 270 of 1983, State v. Matadin and another (arising out of Crime No.101 of 1983), under Section 302 of the Indian Penal Code (for short, 'IPC').

2. By the impugned judgment and order, both the appellants were convicted on the charge of murdering one Smt. Shyama Devi and sentenced to undergo imprisonment for life.

3. The brief facts of the prosecution case are that the informant, Ujagar Singh son of Ram Dayal, a resident of Village Khirna, Police Station Kurawali, District Mainpuri, lodged a first information report at Police Station Kurawali, District Mainpuri on 09.04.1983, stating therein that Smt. Shyama Devi, widow of late Daya Ram, was living in the informant's house. A case with regard to a land dispute was pending between her and two brothers-in-law (husband's brother), to wit, Matadin (Devar) and Ram Kishan (Jeth). On the fateful day at around 11 o'clock in the morning, her Devar Matadin and Jeth Ram Kishan came over brandishing pistols and both of them shot Smt. Shyama Devi, who was sitting near the hearth (chulha). She was hit in the arm and head, in consequence of which she died instantaneously. According to the informant, Mahender son of Guljari, Jivaram son of Ratiram and Ramlal son of Kharge, all residents of his village, were present at his house. All of them had congregated to go over to village Patharua to consider a groom for Jivaram's daughter and had witnessed the incident. All women in the informant's house too had seen the incident. Upon the informant and the witnesses raising alarm and hearing gun fire, a multitude of men came over to the place of occurrence and saw Matadin and Ram Kishan brandishing country-made pistols.

4. Upon this information, chik First Information Report (for short, 'FIR'), bearing Case Crime No.101 of 1983, under Section 302 IPC, was lodged at Police Station Kurawali, District Mainpuri, on 09.04.1983 at about 1:00 p.m. against Matadin and Ram Kishan. The investigation commenced. The Investigating Officer reached the place of occurrence and collected samples of blood stained and plain earth. He sealed them in a container and prepared a recovery memo (fard baramadgi), (Ext. Ka-10). The inquest was held and an inquest report along with other papers were prepared on the spot. Thereafter, the cadaver was sent for autopsy, where the post-mortem examination was done. The Investigating Officer recorded statements of the informant and other witnesses, inspected the place of occurrence and prepared a site-plan at the pointing out of the informant. After completion of investigation, the Investigating Officer submitted a charge-sheet under Section 302 IPC before the Magistrate.

5. The Magistrate took cognizance of the offence and summoned the accused. They appeared before the Court, whereupon the learned Magistrate furnished them copies of the relevant prosecution papers under Section 207 Cr.P.C. Thereafter, the case was committed to the Court of Sessions for trial on 13.06.1983 by the learned Magistrate.

6. The appellants appeared before the Court of Sessions, where a charge under Section 302 IPC was framed against them, to which they pleaded not guilty and claimed to be tried.

7. The prosecution have examined as many as six witnesses in evidence to prove their case, to wit, PW-1 Ujagar Singh; PW-2 Jivaram; PW-3 SHO Amir Chandra Singh; PW-4 Constable No. 672 Suresh Chandra; PW-5 SI Kamta Prasad and, PW-6 Dr. A.K. Srivastava.

8. PW-1, Ujagar Singh is the first informant and eye-witness of the incident. He has said on oath that Shyama Devi was the late Dayaram's widow, and the appellants, Ram Kishan and Matadin, are Shyama Devi's brothers-in-law, to wit, Devar and Jeth, respectively. Neksu and Dayaram were other brothers of these appellants. Their father's name was Umrai. Shyama Devi was issueless. After Dayaram's death, his share of the land passed on to Shyama Devi. The appellant Matadin got Shyama Devi's name removed from records and got the land transferred to himself and his brothers. Shyama Devi had instituted proceedings in Court against him. These proceedings were going on in the Tehsil at the time of Shyama Devi's murder. Shyama Devi was staying with PW-1 for about three months before the murder. She was murdered at about 11:00 a.m. PW-1 was sitting in his baithak (meeting room) in Khirna village. Jivaram, Ramlal, and Mahendra were also present there. They were sitting on a platform (chabutara). They were set to go to village Patharua to find a groom for Jivaram's daughter.

9. Coming down the stairs from the backyard, the appellants, Matadin and Ram Kishan, entered PW-1's home, and Shyama Devi, who was then making chapati in the kitchen, leaning against a wall in the courtyard, was shot by the appellants using pistols, as a result whereof she died instantly. PW-1 has said that he had witnessed the appellants killing Shyama Devi. After killing Shyama Devi, the appellants fled towards south from the spot. He got a report scribed by his son, Kripal and thereafter he appended his signature to it, and on the basis of this report, lodged an FIR at Police Station Kurawali. The witness has proved the written report (tehrir) (Ex. Ka-1).

10. PW-1 in his cross-examination has said that Dayaram was killed in a police encounter before this incident. PW-1 did not visit Shyama Devi's house, nor did she visit his house earlier. After Dayaram's death, she had given her land to the appellants on lease (batai). During those days, Shyama Devi lived separately in her house. PW-1 had no concern with Shyama Devi's property. He does not know that the appellant Matadin had deposed against Mahendra, Ram Lal and Ramdas in a murder case, in which Mahendra was sentenced to undergo imprisonment for life. He knew that Mahendra spent some time in jail.

11. PW-1 has further said that about one year prior to this incident, elections for the post of Gram Pradhan were held. Prior to this election, he himself was Village Pradhan and had contested for another term. He lost the said election to Sovaran Singh. Some others had also contested this election. It is incorrect to say that the appellants opposed him in this election.

12. PW-1 has also said that his house has a staircase, facing eastwards in the courtyard, with a door on the west side and there was no toilet in his house. Dayaram's house is about 50-60 paces away from his house and Ramlal's house is 60 paces away from his house. Shyama Devi came to his house of her own sweet will. She lived in the room next to the hearth, northwest of the courtyard. He had given her a bed to sleep in, and she had told him that once the land dispute was over, she would vacate his house. His kitchen and Shyama Devi's kitchen were separate. He had supplied her utensils to cook meals for herself. The witness said that when he went to Shyama Devi's kitchen after the incident, a cooked dish of pulses was there in the zinc pot (patili), wet flour stuck to her hands, a chapati was on the pan (tawa) and she was sitting on the south side of the hearth, with her back against the wall. When Shyama Devi was shot, blood spilled around her and splattered on the cow-dung. Both the shots were fired from a distance of 3-4 paces by the appellants after approaching from the east. The Investigating Officer had inspected the place of occurrence and observed all these details.

13. PW-1 has further said in his cross-examination that the distance from the platform, where they were sitting and the hearth was 15 paces and the staircase was about 2-3 paces away from the hearth. The witness said that he stayed on the platform until the assailants left. The assailants had passed by him at a distance of 2-1 paces, to wit, the place where he was sitting. The witness says that when he and others on the platform saw the assailants, approaching armed with country-made pistols, they got frightened, moved 2-1 paces away and the assailants went away. He does not know the name of Jivaram's daughter, for whom they had to go to find a groom. The boy, whom they had proposed to see, was his Samadhi's son, named Ravi Lal. Firstly, Jivaram came to his house at about 8-10 o'clock. Thereafter, Mahendra and Ram Lal came to him. After 2-3 months, they again went to Village Patharua to find a groom along with Mahendra and Ram Lal. He went to the police station alone on foot. He remained at the police station for about half an hour. At about 4.00 p.m., the cadaver of Shyama Devi was taken from his house. He does not know, who cremated Shyama Devi. May be the police had cremated the dead body. He has denied that he had illicit relations with Shyama Devi and said that he treated her as his daughter. He has also denied the suggestion that his wife, daughter-in-law and son were annoyed with him for sheltering Shyama Devi in their house and his family members had killed Shyama Devi and the appellants have been falsely implicated in the present case to save the real assailants. He had asked the appellants to accommodate Shyama Devi in their house and cultivate her land. Upon his request, the appellants kept her with them for 4-6 days and then beat her up and threw her out. She wandered here and there, and when she came to the witness, he gave her a room to stay there.

14. PW-2 Jivaram is also said to be an eye-witness of the incident. He has said in his examination-in-chief that on the fateful day at about 11:00 a.m., Shyama Devi was murdered. During those days, Shyama Devi was living in PW-1, Ujagar Singh's house. At the time of her death, he was sitting in front of the baithak along with Ujagar Singh, Mahendra and Ram Lal. He had to go to find a groom for his daughter in village Patharua along with Ujagar and that is why he had come to Ujagar's house. At that time, Shyama Devi was making chapati. The appellants, Matadin and Ram Kishan, came to the courtyard from the terrace through the stairs armed with pistols and shot Shyama Devi. As a result, she died and the appellants fled away towards thr south direction. Subedar, Hajari and Ram Swarup saw them fleeing away from the spot. In his cross-examination, this witness has said that Shyama Devi's husband Dayaram was killed in a police encounter before the incident. Shyama Devi was living in Ujagar's house 2-3 months prior to the incident. Ujagar Pradhan had told him about a boy for his daughter, 2-3 days prior to the incident. He had no friendship with Ram Lal and Mahendra. He had asked Ram Lal and Mahendra to accompany him to village Patharua. His brothers also reside in the same village, but he did not ask them to accompany him to go to village Patharua for assistance alone. Ram Lal alone was his worker. Mahendra was convicted in a murder case and sentenced to undergo imprisonment for life. Now-a-days, he is on bail. In the case, where Mahendra was convicted, the appellant Matadin had deposed against him. Ram Lal was also tried along with Mahendra in the case.

15. PW-2 has further said that at about 10:00 a.m., he came to Ujagar's house and was sitting on a platform outside the baithak of Ujagar's house. Ujagar was already sitting there. After 10-5 minutes, Ram Lal and Mahendra reached there. They had sticks (danda) in their hands. Shyama Devi was making chapati at the time of incident. While they were sitting on the platform, Ujagar's daughter-in-law (bahu) had not closed the doors, because she was sitting with her back to them. He has denied the suggestion that the door was not locked because the inside was not visible from the place, they were sitting. While they were sitting, their faces were towards the courtyard. Upon hearing the sound of gun shot, they got frightened and stayed in place. The appellants, carrying weapons, passed by them at a distance of 6-7 paces. After the shooting, all of them raised alarm and as the assailants were armed, he did not attempt apprehending them.

16. PW-3, SHO Amir Chandra Singh, is a formal witness and the second Investigating Officer of this case. He has filed the charge-sheet in the Court, which he proved as Ex. Ka-2.

17. PW-4 Constable 672 Suresh Chandra is also a formal witness, who had taken the deceased Shyama Devi'a cadaver for autopsy to Mainpuri along with related papers. He has said that at about 5:00 p.m., he proceeded from Village Khirna to Mainpuri, which was 30 kilometers away from there.

18. PW-5 SI Kamta Prasad is the first Investigating Officer of the case. He has stated about the investigation carried out by him and said that he recorded statements of the informant and other witnesses. He reached the place of occurrence at Village Khirna Kalan along with other police personnel. He inspected the place of occurrence and prepared a site-plan, which he proved as Ex. Ka-3. Prior to undertaking steps in investigation as aforesaid, the Investigating Officer held an inquest and drew up a report, which he proved in Court. It was marked Ex. Ka-4. He has also proved the other related papers, such as, challan lash, photo lash, letter to RI and letter to C.M.O. as Ext. Ka-5 to Ka-8, respectively. He has proved the sample seal as Ex. Ka-9 and said that the corpse was handed over to Constable Suresh Chandra and Rajendra Singh along with relevant papers for the purpose of conveying the cadaver to the doctor concerned for autopsy. He has further said that he collected samples of blood stained earth and plain earth from the place where the corpse was found and sealed them in two separate containers. He has proved these containers as Material Exhibits 1 and 2 and its recovery memo as Ex. Ka-10. He has proved the chik FIR as Ex. Ka-11 and G.D. No.16 dated 09.04.1983, registered at 13:00 hours, scribed by Head Moharrir Jawahar Lal, as Ex. Ka-12, who, according to this witness, was posted with him. He was well acquainted with his handwriting and signatures. In his cross-examination, this witness has said that he did not find any wet flour stuck to the deceased's hands. When he inspected the kitchen, he did not find baked chapati, cooked pulse and the zinc pot there. He did not find any blood stained cow dung at the spot. He found one stove t the place, marked as 'B' in the site-plan. The informant had not told him the place from where the assailants shot the deceased. He did not find Shyama Devi's effects or belongings in the informant's house.

19. PW-6 Dr. A.K. Srivastava is an expert witness, who has conducted the autopsy on 10.04.1983 at 12:45. He has said that rigour mortis was present over the body and the stomach was swollen. The body was average built and the age was about 35 years. He found the following ante-mortem injuries over the body:

(1) Gun shot entry and exit wound 19cm x 17cm x brain deep extending from root of nose to just above occipital protuberance. Blood clots were present.

(2) Gun shot entry 23cm x 6cm on inner aspect of right arm extending from just above medial condyle of elbow joint to right axilla pit then entry extending into right chest cavity. Blood clots present.

In the internal examination, he found that all bones of the skull were fractured, the brain lacerated and in pieces with blood present there. Four pellets of the size of a pea were found in the brain matter, right axilla, the first and the second ribs on the right side were fractured, the right lung was shredded into pieces and 14 small pellets and one wad was found in it. In right chest cavity, half a pound of clotted blood was found. The small intestine and stomach were empty, the large intestine was half filled and the uterus empty. The cause of death was shock and hemorrhage, as a result of laceration of brain matter and the death would have occurred about a day before. It could have occurred on 09.04.1983 at 11:00 a.m. PW-5 has proved the autopsy report as Ex. Ka-13.

This witness has said in his cross-examination that the root of nose and occipital protuberance are not at the same level. Occipital protuberance was at a little higher level and upon raising the head, both would be at the same level. Injury No.1 could have been caused while the deceased was sitting and shot by from the same level, and if she raised her head and the person shooting was in the standing position or at a higher level, even then injury No.1 could be caused. If the deceased was in the sitting position, having both her hands in between her knees, while making chapati, injury No.2 could be caused or not, was a matter that could be explained by a ballistic expert. The distance from which injury Nos.1 and 2 were caused, could also be estimated only by a ballistic expert.

20. The prosecution have produced the following documentary evidence, to wit, chik FIR, Ext. Ka-11; written report (tehrir), Ex. Ka-1; recovery memo of blood stained and plain earth, Ex. Ka-10; post-mortem report, Ex. Ka-13; inquest report, Ex. Ka-4; charge-sheet, Ex. Ka-2; police form-13, Ex. Ka-5; photo lash, Ex. Ka-6; letter to RI, Ex. Ka-7; letter to the CMO, Ex. Ka-8; sample of seal, Ex. Ka-9; copy of G.D. No.16, Ex. Ka-12; copy of the application filed by the deceased Shyama Devi before the Naib Tehsildar in Case No. 32 of 1982 under Section 34 LR Act, Ex. Ka-14; and, a copy of the order dated 13.01.1983 in the above case, Ex. Ka-15.

21. After closure of evidence by the prosecution, statements of the appellants were recorded under Section 313 Cr.P.C., in which they denied the prosecution case and have stated that the witnesses have deposed against them due to enmity and a false case lodged against them. It is admitted that both the appellants are real brothers and the deceased, Shyama Devi was wife of Dayaram, their real brother. She was the appellants' bhabhi (sister-in-law). It is also admitted that Shyama Devi was issueless and a widow. It is also admitted that after the death of Dayaram, his share was inherited by Smt. Shyama Devi. It is also admitted that Shyama Devi had filed a case before the Tehsildar, Mainpuri regarding the same land against the appellants. The appellant, Matadin stated that a case under Section 302 IPC was lodged against Ramlal and Mahendra, in which he was a witness. Ujagar Singh, Gram Pradhan, had contested elections to the office of Gram Pradhan, where Matadin had supported the rival party. Ujagar Singh lost the election, and, as such, had harboured animosity against them. In consequence, the appellants have been falsely implicated in this case.

The defence have not adduced any oral evidence and in the form of documentary evidence, a certified copy of the judgment dated 17.11.1978, (Ex. Kha-1), passed by the 1st Additional Sessions Judge, Mainpuri in S.T. No.155 of 1978, State v. Ramlala and others, under Sections 302/34, 307/ 34 IPC, Police Station Kurawali, District Mainpuri was produced.

22. The learned Trial Judge, after hearing arguments of both parties and perusing the evidence on record, found that the prosecution have been able to prove their case beyond reasonable doubt. The FIR was lodged promptly and the place of occurrence was established. The witnesses of fact have been consistent and their testimony reliable and trustworthy. There was no contradiction in ocular and medical evidence. There was motive for the appellants to murder Smt. Shyama Devi in order to grab her land. Therefore, the learned Trial Judge found both the appellants guilty of committing Shyama Devi's murder and has, thus, convicted and sentenced the appellants under Section 302 IPC as indicated above.

23. We have heard learned Counsel for the appellants, the learned A.G.A. on behalf of the State and perused the evidence on record.

24. It is submitted on behalf of the appellants that the prosecution have examined PW-1, Ujagar Singh and PW-2, Jivaram, as the witnesses of fact. Both the above witnesses are interested witnesses and also inimical to the appellants. PW-2, Jivaram, is a chance witness. No independent witness has been examined by the prosecution. Therefore, the testimony of PW-1 and PW-2 is highly unreliable. It is further submitted that the appellants had supported Ujagar from the rival party in the election to the office of the Gram Pradhan, where the informant contested and lost. Therefore, he has developed enmity against the appellants, giving him a cause to falsely implicate. It is further submitted that the informant has had illicit relationship with the deceased, Shyama Devi, and was keeping her in his house, which was a reason for annoyance and bickering between the informant and his family members, who did not accept it. It is the informant's family members, who have killed Shyama Devi and the informant has falsely implicated the appellants to save his family. It is further submitted that the place of occurrence is highly doubtful because in view of the testimony of PW-1 and PW-2 and the Investigating Officer, the utensils, blood stained cow dung, baked chapati etc., which the witnesses of fact have said that they were lying at the place of occurrence, were not found by the Investigating Officer, when he inspected it. It is also submitted that the manner in which the incident has occurred, is not supported by medical evidence and, thus, there are contradictions in ocular and medical evidence, falsifying the prosecution story. It is also submitted that the presence of PW-1 and PW-2 at the place of occurrence is highly doubtful because if the incident had occurred in their presence, then their normal reaction would have been to capture the appellants. Sitting tight while the appellants committed the crime fled from the house without any resistance from them is highly unnatural. It creates doubt about the prosecution case. It is also submitted that the firearm was not recovered by the Investigating Officer, which could have corroborated the prosecution case by forensic examination of the weapon and the pellets found from the corpse of the deceased. Lastly, it is submitted that there was no motive for the appellants to commit the said crime. Civil litigation was already pending there in the Court and the murder of the deceased could have been of no benefit for the appellants to grab her property. Thus, the Trial Court has appreciated the evidence incorrectly and reached a wrong conclusion. Therefore, the impugned judgment and order is liable to be set aside.

25. Per contra, the learned A.G.A. has submitted that the prosecution case is proved beyond reasonable doubt; the FIR is prompt; the place of occurrence is established; the eye-witnesses have supported the prosecution case and their testimony is consistent and reliable. There are no major contradictions in ocular and medical evidence. There was motive for the appellants to commit the murder of Shyama Devi in order to grab her property. Thus, the Trial Court has rightly convicted and sentenced the appellants. This appeal has no force and is liable to be dismissed.

26. In view of the evidence led in the case and the submissions of both parties, let us see whether the prosecution have been able to prove their case beyond reasonable doubt.

27. According to the prosecution, the incident occurred on 09.04.1983 at 11:00 a.m. The FIR was lodged on the same day at 1:00 p.m. According to the chik FIR, the distance between the place of occurrence and the police station is 3 kilometers. PW-1, Ujagar Singh, is the first informant of the case. He has stated on oath that after the incident, he got the written report (tehrir) scribed by his son, Kripal, and thereafter went to the police station and lodged the FIR. PW-1, Ujagar Singh, has proved the written report as Ex. Ka-1 and said that he went to the police station alone on foot. He gave the written report to the Constable at the police station. He remained at the police station for about half an hour. PW-5, SI Kamta Prasad, the Investigating Officer of the Case, has proved the chik FIR, Ex. Ka-11 and G.D. No.16 dated 09.04.1983 entered at 13:00 hours and Ex. Ka-12, scribed by Head Moharrir Jawahar Lal. It is argued on behalf of the appellants that the FIR is ante-timed, but in this regard the defence have not cross-examined PW-1, Ujagar Singh and PW-5, SI Kamta Prasad. The inquest report was prepared at 3:00 p.m. on 09.04.1983 and there are particulars of case crime number and sections etc. mentioned on the first page, and on the second, it is mentioned that by G.D. No.16, dated 09.04.1983 registered at 13:00 hours, SI Kamta Prasad reached the place of occurrence, drew up the relevant papers with regard to the inquest and sent the dead body for autopsy to the hospital. In view of the above oral and documentary evidence, it is proved that the FIR was lodged on 09.04.1983 at 1:00 p.m. i.e. after about 2 hours of the incident. Therefore, looking into the facts and circumstances of the case, there is no delay in lodging the FIR. It is prompt and not ante-timed.

28. According to the prosecution, the incident occurred in the courtyard of the informant, Ujagar Singh's house in Village Khirna Kalan, P.S. Kurawali, District Mainpuri. PW-1, Ujagar Singh, is the first informant as well as eye-witness of the case. He has deposed on oath that Shyama Devi was murdered at about 11:00 a.m. by the appellants, coming down the stairs from the backyard, when she was making chapati in the kitchen, leaning against a wall in the courtyard. He has said that the appellants had shot her from a distance of 3-4 paces in his courtyard and blood splattered around her. PW-2, Jivaram, is also one of the eye-witnesses of the case. He has also deposed on oath that the appellants entered into the informant's courtyard, after getting down the roof, and shot Shyama Devi while she was making chapati there.

29. According to the inquest report, it was drawn up at the place of occurrence that is the courtyard of the informant's house, which corroborates that the incident occurred in the said courtyard. The Investigating Officer has inspected the place of occurrence and drawn up the site-plan, where the place of occurrence is shown as the courtyard of the informant's house.

30. PW-5, SI Kamta Prasad, the Investigating Officer of the case, has said on oath that he took samples of blood stained and plain earth from the place, where the dead body was lying, sealed them in separate containers and drew up its recovery memo. He has proved these containers as Material Exhibits 1 and 2 and its recovery memo as Ex. Ka-10, which also corroborates that the incident occurred at the place alleged by the prosecution. It is vehemently argued on behalf of the appellants that the place of occurrence is highly doubtful because according to the testimony of PW-1, kneaded dough stuck to the deceased's hands, cooked chapati was on the pan, cooked pulse in the zinc pot, the earthen pots and blood stained cow dung etc. were lying at the place of occurrence, whereas the Investigating Officer has said that he did not find or notice any of these things. This shows that the place of occurrence, as propounded by the prosecution, is highly doubtful. We do not find force in this submission. It has come in evidence that the Investigating Officer has found blood splattered around the body of the deceased at the place of occurrence and collected samples of blood stained and plain earth from the said place. He also found Shyama Devi's dead body lying at the place of occurrence. If he failed to notice the more subtle materials, it has no bearing on the case. It may be minor lapse on his part or at the most, an instance of defective investigation. It is settled law that if the prosecution case is proved otherwise from ocular and medical evidence, any lapse on the Investigating Officer's part, would not adversely affect the prosecution case. Here, it is material that the dead body was found at the place of occurrence along with blood splattered there. Therefore, going by clear and telltale evidence, we are of opinion that the place of occurrence is established by the prosecution.

31. The prosecution have examined PW-1, Ujagar Singh and PW-2, Jivaram, as the two eye-witnesses of the incident, who have proved the facts of the case. Looking into the testimony of both these witnesses, it appears that they are consistent in their deposition and there are no major contradictions to hold that they are not reliable or the prosecution case not proved. PW-1, Ujagar Singh, has supported the prosecution case and deposed that at the time of the incident, he was sitting in his baithaka along with Jivaram, Ramlal and Mahendra. The other men were sitting there too, because they had to go to Village Patharua to find a groom for Jivaram's daughter. The appellants came into the courtyard of his house from the backside of the house. Shyama Devi was cooking in the backyard. The appellants shot her. As a result, she died instantly. Thereafter, the appellants fled towards southern side. PW-1 has been cross-examined at great length, but nothing material could be extracted from his cross-examination, which would cast doubt on his veracity. Here, it is pertinent to mention that it is the admitted case of the appellants that both of them are real brothers and the deceased, Shyama Devi was wife of Dayaram, their real brother. It is also admitted that after Dayaram's death, Shyama Devi inherited his share. It is also admitted that Shyama Devi had filed a case in the Tehsildar's Court against the appellants regarding the abovementioned property. It is also admitted that Shyama Devi was living in Ujagar's house at the time of the incident, but it is further stated on behalf of the appellants that she was living in her own house also. In view of the above, admittedly at the time of incident, Shyama Devi was living in the informant's house and PW-1, Ujagar Singh has stated that Shyama Devi had asked him to stay there till her case was decided. PW-1 has said that they were sitting in the baithaka in such a position that the place of occurrence was clearly visible to them. It has come in the testimony of PW-1 that he had not shown the place to the Investigating Officer, from where the appellants had stood and shot Shyama Devi. In this regard, it is submitted on behalf of the appellants that non-disclosure of the place, from where the fire was opened by the appellants, is a material lapse on the part of the prosecution, which adversely affects their case. We do not find any force in this submission. It is established from the evidence that Shyama Devi was shot in the courtyard of the informant's house, while she was sitting near the hearth (chulha). The Investigating Officer has shown the hearth and the place, where the dead body was lying. Therefore, not showing the place to the Investigating Officer, from where the appellants had opened fire, is not very material so as to adversely affect the prosecution case.

32. PW-2, Jivaram, has also supported the prosecution case and according to the prosecution, Jivaram reached the informant's house at about 10:00 a.m. and he was sitting along with the informant and two other men, Mahendra and Ramlal in the baithak. He has also said that he came to the informant's house because it was agreed between them that they would go to Village Patharua to find a groom for his daughter. Therefore, the reason for Jivaram's presence at the time of the incident is well explained. According to PW-1, the groom whom they were going to meet was his Samadhi's son. Though, it has come in evidence that till the statements of these witnesses were recorded, the marriage of Jivaram's daughter was not settled, but it does not mean that the presence of Jivaram at the informant's house was without reason. There is no material contradiction in Jivaram's testimony, though he has been cross-examined at length.

33. In the appellants' submission, the testimony of PW-1 and PW-2 does not show that they could see the incident from the baithaka and reckon what was going on in the courtyard. Looking into the testimony of both these witnesses, it has come in their evidence that the door of the baithaka was open and the hearth and the place, where the deceased was sitting, was visible from the door. The Investigating Officer has drawn up a site-plan, where he has shown the place by letter 'A' where both these witnesses were sitting and the place marked by letter 'B' in the courtyard, where the hearth was located and the dead body of Shyama Devi lay. In between letters 'A' and 'B', there is a door shown, which is straight in line with 'A' and 'B'. This would give clear vantage to one sitting at place 'A', what was happening at place 'B'. The platform is also shown in the baithaka and both these witnesses say that they saw the shooting from the baithaka and it was the appellants, who shot the deceased employing country-made pistols. The defence have given a suggestion to PW-2, Jivaram, that the baithaka door must have been closed because the daughter-in-law (bahu) in rural societies stay veiled. Therefore, the suggestion further goes, if Jivaram was present there with his face towards the courtyard and women of the house inside, as a matter of normal practice, door would not be open. Rather, it would have been closed to keep privacy. But, PW-2 has explained this by saying that the back of the daughter-in-law (bahu) was towards them, so the door was open. The explanation given by PW-2, Jivaram, appears to be reasonable and it is not unusual in such condition that the door of the baithaka was open.

34. It is further submitted on behalf of the appellants that the appellant, Mata Din was witness in a murder case against Ramlal and Mahendra, where they were convicted and sentenced to undergo imprisonment for life. Thus, they harboured animosity against Mata Din and stood witness against the appellants in this case. The defence have filed a certified copy of the judgment passed in the sessions trial against Ram Lal, a reading whereof shows that though Mata Din stood witnesses against Ramlal, but so far PW-2, Jivaram, is concerned, he was not on trial in that case. There is, therefore, no reason shown by the defence why PW-2, Jivaram, would falsely depose against the appellants. Jivaram is an independent witness. His presence on the spot is found reasonable and reliable. It is a day-light murder. There is no reason why Jivaram would give false evidence against the appellants.

35. It is also submitted on behalf of the appellants that according to PW-1 and PW-2, after committing the crime, the appellants emerged from the informant's house using the baithaka door, passing these witnesses at a distance of 5-6 paces, where the normal reaction of these witnesses should have been to apprehend the appellants, but the absence of any such reaction of these witnesses sitting in the baithaka while the appellants passed by, is not natural and raises suspicion about their presence at the scene. We do not find any force in this submission, because it has come in evidence that the appellants were armed with country-made pistols, which they were brandishing, and these witnesses were scared into staying away from the appellants, who had moments earlier, had shown their propensities to kill.

36. In Rana Pratap v/s State of Haryana AIR 1983 SC 680, (1983) 3 SCC 327, the following remarks of O. Chinnappa Reddy J. are relevant:

'Every person who witnesses a murder reacts in his own way. Some are stunned, become speechless and stand rooted to the spot. Some become hysteric and start wailing. Some start shouting for help. Others run away to keep themselves as far removed from the spot as possible. The others rush to the rescue of the victim, even going to the extent of counter attacking the assailants. Every one reacts in his own special way. There is no such rule of natural reaction. To discard the evidence of a witness on the ground that he did not react in any particular manner is to appreciate evidence in a wholly unrealistic and unimaginative way.'

37. In this view of the matter by not reacting in a particular manner to apprehend the appellants, there cannot be any suspicion about the witnesses' presence at the place of occurrence, particularly, when the appellants were armed with pistols.

38. It is further submitted on behalf of the appellants that there were elections around for the office of Gram Pradhan and the informant, a former Gram Pradhan, contested the election. The appellants supported the rival candidate and in the election, the informant lost. Therefore, he harboured animosity against the appellants, leading to their false implication in this case. We do not find any force in this submission as well. The appellants have not clarified, who was the rival candidate, whom they were supporting and the election to the office of the Gram Pradhan was held about a year ante-dating the occurrence. There was no reason for the informant to falsely rope in the appellants after the lapse of a year from the electoral event. In view of the above discussion, we hold that the testimony of PW-1 and PW-2 is consistent, reliable and trustworthy.

39. So far as the medico-legal evidence is concerned, it is submitted on behalf of the appellants that the ocular evidence is not corroborated by the medico-legal evidence, rendering the prosecution case highly doubtful. In this regard, we have examined the testimony of PW-1, Ujagar Singh, PW-2, Jivaram and PW-6, Dr. A.K. Srivastava, who conducted the autopsy. According to the post-mortem report, Ex. Ka-13, there were two gun shot wounds, one of entry and exit, 19cm x 17cm x brain deep, extending from root of nose to just above occipital protuberance, and the other, was of an entry, 23cm x 6cm on inner aspect of right arm extending from just above medial condyle of elbow joint to right axilla pit, the entry extending into right chest cavity. On internal examination, all the bones of skull were found fractured, brain lacerated and in pieces with blood present there. Four pellets were found in brain matter, the right axilla and ribs over the right side fractured, the right lung shredded into pieces and 14 small pellets and one wad was found in it. The cause of death was opined to be shock and hemorrhage, as a result of ante-mortem injuries. According to PW-1 and PW-2, Shyama Devi was sitting near the hearth and making chapati, when she was shot by the appellants. She was in the sitting position with both her arms between her legs. PW-6, Dr. A.K. Srivastava, has opined that injury Nos.1 and 2 could be caused while the deceased was in sitting position. Both the witnesses of fact have said that the deceased was shot by the appellants and the doctor has found that the deceased died due to gun shot injury. Therefore, there are no material contradictions in the ocular and medico-legal evidence, which substantiates the prosecution case.

40. According to the prosecution, the appellants had motive to commit the murder of the deceased because after the death of the deceased's husband Dayaram, Shyama Devi inherited his property, but the appellants, who are Devar and Jeth, managed to get her name mutated out of the revenue records. In this regard, Shyama Devi had instituted a case in the Tehsildar's Court. The prosecution have produced copies of the application and the order of the Tehsildar's Court, which corroborates their version. The appellants too have admitted that Shyama Devi had instituted a case against them in the Tehsildar's Court. Therefore, there was motive for the appellants to commit the evil deed in order to grab Shyama Devi's property. Besides this, this is a case of direct evidence and in case of direct evidence, it is settled law that motive is not very material and has no significance. In view of the above, the prosecution have proved motive for the appellants to commit this crime. The direct evidence corroborated with the medico-legal evidence, support the prosecution case as well.

41. It is in the last submitted on behalf of the appellants that the informant, Ujagar Singh, had an illicit relationship with Shyama Devi. The informant was keeping her in his house, which was a cause of annoyance to his family members and it was the informant's family members, who did Shyama Devi to death. The informant has falsely roped in the appellants in this case to save his family members from the penalties of the law. The defence have not produced an iota of evidence in support of this contention of theirs. PW-1, Ujagar Singh, has disclosed his age as 60 years whereas according to the autopsy report, Shyama Devi was aged about 35 years. There was an age difference of 25 years between Shyama Devi and the informant. PW-1 has said on oath that he regarded Shyama Devi as one of his daughters and has denied that he had any illicit relationship with her. It has come in evidence that at the time of the incident, the women of the house were present and the informant had a daughter-in-law too. It is highly improbable that women from the informant's family and other family members of his would murder Shyama Devi because of annoyance with the informant for sheltering Shyama Devi in his house. If according to the appellants, it were the family members of the informant, who committed the crime, they (the appellants) could have moved an application or stated this fact to the police or other authorities, who would have investigated the case from this angle as well. There is nothing on record to show that the appellants did so during the entire course of investigation and the trial. Therefore, this submission on behalf of the appellants has no force.

42. In view of what we have said above, we hold that the prosecution have proved their case beyond reasonable doubt. The Trial Court has appreciated the evidence on record correctly and reached the conclusion about guilt of the appellants for sound reasons. The appellants have been rightly convicted and sentenced for the said crime.

43. Therefore, this appeal has no force. The appeal fails and is dismissed. The conviction and sentence of the appellants by the Trial Court is hereby affirmed.

44. The appellants are on bail. Their bail bonds and personal bonds are cancelled and sureties discharged. They are directed to surrender before the Trial Court within two weeks from today to undergo the remaining part of their sentence, failing which, the Trial Court is directed to adopt coercive measures for securing their presence.

45. Let a copy of this order be forwarded to the Trial Court concerned along with the lower court record for information and necessary compliance.

(2026) 2 ILRA 1126
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 06.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SIDDHARTH, J.
THE HON'BLE JAI KRISHNA UPADHYAY, J.

Criminal Appeal No. 4445 of 2005

Balak Ram & Ors. ...Appellant
Versus
State Of U.P. ...Respondents

Issue for Consideration

Matter pertains to "whether the evidence of last seen together is sufficient enough to convict the appellants in a case resting entirely on circumstantial evidence?" (Para 25)

Headnotes

Criminal Law - Circumstantial Evidence - "the circumstances from which the conclusion of guilt is to be drawn should, in the first instance, be fully established consistent only with the hypothesis of the guilt of the accused" (Para 23)

Criminal Trial - Suspicion - "suspicion, howsoever grave, cannot substitute proof" (Para 23, quoting Devi Lal case)
Last Seen Theory - Scope - "ordinarily, the circumstance of the deceased being last seen alive with the accused may alone not be sufficient to record conviction" (Para 26)
Last Seen Theory - Time Gap - "comes into play where the time-gap is so small that the possibility of any person other than the accused becomes impossible" (Para 26)
Circumstantial Evidence - Chain - "there must be a chain of circumstances so far complete as not to leave any reasonable ground for a conclusion consistent with the innocence of the accused" (Para 23)
Appreciation of Evidence - Weak Links - "last seen theory is weak evidence in this case - long gap makes the last seen evidence unreliable" (Para 25)
Benefit of Doubt - Entitlement - "prosecution has failed to establish its case beyond the reasonable doubt - benefit of doubt would have to be extended" (Para 29)
Held: The prosecution has failed to elevate its case from the realm of 'may be true' to the plane of 'must be true - last seen theory is legally unsustainable in this case as law requires a strict proximity of time and place - there exists significant gap which is not narrow enough to exclude the possibility of third party interference - prosecution has failed to establish its case beyond the reasonable doubt - the benefit of doubt would have to be extended to the accused-appellants - the appeal deserves to be allowed the appellants are acquitted of all the charges. (E-7)

Case Law Cited

Hanumat Govind Nargundkar & Anr. v. State of Madhya Pradesh, AIR 1952 SC 343; Sharad Birdhichand Sarda v. State of Maharashtra,* (1984) 4 SCC 116; Vijay Shankar v. State of Haryana, (2015) 12 SCC 644; Bablu v. State of Rajasthan, (2006) 13 SCC 116; Shivaji Sahabrao Bobade v. State of Maharashtra, (1973) 2 SCC 793; Devi Lal v. State of Rajasthan, (2019) 19 SCC 447; Nizam v. State of Rajasthan, (2016) 1 SCC 550; Navneetakrishnan v. State, (2018) 16 SCC 161; Kanhaiya Lal v. State of Rajasthan, (2014) 4 SCC 715; State of U.P. v. Satish, (2005) 3 SCC 114; Ramreddy Rajesh Khanna Reddy v. State of A.P., (2006) 10 SCC 172; Bodhraj v. State of J & K, (2002) 8 SCC 45; Rambraksh v. State of Chhattisgarh, (2016) 12 SCC 251; Krishnan alias Ramasamy v. State of Tamil Nadu, (2014) 12 SCC 279; Arjun Marik v. State of Bihar, 1994 Supp (2) SCC

List of Acts

Indian Penal Code, 1860; Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973

List of Keywords

circumstantial evidence; last seen theory; chain of circumstances; benefit of doubt; motive; delay in FIR; medical evidence; suspicion cannot substitute proof; proximity of time; acquittal

Case Arising From

APPELLATE JURISDICTION: Arising out of "judgment and order of sentence dated 24.09.2005 passed by the Additional Sessions Judge, Saharanpur arising out of Case Crime No. 37 of 1992, registered as Sessions Trial No. 66 of 1995"

Appearances for Parties

Advs. for the Appellant:
Sri Chetan Chatterjee, Amicus Curiae
Advs. for the Respondents:
Sri G. N. Kanojiya, learned A.G.A.-I

(Delivered by Hon'ble Jai Krishna Upadhyay, J.)

1. Heard Sri Chetan Chatterjee, learned counsel appointed by the High Court Legal Service Committee for arguing the appeal on behalf of appellant no.2, who has also been appointed as amicus curiae by this Court for arguing the appeal on behalf of appellant no. 3; Sri G. N. Kanojiya, learned A.G.A.-I appearing on behalf of the State and perused the trial Court record as well as the judgment and order passed by the trial Court.

2. This criminal appeal has been preferred by the appellants against the judgment and order of sentence dated 24.09.2005 passed by the Additional Sessions Judge, Saharanpur arising out of Case Crime No. 37 of 1992, registered as Sessions Trial No. 66 of 1995 (State Vs. Anoop Singh and others), whereby the learned Additional Sessions Judge had convicted appellant Anoop Singh under Section 364 and 302/34 I.P.C. and sentenced him under Section 364 I.P.C. to undergo 10 year rigorous imprisonment with fine of Rs. 10,000/- and to undergo life imprisonment with fine of Rs. 10,000/- under Section 302/34 I.P.C. In case of default in the payment of fine, he was sentenced to undergo additional sentence of three months. Appellants, Ram Kumar, Vinod and Balak Ram have been convicted and sentenced to undergo life imprisonment with fine of Rs. 10,000/- under Sections 302/34 I.P.C. In case of default in payment of fine, they have been sentenced to undergo additional sentence of three months.

3. Two appellants, namely appellant no.1, Balak Ram and appellant no.4, Vinod, died during the pendency of this appeal and the appeal qua them stood abated vide orders dated 11.01.2023 and 08.01.2026 respectively passed by this Court. The only surviving appellants are appellant nos. 2 and 3, namely, Anoop Singh and Ram Kumar, respectively.

4. The prosecution story in nutshell is as under:-

On 07.02.1992 at 6:00 am, Anoop Singh and Ram Kumar kidnapped Chandrapal @ Chandraprakash from the house of Baldev Singh situated in Mohalla Mahagarh, Police Station Mandi, District Saharanpur, with the intention to kill him and on 08.02.1992 at 01:00 pm, they murdered Chandrapal @ Chandraprakash near the Ballabhgarh railway station within the territory of police station Ballabhgarh, District Faridabad. The informant in the instant case is Baldev Singh who is brother of the deceased. He lodged F.I.R. in the police station on 12.02.1992, after which case was registered and investigation was conducted. The dead body of the deceased Chandraprakash was recovered near Ballabhgarh railway station.

5. During investigation of the present case, an inquest of the dead body was done, post-mortem was conducted and statements of the witnesses under Section 161 Cr.P.C. were recorded. The accused persons were arrested. The Investigating Officer submitted the charge-sheet against accused Anoop Singh, Ram Kumar, Vinod and Balak Ram and cognizance was taken. Thereafter, the matter was committed to the Court of Sessions. The charge was framed under Sections 364, 302/34 I.P.C. All the accused denied the charges and claimed trial.

6. During the course of the trial as many as 12 prosecution witnesses were examined. The incriminating circumstances appearing in the prosecution evidence were put to the appellants while recording their statements under Section 313 Cr.P.C. The appellants denied the incriminating circumstances and claimed that they had been falsely implicated in the present case.

7. By the impugned judgment, the learned trial judge convicted the appellants. Hence, this appeal.

8. Sri Chetan Chatterjee, learned counsel appearing on behalf of the appellants submitted that:-

(i) PW1 and PW2 were already aware about the fact that accused Anoop Singh and Ram Kumar had taken the deceased with them but missing report was only given on 12.02.1992 i.e. with delay of 5 days after the incident which took place on 07.02.1992.

(ii) The prosecution has failed to prove that the contents of parcha (Ex. Ka1) are in the hand writing of accused Anoop Singh.

(iii) No one would murder someone for mere Rs. 7,500/- and there are contradictions in the statement of PW1 about the amount allegedly given by the deceased to accused Anoop Singh and Ram Kumar for getting job. Thus, the prosecution has failed to prove the motive of occurrence.

(iv) Medical evidence does not corroborate the prosecution version.

(v) The prosecution has failed to prove the evidence of last seen. Even if it were proved, conviction cannot be solely based upon it as it is a very weak piece of evidence.

(vi) There is no eye-witness to the case and this is a case of circumstantial evidence. The chain of circumstances is incomplete.

9. On the other hand, supporting the impugned Judgment Sri G. N. Kanojiya, learned A.G.A.-I for the State has submitted that:-

(i) The delay caused in reporting the missing report was explained by PW2. Baldev Singh.

(ii) PW4 Desh Raj has duly proved the Parcha written by accused Anoop Singh .

(iii) The Motive for the occurrence is the money which was given by deceased to accused for getting job, is proved by PW1 Jasmati.

(iv) Prosecution has proved the evidence of last seen which completes the chain of circumstances drawing an inference that accused has committed the offence.

10. Having considered the rival submissions advanced by learned counsel for the parties, it would be appropriate to first analyze the testimony of witnesses.

11. PW1 Smt. Jasmati is the wife of the deceased, who stated that she knew accused Anoop Singh and Ram Kumar. They came to her house and asked about her husband, who was not present at home at that time. They had given her a slip of paper and told her to send Chandraprakash to Rampur on the next day. Chandra Prakash (deceased) did not go to Rampur on the next day. She deposed that again in the next morning, Anoop and Ram Kumar came to her house and took her husband with them. She further deposed that her husband did not return home after that. A photograph from the file was shown to her and she recognized the photograph was of her husband. She further stated that prior to this incident, her husband had given Rs.7,500/- to accused Anoop Singh and Ram Kumar for getting job. She further stated that she left her husband with two accused persons Anoop Singh and Ram Kumar at home and went out for natural call. When she returned back, her husband and both the accused persons had left the house. People from her locality went to the police station 2 or 3 days later. She went to police station much later. She further deposed that if the Investigating Officer mentioned the amount only Rs.7,000/- instead of Rs. 7,500/- in her statement under Section 161 Cr.P.C. , which she cannot explain.

In her cross-examination, she stated that accused Anoop Singh and Ram Kumar were her relatives and they had taken Rs. 7,500/- from her husband to provide job to him. The amount of Rs. 7,500/- was taken by the accused, 2 to 3 months before the murder of her husband. There was no written agreement for making payment of the aforesaid amount.

12. PW2 Baldev Singh is the brother of deceased, who had identified the clothes of Chandraprakash at Ballabhgarh establishing that recovered body was that of the deceased Chandraprakash. He deposed that about 5 years back, the accused Anoop Singh and Ram Kumar came to their house and gave a letter to the wife of his brother Chandraprakash (deceased) instructing her to send Chandraprakash to the Rampur bus stand. In the next morning again both the accused came to their house and took Chandraprakash with them. After that his brother never returned back. Chandraprakash (deceased) was the maternal uncle of accused Anoop Singh and Ram Kumar. Anoop Singh and Ram Kumar are the real brothers. He further stated that 2 or 3 days before on 12.02.1992, he alongwith his neighbourhood went to police Station Mandi but police personnel concerned had refused to lodge the F.I.R. but later on the same day the report was lodged. He further deposed that a note (Parcha) written by accused was given to the police.

In his cross-examination, he stated that Daroga had never recorded his statement. If Daroga had already recorded his statement under Section 161 Cr.P.C., then he cannot explain the reason.

13. PW3 Krishna Lal is the neighbour of deceased who deposed that more than five years back at about 8:30 am in the morning Anoop Singh , Ram Kumar and Chandraprakash @ Chandrapal (deceased) met him infront of Rishipal's shop at Rampur bus stand. They said that they were going to Delhi to purchase sacks and gunny bags. He recognized hand writing and signature of accused Anoop Singh. Paper no. 5/2 was shown to him and on seeing it, he stated that text on it was written by accused Anoop Singh, present in Court.

