List of Cases cited:

1. St. of Mah. Vs Sitaram Popat Vetal (2004) 7 SCC 521

(Delivered by Hon'ble Shekhar Kumar Yadav, J.)

1. Heard Mr G. S. Chaturvedi, learned Senior counsel assisted by Mr Ajatshatru Pandey, learned counsel for the applicant, Mr Harikesh Kumar Gupta, learned counsel for the informant, learned AGA for the State and perused the record.

2. Present application under Section 439 Cr.P.C. has been filed by the applicant, namely, Anil Bhati @ Sonu for release on bail, who is involved in Case Crime No. 0850 of 2020, under Sections 307, 120-B IPC, P.S. Phase-3, District Gautam Buddh Nagar.

3. As per the version of the FIR, on 14.4.2019, the informant, namely, Yogendra Yadav and his brother Shivram Yadav had gone to village Bahlolpur to attend a function in family. It is alleged that in the night at about 11.00 to 11.30 P.M. two unknown persons on a motorcycle made indiscriminate firing upon the house of the informant with an intention to kill him, and at that time only the security guard, namely, Chandra Pal was present at his house, who is said to have telephoned the informant about the alleged incident. It is further alleged that the informant, after reaching his house, is said to have informed the police by 'dialling 100' and the police is said to have reached the place of occurrence and recovered the empty cartridges from outside the house. It is further alleged that prior to this incident, in the year 2000, the uncle of the informant, namely, Charan Singh son of Risal had been murdered by accused Santan and Mukesh along with others and the said accused persons have been convicted for life by trial Court. It is further alleged that Arun Yadav and Amit Yadav, the nephew of the same family of aforesaid accused, had also killed his cousin, namely Shiv Kumar Yadav son of Rajveer Singh on 16.11.2017 with the help of the shooters of Sunder Bhati and Anil Bhati's gang.

4. It is contended by learned counsel for the applicant that the applicant is not named in the FIR and his name came in light during investigation in the statement of co accused Aashu Jat. It is further submitted that the applicant has no concern with the said co accused and the alleged incident.

5. It is further contended that the applicant was already in Jail in connection with Case Crime No. 751 of 2017, under Sections 147, 148, 302, 34, 149, 120-B IPC and Section 7 of Criminal Law Amendment Act, P.S. Bisrak, District Gautam Budh Nagar and in the said case, he was admitted to bail by this Court vide order dated 14.11.2018 passed in Criminal Misc bail Application No. 19942 of 2018. But he could not be released due to imposition of National Security Act, 1980, which was imposed upon him vide order dated 5.12.2018, and the said detention was later-on challenged by the applicant and after the quashing of the said detention order by this Court vide order dated 19.08.2019, the applicant was finally released from District Jail on 6.12.2019.

6. It is further submitted that no offence under Sections 307, 120-B IPC is made out against the applicant as there is no evidence of conspiracy and the statement of co accused is not admissible to be taken into account. The applicant is in jail since 24.08.2020.

7. It is again submitted that it is not in dispute that when the incident in question took place, applicant was in jail and nothing is on record to show that applicant had participated directly in the occurrence. It is further submitted that after grant of bail the applicant herein in the present case, shall never misuse the concession of bail.

8. On the other hand, learned AGA as well as learned counsel for the informant have contended that there is high possibility of threat and danger to the life and safety of the complainant and his family members, as the applicant is having long criminal history of 15 cases against him under various heinous sections.

9. Learned counsel for the informant has also stated that from perusal of the statements of the informant and co accused Ashu Jaat @ Praveen said to have been recorded under Section 161 Cr.P.C., involvement of accused in the present case cannot be ruled out. The relevant extract of the statement of the informant said to have been recorded under Section 161 Cr.P.C. is as under:-

"बयान वादी योगेन्द्र यादव पुत्र श्री ओमवीर सिंह यादन निवासी म0न0 बी0एच0 66 सेक्टर 70 नोयडा मोबाईल .000000 ने पूछने पर बताया कि मेरे भाई शिवकुमार यादव की दिनांक 16/11/2017 को दिन मे 02:30 बजे के लगभग खजूर कट तिगडी गोल चक्कर पर गोली मारकर हत्या कर दी गयी थी। शिवकुमार के साथ ही उनके सुरक्षा गार्ड रईस पाल व ड्राईवर बलीनाथ की भी हत्या कर दी गयी थी। जिसके संबंध में मेरे चचेरे भाई योगेश यादव ने थाना बिसरख पर 1. सुन्दर यादव 2. चरण सिंह पुत्रगण जयराम 3. देवेन्द्र यादव 4. सतेन्द्र यादव पुत्रगण डालचन्द्र निवासीगण पुराना हैवतपुर थाना बिसरख गौतमबुद्ध नगर के विरूद्ध दिनांक 17/11/2017 को मु0 अप0 संख्या 751/17 धारा 147,148,149,302,34 भादवि पंजीकृत लिखवाया था। पुलिस की जांच से पता चला था कि यह हमला सुन्दर भाटी गैंग के अनिल भाटी ने अपने शूटरो से कराया था पुलिस ने तफ्तीश से अनिल भाटी, शेरू भाटी, सहदेव भाटी, सुन्दर भाटी, प्रदीप उर्फ भोला और अमर उर्फ फौजी उर्फ राजकुमार का चालान इस मुकदमें में किया था। उस मुकदमें की मै पैरवी कर रहा हूं। कई बार अनिल भाटी ने मुझे धमकी भिजवायी है कि या तो फेसला कर ले। नहीं तो तेरा भी तेरे भाई की तरह ही मर्डर करा दुंगा। मुझे जानकारी मिली की मेरे घर पर जो दिनांक 14/04/2019 को फाईरिंग करायी गयी थी वो ही अनिल भाटी ने हीं 1. आशू जाट उर्फ प्रवीन उर्फ धर्मेन्द्र पुत्र राजेन्द्र निवासी ग्राम काजीपुरा थाना मसूरी जिला गाजियाबाद, 2. उमेश उर्फ छोटे पुत्र वतन सिंह निवासी ग्राम रायपुर मौजमपुर थाना शिकारपुर जनपद बुलन्दशहर से करायी थी। आशू और उमेश ने ही हेलमेट लगाकर मो0सा0 से आकर मेरे घर पर गोलिया चलायी थी।"

10. The relevant extract of statement of co accused Aashu Jat, said to have been

" बयान अभियुक्त आशू जाट उर्फ प्रवीन उर्फ धर्मेन्द्र पुत्र राजेन्द्र निवासी ग्राम काजीपुरा थाना मसूरी जिला गाजियाबाद ने पूछने पर अपनी गलती की माफी मांगते हुये बताया कि मेरी अनिल भाटी पुत्र सहदेव भाटी निवासी ग्राम घंघोला ग्रेटर नोयडा गौतमवुद्ध नगर से कई साल से दोस्ती है मार्च 2019 में उससे मिला था तो उसने मुझसे अपना एक काम करने को बताया था कि उसके खिलाफ योगेन्द्र यादव निवासी सैक्टर 70 नोएडा अपने भाई की हत्या के मुकदमें में बहुत पैरवी कर रहा है और धमकी से भी नहीं मान रहा है उसके घर पर जाकर जो भी मिले उसे गोली मार देना तब देखता हूं कि वह कैसे फेसला नहीं करेगा और इस काम के लिए मुझे अनिल भाटी ने एक लाख रूपये दिये थे। तब मैने अपने साथी उमेश उर्फ छोटे पुत्र वतन सिंह निवासी ग्राम रायपुर मौजमपुर थाना शिकारपुर जिला बुलंदशहर को साथ लेकर दिनांक 14 अप्रैल 2019 को रात्रि 11 बजे के लगभग मो0सा0 पर जाकर सैक्टर 70 नोयडा में योगेन्द्र यादव के घर पर फायरिंग की थी। उस दिन उसके घ्र पर कोई नहीं था केवल गार्ड बाहर खडा था वो भी हमें देखकर अन्दर भाग गया था मैं और उमेश मो0 सा0 से दोनों हेलमेट लगाकर फायरिंग करने के लिये सैक्टर 70 में गये थे। और फायरिंग करके वापस अपने घर चले गये थे। पिस्टलों के बारे में पूछने पर बताया कि वो दोनों पिस्टल बाद में उमेश के घर रखी थी अब मुझे नहीं पता कि वह कहां पर है।"

11. It is further submitted by learned AGA and learned counsel for the informant that on perusal of the aforesaid statements it is very much clear that there is specific allegation that the applicant hatched the conspiracy. Further the antecedents of the accused; motive behind commission of the offence; threat perceptions to the complainant and his family members also cannot be brushed aside. It is submitted that there is every likelihood that the accused, if granted bail, would misuse the concession of bail. It is submitted that there is ample material collected during investigation establishing that the applicant has hatched conspiracy and the applicant is involved in various heinous offences, and, therefore, it would not be proper to release him on bail.

12. It is further contended by learned counsel for the informant that co accused, namely, Aman Yadav, Ravindra Kumar Yadav and Pravin Kumar Yadav have been granted bail in Case Crime No. 751 of 2017, by this Court vide order dated 4.12.2019, which was challenged by him before the Apex Court. Apex Court vide order dated 5.4.2019 dismissed the appeal and directed to expedite the trial and conclude the proceedings as early as possible. It was also directed that the accused must render complete co-operation on early disposal of the matter, failing which the facility of bail granted to them may stand recalled.

13. It is further submitted that in the IInd bail application of co accused Amit Kumar Yadav, being Criminal Misc IInd Bail Application 16121 of 2020 (Amit Kumar Vs State), this Court vide order dated 19.10.2020 also directed the Trial Court to secure the presence of the co accused persons, namely, Aman Yadav, Ravindra Kumar Yadav and Pravin Kumar Yadav and other co accused persons, who were on bail and frame charges against them by the next date in the matter and proceed with the trial.

14. Further submission is that the applicant has not yet surrendered before the Court below hence no charge has been framed against him in the matter and he is deliberately absconding, therefore, considering the impact of his release on witnesses and innocent members of the family of the victim, this court should not enlarge a history sheeter on bail.

15. In the case of State of Maharashtra v. Sitaram Popat Vetal, (2004) 7 SCC 521, it has been held by Hon'ble Supreme Court that while granting bail, the following factors among other circumstances are required to be considered by the Court:

1. The nature of accusation and the severity of punishment in case of conviction and the nature of supporting evidence;

2. Reasonable apprehension of tampering with the witness or apprehension of threat to the complainant; and

3. Prima facie satisfaction of the court in support of the charge.

16. It is well settled that, among other circumstances, the factors to be borne in mind while considering an application for bail are:

(i) whether there is any prima facie or reasonable ground to believe that the accused had committed the offence;

(ii) nature and gravity of the accusation;

(iii) severity of the punishment in the event of conviction;

(iv) danger of the accused absconding or fleeing, if released on bail;

(v) character, behaviour, means, position and standing of the accused;

(vi) likelihood of the offence being repeated;

(vii) reasonable apprehension of the witnesses being influenced; and

(viii) danger, of course, of justice being thwarted by grant of bail.

17. Keeping in view the law laid down in catena of decisions upon use of discretionary power of grant of bail and also considering the nature of the allegations; the impact of release of such accused, having chequered history, on witnesses and family of victim, gravity of offence, and the evidence collected during investigation, applicant's involvement that too from the jail cannot be ruled out in the present case, hence, prima facie no case for grant of any indulgence is made out.

18. Application is accordingly rejected.

Sri Amit Kumar Srivastava

Counsel for the Opposite Parties:
A.G.A.

A. Criminal Law - The Protection of Children from Sexual Offences Act, 2012 - The Court has rejected the bail application on seeing the gravity of the offence, severity of the punishment and the manner in which the applicant alleged to have committed rape on the minor girl. (Para 7)

Bail Application Rejected. (E-10)

List of Cases cited:

1. Ms. Eera through Dr. Manjula Krippendorf Vs. State (Govt. of NCT of Delhi) AIR 2017 SC 3457

(Delivered by Hon'ble Sanjay Kumar Singh, J.)

1. Heard Mr. Amit Kumar Srivastava, learned counsel for the applicant, Mr.

Rabindra Kumar Singh, learned Additional Government Advocate assisted by Mr. Rajmani Yadav, brief holder representing the State and perused the record of the case.

2. By means of this application, applicant-Bhootnath, who is involved in Case Crime No. 84 of 2019, under sections 376, 323, 363 IPC and section 3/4 of The Protection of Children from Sexual Offences Act, police station Jafarganj, district Fatehpur, seeks enlargement on bail during the pendency of trial.

3. As per prosecution case, in brief, the first information report dated 01.06.2019 has been lodged by informant-Keshanlal Sonkar under section 363 IPC against unknown person alleging inter alia that on 01.06.2019 at about 4.00 a.m. her daughter, whose date of birth is 12.10.2002 had gone to attend the call of nature, but did not return home.

4. It is submitted by learned counsel for the applicant that the applicant is absolutely innocent and has falsely been implicated in the present case with some ulterior motive. The FIR has been lodged against unknown person. It is further submitted by learned counsel for the applicant that as per medical examination report of the victim, she is about 18 years. The medical examination report does not support the prosecution story. It is next submitted by the learned counsel for the applicant that the applicant is well acquainted with the family members of the victim and he used to come to her house, therefore, the victim has developed illicit relations with the applicant and as such she was consenting party with the applicant. There are contradictions in the statements of the victim recorded under sections 161 and 164 Cr.P.C. As per medical examination report of the victim, no injury has been found on her body. It is also submitted that the applicant has no criminal antecedent to his credit and is facing detention since 05.07.2019. It is next contended that there is no chance of the applicant of fleeing away from the judicial process or tampering with the prosecution evidence. Learned counsel for the applicant lastly submitted that if the applicant is released on bail, he will not misuse the liberty of bail and will cooperate in the early disposal of the case.

5. Per contra, learned Additional Government Advocate has opposed the bail prayer of the applicant by contending that the applicant is well acquainted with the family members of the victim and had used to come to the house of the informant. The applicant is a sage and it is not expected by a sage of committing such a heinous crime with a girl, who has reverence and faith on him. The victim was recovered after one month on 02.07.2019 from the possession of the applicant (Bhootnath alias Ramdas alias Babaji) from district Jamnagar, Gujarat with the help of local police of Jamnagar. The applicant was arrested on 02.07.2019 and after obtaining transit remand order dated 02.07.2019 from the court of Chief Judicial Magistrate, Jamnagar, he was brought and produced on 05.07.2019 before the concerned court of district-Fatehpur, U.P. In her statement under sections 161 and 164 Cr.P.C. the victim has stated that she has been forcibly enticed away by the applicant and also made allegation of committing rape upon her against the applicant. She has also stated in her statement under section 161 Cr.P.C. that the applicant used to give her some medicines, due to which she fallen asleep. It is also alleged by the victim that the accused also assaulted her by danda and chimta (tong). As per FIR and her Aadhar Card, victim is minor, as her date of birth is 12.10.2002. On 05.07.2019, sections 376, 323 IPC and 3/4 of Protection of Children from Sexual Offences Act were added by the Investigating Officer. It is next contended by the learned A.G.A. that it is a heinous crime. It is next argued that absence of injuries on private part or other part of body of victim would not rule out her being subjected to rape. Lastly, it is submitted that the innocence of the applicant cannot be adjudged at pre trial stage therefore, the applicant does not deserve any indulgence. In case, the applicant is released on bail, he will misuse the liberty of bail.

6. As per section 2(1)(d) of the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences Act 2012, "Child" means any person below the age of eighteen years. The Apex Court in the matter of Ms. Eera through Dr. Manjula Krippendorf vs State (Govt. of NCT of Delhi) and another, reported in AIR 2017 SC 3457 has held that use of word "age" in section 2(1)(d) of Protection of Children from Sexual Offences Act only includes biological/physical age and not mental age of child. The degree of understanding of child can never be put in straight jacket formula. In this case, a heinous crime of kidnapping and rape has been committed with a child/girl by the accused, who is a sage (Baba) aged about 50 years and was known to victim's father and used to visit her house, ergo he must suffer for its consequences. On account of these kind of incidents, faith and trust on the person is decreasing. A rapist not only violates the victim's personal integrity, but leaves indelible marks on the very soul of the helpless female. In this case, a hapless girl had been ravished by the accused. The act of sexual assault induces trauma and horror for any girl or regardless of her social position in the society. A child/girl, who is the victim of sexual assault, is not an accomplice to the crime, but is victim of another person's lust and therefore, her statement need not be tested at this stage with the same amount of suspicion as that of accomplice. As a matter of fact, the crime is not only against the victim, it is against the whole society as well. It demands just decision from the Court and to such demand, the Courts of law are bound to respond within the legal parameters.

7. Considering the facts and circumstances of the case, submissions advanced on behalf of parties, gravity of the offence, severity of the punishment and the manner in which the offence has been committed, I do not find any good ground to grant bail to the applicant.

8. Accordingly, the bail application is rejected.

9. However, it is clarified that the observation, if any, made herein above shall be strictly confined to the disposal of the bail application and must not be construed to have any reflection on the ultimate merits of the case.

5. The petitioners of respective writ petitions have prayed to quash the impugned first information reports registered against them under Sections 2/3 of the Act, 1986. Hence, they have filed the present writ petitions.

Submissions on behalf of the petitioners:-

6. Learned counsel for the petitioners submits that merely on the basis of solitary criminal case registered against the petitioners, a case under Section 2/3 of the Act, 1986 cannot be registered. In support of their submissions, the petitioners have relied upon judgments of this court in Subhash and others Vs. State of U.p. and others, (paragraphs 7, 14, 17, 47, 48), dated 24.03.1997 in Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No.835 of 1998; Full Bench Judgment of this Court in Ashok Kumar Dixit Vs. State of U.P. and another, 1987, (24) ACC 164 (para 22) and another Division Bench judgment in the case of Ajai Rai Vs. State of U.P. 1995 (32) All Cri C 477.

Submissions on behalf of the State-Respondents:-

7. Learned A.G.A. submits that in view of the provisions of Sections 3 of the Act, 1986 even if a single criminal case is registered against the petitioners, then also the F.I.R. under Section 2/3 of the Act, 1986 can be registered provided the ingredients of Section 3 of the Act, 1986 are satisfied.

Relevant Statutory Provisions:-

8. Since controversy involved in this batch of writ petitions mainly relates to provisions of Section 2(b), Section 2(c) and Section 3 of the Act, 1986, therefore, these provisions are reproduced below:-

Discussion and Findings:-

9. In Kartar Singh vs. State of Punjab (1994) 3 SCC 569, Hon'ble Supreme Court as per majority view, observed that "the Legislation begins where Evil begins." The legislature being guided by its sacrosanct duty to protect individual members of the society to enjoy their rights without fear and see that some people do not become a menace to the society in singular or collective manner as indicated. The Constitutional Validity of the Act, 1986 has been upheld by Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Dharmendra Kirthal vs. State of U.P. and another, (2013) 8 SCC 368. While upholding the constitutional validity, Hon'ble Supreme Court observed in Para-45 (SCC) that the accused is tried by the Special Court as he is "gangster' as defined under Section 2(c) of the Act, 1986 and is involved in anti-social activities with the object of disturbing public order or of gaining any undue temporal, pecuniary, material or other advantage for himself. It was further observed that apart from normal criminality, the accused is also involved in an organised crime for a different purpose and motive. The intention of legislature is to curve such type of crime, which has become epidemic in the society. It was further observed in para-47 (SCC) that in the case at hand it can be stated with certitude that the legislature has felt that there should be curtailment of the activities of the gangsters and, accordingly, provided for stern delineation with such activities to establish stability in society where citizens can live in peace and enjoy a secured life. It has to be kept uppermost in mind that control of crime by making appropriate legislation is the most important duty of the legislature in a democratic polity, for it is necessary to scuttle serious threats to the safety of the citizens. Therefore, the legislature has, in actuality, responded to the actual feelings and requirements of the collective. It was also observed vide paras 38-39 (SCC) of the aforesaid judgment that in essence, liberty of an individual should not be allowed to be eroded but every individual has an obligation to see that he does not violate the laws of the land or affect others' lawful liberty to lose his own. The cry of liberty is not to be confused with or misunderstood as unconcerned senile shout for freedom. Protection of the collective is the bone marrow and that is why liberty in a civilized society cannot be absolute. It is the duty of the courts to uphold the dignity of personal liberty. It is also the duty of the court to see whether the individual crosses the "Lakshman Rekha" that is carved out by law is dealt with appropriately. No individual has any right to hazard others' liberty. The body polity governed by Rule of law does not permit anti-social acts that lead to a disorderly society.

10. The provisions of the Act, 1986/ other similar provisions have been interpreted by this Court and also by Hon'ble Supreme Court. Therefore, it would be appropriate to refer to the judgments so as to appropriately answer the questions framed above in this batch of writ petitions.

11. In N. Sengodan vs. State of Teamil Nadu, (2013) 8 SCC 664 (paras-47-48), Hon'ble Supreme Court considered the provisions of The Prevention of Dangerous Activities of Bootleggers, Drug-Offenders, Forest Offenders, Goondas, Immoral Traffic Offenders and Slum-grabbers Act, 1982 and held as under:

"47. In State of Bihar vs. P.P. Sharma, 1992 SCC (Cri) 192, this Court defined mala fides and held: (SCC p.260, paras 50-51)

"50. Mala fides means want of good faith, personal bias, grudge, oblique or improper motive or ulterior purpose. The administrative action must be said to be done in good faith, if it is in fact done honestly, whether it is done negligently or not. An act done honestly is deemed to have been done in good faith. An administrative authority must, therefore, act in a bona fide manner and should never act for an improper motive or ulterior purposes or contrary to the requirements of the statute, or the basis of the circumstances contemplated by law, or improperly exercised discretion to achieve some ulterior purpose. The determination of a plea of mala fide involves two questions, namely (i) whether there is a personal bias or an oblique motive, and (ii) whether the administrative action is contrary to the objects, requirements and conditions of a valid exercise of administrative power.

51. The action taken must, therefore, be proved to have been made mala fide for such considerations. Mere assertion or a vague or bald statement is not sufficient. It must be demonstrated either by admitted or proved facts and circumstances obtainable in a given case. If it is established that the action has been taken mala fide for any such considerations or by fraud on power or colourable exercise of power, it cannot be allowed to stand."

This Court in the same case of P.P. Sharma (supra) further held that: (SCC pp.261-62, para 55)

"55. ..... the person against whom mala fides or bias was imputed should be impleaded eo nomine as a party-respondent to the proceedings and given an opportunity to meet those allegations."

In the present case the appellant has not only made assertion but demonstrated by placing either by admitted or proved facts and circumstances obtainable that even though the case has not made out but he was harassed.

48. Personal liberty is of the widest amplitude covering variety of rights. Its deprivation shall be only as per procedure prescribed in the Code and the Evidence Act conformable to the mandate of the Supreme Law, the Constitution. The investigator must be alive to the mandate of the Constitution and is not empowered to trample upon the personal liberty of a person when he has acted by malafides, as held by this Court in P.P. Sharma."

12. In the case of State of Haryana and others vs. Bhajan Lal and others, 1992 Supp. (1) SCC 335, Hon'ble Supreme Court has considered the scope of interference with the FIR in writ jurisdiction and has illustrated certain circumstances, in which FIR can be interfered with in exercise of powers under Article 226 of the Constitution of India. The said illustrations crystallized by Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Bhajan Lal and others (supra), are reproduced below:

"(i) Where the allegations made in the first information report or the complaint, even if they are taken at their face value and accepted in their entirety do not prima facie constitute any offence or make out a case against the accused.

(ii) Where the allegations in the first information report and other materials, if any, accompanying the FIR do not disclose a cognizable offence, justifying an investigation by police officers under Section 156(1) of the Code except under an order of a Magistrate within the purview of Section 155(2) of the Code.

(iii) Where the uncontroverted allegations made in the FIR or complaint and the evidence collected in support of the same do not disclose the commission of any offence and make out a case against the accused.

(iv) Where, the allegations in the FIR do not constitute a cognizable offence but constitute only a non-cognizable offence, no investigation is permitted by a police officer without an order of a Magistrate as contemplated under Section 155(2) of the Code.

(v) Where the allegations made in the FIR or complaint are so absurd and inherently improbable on the basis of which no prudent person can ever reach a just conclusion that there is sufficient ground for proceeding against the accused.

(vi) Where there is an express legal bar engrafted in any of the provisions of the Code or the Act concerned (under which a criminal proceeding is instituted) to the institution and continuance of the proceedings and/or where there is a specific provision in the Code or the Act concerned, providing efficacious redress for the grievance of the aggrieved party.

(vii) Where a criminal proceeding is manifestly attended with mala fides and/or where the proceeding is maliciously instituted with an ulterior motive for wreaking vengeance on the accused and with a view to spite him due to private and personal grudge."

13. In Ashok Rai and another vs. State of U.P. and others, 1995 (25) ALR 423 (Paras 6 & 8), a Division Bench of this court held as under:

"6. To appreciate the submission as made by Sri Chaturvedi and his learned associate advocate, we must go through the definition of "gang' as enunciated under Section 2(b) of the Act. It states that "gang means a group of persons, who acting either singly or collectively, by violence, or threat or show of violence, or intimidation or coercion or otherwise with the object of disturbing public order or of gaining any undue temporal, pecuniary, material or other advantage for himself or any other person indulge in anti-social activities, namely ----------".

8. The definition itself indicates that if a group of persons acting either singly or collectively indulged in any of the activities as elaborated in the section, by means of violence etc. with the objects as indicated therein, the group is to be termed a "gang". We may not put any words within the definition with a view to infer that a gang is to be formed first and then any of the anti-social activities, as detailed in the definition, is to be committed. Under the definition the essentials required are (1) Existence of a group of persons, (2) commission by them, singly or collectively, any of the anti-social activities as detailed in the definition, (3) such commission should be associated with Violence or threat or show of violence, or intimidation etc. and (4) the object of such commission should be gaining any undue temporal, pecuniary, material or other advantage for himself or any other person. We, therefore, cannot accept the contention of the learned counsel that the definition demands that the gang is first to be made and commission of the anti-social activities is to be followed."

14. In Application U/S 482 No. - 3239 of 2005 (Tej Singh and others vs. State of U.P. and another), decided on 20.04.2019, a learned Single Judge of this Court held as under:

"A careful perusal of the definition of "Gangster" and "Gang" would not fail to indicate that if an offence punishable under Chapter XVI, Chapter XVII and Chapter XXII of Indian Penal Code is committed with the object of disturbing public order or with the object of gaining any undue temporal, pecuniary or material advantage, such activity on the part of accused can make him liable to face the imposition of Gangsters Act in question. He may commit such kind of act just once and may face a single F.I.R. or he may commit such kind of offences many times and may face more than one F.I.Rs. in that connection. It is not the number of F.I.Rs. which is relevant as it is significant to assess whether the crime committed by the accused was inspired and prompted with the motive of gaining any undue temporal, pecuniary or material advantage or not. It is the object of the offence or the motive behind it which is of crucial significance in order to adjudge whether the provisions of Gangsters Act in question can be brought into application in a given case or not.

After having perused the record, this Court finds itself in agreement with the submissions made by the learned counsel for the applicants that though the accused are facing the allegations of having committed murder but they cannot be said to have committed the crime because they were gangsters. There was no motive of making any wrongful economic gains. This Court also does not see any material on the basis of which it may be held that the prime object behind committing the crime in question was so as to disturb the public order. Whenever some grave crime is committed it always leads to a consequential result of some kind of disturbance in society. Such normal disturbance in society and disturbing the public order or creating panic or terror are different species. Ordinary law and order problems can not be clubbed with phenomenon of break of public order. The crime in question does not appear to have been committed with the object of gaining any undue temporal, pecuniary, material or other similar kind of advantage for itself or for any other person indulged in anti-social activities.

Here in this context it may also be seen that in the definition of 'gang' as provided under Section -2(b) of the U.P. Gangsters and Anti Social Activities (Prevention) Act, 1986 (hereinafter referred to as Act) reference to the words 'gaining any undue temporal, pecuniary, material or other advantage' for himself or any other person has been given. One might argue that the words 'other advantage' is an all inclusive term and all kinds and categories of advantages will come under its title, and therefore, there is hardly any need to see the facts of the case with a fine class in order to find whether the object of the gang is or was of gaining undue temporal, pecuniary and material advantage or not. If the violence or offence committed was inspired to get any kind of advantage for himself or for any other person, the letter of definition as provided by the Act shall stand satisfied. But in the considered opinion of this Court such kind of approach will lead to complete misinterpretation of the Statute. If the Legislature in its wisdom has used a number of qualifying words with regard to Anti Social Activity as has been referred to and contemplated in the Act, then its whole purpose shall stand defeated by providing such an all sweeping meaning to the words 'other advantage' as has been used in the definition. If the term 'other advantage' was meant to include all advantages or was meant to include any kind of advantage whatsoever where was the need to use different other defining words like 'temporal, pecuniary and material' which immediately precede the words 'or other advantage' ! It is self evident that the use of the preceding words have a qualifying effect and must be seen lending its complexion to the subsequently used words 'other advantage'. The words 'other advantage' has got to be seen in the context and perspective and with reference to the preceding aforesaid words and must be understood in the same light. Just as a man is often known by the company he keeps, the import of words in Statute also are often to be seen and understood by the company of the words in which they appear. In this regard this Court deems it appropriate to keep in perspective the rule of 'Ejusdem Generis' in order to correctly appreciate the scope and the actual ambit of the general words which follow the aforesaid specific words used in the Statute. The Court is of the view that the aforesaid preceding words 'temporal, pecuniary and material' are constituting a genus and the words 'other advantage' has to be read as an species of the same. Though ordinarily the general words must be provided to bear their natural and larger meaning but they have to be confined Ejusdem generis to the class of things previously enumerated by certain specific words because it is not difficult to see clearly the intention of the Statute which it spells out by using a specific class and category of qualifying words. This Court sees reasons and therefore feels persuaded to limit the scope of the meaning of the general words 'other advantage' because if we provide to it a larger all embracing meaning it is likely to lead to absurd and unforeseen results. The general expression has to be read contemplating to imply the things of the same kind which have been referred to by the preceding specific class of things constituting a genus. If we do not adhere to this rule and do not impute specific complexion to the general words in the light of the preceding words the blatant misuse and plain absurdity to which it shall lead is that the administrative executives and the police would feel free to impose the provisions of this Act upon anybody and everybody who is facing the charge of committing any sort of offence or any breach of law howsoever trivial it be because hardly any violence or threat or show of violence or intimidation or coercion is done without having the object of gaining some kind of advantage himself or for any other person. The word 'advantage' has an all sweeping natural meaning and may include material and psychological both kinds of advantages. In that view of the matter the use of the words 'other advantage' will bring in its mischief everything under the sun. It is therefore very expediently needed to read these words in right perspective and read them Ejusdem generis with the things or words previously enumerated by the Statute."

15. In the case of Piyush Kanti Lal Mehta vs. Commissioner of Police, 1989 Supp.(1) SCC 322 (Paras 16 and 17), Hon'ble Supreme court considered the distinction between "law and order" and "public order" and after referring to the judgment in the case of Pushkar Mukherjee & Ors vs The State Of West Bengal, (1969) 1 SCC 10 (Paras 14 and 15), observed as under:

"16. It is submitted by Dr Chitale that the allegations which have been made by the said five witnesses against the petitioner are also very general in character and do not involve the question of public order. Counsel submits that there is a distinction between `law and order' and 'public order' . The allegations made against the petitioner may give rise to a question of law and order but, surely, they have nothing to do with the question of public order. A person may be very fierce by nature, but so long as the public generally are not affected by his activities or conduct, the question of maintenance of public order will not arise. In order that an activity may be said to affect adversely the maintenance of public order, there must be materials to show that there has been a feeling of insecurity among the general public. If any act of a person creates panic or fear in the minds of the members of the public upsetting the even tempo of life of the community, such act must be said to have a direct bearing on the question of maintenance of public order. The commission of an offence will not necessarily come within the purview of `public order'.

17.In this connection, we may refer to a decision of this Court in Pushkar Mukherjee vs. State of West Bengal, (1969) 1 SCC 10; where the distinction between `law and order' and `public order' has been clearly laid down. Ramaswami, J. speaking for the Court observed as follows: (SCC pp. 14-15)

"Does the expression `public order' take in every kind of infraction of order or only some categories thereof. It is manifest that every act of assault or injury to specific persons does not lead to public disorder. When two people quarrel and fight and assault each other inside a house or in a street, it may be said that there is disorder but not public disorder. Such cases are dealt with under the powers vested in the executive authorities under the provisions of ordinary criminal law but the culprits cannot be detained on the ground that they were disturbing public order. The contravention of any law always affects order but before it can be said to affect public order, it must affect the community or the public at large. In this connection we must draw a line of demarcation between serious and aggravated forms of disorder which directly affect the community or injure the public interest and the relatively minor breaches of peace of a purely local significance which primarily injure specific individuals and only in a secondary sense public interest. A mere disturbance of law and order leading to disorder is thus not necessarily sufficient for action under the Preventive Detention Act but a disturbance which will affect public order comes within the scope of the Act."

16. A Division Bench of this Court in the case of Subhash vs. State of U.P. and another, 1998 All.L.J. 2092 (Paras-8, 9, 11,13 and 14) answered the question as to whether an FIR can be registered under Section 2/3 of the Act, 1986 on the basis of a single case and the meaning of the word "indulge" used in Section 2(b) of the Act and held as under:

"8. In paragraph 58 of the judgment the Full Bench Bench met the argument of the counsels that there would always be an apprehension that a person, though not physically present on the scene of occurrence, could be roped in under the provisions of the Act in relation to that occurrence on the façile ground that, he was a gangster. The Court observed that the apprehension was not very real, but it also uttered a word of caution that it could not be dismissed as altogether imaginary or absurd. The Court observed that "police is sometimes prone to be overzealous and in order to win laurels, books all and one within the range of its rod. Needless to say, the Act has to be enforced in a reasonable manner. *Care should be taken that no unnecessary inroad is made into the exercise of fundamental rights of the citizen or interference in the peaceful prosecution of their avocation." In paragraph 59 of the judgment the Court further observed,"*Thus, for booking a person under the provisions of the Act, the authorities have to be prima facie satisfied that a person has acted. The authority has to be satisfied that there is a reasonable and proximate connection between the occurrence and the activity of the person sought to be apprehended and that such activities were to achieve undue temporal, physical, economic or other advantage. There need not be any overt or positive act of the person intended to be apprehended at the place. It is enough to prove active complicity which has a bearing on the crime."

9. The Full Bench further observed in paragraph 60 of the judgment that under the ordinary criminal law, it was sometime difficult to bring to book the overlords of crime and under world because they seldom operated in person or in public case. They indulged in clandestine operations which threaten to tear apart the very fabric of the society. In the immediate next paragraph again a note of caution was sounded by the Full Bench observing "provisions of the Act cannot be used as a weapon to wreck vengeance or harass or intimidate innocent citizens or to settle scores on political or other fronts. The prosecution has to bear in mind that it has to bring home the guilt.

*11. The Division Bench in the case of Ajai Rai (supra) considered the above aspect in paragraph 9 of its judgment and in the absence of any definition of the words in the Act looked for the Dictionary meaning thereof. The word "indulges", according to the Webster, meant "too yield to the desire of or to get pleasure in doing" etc. The word "indulge", according to Chamber, is a verb used as a transitive verb and also used as an intransitive verb. As a transitive verb, it meant "to yield to the wishes of", or "to favour or gratify", or "not to restrain". In an intransitive verb a meaning was given to the word "indulge" parallel to "permit oneself in action or expression".* The word used in the Act is not only "indulges" but also followed by another word "in" and the Division Bench was of the view that "indulges in", as used in the Act, meant "to permit oneself in action or expression" and with this meaning it was opined that the words carried the same connotation as "does" or "commits". The Division Bench was further of the view that these two common terms have been avoided by the legislature apparently for the reason that the words "indulges in" were followed by the words "anti-social activities" and the actions detailed in the 15 sub-clauses of Section 2 might not strictly come within the term "commits."

13. We may come to point No.3, categorised by us in the earlier pages of this judgment. We are to see, if under the concept of the offence, created by the Act, there must be some allegation of any act or omission towards commission of the offence. While taking up the question of constitutional validity of the Act in the case of Ashok Kumar Dixit (supra), the Full Bench had made certain very important observations which are relevant for the present point. It was observed that a person was not liable to be punished under the Act merely because he happened to be a member of the group. The Court was, rather, of the view that a person could be accused of an offence only if he had chosen to join a group which indulges in anti-social activities, defined under the Act, with use of force for obtaining material or other advantages to himself or to any person. The Court was of the view "The element of actus reus is hence clearly present in the offence created under the statute." Whenever any act or omission covered by Sections 2 and 3 of the Act is reported an offence is made out and as a corollary it may be indicated without any fear of contradiction that unless an allegation is there concerning an act or omission on the part of an accused, covered by the definition of the term "gang" or "gangster", no F.I.R. should be maintainable. Whether the allegations are true or false will be a matter for investigation, but unless the allegations of an offence under the Act are indicated, as F.I.R. may not be justifiable whatever large the number of past acts be alleged against him.

14. As a sequel to this decision when there are some allegations of any act or omission towards the commission of the offence under the Act to justify an F.I.R., it follows that such an FIR could lie even for a single incident as habituality of the acts is not required for making out an offence. The words used in Section 2 are no doubt in plural indicating "indulge in anti-|social activities" but the sentence does not stop with the words "anti-social activities". It goes on with the word, "viz." followed by 15 clauses of anti-social activities enumerated therein. The plural in "anti-social activities" referred to the large number of activities to be brought under the umbrella of this single offence and it would never mean that there must be plurality of actions before a person could be prosecuted or convicted for an offence under the Act. When a specific offence has been created, it is open to be punished even for a single act, if it is covered by the requirements of law. We, thus, answer point No.1 framed by us."

17. In a recent judgment dated 05.08.2021 in Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No.3938 of 2021 (Ritesh Kumar @ Rikki vs. State of U.P. and another and other connected writ petitions), a Division Bench of this Court framed the following question:

"Whether a first information report under the provisions of the Uttar Pradesh Gangsters and Anti-Social Activities (Prevention) Act, 1986 [hereinafter referred to as the ''Gangsters Act'] can be lodged and is maintainable on the basis of involvement of the petitioner(s) / accused in a single previous case."

18. The afore-noted question has been answered by the Division in the aforesaid judgment in the case of Ritesh Kumar @ Rikki (supra), as under:

"After having heard the learned counsels for the parties and perusing the records, it is apparent that barring Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No. 4149 of 2021, all the above writ petitions were argued on the common point for which the question as framed, is answered that as per the settled principles of law, the lodging of a first information report on the basis of a single case, is valid and permissible. In a petition under Article 226 of the Constitution of India, this Court cannot adjudicate the correctness of the allegations in the impugned first information reports or the cases on the basis of which the impugned first information reports have been lodged. The writ petitions are thus dismissed."

19. Thus, where a group of persons act either singly or collectively, by violence, or threat or show of violence, or intimidation, or coercion, or otherwise with the object of disturbing public order or of gaining any undue temporal, pecuniary, material or other advantage of himself or any other person, indulge in anti-social activities as described in sub-clauses (i) to (xxv) of Section 2(b), they shall be a "Gang' as defined in Section 2(b) and thus, a "gangster' under Section 2 who shall be liable for punishment under Section 3 of the Act, 1986.

20. The intention of the Act, 1986 is to curve such type of crime, which has become epidemic in the society. The legislature has felt that there should be curtailment of the activities of the gangsters and, accordingly, provided for stern delineation with such activities to establish stability in society where citizens can live in peace and enjoy a secured life. Control of crime by making appropriate legislation is the most important duty of the legislature in a democratic polity and for this reason it is necessary to scuttle serious threats to the safety of the citizens. Thus, the Act, 1986, in actuality, responded to the actual feelings and requirements of the collective. In view of the basic idea of protection of the society, liberty in a civilized society cannot be absolute. Therefore, it is the duty of the courts to uphold the dignity of personal liberty and to see if an individual crosses the limit carved out by law, he needs to be dealt with appropriately, inasmuch as no individual has any right to hazard others' liberty. Rule of law does not permit anti-social acts that lead to a disorderly society.

21. The Scheme of the Act, 1986 nowhere prohibits lodging of first information report under the Act, 1986 on the basis of a single case. In a recent judgment in the case of Ritesh Kumar @ Rikki (supra), a Division Bench of this court held that lodging of a first information report on the basis of a single case is valid and permissible under the Act, 1986. Therefore, we have no difficulty to hold that a first information report may be lodged on the basis of a single case, provided the ingredients of the definition of "Gang' under Section 2(b) of the Act, 1986 is prima facie satisfied.

22. For all the reasons aforestated, the question No.(i) as framed in para-3 above, is answered in affirmative. Consequently the question (ii) is answered in negative, inasmuch as no other point has been argued before us except quashing of the impugned FIRs on the ground that it has been registered on the basis of a solitary case. Accordingly, we hold that a first information report under Section 2/3 of the Act, 1986, can be registered against a person even if only one criminal case is registered against him, and on the ground of registration of merely one criminal case, an FIR registered under Section 2/3 of the U.P. Gangsters and Anti-Social Activities (Prevention) Act, 1986, cannot be quashed.

23. For all the reasons afore-stated, we do not find any merit in all these writ petitions and accordingly, all the writ petitions being CRIMINAL MISC. WRIT PETITION No. - 642 of 2021, CRIMINAL MISC. WRIT PETITION No. - 798 of 2021 CRIMINAL MISC. WRIT PETITION No. - 17198 of 2020, CRIMINAL MISC. WRIT PETITION No. - 17194 of 2020, CRIMINAL MISC. WRIT PETITION No. - 1243 of 2021, CRIMINAL MISC. WRIT PETITION No. - 1403 of 2021, CRIMINAL MISC. WRIT PETITION No. - 1306 of 2021 and CRIMINAL MISC. WRIT PETITION No. - 1411 of 2021, are hereby dismissed.

1. Matter taken up through video conferencing.

2. The above-mentioned 12 writ petitions are connected together with 11 other writ petitions and are listed today in the additional / unlisted list and as such, a total of 23 writ petitions are connected together. Out of 23 writ petitions connected together, one writ petition being Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No. 4216 of 2021 (Manish vs. State of U.P. and 03 others) has been prayed to be dismissed as infructuous by the learned counsel appearing therein on behalf of the petitioner and as such, separate order has been passed dismissing the same as being infructuous.

3. The above-mentioned 12 writ petitions have been stated to be urgent in nature by the learned counsels appearing on behalf of the petitioners and they have prayed that their cases be heard and decided inspite of non-appearance of other learned counsels appearing in the connected matters to which learned Additional Government Advocates appearing for the State of U.P. have no objection and as such, this Court proceeds to hear and decide the above-mentioned 12 writ petitions on their own merits.

4. The present bunch of writ petitions along with other writ petitions are connected together on the following question :

"Whether a first information report under the provisions of the Uttar Pradesh Gangsters and Anti-Social Activities (Prevention) Act, 1986 [hereinafter referred to as the "Gangsters Act'] can be lodged and is maintainable on the basis of involvement of the petitioner(s) / accused in a single previous case".

5. The common ground as raised in all the writ petitions is that the petitioners have been made accused in the impugned first information reports which have been lodged under the provisions of the Gangsters Act on the basis of their involvement in a solitary case and even the gang chart prepared and approved by the authority shows that there is a single case against them on the basis of which, the impugned first information report has been registered which is illegal and against the essence of the Gangsters Act. The said first information report could not have been lodged on the basis of a solitary case and as such, the said writ petitions should be allowed and the respective impugned first information reports be quashed.

6. Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No. 3938 of 2021 has been filed challenging the first information report of Case Crime No. 0069 of 2021, under Section 3(1) of the Uttar Pradesh Gangsters and Anti-Social Activities (Prevention) Act, 1986, Police Station Kotwali, District Basti. Sri Amrendra Pratap Singh, learned counsel appearing in matter argued that:

(i) The petitioner has been falsely implicated in the present case on the basis of concocted facts and influence of illegal politics.

(ii) The impugned first information report has been lodged on the basis of a single case shown against the petitioner in which he has been granted bail vide order dated 09.02.2021 passed by the trial court.

(iii) No offence whatsoever is made out against the petitioner.

(iv) There is no independent witness of the alleged incident and the story narrated by the police is false. The petitioner is a peace loving and law abiding citizen.

(v) The lodging the impugned first information report on the basis of a solitary case is illegal. There is no evidence on record to show that the petitioner is either a gang leader or member of any gang as there is no evidence whatsoever to show that there was a meeting of mind of persons to commit the offence. There is no evidence to show that the petitioner along with co-accused collectively committed the offence. There is no material to show that the alleged gang is operating.

7. Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No. 1296 of 2021 has been filed challenging the first information report of Case Crime No. 297 of 2020, under Sections 2/3 (1) of the Uttar Pradesh Gangsters and Anti-Social Activities (Prevention) Act, 1986, Police Station Colonelganj, District Prayagraj. Sri Aadesh Kumar Srivastava, learned counsel appearing in the matter argued that:

(i) The entire allegations levelled against the petitioner is false, frivolous, perverse and without any legs to stand and as such, the impugned first information report is liable to be quashed.

(ii) The petitioner is a respected person having good academic record and at the time of the incident, was preparing for his third year of graduation and his name has been dragged in the present case by some political persons.

(iii) The single case on the basis of which the impugned first information report has been registered is a false case in which the petitioner has been falsely implicated and he has been granted bail vide order dated 03.03.2020 by the trial court.

(iv) The petitioner is neither a gang leader nor a member of any gang and is not involved in any illegal activity.

(v) There is no direct evidence against the petitioner and the name of the petitioner has been dragged in the said matter solely on the basis of his confessional statement while he was in police custody.

(vi) As such, the impugned first information report be quashed.

8. Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No. 1871 of 2021 has been filed challenging the first information report of Case Crime No. 0028 of 2021, under Section 2/3 of the Uttar Pradesh Gangsters and Anti-Social Activities (Prevention) Act, 1986 , Police Station Dhaulana, District Hapur. Sri Shiv Vilas Mishra, learned counsel appearing in the matter has argued that :

(i) The petitioner has been falsely implicated in the present case. As per the gang chart only one case has been shown against the petitioner on the basis of which the impugned first information report has been registered and in the said case the petitioner has been granted bail vide order dated 10.04.2019 passed by this Court. The case in which the petitioner has been shown to be involved is a false case and the police after getting a tip off information, arrested the petitioner and other persons and has shown some recoveries on the basis of joint confessional statement. There is no public or independent witness of the alleged recovery. The said case is a false case and the petitioner has been falsely implicated therein.

(ii) The said case is a case of the year 2019 and is an old case. No recent case has been shown against the petitioner.

The impugned first information report has been registered on 28.01.2021. The said case on the basis of which the impugned first information report has been registered and the gang chart has been prepared is a stale case and there is no evidence against the petitioner being involved in any activity which could be said to be a recent activity against law.

(iii) Section 2 (b) of the Gangsters Act has been placed before the Court and the learned counsel has stressed upon the word "acting' and proceeded to argue that there is no evidence or allegation to show that the petitioner "continued to act' and had a "recent activity' of any indulgence in any illegal activity.

9. Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No. 1873 of 2021 has been filed challenging the first information report of Case Crime No. 61 of 2021, under Section 2/3 of the Uttar Pradesh Gangsters and Anti-Social Activities (Prevention) Act, 1986, Police Station Civil Lines, District Aligarh. Sri Araf Khan, learned counsel appearing in the matter has argued that :

(i) The petitioner has been falsely implicated in the present case on the basis of his involvement in a single case and in the said case, the arrest of the petitioner has been stayed by a Division Bench of this Court vide order dated 30.05.2019.

(ii) The basis on which the impugned first information report has been registered is a case of civil nature. After the protective order in favour of the petitioner by this Court, charge-sheet has been submitted against him and cognizance has been taken by the concerned Magistrate which is illegal and is without any evidence. The petitioner is a law abiding and peace living citizen of the society and is innocent. He has not committed any offence and is not a member of any gang.

(iii) It is stated that he does not intend to argue that a case under the Gangsters Act cannot be lodged on the basis of involvement in one case as the same can very well be done. Even if the first information report cannot be quashed, at least the interest of the petitioner be protected by giving him a protective order.

10. Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No. 1986 of 2021 has been filed challenging the first information report of Case Crime No. 0192 of 2020, under Section 2/3 of the Uttar Pradesh Gangsters and Anti-Social Activities (Prevention) Act, 1986, Police Station Pisava, District Aligarh. Sri Devesh Kumar Shukla, learned counsel appearing in the matter has argued that:

(i) The petitioner has been falsely implicated in the present case. The lodging of the impugned first information report is on the basis of involvement of the petitioner only in one case in which he has been granted bail vide order dated 11.11.2020 passed by this Court.

(ii) No offence is made out against the petitioner and the case has been registered because of enmity and local party bandi.

(iii) The petitioner is neither a leader nor a member of any gang.

11. Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No. 2019 of 2021 has been filed challenging the first information report of Case Crime No. 0045 of 2021, under Section 3(1) of the Uttar Pradesh Gangsters and Anti-Social Activities (Prevention) Act, 1986, Police Station Amroha City, District Amroha. Sri Jameel Ahmad Azmi, learned counsel appearing in the matter has argued that:

(i) The impugned first information report has been registered against the petitioner showing his involvement only in one case. The petitioner has been falsely implicated in the present case.

(ii) The petitioner is a businessman and is engaged in the business of Sandal Wood by following all legal procedures and norms. The sole case shown against the petitioner in the gang chart was challenged before this Court in which vide order dated 11.11.2020, the arrest of the petitioner has been stayed by a Division Bench of this Court while disposing of the said writ petition.

(iii) The case of the petitioner does not fall under Section 2 (b) of the Gangsters Act.

12. Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No. 2291 of 2021 has been filed challenging the first information report of Case Crime No. 34 of 2021, under Section 2/3 of the Uttar Pradesh Gangsters and Anti-Social Activities (Prevention) Act, 1986, Police Station Jasrana, District Firozabad. Sri Rajesh Yadav, learned counsel appearing in the matter has argued that :

(i) The petitioner has been falsely implicated in the present case. According to the gang chart, one case has been shown against the petitioner on the basis of which the impugned first information report has been lodged and in the said case, the petitioner has been granted bail vide order dated 20.01.2021 passed by the trial court.

(ii) The said case on the basis of which the impugned first information report has been registered was lodged against 02 unknown persons. Subsequently, the name of the petitioner surfaced during investigation which is the handy work of the police. Persons of the said case were not known to the petitioner and despite this fact, a false case has been registered against him. 04 persons were arrested in a different case who named the petitioner as a person in whose shop they had sold part of a gold chain and as such, the petitioner has been implicated in the said case.

13. Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No. 3819 of 2021 has been filed challenging the first information report of Case Crime No. 296 of 2020, under Section 2/3 of the Uttar Pradesh Gangsters and Anti-Social Activities (Prevention) Act, 1986, Police Station Nidhauli Kalan, District Etah. Sri Narayan Singh Kushwaha, learned counsel appearing in the matter has argued that:

(i) The petitioners are peace loving and law abiding citizens and have never involved themselves in any type of criminal activity.

(ii) Although the impugned first information report has been lodged showing the involvement of the petitioners in one case but in the said case they have been granted bail vide order dated 24.09.2020 passed by the trial court. The prosecution case as narrated in the first information report is absolutely false and concocted and without any documentary proof or any support of any independent witness because the petitioners have never been arrested on the spot and the allegations are fake and fabricated. The entire prosecution case has been initiated on the basis of wrong facts and false, concocted and fabricated story in collusion with the local political persons who have a grudge against the petitioners. No prima facie case is made out against the petitioners.

(iii) The petitioners are neither members of a gang nor gang leader.

14. Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No. 3845 of 2021 has been filed challenging the first information report of Case Crime No. 255 of 2021, under Section 3(1) of the Uttar Pradesh Gangsters and Anti-Social Activities (Prevention) Act, 1986, Police Station Gajraula, District J.P. Nagar (Amroha). Sri Sandeep Kumar Srivastava, learned counsel appearing in the matter has argued that :

(i) The petitioners have been falsely implicated in the present case. Only one case has been shown against the petitioner nos. 1 & 2 being of the year 2020 in which they have been granted bail vide orders dated 10.09.2020 and 21.09.2020 passed by the trial court. The petitioner no. 3 is also said to be involved in one case but the said case is of the year 2019 and even in the said case, he has been granted bail vide order dated 03.07.2019 passed by the trial court. Except for the single case against the petitioners, there is no other case shown against them.

(ii) The petitioners do not run any gang and have not given threat to any public and have been falsely shown as gangsters.

(iii) In so far as the petitioner no. 3 is concerned, the impugned first information report has been registered on 17.04.2021 where as the solitary case against him is a stale case and as such, he adopts the arguments as raised by learned counsel for the petitioner in Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No. 1871 of 2021 to this extent.

15. Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No. 4149 of 2021 has been filed challenging the first information report of Case Crime No. 159 of 2021, under Section 2/3 of the Uttar Pradesh Gangsters and Anti-Social Activities (Prevention) Act, 1986, Police Station Baberu, District Banda. Sri Pradip Kumar Rao, learned counsel appearing in the matter has argued that :

(i) The petitioner has been falsely implicated in the present case. The involvement of the petitioner has been shown in the gang chart in two cases of the year 2019 and in both the cases, the petitioner has been released on bail vide orders dated 14.11.2019 passed by this Court.

(ii) The petitioner has been falsely shown as a gang leader of the gang and the offence under the Arms Act as shown against the petitioner being two cases do not fall within the purview of Gangsters Act.

(iii) There is no ingredient of Gangsters Act in the impugned first information report and as such, the petitioner cannot be said to be indulged in any criminal activity.

(iv) The lodging of the first information report is totally false and baseless.

16. Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No. 4185 of 2021 has been filed challenging the first information report of Case Crime No. 0204 of 2021, under Section 2/3 of the Uttar Pradesh Gangsters and Anti-Social Activities (Prevention) Act, 1986, Police Station Kharkhauda, District Meerut. Sri Jamaluddin Mohd. Nasir, learned counsel appearing in the matter has argued that :

(i) The petitioner has been falsely implicated in the present case. He is a peace loving, law abiding citizen and commands respect in the locality. The involvement of the petitioner in the present case is shown on the basis of a single case in which the petitioner was issued a notice under Section 41 (A) Cr.P.C. by the Investigating Officer in pursuance of which he appeared before him and was released by him.

(ii) The petitioner has not committed any offence, no offence is made out against him. The first information report has been lodged with malafide intentions.

17. Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No. 4280 of 2021 has been filed challenging the first information report of Case Crime No. 05 of 2021, under Section 3(1) of the Uttar Pradesh Gangsters and Anti-Social Activities (Prevention) Act, 1986, Police Station Manchi, District Sonbhadra. Sri Anubhav Shukla, learned counsel appearing in the matter has argued that :

(i) The involvement of the petitioners in the present case is on the basis of a single case in which the petitioner no. 1 was not named in the first information report and his name came into picture after 09 months of the incident whereas the petitioner no. 2 was not arrested by the police and even then charge-sheet has been submitted against both.

(ii) Lodging of the case on the basis of which the impugned first information report has been lodged is a fake first information report and the petitioners are not members of any gang.

(iii) Lodging of the first information report is an abuse of process of court and the action of police is arbitrary, illegal, malafide and with an intention to harass the petitioners.

18. Per contra, Sri J.K. Upadhyay and Sri Amit Sinha, learned Additional Government Advocates appearing for the State of U.P. argued that :

(i) Under the Gangsters Act, lodging of the first information reports even on the basis of the involvement of an accused in a single and solitary case is not illegal. The said proposition of law has been dealt with in the judgements of this Court in the case of Ajay Rai vs. State of U.P. and others: 1995 Cr.L.J. 2801; Rinku @ Hukku vs. State of U.P. and another: 2000 Cr.L.J. 2834 and Kishan Pal @ K.P. vs. State of U.P. and another: (2006) 54 ACC 1015. The said three cases in no indifferent terms have held that lodging of a first information report on the basis of a single case is permissible.

(ii) The implication of an accused in a single case is not a bar in lodging of a first information report under the provisions of the Gangsters Act even after a considerable period of time.

(iii) Since the perusal of the first information report discloses commission of a cognizable offence, the impugned first information reports cannot be quashed.

(iv) Barring Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No. 4149 of 2021 which is though connected with this bunch but the same has the implication of the petitioner therein on the basis of two cases, the other cases being argued on the premise that lodging of the first information report under the Gangsters Act on the basis of a solitary case is not permissible, is incorrect. In the said judgements, it has been held that a first information report under the Gangsters Act can be registered on the basis of a solitary case.

(v) Since perusal of the impugned first information reports in all the cases do disclose commission of an offence, investigation is required and since investigation is required, the said first information reports cannot be quashed.

(vi) The efforts of the learned counsels for the petitioners to demonstrate that their involvement in the previous case on the basis of which the impugned first information reports have been registered are false implications, cannot be gone into by this Court as the said cases are not the matters to be adjudicated by this Court and are separate cause of actions.

(vii) Since a cognizable offence is made out on the reading of the first information reports in all the cases, investigation is required and as such, the same cannot be quashed and so no interim order of protection can also be granted as per settled principles of law.

(viii) The present writ petitions are devoid of any merit and deserve to be dismissed.

19. Before dealing with the question in issue, it will be apt to reproduce Section 2 (b) and (c) of the Uttar Pradesh Gangsters and Anti-Social Activities (Prevention) Act, 1986 which are as follows:-

"(b) "Gang" means a group of persons, who acting either singly or collectively, by violence, or threat or show of violence, or intimidation, or coercion or otherwise with the object of disturbing public order or of gaining any undue temporal, pecuniary, material or other advantage for himself or any other person, indulge in anti-social activities, namely-

(i) offences punishable under Chapter XVI or Chapter XVII or Chapter XXII of the Indian Penal Code (Act No. 45 of 1860), or

(ii) distilling or manufacturing or storing or transporting or importing or exporting or selling or distributing any liquor, or intoxicating or dangerous drugs, or other intoxicants or narcotics or cultivating any plant, in contravention of any of the provisions of the U.P. Excise Act, 1910 (U.P. Act No. 4 of 1910), or the Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances Act, 1985 (Act No. 61 of 1985), or any other law for the time being in force, or

(iii) occupying or taking possession of immovable property otherwise than in accordance with law, or setting-up false claims for title or possession of immovable property whether in himself or any other person, or

(iv) preventing or attempting to prevent any public servant or any witness from discharging his lawful duties, or

(v) offences punishable under the Suppression of Immoral Traffic in Women and Girls Act, 1956 (Act No. 104 of 1956), or

(vi) offences punishable under Section 3 of the Public Gambling Act, 1867 (Act No. 3 of 1867), or

(vii) preventing any person from offering bids in auction lawfully conducted, or tender, lawfully invited, by or on behalf of any Government department, local body or public or private undertaking, for any lease or rights or supply of goods or work to be done, or

(viii) preventing or disturbing the smooth running by any person of his lawful business, profession, trade or employment or any other lawful activity connected therewith, or

(ix) offences punishable under Section 171-E of the Indian Penal Code (Act No. 45 of 1860), or in preventing or obstructing any public election being lawfully held, by physically preventing the voter from exercising his electoral rights, or

(x) inciting others to resort to violence to disturb communal harmony, or

(c) "gangster" means a member or leader or organiser of a gang and includes any person who abets or assists in the activities of a gang enumerated in clause (b), whether before or after the commission of such activities or harbours any person who has indulged in such activities;"

20. The proposition as to whether a first information report under the Gangsters Act can be lodged on the basis of involvement of an accused in only once case is no more res integra.

21. In the judgement of Ajay Rai (supra) paragraph 6, 9 and 10 are as follows:-

"6. As a law point alone was urged concerning interpretation of the term "indulges" as aforesaid, the State counsel was heard even without a counter affidavit on facts. It was urged by him that the FIR was a competent one as the ingredients of the term "gang" and "gangster" were made out therein.

9. As to meaning of the term "indulges", the learned counsel relied on the dictionary meaning as given by the Webstar Dictionary and one of such meaning, according to the learned counsel, is to yield to the desire of or to get pleasure in doing etc. The Chamber's English Dictionary interprets the term "indulge" as a transitive verb "to yield to the wishes of", "to favour or gratify" and "not to restrain" and this term is also an intransitive verb meaning "permit oneself in action or expression. This meaning is to be given when the term is used with proposition "in". The definition, as per Section 2, not only uses the term "indulges", the term is immediately followed by the word "in" and we may, therefore, safely take the term to mean to permit oneself in action or expression. Thus, we may say that the terms "indulge in" in the definition of "gang" would carry the same meaning as "does" or "commits". These two common terms have been avoided by the legislature apparently for the reason that the terms "indulge in" are followed by two words "anti-social activities." Moreover, there are certain actions detailed in the next 15 sub-clauses the doing of which may not strictly come within the term "commits". We may look to the paragraphs 10 to 13 and 15 of the clauses in Section 2(b) in appreciating this view.

10. If the legislature had the intention that the Act would be applicable only to past proven acts, there was no bar for the legislature to have used the word "habitually" within the definition of gang. We may look to the preamble of the Act for interpreting this definition. This Act was enacted to make special provisions for the prevention of and for coping with gangster and anti-social activities and for matters connected therewith or incidental thereto."

22. A Full Bench of this Court in the case of Ashok Kumar Dixit vs. State of U.P.: AIR 1987 Allahabad 235, has stated about the concept behind lodging of a first information report under the Gangsters Act. It has been held in paragraph 73 and 74 as follows:-

"73. In this behalf, provisions of the Act themselves provide intrinsic guidelines. If we advert to Section 2(b) of the Act. which defines the term 'gangster' we would find significant words. They are "acting", 'singly or collectively', 'violence or show of violence', 'intimidation', 'coercion', or unlawful means'. Thus, for booking a person under the provisions of the Act the authorities have to be prima facie satisfied that a person has acted. The authority has to be satisfied that there is a reasonable and proximate connection between the occurrence and the activity of the person sought to be apprehended and that such activities were to achieve undue temporal, physical, economic or other advantage. There need not be any overt or positive act of the person intended to be apprehended at the place. It is enough to prove active complicity which has a bearing on the crime.

74. While laying down so, we should not be oblivious of the avowed object of the Act. Under the ordinary criminal law, it is sometimes difficult to bring to book the overlords of crime and underworld because they seldom operate in person or in the public gaze. They indulge in clandestine operations which threaten to tear apart the very fabric of society. It is this purpose which the Act seeks to achieve."

23. In the case of Subhash vs. State of U.P. and another: 1998 SCC Online All 973, a Division Bench of this Court framed the following questions while dealing with a writ petition in which there was a challenge to the first information reports under the Uttar Pradesh Gangsters and Anti-Social Activities (Prevention) Act, 1986. The questions as framed are enumerated in paragraph 1 of the judgement which is as follows:-

"1. In all these matters the respective petitioners have challenged their prosecution for an offence under Sections 2 and 3 of the U.P. Gangsters and Anti-Social Activities (Prevention) Act (in short "the Act'). Prayers have been made for quashing the respective F.I.Rs. and for interim orders protecting them from arrest. The questions, that have been raised, may be categorised as follows:

1. There could not be prosecution under the Act for a single incident as the Act spoke of "anti-social activities" (in plural).

2. Prosecution under the Act for past offences was not thought of.

3. If at all the Act created a new concept of an offence, there must be some allegation that any act or omission towards the commission of the offence was there.

4. The words "indulges in" as used in Section 2 of the Act would only mean that there should be habituality of the acts covered by Section 2."

The answer to the questions enumerated in paragraph 1 of the judgement have been given in paragraph nos. 13, 14, 15 and 16 of the said judgement which are as follows:-

"13. As a sequel to this decision when there are some allegations of any act or omission towards the commission of the offfence under the Act to justify an F.I.R., it follows that such an F.I.R. could lie even for a single incident as habituality of the acts is not required for making out an offence. The words used in Section 2 are no doubt in plural indicating "indulge in anti-social activities" but the sentence does not stop with the words "anti-social activities". It goes on with the word, "viz." followed by 15 clauses of anti-social activities enumerated therein. The plural in "anti-social activities" referred to the large number of activities to be brought under the umbrella of this single offence and it would never mean that there must be plurality of actions before a person could he prosecuted or convicted for an offence under the Act. When a specific offence has been created, it is open to be punished even for a single act, if it is covered by the requirements of law. We, thus, answer point No. 1 framed by us.

14. We are left with the question whether prosecution under the Act was thought of for past offences. We may, for a decision on this point, refer to the definition of the term "gang" as given in Section 2(b) of the Act. The requirement of this definition are that (1) "Gang" means a group of persons, (2) those persons might act either single or collectively, (3) such action is to be associated with violence or threat or show of violence or intimidation or coercion or otherwise, (4) such action must be with the object of disturbing public order or of gaining any undue advantage (temporal pecuniary, material or otherwise) for himself or for any other person. If under the condition of the above points anti-social activities, as enumerated under the definition, are indulged in then and then only the action could be designed as an action of a gang. If a person is a member or a leader or organiser of a gang, or if he abets or assists in the activities of a gang or harbours any person who has indulged in such activities, such person would be a gangster and he is to be punished with the penalty as indicated in Section 3 of the Act. All the anti-social activities enumerated under the definition of ''Gang' are not covered as offences, but were certainly unlawful activities having serious reflection on the society, though not termed as offences. The law, thus, never required that offence must have been committed in the past for a proper prosecution under this Act.

15. Section 4 of the Act speaks of special rules of evidence and States as under:

"4. Special Rules of Evidence.-- Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in the Court (Code) or the Indian Evidence Act, 1872 (1 of 1872) for the purposes of trial and punishment for offences under this Act or connected offences;

(a) the Court may take into consideration the fact that the accused was--

(i) on any previous occasion bound down under Section 107 or Section 108 or Section 109 or Section 110 of the Code, or

(ii) detained under any law relating to preventive detention, or

(iii) externed under the Uttar Pradesh Control of Goondas Act, 1970 (Act No. 8 of 1971), or any other such law;

(b) where it is proved that a gangster or any person on his behalf is or has at any time been, in possession of movable or immovable property which he cannot satisfactorily account for, or where his pecuniary resources are disproportionate to his known sources of income, the Court shall, unless contrary is proved, presume that such property or pecuniary resources, have been acquired or derived by his activities as a gangster;

(c) where it is proved that the accused has kidnapped or abducted any person, the Court shall, presume that it was for ransom;

(d) where it is proved that a gangster has wrongfully concealed or confined a kidnapped or abducted person, the Court shall presume that the gangster knew that such person was kidnapped or abducted, as the case may be;

(e) the Court may, if for reasons to be × × × × × × × × × recorded it thinks fit so to do, proceed with the trial in absence of the accused and record the evidence of any witness, provided that the witness may be recalled for cross-examination if the accused so desires but recording his examination in chief afresh in presence of the accused shall not be necessary."

Under these special rules of evidence, the Court is entitled to take into consideration the previous orders binding down an accused under Sections 107, 108, 109 or 110 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, or previous orders of detention under preventive laws, or previous orders of externment under the U.P. Control of Goondas Act, but the special rules of evidence do not permit consideration of previous conviction for an offence under any other law. This also suggests that the past acts are not meant to be punished under the provisions of the present legislation.

16. In dealing with the procedures, Section 7 of the Act provides that only a special Court constituted under the Act is to take up a case under this Act, is to try an offence under this Act, and Section 10 provides that the special Court is empowered to take cognizance of any offence triable by it, without there being a regular commitment order and cognizance could be taken either on complaint or a police report. Section 8 provides that when a special Court tries any offence punishable under this Act, it can also try any other offence with which the accused may, under any other law for the time being in force, be charged at the same trial. This suggests that if by a single act of omission the offender commits an offence under the general law as also one under this Act, both the offences may be tried together before the special Court. This saves the provisions of Section 300(4), Cr. P.C., as was observed by the Division Bench in Ajai Rai's case (supra) at paragraph 13 of that judgment. We may, therefore, conclude that allegations of past acts may not be the sole criterion for institution of a case for an offence under this Act, rather if there be old cases pending on the date of institution of the F.I.R. under any other offence and for the same set of facts a case under this Act is also instituted, then those cases should also come to the special Court to avoid double jeopardy to the accused. We may, therefore, answer point No. 2 with the observation that a prosecution under the Act for past offence was not thought of unless elements of the offence under this Act are made out."

It has been held in no uncertain terms while answering the question no. 1 that a first information report can be lodged even for a single act, if it is covered by the requirements of law.

24. In the judgement of Rinku @ Hukku (supra) paragraph 12 is as follows:-

"12. In view of the above, under Sec.13 of the U.P. General Clauses Act the activities denotes activity as well as the said provisions are in pari materia of Sec.13 of the General Clause Act 1897. As such a single act of anti-social activity can come within the definition of gangster."

25. In the judgement of Kishan Pal @ K.P. (supra) while following the judgement in the case of Shamsul Islam and Rinku @ Hukku it has been also held as follows:

"6. Therefore, the Division Bench under writ jurisdiction scrutinized the individual cases of investigation to grant relief in direct conflict with Full Bench decision. It is a departure from the ratio of the Full Bench judgment and as such has no binding effect. That apart, the aforesaid judgment was also distinguished by another Division Bench of this Court in Shamsul Islam v. State of U.P, 1999 (38) ACC 315 . There the Court held that original relief is quashing of the first information report. Additional relief is in the nature of stay of arrest. If the original relief can not be granted, the order of stay can not be granted. The Act creates a new and distinct Offence. The protection of Article 20 (2) of the Constitution of India would not be available at all at any stage and there can be no bar in arresting the person, who has committed an offence, which is punishable under the Act. Therefore, as we understood question of double jeopardy or double conviction or double protection or double arrest may not hit the cause since the source of investigation is the separate law introduced by the State. In a further judgment in Rinku alias Hukku v. State of U.P. and another, 2001 (Suppl) ACC 641 (HC-LB) a Division Bench of this High Court held that singular includes plural and vice versa, thereby single act of antisocial activities is sufficient to trap a person as a gangster. Hence, the basis of the judgment reported in Subhash (supra) is no more available in view of the successive judgments and these being later judgments have binding effect upon this Court. There is no occasion to forward the matter to the Larger Bench in view of the discussion made herein."

26. The Full Bench of this Court in Ajit Singh @ Muraha Vs. State of U.P. and others : (2006) 56 ACC 433 reiterated the view taken by the earlier Full Bench in Satya Pal Vs. State of U.P. and others : 2000 Cr.L.J. 569 after considering the various decisions including State of Haryana Vs. Bhajan Lal and others : AIR 1992 SC 604 that there can be no interference with the investigation or order staying arrest unless cognizable offence is not ex-facie discernible from the allegations contained in the F.I.R. or there is any statutory restriction operating on the power of the police to investigate a case.

27. Further the Apex Court in the case of State of Telangana v. Habib Abdullah Jellani : (2017) 2 SCC 779 has disapproved an order restraining the Investigating Agencies arresting the accused where prayer of quashing the First Information Report has been refused.

28. The Apex Court in the case of M/s Neeharika Infrastructure Pvt. Ltd. Vs. State of Maharashtra and others: Criminal Appeal No. 330 of 2021 in its judgment dated 13th April, 2021 has in detail held that the Courts should not thwart any investigation into the cognizable offences. It is only in cases where no cognizable offence or offence of any kind is disclosed in the First Information Report that the Court will not permit an investigation to go on. The power of quashing should be exercised sparingly with circumspection, as it has been observed, in the rarest of rare cases. While examining an FIR/complaint, quashing of which is sought, the Court cannot embark upon an enquiry as to the reliability or genuineness or otherwise of the allegations made in the FIR/complaint. Criminal proceedings ought not to be scuttled at the initial stage. Quashing of complaint/FIR should be an exception rather than an ordinary rule. Ordinarily, the Courts are barred from usurping the jurisdiction of the police, since the two organs of the State operate in two specific spheres of activities and one ought not to tread over the other sphere. The First Information Report is not an encyclopaedia which must disclose all facts and details regarding the offence reported. Therefore, when the investigation by the police is in progress, the Court should not go into merits of the allegations made in the FIR. Police must be permitted to complete the investigation.

29. After having heard the learned counsels for the parties and perusing the records, it is apparent that barring Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No. 4149 of 2021, all the above writ petitions were argued on the common point for which the question as framed, is answered that as per the settled principles of law, the lodging of a first information report on the basis of a single case, is valid and permissible. In a petition under Article 226 of the Constitution of India, this Court cannot adjudicate the correctness of the allegations in the impugned first information reports or the cases on the basis of which the impugned first information reports have been lodged. The writ petitions are thus dismissed.

30. In so far as Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No. 4149 of 2021 is concerned, the involvement of the petitioner is on the basis of two cases and even therein from perusal of the first information report, a cognizable offence is made out. The writ petition is also dismissed.

31. The party shall file computer generated copy of this order downloaded from the official website of High Court Allahabad, self attested by the petitioner (s) along with a self attested identity proof of the said person (s) (preferably Aadhar Card) mentioning the mobile number (s) to which the said Aadhar Card is linked.

32. The concerned Court/Authority/Official shall verify the authenticity of such computerized copy of the order from the official website of High Court Allahabad and shall make a declaration of such verification in writing.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Mrs. Manju Rani Chauhan, J.)

1. This writ petition has been filed by the petitioner seeking quashment of first information report dated 24th May, 2021 in respect of Crime No. 0036 of 2021, under Sections 185, 477-A, 409, 120-B and 420 of I.P.C. Police Station-Kakavan, District-Kanpur Nagar.

2. Heard Mr. Uttar Kumar Goswami, learned counsel for the petitioner and Mr. J.K. Upadhyay, learned A.G.A. for the State-respondents.

3. The first information report has been lodged on 24th May, 2021 at 18:03 hrs by S.N. Khare against six named accused persons, namely, Rajesh Kumar, Surendra Kumar, Sohil Kumar, Accountant Atul Sharma, Hariom Sharma (petitioner herein) and Anuj Traders regarding financial irregularity and scam at Wheat Purchase Centre, P.C.F. Farmer Service Centres, Vishdhan, Sindhauli and Aroul. In the first information report, it has been alleged that in a surprise inspection carried out at the aforesaid farmer service centres, purchasing centre In-Charge, namely, Rajesh Kumar, Surendra Kumar and Shahil Kumar were present. It was informed by the concerned Centre In-charge that concerned records, government grants (Bardana), Stencil Machine were not available at the Centres. In their written statements, it has been stated that at the behest of Atul Sharma (Accountant), District Office, P.C.F. Kanpur Nagar and Hariom Sharma (petitioner herein), Regional Director, P.C.F., Kanpur Division, Kanpur, the work of purchasing of wheat is being carried out from Rice Mill (Anuj Traders, Vishdhan). On the basis of aforesaid statements, when the Assistant Commissioner and Assistant Registrar raided the place of Anuj Traders, Vishdhan, government bags of wheat containing 200 quintal (four gath i.e. each gath contains 50 kgs. of wheat) and stencils of aforesaid three centres were recovered and on the rice mill itself, purchase of wheat has been found to be done in the names of aforesaid three centres. On the basis of statements of concerned Centre In-charge and the raid carried out by the Assistant Commissioner and Assistant Registrar and the recovery made by them, the named accused persons, including the petitioner were found guilty of carrying out illegal government grants and purchase of wheat at the aforesaid three centres and the present first information report has been lodged.

4. In support of his case, learned counsel for the petitioner has advanced following arguments:

1. The petitioner, who is presently working as Regional Manager, P.C.F., Kanpur Division, Kanpur, is wholly innocent and has been falsely roped in the aforesaid case in collusion with some interested persons and he has no concern with the aforesaid crime.

2. The petitioner was not present at the place when the raid was carried out and the allegation levelled against the petitioner is based on false and concocted story in order to implicate him in the aforesaid case. The first information report itself discloses that till date no material evidence in respect of alleged allegation, which has been levelled against the petitioner, is available on record.

3. Prior to registering the first information report against the petitioner, respondent no.4 has not taken any approval or permission from the higher authorities qua the first information report against the government/public servant, therefore the same is per se illegal and arbitrary.

4. (I) Respondent no.4/informant, who has lodged the first information report, is much junior to the petitioner and he has no power to make the complaint against the petitioner like the present one.

(II) Only due to enmity and for harassing the petitioner, so that the image of the petitioner may be tarnished, respondent no.4 has lodged the impugned first information report falsely implicating him. As such, the impugned first information report is illegal, as the allegations levelled against the petitioner in the said report, is based on false and concocted story.

5. Perusal of the entire record indicates that the petitioner has not committed any offence under Sections 185, 477-A, 409, 120-B and 420 I.P.C., Police Station-Kakavan, District-Kanpur. Petitioner has no criminal antecedents to his credit except the present one.

On the cumulative strength of the aforesaid arguments, learned counsel for the petitioner submits that the petitioner is innocent, the contents of the impugned F.I.R. are concocted, tutored and vague in nature and the charges as alleged in the impugned F.I.R. are vague one, hence the impugned F.I.R. is liable to be quashed.

5.(I) Learned Additional Government Advocate, on the other hand, opposed the prayer for quashing the impugned F.I.R. and has argued that on the complaint of the informant, S.N. Khare, who is said to be Additional District Cooperative Officer, Bilhore Tehsil In-charge, Bilhore, Kanpur Nagar, the impugned F.I.R. has been registered against six named accused persons including the petitioner herein, in which, there is specific allegation that on the advise of the petitioner and co-accused Atul Sharma, who is said to be the Accountant, District Office P.C.F., Kanpur Nagar, the work of purchase of wheat was being carried out from Anuj Trader, Vishdhan. On the raid, illegal government bags of 200 quintal wheat and stencils of the three centres referred to above have been recovered from Anuj Trader, Vishdhan. Therefore, when the matter is at the state of investigation, it cannot be said that the petitioner is innocent and allegations made in the impugned F.I.R. are mala fide, false, concocted or vague and the petitioner has been falsely implicated in the present case. He, therefore, submits that argument nos. 1 and 2 advanced by the learned counsel for the petitioner cannot be examined at this stage.

(II) So far as argument no.3 advanced on behalf of the petitioner is concerned, in reply, learned A.G.A. for the State submits that no prior permission or approval from the higher authorities is required before registering the first information report against a public/ government servant.

(III) Elaborating the aforesaid submission, learned A.G.A. has referred to Section 197 of Cr.P.C., wherein it has been provided that only at the stage of cognizance against a public/government servant, prior permission or approval from the higher authorities/State, as the case may, is required. Therefore, the said submission of the learned counsel for the petitioner has no legs to stand.

(IV) In regard to argument no.4 (I) advanced on behalf of the petitioner, learned A.G.A. submits that it is settled law that every person has a right to lodge a first information report against a person, who in his presence, commits a non-bailable or cognizable offence. Therefore, the argument advanced on behalf of the petitioner that since respondent no.4 is junior to the petitioner, he has no power to make any complaint against him, has no legs to stand.

(V) To the other argument made on behalf of the petitioner i.e., No. 4 (II) that due to enmity and harassing the petitioner as well as tarnishing his image, respondent no.4 has made false complaint against the petitioner, learned A.G.A. submits that the same cannot be accepted, as there is nothing on record, which establishes that there is any enmity or any rivalry between the petitioner and respondent no.4.

(VI) So far as argument no.5 advanced on behalf the petitioner is concerned, learned A.G.A. submits that at the stage of investigation, it cannot be examined as to whether the petitioner is involved in the commission of the alleged offence or not.

On the cumulative strength of the aforesaid, learned A.G.A. submits that from perusal of the impugned F.I.R. it cannot be said that no cognizable offence is made out, hence the writ petition is liable to be dismissed.

6. We have examined the submissions advanced by the learned Counsel for the petitioner and learned AGA and also gone through the material brought on record.

7. Normally, this Court would have issued notice to respondent no.4, but no purpose would be served by keeping this petition pending, inasmuch as the learned counsel for the petitioner and the learned A.G.A. for the State agree that this petition may be disposed of at this stage, without issuing notice to respondent no.4 as well as without calling for any further affidavits.

8. Before entering into the merits of the case set up by the learned counsel for the petitioner and the learned A.G.A. for the State, it would be worthwhile to reproduce the offences, which are alleged to have been committed by the named accused persons in the first information report including the petitioner herein, which are being quoted herein below:

(2) Whoever is a party to a criminal conspiracy other than a criminal conspiracy to commit an offence punishable as aforesaid shall be punished with imprisonment of either description for a term not exceeding six months, or with fine or with both.

9. The legal position on the issue of quashing of FIR or criminal proceedings is well-settled that the jurisdiction to quash a complaint, FIR or a charge-sheet should be exercised sparingly and only in exceptional cases. The Courts should not ordinarily interfere with the investigations of cognizable offences. However, where the allegations made in the FIR or the complaint, even if taken at their face value and accepted in their entirety, do not prima facie constitute any offence or make out a case against the accused, FIR or the charge-sheet may be quashed in exercise of powers under Article 226 or inherent powers under Section 482 of the Cr.P.C.

10. The Apex Court rendered in the case of the State of Telangana v. Habib Abdullah Jeelani and Others reported in 2017 (2) SCC 779, wherein in paragraph nos. 13 and 23, it has been observed as follows:

"13.There can be no dispute over the proposition that inherent power in a matter of quashment of FIR has to be exercised sparingly and with caution and when and only when such exercise is justified by the test specifically laid down in the provision itself. There is no denial of the fact that the power under Section 482 CrPC is very wide but it needs no special emphasis to state that conferment of wide power requires the court to be more cautious. It casts an onerous and more diligent duty on the Court.

23.....What needs to be stated here is that the States where Section 438 CrPC has not been deleted and kept on the statute book, the High Court should be well advised that while entertaining petitions under Article 226 of the Constitution or Section 482 CrPC, exercise judicial restraint. We may hasten to clarify that the Court, if it thinks fit, regard being had to the parameters of quashing and the self-restraint imposed by law, has the jurisdiction to quash the investigation and may pass appropriate interim orders as thought apposite in law, but it is absolutely inconceivable and unthinkable to pass an order of the present nature while declining to interfere or expressing opinion that it is not appropriate to stay the investigation. This kind of order is really inappropriate and unseemly. It has no sanction in law. The Courts should oust and obstruct unscrupulous litigants from invoking the inherent jurisdiction of the Court on the drop of a hat to file an application for quashing of launching an FIR or investigation and then seek relief by an interim order. It is the obligation of the court to keep such unprincipled and unethical litigants at bay. "

11. In the latest judgment, the Apex Court in the case of Neeharika Infrastructure Private Limited vs. State of Maharashtra reported in 2021 SCC

OnLine SC 315, considered the powers of the High Court, while adjudicating a petition for quashing of FIR under Article 226 of the Constitution of India and under Section 482 of the Criminal Procedure Code, 1973. In Neeharika Infrastructure Private Limited (supra), the appellants challenged an interim order issued by the Bombay High Court, in a quashing petition filed under Section 482 Cr.P.C. and Article 226 of the Constitution. The Bombay High Court issued an interim order directing that "no coercive measures shall be adopted against the petitioners in respect of the said FIR". While examining the correctness of the said interim order, the Apex Court in para-80 has held as under :

"80. In view of the above and for the reasons stated above, our final conclusions on the principal/core issue, whether the High Court would be justified in passing an interim order of stay of investigation and/or "no coercive steps to be adopted", during the pendency of the quashing petition under Section 482 Cr.P.C and/or under Article 226 of the Constitution of India and in what circumstances and whether the High Court would be justified in passing the order of not to arrest the accused or "no coercive steps to be adopted" during the investigation or till the final report/chargesheet is filed under Section 173 Cr.P.C., while dismissing/disposing of/not entertaining/not quashing the criminal proceedings/complaint/FIR in exercise of powers under Section 482 Cr.P.C. and/or under Article 226 of the Constitution of India, our final conclusions are as under:

i) Police has the statutory right and duty under the relevant provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure contained in Chapter XIV of the Code to investigate into a cognizable offence;

ii) Courts would not thwart any investigation into the cognizable offences;

iii) It is only in cases where no cognizable offence or offence of any kind is disclosed in the first information report that the Court will not permit an investigation to go on;

iv) The power of quashing should be exercised sparingly with circumspection, as it has been observed, in the "rarest of rare cases (not to be confused with the formation in the context of death penalty).

v) While examining an FIR/complaint, quashing of which is sought, the court cannot embark upon an enquiry as to the reliability or genuineness or otherwise of the allegations made in the FIR/complaint;

vi) Criminal proceedings ought not to be scuttled at the initial stage;

vii) Quashing of a complaint/FIR should be an exception rather than an ordinary rule;

viii) Ordinarily, the courts are barred from usurping the jurisdiction of the police, since the two organs of the State operate in two specific spheres of activities and one ought not to tread over the other sphere;

ix) The functions of the judiciary and the police are complementary, not overlapping;

x) Save in exceptional cases where non-interference would result in miscarriage of justice, the Court and the judicial process should not interfere at the stage of investigation of offences;

xi) Extraordinary and inherent powers of the Court do not confer an arbitrary jurisdiction on the Court to act according to its whims or caprice;

xii) The first information report is not an encyclopaedia which must disclose all facts and details relating to the offence reported. Therefore, when the investigation by the police is in progress, the court should not go into the merits of the allegations in the FIR. Police must be permitted to complete the investigation. It would be premature to pronounce the conclusion based on hazy facts that the complaint/FIR does not deserve to be investigated or that it amounts to abuse of process of law. After investigation, if the investigating officer finds that there is no substance in the application made by the complainant, the investigating officer may file an appropriate report/summary before the learned Magistrate which may be considered by the learned Magistrate in accordance with the known procedure; xiii) The power under Section 482 Cr.P.C. is very wide, but conferment of wide power requires the court to be more cautious. It casts an onerous and more diligent duty on the court;

xiv) However, at the same time, the court, if it thinks fit, regard being had to the parameters of quashing and the self-restraint imposed by law, more particularly the parameters laid down by this Court in the cases of R.P. Kapur (supra) and Bhajan Lal (supra), has the jurisdiction to quash the FIR/complaint;

xv) When a prayer for quashing the FIR is made by the alleged accused and the court when it exercises the power under Section 482 Cr.P.C., only has to consider whether the allegations in the FIR disclose commission of a cognizable offence or not. The court is not required to consider on merits whether or not the merits of the allegations make out a cognizable offence and the court has to permit the investigating agency/police to investigate the allegations in the FIR; xvi) The aforesaid parameters would be applicable and/or the aforesaid aspects are required to be considered by the High Court while passing an interim order in a quashing petition in exercise of powers under Section 482 Cr.P.C. and/or under Article 226 of the Constitution of India. However, an interim order of stay of investigation during the pendency of the quashing petition can be passed with circumspection. Such an interim order should not require to be passed routinely, casually and/or mechanically. Normally, when the investigation is in progress and the facts are hazy and the entire evidence/material is not before the High Court, the High Court should restrain itself from passing the interim order of not to arrest or "no coercive steps to be adopted" and the accused should be relegated to apply for anticipatory bail under Section 438 Cr.P.C. before the competent court. The High Court shall not and as such is not justified in passing the order of not to arrest and/or "no coercive steps" either during the investigation or till the investigation is completed and/or till the final report/chargesheet is filed under Section 173 Cr.P.C., while dismissing/disposing of the quashing petition under Section 482 Cr.P.C. and/or under Article 226 of the Constitution of India.

xvii) xvii) Even in a case where the High Court is prima facie of the opinion that an exceptional case is made out for grant of interim stay of further investigation, after considering the broad parameters while exercising the powers under Section 482 Cr.P.C. and/or under Article 226 of the Constitution of India referred to hereinabove, the High Court has to give brief reasons why such an interim order is warranted and/or is required to be passed so that it can demonstrate the application of mind by the Court and the higher forum can consider what was weighed with the High Court while passing such an interim order.

xviii) Whenever an interim order is passed by the High Court of "no coercive steps to be adopted" within the aforesaid parameters, the High Court must clarify what does it mean by "no coercive steps to be adopted" as the term "no coercive steps to be adopted" can be said to be too vague and/or broad which can be misunderstood and/or misapplied."

12. Keeping in mind the aforesaid dictum of the Apex Court, we find that in the instant case, it transpires from the impugned F.I.R. that on the complaint of the informant, S.N. Khare, who is said to be Additional District Cooperative Officer, Bilhore Tehsil In-charge, Bilhore, Kanpur Nagar, the impugned F.I.R. has been registered against six named accused persons including the petitioner herein, in which, there is specific allegation that on the advise of the petitioner and co-accused Atul Sharma, who is said to be the Accountant, District Office P.C.F., Kanpur Nagar, the work of purchase of wheat was being carried out from Anuj Trader, Vishdhan. On the raid, illegal government bags of 200 quintal wheat and stencils of the three centres referred to above have been recovered from Anuj Trader, Vishdhan. The petitioner has approached this Court by filing the instant writ petition under Article 226 of the Constitution of India. More so, from perusal of the entire pleadings of the writ petition, it transpires that there is question of facts, which cannot be examined under Article 226 of the Constitution of India in writ jurisdiction.

13. It is well settled that this Court has to eschew itself from embarking upon a roving enquiry into the last details of the case. It is also not advisable to adjudge whether the case shall ultimately end in submission of charge sheet and then eventually in conviction or not. Only a prima facie satisfaction of the court about the existence of sufficient ingredients constituting the offence is required in order to see whether the F.I.R. requires to be investigated or deserves quashing. The ambit of investigation into the alleged offence is an independent area of operation and does not call for interference in the same, except in rarest of rare cases.

14. Keeping in view the aforesaid law and considering the submissions advanced by learned counsel for the petitioner, we are of the view that the submissions made by the learned A.G.A. for the State, to the argument nos. 1,2, 4 (II) and 5, advanced on behalf of the petitioner, have substance.

15. So far as the submission made by the learned A.G.A. to the argument no.3 advanced on behalf of the petitioner is concerned, it would be relevant to reproduce Section 197 Cr.P.C., which is being quoted herein below:

"197. Prosecution of Judges and public servants.

(1) When any person who is or was a Judge or Magistrate or a public servant not removable from his office save by or with the sanction of the Government is accused of any offence alleged to have been committed by him while acting or purporting to act in the discharge of his official duty, no Court shall take cognizance of such offence except with the previous sanction-

(a) in the case of a person who is employed or, as the case may be, was at the time of commission of the alleged offence employed, in connection with the affairs of the Union, of the Central Government;

(b) in the case of a person who is employed or, as the case may be, was at the time of commission of the alleged offence employed, in connection with the affairs of a State, of the State Government:

1. Provided that where the alleged offence was committed by a person referred to in clause (b) during the period while a Proclamation issued under clause (1) of article 356 of the Constitution was in force in a State, clause (b) will apply as if for the expression "State Government" occurring therein, the expression "Central Government" were substituted.

(3) The State Government may, by notification, direct that the provisions of sub- section (2) shall apply to such class or category of the members of the Forces charged with the maintenance of public order as may be specified therein, wherever they may be serving, and thereupon the provisions of that sub- section will apply as if for the expression "Central Government" occurring therein, the expression "State Government" were substituted.

(3A) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub- section (3), no court shall take cognizance of any offence, alleged to have been committed by any member of the Forces charged with the maintenance of public order in a State while acting or purporting to act in the discharge of his official duty during the period while a Proclamation issued under clause (1) of article 356 of the Constitution was in force therein, except with the previous sanction of the Central Government.

(3B) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Code or any other law, it is hereby declared that any sanction accorded by the State Government or any cognizance taken by a court upon such sanction, during the period commencing on the 20th day of August, 1991 and ending with the date immediately preceding the date on which the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1991, receives the assent of the President, with respect to an offence alleged to have been committed during the period while a Proclamation issued under clause (1) of article 356 of the Constitution was in force in the State, shall be invalid and it shall be competent for the Central Government in such matter to accord sanction and for the court to take cognizance thereon.

(4) The Central Government or the State Government, as the case may be, may determine the person by whom, the manner in which, and the offence or offences for which, the prosecution of such Judge, Magistrate or public servant is to be conducted, and may specify the Court before which the trial is to be held."

16. From a simple reading of Section 197 Cr.P.C., it is apparently clear that no court or magistrate shall take cognizance against a public servant without prior permission or sanction from his/her higher authorities or State, as the case may. Therefore, the submission made by the learned A.G.A. has also substance.

17. In respect of argument no. 4 (I) advanced on behalf of the petitioners, we have also found substance in the submission made by the learned A.G.A. for the State that every person has a right to file a complaint against a public servant.

18. The Apex Court in the case of Sheo Nandan Paswan Vesus State of Bihar & Others reported in AIR 1987 SC 877, specifically in paragraph-14, has observed as follows:

"..... It is now settled law that a criminal proceeding is not a proceeding for vindication of a private grievance but it is a proceeding initiated for the purpose of punishment to the offender in the interest of the society. It is for maintaining stability and orderliness in the society that certain acts are constituted offences and the right is given to any citizen to set the machinery of the criminal law in motion for the purpose of bringing the offender to book. It is for this reason that in R.S. Nayak v. A.R. Antulay, [1984] 2 SCC 500 this Court pointed out that "punishment of the offender in the interests of the society being one of the objects behind penal statute enact- ed for larger goods of society, the right to initiate proceedings cannot be whittled down, circumscribed of lettered by putting it into a strait jacket formula of locus standi". This Court observed that locus standi of the complainant is a concept foreign to criminal jurisprudence. Now if any citizen can lodge a first information report or file a complaint and set the machinery of the criminal law in motion and his locus standi to do so cannot be questioned, we do not see why a citizen who finds that a prosecution for an offence against the society is being wrongly withdrawn, cannot oppose such withdrawal. If he can be a complainant or initiator of criminal prosecution, he should equally be entitled to oppose withdrawal of the criminal prosecution which has already been initiated at his instance. If the offence for which a prosecution is being launched is an offence against the society and not merely an individual wrong, any member of the society must have locus to initiate a prosecution as also to resist withdrawal of such prosecution, if initiated. Here in the present case, the offences charged against Dr. Jagannath Misra and others are offences of corruption, criminal breach of trust etc. and therefore any person who is interested in cleanliness of public administration and public morality would be entitled to file a complaint, as held by this Court in R.S. Nayak v.A.R. Antulay (supra) and equally he would be entitled to oppose the withdrawal of such prosecution if it is already instituted. ....."

19. In Subramanian Swamy Versus Manmohan Singh & Another reported in (2012) 3 SCC 64, the Apex Court has held that there is no restriction on a private citizen to file complaint against a public servant. The Apex Court has also held that locus standi of a private citizen is, therefore, not excluded. In paragraph nos. 72 and 73, the Apex Court has held as follows:

"72. The right of private citizen to file a complaint against a corrupt public servant must be equated with his right to access the Court in order to set the criminal law in motion against a corrupt public official. This right of access, a Constitutional right should not be burdened with unreasonable fetters. When a private citizen approaches a court of law against a corrupt public servant who is highly placed, what is at stake is not only a vindication of personal grievance of that citizen but also the question of bringing orderliness in society and maintaining equal balance in the rule of law.

73. It was pointed out by the Constitution Bench of this Court in Sheonandan Paswan vs. State of Bihar and Others, (1987) 1 SCC 288 at page 315:

".....It is now settled law that a criminal proceeding is not a proceeding for vindication of a private grievance but it is a proceeding initiated for the purpose of punishment to the offender in the interest of the society. It is for maintaining stability and orderliness in the society that certain acts are constituted offences and the right is given to any citizen to set the machinery of the criminal law in motion for the purpose of bringing the offender to book. It is for this reason that in A.R. Antulay v. R.S. Nayak this Court pointed out that (SCC p. 509, para 6) "punishment of the offender in the interest of the society being one of the objects behind penal statutes enacted for larger good of the society, right to initiate proceedings cannot be whittled down, circumscribed or fettered by putting it into a strait jacket formula of locus standi....." (Emphasis added)

20. In view of the aforesaid, it is crystal clear that every person has a right to lodge a first information report against a person, who in his presence, commits a non-bailable or cognizable offence. Therefore, the informant of the present case, namely, S.N. Khare, who is also none other than the public servant holding the post of Additional District Cooperative Officer, Bilhore Tehsil In-charge, Bilhore, Kanpur Nagar, had every right to make a complaint for lodging of first information report against the accused persons including the petitioner.

21. We are of the considered view that the submissions advanced by the learned Counsel for the petitioner call for determination on questions of fact, which may be adequately discerned either through proper investigation or which may be adjudicated upon only by the trial court and even the submissions made on points of law can also be more appropriately gone into only by the trial Court in case a charge sheet is submitted in this case. A perusal of the record makes out a prima facie offence at this stage and there appears to be sufficient ground for investigation of the case.

22. In view of the aforesaid, considering the allegations made in the FIR and material brought on record, it cannot be said that no prima facie case is made out against the petitioner, rather there appears to be sufficient ground for investigation of the matter. More so, learned Counsel for the petitioner has failed to point out any irregularity in lodging the impugned F.I.R. and also not placed any document(s) so as to interfere in the instant case in the extra-ordinary jurisdiction under Article 226 of the Constitution of India. Accordingly, we do not find any justification to quash the impugned F.I.R.

23. The petition lacks substance and is, accordingly, dismissed.

24. It is needless to state that the petitioner is having remedy to move an appropriate application for anticipatory bail before the competent Court as provided under Section 438 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973, if so desires.

25. The learned A.G.A. is obliged to produce a copy of this order before the concerned police station and also before the Senior Superintendent of Police, Kanpur Nagar.

26. It is made clear that this Court has observed nothing on the merits of the case and investigation is to be carried out strictly in accordance with law on the basis of material so collected by the investigation agency.

27. The party shall file a computer generated copy of this order downloaded from the official website of High Court Allahabad, self attested by the petitioner alongwith a self attested identity proof of the said person (preferably Aadhar Card) mentioning the mobile number to which the said Aadhar Card is linked.

28. The concerned Court/Authority/ Official shall verify the authenticity of such computerized copy of the order from the official website of High Court Allahabad and shall make a declaration of such verification in writing.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Sanjay Kumar Pachori, J.)

1. The present writ petition under Article 226 of the Constitution of India was initially preferred for seeking direction in the nature of mandamus to transfer of the investigation of Case Crime No. 3 of 2020, P.S. Meja, District Prayagraj to Crime

Branch Criminal Investigation Department (C.B.C.I.D.) or any other independent agency to ensure a fair investigation and prayed for following principal reliefs:

"(i) Issue a writ order or direction in the nature of mandamus direct the respondent no. 2 to transfer the investigation of present case, i.e. Case Crime No. 03 of 2020, under Sections 147, 366 I.P.C. Police Station Meja, District Prayagraj to C.B.C.I.D. or any other any other independent agency to ensure fair investigation.

(ii) Issue a writ order or direction in the nature of mandamus commanding the respondent no. 2 and 3 to arrest the accused persons in the present case."

2. We, after hearing the learned counsel for the parties, passed a detailed order on 1.10.2020. The operative part of the said order is quoted hereunder:-

(i) The order of cognizance dated 1.5.2020 passed by the Remand Magistrate in Case Crime No. 3/2020, under Sections 147/366 IPC, P.S. Meja, Prayagraj is quashed. The learned Jurisdictional Magistrate is directed to take fresh cognizance on available materials at the earliest.

(ii) The Competent Authority is directed to immediately place the I.O.s of Case Crime No. 3 & 264, both of 2020 and the Circle Officer concerned under suspension and institute disciplinary proceedings against them which shall be conducted by an officer not below the rank of Superintendent of Police. The disciplinary proceedings shall be completed as expeditiously as possible preferably within 2 months and the action taken be apprised to the court in a sealed cover on 18.12.2020.

(iii) The Disciplinary Authority shall not hesitate in invoking the provisions of Section 166-A IPC and other offence, if need be, against the erring police officials.

(iv) The victim shall be provided adequate security (24 X 7) at the expense of the State. She shall be escorted in a police vehicle to record her evidence in the Court and the witness protection scheme formulated by the Apex Court in Mahendra Chawla and Others vs. Union of India and others in Writ Petition (Criminal) No. 156/2016 on 5.12.2018 shall be adhered to."

3. We kept the petition pending.

4. Pursuant to our detail order dated 01.10.2020, it was reported that not only the two I.O.'s of Case Crime Nos. 3 & 264, both of 2020 but the C.O.'s concerned were suspended and disciplinary inquiries initiated in which the two I.O.'s namely Mohd. Azhar Khan and Sri Munna Lal were found guilty in discharge of their duties while Sri Navin Kumar Naik (erstwhile C.O.- Meja) was found partly guilty whereas Sri Sachidanand (erstwhile C.O- Meja) stood exonerated.

5. Sri Shiv Kumar Pal, learned Government Advocate for the State submitted that pursuant to quashing of the cognizance order by this Court on 1.10.2020, further investigation of Case Crime Nos. 3 of 2020 and 264 of 2020 was transferred to Crime Branch, both the cases were independently investigated by Inspector Vridhi Chand Gautam, Crime Branch who after completing investigation of both the cases fairly and impartially, submitted Final Reports in both the cases before the jurisdictional Magistrate. He further pointed out about materials collected during further investigation but fairly admitted that at the time of submitting the police report, the investigation agency has no scope to discard the statements of the victim under Section 164 of the Code.

6. Learned Government Advocate further argued that the jurisdictional Magistrate issued summons after taking cognizance vide order dated 22.3.2021, on the basis of materials collected during the investigation against respondents no. 5 to 7 and Abhishek Singh @ Shani under Sections 363 and 376D of the IPC after rejecting the Final Report in Case Crime No. 3 of 2020. It is further submitted that the jurisdictional Magistrate has also issued summons against accused Arun Kumar Singh, Ashish Singh, Amrendra Pratap Singh, and Abhishek Singh in Case Crime No. 264 of 2020 under Sections 363, 366, and 376D of the IPC vide order dated 2.4.2021, after taking cognizance.

7. Learned counsel for the petitioner admitted that although the jurisdictional Magistrate took cognizance in Case Crime No. 3 of 2020 and 264 of 2020 and issued summons against the accused persons yet the local police has not served the process.

BRIEF FACTS OF THE CASE:

8. The first incident took place on 25.12.2019 when after taking objection to the conduct of the informant/cousin of the victim and his family in not letting a road to be constructed, respondents no. 5 to 7 and Shani Singh came to the house of the victim at about 6:30 AM. They hurled filthy abuses and inflicted serious injuries to the family members of the victim. First Information Report (in short "FIR") of the incident was lodged by Vinod Kumar Mishra, against the respondents no. 5 to 7 and Shani Singh on 26.12.2019 at 6:27 PM as Case Crime No. 1070 of 2019 under Sections 452, 323, 504, and 506 of the IPC at Police Station Meja, Prayagraj.

9. On 1.1.2020, the second incident took place at about 8:00 PM, when the victim had gone to ease herself on the rear side of her house, respondents no. 5 to 7, Abhishek @ Shani, and 4 other unknown persons were waiting for the arrival of the victim and when she came, 8 accused persons forcibly dragged her in an unnumbered vehicle (Red Renault Duster). On hearing her cries for help, the petitioner and other family members came out from the house, saw the armed accused persons, who threatened them with life, and the victim abducted. On 25.12.2019, respondent nos. 5 to 7 and Abhishek @ Shani had extended a threat that the family of the informant would be given a new year gift. An FIR of the above incident was lodged by the petitioner/ father of the victim against respondents no. 5 to 7, Abhishek @ Shani, and 4 other unknown persons on 2.1.2020 at 13.48 hours as Case Crime No. 3 of 2020 under Sections 147, and 366 of the IPC at P.S. Meja, Prayagraj.

10. Sub-Inspector Mohd. Azhar Khan started the investigation, recorded the statements of the petitioner Rama Shankar Mishra (informant/father of the victim), Daya Shankar Mishra (brother of the informant), Om Shankar Mishra (brother of the informant), Ruchi Mishra (sister of the victim) and Shivam Mishra (brother of the victim) as eyewitnesses of the incident, under Section 161 the Code on 7.1.2020.

11. Statement of the victim under Section 161 of the Code was recorded on 8.1.2020 by S.I. Munna Lal II I.O., wherein she stated that on 1.1.2020 at 8:30 PM that when she had gone to ease herself on the rear side of her house, all the accused persons along with Shani @ Abhishek were standing there with firearms to commit murder of her cousin Vinod Kumar Mishra. All the accused persons caught her and closed her mouth with a handkerchief and put her in a Red Duster car. She does not remember where they took her. She stayed with the accused persons for 7 days. She stayed 2 days in a room and 5 days in the dicky of the car. They used to take her into the room and commit rape with her while keeping her unconscious. After 7 days, respondents no. 5 to 7, Abhishek @ Shani Singh, and 4 other unknown persons left her near her house.

12. The victim was medically examined on 9.1.2020 at 1:00 PM in Community Health Centre, Ram Nagar by Dr. Reeta Dwivedi, which indicated that her hymen was torn with slight redness in the region. During medical examination, hair of the scalp, nail scrapings of both hands, and vaginal smear (air-dried) for semen examination of the victim were collected.

13. On 14.1.2020, statement of the victim under Section 164 of the Code was recorded by Judicial Magistrate -II, Allahabad, which is extracted as:

"घटना 1/1/20 की हैं। मैं शाम 8.30 बजे अपने चाचा को खाना देकर घर के पीछे शौचालय जा रही थी । तब मैंने तहसीलदार सिंह, अरूण सिंह, आशीश सिंह, सन्नी सिंह को देखा । 3 - 4 और लोग थे जिन्हे मैंने नहीं पहचाना। तहसीलदार सिंह ने मेरा मुह दबा दिया जिससे मैं बोल नहीं पाई । फिर मैं बेहोश हो गई । जब होश आया तब आँखे, मुँह और हाथ बंधे थे । आँख में पट्टी होने के कारण मुझे कुछ नहीं समझ आ रहा था कि जगह क्या है । ऐसा लगता था किसी कमरे में है । 3 - 4 दिन खाने को कुछ नहीं दिया, पानी देते थे । एक दो दिन बाद किसी ने मेरी सलवार उतारी । मेरे साथ गलत काम किया (बलात्कार)/गलत काम करने के बाद सलवार पहना दी । 2 - 3 दिन बाद बेहोश करके डिक्की में रखा गाड़ी की । मुझे नहीं पता कितने समय डिक्की में थी । आँखों में पट्टी बंधी थी । मुझे नही पता गाड़ी में कितने लोग थे । मेरे साथ 3 - 4 बार गलत काम (बलात्कार) किया गया परन्तु किसने किए यह नहीं पता । 8/1/2020 को मुझे घर के पीछे गाड़ी से उतार दिया गया । जब मुझे छोड़ा तब हाथ खोल कर छोड़ा । तब मैंने आंखो की पट्टी खोली और देखा लाल रंग की गाड़ी जा रही थी । नम्बर नहीं देख पाई । तहसीलदार, अरूण सिंह और उनके बेटों से जमीन का विवाद चल रहा था हमने 25/12/19 को पुलिस बुलाई तब सन्नी सिंह ने कहा था कि बच्ची मैं तुम्हें नए साल के दिन गिफ्ट दूगाँ । जब मैं घर गई तब पुलिस थी। इसके अतिरिक्त मुझे कुछ नहीं कहना।"

14. On 22.1.2020, the petitioner approached the Assistant Director General of Police, Prayagraj Zone by way of an application to get the investigation of case Crime no. 3 of 2020 transferred to any other police station of the district. He stated that the police of Police station Meja had colluded with the accused persons and the police were not taking any concrete action against the accused persons.

15. On 28.3.2020, co-accused Abhishek @ Shani Singh was arrested and sent to judicial custody. On 29.3.2020, after completing investigation, S.I. Munna Lal submitted a charge sheet against respondents no. 5 to 7 and Abhishek @ Shani Singh under Sections 323, 504, and 506 of the IPC only, while exonerating all the accused persons under Sections 147, 366, and 376D of the IPC. The Magistrate took cognizance under Sections 323, 504, and 506 of the IPC only. As a result, accused Abhishek @ Shani Singh after being enlarged on bail under Sections 323, 504, and 506 of the IPC started extending threat to the victim, therefore, the victim had to be shifted to the house of her maternal uncle.

16. The second incident of abduction took place on 17.5.2020 at about 7:30 PM, when the victim had gone to attend the call of nature from the house of her maternal uncle, where she was residing for 25 days prior to the incident. When she did not return after a long time then her maternal uncle and aunt searched for her and dialed 112 to inform the police about the incident. The informant came to know that a boy came on a motorcycle and abducted the victim. An FIR was lodged by her uncle namely Umakant Dubey, on 19.5.2020 at 3:27 PM against unknown persons as Case Crime No. 264 of 2020 under Sections 363 and 366 of the IPC at P.S. Meja, Prayagraj.

17. On 16.6.2020, a Division Bench of this Court directed the Senior Superintendent of Police, Prayagraj to recover and produce the victim before the Court in a Habeas Corpus Writ Petition No. 277 of 2020 which was filed by the petitioner for the recovery of the victim.

18. On 17.8.2020, subsequently in Case Crime No. 264 of 2020, the statement of the victim under Section 164 of the Code was recorded by Civil Judge (Sr.D.)/F.T.C. Prayagraj which is extracted as under:

"1/01/2020 को मेरा आपहरण अरूण सिंह, पवन सिंह उर्फ तहसीलदार, आशीश सिंह, अभिशेक सिंह उर्फ सनी ने किया था । और आठ दिन कर मुझे एक कमरे में रखा । और मेरे साथ जबरदस्ती संबंध बनाया । उस समय आशीश सिंह और अरूण सिंह ने मेरे साथ शारीरिक संबंध बनाया था । इस घटना की FIR भी हुयी थी । दूसरी बार 17/05/2020 को मेरा आपहरण अमरेन्द्र सिंह उर्फ पंकज, आशीष सिंह ने किया । मैं अपने मामा के घर गयी थी। वहाँ से मेरा अपहरण किया । एक महिना तक मुझे एक कमरे में बन्द करके रखा । वहाँ पर अरूण सिंह ने मेरे साथ जबरदस्ती शारीरिक संबंध बनाया । एक और आदमी भी आता था लेकिन वो मुंह ढक कर आता था । उसने भी मेरे साथ शारीरिक संबंध बनाया । एक दिन मौका देखकर मैं वहाँ से निकल गयी । तब रास्ते में एक आदमी मिल गया जिसका नाम नीरज सिंह उर्फ डिग्री था । उसने तीन चार लोग को बुला लिया और मुझे जबरदस्ती साड़ी पहनाकर थाने पर छोड़ दिया । थाने पर पुलिस नित्यानन्द, राकेश चौरसिया ने मुझसे जबरदस्ती कागज पर हस्ताक्षर करवाया । और जबरदस्ती लिखवाया कि मैं धर्मपाल की पत्नी हूँ । जब की धर्मपाल से मैंने शादी नहीं की, धर्मपाल 45 - 50 साल का आदमी है । और उसकी एक पत्नी भी है । जब मेरा मेडिकल हो रहा था तो महिला आरक्षी नेहा तिवारी ने डाक्टर को बोल कर अपने मन से रिपोर्ट लिखाई । और वहां पर भी जबरदस्ती नेहा तिवारी ने लिखवाया कि मैं धर्मपाल की पत्नी हूँ । धर्मपाल आज भी यहाँ कोर्ट में मेरा पीछा करते हुये आया है । और शादी का झूठा कागज बनवा कर लाया है । अरूण सिंह ने मेरी मम्मी को डण्डे से मारा था । और जान से मारने की धमकी दिया । मैंने धर्मपाल सिंह के साथ शादी नहीं की है । अरूण सिंह, आशीष सिंह, पवन सिंह और सनी ने मेरे घर आकर बन्दूक चलाये और पापा मम्मी को मारे । मैंने पुलिस को बुला दिया था । सनी सिंह ने मेरे भाई के ऊपर गोली चलाई थी । जो मेरे चाचा को छू कर निकल गयी । पुलिस वालों ने सब गलत कागज पर हस्ताक्षर करवाया अरूण सिंह के कहने पर । मैं अपनी मम्मी पापा के साथ रहना चाहती हूँ । मेरी जान को बहुत खतरा है ।"

19. The victim was medically examined again on 22.6.2020 at 1:30 PM in Community Health Centre, Ram Nagar by Dr. Reeta Dwivedi, which indicated that her hymen was old, torn and healed. During medical examination, hair of the scalp, nail scrapings of both hands and vaginal smear (air-dried) of the victim were collected for semen examination.

20. We, in view of above background were constrained to pass a detailed order on 1.10.020 and it appears that further investigation in respect of both the occurrences was conducted by the Crime Branch.

21. On 10.2.2021, accused persons of case Crime No. 264 of 2020 Amrendra Pratap Singh, Arun Kumar Singh, and Ashish Singh were also released by the jurisdictional Magistrate on the basis of the Final report, submitted by the investigating officer of Crime Branch after completing further investigation vide order dated 10.2.2021.

22. On 22.3.2021, on a protest application of the petitioner, the jurisdictional Magistrate issued summons after taking cognizance vide order dated 22.3.2021, on the basis of materials collected during investigation against respondents no. 5 to 7 and Abhishek Singh @ Shani under Sections 363 and 376D of the IPC after rejecting the Final Report in Case Crime No. 3 of 2020. The Magistrate also issued summons against accused person respondents no. 6, 7 and Amrendra Pratap Singh, and Abhishek Singh in Case Crime No. 264 of 2020 under Sections 363, 366, and 376D of the IPC vide order dated 2.4.2021 on protest application which has been filed by the petitioner, after taking cognizance, on the basis of materials collected during the investigation and rejected the Final Report.

23. In compliance of the order dated 4.8.2021, Sri Vridhhi Chand Gautam, investigating officer of Crime Branch has filed a compliance affidavit, wherein he stated that he conducted further investigation of both the cases i.e. Case Crime No. 3 of 2020 and Case Crime No. 264 of 2020, as ordered by Deputy Inspector General of Police, Prayagraj, with a team of competent police officials. He claims to have conducted the investigation fairly and impartially.

24. Another compliance affidavit has also been filed by the Superintendent of Police (Crime) on 16.8.2021, wherein he stated that he is the supervisory authority of the investigation of both the cases after perusal of the Final Reports, he found that the investigation was conducted in accordance with law.

25. Without going to the details of the evidence collected during the investigation and further investigation of both the cases, it is clear that the Final Reports were submitted after discarding the statements of the informants, the victim, and her family members which were recorded under Section 161 of the Code. The I.O. also discarded the statements of the victim, recorded under Section 164 of the Code. It is also clear that the investigating officer has not enquired about the Red Duster car by which the victim was abducted on 1.1.2020 as stated by the eye-witnesses and the victim in her statements under Sections 161 and 164 of the Code. The medical examinations of the victim have also not been considered by the investigating officer.

26. In Amar Nath Chaubey v. Union of India (UOI) and Ors., AIR 2021 SC 109, (3 Judge), the Supreme Court observed as follows:

"8. The police has a statutory duty to investigate into any crime in accordance with law as provided in the Code of Criminal Procedure. Investigation is the exclusive privilege and prerogative of the police which cannot be interfered with. But if the police does not perform its statutory duty in accordance with law or is remiss in the performance of its duty, the court cannot abdicate its duties on the precocious plea that investigation is the exclusive prerogative of the police. Once the conscience of the court is satisfied, from the materials on record, that the police has not 49investigated properly or apparently is remiss in the investigation, the court has a bounden constitutional obligation to ensure that the investigation is conducted in accordance with law. If the court gives any directions for that purpose within the contours of the law, it cannot amount to interference with investigation. A fair investigation is, but a necessary concomitant of Articles 14 and 21 of the Constitution of India and this Court has the bounden obligation to ensure adherence by the police.

9. In Manohar Lal Sharma v. Principal Secretary and Ors. (2014) 2 SCC 532, the Apex Court observed as follows:

24. In the criminal justice system the investigation of an offence is the domain of the police. The power to investigate into the cognizable offences by the police officer is ordinarily not impinged by any fetters. However, such power has to be exercised consistent with the statutory provisions and for legitimate purpose. The courts ordinarily do not interfere in the matters of investigation by police, particularly, when the facts and circumstances do not indicate that the investigating officer not functioning bonafide. In very exceptional cases, however, where the courts finds that the police officer has exercised his investigatory powers in breach of the statutory provision putting the personal liberty and/or the properly of the citizen in jeopardy by illegal and improper use of the power or there is abuse of the investigatory power and process by the police officer or the investigation by the police is found to be not bonafide or the investigation is tainted with animosity, the court may intervene to protect the personal and/or property rights of the citizens.

25. Lord Denning has described the role of the police thus:

In safeguarding our freedoms, the police play a vital role. Society for its defence needs a well-led, well-trained and well-disciplined force of police whom it can trust: and enough of them to be able to prevent crime before it happens, or if it does happen, to detect it and bring the Accused to justice.

The police of course, must act properly. They must obey the Rules of right conduct. They must not extort confessions by threats or promises. They must not search a man's house without authority. They must not use more force than the occasion warrants."

26. One of the responsibility of the police is protection of life, liberty and property of citizens. The investigation of the offences is one of the important duties of the police has to perform. The aim of investigation is ultimately to search for truth and bring the offender to book.

39. ..In the rare and compelling circumstances referred to above, the superior courts may monitor an investigation to ensure that the investigating agency conducts the investigation in a free, fair and time-bound manner without any external interference."

27. In Pooja Pal v. Union of India, (2016) 3 SCC 135, the Supreme Court observed as under:

"87. Any criminal offence is one against the society at large casting an onerous responsibility on the State, as the guardian and purveyor of human rights and protector of law to discharge its sacrosanct role responsibly and committedly, always accountable to the law-abiding citizenry for any lapse. The power of the constitutional courts to direct further investigation or reinvestigation is a dynamic component of its jurisdiction to exercise judicial review, a basic feature of the Constitution and though has to be exercised with due care and caution and informed with self-imposed restraint, the plenitude and content thereof can neither be enervated nor moderated by any legislation.

88. The expression "fair and proper investigation" in criminal jurisprudence was held by this Court in Vinay Tyagi v. Ishad Ali (2013) 5 SCC 762) to encompass two imperatives; firstly, the investigation must be unbiased, honest, just and in accordance with law; and secondly, the entire emphasis has to be to bring out the truth of the case before the court of competent jurisdiction.

96. The avowed purpose of a criminal investigation and its efficacious prospects with the advent of scientific and technical advancements have been candidly synopsised in the prefatory chapter dealing with the history of criminal investigation in the treatise of Criminal Investigation-Basic Perspectives by Paul B. Weston and Renneth M. Wells:

'Criminal investigation is a lawful search for people and things useful in reconstructing the circumstances of an illegal act or omission and the mental state accompanying it. It is probing from the known to the unknown, backward in time, and its goal is to determine truth as far as it can be discovered in any post-factum inquiry.

Successful investigations are based on fidelity, accuracy and sincerity in lawfully searching for the true facts of an event under investigation and on an equal faithfulness, exactness, and probity in reporting the results of an investigation. Modern investigators are persons who stick to the truth and are absolutely clear about the time and place of an event and the measurable aspects of evidence. They work throughout their investigation fully recognising that even a minor contradiction or error may destroy confidence in their investigation.

The joining of science with traditional criminal investigation techniques offers new horizons of efficiency in criminal investigation. New perspectives in investigation bypass reliance upon informers and custodial interrogation and concentrate upon a skilled scanning of the crime scene for physical evidence and a search for as many witnesses as possible. Mute evidence tells its own story in court, either by its own demonstrativeness or through the testimony of an expert witness involved in its scientific testing. Such evidence may serve in lieu of, or as corroboration of, testimonial evidence of witnesses found and interviewed by police in an extension of their responsibility to seek out the truth of all the circumstances of crime happening. An increasing certainty in solving crimes is possible and will contribute to the major deterrent of crime the certainty that a criminal will be discovered, arrested and convicted."

28. After submitting police report under Section 173(2) of the Code, it is only further investigation that can be ordered under Section 173(8) of the Code. The power may be exercised if the court comes to the conclusion that the investigation has been done in a manner to help someone to escape from the clutches of law. In such exceptional circumstances the court may, in order to prevent miscarriage of criminal justice direct de novo investigation. [Vide: Babubhai v State of Gujarat, (2010) 12 SCC 254]. Fair investigation is a part of a constitutional right guaranteed under Article 21 of the Constitution of India. In Babubhai v State of Gujarat, (2010) 12 SCC 254 the Apex Court observed as:

"45. Not only fair trial but fair investigation is also part of constitutional rights guaranteed Under Articles 20 and 21 of the Constitution of India. Therefore, investigation must be fair, transparent and judicious as it is the minimum requirement of Rule of law. The investigating agency cannot be permitted to conduct an investigation in a tainted and biased manner. Where non-interference of the court would ultimately result in failure of justice, the court must interfere. In such a situation, it may be in the interest of justice that independent agency chosen by the High Court makes a fresh investigation."

29. In Bharati Tamang v. Union of India, (2013) 15 SCC 578, the Apex Court relied on the following extract from Zahira Habibulla H. Sheikh v. State of Gujarat, (2004) 4 SCC 158, as follows:

"33...Courts have to ensure that Accused persons are punished and that the might or authority of the State are not used to shield themselves or their men. It should be ensured that they do not wield such powers which under the Constitution has to be held only in trust for the public and society at large. In deficiency in investigation or prosecution is visible or can be perceived by lifting the veil trying to hide the realities or covering the obvious deficiencies, courts have to deal with the same with an iron hand appropriately within the framework of law. It is as much the duty of the prosecutor as of the court to ensure that full and material facts are brought on record so that there might not be miscarriage of justice."

30. In Sakiri Basu v. State of Uttar Pradesh, (2008) 2 SCC 409, the Supreme Court observed in paragraph 10 and 11 as under:

"10. It has been held by this Court in CBI v. Rajesh Gandhi, 1997 Cri LJ 63 that no one can insist that an offence be investigated by a particular agency. We fully agree with the view in the aforesaid decision. An aggrieved person can only claim that the offence he alleges be investigated properly, but he has no right to claim that it be investigated by any particular agency of his choice.

11. In this connection we would like to state that if a person has a grievance that the police station is not registering his FIR under Section 154 Cr.P.C., then he can approach the Superintendent of Police under Section 154(3) Cr.P.C. by an application in writing. Even if that does not yield any satisfactory result in the sense that either the FIR is still not registered, or that even after registering it no proper investigation is held, it is open to the aggrieved person to file an application under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. before the learned Magistrate concerned. If such an application under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. is filed before the Magistrate, the Magistrate can direct the FIR to be registered and also can direct a proper investigation to be made, in a case where, according to the aggrieved person, no proper investigation was made. The Magistrate can also under the same provision monitor the investigation to ensure a proper investigation."

Directions issued by the Apex Court:

31. For the time bound conclusion of the criminal trial the Apex Court in State of Kerala v. Rasheed, AIR 2019 SC 721, held as under:

"The following practice guidelines should be followed by trial courts in the conduct of a criminal trial, as far as possible:

(i) a detailed case-calendar must be prepared at the commencement of the trial after framing of charges;

(ii) the case-calendar must specify the dates on which the examination-in-chief and cross-examination (if required) of witnesses is to be conducted;

(iii) the case-calendar must keep in view the proposed order of production of witnesses by parties, expected time required for examination of witnesses, availability of witnesses at the relevant time, and convenience of both the prosecution as well as the defence, as far as possible;

(iv) testimony of witnesses deposing on the same subject matter must be proximately scheduled;

(v) the request for deferral under Section 231(2) of the Cr.P.C. must be preferably made before the preparation of the case-calendar;

(vi) the grant for request of deferral must be premised on sufficient reasons justifying the deferral of cross-examination of each witness, or set of witnesses;

(vii) while granting a request for deferral of cross-examination of any witness, the trial courts must specify a proximate date for the cross-examination of that witness, after the examination-in-chief of such witness (es) as has been prayed for;

(viii) the case-calendar, prepared in accordance with the above guidelines, must be followed strictly, unless departure from the same becomes absolutely necessary;

(ix) in cases where trial courts have granted a request of deferral, necessary steps must be taken to safeguard witnesses from being subjected to undue influence, harassment or intimidation."

32. In State of Gujarat v. Kishanbhai and Ors., (2014) 5 SCC 108, the Supreme Court has observed with regard to the glaring lapses in the investigation by the investigating agency, in para 20 reads as under:

"20. Every acquittal should be understood as a failure of the justice delivery system, in serving the cause of justice. Likewise, every acquittal should ordinarily lead to the inference, that an innocent person was wrongfully prosecuted. It is therefore, essential that every State should put in place a procedural mechanism, which would ensure that the cause of justice is served, which would simultaneously ensure the safeguard of interest of those who are innocent. In furtherance of the above purpose, it is considered essential to direct the Home Department of every State, to examine all orders of acquittal and to record reasons for the failure of each prosecution case. A standing committee of senior officers of the police and prosecution departments, should be vested with aforesaid responsibility. The consideration at the hands of the above committee, should be utilized for crystallizing mistakes committed during investigation, and/ or prosecution, or both. The Home Department of every State Government will incorporate in its existing training programmes for junior investigation/prosecution officials course content drawn from the above consideration. The same should also constitute course-content of refresher training programmes, for senior investigating/ prosecuting officials. The above responsibility for preparing training programmes for officials, should be vested in the same committee of senior officers referred to above. Judgments like the one in hand (depicting more than 10 glaring lapses in the investigation/prosecution of the case), and similar other judgments, may also be added to the training programmes. The course content will be reviewed by the above committee annually, on the basis of fresh inputs, including emerging scientific tools of investigation, judgments of Courts, and on the basis of experiences gained by the standing committee while examining failures, in unsuccessful prosecution of cases. We further direct, that the above training programme be put in place within 6 months. This would ensure that those persons who handle sensitive matters concerning investigation/ prosecution are fully trained to handle the same. Thereupon, if any lapses are committed by them, the would not be able to feign innocence, when they are made liable to suffer departmental action, for their lapses.

21. On the culmination of a criminal case in acquittal, the concerned investigating /prosecuting official (s) responsible for such acquittal must necessarily be identified. A finding needs to be recorded in each case, whether the lapse was innocent or blameworthy. Each erring officer must suffer the consequences of his lapse, by appropriate departmental action, whenever called for. Taking into consideration the seriousness of the matter, the concerned official may be withdrawn from investigative responsibilities, permanently or temporarily, depending purely on his culpability. We also feel compelled to require the adoption of some indispensable measures, which may reduce the malady suffered by parties on both sides of criminal litigation. Accordingly, we direct, the Home Department of every State Government, to formulate a procedure for taking action against all erring investigating/ prosecuting officials/ officers. All such erring official / officers identified, as responsible for failure of a prosecution case, on account of sheer negligence or because of culpable lapses, must suffer departmental action. The above mechanism formulated would infuse seriousness in the performance of investigating and prosecuting duties, and would ensure that investigation and prosecution are purposeful and decisive. The instant directions shall also be given effect to within 6 months.

23. A copy of the instant judgment shall be transmitted by the Registry of this Court, to the Home Secretaries of all State Governments and Union Territories, within one week. All the concerned Home Secretaries, shall ensure compliance of the directions recorded above. The record of consideration, in compliance with the above direction, shall be maintained."

Duties of Superior Police Officer:

33. Sub-rule (iii) of Rule 122 of Police Regulations provides that the final report must in all cases be submitted through the Superintendent of Police.

34. The Chief Secretary of Government of Uttar Pradesh has issued a direction to the Director General of Police and Director General (Prosecution) on 5.8.219 in compliance of several directions issued by the Supreme Court in Perumal v. Janaki, (2014) 5 SCC 377 and State of Gujarat v. Kishanbhai, (2014) 5 SCC 108 for submitting charge-sheets/final report in the competent court, relevant part of aforesaid direction reads as under:

"(1) प्रत्येक विवेचना पूर्ण होने के उपरान्त आरोप पत्र/अन्तिम रिपोर्ट प्रेषित करने से पूर्व विवेचक द्वारा क्षेत्राधिकारी के माध्यम से केस डायरी जनपदीय अभियोजन कार्यालय में प्रेषित की जायेगी । जहां पर अभियोजन अधिकारी द्वारा केस डायरी के अवलोकनोपरान्त/परीक्षणोपरान्त विवेचक के मध्य संकलित साक्ष्य आदि की समीक्षा की जायेगी और यदि उसमे कोई कमी या विसंगति पायी जाती है तो स्वतंत्र मस्तिष्क से उसको इंगित करते हुए उसकी पूर्ति हेतु अग्रेतर विवेचना हेतु प्रेषित की जायेगी । इस कार्यवाही में केस डायरी जिस माध्यम से अभियोजक के पास परीक्षण हेतु प्रेषित की जाय उसी माध्यम से अभियोजक द्वारा पुनः परीक्षणोपरान्त ही यथा स्थिति आरोप पत्र अथवा अंतिम रिपोर्ट न्यायालय प्रेषित किया जायेगी । इस कार्य की सुचारू रूप से सम्पादित करने हेतु जनपदीय अभियोजन कार्यालय में एक केस डायरी प्राप्त करने का पटल स्थापित होगा, जहां पर आवश्यकतानुसार कान्सटेबिल मोहर्रिर लगाये जायेगे । उक्त समस्त कार्यवाही बिलम्बतम 07 दिन में पूर्ण करनी होगी। यदि अपरिहार्यतावश 07 दिन से अधिक के समय लग रहा हो तो इस स्थिति में वस्तुस्थिति का उल्लेख करते हुये अनिवार्यतः 15 दिन में कार्यवाही पूर्ण करनी होगी ।"

35. The object behind recording of the statement of witness under Section 164 of the Code is to ensure that the investigation is in the right direction, against the right person which will instil a sense of feeling in the mind of the witness that he/she should not retract later. The statement of witness has to be recorded like a statement recorded from a witness in the court. Before recording the statement, oath has to be administered to the witness. Although the statement of a witness recorded under Section 164 of the Code is also a previous statement like recorded under Section 161, it has some higher value as it is recorded by a Magistrate.

36. We now revert to submission of the learned counsels for the parties. It is an admitted fact that the jurisdictional Magistrate has taken cognizance in Case Crime No. 3 of 2020 under Sections 363, 376D of the IPC against respondents no. 5 to 7 and Abhishek Singh @ Shani and in Case Crime No. 264 of 2020 under Sections 363, 366, 376D of IPC against respondents no. 6, 7, Amrendra Pratap Singh and Abhishek Singh. Learned Magistrate rejected the Final Reports submitted by the investigating officer of Crime Branch vide order dated 22.3.2021, 2.4.2021 respectively and has issued the summon against the accused persons. It is also admitted fact that all the accused person were in judicial custody during further investigation but were released after submitting of the Final Reports.

37. At this juncture, one question remains unanswered, why the vehicle in question used in abduction of the victim has not been recovered or what attempts/ efforts were made by the I.O. to recover the same?

38. A question of law, after filing of charge-sheet, whether Magistrate has power to order for further investigation has been considered by a three Judge Bench of the Apex Court in Vinubhai Haribhai Malaviya and Ors. vs. The State of Gujarat and Ors., (2019) 17 SCC 1, wherein it observed as under:

"17. It is clear that a fair trial must kick off only after an investigation is itself fair and just. The ultimate aim of all investigation and inquiry, whether by the police or by the Magistrate, is to ensure that those who have actually committed a crime are correctly booked, and those who have not are not arraigned to stand trial. That this is the minimal procedural requirement that is the fundamental requirement of Article 21 of the Constitution of India cannot be doubted. It is the hovering omnipresence of Article 21 over the Code of Criminal Procedure that must needs inform the interpretation of all the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure, so as to ensure that Article 21 is followed both in letter and in spirit.

23. It is thus clear that the Magistrate's power Under Section 156(3) of the Code of Criminal Procedure is very wide, for it is this judicial authority that must be satisfied that a proper investigation by the police takes place. To ensure that a "proper investigation" takes place in the sense of a fair and just investigation by the police-which such Magistrate is to supervise-Article 21 of the Constitution of India mandates that all powers necessary, which may also be incidental or implied, are available to the Magistrate to ensure a proper investigation which, without doubt, would include the ordering of further investigation after a report is received by him Under Section 173(2); and which power would continue to enure in such Magistrate at all stages of the criminal proceedings until the trial itself commences. Indeed, even textually, the "investigation" referred to in Section 156(1) of the Code of Criminal Procedure would, as per the definition of "investigation" Under Section 2(h), include all proceedings for collection of evidence conducted by a police officer; which would undoubtedly include proceedings by way of further investigation Under Section 173(8) of the Code of Criminal Procedure."

39. In view of above, we leave the matter of the involvement of the vehicle in question to the jurisdictional Magistrate for consideration.

40. After considering the facts and circumstances of the present case as noted above and after keeping in mind the settled position of law in respect of fair and proper investigation relating to sexual offences, we direct that the jurisdictional Magistrate, District Prayagraj shall commit both the cases (Case Crime Nos. 3 and 264 of 2020 both P.S. Meja, Prayagraj) within a month from the date of receipt of this order, to the Court of Sessions and also direct that the security of the victim (24 X 7) shall continue till the conclusion of the trial of both the cases, as per our order dated 1.10.2020.

41. We, before parting, are of the view that considering the issues involved, it would be just and appropriate to issue following directives:

(i) The 'Monitoring Cell' of all the districts of the State shall collect monthly data of the number of cases in which after recording the statement of victim of sexual offences under Section 164 of the Code in support of prosecution, Final Report(s) has/have been submitted.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Subhash Chand, J.)

1. Heard learned counsel for the parties and perused the judgment and order impugned.

2. Both these appeals arise out of common judgment and order dated 30.05.2019, they have been heard together and are being decided by a common judgment.

3. First Appeal From Order No. 3066 of 2019, has been filed by the Shriram General Insurance Company with whom vehicle No. U.P. 79 T 3872 was insured, and, the First Appeal From Order No. 224 of 2020 has been filed by claimant-appellants and in these appeals judgment and award dated 30.05.2019 passed by Motor Accident Claims Tribunal/Additional District Judge, Court No.1, Bareilly (hereinafter referred to as 'Tribunal') in M.A.C.P. Case No. 653 of 2017 awarding a sum of Rs. 51,15,760/- as compensation are under challenge.

4. As culled out from the record that on 29.07.2017 when deceased Vijay Kumar was returning to go to his home through highway and was arrived near Apollo Tyre Agency situated on G.T. Road, a Canter No. UP 79 T 3872 being driven rash and negligent manner, Vijay Kumar was dashed by which he received injuries and during the treatment at Siddh Vinayak Hospital, he was declared died, his age was 39 years and he was a Teacher and his salary was Rs. 40,000/- per month. The FIR was lodged by brother of deceased on 31.07.2017 and thereafter charge-sheet was submitted. The owner filed his reply and has only accepted the averments of paragraph nos. 15 and 16 of the claim petition. He has denied that no accident took place by the involvement of his vehicle. His driver, namely Naushad had proper driving license and his vehicle was ensured with Sriram Insurance Company and, therefore, they were liable to pay the amount.

5. The Insurance Company filed its reply of denial. The driver did not accept the involvement of his vehicle nor he accepted that he was driving the vehicle in rash and negligent manner.

6. The submissions of learned counsel for the Insurance Company that the vehicle was not involved and its driver was not negligent also is negative.

7. Parties are referred as claimants and Insurance Company for convenience.

8. It is submitted by learned counsel for the claimants that deceased Vijay Kumar Kushwaha was an Assistant Teacher in government school and his salary was Rs. 40,000/- per month. At the time of accident the age of the deceased was 39 years. The deceased has left behind him his widow, parents and daughter.

9. Sri Vijay Prakash Mishra, learned counsel for the Insurance Company has raised the following grounds:-

(i) The vehicle cannot be said to be involved in the accident as the oral testimony of the investigator of the Insurance Company is to the effect that one of the injured has conveyed to him that the accident took place with Bus whereas, two days belated FIR mentions that the truck, which was a goods container vehicle was involved in the accident and, therefore, it can be said that the vehicle insured by the appellant was a planted vehicle.

(ii) As far as the deceased is concerned, it is submitted that father is not dependent on the deceased, who was aged about 39 years and, therefore, deduction should be 1/3 towards personal expenses and not 1/4 as done by the tribunal.

(iii) As far as income of the deceased is concerned, it is stated that deceased was Assistant Teacher and his income as assessed per month is just and proper.

10. The main grievance of the Company is that as far as the quantum is concerned as the widow has been given a job and the amount which is being paid to her be deducted and in alternative it is stated that non grant of future loss is just and proper as widow is granted job.

11. Taking the issue, namely issue of negligence, the driver of the truck has not stepped into the witness box. The PW-2 and PW-3 are eye witnesses as they were going on morning walk then they saw the accident happening. Nothing has been elucidated by the Insurance Company so that the fact that there is no negligence by the driver of the truck and that the vehicle was not involved in the accident. The reliance placed on the judgments of Smt. Sumitra Kaur and others Vs. New India Insurance Company Limited by Regional Manage and others 2013 (1) AICC 244, Dhruvnath Tiwari and others Vs. Guldesh Kumar and others 2012 (1) AICC 366, N.K.V. Brothers Private Limited Vs. M. Karumai Ammal and others 1980 ACJ 435, Ravi Vs. Badri Narayan and others 1 (2011) ACC 704 AC and Oriental Insurance Company Limited Vs. Kheeramani and others 2012 (2) TAC 598. All these decisions cited and evaluated by learned Tribunal will not permit us to concur with the submissions of learned counsel for the Insurance Company that the vehicle was not involved and that there was no negligent of the driver of the vehicle. Though, the FIR was against the unknown vehicle, but in the charge-sheet, the Tanker was mentioned along with its number. Charges have been levelled against the driver and he has accepted before the criminal court that his vehicle was involved in the accident and accepted his guilt and, therefore, the Tribunal has relied on decision of this High Court in case of U.P.S.R.T.C. Tedi Koti Lucknow Vs. Smt. Shanti Devi and others 2003 (3) TAC 61 (Allahabad), therefore, finding on issue no.1 cannot be found fault with. Hence, we hold that the driver of the vehicle, which was involved in the accident, was negligent. This takes us to the compensation awarded by the Tribunal. The Tribunal has relied on the judgment in case of 2016 (1) AICC 188 U.P.S.R.T.C. Vs. Rabiya Begam and another and held that as the widow has been granted what is known as compassionate appointment, they would not be entitled for any amount under the head of future loss of income. This is nothing but as misreading of judgment of Manasvi Jain Vs. Delhi Transport Corporation and others 2014 ACJ 1416 on which the learned judge has placed reliance. He has not deducted the said amount from the income of the deceased, but has felt that no future loss of income can be granted, as the widow has got appointment. This aspect has been challenged by the Insurance Company as well as the claimants.

12. The Tribunal held that "it is thus submitted that principle of balancing of loss and gains so as to arrive at a just and fair amount of compensation has been accepted by this Court as well. On behalf of the Insurance Companyu Hodgson Vs. Trapp (1983) 3 All ER 870 has been relied on in which our attention has particularly been drawn to the following observation made at All Erp.873j-874b." and granted multiplier of 15, which is maintained as the deceased was in the age bracket of 36-40 years. He had wife, daughter and mother, therefore, the deductions for personal expenses would be 1/3 and not ¼ and we are in agreement with the submissions of learned counsel for the appellants that the father cannot be said to be dependent and as far as deductions is concerned for personal expenses, it is different then computing the compensation. The judgment in Pranay Sethi (supra) has been wrongly interpreted by the learned judge. The Tribunal has considered the income to be Rs. 38040/- per month and minus the Rs. 667/-, which was monthly tax and considered the income of the deceased to be Rs. 37,376/- per month with which, we concur that out of which 1/3 is deducted. The learned judge has misread the judgments on future loss of income just because the widow has been granted compassionate appointment, that amount cannot be deducted nor can he refused what is known as future loss of income. The reliance on several judgments have been misread by the learned Tribunal. The judgement of Pranay Sethi (supra) has been misread as the future loss income is the income which the deceased would have earned and not that the other are given what is known as compassionate appointment. Judgment in case of Meena Devi and others Vs. Sikandar Singh and others 2006 ACJ 2140 has been wrongly interpreted. The future loss of income has to be granted and hence we recalculate the amount. In totality of the facts and circumstances, in view of the decision of Apex Court in case of Sunita and another Vs. Rajasthan State Road Transport Corporation and another AIR 2019 SC 994 as well as Vimla Devi and others Vs. National Insurance Company Ltd. and another (2019) 2 SCC 186, it cannot be held that the vehicle was not involved in the accident just because at the time when officer of the Insurance Company went to the hospital, one of the injured had conveyed that the accident had occurred with a Bus. This has to be proved to the guilt by the Insurance Company, which has not been done and, therefore, the said submission of Insurance Company is false. The submission of Insurance Company as far as deduction is concerned, is accepted and we deduct 1/3 towards personal expenses. As far as the submission of claimants is concerned, the amount, which is being paid her by the job, the same cannot be denied. The judgment in case of Vimal Kanwar and others Vs. Kishore Dan and others AIR 2013 SC 3830 will not have to be applied in full cost as the principle of future loss of income cannot be co-related with the income, which the widow receives by doing work. It is her personal income post job, the Tribunal should not deduct any amount if spouse was a earning spouse and therefore, the findings that as the widow had been given job, no future loss of income should be granted, is fallacious finding, which requires to be upturned. We have also fortified our view in case of National Insurance Company Ltd. Vs. Smt. Urmila Devi and another decided on 02.06.2020 in F.A.F.O. No. 1022 of 1999 that strict proof of law of evidence cannot be applied to Motor Vehicle Act as it would frustrate the purpose of beneficial legislation. Insurance Company to prove breach of policy, which was not done, hence liable to pay the amount. Future loss of income can be considered in a different manner for people with job.

13. The appeal of the Insurance Company requires to be decided on the grounds raised by it. The first ground raised is that the oral testimony of PW-2 should not have been relied by the Tribunal, as he was not an eye witness. He was not even named in the charge-sheet. He can be said to be a got up witness. It is further submitted that the Tribunal failed to consider the evidence gathered by life line station to Police Station Baradari that injured was admitted in the hospital and the evidence of one other person named as Ritu Puri, who had conveyed orally that accident occurred with Bus and FIR being belated was lodged against driver of the Canter, which was involved in the accident. It is next submitted that the claimants failed to prove that the vehicle insured by the Insurance Company-appellant herein was involved in the accident and that the accident had taken place with the Bus and not with the Canter. As far as the compensation is concerned, it is submitted that father of the deceased was dependent on him, though he was receiving government pension. It is also submitted that the Tribunal did not follow the decision of the Apex Court in celebrated judgment of Smt. Sarla Verma and others Vs. Delhi Transport Corporation and others 2009 ACJ 1298 and deducted what is known as ¼ for personal expenses of the deceased. The dependency unit if the father is not held to be dependent, then 1/3 should have been deducted. It is next submitted that the salary certificate should not have been accepted in evidence, as it was not a proved document. As far as the issue of negligence is concerned, it is submitted that the driver of the Canter was not negligent and that the award is arbitrary, illegal and based on conjecture and surmises. It is further submitted that the duty of the owner to give intimation as per the provisions of Section 104 will absolved them from their liability. We would decide all the issues raised by the Insurance Company. First issue as far as the appeal by the claimants is concerned, they have felt aggrieved as the Tribunal has not considered grant of future loss of income to the appellants even though the matter was decided after the judgement in case of National Insurance Company Limited Vs. Pranay Sethi and Others, 2017 0 Supreme (SC) 1050.

14. The issue of involvement of the vehicle as well as negligence will have to be decided. The vehicle is contended not to be involved. The reason being, it is submitted that one of the witnesses had opined that accident occurred with a Bus. The judgment of Apex Court in case of Vimla Devi and Sunita Devi (supra) will not permit us to up turn the findings of the Tribunal that the vehicle was involved. The driver of the truck should have taken proper care and caution and has not entered into the witness box.

15. This takes this Court to the issue of compensation. The income of the deceased in the year of accident and looking to his profession namely that deceased was an Assistant Teacher, to which as he was below 40 years, 40% as future loss of income requires to be added in view of the decision of the Apex Court in National Insurance Company Limited Vs. Pranay Sethi and Others, 2017 0 Supreme (SC) 1050.

16. It has been time and again held that trappings of civil and criminal proceedings cannot be applied in a very strict manner. We have also fortified our view by the decisions in Sunita and others Vs. Rajasthan State Road Transport Corporation and Another, 2019 LawSuit (SC)190, Mangla Ram Vs. Oriental Insurance Company Limited and Others, 2018 (5) SCC 656 and Vimla Devi and others Vs. National Insurance Company Limited and another, (2019) 2 SCC 186. The compensation is ordered to be reassessed in view of the submission made by learned counsel for the appellant and in view of the decision in F.A.F.O. No.2389 of 2016 (National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Smt. Vidyawati Devi And 2 Others) decided on 27.7.2016. On the basis of the recent judgments laying principles for ascertaining compensation. The right to compensation would accrue on the date the accident took place. The law enunciated in Kirti vs Oriental Insurance Company: 2021 (1) TAC 1 that the compensation awarded by a court ought to be just, reasonable and must undoubtedly guided by principles of fairness, equity and good conscious. In our case the Tribunals had not granted what can be said to be just compensation.

17. Hence, the total compensation payable to the appellants in view of the decision of the Apex Court in Pranay Sethi (Supra) is computed herein below:

i. Income Rs.37,376/-

ii. Percentage towards future prospects : 50% namely Rs.18688/-

iii. Total income : Rs. 37,376 + 18688 = Rs. 56,064/-

iv. Income after deduction of 1/3rd : Rs. 37376/- (rounded up)

v. Annual income : Rs.37376 x 12 = Rs. 4,48,512/-

vi. Multiplier applicable : 15

vii. Loss of dependency: Rs.4,48,512 x 15 = Rs.67,27,680/-

viii. Amount under filial consortium and other non pecuniary heads : Rs.70,000/-

x. Total compensation : 67,97,680/-

18. As far as issue of rate of interest is concerned, it should be 7.5% in view of the latest decision of the Apex Court in National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Mannat Johal and Others, 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.) wherein the Apex Court has held as under :

"13. The aforesaid features equally apply to the contentions urged on behalf of the claimants as regards the rate of interest. The Tribunal had awarded interest at the rate of 12% p.a. but the same had been too high a rate in comparison to what is ordinarily envisaged in these matters. The High Court, after making a substantial enhancement in the award amount, modified the interest component at a reasonable rate of 7.5% p.a. and we find no reason to allow the interest in this matter at any rate higher than that allowed by High Court."

19. In view of the above, both the appeals are partly allowed. Judgment and decree passed by the Tribunal shall stand modified to the aforesaid extent. The respondent-Insurance Company shall deposit the amount within a period of 12 weeks from today with interest at the rate of 7.5% from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount is deposited. The amount already deposited be deducted from the amount to be deposited.

20. In view of the ratio laid down by Hon'ble Gujarat High Court in case of Smt. Hansagori P. Ladhani Vs. The Oriental Insurance Company Ltd., reported in 2007 (2) GLH 291, the total amount of interest, accrued on the principle amount of compensation is to be apportioned on financial year to financial year basis and if the interest payable to claimant for any financial year exceeds Rs. 50,000/-, Insurance Company/owner is/are entitled to deduct appropriate amount under the head of "Tax Deducted at Source' as provided u/s 194A(3)(ix) of the Income Tax At, 1961 and if the amount of interest does not exceeds Rs. 50,000/- in any financial year, registry of the Tribunal is directed to allow the claimant to withdraw the amount without producing the certificate from the concerned Income-Tax Authority. The aforesaid view has been reiterated by this High Court in Review Application No.1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No. 23 of 2001 (Smt. Sudesna and others Vs. Hari Singh and another) and in First Appeal From Order No. 2871 of 2016 (Tej Kumari Sharma Vs. Chola Mandlam M.S. General Insurance Co. Ltd.) decided on 19.03.2021 while disbursing the amount.

21. Fresh award be drawn accordingly in the above petition by the tribunal as per the modification made herein. The Tribunal in the State shall follow the direction of this Court as herein aforementioned as far as disbursement is concerned, it should look into the condition of the litigant and the pendency of the matter and not blindly apply the judgment of A.V. Padma . The same is to be applied looking to the facts of each fees, if any. Considering the ratio laid down by the Hon'ble Apex Court in case of A.V. Padma Vs. Venugopal 2012 (1) GLH (SC) 442, the order of investment is not passed because applicants/claimants are neither illiterate of rustic villagers.

22. We are thankful to Sri Ram Singh,Amit Kumar Singh and Vijay Prakash Mishra, Advocates for getting the matter decided promptly.

23. Record and proceedings be sent back to the Tribunal.

A. Constitution of India – Article 226 – Writ – Maintainability – Contractual appointment – Termination – Impugned order passed by the State – Interference with by the Court, when called for – Principle laid down – Held, all the writ petitioners assail actions of respondents who are undisputedly State. The impugned actions have been taken in the course of implementation of a scheme which seeks to extend and implement the constitutional promise of providing elementary education. It would be too late in the day for the Court to shut its eyes to the well-established principle that all actions of the State are liable to be tested on the constitutional principle of fairness. Consequently, the Court finds itself unable to countenance the broadly stated proposition that the writ petitions would not be maintainable per se. (Para 48)

B. Service Law – Sarva Shiksha Abhiyan – Contract of service – Universal principle of its being not enforceable – Court laid down three exceptions, when contract of service can be enforceable – These exceptions are (a) where a civil servant is removed from service in violation of Article 311 or a law made under Article 309 of the Constitution (b) where a workman is removed in violation of protections accorded by industrial legislation and (c) where an employee of a body is dismissed in breach of a statute or a statutory rule. It is only in these three exceptional circumstances that Courts can enter declarations of the termination being void or invalid and direct reinstatement – Held, the Court fails to recognise an inherent right in the petitioners to be continued as full time teachers even though their initial engagement was on the basis of their educational qualifications to teach a subject which is no longer earmarked or treated as a compulsory or primary topic. A. KASTURBA GANDHI BALIKA VIDYALAYA

3. All the petitioners were engaged by the respondents in residential schools established under the Kasturba Gandhi Balika Vidyalaya Scheme1 launched by the Union Government. In August 2004, the Union Government launched a scheme for setting up of residential schools upto the upper primary level for girls belonging predominantly to the SC, ST, OBC and minorities in difficult areas. The scheme provided for the establishment of schools in educationally backward blocks. Priority was to be accorded to the establishment of these schools in areas having a concentration of SC, ST, OBC, minorities, tribal population and where enrollment of girls was found to be lagging. Areas with low female literacy and areas with a large number of small and scattered habitations in which educational facilities were nonexistent were also to be identified for the purposes of establishment of schools under the aforesaid scheme. With effect from 01 April 2008, the criteria for educationally backward block was revised to include those blocks where rural female literacy was below 30% and town/cities having minority concentration. Initially the scheme was run as a separate initiative of the Union Government till it came to be merged with the Sarva Shiksha Abhiyan2 with effect from 01 April 2007. With the promulgation of the Right to Education Act, 20093 and the adoption of the framework for implementation of SSA being revised, the scheme and its objectives were revised to bring it in tune and harmony with the right and entitlement of children as envisaged under the RTE. In the State of U.P., the U.P. Education For All4 society came to be formed in 1993 to oversee the field of Basic Education. The KGBV scheme is presently being administered by this entity.

B. THE SCHEME AND POLICY DIRECTIVES

4. The Scheme is based on two basic models (i) schools with a hostel for 100 girls and (ii) schools with hostel for 50 girls. Various Government Orders and directives of the Union Government have come to be issued from time to time in order to ensure a uniform implementation of the scheme throughout the country. The aforesaid Government Orders and directives apart from laying down norms for infrastructure and facilities in those residential schools also lay in place various stipulations relating to issues such as curriculum and the appointment of teachers and other staff. In terms of the policy directives the schools are to be managed by a Warden along with a complement of support staff and instructions are to be imparted by full time and part time teachers. For the purposes of the present batch of writ petitions, the directives and orders issued from time to time may be viewed commencing from the Government

Order dated 29 July 2013. For the purposes of selection of teaching and non-teaching staff, the aforesaid Government Order provided for the constitution of a District Selection Committee. The Government Order while prescribing the nature of staff and the subjects to be taught provided thus: -

Those contracts were renewable subject to the authorities being satisfied with the work and conduct of teachers. Dealing with the issues of renewal and termination of contract, the Government Order made the following provisions: -

7. The aforesaid basic pattern was reiterated in the Government Order of 30 June 2015. More recently on 14 July 2020, a fresh Government Order came to be issued. Based on various inputs which were received by the State Government, it was noted that various irregularities appeared to have been committed in the selection and appointment of teachers. For instance, it was noted that in many instances more than one teacher had come to be engaged for the same subject. It was further found that appointments had come to be made without adhering to the requirements of curriculum as prescribed by the Basic Education Board for upper primary institutions. It was also noted that in various institutions appointment had been made without bearing in mind the clarifications issued by the Ministry of Human Rights Development in the Union Government on 24 March 2014 with reference to Sections 19 and 25 of the RTE Act 2009. Upon noticing the aforesaid, that Government Order while dealing with the issue of more than one teacher having been engaged to impart instructions in one subject, made the following provisions: -

की सम्बन्धित के०जी०बी०वी० में पदस्थापन/नवीन संविदा की जाय, यदि सम्बन्धित विषय का जनपद में संचालित अन्य किसी के०जी०बी०वी० में पद रिक्त हो तो अवरोही क्रम में संकलित सूची के अनुसार सम्बन्धित वार्डेन/शिक्षिका को समायोजित किया जाये। उक्त जनपदीय समिति के प्रस्ताव के क्रम में जिलाधिकारी के अनुमोदनोपरान्त नवीन सविदा/पदस्थापन किया जयेगा।"

8. Dealing with the issue of curriculum, the Government Order noted:-

10. The directions as contained in the aforesaid Government Order presently hold the field and have also been circulated by the State Director constituted by the UPEFA society under cover of its letter of 04 January 2021. The Government Orders noted above while dealing with the issue of qualification provided that for the post of Warden-cum-Full Time Teacher a candidate must hold a TET certificate for the upper primary level as well as a graduation degree such as B.Ed. or other qualification recognised as equivalent thereto by the NCTE. Those Government Orders further prescribed separate qualifications for a teacher who may be selected and appointed for teaching the subjects of Computer, Art, Craft and Music. For the aforesaid category of teachers, it was clearly provided that they must hold a graduation degree as well as a training qualification duly recognised. The Government Order of 29 July 2013 additionally specified that the subject of Home Science would be treated as being part of Art, Craft and Music. The aforesaid Government Order also envisaged the establishment of KGBVs where instructions in Urdu language may also be imparted. Urdu as a subject was to be taught in KGBVs which were situate in a location which had a minority population of 20% or more. The Government Order of 17 August 2013 prescribing the qualifications for an Urdu teacher made the following provisions: -

"(क) भारत में विधि द्वारा स्थापित किसी विश्वविद्यालय से स्नातक की उपाधि या सरकार द्वारा उसके समकक्ष मान्यता प्राप्त कोई उपाधि, जिसमें एक विषय के रूप में उर्दू रही हो। परन्तु कोई अभ्यर्थी जो उर्दू में उपर्युक्त अर्हता नहीं रखता है, नियुक्ति के लिये पात्र होगा, यदि अभ्यर्थी उर्दू विषय में स्नातकोत्तर उपाधि रखता हो।

(ख) सरकार द्वारा उर्दू अध्यापन के लिये प्रशिक्षण देने हेतु लखनऊ, आगरा मवाना जिला मेरठ और सकलडीहा जिला चन्दौली में स्थापित किसी प्रशिक्षण केन्द्रों में से किसी एक केन्द्र से बेसिक अध्यापक प्रमाण पत्र या सरकार द्वारा उसके समक्ष मान्यता प्राप्त कोई अन्य प्रशिक्षण अर्हता या बेसिक अध्यापक प्रमाण पत्र (बी०टी०सी०), द्विवर्षीय बी०टी०सी०(उर्दू) और उ०प्र० सरकार या भारत सरकार द्वारा संचालित अध्यापक पात्रता परीक्षा उत्तीर्ण किया हो।"

11. When these writ petitions came to be preferred before the Court, one of the contentions, which was raised by the respondents, was with respect to their maintainability. It was principally contended that since the appointment of the petitioners was purely contractual, a writ petition challenging either an order of termination or variation in the terms of appointment would not lie. Those submissions were voiced based on the decision rendered by the Full Bench of the Court in Roychan Abraham v. State of U.P. and Others5 and of the Division Bench in Rajesh Bhardwaj V. Union of India6.

12. Before, however, proceeding to deal with the aforesaid objections, it would be apposite to briefly notice the facts of each case.

Writ-A No.4845 of 2021.

13. The petitioner challenges an order of 13 November 2020 pursuant to which she has been asked to exercise an option whether she would be willing for the renewal of her contract as a part time teacher in the subject of Art, Craft and Music. The petitioner was initially appointed as a Warden-cum-Full Time Teacher based on a graduation degree in which her major was Home Science. The writ petition also refers to the order of 14 July 2020 which while delineating compulsory subjects provided:-

"(II) बेसिक शिक्षा परिषद द्वारा संचालित उच्च प्राथमिक विद्यालयों में निर्धारित पाठयक्रम से इतर विषय धारित करने वाले शिक्षक/शिक्षिका का पदस्थापन/नवीन संविदा की गयी है, का सघन परीक्षण कर लिया जाये एवं निःशुल्क और अनिवार्य बाल शिक्षा का अधिकार अधिनियम, 2009 की धारा 19 एवं 25 में वर्णित मान एवं मानकों को अनूसूची एवं राज्य परियोजना कार्यालय के पत्र दिनांक 13.08.2018 एवं 06.08.2019 के आलोक मे बेसिक शिक्षा परिषद द्वारा संचालित उच्च प्राथमिक विद्यालयों मे निर्धारित पाठयक्रम के अनुसार ही कस्तूरबा गांधी बालिका विद्यालयों हेतु पाठयक्रम/विषय के शिक्षक उपरोक्त मानकानुसार उक्त जनपदीय समिति के प्रस्ताव के क्रम मे जिलाधिकारी के अनुमोदनोपरान्त नवीन संविदा/पदस्थापन किया जायेगा।

उल्लेखनीय है कि निःशुल्क और अनिवार्य बाल शिक्षा का अधिकार अधिनियम 2009 की धारा 19 एवं 25 मे वर्णित मान एवं मानको की अनुसूची मे निम्नवत् व्यवस्था उल्लिखित हैः-

छठी से आठवी कक्षा के लिए 1. कम से कम प्रति कक्षा एक शिक्षक, इस प्रकार का होगा कि निम्नलिखित प्रत्येक के लिए कम से कम एक शिक्षक हो-

(I) विज्ञान एवं गणित।

(II) सामाजिक अध्ययन।

(III) भाषा।

2. प्रत्येक पैंतीस बालकों के लिए कम से कम एक शिक्षक।

3.जहाँ एक सौ से अधिक बालकों को प्रवेश दिया गया है वहाँ

(I) एक पूर्णकालिक प्रधान अध्यापक,

(II) निम्नलिखित के लिए अंशकालिक शिक्षक (अ) कला शिक्षा।

(आ) स्वास्थ्य और शारीरिक शिक्षा।

(इ) कार्य शिक्षा। "

14. By the aforesaid Government Order, Home Science as has been noted above, came to be discontinued as a primary subject and became part of Art, Craft and Music. Although the contract of the petitioner was renewed permitting her to teach Hindi, the respondents upon noticing the provisions made in the directive of the State Director of 26 August 2020 restraining continuance of teachers by permitting change in subjects terminated her contract. By way of the impugned directive she has now been asked to exercise a choice of whether she would be willing to continue as a part time teacher in the subject Art, Music and Craft.

Writ-A No.4571 of 2021.

15. In this petition also, the petitioner assails an order of 19 November 2020 whereby the petitioner, who was initially selected and appointed as a Warden, has been downgraded to a part time teacher in the subject of Art, Craft and Music. Initially she was selected and appointed to teach the subject Home Science.

Writ-A No.4882 of 2021.

16. The petitioner challenges the order of the respondents refusing to renew her contract of engagement. The petitioner had initially been engaged as a part time teacher in the subject of Music. Insofar as her training qualifications were concerned, she had relied upon a certificate of Sangeet Prabhakar issued by the Prayag Sangeet Samiti, Allahabad. The respondents have taken the position that the aforesaid training qualification is not recognised. Consequently the impugned decision has come to be made for the contract of the petitioner not being renewed.

Writ-A No.5728 of 2021.

17. The petitioner, who holds the degrees of B.Com, M.Com and B.Ed., was engaged to teach the subject of Computer. By a communication of 22 February 2021 the respondents have held that her contract is not liable to be renewed since she does not possess the qualifications prescribed for teaching the aforesaid subject. It becomes relevant to note that the petitioner was appointed as a full-time teacher in Computers based on a Diploma in Computer Applications appearing at Page-53 of the paperbook. However she did not possess the O level certificate as required and prescribed to be an essential qualification.

Writ-A No.5914 of 2021.

18. The petitioner who was engaged as an Urdu teacher, challenges the order of 13 January 2021 by which her engagement has come to be discontinued upon the respondents finding that in the concerned block the population of minorities was less than 20%. Although learned counsel has relief upon an extract from an unspecified webpage to challenge the aforesaid conclusion, the respondents have proceeded on the basis of the certification apprising them of the minorities there being below 20% in the concerned location.

Writ-A No.6966 of 2021.

19. The petitioner here was appointed as a Computer Operator. He was engaged through a service provider and placed to discharge duties in connection with the KGBV scheme under the respondents. His engagement admittedly was through an outsourcing agency. It was in the aforesaid background that the respondents contend that apart from the engagement being contractual, there was no privity of contract between the petitioner and the State so as to warrant this Court entertaining the writ petition.

Writ-A No.8595 of 2021.

20. The petitioner challenges the order of 02 February 2021 passed by the District Basic Education Officer rejecting her objections to the engagement of the fifth respondent. The respondents have rejected that objection holding that although both the fifth respondent and the petitioner hold the requisite qualifications, since the fifth respondent had been engaged for a longer length in time, her absorption is liable to be upheld in terms of the provisions made under the Government Order of 29 July 2013. The provisions of the aforesaid government order were neither questioned nor assailed.

Writ-A No.6716 of 2021.

21. The petitioner who was engaged as an Urdu Teacher challenges the validity of the decision of the Basic Education Officer discontinuing her engagement on the ground that she did not have Urdu as one of the subjects at the Graduation level. The aforesaid reasoning was assailed on the ground of the same being in violation of a Government Order of 05 September 2006 which had provided that for engagement as an Urdu teacher it would be essential for the candidate to have studied that language in two out of the three examinations of High School, Intermediate and Graduation. The respondents on the other hand rest their case on the government order of 17 August 2013 the relevant part whereof has been extracted hereinabove and which had amended the government order of 05 September 2006.

Writ-A No.8587 of 2021.

22. The petitioner who was engaged as a Full Time Teacher-cum-Warden challenges the order of 19 October 2020 by which the respondents have held that renewal cannot be granted since she did not have Science as a subject at the graduation level.

23. The facts of individual petition noticed above evidence that the jurisdiction of the Court under Article 226 of the Constitution is sought to be invoked in principally the following three situations.

A- Termination of contract.

B- Downgradation from a full time to a part time teacher.

C- Variation of the terms of the contract.

C. THE MAINTAINABILITY OF THE WRIT PETITIONS

24. The principal objection which is taken by the State respondents is that since the terms and conditions of service of the petitioners are governed purely by contract, no writ petition would lie in light of the decisions rendered in Rajesh Bhardwaj and of the Full Bench in Roychan Abraham. The submission essentially was that a contract for personal service cannot be enforced. It was submitted that if it be the contention that the termination has been affected in violation of the provisions made in the contract, the only remedy available to the petitioners would be to bring an action for damages for wrongful termination. It was contended that the engagement of the petitioners was under a scheme formulated by the Union Government and governed solely by the provisions made in various Government Orders and directives referred to above. It was in the aforesaid backdrop that it was argued that the writ petitions would not be maintainable and that in any case it was liable to be dismissed with the reliefs as prayed for being refused.

25. Before proceeding to deal with the ratio of Roychan Abraham and Rajesh Bhardwaj, it would be apposite for the Court to note the judgment of the Full Bench rendered in Smt. Sheela Devi and another vs. State of U.P. and others7. The Full Bench was constituted to consider whether a writ petition under Article 226 of the Constitution would be maintainable at the behest of an Angadwadi worker appointed on a temporary basis by the State upon payment of honorarium. The Full Bench took note of the Integrated Child Development Service Program run under the auspices of the Union Government. It found that the engagement of Angadwadi workers was under the provisions of the aforesaid scheme with those workers being deployed at various Angadwadi centers established throughout the country. After noticing various decisions of the Supreme Court dealing with the maintainability of a writ petition directed against an action of the Government or a body discharging a public function, the Full Bench held thus:-

"26. The above decisions of the Supreme Court clearly demonstrates that the ambit and scope of Article 226 has been liberalised, widened and expanded by the Courts. A petition is maintainable if the petitioner seeks relief in accordance with law and his real grievance is against the action or an order passed by a statutory authority or an authority vested with performance of public functions. In short a writ petition would always be maintainable under Article 226 of the Constitution against an order passed by any person in discharge of public duty or by public authority i.e., an officer of the Government."

26. It then proceeded to observe in paragraph 44 as follows: -

"44. The issue is not as to whether the appellants/petitioners would succeed in the writ petitions and get the desired relief but is altogether different as to whether the petition is maintainable or the appellants/petitioners are entitle to invoke the writ jurisdiction. In our opinion in view of the above discussion such a writ petition is maintainable and the appellants/petitioners are justified in invoking the extraordinary remedy on the grounds permissible for judicial review, though it may ultimately result in dismissal on merits."

27. The Full Bench ultimately recorded the following conclusions: -

"54. In view of the aforesaid facts and circumstances, we answer the question referred to us in favour of the appellants/petitioners and hold that the Anganwadi workers though appointed under a scheme of the Government notwithstanding that they are not holders of civil posts are entitle to invoke the writ jurisdiction under Article 226 of the Constitution against the order terminating their services passed by the CDPO, a Government functionary on grounds permissible for judicial review."

28. It becomes pertinent to note that in Smt. Sheela Devi while noticing the terms of the appointment of Angadwadi workers, the Full Bench noted that although their appointment was temporary and based on the payment of an honorarium, those workers were entitled to continue till the age of 60 years subject to being found fit. The engagement of these workers was thus not based purely on a contract of service which provided that the engagement was terminable with notice. As was noted by the Full Bench, these workers were entitled to continue till they attained the age of 60 years unless the project itself came to be abandoned.

29. Even before Rajesh Bhardwaj came to be decided, a Division Bench in Ram Prasad Vs. State of U.P. and others8 came to consider an issue whether a contractual employee of UPSRTC could claim regularization. Noticing that the aforesaid contractual engagement was not governed by any statutory regulations framed by the Corporation, the Division Bench held as follows:-

"12. Even otherwise, appellant's appointment was contractual hence it could not be enforced in a Court of law and that too in a writ petition. In other words, when right to continue is not based either on the statute or the Constitution or otherwise in law, then a writ of mandamus compelling the authorities to continue appellant in employment cannot be issued since for issuance of writ of mandamus, condition precedent is the existence of a legal right upon the aggrieved person and a legal obligation corresponding upon the authorities concerned. In Uma Devi (Supra), Apex Court, considering the question as to when a writ of mandamus can be issued by the Court directing employer either to absorb the employee in permanent service or to allow him to continue, has held:

"In order to that a mandamus may issue to compel the authorities to do something, it must be shown that the statute imposes a legal duty on the authority and the aggrieved party had a legal right under the statute or rule to enforce it." (emphasis added)

13. Even otherwise, enforcement of contract of personal service in a writ jurisdiction is not permissible except of certain limited circumstances. In Roshan Lal Tandon v. Union of India, AIR 1967 SC 1889, drawing distinction between employment under a contract and status, it was held that there is no vested contractual right in regard to terms of service where employment is one of the status. The origin of Government service is contractual. There is an offer and acceptance in every case. But once appointed to the post or office, the Government servant acquires a status and his rights and obligations are no longer determined by consent of both parties, but by statute or statutory rules which may be framed and altered unilaterally by Government. In other words, legal position of a Government servant is more one of status than of contract. The hall-mark of status is the attachment to a legal relationship of rights and duties imposed by public law and not by mere agreement of the parties. The relationship between the Government and the Servant is not like an ordinary contract of service between a master and servant. The legal relationship is something entirely different, something in the nature of status. In the language of jurisprudence, status is a condition of membership of a group of which powers and duties are exclusively determined by law and not by agreement between the parties concerned.

14. Thus, in the cases where appointment and conditions of service are governed by statute, the relationship is that of status and not mere a contract. However, in other cases, it is purely a contract of service resulting in a relationship of ordinary master and servant. In the present case, it cannot be said that the appellant's employment is that of a status since it is not governed by statutory provisions in any manner. It is purely and simply an ordinary contract of service between master and servant. In such cases, where the contract of service is not governed by statutory provisions, it is well-settled that contract of service cannot be sought to be enforced by seeking reinstatement or continuance in employment since such a relief is barred under the Specific Relief Act. In Executive Committee of U.P. State Warehousing Corporation, Lucknow v. C.K. Tyagi, (1969) 2 SCC 838 : AIR 1970 SC 1244, considering question as to when such a relief is granted, Court observed:

"Under the common law the Court will not ordinarily force an employer to retain the services of an employee whom he no longer wishes to employ. But this rule is subject to certain well-recognised exceptions. It is open to the Courts in an appropriate case to declare that a public servant who is dismissed from service in contravention of Article 311 continues to remain in service, even though by doing so the State is in effect forced to continue to employ the servant whom it does not desire to employ. Similarly under the Industrial Law, jurisdiction of the Labour and Industrial Tribunals to compel the employer to employ a worker whom he does not desire to employ, is recognised. The Courts are also investigated with the power to declare invalid the act of a statutory body, if by doing the a act the body has acted in breach of a mandatory obligation imposed by statute..."

30. In Sonu Kumar Vs. State of U.P. and others9 , the Division Bench considered the issue of whether a contractual employee could invoke the jurisdiction of the Court under Article 226 of the Constitution for the issuance of a prerogative writ for being continued in service. Rejecting the aforesaid prayer as made, the Division Bench held thus: -

"24. Even otherwise, enforcement of contract of personal service in a writ jurisdiction is not permissible except of certain limited circumstances. The appellant's appointment was not in a Department of Government. Instead he was engaged by a private agency constituted for the purposes of implementation of a scheme launched for a fixed period. The scheme launched by Government is under an executive order. It does not have status of a statute or statutory order. The nature of engagement of appellant, therefore, is not to be governed by status but is like an ordinary contract of service between a master and servant.

25. In Roshan Lal Tandon v. Union of India, AIR 1967 SC 1889, drawing distinction between employment under a contract and status, it was held that there is no vested contractual right in regard to terms of service where employment is one of the status. The origin of Government service is contractual. There is an offer and acceptance in every case. But once appointed to the post or office, the Government servant acquires a status and his rights and obligations are no longer determined by consent of both parties, but by statute or statutory rules which may be framed and altered unilaterally by Government. In other words, legal position of a Government servant is more one of status than of contract. The hall-mark of status is the attachment to a legal relationship of rights and duties imposed by public law and not by mere agreement of the parties. The relationship between the Government and the Servant is not like an ordinary contract of service between a master and servant. The legal relationship is something entirely different, something in the nature of status. In the language of jurisprudence, status is a condition of membership of a group of which powers and duties are exclusively determined by law and not by agreement between the parties concerned.

26. Thus, in the cases where appointment and conditions of service are governed by statute, the relationship is that of status and not mere a contract. However, in other cases, it is purely a contract of service resulting in a relationship of ordinary master and servant. In the present case, it cannot be said that the appellant's employment is that of a status since it is not governed by statutory provisions in any manner. It is purely and simply an ordinary contract of service between master and servant. In such cases, where the contract of service is not governed by statutory provisions, it is well-settled that contract of service cannot be sought to be enforced by seeking reinstatement or continuance in employment since such a relief is barred under the Specific Relief Act."