In his cross-examination, he stated that Daroga Ji recorded his statement five months later. He stated to the police that he had seen the deceased Chandrapal with the accused persons at the Rampur Bus stand on 06.02.1992. He further stated that if Daroga Ji had recorded in his statement that he had seen the accused persons alongwith deceased on 07.02.1992, then he cannot explain the reason for this discrepancy.

14. PW4 Desh Raj stated that he knew the accused Anoop Singh and Ram Kumar. He owned a grocery store. About 5 years back , at around 6:00 am in the morning, accused Anoop Singh and Ram Kumar came to his shop and asked him for a piece of paper and pencil. Anoop Singh had written something in front of him on the paper while sitting at his shop. He further deposed that Daroga had recorded his statement five months later.

15. PW5 M. S. Ahlawat is the doctor who had stated that on 10.02.1992 , he was posted as a Senior Medical Officer in civil hospital Chandigarh. On that day, he had conducted post-mortem examination of an unidentified dead body and found the following ante-mortem injuries :-

" The deceased was found to have extensive swelling over both eyes and forehead. Upon examining the skull, the cranial cavity was found to be filled with blood and there were fracture of the interior and middle cranial fossa which were also filled with clotted blood. All other organs were healthy. Cause of death is shock and hemorrhage due to injuries on vital part which are ante-mortem in nature and sufficient to cause death. Possibility of injuries due to railway accident cannot be ruled out."

He has proved the post-mortem report which is exhibited as Ex. Ka2.

In his cross-examination, he stated that he had not mentioned time of post-mortem in post-mortem report. He further stated that police informed him that deceased was under influence of some intoxicating substance due to which he fell down from a moving train and died. The deceased's death could have occurred at any time on 09.02.1992. The injuries found on the body of the deceased could have been caused by falling from a moving train.

16. PW6 B. P. Singh (Deputy S.P.) who had stated that on 19.09.1992, he was posted as an Inspector In-charge at Police Station Mandi. On that day, he commenced investigation in the instant matter. He recorded statements of witnesses under Section 161 Cr.P.C. on the same day. On the same day, PW1 Jasmati had given him a note written by accused Anoop Singh which is Ex. Ka1. He prepared memo Ex. Ka3. On 20.02.1992, he arrested the accused Anoop singh at about 05.20 pm from the Delhi Bus stand and on 23.02.1992 at around 5.50 am, he arrested accused Balak Ram and Vinod Kumar from Behat Bus stand and interrogated them. The investigation of the present case remained with him till 24.03.1992.

17. PW7 Satyabir is a cobbler who knew the deceased. He stated that around 6 years back at 6:00 pm, he saw the deceased and accused persons at the Delhi railway station when he arrived at the Delhi railway station to travel to Saharanpur. They were accompanied by accused Anoop Singh, Ram Kumar, Balak Ram and Vinod. Thereafter, they met him and had tea together. He further stated that they told him to go to Ballabhgarh to purchase gunny bags .

18. PW8 S. P. Singh (Inspector Incharge) has stated that on 08.07.1992, he took over the investigation and took action to arrest accused Ram Kumar. A report under Sections 82 and 83 Cr.P.C. had been forwarded by him to the C.J.M. concerrned.

19. PW9 Babu Lal, the Assistant Sub-Inspector of Police Station City Ballabhgarh, District Faridabad had stated that on 09.02.1992 at around 12:00 Noon, he was standing alongwith his police party in front of Alson Cotton Mill when Richhpal S/o Chhuttan Jat informed him verbally that a dead body of young man was lying in the field of wheat near the railway line. Upon reaching the spot, he saw that the dead body was approximately four steps away from the boundary of the railway line. He conducted the inquest and sent the dead body for conducting post-mortem. He has proved the inquest repot exhibited as Ex. Ka4.

20. PW10 Constable Rishipal Singh, Police Station Behat, District Saharanpur, stated that he was posted as constable in Police Station Mandi. On 12.02.1992 Baldev Singh had given a written report at the police station regarding disappearance of his brother Chandraprakash at 10.30 am which he mentioned in General Diary as Rapat No. 23. The original General Diary had been destroyed and its photocopy which is in his hand writing is on the file, which is exhibited as Ex. Ka10.

The investigation of the case was handed over to S.P. Singh on 19.01.1992 when he returned from Faridabad and the case was converted from missing report to Case Crime No. 37 of 1992, under Sections 364, 302/201 I.P.C.

21. PW11 Ram Babu who was the third Investigating Officer of the case had stated that he has submitted the charge sheet.

22. PW12 Harpal Singh is the Sub Inspector/Reader of the D.I.G., Nainital, Uttaranchal who had assisted PW11 Ram Babu during investigation and has prepared the site plan Ex.Ka15

23. Before we proceed further, considering that we are dealing with a case which is to be decided on the basis of circumstantial evidence, it would be useful to notice the legal principles to be borne in mind when a criminal trial is to be decided on the basis of circumstantial evidence. Where the evidence is of a circumstantial nature, the circumstances from which the conclusion of guilt is to be drawn should, in the first instance, be fully established, and all the facts so established should be consistent only with the hypothesis of the guilt of the accused. Again, the circumstances should be of a conclusive nature and tendency and they should be such as to exclude every hypothesis but the one proposed to be proved. In other words, there must be a chain of circumstances so far complete as not to leave any reasonable ground for a conclusion consistent with the innocence of the accused and it must be such as to show that within all human probability the act must have been done by the accused (vide Hanumat Govind Nargundkar & Anr. V. State of Madhya Pradesh, AIR 1952 SC 343; Sharad Birdhichand Sarda V. State of Maharashtra, (1984) 4 SCC 116). In Vijay Shankar V. State of Haryana, (2015) 12 SCC 644, the Supreme Court following its earlier decisions in Sharad Birdhichand Sarda (supra) and Bablu V. State of Rajasthan, (2006) 13 SCC 116, in respect of a case based on circumstantial evidence, held that "the normal principle is that in a case based on circumstantial evidence the circumstances from which an inference of guilt is sought to be drawn must be cogently and firmly established; that these circumstances should be of a definite tendency unerringly pointing towards the guilt of the accused; that the circumstances taken cumulatively should form a chain so complete that there is no escape from the conclusion that within all human probability the crime was committed by the accused and they should be incapable of explanation of hypothesis other than that of the guilt of the accused and inconsistent with their innocence". Further, (vide paragraph 153 of the celebrated judgment in Sharad Birdhichand Sarda's case) the circumstances from which the conclusion of guilt is to be drawn should be fully established meaning thereby they 'must or should' and not 'may be' established. In addition to above, we must bear in mind that the most fundamental principle of criminal jurisprudence is that the accused must be and not merely may be guilty before a court can convict and the mental distance between 'may be' and 'must be' is long and divides vague conjectures from sure conclusions (vide Shivaji Sahabrao Bobade & Another v. State of Maharashtra, (1973) 2 SCC 793). These settled legal principles have again been reiterated in a three-judge Bench decision of the Supreme Court in Devi Lal v. State of Rajasthan, (2019) 19 SCC 447 wherein, in paragraphs 18 and 19 of the judgment, it was held as follows:-

"18. On an analysis of the overall fact situation in the instant case, and considering the chain of circumstantial evidence relied upon by the prosecution and noticed by the High Court in the impugned judgment, to prove the charge is visibly incomplete and incoherent to permit conviction of the appellants on the basis thereof without any trace of doubt. Though the materials on record hold some suspicion towards them, but the prosecution has failed to elevate its case from the realm of "may be true" to the plane of "must be true" as is indispensably required in law for conviction on a criminal charge. It is trite to state that in a criminal trial, suspicion, howsoever grave, cannot substitute proof.

19. That apart, in the case of circumstantial evidence, two views are possible on the case of record, one pointing to the guilt of the accused and the other his innocence. The accused is indeed entitled to have the benefit of one which is favourable to him. All the judicially laid parameters, defining the quality and content of the circumstantial evidence, bring home the guilt of the accused on a criminal charge, we find no difficulty to hold that the prosecution, in the case in hand, has failed to meet the same."

24. Having noticed the prosecution evidence and the legal principles governing decision of a criminal trial on circumstantial evidence, we notice that in the instant case, the prosecution seeks to bring home the guilt of the accused appellant by proving following circumstances;-

(i) On 06.02.1992 at around 6:00 am in the morning accused Anoop Singh and Ram Kumar had gone to shop of PW4 Desh Raj and asked him for a piece of paper and pencil. Accused Anoop Singh had written something on the paper, (ii) they had given a slip to PW1 Smt. Jasmati on 06.02.1992 and told her to send Chandraprakash (deceased) to Rampur and again in the next morning they had gone to her house and took her husband with them, (iii) on 07.02.1992 at around 8.30 am in the morning, accused Anoop Singh, Ram Kumar and Chandraprakash (deceased) met PW3 Krishna Lal at Rampur Bus Stand, (iv) on 07.02.1992 at about 6:00 pm, deceased and all the accused persons were seen by PW7 Satyabir at Delhi Railway Station, (v) on 09.02.1992 at around 12:00 Noon, the dead body of the deceased was found near the railway line at City Ballabhgarh, District Faridabad. (vi) cause of death of deceased was ante-mortem injuries and (vii) motive of occurrence is Rs. 7,500/- which was given by the deceased to accused persons Anoop Singh and Ram Kumar for providing him job.

25. Now, we shall examine as to whether the prosecution has been able to successfully prove all the circumstances narrated above.

(i) The prosecution relies on slip allegedly written by the accused, which, as per the record, was written with a pen and not with a pencil. There is no reliable proof as to the hand writing, therefore, this circumstance remains doubtful and cannot be treated as strong link against the accused, (ii) The deceased left his house with accused-appellants is not disputed but this was voluntary act. The wife of accused did not make any complaint to the police before 12.02.1992 alleging suspicion or threat. Mere departure together, without any objection cannot be treated as an incriminating circumstance, (iii) Being present at public place, where many people come and go, does not create any suspicion. There is no record of any quarrel, threat or unusual conduct at that place, (iv) the last seen theory is weak evidence in this case. The deceased was last seen around 6:00 pm on 7.02.1992 with the accused person but the body was found on 9.02.1992 around noon. The long gap of several hours makes the last seen evidence unreliable as possibility of involvement of some other person can not be ruled out, (v) dead body was found near railway line but this does not show any direct link between accused-appellants and place of recovery, (vi) the alleged motive of taking Rs. 7,500 for providing employment is doubtful as they both were labourers. Further, the wife of deceased in her statement under Section 161 Cr.P.C. stated the amount to be Rs. 7,000, which is contradictory to case of prosecution and (vii) PW5 Dr. M. S. Ahlawat who conducted the post-mortem examination stated that deceased's death could have occurred at any time on 09.02.1992 by falling down from the moving train, which could be accidental as it does not show any link to the accused persons.

Keeping in view the above-stated testimonies, the crucial question is-whether the evidence of last seen together is sufficient enough to convict the appellants in a case resting entirely on circumstantial evidence ?

26. Accused-appellants being last seen with deceased on 07.02.1992 at about 6:00 pm at Delhi Railway Station and on 09.02.1992 at around 12:00 Noon, the dead body of the deceased was found near the railway line at City Ballabhgarh, District Faridabad. The post-mortem of the dead body was conducted on 10.02.1992 and the doctor had opined that deceased's death could have been occurred at any time on 09.02.1992. Before we dwell on this issue we may observe that, ordinarily, the circumstance of the deceased being last seen alive with the accused may alone not be sufficient to record conviction (vide Nizam V. State of Rajasthan, (2016) 1 SCC 550; Navneetakrishnan V. State, (2018) 16 SCC 161; and Kanhaiya Lal v. State of Rajasthan, (2014) 4 SCC 715). But, it is an important link in the chain of circumstances that could point towards the guilt of the accused with some certainty. The last seen theory comes into play where the time-gap between the point of time when the accused and the deceased were last seen alive and when the deceased is found dead is so small that the possibility of any person other than the accused being the author of the crime becomes impossible. It would be difficult in some cases to positively establish that the deceased was last seen with the accused when there is long gap and possibility of other persons coming in between exists (vide State of U.P. V. Satish, (2005) 3 SCC 114). Similar view is taken in Ramreddy Rajesh Khanna Reddy & Another V. State of A.P., (2006) 10 SCC 172, where, following the decisions in State of U.P. V. Satish (supra) and Bodhraj V. State of J & K, (2002) 8 SCC 45, in paragraph 27 of the judgment, it was held that

"the last seen theory, furthermore, comes into play where the time-gap between the point of time when the accused and the deceased were last seen alive and the deceased is found dead is so small that possibility of any person other than the accused being the author of crime becomes impossible. Even in such cases the courts should look for some corroboration."

27. In Rambraksh v. State of Chhattisgarh (2016) 12 SCC 251, Hon'ble Apex Court observed that the last seen theory applies only when the time gap between the last seen point and the discovery of the death is so small that no one else could have committed the crime. Even then, this circumstance alone is insufficient and the prosecution must establish a complete chain of circumstances proving the accused's guilt. In the said decision, this Court held as under:

"12. It is trite law that a conviction cannot be recorded against the accused merely on the ground that the accused was last seen with the deceased. In other words, a conviction cannot be based on the only circumstance of last seen together. Normally, last seen theory comes into play where the time gap, between the point of time when the accused and the deceased were seen last alive and when the deceased is found dead, is so small that possibility of any person other than the accused being the perpetrator of the crime becomes impossible. To record a conviction, the last seen together itself would not be sufficient and the prosecution has to complete the chain of circumstances to bring home the guilt of the accused."

28. Further Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Krishnan alias Ramasamy v. State of Tamil Nadu (2014) 12 SCC 279 while relying on its judgment in Arjun Marik v. State of Bihar 1994 Supp (2) SCC 372 observed as follows:

"21. The conviction cannot be based only on circumstance of last seen together with the deceased. In Arjun Marik v. State of Bihar [1994 Supp (2) SCC 372 : 1994 SCC (Cri) 1551] this Court held as follows : (SCC p. 385, para 31)

"31. Thus the evidence that the appellant had gone to Sitaram in the evening of 19-7-1985 and had stayed in the night at the house of deceased Sitaram is very shaky and inconclusive. Even if it is accepted that they were there it would at best amount to be the evidence of the appellants having been seen last together with the deceased. But it is settled law that the only circumstance of last seen will not complete the chain of circumstances to record the finding that it is consistent only with the hypothesis of the guilt of the accused and, therefore, no conviction on that basis alone can be founded."

29. In view of the facts and circumstances of the case and the law laid-down by Hon'ble Apex Court as mentioned above, we are of the opinion that since the deceased was last seen around 06:00 pm on 07.02.1992 with accused persons at the Delhi Railway Station and on 09.02.1992 at around 12:00 Noon, the dead body of the deceased was found near the railway line at City Ballabhgarh, District Faridabad and PW5 Dr. M. S. Ahlawat has opined that death of deceased could have occurred on 09.02.1992. Therefore, last seen theory is legally unsustainable in this case as law requires a strict proximity of time and place between last sighting and the death. In this case there exists significant gap which is not narrow enough to exclude the possibility of third party interference. Hence, prosecution has failed to establish its case beyond the reasonable doubt.

Accordingly, the benefit of doubt would have to be extended to the accused-appellants. Consequently, the appeal deserves to be allowed and it is, accordingly, allowed. The judgement passed by the trial Court is set aside. The appellants nos. 2 and 3 namely Anoop Singh and Ram Kumar, are acquitted of all the charges for which they have been tried.

30. The appellants are in jail. Their bail bonds are cancelled and sureties are discharged.

31. Criminal appeal qua appellant no.2, Anoop Singh and appellant no.3, Ram Kumar, is allowed.

32. Let a copy of the judgment and order alongwith trial court record be sent to the concerned Chief Judicial Magistrate/Trial Court for compliance.

33. Sri Chetan Chatterjee, Advocate is entitled to his professional fee of Rs.15,000/- for appearing as Amicus Curiae to argue this appeal.

(2026) 2 ILRA 1136
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 26.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SALIL KUMAR RAI, J.
THE HON'BLE VINAI KUMAR DWIVEDI, J.

Criminal Appeal No. 7953 of 2022

Puneet ...Appellant
Versus
State of U.P. ...Respondent

Issue for consideration

Matter pertains to unreliable prosecution evidence in case u/s 302 IPC.

Headnotes

Indian Penal Code-Section 302/34; Arms Act-Sections 25/27 - Written report lodged against an unknown person - prosecution witnesses did not name or implicate the accused-appellant in their statements recorded u/s 161 Cr.P.C. - prosecution witnesses gave improved and changed evidence - evidence of the prosecution witnesses is wholly unreliable - alleged recovery of the so-called murder weapon is highly doubtful and suspicious - disputed bullet was fired from a 7.62×25 mm pistol and not from the disputed country-made pistol - no direct or circumstantial evidence against the accused-appellant, statement recorded under Section 313 Cr.P.C. is completely blank - judgment and order of conviction and sentence are not sustainable in the eyes of law - Criminal Appeal allowed. (E-9)

Case Law Cited

1. Dhanna v. State of M.P.; (1996) 10 SCC 79
2. Munesh v. State of U.P.; 2004 CRI.L.J. 1529

List of Acts

1. Indian Penal Code
2. Arms Act
3. Code of Criminal Procedure

List of Keywords

Unknown person; Section 161 Cr.P.C.; improved and changed evidence; wholly unreliable; doubtful and suspicious; no direct or circumstantial evidence; Section 313 Cr.P.C. completely blank; not sustainable in the eyes of law.

Appearances of parties

Counsel for Appellant(s) : Akash Dwivedi, Dinesh Kumar Sharma, Rajiv Lochan Shukla, Vinay Kumar; Counsel for Respondent(s) : G.A., Shiv Bahadur Singh, Sunil Kumar Singh.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Vinai Kumar Dwivedi, J.)

1. This criminal appeal has been preferred by the accused-appellant, Puneet, against the judgment and order dated 29.08.2022 passed by the learned Special Judge (SC/ST Act), Gautam Buddha Nagar, whereby the appellant was convicted and sentenced in Sessions Trial No. 536 of 2019 (State of U.P. v. Puneet), arising out of Case Crime No. 1025 of 2018, under Section 302/34 IPC, Police Station Dadri, District Gautam Buddha Nagar, and in Sessions Trial No. 537 of 2019 (State of U.P. v. Puneet), arising out of Case Crime No. 374 of 2019, under Sections 25/27 of the Arms Act, Police Station Dadri, District Gautam Buddha Nagar.

2. By the impugned judgment and order, the learned Special Judge (SC/ST Act), Gautam Buddha Nagar, convicted the appellant under Section 302/34 IPC and sentenced him to imprisonment for life with a fine of Rs.10,000/-, and in default of payment of fine, to undergo one month's additional imprisonment. Appellant was also convicted under Sections 25/27 of the Arms Act and sentenced to three years' rigorous imprisonment with a fine of Rs.5,000/-, and in default of payment of fine, to undergo fifteen days' additional imprisonment. Aggrieved by the said judgment and order of conviction and sentence dated 29.08.2022, the appellant has preferred the present criminal appeal before this Court.

3. According to the prosecution case, it is alleged that the informant, Mahesh Bhati, a resident of Village Luharli, stated that on 27.11.2018 his son, Mohit Bhati, aged about 25 years, was returning home from the Greater Noida Development Authority. At about 7:00 p.m., near Village Vasantpur (Naya Gaon), Mohit was shot by unknown persons, as a result of which he died. It is further alleged that the deceased's car bearing registration no. UP16 BE-7011 was found parked at the place of occurrence. Information regarding the incident was conveyed to the informant's younger son by unknown person. The injured Mohit Bhati was taken to Naveen Hospital, where he was declared dead by the attending doctors.

4. On the basis of a written report dated 27.11.2018 (Exhibit Ka-1) submitted by the informant, Mahesh Bhati (PW-1), a First Information Report dated 27.11.2018 (Exhibit Ka-4) was registered as Case Crime No. 1025 of 2018, under Section 302 IPC at Police Station Dadri, District Gautam Buddha Nagar, against an unknown person.

5. Investigating Officer, Ramsen Singh (PW-9) took charge of the investigation. He inspected the place of occurrence, collected blood-stained soil and simple soil from the place of occurrence, and prepared a recovery memo. He also prepared Supurdginama (handing over) (Exhibit Ka-2) of a car that was parked at the place of occurrence, to Sumit Bhati, son of the informant, Mahesh Bhati (PW-1) and brother of the deceased, Mohit Bhati. Investigating Officer, Ramsen Singh (PW-9), got the inquest report (Panchayatnama) as well as other police papers, such as, challannash, letter to CMO, and other necessary documents, prepared by Sub Inspector, Braj Singh Yadav (PW-8). After preparing the necessary documents, the dead body of the deceased Mohit Bhati, was sent for postmortem.

6. Investigating Officer, Ramsen Singh (PW-9) prepared a site plan (Exhibit Ka-11) of the place of occurrence. He recorded statements of witnesses under Section 161 CrPC. Thereafter, the First Investigating Officer, Ramsen Singh (PW-9) was transferred and investigation of the case was taken up by Inspector, Niraj Malik (PW-10). The Second Investigating Officer, Niraj Malik (PW-10) also recorded statements of witnesses under Section 161 CrPC.

7. Second Investigating Officer, Niraj Malik (PW-10), arrested accused-appellant, Puneet on 31.03.2019 and recovered one country-made pistol of 32 bore along with two live cartridges of 32 bore and one Swift car of white colour bearing Registration No. UP16 CA-1156, and prepared Fardbaramadgi'(Exhibit Ka-13). On the basis of recovery of country-made pistol of 32 bore along with two live cartridges of 32 bore, another case was registered against accused-appellant, Puneet as Case Crime No. 374 of 2019, under Sections 25/27 Arms Act, Police Station Dadri, District Gautam Buddha Nagar.

8. A bullet bearing size of 1.5 x 0.9 cm, was recovered from the body of the deceased, Mohit Bhati. The recovered bullet and country-made pistol of 32 bore along with two live cartridges of 32 bore, were sent to Forensic Science Laboratory, Uttar Pradesh, Agra for examination. After completing the necessary formalities of investigation, Second Investigating Officer, Niraj Malik (PW-10), submitted a charge sheet (Exhibit Ka-12) against accused-appellant, Puneet under Section 302 IPC.

9. Sub Inspector, Mahendra Singh (PW-11), investigated the Case Crime No. 374 of 2019, under Section 25/27 Arms Act. Investigating Officer, Mahendra Singh (PW-11), after completing all necessary formalities, including recording of evidence of prosecution witnesses under Section 161 CrPC, prepared a site plan of the place, where accused-appellant, Puneet was arrested with country-made pistol of 32 bore and two live cartridges of 32 bore. After completing all formalities, PW-11 submitted a charge sheet (Exhibit Ka-15), against accused-appellant, Puneet under Section 25/27 Arms Act.

10. Dr. Lalit Kumar Singh (PW-6), conducted autopsy of the deceased Mohit Bhati on 28.11.2018 and prepared postmortem report (Exhibit Ka-3). According to the postmortem report, the following injuries were found on the body of the deceased:

"Entry Wound

(i) Entry wound size 1 x 1 cm' x brain deep, pass through arm left side back of skull, 5 cm behind left ear. Blackening, tattooing, singeing of 3 x 3 cm in sizes around the wound (margin round) edges inverted.

(ii) Entry puncture wound size 1 x 1 cm x cavity deep over left side (sternal region) chest, 9 cm from left nipple at 10 o'clock position, margin round and edges inverted. Blackening, tattooing,'singing'3 x 3 cm of are on size, surrounding.

(iii) Entry wound size 1 x 1 cm x cavity deep, over left side front of chest, 6 cm above and medial to left axilla. Margins wound & punctured, edges inverted. Tattooing, Blackening and singing of area surrounding size 2 x 2 cm.

Exit Wound

(i) Exit wound of this wound that over Right side face, 2 cm below Right eye. Size 2 x 2 in size, margins are everted.

(ii) Exit wound size 2 x 2 cm over left side back of chest, 26 cm below C7 Vertebra margins everted.

(iii) Exit wound size 2 x 2 over left side back of chest, at the level of axilla, 7cm x 7cm medial and above (away) from left Axilla. One bullet stucked in the exit wound.'

11. Since, the case was exclusively triable by the Court of Session, the learned Magistrate committed the case to the Sessions Court for trial.

12. The learned Trial Court framed charges against the accused-appellant on 30.09.2021 under Section 302/34 IPC. The accused-appellant denied the charges and claimed trial.

13. From a perusal of the record of the learned Trial Court, it is apparent that in the light of the order passed by the learned Trial Court on 11.12.2019, accused Gaurav was declared juvenile and his file was separated and sent to Juvenile Justice Board, Gautam Buddha Nagar for trial.

14. The prosecution, in support of its case, adduced twelve witnesses, such as, the informant Mahesh Bhati (PW-1), Chandrahas (PW-2), Sumit Bhati (PW-3), Krishna (PW-4), Amit (PW-5), Dr. Lalit Kumar Singh (PW-6), Murari Lal (PW-7), Braj Singh Yadav (PW-8), Ramsen Singh (PW-9), Niraj Malik (PW-10), Mahendra Singh (PW-11), Sahil Kumar (PW-12). Apart from the oral evidence, the prosecution also relied upon the documentary evidence, marked as Exhibit Ka-1 to Exhibit Ka-15.

15. After recording the evidence of all the prosecution witnesses, the learned Trial Court fixed 21.04.2022 for recording the statement of the accused-appellant, Puneet under Section 313 of the CrPC.'However, on perusal of the record, it is clear that questions numbered 1 to 18 were typed and prepared in advance, leaving blank space below each question for recording the answers. These questions for recording the statement of the accused-appellant, Puneet, under Section 313 CrPC were prepared in six pages bearing paper numbers 21Ka/1 to 21Ka/3. From a perusal of the statement recorded under Section 313 CrPC, it is evident that only the personal details of the accused, namely his name, age, father's name, profession and address, were filled in. Further, in paper numbers 21Ka/1 to 21Ka/3, no answer of the accused was recorded, and the columns meant for answers to question numbers 1 to 18 are completely blank. Only the signature of the accused-appellant appears on each page, along with the initials of the then Presiding Officer, Special Judge, SC/ST Act, Gautam Buddha Nagar, and a full signature on the last page dated 21.04.2022. Thus, it is apparent that although the questions under Section 313 CrPC were prepared, the answers of the accused-appellant were not recorded by the learned Presiding Officer.

16. The accused-appellant has not adduced any evidence in his defence. The learned Trial Court, after hearing arguments from both the parties, appreciated and evaluated the evidence on record and found the appellant guilty under Section 302/34 IPC and Section 25/27 Arms Act. The Trial Court convicted and sentenced the appellant to life imprisonment under Section 302/34 IPC with a fine of Rs.25,000/-, and in default, one month additional imprisonment. The Trial Court also convicted the appellant to three years imprisonment under Section 25/27 Arms Act along with a fine of Rs.5,000/-, and in default, fifteen days additional imprisonment. Both sentences were ordered to run concurrently. Aggrieved by the judgment and order of conviction and sentence dated 29.08.2022, the accused-appellant preferred this criminal appeal before this Court.

17. Learned counsel for the accused-appellant has submitted that the impugned conviction order passed by the learned Trial Court is based on surmises and conjectures. The prosecution has failed to prove its case against the accused-appellant beyond a reasonable doubt. The learned Trial Court has absolutely misread and misinterpreted the evidence and wrongly recorded finding of conviction against the accused-appellant. There are a lot of major and material contradictions in the statements of prosecution witnesses but the learned Trial Court has not given any heed/attention towards these major and material contradictions. There is no direct or indirect evidence against the accused-appellant. The sentence and conviction recorded by the learned Trial Court is absolutely perverse and deserve to be set aside. The appellant was not involved in the incident. The alleged recovery shown by the prosecution is false and planted one. The appellant is innocent and has been falsely implicated in the present case due to village politics and election rivalry. The learned Trial Court wrongly appreciated evidence against the accused-appellant.'

18. It is also submitted by learned counsel for the accused-appellant that, from the perusal of the oral and documentary evidence, it is amply clear that the appellant was not involved in the commission of the alleged crime. However, the learned Trial Court, by misreading and mis-appreciating the prosecution evidence and also against the settled principles of law, held the accused-appellant guilty for the commission of alleged crime. In view of the above points of argument, the learned counsel for the accused-appellant submitted that the present appeal filed by the accused-appellant is liable to be allowed and the judgment and order of conviction and sentence passed by the learned Trial Court is liable to be set aside.

19. Per contra, learned A.G.A. for the State and learned counsel for the complainant have submitted that the learned Trial Court, after perusing and appreciating all the prosecution evidence, held the accused-appellant guilty for the commission of alleged crime. It is also submitted that direct evidence against the accused-appellant is available on record from the evidence of prosecution witnesses; informant Mahesh Bhati (PW-1), Chandrahas (PW-2),Sumit Bhati (PW-3), Krishna (PW-4), Amit (PW-5). The recovery of a country-made pistol of 32 bore, along with two live cartridges of 32 bore, and the report of Forensic Science Laboratory, Uttar Pradesh, Agra, prove the direct involvement of the appellant in the present case beyond reasonable doubt. A bullet recovered from the deceased Mohit Bhati's body during autopsy was found to be fired from the same country-made pistol, which was recovered from the possession of the accused-appellant, Puneet. It is also submitted that there was previous enmity and rivalry between the prosecution and defence sides.

20. Due to the previous enmity and village rivalry, the deceased was murdered by the accused-appellant, Puneet with foolproof planning. The learned Trial Court has rightly appreciated the evidence and applied all relevant laws, thereby holding the appellant guilty for the commission of alleged offence. Consequently, the criminal appeal filed by the accused-appellant is devoid of merit and lacks force and is, therefore, liable to be dismissed.

21. In the light of the above arguments and counter-arguments of both the sides, we have gone through the entire evidence available on record. We have also perused the judgment and order of conviction and sentence dated 29.08.2022 passed by the learned Special Judge (SC/ST Act), Gautam Buddha Nagar.

22. A perusal of the written report dated 27.11.2018 (Exhibit Ka-1) reveals that the deceased, Mohit Bhati, son of informant Mahesh Bhati (PW-1), was returning home from Greater Noida Development Authority on 27.11.2018. At about 7:00 p.m., near Village Vasantpur (Naya Gaon), Mohit was shot by unknown persons, as a result of which, he died. From a perusal of the written report (Exhibit Ka-1), it is also revealed that the car of the deceased, bearing registration no. UP16 BE-7711, was found lying/parked at the place of occurrence. The written report further indicates that information about the murder was given to the informant's younger son, Sumit Bhati by an unknown person. The injured Mohit Bhati was taken to Naveen Hospital, where he was declared dead by the attending doctors. Thus, from a perusal of the written report (Exhibit Ka-1) filed by the informant Mahesh Bhati (PW-1) after the alleged incident, it is clearly established that the informant has lodged the report against unknown persons. No one is named as an accused in the written report. The information about the murder of his son Mohit Bhati was received by the informant through his younger son, who had received it from some other person.

23. In his examination-in-chief, informant Mahesh Bhati (PW-1) has stated that "The incident occurred on 27.11.2018. The incident took place at 7:00 PM. The incident occurred near Naya Gaon, Vasantpur. I was informed about the incident by my son, Sumit. My son had a Kwid car, the number of which was UP16 BE-7011. I did not reach the place of the incident. Mohit was taken to the Naveen Hospital at Dadri by my younger son and his friend. Upon receiving the information, I reached Naveen Hospital, Dadri. I saw my son, Mohit, at the hospital. My son Mohit had been shot in the temple (side of the head) and the chest. I had a written report (Tehrir) prepared by Mahipal Bhati and I signed it. The witness identified the signatures on the complaint paper (Paper No. 4A/3). Paper No. 4A/3 was marked as Exhibit Ka-1. The police questioned me and recorded my statement twice. My brother, Umesh, also told me that he had gone to Ajayabpur to bring some goods. While returning with the goods, he saw that Mohit's vehicle was parked ahead at the turn of Naya Gaon, and Puneet's vehicle was parked behind it. Puneet was sitting in the steering seat (driver's seat), and Mohit was sitting next to him, while other people were sitting in the back of the car. Alcohol was being consumed in the vehicle. As soon as he walked ten steps ahead, he heard the sound of a gunshot. When he looked back, Puneet had shot Mohit. He had reported this matter to the police."

24. In his cross-examination, the informant Mahesh Bhati (PW-1) has stated that many people from the village went to the police station to file the report, but Chandrahas did not go the police station. He further stated that "I did not give this statement to the police that 'unknown people shot and injured him.' If the aforementioned point is written in my statement, then I cannot explain the reason for it; that the police were in collusion with the accused, because the BJP MLA of the Dadri area is the maternal uncle of the accused, Puneet."

25. In his cross-examination, the informant, Mahesh Bhati (PW-1) further stated that I had given Puneet's name in writing in the FIR, but the police did not make him an accused. I had told the police in my statement that "I had filed a report against Puneet and his brothers regarding this murder, but due to pressure of the MLA, the police did not register the report. If police have not recorded the said fact in my statement, I cannot give any reason for it. I had given this statement to the police that 'my brother Umesh told me that ..... shot Mohit."If the police have not recorded this in my statement, I cannot give any reason for it. Because the police were under pressure."

26. In the light of the evidence as deposed by the informant, Mahesh Bhati (PW-1), it is necessary to peruse the evidence of First Investigating Officer, Ramsen Singh (PW-9). From a perusal of evidence of Ramsen Singh (PW-9), it is revealed that on 15.12.2018, statements of Mahesh Bhati, Chandrahas, Beg Raj, Subhash Nagar, Satish Bhati and Jaiveer Singh were recorded by PW-9. During his cross examination, this witness has stated that "After recording the statement of witness Sumit, son of Mahesh, it came to my knowledge that 'Sumit had received information regarding Mohit's murder through a Brahmin (Pandit) and a Gurjar boy.' No effort was made by me to search for the aforementioned Pandit and Gurjar boy who provided that information."

27. In his cross-examination, First Investigating Officer, Ramsen Singh (PW-9) further stated that "I recorded the statements of the informant Mahesh and witness Chandrahas, son of Rampal, on 15.12.2018. I have not recorded any reason in the case diary for not recording the statement of Chandrahas, son of Rampal, prior to 15.12.2018. I have not recorded any reason for not recording the statement of the informant Mahesh prior to 29.11.2018. On 08.01.2019, I recorded the statements of witnesses Krishna, son of Chandrahas, and Amit, son of Rajendra. Their statements were not recorded before 08.01.2019 because no information had been received about them; said himself that their statements were recorded once their details surfaced.'After recording the statement of witness Krishna, son of Chandrahas, on 08.01.2019, I came to know that Puneet had threatened Mahesh at the police station on 30.03.2018. I also came to know about the aforementioned threat from the statement of Amit, son of Rajendra. It is correct that the matter regarding Puneet threatening Mahesh, is not present in any police station records. Witness Chandrahas, son of Rampal, gave me this statement that; Sahab, on the date 27.11.2018, someone shot and killed Mohit, son of Mahesh, from the village. Upon hearing this, I also went to Naveen Hospital, Dadri, where the body was kept. I had gone to the police station with Mahesh to file the report." Further, in his cross-examination, the First Investigating Officer, Ramsen Singh (PW-9) has stated that "The informant witness Mahesh gave me this statement that at around 7:00 pm unknown people shot and injured him."

28. Thus, from a perusal of the evidence of informant Mahesh Bhati (PW-1) and First Investigating Officer, Ramsen Singh (PW-9), it is evident that Mahesh Bhati is not an eyewitness to the alleged incident. The incident was not witnessed by informant Mahesh Bhati (PW-1). The information about the alleged incident was given to PW-1 by his younger son, Sumit Bhati. According to PW-1, a'Pandit and a Gurjar boy had given information about the incident to Sumit. PW-1; after receiving the information about the incident did not go to the place of occurrence. PW-1 went to Naveen Hospital, Dadri, where dead boy of his deceased son, Mohit was kept. The written report (Exhibit Ka-1) was lodged by PW-1 against unknown person, however, in the course of recording his evidence, PW-1 stated against accused-appellant projecting a new theory that his brother, Umesh Bhati had told to him that he had heard and seen the noise of the firing and shooting by accused-appellant Puneet at Mohit Bhati.

29. From the evidence as given by this witness, in his evidence, it appears that in his statement recorded under Section 161 Cr.P.C. given to the Investigating Officer, this witness has not named any person as an accused person. This witness has not named or expressed any doubt against accused-appellant, Puneet in his statement recorded under Section 161 Cr.P.C. given to the Investigating Officer. But during the time of recording of his evidence in the Court, this witness deposed that statement, which was not given by this witness to the Investigating Officer in his statement recorded under Section 161 Cr.P.C.

30. From a perusal of the evidence of PW-1, it is clear that this witness had deliberately improved and changed his statement in the Court and given a new statement in the Court whereby he tried to implicate the accused-appellant, Puneet for the commission of alleged crime. Apart from this, from the reference of the evidence of first Investigating Officer, Ramsen Singh (PW-9), this fact is fully corroborated that this witness has changed his statement in the Court against his statement given to the Investigating Officer under Section 161 Cr.P.C. In this way, this witness tried hard to project a new prosecution story implicating accused-appellant, Puneet in this case. However, from a perusal of the overall evidence of this witness in the light of the evidence of First Investigating Officer, Ramsen Singh (PW-9), it is clear that this witness has stated false and concocted facts. From the evidence of this witness, it is amply clear that major and material contradictions are present in the evidence of this witness, which is against the prosecution story. Thus, we find that there is no relevancy and veracity in the evidence of this witness. Evidence of this witness is totally unreliable and untrustworthy of credit.

31. Prosecution adduced Chandrahas as PW-2. This witness in his examination-in-chief has stated that "The incident have occurred at around 6:00 to 6:30 PM. It had become dark. I was returning from my aunt's village, Dadupur. A boy had dropped me off at Ajayabpur station on a motorcycle. From there, I started walking toward my village. I saw two cars parked on the road. Mohit and Puneet were sitting in one of the cars. Puneet was on the driver's side, and Mohit was on the passenger (conductor) side. I did not speak to them. I had only walked about 10-20 steps toward the village when I heard the sound of gunfire. When I turned around and looked, Puneet had shot Mohit twice. Out of fear, I ran toward the village. Before I reached the village, there was already a commotion/noise. I do not know which car left, but Puneet's car had gone. After the chaos broke out in the village, I did not go to Mahesh's house to tell him about the incident. I went to the police station and also to the mortuary. The inquest report (panchayatnama) was filled out in my presence. I saw Mohit's body. Mohit had two bullet wounds in his chest and one in his neck.'On that day, I did not have any conversation with Mahesh because he was unconscious. I had told the police everything regarding the said incident. The police were under the pressure of the M.L.A."

32. In his cross-examination, Chandrahas (PW-2) has stated that "Before the incident with Mohit, I was in service. When I was in service, I did not keep a phone. I am aware that murder is a crime. Regarding the incident that happened with Mohit, I did not make any phone calls anywhere. I did not make any phone calls to either mine or Mahesh's relatives in connection with this incident, and I personally stated that I do not know how to use a phone. I did not tell the police about the fact that I do not know how to make calls, nor did the police ask me about it. I cannot state any reason for this matter not being told. After the incident with Mohit, I remained in my village at home for four and half months. During those four and half months, the police visited the village several times in connection with Mohit's murder. It is wrong to say that after four and half months, I was not ready to testify against Puneet in connection with Mohit's murder. He then himself said that he had informed the police and Mahesh about the incident after it occurred. I went to Dadri Police Station with Mahesh to file the report. Mahesh wrote the report at the station itself. Mahesh dictated the report and the writer wrote it. It is wrong to say that Mahesh was not unconscious at the time of filing the report. I was also a witness (Panch) in the written documentation of the inquest (Panchayatnama) of Mohit's body. Besides me, there were many other witnesses (Panchs). The police did not take any opinion from us witnesses (Panchs). I had told the police everything about the incident at the time of the Panchayatnama of the body. If the police have not written the things told by me in the inquest report (Panchayatnama) regarding Mohit's murder, then I cannot state any reason for it. The police recorded my statement at the police station the day after the incident and then again questioned me later. The second questioning was done 2-3 months after the incident. It is wrong to say that Puneet was falsely implicated in the murder of Mohit with due consideration and planning after four months after the incident due to village politics and election rivalry."

33. During the cross-examination of PW-2, a question was put to him by the defence suggesting that in his first statement given to the police he had stated that on 27.11.2018, Mohit, son of Mahesh, a resident of the village, was shot dead by someone and upon hearing this, he went to Naveen Hospital, Dadri, where the dead body was kept. He had accompanied Mahesh to the police station for lodging the First Information Report. In reply, PW-2 stated that the said facts did not form part of his statement and that he had not given any such statement to the police. He further stated that if the police had recorded such facts in his statement, he could not assign any reason for the same. PW-2 further denied having stated in his second statement dated 16.04.2019 that, after proceeding 50-60 steps forward, he heard the sound of 3-4 gunshots. He also denied having stated that on reaching home he came to know that Mohit had been shot and was taken to Naveen Hospital, Dadri. He reiterated that if these facts were recorded by the police in his statement, he could not explain the reason for the same.

34. In the light of the above evidence as given by Chandrahas (PW-2), it is judicious to peruse the evidence of the Investigating Officer so that it could be clear that whether this witness is stating true facts about the incident in the Court during his evidence or not.

35. First Investigating Officer, Ramsen Singh (PW-9) has deposed in his cross-examination that "I had recorded the statements of the informant Mahesh and witness Chandrahas, son of Rampal, on 15.12.2018. I have not recorded any reason in the case diary for not recording the statement of Chandrahas, son of Rampal, prior to 15.12.2018."

36. Second Investigating Officer, Niraj Malik (PW-10) has stated in his cross examination that "Witness Chandrahas had given me this statement that when he reached about 50-60 yards ahead, the sound of three or four fires was heard. Witness Chandrahas had also given the statement that upon reaching home, it came to his knowledge that Mohit had been shot and he had been taken to Naveen Hospital. Witness Chandrahas did not tell me in his statement that when he turned back, Puneet fired two bullets at Mohit. Witness Chandrahas did not give me a statement saying that Puneet was on the driver's side and Mohit was on the conductor's side of the vehicle. Instead, he stated that apart from Puneet, Mohit was sitting in the vehicle and Gaurav, the son of Rajendra's brother-in-law, was sitting in the back seat. Witness Chandrahas did not give me the statement that I had any conversation with them or not. Witness Chandrahas also did not give me the statement that he ran toward the village due to fear. Instead, he stated that he went straight to the village. Witness Chandrahas also did not give me a statement that there was noise and commotion in the village before he arrived. Instead, he gave a statement that by the time he reached the village, it became known that Mohit had been shot dead. Witness Chandrahas also has not given the statement that after the stampede broke out in the village, he did not go to Mahesh's house and inform him about the said incident. Instead, he had given the statement that he had not told anyone because of fear."'

37. In this way, from a perusal of the evidence of the prosecution witnesses and the First Investigating Officer, Ramsen Singh (PW-9), and also the Second Investigating Officer, Niraj Malik (PW-10), it is revealed that Chandrahas (PW-2) was projected by the prosecution as an eyewitness to the incident. However, from the evidence of Chandrahas (PW-2), it is clear that although in his examination-in-chief, PW-2 tried to depose himself in a way that he is an eyewitness to the alleged incident, but during his cross-examination by the defence, from the answers of this witness, it is revealed that PW-2 is stating a totally false and concocted story in the Court. This witness stated in his evidence a totally different and changed statement in the Court, which this witness had not stated before the Investigating Officer of the case in his statement recorded under Section 161 Cr.P.C.

38. This witness totally changed his statement at the time of recording of his evidence in the Court. What has been given and stated by this witness before the Investigating Officers of the case under Section 161 Cr.P.C. and in the Court in his evidence, it show that, in the evidence of this witness, material and major contradictions are present. This witness stated in the Court a totally false, fabricated, and afterthought prosecution story, thereby falsely implicating the accused-appellant in the alleged crime in this case. The falsity of this witness, that this witness has been stating wrong and false facts in the Court, is now clear and proved by the evidence of the Investigating Officers in this case.

39. In view of the above discussion and appreciation of the evidence of this witness, we are legally unable to accept the evidence of this witness as true and reliable. In other words, the evidence of this witness is highly doubtful and suspicious. After the alleged incident, the prosecution tried to project this witness as an eyewitness, but from a perusal of the evidence of this witness, it is amply clear that the prosecution miserably failed in its attempt, therefore, the evidence of Chandrahas (PW-2) is fully unreliable and unworthy of credit.

40. Sumit Bhati was also produced by the prosecution as PW-3. This witness is the younger brother of deceased Mohit Bhati. PW-3 in his evidence has stated that "I received information about the incident at around 7:15 PM from two boys of the village. They told me that vehicle no. 7011 is parked on the road near the field and my brother has been shot and is lying dead in the field. I had went out for the place of incident on my bike with Pradeep, a boy from my neighborhood. On the way, I called Pradeep's father from Pradeep's phone.'My brother was lying dead straight in the field, his feet were towards the field and his head was towards the road. Among the boys, I mentioned as informants, one was a Pandit and other was a Gurjar. Both these boys were from our village."

41. Thus, from a perusal of the evidence of Sumit Bhati (PW-3), it is revealed that this witness is also not an eyewitness to the alleged incident. At the time of the incident, this witness was not present at the place of occurrence. This witness received information about the murder of his brother, Mohit Bhati, from two boys of the village, among whom one was a Pandit and the other was a Gurjar. After receiving information about the murder of his brother, Mohit Bhati, this witness, along with one Pradeep of his village, reached the place of the incident, and the dead body of his brother, Mohit Bhati, was taken to Naveen Hospital, Dadri, where he was declared dead by the attending doctor. Therefore, from the evidence of this witness, it is amply clear that this witness is not an eyewitness to the alleged incident. After the incident, this witness reached at the place of occurrence. From the evidence of this witness, we found no relevant fact by which the accused-appellant could be connected with the alleged crime.

42. The prosecution also produced Krishna as PW-4, who is the son of Chandrahas (PW-2). From a perusal of his evidence, it appears that in 2018, during a game of Kabaddi, a quarrel took place between him, Deepak, and Puneet. According to this witness, reports were lodged from both sides at the concerned police station, and both parties went to jail.'He further stated that the accused, Puneet, threatened Mahesh Bhati'at the Dadri Police Station, saying that you are supporting the other side and I would take revenge after returning from jail. However, it is clear from the evidence that neither this witness nor Mahesh Bhati made any complaint whether written or oral, at the Dadri Police Station.

43. From the evidence of this witness, it is revealed that the prosecution, with a considered and afterthought approach, tried to narrate the fact of previous enmity with the accused-appellant through this witness. It is amply clear that the prosecution attempted to project this witness to establish a motive and fact of enmity so that its story could gain force. However, from a perusal of the evidence, we find no reliability or truthfulness in the statement of this witness. In view of the above, the evidence of this witness is not such that it could lend any support to the prosecution's story. Therefore, the statement and evidence of this witness are neither reliable nor trustworthy.

44. In the same manner as stated by Krishna (PW-4), prosecution witness Amit (PW-5) also narrated the fact of previous enmity, which had been mentioned by Krishna (PW-4). In his evidence, this witness stated that the quarrel occurred during a game of Kabaddi, and first information reports were lodged from both sides under Section 307 IPC, with the informant Mahesh Bhati supporting Krishna (PW-4) and Amit (PW-5). Due to this, Puneet threatened Mahesh Bhati, stating that he would suffer and that he would take revenge after returning from jail. According to this witness, when Puneet threatened Mahesh Bhati, a written complaint was lodged by him at the police station. However, in his cross-examination, he stated that he had received no receipt of the written complaint, kept no copy, and had no explanation for the absence of the complaint in the police records. He also stated that if the police had not recorded this fact in his statement, he could not provide any reason for it.

45. Thus, from a perusal of the evidence of Amit (PW-5), it is amply clear that the prosecution, after due consideration and deliberation, tried to project this witness in Court to introduce the fact of previous enmity and the quarrel between the parties in order to give force to the prosecution's story. However, from the overall evidence of Amit (PW-5), it is evident that he is narrating a fabricated, false, and concocted story in Court. For this reason, the evidence of this witness is fully unreliable and unworthy of credit.

46. From a perusal of the evidence of Head Constable, Murari Lal (PW-7), who registered the first information report (Exhibit Ka-4) on filing of the written report (Exhibit Ka-1) by the informant, Mahesh Bhati (PW-1), has deposed in his evidence that Vegraj, son of Chahtaram, Subhash Nagar, son of Surendra and Chandrahas, son of Ramphal, all residents of Village Luharli, P.S. Dadri, District Gautam Buddha Nagar, had come with the informant Mahesh Bhati (PW-1) to lodge the report. These three people who came with the informant Mahesh did not give me any statement regarding the murder of the deceased Mohit Bhati.

47. Prosecution witness S.I. Braj Singh Yadav (PW-8), who prepared the Panchayatnama of the dead body of deceased Mohit Bhati, has stated in his evidence during cross-examination that witness Chandrahas, a Panch, had not given any statement to him regarding the murder of Mohit.

48. Thus, from a perusal of the overall evidence of the prosecution witnesses, such as, the informant Mahesh Bhati (PW-1), Chandrahas (PW-2), Sumit Bhati (PW-3), Krishna (PW-4), and Amit (PW-5), who are witnesses of fact as discussed above, and also from a perusal of the police witnesses, such as, Murari Lal (PW-7), S.I. Braj Singh Yadav (PW-8), First Investigating Officer Inspector Ramsen Singh (PW-9), and Second Investigating Officer Inspector Niraj Malik (PW-10), it is amply clear that the written report (Exhibit Ka-1) was lodged by the informant Mahesh Bhati (PW-1) at Police Station Dadri against an unknown person.

49. The prosecution witnesses, such as, PW-1, PW-2, PW-3, PW-4, and PW-5, have not named or implicated the accused-appellant, Puneet, in the alleged crime in their statements recorded under Section 161 Cr.P.C. before the Investigating Officer. Even in their statements recorded under Section 161 Cr.P.C. before the Investigating Officer, these prosecution witnesses have not expressed or indicated any suspicion or doubt against the accused-appellant, Puneet, and also have not expressed any kind of enmity with the accused-appellant, Puneet. However, at the time of recording of their evidence in the Court, all the above prosecution witnesses, namely, PW-1, PW-2, PW-3, PW-4, and PW-5, totally changed their statements from those given before the Investigating Officer under Section 161 Cr.P.C. In the Court, during the recording of their evidence, all the above prosecution witnesses of fact, in a totally different manner, drastically changed their statements and have given improved and changed evidence before the Court by retracting from their statements as given before the Investigating Officer under Section 161 Cr.P.C. These above prosecution witnesses, in their statements before the Court, gave totally changed statements and, contrary to the settled principles of law, falsely implicated the accused-appellant, Puneet, for the commission of the alleged crime.'

50. Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Dhanna v. State of M.P.; (1996) 10 SCC 79 has held in para-12 that:

"The trial court which relied on the evidence of Nanuram (PW-6) pointed out that the witness did not refer to any role played by Dhanna when he gave statement to the police during investigation and hence a conviction for the offence of murder cannot be passed against Dhanna on the strength of improvement made at the trial. The said sound reasoning should not have been sidelined by the High Court without providing sufficient and convincing reasons. None has been given. We have scrutinized the evidence and we too are satisfied that PW-6 Nanuram has, in fact, omitted to mention anything about Dhanna when PW-6 was questioned by police and has later on tried to give an improved version."

51. Similarly, a Division Bench of this Court in the case of Munesh v. State of U.P.; 2004 CRI.L.J. 1529 has held in para-16 that:

"16. We have no reservations in observing that if witnesses do not state about the core/substratum of the prosecution case in their statements under Section 161, Cr.P.C. and when during the course of their cross examination, in the trial Court, confronted with the omission, fail to give a plausible explanation for it, as is the case with Madan Lal P.W. 2 and Suresh Chandra P.W. 3, it would be extremely hazardous to accept their testimony, for there is always the lurking fear in the mind of the Court that in order to fill the lacuna in their evidence, they have made improvements. We make no bones in observing that in Criminal cases, evidence of witnesses can only be accepted, if on the core/substratum of the prosecution case their statement in the trial Court is consistent with their statement under Section 161, Cr.P.C. and where it is not, as is the case here, the Court would have no compunction in rejecting it."

52. In the light of the law as laid down by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in'Dhanna (supra) and the Division Bench of this Court in'Munesh (supra), we find that, in the present case at hand, the prosecution witnesses, namely, the informant Mohit Bhati (PW-1), Chandrahas (PW-2), Sumit Bhati (PW-3), Krishna (PW-4), and Amit (PW-5), have completely changed and materially improved their statements from those given by them to the Investigating Officer during the course of investigation, and have narrated wholly altered and improved versions in their evidence before the Court. Thus, the testimony of all the aforesaid prosecution witnesses is not consistent with their statements recorded by the Investigating Officer during the investigation of the case. In view of the above, the evidence of the aforesaid prosecution witnesses is wholly unreliable and is liable to be rejected outright.'

53. From a perusal of the evidence of the prosecution witnesses, we further find that the prosecution witnesses subsequently attempted to develop a story of enmity against the accused-appellant, Puneet. However, the prosecution witnesses have failed to establish the said allegation, and the attempted to falsely implicate the accused-appellant in the alleged crime.

54. From a perusal of the findings and reasoning recorded by the learned Trial Court on this aspect, we find that the learned Trial Court has failed to consider the evidence in a legal manner and in the light of settled principles of law applicable to appreciation of evidence. For this reason, the findings and reasoning recorded by the learned Trial Court on this point are not sustainable in the eyes of law and, accordingly, the same are liable to be set aside and are hereby rejected.

55. From a perusal of the evidence of the First Investigating Officer, Inspector Ramsen Singh (PW-9), it is apparent that till 09.02.2019 he was unable to trace the person who had committed the alleged crime. Thereafter, PW-9 was transferred, and the investigation of the case was taken over by the Second Investigating Officer, Inspector Niraj Malik (PW-10). From a perusal of the evidence of the second Investigating Officer (PW-10), it is evident that after a lapse of about four months from the alleged incident, the statement of one Umesh was recorded under Section 161 Cr.P.C. on 22.03.2019, and for the first time the name of the accused-appellant, Puneet, surfaced on the basis of the said statement. Subsequently, after about four months from the date of the incident, the accused-appellant, Puneet was arrested by PW-10 on 31.03.2019.

56. It is also revealed that on the basis of information provided by a police informer (mukhbir), so-called murder weapon i.e. a country-made pistol of 32 bore along with two live cartridges of 32 bore, was recovered from the possession of the accused-appellant. The recovery memo (Exhibit Ka-13) reveals that although the accused-appellant is shown to have been arrested on 31.03.2019, the recovery memo was prepared on 01.04.2019, as is evident from the signature of PW-10 dated 01.04.2019.

57. On the basis of the said recovery memo (Exhibit Ka-13), a separate case was registered against the accused-appellant as Case Crime No. 374 of 2019, under Sections 25/27 of the Arms Act at Police Station Dadri, District Gautam Buddha Nagar. Sub-Inspector, Mahendra Singh (PW-11), who investigated the Case Crime No. 374 of 2019, has stated in his cross-examination that no public witness was ready to be a witness to the arrest of the accused-appellant or the recovery of the country-made pistol and live cartridges. PW-11 further stated that the said place is situated at a distance of about 1.5 kilometres from village Luharli.

58. The absence of any public witness to support the prosecution version, clearly demonstrates that the arrest of the accused-appellant and the alleged recovery were effected without independent corroboration, despite the place of arrest and recovery being in close proximity to an inhabited area.

The arrest of the accused-appellant after about four months from the date of the alleged incident and the alleged recovery of the so-called murder weapon under such circumstances, render the prosecution case highly doubtful and suspicious.

59. In view of the aforesaid facts and circumstances, it appears that in order to work out the case and to pacify the public as well as the informant side, the police falsely arrested the accused-appellant, Puneet, and planted the alleged weapon, namely a country-made pistol of 32 bore along with two live cartridges of 32 bore, upon him. Consequently, the arrest of the accused-appellant and the alleged recovery are not free from doubt and cannot be relied upon.'

60. From the report of the Forensic Science Laboratory, Uttar Pradesh, Agra, it is further evident that the disputed bullet marked as 'EB-1', which was recovered from the dead body of the deceased, Mohit Bhati, was fired from a 7.62'25 mm pistol. It is also stated in the FSL report that cartridges of 7.62'25 mm could neither be loaded into the chamber nor fired from the disputed country-made pistol marked as '1/2021'. Thus, the prosecution story does not find support from the findings of the Forensic Science Laboratory report.

61. However, from a perusal of the findings and reasoning recorded by the learned Trial Court in paragraph-72 of the judgment and order of conviction and sentence dated 29.08.2022, it appears that the learned Trial Court relied only upon the presence of gunshot residue, i.e., nitrate, led, and copper, allegedly found on the recovered country-made pistol, and on that basis wrongly held that firing was made from disputed country made pistol (Material Exhibit-4) recovered from the possession of the accused-appellant, Puneet. This finding of the learned Trial Court is wholly contrary to the report of the Forensic Science Laboratory. Even if the findings of the Trial Court on that count are accepted, the same cannot be relied upon to convict the appellant because the recovery of the country made pistol and live cartridges, as held earlier, is suspicious and not supported by any independent witness.

62. Upon perusal of the oral as well as the documentary evidence, we find that there is no direct or circumstantial evidence against the accused-appellant, Puneet. The police failed to recover any incriminating object, article, or material from either the place of occurrence or the possession of the accused-appellant that could legally connect him to the alleged crime.

63. To hold a person guilty of a grave and heinous crime such as murder, the prosecution is duty-bound to adduce direct or indirect evidence, including circumstantial evidence or the last seen together theory, of such a nature as to connect the accused with the commission of alleged crime. It is the responsibility of the prosecution to prove its case against the accused beyond reasonable doubt.

64. However, from a perusal of all the evidence of prosecution as available on record, we find that there is no evidence against the accused-appellant by which he could be connected with the alleged crime. The learned Trial Court in a very casual and cursory manner without appreciating and analyzing prosecution evidence only on the basis of surmises and conjectures convicted appellant for heinous crime like murder. Trial Court has not appreciated and discussed evidence of prosecution in reasonable and legal manner but only on the basis of surmises and conjectures held the appellant guilty for commission of alleged crime. Trial Court recorded finding of conviction and sentence against accused-appellant in a very causal and cursory manner, is also evident from this fact that the learned Presiding Officer, who recorded so-called statement of accused-appellant, Puneet under Section 313 Cr.P.C. has not filled any answer of accused-appellant. Meaning thereby, so-called questions, which were prepared by the then Presiding Officer of the Court are totally blank, having only signature of the appellant on every page and also the initials of the Presiding Officer/Special Judge, SC/ST Act (Prevention of Atrocities Act), Gautam Buddha Nagar on every page and signature on the last page dated 21.04.2022.

65. The learned Trial Court, while delivering the judgment and order of conviction and sentence dated 29.08.2022 against the accused-appellant, Puneet, has not perused the statement of accused recorded under Section 313 Cr.P.C. and failed to consider the material fact that the statement recorded under Section 313 Cr.P.C. is completely blank, as no answers were written or recorded by the then Presiding Officer of the Court.

66. In view of the foregoing discussions, we are of the view that the judgment and order of conviction and sentence dated 29.08.2022 passed against the accused-appellant, Puneet, under Sections 302/34 IPC and Sections 25/27 of the Arms Act, are not sustainable in the eyes of law. Hence, the criminal appeal preferred by the accused-appellant deserves to be allowed, and the impugned judgment and order of conviction and sentence dated 29.08.2022 is liable to be set-aside.

67. Accordingly, the present criminal appeal is allowed. The impugned judgment and order of conviction and sentence dated 29.08.2022 passed by the learned Special Judge (SC/ST Act), Gautam Buddha Nagar, in Sessions Trial No. 536 of 2019 (State of U.P. v. Puneet), arising out of Case Crime No. 1025 of 2018, under Section 302/34 IPC, Police Station Dadri, District Gautam Buddha Nagar as well as in Sessions Trial No. 537 of 2019 (State of U.P. v. Puneet), arising out of Case Crime No. 374 of 2019, under Sections 25/27 of the Arms Act, Police Station Dadri, District Gautam Buddha Nagar, are hereby set-aside.

68. Upon perusal of record, it appears that accused-appellant, Puneet is in jail, hence, we direct to release the appellant, Puneet forthwith, provided he is not wanted in any other case.

69. The lower Court records, along with the copy of this judgment be transmitted to the Court concerned forthwith.

70. Let a copy of this judgment be forwarded to the concerned Jail Authorities for necessary compliance.

(2026) 2 ILRA 1152
REVISIONAL JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 04.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE ABDUL SHAHID, J.

Criminal Revision No. 808 of 2026

Vandana Gupta ....Revisionist
Versus
State of U.P. & Anr. ...Opposite Parties

Issues for Consideration

(i) Whether the order allowing application under Section 233(2) B.N.S.S. for joint trial, passed at a belated stage of proceedings, was legally sustainable;
(ii) Whether concealment of material facts and stage of proceedings could vitiate the order directing joint trial
.

Headnotes

Criminal Procedure — Joint trial — Section 233(2) B.N.S.S. — Stage of proceedings — Exercise of discretion:

Held: The decision to conduct joint or separate trial is a matter of judicial discretion - ordinarily ought to be taken at the initial stage of proceedings — Where the trial in one case is at the verge of conclusion and the other case has not even commenced- directing a joint trial at such belated stage- improper and not in the interest of justice. [Paras 6, 15]

Criminal Procedure — Joint trial — Prejudice and delay — Consideration:

Held: The paramount considerations for directing joint trial-whether such course would cause prejudice to the accused or result in delay or wastage of judicial time — Where substantial evidence has already been recorded-joint trial would lead to delay- such direction is liable to be set aside. [Paras 6, 8, 15]

Criminal Procedure — Suppression of material facts — Effect:

Held: Suppression of material facts-including earlier proceedings and orders relating to joint trial-vitiates the subsequent order obtained on such concealment — a litigant who does not approach the Court with clean hands -not entitled to relief. [Paras 4–5, 15]

Criminal Procedure — Trial — Conduct of parties — Delay:
Held: Conduct of parties-not taking effective steps for expeditious disposal of proceedings-including failure to pursue mediation or deposit required amounts- relevant — Where such conduct results in delay and prolongation of trial-direction for joint trial would further prejudice proceedings. [Paras 10, 15]

Criminal Procedure — Fair trial — Article 21 — Speedy trial:
Held: Right to speedy trial is an integral part of Article 21 of the Constitution — Any direction which results in undue delay in conclusion of trial- particularly when evidence is almost complete- would amount to denial of justice. [Para 8]

Criminal Procedure — Revision — Interference:

Held: In view of concealment of material facts-stage of proceedings and likelihood of delay and prejudice-the impugned order allowing joint trial -unsustainable and liable to be set aside. [Paras 15–16]

Revision allowed. (E-14)

Case Law Cited

Dalip Singh v. State of Uttar Pradesh and others*, (2010) 2 SCC 114 — relied on; Nasib Singh v. State of Punjab, (2022) 2 SCC 89 — relied on;
Mamman Khan v. State of Haryana*, 2025 INSC 1113 — relied on.

List of Acts / Statutes

Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita, 2023; Indian Penal Code, 1860; Dowry Prohibition Act, 1961; Constitution of India.

List of Keywords

Joint trial; Separate trial; Suppression of facts; Clean hands; Delay in trial; Prejudice; Speedy trial; Judicial discretion; Criminal revision.

Case Arising From

Order dated 19.01.2026 passed by Judicial Magistrate-III, Gorakhpur in Case No. 132791 of 2021 (State vs. Satish Sudarshan Gupta and others), arising out of Case Crime No. 55 of 2021.

Appearance for Parties

For the AppellantsSri Vineet Kumar Singh
For the Respondents: Sri Ranu Tiwari; Learned A.G.A.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Abdul Shahid, J.)

1. Heard learned counsel for the revisionist, Sri Ranu Tiwari, learned counsel for opposite party no. 2 and the learned A.G.A. for the State.

2. Under challenge is the impugned order dated 19.01.2026 passed by the Judicial Magistrate-Third, Gorakhpur in Case No.132791 of 2021 (State Vs. Satish Sudarshan Gupta and Others) arising out of Case Crime No.55 of 2021 under Sections 498-A, 323, 354, 504, 406 IPC and Section 3/4 of the Dowry Prohibition Act, 1961, Police Station Mahila Thana, District Gorakhpur.

3. Learned counsel for the revisionist has argued that the impugned order dated 19.01.2026 passed by the Judicial Magistrate-III, Gorakhpur is wholly arbitrary, unsustainable in law, and has been passed without due application of judicial mind and, therefore, is liable to be set aside. He further submits that the learned trial court committed a patent error of law in allowing the application moved under Section 233(2) of the B.N.S.S. without taking into consideration the material fact that opposite party no. 2 did not approach the court with clean hands while filing the application dated 14.08.2025 under Section 233(2) B.N.S.S.

4. It is next submitted that the factum of filing a previous application seeking a joint trial, as well as the passing of the order dated 01.07.2025 by the learned Chief Judicial Magistrate, Gorakhpur, in Case No. 132791 of 2021, whereby such application was dealt with, was deliberately suppressed. As a result, it is manifest that the subsequent application dated 14.08.2025 under Section 233(2) B.N.S.S. was not maintainable.

5. Learned counsel for the revisionist has relied upon the law laid down by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Dalip Singh v. State of Uttar Pradesh and Others, (2010) 2 SCC 114, wherein it has been held that a litigant who does not come to the court with clean hands is not entitled to be heard on the merits of his grievance. It is, therefore, contended that the impugned order dated 19.01.2026 stands vitiated in law on account of concealment and suppression of material facts.

6. Learned counsel for the revisionist has further relied upon the judgment of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Nasib Singh v. State of Punjab, (2022) 2 SCC 89, wherein it was held that the decision to conduct a joint or separate trial must ordinarily be taken at the outset of the proceedings and for cogent reasons. The paramount consideration in such decision-making is whether a joint trial would cause prejudice to the accused or result in delay or wastage of judicial time. It was further held that even where the conditions under Sections 219 to 223 Cr.P.C. are satisfied, ordering a joint trial remains a matter of judicial discretion.

7. It is further contended that the learned trial court failed to assess the conduct of the private opposite parties, who appear to be interested only in lingering on the outcome of the pending criminal trial arising out of the First Information Report dated 15.08.2021. It is contended that on the date of filing of the application dated 14.08.2025 under Section 233(2) B.N.S.S., only one prosecution witness remained to be examined.

8. It is next submitted that the learned trial court did not adequately consider that holding a joint trial at such a belated stage would cause serious prejudice and irreparable loss to the revisionist. It is urged that, due to the conduct of the private opposite parties, the evidence in Complaint Case No. 31475 of 2021 has not been concluded till date and, therefore, could not be read against the revisionist. Consequently, the impugned order is alleged to be violative of Article 21 of the Constitution of India, which guarantees the right to a speedy trial, and that the inordinate delay amounts to denial of justice.

9. By circumventing the order dated 26.08.2025 passed in Application under Section 528 BNSS No. 21730 of 2025, the impugned order dated 19.01.2026 came to be passed by the learned trial court, which is wholly unsustainable in law. The same has resulted in a miscarriage of justice and wastage of judicial time, particularly when substantial prosecution evidence has already been recorded in the criminal trial arising out of the First Information Report dated 15.08.2021, which is at the verge of conclusion. It is submitted that there is every likelihood of recording conviction of the opposite parties in view of the ample evidence available on record.

10. Learned trial court has also failed to consider the material fact that the mediation process, as directed by this Court in Application under Section 482 Cr.P.C. No. 10957 of 2022 vide order dated 28.07.2022 and in Application under Section 482 Cr.P.C. No. 18204 of 2023 vide order dated 23.05.2023, respectively, could not be undertaken. The said mediation did not progress due to non-deposit of the requisite amount of Rs. 30,000/- each at the instance of the private opposite parties, which indicates a lack of bona fide effort towards expeditious resolution of the dispute.

11. Learned counsel for opposite party no. 2 has contended that there is no illegality in the impugned order and that the trial of both cases ought to be conducted jointly.

12. The marriage of the revisionist was solemnized with opposite party no. 2 as per Hindu rites and customs on 08.03.2018. The FIR was lodged on 15.08.2021. After a detailed investigation, the charge sheet was filed against the accused persons. The trial in the said case is at its final stage, whereas Criminal Complaint Case No. 31475 of 2021 was filed by the revisionist against the opposite parties under Section 6 of the Dowry Prohibition Act. As per the order-sheet of Complaint Case No. 31475 of 2021, the trial therein is yet to commence.

13. It is further submitted that the opposite parties concealed the material fact before the concerned Judicial Magistrate, prior to passing of the impugned order dated 19.01.2026, that an application for transfer had been filed before the learned Chief Judicial Magistrate, Gorakhpur. The learned Chief Judicial Magistrate, Gorakhpur, vide order dated 01.07.2025, observed that at the stage of allowing the transfer application, it could not be concluded that both matters would be tried jointly and that both cases were merely transferred to a single court without any finding regarding joint trial. Thereafter, the accused persons filed the application under Section 233(2) B.N.S.S. before the Judicial Magistrate-III, Gorakhpur, on 14.08.2025, without disclosing the said order dated 01.07.2025.

14. Learned counsel for the revisionist has further relied upon the judgment of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Mamman Khan v. State of Haryana, reported in 2025 INSC 1113, wherein, in paragraph 16, it was held that the principles governing the conduct of joint or separate trials have been elaborately dealt with by the Court in Nasib Singh v. State of Punjab (supra). The relevant paragraphs have been relied upon, particularly paragraph 51.2 & 51.3 are as follows:

"While applying the principles enunciated in Sections 218-223 on conducting joint and separate trials, the trial court should apply a two-pronged test, namely, (i) whether conducting a joint/separate trial will prejudice the defence of the accused; and/or (ii) whether conducting a joint/separate trial would cause judicial delay.

The possibility of conducting a joint trial will have to be determined at the beginning of the trial and not after the trial based on the result of the trial. The appellate court may determine the validity of the argument that there ought to have been a separate/joint trial only based on whether the trial had prejudiced the right of accused or the prosecutrix."

15. In view of the above, it is evident that complete facts were not placed before the learned trial court by the opposite parties. Case No. 132791 of 2021 (State v. Satish Sudarshan Gupta and Others), arising out of Case Crime No. 55 of 2021, is at a final stage where the evidence is almost complete, whereas the complaint case is yet to commence. The opposite parties have not taken effective steps for expeditious disposal of the complaint case. Though the matter was referred to mediation, neither was the amount directed by this Court deposited nor were any effective steps taken for a speedy trial. A joint trial at this stage would further delay the proceedings and would not be in the interest of justice.

16. In view of the foregoing discussion, the impugned order dated 19.01.2026 passed by the Judicial Magistrate-III, Gorakhpur, in Case No. 132791 of 2021 (State v. Satish Sudarshan Gupta and Others), arising out of Case Crime No. 55 of 2021 under Sections 498-A, 323, 354, 504, 406

IPC and Section 3/4 of the Dowry Prohibition Act, 1961, Police Station Mahila Thana, District Gorakhpur is hereby set aside.

17. The criminal revision is allowed accordingly.

(2026) 2 ILRA 1156
REVISIONAL JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 04.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE ABDUL SHAHID, J.

Criminal Revision No. 811 of 2026

Surendra Kumar Sharma & Anr. ...Revisionists
Versus
State of U.P. & Anr. ...Opposite Parties

Issues for Consideration

(i) Whether the order summoning the revisionists under Section 319 Cr.P.C. on the basis of evidence recorded during trial was sustainable in law;
(ii) Whether vague and general allegations, in absence of strong and cogent evidence, justified exercise of power under Section 319 Cr.P.C.

Headnotes

Criminal Procedure — Section 319 Cr.P.C. — Summoning of additional accused — Nature of power:

Held: Power under Section 319 Cr.P.C.-discretionary and extraordinary- to be exercised sparingly — The Court must be satisfied-strong and cogent evidence has come on record-if unrebutted, would reasonably lead to conviction — Mere existence of prima facie case is not sufficient. [Paras 29–30]

Criminal Procedure — Section 319 Cr.P.C. — Basis of exercise — Evidence during trial:

Held: The expression "evidence" under Section 319 Cr.P.C.-refers to evidence adduced during trial- not material collected during investigation — Summoning of additional accused must be based on such evidence-degree of satisfaction required is higher than that at the stage of framing of charge. [Paras 24–25]

Criminal Procedure — Summoning — Vague and general allegations — Insufficiency:

Held: Where allegations against proposed accused-general and vague- without specific role or overt act-such evidence does not satisfy the threshold required for invoking Section 319 Cr.P.C. — Mere repetition of allegations without substantive corroboration is insufficient. [Paras 25, 34]

Criminal Procedure — Matrimonial offence — Over-implication of relatives:

Held: In cases arising out of matrimonial disputes- tendency to implicate entire family — In absence of specific allegations and credible evidence-summoning relatives of principal accused- abuse of process of law. [Paras 26–28]

Criminal Procedure — Effect of investigation — Exoneration:

Held: Where during investigation no material was found against the revisionists-they were exonerated- not charge-sheeted-no new strong evidence emerges during trial-summoning under Section 319 Cr.P.C. is unwarranted. [Paras 32–34]

Criminal Procedure — Stage of trial — Belated application:

Held: Filing of application under Section 319 Cr.P.C. at a stage -when trial is near conclusion- based on same set of evidence already available-without emergence of new incriminating material, is improper. [Paras 33–34]

Criminal Procedure — Revision — Interference:

Held: In absence of strong and cogent evidence -vague allegations and exoneration during investigation- the impugned order summoning the revisionists was unsustainable-liable to be set aside. [Paras 35–36]

Revision allowed. (E-14)

Case Law Cited

Hardeep Singh v. State of Punjab*, (2014) 3 SCC 92 — relied on;
Sarabjit Singh v. State of Punjab*, AIR 2009 SC 2792 — relied on;
Brijendra Singh v. State of Rajasthan*, (2017) 7 SCC 706 — relied on;
Chhaya v. State of Maharashtr*a, (2018) 17 SCC 8 — relied on;
Geeta Mehrotra v. State of U.P.*, (2012) 10 SCC 741 — relied on;
Omi @ Omkar Rathore v. State of Madhya Pradesh*, 2025 INSC 27 — relied on; Shiv Baran v. State of U.P., Criminal Appeal No. 3008 of 2025 — relied on; State of Punjab Vs.Davinder Pal Singh Bhullar (2011) 14 SCC 770; Kalbharti Advertising Vs. Hemant Vimalnath Narchania (2010) 9 SCC 437, Mangal Prasad Tamoli Vs. Narvadeshwar Mishra (2005) 3 SCC 422, Badrinath Vs. Government of Tamil Nadu (2000) 8 SCC 395; Seth Ganga Dhar Vs. Shankar Lal and others, AIR 1958 SC 770; Amalendu Pal alias Jhantu Vs. State of West Bengal 2001 SCC 707, Sanju alias Sanjay Singh Sengar Vs. State of M.P. 2002(5) SCC 371, Netai Dutta Vs. State of W.B.; 2005 (2) SCC 659, State of Kerala and others Vs. S. Unnikrishnan Nair and others; (2015) 9 SCC 639, State of West Bengal Vs. Indrajit Kundu and another (2019) 10 SCC 188, Geo Varghese Vs. State of Rajasthan and another; 2021 SCC OnLine SC 873 and Shabbir Hussain Vs. State of Madhya Pradesh; 2021 SCC OnLIne SC 743; S Mohammed Ispahani V. Yogendra Chandak and others (2017) 16 SCC 226, Harjinder Singh V. State of Punjab and another; 2025 SCC Online SC 1029, Geeta Devi and another V. State of Punjab and another; 2004: PHHC: 000708, Y. Saraba Reddy V. Puthur Rami Reddy and another (2007) 4 SCC 773, Lok Ram V. Nihal Singh and another (2006) 10 SCC 192, Ramnarayan Ram Daroga and 2 others V. State of U.P. and another; 2025: AHC-165520, Shiv Baran V. State of U.P. and another SLP(Crl) No. 3993 of 2025, Shankar Vs. State of U.P. and others; 2024 SCC Online SC 730, and Smt. Rekha and 3 ors Vs. State of U.P. and 2 others; 2025: AHC-LKO: 918; Shueb Mahmood Kidwai @ Bobby Vs. State of U.P. in Application U/S 482/378/407 No. 3044 of 2017 decided 23.2.2021; Pyare Lal Bhargava v. The State of Rajasthan, AIR 1963 SC 1094; Ram Singh & Ors. v. Ram Niwas & Anr., (2009) 14 SCC 25; Brijendra Singh and others Vs. State of Rajasthan (2017) 7 SCC 706.

List of Acts / Statutes

Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973; Indian Penal Code, 1860.

List of Keywords

Summoning additional accused; Strong evidence; Vague allegations; Matrimonial dispute; Dowry demand; Exoneration; Trial stage; Abuse of process.

Case Arising From

Order dated 31.10.2025 passed by Additional Sessions Judge, Court No. 17, Agra in Session Trial No. 2243 of 2023 (State Vs. Jitendra Gond), arising out of Case Crime No. 96 of 2022.

Appearance for Parties

For the Appellants: Sri Manish Tiwari, Senior Advocate assisted by Sri Hitesh Pachori
For the Respondents: Sri Kamlesh Kumar Dwivedi, Sri Prashank Mishra, Learned A.G.A.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Abdul Shahid, J.)

1. Heard Sri Manish Tiwari, learned Senior Counsel assisted by Sri Hitesh Pachori, learned counsel for the revisionists and Sri K.K. Dwivedi, learned counsel for the opposite party no.2, who has filed his vakalatnama. The same is taken on record.

2. The instant criminal revision has been preferred being aggrieved by the impugned order dated 31.10.2025, passed by the learned Additional Sessions Judge, Court No. 17, Agra (State Vs. Jitendra Gond), in Session Trial No. 2243 of 2023, relating to Case Crime No. 96 of 2022, under Section 306, 498A, 323 IPC, Police Station Nai Ki Mandi, District Agra, whereby the application under Section 319 Cr.P.C. has been allowed and the revisionists have been summoned to face trial under section 306 IPC.

3. The brief facts of the case is that the informant/opposite party no.2 has lodged the FIR stating that the marriage of his daughter-Prachi was took place on 29.1.2015 with Jitendra Gaur son of Surendra Kumar Sharma, wherein he had given dowry and articles more than his capacity. It is alleged that husband-Jitendra Gaur and his father and step mother-in-law Pushplata Sharma were not happy with the dowry given in the marriage and they were making additional demand of a car and Rs. 10 lakh cash and when daughter of the informant refused to succumb their demands, then all the aforesaid three persons used to beat her and whenever the deceased visited her Mayaka then she informed all the things to the family members. It is also alleged in the FIR that prior to the incident, the deceased Prachi informed her mother on phone that aforesaid persons were very much harassing her for dowry and they were committing Marpeet with her. On 27.8.2022 at about 3.00 a.m, Surendra Kumar Sharma, (revisionist no.1) who is father-in-law of the deceased informed the informant/opposite party no.2 through mobile that Prachi has hanged herself and upon this information, the informant alongwith his family members arrived at the spot then found that the dead body of the deceased Prachi was lying on floor in the drawing room and injury marks were there on her body.

4. The FIR has been lodged at the police station on 27.8.2022 at Case Crime No. 96 of 2022, under Section 323, 498A, 304-B IPC against Jitendra Gaur (husband), Surendra Kumar Sharma, (father-in-law) and Smt. Pushplata Sharma, (step-mother-in-law). During the course of investigation, the statements of witnesses were recorded under Section 161 Cr.P.C and all the witnesses had affirmed the contents of the FIR and they got available the prima facie evidence against all the named accused persons. However, after investigation, the Investigating Officer dropped accusation under Section 304-B IPC and submitted charge sheet against sole accused Jitendra Gaur for the offence under Section 306, 498A, 323 IPC.

5. The postmortem of the deceased was conducted in which following ante-mortem injuries were found:-

"An oblique ligature mark of size 58 cm x 1.5 cm all around upper part of Neck with a gap of a 4 cm over right side neck gap is 5 cm away from right angle of mouth.

Ligature mark is 3 cm from right ear 4 cm from chin, 6 cm from left ear on cut section skin below, ligature mark is perchanand like doorling of salva from left angle of mouth present weage with above injuries."

6. During the course of trial when all the witnesses of facts have been examined, an application under Section 319 Cr.P.C. has been moved. The statement of PW-1 Vinod Kumar Sharma, father of the deceased was recorded and he supported the version of the prosecution in his examination-in-chief as well as in the cross-examination. He stated that the deceased was beaten for additional dowry and she was harassed mentally and physically upto the extent that she would end up her life. The statement of PW-3 Parikshit Bhardwaj, PW-4, mother of the deceased and PW-8 Bhabhi of the deceased have been recorded and they given evidence before the trial court, wherein they had given prima facie evidence against father-in-law and step mother-in-law alongwith the accused Jitendra Gond. This has further been noted in the said application that in the aforesaid session trial, the prosecution has adduced total eight witnesses and only the evidence of investigation officer is left.

7. Learned counsel for the revisionists has submitted the learned trial court has passed the impugned order dated 31.10.2025 without application of judicial mind, hence the same is liable to be set aside. He further contended that during the course of investigation, the Investigating Officer find that the marriage of deceased and Jitendra Kumar was solemnized on 29.1.2015 and more than 7 years have past and, therefore, Section 304-B was eloped. The investigation of said case crime was concluded and the names of the revisionists were exonerated and the closure report was submitted on 15.9.2023. The application under Section 319 Cr.P.C. was allowed in an arbitrary manner vide order dated 31.10.2025 against the material on record summoning the revisionists under Section 306 IPC. The FIR was not lodged under Section 3/4 of Dowry Prohibition Act nor the charge sheet was submitted against Jitendra Kumar Gaur under said sections nor the charges were framed against him under Section 3/4 of D.P. Act, which falsify the prosecution story as developed by the first informant in the FIR.

8. Learned counsel for the revisionists has further submitted that in the impugned order, the learned Judge himself observed " this is important to note here that such version of a witnesses comes under the meaning of hearsay evidence, which normally does not wholly reliable...", even though the revisionists have been summoned under Section 306 IPC on the same set of evidence. He further submitted that no material surfaced against the revisionists during investigation from the statements recorded under Section 161 Cr.P.C, as a result of which, the revisionists were exonerated and closure report was filed on 15.9.2023. He further submitted that the revisionists have been summoned merely on the suspicious grounds.

9. Learned counsel for the revisionists in support of his contentions has placed reliance on the judgments viz. State of Punjab Vs.Davinder Pal Singh Bhullar (2011) 14 SCC 770, Kalbharti Advertising Vs. Hemant Vimalnath Narchania (2010) 9 SCC 437, Mangal Prasad Tamoli Vs. Narvadeshwar Mishra (2005) 3 SCC 422, Badrinath Vs. Government of Tamil Nadu (2000) 8 SCC 395 and Seth Ganga Dhar Vs. Shankar Lal and others, AIR 1958 SC 770. Learned counsel for the revisionist has further relied on Amalendu Pal alias Jhantu Vs. State of West Bengal 2001 SCC 707, Sanju alias Sanjay Singh Sengar Vs. State of M.P. 2002(5) SCC 371, Netai Dutta Vs. State of W.B.; 2005 (2) SCC 659, State of Kerala and others Vs. S. Unnikrishnan Nair and others; (2015) 9 SCC 639, State of West Bengal Vs. Indrajit Kundu and another (2019) 10 SCC 188, Geo Varghese Vs. State of Rajasthan and another; 2021 SCC OnLine SC 873 and Shabbir Hussain Vs. State of Madhya Pradesh; 2021 SCC OnLIne SC 743.

10. Learned counsel for the revisionists has also placed reliance on S Mohammed Ispahani V. Yogendra Chandak and others (2017) 16 SCC 226, Harjinder Singh V. State of Punjab and another; 2025 SCC Online SC 1029, Geeta Devi and another V. State of Punjab and another; 2004: PHHC: 000708, Y. Saraba Reddy V. Puthur Rami Reddy and another (2007) 4 SCC 773, Lok Ram V. Nihal Singh and another (2006) 10 SCC 192, Ramnarayan Ram Daroga and 2 others V. State of U.P. and another; 2025: AHC-165520, Shiv Baran V. State of U.P. and another SLP(Crl) No. 3993 of 2025, Shankar Vs. State of U.P. and others; 2024 SCC Online SC 730, and Smt. Rekha and 3 ors Vs. State of U.P. and 2 others; 2025: AHC-LKO: 918.

11. On the other hand, learned counsel appearing for the opposite party no. 2/complainant has submitted that learned trial court has rightly passed the impugned order summoning the revisionists under Section 306 IPC. The revisionists have been summoned on the basis of evidence recorded during trial of the witnesses. Therefore, the revision is liable to be dismissed. He further submitted that even the charges have been framed against the revisionists on 14.1.2026 and thus, against the order framing charge, no revision would be maintainable. Hence, on this score too, the present revision is liable to be dismissed.

12. Learned counsel appearing for the opposite party no.2 has relied on Division bench judgement of this Court in Shueb Mahmood Kidwai @ Bobby Vs. State of U.P. in Application U/S 482/378/407 No. 3044 of 2017 decided 23.2.2021 to contend that the revision is not maintainable as charges in this case has already been framed.

13. In the said petition which was filed under Section 482 Cr.P.C. and was referred to Division Bench, it was observed that the there is a legal hurdle by virtue of Section 232 Cr.P.C which provides a remedy to the applicant, in entertaining this application under Section 482 Cr.P.C. Prima facie opinion was that after framing of charge without supervening development in the form of judicial order, interference with the proceedings of the trial under Section 482 Cr.P.C may not be permissible because prayer for quashing the entire proceedings initiated on charge sheet cannot be questioned as the trial court has already held by judicial order passed under Section 228 Cr.P.C that prima facie commission of offence is made out. The learned Single Judge has then observed that without questioning the correctness of that order, allowing an application for quashing of proceedings would amount to falsifying the records of the Court where order directing charge to be framed stands unchallenged.

14. In this backdrop, the matter has been placed before the learned Bench and Court held that we cannot say that, in the eventualities mentioned in the referred order, in no circumstances would an application under Section 482 Cr.P.C be maintainable i.e it will not lie. Whether such an application is to be entertained or not is a question to be considered and answered in the facts of each case and no general proposition or straight jacket formula can be laid down/provided in this regard. The guiding principle is as to whether in the facts of a case continuance of proceedings amount to abuse of the process of the Court and/or whether interference of the High Court is necessary to secure the ends of justice or not? Based on these two principles the facts of each case are required to be assessed by the High Court when the power and jurisdiction under Section 482 Cr.P.C. is invoked.

15. The present subject matter is criminal revision. The scope and ambit and jurisdiction of criminal revision as well as inherent power of the High Court under Section 482, both are entirely and altogether different.

16. The learned trial court has considered the case in detail and mentioned that invoking the provisions of Section 319 CrPC is a discretionary power vested in the trial judge and hence it is not needed to hear from the side of the defence for the said particular purpose and also at the stage of consideration of the said application filed for the said purpose, no occasion arises to hear the stance of the persons going to be summoned as accused. At the outset, while attempting to move further while deciding the said application, it would be beneficial to reproduce here the provisions of Section 319 CrPC which is as under:-

"319. Power to proceed against other persons appearing to be guilty of offence.-(1) Where, in the course of any inquiry into, or trial of, an offence, it appears from the evidence that any person not being the accused has committed any offence for which such person could be tried together with the accused, the Court may proceed against such person for the offence which he appears to have committed......"

17. Learned trial court has held in the impugned order that it is very much clear from this provision as noted above itself that, particularly regarding this instant case when it appears during trial of an offence from the evidence that any person who had not been shown in the charge sheet as an accused in the array of accused had committed that offence may be summoned by the Court for facing trial of such offence, that means upon the evidence the Court was satisfied enough that such person who was not shown as an accused by the police in its charge sheet had committed that offence. Meaning thereby level of satisfaction or degree of satisfaction while summoning any person as an accused invoking Section 319 Cr.P.C. is much more than the stage of framing of charge when the Court was to consider only prima facie case to further proceed on basis of materials produced by the prosecution at the stage of framing of charge.Regarding this, the trial court deemed it proper to refer certain principles laid down by the Constitution Bench of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Hardeep Singh Vs State of Punjab; AIR 2014 SC 1400, which are noted herein following manner:-

"86. Section 319(1) Cr.P.C. empowers the court to proceed against other persons who appear to be guilty of offence, though not an accused before the court. The word "appear" means "clear to the comprehension", or a phrase near to, if not synonymous with "proved". It imparts a lesser degree of probability than proof."

18. Learned trial court has relied on the judgement rendered in Pyare Lal Bhargava v. The State of Rajasthan, AIR 1963 SC 1094, in which a four-Judge Bench of this Court was concerned with the meaning of the word 'appear'. The court held that the appropriate meaning of the word 'appears' is 'seems. It imports a lesser degree of probability than proof. In Ram Singh & Ors. v. Ram Niwas & Anr., (2009) 14 SCC 25, a two-Judge Bench of this Court was again required to examine the importance of the word 'appear' as appearing in the Section. The Court held that for the fulfillment of the condition that it appears to the court that a person had committed an offence, the court must satisfy itself about the existence of an exceptional circumstance enabling it to exercise an extraordinary jurisdiction. What is, therefore, necessary for the court is to arrive at a satisfaction that the evidence adduced on behalf of the prosecution, if unrebutted, may lead to conviction of the persons sought to be added as an accused in the case.

19. Learned trial court has placed reliance on Sarabjit Singh & Anr. v. State of Punjab & Anr. AIR 2009 SC 2792, wherein while explaining the scope of Section 319 Cr.P.C., a two-Judge Bench of this Court observed as under:

*"....For the aforementioned purpose, the courts are required to apply stringent tests; one of the tests being whether evidence on record is such which would reasonably lead to conviction of the person sought to be summoned.....Whereas the test of prima facie case may be sufficient for taking cognizance of an offence at the stage of framing of charge, the court must be satisfied that there exists a strong suspicion. While framing charge in terms of Section 227 of the Code, the court must consider the entire materials on record to form an opinion that the evidence if unrebutted would lead to a judgment of conviction. Whether a higher standard be set up for the purpose of invoking the jurisdiction under Section 319 of the Code is the question. The answer to these questions should be rendered in the affirmative. Unless a higher standard for the purpose of forming an opinion to summon a person as an additional accused is laid down, the ingredients thereof viz. (i) an extraordinary case, and (ii) a case f*or sparingly (sic sparing) exercise of jurisdiction, would not be satisfied." (Emphasis added).

20. Learned trial court has recorded in the impugned order that PW3 Parikshit Bhardwaj, who is the brother of the deceased has stated in his examination-in-chief that marriage of his sister, the deceased had taken place on 29.01.2015 with the accused Jitendra Gond and this PW3 has also stated further in his examination-in-chief that after lapse of 4-5 months of marriage of his sister, her husband, father-in-law Surendra Sharma and mother-in-law Pushplata Sharma started making a demand of Rs. 10 lakh and one car as additional dowry. This has further been stated by this PW-3 in his examination-in-chief that on 23.10.2017, his deceased sister had visited his place along with her husband Jitendra Gond and till that time she was being harassed and was being subjected to physical and mental cruelty by her husband Jitendra Gond, Sasur Surendra Sharma and mother-in-law Pushplata Sharma and then his father Vinod Kumar Sharma had given Rs. 5 lakh cash to Jitendra Gond. This has further been deposed by this PW-3 in his examination-in-chief that on 25/

26.08.2022 his sister, the deceased had informed his mother on phone about her ordeal in the hands of her in-laws and thereafter on 27.08.2022 at 3:00 am his sister hanged herself as it was informed to his father by father-in-law of his sister Surendra Sharma.