31. The aforesaid view of the Court that a contract of a personal service which is not imbued with any statutory flavour cannot be enforced and that the writs as prayed for in cases of termination cannot be granted has consistently held the field. The view as expressed in the aforesaid decisions was reemphasized by the Division Bench in Rajesh Bhardwaj in the following terms:-

"30. Now we come to Questions-(2), (3) and (4), which, in our view, can be dealt with together. In the present case, terms and conditions of employment, applicable to petitioner are not challenged that such terms and conditions are arbitrary and violative of Article 14 of Constitution read with Section 23 of Indian Contract Act, 1872 (hereinafter referred to as "Act, 1872") being unfair, unreasonable or unconscionable, and against public policy. The order of termination is challenged on the ground that petitioner has not been given adequate opportunity of defence and termination is in violation of principles of natural justice. It is not in dispute that terms and conditions are not governed by any Statute or statutory provision or by any provision made under any authority of Statute. Petitioner being in the Cadre of Manager, his terms and conditions are also not governed by Standing Orders made by Employer with respect to employees governed by provisions of Industrial Employment (Standing Orders) Act, 1946 (hereinafter referred to as "Act, 1946"). In these circumstances, in the cases like petitioner, consistently it has been laid down that employment is simply a part of contract. If employment is terminated or contract of service is terminated, Court shall not grant relief of reinstatement, i.e. specific performance of contract of personal service, as it is barred by the provisions of Specific Relief Act, 1963 (hereinafter referred to as "Act, 1963") and, therefore, no remedy under Article 226 shall be available since employee, if complains about wrongful termination of service, then must avail remedy in common law by claiming damages.

31. As we have already said that CUPGL even if taken to be a 'State' within the meaning of Article 12 of Constitution, this by itself would not mean that petitioner can claim status of a Government Servant or holding a post governed by 'status'. Nature of engagement/ appointment of petitioner is not to be governed by 'status' but by a 'contract of service' entered into between master and servant. A distinction between an appointment under a contract and status was noticed and explained by Supreme Court in Roshan Lal Tandon Vs. Union of India AIR 1967 SC 1889. Court held that when a matter is governed by status, the employee has no vested contractual rights in regard to the terms of service but where employment is purely in the realm of a simple contract of employment, it is strictly governed by terms and conditions of employment settled between the parties. To remind the difference between 'status' and 'contractual appointment', we may take up case of a Government Servant. Origin of employment in a Government department is contractual. There is an offer and acceptance in every case but once appointed to the post or office, the person appointed, i.e., Government Servant, acquires a status and his rights and obligations are no longer determined by consent of both the parties but same are governed by Statute or statutory rules which may be framed and altered unilaterally by employer, i.e., the Government. Legal position of a Government Servant, thus, is more one of 'status' than of a 'contract'. The hallmark of 'status' is that attachment to a legal relationship of rights and duties must be by public law and not by mere agreement of parties. Relationship between Government (employer) and Government Servant (employee) is not like an ordinary contract of service between a master and servant. The legal relationship is something entirely different, something in the nature of status. In the language of jurisprudence, 'status' is a condition of membership of a group, whereof powers and duties are exclusively determined by law and not by agreement between the parties concerned. Thus, where appointment and conditions of service are governed by Statute, relationship of 'employer' and 'employee' is that of 'status' and not a mere contract. However, in other cases, it is purely a contract of service resulting in a relationship of ordinary master and servant.

32. In the present case also, relationship of employment between petitioner and CUPGL is purely and simply an ordinary contract of service which is not governed by any statute or statutory provision. In such cases, a contract of service cannot be sought to be enforced by Court of law by giving relief of reinstatement or continuance in employment as this relief is barred under Act, 1963. "

32. The Full Bench of the Court in Roychan Abraham was called upon to consider the correctness of another decision of three learned Judges of the Court rendered in M.K. Gandhi and others Vs. Director of Education10. In M.K. Gandhi, the Full Bench had held that the employees of an educational institution whose services were governed solely by non-statutory byelaws could not maintain a writ petition. The Full Bench in M.K. Gandhi held that a private educational institution was not State. The decision in M.K. Gandhi, when taken in appeal to the Supreme Court, was upheld to the aforesaid extent. A further direction which had come to be issued therein namely for the CBSE taking further steps against the concerned institution was set aside. In Roychan Abraham, the Full Bench elaborately noticed the various decisions rendered by the Supreme Court as well as this Court with respect to bodies which discharge a public function or perform a public duty. Upon noticing the body of precedent which had grown on the subject, the Full Bench observed as follows: -

"37. In State of U.P. and another vs. Johri Mal, the Supreme Court held that for a public law remedy enforceable under Article 226, the action of a person or the authority need to fall in the realm of public law. The question is required to be determined in each case.

"The legal right of an individual may be founded upon a contract or a statute or an instrument having the force of law. For a public law remedy enforceable under Article 226 of the Constitution, the actions of the authority need to fall in the realm of public law -be it a legislative act or the State, an executive act of the State or an instrumentality or a person or authority imbued with public law element. The question is required to be determined in each case having regard to the nature of and extent of authority vested in the State. However, it may not be possible to generalize the nature of the action which would come either under public law remedy or private law field nor is it desirable to give exhaustive list of such actions."

38. Even if it be assumed that an educational institution is imparting public duty, the act complained of must have direct nexus with the discharge of public duly. It is undisputedly a public law action which confers a right upon the aggrieved to invoke extraordinary writ jurisdiction under Article 226 for a prerogative writ. Individual wrongs or breach of mutual contracts without having any public element as its integral part cannot be rectified through petition under Article 226. Wherever Courts have intervened in exercise of jurisdiction under Article 226, either the service conditions were regulated by statutory provisions or the employer had the status of 'State' within the expansive definition under Article 12 or it was found that the action complained of has public law element. "

33. As is evident from the aforesaid extract, the Court in Roychan Abraham also reiterated the settled position that breach of contracts without having any public element as an integral part thereof cannot be questioned in a writ petition under Article 226 of the Constitution. The Court further noticed that wherever Courts had intervened they had done so upon finding that either the service conditions were regulated by statutory provisions or where the employer had the status of State and where it was found that the action as complained of had a public law element. The Full Bench then went on to observe that while it was true that even a private institution imparting education is amenable to judicial review under Article 226 of the Constitution by virtue of the fact that it discharges a public function, that the decision in M.K. Gandhi must be understood as confined to the facts of the case. It was noted that M.K. Gandhi essentially answered the question whether a writ petition would be maintainable for violation of non-statutory byelaws and for enforcement of a private contract. The Court went on to observe that M.K. Gandhi cannot be understood as having propounded the principle that private educational institutions do not render a public function. Ultimately it was held that the decision in M.K. Gandhi did not merit being reviewed.

34. More significant for our purposes is the decision of the Supreme Court in Ramakrishna Mission and another Vs. Kago Kunya and others11. In the aforesaid decision, the Supreme Court held: -

"29. More recently in K K Saksena v International Commission on Irrigation and Drainage, another two judge Bench of this Court held that a writ would not lie to enforce purely private law rights. Consequently, even if a body is performing a public duty and is amenable to the exercise of writ jurisdiction, all its decisions would not be subject to judicial review. The Court held thus:

"43. What follows from a minute and careful reading of the aforesaid judgments of this Court is that if a person or authority is "State" within the meaning of Article 12 of the Constitution, admittedly a writ petition under Article 226 would lie against such a person or body. However, we may add that even in such cases writ would not lie to enforce private law rights. There are a catena of judgments on this aspect and it is not necessary to refer to those judgments as that is the basic principle of judicial review of an action under the administrative law. The reason is obvious. A private law is that part of a legal system which is a part of common law that involves relationships between individuals, such as law of contract or torts. Therefore, even if writ petition would be maintainable against an authority, which is "State" under Article 12 of the Constitution, before issuing any writ, particularly writ of mandamus, the Court has to satisfy that action of such an authority, which is challenged, is in the domain of public law as distinguished from private law."

30. Thus, even if the body discharges a public function in a wider sense, there is no public law element involved in the enforcement of a private contract of service.

"34. Thus, contracts of a purely private nature would not be subject to writ jurisdiction merely by reason of the fact that they are structured by statutory provisions. The only exception to this principle arises in a situation where the contract of service is governed or regulated by a statutory provision. Hence, for instance, in K K Saksena (supra) this Court held that when an employee is a workman governed by the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, it constitutes an exception to the general principle that a contract of personal service is not capable of being specifically enforced or performed."

35. The aforesaid decisions were noticed by this Court in Ram Niwas Sharma Vs. Union of India and others12 and the legal position summarized as follows:-

"15. It must be consequently held that while a body may be discharging a public function or performing a public duty and thus its actions becoming amenable to judicial review by a Constitutional Court, its employees would not have the right to invoke this Courts powers conferred by Article 226 in respect of matter relating to service where they are not governed or controlled by statutory provisions. An educational institution may perform myriad functions touching various facets of public life and in the societal sphere. While such of those functions as would fall within the domain of a "public function" or "public duty" be undisputedly open to challenge and scrutiny under Article 226 of the Constitution, actions or decisions taken solely within the confines of an ordinary contract of service, having no statutory force or backing, cannot be recognised as being amenable to challenge under Article 226 of the Constitution. In the absence of the service conditions being controlled or governed by statutory provisions the matter would remain in the realm of an ordinary contract of service.

17. As has been lucidly explained, contracts of a purely private nature even though entered by bodies w Ram Niwas Sharma Vs. Union of India and others12hich may perform a public function would not be subject to judicial review. The only exception would be where such contracts are governed or regulated by statute. In the present case it is the undisputed position that the byelaws and the service conditions which apply are non statutory. They are deprived of any statutory ordainment. Such a contract, as noted above, would remain a pure private contract of service. In that view of the matter the writ petition challenging the termination of such a contract would not be maintainable."

36. A learned Judge of the Court in Bruce Henderson Vs. State of U.P. and 9 others13 dealt with the question of whether a writ petition would lie against an order of termination passed by a private educational institution. After noticing the various decisions rendered by the Court including the ones noted hereinabove, the learned Judge insofar as the question of maintainability is concerned, held thus:-

"The Full Bench has taken into consideration the judgments relied upon by the parties before me and being bound by the Full Bench, I hold that the writ petition would lie against the institution being St. Marks School and College, Jhansi. Thus, the preliminary objection raised by the respondent is rejected and following the Full Bench judgment I hold that the writ petition is maintainable.

Now, the matter shall be heard with regard to the merits of the averments that may be raised by the petitioner.

The preliminary issue is decided accordingly."

37. However dealing with whether the Court could interfere with the order of termination on merits, the learned Judge held as follows:-

"The counsel for the respondents have placed before this Court a judgment by this Court dated 28.1.2020 passed in Writ-A No. 29911 of 2012 (Rajesh Kumar Srivastava and Others Vs. State of U.P. and Others), wherein a similar challenge was made to the contract of personal service by a privately managed unaided educational institutions. This Court after considering the entire gamut of cases held that challenge to a contract of personal service breached by a privately managed unaided educational institutions can be agitated in remedies available under common law rights as none of the exceptions noticed by the Apex Court in Executive Committee of Vaish Degree College Vs. Lakshmi Narain and Others; (1976) 2 SCC 58 are made out. Thus, no writ can be issued by this Court to allow the petitioner to continue in employment in exercise of its writ jurisdiction.

The facts of the present case are also similar to those in Writ-A No. 29911 of 2012. There is no issue that the Institution in question is not a privately managed unaided educational institutional institutions, that being the case, respectfully following the judgment dated 28.1.2020 of this court in Writ-A No. 29911 of 2012, Rajesh Kumr Srivastava (Supra), the petitioner is not entitled for issuance of a writ, as prayed for."

38. The aforesaid decision was upheld by the Division Bench of the Court in Bruce Henderson Vs. State of U.P. and 9 others14 with the following observations.

"Hon'ble Supreme Court in Executive Committee of Vaish Degree College, Shamli and others Vs. Lakshmi Narain and others reported in AIR 1976 SC 888 in quite unambiguous terms held that no declaration to enforce a contract of personal service will be granted. The only exceptions are the employees having status of civil servant, workman under Industrial Disputes Act or not any other labour legislation or where violation is in mandatory obligation under a statute. No such eventuality exists in the case in hand."

D. THE PETITIONERS STAND

39. For the petitioners, submissions were ably advanced by Sri J.P. Singh and other learned counsels who principally submitted that since the issue was one of employment under the State, the preliminary objection was liable to be rejected. The Court before proceeding further may briefly notice the following decisions on which reliance was placed by Sri J.P. Singh in support of his submission that the writ petition would be maintainable. Learned counsel firstly pressed in aid the decision of the Supreme Court in K.Krishnamacharyulu And Others v. Sri Venkateswara Hindu College of Engineering And Another15. In paragraph-4 of the report the Supreme Court in the aforesaid decision held thus: -

"4. It is not in dispute that executive instructions issued by the Government have given them the right to claim the pay scales so as to be on a par with the government employees. The question is when there is no statutory values issued in that behalf, and the institution, at the relevant time, being not in receipt of any grant-in-aid; Whether the writ petition under Article 226 of the Constitution is not maintainable? In view of the long line of decisions of this Court holding that when there is a interest created by the Government in a institution to impart education, which is a fundamental right of the citizens, the teachers who impart the education get an element of public interest in the performance of their duties. As a consequence, the element of public interest requires regulation of the conditions of service of those employees on a par with government employees. In consequence, are they also not entitled to the parity of the pay scales as per the executive instructions of the Government? It is not also in dispute that all the persons who filed the writ petition along with the appellant had later withdrawn from the writ petition and thereafter the respondent-Management paid the salaries on a par with the government employees. Since the appellants are insisting upon enforcement of their right through the judicial pressure, they need and seek the protection of law. We are of the view that the State has obligation to provide facilities and opportunities to the people to avail of the right to education. The private institutions cater to the need of the educational opportunities. The teacher duly appointed to a post in the private institution also is entitled to seek enforcement of the orders issued by the Government. The question is as to which forum one should approach. The High Court has held that the remedy is available under the Industrial Disputes Act. When an element of public interest is created and the institution is catering to that element, the teacher, being the arm of the institution, is also entitled to avail of the remedy provided under Article 226; the jurisdiction part is very wide. It would be a different position, if the remedy is a private law remedy. So, they cannot be denied the same benefit which is available to others. Accordingly, we hold that the writ petition is maintainable. They are entitled to equal pay so as to be on a par with government employees under Article 39(d) of the Constitution."

40. As would be evident from a reading of the aforesaid decision and the paragraphs extracted above, the principal question there was whether the petitioners were entitled to claim pay scales equivalent to and at par with government employees. Their claim before the High Court was rejected with the observation that it would be open to those teachers to institute proceedings under the Industrial Disputes Act. The view so taken was faulted by the Supreme Court upon noticing that the executive instructions which had been issued by the government did give those petitioners the right to claim pay scales at par with other government employees. Additionally, the Court noted the rights conferred on the petitioners to claim equal pay on the basis of Article 39(d) of the Constitution. The aforesaid decision answered the issue in favour of the petitioners principally based on the fact that executive instructions did confer on them the right to claim parity in pay. Additionally the Supreme Court recognised the constitutional right inhering in the petitioners to claim equal pay.

41. Sri Singh then drew the attention of the Court to the judgment in Gridco Limited And Another v. Sri Sadananda Doloi & Others16. Gridco again was a matter which dealt with the contractual engagement of employees whose appointments were admittedly governed by the Gridco Officers Service Regulations 1996. This is evident from the following extract of that decision:-

"14. There is one other aspect to which we must advert before we part with the question of nature of appointment offered to the respondent. The appointment order issued in favour of the respondent specifically stated that the respondent will be governed by the GRIDCO Officers Service Regulations, 1996. With the coming into force of the said Regulations, the respondent was re-designated as Chief General Manager, HR which was in terms of the Regulations, a post in the Executive Grade of E-10. This re- designation was not at any stage questioned by the respondent. On the contrary it was he who had prayed for amendment of clause (2) of the appointment letter to bring the same in tune with para 13(3) of the GRIDCO Officers Service Regulation. Para 13(3) of the Regulations reads as:

"13(3): The appointment to grades above E-9 shall be on a contract basis initially for a period of 3 years and renewable thereafter for such period(s) as the Board or the Committee of the Board may prescribe until the Officer attains the age of superannuation as provided in these Regulations."

15. The above makes it manifest that an appointment to the post in category E-10 could be made only on a contractual basis. The Regulations do not envisage a regular appointment at E-10 level to which the respondent stands appointed on the terms of the contract of employment. That being the case it is difficult to see how the said appointment could be treated to be a regular appointment when the Rules did not permit any such appointment. We may mention to the credit of learned senior counsel who appeared for the respondent that although at one stage an attempt was made to argue that the appointment of the respondent was regular in nature, that line of argument was not pursued further and in our opinion, rightly so having regard to what we have said above. Such being the case the question of the so called unequal bargaining power of the parties did not have any relevance or role to play in the facts and circumstances of the case. Question No.1 is answered accordingly. Re: Question No.2 ."

42. It was in the aforesaid backdrop and noticing that the contractual engagement was in fact traceable to statutory regulations that the Supreme Court observed :-

"26. A conspectus of the pronouncements of this court and the development of law over the past few decades thus show that there has been a notable shift from the stated legal position settled in earlier decisions, that termination of a contractual employment in accordance with the terms of the contract was permissible and the employee could claim no protection against such termination even when one of the contracting parties happened to be the State. Remedy for a breach of a contractual condition was also by way of civil action for damages/compensation. With the development of law relating to judicial review of administrative actions, a writ Court can now examine the validity of a termination order passed by public authority. It is no longer open to the authority passing the order to argue that its action being in the realm of contract is not open to judicial review. A writ Court is entitled to judicially review the action and determine whether there was any illegality, perversity, unreasonableness, unfairness or irrationality that would vitiate the action, no matter the action is in the realm of contract. Having said that we must add that judicial review cannot extend to the Court acting as an appellate authority sitting in judgment over the decision. The Court cannot sit in the arm chair of the Administrator to decide whether a more reasonable decision or course of action could have been taken in the circumstances. So long as the action taken by the authority is not shown to be vitiated by the infirmities referred to above and so long as the action is not demonstrably in outrageous defiance of logic, the writ Court would do well to respect the decision under challenge."

43. Sri Singh then placed reliance upon the decisions of the Supreme Court in Bharati Reddy v. State of Karnataka And Others17 and Maharashtra Chess Association v. Union of India & Others18. Bharati Reddy dealt with a question of whether a writ petition challenging the election of an Adhyaksha could be maintained having regard to the bar placed by Article 243-O of the Constitution. Dealing with the aforesaid issue the Supreme Court observed as follows:-

"11. We do not find any merit in this contention. We are of the view that a voter in a particular panchayat cannot be rendered remediless if he is aggrieved by the election of the Adhyaksha of the Panchayat. In Kesavananda Bharati Sripadagalvaru v. State of Kerala and Anr. (1973) 4 SCC 225, a thirteen Judge Bench of this Court held that Article 368 of the Constitution does not enable the Parliament to alter the basic structure or framework of the Constitution. The basic structure of the Constitution could not be altered by any constitutional amendment and it was held in unambiguous terms that one of the basic features is the existence of constitutional system in judicial review. This view was followed by a Constitution Bench in Minerva Mills Ltd. v. Union of India and Ors. (1980) 3 SCC 625. In L. Chandra Kumar v. Union of India (1997) 3 SCC 261, a seven Judge Bench of this Court has held that jurisdiction conferred upon the High Courts under Articles 226/227 of the Constitution and upon the Supreme Court under Article 32 of the Constitution is a part of the inviolable basic structure of our Constitution. While this jurisdiction cannot be ousted, other courts and tribunals may perform a supplementary role in discharging the powers conferred by Articles 226/227 and Article 32 of the Constitution of India. It has been held as under:

"78. ... We, therefore, hold that the power of judicial review over legislative action vested in the High Courts under Article 226 and in the Supreme Court under Article 32 of the Constitution is an integral and essential feature of the Constitution, constituting part of its basic structure. Ordinarily, therefore, the power of High Courts and the Supreme Court to test the constitutional validity of legislations can never be ousted or excluded."

12. In I.R. Coelho v. State of Tamil Nadu (2007) 2 SCC 1, a Bench of nine Judges has again held that power of judicial review is the part of the basic structure of the Constitution. The power to amend cannot be equated with the power to frame the Constitution.

It is thus clear that power of judicial review under Articles 226/227 of the Constitution is an essential feature of the Constitution which can neither be tinkered with nor eroded. Even the Constitution cannot be amended to erode the basic structure of the Constitution. Therefore, it cannot be said that the writ petition filed by Respondents 6 to 9 under Article 226 of the Constitution is not maintainable. However, it is left to the discretion of the court exercising the power under Articles 226/227 to entertain the writ petition."

44. As is evident from the aforesaid extracts, Bharati Reddy is essentially an authority for the proposition that the power of judicial review is an essential feature of the Constitution and that the mere existence of an alternative forum cannot be solely determinative of whether the High Court should entertain a writ petition. Maharashtra Chess Association again deals with the question of whether the High Courts must necessarily desist from invoking its constitutional powers merely because an alternative forum for adjudication exists. Dealing with the aforesaid issue the Supreme Court held: -

"13. While the powers the High Court may exercise under its writ jurisdiction are not subject to strict legal principles, two clear principles emerge with respect to when a High Court's writ jurisdiction may be engaged. First, the decision of the High Court to entertain or not entertain a particular action under its writ jurisdiction is fundamentally discretionary. Secondly, limitations placed on the court's decision to exercise or refuse to exercise its writ jurisdiction are self-imposed. It is a well settled principle that the writ jurisdiction of a High Court cannot be completely excluded by statute. If a High Court is tasked with being the final recourse to upholding the rule of law within its territorial jurisdiction, it must necessarily have the power to examine any case before it and make a determination of whether or not its writ jurisdiction is engaged. Judicial review under Article 226 is an intrinsic feature of the basic structure of the Constitution.

21. The mere existence of alternate forums where the aggrieved party may secure relief does not create a legal bar on a High Court to exercise its writ jurisdiction. It is a factor to be taken into consideration by the High Court amongst several factors. Thus, the mere fact that the High Court at Madras is capable of granting adequate relief to the Appellant does not create a legal bar on the Bombay High Court exercising its writ jurisdiction in the present matter."

45. As is manifest from the above, both Bharati Reddy and Maharashtra Chess Association, strictly speaking, do not deal with the question which confronts this Court at all.

46. Sri Singh lastly placed reliance on the decision of a Division Bench of the Court rendered in the matter of Dr. Vandana Vahistha v. State of U.P. And Others19. Vandana Vahistha was a matter where the service of a Lecturer appointed in a B.Ed. College was terminated by an order of the Committee of Management. However, it becomes pertinent to note that the Court found that the appointment of the appellant there was governed by the provisions of the U.P. State Universities Act 1973 in the same fashion and to the same extent as any other teacher appointed in an affiliated college. The Court noted that the 1973 Act made no distinction between a teacher of an affiliated college whether in a department receiving grant-in-aid or one constituted under a self-financing scheme. It also noted that the appointment of the appellant there had been duly approved by the Vice Chancellor in accordance with the provisions made in the Act. The order of termination was set aside upon the Division Bench finding that it had come to be made in violation of Section 35(2) of the Act. The Court struck down the impugned action upon it finding that termination had come to be affected in violation of the provisions of statute.

E. CONCLUSIONS ON MAINTAINABILITY

47. At the outset and before the Court proceeds to deal with the legal question which is raised, it becomes necessary to note that the petitioners here do not assail their contracts as being unconscionable or opposed to public policy. They also do not assail the validity of the government orders or circulars which circumscribe these contracts. This aspect assumes significance since the challenge to the impugned orders would have to be evaluated bearing the aforesaid in mind.

48. The Court firstly notes that the contention of the respondents that the writ petitions would not be maintainable, is perhaps misdirected and in any case too broadly stated. In the considered view of the Court what essentially falls for consideration is not an issue of maintainability but whether a prerogative writ would issue in light of the nature of the challenge that is raised. All the writ petitioners assail actions of respondents who are undisputedly State. The impugned actions have been taken in the course of implementation of a scheme which seeks to extend and implement the constitutional promise of providing elementary education. It would be too late in the day for the Court to shut its eyes to the well-established principle that all actions of the State are liable to be tested on the constitutional principle of fairness. Consequently, the Court finds itself unable to countenance the broadly stated proposition that the writ petitions would not be maintainable per se.

49. The issue which principally falls for consideration is whether the termination of these contracts or the variation of the terms of engagement would warrant a writ being issued to either grant reinstatement or other appropriate relief and if so in which exceptional situations. As was aptly stated by the Supreme Court in Ramkrishna Mission, the question of whether the termination of an appointment not governed by statute could form the subject matter of a writ petition would arise notwithstanding the decision having been taken by a state functionary or a body which even though not answering the description of State, performs a public function or discharges a public duty.

50. In the considered view of the Court, the key to understanding the legal principles propounded in Rajesh Bharadwaj, Roychan Abraham or Ramkrishna Mission is to foremost bear in mind that those decisions dealt with the question of a termination simpliciter of contractual appointments which were not governed by any statutory rule or regulation. The only known and established exceptions to the universal principle of a contract of personal service not being enforceable is where such a contract is regulated and controlled by statute or law. The three well known and repeatedly articulated exceptions to a contract of service not being specifically enforceable are (a) where a civil servant is removed from service in violation of Article 311 or a law made under Article 309 of the Constitution (b) where a workman is removed in violation of protections accorded by industrial legislation and (c) where an employee of a body is dismissed in breach of a statute or a statutory rule. It is only in the aforementioned three exceptional circumstances that Courts can enter declarations of the termination being void or invalid and direct reinstatement. Even as the functions of the State became more varied and pervasive and it went forth discharging those functions through various forms of entities, the jurisprudence that developed on this question remained consistent and unwavering. The precedents following an undeviating thread have stuck to the three exceptions noticed above. Consequently it must be held that the contractual engagement of the petitioners when viewed exclusively from the standpoint of the terms laid down in the individual agreements would bind parties and judicial review of action taken pursuant thereto would have to be tested on the cornerstone of the "trinity exceptions" noted above.

51. However, there is one seminal distinguishing feature which imbues these engagements compelling the Court to enter the following caveat. The contractual engagement of the petitioners would have been liable to be tested solely on the aforesaid principles but for the fact that their engagement is also controlled and governed by executive orders, circulars and policy statements issued by the respondents from time to time. These orders whether made in the exercise of executive power of the State or the mere expression of policy by an authority which is State, an adjunct thereof or a body which discharges a public function or performs a public duty would bind those authorities to the same extent as any statutory rule, regulation or a code of conduct enforceable in law. A public authority must be held bound to act in accordance with the rules of conduct adopted by it when it interacts with citizens of the State. It is this distinguishing feature that would confer a right on the petitioners here to assail and question the actions of the respondents notwithstanding the fact that their engagement is contractual. The executive orders and circulars issued by the respondents govern and control a whole gamut of activities relating to KGBV including the selection and appointment of teachers and staff, their terms of engagement, curriculum and pattern of instructions. The Court in Roychan Abraham aptly noted the following principles enunciated by the Supreme Court in Johri Mal:-

"For a public law remedy enforceable under Article 226 of the Constitution, the actions of the authority need to fall in the realm of public law -be it a legislative act of the State, an executive act of the State or an instrumentality or a person or authority imbued with public law element."

52. The Court thus comes to the definitive conclusion that the limited ground on which the action instituted by the petitioner and the challenge to the impugned orders is liable to be tested is whether the same falls foul of the provisions of the various executive orders and directives issued from time to time. The Court holds that it is within this narrow confine alone that the impugned actions are liable to be tested. To put it in other words, the challenge to orders of termination or variation in the terms of engagement would have to be established and found to be in violation of a provision or stipulation contained in those executive orders or circulars issued by the respondents so as to warrant a writ being issued notwithstanding their employment being otherwise and principally governed by the terms of the individual contracts.

F. THE CHALLENGE ON MERITS

53. While the various orders issued from time to time by the respondents in connection with KGBV have been noticed in some detail in the preceding parts of this decision, it would be appropriate to briefly deal with the provisions made in those orders insofar as the issues of termination, non-renewal and variation of terms of engagement are concerned.

54. These orders issued either by the State or UPEFA deal with various facets of the engagement and appointment of teachers and staff in KGBV. These include subjects such as: -

(a) Staff Structure
(b) Scale of honorarium payable
(c) Curriculum
(d) Selection process of Wardens, Teachers and other staff members
(e) Essential Qualifications for appointment in KGBV
(f) Renewal of existing contracts
(g) Assessment of the quality of work discharged by existing staff
(h) Disengagement of existing staff based on performance appraisal

55. It would be apposite to firstly deal with the issue of disengagement of existing staff and termination of contracts. The Government Orders and the Circulars issued by UPEFA have consistently followed a process of performance appraisal from the inception of the scheme. That process which has essentially remained unchanged over the years is reiterated in the latest Circular of the State Project Director dated 4 January 2021. The Court consequently proposes to deal with the relevant clause as contained in the aforementioned Circular. Clause 8 of that Circular firstly notes that all contractual engagements are to be for a period of 11 months and 29 days. It then stipulates that the contracts of existing Wardens, teachers and other staff may be renewed provided their work and conduct is found to be satisfactory. The work of annually appraising the performance of existing staff is entrusted to the Block Development Officer. If the conduct of the teacher alongwith the educational progress of pupils be found satisfactory, the contract may be renewed subject to the approval of the District Magistrate.

56. Clause 8 then provides that if the services rendered by a teacher be found to be unsatisfactory, the assessing authority would provide adequate opportunity to that person to submit an explanation and upon consideration of the justification proffered frame a recommendation for the consideration of the District Magistrate. That leaves the District Magistrate to take further action on the question of renewal. Clause 8 then prescribes that each contract will incorporate a clause to the effect that in case the services of any teacher or staff be found to be unsatisfactory, the contract would be terminable upon a notice of 1 month. It further provides that in cases where serious infractions or acts of misconduct or financial irregularities are noticed or found, it would be open to the competent authority to draw up a detailed recommendation for the consideration of the District Magistrate for termination of the contract. In addition, Clause 8 leaves it open to the authority to initiate criminal prosecution in that regard.

57. Having noticed the scheme of Clause 8 it becomes pertinent to note that significantly it neither contemplates nor puts in place an adjudicatory mechanism enabling teachers or staff members to assail or question a performance appraisal or a recommendation for non-renewal of a contract. It also does not oblige the District Magistrate to conduct proceedings in which a staff member may have an opportunity to question or assail a recommendation for disengagement or represent against the proposed consequential action that the District Magistrate may take. In the considered opinion of this Court the provisions made in Clause 8 requiring the assessing authorities to frame detailed proposals and recommendations in respect of disengagement and non-renewal only subserves the objective of eschewing arbitrariness and infusing the process with a degree of probity. Those provisions simply put in place a salutary check on the exercise of power by the respondents and ensuring that a degree of objectivity infuses the aforesaid process. However, the Court fails to discern any intent in Clause 8 of conferring a right on a staff member to question a decision to not renew a contract of employment during the decision making process except to the extent provided in that clause itself. If Clause 8 were to be read contrary to the above, it would amount to recognizing a right inhering in a contractual employee to compel an employer to renew and perpetuate a contract of personal service. Such a right has never been recognised under our jurisprudence relating to contractual engagement. It would additionally introduce the principle of enforcement of personal contracts of service which is otherwise impermissible in law. Ultimately Clause 8 proceeds essentially on the employer being satisfied that the work and conduct of the employee does not warrant a renewal of the contract. Such an interpretation would also be in line with the principles of loss of confidence as enunciated by the Supreme Court in Kailash Singh Vs. Mayo College20.

58. It also becomes relevant to note that the executive orders and circulars which came to be issued from inception provided for the appointment of full time and part time teachers for individual subjects. The subjects which are considered to be primary and compulsory were to be taught by full time teachers while secondary subjects were to be taught by part time teachers. In order to ensure that instructions in compulsory subjects were imparted by trained and qualified teachers, essential qualifications were prescribed accordingly. These qualifications have been duly spelt out in the Government Orders of 14 July 2020 and 11 December 2020. As these two orders would establish, full time teachers were to be engaged to teach the subjects of Maths, Science, Language (Hindi and Sanskrit), Social Studies and English. The subjects of Physical Education, Computers and Art/Craft/Music and Woodcraft (a consolidated subject) were to be taught by part time teachers. The essential qualifications for teachers to be engaged to teach compulsory subjects required them to possess a Graduate Training qualification in the concerned stream together with a TET certificate recognised for upper primary classes. These orders further ordained that no separate teacher for a compulsory subject may be hired where the selection of a Warden had come to be made based on her credentials establishing her to be competent to impart instructions in that field. The subject of Home Science came to be merged in "Art/Craft/Music and Woodcraft" and persons who had been initially engaged as full-time teachers based on a qualification held in the subject of Home Science were to be adjusted accordingly.

59. A major review of the selections and appointments made in KGBV came to be undertaken pursuant to the issuance of the Government Order of 14 July 2020. Upon noticing the various irregularities which had sullied the selection and appointment process, the respondents initiated an in depth review and for placement of existing teachers based on the qualifications held by them. The Court fails to find that action to be tainted either by arbitrariness or any illegality. A teacher who otherwise does not possess the qualification prescribed for a full-time teacher and is ineligible to teach a compulsory subject cannot possibly assert a right to be retained full time. If the Court were to uphold such a claim or recognise such a right it would have a debilitating impact on the economics and effectiveness of a significant scheme formulated by the respondents aimed at providing educational opportunities of an appropriate standard and quality to the girl child. Additionally, the Court holds that assertion of claims like the present must be balanced against the paramount objective of providing qualitative education to girls. The right of employment as asserted by the petitioners if not subordinate must at least give way to the right of education conferred on the child under our Constitution.

60. In any case, the Court fails to recognise an inherent right in the petitioners to be continued as full time teachers even though their initial engagement was on the basis of their educational qualifications to teach a subject which is no longer earmarked or treated as a compulsory or primary topic. At the cost of repetition, it may be stated that the provisions made in the various Government Orders were never assailed or questioned before the Court as being constitutionally invalid. It is in light of the aforesaid conclusions that the individual writ petitions are taken up for consideration.

G. DECISION ON THE WRIT PETITIONS

61. The Court in light of the aforesaid conclusions thus proceeds to deal with the individual writ petitions.

(I) Writ A. No. 4845 of 2021

Undisputedly the petitioner was selected and appointed based on her being qualified to teach the subject of Home Science. That subject as noted above is no longer in the list of compulsory subjects and has been merged with Art, Music and Craft. In terms of the provisions made in the various executive orders and directives issued from time to time, the aforementioned subject is to be taught by a part time teacher. Although the contract of the petitioner was initially renewed permitting her to teach Hindi, the same came to be terminated in light of the directive of the State Director dated 26 August 2020 restraining the continuance of teachers by permitting change in subject. Neither the aforesaid directive nor the primary policy documents of 14 July 2020 and 11 December 2020 are assailed by the petitioner. The Court does not find a semblance of a legal right inhering in the petitioner to compel the respondents to continue her as a Warden or full-time teacher. The action of the respondents is not shown to be in contravention of any provision made in the government orders and executive instructions issued from time to time. Acceptance of the submission as addressed on behalf of the petitioner would amount to the Court by way of a prerogative writ commanding the respondents to modify the terms of the contract and rewrite the policy decisions taken by them and that too at the behest of a petitioner whose engagement from its inception rested on a contract. The writ petition would thus merit dismissal. Ordered accordingly.

(II) Writ A No. 4882 of 2021

The respondents orally contended that the training qualification held by the petitioner is unrecognized. The petitioner has however placed on the record a document issued by the U.P. Secondary Education Services Selection Board which evidences that the aforesaid certificate is duly regonized. Additionally the Court notes that the petitioner had music as a subject at the graduation level. However the order impugned spells out no reason why the training qualifications held by the petitioner are not liable to be recognized.

In view of the aforesaid, this writ petition would have to be heard separately with the respondents explaining the reasons for non renewal of the contract of the petitioner. Consequently, let a counter affidavit be filed by the respondents within three weeks. List thereafter.

(III) Writ A. No. 4571 of 2021

This writ petition which again has been preferred by a teacher who was initially engaged by virtue of her qualification to teach Home Science, assails the action of the respondents downgrading her to the status of a part time teacher to impart instructions in the subject of Art, Music and Craft. For reasons aforenoted, this writ petition too stands dismissed.

(IV) Writ A No. 5728 of 2021

Admittedly the petitioner does not possess the O level certificate so as to be recognised as being qualified to teach the subject of Computers. Under the relevant orders, the subject of Computers was to be taught by a part time teacher. However and for reasons unknown, the petitioner was engaged and her contract renewed periodically as a full time teacher. For the aforesaid reasons, the writ petition must fail. It shall stand dismissed.

(V) Writ A. 5914 of 2021

The engagement of the petitioner as an Urdu teacher has been discontinued upon it being found that the population of minorities in the location is less than 20%. Although the petitioner relies upon a website extract appearing at page 25 of the paperbook to challenge the aforesaid, the Court notes that no material or evidence in support of the authenticity of the data appearing therein has been placed on the record. Even the origins and the address of the web portal are not disclosed. The petitioner has also not challenge the prescription of Urdu teachers being engaged only in those areas where the population of minorities is at least 20%. In view of the above, the writ petition shall stand dismissed.

(VI) Writ A No. 6966 of 2021

Quite apart from the fact that the petitioner was engaged by an outsourcing agency and private entity, Sanjari Corporate Services, the Court finds no right inhering in the petitioner to command the respondents to renew his contractual engagement. The writ petition shall stand dismissed.

(VII) Writ A No. 8595 of 2021

The challenge to the appointment of the private respondent by the petitioner has been rejected by the respondents on the ground that the said respondent had a longer length of service rendered in the KGBV than the petitioner. For resolution of such competing claims the respondents have placed reliance on the provisions made in the executive orders and directions issued from time to time. The petitioner has not challenged the criteria as evolved and adopted by the respondents in this regard. Although it was contended that the fifth respondent was not qualified for the post, her Bachelor's Degree which stands appended at page 33 of the paperbook establishes that she obtained a B.A. degree with Hindi, Sanskrit, Sociology and Hindi Language as her subjects. The challenge on this score also consequently fails. The writ petition is dismissed.

(VIII) Writ A No. 6716 of 2021

The petitioner is aggrieved by the decision of the respondents to discontinue her engagement upon it being found that she did not have Urdu as a subject at the Graduation level. While the petitioner relies upon a government order of 5 September 2006, to contend that as long as she had Urdu as a subject in two out of the three examinations of High School, Intermediate and Graduation, the Court finds itself unable to accept that contention for the following reasons. Firstly that government order related to the appointment of teachers in primary schools established by the Basic Education Board and does not pertain to KGBV. Secondly the respondents have placed for the consideration of the Court the government order of 17 August 2013 which clearly stipulates that a candidate would be entitled to be appointed as an Urdu teacher provided she can establish that she had studied that subject at the graduation level. In view of the aforesaid, the Court finds no merit in the writ petition which shall stand dismissed.

According to the respondents the petitioner was engaged to impart instructions in the subject Science. However, as her testimonials would establish, she was not qualified to either teach that subject or be engaged for the aforesaid purpose. The Court consequently finds no merit in the writ petition which shall stand dismissed.

62. The batch of writ petitions shall stand disposed of in the above terms except Writ-A No. 4882 of 2021.

A. Service Law – GO dated 02.12.2019 – Transfer – Nature – Transfer cannot be claimed as a matter of right. (Para 5)

B. Service Law – Transfer – GO dated 02.12.2019 – Clause 15 – Facility of transfer is provided to the Assistant Teacher, whose spouse were 'currently serving' in the forces; facility is not provided to the employee not in service – Validity challenged – Held, members of the Forces are often called upon to discharge their duties in tense and stressful environments. Their families continue to go about their daily lives living in a state of constant uncertainty. Those families, thus, stand on a completely distinct footing from others – In any case, the aim of the policy as noted above clearly appears to be to provide some relief and comfort to the families of those who serve in the Forces – High Court did not found the restriction of that clause to those whose spouses are 'currently serving' either irrational or arbitrary. (Para 9)

C. Service Law – Estoppels –Binding effect – Validity of Clause 2(13) of GO dated 02.12.2019 could not be challenged when application of transfer was made, it could be challenged at later stage – Permissibility – Held, if the petitioner was of the view that Clause 2 (13) was invalid, she should have raised a challenge in that respect at the very outset and when the process was initiated – Held further, the petitioner cannot now turn around and assail those very conditions and restrictions subject to which she had applied for transfer in the first place. (Para 4)

Cases relied on :-

1. Smt Ruchi Vs St. of U.P.; 2018 (10) ADJ 161

(Delivered by Hon'ble Yashwant Varma, J.)

1. Heard Sri Seemant Singh, learned counsel for the petitioner, Sri Birendra Pratap Singh, learned Standing Counsel for the State respondents and Ms. Archana Singh, who appeared for the contesting respondents.

2. This petition has been preferred seeking the following reliefs:

"(a) Issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of Certiorari calling for the records of the case and quashing the impugned Clause 2(13) of the Government Order dated 02.12.2019 issued by the Additional Chief Secretary, Government of U.P., Lucknow only to an extent that it only refers to exemption for getting transferred from the aspirational districts like Bahraich to District Kannauj insofar as it relates to the petitioner, whose spouse is serving in the Indian Army/ Air Force/ Navy/ Paramilitary Forces (CRPF/ CISF/ SSB/ Assam Riffles/ ITBP/ NSG/ BSF) and not to the petitioner whose husband has served in the Indian Army and died while being in service of the Indian Army and the result of online inter-district transfer dated 01.01.2021 where the result is shown as not transferred due to aspirational district restriction as per Government Order dated 02.12.2019.

(b) Issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of Mandamus directing the respondents to consider the inter-district transfer relating to the petitioner on the post of Assistant Teacher in a primary school, from the district Baharaich to her desired district Kannauj by extending benefit of Clause 2(13) of the Government Order dated 02.12.2019 issued by the Additional Chief Secretary, Government of U.P., Lucknow which provides exemption to the Assistant Teachers whose spouse are working in the Indian Army/ Air Force/ Navy/ Paramilitary Forces (CRPF/ CISF/ SSB/ Assam Riffles/ ITBP/ NSG/ BSF)."

3. The petitioner is a widow whose husband served in the Armed Forces. He unfortunately died while serving in the Forces. The submission of Sri Singh was that Clause 2(13) insofar as it restricts consideration of requests for transfer to those whose spouses are serving members of the Armed Forces is arbitrary. As would be manifest from a reading of reliefs as framed, the petitioner essentially seeks the extension of Clause 2 (13) to even those cases where the spouse of the Assistant Teacher may have previously been in the Armed Forces.

4. It becomes pertinent to note that the petitioner admittedly applied for transfer in terms of the policy as framed by the respondents. She raised no challenge to the clause on grounds aforenoted prior to filing her application for transfer. If the petitioner was of the view that Clause 2 (13) was invalid, she should have raised a challenge in that respect at the very outset and when the process was initiated. In the considered view of the Court the petitioner cannot now turn around and assail those very conditions and restrictions subject to which she had applied for transfer in the first place.

5. As is manifest from a reading of the Government Order of 2 December 2019, transfer could not be claimed as a matter of right. The respondents formulated a policy in terms of which requests for transfer was to be considered based on points which were earmarked to cover varied eventualities. One of those clauses related to those Assistant Teachers whose spouse may be currently serving in the Forces. The petitioner was fully aware of the extent of the application of Clause 15 of the Government Order and was placed on notice that she would not be eligible to be assigned marks merely because her husband had prior to his demise been a member of the Forces. Yet she chose not to assail that stipulation at the first available opportunity. This circumstance weighs heavily against the petitioner.

6. Turning then to the legal challenge which is raised, it would be apposite to notice the legal position as it obtains under the 1981 Rules and the U.P. Teachers Posting Rules 2008. In Smt Ruchi Vs. State of U.P.1 a learned Judge of the Court enunciated the position as under: -

19. It is settled law that transfer is not a right. As per Rule 4 of the Rules 1981, the service cadre of the petitioners is the local area of the respective district. Their appointing authority is the concerned District Basic Education Officer. In view of Rule 21 of the Rules 1981, the Assistant Teachers of basic schools run by the Board cannot be transferred from rural local area to an urban local area or vice versa or from one urban local area to another of the same district or from local area of one district to that of another district except on the request of or with the consent of the teacher himself and in either case, approval of the Board shall be necessary. Rule 8(2)(d) of the Rules 2008 also does not confer any right for inter-district transfer. On the contrary it provides that in normal circumstances, the applications of inter-district transfers in respect of male and female teachers will not be entertained within five years of their posting. However, an exception has been provided in respect of female teachers that in special circumstances their applications for inter-district transfer would be entertained to the place of residence of their husband or in-laws' district. Rule 21 read with Rule 8(2)(d) of the Rules 1981 clearly indicates that teachers have no right for inter-district transfer.

28. In view of the above discussion, the question No. (b) is answered as under:

Petitioners do not have any right for transfer or a right for consideration of their application for transfer. Applications for inter-district transfer may be entertained by the competent authority only if such applications for inter-district transfer are within the four corners of the provisions of the Rule 21 of the Rules, 1981 read with Rule 8(2)(d) of the Rules, 2008 and the guidelines framed by the Board for transfer."

7. The aforesaid position stands reiterated in Clauses 9, 10 and 11 of the Government Order of 2 December 2019. The Court then proceeds to consider whether the challenge to Clause 2(13) is legally sustainable.

8. As is manifest from a reading of Clause 15 of the Government Order, the facility of transfer was provided to those Assistant Teachers whose spouses were "currently serving" in the Forces. Clause 15 reads thus:-

"(15) ऐसे अध्यापिकाएं/अध्यापक जिनके पति/पत्नी (spouse) भारतीय सेना/वायु सेना/नौ सेना अथवा अर्ध सैनिक बलों यथा, CRPF/CISF/SSB/ASSAM RIFLES/ITBP/NSG/BSF, में कार्यरत हैं और इस सम्बन्ध में सक्षम प्राधिकारी द्वारा प्रमाण पत्र निर्गत किया गया है, उन्हें उनके इच्छित जनपद/इच्छित ग्राम पंचायत में स्थानान्तरित किया जायेगा। प्रतिबन्ध यह है कि इस प्रावधान का लाभ मात्रा एक बार ही अनुमन्य होगा."

9. The reason and the underlying logic for restricting the application of Clause 15 to those whose spouses were "currently serving" is clearly obvious and discernible. The respondents essentially wanted to provide a ground for Assistant Teachers whose spouses were serving in the Forces to seek transfer on a preferential basis in order to consider their posting closer to their spouses or the family of their spouses. The provision so made clearly appeals to logic and good sense bearing in mind the unique situation in which such families are placed. The Court cannot possibly shut its eyes to the anxious and trying conditions in which such families carry on with their lives separated for long periods with the spouse on many occasions posted in remote, harsh and unfriendly locations. Regard must also be had to the fact that the members of the Forces are often called upon to discharge their duties in tense and stressful environments. Their families continue to go about their daily lives living in a state of constant uncertainty. Those families, thus, stand on a completely distinct footing from others. In any case, the aim of the policy as noted above clearly appears to be to provide some relief and comfort to the families of those who serve in the Forces. The restriction of that clause to those whose spouses are "currently serving" thus cannot be said to be either irrational or arbitrary.

10. The Court also bears in mind that the policy makes adequate provision for a situation where one of the parent is physically challenged as well as in respect of families which are headed by a single parent thus clearly providing adequate avenues for the petitioner and other similarly situate teachers to have asserted their right to seek consideration. What the Court seeks to underline is that the policy as promulgated does provide for situations where teachers are single parents irrespective of whether their spouses are serving, retired or erstwhile members of the Forces. The policy similarly introduces sufficient provisions for situations where both parents are serving under the State. It is thus manifest that the policy does not operate arbitrarily or irrationally.

11. A challenge to a policy measure, it becomes relevant to note, must be evaluated bearing in mind the need for a certain degree of discretion and leeway being recognised to vest in the executive. A stipulation made therein would not merit interference unless it appears to be manifestly unjust or patently arbitrary. Courts while exercising their power of judicial review cannot take over the mantle of framing policy. That must necessarily be left to the executive. Courts are obliged to step in where there is either a failure on the part of the executive to discharge their constitutional functions and obligations or where it is found that a measure adopted by the State causes grave injustice or operates harshly from a constitutional standpoint. The challenge in the instant case fails to meet that well recognised threshold.

12. The writ petition consequently fails and shall stand dismissed.

4. Sunita Singh Vs St.of U.P; (2018) 2 SCC 493

(Delivered by Hon'ble Yashwant Varma, J.)

1. Heard learned counsel for the petitioner, Sri Birendra Pratap Singh, learned Standing Counsel and Ms. Archana Singh, learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel appearing for the Basic Education Officer.

2. This petition has been preferred seeking the following relief:-

"i) Issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of certiorari quashing the impugned order dated 09.012021 passed by respondent no.4 (Basic Education Officer, Hathras) as contained in Annexure no.1 to this writ petition.

ii) Issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of certiorari quashing the Govt. Order No.1656/68-5-2020 Basic Shiksha Anubhag-5, Lucknow dated 04.12.2020 (Copy of which is not available to the petitioner)

iii) Issue a writ order or direction in the nature of mandamus directing commanding the respondents to appoint the petitioner on the post of Assistant Teacher in pursuance of advertisement dated 05.12.2018 being "Sahayak Adhyapak Bharti Pariksha-2019"."

3. The petitioner had appeared in a recruitment exercise initiated by the respondents for appointment of Assistant Teachers. She claimed the benefits of reservation by virtue of belonging to the OBC category. By the impugned order however her candidature has been rejected with the respondent noting that the petitioner had furnished an OBC certificate which bore the name of her husband and not the father. Additionally, it was noted that the OBC certificate which carried the name of her father had been issued by an authority in the State of Rajasthan and thus was not liable to be accepted. The respondents ultimately referring to the provisions made in a Government Order of 04 December 2020, have consequently held that the petitioner cannot be offered appointment.

4. Learned counsel for the petitioner assailing the aforesaid decision places reliance upon a judgment rendered by a learned Judge in Vipin Kumar Maurya and 4 others Vs. State of U.P. and 3 others1 to submit that merely because the petitioner originally hailed from Rajasthan and subsequently married in Uttar Pradesh, she could not be denied benefits of reservation as otherwise provided to OBC candidates. It was then contended that the Government Order of 04 December 2020 cannot be said to apply since it admittedly came to be issued not just after the initiation of the recruitment process but after the counseling process had come to an end. Learned counsel then placed reliance upon the certificate dated 15 March 2004 issued by the Tehsildar, Bharatpur, Rajasthan to contend that the aforesaid certificate which bore the name of her father clearly qualified as being in sufficient compliance with the conditions which were imposed under the recruitment notification. It was lastly contended by learned counsel that even if her candidature under the OBC category came to be denied on grounds noted above, it was incumbent upon the respondents to consider her candidature in the General category.

5. The Court finds itself unable to sustain the aforenoted submissions for the following reasons.

6. Firstly, Vipin Kumar Maurya was a decision which dealt with the issue of whether a woman from outside the State of U.P. could be excluded from a recruitment exercise initiated by the State. The learned Judge on the basis of the submissions which were addressed, proceeded to record his conclusions in paragraph 58 in the following terms: -

" 58. In our constitutional scheme women of this country are otherwise a homogeneous lot and they cannot be differentiated unless reasons and materials exists for their further classification. Classification based only on residence would otherwise be permitted only by law made by the Parliament, which is not the case here. In such circumstances and for the reasons disclosed, it is held that Clause (4) of the Government Order dated 9.1.2007 restricting grant of horizontal reservation only to the women who are original residents of Uttar Pradesh as also specific stipulations in that regard, contained in Advertisement No. 14 of 2015 would be contrary to Articles 16(2) and 16(3) of the Constitution of India."

7. It is thus manifest that Vipin Kumar Maurya strictly speaking was not dealing with the question which arises in the instant petition namely of whether a caste certificate bearing the name of the husband of a candidate can be considered as valid for the purposes of certifying the holder thereof as belonging to the OBC category. The aforesaid decision principally dealt with the constitutional validity of the restriction imposed by the respondents excluding women from outside the State of U.P. from participating in the recruitment exercise. As noted hereinabove, the candidature of the petitioner here has not been rejected on the ground that she originally hailed from Rajasthan. The application has been refused solely on the basis of her failure to furnish a caste certificate compliant with the requirements placed under the advertisement.

8. That then takes the Court to evaluate the claim of the petitioner based on the certificate issued by the revenue authority in the State of Rajasthan. It is by now well settled, that the list of backward classes is maintained by States of our Union individually. It is not akin to lists of Scheduled Castes or Tribes which are notified by a Presidential Order promulgated in terms of the provisions made in Articles 341 and 342 of the Constitution. It is also not the case of parties that Article 342 A of the Constitution applied to the recruitment in question. Dealing with the requirement of members of the OBC being obliged to produce a certificate issued by the appropriate State governments in matters of recruitment, the Full Bench of the Court in Gaurav Sharma Vs. State of U.P.2 held: -

13. Before we proceed to rule upon the questions framed for our consideration, it would be apposite to bear in mind certain basic precepts. While a Scheduled Caste or a Scheduled Tribe comes to be identified and declared as such by virtue of the constitutional orders promulgated by Parliament in terms of Articles 341 and 342 of the Constitution, the classification of OBC's is a subject which is left in the province of individual State Governments. While a Scheduled Caste or a Scheduled Tribe may also be mentioned and identified under the constitutional orders with reference to a particular State, it is settled law that the States can neither expand nor modify any entry appearing in the two constitutional orders nor can they by an executive or administrative order expand upon or read something into an entry which appears in the orders promulgated under Articles 341 and 342. OBC's however are identified and recognized by individual States with reference to the backwardness of a particular caste, class or group in that particular State. Therefore, it logically follows that a list of OBC's which is prepared by a particular State cannot have an over arching or pan-India operation or effect. Castes which come to be included in a list of OBC's prepared by a State have to be necessarily read to mean OBC's in that particular State alone. The OBC's specified in Schedule-I to the 1994 Act is, therefore, a list of castes/communities which are conferred the status of an OBC in the State of U.P. alone. This issue does not brook any debate. However, it is useful to refer to the following observations which appear in the judgment of the Supreme Court in M.C.D. v. Veena6:

"Castes or groups are specified in relation to a given State or Union Territory, which zobviously means that such caste would include caste belonging to an OBC group in relation to that State or Union Territory for which it is specified. The matters that are to be taken into consideration for specifying a particular caste in a particular group belonging to OBCs would depend on the nature and extent of disadvantages and social hardships suffered by that caste or group in that State.

However, it may not be so in another State to which a person belongs thereto goes by migration. It may also be that a caste belonging to the same nomenclature is specified in two States but the considerations on the basis of which they been specified may be totally different. So the degree of disadvantages of various elements which constitute the data for specification may also be entirely different. Thus, merely because a given caste is specified in one State as belonging to OBCs does not necessarily mean that if there be another group belonging to the same nomenclature in other State and a person belonging to that group is entitled to the rights, privileges and benefits admissible to the members of that caste. These aspects have to be borne in mind in interpreting the provisions of the Constitution with reference to application of reservation to OBCs.

A careful reading of this notification would indicate that the OBCs would be recognised as such in the Government of National Capital Territory of Delhi as notified in the Notification dated 20.01.1995 and further for the purpose of verification of claims for belonging to castes/communities in Delhi as per the list notified by the National Capital Territory of Delhi the certificates will have to be issued only by the specified authorities and certificates issues by any other authority could not be accepted. The Government of India has also issued instructions from time to time in this regard which indicated that a person belonging to OBC on migration from the State of his origin in another State where his caste was not in the OBC list was entitled to the benefits or concessions admissible to the OBCs in his State of origin and Union Government, but not in the Sate to which he has migrated. Thus the High Court lost sight of these aspects of the matter in making the impugned order in either ignoring the necessary notifications issued in regard to classification of OBC categories or in the matter of verification thereof. Thus the order made by the High Court in this regard deserves to be reversed."

9. In view of the aforesaid, this Court is of the opinion that a certificate issued by an authority in Rajasthan was rightly not accepted by the respondents as certifying the petitioner as belonging to a backward class recognised by the State of U.P.

10. Insofar as the OBC certificate bearing the name of the husband of the petitioner is concerned, the Court finds that the stipulation of the caste certificate bearing the name of a parent serves a salutary and significant purpose. Caste as is well settled is determined by birth. The identification of a person as belonging to a particular caste or social class has an unbroken and undeviating connect with the family of the individual. The candidate must therefore necessarily establish that he or she was born into a family which belongs to a backward class duly recognised as such by the appropriate government. A certificate bearing the name of the parent thus serves the purposes of enabling the respondents to ascertain and verify the actual caste of the holder thereof as existing at the time of birth.

11. While it is well settled that benefits of reservation cannot be obtained by virtue of marriage, the Court may only extract the following passage from the decision of the Supreme Court in Sobha Hymavathi Devi v. Setti Gangadhara Swamy3:-

"10. What then remains is the fact that the appellant though assigned the caste of her father Murahari Rao, namely, the Sistu Karnam community, had married a tribal belonging to the Bhagatha community. On the basis of this marriage, it is argued that she must be taken to have acquired membership in the community of her husband and consequently treated as a member of that community. It is in that context that the decision in Horo [(1972) 1 SCC 771 : AIR 1972 SC 1840] was relied on. It is also contended that the decision in Horo [(1972) 1 SCC 771 : AIR 1972 SC 1840] related to an election dispute and consequently, the ratio of that decision should govern the present case. We have already indicated that there is nothing to show that the marriage of the appellant with Appala Raju was sanctioned or approved by the elders of the Bhagatha community or the Panchayat concerned or was in tribal form or that the formalities attending such a tribal marriage were observed and the marriage was performed after obtaining the approval of the elders of the tribe. Even otherwise, we have difficulty in accepting the position that a non-tribal who marries a tribal could claim to contest a seat reserved for tribals. Article 332 of the Constitution speaks of reservation of seats for Scheduled Tribes in Legislative Assemblies. The object is clearly to give representation in the legislature to Scheduled Tribe candidates, considered to be deserving of such special protection. To permit a non-tribal under cover of a marriage to contest such a seat would tend to defeat the very object of such a reservation. The decision of this Court in Valsamma Paul v. Cochin University [(1996) 3 SCC 545 : 1996 SCC (L&S) 772 : (1996) 33 ATC 713] supports this view. Neither the fact that a non-backward female married a backward male nor the fact that she was recognised by the community thereafter as a member of the backward community, was held to enable a non-backward to claim reservation in terms of Article 15(4) or 16(4) of the Constitution. Their Lordships after noticing Bhoobum Moyee Debia v. Ram Kishore Acharj Chowdhry [(1865) 10 MIA 279] and Lulloobhoy Bappoobhoy Cassidass Moolchund v. Cassibai [(1879-80) 7 IA 212 : ILR 5 Bom 110] held that a woman on marriage becomes a member of the family of her husband and thereby she becomes a member of the caste to which she has moved. The caste rigidity breaks down and would stand as no impediment to her becoming a member of the family to which the husband belongs and to which she gets herself transplanted. Thereafter, this Court noticed that recognition by the community was also important. Even then, this Court categorically laid down that the recognition of a lady as a member of a backward community in view of her marriage would not be relevant for the purpose of entitlement to reservation under Article 16(4) of the Constitution for the reason that she as a member of the forward caste, had an advantageous start in life and a marriage with a male belonging to a backward class would not entitle her to the facility of reservation given to a backward community. The High Court has applied this decision to a seat reserved in an election in terms of Article 332 of the Constitution. We see no reason why the principle relating to reservation under Articles 15(4) and 16(4) laid down by this Court should not be extended to the constitutional reservation of a seat for a Scheduled Tribe in the House of the People or under Article 332 in the Legislative Assembly....."

12. Reiterating the aforesaid position in law in Sunita Singh v. State of U.P4., the Supreme Court succinctly observed: -

5. There cannot be any dispute that the caste is determined by birth and the caste cannot be changed by marriage with a person of Scheduled Caste. Undoubtedly, the appellant was born in "Agarwal" family, which falls in general category and not in Scheduled Caste. Merely because her husband is belonging to a Scheduled Caste category, the appellant should not have been issued with a caste certificate showing her caste as Scheduled Caste. In that regard, the orders of the authorities as well as the judgment of the High Court cannot be faulted.

13. Regard must be had to the fact that in Sunita Singh, the Supreme Court was dealing with a caste certificate which came to be issued based on the caste of the husband. It was in the aforesaid backdrop that it held that the caste certificate was invalid. It is thus evident that it was to avoid such situations and claims that the respondents insisted upon the caste certificate bearing the name of the parent of the candidate. The aforesaid stipulation has neither been challenged by the petitioner nor can it be described as being arbitrary or superfluous.

14. The Court additionally shudders to imagine the enormous burden that would stand placed upon a recruiting body before whom caste certificates such as the one produced by the petitioner here were placed in support of claims for extension of reservation benefits. In all such cases, the recruiting agency would then have to independently verify the family origins of each such candidate in order to ascertain whether the individual was born in a social class to which benefits under Article 16 of the Constitution stand conferred. Ms. Archana Singh, learned counsel, apprises the Court that the present recruitment was undertaken to fill up 69,000 posts of Assistant Teachers. Learned counsel informs the Court that 146060 candidates participated in the selection process. The facts as noticed above underscore the enormity of the avoidable and unnecessary obligation which would stand placed on the recruitment agency. In fact, placing such an onus on the recruiting body may also have a deleterious effect on the paramount requirement of completing a selection process connected with appointment to public posts within a defined timeline. The Court in view of the aforesaid facts is of the considered view that there is no justification for such an additional responsibility being legally foisted upon the respondents.

15. The challenge to the Government Order of 4 December 2020 on grounds as urged by learned counsel, pales into insignificance in light of what has been held and in any case cannot be viewed as imposing a burden or otherwise ushering in a position which would be either legally unsustainable or one which could not have been recognised to exist irrespective of its promulgation.

16. Insofar as the submission of learned counsel with respect to the candidature of the petitioner being considered under the General category is concerned, the Court notes that no foundation in support of the aforesaid submission stands laid in the writ petition. The petitioner has not disclosed the qualifying marks which were obtained by the last admitted candidate under the General category to enable the Court to ascertain whether she could have claimed an appointment without the benefits of reservation being extended to her.

17. The writ petition consequently fails and shall stand dismissed.

3. Dr. Chetkar Jha Vs Dr. Vishwanath Prasad Verma & anr.1970 (2) SCC 217

(Delivered by Hon'ble Salil Kumar Rai, J.)

1. The facts of the case are that Shanta Smarak Kanya Inter College, Meerut (hereinafter referred to as, 'Institution') is an 'institution' as defined in Section 2(b) of the Uttar Pradesh Intermediate Education Act, 1921 (hereinafter referred to as, 'Act, 1921') and receives maintenance grant from the State Government. The Institution is governed by the Act, 1921 and the Regulations framed thereunder. Selections to the post of Lecturers in recognized and aided institutions are held by the Uttar Pradesh Education Services Selection Board, Prayagraj (hereinafter referred to as, 'Board'). The procedure for selection of Lecturers is prescribed in Uttar Pradesh Secondary Education Services Selection Board Rules, 1998 (hereinafter referred to as, 'Rules, 1998'). Under Section 16(E) of the Act, 1921 the Committee of Management of a recognized institution is the appointing authority of the Teachers of the institution but under the Rules 1998, the Committee of Management of the institution is liable to issue an appointment letter to any candidate selected for appointment and allocated the institution by the Board.

2. Smt. Krishna Sharma and Smt. Shashi Maratha, Lecturers in the institution retired on 30.6.2012. It has been stated in the counter affidavit filed by the Manager of the Committee of Management of the institution, i.e., the respondent No. 5, that the post held by Smt. Krishna Sharma was of Lecturer in Music (Instrument-Tabla) while the post held by Smt. Shashi Maratha was of Lecturer in Music (Instrument-Sitar) and they were teaching the said subjects. After the retirement of the aforesaid teachers, the Committee of Management of the institution sent a requisition to the Board notifying the vacancies and the requisition form specified that of the two posts of Lecturer which were vacant in the institution, one post was of Lecturer in Music (Instrument-Tabla) and the other post was of Lecturer in Music (Instrument-Sitar).

3. In 2016, the Board issued Advertisement No.2/2016 inviting applications for appointment on vacant posts of Lecturers which included the abovementioned two posts of Lecturers in the Institution. It is admitted by the parties that the aforesaid posts were reserved for women and the vacancies in the institution were advertised as Lecturer in Music (Instrument) (Female Category) and the advertisement did not specify any sub-category in the aforesaid subject. In other words, the advertisement did not indicate that of the two posts advertised one was of Lecturer in Music (Instrument-Sitar) and the other was of Lecturer in Music (Instrument-Tabla).

4. It has been stated in the writ petition that the petitioner is a Post Graduate (M.A.) in Music (Instrument-Sitar). In response to the Advertisement No. 2/2016, the petitioner also filed her application to be considered for appointment as Lecturer (Female Category) in the subject Music (Instrument) and was selected by the Board for appointment as Lecturer in Music-Instrument. In the panel of selected candidates prepared by the Board under Rule 12(8) of the Rules, 1998 for appointment as Lecturers in Music (Instrument), one Smt. Rinki Singh was placed at Serial No.1 while the petitioner was placed at Serial No. 3, in order of merit. Both, the petitioner and Smt. Rinki Singh, were allocated the Institution for appointment as Lecturers in Music (Instrument) and an intimation for the said purpose was sent to the Institution by the District Inspector of Schools-II, Meerut (hereinafter referred to as, 'D.I.O.S'). The intimation regarding the petitioner was sent through letter dated 31.7.2020 of the D.I.O.S. On 18.8.2020, the management of the institution issued an appointment letter to Smt. Rinki Singh appointing her as Lecturer in Music (Instrument-Sitar) in the Institution. However, the Committee of Management of the Institution refused to issue an appointment letter to the petitioner on the ground that after Smt. Rinki Singh joined as Lecturer in Music (Instrument-Sitar) no post of Lecturer in Music (Instrument-Sitar) was vacant in the Institution and the other vacant post was of Lecturer in Music (Instrument-Tabla) and because the petitioner was not a post graduate in Music (Instrument-Tabla) but a post graduate in Music (Instrument-Sitar), she was not qualified for appointment on the other vacant post of Lecturer in the Institution. When the petitioner came to know about the aforesaid developments, she submitted a representation to the Chairman of the Board requesting that, in light of Rule 13(5) of the Rules, 1998, she be allocated any other Institution. The Board has not yet taken any action on the aforesaid representation of the petitioner and therefore the present writ petition has been filed by the petitioner praying for a writ of mandamus commanding the Manager of the Institution to issue an appointment letter in favour of the petitioner for the post of Lecturer (Female Category) in Music (Instrument) and, in the alternative, a writ in the nature of mandamus commanding the Board and the Chairman of the Board to allocate any other Institution to the petitioner pursuant to her selection for the post of Post Graduate Teacher - Lecturer (Female Category) in Music (Instrument) against Advertisement No. 2/2016.

5. The Institution has filed a counter affidavit opposing the prayer of the petitioner. In paragraph No. 4 of its counter affidavit, the Manager of the Committee of Management of the Institution (respondent No. 5) has stated that by letter dated 13.8.1969 two posts of teachers in Music were sanctioned in the Institution. The letter dated 13.8.1969 has not been annexed with the counter affidavit. From the tenor of the averments made in paragraph No. 4 of the counter affidavit, it appears that of the two posts sanctioned through letter dated 13.8.1969 one post was for Music (Vocal) and the other post was for Music (Instrumental). Through its counter affidavit the respondent No. 5 has brought on record the letter dated 24.2.1987 issued by the Regional Secretary of the Board of High School and Intermediate Examinations (hereinafter referred to as, 'Education Board'), Regional Office, Meerut which shows that the Institution was recognized by the Board for imparting education at High School and Intermediate level. At the High School level, it was recognized, amongst other, for teaching in Music while at the Intermediate level, it was recognized for teaching in, amongst other subjects, in Music (Vocal) and Music (Instrumental). It has been further stated in paragraph No. 4 of the counter affidavit that vide letter dated 20.6.2005 one post of Music (Instrument-Sitar) in L.T. Grade was upgraded to Lecturer Grade. The letter dated 20.6.2005 has been annexed as Annexure No. 5 to the counter affidavit. It has been further stated in the counter affidavit that Smt. Krishna Sharma who was working on the post of Lecturer in Music (Instrument-Sitar) and Smt. Shashi Maratha, who was working as Lecturer in Music (Instrument-Tabla) in the Institution retired on 30.6.2012 and consequently a requisition, as noted earlier, was sent to the Board. In its counter affidavit, the respondent No. 5 has also brought on record the number of students, who had opted for Music (Instrument) in the Institution indicating that more students had opted for Music (Instrument-Tabla) than Music (Instrument-Sitar) as their optional subject. It has been averred by the Institution in paragraph No. 4 of the counter affidavit that three posts of Lecturer in Music were sanctioned in the Institution out of which one post was for Music (Vocal), one post was of Lecturer in Music (Instrument-Sitar) and one post was of Lecturer in Music (Instrument-Tabla). On the aforesaid facts, the respondent No. 5 pleads that because Smt. Rinki Singh, who was at serial no. 1 in the panel of selected candidates, had already joined as Lecturer in Music (Instrument-Sitar) therefore no vacant post of Lecturer in Music (Instrument-Sitar) was available in the Institution and the other vacant post in the Institution was of Lecturer in Music (Instrument-Tabla) but because the petitioner was not a post-graduate in Music (Instrument-Tabla) but a post-graduate in Music (Instrument-Sitar) she was not qualified to be appointed as Lecturer on the other vacant post and no appointment letter can be issued to her for appointment as Lecturer in the Institution. On the aforesaid ground, the respondent No. 5 has prayed that the writ petition be dismissed.

6. The Board, the Chairman of the Board and the D.I.O.S., arrayed as respondent Nos. 2, 3, and 4 respectively in the writ petition, have also filed their counter affidavits in which they have admitted that the vacancies in the Institution were advertised for appointment as Lecturer in Music (Instrument) and the advertisement did not specify that of the two vacancies advertised, one was of Lecturer in Music (Instrument-Sitar)and the other was of Lecturer in Music (Instrument-Tabla). In their counter affidavits, the respondent Nos. 2, 3 and 4 have not denied the qualification of the petitioner as stated by her in the petition. However, the counter affidavits of respondent nos. 2, 3 and 4 are silent on the nature of the two posts in the Institution which were advertised through Advertisement No. 2 of 2016.

7. The counsel for the petitioner has argued that the Regulations framed under the Act, 1921 prescribe only Music (Vocal) and Music (Instrument) as optional subjects to be taught in any recognized institution and no sub-category of the said subjects have been prescribed as separate optional subjects to be taught in any recognized institution. It was argued that the stand of the management of the Institution that, of the two posts of Lecturer in Music Instrument in the Institution, one post was of Lecturer in Music (Instrument-Tabla) and the other was of Lecturer in Music (Instrument-Sitar) is an artificial sub-division of the prescribed subjects and the said sub-division is not supported by the Act, 1921 or the Regulations framed thereunder. It was further argued that Appendix 'A' to the Regulations prescribes only post-graduation in Music as the minimum qualification for appointment as lecturer in Music and does not prescribe a degree in a specific branch of Music as a requisite qualification for appointment as a Lecturer in Music. It has been further argued that the vacancies notified by the Board through Advertisement No. 2/2016 were for appointment as Lecturer in Music (Instrument) and not as Lecturer in either Music (Instrument-Sitar) or in Music (Instrument-Tabla) and the petitioner being a post-graduate in Music (Instrument) was therefore qualified to be appointed as Lecturer in Music (Instrument) and because she has been selected by the Board for such appointment and allocated the Institution, therefore, the Committee of management of the Institution is liable to issue an appointment letter to the petitioner and a mandamus for the said purpose is to be issued to the respondents. It was further pleaded by the counsel for the petitioner that, in any case, as the petitioner has been selected by the Board for appointment as Lecturer in Music (Instrument) and, if in the facts of the case the Court holds that the petitioner is not entitled to be appointed on the other vacant post in the Institution, the respondent Nos. 2 and 3 are liable to allocate any other Institution to the petitioner under Rule 13(5) of the Rules, 1998 and therefore a mandamus for the said purpose may be issued to respondent Nos. 2 and 3, i.e., Board and its Chairman.

8. Rebutting the argument of the counsel for the petitioner, the counsel for respondent No. 5 has repeated the stand taken by the Committee of Management in its counter affidavit and has argued that the Board has wrongly allocated two candidates having the same qualifications, i.e., post graduation in Music (Instrument-Sitar) for appointment against one post of Lecturer in Music (Instrument-Sitar) in the institution and, in the facts of the case, the institution is not liable to issue an appointment letter to the petitioner for appointment as Lecturer in Music (Instrument-Sitar). It was argued that in view of the aforesaid, the writ petition so far as it prays for a mandamus to the Institution and for a mandamus to the respondent Nos. 2 to 4 to ensure that the petitioner be allowed to join as Lecturer in Music (Instrument-Sitar) in the Institution, is liable to be dismissed.

9. I have considered the submissions of the counsel for the parties.

10. It is the admitted case of the parties that the Institution is a recognized institution as defined in Section 2(d) of the Act, 1921 and is governed by the Act and the Regulations made thereunder. The qualification of the petitioner as M.A. in Music (Instrument-Sitar) is also not denied by the respondents. It is also admitted by the Board that Advertisement No. 2/2016 was issued notifying two vacancies of Lecturer in Music (Instrument) (Female Category) in the Institution and the advertisement did not specify that the posts notified were for teaching any particular musical instrument. The panel of the selected candidates prepared by the Board under Rule 12(8) of the Rules, 1998 which has been annexed as Annexure No. 3 to the writ petition and has not been denied by the respondents also shows that the selections were made by the Board for appointment as Lecturer in Music (Instrument) in different recognized institutions.

11. The records annexed with the counter affidavit filed by the management of the Institution do not show that of the two posts of Lecturer vacant in the Institution and advertised by the Board, one post was of Lecturer in Music (Instrument-Sitar) and the other post was of Lecturer in Music (Instrument-Tabla). There is nothing on record to show that the post of Teacher in L.T. Grade in Music (Instrument) in the Institution, which was ultimately upgraded by order dated 20.6.2005 to Lecturer Grade, was for teaching in Music (Instrument-Sitar). The letter/order dated 20.6.2005 of the D.I.O.S. only indicates that the post held by Smt. Shashi Maratha had been upgraded to the Lecturer Grade. Further, the documents annexed with the counter affidavit of the management of the Institution also do not show that Smt. Krishna Sharma was working on a post of Lecturer of Music (Instrument-Tabla). The letter dated 24.2.1987 issued by the Regional Secretary of the Education Board only indicates that the Institution was recognized for teaching in Music (Vocal and Instrument) and it does not indicate that the posts sanctioned in the Institution to teach Music (Instrument) or Music (Vocal) were sub-divided either into different branches of vocal and instrumental music or were for teaching specific musical instrument.

12. The issue before this Court is as to whether the fact that Smt. Krishna Sharma and Smt. Shashi Maratha were, in actuality, teaching two different musical instruments in the Institution and the requisition sent by the Institution to the Board specified that of the two vacant posts of Lecturer in the Institution, one post was of Lecturer in Music (Instrument-Sitar) and the other post was of Lecturer in Music (Instrument-Tabla) are relevant to decide the nature of posts sanctioned in the Institution and the nature of vacancies advertised by the Board through its Advertisement No. 2/2016 and consequently the right of the petitioner to be issued an appointment letter for appointment as Lecturer on the other post-vacant in the Institution.

13. Under Section 2(d) of the Act, 1921 a recognized Institution means an institution recognized for the purpose of preparing the candidates for admission to the examinations conducted by the Education Board. Under Sections 7(3) to 7(5) of the Act, 1921 the Education Board has the power to conduct examinations at the end of High School and Intermediate Courses, to recognize institutions for the purposes of its examinations and to admit candidates to its examinations. Under Section 7(1) of the Act, 1921 the Education Board has the power to prescribe courses of instructions for High School and Intermediate classes in such branches of education as it thinks fit. Section 15(1) of the Act, 1921 authorizes the Education Board to frame Regulations for the purposes of carrying into effect the purpose of Act, 1921. Section 15(2) of the Act, 1921 empowers the Education Board to make Regulations providing for the courses of study to be laid down for all certificates and diplomas, the conferment of diplomas and certificates, the conditions of recognition of institutions for the purpose of its examinations and all matters which by the Act, 1921 are to be or may be provided for by the Regulations.

14. Chapter XI of the Regulations framed under the Act, 1921 provides that the Education Board shall conduct High School Examination, Intermediate Examination and Intermediate Vocational Educational Examination. Regulation 15 of Chapter VII of the Regulations prescribes that an institution shall hold classes and admit students only in subjects for which the institution has been given recognition by the Education Board. Regulation 16 of Chapter VII of the Regulations further provides that if students are admitted in any institution for a course not recognized by the Board the concerned institution may be subjected to penal action.

15. Apparently, the Education Board shall conduct examinations only in courses of study prescribed by it and the subjects specified in the Regulations. Further, under Sections 2(d) and 7(4) of the Act, 1921 an institution is granted recognition by the Education Board for purposes of its examinations and to prepare candidates for admission to the Board's examinations. Evidently, the recognition given by the Education Board to the institutions is only regarding the subjects specified in the Regulations.

16. Chapters XIII, XIV and XIV(A) of the Regulations specify the different subjects/courses for instructions. The Regulations mention only Music (Vocal) and Music (Instrument) as optional subjects for High School, Intermediate and Intermediate Vocational Education examinations and do not sub-divide the two subjects on the basis of genre or different musical instruments. In other words, the Regulations do not prescribe as separate subjects, courses in different genres of music or in different musical instruments. Any reading of the Regulations by specifying the genres of music or musical instrument would amount to adding words in the particular entry in the Regulations. Any such reading of the entries would result in changing the nature of entry and prescribing a different subject of study, a subject not prescribed by the Education Board and the Regulations. There is nothing in the Act, 1921 or the Regulations which could lead to an inference that the Education Board had intended to prescribe teaching of different musical instruments or of different branches of Music as different subjects. The certificate or degree conferred by the Board would also indicate that the candidate was admitted by the Education Board and passed its examinations in Music (Vocal) or Music (Instrument) and would not reflect that the candidate had studied any specific branch of Music or gained proficiency in any particular musical instrument. The Regulations framed by the Education Board are delegated legislations and, therefore, the omission in Chapters XIII, XIV and XIV-A of the Regulations in not indicating the different branches or genres of music or differqent musical instruments in the relevant entries can be, at the most, a casus-omissus which can not be supplied either by this Court through interpretation or by the Education Board through executive order or by any recognized institution.

17. In Union of India & Another Vs. Deoki Nandan Aggarwal, A.I.R. 1992 Supreme Court 96, the Supreme Court observed, "that it is not the duty of the Court either to enlarge the scope of the legislation or the intention of the legislature when the language of the provision is plain and unambiguous. The Court cannot rewrite, recast or reframe the legislation for the very good reason that it has no power to legislate. The power to legislate has not been conferred on the Courts. The Court cannot add words to a statute or read words into it which are not there. Assuming there is a defect or an omission in the words used by the legislature the Court could not go to its aid to correct or make up the deficiency." Similarly in Sangeeta Singh Vs. union of India & Others, (2005) 7 SCC 484, the Supreme Court held that the Courts, cannot aid the Legislatures' defective phrasing of an Act, and cannot add or mend, and by construction make up deficiencies which are left there and it would be contrary to all rules of construction to read words into an Act unless it is absolutely necessary to do so. The observation of the Supreme Court in paragraph Nos. 5, 6 and 9 of the reports which are relevant are reproduced below :-

"5. It is well settled principle in law that the Court cannot read anything into a statutory provision or a stipulated condition which is plain and unambiguous. A statute is an edict of the Legislature. The language employed in a statute is the determinative factor of legislative intent. Similar is the position for conditions stipulated in advertisements.

6. Words and phrases are symbols that stimulate mental references to referents. The object of interpreting a statute is to ascertain the intention of the Legislature enacting it. (See Institute of Chartered Accountants of India v. M/s Price Waterhouse). The intention of the legislature is primarily to be gathered from the language used, which means that attention should be paid to what has been said as also to what has not been said. As a consequence, a construction which requires for its support, addition or substitution of words or which results in rejection of words as meaningless has to be avoided. As observed in Crawford Vs. Spooner the courts cannot aid the legislature's defective phrasing of an Act, they cannot add or mend, and by construction make up deficiencies which are left there. (See State of Gujarat Vs. Dilipbhai Nathjibhai Patel). It is contrary to all rules of construction to read words into an Act unless it is absolutely necessary to do so. (See Stock Vs. Frank Jones (Tipton) Ltd.) Rules of interpretation do not permit the courts to do so, unless the provision as it stands is meaningless or of doubtful meaning. The courts are not entitled to read words into an Act of Parliament unless clear reason for it is to be found within the four corners of the Act itself. (Per Lord Loreburn, L.C. in Vickers Sons and Maxim Ltd. Vs. Evans, quoted in Jumma Masjid, Mercara Vs. Kodimaniandra Deviah).

9. While interpreting a provision the Court only interprets the law and cannot legislate it. If a provision of law is misused and subjected to the abuse of process of law, it is for the legislature to amend, modify or repeal it, if deemed necessary. (See C.S.T. Vs. Popular Trading Company). The legislative casus omissus cannot be supplied by judicial interpretative process."

(Emphasis added)

Thus, the entries Music (Vocal) and Music (Instrument) in Chapters XIII, XIV and XIV-A of the Regulations are to be read as they are and without sub-dividing them either on the basis of different genres of music or on the basis of different musical instruments. An institution would be recognized by the Education Board for teaching in Music (Vocal) and Music (Instrument) and not for teaching a particular musical instrument or a particular branch of vocal or instrumental music. The posts sanctioned by the State Government in any aided institution would also be for teaching Music (Vocal) or Music (Instrument) and not for teaching a particular branch of vocal music or a particular musical instrument and in light of Regulation 15 of Chapter VII of the Regulations, the institutions do not have the liberty to treat the posts as posts sanctioned to teach a particular musical instrument.

18. In the present case, the Institution was granted recognition by the Education Board for teaching in Music (Instrument) and was not recognized for teaching a particular musical instrument. In fact, in light of the reasons given, the institution could not have been granted recognition for teaching only a particular musical instrument. For the said reasons, the two posts vacant in the Institution and advertised by the Board were of Lecturer in Music (Instrument) and not of Lecturer in particular musical instrument and the one post still vacant is not of Lecturer in Music (Instrument-Tabla). The fact that the teachers previously working in the Institution were teaching two different musical instruments and the Management had sent the requisition specifying that the posts were for teaching two different musical instruments is not relevant to decide the nature of vacancies advertised by the Board through Advertisement No. 2 of 2016. In the circumstances, the information sent by the Committee of the Management to the Board through its requisition that, of the two posts of Lecturers in Music (Instrument) sanctioned and vacant in the Institution, one was of Music (Instrument-Tabla) and the other was of Music (Instrument-Sitar), was not relevant and the Board rightly ignored it and notified the vacancies for appointment as Lecturer in Music (Instrument).

19. The right of the petitioner to be issued an appointment letter also depends on whether the petitioner possessed the minimum qualifications for appointment as Lecturer in Music (Instrument). Section 16-E(3) of the Act, 1921 provides that only a person who possesses the minimum qualifications prescribed by the Regulations shall be appointed as a teacher in a recognized institution. Rule 5 of Rules, 1998 provides that a candidate for appointment to a post of teacher must possess the qualifications specified in Regulation 1 of Chapter II of the Regulations made under the Act, 1921.

20. Regulation 1 of Chapter II of the Regulations is part of Appendix 'A' appended to the Regulations framed by the Education Board and prescribes the minimum qualifications required for appointment as teacher in a recognized institution. Entry 25 of Regulation 1 prescribes M.A. in Music (amongst other alternative qualifications) as minimum qualification required for a music teacher to teach intermediate students, i.e., class 11 and 12 students. The Regulations do not prescribe a degree in any particular musical instrument or in any particular genre of music as minimum qualification for appointment as Teacher in Music. Chapters XIII, XIV and XIV-A of the Regulations mention Music (Vocal) and Music (Instrument) as optional subjects to be chosen by any candidate admitted for appearing in the High School, Intermediate or Intermediate Vocational Education examinations conducted by the Education Board. However, the candidates can chose only one of them as their optional subject and not both of them as their optional subjects. In other words, a candidate can opt either for Music (Vocal) or Music (Instrument) but cannot opt for both of them. It is pertinent to note that the Regulations do not mention 'Music' as a course of study but specify Music (Vocal) and Music (Instrument) as courses of study. Evidently, Music (Vocal) and Music (Instrument) are two different subjects and courses of study. However, Entry 25 in Regulation 1 of Chapter II prescribes post-graduation in Music as the minimum qualification required for appointment as Teacher / Lecturer in Music to teach in Class XI and XII. The Regulations do not prescribe different qualifications for appointment as Teacher in Music (Instrument) and Music (Vocal). A plain reading of the qualifications prescribed in Entry 25 of Regulation 1 of Chapter II for appointment as Teacher in Music (Vocal) and Music (Instrument) would lead to an absurdity as a Post-graduate in Music (Vocal) would also be eligible for appointment as Teacher of Music (Instrument) and a Post-graduate in Music (Instrument) would also be eligible for appointment as Teacher of Music (Vocal) even though Music (Vocal) and Music (Instrument) are two different subjects prescribed by the Education Board. While interpreting legislative provisions, absurdity is to be avoided. Regulation 1 of Chapter II which prescribes minimum qualifications for appointment as Teacher in recognized institutions and the relevant items in Chapters XIII, XIV and XIV-A specifying the courses of study are part of the same legislative enactment. In order to avoid the absurdity referred earlier, the qualifications prescribed in Entry 25 have to be interpreted and read as 'Post-graduate in Music (Vocal) or in Music (Instrument) depending on the post for which appointments are to be made.' In other words, only a candidate, who is a post-graduate in Music (Vocal) would be eligible for appointment as Lecturer in Music (Vocal) and a candidate who is a post-graduate in Music (Instrument) would be eligible for appointment as Lecturer in Music (Instrument) in any recognized institution. But the same can not be read to mean as requiring a post-graduate in a specific genre of music or a post-graduate in a particular musical instrument, because the Regulations do not prescribe, as courses of study, a particular genre of music or teaching of a particular musical instrument. Thus, if the selecting body or the appointing authority demands from an applicant a post-graduation in a specific branch of vocal music or a post-graduation in a particular musical instrument, such a demand would be inconsistent with the Regulations. For the aforesaid reasons, the refusal of the Management of the Institution to issue an appointment letter to the petitioner on the ground that she is a post-graduate in Music (Instrument-Sitar) and not a post-graduate in Music (Instrument-Tabla) is inconsistent with the Regulations.

21. An issue similar to the issue in the present case arose before the Supreme Court in Dr. Chetkar Jha Vs. Dr.

Vishwanath Prasad Verma & Another, 1970 (2) SCC 217. In the aforesaid case, the controversy related to the minimum qualifications required for appointment as Professor in Department of Political Science in Patna University. The relevant Statutes of the University, at the time of advertisement, prescribed the minimum qualifications for appointment as Professor in the University as, "first or second class Master's degree of an Indian University or an equivalent qualification of a foreign university." The Bihar Public Service Commission, which at that time had the power to recommend names for appointments to the University, advertised the said post and the minimum qualifications required for appointment to the post were published as "first or second class Master's degree in the subject of an Indian University or an equivalent qualification of a foreign university." The Vice-Chancellor of the University got published, through the Commission, another advertisement amending the earlier advertisement and the revised advertisement stated the required qualifications as "first or second class Master's degree in Political Science or in an allied subject like History or Economics of an Indian University or an equivalent qualification of a foreign university." The appointment of the selected candidate was under challenge before the Supreme Court wherein it was argued that the words in the University Statute, namely, that the University Professor "shall possess a first or second class Master's degree" meant a Master's degree "in the subject" and therefore the original advertisement was in conformity with the University Statute relating to the qualifications and the revised advertisement had the effect of amending the Statute and was therefore unauthorized and the appointment of the selected candidate was contrary to the Statute. The Supreme Court rejected the aforesaid contention and held that the words "in the subject" in the advertisement initially issued by the Commission debarred the candidates with first and second class Master's degree in subjects other than Political Science and was therefore not in conformity with and not consistent with the relevant University Statute laying down the qualifications. In this context the observations of the Supreme Court in paragraph Nos. 10, 11 and 12 of the reports are reproduced below :-

"10. Under Section 58 of the Act, until Statutes, Ordinances, Regulations and Rules were made under the Act, Regulations made under the Bihar State Universities Act, XIV of 1960, which were in force immediately before the commencement of the present Act, were to continue to be in force and were to be deemed to be Statutes, Ordinances, Regulations and Rules made under the corresponding provisions of this Act. Chapter XII of the Statutes made under the earlier Act and which was in force immediately before the commencement of the Act, was, therefore, to continue in force and was deemed to have been made under the present Act. Under that Statutes, the qualifications for the post of a University Professor were inter alia "a first or a second class Master's degree of an Indian University or an equivalent qualification of a foreign University". The Statute, it will be noticed, did not lay down that the Master's degree had to be "in the subject" for which the candidate would be appointed. Apparently, the question whether the concerned candidate was proficient in the subject for which he had applied for appointment was left for decision by the appointing authority.

Under Chapter XIV of the Statute, whenever an appointment had to be made the Vice-Chancellor had the power with the approval of the Chancellor to decide whether the post should be filled up by promotion or by direct recruitment.

11. There is no dispute that the Vice-Chancellor had obtained such approval and the post was to be filled up by direct recruitment. As required by Section 26(1) of the Act, appointments of teachers and professors of the University could only be made on the recommendations made by the State Public Service Commission. Accordingly, the Vice-Chancellor sent to the Commission a requisition for advertisement for the post. In that requisition he set out, without any words of, limitation or additional qualifications, Chapter XII of the Statutes which laid down the qualifications. In the advertisement issued by the Commission, however, that body introduced the words "in the subject" announcing thereby that the candidate must possess a first or second class Master's degree in Political Science. The insertion of those words of limitation clearly was not in conformity either with the requisition sent by the Vice-Chancellor or with Chapter XII of the Statutes and actually debarred candidates with first or second class Master's degrees in subjects other than Political Science. Such a restriction was not consistent with the Statute in Chapter XII laying down the qualifications.

12. It was obviously to correct this error on the part of the Commission that the Vice-Chancellor caused the revised advertisement to be issued by the Commission in which it was clarified that candidates not only with first or second class M.A. degrees in Political Science but those with such degrees in allied subjects such as History and Economics could also apply. The record shows that this fact was explained to the Chancellor by the Vice Chancellor and the then Chancellor had at that time raised no objection. As appears from the Vice-Chancellor's reply to the show cause notice issued by the Chancellor, this very interpretation of the Statute had been given in the past on a number of occasions and several appointments had been made without any objection from anybody. The revised advertisement was thus made to clarify the position that under the Statute laying down the qualifications for the post it was not as if an eligible candidate could be the one who held the M.A. degree in Political Science only. Since the post was for a professorship in Political Science, the revised advertisement stated that candidates with first or second class M.A. degree in Political Science as also in an allied subject could apply. In doing so the Vice-Chancellor did not purport to modify or alter the Statute relating to qualifications as was the view of the Chancellor, but on the contrary, clarified the correct position and gave a correct interpretation to the Statute in question. The Chancellor, therefore, could not, on a wrong interpretation of the Statute, hold that the revised advertisement was a modification of that Statute, that it was, therefore, invalid, and that, therefore, he had the jurisdiction to nullify the Syndicate's resolution of July 3, 1963, under Section 9(4) of the Act. Section 9(4) authorises the Chancellor to nullify the Syndicate's resolution provided only if the Syndicate's proceedings were not in conformity with the Act or the Statute."

(Emphasis added)

22. It is admitted that one post of Lecturer in Music (Instrument) in the institution is still vacant and the contention of the Management that the said post is for Music (Instrument-Tabla) stands rejected. The petitioner being a post-graduate in Music (Instrument) (though in a particular musical instrument) was eligible for being considered for appointment as teacher in Music (Instrument) in the Institution on the posts advertised through Advertisement No. 2 of 2016 and after being so selected is entitled to be issued an appointment letter by the Management of the Institution on the post vacant in the Institution.

23. Under Rule 12(8) of the Rules, 1998 the Board prepares a panel, for each category of advertised post, of those candidates found most suitable for appointment in order of merit and institutions are allocated to the candidate under Rule 12(10) on the basis of his place in the order of merit. The panel is to be forwarded by the Board under Rule 12(11) of the Rules, 1998 along with the name of the institution allocated to the selected candidates to the Inspector, i.e., all the District Inspector of Schools, with a copy thereof to the Joint Director of Education, Incharge of the Region. Under Rule 13 of the Rules, 1998, the Inspector is required to intimate the name of the candidate to the management of the institution which had notified the vacancy, with the direction that, under resolution of the management, an order of appointment be issued to the candidate by registered post. Under Rule 13(2) of the Rules, 1998 the management is liable to comply with the direction given under sub-rule (1) and report compliance thereof to the Board through the Inspector. Under Rule 13(4) of the Rules, 1998 the Joint Director of Education Incharge of Region shall monitor and ensure that the candidates selected by the Board joins the institution in the specified time and for this purpose, he may issue such direction to the Inspector as he thinks proper.

24. The D.I.O.S. vide his letter dated 31.7.2020 addressed to the Manager of the Committee of the Management and the Principal of the Institution has already directed them to ensure that the Committee of Management passes an appropriate resolution authorizing the Manager to issue an appointment letter to the petitioner enabling her to join as teacher in Lecturer Grade in the subject Music (Instrument) in the Institution. The Committee of Management of the Institution and the Manager and the Principal of the Institution are liable to comply with the directions given by the D.I.O.S vide letter dated 31.7.2020 and issue an appointment letter to the petitioner to enable her to join as teacher in Lecturer Grade in the subject Music (Instrument) in the Institution.

25. In view of the aforesaid, the D.I.O.S. is directed to ensure compliance of his order dated 31.7.2020 and ensure that an appointment letter is issued to the petitioner by the Manager of the Committee of Management of Shanta Smarak Kanya Inter College, Meerut appointing her as Lecturer in Music (Instrument) in the Institution. The D.I.O.S. shall ensure that the appointment letter is issued to the petitioner within 15 days from the date a copy of this order, downloaded from the website of the Allahabad High Court, is served by the petitioner to the D.I.O.S. and the Principal or the Manager of the Committee of the Management of the Institution. The appointment letter shall be served on the petitioner personally as well as by registered post and the petitioner shall be permitted to join the Institution in pursuance to the aforesaid appointment letter. The Joint Director of Education, Meerut Region, Meerut is also directed to ensure that the petitioner is allowed to join in the Institution as Teacher in Lecturer Grade in Music (Instrument) and be given all consequential benefits. The Joint Director of Education, Meerut Region, Meerut shall also ensure that the aforesaid exercise is completed within two months from today.

26. With the aforesaid directions, the writ petition is allowed.

27. The Joint Registrar (Compliance) shall send a copy of this order to the Joint Director of Education, Meerut Region, Meerut within 24 hours.

Criminal Appeal partly allowed. (E-1)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Syed Aftab Husain Rizvi, J.)

1. Heard Sri Raj Bahadur, Amicus Curie, for the appellant and learned A.G.A. for the State.

2. This criminal appeal arises out of judgment and order dated 13.01.1992 passed by the learned Special Judge (D.A.A. Act), Jhansi in Special Case No.11 of 1991, Case Crime No.16 of 1991, under Sections 387, 504, 506, 427 I.P.C., Police Station- Moth, District- Jhansi, convicting the appellant (accused) under Section 387 I.P.C. and sentencing him to undergo rigorous imprisonment for 03 years.

3. The prosecution story in brief is that on 29.01.1991 at about 10:30 P.M., accused Girish Kumar Tiwari along with one unknown person came at the house of the complainant Ramesh Chandra, situated in Mohalla Katra Bazar, Town and P.S. Moth and called the complainant. As soon as the complainant reached, then accused started to abuse him asked to pay

Rs.5,000/-. The complainant showed his inability to pay such huge amount, then accused fired shot from country made pistol in air with a view to threaten the complainant. Hearing the noise the neighours came out of their houses but they again went inside their houses hearing the sound of firing made by country made pistol. At that time witnesses Awadha Bihari, Munna Khan and Babloo who were passing through from there tried to impress the accused. Accused and his associate threatened them. Accused threatened the complainant to pay the said amount by 4 P.M. tomorrow else he will be shot and any member of his family will be kidnapped. The witness Babloo again intervened, then accused went to Motor stand, Moth and threw the betel shop of Babloo on the ground causing damages to Babloo.

A written report to this affect scribed by the complainant himself submitted at Police Station Moth same day at 11:45 P.M., on the basis of which case got registered under Sections 387, 427, 504 and 506 I.P.C. The Investigating Officer recorded the statements of the witnesses inspected the site and prepared the site plan and after completing the investigation submitted the charge sheet against accused Girish.

The learned trial court framed charges against the accused Girish under Sections 387 and 427 I.P.C.. The accused denied the charges and claimed for trial. The prosecution produced four witnesses. In his statement under Section 313 Cr.P.C. the accused denied the prosecution allegations and claimed to have been falsely implicated due to enmity. He has further stated that he had a dispute with Iddu and Kailash the owners of the hotel. Ramesh is friend of Iddu and Kailash and all of them have falsely got implicated him in collusion with the police. No evidence in defence has been produced by the accused. The learned trial court after hearing the arguments by the impugned judgment held the accused guilty of charge under Section 387 I.P.C., while acquitted him from charge under Section 427 I.P.C.

4. Learned counsel for the appellant contended that in order to constitute an offence under Section 387 I.P.C. there are to be some visible over act. It is alleged that appellant firstly demanded Rs.5,000/- from the complainant and thereafter fired a shot in the air from country made pistol, hence, the case is not covered by Section 387 I.P.C.. It is further contended that all the witnesses named in the F.I.R. are chance witnesses and there is no witness of vicinity, hence the oral testimony of PW-2 Awadh Bihari is not reliable. It is further contended that Babloo was an important witness but he has not been examined by the prosecution and accused has been acquitted of the charge under Section 427 I.P.C.. The place of occurrence is a residential area but no person of the vicinity has been named as a witness nor examined. Accused has been falsely implicated at the instance of hotel owners Iddu and Kailash who are inimical to the accused and complainant being friend of Kailash and Iddu in collusion with the police has falsely implicated the accused. Lastly, it is contended that the trial Court has failed to appreciate the evidence on record and finding of conviction is perverse.

5. Learned A.G.A. submitted that informant/victim has fully corroborated the prosecution case and an independent witness, Awadh Bihari has also supported the informant. The accused has made a demand of Rs.5,000/- and fired a shot in the air and also threatened the informant with death, so offence under Section 387 I.P.C. is made out. The judgment and finding recorded by the trial Court is just and proper and there is no illegality in the impugned order.

6. To substantiate the charges, prosecution has produced 03 witnesses. PW-1 Ramesh Chandra is the victim/informant and he has corroborated averments made in the First Information Report by his examination-in-chief. He has also proved the written information (Tehrir) Ex-Ka-1. From his testimony, it is proved that on 29.01.1991 at about 10:30 p.m. the accused (appellant) came at the house of informant and called him outside and started abusing the informant and demanded Rs.5,000/-, he also fired shot in the air from a country made pistol and threatened the informant to give Rs.5,000/- by the next day failing with he will be killed or any other member of his family will be kidnapped. Accused has failed to establish any enmity with complainant or motive for false implication. Witness has been cross examined at length by the defence but there is no major discrepancy or contradiction in his cross examination which makes his testimony unreliable. PW-2 Awadh Bihari is the eye witness and he has also corroborated the complainant Ramesh Chandra. This witness has also been cross examined by the defence and there is nothing in his cross examination which makes his oral statement unreliable. Although, he is not neighbour but he is resident of same locality where the occurrence has took place and it has come in his cross examination that he lives 3 to 4 furlong away from the house of Ramesh Chandra, so his presence on the spot cannot be said to be unnatural or improbable. His testimony cannot be discarded on the ground that in his cross examination he has said that some time he do the labour work at complainant's Jaggery business. There may be some minor discrepancy or omission in the oral statement of the witnesses but that is natural. There is no material, discrepancy or contradiction which shake trustworthiness of the witnesses.

The remaining witness S.I. Surendra Singh PW-3 is the Investigating Officer who has proved the steps taken during the investigation and the papers prepared i.e. site plan and charge sheet. He has also proved the Chik report and copy of G.D.

Both the witnesses PW-1 Ramesh Chandra and PW-2 Awadh Bihari are independent witnesses. There is no material on record which establish any enmity or ill will of these witnesses with the accused-appellant and there is no reason to disbelieve these witnesses. They are trustworthy and reliable.

The effect of non production of witness Babloo has already been considered by the trial Court and accused has been acquitted from charges under Section 427 I.P.C. due to this.

7. Contention of learned counsel for the appellant that the case is not covered by Section 387 I.P.C. has no force. In order to constitute an offence as laid down Under Section 387 I.P.C., there ought to be some visible overt act which may reflect the natural and normal inference that the wrong doer had, in fact, put a person or had made an attempt to put any person in fear of death or of grievous hurt. From the evidence on record, it is established that accused-appellant armed came at the house of the complainant called him outside and started abusing him and demanded

Rs.5,000/- and also fired a shot in the air, he further threatened the complainant to pay Rs.5,000/- by the next day otherwise he will be shot or any member of his family will be killed. So, it cannot be said that there was no overact during the act of extortion.

8. The defence taken by the accused in his statement under Section 313 Cr.P.C. that he has been falsely implicated at the instance of hotel owners Iddu and Kailash who are inimical to the accused does not get any support from material on record. The charge under Section 387 I.P.C. stand proved against the accused.

9. The learned trial Court has fully discussed and appreciated the entire evidence. The findings recorded by the learned trial Court is well reasoned. There is no infirmity or perversity in the findings recorded by the learned trial Court in holding the accused guilty under Section 387 I.P.C. and there is no reason to disagree with the aforesaid findings. So, the judgment and order of conviction is just and proper.

10. The learned trial Court has sentenced the accused for 03 years rigorous imprisonment only while punishment prescribed for offence under Section 387 I.P.C. is imprisonment and fine. Considering the nature of the offence and attending facts and circumstances, imposition of 02 years rigorous imprisonment and fine of Rs.10,000/- will be just. In default of payment of fine accused will serve six month simple imprisonment. Sentence is modified accordingly.

11. The appeal is partly allowed in the aforesaid terms.

12. Lower court record along with copy of the judgment be transmitted immediately to the trial Court.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Ajai Tyagi, J.)

1. This appeal has been preferred against the judgment and order dated 6.1.1986, passed by 3rd Additional Sessions Judge, Agra, in Sessions Trial No.53 of 1985 arising out of Case Crime No.66 of 1984 under Section 304 IPC, Police Station Etmad-ud-daula, District-Agra, whereby the appellants, namely, Kailashi and Ramesh were convicted and sentenced under Section 304 (2) IPC read with Section 34 IPC for three years rigorous imprisonment.

2. The brief facts for disposal of this appeal are that informant-Radhey Shyam lodged a report at Police Station Etmad-ul-daula, Agra on 22.2.1984 stating that at about 4:00 p.m., he was going from his house to his field at Ram Nagar, when he was passing through the street near his house, one Kailashi and Ramesh R/o Ram Nagar were coming from the side of their shop. When they reached near the informant, Kailashi struck his shoulder to him. At this, the informant said that they should walk carefully and Kailashi and Ramesh started abusing and beating the informant. On hearing the noise and shouting of the informant, his father Ram Dayal reached the spot and tried to intervene. At this, Kailashi and Ramesh left the informant and dashed Ram Dayal-father of informant to the ground and started beating him with fists, kicks and bricks. Kailashi told Ramesh that today they will settle the score with him. Informant's mother-Smt.Premwati, grand mother-Smt.Govindi, sisters-Usha and Mithalesh and the neighbours-Soonsa Ram and Rajendra arrived at the place of occurrence. They saw the occurrence and saved Ram Dayal from Kailashi and Ramesh. When they were going to the doctor, Radhey Shyam succumbed to the injuries, which he had sustained in his abdomen and chest. While keeping the dead-body at house, the informant reached the police station and lodged the report. On the basis of written-report, Case Crime No.66 of 1984 under Section 304 IPC was registered. After investigation, Investigating Officer submitted charge-sheet against the appellants under Section 304 IPC. Learned trial court framed charge against both the appellants under Section 304 IPC read with Section 34 IPC and after trial, convicted and sentenced both the appellants for the charges levelled against them for three years rigorous imprisonment. Aggrieved with the judgment and order, this appeal has been preferred by the appellants.

3. Heard Shri Satya Prakash Tiwari, learned counsel for the appellants, Shri S.S. Sachan, learned AGA appearing on behalf of State and perused the record.

4. Learned counsel for the appellants has submitted that prosecution case is that on the day of occurrence, appellants started beating informant-Radhey Shyam on very little cause, i.e., striking the shoulder with the informant. When informant's father Ram Dayal came to his rescue, appellants started beating Ram Dayal with fists, kicks and bricks. Ram Dayal sustained injuries in his abdomen and chest due to which he died.

5. Shri Tiwari, learned counsel for the appellants argued that postmortem report of deceased-Ram Dayal shows that there was no external injuries on the body of Ram Dayal. In postmortem report, there was no ante-mortem external injury. If, there was use of bricks, external injury was must. There was no external injury on the body of Ram Dayal, hence prosecution story falsifies the incident that brick was used in beating Ram Dayal. It creates heavy doubt on the prosecution story.

6. Learned counsel for the appellants argued that three so called eye-witness were produced to prove this case. Mithalesh (PW3) is the niece of deceased, Premwati (PW4) is wife of the deceased and Radhey Shyam-informant (PW5) is the son of the deceased. Hence, all the three witnesses are related to the deceased and they are partisan witnesses. Learned counsel submitted that as per prosecution story, Soonsa Ram and Rajendra, who were neighbor, also came at the place of occurrence, but they were not produced by prosecution in evidence, who were independent witnesses. Hence, no reliance could be placed on the testimony of related and interested witnesses. Moreover, there was no injury, even a scratch, to the informant-Radhey Shyam and to any other family member of the deceased, who gathered at the place of occurrence. It also shows that witnesses and other family members of the deceased were not present on the spot. They are eye-witnesses and reached the spot afterwards. It is stated by all prosecution witnesses that appellants started beating Radhey Shyam first and when deceased came to intervene, appellants started beating his father. If it was so, there should have been some injuries to informant Radhey Shyam also, but there is no medical evidence on record to show that Radhey Shyam sustained any injury. Hence, nobody saw the occurrence and appellants were falsely implicated in the present case.

7. Learned counsel for the appellants also argued that appellants had no motive to beat either Radhey Shyam or his father; there was no previous enmity between the parties. He submits that learned trial court has believed that appellants gave beating to Ram Dayal in such a manner that he died by sustaining fatal injuries, but from entire prosecution case, it is well established that appellant had no intention and they had no knowledge that deceased could die. Even, appellants were not having any sort of weapon with them nor any weapon was used by them. Manner of assault also does not indicate that they had any intention to kill the deceased-Ram Dayal.

8. Submission of counsel for the appellants is that if Court reaches on conclusion that appellants are guilty then their offence reaches maximum to Section 323 IPC. In support of this argument, he has placed reliance on the judgment in the case of Prithi vs. State of Haryana [1994 Supp. (1) SCC 498] and Dayaneshwar Dagdoba Hivrekar vs. State of Maharashtra [1982 (0) CrLJ 1870] and argued that charge under Section 304 (2) could not be framed along with Section 34 IPC as there was no common intention of appellants to commit the alleged offence. As per prosecution story, they were coming from their shop and there was scuffle between them and informant on striking the shoulder of each other. So, there was no prior meeting of minds of appellants, therefore, common intention could not be gathered. Learned trial court adopted wrong approach for taking the recourse of Section 34 IPC by convicting the appellants otherwise there was no such evidence on record as to who caused fatal injury to the deceased.

9. Lastly, it was submitted by counsel for the appellants that it is a case of 1984, when appellants were at the age of about 23-25 years and now they are about 60-65 years old. If Court reaches the conclusion of their guilt, their sentence may be modified as undergone.

10. Learned AGA appearing on behalf of State opposed the arguments advanced by counsel for the appellants and submitted that there are three eye-witnesses in this case, who saw the occurrence. He argued that although PWs.3, 4 & 5 are related to the deceased, but their presence at the place of occurrence was very much natural because the occurrence took place very near to the informant's house. Hence, family members immediately reached the spot after hearing hue and cry of informant and his father. He next argued that evidence of eye-witnesses is fully corroborated by medical evidence also. Dr.U.C.Vaishya (PW1), who conducted postmortem on the body of deceased-Ram Dayal, he has stated in his evidence that lever and spleen of the deceased were found ruptured and deceased died due to the injuries sustained by him, which were sufficient to cause death. Lastly, it is argued that both the appellants attacked at the time of occurrence to settle the score with the deceased, therefore, they had common intention to beat the deceased and due to which, the deceased sustained fatal injuries. Hence, prosecution case is fully proved and learned trial court rightly convicted the appellants.

11. Learned counsel for the appellants firstly assailed the conviction of appellants on the basis of eye-witnesses (PW3, PW4 and PW5) being related to the deceased, therefore, they are partisan witnesses. It is admitted fact that Mithalesh (PW3) is the niece of the deceased and Premwati (PW4) is the wife of the deceased and PW5 is the son of the deceased, but the settled law is that testimony of partisan witnesses cannot be discarded on this count alone. In Tameshwar Sahi and others vs. State of UP [1976 ACC 36 (SC)], it is held by Hon'ble Apex Court that there is no hard and fast rule that the evidence of a partisan witness cannot be acted upon without corroboration, if his presence at the scene of the occurrence cannot be doubted and his evidence is consistent with the surrounding circumstances and the probability of the case striking the court as true, it can be good foundation for conviction. More so, if some assurance is available from the medical evidence.

12. If the evidence of PWs.3, 4 & 5 is examined in the light of above observations of Hon'ble Apex Court, it can be undoubtedly believed that the presence of above eye-witnesses is natural at the place of occurrence as Mithalesh (PW3) was the child of just 11 years old at the time of deposing before the learned trial court. She has categorically stated in her statement that at the time of occurrence, she was playing near the place of occurrence. Radhey Shyam (PW5) is the son of the deceased. It is the prosecution version that appellants started quarreling and beating Radhey Shyam first and they started beating deceased-Ram Dayal when he came to the spot to intervene and save his son Radhey Shyam. So the presence of Radhey Shyam at the place of occurrence cannot be doubted. Premwati (PW4) wife of the deceased could also be present on the spot because occurrence was in the street near the house of the deceased. So the presence of PWs.3, 4 & 5 was natural on the spot and it cannot be doubted. Hence, their evidence cannot be discarded on this count alone that they are partisan witnesses rather it is important for the Court to scrutinize their evidence very carefully. Perusal of the impugned judgment shows that the learned trial court has very carefully and meticulously scrutinized the testimony of PWs.3, 4 and 5 on every count. There was no material contradiction in their statements. Trial court appreciated their evidence in right perspective.

13. It is very important to note that in this case, first information report was very prompt. Occurrence took place at 4:00 p.m. on 22.2.1984 and on the same day, FIR was lodged at 5:30 p.m., i.e., just after one and half hour of the occurrence. So, in such a short time, there was no occasion for any false implication of the appellants. It is also not the case that appellants and deceased were having previous enmity.

14. The evidence of witnesses of fact was fully corroborated by medical evidence. Dr.U.C.Vaishya (PW1), who conducted the postmortem, has deposed that lever and spleen of the deceased were ruptured and it is said by him that the internal injuries sustained by deceased could be the result of beating as stated by prosecution and it was not necessary that external injuries should have been there. The doctor has given opinion that injuries sustained by the deceased were sufficient to cause his death. He has specifically denied the suggestions put before him by the defence that above injuries could be result of falling of the deceased or striking with any object. It is also stated by the doctor in his statement that spleen cannot be ruptured due to disease and if spleen is enlarged, it can rupture by inflicting simple injury. Hence, as per medical evidence, the injuries sustained by deceased were sufficient to cause his death. It is also important to note that as per prosecution evidence, appellants gave blow to the deceased in his chest, stomach and pelvis (pedu) and if injuries are inflicted to any person at chest, stomach and pelvis, it is very much possible that lever and spleen will sustain injuries. So, the manner of assault by the appellants matches with the injuries sustained by the deceased. Since the testimony of PWs.3, 4 & 5 is corroborated by medical evidence, therefore, their testimonies carried more weight and learned trial court has rightly believed their testimonies. It is submitted by counsel for the appellants that the offence of appellants does not travel beyond the offence under Section 323 IPC for which he has placed reliance on Pirthi (supra) and Dayaneshwar Dagdoba Hiverkar (supra). In the case of Pirthi (supra), the deceased died after two days of incident and cause of death was Toxaemia due to Gangrene, which developed because of lack of immediate medical help, but this was not the case here. In this case, deceased Ram Dayal succumbed to the injuries while taking to the hospital. The facts of Dayaneshwar Dagdoba Hiverkar (supra) were also differ from this case because in that case deceased was beaten by using the stick. It was held that stick could not be held the weapon from which knowledge can be attributed that the blow by such stick could cause death. In this case, there were repeated blows by the appellants on chest, stomach and pedu of the deceased for which deceased had knowledge that such type of blows could cause fatal injury in the internal organs of the deceased. Therefore, both the above cases did not apply in this case due to different set of facts. As far as common intention is concerned, it is not necessary that it should always be premeditated. It can take place on the spot also. It is very much on record that when the quarrel started by striking the shoulders of appellants and informant-Radhey Shyam and on protest by informant, appellants started slapping him and after that when deceased reached the spot, appellants left informant and started beating deceased-Ram Dayal. Hence, it cannot be believed that quarrel took place all of sudden. Appellants intentionally started beating the deceased, therefore, it is very much clear that they were having common intention to beat the deceased and they repeatedly gave blows to him. Hence, learned trial court has rightly convicted the appellants with the aid of Section 34 IPC.

15. Learned counsel for the appellants has also submitted that in case Court comes to the conclusion that appellants are guilty then keeping in view their age to be nearly 60-62 years, their sentence can be modified as undergone. But, in my opinion, this case is not a case where appellants can be set free as undergone. Learned trial court has sentenced the appellants only for three years under Section 304(2) read with Section 34 IPC. The sentence awarded by the learned trial court, in my considered opinion, is not very harsh keeping in view the offence of the appellants.

16. In view of the discussion as above, this Court is of definite view that learned trial court appreciated the evidence on record in right perspective and rightly convicted the appellants under Section 304 (2) read with Section 34 IPC. The appeal has no force and is liable to be dismissed.

17. The appeal is, accordingly, dismissed. Appellants are reported to be on bail, their bail bonds stand cancelled and sureties are discharged. Appellants are directed to surrender before the court-below forthwith to serve the remaining sentence.

18. Let a copy of this judgment be sent to concerned court for ensuring compliance.

THE HON'BLE KARUNESH SINGH PAWAR, J.

Criminal Appeal No. 254 of 1999

Subrati ...Appellant
Versus
State of U.P. ...Respondent

Counsel for the Appellant:
V.N. Shukla, Abhishek Misra, Shishir Pradhan

Counsel for the Respondent:

A. Criminal law – Indian Penal Code,1860 – Section 364 – Kidnapping in order to commit murder – Not named in FIR – Sentence of six years rigorous imprisonment ordered – Declared guilt on the ground that the appellant had taken the victim from the latter's home on motorcycle – Other accused acquitted – Ingredient of offence u/s 364 IPC, discussed – Relevancy of intention, explained – Held, to establish an offence punishable under Section 364 I.P.C., it must be proved that the person charged with the offence had the intention at the time of the abduction that the person abducted would be murdered or would be so disposed of as to be put to danger of being murdered – Prosecution had to prove that the appellant accused at the time when he took away the victim, had this particular intention – However, no finding has been recorded by the trial Court on this element of the offence – High Court found the conviction order suffers from serious infirmity. (Para 20, 21 and 28)

B. Criminal Law – Criminal Procedure Code,1860 – Section 313 – Defence case – Duty of trial court – Judgment neither disclosed the case of the accused, nor there is any whisper as regards the defence of the accused appellant – No specific question was asked from the accused under Section 313 CrPC as to what he did after taking the deceased from his house – Held, the defence of the appellant has not been dealt with. Further the statement too has been recorded in a very casual and cursory manner, without asking the accused relevant and direct question – Not only the judgment of the trial Court but also the statement under Section 313 CrPC is flawed. (Para 25 and 27)

C. Evidence Law - Evidence Act, 1872 – Section 106 – Burden of proving the fact especially within knowledge – Scope and applicability – S. 106 of the Evidence Act may not be intended to relieve the prosecution of its burden to prove the guilt of the accused beyond reasonable doubt – It would only be applicable where the prosecution had succeeded in proving facts – Since the prosecution failed to establish the facts, it cannot be said that the accused failed to offer sufficient explanation to attract Section 106 Evidence Act. (Delivered by Hon'ble Karunesh Singh Pawar, J.)

1. Present criminal appeal under Section 374 CrPC has been filed against the judgment of conviction and sentence dated 18.3.1999, passed by Additional District & Sessions Judge, Barabanki in Sessions Trial No.448 of 192, Case Crime No.138 of 1991 under sections 364, 302, 379 I.P.C., P.S. Kursi, district Barabanki whereby and whereunder the appellant accused Subrati has been convicted and sentenced to undergo six years R.I. and to pay a fine of Rs.2000/-, with default stipulation, under Section 364 I.P.C. Other accused persons Subrati, Taukeer and Abul Hassan have been acquitted of the charges framed against them.

2. Heard learned counsel for the appellant Mr. Abhishek Mishra, learned Additional Government Advocate for the State Mr. Ashok Kumar and perused the record.

3. Prosecution case as per the first information report is that the informant Shashibhal Tripathi son of Brijbhushan is a resident of village Khanwaha, P.S. Deva, district Barabanki. Around three years ago, one Malik of Gausar was killed in village Kutlupur, P.S. Fatehpur, in which, son of the complainant was made accused. Since then, the entire family of Malik was inimical towards the family of the informant. It is for this reason that the son of the informant used to live in Lucknow and come home frequently. Today, at about 8.00a.m., he came home from Hero Honda. Subrati came to his house and asked him to accompany him to go to Gramsevak for urgent work. His son went with Subrati on Hero Honda. Then he received information that his son has been killed at 11.00a.m. in village Garhi, Mauja Kursi. Thus, the informant has suspicion that his son has been killed by Tauqeer, his father Abdul Hassan, resident of police station Kursi.

The first information report was registered on 2.12.1991 at 12.10p.m. and Case Crime No.138 of 1991 under sections 364, 302 I.P.C. has been registered.

4. The investigating officer inspected the place of occurrence, took the statement of prosecution witnesses, prepared site plan and after completing the formalities filed charge-sheet in the court of competent jurisdiction. After committal of the case to the Court of Sessions, charges were framed.

5. The prosecution to prove its case has produced as many as seven witnesses, viz. P.W.1 Shashibhushan Tripathi, P.W.2 Smt. Malti Tripathi, mother of the deceased, P.W.3 Smt. Rajkumari, wife of deceased, P.W.4 Dr. B.K. Verma who conducted the post mortem of the deceased, P.W.5 S.I. Shivdatt Singh, P.W.6 Azam Ali Khan who prepared the panchayatnama, Ext. Ka-7 and P.W.7 S.I. Rama Shankar Yadav who had investigated the case and filed charge-sheet.

6. P.W.1 in his examination-in-chief stated that around six years ago, one Malik, A.D.O.M.I. was killed in which his son Satish (deceased) was made accused and for this reason, the family of Malik was inimical to them. His son used to live in Lucknow because of fear. At the time of death, he was having a job of cycle in Mall kasba. He was having friendship with accused Subrati. Abul Hassan is the father of deceased Malik. Subrati was in collusion with Abul Hassan. His wife asked the deceased Satish not to have friendship with Subrati as he is in tie with Abul Hasan and others. The day deceased was killed, he came to him at about 8.00a.m. from Lucknow. Subrati came to call his son and said that they have to go to Block Deva. Both of them went on Hero Honda motorcycle to meet Gram Sevak. Thereafter, the complainant came to know that his son has been killed at around 11.00a.m. It is stated by the witness that his son has been killed by Subrati in collusion with Abul Hassan and Tauqeer. He has proved the written report, Ext. Ka-1.

In the cross-examination, witness has stated that Subrati used to often come to his residence when Satish was at home. His son was in the business of engine and cycle. On the date of incident he was at home and he(P.W.1) was also present. After 10-15 minutes of arrival of his son at home, Subrati came and on the pretext of meeting with Gram Sevak took him. Both of them often used to come and go together. Subrati used to get the loan sanctioned to the farmers and provide engines (pumping sets). It is further stated by the witness that his son had gone with Subrati at about 8.30a.m..Information regarding murder of his son was given by Rahmati, brother of Subrati at Deva. Then he says that he named the accused persons on the basis of suspicion. It is further said that he does not know whether ADOMI was having friendship with his son or was inimical with him. He then said that there has never been any enmity between his son and Subrati, nor it is today. He is also not aware whether Abul Hasan and Taqeer were inimical to his son or not. There has been no enmity between Abul Hasan and others with him or his son. Motorcycle has not been recovered from the spot/place of occurrence and till date, it has not yet been recovered.

7. P.W. 2 Smt. Malti Tripathi is the mother of deceased Satish. This witness being the wife of the complainant Shashibhan Tripathi also deposed in tune with that of the complainant. She deposed that the incident of murder of Malik, in which her son was made an accused. Subrati was in friendship with Abul Hasan and Tauqeer. The accused and her son were friends. She had also warned her son not to be in the company of Subrati as the latter had good terms with Abul Hasan and others. The witness has further stated that her son would live in Lucknow due to his being an accused in the murder of Malik. On the day of murder, her son came home at 8.00a.m. It was Subrati who called her son who was having tea. The moment he came, Subrati said that hurry up, they have to meet Gram Sevak. The deceased went with Subrati on Hero Honda motorcycle. Due to murder of ADOMI, in which her son was accused, Tauqeer and Abul Hassan were inimical to her son.

In cross-examination, the witness has stated that Subrati often used to come to her house 3-4 times a day as he was having friendship with her son since childhood. She also stated that in the murder of her son, according to the villagers, Tauqeer and Abul Hassan are involved. That is why, the witness had also suspected. Her son often used to go with Subrati on motorcycle. It is true that on the basis of suspicion and on saying of some persons, the names of Tauqeer, Abul Hassan have been told to investigating officer. The killers had taken the motorcycle of her son/deceased. It is also true that the rings, money, watch etc the deceased had at the time of incident were looted.

8. Another fact witness P.W.3 Smt. Rajkumari who is the wife of the deceased Satish Chandra Tripathi has stated on oath that three years before, Malik was murdered and it was suspected that her son was involved in the said murder and thereby, the brother of Malik, Tauqeer had inimical terms with her son. The witness stated that Tauqeer and Subrati are friends. On the day of the incident, Subrati had come to her house and called her husband. At that time, she was not at home.

In her cross-examination the witness has stated that Subrati would come to her home very frequently. Subrati used to get engines financed. The motorcycle has also been looted on the date of murder, which has not been recovered till date. Her mother-in-law told that in the murder of her husband, Subrati, Tauqeer and Abul Hassan are involved. This has been told by her mother-in-law on the basis of suspicion.

9. P.W.4, P.W.5, P.W.6 and P.W.7 are the formal witnesses.

P.W.4 Dr. B.K. Verma who conducted the post mortem of the deceased Satish proved the Ext.Ka-2, i.e. the post mortem report. In his cross-examination, Dr. Verma has sated that the shot of fire was made from the distance of 5-6'

10. P.W.5 S.I. Shiv Datt Singh proved Ext. Ka.3.

11. P.W.6 Azam Ali Khan who prepared panchayatnama proved it as Ext.ka-7. In his cross-examination, the witness stated that the statement of the informant and Vimlesh Kumar was recorded after preparation of panchayatnama. Vimlesh Kumar is an eye-witness. Vimlesh Kumar has stated before him that he recognises the culprits and he can identify them, on seeing.

12. P.W.7 is S.I. Rama Shankar Yadav who investigated the case and filed charge-sheet, Ext. Ka-7.

13. Statement of the accused has been recorded under Section 313 CrPC, in which his case is of denial.

14. Trial Court after hearing the parties and perusal of the record as well as appreciation of evidence(s) has convicted the accused appellant and sentenced him under Section 364 I.P.C.

15. While assailing the judgment of conviction, appellant's counsel has submitted that there is no direct or circumstantial evidence against the accused appellant in this case. The appellant has been falsely implicated. No motive has been attributed by the prosecution to the appellant. While putting question No.6 from the accused in his statement under Section 313 CrPC the specific question that on 2.12.1991 when the deceased Satish came from Lucknow to his home, then accused Subrati under the pretext of meeting with Gram Sevak has taken the deceased from his house with an intention to kill or commit his murder has not been put; rather it has been pointed out that it has revealed in the statement of the prosecution witnesses that on 2.12.1991 in the morning when Satish has come to his home village Sanwaha from Lucknow, Subrati under the pretext to meet Gram Sevak took Satish with him. On this, the accused Subrati replied, "galat", i.e. wrong. which is a serious infirmity in the judgment.

Again, while putting question No.12, the specific evidence of particular witnesses has not been put to him; rather collectively in one line, the entire evidence of prosecution has been vaguely put to him which is not proper. It is contended that the appellant has been implicated due to enmity. It is lastly contended that the deceased has been murdered by unknown assailants and his motorcycle, money as well as watch etc have been looted out and thus, it is a case of loot, might have been committed by some strangers.

16. Learned Addl. Government Advocate has supported the judgment and submitted that the prosecution has been successful in proving the case against the accused appellant.

17. I have considered the submission advanced by appellant's counsel, learned Addl. Government Advocate and gone through the judgment rendered by the trial Court as also perused the lower court's records.

18. A perusal of the judgment and order under appeal reveals that the trial Court while acquitting the accused persons, namely Subrati, present appellant, Tauqeer and Abul Hassan for the offence under Section 302, read with Section 34 and Section 379/34, has held the appellant Subrati guilty of offence under Section 364 I.P.C. on the only ground that he had taken the victim Satish from the latter's home on motorcycle at about 8.00 in the morning. In the first information report, the appellant has not been named, nor any suspicion has been raised as against him.

19. Before proceeding further, it would be appropriate to go through the ingredients of Section 364 I.P.C. to prove the offence. To quote Section 364 I.P.C. :

"364. Kidnapping or abducting in order to murder.-Whoever kidnaps or abducts any person in order that such person may be murdered or may be so disposed of as to be put in danger of being murdered, shall be punished with imprisonment for life or rigorous imprisonment for a term which may extend to ten years, and shall also be liable to fine."

20. A bare reading of the definition of Section 364 I.P.C. depicts that the ingredients of the said offence are (1) abduction/kidnapping by the accused must be proved; (2) it must also be proved that he was kidnapped in order to ; (a) that such person may be murdered; or (b) that such person might be disposed of as to be put in danger of being murdered. The intention for which a person is kidnapped must be gathered from the circumstances attending prior to, at the time of and subsequent to the commission of the offence.

21. In the case in hand, the deceased Satish being friend of the appellant had gone with the appellant on his motorcycle, as usual, on being called by the latter in the morning. Except being called by the appellant, there is nothing on record to show that the appellant is in any way involved in the commission of alleged offence. The action of the accused appellant in taking the victim on the motorcycle with a view to meet Gram Sevak cannot attract the necessary ingredients of either the offence of kidnapping or abduction so as to attract Section 364 I.P.C. as held by Hon'ble Supreme Court in Chunda Murmu versus State of West Bengal (2012)5 SCC 753. In this context, it is relevant to quote para 18 as under :

"18. Insofar as the offence under Section 364 IPC is concerned, we have considered the materials on record on the basis of which the aforesaid offence has been held to be proved. According to us, the action of the accused in bringing back his wife to the matrimonial home from the house of PW 6 Bishu Murmu cannot attract the necessary ingredients of either the offence of kidnapping or abduction so as to attract Section 364 IPC.

From the above case law as well as the ingredients of Section 364 I.P.C., it is evident that to establish an offence punishable under Section 364 I.P.C., it must be proved that the person charged with the offence had the intention at the time of the abduction that the person abducted would be murdered or would be so disposed of as to be put to danger of being murdered. In this case, the prosecution had to prove that the appellant accused at the time when he took away the victim Satish had this particular intention. On this element of the offence, no finding has been recorded by the trial Court.

22. It is further significant to note that Malik who was the son of Abul Hassan and brother of Tauqeer was killed three years back, in which the present appellant was made an accused. In case it is taken to be true, for argument's sake, that due to alleged involvement of the victim, the relations between family members of deceased Malik and the victim were not good, but it cannot reasonably be inferred that after three years of the incident of murder of Malik, the incident of murder of Satish can be committed with a view to wreak vengeance, at the instance of the appellant who was in friendship with the victim since childhood.

23. P.W.1 Shashi Bhan Tripathi in his statement has deposed that there has never been any enmity between his son and the appellant Subrati, nor it is today. The mother of the deceased whose statement has been recorded as P.W.2 too has stated that Subrati used to come her home 3-4 times a day, since childhood. Thus, it is proved beyond doubt that Subrati and the victim were the real friends.

P.W.3 who is the wife of the deceased has stated that she was not at home at the time her husband went with Subrati. She received the information of murder of her husband in the evening at about 4.00p.m. Although she deposed that in the murder of her husband, Subrati, present appellant, Tauqeer and Abul Hassan are involved, but she has also stated that she is telling the names of the accused on the basis of suspicion as told by her mother-in-law.

24. It is further important to note that though P.W. 6 Azam Ali Khan who prepared panchayatnama stated that Vimlesh Kumar is an eye-witness and he(Vimlesh Kumar) can recognise the culprits, on seeing but there is no whisper in the judgment passed by the trial Court, in this context. From the perusal of the record, it does not appear that this important witness has been examined.

25. It is further worthy to note that the learned trial court, although recorded the statement of the accused appellant under Section 313 CrPC, but a perusal of the judgment does not disclose the case of the accused, nor there is any whisper as regards the defence of the accused appellant. It is only after holding the accused appellant guilty of offence under Section 364 I.P.C. that the trial court has mentioned in a casual manner that "heard learned counsel for the accused Subrati and Subrati", on the point of sentence. The defence of the appellant has not been dealt with. Further the statement too has been recorded in a very casual and cursory manner, without asking the accused relevant and direct question, as referred to above. Thus, not only the judgment of the trial Court but also the statement under Section 313 CrPC is flawed.

26. In Satbir Singh and another versus State of Haryana 2021 SCC Online SC 404, Hon'ble Supreme Court has observed that that the trial court should not record statement of the accused in a very casual and cursory manner, without specifically questioning the accused as to his defence. To quote para 22 :

"It is a matter of grave concern that, often, Trial Courts record the statement of an accused under Section 313 CrPC in a very casual and cursory manner, without specifically questioning the accused as to his defense. It ought to be noted that the examination of an accused under Section 313 CrPC cannot be treated as a mere procedural formality, as it is based on the fundamental principle of fairness. This provision incorporates the valuable principle of natural justice "audi alteram partem", as it enables the accused to offer an explanation for the incriminatory material appearing against him. Therefore, it imposes an obligation on the part of the Court to question the accused fairly, with care and caution. The Court must put incriminating circumstances before the accused and seek his response. A duty is also cast on the counsel of the accused to prepare his defense, since the inception of the trial, with due caution, keeping in consideration the peculiarities of Section 304-B, IPC read with Section 113-B, Evidence Act. "(Emphasised by me)

27. No specific question was asked from the accused under Section 313 CrPC as to what he did after taking the deceased from his house. Section 106 of the Evidence Act may not be intended to relieve the prosecution of its burden to prove the guilt of the accused beyond reasonable doubt. Section 106 of the Evidence Act would only be applicable where the prosecution had succeeded in proving facts. Since the prosecution failed to establish the facts, it cannot be said that the accused failed to offer sufficient explanation to attract Section 106 Evidence Act.

Further it appears from the perusal of the statement of the accused under Section 313 as also the judgment on the point that the appellant was not afforded opportunity to put his defence. Learned trial court also did not examine the defence of the accused. The court must put incriminating circumstances before the accused and seek his response. Section 232 CrPC provides, "If, after taking the evidence for the prosecution, examining the accused and hearing the prosecution and the defence on the point, the Judge considers that there is no evidence that the accused committed the offence, the Judge shall record an order of acquittal. Such discretion must be utilised by the trial Courts as an obligation of best efforts.

28. It also appears that there is no evidence on the record nor discussed in the judgment of the trial Court to show that the deceased Satish had been abducted for causing his murder or with a view to see that he was murdered, as envisaged under Section 364 I.P.C. Learned trial Judge nowhere in the judgment gave his satisfaction as regards the state of mind of the appellant accused at the time of the alleged abduction and thus, the judgment of conviction suffers from serious infirmity and warrants interference by this Court in its appellate jurisdiction.

29. In view of what has been discussed hereinabove, the appeal is allowed and the judgment and order dated 18.3.1999 (supra) is set aside. The bail bonds are discharged.

Pending application, if any stands disposed of.

30. Let a copy of the order be sent to the trial Court as also the lower court records.

Neeraj @ Kalua ...Appellant (In Jail)
Versus
State of U.P. ...Respondent

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri Apul Mishra, Sri Shailendra Singh Rathore, Sri V.P. Singh Kashyap, Sri Vinod Singh

Counsel for the Respondent:
A.G.A.

A. Criminal Law – Indian Penal Code, 1860 – Sections 304B & 498-A – Dowry Prohibition Act, 1961 – Sections 3 & 4 – Dowry Death – Death due to burning – Unnatural circumstances – Held, if a married woman dies in unnatural circumstances in her matrimonial home within seven years of her marriage and there are allegations of cruelty or harassment upon such married woman in connection with demand of dowry by her husband or relatives of the husband, the case would squarely come under dowry death. (Para 10)

B. Criminal Law – Indian Penal Code, 1860 – Section 201 – Causing disappearance of evidence – No post-mortem report conducted – Body of deceased cremated without informing the parent – Father of the deceased said that when he came to the house of her daughter, he did not find the body of his daughter and she had already been cremated – Held, it is established by the prosecution that after the death of deceased, her body was cremated without getting the postmortem done to destroy the evidence which is an offence under Section 201 I.P.C. (Para 19 and 21)

C. Criminal Law – Dowry Prohibition Act, 1961 – Section 2 – Dowry – Meaning and definition – Dowry means any property or valuable security given or agreed to be given either directly or indirectly by one party to the other party at or before or any time after the marriage in connection with the marriage of said parties – Emphasis on property or valuable security given 'at or before' or 'any time after the marriage in connection with the marriage of said parties'. (Para 12)

D. Evidence Act, 1872 – Section 113-B – Presumption of dowry death – Applicability – Held, if it is shown that soon before her death such woman has been subjected to cruelty or harassment by the accused for, or in connection with any demand of dowry, the Court shall presume that such person has caused the dowry death – Any demand of money or anything else must relate with the marriage – Admittedly deceased died after one and half years of her marriage i.e. within seven years of her marriage and she died in her matrimonial home and her death was due to burning and it was an unnatural death otherwise in normal circumstances – Presumption of causing dowry death arisen. (Para 10 and 13)

E. Evidence Act, 1872 –Section 113-B – Presumption – Nature – Onus to proof, when it shift on the accused – Held, presumption under Section 113-B of Indian Evidence Act is rebuttable, hence now onus shifts on the accused to prove as to how the deceased died – It is for the accused to show that the death of the deceased did not result from any cruelty or demand of dowry by the accused persons/appellant. (Para 15)

F. Criminal trial – Criminal Procedure Code, 1973 – Section 313 – Defence – Burden of proof – Burden is on the shoulder of appellant to prove the defence under Section 313 Cr.P.C. – Defence witness stated in his cross-examination that he does not know as to how deceased died. At the time of occurrence, he was not there – Held, there is no evidence on behalf of appellant on record, hence appellant miserably failed to prove the reason of committing suicide by the deceased – Conviction held justified. 3. Maya Devi & anr. Vs St.of Har. AIR (2016) Supreme Court 125

1. Heard the arguments of learned counsel for the appellant and learned A.G.A. for the State and perused the record.

2. This Appeal has been preferred against the order and judgement dated 23.12.2016 passed by Additional Sessions Judge (F.T.C.), Court No.03, Bulandshahr in S.T. No. 403 of 2015, Neeraj alias Kalua Vs. State of U.P. arising out of Case Crime No. 186 of 2015 convicting and sentencing the appellant under Section 498-A I.P.C. for two years' imprisonment with fine of Rs. 5,000/-, in case of default, four months' additional imprisonment; under Section 304B I.P.C. for 10 years' imprisonment; under Section 201 I.P.C. for two years' imprisonment with fine of Rs. 5,000/-, in case of default, four months additional imprisonment; under Section 3 of Dowry Prohibition Act for five years' imprisonment with fine of Rs.15,000/-, in case of default, one year additional imprisonment; under Section 4 of Dowry Prohibition Act for one year imprisonment with fine of Rs. 3,000/-, in case of default, two months' additional imprisonment. All the punishments were directed to run simultaneously.

3. Brief facts of the case are that complainant, Mahesh has lodged First Information Report in Police Station, Kotwali Dehat, District Bulandshahr stating therein that her daughter Shikha, aged about 22 years, got married on 13-11-2013, with Neeraj S/o Murari, Village Akhtiyarpur, District Bulandshahr with Hindu rituals in which he gave articles, jewellery, clothes, motorcycle, etc. in dowry as per his capacity. In all, complainant spent Rs. 7,00,000/- to Rs. 8,00,000/- in her marriage. Even then, in-laws of her daughter were not happy with the dowry given and after some days of marriage, they started beating his daughter. After six months of marriage, Neeraj demanded Rs. 2,00,000/- for purchasing a car which was paid to him by the complainant, after that also, his daughter was continuously beaten, thereafter Rs. 1,00,000/- lakh were given to Neeraj but even after that, he continued beating his daughter. On 14-03-2015, his daughter has been murdered by his son-in-law, Neeraj, his father, Murari, mother, Sheela Devi and brothers, Vishnu and Kuldeep and for hiding his daughter's body, they cremated her without giving any information to him. It is also stated that complainant sister's son, Dhara Singh, who resides in the same village, informed complainant regarding the killing and cremation of his daughter. After getting this information, complainant came to the Police Station from Delhi. On this first information, Case No. 186 of 2015 under Sections 498A, 304 B, 201 IPC and Sections 3 and 4 of Dowry Prohibition Act was registered against above-mentioned accused persons.

4. After investigation, Investigating Officer submitted charge-sheet against accused Neeraj alias Kalua, Vishnu and Smt. Sheela Devi. Murari and Kuldeep were summoned by the learned trial court for trial under Section 319 Cr.P.C. Learned trial court framed charges under Section 498A, 304 B, 201 IPC and Section 3 and 4 of Dowry Prohibition Act against the accused persons and after considering the evidence on record, learned trial court convicted and sentenced only accused Neeraj alias Kalua under Section 498-A I.P.C. for two years' imprisonment with fine of Rs. 5,000/-, in case of default, four months' additional imprisonment; under Section 304B I.P.C. for 10 years' imprisonment; under Section 201 I.P.C. for two years' imprisonment with fine of Rs. 5,000/-, in case of default, four months additional imprisonment; under Section 3 of Dowry Prohibition Act for five years' imprisonment with fine of Rs.15,000/-, in case of default, one year additional imprisonment; under Section 4 of Dowry Prohibition Act for one year imprisonment with fine of Rs. 3,000/-, in case of default, two months' additional imprisonment. Rest of the accused persons were acquitted by learned trial court, hence his appeal has been filed by appellant, Neeraj alias Kalua.

5. First of all, learned counsel for appellant has argued that in this case prosecution has miserably failed to prove the demand of dowry made by the appellant. Appellant never demanded anything from the deceased-wife or her parents which could be considered as dowry demand. Learned counsel has argued that prosecution has produced two witnesses of facts i.e. P.W. 2, Mohini Devi, who is mother of the deceased and P.W. 3, Mahesh Chand who is father of the deceased. Both the witnesses have stated in their statements that they paid Rs.2,00,000/- to the appellant for starting a dairy. If this statement is assumed to be true, even then, it does not relate to demand in connection of marriage.

6. Learned counsel for the appellant has referred the judgement of Vipin Jaiswal Vs. State of Andhra Pradesh (2013) 3 SCC 684 and submitted that if any demand is made for investing money in business then it cannot be said as a dowry demand. Learned counsel further argued that P.W. 3, Mahesh Chand, father of the deceased has said in his statement that only Neeraj used to demand the money for starting milk dairy which he got started, hence, it is admission of father of the deceased that he paid money only for starting a milk diary which had no connection with the marriage at all.

7. Per contra, learned A.G.A. submitted that apart from the payment of Rs. 2,00,000/-, appellant was paid additional Rs. 1,00,000/- also and even after that, appellant continued with maltreatment to the deceased and after that, he pressurized the deceased and her parents to transfer their land in his name which had no connection with any business and for not getting the demand fulfilled, he killed his wife and if it is assumed that deceased committed suicide by setting herself ablazed, even then, suicide was the result of pressure of demand of dowry made by accused and due to beating her regularly. Learned A.G.A. also next argued that deceased died just after one and half years of her marriage and her death was otherwise than in normal circumstances. It was unnatural death occurred within seven years of her marriage and it is proved by prosecution witnesses that before the occurrence, she was subjected to cruelty by appellant in connection with demand of additional dowry, hence in such circumstances as per Section 113B of Indian Evidence Act, a presumption of dowry death will be drawn and the death of deceased, whether it is homicide, suicide or accidental, will be covered under dowry death as envisaged under Section 304 B I.P.C.

8. For ready reference, it is relevant to reproduce Section 304B IPC which reads as under:

"304B. Dowry death.-- (1) Where the death of a woman is caused by any burns or bodily injury or occurs otherwise than under normal circumstances within seven years of her marriage and it is shown that soon before her death she was subjected to cruelty or harassment by her husband or any relative of her husband for, or in connection with, any demand for dowry, such death shall be called "dowry death", and such husband or relative shall be deemed to have caused her death.

Explanation.-- For the purposes of this sub-section, "dowry" shall have the same meaning as in section 2 of the Dowry Prohibition Act, 1961 (28 of 1961).*

(2) Whoever commits dowry death shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which shall not be less than seven years but which may extend to imprisonment for life."

9. For ready reference, Section 113-B of Indian Evidence Act is also reproduced which reads as under:

"113B. Presumption as to dowry death.--When the question is whether a person has committed the dowry death of a woman and it is shown that soon before her death such woman has been subjected by such person to cruelty or harassment for, or in connection with, any demand for dowry, the Court shall presume that such person had caused the dowry death.

Explanation.--For the purposes of this section, "dowry death" shall have the same meaning as in section 304B of the Indian Penal Code, (45 of 1860)."*

10. If a married woman dies in unnatural circumstances in her matrimonial home within seven years of her marriage and there are allegations of cruelty or harassment upon such married woman in connection with demand of dowry by her husband or relatives of the husband, the case would squarely come under dowry death. And for that, presumption of dowry death will arise under Section 113B of Indian Evidence Act which says that if it is shown that soon before her death such woman has been subjected to cruelty or harassment by the accused for, or in connection with any demand of dowry, the Court shall presume that such person has caused the dowry death. Now here comes the question of dowry first. It is obvious that any demand of money or anything else must relate with the marriage.

11. Learned counsel for appellant has argued that demanding or paying Rs. 2,00,000/- for starting milk diary cannot be said to be demanded in connection with marriage and it will not come under the definition of dowry.

12. PW 2, Mohini Devi, mother of deceased has said in her statement that appellant was not happy with the dowry given in marriage of her daughter and he started demanding additional dowry. P.W. 3, Mahesh Chand, father of deceased also said in his statement that appellant used to beat his daughter for not meeting out the demand of additional dowry. Further, both the witnesses have also said that appellant also put demand before them to transfer their land in his name, hence, it cannot be said that the demand by appellant was confined only to the extent of starting milk dairy but demand of additional dowry in the name of cash and land was connected with marriage also. Section 2 of Dowry Prohibition Act 1961 states that the dowry means any property or valuable security given or agreed to be given either directly or indirectly by one party to the other party at or before or any time after the marriage in connection with the marriage of said parties. Thus, the emphasis on property or valuable security given "at or before" or "any time after the marriage in connection with the marriage of said parties". In this case both the witnesses, P.W. 2 and P.W. 3 have clearly stated that the accused was unhappy with the quantity of dowry given at the time of marriage and demand of additional dowry was being made by appellant and for that reason there was continuous beating of deceased by the appellant, hence, on the basis of facts and evidence of this case, it cannot be said that appellant demanded money only and only to start the milk-dairy, hence, the case laws submitted by learned counsel for the appellant i.e. Vipin Jaiswal Vs. State of Andhra Pradesh (2013) 3 SCC 684 does not apply in this case.

13. It is an admitted fact that deceased died after one and half years of her marriage i.e. within seven years of her marriage and she died in her matrimonial home and her death was due to burning and it was an unnatural death otherwise in normal circumstances, hence, the presumption under Section 113B of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872 arises and it shall be presumed that it was a dowry death. It is also a burden of prosecution to prove that the deceased was subjected to cruelty soon before her death. In this regard, P.W. 3, Mahesh Chand, father of deceased has said in his cross-examination that before 4-5 days of her death, Shikha (his deceased-daughter) came to his house and told that her in-laws harassed her to the great extent and they were demanding land in additional dowry and if he doesn't transfer the land in favour of accused, they would kill her. It was the statement of deceased made before 4-5 days of her death.

14. Though the language used is "soon before her death", but no definite period has been indicated in this regard and the expression "soon before her death" has not been defined in Section 113B of Indian Evidence Act or in Section 304B IPC. Accordingly, the period which can come within the term "soon before her death" is to be determined by the Court depending upon the facts and circumstances of each case because it may vary from case to case but it is necessary that interval between the cruelty or harassment and the death in question should not be very wide. In other word, there must be existence of her proximate and live link between the effect of cruelty based on dowry demand and the death concerned. In the present case, P.W. 3 has stated in his statement that just before four to five days of her death, her daughter came to his house and complained about the harassment and demand of additional dowry. So it can very well come in the ambit of phrase "soon before her death".

15. In the light of discussion made above, prosecution has established that the death of the deceased was dowry death. The presumption under Section 113B of Indian Evidence Act is rebuttable, hence now onus shifts on the accused to prove as to how the deceased died. It is for the accused to show that the death of the deceased did not result from any cruelty or demand of dowry by the accused persons/appellant.

16. Appellant has taken up case that the deceased has herself committed suicide but Hon'ble Apex Court in Surinder Singh & Anr. Vs. State of Punjab 1999 (1) Crimes 429 and Maya Devi and Another Vs. State of Haryana AIR (2016) Supreme Court 125 has held that a homicidal or suicidal or accidental, all three types of deaths come under the purview of dowry death. In his statement under Section 313 Cr.P.C., the accused appellant has set up the case and stated that the deceased was of irritating nature and she committed suicide by locking the door of the room from inside and he took her out after breaking the door with the help of villagers. It is also stated in his statement that cremation of deceased was made in the presence of her father and after that, on instigation of his wife, father of the deceased made illegal demand of money from appellant and due to not meeting out that demand, he was falsely implicated in this case.

17. Now, it is the burden on the shoulder of appellant to prove the defence under Section 313 Cr.P.C. for which the defence witness, Dalchand was produced as D.W. 1 but this witness has stated in his cross-examination that he does not know as to how Shikha died. At the time of occurrence, he was not there. He has also stated in cross-examination that deceased Shikha was of feeble minded and irritating in nature. She got treatment also for that but he failed to disclose as to which doctor had treated her. Besides this, there is no evidence on behalf of appellant on record, hence appellant miserably failed to prove the reason of committing suicide by the deceased. Moreover, it is not worth-believing that if a person is of irritating nature, he or she will commit suicide only due to that reason. In Surinder Singh & Anr. Vs. State of Punjab (Supra), it is also held by Hon'ble Apex Court that husband being the direct beneficiary can be inferred to have caused life of his wife so miserable that she was compelled to commit suicide.

18. Appellant is not able to rebut the presumption of dowry death in this case.

19. Now, here comes the conduct of accused appellant after death of his wife. In this regard, learned counsel for appellant argued that after the death of deceased, her father was duly informed, after that, he came from Delhi and cremation took place with his consent in his presence but I do not agree with this argument from the side of appellant because it is against the evidence on record. P.W. 3, father of the deceased has said in his statement that when he came to the house of her daughter, he did not find the body of his daughter and she had already been cremated while destroying the evidence. He has also stated in his cross-examination that police personnel had already gone after taking the ashes of fire of his daughter even before his reaching there. P.W. 2 and P.W. 3, both the witnesses have stated in their statements that when they reached the house of their daughter, she had already been cremated and appellant and his family members have already fled from there.

20. Perusal of record also shows that police went to the house of deceased and collected wooden pieces of door of the room which was half burnt and police also collected some hair, pieces of bangle, burnt pieces of saree etc. from inside the room and police sealed above articles on the spot. This recovery-memo is proved by P.W. 6 as Exhibit-Ka 8 and in this recovery-memo, it is written that when the police physically inspected the place of offence, there was nobody present in the house and all were found absconded. These collected articles from the spot were sent to Forensic Science Laboratory, Agra for chemical examination. That report dated 22, July 2016 is on record and in this report, it is opined that in pieces of burnt cloth, it could not be opined that there was human skin present in these clothes and whether burnt bones and ashes were of human bones or not but it was opined in this report that the hair was found to be human hair.

21. Investigating Officer also prepared one site plan, Exhibit-Ka 4 which relates to the place of occurrence and in addition to that Investigating Officer also prepared site-plan, Exhibit-Ka 5 which shows place where the dead body of deceased was cremated behind a school, hence it is established and proved by the prosecution that after the death of deceased, her body was cremated without getting the postmortem done to destroy the evidence which is an offence under Section 201 I.P.C. The conduct of accused appellant after the death of his wife also establishes that he had tried to destroy the evidence because if the deceased had committed suicide and appellant was not responsible for that then he would have informed the police but the accused neither informed the police nor informed the parents of deceased and even before arrival of parents of deceased, dead body of the deceased was cremated and accused fled away from his residence. So his conduct is also contrary to the defence taken by him under Section 313 Cr.P.C.

22. No other argument has been placed by learned counsel for the appellant before this Court.

23. Hence, keeping in view the above discussion, this Court is of the opinion that learned trial court has rightly appreciated the evidence on record and rightly convicted and sentenced the accused Neeraj alias Kalua.

24. The appeal lacks merit and is liable to be dismissed, and is accordingly dismissed.

3. In brief the prosecution case is that an application written by Raj Karan under the thumb impression of victim/informant Sarita dated 05.03.2011 was given at Police Station- Bidhnu alleging therein that " applicant- Smt. Sarita is the wife of Govind Kureel resident of Pahadpur- Tulsinagar. In the night of 04.03.2011 in between 11:00 to 12:00 O'clock my husband suddenly attacked me while I was sleeping and assaulted me with lathi-danda, bricks and kick and punches, due to which I suffered grievous injuries and thereafter he went away threating me and locking my room from outside. On the aforesaid, application case crime no.97 of 2011 under Sections 323, 504, 506, 308 IPC was registered and the investigation commenced. The Investigating Officer, visited the place of occurrence from where he took one blood stained piece of brick and sealed it, he also collected blood stained and unstained soil from the place of occurrence and sealed it and prepared the memo and site plan, recorded the statements of scribe victim/ complainant and other witnesses and after completion of the investigation, submitted the charge-sheet under Section 308, 323, 504, 506 IPC.

4. The learned trial court framed the charges against the accused-appellant Govind Kureel under Sections 308, 323, 504 and 506 I.P.C. The accused denied the charges and claimed for trial, the prosecution lead its evidence and examined eight witnesses. Statement of accused recorded under Section 313 Cr.P.C. in which he denied all the allegations and stated that he has been falsely implicated. No evidence in defence has been produced. The learned trial court after hearing the arguments by the impugned judgment has held the accused-Govind Kureel guilty for charge under Sections 308 and 323 IPC but acquitted him from the charges under Sections 504 and 506 IPC. The learned trial court has imposed sentence of four years rigorous imprisonment with fine of Rs.20,000/- for offence under Section 308 IPC only.

5. The medical examination of complainant/ victim namely- Smt. Sarita was conducted on 05.03.2011 at about 11:05 a.m. by Dr. Y.K. Nigam in Hallett Hospital, Kanpur Nagar and according to medical report Ex. Ka-6, the condition of patient was kept under observation:

Pulse rate - 78 per minute

B.P. - 126/70 mmHg
Respiratory Rate - 18 per minute
Temperature – normal
Hydration – Indefinite Chest – clear
Abdomen – Soft
Patient was conscious but drowsing Pupils – normal

Injuries:

Lacerated wound on the face extending from forehead to right side nose to right side of upper lip measuring 22 cm X 10 cm X bonedeep. X-Ray Advised.

Dr. has opined that the injury is kept under observation, fresh, due to blunt and hard object, X-Ray advised, police informed, patient admitted under care of doctor Harendra Gautam vide BHT No.5035 of 2011 department of E.N.T. for expert treatment and management.

6. The Complainant Smt. Sarita P.W.-1 is the injured and main witness. In her examination in chief, she has said that the accused- Govind Kureel is her husband. The incident is of 04.03.2011 in between 11:00 to 12:00 p.m., she and her husband Govind Kureel were present in the house. She ought to prevent her husband from wrong doing and due to this her husband Govind Kureel attacked her with a brick and assaulted many times on her face and on her noise, Govind Kureel ran away locking the door from outside. In the morning, the uncle of her husband (Chachiya Sasur), came to know about her condition which was serious and he took her to the police station where he wrote an application on her dictation on which she put her thumb impression. Thereafter she was taken to the Hallett Hospital where she was medically examined and got treatment and admitted in the said hospital for 17 to 18 days. Her face and nose is permanently disfigured in this incident.

7. Razol Saini (P.W.-2) is the formal witness who has proved the memo of taking into possession of blood stained brick and blood stained and unstained soil from the place of occurrence by the Investigating Officer.

8. Chandra Pal (P.W.-3) is the father of the accused. From his testimony, it appears that he is not an eye-witness and at the time of incident he was at his native village while complainant and accused were at Pahadpur Tulsinagar and he has also stated that on information he reached Hallett Hospital where her daughter in law Sarita was admitted in injured condition but he does not know who has committed the alleged incident.

9. Raj Karan (P.W.-4) is the scribe of the FIR. In his examination in chief he has said that Govind Kureel is his real nephew and he lives with his wife Smt. Sarita in his neighbourhood. In the morning when he came from his duty, he saw that his elder brother Chote Lal, wife Ram Wati were carrying Smt. Sarita in a tempo to hospital, he also accompanied them to the hospital, there were serious injuries on the face of Smt. Sarita and she was under treatment for several days in the Hallett Hospital. The witness further stated that Sub-Inspector got his signatures on a plain paper and he has not written anything on it. He has not written any application and also not written any report on behalf of Sarita. This witness is close relation of accused and it appears that due to this he has disowned his writing the application on which the FIR has been lodged. In his cross-examination he has admitted this fact that Ex.Ka-1 is in his hand writing and earlier he has giving false statement that the application is not in his hand writing. He has also admitted this fact that Smt. Sarita have a good character.

10. Learned counsel for the appellant further contended that the incident is of midnight and it was darkness. The witness herself has admitted that she has not seen who assaulted her, so there is no evidence against the accused and his identification is also doubtful. This argument has no substance. Although the incident occurred in the midnight and darkness and P.W.-1 Smt. Sarita in her cross-examination has admitted that at the time of occurrence, it was dark and she was sleeping, she has also said that she has not seen who assaulted her but she has further stated that when the accused pressed her neck then she recognized him from his voice. The victim is the wife of the accused and from the record it is also clear that only victim and the accused were present in the house at the time of occurrence and after assaulting the victim, the accused went away from the place of occurrence locking the door from outside. In these circumstances, there is no ground for making suspicion about the identity of the accused. The accused has also not put up any case in defence and there is no suggestion that any outsider has entered and committed the incident.

11. Learned counsel for the appellant further contended that the FIR has been lodged on the next day after 12 hrs of the incident and there is considerable delay in lodging the FIR, casting doubt on the prosecution story. The learned AGA submitted that the delay has been reasonably explained as the accused has locked the injured in the room and she was detected in the morning by the family members of her husband then she was taken to the police station and hospital. The incident occurred in the mid-night and the FIR has been lodged on the next day i.e. 05.03.2011 at about 12:45 p.m. The reasons for delay is fully explained, the victim was alone in her house and after committing the crime the accused locked her from outside and she was in badly injured condition and when the matter was detected by her Chachiya Sasur then the FIR was lodged.

12. The remaining witnesses S.I.- Mohan Lal Dixit (P.W.-5) and S.I.- Yadu Nath Singh (P.W.-6) and head constable Manoj Kumar (P.W.-8) are formal, the Investigating Officer and chick/ G.D. writer.

13. The only eye witness account is that of Smt. Sarita (P.W.-1) the injured. The incident has occurred inside the house of complainant/ injured and she has implicated her husband. The victim/ complainant Smt. Sarita has supported the prosecution case from her oral testimony. The medical evidence on record also corroborates the ocular version of the complainant/ victim P.W.-1. Dr. Y.K. Nigam (P.W.-7) in his examination in chief has said that the injury was fresh and was caused by hard and blunt object, so the medical evidence fully corroborates the ocular version and there is no contradiction between the two.

14. The statement of the victim- Smt. Sarita is reliable and trustworthy and there is no major discrepancy or contradiction in her statement, which makes it unreliable and there is no reason to disbelieve her testimony which is also corroborated by the medical evidence and there is no reason for false implication.

15. From the evidence on record, it is also established that injury has been caused on the face and due to which her face and nose were disfigured, injured was admitted to the hospital and she remained in hospital for 17-18 days. The discharge slip of Medical College, Kanpur Nagar is also on record, according to which injured Smt. Sarita was admitted in the hospital on 05.03.2011 and was discharged on 22.03.2011.The injury report also shows that injury was extended from forehead of right side of nose to right side of upper lip, her entire face was damaged.

16. The learned trial court has fully discussed the entire evidence and has properly appreciated it and has rightly held the accused guilty for offence under Section 308 IPC. There is no illegality or perversity in the findings recorded by the learned trial court and the finding of conviction is upheld.

17. The learned Amicus Curaie Mr. Shwetashwa Agarwal submitted that it is a matter of quarrel between husband and wife and the incident is 10 years old, appellant-accused is in jail since 19.07.2018 he also remained in jail at the time of his arrest for more than two months and has completed more than three years and three months imprisonment. Learned counsel prayed that the sentence of undergone may be imposed.

18. The learned trial court has sentenced the accused for four years rigorous imprisonment and a fine of Rs.20,000/- and in default of payment of fine three months simple imprisonment.

19. Considering the nature of the offence, nature of the injuries and all other attending facts and circumstances of the case, it appears to be just to sentence the accused with three years and six months rigorous imprisonment and a fine of Rs.10,000/- and in default of payment of fine three months simple imprisonment. If the fine is deposited the victim- Smt. Sarita will get half of the fine amount.

18. The appeal is partly allowed in the aforesaid terms.

19. Copy of this judgment along with lower court record be transmitted to the learned trial court immediately. The copy of the judgment be also served on accused through Superintendent of Jail, concerned so that he may be able to deposit the fine, if he so desires.

THE HON'BLE SYED AFTAB HUSAIN RIZVI, J.

Criminal Appeal No. 508 of 1988

Mainpal ...Appellant (In Jail)
Versus
State ...Respondent

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri Anil Malik, Sri Kulveer Singh, Sri Deepesh Kumar Ojha

Counsel for the Respondent:
A.G.A.

(A) Criminal Law - appeal against conviction - Indian Penal Code, 1860 - Section 376 - rape - The Code of criminal procedure, 1973 - Section 313 - absence of injury on the prosecutrix may not be a factor that leads the court to absolve the accused - mere delay in lodging the FIR does not adversely affect the prosecution case unless it is proved that delay in lodging FIR was due to deliberation and consultation making it possible to frame innocent persons - Minor contradictions or insignificant discrepancies in the statement of a prosecutrix should not be a ground for throwing out an otherwise reliable prosecution case - Evidence of the victim of sexual assault is enough for conviction and it does not require any corroboration unless there are compelling reasons for seeking corroboration.(Para - 8,10,12)

At the time of incident - Victim (PW-1) was cutting grass in the field - about 2:00 - 2:30 pm - accused /appellant came from inside sugar-cane field - forcefully dragged victim against her will into the sugar-cane field - committed rape with her - On her noise, her Jethani (PW-2) came there at that time accused was committing rape - appellant ran away - other co - villager also saw him running away - complaint filed by husband of victim - trial court held victim guilty for offence under Section 376 IPC - hence appeal.

HELD:-Victim has fully corroborated the allegations made in the FIR and another eye witness, P.W.-2 has also supported her. Oral statement of the two witnesses are consistent and there is no discrepancy or contradiction, and hence, no reason to disbelieve them. No perversity or illegality in the findings of the trial court. Prosecution case stands proved and finding of conviction recorded by the trial court is just and proper.(Para -13, 14)

3. St. of Pun. Vs Gurmit Singh, (1996) 2 SCC 384

(Delivered by Hon'ble Syed Aftab Husain Rizvi, J.)

1. Heard Sri Kulveer singh, learned counsel for the appellant, learned AGA for the state and perused the material on record.

2. This Criminal Appeal has been filed against the judgment and order dated 29.2.1988 passed by Vth Additional Session Judge, Saharanpur in Sessions Trial No. 167 of 1987 arising out of Case Crime No. 13 of 1986, Police Station - Manglore, District - Saharanpur convicting the appellant under section 376 IPC for five years rigorous imprisonment and to pay a fine of Rs. 1,000/- and in default of fine three months Simple imprisonment.

3. In brief, the prosecution case is that complainant - Chandu gave a written information at Police Station - Mangalore that on 14.1.1986 his wife was cutting grass in field of Satyawan. His Bhabhi was also cutting grass at some distance. At about 2:30 p.m. his co-villager Mainpal came from inside the sugar-cane field and forcefully dragged his wife into the sugar-cane field intimidating her and pressing her mouth and committed rape with her. On getting opportunity, his wife make a noise, then his sister-in-law (Bhabhi) - Rajo went inside the sugar-cane field and saw Mainpal committing rape with the wife of the complainant. Seeing this incident, Rajo made a noise and on her noise, other co-villager- Rajpal came there, then Mainpal holding his trouser in his hand ran away from there, intimidating and saying that if any action is taken, he will kill all of them. When complainant came to the house, his wife told the whole incident but due to fear, he could not go to the Police Station. On getting opportunity, he went to the Police Station for lodging the FIR. On the aforesaid information, Case Crime No. 13 of 1986 under Section 376 IPC was registered against accused - Mainpal on 15.1.1986. Investigating officer recorded the statement of complainant, victim and other witnesses. Victim was also medically examined. Investigating officer also took in possession one piece of Salwar which the victim was wearing at the time of occurrence and prepared its memo. After completion of the investigation, charge sheet was submitted.

4. Learned trial court framed charge against the accused - Mainpal under Section 376 IPC, accused denied it and claimed for trial. Prosecution produced four witnesses. Statement of accused was recorded under Section 313 Cr.P.C. Accused denied the prosecution version and has further stated that he has been falsely implicated due to enmity. Learned trial court after hearing the arguments by the impugned judgement has held him guilty for offence under Section 376 IPC and sentenced him to five year rigorous imprisonment and fine of rupees 1000/-.

5. Victim was medically examined and his medico legal report and supplementary report are on record but the same have not been got proved by the prosecution. According to the medico legal report, height of the victim was 150 cm, weight 100 pounds. In External examination, breasts were well developed, axillary hair present. In internal examination, vagina admits two fingers easily, hymen torn, old & healed, uterus normal size. Victim was referred for X-ray to assess her age and vaginal smear examination for the presence of spermatozoa.

6. According to the supplementary report on basis of radiologist report her age was above 18 years. No opinion about rape was possible as she was used to sexual intercourse.

7. In all four witnesses have been examined by the prosecution out of which PW-1 is victim herself. She has fully corroborated the FIR allegations and has stated that at the time of occurrence she was cutting grass in the field. At about 2:00 - 2:30 pm, accused - Mainpal came from inside the sugar-cane field and forcefully dragged her against her will into the sugar-cane field and committed rape with her. On her noise, her Jethani - Rajo came there at that time accused was committing rape and thereafter he ran away holding his trouser in his hand, Rajpal also saw him running away. Rajo the eyewitness has also been examined as PW-2 and she has also corroborated the statement of PW-1 - the victim. Both these witnesses have been cross examined at length by the defence but there is no major discrepancy or contradiction in their statements which makes their statements unreliable or untrustworthy.

8. Learned counsel for the appellant contended that according to the prosecution case, accused forcefully dragged the victim into the sugar-cane field and put her down on the ground and committed rape in the field itself. Victim in her statement has also admitted that when she was forcefully dragged into the sugar-cane field then sugar-cane leaves rubbed against her body but no visible mark of injury has been found on the body of the victim in medical examination which is improbable. In the circumstances of the case the marks of abrasion / contusion should have been found on the body of the victim and the medical report does not support the ocular version and the testimony of the witness is not trustworthy.

This point was raised before the trial court and the trial court in paragraph 2 of page 10 has dealt with it and has observed that victim was medically examined after two days of the incident. At paragraph 6 of page 4, she has stated that when the accused caught her then she put some resistance and also requested the accused not to commit such act with her. In these circumstances, there was little possibility of injuries on the body of the victim. The aforesaid observation of learned trial court appears to be reasonable and proper. The absence of visible injuries, in the circumstances of the case does not make the prosecution version doubtful or unreliable.

In State of U.P. Vs. Pappu, (2005) 3 SCC 594, it has been held that absence of injury on the prosecutrix may not be a factor that leads the court to absolve the accused.

9. Learned counsel further contended that the alleged incident is of 14.1.1986 at 2:30 p.m. but first information report has been lodged on 15.1.1986 at 7:35 p.m. after more than 29 hours, so there is considerable delay in lodging the FIR. The explanation of delay as given in the FIR is not sufficient. In the oral testimony, it is that when complainant came in the evening the whole incident was narrated by the victim to him but no FIR was lodged on that day. On the next day, complainant went to his duty and thereafter FIR has been lodged in the evening so there is no sufficient explanation of the delay. This argument has also got no force. In the FIR itself, it is mentioned that complainant could not come to the police station due to fear and on getting opportunity he has come to lodge the FIR. It has also come in the evidence that complainant and victim belong to Schedule Caste while accused is Gurjar. He has threatened the complainant and victim of evil consequences if they lodge any report or take any action. Apart from this in case of such a nature, due to fear of social stigma, the people avoid to take any action promptly.

In the case of State of Punjab Vs. Gurmit Singh, 1996 (2) SCC 384, the Hon'ble Supreme Court has held as under:-

"The Courts cannot overlook the fact that in sexual offences and, in particular, the offence of rape and that too on a young illiterate girl, the delay in lodging the FIR can occur due to various reasons. One of the reasons is the reluctance of the prosecutrix or her family members to go to the police station and to make a complaint about the incident, which concerns the reputation of the prosecutrix and the honour of the entire family. In such cases, after giving very cool thought and considering all pros and cons arising out of an unfortunate incident, a complaint of sexual offence is generally lodged either by victim or by any member of her family. Indeed, this has been the consistent view of this Court as has been held in."

10. It is also well settled law that mere delay in lodging the FIR does not adversely affect the prosecution case unless it is proved that delay in lodging FIR was due to deliberation and consultation making it possible to frame innocent persons. In this case, there is no evidence on record to show that there was any deliberation or consultation and there is no reason for false implication.

11. Lastly, learned counsel for the appellant contended that the prosecution story is highly improbable because in the FIR it has been alleged that at the time of incident the victim along with her sister-in-law (Jethani) was cutting grass in the field of Satyawan when the accused forcefully dragged her into the sugar-cane field. In this circumstance, it was natural and probable that sister-in-law - Rajo should have noticed it at the very moment and should have made a hue and cry but nothing like this sort has happened and accused was successful in dragging the victim into sugar-cane field and committing rape with her. It appears from the circumstances that victim was a consenting party but when the incident was noticed by her sister-in-law (Jethani), the story as alleged in the FIR was cooked up. This argument has also no force because it has come in the evidence that sister-in-law of the victim was cutting grass 50 to 60 paces away from the victim. The victim - P.W.-1 in her examination-in-chief has stated that her Jethani was cutting grass in Arhar field 50 to 60 paces away from her while she was cutting grass in the sugar-cane field. In site plan, Exhibit (Ka-2) also the place where victim was cutting grass has been shown with letter (A) while the place where sister-in-law of the victim was cutting grass has been shown with letter (B) and the distance between the two is 64 paces. So it is clear from the evidence on record that at the time of incident two ladies were cutting grass at some distance, so there is nothing improbable in the prosecution story. Victim - P.W.-1 in her statement has also stated that she put some resistance and also requested to the accused for not committing such act with her so it cannot be said that she was a consenting party.

12. In State of Punjab Vs. Gurmit Singh, (1996) 2 SCC 384, it has been held by the Apex Court that "in cases involving sexual harassment, molestation, etc. the court is duty bound to deal with such cases with utmost sensitivity. Minor contradictions or insignificant discrepancies in the statement of a prosecutrix should not be a ground for throwing out an otherwise reliable prosecution case. Evidence of the victim of sexual assault is enough for conviction and it does not require any corroboration unless there are compelling reasons for seeking corroboration. The court may look for some assurances of her statement to satisfy judicial conscience. The statement of the prosecutrix is more reliable than that of an injured witness as she is not an accomplice."

13. In this case the victim has fully corroborated the allegations made in the FIR and another eye witness, P.W.-2 has also supported her. The oral statement of the two witnesses are consistent and there is no discrepancy or contradiction, and hence, no reason to disbelieve them.

14. Learned trial court has fully discussed and properly appreciated the entire evidence. There is no perversity or illegality in the findings of the learned trial court. From the evidence on record, the prosecution case stands proved and finding of conviction recorded by the trial court is just and proper. The sentence awarded by the trial court also need no interference.

15. The criminal appeal has no force and liable to be dismissed.

16. The criminal appeal is hereby dismissed.

17. Lower court record along with copy of the judgment be transmitted to the trial court immediately.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Ramesh Sinha, J.)

1. The above-captioned appeals along with Criminal Appeal No. 589 of 1982 were allowed and all the appellants were acquitted by a Co-ordinate Bench of this Court vide judgment and order dated 17.09.1998 inter alia on the grounds that all the records including those which were called for from the trial Court, were found missing in the High Court and it would not be appropriate to proceed on the basis of carbon copies supplied by the complainant.

2. Against the aforesaid judgment and order dated 17.09.1998, the de facto complainant, namely, Kunwar Bahadur Singh had approached the Hon'ble Supreme Court by filing Criminal Appeal No. 1078-1083 of 2000 arising out of SLP (Crl.) Nos. 1459-1463/99, whereas State of U.P. had also approached the Hon'ble Supreme Court by filing Criminal Appeal Nos. 1083-1086 of 2000 arising out of SLP (Crl.) Nos. 1928-31/99. The Hon'ble Supreme Court had heard the aforesaid criminal appeals together with as the common question as to whether the High Court erred in law in not disposing of the said appeals filed by the respondents on merits on the basis of the re-constructed records, was raised. After considering the submissions advanced by the learned Counsel for the parties and gone through the record, the Hon'ble Supreme Court opined that the reason given by the High Court for doubting the authenticity of the reconstructed records, is untenable as in the instant cases, reconstructed file was proper, therefore, the Hon'ble Supreme Court, vide judgment and order dated 29.11.2000, has passed the following order :-

"From the above discussion, it follows that in the instant cases, there is properly reconstructed file, therefore, the High Court erred in not going into the merits of the case and acquitting the convict appellants before it by allowing the appeals. Ergo we set aside the impugned order and restore the aforementioned criminal appeals to the file of the High Court to be heard and disposed of on merits. The High Court shall now consider and decide the appeals on merits on the basis of the reconstructed records.

It is needless to mention that while examining the merits of the case, it would be open to the High Court to examine the copies of statements in the reconstructed record on the basis of intrinsic inconsistency between the reconstructed records as the contents of the judgment of the learned Sessions Judge or with reference to any irrefragible evidence placed before it by the appellants therein.

The appeals are accordingly allowed."

3. It appears that after remand from the Hon'ble Supreme Court by the aforesaid judgment and order dated 29.11.2000, the above-captioned appeals have been listed before different Benches of this Court. Vide order dated 04.03.2021, Hon'ble the Chief Justice has nominated this Bench and directed to place all the connected matters before this Bench. In these circumstances, the above-captioned criminal appeals have been listed before this Bench.

4. Before proceeding further, it would be relevant to mention here that during the course of arguments, none of the parties have raised any objection with regard to the authenticity of the paper book of the instant case, which has been supplied to them or any document relating to this case and, therefore, with the consent of the learned Counsel for the parties, we proceed to hear the above-captioned criminal appeals finally.

5. The twelve accused persons, namely, Hari Shanker Singh, Bhagwat Singh, Shiv Baran Singh, Badri Singh, Amar Bahadur Singh, Shiv Prasad Singh, Sardar Bahadur Singh, Sharda Bux Singh, Jitendra Bahadur Singh, Indra Bahadur alias Dhunni Singh, Shiv Narayan Yadav and Indra Bahadur Singh, were tried by the II Additional Sessions Judge, Raebareli in Sessions Trial No. 43 of 1982 : State Vs. Hari Shankar and 11 others. In addition, accused Bhagwat Singh was also tried by the II Additional Sessions Judge, Raebareli in Sessions Trial No. 44 of 1982 : State Vs. Bhagwat Singh, for the offence punishable under Section 25 of the Arms Act.

13. Shorn off unnecessary details, the case of the informant P.W.1-Kunvar Bahadur Singh, as narrated in the written report (Ext. Ka.1), is as under :-

In the evening of 01.09.1981, at the village of informant- Kunvar Bahadur Singh (P.W.1), namely, Parmanpur, Aalha (madrigals) was going on at the door of Bhagwati Gadariya. The informant-Kunvar Bahadur Singh (P.W.1), his brother Avadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased) and his father Chandra Bhushan Singh had gone to listen Aalha (madrigals). At the time of listening Aalha (madrigals), altercation took place between the father of the informant (Chandra Bhushan Singh), his brother (Avadhesh Bahadur Singh) and some villagers with accused Shiv Baran Singh (appellant no.1 in Criminal Appeal No. 546 of 1982), upon which accused Shiv Baran Singh, after using abusive language and threatening them, went away from there.

At about 09.30 p.m., the brother of the informant (Avadhesh Bahadur Singh) went to his home and also after listening Aalha (madrigals), the informant-Kunwar Bahadur Singh (P.W.1), Jai Singh, son of Ram Bahadur Singh, Tej Bahadur Singh (P.W.2) son of Ramdas Singh, Balwant Singh, son of Bhagwati Deen Singh and Peshkar Singh, son of Sunder Singh also went behind the brother of the informant (Avadhesh Bahadur Singh). As soon as the brother of the informant (Avadhesh Bahadur Singh) came out from the street situated near the house of Chhatarpal Singh, accused persons Hari Shankar Singh (appellant in Criminal Appeal No. 548 of 1982) son of Fateh Bahadur Singh, Badri Singh (appellant no.2 in Criminal Appeal No. 546 of 1982), Amar Bahadur Singh (appellant no.3 in Criminal Appeal No. 546 of 1982), Shiv Prasad Singh (appellant no.4 in Criminal Appeal No. 546 of 1982), son of Kalika Bux Singh, Sardar Bahadur Singh (appellant no.1 in Criminal Appeal No. 547 of 1982), son of Vijay Bahadur Singh, Indra Bahadur Singh (appellant no.6 in Criminal Appeal No. 546 of 1982) son of Shitla Bux Singh, Sharda Bux Singh (appellant no.2 in Criminal Appeal No. 547 of 1982), son of Shitla Bux Singh, Jitendra Bahadur Singh (appellant no.5 in Criminal Appeal No. 546 of 1982) son of Balikaran Singh, resident of Village Parmanpur and Shiv Narayan Yadav (appellant no.7 in Criminal Appeal No. 546 of 1982), resident of village Pure Gosai, Majare Basar, surrounded the brother of the informant (Awadhesh Bahadur Singh) at once. Hari Shankar Singh (appellant of Criminal Appeal No. 548 of 1982) was armed with country made pistol and other persons were armed with Kanta, ballam and lathis. Accused Bhagwat Singh instigated to kill him, to which Hari Shanker Singh (appellant of Criminal Appeal No. 548 of 1982) fired with country made pistol, as a consequence of which, informant's brother (Awadhesh Bahadur Singh) fell down in the street near nabadan (cesspool) and thereupon, all the accused persons started beating him with lathis, kanta and ballam. Thereafter, informant Kunvar Bahadur Singh (P.W.1), his friends and his brother raised alarm, upon which his grand-father Dan Bahadur Singh (P.W.3) and his aunt Ramraj Kumari, widow of Chandra Bhan Singh ran to save the informant's brother (Awadhesh Bahadur Singh), then, accused persons had also beaten them. Thereafter, when informant's brother (Awadhesh Bahadur Singh) ran in an injured condition, then, accused persons surrounded him near the house of Chattrapal Singh and killed him. In the meantime, his father Chandra Bhushan Singh came with licensee gun single barrel twelve bore no. 197167 and challenged the accused persons, then, accused Bhagwat Singh and three-four persons snatched the gun from his father. The incident was seen by all the aforesaid persons in the light of their torches and in the light of the torches of the accused/appellants. Prior to 12-13 years, accused Sardar Bahdur Singh (appellant no.1 in Criminal Appeal No. 547 of 1982) had falsely implicated the informant's father and his grand father and since then, accused persons had ill-will against the family members of the informant and because of which, on seeing the chances, accused persons killed the informant's brother (Awadhesh Bahadur Singh) and the dead body of his brother was lying there.

15. The evidence of P.W.7-H.C. Ram Jas Yadav shows that on 01.09.1981, he was posted as Head Moharrir at police station Bhadokhar and on the said date, Kunvar Bahadur Singh (P.W.1) came along with the written report (Ext. Ka.1), on the basis of which, chik F.I.R. (Ext. Ka.7) was prepared by him, for which entry was made by him in report no. 39 in G.D. and also lodged a case. A copy of the chik F.I.R. (Ext. The special report of the incident was sent by Constable Kalluram on 02.09.1981 at 4:30 a.m., which was entered in report no.4 in G.D. Till 02.12.1981, he was posted at Police Station Bhadokhar, by which time the items of the case were at police station.

16. A perusal of the chik FIR shows that the distance between the place of incident and Police Station Bhadokhar was seven and a half kilometers. It is significant to mention that a perusal of the chik FIR also shows that on the basis of written report (Ext. Ka.1), a case crime no. 207 of 1981, under Sections 147, 148, 149, 302, 395 I.P.C. was registered against appellants at police station Bhadokhar, District Raebareli.

Thereafter, he interrogated accused Sharda Bux Singh (appellant no.2 in Criminal Appeal No. 547 of 1982) and on his pointing out, lathi was recovered from his house, wherein blood stain was present. He, thereafter, took the lathi in his custody, sealed it and prepared recovery memo for the same (Ext. Ka. 24). interrogation, accused Harishanker told him that Kanta of accused Bhagwat Singh, which he used at the time of incident, was hidden at the house of Chetrapal Singh, wherein he resided. Thereafter, on the pointing out of accused Hari Shanker, one Kanta was recovered, which was sealed and recovery memo (Ext. Ka. 3) was prepared. He also inspected the place of occurrence and prepared the site plan (Ext. Ka. 27). Thereafter, he recorded the statements of witnesses of recovery, namely, Baijnath Singh (P.W.4) and Ayodhya Singh, however, rest of the accused persons could not be traced out. On 03.09.1981, he searched for the rest of the accused persons. However, on 04.09.1981, when he came to Sadar to search the accused person, he came to know in the Court that accused Indra Bahadur Singh alias Dhunni Singh (appellant no.6 in Criminal Appeal No. 546 of 1982) had surrendered in the Court. On the same day, when he was on the way to Parmanpur via Sadar police station, he came to know about the presence of accused Shiv Narain (appellant no.7 in Criminal Appeal No. 546 of 1986) at the tea shop of Kallu situated in Mullahganj, whereby he went there and arrested him and also interrogated him on the way to Parmanpur. He further stated that it is not possible that he had given the seal to any innocent person of public. The seal is being used frequently and it is being kept in custody and used it and do not keep it in secure place.

21. It has further been stated by P.W.11-S.I. Shyampal Singh Rana, in his cross-examination, that he started to search the accused persons in the night at around 1:00 a.m. and also raided their houses in the night. He did not enter their houses and on enquiry their around, it was confirmed that the accused were not at home. The names of the people who were questioned in this regard are not known. He didn't think it was right to search the houses at night and in the morning, he was busy in investigation and informer was put to give clues of the accused, on account of which, he did not searched their houses. He further submitted that when he reached at the place of incident, he did not find Kunvar Bahadur Singh (P.W.1) and on the next day, Kunvar Bahadur Singh (P.W.1) met him but by what time he met, he do not remember. their family members were living there. Thereafter, Constables and accused Sarda Bux Singh did not go to the house of Sardar Bahadur Singh after the recovery being made. He stated that he did not search accused persons for the torches. P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh has made statement that entire incident was seen by every person from their own torches as well as from the light of the torches of the killer. He further stated that in the recovery memo, it has not been noted as to whether the copy of it has been given to the accused or not. He also stated that when he reached the police station along with the accused persons, copy of the recovery memo was not along with them. He also stated that it would be wrong to say that Jagannath Singh identified against him and according to him, accused were the men of Jagannath Singh and because of that he was falsely implicated. Jagannath Singh made applications for identification against the higher officials only after the incident and not prior to it. The complainant belongs to a family of simple living. The cause of death spelt out in the autopsy reports of the deceased person was shock and haemorrhage as a result of ante-mortem injuries, which he had suffered.

27. It is significant to mention that in his deposition in the trial Court, Dr. D.S. Shukla (P.W.10) has reiterated the said cause of death and also stated therein that on internal examination, he found on the corpse of the deceased that the frontal bone of the head was fractured; membrane of the brain was congested; ribs 3 to 6 on the right side were fractured; clotted blood was on outer side cereburm. He further stated that these injuries were sufficient in the ordinary course to cause death. He also stated that the death could have been caused on 01.09.1981 at about 9:30 p.m.. He further stated that incised wounds with contused margins could have been caused by Kanta (Ext.2) and the remaining injuries were caused by some blunt objects like Lathi. He also proved the post-mortem examination report was (Ext. Ka.13) prepared by him.

In his cross-examination, P.W.10 Dr. D.S. Shukla has admitted the fact that he received the related documents on 02.09.1981 at 3 :00 P.M. and the sealed deadbody was made available to him in post-mortem house at 4:00 p.m. when he reached to conduct post-mortem of the deceased there. He further stated that he has no record which shows the time when the deadbody reached to the mortuary. He stated that margins of the incised wounds were clear cut and the clear cut margin was not irregular and if it would be caused by a heavy cutting weapon, then, margin would be clear cut but it would be contused on account of pressure. The contusion could be caused by blunt object or pressure. The contusion could not be caused by pressure of sharp edge. The contusion could also be caused on burst of capillaries below the skin and if the blood would ooze out, then, it could not be contusion.

28. On being asked if any blunt object like lathi having less depth and sharp edged and when hit from it touches the bones, then, what will be nature of injuries caused, P.W.10-Dr. D.S. Shukla has deposed that if a blade of sharp edged object or a sharp edged knife is attached in the lathi or danda, then, incised wound could be caused by sharp edged object and the portion on which the impact of the blunt object caused, contusion could be occurred. The incised wound, which was found in the deadbody of the decased, had contusion in the margin. He denied the suggestion that incised wound with contused margin could not be caused by Kanta (Ext-2).

29. The evidence of P.W.11 S.I. Shyampal Singh Rana shows that Smt. Ramraj Kumari and P.W.3-Dan Bahadur Singh were sent for medical examination to District Hospital, Raebareli after their statement was recorded by him. The injuries of Smt. Except the injury no.1 sustained by the accused/appellant Hari Shankar Singh, all the injuries sustained by the accused/appellants could have been caused by blunt object like lathi and danda. At the time of examination, the injuries were four days old. The injuries could have been caused on 01.09.1981 at about 10:00 p.m. In respect of injury no.1 sustained by accused/appellant Hari Shanker Singh, he was referred for x-ray, a report of which has been enclosed with the injury report. He proved the x-ray examination report (Ext. Kha.7) and opined that this radio opaque shadow can be of a pellet. However, he qualified this statement by saying that it confirmation could only be made by a ballistic expert.

38. Now, we would like to deal with the evidence of informant P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh. Since in paragraph 13, 14, 15 and 16, we have set out the prosecution story primarily on the basis of the recitals contained in his examination-in-chief, for the sake of brevity, the same is not reiterated. P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh has deposed on oath that the house of Chattrapal in village Parmanpur is East faced. The main door of his house is towards East and another door of his house is towards Northern side. In front of this door, a passage running East-West direction is there. The Nabdan of Chattrapal is towards the Western side of the Northern door of his house. The said Nabdan is going towards Northern side of the house of Vilash Gaderiya. A Neem tree is there towards the Western side of Nabdan. A platform (chabutra) is in front of the western door of the house of Chattrapal Singh. The distance between the house of Chattrapal Singh and Bhagwat Gadariya is 200 paces towards east. The house of the P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh is at distance of about 127 paces towards the western side of the house of Chattrapal. 39. P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh has further deposed that Chattrapal Singh died after the incident and at that time, he was aged about 80 years. Accused/appellant Hari Shankar Singh is residing at the house of Chattrapal Singh. The relation between the accused/appellants and him (P.W.1) is not cordial and there is enmity between them. He stated that prior to 10-12 years ago, accused/appellant Sardar Bahadur Singh had implicated his father (Chandra Bhushan Singh) and his grand father (P.W.3. Dan Bahadur Singh) in a false case of highway robbery, in which they were acquitted. He also stated that accused/appellant Sardar Bahadur Singh had contested the election of Gram Pradhan against his grand-father (P.W.3-Dan Bahadur Singh), in which he was defeated. On account of this, the relations between the accused/appellants and his father (Chandra Bhushan Singh) and his family members were strained. It has also been stated that on the date of occurrence, Aalha was going on at about 06:00-06:30 P.M. in front of the house of Bhagwati Gadariya, in which besides other villagers, he (P.W.1 Kunwar Bahadur Singh), his brother (deceased Avadhesh Bahadur Singh), their father (Chandra Bhushan Singh) and accused/appellant Shiv Baran Singh were present. During the Aalha, his father (Chandra Bhushan Singh) asked accused/appellant Shiv Baran Singh to give him a bidi, to which accused/appellant Shiv Baran Singh told his father (Chandra Bhushan Singh) that if he was fond of taking bidi, he should purchase it, upon which his father (Chandra Bhushan Singh) retorted that you must not misbehave, to which accused /appellant Shiv Baran Singh abused his father (Chandra Bhushan Singh) and, thereafter, his brother Avadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased) told accused/appellant Shiv Baran Singh as to why he abused his father (Chandra Bhusan Singh), upon which accused/appellant Shiv Baran Singh left from there by abusing him. Thereafter, his father (Chandra Bhushan Singh went to his house and thereafter, deceased Avadhesh Babadur Singh also started for his house. He (P.W.1), P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh, Peshkar Singh, Balwant Singh and Jai Singh also started for their respective houses behind deceased Avadhesh Babadur Singh at a distance of about 10-15 paces. At that relevant time, he (P.W.1), Jai Singh and P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh were carrying torches. It was about 08:30 p.m.

40. P.W.1-Kunvar Bahadur Singh has further stated that when the deceased-Avadhesh Bahadur Singh reached near the Nabdan of the house of Chhatrapal, all the accused/appellants surrounded him. Accused/appellant Hari Shanker was armed with pistol; accused/appellant Bhagwat Singh and Shiv Baran Singh was armed with Kanta; accused/appellant Shiv Prasad Singh was armed with Ballam; and other accused/appellants were armed with lathis. Accused/appellant Hari Shanker Singh fired upon his brother Avadhesh Singh (deceased), upon which his brother Avadhesh Singh (deceased) fell down near the Nabdan. He did not know as to whether fire hit his brother or not, however, all the other accused/appellants started beating his brother with lathis, kanta and ballam. Thereafter, in the light of torches which he (P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh), P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh and Jai Singh were carrying, recognized the accused/appellants and they raised an alarm upon which his grand father P.W.3- Dan Bahadur Singh and his aunt Ramraj Kumari came to rescue his brother (deceased Awadhesh Bahadur Singh), upon which they had also assaulted them, as a consequence thereof, his grand father P.W.3- Dan Bahadur Singh and his aunt Ramraj Kumari had also sustained injuries. Thereafter, when his grand father P.W.-3 Dan Bahadur Singh and his aunt Ramraj Kumari were inflicting injuries by the accused/appellants, his brother Avadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased) ran towards the eastern side of the house of Chhatrapal Singh and reached the passage near the Chabutra of Chatrapal Singh, then, accused/appellants had inflicted injuries upon his brother, as a result thereof, his brother succumbed to injuries on the spot. In the meantime, his father Chandra Bhushan Singh came with his licensee gun, upon which accused/appellants Bhagwat Singh, Shiv Baran Singh, Indra Bahadur Singh alias Dhunni Singh, Amar Bahadur Singh and others had snatched the licensee gun of his father near the house of Pancham Kumhar. He recognized the licensee gun (Ext. Ka.1) in the trial Court and on seeing the licensee gun, he has also stated that the Court Moharrir told him that the bundle in which this licensee gun was kept, was not sealed. He further stated that at about 09:30 p.m., his brother was murdered and licensee gun was snatched. He saw the whole incident in the light of torch. Accused/appellants are in his village and he knows all of them prior to it. He lodged the report (Ext.Ka. 1) by himself on 01.09.1981 at police station Bhadokhar. When the Inspector came on the spot, he shown his torch to him and after seeing it, Inspector returned it to him. The torch was in running condition.

41. P.W.1-Kunvar Bahadur Singh, in his cross-examination, has deposed that he was studying in Sarvodaya Inter College. At that relevant time, he had given Intermediate examination and his result was withheld but in the month of December, 1981, his result was declared, in which he was passed. He had enmity with accused / appellant Sardar Bahadur Singh and other accused /appellants. The enmity was continuing since 10-12 years. He also had enmity with the family members of the accused/appellants and even he did not sit or eat with accused/appellants. Aalha was frequently organized in his village. He, his brother and his father have gone to listen Aalha when they were in village. The Aalha was started in front of the house of Bhagwati Gadariya on the date of the incident only and not prior to it. His father, grand-father and his brother Avadhesh were residing in one house. He further stated that in his house, lunch was taken between 11-12 in the afternoon and on the date of the incident, he took lunch at about 11:30 a.m. He also stated that he did not know as to which time Avadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased) took lunch on the date of the incident. He was in the house after taking lunch and before going to listen Aalha. He and his brother Avadhesh Bahadur Singh had gone to listen Aalha after taking evening snack at about 06:00-06:30 p.m. and his father was gone to listen Aalha after about half an hour. He and his brother had listened Aalha at about 09:30 p.m. and by that time, Aalha had not ended. 50-60 persons including women and children were in the crowd, out of which 40-45 persons were male members. Bhagwati Gadariya was also present there. In his village, number of castes are living. When altercation took place during Aalha, the distance between him and his father was at about 5-6 paces. The person, who recited Aalha, came from Pratapgarh but he did not know his name. The persons, who were present at the time of Aalha, stopped accused/appellant Shiv Baran Singh to quarrel with his father. They had also stopped his father. When altercation took place, Aalha was stopped. The altercation was going on for atleast 2-3 minutes. Accused/appellant went from there by using abusive language and thereafter, all the persons sat there and Aalha was again started. He further stated that at the time of writing down the report and also at the time of recording his statement by the Investigating Officer, he had remembered that altercation took place on account of Bidi but the Investigating Officer did not ask him about the reason for altercation as he was satisfied. He further stated that in the statement recorded by the Investigating Officer and in the report, he did not tell and write about dispute over bidi because at the time of lodging report, he was quite nervous and the Investigating Officer did not ask him about the dispute, therefore, he did not tell the same to him. He further stated that there are two ways i.e. one road and one passage, between the house of Bhagwati Gadariya and his house. The passage went towards northern side of the house of Chattrapal Singh. There is a small pool next to the passage but there is no pond or any forest, however, there is one-two kothiya (cells) of bamboo. The second road went towards his house. In the house of Chattrapal, his daughter, his wife and one boy, namely, Hari Shanker (accused/appellant), were living. The house of accused/ appellant was 100 paces of northern side of the house of Chattrapal.

42. P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh, in his cross-examination, has further deposed that the persons, who are residing near the house of Chattarapal, are in the party of the accused/appellants, therefore, he is jealous against them. He further stated that there is 100-125 houses in his village. 10-15 houses are of the party of the accused/appellants and most of the villagers do not care about anyone. Witnesses Jai Singh and Jawahar Singh are real brothers and Peshkar Singh was the son of his cousin. Ramesh is the real brother of Peshkar Singh. The husband of Ramraj Kumari was Chandra Bhan Singh. He further stated that as he listened Aalha for about 2-2:30 hours and then thought to eat food at home and, therefore, he got up from the Alaha and when Awadhesh (deceased) got up and started walking, he also joined him. The persons, who were sitting along with him, also stated to leave from there as their houses were also on the way from which he was going. They went in the light of the torch. He further stated that it was the month of Bhado and it was very dark. His brother (Awadhesh Bahadur Singh deceased) was 10-15 steps ahead of him, who was going in the dark and they were lighting the torch from behind him, some light of which was also going there. Neither he nor his companion tried to save his brother because they were unarmed and firing was going on.

43. P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh, who is the witness of fact, in his examination-in-chief, has reiterated the happening of Aalha in front of the house of Bhagwati Gadariya and stated that he was going to the house of Bhagwati Gadariya for listening Alaha at about 07:00 p.m. and at that time, Alaha was going on. In the Alaha, number of persons of his village were present. P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh, his father Chandra Bhushan Singh, deceased Awadhesh Bahadur Singh and accused/appellant Shiv Baran Singh were also present there. At about 08:30 p.m., altercation took place between the deceased Avadhesh Bahadur Singh and his father Chandra Bhushan Singh with accused/appellant Shiv Baran Singh. Accused/appellant Shiv Baran Singh used abusive language for Avadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased) and his father Chandra Bhushan Singh and after using abusive language, accused/appellant Shiv Baran Singh went from there. At about 09:30 p.m., Chandra Bhushan Singh got up and went from there. Thereafter, at about 09:30 p.m., Awadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased) and behind him he, Kunwar Bahadur Singh (P.W.1), Balwant Singh, Peshkar Singh, Jai Singh, started to go towards their house. At that time, he, Kunwar Bahadur Singh (P.W.1) and Jai Singh were having torch in their hands and all of them were lighting torches. Avadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased) was 10-15 paces ahead from them and when Avadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased) reached near the napdan situated in the northern side of the house of Chattarpal Singh, then, accused/appellants Hari Shanker Singh, Shiv Baran Singh, Bhagwat Singh, Badri Singh, Shiv Prasad Singh, Amar Bahadur Singh, Sardar Bahadur Singh, Sarda Bux Singh, Indra Bahadur Singh, Jitendra Bahadur Singh, Indra Bahadur Singh alias Dhunni Singh and Shiv Narayan Yadav came there. Accused/appellant Hari Shanker was armed with pistol, accused/appellants Bhagwat Singh and Shiv Baran Singh were armed with Kanta and accused/appellant Shiv Prasad was armed with Ballam and other accused/appellants were armed with lathis. Accused/appellant Hari Shanker fired, as a consequence of which, deceased Avadhesh Bahadur Singh fell down near the Napdan and other accused/appellants inflicted blow upon him with lathi, Kanta and ballam. Thereafter, they and deceased Avadhesh Bahadur Singh raised alarm, upon which P.W.3-Dan Bahadur Singh and Ramraj Kumari (injured) reached there and tried to escape deceased Avadhesh Bahadur Singh. Thereafter, accused/appellants had assaulted P.W.3-Dan Bahadur Singh and Ramraj Kumari. Thereafter, on seeing the opportunity, Avadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased) ran towards them in the eastern side of the house of Chattapal Singh. Thereafter, accused/appellants left Ramraj Kumari and P.W.3-Dan Bahadur Singh and came near Avadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased). Thereafter, accused/appellants killed Avadhesh Bahadur Singh near the Chabutra of Chattrapal. In the meantime, Chandra Bhushan Singh (father of deceased and P.W.1) came from his house with his gun. Thereafter, four accused/appellants, namely, Bhagwat Singh, Shiv Baran Singh, Amar Bahadur Singh, Indra Bahadur Singh alias Dhunni, snatched the gun of Chandra Bhushan Singh. In the meantime, some of the villagers also came there. He saw the incident in the light of his torch and of Kunwar Bahadur Singh (P.W.1) and Jai Singh.

44. In his cross-examination, P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh has deposed that during the incident, accused/appellant Hari Shanker was also lighting the torch towards Avadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased) and also all around. He did not see the torch of any other of the accused/appellants. He denied the suggestion that he told the Investigating Officer that he recognized the accused/appellants in the lights of the torches. He further stated that at the time of firing, Avadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased) was in eastern side of accused/appellant Hari Shanker Singh. Accused/appellant Hari Shanker Singh fired towards Avadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased) from the distance of 5-6 paces. After firing, Avadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased) fell down on that place. He further stated that he did not see as to whether blood was oozing out from Avadhesh Bhadur Singh immediately after firing or not. Accused/appellant Hari Shanker Singh did not receive any injury. They were 10-15 paces away from the place of incident, from where they raised alarm. He further stated that P.W.3-Dan Bahadur Singh and Ram Raj Kumari were assaulted while surrounding them by the accused/appellants, who were armed with lathis only. Before inflicting blow upon P.W.3-Dan Bahadur Singh and Ram Raj Kumari, accused/appellants had assaulted the deceased for 2-4 minutes. He denied the suggestion that he told the names of the accused/appellants due to enmity and he was not present on the place of incident.

45. P.W.3-Dan Bahadur Singh, who is the injured witness and uncle of deceased and the complainant P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh, in his cross-examination, has deposed that on the date of incident, at about 09:30 p.m., he was sleeping at his door. On listening the fire of pistol as well as alarm of Avadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased) and Kunwar Bahadur Singh (P.W.1), which coming out from eastern side of his house and napdan situated in the northern side of the house of Chatrapal Singh, he and Ramraj Kumari ran and when they reached near the Napdan situated in the northern side of the house of Chatrapal, then, they saw accused/appellant Hari Shanker was standing with pistol and accused/appellants Bhagwat Singh and Shiv Baran Singh with pharsa (spear), accused/appellants Shiv Prasad, Badri and Amar Bahadur with ballam and accused/appellants Indra Bahadur, Sharda Bux, Indra Bahadur, Indra Bahadur alias Dhunni Singh, Shiv Baran Singh Yadav and Jitendra Bahadur with lathis, were assaulted Avadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased). When he and Ramraj Kumari asked them that what are you doing and why they beating up, then, they assaulted 5-6 lathis blow upon him and Ramraj Kumari, as a consequence of which, he and Ramraj Kumari sustained injuries. In the meantime, on seeing the opportunity, his nephew Avadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased) ran towards the door of Chattrapal. Thereafter, accused/appellants left them and after surrounding Avadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased) beaten him, as a consequence thereof, Avadhesh Bahadur Singh died on the spot. Thereafter, his younger brother Chandra Bhusan came with gun in the southern side of the house of Pancham and told the accused/appellants that they should not beat his son, otherwise, he would kill them with gun. Thereafter, he told his brother Chandra Bhushan not to fire, upon which accused/appellants Bhagwat Singh, Shiv Baran Singh, Amar Bahadur Singh, Indra Bahadur Singh alias Dhunni Singh, were snatching the gun from Chandra Bhushan Singh and after tussle, they snatched the gun from Chandra Bhushan Singh. In the meantime, about 15-20 persons came there and raised alarm in the southern side of the house of Prabhu Kumhar not to assault and they are coming. There were light of torches. P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh, P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh and Jai Singh were carrying torches and they were using lighting the torches in the eastern side and in the light of the torches, they saw the accused/appellants. The injuries sustained by him and Ramraj Kumari were medically examined at Sadar Hospital, Raibareli.

46. P.W.3-Dan Bahadur Singh, in his cross-examination, has deposed that he and Chandra Bhushan Singh were residing in different houses and their food were made separately but no articles/items were partitioned between them. Prior to firing, Chandra Bhushan Singh came home at about 9:00 p.m. and was sleeping at 15-20 paces away from him. After listening fire, he did not say anything to Chandra Bhushan Singh and ran towards the house of Chatrapal Singh. His niece Avadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased) and Kunwar Bahadur Singh (P.W.1) were shouting that they were being beaten. He listened the alarm when he went 3-4 paces. He further stated that when he got up from Khat and walked a little further, then, he listened the noise of Avadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased) and Kunwar Bahadur Singh (P.W.1) that to run, they are being beaten, upon which they understood that they have been beaten. He did not call any person to help nor took any weapon because he has no weapon. He further stated that he did not listen the alarm that deceased Avadhesh Singh was being beaten. He further stated that at the time of incident, Chandra Bhushan Singh was sleeping and he got flustered and in the concern that there should be no quarrel, he came outside and he did not not call Chandra Bhushan. When he reached near the place of incident, then, he saw the scuffle. At that time, villagers were not coming and Kunwar Bahadur Singh (P.W.1) and Jai Singh and others had raised alarm and when firing was made, then, villagers, who wanted to help, did not come. Prior to assault, he was shouting but when he was beaten, then, he tried to escape himself by using hishand and at that time, he did not raise any shout for help. He further stated that 10-12 persons were beating in front of him. He and Ramraj Kumari were beaten for about one, two or half a minute. When accused/appellants were assaulting him, then, he saw Chandra Bhushan Singh, who was 25-30 paces from him. He further stated that Chandra Bhushan at a distance of 15-20 paces told the accused/appellants that he would fire and warned them not to beat Avadhesh Bahadur. At that time, the accused/appellants was eastern door of the Chattrapal Singh. At the time when accused/appellant Bhagwat Singh were snatching the gun, then, other accused/appellant inflicted blow upon Avadhesh and thereafter gathered beneath the tree of neem. He also stated that he did not see the torch with Kunwar Bahadur (P.W.1) when he wrote down the report. The report was written by Kunvar Bahadur (P.W.1) in the light of the lantern. He did not see the injuries on corpse but he saw the accused/appellants assaulting the deceased. He told the Investigating Officer that he saw the incident in the light of the torch but if he did not write about it, then, he did not tell anything. He denied the suggestion that there was no torch nor Jai Singh and Kunwar Bahadur Singh were present. On the date of incident, there was no cloud but the night was dark. He also denied the suggestion that accused/appellants had sustained injuries. He also denied the suggestion that he had falsely implicated the accused/appellants by telling false story.

47. P.W.4-Baijnath Singh, who is the witness of recovery of gun of Chandra Bhushan Singh from accused/appellant Bhagwat Singh, in his examination-in-chief, has deposed that on 02.09.1981, the Investigating Officer recovered the gun from the house of accused/appellant Bhagwat Singh in his presence and one Jawahar Lal on pointing out of accused/appellant Bhagwat Singh.

48. In his cross-examination, P.W.4-Baijnath has stated that on the report of accused/appellant Sardar Bahadur Singh, a case under Section 394 I.P.C. was lodged against his father Jeet Bahadur Singh. He further stated that in the said case, his father was acquitted. He also stated that at the time of recovery, he was standing at a distance of 15-20 paces from the Investigating Officer and the Investigating Officer had called him and Jawahar Singh by insinuate. He denied the suggestion that recovery of gun was not made in his presence and accused/appellant has been falsely implicated due to enmity.

49. P.W.5-Dal Bahadur Singh, who is the witness of search of the house of Chattrapal Singh and accused/appellant Sharda Bux Singh, deposed that the Investigating Officer had searched the house of Chattrapal Singh, accused/appellants Sarda Bux Singh, Sardar Bahadur Singh and Hari Bux Singh in his presence at about 2:30 p.m. On the said date, the Investigating Officer has arrested the accused/appellant Sarda Bux Singh and after arrest, accused/appellant had handed over a lathi to the Investigating Officer, wherein blood was present.

50. The learned trial Court, after hearing learned Counsel for the parties and gone through evidence on record, convicted and sentenced the accused/appellants in the manner as stated in paragraphs 6 and 7 hereinabove by the impugned judgment and order dated 15.07.1982/16.07.1982.

51. Aggrieved by the aforesaid impugned judgment and order dated 15.07.1982/16.07.1982, the accused/appellants have preferred the above-captioned criminal appeals.

52. We have heard Shri Jyotinjay Mishra, learned Senior Advocate, assisted by Sri Kapil Mishra, learned Counsel for the appellants no. 5 and 7 and Sri R.N. S. Chauhan, learned Counsel for the appellants no. 2, 3 and 4 in Criminal Appeal No. 546 of 1982, Sri R.C. Singh, holding brief of Sri Arun Sinha, learned Counsel for the appellant no.2 in Criminal Appeal No. 547 of 1982, Sri Kunwar Mridul Rakesh, learned Senior Advocate, assisted by Sri Santosh Srivastava, learned Counsel for the appellant in Criminal Appeal No. 548 of 1982, Sri Nagendra Mohan assisted by Sri Anil Kumar Tripathi, learned Counsel for the complainant and Ms. Nand Prabha Shukla, learned Additional Government Advocate for the State/respondents in all the above captioned appeals and have also perused, the depositions of the prosecution witnesses and defense witnesses; the material exhibits tendered and proved by the prosecutions, the statement of the appellants recorded under Section 313, Cr.P.C.; and the impugned judgment of the trial Court.

53. Challenging the impugned judgment and order passed by the trial Court, Sri Jyotinjay Mishra, learned Senior Advocate appearing on behalf of the accused/appellants no.5 and 7 in Criminal Appeal No. 546 of 1982 has argued that the prosecution has suppressed the origin of the incident and the incident has not taken place in the manner as has been stated by the prosecution. He argued that in the F.I.R., it has been stated that complainant's brother, Avadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased), went to his house at 09:30 p.m., whereas in his examination-in-chief, P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh, who is the complainant in the instant case and brother of the deceased, at one place has stated that when accused/appellant Shiv Baran went to his house while abusing his father, thereafter, his father (Chandra Bhushan Singh) and his brother (deceased Avadhesh Bahadur Singh) also went to their home and on other place, P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh has stated that his father (Chandra Bhushan Singh) went to home half an hour ahead of the deceased Avadhesh Singh and him. This shows the contradiction in the statement of P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh and also doubts his presence at the place of occurrence. He further argued that when the presence of the complainant P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh is itself a contradictory one and doubtful, hence his testimony cannot be considered as trustworthy. He also argued that P.W.1-Kunvar Bahadur Singh and P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh are not the injured witnesses and also did not try to save his brother Avadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased) and P.W.3-Dan Bahadur Singh (injured) and Ramraj Kumari (injured), hence the testimony of P.W.1-Kunvar Bahadur Singh and P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh cannot be believed. Thus, the trial Court has committed a grave error in convicting the accused/appellants, relying upon the depositions of PW1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh and PW2-Tej Bahadur Singh.

54. Shri Mishra has further argued that according to the prosecution, earlier accused/appellant Sardar Bahadur Singh had implicated Chandra Bhushan Singh (father of the deceased Awadhesh Bahadur Singh) and his elder brother P.W.3-Daan Bahadur Singh (injured witness) in a case of Highway Robbery about 10-12 years back in which they were acquitted. He further argued that accused/appellant Sardar Bahadur Singh had fought election against P.W.3-Daan Bahadur Singh (uncle of the deceased Avadhesh Bahadur Singh) for the post of Pradhan of village in which accused/appellant Sardar Bahadur Singh was defeated and for these reasons, the relations between the accused/appellant on one hand and Chandra Bhushan Singh (father of the deceased) and his family members on the other hand, were strained. He further stated that as per prosecution, on the alleged date of occurrence i.e. on 01.09.1981, Aalha was going on at the house of one Bhagwati Gadariya in the village Parmanpur, District Raebareli. Accused/appellant Shiv Baran Singh and other other persons of the village were present in the Aalha. The complainant Kunwar Bahadur Singh (P.W.1), his brother Avadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased) and his father Chandra Bhushan Singh had gone to the house of Bhagwati Gadariya to hear Aalha. During the course of hearing Aalha, Chandra Bhushan Singh (father of the deceased) asked Biri from the accused/appellant Shiv Baran Singh, upon which some heated arguments took place between accused/appellant Shiv Baran Singh and Chandra Bhushan Singh (father of the deceased). It is alleged that after heated arguments, accused/appellant Shiv Baran Singh left the place and went towards his house. The complainant and his family members also left the place and after sometime, the instant alleged incident took place. His submission is that as per the prosecution case itself, there were enmity between the complainant's side and appellant's side, therefore, it is highly improbable that complainant's father, Chandra Bhushan Singh, would ask for Biri from the accused/appellant Shiv Baran Singh, hence the prosecution case is fabricated one.

55. Elaborating his submission, Mr. Mishra has argued that it is an admitted position that there was an enmity prior to the disputes between the accused/appellants and the family of the deceased. Thus, there are all possibility of falsely implicating the accused/appellants.

56. Sri Mishra has stated that Chandra Bhushan Singh (father of the deceased) with whom the alleged altercation between the accused/appellant Shiv Baran Singh took place on account of Biri issue, has not been produced by the prosecution in support of its case. Furthermore, Bhagwati Gadariya at whose house Aalha was going on, has also not been produced by the prosecution in support of its case to prove the genesis of the incident.

57. Mr. Mishra has also argued that P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh has stated in his statement that accused/appellant Hari Shanker Singh fired single shot upon the deceased Avadhesh Bahadur Singh as a result of which the deceased Avadhesh Bahadur Singh had fallen down near "Napdaan' of Chattrapal's house but on perusal of the post-mortem report of the deceased Avadhesh Bahadur Singh would show that no fire arm injury was found by P.W.10-Dr. D.S, Shukla, who conducted the post-mortem of the deceased Avadhesh Bahadur Singh. Moreso, pistol, which has been recovered, has not been sent for examination from the Ballistic Expert.

58. Sri Mishra has further stated that P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh has stated that at the time of the incident, it was the month of Bhado and the night was very dark, therefore, it is highly improbable to identify the person who has allegedly fired a single shot, in the light of the torch. He also argued that P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh has stated that gun of his father (Chandra Bhushan Singh) was snatched by the accused/ appellants but the name(s) of the accused/ appellants, who snatched the gun, has not been disclosed in the report as well as number of persons involved in snatching the gun.

59. Shri Mishra has next submitted that as per the prosecution, some of the witnesses including P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh were having torches in their hands and in the light of torches, he and other witnesses saw the whole incident but surprisingly, the Investigating Officer P.W.11 Shyampal Singh Rana has not prepared any memo for torches of the prosecution witnesses. He argued that it is alleged that the prosecution witnesses have seen the whole incident in the light of torches and if that is so, it is quite impossible to see the incident and recognized the persons who assaulted the deceased and also specify the specific role of each of the accused/appellants. He also argued that as per the site plan, distance between the house of the complainant and place of incident is about 127 paces and P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh and P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh, in their statement, has deposed that at the time of the incident, Awadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased) was 10-15 paces ahead and in the dark night of Bhado month, from a distance of 10-15 paces, it is unlikely to witness the entire incident and also identity the accused/ appellants in the light of the torch. Thus, version of the P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh and P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh cannot be relied.

60. Sri Mishra has further stated that the prosecution has failed to explain the injuries upon the persons of the accused/appellants. He argued that P.W.7 Head Moharrir Ramjas Yadav, who has written chik F.I.R. of the case (Ext. Ka.7) and also prepared G.D. entry of the F.I.R. (Ext. Ka.8), has stated that four accused/appellants, namely, Bhagwat Singh, Hari Shanker Singh, Sharda Bux Singh and Sardar Bahadur Singh, were brought to the police station Bhadokhar, Raibareli in injured conditions on 01.09.1981, though their injuries were noted in the G.D. of the Police Station but they were not sent for medical examination by the police. This shows the bias attitude of the police personnel against the accused personnel. He further submits that D.W.1-Dr. R.N. Sharma had medically examined four injured accused/appellants, namely, Bhagwat Singh, Hari Shanker Singh, Sharda Bux Singh and Sardar Bahadur Singh and after examination, D.W.1-Dr. R.N. Sharma opined that accused/appellant Hari Shanker Singh had received one gunshot injury on his forehead above right eyebrow and as per the statement of D.W.2-Dr. M.M. Pratap, the X-ray of accused/appellant Hari Shanker Singh shows that there was a radio-opaque shadow, found on the right of accused/appellant Hari Shanker Singh. Thus, in view of the statements of D.W.1-Dr. R.N. Sharma and D.W.2-Dr. M.M. Pratap, it is apparent that the fire arm injury received by the accused/appellant Hari Shanker Singh could not be self-inflicted. Therefore, the entire prosecution story cannot be believed and the same is liable to be brushed aside.

61. Mr. Mishra has next argued that as a matter of fact, an incident took place in village Parmanpur, District Raebareli on 01.09.1981 at night in which a free fight ensued between two groups, in which both sides received injuries. Avadhesh Bahadur

Singh died on account of the injuries received by him and according to the prosecution, two persons, namely, Dan Bahadur Singh (P.W.3) and Ram Raj Kumari had allegedly received some injuries on one hand and four accused/appellants had received injuries on the other side. He argued that the prosecution had denied having seen the injuries of the accused/appellants and pleaded ignorance. He further argued that with regard to the injuries of four accused/appellants, whose injuries have been duly proved by D.W.1-Dr. R.N.Sharma and D.W.2-Dr. M.M. Pratap, the police after the arrest did not sent the injured accused/appellants for their medical examination, which shows the ulterior motive in order to conceal the true facts of the case. He argued that the villagers of Village Parmanpur where the incident took place came to the rescue of the accused/appellants and exercised the right of the private defence in order to save the accused/appellants as a result of which some persons on the side of the prosecution had received injuries. He further argued the prosecution has not produced the alleged injured Smt. Ram Raj Kumari in support of the prosecution case.

62. Sri R.N. S. Chauhan, learned Counsel for the appellants no. 2, 3 and 4 in Criminal Appeal No. 546 of 1982 and Sri Kunvar Mridul Rakesh, learned Senior Advocate, assisted by Sri Santosh Srivastava, learned Counsel for the appellant in Criminal Appeal No. 548 of 1982 have stated that they have adopted the arguments advanced by Sri Jyotinjay Mishra and they have nothing to say in addition in the matter.

63. Sri R.C. Singh, holding brief of Sri Arun Sinha, learned Counsel for the appellant no.2 in Criminal Appeal No. 547 of 1982 has also reiterated the submissions advanced by Sri Jyotinjay Mishra and has argued that statements of the accused/appellants recorded by the trial Court under Section 313 Cr.P.C. are missing from the record of the case, however, in paragraph-14 of the impugned judgment, the defense version taken by the different accused/appellants has been mentioned. Accused/ appellant Sharda Bux singh (of Criminal Appeal No. 547 of 1982) was said to be armed with a lathi at the time of the alleged incident. He argued that the conviction of the accused/appellants with the help of Section 149 I.P.C. is not sustainable inasmuch as it is well settled law that Section 149 I.P.C. cannot be invoked when it is a case of self defense. He also argued that it is also well settled law that more injuries on the side of the prosecution is not a proof of aggression by defence, the prosecution may have bargained for the injuries. To strengthen his submission, he has placed reliance upon the judgment of the Apex Court in Arjun Pradhan and another Vs. State of Orissa : AIR 1979 (SC) 1259, Gotti Pulla Venkete Siva Vs. State of Andhra Pradesh and another : 1970 AIR 1079, Munshi Ram and others Vs. Delhi Administration : 1968 AIR 702, James Martin Vs. State of Kerala : 2004 (2) SCC 203 and Lakshmi Singh and others Vs. State of Bihar : AIR 1976 (SC) 2263.

64. Per contra, Ms. Nand Prabha Shukla, learned Additional Government Advocate, has supported the impugned judgment and while controverting the arguments advanced by the learned Counsel for the appellants has vehemently submitted that in the facts and circumstances of the case, there is no error in the impugned judgment and order dated 15.07.1982/16.07.1982 passed by the trial Court convicting the accused/appellants, relying upon the depositions of PW1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh, PW2-Tej Bahadur Singh and P.W.3-Dan Bahadur Singh (injured). It is submitted that PW1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh, P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh and P.W.3-Dan Bahadur Singh are trustworthy and reliable witnesses. It is submitted that their presence at the time of incident has been established and proved by the prosecution by examining PW1-Awadhesh Bahadur Singh, P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh and P.W.3-Dan Bahadur Singh. It is submitted that PW1-Awadhesh Bahadur Singh, P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh and P.W.3-Dan Bahadur Singh have been fully and thoroughly cross-examined and considering the entire evidence/deposition of PW1-Awadhesh Bahadur Singh, P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh and P.W.3-Dan Bahadur Singh, their presence at the time of incident has been established and proved. It is submitted that on appreciation of entire evidence on record, the trial Court has rightly convicted and sentenced the accused/appellants.

65. Elaborating her submissions, Ms. Shukla has submitted that in the instant case, the motive has also been established and proved. It is submitted that the defence has failed to establish and prove that they were falsely implicated in the case. She argued that nothing is on record and there is no evidence on record to even suggest that accused/appellants did not cause injuries on the deceased by the time he died. She argued that the defence is not borne out at all either from the deposition of PW1-Awadhesh Bahadur Singh, P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh and P.W.3-Dan Bahadur Singh. Therefore, the prosecution has fully established and proved that on 01.09.1981, the deceased, PW1-Awadhesh Bahadur Singh and P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh were present at the place of occurrence and P.W.3-Dan Bahadur Singh, on hearing the alarm, also reached the place of occurrence and he and Ramraj Kumari were also beaten by the accused/appellants and the incident of assault to P.W.3-Dan Bahadur Singh and Ramraj Kumari were also seen by P.W.1-Avadhesh Bahadur Singh and P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh. She has further submitted that recovery of weapon/weapons used by the accused/appellants have been established and proved. Even the accused/appellants did not lead any evidence to prove that they were not present on the spot at the time of incident and that they were present elsewhere. Hence, there is no illegality or infirmity in the impugned judgment of the trial Court.

66. To strengthen her submissions, Ms. Shukla, learned Additional Government Advocate has placed reliance upon Jagdish Vs. State of Rajasthan : 1979 AIR 1010, Onkarnath Singh and others Vs. The State of U.P. : 1975 (3) SCC 276, Lalji and others Vs. State of U.P. : 1989 JIC 172 (SC) and Kattukulangara Madhavan Vs. Majeed and others : (2017) 2 SCC (Cri) 611.

67. Sri Nagendra Mohan assisted by Sri Anil Kumar Tripathi, learned Counsel for the informant has reiterated the submission of the learned Additional Government Advocate and has vehemently argued that the evidences of PW1-Kunvar Bahadur Singh, P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh and P.W.3-Dan Bahadur Singh are credible. He argued that their presence at the time of incident has been established and proved. He further argued that PW2-Tej Bahadur Singh has consistently stated that at the time of the incident, he and PW1-Kunvar Bahadur Singh were behind 10-15 paces from the deceased Avadhesh Bahadur Singh and saw that when deceased Avadhesh Bahadur Singh reached near the Napdan of Chattrapal Singh, accused/appellants armed with pistol, kanta, ballam and lathis surrounded the deceased-Avadhesh Bahadur Singh and he witnessed the accused/appellant Hari Shanker Singh shooting the deceased, on which deceased fell down near Napdan of Chattrapal Singh and, thereafter, other accused/persons assaulted the deceased with Kanta, ballam and lathis. He has argued that there might be some minor contradictions but it is settled law that minor discrepancies should not be given undue importance that don't go to the root of the matter.

68. So far as the submission on behalf of the accused/appellants that gun was examined by the ballistic expert, it is argued by the learned Counsel for the informant that even if the gun was not sent to ballistic expert and if the statements of the witnesses have inspired the confidence of the Court and have been held to be credible and reliable, then, not sending the gun to ballistic expert cannot be the basis of rejecting the evidence of a eye-witnesses P.W.1-Avadhesh Bahadur Singh and P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh and injured witness P.W.3-Dan Bahadur Singh.

69. So far as the submissions of the accused/appellants that it has been alleged that accused/appellant Hari Shanker Singh fired with gun but there is no injury of gun shot in the post-mortem report of the deceased, Sri Mohan has vehemently argued that when PW1-Kunvar Bahadur Singh and P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh have specifically stated that it was the accused/appellant Hari Shanker Singh, who fired, as a result, deceased fell down immediately and it might be that the gun shot went missing but the fact that both P.W.1-Avadhesh Bahadur Singh and P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh have categorically stated that when accused/appellant Hari Shanker Singh fired, deceased immediately fell down and other accused/appellants assaulted him with kanta, ballam and lathis and this has also been supported by the injured witness i.e. PW3 Dan Bahadur Singh. Thus, the evidences of PW1, PW2 and PW3 are fully supported by the medical evidence.

70. Sri Mohan has further argued that there is a recovery of weapons (gun, kanta, ballam and lathis) on the pointing out of the accused/appellants, which were used by accused/appellants for commission of the offence. Therefore, there is no perversity or infirmity in the impugned judgment and order of conviction and sentence imposed by the trial Court against the accused/appellants.

71. Sri Mohan has also contended that the fact that Alaha was going on in front of the house of Bhagawati Gadariya, is not in dispute. P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh and P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh are the eye-witnesses, whereas P.W.3-Dan Bahadur Singh and Ramraj Kumari are the injured. He argued that the defense case is that on one hand, accused/appellants were assaulted by the complainant's party and in defense, the villagers caused injuries to the deceased, on account of which, the deceased died and on the other hand, the case of the defense is that on the date of incident, night was very dark but even then, they recognized the complainant's party, which is unnatural conduct. He further argued that one of the accused has taken plea that his wife and ladies told him that dacoity is being committed at the house of Chhatrapal and immediately thereafter, he rushed to the place of occurrence. He argued that the alleged injuries sustained by the accused/appellants are absolutely false and cannot be reliable as all the injuries appears to be manufactured. He argued that the aforesaid plea has rightly been dealt with by the trial Court in paragraphs 34, 35 and 36 of the impugned judgment.

72. Sri Mohan has further argued that the prosecution witnesses have asserted that they saw the entire incident in the light of the torches carrying at the time of incident by the accused/appellant and the prosecution witnesses. He argued that even if it is presumed that in the light of the torch, prosecution witnesses cannot be recognize the accused/ appellants as there was dark night, then, it is also highly improbable that the accused/appellant can also not seen the prosecution witnesses at the time of incident. He argued that all the accused/appellants and prosecution witnesses are in same village and known to each other. Thus, the contention of the appellants that in the light of torches, it is improbable to identify the accused/ appellants in the dark night of bhado month, cannot be believed, hence the defense taken by the appellants in this regard is liable to be rejected.

73. We have heard the learned counsel for the respective parties and have carefully gone through the impugned judgment and order of conviction and sentenced passed by the learned trial Court and have also re-appreciated the entire evidence on record, more particularly the depositions of PW1, PW2 and PW3 and also considered the injuries found on the dead body of the deceased Avadhesh Bahadur Singh, injured persons (P.W.3-Dan Bahadur Singh and Ramraj Kumari) as well as accused/ appellants Sardar Bahadur Singh, Sharda Bux Singh, Hari Shanker Singh and Bhagwat Singh.

74. From the judgment and order passed by the learned trial Court, it appears that while convicting the accused/appellants, the trial Court has heavily relied upon the depositions of PW1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh, PW2-Tej Bahadur Singh and PW3-Dan Bahadur Singh. PW1-Kunvar Bahadur Singh and PW2-Tej Bahadur Singh are stated to be the eye-witnesses of the incident. P.W.3-Dan Bahadur Singh, who is real uncle of the deceased and Ramraj Kumari, who is aunt of the deceased, are injured witnesses, however, injured Ramraj Kumari was not examined. P.W.4-Baij Nath Singh and P.W.5-Dal Bahadur Singh are the witnesses of recovery. P.W.6-Dr. Surendra Singh has medically examined injured P.W.3-Dan Bahadur Singh and Ramraj Kumari. P.W.7-H.C. Ramjas Yadav has written chik F.I.R. of the case (Ext. Ka.7) and also prepared G.D. entry of the F.I.R. P.W.8-Constable Ram Adhar Rawat has taken sealed dead body of the deceased Avadhesh Bahadur Singh for post-mortem from the place of the incident. P.W.9-S.I. Hanuman Singh was the Investigating Officer to investigate the case under Section 3/25 of the Arms Act against accused/appellant Bhagwat Singh. P.W.10-Dr. D.S. Shukla has conducted post-mortem of the deceased Avadhesh Bahadur Singh and P.W.11-S.I. Shyam Pal Singh Rana was the Investigating Officer of the case. D.W.1-Dr. R.N. Sharma has medically examined accused/appellants Bhagwat Singh, Hari Shankar Singh, Sharda Bux Singh, Sardar Bahadur Singh. D.W.2-Dr. M.M. Pratap was the radiologist, who has prepared X-ray plate/X-ray report of the injured accused/appellant Hari Shanker Singh.

75. There is no denial to the fact that accused/appellant Bhagwat Singh is the son of the accused/appellant Hari Shanker Singh; accused/appellants Shiv Prasad Singh, Badri Singh and Amar Bahadur Singh are the brothers; accused/appellants Indra Bahadur and Sharda Bux Singh are the real brothers; accused/appellant Sardar Bahadur Singh is the cousin brother of the accused/appellant Sharda Bux Singh; accused/appellant Jitendra Bahadur and Indra Bahadur Singh alias Dhunni are the real brothers; accused/appellant Vijay Bahadur Singh is the father of accused/appellant Sardar Bahadur; accused/appellant Shiv Baran Singh is the nephew of accused/appellant Bhagwat Singh; and accused/appellant Shiv Narayan is the friends of other accused/appellants.

76. So far as the date, time and place of the incident, the trial Court has found that the witnesses of fact i.e. P.W.1-Kunvar Bahadur Singh and P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh have not been cross-examined in their statement relating to date, time and place of the incident. Further, the Investigating Officer P.W.11-S.I. Shyam Pal Singh Rana has deposed in his examination-in-chief that when he reached at the place of the incident, he saw that the deadbody of the deceased Avadhesh Bahadur Singh was lying near the house of Chattrapal Singh. The defence was not suggested in the cross-examination from P.W.11-S.I. Shyam Pal Singh Rana that Avadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased) was done to death at some other place and his dead body was dragged and placed near the house of Chattrapal Singh. However, some of the accused/appellants, in their statement under Section 313 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, has categorically stated that they were attacked by the miscreants at the place of occurrence, upon which villagers on thinking that a dacoity is being committed, inflicted injuries upon the attackers, as a consequence of which Avadhesh Bahadur Singh died. In these backgrounds, the trial Court, while appreciating the evidence on record, that the occurrence took place upon the date, time and place as alleged by the prosecution has been established.

77. So far as motive of the accused/appellants to commit the crime is concerned, P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh and P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh have deposed in their deposition that before about 10 to 12 year, accused/appellant Sardar Bahadur Singh had implicated Chandra Bhushan Singh (father of the deceased) and P.W.3-Dan Bahadur Singh in a false case of highway robbery, in which they were acquitted and further accused/appellant Sharda Bux Singh also contested election for the Pradhan of Gaon Sabha, in which he was defeated. The trial Court, on appreciating the aforesaid two incidents, has rightly came to the conclusion that relations between the side of the complainant and the side of the accused/appellants were not cordial.

78. In respect of immediate motive for the accused/appellants to commit the crime, it transpires from the record that during the course of Aalha, which was going on in front of the house of Bhagwati Gadariya on the date of the incident, the father of the deceased, Chandra Bhushan Singh, asked biri from accused/ appellant Shiv Baran Singh, upon which some altercation took place between them and, thereafter, after abusing Chandra Bhushan Singh (father of the deceased) left away from the place of Aalha. The accused/appellants, in their statement under Section 313 Cr.P.C., did not deny the holding of Aalha in front of the house of the Bhagwati Gadariya. P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh and P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh, in their examination-in-chief, have categorically deposed that Aalha was held in front of the house of the Bhagwati Gadariya and even P.W.3-Dan Bahadur Singh, who is the injured witness, in his cross-examination, has deposed that though an invitation for Aalha was given to him but he did not go to listen Aalha. The defence has not suggested in their cross-examination that no Aalha was held at the house of Bhagwati Gadariya. The testimonies of P.W.1, P.W.2 and P.W.3 have clearly established that Aalha was held in front of the house of Bhagwati Gadariya, hence, the contention of the applicants/appellants that examination of the Bhagwati Gadariya is necessary to prove the fact that Aalha was held in front of his house, is not sustainable, therefore, it cannot be said that merely not examining Bhagwati Gadariya, any adverse inference can be drawn against the prosecution.

79. So far as the contention of the learned Counsel for the applicants/appellants that since the relations between the side the accused/appellants and the said of complainant were not cordial rather strained, hence in such a situation, father of the deceased, Chandra Bhushan Singh, would not have demanded a biri from the accused/appellant Shiv Baran Singh, the Trial Court has found from perusal of the evidence on record that it does not appear that two parties were not even on speaking term, therefore, it is not improbable that Chandra Bhushan Singh demanded Biri from accused/appellant Shiv Baran Singh, who was sitting nearby. This finding of the trial Court has substance as P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh and P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh have clearly stated that biri was asked by Chandra Bhushan Singh during the course of Aalha. The defense has not suggested in cross-examination to P.W.1 and P.W.2 that no biri was asked by Chandra Bhushan Singh from accused/appellant Shiv Baran Singh at the time of Aalha, which shows the admission on the part of the accused/appellants that biri was asked by Chandra Bhushan Singh from the accused/appellant Shiv Baran Singh at the time of Aalha.

80. The other contention of the learned Counsel for the applicants/appellants is that Chandra Bhushan Singh, father of the deceased, was not examined. From perusal of the evidence on record, it transpires that P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh, in his cross-examination, has deposed that accused/appellant Shiv Baran Singh was so annoyed and left the place of Aalha by abusing them and their father and further he and his brother Avadhesh Bahadur Singh rebuked Shiv Baran Singh for his behavior towards their father Chandra Bhushan Singh and also accused/appellant Shiv Baran Singh used harsh words against them. At that relevant time of altercation, apart from other villagers, P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh and P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh were present, hence the Trial Court has rightly came to the conclusion that it was not necessary for the prosecution to examine Chandra Bhushan Singh in order to corroborate the prosecution case about the motive for the accused/appellant to commit the crime.

81. The next contention of the learned Counsel for the applicant/ appellants is that the reason for altercation has not been disclosed in the F.I.R. by the complainant/P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh and further in the F.I.R., it has not been mentioned as to which time Chandra Bhushan Singh has left the place of Aalha. This Court is of the view that this contention of the learned Counsel for the accused/appellants has no force. In the case of Supdt. of Police, CBI v. Tapan Kumar Singh :(2003) 6 SCC 175 and in the case of State of U.P. v. Naresh : (2011) 4 SCC 324, the Apex Court has held that FIR is not an encyclopaedia, which must disclose all facts and details relating to the offence reported. In paragraph 20 in the case of Supdt. of Police, CBI v. Tapan Kumar Singh (supra), the Apex Court has held as under :-

20. It is well settled that a first information report is not an encyclopaedia, which must disclose all facts and details relating to the offence reported. An informant may lodge a report about the commission of an offence though he may not know the name of the victim or his assailant. He may not even know how the occurrence took place. A first informant need not necessarily be an eyewitness so as to be able to disclose in great detail all aspects of the offence committed. What is of significance is that the information given must disclose the commission of a cognizable offence and the information so lodged must provide a basis for the police officer to suspect the commission of a cognizable offence.

At this stage it is enough if the police officer on the basis of the information given suspects the commission of a cognizable offence, and not that he must be convinced or satisfied that a cognizable offence has been committed. If he has reasons to suspect, on the basis of information received, that a cognizable offence may have been committed, he is bound to record the information and conduct an investigation. At this stage it is also not necessary for him to satisfy himself about the truthfulness of the information. It is only after a complete investigation that he may be able to report on the truthfulness or otherwise of the information. Similarly, even if the information does not furnish all the details he must find out those details in the course of investigation and collect all the necessary evidence.

The information given disclosing the commission of a cognizable offence only sets in motion the investigative machinery, with a view to collect all necessary evidence, and thereafter to take action in accordance with law. The true test is whether the information furnished provides a reason to suspect the commission of an offence, which the police officer concerned is empowered under Section 156 of the Code to investigate. If it does, he has no option but to record the information and proceed to investigate the case either himself or depute any other competent officer to conduct the investigation.

The question as to whether the report is true, whether it discloses full details regarding the manner of occurrence, whether the accused is named, and whether there is sufficient evidence to support the allegations are all matters which are alien to the consideration of the question whether the report discloses the commission of a cognizable offence. Even if the information does not give full details regarding these matters, the investigating officer is not absolved of his duty to investigate the case and discover the true facts, if he can."

82. So far as the submission of the learned Counsel for the accused/appellants that P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh was a got up witness as he was not present at the time of place of occurrence and he had no injury on his person and if he was present at the place of incident, he would have definitely tried to save his brother Avadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased), his grand-father P.W.3-Dan Bahadur Singh and his aunt Ramraj Kumari from the assault of the accused/appellants. This argument of the learned Counsel for the applicants/appellants have also no force for the reason that twelve persons/accused/appellants were armed with pistol, kanta, ballam and lathis and at that relevant time, P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh was unarmed, therefore, in these circumstances, if he would have gone to save his brother Avadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased), his grand-father P.W.3 Dan Bahadur Singh and his aunt Ramraj Kumari, then, he would have also been inflicted injuries and probably gotten killed and if his instinct of self preservation prevented him from going to save his brother, his grand-father and his aunt, his presence cannot be doubted. P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh, in his statement, has deposed that on seeing that accused/appellants have started to assault with their respective weapons to his brother Avadhesh Bahadur Singh, he raised alarm and on hearing his alarm, his grand-father P.W.3-Dan Bahadur Singh and his aunt Ramraj Kumari ran towards the place of occurrence and tried to save his brother Avadhesh Bahadur Singh but they were also beaten by the accused/appellants. P.W.3-Dan Bahadur Singh has also supported the aforesaid version of P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh that he and Ramraj Kumari, on listening the noise of fire and alarm of P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh, ran towards the place of occurrence in order to save Avadhesh Bahadur Singh. Thus, the presence of P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh at the place of occurrence cannot be doubted.

83. Another submission of the learned Senior Counsel for the accused/appellants is that P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh did not disclose the names of the accused/appellants, who was alleged to have snatched the gun of Chandra Bhushan Singh nor he disclosed the weapon held by the individual accused/appellants nor he knows about the presence of the cartridge of his father nor he disclosed the name the assailants of his brother (deceased), his grand-father (P.W.3) and his aunt injured Ramraj Kumari not tell the names of the person gathered at the time of occurrence, hence the presence of P.W.1 is doubtful and moreso it is quite improbable to identify the persons in a dark night from the distance of 10-15 paces. This contention of the learned Counsel for the applicants/appellants has also no force. It is a specific case of the prosecution that there was no source of light except the torches that have been carried out by P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh, P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh, Jai Singh and one of the accused and all these persons including other accused/appellants were at same village and they knows each other very well even their body language were known to each other. In the situation of dark night, if P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh did not identify as to who amongst the accused/appellants were actually inflicting his brother Avadhesh Bahadur Singh, his grand father P.W.3-Dan Bahadur Singh and his aunt Ramraj Kumari, this cannot make any difference as in the cross-examination, P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh have specifically deposed that after the occurrence, he saw his brother Avadhesh Bahadur Singh dead and then he neither touch him nor did he move him from that place. If P.W.1-Kunvar Bahadur Singh was not touching or moving his brother Avadhesh Bahadur Singh till the police arrived at the place of occurrence, it cannot be presumed that his conduct was improbable. Moreso, when P.W.3-Dan Bahadur Singh and aunt Ramraj Kumari were coming to save Avadhesh Bahadur Singh, then, they were also inflicting by lathis by the accused/ appellants, which are corroborated with their injury report.

84. So far as the submissions of the learned Counsel for the accused/appellants that all three witnesses i.e. P.W.1, P.W.2 and P.W.3 are having relations and no independent witness has been examined, therefore, the adverse inference can be drawn against the prosecution, it is relevant to mention here that it is a well-established principle of law that testimony of a witness otherwise inspiring confidence cannot be discarded on the ground that he being a relation of the deceased is an interested witness. A close relative who is a very natural witness cannot be termed as an interested witness. The term interested postulates that the person concerned must have some direct interest in seeing the accused person being convicted somehow or the other either because of animosity or some other reasons.

85. In Dalip Singh and Ors. Vs. The State of Punjab : [1954] 1 SCR 145, the Apex Court has laid down as under:

"27. A witness is normally to be considered independent unless he or she springs from sources which are likely to be tainted and that usually means unless the witness has cause, such as enmity against the accused, to wish to implicate him falsely. Ordinarily a close relation would be the last to screen the real culprit and falsely implicate an innocent person. It is true, when feelings run high and there is personal cause for enmity, that there is a tendency to drag in an innocent person against whom a witness has a grudge along with the guilty, but foundation must be laid for such a criticism and the mere fact of relationship far from being a foundation is often a sure guarantee of truth. However, we are not attempting any sweeping generalization. Each case must be judged on its own facts. Our observations are only made to combat what is so often put forward in cases before us as a general rule of prudence. There is no such general rule. Each case must be limited to and be governed by its own facts."

86. The Apex Court in Kartik Malhar v. State of Bihar : (1996) 1 SCC 614 has opined that a close relative who is a natural witness cannot be regarded as an interested witness, for the term "interested" postulates that the witness must have some interest in having the accused, somehow or the other, convicted for some animus or for some other reason.

87. In the instant case, the FIR was lodged in the police station and while lodging it, there is no consultation with any other person in lodging the FIR. The accused/appellants were named in the FIR. The evidence of the complainant Kunvwar Bahadur Singh PW-1 has been fully supported by Tej Bahadur Singh PW-2 and injured Dan Bahadur Singh PW-3. This clearly shows the presence of P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh on the spot.

88. Having gone through the entire depositions of PW1-Kunvar Bahadur Singh and P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh and even the cross- examination of the aforesaid two witnesses, this Court is of the opinion that both, PW1-Kunvar Bahadur Singh & PW2-Tej Bahadur Singh are trustworthy and reliable witnesses. Their presence at the time of incident when the deceased-Avadhesh Bahadur Singh was murdered, has been established and proved by the prosecution. The presence of PW1-Kunvar Bahadur Singh, P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh and even PW3-Dan Bahadur Singh, at the time of incident, is natural. PW1-Kunvar Bahadur Singh is the brother of the deceased, whereas P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh was accompanied with the P.W.1-Kunvar Bahadur Singh while returning home after listening Alaha which was going on in front of the house of Bhagwati Gadariya. Both these witnesses have categorically stated in their deposition that at the time of incident, they were 10-15 paces behind the deceased-Avadhesh Bahadur Singh while returning from listening Aalha, which was going on in front of the house of Bhagwati Gadariya. Similarly, PW3-Dan Bahadur Singh is the grand-father of the deceased and P.W.1-Kunvar Bahadur Singh. P.W.3-Dan Bahadur Singh, who is the injured witness, has specifically stated in his deposition that at about 09:30 p.m., he was sleeping at his door and on listening the noise of fire as well as alarm raised by Avadhesh Bahdur Singh (deceased) and Kunvar Bahadur Singh (P.W.1) coming out from western side of his house and northern side of the house of Chattrapal Singh near Napdan, he and Ramraj Kumari ran towards the house of Chattrapal and reached near the Napdan of Chattrpal, then, they saw that accused/appellant Hari Shanker armed with pistol, accused/appellant Bhagwat Singh and Shiv Baran armed with farsa, accused/appellant Shiv Prasad, Badri and Amar Bahadur armed with Ballam, accused/appellants Sardar Bahadur, Sharda Bux and Indra Bahadur, Indra Bahadur alias Dhunni Singh and Jitendra Bahadur, were inflicting the deceased Avadhesh Bahadur Singh and on seeing this, they tried to save deceased Avadhesh Bahadur Singh and thereafter, accused/appellants had also inflicted 5-6 lathis upon them. Both the witnesses P.W-3-Dan Bahadur Singh and P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh even P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh have fully and thoroughly cross-examined.

89. It has been contended by the accused/appellants that there is the failure of the trial Court in not taking into consideration the major contradictions in the version of the F.I.R. and the statement of P.W.1-Kunvar Bahadur Singh with regard to presence of his father Chandra Bhushan Singh. According to him, in the F.I.R., there is no whisper of word as to when Chandra Bhushan Singh went to home from the place of Aalha, however, it has been stated that his brother Avadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased) left the place of Aalha for home at 09:30 p.m. and he reached near the passage of the house of Chattrapal at about 09:30 p.m. His submission is that the distance between the place of Aalha i.e. the house of Bhagwati Gadariya and the house of Chattrapal is 200 steps, therefore, the presence of Avadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased) at the place of Aalha and near the passage of the house of Chattapal Singh at the same time i.e. at 09:30 p.m. mentioned in the F.I.R. is quite impossible. According to him, P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh, in his deposition, has deposed at one place that his father (Chandra Bhushan Singh) and his brother (deceased Avadhesh Bahadur Singh) went to home together and on other place, he has stated that his father (Chandra Bhushan Singh) went to home half an hour ahead of the deceased Avadhesh Singh and him, which shows that there are major contradictions in statement of the P.W.1-Kunvar Bahadur Singh.

90. So far as non-mentioning the time of leaving the place of Aalha by the informant/P.W.1 in the F.I.R. with regard to his father Chandra Bhushan Singh, it is a settled legal proposition that an FIR is not an encyclopaedia of the entire case. It may not and need not contain all the details. The informant fully acquainted with the facts may lack necessary skill or ability to reproduce details of the entire incident without anything missing from this. Some people may miss even the most important details in narration. Therefore, in case the informant fails to name a particular person in the FIR, this ground alone cannot tilt the balance of the case in favour of the accused/appellants. Hence, this contention of the learned Senior Counsel appearing on behalf of the appellants has no force.

91. So far as the contention of the learned Senior Counsel for the accused/appellants with regards to contradictions in the statement of the P.W.1-Kunvar Bahadur Singh that he deposed at one place that his father (Chandra Bhushan Singh) and his brother (deceased Avadhesh Bahadur Singh) went to home togetherwith and on other place, he has stated that his father (Chandra Bhushan Singh) went to home half an hour ahead of the deceased Avadhesh Singh and him, it is pertinent to mention that there may be some minor contradictions, however, as held by Apex Court in catena of decisions, minor contradictions which do not go to the root of the matter and/or such contradictions are not material contradictions, the evidence of such witnesses cannot be brushed aside and/or disbelieved.

92. In the case of State of U.P Vs. Krishna Master : (2010) 12 SCC 324, it was observed by the Apex Court that in appreciating the evidence of a witness, Court should read the evidence as a whole. In the event, it appears to have a ring of truth, the discrepancy and the inconsistency of minor nature not touching core of the case would not ordinarily permit rejection of the evidence as a whole. Further, the cardinal rule of analysing the evidence of the witnesses in the light of the aforesaid principles is this the Court will have to determine first whether the evidence of eyewitnesses proves the prosecution case. The relevant portions of the above decision are quoted below:-

"15. Before appreciating evidence of the witnesses examined in the case, it would be instructive to refer to the criteria for appreciation of oral evidence. While appreciating the evidence of a witness, the approach must be whether the evidence of the witness read as a whole appears to have a ring of truth. Once that impression is found, it is undoubtedly necessary for the court to scrutinise the evidence more particularly keeping in view the deficiencies, drawbacks and infirmities pointed out in the evidence as a whole and evaluate them to find out whether it is against the general tenor of the evidence and whether the earlier evaluation of the evidence is shaken as to render it unworthy of belief. Minor discrepancies on trivial matters not touching the core of the case, hypertechnical approach by taking sentences torn out of context here or there from the evidence, attaching importance to some technical error committed by the investigating officer not going to the root of the matter would not ordinarily permit rejection of the evidence as a whole.

17. In the deposition of witnesses, there are always normal discrepancies, howsoever honest and truthful they may be. These discrepancies are due to normal errors of observation, normal errors of memory due to lapse of time, due to mental disposition, shock and horror at the time of occurrence and threat to the life. It is not unoften that improvements in earlier version are made at the trial in order to give a boost to the prosecution case, albeit foolishly. Therefore, it is the duty of the court to separate falsehood from the truth. In sifting the evidence, the court has to attempt to separate the chaff from the grains in every case and this attempt cannot be abandoned on the ground that the case is baffling unless the evidence is really so confusing or conflicting that the process cannot reasonably be carried out. In the light of these principles, this Court will have to determine whether the evidence of eyewitnesses examined in this case proves the prosecution case."(Emphasis supplied)

93. While taking note of the aforesaid case i.e. State of U.P. vs. Krishna Master and others (Supra), the Apex Court the case of Shamim Vs. State (GNCT of Delhi) : AIR 2018 SC 4529 has observed as under :-

"12. While appreciating the evidence of a witness, the approach must be whether the evidence of the witness read as a whole inspires confidence. Once that impression is formed, it is undoubtedly necessary for the court to scrutinise the evidence more particularly keeping in view the deficiencies, drawbacks and infirmities pointed out in the evidence as a whole and evaluate them to find out whether it is against the general tenor of the evidence and whether the earlier evaluation of the evidence is shaken as to render it unworthy of belief. Minor discrepancies on trivial matters not touching the core of the case, hypertechnical approach by taking sentences torn out of context here or there from the evidence, attaching importance to some technical error without going to the root of the matter would not ordinarily permit rejection of the evidence as a whole. Minor omissions in the police statements are never considered to be fatal. The statements given by the witnesses before the police are meant to be brief statements and could not take place of evidence in the court. Small/Trivial omissions would not justify a finding by court that the witnesses concerned are liars. The prosecution evidence may suffer from inconsistencies here and discrepancies there, but that is a shortcoming from which no criminal case is free. The main thing to be seen is whether those inconsistencies go to the root of the matter or pertain to insignificant aspects thereof. In the former case, the defence may be justified in seeking advantage of incongruities obtaining in the evidence. In the latter, however, no such benefit may be available to it."

94. In the instant case, the FIR was registered on the basis of a report submitted PW 1-Kunvar Bahadur Singh, who and P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh are the eye-witnesses. According to the prosecution case, as appears from the depositions of PW-1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh and P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh, on the date of the incident, they went to listen Aalha, which was going on in front of the house of Bhagwati Gadariya. Chandra Bhushan Singh, Avadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased), accused/appellant Shiv Baran Singh and other villagers were also present there to listen Aalha. As per the deposition of P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh, he was 5-6 paces away from his father Chandra Bhushan Singh in the place of Aalha and during the course of Aalha, his father Chandra Bhushan Singh asked Biri from accused/ appellant Shiv Baran Singh, upon which accused/appellant Shiv Baran Singh told Chandra Bhushan Singh if you are fancier of biri, then, buy a biri and smoke it, to which his father Chandra Bhushan Singh told accused/ appellant Shiv Baran Singh that you are misbehaving, upon which accused/appellant abused his father Chandra Bhushan Singh and, then, his brother Avadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased) asked accused/appellant Shiv Baran Singh as to why you have abused his father. Thereafter, accused/appellant Shiv Baran Singh left the place of Aalha while using filthy language and subsequent thereto, his father Chandra Bhushan Singh and his brother Avadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased) went to home. After the aforesaid deposition, P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh has subsequently deposed that his father Chandra Bhushan Singh had gone home half an hour before them (P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh, Avadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased), Jai Singh, Tej Bahadur Singh (P.W.2), Balwant Singh, Peshkar Singh). P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh, in his examination-in-chief, has categorically deposed that Aalha took place in front of the house of Bhagwati Gadriya and at that time, he, Kunwar Bahadur Singh (P.W.1), Avadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased), Chandra Bhushan Singh (father of the deceased and P.W.1), accused/appellant Shiv Baran Singh and other villagers were present. In the night about 08:30 p.m., altercation took place between Avadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased), his father Chandra Bhusan Singh and accused/appellant Shiv Baran Singh and accused/appellant Shiv Baran Singh has said some abusive language and after using abusive language, accused/appellant left from there. P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh has further deposed that at about 09:00 p.m., Chandra Bhushan Singh got up and left from there.

95. From perusal of the depositions of P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh and P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh, one thing is clear that Chandra Bhushan Singh, who is the father of the deceased and P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh, has left from the place of Aalha prior to P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh and Avadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased) as P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh has deposed at one place in his deposition that his father Chandra Bhushan Singh has left the place, where Aalha was going on, half an hour before them, whereas P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh has deposed in his deposition that altercation took place between Avadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased), Chandra Bhushan Singh and accused/appellant Shiv Baran Singh at about 08:30 p.m. and Chandra Bhushan Singh left the place, where Aalha was going on, at about 09:00 p.m. Moreso, both P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh and P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh have deposed in their deposition that immediately after Chandra Bhushan Singh, Avadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased) also went from the place, where Aalha was going on, towards home and when Avadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased) reached near the Napdan of Chattrapal Singh, they as well as Balwant Singh, Peshkar Singh were 10-15 paces behind from Avadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased) and also at that time, they and Jai Singh were having torches in their hand.

96. In their deposition, both P.W.1-Avadhesh Bahadur Singh and P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh have further deposed that when Avadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased) reached near Napdaan, they saw that accused/appellant Hari Shanker Singh armed with pistol, accused/appellants Bhagwat Singh, Shiv Baran Singh armed with Kanta and accused/appellant Shiv Prasad armed with Ballam and other accused/appellants armed with lathis surrounded Avadhesh Bahadur Singh (deceased) and, thereafter, accused/appellant Hari Shanker Singh fired upon Avadhesh Bahadur Singh, upon which Avadhesh Bahadur Singh fell down near Napdan and other accused/appellants, thereafter, assaulting Avadhesh Bahadur Singh with Kanta, Ballam and lathis.

97. The report of Post-Mortem of the deceased Avadhesh Bahadur Singh shows that P.W.10-Dr. D.S. Shukla, who conducted the post-mortem of deceased Avadhesh Bahadur Singh, has found 26 ante-mortem injuries on his person and opined that deceased-Avadhesh Bahadur Singh died on account of shock and haemorrhage as a result of ante-mortem injuries. In his deposition, P.W.10 Dr. D.S. Shukla has stated that frontal bone of the head was fractured; Membrane of the brain was congested; ribs 3 to 6 on the right side were found fractured; and clotted blood was found on outerside of cerburm; these injuries were sufficient in the ordinary course to cause death. P.W.10 Dr. D.S. Shukla has also deposed that death could have been caused on 01.09.1981 at about 09:30 p.m.; incised wounds with contused injuries were caused by Kanta; and remaining injuries were caused by some blunt weapon like Lathi. This witness has also proved the post-mortem examination.

98. The injured P.W.3-Dan Bahadur Singh and Ramraj Kumari were examined by P.W.6-Dr. Surendra Singh, who, on examination, found one injury of contusion upon injured Ramraj Kumari and five injuries upon P.W.3-Dan Bahadur Singh. In his deposition, P.W.6 has stated that all the injuries were caused by blunt weapon and these injuries could have been caused on 01.09.1981 at about 09:30 p.m.

99. Here, it is to be kept in mind that the evidentiary value of an injured witness carries great weight. In Mano Dutt and another v. State of Uttar Pradesh : (2012) 4 SCC 79, it was held as under:

31. We may merely refer to Abdul Sayeed v. State of M.P. : (2010) 10 SCC 259 where this Court held as under:

28. The question of the weight to be attached to the evidence of a witness that was himself injured in the course of the occurrence has been extensively discussed by this Court. Where a witness to the occurrence has himself been injured in the incident, the testimony of such a witness is generally considered to be very reliable, as he is a witness that comes with a built-in guarantee of his presence at the scene of the crime and is unlikely to spare his actual assailant(s) in order to falsely implicate someone. 'Convincing evidence is required to discredit an injured witness.' [Vide Ramlagan Singh v. State of Bihar : (1973) 3 SCC 881, Malkhan Singh v. State of U.P. : (1975) 3 SCC 311, Machhi Singh v. State of Punjab : (1983) 3 SCC 470, Appabhai v. State of Gujarat , Bonkya v. State of Maharashtra : (1995) 6 SCC 447, Bhag Singh v. State of Punjab : (1997) 7 SCC 712, Mohar v. State of U.P. : (2002) 7 SCC 606, Dinesh Kumar v. State of Rajasthan : (2008) 8 SCC 270, Vishnu v. State of Rajasthan , Annareddy Sambasiva Reddy v. State of A.P. : (2009) 12 SCC 546 and Balraje v. State of Maharashtra : (2010) 6 SCC 673.]

29. While deciding this issue, a similar view was taken in Jarnail Singh v. State of Punjab : (2009) 9 SCC 719 where this Court reiterated the special evidentiary status accorded to the testimony of an injured accused and relying on its earlier judgments held as under:

'28. Darshan Singh (PW 4) was an injured witness. He had been examined by the doctor. His testimony could not be brushed aside lightly. He had given full details of the incident as he was present at the time when the assailants reached the tubewell. In Shivalingappa Kallayanappa v. State of Karnataka : 1994 Supp (3) SCC 235 this Court has held that the deposition of the injured witness should be relied upon unless there are strong grounds for rejection of his evidence on the basis of major contradictions and discrepancies, for the reason that his presence on the scene stands established in case it is proved that he suffered the injury during the said incident.

29. In State of U.P. v. Kishan Chand : (2004) 7 SCC 629 a similar view has been reiterated observing that the testimony of a stamped witness has its own relevance and efficacy. The fact that the witness sustained injuries at the time and place of occurrence, lends support to his testimony that he was present during the occurrence. In case the injured witness is subjected to lengthy cross-examination and nothing can be elicited to discard his testimony, it should be relied upon (vide Krishan v. State of Haryana . Thus, we are of the considered opinion that evidence of Darshan Singh (PW 4) has rightly been relied upon by the courts below.'

30. The law on the point can be summarised to the effect that the testimony of the injured witness is accorded a special status in law. This is as a consequence of the fact that the injury to the witness is an inbuilt guarantee of his presence at the scene of the crime and because the witness will not want to let his actual assailant go unpunished merely to falsely implicate a third party for the commission of the offence. Thus, the deposition of the injured witness should be relied upon unless there are strong grounds for rejection of his evidence on the basis of major contradictions and discrepancies therein.

To the similar effect is the judgment of this Court in Balraje (supra)"

100. From the aforesaid dictum of the Apex Court as well as on perusal of injuries sustained by the injured P.W.3-Dan Bahadur Singh and Ramraj Kumari, it transpires that injuries sustained by the injured Ramraj Kumari and P.W.3-Dan Bahadur Singh and also the ante-mortem injuries sustained by deceased Avadhesh Bahadur Singh have been supported by the depositions adduced by the PW.1-Kunvar Bahadur Singh, P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh and P.W.3-Dan Bahadur Singh before the trial Court. These witnesses P.W.1, P.W.2 and P.W.3 are thoroughly cross-examined on each and every aspect pointed out by the defence. However, they have fully supported the case of the prosecution From the entire evidence on record, it is established and proved that the deceased Avadesh Bahadur Singh, PW1-Kunvar Bahadur Singh, PW2-Tej Bahadur Singh, Chandra Bhushan Singh and accused/appellant Shiv Baran Singh went to listen Aalha in front of the house of Bhagwati Gadariya on the date of the incident, wherein some altercation between Chandra Bhushan Singh and accused/appellant Shiv Baran Singh occurred on the asking of biri by Chandra Bhushan Singh from accused/appellant Shiv Baran Singh, thereafter, the incident had taken place, as narrated hereinabove. The place of incident has been established and proved by the prosecution.

101. So far as the submission of the learned Counsel for the accused/appellants that there is no gun shot injury on the person of deceased Avadhesh Bahadur Singh though as per prosecution, accused/appellant Hari Shanker Singh has alleged to be fired with his pistol, it is required to be noted that it was never the case of the prosecution that there was a firearm injury on the person of the deceased. Even as per the evidence of the witnesses, when accused/appellant Hari Shanker Singh fired, the deceased fell down on the earth and thereafter, other accused/appellants have assaulted the deceased with Kanta, ballam and lathis. It was never the case of the witnesses that bullet hit the deceased.

102. We have carefully gone through the depositions of PW1 and PW2, who can be said to be the star witnesses and they are the eyewitnesses to the incident. Their presence at the place of the incident are not doubted and they are found to be trustworthy and reliable. Their deposition is consistent with the allegations in the FIR. There is no reason to doubt his trustworthiness. Therefore, even the appellants can be and is rightly convicted relying upon the depositions of PW1 and PW2, who are eyewitnesses to the incident.

103. In the instant case, it is apparent that testimony of injured witness P.W.3-Dan Bahadur Singh is clear and cogent and it finds ample support from medical evidence as well as statement of Investigating Officer. After considering entire evidence on record, it is apparent that conviction of accused-appellants are based on evidence.

104. So far as the contention of the learned Counsel for the appellants that the alleged occurrence is stated to have taken place in the month of bhado and it was a dark night with no moonlight even and the entire incident are said to have seen by the eye-witnesses in the light of torch, which is improbable and on this count, the story of the prosecution cannot be believed also, it is relevant to mention here that from the perusal of the evidence on record, it is established that the occurrence took place at about 09:30 p.m. On the date of the incident, P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh and P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh were coming together after listening Aalha and the deceased was 10-15 paces ahead from them. Both the witnesses P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh and P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh have specifically stated in their depositions that they had seen the entire incident in the light of torches which were carried by them at the time of the incident as well as in the light of the torches of the accused/appellant.

105. At this juncture, it would be apt to mention that in Nathuni Yadav Vs. State of Bihar : 1998 (9) SCC 238, the Apex Court has dealt with the issue of identification in the dark and observed as under :-

"Ever assuming that there was no moonlight then, we have to gauge the situation carefully. The proximity at which the assailants would have confronted with the injured, the possibility of some light reaching there from the glove of stars, and the fact that the murder was committed on a roofless terrace are germane factors to be born in mind while judging whether the victims could have had enough visibility to correctly identify the assailants. Over and above those factors, we must bear in mind the further fact that assailants were no strangers to the inmates of the tragedy bound house, the eye witnesses being well acquainted with the physiognomy of each one of the killers. We are, therefore, not persuaded to assume that it would not have been possible for the victims to see the assailants or that there was possibility for making a wrong identification of them. We are keeping in mind the fact that even the assailants had enough light to identity the victims whom they targeted without any mistake from among those who were sleeping on the terrace. If the light then available, though meagre, was enough for the assailants why should we think that same light was not enough for the injured who would certainly have pointedly focussed their eyes on the faces of the intruders standing in front of them. What is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander."

106. Recently, in the case of Pruthiviraj Jayantibhai Vanol Vs. Dinesh Dayabhai Vala and others (Criminal Appeal No. 177 of 2014), decided on 26.07.2021, the Apex Court has also relied upon Nathuni Yadav Vs. State of Bihar (supra) and has observed as under :-

"There is evidence about the availability of light near the place of occurrence. Even otherwise, that there may not have been any source of light is hardly considered relevant in view of the fact that the parties were known to each other from earlier. The criminal jurisprudence developed in this country recognizes that the eye sight capacity of those who live in rural areas is far better than compared to the town folks. Identification at night between known persons is acknowledged to be possible by voice, silhouette, shadow, and gait also. Therefore, we do not find much substance in the submission of the respondents that identification was not possible in the night to give them the benefit of doubt."

107. P.W.1-Kunvar Bahadur Singh and P.W.2-Tej Bahadur Singh have consistently deposed in their statement that in addition to them, accused /appellant Hari Shanker Singh was also carrying a torch. In the F.I.R., it has been stated that the occurrence was seen by all of them with their respective torches and also in the light of the torches of the accused. In these circumstances, it cannot be said that there was no source of light at the place of occurrence. It is not in dispute that all the accused/appellants except accused/appellant Shiv Narain Yadav and eye-witnesses were living at very same village and in that situation, it is a common thing that a little light would have been sufficient to recognize the faces of known persons as the parties were known to each other from earlier and the eye-sight capacity of those who live in rural areas is far better than compared to the town folks. Moreso, the Investigating Officer has also inspected the torch and found it in a running condition and a entry of the same has also been recorded in the case diary. Therefore, the plea of the accused/appellants that there was no source of light, is not sustainable and the trial Court has rightly observed that from the evidence of record, the existence of light has clearly been established and would have been sufficient to identify the faces of the accused/appellants.

108. At this juncture, it would also be borne in mind that the deceased Avadhesh Bahadur Singh has received as many as 26 ante-mortem injuries. This shows that he was inflicted injuries by a large number of persons and a smaller number of persons would not have been able to inflict so many injuries. Moreso, from the evidence on record, it transpires that at the time of death, deceased was aged about 35 years. That being so, he would have certainly been able to run away after receiving some injuries. These circumstances also corroborates the prosecution story.

109. Now let us consider the case and/or defence on behalf of the accused/appellants. It was the case on behalf of the accused/appellants that the prosecution has failed to explain the injuries upon the persons of the accused/appellants, therefore, this ought to be taken as a circumstance to indicate the falsity of the prosecution case. It has been contended by the learned Counsel for the accused/appellant that injury no.1 caused by the accused/appellant Hari Shanker Singh by a fire arm.

110. As per the statement of D.W.1-Dr. R.N.Sharma, he was not sure whether injury no.1 was caused by fire arm or not and, therefore, he recommended for radiological examination and further no pellet or foreign substance was palpable to him. He also stated that injury no.1 was skin deep. If for the sake of argument, it can be presumed that injury no.1 has been caused by a fire arm, then, definitely some foreign substance should have been palpable but D.W.1-Dr. R.N. Sharma has admitted in his statement that injury no.1, which is a lacerated wound, is caused by a blunt object. He further deposed that as Radiologist D.W.2-Dr. M.M. Pratap found a radio opaque shadow, therefore, he could not say as to whether this was caused by a blunt weapon or by a fire-arm. The cross-examination of this witness shows that he was not in a position to say as to whether this injury was in fact caused by a fire-arm, however, he admitted that injury no.1 could have been caused by a nail. D.W.2-Dr. M.M. Pratap, in his examination-in-chief, deposed that the radio opaque shadow could be of a pellet and that its confirmation could be made only by a ballistic expert. He admitted the fact that injury no.1 could be made by inserting a nail and then putting some foreign body in it. He, in his cross-examination, deposed that this radio opaque shadow had crossed the inner table of skull. The Trial Court, after considering the aforesaid, came to the conclusion that injury no.1 caused by accused/appellant Hari Shanker Singh was aggravated after medical examination and before the radiological examination in order to give it colour that it was caused by a fire-arm and more so from the evidence on record, it cannot be established that the said injury was caused at the time of occurrence.

111. It transpires from the evidence on record that a suggestion was put to P.W.1-Kunwar Bahadur Singh in his cross-examination that fire arm was used from his side. This suggestion was denied by P.W.1. The name of the person who may have fired the gun was not suggested to any of the witnesses nor it was suggested that the fire hit accused/appellant Hari Shanker Singh. If any shot has been fired at the time of occurrence, then, a number of persons would have also been injured. In any case, accused/appellant Hari Shanker Singh would have receive more than one injury. In his statement, accused/appellant Hari Shanker Singh has stated that as soon as he came out of the house, he was shot. No blackening or carrying was found around this injury. In these backgrounds, the trial Court has rightly came to the conclusion that no such injury was received by accused/appellant Hari Shanker Singh at the time of occurrence and the trial Court has rightly observed that it is not improbable that in order to create a defense, this injury was manufactured and after aggregated in order to create a defence.

112. It transpires from the injuries of the accused/appellants that injury no.1 of accused/appellant Bhagwat Singh is a lacerated wound 2 cm x 1 cm skin deep, which is a superficial one. D.W.1-Dr. R.N. Sharma has deposed in his statement that these injuries were about four days old. It appears that apprasions of the dimension of 1 cm x ½ cm would have been present even after the lapse of four days. Moreso, most of the injuries were on non-vital parts of the body as the injuries were on overhand and feet. The Trial Court has rightly observed that the injuries could have been very well self-suffered and self-manufactured or caused at the time of their arrest.

113. So far as the defense taken by the accused/appellants that miscreants have attacked the villagers and the villagers, on thinking that deceased Avadhesh Bahadur Singh and others to be miscreants, were inflicted them in self defense and, on account of which, Avadhesh Bahadur Singh sustained injuries and died and also P.W.3-Dan Bahadur Singh sustained injuries, it is relevant to mention that the trial Court has recorded specific finding that accused/appellants had refused to give statement under Section 313 Cr.P.C. unless their counsel had come. It transpires from perusal of the evidence on record that it was not suggested to any of the witnesses or to the Investigating Officer in their cross-examination that miscreants had attacked the villagers and the villagers thought Avadhesh Bahadur Singh and Dan Bahadur Singh being the miscreants assaulted them in self defense and on account of which both of them sustained injuries. The injuries report of the accused/ appellants shows that except injury no.1 of the accused/appellant Hari Shanker Singh, which too was suspected, all the injuries are simple in nature and non-vital part of the body. If plea of defense that accused/appellants have been attacked by the miscreants or by the complainants' party, is taken to be true, then, certainly some of the accused/ appellants would have received grievous injuries but D.W.1 and D.W.2, who examined the accused/appellants, have not found any grievous injuries on the persons of accused/appellants. In these backgrounds, the trial Court has rightly observed that accused/appellants were grouping in the dark as they had no defence and only as an afterthought, they took the plea of the attack by the miscreants including the complainant's party for the first time in their statement under Section 313 Cr.P.C. and as such, defence version is only an afterthought and has no legs to stand.

114. The judgments, which have been relied by the learned Counsel for the accused/appellants are not applicable in the facts and circumstances of the case.

115. For the reasons stated hereinabove, this Court see no reason to interfere with the impugned judgment and order dated 15.07.1982/16.07.1982 passed by the trial Court convicting and sentencing the accused/appellants for the offences as mentioned in paragraph Nos. 6 and 7 hereinabove. This Court are in complete agreement with the view taken by the trial Court.

116. The above-captioned appeals are, accordingly, dismissed.

117. Accused/appellant no.2-Badri Singh, accused/appellant no.3-Amar Bahadur Singh, accused/appellant no.4-Shiv Prasad Singh, accused appellant no.5-Jitendra Bahadur Singh, accused/appellant no.7-Shiv Narain Yadav in Criminal Appeal No. 546 of 1982, accused/appellant no.2-Sharda Bux Singh in Criminal Appeal No. 547 of 1982 and accused/appellant-

Hari Shanker Singh in Criminal Appeal No. 548 of 1982 are on bail. Their bail bonds are cancelled and sureties discharged. They are directed to surrender forthwith, failing which they shall be taken into custody to serve out remaining period of sentence in terms of the impugned judgment and order dated 15.7.1982/16.07.1982 passed by the trial Court.

118. The Senior Registrar of this Court is directed to transmit the certified copy of this judgment and order of this Court along with the record to the Sessions Judge, Raebareli for necessary information and compliance. It is further directed that the record of the case transmitted by this Court shall be kept in safe custody by the trial Court.

A. Criminal Law – Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances Act, 1985 – Section 50 – Applicability – Provision of Section 50 of the Act stands attracted in case of personal search and not in the case where the search was given effect otherwise than from the personal search of the accused – It applies only in case of personal search of a person. It does not extend to search of a vehicle or container or a bag or premises. (Para 11 and 12)

B. Criminal Law – N.D.P.S. Act, 1985 – Sections 8, 20(b)(ii)(C) & 23(C) – Ten Kg. Charas recovered at Indo-Nepal Border from a foreigner – No public witness – Only police personnel appeared as a witness – Effect – Held, it can be safely assumed that it is very hard to procure public-witness because nobody wants to become witness in such type of cases, easily. Witnesses, examined in this case, are no doubt police-personnel, but they are relevant witnesses and their statements are consistent and corroborated each other – High Court further observed that it cannot be said that police/prosecution withheld or suppressed public-witnesses with an ulterior motive. (Para 14)

C. Criminal Law – Criminal Procedure Code,1973 – Section 293 – Public Document – Report of Forensic Science Laboratory – Admissibility as an evidence – Exemption from being proved – Held, Report of Forensic Science Laboratory is a public document – Report of State Forensic Science Laboratory is admissible in evidence and there is no requirement to call the Director of that laboratory to get the report proved. (Para 16 and 17)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Ajai Tyagi, J.)

1. This appeal has been preferred by the appellant-Jose Luis Quintanilla Sacristan against the judgment and order dated 30.10.2017, passed by learned Additional Sessions Judge, Fast Track Court-I, Maharajganj, in Special Case No.16 of 2015, arising out of Case Crime No.86 of 2015, Police Station-Sonauli, District-Maharajganj convicting and sentencing the appellant for ten years R.I. and Rs.1,00,000/- fine (in default, imprisonment for six months) under Section 8 read with section 20 (b) (ii) (C) of the Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances Act, 1985 (herein after referred to as 'NDPS Act, 1985'), and for ten years R.I. and fine of Rs.1,00,000/- (in default, imprisonment of six months) under Section 8 read with Section 23 (C) of NDPS Act, 1985.

2. The relevant facts for disposal of this appeal are that on 15.2.2015, Sub Inspector-Ram Saran Yadav with Police Personnel of Police Station-Sonauli, Maharajganj and Sub Inspector-Raja Murad Ali of Seema Suraksha Bal (SSB) were on checking at India Gate situates at Indo-Nepal Border. They were jointly checking the people and vehicles. At about 14:10, a foreigner was seen by them taking a trolley-bag with him coming from the 'No Man's Land' after crossing the Nepal border. Police Personnel stopped him and started checking his bag, which the foreigner tried to avoid, but when his trolley-bag was opened and checked, 10 kg. of charas was recovered from the bag in a plastic packet. On asking the foreigner, he told that he is Spanish and his name is Jose Luis Quintanilla Sacristan (the appellant) R/o Village-Street Dolores Lbarrliri No.5 ZA 33401 Aviles Astlirias Spain. The S.I. of S.S.B. Raja Murad Ali gave option to the accused-appellant speaking in English that if he desires so his search can be taken before any Gazetted Officer. On this option, he refused to opt and said that police personnel may take his personal search for which he gave his consent also in writing. First of all, police personnel took personal search of each other and after that accused was searched. Recovered charas was weighed by electrical weighing machine and weight of recovered charas was found to be 10 kg. out of which 100 gm. of charas was separated as sample and after sealing it properly, it was sent to Forensic Science Laboratory, Varanasi, for chemical examination and rest of the substance was sealed separately. At the time of arrest of the accused and recovery of charas, public was there, but nobody was ready to become public witness. Information of arrest of the accused-appellant was given to her sister-Lushia Cutena in Spain on her Mobile No.0034985565980 and recovery-memo was prepared on the spot and the case under Section 8/20/23 NDPS Act, 1985, was registered against the accused-appellant at P.S.-Sonauli, District-Maharajganj.

3. Heard Ms.Mary Punch, learned Advocate, assisted by Mr.Mohd. Kalim, Shri Rajeev Kumar, learned Amicus Curie, Mr.B.A. Khan, learned AGA appearing on behalf of the State and perused the record.

4. Learned counsel for the appellant, first of all, argued that in this case first information report is delayed, but it is not explained that how it was delayed. On perusal of chick-FIR, it is clear that accused was arrested on 15.2.2015 at 14:10 and on the same day, FIR was lodged at 16:45, i.e., after two and a half hour of the orrurrence. After arresting the accused, recovery-memo was prepared on the spot and accused was brought to the police station, which was three km. north from the place of occurrence. Hence, there is no delay in lodging the first information report against the appellant.

5. Learned counsel for the appellant further submits that accused is a spanish-national, he does not know Hindi while consent letter is written in Hindi and it is clear that accused was unable to understand the language and the matter of consent letter. In fact, police had taken the signature of the accused on blank-paper and after that matter was written on that showing the consent of the accused. It has also been submitted that no member of the police-party knew the Spanish-language, therefore, it was impossible for them to explain anything to the accused regarding his search, arrest etc. It is also not in the prosecution case that police-party was having a translator with them, who could translate the language to the accused-appellant.

6. Per contra, learned AGA submitted that prosecution witnesses have clearly stated in their statement that they explained entire proceedings to the accused in English-language, which was being very-well understood by the appellant. Hence, there was no language barrier.

7. In this regard, perusal of recovery-memo (Ex.ka3) shows that the matter of arrest and recovery was explained to accused-appellant in English-language. S.I.-Ram Saran Yadav (PW2) has said in his statement that when the police-party came to know about charas, S.I.-Raja Murad Ali from S.S.B. (PW3) talked with the accused in English-language and also said in his statement that he made the accused understood all the things in English-language. It is not denied by the defence that accused did not understand the English-language. Hence, this Court is of the considered view that there was no language barrier between the police-party and the accused-appellant and it cannot be believed that accused did not understand what proceedings were going on against him and what was recovered from his possession. Therefore, the argument of learned counsel for the appellant regarding language-barrier is not sustainable.

8. Learned counsel for the appellant also argued that in this case, there was no compliance of Section 50 of NDPS Act, 1985, inasmuch as the offer given to the accused-appellant for searching in presence of a gazetted officer and he declined the offer and the same was not corroborated by any independent witness. Learned counsel submitted that before searching the belongings of the accused, he was not given option to be searched before a Gazetted Officer or a Magistrate.

9. As far as the compliance of Section 50 of the Act, 1985, is concerned, it would be relevant to quote Section 50 of the Act for ready reference:

50. Conditions under which search of persons shall be conducted.--

(1) When any officer duly authorized under section 42 is about to search any person under the provisions of section 41, section 42 or section 43, he shall, if such person so requires, take such person without unnecessary delay to the nearest Gazetted Officer of any of the departments mentioned in section 42 or to the nearest Magistrate.

(2) If such requisition is made, the officer may detain the person until he can bring him before the Gazetted Officer or the Magistrate referred to in sub-section (1).

(3) The Gazetted Officer or the Magistrate before whom any such person is brought shall, if he sees no reasonable ground for search, forthwith discharge the person but otherwise shall direct that search be made.

(4) No female shall be searched by anyone excepting a female. 1[(5) When an officer duly authorized under section 42 has reason to believe that it is not possible to take the person to be searched to the nearest Gazetted Officer or Magistrate without the possibility of the person to be searched parting with possession of any narcotic drug or psychotropic substance, or controlled substance or article or document, he may, instead of taking such person to the nearest Gazetted Officer or Magistrate, proceed to search the person as provided under section 100 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 (2 of 1974).

(6) After a search is conducted under sub-section (5), the officer shall record the reasons for such belief which necessitated such search and within seventy-two hours send a copy thereof to his immediate official superior.]

10. The Hon'ble Apex Court in State of Punjab vs. Baldev Singh (1999) 6 SCC 172, held as under:

"12. On its plain reading, Section 50 of the Act, would come into play only in the case of a search of a person as distinguished from search of any premises etc. However, if the empowered officer without any prior information as contemplated by Section 42 of the Act makes a search or causes arrest of a person during the normal course of investigation into an offence or suspected offence and on completion of that search contraband under the NDPS Act, is also recovered, the requirements of Section 50 of the Act are not attracted."

11. Apart from this, it has also been held by Hon'ble Apex Court that the provision of Section 50 of the Act stands attracted in case of personal search and not in the case where the search was given effect otherwise than from the personal search of the accused. Following cases were relied:

1. Madan Lal and another vs. State of Himachal Pradesh, 2003 (47) ACC 763;

2. Megh Singh vs. State of Punjab, 2003 Cr.LJ 4329; and

3. State of Himachal Pradesh vs. Pawan Kumar, 2005 (52) ACC 710.

12. In the aforesaid judgments, it has been held by the Hon'ble Apex Court that Section 50 of the Act, 1985, applies only in case of personal search of a person. It does not extend to search of a vehicle or container or a bag or premises.

13. In this case, recovery-memo shows that 10 kg. charas was recovered from the trolley-bag of the accused-appellant and it was not recovered from the person of the accused. Hence, recovery of the trolley-bag does not attract of provisions of Section 50 of NDPS Act, 1985, but it is clear that after recovery, the charas from trolley-bag, police-personnel took the personal search of accused also, but for that recovery-memo shows that he was given an option to be searched before Gazetted Officer and that he denied. Accused-appellant signed consent letter also, which is Ex.ka2 on record. For this consent letter, learned counsel for the appellant has argued that it is written in

Hindi-language while the accused-appellant does not know Hindi. It is also submitted that signature of accused was taken on blank-paper, but appellant could not prove that his signature was taken on a blank-paper. So far as language in Hindi is concerned, the arresting witnesses PW2 & PW3 have categorically stated in statements that they explained the matter to the accused in English-language. S.I.-Raja Murad Ali (PW3) from S.S.B. specifically said in his cross-examination that consent letter was prepared by S.I.-Ram Saran Yadav (PW2), which was translated and read over to the accused in English-language. PW2 also stated in his cross-examination that regarding consent letter, accused-appellant was told in English-language. In State of Punjab vs. Baldev Singh (supra), it is held by Hon'ble Supreme Court that when an empowered officer or a duly authorized officer while acting on a prior information about to search a person, it is imperative for him to inform the person concerned of his right under sub-section 1 of Section 50 of the Act, 1985, of being taken to the nearest Gazetted Officer or nearest Magistrate for making the search. However, such information may not necessarily be in writing. Hence, in this case also, the accused-appellant was orally given option regarding search before a Gazetted Officer. Although, neither the police was acting on prior information nor charas was recovered from his person, it was recovered from his trolley-bag, therefore, it cannot be said that there was contravention and non-compliance of Section 50 of the Act, 1985.

14. Learned counsel for the appellant also argued that S.I.-Ram Saran Yadav (PW2) stated in his statement that at the time of occurrence, accused-appellant did not come to the spot in white-car while S.I.-Raja Murad Ali (PW3) clearly said that accused-appellant came at the place of occurrence in white-car, he has mentioned his car number also. Hence, this contradictory statement of PW2 and PW3 indicates that there was no recovery from the accused as there was no such occurrence took place and false recovery was planted from accused-appellant because being the foreign-national, police demanded illegal money from accused and when he refused to do so, he was falsely implicated in this case and for that reason, police did not make any public witness of this alleged occurrence. In my opinion, 10 kg. charas is recovered from the possession of the accused-appellant and learned AGA also submitted that the market-value of 10 kg. charas is of Rs.1 crore. Hence, it cannot be presumed that police planted the charas worth Rs.1 crore, falsely. So far as public-witnesses are concerned, it can be safely assumed that it is very hard to procure public-witness because nobody wants to become witness in such type of cases, easily. Witnesses, examined in this case, are no doubt police-personnel, but they are relevant witnesses and their statements are consistent and corroborated each other. Therefore, keeping in view the above position and also keeping in view the fact that accused-appellant was caught by the combined team of Police and SSB, it can be safely assumed that prosecution did not withhold the public witnesses deliberately. In the statement under Section 313 Cr.P.C. before the trial court, the accused-appellant has stated that members of police-party demanded illegal money from him and due to not giving the money, they have falsely implicated. It is burden on accused-appellant to prove the said statement, but there is not even an iota of evidence in this regard. Appellant has also not shown any evidence, which could show that police-party or members of S.S.B. were having any enmity with the accused-appellant as the appellant is a foreign-national and there is no reason and occasion to have any enmity between the police and the accused-appellant. Hence, it cannot be said that police/prosecution withheld or suppressed public-witnesses with an ulterior motive and it could not extend any benefit in favour of the appellant.

15. Learned counsel for the appellant also submitted that report from Forensic Science Laboratory is not on record, therefore, it was not proved by the prosecution that the sample sent to the laboratory was found to be charas. In this regard, I do not agree with the submission aforesaid made by counsel for the appellant. Perusal of record shows that chemical examination report of Forensic Science Laboratory, Varanasi, is very much on record. Learned counsel for the appellant objected that if there is such report, it is not exhibited and, hence, it cannot be read in evidence.

16. Report of Forensic Science Laboratory is a public document. It would be relevant to quote Section 293 Cr.P.C. for ready reference:

Section 293 in the Code Of Criminal Procedure, 1973

293. Reports of certain Government scientific experts.

(1) Any document purporting to be a report under the hand of a Government scientific expert to whom this section applies, upon any matter or thing duly submitted to him for examination or analysis and report in the course of any proceeding under this Code, may be used as evidence in any inquiry, trial or other proceeding under this Code.

(2) The Court may, if it thinks fit, summon and examine any such expert as to the subject- matter of his report.

(3) Where any such expert is summoned by a Court and he is unable to attend personally, he may, unless the Court has expressly directed him to appear personally, depute any responsible officer working with him to attend the Court, if such officer is conversant with the facts of the case and can satisfactorily depose in Court on his behalf.

(4) This section applies to the following Government scientific experts, namely:-

(a) any Chemical Examiner or Assistant Chemical Examiner to Government;

(b) the chief Inspector of-Explosives;

(c) the Director of the Finger Print Bureau;

(d) the Director, Haffkeine Institute, Bombay;

(e) the Director, Deputy Director or Assistant Director of a Central Forensic Science Laboratory or a State Forensic Science Laboratory;

(f) the Serologist to the Government.

17. Hence, as per the provision of Section 293 Cr.P.C., the report of State Forensic Science Laboratory is admissible in evidence and there is no requirement to call the Director of that laboratory to get the report proved. The report on record shows that the sample sent to it was found to be charas. The remaining recovered charas was produced before learned trial court during trial and it was proved by S.I.-Ram Saran Yadav (PW2) as material Exhibits 1, 2, 3 & 4 before learned trial court.

18. No other point or argument was raised by learned counsel for the appellant before this Court.

19. In view of above, I reach on definite conclusion that prosecution proved its case beyond any reasonable doubt and the appellant has been rightly convicted and sentenced by learned trial court.

20. Accordingly, the appeal lacks merit and is dismissed.

Proper Sentence/ Quantum of Sentence- It is the duty of every court to award proper sentence having regard to nature of offence and manner of its commission - The judicial trend in the country has been towards striking a balance between reform and punishment - The criminal justice jurisprudence adopted in the country is not retributive but reformative and corrective- No accused person is incapable of being reformed and therefore, all measures should be applied to give them an opportunity of reformation in order to bring them in the social stream.

Settled law that the court has to award adequate sentence which is proportional to the facts, nature and manner of commission of the offence and should neither be unduly harsh nor excessively lenient. Effort has however to be made to reform the accused so that he is integrated in the society.

Criminal Law - Indian Penal Code, 1860- Section 304B, Section 498A , Dowry Prohibition Act- Section ¾- Quantum of sentence- Maximum awarded sentence to the appellant is ten years- already undergone eight years and five months of the awarded sentence-appellant is sufficient to meet the ends of justice.

In view of the reformative theory of punishment and considering the facrt that the accused has already undergone almost the entire sentence awarded to him, including remission, the conviction of the appellant upheld and sentence modified to the period undergone. (Para 12, 13, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19)

9. Ravada Sasikala Vs St. of A.P. AIR 2017 SC 1166

1. This appeal has been preferred by the appellant against the judgment and order dated 23.12.2019, passed by learned Additional Sessions Judge, Court No.19, Kanpur Nagar, in S.T. No.722 of 2013 (State of UP vs. Upendra Kumar Tripathi) arose out of Case Crime No.102 of 2013, under Sections 498A, 304B IPC & Section 4 of Dowry Prohibition Act, 1961, Police Station-Panki, District-Kanpur Nagar.

2. The relevant facts for disposal of this appeal are that complainant-Santosh Kumar Dixit (father of the deceased) lodged FIR at Police Station-Panki, Kanpur Nagar, stating that the marriage of his daughter Ruchi @ Aradhna (deceased) with Upendra Kumar @ Neeraj (appellant) s/o late Rampal Tripathi was solemnized on 24.2.2012. He gave dowry in the marriage as decided, but Neeraj and his family members were not satisfied with the dowry so they started torturing his daughter and demanded four-wheeler and Rs.one lakh as additional dowry for which they used to give mental and physical torture to his daughter. They also stopped her daughter to contact with her father and mother. Upendra, her sister Poonam and Poonam's husband used to beat her. In December, 2012, Ruchi gave birth to a daughter and after that cruelty increased. Before 10 days of the occurrence, Ruchi's maternal uncle and complainant's sons went to the house of Ruchi at Panki, Kanpur Nagar and requested her husband (appellant) and his family members not to torture Ruchi, but they abused and beaten Ruchi before them also. On 8.3.2013 at about 9:00 a.m., somebody informed on telephone that his daughter Ruchi had died. Her daughter has been killed by her-in-laws, therefore, strict legal proceedings be initiated against them.

3. Heard Shri P.K. Singh, learned counsel for appellant, learned AGA for the State and perused the record.

4. Learned counsel for appellant argued that in this case after investigation, charge-sheet was filed against the appellant, while the complainant tried to implicate other family members of appellant also. Named Poonam and her husband were not charge-sheeted by Investigating Officer. On this score alone, the prosecution story seems to be false; it was a suicidal case; the death of the deceased is by hanging herself. Prosecution produced four witnesses of facts. PW1 is informant, PW2-Vineet Kumar is brother of the deceased, PW3-Durgesh Tiwari is cousin of the deceased and PW7-Shakti Saran is maternal uncle of the deceased. Their statements are contradictory to each other. As per prosecution evidence, there is no abatement on the part of the accused-appellant for commitment of suicide by the deceased.

5. Learned counsel for the appellant submitted that accused is in jail since 13.3.2013. He has been awarded maximum sentence of ten years under Section 304B IPC while he has already served more than eight years and four months of sentence. It is established by prosecution evidence itself that it is a case of suicide. He also submitted that prosecution brought forward a suicide note after 15 days of the occurrence and it is said that the suicide note was found in her maternal uncle's (mausa) house at the time of cleaning the house. Appellant got the hand-writing of the suicide note compared with the hand-writing of the deceased and the hand-writing expert gave the conclusion that both the hand-writings are not of the same person. Hence, prosecution has failed to prove the suicide note and it is clear that it was written by somebody else to falsely implicate the appellant.

6. He submits that since appellant has already served near about eight and a half years of sentence out of ten years awarded to him, he should be freed now with undergone imprisonment as the appellant has one daughter aged about nine years only and earlier his daughter was residing with her grand-mother and now her grand-mother has died. Therefore, the daughter is residing now with her aunt (bua). It is obvious that a female-child of nine years needs parental care and she needs the support of her father in her life.

7. Learned counsel for the appellant further argued that in defence, PW1 was produced, who is neighbor of the appellant and resides in the same building. He has categorically stated that there was no quarrel or differences between appellant and deceased. Appellant also produced as PW6 before learned trial court. Keeping in view the circumstances of appellant's daughter and the period of sentence already undergone, it is prayed that accused-appellant be released finally.

8. Per contra, learned AGA opposed the prayer of counsel for the appellant and submitted that learned trial court has considered all the pleas taken by the appellant. All the ingredients of offence under Section 304B IPC are there in this case and the learned trial court has rightly convicted and sentenced the accused-appellant.

9. Learned counsel for the appellant argued that maximum awarded sentence to the accused is of ten years and he has already undergone eight and a half years and as per jail manual, remission be also there. If remission as per jail manual is taken into account, only a little time of his sentence is left now.

10. In Mohd. Giasuddin Vs. State of AP, AIR 1977 SC 1926, explaining rehabilitary & reformative aspects in sentencing it has been observed by the Supreme Court:

"Crime is a pathological aberration. The criminal can ordinarily be redeemed and the state has to rehabilitate rather than avenge. The sub-culture that leads to ante-social behaviour has to be countered not by undue cruelty but by reculturization.Therefore, the focus of interest in penology in the individual and the goal is salvaging him for the society. The infliction of harsh and savage punishment is thus a relic of past and regressive times. The human today vies sentencing as a process of reshaping a person who has deteriorated into criminality and the modern community has a primary stake in the rehabilitation of the offender as a means of a social defence. Hence a therapeutic, rather than an 'in terrorem' outlook should prevail in our criminal courts, since brutal incarceration of the person merely produces laceration of his mind. If you are to punish a man retributively, you must injure him. If you are to reform him, you must improve him and, men are not improved by injuries."

11. In State of MP vs Najab Khan, (2013) 9 SCC 509, the High Court, while upholding conviction, reduced the sentence of 3 years by already undergone which was only 15 days. The supreme court restored the sentence awarded by the trial court. Referring the judgments in Jameel vs State of UP (2010) 12 SCC 532, Guru Basavraj vs State of Karnatak, (2012) 8 SCC 734, the Court observed as follows:-

"In operating the sentencing system, law should adopt the corrective machinery or the deterrence based on factual matrix. The facts and given circumstances in each case, the nature of the crime, the manner in which it was planned and committed, the motive for commission of the crime, the conduct of the accused, the nature of weapons used and all other attending circumstances are relevant facts which would enter into the area of consideration. We also reiterate that undue sympathy to impose inadequate sentence would do more harm to the justice dispensation system to undermine the public confidence in the efficacy of law. It is the duty of court to award proper sentence having regard to the nature of offence and the manner in which it was executed or committed. The courts must not only keep in view the rights of victim of the crime but also the society at large while considering the imposition of appropriate punishment."

12. Earlier, "Proper Sentence" was explained in Deo Narain Mandal Vs. State of UP (2004) 7 SCC 257 by observing that Sentence should not be either excessively harsh or ridiculously low. While determining the quantum of sentence, the court should bear in mind the principle of proportionately. Sentence should be based on facts of a given case. Gravity of offence, manner of commission of crime, age and sex of accused should be taken into account. Discretion of Court in awarding sentence cannot be exercised arbitrarily or whimsically.

13. In subsequent decisions, the supreme court has laid emphasis on proportional sentencing by affirming the doctrine of proportionality. In Shyam Narain vs State (NCT of delhi), (2013) 7 SCC 77, it was pointed out that sentencing for any offence has a social goal. Sentence is to be imposed with regard being had to the nature of the offence and the manner in which the offence has been committed. The fundamental purpose of imposition of sentence is based on the principle that the accused must realize that the crime committed by him has not only created a dent in the life of the victim but also a concavity in the social fabric. The purpose of just punishment is that the society may not suffer again by such crime. The principle of proportionality between the crime committed and the penalty imposed are to be kept in mind. The impact on the society as a whole has to be seen. Similar view has been expressed in Sumer Singh vs Surajbhan Singh, (2014) 7 SCC 323, State of Punjab vs Bawa Singh, (2015) 3 SCC 441, and Raj Bala vs State of Haryana, (2016) 1 SCC 463.

14. In Kokaiyabai Yadav vs State of Chhattisgarh (2017) 13 SCC 449, it has been observed that reforming criminals who understand their wrongdoing, are able to comprehend their acts,have grown and nartured into citizens with a desire to live a fruitful life in the outside world, have the capacity of humanising the world.

15. In Ravada Sasikala vs. State of A.P. AIR 2017 SC 1166, the Supreme Court referred the judgments in Jameel vs State of UP (2010) 12 SCC 532, Guru Basavraj vs State of Karnatak, (2012) 8 SCC 734, Sumer Singh vs Surajbhan Singh, (2014) 7 SCC 323, State of Punjab vs Bawa Singh, (2015) 3 SCC 441, and Raj Bala vs State of Haryana, (2016) 1 SCC 463 and has reiterated that, in operating the sentencing system, law should adopt corrective machinery or deterrence based on factual matrix. Facts and given circumstances in each case, nature of crime, manner in which it was planned and committed, motive for commission of crime, conduct of accused, nature of weapons used and all other attending circumstances are relevant facts which would enter into area of consideration. Further, undue sympathy in sentencing would do more harm to justice dispensations and would undermine the public confidence in the efficacy of law. It is the duty of every court to award proper sentence having regard to nature of offence and manner of its commission. The supreme court further said that courts must not only keep in view the right of victim of crime but also society at large. While considering imposition of appropriate punishment, the impact of crime on the society as a whole and rule of law needs to be balanced. The judicial trend in the country has been towards striking a balance between reform and punishment. The protection of society and stamping out criminal proclivity must be the object of law which can be achieved by imposing appropriate sentence on criminals and wrongdoers. Law, as a tool to maintain order and peace, should effectively meet challenges confronting the society, as society could not long endure and develop under serious threats of crime and disharmony. It is therefore, necessary to avoid undue leniency in imposition of sentence. Thus, the criminal justice jurisprudence adopted in the country is not retributive but reformative and corrective. At the same time, undue harshness should also be avoided keeping in view the reformative approach underlying in our criminal justice system.

16. Keeping in view the facts and circumstances of the case and also keeping in view criminal jurisprudence in our country which is reformative and corrective and not retributive, this Court considers that no accused person is incapable of being reformed and therefore, all measures should be applied to give them an opportunity of reformation in order to bring them in the social stream.

17. Since the learned counsel for appellant has not pressed the appeal on merits, however, this Court after perusal of the entire evidence on record and judgment of the learned Trial Court considers that the appeal is devoid of merit and is liable to be dismissed. Hence, the conviction of the appellant is upheld.

18. So far as the quantum of sentence is concerned, in this case, accused-appellant was awarded two years R.I. under Section 498A IPC with fine and imprisonment in default, six months R.I. under Section 4 D.P. Act, 1961 with fine and imprisonment in default and ten years R.I. under Section 304 B IPC. It was also directed by learned trial court that all the sentences will run concurrently. Hence, in this case, maximum awarded sentence to the appellant is ten years. He is in jail since 13.3.2013. Hence, he has already undergone eight years and five months of the awarded sentence. In my considered opinion, keeping in view the facts and circumstances of the case, sentence already undergone by accused-appellant is sufficient to meet the ends of justice. In regard to the fine imposed upon the appellant by learned trial court, this Court finds that the same is adequate and it is not required to be disturbed and the appellant is directed to deposit the same.

19. Accordingly, the conviction is upheld. The appeal is partly allowed with the modification of the sentence by the period already undergone and served out by the appellant. The appellant be released from the jail on depositing the fine imposed by the trial court, if he is not wanted in any other case.

20. Office is directed to transmit the lower court record along with a copy of this judgment to the learned court below for information and necessary compliance as warranted.

21. The party shall file computer generated copy of such order downloaded from the official website of High Court Allahabad, self attested by the learned counsel for the applicant alongwith a self attested identity proof of the said persons (preferably AADHAR Card) mentioning the mobile number (s) to which the said AADHAR Card is linked before the concerned Court/Authority/Official.

22. The concerned Court/Authority/ Official shall verify the authenticity of such computerized copy of the order from the official website of High Court Allahabad and shall make a declaration of such verification in writing.

Evidence Law - Indian Evidence Act 1872- Section 154- Hostile Witness- The complainant herself and three other witnesses have not supported the prosecution case. It is natural on part of the complainant being wife of the accused not to support the allegations made in the F.I.R. just to save her husband, but from the statements of the aforesaid witnesses, date, time and place of the incident is proved and there is no confusion or discrepancy regarding this.

It is settled law that relevant parts of the testimony of hostile witnesses, which are admissible in law, can be used by the prosecution to prove its case.

Evidence Law - Indian Evidence Act 1872- Illustration (a) of Section 6 -The trial court has rightly relied on the evidence of PW-4 who is an independent witness and not related to either the deceased or the accused-appellant. As per the testimony, complainant soon after the incident has made a statement that her husband has killed her mother, a statement which can be relied in terms of Section 6 of the Evidence Act, since, the statement being res-gestae which is exception to the rule of heresay evidence.

The statement of a witness made soon after the commission of the offence would be relevant and will be considered to be a part of the same transaction and the testimony of the person to whom the said statement was made, would be an exception to the rule of hearsay evidence. (Para 10, 11)

2. Parsadi Ram Vs. St. of M.P. (Chhattisgarh) (1) F.J.C.C. 145

(Delivered by Hon'ble Syed Aftab Husain Rizvi, J.)

1. Heard learned counsel for the appellant and learned A.G.A.

2. This criminal appeal arises out of judgment and order dated 05.01.2016 passed by the Additional Session Judge/Special Judge (D.A.A. Act), Jhansi in S.T. No.84 of 2014 arising out of Case Crime No. 123 of 2013, Police Station- Sadar Bazar, District- Jhansi, convicting the appellant (accused) under Section 304 (1) IPC and sentencing him to undergo rigorous imprisonment for 10 years and a fine of Rs. 15,000/- and in default of payment of fine, six months rigorous imprisonment.

3. In brief the prosecution case is that complainant Smt. Deepika presented an application dated 13.12.2013 at Police Station- Sadar Bazar, Jhansi alleging therein that her husband is Sepoy in the Army and posted at Jhansi. In the evening of 7/8-12-2013 at 7 p.m. her husband in drunken condition came to the house. After taking dinner complainant with her three children, mother-in-law Narmada Bai and mother Lalita went to sleep at 10 p.m.. At about 3 a.m. she woke up on hearing some shrieks then she saw her husband standing beside the cot of her mother holding a Gaiti in his hand. Her mother was lying on the cot bleeding from her head. She came outside and told her neighbour Abhijeet Pal about the incident. Thereafter, other military personnel came there and took her mother to medical college, Jhansi where she died. Post-mortem was conducted on 08-12-2013. Her mother had come to Jhansi on 26-11-2013 on the occasion of birthday of her son Soham and after 4-5 days her husband in drunken condition quarreled with her mother. On 27th May 2013 her husband Kautik Mahaley has badly beaten her and she was admitted in military hospital for 8 days. On her complaint of this assault he was punished by the Army for one month of quarterguard. Due to above reasons her husband in a drunken condition assaulted her mother Smt. Lalita and injured her causing her death. On receiving information, her maternal uncle Rajesh Aabhad came to Jhansi in the night of 08-12-2013 and on 09-12-2013 she went to Nasik with the dead body of her mother for performing her last rites. On returning from Nasik, now she is giving information. On the aforesaid application Case Crime No.123 of 2013, under Section 304 I.P.C. was registered at Police Station- Sadar Bazar. Inspector Baljeet Singh started the investigation. He visited the place of occurrence and at the instance of complainant recovered blood stained Gaiti the weapon used in the offence from the inner courtyard of her house, sealed it and prepared the memo. He also took the blood stains "Nivad" of the cot and prepared a memo, prepared the site plan, recorded the statement of the complainant and other witnesses. Case was further investigated by Inspector Mahendra Pratap Singh who completed the investigation and submitted charge sheet against the accused Kautik Mahaley under Section 304 I.P.C.

4. The trial court framed charge against accused under Section 304 I.P.C. who denied it and claimed for trial. The prosecution examined nine witnesses. The statement of accused under Section 313 Cr.P.C. was recorded in which the accused denied the prosecution case and said that he has been falsely implicated and he has not killed Smt. Lalita. No evidence in defence produced by the accused. The trial court after hearing the arguments of the parties by the impugned judgment has convicted the accused-appellant.

5. Learned counsel for the appellant submitted that the F.I.R. has been lodged after five days of the incident so there is much delay and prosecution has failed to give any explanation of the delay. Four witnesses of fact PW-1 Smt. Deepika, PW-2 Rajesh Aabhad, PW-3 Abhijeet Pal and PW-9 Preetam Singh have not supported the prosecution version and have become hostile. Learned trial court only on the basis of statement of PW-4 Major Abhay Juyal has held the appellant guilty. The aforesaid witness has only stated that when on the information he reached on the spot, the wife of the accused Smt. Deepika said to him that his husband Kautik Mahaley has killed her mother, don't spare him. Learned counsel for the appellant submitted that this witness is not an eye witness and he has not seen the incident. His evidence is based on the statement of complainant PW-1 Smt. Deepika who herself has not supported the prosecution version and has become hostile. So the statement of PW-4 Major Abhay Juyal has no value and cannot be relied. There is no other evidence on the record against the accused. It is further submitted that the learned trial court has also invoked Section 106 of the Evidence Act observing that the offence has been committed inside the house and it is on part of the accused to explain the circumstances under which the deceased has suffered injuries. The learned trial court has failed to appreciate that the accused was not alone and other persons were also present at the time of incident. Section 106 of the Evidence Act cannot be applied in the present case and learned trial court has erred in doing so. The findings recorded by the learned trial court is per se illegal and perverse. The prosecution has completely failed to establish its case against the appellant and the findings arrived by the learned trial court is based on surmises and conjectures and such the impugned judgment and order of conviction is not sustainable.

6. Learned A.G.A. submitted that although complainant and three other witnesses namely, PW-2 Rajesh Aabhad, PW-3 Abhijeet Pal and PW-9 Preetam Singh have not supported the prosecution version, PW-4 Major Abhay Juyal has fully supported the prosecution case. His oral statement that when he reached on the spot, complainant said to him that her husband Kautik Mahaley has killed her mother, don't spare him, is admissible in evidence. The incident is of inside the house and F.I.R. has been lodged by the wife of the accused implicating the accused-appellant in clear terms but later on just to save her husband she has retracted from her earlier statement. But from the evidence on record it is proved beyond reasonable doubt that accused is the author of the crime. Learned trial court has fully discussed the entire evidence and after appreciation of evidence has rightly held the accused guilty. The findings recorded by the trial court does not suffer from any infirmity and appeal has no force.

7. Post-mortem of the deceased has been conducted on 08.12.2013 at 03:30 p.m. by Dr. Rajeev Singh Bhadauriya who has been examined as PW-5 and has proved the post-mortem report Ex-Ka.3. According to which the height of the deceased was 151 cm. Rigor mortis was present all over the body. Following Anti-mortem injuries were found on the body:

In internal examination, parietal bone was fractured. Brain and its membrane were lacerated. Clotted blood was present. Near about 100 gm. pasty food was present in the stomach. Faceal matters and gases were present in the intestine.

In the opinion of the doctor, the cause of death was anti-mortem head injuries and duration of death was about half day.

From the medical evidence on record it is clear that deceased has suffered lacerated wounds on her head which caused her death and her death is homicidal. Learned counsel for the appellant contented that prosecution case is that injuries have been inflicted by a Gaiti while the deceased has lacerated wounds on her body which is not possible from Gaiti which is pointed weapon and will cause stab/penetrated wounds. So there is contradiction between the medical and oral evidence. This argument has no force as the nature of the injuries depends upon the manner in which weapon has been used. If it is used from blunt side it may cause lacerated wounds. So there is no contradiction or discrepancy.

8. As per version of the F.I.R., the incident has occurred in the intervening night of 7/8-12-2013 at about 03 a.m. inside the house of the complainant. To prove its case, prosecution has examined nine witnesses. PW-1 Smt. Deepika, PW-2 Rajesh Aabhad, PW-3 Abhijeet Pal and PW-9 Preetam Singh are public witnesses of fact. PW-1 Smt. Deepika in her examination-in-chief has stated that the incident is of night of 7/8-12-2013. She along with her three children, mother-in-law Narmada Bai and Mother Smt. Lalita was sleeping in her house. In the night of 7/8-12-2013 at about 03 a.m. she woke up on shrieks and reached near here mother's cot. She saw that her mother was bleeding. At the same time, a person holding a Gaiti ran away from there. Due to darkness she could not identify the person. Her husband came on the spot. She and Army personnel took her mother to medical college where she died. She has further stated that she has not seen her husband holding Gaiti near her mother. Regarding the F.I.R., the witness has stated that some army personnel got her signature on typed paper which was not read over to her. She has not told anyone that her husband has killed her mother. The witness has identified her signature on the Teharir (Ex.Ka-1). So, this witness has not supported the prosecution case and has become hostile. She has also disowned the contents of the F.I.R. but has admitted her signature on it.

PW-2 Rajesh Aabhad the brother of the deceased, in his examination-in-chief has stated that on receiving information from Smt. Deepika that someone has killed her mother in the night, he reached Jhansi in the morning of 08.12.2013. He has further stated that after performing last rites of her sister at Nasik, he returned back Jhansi on 13.08.2013. Some army personnel got the signature of Smt. Deepika on an application and took Deepika and the witness to the police station where application was submitted. He has not read the application. He has admitted his signature on the memo of taking blood stains, Nivad by the Investigating Officer. The witness has been declared hostile on prayer of prosecution.

PW-3 Abhijeet Pal in his examination-in-chief has stated that he was posted as Lance Naik and in the night of 7/8-12-2013 at about 03 a.m. on hearing noise from his neighbour Kautik Mahaley's house, he went there. Kautik Mahaley and his wife were standing outside the house. Smt. Deepika told her that someone has injured her mother. She was lying on a cot. He informed the higher authorities and after arranging vehicle she was taken to hospital where doctor declared her dead. This witness has also been declared hostile on prayer of prosecution.

PW-4 Major Abhay Juyal in his examination-in-chief has stated that on 7/8-12-2013, he was posted as major in Army at Jhansi and in the night at about 03:30 a.m. he got information from Amit Pal that some incident has occurred at the house of Sepoy Kautik Mahaley and his wife is crying outside the house. When he reached at the Government residence of Kautik Mahaley and went inside, he saw that the mother-in-law of Kautik Mahaley was lying injured on cot and she was bleeding from head and mouth. He took her to medical college Jhansi on his Gypsy where doctor declared her dead. The witness has further stated that when he reached at the place of occurrence, wife of Kautik Mahaley Smt. Deepika who was not in her senses met and said to him that, "her husband Kuatik Mahaley has killed her mother, don't spare him." The witness has further proved his signature on the Panchayatnama Ex.Ka-2.

PW-9 Hawaldar Preetam Singh in his examination-in-chief has said that on 7/8-12-2013 he was posed as Platoon Hawaldar at Jhansi and in the night between 03-03:45 a.m. Sepoy Kautik Mahaley of the unit has not came there and he has not admitted Kautik Mahaley in the hospital. So this witness has also been not supported the prosecution.

9. Another peace of evidence which has been produced by the prosecution is the recovery of Gaiti used in the crime. PW-6 Sub-Inspector Baljeet Singh who is the Investigating Officer has said in his statement that at the instance of complainant the weapon (Gaiti) used in the offence was recovered from the place of occurrence and the recovery memo was prepared at the spot. The witness has proved it as Ex. Ka5. The weapon recovered has been sent to the Forensic Lab along with other articles for examination and according to the Forensic Lab report the blood stains on it were found disintegrated. So it is not established that the recovered Gaiti has been used in the offence. The remaining statement of PW-6 Sub-Inspector Baljeet Singh is of formal in nature being Investigating Officer he has stated the steps taken during investigation and has proved the papers prepared by him. PW-8 Sub-Inspector Mahendra Pratap Singh is also the Investigating Officer who has submitted the charge sheet and has proved it while PW-7 Shiv Narain is Chik and G.D. writer who has registered the case on the basis of application of the complainant and entered its proscription in the G.D. and has proved the papers.

10. Out of 5 public witness of facts produced by the prosecution, four witnesses,

PW-1 Smt. Deepika, PW-2 Rajesh Aabhad, PW-3 Abhijeet Pal and PW-9 Preetam Singh have not supported the prosecution case. It is worth of mentioning that complainant is the wife of the accused and the incident is of inside her house. The witnesses have reached on the spot on her hue and cry but under the influence of the accused, the complainant herself and three other witnesses namely PW-2 Rajesh Aabhad, PW-3 Abhijeet Pal and PW-9 Hawaldar Preetam Singh have not supported the prosecution case. It is natural on part of the complainant being wife of the accused not to support the allegations made in the F.I.R. just to save her husband, but from the statements of the aforesaid witnesses, date, time and place of the incident is proved and there is no confusion or discrepancy regarding this. So it is proved from the oral testimony of aforesaid witnesses that in the intervening night of 7/8-12-2013 at about 03 a.m. inside the house of the complainant her mother Smt. Lalita suffered injuries while lying on the cot and she succumbed to the injuries. At that time, the complainant, her three children, mother and mother-in-law were inside the house and accused was also present there. From the statement of PW-4 Major Abhay Juyal, it is also proved that on receiving information, when he reached on the spot just after the occurrence, complainant Smt. Deepika and her husband accused Kautik Mahaley were standing there and the complainant Deepika said to him that "her husband Kautik Mahaley (accused) has killed her mother, don't spare him."

11. The aforesaid statement of PW-4 Major Abhay Juyal clearly comes in the preview of the illustrations (a) of Section 6 of the Evidence Act, which is as fallows:-

"6. Relevancy of facts forming part of same transaction.--Facts which, though not in issue, are so connected with a fact in issue as to form part of the same transaction, are relevant, whether they occurred at the same time and place or at different times and places.

Illustrations

(a) A is accused of the murder of B by beating him. Whatever was said or done by A or B or the by-standers at the beating, or so shortly before or after it as to form part of the transaction, is a relevant fact."

The trial court has rightly relied on the evidence of PW-4 Major Abhay Juyal who is an independent witness and not related to either the deceased or the accused-appellant. As per the testimony, complainant Smt. Deepika soon after the incident has made a statement that her husband has killed her mother, a statement which can be relied in terms of Section 6 of the Evidence Act, since, the statement being res-gestae which is exception to the rule of heresay evidence.

12. The Apex Court in the case of Gentela Vijayauardhan Rao Vs. State of A.P. reported in 1996 (6) SCC 241, has held as under:

"The principle of law embodied in section 6 of the Evidence Act is usually known as the rule of res gestae recognized in English law. The essence of the doctrine is that a fact which, though not in issue, is so connected with the fact in issue as to form part of the same transaction that it becomes relevant by itself. This rule is roughly speaking, an exception to the general rule that hearsay evidence is not admissible. The rationale in making certain statement or fact admissible under section 6 of the Evidence Act is on account of the spontaneity and immediacy of such statement or fact in relation to the fact in issue. But it is necessary that such fact or statement must be a part of the same transaction. In other words, such statement must have been made contemporaneous with the acts which constitute the offence or at least immediately thereafter. But if there was an interval, however, slight it may be, which was sufficient enough for fabrication then the statement is not part of res gestae."

13. Similar view was taken in the case of Parsadi Ram Vs. State of M.P. (Chhattisgarh) reported in 2007 (1) F.J.C.C. 145, further adding that in order to hold the statement res-gestae, it has to be remembered that the statement should be reasonable, contemporaneous and also spontaneous.

14. On examination of the evidence of PW-4 and applying the law laid down, the Court finds PW-4, is an independent witness, whose evidence is reliable; moreso, there has been no motive which has been attributed to him nor there is any suggestion that there was any enmity between this witness and the appellant, to falsely implicate the appellant. The arguments advanced by the learned counsel for the appellant is this regard have no force.

15. The delay in lodging F.I.R. has been explained in the F.I.R. itself and the explanation is satisfactory. Complainant being resident of Maharastra after death of her mother took her body to her native place for performing last rites and when she returned from there she has lodged the F.I.R. So, the delay in lodging the F.I.R. does not adversely affect the prosecution.

16. The learned trial court has observed that incident is inside the house of accused, so Section 106 of the Evidence Act, the accused has to explain the circumstances under which Smt. Lalita suffered injuries but the accused has failed to explain the circumstances and so adverse inference under Section 106 of Evidence Act can be drawn against him. Even if these observations of the learned trial court is not taken into consideration, even then from the oral testimony of PW-4 Major Abhay Juyal and other evidence on record, the case of the prosecution stands proved and it can safely be inferred that it is accused and only accused who is the author of the crime.

17. The learned trial court has properly appreciated the entire evidence and there is no perversity or infirmity in the finding recorded by the learned trial court. The learned trial court has rightly held the accused guilty and convicted him. The sentence passed by the trial court is also appropriate. There is no force in this appeal which is liable to be dismissed.

18. The criminal appeal is hereby dismissed.

19. Lower court record along with copy of the judgment be transmitted immediately to the trial Court.

Criminal Appeal No. 1351 of 2018

Kalyan @ Kallu ...Appellant (In Jail)
Versus
State of U.P. ...Opposite Party

Counsel for the Appellant:
Sri Veerendra Kumar Shukla, Sri Ramendra Pal Singh, Sri Pratap Pandey

Counsel for the Opposite Party:
A.G.A.

Criminal Law - Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973- Section 215 Cr.P.C. provides that if there is any error in stating the charge or particulars required and also provides if there is omission to state the offence or those particulars, then it would not be deemed material unless the accused was mislead by such omission or error or there was failure of justice due to that reason. But, in the case in hand, there is absolute absence of charge under Section 27 Arms Act, 1959, and total absence of charge is not omission. When there is complete absence of charge, question does not arise of any error or omission in charge. Furthermore, it is very pertinent to note that in this case, even the case under Arms Act, 1959, was not committed to the court of sessions, therefore, there was no committal and no charge was framed under Section 27 of the Act, 1959, yet the trial court convicted and sentenced the appellant for the offence, the accused was not charged with.

Where no case u/s 27 of the Arms Act was committed and no charged was framed then the same cannot be held to be an omission within the meaning of Section 215 of the CrPc.

Criminal Law -Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973- Section 221 (2) - Sub-clause 2 of Section 221 Cr.P.C. provides for a different offence emerged from the evidence other than the offence for which charge is framed. Accused may be convicted of the offence, which he is proved to have committed, although he was not charged with it. This provision does not apply in this case as it is not the case in which after evidence any other offence is emerged apart from the offence for which charge was framed against the appellant. Hence, Section 221 (2) Cr.P.C. does not cover the opinion of trial court. Trial court has made wrong interpretation of Section 215 Cr.P.C. and Section 221 (2) Cr.P.C. in this regard. Conviction of appellant in total absence of charge under Section 27 of the Act, 1959, cannot sustain.

An accused cannot be convicted of an offence, taking recourse to Section 221(2) of the Code, when no separate offence emerges after evidence of the prosecution.

Evidence Law - Indian Evidence Act, 1872- Section 134- Section 145- Section 155- Sole testimony- Should be reliable- (PW5) produced as eye-witness- Perusal of record shows that his name is not mentioned in the first information report as eye-witness while FIR was lodged by his elder brother. Investigating Officer did not record his statement under Section 161 Cr.P.C. nor he was made witness in charge-sheet. Legal position is that if Investigating Officer has not recorded any statement under Section 161 Cr.P.C., it means his first version comes before the trial court only and there is no previous statement of the occurrence to contradict or corroborate, therefore, there is no occasion to believe the testimony of such witness. It is not denied that conviction cannot be based on sole testimony, but if conviction is made on the sole testimony of the witness then his testimony should be wholly reliable. There should not be any scope of suspicion in his testimony.

Although conviction can be secured on the basis of the testimony of a solitary witness , but the same should be reliable and truthful. Where the witness appears for the first time in the trial, then neither can he be contradicted with his previous statement and nor his credibility can be impeached by the defence, hence such witness cannot be relied upon.

Evidence Law - Indian Evidence Act, 1872- Section 101, Section 103- Burden of Proof- On whom lies- Trial court has stated that PW5 has proved his presence on the spot and accused has not produced any evidence in rebuttal. In my opinion, this was the burden on prosecution to prove the presence of PW5 at the place of occurrence and it was not the burden on accused to make its rebuttal.

It is settled law that the burden of proving a particular fact lies on the witness/ person who asserts such fact and the said burden cannot be shifted on the accused for rebutting the said fact. (Para 11, 12, 14, 15, 16, 17)

Criminal Appeal Allowed. (E-3)

1. This appeal has been preferred by the appellant-Kalyan @ Kallu @ Netrapal Singh against the judgment and order dated 22.11.2017, passed by learned Additional Sessions Judge, Court No.3, Shahjahanpur, in Session Trial No.1087 of 2003 (State vs. Kalyan @ Kallu @ Netrapal Singh) in Case Crime No.91 of 2003 under Section 304 IPC, Police Station-Katra, District-Shahjahanpur, whereby the appellant was convicted under Section 304 (2) and sentenced for 10 years' R.I. and also Rs.10,000/- fine and in default of fine two years simple imprisonment. The appellant has also been convicted under Section 27 Arms Act, 1959, and sentenced for three years imprisonment and Rs.2,000/- fine and in default of fine, six months simple imprisonment. All sentences were directed to run concurrently.

2. The brief facts of the case are that a written-report (Ex.ka1) was submitted in the police station by the informant Ramvir Sharma. It was stated in written-report that on 27.4.2003, there was marriage of a girl in the family of Rajendra Singh in Village-Chavarkhas, P.S.-Katra, where his father went for Erudition (Panditai). Accused-appellant Kalyan was also there from the side of bride. At the time of dwarchar, appellant was making fires from his licencee-gun, out of which one fire hit the shoulder of his father and he died on the spot. The occurrence took place at about 9:00 p.m. It is also stated that informant was on duty as Home-Guard in Bareilly and on getting the information of his father's death, he went to the police station on the next day and submitted the written-report. It is also stated that the occurrence was seen by many people of village, who were present in marriage.

3. On the basis of above written-report, Case Crime No.91 of 2003 was registered under Section 308 IPC against appellant-Kalyan s/o Gajraj Singh. The inquest report of deceased (Ex.ka3) was prepared on 28.4.2003 and injury on his right shoulder was found. Subsequently, dead-body was sent for postmortem, which was conducted in District Hospital Shahjahanpur on 29.4.2003 and antemortem injury of entry wound of fire-arm measuring 8cm x 7cm on the right side of chest below the shoulder was found. Antemortem injury was said to be the cause of death of the deceased-Rati Ram.

4. After completion of investigation, Investigating Officer submitted charge-sheet against appellant under Section 304 IPC and under Section 27 Arms Act, 1959. Learned Chief Judicial Magistrate, Shahjahanpur, committed the case to the court of session under Section 304 IPC and charge was also framed under Section 304 IPC by trial court. After completion of trial, the trial court convicted and sentenced the appellant under Section 304 (2) IPC and Section 27 Arms Act, 1959. Hence, this appeal.

5. Heard Shri Veerendra Kumar Shukla, learned counsel for the appellant, Shri B.A.Khan, learned AGA for the State and perused the record.

6. Learned counsel for the appellant argued that appellant has been falsely implicated in this case; there was no motive for the appellant to commit the crime as alleged by prosecution. He submits that appellant had no enmity with the deceased, therefore, there was no reason with him to commit such crime. Submission of counsel for the appellant is that three witnesses of fact are produced by prosecution. Ramvir Sharma (PW1) is the son of the deceased, but he was only informant and it was admitted case of prosecution that PW1 was not present on the spot at the time of occurrence. He was doing his duty as Home-Guard at Bareilly and on getting information of death of his father, he came from Bareilly on the next day and lodged the first information report. Therefore, PW1 has not seen any occurrence. Hence, his testimony cannot be believed on the point that appellant killed his father. It is next submitted that Smt.Neelu Singh (PW3) is another witness of fact, who has been produced by prosecution as eye-witness, but she has not supported the prosecution version in her statement and said that there was so many people, who were making 'Hersh-firing' and there were 40-50 fires in all. She does not know whose fire hit the deceased. Learned counsel submitted that PW3 was declared hostile by prosecution and in her cross-examination, she denied her statement under Section 161 Cr.P.C. also. Hence, prosecution does not get any support from the statement of PW3 also.

7. Learned counsel for the appellant also submitted that next witness of fact is Sanjeev Kumar (PW5), who is son of the deceased. He was not present at the place of occurrence. If he would have been present there and would have seen the occurrence, he must have been made witness in first information report because it was lodged by the elder brother, namely, Sanjeev Kumar (PW5). It was very natural to mention his name in the FIR, but it was not there in the FIR. Moreover, Investigating Officer did not record his statement under Section 161 Cr.P.C. and he was not made witness in charge-sheet also. Learned counsel for the appellant further submits that even if PW5 was produced as eye-witness, but he is not at all supported the prosecution case because his statement is contradictory. In examination-in-chief, PW5 has stated the case of 'Hersh-Firing' at about 9:00 pm at the time of Dwarpooja, but in his cross-examination, he has stated that at the time of occurrence Pooja was complete. Bride-side guests have gone from there. His father was sitting on chabootra. At that time, appellant came there and exhorted the deceased and pointing out the barrel of gun towards the chest of his father, he shoot him. Hence, he altogether changed the colour of prosecution case in his cross-examination, but trial court believed his testimony and on his sole testimony, convicted the appellant. It was grave error on the part of the trial court. Learned trial court failed to appreciate the evidence correctly and legally and unlawfully convicted the accused-appellant.

8. Learned counsel for the appellant emphasized that during trial, no charge under Section 27 Arms Act, 1959, was farmed, but trial court also convicted the appellant under Section 27 of Act, 1959, and sentenced for three years. He argued that if no charge is framed for any offence then conviction cannot be made for that offence. Lastly, it was contended by counsel for the appellant that maximum it can be the case of negligence under Section 304-A IPC, if court comes to the conclusion it to be an accidental firing.

9. No other argument was placed from the side of appellant and it was prayed to allow the appeal and quashing the conviction of sentence.

10. Learned AGA opposed the submissions made by learned counsel for the appellant and argued that appellant was named in first information report. Admittedly, firing was made at the time of occurrence by the appellant. Appellant had knowledge of the fact that by making such type of firing, somebody may get injured and injury could be proved fatal. There was injury to the deceased on his vital part. Learned AGA also submitted that although PW1-informant was not eye-witness and PW3 turned hostile, but PW5-Sanjeev Kumar has supported the prosecution case. He is eye-witness and present at the place of occurrence with his father-deceased. He has fully supported the prosecution version and named only appellant in his statement. Learned AGA said that appellant is the sole accused in this case, hence, there was no false implication and moreover, there was no reason for his false implication. It is also submitted by learned AGA that after the arrest of the appellant by the Investigating Officer, the gun used in commission of the crime was recovered from the appellant, which was his licencee-gun. The case is fully proved against the appellant and trial court rightly convicted him. Hence, appeal is liable to be dismissed.

11. First of all, this Court would like to consider the legal issue of conviction under Section 27 Arms Act, 1959. Perusal of record shows that factual position is that the case under Section 27 Arms Act was never committed to the court of sessions and no charge for that offence was framed by trial court. When there was no charge under Section 27 of the Act, 1959, it means that there was no trial of accused for the aforesaid offence. Even then trial court held the appellant guilty and convicted him under Section 27 of the Act, 1959. In this regard, trial court has stated in judgment that in charge-sheet, Investigating Officer has mentioned that offence under Section 304 IPC and Section 27 Arms Act, 1959, are fully proved against the accused-Kalyan. Hence, charge-sheet is being submitted against him. Trial Court has also stated that in spite of charge-sheet submitted against the appellant under Section 27 Arms Act along with Section 304 IPC, Chief Judicial Magistrate, Shahjahanpur, did not mention the offence under Section 27 Arms Act, 1959 in committal order dated 4.8.2003, which seems clerical error. It has further stated that trial court framed charge under Section 304 IPC only and not under Section 27 of Arms Act, 1959. It is also a clerical error. Trial court further mentioned in the judgment that accused was well aware of the fact that he was facing trial for killing the deceased by making fire with his licencee-gun, therefore, he was not prejudiced for not framing charge under the Act, 1959. Further, trial court took the recourse of Section 215 of Cr.P.C. and held that if there is error in charge or omission, it will not be material unless it has mislead the accused and consequently failure of justice is there. In this case, accused knew that it was a case for making fire by his licencee-gun, therefore, he was not mislead by omission as provided under Section 215 Cr.P.C. Trial court also took the recourse of sub section 2 of Section 221 Cr.P.C., which says that if it is proved that accused has committed other offence different from the charge framed against him, accused can be held guilty for that offence, athough the charge was not framed for that offence. For ready reference, Section 215 Cr.P.C. is quoted herein as under:

"Section 215 in the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973

215. Effect of errors. No error in stating either the offence or the particulars required to be stated in the charge, and no omission to state the offence or those particulars, shall be regarded at any stage of the case as material, unless the accused was in fact misled by such error or omission, and it has occasioned a failure of justice."

12. The above provision states regarding error or omission in charge. Section 215 Cr.P.C. provides that if there is any error in stating the charge or particulars required and also provides if there is omission to state the offence or those particulars, then it would not be deemed material unless the accused was mislead by such omission or error or there was failure of justice due to that reason. But, in the case in hand, there is absolute absence of charge under Section 27 Arms Act, 1959, and total absence of charge is not omission. When there is complete absence of charge, question does not arise of any error or omission in charge. Furthermore, it is very pertinent to note that in this case, even the case under Arms Act, 1959, was not committed to the court of sessions, therefore, there was no committal and no charge was framed under Section 27 of the Act, 1959, yet the trial court convicted and sentenced the appellant for the offence, the accused was not charged with. It is very strange that trial court opined that total absence of charge is clerical error. Hence, this situation of total absence of charge cannot be said to be the omission in framing of charge.

13. Further, trial court has taken the recourse of Section 221 (2) Cr.P.C., which reads as under:

"Section 221 (1)….

(2) in the Code Of Criminal Procedure, 1973

(2) If in such a case the accused is charged with one offence, and it appears in evidence that he committed a different offence for which he might have been charged under the provisions of sub-section (1), he may be convicted of the offence which he is shown to have committed, although he was not charged with it.

14. Sub-clause 2 of Section 221 Cr.P.C. provides for a different offence emerged from the evidence other than the offence for which charge is framed. Accused may be convicted of the offence, which he is proved to have committed, although he was not charged with it. This provision does not apply in this case as it is not the case in which after evidence any other offence is emerged apart from the offence for which charge was framed against the appellant. Hence, Section 221 (2) Cr.P.C. does not cover the opinion of trial court. Trial court has made wrong interpretation of Section 215 Cr.P.C. and Section 221 (2) Cr.P.C. in this regard.

15. Hence, conviction of appellant in total absence of charge under Section 27 of the Act, 1959, cannot sustain.

16. Now it comes the offence under Section 304 (2) IPC. Prosecution story is that on 27.4.2003, there was marriage of a girl in the family of Rajendra Singh in Village-Chavarkhas, P.S.-Katra, where his father went for Erudition (Panditai). 'Harsh-firings' were made there and out of which one fire by appellant hit the shoulder of informants' father-Ratiram, due to which he died. It is admitted case of prosecution that informant-Ramvir Sharma (PW1) was not there at the place of occurrence. He was on his duty as Home-Guard at Bareilly. On getting the information of death of his father, he came to the police station and lodged the FIR. So, PW1 is not the eye-witness of the occurrence. Prosecution has produced Neelu Singh (PW3) as eye-witness where she said in her statement that Ratiram Pandit came in the marriage. There was crowd of 400-500 people. In harsh-firing, somebody's fire hit the deceased and whose fire hit the deceased, she does not know because at that time, she was inside the house and there was 40-50 fires in all. This witness was declared hostile and nothing was extracted from her cross-examination by prosecution even she denied her statement under Section 161 Cr.P.C. So, this witness did not support the prosecution case. Sanjeev Kumar (PW5), who is son of the deceased has also produced as eye-witness. Perusal of record shows that his name is not mentioned in the first information report as eye-witness while FIR was lodged by his elder brother. Investigating Officer did not record his statement under Section 161 Cr.P.C. nor he was made witness in charge-sheet. Legal position is that if Investigating Officer has not recorded any statement under Section 161 Cr.P.C., it means his first version comes before the trial court only and there is no previous statement of the occurrence to contradict or corroborate, therefore, there is no occasion to believe the testimony of such witness. Moreover, in this case, the testimony of Sanjeev Kumar (PW5) is not at all reliable. Trial court based its finding of conviction only on the basis of testimony of PW5. It is not denied that conviction cannot be based on sole testimony, but if conviction is made on the sole testimony of the witness then his testimony should be wholly reliable. There should not be any scope of suspicion in his testimony. This is not the position in the present case. PW5 has stated in his examination-in-chief that he had gone in the marriage with his father and at 9:00 p.m. at the time of 'dwarchar', accused started harsh-firing and out of which, one fire hit his father, who died on the spot. But, in his cross-examination, PW5 changed the entire prosecution story and stated that at the time of occurrence, pooja was over, the bride-side guests had gone from there, his father was sitting on chabootra of Rajendra Singh, accused came there and said "pandit hosh mein aao, tumko goli maar denge". Subsequently, the accused turned the barrel of gun towards the chest of his father and shoot him. This was not at all the case of prosecution. Trial court committed gross-error in holding that it was only exaggeration. It is very important to note that further in his cross-examination, PW5 specifically denied the case of 'harsh-firing. He has stated, "mukhya pariksha mein harsh-firing ki baat galat hai. Kallu ne seedhe goli mari thi". In this way, PW5 absolutely resiles from the prosecution case and make contradictory statement in his examination-in-chief and in cross-examination. Such type of sole testimony of any witness cannot be relied at all. It is very strange that trial court has opined regarding the statement of PW5 that there was no material contradiction in his statement and his presence at the place of occurrence is not doubtful. It is very perverse appreciation on evidence of PW5. Trial court has miserably failed to appreciate the evidence of PW5 in right persepective.

17. Moreover, trial court has stated that PW5 has proved his presence on the spot and accused has not produced any evidence in rebuttal. In my opinion, this was the burden on prosecution to prove the presence of PW5 at the place of occurrence and it was not the burden on accused to make its rebuttal. There must be close scrutiny of the sole testimony of a witness if court is going to believe his testimony and holding the accused guilty on the basis of sole testimony, but trial court has not scrutinized the testimony of PW5 meticulously. The contradiction of statement of PW5 in his examination-in-chief and cross-examination is so grave and material that it goes to the route of the case and shatters the prosecution case. It is in the opinion of trial court that Ramvir Sharma (PW1) has told in his examination-in-chief that accused was making fire and his fire hit his father. Trial court has believed this statement of PW1. It is very shocking because it is admitted case of prosecution that PW1 was not present at the place of occurrence.

18. Hence, PW1-informant is not eye-witness, PW3 alleged eye-witness has turned hostile and has not supported the prosecution case and testimony of PW5 does not inspire the confidence at all. Therefore, trial court has erred in placing reliance on the testimony of PW5. Moreover, prosecution has failed to prove that the fire of appellant hit the deceased because it is the statement of Investigating Officer-Krishna Pal Mishra (PW4) that there were many people in the marriage and several persons were making fire there. Many empty cartridges were lying on the ground. Hence, as per the statement of Investigating Officer there were many empty cartridges at the place of occurrence, but only a single empty cartridge was picked up by the I.O. because the recovery memo of empty cartridges (Ex.ka7) shows that from the place of occurrence, one empty cartridges of .12 bore was recovered. This cartridge was fired from the licencee-gun of the accused. Prosecution has failed to establish how the above opinion was given by Sub-Inspector while preparing the recovery memo. I.O. (PW4) recovered the licencee-gun of the appellant at the time of his arrest. It proves that I.O. had recovered the gun, alleged to be used in the crime and empty cartridge from the place of occurrence, yet these were not sent to Forensic Science Laboratory for seeking ballistic report as there is no ballistic report on the record nor there is any document on record to show that gun and empty cartridge were sent for ballistic examination. Hence, prosecution has failed to establish that the recovered empty cartridge from the place of occurrence was fired from the gun, recovered from the appellant. In this way also, prosecution has failed to establish that the fire of appellant hit the deceased and caused his death.

19. Keeping in view the above discussion, this Court finds that the finding recorded by trial court on the basis of sole testimony of PW5 is erroneous and perverse. Trial court has committed gross-error in believing the sole testimony of PW5 and conviction should not have been based on such type of testimony, which could not support the prosecution case at all. Hence, the conviction and sentence of appellant cannot be sustained and the appeal is liable to be allowed.

20. Accordingly, the appeal is allowed.

20. Conviction and sentence of appellant under Section 304 (Part-II) of IPC and under Section 27 of Arms Act, 1959, is hereby set aside. He is acquitted of charges framed against him. Appellant's personal bond is cancelled and sureties stand discharged.

Criminal Law - Indian Penal Code, 1860- Sections 498A & 306- Conviction under- Prosecution witness PW1- and PW2- have failed to prove the version of FIR regarding the demand of additional dowry, torture and killing the deceased by administering the poison to her. The version of the First Information Report is the genesis of this case, but during the course of investigation the suicide-note of deceased was found and it changed the entire story of the prosecution.

Where the prosecution changes the entire story subsequently and fails to prove the initial version alleged in the FI.R, which is the genesis of the case of the prosecution, then the same renders the story of the prosecution doubtful.

Criminal Law - Indian Penal Code, 1860- Sections 107 & 306- Abetment of Suicide- Before a person may be said to have abetted the commission of suicide, he must have played an active role by an act of instigation or by doing certain act to facilitate the commission of suicide. As per provision of Section 107 IPC, it is very much clear that for abetment a person should do something to instigate any person to do something or engages with one or more persons in any conspiracy to do that thing or intentionally aids, by any act or illegal omissions, to do that particular thing.

Settled law that to make an offence of suicide, it is essential to prove that the accused had intentionally instigated the deceased to commit suicide.

Criminal Law - Indian Penal Code, 1860- Sections 107 & 306- There is absolutely nothing in the suicide-note suggesting abetment to commit suicide. There is nothing in the suicide note which can be said to be proximate reason to commit suicide by the deceased. The aforesaid suicide note does not show any mens rea on the part of the appellant. No guilty mind of appellant is shown by any statement in suicide note as referred by the trial court. Further, suicide note does not show the fact that there was any instigation or even cruelty on the part of appellant due to which the deceased was left with no option but to commit suicide because if the appellant had separated the deceased from his life, it was not compelling reason which put the deceased in a situation where she had no option but to commit suicide.

Where the suicide note fails to show that there was any proximate reason to commit suicide or there was any criminal intent, instigation or even cruelty of the accused compelling the deceased to commit suicide, then conviction of the accused on basis of such suicide note cannot be upheld. (Para 12, 16, 20)

4. Gurcharan Singh Vs. St. of Punj. 2020 (4) JIC 336 (SC)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Ajai Tyagi, J.)

1. This appeal has been preferred by the appellant-Jagveer Singh @ Bantu against the judgement and order dated 28.02.2011 passed by Additional Sessions Judge, Court No.02, Pilibhit, in Session Trial No.179 of 2009 (State Vs. Jagveer Singh @ Bantu) arising out of Case Crime No.1657 of 2008, under Sections 498-A & 306 IPC and Section ¾ Dowry Prohibition Act, 1961, Police Station-Jahanabad, District- Pilibhit, by which the learned trial court convicted and sentenced the appellant- Jagveer Singh @ Bantu for five years rigorous imprisonment and Rs.10,000/- fine (three months imprisonment for default of fine) under Section 306 IPC and two years rigorous imprisonment and Rs.3,000/- fine (one month imprisonment in default of fine) for the offence under Section 498A IPC. All sentences are directed to run concurrently.

2. The brief relevant facts of this case are that on 14.12.2008, informant Madan Lal submitted a written report in P.S.- Jahanabad, District- Pilibhit, with the averments that his grand-daughter (daughter of his daughter) Laxmi Devi was married to Jagveer Singh @ Bantu s/o Khoob Chandra resident of Village-Jalipura in April, 2008. They have given sufficient dowry according to their financial capacity but Jagveer Singh and his parents were not satisfied with the dowry. So, they used to torture Laxmi Devi. Laxmi Devi on several occasions made complaints regarding the demand of additional dowry and torture due to non-fulfillment of the demand. Several times they tried to convince Jagveer Singh, but Jagveer Singh used to quarrel with them also. Villagers of Jagveer Singh's village informed us in the morning at 10 O'clock through telephone that Laxmi Devi has been killed. It was evident that she was given poison.

3. On the above written report, the Case Crime No.1657 of 2008, under Section 498A, 304B IPC and Section ¾ Dowry Prohibition Act, 1961, was registered at P.S.- Jahanabad, District- Pilibhit on the same day against the appellant- Jagveer Singh and his parents. Postmortem of Laxmi Devi was conducted and cause of death could not be ascertained, therefore, viscera was preserved. After inquest of the dead-body of the deceased, report from Forensic Science Laboratory, Lucknow (Ex.ka7) was received. In the report, aluminum phosphide poison was found in viscera of the deceased, therefore, charge sheet was submitted against Jagveer and his father Khoob Chandra under the above mentioned offences.

4. Learned trial court framed charges under Section 498A, 304B IPC and ¾ Dowry Prohibition Act, 1961, against both the accused persons. Learned trial court, after conducting full trial, acquitted Khoob Chandra for all charges framed against him, but convicted Jagveer Singh @ Bantu under Section 306 IPC for five years rigorous imprisonment and Rs.10,000/- fine and under Section 498A IPC for two years rigorous imprisonment and Rs.3,000/- fine. Hence, this appeal.

5. Heard Shri Awadhesh Kumar Srivastav, learned counsel for the appellant and Shri S.S. Sachan, learned AGA, appearing for the State.

6. Learned counsel for the appellant argued that the appellant has been falsely implicated in this case by the informant and wrongly convicted by the trial court. No offence is made out against the appellant. Learned counsel for the appellant further submitted that initially a case was registered against the appellant under Section 304B, 498A IPC and ¾ Dowry Prohibition Act, 1961, and it was alleged in the First Information Report that appellant and his parents were not happy and satisfied with the dowry given in the marriage of the deceased and they used to demand additional dowry and also used to torture for non-fulfillment of the dowry, but no such evidence has come out on the record and learned trial court acquitted the accused- Khoob Chandra for all the charges and convicted the appellant- Jagveer Singh under Section 306 IPC only, therefore, it is clear from the judgement of the learned lower court that prosecution story was not believed to be true by the trial court and allegations of demand and torture were found false. Learned counsel for the appellant argued that when prosecution story was not found true then trial court should have acquitted the appellant also.

7. Learned counsel for the appellant next submitted that in this case a suicide-note had come into the picture. Suicide-note was found from the room of the deceased by the Investigating Officer. Entire case is based on it and in the entire suicide-note there is no allegation of demand of dowry or torture and moreover there is no allegation against the appellant for instigating the deceased to commit suicide, but learned trial court did not consider the suicide-note in right perspective. Learned counsel for the appellant further submitted that the informant, who is Nana of the deceased and real brother of the deceased Rakesh @ Satish Kumar admitted in their statements that suicide-note was written in the hand-writing of the deceased, therefore, there was no dispute regarding the suicide-note and prosecution witnesses admitted it to be in the hand-writing of deceased-Laxmi Devi. There is no averment in the suicide-note regarding abetment on the part of appellant to commit suicide. Appellant and deceased had cordial relations. Learned trial court has quoted the suicide-note in the judgement, which does not disclose any abetment even then trial court convicted the appellant and sentenced him under Section 306 IPC. Learned counsel for the appellant argued that for abetment, there should be immediate instigation, but it is not so in suicide-note. In this way, appellant is wrongly convicted by the trial court, therefore, the instant appeal may be allowed.

8. Learned AGA submitted that there was cruelty against the deceased by appellant and due to this cruelty trial court convicted the appellant for the offence under Section 498-A IPC. Learned AGA next submitted that suicide-note shows that appellant had driven out the deceased from his life due to which the deceased was mentally disturbed and could not tolerate keeping herself out of life of the appellant.

9. Learned AGA also submitted that although in suicide-note, deceased has written to his brother that her husband and her-in-laws should not be harassed and no case should be registered against them after her death, but law will take its own course.

Learned trial court, after believing the averments of the suicide-note, came to the conclusion that deceased was very uncomfortable and under mental disturbance when the appellant drove out her from his life, although, they were residing together. Due to this mental agony and disturbances, she committed suicide for which appellant was responsible and, therefore, learned trial court rightly convicted the appellant under Section 306 IPC.

10. Prosecution case is that appellant and his parents were not satisfied with the dowry given in marriage of deceased and they used to demand additional dowry and torturing the deceased for not meeting out the same. Prosecution has also brought this case before the court that due to non-fulfillment of demand of additional dowry, Laxmi Devi was killed by poison. To prove its case, prosecution produced two witnesses of fact, PW1- Madan Lal and PW2- Rakesh Kumar @ Satish Kumar. PW-1 is the informant and Nana of deceased and PW-2 is the real brother of the deceased. In their respective statements, both the witnesses have reiterated the demand of Rs.50,000/- and a four wheeler as additional dowry from the family of the deceased. Both the above witnesses have stated in their examination-in-chief that due to non-fulfillment of demand of additional dowry, deceased was killed by poison. Both the witnesses supported the version of first information report in their examination-in-chief, but a suicide note, written by the deceased, is the main basis of this case, which was found by Investigating Officer from the room of the deceased. On believing the averments of suicide-note, trial court acquitted Khoob Chandra, father of the appellant and convicted the appellant, not for offence of dowry death but for the offence of abetment to suicide under Section 306 IPC. The learned trial court has opined in the judgement that this fact is not proved on the basis of evidence available on record that husband or father-in-law of deceased have ever tortured her in connection with demand of dowry and trial court gave finding that appellant has separated the deceased from his life which comes in the category of mental cruelty which is clear from the suicide-note, therefore, in this way, the appellant had created such a circumstance and situation before the deceased, which inspired the deceased to commit suicide by consuming the poison and, therefore, the appellant was solely responsible for abetting the deceased to commit suicide.

11. This Court is not at all convinced with the above findings of the trial court regarding mental cruelty and abetment to commit suicide by the appellant.

12. Prosecution witness PW1- Madan Lal and PW2- Rakesh Kumar have failed to prove the version of FIR regarding the demand of additional dowry, torture and killing the deceased by administering the poison to her. The version of the First Information Report is the genesis of this case, but during the course of investigation the suicide-note of deceased was found and it changed the entire story of the prosecution.

13. Learned trial court found that appellant tortured the deceased mentally and he had created such a situation before the deceased by separating her from his life that she was not left with any other option but to commit suicide. This finding of trial court is not in-consonance with the settled position of law regarding abetment.

Abetment to suicide is provided under Section 306 IPC as under:-

"Section 306 in The Indian Penal Code

306. Abetment of suicide.--If any person commits suicide, whoever abets the commission of such suicide, shall be punished with imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to ten years, and shall also be liable to fine."

14. Before discussing the law of abetment it is relevant to quote the provision of Section 107 IPC which is as under:-

"Section 107 in The Indian Penal Code

107. Abetment of a thing.--A person abets the doing of a thing, who--

(Firstly) -- Instigates any person to do that thing; or

(Secondly) --Engages with one or more other person or persons in any conspiracy for the doing of that thing, if an act or illegal omission takes place in pursuance of that conspiracy, and in order to the doing of that thing; or

(Thirdly) -- Intentionally aids, by any act or illegal omission, the doing of that thing. Explanation 1.--A person who, by wilful misrepresentation, or by wilful concealment of a material fact which he is bound to disclose, voluntarily causes or procures, or attempts to cause or procure, a thing to be done, is said to instigate the doing of that thing. Illustration A, a public officer, is authorized by a warrant from a Court of Justice to apprehend Z. B, knowing that fact and also that C is not Z, wilfully represents to A that C is Z, and thereby intentionally causes A to apprehend C. Here B abets by instigation the apprehension of C. Explanation 2.--Whoever, either prior to or at the time of the commission of an act, does anything in order to facilitate the commission of that act, and thereby facilitate the commission thereof, is said to aid the doing of that act."