21. It has also been recorded in the impugned order that PW-4, who is mother of the deceased has deposed in her examination-in-chief that on 26.8.2022 11:30 am she had received a phone call of her daughter, at that time she was crying and was telling that now she cannot live since these all persons are committing marpeet with her. At this very juncture this is very much important to note that the learned Advocate for the prosecution drawn attention of this Court about the CD Parcha No. 10 maintained by the concerned police during investigation, in which records of CDRs of this PW4 and mobile phone of deceased are noted. Thereupon, it appears that the version of the PW-4 cannot be kept aside plainly, wherein she had stated that her deceased daughter had talked to her on 26.08.2022. Without noting the detail contents of the cross-examination of PW4, the trial court has without hesitation noted that the point of harassment of the deceased by her husband, father-in-law and mother-in-law is not rebutted by the defence side.

22. The learned trial court has evaluated the evidence of PW-8 Aparna Bhardwaj wife of PW-3 Prakshit Bhardawaj. This shows that this PW-8 was bhabhi of the deceased. This PW-8 has also repeated the things about demand of additional dowry of Rs. 10 lakh and one car by accused Jitendra Gond and his father Surendra Kumar Sharma and mother Pushplata. This PW-8 has stated further in her examination-in-chief that her sister-in-law (deceased) used to tell her ordeal in the hands of her father-in-law and mother-in-law and her husband. Again this is important to note here that such version of a witness comes under the meaning of hearsay evidence which normally does not wholly reliable, but so far it is concerned regarding the cases in which main allegation is U/s 306 IPC, such version cannot be simply kept aside or ignored. Further, this PW8 has deposed in her examination-in-chief that in her presence and presence of all the family members her father-in-law had given about five lakh cash to the accused Jitendra Gond and at that time her father-in-law had urged to accused Jitendra Gond not to harass his daughter further. PW-8 has also deposed in her examination-in-chief that on 26.08.2022 her 'nanad', deceased had called her mother-in-law and at that time she had told her about ill treatment meted out her by her in-laws for demand of dowry and that time she (PW8) and her mother-in-law had tried to make the deceased understand and told her for waiting two days, but on 27.08.2022 itself they were informed that her 'nanad' had hanged herself. The trial court has minutely gone through the contents of cross-extimination of the PW-8 and without evaluating the same extensively, the trial court deems it proper to note here that qua the version of the PW-8 regarding commission of physical harassment of the deceased by her husband, father-in-law and mother-in-law could not be rebutted by the defence.

23. The cause of death of the deceased is due to asphyxia as a result of antemortem hanging. She died as per postmortem report due to antemortem hanging. The ligature marks were found on the body of the deceased.

24. It is held by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Hardeep Singh Vs. State of Punjab and others (2014) 3 SCC 92 that the word 'evidence' used in Section 319(1) Cr.P.C. indicates the word 'evidence' is limited to the evidence recorded during trial. It is further held by the Apex Court in Omi @ Omkar Rathore Vs. State of Madhya Pradesh and another; 2025 INSC 27 that trial court can add an individual as accused only on the basis of the evidence adduced before it and not on the basis of the materials available in the charge sheet or the case diary because such materials contained in the charge sheet or the case diary do not constitute evidence.

25. It is held by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Shiv Baran Vs. State of U.P. and another decided on 16th July, 2025 in Criminal Appeal No. 3008 of 2025 (arising out of SLP (Criminal) No. 3993 of 2025 that trial court can exercise power to summon an additional accused under Section 319 Cr.P.C. only on the basis of the evidence adduced before it and not any other material collected during investigation. It is also held in Brijendra Singh and others Vs. State of Rajasthan (2017) 7 SCC 706 that the word 'evidence' used in Section 319 Cr.P.C. means the material brought before the court during trial but evidence collected by the I.O. can be utilized for corroboration. Whereas, in the present case, there are only general and vague allegation against the revisionists being father-in-law and step mother-in-law of the deceased. Whereas, during investigation, no evidence has been found against the revisionists. There is no specific demand made by the revisionists about additional dowry during entire investigation. The statement recorded during trial of PW-1, who is father of the deceased had made only vague allegation that the revisionists were was also consented with their son, whereas PW-2, mother of the deceased has made general deposition that both have demanded additional dowry of Rs. 10 lacs and one car.

26. It is held by the Supreme Court in Chhaya Vs. State of Maharashtra, (2018) 17 SCC 8 which reads as under:

"10. A perusal of the oral evidence of the parents of the deceased would indicate that only minor allegations are made against the appellant. Vague and cryptic allegations are found against her with no specific allegation in respect of demand for dowry or harassment in any manner. In the absence of definite evidence against the appellant, the Sessions Court and the High Court are not justified in convicting her even for the offence punishable under Section 498-A IPC."

27. It is held by the Supreme court in Geeta Mehrotra Vs. State of U.P. (2012) 10 SCC 741 as under:

"18. Their Lordships of the Supreme Court in Ramesh case [(2005) 3 SCC 507 : 2005 SCC (Cri) 735] had been pleased to hold that the bald allegations made against the sister-in-law by the complainant appeared to suggest the anxiety of the informant to rope in as many of the husband's relatives as possible. It was held that neither the FIR nor the charge-sheet furnished the legal basis for the Magistrate to take cognizance of the offences alleged against the appellants. The learned Judges were pleased to hold that looking to the allegations in the FIR and the contents of the charge-sheet, none of the alleged offences under Sections 498-A, 406 IPC and Section 4 of the Dowry Prohibition Act were made against the married sister of the complainant's husband who was undisputedly not living with the family of the complainant's husband. Their Lordships of the Supreme Court were pleased to hold that the High Court ought not to have relegated the sister-in-law to the ordeal of trial. Accordingly, the proceedings against the appellants were quashed and the appeal was allowed."

28. It is further held in paragraph no. 25 of Geeta Mehrotra (supra) as under:-

"25. However, we deem it appropriate to add by way of caution that we may not be misunderstood so as to infer that even if there are allegation of overt act indicating the complicity of the members of the family named in the FIR in a given case, cognizance would be unjustified but what we wish to emphasize by highlighting is that, if the FIR as it stands does not disclose specific allegation against accused more so against the co-accused specially in a matter arising out of matrimonial bickering, it would be clear abuse of the legal and judicial process to mechanically send the named accused in the FIR to undergo the trial unless of course the FIR discloses specific allegations which would persuade the court to take cognizance of the offence alleged against the relatives of the main accused who are prima facie not found to have indulged in physical and mental torture of the complainant-wife. It is the well settled principle laid down in cases too numerous to mention, that if the FIR did not disclose the commission of an offence, the court would be justified in quashing the proceedings preventing the abuse of the process of law. Simultaneously, the courts are expected to adopt a cautious approach in matters of quashing specially in cases of matrimonial dispute whether the FIR in fact discloses commission of an offence by the relatives of the principal accused or the FIR prima facie discloses a case of over-implication by involving the entire family of the accused at the instance of the complainant, who is out to settle her scores arising out of the teething problem or skirmish of domestic bickering while settling down in her new matrimonial surrounding."

29. It is held in Hardeep Singh (supra) that summoning of accused under Section 319 Cr.P.C. is settled, that this power is an extra ordinary power, which should be used sparingly with circumspection and while passing the summoning order under Section 319 Cr.P.C, court must consider whether more than prima facie case made out, or not, mere prima facie case is not sufficient.

30. The power under Section 319 Cr.P.C. is a discretionary and an extra-ordinary power. It is to be exercised sparingly and only in those cases where the circumstances of the case so warrant. It is not to be exercised because the Magistrate or the Sessions Judge is of the opinion that some other person may also be guilty of committing that offence. Only where strong and cogent evidence occurs against a person from the evidence led before the court that such power should be exercised and not in a casual and cavalier manner.

31. In the said case, the FIR has been lodged under Section 498A, 304B, 323 IPC on 27.8.2022 on the date of incident itself by the opposite party no.2/complainant, who is father of the deceased. The FIR was lodged against husband, Jitendra Kumar Gond, Surendra Kumar Sharma, father-in-law and Smt. Pushplata Sharma, step mother-in-law. In the contents of the FIR, there are general allegation on all the named accused persons for demand of a Car and Rs. 10 lacs, whereas it is specifically mentioned in the said FIR itself that on 27.8.2022 in the night at 3.00 a.m, father-in-law of the deceased, Surendra Kumar Sharma had informed to the complainant from his mobile to his mobile that Prachi (decreased) has hanged herself. Hence , as soon as he got the information, he immediately informed and he has not concealed any fact. In the FIR it is mentioned that there were injuries found on the dead body of the deceased, whereas as per postmortem report, there were only ligature mark present on the neck of the deceased which are natural due to hanging of any body. The cause of death was asphyxia as a result of ante-mortem hanging. The viscera was preserved and sent to Forensic Science Laboratory, hence there was no other external antemortem injuries on the body of the deceased.

32. The statement of the complainant was recorded under Section 161 Cr.P.C, who has made general allegation, wherein there was no complaint during entire marriage till the date of death either of cruelty or of any demand of dowry. The marriage was took place on 29.1.2015 and the death took place on 27.8.2022 after seven years of the marriage. There were two children born from the wedlock. The minor daughter of the deceased had been examined during investigation and she had not made any allegation of causing cruelty or demand of additional dowry by the revisionists. After complete investigation, neither the case of dowry death was not found nor complicity of the revisionists was found, hence the charge sheet was filed only against husband Jitendra Kumar Gond under Sections 323, 498A, 306 IPC. There was no offence found against the revisionists, hence they have been exonerated after investigation and no charge sheet has been filed against them.

33. It is very astonish that in the entire FIR, no offence has to be made under Section 3/4 of Dowry Prohibition Act, 1961. Neither the FIR was lodged under Dowry Prohibition Act, nor charge sheet was filed against any accused under the Dowry Prohibition Act. After framing of charge, the statementing of PW-1, Vinod Kumar Sharma was recorded on 25.4.2024 and his cross-examination was finally completed on 21.5.2024. He himself admitted that during entire period of marriage and till death, there was no complaint ever made by him about cruelty or additional demand of dowry, if any. PW-3, Parikshit Bhardwaj had recorded his evidence before the learned trial court on 4.7.2024. PW-4, Smt. Urmila, mother of the deceased had recorded her deposition on 23.8.2024 and her cross-examination was completed on 26.11.2024. The statement of PW-8, Aparna Bhardwaj, who is 'bhabhi' of the deceased had recorded her deposition on 28.2.2025 and her cross-examination was completed on 18.3.2025. There were no specific allegation either of cruelty or additional demand of dowry during entire subsistence of marriage by the revisionist.

34. After completion of fact evidences as well as formal evidence, the deposition of PW-1 was completed on 21.5.2025 and thereafter, the statements were recorded upto PW-8 and the session trial was almost near to the conclusion. Thereafter, an application under Section 319 Cr.P.C. has been filed on 4.4.2025 making general and vague allegation against the revisionists, whereas there was no specific allegation against them, neither in the FIR nor prior to the death of the deceased nor during entire investigation. They have been exonerated and no charge sheet was filed against them. The contents of application under Section 319 Cr.P.C are repetition of the same and the prayer was made to summon the revisionists under Section 319 Cr.P.C, whereas, ingredient of Section 319 Cr.P.C whatever is required as per settled law in Hardeep Singh (supra), they were not fulfilled.

35. After consideration of all these facts and circumstances of the case and provisions of law, this Court is of the opinion that the impugned order dated 31.10.2025, passed by learned Additional Sessions Judge, Court No. 17, Agra in Session Trial No. 2243 of 2023 (State Vs. Jitendra Gond), cannot be sustained and same is hereby set aside and consequently all further orders passed on the basis of that order dated 31.10.2025 against the revisionists, is also hereby set aside. 36. In view of above, the criminal revision is allowed. However, the learned trial court is directed to decide pending session trial against other accused expeditiously in accordance with law.

(2026) 2 ILRA 1167
REVISIONAL JURISDICTION
CRIMINAL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 25.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE MADAN PAL SINGH, J.

Criminal Revision No. 6391 of 2025

Pallavi Srivastava ....Revisionist
Versus
State of U.P. & Anr. ...Opposite Parties

Issue for Consideration

(i) Whether the application under Section 125 Cr.P.C. filed by the wife at Gorakhpur was maintainable in view of Section 126(1) Cr.P.C.;
(ii) Whether the trial court was justified in rejecting the application for maintenance on the ground of lack of territorial jurisdiction.

Headnotes

Criminal Procedure — Section 125 Cr.P.C. — Maintenance — Territorial jurisdiction — Section 126(1) Cr.P.C.:
Held: Proceedings under Section 125 Cr.P.C. may be instituted at a place where the wife resides. The expression "resides" includes even a temporary residence, provided it is not casual. Permanent residence is not a pre-condition for conferring jurisdiction. [Paras 16–18]

Criminal Procedure — Maintenance — Residence of wife — Determination:
Held: Where the wife, after leaving her matrimonial home, resides at her parental house for a considerable period and not casually, such place constitutes her residence for the purpose of Section 126(1)(b) Cr.P.C. The wife cannot be denied remedy merely because her parents have another place of residence. [Paras 15, 20]

Criminal Procedure — Maintenance — Jurisdiction — Application of law to facts:
Held: Where the revisionist-wife, after being left by her husband, started residing at her parental house at Gorakhpur and also initiated criminal proceedings from there, the said place constituted her residence. Accordingly, the Family Court at Gorakhpur had jurisdiction to entertain the application under Section 125 Cr.P.C. [Paras 15, 20]

Criminal Procedure — Maintenance — Rejection on technical ground — Validity:
Held: Rejection of application under Section 125 Cr.P.C. on the ground of lack of jurisdiction without proper appreciation of evidence regarding residence of the wife is unsustainable. The trial court failed to consider relevant documentary and factual material. [Paras 8–9, 21]

Criminal Procedure — Revision — Interference — Scope:
Held: Where the findings of the trial court are contrary to statutory provisions and settled legal principles, interference in revisional jurisdiction is warranted. The impugned order rejecting the application was liable to be set aside. [Paras 21–22]

Criminal Procedure — Maintenance proceedings — Direction for expeditious disposal:
Held: The trial court was directed to decide the application under Section 125 Cr.P.C. on merits, without raising objection as to jurisdiction, by a reasoned order within stipulated time. [Para 23]

Revision allowed. (E-14)

Case Law Cited

Smt. Jeewanti Pandey v. Kishan Chandra Pandey,* (1981) 4 SCC 517 — relied on; Darshan Kumari v. Surinder Kumar, 1995 Supp (4) SCC 137 — relied on; Amit Kapoor v. Ramesh Chander, (2012) 9 SCC 460 — distinguished.

List of Acts / Statutes

Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973; Indian Penal Code, 1860; Dowry Prohibition Act, 1961.

List of Keywords

Maintenance; Territorial jurisdiction; Residence; Temporary residence; Parental home; Wife's residence; Family Court; Revisional jurisdiction.

Case Arising From

Judgment and order dated 16.09.2025 passed by Additional Principal Judge, Family Court-II, Gorakhpur in Criminal Misc. Case No. 1165 of 2023 (Pallavi Srivastava vs. Tarun Prakash Srivastava), rejecting application under Section 125 Cr.P.C. on the ground of jurisdiction

Appearance for Parties

For the Petitioner: Sri Kamlesh Kumar Tiwari
For the Respondents: Sri Tausif Ahmad, Sri Vijai Kumar Rai, Learned A.G.A.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Madan Pal Singh, J.)

1. Supplementary affidavit on behalf of the revisionist and the counter affidavit filed on behalf of opposite party no.2 in the Court today are taken on record.

2. Heard learned counsel for the revisionist, learned counsel for opposite party no.2 and the learned A.G.A. for the State.

3. The instant criminal revision under Section 397/401 Cr.P.C. has been preferred by the revisionist with a prayer to quash/set aside the judgment and order dated 16th September, 2025 passed by the Additional Principal Judge, Family Court-II, Gorakhpur in Case No. Criminal Misc. Case No. 1165 of 2023 (Pallavi Srivastava VS. Tarun Prakash Srivastava), under Section 125 Cr.P.C., whereby the trial court has rejected the application of the revisionist under Section 125 Cr.P.C. for grant of monthly maintenance allowance from the opposite party no.2 on the ground of jurisdiction.

4. It is the case of the revisionist that the marriage of the revisionist was solemnized with opposite party no.2 on 9th December, 2020 in accordance with the Hindu Rites and Rituals in which Rs. 10 lakhs cash and other ornaments were given to the family of the opposite party no.2 by her father as dowry. Total approximately, Rs. 30 lakhs of father of the revisionist were spent. After marriage the revisionist went to her in-laws place at Lucknow and lived there. On 24th December, 2020, revisionist's mother-in-law and sister-in-law took away all her jewellery in the name of keeping it safe in a bank locker and when she went out with her husband, i.e., the opposite party no.2, they accused her of losing the said jewellery. The brother-in-laws of the revisionist, namely, Satish Srivastava and Prabhat Srivastava has bad intention against her. The family members of opposite party no.2 are habitual drinker and after drink they used to abuse the revisionist. Opposite party no.2 is doing job in Merchant Navy and he always came with wines. One day, the opposite party no.2 offered the revisionist to take drink but she refused, then he pushed her due to which she sustained injuries. When opposite party no.2 went to his duty, his family members used to harass her for loss of jewellery. The revisionist was suffering from abdomen illness and she has got operated on 22nd December, 2022 and second operation was scheduled to held in the month of February-March, 2023, the opposite party no.2 and his family members left her in the hospital and thereafter her parents had taken her care of. After getting her second operation undertaken, she discharged from hospital on 15th March, 2023, the parents of the revisionist called the elder brother of opposite party no.2 to take back to the revisionist at her matrimonial home but he has not responded, therefore, she has come at her parental house at Gorakhpur.

6. The contention of the learned counsel for the revisionist is that the father of the revisionist, namely, Krishna Kumar Srivastava was earlier working in Railway Department and during service, he lived at Lucknow and also purchased and constructed a house but after retirement he resides at Gorakhpur at his native place being Amit Aditya Tent House, Bichhiya, Jungle Tulsiram, Shahpur, Gorakhpur, U.P. In Gorakhpur, father of the revisionist has also ancestral property and he also use to withdraw his pension from the treasury office at Gorakhpur. He further submits that on 15th March, 2023, due to non-fulfillment of additional demand of dowry, opposite party no.2 has left the revisionist at her parental house i.e. Gorakhpur, where she has lodged first information report against her husband and her in-laws (total 7 in number) on 20th October, 2023 at Police Station-Mahila Thana, District-Gorakhpur which was registered as Case Crime No. 0057 of 2023 under Sections 498-A, 323, 504, 506, 406 I.P.C. and Section 3/4 of the D.P. Act, a copy of the said first information report has been enclosed at page no.24 ownards of the supplementary affidavit. Since 15th March, 2023, when her husband left i.e. opposite party no.2 has left the revisionist at her parental house at Gorakhpur, she had no other option but to reside there and since then she is living there.

7. In support of his case, learned counsel for the revisionist has drawn the attention of the Court to Voter List-2022 of Nagar Nigam, Gorakhpur which has been enclosed as Annexure No. S.A.-1 to the supplementary affidavit wherein the names of father of the revisionist and his family members have been mentioned. He has also referred to Kisan Bahi enclosed as Annexure No.S.A.-2 to the supplementary affidavit, issued by the revenue authorities of the district administration of Gorakhpur, wherein the name of father of the revisionist has been shown as permanent resident of District Gorakhpur. Besides the above, learned counsel for the revisionist has also enclosed the S.I.R. forms which have been filed by the father of the revisionist and his family members at Gorakhpur as Annexure No.S.A.-3 to the supplementary affidavit. A copy of the order issued by the Tehsildar Sadar, Gorakhpur dated 19th January, 1987 has also been brought on record as Annexure No.4 to the supplementary affidavit, whereby the name of the father of the revisionist has been mutated in the relevant revenue record after the death of his mother i.e. grand-mother of the revisionist.

8. On the basis of the aforesaid documentary evidence, learned counsel for the revisionist submits that the trial court has not considered the documentary as well as oral evidence adduced by the revisionist during the course of trial with regard to her living place i.e. at her parental house i.e.

Gorakhpur. The trial court has also misinterpreted the provisions of Section 126 (1) Cr.P.C. in the case of the revisionist, while the said provision is fully applicable in her case. The trial court passed by the judgment impugned rejecting the claim of the revisionist for grant of maintenance allowance is without application of mind and incorrect in appreciation of evidence.

9. On the above premise, learned counsel for the revisionist submits that without examining the aforesaid facts about the living place of the revisionist, the trial court has rejected the application of the revisionist under Section 125 Cr.P.C. on the ground of jurisdiction, which cannot be legally sustained and is liable to be set aside.

10. On the other-hand, the learned counsel for opposite party no.2 and the learned A.G.A. for the State have opposed the submissions made by the learned counsel for the revisionist by submitting that the trial court has not committed any illegality or infirmity in passing the impugned judgment and rejecting the claim of the revisionist, so as to warrant any interference by this Court in exercise of revisional jurisdiction.

11. Besides the above, learned counsel for opposite party no.2 submits that after leaving her matrimonial house i.e. house of the opposite party no.2, the revisionist stays with her parents at Hydil Colony, Jairajpuri, Near Hanuman Mandir, Sarojani Nagar, Amausi, Lucknow as is evident from her Adharcard, a copy of which has been brought on record at page no. 45 of the counter affidavit. Apart from that, for showing the present address of the residence of the revisionist at Lucknow learned counsel for opposite party no.2 has also enclosed the copy of the marriage card of the brother of the revisionist, namely, Amit Srivastava, registration paper of four wheeler of father of revisionist, medical papers qua treatment of father of revisionist, marriage card of the revisionist voter I.D. card of the family of the parents of the revisionist of the year 2022 and 2024, bank pass-book and driving licence of the revisionist, SIR list and declaration of the revisionist and sale-deed dated 21st January, 2024, which has been purchased by the father of the revisionist in the name of her mother, have also been enclosed.

12. On the basis of the aforesaid documents, learned counsel for the opposite party no.2 submits that since after leaving her matrimonial house, the revisionist is residing at her parental house at Lucknow, therefore, the trial court has not committed any error in rejecting the application of the revisionist under Section 125 Cr.P.C. on the ground of jurisdiction. In support of his case, learned counsel for the opposite party no.2 has relied upon the judgment of the Apex Court in the case of Amit Kapoor Vs. Ramesh Chander & Another reported in (2012) 9 SCC 460.

13. On the premise, learned counsel for opposite party no.2 submits that since there is no illegality in the judgment impugned, the present criminal revision is liable to be dismissed.

14. Considering the facts and circumstances of the case, submissions made by learned counsel for the parties as well as perusal of record including the impugned judgment, this Court finds that it is an admitted case that the revisionist is legally wedded wife of the opposite party no.2.

15. From the perusal of the documents as relied upon by the learned counsel for the revisionist and learned counsel for opposite party no.2 qua the present living place of the revisionist, this Court finds that the father of the revisionist has two places of stay, one his native place i.e. Gorakhpur and second his work place i.e. Lucknow from where he has retired from service, meaning thereby that the father of the revisionist has his constructed house at Lucknow as well as his native place i.e. Gorakhpur. As and when, as per his wishes and requirement, father of the revisionist stays at his own house either at Lucknow or at Gorakhpur. It is also but natural that after leaving her matrimonial house, she has no other option but to reside with her parents, wherever they reside. It is cropped up from the first information report dated 20th October, 2023 lodged by the revisionist against her husband and her in-laws (total 7 in number) at Police Station-Mahila Thana, District-Gorakhpur which was registered as Case Crime No. 0057 of 2023 under Sections 498-A, 323, 504, 506, 406 I.P.C. and Section 3/4 of the D.P. Act and also from the perusal of the impugned judgment, after discharge from hospital on 13th March, 2023, she went to her matrimonial house and thereafter on 15th March, 2023, she went to her parental house i.e. Bichhiya, Jungle Tulsiram, Aditya Tent House, Gorakhpur and since then she is living there.

16. In order to judge the correctness or otherwise of the judgment impugned in the present criminal revision, it would be worth to notice sub-section (1) of Section 126 Cr.P.C., which provides for venue of proceedings under Section 125 Cr.P.C. For ready reference, sub-section (1) of Section 126 Cr.P.C. is being quoted herein-below:

"126. Procedure.-(1) Proceedings under section 125 may be taken against any person in any district- (a) where he is, or (b) where he or his wife resides, or (c) where he last resided with his wife, or as the case may be, with the mother of the illegitimate child."

17, A studied perusal of the above quoted provision would go to show that proceedings under Section 125 of the Cr.P.C. to be taken against a person in any district where the husband resides or where he is, or his wife resides, or where husband last resided with his wife or as the case may be, with the mother of illegitimate child.

18. In the matter of Smt. Jeewanti Pandey Vs. Kishan Chandra Pandey reported in (1981) 4 SCC 517, the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India has defined the word " ?Resides?, which is as under:-

"12.....The expression "resides" means to make an abode for a considerable time; to dwell permanently or for a length of time; to have a settled abode for a time. It is the place where a person has a fixed home or abode. Where there is such fixed home or such abode at one place the person cannot be said to reside at any other place where he had gone on a casual or temporary visit, for example, for health or business or for a change. If a person lives with his wife and children in an established home, his legal and actual place of residence is the same. If a person has no established home and is compelled to live in hotels, boarding houses or houses of others, his actual and physical habitation is the place where he actually or personally resides."

19. Similar principle of law has been laid down by the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India in the matter of Darshan Kumari (Smt) Vs. Surinder Kumar reported in 1995 Suppl. (4) SCC 137, wherein it has clearly been held that the temporary residence of wife if not casual is sufficient to confer jurisdiction on the magistrate at that place or district concerned to try the maintenance petition. The Relevant portion whereof is extracted here-under:

"3.....we find that Section 126 of the Code requires that the proceedings under Section 125 may be taken against any person in any district where he or his wife resides. The section does not require permanent residence at the said place. Even a temporary residence, so long as it is not casual, is sufficient to confer jurisdiction on the Magistrate at that place or of the district concerned. In this view of the matter, we are of the view that the High Court's finding was incorrect. The appellant was entitled to prosecute the application in the Court of the leaned Magistrate at Nuh where as per her averment in the application, she was residing and still resides. We, therefore, set aside the impugned decision of the High Court....."

20. In view of the facts as born out from the records, it is clear that at the time of filing of instant application under Section 125 Cr.P.C. the revisionist resided at her parental house i.e. Gorakhpur which is the native place of her father. Thus, applying the principles of law laid down in the above judgments of the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India and the simple reading of Section 126 (1) (b) Cr.P.C. to the facts of the case, this Court is of the considered opinion that after leaving her matrimonial house at Lucknow she is residing at her parental house at Gorakhpur, where she has also lodged first information report against her husband and his family members. As such, Section 126 (1) (b) Cr.P.C. is fully applicable in the case of the revisionist. The revisionist has not stayed at her parental house at Gorakhpur casually. Thus, this Court is of the considered view that the application made by the revisionist under Section 125 Cr.P.C. at Gorakhpur is maintainable and the trial court at Gorakhpur as per Section 126 (1) (b) Cr.P.C. has jurisdiction to hear and decide the said application.

21. In view of the above deliberation and discussion, this Court finds that the trial court has not considered such facts as observed above and has passed the impugned judgment while rejecting the claim of the revisionist under Section 125 Cr.P.C. on the ground of jurisdiction. The findings recorded by the trial court cannot be said to legal and correct in the eyes of law. The judgment relied upon by the learned counsel for opposite party no.2 in the case of Amit Kapoor (Supra) is not applicable in the facts of the present case.

22. Consequently, the judgment and order dated 16th September, 2025 passed by the Additional Principal Judge, Family Court-II, Gorakhpur in Case No. Criminal Misc. Case No. 1165 of 2023 (Pallavi Srivastava VS. Tarun Prakash Srivastava), under Section 125 Cr.P.C. is quashed.

23. In order to achieve the real intent of the legislation, the trial court is directed to consider and decide the application of the revisionist under Section 125 Cr.P.C., which has been registered as Criminal Misc. Case No. 1165 of 2023 (Pallavi Srivastava VS. Tarun Prakash Srivastava), under Section 125, on merits, in accordance with law, by means of a reasoned speaking order, without raising any objection with regard to jurisdiction or maintainability of the instant application, preferably within two months from the date of production of a certified copy of this order after affording opportunity of hearing to both the parties without granting any unnecessary adjournment to either of the parties, if there is no other legal impediment.

24. The present criminal revision is allowed subject to the directions/observations made above.

25. There shall be no order as to costs.

(2026) 2 ILRA 1173
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 05.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SANDEEP JAIN, J.

First Appeal No. 29 of 2026

Smt. Zaibunisha ...Appellant
Versus
Sanjeev Kumar ...Respondent

Issue for Consideration

Matter pertains to whether a suit for permanent injunction simpliciter is maintainable, and relief thereof grantable, on the strength of an unregistered agreement to sell which does not confer any right, title, or interest in immovable property, in light of the bar u/s 41(h) of Specific Relief Act, 1963 and the statutory mandate regarding registration in the State of Uttar Pradesh.

Headnotes

Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 - s. 96 - Registration Act, 1908 - s. 49 - Specific Relief Act, 1963 - ss. 38, 41(h) - Permanent Injunction - Maintainability of - No enforceable right - Unregistered Agreement to Sell - The plaintiff - appellant instituted a suit seeking a decree of permanent injunction restraining the defendant from interfering with her alleged peaceful possession over the disputed immovable property and from alienating the same, asserting rights on the basis of an agreement to sell dated 16.01.2020, whereby the defendant had purportedly agreed to transfer the property for a total consideration of Rs. 65,00,000/-, out of which Rs. 5,00,000/- was paid as earnest money, with the stipulation that the sale deed would be executed by 15.09.2022 after obtaining requisite permission from the competent authority, the defendant being a member of a Scheduled Caste, however, upon the defendant's failure to execute the sale deed, the plaintiff, claiming readiness and willingness to perform her part of contract, sought to protect her possession through the instant First Appeal, which came to be dismissed by the High Court on the ground that the agreement to sell was unregistered and unstamped and, therefore, inadmissible in evidence and incapable of conferring any enforceable right.

Held: The trial court has considered all the facts and has rightly concluded that the plaintiff/appellant cannot be granted the relief of permanent injunction against the true owner on the basis of unregistered agreement to sell, which does not confer any right title or interest in the plaintiff/appellant regarding the disputed property - There is no perversity in the impugned judgment of trial court warranting interference by Court in exercise of its appellate jurisdiction - Accordingly, the instant appeal meritless and dismissed at the admission stage. [Paras 15, 16] (E-13)

Case Law Cited

Balram Singh v. Kelo Devi (2024) 12 SCC 723; Prem Kumar and Others v. Gurudev Singh and others 2024 SCC OnLine All 7420; Padhiyar Prahladji Chenaji (Deceased) Thr. LRS. v. Maniben Jagmalbhai (Deceased) Thr. LRS. And others (2022) 12 SCC 128; Yellapu Uma Maheshwari and another v. Buddha Jagadheeswararao and others (2015) 16 SCC 787; Vinod Kumar and others v. Sudha Land Ventures and Homes Pvt. Ltd. 2015 SCC OnLine All 8778 - referred to

List of Acts

Code of Civil Procedure, 1908; Registration Act, 1908; Specific Relief Act, 1963

List of Keywords

Appeal u/s 96 CPC; Permanent injunction; Peaceful possession; Encroachment; Alienation/transfer of property; Agreement to sell; Earnest money; Execution of sale deed; Readiness and willingness; Competent authority permission; Unregistered and unstamped document; Inadmissibility in evidence; No right title or interest; Defect in stamp duty; Specific performance as efficacious remedy; Simpliciter suit for injunction; Bar u/s 41(h) of Specific Relief Act; Applicability of ss. 38 and 41; True owner; No perversity; Meritless appeal; Dismissal at admission stage; O. XLI R. 11 CPC; Affirmation of trial court decree.

Case Arising From

APPELLATE JURISDICTION: First Appeal No. - 29 of 2026

From Judgment and Decree dated 09.10.2025 passed by J.S.C.C./Civil Judge (S.D.), Saharanpur in O.S. No.108 of 2025 (Old Original Suit No.1330 of 2024)

Appearances for Parties

Adv. for the Appellant:
Birendra Kumar

Adv. for the Respondent:
Nil

(Delivered by Hon'ble Sandeep Jain, J.)

1. The instant appeal has been filed by the plaintiff under Section 96 C.P.C. against the impugned judgment and decree dated 09.10.2025 passed by J.S.C.C./Civil Judge (S.D.), Saharanpur in O.S. No.108 of 2025 (Old Original Suit No.1330 of 2024) (Smt. Zaibunisha vs. Sanjeev Kumar) whereby the plaintiff's suit for the relief of permanent injunction for restraining the defendant from interfering in her peaceful possession and encroachment of the disputed property and for restraining the defendant from alienating or

2. Learned counsel for the plaintiff-appellant submitted that it was agreed upon between the plaintiff and defendant by agreement dated 16.01.2020 that the disputed property would be sold for a consideration of Rs.65,00,000/- to the plaintiff and out of that amount the plaintiff also paid Rs.5,00,000/- in cash towards earnest money to the defendant. It was also agreed that the defendant would execute the sale deed till 15.09.2022 but subsequently the defendant failed to execute the sale deed in favour of the plaintiff. It was further submitted that the defendant belongs to scheduled caste, as such, it was incumbent for the defendant to obtain permission from the competent authority for selling the disputed land and thereafter, the defendant was supposed to execute the sale deed in favour of the plaintiff, but the defendant failed to do so. It was further submitted that the plaintiff always remained ready and willing to fulfill the terms of the contract but since the defendant failed to execute the sale deed in favour of the plaintiff, as such, in order to protect her possession of the disputed property, the plaintiff was compelled to file the suit for the relief of permanent injunction, which has been erroneously rejected by the trial court on the ground that the alleged agreement on the basis of which the plaintiff was asserting her rights in the disputed property was unregistered and unstamped, therefore, on its basis, the plaintiff cannot claim any right and interest in the disputed property. Learned counsel further submitted that the above finding of the trial court is perverse because even if the alleged agreement was unregistered even then, it was admissible for collateral purposes under Section 49 of the Registration Act, 1908 but this fact has not been considered by the trial court. With these submissions, it was prayed that the appeal be admitted for hearing.

3. I have heard the learned counsel for the appellant and perused the impugned judgment and documents submitted with the appeal.

4. The Apex Court in the case of Balram Singh vs Kelo Devi (2024) 12 SCC 723, wherin the plaintiffs sought relief of permanent injunction restraining the defendant from disturbing her possession in the suit property in Uttar Pradesh on the basis of unregistered agreement to sell, held as under:-

"6. At the outset, it is required to be noted that the original plaintiff instituted a suit praying for a decree of permanent injunction only, which was claimed on the basis of the agreement to sell dated 23-3-1996. However, it is required to be noted that the agreement to sell dated 23-3-1996 was an unregistered document/agreement to sell on ten rupees stamp paper. Therefore, as such, such an unregistered document/agreement to sell shall not be admissible in evidence.

7. Having been conscious of the fact that the plaintiff might not succeed in getting the relief of specific performance of such agreement to sell as the same was unregistered, the plaintiff filed a suit simpliciter for permanent injunction only. It may be true that in a given case, an unregistered document can be used and/or considered for collateral purpose. However, at the same time, the plaintiff cannot get the relief indirectly which otherwise he/she cannot get in a suit for substantive relief, namely, in the present case the relief for specific performance*.*

8. Therefore, the plaintiff cannot get the relief even for permanent injunction on the basis of such an unregistered document/agreement to sell, more particularly when the defendant specifically filed the counterclaim for getting back the possession which was allowed by the learned trial court. The plaintiff cleverly prayed for a relief of permanent injunction only and did not seek for the substantive relief of specific performance of the agreement to sell as the agreement to sell was an unregistered document and therefore on such unregistered document/agreement to sell, no decree for specific performance could have been passed. The plaintiff cannot get the relief by clever drafting.

9. In view of the above and for the reasons stated above, both, the learned first appellate court and the High Court have committed a grave error in passing a decree for permanent injunction in favour of the plaintiff as against the defendant and dismissing the counterclaim filed by the original defendant."

(emphasis supplied)

5. This Court in the case of Prem Kumar and Others vs Gurudev Singh and others 2024 SCC OnLine All 7420, held as under:-

"Re :- First Question : - Whether a decree for specific performance based upon an unregistered for sale dated 31.05.1977 is at all sustainable"

18. In view of the questions framed by this Court, it is not necessary to comment upon requirement or no requirement of getting the AFS re-registered in the State of U.P. and whether the plaintiff was obliged or not obliged to do that, is irrelevant as the Court has to examine validity of the decree based upon unregistered agreement, whatever might have been the reason behind its non-registration.

19. As regards requirement of registration of an AFS, it is to note that the U.P. Civil Laws (Reforms and Amendment) Act, 1976 (U.P. Act No. 57 of 1976) came into force w.e.f. 1-1-1977. This Act amended the Registration Act, 1908 as well as the Transfer of Property Act, 1882, besides several other enactments. Section 54 of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882, as applicable to the State of U.P., w.e.f. 1-1-1977, reads as under:

"Section 54. "Sale" is a transfer of ownership in exchange for a price paid or promised or part-paid and part-promised.

Sale how made- Such transfer, in the case of tangible immovable property [], or in the case of a reversion or other intangible thing, can be made only by a registered instrument.

Contract of Sale- A contract for the sale of immovable property is a contract that a sale of such property shall take place on terms settled between the parties.

It does not, of itself, create any interest in or charge on such property.

Such contract can be made only by a registered instrument."

20. Section 3 of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882 defines-

"Instrument- as a non testamentary instrument

"Registered- means registered in any part of the territories to which this Act extends under the law for the time being in force regulating the registration of documents."

21. Section 17 of the Registration Act, 1908 Act provides that certain documents are required to be compulsorily registered and, other documents are exempted from being registered. Section 17(1)(b) of the Registration Act, 1908, as applicable in the State of U.P., reads as under:

"Section 17(1)- The following documents shall be registered- (1) The following documents shall be registered, if the property to which they relate is situate in a district in which, and if they have been executed on or after the date on which, Act No. XVI of 1864, or the Indian Registration Act, 1877, or this Act came or comes into force, namely:"

……..

(b) other non-testamentary instruments which purport or operate to create, declare, assign, limit or extinguish, whether in present or in future, any right, title or interest, whether vested or contingent to in immovable property."

22. Section 17(2)(v) of the Act of 1908 reads as under:

"Section 17(2)- Nothing in clauses (b) and (c) of sub-section (1) applies to-

(v) any documents other than documents specified in sub-section (1-A)] [other than contract for sale] not itself creating, declaring, assigning, limiting or extinguishing any right, title or interest to or in immovable property, but merely creating a right to obtain another document which will, when executed, create, declare, assign, limit or extinguish any such right, title or interest or;

The words "other than contract for sale" occurring in Section 17(2)(v) of the Registration Act have been inserted by U.P. Act No. 57 of 1976 w.e.f. 1-1-77.

23. Section 4 of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882 reads as under:

"4. Enactments relating to contracts to be taken as part of Contract Act and supplemental to the Registration Act. - The chapters and sections of this Act which relate to contracts shall be taken as part of the Indian Contract Act, 1872 (IX of 1872).

[And Section 54, Paragraphs 2 and 3, 59, 107 and 123 shall be read as supplemental to the Indian Registration Act, 1908 (XVI of 1908).]"

24. Thus, from a combined reading of Sections 3, 4 and 54 of the Act of 1882 and, Section 17 of the Act of 1908, as applicable to the State of U.P., as amended by U.P. Act 57 of 1976, it is clear that every contract of sale of an immovable property situated in any district of U.P. shall be made only by a registered instrument. Even though a contract for sale of immovable property does not by itself create any interest in or charge on such property and only creates a right to obtain another document which will, when executed, create, declare, assign, limit or extinguish any such right, title or interest, nonetheless, the said contract for sale of an immovable property is required to be registered in the State of U.P. w.e.f. 1-1-1977.

25. The next question which arises for consideration is whether an unregistered document for sale of an immovable property, could still be enforced in a suit for specific performance. At this stage, the Court may refer to Section 49 contained in the Registration Act, 1908 alongwith U.P. Amendments made therein by U.P. Act No. 57 of 1976, w.e.f. 01.01.1977. A careful perusal of the amendments made would reflect that certain provisions relating to admissibility of an unregistered agreement in a suit for specific performance have been "omitted" and requirement of registration has been "inserted." The provision reads as under:"

Central Act

"49. Effect of non-registration of documents required to be registered.- No document required by section 17 [or by any provision of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882 (4 of 1882) to be registered shall-

(a) affect any immovable property comprised therein, or

(b) confer any power to adopt, or

(c) be received as evidence of any transaction affecting such property or conferring such power,

unless it has been registered:*

[Provided that an unregistered document affecting immovable property and required by this Act, or the Transfer of Property Act, 1882 (4 of 1882), to be registered may be received as evidence of a contract in a suit for specific performance under Chapter II of the Specific Relief Act, 1877 (3 of 1877) [] or as evidence of any collateral transaction not required to be effected by registered instrument.]

In Uttar Pradesh:

In Section 49,-

*(i) in the first paragraph, after the words "or by any provision of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882", insert the words "or of any other law for the time being in force";

(ii) for clause (b), substitute the following clause, namely : -

(b) confer any power or create any right or relationship, or";

(iii) in clause (c), after the words "such power", insert the words "or creating such right or relationship";

*(iv) in the proviso, omit the words "as evidence of a contract in a suit for specific performance under Chapter II of the Specific Relief Act, 1877, or."

[Vide Uttar Pradesh Act 57 of 1976, sec. 34 (w.e.f. 1--1-1977).]"

26. The result of these amendments is, that, prior to 01.01.1977, an unregistered contract for sale qua immovable property situated in U.P. could be enforced in a suit for specific performance of a contract, but after the amendment in Section 49 of the Registration Act w.e.f. 01.01.1977, an unregistered agreement cannot be enforced in a suit for specific performance of a contract nor can it be read in evidence."

6. The Apex Court in the case of Padhiyar Prahladji Chenaji (Deceased) Thr. LRS. vs. Maniben Jagmalbhai (Deceased) Thr. LRS. And others (2022) 12 SCC 128, held as under:-

"18. Even otherwise on merits also, the courts below have erred in passing the decree of permanent injunction restraining Defendant 1 from disturbing the alleged possession of the plaintiff. Assuming for the sake of argument that the plaintiff is found to be in possession, in that case also, once the plaintiff has lost so far as the relief of declaration and title is concerned and Defendant 1 is held to be the true and absolute owner of the property in question, pursuant to the execution of the sale deed dated 17-6-1975 in his favour, the true owner cannot be restrained by way of an injunction against him. In a given case, the plaintiff may succeed in getting the injunction even by filing a simple suit for permanent injunction in a case where there is a cloud on the title. However, once the dispute with respect to title is settled and it is held against the plaintiff, in that case, the suit by the plaintiff for permanent injunction shall not be maintainable against the true owner. In such a situation, it will not be open for the plaintiff to contend that though he/she has lost the case so far as the title dispute is concerned, the defendant " the true owner still be restrained from disturbing his/her possession and his/her possession be protected."

(emphasis supplied)

7. The Apex Court in the case of Yellapu Uma Maheshwari and another vs. Buddha Jagadheeswararao and others (2015) 16 SCC 787, while analysing Section 17 and 49 of the Registration Act,1908, has held that a document which has the effect of creating and taking away the rights in respect of an immovable property, is compulsorily registrable and if not registered, is not admissible in evidence, however, it can be relied upon for collateral purpose, subject to payment of stamp duty, penalty, proof and relevancy.

8. A Division Bench of this Court in the case of Vinod Kumar and others vs. Sudha Land Ventures and Homes Pvt.Ltd. 2015 SCC OnLine All 8778 has also considered the issue whether on the basis of unregistered agreement to sell, temporary interim injunction under Order 39 Rule 1 CPC or perpetual injunction under Specific Relief Act,1963 can be granted to the plaintiff. The relevant paragraphs of the above judgment read as under:-

"14. In the case of K.B. Saha and Sons Pvt. Ltd. v. Development Consultant Ltd., [2008 (72) ALR 638 (SC).] the Hon'ble Apex Court noticed following facts as stated by Mulla in his Indian Registration Act, 7th Edition, at page 189.

"The High Courts of Calcutta, Bombay, Allahabad, Madras, Patna, Lahore, Assam, Nagpur, Pepsu, Rajasthan, Orissa, Rangoon and Jammu and Kashmir; the former Chief Court of Oudh; the Judicial Commissioner's Court of Peshawar, Ajmer and Himachal Pradesh and the Supreme Court have held that a document which requires registration under section 17 and which is not admissible for want of registration to prove a gift or mortgage or sale or lease is nevertheless admissible to prove the character of the possession of the person who holds under it."

15. The Apex Court culled out the following principles:

1. "A document required to be registered is not admissible into evidence under section 49 of the Registration Act.

2. Such unregistered document can however be used as an evidence of collateral purpose as provided in the Proviso to section 49 of the Registration Act.

3. A collateral transaction must be independent of, or divisible from, the transaction to effect which the law required registration.

4. A collateral transaction must be a transaction not itself required to be effected by a registered document, that is, a transaction creating, etc. any right, title or interest in immoveable property of the value of one hundred rupees and upwards.

5. If a document is inadmissible in evidence for want of registration, none of its terms can be admitted in evidence and that to use a document for the purpose of proving an important clause would not be using it as a collateral purpose."

16. The word, "collateral transaction" has been interpreted as transaction in itself not required to be effected by a registered document, i.e., a transaction creating any right, title or interest in immovable property of the value of Rs. 100/- and onwards.

17. Learned Counsel for the respondent contends that even if the two sale-deeds were not registered, but they should certainly be looked into for collateral purpose and a bare perusal of two sale-deeds reveals that on 21.2.2014 and 22.2.2014, the respondent/plaintiff was put on possession of plots in suit and in view of above, learned Counsel tried to justify the impugned order.