15. Hon'ble Supreme Court has held in Amalendu Pal Vs. State of West Bengal (2010) 1 SCC 707 that "it is also to be borne in mind that in cases of alleged abetment of suicide there must be proof of direct or indirect acts of incitement to the commission of the suicide. Merely on the allegation of harassment without there being any positive action proximate to the time of the occurrence on the part of the accused which led or compelled the person to commit suicide, conviction in terms of Section 306 IPC is not sustainable."

16. Before a person may be said to have abetted the commission of suicide, he must have played an active role by an act of instigation or by doing certain act to facilitate the commission of suicide. As per provision of Section 107 IPC, it is very much clear that for abetment a person should do something to instigate any person to do something or engages with one or more persons in any conspiracy to do that thing or intentionally aids, by any act or illegal omissions, to do that particular thing. In this case, it was necessary for appellant to be convicted him for the offence under Section 306 IPC that he should have instigated the deceased to commit suicide or he should have engaged with one or more persons in any conspiracy to abet the deceased to commit suicide or he should have intentionally aided by any act for abetting her to commit suicide.

17. Hon'ble Apex Court in Chheena Vs. Vijay Kumar Mahajan (2010) 12 SCC 190 held that abetment involves a mental process of instigating a person or intentionally aiding a person in doing of a thing. Without a positive act on the part of the accused to instigate or aid in committing suicide, conviction cannot be sustained. It is also held by the Hon'ble Apex Court in that judgement that in order to convict a person under Section 306 IPC there has to be a clear mens rea to commit the offence. It also requires an active act or direct act which led the deceased to commit suicide seeing no option and that act must have been intended to push the deceased into such a position that he committed suicide.

18. In Rajesh Vs. State of Haryana 2019 (1) JIC 791 (SC), Hon'ble Apex Court held that conviction under Section 306 IPC is not sustainable on the allegation of harassment without there being any positive action proximate to the time of the occurrence on the part of the accused, which led or compelled the person to commit suicide. In order to bring a case within the purview of Section 306 IPC, there must be a case of suicide and in the commission of the said offence, the person who is said to have abetted the commission of the suicide must have played an active role by an act of instigation or by doing certain act to facilitate the commission of the suicide. Therefore, the act of abetment by the person charged with the said office must be proved and established by the prosecution before he could be convicted under Section 306 IPC.

19. The Full Bench of Hon'ble Apex Court in Gurcharan Singh Vs. State of Punjab 2020 (4) JIC 336 (SC) held that "as in all crimes, mens rea has to be established. To prove the offence of abetment, as specified under Section 107 IPC, the state of mind to commit a particular crime must be visible, to determine the culpability in order to prove mens rea, there has to be something on record to establish or show that the appellant herein had a guilty mind and in furtherance of that state of mind, abetted the suicide of the deceased.

20. In the case in hand, the trial court has referred the suicide-note left by the deceased which shows the sole reason of committing the suicide by the deceased was that she was separated by the appellant from his life. In the opinion of this Court, the aforesaid reason could not be the reason which could come under the category of the abetment. There is absolutely nothing in the suicide-note, which would make him responsible for an offence under Section 306 IPC. This Court finds nothing in the suicide-note suggesting abetment to commit suicide. There is nothing in the suicide note which can be said to be proximate reason to commit suicide by the deceased. The aforesaid suicide note does not show any mens rea on the part of the appellant. No guilty mind of appellant is shown by any statement in suicide note as referred by the trial court. Further, suicide note does not show the fact that there was any instigation or even cruelty on the part of appellant due to which the deceased was left with no option but to commit suicide because if the appellant had separated the deceased from his life, it was not compelling reason which put the deceased in a situation where she had no option but to commit suicide. Learned trial court has given finding that there was mental cruelty on the part of appellant towards the deceased and on the basis of this finding, appellant was convicted under Section 498A IPC, but this Court is not convinced with this finding also because firstly there was no averment of demand of additional dowry of Rs.50,000/- and a four wheeler in the FIR. The statements of PW-1 and PW-2 show that they did not state this fact before the Investigating Officer also, both the above witnesses have stated the fact of demanding Rs.50,000/- and a four wheeler for the first time before the trial court, therefore, these averments will come under the category of improvement. Moreover, entire suicide-note does not contain any such demand of dowry or torturing the deceased. Learned trial court has wrongly given the finding of mental cruelty on the basis that appellant drove out the deceased from his life. In the absence of mens rea and proximate cause for abetting the suicide, learned trial court has wrongly appreciated the law regarding the abetment.

21. On the basis of above discussion, this Court is of the definite opinion that learned trial court did not appreciate the evidence on record in right perspective and wrongly convicted the appellant for the offence under Sections 306 IPC and 498A IPC.

22. Hence, the appeal is liable to be allowed.

23. Accordingly, the appeal is allowed. Conviction and sentence of appellant as awarded is hereby set aside. Appellant is on bail, his bail bond is cancelled and sureties are discharged.

Criminal Law - Indian Penal Code 1860- Section 413- Code of Criminal Procedure 1973- Section 313- Confession under- Appellant-accused was held guilty and sentenced by the trial court on the basis of his confessional statement made before the learned trial court. Confession made by the accused, shall be taken as a whole. It cannot be in parts because it was made regarding same occurrence and he made confession with his own freewill - Offences committed by the appellant which he confessed include offence under Section 413 I.P.C. also. After confession made by the appellant, no other evidence was required to convict him. When conviction is made as a whole regarding any occurrence or set of occurrences, it shall be taken as a whole. It cannot be fragmented into pieces and accused cannot at later stage claim that confessional statement made by him, should be considered regarding some of the offences only.

Where the accused makes a confession voluntarily then the same will be taken as a whole and would apply to other offences also with which he is charged and conviction on the basis of such confession shall also be taken as a whole and for all the offences - No further evidence is required to be adduced by the prosecution after confession by the accused.

Criminal Law - Indian Penal Code 1860- Section 413- For convicting the accused under Section 413 I.P.C. it is not mandatory particularly after confession, that accused should have already been convicted under Section 411 I.P.C. twice or more than twice because accused appellant has himself made confession before the learned trial court that he was habitual in dealing with the stolen properties. It is not the case of the appellant nor he argued that accused did not make confession with freewill.

When the accused voluntarily confesses that he was habitual in dealing with stolen properties then it is not mandatory for the prosecution to establish that he was previously convicted u/s 411 IPC twice or more than twice. (Para 18, 19, 21)

2. This criminal appeal has been preferred by the appellant-Vinod Mali, who was convicted and sentenced in S.T. No.503 of 2019 (State Vs. Vinod Mali), arising out of Case Crime No.137 of 2016, registered under Sections 177, 171, 419, 417, 411 and 413 I.P.C. at Police Station G.R.P., District Gorakhpur, in which the accused-appellant was convicted for six months under Section 177 I.P.C., for three months under Section 171 I.P.C., for two years under Section 419 I.P.C., for one year under Section 417 I.P.C., for two years under Section 411 I.P.C. and for six years under Section 413 I.P.C. alongwith fine in all above offences and imprisonment for default of fine.

All the persons standing there, were arrested by the police and they confessed that they were having Alprazolam powder, stolen motorcycles and stolen mobile phones etc.

4. From the possession of accused-appellant 120 grams of Alprazolam powder, two stolen mobile phones, one stolen motorcycle were recovered and a fake identity card of U.P. Police was also recovered at the time of arrest. The police uniform of appellant-Vinod Mali was also found fake.

5. Alongwith appellant-accused, other co-accused persons Santosh, Chauhan, Nand Lal @ Nandu Chauhan, Ram Darash Nishad and Ram Kishore @ Raj Kishore were also arrested and from their possession also Alprazolam powder, stolen mobile phones, stolen tablets and stolen motorcycle were recovered. As per the recovery memo, all the above persons were booked under Section 8/21/22 of Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substance Act, 1985 and also under Sections 411, 413, 414, 417, 419 and 171 I.P.C. All the recovered articles were sealed on the spot and sample seal was prepared. Recovery memo was also prepared on the spot and the cases were registered against above accused persons.

6. The learned trial court has commenced the trial of above accused persons after framing different charges against them and after examination of P.W.-1 and P.W.-2, the case file of appellant-Vinod Mali was separated from other co-accused persons.

7. The learned trial court framed charges under Sections 177, 171, 419, 417, 411 and 413 I.P.C. against the accused-appellant and he was convicted for all the above offences. Aggrieved by the impugned judgment and order of learned trial court, the appellant preferred this appeal.

8. Learned counsel for the accused-appellant said that as per the prosecution case, 120 grams of Alprazolam powder was said to be recovered from the possession of the applicant for which separate case under relevant Sections of N.D.P.S. Act was registered and in this present case, two stolen mobile phones and one stolen motorcycle were said to be recovered from the possession of accused-appellant. Apart from that it is said that he was having fake identity card of U.P. Police and wearing fake uniform of U.P. Police; posing himself as police constable and on making inquiry by the police of G.R.P., Gorakhpur, he falsely told them that he was a police constable and posted in Kotwali, District Maharajganj.

9. Learned counsel for the appellant submitted that P.W.-1, constable Ram Pravesh Bharti and P.W.-2 Head Constable Abhay Pandey were examined before the learned trial court and at that time accused-appellant moved a confession application before the learned trial court and his file was separated. In his statement under Section 313 Cr.P.C. accused-appellant confessed his guilt and on the basis of that confession, learned trial court held him guilty for all the charges framed against him and convicted.

10. Learned counsel for the appellant also submitted that apart from the conviction of offences under Sections 177, 171, 419, 417 and 411 I.P.C., the accused-appellant was also convicted and sentenced under Section 413 I.P.C. It is next submitted that he had nothing to say regarding the conviction and sentence of all the other offences except offence under Section 413 I.P.C. because Section 413 I.P.C. relates to the habitual offender.

11. Learned counsel for the appellant argued that in its impugned judgment, learned trial court has given finding regarding the appellant being habitual offender only in one line by saying that accused was habitual offender used to deal in stolen property while for being habitual, the accused should have been convicted twice or more than twice under Section 411 I.P.C. No person can become habitual by a single act. Learned counsel for the appellant in this regard relied upon the case law of Delhi High Court Ajay Sethi Vs. State 2017 (4) JCC 2495 by saying that in this case Delhi High Court has held that for being habitual, the accused should have been convicted twice or more than twice under Section 411 I.P.C. Learned counsel also submitted that in above said judgment, Delhi High Court has followed the case of Banne Singh @ Pahalwan Vs. State of Rajasthan, 2014 SCC Online Raj 169. In this case Rajasthan High Court has also held that for being habitual, a person should have been convicted twice or more than twice under Section 411 I.P.C.

12. Learned counsel for the appellant has submitted that if the appellant had made confession before the learned trial court under Section 413 I.P.C., even then he could not have been held guilty for that offence rather at that time learned lower court should have asked for at least two judgments of conviction of accused-appellant under Section 411 I.P.C. There is no evidence on record that accused was ever convicted for the offence under Sections 411 I.P.C.

13. Per contra, learned A.G.A. has submitted that accused himself made confession of his offences with freewill before learned trial court and there is nothing under Section 413 I.P.C. that accused should have been convicted more than once for offence under Section 411 I.P.C. There is no such requirement in the Section 413 I.P.C. Learned counsel for the appellant made rival submission in this regard that judicial interpretation of Section 413 I.P.C. is there through the judgment of Ajay Sethi Vs. State (Supra).

14. I have perused the judgment of Ajay Sethi Vs. State (Supra), which was referred by learned counsel for the appellant. In this case, it is held by Delhi High Court as under:-

"49. Something more is required to establish that the offender is in the habit of dealing with or receiving stolen property. Since the offence under Section 413 I.P.C. is inter-related with and is an aggravated form of Section 411 I.P.C., the State would have to prove and establish that the offender was convicted repeatedly, twice or more than twice, for offence under Section 411 I.P.C. so as to establish beyond a reasonable doubt that he is in the habit of dealing with or receiving stolen property. Therefore, the conviction under Section 413 I.P.C. is based on repeated convictions for offence under Section 411 I.P.C. Due to previous conviction, a punishment of different kind is prescribed in Section 413 I.P.C. which the accused is required to undergo.

50. Hence, while prosecuting a person for offence under Section 413 I.P.C., the prosecution has to prove the following factors: firstly, the property in question has been stolen from a place. Thus, the prosecution must bring the property within the ambit of Section 410 I.P.C. within the definition of stolen property. Secondly, the offender has been dealing with or receiving stolen property. Thirdly, the offender knew or had a reason to believe the property to be stolen. Fourthly, he has been repeatedly convicted, i.e. twice or more than twice, of offence under Section 411 I.P.C. It is only after the prosecution establishes these factors that the court would be legally justified in concluding that the offender is habitually dealing with or receiving stolen property and in imposing the punishment as prescribed by Section 413 I.P.C."

15. These are the above observations made by the Rajasthan High Court, which were followed by Delhi High Court in above said judgment but the facts of above cases decided by Delhi High Court and Rajasthan High Court do not apply to this case because in the cases of Delhi High Court and Rajasthan High Court, several FIRs/Charge Sheets were pending against the concerned accused persons and Delhi and Rajasthan High Court held that concerned accused has not been yet convicted under Section 411 I.P.C. In the concerned case of Banne Singh @ Pahalwan Vs. State of Rajasthan High Court (Supra), Rajasthan High Court said that appellant was involved in six different FIRs "undoubtedly so far the appellant has been convicted only by the learned trial court at Jaipur. He continues to face trials and other FIRs mentioned above, hence prior to his conviction by the learned Judge, the appellant was never convicted for offence under Section 411 I.P.C." In the case before Delhi High Court in Ajai Sethi Vs. State (Supra), there were also several FIRs pending against the accused-appellant and Delhi High Court held that in order to convict a person under Section 413 I.P.C., the most important ingredient is that a person must be a habitual offender or receiver of stolen goods. He must be a person who is in the habit of receiving stolen properties and this Section cannot be applied in case of a single offence. The element of repetition is mandatory. Merely on the basis of pendency of FIRs or a person facing trial, a conviction under Section 413 I.P.C. would be unjustifiable in absence of accused previous conviction(s).

16. In this present case, facts are entirely different from the facts which were before the Delhi High Court and Rajasthan High Court because in this case appellant-accused was held guilty and sentenced by the trial court on the basis of his confessional statement made before the learned trial court. Although, the learned counsel for the appellant has argued that learned trial court could not hold him guilty on the basis of confession of appellant. Perusal of record shows that accused-appellant was arrested on 12.03.2016 along with other accused persons at railway station Gorakhpur and during trial, prosecution examined two witnesses as P.W.-1 and P.W.-2.

17. P.W.-1 is formal witness. Accused did not make any cross-examination of P.W.-2 and confessed his guilt in his statement under Section 313 Cr.P.C.

18. I do not agree with the submission made by the learned counsel for the appellant that despite the confession of appellant, learned trial court should have asked for two judgments in which appellant would have been convicted under Section 411 I.P.C. because confession made by the accused, shall be taken as a whole. It cannot be in parts because it was made regarding same occurrence and he made confession with his own freewill and in his statement under Section 313 Cr.P.C., in question no.6 it was specifically put before the appellant as to whether he habitually used to deal in stolen goods. Appellant did not deny this question and in question no. 11, he also said that trial was held against him on account of commission of offences by him. It is important to mention that offences committed by the appellant which he confessed include offence under Section 413 I.P.C. also.

19. After confession made by the appellant, no other evidence was required to convict him. The confession regarding other offences under Sections 177, 171, 419, 417 and 411 I.P.C. is not challenged by appellant. Hence, when conviction is made as a whole regarding any occurrence or set of occurrences, it shall be taken as a whole. It cannot be fragmented into pieces and accused cannot at later stage claim that confessional statement made by him, should be considered regarding some of the offences only.

20. P.W.-2, Abhay Pandey, Head Constable was produced by the prosecution before the learned trial court as arresting witness, who said in his statement that on 12.03.2016 he along with other members of police party of P.S. G.R.P. Gorakhpur was present at platform no.2A. At the time of checking, accused-appellant was arrested by the police along with other co-accused persons and two stolen mobile phones, one stolen motorcycle were recovered from his possession apart from Alprazolam powder. It was also stated by this witness that at the time of arrest, appellant was having a fake identity card of U.P. Police and was wearing fake uniform of U.P. Police. Above statement was made by P.W.-2 in his examination-in-chief and it is very pertinent to note that P.W.-2 was not cross-examined by the accused-appellant, rather he made the confession of his guilt under Section 313 Cr.P.C. Hence, in my opinion, confessional statement of accused-appellant cannot be treated as partial and applicable to some of the offences only.

21. In view of the above, I am unable to agree with the argument of learned counsel for the appellant that for convicting the accused under Section 413 I.P.C. it is mandatory particularly after confession, that accused should have already been convicted under Section 411 I.P.C. twice or more than twice because accused appellant has himself made confession before the learned trial court that he was habitual in dealing with the stolen properties. It is not the case of the appellant nor he argued that accused did not make confession with freewill.

22. No other argument raised by the appellant.

23. I find no merit in this appeal and the same is liable to be dismissed.

24. The appeal is accordingly, dismissed.

Essential Commodities Act- Section 3/7- Modification of Sentence- Two hundred litres of kerosene oil kept in a drum has been recovered from the outer portion of the house inside an open room of the accused and he was in possession of it, so the findings of conviction recorded by the learned trial court is just and proper. Learned trial court has sentenced the accused for two years rigorous imprisonment and fine of Rs. 2,000 and in default of payment of fine further six months rigorous imprisonment. The incident is of the year 1982 near about 39 years have passed since. The age of the accused according to the statement recorded under Section 313 Cr.P.C. was 40 years in October, 1993, so at present his age is about 68 years. Considering the aforesaid facts and the quantity and nature of Essential Commodity i.e. kerosene oil, it will be too harsh to send him to prison and in the opinion of this Court imposition of fine will serve the purpose of justice. So sentence is liable to be modified accordingly. Conviction of the accused under Section 3/7 Essential Commodities Act is upheld but sentence is modified and accused is punished with a fine of Rs. 10,000/-

Although the conviction of the accused is held to be just and proper but considering his present age and nature of the offence, which is not heinous, while maintaining the conviction the sentence accordingly modified to enhancement of fine. (Para 10, 11)

Criminal Appeal partly allowed. (E-3)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Syed Aftab Husain Rizvi, J.)

1. Heard learned counsel for the appellant and learned AGA for the State.

2. This criminal appeal has been filed against the judgment and order dated 10.11.1993 passed by Special Judge, Varanasi in Criminal Case No. 52 of 1986 (State Vs. Jagarnath), Crime No. 356 / 1982, Police Station - Sigra, Varanasi convicting the appellant under Section 3/7 of Essential Commodities Act and sentencing him to undergo two years rigorous imprisonment and a fine of Rs. 2000/- and in default of payment of fine, further six months rigorous imprisonment.

3. In brief, the prosecution case is that on 17.10.1982 at about 9:15 p.m., Station House Officer, Sigra received an information that one Jagarnath has stored kerosene oil in his house in illegal manner, in order to sell it, in black market. The SHO, Sigra along with other police officials and public witnesses - Sahablal and Paras reached at the house of Jagarnath and on search found 200 litres of kerosene oil kept in a drum in the corner of the outer room of the house. The accused could not show any licence. The Raiding Party took the drum of kerosene oil in its possession, prepared the recovery memo at the spot and lodged a First Information Report at police station - Sigra on the same day at about 10:30 p.m. Investigation commenced and after completion of investigation, charge sheet was submitted. Statement of the accused was recorded and particulars of the offence stated to him. The accused pleaded not guilty and claimed for trial. The prosecution produced four witnesses. Statement of accused under Section 313 Cr.P.C. was recorded in which accused denied the prosecution case and further stated that his brother - Sita Ram is inimical to him, who falsely got him implicated in this case in connivance with the local police. Learned trial court after hearing the arguments by the impugned judgment held accused guilty and sentenced him.

4. Learned counsel for the appellant contended that the place of recovery of kerosene oil is an open place outside the house and in the premises where other families also reside. The appellant has no concern whatsoever with the seized kerosene oil which belongs to his brother - Sita Ram. The kerosene oil has been recovered from an open chabutara, so it cannot be said that it has been recovered from the possession of the accused. Learned counsel for the appellant further submitted that prosecution has led no evidence that kerosene oil was kept there for sale and there is no evidence to show that appellant was selling it. No instrument or material has been recovered which can show that it was kept for sale. The prosecution has failed to prove that the seized kerosene oil was recovered from the exclusive possession of the appellant. As such the conviction and sentence passed by the trial court is against the fact and law.

5. Learned AGA submitted that kerosene oil has been recovered from chabutara which is outer portion of the house of the appellant. The prosecution witnesses have proved the recovery of the kerosene oil. The accused / appellant has failed to produce any evidence in defencee that seized kerosene oil belongs to his brother - Sita Ram. The huge quantity of the kerosene oil itself indicates that it was kept for black marketing. The learned trial court has rightly examined the evidence on record and finding recorded by the trial court is reasonable and proper and there is no perversity in it.

6. Out of the four witnesses produced by the prosecution, two witnesses, namely constable - Krishna Bihari Misra - P.W.-1 and D.P. Shukla, the then Station House Officer, Sigra - P.W.-2 are the witnesses of facts. They are members of the police party that raided the house of the accused and made the recovery. Both the witnesses supporting the FIR version in their examination-in-chief have stated that two hundred litres of kerosene oil kept in a drum in the outer portion of the house of the accused in an open room was recovered by them. The site plan (exhibit ka-6) also indicates the place where the drum was kept. It is in the north-east direction inside the house of accused in an open room called Osara. Learned trial court has appreciated the entire oral evidence of both these witnesses and found it reliable. The defence has cross examined the two prosecution witnesses at length but there is nothing in their cross examination which affects their reliability. No major discrepancies or contradictions have been detected and learned trial court has rightly believed their testimony. Their oral testimony cannot be disbelieved simply for the reason that they are police personnels.

7. The contention of learned counsel for the appellant is that the recovery of kerosene oil is from the house where many families reside and appellant and his brothers were living separately in the aforesaid house and recovery has been made from an open place, so the prosecution has failed to prove that the seized kerosene oil was recovered from the exclusive possession of the appellant. Learned trial court has considered this aspect and has observed that; "P.W.-1 - Krishna Bihari in his deposition has stated that the house where the accused resides certain other persons also reside therein but this witness has also deposed in his cross examination that the portion wherefrom the kerosene oil was recovered, was in possession of accused - Jagarnath and accused told the police party that this kerosene oil was to be given by him to his nephew - Raj Kumar." The place of recovery is outer portion of the house but inside the house in the form of an open room. Learned trial court has further observed that; "the open chabutara adjacent to the road belongs to the portion of the house of the accused Jagarnath and it is commonly seen that in densely populated areas, houses are having open chabutaras or an open room type structure adjacent to the houses and the people uses these places for keeping the domestic articles." The reasoning given by the trial court is proper and argument of the learned counsel for the appellant has no force

8. Another argument raised by the learned counsel for the applicant is that no other instrument or material has been recovered which can show that kerosene oil was kept for sale. This argument has also no force. At the relevant time, the license order was in force, so keeping two hundred litres of kerosene oil without any valid license is itself sufficient to prove the guilt. Such a large quantity of kerosene oil cannot be presumed to be kept for personal use.

9. The remaining two witnesses P.W.-3 - S.I. Harday Nand Mishra and P.W.- 4 - S.I. Rajnath Pandey are formal witnesses who have proved the other prosecution papers, like FIR, copy of the G.D., site plan and charge sheet.

10. From the evidence on record, it stands proved that two hundred litres of kerosene oil kept in a drum has been recovered from the outer portion of the house inside an open room of the accused - Jagarnath and he was in possession of it, so the findings of conviction recorded by the learned trial court is just and proper. There is no infirmity or illegality in the finding of conviction recorded by the learned trial court.

11. Learned trial court has sentenced the accused for two years rigorous imprisonment and fine of Rs. 2,000 and in default of payment of fine further six months rigorous imprisonment. The incident is of the year 1982 near about 39 years have passed since. The age of the accused according to the statement recorded under Section 313 Cr.P.C. was 40 years in October, 1993, so at present his age is about 68 years. Considering the aforesaid facts and the quantity and nature of Essential Commodity i.e. kerosene oil, it will be too harsh to send him to prison and in the opinion of this Court imposition of fine will serve the purpose of justice. So sentence is liable to be modified accordingly.

12. Appeal is partly allowed. Conviction of the accused under Section 3/7 Essential Commodities Act is upheld but sentence is modified and accused is punished with a fine of Rs. 10,000/- which he will deposit within one month from today. He will produce computer generated copy of the judgment attested by the counsel before the trial court enabling him to deposit the fine. In default of payment of fine accused will undergo four months simple imprisonment.

13. Lower court record along copy of the judgment be transmitted to the trial court immediately.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Ajai Tyagi, J.)

1. This appeal has been preferred by the appellant-Mukesh @ Mukesh Kumar Gupta against the judgment and order dated 11.7.2018, passed by Sessions Judge, Sonbhadra, in S.T. No.45 of 2016 (State vs. Mukesh @ Mukesh Kumar Gupta) arising out of Case Crime No.26 of 2016, under Sections 498-A, 304-B IPC and under Section 4 Dowry Prohibition Act, 1961 (herein after referred to as 'Act, 1961'), Police Station-Beejpur, District-Sonbhadra, by which learned trial court convicted appellant under Section 304 (2) IPC and sentenced for eight years' rigorous imprisonment and Rs.10,000/- fine and in default of fine, one year's simple imprisonment.

2. The brief facts of the case are that informant-Rajendra Prasad Shah submitted a written report at P.S.-Beejpur on 1.2.2016 stating that his sister Kusum Shah married on 7.6.2010 with Mukesh Gupta. Enough dowry was given in the marriage according to the financial condition. After some months of marriage, his sister came to parental house and told that her husband used to take alcohol and beat her also. Her father Sudarshan Gupta and mother Shiv Kumari Gupta used to demand Rs.1,00,000/- (one lakh) as additional dowry and constantly torture her. The husband and her-in-laws used to torture and even after his intervention, position was not improved. On 1.2.2016 at 1:46 a.m., Mukesh told him on mobile phone that his sister has hanged herself. On hearing it, people from her parental home went to her in-laws house and saw that a rope (gamchha) was hanging with the fan in her room. It is alleged that his sister's husband-Mukesh, father-in-law-Sudarshan Gupta, mother-in-law-Shiv Kumari have killed her for not meet out the demand of Rs.1 lakh as additional dowry.

3. On the basis of above written report, an FIR was lodged at P.S.-Beejpur under Section 498-A, 304-B IPC and 3/4 of Act, 1961, against Mukesh Kumar Gupta, Sudarshan Gupta and Shiv Kumari.

4. Nayab Tehsildar-Dudhi prepared inquest report and investigation took place. After investigation, the Investigating Officer submitted charge-sheet against Mukesh Kumar Gupta, Sudarshan Gupta and Shiv Kumari Gupta under Section 498-A, 304-B IPC and Section 3/4 of Act, 1961. Case was committed to the court of sessions and learned trial court framed charges against all the said persons under the aforesaid Section 498-A, 304-B IPC and Section 4 of Act, 1961. After completion of trial, learned trial court found no sufficient evidence against Sudarshan Gupta and Shiv Kumari Gupta and they were acquitted. Appellant-Mukesh @ Mukesh Kumar Gupta was not convicted for the offence under Section 302 IPC, but for the offence committed under Section 304(2) IPC and he was sentenced for eight years' rigorous imprisonment with Rs.10,000/- fine. Hence, this appeal.

5. Heard Shri Bed Kant Mishra, learned counsel for the appellant, Mr.B.A. Khan, learned AGA appearing for the State and perused the record.

6. Learned counsel for the appellant submitted that appellant has been falsely implicated in this case. On the basis of evidence on record, learned trial court came to the conclusion that there was no sufficient evidence on record for demand of dowry, torturing the deceased and killing the deceased for want of additional dowry and due to this reason learned trial court has acquitted all the three accused persons for above charges, hence in such a situation, it was not proper to convict the appellant-Mukesh Kumar Gupta under Section 304 (2) IPC because there is no evidence on record that anybody has seen the occurrence and there is no eye-witness in this case, who could depose that appellant has murdered the deceased. All the witnesses of fact produced by prosecution have turned hostile and nobody has supported the prosecution case. Learned counsel for the appellant submits that it is the appellant, who first of all, informed the brother of deceased regarding her death. It shows his bona fide.

7. Learned counsel for the appellant has argued that real fact is that on the fateful day, there was function of Annprashan of appellant's nephew in which the guests were invited from the family of deceased also, but no one came from her family in the function. On account of this fact, deceased was puzzled and probably due to that reason, she committed suicide and appellant being the husband of the deceased was implicated. Hence, this appeal be allowed.

8. Learned AGA argued that although the witnesses of fact have turned hostile and case of dowry death could not be proved, but there is enough evidence on record to prove that appellant murdered the deceased because he was present at the place of occurrence and occurrence took place inside the room. Learned counsel for the trial court has mentioned in the judgement that there was no access of any other person in the above said room. Learned AGA also submitted that as per provisions of Section 106 of Indian Evidence Act, 1872, it was the burden on the shoulder of appellant to prove as to why the deceased committed suicide if it was so. What was happened before the occurrence, it was the fact which was in the special knowledge of the appellant, but appellant has not discharged his burden and learned trial court rightly convicted the appellant. Learned AGA also argued that defence is taken appellant before trial court that the deceased committed suicide, but the antemortem injury in postmortem report suggests otherwise. There was no ligature mark on the neck of the deceased, therefore, it was not the case of the suicide and appellant killed his wife. There is no error in judgment of trial court, hence appeal be dismissed.

9. In this case, prosecution has produced Rajendra Prasad Shah (PW1), Choteylal Shah (PW2), Jagmati (PW3), Ramcharitra Sahu (PW7) and Shiv Prasad (PW8) as the witnesses of fact to prove its case, but all the above witnesses have turned hostile. Rajendra Prasad Shah (PW1), who is informant and brother of the deceased, has supported prosecution case in his examination-in-chief, but has turned hostile during cross-examination. Rest of the above witnesses turned hostile since beginning of their examination-in-chief. Hence, trial court acquitted all the accused persons for the charges under Section 498A, 304B IPC and Section 4 of Act, 1961, because these charges were not proved, but learned trial court held that provision of Section 106 of Indian Evidence Act, 1872, is attracted in the facts and circumstances of the case. It was burden on the shoulders of appellant to explain the surrounding circumstances due to which the deceased committed suicide, if it was his defence. Hence, on the basis of alternative remedy under Section 302 IPC, trial court found that the case of Section 304 (2) IPC is well proved against the appellant-husband.

10. Dr.Manoj Kumar Ekka (PW4) has conducted the postmortem of the deceased. In his statement, he has proved the postmortem report as Ex.ka2. PW4 in his evidence has deposed that there was antemortem injury on the neck of the deceased, which was swelling and contusion measuring 3.0cm x 2.5cm and 6.5cm away from the chin. The doctor has stated the cause of death as asphyxia due to the pressure over neck. If it would have been a case of hanging, there must have been a ligature mark on the neck of the deceased, but it was not so in this case and doctor has suggested in his statement that pressure was given on the neck of the deceased, which was the cause of death. Hence, by medical evidence available on record, it is proved that it was not the case of hanging, but it was a case of asphyxia due to pressure given on the neck of the deceased.

11. Some important aspects of this case are that deceased died in her matrimonial home, rather in the room in which she used to live with her husband. Appellant made telephonic call to the brother of the deceased, who is informant and produced before trial court as PW1 and informed him about the death of the deceased. Appellant has also stated that in his statement under Section 313 Cr.P.C. that he got to know about the hanging of the deceased when he went in his room to sleep. Hence, the appellant has admitted his presence at the place of occurrence. It is very important to note that appellant informed the brother of the deceased about hanging while according to postmortem report (Ex.ka2), it was not the case of hanging, but asphyxia due to pressure on neck.

12. Now situation is whether in view of the circumstances of this case, provision of Section 106 of Indian Evidence Act, 1872, is attracted. For ready reference Section 106 of the Act, 1872, is provided as under:

"Section 106 in The Indian Evidence Act, 1872

Burden of proving fact especially within knowledge--

When any fact is especially within the knowledge of any person, the burden of proving that fact is upon him."

13. It is admitted fact that (i) death was in matrimonial home of the deceased and more particularly in her room because PW7 has stated in his cross-examination that "जिस कमरे में मेरी भांजी रहती थी उसी कमरे में फांसी लगाई थी". (ii) appellant gave information to PW1 regarding the death of the deceased and in his statement under Section 313 Cr.P.C. also, he admitted his presence at the place of occurrence. Hence appellant's presence at the place of occurrence is well-proved. (iii) The cause of death told by appellant to PW1 was hanging and the explanation of hanging was given by appellant in his statement under Section 313 Cr.P.C. is that "मैं निर्दोष हूँ. मेरे चचेरे भाई के लड़के के अन्नप्राशन में मेरी बीवी के मायके का कोई नहीं आया जिससे वह काफी परेशान थी. जब कमरे में सोने गया तब घटना की जानकारी मिली".

This explanation is not at all plausible and does not appeal to the reasonable mind. (iv) Most importantly, appellant gave information of hanging of the deceased while it was found in postmortem that she died due to asphyxia by giving pressure of her neck.

14. In these circumstances, it is clear that the factum of death of the deceased was only within the special knowledge of the appellant. Hence, in the surrounding circumstances of the case, provision of Section 106 of Indian Evidence Act, 1872 is attracted.

15. In Shambhu Nath Mehra vs. State of Azmer [1956 AIR 404], it was held that the section is not intended to shift the burden of proof (in respect of a crime) on the accused, but to take care of a situation where a fact is known only to the accused and it is extremely difficult for the prosecution to prove that fact. It is further said that this (Section 101) lays down the general rule that in a criminal case the burden of proof is on the prosecution and Section 106 is certainly not intended to relieve it all that duty. On the contrary, it is defined to meet certain exceptional cases in which it would be impossible or at any rate disproportionately difficult for the prosecution to establish facts which are especially within the knowledge of the accused and which he could prove without difficulty or inconvenience.

16. In Ganesh Lal vs. State of Maharashtra [1992 SCC (3) 106], the accused was prosecuted for the murder of his wife inside his house. Since the death had occurred in his custody, it was held that the appellant was under an obligation to give an explanation for the cause of death in his statement under Section 313 Cr.P.C.

A denial of the prosecution case coupled with absence of any explanation was held to be inconsistent with the innocence of the accused, but consistent with the hypothesis that the appellant was a prime accused in the commission of murder of his wife.

17. In Dnyaneshwar vs. State of Maharashtra [(2007) 10 SCC 445], the Hon'ble Court observed that since the deceased was murdered in her matrimonial home and the appellant had not set up a case that the offence was committed by somebody else or that there was a possibility of an outsider committing the offence, it was for the husband to explain the grounds for the unnatural death of his wife.

18. The law, therefore, is quite well-settled that the burden of proving the guilt of an accused is on the prosecution, but there may be certain facts pertaining to a crime that can be known only to the accused or are virtually impossible for the prosecution to prove. These facts need to be explained by the accused and if he does not do so, it is a strong circumstance pointing out to his guilt based on those facts.

19. In the present case in hand, it was duty of appellant-husband to offer plausible and cogent explanation regarding the circumstances under which the occurrence took place because factum of death of the deceased was 'especially' within the knowledge of the appellant-husband. But, he failed to do so and on account of this reason, the trial court came to the conclusion that on the basis of evidence available on record it is undisputedly proved that deceased died in her matrimonial home, rather in the room of accused and it was unnatural death. Learned trial court observed that Dr.Manoj Kumar Ekka (PW4) is independent witness and his evidence is most relevant. It is clear from medical evidence that deceased died by creating the pressure on her neck and it was given the colour of suicide by hanging.

20. Learned trial court also opined that the injury found on the neck of the deceased was not the result of abrasion by cloth, but it was the result by giving pressure on her neck, resulting her death. Learned trial court found the offence of the appellant under Section 304 (2) IPC, which needs no interference because this Court is also of definite opinion that on the basis of evidence available on record and surrounding circumstances of this case, the trial court rightly reached to the conclusion of the guilt of the appellant under Section 304(2) IPC and rightly convicted him, accordingly. But so far as the quantum of sentence is concerned, keeping in view the totality of circumstances, this Court finds it proper to reduce the sentence up to seven years, which will be sufficient to meet the ends of justice.

21. Hence, this appeal is liable to be dismissed with the modification of sentence, as above.

22. The appeal is dismissed, accordingly, with the modification of sentence.

23. Let a copy of this judgment be sent to court-below for necessary information to jail authorities.

(A) Criminal law - appeal against conviction - The Indian Penal Code, 1860 - Section 302 read with Section 34 - The Code of criminal procedure, 1973 - Section 161,313 - right under Section 313 of the Code is very valuable right of the accused, where he can say whatever he has to in his defence - It is open there for the accused to show, particularly, the reason for a mala fide or false implication, which can then be established by entering defence and leading evidence - motive is not very relevant in a case of direct evidence, where a dependable ocular version is available. (Para - 17,68)

Informant's son, and another - applied for Shiksha Mitra - selected - animosity on score against the informant's son - riding a tonga - intercepted and waylaid by four appellants - came along riding a tractor - forced down the informant's son from the carriage - saying that "Lets make him into a Shiksha Mitra" - dragged by the appellants through a distance, abusing him - thrown in front of the tractor - run over and crushed the informant's son to death under the wheels of the tractor - PW-2 (Uncle of deceased) and PW-3 (another uncle of deceased) besides the PW-4 (driver) of the carriage, witnessed the incident (eye witness) - informant proceeded to the spot - seen his son's dead body lying in situ .(Para - 2)

HELD:- Evidence of eye-witnesses is clear, consistent and specific. It has not been shaken in any manner, during cross-examination of the three prosecution witnesses . Have clearly established beyond all reasonable doubt, the place, manner and the time of occurrence; particularly, the fact that it was the appellants alone, who acting in furtherance of a common intention, committed a premeditated murder, eliminating the deceased. Opportunity was amply afforded to the appellants under Section 313 of the Code, but not availed. Prosecution established the charge beyond all reasonable doubt and there is no warrant for us to interfere with the impugned judgment. (Para - 66,68,69)

(Delivered by Hon'ble J.J. Munir, J.)

1. The appellants here, who are four in number, have been convicted by Mr. S.N. Tripathi, the then Additional Sessions Judge, Court No. 6, Budaun of an offence under Section 302 read with Section 34 of the Indian Penal Code, 18601 and sentenced to suffer imprisonment for life, and a fine of Rs. 40,000/- each. In the event of default, the appellant concerned has been ordered to suffer an additional simple imprisonment for a period of ten months. The aforesaid judgment has been passed by the learned Additional Sessions Judge in Sessions Trial No. 213 of 2006, State v. Pratap Singh and others (arising out of Case Crime No. 212 of 2003), under Section 302/34 of the Penal Code, Police Station - Kadar Chowk, District - Budaun, decided on 27.11.2012.

2. The First Information Report2 leading to the prosecution, that has since culminated in the impugned conviction, was lodged on 11.11.2003 at 12:25 in the afternoon hours by one Sirajuddin, son of Bajruddin, a native of Village Nauli Fatuabad, Police Station - Ushait, District - Buduan. It reported an occurrence that took place earlier in the day at 10:30 a.m. It was said in the F.I.R. that about a year and a half ante-dating the occurrence, the informant's son, Riazuddin and another resident of the village, Pratap Singh, had both applied for the position of a Shiksha Mitra. The informant's son, Riazuddin, was selected. Pratap Singh and his family allegedly harboured animosity on this score against the informant's son. It is claimed that Pratap Singh had told the informant's son that though the latter had succeeded in becoming a Shiksha Mitra, but Pratap would not spare his life. On 11.11.2003, the informant's son was riding a tonga (described as a buggi) to Kadar Chowk. The horse-driven carriage had on board Hasanuddin, son of Basaruddin and Fisauddin, son of Waziruddin, both natives of the informant's village. As the party reached between Mahmurganj and a place called Gadhiya, they were intercepted and waylaid by the four appellants, who came along riding a tractor. They are said to have forced down the informant's son from the carriage, saying that "Lets make him into a Shiksha Mitra". The informant's son was forced down the carriage at about 10:30 a.m. and dragged by the appellants through a distance, abusing him. He was thrown in front of the tractor. The other three appellants are said to have exhorted Pratap Singh to run him over. Pratap Singh is alleged to have run over and crushed the informant's son to death under the wheels of the tractor. It is reported that Hasanuddin and Fisauddin, besides the driver of the carriage, witnessed the incident. The informant too said that he proceeded to the spot and had seen his son's dead body lying in situ, where a large crowd had congregated.

3. On the basis of the written report lodged by the informant, Ex.Ka1, the chik F.I.R. Ex.Ka.3, also dated 11.11.2003, giving rise to Case Crime No. 212 of 2003, under Section 302 of the Penal Code was registered at Police Station - Kadar Chowk, District - Budaun. The crime aforesaid was registered vide G.D. entry no. 17 at 12:25 p.m. at the police station last mentioned. A copy of the said G.D. is available on record.

4. The Police, after registration of the crime, proceeded to investigate the same. The inquest was held on 11.11.2003, commencing 01:15 p.m. and ending at 03:30 p.m. The inquest is on record as Ex.Ka.4. The dead body was sent for autopsy. The doctor undertook the necessary postmortem examination and an autopsy report dated 12.11.2003 was submitted, that is on record as Ex.Ka.2. A site plan was drawn and statements of witnesses taken down. Samples of blood-stained soil and unstained soil were also collected, besides a pair of sandals that the deceased had worn.

5. All the accused, except Pratap Singh, surrendered in Court. Pratap Singh is said to have been arrested on 21.12.2003 along with the Tractor of Sonalika make bearing registration no. UP-24B-2647.

6. PW-5, Dr. D.S. Misra, who conducted the autopsy on 12.11.2003 found the following antemortem injuries on the body of the deceased:

"(1) A crush injury on Rt. side of skull size 7.5cm x 6 cm underneath skull bone found fractured. Meninges and brain matter found lacerated clotted blood present in brain cavity.

(2) Contusion with abrasion in front of chest in an area ranging 10cm x 5 cm. Both clavicles, 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 5th ribs on both sides found fractured. Liver and lungs found lacerated.

(3) Multiple abrasions on whole of the right upper limb size ranging from 2 x 1 cm to 4 x 2.2 cm.

(4) Multiple abrasions on whole of the left upper limb size ranging from 2.5cm x 1.5cm to 3.5cm x 2cm.

(5) An abrasion on anterior aspect of right upper leg sizing 2.5cm x 1.2 cm.

(6) An abrasion on anterior aspect of left knee sizing 4cm x 2cm.

7. The Investigating Officer, Devendra Pandey, PW-8, submitted two charge sheet; the first bearing no.5 of 2004 dated 10.02.2004 against the appellants, Pratap Singh, Sadhu and Devendra and the other, bearing no.5A of 2004, dated 19.04.2004 against the appellant, Srikrishna. The two charge sheets are marked as Ex. Ka-13 and Ka-14, respectively. All the appellants were challaned for an offence punishable under Section 302 of the Penal Code.

8. The case was committed to the sessions by the learned Chief Judicial Magistrate, Budaun vide order dated 20.02.2006. Post committal, the case came up before the Additional Sessions Judge, Court no.5, Budaun for framing of charges on 27.09.2006. The learned Additional Sessions Judge, after hearing the learned Counsel for the parties, proceeded to frame a charge against the appellants under Section 302 read with Section 34 of the Penal Code. The appellant pleaded not guilty and claimed trial.

9. In order to prove their case, the prosecution have examined the following witnesses:

(1) PW-1, Sirajuddin (father of the deceased and informant of the case, a witness of fact);

(2) PW-2, Fisauddin (uncle of the deceased, an eye witness of the occurrence);

(3) PW-3, Hasanuddin (another uncle of the deceased, another eye witness of the occurrence);

(4) PW-4, Anwar (the driver of the buggi, also an eye witness of the occurrence);

(5) PW-5, Dr. D.S. Misra (the doctor who conducted postmortem examination of the deceased's corpse);

(6) PW-6, HCP Shri Krishna Sharma (who registered the case, drew up the chik and made the requisite G.D. Entry in the Station Diary. He is a formal witness);

(7) PW-7, S.I. Gandhi Lal Sharma (who prepared the inquest and other fard and sent the body for postmortem); and,

(8) PW-8, S.I. Devendra Pandey (Investigating Officer of the case).

11. The appellants, Pratap Singh, Sadhu, Devendra and Srikrishna, in their statements under Section 313 of the Code of Criminal Procdure, 19733 have denied the incriminating circumstances appearing against them and said that they have been falsely implicated on account of Village party-bandi and animosity. All the appellants said that they wanted to enter defence. It must, however, be remarked that no evidence in defence was led.

12. The learned Trial Judge, vide his judgment and order, proceeded to convict the appellants, sentencing each of them in the manner hereinbefore detailed.

13. Aggrieved, the instant appeal has been preferred.

14. Heard Mr. Apul Misra, learned Counsel for the appellants, Ms. Kumari Meena, learned A.G.A. and Ms. Manju Thakur, learned A.G.A. for the State-respondent.

15. It is submitted by Mr. Apul Misra, learned Counsel for the appellants, that the prosecution could not establish motive, enough for the appellants, to do the deceased to death and that too, brutally. He says that the motive assigned by the prosecution, that Pratap Singh harboured animosity and ill-will against the deceased due to the fact that the latter was selected as a Shiksha Mitra, whereas Pratap Singh was unsuccessful, hardly affords a motive for a brutal murder, like the one the prosecution seeks to establish.

16. The learned A.G.A., on the other hand, submits that both the deceased and Pratap Singh had vied for the position of a Shiksha Mitra and the deceased's appointment to the said position had left Pratap Singh seething with anger. He had sworn revenge, which culminated in this crime.

17. To our outstanding, motive is not very relevant in a case of direct evidence, where a dependable ocular version is available. Once there is evidence forthcoming on the basis of an eye-witness account, that is consistently narrated by multiple witnesses, motive is hardly relevant. If an unimpeachable ocular testimony is there to establish the prosecution case, an investigation into the motive or the sufficiency of it to result in the crime and the manner in which it has been perpetrated, would not at all brook inquiry. The testimony of PW-2, PW-3 and PW-4, as would be analyzed in greater detail later in this judgment, is broadly consistent about the time, place and manner in which the deceased was done to death by the appellants. All the three witnesses have stood by their account of the occurrence in their cross-examination. There is a broad consistency of version amongst all the three eye-witnesses, that is to say, PW-2, PW-3 and PW-4. In a case that rests on ocular evidence motive for the accused to have acted in the manner they did, is besides the point. In this connection, there is authoritative statement of the law to be found in the decision of the Supreme Court in Bipin Kumar Mondal v. State of West Bengal4. In Bipin Kumar Mondal, it has been held:

"21. The issue of motive becomes totally irrelevant when there is direct evidence of a trustworthy witness regarding the commission of the crime. In such a case, particularly when a son and other closely related persons depose against the appellant, the proof of motive by direct evidence loses its relevance. In the instant case, the ocular evidence is supported by the medical evidence. There is nothing on record to show that the appellant had received any grave or sudden provocation from the victims or that the appellant had lost his power of self-control from any action of either of the victims.

Motive

22. In fact, motive is a thing which is primarily known to the accused himself and it may not be possible for the prosecution to explain what actually prompted or excited him to commit a particular crime.

23. In Shivji Genu Mohite v. State of Maharashtra [(1973) 3 SCC 219 : 1973 SCC (Cri) 214 : AIR 1973 SC 55] this Court held that in case the prosecution is not able to discover an impelling motive, that could not reflect upon the credibility of a witness proved to be a reliable eyewitness. Evidence as to motive would, no doubt, go a long way in cases wholly dependent on circumstantial evidence. Such evidence would form one of the links in the chain of circumstantial evidence in such a case. But that would not be so in cases where there are eyewitnesses of credibility, though even in such cases if a motive is properly proved, such proof would strengthen the prosecution case and fortify the court in its ultimate conclusion. But that does not mean that if motive is not established, the evidence of an eyewitness is rendered untrustworthy.

24. It is settled legal proposition that even if the absence of motive as alleged is accepted that is of no consequence and pales into insignificance when direct evidence establishes the crime. Therefore, in case there is direct trustworthy evidence of witnesses as to commission of an offence, the motive part loses its significance. Therefore, if the genesis of the motive of the occurrence is not proved, the ocular testimony of the witnesses as to the occurrence could not be discarded only by the reason of the absence of motive, if otherwise the evidence is worthy of reliance. (Vide Hari Shanker v. State of U.P.[(1996) 9 SCC 40: 1996 SCC (Cri) 913], Bikau Pandey v.State of Bihar [(2003) 12 SCC 616: 2004 SCC (Cri) Supp 535] and Abu Thakir v. State of T.N. [(2010) 5 SCC 91: (2010) 2 SCC (Cri) 1258])"

18. Mr. Misra was at pains to impress upon us the fact that the motive attributed to the appellant, Pratap Singh, that is to say, his non-selection for the position of a Shiksha Mitra and the deceased's selection instead, does not afford a motive strong enough to kill the deceased, and that too, in the brutal fashion the crime is said to have been committed. The way a man would think and act is best known to him. We do not wish to analyze the question of motive in this case any further for the good reason that principle guides us not to investigate the motive, in a case that primarily rests on direct evidence of eye-witnesses.

19. It is next submitted by Mr. Apul Misra, learned Counsel for the appellants, that the presence of the three eye-witnesses at the scene of crime is highly suspect. He submits that each of the three witnesses, PW-2, PW-3 and PW-4 have not at all seen the occurrence. He moots the point that these witnesses have spun a false story of murder around an event involving Riazuddin's accidental death. To the above end, the learned Counsel for the appellants submits that the unexplained delay in lodging the F.I.R. is in itself an index of the absence of these eye-witnesses. He submits that in the event any of these eye-witnesses had been present along with the deceased when he was, as they say, forced down the tonga and brutally murdered, at least one of them would have immediately rushed to the police station and lodged an F.I.R. It is pointed out that the distance of the police station from the place of occurrence was just 4 kilometers, whereas the F.I.R. came to be lodged some one hour and fifty-five minutes after the occurrence. And to add to it, is the story that all the three eye-witnesses, instead of rushing to the police station, behaved in a queer fashion, where PW-2, Fisauddin rushed off to Riazuddin's father, Sirajuddin, then in his native village, to inform him of his son's murder. This behaviour of the three witnesses has been emphatically underscored by the learned Counsel for the appellants to submit that none of these witnesses ever saw the incident. The conduct of all the three eye-witnesses is castigated, as shown, to submit that under the circumstances obtaining, their presence at the scene of the crime has to be disbelieved.

20. Dilating on the issue, Mr. Misra submits that PW-2, Fisauddin was a relative of the deceased, the deceased being his nephew. The other eye-witness, PW-3 is also said to be an uncle of the deceased. Given this background of kinship between the two eye-witnesses, PWs-2 and 3, it is submitted that the inaction of these witnesses in not endeavouring to save the deceased when he was forced down the carriage, dragged through a distance and then crushed to death under the wheels of the tractor, is unbelievable. If these witnesses had, in fact, been present, the learned Counsel for the appellants says that they would have done a lot to save the deceased, particularly given the fact that the entire episode took about 10-15 minutes to reach its fatal culmination.

21. It is also emphatically urged that the eye-witnesses have falsely said for the first time in their dock evidence that the accused were carrying firearms, which prevented them from rescuing the deceased. This fact has never been mentioned by these witnesses in their statements to the Police under Section 161 of the Code. In this connection, our attention has been drawn to the cross-examination of PW-2, Fisauddin, to which we will presently allude. The story about the appellants being armed, that the witnesses have put forth for the first time in their dock evidence, is also assailed by the learned Counsel for the appellants on the foot of the reasoning that if this were true, the appellants would have simply shot the deceased, instead of undertaking that rather unconservative, cumbersome and inherently risky method of doing Riazuddin to death.

22. The learned Additional Government Advocate has refuted the above contentions advanced on behalf of the appellants. It is urged by the learned A.G.A. that there is consistent eye-witness account, not of a solitary witness, but three, all of whom have described the occurrence consistently in all material particulars. There is no inherent contradiction between the testimonies of PWs-2, 3 and 4 regarding the time, manner and place of occurrence; and also about the identity and role of the appellants in the crime. The learned A.G.A. submits that the ocular version is dependable, consistent and free from blemish. There is no ostensible reason for three men - the three prosecution witnesses to falsely implicate the appellants in a case that involves a heinous offence.

23. The fact that none of the three eye-witnesses immediately rushed to the police station to lodge an F.I.R. is not a circumstance that may, by itself, lead us to the conclusion that they never witnessed the occurrence. The conduct of a person, who witnesses a morbid, dangerous and bizarre occurrence, like a murder, particularly one carried out in a dastardly fashion, like the one in hand, cannot be expected to exhibit the copy-book conduct of a vigilant and educated citizen proceeding to the police station to report a crime. The behaviour of an individual in a life threatening situation, like the one these witnesses were apparently exposed to, would much differ on an individual basis governed by different parameters. The behaviour, in expecting an eye-witness to hold his nerves calm and proceed confidently to the police station to report a murder of this kind, would depend on diverse factors like the personal mental makeup of the individual concerned, his background and status in life, his personal exposure to similar situations in the past and the associated experiences, the outlook of an individual based on his profession and the training or the age and maturity of the individual, to name but a few. To illustrate these varying individualities of behaviour, one may, except a policeman or an army-man, to remain unperturbed by the fatal violence witnessed and proceed fearlessly to the police station to report the matter. Likewise, an ordinary person, who is inherently endowed with strong nerves and has not, in past, suffered any psychologically debilitating experience, may react in the ideal way that Mr. Misra submits, of walking the distance of four kilometers to report the incident to the Police.

24. By contrast, a timid man may get so scared on witnessing an occurrence of this kind that he may not share it with anyone, let alone report it to the Police. Also, in a situation of this kind, judicial notice must be taken of the fact when evaluating evidence, that turns upon the conduct of men, that the Police generally, and without casting any stigma on them, have earned the reputation of often implicating the man, who comes to them to report a crime involving a homicide or accident; or at least detaining him and subjecting the person to searching interrogation. It may be a necessary way for the Police to do so, but it does act as a deterrent for many individuals to fearlessly step into a police station to report an incident of murder. It is for this reason that it is the closest of kin, who becomes the first informant even if he/ she is not an eye-witness. Here, if the one sees the two witnesses, PW-2 and PW-3, who were related to the deceased, one nearer than the other, what cannot be lost sight of is the fact that all these three men came from a rural and ordinary background. There is nothing to show that they were particularly resourceful or had any kind of training or position in society, that would make them boldly move to the police station and report the matter. Also, there is nothing to show that there was any background of these men that would leave them unshaken and free from fear for their own lives to make that move. If these ordinary men from a village had witnessed the appellants, murdering a kindred or an acquaintance in such a dastardly fashion, one can reasonably expect them to steer clear of the prompt action of rushing to the police station, where the one who did so could expect an immediate reprisal from the appellants and an abominable fate, similar to the deceased's. It is in these circumstances that the conduct of all the three witnesses in not promptly moving to the police station has to be evaluated. Still, one could have thought that the inaction of three men who had witnessed the crime, two related to the deceased, was a factor with some weight to doubt their presence. But, that would be so, if these witnesses were confronted with their conduct about not promptly reporting the crime to the police, shortly after the appellants' exit from the scene of crime.

25. A careful perusal of testimony of PW-2, that is to say, his cross-examination does not show that any question was put to him as to the reason he did not proceed to the police station from the place of occurrence and report the matter himself, instead of rushing back to the deceased's village to inform his father. In the absence of this witness being confronted about his conduct in not proceeding to the police station straight from the place of occurrence, it does not much lie in the appellants' mouth to urge at the hearing before us that this conduct of PW-2 makes his presence doubtful. Likewise, is the case with PW-3, where not a single word about the witness's failure to go over to the Police has been put.

26. So far as PW-4 is concerned, he is an unrelated witness and a professional driver of the tonga, that was carrying the deceased and other witnesses, together with other passengers when the party were waylaid. It does appear that some question was put to him about his inaction of not reporting the matter to the Police. This witness, in whatever manner confronted, has said that he did go to the Police and report the matter. He has said that Darogaji there took down a written information from him and made him thumb mark it. He also took this witness's statement at the station. The Darogaji, after about two hours and a half, proceeded to the place of occurrence, where he came across the first informant, Sirajuddin. The relevant part of this witness's testimony during cross-examination reads:

"थाने में जाकर मैंने सूचना दी दरोगा जी ने मेरी सूचना लिखी मेरा अंगूठा लगवाया। मेरा ब्यान वहीं पर लिया था फिर दो ढाई घन्टे बाद मुझे लेकर दरोगा जी मौके पर चले गये उसके बाद मौके पर सिराजउद्दीन पहुचे फिर उसके बाद मैं सिराज उद्दीन व दरोगा जी थाने आये थे।"

27. Now, this testimony of PW-4 does show that he went to the police station and gave a written information of the occurrence. He was asked to thumb mark it. He is apparently an illiterate man, who did not know what was scripted there. No doubt, the factum of PW-4 reporting the incident to the police has been denied by the Investigating Officer, about which Mr. Misra has something else to say in criticism of the prosecution. But, that is quite another matter; that would be dealt with later on in this judgment.

28. So far as the three eye-witnesses are concerned, in the opinion of this Court, the mere fact that none of them actually lodged the F.I.R. relating to this incident does not, in the circumstances, derogate from the factum of their being eye-witnesses. The overall conduct of PW-2 and PW-3, in not directly proceeding to the police station and instead, going back to the deceased's father in the village, also in the circumstances, should not, in our opinion, cast suspicion about their presence at the scene of crime. In this regard, reference may be made to the observations of a Division Bench of the Delhi High Court in Naresh Kumar v. State5. In Naresh Kumar, one Ashu, a prosecution witness and a nephew of the deceased, Mukesh was an eye-witness of the occurrence, who had made no efforts to save or report the matter to the relatives or the Police. His conduct was, therefore, criticized by the appellants as unnatural and unrealistic in order to discredit his eye-witness account. In those circumstances, it was remarked by the Division Bench:

"16. It is prudent to say that in normal circumstances, it is quite grotesque of any person who is a witness of a crime to not inform the police or the relatives of the victim of the crime reporting the incident and such a behavior on the part of such eye witness normally would be considered unnatural, abnormal and ludicrous. Nevertheless, no straight-jacket formulae or principle can be laid down as to how a particular witness will react at such a situation. It may depend upon couple of circumstances depending upon the facts of each case. It is not always necessary that at a given situation similarly placed person will react in a same fashion. Much will depend on the fact situation of each incident and also the individual behavior of the person including his psyche. One may be timid or may be very bold and it is also possible that a person otherwise timid in his life may turn out to be bold at a particular moment or vice versa. The prompt reaction or the immediate outcry whether being bold or timid of the person is an important aspect which has to be taken care of while dealing with such terrifying crimes.....…"

29. On an overall view of the matter, therefore, the conduct of the three eye-witnesses in not reporting the incident to the Police promptly, after witnessing a ghastly murder, cannot lead to an inference, in our considered opinion, that these witnesses never saw the crime or that they were not present at the place of occurrence.

30. The next part of Mr. Misra's submission, by dint of which he assails the very presence of the three eye-witnesses, is the fact that their conduct in not attempting to rescue the deceased is so unnatural that their presence on the spot has to be ruled out; at least seriously doubted. He has, particularly, emphasized the fact that PWs-2 and 3 are kinsmen of the deceased and it cannot be imagined that they would have allowed the deceased to be done to death by the appellants through a course of violence that lasted 10-15 minutes, without demur. The reason that they did not do so, according to the prosecution, is that appellants were carrying firearms. This has been criticized by Mr. Misra as an unbelievable story and afterthought. This part of the submission would be dealt with a little later.

31. For the moment, we proceed on the assumption that the appellants were not armed and did Riazuddin to death in the manner alleged. The question is: Would it be correct to assume that the prosecution witnesses' inaction to move in and save Riazuddin from the clutches of the assailants, as they perpetrated their fatal violence, over a period of 10-15 minutes, is cause enough to disbelieve that these witnesses were present at the scene of crime? The submission that the prosecution witnesses' failure, particularly that of PWs-2 and 3, to rush in and act in defence of the victim, is based on an assumption about some kind of a standard reaction of men, when placed in the circumstances that the prosecution witnesses were. It assumes a standard reaction to come from a blood relative of the victim of a murderous assault, where the relative is inevitably expected to rush in and attempt a rescue.

32. To our mind, this submission is fallacious, because the assumption of a standard behaviour, on the foundation of which it proceeds, is imaginary. It has no basis to it, inferable from the experience of mankind about individual behaviour. Quite contrary to what the learned Counsel for the appellants submits, there is no standard reaction of men when exposed to the situation, where they witness another being brutally murdered. Even for a relative, generally considered, witnessing a gruesome kind of crime, is a harrowing experience that excites generally the emotion of fear or fright. A person, depending on the individual's traits of personality, may react very differently to the situation, as said earlier. The individual's reaction, on witnessing a gruesome crime, like the present one, may vary according to his psychological makeup, his professional training, his prior exposure to like situations and the experience there. The causes that could contribute to individually varying reactions could be innumerable; and, so could be the variation in the reaction or the response of witnesses when exposed to a ruthless crime, like murder. Therefore, to say that all the three eye-witnesses, at least the two, who were related to the deceased, ought to have attempted a rescue, is a hypothesis that does not stand the test of human experience.

33. Assuming that the appellants were not armed with any deadly weapons, the eye-witness account does show extreme violence exhibited by the perpetrators, and, a particularly abominable mode of doing the victim to death. It could have been a possibility for the three witnesses to have rushed to the victim's rescue and that would be quite natural. The fact that they got a scare of their life and did not move to rescue the deceased is a possibility that is equally likely and natural. There is no element of incredibility about it. The reaction of one of the witnesses that shows him to be frightened into moving away from the spot is well indicated in the cross-examination of PW-4, Anwar, where he says:

"जैसे ही यह घटना हुई मैं बुग्गी लेकर भाग आया था दूर हट गया था दो तीन मिनट के बाद मैं सवारियों को लेकर कादरचौक चला आया।"

34. This reaction of PW-4 upon witnessing the murder is one of the many typical responses that are to be expected of a man, circumstanced like him. PW-4 was not a relative of the deceased, but a very natural witness. He was the driver of the tonga, that was carrying passengers, amongst whom the deceased was one when the party was waylaid. The other two witnesses, PWs-2 and 3 did not move in to rescue the deceased. They were apparently scared into inaction. About this possible variation in the response of men, when they witness a gruesome crime, there is valuable guidance to be found in the decision of the Supreme Court in Rana Partap and others v. State of Haryana6. In Rana Pratap, it has been observed by their Lordships, thus:

"6. Yet another reason given by the learned Sessions Judge to doubt the presence of the witnesses was that their conduct in not going to the rescue of the deceased when he was in the clutches of the assailants was unnatural. We must say that the comment is most unreal. Every person who witnesses a murder reacts in his own way. Some are stunned, become speechless and stand rooted to the spot. Some become hysteric and start wailing. Some start shouting for help. Others run away to keep themselves as far removed from the spot as possible. Yet others rush to the rescue of the victim, even going to the extent of counter-attacking the assailants. Every one reacts in his own special way. There is no set rule of natural reaction. To discard the evidence of a witness on the ground that he did not react in any particular manner is to appreciate evidence in a wholly unrealistic and unimaginative way."

35. In view of what has been said above, we are clearly of opinion that the submission advanced on behalf of the appellants about the absence of eye-witnesses at the place of occurrence urged to be inferable from their inaction in attempting a rescue, deserves to be negatived.

36. The next part of Mr. Misra's submission, inviting us to disbelieve the presence of the eye-witnesses, is a part of his submission that we have just disposed of. It is about the incredibility of eye-witnesses' explanation why they did not come to the aid of the deceased when assaulted by the appellants. The explanation, why the eye-witnesses did not come to the deceased's rescue, that has fallen for Mr. Misra's criticism, is the fact that the perpetrators are said to have been armed. It is said unanimously by all the witnesses that the appellants were wielding country-made pistols, which deterred each of them from rescuing Riazuddin. We have held, while disposing of the earlier part of this submission, that assuming that the appellants were not armed, there is no reason to expect the prosecution witnesses to behave in a particular way, where their failure to rescue the deceased, must inevitably lead to an inference about their absence from the scene of crime. In view of the said finding, the fact whether the appellants were armed or not, would not be very material. Nevertheless, once the prosecution witnesses have come up with the assertion in their dock evidence that has been much criticized by Mr. Misra, it must be taken due note of also. Learned Counsel for the appellants, particularly emphasizes that the fact that the appellants were armed with country-made pistols etc., does not find mention in the F.I.R., which otherwise carries wholesome detail of the occurrence.

37. Learned Counsel for the appellants also says that the fact that the appellants wielded firearms, that they are said to have pointed at the witnesses, does not find mention in the statements of PWs-2, 3 and 4 recorded by the Police. This particular feature of the prosecution case is an improvement made by the witnesses during trial for the first time when they have taken stand in the dock. It is true that the F.I.R. does not mention the appellants' wielding firearms. It is also true that the F.I.R. narrates the incident in some detail. But, as is well known, the law does not expect the F.I.R. to mention every detail, particularly when it is an information by a person, who is not an eye-witness. So far as absence of the fact that the appellants were carrying firearms in the statements of PWs-2, 3 and 4 is concerned, to our understanding, it is not very decisive under the circumstances, though it may be a cause for eyebrows to be raised. In the total scheme of the evidence, it can be nothing more than that. PW-2, Fisauddin, who is the deceased's father's brother, has stated thus in his cross-examination on the issue:

"..... मुलजिमान पर असलहे थे इसलिये छुड़ाने का प्रयास नही किया हम लोग बीस कदम दूर भाग गये थे। मुलजिमान पर तमँचे थे।

यदि मुलजिमान पर असलहे नही होते तो हम मृतक को बचा लेते। मुलजिमान पर असलाह होने वाली बात दिखाने वाली बात मैने रपट लिखने से पहले सिराजुद्दीन व अब्दुल स्लाम भंद्रा वालो की बतायी थी।"

38. This witness has adequately asserted the fact about the appellants wielding firearms and blamed the absence of a mention of this fact in the statement under Section 161 on the Investigating Officer. There is no reason to disbelieve him.

39. PW-3, on the other hand, has acknowledged the fact that he did not disclose the information about the appellants carrying firearms to the Investigating Officer, but that omission, as already said, in the totality of circumstances, cannot lead us to doubt the prosecution in all its complete detail.

40. PW-4 has again said in his cross-examination that he did tell the Investigating Officer that one of the appellants was carrying a gun, though he cannot say which of them was wielding it. He has also said that but for the gun pointed at them by the appellants, the witnesses would have rescued the deceased. This witness, like PW-2, has said that he did tell the Investigating Officer about the appellants carrying firearms and also said that the reason why the said fact has not been recorded by the Investigating Officer, is not known to him. As already said, on the totality of the evidence, there is no reason to disbelieve the eye-witnesses that the appellants were, in fact, carrying firearms.

41. Learned Counsel for the appellants has also strongly cajoled us into disbelieving the fact that the appellants were carrying firearms, and, in fact, the entire prosecution on the foundation of his reasoning that if the appellants were carrying firearms, there was no necessity for them to have resorted to the unconservative, cumbersome and gruesome method of murdering the deceased by crushing him under the wheels of a tractor. They could have simply shot him dead. The argument is, indeed, attractive, but not one which holds no substance. The manner in which the author of a crime would choose to perpetrate it, is known to him alone. The factum of the crime cannot be discredited or doubted, because the perpetrator had an easier way out to achieve the result. Unless the modus operandi be so demonstrably absurd that it is fantastic or incredible under the circumstances, there is no reason to disbelieve a credible eye-witness account, banking on an unfamiliar, rare or unconservative manner of perpetration of the crime. We do not find from the eye-witness account, of the three witnesses, who are ad idem about the manner in which the deceased was done to death, any reason to doubt their version, merely because the appellants had an easier way to eliminate the deceased. Here, the fact, that the medico-legal evidence broadly supports the ocular version, would also be relevant, which we shall presently dwell upon in this judgment. Evaluating the evidence as a whole, we do not find any force in the submission of the learned Counsel for the appellants that the three eye-witnesses, PWs-2, 3 and 4 were not present at the scene of crime and did not witness it.

42. It is next submitted by the learned Counsel for the appellant that there is irreconcilable discrepancy between the ocular version and the medico-legal evidence, which renders the prosecution case utterly unsustainable. He submits that the injuries received by the deceased could never have been caused in the manner described by the eye-witnesses. It is urged that the case about the tractor running over the deceased does not explain the injuries caused to him on the head and chest. Mr. Misra has, during the submissions, drawn our attention to the testimony of PW-3, where he has said during his cross-examination that the appellants, after forcing the deceased down from the tonga, assaulted him employing sticks, delivering blows to his limbs, as they dragged him across a distance to the tractor, where he was thrown under its wheels. Learned Counsel points out that the injuries in the autopsy report do not disclose anything that may be attributed to those blows that the appellants are said to have inflicted, employing sticks (danda). It is particularly emphasized that there are no contusions that would inevitably be there in case of blows from a stick. Instead, there are generally abrasions that are not compatible with an ante-mortem assault by sticks that the deceased is said to have suffered. It is for this reason, according to the learned Counsel for the appellants, that the ocular version of the three witnesses deserves to be disbelieved.

43. Learned A.G.A. has refuted the appellants' contention on this score and said that the crush injury on the skull is enough to establish the prosecution case.

44. The three eye-witnesses, that is to say, P.Ws. 2, 3 and 4 are consistent about the fact that the deceased was forced down the tractor by the appellants and dragged through a distance. He was thrown under the wheels of the tractor by appellant nos. 2, 3 and 4, whereas the first appellant, Pratap Singh, drove the tractor, crushing the deceased under its wheels. The most graphic description of the precise manner of commission of this crime has come from PW-2 in his cross-examination, where he has said :

"ट्रैक्टर मृतक के सिर से चढाया था और पहिया सिर चेहरा से होता हुआ सीने से उतर गया। खून सब बाहर निकल गया था भेजा भी बाहर निकल गया था। खून जमीन पर गिरा था काफी खून जमीन पर गिरा। दरोगाजी बटोर कर लाये।"

45. In his examination-in-chief, this witness has described the incident in the following words :

"जब हम लोग गढिया व मामूर गंज के बीच में पहुंचे तो पीछे से एक ट्रैक्टर आ रहा था जिसे प्रताप चला रहा था उसमे श्री कृष्ण देवेन्द्र व साधू बैठे थे। यह लोग मेरे गाँव नौली फतुहाबाद के थे। इन लोगो ने अनवार की वुग्गी रुकवा ली और ट्रैक्टर स्टार्ट किये हुये प्रताप बैठा रहा। वाकी तीनो लोग उतर कर आये और कहा कि साले को आज शिक्षा मित्र बना दो। यह कहते ही रियासउद्दीन को वुग्गी से उतार लिया व घसीटते हुये लाकर ट्रैक्टर के नीचे पटक दिया और तीनो ने कहा कि प्रताप चढा दे ट्रैक्टर इसके ऊपर। तभी प्रताप ने रियासउद्दीन के उपर ट्रैक्टर चढा दिया व ट्रैक्टर चढा कर मार डाला। फिर मुलजिमान ट्रैक्टर लेकर भाग गये।"

46. Likewise, PW-3 has described the incident in his examination-in-chief thus:

"जब ताँगा मामूर गंज व गढ़िया के बीच में पहुँचा तो ट्रेक्टर प्रताप चला रहे थे, प्रताप वुग्गी से आगे आये और कहा वुग्गी रोक लो। उस ट्रेक्टर पर श्री कृष्ण साधू देवेन्द्र भी थे। मुलजिमान वुग्गी में से रियासउद्दीन को पकड़ कर खेचते हुये ले आये। प्रताप ट्रेक्टर स्टार्ट किये खडे थे। गाली गलौच की और आज इसे शिक्षा मित्र बना दो व गाडी के नीचे डाल दो। तभी श्री कृष्ण, साधू व देवेन्द्र ने ट्रेक्टर के आगे रियासउद्दीन को पटक दिया व प्रताप ने ट्रेक्टर चडा दिया हम हट गये दूर से देखते रहे शोर मचाया तो पडोस के मामूर गंज के लोग आ गये मुझे उनके नाम नही पता। फिर मुलजिमान ट्रेक्टर लेकर भाग गये।"

47. Particularly, this witness has described the assault prior to the deceased being run over by the tractor, in his cross-examination, in these words :

"मुलजिमान मृतक को लात घूँसे, डन्डो से मारते पीटते व घसीटते ले गये थे व पहियों के नीचे डाल दिया था। हम डन्डे गिन नही पाये दस पाँच डन्डे मारे होगे। डन्डे मारने वाली बात आज पहली बार बता रहा हूँ। सिराजुद्दीन व दरोगा जी को नहीं बतायी थी। पैरों में चूतड़ो पर व हाथ में डन्डे मारे थे।"

48. PW-4 Anwar has narrated the occurrence in his examination-in-chief in the following words :

"आज से करीब छै साल पहले की बात है। दिन के साढे दस बजे की बात है। जब मै अपने ताँगा बुग्गी से अपने गाँव के हसनुद्दीन, फिसाउद्दीन व रियासुद्दीन को लेकर कादरचौक होता हुआ बदायूँ जा रहा था कि जब हमारी बुग्गी मामूरगंज व गडिया के बीच में पहुची तो पीछे से मुल्जिम प्रताप, श्रीकृष्ण, साधू व देवेन्द्र ट्रैक्टर से आ गये जिसको प्रताप चला रहे थे कि जैसे ही बुग्गी के पास पहुचे तो रियासुद्दीन से बोले कि आज इसे शिक्षामित्र बना दो तभी श्रीकृष्ण साधू व देवेन्द्र ने ट्रैक्टर से उतरकर रियासुद्दीन को बुग्गी से उतार लिया व घसीटते हुए व गाली देते हुए ट्रैक्टर के सामने पटक दिया और प्रताप से कहा कि इसके उपर ट्रैक्टर चढा दो तभी प्रताप ने रियासुद्दीन के उपर ट्रैक्टर चढ़ाकर कुचल दिया और उसकी मौके पर ही मृत्यु हो गयी तभी मुल्जिमान जिधर से आये थे उधर ही अपने गाँव की तरफ चले गये"

49. In his cross-examination, he has detailed the occurrence in the following words :

"मृतक को घसीटकर मुल्जिमान कितनी दूर ले गये 5-6 कदम ले गये थे फिर यह कहा मुल्जिमानों ने मृतक को जमीन पर गिरा दिया फिर खीचकर ट्रैक्टर के सामने ले गये तीनो उसे पकडे रहे हाथ पैर गिराकर दाब लिये थे हाथ पैर पकड़े रहे और फिर एक ने ट्रैक्टर पर जाकर ट्रैक्टर स्टार्ट कर ट्रैक्टर उस पर चढ़ा दिया फिर कहा ट्रैक्टर स्टार्ट था प्रताप ट्रैक्टर पर बैठा था मुल्जिमानों ने मृतक को मेरी बुग्गी से उतार लिया और कहा कि आज तुझे पक्का शिक्षा मित्र बनाते है। मृतक उनके हाथ से छूटकर नहीं भाग पाया था "पक्का शिक्षामित्र बनाये देते हैं" यह बात मैंने दरोगा जी को बता दी थी यदि दरोगा जी ने पक्का शब्द नहीं लिखा है। तो इसकी वजह नहीं बता सकता।"

50. A perusal of the three versions about the occurrence, all by the three eye-witnesses, makes it vivid that they are broadly consistent about the place, time and the manner of occurrence. All of them say that they were all riding the tonga, also described as buggi, from the parties' native village to Budaun via a place called Kadar Chowk. The tonga was driven by PW-4 Anwar. It had, on board, PW-2 Fisauddin, PW-3 Hasnuddin and deceased Riazuddin, amongst others. The party was waylaid by the appellants, who came riding along a tractor driven by Pratap Singh, appellant no. 1. The deceased was forced down from the carriage and dragged through the distance between the stalled carriage and the waiting tractor. He was thrown before the tractor, where the appellant Pratap Singh was on the wheel. The deceased was crushed under the wheels of the tractor by Pratap Singh. All the witnesses have said that appellant nos. 2, 3 and 4 exhorted appellant no. 1 to run over the deceased, employing the tractor.

51. It must be remarked that the witnesses testified in the dock between 3-6 years after the occurrence. The earliest testimony of PW-2 was recorded on 29.11.2006, whereas the incident is one dated 11.11.2003. By the time PW-4 testified, it was already well into the month of December, 2009, that is to say, six years from date of occurrence. During all this while, the witnesses are to be given due allowance for some inaccuracy, on account of fading memories. But, still, the account is remarkably consistent.

52. Now, given the fact the the ocular testimony is broadly consistent, the submission advanced on behalf of the appellants that it is irreconcilable with the medico-legal evidence to an extent that the ocular version must be rejected, requires careful consideration. The autopsy report, Ex.Ka.2, shows that injury no. 1 is a crush injury that has led to a fracture of the skull, rupture of the meninges and the brain matter torn out, with clotting of blood. This kind of an injury is ex-facie compatible with the version about the wheel of the tractor crushing the deceased's head. The second injury is located on the chest, which is a contusion with abrasion. The dimensions are 10 cm. x 5 cm. Both the clavicles are fractured and rib nos. 2, 3, 4 and 5 on both sides of the rib cage are also fractured. If one were to go with the closest detail in the ocular version about the crime, a description of it in the cross-examination of PW-2 shows that the wheel of the tractor went over the deceased's head, face and chest. Ex-facie, in our opinion, the kind of injuries that one can expect, compatible with this ocular version, are those described as injury nos. 1 and 2 in the autopsy report. The doctor, testifying as PW-5 in the dock, has faced a very brief cross-examination on behalf of the appellants, where he has said :

"वाहन से कुचलने पर इस प्रकार की चोटों की आने की संभावना ज्यादा है। यह चोटें दुर्घटना में वाहन से आने की संभावना है।"

53. The doctor does not, at all, rule out the injuries being caused by being crushed under the wheels of a vehicle. He has not been subjected to any further cross-examination on behalf of the appellants in order to elicit whether the two injuries are, in any manner, fundamentally incompatible with the ocular version.

54. Now, we may consider the other part of Mr. Misra's submissions that there are no contusions consistent with that part of the ocular testimony which says that the deceased was thrashed with sticks, where blows were delivered to his limbs. This Court is of opinion that the absence of contusions on the limbs or their mention in the autopsy report, where the deceased was subjected to a violent death of this kind, may not have been very consequential. Once the ocular version is broadly compatible with the medico-legal injuries, some contradictions about the absence of certain injuries that ought to have been there, given the ocular version, would not lead to a consistent version of three eye-witnesses, being rejected. A consistent and dependable ocular version is generally to be preferred over medico-legal evidence, unless the two be so fundamentally repugnant that they cannot co-exist. There is no such fundamental repugnance here in the ocular version and in the medico-legal evidence. In our opinion, the absence of contusions on the limbs of the deceased in the autopsy report is not an incompatibility of such a fundamental kind which may render the ocular version liable to be discarded. This question fell for consideration recently before the Supreme Court in Pruthiviraj Jayantibhai Vanol v. Dinesh Dayabhai Vala & Others7. The issue there was that incompatibility between the ocular version and medico-legal evidence had led the High Court to acquit the appellant, because the testimony of witnesses described the weapons of assault as iron pipes, steel rods and sticks, whereas the injuries were three stab wounds and nine incised wounds. The nature of the injuries found in the autopsy and the ocular version, describing the weapons of assault, had led the High Court to acquit the appellant on account of inconsistency between the ocular version and medical evidence. In this connection, the following holding of their Lordships is direct on the point under consideration here :

"18. Ocular evidence is considered the best evidence unless there are reasons to doubt it. The evidence of PW-2 and PW-10 is unimpeachable. It is only in a case where there is a gross contradiction between medical evidence and oral evidence, and the medical evidence makes the ocular testimony improbable and rules out all possibility of ocular evidence being true, the ocular evidence may be disbelieved. In the present case, we find no inconsistency between the ocular and medical evidence. The High Court grossly erred in appreciation of evidence by holding that muddamal no. 5 was a simple iron rod without noticing the evidence that it had a sharp turn edge.

19. The aforesaid discussions leads us to the conclusion that the acquittal by the High Court is based on misappreciation of the evidence and the overlooking of relevant evidence thereby arriving at a wrong conclusion. It is not a case where two views are possible or the credibility of the witnesses is in doubt. Neither it is a case of a solitary uncorroborated witness. The conclusion of the High Court is therefore held to be perverse and irrational. The acquittal is therefore held to be unsustainable and is set aside. In the nature of assault, Section 304 Part II, IPC has no application. The conviction of respondent nos. 1 to 4 by the Trial Court is restored."

55. To our understanding, the presence of witnesses at the scene of crime not being found doubtful, there is no reason for us to doubt their testimony, which, in our considered opinion, puts forth a dependable eye-witness account. There is no such inherent inconsistency between the ocular version and the medico-legal evidence that may persuade us to reject the prosecution case on that score. We hold, accordingly.

56. It is next submitted by the learned Counsel for the appellants that the Police have not fairly investigated the case and have suppressed the earliest version of the occurrence that they received through PW-4, Anwar, the tonga driver. He has drawn the attention of the Court to the testimony of PW-4, where this witness has said that he went to the police station and informed the Police about the incident. The witness has also stated that the Daroga at the station took down the information and got it thumb marked by him. He has further said that the Police also took down his statement. About this testimony of PW-4, Mr. Misra submits that the Police have not brought the information given by PW-4 on record. It is pointed out that the Investigating Officer, in his evidence, has completely denied the fact that PW-4, Anwar, came over to the police station and laid any information. It is submitted by the learned Counsel further that the conduct of PW-4 going over to the police station and informing the Police, was a natural and spontaneous conduct. The Police, by keeping back the information that they received about the occurrence from PW-4, have rendered the investigation tainted by withholding vital facts and evidence from the Court.

57. The learned Counsel for the appellants submits that the fact that the earliest information about the occurrence, received by the Police from PW-4, has been hidden away from the eyes of the Court, throws a cloud of doubt over the prosecution version. Mr. Misra has also drawn the attention of the Court to that part of the cross-examination, where PW-4 has said that he had earlier given an affidavit in favour of the appellants, and said in the next breath, during the cross-examination, that he never did so. About this fact, Mr. Misra submits that this witness is unreliable. We must remark here that the cross-examination of this witness does not show that he was confronted with the affidavit or that it was put to him. Largely, the submission, therefore, put forward by the learned Counsel for the appellants, is that investigation done by the prosecution is not fair and forthright. The earliest account of the occurrence coming from PW-4 has been suppressed from the Court.

58. The learned Counsel for the appellants has also pointed out that the Investigating Officer has not inquired into the angle of enmity between parties that could have led to a patently false implication. It is also urged that the failure of the Investigating Officer in not ensuring a technical examination of the tractor, which is the weapon of offence in this crime, or seizing and producing it as case property, is fatal to the prosecution. It is also emphasized that the Investigating Officer has not looked into the appointment letter of the deceased, appointing him to the post of a Shiksha Mitra. The attention of the Court has also been drawn by the learned Counsel for the appellants to that part of the Investigating Officer's cross-examination, where he has acknowledged that there was a discrepancy in the distance of the police station from the place of occurrence given in the F.I.R. and the inquest report. Our attention has been drawn to this discrepancy to show that the distance entered in the F.I.R. is four kilometers, whereas, in the inquest report it is five kilometers. To sum up, it is submitted by Mr. Misra that the prosecution stands on shaky ground because of these discrepancies in investigation, and that, therefore, the conviction should be overturned.

59. The learned A.G.A. has said that whatever has been pointed out by the learned Counsel for the appellants is nothing more than some discrepancies in investigation. The prosecution case is well established by a dependable eye-witness account of the three witnesses, PWs-2, 3 and 4.

60. We must remark at the outset that the submissions of Mr. Misra, presently under consideration, can be divided into two parts. The first part, though short, is distinct from the rest. That short submission is about the veracity of PW-4, which has been sought to be impeached by the appellants on ground that he had tendered some kind of affidavit, disowning his statement to the Police, about which he has said, during his cross-examination in the first go that he did give such an affidavit, and in the next breath, disowned it. As already remarked by us, the contents of the affidavit were not put to the witness, during his cross-examination, and, therefore, it is no part of the evidence. PW-4 has been acknowledged by the appellants to be an independent witness and to our mind also, he is a natural witness. Though the contents of the affidavit have not figured in the testimony, even if at some point of time, the witness, on account of some consideration, spoke exculpatory on affidavit tendered to some Authority or the Court prior to commencement of trial, his clear and unequivocal evidence in the dock, cannot be impeached on that account. During investigation, and some times during trial, witnesses are known to vacillate and prevaricate owing to different kinds of pressures and succumbing to myriad human feelings. What has to be seen, however, particularly in the case of an eye-witness account, is whether the witness is essentially truthful, consistent and dependable in his account of the occurrence in the witness-box. If the witness has not been fundamentally shaken during his cross-examination, there is no reason to discard his testimony or to hold him discredited. As we have already remarked, the testimony of PW-4 in his examination-in-chief and cross-examination, is fairly consistent and inherently inspires confidence. For the said reason, we are not inclined to doubt him on account of the fact that at some point of time, prior to commencement of trial, he might have said something on affidavit, not supportive of the prosecution.

61. The next part of the appellants' submission can be conveniently dealt with under one head, and that is about failures on the part of the Investigating Officer to produce relevant evidence, even keeping back some evidence, that is said to be an instance of unfair investigation. It is trite law that unless failures, discrepancies or even unfairness of investigation prejudices the accused, mere lapses of investigation or some taints there, cannot be permitted to get better of the law. A case, that is well proven by evidence, that comes before the Court, cannot be thrown out merely because the Investigating Officer, by incompetence or design, produces some fallacies. To consider the failures of investigation or what Mr. Misra says, clear instances of unfair investigation, this Court may look into the specific instances. It is pointed out, amongst those failures or instances of unfair investigation, that the Investigating Officer has kept back the earliest written account of the occurrence, that the Police received from PW-4. We may notice that PW-4 has not been cross-examined at all on the point whether in his alleged written information given to the Police at the station, had he come up with a different version, other than the one that he has come up with in the dock. We find that nothing has been asked of PW-4 as to what his earliest version to the Police was. In the absence of that question, there is no reason to believe that even if an information, that the witness says, was given to the Police by him earliest in point of time, anything different would have been said there. Also, the Investigating Officer has been emphatic that no such information was given by PW-4 to the Police at any point of time. We do not find anything in the testimony of the Investigating Officer to disbelieve him on that count.

62. Now, so far as the question of the Investigating Officer not proving the enmity that might have led to a false implication of the appellants is concerned, by looking into the appointment letter of the deceased, which is said to relate to his placement as a Shiksha Mitra, these are no more than lapses of investigation, if at all. Likewise the more serious issue about not seizing or producing the tractor by sending it for a technical examination, also does not go beyond a mere lapse of investigation. Likewise, is the case with the varying mention of the distance between the place of occurrence and the police station on the F.I.R. and the inquest. It is, as already said, trite law that lapses in investigation or failures of the Investigating Officer, or even deliberate manipulation at his hands, cannot brook advantage to the accused, unless the lapse or the taint in investigation be such that it has prejudiced the accused in his defence. That is not the case here, because the eye-witness account of the three witnesses, whose presence at the scene of crime, we have no reason to doubt, is clear, unambiguous and inculpatory. The outcome depends on what evidence comes before the Court and not the way the investigating agency collects the evidence or reaches its conclusions. The conclusions of the investigating agency are no more than a proposal or a claim, the worth of which has to be judged by the Court, on the evidence produced before it in the dock. Even if the investigating agency has failed somewhere or corrupted the prosecution by its lapses, incompetence or design, that cannot stand in the Court's way of reaching its conclusion on the evidence before it. Here, whatever has been pointed out on behalf of the appellants, does not, in any way, derogate from the dependable and consistent account of the three eye-witnesses. In this connection, reference may be made to the decision of the Supreme Court in Dhanaj Singh v. State of Punjab8, where it has been held:

"5. In the case of a defective investigation the court has to be circumspect in evaluating the evidence. But it would not be right in acquitting an accused person solely on account of the defect; to do so would tantamount to playing into the hands of the investigating officer if the investigation is designedly defective. (See Karnel Singh v. State of M.P. [(1995) 5 SCC 518 : 1995 SCC (Cri) 977])

6. In Paras Yadav v. State of Bihar [(1999) 2 SCC 126 : 1999 SCC (Cri) 104] it was held that if the lapse or omission is committed by the investigating agency or because of negligence the prosecution evidence is required to be examined dehors such omissions to find out whether the said evidence is reliable or not, the contaminated conduct of officials should not stand in the way of evaluating the evidence by the courts; otherwise the designed mischief would be perpetuated and justice would be denied to the complainant party.

7. As was observed in Ram Bihari Yadav v. State of Bihar [(1998) 4 SCC 517 : 1998 SCC (Cri) 1085] if primacy is given to such designed or negligent investigation, to the omission or lapses by perfunctory investigation or omissions, the faith and confidence of the people would be shaken not only in the law-enforcing agency but also in the administration of justice. The view was again reiterated in Amar Singh v. Balwinder Singh [(2003) 2 SCC 518 : 2003 SCC (Cri) 641]. As noted in Amar Singh case [(2003) 2 SCC 518 : 2003 SCC (Cri) 641] it would have been certainly better if the firearms were sent to the Forensic Test Laboratory for comparison. But the report of the ballistic expert would be in the nature of an expert opinion without any conclusiveness attached to it. When the direct testimony of the eyewitnesses corroborated by the medical evidence fully establishes the prosecution version, failure or omission or negligence on the part of the IO cannot affect the credibility of the prosecution version.

8. The stand of the appellants relates essentially to acceptability of evidence. Even if the investigation is defective, in view of the legal principles set out above, that pales into insignificance when ocular testimony is found credible and cogent. Further effect of non-examination of weapons of assault or the pellets, etc. in the background of defective investigation has been considered in Amar Singh case [(2003) 2 SCC 518 : 2003 SCC (Cri) 641]. In the case at hand, no crack in the evidence of the vital witnesses can be noticed."

63. Again, in Ram Bali v. State of U.P.9, it was held in the context of omissions, lapses or even negligence in investigation, thus:

"14. As was observed in Ram Bihari Yadav v. State of Bihar [(1998) 4 SCC 517 : 1998 SCC (Cri) 1085] if primacy is given to such designed or negligent investigation, to the omission or lapses by perfunctory investigation or omissions, the faith and confidence of the people would be shaken not only in the law-enforcing agency but also in the administration of justice. The view was again reiterated in Amar Singh v. Balwinder Singh [(2003) 2 SCC 518 : 2003 SCC (Cri) 641] . As noted in Amar Singh case [(2003) 2 SCC 518 : 2003 SCC (Cri) 641] it would have been certainly better if the firearms were sent to the Forensic Test Laboratory for comparison. But the report of the ballistic expert would merely be in the nature of an expert opinion without any conclusiveness attached to it. When the direct testimony of the eyewitnesses corroborated by the medical evidence fully establishes the prosecution version, failure or omission or negligence on the part of the IO cannot affect the credibility of the prosecution version."

64. The same principle finds eloquent mention in Abu Thakir and others v. State of Tamil Nadu represented by Inspector of Police, Tamilnadu10, where it has been observed:

"36. We may have to deal with yet another submission made by the learned Senior Counsel for the appellants that the investigation was not fair as there were many missing links in the process of investigation. This submission was made by the learned counsel contending that the investigation does not reveal as to how the investigating officer came to know about the presence of PWs 2 to 4 at the scene of occurrence and for recording their statements in that regard.

37. This Court in State of Karnataka v. K. Yarappa Reddy [(1999) 8 SCC 715 : 2000 SCC (Cri) 61] held that: (SCC p. 720, para 19)

"19. ... even if the investigation is illegal or even suspicious the rest of the evidence must be scrutinised independently of the impact of it. Otherwise the criminal trial will plummet to the level of the investigating officers ruling the roost. ... Criminal justice should not be made a casualty for the wrongs committed by the investigating officers in the case. In other words, if the court is convinced that the testimony of a witness to the occurrence is true the court is free to act on it albeit the investigating officer's suspicious role in the case."

The ratio of the judgment in that case is the complete answer to the submission made by the learned Senior Counsel for the appellants."

65. Of particular relevance, there is the guidance of their Lordships of the Supreme Court in Mritunjoy Biswas v. Pranab11, where there was no recovery of the weapon of offence from the accused and that was mooted as a fatal flaw in the prosecution. In that connection, it was held:

"33. The learned counsel for the respondent has urged before us that there has been no recovery of weapon from the accused and hence, the prosecution case deserves to be thrown overboard and, therefore, the judgment of acquittal does not warrant interference.

34. In Lakshmi v. State of U.P. [(2002) 7 SCC 198 : 2002 SCC (Cri) 1647] this Court has ruled that : (SCC p. 205, para 16)

"16. Undoubtedly, the identification of the body, cause of death and recovery of weapon with which the injury may have been inflicted on the deceased are some of the important factors to be established by the prosecution in an ordinary given case to bring home the charge of offence under Section 302 IPC. This, however, is not an inflexible rule. It cannot be held as a general and broad proposition of law that where these aspects are not established, it would be fatal to the case of the prosecution and in all cases and eventualities, it ought to result in the acquittal of those who may be charged with the offence of murder."

35. In Lakhan Sao v. State of Bihar [(2000) 9 SCC 82 : 2000 SCC (Cri) 1163] it has been opined that : (SCC p. 87, para 18)

"18. The non-recovery of the pistol or spent cartridge does not detract from the case of the prosecution where the direct evidence is acceptable."

36. In State of Rajasthan v. Arjun Singh [(2011) 9 SCC 115 : (2011) 3 SCC (Cri) 647] this Court has expressed that : (SCC p. 122, para 18)

"18. ... mere non-recovery of pistol or cartridge does not detract the case of the prosecution where clinching and direct evidence is acceptable. Likewise, absence of evidence regarding recovery of used pellets, bloodstained clothes, etc. cannot be taken or construed as no such occurrence had taken place."

Thus, when there is ample unimpeachable ocular evidence and the same has been corroborated by the medical evidence, non-recovery of the weapon does not affect the prosecution case."

66. The evidence of eye-witnesses here is clear, consistent and specific. It has not been shaken in any manner, during cross-examination of the three prosecution witnesses, who, in our opinion, have clearly established beyond all reasonable doubt, the place, manner and the time of occurrence; particularly, the fact that it was the appellants alone, who acting in furtherance of a common intention, committed a premeditated murder, eliminating the deceased. The discrepancies in investigation, whatever, have been pointed out by the learned Counsel for the appellants, cannot vitiate the prosecution, that has thoroughly succeeded in establishing the charge beyond reasonable doubt.

67. We have carefully gone through the findings recorded by the learned Sessions Judge and independently reappraised the entire evidence. There is no reason for us to take a different view of the evidence, which in our opinion, is clear, cogent and unimpeachable.

68. Here, it also requires mention that the appellants, in their statements under Section 313 of the Code, have not assigned any particular motive to the witnesses to falsely implicate them. There is a stereotype answer in response to the question put to each of the appellants, as to why the concerned appellant was prosecuted. The answer is: 'village party-bandi and animosity'. There is not a whisper there as to what are the particulars of the village party-bandi or the animosity, vis-a-vis each of the appellants and the animus of the prosecution witnesses. The appellants have indicated their inclination to lead evidence in defence, but they did not enter defence, as already said. Then in answer to a general question put to each of the appellants, if the concerned appellants had anything else to say, the identical answer is: 'No'. The right under Section 313 of the Code is very valuable right of the accused, where he can say whatever he has to in his defence. It is open there for the accused to show, particularly, the reason for a mala fide or false implication, which can then be established by entering defence and leading evidence. Here, that opportunity was amply afforded to the appellants, but not availed.

69. To sum up, this Court is of opinion that the prosecution have established the charge beyond all reasonable doubt and there is no warrant for us to interfere with the impugned judgment.

70. In the result, this appeal fails and is dismissed. The impugned judgment passed by the learned Additional Sessions Judge is affirmed. The appellants, Sadhu, Devendra and Srikrishna are on bail. They shall surrender immediately before the Trial Court to serve out the sentences, awarded to each of them. In the event of default, the Trial Court shall take immediate steps to take them into custody and commit them to prison.

71. Let this order be certified to the Trial Court by the office and separately communicated by the Registrar (Compliance) through the learned Sessions Judge, Budaun. Let a copy of this order be also communicated to appellant no.1, Pratap Singh, who is in jail, through the Jail Superintendent, Budaun, or wherever he is serving his sentence, by the Registrar (Compliance).

72. The lower court records shall be sent down forthwith.

17. Raj Bala Vs St. of Har., (2016) 1 SCC 463

(Delivered by Hon'ble Ajit Singh, J.)

1. This criminal appeal has been filed against a judgement dated 25.7.2019 passed by the Additional Sessions Judge/FTC, Court no. 52, Kanpur Nagar in S.T. No. 265 of 2015 (State vs. Ram Narayan), arising out of Case Crime no. 231 of 2015, under Section 304 I.P.C., P.S. Bidhanu, district-Kanpur Nagar, whereby learned Judge convicted and sentenced the appellant to 7 years simple imprisonment

2. The prosecution story in brief is that on 17.4.2015 at about 9:00 p.m. nephew of the complainant, namely, Manish Savita son of late Brij Lal Savita, was present in his saloon which situates at Rodhakpur road near Nihal Baba temple and besides his shop there is a cobbler shop of Ram Narain who in drunken state assaulted and caused serious injuries to the nephew of the complainant with sharp edged weapon (joote ghantane wali rapi) on his thigh repeatedly. The injured was taken to the hospital by his family members, namely, Suni Sangeet and Raj Kumar for treatment, where during treatment he died.

3. At the very outset, learned counsel for the appellant, on instructions, stated that he does not propose to challenge the impugned judgement and order on its merits. He, however, prayed for modification of the order of the sentence for the period already undergone by the appellant.

4. Learned counsel for the accused-appellant submits that the incident was neither preplanned nor premeditated but was a result of a sudden assault and there was no intention on the part of the accused to commit the murder of the deceased. He also submits that the accused-appellant is a poor handicapped person, who is cobbler by profession and he is the only bread earner in his family and his family is at the verge of starvation. The accused appellant had been in jail during trial and after conviction he is in jail. As such, the accused has already served out more than five years of the sentence. Further submission is that it was the first offence of the accused and after conviction the accused had not indulged in any other criminal activity. He next submits that although the trial court has convicted the present accused on the basis of mere conjuncture while the appellant is absolutely innocent and has been falsely implicated in this case with the ulterior intention of harassing him. He also submits that on the question of legality of sentence he is not pressing this appeal and only pressing on the quantum of sentence and he has prayed for taking lenient view considering the age of the accused and his age related ailments.

5. Learned A.G.A. has vehemently opposed the submission made by learned counsel for the appellant. He has however, submits that if slight reduction in sentence is made, he has no objection.

6. I have perused the entire material available on record and the evidence as well as judgment of the trial court. The learned counsel for the accused-appellant does not want to press the appeal on its merit and requests to take a lenient view of the matter.

7. In Mohd. Giasuddin Vs. State of AP, AIR 1977 SC 1926, explaining rehabilitary & reformative aspects in sentencing it has been observed by the Supreme Court:

"Crime is a pathological aberration. The criminal can ordinarily be redeemed and the state has to rehabilitate rather than avenge. The sub-culture that leads to ante-social behaviour has to be countered not by undue cruelty but by reculturization.Therefore, the focus of interest in penology in the individual and the goal is salvaging him for the society. The infliction of harsh and savage punishment is thus a relic of past and regressive times. The human today vies sentencing as a process of reshaping a person who has deteriorated into criminality and the modern community has a primary stake in the rehabilitation of the offender as a means of a social defence. Hence a therapeutic, rather than an 'in terrorem' outlook should prevail in our criminal courts, since brutal incarceration of the person merely produces laceration of his mind. If you are to punish a man retributively, you must injure him. If you are to reform him, you must improve him and, men are not improved by injuries."

8. In Sham Sunder vs Puran, (1990) 4 SCC 731, where the high court reduced the sentence for the offence under section 304 part I into undergone, the supreme court opined that the sentence needs to be enhanced being inadequate. It was held:

"The court in fixing the punishment for any particular crime should take into consideration the nature of offence, the circumstances in which it was committed, the degree of deliberation shown by the offender. The measure of punishment should be proportionate to the gravity of offence."

9. In State of MP vs Najab Khan, (2013) 9 SCC 509, the high court, while upholding conviction, reduced the sentence of 3 years by already undergone which was only 15 days. The supreme court restored the sentence awarded by the trial court. Referring the judgments in Jameel vs State of UP (2010) 12 SCC 532, Guru Basavraj vs State of Karnatak, (2012) 8 SCC 734, the court observed as follows:-

"In operating the sentencing system, law should adopt the corrective machinery or the deterrence based on factual matrix. The facts and given circumstances in each case, the nature of the crime, the manner in which it was planned and committed, the motive for commission of the crime, the conduct of the accused, the nature of weapons used and all other attending circumstances are relevant facts which would enter into the area of consideration. We also reiterate that undue sympathy to impose inadequate sentence would do more harm to the justice dispensation system to undermine the public confidence in the efficacy of law. It is the duty of court to award proper sentence having regard to the nature of offence and the manner in which it was executed or committed. The courts must not only keep in view the rights of victim of the crime but also the society at large while considering the imposition of appropriate punishment."

10. Earlier, "Proper Sentence" was explained in Deo Narain Mandal Vs. State of UP (2004) 7 SCC 257 by observing that Sentence should not be either excessively harsh or ridiculously low. While determining the quantum of sentence, the court should bear in mind the principle of proportionately. Sentence should be based on facts of a given case. Gravity of offence, manner of commission of crime, age and sex of accused should be taken into account. Discretion of Court in awarding sentence cannot be exercised arbitrarily or whimsically.

11. In subsequent decisions, the supreme court has laid emphasis on proportional sentencing by affirming the doctrine of proportionality. In Shyam Narain vs State (NCT of delhi), (2013) 7 SCC 77, it was pointed out that sentencing for any offence has a social goal. Sentence is to be imposed with regard being had to the nature of the offence and the manner in which the offence has been committed. The fundamental purpose of imposition of sentence is based on the principle that the accused must realize that the crime committed by him has not only created a dent in the life of the victim but also a concavity in the social fabric. The purpose of just punishment is that the society may not suffer again by such crime. The principle of proportionality between the crime committed and the penalty imposed are to be kept in mind. The impact on the society as a whole has to be seen. Similar view has been expressed in Sumer Singh vs Surajbhan Singh, (2014) 7 SCC 323 , State of Punjab vs Bawa Singh, (2015) 3 SCC 441, and Raj Bala vs State of Haryana, (2016) 1 SCC 463.

12. In Kokaiyabai Yadav vs State of Chhattisgarh(2017) 13 SCC 449, it has been observed that reforming criminals who understand their wrongdoing, are able to comprehend their acts,have grown and nartured into citizens with a desire to live a fruitful life in the outside world, have the capacity of humanising the world.

13. In Ravada Sasikala vs. State of A.P. AIR 2017 SC 1166, the Supreme Court referred the judgments in Jameel vs State of UP (2010) 12 SCC 532, Guru Basavraj vs State of Karnatak, (2012) 8 SCC 734, Sumer Singh vs Surajbhan Singh, (2014) 7 SCC 323 , State of Punjab vs Bawa Singh, (2015) 3 SCC 441, and Raj Bala vs State of Haryana, (2016) 1 SCC 463 and has reiterated that, in operating the sentencing system, law should adopt corrective machinery or deterrence based on factual matrix. Facts and given circumstances in each case, nature of crime, manner in which it was planned and committed, motive for commission of crime, conduct of accused, nature of weapons used and all other attending circumstances are relevant facts which would enter into area of consideration. Further, undue sympathy in sentencing would do more harm to justice dispensations and would undermine the public confidence in the efficacy of law. It is the duty of every court to award proper sentence having regard to nature of offence and manner of its commission. The supreme court further said that courts must not only keep in view the right of victim of crime but also society at large. While considering imposition of appropriate punishment, the impact of crime on the society as a whole and rule of law needs to be balanced. The judicial trend in the country has been towards striking a balance between reform and punishment. The protection of society and stamping out criminal proclivity must be the object of law which can be achieved by imposing appropriate sentence on criminals and wrongdoers. Law, as a tool to maintain order and peace, should effectively meet challenges confronting the society, as society could not long endure and develop under serious threats of crime and disharmony. It is therefore, necessary to avoid undue leniency in imposition of sentence. Thus, the criminal justice jurisprudence adopted in the country is not retributive but reformative and corrective. At the same time, undue harshness should also be avoided keeping in view the reformative approach underlying in our criminal justice system.

14. Keeping in view the facts and circumstances of the case and also keeping in view criminal jurisprudence in our country which is reformative and corrective and not retributive. This Court considers that no accused person is incapable of being reformed and therefore, all measures should be applied to give them an opportunity of reformation in order to bring them in the social stream.

15. Since the learned counsel for appellant has not pressed the appeal on merits, however, this Court after perusal of the entire evidence on record and judgment of the learned Trial Court considers that the appeal is devoid of merit and is liable to be dismissed. Hence, the conviction of the appellant is upheld.

16. So far as the quantum of sentence is concerned, this Court considers that the ends of justice would be met if the accused is sentenced with the period already undergone by him in prison.

17. Accordingly, the conviction is upheld. The appeal is partly allowed with the modification of the sentence by the period already undergone and served out by the appellant in prison. The appellant be released from the jail.

18. Office is directed to transmit the lower court record along with a copy of this judgment to the learned court below for information and necessary compliance as warranted.

19. The party shall file computer generated copy of such order downloaded from the official website of High Court Allahabad, self attested by the learned counsel for the applicant alongwith a self attested identity proof of the said persons (preferably Aadhar Card) mentioning the mobile number (s) to which the said

Aadhar Card is linked before the concerned Court/Authority/Official.

20. The concerned Court/ Authority/ Official shall verify the authenticity of such computerized copy of the order from the official website of High Court Allahabad and shall make a declaration of such verification in writing.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Suresh Kumar Gupta, J.)

1. This appeal has been preferred by appellant against the judgement and order dated 30.8.2017 passed by Additional Sessions Judge (Fast Track Court), Court No. 2, Bulandshahar in Sessions Trial No. 704 of 2012 (State Vs. Gautam) in Case Crime No. 306 of 2012, under section 376 I.P.C., Police Station Kotwali Dehat, District Bulandshahar by which appellant was convicted under section 376 I.P.C. and awarded 10 years rigorous imprisonment and Rs. 10,000/- fine in case default of payment of fine he will have to undergo additional imprisonment for three months.

2. As per version of first informant report, father of victim namely, Bhumesh, has lodged an F.I.R. against the appellant namely, Gautam, with allegation that on 25.5.2012 at about 2.30 p.m. when his daughter namely, Shivani, aged about 7 years, was playing near the hand-pump then at that time appellant has taken her away near trees of dates and forcefully raped her. When victim has screamed, brother of the first informant namely, Pappu, reached on the spot and saw the alleged incident. After seeing Pappu, appellant absconded from the place of occurrence.

3. On the basis of above submission, written report of the first informant, first information report was lodged on same day i.e. 25.5.2012 at 16.10 p.m. at police station Kotwali Dehat, Bulandshahar as Case Crime No. 306 of 2012 under section 376 I.P.C.

4. After lodging the F.I.R. under section 376 I.P.C., investigation of this case was entrusted to the investigating officer, Sanjay Kumar Pandey. During investigation, after recording the statement of Constable / Clerk, Investigating Officer has recorded statement of the first informant, Bhumesh, and victim, Shivani, and also entered into gist of medical examination of victim in Case Diary and on pointing out of witness, Pappu, prepared the site plan of the alleged incident. The investigating officer has arrested the appellant / accused on 26.5.2012 and after completing formalities of investigation, charge-sheet was filed on 6.6.2012 under section 376 I.P.C. before the Additional Chief Judicial Magistrate, Bulandshahar where the Additional Chief Judicial Magistrate has taken cognizance and case was committed to sessions court for trial as Sessions Trial No. 704 of 2012. This sessions trial case was transferred to learned Additional Sessions Judge, Court No. 15 for trial. Charge was framed against the appellant on 14.9.2012 under section 376 I.P.C. After framing of charge, the same was read over to the appellant and appellant denied the charge levelled against him by the trial court and claim to be tried.

5. In order to prove its case, prosecution has examined seven witnesses:-

i. PW-1, Bhumesh Kumar, father of victim has stated before the court that the appellant has committed forcefully rape upon her daughter and he proved the F.I.R. as Ex. Ka-1.

ii. PW-2 / Shivani is the victim of this case. For testing her competency, trial court asked some questions to her and after satisfying with the same, victim was examined before the court. She has stated in her statement that appellant has committed rape upon her and when she screamed, her uncle, Pappu, reached there and saw the alleged incident. Due to sexual assault blood was oozing out from internal part of her body.

iii. PW-3 / Dr. Hempratibha Sharma was examined before the court on 19.9.2015. She deposed that she has medically examined the victim on 25.5.2012 at 6.00 P.M. At the time of examination, victim, was fully conscious but there was no internal injury on any part of her body except bleeding which was continued from her private part. Hymen was torn and fresh blood was present and vaginal smear taken by doctor for confirmation of spermatozoa and she was being referred to the Chief Medical Officer for age determination. Due to internal bleeding, victim, was referred to medical college for further treatment. PW-3 has proved the medical report as Ex. Ka-2. On the basis of pathology report and X-ray report supplementary report was also prepared by this witness. As per supplementary report radiological age of victim was about 7 years and as per pathology report no spermatozoa dead or alive found on the vaginal smear of the victim. On the basis of these two reports no definite opinion about rape can be given. Supplementary report is also proved by PW-3 as Ex. Ka-3.

iv. PW-4 / Sanjay Kumar Pandey, was examined on 18.1.2016, who has investigated this case and prove the site plan as Ex. Ka-4 and during investigation he has taken blood infested pajami of victim and prepared the recovery memo and prove the same as Ex. Ka-5. After completion of the investigation, charge-sheet was filed by the investigating officer before the court as Ex. Ka-6.

v. PW-5 / Dr. Aruna Verma was examined on 25.1.2016, who has submitted original report of victim which is proved by her as Ex. Ka-6-A and Ex. Ka-7 and also proved the original report of the C.M.O. as Ex. Ka-8.

vi. PW-6 / Dr. Dinesh Kumar was examined on 19.3.2016 and he prove the x-ray report of the victim as Ex. Ka-9 and age determination report of C.M.O as Ex. Ka-10.

vii. PW-7 / C.C. 684 Mohd. Abbas was examined on 12.4.2016 and he deposed before that he prepared Chek Report No. 83/12 and prove the same as Ex. Ka-11 and also prepared the G.D. Entry and prove the same as Ex. Ka-12.

6. Apart from these witnesses two more witnesses have been examined as court witness.

i. CW-1 / Smt. Bala, was examined on 25.2.2013 and she deposed that appellant, Gautam, was her son and at the time of alleged incident, he was minor.

ii. CW-2 / Bhagwati Sharma, was examined on 15.4.2013, Head Principal of Primary Pathashala, No. 2, Village Dariyapur deposed that as per S.R. Report of appellant, his date of birth is 7.9.1998. So as per school certificate, age of victim as per alleged date of incident was about 13 years old.

7. Thus the prosecution relies on the oral evidence of PW-1 to PW-8 and documentary evidence as Ex. Ka-1 to Ka-12.

8. After completion of prosecution evidence, statement of accused-appellant was recorded under section 313 Cr.P.C. in which he deposed that false F.I.R. was lodged against him and victim as well as the first informant has falsely deposed against him before the court and he was falsely implicated in this case by the first informant due to village partibandi and enmity.

9. Learned trial court after hearing the prosecution as well as defence side convicted the accused-appellant as aforesaid.

10. Feeling aggrieved and unsatisfied by the judgement and order dated 30.8.2017 of trial court, the accused-appellant has preferred this appeal.

11. I have heard Sri R. K. Sinha, learned counsel for the appellant, the learned A.G.A. and perused the record.

12. Learned counsel for the appellant submits that there is contradiction in the first information report and statements of PW-1 and PW-2. In the F.I.R., victim has mentioned that she was playing near the hand-pamp but again victim has stated in her statement that she was playing on the boundary of Ansar. Learned counsel further submits that due to village partibandi, appellant has been falsely implicated in the abovementioned case. Learned trial court has convicted the appellant without appreciating the evidence available on record, so impugned judgment and order dated 30.8.2017, passed by trial court is perverse and liable to be set aside. Lastly, counsel for the appellant submits that he only wants to advance his submission only on quantum of sentence imposed upon appellant-accused.

13. Learned AGA on behalf of the State supported the impugned judgment and order of learned trial court and submitted that victim is a minor girl and act of the appellant is heinous in nature and trial court after appreciating all the evidence available on record, rightly convicted the appellant for the offence under section 376 I.P.C., The appellant deserves no leniency, hence appeal has no force and is liable to be dismissed.

14. Not pressing the criminal appeal after the conviction of appellant-accused by the court below is like the confession of the offence by the accused. The courts generally take lenient view in the matter of awarding sentence to an accused in criminal trial, where he voluntarily confesses his guilt, unless the facts of the case warrants severe sentence.

15. In the case of Sevaka Perumal etc. Vs. State of Tamil Nadu AIR 1991 SC 1463, the Apex Court in the matter of awarding proper sentence to the accused in a criminal trial has cautioned the Courts as under:

"Undue sympathy to impose inadequate sentence would do more harm to the justice system to undermine the public confidence in the efficacy of law and society could not long endure under such serious threats. It is, therefore, the duty of every court to award proper sentence having regard to the nature of the offence and the manner in which it was executed or committed etc."

16. In the case of Dhananjoy Chatterjee Vs. State of W. B. [1994] 2 SCC 220, this Court has observed that shockingly large number of criminals go unpunished thereby increasingly, encouraging the criminals and in the ultimate making justice suffer by weakening the system's creditability. The imposition of appropriate punishment is the manner in which the Court responds to the society's cry for justice against the criminal. Justice demands that Courts should impose punishment befitting the crime so that the Courts reflect public abhorrence of the crime. The Court must not only keep in view the rights of the criminal but also the rights of the victim of the crime and the society at large while considering the imposition of appropriate punishment. Similar view has also been expressed in Ravji v. State of Rajasthan, [1996] 2 SCC 175. It has been held in the said case that it is the nature and gravity of the crime but not the criminal, which are germane for consideration of appropriate punishment in a criminal trial. The Court will be failing in its duty if appropriate punishment is not awarded for a crime which has been committed not only against the individual victim but also against the society to which the criminal and victim belong. The punishment to be awarded for a crime must not be irrelevant but it should conform to and be consistent with the atrocity and brutality with which the crime has been perpetrated, the enormity of the crime warranting public abhorrence and it should "respond to the society's cry for justice against the criminal". If for extremely heinous crime of murder perpetrated in a very brutal manner without any provocation, most deterrent punishment is not given, the case of deterrent punishment will lose its relevance.

17. Argument in the aforesaid case was that awarding of the maximum sentence of life imprisonment to the accused who is heading towards his old age is too harsh a sentence because the accused does not fall in the category of "rare cases" and the ends of justice could be met if the sentence of accused is reduced from life imprisonment to the period already undergone.

18. Appropriate sentence is the cry of the society. It is therefore, the duty of every court to award proper sentence having regard to the nature of the offence and the manner in which it was executed or committed.

19. This position was reiterated by a three-Judge Bench of the Apex Court in Ahmed Hussein Vali Mohammed Saiyed and Anr. vs. State of Gujarat, (2009) 7 SCC 254, wherein it was observed as follows:-

"99.....The object of awarding appropriate sentence should be to protect the society and to deter the criminal from achieving the avowed object to law by imposing appropriate sentence. It is expected that the courts would operate the sentencing system so as to impose such sentence, which reflects the conscience of the society and the sentencing process has to be stern where it should be. Any liberal attitude by imposing meager sentences or taking too sympathetic view merely on account of lapse of time in respect of such offences will be result-wise counter productive in the long run and against the interest of society which needs to be cared for and strengthened by string of deterrence inbuilt in the sentencing system.

100. Justice demands that courts should impose punishment befitting the crime so that the courts reflect public abhorrence of the crime.

The court must not only keep in view the rights of the victim of the crime but the society at large also while considering the imposition of appropriate punishment. The court will be failing in its duty if appropriate punishment is not awarded for a crime which has been committed not only against the individual victim but also against the society to which both the criminal and the victim belong."

20. In Jameel vs. State of Uttar Pradesh (2010) 12 SCC 532, this Court reiterated the principle by stating that the punishment must be appropriate and proportional to the gravity of the offence committed. Speaking about the concept of sentencing, this Court observed thus:

"15. In operating the sentencing system, law should adopt the corrective machinery or deterrence based on factual matrix. By deft modulation, sentencing process be stern where it should be, and tempered with mercy where it warrants to be. The facts and given circumstances in each case, the nature of the crime, the manner in which it was planned and committed, the motive for commission of the crime, the conduct of the accused, the nature of weapons used and all other attending circumstances are relevant facts which would enter into the area of consideration.

It is the duty of every court to award proper sentence having regard to the nature of the offence and the manner in which it was executed or committed. The sentencing courts are expected to consider all relevant facts and circumstances bearing on the question of sentence and proceed to impose a sentence commensurate with the gravity of the offence."

21. In Guru Basavaraj @ Benne Settapa vs. State of Karnataka, (2012) 8 SCC 734, while discussing the concept of appropriate sentence, this Court expressed that:

"It is the duty of the court to see that appropriate sentence is imposed regard being had to the commission of the crime and its impact on the social order. The cry of the collective for justice, which includes adequate punishment cannot be lightly ignored."

22. In Gopal Singh vs. State of Uttarakhand JT 2013 (3) SC 444 held as under:-

"18. Just punishment is the collective cry of the society. While the collective cry has to be kept uppermost in the mind, simultaneously the principle of proportionality between the crime and punishment cannot be totally brushed aside. The principle of just punishment is the bedrock of sentencing in respect of a criminal offence….."

23. It is not disputed that the accused is continuously in jail since 26.5.2012 and the occurrence is said to have taken place on 25.5.2012. Appellant is languishing in jail about 9 years. Keeping the accused in jail since long would not serve any purpose.

24. Thus, considering the law laid down by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the above mentioned case and the facts and circumstances of this case, in my opinion, that the appellant-accused serve out about 9 years rigorous imprisonment as awarded by sessions court so end of justice would be met if the imprisonment of the appellant-accused under Section 376 IPC for period has already been undergone in jail without reducing the amount of fine imposed by the trial Court upon the accused-appellant.

25. In view of the aforesaid reasons, the appeal is partly allowed. The conviction of appellant-accused under section 376 I.P.C. is confirmed but the rigorous imprisonment of 10 years reduced to period already undergone by the appellant-accused in jail but fine clause shall be unaltered.

26. Record of this case be transmitted to the trial court for necessary compliance.

vi. Incised wound 5cm X 2cm X muscle deep on left side back of chest, 10cm below injury no.5.

vii. Incised wound 8cm X 3cm X muscle deep on back right side chest, 7cm below inferior angle of right scapula.

In internal examination both lungs were pale, right chamber of heart contains blood, peritoneum was lacerated and one litre blood was present, stomach was empty, in small intestine and large intestine gases and fecal matters were present, gallbladder was full and lever was lacerated and pale, spleen and kidneys were pale.

In the opinion of doctor, death was due to shock and haemorrhage, as a result of injuries sustained and duration was about half day.

Both postmortems were done under artificial light by the order of ADM (F) and CMS, SBD Hospital, Saharanpur.

10. The prosecution case is based on direct evidence and two eye witnesses Furkan (P.W.-1) and Abdul Qadir (P.W.-2) have been produced by the prosecution. Furkan (P.W.1) is also the complainant while P.W.-2 is injured, they are also brothers of the deceased Nasir and Kabir and hence related witnesses. The examination in chief of Furkan (P.W.-1) has been recorded twice, first on 07.01.2008 and thereafter on 16.04.2008 when the case of co-accused Islam was consolidated but later on it was separated and sent to Juvenile Justice Board. In examination in chief recorded on 16.04.2008 the witness has said that the incident is about two years and six months before. It was 7:00 pm when he was coming out of the Mosque after offering Namaz; Kabir, Qadir, Nasir and his father Rashid were also with him, when we came out the accused-persons namely Sayeed, Zahid, Islam and Israr armed with knives/Chhuri were standing there and said that none of them should go alive and all the accused persons attacked Kabir and Nasir with knives and Chhuri. When Qadir came to rescue them, they also stabbed him with knife on his upper part of the neck. Accused also chased him but he ran away. In this attack Kabir, Nasir and Qadir received injuries, and he, his father and other persons of the village carried the injured persons to the hospital where doctor declared Nasir and Kabir dead while Abdul Qadir was admitted in the hospital and medically examined. At the place of occurrence, there was electric light. The witness has further stated that he got the report of the said incident written by Killan Saheb (Advocate) in the hospital and lodged the report at police station. The witness has proved the Tehrir marked as Ex.Ka-1.Witness has further stated that panic prevailed in village due to this incident.

11. Abdul Qadir (P.W.-2) in his examination in chief has also supported the prosecution case and said that the incident took place about three years ago. It was 7:00 pm when he along with his brothers Kabir, Nasir, Furkan and father Rashid were coming out from the Mosque after offering Namaz. This Mosque is near his house. The accused-persons Zahid, Sayeed, Islam and Israr met outside the Mosque, they were armed with knives/ Chhuri and with the intention to kill, they attacked them with the aforesaid weapons because of which he, Kabir and Nasir received injuries. There was electric light at the place of occurrence. The incident was also seen by his brother Furkan and father. The other persons ran away barefooted and there was a state of panic in the village. After inflicting injuries the accused-persons ran away. After the incident we were brought to District Hospital, Saharanpur by our father and Samir, Naseem, Furkan where he was medically examined and admitted in the hospital. Nasir and Kabir were declared dead. The report of this incident was lodged by his brother. He was admitted in the hospital for eight days, where he got treatment.

12. Learned counsel for the appellants contended that both the public witnesses Furkan (P.W.-1) and Abdul Qadir (P.W.-2) are real brothers and also the brothers of the deceased and, therefore, related and interested witness. There is no independent witness of the incident. Even in the FIR no independent public witness has been named while the place of occurrence is a public place and it has come in the evidence that people after offering prayers were coming out from the Mosque. The Imam of the Masque was also present and seen the alleged incident. There is one tea-shop in the southern side of the Mosque where people remain till 8:30 - 9:00 pm and there is also a factory where people work till 8:00 - 8:30 pm. Learned counsel further contended that the presence of Furkan (P.W.-1), is highly doubtful as he has admitted in his cross-examination that he lives in another house which is in other village Ramzanpura situated at a distance of about 1- k.m. from the place of occurrence. It is also in the evidence that there is another Mosque in the village Ramzanpura which is near the house of witness Furkan (P.W.-1) so it is unnatural and improbable that he should have come to the Mosque of village Rasoolpur for offering Namaz. It is further contended that he has not received any injury and further in the medico- legal report of Abdul Qadir, the name of Sameer is mentioned as the person who brought the injured to the hospital, the name of Furkan (P.W.-1) is not there which also creates serious doubts about the presence of this witness at the time of incident. The learned counsel further contended that P.W.-2 Abdul Qadir has denied that evenings prayer (Maghrib Namaz) in all Mosques is offered simultaneously and has said that it is offered with time difference of 15 minutes which is totally incorrect and this false statement has been intentionally made just to show the presence of Furkan (P.W.-1) at the time of incident.

Learned A.G.A., on the other hand contended that the house of Furkan (P.W.-1) is only 100 meters away from the place of occurrence, just south to the road. The Mosque situated at village Rasoolpur is nearer to his house while it has come in the evidence that the other Mosque situated at village Ramzanpura was under construction at the time of the incident. Both the witnesses Furkan and Kabir have fully supported the prosecution version and there is consistency in their statements. Except some minor discrepancies, there is no other major discrepancy or contradiction which creates doubts on their presence or makes them untrustworthy. Further Abdul Qadir is also an injured witness and his presence at the place of occurrence in no way can be doubted.

It is a settled principle of law that the oral testimony of a witness cannot be discarded or ignored merely on the ground that he is an interested witness or a related witness. What is required is cautious approach in scrutiny and appreciation of his oral statement. Both the witnesses have supported the prosecution case and corroborated the allegation of FIR regarding genesis of occurrence, manner of assault, date, time and place of occurrence and nature of injuries. Their oral testimony got fully corroborated by medical evidence and there is no contradiction between the two. According to medical evidence both the deceased have suffered incised wounds, and injured Kabir has also suffered one incised wound on the back of his neck. The date and time of the incident is also corroborated from the medical evidence as the doctor has opined that said injuries can be caused on 09.09.2005 at 7:00 pm with knife/ chhuri and the injuries of the deceased Nasir and Kabir were sufficient in the ordinary course of nature to cause death. The two witnesses Furkan (P.W.-1) and Abdul Qadir (P.W.-2) have been put at lengthy cross-examination by the defence to test their trustworthiness but there is no major discrepancy or contradiction in their statements which creates any kind of doubt or suspicion about their presence and seeing of occurrence. From the evidence on record it is established that incident has occurred in a very daring and gruesome manner. The complainant and his brother when they came out from the Mosque were suddenly attacked by the accused-persons holdings knives/ Chhuries chased in the public way and were inflicted knives blow on vital parts of their body. So it was natural and probable that the persons present there, out of fear have escaped to save their lives and in this situation, it is not expected that anyone would have dared to come forward. Further the injured/ deceased and accused are resident of the same village and are also neighbourers. Considering all these facts and situation, production of independent public witnesses cannot be insisted and only on this ground the cogent and consistent oral testimony of eye witness and injured witness cannot be discarded. It has come in evidence that Qadir, Nasir and Kabir all these injured were carried to hospital by complainant, his father, Sameer and other villagers. It is also clear from evidence on record that Nasir and Kabir were seriously injured and ultimately succumbed to their injuries. It is probable that complainant may be with his seriously injured brothers and Qadir whose injury was not so serious was accompanying Sameer at the time of his medical examination so his name was recorded as the person who brought the injured. The presence of complainant Furkan at the place of occurrence cannot be doubted on this ground.

13. Learned counsel for the appellants further contended that prosecution is not clear about the place of occurrence and according to prosecution initially the incident has occurred at one place then prosecution developed its case and said that it occurred at two places and lastly it was said that incident has also occurred inside the house. Learned counsel submitted that the witnesses in their oral testimony has not supported the allegations of FIR in this respect. No witness has supported this allegations of the FIR that accused entered into their house and female members ran outside towards the forest to save their lives, so there is utter confusion and major discrepancy in prosecution case regarding place of occurrence. Learned counsel further contended that Investigating Officer has also collected blood from only one place while it has come in the evidence that one of the deceased fell near the entrance of the Mosque and the other fell outside the door of his house, so the place of occurrence is not established.

According to site plan Ex.Ka-18, the house of the injured/ deceased is in north-west of the Mosque with Southern entrance, 44 paces away from the eastern entrance of the Mosque and there is a Rasta in between. From the evidence on record, it is clear that the incident started at the southern entrance of the Mosque. Accused-attacked the complainant and his brothers with knives/ chhuries when they came out from the Mosque chased them and inflicted knives blow. One of the injured fell down near the southern entrance of the Mosque while the other fell down near the main door of his house. The third one received injury on his neck while trying to rescue his brothers and complainant saved himself by running away. The two places where deceased fell down have been shown by the letters- "A' & "B' in the site plan and the Investigating Officer collected the blood stained and plain soil from both these two places which is mentioned in the site plan itself. So the place of occurrence is clear from the evidence on record and there is no doubt about it. It also established that one deceased fell just outside main entrance of his house, so it is natural and probable that family members may have come outside. The allegation that accused entered into the house and female members ran towards the forest may be exaggeration but this does not create any kind of doubt about the place of occurrence or the manner in which incident has occurred. It is clearly established from the evidence on record that the incident has started at the eastern entrance of the mosque and culminated at the door of the house of injured/ deceased in an area of about 44 paces.

Learned counsel for the appellants also disputed the place of occurrence submitting that HCP- Sunil Kumar (P.W.-6) who is Head Moharir and writer of Chick and GD of crime no.448/05 under Section 307 and 302 IPC, in his cross-examination has said that:-

"ये बात सही है कि इस घटना के सिलसिले में थाना जनकपुरी से भी सूचना आई थी जिसका उल्लेख GD की रपट नं० 51 पर किया गया है।"

On the aforesaid, the learned counsel tried to build up the argument that there was no occasion of receiving any information from another police station about this incident and it clearly indicates that the incident has occurred at some other place.

P.W.-6 has stated that some information was also received from police station- Janakpuri regarding this incident which was mentioned in the GD No.51 but it is not clear from his statement what that information was. The copy of the said GD is also not on record to make it clear. It also appears that at the time of cross-examination, the original GD was brought by the witness and after its perusal, he has made this statement. If this information was of such a nature which was creating any doubt about place of occurrence, it was on the part of the defence to bring it on record. It appears that the defence counsel has very intelligently cross-examined the witness and knowingly and willingly left it unexplained just to create a doubt. On the aforesaid statement which is not clear about the kind of information, no inference can be drawn that the place of occurrence is somewhere else. It creates no suspicion about the place of occurrence. It also appears from the material on record that after the incident, the situation became tense in the village, so there is probability that some instructions may be given by the higher authorities regarding law and order and the information referred to in the statement of the witness may be related to it.

14. Learned counsel for the appellants further contended that the injury of P.W.-2 Abdul Qadir is simple in nature and fabricated, just to make him an injured witness. This injury may be self inflicted, so no reliance can be placed on the oral testimony of P.W.-2 Abdul Qadir only for the reason that he is an injured witness. Learned counsel further submitted that P.W.-2 Abdul Qadir in his cross examination has also stated that Israr was arrested on spot by the police. He was taken away by the police with knife while according to the statement of Investigating Officer- Vijay Kumar Yadav (P.W.-5) Israr was arrested on 11.09.2005. Learned counsel submitted that it is a major contradiction affecting the reliability of the witness.

According to medical evidence Abdul Qadir (P.W.-2) has received one incised wound 3 cm x 1 cm x muscle deep on left side of head behind left ear. He was medically examined just after the incident at 10:00 pm at District Hospital. In medical examination fresh blood was present. In the opinion of the doctor the injury was caused by sharp object and duration was fresh. The injury although simple but it is on the vital part of the body, so it cannot be self inflicted or fabricated. It is true that there is discrepancy in the statement of the witness about the arrest of accused- Israr on the spot. This part of the statement may be untrue and exaggeration but his remaining oral testimony is consistent and there is no other major discrepancy. It is settled principle of law that a witness cannot be totally disbelieved merely because there is some false statement in his testimony. The entire oral testimony is to be appreciated as a whole and only then any conclusion about his trustworthiness can be drawn. So merely on the basis of one incorrect statement, the entire oral testimony of P.W.-2 cannot be brushed aside. P.W.-2 Abdul Qadir is an injured witness so due credence needs to be accorded to his testimony. In the case of Abdul Sayeed vs. State of M.P., (2010) 10 SCC 259 Hon'ble Apex Court has held as under:

"28. The question of the weight to be attached to the evidence of a witness that was himself injured in the course of the occurrence has been extensively discussed by this Court. Where a witness to the occurrence has himself been injured in the incident, the testimony of such a witness is generally considered to be very reliable, as he is a witness that comes with a built-in guarantee of his presence at the scene of the crime and is unlikely to spare his actual assailant(s) in order to falsely implicate someone. "Convincing evidence is required to discredit an injured witness."

And a similar view in the case of Jarnail Singh vs. State of Punjab, (2009) 9 SCC 719, has been taken in the Hon'ble Apex Court with following observations:

"28. Darshan Singh (PW 4) was an injured witness. He had been examined by the doctor. His testimony could not be brushed aside lightly. He had given full details of the incident as he was present at the time when the assailants reached the tubewell. In Shivalingappa Kallayanappa v. State of Karnataka [1994 Supp (3) SCC 235 : 1994 SCC (Cri) 1694] this Court has held that the deposition of the injured witness should be relied upon unless there are strong grounds for rejection of his evidence on the basis of major contradictions and discrepancies, for the reason that his presence on the scene stands established in case it is proved that he suffered the injury during the said incident.

29. In State of U.P. v. Kishan Chand [(2004) 7 SCC 629 : 2004 SCC (Cri) 2021] a similar view has been reiterated observing that the testimony of a stamped witness has its own relevance and efficacy. The fact that the witness sustained injuries at the time and place of occurrence, lends support to his testimony that he was present during the occurrence. In case the injured witness is subjected to lengthy cross-examination and nothing can be elicited to discard his testimony, it should be relied upon (vide Krishan v. State of Haryana [(2006) 12 SCC 459 : (2007) 2 SCC (Cri) 214]). Thus, we are of the considered opinion that evidence of Darshan Singh (PW 4) has rightly been relied upon by the courts below."

In the case of Baleshwar Mahto vs. State of Bihar, (2017) 2 SCC (crl.26), the Hon'ble Apex Court relying on the above case laws held as under:

30. The law on the point can be summarised to the effect that the testimony of the injured witness is accorded a special status in law. This is as a consequence of the fact that the injury to the witness is an inbuilt guarantee of his presence at the scene of the crime and because the witness will not want to let his actual assailant go unpunished merely to falsely implicate a third party for the commission of the offence. Thus, the deposition of the injured witness should be relied upon unless there are strong grounds for rejection of his evidence on the basis of major contradictions and discrepancies therein."

15. Learned counsel for the appellants also contended that the incident is of night and the Investigating Officer (P.W.-5) Vijay Kumar Yadav in his cross examination has admitted that he has not shown any bulb outside the Mosque in the site plan. So the source of light is not established. It is true that in the site plan the Investigating Officer has not shown the place where electric bulb was on but all the witnesses in their oral evidence has said that there was electric light in which they have seen the occurrence. Further the place of occurrence is in abadi, the accused-persons and the witnesses are also neighbours so the identity of the accused cannot be doubted and the omission on part of the Investigating Officer to show the place of electric bulb in the site plan will not create any suspicion about the identity of the accused. The identity of the accused is fully established.

16. Learned counsel for the appellants further contended that the FIR is written by an Advocate in presence and with connivance of local Pradhan who is against the accused-persons. The FIR is prepared after due deliberation and consultation, there is chance of false implication and hence no reliance can be placed on it.

FIR is prompt. Informant Furkan (P.W.-1) while proving it has confirmed that it was written at his instance by the scribe. The presence of Pradhan at hospital is natural and probable being head of the village. There is no material on record to suggest that Pradhan is inimical to the accused. There is also no evidence of any previous enmity between the parties, so merely because the scribe is an Advocate, it cannot be presumed that report has been manipulated to frame innocent persons. False implication of accused-persons sparing the real assailants of such an incident of double murder is highly improbable in the circumstances. The accused have also failed to give any reason of their false implication.

17. Learned counsel for the appellants further contended that the FIR and other papers are ante-time. The Investigating Officer- Vijay Kumar Yadav (P.W.-5) has admitted that in Ex.Ka-10 and Ex.Ka-11 unknown is written in column of time of the incident and time of death, in the inquest report only crime number and sections are written and other particulars are not mentioned. Dr. R.K. Gupta (P.W.-4) who has conducted the postmortem examination of the deceased has admitted that at the time of post-mortem FIR was not before him. Constable- Harendra Singh (P.W.-10) who has brought the dead bodies for post-mortem examination has said that he handed over the dead bodies to the doctor on next day at 11:00 am. The inquest report has been prepared by S.I. Adarsh Tyagi but his signatures are not there on the papers. All these clearly establishes that at the time of inquest proceedings and even at the time of post-mortem, FIR was not registered. It has been registered later, ante timing it and other papers prepared are also ante timed.

Learned AGA submitted that crime number, sections and other particulars relating to time etc, duly proper filled in every column of the inquest report. So FIR was very much in existence at the time of inquest proceedings and it is not ante-timed. Learned AGA further submitted that merely signature of CO does not bear any date or FIR has been sent to the concerned magistrate with some delay, it cannot be said that FIR is ante-timed. He placed reliance on Rajesh Singh vs. State of U.P., (2011) 11 SCC (page-144). The Hon'ble Apex Court in the aforesaid case in para no.12, 13 & 14 has made following observations:

"12. The first such finding by the trial Court was that the FIR was ante-timed on the ground that as per the evidence of Chandra Shekhar Yadav (PW-4), the investigating officer, the dead body of deceased Deepak was dispatched from the spot after being sealed at 9 p.m. for the police lines. However, in the record of the police lines, it was shown to have received at 10 a.m. on 12.4.1993. The FIR was also criticized by the trial Court and the defence counsel here on the ground that there was no evidence offered by the prosecution to suggest that the special report of the crime was sent to the higher authorities.

13. The High Court has found that this criticism was not justified. The High Court has given the reasoning that the FIR was lodged by the witness Virendra Kumar (PW-1) on 11.4.93 itself at 6.40 p.m. Thus, if the incident happened at about 5 O'Clock in the evening, the recording of the FIR at 6.40 p.m. in a police station which was 8 Kms. away from the spot of occurrence could not be said to be late reporting. The High Court has also relied upon the evidence of Chandra Shekhar Yadav (PW-4) that the FIR had been lodged in the police station when he was not present there and he was informed about it only on wireless and, therefore, he happened to reach the spot directly with ASI and started the investigation of the case and was busy there in drawing of Panchnama etc. right up to 11 p.m. and merely because the copy of FIR was received in the office of the circular officer on 13.4.1993, it should not lead to the conclusion that the FIR was ante-timed. The High Court has also found that if the dead body reached the police lines late at mid night and if it was shown in the record that it was received at 10 a.m. on 12.4.93, there was nothing significantly doubtful.

14. We have also gone through the record as well as the evidence of the investigating officer Chandra Shekhar Yadav (PW-4) and though the timing is slightly irregular, that alone would not be sufficient to reach a conclusion that the FIR was ante-timed. After all nothing was going to be gained by the prosecution by ante-timing the FIR. Had the FIR been ante-timed, the Panchnama could not have been commenced at 7.30 p.m. We do not find any significant cross examination of the Panchas and the police officers, particularly, on the aspect of timing thereof. We do not find this circumstance to be of such a nature so as to throw the whole prosecution story which was proved by two eye witnesses, one of them being the father of the boy."

In inquest report, case crime number and sections are mentioned and all other columns of date time is properly filled. If some particulars are lacking or there are some omissions on related papers, only on this basis it cannot be inferred that at the time of the inquest, FIR was not in existence. It shows only lapse on part of the Investigating Officer and Officer who prepared the inquest report. S.I. Vijay Kumar Yadav (P.W.-5) has said that inquest report was prepared by S.I. Adarsh Tyagi under his direction, he has also proved his signatures on the inquest report. The statement of constable Harendra Singh (P.W.-10) that he handed over the dead bodies to the doctor on the next day at 11:00 am is against the documentary as well as the oral evidence on record. The postmortem Ex.Ka4 and Ex.Ka-5 and oral statement of doctor R.K. Gupta confirm that postmortem was conducted in early morning of 10.09.2005 and it is also specifically mentioned that postmortem was conducted in artificial light under the orders of ADM (F) and CMS, SBD Hospital Saharanpur. Doctor has no interest in preparing false document or giving false statement in this regard. So there is no question of handing over the bodies to the doctor for post-mortem at 11:00 am. The statement is wholly incorrect and it appears that the witness has failed to recollect it. These discrepancies will not in any way adversely affect the prosecution case and no adverse inference can be drawn on its basis about ante-timing of papers.

18. Learned counsel further contended that no timing is mentioned in the case diary, the signatures of CO on case diary is undated. It is also not clear that which parcha of case diary on which date was sent to CO. The statement of scribe Rao Killan is not recorded by the Investigating Officer. The GD is on plain paper and not on printed proforma and it contains no seal of police department and signatures of CO on it, is also undated and all these facts have been admitted by the Investigating Officer and G.D./ chik writer in his cross-examination. Learned counsel contended that Investigating Officer has manipulated the papers in his own manner which was suitable for him.

Regarding GD, it has come in evidence that printed proforma was not available, hence it was prepared on plain paper. It is a settled principle of law that defects in the investigation itself cannot be a ground for acquittal so these discrepancies or omissions will not in any way adversely affect the prosecution case. In the case of C. Muniappan and Others vs State of Tamil Nadu, (2010) 9 SCC 567 it has been held:

"Defect in the investigation by itself cannot be a ground for acquittal. Investigation is not the solitary area for judicial scrutiny in a criminal trial. Where there has been negligence on the part of the investigating agency or omissions, etc, which resulted in defective investigation, there is a legal obligation on the part of the court to examine the prosecution evidence dehors such lapses carefully to find out whether the said evidence is reliable or not and to what extent it is reliable and as to whether such lapses affected the objects of finding out the truth. The conclusion of the trial in the case cannot be allowed to depend solely on the probity of investigation."

In the case of Union of India vs. Prakash P. Hinduja and another, AIR 2003 SC 2612, it has been held:

"An error, illegality or defect in investigation cannot have any impact unless miscarriage of justice is brought about or serious prejudice is caused to the accused."

In the case of Sambhu alias Bijoy Das and another vs. State of Assam AIR 2010 SC 3300, it has been held that:

"If the prosecution case is established by the evidence adduced, any failure or omission on the part of the Investigating Officer cannot render the case of the prosecution doubtful."

19. Prosecution has also relied on another peace of evidence, the recovery of weapons (knife & chhuri) used in the incident. The Investigating Officer- SHO, Vijay Kumar Yadav (P.W.-5) has made these recoveries and in his examination in chief on this point he has said that on 14.09.2005 at 04:30 am on the information received from informer, he arrested the accused Sayeed alias Shahid and on his interrogation he disclosed that he has concealed the knife used in the incident near Kotha of Maqbool Nursery under the trees and at 06:30 a.m. at the instance of the accused, blood stained knife was recovered from the aforesaid place. The knife was sealed on the spot and the recovery memo marked as Ex.Ka-20 was prepared. The copy of the recovery memo was given to the accused and his thumb impression was obtained. He has further stated that he also prepared the site plan of the place of recovery marked at Ex.Ka-21 and has also proved the knife as material Ex.-1. The witness has further stated that on 20.09.2005 at 7:00 am, he arrested the other accused Zahid and on his interrogation he disclosed that the knife used in the alleged incident has been concealed by him near Moonji Field of Maqbool and at the instance of the accused Zahid, the said knife was recovered at 7:50 am which was sealed on the spot and recovery memo of Ex.Ka-22 was prepared. He has further stated that he prepared the site plan of the place of recovery marked as Ex.Ka-23 and has also proved the knife as material Ex.2.

Learned counsel for the appellants contended that there is no independent witness of recovery and it has been made from open public place where any person can reach without any hindrance or obstruction. The only evidence about recovery is the sole testimony of Investigating Officer, Vijay Kumar Yadav. Hence it cannot be relied.

Vijay Kumar Yadav (P.W.-5) by his oral evidence has proved the fact of recovery and there is nothing in his cross-examination which affect the reliability of the witness. Merely because he is a police person and Investigating Offcer, his oral evidence cannot be discarded. The recovered knives has been sent for chemical examination and its report also confirms that the knife recovered at the instance of accused- Zahid was stained with human blood. So the forensic report also corroborates the oral testimony of (P.W.-5) Vijay Kumar Yadav. The evidence of recovery is admissible under Section 27 of the Evidence Act.

20. Learned counsel for the appellants lastly contended that there is no motive of the incident. Neither in the FIR nor in the oral statements of the witnesses, any motive has been assigned. The Investigating Officer has tried to assign the motive through the mouth of accused themselves in their confessional statements.

In this respect, it is sufficient to say that it is a case of direct evidence where eye witness account of the incident has been produced by the prosecution, the motive is immaterial. It is a settled principle of law that in case of direct evidence, motive becomes irrelevant but if the prosecution assigns any motive then it has to prove it. In this case prosecution has not assigned any motive, hence there is no relevance of motive.

21. The remaining witnesses are formal in nature, Constable Brahmpal Singh (P.W.-7) is chik and GD writer of crime number 453/05 under Section 4/25 and S.I. Ashok Kumar (P.W.-8) and S.I. Adesh Kumar (P.W.-9) are the Investigating Officers of cases under Section 4/25 of Arms Act. The aforesaid witnesses have proved the papers and the proceedings conducted by them.

22. The oral testimony of accused informant/ eye witness Furkan (P.W.-1) and injured witness Abdul Qadir (P.W.-2) is reliable, both these witnesses have supported the prosecution case and have corroborated the FIR version and their oral testimony is fully corroborated by medical evidence and there is no contradiction between the two. The eye witness account of the incident produced by the prosecution is reliable and trustworthy and also gets support from the medical evidence. The weapons used in the incident have been recovered at the instance of the accused and recovery is also proved which further corroborates the prosecution case. So from evidence on record the prosecution case stands proved. There is no perversity or illegality in the findings recorded by the trial court. The findings of conviction recorded by trial court are liable to be upheld. The sentence awarded is also appropriate and needs no interference. This criminal appeal is liable to be dismissed.

22. According, the criminal appeal is hereby dismissed.

23. Copy of this judgment along with lower court record be transmitted to the learned trial court immediately.

3. By means of this application, applicant-Jasman Singh alias Pappu Yadav, who is involved in Case Crime No. 30 of 2019, under sections 323, 376(2)(1), 452 and 506 IPC, and section 3/4 of Protection of Children From Sexual Offences Act, police station Jakhaura, district Lalitpur, seeks enlargement on bail during the pendency of trial.

4. As per prosecution case, in brief, Smt. Kalawati, the informant, who is aunt of the victim lodged first information report on 17.02.2019 at 1.15 hours in respect of incident, which took place on 16.02.2019 at 16.30 hours against the applicant alleging inter alia therein that on 16.02.2019 at about 4.30 p.m. the victim, aged about 13 years, who after the death of her mother residing with the informant, was alone in the house for doing some house-hold work and all the family members had gone to agricultural field for cutting fodder. The applicant taking the advantage of the situation, forcibly entered into the house of the informant and threatening to kill the victim, she was dragged to inside the room by grabbing her hair, and forcibly committed rape upon the victim. At that time, suddenly the informant, her son Rohit and one Magan came to the house and knocked the door, but when they entered the house, they saw the victim lying unconscious in a naked condition and the applicant tried to fled away by climbing the wall, but he was caught hold by Rohit, Magan Vishwakarma, Arjun and Madhav alias Chotu at the spot. When the victim gain consciousness, she narrated the whole incident. Thereafter, the police was informed about the incident on phone by the family members of the informant, on which the applicant was arrested by the police from the house of the informant.

5. It is argued by the learned counsel for the applicant that there was love affair between the victim and the applicant. She herself called the applicant, but he was caught hold by the family members of the victim. It is also submitted by the learned counsel for the applicant that there is also dispute between the informant and the applicant regarding the land, therefore, the applicant has been falsely implicated in the present case, averment in this regard has been mentioned in paragraph 14 of the bail application. It is also submitted that the applicant has no criminal antecedent to his credit and is facing detention since 16.02.2019. It is next contended that there is no chance of the applicant of fleeing away from the judicial process or tampering with the prosecution evidence. Learned counsel for the applicant lastly submitted that if the applicant is released on bail, he will not misuse the liberty of bail and will cooperate in the early disposal of the case.

6. Per contra, learned Additional Government Advocate has opposed the bail prayer of the applicant by contending that as per medical examination report, the victim is minor child, aged about 13 years. The applicant has committed rape upon the victim in her own house and he was apprehended by the family members of the victim at the spot. It is also submitted that the victim in her statement under section 164 Cr.P.C. has made allegation of committing rape upon her forcibly by the applicant and also supported the prosecution case. It is next submitted by learned A.G.A. that the applicant has a criminal history of six cases, as mentioned in bail rejection order of the applicant dated 23.10.2020, but in paragraph 19 of the bail application, it is mentioned that the applicant has no criminal history.

7. After having heard the arguments of learned counsel for the parties, this Court finds that the applicant has a criminal history of six cases as mentioned in bail rejection order of applicant dated 23.10.2020, but in paragraph 19 of the bail application it is mentioned that the applicant has no criminal history, as such the applicant has not come with clean hands before this Court and suppressed his criminal history. In paragraph 14 of the bail application, it is mentioned that there is dispute between the applicant and informant regarding the land, but no material in this regard has been brought on record. The victim, aged about 13 years, is studying in fifth standard. According to medical examination report of the victim, all epiphysis are not fused. In the opinion of the doctor, who conducted the medical examination of the victim, sign of violence seen and sexual violence cannot be ruled out. The offence of committing rape upon a minor child is heinous in nature.

8. In view of judgment of Hon'ble the Apex Court in the case of Neeru Yadav vs. State of U.P. (2015) 3 SCC 527, criminal antecedents of the accused cannot be ignored while deciding bail application, discretionary powers of Courts to grant bail must be exercised in a judicious manner in case of a habitual offender. The said judgement has been further followed in a recent judgment of Apex Court in the case of Sudha Singh vs. State of U.P. and another, 2021 (4) SCC 781.

9. In this case, a small innocent girl has been raped, who does not understand its meaning. Little girls are worshiped in our country, but the cases of pedophilia are increasing. Rape is a heinous crime. The victim suffers from psychological effects of embarrassment, disgust, depression, guilt and even suicidal tendencies. Many cases go unreported. In almost rape cases, the victim was unwilling to report the name of the abuser. The families of the victim remain silent about the sexual offences in order to protect the family image. The victim/female small child experience sexual abuse once tend to be more vulnerable to abuse in adult life. Healing is slow and systematic. In such a situation, if the right decision is not taken from the Court at the right time, then the trust of a victim/common man will not be left in the judicial system. This is the time to strictly stop this kind of crime.

10. Considering the facts and circumstances of the case, submissions advanced on behalf of parties, gravity of the offence and severity of the punishment, I do not find any good ground to grant bail to the applicant.

11. Accordingly, the bail application is rejected.

12. However, it is clarified that the observation, if any, made here-in above shall be strictly confined to the disposal of the bail application and must not be construed to have any reflection on the ultimate merits of the case.

13. Office is directed to send a copy of this order to the informant of this case within two weeks.

14. It is directed that in case, certified copy of this order is not issued due to COVID-19 pandemic, the copy of the order downloaded from the official website of the Allahabad High Court shall be acted upon.

Crl. Misc. Anticipatory Bail Application No. 9323 of 2021

State of U.P. & Anr. ...Opposite Parties

Counsel for the Applicants:
Sri Rajesh Mishra, Sri Akhilesh Chandra Shukla

Counsel for the Opposite Parties:
A.G.A., Sri Amit Daga, Sri Namman Raj Vanshi, Sri Onkar Singh, Sri Sachin Malik, Sri Vipul Shukla

A. Anticipatory Bail - The Court rejected the anticipatory bail application on finding that offence committed prima facie is found to be intentional, for the reason that the first information report contains specially the very cell phone number by which the victim/ deceased was called at the house of the applicant where he was beaten as a result of which he sustained injuries, and 'septicemia' developed during the course of the treatment. At last, he succumbed to his injuries. 'Septicemia' has direct nexus with the injury caused to the deceased. (Para 20-22)

Bail Application Rejected. (E-10)

List of Cases cited:

1. St. of Telangana Vs Habib Abdullah Jeelani (2017) 2 SCC 779

2. M/s Neeharika Infrastructure Pvt. Ltd. Vs St. of Mah. & ors. LL 2021 SC 211

(Delivered by Hon'ble Arvind Kumar Mishra - I, J.)

1. Learned counsel for the applicants does not want to press this application in respect of applicant no.2- Devesh Dixit because he is minor aged about six years. Therefore, his anticipatory bail application may be dismissed as not pressed.

2. Accordingly, this Criminal Miscellaneous Anticipatory Bail Application in respect of applicant no.2- Devesh Dixit is dismissed as not pressed.

3. Heard Sri. Akhilesh Chandra Shukla, learned counsel for the applicant no.1- Smt. Anita Sharma, Sri Amit Daga and Sri Namman Raj Vanshi, learned counsels for the informant, learned A.G.A. for the State and perused the record.

4. This anticipatory bail application has been filed on behalf of the applicant no.1 - Smt. Anita Sharma, seeking anticipatory bail in Case Crime No.30 of 2021, under Sections - 147, 148, 302, 504, 506, 394 I.P.C., Police Station - Paratapur, District - Meerut, during the pendency of trial.

5. At the outset, objection was raised by Sri Amit Daga, learned counsel for the informant that the present case is barred by Section ? 438 (6) Cr.P.C. as the offence inter-alia, is under Section ? 302 I.P.C., therefore, it is not cognizable by this Court.

6. At this stage, learned counsel for the applicant has submitted that he has filed supplementary affidavit but the same is not on record, however, office copy of supplementary affidavit dated 29.06.2021 supplied in Court is taken on record. Learned A.G.A. assented to the receipt of the supplementary affidavit given by the counsel for the applicant.

7. Learned counsel for the applicant has placed reliance on the observation of the division Bench of this Court in Criminal Misc. Writ petition No. 3194 of 2021, copy whereof is at Page Nos. 8 and 9 in the supplementary affidavit, wherein the prayer for quashment of the first information report was refused on 12.05.2021. However, certain observation was made in the last paragraph of the aforesaid order that the deceased died out of 'septicemia', therefore, prima facie provisions of Section 302 I.P.C. will not be attracted in this case, whereas, Section - 304 I.P.C. Hence, the bar in filing anticipatory bail application would not come in the way of the petitioner-applicant and it may be treated to be a case under Section - 304 I.P.C. That being the position, this anticipatory bail application, apart from its merit, just for the sake of aforesaid observation be entertained, as such. Now, the merit of this claim is to be gone into at this stage.

8. Before proceeding further in this case, it would be relevant to take note of the fact (as alleged in the F.I.R.) - the very genesis of the F.I.R. registered against the applicant. Bare perusal of the F.I.R. itself is reflective of fact that as per the version contained in the first information report, a call was given to the informant on the cell phone no.9997699155 on 12.01.2021 at about 3:00 a.m. by accused Dr. Pradeep son of Beg Raj by his cell phone no.9358672920, the informant (father of the victim-Akash) reached the house of the applicant, whereupon he saw Dr. Pradeep and his wife and his son assaulting Vikas alias Akash aged about 18 years by lathi, danda and iron rod. Apart from that, they were also abusing him. The informant rushed to the spot and tried to save his son. When the informant asked to know about the matter, then he too was abused and threatened by the accused persons. The informant took his son to the hospital whose condition was serious. It has been alleged in the F.I.R. that the treatment is underway but the injured is serious. As per the version contained in the F.I.R., it appears that the informant Richhpal son of Ram Sharan handed over the report to the police on 13.01.2021, whereupon the F.I.R. was registered at Case Crime No. 30 of 2021, under Sections ? 323, 504, 307, 352, 506, 325 I.P.C. on 16.01.2021. Lastly, the injured died on 29.01.2021, therefore, Sections - 302 and 394 I.P.C. were added against the accused during investigation.

9. Learned counsel for the applicant has placed reliance on the statement of the informant, which has been brought on record, copy whereof is annexed as Annexure No. S.A.-2 to the supplementary affidavit filed in support of this application and claimed that the prosecution story has been changed, therefore, the same is full of embelishment and improved one.

10. Now, insofar as the observation of the Hon'ble Division Bench of this Court is concerned as above, it is noticeable that there is no such direction that in all eventualities, the application should and must be treated to be the one under Section ? 304 I.P.C. but insofar as the facts of this case and the contents of the F.I.R. are concerned, there is no denial of fact that the deceased was called on the cell phone by one of the accused, Dr. Pradeep - the husband of the applicant by using his mobile.

11. Submission of learned counsel for the applicant is to the ambit that the first information report lodged against the applicant on 16.01.2021 is belated, whereas, the incident took place at 3:00 a.m. on 12.01.2021, therefore, the first information report itself speaks about high deliberation between the police and the informant. Further learned counsel for the applicant claimed that assuming it to be that the deceased came to the house of the applicant to commit robbery and in such situation the right to private defence can be exercised by the applicant, which she in fact did. No point that death of the victim was ever intended. Insofar as the allegation contained in the first information report is concerned, there is whisper of the applicant being present at her home. If the F.I.R. is believed to be true, then the statement of the informant recorded under Section ? 161 Cr.P.C. becomes different version of the incident, wherein other persons are also involved in the commission of the crime. The emphasis was laid that the deceased entered into the house of the applicant at 3:00 a.m. with the intention to commit robbery and that way right to private defence accrued and exercised, otherwise there was no motive to commit the offence as such, either to cause any fatal injury to the deceased or to intend his death. There is no injury report of the sort, as such.

12. Per contra, opposing the aforesaid contention of the learned counsel for the applicant, Sri Amit Daga, learned counsel for the informant reiterated his stand raised in the form of objection that the anticipatory bail application is not maintainable. Further, he submitted that so far as the observation of the division Bench of this Court regarding death caused by 'septicemia' is concerned, the same does not, out and out, reject allegation of the F.I.R. and does not negate the circumstances and facts of this case, which spell out and bring this case within the purview of Section ? 302 I.P.C., therefore, the bar raised under Section ? 438 (6) Cr.P.C. is very much applicable to this case.

13. Learned A.G.A. has contended that time and again the victim was asked to give statement but he was not in fit physical condition to make any statement which also goes to prove severity and magnitude of hard beating given to the victim by the applicant and the inmates of her family.

14. Also considered the rival submissions and perused the record.

15. Bare perusal of the material available on record shows that the incident in question took place on 12.01.2021 at 3:00 a.m., whereas, the deceased was taken to the hospital by the informant, where he was given treatment and after few days, he died on 29.01.2021. The post mortem examination was conducted the very same day. In the post mortem examination report, injury in the form of abrasion ad-measuring 4 cm x 1.5 cm present on the left side of parietal skull and it was stated to be old one and the cause of death was shown to be 'septicemia'.

16. Now, the point of injury being caused cannot be scrutinized vastly on its merit, however, it is obvious that call was given by the cell phone of the applicant's husband, only when the deceased came to the house of the applicant. Then, how can it be claimed that the deceased entered into the house of the applicant for committing robbery when he was called by one of the co-accused by using cell phone. However, the death is admittedly caused due to 'septicemia' as shown in the post mortem examination report but that particular aspect needs to be scrutinized by the trial court concerned itself while the applicant faces trial, for the specific reason that the seat of assault was on the left skull of the deceased.

17. At this stage to opine that this case is not covered under Section- 302 I.P.C. would be an oversight as the entire merit of the case cannot be scanned by this Court. The jurisdiction of this Court is confined only to the extent of scrutiny within the four corners of Section - 438 Cr.P.C. and not beyond that. Bare perusal of the F.I.R., the attendant facts and circumstances of the case and the statement on record should alone be taken into account. The assault was allegedly caused on the left parietal skull and the deceased was called by using the cell phone of the husband of the applicant. Admittedly, it is not a case that the applicant-wife of Dr. Pradeep was not present inside the house at that point of time, when the incident occurred.

18. Insofar as the facts of this case are concerned, in the light of various citations namely the State of Telangana Vs. Habib Abdullah Jeelani (2017) 2 SCC 779 and M/s Neeharika Infrastructure Pvt. Ltd. Vs. State of Maharashtra and others, LL 2021 SC 211 and considering the provisions of Section 438 Cr.P.C. as recently amended by the State of U.P., it can be assumed that in this case, the incident took place on 12.01.2021, whereas, the first information report was lodged against the applicant on 16.01.2021 alleging therein that the victim was allegedly assaulted / beaten by three accused including the applicant and the victim remained under treatment for about 10 to 17 days, lastly the victim succumbed to his injury on 29.01.2021, as septicemia was said to be the cause of death in the post mortem examination report.

19. In the wake of the aforesaid fact position, the argument advanced on behalf of the applicant to the extent that this case would not be covered under Section 302 I.P.C. but at the most - the entire act alleged when taken together as a whole under facts and circumstances of the case, would amount to commission of culpable homicide not amounting to murder as defined under Section 299 I.P.C. and punishable under Section 304 I.P.C. Insofar as that argument and the contention is concerned, this Court is of the opinion that advantage should go to the applicant only for the purpose of disposal of this application under Section 438 Cr.P.C. and nothing more, though this observation should not come in the way of the trial court or the lower court concerned which would be dealing with the offence and vested with the jurisdiction to try the case and it would not be binding on the trial court as such. Therefore, for the sake of the above argument, this application is deemed to be entertained for offence under Section 304 I.P.C., as such maintainable.

20. Now the point is whether this development from 12.01.2021 to 29.01.2021 would itself entitle the applicant to interim protection under Section - 438 Cr.P.C.. In that regard, after considering the case from viewpoint of Section 438 Cr.P.C. as amended by U.P. Amendment Act, 2018 (U.P. Act 4 of 2019) it can be said that the act of the applicant was intentional. In that regard though I would not explore merits of the case at this stage but the offence committed prima facie is found to be intentional, for the reason that the first information report contains specifically the very cell phone number by which the victim / deceased was called at the house of the applicant where he was beaten as a result of which he sustained injuries, and 'septicemia' developed during course of the treatment and lastly he succumbed to his injury. Can 'septicemia' caused here be treated to be extraneous to the act of causing assault by the applicant. Certainly, the answer is in the negative.

21. Thus, 'septicemia' has direct nexus with the injury caused to the deceased.

22. In view of the above fact situation, I do not find it a fit case for leniency being shown to the applicant because the entire application is silent on the point of denial of fact, whether the mobile cell phone as the one shown to have been used for calling the victim / deceased at the place of occurrence / house of the applicant was not used, as such.

23. In view of the discussion made herein above, the prayer for anticipatory bail is refused. Accordingly, the instant anticipatory bail application is devoid of force, and the same is dismissed.

24. It is made clear that observation made in this order shall have no bearing on the merits of the case and the same is confined to the disposal of this application and the trial court will not be prejudiced by the same while deciding the case on its merit or hearing the case on charge/discharge.

In so far as the cause of death is concerned, the team of doctors was of the following opinion:-

"No definite opinion can be given. Facts and findings have been described in detail. The viscera was preserved for chemical and histopathological examination. The time since death was within 24 hours."

6. After registration of the First Information Report, the matter was under investigation by the local police, but vide order dated 09.10.1997 of the S.P. No. 22539 of 2007 (R. Rajan Vs. State of U.P. and another) in which vide order dated 13th September, 2007 the further proceedings of the said case were stayed. The said matter was heard finally on 27.08.2012 and the judgment was reserved. The judgment could not be delivered and the matter was directed to be listed for rehearing before the appropriate Bench vide order dated 14.02.2013. The interim order passed therein was directed to continue till the next date fixed.

9. The first informant Sanjay Kumar Gupta then filed a Writ Petition (Criminal) No. 8 of 2018 before the Apex Court titled as "Sanjay Kumar Gupta Vs. State of U.P. and another" in which vide order dated 23.09.2020, the Apex Court vacated the order dated 13.09.2007 passed in the said 482 Cr.P.C. petition and directed the Chief Judicial Magistrate, Varanasi to proceed with the matter in accordance with law. The writ petition was allowed. The order passed by the Apex Court is extracted herein-below:-

"The office report is that respondent No.2 has refused to accept notice and thus, is deemed to have been served.

The facts of the case make a shocking reading as the allegation is of custodial death of the father of the petitioner - Late O.P. Gupta which, as per the medical report, occurred on 01.03.1997 after his arrest from Varanasi on 28.02.1997. The case was sought to be made out as one of heart attack, but the petitioner relies upon the medical report of his father dated 21.02.1997 which shows that he had a normal cardiac condition. This also did not substantiate the fact that there were ante mortem injuries on the body. On the petitioner moving an application under Section 156(3) of the Cr.P.C., the SHO, Phoolpur, Varanasi (U.P.) was directed to register an FIR and investigate the matter.

Case Crime No.C-37/97 was lodged under Sections 364, 304 and 506 of the IPC against respondent No.2 and other police personnel. The investigation was transferred to the SIS Branch, Varanasi and the final report dated 23.10.1998 was filed by the I.O., against which the petitioner filed a protest petition, pursuant whereto the Chief Judicial Magistrate, Varanasi rejected the closure report, accepted the protest petition and consequently issued summoning orders under Sections 364, 304 and 506 IPC and non-bailable warrants against the accused persons in terms of an order dated 05.06.2007. The order records that the investigation revealed that Late O.P.Gupta has picked up from his residence by the M.P.Police without authority of law on 28.02.1997.

The aforesaid summoning order was challenged by respondent No.2 before the Allahabad High Court in Criminal Miscellaneous Application No.22539 of 2007 for stay of proceedings of the case being Case No.6497 of 2007 in which notice was issued and an interim stay order was granted on 13.09.2007. The matter has continued in that position since then for the last 13 years with the criminal proceedings stayed. In fact, at one stage, orders were reserved on the proceedings on 14.02.2013, but were again listed for rehearing on 06.03.2013, which till date has not produced results.

The issue has also arisen as respondent No.2was then in services of the State of Madhya Pradesh. The counter affidavit of respondent No.1,State of Uttar Pradesh practically supports the stand of the petitioner.

We thus, vacate the order dated 13.09.2007 passed in Criminal Miscellaneous Application No.22539 of 2007 by the Allahabad High Court and direct the Chief Judicial Magistrate, Varanasi to proceed with the matter in accordance with law.

We consider appropriate also to direct that this order be placed before the Chief Justice of the Allahabad High Court for administrative action as to why such a situation came to pass and why the trial Court order remained stayed for 13 years by an ad interim order in case of a custodial death. The Chief Justice may call upon the Registrar of the High Court to look into the matter and thereafter a report be submitted on the Administrative Side before this Court.

The writ petition is allowed in the above terms leaving parties to bear their own costs.

Needless to say, in view of this long passage of time of 13 years, the trial court will proceed with the trial almost on a day to day basis as far as possible in the given circumstances and endeavour to conclude the trial within a period of one year from its commencement.

Pending application(s) stand(s) disposed of."

10. The said 482 petition being Criminal Misc. Application (U/s 482 Cr.P.C.) No. 22539 of 2007 (R. Rajan Vs. State of U.P. and another) was connected with two other petitions being Criminal Misc. Application (U/s 482 Cr.P.C.) Nos. 24013 of 2007 (Shankhdhar Dwivedi and others Vs. State of U.P. and others) and 24145 of 2007 (Suresh Chandra Agrawal Vs. State of U.P. and another) which were disposed of vide order dated 08.10.2020 of this Court in view of the order dated 23.09.2020 of the Apex Court in Writ Petition (Crl.) No. 8 of 2018.

11. The order dated 08.10.2020 of this Court was then challenged before the Apex Court in Special Leave to Appeal (Crl.) No. 5499 of 2020 (R.Rajan Vs. State of U.P. and another) which was dismissed vide order dated 19.11.2020. The said order is extracted herein-below:-

"Despite the best persuasion of learned counsel for the petitioner, who argued at some length, we are unable to persuade ourselves to interfere with the impugned order under Article 136 of the Constitution of India in the given facts of the case.

The special leave petition is accordingly dismissed.

Pending applications shall also stand disposed of."

12. Subsequently, co-accused Jagat Singh and the present applicant Sher Ali preferred a Crl. Misc. Anticipatory Bail Application No. 7440 of 2021 (Jagat Singh and another Vs. State of U.P.) which vide order dated 06.04.2021 was allowed and it was ordered that in the event of arrest of the applicants therein they shall be released on anticipatory till the conclusion of trial subject to the conditions in the said order. The said order is extracted herein-below:-

"1. Heard learned counsel for the applicants and learned A.G.A. for the State.

2. This anticipatory bail application has been filed on behalf of the applicants - Jagat Singh and Sher Ali, seeking anticipatory bail in Case Crime No. C-37 of 1997, under Sections - 364, 304 and 506 I.P.C., Police Station - Phoolpur, District - Varanasi, during pendency of trial.

3. At the outset, it is stated that in exact similar circumstance Shankhdhar Dwivedi, the co-accused who was Sub-Inspector at the relevant time has already been granted anticipatory bail in Criminal Misc. Anticipatory Bail Application U/S 438 Cr.P.C. No. 1195 of 2021, vide order dated 03.02.2021. The other co-accused R. Rajan is also stated to have similarly enlarged on anticipatory bail in Criminal Misc. Anticipatory Bail Application U/S 438 Cr.P.C. No. 9211 of 2020, vide order dated 03.02.2021. For the reasons contained in those orders, the present applicants against whom similar allegations have been made are also entitled to similar protection.

4. In view of the above, no useful purpose would be served in keeping the present application pending or calling for counter affidavit at this stage. Without expressing any opinion on the merits of the case, the applicant is entitled to anticipatory bail in this case, at this stage.

5. In the event of arrest of the applicants - Jagat Singh and Sher Ali, involved in the aforesaid case crime, they shall be released on anticipatory bail till conclusion of the trial, on their furnishing a personal bond of Rs. 50,000/- each with two sureties of the like amount to the satisfaction of the Station House Officer of the police station concerned on the following conditions:

(i) The applicants shall make themselves available for interrogation by a police officer as and when required.

(ii) The applicants shall not, directly or indirectly, make any inducement, threat or promise to any person acquainted with the facts of the case so as to dissuade him/her from disclosing such facts to the court or to any police officer or tamper with the evidence.

(iii) The applicants shall not leave India without the previous permission of the court.

(iv) In default of any of the conditions mentioned above, the investigating officer shall be at liberty to file appropriate application for cancellation of anticipatory bail granted to the applicants.

6. Present application stands disposed of."

13. Co-accused R.Rajan had also filed Crl. Misc. Anticipatory Bail Application No. 9211 of 2020 (R. Rajan Vs. State of U.P.) and vide order dated 03.02.2021 he was also granted anticipatory bail. The said order was challenged before the Apex Court in SLP (Crl.) Nos. 1928-1929 of 2021 (Sanjay Kumar Gupta Vs. State of U.P. and another) and also the order dated 06.04.2021 passed in Crl. Misc Anticipatory Bail Application No. 7440 of 2021 was also under challenge before the Apex Court in SLP (Crl.) No. 3496 of 2021. Both the SLPs were connected together and were disposed of vide order dated 25th May, 2021. The said order is extracted herein-below:-

"SLP(Crl.)Nos. 1928-1929 of 2021

Leave granted.

In these appeals, the informant of Case Crime No. C-37 of 1997, under Sections 364, 304 and 506 IPC, Police Station - Phoolpur, District - Varanasi, has challenged the order dated 03.02.2021 passed by the High Court of Judicature at Allahabad in Criminal Miscellaneous Anticipatory Bail Application No. 1195 of 2021, granting anticipatory bail to the respondent No. 2-Shankhdhar Dwivedi in SLP(Crl.) No. 1928 of 2021; and another order of even date by the High Court in Criminal Signature Not Verified Miscellaneous Anticipatory Bail Application No. 9211 of 2020, granting anticipatory bail to the respondent No. 2-R. Rajan in SLP(Crl.) No. 1929 of 2021.

The allegations in this matter are of custodial death of the father of the appellant on 01.03.1997, after his arrest from Varanasi on 28.02.1997. After having gone through the routes of the application under Section 156(3) of the Criminal Procedure Code, 1973; filing of negative final report dated 23.10.1998; filing of protest petition by the appellant; acceptance of the protest petition; and certain miscellaneous applications in the High Court for stay of proceedings, ultimately, the matter was taken up by this Court in Writ Petition (Crl.) No. 8 of 2018.

The said writ petition was decided by the order dated 23.09.2020 by a 3-Judge Bench of this Court to which, one of us (Aniruddha Bose, J.) was a party. Therein, after taking note of the relevant background aspects and while expressing dissatisfaction that the criminal proceedings relating to the allegations of custodial death had remained stayed for 13 years, this Court effaced the order/s which were hindering the progress of the matter; and directed expeditious proceedings in the trial. This Court also directed that the Trial Court shall proceed with the trial almost on day-to-day basis and make an endeavour to conclude the same within a period of one year from the date of its commencement.

We are not recounting several other proceedings in the matter at different stages, for being not relevant for the present purpose. The relevant part of the matter is that pertaining to the applications seeking anticipatory bail by the respondents.

Though in the impugned order dated 03.02.2021 in Criminal Miscellaneous Anticipatory Bail Application No. 1195 of 2021, the High Court noticed the aforesaid order of this Court dated 23.09.2020 but, proceeded to grant anticipatory bail to the respondent No. 2-Shankhdhar Dwivedi with the observations and consideration which read as under:-

"7. After considering the rival submissions this court finds that there is a case registered against the applicant. It cannot be definitely said when the police may apprehend him. After the lodging of FIR the arrest can be made by the police at will. There is no definite period fixed for the police to arrest an accused against whom an FIR has been lodged. The courts have repeatedly held that arrest should be the last option for the police and it should be restricted to those exception cases where arresting the accused is imperative or his custodial interrogation is required. Irrational and indiscriminate arrests are gross violation of human rights. In the case of Joginder Kumar v. State of Uttar Pradesh AIR 1994 SC 1349 the Apex Court has referred to the third report of National Police Commission wherein it is mentioned that arrests by the police in India is one of the chief source of corruption in the police. The report suggested that, by and large, nearly 60 percent of the arrests were either unnecessary or unjustified and that such unjustified police action accounted for 43.2 percent of expenditure of the jails. Personal liberty is a very precious fundamental rights and it should be curtailed only when it becomes imperative. According to the peculiar facts and circumstances of the peculiar case the arrest of an accused should be made.

8. Hence without expressing any opinion on the merits of the case and considering the nature of accusations and antecedents of applicant, he is directed to be enlarged on anticipatory bail as per the Constitution Bench judgment of the Apex Court in the case of Sushila Aggarwal vs. State (NCT of Delhi)-2020 SCC Online SC 98. The future contingencies regarding anticipatory bail being granted to applicant shall also be taken care of as per the aforesaid judgment of the Apex Court."

After granting anticipatory bail to the respondent- Shankhdhar Dwivedi, the High Court, by a separate order of even date in Criminal Miscellaneous Anticipatory Bail Application No. 9211 of 2020, extended the same benefit of anticipatory bail to the other respondent-R. Rajan, while observing that his case was on identical footing.

The petitions seeking leave to appeal by the informant against the aforesaid orders of the High Court were taken up for consideration on 25.02.2021 by another 3-Judge Bench of this Court wherein too, one of us (Dinesh Maheshwari, J.) was a party. After granting permission to file the petition, and while issuing notices, this Court specifically stayed the operation of impugned order granting anticipatory bail.

It was later on brought to the notice of this Court that the learned Chief Judicial Magistrate, Varanasi declined to take the requisite steps against the accused persons, even though the order of the High Court granting anticipatory bail stood in abeyance because of the stay order of this Court. In the order dated 07.04.2021, this Court found that the order passed by the Chief Judicial Magistrate was not in sync with the stay order dated 25.02.2021. This Court expressed clear views that the respondents ought to be taken into custody; and also observed that the Court would be inclined to hear them only thereafter on the issue as to whether the anticipatory bail granted by the High Court was sustainable or not. Having said so, this Court accepted the submissions at that stage by the learned senior counsel for the respondents that they will surrender within one week.

Thereafter, it was reported before the Court on 06.05.2021 that the respondents had since surrendered and the matter was ordered to be listed before the vacation Bench while giving liberty to the respondents to file counter affidavit. The respondents, as per the submissions made, had surrendered on 14.04.2021 and 15.04.2021 respectively.

The respondents have filed a detailed counter affidavit seeking to support the orders granting anticipatory bail with reference to the factual aspects of the case as also with reference to the decision of this Court in Sushila Aggarwal vs. State (NCT of Delhi): 2020 SCC Online SC 98. Further, the plea for setting aside the order granting anticipatory bail is opposed with reference to the decision of this Court in Dolat Ram v. State of Haryana: (1995) 1 SCC 349.

The submissions have been opposed on behalf of the appellant with reference to the gravity of offences as also the observations and directions of this Court in the aforesaid order dated 23.09.2020, as passed in Writ Petition (Crl.) No. 8 of 2018. The submissions of the appellant have been duly supported on behalf of the State.

Having examined the matter in its totality, we do not find it necessary to dilate on the submissions pertaining to merits of the case, lest any prejudice is caused to any of the parties in relation to the pending trial. Suffice it to observe for the present purpose that, prima facie, we have not been able to persuade ourselves to endorse the approach of the High Court in granting anticipatory bail with the observations in the above-quoted paragraphs 7 and 8 of the order impugned. It needs hardly any elaboration that the bail plea in a particular case cannot be considered and decided merely with generalised observations about the processes of law, or the fundamental rights, or any particular study report.

Be that as it may, even while expressing disagreement with the approach of the High Court, we would prefer not to make any further comment in the matter because of the other relevant factors that: (a) the Trial Court is bound to proceed expeditiously as already directed by this Court in the order dated 23.09.2020; and (b) the respondents have indeed surrendered and are in custody.

As indicated hereinabove, it is difficult to endorse the order impugned, whereby anticipatory bail came to be granted, essentially with generalised observations and without adverting to the relevant considerations and material circumstances of the case. In any case, now when the respondents have surrendered and taken into custody, all the aspects related with the prayer of grant of anticipatory bail are practically rendered redundant.

However, after the respondents have surrendered and have been taken into custody, their right to seek regular bail during the pendency of the trial is not taken away. Of course, such a plea ought to be initially considered by the Court concerned upon making of a proper application in that regard and subject to the submissions of the relevant parties.

In view of the above, even while we are inclined to allow these appeals and to set aside the impugned orders while rejecting the applications made by the respondents for anticipatory bail, we would leave it open for them to apply for regular bail. If any such prayer is made by them, the same may be considered by the Court concerned in accordance with law, uninfluenced by any observations occurring in this matter in any of the orders pertaining to the plea for anticipatory bail and irrespective of any observation made in these appeals.

In the interest of justice, we also deem it appropriate to observe that if the respondents apply for regular bail, their prayer be given due consideration expeditiously by the Court concerned.

The appeals are disposed of in the above terms.

All pending applications also stand disposed of.

SLP(Crl.) No. 3496 of 2021.

Leave granted.

This appeal is directed against another order dated 06.04.2021 relating to the same Case Crime No. C-37 of 1997, by the High Court of Judicature at Allahabad in Criminal Miscellaneous Anticipatory Bail Application No. 7440 of 2021, whereby the High Court granted anticipatory bail to other two co-accused persons, respondent Nos. 2- Jagat Singh and 3-Sher Ali on the basis of the aforesaid orders dated 03.02.2021.

So far as the impugned order dated 06.04.2021 is concerned, the same is in the teeth of the stay order dated 25.02.2021 passed by this Court in SLP(Crl.) Nos. 1928-29 of 2021, whereby operation of the relied upon order was stayed by this Court. It appears that the said stay order of this Court was not brought to the notice of the High Court because, the High Court could not have passed the order dated 06.04.2021 with reference to an order which was not in operation in view of the stay order of this Court.

Thus, the order so passed by the High Court on 06.04.2021 cannot be approved for the reasons and observations in the preceding part of this order; and additionally for the reason that the impugned order dated 06.04.2021 stands in conflict with the stay order passed by this Court on 25.02.2021.

In this matter, by an order passed by this Court on 28.04.2021, operation of the impugned order dated 06.04.2021 was stayed with directions to the respondent Nos. 2 and 3 to surrender. It has been submitted by the learned counsel for these respondents that they have surrendered on 19.05.2021.

Taking note of the submissions so made and for the reasons foregoing, this appeal is also allowed and while setting aside the impugned order and rejecting the application made by the respondents for anticipatory bail, we would extend the same liberty and observations for these respondents that it would be open for them to apply for regular bail and if any such prayer is made by them, the same may be considered expeditiously by the Court concerned in accordance with law, uninfluenced by any observations occurring in this matter in any of the orders pertaining to the plea for anticipatory bail and irrespective of any observation made in this appeal.

The appeal stands disposed of in the above terms.

All pending applications also stand disposed of."

14. The Apex Court had set aside the orders of anticipatory bail granted in the petition of the applicant and co-accused persons and had rejected the said applications and directed them to apply for regular bail and directed that if any such prayer is made by them, the same be considered expeditiously in accordance with law.

15. The applicant surrendered on 19.05.2021 before the court below at Varanasi and filed application for bail which was rejected vide order dated 30.06.2021 passed by the Additional Sessions Judge, Court No. 1 Varanasi and as such the present bail application has been filed before this Court.

16. The series of prolonged litigation ends here with the applicant surrendering and before the court concerned and then resorting to filing bail application under Section 439 Cr.P.C.

17. Learned counsel for the applicant argued that:-

(i) The applicant has been falsely implicated in the present case.

(ii) The deceased Gorakhnath @ Om Prakash Gupta was involved in Case Crime No. 103 of 1997 under Section 420, 406 IPC, Police Station Kotwali, District Shahdol in which he was arrested and subsequently a charge sheet was also submitted against him and Kariya @ Chandrabali on 25.07.1997. Shiv Shankar Gupta to whom the paper loaded in the said truck was sold is also an accused in the said charge sheet but as an absconder.

(iii) The deceased while being in custody at Police Station Kotwali, District Shahdol complained about chest pain and wanted to ease himself after which he was taken to the toilet by the applicant who was present there but he fell on the stairs due to severe heart attack.

(iv) The deceased was taken to the hospital and was admitted there who died later on, for which the doctors after the postmortem could not give any definite opinion about the cause of death and preserved the viscera which was examined by the Forensic Science Lab and the report thereof does not mention of any poison being found in the body of the deceased. The death of the deceased was a natural death.

(v) After lodging of the First Information Report on the basis of an application under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C., the matter was being investigated by the local police but vide order dated 09.10.1997 passed by the S.P. (Rural) Varanasi, the investigation was transferred to S.I.S. Branch, Varanasi.

(vi) The investigation concluded by way of submission of a final report in the Court on 23.10.1998 after which a protest petition was filed on 31.01.2001 which was allowed and the final report was rejected and the applicant and other accused persons being a total of six accused named in the First Information Report were summoned to face trial.

(vii) The First Information Report is based on totally false and frivolous allegations. There is no corroboration of the version of the prosecution that the deceased died a custodial death. The death was a natural death. The applicant is a retired government servant and his implication therein is false.

(viii) The applicant is having no criminal history as stated in para 84 of the affidavit and is in jail since 19.05.2021.

18. Per contra, learned AGA for the State opposed the prayer for bail and argued that:-

(i) The deceased was taken away from his house by the applicant and co-accused persons which is not disputed.

(ii) The deceased was under police custody at Police Station Kotwali, District Shahdol on the date of his death.

(iii) The death has occurred while the deceased was under police custody.

(iv) The order summoning the accused while allowing the protest petition and rejecting the final report is a well considered.

(v) The beating of the deceased while being in police custody is evident from the fact that he has received two contusions on his body and the site of the injuries are fleshy part of the body which can be received only after being assaulted.

(vi) On the own showing of the applicant as per the argument and while referring to the pleading of para 23, it was the applicant who was present when the deceased felt unwell.

(vii) The present case is a case of custodial death in which the deceased has received injuries on his body as is evident from the postmortem report itself.

(viii) The postmortem report and the opinion of the doctors therein is not suggestive of any heart attack or heart problem.

(ix) The release of the applicant at the stage when the trial has been expedited by the Apex Court vide order dated 23.09.2020 may have an adverse affect therein as he is a resident of a different State being Madhya Pradesh.

(x) The matter is serious in nature as it concerns custodial death.

(xi) The prayer for bail of the applicant be rejected.

19. After having heard learned counsels for the parties and having gone through the records, it is evident that the applicant is named in the First Information Report. The case of the prosecution that the deceased was taken away to Police Station Kotwali, District Shahdol is not under dispute. The applicant is named specifically and has been assigned the role of taking away the deceased from Varanasi to Shahdol along with other co-accused persons. The presence of the applicant even at the Police Station and he being there has been argued and pleaded in para 23 of the bail application and even it is pleaded that when the deceased feel ill the applicant was present there. The deceased as per the postmortem report has received injuries on his body which are suggestive of assault on him by hard and blunt object. There is no finding in the postmortem examination report which would be suggestive of any heart problem or cardiac arrest/heart attack. There is nothing to show that the death was natural. The present case is a case of custodial torture and death. The Apex Court vide order dated 23.09.2020 passed in Writ Petition (Crl.) No. 8 of 2018 has directed the trial court to proceed with the trial on a day today basis and make an endeavour to conclude it within a period of one year. The applicant is a resident of a different State. He has been in the police force which is a disciplined force and enshrined with the pious duty of maintaining law and order and protecting citizens. His release may have an adverse effect in the trial.

20. Custodial violence, custodial torture and custodial deaths have always been a concern for civilized society. Times and again the judicial verdicts of the Apex Court and other Courts have shown their concern and anguish in such matters.

21. In the celebrated case of D.K. Basu Vs. State of West Bengal : (1997) 1 SCC 416 the Apex Court while expressing its anguish in cases of custodial deaths has observed as follows:

"22. Custodial death is perhaps one of the worst crimes in a civilised society governed by the rule of law. The rights inherent in Articles 21 and 22(1) of the Constitution require to be jealously and scrupulously protected. We cannot wish away the problem. Any form of torture or cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment would fall within the inhibition of Article 21 of the Constitution, whether it occurs during investigation, interrogation or otherwise. If the functionaries of the Government become law breakers, it is bound to breed contempt for law and would encourage lawlessness and every man would have the tendency to become law unto himself thereby leading to anarchanism. No civilised nation can permit that to happen. Does a citizen shed off his fundamental right to life, the moment a policeman arrests him? Can the right to life of a citizen be put in abeyance on his arrest? These questions touch the spinal cord of human rights jurisprudence. The answer, indeed, has to be an emphatic

"No". The precious right guaranteed by Article 21 of the Constitution of India cannot be denied to convicts, undertrials, detenues and other prisoners in custody, except according to the procedure established by law by placing such reasonable restrictions as are permitted by law.

23. In Neelabati Bahera v. State of Orissa, (1993) 2 SCC 746 (to which Anand, J. was a party) this Court pointed out that prisoners and detenues are not denuded of their fundamental rights under Article 21 and it is only such restrictions as are permitted by law, which can be imposed on the enjoyment of the fundamental rights of the arrestees and detenues. It was observed: (SCC p. 767, para 31)

"It is axiomatic that convicts, prisoners or undertrials are not denuded of their fundamental rights under Article 21 and it is only such restrictions, as are permitted by law, which can be imposed on the enjoyment of the fundamental right by such persons. It is an obligation of the State to ensure that there is no infringement of the indefeasible rights of a citizen to life, except in accordance with law, while the citizen is in its custody. The precious right guaranteed by Article 21 of the Constitution of India cannot be denied to convicts, undertrials or other prisoners in custody, except according to procedure established by law. There is a great responsibility on the police or prison authorities to ensure that the citizen in its custody is not deprived of his right to life. His liberty is in the very nature of things circumscribed by the very fact of his confinement and therefore his interest in the limited liberty left to him is rather precious. The duty of care on the part of the State is strict and admits of no exceptions. The wrongdoer is accountable and the State is responsible if the person in custody of the police is deprived of his life except according to the procedure established by law."

24. Instances have come to our notice where the police has arrested a person without warrant in connection with the investigation of an offence, without recording the arrest, and the arrested person has been subjected to torture to extract information from him for the purpose of further investigation or for recovery of case property or for extracting confession etc. The torture and injury caused on the body of the arrestee has sometimes resulted into his death. Death in custody is not generally shown in the records of the lock-up and every effort is made by the police to dispose of the body or to make out a case that the arrested person died after he was released from custody. Any complaint against such torture or death is generally not given any attention by the police officers because of ties of brotherhood. No first information report at the instance of the victim or his kith and kin is generally entertained and even the higher police officers turn a blind eye to such complaints. Even where a formal prosecution is launched by the victim or his kith and kin, no direct evidence is available to substantiate the charge of torture or causing hurt resulting into death, as the police lock-up where generally torture or injury is caused is away from the public gaze and the witnesses are either police men or co-prisoners who are highly reluctant to appear as prosecution witnesses due to fear of retaliation by the superior officers of the police. It is often seen that when a complaint is made against torture, death or injury, in police custody, it is difficult to secure evidence against the policemen responsible for resorting to third degree methods since they are in charge of police station records which they do not find difficult to manipulate. Consequently, prosecution against the delinquent officers generally results in acquittal. State of Madhya Pradesh v. Shyamsunder Trivedi & Ors., (1995) 4 SCC 262 is an apt case illustrative of the observations made by us above. .....…"

22. Further in the case of Shakila Abdul Gafar Khan Vs. Vasant Raghunath Dhoble and another: (2003) 7 SCC 749 the Apex Court has again shown its anguish in the matters of custodial violence, torture and abuse of police powers. It has been observed as follows:

"If you once forfeit the confidence of our fellow citizens you can never regain their respect and esteem. It is true that you can fool all the people some of the time, and some of the people all the time, but you cannot fool all the people all the time", said Abraham Lincoln. This Court in Raghbir Singh v. State of Haryana (1980 (3) SCC 70), took note of these immortal observations (SCC p. 72, para 4) while deprecating custodial torture by the police.

2. Custodial violence, torture and abuse of police power are not peculiar to this country, but it is widespread. It has been the concern of international community because the problem is universal and the challenge is almost global. The Universal Declaration of Human Rights in 1948 which marked the emergence of a worldwide trend of protection and guarantee of certain basic human rights stipulates in Article 5 that "no one shall be subjected to torture or to cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment of punishment". Despite this pious declaration, the crime continues unabated, though every civilized nation shows its concern and makes efforts for its eradication.

3. If it is assuming alarming proportions, now a days, all around it is merely on account of the devilish devices adopted by those at the helm of affairs who proclaim from roof tops to be the defenders of democracy and protectors of people's rights and yet do not hesitate to condescend behind the screen to let loose their men in uniform to settle personal scores, feigning ignorance of what happens and pretending to be peace loving puritans and saviours of citizens' rights.

4. Article 21 which is one of the luminary provisions in the Constitution of India, 1950 (in short "the Constitution") and is a part of the scheme for fundamental rights occupies a place of pride in the Constitution. The article mandates that no person shall be deprived of his life and personal liberty except according to the procedure established by law. This sacred and cherished right i.e. personal liberty has an important role to play in the life of every citizen. Life or personal liberty includes a right to live with human dignity. There is an inbuilt guarantee against torture or assault by the State or its functionaries. Chapter V of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 (for short "the Code") deals with the powers of arrest of persons and the safeguards required to be followed by the police to protect the interest of the arrested person. Articles 20 (3) and 22 of the Constitution further manifest the constitutional protection extended to every citizen and the guarantees held out for making life meaningful and not a mere animal existence. It is therefore difficult to comprehend how torture and custodial violence can be permitted to defy the rights flowing from the Constitution. The dehumanizing torture, assault and death in custody which have assumed alarming proportions raise serious questions about the credibility of rule of law and administration of criminal justice system. The community rightly gets disturbed. The cry for justice becomes louder and warrants immediate remedial measures. This Court has in a large number of cases expressed concern at the atrocities perpetuated by the protectors of law. Justice Brandies' observation which have become classic are in following immortal words:

Government as the omnipotent and omnipresent teacher teaches the whole people by its example, if the Government becomes a lawbreaker, it breeds contempt for law, it invites every man to become a law into himself. (In Olmstead v. United States, 277 US 438, US at p. 485, quoted in Mapp v. Ohio, 367 US 643, US at p. 659)

5. The diabolic recurrence of police torture resulting in a terrible scare in the minds of common citizens that their lives and liberty are under a new and unwarranted peril because guardians of law destroy the human rights by custodial violence and torture and invariably resulting in death. The vulnerability of human rights assumes a traumatic torture when functionaries of the State whose paramount duty is to protect the citizens and not to commit gruesome offences against them, in reality perpetrate them. The concern which was shown in Raghubir Singh case (1980 (3) SCC 70) more than two decades back seems to have fallen to leaf ears and the situation does not seem to be showing any noticeable change. The anguish expressed in Gauri Shanker Sharma v. State of U. P. (AIR 1990 SC 709), Bhagwan Singh and Anr. v. State of Punjab (1992 (3) SCC 249), Smt. Nilabati Behera @ Lalita Behera v. State of Orissa and Ors. (AIR 1993 SC 1960), Pratul Kumar Sinha v. State of Bihar and Anr. (1994 Supp. (3) SCC 100), Kewal Pati (Smt.) v. State of U. P. and Ors. (1995 (3) SCC 600), Inder Singh v. State of Punjab and Ors. (1995 (3) SCC 702), State of M. P. v. Shyamsunder Trivedi and Ors. (1995 (4) SCC 262) and by now celebrated decision in D. K. Basu v. State of West Bengal (1997 (1) SCC 416) seems to have caused not even any softening attitude to the inhuman approach in dealing with persons in custody.

6. Rarely, in cases of police torture or custodial death, direct ocular evidence of the complicity of the police personnel alone who can only explain the circumstances in which a person in their custody had died. Bound as they are by the ties of brotherhood, it is not unknown that the police personnel prefer to remain silent and more often than not even pervert the truth to save their colleagues - and the present case is an apt illustration - as to how one after the other police witnesses feigned ignorance about the whole matter.

7. The exaggerated adherence to and insistence upon the establishment of proof beyond every reasonable doubt by the prosecution, at times even when the prosecuting agencies are themselves fixed in the dock, ignoring the ground realities, the fact-situation and the peculiar circumstances of a given case, as in the present case, often results in miscarriage of justice and makes the justice delivery system suspect and vulnerable. In the ultimate analysis the society suffers and a criminal gets encouraged. Tortures in police custody, which of late are on the increase, receive encouragement by this type of an unrealistic approach at times of the courts as well because it reinforces the belief in the mind of the police that no harm would come to them if one prisoner dies in the lockup because there would hardly be any evidence available to the prosecution to directly implicate them with the torture. The courts must not lose sight of the fact that death in police custody is perhaps one of the worst kind of crimes in a civilized society, governed by the rule of law and poses a serious threat to an orderly civilized society. Torture in custody flouts the basic rights of the citizens recognized by the Indian Constitution and is an affront to human dignity. Police excesses and the maltreatment of detainees/under - trial prisoners or suspects tarnishes the image of any civilised nation and encourages the men in "khaki" to consider themselves to be above the law and sometimes even to become law unto themselves. Unless stern measures are taken to check the malady of the very fence eating the crops, the foundations of the criminal justice delivery system would be shaken and the civilization itself would risk the consequence of heading, towards total decay resulting in anarchy and authoritarianism reminiscent of barbarism. The courts must, therefore, deal with such cases in a realistic manner and with the sensitivity which they deserve, otherwise the common man may tend to gradually lose faith in the efficacy of the system of judiciary itself, which if it happen will be a sad day, for anyone to reckon with."

23. Considering the totality of the case in particular, nature of evidence available on record, I am not inclined to release the applicant on bail.

24. The bail application is, accordingly, rejected.

25. The party shall file computer generated copy of such order downloaded from the official website of High Court Allahabad.

26. The computer generated copy of such order shall be self attested by the counsel of the party concerned.

27. The concerned Court/Authority/Official shall verify the authenticity of such computerized copy of the order from the official website of High Court Allahabad and shall make a declaration of such verification in writing.

A. Bail - The Court rejected the bail applications on seeing that the nature of the offence and the amount of culpability is serious, heinous, shocking and unprecedented. It is evident from the discussions that the main accused persons had prior information of the police raid which was released by the police. This not only made the accused person alert but also provided them the fullest opportunity to prepare for attack and commit such a horrendous crime of killing 8 police personnel including Circle Officer, who succumbed to his injuries. Moreover, they are also accused of having a good relationship with the main accused. (Para 46)

1. Since both the bail applications are connected and arisen from same case crime number, therefore, both the bail applications are being disposed off by a common order.

2. Heard Shri V.P. Srivastava, learned Senior Counsel assisted by Shri Satyendra Singh, learned counsel for the applicant (Vinay Kumar Tiwari), Shri Shyam Narayan Verma, Shri Anurag Pathak and Shri Harshit Pathak, learned counsel for the applicant (K.K. Sharma) and Shri Manish Goyal, learned Additional Advocate General assisted by Shri Rajesh Mishra, Shri R.P. Pandey, Shri Kaushalesh Prasad Tiwari and Shri Mayank Mishra, learned AGA, Shri Abhijeet Mukherjee, learned Brief Holder for the State and perused the record.

3. The present bail applications have been filed by the accused-applicants Vinay Kumar Tiwari and K.K. Sharma in Case Crime No. 0192 of 2020, under sections 147, 148, 149, 302, 307, 504, 506, 353, 332, 333, 396, 412, 120B, 34 IPC, section 7 of Criminal Law Amendment Act and section ¾ of Explosive Substances Act, P.S.- Chaubeypur, District - Kanpur Nagar.

4. In the year 1981, in Prem Chand (Paniwala) vs Union Of India, AIR 1981 SC 613, Justice V. R. Krishna Iyer opened the judgment with a question "Who will police the police?" About 40 years have passed, but, that question is still there with a bigger question mark. On the date of incident, the raid conducted by police force was countered by the gangster Vikas Dubey and member of his gang in a very planned way and 8 police personnels including Circle Officer of the area were brutally killed and several police personnels sustained serious firearms injuries. The accused persons were carrying sophisticated firearms and the accusation against the accused-applicants is that they were in collusion with the gangster and his associates. Under a conspiracy, they leaked information of police raid and gave them opportunity to remain in preparedness and did not render due support to police personnels nor informed the police force regarding their preparedness to effectively counter the raid and their being equipped with sophisticated firearms.'

5. As per FIR version and police papers, the brief facts are that on 03.07.2020, at 1 AM in the midnight, the incident took place in respect of which on the same day in the early morning at 5:35 AM, the FIR was lodged in which 21 accused persons were named with 60 to 70 unnamed accused persons and the allegation was that an FIR was registered on 02.07.2020, Crime No. 191/20, under section 147, 148, 504, 323, 364, 342, 307 IPC and section 7 of Criminal Law Amendment Act, 1932 against Vikas Dubey, Sunil Kumar, Bal Govind, Shivam Dubey and Amar Dubey. In order to arrest the accused persons, with reference to GD No. 5 at 00:27 AM midnight, SO Vinay Kumar Tiwari with other SI and Constables keeping weapon and cartridges reached at Bela crossing, where, as planning CO Bilhaur Shri Devendra Kumar Mishra with other police officers along with Govt. Vehicle and Driver and SHO Bithoor, Shri Kaushalendra Pratap Singh with other police officers along with Government Vehicle and Driver and also SHO Shivrajpur, Shri Mahesh Yadav with SI and Constables (all mentioned in the FIR by name), after due consideration, set out from the place in search and arrest of the accused persons. Between the police parties of three police stations mentioned above, in view of fencing around the house of accused which is surrounded by big walls of adequate heights with barbed wire fencing and huge iron gates in different directions, it was decided that on reaching on the main gate in the leadership of CO Bilhour, the police will be divided into three teams. The first police team was led by CO Bilhour, the second by SHO Bithoor and the third by SO Chaubepur. The police teams and police officers ensured that there was no illegal article with them. Thereafter, the police party departed from Diwedi Atta Chakki to Bikru village and the moment they reached 20 meters close to the house of accused Vikas Dubey (now dead), it was found that on the road, a JCB machine was standing horizontally in such manner that the road was almost blocked. The police party anyhow, from the remaining space, managed to reach to the Tiraha close to the house gate of accused Vikas Dubey. The first police party lead by CO Bilhour stopped at the gate and the second party led by SO, Bithoor proceeded towards left side in east direction, and from the right side towards south direction the third police group led by SO Chaubeypur was proceeding.

6. All the police personnels were in police uniform except one Guard who was in civil dress. There was sufficient light of electricity and dragon light. Suddenly, from the room situating on the first floor on the north east side from the roof of Vikas Dubey, accused Vikas Dubey and other co-accused persons with rifle, pistol and firearms in their hands, in a preplanned way, with intention to kill the police personnels, opened fire shouting loudly how the police personnels dared to raid and nobody would escape alive from this place. Side by side, from the roof of Raja Ram alias Prem Kumar Pandey, situating in front of the house of accused Vikas Dubey, Prem Kumar Pandey and other accused persons Shyam Bajpai, Chhotu Shukla, Monu, Jahan Yadav and others, and from the roof of the house of Atul situating in the west of the house of accused Vikas Dubey, Atul Dubey, Dayashankar Agrahari, Shashikant Pandey, Shiv Tiwari, Vishnu Pal Yadav, Ram Singh, Ramu Bajpai and other co-accused persons opened firing in a planned way with intention to kill the members of the police party. Because of this sudden and indiscriminate firing, most of the policemen of the first group and second group were seriously injured. Some of the members of police party after positioning themselves proceeded towards the house of Rajaram Pandey and some proceeded towards the open land of Pappu Mishra. At the same time when the police party was so proceeding, the accused persons from the roof of their house came down and started firing on already injured police personnel.

The police party led by SO Caubeypur, because of indiscriminate firing, did not proceed further. There was no place to shelter and there was regular firing by the main accused persons from the roof. They, therefore, covered the firing in order to reach at a safe place. The accused persons coming from all sides surrounded the police personnel, fired and killed SI Anoop Kumar Singh Chawki in-charge Mandhana, Constable Jitendra Pal, Constable Bablu Kumar, Constable Rahul Kumar and Constable Sultan Singh by causing gunshot injuries. In the varanda of the house of accused Rajaram Pandey, SO Shivrajpur, Shri Mahesh Yadav and SI Nimbu Lal were also killed by the accused persons. CO Bilhour was dragged inside the house of Prem Kumar Pandy by accused Vikas Dubey, Prem Kumar Pandey, and Amar Dubey, Prabhat Mishra, Gopal Saini, Heeru Dubey, Bauwan Shukla, Shivam Dubey, Balgovind, Bauwa Dubey, and other co-accused persons and was killed brutally by them by causing injuries by fire arms and sharp weapons.

7. Meanwhile, remaining members of first, second and third police party, in their self-defense, started firing and saved 7 police personnels including SO Bithour, Shri Kaushalendra Singh, SI Sudhakar Pandey, Constable Shiv Moorat Nishad, Home Guard Jai Narayan Katiyar, Constable Ajay Kumar Kashyap, Constable Ajay Singh Sengar and took them to safe place. During the incident the accused persons looted the Govt. pistol of injured SO Bithour, but because of cover firing caused by the police party, the accused persons could not succeed in causing death of SO Bithour, Kaushalendra Singh. The accused persons looted the Government arms form the police personnels and absconded away. The alive policemen, in the light of electricity and other light, recognized the accused persons. Injured policemen were admitted in the Regency Hospital for their treatment. Thereafter, the police reached at the place of occurrence and found the dead body of the policemen lying there. 9MM pistol with 10 cartridges of SO Mahesh Chandra Yadav, 9MM pistol with 10 cartridges of SI Anoop Kumar Singh, AK-47 with 30 cartridges of Constable Jitendra Kumar, insas rifle with 20 round cartridges magazine of Constable Sultan Singh were already looted by the accused persons during incident. Besides the named accused persons, there were 60 to 70 more armed accused persons who in a very planned way, initially hiding themselves at a high place, with intention to kill the policemen, caused fire and subsequently, they jumped down from the roof and from very close range they committed brutal murder of the policemen. The policemen also fired, but, because of this incident and indiscriminate and daring firing by the accused persons, a situation of lawlessness and sense of fear was created. The accused persons were led by accused Vikas Dubey was a known gangster and history sheeter of the area and there remained fear and terror of the gangster and his gang around the vicinity. Because of the criminal activities, the gang had gained a lot of movable and immovable properties. The police inspected the place of occurrence where cartridges were scattered here and there and the sign of firing was also present on the walls around and other places. Human blood was also scattered all over the place. On this basis, the FIR was lodged by SO Vinay Kumar Tiwari, who is presently one of the accused applicants.

8. The statement of informant was recorded by the Investigating Officer. The dead bodies were also taken into possession, inquest report was prepared, dead bodies were sealed and were sent for postmortem. The statement of SI Azhar Ishrat was recorded on the same day who stated in accordance with the FIR version. Thereafter, the statement of SI Vishwanath Mishra, P.S. Chaubepur, was also recorded who also stated to the tune of FIR and had additionally stated that from the roof of the house of the Vikas Dubey some women were loudly shouting that no police personnel should escape today and they were instigating the accused persons to kill the policemen. These women were Smt. Chhama, Smt. Khushi, Smt. Rekha Agnihotri, a maid of accused Vikas Dubey who used to live in the house of accused Vikas Dubey and she was also involved in his criminal activities.

9. Thereafter, SO Vinay Kumar Tiwari was suspended by order dated 4th July, 2020 of SSP, Kanpur Nagar on account of his inaction, suspicious role and for not apprising the police force about the kind and quality of weapon accused Vikas Dubey and the members of his gang were keeping, nor he apprised about the way to get away from the place of occurrence. It was also found that when the firing started from the side of accused persons, the applicant did not lead his team and escaped from the place. Because the police personnels were not having any knowledge about the way to get away from the place, a number of them were killed and in a great number sustained injuries.

10. The IO recorded the statement of constable Rajeev Kumar who stated to the tune of SI Vishwanath Mishra and further added that SI Krishna Kumar Sharma and SO Vinay Kumar Tiwari of the police station were closely related with accused Vikas Dubey and prior to the incident, SI Krishna Kumar Sharma talked with Vikas Dubey for 20 minutes on mobile. He has also stated that these police officers (accused-applicants) were conspired with accused Vikas Dubey to humiliate and give lesson to CO Bilhour out of jealous and bad relationship.

11. Statement of constable Abhishek Kumar was also recorded and he also stated that SI Krishna Kumar Sharma and SO Vinay Kumar Tiwari were closely related with accused Vikas Dubey. He has also supported the statement of Constable Rajeev Kumar on that point. Statement of co-accused Suresh Verma was also recorded and he also stated in similar fashion showing the closeness of these two with accused Vikas Dubey and the prior talk with SI Krishna Kumar Sharma with him just before 20 minutes from the time of incident.

12. SI Azhar Ishrat was again examined by the IO, and despite that he supported the FIR version, he also stated about the involvement of the women who instigated the accused persons for commission of the offence and said that he saw Sanjay Dubey @ Sanju who was firing on the police party who was known to him because he used to come to the police station regularly. Co-accused Suresh Verma was also instigating the other accused persons. On being asked by the IO, he stated that SI K.K. Sharma was not present there during the raid who was present in the police station but deliberately did not join the raid. He was asked to join but he avoided. He had already given information about the raid much before the time of incident to gangster Vikas Dubey with whom he was closely related. He has also stated that he knew the accused persons with name because he is posted in the police station from the last about 3 years and he had gone to the village of Vikas Dubey several times in respect of his official duty and Vikas Dubey and his other associates were well known to him. He saw and recognized the accused persons in the solar light which is installed at the main gate of Vikas Dubey and also in the light on the roof of the house of Vikas Dubey, Prabhat Dubey, Gopal Ji Saini, Govind Saini, Raja Ram @ Prem Kumar Pandey. He identified the other accused persons going from the side of house of Agar Dubey to the house of Vikas Dubey. The witness has stated that he also fired 7 times but realizing that by firing his location will be exposed, he stopped firing and concealed himself in the veranda of the neighbour of the Prabhat Mishra. Constable Navneet also concealed himself there. Thereafter there was power cut and Prabhat Mishra who was firing from his roof came down with his rifle and seeing them, he fired on Constable Navneet but because the witness intervened by slapping on the but of rifle, constable Navneet escaped and thereafter he and constable Navneet, because they were fully acquainted with the geographical situation, through the field, came to the road. The JCB driver was Rahul Pal and not Monu as he had stated earlier. He has named the accused persons who fired on the members of the police party.

13. Subsequent statement of SI Vishwanath Mishra was recorded and he has given detailed statement and besides that he supported the FIR version, he has also stated that the accused persons were firing from the roof of Prabhat Mishra. He has stated that Vikas Dubey was a known criminal and, in the area, he used to possess and grab lands of others with the help of police. He used to create terror and organize gambling. SO Vinay Kumar Tiwari was in his contact through SI K.K. Sharma and they used to regularly associate with them. This came in the knowledge of CO Bilhour and he had submitted adverse report about them to the superior authority. On the date of incident, K.K. Sharma deliberately avoided in participating in the raid and during the period he was regularly in touch with the accused persons. He and SO Vinay Kumar Tiwari just to lower down the image of CO Bilhour, conspired with the criminals and consequently 8 police persons were killed and 7 police persons sustained serious injuries.

14. SI Ajhar Ishrat was re-examined by IO and he also stated that the accused persons were well informed about the raid which is also clear from electronic surveillance and other evidence. The relationship between SO Chaubepur and Circle Officer was bad and the CO had sent adverse report regarding misconduct of SO Vinay Kumar Tiwari to superior officer. He stated that SI K.K. Sharma and SO Vinay Kumar Tiwari were in contact with accused Vikas Dubey and used to regularly associate with him and therefore, the accused persons succeeded in causing such a horrible incident only because SI K.K. Sharma and SO Vinay Kumar Tiwari leaked the information about raid to them. He has also stated that he recognized the accused persons in the road light and accused persons were also lighting torch from their roof and were shouting.

15. Certain call details have been also annexed at page 156 and onward showing that accused-applicant K.K. Sharma had talked with the gangster and his gangmen. The learned counsels for the applicants have contended that constable Rajeev Kumar was also in touch with Vikas Dubey. The audio conversation of Constable Rajeev Kumar with Vikas Dubey has also been annexed to show that he was in regular touch with Vikas Dubey and he has not been made accused. Constable Rajeev Kumar has been subsequently examined and he has stated that Vikas Dubey was having prior knowledge of the police raid and he rang him on mobile phone but, being occupied in work, he could not pick up the same and when he saw that there was miss call of Vikas Dubey, he dialed him and Vikas Dubey gave a lot of threatening and abuse and threatened that he will kill all the police personnels who will be found on the police jeep and he would commit such a big offence which will be unprecedented. The witness has stated that he recorded the phone call and told about this threatening to Vinay Tiwari, SO, Chaubepur and also said that the gangster has prior information of police raid, but, SO Vinay Tiwari ignored and did not take him seriously. He was also accompanying SO Vinay Tiwari during the raid. He recognized most of the accused persons. He has stated that Chhama Dubey, Khushi Dubey and Shanti Devi from the roof of Atul Dubey were disclosing the location of police personnels to the accused persons and were instigating them to kill the policemen. The accused persons continued firing from 1 AM in the night for 30 to 35 minutes.

16. From the description above, it is clear that 8 police personnel including the Circle Officer were brutally murdered by the accused persons and 7 police personnel sustained serious injuries. The accused persons who were named in the FIR with 60-70 more accused persons constituted unlawful assembly with firearms and deadly weapons killed eight police personnels in a brutal way and injured the police personnel very badly by causing firearm injuries. Some of the police personnels were killed and part of their limbs was also separated from body. The police witnesses who were one time colleagues of the accused applicants have given statement that the accused applicants were very close to gangster Vikas Dubey and his gangmen and they leaked the information of raid which gave opportunity to the accused persons to prepare and plan the brutal murder of the police personnels.

17. Submission of the learned Senior counsel for accused applicant Vinay Tiwari is that there is no direct or indirect evidence against him. It was a police raid conducted by the police party which was countered by the main accused persons and in the incident 8 police persons were killed by gunshot injuries and 7 policemen also sustained gunshot injuries. The accused applicant was himself leading one of the police party. He himself lodged the FIR against the main accused persons and he also lodged FIR on the basis of information given by Rahul Tiwari implicating them. Therefore, it has been submitted that there is no question of the accused-applicant being involved in the commission of the offence. He has no motive nor there was any reason for him to enter into so called conspiracy which resulted in such a heinous crime. Further submission is that the witnesses have changed their version when they were subsequently examined by IO and all of them in a tutored way have stated about the closeness of the accused-applicants with gangster Vikas Dubey and his gang. There is no substantial evidence and there is only some scattered evidence against the accused applicants which is insufficient for the accusation of criminal conspiracy. Nothing can be concluded against them on the basis of CDR, particularly against SO Vinay Tiwari who never made any communication on mobile with either Vikas Dubey or his gangmen. There is no such CDR collected by the Investigating Officer.

18. It has been further submitted that the applicants have been falsely implicated. Late CO Devendra Mishra was informed about the incident of Rahul Tiwari who directed him not to make entry in GD as the police is going to take stern action and this will alert gangster Vikas Dubey. The policemen including CO Devendra Kumar Mishra were posted there for much longer period and were well-versed with history sheeter Vikas Dubey. The accused-applicants had no cordial relation with them. The said viral letter of CO indicating close relation is forged and has been obtained from social media. No such letter was sent by CO Mishra to SP, Kanpur Nagar nor the applicant was put to any departmental proceeding nor any explanation was asked from him. It has also not been mentioned in his suspension order. The allegations regarding his conduct during raid are vague, imaginary and false and is not supported by any evidence.

19. On the contrary, the learned additional Advocate General Shri Manish Goyal has argued that it is not a case of simple crime and the crime has been committed because the police assisted the gangster and leaked the information with regard to raid and, because of the prior information about the raid, the gangster was in preparedness and he planned the murder of the policemen and it is why so many accused persons assembled with the main accused and were active at the time of raid. They were inhabitants of area falling within the same police station in which house of the gangster situated and where the incident took place. Being the member of police force and working at the local police station, the accused-applicants had enough information about the geographical situation and path ways around the vicinity. The police force reached to the place of gangster and could not get away from the place as the accused applicants did not render support nor cooperated and remained inactive. The role of SI K.K. Sharma is rather evident in view of the fact that he was regularly in touch with Vikas Dubey and his gang and through him SO Vinay Tiwari was also in his touch. Both the accused applicants certainly helped them and always closed their eyes towards the criminal activities of the gang. They, during the incident, maintained distance from the other police party and went away to save themselves. In case of such an organized crime where members of police force were assisting the gangster and his group, it is not possible to have a direct evidence. Moreover, in a case of conspiracy, there is no possibility of direct evidence. The evidence which can be available is only circumstantial in nature and may be in the form of inaction on the part of the accused applicants who, in their endeavor to assist the accused persons, kept themselves out from the picture. Therefore, the conclusion of conspiracy is to be drawn from the circumstances of the case and the situation that the applicants, being member of police force, were indulged in assisting gangster Vikas Dubey and his gang, and all the paper work was done by them. It has been submitted that the IO examined several witnesses of police force who worked with the accused applicants and they have stated about conspiracy and their close links with the gangster and his gang.

20. Moreover, it has been also pointed out on behalf of the State that, on being arrested, gangster Vikas Dubey gave statement to the IO revealing that the accused applicants used to give prior information of police activities and on the date of incident also he was informed about the police raid. The gangster is dead and his statement given to police is legally admissible as the same is statement of a dead man. Therefore, it has been submitted that taking into consideration over all circumstances, the culpability is writ large and the accused applicants do not deserve to be released on bail.

21. This case raises certain serious questions which relate to administration of criminal justice system in the country with reference to organized crime and criminals and the role and efficiency of police force in combating the problem. The police force is one of the most important force with great potential, easily approachable to the people facing criminal wrong and law and order problem and the most visible component of the criminal justice system. Like other departments, there has been a general fall and deterioration in the standard of functioning of the police force also. With time, it has been seen that the police force, not as a whole, but in small groups, has gone through a phase of moral and professional deterioration. There are black sheep also in the police force and they reflect upon the whole department which has led to growing concern, and a number of attempts have been made to mend this situation. In this direction, the past few years have been particularly eventful, with a number of positive developments having taken place towards a solution of the problem and the state appears to have observed zero tolerance policy towards organized crime and criminals. Strict and rigorous steps have been taken to break and demolish financial network of gangsters. In future, this shall certainly bring about more and more positive results towards restricting criminal activities and organized crime.

22. Organized crime is not confined to a single state, or any one country and has become an international problem in view of their wide spread network and sometimes they have been also found to be a natural ally of terrorist groups. Organized crime is an act of threat involving murder, kidnapping, gambling, arson, robbery, burglary, extortion or dealing in narcotics or dangerous drugs and other crime. The basic features of organized crime involves a group of individuals that is structured, sophisticated and widely spread across nations; it is a section of society that seeks to operate outside control of the people and government and it is a self-perpetuating, continuing criminal conspiracy for profit and power, using fear and corruption and seeking protection from law. The focus areas of organized crime are smuggling, drug trafficking, women and child trafficking, arms trade, hawala, circulation of fake currency, extortion and contract killing. With financial solidarity, these criminals have entered into business of film financing, hotel business, house building, government contracts and the like. The gangsters are divided into three categories, namely, sharp shooters, money collectors and liaison agents. The liaison agents deal with lawyers and law enforcement officials to resolve legal problems and to ensure easy bail to gangsters. (For details see S M Sharma The Organized Crime in India, Tokyo: United Nations Asia and Far East Institute (UNAFEI), 1999, Vol. 54, pp 24,88)

23. The police force faces some real difficulty in combating with organized crime and criminal activities. The police personnels are mostly not provided with that kind of sophisticated arms which are available in plenty to the gangsters and their gang members. The police stations are mostly under-manned and the strength of police force is remarkably less in comparison to the population. The police has to act in accordance with legal norms and while acting so, they are required to avoid any excesses and human rights violation. They have to behave like a disciplined force actuated to uphold rule of law and motivated by sense of public security and service. The force also face the problem of some police personnels who may be close and in collusion with the local mafia. They can leak the confidential informations and strategy of police for taking action and conducting raid to arrest the gangsters. On the contrary, the organized criminals keep with them all kinds of sophisticated weapons, they use the same indiscriminately and they can cause any amount of damage to the human life and property. Where they are having support from some members of police force, their potential to execute criminal act is adequately enhanced.

24. The problems of police force has been time and again highlighted by several Law Commissions appointed for making recommendations for police reforms and needless to point out that several recommendations have been suggested from time to time. It is pertinent to mention that the Supreme Court has also issued directions in view of recommendations in some of the judgments such as Vineet Narain v Union of India, AIR 1998 SC 889 and Prakash Singh v Union of India, (2006) 8 SCC 1. Professor M P Singh, in his book Police Problems and Dilemmas in India 10 (1989) has discussed the fundamental complexities of Indian police system and has remarked that the police in the country faces tremendous challenges and works under extreme pressure due to a number of reasons such as growing unemployment, deterioration in educational environments, conflicting claims of socio-economic components, fluctuations in political order, rampant corruption etc. Frequent transfers to unfavorable positions or locations have demoralizing effects on the police force and it becomes a survival technique for police to have close relationship with one or other political person.

25. The purpose of the above discussion is to show the prevalent conditions in which the police has to perform the complicated and difficult job of ensuring law and order, maintaining security and peace, preventing crime and taking action against and causing arrest of offenders. These all require home work and team work and if any member of police force starts giving clues about and leak the police strategy, the strategies are bound to fail and shall certainly result sometimes, particularly when police is confronting against organized crime and criminals, in disastrous situation as has resulted in this case. In such situation, policing such police personnels is a big task and it requires early identification of such black sheep, monitoring of their conduct, isolating them and taking immediate strict disciplinary action against them.

26. Now coming to the facts of this case. The accusation against the accused-applicants is that they had close friendly relationship with the gangster Vikas Dubey who and the members of his gang were running organized criminal activities of all sorts and was residing and flourishing within the local jurisdiction of the police station in which both the applicants were posted. IO has examined several witnesses and they have stated about the close relationship of the applicants with the gangster Vikas Dubey and gang. Submission of the learned senior counsel and other counsel for the the applicants is that the witnesses have stated against the applicants only when they have been examined subsequently on second and third time and their subsequent statement is after thought to meet the case against the applicants. Otherwise, the witnesses had not stated anything against the applicants.

27. It is pertinent to mention that gangster Vikas Dubey was arrested in Ujjain and while he was being brought to Kanpur Nagar, the Investigating Officer took his statement. On the way, the police vehicle suffered accident. Vikas Dubey snatched the pistol of IO and attempted to run away from the police custody. He opened fire on police personnels and by police firing in self-defense, he was shot dead. The IO got hospitalized and after being discharged, he wrote the said statement of Vikas Dubey in CD. Some of the part of his statement has been also quoted in the bail application. In brief, Vikash Dubey, giving detailed description of the incident, has stated to the IO that on 2/3.07.2020, he had prior information of police raid at about 04:00 PM and the information was given by SI K.K. Sharma. The JCB of Sultaan Ahmad was working there from the last one and half months and in the night at about 12:00 PM, he called upon driver Rahul Pal with JCB and he got obstructed the road by JCB so that the police suddenly might not come to his house. He further stated that one Rahul Tiwari was harassing him by giving false complaints against him and the police was also supporting him. Therefore, hatred was generated in him towards the police and he had decided that he might be killed but he will give lesson and kill as many as police personnels as he can. He called his associates Raja Ram @ Prem Kumar (maternal brother), Shashi Kant, Shyamu Vajpayee, Chotu Shukla, Jahaan Yadav, Atul Dubey, Daya Shanker Agnihotri, Shiv Tiwari, Vishnu Pal Yadav, Ram Singh, Ramu Vajpayee, Amar Dubey, Prabhat Mishra, Gopal Shaini, Govind Shaini, Dharmendra @ Jeeru Dwivedi, Manish @ Veeru Dwivedi, Dheeraj @ Dheeru Dwivedi, Vitul, Uma Kant @ Guddan @Bada Bauwan, Shivam Dubey, Bal Govind Dubey, Pauwa @ Pradhan Dubey, Shivam @ Dalal, Nandu Yadav and Balloo Musalmaan. Licence holders came with their arms and to the remaining persons, he provided guns, country made pistols and cartridges. CO, Bilhaur, Devendra Mishra was behind him and, therefore, he was brutally killed. He was having animosity with SO, Shivrajpur also as in February, 2020, in the election in Kota, his nephew Aman Tiwari was contesting election and SO Shivrajpur got his man arrested with illegal pistol whereupon he felt very humiliated. His close companions were on the roof with arms and he had made planning on every pathway coming to his house to kill the police personnels. Fortunately, the police force came from the way on which J.C.B. was planted and it made the task very easy and they surrounded the police officials and killed them. When there was power cut, he used code words which was a signal to run away from the place. He had also intended to kill his distant associates in order to implicate the police force but this could not happen. The women of his family and close to him such as Rekha Agnihotri, Kshama, Khushi, Shanti Devi were told to cry seeing the police personnel as "thief-thief". Manu Pandey was also having the knowledge of planning. Thereafter, with the help of his close associates, he went to Ujjain Mahakal Temple.

28. Submission, in this respect, from the side of accused-applicants has been two fold- that the statement of Vikas Dubey is not relevant against accused-applicants as he was the prime accused in the FIR and secondly, he did not state any thing against SO Vinay Tiwari and has only taken the name of SI K K Sharma. From the side of State, it has been contended that the statement of Vikas Dubey is statement of a dead man and it has legal effect under section 32(3) of the Indian Evidence Act. Moreover, other witnesses have stated that SO Vinay Tiwari was very much close to Vikas Dubey through SI K K Sharma and therefore, the statement can be well considered against both the applicants. Section 32(3) provides as follows:

"32 Cases in which statement of relevant fact by person who is dead or cannot be found, etc, is relevant. --Statements, written or verbal, of relevant facts made by a person who is dead, or who cannot be found, or who has become incapable of giving evidence, or whose attendance cannot be procured without an amount of delay or expense which, under the circumstances of the case, appears to the Court unreasonable, are themselves relevant facts in the following cases:--(3) or against interest of maker. -- When the statement is against the pecuniary or proprietary interest of the person making it, or when, if true, it would expose him or would have exposed him to a criminal prosecution or to a suit for damages."

29. It is clear from the reading of section 32(3) that statement of a dead man has been legally recognized and used in evidence even though the same does not relate to the cause of his death. Although, a final view is not required to be expressed at this stage as the same will be considered by the trial court, yet, this much is clear that the statement is of a dead man and the same has legal relevance in view of the provision of the Evidence Act.

30. CDR has been annexed with the bail application at page 156 to 163 to show the relationship of accused-applicants with the gangster. On the basis of study of CDR, the IO has noted that on the date of incident, prior to incident, the accused persons contacted each other and this call pattern is exceptional in the last one month as this type of communication between them is unique; the CDR of the mobile number of Vikas Dubey shows that his location was in Village Bikaru where the incident took place; between Vikas Dubey and co-accused persons of his gang, there is 15 calls by the gangster, again a unique pattern, by which he talked to the co-accused persons which indicates that he was preparing for the incident; Vikas Dubey talked with one police personnel Rajiv Kumar prior to incident which is full of abusive language and threatening to kill police personnels and of committing big criminal incident; it further indicates that he was having prior information of police raid and he was in full preparedness to commit the offence and kill police personnels as many as he can; and call details also show that between co-accused Ramsingh and applicant K.K. Sharma, there were two calls and the location was in Village Bikaru, and as such by the mobile of Ramsingh, Vikas Dubey was in contact before and during the incident. The accusation is that the accused-applicants, particularly accused-applicant K.K. Sharma, were giving information to the gangster and were working as agent to the aid and assistance of the gangster and it is why accused K.K. Sharma kept himself in the police station deliberately and both the accused-applicants had conspired with Vikas Dubey and gang as it was not possible for the accused-applicant Vinay Kumar Tiwari to contact the gangster at the time or during the incident.

31. The learned Senior Counsel for the accused-applicant Vinay Kumar Tiwari has submitted that constable Rajiv himself had also contacted on mobile with Vikas Dubey and as such he should have been also made accused on the basis of the analogy put forward by the State. Moreover, there appears to be no such communication by applicant Vinay Kumar Tiwari with the gangster or his gang-men. The statement of constable Rajiv however shows that he found a miss call of Vikas Dubey and he called back to him. In respect of second argument, it has been submitted by State that applicant Vinay Tiwari used to be in contact with the gangster through K.K. Sharma. Whatever the truth may be, this much is clear that the accused-applicants who were posted in the same police station could not have any professional relationship with the gangster and his men and communication on mobile with him is certainly a relevant circumstance which can be considered during trial.

32. From the side of the State it has been also pointed out that the incident took place in the notified area under the UP Dacoity Affected Area Act and due attention is required to be given to the law provided under section 10 of the Act. The relevant part of Section 10 is as below:

"10. Special provisions regarding bail. - Notwithstanding anything contained in the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973, no person accused or convicted of a scheduled offence shall, if in custody, be released on bail or on his own bond, unless-

(a) the prosecution has been given an opportunity to oppose the application for bail, and

(b) where the prosecution opposes the application for bail, the Court is satisfied that there are reasonable grounds for believing that he is not guilty of such offence:.....…"

Submission is that after investigation, finding sufficient evidence, charge-sheet has been already submitted by police and at this stage there is no reason to believe that the accused- applicants are innocent.

33. From the side of accused-applicants, it has been pointed out that the witnesses examined by the IO initially did not state any thing against the accused-applicants and only in their second and third statements, they have started making allegations against them. As such, their subsequent statement is nothing but an after thought in order to falsely implicate the accused-applicants. It has been specifically mentioned that the allegations have been made by the witnesses mostly in the last part of their statements and a reading thereof shows that the words and expressions used are same and similar which is not possible if statements have been given by the witnesses individually and separately. This contention appears to have no weight as it has been rightly pointed out on behalf of the State that all the statements are part of CD and a view at this stage has to be taken after due consideration to all the material on record.

34. The bail applications have been also opposed on behalf of State on the ground that applicants are police officers and they are in a position to influence the witnesses if they are released on bail. They hatched conspiracy with the gangster and deliberately acted in such a manner which helped the gang in the commission of this offence. It has been submitted that in the counter affidavit dated 25.1.2021, in order to save skin, accused-applicant Vinay Tiwari set up a false case that while he was on patrolling duty on 2.7.2020, he saw Vikas Dubey and his gang-men beating one Rahul Tiwari and while he confronted him, Vikas Dubey pointed his rifle on him and to save himself, he came back and convinced Rahul Tiwari to lodge FIR against Vikas Dubey. The falsity of this version is clear from the two facts, one, this has not been mentioned by the accused-applicant in the relevant GD, and two, this fact has been nowhere mentioned in the FIR of Rahul Tiwari nor it has been mentioned therein that he saved the informant during the said incident. Further submission is that applicant Vinay Kumar Tiwari himself lodged FIR and all papers were either prepared by him or on his direction, and he made all efforts to save his skin and after the applicants were made accused in this case, during investigation, incriminatory things have been revealed against them.

35. Further submission is that the applicant as SHO of concerned police station was very much aware about the activities of Vikas Dubey and was having healthy relation with him. The then Circle officer Sri Devendra Mishra (deceased) had also made a complaint against the working of the applicant highlighting his close relationship with gangster Vikas Dubey. On the date of incident, the raid was planned which is clear from GD entry of 03.07.2020 of 12:27 AM in the mid night about movement of the police team. When the police team reached near the house of accused Vikas Dubey led by Circle Officer, Bilhaur, late Sri Devendra Mishra and SO Shivraj Pur, SHO Bithoor, the applicant requested to be the part of third team and convinced CO, Bilhaur to lead the main team and to enter from the main gate and while the team of CO proceeded towards the gate, they found that a JCB had blocked the main gate and a narrow passage was left there. Anyhow, when they reached close to the gate, suddenly from all the three sides, indiscriminate firing was started from the side of the gangster and his associates. The accused-applicant as per plan had to conduct raid from the right side. But neither he proceeded towards the right side nor he provided any help to the other teams. As such, the conduct of the accused-applicant shows that he was having knowledge of the plan of Vikas Dubey and he was also aware about the topography of the place and he knowingly avoided to lead the team which raided from the main gate and on account of conspiracy, the accused-applicant did not provide necessary information.

36. All the aforesaid contentions relate to one or other circumstance and they will be examined during trial and, therefore, it is not desirable to express any final opinion. The fact is that in the incident, CO Devendra Mishra, SHO Mahesh Kumar Yadav, two Sub Inspectors Anoop Kumar Singh, Nebulal and four Constables Jitendra Kumar, Sultan Singh, Rahul Kumar and Babloo Kumar were brutally murdered and seven police personnels SI Kaushalendra Pratap Singh, SI Sudhakar Pandey, Home Guard Jairam Katiyar, constables Ajay Singh Sengar, Shiv Murat Nishad and Ajay Kumar Kashyap received gun shot injuries and one person also received injury. Perusal of injuries found on the dead bodies shows that several gunshot injuries were caused to them and it was ensured that they could not survive. The gunshot injuries of all the deceased police personnels affirm that injuries were caused from close range as blackening and charring has been found. This also shows intention and knowledge in causing death and extreme culpability on the part of the main accused persons.

37. At no point of time, applicant Vinay Tiwari along with the members of his team responded to provide any backup to the team. While the members of other two teams, late Sri Devendra Mishra, late Sri Mahesh Chandra Yadav and late Nabu Lal, Sub Inspector and from second team SHO Bithur Kaushlendra Singh sustained fire arm injury and from his team five other police personnels including Sub Inspector Anoop Kumar were shot dead, only two persons from the team of accused-applicant sustained injuries who, as submitted, by default joined the first team at the time of firing. The accused-applicant did not receive any injury and this also shows that he avoided active participation in the raid. The accused-applicant deliberately concealed the availability of automatic weapons with gangster Vikas Dubey and also concealed the incident which took place at the time of alleged saving of Rahul Tiwari. For this lapse and misconduct, the accused-applicant was suspended.

38. During the course of investigation, several witnesses present at the time of incident have stated that the accused-applicants were having cordial relationship with accused Vikash Dubey. Constable Rajeev Kumar who was the fellow of applicant Vinay Tiwari has in his first statement stated that the applicant Vinay Tiwari, co-accused Sub Inspector K.K Sharma were having cordial relationship with gangster Vikash Dubey. Constable Abhishek Kumar and others have also stated the same facts. The call details show that Sub Inspector K.K. Sharma on 02.07.2020 made several calls to the gangster and informed them about the raid as he talked with the accused for more than 20 minutes in different calls. There is enough evidence on record to show that the accused-applicants were having very good relationship and soft corner towards Vikas Dubey. This fact has also been stated by accused Kshama and Rekha Agnihotri in their statements.

39. The witnesses have stated that Sub Inspector K.K. Sharma was regularly in touch with the main accused and was regularly informing him about the movement of police team. The call details of K.K. Sharma sufficiently demonstrate his involvement in the crime. Moreover, Applicant Vinay Kumar Tiwari was having jealous and bad relation with Circle Officer Devendra Mishra and it is why he was convinced by accused-applicant to lead from the main gate as a result of which 8 police personnels were killed and 7 policemen received gunshot injuries. After investigation, sufficient credible evidence was found against the accused-applicants showing their involvement in the whole criminal conspiracy which led to the commission of such a horrendous crime. They conspired with gangster Vikas Dubey, leaked confidential information about the raid and facilitated the gangster and his gang to commit such a crime which resulted in death of 8 police officers. The enmity and bad relation of accused-applicant with Circle Officer Devendra Mishra is very much evident and the Investigating Officer has taken note of the viral letter in his CD in which Circle Officer Devendra Mishra had intimated to higher authorities that integrity of Vinay Tiwary was completely doubtful and he was regularly meeting with Vikas Dubey and was communicating with him. It was also complained that if Vinay Tiwari does not modify his conduct, any time some serious incident can take place. With the CD, the report of Sri Devendra Mishra, Circle Officer has been annexed by the accused-applicant in his rejoinder affidavit dated 22.02.2021. At this stage, it cannot be ruled that the said letter of Devendra Mishra is fake as contended on behalf of accused-applicants.

40. It has been also argued from the side of accused-applicants that investigation has been completed and charge-sheet has been already filed in this matter. The applicants are in jail from the last more than one year. Their pretrial detention for such a long period is resulting in deprivation of their right to liberty and freedom. The learned counsel for applicant K.K. Sharma, has relied on the judgments of Dalvir Hussain v State of Gujarat, AIR 1991 SC 56, Pawan Kumar v State of UP, 2015(90) ACC 9 (SC), Mukesh Kumar Kashyap v State of Uttarakhand, 2015(89) ACC 903, State of UP v Rajju, 2005(53) ACC 343, and K R Purushothaman v State of Kerla, 2006(54) ACC 255(SC). Therefore, it has been requested that, taking into consideration overall circumstances and the long period to which they are in jail, the court should take sympathetic view and the applicants should be released on bail.

41. This court is not oblivious about the fact that the release on bail is crucial to the accused as the consequences of pretrial detention are grave. If release on bail is denied to the accused, it would mean that though he is presumed to be innocent till the guilt is proved beyond reasonable doubt, he would be subjected to the psychological and physical deprivations of jail life. The jailed accused loses his job and is prevented from contributing effectively to the preparation of his defence. Equally important, the burden of his detention frequently falls heavily on the innocent members of his family. But, if the accused is involved in a conspiracy for commission of a heinous offence by a hardened criminal, his release on bail will give him an opportunity to abscond or temper with witnesses. Against such crime, social reaction is also sharp. Therefore, a balance between the need for protection of individual liberty which is so important and the requirements of the society for being shielded from the hazards of being exposed to the misadventures of organized crime has to be maintained.

42. The criminal justice system is often criticized for its pro-active approach towards the accused. The rights of the accused are protected not only during trial but also during investigation and even after the delivery of judgment, more particularly when the case has resulted in conviction. The accused cannot be kept in police custody unless with the order of Magistrate and that too is possible only within first fifteen days of his arrest. The bail provisions are liberal and for arresting the accused there must be prima facie evidence collected by the Investigation Officer. He can also be released on anticipatory bail. The accused cannot be put to cruel or inhuman treatment at any stage. There is a strong presumption of innocence in favor of accused and consequently, it creates a heavy burden on prosecution to establish the guilt beyond any shadow of reasonable doubt. The accused has been given constitutional protection against self incrimination and he has right to keep silence throughout and his silence will not be taken adversely against him. Moreover, he enjoys all the rights associated with his fair trial claim including free legal aid and impartial justice delivery. Thus, protection of rights of accused is natural feature of democracy which is accorded for the simple reason that the criminal law machinery is controlled by the State. Accused is given free food, free lodging, free clothes etc. and if he has been directed to undergo rigorous imprisonment, he will have to be paid by the state for the work he has rendered during jail life. But, the victim who is the most adversely affected person by the criminal incident has no such claim. The guilty man is lodged, fed, clothed, entertained and educated by the state at the expense of the public, but ironically, the victim is left to pay for even his medical expenses which may be the result of that criminal event. There is no free education, free housing, free clothing and free food for the victim. The injured party, in the criminal law, often takes a back seat and after being examined in court as witness, he stands aside waiting and watching the criminal justice in action satisfied by conviction and sentence. He is fortunate if he gets a little compensation or even expenses of the litigation. The administration of criminal justice inspired and dominated by human rights and humanitarian causes does every effort to reform, treat and rehabilitate the offender, but does not show equal concern for the poor victim who has suffered loss or injury. (See for details Stephen Schafer, Restitution to victim of crime, Stevens & Sons Ltd., London (1960) p. VII as quoted by Bharat C. Das, Victims in the criminal justice system , 19 (New Delhi), APII Publishing Corporation, 1997, Proff. S.V. Joga Rao, Victim Restitution, the Lawyer, June 1990, p. 17 and Proff. A. Lakshminath & Dr. J. Krishnakumari, Criminal Trial and Justice, ALT publication (2003) p. 258)

43. Crime, corruption and population are three major problems the society is facing at present. While against crime and corruption, particularly when it is organized crime and corruption, strict state action and intervention is necessary to restrict and minimize the same to maximum extent, control over population growth requires legal steps and strategy inclusive of motivation, spread of education and awareness and some positive incentive to those who opt for family planning. Against crime and corruption, the State must continue with the policy of zero tolerance. The political parties should rise above board against crime and corruption without being influenced by consideration of "his man" and "our man" as this approach will not only undermine rule of law but will also damage the democratic set up of the nation.

44. This is not an unknown phenomenon that there are policemen, may be very few in numbers, who show their loyalty more to such gangster than to their department for the reasons best known to them. Such policemen tarnish the image, name and fame of police and it is necessary that suspicious police personnels should be taken to task and their conduct should be regularly monitored for which a mechanism should be evolved, and if it exists already, the same should be geared up at different levels. There is a concerning trend that one or other political party welcomes gangsters and criminals involved in organized crime in the party and try to back and protect them, painting and spreading an imaginary image of Robinhood. They are given tickets to contest elections and sometimes they win also. This trend needs to be stopped as soon as possible. All the political parties should sit and together a decision is required to be taken by them that gangsters and criminals will be discouraged in politics and no political party will give ticket to them in public elections. The political parties should rise to the occasion and must guide themselves keeping in view that there cannot be a concept of "my criminal" and "his criminal" or "my man" and "his man," as a gangster is gangster only and is required to be condemned from all corners and even people/voters should also take note of it while making their choice for a candidate in a general election. We must have the idea in mind that if we are entrusted with responsibility of nation building, our responsibility is to think about the future generation to whom we have to handover a legacy. We need to ponder what kind of nation and society we want to leave for our future generation. A sooner decision is necessary lest one day these gangsters and criminals will become "Bhasmasur" and will give such serious dent to the country and democratic set up which cannot be repaired.

45. The pursuit of life, liberty and peace includes freedom from crime. The State's foremost duty is to provide these basic rights to each citizen. The success of a Criminal Justice System can only be measured by how successful it is in ensuring these rights in word and spirit. The extent to which these rights are successfully protected, will be reflected in the confidence of the public in the system. The organized crime should be treated differently from traditional individual criminality. Conspiracy is an integral aspect of organized crime. There cannot be a direct evidence of conspiracy in such cases and the law has to deal with organized crime on a footing different from that of individual or conventional crime, as regards admissibility and appreciation of the evidence.

46. The discussion aforesaid certainly goes to show that the nature of offence and amount of culpability is serious, heinous, shocking and unprecedented. It is also evident that the main accused persons had prior information of the police raid and naturally, in the present set of facts, this information was revealed by police which not only made the main accused persons alert but also provided them fullest opportunity to prepare for attack and commit such a horrendous crime in which 8 police personnels including the Circle Officer sustained gunshot injuries and died. The situation of crime was such and so sudden that the police force could not get opportunity to sustain and counter and could do nothing. The accusation against the accused-applicants is that they conspired with the main accused for the commission of the offence because of their good relationship and loyalty with main accused and also they wanted to score their personal grudge with the Circle Officer. It is not possible to give a final opinion at this stage. Certain witnesses who were part of the police raid have given evidence against the accused-applicants showing their closeness with the main accused persons which is supported by circumstances such as the magnitude of the crime and the preparedness on the part of gangster Vikas Dubey and his associates; the statement of Vikas Dubey given to the IO before his death that he had prior information about the raid; the conduct of the accused-applicants before and during incident; applicant Vinay Kumar Tiwari though leading one team but did not give any backup support nor sustained any injury and showed complete inaction; and applicant K K Sharma deliberately avoided in participating in raid and the accusation is that he stayed and was deliberately left on police station to pass information to the gangster.

47. In view of the above discussion, the serious and heinous nature of the offence, complicity of the accused-applicants in the conspiracy and taking into consideration overall circumstances of the case, I do not find any reason sufficient to allow the bail applications. Hence, the bail applications of accused-applicants Vinay Kumar Tiwari and K. K. Sharma are rejected.

48. The learned trial court to expedite the trial. If the case is not disposed nor a substantial development is found towards progress of trial in one year, the accused-applicants will be at liberty to move fresh bail application.

49. It is also made clear that no observation of this Court in this order will have any binding effect on the trial court and the case shall be decided on the basis of evidence adduced during trial.

" मुख्या चिकित्साधिकारी, जौनपुर के आदेश के अनुसार मेरी ड्यूटी दिनांक 12.02.2021 को पोस्टमार्टम हाऊस, जौनपुर लगायी गयी थी। मेरे अलावा मेरे पैनल में डा० शाहिद अख्तर, सी०एच०सी० मडियाहूँ व डा०प्रवीण कुमार, सी०एच०सी० रेहटी एंव फार्मासिस्ट अवधेश कुमार, पुलिस लाईन अस्पताल मौजूद थे। दिनांक 12.02.2021को ए०डी०एम० के आदेशानुसार रात्रि 09.10 पी०एम० पर कृष्णा यादव उर्फ पुजारी का शव विच्छेद शुरू किया गया। शव विच्छेद की कार्यावाही की विडियोग्राफी शुभम मौर्या द्वारा की गयी। शव को का० अरविन्द कुमार व का० मनीष कुमार थाना बक्शा द्वारा पोस्टमार्टम हाऊस लाया गया था। पोस्टमार्टम रिपोर्ट पर मेरे पैनल द्वारा निम्न चोटे पायी गयी-

(1) Contusion of size 30 x 20 cm दोनों नितम्बों पर जोकि लाल भूरा रंग लिये हुए था।

(2) Contusion of size 15 x 08 cm लगभग उपरी पीठ पर दोनो तरफ कंधो के पास जोकि लाल भूरा रंग लिये हुए था।

(3) Contusion of size 10 x 08 cmलगभग बाये भुजा पर बाहर तरफ था जोकि नीला रंग लिए हुए था।

उक्त तीनों चोटों के अलावा अन्य कोई जाहिरा चोट नही थी। कोई हड्डी भी टूटी नही थी। किसी धारदार हथियार की भी कोई चोट नही थी।

उक्त चोटे ऐसी प्रकृती की नही थी, जिसमें कि किसी की मृत्यु प्रायः सम्भाव्य हो।

जब शव का विच्छेद किया गया तो प्रथमतः छाती खोलने पर यह पाया गया कि दोनो फेफड़ो में खून भरा हुआ था। पसली में कोई दिक्तत नही थी। सांस नली सामान्य थी। गर्दन में कोई दिक्कत नही थी। हृदय के दो चैम्बरों में खून भरा था। हृदय के दाहिने चैम्बर ' Ventricle' की पिछली दिवार पर 2 x 1 cm का सफेद धब्बा था। जो कि चिन्हित करता है कि उक्त धब्बा MI (दिल का दौरा) 'हृदयाघात' होने की वजह से सम्भाव्य है।"

12.02.2021 after his arrest at about 10:25 P.M. on 11.02.2021 and he was sent to CHC Naupedwa, Jaunpur, at about 02:00 AM on 12.02.2021 for first aid, where Doctor referred him for District Hospital and when the deceased was brought to District Hospital by ambulance he was found dead.

11. Learned A.G.A. has produced before us case diary to impress that as per an alleged slip issued by the Doctor on emergency duty in Amar Sahid Uma Nath Singh District Hospital Jaunpur dated 12.2.2021, the deceased Krishna Yadav was brought dead at the Hospital at about 03:35 A.M. by the Constable Manish Kumar and Constable Samir Kumar, P.S. Baksa.

12. A supplementary affidavit dated 09.08.2021 has been filed by the petitioner annexing therewith three photographs of the dead body of the deceased Krishna Yadav. Averments in this regard have been made by the petitioner in paragraph 3 of the supplementary affidavit dated 09.08.2021 which have not been denied or disputed by the respondent No.2 and the respondent No.3 in separate counter affidavits filed by them. The counter affidavit has been filed on behalf of respondent no.2 by Chaub Singh, Circle Officer Badlapur, District - Jaunpur who replied the contents of paragraphs 2 and 3 of the aforesaid supplementary affidavit, in paragraph 33 of his counter affidavit as under :

"That the contents of paragraph nos. 2 & 3 of the supplementary affidavit refer to post mortem report dated 12.02.2021 and colour photographs of the deceased Krishna Yadav @ Pujari and as per the post mortem report there were three injuries on the person of the deceased and as per opinion of the doctor the said injuries are not sufficient for death and the cause of death of deceased is Shock & Syncope as a result of ante-mortem myocardial infraction and the viscera was preserved for any intoxication. As per the viscera report dated 01.07.2021 issued by the Forensic Science Laboratory, Ram Nagar , Varanasi no Chemical poison was found in viscera."

13. In his counter affidavit dated 06.09.2021, Sri Ajay Kumar Sahani, Superintendent of Police, Jaunpur, has replied paragraph 3 of the aforesaid supplementary affidavit, as under :

"That in reply to the contents of paragraph no.3 of the supplementary affidavit, it is submitted that the post-mortem report shows that there were 3 injuries on the person of deceased and as per the penal of doctors these injuries were not sufficient for death. The cause of death was due to shock and syncope as a result of ante-mortem myocardial infarction."

14. On 03.09.2021 this writ petition was heard at length and a detailed order dated 03.09.2021 was passed, observing as under :-

Despite all these facts well on record and for the reasons best known to the respondents, they have not taken any action against the accuseds pursuant to the impugned FIR but as a matter of eye wash transfer or suspension or attachment order of accuseds were passed. The custodial death of deceased is undisputed. Serious allegations supported by the inquiry witnesses are well on record and and yet for the reasons best known to the respondents, no action has been taken against the accused, instead, it prima facie appears that effort is being made to linger the investigation and carry it in a direction so the accused policemen may escape.

15. When this matter was heard on 06.09.2021 in presence of the Superintendent of Police Jaunpur, this court noted in the order the admission and submissions made by the State-respondents, as under :

"Heard Sri Sarvesh Chaubey, learned counsel for the petitioner, Sri S.K. Pal, learned Government Advocate assisted by Sri Roopak Chaubey, learned AGA for the State-respondents.

On oral request, learned counsel for the petitioner is permitted to implead Central Bureau of Investigation through its Director as respondent no. 5 in the array of parties. He undertakes to serve a copy of the writ petition along with supplementary affidavit and a copy of this order upon the counsel appearing on behalf of C.B.I., during course of the day.

Counter affidavit on behalf of respondent no. 3 dated 6.9.2021 has been filed today, which is taken on record. Sri Ajay Kumar Sahni, Superintendent of Police, Jaunpur is present in the Court in compliance of the order dated 3.9.2021.

Learned Government Advocate admits that the photographs of the deceased filed along with the supplementary affidavit dated 9.8.2021 is undisputed. The contents of paragraph no. 3 of the supplementary affidavit dated 9.8.2021 regarding the aforesaid photographs, have neither been disputed nor denied by the respondent no. 3 in paragraph no. 43 of the counter affidavit dated 6.9.2021. He states that accused police men are absconding and efforts are being made for their arrest. He submits that the present Superintendent of Police namely Sri Ajay Kumar Sahni has taken the charge on 17.6.2021 and thus he was not the Superintendent of Police at the time of registration of first information report no. 0038 of 2021 dated 12.2.2021 under Section 302, 394, 452, 504 IPC in which the SOG team Jaunpur, S.O. Baksa, Ajay Kumar Singh and S.O. Hamrah, Thana Baksa Jaunpur were the accused. He states that one Sri Rajkaran Naiyar was the then Superintendent of Police, Jaunpur.

Learned counsel for the petitioner prays for and is granted a day's time to file rejoinder affidavit.

Put up as fresh on 8.9.2021 at 10:00 A.M. for further hearing before this Bench."

16. The facts as briefly noted above prima facie reveal that the deceased was lifted by the S.H.O. Police Station Baksa and other policemen on 11.02.2021 and, thereafter he remained in the custody. The story of accident of the deceased in the afternoon of 11.02.2021 is a story prima facie developed by the police so as to give a different colour for the death of the deceased. As per own case of the police and G.D. entry, the deceased was arrested at about 10:25 A.M. on 11.02.2021 but he was brought to the police station at about 01:30 A.M. on 12.02.2021 and no treatment was required. Surprisingly, telephone calls were made to Sub-inspector Sunil Kumar Tiwari, Constable Manish Kumar and Constable Sameer Kumar between 01:30 A.M. to 01:45 A.M. requiring them to come to the police station to carry the deceased for first aid/ treatment. As per statement given by these three police personnel before the C.J.M., Jaunpur, they took the deceased at about 02:00 A.M. on 12.02.2021 to bring him to C.H.C. Naupedwa, Jaunpur.

17. As per police story, the aforesaid S.I. Sunil Kumar Tiwari, Constables Manish Kumar and Sameer Kumar also brought the deceased to District Hospital, Jaunpur. But perusal of their statement before the C.J.M. reveals that they had neither carried nor brought the deceased to the District Hospital rather they returned from C.H.C. Nawpedwa. As per photo-stat copy of the entry in the register at C.H.C. Nawpedwa, Jaunpur at serial No.E-3092, Krishna Yadav, when brought to the C.H.C., Naupedwa, Jaunpur, was unconscious and his B.P. and P.P. were not found and after thorough examination, the doctor referred him to District Hospital, Jaunpur at 01:55 A.M. The aforesaid photo stat copy of the register of C.H.C. Naupedwa, Jaunpur, has been produced before us by the learned A.G.A. stating it to be part of the case diary. Thus, when as per own case of the respondents, they took the deceased Krishna Yadav at about 02.00 A.M. on 12.02.2021 from the police station Baksa, then how it is possible that the doctor after thorough examination, has referred the deceased for District Hospital at 01:55 A.M. That apart, the doctor at the C.H.C. has found the deceased in an unconscious condition and his B.P. and P.P. were not found whereas the G.D. entry shows that the deceased was merely making some complain of pain in stomach. Surprisingly, the aforesaid three policemen who brought Krishna Yadav to C.H.C. Naupedwa, have stated that they have not seen any scratch or injury on the body of Krishna Yadav who has also not told about injuries and who told the doctor about pain in stomach, WHEREAS as per entries made by the doctor in the register at the C.H.C. Naupedwa, the Krishna Yadav was unconscious and his B.P. and P.P. were not found. Thus, the police story and G.D. entries are prima facie false and a criminal act to divert investigation in a wrong direction by manipulating evidences so as to defeat the rule of law and fair investigation. The respondents have set up a case that the deceased was carried by the aforesaid Sub Inspector Sunil Kumar Tiwari, Constable Manish Kumar and Constable Sameer Kumar from the police station to C.H.C. Naupedwa, Jaunpur and thereafter from the C.H.C., Naupedwa to the District Hospital Jaunpur, but these three persons have stated in their statement before the C.J.M., Jaunpur that they carried the deceased only upto C.H.C. Naupedwa Jaunpur and thereafter, they came back. Thus, the story developed by the respondents that the deceased was brought to District Hospital, Jaunpur by the aforesaid Sub Inspector and Constable, is itself not supported by their statements.

18. It is admitted case of the respondents that the deceased had received various injuries, which is reflected from the G.D. Entry No. 05. The statement made by the mother and brother of the deceased before the C.J.M., Jaunpur regarding brutal beating by the police and consequent injuries to the deceased, prima facie corroborates with the photographs of the deceased and a little reference in the G.D. entry No. 5. Surprisingly, the post mortem report does not contain the injuries present on vital part of the body of the deceased which can be easily seen in the undisputed photographs filed alongwith the supplementary affidavit. Thus, prima facie, post mortem report also appears to be manipulated or procured under undue influence.

19. In paragraph 6 of the writ petition the petitioner has stated that the incident of lifting the deceased by the Police on 11.02.2021 was informed to the Superintendent of Police Jaunpur over telephone (mobile phone) and by sending messages but no action was taken. Copy of call details and messages have been filed as Annexure No.3 which have not been disputed by the Respondent Nos. 2 & 3 both in their counter affidavits. In paragraph 5 of the writ petition the petitioner has stated about some independent eye witnesses and some family members who submitted their notarized statement before the District Magistrate and the Superintendent of Police, Jaunpur. Copies of statements of Ajay, Kanshraj, Chandrabhan and Saraswati Devi have been filed collectively as Annexure No.2. But in their counter affidavits the respondent Nos. 2 and 3 vaguely denied it without denying the fact of statements and its contents. From the records of the writ petition and the report of the C.J.M., Jaunpur dated 25.6.2021 it appears that the deceased was preparing for election of Village Panchayat and he was threatened by the SHO Baksha.

20. The statements given by witness and filed alongwith the writ petition as referred in paras above, are reproduced below :-

दफा-12 मैं बहलफ बयान करता हूँ कि मेरे व परिवार वालो के विरोध करने पर बन्दूक दिखाकर चुप करा दिया। और दरवाजा पीटने लगे। अन्दर मेरे छोटे भाई प्रदीप यादव की पत्नी कोमल यादव शोरगुल और दरवाजा जोर-जोर से पीटने की वजह से दरवाजा खोला। तो उसको भद्दी-भद्दी गाली देते हुए हाथ पकड़कर धक्का देते हुए घर से बाहर निकाल दिया। घर में घुसकर बक्शे का ताला तोड़कर बक्शे में रखा 60 हजार रूपया जो मैने अपने मौसा संतोष यादव पुत्र ज्वाला यादव से खेत जो मेरा रेहन पर था छुड़ाने के लिए लिया था।

दफा-15 मैं बहलफ बयान करता हूँ कि मेरे व परिवार के पूछने पर कि साहब मेरे भाई ने क्या गलती की है जो आप इसे इतना मारे है और हम गरीब लोगो को क्यो सता रहे है। तो S.O अजय कुमार सिंह ने गाली देते हुए कहा कि चुप रहो नही तो तुम्हारा भी यही हाल करेंगे। और पैसा लाओ तभी तुम्हारे भाई को छोड़ेगे अगर पैसा नही दोगे तो तुम्हारे भाई की जान ले लेंगे। हत्या कर देंगे। मैं व मेरा पूरा परिवार पुलिस वालो के सामने हाथ जोड़कर रोने लगे कि साहब मेरे भाई को छोड़ दो। लेकिन भद्दी-भद्दी साली देते हुए मेरे भाई को घसीटते हुए लेकर चले गये।

दफा-21 मैं बहलफ बयान करता हूँ कि उक्त घटना की सूचना मुख्यमंत्री उ० प्र० सरकार को I.G.R.S के माध्यम तथा मानवाधिकार आयोग के फैक्स के माध्यम से सूचना दिया व अपने परिवार वालो को सूचना दिया।

दफा-1 मैं बहलफ बयान करती हूँ कि मैं उपरोक्त नाम व पते की मूल निवासिनी हूं तथा मेरे नाम व वल्दियत का कोई अन्य महिला मेरे मौजे मे नही है।

दफा-2 मैं बहलफ बयान करती हूँ कि कृष्णा यादव उर्फ पुजारी मेरा लड़का था।

दफा-3 मैं बहलफ बयान करती हूँ कि दिनांक- 11.02.2021 को समय लगभग 3.00 बजे करीबी सौरभ पाठक नाम का लड़का मोटरसाईकिल से मेरे घर पर आया कृष्णा यादव से कहे चलो तुम्हें एस० ओ० बक्शा बक्शा अजय कुमार सिंह बुला रहे हैं। मेन रोड पर खड़े है। जब मेरा लड़का कृष्णा सौरभ पाठक गाड़ी पे

दफा-4 मैं बहलफ बयान करती हूँ मेरे लड़के कृष्णा को ले जाने के बाद दिनांक 11.02.2021 रात्रि 8.00 बजे मैं व मेरा परिवार ओसार में बैठकर बात चीत कर रहे थे हमारी छोटी बहु कोमल यादव की तबियत खराब होने की वजह से घर के अन्दर सोई थी बिना वजह कृष्णा को पुलिस वालें क्यों लेकर गये इसी विषय मे बात चीत कर रहे थे। तभी थाना एस० ओ० अजय कुमार सिंह व 10-12 पुलिस वालें कुछ वर्दी मे कुछ सादे वर्दी में मेरे घर पर आये और भद्दी- भद्दी गाली देने लगे मेरे व मेरे परिवार के पुछने पर की मेरा बेटा कहा है तो पुलिस वालें ने गाली देते हुए बोला तुम्हारा लड़का थाने में है।

दफा-5 मैं बहलफ बयान करती हूँ कि मेरे व परिवार वालों के विरोध करने पर बन्दूक दिखाकर चुपकरा दिया और दरवाजा जोर- जोर से पिटने लगें अन्दर मेरी छोटी बहु कोमल शोर-गुल और दरवाजा जोर- जोर से पीटने की वजह से दरवाजा खोला तो उसको भद्दी-भद्दी गाली देते हुए हाथ पकड़क धक्का देते हुए घर से बाहर निकाल दिया घर मे घुसकर बक्शे का ताला तोड़कर बक्शे मे रखा हुआ 60 हजार रूपया निकाल लिये और घर के अन्दर रखा हुआ खाना पीना फेक दिया और धमकाते हुए व भद्दी- भद्दी गाली देते हुए बोले की अगर तुम लोग हल्ला गुल्ला करोगे तो तुम सब को भी मारेंगे और तुम्हारे लड़के को जान से मार देगे। जाते समय घर पर रखी अपाची मोटरसाईकिल यू० पी० 62 बी० एफ० 3621 उठा ले गये।

दफा-6 मैं बहलफ बयान करती हूँ कि पुनः 11/12.02.2021 रात्रि 12.30 बजे मेरे घर पर वही पुलिस वालें जो रात्रि 8.00 बजे आये थे वही पुलिस वाले मेरी लड़के कृष्णा यादव को घसीटते हुए घर पर लायें तो मेरे लड़का ठीक से खड़ा नहीं हो पा रहा था। दो पुलिस वालें पकड़े हुए थे। बाहर पड़ी चारपाई पर उसे फेक दिया। मेरा लड़का जोर-जोर से कराह रहा था मां, मां मुझे बचा लो। पुलिस वाले मुझे बहुत मारे है और मेरी हत्या कर देंगे घर में जो कुछ पैसा हो लाकर इन्हें दे दो और मेरी जान बचा लो। उसके बाद पुलिस वालें मेरे लड़के का बाल पकड़ कर चारपाई से जमीन पर पटक दिया।

दफा-7 मैं बहलफ बयान करती हूँ कि पुलिस वाले से पुछी साहब मेरे लड़के की क्या गलती है जो आप इसे इतना मारे है और हम गरीब लोगों को क्यों सता रहे हैं। फिर पुलिस वालें भद्दी-भद्दी गाली देते हुए मेरे लड़के को घसीटते हुए लेकर चले गये। और पुलिस वाले ने बोला पैसा लाओं तभी तुम्हारे लड़के को छोड़ेगे नहीं तो जान से मार देगें।

दफा-9 मैं बहलफ बयान करती हूँ कि मेरे बेटे कृष्णा उर्फ पुजारी की मृत्यु पुलिस वालों के द्वारा मारने पीटने से हुई। अब पुलिस वालों द्वारा मेरे बेटे के ऊपर झूठा मुकदमा करके मनगढ़न्त कहानी बना रहे है पुलिस वालों द्वारा लीपा-पोती की जा रही है।

दफा-10 मैं बहलफ बयान करती हूँ कि हलफनामा मेरे निजी ज्ञान में सच व सही है न कोई बात झूठ है न छिपायी गयी, ईश्वर मेरी मदद करें।

22. As per the alleged Hospital slip being part of the case diary produced today in court by the learned Government Advocate in presence of the respondent No.3, the deceased was brought dead by the Police at District Hospital Jaunpur at about 3:35 A.M. On 12.02.2021, whereas, the Superintendent of Police Jaunpur and the District Magistrate Jaunpur have stated in their letters all dated 12.02.2021 sent to the National Human Rights Commission New Delhi and the District Judge Jaunpur that KRISHNA Yadav had died during treatment at 03:35 P.M. at District Hospital, Jaunpur. These facts have been mentioned by us only as instances.

23. Sri Gyan Prakash, learned counsel for the respondent No.5 submits that if this court directs then investigation shall be carried by the respondent No.5.

24. Perusal of the counter affidavit and copy of the case diary as produced before us by the learned G.A. Prima facie shows that entire effort of the police is to some how give clean chit to the accuseds and for this purpose important evidences are being left and some evidences are being created and manipulated. But presently we do not want to comment any more since fair investigation is yet to be carried by an independent and impartial Agency.

25. The facts mentioned above have been noted by us and brief discussion has been made by us only for the purposes to see as to whether investigation by the police has been carried honestly, fairly, diligently or attempt is being made to shield guilty police officers/policemen and to manufacture/create false evidences. Ultimately, whether the accused policemen have committed offence of murder and other offences and whether the then

Superintendent of Police, Jaunpur and Circle Officer, Jaunpur were influencing the investigation and are creating false evidences, are matters of investigation. There are sufficient material on record which prima facie reveal commission of offence by the accuseds and involvement of higher officers in consiperacy, destroying evidences and creating false evidences to protect the accuseds. Fair investigation is the foundation for a fair trial. In the present set of facts fair investigation by State Police appears to be not possible in view of all the brief facts and circumstances noted above.

26. This court in writ jurisdiction does not intend to enter into these areas, but with the sole purpose as to whether fair investigation is being done or not, the facts in brief have been noted by us. Therefore, the investigation by any agency in a fair manner, shall not be influenced by any of the observations made by us.

27. Today, learned Government Advocate has stated before us that from the last three days, efforts are being made for arrest of the accused, but they are absconding and therefore, N.B.Ws. have been obtained for their arrest, but they could not be arrested so far.

28. The facts as briefly noted above would further prima facie reveal that officers of the I.P.S. rank also have some involvement in the murder/death of the deceased Krishna Yadav, who died in police custody, allegedly due to brutal beating by the accused policemen.

29. Post mortem report as well as alleged slip dated 12.02.2021 issued by the District Hospital also prima facie appears to have been managed/fabricated. Serious allegations have been made against the police personnel, which cannot be said to be completely without evidence.

30. In the case of K.V. Rajendran vs. Superintendent of Police vs. CBCID, South Zone, Chennai and others (2013) 12 SCC 480 (Paras-13, 14 and 17), Hon'ble Supreme Court observed that investigation can be transferred from the State Investigating Agency to any other independent agency like CBI and the power of transferring such investigation should be exercised in rare and exceptional cases where the court finds it necessary in order to do justice between the parties and to instil confidence in the public mind or where investigation by the State Police lacks credibility and it is necessary for having "a fair, honest and complete investigation" and particularly when it is imperative to retain public confidence in the impartial work of the State Agencies. In the aforesaid case, Hon'ble Supreme Court referred to its decision in Rubabbuddin Sheikh v. State of Gujarat & Ors (2010) 2 SCC 200 and observed that in order to do justice and instil confidence in the minds of the victims as well of the public, the State Police Authorities could not be allowed to continue with the investigation when allegations and offences were mostly against top officials. It was further observed that where high officials of State authorities are involved, or the accusation itself is against the top officials of the investigating agency thereby allowing them to influence the investigation, and further that it is so necessary to do justice and to instil confidence in the investigation or where the investigation is prima facie found to be tainted/biased, the court could exercise its Constitutional powers for transferring an investigation from the State investigating agency to any other independent investigating agency like CBI only in rare and exceptional cases.

31. In Mithilesh Kumar Singh vs. State of Rajasthan and others (2015) 9 SCC 795 (Para-15), Hon'ble Supreme Court while emphasizing the need of fair, proper and impartial investigation, considered the transfer of investigation to CBI and held as under:

"15. Suffice it to say that transfers have been ordered in varied situations but while doing so the test applied by the Court has always been whether a direction for transfer, was keeping in view the nature of allegations, necessary with a view to making the process of discovery of truth credible. What is important is that this Court has rarely, if ever, viewed at the threshold the prayer for transfer of investigation to CBI with suspicion. There is no reluctance on the part of the Court to grant relief to the victims or their families in cases, where intervention is called for, nor is it necessary for the petitioner seeking a transfer to make out a cast-iron case of abuse or neglect on the part of the State Police, before ordering a transfer. Transfer can be ordered once the Court is satisfied on the available material that such a course will promote the cause of justice, in a given case."

32. The criminal justice system mandates that any investigation into the crime should be fair, in accordance with law and should not be tainted. It is equally important that interested or influential persons are not able to misdirect or hijack the investigation, so as to throttle a fair investigation resulting in the offenders escaping punitive course of law. These are important facets of the rule of law. Breach of rule of law amounts to negation of equality under Article 14 of the Constitution of India. Article 21 of the Constitution of India makes it clear that the procedure in criminal trials must be right, just and fair and not arbitrary, fanciful or oppressive, vide Menka Gandhi vs. Union of India AIR 1978 SC 597 (para-7) and Vinubhai Haribhai Malviya and others vs. State of Gujrat and another AIR 2019 SC 5233 (paras-16 and 17) and Subramanian Swamy vs. C.B.I. (2014) 8 SCC 682 (para-86). Article 21 enshrines and guarantees the precious right of life and personal liberty to a person which can only be deprived on following the procedure established by law in a fair trial which assures the safety of the accused. The assurance of a fair trial is the first imperative of the dispensation of justice, vide Commissioner of Police, Delhi vs. Registrar, Delhi High Court, New Delhi AIR 1997 SC 95 (para-16). The ultimate aim of all investigation and inquiry whether by the police or by the Magistrate is to ensure that those who have actually committed a crime, are correctly booked and those who have not, are not arraigned to stand trial. This is the minimal and fundamental requirement of Article 21 of the Constitution of India. Interpretation of provisions of Cr.P.C. needs to be made so as to ensure that Article 21 is followed both in letter and in sprit. "A speedy trial" is the essence of companion in concept in "fair trial". Both being inalienable jurisprudentially, the guarantee under Article 21 of the Constitution of India embraces both life and liberty of the accused as well as interest of the victim, his near and dear ones as well as of the community at large and, therefore, cannot be alienated from each other. A fair trial includes fair investigation as reflected from Articles 20 and 21 of the Constitution of India. If the investigation is neither effective nor purposeful nor objective nor fair, the courts may if considered necessary, may order fair investigation, further investigation or reinvestigation as the case may be to discover the truth so as to prevent miscarriage of justice. However, no hard and fast rules as such can be prescribed by way of uniform and universal invocation and decision shall depend upon facts and circumstances of each case.

33. Fair and proper investigation is the primary duty of the investigating officer. In every civilized society, the police force is invested with powers of investigation of a crime to secure punishment for the criminal and it is in the interest of the society that the investigating agency must act honestly and fairly and not resort to fabricating false evidence or creating false clues only with a view to secure conviction because such acts shake the confidence of the common man not only in the investigating agency but in the ultimate analysis in the system of dispensation of criminal justice. Proper result must be obtained by recourse to proper means, otherwise it would be an invitation to anarchy, vide Rampal Pithwa Rahidas vs. State of Maharastra 1994 Suppl, (2) SCC 73 (para-37). Investigation must be fair and effective and must proceed in the right direction in consonance with the ingredients of the offence and not in a haphazard manner moreso in serious case. Proper and fair investigation on the part of the investigating officer is the backbone of rule of law vide Sasi Thomas vs. State (2006) 12 SCC 421 (para-15 and 18).

34. Therefore, considering the fact and circumstances of the case in its entirety and applying the principles of law aforenoted, we direct the respondent no.5 to investigate forthwith in FIR No. 0038/2021, dated 12.02.2021 under Sections 302, 394, 452 & 504 I.P.C. P.S. - Baksa, District - Jaunpur, and accordingly investigation is transferred/entrusted forthwith to the respondent No.5. The respondent nos. 1, 2, 3 & 4 shall ensure that the entire evidences and papers relating to the aforesaid case crime/FIR are transferred to Investigating Officer of the respondent No.5 for investigation. An affidavit of compliance shall be filed on behalf of the respondent no.5 and also by the State-respondents on or before the next date fixed.

35. Put up as a fresh case on 20.09.2021 at 02:00 P.M. before this bench for further hearing.

In paragraph 8 of the writ petition it has been stated that the petitioner is engaged in supply of goods in market. As per allegations in the impugned first information report, the petitioner was carrying 8 bundle of betel-nuts and tobacco. The only allegation in the impugned first information report is that on being asked by the informant Sub Inspector, the petitioner could not show valid papers relating to transportation of betel-nuts and tobacco and for that reason the impugned first information report has been registered under Sections 420/188 IPC and Section 63 of the Copy Right Act, 1957. Sections 188, 415 and 420 I.P.C. read as under:-

"188. Disobedience to order duly promulgated by public servant.-Whoever, knowing that, by an order promulgated by a public servant lawfully empowered to promulgate such order, he is directed to abstain from a certain act, or to take certain order with certain property in his possession or under his management, disobeys such direction, shall, if such disobedience causes or tends to cause obstruction, annoyance or injury, or risk of obstruction, annoyance or injury, to any person lawfully employed, be punished with simple imprisonment for a term which may extend to one month or with fine which may extend to two hundred rupees, or with both;

and if such disobedience causes or trends to cause danger to human life, health or safety, or causes or tends to cause a riot or affray, shall be punished with imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to six months, or with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, or with both."

"415. Cheating.-Whoever, by deceiving any person, fraudulently or dishonestly induces the person so deceived to deliver any property to any person, or to consent that any person shall retain any property, or intentionally induces the person so deceived to do or omit to do anything which he would not do or omit if he were not so deceived, and which act or omission causes or is likely to cause damage or harm to that person in body, mind, reputation or property, is said to "cheat"."

"420. Cheating and dishonestly inducing delivery of property.- Whoever cheats and thereby dishonestly induces the person deceived to deliver any property to any person, or to make, alter or destroy the whole or any part of a valuable security, or anything which is signed or sealed, and which is capable of being converted into a valuable security, shall be punished with imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to seven years, and shall also be liable to fine."

Basic ingredient of cheating is whoever, by deceiving any person, fraudulently or dishonestly induces the person so deceived to deliver any property to any person, or to consent that any person shall retain any property, or intentionally induces the person so deceived to do or omit to do anything which he would not do or omit if he were not so deceived, and which act or omission causes or is likely to cause damage or harm to that person in body, mind, reputation or property. None of the ingredients of cheating, as defined under Section 415 is reflected from the impugned first information report.

That apart, the basic requirement of presence of two persons is also absent. Since the alleged act does not prima facie falls within the meaning of word "cheating", consequently no case is made out under Section 420 I.P.C. on bare reading of the impugned first information report. Section 188 I.P.C. relates to disobedience of the order promulgated by a public servant. There is no allegation in the impugned first information report that the petitioner has disobeyed the order promulgated by a public servant. Thus, prima facie from bare reading of the impugned first information report no offence is made out under Section 420/188 I.P.C.

Similarly, mere alleged failure to show the invoices to the informant Sub Inspector at the time of interception of the vehicle and without presence of any of the ingredients of an offence under Section 63 of the Copy Right Act, the allegation of commission of offence under Section 63 is prima facie not made out.

Prima facie the impugned first information report appears to be malicious and grave abuse of power by the informant Sub Inspector i.e. respondent no. 3. If the goods were not accompanied by proper documents for transportation, it is only the authorities under the U.P. Goods and Service Tax Act, 2017/Central Goods and Service Tax Act, 2017 and I.C.S.T. Act, 2017, as the case may be, are empowered to check and take action in accordance with law, as provided under the relevant Acts and Rules. But the police has no authority to check invoices etc. and accounting the goods during transportation.

The impugned first information report, on the very face of it, prima facie, reflects ill intention of the informant and obstruction in free flow of trade and commerce.

The Petitioner has filed copy of tax invoices of Divya Chemicals, M/s Sijariya Traders and D.C. Trading Company as Annexure-2 to the writ petition. If these tax invoices suffer from any irregularity or infirmity, it is the tax authority under GST Act to look into and take action in accordance with law, including seizure of the goods under Section 129 of the U.P. GST/CGST Act.

Let a counter affidavit be filed by the respondents by means of a personal affidavit of Superintendent of Police, Jalaun within three days. In his counter affidavit, the respondents shall also show cause that in the event the impugned first information report, lodged by the informant-respondent no. 3 (Sub Inspector), is found to be malicious and abuse of power, then why exemplary cost may not be imposed upon respondent no. 3, to be recovered from his personal assets. If the Superintendent of Police, Jalaun finds that wrong has been committed by the Sub Inspector (respondent no. 3), then before filing his affidavit, he may take appropriate action in accordance with law.

Put up as a fresh case on 18.08.2021 at 10.00 a.m.

Considering the facts and circumstances of the case, as an interim measure it is provided that till the next date fixed, the petitioner shall not be arrested pursuant to the impugned first information report.

Order Dated 24.08.2021

Heard Sri Anil Kumar Srivastava, learned counsel for the petitioner, Sri M.C. Chaturvedi, learned Additional Advocate General assisted by Sri Shiv Kumar Pal, learned Government Advocate and Sri Rishi Chadhdha, learned AGA for the State-respondents.

A personal affidavit dated 23.8.2021 of Sri Avanish Kumar Awasthi, Additional Chief Secretary, Home, Government of UP and a personal affidavit dated 24.8.2021 of Sri Ravi Kumar, Superintendent of Police, Jalaun, have been filed today, which are taken on record.

We have confronted learned Additional Advocate General with the orders dated 13.8.2021 and 18.8.2021 and contents of the aforesaid two affidavits filed today by the respondent no. 1 and 4 respectively and we are constrained to observe that misleading affidavits have been filed by respondent nos. 1 and 4 both.

Despite our repeated orders, the respondents are not able to show their authority to interfere with the movement of goods in the normal course of business. They have also not been able to show the commission of any cognizable offence under Indian Penal Code or under any other criminal law as well as their authority to register the impugned FIR with respect to the goods in question.

For the detailed reasons mentioned in our earlier orders dated 13.8.2021 and 18.8.2021, it appears that there have been no change in the approach of respondents authorities to protect their gross illegal, arbitrary and unconstitutional action. Consequently, this Court is left with no option except to direct the respondent nos. 1, 3 and 4 to remain personally present before this Court, tomorrow to show cause that why appropriate orders, adverse to them, may not be passed and why the exemplary cost may not be imposed.

Let the policy of 'Ease of Doing Business' be also produced by the Additional Chief Secretary, Home, tomorrow.

Put up tomorrow i.e. 25.8.2021 at 10.00 a.m., as fresh for further hearing."

3. In compliance to our order dated 24.08.2021, Sri Avanish Kumar Awasthi, Additional Chief Secretary (Home), Sri Ravi Kumar, Superintendent of Police and Sri Kedar Singh, Sub-Inspector, P.S. Nadigaon, District Jalaun, are personally present in court.

4. The Additional Chief Secretary and Superintendent of Police stated before this court through the learned Additional Advocate General that charge-sheet has been expunged and now a final report in relation to the impugned first information report has been submitted and, therefore, no cause of action survives in the present writ petition.

5. The Additional Chief Secretary (Home) and the Superintendent of Police, both have separately filed their personal affidavits today, which are taken on record. In paragraphs 7 to 14 of his personal affidavit, the Additional Chief Secretary (Home), has stated as under:

"7. That there are certain developments, which are being brought on record by means of the present personal – affidavit.

8. That the deponent tenders his unconditional and unfettered apology before this Hon'ble Court for the inconvenience caused to this Hon'ble Court, though the same was inadvertent.

9. That vide order dated 24.08.2021, the Superintendent of Police, Jalaun has passed suspension order by which the Sub-Inspector, namely Kedar Singh has been put under suspension in contemplation of departmental inquiry*. It is relevant to submit that Kedar Singh was the first informant of case crime no.0015 of 2021 under section 420, 188 IPC and section 63 of Copy Right Act, Police Station Nadigaon, District Jalaun.*

10. That it is further submitted that vide order dated 24.08.2021, the Superintendent of Police, Jalaun has also passed a suspension order in contemplation of departmental inquiry against Sub-Inspector, namely Mr. Dinesh Kumar Giri. The abovenamed Sub-Inspector was the investigating officer of case crime no. 15 of 2021 under sections 420; 188 IPC and section 63 of Copy Right Act, Police Station Nadigaon, District Jalaun.

11. That vide order dated 24.08.2021 passed by the Superintendent of Police, Jalaun, the Incharge Inspector (the then SHO of police station Nadigaon), namely Roop Krishna Tripathi, has also been suspended in contemplation of the departmental inquiry.

12. That Vide order dated 24.08.2021 passed by the Superintendent of Police, Jalaun, the investigation of case crime no. 15 of 2021 under sections 420, 188 IPC and section 63 of Copy Right Act has been transferred to the Circle Officer City, namely Mr. Santosh Kumar.

13. That Mr. Santosh Kumar, Circle Officer City, district Jalaun, has submitted a report before the Superintendent of Police, Jalaun recommending therein that the charge sheet dated 16.06.2021 may be cancelled. The Superintendent of Police, Jalaun after going through the report, has permitted the cancellation of the charge sheet dated 16.06.2021 submitted in case crime no. 15 of 2021 under sections 420, 188 IPC and section 63 of Copy Right Act lodged at police station Nadigoan, district Jalaun.

6. In his personal affidavit, the Superintendent of Police, Jalaun has also made averments similar to the averments made by the Additional Chief Secretary in his personal affidavit.

7. During the course of submissions, the Additional Chief Secretary (Home) through the learned Additional Advocate General, has produced a note on "Ease of Doing Business" policy but perusal thereof shows that no step has yet been taken by the State Government to protect trade, commerce and industry from grossly illegal, unauthorised or unconstitutional actions of government officers/ employees at all level, particularly at the ground level. If steps in this regard are taken by the State Government then it may prove to be a boon for the policy of "Ease of Doing Business," economy of the State and job opportunities to people, on one hand and on the other hand it may strengthen public faith in the Rule of Law.

8. Since in relation to the impugned first information report, a final report has been submitted as stated in the afore-quoted paragraphs of the personal affidavit of the Additional Chief Secretary (Home), therefore, we do not find any good reason to proceed further in the matter. Therefore, the writ petition is disposed off with the direction that the Additional Chief Secretary (Home) shall take all necessary steps to ensure that police authorities may not act without authority of law and may not interfere with the movement of goods in the ordinary course of business except by authority of law and the policy of the State Government "Ease of Doing Business" is implemented in letter and spirit. The respondent No.1 and 4 shall ensure that the departmental proceedings initiated against the erring officers as stated in the aforequoted paragraphs of the affidavit of Additional Chief Secretary (Home), are concluded in accordance with law within THREE MONTHS.

9. Personal presence of all the afore-noted officers, is exempted.

10. With the aforesaid directions, the writ petition is disposed off.

Amount enhanced.

Appeal partly allowed. (E-9)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Manish Mathur, J.)

1. Heard Mr. Shantanu Gupta, learned counsel holding brief for Mr. Pritish Kumar, learned counsel for appellant and Mr. Mahendra Kumar Mishra, learned counsel appearing on behalf of respondent.

2. First appeal from order has been filed under Section XXIII of the Railway Claims Tribunal Act,1987 against the judgment and award dated 16.12.2002 passed in Claim Case No.0A0100204 (Smt. Manju Yadav Vs. Union of India) whereby claim of appellant has been rejected on the ground that death of predecessor-in-interest of the claimants has occurred on account of suicide having been committed by him and is thus not liable for compensation in terms of Section 124-A of the Railways Act 1989.

3. In the claim petition, it is averred that the deceased had travelled from Etawah to New Delhi by train no.4517 Unchahar Express on 06.10.2000, and as per assertion of the claimants the deceased was having second class general journey ticket. It was claimed that when the train was passing Jaswant Nagar Railway Station, the deceased accidentally fell from the compartment and sustained injuries resulting in his instant death. It was claimed that the journey ticket was lost during course of incident. It was also claimed that the entire incident has been witnessed by an eye witness namely Netra Pal Singh Yadav who was produced as plaintiff witness to substantiate and corroborate the claim petition.

4. The respondent-claimant had filed written statement denying its liability primarily on the ground that the deceased was not a passenger in the aforesaid train and since he was not a bona fide passenger, the alleged accident does not come within the ambit of an 'untoward incident' and therefore the railways is not liable to compensate under the exception provided under Section 124-A of the Act.

5. The tribunal has framed four issues which are as follows:-

"1. Whether applicants are only dependents of the deceased Amod Yadav within the meaning of Section 123(b) of the Railways Act ?

2. Whether on 06.10.2000, the deceased Amod Yadav was bonafide passenger of the train no.4517, Unchahar Express ?

3. Whether on 06.10.2000, death of the deceased was caused due to an untoward incident as defined in Section 123(c) of the Railways Act?

4. Relief & costs?"

6. With regard to issue no.1, the tribunal has held in favour of the claimants while issues no.2 and 3 were decided conjointly in which the tribunal has held against the claimants while recording a finding that the deceased was not a bona fide passenger and was not victim of the incident of accidental falling from the train due to which the railways was protected under exception indicated in Section 124 (A) of the Act.

7. From material on record, it is evident that the Panchnama being paper no.11/1 to 11/4 and the post mortem report being paper no.11/5 are on record which relate to an unknown male person having died due to decapitation on account of falling down from the train. Since there is no dispute about claimants being dependents of deceased the following points for determination are being framed:

(a) whether the deceased Amod Yadav can be said to be a bona fide passenger of the train no.4517 Unchahar Express and died owing to an accident on 06.10.2000.

(b) whether the railways would be liable to satisfy the claim of the claimant in view of Sections 123 and 124A of the Act.

8. The aforesaid issues being conjoint are therefore being decided together.

9. Learned counsel for appellant has submitted that the tribunal has erred in failing to consider the testimony of eye witness account of one Netra Pal Singh Yadav who was co-passenger of the deceased and had clearly established that death of the deceased had occurred due to an accident in which he fell off the passenger train. It is submitted that eye witness account of the said witness has been disbelieved on extraneous factors. It is also submitted that the judgment and award under challenge is not in consonance with the evidence on record and judgment on the said point. Learned counsel has also submitted that the incident in which the deceased passed away has been clearly and conclusively proved by evidence on record which has been unnecessarily disbelieved.

10. Learned counsel appearing on behalf of respondent has refuted the submission advanced by learned counsel for appellant with the submission that the tribunal has recorded a perfectly cogent finding which is established by material on record and by pertinent case laws on the subject in which it has been clearly held that in case of death occurring due to decapitation of the deceased, there is no occasion for an accident to have taken place and it was therefore a clear case of suicide for which the railway is not liable. It is further submitted that the tribunal has correctly recorded a finding that deposition of the eye witness was not liable to be believed in view of the circumstances of the aforesaid accident.

11. Upon consideration of material on record and submission of learned counsel for parties it is admitted that no journey ticket was produced in the proceedings by the claimant to indicate or substantiate that the deceased was a bona fide passenger in the aforesaid train. However, it has been submitted that in the muddle following the incident, journey ticket of the deceased was lost. From the deposition of Netra Pal Singh Yadav, as plaintiff witness, it is evident that the aforesaid witness has introduced himself as eye witness of the incident. In his examination in chief, the aforesaid plaintiff witness has clearly stated in paragraph 2 of the affidavit that he had purchased journey ticket for the said train along with deceased Amod Kumar. It has also been stated that both persons thereafter met the Traveling Ticket Examiner for purposes of reservation, which was denied where after the deceased had put his railway ticket in his hand bag. The said plaintiff witness has also stated that both persons had thereafter travelled in the general compartment in train and had sat near the door since there was no availability of seat in the compartment. It has further been stated in his deposition that just as the train passed Jaswant Nagar Railway Station, at about 01.00 AM, there was a sharp jerk in the train due to which deceased Amod Kumar fell from train along with his hand bag. It has been stated that the deceased had fallen head first and although the plaintiff witness along with other co-passenger had raised hue and cry but the train could not be stopped since there was no such provision in the compartment. It is stated that upon happening of the incident, plaintiff witness had informed brother of the deceased.

12. The aforesaid witness was cross-examined on 25.09.2002, which is on record. However, it is a mere repetition of the examination in chief with nothing being elicited from plaintiff witness which was contrary to the stand taken in the examination in chief.

13. The aforesaid statement clearly indicates the fact that the plaintiff witness was an eye witness not only to the alleged incident but also to the fact that deceased had purchased a journey ticket for travelling in general compartment of the train in question. However, it is admitted that no such journey ticket was found upon person of deceased.

14. Hon'ble the Supreme Court in the case of Union of India vs. Rina Devi reported in AIR 2018 Supreme Court 2362 has considered regarding burden of proof upon a body found on railway premises without journey ticket and definition of passenger; it has been elucidated in paragraph 17.4 which is as follows:-

"17.4 We thus hold that mere presence of a body on the Railway premises will not be conclusive to hold that injured or deceased was a bona fide passenger for which claim for compensation could be maintained. However, mere absence of ticket with such injured or deceased will not negative the claim that he was a bona fide passenger. Initial burden will be on the claimant which can be discharged by filing an affidavit of the relevant facts and burden will then shift on the Railways and the issue can be decided on the facts shown or the attending circumstances. This will have to be dealt with from case to case on the basis of facts found. The legal position in this regard will stand explained accordingly."

15. The aforesaid judgment is squarely covering the issue whereunder it has been held that mere absence of ticket with such injured or deceased will not negative the claim that he was a bona fide passenger. Initial burden will be on the claimant to prove this such fact which can be discharged by filing an affidavit of the relevant fact whereafter the burden would shift to the railways and issue can be decided on the facts shown on attending circumstances. Upon applicability of the said judgment in present case, it is apparent that initial burden has been discharged by the claimant upon production not only of affidavit but also the eye witness who has squarely deposed that deceased had purchased a journey ticket along with the eye witness for journey upon the train in question. In the considered opinion of this Court, the initial burden as such has been discharged by the claimant but the same could not be refuted by the railways upon production of any documentary or oral evidence. In view of aforesaid judgment of Hon'ble the Supreme Court as applicable upon the facts and circumstances of the case, it is held that the deceased Amod Yadav was clearly a bona fide passenger in the train in question.

16. With regard to establishment of the alleged accident, the same has also been corroborated and established by the eye witness account of Netra Pal Singh Yadav who was produced as plaintiff witness. From deposition of the said plaintiff witness, it is evident that examination in chief and the cross examination are virtually the same with nothing contradictory elicited from the said witness by the railway. However, deposition of the said eye witness has been disbelieved by the tribunal on the ground that it is not in consonance with circumstances of the case.

17. Once it is seen that there is an eye witness account with regard to accident in question and nothing contradictory could be elicited by railways in cross examination, it is to be seen as to whether discarding of eye witness account by the tribunal was sustainable or not. With regard to the said proposition, Hon'ble the Supreme Court in the case of Union of India vs. Prabhakaran Vijaya Kumar and Others reported in (2008)9 SCC 527 has held as follows:

"6. Before the Tribunal PW 2, K. Rajan, deposed that while he was at Varkala Railway Station he found one passenger falling from the Parasuram Express and that the train had stopped. He further stated in his evidence that he went to the north side of the platform and saw the injured lying on the platform. He further stated that the person falling down was the lady who died on the spot. He also stated that the deceased fell down from the compartment of the train when the train was moving.

7. The Tribunal strangely enough held that PW 2 was an interested witness because if he was present on the spot he would have definitely helped the Station Master in removing the dead body from the railway track. Further, the police would have definitely recorded his evidence. For this reason, the Tribunal disbelieved the evidence of PW 2. We are, however, of the opinion that there was no good reason to disbelieve PW 2 because there is nothing to show that he had any motive to give false evidence, or that he was an interested witness. Further, his evidence could not have been discarded merely because he did not go to the spot and help in removing the dead body from the railway track. Moreover, merely because the police did not record his statement does not mean that he was not present or gave false evidence. It is common knowledge that in our country often there is a large crowd on railway platforms, and it is simply not possible for the police to take the statements of everyone there."

18. Upon applicability of the aforesaid judgement in the facts and circumstances of the present case, it is seen that eye witness account has been disbelieved by the tribunal only on account of the fact that the eye witness did not disembark from the train despite dis-balanced accidental falling of co-traveller. The tribunal could not believe that the eye witness thereafter undertook his entire journey upto New Delhi and did not break the same on the next stoppage of the train. On the said basis, the tribunal has recorded a conclusion that the eye witness had not travelled by the train in question and his deposition was not reliable. The tribunal has also disbelieved eye witness account on the basis of the Panchnama in which it is indicated that the body was lying about 300 yards away towards West of the Railway Station on railway track and neck and head of the deceased were found separated from the body. The tribunal has further recorded a finding that eye witness account was liable to be disbelieved since the position of the body was not in consonance with the running direction of the train. On that basis, the tribunal has recorded a finding that death had occurred due to injuries inflicted not on account of accidental falling of deceased from the train but as a result of suicide committed by him.

19. With regard to the aforesaid finding of the tribunal, it is apparent that while disbelieving the version of eye witness, explanation for the said factor as indicated in his deposition has been ignored by the tribunal. The said plaintiff witness not only in his examination-in-chief but also in his cross-examination has clearly indicated that upon the accident taking place, witness had not disembarked since the area in which they were passing was not a safe area. The witness has further stated that upon the incident happening, he alongwith other co-passengers had raised hue and cry but since there was no provision for stopping the train in the compartment nothing further could be done. The said fact has been indicated by the witness in his cross examination. In view of the specific statements of the eye witness, there was no occasion for the tribunal to reject the claim only on the basis of assumption and surmises.

20. The case of Prabhakaran (supra) has clearly indicated the conditions under which an eye witness account can be disbelieved. None of the conditions indicated in the aforesaid judgment are applicable in the present case particularly since no finding had been recorded by the Tribunal that the eye witness produced as plaintiff witness had any motive to give false evidence or that he was an interested witness. The mere fact that he did not go to the spot or did not get off from the train on the next station would not automatically lead to a conclusion that he was not present or had given false statement. In view of aforesaid, it is apparent that the tribunal has clearly fell in error in discarding the eye witness testimony of said Netra Pal Singh Yadav.

21. The tribunal has thereafter recorded a finding with regard to the accident having taken place as a result of suicide. Regarding the said finding, the tribunal has indicated position of the body which was in a North-South direction whereas railway track in question runs from East to West. The tribunal has also noticed that except for the decapitation, there was no other injury found on the body of the deceased and as such has concluded that the nature of injury and position of the body indicated that death was not caused due to accidental falling of the deceased but as a result of suicide.

22. The tribunal has found the aforesaid finding to be corroborated by the Panchnama. The tribunal has also found that in case of a person accidentally falling from the train, there is no occasion for the body to be cut into two pieces and at best death can occur on account serious injury on the body of the person.

23. With regard to the aforesaid finding recorded by the tribunal, it is apparent that the position of the body was not in consonance with running track of the train.

24. With regard to the aforesaid facts, the Hon'ble the Supreme Court in the case of Solanki Chimanbhai Ukabhai vs. State of Gujarat reported in AIR 1983 Supreme Court 484 has held as follows:

"12. Ordinarily, the value of medical evidence is only corroborative. It proves that the injuries could have been caused in the manner alleged and nothing more. The use which the defence can make of the medical evidence is to prove that the injuries could not possibly have been caused in the manner alleged and thereby discredit the eye witnesses. Unless, however the medical evidence in its turn goes so far that it completely rules out all possibilities whatsoever of injuries taking place in the manner alleged by eye witnesses, the testimony of the eye witnesses cannot be thrown out on the ground of alleged inconsistency between it and the medical evidence."

25. The aforesaid judgment clearly indicates that medical evidence is only corroborative and proves that injuries could have been caused in the manner alleged and nothing more. The use of medical evidence can only be to prove that the injuries could not possibly have been caused in the manner alleged and thereby discredit eye witness. However the testimony of the eye witness cannot be thrown out on the ground of alleged inconsistency between it and the medical evidence.

26. Regarding finding of Tribunal that severing of body into two parts indicates suicide and not death by falling from train the High Court of Delhi in the case of SH.

Prempal Singh & Another vs. Union of India in F.A.O.No. 211 of 2014 has in its judgment and order dated 24.04.2018 held as follows:

"7. The reasoning in the impugned order that because the deceased was cut into halves: one part found inside the railway tracks and the other outside, the death could not have been caused due to accidental falling from a moving train, is flawed. The impossibility of a passenger being so crushed after a fall from a moving train has not been conclusively established in law, so as to obviate all such claims for compensation. It is possible that thedeceased while standing near the overcrowded passenger compartment door, slipped down while holding on to the door- railing, and frantically tried to recover and re-board the train - with his legs flailing violently, and in the valiant and violent melee his legs or his body could have unfortunately come under the wheels of the train leading to his being consumed in the fatal accident. As long as such possibility exists, the claim cannot be ousted or denied on technical assumptions. There is not a divine camera which could replay the actual manner of the fatality, but all factors lead to the inexorable conclusion that a bonafide passenger died in an untoward train accident. There is also no reason why the deceased would be walking the railway tracks in an odd place en-route his destination - his home. It is not that he lived near the site of the accident or that he had any regular business anywhere near the place of the accident. Thus the inference that he died while crossing the tracks, is unwarranted and untenable."

27. The same observations have been made by the Delhi High Court in the case of Smt. Ram Payari vs. Union of India in FAO No.142 of 2012 vide judgment and order dated 31.03.2014 in which also the same reasoning has been followed.

28. The same reasoning has also been indicated by High Court at Calcutta in the case of Suchitra As (Ash) vs. Union of India in F.M.A. 384 of 2015 vide judgment and order dated 11.04.2019. The Division Bench at Calcutta High Court has held as follows:

"Whether a person would commit suicide by laying or putting his body before a moving train, or causing a person's body to put in front of a moving train', while crossing the track carelessly could be conveniently ascertained from the facts and circumstances involved in a particular case together with the attending circumstances, if therebe any. The intention behind of the deceased is of paramount consideration, which has to be gathered from the facts and circumstances together with the attending circumstances of a particular case. It is a case, where the deceased victim had no mental depression conducive for commission of suicide. The victim even had purchased monthly ticket with effect from 1.4.04. The deceased suffered death in course of his return journey. The place of occurrence where the dead body of the deceased was found to exist was intervened by distance of 20 minutes walk from the locality, where the deceased had his own house. PW-2 is not a person having his blood relation with the deceased victim. The facts and circumstances, as gathered here together with the attending circumstances discussed herein above, would not demonstrate the requisite intention necessary to reveal the attending circumstances, supportive of commission of suicide, far to speak off a case based on run over, caused purposefully and carelessly."

29. On the contrary, with regard to the aforesaid proposition that in case of decapitation of body, it cannot be said that a person has died due to falling from a train, learned counsel for respondent has relied upon the Division Bench Judgment of this Court in the case of Tara Chand Mathur vs. Union of India in First Appeal From Order Defective No.763 of 2011 in which following another judgment it has been held that in case the body of deceased was cut into two pieces, we cannot draw inference that the accident has occurred as a result of falling down of the deceased from the train.

30. Upon applicability of the aforesaid judgment, it is apparent that the Division Bench has clearly held that the fact whether the person has died due to accident occurred as a result of falling down from the train or has committed suicide is to be seen from the prevailing factors which in that case was that the deceased had failed in examination, the result of which had been declared on the same day due to which he was under depression and jumped before the train. It is quite evident that facts of the said case are completely different from the present case since no such depression has been indicated pertaining to the deceased.

31. Learned counsel has also relied upon another Division Bench of this Court in the case of Smt. Meena & Another vs. Union of India (First Appeal From Order No.229 of 2018) decided vide judgment and order dated 09.04.2018. In the said judgment, the Division Bench has not found any error with the finding recorded by the trial court that it is not possible that passenger would fall off the train and his body would be found lying in the centre of the tracks that too without extensive injuries and lacerated marks. The aforesaid judgment also in the considered opinion of this Court is not applicable in the present situation where although the body was found lying on the tracks without extensive injuries and without any laceration marks with the body cut into two pieces but the witness in that case was held to be chance witness without any explanation about his presence since he was not travelling in the train. Furthermore, 9 trains has passed without any major injury or further amputation of body.

32. As has been held in the judgment indicated herein above by the Delhi High Court and Calcutta, the Division Benches of this Court have not recorded any specific finding or have laid down a specific law that death cannot be caused by decapitation of a person upon falling from train. The fact that death cannot be caused upon falling from a train once body has been cut into two parts has not been conclusively established either in law or on expert medical opinion. Such a finding has been recorded only on the basis of an assumption that it is not probable for the body to be cut into two parts upon falling from train. However this Court is in respectful agreement with the judgment rendered by the High Court of Delhi and Calcutta to the effect that no such hard and fast Rule can be established without any pertinent medical advise or opinion.

33. The circumstances indicated in the judgment of Prempal Singh & Another (supra) are quite probable that there is no divine camera which can indicate the actual manner of the fatality but that all factors lead to an inexorable conclusion that a bona fide passenger has died in an untoward train accident.

34. Learned counsel has also relied upon the Division Bench judgment of this Court in the case of Dinesh Kumar Singh Maurya vs. Union of India in F.A.F.O. No.1023 of 2010, the Single Judge Judgment in the case of Smt. Sumitra Mishra and Others vs. Union of India in F.A.F.O No.583 of 2013 and the judgment of High Court of Delhi in the case of Smt. Dharambiri Devi & Others vs. The Ministry of Railway and Another promoted No.149(2008)DLT 434.

35. However in the aforesaid judgments, no hard and fast rule has been stated that a dead body which is cut into two parts and is found in the middle of the track cannot be occasioned upon falling from a train. The findings recorded in the said case laws are merely on the basis of probability rather on the hard and fast medical advice or any law on that point. As indicated herein above, upon applicability of the reasoning indicated in judgments rendered by the High Courts of Delhi and Calcutta, the same is merely an assumption which has to be corroborated from the facts and surrounding circumstances of each and every case. As such, in the view of this Court, the aforesaid factor cannot be a relevant factor for discarding an eye witness account.

36. The judgments cited by the learned counsel for respondent would have applicability probably in a case where there is no eye witness account and there is no corroborative evidence with regard to death having occurred as untoward incident due to falling of a passenger. However in the present case, there is a clear eye witness account not only corroborating but substantiating the incident as claimed in the claim petition. No cogent reason has been indicated in the impugned award for discarding the eye witness account.

37. It is also a relevant factor upon reading of the Panchnama that none of the signatories to the Panchanama recognized the dead body. Even if theory of suicide as set up by the railways is to be believed, naturally the deceased should have been a person living in the vicinity of the accident. It is improbable that a person living in Etawah, would travel all the way to Jaswant Nagar to commit suicide on the railway tracks which could have done in his place of residence itself. Even if theory of suicide is to be believed with the natural consequence of deceased belonging to vicinity of the accident, it would have been but natural for the signatories to the Panchnama to have recognized the dead body. The failure of local persons to recognize the deceased itself indicates that the deceased was not a native and therefore it could not have been a case of suicide. The said aspect of the matter has been completely lost sight of by the tribunal although details of Panchnama have been indicated in the impugned award.

38. As as a result of the aforesaid discussion, it is held that the deceased a was bona fide passenger and his death had occasioned due to an accident which can be termed as an 'untoward incident' as defined under Section 123 of the Act and would therefore not be covered by the proviso of Section 124 (A) of the aforesaid Act of 1989.

39. In view of the fact that the deceased has been found to be a bona fide passenger and that his death had occurred due to an untoward incident, compensation for the same is to be decided in terms of the Railway Accident (Compensation) Rules, 1990 which has been notified in terms of Section 129 of the Railway Act 1989.

40. The parties are in agreement on the point that the alleged incident has taken place on 06.10.2000 while the impugned judgment and award has been rendered on 16.12.2002. The Railway Accident (Compensation) Rules, 1990 have been amended with effect from 01.11.1997 whereby the amount of compensation under Rule 3 has been enhanced to Rs. 4,00,000/- including of death under part I. It has been submitted by learned counsel for parties that prior to amendment, the amount of compensation as indicated was Rs.2,00,000/- and subsequently the rules were amended in 2017 as has been noticed in the case of Smt. Rina Devi (supra) whereunder, it has been held that awarding of compensation in terms of Section 124-A is based on no fault theory and as such negligence on the part of any person or principles of contributory negligence cannot be invoked particularly when fixed compensation has been provided in the Rules of 1990.

41. In the present case since accident has taken place on 06.10.2000, the amendment notified on 25.10.1997 with effect from 01.11.1997 would came into effect whereunder a fixed amount of compensation of Rs.4,00,000/- has been indicated in Part I of the Schedule to Rule 3. As such, it is held that the claimant would be entitled to amount of Rs.4,00,000/-. With regard to the rate of interest, it has already been held in the case of Smt.Rina Devi (supra) that the rate of interest should be 6% per annum from the date of application till the date of award and 9% thereafter in case the payment is not made within specified time period.

42. Applying the aforesaid dictum of Hon'ble the Supreme Court it is held that the claimants would be entitled to interest @ 6% simple interest per annum from the date of claim till the date of award and @ 9% thereafter till the date of actual payment.

43. At this stage learned counsel for respondent submits that in view of the statutory provision, the principal compensation with interest cannot exceed the sum of Rs.8,00,000/-.

44. The aforesaid aspect of the matter has already been considered by Hon'ble the Supreme Court in the case of Union of India vs. Radha Yadav reported in (2019) 3 Supreme Court Cases 410 in the following manner:

"11. The issue raised in the matter does not really require any elaboration as in our view, the judgment of this Court in Rina Devi [Union of India v. Rina Devi, (2019) 3 SCC 572] is very clear. What this Court has laid down is that the amount of compensation payable on the date of accident with reasonable rate of interest shall first be calculated. If the amount so calculated is less than the amount prescribed as on the date of the award, the claimant would be entitled to higher of these two amounts. Therefore, if the liability had arisen before the amendment was brought in, the basic figure would be as per the Schedule as was in existence before the amendment and on such basic figure reasonable rate of interest would be calculated. If there be any difference between the amount so calculated and the amount prescribed in the Schedule as on the date of the award, the higher of two figures would be the measure of compensation. For instance, in case of a death in an accident which occurred before amendment, the basic figure would be Rs 4,00,000. If, after applying reasonable rate of interest, the final figure were to be less than Rs 8,00,000, which was brought in by way of amendment, the claimant would be entitled to Rs 8,00,000. If, however, the amount of original compensation with rate of interest were to exceed the sum of Rs 8,00,000 the compensation would be in terms of figure in excess of Rs 8,00,000. The idea is to afford the benefit of the amendment, to the extent possible. Thus, according to us, the matter is crystal clear. The issue does not need any further clarification or elaboration."

45. In view of aforesaid judgment, the submission of learned counsel for respondent does not have any merit.

46. In terms of aforesaid, judgment and award dated 16.12.2002 passed by Railway Claims Tribunal, Lucknow in Claim Case No.0A0100204 (Smt. Manju Yadav & others Vs. Union of India) is set aside. Consequently, the appeal succeeds and is allowed. Parties shall bear their own costs. Office is directed to remit the lower court record to the tribunal.

19. A.Vs Padma Vs Venugopal reported in 2012 (1) GLH (SC) 442,

(Delivered by Hon'ble Subhash Chand, J.)

1. We are taking up this defective appeal for final disposal and directing the office to give regular number, as we have condoned the delay today.

2. Heard Sri Anubhav Sinha, learned counsel for the appellants and Sri Brijesh Chandra Naik, learned counsel for the respondent no.3 (Insurance Company). None appears for owner and driver.

3. This appeal, at the behest of the claimants, challenges the judgment and award dated 30.03.2017 passed by Motor Accident Claims Tribunal/Additional District Judge II, Gautam Budh Nagar (hereinafter referred to as 'Tribunal') in M.A.C.P. Case No.24 of 2014 awarding a sum of Rs.9,31,625/- as compensation.

4. This appeal is of the year 2018 and both the counsels have agreed with our suggestion for getting the matter finally disposed of without record so that the liability to pay interest is lessened as the only issue to be decided is quantum assessed.

5. It is submitted by learned counsel for the appellants that the deceased was 26 years of age at the time of accident. He was in job, but he was not a permanent employee, therefore, the Tribunal did not grant any amount under the head of future loss of income, as the job was only for seven months. The Tribunal has considered his income to be Rs.4500/- per month. It is submitted by learned counsel for the appellants that the income of the deceased should have been considered to be between Rs.7,000/- to Rs. 8,000/- per month as it was proved by leading evidence to which, the deceased being 26 years, 40% of the income should be added and as he was survived by his widow and two minor sons and parents. 1/4th of the amount should be deducted towards personal expenses of the deceased. As far as multiplier is concerned, there is no dispute between the parties. It is also submitted that the interest should be granted at the rate higher than 7% and Rs.70,000/- with increase by 10% for three years should granted under the head of non-pecuniary damages.

6. Sri Naik, learned Advocate appearing for the respondent-Insurance Company has contended that in the absence of any proof of income of Rs.7000/- per month cannot be considered to be income of the deceased and the Tribunal has rightly considered the income of the deceased to be Rs.4500/-. It is further submitted by Sri Naik that in view of the fact that an appeal is continuation of proceedings though the Insurance Company has not challenged the findings, as far as negligence of the driver is concerned, he can raise the same as held by this High Court in case of National Insurance Company Ltd. Vs. Smt. Vidyawati Devi and two others decided on 27.07.2016 in First Appeal From Order No. 2389 of 2016. We permit Sri Naik to raise the said issue of negligence. It is submitted by Sri Naik that it a case of head on collusion and therefore, the deceased should also be held negligent and is requested to this Court to up turn the finding on the issue of negligence by holding that the deceased to be negligent and dismiss the claim petition.

7. Sri Naik, learned counsel for the Insurance Company in oral reply to the submissions of learned counsel for the appellants on negligence contends that this being a case of head on collision, the deceased should also be held negligent and requested this Court to upturn the finding on issue of negligence.

8. As far as issue of negligence is concerned, it is vehemently submitted by learned counsel for the appellants, that the deceased was held not at all negligent. According to him, the accident was between two vehicles of unequal magnitude and, therefore, the deceased cannot be said to have contributed to the accident having taken place.

9. The term negligence means failure to exercise care towards others which a reasonable and prudent person would in a circumstance or taking action which such a reasonable person would not. Negligence can be both intentional or accidental which is normally accidental. More particularly, it connotes reckless driving and the injured must always prove that the either side is negligent. If the injury rather death is caused by something owned or controlled by the negligent party then he is directly liable otherwise the principle of "res ipsa loquitur" meaning thereby "the things speak for itself" would apply.

10. The principle of contributory negligence has been discussed time and again. A person who either contributes or is author of the accident would be liable for his contribution to the accident having taken place.

11. The Division Bench of this Court in First Appeal From Order No. 1818 of 2012 (Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co.Ltd. Vs. Smt. Renu Singh And Others) decided on 19.7.2016 has held as under :

"16. Negligence means failure to exercise required degree of care and caution expected of a prudent driver. Negligence is the omission to do something which a reasonable man, guided upon the considerations, which ordinarily regulate conduct of human affairs, would do, or doing something which a prudent and reasonable man would not do. Negligence is not always a question of direct evidence. It is an inference to be drawn from proved facts. Negligence is not an absolute term, but is a relative one. It is rather a comparative term. What may be negligence in one case may not be so in another. Where there is no duty to exercise care, negligence in the popular sense has no legal consequence. Where there is a duty to exercise care, reasonable care must be taken to avoid acts or omissions which would be reasonably foreseen likely to caused physical injury to person. The degree of care required, of course, depends upon facts in each case. On these broad principles, the negligence of drivers is required to be assessed.

17. It would be seen that burden of proof for contributory negligence on the part of deceased has to be discharged by the opponents. It is the duty of driver of the offending vehicle to explain the accident. It is well settled law that at intersection where two roads cross each other, it is the duty of a fast moving vehicle to slow down and if driver did not slow down at intersection, but continued to proceed at a high speed without caring to notice that another vehicle was crossing, then the conduct of driver necessarily leads to conclusion that vehicle was being driven by him rashly as well as negligently.

18. 10th Schedule appended to Motor Vehicle Act contain statutory regulations for driving of motor vehicles which also form part of every Driving License. Clause-6 of such Regulation clearly directs that the driver of every motor vehicle to slow down vehicle at every intersection or junction of roads or at a turning of the road. It is also provided that driver of the vehicle should not enter intersection or junction of roads unless he makes sure that he would not thereby endanger any other person. Merely, because driver of the Truck was driving vehicle on the left side of road would not absolve him from his responsibility to slow down vehicle as he approaches intersection of roads, particularly when he could have easily seen, that the car over which deceased was riding, was approaching intersection.

19. In view of the fast and constantly increasing volume of traffic, motor vehicles upon roads may be regarded to some extent as coming within the principle of liability defined in Rylands V/s. Fletcher, (1868) 3 HL (LR) 330. From the point of view of pedestrian, the roads of this country have been rendered by the use of motor vehicles, highly dangerous. 'Hit and run' cases where drivers of motor vehicles who have caused accidents, are unknown. In fact such cases are increasing in number. Where a pedestrian without negligence on his part is injured or killed by a motorist, whether negligently or not, he or his legal representatives, as the case may be, should be entitled to recover damages if principle of social justice should have any meaning at all.

20. These provisions (sec.110A and sec.110B of Motor Act, 1988) are not merely procedural provisions. They substantively affect the rights of the parties. The right of action created by Fatal Accidents Act, 1855 was 'new in its species, new in its quality, new in its principles. In every way it was new. The right given to legal representatives under Act, 1988 to file an application for compensation for death due to a motor vehicle accident is an enlarged one. This right cannot be hedged in by limitations of an action under Fatal Accidents Act, 1855. New situations and new dangers require new strategies and new remedies.

21. In the light of the above discussion, we are of the view that even if courts may not by interpretation displace the principles of law which are considered to be well settled and, therefore, court cannot dispense with proof of negligence altogether in all cases of motor vehicle accidents, it is possible to develop the law further on the following lines; when a motor vehicle is being driven with reasonable care, it would ordinarily not meet with an accident and, therefore, rule of res-ipsa loquitor as a rule of evidence may be invoked in motor accident cases with greater frequency than in ordinary civil suits (per three-Judge Bench in Jacob Mathew V/s. State of Punjab, 2005 0 ACJ(SC) 1840).

22. By the above process, the burden of proof may ordinarily be cast on the defendants in a motor accident claim petition to prove that motor vehicle was being driven with reasonable care or that there is equal negligence on the part the other side." emphasis added

12. At the very outset from the award impugned, it is culled out that two vehicles involved in the accident were of unequal magnitude, namely, the motor cycle driven by the deceased Anil Kumar Yadav and the Dhumpher insured by the respondent-Insurance Company. Issue no.1 has been decided by the Tribunal whereby the deceased has been considered to be riding motorcycle namely a two wheeler whereas the other vehicle was Dumpher namely the big vehicle and collusion was between the vehicles of two unequal magnitude. The Tribunal decided the issue of negligence in favour of the claimants though orally it was submitted by Sri Naik that there was head collision and the deceased was also negligent. The Tribunal has relied on several authoritative pronouncements for arriving at the finding. The driver of the Dumpher, who was the best witness has not stepped in the witness box. The evidence of PW-2, who was eye witness clinches the issue. The evidence he was riding his motorcycle and was driving vehicle along with the deceased, he has been believed to be an eye witness by the Tribunal. He has opined in his oral testimony that when the deceased came to Mahamaya fly over, the Dumpher driven in rash and negligent manner came and dashed with the motorcyclist causing his death. Except the written statement, Insurance Company did not lead any evidence. The decision cited by the learned judge holding against the Insurance company will come in the way of oral submission of Sri Naik. The reason being site plan shows that the deceased was on his correct side. The FIR was lodged by Sonu Yadav and the charge-sheet was laid against respondent no.2, namely driver of the Dumpher and therefore, it is very clear that PW-2, who is eye witness has opined that the Dumpher came on the wrong side and dashed with the vehicle driven by the deceased, namely Anil Kumar Yadav. This evidence corroborated by the documentary evidence is produced before the court below and it is very clear that the evidence produced before the Tribunal was pointing out its finger toward the negligence of the driver of the Dumpher. The instantaneous death of the motorcyclist goes to show that the motorcyclist was not negligent. The decision of the Apex Court in case of Archit Saini Vs. Oriental Insurance Company Limited and others 2018 0 AIR (SC) 1143 and the reasonings of the Apex Court in the said case is also required to be applied to the facts of this case and therefore, it cannot be said that the driver of the vehicle was in any way negligent. The finding of the court below cannot be upturned and we are convinced that the findings of fact recorded by the Tribunal cannot be disturbed. The recent decision of the Apex Court in case of Rajendra Singh Vs. National Insurance Company (2020) 7 SCC 256 where the Apex Court has held that issue of negligence has to be decided on the basis of evidence adduced or on the basis of evidence adduced against the respondents driver and, therefore, also we cannot accept the oral objections of learned counsel for the Insurance Company that the deceased should be held to be negligent also. We also take into consideration the decisions on which the Tribunal has placed reliance namely United India Insurance Company Limited Vs. Sarita Rani Dhaka and others ACJ 895, Ranu Bala Paul Vs. Bani Chakraborty and others 1999 (1) TAC 151, N.K.V. Brothers (Pvt.) Limited Vs. M. Karumai Ammal and others AIR 1980 SC 1354, Usha Rajkhowa and others Vs. Paramount Industries and anothers 2 (2009) ACC 281 (SC), State of Haryana and others Vs. Jasveer Kaur and othes 2003 (3) TAC 569 (SC), Smt. Sarla Verma and others Vs. Delhi Transport Corporation and others 2009 ACJ 1298, Reshma Kumar and others Vs. Madan Mohan and others Civil Appeal No. 4646 and 4647 of 2009 decided on 02.04.2013. We are fortified our view and the oral submission of Sri Naik is required to be rejected. The factual scenario will also not permit us to up turn the finding of the Tribunal as far the issue of negligence is concerned, therefore, no negligence can be attributed to the deceased. Thus, it cannot be said that the deceased was in any way negligent. The site plan as discussed by the Tribunal will also not permit us to take a different view. Further aspect that requires to be appreciated is that the charge-sheet was laid against the driver of the Dumpher. The fact that the driver of the Dumpher has not stepped in the witness box this fact has also been considered by the learned judge by relying on the decision reported in United India Insurance Company Limited Vs. Sarita Rani 1995 ACJ 895, thus the reasonings cannot be found fault with. The other oral submission that the driver and owner of the other vehicle has not been joined as party is not required to be decided as the driver of the other vehicle has died and his heirs have claimed the compensation hence this submission is also rejected.

13. We are also fortified in our view by the decision of the Apex Court in case of Mohammed Siddique and another Vs. National Insurance Company Limited and others (2020) 3 Supreme Court Cases 57.

Compensation:-

14. This takes this Court to the issue of compensation. The income of the deceased in the year of accident and looking to his profession namely that he was having private job can be considered to be Rs.7,000/- per month to which as he was 26 years, 40% as future loss of income requires to be added in view of the decision of the Apex Court in National Insurance Company Limited Vs. Pranay Sethi and Others, 2017 0 Supreme (SC) 1050.

15. As far as the income of the deceased is concerned, the deceased was working with The Oura Creation Sri Nagli Enterprises Pvt. Limited and was earning Rs. 8,000/- per month. PW-1 the widow of the deceased has deposed the said fact and also the salary slip was produced as Exhibit 23. PW-3 Sri Vijay Naik, who was H.R. Executive had examined who has deposed that document 19/G/1 and 19G/5 was produced by his company that Anil Kumar Yadav was being paid Rs. 8000/- per month. The tribunal unfortunately has considered his income to be Rs. 7000/- per month for a period of seven months namely for the period during which the deceased had worked and thereafter has considered his income to be Rs. 4500/- on the basis of judgment of the Apex Court in State of Haryana and others Vs. Jasveer Kaur and others 2003 (3) TAC 569 (SC). We fail to understand as to how the tribunal can draw such a distinction during one year and split the income of the deceased. The tribunal according to us has committed an error, which is apparent on the face of the record in considering the income of the deceased as Rs. 4500/- per month, despite the fact that income was proved as Rs. 8000/- per month. The reliance on the judgment of State of Haryana (supra) is erroneous reason, is once it has been established by way of cogent evidence that income of the deceased was Rs. 8000/-, the tribunal cannot fix it notionally. We fix the income at Rs. 7000/-, as Rs. 1000/- is the other allowances, which are deductible as per the judgment of the Apex Court. Thus, the income is considered to be Rs. 7000/- per month to be recalculated. The learned judge has referred to the judgment of Reshma Kumari and another Vs. Madan Mohan and another passed in Civil Appeal No. 4646 and 4647 of 2009 decided on 02.04.2013, but the tribunal thereafter has referred to the judgment of Sarla Verma and another Vs. Delhi Transport Corporation and another 2009 ACJ 1298 and not granted future loss of income. The Tribunal most unfortunately held that income of deceased should be considered to be notional income of Rs. 4500/- per month for five months and for the other seven months his income should be considered to be Rs. 7000/- per month. Rs. 4500 x 12 and multiplied by 17, on what basis the Tribunal has split this, is not clear. The Tribunal has considered that his basic income was Rs. 7000/-, but is it not clarified that what the deceased was doing prior to that seven months and therefore, the Tribunal has relied on judgment in case of State of Haryana (supra), this is itself arbitrary and against the mandate of Apex Court as well as this High Court. Once the salary slip shown to be that Rs. 8000/- the other items could have been deducted and income should be considered as Rs. 7000/- per month. We, therefore, on the basis of the judgment of Reshma Kumari (supra) subsequently approved by the Apex Court in the Pranay Sethi, recalculate the said amount. Unfortunately, the learned judge has despite the fact that judgment in Reshma Kumari (supra) permitted addition of 30% if the person, who is in the age bracket of 40-50, the learned Tribunal holds that फ्यूचर प्रॉपेक्ट्स (भावी सम्भावनाओ) को वास्तविक वेतन में जोड़ा नहीं जा सकता as it was not proved whether his job was permanent, this again according to us is perverse finding of fact, which requires to be up turned as in the judgment of Sarla Verma (supra), it is not opined as to whether job of the deceased should be permanent or private job for which future prospects would be added, therefore, future prospects of 30% will have to be added. Even on the plain reading of Sarla Verma case, learned judge would not have made this mistake as even if we go by the Rules, namely Uttar Pradesh Motor Vehicles (Eleventh Amendment) Rules, 2011. The deduction of ¼ for personal expenses is not disturbed, hence we recalculate the amount of compensation as per settled legal principles enunciated in Pranay Sethi and Reshma Kumari (supra).

i. Income Rs.7,000/-

ii. Percentage towards future prospects : 50% namely Rs.3500/-

iii. Total income : Rs. 7,000 + 3500 = Rs. 10,500/-

iv. Income after deduction of 1/4th : Rs. 7,375/- (rounded up)

v. Annual income : Rs.7,375 x 12 = Rs. 88,500/-

vi. Multiplier applicable : 17

vii. Loss of dependency: Rs.88,500 x 17 = Rs.15,04,500/-

viii. Amount under non pecuniary heads : Rs.70,000/-

x. Total compensation : 15,74,500/-

17. As far as issue of rate of interest is concerned, it should be 7.5% in view of the latest decision of the Apex Court in National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Mannat Johal and Others, 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.) wherein the Apex Court has held as under :

"13. The aforesaid features equally apply to the contentions urged on behalf of the claimants as regards the rate of interest. The Tribunal had awarded interest at the rate of 12% p.a. but the same had been too high a rate in comparison to what is ordinarily envisaged in these matters. The High Court, after making a substantial enhancement in the award amount, modified the interest component at a reasonable rate of 7.5% p.a. and we find no reason to allow the interest in this matter at any rate higher than that allowed by High Court."

18. No other grounds are urged orally when the matter was heard.

19. In view of the above, the appeal is partly allowed. Judgment and decree passed by the Tribunal shall stand modified to the aforesaid extent. The respondent-Insurance Company shall deposit the amount within a period of 12 weeks from today with interest at the rate of 7.5% from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount is deposited. The amount already deposited be deducted from the amount to be deposited.

20. This Court is thankful to both the counsels for getting this matter disposed of.

21. It is stated by learned counsel for the appellants that they have been granted recovery right. The owner despite service of notice has not appeared for three years, hence the ex-parte judgement is passed and recovery right is maintained as here also no witness or permit is produced.

22. On depositing the amount in the Registry of Tribunal, Registry is directed to first deduct the amount of deficit court fees, if any. Considering the ratio laid down by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of A.V. Padma Vs. (Delivered by Hon'ble J.J. Munir, J.)

1. This is a plaintiff's appeal from an order of Mr. Jitendra Kumar Sinha, the learned District Judge, Ghaziabad, rejecting his application for temporary injunction in a suit for infringement of copyright.

2. The suit was instituted, complaining infringement of a copyright owned by the plaintiff relating to a story-screenplay-dialogues for a feature film, registered with the Copyright Office at New Delhi under Registration No. L-28822/2007 dated 16.07.2007. The literary work aforesaid was registered under the name of "Highway-39'. The aforesaid literary work shall hereinafter be referred to as the "copyrighted work'. The suit, wherein the temporary injunction application was made, was instituted some time in the month of December, 2019 and registered on the file of the learned District Judge, Ghaziabad as Suit no.2 of 2019. The following reliefs have been claimed in the suit against the two defendants, who are the respondents here:

"A. pass a decree of Perpetual/Permanent injunction:

i. by restraining the defendants, jointly and severally, by themselves or acting through any agent or any other such person from infringing the registered copyright of the plaintiff in respect of his story and screenplay work titled as 'Highway-39' from converting and adopting the same into a motion picture/feature film in any name whatsoever;

ii. by restraining the Defendants, jointly or severally, by themselves or acting through their agents or any such person from producing, making, promoting, publicizing, releasing, communicating to public about the infringed feature film.

B. pass a decree of Mandatory injunction directing the defendants to jointly or severally:

i. to deliver all versions of the story/ script/ screenplay (literary work), reels and / or the produced work based on the registered copyright work of the plaintiff pertaining to the infringed feature film;

ii. to remove from internet and other similar platforms, including social media pertaining to the defendants and/or of social media account of any of the actors or any other such person involved with the production and making of the infringed feature film, including the removal of any and all promotional material (including posters, trailers and teaser) of the infringed feature film;

C. pass a decree for the rendition of accounts of the advance amount received by the Defendants from the Distribution Companies/ Television Channels/ Internet Television Network by selling the distribution rights/ satellite rights / streaming rights respectively of the feature film made by the defendants by infringing the copyright of the plaintiff in the process of producing the infringed feature film;"

3. It would be apposite to give a more detailed account of the facts giving rise to this appeal. The plaintiff-appellant, Uday Prakash, who shall hereinafter be referred to as the "plaintiff', is claimed to be a Hindi Poet, Scholar, Filmmaker, Journalist and one who has worked as a Professor with Central Universities. The plaintiff also claims to have worked as an Administrator with the Government of India, but which department, is not explicit in the plaint. He also says that he has been an Editor, Researcher and Television Director with the National and Private TV Channels. He writes for major national dailies and periodicals on issues of social and cultural significance. There is an elaborate pleading by the plaintiff, showing his established scholarly status, besides an impressive list of accolades that stand to his credit in the form of prestigious literary awards and literary works of repute.

4. It is the plaintiff's case that he conceived, conceptualized and set about a venture to write a screenplay (film script), that is to say, the copyrighted work, already introduced hereinbefore. The plaintiff says that he completed the copyrighted work and got the same registered with the Film Writers Association, Mumbai. The aforesaid literary work was submitted to the Copyright Office, New Delhi, where it was registered on 16.07.2007 under Registration No. L-28822/2007. The plaintiff says that he discussed the copyrighted work with one of his acquaintances, Mazhar Kamran, who was, at the relevant time, working with the plaintiff as a Cameraman on several audio visual projects that the plaintiff had in hand during the years 2000-2005. Mazhar Kamran is said to have assured the latter that he would show the copyrighted work to a few prominent producers, of whom Anand Pandit was one. Anand Pandit is defendant no.1 to the suit and respondent no.1 to this appeal, who shall hereinafter be referred to as "defendant no.1'. Defendant no.1 is said to be a well-known producer and proprietor of a certain Anand Pandit Motion Pictures, whereas Rumi Jaffery is a well-known Director. Rumi Jaffery of Saraswati Entertainment Pvt. Ltd., Mumbai is the second defendant to the suit and the second respondent to this appeal. He shall hereinafter be referred to as "defendant no.2'. Wherever a joint reference to defendant nos.1 and 2 is necessitated by the context, they shall be called the "defendants'.

5. It is the plaintiff's case that in or about the month of June, 2019, he came to know, from reliable sources in the Film Industry, that defendant no.1 is making a movie under the direction of defendant no.2, which is very similar to the copyrighted work. The plaintiff claims that he was given information that defendant no.1 has scheduled a release of the movie under the name and title of ''Chehre'. The plaintiff also asserts that he read news and collected information available in the public domain that the movie, last mentioned, went into production somewhere around the month of May, 2019. The movie ''Chehre' shall hereinafter be called the feature film. The plaintiff asserts that he received reliable information from the Film Industry that the feature film is based exactly on the same "plot and premise' as the plaintiff's copyrighted work. The plaintiff took legal advice and caused a "cease and desist' notice to be issued to the defendants on 14.06.2019. The notice, last mentioned, called upon the defendants to cease and desist from using any portion of the copyrighted work, including his professional, intellectual and creative ideas that have gone into the story and presentation. The defendants were asked to forthwith cease their production of the feature film based on the copyrighted work as it would infringe the plaintiff's registered copyright.

6. The notice is said to have been answered through a reply of June the 29th, 2019, denying infringement of the copyrighted work. It is said by the plaintiff that the defendants are knowingly indulging in infringement of the plaintiff's copyright. They have signed high profile artists to work in the feature film without taking the plaintiff's permission for the use of the copyrighted work, converting his literary work into a motion picture. It is also said that the plaintiff has not so far assigned or transferred or sold his copyright in the copyrighted work to any third party; he holds it in his name alone. The violation of the plaintiff's copyright has been claimed to cause loss of name and reputation to the plaintiff. It is said the infringement, that would come about in consequence of production and release of the feature film, would cause the plaintiff severe harassment, loss of reputation and a cascading effect on the plaintiff's professional prospects, vis-a-vis his reputation as an author in general and the copyrighted work in particular.

7. It is claimed that the wrong done by the defendants not only constitutes infringement of the plaintiff's registered copyright but an act of breach of confidence, besides unlawful trade. It has the effect of depriving the plaintiff of the fruits of his intellectual labour created by investment of colossal time, intellect and effort.

8. Alongside the suit, an application for interim injunction under Order XXXIX Rules 1 and 2 read with Section 151 CPC was also made with a rather curiously worded prayer. The prayer in the temporary injunction application reads:

"In the above mentioned circumstances and in the interest of justice this Hon'ble Court may be pleased grant ad-interim ex-parte injunction in favour of the applicant/ plaintiff and against the defendants, his associates, musclemen, agent, legal heirs, representatives etc, till the pendency of the suit."

9. One would expect the prayer in the application for interim injunction to be somewhat similar in terms of the relief claimed in the plaint, but that is not so. However, it does not appear that the Trial Court has gone much by that technicality. Instead, the Trial Court has substantially read the prayer in the temporary injunction application to be one in aid of the main relief, directed to forbid the defendants, pending suit, from producing and/ or releasing the feature film. Again, the Trial Judge has not expressly said so, but the tenor of his order leaves this Court in no manner of doubt that, that is how he has construed the prayer for interim injunction and decided it by the order impugned.

10. A written statement was filed in opposition to the suit on behalf of defendant no.1. It raises preliminary objections going to the root of the action for infringement of copyright, besides those saying in much detail that no cause of action was disclosed. It was also pleaded that the copyrighted work was devoid of ingenuity and originality as it is an adoption of a banal theme in the public domain. The copyrighted work is said to have been borrowed from a novel titled "A Dangerous Game" written by a Swiss author, Friedrich Durrenmatt. It was pleaded that the theme and plot of the copyrighted work is drawn substantially from the last mentioned novel and, therefore, lacks originality. It is also said that this work is known by different titles in different parts of the world. It is published under the title "Traps' in the United States and "Die Panne' in Germany. The work of the Swiss author is said to form the basis not only of stage plays, but also films and TV shows. It is said to have been adopted into Hindi and Marathi stage plays, that have been professionally performed in India. It has also been pleaded by defendant no.1 that the feature film is in no manner similar, or connected with the copyrighted work nor does it infringe it in any manner.

11. It was also said by the defendants in the written statement and in opposition to the application for temporary injunction that the film was not scheduled to be released in the month of February, 2020 and the suit was, therefore, no more than a quia timet action, that was founded on unreliable sources and erroneous apprehension.

12. Heard Mr. Gaurav Bhardwaj, Mr. Shantanu, Ms. Poonam Meena, Mr. Mahir Malhotra, Mr. Raj Kumar Dhama, learned Counsel for the plaintiff and Mr. Shashi Nandan, learned Senior Advocate assisted by Mr. Ankur Tandon, learned Counsel for respondent no.1 and Mr. Rahul Agarwal, learned Counsel along with Mr. Anubhav Shukla, Mr. Prafull Shukla, Mr. Nishchal Anand, learned Counsel appearing on behalf of respondent no.2.

13. Before this Court, the matter was very elaborately argued on behalf of the plaintiff by Mr. Gaurav Bhardwaj, learned Counsel, very ably assisted by Mr. Shantanu, Ms. Poonam Meena, Mr. Mahir Malhotra, Mr. Raj Kumar Dhama, Advocates. Mr. Bhardwaj was particularly critical of the learned District Judge's order refusing the temporary injunction on parameters completely irrelevant to judge a case for a temporary injunction in a suit for infringement of copyright. He has particularly submitted that the remarks in the impugned order that say that the copyrighted work though registered is an unpublished document are absolutely extraneous to the consideration of a case for grant of a temporary injunction. He has also criticized the learned District Judge's remark to the effect that once the plaintiff pleaded that he had discussed the contents of the copyrighted work with Mazhar Kamran, the plaintiff ought to have impleaded him as a party to the suit.

14. This Court must say that both these remarks in the learned District Judge's order are indeed not relevant to judge a plea for the grant of a temporary injunction in an action for copyright violation. An unpublished copyright, unregistered or registered, is protected intellectual property. It cannot be plagiarized merely because the owner of the copyright has not published it until the time of infringement. The other remark about the failure to implead Kamran as a party to the suit by the plaintiff, is also besides the point. Merely because the plaintiff claims that he had discussed the copyrighted work with Kamran, does not oblige him to implead Kamran as a defendant to the suit. This is so because on the cause of action disclosed in the plaint, the plaintiff does not claim any relief against Kamran. The relief has been claimed against the defendants. The plaintiff's case may require Kamran to be examined as a witness, but there is absolutely no necessity to implead him as a defendant to the suit. On both these premises, Mr. Bhardwaj is right that the learned District Judge has gone wrong. But, these infirmities are not all that the refusal of temporary injunction is about. There is much more to it.

15. It has next been submitted by Mr. Bhardwaj that there is an error apparent on the face of the record committed by the learned District Judge while writing the impugned order. He submits that this is so because the learned Judge has dealt with the matter as if he were holding a summary trial. The learned Counsel says that this is further so because the learned Judge sought evidence to be led at the stage of consideration of the temporary injunction matter, which is manifestly illegal. This could be urged as a case of manifest illegality, but certainly not an error apparent. This is not to say that this Court accepts the submission of the learned Counsel for the plaintiff that the learned District Judge indeed required evidence to be led like a summary trial, or that his order is illegal on that count. The submission would be considered a little later in this judgment. Learned Counsel for the plaintiff, in support of this submission, has placed reliance upon a decision of the Rajasthan High Court in Fateh Singh Mehta v. O.P. Singhal & Ors.1. He has also depended upon a decision of the Supreme Court in Wander Ltd. & Anr. v. Antox India P. Ltd., 19902. These decisions too would be alluded to later.

16. It is next submitted by Mr. Bhargav that the sole substantial defence of the defendants is that there is no comparison pleaded by the plaintiff about the similarity between the feature film and the copyrighted work, which, according the learned Counsel for the plaintiff, is fallacious. He submits that this plea does not lie in the defendants' mouth, inasmuch as the plaintiff had moved an application for discovery of documents under Order IX Rule 12 CPC (along with a notice for production of document under Order XII Rule 8 CPC) seeking a direction from the Court to the defendants to discover the story/ script of his screenplay that was the edifice of the feature film before the Trial Judge; but in answer to the said application, the defendants filed a reply, refusing to discover. He submits that defendant no.1 refused to submit the script before the learned District Judge for his perusal and comparison as it was said that it would jeopardize the commercial viability of the project. It is urged that once the defendants' script, that is the foundation of the feature film, was not accessible to the plaintiff, he could not be expected to plead details of the comparison between the feature film and the copyrighted work. In support of his submission, learned Counsel for the plaintiff has depended on a decision of the Supreme Court in Gopal Krishnaji Ketkar v. Mohamed Haji Latif & Ors.3.

17. It is next submitted that there is a vague plea urged on behalf of the defendants that belated approach to this Court against the impugned order dated 08.04.2021, on the eve of release of the movie, disentitles the plaintiff to relief. Mr. Bhardwaj submits that this plea is misplaced because the whole nation had plunged into a deep and devastating crisis about time when the impugned order was delivered, on account of second wave of the Covid-19 pandemic that raged during the months of April, May and June, 2021. It is pointed out that the pandemic is still going on. It is in those circumstances that the plaintiff's timely pursuit of his appeal has to be viewed. The plaintiff, upon coming to know on 14th August that the defendants had declared that the movie would be released in the theaters on August the 27th, 2021, moved this Court on 19.08.2021, and then urgently mentioned the matter to be taken up.

18. Learned Counsel for the plaintiff next submits that the defendants' case that the suit is a quia timet action based on a mere apprehension is now no longer open, nor was it ever open. It is something that has to be seen in the plaintiff's favour. In this connection, reliance has been placed on a decision of the Madras High Court in P.G. Narayanan v. The Union of India, rep. by the Secretary, Ministry of Information & Broadcasting, Sastri Bhavan, New Delhi-110 001 and others4.

19. It is also urged by Mr. Bhardwaj that the conduct of the defendants is mala fide, unscrupulous and fraudulent, inasmuch as the defendants' project seeks to financially capitalize on the plaintiff's creativity, labour and scholarship. This they seek to do in violation of a registered copyright. In support of this part of his submission, learned Counsel for the plaintiff has placed reliance upon a decision of the Telangana High Court in Super Cassettes Industries Private Limited & Another v. Nandi Chinni Kumar & Others5. It is also urged that the learned District Judge has also erred in not securing a copy of the script that is the basis of the feature film and comparing it with the copyrighted work; in the absence of doing this, the learned Judge could not have disposed of the temporary injunction matter. It is in the last submitted that the plea of the defendants not to interdict release of the movie on ground that investment worth hundreds of crores of rupees have gone into its production is abominable. Mr. Bhardwaj says that a submission of this kind leaves an impression that is not seemly in a Court of justice.

20. Mr. Shashi Nandan, learned Senior Advocate assisted by Mr. Ankur Tandon, learned Counsel for respondent no. 1 and Mr. Rahul Agarwal, along with Mr. Anubhav Shukla, Mr. Prafull Shukla and Mr. Nischal Anand, learned Counsel appearing on behalf of respondent no. 2 have submitted in one voice that the plaintiff's claim to have shared the copyrighted work with Mazhar Kamran, whom the plaintiff believes may have passed on the script to the defendants, is founded on sheer conjecture. There is not the slightest proof offered that the plaintiff, in fact, shared this script of the copyrighted work with Mazhar Kamran or the further proof that Mazhar Kamran, in turn, passed on that intellectual property to the defendants. Mr. Shashi Nandan has drawn the Court's attention to the plaint, where it is said that the plaintiff, in the month of June, 2019, had learnt from reliable sources that defendant no. 1 is producing the feature film under the direction of defendant no. 2 and that the story/ plot of the feature film is similar to the copyrighted work. It is emphasized that no detail of "the reliable sources" have been pleaded. The suit, therefore, in Mr. Shashi Nandan's submission, is based on hearsay, conjectures and surmises.

21. It is next submitted by the learned Counsel for the defendants that the plaint reveals that it is bereft of a cause of action, let alone a prima facie case. Attention of the Court is drawn to Paragraph no.5 of the plaint, that purports to plead the cause of action. It is submitted by the learned Senior Counsel and Mr. Agarwal that the plaintiff has failed to disclose facts and documents in support of the cause of action. It is particularly urged that the plaint fails to disclose that :

(a) The copyrighted work is an original literary work;

(b) Defendant no. 1 had access to the copyrighted work; and

(c) The script of the feature film is substantially similar to the copyrighted work.

22. It is next urged on behalf of the defendants that plaintiff has not revealed any material to indicate the defendants' access to the copyrighted work. Reliance has been placed on the decision of the Bombay High Court in Mansoob Haider v. Yashraj Films Private Ltd.6. It is also urged that the plaintiff merely rests his case on speculation that is far from one that meets the minimal standard of proof.

23. Learned Senior Counsel for the defendants says that at best, it can be construed as a quia timet action, where the burden of proof is much greater on the plaintiff in comparison to an action for injunction, where an actual injury is sustained by the plaintiff contra-distinguished from an apprehended injury. In support of this submission, reliance has been placed on the decisions of the Bombay High Court in Graigola Merthyr Company Limited v. Mayor Alderman and Burjesses of Swansea7 and Zee Entertainment Enterprises Ltd. v. Sony Pictures Network Pvt. Ltd.8. It is further argued that the reasonable apprehension about an apprehended injury must arise from credible information, the particulars whereof are duly pleaded; that is utterly wanting.

24. It is next submitted that a civil suit cannot be a fishing or roving inquiry, but must be based on established principles of law and accurate pleadings. It is urged that the plaintiff's application for discovery was objected to by the defendants on facts and grounds recognized in law. The Trial Judge never directed the defendants to submit the script for the Court's perusal. It is also said that the application for discovery was never allowed or the defendants permitted to serve the notice that they enclosed with the application. It has been particularly urged before this Court that the defendants' script that is the basis of the feature film and the copyrighted work, both are inspired from a theme of the mock trial contained in the novel titled "A Dangerous Game". About this novel, allusion has already been made earlier in this judgment.

25. It has next been urged that a comparison of the two scripts may show a similarity between the common theme, but the treatment of the subject by each party is completely different. It is urged, therefore, that it cannot be dubbed as an infringement of the plaintiff's copyright. It is urged that the plaintiff's claim does not at all make out a prima facie case, as it is founded on utter conjecture. It is an action that is designed to prevent the defendants from commercially exploiting the feature film, which is an upcoming project nearing fruition. There is no unimpeachable evidence of the kind and degree required to make out a prima facie case in an action that is essentially quia timet. About the balance of convenience here, it is said on behalf of the defendants that the plaintiff has chosen to approach this Court in appeal at the eleventh hour, whereas the order impugned was passed on 8th April, 2021. It is said that this Court is functioning normally since the month of July, 2021 and physical hearing has been going on for quite some time now. The defendants also say that they are at the threshold of release of the feature film in India, which has already been released in some foreign jurisdictions. The defendants have entered into onerous contracts with Over The Top (OTT) Platforms and film distributors. Any embargo on the release of the film would have a devastating effect on the rights of the third parties. It would lead to irreparable injury to the defendants and many others, who have entered into engagement with them. It is submitted that on the other hand, in the off-chance, if the plaintiff were to succeed in the action at the trial, he can be easily compensated in monetary value as well as by provision of the intellectual credit for the movie. In support of this part of the defendants' submissions and the counts of irreparable loss and balance of convenience, reliance has been placed on a decision of the Bombay High Court in Akashaditya Harishchandra Lama v. Ashutosh Gowarikar9 and the decision of the Delhi High Court in John Hart Jr. and Another v. Mukul Deora and Others10.

26. This Court has keenly considered the rival submissions advanced on behalf of both sides and perused the record. The submission of the plaintiff that the Trial Judge has manifestly erred in expecting evidence to be produced at the hearing of the temporary injunction application, as if it were a mini trial, is not one of much substance. The reason is not far to seek. The fundamental principles of law governing a motion for temporary injunction pending suit requires the plaintiff to establish his prima facie case, the irreparable loss that he would sustain from a refusal of the injunction and the balance of convenience. No doubt that this tripod that holds a plea for a temporary injunction firm is not required to be established by evidence of the kind that is expected to be led at the trial. But, it does require a prima facie case to be established and the two other ingredients by some evidence that can be led on affidavits. Temporary injunction matters are reputed to be decided on affidavits, with copies of documents annexed. The first requirement about a prima facie case postulates that the case pleaded in the plaint, on the foot of which alone, the case for a temporary injunction stands, should disclose prima facie and not after a searching inquiry that must await trial, that a triable case is made out. The decision on this point urged on behalf of the plaintiff is the one in Wander Ltd. (supra). In Wander Ltd., it has been held :

"9. Usually, the prayer for grant of an interlocutory injunction is at a stage when the existence of the legal right asserted by the plaintiff and its alleged violation are both contested and uncertain and remain uncertain till they are established at the trial on evidence. The court, at this stage, acts on certain well settled principles of administration of this form of interlocutory remedy which is both temporary and discretionary. The object of the interlocutory injunction, it is stated

"...is to protect the plaintiff against injury by violation of his rights for which he could not adequately be compensated in damages recoverable in the action if the uncertainty were resolved in his favour at the trial. The need for such protection must be weighed against the corresponding need of the defendant to be protected against injury resulting from his having been prevented from exercising his own legal rights for which he could not be adequately compensated. The court must weigh one need against another and determine where the "balance of convenience' lies."

The interlocutory remedy is intended to preserve in status quo, the rights of parties which may appear on a prima facie case. The court also, in restraining a defendant from exercising what he considers his legal right but what the plaintiff would like to be prevented, puts into the scales, as a relevant consideration whether the defendant has yet to commence his enterprise or whether he has already been doing so in which latter case considerations somewhat different from those that apply to a case where the defendant is yet to commence his enterprise, are attracted."

27. The other decision relied upon by the plaintiff on this point is Fateh Singh Mehta (supra), which is not of much relevance on the issue in hand, though it is quite relevant on another point that would soon be dealt with.