18. This proposition is correct that if a document is invariably registrable and has not been registered, it will be admissible in evidence only for collateral purposes but collateral purpose has a limited scope and meaning. It cannot be used for the purpose of saying that the deed created or declared or assigned or limited or extinguish the right to immovable property. If the document is unregistered then it could not be used for showing that it created, declared, assigned or extinguish a right to immovable property. The term collateral purpose could not permit the party to establish any of these acts from the deed.

19. In our opinion, the contention that it could be used for collateral purpose for delivery of possession does not support the case of the plaintiff-respondent at all because by way of State

Amendment in Order XXXIX, Rule 2, Sub Rule (2) proviso (a), C.P.C., a bar has been created w.e.f. 1.2.1977.

20. In Rule 2, in sub-rule (2), the following proviso has been added by State Amendment:

"Provided that no such injunction shall be granted"

(a) where no perpetual injunction could be granted in view of the provisions of section 38 and section 41 of the Specific Relief Act, 1963."

21. A bare perusal of Order XXXIX, Rule 2, Sub Rule (2) proviso (a), C.P.C., reveals that temporary injunction shall not be granted where no perpetual injunction could be granted in view of provisions of sections 38 and 41 of Specific Relief Act, 1963.

22. Section 38 of Specific Relief Act deals with provisions when temporary injunctions can be granted and section 41 deals with provisions when injunction can be refused.

23. Provisions of section 41 of Specific Relief Act is as under:

41. Injunction when refused.-An injunction cannot be granted"

"(a) to restrain any person from prosecuting a judicial proceeding pending at the institution of the suit in which the injunction is sought, unless such restraint is necessary to prevent a multiplicity of proceedings;
(b) to restrain any person from instituting or prosecuting any proceeding in a Court not subordinate to that from which the injunction is sought;

(c) to restrain any person from applying to any Legislative body;

(d) to restrain any person from instituting or prosecuting any proceeding in a criminal matter;

(e) to prevent the breach of a contract the performance of which would not be specifically enforced;

(f) to prevent, on the ground of nuisance, an act of which it is not reasonably clear that it will be a nuisance;

(g) to prevent a continuing breach in which the plaintiff has acquiesced;

(h) when equally efficacious relief can certainly be obtained by any other usual mode of proceeding except in case of breach of trust;

(i) when the conduct of the plaintiff or his agents has been such as to disentitle him to the assistance of the Court;

(j) when the plaintiff has no personal interest in the matter."

24. A perusal of provisions of section 41(h) of Specific Relief Act reveals that when equally efficacious relief can certainly be obtained by any other usual mode of proceeding except in case of breach of trust, then there is no ground to grant injunction."

9. The plaintiff-appellant has annexed with the appeal the copy of the alleged agreement to sell dated 16.01.2020, which was executed between the defendant/vendor Sanjeev Kumar and plaintiff/vendee Smt. Zaibunisha, which disclosed that it was agreed between the parties that for a sale consideration of Rs.65 lacs, out of which Rs.5 lacs was received as earnest money by the vendor, a sale deed regarding the disputed land would be executed by 15.09.2022, after obtaining the balance sale consideration of Rs.60 lacs by the vendor.

10. It is further apparent that since the vendor belongs to scheduled caste community, as such, as per the relevant statutory provisions, he was required to obtain permission from the competent authority for selling the disputed land to the vendee and after that, the sale deed was to be executed in favour of the vendee.

11. It is apparent that the above alleged agreement to sell is an unstamped and unregistered document, which is inadmissible in evidence, on the basis of which, no relief can be granted to the plaintiff. It is further apparent that the plaintiff could have cured the defect by making good the deficiency of stamp duty on the agreement and could have also got it registered and then the plaintiff was certainly entitled to file the suit for the relief of specific performance of the agreement to sell, but the plaintiff has not chosen to do so.

12. It is further apparent that after curing the defect in the agreement to sell, an equally efficacious remedy for specific performance of the agreement to sell was available to the plaintiff, but instead of availing that remedy, the plaintiff has filed the suit for the relief of permanent injunction, which is legally not maintainable and is barred under Section 41(h) of the Specific Relief Act,1963. It is further apparent that on the basis of the above alleged agreement, no right title or interest is vested in the plaintiff insofar as the disputed land is concerned.

13. It is apparent that in the instant case, since the provisions of Section 38 and 41 (h) of the Specific Relief Act, 1963 are attracted, as such, no perpetual injunction can be granted by any court.

14. It is further evident that the defendant is the true owner of the disputed property and against the true owner, the plaintiff is not entitled to the relief of permanent injunction more particularly when no right title or interest is vested in the plaintiff on the basis of the alleged unregistered and unstamped agreement to sell dated 16.01.2020.

15. The trial court has considered all the above facts and has rightly concluded that the plaintiff cannot be granted the relief of permanent injunction against the true owner on the basis of unregistered agreement to sell, which does not confer any right title or interest in the plaintiff regarding the disputed property. There is no perversity in the impugned judgment of the trial court warranting interference by this Court in exercise of its appellate jurisdiction.

16. Accordingly, the instant appeal is meritless and is liable to be dismissed at the admission stage.

17. The appeal is dismissed at the admission stage under Order 41 Rule 11 CPC.

18. Consequently, the impugned judgment and decree dated 09.10.2025 is hereby affirmed.

(2026) 2 ILRA 1183
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 10.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SANDEEP JAIN, J.

First Appeal No. 95 of 2026

Sachin Kumar ...Appellant
Versus
Smt. Nidhi Dohre & Anr. ...Respondents

Issue for Consideration

Matter pertains to whether the suit seeking mandatory injunction for execution of a sale deed in respect of property jointly held by husband and wife, essentially involving inter se property rights between spouses, is maintainable before a civil court, or is exclusively triable by the Family Court, and consequently, whether the impugned decree suffers from lack of inherent jurisdiction.

Headnotes

Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 - s. 96 - Family Courts Act, 1984 - s. 7 - Jurisdiction of Family Court - Validity of - Property dispute between spouses - Res judicata - Applicability - The plaintiff - appellant, husband of defendant No.1, instituted a suit seeking a decree of mandatory injunction directing defendant No.2 (the builder) to execute the sale deed of the disputed flat exclusively in his favour and restraining his estranged wife from causing obstruction, asserting that although the property was allotted in their joint names, the entire sale consideration was paid by him alone and the wife was included merely as a benami co-owner out of love and affection; it was further pleaded that the property had been purchased through a housing loan for which both were co-borrowers, but the loan was being repaid solely by the plaintiff, and following matrimonial discord and separation, the wife neither contributed financially nor cooperated in execution of the sale deed, compelling the plaintiff to institute the suit, which was dismissed by the trial court on the ground that the property stood in joint ownership and no direction could be issued to execute the sale deed solely in favour of the plaintiff.

Held:. In the instant case, the suit was not instituted before the Family Court but was adjudicated by the Court of Additional Civil Judge (Senior Division), Court No. 10, Ghaziabad, which lacked inherent jurisdiction to entertain and decide the matter - Accordingly, the judgment and decree passed by Trial Court is without jurisdiction and is a nullity, in the eye of law - On this ground alone, the impugned judgment and decree is liable to be set aside - It is apparent that any finding recorded by a court lacking inherent jurisdiction, does not operate as res judicata, between the parties - Since the dispute relates to property rights between husband and wife, the suit is exclusively cognizable by Family Court - Thus, appeal allowed and impugned judgment and decree dated 19.10.2024 set aside. [Paras 17, 21, 22, 24] (E-13)

Case Law Cited

Prem Kishore and others v. Brahm Prakash and others (2023) 19 SCC 244; Sushil Kumar Mehta v. Gobind Ram Bohra (Dead) Thr. LRS. (1990) 1 SCC 193 (By 3 Judges) - referred to

List of Acts

Code of Civil Procedure, 1908; Family Courts Act, 1984

List of Keywords

Appeal u/s 96 CPC; Mandatory injunction; Execution of sale deed; Joint ownership/joint allottee; Benami co-owner; Real and absolute owner; Consideration amount; Allotment letter; Housing loan/co-borrower, Possession; Necessary party; Ex-parte proceedings; Substituted service; Dismissal of suit; Lack of documentary evidence; Entitlement to relief; Estranged wife; Pending litigations (divorce, maintenance, criminal proceedings), Property dispute between spouses; Inherent lack of jurisdiction; Family Court jurisdiction; s. 7 of Family Courts Act; Exclusive cognizance; Civil court lacking jurisdiction; Nullity of decree; Restoration of suit; Return of plaint ; Competent court; Adjudication on merits, Direction to decide suit afresh; Appeal allowed

Case Arising From

APPELLATE JURISDICTION: First Appeal No. - 95 of 2026

From the Judgment and Decree dated 19.10.2024 passed by the Additional Civil Judge (S.D.) Court No.10, Ghaziabad in O.S. No.544 of 2020

Appearances for Parties

Advs. for the Appellant:
Naveen Kumar, Raj Kumar Gupta, Satish, Shanu Bhatt

Advs. for the Respondent:
Gulab Chand Bharati, Ishwar Chandra Srivastava, Kaushlendra

(Delivered by Hon'ble Sandeep Jain, J.)

1. The instant appeal has been filed under Section 96 CPC against the impugned judgment and decree dated 19.10.2024 passed by the Additional Civil Judge (S.D.) Court No.10, Ghaziabad in O.S. No.544 of 2020 (Sachin Kumar Vs. Smt. Nidhi Dohre and another), whereby the plaintiff's suit for the relief of mandatory injunction for directing the defendant No.2 Agrawal Associates (Promoters) Ltd, for executing the sale deed of the disputed property solely in favour of the plaintiff and for restraining the estranged wife-defendant No.1 from creating any hindrance, has been dismissed.

2. The appeal is admitted.

3. The factual matrix is that the plaintiff-appellant, Sachin Kumar, and defendant No.1, Smt. Nidhi Dohre, are husband and wife, whose marriage was solemnized on 14.02.2015 in accordance with Hindu rites and rituals. After the marriage, they resided at Flat No. C-306, Neelgiri Apartment, Kaushambi, Ghaziabad.

4. It is the case of the plaintiff that in the year 2017 he booked flat No. K/C.A.1002, having a carpet area of 723.761 square feet, Type-4, in Block (A) on the tenth floor in Aditya World City, village Shahpur Bamheta, Ghaziabad, for a total consideration of Rs.26,11,607/- from defendant No.2. It was further averred that, since defendant No.1 was his wife, due to love and affection, he included her as a joint/benami owner of the said flat at the time of booking of the flat. Accordingly, an advance amount of Rs.1,46,250/- was paid through cheque on 15.11.2017, and thereafter, on 21.11.2017, the remaining amount was paid from the plaintiff?s bank account No. 072201501425 to defendant No.2. Subsequently, on 06.01.2018, an allotment letter with respect to the flat, hereinafter referred to as disputed property, was issued by defendant No.2.

5. It was further averred that the disputed property was purchased by obtaining a loan from Indiabulls Housing Finance Limited, Delhi, in which defendant no. 1 was co-borrower, since in the allotment letter she was benami joint owner. It was further averred that on 17.02.2018, an amount of Rs.22,56,536/- was paid by cheque/DD No. 663631, and further, on 27.03.2018, an amount of Rs.1,33,867/- was paid by cheque/DD No. 699666 to defendant No.2 by plaintiff. It was also averred that the housing loan was being repaid by the plaintiff alone through EMIs of Rs.22,097/-, from his salary account.

6. It is the case of the plaintiff that his wife/defendant No.1 has not paid any amount towards the purchase of the disputed property and that only due to love and affection he included her as a benami co-owner at the time of allotment, whereas he is the real and absolute owner of the property. Therefore, he claims entitlement to have the sale deed of the disputed property executed solely in his favour.

7. It was further averred that subsequently the intention of defendant No.1 turned malafide and ideological differences arose between the husband and wife, due to which on 05.12.2018 the defendant No.1 left the matrimonial home and deserted the plaintiff. Thereafter, criminal litigation was also initiated by the estranged wife against the plaintiff. It was also averred that the plaintiff filed a suit under Section 9 of the Hindu Marriage Act for restitution of conjugal rights, which is pending before the competent court. It was also averred that the plaintiff was in possession of the disputed property since 09.04.2019, which was handed by defendant no.2.

8. In this background, the plaintiff requested defendant No.2 to execute the sale deed of the disputed property solely in his favour. However, when defendant No.2 refused to do so, the plaintiff filed the present suit seeking the following reliefs:-

(i) That a decree of mandatory injunction be granted in favour of the plaintiff and against the defendants, directing defendant No.2 to execute the sale deed of the disputed property solely in favour of the plaintiff, and defendant No.1 be restrained from causing any hindrance therein;

(ii) That the cost of the suit be awarded to the plaintiff against the defendants; and

(iii) Any other relief which the Court may deem fit and proper in the facts and circumstances of the case.

9. The written statement was filed by defendant No.2 before the Trial Court, wherein it was averred that the disputed property is in joint ownership of the plaintiff and defendant No.1 and, therefore, defendant No.2 was legally bound to execute the sale deed in favour of both joint allottees. It was further averred that the plaintiff had no cause of action to file the suit against defendant No.2. Indiabulls Housing Finance Ltd. is a necessary party to the suit. The plaintiff and defendant no.1 are liable to pay outstanding amount of Rs. 4,64,189/- to it.

10. It is apparent from the record that defendant No.1 failed to appear before the Trial Court, and consequently substituted service was effected upon her through publication in a local newspaper, which was deemed sufficient. Thereafter, by order dated 06.02.2023, the suit was proceeded ex-parte against defendant No.1.

11. The Trial Court concluded that since the disputed property was purchased jointly by plaintiff and defendant No.1, the plaintiff was not entitled to seek execution of the sale deed solely in his favour, being bound by the terms and conditions of the agreement. The Trial Court further held that the plaintiff failed to produce any documentary evidence to establish payment of the entire sale consideration to defendant No.2. It was also held that, as the allotment of the disputed property was made jointly, defendant No.2 cannot be directed to execute the sale deed solely in favour of the plaintiff. On these grounds, the suit was dismissed.

12. Aggrieved by the said judgment and decree, the plaintiff has filed the present appeal.

13. It is undisputed that the disputed property stands in the joint names of the plaintiff and defendant No.1. The assertion of the plaintiff is that he purchased the property benami in the joint name of his wife purely out of love and affection and that the entire consideration was paid by him alone. The plaintiff seeks execution of the sale deed exclusively in his favour on this basis.

14. It is also apparent that several litigations relating to divorce, maintenance, and criminal proceedings regarding demand of dowry are pending between the husband and wife before different courts. The core dispute pertains to property rights between the spouses, and jurisdiction for adjudication of such disputes vests in the Family Court constituted under the Family Courts Act, 1984.

15. Section 7 of The Family Courts Act,1984, reads as under:-

7. Jurisdiction.----(1) Subject to the other provisions of this Act, a Family Court shall?

(a) have and exercise all the jurisdiction exercisable by any district court or any subordinate civil court under any law for the time being in force in respect of suits and proceedings of the nature referred to in the Explanation; and

(b) be deemed, for the purposes of exercising such jurisdiction under such law, to be a district court or, as the case may be, such subordinate civil court for the area to which the jurisdiction of the Family Court extends.

Explanation.?The suits and proceedings referred to in this sub-section are suits and proceedings of the following nature, namely:?

(a) a suit or proceeding between the parties to a marriage for a decree of nullity of marriage (declaring the marriage to be null and void or, as the case may be, annulling the marriage) or restitution of conjugal rights or judicial separation or dissolution of marriage;

(b) a suit or proceeding for a declaration as to the validity of a marriage or as to the matrimonial status of any person;

(c) a suit or proceeding between the parties to a marriage with respect to the property of the parties or of either of them;

(d) a suit or proceeding for an order or injunction in circumstances arising out of a marital relationship;

(e) a suit or proceeding for a declaration as to the legitimacy of any person;

(f) a suit or proceeding for maintenance;

(g) a suit or proceeding in relation to the guardianship of the person or the custody of, or access to, any minor.

(2) Subject to the other provisions of this Act, a Family Court shall also have and exercise?

(a) the jurisdiction exercisable by a Magistrate of the first class under Chapter IX (relating to order for maintenance of wife, children and parents) of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 (2 of 1974); and

(b) such other jurisdiction as may be conferred on it by any other enactment.

16. Explanation (c) of Section 7(1) of the Family Courts Act,1984 provides that suits or proceedings between the parties to a marriage with respect to the property of the parties or of either of them, are only cognizable by the Family Court.

17. In the present case, the suit was not instituted before the Family Court but was adjudicated by the Court of the Additional Civil Judge (Senior Division), Court No. 10, Ghaziabad, which lacked inherent jurisdiction to entertain and decide the matter. In view of the above patent defect, this Court is not required to examine the impugned judgment on merits.

18. Learned counsel for the plaintiff/appellant submitted that the findings recorded by the trial court, be set aside, otherwise they will operate as res judicata.

19. The Apex Court in the case of Prem Kishore and others vs Brahm Prakash and others (2023) 19 SCC 244, reiterating the essential principles for application of res judicata, held as under:-

*33. .....(iii) To determine whether a suit is barred by res judicata, it is necessary that (a) the ?previous suit? is decided, (b) the issues in the subsequent suit were directly and substantially in issue in the former suit; (c) the former suit was between the same parties or parties through whom they claim, litigating under the same title; and (d) that these issues were adjudicated and finally decided by a court competent to try the subsequent suit;….

(emphasis supplied)

20. The Apex Court in the case of Sushil Kumar Mehta vs Gobind Ram Bohra (Dead) Thr. LRS. (1990) 1 SCC 193 (By 3 Judges), held as under:-

26. Thus it is settled law that normally a decree passed by a court of competent jurisdiction, after adjudication on merits of the rights of the parties, operates as res judicata in a subsequent suit or proceedings and binds the parties or the persons claiming right, title or interest from the parties. Its validity should be assailed only in an appeal or revision as the case may be. In subsequent proceedings its validity cannot be questioned. A decree passed by a court without jurisdiction over the subject matter or on other grounds which goes to the root of its exercise or jurisdiction, lacks inherent jurisdiction. It is a coram non judice. A decree passed by such a court is a nullity and is non est. Its invalidity can be set up whenever it is sought to be enforced or is acted upon as a foundation for a right, even at the stage of execution or in collateral proceedings. The defect of jurisdiction strikes at the authority of the court to pass a decree which cannot be cured by consent or waiver of the party. If the court has jurisdiction but there is defect in its exercise which does not go to the root of its authority, such a defect like pecuniary or territorial could be waived by the party. They could be corrected by way of appropriate plea at its inception or in appellate or revisional forums, provided law permits. The doctrine of res judicata under Section 11 CPC is founded on public policy. An issue of fact or law or mixed question of fact and law, which are in issue in an earlier suit or might and ought to be raised between the same parties or persons claiming under them and was adjudicated or allowed uncontested becomes final and binds the parties or persons claiming under them. Thus the decision of a competent court over the matter in issue may operate as res judicata in subsequent suit or proceedings or in other proceedings between the same parties and those claiming under them. But the question relating to the interpretation of a statute touching the jurisdiction of a court unrelated to questions of fact or law or mixed questions does not operate as res judicata even between the parties or persons claiming under them. The reason is obvious; a pure question of law unrelated to facts which are the basis or foundation of a right, cannot be deemed to be a matter in issue. The principle of res judicata is a facet of procedure but not of substantive law. The decision on an issue of law founded on fact in issue would operate as res judicata. But when the law has since the earlier decision been altered by a competent authority or when the earlier decision declares a transaction to be valid despite prohibition by law it does not operate as res judicata. Thus a question of jurisdiction of a court or of a procedure or a pure question of law unrelated to the right of the parties founded purely on question of fact in the previous suit, is not res judicata in the subsequent suit. A question relating to jurisdiction of a court or interpretation of provisions of a statute cannot be deemed to have been finally determined by an erroneous decision of a court. Therefore, the doctrine of res judicata does not apply to a case of decree of nullity. If the court inherently lacks jurisdiction consent cannot confer jurisdiction. Where certain statutory rights in a welfare legislation are created, the doctrine of waiver also does not apply to a case of decree where the court inherently lacks jurisdiction.

(emphasis supplied)

21. Accordingly, the judgment and decree passed by the Trial Court is without jurisdiction and is a nullity, in the eye of law. On this ground alone, the impugned judgment and decree is liable to be set aside. It is apparent that any finding recorded by a court lacking inherent jurisdiction, does not operate as res judicata, between the parties.

22. Since the dispute relates to property rights between husband and wife, the suit is exclusively cognizable by the Family Court.

23. In view of the aforesaid facts and circumstances, the appeal is liable to be allowed.

24. Accordingly, the appeal is allowed. The impugned judgment and decree dated 19.10.2024 is hereby set aside.

25. Original Suit No. 544 of 2020 is restored to its original number, and the Trial Court is directed to return the plaint to the plaintiff under Order VII Rule 10 CPC for presentation before the competent Family Court.

26. The concerned Family Court is directed to decide the suit afresh, within a period of six months, from the date the plaint is presented to it, without affording unnecessary adjournment to either of the parties, in accordance with law, on merits.

(2026) 2 ILRA 1189
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 23.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SANDEEP JAIN, J.

First Appeal No. 168 of 2026

Smt. Usha ...Appellant
Versus
Sri Kalau Ram & Ors. ...Respondents

Issues for Consideration

(i) Whether the plaintiff was entitled to claim partition and injunction in respect of the disputed property during the lifetime of recorded tenure holder Kalua Ram;
(ii) Whether the provisions of the Hindu Succession Act, 1956 (as amended) were applicable to the disputed property at the relevant time?

Headnotes

U.P. Zamindari Abolition and Land Reforms Act, 1950 — Succession — Agricultural land — Applicability of personal law:

Held: Succession in respect of agricultural land governed by the provisions of U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act is regulated by the provisions of the said Act and not by personal law; till the land retains its agricultural character, no right can be asserted on the basis of the Hindu Succession Act. [Paras 17–18]

Hindu Succession Act, 1956 (as amended) — Section 6 — Coparcenary rights — Applicability:

Held: The right of a female coparcener under Section 6 can be asserted only from 09.09.2005 and subject to applicability of the Act; where on the said date the property was still agricultural, the provisions of the Hindu Succession Act were not applicable and could not confer any right. [Paras 20, 22]

Property — Change of nature — Agricultural to Abadi — Effect:

Held: Where the disputed property was declared non-agricultural (Abadi) under Section 143 of U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act on 30.05.2007, only thereafter the provisions of the Hindu Succession Act became applicable. [Para 19]

U.P. Zamindari Abolition and Land Reforms Act, 1950 — Section 171 — Devolution — Effect:

Held: Where the recorded tenure holder died when the property was agricultural, succession was governed by Section 171 of the Act and the son became Bhumidhar of the disputed land. [Paras 12, 23]

Property Law — Right to claim partition — During lifetime of owner:

Held: Where Kalua Ram was the absolute owner of the disputed property and was alive at the time of institution of suit, the plaintiff had no right to claim partition or assert ownership during his lifetime. [Paras 23–24]

Hindu Succession Act, 1956 — Section 8 — Devolution after death:

Held: After the death of Kalua Ram during pendency of appeal, and the property having become non-agricultural, succession would be governed by Section 8 of the Hindu Succession Act and the plaintiff could claim her share only thereafter in accordance with law. [Para 24]

Civil Procedure Code, 1908 — Appeal — Interference with findings:

Held: Where the trial court, on appreciation of evidence and applicable law, rightly concluded that the plaintiff had no right in the disputed property at the time of filing of suit, the findings did not suffer from perversity and did not warrant interference in appeal. [Para 25]

Civil Procedure Code, 1908 — Appeal — Dismissal at admission stage:

Held: Where no ground for interference was made out, the appeal was liable to be dismissed at the admission stage and the impugned judgment and decree affirmed. [Paras 26–27]

Appeal dismissed. (E-14)

Case Law Cited

Smt. Anjali Kaul and another v. Narendra Krishna Zutshi and others,* 2013 SCC OnLine All 13843 — relied on; Vineeta Sharma v. Rakesh Sharma and others, (2020) 9 SCC 1 — relied on.

List of Acts / Statutes

Code of Civil Procedure, 1908; U.P. Zamindari Abolition and Land Reforms Act, 1950; Hindu Succession Act, 1956.

List of Keywords

Partition; Agricultural land; Abadi land; Coparcenary; Female coparcener; Succession; U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act; Hindu Succession Act; Bhumidhar; Appellate interference.

Case Arising From

Judgment and decree dated 07.10.2025 passed by Additional District Judge, Court No.7, Agra in Original Suit No. 21 of 2021 (Smt. Usha vs. Kalua Ram and others).

Appearance for Parties

For the Appellants: Sri Anuj Srivastava, Sri Devaang Savla
For the Respondents: Sri Narendra Kumar Chaturvedi, Sri Arvind Kumar Yadav

(Delivered by Hon'ble Sandeep Jain, J.)

Order on Civil Misc.Substitution Application No.4 of 2026:-

1. Heard learned counsel for the appellants and learned counsel for the respondent Nos.1 & 7.

2. The substitution application has been filed in time for incorporating the fact that the defendant No.1 Kalua Ram has died on 06.01.2026 leaving behind his heirs who are already impleaded as party to the suit.

3. Learned counsel for the respondents submits that he has no objection to the above substitution application.

4. An affidavit has been filed in support of the substitution application, which is uncontroverted.

5. The substitution application is allowed.

6. Accordingly, in the memo of appeal after the name of defendant-respondent No.1 it be recorded that he has died during the pendency of appeal.

Order on appeal:-

1. The instant appeal has been filed by the plaintiffs under Section 96 C.P.C. against the impugned judgment and decree dated 07.10.2025, passed by the Court of Additional District Judge, court no.7, Agra, in Original Suit No. 21 of 2021 (Smt. Usha vs. Kalua Ram and others), whereby the plaintiffs' suit seeking the relief of partition claiming her 1/8th share in the disputed property, permanent prohibitory injunction for restraining the defendants from interfering in her peaceful possession of the disputed property, for decree of mesne profit at the rate of Rs.2,50,000/- per month alongwith cost of legal notice has been rejected.

Plaint Case

2. Factual matrix is that the the plaintiff filed the O.S. No.21 of 2021 with the averments that her grandfather Ninua Ram was the recorded owner in possession of the disputed Khasra No.206 and 207 before the consolidation of holdings proceedings as per revenue records of Mauza Basai Mustqil, Chungi Andar, Tehsil and District Agra and after the commencement of the consolidation proceedings, the aforesaid khasra numbers were changed as Khasra No.2006 (min) area 0.2420 hectare and Khasra No.2007 (Min) area 0.2820 hectare situated at Mauza Basai Mustqil, Chungi Bahar, Tehsil and District Agra in Fasli year 1422 to 1427. It was further averred that Ninua Ram died leaving behind the defendants and plaintiff as co-owners of the above disputed property, which was declared as non agricultural vide order dated 30.05.2007 passed by the SDM, Sadar, Agra in Suit No.150 of 2006-07 (Kalua Vs. State of U.P). under Section 143 of U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act.

3. It was further averred that the plaintiff and the defendants each have jointly 1/8th share in the above property on which a private Sabji Mandi is running, which was situated at Fatehabad Road, near Shanti Manglik Hospital, Agra and the rental income from the Sabji Mandi was about Rs.8 lacs per month, which was collected and kept by defendant No.1 Kalua Ram as co-owner and trustee on behalf of the plaintiff and defendants. It was further averred that when the plaintiff demanded her 1/8th share in the property alongwith Rs.1 lac per month from the rental income from the property, then it was refused by the defendants.

4. In view of the above backdrop, the plaintiff filed the suit claiming the following reliefs:-

(i) that by decree of partition of the property given at the foot of the plaint, holding the plaintiff has 1/8th share and possession be delivered to her of her lot prepared by meters and bounds by the court Amin.

(ii) that by decree of permanent prohibitory injunction against the defendants, in favour of the plaintiff restraining the defendants and their agents, associates, servants, etc. in any manner from interfering in the title and peaceful joint possession of 1/8th share in the suit property of the plaintiff over the property in suit, or the defendants be also restrained to transfer by will or any other instrument or alienate the property in suit to any other person, be passed in favour of plaintiff against the defendants.

(iii) that a decree of mesne profit of Rs.2.5 lac per month be passed against the defendants in favour of the plaintiff.

(iv) that the cost of legal notice of Rs.11,000/- and the suit be also awarded to the plaintiff against the defendants.

Written statement of the defendants

5. The defendant No.1 Kalua Ram filed his written statement before the trial court in which he denied the plaint averments. It was averred that the disputed property was the exclusive Bhumidhari land of the defendant in which no right, title and interest vested in the plaintiff and other defendants. It was further averred that after the death of Ninua Ram the defendant No.1 became the sole owner of the disputed property. It was further averred that the defendant was running Sabji Mandi on the disputed property which exclusively belongs to him, as such, the plaintiff or other defendants have got no right over the income, which was being generated from that business. It was specifically averred that the plaintiff has got no right to claim partition in respect of the suit property, since she has no right therein.

6. It was further averred that the plaintiff was not even in existence when U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act came into force, as such, she cannot be said to be the co-owner of the disputed property. It was further averred that it was not an ancestral property of the plaintiff. The plaintiff's suit was barred under Section 34,38 and 41 of the Specific Relief Act and the plaint was liable to be rejected under Order 7 Rule 11 (d) CPC.

7. The defendant Nos.2 to 4 and 6 to 13 also submitted their written statement before the trial court in which they denied the plaint averments and averred that the plaintiff wants to usurp the suit property, who was having no right, title, interest and possession in it. It was further averred that the disputed property was the exclusive Bhumidhari land of the defendant No.1 wherein, the plaintiff and other defendants have got no right, title or interest and possession of any kind. It was further averred that the defendant No.1 was the sole owner of the disputed property who was running his private Sabji Mandi over the disputed land and he was the sole owner of the income generated from the above property. It was specifically averred that the plaintiff as well as the defendant Nos.2 to 13 have got no right title or possession over any part of the suit property because the disputed property was exclusively owned and possessed by the defendant No.1 which was not an ancestral property of the plaintiff.

8. The defendant No.5 also filed her written statement, which reiterated the averments earlier made by the other defendants before the trial court.

Issues framed and the evidence adduced

9. On the basis of pleadings of the parties, the trial court framed the following issues:-

(i) Whether the plaintiff is entitled to receive 1/8th share of the disputed property?

(ii) Whether the plaintiff is entitled to a permanent injunction against the defendants, prohibiting the defendants and their employees from interfering with the plaintiff's peaceful possession and from transferring the disputed property through a sale deed, Will, or other agreement?

(iii) Whether the plaintiff is entitled to receive Rs.2,50,000/- per month during intermediate period?

(iv) Whether the suit is undervalued?

(v) Whether the Court fee paid by the plaintiff is insufficient?

(vi) Whether the Court has jurisdiction to hear the suit?

(vii) Whether the plaintiff is entitled to get other reliefs?

10. The plaintiff Smt. Usha examined herself as PW-1, her husband Bhim Singh as PW-2 and Hemant Kumar, Court Amin, as PW-3 whereas, the defendant No.1 Kalua Ram has examined himself as DW-1.

11. In documentary evidence, khasra, khatauni of the disputed land, declaration under Section 143 of U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act, legal notices etc. were filed by the parties.

Reasoning of the trial court

12. The trial court after considering the evidence on record concluded that Ninua Ram, the grandfather of the plaintiff was the owner of the khasra No.2006 (M) area 0.2420 hectare and khasra No.2007 (M) area 0.2820 hectare, who died in the year 1998 and since the property was agricultural which was governed by the provision of U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act 1950, as such, his son Kalua Ram became Bhumidhar of the disputed land in accordance with Section 171 of the Act, 1950. It was further concluded that the provision of Hindu Succession Act, 1956 were not applicable and Section 6 of that Act only became applicable from 09.09.2005 and prior to that the plaintiff could not have enforced her right in the disputed property. It was further concluded that the disputed property was declared Abadi and a declaration under Section 143 of the U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act was made in the year 2007, as such, after that the provision of Hindu Succession Act became applicable on the disputed property.

13. In view of this, the trial court held that since the provisions of Hindu Succession Act were not applicable prior to 09.09.2005 as such, the plaintiff had no share in the disputed property. The trial court specifically recorded that Kalua Ram was the absolute owner of the disputed property in which the plaintiff has got no right during his lifetime and in view of this, it was held that the plaintiff has got no right to claim partition in the disputed property. On this basis, the suit was dismissed, aggrieved against which, the plaintiff has filed the instant appeal.

Submissions of the Learned Counsel

14. Learned counsel for the plaintiff-appellant submitted that the disputed property was the property of HUF and being the coparcener, in accordance with Section 6 of the Hindu Succession Act, the plaintiff was entitled to assert her right as coparcener from 09.09.2005 but the trial court has held otherwise. It was further submitted that since the plaintiff was a coparcener with Kalua Ram in the disputed property, the plaintiff could have filed the suit for partition for declaring her share and also for dividing it by meters and bounds. It was further submitted that the plaintiff also claimed for the relief of permanent injunction for restraining the defendants from alienating the disputed property which has been erroneously rejected by the trial court. With these submissions, it was prayed that the appeal be admitted for hearing.

15. Per contra, learned counsel for the defendants-respondents submitted that plaintiff's grandfather Ninua Ram was the absolute owner of the disputed property, whose name was recorded as Bhumidhar in the Khatauni in accordance with the provision of U.P.Z.A.&L.R. Act and after his death in the year 1998, the name of his son Kalua Ram was recorded as Bhumidhar in accordance with Section 171 of the Act. It was further submitted that at no point of time, the disputed property was the coparcenary property, in which the plaintiff has got no right and as such, the plaintiff's suit was rightly rejected. It was further submitted that since Kalua Ram has died on 06.01.2026 during the pendency of the appeal and the plaintiff, being the legal heir of Kalua Ram and more particularly since the disputed property has been declared as Abadi, under the provisions of U.P. Z.A.&L.R. Act,1950, as such, the plaintiff has become owner of 1/7th part of the disputed property, to which she is entitled to claim partition in accordance with law. He further submitted that the trial court has not erred in dismissing the plaintiff's suit. With these submissions, it was prayed that the appeal is meritless and is liable to be dismissed at the admission stage itself.

16. I have heard the learned counsel for the parties, perused the impugned judgment and documents submitted with the appeal.

17. A Division Bench of this Court in the case of Smt. Anjali Kaul and Anr. vs Narendra Krishna Zutshi and others 2013 SCC OnLine All 13843 held as under:-

"19. A Full Bench decision of this Court in the case of Ramji Dixit v. Bhiruganath, AIR 1965 All 1 is worth quoting:

"An agricultural tenant has no religion and no personal law except as expressly provided in the Zamindari Abolition and Land Reforms Act. It applies to Hindus, Muslim, Christians etc. regardless of their religion and, therefore, regardless of their personal law except as regards succession in certain cases. It contains its own provisions regarding inheritance and transfers; and when it has left certain matters to be governed by the personal law it has done so by an express provision. Personal law has never been applied proprio vigore to questions of inheritance and transfer of tenancy rights as it has been applied to inheritance and transfer of proprietary rights."

20. This view was also adopted by this Court in another Full Bench decision of Ram Awalamb v. Jata Shankar, AIR 1969 All 526.

21. In the case of Madhuri Devi v. Board of Revenue, U.P. Lucknow, 2011 (29) LCD 2655 : (2012 (1) ALJ 94), this Court has held that "tenancy in this province is governed by the provision of U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act and the succession is also governed by the provisions of the said Act and is not governed by the principles of Hindu Law or any personal law."

****

29. In the case Amar Singh v. Assistant Director of Consolidation, (1988) 4 SCC 143 (AIR-1988 SC 2020), Vijay Pal Singh v. Deputy Director of Consolidation, (1995) 5 SCC 212 : (AIR 1996 SC 146) & Audhar v. Chandrapati, (2003) 11 SCC 458 : (AIR 2003 SC 4389) Apex Court has held that personal law will not be applicable to the land governed by tenancy law.

30. We are in respectful agreement with this view and the view expressed by this court in "Smt Prema Devi v. Joint Director of Consolidation (AIR 1970 All 238) and hold that the words "interest in any immovable property of an intestate" do not include agricultural land of an intestate.

31. It needs hardly be said that U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act is a special Act where provisions of Hindu Succession Act are not applicable inasmuch as rights of the parties are governed by U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act. The U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act is a self contained Code."

18. From the documents submitted with the appeal, it is undisputed that Ninua Ram was the absolute owner of the the disputed property of Khasra No.206 and 207 before the consolidation of holdings proceedings which became Khasra No.2006 (M) area 0.2420 hectare and khasra No.2007 (M) area 0.2820 hectare after the consolidation proceedings and after his death in the year 1998, his son/defendant no.1 Kalua Ram became Bhumidhar/recorded tenure holder of the disputed property, in accordance with Section 171 of the U.P. Z.A.&L.R. Act,1950. It is well settled that the provision of Hindu Succession Act are not applicable on U.P.Z.A.&L.R. Act as well as U.P. Revenue Code 2006, as such, on the basis of Hindu Succession Act no right can be asserted in any manner whatsoever till the property remains agricultural in the revenue records.

19. In the instant case, it is not disputed that the status of the disputed property was changed from agricultural to Abadi and a declaration under Section 143 was made on 30.05.2007 by the competent authority, as such, after that date the property lost its character of agricultural land and become Abadi land, regarding which the provision of Hindu Succession Act become applicable.

20. Section 6 of The Hindu Succession Act,1956, as amended by Act 39 of 2005, w.e.f. 09.09.2005 reads as under:-

6. Devolution of interest in coparcenary property.-(1) On and from the commencement of the Hindu Succession (Amendment) Act, 2005, in a Joint Hindu family governed by the Mitakshara law, the daughter of a coparcener shall,-*

(a) by birth become a coparcener in her own right the same manner as the son;

(b) have the same rights in the coparcenary property as she would have had if she had been a son;

(c) be subject to the same liabilities in respect of the said coparcenary property as that of a son, and any reference to a Hindu Mitakshara coparcener shall be deemed to include a reference to a daughter of a coparcener:

Provided that nothing contained in this sub-section shall affect or invalidate any disposition or alienation including any partition or testamentary disposition of property which had taken place before the 20th day of December, 2004.

(2) Any property to which a female Hindu becomes entitled by virtue of sub-section (1) shall be held by her with the incidents of coparcenary ownership and shall be regarded, notwithstanding anything contained in this Act or any other law for the time being in force, as property capable of being disposed of by her by testamentary disposition.

(3) Where a Hindu dies after the commencement of the Hindu Succession (Amendment) Act, 2005, his interest in the property of a Joint Hindu family governed by the Mitakshara law, shall devolve by testamentary or intestate succession, as the case may be, under this Act and not by survivorship, and the coparcenary property shall be deemed to have been divided as if a partition had taken place and,-

(a) the daughter is allotted the same share as is allotted to a son;

(b) the share of the pre-deceased son or a pre-deceased daughter, as they would have got had they been alive at the time of partition, shall be allotted to the surviving child of such pre-deceased son or of such pre-deceased daughter; and

(c) the share of the pre-deceased child of a pre-deceased son or of a pre-deceased daughter, as such child would have got had he or she been alive at the time of the partition, shall be allotted to the child of such pre-deceased child of the pre-deceased son or a pre-deceased daughter, as the case may be.

Explanation.-For the purposes of this sub-section, the interest of a Hindu Mitakshara coparcener shall be deemed to be the share in the property that would have been allotted to him if a partition of the property had taken place immediately before his death, irrespective of whether he was entitled to claim partition or not.

(4) After the commencement of the Hindu Succession (Amendment) Act, 2005, no court shall recognise any right to proceed against a son, grandson or great-grandson for the recovery of any debt due from his father, grandfather or great-grandfather solely on the ground of the pious obligation under the Hindu law, of such son, grandson or great-grandson to discharge any such debt:

Provided that in the case of any debt contracted before the commencement of the Hindu Succession (Amendment) Act, 2005, nothing contained in this sub-section shall affect?

(a) the right of any creditor to proceed against the son, grandson or great-grandson, as the case may be; or

(b) any alienation made in respect of or in satisfaction of, any such debt, and any such right or alienation shall be enforceable under the rule of pious obligation in the same manner and to the same extent as it would have been enforceable as if the Hindu Succession (Amendment) Act, 2005 had not been enacted.

Explanation.- For the purposes of clause (a), the expression ?son?, ?grandson? or ?great-grandson? shall be deemed to refer to the son, grandson or great-grandson, as the case may be, who was born or adopted prior to the commencement of the Hindu Succession(Amendment) Act, 2005.

(5) Nothing contained in this section shall apply to a partition, which has been effected before the 20th day of December, 2004.

Explanation.-For the purposes of this section "partition" means any partition made by execution of a deed of partition duly registered under the Registration Act, 1908 (16 of 1908) or partition effected by a decree of a court.

21. The Apex Court in the case of Vineeta Sharma vs Rakesh Sharma and others (2020) 9 SCC 1 (By 3 Judges), while considering the amended Section 6 of the Hindu Succession Act, held as under:-

"137.1. The provisions contained in substituted Section 6 of the Hindu Succession Act, 1956 confer status of coparcener on the daughter born before or after the amendment in the same manner as son with same rights and liabilities.

137.2. The rights can be claimed by the daughter born earlier with effect from 9-9-2005 with savings as provided in Section 6(1) as to the disposition or alienation, partition or testamentary disposition which had taken place before the 20th day of December, 2004.

137.3. Since the right in coparcenary is by birth, it is not necessary that father coparcener should be living as on 9-9-2005.

137.4. The statutory fiction of partition created by the proviso to Section 6 of the Hindu Succession Act, 1956 as originally enacted did not bring about the actual partition or disruption of coparcenary. The fiction was only for the purpose of ascertaining share of deceased coparcener when he was survived by a female heir, of Class I as specified in the Schedule to the 1956 Act or male relative of such female. The provisions of the substituted Section 6 are required to be given full effect. Notwithstanding that a preliminary decree has been passed, the daughters are to be given share in coparcenary equal to that of a son in pending proceedings for final decree or in an appeal.

137.5. In view of the rigour of provisions of the Explanation to Section 6(5) of the 1956 Act, a plea of oral partition cannot be accepted as the statutory recognised mode of partition effected by a deed of partition duly registered under the provisions of the Registration Act, 1908 or effected by a decree of a court. However, in exceptional cases where plea of oral partition is supported by public documents and partition is finally evinced in the same manner as if it had been affected (sic effected) by a decree of a court, it may be accepted. A plea of partition based on oral evidence alone cannot be accepted and to be rejected outrightly."

22. It is apparent that as per Section 6 of the Hindu Succession Act, which was interpreted by the Apex Court in the case of Vineeta Sharma (supra) the female coparcener could have asserted her right only from 09.09.2005 and not prior to that date. It is further apparent that on 09.09.2005 the property was still agricultural as such, even on that date the provision of Hindu Succession Act were not applicable on the disputed property which only became applicable when the disputed property was declared Abadi on 30.05.2007.

23. It is further apparent that since Kalua Ram was the absolute owner of the property as such till the property remained agricultural the succession was bound to be effected in terms of Section 171 of the U.P.Z.A. & L.R. Act.

24. It is apparent that Kalua Ram has died during the pendency of the appeal on 06.01.2026 and after his death, since property has become non-agricultural, all his heirs are entitled to inherit the property in accordance with Section 8 of the Hindu Succession Act, if there is no Will regarding the disputed property. In view of this, the plaintiff can claim her share in accordance with law only after the death of Kalua Ram, and not prior to it. It is apparent that when the suit was filed by the plaintiff, Kalua Ram was alive as such, during the lifetime of Kalua Ram, the plaintiff could not have asserted her ownership in the disputed property, in any manner whatsoever.

25. In view of the above, there is no perversity in the judgment of the trial court in rejecting the plaintiff's suit, which does not warrant any interference by this Court in exercise of its appellate jurisdiction.

26. This appeal is meritless and is liable to be dismissed at the admission stage.

27. Accordingly, the instant appeal is dismissed at the admission stage. The impugned judgment and decree dated 07.10.2025 is affirmed.

(2026) 2 ILRA 1200
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 04.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE PRAKASH PADIA, J.

First Appeal No. 317 of 2019
Alongwith
First Appeal No. 320 of 2019

Sonu Sirohi ...Appellant
Versus
Pushpendra Singh Sirohi & Anr. ...Respondents

Issue for Consideration

Matter pertains to whether a suit for mandatory injunction seeking eviction of a defendant, alleged to be in unauthorized occupation after revocation of licence, is maintainable in law or is barred u/s 41(h) of the Specific Relief Act, 1963 on the ground that an equally efficacious remedy of possession was available.

Headnotes

Specific Relief Act, 1963 - s. 41(h) - Transfer of Property Act, 1882 - ss.38, 52 - Protection of Women from Domestic Violence Act, 2005 - ss. 2(s), 12, 17, 19 - Mandatory Injunction - Mesne Profits - Determination - Illegal Possession - Eviction - Tripartite Agreement - Maintainability of Suit - Shared Household - Licence - Revocation - Title and ownership - Burden of proof - Transfer deed - Validity - The dispute arises out of two connected suits concerning a residential flat, wherein the husband (plaintiff of Suit No.1) asserted exclusive ownership on the basis of a tripartite agreement and registered lease deed executed in his favour, and alleged that his wife (defendant) was permitted to occupy or manage the property merely as a licensee, whose licence was subsequently revoked, rendering her possession unauthorized - Consequently, he instituted a suit for mandatory injunction seeking eviction and mesne profits, and during the pendency of disputes, he transferred the flat to a third party purchaser (plaintiff of Suit No.1), whereas the wife instituted a separate suit claiming co-ownership on the basis of alleged contribution from her stridhan, challenging the validity of transfer deed and seeking protection from eviction - Both suits were consolidated and decided together by the trial court, which decreed the suit for eviction and damages in favour of the purchaser and dismissed the wife's suit, leading to the instant appeals.