28. Now, the question whether a prima facie case is made out, is intrinsically connected to the cause of action regarding infringement of the copyright alleged. It is true that in order to establish a prima facie case, in an action for infringement of copyright, there have to be pleadings to establish that the literary work, of which the plaintiff claims infringement by the defendants should be shown to be the plaintiff's original literary work, in the sense that the work is at least original rendition of a known theme with the plaintiff producing it, employing his knowledge, labour and skill. In addition, it has also to be established that the defendant had access to the plaintiff's work, and that the offending script is substantially similar to the plaintiff's script. Here, there is no doubt about one fact that the plaintiff holds a copyrighted work. But beyond that, the pleadings are utterly vague. There is an assertion to the effect that the plaintiff discussed the copyrighted work with Mazhar Kamran, but it does not say that he showed the copyrighted work to Kamran or handed it over to him. Therefore, there is a very vague case pleaded about the intermediary who could have possibly palmed off the copyrighted work to the defendants, on coming to know of its contents. A mere discussion of a work involving intellectual intricacies with another is not a case enough to impute that other with knowledge of its contents; and knowledge good enough to share it with a third party. The pleadings, therefore, are woefully vague about the access of the defendants to the copyrighted work.

29. The next assertion in the plaint that the plaintiff was given information about defendant no. 1 producing the feature film, that is essentially similar to the copyrighted work, is also utterly vague. It is set out in Paragraph no.5 of the plaint. The plaintiff does not name the source through which he came to know that the feature film is based on a script that is a plagiarized version of the copyrighted work. The terms employed in the relevant pleadings are "reliable source/sources from the film industry" which can hardly go to make for a prima facie case or a triable case for the grant of a temporary injunction in an action for infringement of copyright.

30. There is another issue which is required to be addressed. It is connected to the fundamental issue about whether the plaintiff at all had a cause of action to proceed for infringement with the kind of allegations that find place in the plaint. Prima facie, the plaintiff never had occasion to see what the contents of the script leading to the feature film were, the movie having not been released as yet and certainly not until time the suit was filed. The plaintiff has inferred that it is a copy of his work on the basis of some hearsay, that he has expressed through vague allegations in the plaint, describing them as reliable sources from the film industry. The entire action is, therefore, based on the plaintiff's conjecture. This cannot be the basis of an action for infringement of copyright.

31. In this connection, reference may be made to the decision of the Bombay High Court in Zee Entertainment Enterprises (supra). The aforesaid principle is well-established that unless there is the infringing copy in the hands of the plaintiff, an action in the nature of quia timet would not lie, and even if it does, a temporary injunction on the basis of mere speculation would not be granted. In Zee Entertainment Enterprises, it was held:

"20. Mr. Kadam then relies on the decision of a learned Single Judge of this Court (A.M. Khanwilkar, J as he then was) in Urmi Juvekar Chiang v.Global Broadcast News Ltd to say that what is required is not a hypercritical or meticulous scrutiny but an assessment from the perspective of the average viewer. I understand this to mean that having seen Sony's show, would the average viewer believe that this is in fact a copy of Zee's show. We cannot today adopt that standard, and this of Zee's making, because it chose to make this as a quia timet application. This is not without consequences. Sony's show is scheduled to release only on 8th April 2016. Nobody has seen it yet. What Zee proceeds on is something of speculation or conjecture. Effectively Zee asks me to conclude that Sony's show releasing this Saturday, 8th April 2016 must necessarily be an infringing copy of the Zee's show; and this I am supposed to conclude or am invited to conclude on the basis of paragraphs 8, 9 and 10 of the plaint; although, as we have seen, in those paragraphs the distinct elements (in paragraph 10) have been disclaimed, and the other paragraphs only contain non-specific generalities without any explanation as to the original labour or effort put in by Zee. During the rejoinder, I did ask Mr. Khandekar to consider whether he would prefer to wait till after the show is released on Saturday, on my closing the hearings today, so that the Plaintiffs would have had the opportunity to see the show's first episodes. Mr. Khandekar did take instructions and these were to proceed with the matter today rather than wait for the release. That is certainly something the Plaintiffs are entitled to do and it cannot prejudice the final results. But inevitably what it does mean is that Zee's case is then limited to a matter of speculation without even meeting a minimal standard of proof. This creates enough difficulties in the context of the claim in infringement but it creates even more difficulties in the context of the claim in passing off and to which I will next turn."

32. On general principles governing an action that is in the nature of quia timet, it has since long been held that for an injunction to be granted on a threat of injury, the evidence about threat should be through some tangible evidence laid before the Court. An injunction of this kind cannot be sought by a plaintiff on bald assertions based on hypothetical facts. Burden of proof in a quia timet action is also much heavier than in a case where the defendant has acted and wronged the plaintiff to his detriment. The principle is classically stated in the decision of the Court of

Appeal in Graigola Merthyr Company Limited (supra), where Lord Hanworth M.R. said thus:

"A quia timet action is not based upon hypothetical facts for the decision of an abstract question. When the Court has before it evidence sufficient to establish that an injury will be done if there is no intervention by the Court-it will act at once, and protect the rights of the party who is in fear, and thus supply the need of what has been terms protective justice. It is a very old principle."

33. In Graigola Merthyr Company Limited in his separate but concurring opinion, it was held by Lawrence L.J.:

"..... The only difference between the two cases is that in a purely quia timet action the burden of proof resting on the plaintiff is far heavier than in an action where an act has already been done and has already caused actual damage. In both cases, however, the issue is the same-namely, where the act (completed or intended) is an act causing substantial damage to the plaintiff.....…"

34. Here, the submission of the learned Counsel for the plaintiff that the defendants' plea that the suit is a quia timet action based on a mere apprehension, is now no longer open, nor was it ever open, must be dealt with. Learned Counsel for the plaintiff has also said that it is no longer a mere apprehension and is something that ought to be viewed in the plaintiff's favour. Learned Counsel for the plaintiff, in urging this part of his submission, has drawn inspiration from the decision of the Madras High Court in P.G. Narayanan (supra), where it has been held:

"26. Learned counsel for the petitioner also submitted that the petitioner is entitled to invoke the jurisdiction of this Court for a quia timet action. Quia timet is an extraordinary relief granted by Courts to prevent irreparable harm. It gives relief to parties who face imminent threat or danger of a tortious harm for which there is no adequate legal relief available later. They are actually writs of prevention which require three conditions -- (a) no actual present injury, (b) reasonable fear of future harm, and (c) irreparable harm, if relief is not granted. According to the learned counsel for the petitioner, "the violation has already occurred". If so, condition (a) is not satisfied. The petitioner has not made out a case of reasonable future harm. It is not clear how if the license is granted to the sixth respondent, public interest will be injured and hence, condition (b) is not satisfied. Further, it is not as if even if the sixth respondent is granted the license, the harm is irreparable, since it is seen from the guidelines that the license is not a permanent one; it is for a period of ten years and it is terminable at the instance of the licensing authority, which is the Union Government. Quia timet action is defined as "One a claimant may bring to obtain an injunction to prevent or restrain some threatened act which, if it is done, would or may cause substantial damage and for which money would not be a sufficient or appropriate remedy". None of these ingredients are satisfied in the present action."

35. From what the Court has been able to make out of this part of the submission by the plaintiff's learned Counsel, is that with the impending release of the feature film, the apprehension has turned into a potent threat staring the plaintiff in his face. It is true that it can now no longer be said that the defendants are not about releasing the feature film and that part of the cause of action is based on a mere apprehension, that would not support a quia timet. The feature film has done its full gestation and would be released by the defendants in the morning hours tomorrow, but it is not the mere release of the feature film, that would afford the plaintiff a cause of action prima facie to maintain a quia timet. He would have to demonstrate from a case duly pleaded and evidence good enough to support an entitlement to a temporary injunction on basis that the copyrighted work and the script leading to the feature film are prima facie so similar in the treatment, may be of a common theme, that it is no more than an offending copy of the plaintiff's copyright. About this part, prima facie the plaintiff has not pleaded sufficiently and proved up to the threshold by a comparison of the two scripts a positive case of violation of his copyright. As already said, the allegations about violations of the plaintiff's copyright in the plaint, are based on mere hearsay and no more. The decision in P.G. Narayanan is hardly attracted on the facts here.

36. The next submission advanced on behalf of the plaintiff is based on that objection of the defendants that the plaintiff ought to have pleaded accurately the similarities between the copyrighted work and the script underlying the feature film, which was not done. In this regard, learned Counsel for the plaintiff has largely said that considering the vantage at which the parties stand, the plaintiff did not have access to the script leading to the feature film. Therefore, it is impossible to expect of him to have pleaded the similarities with full particulars thereof in the plaint. It has also been said that the application for discovery, though made, was opposed with the result that neither the plaintiff nor the learned Judge, before whom that application was made, could ever have the advantage of comparing the two works. But the question is that whatever be the reason of the failure to plead in the plaint, the offending similarity between the copyrighted work and the script said to be the foundation of the feature film, would it entitle the plaintiff to maintain the action prima facie. Learned Counsel for the plaintiff says that where there are no means for the plaintiff to know the contents of the infringing script and despite demand, the defendant does not discover its contents in answer to an application made for the purpose, the burden must be placed on the shoulders of the one who withholds the best evidence which is in his possession, not only from the plaintiff, but also the Court. In support of this contention, learned Counsel for the plaintiff has drawn this Court's attention to the following observations of the Supreme Court in Gopal Krishnaji Ketkar (supra) :

"5. ..... Lastly, reference should be made to the important circumstance that the appellant has not produced the account of the Dargah income. In the course of his evidence the appellant admitted that he was enjoying the income of Plot No. 134 but he did not produce any accounts to substantiate his contention. He also admitted that "he had got record of the Dargah income and that account was kept separately". But the appellant has not produced either his own accounts or the account of the Dargah to show as to how the income from Plot No. 134 was dealt with. Mr Gokhale, however, argued that it was no part of the appellant's duty to produce the accounts unless he was called upon to do so and the onus was upon the respondents to prove the case and to show that the Dargah was the owner of Plot No. 134. We are unable to accept this argument as correct. Even if the burden of proof does not lie on a party the Court may draw an adverse inference if he withholds important documents in his possession which can throw light on the facts at issue. It is not, in our opinion, a sound practice for those desiring to rely upon a certain state of facts to withhold from the Court the best evidence which is in their possession which could throw light upon the issues in controversy and to rely upon the abstract doctrine of onus of proof. In Murugesam Pillai v. Manickavasaka Pandara [44 IA 98, at p 103] Lord Shaw observed as follows:

"A practice has grown up in Indian procedure of those in possession of important documents or information lying by, trusting to the abstract doctrine of the onus of proof, and failing, accordingly, to furnish to the Courts the best material for its decision. With regard to third parties, this may be right enough -- they have no responsibility for the conduct of the suit; but with regard to the parties to the suit it is, in Their Lordships' opinion, an inversion of sound practice for those desiring to rely upon a certain state of facts to withhold from the Court the written evidence in their possession which would throw light upon the proposition."

This passage was cited with approval by this Court in a recent decision-- Biltu Ram v. Jainandan Prasad [Civil Appeal No. 941 of 1965 decided on April 15, 1968$$$] . In that case, reliance was placed on behalf of the defendants upon the following passage from the decision of the Judicial Committee in Bilas Kunwar v. Desraj Ranjit Singh [42 IA 202, at p. 206] :

"But it is open to a litigant to refrain from producing any documents that he considers irrelevant; if the other litigant is dissatisfied it is for him to apply for an affidavit of documents and he can obtain inspection and production of all that appears to him in such affidavit to be relevant and proper. If he fails so to do, neither he nor the Court at his suggestion is entitled to draw any inference as to the contents of any such documents."

But Shah, J., speaking for the Court, stated:

"The observations of the Judicial Committee do not support the proposition that unless a party is called upon expressly to make an affidavit of documents and inspection and production of documents is demanded, the Court cannot raise an adverse inference against a party withholding evidence in his possession. Such a rule is inconsistent with Illustration (g) of Section 114 of the Evidence Act, and also an impressive body of authority."

37. The question in Gopal Krishnaji Ketkar arose in the context of an issue, whether the land in dispute in the said case was the property of Peer Haji Malang Dargah or the appellant. It was in the context of the accounts relating to Plot No. 134, which the appellant admitted he was maintaining and did not produce that it was held that even if the burden of proof does not lie on a party, the Court may draw an adverse inference, if that party were to withhold important documents that can throw light on the facts in issue. The proposition involved here is not at all about the burden of proof, but the cause of action itself. What is required to be examined is, as already said, what would be essential to make out a triable cause in an action for infringement of copyright. Those principles are well enunciated in Mansoob Haider. It was a temporary injunction application made in a suit for infringement of copyright. The plaintiff was a professional film script writer. The short facts, giving rise to the action and the temporary injunction matter there, as these figure in the report of the decision in Mansoob Haider, are extracted below :

"1. The Plaintiff, a professional film script writer, and whose father wrote scripts and dialogue for notable films, is the author of the film script entitled "ONCE". The entirety of this script is annexed to the plaint at Exhibit "B". The Plaintiff claims that a recently released film, Dhoom 3, infringes the Plaintiff's copyright in his script "ONCE". In the suit, the Plaintiff seeks an order that he be given credit in the titles of the film.

2. The Plaintiff claims that he had delivered this script to 1st Defendant's office. Three years later, the film Dhoom 3 was released.....…"

38. In the aforesaid context, the principles relating to what would be essential for the plaintiff to succeed in an action for infringement and a fortiori, on a motion for temporary injunction pending suit, were laid down in Mansoob Haider thus :

"38. There are, therefore, three crucial questions or legal tests in cases like this:

(a) Has the plaintiff proved that the defendant had access to his work?

(b) On considering the two works, would an ordinary person inevitably conclude that the defendant had copied the plaintiff's work? (the subjective or intrinsic test); and

(c) Is there a substantial and material overlapping or commonality of the original elements in the plaintiff's work?

39. Even if a plaintiff fails on the first question, he may yet succeed on the second and third questions. But if he fails on the second question also, then I do not see how he can possibly succeed on the third alone. But that may arise in another matter. In this case, in my view, the present Plaintiff fails on all three counts. Indeed, his case is not even based on the second question, but only on the first and his own variation of the third: that Defendants Nos. 1 to 3 had access and that there are common elements, even if these are not shown to be entirely unique and some of which are later given up as being original (the magic trick) or demonstrated to be untrue (being set in a foreign locale). The Plaintiff's variation on the third question is a sort of reductio ad absurdum: a vivisection of individual elements, a false and misleading juxtaposition of these, and, on that basis, to 'round up the usual suspects' and invite a finding of infringement. If these elements, however and wherever placed, are in support of an entirely different premise and story line, there can be no copying, no piracy and no infringement.

G. Conclusions

40. In my view, there is no case whatsoever made out for the grant of interim relief. The Plaintiff has not made out a prima-facie case. I am not convinced that the Plaintiff has even been able to demonstrate that his work was given to, let alone seen, by the 1st Defendant or any of its employees, officers or principal personnel. The two works are entirely different, each original in its own way. The film Dhoom 3 is not and cannot possibly be said to be a copy of the Plaintiff's work Once. The material propositions and premise of the two works are entirely dissimilar. The mere use in both of certain well established and commonly used motifs, themes or elements or even the perhaps co-incidental placing of these in a certain juxtaposition gives the Plaintiff no rights against the rival work."

39. Therefore, the question that is required to be addressed is not about the burden of proof, or so to speak, the defendants' burden as the plaintiff claims, once they (the defendants) opposed the application for discovery to disclose the contents of the script that is the basis of the feature film, but whether the plaintiff has a triable case pleaded on the parameters of an action for infringement. It has already been held that there is absolutely vague pleading to show that the defendant could have had access to the copyrighted work. The Court in Mansoob Haider no doubt, has said that failing on the point of access, the plaintiff can still succeed, upon showing that on a comparison of the two works, an ordinary person would inevitably conclude that defendants had copied the plaintiff's work. There is some doubt whether access has to be necessarily proved, but assuming that it is required to be proved, it would still be necessary for the plaintiff to plead and show that an ordinary person, in comparing the copyrighted work and the feature film, would inevitably come to the conclusion that the latter is a copy of the former.

40. It must be remarked here that before this Court, during the hearing, the Court asked the defendants if they would produce the script, on the foundation of which, the feature film was produced. On instructions sought, the defendants said that they were willing and would produce it. They did so during the hearing on 26.08.2021. At the instance of the plaintiff, the defendants also filed an affidavit to the effect that the final script, on the foot whereof the feature film has been developed and produced, authored by one Ranjeet Kapoor, is the one that is being passed on to the Court. However, the defendants declined to share the script with the plaintiff. The Court, therefore, compared the copyrighted script that was provided by the plaintiff and the script on which the feature film is founded, without sharing it with parties or the advantage of hearing learned Counsel. The Court has nevertheless very carefully compared the two scripts. There is no doubt that they share a common theme. But, it is equally true that the two are distinct and individual treatments of the same subject and theme developed by different individuals in their own way, as a result of their individual intellectual exertions. The two scripts prima facie are distinctly different treatments of the same theme. The similarity of the theme consists in the protagonist of the story, wandering off onto a mysterious road - a highway, and landing in distress amidst mysterious characters, who are retired members of the legal profession: a Judge, a prosecutor, a defence counsel and a hangman. The protagonist in both the scripts has some kind of a wrongdoing, a crime to hide, which, in a game, these four men play about a mock court, he reveals when put on trial for the game's fun. In both the themes, ultimately, he dies. This is the theme to be found in the novel "A Dangerous Game", authored by Friedrich Durrenmatt. But, that is not what is relevant. What is to be seen is whether the plaintiff's treatment of the theme in his original way has been plagiarized. The law appears to be that infringement of a copyright is not about the novelty of the work, but about its originality. A very old theme may receive a different and distinctive creative development at the hands of different individuals. Both would be entitled to the copyrights of their originality. The commonality of the theme would not offer any cause of action for infringement.

41. In this connection, reference may be made to the decision of the Bombay High Court in XYZ Films v. UTV Motion Pictures/ UTV Software Communications Ltd.11. In the said decision, the test about what would constitute violation of a copyright was laid down thus :

"32. In my view, these quoted portions do not actually assist Dr. Saraf at all. To the contrary, they seem to be against him. The Plaintiffs' copyright does not subsist in any so-called 'central' theme or concept. It subsists only in a particular realization of it; and if that is not copied, and the rival work is wholly different, there is no infringement. I must agree with this view that there is, generally speaking, no copyright in the central idea or theme of a story or a play. It subsists in a combination of situations, events and scenes which, working together, form the realization or expression of that idea or theme. If this combination is totally different and yields a completely different result, the taking of the idea or the theme is not copyright infringement. To my mind this would seem to apply almost exactly to the case at hand. As the Australian Court said another author who materially varies the incidents and character and materially changes the story is not an infringer of copyright."

42. This question about what originality of the impugned work would mean in the context of a copyright violation was considered by the Rajasthan High Court in Fateh Singh Mehta (supra), where the principle was laid down:

"7. ..... The originality which is required relates to the expression of the thought but the Act does not require that the expression must be in an original or novel form, but that the work must not be copied from another work that it should originate from the author (See University of London Press Limited v. University Tutorial Press Limited (2). Thus it is well settled that the originality in work relates to the expression of thought. Much depends on the skill, labour knowledge and the capacity to digest and utilies the new materials contributed by the others in imparting to the product the quality and the character which those materials did not possess and which differentiate the product from the materials used. It was stated in the decision reported in AIR 1973 MP 261 that the law of copy right do not protect ideas but they deal with the particular expression of ideas. It is always possible to arrive at the same result from independent sources. The compiler of a work in which absolute originality is of necessity excluded is entitled, without exposing himself to a charge of piracy, to make use of preceeding work upon the subject, where he bestows such mental labour upon what he has taken, and subjects it to such revisial and correction as to produce an original result. The question whether there has been an infringement of copy right depends on whether a colourable limitation has been made."

43. Assuming that the plaintiff has a copyright in the copyrighted work, the law about what would possibly constitute a violation of that copyright has to be further examined for the purpose of this appeal, which after all asserts a right to temporary injunction forbearing release of the feature film pending suit. In the opinion of this Court, it would be apposite to look to guidance in authority also where the point was, whether the plaintiff acquired copyright in a literary work, that he was entitled to protect. This is so because the criteria for the acquisition of copyright in a literary work would be the same as that in claiming a violation of it. The difference would be only about the vantage of the parties claiming. The substance of the right is originality. In one case, it is about the copyright to be ascertained in the literary work that is claimed, and in the other, assuming that the right exists in the person claiming, whether the infringing work is also original enough so as not to be a violation of the claimed copyright. Macmillan and Company, Limited v. K. and J. Cooper12 was a case that arose under the Copyright Act, 1911, where the issue before their Lordships of the Privy Council was whether the plaintiff's work had sufficient originality to entitle it to a copyright. It has been held thus:

"The only other authority on the point of the acquisition of copyright to which it is necessary to refer is the case of UNIVERSITY OF LONDON PRESS, LTD., v. UNIVERSITY TUTORIAL PRESS, LTD., (9) in which Mr. Justice Peterson, dealing with the meaning of the words "original literary work used in Section 1, sub-section 1," of the Act of 1911,at page 608 says:

"The word "original' does not in this connection mean that the work must be the expression of original or inventive thought. Copyright Acts are not concerned with the origin of ideas but with the expression of thought; and in the case of literary work,' with the expression of thought in print or writing. The originality which is required relates to the expression of the thought; but the Act does not require that the expression must be in an original or novel form, but that the work must not be copied from another work that it should originate from the author."

In their Lordships' view this is the correct construction of the words of S. 1, sub-section 1, and they adopt it.

What is the precise amount of the knowledge, labour, judgment or literary skill or taste which the author of any book or other compilation must bestow upon its composition in order to acquire copyright in it within the meaning of the Copyright Act of 1911 cannot be defined in precise terms. In every case it must depend largely on the special facts of that case, and must in each case be very much a question of degree. .....…"

44. This issue has engaged the attention of the Supreme Court of Canada in a relatively recent decision in Law Society of Upper Canada v. CCH Canadian Limited13. The issue before the Supreme Court of Canada relating to violation of copyright arose in the context of provision of custom photocopying services by the Law Society of Upper Canada, a statutory non-profit corporation of some standing. The law society maintained and operated a library equipped with reference and research material said to be the largest collection of legal material in Canada. The library provided a request - based photocopy service for the law society members, judicial and other authorized researchers. Under its custom photocopy service, the desired photocopies of material were delivered in person or by mail to persons eligible to avail this facility of the library. The law society also maintained self-service photocopiers for use by its patrons. Some publishers of law reports, photocopies whereof were permitted by the library to be taken by its patrons, commenced action for infringement of their copyright. This was broadly the contours of the action that ultimately travelled to the Supreme Court of Canada, where, amongst the several issues decided, one was the contemporary views of Court about "originality' in the copyright law, albeit in the context of the Canadian Statute. The learned Chief Justice speaking for a unanimous Court held:

"(iii) Recent Jurisprudence

21. Although many Canadian courts have adopted a rather low standard of originality, i.e., that of industriousness, more recently, some courts have begun to question whether this standard is appropriate. For example, the Federal Court of Appeal in Tele-Direct, supra, held, at para. 29, that those cases which had adopted the sweat of the brow approach to originality should not be interpreted as concluding that labour, in and of itself, could ground a finding of originality. As Décary J.A. explained: "If they did, I suggest that their approach was wrong and is irreconcilable with the standards of intellect and creativity that were expressly set out in NAFTA and endorsed in the 1993 amendments to the Copyright Act and that were already recognized in Anglo-Canadian law." See also Édutile Inc. v. Automobile Protection Assn., [2000] 4 F.C. 195 (C.A.), at para. 8, adopting this passage.

22. The United States Supreme Court explicitly rejected the "sweat of the brow" approach to originality in Feist, supra. In so doing, O'Connor J. explained at p. 353 that, in her view, the "sweat of the brow" approach was not consistent with the underlying tenets of copyright law:

The "sweat of the brow" doctrine had numerous flaws, the most glaring being that it extended copyright protection in a compilation beyond selection and arrangement -- the compiler's original contributions -- to the facts themselves. Under the doctrine, the only defense to infringement was independent creation. A subsequent compiler was "not entitled to take one word of information previously published," but rather had to "independently wor(k) out the matter for himself, so as to arrive at the same result from the same common sources of information." ... "Sweat of the brow" courts thereby eschewed the most fundamental axiom of copyright law -- that no one may copyright facts or ideas.

As this Court recognized in Compo, supra, at p. 367, U.S. copyright cases may not be easily transferable to Canada given the key differences in the copyright concepts in Canadian and American copyright legislation. This said, in Canada, as in the United States, copyright protection does not extend to facts or ideas but is limited to the expression of ideas. As such, O'Connor J.'s concerns about the "sweat of the brow" doctrine's improper extension of copyright over facts also resonate in Canada. I would not, however, go as far as O'Connor J. in requiring that a work possess a minimal degree of creativity to be considered original. See Feist, supra, at pp. 345 and 358.

(iv) Purpose of the Copyright Act

23. As mentioned, in Théberge, supra, this Court stated that the purpose of copyright law was to balance the public interest in promoting the encouragement and dissemination of works of the arts and intellect and obtaining a just reward for the creator. When courts adopt a standard of originality requiring only that something be more than a mere copy or that someone simply show industriousness to ground copyright in a work, they tip the scale in favour of the author's or creator's rights, at the loss of society's interest in maintaining a robust public domain that could help foster future creative innovation. See J.

Litman, "The Public Domain" (1990), 39 Emory L.J. 965, at p. 969, and C.J. Craig, "Locke, Labour and Limiting the Author's Right: A Warning against a Lockean Approach to Copyright Law" (2002), 28 Queen's L.J. 1. By way of contrast, when an author must exercise skill and judgment to ground originality in a work, there is a safeguard against the author being overcompensated for his or her work. This helps ensure that there is room for the public domain to flourish as others are able to produce new works by building on the ideas and information contained in the works of others.

(v) Workable, Yet Fair Standard

24. Requiring that an original work be the product of an exercise of skill and judgment is a workable yet fair standard. The "sweat of the brow" approach to originality is too low a standard. It shifts the balance of copyright protection too far in favour of the owner's rights, and fails to allow copyright to protect the public's interest in maximizing the production and dissemination of intellectual works. On the other hand, the creativity standard of originality is too high. A creativity standard implies that something must be novel or non-obvious -- concepts more properly associated with patent law than copyright law. By way of contrast, a standard requiring the exercise of skill and judgment in the production of a work avoids these difficulties and provides a workable and appropriate standard for copyright protection that is consistent with the policy objectives of the Copyright Act.

(vi) Conclusion

25. For these reasons, I conclude that an "original" work under the Copyright Act is one that originates from an author and is not copied from another work. That alone, however, is not sufficient to find that something is original. In addition, an original work must be the product of an author's exercise of skill and judgment. The exercise of skill and judgment required to produce the work must not be so trivial that it could be characterized as a purely mechanical exercise. While creative works will by definition be "original" and covered by copyright, creativity is not required to make a work "original"."

45. The Canadian decision shows that the standard of originality, where the impugned work would not be regarded as infringement, ought to be an exercise of skill and judgment by the author, where the changes that he affects are not so trivial as may be regarded as purely mechanical. This standard would seem to give leeway to an author to write about a theme, that is the subject matter of the work of which infringement is claimed without risk, provided he puts in his intellectual skill, learning and judgment, in his own way, and not merely doing a cosmetic change over. Reference in this context must be made to a very old decision by the Circuit Court, D. Massachusetts in Greene v. Bishop14, where the Court, faced with the same issue, held:

"Copying is not confined to literal repetition, but includes, also, the various modes in which the matter of any publication may be adopted, imitated, or transferred, with more or less colorable alterations to disguise the piracy. In all such cases, says Mr. Curtis (Curtis, Copyr. 253), the main question is, whether the author of the work alleged to be a piracy has resorted to the original sources alike open to him and to all waiters, or whether he has adopted and used the plan of the work which it is alleged he has infringed, without resorting to the other sources from which he had a right to borrow. Within these principles, both the report of the master, and the evidence on which it is founded, show that the respondent has copied what in judgment of law was exclusively secured to the complainant, under and by virtue of his respective copyrights."

46. In India the law relating to copyright in its historical perspective finds reference in the decision of the Madhya Pradesh High Court in M/s. Mishra Bandhu Karyalaya and others v. Shivratanlal Koshal15. The brief history of this legislation finds mention in paragraph 11 of the report, which reads:

"11. We are, however, concerned with the state of things prevalent prior to 21st January, 1958, when the Copyright Act, 1957 (Act. No. 14 of 1957), was brought into force. The law then in force was the Imperial Copyright Act, 1911 (1 and 2 Geo. V, Ch. 46) which, with slight modification, was made applicable to this Country by the Indian Copyright Act (Act No. 3 of 1914). The Imperial Copyright Act, 1911, either as operating proprio vigore or as applied by the Indian Copyright Act, 1914, was "a law in force in the territory of India immediately before the commencement of the Constitution", and it, therefore, continued to be in force as the law of the land by virtue of Article 372(1) of the Constitution. We consider the following passage in Copinger and Skone James on Copyright, 9th Edn., pp. 428-9, as describing the position correctly.

"The United Kingdom Copyright Act, 1911, extended to India as part of His Majesty's dominions, but certain modifications were introduced by the Indian Copyright Act, 1914 (No. 3 of 1914). The effect of Section 18 of the Indian Independence Act, 1947 (10 & 11 Geo. VI, C. 30) appeared to be that copyright protection both in India and with respect to works originating there remained unchanged."

47. The point under consideration was dealt with by their Lordships of the Division in M/s. Mishra Bandhu Karyalaya, thus:

"40. It would thus appear that a "copy' is that which comes so near the original as to suggest the original to the mind of the reader. The dictum of Kekewich, J., in 1908-1 Ch 519 (supra) hag throughout been followed and applied in India. See Sitanath Basak v. Mohini Mohan Singh, 34 Cal WN 540 : (AIR 1931 Cal 233), Mohendra Chandra Nath Ghosh v. Emperor, AIR 1928 Cal 359, Kartar Singh v. Ladha Singh, AIR 1934 Lah 777 and Gopal Das v. Jagannath Prasad, ILR (1938) All 370 : (AIR 1938 All 266).

41. Applying these principles to the present case, we are unable to find any material showing that the "Purva Madhyamik Ank Ganeet" published by the defendants, was a copy or a colourful imitation of the "Saral Middle School Ank Ganit' written by the author. Suffice to say, the laws of copyright do not protect ideas, but they deal with the particular expression of ideas. It is always possible to arrive at the same result from independent sources. The rule appears to be settled that the compiler of a work. In which absolute originality is of necessity excluded is entitled, without exposing himself to a charge of piracy, to make use of preceding works upon the subject, where he bestows such mental labour upon what he has taken, and subjects it to such revision and correction as to produce an original result. See, Spiers v. Brown, 1858-6 WR 352, Reade v. Lacy, (1861) 128 RR 508 and Hotten v. Arthur, (1863) 136 RR 249, cited by Bamet and Ganga Nath, JJ., in ILR (1938) All 370 : (AIR 1938 All 266) (supra)."

48. The decision of the Division Bench of the Madhya Pradesh High Court in M/s. Mishra Bandhu Karyalaya was overruled by a Full Bench of that Court in K.C. Bokadia and another v. Dinesh Chandra Dubey16 on a different point without disturbing the exposition of the law, that is under consideration here.

49. The distinction between what would constitute infringement of copyright on account of the statutory changes in the Copyright Act, 1957, varying the earlier provisions of the Imperial Copyright Act, 1911 or the Indian Copyright Act, 1914 fell for consideration of a Division Bench of the Madras High Court in The Daily Calendar Supplying Bureau, Sivakasi v. The United Concern17. There, it was held:

"15. ..... Learned Counsel Sri Sankara Ayyar, appearing for the appellant, drew our attention to a difference between the earlier Copyright Act and the Act of 1957. In section 35(1)(c) of the former Act infringing when applied to a copy of a work, in which copyright subsists, has been defined as any copy including any colourable imitation, made, or imported in contravention of the provisions of this Act. It was urged before us that the new Act did not refer to colourable imitation as constituting an infringement. It was contended that any person could now make a colourable imitation of a painting or other artistic work without being held guilty of infringement of the copyright. The earlier Act had already defined what infringement of a copyright meant in section 2(1) but in another place of the same Act in section 35(1) the meaning of the word infringement was again explained. What Act XIV of 1957, did apparently was to bring together the definition of infringement in one place in section 14(1). The English Act of 1956 appears to have also left out the term colourable imitation of an autistics work as constituting an element of infringement. Adverting to this. Copinger observes in his Law of Copyright ninth edition at page 147:--

"Section 35(1) of the Act of 1911 in defining "infringing copy' employed the expression "colourable imitation' but this expression does not appear in the Act of 1956 The question therefore appears to turn solely upon the interpretation of the expression "reproduction' and the definition of that word in section 48(1) of the Act of 1956 does not assist, as this definition merely includes certain special forms of reproduction. It is apprehended, however, that the word "reproduction' in the Act of 1956 has the same sense as the word "copy' has acquired in copyright law."

16. After the deletion of the words colourable imitation in the Act of 1957, to find out the meaning of infringement one has therefore, necessarily to interpret the words "reproduce the work in any material form' Section 14(2) of the Act includes also the reproduction of a substantial part of the work, for the purposes of infringement of copyright. The word "reproduce' is a word of ordinary-popular usage. However, the Shorter Oxford English Dictionary refers to the progressive evolution of its meaning

"The action or process of bringing again before the mind in the same form. The action or process of repeating in a copy A copy or counterpart. A copy of a picture or other work of art by means of engraving or some other process and finally a representation in some form or by some means of the essential features of a thing.'

17. It therefore appears quite likely that when Act XIV of 1957, repealed the earlier enactments and consolidated the law of copyright in India, it adopted the procedure followed in the English Act XIX of 1956, of using the word "reproduction' both of the work itself or a substantial part of it, as a sufficient indication of the scope of infringement and dropped the term "colourable imitation', as superfluous or redundant."

50. There was a wholesome consideration of the issue by the Supreme Court in R.G. Anand v. Delux Films and others18, where, what would constitute infringement of a copyright, led to elaborate guidance about it. In R.G. Anand, it was held:

"46. Thus, on a careful consideration and elucidation of the various authorities and the case law on the subject discussed above, the following propositions emerge:

1. There can be no copyright in an idea, subject-matter, themes, plots or historical or legendary facts and violation of the copyright in such cases is confined to the form, manner and arrangement and expression of the idea by the author of the copyrighted work.

2. Where the same idea is being developed in a different manner, it is manifest that the source being common, similarities are bound to occur. In such a case the courts should determine whether or not the similarities are on fundamental or substantial aspects of the mode of expression adopted in the copyrighted work. If the defendant's work is nothing but a literal imitation of the copyrighted work with some variations here and there it would amount to violation of the copyright. In other words, in order to be actionable the copy must be a substantial and material one which at once leads to the conclusion that the defendant is guilty of an act of piracy.

3. One of the surest and the safest test to determine whether or not there has been a violation of copyright is to see if the reader, spectator or the viewer after having read or seen both the works is clearly of the opinion and gets an unmistakable impression that the subsequent work appears to be a copy of the original.

4. Where the theme is the same but is presented and treated differently so that the subsequent work becomes a completely new work, no question of violation of copyright arises.

5. Where however apart from the similarities appearing in the two works there are also material and broad dissimilarities which negative the intention to copy the original and the coincidences appearing in the two works are clearly incidental no infringement of the copyright comes into existence.

6. As a violation of copyright amounts to an act of piracy it must be proved by clear and cogent evidence after applying the various tests laid down by the case-law discussed above.

7. Where however the question is of the violation of the copyright of stage play by a film producer or a director the task of the plaintiff becomes more difficult to prove piracy. It is manifest that unlike a stage play a film has a much broader prospective, wider field and a bigger background where the defendants can by introducing a variety of incidents give a colour and complexion different from the manner in which the copyrighted work has expressed the idea. Even so, if the viewer after seeing the film gets atotality of impression that the film is by and large a copy of the original play, violation of the copyright may be said to be proved."

51. Here, the comparison between the two scripts which the Court has undertaken albeit prima facie, shows that after the principle theme that is common to both scripts, are a host of differences in the script leading to the feature film. The protagonist, Mehra, in the script relating to the feature film, suddenly takes a diversion while proceeding to Delhi, when he comes across a road sign, where the diversion that leads to the shortcut indicates a distance to destination of 210 kms., instead of 285 kms. on the main highway. The scene is in a hilly terrain and the car is caught on a road full of snow. It is held up on account of a tree being uprooted and falling onto the road, causing the car to suddenly stop and bump against the snow.

52. By contrast, in the copyrighted version, the theme stands with a welcome to the protagonist in a club along with his newly-wedded wife (his second wife). There is a long course of events involving the protagonist Rohit and his newly-wedded wife Tanya, until time that he leaves to inspect a work site in between a holiday, with his wife. As he reaches the outskirts of the city, he comes across a petrol pump which is mysterious. There, he meets a very scary pump attendant. The highway that he then takes to his work site is mysterious and has no traffic. His car suddenly goes out of order, with steam rushing from somewhere under the bonnet. It does not restart. He walks on foot and finds himself in the midst of a forest. He returns back to the car. After some time, he gets out again, moves into the forest and meets another mysterious man, who ultimately takes him to a mysterious-looking dwarf, who has an equally mysterious-looking wife. The dwarf takes him to the house of a retired High Court Chief Justice, where he comes across four men from the legal profession in similar roles as in the script, giving rise to the feature film. The four men involved behave far more mysteriously than those in the feature film/ script. They act and behave in a much different manner. The manner in which they accuse Rohit of a crime and mock-trial him is quite different and distinctive prima facie. Rohit dies ultimately in a car accident at the same place, where his first wife had died.

53. Noticeably, in the script giving rise to the feature film, the four men of the legal profession and Mehra's introduction to them is in a much different fashion. The story leading to the mock trial is developed in its own individual way, much different from the copyrighted version. In the script that is the foundation of the feature film, there is a completely different end, where Mehra is sentenced to death by the Judge in the mock-trial. He was made to believe that he would indeed be hanged. During the course of trial, he goes into great distress and turns violent. During the trial and at the end of it, he utters many things, about which the men from the legal profession tell him that the camera connected to a recorder has captured crimes, to which Mehra has confessed during the mock trial and the incriminating facts that he had uttered. He is threatened with being put on his trial upon charges before a real court. He then tries to break away using his revolver. Mehra ultimately dies while running away falling into a chasm, and cannot be saved despite efforts by the four men who mocked his trial.

54. There is, thus, prima facie a materially different and distinctive development and treatment of the same theme in both the scripts. In the prima facie opinion of this Court, there is, apart from the fundamentals of the basic theme that appear to have come from a common source, no such distinctive feature in the copyrighted version that have been prima facie plagiarized. It must be remarked here that whatever comparison has been done, is not, in any manner, a final expression of opinion on merits about the distinctive similarities or the dissimilarities. That is something that has to await trial, where wholesome evidence would now be led. All the remarks here are limited to the decision of the temporary injunction matter and nothing more.

55. Now, a still further issue that is required to be examined is what would happen if at the hearing, the plaintiff were to ultimately succeed. Would damages alone be recompense enough? There is relief sought by way of a decree for rendition of accounts of the advance amount received by the defendants from the distribution companies, television channels, OTT platforms, television networks by selling distribution rights/ streaming rights of the feature film, infringing the plaintiff's copyright. The said decree would entitle the plaintiff, if he succeeds, to proportionate proceeds on account, as may be determined that the film earns. But, apart from that, if the copyright is ultimately held to be infringed at the trial, monetary compensation may not be recompense enough. It is, therefore, to be ordered that if the plaintiff succeeds, all further displays of the feature film shall have to carry an acknowledgment, suitably to be displayed that the movie is based on the copyrighted work, which is the plaintiff's authorship. Also, the trial of the suit is to be expedited. Since the learned District Judge is hearing the suit himself, he will proceed with the suit, fixing one date every week and endeavour to conclude the trial within four months.

56. Subject to the above directions, the impugned order does not deserve to be disturbed.

57. The appeal is disposed of in terms of the aforesaid orders. Costs in this appeal shall abide the event in the suit.

58. Let this order be communicated to the District Judge, Ghaziabad by the Registrar (Compliance).

Appeal partly allowed. (E-9)

List of Cases cited:

1. National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs Pranay Sethi & ors., (2017) 16 SCC 680

2. Sarla Verma (Smt.) & ors. Vs Delhi Transport Corporation & anr., (2009) 6 SCC 121

(Delivered by Hon'ble Manish Mathur, J.)

1. Heard Mr. N. K. Seth, Senior Advocate assisted by Mr. Ashish Chaturvedi, learned counsel for claimant-appellant and Mr. Anil Srivastava, learned counsel appearing on behalf of respondent no.3, the Oriental Insurance Company. The other respondents being clearly proforma in nature have not put in appearance.

2. First Appeal from Order has been filed under Section 110-B of the Motor Vehicles Act, 1939 against the judgment and award dated 07.09.2000 passed in Motor Accident Claim Petition No.83 of 1987 whereby the claim arising out of death of the accident victim has been allowed awarding a sum of Rs.6,89,500/-.

3. From a perusal of the impugned judgment, it is apparent that the claim petition had been filed for awarding a sum of Rs.30,00,000/- along with interest at the rate of 18% per annum as compensation. The accident is said to have occurred on 26.04.1987 at about 1:00 a.m. when the deceased Rakesh Gupta along with others was travelling in an Ambassador car and met with an accident with a petrol tanker coming from the opposite direction resulting in fatal injuries to Rakesh Gupta who subsequently succumbed to the injuries while admitted in the hospital. Initially, a claim petition had been filed by the parents of the deceased but the same was dismissed as not pressed. Subsequently, the present claimants/appellants being the widow and daughter of the deceased have filed the claim petition.

4. Learned counsel appearing on behalf of appellant at the very outset restricts his challenge to the impugned judgment and award only with regard to the factum of increase in the future income and for enhancement under conventional heads. It is submitted that although the claim petition had been filed indicating monthly income of deceased as Rs.25,000/- per month but the Tribunal has held that the aforesaid monthly income could not be proved by the claimants and has thereafter held an income of Rs.5,000/- per month to be established with regard to the deceased. Although it has been submitted that the deceased was a jeweller by profession and had purchased his own shop and had a vehicle of his own, therefore, the income assessed by the Tribunal is towards the lower side but no challenge thereto is being raised. Learned counsel for appellant has submitted that in view of subsequent judgment of Hon'ble the Supreme Court in National Insurance Company Ltd. v. Pranay Sethi and others reported in (2017) 16 SCC 680, Hon'ble the Supreme Court has held that in case a deceased was self-employed or was on a fixed salary, an addition of 40% of the established income is warranted where the deceased was below the age of 40 years. It is submitted that since in the present case, age of the deceased was 31 years, the addition of 40% to the established income was required. Similarly, basing his claim on the aforesaid judgment, it is submitted that reasonable figures with regard to conventional heads, namely, loss of estate, loss of consortium and funeral expenses with enhancement at the rate of 10 per cent in every three years was also required to be made.

5. Learned counsel appearing on behalf of respondent-insurance company per contra has submitted that it is evident from a reading of the impugned judgment that the Tribunal has recorded that the parents of the deceased had claimed the income of the deceased as Rs.3,000/- per month and since despite the said claim, the income of the deceased has been assessed at Rs.5,000/- per month, the prospects of future increase in income has already been taken care of by the Tribunal. It has also been submitted that 'just compensation' as indicated in the old Act of 1939 and the new Act of 1988 has to be seen as on the date of accident and not subsequently. In view of aforesaid, it is submitted that the Tribunal has already provided just compensation as was required to be given to the claimants and there is no error whatsoever in the impugned judgment and award on that score. It has also been submitted that as per judgment of Hon'ble the Supreme Court in the case of Sarla Verma (Smt.) and others v. Delhi Transport Corporation and another reported in (2009) 6 SCC 121, interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum has been awarded and even in the Rules framed in terms of the Act of 1988, interest is required to be awarded at the rate of 7 per cent although the Tribunal has awarded interest at the rate of 12 per cent per annum, which is more than the just compensation as required to be made and, therefore, there is no requirement of enhancement on that sore as well.

6. Learned counsel has further more submitted that even as per judgment in the case of National Insurance Company Ltd. v. Pranay Sethi (supra), the increase in future prospects of income is required to be calculated only in case of established income and since in the present case, the income of the deceased was not established but was only arrived at by the Tribunal on notional basis, the future prospects of increase in income was not required to be taken care of.

7. Upon consideration of material on record and submissions advanced by learned counsel for the parties, particularly by learned counsel for answering respondent it is evident that earlier the insurance company had filed First Appeal From Order No.633 of 2005 against the impugned judgment and award which was dismissed vide order dated 23.08.2005 on the ground of limitation. Prior to that, the Insurance Company had also filed Writ Petition No.2930(M/S) of 2000 against the impugned judgment and award in which vide order dated 16.12.2004, the petitioner Insurance Company was required to deposit the entire amount of compensation including interest under the judgment and award. It is submitted that in terms thereof, deposit was made before the Tribunal. It is further submitted that in pursuance to the directions passed by this Court in First Appeal From Order No.633 of 2005, the balance amount was deposed by the Insurance Company and further more an amount of 25,000/- as statutory deposit has also been made at the time of filing of the present appeal.

8. Upon a perusal of impugned judgment and award, it appears that the present claimants being the widow and daughter of the deceased had filed the claim petition indicating the income of the deceased as Rs.25,000/- per month claiming that he was engaged in the profession of a jeweller. However, the Tribunal has disbelieved the income of the deceased as claimed with specific recording of a finding that the claimants were unable to prove the aforesaid income by any documentary or oral evidence. Learned counsel for appellant submits that he is not challenging the income taken by the Tribunal as Rs.5,000/- per month with regard to the deceased and is pressing the appeal only on the ground of increase in the future income as well as under the head of conventional loss of income.

9. With regard to the submissions pertaining to increase in future prospects of income, learned counsel has placed reliance on the decision in National Insurance Company Ltd. v. Pranay Sethi(supra). It is evident from a reading of the aforesaid judgment that the same pertained to an accident that had taken place after the advent of the Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 whereas in the present case, the accident had taken place at the time when the Motor Vehicles Act, 1939 was prevailing.

10. Regarding the two enactments, it is seen that the concept of payment of compensation in the old Act of 1939 was covered under Section 110-B, which is as follows:-

"110-B. Award of the Claims Tribunal. - On receipt of an application for compensation made under section 110-A, the Claims Tribunal shall, after giving the parties an opportunity of being heard, hold an inquiry into the claim and may make an award determining the amount of compensation which appears to it to be just and specifying the person or persons to whom compensation shall be paid; and in making the award the Claims Tribunal shall specify the amount which shall be paid by the insurer or owner or driver of the vehicle involved in the accident or by all or any of them, as the case may be"

11. With the advent of new Motor Vehicles Act, 1988, the procedure for award of Claims Tribunal and award of compensation has been dealt with under Section 168, which is as follows:-

"168 : Award of the Claims Tribunal. - On receipt of an application for compensation made under section 166, the Claims Tribunal shall, after giving notice of the application to the insurer and after giving the parties (including the insurer) an opportunity of being heard, hold an inquiry into the claim or, as the case may be, each of the claims and, subject to the provisions of section 163 may make an award determining the amount of compensation which appears to it to be just and specifying the person or persons to whom compensation shall be paid and in making the award the Claims Tribunal shall specify the amount which shall be paid by the insurer or owner or driver of the vehicle involved in the accident or by all or any of them, as the case may be:

"Provided that where such application makes a claim for compensation under section 140 in respect of the death or permanent disablement of any person, such claim and any other claim (whether made in such application or otherwise) for compensation in respect of such death or permanent disablement shall be disposed of in accordance with the provisions of Chapter X."

(2) The Claims Tribunal shall arrange to deliver copies of the award to the parties concerned expeditiously and in any case within a period of fifteen days from the date of the award.

(3) When an award is made under this section, the person who is required to pay any amount in terms of such award shall, within thirty days of the date of announcing the award by the Claims Tribunal, deposit the entire amount awarded in such manner as the Claims Tribunal may direct. "

The proviso to Section 168(1) of the Act of 1988 has been omitted with effect from 01.09.2019.

12. Upon a comparison of aforesaid two provisions, it is clear that the Claims Tribunal on receipt of an application for compensation is required to make an award after holding an enquiry and determining the amount of compensation which appears to it to be 'just'. Both under Section 110-B of the old Act and Section 168 of the new Act, it is the duty of the Claims Tribunal in case of awarding compensation, to ascertain that the compensation awarded is 'just'. From a comparison of the aforesaid two provisions, it is apparent that the Claims Tribunal while making award of compensation is required to determine the amount which appears to it to be just. As such both the provisions with regard to aforesaid fact appear to be pari materia.

13. Hon'ble the Supreme Court in the case of National Insurance Company Ltd. v. Pranay Sethi (supra) has explained the concept of increase in future prospects of income which is relatable to the concept of the term 'just compensation'. It has been held that to follow the doctrine of annual income at the time of death and not to add any amount with regard to future prospects to the income for the purpose of determination of multiplicand would be unjust and the computation of compensation has to include future prospects so that the method will come within the ambit and sweep of just compensation as postulated under Section 168 of the Act. The relevant portion of the judgment in the case of National Insurance Company Ltd. v. Pranay Sethi (supra) is as follows:-

"57.Having bestowed our anxious consideration, we are disposed to think when we accept the principle of standardisation, there is really no rationale not to apply the said principle to the self-employed or a person who is on a fixed salary. To follow the doctrine of actual income at the time of death and not to add any amount with regard to future prospects to the income for the purpose of determination of multiplicand would be unjust. The determination of income while computing compensation has to include future prospects so that the method will come within the ambit and sweep of just compensation as postulated under Section 168 of the Act. In case of a deceased who had held a permanent job with inbuilt grant of annual increment, there is an acceptable certainty. But to state that the legal representatives of a deceased who was on a fixed salary would not be entitled to the benefit of future prospects for the purpose of computation of compensation would be inapposite. It is because the criterion of distinction between the two in that event would be certainty on the one hand and staticness on the other. One may perceive that the comparative measure is certainty on the one hand and uncertainty on the other but such a perception is fallacious. It is because the price rise does affect a self-employed person; and that apart there is always an incessant effort to enhance one's income for sustenance. The purchasing capacity of a salaried person on permanent job when increases because of grant of increments and pay revision or for some other change in service conditions, there is always a competing attitude in the private sector to enhance the salary to get better efficiency from the employees. Similarly, a person who is self-employed is bound to garner his resources and raise his charges/fees so that he can live with same facilities. To have the perception that he is likely to remain static and his income to remain stagnant is contrary to the fundamental concept of human attitude which always intends to live with dynamism and move and change with the time. Though it may seem appropriate that there cannot be certainty in addition of future prospects to the existing income unlike in the case of a person having a permanent job, yet the said perception does not really deserve acceptance. We are inclined to think that there can be some degree of difference as regards the percentage that is meant for or applied to in respect of the legal representatives who claim on behalf of the deceased who had a permanent job than a person who is self-employed or on a fixed salary. But not to apply the principle of standardisation on the foundation of perceived lack of certainty would tantamount to remaining oblivious to the marrows of ground reality. And, therefore, degree-test is imperative. Unless the degree-test is applied and left to the parties to adduce evidence to establish, it would be unfair and inequitable. The degree-test has to have the inbuilt concept of percentage. Taking into consideration the cumulative factors, namely, passage of time, the changing society, escalation of price, the change in price index, the human attitude to follow a particular pattern of life, etc., an addition of 40% of the established income of the deceased towards future prospects and where the deceased was below 40 years an addition of 25% where the deceased was between the age of 40 to 50 years would be reasonable."

14. It is a relevant factor that the judgment in National Insurance Company Ltd. v. Pranay Sethi (supra) has been rendered in the year 2017 whereas the accident in the present case had taken place in the year 1987 at the time when the old Act of 1939 was prevailing. However, as has already been noticed herein above, the provisions pertaining to award of just compensation as indicated in Section 110-B of the Act of 1939 and Section 168 of the Act of 1988 are pari materia and since the judgment in National Insurance Company Ltd. v. Pranay Sethi (supra) with regard to increase in future prospects of income is based on the concept of just compensation, it is held that the judgment in National Insurance Company Ltd. v. Pranay Sethi (supra) although passed under the new Act of 1988 in the year 2017, would have retrospective application with regard to accidents having taken place under the old Act of 1939 particularly in view of the term 'just compensation' as indicated in Section 110-B of the Act of 1939. As such, it is held that the judgment rendered by Hon'ble the Supreme Court in National Insurance Company Ltd. v. Pranay Sethi (supra) would have retrospective application with regard to just compensation and consequences following there from.

15. Learned counsel for answering-respondent has submitted that since the Tribunal has already taken the income of deceased as Rs.5000/- per month instead of Rs.3,000/- per month claimed by the parents of the deceased, it would necessarily imply that increase in future prospects of income has been taken care of by the Tribunal. Regarding the aforesaid submission, it is apparent that it was the parents of the deceased who had claimed an income of Rs.3,000/- per month pertaining to the deceased but the present claimants had always claimed an income of Rs.25,000/- per month of the deceased who was alleged to be engaged in the profession of a jeweller. The Tribunal has recorded a finding that the claimants were unable to prove income of Rs.25,000/- per month either by any documentary or oral evidence and has thereafter recorded the income of the deceased as Rs.5,000/- per month. In such circumstances, it is evident that the Tribunal has considerably scaled down the income of the deceased from Rs.25,000/- per month to Rs.5,000/- per month and there is in fact no increase in the income of the deceased recorded by the Tribunal. The income claimed by the parents of the deceased would be completely irrelevant in the present circumstances considering the fact that the claim petition filed by the parents of the deceased earlier had already been dismissed as not pressed. The claim petition filed by the claimants herein has to be taken as per the pleadings indicated in the present claim petition and not of any other claim petition. As such, the submission of learned counsel for answering respondent that the Tribunal has increased the income of the deceased over and above that has been claimed, does not appear from the record and the argument therefore is rejected.

16. It has also been submitted by learned counsel appearing on behalf of respondent insurance company that excessive interest has been granted by the Tribunal which, therefore also indicates that just compensation over and above which was required has already been granted. It has been submitted that in Sarla Verma(supra), interest has been granted at the rate of 6% per annum while in the present case, interest has been granted at the rate of 12% per annum. It is noticeable that the appeal filed by the answering respondent has already been dismissed vide judgment and order dated 23.08.2005 as noticed herein above and there is no other challenge to the impugned judgment and award. In the absence of any challenge to the impugned judgment and award at present at the instance of the answering respondent insurance company, no exception can be taken to the interest awarded by the Tribunal.

17. Learned counsel for the answering respondent has also submitted that even as per judgment rendered in National Insurance Company Ltd. v. Pranay Sethi(supra), increase in future prospects of income has been taken only in case of established income and not on the basis of notional income and therefore since in the present case, the income taken by the Tribunal is only notional and not established, there cannot be any increase with regard to future prospects.

18. The aforesaid aspect regarding increase in future prospects of income has been dealt with in paragraph 59.4 of the decision rendered by Hon'ble the Supreme Court in National Insurance Company Ltd. v. Pranay Sethi(supra), which is as follows:-

"59.4.In case the deceased was self-employed or on a fixed salary, an addition of 40% of the established income should be the warrant where the deceased was below the age of 40 years. An addition of 25% where the deceased was between the age of 40 to 50 years and 10% where the deceased was between the age of 50 to 60 years should be regarded as the necessary method of computation. The established income means the income minus the tax component."

19. From a perusal of the aforesaid judgment, it is evident that addition in the future prospects of income has to be taken in case of established income. It is also noticeable that notional income as per the Act of 1988 has been taken as Rs.3,000/- per month. In the present case, the Tribunal after disbelieving the income indicated by the claimants has taken the income of the deceased as Rs.5,000/- per month. Although there is no evidence indicated by the Tribunal regarding fixing of the aforesaid income of the deceased but the same in any case cannot be taken as notional income. Income determined by the Tribunal with regard to the deceased whether on the basis of evidence or otherwise even on the basis of notional would definitely be held as established income since it is based on a finding recorded by the Tribunal. Even if the Tribunal records income of a deceased person as notional, the same necessarily implies that such an income has been established by the Tribunal and as such it cannot be said that notional income arrived at by the Tribunal would not amount to established income. Consequently, the increase in future prospects of income would definitely be applicable whether the income derived at by the Tribunal is on the basis of evidence or even if taken to be notional. The submission of learned counsel for answering respondent to the contrary is, therefore rejected.

20. Considering the aforesaid aspects of the matter, and as has already been held herein above, the judgment rendered by Hon'ble the Supreme Court in National Insurance Company Ltd. v. Pranay Sethi(supra) would be applicable even in the present case where the accident had taken place prior to the advent of the Act of 1988. In view thereof, it would be evident that the concept of increase in future prospects of income as indicated in the said judgment would be applicable.

21. It is admitted by the parties and as has been held by the Tribunal that the age of the deceased at the time of the accident was 31 years. Increase in the established income as indicated in the judgment in National Insurance Company Ltd. v. Pranay Sethi(supra) is 40% in case the age of the deceased was below the age of 40 years. As such, it would be appropriate that the increase in future prospects of income with regard to the deceased is taken as 40% of the income established by the Tribunal pertaining to the deceased.

22. Similarly, in paragraph 59.8 of the decision in National Insurance Company Ltd. v. Pranay Sethi(supra), reasonable figures regarding conventional heads for loss of estate, loss of consortium and funeral expenses have been taken as Rs.15,000/-, Rs.40,000/- and Rs.15,000/- respectively which would be appropriate to award in the present case.

23. Considering the aforesaid aspect of the matter, the compensation awarded to the applicant would stand revised as hereinafter provided:-

The Tribunal has assessed monthly income of deceased at Rs.5,000/- per month, which is now required to be enhanced by 40%, which would lead to an income of Rs.7,000/- per month. Hence the annual income of deceased would stand at Rs.84,000/-. Considering the deceased would have spent one-third of his annual income towards maintaining himself, the annual income as such would stand reduced to Rs.56,000/- (84,000 ÷ ⅓ = Rs.28,000, 84,000(-)28,000 = Rs.56,000/-). The Tribunal has taken the multiplier at 17 with which learned counsel for appellant does not have any objection. Hence the compensation would stand at Rs.9,52,000/- (56,000 X 17).

Description	Awarded by Tribunal	Modified/enhanced by this Court	Difference compensation	Rs.6,89,500/-	9,52,000/-	Rs.2,62,500/- loss of estate	Rs.2,500/-	Rs.15,000/-	Rs.12,500/- loss of consortium	Rs.5,000/-	Rs.40,000/-	Rs.35,000/- funeral expenses	Rs.2,000/-	Rs.15,000/-	Rs.13,000/-
TOTAL			Rs.3,23,000/-
rate of interest on the amount awarded by the Tribunal.	12% per annum from effective date as stipulated in the award.	remains the same as awarded by the Tribunal with no modification by this Court.
rate of interest entitled by claimants on the enhanced amount	Not applicable	6% per annum from the date of institution of appeal before this Court i.e. 18.12.2020 till actual payment to the claimants.

24. Consequently, the appeal succeeds and is allowed modifying the judgment and award dated 07.09.2000 passed in Claim Petition No.83 of 1987 in the aforesaid terms. The parties to bear their own costs.

25. Since it is submitted that the insurance company has already made certain deposits of the compensation awarded some of which apparently has already been withdrawn by the claimants, it is therefore provided that the enhanced compensation would be paid to the claimants after adjusting the amount that have already been paid to them. The claimants would also be entitled to the statutory amount of Rs.25,000/- which has been deposited at the time of filing of the present appeal.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Subhash Chand, J.)

1. Heard Sri Mohd. Naushad Siddiqui, learned counsel for appellant and Sri Dinesh Chandra Srivastava, learned counsel for insurance company.

2. This appeal, at the behest of the claimants, challenges the judgment and award dated 02.09.2009 passed by Motor Accident Claims Tribunal/Additional District Judge, Court No.16, Kanpur Nagar (hereinafter referred to as 'Tribunal') in M.A.C.P. No. 560 of 2006 awarding a sum of Rs.9,500/- with interest at the rate of 7.5% as compensation, under Section 166 of Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 (hereinafter referred to as M.V. Act).

3. The accident is not in dispute. The issue of negligence decided by the Tribunal is not in dispute. The Insurance Company has not challenged the liability imposed on them. The only issue to be decided is, the quantum of compensation awarded.

4. The facts as they are collated go to show that the deceased was having a permanent job. The Tribunal unfortunately did not compute the income, multiplier, had granted Rs.9,500/-. The Tribunal has held that the wife of the deceased Hasim Ali died and son of the deceased Kasim Ali is the sole claimant, he is major and married person, the learned Tribunal held that Kasim Ali was not dependant on the deceased and has held no amount under other heads could be granted and has misread the judgment and the learned Tribunal has held that the claimant is entitled only for the loss of estate. These findings are assailed on the ground that the provisions of Section 166 of the M.V. Act, 1988 and that the judgment of this Court in The Oriental Insurance Company Ltd. Vs. Mangey Ram and others, 2019 0 Supreme (All) 1067 and the recent judgment of the Apex Court in New India Assurance Company Vs. Urmila Shukla decided by the Apex Court on 6.8.2021 as far as compensation to be paid is concerned has to be applied for grant of compensation. The Apex Court has held that the claimants even if they are major sons their rights would not be diminished. The right in a motor accidents claim case arise on the date the accident occurs, the subsequent happenings will not bring an end to the right of the legal heirs. The widow being the first legal heir would be entitled to receive compensation as per the M.V. Act.

5. It is submitted that the order is perverse and against the well settled principles of law. The learned Tribunal has misread the judgment of the Allahabad High Court in which he has placed reliance. The term dependent has not found place in the Act. For computing compensation legal representative has to be seen whether son is dependent on the father or not has no relevance.

6. The counsel for respondent has stated that no fault can be found as with the decision of Tribunal, the sole surviving claimant is not dependant on the deceased. The case of contributory negligence is rightly decided as the Car was being driven by the deceased, which hit the tanker for which site plan was believed by the Tribunal and finding him negligent does not need interference.

7. Having heard the learned counsel for the parties, issue of negligence be considered from the perspective of the law laid down.

8. The term negligence means failure to exercise care towards others which a reasonable and prudent person would in a circumstance or taking action which such a reasonable person would not. Negligence can be both intentional or accidental which is normally accidental. More particularly, it connotes reckless driving and the injured must always prove that the either side is negligent. If the injury rather death is caused by something owned or controlled by the negligent party then he is directly liable otherwise the principle of "res ipsa loquitur" meaning thereby "the things speak for itself" would apply.

9. The principle of contributory negligence has been discussed time and again. A person who either contributes or author of the accident would be liable for his contribution to the accident having taken place.

10. The Division Bench of this Court in First Appeal From Order No. 1818 of 2012 (Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co.Ltd. Vs. Smt. Renu Singh And Others) decided on 19.7.2016 has held as under :

"16. Negligence means failure to exercise required degree of care and caution expected of a prudent driver. Negligence is the omission to do something which a reasonable man, guided upon the considerations, which ordinarily regulate conduct of human affairs, would do, or doing something which a prudent and reasonable man would not do. Negligence is not always a question of direct evidence. It is an inference to be drawn from proved facts. Negligence is not an absolute term, but is a relative one. It is rather a comparative term. What may be negligence in one case may not be so in another. Where there is no duty to exercise care, negligence in the popular sense has no legal consequence. Where there is a duty to exercise care, reasonable care must be taken to avoid acts or omissions which would be reasonably foreseen likely to caused physical injury to person. The degree of care required, of course, depends upon facts in each case. On these broad principles, the negligence of drivers is required to be assessed.

17. It would be seen that burden of proof for contributory negligence on the part of deceased has to be discharged by the opponents. It is the duty of driver of the offending vehicle to explain the accident. It is well settled law that at intersection where two roads cross each other, it is the duty of a fast moving vehicle to slow down and if driver did not slow down at intersection, but continued to proceed at a high speed without caring to notice that another vehicle was crossing, then the conduct of driver necessarily leads to conclusion that vehicle was being driven by him rashly as well as negligently.

18. 10th Schedule appended to Motor Vehicle Act contain statutory regulations for driving of motor vehicles which also form part of every Driving License. Clause-6 of such Regulation clearly directs that the driver of every motor vehicle to slow down vehicle at every intersection or junction of roads or at a turning of the road. It is also provided that driver of the vehicle should not enter intersection or junction of roads unless he makes sure that he would not thereby endanger any other person. Merely, because driver of the Truck was driving vehicle on the left side of road would not absolve him from his responsibility to slow down vehicle as he approaches intersection of roads, particularly when he could have easily seen, that the car over which deceased was riding, was approaching intersection.

19. In view of the fast and constantly increasing volume of traffic, motor vehicles upon roads may be regarded to some extent as coming within the principle of liability defined in Rylands V/s. Fletcher, (1868) 3 HL (LR) 330. From the point of view of pedestrian, the roads of this country have been rendered by the use of motor vehicles, highly dangerous. 'Hit and run' cases where drivers of motor vehicles who have caused accidents, are unknown. In fact such cases are increasing in number. Where a pedestrian without negligence on his part is injured or killed by a motorist, whether negligently or not, he or his legal representatives, as the case may be, should be entitled to recover damages if principle of social justice should have any meaning at all.

20. These provisions (sec.110A and sec.110B of Motor Act, 1988) are not merely procedural provisions. They substantively affect the rights of the parties. The right of action created by Fatal Accidents Act, 1855 was 'new in its species, new in its quality, new in its principles. In every way it was new. The right given to legal representatives under Act, 1988 to file an application for compensation for death due to a motor vehicle accident is an enlarged one. This right cannot be hedged in by limitations of an action under Fatal Accidents Act, 1855. New situations and new dangers require new strategies and new remedies.

21. In the light of the above discussion, we are of the view that even if courts may not by interpretation displace the principles of law which are considered to be well settled and, therefore, court cannot dispense with proof of negligence altogether in all cases of motor vehicle accidents, it is possible to develop the law further on the following lines; when a motor vehicle is being driven with reasonable care, it would ordinarily not meet with an accident and, therefore, rule of res-ipsa loquitor as a rule of evidence may be invoked in motor accident cases with greater frequency than in ordinary civil suits (per three-Judge Bench in Jacob Mathew V/s. State of Punjab, 2005 0 ACJ(SC) 1840).

22. By the above process, the burden of proof may ordinarily be cast on the defendants in a motor accident claim petition to prove that motor vehicle was being driven with reasonable care or that there is equal negligence on the part the other side."

11. The Apex Court in Khenyei Vs. New India Assurance Company Limited & Others, 2015 LawSuit (SC) 469 has held as under:

"4. It is a case of composite negligence where injuries have been caused to the claimants by combined wrongful act of joint tort feasors. In a case of accident caused by negligence of joint tort feasors, all the persons who aid or counsel or direct or join in committal of a wrongful act, are liable. In such case, the liability is always joint and several. The extent of negligence of joint tort feasors in such a case is immaterial for satisfaction of the claim of the plaintiff/claimant and need not be determined by the by the court. However, in case all the joint tort feasors are before the court, it may determine the extent of their liability for the purpose of adjusting inter-se equities between them at appropriate stage. The liability of each and every joint tort feasor vis a vis to plaintiff/claimant cannot be bifurcated as it is joint and several liability. In the case of composite negligence, apportionment of compensation between tort feasors for making payment to the plaintiff is not permissible as the plaintiff/claimant has the right to recover the entire amount from the easiest targets/solvent defendant.

14. There is a difference between contributory and composite negligence. In the case of contributory negligence, a person who has himself contributed to the extent cannot claim compensation for the injuries sustained by him in the accident to the extent of his own negligence;whereas in the case of composite negligence, a person who has suffered has not contributed to the accident but the outcome of combination of negligence of two or more other persons. This Court in T.O. Anthony v. Karvarnan & Ors. [2008 (3) SCC 748] has held that in case of contributory negligence, injured need not establish the extent of responsibility of each wrong doer separately, nor is it necessary for the court to determine the extent of liability of each wrong doer separately. It is only in the case of contributory negligence that the injured himself has contributed by his negligence in the accident. Extent of his negligence is required to be determined as damages recoverable by him in respect of the injuries have to be reduced in proportion to his contributory negligence. The relevant portion is extracted hereunder :

"6. 'Composite negligence' refers to the negligence on the part of two or more persons. Where a person is injured as a result of negligence on the part of two or more wrong doers, it is said that the person was injured on account of the composite negligence of those wrong-doers. In such a case, each wrong doer, is jointly and severally liable to the injured for payment of the entire damages and the injured person has the choice of proceeding against all or any of them. In such a case, the injured need not establish the extent of responsibility of each wrong-doer separately, nor is it necessary for the court to determine the extent of liability of each wrong-doer separately. On the other hand where a person suffers injury, partly due to the negligence on the part of another person or persons, and partly as a result of his own negligence, then the negligence of the part of the injured which contributed to the accident is referred to as his contributory negligence. Where the injured is guilty of some negligence, his claim for damages is not defeated merely by reason of the negligence on his part but the damages recoverable by him in respect of the injuries stands reduced in proportion to his contributory negligence.

7. Therefore, when two vehicles are involved in an accident, and one of the drivers claims compensation from the other driver alleging negligence, and the other driver denies negligence or claims that the injured claimant himself was negligent, then it becomes necessary to consider whether the injured claimant was negligent and if so, whether he was solely or partly responsible for the accident and the extent of his responsibility, that is his contributory negligence. Therefore where the injured is himself partly liable, the principle of 'composite negligence' will not apply nor can there be an automatic inference that the negligence was 50:50 as has been assumed in this case. The Tribunal ought to have examined the extent of contributory negligence of the appellant and thereby avoided confusion between composite negligence and contributory negligence. The High Court has failed to correct the said error."

18. This Court in Challa Bharathamma &Nanjappan (supra) has dealt with the breach of policy conditions by the owner when the insurer was asked to pay the compensation fixed by the tribunal and the right to recover the same was given to the insurer in the executing court concerned if the dispute between the insurer and the owner was the subject-matter of determination for the tribunal and the issue has been decided in favour of the insured. The same analogy can be applied to the instant cases as the liability of the joint tort feasor is joint and several. In the instant case, there is determination of inter se liability of composite negligence to the extent of negligence of 2/3rd and 1/3rd of respective drivers. Thus, the vehicle - trailor-truck which was not insured with the insurer, was negligent to the extent of 2/3rd. It would be open to the insurer being insurer of the bus after making payment to claimant to recover from the owner of the trailor-truck the amount to the aforesaid extent in the execution proceedings. Had there been no determination of the inter se liability for want of evidence or other joint tort feasor had not been impleaded, it was not open to settle such a dispute and to recover the amount in execution proceedings but the remedy would be to file another suit or appropriate proceedings in accordance with law.

What emerges from the aforesaid discussion is as follows :

(i) In the case of composite negligence, plaintiff/claimant is entitled to sue both or any one of the joint tort feasors and to recover the entire compensation as liability of joint tort feasors is joint and several.

(ii) In the case of composite negligence, apportionment of compensation between two tort feasors vis a vis the plaintiff/claimant is not permissible. He can recover at his option whole damages from any of them.

(iii) In case all the joint tort feasors have been impleaded and evidence is sufficient, it is open to the court/tribunal to determine inter se extent of composite negligence of the drivers. However, determination of the extent of negligence between the joint tort feasors is only for the purpose of their inter se liability so that one may recover the sum from the other after making whole of payment to the plaintiff/claimant to the extent it has satisfied the liability of the other. In case both of them have been impleaded and the apportionment/ extent of their negligence has been determined by the court/tribunal, in main case one joint tort feasor can recover the amount from the other in the execution proceedings.

(iv) It would not be appropriate for the court/tribunal to determine the extent of composite negligence of the drivers of two vehicles in the absence of impleadment of other joint tort feasors. In such a case, impleaded joint tort feasor should be left, in case he so desires, to sue the other joint tort feasor in independent proceedings after passing of the decree or award." emphasis added

12. The latest decision of the Apex Court in Khenyei (Supra) has laid down one further aspect about considering the negligence more particularly composite/contributory negligence. The deceased or the person concerned should be shown to have contributed either to the accident and the impact of accident upon the victim could have been minimised if he had taken care. In this case the deceased was not the author or the co-author of the accident. On facts, the deceased was not plying the vehicle. Hence, the deduction of 50% from the compensation awarded is bad and is set aside.

13. The issue which has been decided by the Tribunal, as far as issue no.1 is concerned, the court below has come to the conclusion that driver of the offending vehicle has not come to the right side. The finding of fact regarding contributory negligence of the driver of the Maruti Car, we are of the considered opinion that the submissions made by the counsel for the claimant-appellant do not satisfy the conscious in this regard and that the findings as far as contributory negligence of the deceased is concerned, it cannot be interfered with. However, the contribution of the deceased in the accident would be 25% and not equal as the vehicles were of unequal magnitude. The deceased was himself driving the vehicle. The tanker dashed the car from the front side. The driver of the Truck had not appeared before the Tribunal. The P.W.2 Shiv Singh, is the eye witness of the accident, hence his evidence is relevant, which is reproduced as under:

"P.W.2-Shiv Singh, who is said to be eye witness of the occurrence, has stated that on 14.04.2006 at 9.45 p.m., near Dixit Market, Kalpi Road, Kanpur, he was standing and then, saw that a Tanker No. UP-78-T-6419 being driven rashly and negligently by it's driver, hit the Maruti Car No. UP-78-AD-1768 coming on wrong side from front side, as a result of which the driver of the alleged Maruti Car was seriously injured and the alleged Maruti Car was also badly damaged. Such accident was occurred due to rash and negligent driving of the Tanker's driver, who at fault. He had got lodged the FIR of this occurrence. The police also recorded his statement regarding the accident in question."

"In this very case, the driver of the offending vehicle i.e. Tanker's driver was the most important witness of the alleged accident but he has not dared to come in the witness box. In the absence of any unexpected development, it was for him to explain as to how the accident took place but no such explanation has been given by him in respect of the alleged accident. Under these circumstances, I have no valid reason to disbelieve the statements of the witnesses, who have examined in the court in respect of the accident in question, particularly, when no oral or documentary evidence has been adduced on behalf of the opp. Parties.

From the perusal of the site-plan paper no.21-C, it reveals that the mark "A' has been shown as the place of occurrence. It is crystal clear that the tanker was being driven by it's driver on wrong side of the road, hit the Maruti Car on front side. There is head on collision between two vehicles involved in the alleged accident.

From the discussions made above, I come to the conclusion that the accident in question was occurred due to contributory negligence on the part of the drivers of both the vehicles involved in the alleged accident, on the alleged date, time and place."

14. The driver of the Tanker did not appear before the Tribunal despite that the learned Tribunal has returned the finding that deceased was also negligent. The judgments of Pramodkumar Rasikbhai Jhaveri Vs. Karmasey Kunvargi Tak and others decided on 05.08.2002 in Appeal (Civil) No. 5436 of 1994, (2) Raj Rani and others Vs. Oriental Insurance Company Limited and others decided on 06.05.2009 in Civil Appeal No. 33-3318 of 2009 (Arising out of SLP (C) Nos. 2792-27793 of 2008) and (3) Archit Saini Vs. Oriental Insurance Company Ltd. And others, 2018) AIR (SC) 1143, will also permit us to revaluate the percentage of the negligence of the deceased. The reason being the Tanker was being driven in rash and negligent when hit the Maruti Car, just because there was head collision of both the vehicles involved, only because of that it cannot be said that drivers of both the vehicles had contributed to the accident having taken place. We are unable to accept the submissions of the counsel for respondents that the deceased was more negligent but we uphold the finding of negligence of the driver of the Maruti Car, but we cannot hold him negligent even to the tune of 10%. From the attending circumstances also and the findings of fact no reasons are given why in last paragraphs the learned Tribunal has returned the finding that drivers are negligent.

15. The Tribunal has held that the deceased too was negligent in driving the vehicle. The reasoning given by the Tribunal to hold the deceased negligent and that he had contributed to 50% of the accident is perverse, just because there was collision of two vehicles, and that the driver of the car was having valid driving license and the registration of the vehicle was there and just because the the license of the deceased was not produced before the Tribunal, it cannot mean that he was negligent. The ocular version of P.W.3 on the contrary goes to show that the deceased was driving his Maruti Car on his correct side. Thus, the finding on facts is not only bad in law but is perverse, therefore, we hold that the Tribunal has committed an error in holding the deceased to have contributed to the accident having taken place. The vehicle involved in the accident is Car and Tanker. This finding of Tribunal is perverse because the driver of Tanker has not been stepped in witness box. The Tanker was driven on the road on wrong side, despite that without assigning any reason negligence to the tune of 50% is attributed, is perverse. The Tribunal is expected to give reasons for the finding it arises that.

COMPENSATION:-

16. Learned counsel for appellant has relied on the decision of the Apex Court titled as Montford Brothers of St. Gabriel and another Vs. United India Insurance and another, 2014 1 ACC 461 and on the judgment of Gujarat State Road Transport Corporation, Ahmedabad Vs. Ramanbhai Prabhatbhai and the learned counsel for respondent has relied on the decision of Apex Court in National Insurance Company Ltd. Vs. Birender and others, 2020 LawSuit (SC) 26, so as to contend that the dependents of the deceased, who has received benefits would not be entitled for the same. The learned counsel for the appellant has also relied on the said judgment.

17. Learned counsel for appellant has further relied on the authoritative pronouncements of this High Court in Oriental Insurance Company Ltd. Vs. Mangey Ram and others (Supra), Uttar Pradesh State Road Transport Corporation Vs. Tara Devi, 1995 LawSuit (All) 13, and Padma Devi Vs. .P. State Road Transport Corporation, 1988 LawSuit (All) 235, to contend that non grant of compensation except non pecuniary damages is against mandate of this Court.

18. It is submitted that the Tribunal has not granted any amount towards future loss of income to the claimants which is required to be granted in view of the decision in National Insurance Company Limited Vs. Pranay Sethi and Others, 2017 0 Supreme (SC) 1050. It is further submitted that the multiplier, amount under non-pecuniary heads are not awarded. The interest awarded by the Tribunal is on the lower side and requires enhancement.

19. Learned counsel for respondent-insurance company has vehemently submitted that the compensation cannot be granted to the appellant and the grant of compensation by the Tribunal is justified as the legal heir or dependant of the deceased, namely, the widow passed away during the pendency of litigation. The sole heir is not the dependant and was not dependant, who is legal heir and therefore, he is not entitled to the benefit other than granted by the Tribunal known as non pecuniary damages and therefore, the order of the Tribunal does not call for any interference or enhancement. The rate of interest granted also does not call for any interference.

20. Recently the Division Bench in which one of us (Hon'ble K.J. Thaker) had an occasion to deal with the question of the amount which would be admissible to the family members of the deceased where the family members were admittedly major. The judgment titled as Satish Chand Sharma (deceased) and three others Vs. Manoj Kumar and another F.A.F.O. No. 3160 of 2018 decided on 26.03.2021, therefore, it is submitted by the counsel for appellant that non grant of any amount to the legal heir is bad in the eye of law.

21. The motor accident claim is based on the fact that the right to sue would survive on the legal representative on the date of incident occurred. The original claimant widow would be entitled to the compensation and the right to compensation would accrue on the date of the accident. It would be beneficial for us to reproduce the provisions of Sections 166, 168 and 169 of the M.V. Act, 1988.

"166. Application for compensation.-- (1) An application for compensation arising out of an accident of the nature specified in sub-section (1) of Section 165 may be made--

(a) by the person who has sustained the injury; or

(b) by the owner of the property; or

(c) where death has resulted from the accident, by all or any of the legal representatives of the deceased; or

(d) by any agent duly authorised by the person injured or all or any of the legal representatives of the deceased, as the case may be:

Provided that where all the legal representatives of the deceased have not joined in any such application for compensation, the application shall be made on behalf of or for the benefit of all the legal representatives of the deceased and the legal representatives who have not so joined, shall be impleaded as respondents to the application.

(2) Every application under sub-section (1) shall be made, at the option of the claimant, either to the Claims Tribunal having jurisdiction over the area in which the accident occurred, or to the Claims Tribunal within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the claimant resides or carries on business or within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the defendant resides, and shall be in such form and contain such particulars as may be prescribed:

Provided that where no claim for compensation under Section 140 is made in such application, the application shall contain a separate statement to that effect immediately before the signature of the applicant.

(3) * * * *

(4) The Claims Tribunal shall treat any report of accidents forwarded to it under sub-section (6) of Section 158 as an application for compensation under this Act."

"168. Award of the Claims Tribunal.-

(3) When an award is made under this section, the person who is required to pay any amount in terms of such award shall, within thirty days of the date of announcing the award by the Claims Tribunal, deposit the entire amount awarded in such manner as the Claims Tribunal may direct."

"Section - 169. Procedures And Powers Of Claim Tribunals.-

(1) In holding any inquiry under section 168, the Claims Tribunal may, subject to any rules that may be made in this behalf, follow such summary procedure as it thinks fit.

(2) The Claims Tribunal shall have all the powers of a Civil Court for the purpose of taking evidence on oath and of enforcing the attendance of witnesses and of compelling the discovery and production of documents and material objects and for such other purposes as may be prescribed; and the Claims Tribunal shall be deemed to be a Civil Court for all the purposes of section 195 and Chapter XXVI of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 (2 of 1974).

(3) Subject to any rules that may be made in this behalf, the Claims Tribunal may, for the purpose of adjudicating upon any claim for compensation, choose one or more persons possessing special knowledge of and matter relevant to the inquiry to assist it in holding the inquiry.

22. The recent judgment of Apex Court in Oriental Insurance Company Vs. Kahlon @ Jasmali Singh @ Kahlon, LL 2021 SC 382, will enure also for benefit of the appellants herein. The compensation in these kind of litigation will accrue on the date of the accident. The legal heir comprised of wife, namely, the widow and the son. The provisions of Section 166 of the Motor Vehicle Act does not provide that claimants should be dependant of deceased. The term dependant is not mentioned in Section 166 of Act, it is legal representatives and therefore, not granting any amount under the head of loss of income for the loss of estate to the widow of the deceased is arbitrary and requires to be set aside and quashed.

23. We will have to deduct what was the tax the deceased was liable and therefore, the submission of counsel for appellant that his income should be considered as Rs.40,000/- per month being a salaried person has to be accepted to which as per the Uttar Pradesh Rules, 1998 and the judgment of New India Assurance Company Ltd. Vs. Urmila Shukla and others, LL 2021SC 359, we deem it fit to add the amount of future loss of income as he was below with the age of 50 years, hence 30% will have to be added, which would come to Rs.12,000/- per year. The deceased was survived by his widow and son, therefore, 1/2 will have to be deducted towards the personal expenses of the deceased and multiplier would be 13 as the deceased died in the age bracket of (46-50 years). As far as amount under the head of non-pecuniary damages are concerned, it should be Rs.70,000/- will have to be added in view of the decision of the Apex Court in Pranay Sethi (Supra) plus 10% increase for three years and out of which 10% will have to be deducted for negligence of the deceased.

24. In view of the decisions cited before us, it is very clear that in provisions of Section 166 of the Motor Vehicle Act, the word legal representative is the crux of the matter. A widow will fall in Clause (1)(a) of legal representative and therefore, it cannot be said that the widow will not be entitled to any amount under law of compensation. Had the matter been decided immediately after it was filed would Tribunal have not granted the amount, the answer is it would have cause of action arises on the day on which the accident occurs. In this view of the matter, the finding of the Tribunal is contrary to the well settled legal principles. The judgment in 1988 ACJ page 667 (Alld) and 1996 (1) TAC page 614 (Alld) holding that an adult person having wife and children are not entitled for any compensation and they cannot be deemed to be dependant on his father or mother. This finding in the year 2009 is not sustainable in view of decision in the case of Padma Devi (Supra).

25. The decisions cited by the counsel for appellant shall have recent origin and which relate to the definition of legal representative and the fact that term legal representative has been given very wide connotation as has been in the judgment of Montford brothers (Supra) because the term legal representative has not been given in the Motor Vehicle Act but Section 2(11) of Civil Procedure Code will have to be taken into consideration.

26. We would alter the principle of deduction for personal expenses. The deceased had a major son, who cannot be said to be dependant on father or mother. The only dependant on him would be his widow and therefore, it can be safely said that he would be spending half of the income on himself being salaried person and therefore, Rs.52,000/- would have to be halved.

27. We do not disturb the rate of interest granted by the Tribunal looking to the fact that appeal has remain pending for no fault of the insurance company, hence we do not deem it fit enhancing the rate of interest.

28. Having heard the counsel for the parties and considered the factual data, this Court found that the accident occurred on 14.4.2006 causing death of Hasim Ali who was 48 years of age and left behind him, his widow and son. The deceased who was working as Senior Operator (Field) in Indian Oil Corporation and was getting salary Rs.43,501/- per month. Out of which permissible deductions under Income Tax would be deducted, we round up the income at Rs.40,000/- per month. The deceased was died at the age of 48 years (46-50 years), hence 30% will have to be added in view of the decision of the Pranay Sethi (Supra).

29. We have come to the conclusion that the deceased had also contributed to the accident taking place, reason being though the Tribunal has not given its reasoning for holding him negligent. The impact of the accident would show that there was some contributory negligence on the part of the deceased and therefore, we hold the deceased upto 10% negligent.

30. The deceased being married, the deduction towards personal expenses of the deceased should be 1/3 but here as narrated above it would be on the dependant namely widow, would be 1/2 in view of the decisions relied on by the counsel for appellant. As far as the multiplier is concerned, the deceased being in the age bracket of 46-50 years, it should be 13 in view of the decision of the Apex Court in Sarla Verma Vs. Delhi Transport Corporation, (2009) 6 SCC 12.

i. Income: Rs.40,000/-

ii. Percentage towards future prospects : Rs.12,000/- (30%)

iii. Total income : Rs. 40,000 + 12000 = Rs. 52,000/-

iv. Income after deduction of 1/2: Rs. 26,000/-

v. Annual income : Rs. 26,000 x 12 = Rs.3,12,000/-

vi. Multiplier applicable : 13

vii. Loss of dependency: Rs.3,12,000 x 13 = Rs.40,56,000/- viii. Amount towards non pecuniary damages : Rs.70,000/-

ix. Total compensation :Rs.41,26,000/-

32. No other grounds are urged orally when the matter was heard.

33. In view of the above, the appeal is partly allowed. Judgment and decree passed by the Tribunal shall stand modified to the aforesaid extent. The respondent-Insurance Company shall deposit the amount within a period of 12 weeks from today with interest at the rate of 7% from the date of filing of the claim petition till the date of award and 6% thereafter till the amount is deposited. The amount already deposited be deducted from the amount to be deposited.

DEDUCTIONS OF INCOME TAX FROM THE COMPENSATION AWARDED:

34. In view of the ratio laid down by Hon'ble Gujarat High Court, in the case of Smt. Hansagori P. Ladhani v/s The Oriental Insurance Company Ltd., reported in 2007(2) GLH 291 and this High Court, total amount of interest, accrued on the principal amount of compensation is to be apportioned on financial year to financial year basis and if the interest payable to claimants in their proportion for any financial year exceeds Rs.50,000/-, insurance company/owner is/are entitled to deduct appropriate amount under the head of 'Tax Deducted at Source' as provided u/s 194A (3) (ix) of the Income Tax Act, 1961 and if the amount of interest does not exceed Rs.50,000/- in any financial year, the deduction is not permissible, registry of the Tribunal is directed to allow the claimants to withdraw the amount, without producing the certificate from the concerned Income- Tax Authority. The aforesaid view has been reiterated by this High Court in Review Application No.1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No.23 of 2001 (Smt. Sudesna and others Vs. Hari Singh and another) and in First Appeal From Order No.2871 of 2016 (Tej Kumari Sharma v. Chola Mandlam M.S. General Insurance Co. Ltd.) decided on 19.3.2021 while disbursing the amount.

DISBURSEMENT BY TRIBUNAL:

35. The sole claimant being major and not an illiterate person the judgment of A.V. Padma Vs. Venugopal, [2012(1) GLH (SC), 442] will be followed by Tribunal as 11 years have already elapsed since the time of appeal and amount be granted.

36. We request the Registrar General to forward this judgment to the concerned Tribunal (Sri V.K. Srivastava, HJS.) whenever he is posted with a request to be more careful as he has not considered the judgments of Apex Court.

37. This Court is thankful to both the learned Advocates for getting this matter disposed of during this pandemic.

38. Let record of court below be sent back to the Tribunal concerned.

3. Martin & Harris Ltd. Vs 6th A.D.J., (1998) 1 SCC 732

(Delivered by Hon'ble Suneet Kumar, J.)

1. Heard Sri Vinay Khare, learned Senior Advocate, assisted by Ms. Aarushi Khare, learned counsel for the appellant and Sri Rishabh Agarwal, learned counsel for the respondents.

2. This appeal, filed under Section 37(1) of Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996,1 is directed against the judgment and order dated 05.03.2021, passed by the Commercial Court, Jhansi, in Misc. Case No. 16 of 2020 (Ramesh Kumar Agarwal Vs. Naresh Kumar Agarwal and another) holding that the Commercial Court would lack jurisdiction under Section 9 of Act, 1996, on the Arbitrator being appointed, accordingly, ordered to return the record under Order 7 Rule 10 of Code of Civil Procedure, 19082.

3. The respondents executed a partnership deed to constitute a firm in the name and style, "M/s Shanti Construction", for the business of stone crushing or any other business as agreed. As per the deed, the profit amongst partners was to be divided at 33.34 per cent to appellant and 33.33 per cent to each respondent. A dispute arose with regard to share of profit, non payment of salary, denial to access books of accounts, stock material and not allowing the appellant to be involved in the day to day working of the firm. The appellant invoked the arbitration clause of the deed. Respondents did not agree to the Arbitrator proposed by the appellant and also failed to propose an Arbitrator. The appellant approached this Court for appointment of an Arbitrator under Section 11 of the Act, 1996, by filing Arbitration Application No. 57 of 2020. During pendency of the application under Section 11, appellant filed a petition under Section 9 before Commercial Court, Jhansi, for interim measure to protect the interest of the appellant. The respondents filed written statement. The Commercial Court adjourned the matter for 05.03.2021. In the meantime, this Court appointed an independent Arbitrator vide order dated 23.02.2021. On the matter being taken up, Commercial Court passed the impugned order holding therein that on appointment of an Arbitrator, Commercial Court would lack jurisdiction to proceed under Section 9 of Act, 1996, accordingly, ordered return of the record under Order 7 Rule 10 CPC relegating the parties to take remedy before the Arbitrator under Section 17.

4. The order is being assailed, inter alia, on the ground that the Commercial Court committed an error in holding that it lacks jurisdiction upon appointment of an Arbitrator; impugned order is illegal and against the provisions of Section 9 of the Act, 1996; an application for interim relief is maintainable before the Commercial Court, before or during the pendency of arbitral proceedings or at any time after the making of the arbitral award till it is enforced; Commercial Court failed to exercise jurisdiction vested in it under Section 9 of Act, 1996.

5. The learned counsel for the appellant has placed reliance on Benara Bearing and Pistons Ltd. Vs. Mahle Engine Components India Pvt. Ltd.3

6. Learned counsel appearing for the respondents opposed the appeal and submits that the order is in accordance with the law; once the arbitral tribunal has been constituted, the Court shall not entertain an application for interim measures under Section 9 of Act, 1996; the appellant has not pleaded before the Court below or before this Court that the circumstances existed which may not render the remedy provided under Section 17 efficacious. It is urged that appeal being devoid of merit, is liable to be dismissed at the admission stage itself.

7. Learned counsel for the respondents has placed reliance on Tufan Chatterjee Vs. Rangan Dhar4.

8. The short question, that arises for determination in this appeal, is whether Commercial Court was justified in not entertaining the petition under Section 9 filed for interim measure on constitution of the arbitral tribunal.

9. Before examining the rival submissions advanced by learned counsels for the parties, it would be apposite to consider the relevant provisions of Act, 1996.

10. Section 9, provides for "Interim measure, etc. by Court". It reads thus:

"9. Interim measures, etc., by Court.--(1) A party may, before or during arbitral proceedings or at any time after the making of the arbitral award but before it is enforced in accordance with section 36, apply to a court--

(i) for the appointment of a guardian for a minor or person of unsound mind for the purposes of arbitral proceedings; or

(ii) for an interim measure of protection in respect of any of the following matters, namely:--

(a) the preservation, interim custody or sale of any goods which are the subject-matter of the arbitration agreement;

(b) securing the amount in dispute in the arbitration;

(c) the detention, preservation or inspection of any property or thing which is the subject-matter of the dispute in arbitration, or as to which any question may arise therein and authorising for any of the aforesaid purposes any person to enter upon any land or building in the possession of any party, or authorising any samples to be taken or any observation to be made, or experiment to be tried, which may be necessary or expedient for the purpose of obtaining full information or evidence;

(d) interim injunction or the appointment of a receiver;

(e) such other interim measure of protection as may appear to the Court to be just and convenient, and the Court shall have the same power for making orders as it has for the purpose of, and in relation to, any proceedings before it.

(2) Where, before the commencement of the arbitral proceedings, a Court passes an order for any interim measure of protection under sub-section (1), the arbitral proceedings shall be commenced within a period of ninety days from the date of such order or within such further time as the Court may determine.

(3) Once the arbitral tribunal has been constituted, the Court shall not entertain an application under sub-section (1), unless the Court finds that circumstances exist which may not render the remedy provided under section 17 efficacious." (emphasis added)

11. Sub-Section (3) came to be inserted by Act No. 3 of 2016, with effect from 23.10.2015. On plain reading of the provision, Section 9 mandates a party to approach the Court before or during arbitral proceeding or at any time after giving of arbitral award but before it is enforced, for interim measure in respect of preservation of the subject matter, interim custody or sale of any goods, appointment of a receiver or other interim measures for protection as may appear to the Court to be just and convenient,

12. Sub-Section (3) of Section 9 provides that upon constitution of arbitral tribunal, Court shall not entertain an application for interim measure under Sub-Section (1) unless the Court finds that the circumstances exist which may not render the remedy provided under Section 17 efficacious.

13. Section 17 provides for "Interim measures ordered by arbitral tribunal". Sub-Section (1) provides that a party may, during the arbitral proceedings, apply to the arbitral tribunal for an interim measure of protection. Sub-Section (2) of Section 17 provides that any order issued by the arbitral tribunal under this Section (Section 17) shall be deemed to be an order of the Court for all purposes and shall be enforceable under the provisions of CPC. Section 17 is extracted:

"17. Interim measures ordered by arbitral tribunal.--(1) A party may, during the arbitral proceedings, apply to the arbitral tribunal--

(i) ….

(ii) for an interim measure of protection in respect of any of the following matters, namely:--

(a) the preservation, interim custody or sale of any goods which are the subject-matter of the arbitration agreement;

(b) securing the amount in dispute in the arbitration;

(c) the detention, preservation or inspection of any property or thing which is the subject matter of the dispute in arbitration, or as to which any question may arise therein and authorising for any of the aforesaid purposes any person to enter upon any land or building in the possession of any party, or authorising any samples to be taken, or any observation to be made, or experiment to be tried, which may be necessary or expedient for the purpose of obtaining full information or evidence;

(d) interim injunction or the appointment of a receiver;

(e) such other interim measure of protection as may appear to the arbitral tribunal to be just and convenient, and the arbitral tribunal shall have the same power for making orders, as the court has for the purpose of, and in relation to, any proceedings before it.

(2) Subject to any orders passed in an appeal under section 37, any order issued by the arbitral tribunal under this section shall be deemed to be an order of the Court for all purposes and shall be enforceable under the Code of Civil Procedure,1908 (5 of 1908), in the same manner as if it were an order of the Court."

14. Sub-Section (3) of Section-9, inserted by Amendment Act of 2016, mandates that once an arbitral tribunal has been constituted, the Court shall not entertain an application under Sub-Section (1) of Section 9. After amendment, the scope of Section 17 has considerably been widened and the arbitral tribunal has expressly been conferred the same power, as the Court under Section 9. An order of the tribunal under Section 17 is enforceable in the same manner as an order of Court under Section 9, under the provisions of CPC. In other words, the Court and the arbitral tribunal has been conferred same power to grant interim measure of protection and enforcement of the order.

15. Even though an application for interim measure may have been filed in the Court, once arbitration proceedings has commenced and an arbitral tribunal has been constituted, interim relief would have to be sought before the arbitral tribunal, as mandated under Sub-Section (3) of Section 9. The Court would be precluded of its power to grant interim measure unless the Court is satisfied that the circumstances exist which may not render the remedy provided under Section 17 efficacious. In other words, though the jurisdiction of the Court has not been ousted completely on the constitution of arbitral tribunal, but has been considerably restricted. Sub-Section (1) of Section 9 has to be read with Sub-Section (3). The party pressing for interim measure upon constitution of the arbitral tribunal must impress upon the Court that "circumstances' exist which may not render the remedy under Section 17 efficacious. The circumstances could be several which a party has to plead, and, prima facie, prove. But where such "circumstances' do not exist then in that event the Court is precluded to entertain the application instituted for interim measure of protection.

16. The introduction of the word "circumstances exist' is intended to restrict the power of the Court under Sub-Section (1) of Section 9 to grant interim measure. And although it is not easy to define what the "circumstances' that may exist rendering Section 17 inefficacious. It would depend upon the particulars and/or surroundings or accompanying act.

17. The expression "entertain' and "institute' are not synonymous. The expression "entertain' means to admit a thing/petition for consideration. In other words, it means entertaining the ground for consideration for the purpose of adjudication on merits and not any stage prior thereto. (Refer: Martin & Harris Ltd. Vs. 6th Additional District Judge5. When a suit or proceeding is not thrown out in limine but the Court receives it for consideration and disposal according to law, it must be regarded as entertaining the suit or proceeding. The expression/phrase "shall not entertain', in Sub-Section (3) means not to proceed to consider on merit and/or to receive and take into consideration for adjudication. The word "institute' in respect of legal proceedings means, commenced; to begin an action. On conjoint reading of Sub-Section (1) and (3) of Section 9, it follows that a party to an agreement may file/institute a petition for interim measure but upon appointment of an arbitral tribunal, the Court shall not entertain the petition or proceed to consider on merit until the condition provided therein [Sub-Section (3)] is satisfied.

18. In the facts of the instant appeal, on specific query, learned counsel for the appellant failed to show that circumstances exist that would have persuaded the Court to grant interim relief on the constitution of the arbitral tribunal. The application was filed and notices were issued, respondents put in appearance by filing written statement and the matter was fixed thereafter. In the meantime, arbitral tribunal came to be constituted. The Court, in the circumstances, was justified in declining to entertain the application for interim measure. The parties were rightly relegated to the Arbitrator.

19. The learned counsel for the appellant failed to point out any illegality, infirmity or jurisdictional error.

20. The appeal, being devoid of merit, is, accordingly dismissed.

21. No cost.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Kaushal Jayendra Thaker, J.
Hon'ble Subhash Chand, J.)

1. Heard Sri Arun Kumar Shukla, learned Advocate on behalf of Sri Vishesh Kumar Gupta, learned counsel for Delhi Transport Corporation and Sri P.K. Jain, learned Senior Advocate assisted by Sri Abu Bakht, learned Advocate.

2. These are those appeals which are pending adjudication since long. We started hearing the matter but as Sri B.D. Madhyan has absented himself, we waited and adjourned the matter. Sri B.D. Mandhayan who represents the claimants in F.A.F.O. No. 1785 of 2018 absented himself today also. Claimants in the said claim to be heirs and legal representative of deceased as according to them, Master Sikhar Juneja is the legitimate son of Late Chandra Sekhar Juneja and Anuradha Juneja who according to him is legally wedded wife of Late Chandra Sekhar Juneja. The said appeal is dismissed for default.

3. As per the judgment of the apex court in U.P.S.R.T.C. Vs. Km Mamta and Others AIR 2016 SCC 948, all the grounds raised in the appeal are required to be adjudicated and that is how we would decide issue of negligence of driver and quantum and would go ahead with the discussion. All these appeals stem out of the same proceedings.

4. The Delhi Transport Corporation (for short 'DTC') has felt aggrieved as according to them (DTC), the accident occurred because of act of God namely bursting of tyre which was never visioned by the driver or the owner of the vehicle and, therefore, the driver could not have been saddled with the liability or attributed negligence.

5. The next aspect for which the DTC is before us is the quantum of compensation awarded by the Tribunal which according to DTC is on higher side and is not decided as per law applicable in the year of decision or accident.

6. As against this, Sri P.K. Jain, learned Senior Advocate assisted by Sri Abu Bakht, learned counsel for the claimants-Asha Juneja, Master Udit Juneja and Km. Resham Juneja, has contended that the Tribunal has fallen in error in not considering the income of the deceased as reflected in the Income Tax Returns of the years prior to his death. The learned Tribunal has held that till 1991, the Income Tax Returns have been filed but, thereafter, returns have not been filed. It is stated by Sri Jain that in those days it was not compulsory to file the income tax return within six months of the financial year and, therefore, combined returns were to be filed but, the unfortunate event occurred in the year 1993 namely on 30.7.1993.

7. It is further submitted by Sri Jain that the Tribunal has discussed the oral testimony of witness Asha Juneja widow of the deceased that her husband used to earn Rs. 1 Lakh per month. On what basis the Tribunal assessed the income of the deceased to be Rs.2 Lakh per year is not spelled out , no finding to that effect is recorded by the Tribunal. According the learned counsel for the claimants, there were income tax returns which could have been made the basis for consideration of income of the deceased , may be for period after 1991 that is later part,the income tax returns were not there that cannot be the basis to discard the Income tax returns which were produced . In support of his arguments, Sri Jain has relied on the decisions titled Malarvizhi & Ors Vs. United India Insurance Company Limited and Another, 2020 (4) SCC 228 and United India Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Indiro Devi & Ors, 2018 (7) SCC 715. It is submitted by the learned advocate for DTC that the multiplier given by the Tribunal is not in dispute as the learned Tribunal has considered the second column in Second Schedule of the Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 which is lower than the one suggested by Apex Court in Sarla Verma & Ors. v. Delhi Transport Corporation & Another , (2009) 6 SCC 121.

8. Learned counsel for the claimants has contended that the deduction towards personal expenses of the deceased should have been 1/4th when there were more than five dependants, this is a gray area which will have to be decided while deciding the appeal preferred by Master Sikhar Juneja and Anuradha Juneja as there is inter se dispute regarding the right of these two and dependency but it should not be one third is the submission of counsel for claimants .It is further submitted that no amount under the head of future loss of income of the deceased has been granted by the Tribunal.

9. Per contra, it is submitted by Sri Shukla, learned Advocate appearing for DTC that in those days, in the State of Uttar Pradesh, the Tribunals were not granting what is known as future loss of income as the Rules did not prescribe and thus the question of addition will not apply. It is also submitted by Sri Shukla that even in the year 1998, the rate of interest was not 12% but it should be as per the repo rate of those days.

10. As against this, Sri Jain has submitted that the repo rate in the year 1998 was 18% and thus grant of 12% does not justify the rate of interest granted by the Tribunal as the matter remained pending. It is further submitted by Sri Jain that the amount granted under the head of non pecuniary damages for minor children and the widow are on lower side and require interference by this Court.

11. Learned counsel for DTC has contended that there was no negligence of driver of bus hence we propose to decide the issue of negligence :

12. Let us consider what amounts to negligence vis a vis act of God or inevitable accident as contended by learned counsel for DTC.

13. The term negligence means failure to exercise care towards others which a reasonable and prudent person would in a circumstance or taking action which such a reasonable person would not. Negligence can be both intentional or accidental which is normally accidental. More particularly, it connotes reckless driving and the injured must always prove that the either side is negligent. If the injury rather death is caused by something owned or controlled by the negligent party then he is directly liable otherwise the principle of "res ipsa loquitur" meaning thereby "the things speak for itself" would apply.

14. The principle of negligence has been discussed time and again. A person who either contributes or is author of the accident would be liable for his contribution to the accident having taken place.

15. The Division Bench of this Court in First Appeal From Order No. 1818 of 2012 (Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co.Ltd. Vs. Smt. Renu Singh And Others) decided on 19.7.2016 has held as under :

"16. Negligence means failure to exercise required degree of care and caution expected of a prudent driver. Negligence is the omission to do something which a reasonable man, guided upon the considerations, which ordinarily regulate conduct of human affairs, would do, or doing something which a prudent and reasonable man would not do. Negligence is not always a question of direct evidence. It is an inference to be drawn from proved facts. Negligence is not an absolute term, but is a relative one. It is rather a comparative term. What may be negligence in one case may not be so in another. Where there is no duty to exercise care, negligence in the popular sense has no legal consequence. Where there is a duty to exercise care, reasonable care must be taken to avoid acts or omissions which would be reasonably foreseen likely to caused physical injury to person. The degree of care required, of course, depends upon facts in each case. On these broad principles, the negligence of drivers is required to be assessed.

17. It would be seen that burden of proof for contributory negligence on the part of deceased has to be discharged by the opponents. It is the duty of driver of the offending vehicle to explain the accident. It is well settled law that at intersection where two roads cross each other, it is the duty of a fast moving vehicle to slow down and if driver did not slow down at intersection, but continued to proceed at a high speed without caring to notice that another vehicle was crossing, then the conduct of driver necessarily leads to conclusion that vehicle was being driven by him rashly as well as negligently.

18. 10th Schedule appended to Motor Vehicle Act contain statutory regulations for driving of motor vehicles which also form part of every Driving License. Clause-6 of such Regulation clearly directs that the driver of every motor vehicle to slow down vehicle at every intersection or junction of roads or at a turning of the road. It is also provided that driver of the vehicle should not enter intersection or junction of roads unless he makes sure that he would not thereby endanger any other person. Merely, because driver of the Truck was driving vehicle on the left side of road would not absolve him from his responsibility to slow down vehicle as he approaches intersection of roads, particularly when he could have easily seen, that the car over which deceased was riding, was approaching intersection.

19. In view of the fast and constantly increasing volume of traffic, motor vehicles upon roads may be regarded to some extent as coming within the principle of liability defined in Rylands V/s. Fletcher, (1868) 3 HL (LR) 330. From the point of view of pedestrian, the roads of this country have been rendered by the use of motor vehicles, highly dangerous. 'Hit and run' cases where drivers of motor vehicles who have caused accidents, are unknown. In fact such cases are increasing in number. Where a pedestrian without negligence on his part is injured or killed by a motorist, whether negligently or not, he or his legal representatives, as the case may be, should be entitled to recover damages if principle of social justice should have any meaning at all.

20. These provisions (sec.110A and sec.110B of Motor Act, 1988) are not merely procedural provisions. They substantively affect the rights of the parties. The right of action created by Fatal Accidents Act, 1855 was 'new in its species, new in its quality, new in its principles. In every way it was new. The right given to legal representatives under Act, 1988 to file an application for compensation for death due to a motor vehicle accident is an enlarged one. This right cannot be hedged in by limitations of an action under Fatal Accidents Act, 1855. New situations and new dangers require new strategies and new remedies.

21. In the light of the above discussion, we are of the view that even if courts may not by interpretation displace the principles of law which are considered to be well settled and, therefore, court cannot dispense with proof of negligence altogether in all cases of motor vehicle accidents, it is possible to develop the law further on the following lines; when a motor vehicle is being driven with reasonable care, it would ordinarily not meet with an accident and, therefore, rule of res-ipsa loquitor as a rule of evidence may be invoked in motor accident cases with greater frequency than in ordinary civil suits (per three-Judge Bench in Jacob Mathew V/s. State of Punjab, 2005 0 ACJ(SC) 1840).

22. By the above process, the burden of proof may ordinarily be cast on the defendants in a motor accident claim petition to prove that motor vehicle was being driven with reasonable care or that there is equal negligence on the part the other side."

emphasis added

16. Can it be said that the finding of the Tribunal as far as it relates to negligence is not based on these principles. The aspect which has been highlighted by the Tribunal is that the vehicle did not have any screw fallen and it was not infected by any external material on the highway on which it was plied and, therefore, the Tribunal recorded its finding that bursting of the tyre on the highway was because of two reasons namely (a) either it was not properly managed vehicle or (b) it was being driven in rash and negligent manner. Even if we go by the theory put forth by Sri Shukla, it has come on record that the bus driver has not stopped the bus but drove the same for ten minutes after the bursting of tyre. Ten minutes would mean at least for some distance. The driver of Car was driving the vehicle on its correct side and, therefore, we cannot take any different view then that taken by the Tribunal.

17. Principle of strict liability as enunciated by the Apex Court in Smt. Kaushnuma Begum And Ors vs. The New India Assurance Co. Ltd. (2001) 2 SCC 9, will also have to be invoked. Thus, the issue of negligence raised by learned counsel for the DTC cannot be accepted. The Apex Court in Kaushnuma Begum (Supra) held that compensation has to be given even if negligence/rashness of the driver/owner is not proved in the manner to be proved in dispute for tort and the driver/owner can be made liable for damages to the person who suffered on account of such accidents. The principle of strict liability has also been evolved by the Apex Court and applied. Where there is tyre burst, whether driver of the offending vehicle can be held responsible? Principle of res ipsa loquitur can be invoked and reference can be had to findings in paragraph 3 of judgment in Roshanlal vs Jarnail Singh reported in 2016 ACJ 736 (P&H), and the Apex court judgment in Gian Chand Versus Gurlabh Singh reported in (2016) 16 SCC 590 wherein while considering similar plea of act of god, the court observed and held that pleas taken by driver as well as the transport undertaking as regards the accident were totally at variance and there was nothing to doubt the version of claimants and their witnesses that the bus was driven rashly and negligently. The court held that F.I.R. substantiates the plea of the claimants and not of the driver and held that it appeared that bus driver drove the bus rashly and negligently and initially dashed the stationary tractor and then a eucalyptus tree in that process due to application of brakes belt of springs was broken it was a plea taken by transport undertaking that a scooterist was involved in the accident was not believed holding that is totally a false plea and is not supported by its driver. The court held that bus was driven in a rash and negligent manner by its driver and further opined that apart from that merely a mechanical failure is not enough to exonerate the transport undertaking from its liability in the absence of evidence being adduced that the vehicle was maintained properly.

COMPENSATION EVALUTED ;

18. This takes us to the submission of Sri Arun Kumar Shukla, as far as it relates to income and calculation made by the Tribunal. It is submitted that once the Tribunal came to the finding that the income tax returns post 1991 were not filed, it could not have fixed the income figure of Rs.2 Lakhs per annum randomly. We agree with the learned advocates of both the contesting parties who have submitted that the Tribunal could not and should not have considered the income randomly and income and compensation requires reconsideration. The income tax returns of the year 1991 were before Tribunal income of deceased has to be proved by cogent evidence. In the present case, the cogent evidence was oral testimony along with the income tax returns. It is not the case of the D.T.C. nor have they brought on record that the income of the deceased went on decreasing post 1991. Courts should determine what is known as just and fair compensation.

19. The submission that the Tribunal has not granted any amount towards future loss of income. Grant of future prospects will have to be traced back and reference can be had to the decision in General Manager, Kerala S.R.T.C., Trivandrum v. Susamma Thomas & Ors.,(1994) 2 SCC 176 wherein addition of future prospects was also calculated. The decision in Susamma Thomas (Supra) was referred in U.P.S.R.T.C. & Ors. v. Trilok Chandra & Ors.(1996) 4 SCC 362 which have been considered by the Apex Court in Sarla Dixit Versus Balwant Yadav AIR 1996 SC 1274 and the Apex Court has considered decision in Hardeo Kaur V/s. Rajasthan State Transport Corporation, 1992 2 SCC 567. The decision in Sarla Dixit has been considered to be good law in (1) Puttamma Vs. K.L.Narayana Reddy, AIR 2014 SC 706 (2) Raman Vs. Uttar Haryana Bijli Vitran Nigam Limited, Bijoy Kumar Dugar Vs. Bidyadhar Dutta, 2006 (3) SCC 242 : (3) Sarla Verma (supra)(4)R.K.Malik Vs. Kiran Pal, AIR 2009 SC 2506 (5)National Insurance Company Limited Vs. Pranay Sethi, AIR 2017 SC 5157 Raj Rani Vs. Oriental Insurance Company Limited, 2009 (13) SCC 654. We have gone through the decisions in those days referred to herein above and the judgment of Gujarat high court in Ritaben alias Vanitaben Wd/o. Dipakbhai Hariram and Anr. v/s.Ahmedabad Municipal Transport Service & Anr., 1998 (2) G.L.H. 670, wherein, the Court has observed as under:

"para-7: It is settled proposition of that the main anxiety of the Tribunal in such case should be to see that the heirs and legal representatives of the deceased are placed, as far as possible, in the same financial position, as they would have been, had there been no accident. It is therefore, an action based on the doctrine of compensation.

para-8: It may also be mentioned that perfect determination of compensation in such tortuous liability is, hardly, obtainable. However, the Tribunal is required to take an overall view of the facts and the relevant circumstances together with the relevant proposition of law and is obliged to award an amount of compensation which is just and reasonable in the circumstances of the case.

para-10: Even in absence of any other evidence an able bodied young man of 25 years, otherwise also presumed to earn an amount of Rs.1000/- or more per month, on that basis the prospective income could be calculated by doubling the one prevalent on the date of the accident, which is required be divided by half, so as to reach the correct datum figure which is required to be multiplied by appropriate multiplier. Even taking a conservative view in the matter, the deceased would be earning not less than an amount of Rs.1000/- per month and considering the prospective average income of Rs.2000/- and divided by half, would, obviously come to Rs.1500/."

20. Thus even in year 1990 to 2000, the addition of future prospects was not ruled out, just because tribunals in Uttar Pradesh were not granting future loss, it cannot hold field where the decision of Apex Court is otherwise as demonstrated with decision though of persuasive value of Gujarat High Court referred herein above wherefore, the submission of Sri Shukla that no amount under the head of future loss of income was admissible in those days, will have to be considered. The decision of the Apex Court in New India Assurance Company Ltd. Vs. Urmila Shukla and others, LL 2021 SC 359 will have to be looked into. Therefore, we will have to consider the same in the light of the recent decisions as well as the decisions of the Apex Court prevailing.

21. In Malarvizhi & Others and Indiro Devi & Others (Supra), it has been held that Income Tax is the mirror of one's income unless proved otherwise. In our case, the returns as it reflects, proved income of deceased to be Rs. 3,59,150/- per annum. On what basis, the Tribunal has disregarded this income cannot be fathomed as a man's income would increase unless proved otherwise. Even in the earlier days, the factors to be considered for issuing quantum of compensation reads as follows:

i. To give present value, a reasonable deduction or reduction is required as lump sum amount is given at a stretch under the head of prospective economic loss;

ii. The tax element is also required to be considered as observed in the Gourley's case (1956 AC 185).

iii. The resultant impairment/death on the earning capcity of the claimant/claimants .

iv. That the amount of interest is awarded also on the prospective loss of income.

v. That the amount of compensation is not exemplary or punitive but is compensatory.

22. Hence we now propose to calculate the compensation payable to the legal heirs of the deceased. We can safely now go by the income tax return for the year 1990-1991. The widow, in her oral testimony, has withstood the cross-examination which would negative the submission of Sri Shukla that it was joint property income which has continued. She has categorically mentioned that the rent been taken by her brother-in-law and father-in-law. The amount of insurance which has been received by her cannot be deducted and that aspect is also answered against Sri Shukla. She has categorically denied in her oral testimony that her income was more than that of her husband even if that is so it is the loss of income which her deceased husband was contributing to the family has to be considered and not what the wife was earning.

23. We go by the fact that the income of the deceased has to be considered Rs. 3,59,150/- per annum as reflected in the income tax returns and supported by oral testimony on record which deceased was earning from business to which 40% will have to be added even as per the earlier decisions, 1/4th will have to be deducted as we are convinced that there is an illegitimate son of the deceased who has filed appeal in this Court as marriage of deceased with Anuradha Juneja has not been believed by the Tribunal. The multiplier would be 15 as the deceased was in the age bracket of 36-40 and the 2nd Schedule could not have been applied by the learned Tribunal. Children who have lost love and affection of their father will each get Rs.30,000/- and Rs.40,000/- is granted to the widow.

24. The total compensation payable to the claimants is computed herein below:

i. Annual Income Rs.3,59,150 /-

ii.Percentage towards future prospects : 40% namely Rs.1,43,660/-

iii. Total income : Rs.3,59,150 + 1,43,660 = Rs.5,02,810/-

iv. Income after deduction of 1/4th : Rs.3,77,110/- (rounded up)

v. Multiplier applicable : 15

vi. Loss of dependency: Rs.3,77,110 x 15 = Rs.56,56,650/-

vii. Amount under non-pecuniary head : 30,000 + 30,000 + 40,000 = 1,00,000/-

viii. Total compensation : 57,56,650/-

25. It goes without saying that the interest as per the repo rates in the year 1993 the interest payable would be 6%. We would go by the repo rate and not by Schedule and grant 6% interest as appeals have remained pending for no fault of the advocates. The rate of interest could remain same throughout.

26. In view of the above, the appeal of the DTC is partly allowed on the ground of interest. The appeal preferred by claimants-Asha Juneja and others is also partly allowed. The enhanced amount be deposited within 12 weeks from today.

27. We segregate the matter of Sri B.D. Mandhyan i.e. F.A.F.O. No. 1785 of 2018 and dismisses the same for default with liberty to file restoration application with advance copies to the other parties.

28. As far as disbursement is concerned, office to list the matters after four weeks so that we can pass order even on the matter of Sri B.D. Mandhayan.

29. Record and proceedings be sent back to the Tribunal after two weeks.

30. We are thankful to Sri Shukla and Sri Jain who have ably assisted the Court.

31. On the next date of hearing when we would hear for disbursement, the DTC would place on record the amounts deposited before the Tribunal till date.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Kaushal Jayendra Thaker, J
&
Hon'ble Subhash Chand, J.)

1. Heard Sri Sushil Kumar Pandey, learned counsel for the appellant, Sri Pankaj Rai, learned counsel for the respondent- insurance company and perused the judgment and order impugned.

2. This appeal, at the behest of the claimants, challenges the judgment and award dated 13.7.2017 passed by Motor Accident Claims Tribunal/Additional District Judge, Court No.1, Muzaffar Nagar (hereinafter referred to as 'Tribunal') in M.A.C.No.370 of 2014 awarding a sum of Rs.31,99,757/- with interest at the rate of 7% as compensation.

3. The accident is not in dispute. As per the judgment of Apex Court in U.P.S.R.T.C. Vs. Km Mamta and Others, AIR 2016 SCC 948, all the grounds raised in the appeal are required to be adjudicated and that is how, we would decide issue of negligence of driver and quantum and would go ahead with the discussion. The issue of negligence decided by the Tribunal has been partly decided in favour of appellants and none of the drivers or insurance companies have challenged the award. The respondents have not challenged the liability imposed on them jointly and severally. The issues to be decided are compensation awarded and whether there was negligence of deceased in the accident taking place for which the Tribunal has deducted the monetary benefit admissible to the claimants.

4. Brief facts as culled out from the record are that on 27.6.2014 the deceased along with his friends was traveling from village Soram to Manali in the car bearing No. HR-26 BV-7516, at about 2:15 a.m. in the morning when they reached Gurdeepazi at Kirtpur Sahab to Bilaspur Road, a Truck bearing No. HP-23 B-5215 came from the front and hit the car. As a result of the negligence of the drivers the accident was caused whereby , deceased Udaiveer Singh and his friend-Rajneesh Kumar who were sitting in the car have died on the spot and Mukul and Prempal who were also travelling in the car have sustained grievous injuries.

5. It is submitted by learned counsel for the appellants that the deceased was 42 years of age at the time of accident. The deceased was a government Assistant Teacher. His income was considered by the Tribunal to be Rs.31,090/- per month. It is further submitted that the Tribunal granted future loss of income of the deceased. The future loss should be granted as per Uttar Pradesh Motor Vehicles (Eleventh Amendment) Rules, 2011 and also as per decisions of Supreme Court in Sarla Verma Vs. Delhi Transport Corporation, (2009) 6 SCC 121 and Sri K.R.

Madhusudhan and others Vs. Administrative Officer and another, (2011) 4 SCC 689. It is further submitted that the amount granted under non-pecuniary damages is on the lower side and same should be computed and granted as per the decision titled National Insurance Company Limited Vs. Pranay Sethi and Others, 2017 0 Supreme (SC) 1050. It is further submitted that the deduction towards personal expenses of the deceased should be 1/3rd or 1/4th as he was survived by widow, mother and two sons. It is submitted by learned counsel that tax is calculated wrongly and the deduction of income tax by adding future prospect is against legal position of law and is bad.

6. It is further submitted that the deceased was not a tortfessor despite that Tribunal has deducted compensation which could not be done as it is settled law that amount cannot be deducted if the person sustained injuries or death occurred for no fault of his.

7. the counsel for the appellants has submitted that from the factual data, this Court can cull out that that the accident occurred on 27.6.2014 causing death of Udaiveer who was 42 years of age at the time of accident. The Tribunal has assessed income to be Rs.31,090/- per month even if not disturbed by this Court as Rs.580/- is the deduction which includes Rs.500/- as tax. It is submitted that the deceased was in the age bracket of 40-50 and had a permanent job hence addition of 30% of the income may not be be disturbed but is required to be added not only for the purpose of deduction of income taxbut for actual actual calculation of compensation not done by tribunal on erroneous findinds recorded based on whims and not on precedents but against settled legal principles . and added in view of the decision of the Apex Court inPranay Sethi (Supra). The amount under non-pecuniary heads should be at least Rs.1,00,000/- in view of the decision in Pranay Sethi (Supra). The amount rounded is up to Rs.1,00,000/- as 10% of Rs.70,000/- would have to be added every three years and, therefore, we add the same. In view the facts and circumstances of the case, this Court feels no interference is called for as far as deduction of personal expenses is concerned.

8. The vehicle which is involved in the vehicular accident were a jeep/car not driven by deceased Udayveer. The appellant has not challenged the decision on negligence what is challenged is deduction of compensation payable to heirs of non- tort-fessor. The jeep was driven by Rajneesh and not the deceased whose heirs had claimed compensation for his untimely death. The law is well settled that claimant is a non-tort fessor or heirs of deceased. The deceased was a non tort fessor can claim damages/ compensation from any of the tort fessor and for negligence attributed to the driver of the vehicle in which he was traveling. The amount cannot be deducted from awardable compensation.

9. It is submitted by counsel for the appellant that the deduction of compensation for a non tort-fessor is bad and finding are such which cannot stand scrutiny of this Court in view of the judgment of Apex Court in Khenyei Vs. New India Assurance Company Limited and Others (2015) 9 SCC 273 for composite negligence and Vimal Kanvar and others Vs. Kishore Dan and others, AIR 2013 SC3830 for both negligence and compensation and non grant of future loss as wife had been appointed and was working ,and the circulated judgment of this high court in First Appeal From Order No. 1818 of 2012 (Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co.Ltd. Vs. Smt. Renu Singh And Others) decided on 19.7.2016 also for both the issues

Our finding on issue of deduction of compensation on account of negligence :-

10. The Apex Court in Khenyei Vs. New India Assurance Company Limited & Others, 2015 LawSuit (SC) 469 has held as under for accident caused due to composite negligence :

"4. It is a case of composite negligence where injuries have been caused to the claimants by combined wrongful act of joint tort feasors. In a case of accident caused by negligence of joint tort feasors, all the persons who aid or counsel or direct or join in committal of a wrongful act, are liable. In such case, the liability is always joint and several. The extent of negligence of joint tort feasors in such a case is immaterial for satisfaction of the claim of the plaintiff/claimant and need not be determined by the by the court. However, in case all the joint tort feasors are before the court, it may determine the extent of their liability for the purpose of adjusting inter-se equities between them at appropriate stage. The liability of each and every joint tort feasor vis a vis to plaintiff/claimant cannot be bifurcated as it is joint and several liability. In the case of composite negligence, apportionment of compensation between tort feasors for making payment to the plaintiff is not permissible as the plaintiff/claimant has the right to recover the entire amount from the easiest targets/solvent defendant.

14. There is a difference between contributory and composite negligence. In the case of contributory negligence, a person who has himself contributed to the extent cannot claim compensation for the injuries sustained by him in the accident to the extent of his own negligence;whereas in the case of composite negligence, a person who has suffered has not contributed to the accident but the outcome of combination of negligence of two or more other persons. This Court in T.O. Anthony v. Karvarnan & Ors. [2008 (3) SCC 748] has held that in case of contributory negligence, injured need not establish the extent of responsibility of each wrong doer separately, nor is it necessary for the court to determine the extent of liability of each wrong doer separately. It is only in the case of contributory negligence that the injured himself has contributed by his negligence in the accident. Extent of his negligence is required to be determined as damages recoverable by him in respect of the injuries have to be reduced in proportion to his contributory negligence. The relevant portion is extracted hereunder :

"6. 'Composite negligence' refers to the negligence on the part of two or more persons. Where a person is injured as a result of negligence on the part of two or more wrong doers, it is said that the person was injured on account of the composite negligence of those wrong-doers. In such a case, each wrong doer, is jointly and severally liable to the injured for payment of the entire damages and the injured person has the choice of proceeding against all or any of them. In such a case, the injured need not establish the extent of responsibility of each wrong-doer separately, nor is it necessary for the court to determine the extent of liability of each wrong-doer separately. On the other hand where a person suffers injury, partly due to the negligence on the part of another person or persons, and partly as a result of his own negligence, then the negligence of the part of the injured which contributed to the accident is referred to as his contributory negligence. Where the injured is guilty of some negligence, his claim for damages is not defeated merely by reason of the negligence on his part but the damages recoverable by him in respect of the injuries stands reduced in proportion to his contributory negligence.

7. Therefore, when two vehicles are involved in an accident, and one of the drivers claims compensation from the other driver alleging negligence, and the other driver denies negligence or claims that the injured claimant himself was negligent, then it becomes necessary to consider whether the injured claimant was negligent and if so, whether he was solely or partly responsible for the accident and the extent of his responsibility, that is his contributory negligence. Therefore where the injured is himself partly liable, the principle of 'composite negligence' will not apply nor can there be an automatic inference that the negligence was 50:50 as has been assumed in this case. The Tribunal ought to have examined the extent of contributory negligence of the appellant and thereby avoided confusion between composite negligence and contributory negligence. The High Court has failed to correct the said error."

18. This Court in Challa Bharathamma &Nanjappan (supra) has dealt with the breach of policy conditions by the owner when the insurer was asked to pay the compensation fixed by the tribunal and the right to recover the same was given to the insurer in the executing court concerned if the dispute between the insurer and the owner was the subject-matter of determination for the tribunal and the issue has been decided in favour of the insured. The same analogy can be applied to the instant cases as the liability of the joint tort feasor is joint and several. In the instant case, there is determination of inter se liability of composite negligence to the extent of negligence of 2/3rd and 1/3rd of respective drivers. Thus, the vehicle - trailor-truck which was not insured with the insurer, was negligent to the extent of 2/3rd. It would be open to the insurer being insurer of the bus after making payment to claimant to recover from the owner of the trailor-truck the amount to the aforesaid extent in the execution proceedings. Had there been no determination of the inter se liability for want of evidence or other joint tort feasor had not been impleaded, it was not open to settle such a dispute and to recover the amount in execution proceedings but the remedy would be to file another suit or appropriate proceedings in accordance with law.

What emerges from the aforesaid discussion is as follows :

(i) In the case of composite negligence, plaintiff/claimant is entitled to sue both or any one of the joint tort feasors and to recover the entire compensation as liability of joint tort feasors is joint and several.

(ii) In the case of composite negligence, apportionment of compensation between two tort feasors vis a vis the plaintiff/claimant is not permissible. He can recover at his option whole damages from any of them.

(iii) In case all the joint tort feasors have been impleaded and evidence is sufficient, it is open to the court/tribunal to determine inter se extent of composite negligence of the drivers. However, determination of the extent of negligence between the joint tort feasors is only for the purpose of their inter se liability so that one may recover the sum from the other after making whole of payment to the plaintiff/claimant to the extent it has satisfied the liability of the other. In case both of them have been impleaded and the apportionment/ extent of their negligence has been determined by the court/tribunal, in main case one joint tort feasor can recover the amount from the other in the execution proceedings.

(iv) It would not be appropriate for the court/tribunal to determine the extent of composite negligence of the drivers of two vehicles in the absence of impleadment of other joint tort feasors. In such a case, impleaded joint tort feasor should be left, in case he so desires, to sue the other joint tort feasor in independent proceedings after passing of the decree or award."emphasis added

11. Thus despite the law being very clear the learned tribunal has fallen in error in deducting the compensation which could not be done.

12. The finding on Compensation and Deduction of income tax while granting compensation :-

13. From the facts collated, we find that the Tribunal has committed manifest error while deciding the compensation to be awarded to the appellants herein. The tribunal seems to have not considered the decision following the supreme court verdict in its over zeal to show innovative interpretation for deducting compensation on various counts unheard of in any authoritative pronouncements (a) calculation of tax (b) deduction for negligence of driver in which deceased was travelling (c) adding future prospect but not granting as wife is given compassionate appointment. This court condemns this perverse approach of the Tribunal. Unfortunate part is that the Tribunal in our view committed an error which can be said to be error apparent on the face of record because the income of the deceased at the time of accident was his actual income. The authorities as narrated above had already deducted tax at source and deducting were also made by employer. The Tribunal committed error which has resulted in perversity as it added future prospects considered yearly income; and then deducted income tax on actual income plus future income multiplied by 12(months). This could never be done .If at all income tax had to be deducted, it had to be deducted on his salary amount not after adding future prospects as is done by the Tribunal. In the year 2014, as is evident as narrated by the learned Tribunal holding that income tax slab for 2,50,000/- was Nil, the Tribunal held that as his income was in the bracket of Rs.2,50,000 to Rs.5,00,000/-, yearly tax was to be deducted. This finding requires modification. Income tax if any has to be deducted on income which was Rs.500/- deducted by employer. Thus deduction of Rs.23,500/- per year was bad and was not even permissible under Income Tax Act. The deceased would be entitled to what is known as standard deductions which would be available to the deceased employee otherwise government would have deducted more amount where he was serving would have deducted more amount towards tax what is known as tax deducted at source. This was not done even if we go by the said standards, it cannot be said that the amount would be taxable as held by the Tribunal. One of the reasons being calculating the slab would therefore have to be recalculated. Income tax deduction has to be from the amount which is known as pay packet of the deceased and not after addition of the future loss of income which has to be added while calculating the datum figure. This is an error apparent on the face of the record which has been rightly pointed out by the counsel for appellants and it could not be demonstrated by the learned counsel for respondent that this error does not require correction.

14. The second error committed by learned Tribunal is that though the deceased is held to be a non tort-fessor meaning thereby that there is no contribution of negligence, attributable to him despite that there is a deduction of compensation payable to the legal heirs which is against the mandate of the Apex Court in the decision of Khenyei (supra). The issue of negligence is concerned, it stands concluded in favour of appellants as there is no cross appeal or rather it has not been pointed out before us that the deceased was a tort feassor hence the decisions cited by the learned Advocate for appellant will apply in full force.

15. The deduction of income tax of Rs.23,000/- per year is rightly pointed out to be fallacious by the counsel. The income.after deductions was Rs.31,090/- per month roughly out of which he would be entitled to deduction and that is the reason why the authority deducted Rs.500/- as tax at source. The amount under non-pecuniary heads should be at least Rs.1,00,000/- in view of the decision in Pranay Sethi (Supra). The amount rounded is up to Rs.1,00,000/- as 10% of Rs.70,000/- would have to be added every three years and, therefore, we add the same. In view of the facts and circumstances of the case, this Court feels that no interference is called for as far as deduction of personal expenses of the deceased is concerned. Learned Tribunal has committed an error apparent on the face of the record.

16. The total compensation is recalculated and payable to the appellants is computed herein below:

i. Annual Income of deceased Rs.3,73,080/- (Rs.31,090 x 12) per annum

ii. Percentage towards future loss of earning prospects : 30% namely Rs.1,11,924/-

iii. Total income : Rs.3,73,080 + Rs.1,11,924 = Rs.4,85,004/-

iv. Income after deduction of 1/3rd towards personal expenses : Rs.3,23,336/-.

v. Multiplier applicable : 14

vi. Loss of dependency: Rs.3,23,336/- x 14 = Rs.45,26,704/-

vii. Amount under non pecuniary heads : Rs.1,00,000/-(addition of 10% every three years hence amount rounded up

viii. Total compensation : Rs.46,26,704/-

17. As far as issue of rate of interest is concerned, it should be 7.5% in view of the latest decision of the Apex Court in National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Mannat Johal and Others, 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.) wherein the Apex Court has held as under :

"13. The aforesaid features equally apply to the contentions urged on behalf of the claimants as regards the rate of interest. The Tribunal had awarded interest at the rate of 12% p.a. but the same had been too high a rate in comparison to what is ordinarily envisaged in these matters. The High Court, after making a substantial enhancement in the award amount, modified the interest component at a reasonable rate of 7.5% p.a. and we find no reason to allow the interest in this matter at any rate higher than that allowed by High Court."

18. In view of the above, the appeal is partly allowed. Judgment and decree passed by the Tribunal shall stand modified to the aforesaid extent. The respondent-Insurance Company shall deposit the amount within a period of 12 weeks from today with interest at the rate of 7.5% from the date of filing of the claim petition till award and 6% thereafter till the amount is deposited. The amount already deposited be deducted from the amount to be deposited.

19. On depositing the amount in the Registry of Tribunal, Registry is directed to first deduct the amount of deficit court fees, if any. Considering the ratio laid down by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of A.V. Padma V/s. Venugopal, Reported in 2012 (1) GLH (SC), 442, the order of investment is not passed because applicants /claimants are neither illiterate or rustic villagers.

20. In view of the ratio laid down by Hon'ble Gujarat High Court, in the case of Smt. Hansaguti P. Ladhani v/s The Oriental Insurance Company Ltd., reported in 2007(2) GLH 291, total amount of interest, accrued on the principal amount of compensation is to be apportioned on financial year to financial year basis and if the interest payable to claimant for any financial year exceeds Rs.50,000/-, insurance company/owner is/are entitled to deduct appropriate amount under the head of 'Tax Deducted at Source' as provided u/s 194A (3) (ix) of the Income Tax Act, 1961 and if the amount of interest does not exceeds Rs.50,000/- in any financial year, registry of this Tribunal is directed to allow the claimant to withdraw the amount without producing the certificate from the concerned Income- Tax Authority. The aforesaid view has been reiterated by this High Court in Review Application No.1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No.23 of 2001 (Smt. Sudesna and others Vs. Hari Singh and another) while disbursing the amount.

21. Fresh Award be drawn accordingly in the above petition by the tribunal as per the modification made herein. The Tribunals in the State shall follow the direction of this Court as herein aforementioned as far as disbursement is concerned, it should look into the condition of the litigant and the pendency of the matter and not blindly apply the judgment of A.V. Padma (supra). The same is to be applied looking to the facts of each case.

22. A copy of this Judgment be circulated by the learned Registrar General to the Tribunals in the State for guidance after seeking approval of Hon'ble the Chief Justice. A copy of this judgment be sent to the learned tribunal whose judgment is under challenge so that in future he may not take such erroneous view which would be unsustainable and against settled legal provisions of law and remain updated with precedents , 23. This Court is thankful to both the counsels for getting this old matter decided.

(Ref: Civil Misc. Review Application No.139896 of 2012)

1. By way of this Review Application, appellant, Raj Kumar Singh Bhadouria has sought review of the judgment and order dated 13.04.2012 passed by this Court (Coram: Justice Sheo Kumar Singh and Justice Ram Surat Ram (Maurya)) in First Appeal From Order No. 1046 of 2012 (Raj Kumar Singh Bhadouria Vs. Satya Mohan Pandey and another).

2. It is submitted by learned counsel for the review-applicant that the Court has not properly appreciated the matter and judgment is not correct.

3. Having heard the learned counsel for the petitioner (review) and gone through the grounds taken in the Review Application, we find that virtually there is an attempt to re-argue the matter which is not permissible in a Review Application. An application for review cannot be treated to be an opportunity to argue the case on merits afresh. In the garb of a review application reargument on merits of the case cannot be allowed. We are even fortified in our view by the following authoritative pronouncements.

4. In Thungabhadra Industries Ltd. Vs. The Government of Andhra Pradesh AIR 1964 SC 1372 the Court said:

"A review is by no means an appeal in disguise whereby an erroneous decision is reheard and corrected, but lies only for patent error."

5. In Aribam Tuleshwar Sharma Vs. Aribam Pishak Sharma 1979 (4) SCC 389 the Court said:

"... there is nothing in Article 226 of the Constitution to preclude a High Court from exercising the power of review which inheres in every Court of plenary jurisdiction to prevent miscarriage of justice or to correct grave and palpable errors committed by it. But, there are definitive limits to the exercise of the power of review. The power of review may be exercised on the discovery of new and important matter or evidence which, after the exercise of due diligence was not within the knowledge of the person seeking the review or could not be produced by him at the time when the order was made; it may be exercised where some mistake or error apparent on the face of the record is found; it may also be exercised on any analogous ground. But, it may not be exercised on the ground that the decision was erroneous on merits. That would be the province of a Court of Appeal. A power of review is not to be confused with appellate powers which may enable an Appellate Court to correct all manner of errors committed by the Subordinate Court."

6. Again, in Meera Bhanja v. Nirmala Kumari Choudhury AIR 1995 SC 455 while quoting with approval the above passage from Abhiram Taleshwar Sharma Vs. Abhiram Pishak Shartn (supra), the Court once again held that review proceedings are not by way of an appeal and have to be strictly confined to the scope and ambit of Order 47 Rule 1 CPC.

7. In Parsion Devi and others Vs. Sumitri Devi and others 1997 (8) SCC 715 it was held that an error, which is not self evident and has to be detected by process of reasoning, can hardly be said to be error apparent on the face of the record justifying the court to exercise powers of review in exercise of review jurisdiction.

8. In Rajendra Kumar Vs. Rambai, AIR 2003 SC 2095, the Apex Court has observed about limited scope of judicial intervention at the time of review of the judgment and said:

"The limitations on exercise of the power of review are well settled. The first and foremost requirement of entertaining a review petition is that the order, review of which is sought, suffers from any error apparent on the face of the order and permitting the order to stand will lead to failure of justice. In the absence of any such error, finality attached to the judgement/order cannot be disturbed."

9. Thus, Review is not an appeal in disguise. Rehearing of the matter is impermissible in the garb of review. It is an exception to the general rule that once a judgment is signed or pronounced, it should not be altered. In Lily Thomas Vs. Union of India AIR 2000 SC 1650, the Court said that power of review can be exercised for correction of a mistake and not to substitute a new. Such powers can be exercised within limits of the statute dealing with the exercise of power. The aforesaid view is reiterated in Inderchand Jain Vs. Motilal (2009) 4 SCC 665.

10. In Kamlesh Verma Vs. Mayawati and others 2013 (8) SCC 320, the Court said:

"19. Review proceedings are not by way of an appeal and have to be strictly confined to the scope and ambit of Order 47 Rule 1 of CPC. In review jurisdiction, mere disagreement with the view of the judgment cannot be the ground for invoking the same. As long as the point is already dealt with and answered, the parties are not entitled to challenge the impugned judgment in the guise that an alternative view is possible under the review jurisdiction.

Summary of the Principles:

20. Thus, in view of the above, the following grounds of review are maintainable as stipulated by the statute:

20.1. When the review will be maintainable:-

(i) Discovery of new and important matter or evidence which, after the exercise of due diligence, was not within knowledge of the petitioner or could not be produced by him;

(ii) Mistake or error apparent on the face of the record;

(iii) Any other sufficient reason.

The words "any other sufficient reason" has been interpreted in Chhajju Ram vs. Neki, AIR 1922 PC 112 and approved by this Court in Moran Mar Basselios Catholicos vs. Most Rev. Mar Poulose Athanasius & Ors., AIR 1954 SC 526*, to mean "a reason sufficient on grounds at least analogous to those specified in the rule". The same principles have been reiterated in* Union of India vs. Sandur Manganese & Iron Ores Ltd. & Ors., 2013 (8) SCC 337.

22.2. When the review will not be maintainable:-

(i) A repetition of old and overruled argument is not enough to reopen concluded adjudications.

(ii) Minor mistakes of inconsequential import.

(iii) Review proceedings cannot be equated with the original hearing of the case.

(iv) Review is not maintainable unless the material error, manifest on the face of the order, undermines its soundness or results in miscarriage of justice.

(v) A review is by no means an appeal in disguise whereby an erroneous decision is reheard and corrected but lies only for patent error.

(vi) The mere possibility of two views on the subject cannot be a ground for review.

(vii) The error apparent on the face of the record should not be an error which has to be fished out and searched.

(viii) The appreciation of evidence on record is fully within the domain of the appellate court, it cannot be permitted to be advanced in the review petition.

(ix) Review is not maintainable when the same relief sought at the time of arguing the main matter had been negatived." (emphasis supplied)

11. In the case in hand, grounds for review, as above, and the review application do not satisfy the contours of entertaining the review petition, hence, we find no reason to interfere with the well reasoned order of this Court dated 23.8.2016.

12. This review application is, therefore, dismissed.

The appeal is disposed off. (E-6)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Kaushal Jayendra Thaker, J.
&
Hon'ble Subhash Chand, J.)

1. Heard Sri Madhup Narain Shukla , learned counsel for appellant and perused the record.

2. The present appeal has been filed challenging the judgment and order dated 22.06.2019 passed in Case No. 53 of 2017 (State Vs. Suresh Kumar Gupta) under Section 68(2) of Food Safety and Standards Act, 2006.

3. This appeal is under Food Safety and Standards Act, 2006. The appeal requires to be allowed. The provisions of Section 76 of the Food Safety and Standards Act, 2006 reads as under:

"76. Appeal.-

(1) Any person aggrieved by a decision or order of a Special Court may, on payment of such fee as may be prescribed by the Central Government and after depositing the amount, if any, imposed by way of penalty, compensation or damage under this Act, within forty-five days from the date on which the order was served, prefer an appeal to the High Court: Provided that the High Court may entertain any appeal after the expiry of the said period of forty-five days, if it is satisfied that the appellant was prevented by sufficient cause for filing the appeal within the said period.

(2) An appeal preferred under this section shall be disposed of by the High Court by a bench of not less than two judges."

4. The Designated Officer after scrutiny of the report of Food Analyst shall decide as to whether the contravention is punishable with imprisonment or fine only and in the case of contravention punishable with imprisonment, he shall send his recommendations within fourteen days to the Commissioner of Food Safety for sanctioning prosecution. It means the designated officer after scrutiny of the analyst report and if he found that the contravention is punishable with imprisonment or fine, then he will send his recommendations to the Commissioner of Food Safety for sanctioning to run prosecution within 14 days. But in the present case the designated officer has not put his recommendations before the Commissioner of Food Safety for sanctioning to run prosecution against the appellant and after delay of 9 months from the receipt of the analysis report 02.03.2016, on 05.12.2016 he has itself taken decision to run the prosecution against the appellant, however, the same officer was holding the post Adjudicating Officer. Therefore the same is in gross violation of the provisions, which is mandatory under the Act, 2006.

5. The order of the authority below cannot be sustained for scrutiny before this Hon'ble Court as the same is passed without affording any reasonable opportunity to the appellant though of course notice was issued way back in the year 2017 but as per the appellant it was never served on the appellant. However, while entertaining this appeal we feel that the authority concerned has not mentioned the fact that the notice was received but in fact the appellant has not received the notice and could not put to his defence. The appellant is not a manufacturer and according to the appellant this aspect of the matter has not been looked into.

6. While condoning the delay we have directed the appellant to deposit 50% amount of fine. In compliance of the order dated 17.08.2021 the appellant has deposited 50% of the amount of fine i.e. Rs.20,000/- on 27.08.2021. Receipt of deposit has been brought of on record as Annexure SA-1 to the supplementary affidavit.

7. The ground to set aside the order impugned is on hyper technical grounds as the principles of natural justice has not been followed by the quasi judicial authority while passing the said order. The appeal is allowed and the order impugned dated 22.06.2019 is set aside.

8. The allowing of this appeal is on technical ground that neither Sri S.K. Gupta nor his client was issued any notice. There is disputed question of fact that he was issued notice or yet to be issued. There is also dispute regarding signature of the appellant in the order-sheet.

9. We direct the parties to appear before the Adjudication Authority for adjudication of the case within one week from today as the respondent has raised dispute regarding his presence before the Adjudication Authority, Basti. Further he was never served with any notice.

10. Secondly, we have tried to balance the respondent by deposit of 50% of the amount under the order impugned. The amount deposited is sought to be substantiated by the Supplementary affidavit. Normally we could not accept the affidavit in Court rather direct to file the same in the registry because the matter is being disposed of finally, hence we accept it and the same be taken on record.

11. The deposit shall be subject to result of the appeal. The appellate authority will decide the matter afresh after providing full opportunity to the parties within a period of twelve weeks from today.

12. We are thankful to the counsel for the parties who have assisted the Court in disposing of this appeal finally.

13. Let the record of court below be sent back to the concerned Adjudication Authority, Basti.

1. Heard ShriSharve Singh, learned counsel for the appellants; ShriPawan Kumar Singh, learned counsel for the respondents; and perused the record.

2. This appeal, at the behest of the claimants, challenges the judgment dated 07.02.2018 passed by Motor Accident Claims Tribunal/District Judge, Allahabad (hereinafter referred to as 'Tribunal') in Motor Accident Claim Petition No.219 of 2016 awarding a sum of Rs.18,37,870/- with interest at the rate of 7% as compensation.

3. The accident is not in dispute. The issue of negligence decided by the Tribunal is not in dispute. The respondent concerned has not challenged the liability imposed on them. The only issue to be decided is, the quantum of compensation awarded.

4. The insurance company has instructed the counsel for the insurance company that the matter be settled as even according to the judgment of the Apex Court as issue was no longer res integra as future prospects should have been granted as per the judgment of Sarla Verma Vs. Delhi Transport Corporation, (2009) 6 SCC 121.

5. Learned counsel for the appellant has requested that the Court may look into the matter from the angle of the two minor children who have lost father at a young age. It is submitted that the Tribunal has not granted amount towards future loss of income of the deceased which is required to be granted in view of the decision in National Insurance Company Limited Vs. Pranay Sethi and Others, 2017 0 Supreme (SC) 1050 and The Uttar Pradedsh Motor Vehicles Rules, 1998 though the rules specify misinterpretation in paras 44 and 46 of the tribunal order. It appears that the tribunal has committed gross error despite reproducing the provisions, how only 20% is granted. It is further submitted that amount under non-pecuniary heads granted and the interest awarded by the Tribunal are on the lower side and require enhancement. The learned counsel submitted the salary certificate of the deceased, which is shown the income of the deceased was Rs.17,550/- per month as he was Supervisor in PPAP Tokai India Rubber Pvt. Ltd. It is also submitted that as the deceased was survived by widow, one minor son, one minor daughter and parents and hence the deduction towards personal expenses of the deceased should be 1/4 and not 1/3. The multiplier has to be as per the age of deceased.

6. Learned counsel for the respondents, has vehemently objected the contentions raised by the learned counsel for the appellants and has submitted that the compensation awarded by the Tribunal is just and proper and does not call for any enhancement.

7. Having heard the learned counsel for the parties and considered the factual data, this Court found that the accident occurred on 13.7.2016 causing death of Markanday Misra who was 33 years of age and left behind him, widow, two minor children and parents. The learned Judge has deducted the amount deducting allowance in the judgments of Sunil Sharma and others Bachitar Singh and others, 2011 (3) TAC 629 and Raghuveer Singh Matolya and others v. Hari Singh Malviya and others, IV (2009) ACC 933 (SC), the learned tribunal has misinterpreted the said decisions, the reproduction of paras 11, 7 & 8 quoted by learned tribunal but has misread the same. The reliance on Rule 220 but unfortunately he has misread the rule while granting only 20% of the future loss which is error which is apparent on the face of the record and Shri Sharve Singh has rightly placed reliance on the recent Judgment of the Apex Court titled New India Insurance Company Limited Vs Urmila Shukla and others in Civil Appeal No. 4634 of 2021 decided on 6th August, 2021 so as to contend that this error may be given even if the respondent wants to settle the dispute. The deductions made by the learned tribunal is bad. The Tribunal has assessed the income of the deceased to be Rs.14,124/- per month adding 20% of income. This could not have been done in view of the judgment of Vimal Kanwar and others v. Kishor Dan and others, 2013 (3) AC 6 (SC) and Rules. We are unable to accept the submission of Shri Sharve Singh that deduction must 1/4 and not 1/3 for personal expenses. We are considering to be Rs.15,000/- per month which we feel is just and proper. To which as the deceased was age bracket of 31-35 years, 50% of the income will have to be added as future prospects in view of the decision of the Apex Court in National Insurance Company Limited Vs. Pranay Sethi and Others, 2017 0 Supreme (SC) 1050. As far as deduction towards personal expenses of the deceased is concerned, it should be 1/3.

8. Hence, the total compensation payable to the legal heirs of the deceased in view of the decision of the Apex Court in Pranay Sethi (Supra) is computed herein below:

i. Income Rs.15,000/- p.m. (Rs.17550-Rs.2500 for all deductions)

ii. Percentage towards future prospects : 50% namely Rs.7500/-

iii. Total income : Rs. 15000 + 7500 = Rs.22500/-

iv. Income after deduction of 1/3 : Rs.15000/-

v. Annual income : Rs.15000 x 12 = Rs.1,80,000/-

vi. Multiplier applicable : 16(as the deceased was in the age bracket of 31-35 years)

vii. Loss of dependency: Rs.1,80,000 x 16 = Rs.28,80,000/- viii. Amount under non pecuniary heads : Rs.1,10,000/- (Rs.40,000/- to the each minor child for non pecuniary damages and Rs.30,000/- to the widow for other non pecuniary damages)

ix. Total compensation : Rs.29,90,000/-.

9. On depositing the amount in the Registry of Tribunal, Registry is directed to first deduct the amount of deficit court fees, if any. Considering the ratio laid down by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of A.V. Padma V/s. Venugopal, Reported in 2012 (1) GLH (SC), 442, the order of investment is not passed because applicants /claimants are neither illiterate or rustic villagers.

10. In view of the ratio laid down by Hon'ble Gujarat High Court, in the case of Smt. Hansaguti P. Ladhani v/s The Oriental Insurance Company Ltd., reported in 2007(2) GLH 291, total amount of interest, accrued on the principal amount of compensation is to be apportioned on financial year to financial year basis and if the interest payable to claimant for any financial year exceeds Rs.50,000/-, insurance company/owner is/are entitled to deduct appropriate amount under the head of 'Tax Deducted at Source' as provided u/s 194A (3) (ix) of the Income Tax Act, 1961 and if the amount of interest does not exceeds Rs.50,000/- in any financial year, registry of this Tribunal is directed to allow the claimant to withdraw the amount without producing the certificate from the concerned Income- Tax Authority. The aforesaid view has been reiterated by this High Court in Review Application No.1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No.23 of 2001 (Smt. Sudesna and others Vs. Hari Singh and another) while disbursing the amount.

11. Fresh Award be drawn accordingly in the above petition by the tribunal as per the modification made herein. The Tribunals in the State shall follow the direction of this Court as herein aforementioned as far as disbursement is concerned, it should look into the condition of the litigant and the pendency of the matter and not blindly apply the judgment of A.V. Padma (supra). The same is to be applied looking to the facts of each case.

12. The insurance company has decided to settle the lis. The Apex Court in AIR 2021 SC 3301, Lakkamma & others. v. The Regional Manager M/S United India Insurance Co. Ltd & another has accepted the submission of the insurance company that for a period when the appeal is belated. The interest shall not be paid. We will adopt the similar mode from the date of the judgment till the delay is condoned, interest be not granted.

13. In view of the above, the appeal is partly allowed. Judgment and decree passed by the Tribunal shall stand modified to the aforesaid extent. The respondent-Insurance Company shall deposit the amount along with additional amount within a period of 12 weeks from today with interest at the rate of 6% from the date of filing of the claim petition till the decision in the claim petition from the period when the matter remained pending, there shall be no interest. 6% from the date of the condonation of delay till the amount is deposited, as the insurance company has decided the settle the dispute interest at rate of 6% is granted. The amount already deposited be deducted from the amount to be deposited.

14. This Court is thankful to both the counsels to see that the matter is disposed of.

15. Record and proceedings be sent back to the Tribunal after two weeks.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Kaushal Jayendra Thaker, J.
&
Hon'ble Subhash Chand, J.)

1. Heard Sri Nigamendra Shukla for the appellants, Sri Manish Kumar Nigam for Insurance Company and Sri Manviya Tripathi for the owner and driver of the Car.

2. This appeal, at the behest of the claimants, challenges the judgment and award dated 25.3.2015 passed by Motor Accident Claims Tribunal/Special Judge (EC Act) Ghaziabad, (hereinafter referred to as 'Tribunal') in Motor Accident Claim Petition No.120 of 2014.

3. Brief facts as culled out from the record are that on 8.1.2014 the deceased along with her husband was travelling by motorcycle, bearing no.UP-16-AH-8708 and when they reached at U-turn near Radission, a Car bearing no.UP-14-BQ-0549 which was being driven rashly and at exorbitant speed dashed the motorcycle from behind due to which both the deceased and her husband suffered multiple injuries. The deceased succumbed to the injuries during treatment on 15.1.2014. The deceased was 32 years of age and was working as IT Analyst in Tata Consultancy Co.

4. The heirs of the deceased instituted a claim petition claiming compensation of

Rs.3,20,50,000/-. The Tribunal has considered her income Rs.54,614/- per annum and awarded a sum of Rs.27,85,314/- with interest at the rate of 6 per cent.

5. Learned counsel for the claimants has contended that the finding of the Tribunal in holding the deceased/her husband to be 50% negligent is bad as the deceased has not contributed to the accident having taken place.

6. It is submitted by learned counsel for the appellant that the deceased was 32 years of age and was working as IT Analyst in Tata Consultancy Co. The Tribunal has considered her income Rs.54,614/- per annum but has not granted future loss of income. It is submitted that the deceased was survived by four dependents and, therefore, the deduction of ½ towards personal expenses is bad and it should be 1/4th.

7. It is submitted by learned counsel for the appellant that the Tribunal has not granted any amount under the head of non-pecuniary damages which requires to be considered and granted. He has further submitted that the interest granted by the Tribunal is on the lower side and requires enhancement. The learned advocate has relied on the decisions in the case of Yerramma and others v. G.Krishnamurthy and another, 2014 (4) TAC 337 (SC) and Sarla Devi and others Vs. Divisional Manager, M/s. Royal Sundaram Aliance Ins. Co. Ltd. And another, 2014 (4) TAC 343 (SC). Paragraph no.6 of Yerramma (supra) is quoted herein below:

"6. After thorough consideration of the facts and legal evidence on record in the present case, we are of the view that the collision between the motor vehicles occurred when the respondent-Corporation bus was turning to its right side without showing the turn indicator to enter the bus depot. The driver of the offending vehicle of the respondent-Corporation bus was negligent by not giving the right turn indicator and causing the accident. The driver of the respondent-Corporation bus should have been aware of the fact that he was driving the heavy passenger motor vehicle, and that it was necessary for him to take extra care & caution of the other vehicles on the road while taking the turn to enter the depot. Had the driver of the offending vehicle taken sufficient caution and care, slowed down and allowed reasonable provision for other vehicles on the left side of the road to pass smoothly, the accident could have been averted. Hence, we are of the view that the Tribunal and the High Court have erred in the apportionment of negligence at 25% on the part of the deceased and 75% on the part of the driver of the respondent-Corporation bus without evidence adduced in this regard by the respondent. But on the other hand, legal evidence produced on record by the appellants in this case would show that the accident was caused on account of the negligence on the part of the driver of the offending vehicle of the respondent-Corporation. Therefore, the erroneous finding recorded by the Tribunal & concurring with the same by the High Court on the question of contributory negligence of the deceased is liable to be set aside. Accordingly, we set aside the same as it is not only erroneous but contrary to law laid down by this Court in the case of Juju Kurivila (Supra).

In our considered view, since the deceased at the time of his death was approximately 53 years of age, therefore, as per law laid down by this Court in the Sarla Verma case (supra), 30% of actual salary for future prospects of the deceased cannot be taken for the purpose of awarding compensation under loss of dependency in favour of the appellants.

Further, with regard to gross annual income of the deceased, to determine the loss of dependency of the appellants, we refer to the case of National Insurance Co. Ltd. v. Indira Srivastava, (2008) 2 SCC 763 : 2008 (1) TAC 424, wherein this Court has held as under:-

"19. The amounts, therefore, which were required to be paid to the deceased by his employer by way of perks, should be included for computation of his monthly income as that would have been added to his monthly income by way of contribution to the family as contradistinguished to the ones which were for his benefit. We may, however, hasten to add that from the said amount of income, the statutory amount of tax payable thereupon must be deducted.

20. The term 'income' in P. Ramanatha Aiyar's Advanced Law Lexicon (3rd Ed.) has been defined as under : "The value of any benefit or perquisite whether convertible into money or not, obtained from a company either by a director or a person who has substantial interest in the company, and any sum paid by such company in respect of any obligation, which but for such payment would have been payable by the director or other person aforesaid, occurring or arising to a person within the State from any profession, trade or calling other than agriculture."

It has also been stated :

'INCOME' signifies 'what comes in' (per Selborne, C., Jones v. Ogle, 42 LJ Ch.336). 'It is as large a word as can be used' to denote a person's receipts '(per Jessel, M.R. Re Huggins, 51 LJ Ch.938.) income is not confined to receipts from business only and means periodical receipts from one's work, lands, investments, etc. AIR 1921 Mad 427 (SB). Ref. 124 IC 511 : 1930 MWN 29 : 31 MLW 438 AIR 1930 Mad 626 : 58 MLJ 337."

8. It is also submitted that the Tribunal has not granted medical expenses though she was hospitalized in Pushpanjali Hospital, Ghaziabad, and Rs. 3,00,000/- was spent for her treatment.

9. As against this, learned counsel for the respondents submits that the compensation awarded by the Tribunal is just and proper. It is also submitted that the deceased being in age bracket of 31-35 at the time of accident, the multiplier of 17 as granted by the Tribunal is bad and it should be 16.

10. The term negligence means failure to exercise care towards others which a reasonable and prudent person would in a circumstance or taking action which such a reasonable person would not. Negligence can be both intentional or accidental which is normally accidental. More particularly, it connotes reckless driving and the claimants must always prove that the other side is negligent. If the injury rather death is caused by something owned or controlled by the negligent party then he is directly liable otherwise the principle of "res ipsa loquitur" meaning thereby "the things speak for itself" may apply.

11. The principle of negligence has been discussed time and again. A person who either contributes or is author of the accident would be liable for his contribution to the accident having taken place.

12. In this case, we do not delve into the issue of negligence as concept of contributory negligence and composite negligence operate in different fields. In one there is deduction as one of the parties to accident was claimant was claimant or his heirs whereas in composite negligence both are liable to the third party who is not the driver or tort-fessor. The tort-fessor may be one of the heirs and no amount can be deducted where the tort-fessor claims as legal representative. We, therefore, leave the question open as far as contributory negligence.

13. The Apex Court in Khenyei Vs. New India Assurance Company Limited & Others, 2015 LawSuit (SC) 469 has held as under:

"4. It is a case of composite negligence where injuries have been caused to the claimants by combined wrongful act of joint tort feasors. In a case of accident caused by negligence of joint tort feasors, all the persons who aid or counsel or direct or join in committal of a wrongful act, are liable. In such case, the liability is always joint and several. The extent of negligence of joint tort feasors in such a case is immaterial for satisfaction of the claim of the plaintiff/claimant and need not be determined by the by the court. However, in case all the joint tort feasors are before the court, it may determine the extent of their liability for the purpose of adjusting inter-se equities between them at appropriate stage. The liability of each and every joint tort feasor vis a vis to plaintiff/claimant cannot be bifurcated as it is joint and several liability. In the case of composite negligence, apportionment of compensation between tort feasors for making payment to the plaintiff is not permissible as the plaintiff/claimant has the right to recover the entire amount from the easiest targets/solvent defendant.

14. There is a difference between contributory and composite negligence. In the case of contributory negligence, a person who has himself contributed to the extent cannot claim compensation for the injuries sustained by him in the accident to the extent of his own negligence;whereas in the case of composite negligence, a person who has suffered has not contributed to the accident but the outcome of combination of negligence of two or more other persons. This Court in T.O. Anthony v. Karvarnan & Ors. [2008 (3) SCC 748] has held that in case of contributory negligence, injured need not establish the extent of responsibility of each wrong doer separately, nor is it necessary for the court to determine the extent of liability of each wrong doer separately. It is only in tkenhe case of contributory negligence that the injured himself has contributed by his negligence in the accident. Extent of his negligence is required to be determined as damages recoverable by him in respect of the injuries have to be reduced in proportion to his contributory negligence. The relevant portion is extracted hereunder :

"6. 'Composite negligence' refers to the negligence on the part of two or more persons. Where a person is injured as a result of negligence on the part of two or more wrong doers, it is said that the person was injured on account of the composite negligence of those wrong-doers. In such a case, each wrong doer, is jointly and severally liable to the injured for payment of the entire damages and the injured person has the choice of proceeding against all or any of them. In such a case, the injured need not establish the extent of responsibility of each wrong-doer separately, nor is it necessary for the court to determine the extent of liability of each wrong-doer separately. On the other hand where a person suffers injury, partly due to the negligence on the part of another person or persons, and partly as a result of his own negligence, then the negligence of the part of the injured which contributed to the accident is referred to as his contributory negligence. Where the injured is guilty of some negligence, his claim for damages is not defeated merely by reason of the negligence on his part but the damages recoverable by him in respect of the injuries stands reduced in proportion to his contributory negligence.

7. Therefore, when two vehicles are involved in an accident, and one of the drivers claims compensation from the other driver alleging negligence, and the other driver denies negligence or claims that the injured claimant himself was negligent, then it becomes necessary to consider whether the injured claimant was negligent and if so, whether he was solely or partly responsible for the accident and the extent of his responsibility, that is his contributory negligence. Therefore where the injured is himself partly liable, the principle of 'composite negligence' will not apply nor can there be an automatic inference that the negligence was 50:50 as has been assumed in this case. The Tribunal ought to have examined the extent of contributory negligence of the appellant and thereby avoided confusion between composite negligence and contributory negligence. The High Court has failed to correct the said error."

18. This Court in Challa Bharathamma &Nanjappan (supra) has dealt with the breach of policy conditions by the owner when the insurer was asked to pay the compensation fixed by the tribunal and the right to recover the same was given to the insurer in the executing court concerned if the dispute between the insurer and the owner was the subject-matter of determination for the tribunal and the issue has been decided in favour of the insured. The same analogy can be applied to the instant cases as the liability of the joint tort feasor is joint and several. In the instant case, there is determination of inter se liability of composite negligence to the extent of negligence of 2/3rd and 1/3rd of respective drivers. Thus, the vehicle - trailor-truck which was not insured with the insurer, was negligent to the extent of 2/3rd. It would be open to the insurer being insurer of the bus after making payment to claimant to recover from the owner of the trailor-truck the amount to the aforesaid extent in the execution proceedings. Had there been no determination of the inter se liability for want of evidence or other joint tort feasor had not been impleaded, it was not open to settle such a dispute and to recover the amount in execution proceedings but the remedy would be to file another suit or appropriate proceedings in accordance with law.

What emerges from the aforesaid discussion is as follows :

(i) In the case of composite negligence, plaintiff/claimant is entitled to sue both or any one of the joint tort feasors and to recover the entire compensation as liability of joint tort feasors is joint and several.

(ii) In the case of composite negligence, apportionment of compensation between two tort feasors vis a vis the plaintiff/claimant is not permissible. He can recover at his option whole damages from any of them.

(iii) In case all the joint tort feasors have been impleaded and evidence is sufficient, it is open to the court/tribunal to determine inter se extent of composite negligence of the drivers. However, determination of the extent of negligence between the joint tort feasors is only for the purpose of their inter se liability so that one may recover the sum from the other after making whole of payment to the plaintiff/claimant to the extent it has satisfied the liability of the other. In case both of them have been impleaded and the apportionment/ extent of their negligence has been determined by the court/tribunal, in main case one joint tort feasor can recover the amount from the other in the execution proceedings.

(iv) It would not be appropriate for the court/tribunal to determine the extent of composite negligence of the drivers of two vehicles in the absence of impleadment of other joint tort feasors. In such a case, impleaded joint tort feasor should be left, in case he so desires, to sue the other joint tort feasor in independent proceedings after passing of the decree or award."emphasis added

14. It is admitted position that the opponents - owner and driver after filing written statement never orally substantiated what they had averred in written statement. The latest decision of the Apex Court in Khenyei (Supra) has laid down one further aspect about considering the negligence more particularly composite/contributory negligence. The deceased or the person concerned should be shown to have contributed either to the accident and the impact of accident upon the victim could have been minimised if he had taken care. In this case the deceased was not the author or the co-author of the accident. On facts, the deceased was not plying the vehicle, hence, the deduction of 50% from the compensation awarded is bad and is set aside. The husband, who was plying the motorcyle, is not claiming for his own damages. He is claiming for the death of his wife and, therefore, the principles enunciated in Kheynei (supra) will be applicable. The claimants are heirs of non-tortfessor and hence no deduction is permissible from their claim.

COMPENSATION EVALUATED ;

15. The submission is that the Tribunal has not granted any amount towards future loss of income. Grant of future prospects will have to be traced back and reference can be had to the decision in General Manager, Kerala S.R.T.C., Trivandrum v. Susamma Thomas & Ors.,(1994) 2 SCC 176 wherein addition of future prospects was also calculated. The decision in Susamma Thomas (Supra) was referred in U.P.S.R.T.C. & Ors. v. Trilok Chandra & Ors.(1996) 4 SCC 362 which have been considered by the Apex Court in Sarla Dixit Versus Balwant Yadav AIR 1996 SC 1274 and the Apex Court has considered decision in Hardeo Kaur V/s. Rajasthan State Transport Corporation, 1992 2 SCC 567. The decision in Sarla Dixit has been considered to be good law in (1) Puttamma Vs. K.L.Narayana Reddy, AIR 2014 SC 706 (2) Raman Vs. Uttar Haryana Bijli Vitran Nigam Limited, Bijoy Kumar Dugar Vs. Bidyadhar Dutta, 2006 (3) SCC 242 : (3) Sarla Verma (supra)(4)R.K.Malik Vs. Kiran Pal, AIR 2009 SC 2506 (5)National Insurance Company Limited Vs. Pranay Sethi, AIR 2017 SC 5157 Raj Rani Vs. Oriental Insurance Company Limited, 2009 (13) SCC 654. We have gone through the decisions in those days referred to herein above and the judgment of Gujarat high court in Ritaben alias Vanitaben Wd/o. Dipakbhai Hariram and Anr. v/s.Ahmedabad Municipal Transport

Service & Anr., 1998 (2) G.L.H. 670, wherein, the Court has observed as under:

"para-7: It is settled proposition of that the main anxiety of the Tribunal in such case should be to see that the heirs and legal representatives of the deceased are placed, as far as possible, in the same financial position, as they would have been, had there been no accident. It is therefore, an action based on the doctrine of compensation.

para-8: It may also be mentioned that perfect determination of compensation in such tortuous liability is, hardly, obtainable. However, the Tribunal is required to take an overall view of the facts and the relevant circumstances together with the relevant proposition of law and is obliged to award an amount of compensation which is just and reasonable in the circumstances of the case.

para-10: Even in absence of any other evidence an able bodied young man of 25 years, otherwise also presumed to earn an amount of Rs.1000/- or more per month, on that basis the prospective income could be calculated by doubling the one prevalent on the date of the accident, which is required be divided by half, so as to reach the correct datum figure which is required to be multiplied by appropriate multiplier. Even taking a conservative view in the matter, the deceased would be earning not less than an amount of Rs.1000/- per month and considering the prospective average income of Rs.2000/- and divided by half, would, obviously come to Rs.1500/."

16. Thus even in year 1990 to 2010, the addition of future prospects was not ruled out, just because tribunals in Uttar Pradesh were not granting future loss, it cannot hold field where the decision of Apex Court is otherwise as demonstrated by citing decision though of persuasive value of Gujarat High Court referred herein above wherefore, the submission of learned Advocate for respondent that no amount under the head of future loss of income was admissible in those days, will have to be considered. The decision of the Apex Court in New India Assurance Company Ltd. Vs. Urmila Shukla and others, LL 2021 SC 359 will have to be looked into. Therefore, we will have to consider the same in the light of the recent decisions as well as the decisions of the Apex Court prevailing when the accident occured.

17. Even in the earlier days, the factors to be considered for issuing quantum of compensation reads as follows:

i. To give present value, a reasonable deduction or reduction is required as lump sum amount is given at a stretch under the head of prospective economic loss;

ii. The tax element is also required to be considered as observed in the Gourley's case (1956 AC 185).

iii. The resultant impairment/death on the earning capcity of the claimant/claimants .

iv. That the amount of interest is awarded also on the prospective loss of income.

v. That the amount of compensation is not exemplary or punitive but is compensatory.

18. Hence we now propose to calculate the compensation payable to the legal heirs of the deceased.

19. The facts will permit us to rely on the said decisions. The Tribunal has assessed the income of the deceased to be

Rs.54,614 per annum which is undisputed. To which 50% will have to be added as future prospects. The finding that in IT field there will be recession and deceased could have lost the job hence no future could be awarded is absurd and smacks of perversity. Even as per the earlier decisions, 1/2 will have to be deducted as we are convinced that the deceased was survived by dependent namely including one minor son aged 1 year 8 months. Husband cannot be called dependant in absence of proof. The multiplier would be 16 as the deceased was in the age bracket of 31-35. As far as amount under the head of non-pecuniary damages is concerned, we grant Rs.70,000/-. The Tribunal has not granted medical expenses though she was hospitalized hence we grant Rs. 1,00,000/- towards medical expenses as the accident occurred on 8.1.2014 and deceased passed away on 15.1.2014.

20. Hence, the total compensation payable to the claimants is computed herein below:

i. Monthly Income Rs.54,614,/-

ii. Percentage towards future prospects : 50% namely Rs.27,307/-

iii. Total income : Rs.54,614 + 27,307 = Rs.81,921/-

iv. Annual Loss of Dependency : 81,921 x 12 = 9,83, 052/-

iv. Income after deduction of 1/2 : Rs.4,91,526/-

v. Multiplier applicable : 16

vi. Loss of dependency: Rs. 4,91,526 x 16 = Rs.78,64,416/-

vii. Amount under non-pecuniary head : Rs. 70,000/- viii. Amount for medical expenses: Rs. 1,00,000/-

ix. Total compensation : 80,34,416/-

21. As far as issue of rate of interest is concerned, it should be 7.5% in view of the latest decision of the Apex Court in National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Mannat Johal and Others, 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.) wherein the Apex Court has held as under :

"13. The aforesaid features equally apply to the contentions urged on behalf of the claimants as regards the rate of interest. The Tribunal had awarded interest at the rate of 12% p.a. but the same had been too high a rate in comparison to what is ordinarily envisaged in these matters. The High Court, after making a substantial enhancement in the award amount, modified the interest component at a reasonable rate of 7.5% p.a. and we find no reason to allow the interest in this matter at any rate higher than that allowed by High Court."

22. In view of the above, the appeal is partly allowed. Judgment and decree passed by the Tribunal shall stand modified to the aforesaid extent. The respondent-Insurance Company shall deposit the amount within a period of 12 weeks from today with interest at the rate of 7.5% from the date of filing of the claim petition till award and 6% thereafter till the amount is deposited. The amount already deposited be deducted from the amount to be deposited.

23. On depositing the amount in the Registry of Tribunal, Registry is directed to first deduct the amount of deficit court fees, if any. Considering the ratio laid down by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of A.V. Padma V/s. Venugopal, Reported in 2012 (1) GLH (SC), 442, the order of investment is not passed because applicants /claimants are neither illiterate or rustic villagers.