Held: On consideration of the facts and circumstances, and the arguments advanced, the Court find that the amount fixed by the Trial Court is reasonable at Rs. 60,000/- per month, especially considering that this was the rental income generated from the disputed flat when it was occupied by tenant Rohit Sharma (rent agreement dated 24.6.2008) - The appellant has been enjoying the property since a long time and there is every likelihood that the rental value of the flat in dispute would have substantially increased over the years, while she remained in possession - Be that as it may, Rs. 60,000/- per month is a fair measure of compensation for the loss suffered by the rightful owner (plaintiff no. 2) during the period of unlawful occupation by the appellant - From the discussion and perusal of oral and documentary evidence it is established that the Trial Court rightly decreed the Original Suit No. 1199 of 2009 and rightly dismissed the Original Suit No. 1187 of 2011 - Thus, both the First Appeals dismissed. [Paras 34, 35, 37] (E-13)

Case Law Cited

Hashmat Husain & others v. Inayat Ullah & others, AIR 1958 Alld. 706; Bharat Heavy Electrical Rajapur Haridwar v. Sanju Paliwal, 2013 (2) Uttrakhand 1137; Sant Lal Jain v. Avtar Singh, AIR 1985 SC 857; Bharat Bhushan Gupta v. Pratap Narain Verma & another, (2022) 8 SCC 333; Nedunuri Kameswaramma v. Sampati Subba Rao, AIR 1963 SC 884; Bhairab Chandra Nandan v. Runadhir Chandra Dutta, (1988) 1 SCC 383; Nirmala Devi v. Gurgaon Schedule Caste and Vimukta Agriculture Thrift and Credit Society Limited and Others (2021) 8 SCC 785 - referred to

List of Acts

Specific Relief Act, 1963; Transfer of Property Act, 1882; Protection of Women from Domestic Violence Act, 2005

List of Keywords

First appeal; Mandatory injunction; Permanent injunction; Mesne profits/damages for use and occupation; Illegal possession; Licensor-licensee relationship; Revocation of licence; Trespasser; Ownership and title; Exclusive ownership; Stridhan; Absence of evidence; Registered lease deed; Tripartite agreement; Transfer memorandum; Transfer-cum-sale deed; Validity/legality of transfer deed; Consolidated suits - No objection certificate (NOC); Indemnity bond; Bona fide purchaser; Rights of residence; Domestic violence; Oral and documentary evidence; Maintainability of suit; s. 41(h) of Specific Relief Act; Appeal dismissed

Case Arising From

APPELLATE JURISDICTION: First Appeal No. - 317 of 2019

Connected with First Appeal No. - 320 of 2019

From the Judgment and Decree dated 11.12.2018 passed by the Civil Judge (Senior Division), Gautam Budh Nagar in Original Suit Nos. 1199 of 2009 and 1187 of 2011

Appearances for Parties

Advs. for the Appellant:
Kartikeya Saran, Rahul Sahai

Advs. for the Respondent:
Anand Kumar Tripathi, Archit Mehrotra, Atul Kumar Tiwari, Mrityunjay Pandey, Nipun Singh, Prashant Mishra, Rakesh Kumar Mathur, Sanjay Pandey, Siddharth Nandan

(Delivered by Hon'ble Prakash Padia, J.)

1. Since both the appeals arise out of common judgment and decree dated 11.12.2018 passed by the Civil Judge (Senior Division), Gautam Budh Nagar in Original Suit Nos. 1199 of 2009 and 1187 of 2011, as such, both the appeals are being decided by the present common judgment.

2. The facts giving-rise to the present dispute are that an Original Suit No. 1199 of 2009 was instituted by Pushpendra Singh Sirohi and Smt. Poonam Agarwal against Smt. Sonu Sirohi for mandatory injunction, directing the defendant to vacate the flat and restore the possession to the plaintiff. A further prayer was made for mesne-profit @ Rs.80,000/- per month from the date of Institution of the suit till actual physical possession is delivered to the plaintiff. For the sake of brevity, the present suit is being referred hereinafter as Suit No. 1 and plaintiff of aforesaid suit are being referred hereinafter as plaintiff nos. 1 & 2 of Suit No. 1. The defendant, namely, Smt. Sonu Sirohi is being referred hereinafter as defendant of Suit No.1.

3. The facts as stated in the plaint are that the defendant of suit no. 1 was married with plaintiff no.1 of suit no. 1. A tripartite agreement dated 15.6.2006 between NOIDA, M/s A.T.S. Infrastructure Pvt. Ltd and plaintiff no.1 of suit no. 1 was executed and thus the plaintiff no. 1 of suit no. 1 became owner of Flat No. 1201, Ground Floor, ATS Green Village, Noida, District Gautam Budh Nagar (hereinafter referred as "flat in dispute").

4. It is further alleged that the defendant of suit no.1 being married wife of plaintiff no. 1 of suit no.1, was authorized to realize the rent of disputed flat. In due course of time, the relation between the plaintiff No.1of suit no. 1 and defendant of suit no. 1 became strained and various litigations, including proceedings under Protection of Women from Domestic Violence Act, 2005, were initiated by the defendant of suit no.1.

5. It is further alleged that a license to realize the rent of disputed flat was given to the defendant of suit no. 1, which was revoked on 17.11.2009. Thus, after revocation of License, the plaintiff No.1 of suit No. 1 is entitled for possession of flat in dispute and the possession of defendant of suit No.1 over disputed flat is illegal. Accordingly, the relief of mandatory injunction and mesne-profit have been prayed for by instituting Suit No. 1199 of 2009.

6. It is further alleged in the plaint that the plaintiff no. 1 of suit no. 1 decided to sell the disputed flat to the plaintiff no. 2 of suit no. 1 and therefore on 8.2.2011, M/s ATS Infrastructure Pvt. Ltd issued no objection certificate for transfer of flat in dispute in favour of the petitioner no. 2 of suit no. 1. On 17.2.2011, the plaintiff no. 1 filed transfer application with NOIDA and on 24.3.2011, on execution of indemnity bond by plaintiff no.1 and plaintiff no. 2 in favour of NOIDA, permission for the transfer was granted and accordingly, the transfer memorandum and transfer-cum-sale deed was executed between plaintiff no. 1 and plaintiff no. 2 of suit no.1 for sale consideration of Rs. 95 lacs.

7. The defendant of suit no. 1, namely, Smt. Sonu Sirohi instituted Original Suit No. 1187 of 2011 (Smt. Sonu Sirohi Vs. Smt. Poonam Agarwal, Pushpendra Singh Sirohi, ATS Infrastructures and Noida Authority. The suit is being referred as suit no. 2. In the aforesaid suit, a relief of permanent injunction, restraining the defendant from evicting the plaintiff Smt. Sonu Sirohi, from the flat in dispute was prayed for. By way of amendment, a decree for declaring the transfer deed dated 25.3.2011, executed in favour of the plaintiff no.2 of suit no.1 as void, with a further prayer of declaration against no objection certificate granted by Noida Development Authority and ATS Infrastructure was prayed for. In short, the claim set-up by Smt. Sonu Sirohi in suit no. 2 was that she has also invested stridhan in purchase of the flat in dispute and proceedings under Protection of Women from Domestic Violence Act, 2005 as well as other proceedings are pending before various Courts and in view of the aforesaid, she is entitled to reside in the flat in dispute.

8. Since the subject matter of both the suits was the same property, as such, both the suits were consolidated and decided by a common judgment and decree dated 11.12.2018.

9. The trial Court had framed issues separately in both the suits. In suit no. 1, the first issue was whether the plaintiffs of suit no. 1 are owners of flat in dispute. The first issue in Suit no. 2 was whether the plaintiff of suit no. 2 (defendant of suit no. 1 Smt. Sonu Sirohi) is owner of flat in dispute. Issue nos. 2, 7, 10 & 11 of suit no. 2 also related to ownership of flat in dispute as well as the legality of transfer deed dated 25.3.2011.

10. The issue no. 1 of both the suits had been decided by the learned trial Court, holding that the owner of flat in dispute was plaintiff No.2 of suit no. 1 and subsequently transfer deed dated 25.3.2011 executed by plaintiff of suit no. 1 in favour of the plaintiff no. 2 is lawful transfer deed and accordingly, plaintiff no. 2 of suit no. 1 namely Smt. Poonam Agarwal is the lawful owner of flat in dispute. It has been further decided by the trial Court that the possession of defendant of suit no. 1 w.e.f. May 2011 is illegal.

11. The trial Court has further decided the issue holding that the plaintiff no. 2 of suit no. 1 is entitled for damages/mesne-profit for use and occupation @ Rs. 60,000/- per month from May 2011 till the time actual physical possession is delivered to plaintiff no. 2 of suit no. 1. Thus, suit no.1 has been decreed and suit no. 2 has been dismissed.

12. Being aggrieved with the aforesaid judgment and decree, the present two First Appeals have been filed, mainly on following grounds:

(A) That the impugned judgment suffers from manifest errors apparent on the face of

(B) That the suit of Plaintiff No. 2 was liable to be dismissed, which was otherwise wrongly decreed by the trial court;

(C) That the disputed flat was purchased out of joint funds (Stridhan) contributed by both the Appellant and Plaintiff No. 1, and therefore Plaintiff No. 1 alone could not have alienated it;

(D) That the Sale Deed dated 25.03.2011 is patently null and void, and no right flows to the alleged vendee;

(E) That the Appellant, residing permanently in the disputed flat with her children, who also have a claim therein, could not have been directed to vacate;

(F) That the Appellant has substantive rights under the Protection of Women from Domestic Violence Act, 2005;

(G) That Plaintiff No. 1 colluded with the builder and NOIDA to circumvent the rights of the Appellant under the said Act;

(H) That the Transfer Deed issued by NOIDA contained a precondition binding the parties to pending suits, which was mischievously ignored;

(I) That the trial court wrongly held that the lease deed was executed exclusively in favour of Plaintiff No. 1 alone;

(J) That the trial court erroneously held that the Appellant failed to produce documentary evidence of financial contribution;

(K) That case laws cited by the Appellant were misconstrued;

(L) That the imposition of damages at Rs. 60,000 p.m. is unjust, given the Appellant's meagre maintenance of Rs. 75,000/-;

(M) That allowing the impugned judgment would occasion failure of justice and cause irreparable loss.

13. On the basis of the grounds mentioned above and the argument raised by the learned counsel for the appellant, following points/issues for determination have been framed.

(A) Suit No. 1 for mandatory injunction is barred under section 41(h) of Specific Relief Act, 1963, which provides that an injunction cannot be granted when equally efficacious relief can be obtained by any other usual mode of proceedings except in case of breach of trust.

(B) The findings that the plaintiff no. 1 of suit no. 1 was absolute owner of flat in dispute are perverse and contrary to evidence on record.

(C) The transfer deed dated 25.3.2011 is illegal.

(D) Award of damage @ Rs. 60,000/- per month is contrary to evidence on record.

Point No. 1-Preliminary Objection

14. The appellant has raised a preliminary objection to the maintainability of Suit No. 1, contending that the suit for mandatory injunction is barred under section 41(h) of the Specific Relief Act, 1963, which provides that an injunction cannot be granted when equally efficacious relief can certainly be obtained by any other usual mode of proceeding except in case of breach of trust.

15. The learned counsel for the appellant has argued that the plaintiff of suit no.1 in plaint has indicated that the defendant is trespasser over flat in dispute, thus, the suit for mandatory injunction is not maintainable and the plaintiff should have filed suit for possession. The learned counsel for the appellant has also relied upon a case of Hashmat Husain & others Vs. Inayat Ullah & others, AIR 1958 Alld. 706 and also a case of Bharat Heavy Electrical Rajapur Haridwar Vs. Sanju Paliwal, 2013 (2) Uttrakhand 1137.

16. On the other hand, the learned Senior Counsel for plaintiff of suit no.1 stated that it was specifically argued before the trial Court that the defendant was residing in flat in a capacity of licensee and this fact was admitted by her. This admission on her part clearly established the relationship of licensor and licensee, as provided under Indian Easement Act, 1882. The license was terminated by plaintiff no. 1 of suit no. 1 by giving notice dated 17.11.2009 to remove his possession from the house within 15 days. He has relied upon AIR 1985 SC 857 Sant Lal Jain Vs. Avtar Singh. The Court has observed:

"In a suit, where a mandatory injunction for possession is sought by a licensor from a licensee who has terminated the license, the suit is not barred merely because it takes the form of a suit for mandatory injunction. The object of the suit is possession, and the relief sought is possession which the plaintiff may be found to be entitled."

In case of Bharat Bhushan Gupta Vs. Pratap Narain Verma & another, (2022) 8 SCC 333, the Hon'ble Supreme Court has reaffirmed the position that when a licensor-licensee relationship exists and the licensor can seek mandatory injunction for possession without being barred under section 41 (h) of the Specific Relief Act.

17. The learned trial Court, after appraisal of evidence recorded findings that the plaintiff no. 1 of suit no. 1 has permitted appellant to collect rent as an agent and to enter and exit the premises for limited purpose only. The trial Court has further recorded findings that the permission for revocation was granted on 17.11.2009 and thus she has no legal right to continue occupying the disputed flat in question.

18. Thus, in view of the law laid down by the Apex Court, as referred above, the suit for mandatory injunction was maintainable.

Point No. 2-Onwership and title of plaintiff no.1 of suit no. 1

19. The learned trial Court has recorded finding that the plaintiff of suit no. 1 is owner of flat in dispute, in view of the registered lease deed dated 16.6.2006 executed exclusively in favour of plaintiff no. 1 of suit no. 1. The trial Court has recorded finding that the plaintiff no. 1 of suit no. 1 has taken loan from HSBC Bank and NOC was issued by the bank and this fact was admitted by the defendant of suit no. 2, namely, ATS Infrastructure Ltd. and Noida Development Authority.

20. The appellant, (defendant of suit no. 1) has filed her affidavit in evidence, stating therein that she has contributed obtaining lease/ownership of flat in dispute by selling her stridhan and thus she is co-owner of flat and accordingly, the transfer deed executed by plaintiff no.1 of suit no. 1 is without authority.

21. Though an affidavit was filed by defendant of suit no. 1, being plaintiff of suit no. 2, but she never appeared for examination, despite repeated opportunities provided to her to appear for cross-examination. In absence of cross-examination, the affidavit in evidence filed by the appellant has rightly not been relied upon by the trial Court and the contention of the appellant that she has contributed funds in purchase/lease of flat in dispute has rightly been disbelieved. No documentary evidence whatsoever has been adduced by the defendant of suit no.1 to establish that she has contributed in obtaining the transfer deed dated 16.6.2006 of flat in dispute.

22. It is further argued by the learned counsel for the appellant that no separate issue was framed by the trial Court, as such, appellant could not lead evidence to the fact that joint funds were invested in purchase/lease of flat in dispute and thus, the invested appellant was prejudice of proper opportunity to lead evidence on the said issue.

23. From perusal of record and the oral evidence adduced by the parties, it is established that the defendant of suit No.1 has not let any documentary or oral evidence to establish that she has contributed in purchase of flat in dispute. The only evidence adduced by her, during trial is an affidavit of evidence but as she had not turned up despite various opportunities provided by the Court for cross-examination, as such, the affidavit filed by her, cannot be accepted in absence of cross-examination. On the other hand, the plaintiff of suit n?. 1 has adduced ample evidence i.e. statement of loan taken by plaintiff no. 1 of suit no. 1 from HSBC Bank and subsequent NOC issued by the bank. Thus, it is established that it is the plaintiff no. 1 who made investment in purchase of flat. The learned counsel for the appellant has failed to Indicate any document to suggest that any amount was invested by her in purchase of flat in question.

24. The learned trial Court has framed issues with regard to ownership of flat in dispute and it was open to appellant to establish that the ownership of plaintiff no. 1 of suit no. 1 was not exclusive, but was joint ownership, but no evidence was led to establish joint ownership. Thus, argument raised by the learned counsel for the appellant that her right was prejudiced to lead evidence in absence of proper issue, is wholly misconceived and not tenable in law, especially when the parties have full knowledge about the case and have not pleaded but have led evidence with respect to their ownership.

In Nedunuri Kameswaramma Vs. Sampati Subba Rao, AIR 1963 SC 884, it has been held by the Hon'ble Supreme Court that when the parties are ad idem on the fact involved in the suit and have pleaded about the same as well as led evidence with respect to the same, it is not necessary for the trial Court to have framed separate issues, as the Court has effectively disposed off the point in its judgment.

In Bhairab Chandra Nandan Vs. Runadhir Chandra Dutta, (1988) 1 SCC 383, the Hon'ble Supreme Court held that where evidence has been led by parties with respect to certain facts, despite the absence of a formally framed issue, the findings returned by the trial Court on such facts are not rendered nugatory.

25. The trial Court has further recorded findings:

"उपरोक्त िविध व्य वस्थाओं के आलोक में उभयपक्षों के अिभवचनों में यह स् पश् ट रूप से स् वी कृत तथ्य है िक िववाि◌दत फ़् लै ट अग्र णी वाद के वादी सं0-1 पुश्पेन्द्रिसह िसरोही को आवंि◌टत हु आ था, न िक आवंटन प्र ि◌तवाि◌दनी के साथ संयुक्त रू पसे हु आ था। अग्र णी वाद की पत्रा वली पर उपलब्ध प्र पत्र सं0-80ग 1 व 81ग1 केअवलोकन से भी यह दिषत होता है िक िववाि◌दत फ़् लै ट के सम् बन् ध में पंजीकृतलीज डीड वादी सं0-1 पुश्पेन्द्र िसह िसरोही के पक्ष में िनश् पा ि◌दत की गयी थी।इसके अितिरक्त पत्रा वली पर उपलब्ध प्र पत्र 79ग1 के अवलोकन से यह दिशतहोता है िक पुष्पेन्द्र िसरोही द्व ा रा एच.एस.बी.सी. से ऋण ि◌लया गया था ि◌जसकेसम् ब नध में नोड्यू ज प्र माण पत्र प्रस् तु त िकया गया है। प्र ि◌तवादी सं0-2 के पक्ष मेंमूल आवंटन के तथ्य को पष्चा तवतीर् वाद के प्र ि◌तवादी सं0-3 -ए०टी०एस०FAPL No. 317 of 20198इन्फाट्रेक् ट र ि◌ल० व प्र ि◌तवादी सं0-4 नोएडा ि◌वकास प्र ा ि◌धकरण द्व ा रा अपने प्रितवादं पत्र में स् वी कार िकया गया है। इस प्र कार स् पश् ट तः वादी सं०-1 ि◌ववाि◌दत फ़्लै ट का मूल आवंटी व स् वा मी बतौर पट्टा धारी था। यह भी स् वी कृत तथ्य है

िकअिग्र णी वाद की वाि◌दनी सं0-2 श्र ◌ी मती पूनम अग्र वाल द्व ◌ा रा ि◌ववाि◌दत फ़् लै ट कोजिरये पंजीकृत बैनामा वादी सं0-1 से पष्चा तवतीर् वाद के प्र ि◌तवादी सं०-३ए०टी०एस० इन्फाट्रेक् च र ि◌ल० से एन०ओ०सी० ि◌दनांक-08-02-2011 को एवं प्रितवादी सं0-4. नोएडा ि◌वकास प्र ◌ा ि◌धकरण से टी०एम० ि◌दनांक-25-03-2011को प्र ◌ाप् त कर वादी सं0-1 से क्र य ि◌कया गया है। प्र ि◌तवादी सं०-3 द्व ◌ा रा अपने प्रितवाद पत्र में यह स् पष्ट कथन ि◌कया गया है ि◌क ि◌ववाि◌दत फ़् लै ट की स् वा ि◌मनीअिग्र णी वाद की वादी सं0-2 श्र ◌ी मती पूनम अग्र वाल दजर् कागजात हैं। इस सम् बन् धमें अिग्र णी वाद की प्र ि◌तवाि◌दनी व पश्चा तवतीर् वाद की वाि◌दनी का क्रमषः अपने प्रितवाद पत्र व वाद पत्र में मुख्य रू प से यह कथन है ि◌क चूंि◌क ि◌ववाि◌दत फ़् लै ट कोअग्र णी वाद के वादी सं0-1 पुश्पेन्द्र ि◌सह ि◌सरोही के साथ क्र य करने में उसके द्व ◌ा राअपनी व्य ि◌क्त गत सम् प ि◌त्त (स्त्री धन, स् व णर् आभूश्णों की ि◌वक्री आिद) के ि◌वक्र य से प्राप् त सम् प ि◌त्त से भी भुगतान में सहयोग प्र दान ि◌कया गया है, एवं नोएडा ि◌वकास प्रा ि◌धकरण की पोि◌लसी के अनुसार नोएडा प्र ◌ा ि◌धकरण के क्षेत्र में -ि◌कसी आवंटीके पित/पत्नी व अव्यस् क बच्चों के नाम एक से अिधक 31 सम् प ि◌त्त नहीं होसकती, इस कारण ि◌ववाि◌दत फ़् लै ट की वह तथा उसके बच्चे संहस् वा मी वांदीं सं0-1 पुश्पेन्द्र ि◌सह ि◌सरोही के साथ हैं तथा उसकी अनुमित के ि◌बना वादी सं०-1पुश्पेन् द ि◌सह ि◌सरोही को अग्र णी वाद की वाि◌दनी सं0-2 श्र ◌ी मती पूनम अग्र वाल कोि◌ववाि◌दत पलैट का ि◌वक्र य नहीं ि◌कया जा सकता था। यह तथ्य की अग्र णी वाद की प्रितवाि◌दनी द्व ◌ा रा ि◌ववाि◌दत पलैट के क्र य करने में वादी सं0-1 को अपनी ि◌नजीसम् प ि◌त्त (स्त्र ◌ी धन, स् व णर् आभूश्णों की ि◌बक्र ◌ी आिद) के द्व ◌ा रा भुगतान में अंशदान /सहयोग ि◌कया गया था, सा◌िबत करने का भार अग्र णी वाद की प्र ि◌तवाि◌दनी वपष्चा तवतीर् वाद की वाि◌दनी पर है। परन् तुं इस सम् बन् ध में उसके द्व ◌ा रा बतौरमौ◌ि◌खक साक्षी मुख्य परीक्षा शपथ पत्र प्र पत्र प्रस् तु त ि◌कया गया, परन् तु स् व यं को न्या यालय द्व ◌ा रा पयार्प्त अवसर प्र दान ि◌कये के जाने के पश्चा त भी परी◌ि◌क्ष त नहींकराया गया, न ही कोई दस्ता वेजी साक्ष्य अपनी व्य ि◌क्त गत सम् प ि◌त्त के सम् बन् ध में प्रस्तु त ि◌कया गया है। जब ि◌क इसके ि◌वपरीत यह स् वी कृत तथ्य है ि◌क ि◌ववाि◌दतपलैट का आवंटन वादी सं०-1 पुष्पेन्द्र ि◌सह ि◌सरोही के नाम हु आ था तथा इससम् बन् ध में लीज डीड भी उसी के नाम से ि◌नष् पा ि◌दत हु ई थी। इस प्र कार पत्रा वलीपर उपलब्ध साक्ष्यों के आधार पर स् पष्ट है ि◌क ि◌ववाि◌दत पलैट को क्र य करने केसम् बन् ध में भुगतान अग्र णी वाद के -वादी सं0-1 पुश्पेन्द्र ि◌सह ि◌सरोही द्व ◌ा रा स् व यंअकेले ि◌कया गया था एवं वह अकेले उक्त ि◌ववाि◌दत पलैट का स् वा मी था तथाउसको पलैट ि◌वक्र य करने का पूणर् अिधकार एक मात्र स् वा मी होने के कारणFAPL No. 317 of 2019
9ि◌विधनुसार प्र ◌ाप् त था।"

26. Thus, the findings recorded by the trial Court on the issue are perfect and the said finding is not perverse and is based on cogent evidence.

Point No. 3-Transfer deed is illegal

27. The Appellant contends that the transfer of the disputed flat was made to Plaintiff No. 2 during pendency of suit proceedings, wherein the rights of the Appellant had to be determined and hence the said transfer could not have been executed without taking permission of the concerned Court, thereby violating Section 52 of Transfer of Property Act. The counsel further submitted that the Sale Deed is null and void because the disputed flat was purchased from joint funds, the NOIDA Transfer Memorandum contained a precondition that parties must comply with pending matrimonial proceedings and that the said transfer mischievously took place without the Appellant's knowledge or consent. The Counsel vehemently argued that the transfer deed executed between the Plaintiff of suit no.1 has a false declaration recorded by Plaintiff No.1 that the property sought to be transferred is free from all disputes and litigations pending in any court of law and the said recital has not been objected to by the vendee Plaintiff No.2, which establishes that both the Plaintiffs are complicit and are deliberately hand in glove to defraud the Appellant.

28. Objecting to Appellant's submissions, the learned Senior Counsel for Plaintiff No.2 submitted that the disputed premises was rightfully and lawfully transferred only after issuance of

No Objection Certificate (NOC) by the developer M/s. ATS Infrastructure Pvt. Ltd. For transfer of the flat in question on 08.02.2011, Indemnity Bond was executed by Plaintiff No.2 in favour of Noida showing her willingness to purchase the flat in question on 24.03.2011. Transfer Memorandum was issued by Noida permitting the transfer of the flat in question in favour of Plaintiff No.2 on 25.03.2011, before finally a Transfer Deed-cum-Sale Deed was executed by the Plaintiff No.1 in favour of Plaintiff No.2 of the flat in question for a total consideration of Rs. 95.00 Lacs.

29. The Senior Counsel vehemently submitted that aforesaid facts establish that all requirements of transfer between the parties were complete and the Transferor recorded with Noida his Sub-lease transferring his rights absolutely in favour of the Plaintiff No.2. Admittedly, in the deed that was executed in the year 2006, the name of the Appellant was not recorded with Noida. The said deed is dated 15.06.2006 and is a Tripartite Agreement between the Noida, ATS Infrastructure Pvt. Ltd., and the Plaintiff No.1.

30. It is submitted by Sri Goyal, learned Senior Counsel, that Objection is to the effect that a letter was issued by Noida to the Plaintiff No.2 where-after the Plaintiff No. 2 executed the Indemnity Bond as well as an affidavit mentioning the pendency of the proceedings between the Plaintiff No.1 and the defendant of suit no. 1 before the Court of ACMM, Patilala House, New Delhi. This objection on the face of it is untenable as mere pendency of the said case had no bearing on the execution of the Transfer Deed in favour of Plaintiff no.2. The pendency of the proceedings does not indicate that the Plaintiff No.2 is not bonafide purchaser. Rather it indicates that the Plaintiff No.2 has carried out due diligence before purchasing the lease hold rights and the super structure and has shown her bonafides by putting it on record by understanding the consequences of such case.

31. Moreover, it is evident from the pleading of the Defendant that she claimed her own right of residence in the house that was occupied only with effect from 11.07.2009 at a point of time when her license was terminated by the Plaintiff No.1. It is further argued that in terms of the provisions contained in Section 38 of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882, the Plaintiff No.2 conducted due diligence, used reasonable care to existence of ascertain the circumstances and has acted in good faith before purchasing the property in question. By no stretch of imagination can it be stated that the property in question stood affected by operation of the Protection of Women from Domestic Violence Act, 2005 inasmuch as Section 2(s) read with Section 12, 17 and 19 uses the word "shared household" and does not apply to more than one household. Evidence has already been led and it has come on record that there was more than one household between Plaintiff no.1 and the Defendant, namely another flat in the same group housing, being Flat No. 1083 ATS Green Village Section 934, Noida. Once the intention of the legislature is to restrict the provision to a single household and not extent it beyond one household, the flat in question could not be included in the proceedings that were pending on the date when the Transfer-Cum-Sale Deed came to be executed.

32. In my view, the Indemnity Bond executed by Plaintiff No. 2 on 24.03.2011 was a separate arrangement between Plaintiff No. 2 and NOIDA and not a condition affecting the validity of the Sale Deed. Plaintiff No. 2 undertook to thereby indemnify NOIDA against any adverse outcome of the domestic violence proceedings, assuming the risk. This does not invalidate the sale deed. Moreover, since the plaintiff no. 1 is the sole owner of the disputed flat, having purchased it with his own funds and without any contribution from the appellant, he had full authority to execute a valid sale deed in favour of the plaintiff no. 2. The sale deed dated 25.3.2011 is therefore valid and effective, and all rights pertaining to the disputed flat have rightly vested in plaintiff no. 2.

Point No. 4- Award of damages

33. The appellant's main argument on the the imposition of aforesaid issue is that imposition of damages at the rate of Rs. 60,000/- per month is harsh and unjust, particularly when she receives only Rs. 75,000/- as monthly maintenance from her estranged husband. The relevant findings given by the Trial Court read as follows:-

"अग्र णी मूलवाद में वाद िवन्दु सं०-1, 5 व पष्चा तवतीर् मूलवाद क' बाद िवन्दु सं0-1, 2, 7, 10, व 11 के िनस् ता रण से यह स् पष्ट है िक अग्र णी वाद की प्र ितवाि◌दनी31 श्र ी मती सोनू िसरोही का िववाि◌दत पलैट पर अन्त रण िवलेख ि◌दनांक-25-03-2011 को िनष् पा ि◌दत होने के पश्चा त् तथा माह मई 2011 में पलैट खाली करने हेतुवाि◌दनी सं०-2 श्र ी मती पूनम अग्र वाल द्व ा रा कहे जाने के पश्चा त् से कब्जा अवैध हैतथा श्र ी मती पूनम अग्र वाल िववाि◌दत पलैट के सम् बन् ध मे प्र ितवाि◌दनी सोनू िसरोहीसे हजार् इस्ते माली प्र ाप् त करने की अिधकाि◌रणी है। हजेर् के सम् बन् ध में वाद पत्र मेंयह अिभकथन िकया गया है िक वाद संि◌स्थ त करने की ि◌तिथ से वाि◌दनी80,000/- रू पये प्र ितमाह हजार् प्र ाप् त करने की अिधकारी हैं। इस सम् बन् ध मेंपत्रा वली पर जिरय सूची पत्र 75ग1 प्र पत्र 82ग छायाप्र ित लीज डीड ि◌दनांक-22-05-2014 बावत् पलैट सं0-1001 ए०टी०एस० ग्र ी न िवलेज, सैक् ट र 93ए,नोएडा प्रस् तु त की गयी है। ि◌जसमें ि◌कराया 80,000/- रू पये प्र ितमाह दिशत है।परन् तु उक्त दस्ता वेज छायाप्र ित हैं जो साक्ष्य में ग्र ा हय नहीं है। इस तथ्य काउल्ले ख मुख्य परीक्षा शपथ पत्र में ि◌कया गया है। परन् तु बतौर पी०डब्लू ०-1 साक्षीFAPL No. 317 of 201912श्री मती पूनम अग्र वाल ने अपनी ि◌जरह में पृष्ठ 6 पर यह अिभकथन ि◌कया है ि◌क "इस पलैट में वषर् 2009 से ि◌करायेदार रोि◌हत शमार् रहा करता था ये 60 हजार रूपया प्र ितमाह का ि◌कराया देता था।" इस प्र कार उसके द्व ा रा स् वी कार ि◌कया गयाहै ि◌क िववाि◌दत पलैट पहले 60,000/- रू पये प्र ितमाह ि◌कराये पर ि◌दया गया थाइस तथ्य के िवपरीत प्र ितवाि◌दनी श्र ी मती सोनू िसरोही की ओर से कोई िवपरीतसाक्ष्य प्रस् तु त नहीं ि◌कया गया है। ऐसी दशा में वाि◌दनी श्र ी मती पूनम अग्र वाल प्रितवादनी सोनू िसरोही से मई 2011 से कब्जा ि◌दये जाने की ि◌तिथ तक प्र ितमाह60,000/- रू पये प्र ितमाह की दर से हजार् इस्ते माली प्र ाप् त करने की अिधकाि◌रणीहैं। वाि◌दनी सं0-2 श्र ी मती पूनम अग्र वाल का वाद सव्य य तदनुसार आज्ञप् त ि◌कयेजाने योग् य है।

34. On consideration of the facts and circumstances, and the arguments advanced, I find that the amount fixed by the trial Court is reasonable at Rs. 60,000/- per month, especially considering that this was the rental income generated from the disputed flat when it was occupied by tenant Rohit Sharma (rent agreement dated 24.6.2008). The appellant has been enjoying the property since a long time and there is every likelihood that the rental value of the flat in dispute would have substantially increased over the years, while she remained in possession. Be that as it may, Rs. 60,000/- per month is a fair measure of compensation for the loss suffered by the rightful owner (plaintiff no. 2) during the period of unlawful occupation by the appellant.

35. From the discussion made above and also from perusal of oral and documentary evidence it is established that the trial Court has rightly decreed the Original Suit No. 1199 of 2009 and has rightly dismissed the Original Suit No. 1187 of 2011.

36. The Apex Court in case of Nirmala Devi Vs. Gurgaon Schedule Caste and Vimukta Agriculture Thrift and Credit Society Limited and Others (2021) 8 SCC 785 has held that the findings of facts recorded by the trial Court particularly relating to ownership and possession of immovable property should not be disturbed in appeal unless there is compelling reason to do so. In the present appeal, no compelling reason has been brought on record. The learned counsel for the appellant has to demonstrate that any finding recorded by the trial Court, especially with regard to ownership and award of damages is perverse and contrary to evidence on record.

37. Thus both the First Appeals are hereby dismissed and the judgment and decree dated 11.12.2018 passed by the Civil Judge (Senior Division), Gautam Budh Nagar in Original Suit No. 1199 of 2009 and Original Suit No. 1187 of 2011 are affirmed.

38. Registry is directed to return the original records of the aforesaid appeals to the Court below within a week.

(2026) 2 ILRA 1210
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 24.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SANDEEP JAIN, J.

First Appeal No. 702 of 2025

Nagar Nigam Ghaziabad & Anr. ...Appellants
Versus
Indra Mohan Sachdev ...Respondent

Issues for Consideration

(i) Whether the trial court was justified in decreeing the suit for mandatory injunction directing mutation of the plaintiff's name in municipal records on the basis of an earlier ex parte decree;
(ii) Whether the earlier decree dated 31.05.2022 passed in O.S. No.1126 of 2019 was a nullity having been passed against a dead person;
(iii) Whether payment of house tax or entries in municipal records confer title;
(iv) Whether the impugned judgment and decree suffered from perversity warranting interference in the appeal.

Headnotes

Civil Procedure Code, 1908 — Decree — Passed against dead person — Effect:
Held: Where the earlier suit was filed and decreed against a person who had died prior to institution of the suit, such decree is a nullity and does not confer any right, title or interest, and its invalidity can be set up whenever it is sought to be enforced. [Para 38]

Civil Procedure Code, 1908 — Ex-parte decree — Reliance — Validity:

Held: Where the trial court decreed the suit solely relying upon an earlier ex-parte decree which itself was a nullity, the impugned decree based thereon was legally unsustainable. [Paras 34, 43]

Evidence — Documentary evidence — Death certificate — Admissibility:

Held: Where copy of death certificate was part of judicial record and supported by earlier proceedings in which substitution had taken place, rejection of such document merely on the ground of being a photocopy was unjustified. [Para 36]

Property Law — Title — Proof — Mutation and tax entries:

Held: Mere payment of house tax or entry in municipal records does not confer ownership, and title must be established independently in accordance with law. [Para 41]

Property Law — Adverse possession — Tenant — Claim:

Held: A person who entered into possession as a tenant cannot claim ownership by adverse possession against the landlord, as such possession is permissive and the tenant is bound to restore possession to the owner. [Para 42]

Civil Procedure Code, 1908 — Mandatory injunction — Mutation — Entitlement:

Held: Where the plaintiff failed to establish title and the property records did not disclose ownership of the alleged predecessor, no direction could be issued to municipal authorities to mutate the plaintiff's name. [Para 39]

Civil Procedure Code, 1908 — Findings of trial court — Perversity:

Held: Where the trial court ignored material evidence, relied upon a void decree and granted relief contrary to settled legal principles, the findings were perverse and unsustainable. [Paras 36, 43]

Civil Procedure Code, 1908 — Appeal — Interference:

Held: Where the impugned judgment and decree were based on a nullity and suffered from perversity, the appellate court was justified in setting aside the decree and dismissing the suit. [Paras 45–46]

Appeal allowed. (E-14)

Case Law Cited

Vikram Bhalchandra Ghongade v. State of Maharashtra and others, 2025 SCC OnLine SC 2360 — relied on; Ashok Transport Agency v. Awadhesh Kumar, (1998) 5 SCC 567 — relied on; Brij Narayan Shukla (Deceased) through LRs v. Sudesh Kumar,* (2024) 2 SCC 590 — referred to; Commissioner, Bruhath Bangalore Mahanagara Palike v. Faraulla Khan,* 2021 SCC OnLine SC 3633 — referred to; P. Kishore Kumar v. Vittal K. Patkar,* (2024) 13 SCC 553 — referred to; State of Punjab v. Bhagwantpal Singh,* (2024) 15 SCC 139 — referred to.

List of Acts / Statutes

Code of Civil Procedure, 1908.

List of Keywords

Nullity of decree; Dead person; Ex-parte decree; Mutation; House tax; Adverse possession; Tenant; Mandatory injunction; Perversity.

Case Arising From

Judgment and decree dated 13.05.2025 passed by Civil Judge (Senior Division), Ghaziabad in O.S. No. 960 of 2024 (Indra Mohan Sachdev vs. Nagar Nigam Ghaziabad and another).

Appearance for Parties

For the Appellants: Smt. Shreya Gupta
For the Respondents: Sri Shivam Yadav

(Delivered by Hon'ble Sandeep Jain, J.)

(1) The instant appeal has been filed by the defendants under section 96 CPC against the impugned judgment and decree dated 13.5.2025 passed by the court of Civil Judge(Senior Division), Ghaziabad in O.S. No. 960 of 2024 Indra Mohan Sachdev vs. Nagar Nigam Ghaziabad and another whereby, the plaintiff 's suit for mandatory injunction has been decreed.

Plaint case

(2) The plaintiff filed O.S. No. 960 of 2024 against the defendants with the averments that he is the owner in possession of plot no. 9, Anand Industrial Estate, GT Road, Ghaziabad, on the basis of judgment and decree dated 31.5.2022 passed by the Additional Civil Judge (Senior Division) Court No. 4, Ghaziabad in O.S.no.1126 of 2019 Indra Mohan Sachdev vs.Smt. Sushila Mehra. The plaintiff further averred that the above O.S. no.1126 of 2019 was decreed ex-parte and he was declared the owner of the above plot on the basis of adverse possession and it was further decreed by the court that the plaintiff was not to be evicted, except by adopting due procedure of law.

(3) The plaintiff further averred that the judgment and decree passed in O.S.no.1126 of 2019 has attained finality since it has not been challenged by anyone in a court of law, as such it is binding and effective.

(4) It was further averred by the plaintiff that he has deposited tax of the above property amounting to ₹ 28,690/- on 15.6.2022 with the defendant Nagar Nigam Ghaziabad, which was accepted by it without any objection, and thereafter, the plaintiff was regularly making payment of tax.

(5) It was further averred by the plaintiff that since he is the owner in possession of the disputed plot, he was entitled to get his name entered as a owner regarding the disputed plot in the records of Nagar Nigam, Ghaziabad and for doing so, he moved an application dated 13.6.2022 for entering his name in the property register of the Nagar Nigam ,Ghaziabad, which was supported by his affidavit and the certified copy of the judgment dated 31.5.2022 passed by the court in the above mentioned case, and he also personally met the Tax Supdt. and requested him to enter his name in the records of Nagar Nigam ,Ghaziabad but no action was taken by him. It was further averred that he gave a legal notice through his Advocate Parvinder Kumar on 17.9.2022 under section 571 of the Nagar Nigam Act to the defendants, which was also received by them, but even then, his name has not been entered in the property register of the defendant Nagar Nigam, Ghaziabad.

(6) It was further averred by the plaintiff that currently, the above plot is registered as property no. 12/9 poultry house, having PIN no. 31329 and the mobile number 9350237758 of his security guard Hemant is registered on this property, in the records of the Nigam Ghaziabad. In this backdrop, when the plaintiffs name was not registered as owner in the records of the defendants, the plaintiff was compelled to file the instant suit, for the following relief:-

''By decree of mandatory injunction granted in favour of the plaintiff against the defendants, the Nagar Nigam, Ghaziabad be directed to enter the name of plaintiff as owner of property no. 9, new no. 12/9 Anand Industrial Estate, GT Road, Ghaziabad within a time fixed by the Court."

Case of the defendants

(7) The defendants filed the written statement before the trial court in which they denied the plaint averments. It was averred that in O.S. no. 1126 of 2019, Nagar Nigam Ghaziabad was not impleaded as a party to the suit, hence the defendants are not aware of the correct facts of that case. It was further averred that in Miscellaneous Case No. 29 of 2022 Indra Mohan Sachdev vs. Nagar Nigam, Ghaziabad, which was pending before Additional Civil Judge (Senior Division) Court No. 4 Ghaziabad, Nagar Nigam, Ghaziabad was impleaded as a party, in which it came to know that Smt. Sushila Mehra has died on 02.04.1996 in Heritage Medical Centre,Hyderabad, Andhra Pradesh, whose death certificate was provided to it by the owner of Muraga Khana, which was issued by Municipal Corporation, Hyderabad. It was further averred that mutation in the records of the Nagar Nigam is made according to the legal provisions. It was averred that the plaintiff has concealed the facts of Miscellaneous Case no. 29 of 2022. It was further averred that the plaintiff has filed the suit on wrong facts by concealing the true facts. It was further averred that the plaintiff had obtained the decree in O.S. no.1126 of 2019 by concealing true facts.

(8) It was further averred that when an objection was filed by Nagar Nigam, Ghaziabad in Miscellaneous Case no. 29 of 2022 then, the plaintiff absented himself and in his absence, the case was dismissed on 21.2.2023. The plaintiff 's suit was barred by res- judicata and also under Order 7 Rule 11 CPC. It was further averred that previously litigation took place in Delhi High Court between Nandkishore Mehra and Sushila Mehra which was O.S. no. 339 of 1992, in which Nandkishore Mehra was declared as the owner of the disputed property. It was further averred that currently the disputed plot is registered as Muraga Khana, in its property records. Sushila Mehra was not recorded as a owner of the above property. With these submissions, it was prayed that the suit be dismissed with special costs under Section 35-A CPC.

Issues framed and evidence on record

(9) On the basis of the pleadings of the parties, the following issues were framed by the trial court:-

(i)Whether on the basis of plaint averments, the plaintiff is entitled to get the decree of mandatory injunction, for getting his name registered as owner of the disputed property no. 9, new no.12/9 Anand Industrial Estate, GT Road, Ghaziabad in the property register of the defendant ?

(ii)Whether the plaintiff ' s suit is under valued ?

(iii)Whether the court fee paid by the plaintiff is insufficient ?

(iv)Whether the suit is barred under Order 7 Rule 11 CPC ?

(v)Whether defendants are entitled to special costs of ₹50,000/- under Section 35-A CPC from the plaintiff ?

(vi) To what relief the plaintiff is entitled ?

(10) In documentary evidence the plaintiff has filed the certified copy of the decree dated 31.5.2022 , copy of the notice dated 13.6.2022 given to Nagar Nigam, Ghaziabad,copy of legal notice, receipt of house tax deposited with the Nagar Nigam Ghaziabad ,etc. The defendants have filed the copy of the death certificate of Sushila Mehra, plaint of suit no.339 of 1992 Nandkishore Mehra vs. Sushila Mehra, written statement of Sushila Mehra filed in suit no. 339 of 1992, substitution application moved by Nandkishore Mehra in suit No. 339 of 1992, ex-parte judgment of the High Court of Delhi in suit no. 339 of 1992 dated 7.5.1999.

(11) Before the trial court, the plaintiff Indra Mohan Sachdev examined himself as PW-1 and his son Tarun Sachdev as PW-2. On behalf of defendants, Kailash Chand was examined as DW-1.

(12) The plaintiff Inder Mohan Sachdev PW-1 in his cross-examination deposed that his father obtained the disputed plot on a rental of Rs.450/- per month, and after the death of his father, he continued to deposit the rent. He paid the rent till the year 1996 to Sushila Mehra , and thereafter, he stopped making payment because his possession became adverse, on the disputed property. He admitted that after the year 1996 he did not meet Sushila Mehra . He feigned ignorance that Sushila Mehra died in the year 1996. He also feigned ignorance that the legal heir of Sushila Mehra has filed an application for setting aside the ex-parte decree, which was pending for disposal.

(13) The plaintiffs son Tarun Sachdev PW-2 in his cross examination deposed that he deposits the house tax of the disputed property with Nagar Nigam, Ghaziabad. He admitted that currently, the house tax is deposited in favour of Muraga Khana, since he is its owner.

(14) Kailash Chand DW-1 deposed in examination-in-chief that the disputed property is recorded as Muraga Khana in the property records of the Nagar Nigam, Ghaziabad, whereas, in O.S.no.1126 of 2019, no such order was passed by the court to record the name of plaintiff as owner of Muraga Khana, as such, the plaintiff must prove on what basis he is claiming ownership of Muraga Khana.

Reasoning of the trial court

(15) The trial court on the basis of decree dated 31.5.2022 passed in O.S. no.1126 of 2019 concluded that plaintiff was the owner in possession of the disputed property, which has not been set-aside by any competent court, which was not challenged by the defendants before the appellate court, as such, the defendants were bound to obey the decree passed in that suit. It was further concluded that the alleged death certificate of Sushila Mehra was not proved in accordance with law, as such, it was inadmissible. It was further concluded that the defendants should have verified the death of Sushila Mehra, but they have not done so. It was further concluded that since the defendants were realising the tax of the disputed property, as such, they cannot refute the ownership of plaintiff in the disputed property. It was further concluded that the plaintiff was regularly paying the tax of the disputed property, being its owner. The trial court rejected all the documentary evidence of the defendants on the ground that it was photo copy, and in the absence of corroborative evidence, it was inadmissible in evidence.

(16) The trial court blindly relying on the decree dated 31.5.2022 has rejected all the objections of the defendants, and has accordingly, decreed the suit by impugned judgment dated 13.5.2025, which has been challenged by the defendants by filing the instant appeal under section 96 CPC.

Submissions of the learned counsel of the parties

(17) Ms.Shreya Gupta learned counsel for the defendant-appellants submitted that the ex-parte decree dated 31.5.2022 was obtained by the plaintiff in O.S. no. 1126 of 2019 by suppressing true and material facts from the court , which was obtained against dead defendant Sushila Mehra, as such, the decree was a nullity, which was not binding on any person, leave alone defendants, but still, the trial court has overlooked this fact deliberately and has passed the impugned decree, which is unsustainable, illegal and on the basis of which no right, title and interest in the disputed property has accrued in favour of the plaintiff.