24. In view of the ratio laid down by Hon'ble Gujarat High Court, in the case of Smt. Hansaguti P. Ladhani v/s The Oriental Insurance Company Ltd., reported in 2007(2) GLH 291, total amount of interest, accrued on the principal amount of compensation is to be apportioned on financial year to financial year basis and if the interest payable to claimant for any financial year exceeds Rs.50,000/-, insurance company/owner is/are entitled to deduct appropriate amount under the head of 'Tax Deducted at Source' as provided u/s 194A (3) (ix) of the Income Tax Act, 1961 and if the amount of interest does not exceeds Rs.50,000/- in any financial year, registry of this Tribunal is directed to allow the claimant to withdraw the amount without producing the certificate from the concerned Income- Tax Authority. The aforesaid view has been reiterated by this High Court in Review Application No.1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No.23 of 2001 (Smt. Sudesna and others Vs. Hari Singh and another) while disbursing the amount.

25. We make it clear that 30% can be recovered by the Insurance Company from the owner, driver and Insurance Company of the motorcycle by the mode suggested by the Apex Court.

26. Fresh Award be drawn accordingly in the above petition by the tribunal as per the modification made herein.

27. This Court is thankful to both the counsels to see that this very old matter is disposed of.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Subhash Chand, J.)

1. Heard Sri Shreesh Srivastava, learned counsel for the appellants, Ms. Manjima Singh, Advocate holding brief of Ms. Archana Singh, learned counsel for the respondent no.2 and Sri Ram Lakhan Deobanshi, learned counsel for the respondent no.3-New India Assurance Company.

2. This appeal, at the behest of the claimants, challenges the judgment and award dated 17.02.2016 passed by Motor Accident Claims Tribunal/Additional District Judge/ Special Judge (S.C. and S.T. Act) Gautam Budh Nagar (hereinafter referred to as 'Tribunal') in M.A.C.T. Case No.324 of 2012 (Meenaxi Panwanda and others Vs. Raj Kumar and others).

3. It is submitted by learned counsel for the appellants that the deceased was 56 years of age. He was an Assistant Manager (H.R.) in NTPC, Haryana. The Tribunal has considered his income to be Rs.63.032/- per month. It is submitted by learned counsel for the appellants that the income of the deceased should have been considered to be Rs.82,337/-. The deceased was survived by his widow and three daughters, the deduction of 1/3rd towards personal expenses of the deceased should not be disturbed. As far as multiplier is concerned, there is no dispute between the parties. It is also submitted that the interest should be granted at the rate of 7.5%.

4. As far as the appeal is concerned, all other aspects except the compensation awarded, has attained finality, as the Insurance Company has not come up in appeal. It is the appeal filed by claimants. The issue of negligence has been decided in favour of the claimants and that issue is not raised in this appeal and the issue that is required to be decided is compensation awarded by the Tribunal, which has not granted any amount under the head of future loss of income despite the law provided for the same. The Tribunal has considered the income to be Rs. 63,032/- per month and granted multiplier of 9 with compensation of Rs. 1,25,000/- under non-pecuniary heads and it is this award, which is under challenge.

5. Learned counsel for the appellants has heavily relied on the judgments in case of New India Assurance Company Limited Vs. Urmila Shukla and others decided on 06.08.2021 in Civil Appeal No. 4634 of 2021 as well as in case of Kirti and another Vs. Oriental Insurance Company Limited (2021) 2 SCC 166 and Anita Sharma and others Vs. The New India Assurance Company Limited and another 2021 (1) SCC 171 by contending that the deductions as made by the Tribunal are faulty and could not have been made.

The accident occurred in the year 2012 and appeal is of the year 2018, therefore, interest, which is granted 7% will have to be 7.5% from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount is deposited. As far as deceased is concerned, it is a case of composite negligence as determined by the Tribunal.

6. Learned counsel for the appellants has relied on the judgment of Vimal Kanwar and others Vs. Kishore Dan and others AIR 2013 SC 3830 and submitted that no deduction should be from the salary of the deceased except income tax but the Tribunal has deducted all the allowances and the loan amount for which installment would be paid. It is submitted by Sri Srivastava that the same could not be done. The case of New India Assurance Company Limited Vs. Urmila Shukla and others decided on 06.08.2021 in Civil Appeal No. 4634 of 2021 as well as Aneeta Sharma (supra) is not followed.

7. Learned counsel for the appellants has contended that the Tribunal has given reason for deduction. PW-1 Meenakshi Panvanda in her evidence has submitted that Vijay Kumar before his death has incurred huge amount for medical expenses11 lacs, which has been bifurcated that he was admitted in Government hospital, Jhajjar, where he spent Rs. 50,000/- thereafter he was taken to PGI, Rohtak, where he spent Rs. 1,60,000/- and further he was admited to Fortis hospital Noida, where also he has incurred about Rs. 9,00,000/- that is how Rs. 11,10,000/- was incurred. The deceased was working in NTPC Haryana as an Assistant Manager (H.R.) and his salary was Rs. 1,44,779/- per month. The age of the deceased was 56 years. In cross examination, it is admitted as observed by the Tribunal that out of total amount of Rs. 11,10,000/-, Rs. 9,00,000/- for medical charges was paid by NTPC and rest of the amount paid by claimant widow. The Tribunal very strangely did not believe the bills as well as the statement of the appellants and dealt with that this issue as of it is dealing with civil suit for damages. The Tribunal relied on the judgment of Sarla Verma (supra) for deciding the age of the deceased to be 56 years and after reproducing paragraph 21 of the said judgment decided that multiplier of 9 would be admissible. The Tribunal again started calculating income of the deceased and has discussed the evidence of PW-1, who has stated that the income of her husband was 1,44,779/- and she has three daughters out of which two daughters have been married and one is unmarried. PW-3 in his evidence has also stated the same and it is on the basis of the deductions which have been made by employer that the Tribunal has come to the conclusion that the income would be Rs. 63,032/- per month despite the fact that there was clinching evidence. If we consider the deductions then it also would be Rs. 1,44,779, therefore, the Tribunal has held that the income of the deceased was Rs. 99,557/- and has deducted all the deductions and has come to the conclusion that his income was Rs. 63,032/- per month. This finding is assailed on the basis of judgment in case of Sunil Sharma and others Vs. Bachitar Singh and others 2011 (11) SCC 425 and Vimal Kanwar and others Vs. Kishore Dan and others 2013 (7) SCC 476. The Tribunal has gone by the conclusion arrived at the judgment in Sarla Verma (supra) and has calculated the compensation as follows and committed error.

8. Rs. 63,032 multiplied by 12, which comes to Rs. 7,56,384/- and then deducted

1/3 of the income as personal expenses of the deceased and held that no evidence as to what was the dependency and the other damages and thereby calculated Rs. 5,04,256 x 9 by holding that judgment in Sarla Verma (supra) specifies that there should be no addition of the age of the deceased is more than 50 years after judgment of Sarla Verma (supra) before the judgment rendered by the learned judge, the judgment in Rajesh and others Vs. Rajbir Singh and others 2013 (3) TAC 697 (SC), Santosh Devi Vs. National Insurance Company Limited and others (2012) 6 SCC 421 and Sanobanu Nazirbhai Mirza and others Vs. Ahmedabad Municipal Transport Service 2013 (4) TAC 369 (SC) despite considering the fact of rule 220A of the Uttar Pradesh Motor Vehicles (Eleventh Amendment) Rules, 2011 the Tribunal held that no amount for future loss of income can be granted. We would deduct what is known as income tax. The income would be Rs. 82,337 per month + 15% future loss of income and multiplier of 9 and deductions as per judgments. We would have to recalculate the amount as the learned judge has erred in not going through the judgment in case of Sunil Sharma and Vimal Kanwar (supra). If he would have gleaned the same, he would not deduct the amount of Rs. 33,000/- per month from pay of the deceased. The calculation of deductions is given to us by the learned counsel for the appellants.

9. Learned counsels for Insurance Company submitted that the order of the Tribunal is just and proper and allowance could not have been considered as income of the deceased for the purpose calculating compensation. As far as the deceased was concerned, he was in the age bracket of 55-60 years, which is not in dispute and he was survived by his widow and three daughters, which is also not in dispute.

10. This takes this Court to the issue of compensation. The income of the deceased in the year of accident and looking to his profession namely Assistant Manager (H.R.) in N.T.P.C. can be considered to be Rs.82,337/- per month and future loss of income requires to be added in view of the decision of the Apex Court in National Insurance Company Limited Vs. Pranay Sethi and Others, 2017 0 Supreme (SC) 1050.

11. Hence, the total compensation payable to the appellants in view of the decision of the Apex Court in Pranay Sethi (Supra) is computed herein below:

i. Income Rs.82,337/-

ii. Percentage towards future prospects : 15% namely Rs.12,350/-

iii. Total income : Rs. 82,337+12,350 = Rs. 94687/-

iv. Income after deduction of 1/3rd : Rs. 63,125/- (rounded up)

v. Annual income : Rs.63,125 x 12 = Rs. 7,57,500/-

vi. Multiplier applicable : 9

vii. Loss of dependency: Rs.7,57,500 x 9 = Rs.68,17,500/-

viii. Amount under filial consortium and other non pecuniary heads : Rs.70,000/-

x. Total compensation : 68,87,500/-

12. As far as issue of rate of interest is concerned, it should be 7.5% in view of the latest decision of the Apex Court in National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Mannat Johal and Others, 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.) wherein the Apex Court has held as under :

"13. The aforesaid features equally apply to the contentions urged on behalf of the claimants as regards the rate of interest. The Tribunal had awarded interest at the rate of 12% p.a. but the same had been too high a rate in comparison to what is ordinarily envisaged in these matters. The High Court, after making a substantial enhancement in the award amount, modified the interest component at a reasonable rate of 7.5% p.a. and we find no reason to allow the interest in this matter at any rate higher than that allowed by High Court."

13. In view of the above, the appeal is partly allowed. Judgment and decree passed by the Tribunal shall stand modified to the aforesaid extent. The respondent-Insurance Company shall deposit the amount within a period of 12 weeks from today with interest at the rate of 7.5% from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount is deposited. The amount already deposited be deducted from the amount to be deposited.

14. On depositing the amount in the Registry of Tribunal, Registry is directed to first deduct the amount of deficit court fees, if any. Considering the ratio laid down by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of A.V. Padma Vs. Venugopal reported in 2012 (1) GLH (SC) 442, the order of investment is not passed because applicants/claimants are neither illiterate nor rustic villagers.

15. We are thankful to learned counsel for the parties for getting decided the matter.

16. Record, if any, be sent back to the Tribunal.

Hon'ble Subhash Chand, J.)

1. Heard Sri Ram Singh, learned counsel for the appellant and Ms Anubha Gupta assisting Sri N.K. Srivastava, learned counsel for the respondent-Insurance Company. None has appeared for the owner.

2. This appeal, at the behest of the claimants, challenges the judgment and award dated 09.04.2007 passed by Motor Accident Claims Tribunal/Additional District Judge, Court No.13, Aligarh (hereinafter referred to as 'Tribunal') in M.A.C. No. 415 of 2005.

3. Brief facts as culled out from the record are that on 25.06.2005 at 12:10 p.m in front of Sugar Mill Sheikhpur, Furkan Ahmad was going to Badaun by his C.D. Don Delux motor-cycle by his side then only a bus bearing No. U.P 24/ 4925 coming from Budaun dashed with the motor-cycle of Furkan Ahmad. As a result of which Furkan Ahmad died on the spot.

4. The deceased was 39 years 11 months and 25 days of age at the time of accident. He was an agriculturist and was having vocation of advocacy and was earning Rs.8,000/- from his agricultural land and Rs. 62,000/p.a from his advocacy profession. He was survived by his mother, widow and three minor children aged 9, 6 and 3 years. The Tribunal has considered his income to be Rs. 62,000/-p.a, deducted 1/3rd towards personal expenses of the deceased, granted multiplier of 16, granted Rs.5,000/- towards consortium , granted Rs. 2,000/- towards funeral expenses and ultimately assessed the total compensation to be Rs.7,53,667/-.

5. Learned counsel for the appellant has submitted that the deceased Furkan Ahmad was 39 years 11 months and 25 days was an advocate by profession. His income tax report shows that his annual income was Rs. 62,000/- per annum for which no enhancement is claimed by the learned counsel for the appellant but the learned counsel for the appellant contends that he was below the age of 50 years and as he was himself employed professional even in the year 2005, the tribunal should have added 40% to his income which is erroneous as it has not added any amount. He has further submitted that he was survived by his mother, wife and three minor children aged 9,6 and 3 years and therefore, the deduction as per the judgements of Sarla Verma and Pranay Shetty and even in those days should be 1/4th and not 1/3rd. It is submitted by him that amount of non pecuniary of Rs. 7,000/- requires to be enhanced.

6. As against this, Ms Anubha Gupta, advocate assisting Sri N.K. Srivastava, learned counsel for the respondent-Insurance Company contends that in the year of accident and when the judgement was pronounced this principle of future loss of income was not there and according to the counsel the multiplier adopted of 16, it should be of 15 and that deduction of 1/3rd from personal expenses is just and proper. It is submitted that the appeal was dismissed in the year 2015 and there is a huge delay of six years in filing restoration application and that should also be considered by this Court while considering quotient of interest as insurance company is not at fault.

7. It is submitted by Ms Anubha Gupta, advocate assisting Sri N.K. Srivastava that the quantum of compensation and the interest awarded by the Tribunal is just and proper and does not call for any interference by this Court.

9. Having heard the learned counsel for the parties, income considered by tribunal is Rs. 70,000/- per annum, his income was Rs. 62,000/- p.a was his professional income as per the documents and the I.T return of 2002, 2003, 2004 and 2005 and his agricultural land. Let us consider the negligence from the perspective of the law laid down.

10. The term negligence means failure to exercise care towards others which a reasonable and prudent person would in a circumstance or taking action which such a reasonable person would not. Negligence can be both intentional or accidental which is normally accidental. More particularly, it connotes reckless driving and the injured must always prove that the either side is negligent. If the injury rather death is caused by something owned or controlled by the negligent party then he is directly liable otherwise the principle of "res ipsa loquitur" meaning thereby "the things speak for itself" would apply.

11. The principle of contributory negligence has been discussed time and again. A person who either contributes or author of the accident would be liable for his contribution to the accident having taken place.

12. The Division Bench of this Court in First Appeal From Order No. 1818 of 2012 (Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co.Ltd. Vs. Smt. Renu Singh And Others) decided on 19.7.2016 has held as under: :

"16. Negligence means failure to exercise required degree of care and caution expected of a prudent driver. Negligence is the omission to do something which a reasonable man, guided upon the considerations, which ordinarily regulate conduct of human affairs, would do, or doing something which a prudent and reasonable man would not do. Negligence is not always a question of direct evidence. It is an inference to be drawn from proved facts. Negligence is not an absolute term, but is a relative one. It is rather a comparative term. What may be negligence in one case may not be so in another. Where there is no duty to exercise care, negligence in the popular sense has no legal consequence. Where there is a duty to exercise care, reasonable care must be taken to avoid acts or omissions which would be reasonably foreseen likely to caused physical injury to person. The degree of care required, of course, depends upon facts in each case. On these broad principles, the negligence of drivers is required to be assessed.

17. It would be seen that burden of proof for contributory negligence on the part of deceased has to be discharged by the opponents. It is the duty of driver of the offending vehicle to explain the accident. It is well settled law that at intersection where two roads cross each other, it is the duty of a fast moving vehicle to slow down and if driver did not slow down at intersection, but continued to proceed at a high speed without caring to notice that another vehicle was crossing, then the conduct of driver necessarily leads to conclusion that vehicle was being driven by him rashly as well as negligently.

18. 10th Schedule appended to Motor Vehicle Act contain statutory regulations for driving of motor vehicles which also form part of every Driving License. Clause-6 of such Regulation clearly directs that the driver of every motor vehicle to slow down vehicle at every intersection or junction of roads or at a turning of the road. It is also provided that driver of the vehicle should not enter intersection or junction of roads unless he makes sure that he would not thereby endanger any other person. Merely, because driver of the Truck was driving vehicle on the left side of road would not absolve him from his responsibility to slow down vehicle as he approaches intersection of roads, particularly when he could have easily seen, that the car over which deceased was riding, was approaching intersection.

19. In view of the fast and constantly increasing volume of traffic, motor vehicles upon roads may be regarded to some extent as coming within the principle of liability defined in Rylands V/s. Fletcher, (1868) 3 HL (LR) 330. From the point of view of pedestrian, the roads of this country have been rendered by the use of motor vehicles, highly dangerous. 'Hit and run' cases where drivers of motor vehicles who have caused accidents, are unknown. In fact such cases are increasing in number. Where a pedestrian without negligence on his part is injured or killed by a motorist, whether negligently or not, he or his legal representatives, as the case may be, should be entitled to recover damages if principle of social justice should have any meaning at all.

22. By the above process, the burden of proof may ordinarily be cast on the defendants in a motor accident claim petition to prove that motor vehicle was being driven with reasonable care or that there is equal negligence on the part the other side."
emphasis added

13. The Apex Court in Khenyei Vs. New India Assurance Company Limited & Others, 2015 LawSuit (SC) 469 has held as under:

"4. It is a case of composite negligence where injuries have been caused to the claimants by combined wrongful act of joint tort feasors. In a case of accident caused by negligence of joint tort feasors, all the persons who aid or counsel or direct or join in committal of a wrongful act, are liable. In such case, the liability is always joint and several. The extent of negligence of joint tort feasors in such a case is immaterial for satisfaction of the claim of the plaintiff/claimant and need not be determined by the by the court. However, in case all the joint tort feasors are before the court, it may determine the extent of their liability for the purpose of adjusting inter-se equities between them at appropriate stage. The liability of each and every joint tort feasor vis a vis to plaintiff/claimant cannot be bifurcated as it is joint and several liability. In the case of composite negligence, apportionment of compensation between tort feasors for making payment to the plaintiff is not permissible as the plaintiff/claimant has the right to recover the entire amount from the easiest targets/solvent defendant.

14. There is a difference between contributory and composite negligence. In the case of contributory negligence, a person who has himself contributed to the extent cannot claim compensation for the injuries sustained by him in the accident to the extent of his own negligence;whereas in the case of composite negligence, a person who has suffered has not contributed to the accident but the outcome of combination of negligence of two or more other persons. This Court in T.O. Anthony v. Karvarnan & Ors. [2008 (3) SCC 748] has held that in case of contributory negligence, injured need not establish the extent of responsibility of each wrong doer separately, nor is it necessary for the court to determine the extent of liability of each wrong doer separately. It is only in the case of contributory negligence that the injured himself has contributed by his negligence in the accident. Extent of his negligence is required to be determined as damages recoverable by him in respect of the injuries have to be reduced in proportion to his contributory negligence. The relevant portion is extracted hereunder :

"6. 'Composite negligence' refers to the negligence on the part of two or more persons. Where a person is injured as a result of negligence on the part of two or more wrong doers, it is said that the person was injured on account of the composite negligence of those wrong-doers. In such a case, each wrong doer, is jointly and severally liable to the injured for payment of the entire damages and the injured person has the choice of proceeding against all or any of them. In such a case, the injured need not establish the extent of responsibility of each wrong-doer separately, nor is it necessary for the court to determine the extent of liability of each wrong-doer separately. On the other hand where a person suffers injury, partly due to the negligence on the part of another person or persons, and partly as a result of his own negligence, then the negligence of the part of the injured which contributed to the accident is referred to as his contributory negligence. Where the injured is guilty of some negligence, his claim for damages is not defeated merely by reason of the negligence on his part but the damages recoverable by him in respect of the injuries stands reduced in proportion to his contributory negligence.

7. Therefore, when two vehicles are involved in an accident, and one of the drivers claims compensation from the other driver alleging negligence, and the other driver denies negligence or claims that the injured claimant himself was negligent, then it becomes necessary to consider whether the injured claimant was negligent and if so, whether he was solely or partly responsible for the accident and the extent of his responsibility, that is his contributory negligence. Therefore where the injured is himself partly liable, the principle of 'composite negligence' will not apply nor can there be an automatic inference that the negligence was 50:50 as has been assumed in this case. The Tribunal ought to have examined the extent of contributory negligence of the appellant and thereby avoided confusion between composite negligence and contributory negligence. The High Court has failed to correct the said error."

18. This Court in Challa Bharathamma &Nanjappan (supra) has dealt with the breach of policy conditions by the owner when the insurer was asked to pay the compensation fixed by the tribunal and the right to recover the same was given to the insurer in the executing court concerned if the dispute between the insurer and the owner was the subject-matter of determination for the tribunal and the issue has been decided in favour of the insured. The same analogy can be applied to the instant cases as the liability of the joint tort feasor is joint and several. In the instant case, there is determination of inter se liability of composite negligence to the extent of negligence of 2/3rd and 1/3rd of respective drivers. Thus, the vehicle - trailor-truck which was not insured with the insurer, was negligent to the extent of 2/3rd. It would be open to the insurer being insurer of the bus after making payment to claimant to recover from the owner of the trailor-truck the amount to the aforesaid extent in the execution proceedings. Had there been no determination of the inter se liability for want of evidence or other joint tort feasor had not been impleaded, it was not open to settle such a dispute and to recover the amount in execution proceedings but the remedy would be to file another suit or appropriate proceedings in accordance with law.

What emerges from the aforesaid discussion is as follows :

(i) In the case of composite negligence, plaintiff/claimant is entitled to sue both or any one of the joint tort feasors and to recover the entire compensation as liability of joint tort feasors is joint and several.

(ii) In the case of composite negligence, apportionment of compensation between two tort feasors vis a vis the plaintiff/claimant is not permissible. He can recover at his option whole damages from any of them.

(iii) In case all the joint tort feasors have been impleaded and evidence is sufficient, it is open to the court/tribunal to determine inter se extent of composite negligence of the drivers. However, determination of the extent of negligence between the joint tort feasors is only for the purpose of their inter se liability so that one may recover the sum from the other after making whole of payment to the plaintiff/claimant to the extent it has satisfied the liability of the other. In case both of them have been impleaded and the apportionment/ extent of their negligence has been determined by the court/tribunal, in main case one joint tort feasor can recover the amount from the other in the execution proceedings.

(iv) It would not be appropriate for the court/tribunal to determine the extent of composite negligence of the drivers of two vehicles in the absence of impleadment of other joint tort feasors. In such a case, impleaded joint tort feasor should be left, in case he so desires, to sue the other joint tort feasor in independent proceedings after passing of the decree or award."emphasis added

14. The latest decision of the Apex Court in Khenyei Vs. New India Assurance Company Limited & Others, 2015 Law Suit (SC) 469 has laid down one further aspect about considering the negligence more particularly composite/contributory negligence. The deceased or the person concerned should be shown to have contributed either to the accident and the impact of accident upon the victim could have been minimised if he had taken care. In this case the deceased was not the author or the co-author of the accident. Hence, the oral prayer that deduction of 50% from the compensation be made is rejected.

15. This takes this Court to the issue of compensation. We would place reliance on the Apex court decision in Malarvizhi & Ors Vs. United India Insurance Company Limited and Another, 2020 (4) SCC 228 and United India Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Indiro0 Devi & Ors, 2018 (7) SCC 715. and in The Oriental Insurance Company Ltd. Vs. Mangey Ram and others, 2019 0 Supreme (All) 1067 and the recent judgment of the Apex Court in New India Assurance Company Vs.

Urmila Shukla decided by the Apex Court on 6.8.2021 reported in MANU/SCOR/24098/2021 and Kirti and others vs oriental insurance company ltd reported in 2021(1) TAC 1It could not be culled out from record that on what basis, the Tribunal has deducted the pecuniary benefits from the income cannot be fathomed. The income of the deceased in the year of accident and looking to his profession can be considered to be Rs.70,000/- per annum as the deceased is below 50 years, 40% as future loss of income requires to be added in view of the decision of the Apex Court in Pranay Sethi (Supra). As far as amount under the head of non-pecuniary damages are concerned, it should be Rs.70,000/- + 10% increase as per the decision of the Apex Court in Pranay Sethi (Supra) as three years have elapsed hence, the lump sum amount under this head would be Rs.1,00,000/-. As far as multiplier is concerned, it is 15.

16. Hence, the total compensation payable to the appellants is computed herein below:

i. Income Rs.70,000/-

ii. Percentage towards future prospects : 40% namely Rs.28,000/-

iii. Total income : Rs. 70,000 + 28,000 = Rs.98,000/-

iv. Income after deduction of 1/3rd : Rs. 65,333/- (rounded up)

v. Multiplier applicable : 15

vi. Loss of dependency: Rs.65,334 x 15 = Rs.9,79,995/-

vii. Amount under non-pecuniary head : 1,00,000/-

viii.Total compensation : 10,79,995/-

17. As far as issue of rate of interest is concerned, it should be 7% from the date of filing of the petition till the judgement. From 2015-2021, the insurance company shall not be liable to pay any interest till restoration, thereafter it would be 7%.

18. 1 In view of the above, the appeal is partly allowed. Oral cross are allowed and compensation is recalculated. Judgment and award passed by the Tribunal shall stand modified to the aforesaid extent. The respondent-Insurance Company shall deposit the amount within a period of 12 weeks from today with interest at the rate of 7% from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount is deposited. The amount already deposited be deducted from the amount to be deposited. The Insurance Company will deposit the entire amount can have their right to recover the amount from owner and the Insurance Company of the other vehicle. As far as deceased is concerned, it is a case of composite negligence, hence, the amount cannot be deducted from the compensation awarded to the claimants who are the heirs of a non tort-feasor.

19. In view of the ratio laid down by Hon'ble Gujarat High Court, in the case of Smt. Hansagori P. Ladhani v/s The Oriental Insurance Company Ltd., reported in 2007(2) GLH 291 and this High Court in , total amount of interest, accrued on the principal amount of compensation is to be apportioned on financial year to financial year basis and if the interest payable to claimant for any financial year exceeds Rs.50,000/-, insurance company/owner is/are entitled to deduct appropriate amount under the head of 'Tax Deducted at Source' as provided u/s 194A (3) (ix) of the Income Tax Act, 1961 and if the amount of interest does not exceeds Rs.50,000/- in any financial year, registry of this Tribunal is directed to allow the claimant to withdraw the amount without producing the certificate from the concerned Income- Tax Authority. The aforesaid view has been reiterated by this High Court in Review Application No.1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No.23 of 2001 (Smt. Sudesna and others Vs. Hari Singh and another) and in First Appeal From Order No.2871 of 2016 (Tej Kumari Sharma v. Chola Mandlam M.S. General Insurance Co. Ltd.) decided on 19.3.2021 while disbursing the amount.

20. Record be sent back to tribunal forthwith.

21. This Court is thankful to both the learned Advocates for getting this matter disposed of during this pandemic.

(Ref: Civil Misc. Delay Condonation Application)

1. Heard learned counsel for the appellants and learned counsel for the respondents.

2. This is an application seeking condonation of delay in filing the recall application.

3. Cause shown for the delay in the affidavit attached to delay condonation application is sufficient, hence, the delay is condoned subject to token of cost of Rs. 500/- to be deducted from the compensation awarded.

4. This application, accordingly stands allowed.

(Ref: Civil Misc. Restoration Application)

1. This is an application seeking recall of order dated 17.09.2015 dismissing the appeal for want of prosecution.

2. Cause shown is sufficient and we feel that being appeal of M.V. Act, it requires to be restored.

3. Hence, the order dated 17.09.2015 is hereby recalled to file subject cost of Rs. 500/- as there is huge delay which should be deducted from the compensation to be deposited. The appeal is ordered to be restored to its original number.

4. This application, accordingly, stands allowed.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Kaushal Jayendra Thaker, J.
&
Hon'ble Subhash Chand, J.)

1. Heard Mohd. Asim Zulfiquar, learned counsel for the appellant and Sri R.K. Sharma, learned Advocate, holding brief of Sri Rajeev Ojha, learned counsel for the Insurance Company.

2. This appeal, at the behest of the claimant, challenges the judgment dated 19.4.2014 passed by Motor Accident Claims Tribunal/Additional District Judge, Court No.12, Allahabad (hereinafter referred to as 'Tribunal') in Motor Accident Claim Petition No.599 of 2011 awarding a sum of Rs.5,96,000/- with interest at the rate of 7% as compensation.

3. Brief facts of the present case are that on 5.2.2011 at about 7.15 am when Saiyyad Najmul Hasan along with his younger brother Saiyyad Sabeeh Hasan, riding on back seat of motor cycle bearing registration no. U.P. 70 AR 3603, was going to Mohanganj Gohari, driver of the bus bearing registration no. UP 70 AT 7188, which was on the way to Sevaith Railway Crossing from the side of Gohari, driving it rashly and negligently came on wrong side and sped away the bus dashing the motor cycle and running over Saiyyad Najmul Hasan and Saiyyad Sabeeh Hasan. In the accident, both sustained severe injuries as a result of which both passed away on the spot at the very moment. Claimants had filed claim petition claiming Rs. 71,07,000/- averring therein that deceased was 39 years and used to work in Kingdom of Saudi Arbia from which he used to earn Rs.25,000 per mensem.

4. Learned counsel for the appellant submitted that the deceased was about 39 years of the age at the time of accident and used to work in Kingdom of Saudi Arbia from where he used to earn Rs.25,000/- per mensem. It is further submitted that the amount granted under non-pecuniary damages are on the lower side and it should be as per the decision in National Insurance Company Limited Vs. Pranay Sethi and Others, 2017 0 Supreme (SC) 1050. Hence, the quantum of amount awarded requires to be enhanced.

5. Learned counsel for the respondent, has vehemently objected the contentions raised by the learned counsel for the appellants and has submitted that the compensation awarded by the Tribunal is just and proper and does not call for any enhancement.However it is submitted that the multiplier of 15 would be applicable in the facts of the present case as the deceased was about 39 years of age.

6. We have perused the record as also the supplementary affidavit filed by the appellant which throws light on the income of the deceased. It throws light on the fact that he has valid Viza. he was earning SR 2000 (Two thousand Saudi Riyal only). Salary certificate attached with the supplementary affidavit shows that he had worked there from 22.8.2009 to 26.12.2010. This was given by Hussain Bin Ali Establishment. It is further submitted that if this Court does not accept the income in Saudi Riyal, he was skilled labourer for which also the minimum wages in the year of accident would be Rs.3290+1708 which is minimum wages for a skilled labourer. The Insurance Company has also relied upon minimum wages in Uttar Pradesh w.e.f. April 1, 2011 to September 30, 2011. The Accident occurred on 5.2.2011. Even if we go by the certificate given by the authority concerned when the accident occurred, whether he was to go back to serve at Saudi or not is not made known. The certificate speaks his working only upto 26.12.2010 meaning thereby he might be on leave and would have to go back for he was already in jobe even during the earlier period as he had got visas earlier also.In that view of the matter, we go by the Judgment of the Apex Court in New India Assurance Company Ltd. Vs. Resha Devi and others, 2017 (2) AICC 1808.

7. On the basis of Judgment of Apex Court in Sarla Verma Vs. Delhi Transport Corporation, (2009) 6 SCC 121, we fix his income to be Rs.7,000/- per mensem. As he was aged about 39 years at the time of accident, 50% requires to be added under the head of future prospect. Multiplier of 15 has to be applied. Further 1/3rd amount is required to be deducted as he was survived by his widow and mother. As far as amount under non pecuniary damages are concerned, it should be Rs.70,000/- with 10% increase in every three years which we grant Rs.1,00,000/- lump sum. Hence, the total compensation payable to the appellants in view of the decision of the Apex Court in Pranay Sethi (Supra) is computed herein below:

i. Income Rs.7,000 p.m.

ii. Percentage towards future prospects : Rs.3,500/- iii. Total income : Rs.7,000/- +Rs.3,500/- = Rs.10,500/-

iv. Income after deduction of 1/3rd towards personal expenses : Rs.7,000/-

v. Annual income : Rs.7,000/- x 12 = Rs.84,000/-

vi. Multiplier applicable : 15

vii. Loss of dependency: Rs.84,000/- x 15 = Rs.12,60,000/-

viii. Amount under non pecuniary heads : Rs.1,00,000/-

ix. Total compensation : Rs.13,60,000/-

8. As far as issue of rate of interest is concerned, it should be 7.5% in view of the latest decision of the Apex Court in National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Mannat Johal and Others, 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.) wherein the Apex Court has held as under :

"13. The aforesaid features equally apply to the contentions urged on behalf of the claimants as regards the rate of interest. The Tribunal had awarded interest at the rate of 12% p.a. but the same had been too high a rate in comparison to what is ordinarily envisaged in these matters. The High Court, after making a substantial enhancement in the award amount, modified the interest component at a reasonable rate of 7.5% p.a. and we find no reason to allow the interest in this matter at any rate higher than that allowed by High Court."

9. On depositing the amount in the Registry of Tribunal, Registry is directed to first deduct the amount of deficit court fees, if any. Considering the ratio laid down by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of A.V. Padma V/s. Venugopal, Reported in 2012 (1) GLH (SC), 442, the order of investment is not passed because applicants /claimants are neither illiterate or rustic villagers.

10. In view of the ratio laid down by Hon'ble Gujarat High Court, in the case of Smt. Hansaguti P. Ladhani v/s The Oriental Insurance Company Ltd., reported in 2007(2) GLH 291, total amount of interest, accrued on the principal amount of compensation is to be apportioned on financial year to financial year basis and if the interest payable to claimant for any financial year exceeds Rs.50,000/-, insurance company/owner is/are entitled to deduct appropriate amount under the head of 'Tax Deducted at Source' as provided u/s 194A (3) (ix) of the Income Tax Act, 1961 and if the amount of interest does not exceeds Rs.50,000/- in any financial year, registry of this Tribunal is directed to allow the claimant to withdraw the amount without producing the certificate from the concerned Income- Tax Authority. The aforesaid view has been reiterated by this High Court in Review Application No.1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No.23 of 2001 (Smt. Sudesna and others Vs. Hari Singh and another) while disbursing the amount.

11. In view of the above, the appeal is partly allowed. Judgment and decree passed by the Tribunal shall stand modified to the aforesaid extent. The respondent-Insurance Company shall deposit the amount within a period of 12 weeks from today with interest at the rate of 7.5% from the date of filing of the claim petition till award and 6% thereafter till the amount is deposited. The amount already deposited be deducted from the amount to be deposited.

12. Fresh Award be drawn accordingly in the above petition by the tribunal as per the modification made herein. The Tribunals in the State shall follow the direction of this Court as herein aforementioned as far as disbursement is concerned, it should look into the condition of the litigant and the pendency of the matter and not blindly apply the judgment of A.V. Padma (supra). The same is to be applied looking to the facts of each case.

13. Record be sent back to Tribunal.

14. This Court is thankful to both the counsels to see that the matter is disposed of.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Dr. Kaushal Jayendra Thaker, J.
&
Hon'ble Dinesh Pathak, J.)

1. Heard Sri Mayank, learned counsel for the appellants, Sri Sushil Kumar Mehrotra, learned counsel for the respondent and perused the judgment and order impugned.

2. This appeal, at the behest of the claimants, challenges the judgment and award dated 22.4.2016 passed by Motor Accident Claims Tribunal/Additional District Judge,Court No.3, Mathura (hereinafter referred to as 'Tribunal') in M.A.C.No.567 of 2014 awarding a sum of Rs.23,51,000/- with interest at the rate of 7% as compensation.

3. The accident is not in dispute. The issue of negligence decided by the Tribunal is not in dispute. The respondent has not challenged the liability imposed on them. The only issue to be decided is, the quantum of compensation awarded.

4. It is submitted by learned counsel for the appellants that deceased was about 32 years at the time of the accident. Tribunal has wrongly assessed his income as Rs.16260/- by excluding the amount of HRA. It is submitted that in view of the Judgment of Apex Court in Vimal Kanwar and others Vs. Kishore Dan and others, 2013 (3) T.A.C. 6 (S.C.) 2013 (3) T.A.C. 6 (S.C.), the Tribunal could not have deducted HRA and thus, income of the deceased may be considered Rs.18159/-. Further it did not grant any amount under the head of future prospect, which should be granted in view of the decision in National Insurance Company Limited Vs. Pranay Sethi and Others, 2017 0 Supreme (SC) 1050. It is further submitted that the amounts granted under non-pecuniary damages are on the lower side and it should be as per the decision in Pranay Sethi (Supra). It is further submitted that the deduction towards personal expenses of the deceased should be 1/3rd. Hence, the award requires enhancement.

5. As against this, learned counsel for the Insurance Company has submitted that the award does not require any interference. The Tribunal has not committed any error in not granting the future loss of income.

6. We have considered the submissions and considered the factual data. The deceased was fourth class employee in National Federation of Cooperative Federation of Corporative Sugar Factory. We agree with the submission of the learned counsel for the appellants that HRA cannot be excluded while considering the income of the deceased in view of Judgment in Vimal Kanwar (supra). Thus, we consider income of the deceased to Rs.18159/-. Further as the deceased was below 40 years of age and a salaried person, 50% is to be added towards future loss of income. Main contention of Sri Mehrotra is that deduction of 1/4 is bad as father cannot be said to be dependent and deduction of personal expenses has to be always based on the number of dependents/legal representative of the deceased. We are convinced with the submission of Sri Mehrotra. Thus, deduction towards personal expenses would be 1/3rd and not 1/4th. The amount under the head of non-pecuniary head would be Rs.70,000/-+30,000 as this is appeal of the year 2016 and about four years have elapsed.

7. Hence, total compensation payable is recalculated and is computed herein below:

i. Income Rs.18,159/-

ii. Percentage towards future prospects : 50% namely Rs.9079/- (rounded up)

iii. Total income : Rs.18,159 +9,079 = Rs.27,238/-

iv. Income after deduction of 1/3rd : Rs.18,159/-

v. Annual income : Rs.18159 x 12 = Rs.2,17,908/-

vi. Multiplier applicable : 16

vii. Loss of dependency: Rs.2,17,908 x 16 = Rs.34,86,528/-

viii. Amount under non-pecuniary head : Rs.1,00,000/-

ix. Total compensation : Rs.35,86,528/-

9. As far as issue of rate of interest is concerned, it should be 7.5% in view of the latest decision of the Apex Court in National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Mannat Johal and Others, 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.) wherein the Apex Court has held as under :-

"13. The aforesaid features equally apply to the contentions urged on behalf of the claimants as regards the rate of interest. The Tribunal had awarded interest at the rate of 12% p.a. but the same had been too high a rate in comparison to what is ordinarily envisaged in these matters. The High Court, after making a substantial enhancement in the award amount, modified the interest component at a reasonable rate of 7.5% p.a. and we find no reason to allow the interest in this matter at any rate higher than that allowed by High Court."

9. No other grounds are urged orally when the matter was heard.

10. On depositing the amount in the Registry of Tribunal, Registry is directed to first deduct the amount of deficit court fees, if any. Considering the ratio laid down by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of A.V. Padma V/s. Venugopal, Reported in 2012 (1) GLH (SC), 442, the order of investment is not passed because applicants /claimants are neither illiterate or rustic villagers.

11. In view of the ratio laid down by Hon'ble Gujarat High Court, in the case of Smt. Hansaguti P. Ladhani v/s The Oriental Insurance Company Ltd., reported in 2007(2) GLH 291, total amount of interest, accrued on the principal amount of compensation is to be apportioned on financial year to financial year basis and if the interest payable to claimant for any financial year exceeds

Rs.50,000/-, insurance company/owner is/are entitled to deduct appropriate amount under the head of 'Tax Deducted at Source' as provided u/s 194A (3) (ix) of the Income Tax Act, 1961 and if the amount of interest does not exceeds Rs.50,000/- in any financial year, registry of this Tribunal is directed to allow the claimant to withdraw the amount without producing the certificate from the concerned Income- Tax Authority. The aforesaid view has been reiterated by this High Court in Review Application No.1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No.23 of 2001 (Smt. Sudesna and others Vs. Hari Singh and another) while disbursing the amount.

12. In view of the above, the appeal is partly allowed. Judgment and decree passed by the Tribunal shall stand modified to the aforesaid extent. 13. Fresh Award be drawn accordingly in the above petition by the tribunal as per the modification made herein. The Tribunals in the State shall follow the direction of this Court as herein aforementioned as far as disbursement is concerned, it should look into the condition of the litigant and the pendency of the matter and not blindly apply the judgment of A.V. The issues to be decided are the quantum of compensation awarded and whether deceased was also negligent in causing the accident.

4. The claimants are the legal heirs of the deceased who died in the fateful vehicular accident which occurred on 15.7.2013 when the deceased Ajab Sigh at about 9.30 in the night was going on Motorcycle No. HR 29 Q 2011 and was returning to home (Faridabad), and when he reached near Galgotiya University, a Maruti Alto No. HR 51 AS 6256 being driven rashly and negligently came and dashed with his scooter whereby he suffered injuries and when he was moved to the Hospital, he succumbed to injuries. One Harinder Singh tried to stop the Maruti Caar but the driver fled away. Claimant No.4, Jaipal Singh lodged the complaint. The deceased was a Teacher in Education Department of Haryana and his basic salary was Rs.51,860/- p.m. The respondent Nos. 1 and 2 filed their replies and contended that their vehicle was not involved in the said incident. The vehicle was insured with it is accepted by respond no.3, insurance company but they pleaded that the vehicle with plied in contravention of policy condition. The tribunal framed about 9 issues. We are mainly concerned with the issue of negligence and dependency/compensation.

5. It is submitted by learned counsel for the appellants that the Tribunal has not granted any amount towards future loss of income which is required to be granted in view of the decision titled National Insurance Company Limited Vs. Pranay Sethi and Others, 2017 0 Supreme (SC) 1050. It is further submitted that amount under non-pecuniary heads which is granted and the interest awarded by the Tribunal are on the lower side and requires enhancement. It is further submitted that as the deceased was survived by his mother, wife, one daughter and two sons, the deduction towards personal expenses of the deceased should be 1/4th and not 1/3rd as deducted by the tribunal. In support of this submission, learned counsel for the appellants cited the judgment of the Supreme Court in National Innsurance Company Limited v. Birender and others, Civil Appeal Nos. 242-243 of 2020 decided on 13.1.2020.

6. Learned counsel for the respondents has vehemently objected to the submissions of the learned counsel for the appellants and has submitted that the compensation awarded by the Tribunal is just and proper and does not call for any enhancement. The learned counsel for the respondents has further submitted that in light of the evidence adduced and it is contended that the tribunal has not committed any error as Compassionate Assistance of full pay is given by the Government to the heirs at least for 12 years. It is further submitted that wife would be getting full pension, entire amount which deceased was getting, till the date of retirement and therefore also requires to be deducted.

7. It is submitted by counsel for claimants that the Supreme Court's decision was cited before the tribunal but tribunal has deducted bonus, maintenance allowance, PF and gratuity from commuptable income holding that they are not part of the salary and, therefore, the tribunal held that the same cannot be considered to be part of the income. The tribunal added 40% as future loss of income, which should be 50%. Most unfortunately, the tribunal has considered the judgment of Sandeep Khanduja v. Atul Dande and Ors., (2017) 3 SCC (Crl) 178 and held that claimants can't be awarded compensation except non pecuniary damages. The claim petition was not moved under Section 163-A of the Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 (Act) but was moved under Section 166 of Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 and hence, it appears that the learned tribunal has granted multiplier of 18, but held that as the widow would be getting compensation till 2025 no compensation is payable and granted Rs.1,25,000/- and deducted 25% of the amount holding the deceased to be also negligent.

8. It is submitted by learned counsel for claimants that the learned Tribunal should have gone by the judgment in National Insurance Company Limited Vs. Pranay Sethi and Others, 2017 0 Supreme (SC) 1050 and not by the rules the tribunal ought to have been considered the decision of this Court in FAFO No.199 of 2017, National Insurance Company Limited v. Luv Kush and another where in it is held that rules are not to be over strictly followed. It is submitted that compensation has to be as per the judgment of Pranay Sethi's case, appellants are entitled to filial consortium, funeral charges, compensation for love and affection. The judgment in Pranay Sethi (Supra) though has been considered by the learned tribunal, he has misguided himself by relying on Rule 4 of the U.P. State Motor Vehicle Rules, 2011 which could not be done.

9. Heard the learned counsels for the parties. The issue of negligence has to be decided from the perspective of the law laid down.

10. The term negligence means failure to exercise care towards others which a reasonable and prudent person would in a circumstance. Negligence can be both intentional or accidental which can also be accidental. More particularly, term negligence connotes reckless driving and the injured of claimants must always prove that the either side is negligent. If the injury rather death is caused by something owned or controlled by the negligent party then he is directly liable otherwise the principle of "res ipsa loquitur" meaning thereby "the things speak for itself" would apply.

11. The principle of contributory negligence has been discussed time and again. A person who either contributes or is author of the accident would be liable for his contribution to the accident having taken place.

12. The Division Bench of this Court in First Appeal From Order No. 1818 of 2012 (Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co.Ltd. Vs. Smt. Renu Singh And Others) decided on 19.7.2016 has held as under :

"16. Negligence means failure to exercise required degree of care and caution expected of a prudent driver. Negligence is the omission to do something which a reasonable man, guided upon the considerations, which ordinarily regulate conduct of human affairs, would do, or doing something which a prudent and reasonable man would not do. Negligence is not always a question of direct evidence. It is an inference to be drawn from proved facts. Negligence is not an absolute term, but is a relative one. It is rather a comparative term. What may be negligence in one case may not be so in another. Where there is no duty to exercise care, negligence in the popular sense has no legal consequence. Where there is a duty to exercise care, reasonable care must be taken to avoid acts or omissions which would be reasonably foreseen likely to caused physical injury to person. The degree of care required, of course, depends upon facts in each case. On these broad principles, the negligence of drivers is required to be assessed.

17. It would be seen that burden of proof for contributory negligence on the part of deceased has to be discharged by the opponents. It is the duty of driver of the offending vehicle to explain the accident. It is well settled law that at intersection where two roads cross each other, it is the duty of a fast moving vehicle to slow down and if driver did not slow down at intersection, but continued to proceed at a high speed without caring to notice that another vehicle was crossing, then the conduct of driver necessarily leads to conclusion that vehicle was being driven by him rashly as well as negligently.

18. 10th Schedule appended to Motor Vehicle Act contain statutory regulations for driving of motor vehicles which also form part of every Driving License. Clause-6 of such Regulation clearly directs that the driver of every motor vehicle to slow down vehicle at every intersection or junction of roads or at a turning of the road. It is also provided that driver of the vehicle should not enter intersection or junction of roads unless he makes sure that he would not thereby endanger any other person. Merely, because driver of the Truck was driving vehicle on the left side of road would not absolve him from his responsibility to slow down vehicle as he approaches intersection of roads, particularly when he could have easily seen, that the car over which deceased was riding, was approaching intersection.

19. In view of the fast and constantly increasing volume of traffic, motor vehicles upon roads may be regarded to some extent as coming within the principle of liability defined in Rylands V/s. Fletcher, (1868) 3 HL (LR) 330*. From the point of view of pedestrian, the roads of this country have been rendered by the use of motor vehicles, highly dangerous. 'Hit and run' cases where drivers of motor vehicles who have caused accidents, are unknown. In fact such cases are increasing in number. Where a pedestrian without negligence on his part is injured or killed by a motorist, whether negligently or not, he or his legal representatives, as the case may be, should be entitled to recover damages if principle of social justice should have any meaning at all.*

20. These provisions (sec.110A and sec.110B of Motor Act, 1988) are not merely procedural provisions. They substantively affect the rights of the parties. The right of action created by Fatal Accidents Act, 1855 was 'new in its species, new in its quality, new in its principles. In every way it was new. The right given to legal representatives under Act, 1988 to file an application for compensation for death due to a motor vehicle accident is an enlarged one. This right cannot be hedged in by limitations of an action under Fatal Accidents Act, 1855. New situations and new dangers require new strategies and new remedies.

21. In the light of the above discussion, we are of the view that even if courts may not by interpretation displace the principles of law which are considered to be well settled and, therefore, court cannot dispense with proof of negligence altogether in all cases of motor vehicle accidents, it is possible to develop the law further on the following lines; when a motor vehicle is being driven with reasonable care, it would ordinarily not meet with an accident and, therefore, rule of res-ipsa loquitor as a rule of evidence may be invoked in motor accident cases with greater frequency than in ordinary civil suits (per three-Judge Bench in Jacob Mathew V/s. State of Punjab, 2005 0 ACJ(SC) 1840).

22. By the above process, the burden of proof may ordinarily be cast on the defendants in a motor accident claim petition to prove that motor vehicle was being driven with reasonable care or that there is equal negligence on the part the other side."

13. The Apex Court in Khenyei Vs. New India Assurance Company Limited & Others, 2015 LawSuit (SC) 469 has held as under:

"4. It is a case of composite negligence where injuries have been caused to the claimants by combined wrongful act of joint tort feasors. In a case of accident caused by negligence of joint tort feasors, all the persons who aid or counsel or direct or join in committal of a wrongful act, are liable. In such case, the liability is always joint and several. The extent of negligence of joint tort feasors in such a case is immaterial for satisfaction of the claim of the plaintiff/claimant and need not be determined by the by the court. However, in case all the joint tort feasors are before the court, it may determine the extent of their liability for the purpose of adjusting inter-se equities between them at appropriate stage. The liability of each and every joint tort feasor vis a vis to plaintiff/claimant cannot be bifurcated as it is joint and several liability. In the case of composite negligence, apportionment of compensation between tort feasors for making payment to the plaintiff is not permissible as the plaintiff/claimant has the right to recover the entire amount from the easiest targets/solvent defendant.

14. There is a difference between contributory and composite negligence. In the case of contributory negligence, a person who has himself contributed to the extent cannot claim compensation for the injuries sustained by him in the accident to the extent of his own negligence;whereas in the case of composite negligence, a person who has suffered has not contributed to the accident but the outcome of combination of negligence of two or more other persons. This Court in T.O. Anthony v. Karvarnan & Ors. [2008 (3) SCC 748] has held that in case of contributory negligence, injured need not establish the extent of responsibility of each wrong doer separately, nor is it necessary for the court to determine the extent of liability of each wrong doer separately. It is only in the case of contributory negligence that the injured himself has contributed by his negligence in the accident. Extent of his negligence is required to be determined as damages recoverable by him in respect of the injuries have to be reduced in proportion to his contributory negligence. The relevant portion is extracted hereunder :

"6. 'Composite negligence' refers to the negligence on the part of two or more persons. Where a person is injured as a result of negligence on the part of two or more wrong doers, it is said that the person was injured on account of the composite negligence of those wrong-doers. In such a case, each wrong doer, is jointly and severally liable to the injured for payment of the entire damages and the injured person has the choice of proceeding against all or any of them. In such a case, the injured need not establish the extent of responsibility of each wrong-doer separately, nor is it necessary for the court to determine the extent of liability of each wrong-doer separately. On the other hand where a person suffers injury, partly due to the negligence on the part of another person or persons, and partly as a result of his own negligence, then the negligence of the part of the injured which contributed to the accident is referred to as his contributory negligence. Where the injured is guilty of some negligence, his claim for damages is not defeated merely by reason of the negligence on his part but the damages recoverable by him in respect of the injuries stands reduced in proportion to his contributory negligence.

7. Therefore, when two vehicles are involved in an accident, and one of the drivers claims compensation from the other driver alleging negligence, and the other driver denies negligence or claims that the injured claimant himself was negligent, then it becomes necessary to consider whether the injured claimant was negligent and if so, whether he was solely or partly responsible for the accident and the extent of his responsibility, that is his contributory negligence. Therefore where the injured is himself partly liable, the principle of 'composite negligence' will not apply nor can there be an automatic inference that the negligence was 50:50 as has been assumed in this case. The Tribunal ought to have examined the extent of contributory negligence of the appellant and thereby avoided confusion between composite negligence and contributory negligence. The High Court has failed to correct the said error."emphasis added

14. The latest decision of the Apex Court in Khenyei (Supra) has laid down one further aspect about considering the negligence more particularly composite/contributory negligence. The deceased or the person concerned should be shown to have contributed either to the accident and the impact of accident upon the victim could have been minimised if he had taken care.

15. The findings of fact that the accident occurred due to contribution of both drivers is to be evaluated on aforesaid principles. The tribunal comes to the conclusion that from the evidence educed, it can't be presumed or held that the motorcyclist was on wrong-side. The learned tribunal has come to the conclusion that as it was a head on conclusion and so both the drivers would have contributed in the accident taking place for which the tribunal relied on the decisions titled Bijoy Kumar Dugar vs. Bidhyadhar Dutta and others, TAC 2006 (1) 969 and Rajesh Ji Verma v. Abhineet Kesharwani, 2008 (2) TAC 40. The said judgements would not apply as two vehicles of unequal magnitude were involved in the accident in the case on hand. The motorcyclist was on the correct-side just because the road was broad enough, it cannot be said that he did not take any care or caution to avert the accident from taking place. Nothing is brought on record that the driver of the Maruti Caar had taken all kinds of caution. It is proved that the driver of the motorcycle cannot be said to have contributed in accident having taken place. The judgment of Supreme Court in the decision of Archit Saini v. Oriental Insurance Company Ltd., (2018) 3 SCC 365, which has considered the principles of negligence will also come to the aid of the appellants herein. The reason being the detail analyses of facts would go to show that the driver of Maruti Car was at fault. The sight plan filed along with the charge sheet will not support the finding recorded by the Tribunal. It is not in dispute that the owner or driver of the vehicle namely Maruti Caar did not appear before the tribunal. The Negligence of deceased is quantified at 10% and not 25%.

Compensation

16. Having heard the counsels for the parties and considered the factual data, the accident occurred on 15.7.2013 causing death of Ajab Singh who was 41 years of age and left behind him, wife, one daughter, two young sons and mother. The Tribunal has assessed the income of the deceased to be Rs.50,360- per month. The deceased was a government employee. The income according to counsel for appellants has not been properly calculated. It is submitted that the deceased was Government employee even if we consider the income of the deceased in the year 2013 and even if we go by the judgments of the Apex Court wherein it has been held that income as on date of accident would be applicable. It is submitted that income has to be considered to be Rs.51,860/- per month, which we feel is just and proper. To which as the deceased was in the age bracket of 41-45 years, 30% of the income will have to be added as future loss of prospects in view of the decision of the Apex Court in National Insurance Company Limited Vs. Pranay Sethi and Others, 2017 0 Supreme (SC) 1050. As far as deduction towards personal expenses of the deceased is concerned, it should be 1/4th as the deceased was a married. The Tribunal considered the multiplier of 14 which is maintained as per the decision in Sarla Verma Vs. Delhi Transport Corporation, (2009) 6 SCC 121 will have to be followed.

17. Tribunal has considered the judgment of Supreme Court in Reliance General Insurance Co. Ltd. V. Shashi Sharma and others, 2016 (4) TAC 149 and held that the family mainly the widow would as per the rules will receive a sum, which will aggregate to upto 2025 Rs. 67,28,256/- for a period of 12 years which will not permit us to disturb the findings as far non entitlement of amount for twelve years. The deceased was in the age group of 41-45 years and hence an additional multiplier of 14. Hence we would grant a multiplier of 2 which is not granted by the tribunal. Income of the deceased was Rs.51,860/- p.m. to which multiplied by 12 and 1/4 would have to be deducted for personal expenses of deceased. The legal representative mainly the wife receiving a sum of Rs.67,28,256/- upto 2025. We grant multiplier of 2 as is rightly pointed out by Shri P. K. Sinha, learned counsel for insurance company that under the compensatory jurisdiction, it cannot be windfall but must be commensurate with the amount which a family has to receive. The tribunal had already granted Rs.1,00,000/- for non pecuniary damages and Rs.25,000/- for funeral charges which also is not disturbed. The tribunal has not taken into consideration the judgment of Vimal Kanwar & Ors. Vs. Kishore Dan & Ors. 2013 (2) RCR(Civil) 945 and Syed Basheer Ahmed v. Mohammed Jameel, 2009 ACJ 690.

18. The total compensation payable to the appellants in view of the decision of the Apex Court in Pranay Sethi (Supra) is computed herein below:

i. Income Rs.51,860 /- p.m.

ii. Percentage towards future prospects : 30% namely Rs.15,558/-

iii. Total income : Rs. 51,860 + Rs.15,558 = Rs.67,418/-

iv. Income after deduction of 1/4 : Rs.50564/-

v. Annual income : Rs.50,564 x 2x12 = Rs.12,13,536/-

vi. Multiplier applicable : 14 (as the deceased was in the age bracket of 41-45 years), but as the family is to get compensated for 12 years (only 2 years loss is granted).

vii. Amount under non pecuniary heads : Rs.1,25,000/-

viii. Total compensation : Rs.13,38,536/-

19. As far as issue of rate of interest is concerned, it should be 7.5% in view of the latest decision of the Apex Court in National Insurance Co. Ltd. Vs. Mannat Johal and Others, 2019 (2) T.A.C. 705 (S.C.) wherein the Apex Court has held as under :

"13. The aforesaid features equally apply to the contentions urged on behalf of the claimants as regards the rate of interest. The Tribunal had awarded interest at the rate of 12% p.a. but the same had been too high a rate in comparison to what is ordinarily envisaged in these matters. The High Court, after making a substantial enhancement in the award amount, modified the interest component at a reasonable rate of 7.5% p.a. and we find no reason to allow the interest in this matter at any rate higher than that allowed by High Court."

20. In view of the above, the appeal is partly allowed. Judgment and decree passed by the Tribunal shall stand modified to the aforesaid extent. The respondent-Insurance Company shall deposit the amount along with additional amount within a period of 12 weeks from today with interest at the rate of 7.5% from the date of filing of the claim petition till the amount is deposited. The amount already deposited be deducted from the amount to be deposited.

21. On depositing the amount in the Registry of Tribunal, Registry is directed to first deduct the amount of deficit court fees, if any. Considering the ratio laid down by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of A.V. Padma V/s. Venugopal, Reported in 2012 (1) GLH (SC), 442, the order of investment may be.

22. In view of the ratio laid down by Hon'ble Gujarat High Court, in the case of Smt. Hansaguti P. Ladhani v/s The Oriental Insurance Company Ltd., reported in 2007(2) GLH 291, total amount of interest, accrued on the principal amount of compensation is to be apportioned on financial year to financial year basis and if the interest payable to claimant for any financial year exceeds Rs.50,000/-, insurance company/owner is/are entitled to deduct appropriate amount under the head of 'Tax Deducted at Source' as provided u/s 194A (3) (ix) of the Income Tax Act, 1961 and if the amount of interest does not exceeds Rs.50,000/- in any financial year, the TDS can't be deducted on amount of compensation. Registry of the Tribunal is directed to allow the claimants to withdraw the amount without producing the certificate from the concerned Income-Tax Authority. The aforesaid view has been reiterated by this High Court in Review Application No.1 of 2020 in First Appeal From Order No.23 of 2001 (Smt. Sudesna and others Vs. Hari Singh and another) while disbursing the amount.

23. Fresh Award be drawn accordingly in the above petition by the tribunal as per the modification made herein. The Tribunals in the State shall follow the direction of this Court as herein aforementioned as far as disbursement is concerned, it should look into the condition of the litigant and the pendency of the matter and not blindly direct investment of amount. The same is to be applied looking to the facts of each case.

24. The amount shall be disbursed in equal proposition but amount of minor children if any now be kept in Fixed Deposit upto 2025 and then be released.

25. This Court is thankful to both the counsels to see that the matter is disposed of.

26. The record be sent back to the Tribunal.

2. FAFO No. 3061 of 2007, Smt. Poonam Vs Amit Kumar & anr.

(Delivered by Hon'ble J.J. Munir, J.)

1. Childhood is a phase of life that everyone passes through. The greatest of men, lawyers, judges, jurists, scientists, inventors, men of medicine, to name the important few, amongst others, who not only have made changes to the world, but often changed the world itself, for the betterment of humanity, have, at some point of time, been infants, toddlers and children. If men of eminence, who did so much for the humanity in the productive years of their life, had died as children, would it be no loss to the dependents?; or still more, to the humanity? To the dependents, in many a case, it would be irremediable loss, and likewise, to the humanity. In the event an adult were to die in an accident during the productive years of his life, there are standards to assess the loss of dependency. It includes the loss flowing from future prospects. If a child dies, not just the dependents, but the entire humanity does not know what treasure might have been forsaken forever in his/her untimely exit from the world. To think, therefore, that a child's life, snuffed out in a motor accident, has to compensated by the award of a token for the damages or the loss to the child's dependents, is the product of a very pedantic and mediocre understanding. This appeal under Section 173 of the Motor Vehicles Act, 19881 is about the quantum of compensation that a mother and father of a twelve year old boy, the victim of a motor accident would be entitled to.

2. The facts giving rise to this appeal are these :

In the afternoon of December the 30th, 2009 at 2 O' Clock, Aditya, the young son of the two appellants, Bheeshm Singh and his wife Smt. Kavita, was cycling on the Mavana- Falawada Road. A vehicle proceeding on the road from the direction of Falawada was being driven negligently and at a high speed. It bore Registration No. U.P. 15 B 8625. The rash and negligently driven vehicle hit Aditya. He suffered severe injuries in the accident and died on way to the hospital. Aditya was a few months shy of his 12th birthday. He was a student of Class VII and was reading at the Navjeewan Kishan Shikha Kendra. He would help his parents with the family's farming, dairy management and house-hold chores. It is said that he would earn a sum of Rs. 3000/- per month.

3. The appellants instituted a petition before the learned District Judge, Meerut (sitting as the Motor Accident Claims Tribunal) under Section 163-A of the Act of 1988. The petition was registered as M.A.C. No. 119 of 2010 on 02.02.2010. Summonses were issued to the respondents, returnable on 06.03.2010, fixing 17.03.2010 being the scheduled date for the framing of issues. The appellants claimed a total sum of Rs. 10,01,000/- in compensation under the following heads :

1. Compensation for pecuniary loss Rs. 5,76,000/-
2. Compensation for mental pain and agony Rs. 1,00,000/-
3. Compensation for loss of future prospects Rs. 3,00,000/-
4. Compensation incurred toward performing the deceased's last right Rs. 20,000/-

4. On the total sum of money claimed, interest @ 18% per annum, from the date of institution of claim petition, was demanded.

5. A written statement was put in on behalf of the first respondent-opposite party, Mangal Singh, before the Tribunal, who is the owner of the offending vehicle. He did not dispute the fact that he is the owner, but denied his vehicle's involvement. Not much is to be commented about the owner's defence, as the issue here arises between the appellants, who are the claimants and the Insurer, who have been ordered to pay the compensation awarded by the Tribunal. The second respondent, that is to say, the Insurance Company, also put in a written statement and took a wholesome defence, denying the appellants' entitlement to receive any compensation, and in any case, their liability to indemnify the claimaints. The petition came on for determination before the learned Additional District Judge, Court No. 12, Meerut (sitting as the Tribunal) on 20.03.2012. The petition was allowed in part and the Insurance Company, respondent no. 2 were ordered to pay in compensation to the claimant-appellants a sum of Rs. 77,000/- within four weeks of the date of the award. No interest for the period past and pendente lite was awarded by the Tribunal, for it was held that the claimant-appellants were guilty of delay in commencing action. It was nevertheless ordered that in the event the sum of compensation awarded remaining unpaid by the second respondent-Insurance Company within the time specified in the award, the Insurance Company would liable to pay interest @ 12% from the date of default till realization.

6. Dissatisfied with the impugned judgment and award passed by the Tribunal, the claimants have brought the present appeal seeking enhancement of the compensation awarded.

7. Heard Mr. Anurag Sharma, learned Counsel for the claimant-appellants and Mr. Pawan Kumar Singh, learned Counsel appearing on behalf of the respondent-Insurance Company.

8. The only issue that has been suited in this appeal between the claimant-appellants and the Insurance Company is about the quantum of compensation payable, besides the date with effect from which the claimant-appellants would be entitled to interest. Mr. Sharma appearing for the claimant-appellants submits that the fact that the victim was a child, who had no income in presenti, does not mean that his otherwise priceless life, is just worth the miserably low compensation that the Tribunal have awarded. He has drawn the Court's attention to the findings of the Tribunal, where there are remarks about the not very bright future prospects about Aditya, given his family background. These have been castigated by the learned Counsel as an insensitive approach by the Tribunal. He submits that Aditya could have blossomed into a young man with a highly productive life that would have been of immense support, assistance and satisfaction to his parents, the claimant-appellants.

9. On the other hand, Mr. Pawan Kumar Singh, learned Counsel appearing for the Insurance company, has supported the impugned award as one that orders a lawful, just and fair compensation to the claimant-appellants, for the loss of life of a child of the age that Aditya was. Learned Counsel particularly emphasizes that there is no proof to show that Aditya was, in fact, earning a sum of Rs. 3000/- per month. He also urges that from the gross uncertainties of what the future held for Aditya, in terms of his productivity, a quantification of the compensation cannot be built on the edifice of a mere fantasy or conjuncture about the victim's imagined productive future. He submits that there is no index objectively to determine how productive the boy, who was just about 12 years old or for the most, 14, would have been. In short, Mr. Pawan Kumar Singh says that this Court should refrain from enhancing the compensation on the basis of a mere optimistic guess work about Aditya's bright productive future, later in life.

10. This Court has keenly considered the submissions advanced and perused the impugned judgment and record. It is true that Aditya was a boy, who, by his school records, was still a few months away from the age of 12 years; going by his parents' assertions, he was 14 years old. In either case, Aditya was not yet in the age group, where an individual generally starts contributing to the nation's economy, exceptions apart. But, it does not mean that the victim of an accident, who is a child not yet in his productive years, is to be written off on account of the vagaries of an uncertain future and career prospects, as a life lost for which no compensation is payable to his heirs and survivors. There is little doubt that every human life is valuable and if the quantum of a child's productive contribution, later in life, lies in the womb of the future, is it good reason to think or presume about it pessimistically?; or, is it a valid objective assessment of the future prospects about a child, to go by the station of his parents in life or their socio-economic background? This Court says so because in our opinion, the Tribunal has precisely done that. This Court is constrained to say that on the quantification of the compensation payable, based on Aditya's expected future, there are some pessimistic, and, rather, as Mr. Sharma says, very insensitive remarks by the Tribunal.

11. The Tribunal has observed that appellant no. 1, Aditya's father, who has testified as PW-1, has acknowledged in his cross-examination that he is a home guard. He has three children, of whom, two survive. There is then almost an abominable remark by the Tribunal, where it said that there is no evidence to show that there was any possibility for Aditya to become an officer. This remark by the Tribunal is absolutely unpalatable. Should it be inferred from this remark that only an officer's son can become an officer; not a home guard's son, or a person placed still lower in the economic strata? This remark is repugnant to the constitutional creed of equality of opportunity to all citizens of the country. Also, the remark is unacceptable because it suggests that it is only officers who are well-off in life, and not others. A person may do well in any walk of life and contribute immensely in the country's economy. To say the least, the remarks of the Tribunal above referred are entirely misplaced and unsupportable by sound legal reasonsing.

12. At the same time, it has to be acknowledged that the future prospects of a child can lie anywhere in the broad spectrum, from utter failure to abounding success. While everyone envisions a good future for his child, there is no measurable scale by which the future prospects of a child may be judged and on that basis, compensation determined, by a workable and tangible formula. The Court, therefore, has to determine it by sheer estimation under the head of non-pecuniary damages. The compensation, nevertheless, ought to be a figure that is palliative of some kind to the parents and the survivors; and, not just an eyewash.

13. This Court is of opinion that what would be a just, fair and respectable compensation, to be granted under the head of non-pecuniary damages, requires some further consideration in an appropriate case. However, it is not that the issue is one about which there is no guidance. In Rajendra Singh & Others v. National Insurance Company Limited & Others2 , their Lordships of the Supreme Court were concerned about the quantification of compensation payable to the father of a school-going daughter, aged about 12 years. In the context of compensation determinable for the untimely loss of a child of that age, it was held in Rajendra Singh (supra):

12.The second deceased was a school-going child aged about 12 years. She had a whole future to look forward in life with all normal human aspirations. She died prematurely due to the accident at a very tender age for no fault of hers even before she could start to understand the beauty and joys of life with all its ups and downs. The loss of a human life untimely at childhood can never be measured in terms of loss of earning or monetary loss alone. The emotional attachments involved to the loss of the child can have a devastating effect on the family which needs to be visualised and understood. Grant of non-pecuniary damages for the wrong done by awarding compensation for loss of expectation in life is therefore called for.

13. Undoubtedly the injury inflicted by deprivation of the life of the child is very difficult to quantify. The future also abounds with uncertainties. Therefore, the courts have used the expression "just compensation" to get over the difficulties in quantifying the figure to ensure consistency and uniformity in awarding compensation. This determination shall not depend upon financial position of the victim or the claimant but rather on the capacity and ability of the deceased to provide happiness in life to the claimants had she remained alive. The compensation is for loss of prospective happiness which the claimant would have enjoyed had the child not died at the tender age. Since the child was studying in a school and opportunities in life would undoubtedly abound for her as the years would have rolled by, compensation must also be granted with regard to future prospects. It can safely be presumed that education would have only led to her better growth and maturity with better prospects and a bright future for which compensation needs to be granted under non-pecuniary damages.

14. The income of the minor girl child is incapable of precise fixation. We find no reason to interfere with the assessed notional income of the second deceased. In R.K. Malik v. Kiran Pal [R.K. Malik v.

Kiran Pal, (2009) 14 SCC 1 : (2009) 5 SCC (Civ) 265 : (2010) 1 SCC (Cri) 1265] , considering grant of future prospects for the deceased child aged about 10 years it was observed as follows : (SCC p. 14, paras 32-33)

"32. A forceful submission has been made by the learned counsel appearing for the appellant claimants that both the Tribunal as well as the High Court [R.K. Malik v. Kiran Pal, 2006 SCC OnLine Del 611 : ILR (2006) 1 Del 866] failed to consider the claims of the appellants with regard to the future prospects of the children. It has been submitted that the evidence with regard to the same has been ignored by the courts below.

33. On perusal of the evidence on record, we find merit in such submission that the courts below have overlooked that aspect of the matter while granting compensation. It is well-settled legal principle that in addition to awarding compensation for pecuniary losses, compensation must also be granted with regard to the future prospects of the children. It is incumbent upon the courts to consider the said aspect while awarding compensation."

15. In New India Assurance Co. Ltd. v. Satender [New India Assurance Co. Ltd. v. Satender, (2006) 13 SCC 60 : (2008) 1 SCC (Cri) 96] , the deceased victim of the accident was a nine year old school-going child. Considering the claim for loss of future prospects in absence of a regular income, it was observed that the compensation so determined had to be just and proper by a judicious approach and not fixed arbitrarily or whimsically. The uncertainties of a young life were noticed in the following terms : (SCC p. 64, para 12)

"12. In cases of young children of tender age, in view of uncertainties abound, neither their income at the time of death nor the prospects of the future increase in their income nor chances of advancement of their career are capable of proper determination on estimated basis. The reason is that at such an early age, the uncertainties in regard to their academic pursuits, achievements in career and thereafter advancement in life are so many that nothing can be assumed with reasonable certainty. Therefore, neither the income of the deceased child is capable of assessment on estimated basis nor the financial loss suffered by the parents is capable of mathematical computation."

16. The deduction on account of contributory negligence has already been held by us to be unsustainable. The determination of a just and proper compensation to the appellants with regard to the deceased child, in the entirety of the facts and circumstances of the case does not persuade us to enhance the same any further from Rs 2,95,000 by granting any further compensation under the separate head of "future prospects".

14. During hearing of this appeal, the decision in Rajendra Singh was relied upon by Mr. Anurag Sharma, and though as a principle the figure of Rs. 2,95,000/- in that case does not appear to be approved by their Lordships as a universal figure for a just compensation to be granted under the head of "non-pecuniary damages" in event of the unfortunate loss of a child, it was refused to be interfered with by assessing further compensation under a separate head of "future prospects".

15. My attention has been drawn to a recent decision by my esteemed brother Hon'ble Vivek Agarwal, J. in FAFO No. 3061 of 2007, Smt. Poonam v. Amit Kumar & Another, decided on January the 21st, 2021, where ,in, the claim that arose out of a motor accident, the deceased was a ten-years old boy and a student of Class V. Compensation in that case was enhanced from Rs. 39,500/- to Rs. 2,95,000/- following the decision of the Supreme Court in Rajendra Singh. The facts in Rajendra Singh, going by the age of the victim of the accident, are close to the facts here, but it must be said that these are decisions on facts, which do not lay down the law. Nevertheless, the principle in Rajendra Singh is clear that damages have be to be awarded in the case of death of a child under the non-pecuniary head.

16. In the totality of the circumstances, this Court is of opinion that ends of justice would be met by modifying the impugned award passed by the Tribunal to the extent that instead of the compensation of Rs. 77,000/- awarded to the claimant-appellants, the same shall stand enhanced to Rs. 2,95,000/-. The compensation payable shall carry Simple Interest @ 7% per annum from the date of institution of the claim petition, until realization.

17. This appeal succeeds and stands allowed in part, and, there shall be an order modifying the impugned award in the terms indicated hereinabove.

18. Costs easy.

A. Criminal Law - U.P. Gangster Act, 1986 - Sections 16, 17& 18 - The Court rejected the bail application on the ground that the Special Judge (Gangster Act) has not arrived at any final conclusion regarding the release of his attached vehicle under Section 17 of the Gangster Act. (para 13)

Writ Petition Disposed of. (E-10)

List of Cases cited:

1. Rajbir Singh Tyagi Vs St of U.P. & ors. Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No. 17245 of 2009 (distinguished)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Suresh Kumar Gupta, J.)

1. Heard learned counsel for the petitioner, learned A.G.A for the State and perused the material available on record.

2. By means of this petition under Article 226 of the Constitution of India, the petitioner has prayed following reliefs:-

"(i) Issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of certiorari to quash the impugned order dated 31.-07.2019 which is passed in Gangster Criminal Misc. Case No. 08/2018 bearing name Hakimuddin Vs. State of U.P. under Section 14 (1) U.P. Gangster Act by Additional District Judge, Court No. 10/Special Judge Gangster Act, District Sultanpur as well as order dated 25.07.2018 which is passed by District Magistrate District Amethi in Case No.00590/2018, under Section 14 (1) U.P. Gangster Act as contained in Annexure No. 1 and 2 to this writ petition.

(ii) Issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of mandamus commanding the opposite party no. 2 to 4 to release the seized vehicle No. U.P. 44 AA/7287 forthwith in favour of the petitioner."

3. Brief facts of the case are as follows:

4. The S.H.O, Kothwali Amethi in his report dated 15.05.2018 has mentioned that the petitioner being a gang member had acquired several property by means of anti-social activities and acquired the Indica Vista Car No. UP 44 AA 7287 without disclosing the source of income. According to police report, he had no source of income. The above motor vehicle prima facie held to be proceed of crimes under the Act, 1986 and liable to be attachment thus requested to the Superintendent of Police to initiate attachment proceedings under Section 14(1) Gangsters Act, 1986. Consequently, Superintendent of Police Amethi wrote a letter dated 18.05.2018 to District Magistrate, Amethi for initiating a proceeding for attachment of aforesaid motor vehicle under Section 14(1) Gangsters Act, 1986.

5. Learned counsel for petitioner has submitted that the District Magistrate, concerned on receipt of said letter, initiated seizure proceeding of the vehicle of the petitioner vide order dated 26.06.2018. The petitioner on 02.07.2018 filed an objection by way of representation by disclosing the source of income and acquisition of motor vehicle and also requested to release his vehicle. The plea of the petitioner was rejected under Section 14 (1) of the Gangster Act, 1986 on 25.07.2018 on the ground that a petitioner is a history sheeter and four offences shown in Gang-chart against him and no material evidence of purchasing of said vehicle with valid source of income has been produced.

6. Further submission is that the learned District Magistrate concerned declined to release the vehicle vide order dated 25.07.2018 with the order of attachment and referred the matter to Special Judge (Gangsters Act) under Section 16 (1) of U. P. Gangsters Act, 1986. Thereafter the petitioner made a representation before learned Special Judge (Gangsters Act)/Additional Sessions Judge, Sultanpur. The petitioner requested that aforesaid Vehicle was purchased by earnings of his agricultural sources, pension of father, who was posted in Army and his wife is Gram Pradhan, but the all submissions of the petitioner was rejected regarding the purchasing of the vehicle and dismissed the application for releasing vehicle on 31.07.2019 on the ground that the concerned case is at the premature stage and the evidence of witnesses is yet to be recorded to reach the final conclusion. So releasing the aforesaid vehicle at this stage is contrary to provisions enshrine under Section 16 (3) of the Gangster Act.

7. Learned counsel for petitioner has submitted that vehicle no. UP 44 AA 7287 was purchased by the petitioner on 25.10.2013 from Anany Motor Private Limited for a sum of Rs. 7,04,144/- and the said vehicle was financed with Mahindra & Mahindra Finance Service Limited with 23 equal installments of Rs.18,990/- and sale letter is annexed as Annexure No. 3. Further submission is that at the time of purchase, his wife was Gram Pradhan and father was posted in Army Department and was receiving pension a sum of Rs. 21,300/-, and the petitioner has sufficient agricultural land and his annual earning is Rs.1,00,000/- also. In support of his submission, he filed copy of bank account of his father as Annexure No. 5 and copy of his bank account as Annexure No. 6. Learned counsel for petitioner has further submitted that the petitioner had paid all installments with the help of earning of his family members and finally submitted that at present the vehicle is lying abandoned in police station and the petitioner is ready to give surety and personal bond regarding the vehicle and he will not sell the vehicle during the disposal of the case finally before the court concerned. Thus the petitioner is legally entitled to release the vehicle in his favour. Learned counsel for petitioner has next submitted that the petitioner has no other alternative and efficacious remedy than to invoke jurisdiction of this Court under Article 226 of the Constitution. Learned counsel for petitioner has also relied upon a judgment of this Court in the case of Rajbir Singh Tyagi Vs. State of U.P. and others passed by this Court in Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No. 17245 of 2009 wherein Ganster Court conducted inquiry under Section 16 in reference to order passed by District Magistrate and after due enquiry learned Gangster Court passed the final order of attachment and the claim of the petitioner was rejected and High Court by means of writ under Article 226 of the Constitution allowed the writ of the petitioner and quashed the order of the learned trial court and released the attached property.

8. Learned A.G.A. for the State has opposed the submissions made by learned counsel for petitioner and submitted that the inquiry is pending before the Gangster Court and the Gangster Court had not arrived at any final conclusion regarding the alleged motor vehicle. He further submitted that the prayer made in the writ petition is prima facie at this stage is liable to be dismissed.

9. Being aggrieved by the aforesaid orders, this writ petition has been filed.

10. To deal with the issue involved in the present writ petition, the discussion of provisions of Act, 1986, Section 14 to 18 is essential and same is reproduced as under:-

14. Attachment of property. - (1) If the District Magistrate has reason to believe that any property, whether moveable or immovable, in possession of any person has been acquired by a gangster as a result of the commission of an offence triable under this Act, he may order attachment of such property whether or not cognizance of such offence has been taken by any Court.

(2) The provisions of the Code shall, mutatis mutandis apply to every such attachment.

(3) Notwithstanding the provisions of the Code the District Magistrate may appoint an Administrator of any property attached under subsection (1) and the Administrator shall have all the powers to administer such property in the best interest thereof.

(4) The District Magistrate may provide police help to the Administrator for proper and effective administration of such property.

15. Release of property. - (1) Where any property is attached under Section 14, the claimant thereof may within three months from the date of knowledge of such attachment make a representation to the District Magistrate showing the circumstances in and the sources by which such property was acquired by him.

(2) If the District Magistrate is satisfied about the genuineness of the claim made under sub-section (1) he shall forthwith release the property from attachment and thereupon such property shall be made over to the claimant.

16. Inquiry into the character of acquisition of property by Court.- (1) Where no representation is made within the period specified in sub-section (1) of Section 15 or the District Magistrate does not release the property under sub-section (2) of Section 15 he shall refer the matter with his report to the Court having jurisdiction to try an offence under this Act.

(2) Where the District Magistrate has refused to attach any property under sub-section (1) of Section 14 or has ordered for release of any property under sub-section (2) of Section 15, the State Government or any person aggrieved by such refusal or release may make an application to the Court referred to in sub-section (1) for inquiry as to whether the property was acquired by or as a result of the commission of an offence triable under this Act. Such Court may, if it considers necessary or expedient in the interest of justice so to do, order attachment of such property.

(3)(a) On receipt of the reference under sub-section (1) or an application under sub-section (2), the Court shall fix a date for inquiry and give notices thereof to the person making the application under subsection (2) or, as the case may be, to the person making the representation under Section 15 and to the State Government, and also to any other person whose interest appears to be involved in the case.

(b) On the date so fixed or any subsequent date to which the inquiry may be adjourned, the Court shall hear the parties, receive evidence produced by them, take such further evidence as it considers necessary, decide whether the property was acquired by a gangster as a result of the commission of an offence triable under this Act and shall pass such order under Section 17 as may be just and necessary in the circumstances of the case.

(4) For the purpose of inquiry under sub-section (3) the Court, shall have the power of a Civil Court while trying a suit under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (Act No. 5 of 1908), in respect of the following matters, namely :-

(a) summoning and enforcing the attendance of any person and examining him on oath;

(b) requiring the discovery and production of documents;

(c) receiving evidence on affidavits;

(d) requisitioning any public record or copy thereof from any Court or office;

(e) issuing commission for examination of witness or documents;

(f) dismissing a reference for default or deciding it ex parte

(g) setting aside an order of dismissal for default or ex parte decision.

(5) In any proceedings under this section, the burden of proving that the property in question or any part thereof was not acquired by a gangster as a result of the commission of any offence triable under this Act, shall be on the person claiming the property, anything to the contrary contained in the Indian Evidence Act, 1872 (Act No. 1 of 1872), notwithstanding.

17. Order after inquiry. - If upon such inquiry the Court finds that the property was not acquired by a gangster as a result of the commission of any offence triable under this Act it shall order for release of the property of the person from whose possession it was attached. In any other case the Court may make such order as it thinks fit for the disposal of the property by attachment, confiscation or delivery to any person entitled to the possession thereof, or otherwise.

18. Appeal. - The provisions of Chapter XXIX of the Code shall, mutatis mutandis, apply to an appeal against any judgment on order of a Court passed under the provisions of this Act.

11. The aforesaid provision has clearly envisages that on receiving the reference from the District Magistrate under Section 16 (1) of the Act, the Court shall fix date for inquiry and Court shall hear the parties, receive evidence produced by them, take such further evidence as it considers necessary. In the case in hand, Special Judge (Gangsters Act) came to hold that the evidence of concerned parties and interested witnesses is yet to be recorded to reach final conclusion. Even the notice is not served to them at this stage, so releasing the aforesaid property is contrary to the settled provisions under the Act. In view of the matter, proceedings regarding the determination of the claim of the parties is still to be decided by the court concerned after recording evidence of respective parties.

12. Although in support of his submission, learned counsel for petitioner has relied upon a judgment of this Court in the case of Rajbir Singh Vs. State of U.P. passed in Criminal Misc. Writ Petition No. 17245 of 2009. but the fact of this case is quite different from the facts of the present case. In Rajbir Singh's case, the trial court finally determined the rights of the petitioner under Section 17 of the Gangster Act. In the present case, no final order has been passed by the competent gangster court and enquiry proceedings is still pending under Section 16 of the Gangster Act.

13. The learned Special Judge (Gangsters Act) has not arrived at any final conclusion regarding release of alleged property under Section 17 of the Gangster Act. Since no final order was passed by the court of Gangster Act, so at this stage, the present writ petition is not maintainable. If any grievance left to the petitioner after arriving any conclusion by Gangster Court under Section 17 of the Act then he may file appeal under Section 18 of the Gangster Act before this court.

14. In view of the aforesaid statutory provisions of law, there is no ground to entertain this petition. Accordingly, the petition is disposed of. However, it is desirable by the learned Special Judge Gangster Act to conclude the inquiry and pass the appropriate orders under Section 17 of the Gangsters Act, 1986 expeditiously preferably within a period of one month, if there is no legal impediment.

Appeal disposed of. (E-1)

Cases relied on :-

1. Jigya Yadav (minor) through Guardian/Father Hari Singh Vs Central Board of Secondary Education and others reported in 2021 SCC OnLine SC 415

(Delivered by Hon'ble Munishwar Nath Bhandari, A.C.J.
Hon'ble Subhash Chandra Sharma, J.)

1. By this appeal, a challenge is made to the judgment dated 02.12.2020 by which the writ petition preferred by the petitioner-non appellant was allowed.

2. The writ petition was filed to seek a direction on the Central Board of Secondary Education (C.B.S.E.) for change of name of the petitioner-non appellant in their record from Rishu Jaiswal to Kabir Jaiswal and issue the certificate. The prayer aforesaid was allowed by the learned Single Judge.

3. It is after taking note of the fact that on the application made by the petitioner-non appellant to a competent authority, the name was changed from Rishu Jaiswal to Kabir Jaiswal with publication of Notification in the Gazette of India, bearing No. 44 New Delhi, Saturday, November 2-November 8, 2019. Based on the Gazette Notification, a prayer was made to the C.B.S.E. to change the name of the non-appellant in their record and issue the certificate.

4. The prayer aforesaid was not exceeded to rather it was rejected vide order dated 27.05.2020. It was mainly on the ground that school records does not support change of name, as sought by the non-appellant. That was the only ground to deny change of name in the record. The learned Single Judge after relying on the judgments of the High Court so as the Apex Court and referring to the relevant clauses of C.B.S.E. Bye-laws, found no reason to deny change of name and accordingly order impugned was set aside with a direction to undertake exercise, as directed therein within a period of two months.

5. Learned Additional Advocate General Sri Manish Goyal submits that the impugned order has been passed holding C.B.S.E. Bye-laws to be non statutory and thereby ignoring the period within which change of name can be sought, directions have been given. It is also submitted that in a recent judgment of the Apex Court in the case of Jigya Yadav (minor) through Guardian/Father Hari Singh Vs. Central Board of Secondary Education and others reported in 2021 SCC OnLine SC 415, the C.B.S.E. Bye-laws were held enforceable. The learned Single Judge held that the Bye-laws are not having flavour of statute, thus, period of three years to seek correction or change in the name as per clause 69 of the Bye-laws could not have been affected the prayer. It is also submitted that period of three years has been given to seek correction or change in the name while applicant is a student of C.B.S.E. and not after passing of the examination of the C.B.S.E.

6. Referring to the facts of this case, it is stated that non-appellant cleared C.B.S.E. Examination in the year 2013 while application for change in name was given in the year 2019. It was admittedly beyond the period of three years even if a liberal construction of the Bye-laws is taken to allow a student to seek change in the name after passing C.B.S.E. Examination. The application was beyond three years even then.

7. Learned Senior Counsel further submits that in case of change of name by the candidate at his choice, a declaration by the Court of law is required. In the instant case, there was no declaration by the Court of law and thereby the judgment of learned Single Judge is even hit by the judgment of the Apex Court in the case of Jigya Yadav (supra) where it was made ncessary.

8. The prayer is to set aside the judgment of learned Single Judge.

9. The appeal has been contested by the learned counsel for non-appellant. He submits that judgment in the case of Jigya Yadav (supra) is not adverse to the non-appellant rather it supports him. In the case of Jigya Yadav (supra), the Apex Court has referred to the period for seeking correction or change of the name but therein also, the appeal was not dismissed by the Apex Court on the ground of expiry of period rather a favourable direction has been given.

10. Accordingly, the judgment aforesaid favours the non-appellant.

11. It is even in reference to the request for change of name. In case of change of name on choice of the candidate, the certificate can be issued by the C.B.S.E. when the application is supported by the school record or the public document. In absence of it only, there was a need to seek declaration from the civil Court.

12. Learned A.A.G. has misconstrued the direction of the Apex Court to urge that in case of change of name, the declaration from the Court of law is necessary in all eventualities. This is going against the judgment of the Apex Court in the case of Jigya Yadav (supra). The prayer is accordingly to dismiss the appeal more so when the learned Single Judge has given reference of the catena of judgments of the Apex court holding C.B.S.E. Bye-laws to be non-statutory and in a case even if the matter is driven by the judgment of the Apex Court in the case of Jigya Yadav (supra), the finding recorded therein with the direction are favourable to the non-appellant.

13. The application was otherwise within the period given under the Bye-laws for the reason that the non-appellant passed out C.B.S.E. Examination in the year 2013 while change of name was much subsequent to it. A Notification in the Gazette was published in the year 2019 to notify the changed name and that was the occasion for the non-appellant to seek change in the name in the year 2019. The application aforesaid was made immediately after issuance of the Gazette Notification, thus, there was no delay on part of the non-appellant to seek change in the name. As per Bye-laws, it was of ten years at the relevant time.

14. We have considered the submission advanced by the parties and perused the record.

15. The ground raised by the appellant to assail the judgment of the learned Single Judge is mainly in reference to the judgment of the Apex Court in the case of Jigya Yadav (supra).

16. The first argument is as to whether change in the name can be sought after passing C.B.S.E. Examination. The learned Single Judge has referred to clause 69.1 of the Bye-laws. The issue aforesaid would be discussed later but there is an admission of the learned Senior Counsel for the appellants that even the Apex Court in the case of Jigya Yadav (supra) has allowed correction or change in the name of a student after passing out the C.B.S.E. course. The first issue for our consideration remains in reference to para 171 of the judgment of the Apex Court in the case of Jigya Yadav (supra). The said para is quoted herein-:

"171. As regards request for "change" of particulars in the certificate issued by the CBSE, it presupposes that the particulars intended to be recorded in the CBSE certificate are not consistent with the school records. Such a request could be made in two different situations. The first is on the basis of public documents like Birth Certificate, Aadhaar Card/Election Card, etc. and to incorporate change in the CBSE certificate consistent therewith. The second possibility is when the request for change is due to the acquired name by choice at a later point of time. That change need not be backed by public documents pertaining to the candidate.

(a) Reverting to the first category, as noted earlier, there is a legal presumption in relation to the public documents as envisaged in the 1872 Act. Such public documents, therefore, cannot be ignored by the CBSE. Taking note of those documents, the CBSE may entertain the request for recording change in the certificate issued by it. This, however, need not be unconditional, but subject to certain reasonable conditions to be fulfilled by the applicant as may be prescribed by the CBSE, such as, of furnishing sworn affidavit containing declaration and to indemnify the CBSE and upon payment of prescribed fees in lieu of administrative expenses. The CBSE may also insist for issuing Public Notice and publication in the Official Gazette before recording the change in the fresh certificate to be issued by it upon surrender/return of the original certificate (or duplicate original certificate, as the case may be) by the applicant. The fresh certificate may contain disclaimer and caption/annotation against the original entry (except in respect of change of name effected in exercise of right to be forgotten) indicating the date on which change has been recorded and the basis thereof. In other words, the fresh certificate may retain original particulars while recording the change along with caption/annotation referred to above (except in respect of change of name effected in exercise of right to be forgotten).

(b)However, in the latter situation where the change is to be effected on the basis of new acquired name without any supporting school record or public document, that request may be entertained upon insisting for prior permission/declaration by a Court of law in that regard and publication in the Official Gazette including surrender/return of original certificate (or duplicate original certificate, as the case may be) issued by CBSE and upon payment of prescribed fees. The fresh certificate as in other situations referred to above, retain the original entry (except in respect of change of name effected in exercise of right to be forgotten) and to insert caption/annotation indicating the date on which it has been recorded and other details including disclaimer of CBSE. This is so because the CBSE is not required to adjudicate nor has the mechanism to verify the correctness of the claim of the applicant."

17. Learned Senior Counsel has made much emphasis in reference to sub-para (b) of para 171. In the case of change in name by choice, the student is required to seek a declaration from the Court of law. In the instant case, no such declaration was sought, thus, the learned Single Judge could not have directed the appellant to undertake the exercise for issuance of certificate in the changed name.

18. We have carefully gone through para 171 of the judgment in the case of Jigya Yadav (supra) and find that after a detailed discussion on the issue, appropriate directions were given by the Apex Court in para 171. The first direction is when change is sought in the C.B.S.E. certificate inconsistent to the school record. The aforesaid can be sought based on a public document like birth certificate, aadhar card/electoral card, etc. to incorporate change in the C.B.S.E. record consistent therewith.

19. The second contingency is for change of name on acquisition of name by choice. In that case, if the application is not backed by school record or public document, then a declaration of Court of law is necessary.

20. Sub-para (b) deals with the issue in regard to change of name acquired by the candidate by choice. There, the application can be supported by school record or public document, in absence of it, declaration of the Court of law has been mandated. The declaration of the Court is sought when an application is not supported by school record or public document. The Bye-laws provides for declaration by the Court of law and publication but it cannot be read against the statutory provision. Notification in Gazette is not only a public document but stand in-rem with presumption under the Evidence Act, 1872.

21. In view of the above, we are not in agreement with the learned Senior Counsel that in all eventualities, a declaration is required to be sought from the Court of law in case of change of name by choice. The Bye-laws is to be read down to make it consistent to the statutory provision. A public document can be basis to seek change in the name.

22. In the instant case, the non-appellant made an application to the competent authority to seek change in the name from Rishu Jaiswal to Kabir Jaiswal. The prayer was exceeded too and accordingly on completion of the legal formalities, the changed name was published in the Gazette. The learned Single Judge could not dispute that Notification in the Gazette is a public document rather it is to be read in-rem against the rest of the word. The change in the name was sought based on the Gazette Notification i.e. a public document, thus, it does not lie in the mouth of the appellant to direct the non-applicant to seek a declaration from the Court of law for change in the name rather based on the public document, the application to seek change in the name should have been considered. The Bye-laws are not statute though made enforceable but cannot be read against the statutory provisions, like the Indian Evidence Act, 1872. The presumption given under the Act of 1872 cannot be brush aside by the Bye-laws after publication of Notification in Gazette.

23. The other issue raised by learned counsel for appellant is the nature of Bye-laws. They are claiming it to be under Article 19 (2) of the Constitution of India, therefore, enforceable in law. Again much is not required to be discussed as it has already been dealt with by the Apex Court in the case of Jigya Yadav (supra). The Apex Court held C.B.S.E. Bye-laws to be enforceable in law.

24. We are now touching the issue of the period by which the application could have been given by the candidate for change of name. The Apex Court in the case of Jigya Yadav (supra) has given summary of development of examination Bye-laws which was tabulated therein and for ready reference, quoted herein-:

25. The table quoted above shows amendment in the Bye-laws from time to time and as the non-appellant/petitioner passed out C.B.S.E. Examination in the year 2013, thus, the provision of Bye-laws, as was existing in the year 2013, is to be applied. The relevant Bye-laws is of the year 2011, then existing in the year 2013. The application was maintainable within 10 years of declaration of result. The declaration of result is in the year 2013 thus period of 10 years was to expire in the year 2023 whereas the application for change of name was made in the year 2019 i.e. within the period of 10 years from the date of declaration of result. The issue as to whether period given under the Bye-laws would apply from the date of declaration of result or the date when application was made has been clarified by the Apex Court in the case of Jigya Yadav (supra). It is with a finding that the period of limitation to make an application would apply from the date of declaration of result. The relevant paras of the judgment are quoted herein for ready reference-:

"123. As noted above, the Byelaws permit change of name only if permission from the Court has been obtained prior to the publication of result. It puts a clear embargo on any change of name sans prior permission before the publication. The provision is problematic on certain counts. Firstly, it is not a mere restriction on the right, it is a complete embargo on the right post publication of result of the candidate. It fails to take into account the possibility of need for change of name after the publication of result including the uncertainty of timeline required to obtain such declaration from the Court of law due to law's delay and upon which the candidate has no control whatsoever. Whereas, while amending the Byelaws in 2007, the CBSE itself had noted that children are not of mature age while passing school examinations and they may not be in a position to decide conclusively on issues concerning their identity. The Byelaws completely overlook this possibility when it ordains seeking declaration from the Court prior to the publication of results of the concerned examination conducted by it.

124. The overriding state interest, as per the Board, to retain this stringency is nothing but efficiency of administration. Administrative efficiency, despite being a crucial concern, has not been and cannot be elevated to a standard that it is used to justify non-performance of essential functions by an instrumentality of the State. To use administrative efficiency to make it practically impossible for a student to alter her identity in the Board certificates, no matter how urgent and important it is, would be highly disproportionate and can in no manner be termed as a reasonable restriction. Reasonableness would demand a proper balance between a student's right to be identified in the official (public) records in manner of her choice and the Board's argument of administrative efficiency. To sustain this balance, it would be open to the Board to limit the number of times such alterations could be permitted including subject to availability of the old records preserved by it as per the extant regulations. But to say that post the publication of examination results and issuance of certificates, there can be no way to alter the record would be a case of total prohibition and not a reasonable restraint.

125. The limitation as regards maximum period upto which changes can be permitted also requires a different approach. Upon receiving the certificates, the student would naturally be put to notice of the particulars of certificates. Due to young age and inadvertence including being casual and indolent, a student may fail to identify the errors or to understand the probable impact of those errors and accordingly, may not apply for rectification immediately. It is also possible that a student may not have to use the certificates immediately after passing out and by the time she uses them, the limitation period for correction may elapse. Therefore, a realistic time for permitting corrections is very important. Indeed, it can be commensurate with the statutory or mandatory period upto which CBSE is obliged to preserve its old record.

126. However, we need not explore upon the question as to whether the exercise of a fundamental right can be foreclosed by prescribing a rigid period of limitation. In case of any ordinary civil rights, it is important that the action for enforcement of such rights is initiated in prescribed time and consistency is maintained, but is it permissible to say the same about fundamental rights? The rights which are recognised as fundamental under the Constitution are "preferred or chosen freedoms" and a very sensitive and realistic approach has to be taken in such matters. We wonder whether after the lapse of prescribed time, let us say 3 years, there could be no reasonable and legitimate circumstances to warrant change of name.

130. One of the primary functions of the Board is to grant certificates to its students. Effective maintenance and regulation of standard of education would include complete accountability of the Board in grant of such certificates and its duty does not get extinguished after publication of examination results and issue of certificates. Rather, it extends to taking care of post-publication concerns of students as and when they emerge, as students seek to use their certificates for purposes of higher education and career opportunities. A narrow reading of the functions of the Board would leave glaring gaps in the field of school education and may jeopardize the welfare of students with legitimate concerns.

147. The provision for "change" of name is far more stringent and calls for a thorough review to settle the correct position. As per the present law, change of name is permissible upon fulfilment of two prior conditions - prior permission of the Court of law and publication of the proposed change in official gazette. These conditions co-exist with another condition predicating that both prior permission and publication must be done before the publication of result. What it effectively means is that change of name would simply be impermissible after the publication of result of the candidate even if the same is permitted by a Court of law and published in official gazette. In other words, once the examination result of the candidate has been published, the Board would only permit corrections in name mentioned in the certificate. Further, changing the name out of freewill is simply ruled out.

152. The Byelaws provide for a two-tier mechanism for recording change of name or other details (as indicated above). One of them is prior permission or declaration by a Court of law to be obtained. As regards public documents like Birth Certificate, Official Gazette, Aadhaar Card, Election Card, etc., the same enjoy legal presumption of its correctness in terms of explicit provisions contained in Chapter V of the 1872 Act. The 1872 Act extends such presumption in terms of Section 76 read with Sections 79 and 80 of the 1872 Act and as in the case of Official Gazette under Section 81 of the same Act. Even other legislations concerning public documents attach equal importance to the authenticity of such documents including while making changes in their certificates to which we have alluded to in this judgment. Understood thus, there is no reason for the CBSE Board to not take notice of the public documents relied upon by the candidate and to record change on that basis in the certificate issued by it, for being consistent with the relied upon public documents. It matters not if the information furnished in the public documents is not entirely consistent with the school records of the incumbent. The CBSE while accepting those documents as foundational documents for effecting changes consistent therewith may insist for additional conditions and at the same time while retaining the original entry make note in the form of caption/annotation in the fresh certificate to be issued by it while calling upon the incumbent to surrender the original certificate issued by it to avoid any misuse thereof at a later point of time. It would be permissible for the CBSE to insist for a sworn affidavit to be given by the incumbent making necessary declaration and also to indemnify the CBSE. The fresh certificate to be issued by the CBSE may also contain disclaimer of the Board clearly mentioning that change has been effected at the behest of the incumbent in light of the public documents relied upon by him. In addition, the incumbent can be called upon to notify about the change in the Official Gazette and by giving public notice as precondition for recording the change by way of abundant precaution.

158. As noticed in the submissions above, there is a conflict of opinion amongst the High Courts as regards the point of time which would determine the applicability of Byelaws. The frequent amendments carried out by the CBSE had made it imperative for the courts to grapple with this question. The immediate question is whether the date of declaration of result or the date of application for changes would be determinative of the applicable Byelaws. While addressing this question, the Delhi High Court in Kalpana Thakur61 took the view that the Byelaws existing on the date of application would apply, irrespective of amendment. This view can be discerned from the following paragraphs of the judgment:

"12.2 In my view, the submission of Mr. Bansal that amended Bye-laws 69.1(i) would apply, is untenable, for a simple reason that the amendment to the said bye-law was notified only on 25.06.2015; a date which falls beyond the date on which the application for change of name was preferred in the instant case. The argument advanced in support of this submission by Mr. Bansal that the Office Order was in place prior to the date of the application, in my view, will not sustain, as the Office Order, is an internal document, which could have no legal validity till the position taken therein is put in public realm. The very fact that a notification in respect of the amended Bye-law was issued by respondent no. 1/CBSE, would show, that the decision to amend bye-law 69.1(i) required a public notice.

12.3 Consequently, all applications for change of name which are filed prior to notification dated 25.06.2015, will be governed, in my view, by the unamended Bye-law 69.1(i). Therefore, quite logically, the petitioners, in my opinion, would have to be given the reliefs as sought in the writ petition."

Notably, the question before the Court was slightly different. It was only whether the unamended Byelaws would continue to apply if the application was preferred before the date of amendment. Nevertheless, the Kerala High Court in Vyshnav62 has taken a different view of the matter and observed that the Byelaws existing on the date of passing out would apply. It observed thus:

"5. On an analysis of the said rule and amended provision it is evident that, the first respondent relied on an incorrect provision in order to non-suit the petitioner by rejecting the applications submitted for change of name. Therefore, Exts.P7 and P9 cannot be sustained under law, since the same is violative of the rule provided for the purpose. Petitioner has passed out in the year 2013 and therefore, the law as it stood then has to be taken in to account, since there is no retrospective operation to the amendment. Therefore, I quash Exts.P7 and P9, and direct the first respondent to re-consider the application submitted by the petitioner based on Rule 69(1(i), as it stood before as is specified above."

159. Considered in the context of the Byelaws, the controversy is actually simple in nature. The Byelaws consistently provide that the period of limitation is to be calculated from the date of declaration of the result and issue of certificate. It means that the period of limitation begins to run against the student after declaration of result and publication of certificates as the student is put to notice of the contents of the document, upon its issue. The student can now be said to be in a position to verify the correctness of the certificate(s). The irresistible outcome of this legal position is that the Byelaws existing on the date of such declaration/publication of result and issue of certificate would be relevant for the purpose of effecting changes in the certificates. The express language of the Byelaws would be defeated if we say that the law existing on the date of application for recording change would be relevant. That would negate the very importance of having a period of limitation for correction of the certificates.

160. If the limitation of applicability of Byelaws was to be reckoned from the date of application for correction/change and not the date of result of the examination conducted by CBSE, we would be leaving things to a state of uncertainty. For, a student who could possibly have surpassed the limitation period under unamended Byelaws would regain the right to change the certificates if the Byelaws existing on the date of application permit so and provide for a longer period. Similarly, a student who had ten years for carrying out changes under the unamended Byelaws would lose her right if Byelaws are amended within the ten-year period so as to provide for a much shorter, say two years, limitation period. Certainty, consistency and predictability are the hallmarks of any legal relationship and it is in the interest of public policy that legal interpretation preserves and protects these hallmarks. This determination, however, is only to state the legal position and may not have any immediate bearing on the cases before us."

26. In the light of the finding recorded by the Apex Court in the paras quoted above, it is a case where the application for change of name was given within the time frame provided under the Bye-laws.

27. In view of the above, we are unable to accept the argument of learned counsel for the appellant that application for change of name was submitted after the period of limitation.

28. At this stage, we may also clarify that the Bye-laws existing in the year 2013 was permitting an application for change of name within 10 years of declaration of result, thus, the argument that an application for change of name or correction of the certificate could have been given only by the candidate while pursuing the C.B.S.E. studies is not acceptable. When Bye-laws permits, an application for change of name within 10 years from the date of declaration of result then it would be applicable even for a candidate passed out the C.B.S.E. Examination. If there exists contradiction in the Bye-laws, beneficial provision is to be applied for the student.

29. In totality, we do not find any reason to cause interference in the judgment of learned Single Judge. The issue has now been decided by the Apex Court in the case of Jigya Yadav (supra) and we have recorded finding not only in reference to the Bye-laws but judgment of the Apex Court in the case of Jigya Yadav (supra), thus find no reason to cause interference to the directions given by the learned Single Judge. The writ petition would now be governed by this judgment.

30. With the aforesaid finding, the appeal is disposed of.

Hon'ble Suresh Kumar Gupta, J.)

1. By this appeal, a challenge is made to the judgment dated 27.09.2019 whereby writ petition preferred by non-appellant/petitioner was allowed. The writ petition was filed to challenge the order of punishment of dismissal from service.

2. The brief facts of the case show that while the non-appellant/petitioner was working on the post of Collection Amin in Tehsil Nawabganj, Gonda, was sentenced to seven years imprisonment for the offence under Sections 376, 511 Indian Penal Code. The order of dismissal from service was passed considering the conduct of the petitioner led to his conviction. It was by invoking Rule 7 of the Uttar Pradesh Government Servant (Discipline and Appeal) Rules, 1999 and the Government Order dated 06.09.2000.

3. The order of dismissal from service was challenged by the non-appellant/petitioner by maintaining a writ petition. The order of dismissal from service has been set aside by learned Single Judge finding that no disciplinary proceeding was taken before passing the order of punishment. It was by relying the judgment of the Apex Court in the case of K. Venkateshwarlu vs. State of Andhra Pradesh, (2012) 8 SCC 73.

4. Learned counsel for the appellants submits that impugned judgment has been passed in ignorance of Article 311 of the Constitution of India so as the Uttar Pradesh Government Servant (Discipline and Appeal) Rules, 1999. In case of conviction of an employee, disciplinary proceedings are not required rather considering the conduct of the employee led to conviction, the appropriate punishment can be imposed. In the instant case, the employee was convicted for the offence under Sections 376, 511, 506 Indian Penal Code and sentenced to seven years imprisonment with fine. The conduct of the petitioner led to conviction was the basis of the punishment of dismissal from service. He was convicted for attempt to rape and looking to the aforesaid conduct, the order was passed dismissing him from service.

5. Article 311 of the Constitution of India and even Uttar Pradesh Government Servant (Discipline and Appeal) Rules, 1999. Article 311(2) of the Constitution of India exempts disciplinary proceedings in case of conduct of an employee led to conviction. Learned Single Judge has not referred to the provisions of Constitution of India so as Uttar Pradesh Government Servant (Discipline and Appeal) Rules, 1999 rather erroneously relied on the judgment in the case of K. Venkateshwarlu (supra). The aforesaid judgment does not propound a ratio on the issue rather it was a judgment on a criminal appeal against the order of conviction and not to challenge the order of punishment.

6. It is also stated that even the judgment in the case of R.P. Kapur vs. Union of India and another, AIR 1964 SC 787 is not an authority on the issue. There also, the order of punishment was not challenged rather it was an order of suspension. Learned Single Judge casually relied the judgment supra to quash the order of dismissal, thus prayer is to set aside the judgment of learned Single Judge.

7. Learned counsel for the non-appellant has vehemently contested the appeal and submits that the judgment under challenge is covered by the judgments of the Supreme Court in the cases of R.P. Kapur (supra) and K. Venkateshwarlu (supra). It is a case of conviction, the authority needs to initiate the disciplinary proceeding, as envisaged under Uttar Pradesh Government Servant (Discipline and Appeal) Rules, 1999. Learned counsel for the appellants has even made a reference of judgment of this Court in the case of Sada Nand Mishra vs. State of U.P. and another, 2000 (18) LCD 88. Therein relying on the judgment of Union of India vs. Tulsi Ram Patel, (1985) 3 SCC 398, the order of punishment was interfered. The prayer is accordingly to maintain the judgment of learned Single Judge.

8. We have considered the rival submissions of learned counsel for the parties and perused the record.

9. It is not in dispute that the non-appellant was convicted for the offence under Sections 376, 511 Indian Penal Code and sentenced to seven years imprisonment with fine of Rs. 2000/-. The conduct led to conviction was the basis for dismissal from service. The question for our consideration is as to whether the disciplinary proceeding was required before passing the order of dismissal from service. We would first refer to Article 311 of the Constitution of India and for ready reference, it is quoted hereunder:-

"311. Dismissal, removal or reduction in rank of persons employed in civil capacities under the Union or a State.- (1) No person who is a member of a civil service of the Union or an all-India service or a civil service of a State or holds a civil post under the Union or a State shall be dismissed or removed by an authority subordinate to that by which he was appointed.

(2) No such person as aforesaid shall be dismissed or removed or reduced in rank except after an inquiry in which he has been informed of the charges against him and given a reasonable opportunity of being heard in respect of those charges :

Provided that where it is proposed after such inquiry, to impose upon him any such penalty, such penalty may be imposed on the basis of the evidence adduced during such inquiry and it shall not be necessary to give such person any opportunity of making representation on the penalty proposed:

Provided further that this clause shall not apply-

(a) where a person is dismissed or removed or reduced in rank on the ground of conduct which has led to his conviction on a criminal charge; or

(b) where the authority empowered to dismiss or remove a person or to reduce him in rank is satisfied that for some reason, to be recorded by that authority in writing, it is not reasonably practicable to hold such inquiry; or

(c) where the President or the Governor, as the case may be, is satisfied that in the interest of the security of the State it is not expedient to hold such inquiry.

(3) If, in respect of any such person as aforesaid, a question arises whether it is reasonably practicable to hold such inquiry as is referred to in clause (2), the decision thereon of the authority empowered to dismiss or remove such person or to reduce him in rank shall be final."

10. Second proviso to Article 311(2) of the Constitution of India provides exception to the main provision. Article 311(2) mandates an inquiry if a person is dismissed or removed or reduced in rank. The second proviso carves out an exception to the main provision where an employee can be dismissed or removed or reduced in rank on the ground of conduct led to conviction on a criminal charge. The order of dismissal from service in this case was considering the conduct of the petitioner led to his conviction. Learned Single Judge has not referred to the constitutional provision while setting aside the order of dismissal. It is also without referring to the relevant service rules which again carved out an exception to the disciplinary inquiry before the order of punishment. The relevant Rule is also quoted hereunder for ready reference :-

"7. Procedure for imposing major penalties. - Before imposing any major penalty on a Government servant, an inquiry shall be held in the following manner :

(i) The disciplinary authority may himself inquire into the charges or appoint an authority subordinate to him as Inquiry Officer to inquire into the charges.

(ii) The facts constituting the misconduct on which it is proposed to take action shall be reduced in the form of definite charge or charges to be called charge-sheet. The charge-sheet shall be approved by the disciplinary authority :

Provided that where the appointing authority is Governor, the charge-sheet may be approved by the Principal Secretary or the Secretary; as the case may be, of the concerned department.

(iii) The charges framed shall be so precise and clear as to give sufficient indication to the charged Government servant of the facts and circumstances against him. The proposed documentary evidence and the name of the witnesses proposed to prove the same alongwith oral evidence, if any, shall be mentioned in the charge-sheet.

(iv) The charged Government servant shall be required to put in a written statement of his defence in person on a specified date which shall not be less than 15 days from the date of issue of charge-sheet and to state whether he desires to cross-examine any witness mentioned in the charge-sheet and whether desires to give or produce evidence in his defence. He shall also be informed that in case he does not appear or file the written statement on the specified date, it will be presumed that he has none to furnish and Inquiry Officer shall proceed to complete the inquiry ex parte.

(v) The charge-sheet, alongwith the copy of the documentary evidences mentioned therein and list of witnesses and their statements, if any shall be served on the charged Government servant personally or by registered post at the address mentioned in the official records. In case the charge-sheet could not be served in aforesaid manner, the charge-sheet shall be served by publication in a daily newspaper having wide circulation :

Provided that where the documentary evidence is voluminous, instead of furnishing its copy with charge-sheet, the charged Government servant shall be permitted to inspect the same before the Inquiry Officer.

(vi) Where the charged Government servant appears and admits the charges, the Inquiry Officer shall submit his report to the disciplinary authority on the basis of such admission.

(vii) Where the charged Government servant denies the charges, the Inquiry Officer shall proceed to call the witnesses proposed in the charge-sheet and record their oral evidence in presence of the charged Government servant who shall be given opportunity to cross-examine such witnesses. After recording the aforesaid evidence, the Inquiry Officer shall call and record the oral evidence which the charged Government servant desired in his written statement to be produced in his defence :

Provided that the Inquiry Officer may for reasons to be recorded in writing refuse to call a witness.

(viii) The Inquiry Officer may summon any witness to give evidence or require any person to produce documents before him in accordance with the provisions of the Uttar Pradesh Departmental Inquiries (Enforcement of Attendance of Witnesses and Production of Documents) Act, 1976.

(ix) The Inquiry Officer may ask any question he pleases, at any time of any witness or from person charged with a view to discover the truth or to obtain proper proof of facts relevant to charges.

(x) Where the charged Government servant does not appear on the date fixed in the inquiry or at any stage of the proceeding inspite of the service of the notice on him or having knowledge of the date, the Inquiry Officer shall proceed with the inquiry ex parte. In such a case the Inquiry Officer shall record the statement of witnesses mentioned in the charge-sheet in absence of the charged Government servant.

(xi) The disciplinary authority, if it considers it necessary to do so, may, by an order appoint a Government servant or a legal practitioner, to be known as "Presenting Officer" to present on its behalf the case in support of the charge.

(xii) The Government servant may take the assistance of any other Government servant to present the case on his behalf but not engage a legal practitioner for the purpose unless the Presenting Officer appointed by the disciplinary authority is a legal practitioner of the disciplinary authority having regard to the circumstances of the case so permits :

Provided that this rule shall not apply in following cases :

(i) Where any major penalty is imposed on a person on the ground of conduct which has led to his conviction on a criminal charge; or

(ii) Where the disciplinary authority is satisfied that for reason to be recorded by it in writing, that it is not reasonably practicable to hold an inquiry in the manner provided in these rules; or

(iii) Where the Governor is satisfied that, in the interest of the security of the State, it is not expedient to hold an inquiry in the manner provided in these rules."

11. The Rule quoted above also makes an exception of disciplinary inquiry. An order of punishment can be passed based on the conduct led to conviction. In the instant case, petitioner was convicted for the offence of attempt to rape and sentenced to seven years imprisonment with fine. The conduct of the petitioner was the basis for the order of dismissal from service. The disciplinary inquiry is not required in such cases in view of the provisions of the Constitution of India so as the Uttar Pradesh Government Servant (Discipline and Appeal) Rules, 1999.

12. Learned Single Judge, however, relied on the judgment of the Apex Court in the case of K. Venkateshwarlu (supra). It is without realizing that judgment aforesaid is not authority on the subject and does not propound a ratio on the issue. It was a case where appeal was preferred against the order of conviction. It has relied the judgment in the case of R.P. Kapur (supra) which again was not involving the issue rather it was a case where an order of suspension was challenged. Both the judgments could not have been applied in conflict with statutory provisions so as the provisions of Constitution of India.

13. In the case of R.P. Kapur (supra), the challenge was made to the order of suspension dated 16.02.1962 and it was mainly in reference to Article 314 of the Constitution of India. In para 9 of the said judgment, arguments of counsel for the appellant were considered but it does not propound a ratio on the issue. If one is convicted in a criminal case yet a disciplinary inquiry in regard to the same charges is to be conducted before passing order of punishment then it would not only hit the constitutional provision under Article 311 of the Constitution of India but the Uttar Pradesh Government Servant (Discipline and Appeal) Rules, 1999 also.

14. The judgment in the case of Tulsi Ram Patel (supra) propounds a ratio. An order of punishment can be passed based on the conviction though while doing it, conduct of the employee led to conviction should be looked into.

15. In view of the above, judgment of the Apex Court in the case of Tulsi Ram Patel (supra) permits an order of punishment based on the conduct led to conviction. The only rider is that punishment should not be imposed simply based on conviction but considering the conduct led to his conviction. Learned Single Judge ignored the ratio propounded by the Apex Court in the said case.

16. Considering the arguments of learned counsel for the parties, we find reasons to cause interference in the judgment dated 27.09.2019 passed by learned Single Judge.

17. Accordingly, the appeal is allowed and the judgment dated 27.09.2019 passed by learned Single Judge is set aside.

7. P.N.B. Vs Amit Kumar Das; 2020 SCC Online SC 897

(Delivered by Hon'ble Manish Kumar, J.)

1. The aforesaid two appeals are against the common judgment dated 10.03.2021, which is impugned in both the appeals, thus, the appeals are being decided by a common judgment.

2. There is a delay in filing of the present special appeals.

Reasons mentioned in the affidavit filed along with application for condonation of delay are found to be satisfactory, hence, the delay in filing the special appeals is condoned and the appeal are heard on merit.

3. The private respondents in the present appeals had preferred writ petitions for non consideration of their candidature in the interview for appointment on the post of Cane Supervisor in pursuance of the advertisement dated 06.10.2016 for the reason that they were not in possession of certificate of Course on Computer Concepts (hereinafter referred to as, the Certificate of CCC) issued by the DOEACC Society.

4. The learned counsel for the private respondents/petitioners in the present appeals has submitted that they were in possession of degrees in which, computer course was one of the subjects, thus, they were eligible for the appointment on the post of Cane Supervisor in view of the Government Order dated 06.05.2016 and 23.09.2016, as clarified subsequently by the order dated 05.07.2018.

5. In supoort of the submissions that these Government orders or the Executive orders are applicable upon the private respondents/petitioners, they relied upon the judgment of the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Dhananjay Malik and others Vs. State of Uttaranchal and others reported in (2008) 4 SCC 171 and in the case of Union of India Vs. K.P. Joseph and others reported in 1973 1 SCC 194.

6. The aforesaid judgments of the Hon'ble Supreme Court are on the issue of filling up the gaps. In this case, there is no gap in Rule 9 (ii) of Rules, 2015 which is required to be filled up by any government order or instructions, thus, the judgment relied are not applicable in this case.

7. The learned Single Judge allowed the writ petitions in reference to the Government Orders, which have relaxed the qualifications otherwise provided under the Statutory provisions taking into consideration that the intention of the legislature/employer in providing requirement of the certificate of CCC for the said post is to recruit the candidates suitable to work efficiently in the changing work environment of office. In the judgment impugned, it has been specifically been mentioned that the private respondents did not possess the certificate of CCC but they were in possession of equivalent qualification issued by other recognized institutions which makes them suitable to fulfill the requirement of employer for the post in question.

8. On the other hand, the learned counsel appearing for the State-appellant has submitted that as per the Rule 9 of the Uttar Pradesh Ganna Paryaveshak (Group III) Service Rules, 2015 (Second Amendment) (hereinafter referred to as the Rules, 2015), the certificate of CCC awarded by the DOEACC Society is the academic qualification for the purpose of consideration for appointment on the post of Cane Supervisor. For convenience, the Rule 9 of the Rules of 2015 is being quoted hereunder:-

" Substitution of Rule 9.

	COLUMN-1 Existing Rules		COLUMN-2 Rule as hereby substituted
Academic Qualification	9. A candidate for direct recruitment to a post in the service	Academic Qualification	9. A candidate for direct recruitment to a post in the service must possess the following qualification

	(i) must have passed the Intermediate (Agriculture) Examination from the Board of High School and Intermediate Education, Uttar pradesh or an examination recognized by the Government as equivalent thereto, OR (ii) (a) must have passed the High School Examination from the Board of High School and Intermediate Education, Uttar Pradesh or an examination recognized by the Government as equivalent thereto; (b) must possess two years diploma in Agriculture from a recognized institution.		: (i) Bachelor's degree in Agriculture Science from a University established by law in India or a qualification recognized by the Government as equivalent thereto. (ii) CCC Certificate in Computer operation awarded by the DOEACC Society.

9. As per the substituted qualification, one was required to be in possession of Bachelor's degree in Agriculture Science apart from CCC Certificate in computer operation of DOEACC Society. The petitioners/ private respondents were not in possession of CCC Certificate. The prayer is accordingly to set aside the judgement of learned Single Judge.

10. Learned counsel for the private respondents submits that petitioners/private respondents were in possession of the Bachelor's degree in Agricultural Science, where the Computer was one of the subject. Thus as per Government Order, they were eligible for appointment on the post of Cane Supervisor. The prayer is accordingly to upheld the judgement of learned Single Judge.

11. We have considered the rival submissions of the parties and perused the records.

12. It is not in dispute that the post in question is governed by the Uttar Pradesh Ganna Paryaveshak (Group III) Service Rules, 2015 (Second Amendment). The qualification provided therein is as under :

9. A candidate for direct recruitment to a post in the service must possess the following qualification:

(i) Bachelor's degree in Agriculture Science from a University established by law in India or a qualification recognized by the Government as equivalent thereto.

(ii) CCC Certificate in Computer operation awarded by the DOEACC Society.

As per Rule 9, one should be in possession of Bachelor's degree in Agriculture Science apart from CCC Certificate of DOEACC Society. It has not been disputed that petitioner is not in possession of CCC Certificate in computer operation. Thus as per the statutory provisions, he is not eligible for appointment on the post of Cane Supervisor. The Government issued letter dated 6.5.2016 to relax the qualification of CCC Certificate. The part of the letter dated 6.3.2016 is also quoted hereunder for ready reference:

''कनिष्ठ सहायक एवं आशुलिपिक के पदो पर चयन हेतु डी.ओ.ई.ए.सी.सी. (डोयक) सोसाईटी द्वारा प्रदत्त सी.सी.सी. प्रमाण–पत्र की समकक्षता के सम्बन्ध में शासन द्वारा निम्नवत् निर्णय लिया गया है:–

13. The Government Order dated 05.07.2018 is also quoted hereunder:

विषय– डी.ओ.ई.ए.सी.सी.(डोयक) सोसाइटी द्वारा प्रदत्त सी.सी.सी. प्रमाण–पत्र की समकक्षता के सम्बन्ध में।

महोदय,

कनिउ सहायक, आणुलिपिक एवं ऐसी समस्त राज्याधीन लोक सेवाओं और पदों जिन पर चयन हेतु डी.ओ.ई.ए.सी.सी.(डोयक) सोसाईटी (परिवर्तित नाम NIELIT-National Institute of Electronics And Information Technology) द्वारा प्रदत्त सी.सी.सी. प्रमाण–पत्र अपेक्षित है, की समकक्षता के सम्बन्ध में समसंख्यक शासनादेश दिनांक 03/06 मई, 2016 एवं 23 सितम्बर, 2016 निर्गत किये गये हैं।

2. समकक्षता के सम्बन्ध में हो रही व्यावहारिक कठिनाईयों के दृष्टिगत सी.सी.सी. प्रमाण पत्र एवं उसकी समकेक्ष अर्हता को और स्पष्ट करने हेतु सम्यक् विचारोपरान्त शासन द्वारा यह निर्णय लिया गया है कि कम्प्यूटर में उच्च योग्यता धारी यथा–कम्प्यूटर में डिप्लोमा, डिग्री, पी.जी.डी.सी.ए., बी.सी.ए., एम.सी.ए. तथा ग्रेजुऐशन अथवा उच्च डिग्री (बी.ए., बी.एस.सी., बी.टेक. एम.एस.सी, एम.बी.ए.) में कम्प्यूटर एवं विषय के रूप अथवा एक सेमेस्टर में कम्प्यूटर कोर्स धारित करने वाले अभ्यर्थियों को भी प्रश्नगत पदों के चयन हेतु अर्ह माना जायेगा।

3. इस सम्बन्ध में मुझे यह कहने का निदेश हुआ है कि शासन द्वारा लिए गए उक्त निर्णय का अनुपालन सुनिश्चित किया जाय।

14. At this stage it is necessary to observe that the administrative order referred to above i.e. 3/6.5.2016, 23.9.2016 and 05.07.2018 cannot be read in conflict to the Rule 9 (ii) of Rules, 2015. The Rule , 2015, as amended require CCC Certificate of computer science. It could not have been nullified by an administrative order, unles so provided in the Rules itself as in the case of Rule 9 (i) of Rules, 2015.

15. The Hon'ble Supreme Court in catena of judgments has held that the statutory provisions cannot be supplanted by issuance of Administrative Orders, Office Memorandums etc. The relevant extract of the judgment of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Union of India and Another Vs. Ashok Aggarwal reported in (2013) 16 SCC 147 is being quoted hereunder:-

" 59. The law laid down above has consistently been followed and it is a settled proposition of law that an authority cannot issue orders/office memorandum/executive instructions in contravention of the statutory rules. However, instructions can be issued only to supplement the statutory rules but not to supplant it. Such instructions should be subservient to the statutory provisions. (Vide Union of India Vs. Majji Jangamayya, P.D. Aggarwal V. State of UP, Paluru Ramkrishnaiah v. Union of India, C. Rangaswamaiah v. Karnataka Lokayukta and Joint Action Committee of Air Line Pilots' Assn. of India V. D.G. of Civil Aviation.)

60. Similarly, a Constitution Bench of this Court in Naga People's Movement of Human rights V. Union of India, held that the executive instructions have binding force provided the same have been issued to fill up the gap between the statutory provisions and are not inconsistent with the said provisions."

16. The Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Government of Andhra Pradesh and others Vs. P. Laxmi Devi reported in (2008) 4 SCC 720 has held as under:- .

" 34. In India the grundnorm is the Indian Constitution, and the hierarchy is as follows:-

i) The Constitution of India;

ii) Statutory law, which may be either law made by Parliament or by the State Legislature;

iii) Delegated legislation, which may be in the form of rules made under the statute, regulations made under the statute, etc;

iv) Purely executive orders not made under any statute.

35. If a law (norm) in a higher layer in the above hierarchy clashes with a law in a lower layer, the former will prevail. Hence a constitutional provision will prevail over all other laws, whether in a statute or in delegated legislation or in an executive order. The Constitution is the highest law of the land, and no law which is in conflict with it can survive. Since the law made by the legislature is in the second layer of the hierarchy, obviously it will be invalid if it is in conflict with a provision in the Constitution (except the directive principles which, by Article 37, have been expressly made non-enforceable. "

17. It is settled law that an administrative order can supplement the statutory provisions but cannot supplanted it. The administrative order referred to above and quoted has supplanted the statutory provisions. It was not in the domain of the administration to issue order dehors the statutory provisions. Thus even the administrative order could not have been read to the benefit of candidate going dehors the Rules.

18. A similar controversy has been decided by this Court in Special Appeal Defective No. 440 of 2021 by the judgment dated 07.07.2021 and held that the statutory provisions cannot be superseded by the administrative orders.

19. The learned counsel for the private respondents-petitioners failed to dispute that a similar controversy has already been attained finality by the judgment dated 07.07.2021 passed in Special Appeal (Defective) No. 440 of 2021.

20. The qualification is to be determined by the employer for any post and it is not for the Courts to consider and assess the possession of qualification.

21. The Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Zahoor Ahmad Rather and others Vs. Sheikh Imtiyaz and others reported in (2019) 2 SCC 404 has held as under:-

".....the prescription of qualifications for a post is a matter of recruitment policy. The State as the employer is entitled to prescribe the qualifications as a condition of eligibility. It is no part of the role or function of judicial review to expand upon the ambit of the prescribed qualifications. Similarly, equivalence of a qualification is not a matter which can be determined in exercise of the power of judicial review. Whether a particular qualification should or should not be regarded as equivalent is a matter for the State, as the recruiting authority, to determine. The decision in Jyoti K.K. [Jyoti K.K. v. Kerala Public Service Commission, (2010) 15 SCC 596 : (2013) 3 SCC (L&S) 664] turned on a specific statutory rule under which the holding of a higher qualification could presuppose the acquisition of a lower qualification. The absence of such a rule in the present case makes a crucial difference to the ultimate outcome. In this view of the matter, the Division Bench [Imtiyaz Ahmad v. Zahoor Ahmad Rattler, LPA (SW) No. 135 of 2017, decided on 12-10-2017 (J&K)] of the High Court was justified in reversing the judgment [Zahoor Ahmad Rather v. State of J&K, 2017 SCC OnLine J&K 936] of the learned Single Judge and in coming to the conclusion that the appellants did not meet the prescribed qualifications. We find no error in the decision [Imtiyaz Ahmad v. Zahoor other IPA (SW) No. 135 of 2017, decided on 12-10-2017 (J&K)] of the Division Bench.

22. A similar note of restraint was entered in Maharashtra Public Service Commission v. Sandeep Shriram Warade [2019 6 SCC 362]. The para no. 9 is being reproduced hereunder of the said judgment:-

"9.The essential qualifications for appointment to a post are for the employer to decide. The employer may prescribe additional or desirable qualifications, including any grant of preference. It is the employer who is best suited to decide the requirements a candidate must possess according to the needs of the employer and the nature of work. The court cannot lay down the conditions of eligibility, much less can it delve into the issue with regard to desirable qualifications being on a par with the essential eligibility by an interpretive re-writing of the advertisement. Questions of equivalence will also fall outside the domain of judicial review. If the language of the advertisement and the rules are clear, the court cannot sit in judgment over the same. If there is an ambiguity in the advertisement or it is contrary to any rules or law the matter has to go back to the appointing authority after appropriate orders, to proceed in accordance with law. In no case can the court, in the garb of judicial review, sit in the chair of the appointing authority to decide what is best for the employer and interpret the conditions of the advertisement contrary to the plain language of the same."

23. Recently, the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Punjab National Bank Vs. Amit Kumar Das reported in 2020 SCC Online SC 897 observed as under:-

" 21. Thus, as held by this Court in the aforesaid decisions, it is for the employer to determine and decide the relevancy and suitability of the qualifications for any post and it is not for the Courts to consider and assess. A greater latitude is permitted by the Courts for the employer to prescribed qualifications for any post. There is a rationale behind it. Qualifications are prescribed keeping in view the need and interest of an Institution or an industry or an establishment as the case may be. The Courts are not fit instruments to assess expediency or advisability or utility of such prescription of qualifications….."

24. Learned Single Judge, however, placed reliance on the administrative orders ignoring the statutory provisions. The petitioners / private respondents were not having CCC Crtificate from DoEACC Society as provided under Rule 9 (ii) of Rules, 2015 without any exception or reservation. It does not suffice the condition given even in the administrative order and otherwise it could not have been read in conflict with the statutory provisions. Accordingly, we find substance in the appeal and accordingly the judgement of learned Single Judge dated 10.03.2021, is set aside.

25. Accordingly, the appeals are allowed.

The judgment is being pronounced under Chapter VII 1 (2) of the Allahabad High Court Rules, 1952.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Devendra Kumar Upadhyaya, J.
Hon'ble Ajai Kumar Srivastava-I, J.)

1. These proceedings under Article 226 of the constitution of India have been instituted assailing the decision of the Competent Authority of the Central Government, whereby the proposal of Department of Personnel and Training (hereinafter referred to as "DoPT") for denial of extension of term of appointment of the petitioner as Judicial Member in Central Administrative Tribunal (hereinafter referred to as "CAT") has been approved. This decision has been taken in purported compliance of the judgment and order dated 08.05.2019 passed by this Court in Writ Petition No.6640 (S/B) of 2017.

2. Challenge herein has also been made to the communication dated 24.10.2019 made by the DoPT whereby it has been informed that the matter relating to extension of term of appointment of the petitioner was placed before Appointments Committee of the Cabinet (herein after referred to as "ACC") and the ACC has approved the denial of extension of the term of the petitioner for another term as Judicial Member of CAT.

3. Heard Shri Anil Kumar Tiwari, learned Senior Advocate, assisted by Shri Aditya Tewari for the petitioner and Shri S. B. Pandey, learned Assistant Solicitor General of India along with Shri Raj Kumar Singh, for the respondents. We have also perused the original records, which have been produced before us by the learned counsel representing the respondents.

4. Learned Senior Advocate has argued that the impugned decision and the resultant communication are completely illegal and erroneous for the reason that in the present case it is revealed that the ACC did not take independent decision in the matter and as a matter of fact, the decision taken by the ACC was vitiated for the reason that it was based on the recommendation of the DoPT which procedure is not available in the rules governing the extension of term of appointment of a member of CAT. It has further been argued that since the rules governing the extension of term of a member of CAT do not envisage any recommendation to be made by the DoPT as such the procedure adopted in this case for arriving at the impugned decision is not only alien to the scheme of the rules but this recommendation is a material which is extraneous and thus could not have been considered. Further, learned Senior Advocate has stated that, in fact, as per the scheme of the rules governing the extension of term of a member of CAT, it is only the recommendation of the Selection Committee to be headed by none other than a sitting Judge of the Supreme Court and the views of the Hon'ble Chief Justice of India along with any other material which may have some bearing and reflection on the candidature of the person concerned, can be taken into account and since in this case it is the recommendation/proposal submitted by the DoPT for denying the extension of term of appointment of the petitioner which has been approved as such the decision making process adopted by the ACC to arrive at the impugned decision is erroneous and against the provisions contained in the rules.

5. Shri Tiwari, learned Senior Advocate has also submitted that the exercise undertaken by the Secretariat of the ACC by inviting the proposal/recommendation from the DoPT is even against the mandate of the judgment and order dated 08.05.2019 passed by this Court in the earlier Writ Petition filed by the petitioner, namely, writ petition No.6640 (S/B) of 2017. He has further submitted that the reasons which can be culled out for denying the extension of term of the appointment of the petitioner in this case are in fact non-existent, in asmuchas the proposal submitted by the DoPT to the ACC for denying the extension of term of the appointment of the petitioner only makes mention of three additional complaints which were already examined by this Court in its judgment dated 08.05.2019 and were found not to be adverse to the petitioner's candidature. In this view the submission is that even the proposal submitted by the DoPT on which the approval by the ACC is said to have been accorded, is based on non-existent material which can reflect upon the candidature of the petitioner adversely or is in any manner not befitting to the nature of the office for which extension of term was considered. Lastly, it has been argued by the learned Senior Advocate that in case this Court comes to the conclusion that this petition deserves to be allowed, instead of remitting the matter to the Competent Authority i.e. the ACC, appropriate direction for extension of term of the appointment of the petitioner may be issued by this Court itself.

6. It has been stated that since in the present case Selection Committee had recommended for extension of term of appointment of the petitioner which was concurred by the then Hon'ble Chief Justice of India, as such in view of the law laid down by Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of R. S. Mittal vs. Union of India, reported in [1995 Supp (2) SCC 230], such recommendation ought to have been approved unless there was some justifiable reason to decline the same. Reliance has also been placed on behalf of the petitioner on the judgment of the Apex Court in the case of Union of India and others vs. Kali Dass Batish, reported in [2006 (1) SCC 779] to bring home the ground that if the legislature has reposed faith in the Chief Justice of India as the pater familias of the Judicial hierarchy, it would normally not be open to contend for any one that the Chief Justice of India might have given his concurrence without application of mind or without calling for necessary inputs.

7. In support of the submission that this Court is fully competent and well within its jurisdiction to pass appropriate orders and to give appropriate direction in the facts and circumstances of the case, instead of remitting the matter to the Competent Authority, reliance has been placed by the learned counsel appearing for the petitioner on the judgments in the case of (i) State of Bihar vs. Dr. Braj Kumar Mishra and others, reported in [1999 (9) SCC 546], (ii) Comptroller and Auditor General of India, Gian Prakash, New Delhi and another vs. K. S. Jagannathan and another, reported in [1986 (2) SCC 679], and (iii) Badri Nath Vs. State of Tamil Nadu and others, reported in [(2000) 8 SCC 395]. Reliance has also been placed on the judgment of Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Major General H. M. Singh, VSM vs. Union of India and another, reported in [(2014) 3 SCC 670) to emphasize the argument that respondents cannot be said to be justified in taking the impugned decision as the same is not justifiable by the reasons in support thereof. It has also been argued that if any statutory authority takes a decision on the suggestion or at the behest of an extraneous authority, the same would be vitiated. In support of this submission reliance has been placed on the judgment in the case of Bahadursinh Lakhubhai Gohil vs. Jagdishbhai M. Kamalia and others, reported in [(2004) 2 SCC 65], Mohinder Singh Gill and another vs. The Chief Election Commissioner and others, reported in [(1978) 1 SCC 405.

8. Shri S. B. Pandey, learned Assistant Solicitor General of India, who has ably been assisted by Shri Raj Kumar Singh has countered the submissions made by the learned counsel appearing for the petitioner and has submitted that the decision of the ACC which is under challenge herein, has been taken strictly in accordance with law and that there is no deviation therefrom. He has further submitted that the ACC was well within its competence to have called for inputs available with the DoPT for the purposes of arriving at a correct conclusion in respect of the candidature of the petitioner who was seeking extension of his term of appointment and if the recommendation/proposal of the DoPT is viewed in this perspective, the impugned decision whereby the ACC has accorded its approval cannot be faulted with. He has further stated that earlier, recommendation made by the Selection Committee was returned back and thereafter the entire matter was placed before the Selection Committee which took a decision to carry forward the vacancy against which petitioner's term for extension of appointment was being considered to the vacancies pertaining to the year 2017 and this decision of the Selection Committee was also concurred by the Chief Justice of India on 06.04.2017, as such the matter at that point of time itself became final and stood closed. His further submission is that the proposal made by the DoPT which has been approved by the ACC, thus, cannot be termed to be a recommendation or material extraneous to the procedure prescribed in the Rules; it should rather be treated to be only an input provided by the DoPT to aid the ACC to take a decision as per the requirement of Rule 9(4) of Administrative Tribunals (Procedure for Appointment of Members), Rules 2011 as amended in the year 2014 vide notification dated 21.03.2014. In his submission, the learned counsel representing the respondents has stated that the writ petition is highly misconceived which deserves to be dismissed.

9. We have given our anxious consideration to the rival submissions made by the learned counsel appearing for the respective parties and have, as observed above, also perused the original record as produced by Shri Raj Kumar Singh, learned counsel representing the Union of India.

10. Before adverting to the submissions made by the learned counsel representing the parties, we may note certain facts which are not in dispute. The DoPT, Government of India, vide communication dated 19.05.2011 informed the petitioner that his name was approved by the Competent Authority for appointment to the post of Judicial Member in the CAT and accordingly by the said communication, offer of appointment against the vacancy pertaining to second half year of 2010 was conveyed to the petitioner. The petitioner accepted the offer and accordingly he was appointed as Judicial Member of CAT vide order dated 30/31.05.2011 and was posted at Calcutta Bench of the Tribunal. Subsequently he was, however, transferred to Lucknow Bench of the Tribunal. As per the appointment order dated 30/31.05.2011 the petitioner was appointed for a period of five years from the date of his assumption of charge or till the age of 65 years, whichever was earlier. The petitioner in terms of the said order dated 30/31.05.2011 was to complete the term of appointment of five years in the month of May, 2016. However, in terms of the provisions contained in the Rules governing the extension of term of appointment of the Members of CAT, the Chairman of CAT made a recommendation to the Selection Committee for extension of the term of the petitioner. The said recommendation was considered by the Selection Committee constituted in terms of the relevant rules which made a recommendation in favour of the petitioner for extension of his term. The said recommendation of the Selection Committee was sent for orders of the Competent Authority together with the views of the Hon'ble Chief Justice of India. The record produced before us as also the counter affidavit filed by the respondents reveal that the Selection Committee had made recommendation in favour of extending the term of the petitioner as Member of CAT and the views of Hon'ble the Chief Justice of India were also expressed in favour of extension of his term.

11. It appears that since no decision on the recommendation made by the selection committee together with the views of the Chief Justice of India was communicated to the petitioner, he instituted a writ petition before this Court, namely, Writ Petition No.6640 (S/B) of 2017 wherein initially a prayer was made to issue necessary order for extension of his term in furtherance of the recommendations of the Selection Committee. When the counter affidavit in the said writ petition was filed and it was intimated through counter affidavit to the petitioner that vide Office Memorandum dated 06.03.2017 the Competent Authority in the ACC has returned the proposal for extension of his term, the petitioner moved an amendment application in the writ petition seeking quashing of the said Office Memorandum. By the counter affidavit filed in the earlier writ petition, a communication dated 12.04.2017 from DoPT was also brought to the notice of the petitioner whereby it was informed that the Competent Authority had returned the proposal of extension of term of appointment of the petitioner and that the same was placed before the Selection Committee for consideration whereupon the selection committee recommended to carry forward the vacancy against which the extension of the term of appointment of the petitioner was sought, to vacancies of the year 2017. The said decision for carrying forward the vacancy to the year 2017 contained in the communication dated 12.04.2017 was also challenged by the petitioner by amending the Writ Petition No.6640 (S/B) of 2017. At this juncture itself we may notice that the decision/recommendation of the Selection Committee for carrying forward the vacancies to the year 2017, was concurred by Hon'ble the Chief Justice of India on 06.04.2017.

12. Writ Petition No.6640 (S/B) of 2017 was decided by a Division Bench of this Court vide judgment and order dated 08.05.2019. The said judgment was furnished to the DoPT by the petitioner for compliance which, according to the averments made in the counter affidavit filed by the respondents, was sent to the ACC Secretariat on 04.06.2019 for taking further necessary action in the matter. The counter affidavit further states that the ACC Secretariat vide Office Memorandum dated 14.06.2019 desired the DoPT to convey its specific recommendation/views on the proposal for extension of term of the appointment of petitioner before the ACC for consideration. Pursuant to the said Office Memorandum dated 14.06.2019 issued by the ACC Secretariat, the DoPT sent the proposal to the ACC Secretariat on 23.08.2019 for orders of the Competent Authority purportedly under Rule 9(4) of Administrative Tribunals (Procedure for Appointment of Members), Rules 2011 as amended in the year 2014. It is this approval accorded by the ACC to the proposal of the DoPT for denying the extension of the term of the petitioner which is under challenge in this writ petition.

13. For proper adjudication of the issues involved in this writ petition, it would be appropriate to make a mention of certain provisions contained in the Administrative Tribunals Act and the relevant Rules. Sub section 3 of section 6 of the Act provides that the Chairman and every other Member of the Central Administrative Tribunal shall be appointed after consultation with the Chief Justice of India, by the President. Section 8(2) of the said Act provides that a Member of the Tribunal shall hold office for a term of five years from the date he enters upon his office and such term is extendable by one more term of five years. It further provides that no Member shall hold office after he has attained the age of 65 years. Thus, section 8(2) of the said Act permits extension of term of appointment of a Member of the CAT subject to the condition that such extension would not be permissible after the Member concerned attains the age of 65 years. Section 6(3) and Section 8(2) of the Administrative Tribunal Act, 1985 are extracted herein below:

"Section 6(3):- The Chairman and every other Member of the Central Administrative Tribunal shall be appointed after consultation with the Chief Justice of India by the President.

Section 8(2): A Member shall hold office as such for a term of five years from the date on which he enters upon his office extendable by one more term of five years."

Provided that no Member shall hold office as such after he has attained the age of 65 years.

14. The Central Government in exercise of its power vested in it by section 36 of the Administrative Tribunals Act, 1985 has framed rules which govern the procedure for appointment of Members of the Tribunal. The Rules also govern extension of term of appointment of a Member of CAT. These rules are known as Administrative Tribunals (Procedure for Appointment of Members), Rules 2011. The said Rules, 2011 were amended by the Central Government vide notification dated 21.03.2014 and the amending Rules are called as the Administrative Tribunal (Procedure for Appointment of Members) Amendments Rules, 2014 (hereinafter referred to as "the Amendment Rules 2014"). The Rules notified on 30.12.2011 are extracted herein below:

15. The Amendment Rules 2014 are also extracted herein below:

"MINISTRY OF PERSONNEL, PUBLIC GRIEVANCES AND PENSIONS
(Department of Personnel and Training)
NOTIFICATION
New Delhi, the 21st March, 2014

G.S.R. 205 (E).--In exercise of the powers conferred by clause (c) of section 36 of the Administrative Tribunals Act, 1985 (13 of 1985), the Central Government hereby makes the following rules further to amend the Administrative Tribunals (Procedure for Appointment of Members) Rules, 2011, namely:-

3. In the said rules, after rule 8, the following rules shall be inserted, namely:--

(4) After consulting the concerned Governor under sub-rule (3), the recommendations of the Selection Committee together with the views of the Governor shall be forwarded to the Central Government and that Government after consulting the Chief Justice of India shall seek the orders of the competent authorities."

16. By introducing 2014 Amendment Rules, Rule 9 in 2011 Rules was added which provides for procedure for extension of term of appointment of Members of Tribunal. Rule 9 contains the entire scheme of consideration of extension of term of appointment of Members, according to which the process is initiated by the Chairman of the Tribunal. Rule 9(1) provides that the Chairman of the CAT may recommend the names of the Members with justification for extension of their term of appointment to the Central Government in accordance with the provisions of Section 8(2). As per sub rule 2 of rule 9, the proposal of the Chairman of the Tribunal is to be placed before the Selection Committee constituted under Rule 3(1) whereupon the Selection Committee is to make recommendation for extension of term of appointment to the Central Government. Once such recommendation by the Selection Committee is made for extension of term of appointment of a Member, under Rule 9(3) the Chief Justice of India is to be consulted in accordance with the provisions of section 6 (3) of the Act. The recommendations made by the Selection Committee are to be placed before the Chief Justice of India for his views. Sub rule 4 of rule 9 provides that the recommendation of the Selection Committee along with the views of the Chief Justice of India are to be submitted to the Competent Authority for orders. At this very juncture, we may point out that the Competent Authority in such matters as per the Government of India (Transaction of Business) Rules, framed under Article 77(3) of the Constitution of India, is the Appointments Committee of the Cabinet (ACC). We may also notice the composition of the Selection Committee in terms of Rule 3(1) of the Rules 2011, according to which such Selection Committee is to comprise of a sitting Judge of Supreme Court of India to be nominated by the Chief Justice of India, who is its Chairman. The Selection Committee also comprises of the Chairman, CAT, who is its Member, Secretary to the Government of India in the Ministry of Personnel and Public Grievances (Department of Personnel and Training), who is its second Member and Secretary to the Government of India in the Ministry of Law and Justice, Department of Legal Affairs, who is also a Member of the Selection Committee.

17. The composition of the Selection Committee as prescribed in Rule 3(1) of the Rules, 2011 thus makes it clear that it comprises of persons holding high offices in the Government as also holding constitutional office of the Judge of the Supreme Court of India. The sanctity and significance attached to such selection is highlighted by the composition of the Selection Committee as also the provision which requires consultation by the Chief Justice of India. The recommendation, thus, made by such high powered Selection Committee on account of the very nature of its composition itself are, thus, to be kept and treated at a very pedestal and thus we have no hesitation to observe that such recommendation by any such high powered Selection Committee along with views of the Hon'ble the Chief Justice of India cannot be negated in absence of any justifiable reason by any authority.

18. As observed above, the very composition of the Selection Committee itself attaches sanctity and purity to its recommendations. In this case, the fact that the Selection Committee had already recommended for extension of term of appointment of the petitioner with the concurrence of the Chief Justice of India has not been denied.

19. Thus, for the reasons aforesaid, unless we find some justifiable reason for not accepting such recommendation by the Competent Authority, the decision denying petitioner's extension of term of his appointment, in our considered opinion, would be illegal and vitiated.

20. While examining the reasons which form the proposal submitted by the DoPT denying the extension of the petitioner which was approved by the Competent Authority (ACC) we need to refer to the averments made in paragaraph 15 of the counter affidavit filed by the respondents. Para 15 of the said counter affidavit is extracted herein below:

"15.That it is pertinent to state that the proposal of DoPT for seeking the approval of ACC (Competent Authority) with regard to denial of extension of tenure of the petitioner was based on the fact that the Search cum Selection Committee, on placing before it the decision dated 06.03.2017 of the ACC regarding returning the proposal, recommended for carrying forward of those two vacancies to the next vacancy year and the same was also concurred by the Hon'ble CJI. Besides this, three more complaints were received against Shri Navneet Kumar. Although those complaints could not be verified due to non coming forward of the complainants but it is well accepted that the Judicial Authority not only should be fair but should look to be fair and unblemished also in his conduct and must uphold the highest standards of integrity to keep trust of public."

21. For culling out the reason, if any, which can be said to be available to the respondents for denying the extension of term of appointment of the petitioner, we may also refer to the Office Memorandum dated 14.06.2019, issued from the Secretariat of ACC, whereby the DoPT was required to convey its recommendation/proposal. In the said Office Memorandum dated 14.06.2019 what we find recited is that, "the Departments have not provided their specific recommendation/views on the order dated 08.05.2019 of the High Court of Allahabad, Lucknow Bench, Lucknow in Writ Petition No.6640 (S/B) of 2017: Navneet Kumar vs. Union Of India Through Secy. Personnel & Training & Anr". The said Office Memorandum further recites that, "the Departments are accordingly requested to convey their specific recommendations/views on the proposal along with approval of the Minister Incharge for placing the same before ACC for consideration".

22. We may also examine at this juncture itself the proposal submitted by the DoPT vide Office Memorandum dated 23.08.2019 pursuant to the Office Memorandum dated 14.06.2019. The said Office Memorandum, as is available on record placed before us by the learned counsel representing the Union of India, only recites the order of this Court dated 09.05.2019 and thereafter reproduces sub rule 4 of rule 9 of Rules 2011 as amended in 2014 and then it states that "three complaints were received from different quarters in DoPT against Shri Navneet Kumar. While the proposal for extension of tenure for his second term along with the status of those three complaints was still under consideration of ACC, three more complaints were received by the DoPT". This proposal further recites that, " although those complaints could not be verified due to non coming forward of the complainants, but it is a fact that these three complaints were received by the Government thereby casting a shadow on the working of the Hon'ble Member". The proposal also recites that, "it is well accepted that the Judicial Authority should not only be fair but should look to be fair also in his conduct and must uphold the highest standards of integrity to keep trust of public." Accordingly the proposal states that "keeping all in this view the Competent Authority decided not to recommend the officer for the said extension". The said Office Memorandum dated 23.08.2019 records its proposal as " issue of order conveying the decision of the ACC with regard to denial of extension of tenure in respect of Shri Navneet Kumar in compliance of the direction dated 09.05.2019 of Hon'ble High Court of Allahabad (Lucknow Bench)".

23. What we thus find from the above recorded facts is that once the order passed by this Court was submitted before the ACC, its Secretariat directed the DoPT to furnish its recommendation in respect of extension of term of appointment of the petitioner vide Office Memorandum dated 14.06.2019 whereupon vide Office Memorandum dated 23.08.2019 DoPT submitted its recommendation/proposal which is negatively worded and is based upon only one reason that is the complaints said to have been received against the petitioner. What we also notice from a perusal of the averments made in paragraph 15 of the counter affidavit is that basis of proposal made by the DoPT vide Office Memorandum dated 23.08.2019 was the complaints as mentioned in the said Office Memorandum as also the decision of the Selection Committee dated 06.03.2017 whereby the vacancy against which the petitioner's extension of term of appointment was being considered, was carried forward to the vacancies of the year 2017 which was concurred by the Chief Justice of India.

24. We thus, now proceed to examine the reasons indicated in the proposal/recommendation of the DoPT on the basis of which the impugned decision by approving the said proposal has been taken by the ACC.

25. As regards the plea taken by the respondents based on the decision of the Selection Committee for carrying forward the vacancies to the year 2017, we may observe that it is noticeable that the said decision has been expressed in the letter/order dated 12.04.2017 which was challenged by the petitioner by way of seeking amendment in the earlier writ petition, namely, Writ Petition No.6640 (S/B) of 2017. The Court while deciding the aforesaid writ petition vide its judgment and order dated 08.05.2019 allowed the writ petition while quashing the orders challenged in the writ petition. Opening sentence of the decision dated 08.05.2019 passed by this Court makes a mention as to what was challenged in said writ petition and the challenge included challenge to the letter/order dated 12.04.2017. Thus, once the said decision contained in the letter/order dated 12.04.2017 was quashed by this Court vide its judgment and order dated 08.05.2019, the plea based on the decision of the Selection Committee for carrying forward the vacancies to the year 2017, in our considered opinion, is not available to the respondents. As a matter of fact the said decision could not be taken aid of by the respondents in view of the judgment dated 08.05.2019 passed by this Court, for denying the extension of term of the appointment of the petitioner as member of the Tribunal. Further, at this juncture itself it would be appropriate to note that in the earlier writ petition, namely, the Writ Petition No.6640 (S/B) of 2017 the decision of the Competent Authority which is contained in the Office Memorandum dated 06.03.2017 whereby the proposal for extension of term of appointment of the petitioner was returned back, has also been quashed by this Court while the said writ petition was allowed.

26. Now coming to the second reason as pleaded by the respondents relating to availability of certain complaints which finds mentioned in the proposal dated 23.08.2019 submitted by the DoPT on the basis of which the Competent Authority has taken a decision, what we notice is that it is apparent that the proposal dated 23.08.2019 contains a summary of all those complaints. The last three complaints are dated 16.06.2016, 04.07.2016 and 22.07.2016. In respect of all these complaints, the proposal dated 28.08.2017 itself observes that " although those complaints could not be verified due to non coming forward of the complaints". Thus, clearly the proposal dated 23.08.2019 had taken into account the complaints which were not verified. The remarks contained in respect of all six complaints, as are available in the proposal dated 23.08.2019, are summarized herein below:

Complaint No.1: "Complaint was forwarded to CAT and CAT informed that main grievance of the complainant was against the judicial proceeding of CAT in the case filed by him. In terms of section 32 of AT Act no suit, prosecution etc. was possible."

Complaint No.2: "Complaints were forwarded to CAT. CAT replied that they verified that the person who was statedly sending complaints was not there. As such these were pseudonymous."

Complaint No.3: "Complaint was forwarded to CAT. CAT replied that the applicant was praying for hearing of his case by Chairman, CAT instead of Shri Navneet Kumar, However, Chairman, CAT authorized other member to hear his case. Even then he was not satisfied."

Complaint No.4: "Complainant was asked to verify but no reply came."

Complaint No.5: "Complainant was asked to verify but no reply came."

Complaint No.6: "The complainant was asked to verify but no reply came."

27. Having extracted the remarks of DoPT on all six complaints against the petitioner, we may notice now that this Court while deciding the earlier writ petition, namely, Writ Petition No.6640(S/B) of 2017 had perused the original record which were produced at the time of hearing of the said matter and in its judgment dated 08.05.2019 the Court had observed that "even reference of certain complaints have been given but no finding on it adverse to the petitioner has been recorded". Accordingly, having regard to the nature of complaints available on record and also keeping in view the observations made by this Court in its order dated 08.05.2019 to the effect that nothing adverse to the petitioner was found in the complaints, in our considered opinion, the reliance placed by the respondents for arriving at the decision which is under challenge herein is not worth being accepted.

28. In the light of these facts stated in the foregoing paragraphs, what we conclude is that the DoPT while preparing the proposal on the basis of which the impugned decision has been taken by the Competent Authority, has not given due regard to the judgment and order dated 08.05.2019 passed by this Court.

29. At the cost of repetition we may state that regarding complaints the observation was also made by this Court in the judgment dated 08.05.2019 that despite giving reference to certain complaints no findings on the same adverse to the petitioner was recorded. Similarly, it is also to be noticed that the decision of the Selection Committee for carrying forward the vacancy to the year 2017 also stood set aside by the order dated 08.05.2019 passed by this Court, inasmuch as the said decision contained in the letter/order dated 12.04.2017 was challenged by the petitioner which was quashed by the Court. Thus, we have no hesitation to hold that the proposal dated 23.08.2018 submitted by the DoPT pursuant to the Office Memorandum issued by the Secretariat of the ACC, dated 14.06.2019 furnished certain material/information which were not relevant at all for consideration of the case of the petitioner for grant of extension of term of his appointment as Judicial Member of the CAT.

30. Having observed as above, it is now to be noted that the Rules 2011 as amended vide notification dated 21.03.2014 only require the Competent Authority to consider the recommendation of the Selection Committee together with the views of the Chief Justice of India for the reason that sub rule 4 of rule 9 clearly states that the recommendation of the Selection Committee along with the views of the Chief Justice of India shall be submitted to the Competent Authority for orders. While we say that it is only the recommendation of the Selection Committee and the views of the Hon'ble the Chief Justice of India which should be placed or submitted to the Competent Authority for orders, we do not mean that the Administrative Department (which in this case is the DoPT) is precluded from bringing to the notice of the Competent Authority any relevant material such as complaints or reports or any other material reflecting upon the functioning of the Judicial Member of the CAT in respect of whom extension of term of appointment is being considered. However, while we say that it is well within the competence of the DoPT to furnish all relevant information and material before the Competent Authority i.e. ACC, for orders, we also observe that the rules do not envisage any "recommendation" to be furnished by the Administrative Department (DoPT). Furnishing recommendation by the DoPT, in fact, appears to be alien to the rules. We need to differentiate between furnishing of recommendations and submission of relevant material. The relevant material is placed before any authority or body for its consideration without any comment by the authority or person furnishing the same, however, recommendation would necessarily involve some views about the merit of candidature of the candidate concerned. Thus, in this view, any such recommendation, which is not envisaged under the rules, has the potential of affecting the mind of the Competent Authority whereas material in the form of complaints etc. if furnished, are to be considered without any recommendation of the Administrative Department. The Rules thus do not rightly envisage any recommendation to be furnished to the Competent Authority by the Administrative Department.

31. In this case, as is apparent from a bare reading of the proposal dated 23.08.2014, the DoPT has made the proposal which is couched in negative language. The proposal, in fact, suggests that the order conveying the decision of ACC with regard to the denial of extension of the term of the petitioner be issued in compliance of the directions dated 09.05.2019 passed by this Court. The opinion of the ACC, in our considered view, is to be formed by application of independent mind by its members for the reason that rule 9(4) of the Rules mandates the Competent Authority to pass orders or to take decision on the basis of the recommendations of the Selection Committee and the views of the Chief Justice of India. The Administrative Department in such matters, keeping in view the position of the rules as discussed above, is thus required only to furnish the recommendation of the Selection Committee, views of the Chief Justice of India and also any inputs which the department may be in possession of, for its consideration by the Competent Authority sans any recommendation.

32. In view of what we have stated above, it is abundantly clear that the proposal/recommendation submitted by the DoPT vide Office Memorandum dated 23.08.2019 is not only against the rules but it also contains certain material regarding which this Court in its judgment and order dated 08.05.2019 had made observations and had found that there did not exist anything adverse to the candidature of the petitioner. We are, thus, convinced that the decision making process as also the impugned decision whereby the proposal submitted by the DoPT to the Competent Authority for denial of extension of the term of appointment of the petitioner as Judicial Member of CAT has been approved, are vitiated.

33. In respect of submission made by the learned Senior Advocate appearing for the petitioner that having regard to the facts and circumstances of the case as also the manner in which the impugned decision has been taken, this Court itself is competent to issue appropriate direction granting extension of term of appointment of the petitioner, it is observed that so far as the proposition propounded in the judgments cited by the learned counsel for the petitioner is concerned, there cannot be any quarrel. However, we do not find it a case where findings recorded by the Competent Authority empowered under the rules can be substituted by us. It is ultimately the satisfaction of the Competent Authority under the rules which has to be given precedence and finality. As a word of caution at this juncture itself, we may, however, observe that this does not mean that the Competent Authority under the rules can easily ignore the recommendations of the Selection Committee which comprises of a sitting Judge of Hon'ble Supreme Court of India, the apex court of the country and officers of very higher rank in the Government of India. Such recommendation along with the views of Chief Justice of India cannot be brushed aside without there being any justifiable reason. As observed by Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of R. S. Mittal (supra) when a recommendation is made by the Selection Committee comprising of such high ranking officials and even constitutional functionary, there has to be a very strong and justifiable reason to decline such recommendation. Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Union of India and others vs. Kali Dass Batish (supra) has observed that if the legislature has reposed faith in the Chief Justice of India as the pater familias of the Judicial hierarchy in the country, it is not open to contend that the Chief Justice of India might have given his concurrence without application of mind or without calling for necessary inputs.

34. As noticed above, the recommendations, made by such statutory Selection Committee comprising of the persons, as elaborated above, by dint of the very nature of composition of the Committee, are to be placed at a higher pedestal. But the fact remains that all such recommendations and views are subject to the orders to be passed or decision to be taken by the Competent Authority in terms of Rule 9(4) of the Rules 2011 as amended in the year 2014. Therefore we do not find ourselves in agreement with this submission made by the learned counsel for the petitioner.

35. For the discussion made and the reasons given above, the writ petition is allowed.

36. The order dated 11.10.2019 as is available at page 53 of the writ petition and the communication dated 24.10.2019 as is available at page 52 of the writ petition are hereby quashed.

37. The Competent Authority under Rule 9(4) of Administrative Tribunals (Procedure for Appointment of Members), Rules 2011 as amended in the year 2014 vide notification dated 21.03.2014 will thus take decision afresh in the matter for grant of extension of term of appointment of the petitioner as Judicial Member of the CAT as early as possible, say within a period of ten weeks from the date a certified copy of this order is produced before the authority concerned.

38. In the facts of the case, there will be no order as to costs.

Writ Petition allowed. (E-1)

Cases relied on :-

1. D.S. Nakara & ors. Vs U.O.I. (1983) 1 SCC 305

2. All Manipur Pensioners Association by its Secretary Vs St. of Manipur; AIR 2019 SC 3338

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rajesh Singh Chauhan, J.)

1. Heard Sri O.P. Srivastava, learned Senior Advocate assisted by Sri Shobh Nath Pandey and Sri Kaushlendra Yadav, Advocates for the petitioners and Sri Vivek Kumar Shukla, learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel for the State-respondents. Useful assistance was provided by Law Trainee/ Clerk (Ms. Shama Parveen) of this Court

2. By means of first writ petition i.e. Writ Petition No.2306 (S/S) of 2004, the petitioners have prayed for the following reliefs:-

"(a) to issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of certiorari to quash the Government Orders dated 20.07.2001, 08.08.2001 and 03.09.2001, contained in Annexure Nos.1, 2 and 3 to the writ petition, to the extent they provide cut off date as 01.07.2001 for the grant of the benefit of the amended pay-scale of Rs.5500-9000, by declaring it arbitrary and unconstitutional

(b) to issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of mandamus thereby commanding the opposite parties to extend the benefit of the amended pay-scale of Rs.5500-9000 with effect from 01.01.1996 in accordance with the earlier Government Order dated 10th July, 1998, contained in Annexure No.4 to the writ petition and to fix the pension of the petitioner accordingly at their respective basic pay."

3. By means of second writ petition i.e. Writ Petition No.4953 (S/S) of 2006, the petitioners have prayed for the following reliefs:-

"(i) to issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of certiorari quashing the impugned order dated 20.09.2005, contained in Annexure No.1 to the writ petition.

(ii) to issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of certiorari quashing the impugned government order dated 03.09.2001, contained in Annexure No.2 to the writ petition, to the extent the petitioners have been deprived from getting the benefit of revision of the pay-scale in Vth Pay Commission Report (Central) w.e.f. 01.01.1996 and thereafter the pensionery benefits accordingly.

(iii) to issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of mandamus directing and commanding the opposite parties to allow the benefit of Vth Pay Commission Report (Central) to the petitioners and thereby the pay of the petitioners be accordingly fixed in the revised scale on 01.01.1996 and thereafter the pensionery benefits of the petitioners be computed accordingly and the arrears of the pensionery benefits be also given to them within some reasonable time which may be 2 weeks."

4. In both the writ petitions, the question of law to be considered is the same and, therefore, with the consent of learned counsel for the parties both the writ petitions are being decided by a common judgment and order.

5. The question to be considered is that as to whether the benefit of pay-scale revision which has been extended with effect from 01.01.1996 can be restricted with effect from 01.07.2001 without having any rational nexus with the object sought to be achieved.

6. Ignoring the unnecessary facts of both the cases the relevant facts to adjudicate the controversy in question are being considered.

7. In both the writ petitions, the petitioners have retired after 01.01.1996 and before 01.07.2001. However, by mans of Government Order dated 20.07.2001 and subsequent Government Orders the benefit of pay-scale revision has been restricted with effect from 01.07.2001 saying that the benefit of pay-scale revision would be extended with effect from 01.01.1996 to those employees who have retired on or after 01.07.2001. All those Government Orders have been assailed on the ground that those Government Orders are violative of Article 14 of the Constitution of India for creating class within the class for no cogent reason.

8. In the first writ petition, all the relevant Government Orders dated 20.07.2001, 08.08.2001 and 03.09.2001 have been assailed, whereas in the second writ petition only one Government Order dated 03.09.2001 has been assailed and the order dated 22.09.2005 has been assailed whereby the benefit, so prayed by the petitioners, has been rejected by the Joint Director of Education, VIth Region, Lucknow.

9. Since the very fact that all the petitioners of both the writ petitions have been retired on or after 01.01.1996 while serving on the post of Assistant Teacher in various Educational Institutions except petitioner No.1 in the second writ petition who retired from the post of Principal (Junior High School), Sohan Lal Inter College, Lucknow, therefore, there would be no use to go into the details of the relevant facts relating to the petitioners inasmuch as regarding their services as Assistant Teacher and Principal has not been disputed by the opposite parties and the only ground to not providing the benefit of the pay-scale revision to the petitioners is that they had been retired from service on or before 01.07.2001, therefore, they are not entitled for the benefit of the pay-scale revision in view of the Government Orders dated 20.07.2001 and 08.08.2001.

10. Sri O.P. Srivastava, learned Senior Advocate for the petitioners has drawn attention of this Court towards the Government Order dated 10.07.1998, which is contained as Annexure No.3 to the second writ petition, whereby on the basis of recommendations of the Pay Commission, U.P., 1998 the decision has been taken to provide the benefit of the pay-scale revision to the teaching and non-teaching staff of the Educational Institutions with effect from 01.01.1996.

11. On the basis of the aforesaid Government Order dated 10.07.1998, another Government Order dated 20.07.2001 (Annexure No.4 of the second writ petition) has been issued providing the benefit of the pay-scale revision to the teachers of the Primary and Secondary Educational Institutions with effect from 01.01.1996 providing further that the pay-scale shall be revised with effect from 01.07.2001.

12. By means of subsequent Government Order dated 08.08.2001 (Annexure No.5 of the second writ petition), it has been provided that the benefit of the pay-scale revision shall be given with effect from 01.01.1996 and employees concerned would submit their option as to whether they want to opt the benefit of such pay-scale revision or they do not want to opt such revision provided vide Government Order.

13. As a matter of fact, the Government Order dated 08.08.2001 provides the modalities providing the benefit of revised pay-scale revision. The Government Order dated 08.08.2001 has been modified vide Government Order dated 03.09.2001 (Annexure No.2 of the second writ petition), wherein it has been indicated that the benefit of the revised pay-scale revision shall be provided to those teachers who were in the employment on or after 01.07.2001. It has been further clarified in this Government Order dated 03.09.2001 that the benefit of pay-scale revision with effect from 01.01.1996 to 30.06.2001 shall be given on notional basis as no arrears shall be paid to any of the employees.

14. Sri O.P. Srivastava, learned Senior Advocate has submitted that he has instructions to say that none of the petitioners are claiming any arrears of benefit of revision of pay-scale with effect from 01.01.1996 to 30.01.2001. He has also submitted that the petitioners are claiming the benefit of pay-scale revision with effect from 01.01.1996 notionally for the reason that after 01.01.1996 the pay-scale was revised by the State Government and whatever the pay-scale was fixed after the said revision, the petitioners be provided such pay-scale and on the basis of the said pay-scale the petitioners be provided the consequential service benefits except the arrears of salary.

15. Sri O.P. Srivastava, learned Senior Advocate for the petitioners has submitted with vehemence that there may be no rational nexus with the object sought to be achieved by the impugned Government Orders, pursuant to which the rider has been imposed that those employees who have retired on or before 01.07.2001 would not be entitled for the benefit of the pay-scale revision. He has further submitted that the Government Order dated 01.07.1998 (supra) clearly indicates that the benefit of pay-scale revision would be paid to the employees with effect from 01.01.1996 without imposing any rider. Therefore, by means of the subsequent Government Orders whereby the aforesaid riders has been imposed, is not only illegal, discriminatory, unwarranted and uncalled for but the same is violative of Article 14 of the Constitution of India inasmuch as the aforesaid rider creates class within the class which is not permissible.

16. Sri O.P. Srivastava has further submitted that if the authorities impose the rider that the benefit of the pay-scale revision would not be paid to those employees who have retired on or before 01.01.1996, the date when the said benefit is extended to the employees, the said rider would have been justified but the rider so imposed by the Government Order 03.09.2001 for providing the benefit of pay-scale revision to the employees retired on or after 01.07.2001 is absolutely unwarranted. There is no dispute that the petitioners were very much in service when the benefit of pay-scale revision was extended to the employees i.e. 01.01.1996, therefore, such discrimination may not be permitted in the eyes of law.

17. On the other hand, Sri Vivek Kumar Shukla, learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel has submitted that for providing the benefit of Government Order dated 10.07.1998, the Government Order dated 20.07.2001 has been issued revising the pay-scale with effect from 01.07.2001 extending the benefit of pay-scale revision with effect from 01.01.1996 fixing the cut off date as 01.07.2001. He has further submitted that as per the subsequent Government Order dated 08.08.2001 the options were to be sought from the employees for extending the benefit of pay-scale revision with effect from 01.07.2001, therefore, such options would have been submitted by those employees who were working at that point of time. Since the petitioners have already retired from service on or before 01.07.2001, so no options could have been sought from them and, therefore, the benefit of revision of pay-scale could have not been extended.

18. On being confronted learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel on the Government Order dated 10.07.1998 (Annexure No.3 of the second writ petition), by means of which the benefit of revision of pay-scale has been given with effect from 01.01.1996 asking as to why this benefit can be denied to the petitioners who were very much in service on or before 01.01.1996, Sri Shukla has submitted that since this is a policy decision, therefore, such benefit could have not been provided to the petitioners immediately after 10.07.1998 and such benefit has been made available to the employees pursuant to the Government Order dated 03.09.2001.

19. On that, Sri O.P. Srivastava, learned Senior Advocate for the petitioners has submitted that if any policy decision is taken, which is patently violative of Article 14 of the Constitution of India creating class within the class, this Court after judicial scrutiny may set aside the same. He has again reiterated that there may not be absolutely any rational imposing the bar for not providing the benefit of revision of pay-scale to the employees who have retired on or after 01.01.1996. Sri Srivastava has referred the dictum of the Constitutional Bench of Hon'ble Apex Court in re:D.S. Nakara and others vs. Union of India reported in (1983) 1 SCC 305 referring paras 42, 46 & 65, which read as under:-

"42. If it appears to be undisputable, as it does to us that the pensioners for the purpose of pension benefits form a class, would its upward revision permit a homogeneous class to be divided by arbitrarily fixing an eligibility criteria unrelated to purpose of revision, and would such classification be founded on some rationalprinciple ? The classification has to be based, as is well settled, on some rational principle and the rational principle must have nexus to the objects sought to be achieved. We have set out the objects underlying the payment of pension. If the State considered it necessary to liberalise the pension scheme, we find no rational principle behind it for granting these benefits only to those who retired subsequent to that date simultaneously denying the same to those who retired prior to that date. If the liberalisation was considered necessary for augmenting social security in old age to government servants then those who retired earlier cannot be worst off than those who retire later. Therefore, this division which classified pensioners into two classes is not based on any rational principle and if the rational principle is the one of dividing pensioners with a view to giving something more to persons otherwise equally placed, it would be discriminatory. To illustrate, take two persons, one retired just a day prior and another a day just succeeding the specified date. Both were in the same pay bracket, the average emolument was the same and both had put in equal number of years of service. How does a fortuitous circumstance of retiring a day earlier or a day later will permit totally unequal treatment in the matter of pension ? One retiring a day earlier will have to be subject to ceiling of Rs. 8,100 p a. and average emolument to be worked out on 36 months' salary while the other will have a ceiling of Rs. 12,000 p.a. and average emolument will be computed on the basis of last ten months average. The artificial division stares into face and is unrelated to any principle and whatever principle, if there be any, has absolutely no nexus to the objects sought to be achieved by liberalising the pension scheme. In fact this arbitrary division has not only no nexus to the liberalised pension scheme but it is counter productive and runs counter to the whole gamut of pension scheme. The equal treatment guaranteed in Art.14 is wholly violated inasmuch as the pension rules being statutory in character, since the specified date, the rules accord differential and discriminatory treatment to equals in the matter of commutation of pension. A 48 hours difference in matter of retirement would have a traumatic effect. Division is thus both arbitrary and unprincipled. Therefore the classification does not stand the test of Art.14.

46. By our approach, are we making the scheme retroactive ? The answer is emphatically in the negative. Take a government servant who retired on April 1, 1979. He would be governed by the liberalised pension scheme. By that time he had put in qualifying service of 35 years. His length of service is arelevant factor for computation of pension. Has the Government made it retroactive, 35 years backward compared to the case of a Government servant who retired on 30th March, 1979 ? Concept of qualifying service takes note of length of service, and pension quantum is correlated to qualifying service. Is it retroactive for 35 years for one and not retroactive for a person who retired two days earlier? It must be remembered that pension is relatable to qualifying service. It has correlation to the average emoluments and the length of service. Any liberalisation would pro tanto be retroactive in the narrow sense of the term. Otherwise it is always prospective. A statute is not properly called a retroactive statute because a part of the requisites for its action is drawn from a time antecedent to its passing. (see Craies on Statute Law, sixth edition, p. 387). Assuming the Government had not prescribed the specified date and thereby provided that those retiring pre and post the specified date would all be governed by the liberalised pension scheme, undoubtedly, it would be both prospective and retroactive. Only the pension will have to be recomputed in the light of the formula enacted in the liberalised pension scheme and effective from the date the revised scheme comes into force. And beware that it is not a new scheme, it is only a revision of existing scheme. It is not a new retiral benefit. It is an upward revision of an existing benefit. If it was a wholly new concept, a new retiral benefit, one could have appreciated an argument that those who had already retired could not expect it. It could have been urged that it is an incentive to attract the fresh recruits. Pension is a reward for past service. It is undoubtedly a condition of service but not an incentive to attract new entrants because if it was to be available to new entrants only, it would be prospective at such distance of thirty-five years since its introduction. But it covers all those in service who entered thirty-five years back. Pension is thus not an incentive but a reward for past service. And a revision of an existing benefit stands on a different footing than a new retiral benefit. And even in case of new retiral benefit of gratuity under the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972 past service was taken into consideration. Recall at this stage the method adopted when pay-scales are revised. Revised pay-scales are introduced from a certain date. All existing employees are brought on to the revised scales by adopting a theory of fitments and increments for past service. In other words, benefit of revised scale is not limited to those who enter service subsequent to the date fixed for introducing revised scales but the benefit is extended to all those in service prior to that date. This is just and fair. Nowif pension as we view it, is some kind of retirement wages for past service, can it be denied to those who retired earlier, revised retirement benefits being available to future retirees only ? Therefore, there is no substance in the contention that the court by its approach would be making the scheme retroactive, because it is implicit in theory of wages.

65. That is the end of the journey. With the expanding horizons of socio-economic justice, the socialist Republic and welfare State which we endeavour to set up and largely influenced by the fact that the old men who retired when emoluments were comparatively low and are exposed to vagaries of continuously rising prices, the falling value of the rupee consequent upon inflationary inputs, we are satisfied that by introducing an arbitrary eligibility criteria: 'being in service and retiring subsequent to the specified date' for being eligible for the liberalised pension scheme and thereby dividing a homogeneous class, the classification being not based on any discernible rational principle and having been found wholly unrelated to the objects sought to be achieved by grant of liberalised pension and the eligibility criteria devised being thoroughly arbitrary, we are of the view that the eligibility for liberalised pension scheme of being in service on the specified date and retiring subsequent to that date' in impugned memoranda, Exhibits P-I and P-2, violates Art. 14and is unconstitutional and is struck down. Both the memoranda shall be enforced and implemented as read down as under: In other words, in Exhibit P-1, the words:

"that in respect of the Government servants who were in service on the 31st March, 1979 and retiring from service on or after that date" and in Exhibit P-2, the words:

"the new rates of pension are effective from 1st April 1979 and will be applicable to all service officers who became/become non-effective on or after that date."

are unconstitutional and are struck down with this specification that the date mentioned therein will be relevant as being one from which the liberalised pension scheme becomes operative to all pensioners governed by 1972 Rules irrespective of the date of retirement. Omitting the unconstitutional part it is declared that all pensioners governed by the 1972 Rules and Army Pension Regulations shall be entitled to pension as computed under the liberalised pension scheme from the specified date, irrespective of the date of retirement. Arrears of pension prior to the specified date as per fresh computation is not admissible. Let a writ to that effect be issued. But in the circumstances of the case, there will be no order as to costs."

20. Sri O.P. Srivastava, learned Senior Advocate for the petitioners has also referred para-8 of the dictum of Hon'ble

Apex Court in re: All Manipur Pensioners Association by its Secretary vs. State of Manipur reported in AIR 2019 SC 3338, which reads as under:-

"8. Even otherwise on merits also, we are of the firm opinion that there is no valid justification to create two classes, viz., one who retired pre1996 and another who retired post1996, for the purpose of grant of revised pension, In our view, such a classification has no nexus with the object and purpose of grant of benefit of revised pension. All the pensioners form a one class who are entitled to pension as per the pension rules.Article 14 of the Constitution of India ensures to all equality before law and equal protection of laws. At this juncture it is also necessary to examine the concept of valid classification. A valid classification is truly a valid discrimination. It is true thatArticle 16 of the Constitution of India permits a valid classification. However, a very classification must be based on a just objective. The result to be achieved by the just objective presupposes the choice of some for differential consideration/treatment over others.

A classification to be valid must necessarily satisfy two tests. Firstly, the distinguishing rationale has to be based on a just objective and secondly, the choice of differentiating one set of persons from another, must have a reasonable nexus to the objective sought to be achieved. The test for a valid classification may be summarised as a distinction based on a classification founded on an intelligible differentia, which has a rational relationship with the object sought to be achieved. Therefore, whenever a cutoff date (as in the present controversy) is fixed to categorise one set of pensioners for favourable consideration over others, the twin test for valid classification or valid discriminationtherefore must necessarily be satisfied. In the present case, the classification in question has no reasonable nexus to the objective sought to be achieved while revising the pension. As observed hereinabove, the object and purpose for revising the pension is due to the increase in the cost of living. All the pensioners form a single class and therefore such a classification for the purpose of grant of revised pension is unreasonable, arbitrary, discriminatory and violative of Article 14 of the Constitution of India. The State cannot arbitrarily pick and choose from amongst similarly situated persons, a cutoff date for extension of benefits especially pensionery benefits. There has to be a classification founded on some rational principle when similarly situated class is differentiated for grant of any benefit.

8.1 As observed hereinabove, and even it is not in dispute that as such a decision has been taken by the State Government to revise the pension keeping in mind the increase in the cost of living. Increase in the cost of living would affect all the pensioners irrespective of whether they have retired pre1996 or post1996. As observed hereinabove, all the pensioners belong to one class. Therefore, by such a classification/cutoff date the equals are treated as unequals and therefore such a classificationwhich has no nexus with the object and purpose of revision of pension is unreasonable, discriminatory and arbitrary and therefore the said classification was rightly set aside by the learned Single Judge of the High Court. At this stage, it is required to be observed that whenever a new benefit is granted and/or new scheme is introduced, it might be possible for the State to provide a cutoff date taking into consideration its financial resources. But the same shall not be applicable with respect to one and single class of persons, the benefit to be given to the one class of persons, who are already otherwise getting the benefits and the question is with respect to revision."

21. Having heard learned counsel for the parties and having perused the material available on record and also the dictum of Hon'ble Apex Court in re: D.S. Nakara (supra) and All Manipur Pensioners Association (supra), I am of the considered opinion that there is no rational basis extending the benefit of revision of pay-scale only to those employees who have retired on or after 01.07.2001 and restricting for those employees have retired on or before 01.07.2001 and there is patently no rational nexus with the object sought to be achieved by the impugned Government Orders.

22. By means of the impugned Government Orders and the impugned order, the State Government/ Authorities tried to create class within the class, which is not permissible in the eyes of law. I am afraid as to how the authorities are treating those employees/ teachers who retired on or after 01.01.1996 and on or before 01.07.2001 as one class and the employees / teachers who retired on or after 01.01.2001 as another class for providing the benefit of revision of pay-scale which has admittedly been extended to the employees with effect from 01.01.1996. As a matter of fact, both the set of employees, as aforesaid, are one class and by means of any Government order or Government Policy those employees cannot be discriminated. Had the authorities imposed rider of extending the benefit of revision of pay-scale to the employees who have retired on or before 01.01.1996, such rider would have been sustained for the reason that on the date when the benefit of revision of pay-scale was provided those employees were not in service. However, in the present case, admittedly all the petitioners were very much in service when the benefit of revision of pay-scale was extended i.e. from 01.01.1996.

23. In view of the above, both the writ petitions succeed and are allowed.

24. The order dated 22.09.2005 passed by the Joint Director of Education, VIth Region, Lucknow, which is contained as Annexure No.1 to the second writ petition, is hereby set aside/ quashed.

25. The rider so imposed in the Government Order dated 03.09.2001 to the effect that the benefit of revision of pay-scale would be given to those employees who have retired on or after 01.07.2001 is hereby declared as non est and the same may not be read against the petitioners.

26. A writ in the nature of mandamus is issued commanding the opposite parties to take appropriate decision in the issue of the petitioners in the light of the Government Order dated 10.07.1998 (Annexure No.3 of the second writ petition) providing them the benefit of revision of pay-scale with effect from 01.01.1996 notionally ignoring the such rider imposed in the Government Order dated 03.09.2001 for the petitioners only.

27. Such appropriate order shall be passed with expedition preferably within a period of two months from the date of presentation of a certified/ computerized copy of this order.

28. No order as to costs.

6. R. K. Singh Vs State of U.P. & ors.1991 Supp (2) SCC 126

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rajesh Singh Chauhan, J.)

1. Heard Sri Mahendra Pratap Singh, learned counsel for the petitioner and Sri Vinod Kumar Shukla, learned Standing Counsel for the State-respondents.

2. Rejoinder affidavit sent by the Registry is taken on record.

3. By means of this petition, the petitioner has prayed following reliefs:-

"i. issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of Certiorari to quash the impugned orders dated 04-01-2021 and 05-06-2020 passed by the opposite party no.1 contained as annexure no.1 & 2 to this writ petition.

ii. issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of Mandamus commanding the respondents to open seal cover and promote the petitioner on the post of Superintendent Engineer in view of recommendation of Departmental Promotion Committee convened on 19-07-2018 from the date other incumbents were considered and promoted in pursuance to recommendation of Departmental Promotion Committee held on 19-07-2018, with all consequential benefits.

iii. issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of Mandamus commanding respondents not to make any promotion on the post of Chief Engineer until the petitioner is promoted on the post of Superintendent Engineer in view of recommendation of Departmental Promotion Committee convened on 19-07-2018."

4. The precise contention of learned counsel for the petitioner is that for making promotion of the petitioner on the post of Superintending Engineer his issue was kept under sealed cover by the Departmental Promotion Committee (hereinafter referred to as "DPC") dated 19.7.2018. However, no decision was taken by the date of review DPC i.e. 11.7.2019. The reason to keep the promotion of the petitioner under sealed cover was that the petitioner was awarded adverse entry vide order dated 12.12.2018, however, the said punishment was not prescribed under the Service Rules. Therefore, the petitioner challenged the order dated 12.12.2018 before this Court by filing Writ Petition 34856 (S/S) of 2019; Mrityunjai Kumar Vs. State of U.P. and others, placing reliance upon the dictum of the Hon'ble Apex Court in re; Vijay Singh Vs. State of U.P. and others, (2012) 5 SCC 242, wherein the Apex Court has held that the employee may not be awarded any punishment which is not prescribed under the Rules. On the basis of aforesaid dictum of the Hon'ble Apex Court, this Court vide judgment and order dated 7.1.2020 set aside the order dated 12.12.2018 directing the opposite parties to make promotion of the petitioner on the post of Superintending Engineer in the Minor Irrigation Department ignoring such punishment order dated 12.12.2018.

5. On 9.1.2020, the Government has passed an order expunging such special adverse entry from the service record of the petitioner awarding him "Utkrishth" entry for the period in question. However, the petitioner was not given promotion pursuant to the order dated 7.1.2020. Vide order dated 5.6.2020, claim of the petitioner for promotion on the post of Superintending Engineer has been turned down on the basis of pending departmental enquiry initiated on 24.1.2020.

6. Learned counsel for the petitioner has submitted that since the aforesaid departmental enquiry may not be treated as bar promoting the petitioner on the post of Superintending Engineer inasmuch as as per trite law, only such material can be considered which was existing at the time of DPC and admittedly, when the DPC in question has met on 19.7.2018, no such material was available with the Department. Therefore, the petitioner filed another writ petition bearing Service Single No.8490 of 2020; Mrityunjai Kumar Vs. State of U.P., and the said writ petition was decided finally vide judgment and order dated 10.6.2020 directing the opposite parties to take fresh decision in the issue of the petitioner. Operative portion of the judgment and order dated 10.6.2020 is being reproduced herein below:-

"Be that as it may the fact of the matter is that the earlier proceedings have come to an end. Therefore the least that is require to be done by the competent authority is to take a decision as to whether the sealed cover is required to be opened or not, if not, the reasons therefore in the light of the aforesaid Government Order dated 28.05.1997 and such other government orders or rules as may be applicable as also the law on the subject. The matter cannot be kept in limbo indefinitely. In fact when a recommendation is kept in sealed cover as and when the next DPC meets, it is necessarily to be opened and if the proceedings are still pending it is again to be kept in sealed cover otherwise they are to be acted upon unless there is some legal impediment in this regard. But all these are issues which are to be considered by the State Government. Let a decision be taken on an representation being filed by the petitioner in this regard, as aforesaid, within one month of such representation being submitted. The representation itself be submitted within 10 days.

It is made clear that this Court has not decided the merits of the claim of the petitioner. All points are open for consideration at the competent level in accordance with rules/law.

With these observations, this petition is disposed of."

7. In compliance of the aforesaid order, the impugned order dated 4.1.2021 has been passed by opposite party no.1 rejecting the claim of the petitioner for promotion on the post of Superintending Engineer on the basis of pending departmental enquiry since 24.1.2020. Learned counsel for the petitioner has taken specific plea to that effect in para-43 of the writ petition, which reads as under:-

"43. That name of the petitioner was considered by the Departmental Promotion Committee convened on 19-07-2018, but recommendation pertaining to the petitioner were kept in seal cover in consideration of the fact that departmental enquiry proceedings were pending on the date, when Departmental Promotion Committee was convened i.e. on 19-07-2018. Now the Departmental Enquiry Proceedings having been concluded vide order dated 12-12-2018 and the order dated 12-12-2018 having been quashed by the Hon'ble court vide order dated 07-01-2020, the petitioner is fully entitled for promotion in pursuance to recommendation of the Departmental Promotion Committee convened on 19-07-2018."

8. Replying to the aforesaid contention, no specific explanation has been given by the State in the counter affidavit vide para-15, which reads as under:-

"15. That the contents of paragraphs 43 and 44 of the writ petition are not admitted as stated hence denied and in reply thereto it is stated that the necessary proceeding with respect to the determination of the process of closing envelope proceedings, etc. in the elections for promotions of government employees of the State was initiated as per the arrangement given in Chapter-11 of Office Memorandum No. 13/21/89-ka-1997 dated 28.5.1997."

9. The law is trite that the specific recital of the petition should be denied specifically citing reasons and legal position, if any, and simple denial is no denial in the eyes of law. In para-15 of the counter affidavit, I am unable to comprehend as to what has been indicated by the State referring Chapter-11 of the Government order dated 28.5.1997. This is not Chapter-11 but it is para-11 of the Government Order dated 28.5.1997. However, para-11 of the aforesaid Government Order simply provides that at the time of meeting of DPC, if any adverse material comes into the notice of the Committee, the issue of the employee may be kept under sealed cover. In the present case, admittedly, the DPC had met on 19.7.2018 for promoting the petitioner on the post of Superintending Engineer and on account of adverse entry awarded to the petitioner on 12.12.2018, his promotion was kept under sealed cover pursuant to para-11 of the Government Order dated 28.5.1997. Further, on account of impugned order dated 12.12.2018, the petitioner could not get promotion vide review DPC dated 11.7.2019, however, as soon as the order dated 12.12.2018 has been set aside by this Court on 7.1.2020 and such adverse remark has been expunged by the Government on 9.1.2020, the sealed cover of the petitioner should have been opened and he should have been promoted on the post of Superintending Engineer.

10. Having heard learned counsel for the parties and having perused the material available on record, I am of the considered opinion that the DPC can consider only such material which was available before it on or before the date of DPC. No adverse material of any kind whatsoever can be considered which came into the notice before the competent authority or before the DPC after the meeting of DPC. In the present case, the foundation and basis of the impugned order dated 4.1.2021 is that one departmental enquiry was pending against the petitioner w.e.f. 24.1.2020 under Rule 7 of Rules, 1999, therefore, in view of para-11 of the Government Order dated 28.5.1997, the issue of the petitioner should be kept under sealed cover until such departmental enquiry concludes.

11. The aforesaid reason is patently illegal, arbitrary, discriminatory and unwarranted on the face of it inasmuch as the case of the petitioner is not to be considered afresh vide DPC dated 20.3.2020 but the case of the petitioner would be considered pursuant to the DPC dated 19.7.2018 when his promotion was kept under sealed cover. There is no dispute that the reason for which the promotion of the petitioner was kept under sealed cover on 19.7.2018 is not in existence since 7.1.2020 when the very reason i.e. order dated 12.12.2018 has been set aside by this Court in Service Single No.34856 of 2019. Therefore, para-11 of the Government Order dated 28.5.1997 has been wrongly invoked vide impugned order dated 4.1.2021. Since the order dated 7.1.2020 passed by this Court in Service Single No.34856 of 2019 has attained finality, therefore, in compliance of the aforesaid order the sealed cover of the petitioner should be opened and he should be promoted on the post of Superintending Engineer in the Minor Irrigation Department pursuant to the recommendation of the DPC dated 19.7.2018. The Hon'ble Apex Court in re; Delhi Jal Board Vs. Mahinder Singh, (2000) 7 SCC 210, has observed as under:-

"5. The right to be considered by the Departmental Promotion Committee is a fundamental right guaranteed under Article 16 of the Constitution of India, provided a person is eligible and is in the zone of consideration. The sealed cover procedure permits the question of his promotion to be kept in abeyance till the result of any pending disciplinary inquiry. But the findings of the disciplinary inquiry exonerating the officer would have to be given effect to as they obviously relate back to the date on which the charges are framed. If the disciplinary inquiry ended in his favour, it is as if the officer had not been subjected to any disciplinary inquiry. The sealed cover procedure was envisaged under the rules to give benefit of any assessment made by the Departmental Promotion Committee in favour of such an officer, if he had been found fit for promotion and if he was later exonerated in the disciplinary inquiry which was pending at the time when DPC met. The mere fact that by the time the disciplinary proceedings in the first inquiry ended in his favour and by the time the sealed cover was opened to give effect to it, another departmental enquiry was started by the Department, would not, in our view, come in the way of giving him the benefit of the assessment by the first Departmental Promotion Committee in his favour in the anterior selection. There is, therefore, no question of referring the matter to a larger Bench."

12. The Hon'ble Apex Court in re; Brij Nath Pandey Vs. State of U.P., (2001) 9 SCC 398, vide para-2 has observed as under:-

"2. Heard counsel on both sides. The appellant was denied promotion in the selection which took place in 1995 when, according to him, his junior was promoted. According to the appellant the adverse entries in his annual confidential reports of 1985-86 and 1986-87 could not have been taken into consideration in view of the fact that the appellant was subsequently allowed to cross the efficiency bar since 1-1-1992 vide an order dated 20-5-1992. In our view this contention of the appellant is correct and the adverse entries in 1985-86 and 1986-87 cannot come in the way of the appellant for further promotion once he was allowed to cross the efficiency bar on 20-5-1992. So far as the adverse remarks of 1993-94 are concerned at the time of the selection in 1995 the said adverse remarks were there on record but they were subsequently deleted on 6-7-1996. Therefore, the appellant is entitled to a fresh consideration for his promotion in 1995. The respondents are therefore directed to consider the case of the appellant afresh with reference to the selection of 1995 when his junior was promoted."

13. The Division Bench of this Court in re; Gyan Prakash Pandey Vs. State of U.P. and Others, [2018 (6) ADJ 670 (DB) (LB)], State of U.P. through Principal Secretary, Irrigation & Water Resource Vs. Suresh Pandey, 2019 Legal Eagle (ALD) 926, has clearly held that only those material can be considered by the DPC which are available before the DPC.

14. The Division Bench of this Court in re; State of U.P. & Another Vs. Nand Kumar Singh, Special Appeal No.478 of 2010, vide para-7 has interpreted para-11 of the Government Order dated 28.5.1997 as under:-

"7. In our opinion, once three cases are manifest under which the sealed cover procedure has to be followed, Paragraph 11 will have to be considered in that context, otherwise this would result in adding another case. The only way to harmonize the rules, considering paragraphs 2 and 11, is to hold that if on the date of D.P.C. there was a charge-sheet and this was not within the knowledge of the Selection Committee even at the stage of issuing the letter of appointment, the sealed cover procedure can be followed. In our opinion, this would be a proper and harmonious construction of the two rules."

15. Not only the above, the Hon'ble Apex Court in re; R.K. Singh Vs. State of U.P. & Others, 1991 Supp (2) SCC 126, has held that after expungtion of adverse material, the employee would be entitled for the benefits w.e.f. the date when it was due to him.

16. Admittedly, in the present case, the issue of the petitioner was kept under sealed cover on 19.7.2018 for the reason he was awarded adverse entry vide order dated 12.12.2018 and after setting aside the order dated 12.12.2018, which was adverse material before the DPC held on 19.7.2018, the petitioner was legally entitled for the promotion as per recommendation of DPC dated 19.7.2018.

17. Therefore, in view of the above, the writ petition is allowed.

A writ in the nature of certiorari is issued quashing the orders dated 4.1.2021 and 5.6.2020 passed by opposite party no.1, which are contained in Annexure Nos.1 & 2 to the writ petition. A writ in the nature of mandamus is issued commanding the opposite parties to open the sealed cover of the petitioner and promote him on the post of Superintending Engineer in view of the recommendation of Departmental Promotion Committee convened on 19.7.2018 from the date the other incumbents were considered for promotion pursuant to such recommendation.

18. The petitioner shall be entitled for all consequential service benefits.

19. No order as to costs.

1. Heard Sri Ashok Shukla, learned counsel for the petitioner and Sri Ram Ratan, learned counsel for the respondents.

"(i) issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of mandamus commanding the Uttar Pradesh Uttar Pradesh State Bridge Corporation, the Respondent No. 1 and its Managing Director, the Respondent No.2 to grant the promotion, with all consequential benefits, to the Petitioner with effect from 08.03.2019, the date on which the promotion was granted to his juniors on the post of Assistant Engineer (Civil).

(ii) issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of mandamus commanding the Uttar Pradesh State Bridge Corporation, the Respondent No. l and its Managing Director, the respondent no.2 to allow the benefit of 1st and 2nd ACP w.e.f. 2008 and 2014 respectively and consequently re-fix the pay of the petitioner and arrears of salary accrued as such be also paid with interest @ 18% per annum thereupon from due upto the date of actual payment.

3. By means of second writ petition i.e. Service Single No. 12047 of 2021, the following prayers have been made:-

"(i) issue an order, direction or writ in the nature of certiorari quashing the impugned punishment order dated 02.06.2021 as contained in Annexure No.1 to the writ petition with all consequential benefits.

(ii) issue an order, direction or writ in the nature of mandamus commanding the opposite parties not to implement the impugned punishment order dated 02.06.2021 as contained in Annexure No.1 to the writ petition."

4. Since both the writ petitions are of the same petitioner and issues are interrelated, therefore, with the consent of respective parties I hereby dispose of both the writ petitions by this common judgment.

5. The questions to be considered in both the writ petitions are that as to whether the departmental enquiry can be conducted and concluded beyond the period so stipulated by the Court without taking leave in view of the decision of Full Bench of this Court in re:- Abhishek Prabhakar Awasthi vs. New India Assurance Company Limited and Others [reported in 2014 (6) ADJ 641]. Secondly, as to whether if any punishment order is awarded pursuant to the departmental enquiry so conducted and concluded beyond the period so stipulated by the Court without taking leave can be sustained in the eyes of law.

6. The brief facts of the case are that the petitioner was appointed on the post of Junior Engineer (Civil) in the U.P. State Bridge Corporation Ltd.

7. The disciplinary proceedings for the alleged shortcoming in the Central Store (Civil) at Bridge Construction Unit, Saidpur was instituted against the petitioner and a charge-sheet dated 09.10.2015 was issued and served upon the petitioner to which he has submitted reply on 31.10.2015 denying the charges levelled against him annexing therewith documentary evidence.

8. On 20.03.2016, the Presenting Officer has submitted the departmental comments on the reply of the petitioner dated 31.10.2015 to the Enquiry Officer. Thereafter, the Enquiry Officer has fixed a date for personal hearing on 23.04.2016 and submitted enquiry report on 09.11.2016.

9. Thereafter, on 30.11.2016 the disciplinary authority-respondent no.2 has issued show-cause notice to the petitioner annexing therewith the copy of the enquiry report dated 09.11.2016 reply thereof has been submitted by the petitioner on 13.12.2016.

10. During the pendency of the aforesaid enquiry, a notice dated 03.03.2017 was issued to the petitioner by the General Manager calling upon him to show cause as to why recovery of a sum of Rs.14,93,546/- may not be made from him for the same issue for which enquiry was pending reply thereof has been submitted by the petitioner on 23.03.2017.

11. When the petitioner came to know about the promotion of certain Junior Engineers on the post of Assistant Engineers who are junior to the petitioner, he moved an application to the respondent no.2 with a request to take decision in respect of promotion of the petitioner on the post of Assistant Engineer.

12. The disciplinary authority instead of taking any decision in the pending enquiry issued a show-cause notice (second) dated 25.06.2019 to the petitioner annexing therewith the copy of enquiry report dated 04.06.2019 to which the petitioner has submitted his reply on 10.07.2019 (Annexure No.16). Moreover, he had specifically mentioned in the reply that he had never been informed about the enquiry giving rise to enquiry report dated 04.06.2019.

13. The petitioner feeling aggrieved from the enquiry report dated 04.06.2019, show-cause notice dated 25.06.2019 as well as notice of recovery dated 03.03.2017 had preferred the Writ Petition No. 22962 (S/S) of 2019, impugning the same before this Court. The Court vide judgment and order dated 13.11.2019 disposed of the aforesaid writ petition setting aside the show-cause notice dated 25.06.2019, the enquiry report dated 04.06.2019 as well as the notice of recovery dated 03.03.2019 (it should be 03.03.2017). However, it was left open to the respondents to continue with departmental proceedings against the petitioner and taking the same to its logical end. Moreover, the Court had also commanded that as the departmental enquiry is pending against the petitioner since 2015, therefore, departmental enquiry shall be concluded and final order would be passed within a period of four months from the date of receipt of a certified copy of the judgment. The operative portion of the judgment and order dated 13.11.2019 is being reproduced hereinbelow:-

"The writ petition is accordingly disposed of after setting-aside the order dated 25.06.2019 and inquiry report dated 04.06.2019 as well as notice dated 03.03.2019 leaving it open for the respondents to continue with departmental proceedings against the petitioner and taking the same to their logical end. It is also provided as the departmental inquiry is pending against the petitioner since 2015, the said proceedings shall be concluded and final order would be passed within a period of four months from the date of receipt of a certified copy of this order. Needless to mention that the petitioner would cooperate in the inquiry."

14. On 19.11.2019, the certified copy of the judgment and order dated 13.11.2019 was sent by counsel for the petitioner through Speed Post to the Managing Director. A letter dated 23.12.2019 was issued by the Chief Project Manager (Complaint) addressing to the Chief Project Manager, (Ayodhya)/Enquiry Officer to complete the enquiry pending against the petitioner in the light of judgment and order dated 13.11.2019.

15. The Chief Project Manager (Ayodhya) vide letter dated 15.01.2020 intimated the petitioner that 24.01.2020 is the date fixed for the enquiry but the enquiry proceedings were not held on that date as the Enquiry Officer was busy in some other work. On 31.01.2020, the petitioner again appeared before the Enquiry Officer and the Enquiry Officer had submitted the enquiry report on 27.02.2020 to the Chief Project Manager. (Complaint).

16. Thereafter, on 13.03.2020 the disciplinary authority issued a show-cause notice to the petitioner annexing therewith the enquiry report dated 27.02.2020 and the reply thereof has been submitted by the petitioner on 30.03.2020 wherein he had specifically mentioned that no enquiry, whatsoever, has been conducted as per law and rules even after the judgment and order dated 13.11.2019. On the contrary the enquiry report dated 27.02.2020 itself reveals that the same is reproduction of the earlier enquiry report dated 04.06.2019 (which was set-aside vide judgment and order dated 13.11.2019).

17. Vide letter dated 6.6.2020, the General Manager (Complaint) asked the petitioner to submit his reply to the show-cause notice dated 13.03.2020 as he has not submitted the reply and the matter is being delayed. Thereafter, the petitioner in his letter dated 12.06.2020 informed the General Manager (Complaint) that he had already submitted his reply on 30.03.2020 to the show-cause notice dated 13.03.2020 through e-mail on 31.03.2020 to the office of the Managing Director.

18. In spite of lapse of time fixed by the Court vide judgment and order dated 13.11.2019, the respondents again kept the disciplinary proceedings pending and that too the detriment of the petitioner.

19. The petitioner, feeling aggrieved, by the illegal action of the respondents had again approached this Court through Writ Petition No. 11867 (S/S) of 2020. The Court vide order dated 29.7.2020 directed the counsel for the respondents to satisfy the Court as to why further time should be granted in a proceeding which is pending since 2012 i.e. for the past eight years keeping in mind the law laid down by the Full Bench of this Court. The Hon'ble Court further directed to produce the record of disciplinary proceedings or file an affidavit.

20. In view of the aforesaid facts and circumstances of the case, there is no dispute that the certified copy of the judgment and order dated 13.11.2019 was provided to the competent authority through registered post dated 19.11.2019 and the competent authority took cognizance of the said judgment and order vide letter dated 23.12.2019 (Annexure No.20 of the second writ petition). Therefore, the enquiry in question must have been concluded and final order must have been passed on or before 23.04.2020, the period of four months as stipulated vide judgment and order dated 13.11.2019. However, the certified copy of the judgment and order dated 13.11.2019 has been sent to the Managing Director through registered post on 19.11.2019 and if the five days period is counted for the service in that case the departmental enquiry must have been concluded and final order must have been passed on or before 24.03.2020 i.e. four months' period.

21. To be more precise, the maximum period of four months was provided to the disciplinary authority to pass final order taking the cognizance of the enquiry report but no final order was passed within a maximum period of four months as stipulated by this Court vide judgment and order dated 13.11.2019.

22. On being confronted the learned counsel for the opposite parties as to why the final order has not been passed within time stipulated by this Court vide judgment and order dated 13.11.2019, he could not explain the appropriate reason to this effect. On being further confronted learned counsel for the respondent as to why the Managing Director has not given reference of the judgment and order dated 13.11.2019 whereby the rider of four months have been imposed for passing final order, in the impugned order dated 02.06.2021, again the learned counsel for the respondents could not justify the inaction of the Managing Director. On a pinpoint query as to whether any leave was granted by the Court extending the time for passing final order, the learned counsel for the respondent has submitted that no such leave was granted. Then another pinpoint query was made from him seeking explanation that despite about fourteen months delay which has been caused in passing final order on 02.06.2021, the impugned order which is contained as Annexure no.1 to the second writ petition, neither any reason of such delay has been explained nor any plausible explanation has been given by the learned counsel for the respondents. Lastly, he has been asked as to why the enquiry of the year 2012 has been concluded after about nine years when the final order is passed on 02.06.2021, there was no cogent explanation with learned counsel for the respondent.

23. Having heard learned counsel for the parties and having perused the material available on record, I am of the considered opinion that the impugned Office Memo dated 02.06.2021 passed by the Managing Director which is contained as Annexure no.1 to the second writ petition whereby the direction for making recovery of Rs.13,84,290/- with punishment of censure entry is apparently illegal, arbitrary, unwarranted and in violation of the decision of Full Bench of this Court in re:- Abhishek Prabhakar Awasthi (supra).

24. Before the Full Bench in re:- Abhishek Prabhakar Awasthi (supra) two questions were referred for adjudication which have been indicated in para 2 of the judgment as under:-

"2. The following questions have been referred in the order of the learned Single Judge for determination by the Full Bench:-

"(a) Whether if an inquiry proceeding is not concluded within a time frame fixed by a court and concluded thereafter, without seeking extension from the Court then on the said ground the entire inquiry proceeding as well as punishment order passed, is vitiated in view of the judgment in the case of P.N. Srivastava; and

(b) Whether the law as laid down by a Division Bench of this Court in the case of P.N. Srivastava that if an inquiry proceeding is not concluded within a time frame as fixed by a Court, it stands vitiated is still a good law in view of the judgment rendered by the Supreme Court in the case of Suresh Chandra as well as a judgment dated 27.07.2009 of a Division Bench of this Court in Writ Petition No. 1056 (SB) of 2009 (Union of India and others Vs. Satendra Kumar Sahai and another)."

25. The Full Bench in Para 19 was pleased to answer those questions as under:-

"19. In view of the above discussion, we now proceed to answer the questions which have been referred to the Full Bench.

(A) Question No. (a): We hold that if an enquiry is not concluded within the time which has been fixed by the Court, it is open to the employer to seek an extension of time by making an appropriate application to the court setting out the reasons for the delay in the conclusion of the enquiry. In such an event, it is for the court to consider whether time should be extended, based on the facts and circumstances of the case. However, where there is a stipulation of time by the Court, it will not be open to the employer to disregard that stipulation and an extension of time must be sought;

(B) Question No. (b): The judgment of the Supreme Court in the case of Suresh Chandra (supra) as well as the judgment of the Division Bench of this Court in the case of Satyendra Kumar Sahai (supra) clearly indicate that a mere delay on the part of the employer in concluding a disciplinary enquiry will not ipso facto nullify the entire proceedings in every case. The court which has fixed a stipulation of time has jurisdiction to extend the time and it is open to the court, while exercising that jurisdiction, to consider whether the delay has been satisfactorily explained. The court can suitably extend time for conclusion of the enquiry either in a proceeding instituted by the employee challenging the enquiry on the ground that it was not completed within the stipulated period or even upon an independent application moved by the employer. The court has the inherent jurisdiction to grant an extension of time, the original stipulation of time having been fixed by the court itself. Such an extension of time has to be considered in the interests of justice balancing both the need for expeditious conclusion of the enquiry in the interests of fairness and an honest administration. In an appropriate case, it would be open to the Court to extend time suo motu in order to ensure that a serious charge of misconduct does not go unpunished leading to a serious detriment to the public interest. The court has sufficient powers to grant an extension of time both before and after the period stipulated by the court has come to an end."

26. The crux of the decision of Full Bench of this Court is that where there is a stipulation of time by the Court, it will not be open to the employer to disregard that stipulation unless the time is extended by the Court itself on the application of the department. In the present case, admittedly, no such application for extension of time has been moved by the department and despite taking cognizance of the fact that this Court vide judgment and order dated 13.11.2019 has stipulated maximum period of four months to pass final order considering the enquiry report and such period of four months was being expired on 23.04.2020, if the letter of the Chief Project Manager is taken into account (Annexure no.20 to the second writ petition) or on 24.03.2020 if the date of registered post dated 19.11.2019 intimating the order dated 13.11.2019 is taken into account giving advantage of five days of service of the registered post. In any case, the final order must have been passed on or before 23.04.2020 after conclusion of the departmental enquiry but the final order has been passed on 02.06.2021 (Annexure No.1) awarding punishment of recovery and censure entry to the petitioner.

27. In view of what has been considered above, the impugned order dated 02.06.2021 passed by the Managing Director which is contained as Annexure No.1 to the writ petition is not sustainable in the eyes of law being illegal, arbitrary and unwarranted viz a viz violative of the direction being issued by the Full Bench of this Court in re:- Abhishek Prabhakar Awasthi (supra).

28. Accordingly, the second writ petition is hereby allowed.

29. Since the orders impugned in the first writ petition have been merged in the final order dated 02.06.2021 impugned in the second writ petition and the second writ petition has been allowed, therefore, the first writ petition shall be deemed to have been allowed in view of the aforesaid terms, accordingly, the first writ petition is allowed.

30. The writ in the nature of certiorari is issued quashing the Office Memo dated 02.06.2021 passed by the Managing Director, U.P. State Bridge Corporation Ltd., Lucknow which is contained as Annexure No.01 to the writ petition.

31. The writ of mandamus is issued commanding the opposite parties not to implement the punishment order dated 02.06.2021 against the petitioner as the same has been quashed thereby providing all consequential service benefit to the petitioner.

32. No order as to costs.

(Para 10, 14 and 15)

Writ petition dismissed. (E-1)

Cases relied on :-

1. Chairman and Managing Director, Food Corporation of India & ors. Vs Jagdish Balaram Bahira & ors. 2017 (8) SCC 670

2. Nidhi Kaim Vs St. of M.P.; (2017) 4 SCC 1)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Suneet Kumar, J.)

1. Case called out. No one has put in appearance on behalf of the petitioner to press the petition despite notice.

2. Heard Shri Shailendra Singh, learned counsel appearing for first, second, third and fifth respondent and learned standing counsel.

3. Pursuant to order dated 26 March 2021, the second and third respondents are present.

4. By the instant writ petition, petitioner seeks a direction to the second respondent-Assistant Director Basic, Gorakhpur Mandal Basti, with regard to payment of salary.

5. The facts briefly stated is that the petitioner came to be appointed Assistant Teacher in Pt. Dindayal Purva Madhyamik Vidyalaya, Bitia, Belhar, District Sant Kabir Nagar, on 15 March 2016. The institution is in the grant-in-aid of the State. On 7 April 2017, salary of the petitioner was stopped on an allegation that the petitioner had obtained appointment on the strength of forged documents.

6. The third respondent-Finance and Accounts Officer (Basic Education), Sant Kabir Nagar, has filed affidavit, wherein, it has been stated that petitioner applied pursuant to an advertisement issued by the fourth respondent-Committee of Management of the Institution inviting applications for the post of Assistant Teacher. Petitioner came to be appointed on the approval granted by the fifth respondent-Basic Education Officer, Sant Kabir Nagar.

7. It is urged that petitioner joined the post on 17 March 2016. On complaint being received that the petitioner has obtained appointment on forged documents, the second respondent vide communication dated 7 April 2017, directed the fifth respondent to enquire into the matter and pending enquiry the salary of the petitioner was stopped. In the meantime, a complaint being Case Crime No. 273 of 2018 under Sections 419, 420, 467, 468 and 471 IPC, came to be lodged against petitioner, his father, the then Basic Shiksha Adhikari-Shri Mahendra Pratap Singh and the Manager of the Institution on 5 June 2018. The Investigating Officer verified the roll number of B.Sc.-III marksheet of the petitioner from the Mahatma Gandhi P.S. College, Gorakhpur. It was informed that the roll number noted on the marksheet submitted by the petitioner was allotted to one Tufail Ahmad, son of, Rahmat Ali. In other words, petitioner had submitted the mark-sheet (B.Sc.-III) of the same roll number.

Further, the intermediate mark-sheet submitted by the petitioner against roll number 1132323 was also found to be a forged document.

8. It is alleged that father of the petitioner, a clerk, in the office of Basic Shiksha Adhikari had managed the forged documents to obtain appointment of the son. It is urged that father of the petitioner and the then Basic Shiksha Adhikari in connivance with the petitioner obtained forged documents pertaining to the educational qualification of the petitioner i.e. Intermediate and B.Sc.-III year, as well as, Teacher Eligibility Test (TET) certificate. All documents relied upon by the petitioner and the copies of the original marksheets/certificates have been placed on record.

9. The T.E.T. certificate for the year 2011 submitted by the petitioner bears Roll No. 10040855 issued to a candidate belonging to backward category (OBC), wheres, the authorities have submitted copy of the original document, wherein, the said roll number was allotted to Kalpana Tripathi, belonging to general category, and she failed to qualify the T.E.T. examination. The T.E.T. certificate submitted by the petitioner bears the same roll number. In other words the document is a forged and manufactured document.

10. The petitioner has not filed any rebuttal to the aforementioned documents placed on record by the respondents.

11. Supreme Court in Chairman and Managing Director, Food Corporation of India and others vs. Jagdish Balaram Bahira and others, 2017 (8) SCC 670, held that:

"Thus, where a benefit is secured by an individual - such as an appointment to a post or admission to an educational institution - on the basis that the candidate belongs to a reserved category for which the benefit is reserved, the invalidation of the caste or tribe claim upon verification would result in the appointment or, as the case may be, the admission being rendered void or non est."

12. It follows that when a candidate is found to have put forth a false claim on the strength of forged and manufactured documents and obtained appointment, it would be a negation of the rule of law to exercise jurisdiction under Article 226 to protect that individual. Societal good lies in ensuring probity. That is the only manner in which the sanctity of the system can be preserved. The legal system cannot be seen as an avenue to support those who make untrue claims based on forged educational documents.

13. The nation cannot live on a lie. Courts play a vital institutional role in preserving the rule of law. The judicial process should not be allowed to be utilized to protect the unscrupulous and to preserve the benefits which have accrued to an imposter on the specious plea of equity. (Refer: Nidhi Kaim vs. State of M.P. (2017) 4 SCC 1)

14. It is not disputed by the petitioner that the documents were duly verified by the competent authorities and the authorities conferring the certificates have certified that the documents relied upon by the petitioner are forged and manufactured documents. Petitioner in the circumstances would have no right to continue on the post and receive salary. The very foundation on which the appointment rests is non-est -- void abinitio. Nothing further has to be done by the authorities but to discontinue the appointment. In permitting the petitioner to continue in service and pay salary would perpetuate fraud and misrepresentation that would be negation of rule of law. Petitioner, his father (clerk) and the then Basic Education Officer were throughout aware that petitioner had obtained the appointment by fraud.

15. In view thereof, the writ petition is dismissed with cost of Rs. 1 lakh to be deposited by the petitioner with the fifth respondent within one month from date, failing which, the same shall be recovered as arrears of land revenue by the District Collector, Sant Kabir Nagar. The State respondents shall initiate disciplinary proceedings against the then Basic Education Officer forthwith.

15. Writ Petition No. 1744 (S/B) of 2015; Dr. Khalid Ali Khan & anr. Vs St. of U.P. & ors.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rajesh Singh Chauhan, J.)

1. Heard Sri Amol Kumar, learned counsel for the petitioner and Sri Raghvendra Kumar Singh, learned Advocate General of U.P. assisted by Sri Manjive Shukla, learned Additional Chief Standing Counsel for the State-respondents.

2. By means of this writ petition, the petitioner has prayed for the following reliefs:-

"(I) to issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of certiorari quashing the impugned order dated 31.03.2021, having reference No.1054/A.N.C./PENSION/M.I-15731 passed by the Joint Director Pension, Kanpur Mandal, Kanpur, by means of which, the pension to the petitioners was stopped with immediate effect as well as the order dated 15.02.2021 having reference No.3625/2021/4217 issued by the Director, Employees State Insurance Scheme, Labour and Medical Services, Uttar Pradesh passed by the opposite part No.3, contained as Annexure Nos.1, 2 & 3.

(II) to issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of mandamus commanding the opposite parties to release the pension to the petitioner, without any delay or interruption."

3. The brief facts, as per learned counsel for the petitioner, are that pursuant to the advertisement in the Newspaper on 30.01.1986 for making appointment on adhoc vacancy of Medical Officers in the Employees State Insurance Scheme, Labour and Medical Services, Uttar Pradesh (here-in-after referred to as the "department in question"), the petitioner was appointment as Medical Officer on adhoc basis in the department in question on 17.03.1989.

4. Initially, the medical services rendered by the department in question was looked after by the Department of Medical & Health Services, U.P., however, vide Government Order dated 10.06.1985 a separate wing was created with regard to medical and paramedical staff. The option was also given to the doctors of the medical & health to opt for services of the department in question as the separate directorate and separate cadre for the department was proposed with the separate service rules, on the same emoluments and perks which are paid to the doctors of Medical & Health Department. Such Government Order has been annexed as Annexure No.5 to the writ petition. Admittedly, the aforesaid Government Order has been issued after getting prior approval from the Finance Department and Medical & Health Department of U.P. and also with the order and approval of the Governor.

5. Since pursuant to the Government Order dated 10.06.1985 no service rules were promulgated governing the service condition of the petitioner, therefore, the initial appointment of the petitioner was made on 17.03.1989 by the Competent Authority following the due procedure required for making appointment on adhoc basis. However, the rules were later on promulgated in the name of U.P. Employees State Insurance Scheme, Labour Medical Services Rules, 1993 (here-in-after referred to as the "Rules, 1993").

6. The services of the petitioner were regularized with effect from 24.07.2009 on the basic pay-scale of Rs.8000-13500 pursuant to the order dated 22.12.2011 (Annexure No.6).

7. Learned counsel for the petitioner has submitted with vehemence that the department was created vide Government Order dated 10.06.1985 with due approval by the Finance Department and the Medical & Health Department and also by the order and approval of the Governor creating 345 posts of employees including one Additional Director. The separate directorate and separate cadre was also proposed to be created and separate service rules to be created. Therefore, it cannot be said that pursuant to the advertisement dated 30.01.1986 the appointment of certain employees was not made as per law. Besides, the petitioner has continuously and permanently discharged his duties of Medical Officer till 31.05.2015, i.e. the date of his superannuation.

8. Sri Amol Kumar, learned counsel for the petitioner has further submitted that adhoc services of the petitioner are to be counted for grant of pension as per Regulation 370 of Civil Service Regulations (here-in-after referred to as the "C.S.R."), which clearly states that continuous temporary or officiating service of the government servant followed by the confirmation in the same or any other post shall qualify for pension.

9. Learned counsel for the petitioner has further submitted that the Regulation 350 of the C.S.R. provides that all establishments whether temporary or permanent shall be deemed to be pensionable establishments.

10. Therefore, learned counsel for the petitioner has submitted that despite the fact that the petitioner has continuously discharged his services with effect from 17.03.1989 till his retirement on 31.05.2015, therefore, after completing more than 26 years of continuous service, pentionary benefits cannot be denied by means of impugned order dated 31.03.2021 which has been issued after about six years from the retirement of the petitioner holding that the petitioner has not discharged qualify service of ten years for making pension and pensionery benefits withholding of his pension and pensionery benefits, is patently illegal, arbitrary, discriminatory and unwarranted. Besides, the impugned order dated 31.03.2021 has been wrongly issued under Regulation 351-A of C.S.R. inasmuch as there is a bar of four years from the event or reason having taken place.

11. Learned counsel for the petitioner has given instances of as many as 22 employees who are identically placed with the present petitioner, vide para-19 of the writ petition who have been paid pension and all retiral benefits as has been paid to the petitioner.

12. Learned counsel for the petitioner has submitted that as per the trite law the pension is treated as "Property" as per Article 300-A of the Constitution of India, therefore, the same cannot be stopped or curtailed or withheld without following due procedure of law. The impugned order dated 31.03.2021 has not only been passed in an illegal and unwarranted manner but also without affording an opportunity of hearing to that effect.

13. Learned counsel for the petitioner has further submitted that the law is trite on the point that if any order involves the civil consequences which affects the person monitorily, such order cannot be passed without affording of any opportunity of hearing.

14. Learned counsel for the petitioner has referred the dictum of the Constitutional Bench of Hon'ble Apex Court in re: Deokinandan Prasad vs. State of Bihar reported in 1971 (2) SCC 305, whereby the Hon'ble Apex Court has held that the pension is a right and the payment thereto does not depend upon the discretion of the government. The Hon'ble Apex Court in re: Dr. Hira Lal vs. State of Bihar, Civil Appeal No.1677-1678 has held that the executive instructions of the State cannot stop the pension of an employee unless and until any order is passing by the government exercising power under Article 309 of the Constitution of India.

15. Sri Amol Kumar, learned counsel for the petitioner, has further submitted that not only for the reason that more than four years have passed, to be more precise more than six years, since the retirement of the petitioner provisions under Regulation 351-A of C.S.R. may not be invoked but for another legal reason that neither any departmental enquiry nor judicial proceeding were pending against the petitioner at the time of his retirement, therefore, such exercise under Regulation 351-A of C.S.R. may not be invoked.

16. Sri Amol Kumar, learned counsel for the petitioner, has placed reliance upon the dictum of Hon'ble Apex Court rendered in re: Prem Singh vs. State of U.P. & others rendered in Civil Appeal No.6798 of 2019 referring paras-32, 33, 34 & 35 to strengthen his submission that after rendering about 26 years of service, the services rendered by the petitioner on adhoc basis may not be ignored for the purposes of making payment of pension and retiral dues. Further, if on technical ground such services of an employee are ignored that may cause serious prejudice to the employee concerned. The Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Secretary, State of Karnataka & Ors v. Uma Devi, 2006 (4) SCC 1 had directed that if some employees have rendered their ten years continuous service be regularized and they be paid all pensionery benefits counting their entire length of services. For convenience, paras-32, 33, 34 & 35 of Prem Singh (Supra) are being reproduced here-in-below:-

"32. The question arises whether the imposition of rider that suchservice to be counted has to be rendered in-between two spells of temporary or temporary and permanent service is legal and proper. We find that once regularization had been made on vacant posts, though the employee had not served prior to that on temporary basis, considering the nature of appointment, though it was not a regular appointment it was made on monthly salary and thereafter in the pay scale of work-charged establishment the efficiency bar was permitted to be crossed. It would be highly discriminatory and irrational because of the rider contained in Note to Rule 3(8) of 1961 Rules, not to count such service particularly, when it can be counted, in case such service is sandwiched between two temporary or in-between temporary and permanent services. There is no rhyme or reason not to count the service of work-charged period in case it has been rendered before regularisation. In our opinion, an impermissible classification has been made under Rule 3(8). It would be highly unjust, impermissible and irrational to deprive such employees benefit of the qualifying service. Service of work-charged period remains the same for all the employees, once it is to be counted for one class, it has to be counted for all to prevent discrimination. The classification cannot be done on the irrational basis and when respondents are themselves counting period spent in such service, it would be highly discriminatory not to count the service on the basis of flimsy classification. The rider put on thatwork-charged service should have preceded by temporary capacity is discriminatory and irrational and creates an impermissible classification.

33. As it would be unjust, illegal and impermissible to make aforesaid classification to make the Rule 3(8) valid and non discriminatory, we have to read down the provisions of Rule 3(8) and hold that services rendered even prior to regularisation in the capacity of work-charged employees, contingency paid fund employees or non-pensionable establishment shall also be counted towards the qualifying service even if such service is not preceded by temporary or regular appointment in a pensionable establishment.

34. In view of the note appended to Rule 3(8), which we have read down, the provision contained in Regulation 370 of the Civil Services Regulations has to be struck down as also the instructions contained in Para 669 of the Financial Handbook.

35. There are some of the employees who have not been regularized in spite of having rendered the services for 30-40 or more years whereas they have been superannuated. As they have worked in the work-charged establishment, not against any particular project, their services ought to have been regularized under the Government instructions and even as per the decision of this Court inSecretary, State of Karnataka & Ors v. Uma Devi, 2006 (4) SCC 1. This Court in the said decision has laid down that in case services have been rendered for more than ten years without the cover of the Court's order, as one time measure, the services be regularized of such employees. In the facts of the case, those employees who have worked for ten years or more should have been regularized. It would not be proper to regulate them for consideration of regularisation as others have been regularised, we direct that their services be treated as a regular one. However, it is made clear that they shall not be entitled to claiming any dues of difference in wages had they been continued in service regularly before attaining the age of superannuation. They shall be entitled to receive the pension as if they have retired from the regular establishment and the services rendered by them right from the day they entered the work-charged establishment shall be counted as qualifying service for purpose of pension."

17. Per contra, Sri Raghvendra Kumar Singh, learned Advocate General of U.P. has submitted that the petitioner is not entitled for pension as initially he was appointed on adhoc Medical Officer on 17.03.1989 and later on his services were regularized on 22.12.2011, w.e.f. 24.07.2009 and finally he was retired from service on 31.05.2015. Since the petitioner has not rendered ten years of service with effect from his regularization, therefore, he could have not been paid pension and retiral benefits for not completing ten years qualified service.

18. Sri Raghvendra Kumar Singh, learned Advocate General has further submitted that since the petitioner was Incharge Medical Officer when he retired from Kanpur, therefore, taking advantage of his position he himself forwarded his pension papers to the Chief Medical Officer, E.S.I Labour Medical Services, Kanpur without indicating the fact that initially he was adhoc appointee and subsequently regularized on 22.12.2011 w.e.f. 24.07.2009.

19. Sri Raghvendra Kumar Singh, learned Advocate General has submitted that as per the Government Order dated 22.06.1987 a government employee for being entitled for grant of pension must have put at least ten years or more regular satisfactory service, but the petitioner has not completed such qualified service.

20. Sri Singh has drawn attention of this Court towards Annexure No.SCA-6, which is the judgment and order dated 22.07.2014 passed in the case of the petitioner by the Division Bench of this Court in Writ Petition No.1573 (S/B) of 2012; Dr. Sushil Chandra Tiwari and others vs. State of U.P. & others, whereby the Division Bench has interpreted the meaning and purport of the term "substantive appointment" and while applying the nature of substantive appointment in the case of the petitioner, it has been held in para-15 that the initial appointment of the petitioner may not be treated as substantive appointment.

21. Sri Singh has further submitted that the petitioner has not assailed the judgment and order dated 22.07.2014 before the Hon'ble Apex Court, therefore, that judgment has attained finality and in that way the petitioner cannot say that his initial appointment was a substantive appointment. If the same was not a substantive appointment, he cannot claim the benefit of those services rendered on adhoc basis whereas, the pensionery benefits accrued with effect from the date the employee has rendered ten years regular services.

22. However, on being confronted the learned Advocate General as to whether the State has assailed the judgment and order dated 22.07.2014 inasmuch as in the operative paragraph i.e. para-17 , the Division Bench has categorically observed that the petitioner cannot be discriminated with the similarly placed employees getting protection of Article 14 of the Constitution of India, directing the opposite parties for giving all service benefits including continuity of service to the petitioner so given to the similarly placed employees, learned Advocate General has fairly submitted that the State has also not assailed that order. Therefore, to me, that order of Division Bench has attained finality for both the parties.. For convenience, operative portion of para-17 is being reproduced here-in-below:-

"17. In our considered opinion if this is the position on facts, then the petitioners cannot be discriminated as that would violate Article 14 of the Constitution of India. Consequently, the State Government is required to delve into this factual aspect and in the event it is established that the petitioners belong to the same category of employees prior to the enforcement of the Rules, and if other employees have been extended the service benefits in a similar fashion, then there is apparently no reason to discriminate the petitioners for extension of such benefits.

Consequently, we dispose of this writ petition with the aforesaid observations and a direction is issued to the State Government to consider the claim of the petitioners in the light of observations made herein above and pass appropriate orders within three months from the date of production of a certified copy before the competent authority."

23. On being further confronted as to whether any opportunity of hearing has been provided to the petitioner before passing the impugned order dated 31.03.2021, learned Advocate General has submitted that in view of the facts and circumstances of the present case, it would have been a futile exercise to provide an opportunity of hearing inasmuch as the petitioner could have not been able to demonstrate any material protecting his claim for making payment of pension and pensionery benefits for not rendering qualifying service of ten years.

24. Sri Singh has drawn attention of this Court towards Annexure Nos.SCA-9 to SCA-11 of the short counter affidavit whereby the orders have been passed against those doctors who have been paid pension and pensionery benefits after their retirement in the same manner as has been paid to the petitioner. Sri Singh has also drawn attention of this Court towards Annexure No.SCA-12 of the short counter affidavit which is the ordinance known as Uttar Pradesh Qualifying Service for Pension and Validation Ordinance, 2020, which has been converted into the Act in the name of Uttar Pradesh Qualifying Service for Pension and Validation Act, 2021 (here-in-after referred to as the "Validation Act, 2021") drawing attention towards Section 2 of the Validation Act, 2021 which explains "Qualifying Service" for pension.

25. Sri Singh has further submitted that the aforesaid Validation Act, 2021 has got retrospective affect with effect from 01.04.1961. As per Section 2, the qualifying service means a services rendered by an officers appointed on temporary or permanent post in accordance with the provisions of service rules prescribed by the government for the post.

26. Since the petitioner has rendered his services with effect from 17.03.1989 till 24.07.2009, cut off date of Regularisation ordeer as on adhoc basis, therefore, such period of service cannot be treated as temporary or permanent. After regularization on 22.12.2011 w.e.f. 24.07.2009 the petitioner has rendered less than ten years of service, to be more precise about six years service, therefore, he could have not been paid pension and pensionery benefits.

27. Sri Raghvendra Kumar Singh, learned Advocate General has drawn attention of this Court towards a recent judgment of Hon'ble Apex Curt dated 28.07.2021 (reportable) rendered in Rashi Mani Mishra & others vs. State of U.P. & others in Civil Appeal No.2898 of 2021 and other connected civil appeals by submitting that the Hon'ble Apex Court has categorically held that adhoc appointee cannot be deemed to be appointed as substantive appointees, therefore, such adhoc appointees shall be placed below the substantive appointees/ direct recruits. In the aforesaid judgment, the Hon'ble Apex Court has considered all the relevant judgments of the issue e.g. (i) Secretary, Minor Irrigation Department vs. Narendra Kumar Tripathi reported in (2015) 11 SCC 80, (ii) Santosh Kumar and others vs. G.R. Chawla and others reported in (2003) 10 SCC 513, (iii) State of Urrarakhand vs. Archana Shukla reported in (2011) 15 SCC 194, (iv) Direct Recruit Class-II Engineering Officers' Association reported in (1990) 2 SCC 715 and (v) Dr. Chandra Prakash & others vs. State of U.P. reported in (2002) 10 SCC 710 etc. The relevant paras-9 and 10 of the judgment of Rashi Mani Mishra (supra) are being reproduced here-in-below:-

9. Now so far as the reliance placed upon the decision of this Court in the case of Direct Recruit Class II Engg. Officers' Assn. (supra), relied upon by the learned Senior Advocate appearing on behalf of the ad hoc appointees is concerned, it is required to be noted that even in the said decision also, it is observed and held that where initial appointment was made only ad hoc as a stop gap arrangement and not according to the rules, the officiation in such post cannot be taken into account for considering the seniority. In the case before this Court, the appointments were made to a post according to rule but as ad hoc and subsequently they were confirmed and to that this Court observed and held that where appointments made in accordance with the rules, seniority is to be counted from the date of such appointment and not from the date of confirmation. In the present case, it is not the case of confirmation of the service of ad hoc appointees in the year 1989. In the year 1989, their services are regularised after following due procedure as required under the 1979 Rules and after their names were recommended by the Selection Committee constituted under the 1979, Rules. As observed here-in-above, the appointments in the year 1989 after their names were recommended by the Selection Committee constituted as per the 1979 Rules can be said to be the "substantive appointments". Therefore, even on facts also, the decision in the case of Direct Recruit Class II Engg. Officers' Assn.(supra) shall not be applicable to the facts of the case on hand. At the cost of repetition, it is observed that the decision of this Court in the case of Direct Recruit Class II Engg. Officers' Assn. (supra) was considered by this Court in the case of Santosh Kumar (supra) when this Court interpreted the very 1979 Rules.

10. Similarly, the decision of this Court in the case of Rudra Kumar Sain (supra), relied upon by the learned counsel appearing on behalf of the ad hoc appointees also shall not be applicable to the facts of the case on hand. In the case before this Court, the promotees appointed on ad hoc were continued for fairly long periods and their appointments were made after due consultation with, or approval of Service Commission, and therefore their appointments were held not to be ad hoc or fortuitous or stopgap. It is to be noted that in the present case when the ad hoc appointees were appointed in the year 1985, there was no consultation with the UPSC and as such there was no recommendation by the UPSC. Their services came to be regularised as per the 1979 Rules and after they were selected by the Selection Committee constituted under the 1979 Rules, which specifically provides that for the purpose of regularisation of ad hoc appointments, the appointing authority shall constitute a Selection Committee and consultation with the Commission shall not be necessary. It is also to be noted that when the ad hoc appointees were appointed in the year 1985, they were appointed on the basis of the recommendations of the Selection Committee constituted for ad hoc appointments and when subsequently their services were regularised and they were appointed in the year 1989, they were appointed by the order of Governor. This is one additional ground to hold that their substantive appointments can be said to be only from the date of their regularisation/appointment made in the year 1989 after their names were recommended by the Selection Committee constituted under the 1979 Rules and their services were regularised as per the 1979 Rules after following the procedure as required under the 1979 Rules, i.e., in the year 1989. Therefore, their seniority is to be counted only from 23.02.1989, the date of their regularisation and the services rendered by the ad hoc appointees prior thereto, i.e., from the date of their initial appointments in the year 1985 is not to be counted for the purpose of seniority, vis-à-vis, the direct recruits appointed prior to 1989."

28. Therefore, Sri Singh has submitted that the Hon'ble Apex Court in re: Rashi Mani Mishra (supra) has clarified the position that the length of service of adhoc appointees shall be counted with effect from the date of their regularization for the purposes of pension, so the adhoc service rendered by the present petitioner may not be counted for the purpose of making pension and the pensionery benefits. Accordingly, the writ petition is devoid of merits and is liable to be dismissed.

29. I have heard learned counsel for the respective parties and perused the material available on record.

30. At the outset, I shall deal the arguments of learned counsel for the petitioner regarding violation of principles of natural justice while passing the impugned order dated 31.03.2021 (Annexure No.1).

31. Admittedly, no opportunity of hearing has been provided to the petitioner before passing the impugned order dated 31.03.2021 whereby the pension and pensionery benefits of the petitioner have been withheld for the reason that the petitioner has not rendered ten years qualified service. The Hon'ble Apex Court in re: D.T.C. vs. Balwan Singh reported in AIR 2017 SC 396 in para-5 has observed as under:-

*"5. Prima facie, we are of the view that no adverse effect can be permitted upon the right of the employee to receive pension unless he was given notice by appropriate entry in the service book or through other notice that his absence will be treated as unauthorised absence and will not be counted towards qualifying service for pension. In absence of such notice, after the respondent-employee has taken voluntary retirement under VRS and that too on the ground that he has completed ten years of service, it may be unjust and very harsh to inflict him with such adverse consequences. No doubt in sub-rule (2) of Rule 28 of the Pension Rules which relates to condonation of interruption of service, an opportunity of representation is required to be given to the employee before making entry in service book regarding forfeiture of past service only, but there appears to be some substance in the submission that Rules of Natural Justice may be attracted even in other similar situation where the entry is regarding unauthorised absence, if it is to have the effect of break in service adversely affecting the length of qualifying service for pension."[Emphasis Supplied]

32. Further, admittedly, the petitioner was being paid pension and pensionery benefits since his retirement i.e. 31.05.2015 i.e. after lapse of about six years the impugned order has been passed without seeking any explanation from the petitioner despite the fact that such impugned order involves civil consequences, therefore, it would be causing serious prejudice to the petitioner and on the basis of principles of fairness good conscience the principles of natural justice should be followed. This law is trite from the very beginning as observed by the House of Lords in re: Frome United Breweries Company Ltd. and another vs. Keepers of the Peace and Justice for Country Borough to Bath reported in 1926 AC 586."

"... It is true that the order is administrative in character, but even an administrative order which involves civil consequences, as already stated, must be made consistently with the rules of natural justice after informing the first respondent of the case of the State, the evidence in support thereof and after giving an opportunity to the first respondent of being heard and meeting or explaining the evidence. No such steps were admittedly taken, the High Court was, in our judgment, right in setting aside the order of the State."[Emphasis Supplied]

The Hon'ble Apex Court in re: State of Orissa vs. Dr. (Miss) Binapani Dei and others reported in AIR 1967 SC 1269 has followed the aforesaid dictum of House of Lords in re; Frome United Breweries Company Ltd. (Supra).

33. I have noted that the impugned order dated 31.03.2021 has been passed taking recourse of Regulation 351-A of C.S.R., therefore, had the petitioner been issued a show cause notice before passing the order dated 31.03.2021 the petitioner would have apprised the authorities that no such impugned order could be passed taking recourse of Regulation 351-A of C.S.R. on account of bar of four years under such provisions of law. The petitioner could have also apprised the Competent Authority by submitting his explanation that for the purposes of seniority or promotion his services rendered as an adhoc basis could have not been counted but for making payment of pension and pensionery benefits such order could have not been passed. Since no such opportunity has been extended to the petitioner, therefore, the impugned order dated 31.03.2021 is violative of principles of natural justice and may not sustain in the eyes of law on this point alone.

34. The Government Order dated 10.06.1985 (Annexure No.5) whereby a conscious decision has been taken by the Competent Authority that separate cadre of the doctors of the department in question shall be created. A separate Directorate shall be established. Service rules governing the conditions of service shall be formulated. The doctors and paramedical staff appointed in the department in question shall be paid the same salary and allowances which is being paid to the doctors and paramedical staff of Medical & Health Services. Such Government Order has been passed after getting prior approval from the Finance and Medical Department and by the order and approval of the Governor of the State. Later on such service rules were formulated in the year 1993.

35. Not only the above, the Annexure No.RA-2 of the rejoinder affidavit is the Government Order dated 08.02.1989 which provides the vacant posts of Medical Officer are pending consideration in the State Government and option was asked from the Medical Officers to give three options with regard to their posting, if they were found suitable for adhoc appointment, then the appointment letter would be issued to them. However, in case, there is no vacant post in accordance with option, the Medical Officer would be posted nearest to home district where the vacancies are available. Therefore, the aforesaid Government Order clearly provides that such appointment would be made on a clear vacancy through proper channel. Thereafter the petitioner was appointed on the post of Medical Officer in the department in question on 13.07.1989 and admittedly he discharged his continuous and uninterrupted services till his retirement on 31.05.2015.

36. I have also seen Annexure No.8 of the writ petition, which is an affidavit of service being filed by the Principal Secretary of the Department before the Contempt Court bearing Criminal Misc. Case No.1317 (S) of 2015; Dr. Sushil Chandra Tiwari vs. Arun Kumr Sinha and others indicating in para-6 that the petitioner has been paid his all retiral benefits including the pension. Such affidavit of compliance has been filed on 07.08.2015 i.e. after the retirement of the petitioner. Therefore, if there was any anomaly on the part of the petitioner for not apprising the department correctly about his status at the time of his retirement, such fact could have been brought into the notice of the Contempt Court or any review application could have been filed Before the Division Bench which granted the similar benefit to the petitioner, but admittedly, the judgment and order dated 22.07.20214 passed by the Division Bench of this Court has not been assailed by the State Government nor any review application has been filed nor any action has been taken for about six years from the retirement of the petitioner.. Therefore, for all practical purposes, the judgment and order dated 22.07.2014 has attained finality and the compliance of order dated 22.07.2014 has been made by the department by filing affidavit of compliance on 07.08.2015, so in these circumstance the impugned order dated 31.03.2021 would be nullity in the yes of law.

37. Not only the above, the learned Advocate General has himself stated that the judgment and order dated 22.07.2014 has attained finality, therefore, the initial appointment of the petitioner may not be treated as substantive appointment but at the same time the judgment and order dated 22.07.2014 has been accepted by the State Government by making compliance thereof providing all the post retiral benefits which have been paid to the similarly placed employees, therefore, the aforesaid compliance decision may not be reversed by the State Government after about six years and such action be barred from the principles of estoppel.

38. I have noticed Annexure No.10 of the writ petition, which is the judgment and order dated 11.12.2019 passed by this Court in Writ-A No.52358 of 2017; Dr. Atul Darbari vs. State of U.P. & another, which is an identical case with the present petitioner and that writ petition has been allowed considering the decision of this Court in re: Dr. Amrendra Narain Srivastava vs. State of U.P. & others passed in Writ-A No.61974 of 2011 and Dr. Prem Chandra Pathak and another vs. State of U.P. & others passed in Writ-A No.27579 of 2014, wherein this Court has held that the entire period of adhoc services rendered by the employee shall be taking into account and counted for the purposes of grant of pensionery benefits. In the judgment of Dr. Atul Darbari (supra), this Court has followed the dictum of Hon'ble Apex Court rendered in re: Prem Singh vs. State of U.P. in Civil Appeal No.6798 of 2019 whereby even the services rendered in work charged establishment shall be treated as qualifying service. Therefore, this Court in re: Dr. Atul Darbari (supra) as directed the concerning authorities to make payment of retiral dues to the petitioner of that writ petition. Some more identical orders have been annexed with the writ petition wherein the similar benefits have been given. Further, there is one judgment and order dated 17.07.2019 passed by this Court in Dr. Khalid Ali Khan & another vs. State of U.P. & others; Writ Petition No.1744 (S/B) of 2015, which has been annexed as Annexure No.17 to the writ petition, is to be referred for the reason that the judgment and order dated 17.07.2019 passed by this Court in an identical matters has been upheld by the Apex Court when the State challenged the judgment and order dated 17.07.2019 before the Hon'ble Supreme Court by filing Special Leave Petition (Civil) Diary No.5396 of 2020 (Annexure No.18), the Hon'ble Supreme Court has dismissed the Special Leave Petition vide order dated 05.06.2020.

39. It is also necessary to mention here that the latest dictum of Hon'ble Apex Court rendered in re: Rashi Mani Mishra (supra), it has been held that for the purposes of seniority or promotion the services rendered on adhoc basis shall not be counted but the said judgment does not debar the employees who have retired from service and their adhoc services have been counted for the purpose of pension and pensionery benefits.

40. At this stage, I would like to consider the U.P. Retirement Benefit Rules, 1961 (here-in-after referred to as the "Rules, 1961"). The qualifying service defines in Rule 3 (8) of the Rules, 1961 means service which qualifies for pension in accordance with the provisions of Article 368 of C.S.R. Rule 3 (8) of the Rules, 1961 is quoted as under:-

"Rule 3 (8)- "Qualifying service" means service which qualifies for pension in accordance with the provisions of Article 368 of the Civil Services Regulations:

Provided that continuous temporary or officiating service under the Government of Uttar Pradesh followed without interruption by confirmation in the same or any other post except-

(i) periods of temporary or officiating service in a non-pensionable establishment.

(ii) periods of service in a work-charged establishment, and

(iii) periods of service in a post, paid from contingencies, shall also count as qualifying service.

Note- If service rendered in a non-pensionable establishment, work-charged establishment or in a post paid form contingencies falls between two periods of temporary service in a pensionable establishment or between a period of temporary service and permanent service in a pensionble establishment, it will not constitute an interruption of service."

41. Regulation 368 of the Civil Services Regulations, provides that service does not qualify, unless the officer holds a substantive office in a permanent establishment. Regulations 368 and 369 provides as follows:-

"368. Service does not qualify unless the officer holds a substantive office on a permanent establishment.

369. An establishment, the duties of which are not continuous but are limited to certain fixed periods in each year, is not a temporary establishment. Service in such an establishment, including the period during which the establishment is not employed qualifies but the concession of counting as service the period during while the establishment is not employed does not apply to an officer who was not on actual duty when the establishment was discharged, after completion of its work, or to an officer who was not on actual duty on the first day on which the establishment was again re-employed."

Therefore, the qualifying service, as defined in sub-rule (8) of Rule 3, includes the service, which qualifies for pension in accordance with the provisions of Section 368 of Civil Services Regulation. The petitioner does not fall in any of the exceptions inasmuch as the period of his temporary service was not in a non-pensionable establishment after he was regularized in the State Government.

42. In the light of the aforesaid provisions of law, it is clear that the petitioner has rendered qualifying pensionery service with effect from the date of his initial joining in the department in question, so the same shall be treated as service qualifying for pension and pensionery benefits.

43. In view of what has been considered above, the writ petition succeeds and is hereby allowed.

44. A writ in the nature of certiorari is issued quashing the orders dated 31.03.2021 passed by the Joint Director Pension, Kanpur Mandal Kanpur, the order dated 15.02.2021 issued by the Special Secretary U.P. and the order dated 05.03.2021 issued by the Director, Employees State Insurance Scheme, Labour and Medical Services, Uttar Pradesh, which are contained as Annexure Nos.1, 2 & 3 respectively to the writ petition. A writ in the nature of mandamus is also issued commanding the opposite parties to release the pension of the petitioner forthwith, preferably within a period of one month from the date of production of a certified/ computerized copy of this order, failing which, the petitioner shall be entitled for interest at the rate of 6% per annum.

45. No order as to costs.

Counsel for the Petitioner:

Counsel for the Respondents:
C.S.C., Pankaj Patel

A. Service Law – UP Government (Discipline and Appeal) Rules, 1999 – Punishment – Dismissal from service – Departmental enquiry – Opportunity of hearing – Non-speaking order – Past conduct of the delinquent employee of habitual absentism, unauthorized leave, indisciplined behaviour with superior officers, its relevancy – Ground of disproportionate punishment taken – Held, before passing the impugned order of dismissal the inquiry officer must have conducted the departmental inquiry strictly in accordance of law and the disciplinary authority must have passed the order of dismissal after affording sufficient opportunity of hearing to the petitioner – Further held, the impugned order cannot be said as non-speaking order if the reply so given by the petitioner has been considered properly. Considering the past conduct of the petitioner by the inquiry officer may not be said to be any illegality – High Court did not found punishment order of dismissal disproportionate. (Para 25 and 29)

B. Service Jurisprudence – Quantum of Punishment – Wednesbury test – Meaning and Scope – Point is to be seen as to whether the decision was illegal or suffered from procedural improprieties or was one which no sensible decision maker could, on material before him and with framework of law have arrived at ...whether the decision was absurd or perverse. The Court would not, however, go into the gravity of choice made by the authority nor could the Court substitute its decision – As a matter of fact the Court can only test the decision making process whether adopted correctly or not but not the decision – Held, the severe most punishment of the service jurisprudence i.e. dismissal which was awarded to the petitioner does not shock the conscience of the Court. (Para 27 and 29)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rajesh Singh Chauhan, J.)

1. Heard Sri Sharad Pathak, learned counsel for the petitioner, the learned Standing Counsel for the State-respondents and Sri Pankaj Patel, learned counsel for the opposite party no. 2 to 5.

By means of this petition the petitioner has prayed following relief:

i) Issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of certiorari quashing the impugned dismissal order dated 29.07.2020, passed by opposite party number 3, contained as Annexure No. I to the writ petition; and pay the petitioner arrears of salary with interest and also pay other consequential dues.

2. The order under challenge is order dated 29.7.2020 passed by the opposite party no. 3 i.e. The Chief Executive Officer which is contained as Annexure no. 1 to the writ petition whereby the petitioner (since deceased) has been dismissed from service.

It is to be noted here that the main petitioner died on 1.4.2021, during the pendency of this writ petition, therefore, his legal heirs filed substitution application which was allowed by this Court, accordingly the family members of the petitioner i.e. Lata Sharma, wife, Bhavna Sharma, daughter, Ashawani Sharma, Son, Aakash Sharma, son of Late Ravi Shankar Sharma have been substituted as petitioner nos. 1 to 4.

3. The sole contention of the learned counsel for the petitioner is that the punishment order of dismissal has been passed without conducting proper inquiry, the impugned order is non-speaking and did not record reasons upon the reply given by the petitioner, past conduct of the petitioner has been taken into consideration while passing the impugned order and the impugned punishment order is disproportionate punishment which does not commensurate with the gravity of the misconduct.

4. Therefore, the question for consideration before this Court is that if the employee does not cooperate with the departmental proceedings despite ample opportunities having been provided as to whether the punishment order could have been passed conducting departmental enquiry as per law or not. While considering this question this has to be seen as to whether the past conduct of the delinquent employee may be taken into consideration that he had committed same type of misconduct on earlier occasions. Besides, the quantum of the punishment can be evaluated by the High Court.

5. Brief facts of the case, as per learned counsel for the parties, are that the petitioner was placed under suspension in contemplation of departmental inquiry by the Chief Executive Officer / Appointing Authority vide order dated 20.9.2018 (Annexure no. 2 to the writ petition). One Deputy Chief Executive Officer, Gorakhpur, Circle Gorakhpur was appointed inquiry officer in the matter.

6. After due approval of the charge-sheet dated 1.01.2019 the same has been served upon the petitioner along with relied upon documents for seeking his defense reply. The petitioner submitted his defense reply on 14.1.2019.

7. Thereafter, in conformity of U.P. Government (Discipline and Appeal) Rules, 1999, the inquiry officer issued a letter dated 16.3.2019 fixing the matter for 18.3.2019 asking the petitioner to appear on the said date and place his defense, if any. The inquiry officer has also afforded an opportunity of personal hearing to the petitioner fixing date time and place to conclude the inquiry but the petitioner after appearing before the inquiry officer has submitted that he has already filed his defense reply so he has nothing to say more.

8. The inquiry officer has recorded the findings in the inquiry report that the charges of unauthorized absence, undisciplined attitude, violation of the employees conduct rules and negligent behaviour have been found proved. The inquiry officer has also noted that on earlier occasions the petitioner remained absent unauthorizedly and his attitude and behaviour with the superiors was absolutely unbecoming of a government servant.

9. As per the learned counsel for the petitioner only one date i.e. 18.3.2019 was fixed for personal hearing / oral inquiry, however, no oral inquiry took place in terms of the relevant Rules, 1999 and the inquiry was concluded only taking into account the defense reply of the petitioner. The learned counsel has not disputed one fact that on 18.3.2019 the petitioner had submitted his detailed representation without requesting that he wished to file any defense or witness or material or wished to cross-examine any person or material. To the contrary he had given impression to the inquiry officer on 18.3.2019 that except his defense reply dated 14.1.2019 to the charge-sheet dated 1.11.2019 he has nothing to say.

10. The inquiry officer submitted the inquriy report dated 19.3.2019 before the disciplinary authority enclosing therewith the relevant evidences / material considered by the inquiry officer.

11. The Chief Executive Officer / Appointing Authority issued a show cause notice to the petitioner on 22.5.2019 (Annexure no. 11 to the writ petition) enclosing the inquiry report seeking reply from the petitioner on or before 30.5.2019.

12. The petitioner has not submitted his explanation on or before 30.5.2019 but submitted on 12.6.2019 (Annexure no. 12 to the writ petition). Thereafter, the disciplinary authority has fixed the date on 16.7.2019 for personal hearing of the petitioner so that the petitioner could submit his defense, if any.

13. Again a letter was issued to the petitioner on 27.8.2019 seeking explanation and in compliance of the aforesaid letter dated 27.8.2019 the petitioner filed a representation dated 16.9.2019 pleading his bona fide but the disciplinary authority did not find such representation satisfactory, therefore, the disciplinary authority issued another letter dated 16.10.2019 to the petitioner fixing the next date for personal hearing on 22.10.2019. The petitioner again submitted his explanation on 22.10.2019 but the same was not found satisfactory as the substantial pleadings of bona fide of the petitioner were missing.

14. As an abundant precaution and in conformity with the rules of natural justice the disciplinary authority again issued a letter dated 26.11.2019 fixing another date i.e. 4.12.2019 for personal hearing hearing of the petitioner. Again on 3.3.2020 the explanation of the petitioner has been sought apprising him that in case of not submitting proper reply / explanation, the major penalty may likely to be imposed against the petitioner. Considering the pandemic situation of Covid-19 the authority has issued another notice dated 6.5.2020 (Annexure no. 16) calling upon the explanation along with evidences, if any which the petitioner wishes to produce. The petitioner submitted his reply on 27.5.2020 in a sheer mechanical manner without providing any relevant material corroborating his bona fide.

15. Lastly, on 2.7.2020 a letter was issued by the disciplinary officer to the petitioner fixing the final date for personal hearing on 6.7.2020 and the said date was extended on 7.7.2020. However, on 8.7.2020 the petitioner submitted a written reply but like his earlier explanations he could not provide any material or evidence enabling him not guilty. However, as a matter of fact the material / evidence available with the department the petitioner was guilty of the charges. Therefore, considering the entire material on record and after providing opportunity of personal hearing as maintained above the impugned order dated 29.7.2020 has been passed dismissing the petitioner from service.

16. As per learned counsel for the petitioner no proper departmental inquiry was conducted against the petitioner and no cogent reasons have been recorded by the disciplinary authority while awarding the punishment of dismissal. The past conduct of the petitioner has been taken into consideration whereas the past conduct should have not been considered and the impugned punishment is disproportionate inasmuch as even if on the charge of habitual, unauthorized and deliberate absence the most severe punishment of service jurisprudence i.e. dismissal should not have been provided to the petitioner.

17. On the other hand Sri Pankaj Patel, learned counsel for the opposite parties no. 2 to 5 has submitted that in the charge-sheet there was specific charge against the petitioner that he was habitual absentee and on earlier occasions he proceeded on unauthorized leave. Not only the above after having been confronted on such misconduct he behaved with the superior authorities in gross in-disciplined manner and his misconduct as such is misdemeanor / misdeed, delinquency, the improper behaviour and dereliction from duty, therefore, the punishment of dismissal has been rightly awarded. Hence, the present writ petition is liable to be dismissed.

18. Sri Pankaj Patel has drawn attention of this Court towards the dictum of Hon'ble Apex Court in re: Om Prakash vs. State of Punjab and others reported in (2011) 14 Supreme Court Cases 682 by submitting that the Hon'ble Apex Court has held that charge of repeated absentism or habitual absentism without leave would be sufficient to provide major punishment of dismissal to the employee. The delinquent was himself fully conscious and aware of his absence from the duty and the said charge was mentioned in the charge-sheet, therefore, the said employee does not deserve any sympathy. In re: Om Prakash (supra) the Apex Court has considered the earlier dictum of Apex Court i.e. State of M.P. vs. Harihar Gopal, 1969 SLR 274 (SC) and Maan Singh vs. Union of India, (2003) 3 SCC 464 holding that the habitual absentee without leave does not deserve any sympathy from the Court.

19. Sri Patel, learned counsel has also submitted that in view of the facts and circumstances and misconduct of the petitioner no other punishment except the punishment of dismissal could have been provided, therefore, the quantum of punishment may not be tested or examined in the present case.

20. However, Sri Sharad Pathak, learned counsel for the petitioner while pressing his ground regarding proportionality of the punishment and defective departmental enquiry has cited various dictums of the Apex Court i.e. Sri Bhagwan Lal Arya vs. Commissioner of Police, Delhi & Ors. (2004) 4 SCC 560, Ram Kishan vs. Union of India & Ors. (1995) 6 SCC 157, Rama Kant Misra vs. State of U.P. and others (1982) 3 SCC 346, Collector Singh vs. L.M.L. Ltd. Kanpur (2015) 2 SCC 410, S.K. Giri vs. Home Secretary, Ministry of Home 1995 Supp (3) SCC 519, Ved Prakash Gupta vs. Delton Cable India (P) Ltd. (1984) 2 SCC 569, Surendra Prasad Shukla vs. State of Jharkhand & Ors. (2011) 8 SCC 536, Girish Bhushan Goyal vs. B.H.E.L. & Anr. (2014) 1 SCC 82, State of Uttar Pradesh and others vs. Saroj Kumar Sinha (2010) 2 SCC 772, S.N. Mukherjee vs. Union of India (1990) 4 SCC 594 and State of Mysore vs. K. Manche Gowda (1964) 4 SCR 540.

21. In all the aforesaid judgments the Hon'ble Apex Court has held that on account of the charge of unauthorized absence the incumbent should have not been provided the major punishment i.e. dismissal.

22. So as to press his another ground that the impugned punishment order has been issued without conducting the proper disciplinary inquiry Sri Pathak has placed reliance on the judgment of State of U.P. & Ors. vs. Saroj Kumar Sinha (supra).

23. Pressing his another ground that the explanation of the petitioner was not considered properly, Sri Pathak has placed reliance in re: S.N. Mukherjee vs. Union of India (supra).

24. Lastly pressing his ground that the past conduct of an employee should not be taken into account Sri Pathak has referred the dictum of Apex Court in re: State of Mysore vs. K. Manche Gowda (supra).

25. Having heard learned counsel for the parties and having perused the material available on record, I am of the considered opinion that before passing the impugned order of dismissal the inquiry officer must have conducted the departmental inquiry strictly in accordance of law and the disciplinay authority must have passed the order of dismissal after affording sufficient opportunity of hearing to the petitioner. The impugned order cannot be said as non-speaking order if the reply so given by the petitioner has been considered properly. Not only the above since the charge regarding past conduct was indicated in the charge-sheet and departmental inquiry was conducted on that charge also, therefore, considering the past conduct of the petitioner by the inquiry officer may not be said to be any illegality. Lastly, considering the findings of inquiry officer and order of punishment being issued by the disciplinary authority, I do not find that the punishment order of dismissal was disproportionate.

26. The Apex Court in re: B.C. Chaturvedi vs. Union of India (1995) 6 SCC 749, Union of India vs. G. Ganayutham (1997) 7 SCC 463, Union of India vs. Mohd. Ibrahim (2004) 10 SCC 87, State of U.P. vs. Sheo Shanker Lal Srivastava (2006) 3 SCC 276, North-Eastern Karnatak Roadways Corporation vs. Ashappa (2006) 5 SCC 137 and Man Singh vs. State of Haryana (2008) 12 SCC 331 has consistently held that the High Court should be very slow in interfering with the quantum of punishment unless it is found to be shocking to one's conscience.

27. The Apex Court has followed the 'Wednesbury Test[(1948) 1 KB 223 in adjudicating the issue engaging attention as to whether the Court should interfere in the quantum of punishment. As per aforesaid test the point is to be seen as to whether the decison was illegal or suffered from procedural improprieties or was one which no sensible decision maker could, on material before him and with framework of law have arrived at ...Whether the decision was absurd or perverse. The Court would not, however, go into the gravity of choice made by the authority nor could the Court substitute its decision. As a matter of fact the Court can only test the decision making process whether adopted correctly or not but not the decision.

28. In the present case the inquiry officer has not only considered the defense reply of the petitioner but has afforded an opportunity of personal hearing on 18.3.2019 for conducting oral inquiry but the petitioner has categorically submitted that except his defense reply he has nothing to say nor does he want to examine any material / witness. Thereafter the inquiry officer has examined all relevant material relating to the charges leveled against the petitioner and arrived on the conclusion that all the charges leveled against the petitioner are found to be proved. Not only the above the appointing authority issued couple of letters / notices to the petitioner after receiving the findings of inquiry report dated 19.3.2019, as considered above, for affording sufficient number of hearing to the petitioner seeking any material or evidence which could establish that the petitioner was not guilty, but the petitioner could not produce any material or evidence showing his bonafide, however, he has preferred couple of explanations before the disciplinary authority. In these circumstances the disciplinary authority has passed the impugned order dated 29.7.2020 dismissing the petitioner from service. I do not find any infirmity or illegality in the inquiry report dated 19.3.2019 and in the impugned order of punishment dated 29.7.2020. Since the past conduct of the petitioner was absolutely unbecoming of a government employee, therefore, the specific charge to that effect was framed in the charge-sheet and after departmental inquiry the said charge was found to be proved, therefore, considering the past conduct of the petitioner by the inquiry officer would not vitiate the inquiry proceedings. So far as the argument of the learned counsel for the petitioner that the gravity of misconduct does not commensurate with quantum of punishment, I am of the considered opinion that after considering the entirety of the facts and circumstances of the issue in question, perusing the findings of inquiry officer and material available on record viz. a viz. explanations of the petitioner given at the stage of inquiry proceedings the disciplinary authority has properly awarded the punishment of dismissal against the petitioner. As per impugned order itself it has been indicated that the petitioner was placed under suspension on 22.1.2000 and after conclusion of the inquiry the lenient view was adopted against the petitioner awarding him serious warning with censure entry. On that point of time more or less similar charges were leveled against the petitioner i.e. unauthorized absence, mis-behaviour with the officials / officers etc. As per impugned order the petitioner was not able to type even half of page within three days whereas he was discharging his duties of clerk / typist. The petitioner was again suspended on 14.8.2003 more or less on the same charges i.e. careless and irresponsible behaviour, indisciplined behaviour, habitual absentee, mis-behaviour with superior officers and not following the direction of superior authorities. After conclusion of second inquiry two increments of the salary of the petitioner has been withheld with adverse entry. Some letters of the department were also considered by the disciplinary authority which indicates that immediate superior of the petitioner has indicated that the petitioner did not take any interest in discharging his official duties and had got a lot of work pending. Again, the petitioner was placed under suspension on 24.9.2018 more or less on the same charges and after conclusion of the departmental inquiry the inquiry officer submitted his findings before the disciplinary authority on 19.3.2019 recommending for major penalty. Since the disciplinary authority was conscious about the fact that before passing the order of major punishment the petitioner must have been afforded sufficient number of hearing, therefore, the disciplinary authority has admittedly issued so many letters / notices / show cause notices seeking explanation from the petitioner asking for production of relevant material / evidence which could show the bonafide of the petitioner but no such material / document has been produced before the disciplinary authority, therefore, the disciplinary authority has passed the order of dismissal which is contained as Annexure no. 1 to the writ petition.

29. Considering the entirety of the facts and circumstances in issue, I do not find that the impugned order of punishment is excessive or does not commensurate with the gravity of mis-conduct inasmuch as the petitioner was in a habit of habitual absentism, unauthorized leave, indisciplined behaviour with superior officers / officials and not discharging the duties as per parameters befitting for the government employees, therefore, on earlier occasions he was awarded censure entry for the year 1997-98, 1998-99 vide order dated 20.7.2000 with serious warning. Again vide order dated 31.5.2004 he was awarded adverse entry and his two increments of salary has been withheld. Despite the serious warning having been given to the petitioner time and again by the authorities concerned from the very beginning but instead of improving his behaviour he indulged in mis-behaviour and indiscipline with the superior officers / officials and continued habitual absentism and proceeded on unauthorized leave without caring the directions of officers. Therefore, the severe most punishment of the service jurisprudence i.e. dismissal which was awarded to the petitioner does not shock the conscience of the Court. So far as the decision making process awarding major punishment to the petitioner is concerned, I do not find any flaw or infirmity in such process and I do not find that such decision was absurd or perverse. Therefore, I do not incline to interfere the punishment awarded to the petitioner.

30. Accordingly, the writ petition is dismissed being misconceived.

31. No order as to costs.

32. Before parting with, I put a note of appreciation for Ms. Shama Parveen, Law Clerk, for making thorough research on the case laws.

A. Service Law – GO dated 05.03.2021 – Appointment – Cancellation – Incorrect information given in application form – Correction sought – Plea of bonafide mistake, how far permissible – Held, in view of Clause 17 of the notification of selection in question wherein it has been categorically indicated that if any wrong information has been provided by the candidate, the same may not be permitted to correct later on and such condition has not been assailed by the petitioner – In view of the decision of Division Bench of this Court in re; Doli (Supra) the petitioner may not be permitted to correct the wrong information – If the candidates are permitted to correct their mistake done while filling up the application form in question whether it is bonafide or not, the authority concerned would not be able to conclude the selection process to its logical end. (Para 15)

Writ Petition dismissed. (E-1)

Cases relied on :-

1. Special Appeal Defective No. 226 of 2021; Doli Vs St. of U.P. & ors. decided on 08.04.2021

2. Amarjeet Singh & ors. Vs Devi Ratan & ors.; (2010) 1 SCC 417

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rajesh Singh Chauhan, J.)

1. Heard Sri Sharad Pathak, learned counsel for the petitioner, Sri Ran Vijay Singh, learned counsel for the opposite party nos.1, 2, 3 & 5 and Sri Shivam Sharma, learned counsel for the opposite party no.4.

2. By means of the writ petition, the petitioner has assailed the order dated 19.06.2021 passed by opposite party no.4 by means of which the petitioner's appointment on the post of Assistant Teacher in 69,000 Primary Teacher has been cancelled. The petitioner has also assailed the decision dated 19.06.2021 passed by opposite party no.5 by means of which the District Selection Committee has taken decision of cancelling the appointment of the petitioner.

3. The precise submission of learned counsel for the petitioner is that while filling up the application form, he indicated his marks for Intermediate education passed in the year 2009 as 352 out of 500 in place of 332 out of 500 marks. As soon as the petitioner came to know about such bonafide mistake, he has requested the authority concerned to permit the petitioner to make such correction saying that he may provide original certificate/marksheet of the interim examination.

4. Learned counsel for the petitioner has further submitted that had the petitioner been filled up the correct marks of Intermediate as 332 out of 500, he would have been selected for the post of Assistant Teacher. Further, filling up more marks than he has obtained in the Intermediate was not extended any undue advantage to the petitioner, therefore, his candidature should have not been rejected on the basis of Government Order dated 05.03.2021 (Annexure No.26).

5. Learned counsel for the petitioner has also submitted that the appointment of any Assistant Teacher can be cancelled on the basis of Government Order dated 05.03.2021, if any marks have been filled up by the candidate without having any documentary evidence to that effect and that information provides any undue advantage to such candidate but in the present case the petitioner is having his original mark sheet and certificate of the Intermediate Examination and the marks so filled up by the petitioner is not extending any undue advantage, in as much as he would have been selected if he had filled up the correct marks. Therefore, learned counsel for the petitioner submitted that in the interest of justice petitioner could have been permitted to correct the bonafide mistake, thereby permitting the petitioner to discharge the functions for which selection letter was issued to him.

6. Learned counsel for the petitioner lastly submitted that when the petitioner has been selected on the post of Assistant Teacher and has been permitted to submit his joining on such post then his appointment could not have been cancelled on the basis of principle of estopple and the bonafide mistake of the petitioner might be permitted to be condoned.

7. Per contra, Sri Ran Vijay Singh and Sri Shivam Sharma as learned counsel for the opposite parties have cited the judgment of Apex Court in the case of (Rahul Kumar Vs. State of U.P. & Ors.) referring para-4 thereof, whereby the Hon'ble Apex Court has considered the Government Order dated 05.03.2021 and vide para-7, the said Government Order has been upheld which reads as under:-

"4. Subsequently, the State issued Government Circular dated 05.03.2021 ("the Circular', for short) which further elaborated paragraph 1 of Point No.2 as stated above. The relevant portion of the Circular was to the following effect:

"2. In continuation of the recommendations dated 13-12-2020 of the Committee which were brought to your notice vide the letter dated 15-01-2021, the opinion of the legal and personnel department were sought. On the basis of the recommendations of the legal and personnel department, the following have been decided to be acted upon:-

(1) In context of Recommendations of the Committee at Point-1 in reference to more marks mentioned:-

The candidates who has submitted the application form on the basis of certificate/marksheet available with them and had mentioned more marks but the marks were subsequently changed after scrutiny/re-evaluation/back-paper by the university/issuing authority on its own, those candidates cannot be held to be responsible for changing or wrongfully mentioning marks in the application form as they did not have any option but to fill the marks mentioned in the certificate/marksheet available with them at the relevant time of filing-up of the application form. Such candidate, if they have obtained more quality points than the last candidate selected in the category in the district, then he/shall be given the appointment letter in that district. If any such candidate has lesser quality points than the last candidate selected in a particular district but more than the quality point than the last selected candidate in that category in the state list then the details of such candidate shall be provided to the administration by the Director, Basic Education. Further actions will be taken in that regard by the administration.

Where a candidate, without any documentary basis, has mentioned more marks than what he has obtained or has mentioned less maximum marks than what the actual was, his/her selection/candidature shall be cancelled."

a) According to the Circular, wherever more marks were claimed as a result of subsequent changes after scrutiny/re-evaluation/back-paper by the university/issuing authority "on its own", the candidate could not be held responsible for discrepancy or wrongful mentioning of the marks and a benefit was therefore sought to be conferred upon the candidate which was not contemplated by the G.O.

b) The last part of the quoted portion of the Circular emphasized that where a candidate had mentioned "more marks" than what he had actually obtained or had mentioned "lesser maximum marks" than what the total marks for the examination in question were allocated, the selection/candidature of the candidate would stand cancelled.

c) The underlying principle, therefore, is quite evident that by quoting more marks than what the candidate had actually obtained or by specifying lesser total marks for the examination than those allocated for the examination, the candidate would essentially be claiming an advantage to which he was not entitled, in case the discrepancy were to go unnoticed.

7. We need not consider individual fact situation as the reading of the G.O. and the Circular as stated above is quite clear that wherever a candidate had put himself in a disadvantaged position as stated above, his candidature shall not be cancelled but will be reckoned with such disadvantage as projected; but if the candidate had projected an advantaged position which was beyond his rightful due or entitlement, his candidature will stand cancelled. The rigour of the G.O. and the Circular is clear that wherever undue advantage can enure to the candidate if the discrepancy were to go unnoticed, regardless whether the percentage of advantage was greater or lesser, the candidature of such candidate must stand cancelled. However, wherever the candidate was not claiming any advantage and as a matter of fact, had put himself in a disadvantaged position, his candidature will not stand cancelled but the candidate will have to remain satisfied with what was quoted or projected in the application form."

8. They referred another judgment of Hon'ble Apex Court in (Jyoti Yadav & Anr. Vs. State of U.P. & Ors.) referring para-13 to 15, whereby the Government Order dated 05.03.2021 have been clarified:-

"13. The stand of the State is that every candidate was obliged to fill up the relevant entries in the application form correctly and specially those pertaining to the marks obtained by the candidates in various examinations with due care and caution. The information given in the application form would reflect in quality points of the candidates and have a direct bearing on the merit list. That would in turn, not only determine the inter se merit but afford guidance to cater to the choices indicated by the candidates. The declaration which was spelt out in the Guidelines and repeated in the Advertisement, had clearly put every candidate to notice that if there be any mistake in the application form, the candidate could not claim any right to have those mistakes rectified.

14. Wherever the mistakes committed by the candidates purportedly gave additional marks or weightage greater than what they actually deserved, according to the communication dated 05.03.2021, their candidature would stand rejected. However, wherever mistakes committed by the candidates actually put them at a disadvantage as against their original entitlement or the variation could be one attributable to the University or issuing authority, an exception was made by said communication. The reason for treating these two categories of candidates differently cannot thus be called irrational.

In the first case, going by the marks or information given in the application form the candidate would secure undue advantage whereas in the latter category of cases the candidate would actually be at a disadvantage or where the variation could be attributed to them. The candidates in the latter category have been given a respite from the rigor of the declaration. The classification is clear and precise. Those who could possibly walk away with the undue advantage will continue to be governed by the terms of the declaration, while the other category would be given some relief.

15. Having considered all the rival submissions, in our view, the Communication dated 05.03.2021 made a rational distinction and was designed to achieve a purpose of securing fairness while maintaining the integrity of the entire process. If, at every juncture, any mistakes by the candidates were to be addressed and considered at individual level, the entire process of selection may stand delayed and put to prejudice. In order to have definiteness in the matter, certain norms had to be prescribed and presciption of such stipulations cannot be termed to be arbitrary or irrational. Every candidate was put to notice twice over, by the Guidelines and the Advertisement."

9. Both the learned counsel for the opposite parties have submitted that vide Clause 17 of the notification pursuant to which the selection in question has been completed, it has been categorically indicated that if any candidate provides any wrong information, he/she may not be permitted to correct the same, so such candidate must verify the information carefully before finalizing the same. Therefore, the wrong information so given by the petitioner would definitely cause prejudice to him in view of Clause 17 of the notification in question.

10. So as to strengthen the aforesaid contention Sri Ran Vijay Singh, learned counsel for the opposite party has placed reliance on the judgment and order dated 08.04.2021 passed by the Division Bench in this Court in Special Appeal Defective No.226 of 2021 (Doli Vs. State of U.P. & Ors.) referring para-8 thereof, whereby the Division Bench has held that after submitting the form such correction may not be permitted in Clause-17 of the notification. For the convenience, Para-8 is being reproduced hereinunder:-

"8. Having noticed the two Division Bench decisions of this Court, the issue which arises for our consideration is whether a candidate who is put to notice that before uploading the data she must cross check the data with her testimonials and obtain a print-out thereof before uploading and, once it is uploaded, she would not be allowed to correct a mistake, could seek a writ of mandamus upon the authorities to allow her to correct the mistake. The answer to it would depend upon existence of enabling provisions found in a statute or rule or executive instructions. No statutory provision or rule or instruction has been shown to us which may allow such correction despite clear instructions to the contrary in the notification. It has also not been shown to us that the authorities have allowed such corrections to other candidates. It is well settled that a mandamus is ordinarily to be issued upon a public authority to perform its duty or obligation cast upon it by law. A person seeking a writ of mandamus must therefore demonstrate that a right inheres in him that casts a corresponding duty / obligation upon the public authority or State or its instrumentality to perform, or desist from performing, such act for which a writ of mandamus is sought. That right may be derived, inter alia, from the Constitution of India, a statute or a rule or an executive instruction. The petitioner has failed to demonstrate that any such right inheres in her under a Statute or rule or executive instructions. Whether such right inheres in her under the Constitution of India needs to be examined. Interestingly, the petitioner has not challenged the instructions contained in clause 17 of the notification as violative of Part III of the Constitution of India or any statutory provision or rule. Otherwise also, in matters relating to public examinations, such strict instructions as are found in clause 17 of the notification are desirable to prevent foul play and to ensure expeditious conclusion of the recruitment process, inasmuch as if candidates are allowed to correct/alter data their merit position would alter accordingly, resulting in utter confusion. Therefore, ex facie, such instructions do not appear arbitrary. In these circumstances, we are of the considered view, the appellant has failed to make out a case for issuance of a writ in the nature of mandamus commanding the respondents to rectify the mistake made by her in her online submission."

11. Lastly, both the learned counsels for the opposite parties have cited dictum in (Amarjeet Singh & Ors. Vs. Devi Ratan & Ors.) reported in (2010) 1 SCC 417 submitting that since the petitioner has not assailed the Government Order dated 05.03.2021 which is the foundation of cancellation of the appointment of the petitioner, therefore, the consequential order may not be quashed unless the main order is not assailed.

12. Learned counsel for the opposite parties drew attention towards the Annexure No.3 of the petition wherein undertaking of the petitioner has been enclosed showing that petitioner has given undertaking that in case if any wrong information is provided, his selection can be cancelled.

13. Shri Shivam Sharma, learned counsel for the opposite party has also drew attention towards Annexure No.35 of the writ petition which is an order dated 01.07.2021 passed by this Court submitting that learned counsel for the petitioner is taking contrary stand in the present case to the stand taken in the case of (Sri Chandra Shekar Vs. State of U.P. & Ors.) passed by this Court on 27.07.2021.

14. I have heard learned counsel for the parties, perused the material available on record and the decisions so cited.

15. Since the appointment of the petitioner has been cancelled on the basis of Government Order dated 5.3.2021 which has been confirmed by the Apex Court in re; Rahul Kumar (Supra) clarified in re; Jyoti Yadav (Supra), therefore, no interference may be required in the cancellation order. Besides, in view of Clause 17 of the notification of selection in question wherein it has been categorically indicated that if any wrong information has been provided by the candidate, the same may not be permitted to correct later on and such condition has not been assailed by the petitioner. Not only the above, the petitioner has himself given undertaking which is contained in Annexure No.3 with the writ petition, therefore, in view of the decision of Division Bench of this Court in re; Doli (Supra) the petitioner may not be permitted to correct the wrong information. To me, if the candidates are permitted to correct their mistake done while filling up the application form in question whether it is bonafide or not, the authority concerned would not be able to conclude the selection process to its logical end, therefore, the Clause-17 in the notification has been incorporated. So far as the argument of learned counsel for the petitioner regarding the principle of estoppel having been imposed against the cancellation of appointment of the petitioner vide order dated 19.06.2021 after permitting him to serve on the post in question is concerned, I am of the considered opinion that to meet out such eventuality the Government Order dated 5.3.2021 has been issued. Admittedly, neither the Government Order dated 5.3.2021 has been assailed nor Clause-17 of the notification has been assailed by the petitioner, therefore, the competent authority may not be restrained to issue order of cancellation of appointment of the petitioner on the basis of principle of estoppel.

16. Having heard learned counsel for the parties and having perused the material available on record and the case laws so cited by learned counsel for the parties, I do not find any infirmity or illegality in the orders impugned dated 19.06.2021 passed by the authorities, therefore, the writ petition is dismissed.

17. No order as to cost.

18. However, it is provided that since the petitioner has admittedly discharged his duties on the post of Assistant Teacher, therefore, no recovery shall be made from him for the period he has discharged his duties.

A. Service Law – Transfer – Nature and Scope of interference – Joining submitted in pursuance of transfer – Cancellation of transfer order – No opportunity of hearing – Validity challenged – Transfer is an incidence of service – Courts do not normally interfere such orders unless such order has been passed in a violation of rules or is an outcome of malice in law – Held, both these grounds are missing in this case – Transfer policy is only a guideline and such guideline may not be executed through writ court unless there is any statutory violation, therefore, the plea of the petitioner that suspending the transfer order dated 12.7.2021 would be violative of transfer policy is misconceived. 2. Civil Misc. Writ Petition No. 52249 of 2000; Krishna Chandra Dubey Vs U.O.I.& ors.

3. Special Leave to Appeal (C) No(s). 36717/2017; Namrata Verma Vs The St. of U.P. & ors.

(Delivered by Hon'ble Rajesh Singh Chauhan, J.)

1. Heard Sri Jay Shanker Shukla, learned counsel for the petitioner and Ms. Jyoti Sikka, learned Addl. Advocate General, assisted by Sri Shailendra Kumar Singh, learned Chief Standing Counsel-III for the State-respondents.

2. At the very outset, Sri Shailendra Kumar Singh, learned Chief Standing Counsel-III has drawn attention of this Court towards the order dated 20.9.2021 passed by this Court in Service Single No.21036 of 2021, Avnesh Kumar Vs. State of U.P. & Ors, by submitting that the case of the present petitioner is identical with the case of Avnesh Kumar (supra) inasmuch as the place of posting of the present petitioner is unchanged in the same manner as the place of posting of Avnesh Kumar (supra) was unchanged, therefore, the present writ petition may be decided in terms of order dated 20.9.2021. For the convenience, the order dated 20.9.2021 passed in re; Avnesh Kumar (supra) is being reproduced herein below:-

"1. Heard Sri Jay Shanker Shukla, learned counsel for the petitioner and Ms. Jyoti Sikka, learned Additional Advocate General of U.P. for the State-respondents.

2. By means of this petition, the petitioner has assailed the order dated 27.7.2021 passed by the Special Secretary, Finance (Services) Anubhag-1, Government of U.P. addressing to the Director, Internal Accounts and Audit Examination, Lucknow suspending the operation of all transfer orders of the employees made for the session 2021-22 until further orders. The petitioner has also assailed the office order dated 28.7.2021 passed by the Director, Internal Accounts and Audit Examination, U.P., Lucknow in compliance of the order dated 27.7.2021 staying the transfer orders issued from 22.6.2021 to 15.7.2021.

3. Contention of learned counsel for the petitioner is that the petitioner, who is serving on the post of Accountant in the office of Superintendent, Central Jail, Fatehgarh, Farrukhabad, has been transferred vide order dated 15.7.2021 (Annexure No.8) in the public interest to the office of Finance Controller (Vittiya Paramarshdata), Zila Panchayat, Farrukhabad. Learned counsel for the petitioner has contended that as soon as the transfer order dated 15.7.2021 was passed, the petitioner submitted his joining at the transferred place, therefore, after submitting his joining at the transferred place, his transfer order may not be suspended by means of impugned order dated 27.7.2021. Further, the consequential order dated 28.7.2021 passed by the Director concerned staying all transfer orders is illegal.

4. Learned counsel for the petitioner has further submitted that some identical writ petitions are pending and in some of identical writ petitions, interim orders have been granted. Learned counsel for the petitioner has drawn attention of this Court towards an order dated 17.9.2021 passed by the Division Bench of this Court in Special Appeal No.339 of 2021 whereby the Division Bench of this Court has stayed the order dated 27/28.7.2021 on the basis of principles of parity observing that since the interim order has been passed in favour of some employees, therefore, the appellant before the Division Bench is also entitled for the same benefit in view of the dictum of the Hon'ble Apex Court in re; Vishnu Traders vs. State of Haryana and others, reported in 1995 Supp. (1) SCC 461. For the convenience, the order dated 17.9.2021 passed by the Division Bench in Special Appeal No.339 of 2021 is being reproduced herein below:-

"This intra-court appeal has been filed against the judgment and order dated 07.09.2021 passed by learned Single Judge in Writ Petition No.19887 (SS) of 2021 in re: Satya Narayan Gautam vs. State of U.P. and others, whereby the writ petition preferred by the petitioner/appellant has been dismissed.

Heard.

Admit.

Issue notice.

Since the respondents are represented by learned Standing Counsel no steps are required to be taken for issuance of notice.

Learned counsel for the appellant submits that vide order dated 15.07.2021 several persons were transferred on their own request. The petitioner/appellant was also transferred on his request on the post of Accountant. The said transfer order was subsequently suspended by the State Government vide order dated 27.07.2021 after joining of the transferred persons including the appellant on the transferred place. The competent authority through his order dated 28.07.2021 directed to join back at the earlier place of posting. The aforesaid orders were challenged by several persons by filing separate writ petitions namely Writ Petition No.17278 (SS) of 2021 in re: Akansha Tripathi vs. State of U.P. and others, Writ Petition No.9907 (SS) of 2021 in re: Munish Kumar Srivastava vs. State of U.P. and others, Writ Petition No.18115 (SS) of 2021 in re: Gyanendra Kumar vs. State of U.P. and others, and Writ Petition No.19103 (SS) of 2021 in re: Shankar Lal Agrawal vs. State of U.P. and others, wherein the Court had granted indulgence and stayed the impugned order dated 27/28.07.2021. The submission of learned counsel for the appellant is that the appellant/petitioner is also entitled to get parity of the aforesaid orders as he is similarly situated like the others. However, learned Single Judge dismissed the writ petition on the first day itself. In support of his submission, learned counsel for the appellant/petitioner has relief on the case of Vishnu Traders vs. State of Haryana and others reported in 1995 Supp. (1) SCC 461, to emphasize that there should be parity in grant of the interim orders.

We have considered the submissions of learned counsel for the parties and gone through the records.

Once the interim order has been passed in the cases of similarly situated persons, the appellant/petitioner was entitled to get parity. As such, we stay the operation of the impugned judgment and order dated 07.09.2021 as well as the order dated 27/28.07.2021 till further orders of this Court.

However, it would be open for the respondents to pass fresh orders."

5. I have also granted interim order in favour of the employee, who had sought transfer at particular district apprising his grievance and said transfer order was passed on his request and thereafter, such employee submitted his joining at the transferred place, therefore, I was of the opinion that when any transfer order is passed considering the request of an employee and such employee has submitted his joining at the transferred place, such transfer order should not be suspended by way of general order staying all transfer orders.

6. However, I had also an occasion to decide an identical writ petition bearing Writ Petition No.19965 (S/S) of 2021, whereby the transfer of such employee was made in public interest and he submitted his joining pursuant to the earlier transfer order. When his transfer order was suspended by a general orders dated 27.7.2021 and 28.7.2021, he assailed such order placing same analogy that once an employee has submitted his joining at the transferred place, his/ her transfer order may not be suspended or withdrawn. Dismissing that writ petition considering the fact that place of said petitioner was unchanged, therefore, no legal prejudice is being caused to him and even his place of posting is unchanged, no interference was made in that transfer order in terms of order dated 6.9.2021 passed by the Hon'ble Apex Court in re; Namrata Verma v. The State of Uttar Pradesh & Ors., Special Leave to Appeal (C) No(s).36717/2017. For the convenience, the order dated 6.9.2021 reads herein below:-

"Heard Mr. Parvez Bashista, learned counsel appearing for the petitioner and Mr. Sanjay Kumar Tyagi, learned counsel appearing for the respondent-State of U.P.

It is not for the employee to insist to transfer him/her and/or not to transfer him/her at a particular place. It is for the employer to transfer an employee considering the requirement.

The Special Leave Petition is dismissed.

Pending applications stand disposed of."

7. Ms. Jyoti Sikka, learned Additional Advocate General has submitted that the decision of the Hon'ble Apex Court in re; Namrata Verma (supra) might have not been placed for consideration before the Division Bench of this Court and difference of the facts being considered by this Court might have not been apprised properly, therefore, the order dated 17.9.2021 would have been passed. However, she has submitted that the State is willing to file counter affidavit in the said special appeal apprising each facts and circumstances in detail including the order of the Hon'ble Apex Court in re; Namrata Verma (supra).

8. By means of impugned order dated 27.7.2021 (Annexure No.1), all the transfer orders issued for the transfer session 2021-22 have been suspended until further orders and as per Ms. Sikka, the fact finding enquiry is going on and as soon as the report of fact finding enquiry is received to the competent authority, appropriate orders would be passed. In case the competent authority finds that the earlier transfer orders issued in favour of the petitioner and other employees are appropriate orders, such employees would be permitted to discharge their respective duties at the transferred place and if it is found that such transfer orders were not passed strictly as per policy or law, those transfer orders would be cancelled and the employees would have to submit their joining at the earlier places. In any case, since no final decision has yet been taken, therefore, grievance of the petitioner that by means of impugned order dated 27.7.2021 and 28.7.2021 (Annexure Nos.1 & 2), the earlier transfer orders of the petitioner have been cancelled is misconceived. The said transfer order has been suspended for the time being till any appropriate order is passed by the competent authority.

9. Besides, if the transfer order of the petitioner is permitted to be existed, in that case he shall remain be posted at Farrukhabad and in case his transfer order is cancelled, even in that case he shall remain be posted at Farrukhabad. The present petitioner shall remain be posted at Farrukhabad in any eventuality. Therefore, I wonder as to why the present transfer order has been challenged by the petitioner when his place of posting is unchanged in any circumstance. The Hon'ble Apex Court has time and again and also in re; Namrata Verma (supra) has categorically observed that the employee may not insist for particular place of posting.

10. In view of the above, I do not find any infirmity or illegality in the impugned orders dated 27.7.2021 passed by opposite party no.2 and 28.7.2021 passed by opposite party no.3 (Annexure Nos.1 & 2).

11. Therefore, the writ petition is dismissed being misconceived."

3. Sri Shukla, learned counsel for the petitioner has submitted that even if the place of posting of the petitioner is unchanged, even then the transfer order earlier passed in favour of the petitioner pursuant to which the petitioner has submitted his joining may not be suspended by means of impugned orders dated 27.7.2021 and 28.7.2021 (Annexure Nos.1 & 2) passed by the Special Secretary and Director respectively. Since the earlier transfer order dated 12.7.2021 was passed strictly in terms of transfer policy of the State Government, which provides that after three years of service, the place of posting of an employee should be changed and following such guideline, the place of posting o the petitioner was changed from the office of Block Development Officer, Kadarchauk, Badaun to the office of Finance Advisor (Vittiya Paramarshdata), Zila Panchayat, Badaun in public interest on the vacant post. Therefore, if the transfer order dated 12.7.2021 pursuant to which the petitioner has submitted his joining in the office of Vittiya Paramarshdata, Zila Panchayat, Badaun is suspended, at least an opportunity of hearing to the petitioner should be afforded. Sri Shukla has submitted that the law is trite to the effect that if any person submits his joining pursuant to the transfer order, the same may not be suspended, withdrawn or cancelled.

4. Sri Sri Shailendra Kumar Singh, learned Chief Standing Counsel-III, has informed on the basis of instructions that the Director, who had made transfer of the employees for the session 2021-22, has been placed under suspension pursuant to the fact finding enquiry for the reason that while transferring the employees for the session 2021-22, the relevant guidelines and mandate of policy have not been considered properly, however, final decision is pending consideration before the Government regarding those transfer orders, which have been suspended until further orders.

5. On being confronted the learned counsel for the petitioner as to what legal right of the petitioner has been flouted or violated by means of impugned orders dated 27.7.2021 and 28.7.2021 when the place of posting shall remain unchanged in case the earlier transfer order is cancelled or survived, learned counsel for the petitioner has submitted that when any order has been passed without following the due procedure of law, that may not be permitted to sustain any longer.

6. Be that as it may, the transfer is an incidence of service, therefore, the courts do not normally interfere such orders unless such order has been passed in a violation of rules or is an outcome of malice in law. Both the aforesaid grounds are missing in this case. The law is trite in re; Krishna Chandra Dubey Vs. Union of India (UOI) and Ors. (Civil Misc. Writ Petition No.52249 of 2000), that it is very well within the domain of the competent authority to modify the transfer order or to cancel the transfer order even if the same has been executed. Recently, the Hon'ble Apex Court in re; Namrata Verma v. The State of Uttar Pradesh & Ors., Special Leave to Appeal (C) No(s).36717/2017, has held that the employee may not request his/ her posting at any particular place. In the present case, if the transfer order dated 12.7.2021 (Annexure No.6) is cancelled, the petitioner shall remain be posted at Badaun and if such transfer order survives, in that case the petitioner shall remain be posted at Badaun. Further, the transfer policy is only a guideline and such guideline may not be executed through writ court unless there is any statutory violation, therefore, the plea of the petitioner that suspending the transfer order dated 12.7.2021 would be violative of transfer policy is misconceived. It is made clear that the facts of the case wherein the interim order has been granted are different inasmuch as such employee had placed his grievance before the competent authority seeking transfer and considering his bonafide grievance, he was transferred at particular place. Further, such transfer is permissible but his transfer order was also suspended by means of impugned orders dated 27.7.2021 and 28.7.2021 even after submitting his joining, therefore, the interim order was granted in favour of such employee seeking counter affidavit from the State Government. In other cases where the place of posting is unchanged, no interim order has been granted by this Court as informed by the learned Chief Standing Counsel.

7. In view of the above, I do not find any infirmity or illegality in the impugned orders dated 27.7.2021 passed by opposite party no.2 and 28.7.2021 passed by opposite party no.3 (Annexure Nos.1 & 2).

8. Therefore, the writ petition is dismissed being misconceived.

A. UP Police Radio Subordinate Service Rules, 1982 – Promotion on the post of Workshop Hand – Qualification of having ITI certificate – Requirement – Rules of 2015 make the qualification of having ITI Certificate mandatory, but Rules of 2016 make it optional – Eight vacancies of promotion was notified on 16.05.2016 – Rules, 2015 will be applied or Rules, 2016 – Held, in view of the qualification being prescribed under the Amended Rules, 2016 the candidates, who were qualified as per unamended Rules i.e. Rules, 2015, have not been ousted from zone of consideration. Therefore, case of the petitioners may not be said to have been prejudiced on account of Amended Rules, 2016, so their claim that they be considered for promotion strictly in terms of unamended Rules, 2015 is absolutely misconceived – Direction issued to promote all suitable candidates from Class IV post to the post of Workshop Hand strictly in accordance with Rules, 2016. 1. Heard Sri A.P. Singh, learned Senior Advocate, assisted by Sri Amrendra Pratap Singh, learned counsel for the petitioners in leading writ petition as well as Sri I.M. Pandey, learned counsel for the petitioners in Service Single No.2397 of 2020, Sri Sharad, learned Standing Counsel for the State, Sri Amit Bose, learned Senior Advocate, assisted by Sri Abhishek Bose, learned counsel for the intervenor.

2. By means of first writ petition, only one prayer has been made, which is as under:-

"(a) issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of mandamus commanding the Opposite parties to fill up the vacancies in the cadre of Workshop hand occurring prior to promulgation of Uttar Pradesh Police Radio Subordinate Service (IInd amendment) Rules, 2016 in accordance with the provisions of Uttar Pradesh Police Radio Subordinate Service Rules, 2015."

3. By means of second writ petition, following prayers have been made:-

"1. Issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of ceriorari to quash order bearing no.W-43/2019 dated 22.11.2019 passed by the opposite party no.2 whereby the representation of the petitioners for promotion on the post of Workshop Hand under the 25% promotion quota as prescribed under Rule - 5(1)(a) read with rule 17 of U.P. Police Radio Subordinate Service Rules - 2015 as amended by U.P. Police Radio Subordinate Service (Ilnd Amendment) Rules 2016, has been rejected in wholly unlawful and arbitrary manner refusing to hold selection for promotion to the post of Work Shop Hand until final disposal of the Writ Petition No.29369(S/S) of 2016 or vacation of interim order dated 16.12.2016 and 25.5.2018 passed therein as contained in annexure no.1 to the writ petition.

2. Issue a writ, order or direction in the nature of Mandamus commanding the Opposite Parties to consider the Petitioners for promotion on the post of Workshop Hand under Rule - 5(1)(a) read with rule 17 of U.P. Police Radio Subordinate Service Rules - 2015 as amended by U.P. Police Radio Subordinate Service (Ilnd Amendment) Rules 2016, against the existing vacancies as shown in the chart of vacancies of the various posts of department as on 31.08.2019 contained in annexure no. 5 to the writ petition excluding the vacancies which had been ascertained prior to U.P. Police Radio Subordinate Service (Ilnd Amendment) Rules 2016 i.e. 19.10.2016 (the date of notification no.18/2016/2792/6-Pu-01-16-1300 (7)/ 1994 whereby the U.P. Police Radio Subordinate Service (IInd Amendment) Rules 2016 were notified) within a short reasonable period to be prescribed by this Hon'ble Court in the interest of Justice."

4. In both the writ petitions since the question of law to be adjudicated is one and same, therefore, with the consent of learned counsel for the parties I hereby dispose of both the writ petition by means of common order.

5. The question to be adjudicated in both the writ petitions is that as to whether the promotion on the post of Workshop Hand in Uttar Pradesh Police Radio Branch Headquarters, Lucknow (hereinafter referred to as "department in question") for the vacancies occurring prior to the year 2016 can be made on the basis of Uttar Pradesh Police Radio Subordinate Service (Second Amendment) Rules, 2016 or in view of the provisions of Uttar Pradesh Police Radio Subordinate Service Rules, 2015.

6. Ignoring the detailed facts of the issue in question, only those facts are being considered which are necessary to adjudicate the issue in question.

7. In both the writ petitions, the petitioners were initially appointed on the post of Messenger Peon/ Group 'D' post from the year 1989 to 1993. Later on, all the petitioners were confirmed on such post and have been allowed all service benefits admissible as per law e.g. selection grade, promotional pay scale, benefit of A.C.P. etc.

8. Notably, for the U.P. Police Radio Branch of the Police Force, the Governor of U.P. in exercise of powers vested in him under Section 15 of the U.P. Pradeshik Armed Constabulary Act, 1948 (hereinafter referred to as "the Act, 1948") promulgated the U.P. Police Radio Subordinate Service Rules, 1982 regulating the appointment and other conditions of service of the posts in the U.P. Police Radio Subordinate Service. According to Rule 4 of the aforesaid Rules, the cadre of the U.P. Police Radio Subordinate Service would comprise of the posts of Workshop Hand, Assistant Operator, Head Operator, Radio Station Officer, Radio Maintenance Officer and Radio Inspector in that hierarchy.

9. At the time when the aforesaid Rules were promulgated, according to the then existing provisions of Rule 5 (1) of the aforesaid Rules, the posts of Workshop Hands were to be filled up entirely by direct recruitment. Further, as per Rule 5 (2) of aforesaid Rules, the posts of Assistant Operators were to be filled upto the extent of 90% by direct recruitment and 10% by promotion from amongst such permanent Workshop Hands, who had qualified Grade-III Operators Course.

10. Subsequently, by means of notification dated 14.2.1998, the Governor of U.P. promulgated the U.P. Police Radio Subordinate Service (First Amendment) Rules, 1997 (hereinafter referred to as "Rules, 1997"), whereby Rule 5 (1) of the aforesaid Rules was substituted by a new rule which provides that the post of Workshop Hand would be filled up to the extent of 75% by direct recruitment and 25% by promotion from amongst such Group 'D' employees working in the U.P. Police Radio Branch, who had qualified the High School Examination conducted by the U.P. Board of High School and Intermediate or who had qualified the training course in the trade from a Government recognized Industrial Training Institute which would be useful for the work as a Workshop Hand in the department or any other course recognized as equivalent thereto and had put in five years of service as Group 'D' employee.

11. From the aforesaid Rules, as amended in the year 1997, it is apparent that as far as Group 'D' employees of the Radio Branch are concerned, for the first time in the year 1997 an avenue for promotion to the post of Workshop Hand was provided to the extent of 25% of the posts and the Group 'D' employees, who were eligible for promotion to the Workshop Hand were those who had qualified the High School Examination or those who had obtained Industrial Training Institute Certificate from any Government recognized Industrial Training Institute (hereinafter referred to as "I.T.I.") in a trade which would be useful for the work of Workshop Hand in the U.P. Police Radio Branch.

12. As far as direct recruitment to the posts of Workshop Hand was concerned, the educational qualification required was the same as that required for promotion, i.e., qualifying High School Examination or obtaining an I.T.I. certificate. Thus, it is apparent that for the post of Workshop Hand, an I.T.I. certificate in any trade was not an essential qualification for either direct recruitment or promotion.

13. On 28.9.2015, the Governor of U.P. in exercise of his power vested under the Act, 1948 promulgated the U.P. Police Radio Subordinate Service Rules, 2015 (hereinafter referred to as "Rules, 2015") superseding all the existing Rules thereby the qualification of I.T.I. or equivalent was made compulsory considering the nature and duties to be performed by the Workshop Hands as they deal with the technical equipments like wireless set etc.

14. On 19.10.2016, the Uttar Pradesh Police Radio Subordinate Service (Second Amendment) Rules, 2016 (hereinafter referred to as "Rules, 2016") were notified whereby and whereunder vide Rule 2 (a) (ii), high school passed group 'D' employees have been brought into the field of eligibility for promotion in the cadre of Workshop Hand or who had qualified the I.T.I. course. As a matter of fact, by means of Second Amendment in the Rules made in the year 2016, such qualification was revived which was there as per Rules 1982. The difference between Rules, 2015 and Rules, 2016 is that vide Rules, 2015, the qualification of having I.T.I. was mandatory with High School examination but by means of Rules, 2016, such qualification was one of the qualifications. In other words, vide Rules, 2015, the employee must have qualified High School Examination/ Intermediate Examination and must have possessed the I.T.I. course but vide Rules, 2016, the employee having qualified High School/ Intermediate Examination or the employee having qualified I.T.I. course is eligible.

15. In the first writ petition the impression was given to the Court to the effect that the Rules, 2016 were difference from Rules, 2015 but this fact has not been apprised that the Rules, 2016 are the same as of the Rules, 1982. Further, the candidate, who was eligible as per Rules, 2015, was also eligible as per Rules, 2016 inasmuch as in both the Rules one qualification, i.e. having qualified High School/ Intermediate Examination is common. So as to understand minutely the conditions of Rules, 2015 and Rules, 2016, a thin line difference is that Rules, 2015 used the term 'and' between two qualifications i.e. High School qualification and I.I.T. certificate whereas Rules, 2016 provide the term 'or' i.e. High School Examination or I.T.I. certificate. The candidates who were qualified as per Rules, 2015 may not be disqualified for the Rules, 2016, therefore, the grievance of such employees, the petitioners, is misconceived whereby they are saying that the conditions of Rules, 2016 are making prejudice to them.

16. On 28.11.2015, the department finalized inter-se seniority list of group 'D' for the purposes of promotion in the cadre of Workshop Hand from amongst permanent group 'D' employees.

17. On 2.5.2016, the department sent a requisition to the Uttar Pradesh Police Services Recruitment and Promotion Board, Lucknow (hereinafter referred to as "the Board") for filling up the vacancies in the cadre of Workshop Hand occurring in the department. On 16.5.2016, eight vacancies for promotion has been notified apprising to the Board for taking appropriate steps.

18. However, Sri Amit Bose, learned counsel for the intervener has submitted that by Rule 2 of the Rules, 2016, Rule 5 (a) (ii) of the Rules, 2015 has been substituted by the amending provisions. The effect of substitution of the earlier rule by the subsequent rule is that the old rule is replaced and the new rule is enacted with the result that it has to be treated that the substituted rule was always in existence as against the old rule, which is obliterated from the statute book.

19. Sri Bose has further submitted that in view of the aforesaid principle of law, once Rule 5 (a) (ii) of the Rules, 2015 was substituted by new Rule, it has to be treated that new law was in force right from the inception. In view of the above, the entire argument of the learned counsel for the petitioners that the vacancies of the post of Workshop Hand said to have occurred while the original Rule 5 (a) (ii) of the Rules, 2015 was in force have to be filled up as per said rule and not on the basis of substituted rule as inserted under the Rules, 2016 losses all significance and does not deserve any consideration.

20. However, Sri A.P. Singh, learned Senior Advocate, has submitted that since the vacancies in question were prior to the year 2016, therefore, such vacancies should be filled up through old rules i.e. Rules, 2015 inasmuch as the rule of game cannot be changed during the stage of selection process.

21. Sri A.P. Singh has placed reliance upon the judgment of the Hon'ble Apex Court in re; Md. Raisul Islam & Ors. v. Gokul Mohan Hazarika & Ors., JT 2010 (6) SC 632, by submitting that the Hon'ble Apex Court has been pleased to hold that once the process of selection had started under the prevalent Rules, it cannot take a stand that the said selection could be completed in terms of Amended Rules.

22. Sri Singh has also cited the dictum of the Full Bench of this Court in re; Santosh Kumar Singh v. State of U.P. and others, [2015 (7) ADJ 179 (FB)], by submitting that the vacancies in question should be filled up pursuant to the advertisement and the prevalent Rules at that point of time. In support of his aforesaid submission, he has also cited some more dictums of the Hon'ble Apex Court in re; Gaurav Pradhan & Ors. v. State of Rajasthan & Ors, JT 2017 (9) SC 501, Assam Public Service Commission v. Pranjal Kumar Sarma, (2019) 17 SCALE 542, Ramjit Singh Kardam v. Sanjeev Kumar, AIR 2020 SC 2060, Rashmi Ranjan Nayak v. Union of India & others, 2015 SCC OnLine Ori 300, and Union of India & Others v. Krishna Kumar, (2019) 4 SCC 319.

23. Sri Amit Bose, learned Senior Advocate, as well as learned Standing Counsel has reiterated that after the amendment in Rules, 2016 regarding the qualification for the post of Workshop Hand, such qualifications indicated under the Rules, 2015 have lost its efficacy and significance, therefore, the promotion in question should not be made on the basis of Rules, 2015.

24. Sri Bose has submitted that it is a settled principle of law that a candidate has a right to be considered for promotion on the basis of rules existing on the date of consideration and it is not an absolute proposition of law that old vacancies have to be filled up on the basis of old Rules (Unamended Rules). The principle of old vacancies to be filled up on the basis of old rules can only apply in case the candidates, who were eligible under the old Rules, were ousted for consideration as a result of the Amended Rules. In the instant case, the position is otherwise as under Rule 5 (a)(ii) of Rules, 2015 the candidate possessing only High School Examination without possessing I.T.I. certificate were totally ousted by use of the word 'and' between both the qualifications. On the other hand, as a result of substituted Rule 5 (a) (ii) of the Rules, 2016, Class-IV employees having qualification of High School and I.T.I. certificate would not be ousted from consideration zone but they continue to be eligible for said promotion. Therefore, Sri Bose has submitted that the dictum of the Hon'ble Apex Court in re; Deepak Agarwal and Another v. State of Uttar Pradesh and Others, (2011) 6 SCC 725 and Y. V. Rangaiah and Others v. J. Sreenivasa Rao and Others, (1983) 3 SCC 284, which categorically provide that old vacancies should be filled up as per old rules are distinguishable and would not apply in the present case inasmuch as the protection of the dictum of the Hon'ble Apex Court in re; Deepak Agarwal (supra) and Y. V. Rangaiah (supra) would be available to those candidates, who are being ousted on account of Amended Rules i.e. Rules, 2016.

25. Having heard learned counsel for the parties and having perused the material available on record, I am of the considered opinion that any selection process initiated pursuant to the advertisement shall be finalized in terms of the existing rules to fill up the vacancies of direct recruitment but the same analogy would not be applied in case of promotion inasmuch as at the time of making promotion, it has to be seen as to what are the mandatory qualifications for the candidates. However, one relevant aspect has to be taken into consideration that as to whether such amendment in the qualification by amending the rules is precluding the candidates/employees, who were possessing the requisite qualification as per unamended rules or not. If the amended qualification is precluding those candidates, who were otherwise eligible as per unamended rules, may not be made sufferer.

26. The Hon'ble Apex Court in re; Y. V. Rangaiah (supra) has held that the vacancies in the promotional post occurring prior to the amendment have to be filled up in accordance with the unamended rules.

27. Thereafter, the Hon'ble Apex Court in re; Deepak Agarwal (supra) has held that it is the rules which are prevalent at the time when the consideration took place for promotion, which would be applicable. A candidate has the right to be considered in the light of existing rules, which implies 'rule in force' on the date the consideration took place. There is no rule of universal or absolute application that vacancies are to be filled invariably by the law existing on the date when the vacancy arises.

28. The Hon'ble Apex Court in re; State of Tripura and others Vs. Nikhil Ranjan Chakraborty and others, (2017) 3 SCC 646, has held that a candidate only has right to be considered in the light of existing rules, namely, rules in force on the date on which consideration for promotion takes place and there is no rule of absolute application that vacancies must invariably be filled by law existing on the date when they arose. Paragraphs 8 & 9 of the aforesaid judgment are being reproduced herein below:-

"8. In Deepak Agarwal [Deepak Agarwal v. State of U.P., (2011) 6 SCC 725 : (2011) 2 SCC (L&S) 175] the appellants were Technical Officers who along with Assistant Excise Commissioners were eligible to be considered for promotion to the post of Deputy Excise Commissioner. Two days before the DPC was scheduled to meet to consider the cases of all eligible officers for promotion, the Rules concerned were amended and Technical Officers stood excluded as the feeder post for the next promotional post of Deputy Excise Commissioner. The challenge to such exclusion having been negated [Deepak Agarwal v. State of U.P., 2002 SCC OnLine All 1279 : 2002 All LJ 1701] by the High Court, the matter reached this Court and the relevant paragraphs of the decision were: (Deepak Agarwal case [Deepak Agarwal v. State of U.P., (2011) 6 SCC 725 : (2011) 2 SCC (L&S) 175] , SCC pp. 728 & 734-35, paras 2 & 23-26)

"2. The old vacancies have to be filled under the old rules is the mantra sought to be invoked by the appellants in support of their claim that the vacancies arising prior to 17-5-1999, ought to be filled under the 1983 Rules as they existed prior to the amendment dated 17-5-1999. The claim is based on the principle enunciated by this Court inY.V. Rangaiah v. J. Sreenivasa Rao [Y.V. Rangaiah v. J. Sreenivasa Rao, (1983) 3 SCC 284 : 1983 SCC (L&S) 382] .

23. Could the right of the appellants, to be considered under the unamended 1983 Rules be taken away? The promotions to the 12 vacancies have been made on 26-5-1999 under the amended Rules. The High Court rejected [Deepak Agarwal v. State of U.P., 2002 SCC OnLine All 1279 : 2002 All LJ 1701] the submissions of the appellants that the controversy herein is squarely covered by the judgment of this Court in Y.V. Rangaiah [Y.V. Rangaiah v. J. Sreenivasa Rao, (1983) 3 SCC 284 : 1983 SCC (L&S) 382] . The High Court has relied on the judgment of this Court in K. Ramulu v. S. Suryaprakash Rao [K. Ramulu v. S. Suryaprakash Rao, (1997) 3 SCC 59 : 1997 SCC (L&S) 625] .

24. We are of the considered opinion that the judgment in Y.V. Rangaiah case [Y.V. Rangaiah v. J. Sreenivasa Rao, (1983) 3 SCC 284 : 1983 SCC (L&S) 382] would not be applicable in the facts and circumstances of this case. The aforesaid judgment was rendered on the interpretation of Rule 4(a)(1)(i) of the Andhra Pradesh Registration and Subordinate Service Rules, 1976. The aforesaid Rule provided for preparation of a panel for the eligible candidates every year in the month of September. This was a statutory duty cast upon the State. The exercise was required to be conducted each year. Thereafter, only promotion orders were to be issued. However, no panel had been prepared for the year 1976. Subsequently, the Rule was amended, which rendered the petitioners therein ineligible to be considered for promotion. In these circumstances, it was observed by this Court that the amendment would not be applicable to the vacancies which had arisen prior to the amendment. The vacancies which occurred prior to the amended Rules would be governed by the old Rules and not the amended Rules.

25. In the present case, there is no statutory duty cast upon the respondents to either prepare a yearwise panel of the eligible candidates or of the selected candidates for promotion. In fact, the proviso to Rule 2 enables the State to keep any post unfilled. Therefore, clearly there is no statutory duty which the State could be mandated to perform under the applicable Rules. The requirement to identify the vacancies in a year or to take a decision as to how many posts are to be filled under Rule 7 cannot be equated with not issuing promotion orders to the candidates duly selected for promotion. In our opinion, the appellants had not acquired any right to be considered for promotion. Therefore, it is difficult to accept the submissions of Dr Rajeev Dhavan that the vacancies, which had arisen before 17-5-1999 had to be filled under the unamended Rules.

26. It is by now a settled proposition of law that a candidate has the right to be considered in the light of the existing rules, which implies the "rule in force" on the date the consideration took place. There is no rule of universal or absolute application that vacancies are to be filled invariably by the law existing on the date when the vacancy arises. The requirement of filling up old vacancies under the old rules is interlinked with the candidate having acquired a right to be considered for promotion. The right to be considered for promotion accrues on the date of consideration of the eligible candidates. Unless, of course, the applicable rule, as in Y.V. Rangaiah case [Y.V. Rangaiah v.J. Sreenivasa Rao, (1983) 3 SCC 284 : 1983 SCC (L&S) 382] lays down any particular time-frame, within which the selection process is to be completed. In the present case, consideration for promotion took place after the amendment came into operation. Thus, it cannot be accepted that any accrued or vested right of the appellants has been taken away by the amendment."

9. The law is thus clear that a candidate has the right to be considered in the light of the existing rules, namely, "rules in force on the date" the consideration takes place and that there is no rule of absolute application that vacancies must invariably be filled by the law existing on the date when they arose. As against the case of total exclusion and absolute deprivation of a chance to be considered as in Deepak Agarwal [Deepak Agarwal v. State of U.P., (2011) 6 SCC 725 : (2011) 2 SCC (L&S) 175] in the instant case certain additional posts have been included in the feeder cadre, thereby expanding the zone of consideration. It is not as if the writ petitioners or similarly situated candidates were totally excluded. At best, they now had to compete with some more candidates. In any case, since there was no accrued right nor was there any mandate that vacancies must be filled invariably by the law existing on the date when the vacancy arose, the State was well within its rights to stipulate that the vacancies be filled in accordance with the Rules as amended. Secondly, the process to amend the Rules had also begun well before the Notification dated 24-11-2011."

29. Recently, the Apex Court in two cases in re; Union of India and Others v. Krishna Kumar and Others, (2019) 4 SCC 319 and State of Orissa and Another v. Dhirendra Sundar Das and Others, (2019) 6 SCC 270, has held that the rights to be considered for promotion in accordance with the rules as they exist when the exercise is carried out for promotion. In both the aforesaid judgments, all relevant case laws on the subject have been considered.

30. I have also considered the relevant facts of the present case that in view of the qualification being prescribed under the Amended Rules, 2016 the candidates, who were qualified as per unamended Rules i.e. Rules, 2015, have not been ousted from zone of consideration. Therefore, case of the petitioners may not be said to have been prejudiced on account of Amended Rules, 2016, so their claim that they be considered for promotion strictly in terms of unamended Rules, 2015 is absolutely misconceived.

31. When the petitioners are not being ousted on account of Amended Rules, 2016 so far as it prescribes qualification to be promoted on the post of Workshop Hand, then for all other purposes making promotion from Class-IV to Workshop Hand, the provisions of Rules, 2016 shall be taken into account inasmuch as after the amendment in the Rules, 2015 regarding qualification by means of Rules, 2016, such prescription by unamended Rules shall loose all significance and does not deserve any consideration.

32. The Hon'ble Apex Court in re; Zile Singh v. State of Haryana and Others, (2004) 8 SCC 1, has held in para-25 as under:-

"25. Substitution of a provision results in repeal of the earlier provision and its replacement by the new provision (see Principles of Statutory Interpretation, ibid., p. 565). If any authority is needed in support of the proposition, it is to be found in West U.P. Sugar Mills Assn.v.State of U.P.[(2002) 2 SCC 645], State of Rajasthan v. Mangilal Pindwal [(1996) 5 SCC 60] , Koteswar Vittal Kamath v. K. Rangappa Baliga and Co. [(1969) 1 SCC 255] and A.L.V.R.S.T. Veerappa Chettiar v.

S. Michael [AIR 1963 SC 933] . In West U.P. Sugar Mills Assn. case [(2002) 2 SCC 645] a three-Judge Bench of this Court held that the State Government by substituting the new rule in place of the old one never intended to keep alive the old rule. Having regard to the totality of the circumstances centring around the issue the Court held that the substitution had the effect of just deleting the old rule and making the new rule operative. In Mangilal Pindwal case [(1996) 5 SCC 60] this Court upheld the legislative practice of an amendment by substitution being incorporated in the text of a statute which had ceased to exist and held that the substitution would have the effect of amending the operation of law during the period in which it was in force. In Koteswar case [(1969) 1 SCC 255] a three-Judge Bench of this Court emphasised the distinction between "supersession" of a rule and "substitution" of a rule and held that the process of substitution consists of two steps: first, the old rule is made to cease to exist and, next, the new rule is brought into existence in its place"

33. Therefore, in view of the above, the effect of substitution of rule by another is that the old rule is repealed and the new rule is re-enacted with the result that it has to be treated that the substituted rule was always in existence from the very inception. The Hon'ble Apex Court in re; Gottumukkala Venkata Krishamraju v. Union of India, 2018 SCC OnLine SC 1386, vide paras-15 & 16 has observed as under:-

"15. Ordinarily wherever the word "substitute" or "substitution" is used by the legislature, it has the effect of deleting the old provision and make the new provision operative. The process of substitution consists of two steps : first, the old rule is made to cease to exist and, next, the new rule is brought into existence in its place. The rule is that when a subsequent Act amends an earlier one in such a way as to incorporate itself, or a part of itself, into the earlier, then the earlier Act must thereafter be read and construed as if the altered words had been written into the earlier Act with pen and ink and the old words scored out so that thereafter there is no need to refer to the amending Act at all. No doubt, in certain situations, the Court having regard to the purport and object sought to be achieved by the legislature may construe the word "substitution" as an "amendment" having a prospective effect. Therefore, we do not think that it is a universal rule that the word "substitution" necessarily or always connotes two severable steps, that is to say, one of repeal and another of a fresh enactment even if it implies two steps. However, the aforesaid general meaning is to be given effect to, unless it is found that the legislature intended otherwise. Insofar as present case is concerned, as discussed hereinafter, the legislative intent was also to give effect to the amended provision even in respect of those incumbents who were in service as on September 01, 2016.

16. The effect, thus, would be to replace Section 6 as amended with the intention as if this is the only provision which exist from the date of introduction and the earlier provision was not there at all. The effect of this would be that all those incumbents who are holding the post of Presiding Officer on September 01, 2016 would be governed by this provision."

34. Therefore, in view of the facts, circumstances and case laws so cited by the learned counsel for the parties, I do not find any good ground to direct the opposite parties to fill up the vacancies in the cadre of Workshop Hand occurring prior to the promulgation of Rules, 2016 in accordance with the provisions of Rules, 2015. Since the qualifications so prescribed under the Amended Rules, 2016 are the same as were prescribed under the very first Rules i.e. Rules, 1982 and the qualification so inserted by means of Rules, 2015 on 28.9.2015 remained in force till 19.10.2016, however, vide Amended Rules, 2016 the qualifications indicated under such Rules i.e. Rules, 2016 are not ousting the petitioners from the consideration zone of promotion on the post of Workshop Hand and such Rules, 2016 are governing the field for all practical purposes, therefore, the opposite parties are directed to make promotion on the post of Workshop Hand identifying entire existing vacancies in the promotional quota completing such exercise with expedition, preferably within a period of three months thereby promoting all suitable candidates from Class-IV post to the post of Workshop Hand strictly in accordance with Rules, 2016. The interim orders, if any, in these writ petitions would be treated to have been merged in this order.

35. So far as the prayer in both the writ petitions that vacancies occurring prior to the year 2016 should be filled up on the basis of unamended Rules, 2015 is hereby rejected. However, all the vacancies of Workshop Hand lying vacant in the Department as on today shall be filled up strictly as per the directions made herein above within time so stipulated.

36. In the aforesaid terms, both the writ petitions are disposed of.

(A) Criminal Law - appeal against conviction - Indian Penal Code, 1860 - Section 302 - The Code of criminal procedure, 1973 - Section 313 - Indian Evidence Act, 1872 - section 8 - oral testimony of a witness cannot be discarded simply on the ground that he is interested witness or inimical or chance witness - What is required is cautious approach in scrutiny and appreciation of his testimony - where eye-witness account is produced motive looses its significance.(Para -9,16)

Agricultural plots of deceased and (accused/appellant) are adjacent - enmity between them regarding dismantling of boundary (mend) - co - villager (PW-2) asked accused not to quarrel - accused advanced ahead, PW-2 caught hold of him but accused jerked him, and PW-2 fell down - accused fired gun shot at deceased - hit his head and skull blown off - fell down and died on the spot - son of deceased also Informant (PW-1) - lodged F.I.R. - trial court convicting the appellant (accused) under section 302 and sentencing him to life imprisonment - hence appeal.

HELD:-Two witnesses(PW-1 & PW-2) examined by the prosecution as eye-witness are not reliable, their presence on the spot at the time of occurrence and their seeing of occurrence is highly doubtful. Time of the occurrence is also doubtful and the possibility cannot be ruled out that occurrence may have taken place after the sunset in the darkness. Two prosecution witnesses being interested and inimical and also chance witnesses lack, the credibility and cannot be relied. Shadows of doubts on the prosecution evidence and from the appreciation of evidence and entire material on record, it is clear that case of the prosecution is not stand proved beyond reasonable doubt. So it will be just and proper to give the benefit of doubt to the accused.(Para - 19)

Criminal Appeal allowed. (E-7)

(Delivered by Hon'ble Syed Aftab Husain Rizvi, J.)

1. Heard learned counsel for the appellant and learned A.G.A. for the State and perused the material on record.

2. This criminal appeal arises out of judgment and order dated 25.11.1982 passed by the Vth Additional & Sessions Judge, Allahabad in Special Case No.166 of 1982, Case Crime No.12 of 1982, under Section 302 I.P.C., Police Station- Nawabganj, District- Allahabad, convicting the appellant (accused) under Section 302 I.P.C. and sentencing him to life imprisonment.

3. The prosecution case is that complainant Rajendra Prasad Yadav gave an application dated 27.01.1982 at Police Station-Nawabganj, District- Allahabad alleging therein that he is resident of village Rajapur Mazara Awanikapura. The agricultural plot of applicant and Deo Narain Yadav resident of Rajapur Chaubara Mazara Awanikapura are adjacent and there is enmity between them regarding dismantling of boundary (mend). On 26.01.1982 at about 04 p.m. his father Rameshwar @ Bachai went to the house of Paras Nath to take money. After some time he (Rajendra Prasad) went to call his father where he saw that Deo Narain Yadav armed with his licensed gun was abusing his father and saying that you will not simply settle the dispute of dismantling the boundary (mend) and today you have met me on opportune moment, you will be killed and not spared. On this, my father forbidden him to abuse which further enraged Deo Narain Yadav. Meanwhile, co-villager Kishori Lal asked Deo Narain Yadav not to quarrel. Deo Narain Yadav advanced ahead, Kishori Lal caught hold of him but Deo Narain Yadav jerked him, and Kishori Lal fell down. Then, Deo Narain Yadav due to aforesaid enmity with intention to kill his father fired a gun shot at Rameshwar Prasad on his head, some portion of skull of my father's blow off and brain material came out and my father died on the spot. On hearing noises witness Kallu from southern side and many other co-villagers making exhortation reached the spot. Accused Deo Narain Yadav threatening all of them with death ran away towards East. Due to extreme cold, rain, darkness and due to fear, I have come to the police station today morning with co-villagers for giving information written by Doodhnath. The dead body of my father on the spot is being guarded by village Chowkidar Mahrani Din.

4. On the aforesaid written information Case Crime No.12 of 1982 under Section 302 I.P.C. was registered at Police Station- Nawabganj, District Allahabad on 27.01.1982 at 08:40 a.m. and the investigation commenced. The investigating officer, S.I. Nasiruddin reached at the spot prepared inquest report and sent the body for post-mortem examination, interrogated the witnesses, inspected the place of occurrence, prepared the site plan, took sample of blood-stained soil and plain soil and sealed it in separate containers and prepared its memo, interrogated other witnesses including eye-witness and after completion of investigation submitted the charge-sheet against the accused Deo Narain Yadav under Section 302 I.P.C.

5. The learned trial Court framed charge against the accused Deo Narain Yadav under Section 302 I.P.C. The accused denied it and claimed for trial. Prosecution examined five witnesses. Statement of accused Deo Narain Yadav was recorded under Section 313 Cr.P.C. in which, he alleged that he has been falsely implicated at the instance of Paras Nath, Kishori Lal, Kedar Nath. Paras Nath is of the party of Kishori Lal. He has also stated that he appeared as a witness against Kishori Lal. Rajendra Prasad (complainant PW-1) is under the influence of Kishori Lal. He has further stated that he had no enmity with Rameshwar Prasad (deceased). Paras Nath and Data Deen have filed a case in respect of Plot No.73 against Ram Swaroop (father of the accused) under Section 115 C which he lost from the Court of Tehsildar as well as from the Court of Commissioner and even from the Civil Court. He has further stated that on 26.06.1979, Paras Nath, Shambhoo Nath and Gopi Nath sons of Nanhku and Ram Saran son of Raghunandan (uncle of Paras Nath) assaulted him for which he lodged a report. He filed a copy of chitthi mazroobi of that incident. He further stated that on 14.10.1977 Kedhar Nath son of Shukru and Chhedi Lal son of Sher Ali resident of Rampur Chaubara murdered his brother Sampat who was a guard in R.P.F. and he lodged a report with the police, a carbon copy thereof he has filed. He has further stated that at the time of incident, he was not present at his house and no such quarrel as alleged has taken place.

No oral evidence in defence produced by the accused. The learned trial Court after hearing the arguments by impugned judgment has convicted the accused (Appellant) for charge under Section 302 I.P.C. and sentenced him for life imprisonment.

6. The post-mortem of the deceased was conducted on 28.01.1982 at 02.40 p.m. by Doctor P.L. Nigam PW-4 and according to which on external examination, the rigor mortis has passed off from the upper portion of the body but was present in the lower limbs. Mud was found sticking on both the legs and on the left thigh, blood was accumulated on the left side of the face and chin. Following ante-mortem injuries were found on the body.

One gun shot wound 7.5"x6" x brain cavity deep starting from the right side of the tip of nose going upwards and laterally crossing whole of the body of nose, left side of the forehead going upwards upto the middle of the vault of scalp. The posterior end of the wound was placed 3" above pinna of left ear. The scalp bones were broken into innumerable pieces of varying sizes. Whole of the brain matter including meningia were missing from the cavity except both the lobes of cerebelum and a part of the base of brain. One piece of flattened fire-arm pellet, irregular in shape was recovered from the posterior part of the brain cavity. The margins of the wound of nose were inverted and it appeared to be woud of entry and the posterior part over the vault of the scalp, the margins of the wounds are everted. It shows that the wound of entry is on the anterior part of the wound and the wound of exit at its posterior part.

On internal examination Dr. Nigam found that the skull bone was broken into pieces and the membrane of the brain were lacerated and the brain was missing as mentioned in injury no.1

In the opinion of the Dr. P.L. Nigam (PW-4) the cause of death was shock and hemorrhage on account of ante-mortem injury and duration of death was two days from time of post-mortem. The pellet recovered from the body was sealed in an envelop and sent to the police. Dr. P.L. Nigam PW-4 in his examination-in-chief has also stated that the death of Rameshwar Prasad could have been caused on 26.01.1982 at about 04 p.m. and injury no.1 in the ordinary course was sufficient to cause his death and the injury could have been caused with the gun shot.

7. Learned counsel for the appellant contended that the injury of the deceased could not be caused by a 12 bore gun. The dimension of the wound is 7.5"x6" and it has blown the skull. The wound is blast wound and greater probability is that it has been caused with a high velocity weapon like rifle. Its impact is great and consequent damage is much, hence medical evidence does not corroborate the oral testimony. Learned A.G.A., on the other hand, contended that injury depends on the cartridge used in the weapon, if a single ball cartridge is used the injury of such a nature can be caused and there is no contradiction between the medical evidence and ocular testimony. The post-mortem report indicates that a shot has been fired from the front which has hit the upper portion of the face from nose to the skull on the left side and due to this skull bone was broken into pieces and the brain matter was missing from the cavity. One piece of flattened firearm pellet irregular in shape was recovered from the posterior part of the brain cavity. The margins of the wound of the nose were inverted and it appeared to be a wound of entry and posterior part over the vault of the scalp the margins of the wound are everted. It shows that the wound of entry is on the interior part of the wound and the wound of exit at its posterior part. A bullet fired by a rifle due to its velocity passes out of the body making an aperture of entry and exit. In the instance case, the position is not the same but it is a single wound suggesting that the shot must have been fired from a close range but more than 3 feet. In such a situation the injury of such a nature can be caused from 12 bore gun. So it cannot be said that the injury received may not have been caused by a 12 bore gun.

8. The prosecution case is based on direct evidence and two eye-witnesses. PW-1 Rajendra Prasad and PW-2 Kishori Lal have been produced by the prosecution. Rajendra Prasad is son of the deceased and also the informant. In his examination-in-chief this witness has said that deceased Rameshwar @ Bachai was his father and accused Deo Narain Yadav is the resident of his own village. The agricultural plots of Rameshwar Prasad (deceased) and accused Deo Narain Yadav are adjacent. Sometimes his father used to plough a portion of the field of the accused and some times the accused used to plough some area of his plot dismantling the boundary (mend) and on account of that Deo Narain Yadav used to bear grudge against the deceased Rameshwar Prasad. The house of Deo Narain Yadav is 200 paces away in the south of his house. He further stated that his father was murdered about 9 months ago at 4 p.m. His father has gone to the house of Paras Nath to take money, when there was delay in his return he went to call him. He further stated that his father was standing between baithaka of Paras Nath and Deo Narain Yadav's fodder cutting machine. Deo Narain Yadav was standing near his house armed with a gun. Deo Narain Yadav was asking his father to settle the dispute of the boundary (mend) soon otherwise he will be killed as he has met him on opportune moment. Meanwhile, Kishori Lal arrived there and asked Deo Narain Yadav not to quarrel. Deo Narain Yadav advanced ahead then Kishori Lal caught hold of him but Deo Narain Yadav pushed him and Deo Narain Yadav after advancing ahead fired a gun shot at Rameshwar Prasad which hit his head and his skull blown off and he fell down and died on the spot. Rajendra Prasad and Kishori Lal made a noise then Kallu came there. Deo Narain Yadav extending threats that if anybody would try to advance, will be killed, escaped from there. Soon after the incident his mother came there. The witness has further stated that in the evening and in the night he could not go to the police station to lodge a report as it was raining and cold and also due to fear. In the night he kept on watching the dead body and on the next morning he got the report scribed by Doodh Nath a teacher and accompanied with Paras Nath and Ram Kailash went to police station to lodge the report. On spot the blood which oozed out from the injury of Rameshwar Prasad was fallen on the ground.

Kishori Lal PW-2 is an eye-witness. In his examination-in-chief he has stated that Rameshwar Prasad was murdered 9 months earlier. At abut 4 p.m. he was at home when he heard hue and cry of the quarrel he reached at the place of occurrence the house of Paras Nath and fodder cutter machine of Deo Narain Yadav there he saw Rameshwar and his son Rajendra Prasad and Deo Narain Yadav there. Deo Narain Yadav was armed with a licensed gun. Some altercation was going on between Deo Narain Yadav and Rameshwar Prasad. He tried to pacify and also tried to caught hold Deo Narain Yadav but he pushed him and fired a gun shot at Rameshwar Prasad which hit the head of the Rameshwar Prasad and his skull blown off. Rameshwar fell down and died. On this, Kishori Lal PW-2 and son of Rameshwar Prasad made a noise then Kallu came there. Thereafter, accused Deo Narain Yadav escaped towards east extending threats.

9. Learned counsel for the appellant contended that Rajendra Prasad PW-1 is the son of deceased and interested witness while Kishori Lal PW-2 is inimical witness and both the witnesses are chance witnesses, their presence on the spot is highly doubtful and their testimony cannot be relied on. It is settled principle of law that oral testimony of a witness cannot be discarded simply on the ground that he is interested witness or inimical or chance witness. What is required is cautious approach in scrutiny and appreciation of his testimony.

10. It is clear from the evidence that the distance between the house of the complainant and the place of occurrence is near about 200 paces and according to prosecution case the complainant reached at the place of occurrence to look his father who has gone to take money from house of Paras Nath and there was delay in his return. It is not the prosecution version that the complainant was accompanying his father when he went to the house of Paras Nath. Rajendra Prasad PW-1 has stated in his cross examination that Paras Nath was not present in his house at the time of murder. As Rameshwar (deceased) has gone to the house of Paras Nath to take money and Paras Nath was not present in his house at that time so there was no occasion for delay in return of Rameshwar which is the reason assigned for presence of Rajendra Prasad PW-1 at the place of occurrence at the time of incident. Regarding presence of Kishori Lal PW-2 at the place of occurrence, it is in the evidence that Kishori Lal reached there on hearing the noises of quarrel. It is admitted by Kishori Lal PW-2 that he was at his home and when he heard the noises of quarrel he reached on the spot. The evidence on record also establishes that house of Kishori Lal is in the north-east of pond, 50-60 paces away from the place of occurrence and there are houses of several other persons near his house. Kishori Lal PW-2 in his cross examination has said that dead body was lying 5-6 paces from the house of Deo Narain Yadav in which there is a boring machine. The houses of Jeet Lal, Bindeshwari, Jawahar and Suraj Deen are 50-60 paces from the dead body. He has further stated that his house is in the east of Suraj Deen and in the north of the house of Jeet Lal. So there are several other houses near the house of Kishori Lal which are nearer to the place of occurrence than that of Kishori Lal. Rajendar Prasad PW-1 has also said in his cross examination that there are houses of Jeet Lal, Suraj Deen, Bindeshwari, Raja and others near the pond and none of them is the witness of the incident, only Kishori Lal has been named as witness.

It is also in the statement of Rajendra Prasad PW-1 that there are 2-3 houses in the south of Paras Nath and an Abadi Pasiyana in the west of the house of Ram Saran Yadav. So it is also established that there are houses and Abadi in north-east as well as north-west and west directions of the place of occurrence but none of resident of these houses are alleged to have come at the place of occurrence hearing the noises of quarrel. It is in the statement of Rajendra Prasad PW-1 that when he reached to the spot Deo Narain Yadav was saying to his father to settle the dispute of the boundary (mend) soon otherwise he will be killed as he has met on opportune moment. Thereafter Kishori Lal tried to pacify but Deo Narain Yadav shot the gun fire. This indicates that whole incident has occurred in a very short span of time. It does not show that the altercation was so loud that it may attract persons residing 50-60 paces away from the place of occurrence. In these circumstances, the presence of witness Kishori Lal at the time and place of occurrence becomes doubtful. The absence of any other witness of the vicinity or nearby locality further confirms this. Apart from Kishori Lal another witness named in the F.I.R. is Kallu and from the evidence, it is also established that Kallu was an accused in a criminal case in which Kishori Lal was a witness and Kishori Lal filed affidavit in favour of Kallu. So Kallu and Kishori Lal are friendly and all of them are in league with one another. It also indicates that intentionally and after giving a thoughtful consideration, the choice of witnesses have been made and only two persons who are favourable to the complainant have been named in the F.I.R. as witness. It is also in the statement of Kishori Lal PW-2 that at the time of incident it was raining and neither he nor Rameshwar nor Rajendra Prasad was holding any umbrella. This is also unnatural.

11. Although, Kishori Lal has tried to conceal the facts about enmity and matters related to it and have given evasive replies to the questions asked in cross examination on these points and have shown ignorance about certain facts which are supposed to be his knowledge but from his cross examination it is fully established that he was an accused in a case under Sections 107 and 117 Cr.P.C. in which the accused was second party and he has said that in that case he was falsely implicated by accused Deo Narain Yadav. He has also admitted that Sampat (brother of the accused) was murdered and he was excommunicated and still his community members have no relations with him. Considering all the aforesaid facts and in the absence of no other independent and nereby resident named in the F.I.R. as witness the presence of witness Rajendra Prasad PW-1 and Kishori Lal PW-2 who are interested, inimical and chance witness becomes doubtful.

12. There are some other contradictions and discrepancies in the statements of the witnesses. Rajendra Prasad PW-1 in his cross-examination has said that when his father was shot he was 4-5 paces East from his father. He has further said that he has indicated this place to the Investigating Officer when he was preparing the site plan but in the site plan, the position of complainant Rajendra Prasad has been shown in the Northwest direction from his father. He has further said that Kishori Lal witness was 1-2 paces east from Deo Narain and he has shown this place to the investigating officer but in the site plan, the place where Kishori Lal was present is shown to the west from the deceased. Kishori Lal PW-2 has also said that there is one hand-pump in the North of the house of Bachai and when shot was fired he was 2 paces to this hand-pump and Rajendra the son of Rameshwar was 3 paces in the north, this statement is also against the site plan because in the site plan the hand-pump has been shown in the extreme north of the house of Paras Nath much away from the place of occurrence while the presence of accused, deceased, and the witnesses has been shown in the south-east direction of the House of Paras Nath. Rajendra Prasad PW-1 has told the presence of only Kishori Lal and Kallu on the spot during the occurrence and soon thereafter. While Kishori Lal PW-2 in his cross examination has said that on hearing the noises and sound of fire Kallu and many others came to the spot making exhortations. He has further said that other persons came after 10 minutes after the arrival of Kallu and 5 minutes thereafter Deo Narain Yadav ran away. Many persons exhorted then Deo Narain Yadav ran away. The persons who came included men, women and children of the village. There is no such description in the statement of Rajendra Prasad PW-1 and he has not said anything about the presence of any other person except Kishori Lal and Kallu, Rajendra Prasad PW-1 has also said that the whole night the only source of light was of the lantern. The lantern was kept there in open near the dead body whole night. While from the evidence on record it appears that it was raining at the time of occurrence and also the whole night. So, this statement also cannot be believed. Rajendra Prasad PW-1 in his cross examination has also said that witnesses Kishori Lal or Kallu did not stay there on the spot in the night. They went to their homes after seeing the incident and did not come back to the spot. This is unnatural conduct. Further on this point, Kishori Lal has said that he remained at the spot till 8 p.m. and when the Chowkidar came there then he returned to his home. The aforesaid discrepancies and contradictions are major and affects the reliability of the witnesses.

13. There is a specific allegation in the F.I.R. that Deo Narain Yadav was armed with his licensed gun and he used this weapon in the crime. Although, it was a licensed gun it has not been recovered and sent for Forensic examination. The Investigating Officer has not made any effort for the recovery of the weapon used in the offence while it may be a good piece of evidence to support the prosecution and this will certainly go against the prosecution.

14. The learned counsel for the appellant further contended that according to the prosecution version the occurrence has taken place at 26.01.1982 at 4 p.m. and the F.I.R. was lodged on 27.01.1982 while in the normal course the F.I.R. could have been lodged within 2-3 hours and it appears that occurrence might have taken place sometime in the night and that is why the report was lodged in the morning of the next day. The learned A.G.A. contended that the reason for the delay in lodging the F.I.R. has been reasonably explained. Rajendra Prasad PW-1 has stated that he did not go to the Police Station to lodge the report in the evening or in the night because it was raining and the weather was really cold and also due to fear. The explanation given by the prosecution appears to be plausible but the material on record indicates that it creates serious doubt about timing of the occurrence. The incident is of the last week of the January in which sunset occurs after 5 p.m. and the incident is said to have occurred at 4 p.m. so there was more than an hour before it became dark. But the statement of the witnesses show that lodging of the F.I.R. was not considered at all just after the occurrence in the evening. Kishori Lal PW-2 has said that till he was at the place of occurrence there was no mention of the lodging of the F.I.R. and at another place, he has said that he remained at the place of the occurrence till 8 p.m.. Rajendra Prasad PW-1 has also said that at 6:30 a.m. next morning writing of the report was started and it was then decided to lodge the F.I.R.. In the evening, when Ram Kailash came neither report was written nor it was considered to go to the police station to lodge the F.I.R.. However, it is normal human behaviour to inform the police to lodge the F.I.R. soon after such type of occurrence but it appears that neither any effort was made nor it was considered to lodge the F.I.R. soon after the incident. From the statement of the witnesses, it is also established that village Chowkidar and other persons have come to the spot after darkness. Rajendra Prasad PW-1 in his cross examination has said that "village Chowkidar came to the the spot after 2-3 hours when called. Chowkidar lives in Pasiyana. I have gone to call him. He has further stated that I have seen Paras Nath on the spot after arrival of Chowkidar." On another place in his cross examination, he has said that he saw Ram Kailash in the evening at his house when he went to call Chowkidar. When he saw Ram Kailash the sun was already set and lantern were lit. While Kishori Lal PW-2 has said that he remained on the spot till 8:00 p.m. and when Chowkidar came on the spot then he went to his house. It is clear from the material on record that the place of occurrence is inside the village Abadi and there are several houses nearby and village Chowkidar lives in Abadi called Pasiyana. The arrival of village Chowkidar and other person at place of occurrence after the darkness clearly indicates that the occurrence as alleged by the prosecution is not of 4:00 p.m. but after the sunset and that may be the reason that F.I.R. could not be lodged same day. Rajendra Prasad PW-1 has said in his cross examination that "I have said to Chowkidar to lodge the F.I.R. at the police station as soon as he came to the spot but there is no explanation why Chowkidar not lodged the F.I.R. or what reply he gave to the complainant." It is also in the statement that Parasnath is intermediate and at the time of occurrence he was in class 8th and that when Chowkidar came to the spot till then Ex-Ka-1 was not written. This also indicates that because of sunset, darkness has prevailed due to which no one tried to report the incident at the police station. Not lodging the F.I.R. in the evening and even no effort made to inform the police creates serious doubt about the time of occurrence and the possibility that occurrence has taken place after the sunset, cannot be ruled out. So in this case delay in lodging, the F.I.R. seriously doubts the time of the incident and adversely affects the prosecution case and also the reliability of eye-witnesses.

15. Learned counsel for the appellant contended that the place of occurrence is also doubtful as no pellets, Tikli, or any other sign of firing has been found on the spot. He further contended that according to the prosecution version the skull of the deceased was broken and the part of the brain came out lying on the ground but the same has not been taken into possession by the investigating officer and sent for post-mortem examination with the dead body. Learned A.G.A. contended that the deceased has died instant death due to head injury. The investigating officer has taken blood-stained and unstained soil from the spot and its chemical examination report confirms human blood in it. The statement of the witnesses are consistent on this point and there is no ground to make any doubt about the place of occurrence. It is true that the part of the brain which was lying beside the dead body has not been sent for post-mortem examination but in the inquest report, it is mentioned that part of the brain is lying beside the dead body, so not sending brain material with dead body for post-mortem is nothing but latches on the part of investigating officer. From the oral evidence and other material on the record, the place of occurrence is fully established there is no doubt about this.

16. Learned counsel for the appellant further contended that the motive attributed is very weak and remote. There is no immediate motive of the incident. Rajendra Prasad PW-1 himself has said that sometime his father used to plough a portion of the field of the accused and some times the accused used to plough the some area of his plot. There is no evidence on record to indicate that any such incident has taken place on the day of occurrence or soon before it, hence, no motive is established from the material on record. The motive as alleged in the F.I.R. is that there was previous enmity between deceased and the accused in respect of the intervening boundary (mend) and Rajendra Prasad PW-1 has corroborated the allegations of the F.I.R. and it is not disputed that agricultural field of the accused and the deceased are adjacent. As the prosecution case is based on the direct evidence, the motive is not so important. It is settled principle of law that where eye-witness account is produced motive looses its significance.

17. The learned A.G.A. contended that after the occurrence the accused absconded, he was not found at his house, so under section 8 of the Evidence Act, adverse inference will be drawn against him that he is guilty. The learned counsel for the appellants on the other hand contended that the accused was not preset at his home at the time of occurrence and this fact has been stated by him in his statement under Section 313 Cr.P.C. The arguments of learned A.G.A. cannot be accepted. The evidence on record indicates that the place of occurrence is near the house of the accused and accused was not found at his house when the Investigating Officer came after lodging of F.I.R. in the noon of 27.01.1982. So it should have come in the knowledge of the accused that he has been named in the F.I.R., it was natural on his part to leave his residence and no adverse inference under Section 8 of Evidence Act can be drawn for this conduct of the accused.

18. The learned A.G.A. further contended that the oral testimony of PW-1 is consistent throughout except on one point when he has misread the direction of west to east. Kishori Lal PW-2 has also corroborated the oral testimony of PW-1 and there is no major discrepancy or contradiction. Medical evidence also supports the ocular version. The oral statement of PW-2 cannot be discarded because he has some dispute with the accused party. Learned counsel for the appellant submitted that witnesses are interested and inimical and both the witnesses are chance witnesses. No other witness of the vicinity has been named in the F.I.R. nor produced in the Court. Their presence on the spot is doubtful and they are not reliable. The sanctity of F.I.R. is also doubtful, there is no plausible explanation for the delay in lodging the F.I.R.. Time of occurrence is also doubtful and the motive attributed is weak and remote. The licensed gun has not been recorded.

19. From the appreciation of the evidence on record, it is clear that the two witnesses examined by the prosecution as eye-witness are not reliable, their presence on the spot at the time of occurrence and their seeing of occurrence is highly doubtful. The time of the occurrence is also doubtful and the possibility cannot be ruled out that occurrence may have taken place after the sunset in the darkness. The two prosecution witnesses being interested and inimical and also chance witnesses lack, the credibility and cannot be relied. There are shadows of doubts on the prosecution evidence and from the appreciation of evidence and entire material on record, it is clear that case of the prosecution is not stand proved beyond reasonable doubt. So it will be just and proper to give the benefit of doubt to the accused.

20. The learned Trial Court has failed to appreciate the evidence in right perspective and finding of conviction recorded by it is not just and liable to be set aside.

21. Consequently, this Criminal Appeal is allowed and the judgment and order of conviction dated 25.11.1982 passed by the Vth Additional & Sessions Judge, Allahabad is hereby set aside. Accused Deo Narain Yadav is acquitted of the charge under Section 302 I.P.C. The applicant is on bail. His personal bonds and sureties bonds stand cancelled, sureties stand discharged. He need not surrender.

22. Lower court record along with copy of the judgment be transmitted immediately to the trial Court.