(18) Learned counsel further submitted that the trial court was not right in rejecting the documentary evidence of the defendants, which was part of the judicial record of the High Court of Delhi, which could have been verified and which also included the copy of the death certificate of Sushila Mehra, which was admissible in evidence, but even that document was ignored by the trial court, which is the height of perversity.

(19) She further submitted that on the basis of payment of house tax, a person cannot be presumed to be the owner of the disputed property, as such, merely on this ground that the house tax payment made earlier by the plaintiff was accepted by the defendants, is not a ground to grant any relief to the plaintiff.

(20) It was further submitted that plaintiff averred in O.S.no. 1126 of 2019 that previously Sushila Mehra was the owner of the disputed property but from the documentary evidence submitted by the defendants, it was proved that she was not the registered owner in the property record of the Nagar Nigam Ghaziabad, and this property was registered as Muraga Khana.

(21) She further submitted that as per the oral evidence of plaintiff, he was a tenant of the disputed property, who acquired ownership of it on the basis of adverse possession, which was legally impermissible. She submitted that the plaintiff could never have acquired ownership of the disputed property, on the basis of adverse possession, but this fact was overlooked by the trial court, which insisted for compliance of the decree, which was a nullity.

(22) She further submitted that under no circumstances the suit could have been decreed in favour of the plaintiff and the trial court has certainly, for extraneous considerations, decreed the suit illegally against all legal provisions. With these submissions, it was prayed that the appeal be allowed and the impugned judgment and decree be set aside and further disciplinary proceedings be also initiated against the trial judge for passing such perverse order.

(23) In support of her submission, learned counsel has relied upon the case law of the Apex Court titled Vikram Bhalchandra Ghongade vs. The State of Maharashtra and others 2025 SCC OnLine SC 2360.

(24) Shri Shivam Yadav learned counsel for the plaintiff respondent very fairly admitted that Sushila Mehra has died on on 2.4.1996, as such, the decree passed against her in O.S. no.1126 of 2019 was a nullity, on the basis of which, the plaintiff has not acquired any right title and interest in the disputed property. It was further submitted that the plaintiff was not aware of the death of Sushila Mehra, as such, no fraud was committed by him on the court.

(25) I have heard the learned counsel of both the sides and perused the record of the trial court.

Precedents applicable

(26) The Apex Court in the case of Vikram Bhalchandra Ghongade (supra),while considering the situation where the defendant appellants died during the pendency of appeal, whose legal heirs were not substituted on record, concluded that since the appeal decided after the death of appellants was a nullity, as such, the decree of the trial court in favour of plaintiff was executable. The relevant paras of the judgment are as under:-

"10. Having heard the appellant-in-person as well as the learned counsel for the respondents, we are of the view that the executing Court erred in dismissing the execution petition as not maintainable. The decree passed by the first appellate Court having been passed in an appeal, where both the appellants had expired prior to the appeal being heard, its decree in favour of dead persons was a nullity. The decree passed by the trial Court, therefore, is liable to be executed.

11. It is not in dispute that the suit filed by the predecessors of the appellant was decreed on 14.08.2006. The trial Court declared the original plaintiffs as owners of the suit land that had been allotted to Mr. Arjun Thakre. The plaintiffs were held entitled to receive possession of the said lands. The subsequent allotment of the same land in favour of defendant Nos. 3 to 5 was held to be illegal. The defendant No. 3 did not choose to challenge this decree. It is only the defendant Nos. 4 and 5, who preferred an appeal under Section 96 of the Code. During pendency of that appeal, the defendant No. 4 expired on 27.10.2006, while the defendant No. 5 expired on 20.09.2010. The record indicates that the appeal was heard on 28.09.2010. As per the provisions of Order XXII Rule 6 of the Code, if a party expires between the conclusion of hearing and pronouncement of the judgment, the same does not result in abatement of such proceedings and the judgment on being pronounced, would have the same force and effect as if it had been pronounced before the death of such party took place. In view of the fact that the defendant Nos. 4 and 5 had died prior to the appeal being heard on 28.09.2010, it is evident that the proceedings in the said appeal are not saved by the provisions of Order XXII Rule 6 of the Code. In effect, the appeal was decided notwithstanding the death of both the appellants, who had preferred the appeal.

12. According to the executing Court, since the appeal was decided on 20.10.2010, which was prior to expiry of a period of ninety days from the death of defendant No. 5 on 20.09.2010, the appeal could not have been disposed of as abated. It is correct that the abatement of a proceeding cannot take place prior to expiry of the prescribed period of limitation of ninety days under Article 120 of the Limitation Act, 1963 for bringing on record the legal heirs. Notwithstanding this position, the fact remains that prior to the appeal being heard and thereafter decided, both the appellants who had filed the said appeal were no more. The judgment pronounced in the first appeal on 20.10.2010 was, thus, in favour of the parties who were no more alive. The said adjudication, therefore, amounted to a nullity and the same did not have the force of law. This position is not in doubt and we may only refer to the decisions in Rajendra Prasad v. Khirodhar Mahto 1994 Supp(3) SCC 314 and Amba Bai v. Gopal 2001 INSC 263 in this regard. The appellant, therefore, is justified in contending that the decree passed by the first appellate Court was a nullity as it was passed in favour of the appealing parties, who had expired prior to the appeal being heard and decided. As a result, the only decree that could be enforced was the one passed by the trial Court on 14.08.2006.

13. In our view, therefore, the appellant is justified in seeking execution of the decree passed by the trial Court on the premise that the decree passed by the first appellate Court was a nullity having been passed in favour of dead persons. We are fortified in this view by the decision in Bibi Rahmani Khatoon v. Harkoo Gope (1981) 3 SCC 173, wherein it was held as under:

"If a party to a proceeding either in the trial Court of any appeal or revision dies and the right to sue survives or a claim has to be answered, the heirs and legal representatives of the deceased party would have to be substituted and failure to do so would result in abatement of proceedings. Now, if the party to a suit dies and the abatement takes place, the suit would abate. If a party to an appeal or revision dies and either the appeal or revision abates, it will have no impact on the judgment, decree or order against which the appeal or revision is preferred. In fact, such judgment, decree or order under appeal or revision would become final."

These observations though made in the context of abatement of proceedings, the same position would arise when the appellant/s expires prior to hearing of the appeal, which is subsequently allowed without the legal heirs being brought on record. In the case in hand, the judgment in favour of the deceased appellants would be a nullity in the absence of the legal heirs being brought on record and the judgment of the trial Court would be the one that would govern the rights of the parties. Hence, the decree passed by the trial Court would revive for being executed.

14. The execution proceedings herein could not have been dismissed on the ground that the decree passed by the trial Court was superseded by the decree passed by the first appellate Court and was modified. Since the decree of the first appellate Court was a nullity, the plaintiffs were entitled to execute the decree passed by the trial Court. It is well settled that if a decree is a nullity, its invalidity can be set up whenever and wherever it is sought to be enforced, even at the stage of execution as held in Kiran Singh v. Chaman Paswan 1954 INSC 45."

(27) The Apex Court in the case of Ashok Transport Agency vs. Awadhesh Kumar and another (1998) 5 SCC 567, while considering a case, where suit was instituted against a dead person and the decree was also passed against a dead person held that, the decree was nullity which could not be executed.

(28) The Apex Court in the case of Brij Narayan Shukla (Deceased) through LR's vs. Sudesh Kumar alias Suresh Kumar (Deceased) through LR's and others (2024) 2 SCC 590, while considering a case where tenant was inducted into the tenancy prior to the year 1944, who was claiming ownership on the basis of adverse possession but the disputed sale deed was executed in his favour only in the year 1966, in such circumstances, it was held that since the possession of the tenant was permissive against the landlords, no question arises of them claiming any adverse possession.

(29) The Apex Court in the case of Commissioner, Bruhath Bangalore Mahanagara Palike and Another vs Faraulla Khan and Another 2021 SCC OnLine SC 3633 (By 3 Judges), held as under:-

"2. ....It is well settled that mutation entries do not by themselves confer title which has to be established independently in a declaratory suit."

(30) The Apex Court in the case of P. Kishore Kumar vs. Vittal K.Patkar (2024) 13 SCC 553 has held that revenue records are not documents of title, mere mutation of revenue records would not divest the real title owners of a land of their right, title and interest in the land. It was further held that mutation in revenue records neither creates nor extinguishes title, nor does it have any presumptive value on title. All it does is entitle the person in whose favour mutation is done to pay the land revenue in question and the mutation entry in the revenue record is only for the fiscal purpose.

(31) The Apex Court in the case of State of Punjab and Others vs Bhagwantpal Singh alias Bhagwant Singh (Deceased) through LR"s (2024) 15 SCC 139, held as under:-

"27. ...In the present case, merely because the name of the plaintiff continued in the revenue records (jamabandis), it would not confer any title upon him. Revenue records (jamabandis) are only entries for the purpose of realising tax by the Municipal Corporations or land revenue by Gram Sabhas. The plaintiff having failed to claim relief of declaration, the suit itself would not be maintainable....."

Conclusion by this Court

Analysis of decree passed in O.S.no.1126 of 2019

(32) From the perusal of the earlier judgment of the trial Court dated 31.5.2022 passed in O.S. no.1126 of 2019 Indra Mohan Sachdev vs.Smt. Sushila Mehra it appears that it was filed by the plaintiff for the relief of declaration and permanent injunction with the averments that his father Parmanand was a licensee in the disputed property from 07.07.1969 for monthly rent of ₹ 450/-, which was refused by the defendant in the year 1990, and since then the plaintiff proclaimed himself to be the owner in possession of the disputed property. He claimed that the defendant since the year 1969 never gave him any legal notice to vacate the disputed premises, since then, his possession was open,hostile and continuous and as such, he has acquired ownership of the disputed property by adverse possession. The plaintiff further claimed that since the year 1991 he is regularly depositing house tax and water tax with Nagar Nigam, Ghaziabad. The plaintiff admitted that previously the defendant had filed P.A.Case No. 64 of 1984 Sushila Mehra vs.Indra Mohan under Section 21 of UP Act No. 13 of 1972, which was dismissed on 7.1.1989, an appeal no. 42 of 1989 was preferred by Sushila Mehra against him, which was also dismissed. Plaintiff claimed that some anti social elements came to his disputed property on 25.9.2019 and threatened him to forcibly evict, as such, the plaintiff filed the suit for declaration that he be declared the owner in possession of the disputed property on the basis of adverse possession and further, by decree of permanent injunction granted in his favour, against the defendant, the defendant be restrained from interfering in this peaceful possession.

(33) Service on the defendant Sushila Mehra was deemed sufficient on 16.12.2021 and when she failed to appear and submit her written statement before the trial court, then by order dated 28.3.2022, suit was proceeded ex-parte against her and finally decreed ex-parte on 31.5.2022. The trial court concluded that since plaintiff was in continuous possession of the disputed property since 1990, he was entitled to be declared owner in possession of the disputed property by adverse possession.

Proceedings of this suit

(34) It is very much apparent that the trial court has relied on the earlier ex-parte decree passed in O.S. no.1126 of 2019, for decreeing the plaintiff 's instant suit.

(35) The defendants/appellants filed the copy of death certificate of Sushila Mehra and the photo copy of documents related to suit no. 339 of 1992 Nand Kishore Mehra vs. Sushila Mehra, which disclosed during the pendency of the above suit, she died on 02.4.1996, and for bringing her legal heir on record substitution application was filed by her husband Nand Kishore Mehra in the above suit which was allowed, and ultimately the suit was also decreed ex-parte by the High Court of Delhi on 7.5.1999.

(36) The trial court has rejected the photo copy of the death certificate of Sushila Mehra on the ground that it was inadmissible in evidence, forgetting that on the basis of that certificate, substitution has already been effected in the suit No. 339 of 1992 and the suit has also been decided. It is pertinent to mention here that death and birth certificates are never filed in the original because they always remain with the person concerned or his/her legal heirs, and in a judicial or quasi-judicial proceeding, only a true copy of them is filed. It is further pertinent to mention here that the defendants being the 3rd parties, could never have benefitted from filing the false death certificate of Sushila Mehra. In view of this, there was no justifiable reason for the trial court to ignore the copy of the death certificate of Sushila Mehra.

(37) It is further apparent that after the passing of the above ex-parte decree dated 31.5.2022 in O.S.no. 1126 of 2019, Miscellaneous Case No. 13 of 2023 has already been filed by Amod Mehra , being the legal heir of deceased Sushila Mehra under Order 9 Rule 13 CPC for setting aside the above ex-parte decree, on the ground that Sushila Mehra died on 2.4.1996, before the filing of the suit, which was proved from the death certificate issued on 4.4.1996 by Municipal Corporation of Hyderabad, a copy of which was filed by the defendants in the instant suit before the trial court, which was ignored on the ground of being photo copy, being inadmissible in evidence. The question is whether the defendants are claiming ownership of the disputed property, which is certainly not, then what would the defendants gain by claiming that Sushila Mehra has died on 02.04.1996 ? Sushila Mehra being dead or alive, the defendants are not going to acquire / inherit the ownership of the disputed property, as such, there was no justifiable reason to doubt the copy of the death certificate of Sushila Mehra submitted by the defendants.

(38) It is apparent that O.S. no.1126 of 2019 was filed in the year 2019, which was decided on 31.5.2022, but much prior to the filing and decision of the suit, Sushila Mehra had previously died on 2.4.1996, as such, applying the ratio laid down by the Apex Court in the cases Vikram Bhalchandra Ghongade (supra) and Ashok Transport Agency (supra), the decree passed in O.S.no.1126 of 2019 was a nullity, which did not confer any right title or interest in the disputed property in the plaintiff and as such, wherever and whenever the decree was sought to be enforced by the plaintiff, it could have been resisted by the defendants on the ground of being a nullity, which does not act as res-judicata, in any manner whatsoever.

(39) The plaintiff has himself averred and proved that the disputed property is recorded as Muraga Khana in the property records of Nagar Nigam,Ghaziabad, whereas it should be in the name of Sushila Mehra . The plaintiff 's name can only be entered in the property register if the previous owner was Sushila Mehra , which was not proved from the documentary evidence submitted by the plaintiff before the trial court. The extract of the property ledger as well as, the house tax/water tax/Sewer tax bill only disclose that the disputed property is Muraga Khana. Who is the owner of Muraga Khana is not mentioned in the above documents, as such, even on the basis of the ex-parte decree passed in O.S.no. 1126 of 2019, plaintiffs name could not have been entered as the owner in possession of the above property, but the trial court has deliberately overlooked this fact.

(40) It is further apparent that the plaintiff has filed house tax receipts of the disputed property in order to prove that he is regularly paying the house tax and other taxes of the disputed property to the Nagar Nigam, Ghaziabad being the owner, and on the basis of these receipts, he has tried to prove his ownership of the disputed property.

(41) It is well settled that merely on the basis of payment of house tax of the disputed property, neither any one acquire its ownership nor can proclaim to be its owner, and merely on the basis that the person is recorded as owner in the property register of Municipal Corporation, does not become the owner of the disputed property. Such person has to prove his/her ownership in accordance with law.

(42) It is apparent that the plaintiff's father Parmanand took the disputed property on rental from Sushila Mehra in the year 1969, and according to the plaintiff till the year 1996 he paid rent to Sushila Mehra,but thereafter, since he became owner due to adverse possession, he did not pay any rent to Sushila Mehra . It is pertinent to note that it was Sushila Mehra who gave possession of the disputed property to the plaintiff's father, which was never handed back to Sushila Mehra or her legal heirs, as such, the plaintiff was not entitled to claim ownership of disputed property on the basis of adverse possession, but still, original suit no.1126 of 2019 was filed and decreed on this ground by the trial court on 31.5.2022. It is well settled that once having entered the disputed property as a tenant, the tenant is not entitled to claim its ownership on the basis of adverse possession, because the tenant is bound to hand over the vacant possession of the disputed property to the landlord/owner and he cannot deny the title of his landlord in the disputed property.

(43) It is apparent that the trial court has in total disregard of the legal provisions and evidence on record, has decreed the plaintiff 's suit by impugned judgment , merely on the basis of earlier decree dated 31.5.2022 passed in O.S. no.1126 of 2019, which was a nullity, which conferred no right title or interest in the plaintiff regarding the disputed property, but still the trial court has relied on this void decree, to grant relief to the plaintiff, which is inexplicable and legally unsustainable.

Conduct of the trial Judge

(44) The reason assigned by the trial court for ignoring the death certificate of Sushila Mehra is shocking, perverse and tainted with extraneous considerations. The trial court purposely in order to cause illegal gain to the plaintiff has ignored it, which needs to be deprecated. The conduct of the trial Judge is not above board, who has either due to extraneous reasons or due to lack of competence, has passed the impugned decree, which cannot be legally justified in any manner whatsoever. It is a case of deliberate judicial misconduct, which renders the integrity of the Judge doubtful.This is a case which shocks the conscience of this Court that how could a Judge act in this manner, in order to cause wrongful gain to the plaintiff. The facts of the case speak for themselves, the blatant manner in which law has been flouted and justice has been denied. It is a case of daylight judicial murder.

(45) Accordingly, the appeal has got merit and is liable to be allowed.

(46) The appeal is hereby allowed. Consequently, the impugned judgment and decree dated 13.5.2025 is set aside. Plaintiffs original suit no. 960 of 2024 stands dismissed with costs throughout.

(47) Office is directed to place this file before the Hon'ble the Chief Justice for taking appropriate action on the administrative side against Trial Judge Shri Jasveer Singh Yadav, the then Civil Judge (Senior Division), Ghaziabad for passing such blatant, dishonest and illegal order.

(2026) 2 ILRA 1222
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 25.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SAURABH SHYAM SHAMSHERY, J.

Second Appeal No. 777 of 1981

Shri Devi Dayal ...Appellant
Versus
Nagar Mahapalika Kanpur ...Respondent

Issues for Consideration

(i) Whether the findings of the courts below that the plaintiff was a licencee and thereafter a trespasser, and not a tenant or asami, suffered from any illegality warranting interference in second appeal under Section 100 CPC;
(ii) Whether the questions framed by the appellant constituted "substantial questions of law" within the meaning of Section 100 CPC.

Headnotes

Civil Procedure Code, 1908 — Section 100 — Second Appeal — Substantial question of law — Scope:

Held: A second appeal is maintainable only on a substantial question of law. A question of law must be debatable, not settled- must have material bearing on the rights of the parties. Questions not arising from pleadings or based on findings of fact-cannot be treated as substantial questions of law. [Paras 16, 25, 28]

Civil Procedure Code, 1908 — Second Appeal — Concurrent findings of fact — Interference:

Held: The High Court will not interfere with concurrent findings of fact recorded by the courts below unless such findings are perverse, based on no evidence- suffer from misapplication of law. Where findings are based on appreciation of evidence, no interference is warranted. [Paras 29]

Property/Tenancy Law — Licencee vis-à-vis tenant — Proof of tenancy:

Held: Mere payment of lagan and production of receipts without any document of lease or tenancy does not establish tenancy rights. Where possession was initially permissive for a limited period. Such possession is that of a licencee. Thereafter, if continued, it becomes that of a trespasser. [Paras 4, 26]

Pleadings — Proof — Evidence beyond pleadings:

Held: No evidence can be led beyond pleadings. Where the plaintiff's case was based on tenancy and not on status as 'asami'. Such plea cannot be subsequently relied upon to claim rights. Findings must be confined to pleadings. [Paras 25, 27]

Admission — Nature — Order XII Rule 6 CPC:

Held: An admission must be clear, unequivocal and unconditional to be acted upon. Observations in pleadings or findings which do not amount to such admission- cannot confer any right upon the plaintiff. [Para 27]

Second Appeal — Re-framing of questions of law — Validity:

Held: Questions framed by the appellant not properly worded- not arising from pleadings or findings of fact-do not constitute substantial questions of law. Such questions cannot be considered for adjudication in second appeal. [Paras 12–13, 25]

Civil Procedure Code, 1908 — Second Appeal — Result:

Held: In the absence of any substantial question of law, concurrent findings that the plaintiff was only a licensee for a limited period, thereafter a trespasser, the second appeal was liable to be dismissed. [Paras 28–30]

Second appeal dismissed. (E-14)

Case Law Cited

Chandrabhan (Dead) through LRs v. Saraswati, 2022 SCC OnLine SC 1273 — relied on; Santosh Hazari v. Purushottam Tiwari, (2001) 3 SCC 179 — referred to; Srinivas Raghwendrarao Desai v. V. Kumar Vamanrao @ Alok, 2024 INSC 165 — relied on; Rabindranath Panigrahi v. Surendra Sahu, 2025 INSC 333 — relied on; Murthy v. C. Saradambal, (2022) 3 SCC 209 — relied on; Hero Vinoth v. Seshammal, (2006) 5 SCC 545 — relied on.

List of Acts / Statutes

Code of Civil Procedure, 1908; Specific Relief Act, 1963

List of Keywords

Second appeal; Substantial question of law; Concurrent findings; Licencee; Tenant; Trespasser; Lagan receipts; Pleadings; Admission; Interference.

Case Arising From

Judgment dated 29.05.1976 passed by Trial Court in Suit No. 2154 of 1971 and judgment dated 18.12.1980 passed by Second Additional Civil Judge, Kanpur in Civil Appeal No. 275 of 1976.

Appearance for Parties

For the Appellant: Sri P.D. Kaushik, Sri R.C. Sinha, Sri Yadvesh Yadav
For the Respondents: Sri Lalji Sinha, Sri Ramesh Upadhyay, Sri Shashi Shekhar Mishra

(Delivered by Hon'ble Saurabh Shyam Shamshery, J.)

1. This is a plaintiffs's Second Appeal, filed against the judgment dated 29.5.1976, whereby a suit filed by him was dismissed and appeal thereof was also rejected by the First Appellate Court by a judgment dated 18.12.1980.

2. The plaintiffs/appellant has filed a Suit bearing No.2154 of 1971, for permanent injunction against the defendants nos. 1 and 2 (Respondent nos.1 and 2) restraining them from cutting down the crops and also from disturbing his possession over the disputed plots.

3. The appellant/plaintiff has set up a case that he was a tenant in the agricultural plots (plots in suit) of Nagar Mahapalika, Kanpur (defendant no.1), the owner.

4. Later on, admittedly, suit land was transferred to Kanpur Development Authority. Plaintiff's claim was basically based on an averment that suit land was orally given to him as a tenant by Defendant No.1 for agriculture and his possession continued thereafter for many years and he paid Lagan also, and receipts thereof were issued, though admittedly except receipts, plaintiffs has not brought on record any document, such as lease (Patta) that he was the tenant of agricultural plots.

5.Per contra, the defendants have mentioned in their Written Statement that plaintiff was a licensee for one fasli year and subsequently he was in possession of land in suit as trespasser. Para 14 of Written Statement being relevant is mentioned hereinafter:

14. That the plaintiff is a trespasser and is not entitled to claim any injunction. The plaintiff has no right to claim any interest over the land in dispute. The suit is barred by section 41 of the Specific relief Act.

6. The learned Trial Court framed 9 issues and issue no.2 being most relevant is mentioned hereinafter:-

" Whether the plaintiff is the tenant of the plots in suit as alleged by him or whether the plaintiff is licencee as alleged by the Nagar Palika in paragraph no. 14 of Written Statement"

7. Learned Trial Court vide judgment dated 29.5.1976 dismissed the suit with a cost and returned a finding that plaintiffs came into possession in the disputed plots with permission of defendant no.1, for only one year, therefore, plaintiffs' was a licencee of the defendant no.1 and not a tenant.

8. The plaintiffs/appellant being aggrieved by the judgment dated judgment dated 29.5.1976 filed a First Appeal before Second Additional Civil Judge, Kanpur bearing No.275 of 1976, which was dismissed vide judgment dated 18.12.1980 and finding returned by learned Trial Court that plaintiffs/appellants were tenant of defendant was upheld. It was also specifically held that plaintiffs/appellant does not claim himself to be Sirdar, Bhumidhar or Asami, though it was noted that in some of the revenue records in regard to some portion of the land in suit, plaintiffs' were shown as Asami though admittedly it was not the case of the appellant.

9. The best case would be that defendant has given his land in suit as a licencee in the year 1372 Fasli for cultivation for only one year, though a finding returned that plaintiffs could be an Asami of defendant for one year, but even said rights were not continued. Otherwise, the First Appellate Court was of the view that such observation would not be sufficient to prove that plaintiffs became Asami and finally First Appellate Court has declared that plaintiffs' were neither tenant nor Asami of the land in suit and plaintiffs' possession of disputed land would only be of a tresspasser.

10. The judgment dated 18.12.1980 passed by the First Appellate Court is under challenge by way of present Second Appeal Second, filed in the year 1981, i.e., pending for last 45 years.

11. A co-ordinate Bench of this Court has admitted, the present Second Appeal vide an order dated 9.9.1981 on substantial questions of law as formulated in paragraph nos.1 and 2 of the Appendix annexed to the memo of appeal.

12. In above background, Court perused the appendix of Appeal and substantial questions of law framed at Serial Nos.1 and 2 are reproduced hereinafter:

"SUBSTANTIAL QUESTIONS OF LAW

1. Because admittedly the plaintiff was asami and the learned courts below have committed material illegality on the face of the record in not decreeing the suit even after recording the finding that the plaintiff had been conferred asami rights over the plots in dispute by the defendants themselves.

2. Because the plaintiff's suit should have been decreed on the admissions made by the defendants themselves and the defendants were stopped from challenging the tenancy rights of the plaintiff on the facts and circumstances of the present case."

13. Court finds that the word used in the above referred questions of law are not in proper format, since it starts with the word 'Because' whereas it ought to have started with 'Whether'.

14. Sri R.C.Sinha, learned counsel for the appellants submitted that though above referred substantial questions of law are not happily worded, still it can be reformulated.

15. None appears on behalf of contesting respondents, therefore, Court proceeds to consider as to whether above referred substantial questions of law are in fact substantial questions of law or not.

16. Before I proceed to consider above referred issue, I take note of a judgment passed by Supreme Court in the case of Chandrabhan (deceased) through Lrs. And others Vs. Saraswati & ors, 2022 SCC OnLine SC 1273, wherein law in regard to what would be the substantial question of law for purpose of a Second Appeal was discussed and relevant part of it is reproduced hereinafter:

"31. To be 'substantial', a question of law must be debatable, not previously settled by law of the land or a binding precedent, and must have a material bearing on the decision of the case, if answered either way, insofar as the rights of the parties before it are concerned. To be a question of law 'involving in the case' there must be first, a foundation for it laid in the pleadings and the question should emerge from the sustainable findings of fact arrived at by court of facts and it must be necessary to decide that question of law for a just and proper decision of the case. An entirely new point raised for the first time before the High Court is not a question involved in the case unless it goes to the root of the matter. It will, therefore, depend on the facts and circumstances of each case whether a question of law is a substantial one and involved in the case or not, the paramount overall consideration being the need for striking a judicious balance between the indispensable obligation to do justice at all stages and impelling necessity of avoiding prolongation in the life of any lis. (See Santosh Hazari v. Purushottam Tiwari [Santosh Hazari v.Purushottam Tiwari, (2001) 3 SCC 179] .)

32. The principles relating to Section 100 CPC relevant for this case may be summarised thus:

32.1. An inference of fact from the recitals or contents of a document is a question of fact. But the legal effect of the terms of a document is a question of law. Construction of a document involving the application of any principle of law, is also a question of law. Therefore, when there is misconstruction of a document or wrong application of a principle of law in construing a document, it gives rise to a question of law.

32.2.The High Court should be satisfied that the case involves a substantial question of law, and not a mere question of law. A question of law having a material bearing on the decision of the case (that is, a question, answer to which affects the rights of parties to the suit) will be a substantial question of law, if it is not covered by any specific provisions of law or settled legal principle emerging from binding precedents and involves a debatable legal issue. A substantial question of law will also arise in a contrary situation, where the legal position is clear, either on account of express provisions of law or binding precedents, but the court below has decided the matter, either ignoring or acting contrary to such legal principle. In the second type of cases, the substantial question of law arises not because the law is still debatable, but because the decision rendered on a material question, violates the settled position of law.

32.3.The general rule is that the High Court will not interfere with findings of facts arrived at by the courts below. But it is not an absolute rule. Some of the well-recognised exceptions are where (i) the courts below have ignored material evidence or acted on no evidence; (ii) the courts have drawn wrong inferences from proved facts by applying the law erroneously; or (iii) the courts have wrongly cast the burden of proof. When we refer to 'decision based on no evidence', it not only refers to cases where there is a total dearth of evidence, but also refers to any case, where the evidence, taken as a whole, is not reasonably capable of supporting the finding.

33.In this case, it cannot be said that the first appellate court acted on no evidence. The respondents in their second appeal before the High Court did not advert to any material evidence that had been ignored by the first appellate court. The respondents also could not show that any wrong inference had been drawn by the first appellate court from proved facts by applying the law erroneously.'

17. Original records of this case are before this Court.

18. In the plaint filed by the plaintiffs/appellants, he has claimed himself to be tenant of 'land in suit' and that Nagar Mahapalika Kanpur was owner and that it was let to plaintiff for agricultural purpose for yearly Lagan basis.

19. Plaintiff has not placed their case by virtue of letting and payment of Lagan, he became Asami of land in suit.

20. In the aforesaid circumstances, Court takes note of Written Statement filed on behalf of Nagar Mahapalika, Kanpur Nagar i.e. defendant no.1 wherein it was categorically denied that plaintiffs were tenant of said defendant and in the additional plea it was also stated that suit land was acquired for development scheme of Kanpur Nagar as per land acquisition award dated 20.4.1946, as such right title and interest of the land in suit exclusively vests with defendant.

21. The defendant has given land in suit as a licenscee in 1372 Fasli for cultivation for only one year, for which plaintiff/appellant has paid rent, but plaintiff was subsequently in possession of land in suit in an illegal manner as trespasser.

22. Defendant has not accepted that plaintiffs were Asami in Written Statement.

23. Learned Trial Court has dismissed the suit by returning a specific finding that plaintiffs were licencee of defendants for one fasli year and thereafter his status was of a trespasser liable to be evicted.

24. Aforesaid findings were upheld by First Appellate Court, though an issue of Asami was considered, though said issue was beyond pleadings that plaintiff was Asami only for Fasli Year 1372 and subsequent nature of possession was only trespasser.

25. After taking note of aforesaid concurrent findings returned by learned Trial Court and the First Appellate Court, questions of law formulated by the appellants and admitted by this Court could not be considered as substantial questions of law, since plaintiff has never declared himself to be an Asami. His case was that he was a tenant and has never disputed ownership of defendants, therefore, it was not a case of admission of defendants that plaintiff was a Asami.

26. It was an observation of First Appellate Court only on basis that defendant has let out land in suit to plaintiff for a short period of 1372 Fasli and not thereafter. Otherwise also, plaintiff has not placed on record any document which could be considered as a lease, therefore, only on basis of Lagan receipts, plaintiff cannot be considered to be a tenant. Their possession at best can be termed as licencee for a particular period and thereafter his possession was as a trespasser, therefore, Court finds that above referred two questions of law are not substantial questions of law.

27. It was not a case of admission by defendant that plaintiff was a Asami. It is also well settled that no evidence could be led beyond pleadings. (See Srinivas Raghwendrarao Desai (Dead) By Lrs. Vs. V. Kumar Vamanrao @ Alok and Ors. 2024 INSC 165). Otherwise also, admission if any at behest of defendant is not an 'admission' as required under Order 12 Rule 6 Code of Civil Procedure,1908 as it should be clear, unambiguous, unequivocal and unconditional, which is not the case in hand and First Appellate Court has dealt with the issue in detail and there is no illegality that a finding was returned that plaintiff was a licencee only.

28. Court also examined above referred questions of law at the anvil of Chandrabhan (Supra) and finds that above referred two questions of law are not substantial questions of law, which could be considered in present second appeals.

29. Court also takes note of a judgment passed by Supreme Court in the case of Rabindranath Panigrahi Vs. Surendra Sahu, 2025 INSC 333, and is of view that in the facts and circumstances of present case, no circumstances exist to overturn concurrent findings returned by learned Trial Court as well as by First Appellate Court (also see Murthy & Ors. Vs. C. Saradambal & Ors, (2022) 3 SCC 209 and Hero Vinoth (Minor) Vs. Sheshammal, 2006 (5) SCC 545).

30. Present Second Appeal is accordingly dismissed. Interim order, if any, stands vacated.

(2026) 2 ILRA 1228
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 06.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SANDEEP JAIN, J.

First Appeal No. 934 of 2025

Irfan Quraishi ...Appellant

Versus

U.P. State Industrial Development Authority Ltd. & Anr. ...Respondents

Issue for Consideration

Matter pertains to whether the trial court was justified in rejecting the plaint at the threshold under O. VII R. 11 CPC on the grounds of absence of cause of action, bar of law, and insufficiency of court fees, based solely on the averments contained in the plaint.

Headnotes

Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 - ss. 80, 96, O. 7 R. 11, O. 39 R. 1, 2, O. 41 R. 11 - Specific Relief Act, 1963 - ss. 38, 41 - Registration Act, 1908 - ss. 17, 49 - Rejection of plaint - Oral Agreement - Immovable property - Insufficient court fees - Barred under Law - Maintainability - The plaintiff - appellant instituted a civil suit seeking reliefs of permanent injunction to protect his alleged possession over the disputed industrial plot and mandatory injunction directing defendant No.2 to complete formalities for execution of sale deed in his favour, asserting that he had entered into an oral agreement with the predecessor-in-interest (father of defendant No.2) for purchase of the property for a consideration of ₹70 lakhs, out of which substantial amounts were allegedly paid partly through demand drafts and partly in cash, and that possession was delivered to him in part performance, however, after the death of the original owner, the defendant, despite assurances, refused to execute the sale deed, leading to institution of the suit, which was opposed by the defendants through an application under O. VII R. 11 CPC contending inter alia absence of any written agreement, lack of cause of action, bar of law, non-joinder of necessary parties, and insufficiency of court fees, whereupon the trial court allowed the said application and rejected the plaint at the threshold, giving rise to the instant first appeal.

Held:. It is apparent that the reliefs claimed by the plaintiff were legally unenforceable and plaintiff's suit was clearly barred by law - Even assuming that the defect relating to payment of court fees was curable, since the suit itself was barred by law, the trial court committed no error in allowing the defendant's application under O. 7 R. 11(d) CPC and rejecting the plaint at the threshold - The impugned order does not warrant any interference by High Court in exercise of its appellate jurisdiction - Accordingly, appeal dismissed at the admission stage, thus, impugned judgment and decree dated 23.07.2025 affirmed. [Paras 36, 37] (E-13)

Case Law Cited

Balram Singh v. Kelo Devi (2024) 12 SCC 723; Prem Kumar and Others v. Gurudev Singh and others 2024 SCC OnLine All 7420; Irfan Qureshi v. UP State Industrial Development Authority and Another 2024 SCC OnLine All 6776; Yellapu Uma Maheshwari and another v. Buddha Jagadheeswararao and others (2015) 16 SCC 787; Vinod Kumar and others v. Sudha Land Ventures and Homes Pvt.Ltd. 2015 SCC OnLine All 8778; Padhiyar Prahladji Chenaji (Deceased) Thr. LRS. v. Maniben Jagmalbhai (Deceased) Thr. LRS. And others (2022) 12 SCC 128; Vinod Infra Developers Ltd. v. Mahaveer Lunia and others 2025 SCC OnLine SC 1208; Keshav Sood v. Kirti Pradeep Sood and others 2023 SCC OnLine SC 2459 - - referred to

List of Acts

Code of Civil Procedure,1908; Specific Relief Act, 1963; Registration Act, 1908

List of Keywords

First appeal u/s 96 CPC; Rejection of plaint; O. VII R. 11 CPC; Barred by Limitation; Want of cause of action; Insufficiency of court fees; Oral agreement to sell; Absence of written agreement; Payment of part consideration; Demand drafts and Cash payment; Alleged possession; Execution of sale deed; Permanent injunction; Mandatory injunction; Enforcement of agreement; Non-joinder of necessary parties/legal heirs; ss 17 and 49 of Registration Act, 1908 (as amended in U.P.); Unregistered document; No enforceable right/title/interest; Bar u/ss. 38 and 41(h) of Specific Relief Act; Equally efficacious relief; Specific performance; Notice u/s 80 CPC; Res-judicata; Appellate jurisdiction; Appeal dismissed

Case Arising From

APPELLATE JURISDICTION: First Appeal No. - 934 of 2025

From the Judgment and Order dated 23.07.2025 passed by the Judge Small Causes, Bulandshahr in O.S. No.1054 of 2022 (Old No.790 of 2022)

Appearances for Parties

Advs. for the Appellant:
Ashish Kumar Singh, Rahul Pandey

Advs. for the Respondent:
Rahul Kumar Jadaun, Vibhu Rai

(Delivered by Hon'ble Sandeep Jain, J.)

1. The instant appeal has been filed by the plaintiff under Section 96 C.P.C. against the impugned order dated 23.07.2025 passed by the Judge Small Causes, Bulandshahr in O.S. No.1054 of 2022 (Old No.790 of 2022) Irfan Quraishi Vs. U.P. State Industrial Development Authority Limited & others, whereby the application of the defendant No.2 Smt. Aparna Bajpai under Order VII Rule 11 CPC has been allowed and consequently, the plaintiff's suit has been dismissed on the ground of being barred by law, want of cause of action as well as, due to the insufficient court fees paid.

2. The factual matrix is that the plaintiff'appellant filed a suit, being O.S. No. 1054 of 2022, with the averments that father of defendant no.2, Late Chandradutt Bajpai, was the owner in possession, and proprietor of M/S CDS Chemicals, situated at C-4, Industrial Area (Jokhabad), Sikandrabad, District Bulandshahr. It was further averred that an oral agreement was entered into between the plaintiff and the father of defendant no.2 for the sale of the aforesaid plot for a consideration of Rs.70 lacs. Out of the said consideration, a sum of Rs.29 lacs was paid through three demand drafts and a further sum of Rs.6 lacs was paid in cash on 10.07.2008. It was also averred that since then, the plaintiff was in possession of the disputed plot.

3. It was further averred that the plaintiff repeatedly requested the father of defendant no.2 to execute the sale deed in respect of the disputed plot; however, he continued to defer the same on one pretext or the other. Subsequently, the father of defendant no.2 died due to Covid-19 in the year 2021, leaving behind defendant no.2 as his legal heir.

4. It was further averred that thereafter, the plaintiff remained in contact with defendant no.2 and requested her to execute the sale deed in respect of the disputed plot, however, defendant no.2 continued to assure the plaintiff that she would execute the sale deed in his favour after completing due formalities; however, when she ultimately refused to execute the sale deed, the plaintiff was compelled to file the present suit seeking the following reliefs:-

(a) that by decree of permanent injunction granted in favour of the plaintiff against the defendant no.2, the defendant No.2 be restrained from dispossessing him, interfering in the peaceful possession of the plaintiff or in any other manner whatsoever.

(b) that by decree of mandatory injunction granted in favour of the plaintiff against the defendant no.2, the defendant No.2 be directed to complete the necessary formalities in the office of defendant no.1, for transferring the disputed plot No. C-4, Industrial Area (Jokhabad), Sikandrabad, District Bulandshahr by receiving the balance sale consideration from the plaintiff.

(c) any other relief which in the facts and circumstances of the case, the Court may deem appropriate to grant in favour of the plaintiff.

5. During the pendency of the suit, defendant no.2 Smt. Aparna Bajpai moved an application 72-C2 under Order VII Rule 11 CPC on the ground that no oral or written agreement in respect of the disputed property was ever entered into between her father and the plaintiff. It was further averred that the plaintiff has instituted the suit on the basis of photocopies of the alleged demand drafts, which was not legally maintainable. It was also averred that the date of alleged agreement and duration during which it was to be performed, was not disclosed by the plaintiff.

6. It was further averred that the suit should have been filed for the relief of specific performance of a contract, for which ad valorem court fees was required to be paid; however, the plaintiff has deliberately claimed the relief of mandatory injunction. It was also averred that the plaintiff was neither the owner of the disputed property nor any cause of action arose in his favour, and the suit was barred by limitation. The suit was undervalued and the court fees paid was insufficient.

7. It was further contended that there was neither any oral nor written agreement between the plaintiff and the defendant no.2, and that the suit, having been filed solely on the basis of an alleged oral agreement, was not legally maintainable. It was further averred that the suit was barred by the provisions of Section 80 CPC, since no prior notice was given to the U.P. State Industrial Development Authority Limited defendant no.1, who was a functionary of the State.

8. It was further averred that the father of defendant no.2 died leaving behind defendant no.2, her sister, and her mother as his legal heirs; however, the other legal heirs had not been impleaded as parties to the suit. It was also averred that the plaintiff had earlier moved an application for temporary injunction under Order 39 Rules 1 and 2 CPC, which was rejected by the trial court vide order dated 31.05.2024, wherein it was concluded that the plaintiff was not entitled to any relief on the basis of the alleged oral agreement.

9. With these averments, it was prayed that since the plaintiff has concealed material facts and has not approached the Court with clean hands, as such, the plaint was liable to be rejected under Order VII Rule 11 clauses (a), (c), and (d) CPC. It was further averred that the suit was barred under Sections 38 and 41 of the Specific Relief Act.

10. The aforesaid application filed by defendant no.2 under Order VII Rule 11 CPC was opposed by the plaintiff on the ground that, in the facts and circumstances of the case, the provisions of Order VII Rule 11 CPC were not applicable. It was further averred that the issue of limitation is a mixed question of fact and law, which cannot be decided at the threshold stage.

11. It was further submitted that the findings recorded by the trial court while deciding the application under Order 39 Rules 1 and 2 CPC could not influence the final adjudication of the suit, which is required to be decided on its own merits. It was also averred that no legal notice under Section 80 CPC was required to be served on defendant no.1 in the present case.

12. The trial court, by the impugned order dated 23.07.2025, has allowed the defendants' application under Order VII Rule 11 CPC, holding that the plaintiff was asserting his rights in respect of the disputed property solely on the basis of an oral agreement, which is unenforceable in law in view of the specific provisions of Sections 17 and 49 of the Registration Act, 1908, as applicable in the State of Uttar Pradesh. The trial court further concluded that, on the basis of such an oral agreement, no cause of action has arisen in favour of the plaintiff to institute the present suit.

13. The trial court also held that the suit, having been filed for specific performance of an agreement, required payment of ad valorem court fees, which was not paid by the plaintiff, and on this ground as well, the trial court decided the issue against the plaintiff.

14. The above order of the trial court has been challenged by the plaintiff by filing the instant appeal under Section 96 CPC.

15. Shri Ashish Kumar Singh, learned counsel for the plaintiff-appellant submitted that the suit filed by the plaintiff was maintainable, as there was an admission on the part of defendant no.2 that her late father had accepted the consideration in respect of the disputed property. On the basis of such admission, it was contended that the plaintiff was at least entitled to refund of the consideration paid, which was not considered by the trial court.

16. It was further submitted that the issues raised by the defendant no.2 could not have been decided at the threshold stage, as they required evidence to be adduced, and therefore the plaintiff's suit was legally maintainable. It was also submitted that even if the court fees paid was insufficient, the plaintiff ought to have been afforded an opportunity to make good the deficiency; however, no such opportunity was granted and the plaint was straightaway rejected, which is illegal. With these submissions, it was prayed that the appeal be admitted for hearing.

17. Per contra, learned counsel for respondent no.1 UPSIDA submitted that, in respect of the disputed property, a lease was executed by the authority in favour of the father of defendant no.2. He further submitted that, upon obtaining no-objection certificates from the other legal heirs of the deceased Chandradutt Bajpai, the leasehold rights in the disputed plot were transferred in favour of the wife of the deceased, Smt. Sunita Bajpai, on 18.09.2024, and now she is in possession of the disputed plot. He further submitted that the plaintiff never remained in possession of the disputed plot.

18. Sri Vibhu Rai, learned counsel for respondent no.2, submitted that the defendants have never admitted that any part consideration was paid by the plaintiff either to the father of the deceased defendant or to defendant no.2. It was further submitted that there was no written agreement between the parties and, as such, no right could be inferred in favour of the plaintiff.

19. It was further submitted that in the absence of any written agreement, the plaintiff was not entitled to any relief of permanent or mandatory injunction in respect of the disputed property. It was also submitted that the plaintiff's application for temporary injunction under Order 39 Rules 1 and 2 CPC had earlier been rejected by the trial court by order dated 31.05.2024, which was challenged by the plaintiff by filing FAFO No. 1648 of 2024, which was dismissed on merits by this Court vide order dated 18.10.2024, wherein it was held that on the basis of the alleged oral agreement the plaintiff was not entitled to any relief.

20. It was further submitted that the aforesaid order dated 18.10.2024 was assailed by the plaintiff before the Hon'ble Supreme Court by filing SLP (Diary) No. 6912 of 2025 (Irfan Qureshi v. U.P. State Industrial Development Authority), which was subsequently dismissed for non-compliance with the conditional order. It was further submitted that the plaintiff's suit was not legally maintainable, being in the nature of enforcement of an alleged oral agreement, which was impermissible in view of the bar contained under Sections 17 and 49 of the Registration Act, 1908, as applicable in the State of Uttar Pradesh, as well as Sections 38 and 41 of the Specific Relief Act. It was thus contended that the trial court has not committed any illegality in rejecting the plaint and, therefore, no interference was warranted by this Court in exercise of its appellate jurisdiction.

21. I have heard learned counsel for the parties and perused the order of the trial court and the documents submitted with the appeal.

22. The Apex Court in the case of Balram Singh vs Kelo Devi (2024) 12 SCC 723, wherin the plaintiffs sought relief of permanent injunction restraining the defendant from disturbing her possession in the suit property in Uttar Pradesh on the basis of unregistered agreement to sell, held as under:-

"6. At the outset, it is required to be noted that the original plaintiff instituted a suit praying for a decree of permanent injunction only, which was claimed on the basis of the agreement to sell dated 23-3-1996. However, it is required to be noted that the agreement to sell dated 23-3-1996 was an unregistered document/agreement to sell on ten rupees stamp paper. Therefore, as such, such an unregistered document/agreement to sell shall not be admissible in evidence.

7. Having been conscious of the fact that the plaintiff might not succeed in getting the relief of specific performance of such agreement to sell as the same was unregistered, the plaintiff filed a suit simpliciter for permanent injunction only. It may be true that in a given case, an unregistered document can be used and/or considered for collateral purpose. However, at the same time, the plaintiff cannot get the relief indirectly which otherwise he/she cannot get in a suit for substantive relief, namely, in the present case the relief for specific performance.

8. Therefore, the plaintiff cannot get the relief even for permanent injunction on the basis of such an unregistered document/agreement to sell, more particularly when the defendant specifically filed the counterclaim for getting back the possession which was allowed by the learned trial court. The plaintiff cleverly prayed for a relief of permanent injunction only and did not seek for the substantive relief of specific performance of the agreement to sell as the agreement to sell was an unregistered document and therefore on such unregistered document/agreement to sell, no decree for specific performance could have been passed. The plaintiff cannot get the relief by clever drafting.

9. In view of the above and for the reasons stated above, both, the learned first appellate court and the High Court have committed a grave error in passing a decree for permanent injunction in favour of the plaintiff as against the defendant and dismissing the counterclaim filed by the original defendant."

(emphasis supplied)

23. This Court in the case of Prem Kumar and Others vs Gurudev Singh and others 2024 SCC OnLine All 7420, considering whether unregistered agreement to sell could be legally enforced in a suit for specific performance, held as under:-

"Re :- First Question : - Whether a decree for specific performance based upon an unregistered for sale dated 31.05.1977 is at all sustainable'

18. In view of the questions framed by this Court, it is not necessary to comment upon requirement or no requirement of getting the AFS re-registered in the State of U.P. and whether the plaintiff was obliged or not obliged to do that, is irrelevant as the Court has to examine validity of the decree based upon unregistered agreement, whatever might have been the reason behind its non-registration.

19. As regards requirement of registration of an AFS, it is to note that the U.P. Civil Laws (Reforms and Amendment) Act, 1976 (U.P. Act No. 57 of 1976) came into force w.e.f. 1-1-1977. This Act amended the Registration Act, 1908 as well as the Transfer of Property Act, 1882, besides several other enactments. Section 54 of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882, as applicable to the State of U.P., w.e.f. 1-1-1977, reads as under:

'Section 54. 'Sale' is a transfer of ownership in exchange for a price paid or promised or part-paid and part-promised.

Sale how made- Such transfer, in the case of tangible immovable property [], or in the case of a reversion or other intangible thing, can be made only by a registered instrument.*

Contract of Sale- A contract for the sale of immovable property is a contract that a sale of such property shall take place on terms settled between the parties.

It does not, of itself, create any interest in or charge on such property.

Such contract can be made only by a registered instrument.'

20. Section 3 of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882 defines-

'Instrument- as a non testamentary instrument

'Registered- means registered in any part of the territories to which this Act extends under the law for the time being in force regulating the registration of documents.'

21. Section 17 of the Registration Act, 1908 Act provides that certain documents are required to be compulsorily registered and, other documents are exempted from being registered. Section 17(1)(b) of the Registration Act, 1908, as applicable in the State of U.P., reads as under:

"Section 17(1)- The following documents shall be registered- (1) The following documents shall be registered, if the property to which they relate is situate in a district in which, and if they have been executed on or after the date on which, Act No. XVI of 1864, or the Indian Registration Act, 1877, or this Act came or comes into force, namely:'*

"""""""""..

(b) other non-testamentary instruments which purport or operate to create, declare, assign, limit or extinguish, whether in present or in future, any right, title or interest, whether vested or contingent to in immovable property.'

22. Section 17(2)(v) of the Act of 1908 reads as under:

*"Section 17(2)- Nothing in clauses (b) and (c) of sub-section (1) applies to-

(v) any documents other than documents specified in sub-section (1-A)] [other than contract for sale] not itself creating, declaring, assigning, limiting or extinguishing any right, title or interest to or in immovable property, but merely creating a right to obtain another document which will, when executed, create, declare, assign, limit or extinguish any such right, title or interest or;

The words 'other than contract for sale' occurring in Section 17(2)(v) of the Registration Act have been inserted by U.P. Act No. 57 of 1976 w.e.f. 1-1-77.

23. Section 4 of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882 reads as under:

"4. Enactments relating to contracts to be taken as part of Contract Act and supplemental to the Registration Act. - The chapters and sections of this Act which relate to contracts shall be taken as part of the Indian Contract Act, 1872 (IX of 1872).

[And Section 54, Paragraphs 2 and 3, 59, 107 and 123 shall be read as supplemental to the Indian Registration Act, 1908 (XVI of 1908).]'

24. Thus, from a combined reading of Sections 3, 4 and 54 of the Act of 1882 and, Section 17 of the Act of 1908, as applicable to the State of U.P., as amended by U.P. Act 57 of 1976, it is clear that every contract of sale of an immovable property situated in any district of U.P. shall be made only by a registered instrument. Even though a contract for sale of immovable property does not by itself create any interest in or charge on such property and only creates a right to obtain another document which will, when executed, create, declare, assign, limit or extinguish any such right, title or interest, nonetheless, the said contract for sale of an immovable property is required to be registered in the State of U.P. w.e.f. 1-1-1977.

25. The next question which arises for consideration is whether an unregistered document for sale of an immovable property, could still be enforced in a suit for specific performance. At this stage, the Court may refer to Section 49 contained in the Registration Act, 1908 alongwith U.P. Amendments made therein by U.P. Act No. 57 of 1976, w.e.f. 01.01.1977. A careful perusal of the amendments made would reflect that certain provisions relating to admissibility of an unregistered agreement in a suit for specific performance have been 'omitted' and requirement of registration has been 'inserted.' The provision reads as under:'

Central Act

'49. Effect of non-registration of documents required to be registered.- No document required by section 17 [or by any provision of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882 (4 of 1882) to be registered shall-

(a) affect any immovable property comprised therein, or

(b) confer any power to adopt, or

(c) be received as evidence of any transaction affecting such property or conferring such power,

unless it has been registered:*

[Provided that an unregistered document affecting immovable property and required by this Act, or the Transfer of Property Act, 1882 (4 of 1882), to be registered may be received as evidence of a contract in a suit for specific performance under Chapter II of the Specific Relief Act, 1877 (3 of 1877) [] or as evidence of any collateral transaction not required to be effected by registered instrument.]

In Uttar Pradesh:

In Section 49,-

*(i) in the first paragraph, after the words 'or by any provision of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882', insert the words 'or of any other law for the time being in force';

(ii) for clause (b), substitute the following clause, namely : -

(b) confer any power or create any right or relationship, or';

(iii) in clause (c), after the words 'such power', insert the words 'or creating such right or relationship';

(iv) in the proviso, omit the words 'as evidence of a contract in a suit for specific performance under Chapter II of the Specific Relief Act, 1877, or.'

[Vide Uttar Pradesh Act 57 of 1976, sec. 34 (w.e.f. 1--1-1977).]'

26. The result of these amendments is, that, prior to 01.01.1977, an unregistered contract for sale qua immovable property situated in U.P. could be enforced in a suit for specific performance of a contract, but after the amendment in Section 49 of the Registration Act w.e.f. 01.01.1977, an unregistered agreement cannot be enforced in a suit for specific performance of a contract nor can it be read in evidence."

24. In similar facts and circumstances this Court in the case of Irfan Qureshi vs UP State Industrial Development Authority and Another 2024 SCC OnLine All 6776, the parties of the instant appeal, while considering the legality of the order dismissing the plaintiff's interim injunction application, held as under:-

7. Having heard the learned counsel for the parties, I find that mandatory injunctions can be granted under Section 39 of the Specific Relief Act, 1963. The said provision finds place in Chapter VIII and it applies when, in order to prevent breach of an obligation, it is necessary to compel performance of certain acts which the court is capable of enforcing and grant of injunction to prevent such breach is always in the discretion of the court. In the instant case, admittedly, the suit in question has not been filed claiming a decree for specific performance of an agreement, probably for the reason that there is no written agreement between the parties. Appellant's claim for relief of mandatory injunction based upon oral understanding requires to be dealt with in the light of law of the land.

8. Considering the arguments of Sri. Samir Sharma, learned Senior Counsel, in relation to Section 53-A of Transfer of Property Act, this Court thinks it appropriate to deal with the legal proposition in that regard.

9. Section 17 of Registration Act, 1908 provides for documents, registration whereof is compulsory. There is an amendment made by U.P. Act No. 57 of 1979 by inserting clause (f) in Section 17(1). The relevant provision i.e. Section 17(1), (as amended in U.P.), reads as under:

"17. Documents of which registration is compulsory.- (1) The following documents shall be registered, if the property to which they relate is situate in a district in which, and if they have been executed on or after the date on which, Act No. XVI of 1864, or the Indian Registration Act, 1866(XX of 1866), or the Indian Registration Act, 1871 (VII of 1871, or the Indian Registration Act, 1877(III of 1877), or this Act came or comes into force, namely:'

.....

(b) other non-testamentary instruments which purport or operate to create, declare, assign, limit or extinguish, whether in present or in future, any right, title or interest, whether vested or contingent, to or in immovable property;

(c) non-testamentary instruments, which acknowledge the receipt or payment of any consideration on account of the creation, declaration, assignment, limitation or extinction of any such right, title or interest;

…….

(f) any other instrument required by any law for the time being in force, to be registered.'

10. There is also a corresponding amendment in sub-section (2) of Section 17, inasmuch as, Clause (v), as it stood before Central Act 48 of 2001 was substituted partially vide Section 3 of Central Act 48 of 2001, w.e.f. 24th September, 2001. Sub-section (2)(v) of Section 17 reads as under:'

'(2) Nothing in clauses (b) and (c) of sub-section (1) applies to -

…….

(v) any document other than contract for sale not itself creating, declaring, assigning, limiting or extinguishing any right, title or interest to or in immovable property, but merely creating a right to obtain another document which will, when executed, create, declare, assign, limit or extinguish any such right, title or interest; or'

11. An amendment was also made in Transfer of Property Act, 1882 by Section 30 of U.P. Act No. 57 of 1976, w.e.f. 1.1.1977. Section 54, as amended in U.P., reads as under:

"54. 'Sale' defined.- 'Sale' is a transfer of ownership in exchange for a price paid or promised or part-paid and part-promised.*

Sale how made.- Such transfer, in the case of tangible immovable property of the value of one hundred rupees and upwards, or in the case of a reversion or other intangible thing, can be made only by a registered instrument.*

Contract of sale.- A contract for the sale of immovable property is a contract that a sale of such property shall take place on terms settled between the parties.*

It does not, of itself, create any interest in or charge on such property.

Such contract can be made only by a registered instrument.'

12. Consistent with the amendments referred to above, Section 49 of Act, 1908 was also simultaneously amended by Section 34 of U.P. Act No. 57 of 1976 w.e.f. 1.1.1977 and the amended Section 49, as applicable in U.P. reads as under:

"Section 49. Effect of non-registration of documents required to be registered.- No document required by section 17 or by any provision of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882 (4 of 1882) or of any other law for the time being in force, to be registered shall-*

(a) affect any immovable property comprised therein, or

(b) confer any power or create any right or relationship, or

(c) be received as evidence of any transaction affecting such property or conferring such power or creating such right or relationship, unless it has been registered:

Provided that an unregistered document affecting immovable property and required by this Act or the Transfer of Property Act, 1882 (4 of 1882), to be registered may be received as evidence of part-performance of a contract for the purposes of Section 53-A of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882 (4 of 1882), or as evidence of any collateral transaction not required to be effected by registered instrument.'"

*13. The aforesaid provisions make it clear that an agreement to sell in respect of immovable property lying in State of U.P. required registration necessarily i.e. compulsorily.

Section 17 of Act, 1908 read with Section 54 of Act, 1882, as applicable in U.P., makes it very clear that a contract of sale, as defined in Section 54, can be made only by a registered instrument. By omission of explanation to sub-section (2) of Section 17 of Act, 1908, the legislature has made it very clear that in State of U.P., an agreement to sell immovable property would also require compulsory registration so as to create any right, title or interest in immovable property*. This view finds support from a decision of this Court in Smt. Prabha Awasthi v. Nisha Richharia, 2012 (8) ADJ 557, wherein a Division Bench referring to Section 17 of Act, 1908, as amended in U.P. w.e.f. 1.4.1977, read with Section 49, has observed as under:*

"Section 17 of the Registration Act, 1908 has been amended in the State of U.P. vide U.P. Act No. 57 of 1976 w.e.f. 1st of April, 1977 by amending clause (b) of sub section (2) and by omitting the Explanation thereto of section 17 of the Registration Act. It follows that after the commencement of the aforesaid Amending Act, an agreement to sell in respect of immovable property lying in the State of U.P. necessarily requires registration. A document which necessarily requires registration being unregistered one cannot be read in evidence in view of section 49 of the aforesaid Act. It deals with the effect of non registered document required to be registered. Noticeably, section 49 of the Registration Act was also amended by the U.P. Act No. 57 of 1976 vide section 34 simultaneously.'

14. Though dispute before Division Bench in Prabha Awasthi (supra) related to an agreement executed in 2005 but while having a retrospect of the provisions of Act, 1908, as amended in U.P. in 1977, and the situation as had arisen, the Court has made above observations. However, since proviso to Section 49 of Act, 1908 permits an unregistered document to be received as evidence of part-performance of a contract for the purpose of Section 53-A of Act, 1882, this Court finds that permitting a document to be received in evidence for limited purpose as such would not have the effect of influencing the rights of the parties vis a vis the immovable property concerned. The general legislative policy under Section 49 of Act, 1908 is contained in three clauses i.e. (a), (b) and (c) and proviso carves out an exception in respect to clause (c) only and not (a) and (b) thereof. The inevitable conclusion qua the immovable property is that, an unregistered document shall not result in affecting the right etc. over the immovable property in any manner and also shall not confer any power to adopt it. To the extent the proviso operates, it permits that an unregistered document affecting immovable property may be given in evidence i.e. where a document remains unregistered and title does not pass, the agreement between the parties which preceded the ineffective document shall remain and may be received in evidence to look into the terms thereof. This by itself, would not confer any right since no such right has been conferred under the substantive law. Receiving in evidence does not mean conferment of substantive right. The rule of evidence cannot enlarge or alter the provisions of substantive law. It cannot confer rights, if there are none under the substantive law.

15. The Court finds that even Section 53-A would have no application in the present case. Section 53-A of Act, 1882 reads as under:

'Part performance*.- Where any person contracts to transfer for consideration any immovable property* by writing signed by him or on his behalf from which the terms necessary to constitute the transfer can be ascertained with reasonable certainty:

and the transferee has, in part performance of the contract, taken possession of the property or any part thereof, or the transferee, being already in possession continues in possession in part performance of the contract and has done some act in furtherance of the contract, and the transferee has performed or is willing to perform his part of the contract, then, notwithstanding that the contract, though required to be registered, has not been registered, or, where there is an instrument of transfer, that the transfer has not been completed in the manner prescribed therefor by the law for the time being in force, the transferor or any person claiming under him shall be debarred from enforcing against the transferee and persons claiming under him any right in respect of the property of which the transferee has taken or continued in possession, other than a right expressly provided by the terms of the contract:

Provided that nothing in this section shall affect the rights of a transferee for consideration who has no notice of the contract or of the part performance thereof.

16. In order to take shelter behind the above provision, one has to satisfy the following conditions, as are evident from bare reading of Section 53-A:

(i) The contract should have been in writing, signed by or on behalf of transferor.

(ii) The transferee should have got possession of immovable property covered by contract as a part-performance of the contract.

(iii) If the transferee is already in possession and he continues in possession in part-performance of the contract, he further should have done some act in furtherance of the contract.

(iv) The transferee has either performed his part of contract or is willing to perform his part of the contract.

(emphasis supplied)

25. The Apex Court in the case of Yellapu Uma Maheshwari and another vs. Buddha Jagadheeswararao and others (2015) 16 SCC 787, while analysing Section 17 and 49 of the Registration Act,1908, has held that a document which has the effect of creating and taking away the rights in respect of an immovable property, is compulsorily registrable and if not registered, is not admissible in evidence, however, it can be relied upon for collateral purpose, subject to payment of stamp duty, penalty, proof and relevancy.

26. A Division Bench of this Court in the case of Vinod Kumar and others vs. Sudha Land Ventures and Homes Pvt.Ltd. 2015 SCC OnLine All 8778 has also considered the issue whether on the basis of unregistered agreement to sell, temporary interim injunction under Order 39 Rule 1 CPC and perpetual injunction under the Specific Relief Act can be granted to the plaintiff. The relevant paragraphs of the above judgment read as under:-

14. In the case of K.B. Saha and Sons Pvt. Ltd. v. Development Consultant Ltd., [2008 (72) ALR 638 (SC).] the Hon'ble Apex Court noticed following facts as stated by Mulla in his Indian Registration Act, 7th Edition, at page 189.

"The High Courts of Calcutta, Bombay, Allahabad, Madras, Patna, Lahore, Assam, Nagpur, Pepsu, Rajasthan, Orissa, Rangoon and Jammu and Kashmir; the former Chief Court of Oudh; the Judicial Commissioner's Court of Peshawar, Ajmer and Himachal Pradesh and the Supreme Court have held that a document which requires registration under section 17 and which is not admissible for want of registration to prove a gift or mortgage or sale or lease is nevertheless admissible to prove the character of the possession of the person who holds under it.'"

15. The Apex Court culled out the following principles:

1. 'A document required to be registered is not admissible into evidence under section 49 of the Registration Act.

2. Such unregistered document can however be used as an evidence of collateral purpose as provided in the Proviso to section 49 of the Registration Act.

3. A collateral transaction must be independent of, or divisible from, the transaction to effect which the law required registration.

4. A collateral transaction must be a transaction not itself required to be effected by a registered document, that is, a transaction creating, etc. any right, title or interest in immoveable property of the value of one hundred rupees and upwards.

5. If a document is inadmissible in evidence for want of registration, none of its terms can be admitted in evidence and that to use a document for the purpose of proving an important clause would not be using it as a collateral purpose.'

16. The word, 'collateral transaction' has been interpreted as transaction in itself not required to be effected by a registered document, i.e., a transaction creating any right, title or interest in immovable property of the value of Rs. 100/- and onwards.

17. Learned Counsel for the respondent contends that even if the two sale-deeds were not registered, but they should certainly be looked into for collateral purpose and a bare perusal of two sale-deeds reveals that on 21.2.2014 and 22.2.2014, the respondent/plaintiff was put on possession of plots in suit and in view of above, learned Counsel tried to justify the impugned order.

18. This proposition is correct that if a document is invariably registrable and has not been registered, it will be admissible in evidence only for collateral purposes but collateral purpose has a limited scope and meaning. It cannot be used for the purpose of saying that the deed created or declared or assigned or limited or extinguish the right to immovable property. If the document is unregistered then it could not be used for showing that it created, declared, assigned or extinguish a right to immovable property. The term collateral purpose could not permit the party to establish any of these acts from the deed.

19. In our opinion, the contention that it could be used for collateral purpose for delivery of possession does not support the case of the plaintiff-respondent at all because by way of State Amendment in Order XXXIX, Rule 2, Sub Rule (2) proviso (a), C.P.C., a bar has been created w.e.f. 1.2.1977.

20. In Rule 2, in sub-rule (2), the following proviso has been added by State Amendment:

'Provided that no such injunction shall be granted'

(a) where no perpetual injunction could be granted in view of the provisions of section 38 and section 41 of the Specific Relief Act, 1963.'

21. A bare perusal of Order XXXIX, Rule 2, Sub Rule (2) proviso (a), C.P.C., reveals that temporary injunction shall not be granted where no perpetual injunction could be granted in view of provisions of sections 38 and 41 of Specific Relief Act, 1963.

22. Section 38 of Specific Relief Act deals with provisions when temporary injunctions can be granted and section 41 deals with provisions when injunction can be refused.

23. Provisions of section 41 of Specific Relief Act is as under:

41. Injunction when refused.-An injunction cannot be granted'

'(a) to restrain any person from prosecuting a judicial proceeding pending at the institution of the suit in which the injunction is sought, unless such restraint is necessary to prevent a multiplicity of proceedings;

(b) to restrain any person from instituting or prosecuting any proceeding in a Court not subordinate to that from which the injunction is sought;

(c) to restrain any person from applying to any Legislative body;

(d) to restrain any person from instituting or prosecuting any proceeding in a criminal matter;

(e) to prevent the breach of a contract the performance of which would not be specifically enforced;

(f) to prevent, on the ground of nuisance, an act of which it is not reasonably clear that it will be a nuisance;

(g) to prevent a continuing breach in which the plaintiff has acquiesced;

(h) when equally efficacious relief can certainly be obtained by any other usual mode of proceeding except in case of breach of trust;

(i) when the conduct of the plaintiff or his agents has been such as to disentitle him to the assistance of the Court;

(j) when the plaintiff has no personal interest in the matter.'

24. A perusal of provisions of section 41(h) of Specific Relief Act reveals that when equally efficacious relief can certainly be obtained by any other usual mode of proceeding except in case of breach of trust, then there is no ground to grant injunction.

(emphasis supplied)

27. The Apex Court in the case of Padhiyar Prahladji Chenaji (Deceased) Thr. LRS. vs. Maniben Jagmalbhai (Deceased) Thr. LRS. And others (2022) 12 SCC 128, held as under:-

18. Even otherwise on merits also, the courts below have erred in passing the decree of permanent injunction restraining Defendant 1 from disturbing the alleged possession of the plaintiff. Assuming for the sake of argument that the plaintiff is found to be in possession, in that case also, once the plaintiff has lost so far as the relief of declaration and title is concerned and Defendant 1 is held to be the true and absolute owner of the property in question, pursuant to the execution of the sale deed dated 17-6-1975 in his favour, the true owner cannot be restrained by way of an injunction against him. In a given case, the plaintiff may succeed in getting the injunction even by filing a simple suit for permanent injunction in a case where there is a cloud on the title. However, once the dispute with respect to title is settled and it is held against the plaintiff, in that case, the suit by the plaintiff for permanent injunction shall not be maintainable against the true owner. In such a situation, it will not be open for the plaintiff to contend that though he/she has lost the case so far as the title dispute is concerned, the defendant ' the true owner still be restrained from disturbing his/her possession and his/her possession be protected.

(emphasis supplied)

28. The Apex Court in the case of Vinod Infra Developers Ltd. versus Mahaveer Lunia and others 2025 SCC OnLine SC 1208 has held that at the preliminary stage of deciding Order 7 Rule 11 CPC application, the court is required to confine its examination strictly to the averments made in the plaint and not venture into the merits or veracity of the claims. If any triable issues arise from the pleadings, the suit cannot be summarily rejected.

29. The Apex Court in the case of Keshav Sood versus Kirti Pradeep Sood and others 2023 SCC OnLine SC 2459 has held that the scope of Rule 11 of Order 7 of CPC is concerned, the law is well settled. The court can look into only the averments made in the plaint and at the highest, documents produced along with the plaint. The defence of defendant and documents relied upon by him cannot be looked into while deciding such application.

30. It is well settled that at the stage of deciding an application under Order VII Rule 11 CPC, the Court is not required to consider the written statement or the documents filed by the defendant, nor is it required to examine the case of the plaintiff on merits. At this stage, the Court is only required to consider the averments made in the plaint along with the documents relied upon by the plaintiff.

31. A perusal of the plaint reveals that the plaintiff has alleged that there was an oral agreement to sell between him and the late father of defendant no.2 in respect of the disputed plot and that, in pursuance of the said agreement, he paid a sum of '29 lacs by way of three demand drafts and a further sum of '6 lacs in cash on 10.07.2008, whereafter possession of the disputed plot was allegedly handed over to him. It is apparent that there was no written agreement between the plaintiff and the father of defendant no.2, who has since died, and as such, the aforesaid assertions of the plaintiff cannot be verified.

32. It is further apparent that after the death of the father of defendant no.2 in the year 2021, he left behind his wife and two daughters as his legal heirs; however, in the present suit, the other legal heirs of the deceased have not been impleaded as parties. It is also evident that the plaintiff is seeking to enforce the alleged oral agreement by claiming the relief of mandatory injunction, seeking a direction to defendant no.2 to execute a sale deed in respect of the disputed plot in his favour. Such a relief can not be granted in the absence of any written agreement between the parties.

33. It is well settled that an agreement relating to immovable property, where the consideration was agreed to be '70 lacs, was required to be reduced into writing, duly stamped, and registered in accordance with the provisions of the Stamp Act and the Registration Act, which is admittedly not the case herein. Consequently, merely on the basis of an alleged oral agreement, no legally enforceable right accrues in favour of the plaintiff.

34. It is further evident that the relief claimed by the plaintiff is barred under Sections 38 and 41(h) of the Specific Relief Act, as an equally efficacious remedy of specific performance was otherwise available; however, in the absence of any written agreement between the parties, even such remedy could not have been enforced by the plaintiff.

35. It is further evident that the plaintiff had earlier challenged the rejection of his application for temporary injunction by filing FAFO No. 1648 of 2024 before this Court, which was dismissed vide order dated 18.10.2024. In the said order, this Court had already held that the plaintiff can not claim any right, title, or interest in the disputed property on the basis of an alleged oral agreement. The findings recorded therein operate as res-judicata in the present appeal.

36. In view of the above, it is apparent that the reliefs claimed by the plaintiff were legally unenforceable and plaintiff's suit was clearly barred by law. Even assuming that the defect relating to payment of court fees was curable, since the suit itself was barred by law, the trial court committed no error in allowing the defendants' application under Order VII Rule 11(d) CPC and rejecting the plaint at the threshold. The impugned order, therefore, does not warrant any interference by this Court in exercise of its appellate jurisdiction.

37. Accordingly, the appeal is dismissed at the admission stage under Order XLI Rule 11 CPC. Consequently, the impugned judgment and decree dated 23.07.2025 is affirmed.

(2026) 2 ILRA 1245
APPELLATE JURISDICTION
CIVIL SIDE
DATED: ALLAHABAD 10.02.2026

BEFORE

THE HON'BLE SANDEEP JAIN, J.

First Appeal No. 978 of 2025

Sunil Kumar Dublish ...Appellant
Versus
Ramesh Chandra Dublish & Ors. ...Respondents

Issue for Consideration

Issue pertains to whether the trial court was justified in rejecting the plaint under O. VII R. 11(d) of Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 on the ground that the suit was barred by s. 4(1) of Benami Transactions (Prohibition) Act, 1988, particularly when the plaint averments prima facie disclosed claims falling within the statutory exceptions under Section 4(3) of the Act and raised triable issues requiring adjudication on evidence.

Headnotes

Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 - O. 7 R. 11(d) - Benami Transactions (Prohibition) Act, 1988 - ss. 4(1), 4(3) - Rejection of Plaint - Triable issues involved - Benami Transaction - Determination - Question of fact - Bar of Suit - Scope and applicability - The plaintiff - appellant instituted a suit for declaration claiming exclusive ownership over the disputed residential property on the plea that it had been purchased from funds of Hindu Undivided Family and his business income, though recorded in the name of his mother, who was alleged to be merely a benamidar, and further asserted rights in ancestral agricultural property said to have devolved upon him through a prior family partition, while also disputing certain alienations made by his father and the validity of a Will executed in favour of another defendant - The defendants, in response, moved an application under O. VII R. 11 CPC contending that the suit was barred by s. 4(1) of Benami Transactions (Prohibition) Act, 1988 and also by limitation, pursuant to which the trial court rejected the plaint, leading to the instant First Appeal before the High Court.

Held: If the plaintiff succeeds in proving that his mother was not having the financial capacity to purchase the disputed land of the property, as well as, to construct a house thereon, and the funds were provided by the plaintiff from the income of his firm or were obtained by selling the immovable property of HUF, then certainly, the plaintiff's suit was not barred u/s 4(1) of Act of 1988 - The bar of s. 4(1) is only attracted where the disputed property does not fall within the exceptions enumerated in s. 4(3) of Act of 1988 - It is also well settled that whether the disputed property is Benami or not, is a disputed question of fact, which cannot be decided at the stage of considering an application under O. 7 R. 11 CPC, and the plaintiff 's suit cannot be rejected on this ground at the threshold - The trial court has committed material illegality in allowing the defendants application under O. 7 R. 11(d) of CPC - The impugned order set aside - Accordingly, appeal has merit, thus, allowed. [Paras 29 to 31] (E-13)

Case Law Cited

Vinod Infra Developers Ltd. v. Mahaveer Lunia and others 2025 INSC 772; Keshav Sood v. Kirti Pradeep Sood and others 2023 SCC OnLine SC 2459; Pushpalata v. Vijay Kumar (Dead) through LR's and others

2022 SCC OnLine SC 1152; Marcel Martins v. M.Printer and others (2012)5 SCC 342; Shaifali Gupta v. Vidya Devi Gupta and others 2025 SCC OnLine SC 1181; Pawan Kumar v. Babulal (deceased) through LR's (2019) 4 SCC 367 - referred to

List of Acts

Code of Civil Procedure, 1908; Benami Transactions (Prohibition) Act, 1988

List of Keywords

First Appeal; O. VII R. 11 CPC; Rejection of plaint; s. 96 CPC; ss. 4(1) and 4(3) of Benami Transactions (Prohibition) Act, 1988; Benami transaction; Benamidar; Bar of suit; Hindu Undivided Family (HUF); Coparcener; Fiduciary capacity; Real owner; Ostensible owner; Declaration of title; Absolute ownership; Family partition; Family settlement; Joint family business; Self-acquired property; Mutation; Transfer of property; Consideration; Will; Forged and fabricated document; Legal heir; Right, title and interest; Possession; Superstructure and land beneath; Partnership firm; Maintainability of suit; Jurisdictional bar; Restoration of suit; Appeal allowed.

Case Arising From

APPELLATE JURISDICTION: First Appeal No. - 978 of 2025

From the Judgment and Decree dated 30.8.2025 passed by the Court of Civil Judge (Senior Division) Meerut in O.S. No. 782 of 2006

Appearances for Parties

Advs. for the Appellant:
Durgesh Kumar Singh, Sudhir Kumar Malviya

Adv. for the Respondent:
Shiv Sagar Singh

(Delivered by Hon'ble Sandeep Jain, J.)

1. The instant first appeal has been filed by the plaintiff under Section 96 of the CPC against the impugned judgment and decree dated 30.8.2025 passed by the court of Civil Judge(Senior Division) Meerut in O.S. No. 782 of 2006 Sunil Kumar Dublish vs. Ramesh Chand Dublish(deceased through LR) and others, whereby the defendant's application 89-C under Order 7 Rule 11 CPC has been allowed and consequently, the plaint has been rejected on the ground that the suit is barred under Section 4(1) of the Benami Transactions(Prohibition) Act, 1988, hereinafter referred to as the 'Act of 1988'.

2. Factual matrix is that the plaintiff- appellant Sunil Kumar Dublish filed O.S. No. 782 of 2006 with the averments that that the plaintiff and defendant no.1 Ramesh Chand Dublish and defendant no.2 Smt. Sarla Dublish belong to the same family, the defendant no.1 is the father of the plaintiff and defendant no.2 is the mother of the plaintiff. It was averred that the predecessors of the plaintiff and above defendants Late Shanti Saran Dublish was the owner in possession of certain agricultural property, which was described in para 3 of the plaint situated in village Mawana Kalan, Pargana Hastinapur, Tehsil Mawana, District-Meerut, the khasra number of which was changed in consolidation proceedings, which is presently recorded in the name of defendant no.1. It was further averred that Late Shanti Saran Dublish died in the year 1953, who was the grandfather of the plaintiff, had four sons namely Ramesh Chand Dublish(defendant no.1), Suresh Chand,Naresh Chand and Umesh Chand.

3. It was further averred by the plaintiff that after the death of Shanti Saran Dublish a family partition took place on 24.2.1953 between the four sons of the deceased and the property was divided into four shares and the defendant no.1 became the owner in possession of land inherited in family partition. It was further averred by the plaintiff that he being the grandson of Shanti Saran Dublish, is the owner of half share of the above property and the remaining half share of the above property belongs to defendant no.1. It was further averred that the defendant no.1, being the father of the plaintiff, was looking after the management of the above property, as the family was Hindu Undivided Family.

4. It was further averred by the plaintiff that his father/defendant no.1 transferred a major portion of the above property to various persons on the assumption that he was the sole owner of the above property without informing and seeking any permission from the plaintiff and the amount received after transferring the property as consideration, also remained with the defendant no.1, as the family was undivided.

5. It was further averred that from the income of the partnership firm Messers Sunil Packaging Industries, in which his father was a sleeping partner, and from the cash credit Bank limit availed by him, certain immovable properties were purchased in the year 1989 and 1990, the description of which was given in the plaint, in the name of his mother, Smt. Sarla Dublish (defendant no.2), on which a house was constructed by him from the funds obtained by selling agricultural property and as such,after the death of his mother on 24.2.2015, he has become the sole owner of this property bearing no. 342/1 Harnamdass Road, Civil Lines, Meerut.

6. It was further averred that his mother, Smt. Sarla Dublish was only a Benami owner of the above property and after her death , her legal heir 2/1 Rajeev Kumar Dublish has not acquired any right, title or interest in the disputed property.

7. It was further averred that on 4.1.1972 the plaintiffs father created/manipulated a family settlement to grab his property and at that time he was studying in B.Sc. This family settlement was never acted upon as such, was not in his knowledge, which also does not bear his signature. It was averred that the plaintiff became aware of the above alleged family settlement from the proceedings of case pending in the court of SDO, Mawana, Meerut. It was further averred that his father started interference into the rights title and possession of the disputed property, which came to his share and therefore, the plaintiff had to file a suit on 5.11.2001 in the court of SDO,Mawana for the declaration of ownership of half share of the property inherited from his grandfather Shanti Saran Dublish , which came into his share in the family partition that took place between the four sons of Shanti Saran Dublish.

8. It was further averred that the plaintiff requested his father/defendant no.1 to render the accounts of the amount of consideration received from transferring the property to various persons and also to render the accounts of income received from the property managed by him for a long time, but his father denied. It was further submitted that the defendant no. 1 and 2 have also denied the partition of the residential house to the extent of his half share in the land underneath the house. It was averred that the superstructure on the land was the exclusive property of the plaintiff whereas, the land beneath it, was the joint property of the plaintiff and defendant no.1. It was averred that the defendant no.2 has no share in the residential property no.342/1,Harnamdass Road,Civil Lines, Meerut.

9. It was further averred that his mother Smt.Sarla Dublish had no right in the disputed property as such, she could not have executed the registered Will on 15.10.2005 in favour of defendant no.3 Smt.Nupur Dublish. It was alleged that the above Will was a forged document, which was not binding upon the plaintiff. It was further averred that after the death of the plaintiffs mother, Rajeev Kumar Dublish was substituted as her legal heir,but at that time, the existence of the above Will was never disclosed to the plaintiff which itself proves that, the alleged Will was a forged and fabricated document, which confers no right on the defendant no.3, insofar as the disputed property is concerned.

10. The plaintiffs has claimed the following reliefs:-

(i) That by decree of Court, the plaintiff be declared as absolute and sole owner of house no. 342/1, Harnamdass Road, Civil Lines, Meerut.

(ii) That the cost of the suit be also awarded to the plaintiff against the defendant's.

(iii) That any other relief which the court deems fit and proper also be awarded to the plaintiff against the defendants.

11. The defendants moved an application 89-C in the trial court with the averments that after the partition, the property became the self acquired property of plaintiffs father Ramesh Chand Dublish, in terms of the provision of the UPZA & LR Act. The plaintiff has averred that his father dishonestly transferred a major portion of the property to some persons by executing sale deeds etc. without the knowledge and information of the plaintiff ,but no details of such transfer and receipt of the sale consideration have been mentioned in the plaint. It was further averred that the plaintiff alleges that the disputed property was purchased from the income of his business, which was a Benami property, as such, the suit was barred by the provisions of the Benami Transactions(Prohibition) Act,1988. It was further averred that the plaintiff was challenging the alleged family settlement dated 4.1.1972 after a period of more than 33 years, in the year 2006, as manipulated and fabricated and not binding upon him, which allegedly came into the knowledge of the plaintiff in the year 2001, but the suit was filed after the prescribed period of limitation of three years, which was grossly barred by limitation. It was further averred that the plaintiff has alleged his mother/defendant no. 2 to be the Benami owner of the disputed property, as such the suit was barred by the Act of 1988. With these averments, it was prayed that the plaint be rejected under Order 7 Rule 11(d) CPC.

12. The plaintiff- appellant opposed the above application of the defendant's on the ground that it was not legally maintainable because the defendants have already filed written statement and plaintiff has also filed his evidence and he has also been partly cross-examined, therefore, the application could not have been moved at this stage. It was averred that the defendants want to delay the disposal of the suit on one pretext or the other. It was further averred that when Shanti Saran Dublish died, plaintiff was young/minor at that time and mere mutation of name of plaintiffs father Ramesh Chand Dublish over the inherited property has no adverse affect upon the right, title and interest of the plaintiff in the disputed property. It was further submitted that the plaintiff has claimed declaration that he is the owner of two thirds share of the land of the disputed property and the sole owner of the superstructure standing on 342/1,Harnamdass Road,Civil Lines, Meerut, on which the provisions of UPZA & LR Act are not applicable. It was further averred that plaintiff was minor and member of Hindu Undivided Family(HUF), plaintiffs father being the Karta of the HUF, who was looking after the entire affairs of the property inherited by the plaintiff from his grandfather Shanti Saran Dublish. It was further averred that the provisions of the Act of 1988 are not applicable and the family settlement dated 4.1.1972 was not the subject matter of this case, because a separate case regarding that family settlement was pending in the Additional Civil Judge(Senior Division)court no.4, Meerut in which the defendants have already stated that since the village has been notified for consolidation operation as such, the court has no jurisdiction. With these submissions it was prayed that the defendant's application be rejected.

13. The trial court by impugned order dated 30.8.2025 has concluded that since plaintiff has asserted that his mother Sarla Dublish was the benami owner of the disputed property, as such, the suit is barred by Section 4(1) of the Act of 1988. The trial court has rejected the contention of the plaintiff that the provisions of Section 4(3) of the Act of 1988, were attracted in the facts and circumstances of the case, because the disputed property was purchased from the funds of the Hindu Undivided Family (HUF). It was further concluded by the trial court that the mother does not fall within the category of coparcener in the HUF. With the above reasoning, the trial court has allowed the defendants application 89-C under Order 7 Rule 11 CPC and has consequently rejected the plaint, aggrieved against which, the plaintiff has filed the instant appeal under Section 96 CPC.

14. Shri Durgesh Kumar Singh, learned Senior Counsel for the plaintiff-appellant submitted that at the stage of deciding Order 7 Rule 11 CPC application, only the plaint averments and the documents submitted with the plaint are to be examined, the written statement or the documents submitted by the defendants are not to be looked into, at this stage by the court. It was further submitted that the case of the plaintiff was also not required to be examined on merits and whatever the plaintiff has alleged, it is to be treated as true, for deciding the application. It was further submitted that the plaintiff has clearly alleged that there was a Hindu Undivided Family(HUF) consisting of himself and his father Ramesh Chand Dublish,who was also the Karta, who used to keep and maintain the accounts of the income of the HUF. Learned counsel submitted that the disputed property was purchased in the name of plaintiffs mother Sarla Dublish, from the funds obtained by illegally selling the immovable property of the HUF and the income of the partnership firm Messers Sunil Packaging Industries. It was further submitted that there was a fiduciary relationship between the plaintiff and his mother as such, the disputed property was purchased in the name of his mother, who was not having any independent income to purchase the disputed property and thereafter, construct house on it. It was further submitted that the disputed property fell in the exception enumerated in Section 4(3) of the Act of 1988, as such the suit was not barred by Section 4(1) of the Act of 1988. With these submissions, it was prayed that the appeal be allowed and the original suit be restored on the file of the trial court with the direction to decide it on merits.

15. Per contra, learned counsel for the defendant- respondents Shri Shivsagar Singh submitted that the plaintiff has alleged the disputed property to be benami, in the name of his mother Sarla Dublish, hence the provisions of Section 4(1) of the Act of 1988 were attracted in the facts and circumstances of the case. It was further submitted that the trial court has not committed any error in rejecting the plaint. With these submissions it was prayed that the appeal is meritless and be dismissed at the admission stage.

I have heard the learned counsel of both the sides, perused the impugned order and the documents submitted with the appeal.

16. Appeal is admitted.

17. The Apex Court in the case of Vinod Infra Developers Ltd. versus Mahaveer Lunia and others 2025 INSC 772 has held that at the preliminary stage of deciding Order 7 Rule 11 CPC application, the court is required to confine its examination strictly to the averments made in the plaint and not venture into the merits or veracity of the claims. If any triable issues arise from the pleadings, the suit cannot be summarily rejected.

18. The Apex Court in the case of Keshav Sood versus Kirti Pradeep Sood and others 2023 SCC OnLine SC 2459 has held that the scope of Rule 11 of Order 7 of CPC is concerned, the law is well settled. The court can look into only the averments made in the plaint and at the highest, documents produced along with the plaint. The defence of defendant and documents relied upon by him cannot be looked into while deciding such application.

19. It is apparent from the above law laid down by the Apex Court in the case of Vinod Infra Developers Ltd. (supra) and Keshav Sood (supra) that at the time of deciding Order 7 Rule 11 CPC application, the court has to look into only the averments made in the plaint and the documents submitted by the plaintiff. The court has not to examine the written statement of the defendant or the documents submitted by it. Further, the court has also not to examine the plaintiffs case on merit to determine whether he is going to succeed or not ? It is also apparent that if any triable issue arises out of the pleadings of the plaintiff, then the plaint cannot be summarily rejected.

20. For appreciating the controversy in correct perspective, it will be appropriate to examine the relevant provisions of The Benami Transactions (Prohibition) Act,1988. Section 2(a), 2(c), 3 and 4 of the Act reads as under:-

"2.Definitions.-In this Act, unless the context otherwise, requires,"

(a) "benami transaction" means any transaction in which property is transferred to one person for a consideration paid or provided by another person;

*** *** ***

(c) "property" means property of any kind, whether movable or immovable, tangible or intangible, and includes any right or interest in such property.

3. Prohibition of benami transactions.-

(1) No person shall enter into any benami transaction.

(2) Nothing in sub-section (1) shall apply to-

(a) the purchase of property by any person in the name of his wife or unmarried daughter and it shall be presumed, unless the contrary is proved, that the said property had been purchased for the benefit of the wife or the unmarried daughter;

*(b) *******

*Explanation ----****

(3)Whoever enters into any benami transaction shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three years or with fine or with both.

(4) Notwithstanding anything contained in the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 (2 of 1974), an offence under this section shall be non-cognizable and bailable.

4. Prohibition of the right to recover property held benami.-(1) No suit, claim or action to enforce any right in respect of any property held benami against the person in whose name the property is held or against any other person shall lie by or on behalf of a person claiming to be the real owner of such property.

(2)No defence based on any right in respect of any property held benami, whether against the person in whose name the property is held or against any other person, shall be allowed in any suit, claim or action by or on behalf of a person claiming to be the real owner of such property.

(3) Nothing in this section shall apply,"

(a) where the person in whose name the property is held is a coparcener in a Hindu undivided family and the property is held for the benefit of the coparceners in the family; or

(b) where the person in whose name the property is held is a trustee or other person standing in a fiduciary capacity, and the property is held for the benefit of another person for whom he is a trustee or towards whom he stands in such capacity."

21. The Apex Court in the case of Pushpalata versus Vijay Kumar(Dead) through LR's and others 2022 SCC OnLine SC 1152, while discussing the circumstances which can be taken as a guide to determine the nature of the transaction, held as under:-

"22. The court's approach in cases, where the claim is that a property or set of properties, are benami, was outlined, after considering previous precedents, in Binapani Paul v. Pratima Ghosh (2007) 6 SCC 100, where this court cited with approval extracts from Valliammal v. Subramaniam (2004) 7 SCC 233:

"47. Burden of proof as regards the benami nature of transaction was also on the respondent. This aspect of the matter has been considered by this Court in Valliammal (D) By LRS. v. Subramaniam (Supra) wherein a Division Bench of this Court held:

"13. This Court in a number of judgments has held that it is well established that burden of proving that a particular sale is benami lies on the person who alleges the transaction to be a benami. The essence of a benami transaction is the intention of the party or parties concerned and often, such intention is shrouded in a thick veil which cannot be easily pierced through. But such difficulties do not relieve the person asserting the transaction to be benami of any part of the serious onus that rests on him, nor justify the acceptance of mere conjectures or surmises, as a substitute for proof. Ref to Refer to Jaydayal Poddar v. Bibi Hazra [(1974) 1 SCC 3], Krishnanand Agnihotri v. State of M.P. [(1977) 1 SCC 816 : 1977 SCC (Cri) 190], Thakur Bhim Singh v. Thakur Kan Singh [(1980) 3 SCC 72], Pratap Singh v. Sarojini Devi [1994 Supp (1) SCC 734] and Heirs of Vrajlal J. Ganatra v. Heirs of Parshottam S. Shah [(1996) 4 SCC 490]. It has been held in the judgments referred to above that the question whether a particular sale is a benami or not, is largely one of fact, and for determining the question no absolute formulas or acid test, uniformly applicable in all situations can be laid. After saying so, this Court spelt out the following six circumstances which can be taken as a guide to determine the nature of the transaction:

(1) the source from which the purchase money came;

(2) the nature and possession of the property, after the purchase;

(3) motive, if any, for giving the transaction a benami colour;

(4) the position of the parties and the relationship, if any, between the claimant and the alleged benamidar;

(5) the custody of the title deeds after the sale; and

(6) the conduct of the parties concerned in dealing with the property after the sale.(Jaydayal Poddar v. Bibi Hazra [(1974) 1 SCC 3], SCC p. 7, para 6)

14. The above indicia are not exhaustive and their efficacy varies according to the facts of each case. Nevertheless, the source from where the purchase money came and the motive why the property was purchased benami are by far the most important tests for determining whether the sale standing in the name of one person, is in reality for the benefit of another. We would examine the present transaction on the touchstone of the above two indicia.

*** *** ***

